Last previous girl born in the Rutter family was a sister to their great-grandfather who was born in 1879.

Sen. Scott Is Elected New Minority Leader

'Liberal' Defeats 'Freshman' Baker

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania was elected today leader of the Senate Republican minority.

Scott defeated Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr. of Tennessee, 24 to 19, at a closed door conference of Senate Republicans.

The election of the 68-year-old Pennsylvanian to succeed the late Sen. Everett M. Dirksen opened a new leadership vacancy—that of GOP whip.

Scott has held that No. 2 post since January and his promotion as leader touched off a follow-up campaign for whip.

A decision on a successor to Scott was put off until this afternoon amid indications Baker would be challenged for the No. 2 post by a number of the GOP senators.

Among those mentioned for the assistant leader post — Robert P. Griffin of Michigan, Charles H. Percy of Illinois, James B. Pearson of Kansas, Jack Miller of Iowa and Baker.

Scott, the Pennsylvania senator fighting for promotion from the No. 2 GOP slot, said on the eve of the vote that his support was "firm and rising" and sufficient for victory.

Baker, a first-term senator from Tennessee, had insisted he was ahead but said neither candidate had the advance commitments to insure victory.

Both had discounted lingering talk that the 12-day campaign for the post might wind up in a stalemate that could throw the election to a compromise candidate.

As many as a half dozen senators refused to commit themselves openly to either of the candidates in advance of today's closed-door, secret balloting for the post left vacant by the death of Sen. Everett M. Dirksen. The Illinois senator who had been Republican leader for a decade, died Sept. 7.

Although none of the hopefuls would say anything publicly until after Dirksen's burial, there was considerable early backstage maneuvering by their supporters.

Baker, Dirksen's son-in-law, announced his desire for the post Sept. 12 immediately upon his return to Washington after the funeral.

Scott quickly confirmed he was in the running.

A third entry, Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Nebraska, dropped out after a week of campaigning when he failed to turn up sufficient support. He endorsed Baker.

The campaign for the post-waged in conversation and conference, in the cloakrooms and corridors—appeared to involve two key ingredients:

—Scott's rating as among liberal Republicans.

—Baker's position as a freshman with only three years in a Congress built around the seniority system.

Republicans generally have chosen more conservative senators in recent years to lead their Senate forces. Baker, who says he is conservative on some issues and liberal on others, would fit that tradition.

Feminists File
'Sex Slaves' Raps

NEW YORK (AP) — Five young women have charged the city with perpetuating the fraud of marriage by making women "sex slaves in the unholy state of matrimony."

The women, members of the Feminists, complained Tuesday to City Clerk Herman Katz that, by issuing marriage licenses, the city supported a system of "conspiracy to exert force on the women of this city to enter the unholy bonds of matrimony which, for women, includes rape, unpaid labor and imprisonment."

PRE-FLIGHT TALK — Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's prime minister, has a last minute talk with Defense Minister Moshe Dayan in Tel Aviv Wednesday before flying to the United States, via London, for talks with President Nixon.

Israeli Planes Attack Installations In Egypt

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli planes attacked military installations in Egypt and Arab guerrilla strongholds in Jordan today, the Israeli military command reported.

A spokesman said all planes returned safely after brief strikes.

The attack along the west coast of the Gulf of Suez in Egypt was in response to "continued Egyptian cease-fire violations," the spokesman said. The same reason has been given for previous raids.

The spokesman said Israeli jets pounded two guerrilla camps in the area of Tafila in Jordan about 10 miles south of the Salt Sea and a third base near Shaubak about 20 miles further south. He claimed the bases were centers of guerrilla operations against Israeli settlements in the southern Negev Desert.

The spokesman also reported two Israeli soldiers were killed Tuesday by Egyptian shells fired across the Suez Canal near the Firden Bridge. He said one of the victims was an 18-year-old private and the other a 41-year-old man.

Another Israeli announcement said Arab guerrillas fired a number of mortar shells early today at the Jordan River frontier settlement of Geshor. One shell landed inside the settlement but caused no damage or casualties, a spokesman said.

About three hours later an explosive charge was touched off under a bus at Kfar Talyiba, an Israeli Arab village about seven miles west of Geshor. Police said no one was injured.

In Cairo, a confidant of President Gamal Abdel Nasser said the Israeli air strikes along the Gulf of Suez apparently are aimed at creating a radar-free opening to the Nile valley for Israeli planes.

Nominee Regrets Purchasing Stock

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth says he regrets purchasing stock in a company involved in a case before his court in 1967 and has told a Senate committee: "I'm not going to get in this predicament again."

Haynsworth, chief judge of the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals and President Nixon's nominee to the Supreme Court, pleaded his case with some apparent success in a second appearance before the Senate Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

"I guess you will be (confirmed)," said Sen. Birch E. Bayh, D-Ind., who has taken the lead in probing conflicts of interest charges against Haynsworth at confirmation hearings.

Bayh appeared to be conceding Haynsworth's confirmation before even hearing today's scheduled testimony from more than 20 witnesses, most opposing the South Carolinian.

Another committee member, Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., said "It would be one of the greatest tragedies the American people could suffer" if Haynsworth were disqualified because of his purchase of 1,000 shares of Brunswick Corp. stock.

Haynsworth said "it never entered my mind" that he had sat on a case involving Brunswick just before purchasing the stock for $16,000. He said the case had been decided at that time, although the decision was not made public until several months later.

The case involved rival claims by Brunswick and a Charleston, S.C., landlord over equipment of a bowling alley proprietor who owed money to both. A lower court awarded the equipment to Brunswick and the circuit court sustained the ruling.

"You wish you had never heard of the Brunswick stock?" asked Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky.

JUDGE WAITS — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth waits his turn to testify before the Senate Judiciary Committee in Washington yesterday. The panel is holding hearings into Haynsworth's fitness to fill the vacancy on the Supreme Court.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., told reporters he was reevaluating what he had earlier described as his reluctant support of Haynsworth's nomination.

Griffin said the Brunswick case was "insignificant in and of itself but it sheds some light" on Haynsworth's sense of propriety and his interpretation of judicial ethics.

Bayh also asked whether Haynsworth had owned stock in the C & O Railroad and had sat on cases in which the railroad was involved. Haynsworth testified he had never owned any C & O stock but his wife had bought 10 shares for $641.

The judge said he had sat on a case in which the C & O had been sued by a man who had slipped on a grease spot and he had ruled against the railroad.

Farm Program Is Unfolded By Nixonites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration unfolded today a new general farm program aimed at making efficient farmers rely less on government subsidies and enabling the poorest to get out of agriculture completely.

About 400,000 low-income farm families might be eligible for federal payments averaging $1,000 a year under the family assistance program recently proposed by President Nixon.

More successful producers would be expected to compete in the free market without some of the high-priced federal benefits now available.

The proposals were presented by Secretary of Agriculture Clifford M. Hardin to the House Agriculture Committee.

The long-awaited administration farm program came as a package of alternatives and did not offer a lone remedy for the complex agricultural problems which have plagued the country for decades.

There was no estimate of total costs in Hardin's testimony. Federal farm programs this year are expected to cost more than $3.7 billion and have risen more than $1 billion since the Food and Agriculture Act was passed in 1965.

Hardin mentioned the issue of limiting federal farm payments in his prepared testimony but said only that the alternative proposals "are intended to be workable with a reasonable kind of payment limit."

The law, which sets production controls and payment rates on an annual basis, is due to expire next year.

A massive land-retirement plan for taking whole farms from production and replacing existing commodity programs was not offered in the administration proposals.

But Hardin did recommend a pilot program in which up to four million acres a year could be retired permanently.

Hardin said that while there is need to curb production "we must avoid giving our overseas competition the idea that they can expand their production without limit while the United States carries, by itself, the whole burden of acreage limitation."

IN LUBBOCK Psychiatrist Found Stabbed To Death

LUBBOCK (AP) — Dr. Louis R. Barnes Jr., 44, a psychiatrist, was found stabbed to death today in the bedroom of his home.

Police learned of the slaying in a telephone call shortly after 3 a.m. from a girl who identified herself as Barnes 16-year-old daughter.

Barnes' wife, who was found sitting near the body, was taken into custody and transferred to Methodist Hospital.

An autopsy was ordered by Justice of the Peace Wayne LeCroy, and cause of death was given as a stab wound in the left chest. A butcher knife with an 8-inch blade was found beside the body.

Barnes had lived in Lubbock since 1965.

Texas Robber Kills Self

HOUSTON (AP) — An unidentified man shot himself to death today after holding the wife of a bank president in her fashionable River Oaks home nearly three hours while demanding $50,000 in cash.

The man killed himself after FBI agents, dressed as electricians, entered the home and found the gunman talking by telephone with John Whitmore, president of the Texas National Bank of Commerce.

Moody Loses Sanity Bout

AUSTIN (AP) — The state Supreme Court turned down Tuesday a defense request to include a second sanity issue in a sanity hearing for Michael Lee Moody, former Midland policeman charged with murder.

Moody is charged with the August, 1968, slaying of Lori Margaret Gunn, 2, of Midland.

A hearing on Moody's present sanity was to have been held in San Antonio Monday. It was stayed pending the Supreme Court's ruling on a defense plea that the lower court be ordered to include the issue of his sanity at the time of the crime.

Judge Franklin Spears of 57th Dist. Court now is free to set another date for the hearing. Proceedings were transferred to San Antonio from Big Spring.

Fighting To Keep Grave Undisturbed

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Mary Jo Kopechne's parents, fighting to keep her grave undisturbed, asked a judge today to delay an autopsy until Massachusetts holds an inquest into her death in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car.

Attorneys for the parents also petitioned Common Pleas Judge Bernard C. Brominski to dismiss the exhumation request by Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., on grounds he failed to give sufficient facts as to why it is necessary.

This included allegations by Dinis that blood reportedly was found in Mary Jo's nose and mouth and on her clothing after her body was taken from the car July 19.

Brominski fixed Monday at 10 a.m. in his courtroom for argument on the new motion to dismiss. He had rejected a similar request on Sept. 3 but ordered Dinis to provide further evidence.

Dinis filed an amended petition last Thursday but the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., said it failed to provide proof of foul play or criminal conduct—the only elements they claim would warrant exhumation and autopsy.

The 28-year-old secretary drowned—the official verdict given without an autopsy by a Massachusetts medical examiner—when Kennedy's car plunged off a narrow bridge and overturned in a pond on Chappaquiddick Island.

Miss Kopechne was buried in a small Catholic cemetery in nearby Larksville, three days after the accident.

Brominski, in refusing to quash the Dinis request before, told the Kopechnes he has legal authority and jurisdiction to order an autopsy if the facts warranted it.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Taking liberties with the one-time popular tune, "The Things I Were Last Winter, I Forgot All Summer Long!" But now I'm remembering and liking them pretty well. They somehow have taken on a new beauty — like old silver that's been polished over and over. More than likely the old dresses and suits will look like old dresses and suits but as long as they feel wearable and are not too long, I won't tell if my friends don't remind me with "I've always liked that dress on you."

Club Program Traces History Of Cosmetics

"Painting the Person" was the program presented by Mrs. Owen Wormser and Mrs. Walter Fields at Monday's dinner meeting of Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in the home of Mrs. Robert von Rosenberg, 2617 Ann. Mrs. Charles Boadie was chohostess.

Mrs. Fields reviewed the history of cosmetics, noting that many years ago in African countries, women cut their faces and inserted dye so that they would have permanent coloring in their faces.

Mrs. Wormser described types of stage make-up, and the two basic types of make-up utilized by women today. They are natural tanning by the sun and cosmetics. She pointed out that different make-up should be used as seasons change and with various clothing. Showing diagrams of basic face types, she demonstrated the correct way to use cosmetics on each type, with emphasis on make-up for different shaped eyes. Each member gave a make-up analysis on two other members. Four transferee members were welcomed. They were Mrs. Jimmy Hogue, Mrs. J. R. Roe, Miss Linda Corley and Mrs. Richard Galloway. Bargain Box Sets New Hours; Due To Move

St. Mary's Bargain Box, located at 600 E. Third, has announced new hours this week. The longer operating hours are due to the fact that the women will have to vacate the building they are now using by October 1.

The store, sponsored by the women of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, will be open today and Friday from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m., and on Thursday and Saturday from 1 to 5 p.m. The women hope to reduce their merchandise considerably while attempting to find a new location for the project.

The Bargain Box was opened a year ago to raise funds for church work, with part of the proceeds being contributed to Church Women United, for their work at the Westside Recreation Center.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feather-stitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim" in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at Hemphill-Wells Co., Foundation Department, 214 Main Ph. 267-8284

BSP's Hold Party For Rushees

Palm reading, crystal ball gazing and guessing games comprised the entertainment at a "swami" party held for rushees by Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter of Coahoma, Beta Sigma Phi, Tuesday evening at First Federal Community Room.

Mrs. Matthew Mooney read palms, and Mrs. Glenn Gale read fortunes from cards and a crystal ball. Rushees were Mrs. Robert J. Downey, Mrs. Jerry Wyrick, Mrs. Cliff Blythe, Mrs. Dub Metcalf and Mrs. Robert Neilson.

Miniature stars and a moon decorated the room, and the refreshment table was laid with a white cloth centered with a crystal ball. All members wore costumes.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"You shall love your neighbor as yourself." (Mark 12:31, RSV)

PRAYER: Help me, O God, to love my neighbors; not judge them by my standards, but appreciate them for who they are. Help my love and faith in people grow and to find ways of expression. Forgive all my pettiness, hate and fear and help me overcome them. Amen.

Step In Consumer Protection

Slips or not, there have been plenty of delays twist cup and lip in the matter of honest packaging of consumer goods. Congress enacted the Fair Packaging and Labeling Act in 1966. An extension was granted when it appeared that detailed regulations would not be ready by the original effective date of July 1, 1967. Now, in September, the law is just going into effect. Partially, at any rate: Rules covering drugs and cosmetics will not be applied until December 31.

Some of the delay has been warranted. More time than one might suppose is involved in preparing detailed specifications. Time also was consumed by court tests which have resulted in exclusion of several classes of goods: Durable goods such as refrigerators, furniture, apparel; some classes of food — for example, soft drinks and dairy products — which come in standard-sized containers. All the same, three years is an inordinately long time between enactment and application of a law.

The consoling thought is that, at long last, some reasonable degree of order has begun to emerge from the chaos of intentionally or unwittingly deceptive packaging. Once the law has fully taken effect — assuming widespread compliance and diligent enforcement — the consumer will no longer find himself confused by such vague designations as "large," "king-sized" and "jumbo," or by complex statements of net quantity. Labels henceforth must clearly and accurately tell what — and how much of it — is inside the package.

This is an important step in consumer protection.

Limiting Objectives

President Nixon on his Guam visit warned Asian nations, including U.S. allies, not to count on American armed intervention for their security. This is in line with the dominant "no more Vietnams" sentiment in this country, and returned to the valid long-time view that the United States' role as a Pacific power does not extend to mainland Asia.

That Far East policy for the future was sharply underlined by the U.S. Senate's 86-0 vote on an amendment to the military procurement bill intended to bar use of American combat troops in Laos and Thailand. It is not true, except in a legalistic sense, that the amendment is "meaningless," as Senate Armed Services Committee Chairman John Stennis, D-Miss., contended.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., was altered to say "except where protection of U.S. personnel is directly concerned." President Nixon, if he chose, could broadly interpret that to take about any action as commander-in-chief he chose in those two countries, as President Johnson broadly interpreted the congressional Gulf of Tonkin resolution to escalate the Vietnam war.

The amendment is further clouded by the ominous fact that the United States already has some 50,000 military men in Thailand, mostly for Air Force operations related to the Vietnam war. And this country is also carrying out air combat and ground-support operations against Communist forces in Laos.

We can no more directly defend Asian mainland areas than we can liberate Eastern Europe, and it is past time to concede the obvious.

A Demand For U.N. Action

WASHINGTON — President Nixon in his speech last week laid before the United Nations a challenge — to live up to the purposes of its charter and find a way to end the war in Vietnam.

Mr. Nixon emphasized that it is the right of the people of every country "to determine their own destiny without outside interference" and that "as long as we live with the threat of aggression, we need physical restraints to contain it."

YET THE United Nations is doing nothing in that direction. Even the exercise of diplomatic influence is at a standstill as most of the countries of the world have adopted an attitude of aloofness. They mistakenly believe their own safety lies in such a course.

Mr. Nixon pointed out that, while the United States at the end of World War II "assumed the major responsibility for world peace" because it had sufficient strength, the time has come for people everywhere to realize that one nation cannot do it all. The President declared:

"AND NOW we are maturing together into a new pattern of interdependence. It is against this background that we have been urging other nations to assume a greater share of responsibility for their own security, both individually and together with their neighbors. The great challenge now is to enlist the cooperation of many nations in preserving peace and enriching life. This cannot be done by American edict, or by the edict of any other nation. It must reflect the concepts and the wishes of the people of those nations themselves."

MR. NIXON reminded the General Assembly that the United States halted the bombing of North Vietnam nearly a year ago and that troop withdrawals on a large scale have been started. The lack of response from Hanoi, he argued, "makes it urgent that the U.N. members — those in this room — who have long taken an active interest in peace in Vietnam now take an active hand in achieving it."

When North Korea invaded South Korea in 1950, the U.N. did not ignore its duty, and to this day it has maintained troops as an international police force along the boundary line between the two countries.

SO MR. NIXON is fully justified in calling for active participation by the United Nations. He did not specify any military moves or offer any proposal for collective action. While the United States has a few allies in Vietnam, the President made a broad appeal to the U.N. for its cooperation. The most significant paragraph in his address was the following:

"In the name of peace, I urge all of you here — representing 126 nations — to use your best diplomatic efforts to persuade Hanoi to move seriously into the negotiations which could end this war. The steps we have taken have been responsive to views expressed in this room, and we hope that views from this organization may also be influential in Hanoi. If these efforts are successful, this war can end."

WITHOUT THE help of the rest of the world in Vietnam, the United States can hardly hope to withdraw virtually all of its forces within two or three years. Will the other countries join in a collective effort to bring peace? Will the United Nations take over the main responsibility through the supervision of elections and the maintenance of a peacekeeping force?

Unless the U.N. meets the challenge which President Nixon has laid before it, there is little chance that the organization will survive.

Hal Boyle But Don't Forget Checks

By JOY STILLEY

(Subbing for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—According to the present rate of attrition, by next year our daughter may be going back to her senior year at college with nothing more than a toothbrush and a checkbook.

When she made her first excursion into the land of learning, Gay outdid the Boy Scouts in preparedness. What she took with her then would have been enough to establish clothing, shoe and appliance stores, with a drug and cosmetic business on the side.

To anyone watching her pack a trunk, suitcases, cartons and shopping bags, it was evident that she was headed for four years of isolation at an institute deep in the jungles of Africa. The fact is, she was going less than 300 miles from home to George Washington University, in the heart of the nation's capital.

Not only did she outfit herself with clothing sufficient to carry her through to a doctor's degree, but she armed herself with enough aspirin, allergy pills and cough syrup to enable the drug firms that produced them to declare an extra dividend.

As for cosmetics, she seemed convinced that eye makeup and foundation were completely unavailable in Washington, D.C., and only her forethought in going equipped with such exotic items as toothpaste, soap and shampoo would allow her to emulate the scouts in the field of cleanliness.

Obviously, a college education is impossible to achieve without the aid of a hairdryer, stereo, typewriter, clock-radio and electric blanket. Keeping in mind that she also might attend a few classes, Gay laid in a supply of pens, ink cartridges, loose-leaf paper, notebooks, pencils, erasers, rubber cement, cellophane type, paperclips and typewriter ribbons that made her the envy of the college bookstore.

To convey these items to their destination—two bureau drawers and a closet shared with another girl — required that the family car be pressed into service as a truck. What would not fit in it was left behind to be shipped by commercial carrier.

Getting there was only half the fun. The rest came later, in the form of stuffing the assorted impedimenta into a minute elevator in the dorm and into an even more minute room, under the glaring gaze of her roommate.

When she came home for Thanksgiving that first year she brought with her some 50 pounds of extraneous equipment and the same process was repeated at Christmas, intercession and spring vacation.

Last year, returning as a sophomore, she pared her paraphernalia down to such an extent that it fit into one small trunk and one suitcase.

This year, preparing to go back to GW as a junior, she postponed any thought about packing until the last minute. "Oh I'll just throw a few things into a couple of suitcases the night before I leave," she said airily. "Who needs a lot of extra junk around at school?"

John Cunniff

How To Nail The Boss

NEW YORK (AP)—You see the statements in the newspapers from time to time: The corporation president suddenly announces his resignation "to pursue personal interests." Is it true? Maybe. But it could mean he was fired.

Outright firings are always nasty affairs, especially when they involve high executives and are attended by heated emotions, charges and countercharges and even law suits. Firings are considered crude today.

Elaborate plans therefore are made to hide the true facts from the kibitzers—that growing population of stockholders, financial analysts, mutual funds and big stockholders. But the techniques are apparent.

After having spent two decades psychoanalyzing the corporation, Dr. Eugene Jennings, a university professor and professional kibitzer—he gets paid handsome fees for advising corporations—has detailed some techniques for firing the president.

None of the techniques refers to any specific individual or firing, but you can bet that in many instances something of the sort was hidden in the back ground.

The first technique is mushrooming. The chairman gives the president lots of challenging jobs. This technique is especially useful if the executive is hungry, meaning very eager to please. A hungry executive is insecure.

Eventually the jobs accumulate until he is incapable of handling them all. He makes a serious error. No matter that he handled 98 per cent of the jobs well: he failed on 2 per cent, and that's enough to nail him.

Sometimes a curious twist occurs in which the insecure participant participates in his own demise. In his effort to please he sometimes usurps authority—even if he can't effectively use that authority.

Having taken on more than he can handle, he begins delegating, and eventually he delegates a job to what Jennings calls the president's "intimate enemy," a man having no love for the president and perhaps even envious of him.

The intimate enemy does just enough to escape scrutiny but not enough to be effective. He is a presidential saboteur, but he has power. He has support from other executives. And power which is won, defeats authority which is assigned.

Realizing that things aren't going well, the president loses his cool and orders the intimate enemy: "Do things as I say or get out!" The powerful intimate enemy refuses. The matter goes to the chairman.

"I'm sorry Mr. President, but things haven't worked out as we expected," says the chairman, who prefers the loss of the president to the resignations of a dozen executive friends of the powerful intimate enemy.

Another technique: Detail the president out of the job. Keep him out of the office on assignments so often he doesn't know what's going on. Then ask him for a proposal. He won't be able to come up with it. He catches on. He quits.

A third technique: Expand his team. Turn the president's office into The Office of the President. Assign him three advisers—who report directly to the chairman. Dilute his powers. If he doesn't kick, kick him up to a powerless job.

When The Doctor Says 'Stick Out Your Tongue'

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

(First of two articles)

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I notice that most doctors in examining a patient ask to see the tongue.

What is the significance of a coated tongue, black tongue, or red tongue? — A.K.

Looking at the tongue is one of a doctor's fishing expeditions. I'm not going to give away all of the fishing expeditions that doctors use, because that would do neither of us any good. Let's just say that a doctor, like a detective, is forever looking for anything out of the ordinary, and when he finds it, he looks for further evidence which will either let him discard the item or trace it into something significant.

It's an easy command: "Stick out your tongue." But considerable information can be gleaned from a rather swift inspection. Lips, mouth membranes, gums, teeth all may give clues to a patient's health.

It is considerably more than a matter of the tongue being coated, black, red, or brown. A modest coating on the tongue is normal. A brownish coating betrays a heavy smoker. A heavily coated tongue may indicate a fever. It results also if the patient is dehydrated. But mouth-breathing is still another possibility.

Commonest cause of a black tongue is excessive use of antibiotics — the antibiotics decrease the bacterial population (both good and bad) so other micro-organisms flourish, particularly yeasts, which can accumulate to such a degree that the tongue looks dark.

A normal tongue, of course, is pink. A smoker, however, very often will have a red tip of the tongue. A smooth red tongue suggests a number of things: pernicious anemia, sprue, lack of sufficient hydrochloric acid in the stomach juices, or a nutritional deficiency, especially a dearth of the B vitamins.

Leukoplakia—whitish, thickened areas on the membranes of tongue, lips or mouth — usually denotes persistent irritation, whether from a jagged tooth, smoking, or other source. Since leukoplakia may be precancerous, it is well to keep watch of these spots and remove them if they begin to look suspicious.

There you have a list of some of the staple signs for which the doctor is looking when he says, "Stick out your tongue."

I have a letter inquiring about a particular aspect, a burning tongue, and I'll write a bit about that tomorrow.

Mononucleosis is primarily a disease of young people. To learn more about it, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Mononucleosis," enclosing with your request a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim 'Carved Out Of Hide And Horn'

Around the turn of the 19th century, the Texas cattle industry took root in an arch along the coastal plains from the lower tip of Texas to Galveston. By mid-century, it had bulged upward to the Mason area and into the hill country. After the Civil War, when hunters wiped the buffalo from the prairies and soldiers pushed Indians back into the reservations, the industry surged up from Central West Texas and pushed westward from the cross timbers.

"WEST TEXAS was the end of the trail," observed John Burns, an old time cowboy. "It gave birth to the big outfits, and it was the source of the great cattle drives. Texas has a heritage not any other state has, and it was carved out of hide and horns."

Burns was one of several speakers at a gathering last weekend in Snyder where civic workers under the leadership of Mrs. Elizabeth Connell outdid themselves in focusing attention on the unique Ranch Headquarters project which will take shape at Texas Tech. This gathering of old line ranch families was the occasion for announcing the formation of the Ranch Headquarters Association.

THE ORGANIZATION has a number of objectives, but they boil down to supporting the Ranch Headquarters both in collecting and preserving buildings, items and records as well as financing the program. The latter is an indispensable part, for while some help may be expected through educational channels, the vast bulk of underwriting costly transfers and restorations will have to come out of the private pocket. Officials hope that ranching families will take the lead.

"NO WHERE has the history of ranching been preserved," John Lott, Lubbock, declared. "Yet, it is the most glamorous of any industry in existence."

Who can argue the point? Just switch on your television and soon there will be a Western, built against an early-day ranching locale. Run down the movie listings and you'll come to an imperishable Western — the fastest moving story vehicle yet devised.

TEXAS CERTAINLY had no monopoly on the fledgling cattle industry, but it reached its fullest flower here little more than half a century ago. The operations of some of the legendary figures of that day tax the imagination. Consider that Col. C. C. Slaughter, whose Long S headquarters were only about 20 miles north of here, had as much as 3,000,000 acres under fence to support well over 50,000 head of cattle.

Most of the fabulous spreads have been broken up, and a majority of them yielding to the sod busters. There are a few left, among them the Randerbrook or Spade Ranch in southwest Mitchell County.

THE UNIQUE architecture such as the box and strip house, the dugout, the sod house, carriage and harness houses, occasional big barns, stone fortress homes, the stately homes with sloping roof and dog-trot fronts are fast fading. Progress, that insatiable glutton, has gobbled up most; fire and decay have consumed others; abandonment is menacing most of the remaining ones.

JOHN LOTT is right — the project is 40 years late starting, but that's no reason not to try. Probably, as those with a background of ranching catch the vision translated to action by W. C. Holden, distinguished historian, we will discover more examples of ranching history and more resources than we dreamed. If West Texas has a unique history, it is ranching. What the association is trying to do in preserving the authentic history of ranching at Tech deserves the active interest and support of all West Texans.

—JOE PICKLE

Holmes Alexander Mr. Nixon's Inspector General

WASHINGTON — Ignorance and inquiry may not weigh the same in the scales of human morality. But there's a theory in the Nixon White House that it hurts just as much to be caught in unawareness as in sin.

That's the reason why last month Mr. Nixon named Clark Mollenhoff, investigator-reporter from the Cowles Publications, to a unique position that might be called the Administration's inspector general, or one-man government operations committee.

NO PRESIDENT, according to White House thinking, ever willfully did wrong in that exalted office, no matter how often he stole or lied on his way to the top. Good intentions guide the footsteps of our chief executives, but lack of information sometimes takes them to the hellhole where integrity is compromised and credibility debased.

Clark Mollenhoff, with more precision and less notoriety than the late Drew Pearson, has long been the nemesis of shady characters around Washington. Jimmy Hoffa left town literally shaking a fist at Clark. Bobby Baker turned several shades paler because of Clark. Dean Rusk and Robert McNamara and even the late Everett Dirksen have been seen to wince under his questioning at news conferences.

MOLLENHOFF, once a practicing lawyer, never relied much, if at all, on the tipsters; he habitually went into hidden public records, and he often had the help of irreproachable researchers like Sen. John Williams of Delaware and H. R. Gross of Iowa who helped him exhume the skeletons. Mollenhoff's presence as a White House deputy counsel, the formal title, is enough to scare the daylight out of malefactors, ethics-evaders and policy-poisoners.

MOLLENHOFF, however, is more than a fearless exposé, and a public executioner of protected reputations. He has twice taken a year off from reporting to study the workings of government in this country as well as in Europe, Africa, the Middle East and Russia. He has specialized, much as Mr. Nixon has, during off-seasons, in the struggle of civilized peoples everywhere to devise machinery that will run public affairs, provide social justice, generate economic prosperity and maintain peaceful competition between nations.

THESE, OF COURSE, have been the purposes of many political philosophers and activists, including the authors of the Federalist Papers, but Mollenhoff has an extra value to the White House beyond being a combination of muckraker and egg-head. In five published books and 18 journalistic awards since 1952, he has shown an awareness which doesn't always appear in mere fact-finders and theory-seekers.

Mr. Nixon has got himself an inspector general who understands that the biggest fact of modern history is the Communist conspiracy. It's a menace that many hotly-totally officials would rather not mention or grapple with, but one that doesn't faze Mollenhoff.

Rep. John Zwach

Last Man On The Rollcall

By DILLON GRAHAM

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With a name like Zwach, a man's got to have a sense of humor. And when he's a congressman, like Rep. John M. Zwach, he also needs infinite patience.

The Hon. John Zwach of Minnesota is the last man on the congressional rollcall pole, behind the Hons. Clement J. Zablocki of Wisconsin and Roger H. Zion of Indiana.

Sometimes by the time the clerk gets around to calling Republican Zwach, such fortunes as Watkins Abbit of Virginia — the No. 1 man — and Thomas Abernethy of Mississippi, have voted, and gone to lunch.

THERE ARE a few things the House of Representatives loves more than rollcalls — such as seniority — but not many.

No device is used more frequently, although not always for counting votes. It's a handy time-consumer, vote-staler and mind-changer. It's a fine irritant to members who approve, or disapprove, certain legislation but who'd rather not be put on record.

It's as handy as a pocket knife in a boy scout's palm to members who are deft in its uses — and most are. They've been 154 already this year: Mr. Cabell . . . Mr. Caffery . . . Mr. Cahill . . .

decide to give missing members time to get to the floor from their offices or wherever, the reading clerks use their most mellifluous voices and slowly roll out the names, savoring every syllable, pausing majestically at every punctuation.

Mr. Gallifanakis . . . Mr. Gallagher . . . Mr. Garmatz . . . Mr. Gaydos . . . Mr. Gettys . . . Mr. Gialmo . . . The clerks repeat "aye," and drag out the noooooo.

Being the last man out gives 434 members a chance to get to Zwach on a close vote. Is there more pressure, arm twisting?

"IT COULD," said Zwach in an interview. "But almost always I vote on the first round. So I'm not among those who might get some pressure."

The roll is called twice. Those who missed both calls stand in the well of the House and signal to be recognized to vote:

Mr. Mikva . . . Mr. Miller of Ohio . . . Mr. Miller of California . . . Mr. Mills . . .

The Minnesota has little hope of ever moving up from the bottom rung. In the previous 90 congresses — and in the Continental Congress, for that matter, there were no House members whose place would be below Zwach.

"I'd just as soon have a reverse alphabetical roll call," he said. "I wouldn't object to it — to voting first." He adds: "I doubt if it's ever done."

HAS HIS vote ever broken a tie? "Not in Congress," said Zwach. "But it did at least once in both the House and Senate in Minnesota." Zwach had to endure being last serving 23 years in those bodies.

Sheriff Gets Information About Body

Sheriff A. N. Standard received initial identification information from the Department of Public Safety laboratory in Austin this morning on the decomposed body found Sept. 6 in a weeded area north of Big Spring.

The body has been determined to be a Caucasian male, about 40 years old, approximately 5 foot, 10 inches tall, weighing about 175 pounds with a 35 inch waist and large shirt size.

The sheriff said the man was wearing brown oxford, wing-tipped shoes, black trousers, and a brown and green plaid sports shirt. His teeth were permanent with four extractions up and down in the back jaw, his hair was cut short with perhaps a little gray. Standard said a definite color would be available from the Austin laboratory in a few days.

Standard also said that fingerprints from two fingers on the left hand may aid in identification and that Austin is currently searching its files for similar prints.

He added that two other fingerprints on the left hand have impairment characteristics which might aid in identification. The fingerprints from the index finger and ring finger indicate some damage above the first knuckle, possibly from a football or baseball injury, or an industrial accident.

Task Force Sets Meeting

The Chamber of Commerce President's Task Force on Priorities has scheduled a meeting for Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Chamber conference room, according to Chamber Manager Tom Eastland. The Task Force will discuss what it can do to get more of the community involved in making recommendations for the 1970 Program of Work.

Recommendations for that program from the base-community council are to move the main gate for Webb AFB from its present site to the east gate on FM 700; to install signs on US 87 and IS 29 to identify exits to Webb; to provide more two-bedroom, furnished houses for student pilots; to make Big Spring an All-American City and to apply for recognition as such; and to start a long range program designed to attract retiring military personnel to remain in Big Spring.

Four Counseled

Four juveniles were counseled by juvenile officer Keith Jones Tuesday and released to their parents. Jones said three teenage boys were referred from the police department on game violations, and one 14-year-old girl was referred by her mother for running away. Jones also received partial restitution Tuesday from a juvenile for property damage.

Engineers Here For Drainage Talk

Representatives from the U.S. Corps of Engineers are meeting with city officials and commission members today to give an unofficial report on the progress of the Beal's Branch drainage project, which is part of the city's master plan. City Manager Larry Crow said the session will be informal, and he expects no commitments or definite proposals to be made at this time.

Reception Set For Texas Exes

The Austin chapter of the Texas Tech Ex-Students Association will host a reception for all Tech exes in the Austin and Central Texas area before the University of Texas-Texas Tech game Saturday.

Neil McMullen, president of the Austin chapter, said the reception will be from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. in the Granada Room of the Sheraton Crest Inn. All Tech ex-students and associates are invited to attend.

Phony $20 Bill Reported In Area

An employe of Texas Electric Company reported to Howard County sheriff's office Tuesday that he had received a "questionable" $20 bill in a nearby town. The sheriff's office did not see the bill but put out an SOS by calling the Chamber of Commerce and warning them of the possibility of counterfeit bills in the area. The chamber forwarded the warning to local merchants.

That when someone finds a questionable looking bill they should take it to a bank or local police authorities for analysis.

Record Budget For District

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will consider a record budget here Thursday morning.

The budget is expected to be between 55 and 60 per cent higher than this year, because the $34,500,000 bonds for extending the system, plus the increased operations for the enlarged system, will be felt for the first time.

There will be offsetting revenues, to a degree, from Midland and San Angelo, new customers of the district. In addition to the bond requirements, another sharp increase will be reflected in increased coverage from the bonds. Consequently, city rates may be some higher.

New Tribes In Y's Indian Guides

Two new tribes were organized at a meeting of the Y Indian Guides Tuesday evening to launch the program for this school year.

There will be a tribe in the Park Hill area and one in the Moss Elementary area in addition to the existing Tejas, Crow, Sioux and Comanche tribes.

With the exception of the Park Hill unit (which will meet Oct. 6), the tribes will have sessions next Monday and Tuesday to reorganize for the year.

The tribes will meet in the homes of the members on an every-other-week basis. The program is for boys in the first and second grades, in conjunction with their fathers. Morris Holmes, Longhouse chief, presided over Monday's meeting which drew 70 fathers and sons to the YMCA.

To Meeting

William H. Brooks, personnel chief of the Big Spring Veterans Administration Hospital, will attend the annual meeting Friday of the El Paso Interagency Board in El Paso. While there he will review available personnel resources.

Groundbreaking Ceremony Held At College Baptist

Members of the College Baptist Church held groundbreaking ceremonies Sunday for a new building to be used for various activities of the church as well as teaching on Sunday. It will contain a gymnasium, dining hall, kitchen, game room, and four departments with 20 classrooms.

College Baptist has constructed a new building every two years since beginning in 1955 as a mission. The church has had three pastors, the present one is Dr. R. Byron Orand, who has served the church seven years. The membership was just over 100 when the mission became an independent church. Today, the membership has grown to 1,000. Currently the Sunday School of the church is over-crowded because of the new building construction, as many classes have combined until the completion of the new building. The sanctuary of the church seats 750, and the balcony in the sanctuary was built for overflow crowds, but it soon will be needed every Sunday for regular attendance.

"We are anxious to complete our new educational building in order to take care of the large number attending Sunday School," Rev. Orand said. "We hope to be able to begin two morning worship services within the next year. This would involve an 8:30 a.m. service followed by the Sunday School period at 9:45 and then the regular 11 o'clock worship service would follow. With this plan in effect, everyone will attend Sunday School at the same time but will worship in only one of the morning worship periods. This plan will eliminate the necessity for another sanctuary and allow us to continue building educational facilities."

works for Cabot Corp. Gerald E. Earnest, Box 158, Gail Rt., was seated at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday. He works for Big Spring State Hospital and was the 17th person questioned.

Late this morning Wayne Burns, district attorney, had used eight of his 15 peremptory challenges; and Wayne Baden, defense attorney, had used seven. There were 35 persons left to question on the special venire; however, approximately 150 tallems were to report at 1 p.m. today for possible jury duty if the 12 jurors are not chosen from the special venire.

Trustees Take No Action On Park Hill Paving Bid

Big Spring school trustees listened with encouraging ears Tuesday night to plans for paving an area about 80 by 80 feet at the rear of the Park Hill Elementary School building.

The Park Hill PTA plans to pay for the project, estimated to cost $1,390, to provide an all-weather surface for student activities. A letter from Ernest M. Boyd, principal of the school, stated that the playground is now rocky, and has no grass.

Although no action was taken on the proposal, board members agreed to tell the PTA that it was "the consensus that at the next board meeting the project would be approved."

Supt. S. M. Anderson showed slides of improvements made at local schools, including the renovation of an old restroom at the high school stadium. He explained that the old foundation and plumbing connections are being utilized, but that walls, roofing and interior will be new. The building is located on the baseball field near Owens street and will be used for a public rest room as well as storage for high school baseball equipment.

Seventh Juror Selected Today

The seventh juror in the trial of Bobby Eugene Chrisco, 23, indicted for the murder of A. D. Blount, was seated at 9:55 a.m. today in 118th District Court.

Mrs. William H. Bethell, 614 State, was sworn in and joined the six other jurors in the jury room. Mrs. Bethell, an employe of Texas Electric Service Co., was the 38th person questioned.

Warns Against Pressures To Divert Highway Funds

A warning for Texas citizens to be on the alert against diversion of monies which would handicap a well-rounded highway program was issued to a Big Spring group Tuesday by a member of the Texas Highway Commission.

He was Garrett Morris of Fort Worth, appearing here as principal speaker in a local observance of National Highway Week. Morris spoke at the Settles Hotel to a large luncheon crowd which included members of Rotary, Downtown Lions and Civitan clubs, as well as a number of other business men and public officials.

AFTER INTERSTATE

Morris pointed out that the interstate highway program now has a termination date of 1974, and that, after that date, there will be pressures to divert highway appropriations into larger cities for mass rapid transit programs. "You must maintain your own pressures to keep the highway program in balance," he said.

Morris pointed out that the congress and the legislature are getting more urban-oriented, and that three-fourths of the people of Texas are in urban areas where there are complex problems of traffic handling.

NO DIVERSION

"While we in the Highway Department do not oppose mass rapid transit programs, we are opposed to diversion of highway funds to construct them," he said. "I personally think that no rapid transit system has yet been devised that is going to attract the American away from his own car. It symbolizes his privacy; he can be alone even while being among others; it gives him freedom of movement — to go where he pleases when he pleases.

"Highways actually have had more impact on our way of life than anything else. They not only have taken us out of the mud; they have given us more mobility; they are the lifelines of industry, the lifeline to better living, the lifeline for tourists and the lifeline to new recreation areas.

"They now are so important to us that we tend to take good highways for granted. But I caution you that we must keep looking ahead."

WORK NEEDED

He said the pressures at federal and state levels for putting huge sums of road money into the transit systems could result in less money to spend on other types of highways.

And, Morris continued, there has been so much concentration in recent years on the interstate system that improvement has not kept pace on other federal and state highways. Many of these, including U.S. 87, need to be brought up to divided, four-lane arteries, he said.

"Your highway department is for such a program," he said. "It is up to you as citizens to talk to your state and congressional representatives to keep a well-balanced highway program going."

ROBERTS LAUDED

Morris was accompanied here by J. C. Roberts, veteran district engineer under whose supervision comes the work in Howard County, and members of his staff, and the commissioner lauded Roberts "and all the other department people like him over the state" for giving Texas the best highway system in the nation.

Both Morris and Roberts were presented Western hats as a gesture of hospitality from the community.

With Roberts here from the Abilene district office were George Smith, assistant engineer; Al McKee, maintenance engineer; Bill Billingsley and Willard Shaw, design engineers; Ed Couch, right-of-way agent, and John Richardson, chief accountant.

Morris is making a swing through West Texas with several appearances during Highway Week. He came here from a morning session in Abilene, went on to Lubbock for an evening address.

He was introduced by Joe Pickle, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Highways Committee.

No Blood Found In Mystery Car

DALLAS (AP)—Officers said Tuesday no blood was found in a mystery car impounded in an investigation of the hit-and-run death of a Dallas youth.

Robert Wayne Lawson, 13, was apparently struck and killed as he rode his bicycle home from a fishing trip Sept. 7. His body was found four nights later in a wooded area near the scene of the accident.

Police later arrested Benjamin Ray Martin, 17, in Shreveport, La., where he had gone to visit his mother. He was charged with failure to stop and render aid.

After his arrest, a light tan Mercury Comet registered in Martin's father's name was found abandoned in a driveway of the Dallas Times Herald. It had a damaged right front fender. Neither the boy nor his father, who is from Dallas, work for the paper.

"I'm not saying what evidence has or has not been found after checking the car (the Comet) out," Police Lt. A. L. Curtis said Tuesday. He added, however, that he was told by the crime lab that no blood was found inside or outside the car.

The car the Martin youth was driving in Shreveport—a red Roadrunner—was brought to Dallas and has been under examination. Lt. Curtis said a speck of blood was found on the youth's car but it apparently was not in the "right place" to be linked with the Lawson youngster's death.

Investigators also said that specks of paint found on a damaged post near where the Lawson youth was killed match a dent on the red car.

Dig This Speedy Tire Mounter

TAMAROA, Ill. (AP) — Every town of 700 said mounting such large tires normally takes five men with hand tool 20 minutes.

S.W. Malinski says he can do it in 2½ minutes.

The tire-service operator in this town of 700 said mounting such large tires normally takes five men with hand tool 20 minutes of hard labor.

He decided a special machine was needed for the job, but officials of a major tire company and a maker of large earth-moving equipment told him it couldn't be done.

Psychedelic Minicigars

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — You've brought your best girl home to meet mom and she lights up a lime-flavored cigar. What do you do? Offer the old lady a black cherry cheroot.

It could happen. A tobacco company here has developed a line of flavored "sports" minicigars in psychedelic packages designed to appeal to the youth market, including girls.

"We have sugar-cured slims, lime... black cherry tip and mentol top," said Morton Annis, president of the company. "We're working on rum and port wine models now."

"We developed the flavor kind of like the aromatic pipe tobacco. You can taste it when you're smoking it, and people in the room with you enjoy the aroma," he added.

Graves Marked

BALLINGER, Tex. (AP) — The graves of three pioneer Runnels County officials have been marked for posterity.

Historical markers were placed on the graves Sunday of J. W. Clampitt, second sheriff of Runnels County; J. P. Flynt, sheriff from 1908 to 1918, and Sylvester Adams, Runnels' first county judge.

Committees Suggest List Of Projects For Chamber

All the recommendations from the Chamber of Commerce committees have been turned in to the President's Task Force on Priorities, which now has the duty of studying them and determining priorities for a 1970 budget. A public meeting will probably be held on the recommendations sometime in the future.

The committees reporting Monday and Tuesday and their recommendations were: Advertising and promotion: develop a four and two-color brochure during 1970 and increase and continue the highway signs program, including three signs in three years.

Cultural affairs: improve the Municipal Auditorium facilities, stressing better foyer appearance, dressing rooms, hot and cold water facilities in the dressing rooms, storage or hanging space for costumes during performances, removing or covering the open steam pipes; and improve the acoustics in the Amphitheater perhaps using a modified shell.

Judge Stout Will Retire

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP) — Judge A. Royce Stout, the longest-serving district judge in Texas, has announced his retirement, effective Oct. 1.

Judge Stout, who has also held court throughout the state as a visiting judge when other courts were full, said Monday that he is "feeling the weight of the passing years." The 69-year-old Stout said he recently suffered a heart attack which he said indicated to him "the advisability of retirement."

Judge Stout, who received his law degree from the University of Texas in 1923, was born in nearby Ennis.

He served two terms in the state legislature and was in the Attorney General's office over two years. He has been district judge since 1938.

Tourist and Conventions: attract a minimum of 10 conventions during 1970; develop a convention facility, and develop a convention package to offer the conventions bid on.

PROF REAL 'EGG HEAD'

FORT COLLINS (AP) — A Colorado State University professor has received a $1,000 research grant to try to learn whether eggs talk to each other before they hatch.

Dr. Harry D. Muller said he believes there may be a primitive communication system between eggs in close proximity that synchronizes hatching.

The American Poultry and Hatchery Federation awarded the grant so he could pursue the investigation.

Muller said it has been observed with game birds that some natural mechanism synchronizes hatching of a group of eggs. He said game birds may lay a dozen or more eggs within three weeks, but all hatch within five or six hours.

If the mechanism can be discovered, he said, it may be possible to regulate more closely the hatching time of turkey and chicken eggs.

Clearing Skies Follow Rains

By The Associated Press

Strong thundershowers that flooded portions of San Antonio and pounded Fort Worth tapered off today as Texas skies began to clear.

Moisture-laden clouds drifted southward in the state, carrying scattered thundershowers to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

McAllen had .73 of an inch of rain before sunrise. Brownsville received .13 of an inch.

Clearing skies followed turbulent weather Tuesday that dumped over six inches of rain on sections of San Antonio.

Water spilled over curbs, bubbled into businesses and stalled motorists at intersections.

Fort Worth measured up to 3.25 inches of rain, but flooding there was minor.

Other showers on the first day of autumn dumped more than two inches of rain on some sections of Dallas.

Workmen at one of San Antonio hotel piled up sandbags to stop the churning water. Lightning struck in the downtown area at least three times, police said, but no damage was reported.

Employees at the Bexar County Courthouse waded in water about two inches deep to save tax records. Leaks sprang up in police headquarters.

A furniture store executive estimated water damaged up to $30,000 in appliances and furniture in the firm's basement.

Some motor vehicles were submerged in water from five to six feet deep, police said. One man said he swam across a San Antonio expressway after his car stalled with about 10 other vehicles.

The rains formed along a cold front that dipped overnight temperatures to the 50s and 60s in Northwest Texas.

Early morning temperatures today ranged from 77 degrees at Brownsville down to 54 at Dalhart.

Dear Sir,

I just wanted to write you a short note expressing the fact that I have no objection to the astronauts of the future being granted the right to read aloud from the HOLY BIBLE while in the midst of a space mission.

It is my opinion that to deny this privilege would be a direct conflict with our democratic way of life. Rather than continue to negate a means of spiritual inspiration in the area of public life we would hope for the basic freedom for each individual to worship if he chooses.

Thank you for considering this letter.

Sincerely,

CODSEN RECOGNIZES SAFE WORKERS — Cosden Oil & Chemical Company took occasion Tuesday evening to recognize safe workers, particularly those with a quarter century of no lost-time mishaps. At a family barbecue which marked the kick-off of a new safety emphasis, Paul Soldan, left, director of safety, John E. Brown Sr., third from left, and Leonard Burks were among the 25-year men getting Gold Hats. Paul Meek, Cosden president, second from left, presented the hard hats.

Cosden Plans To Improve On Good Safety Record

Cosden Oil & Chemical Company has an outstanding safety record as witness 62 men who have completed 25 years on the job without a lost-time accident.

But company safety experts figure it can be better, so they used a family barbecue — the first of three such events — to kick off the new program Tuesday evening at Cosden Country Club.

Naturally, those 25-year men were in the spotlight. Gold (hard) Hats went to them as a symbol of long and safe work. Others will follow at the Thursday and Saturday 6 p.m. family barbecues at the club.

Paul Soldan, director of safety, outlined the over-all safety program for Cosden. Frosty Robison emphasized the importance of safe working procedures.

Paul Meek, president of Cosden, introduced by Red Williams, expressed his appreciation for the record that Cosden workers have achieved. Of some 80 people who have put in 25 years with Cosden and are still active, about 75 per cent have qualified for the Gold Hat awards, he said. Safety is more than a matter of money for the company, he pointed out, for it is vital in family economics and happiness.

Those receiving Gold Hats at the Tuesday barbecue were John E. Brown, Leonard Burks, G. K. Chadd, Sonny Fuller, Joe Gunning, J. T. Johnson, Jim King, M. A. Lilly, H. F. Merrell, Jack Y. Smith, Paul Soldan, Carroll Walker, A. M. Wiggins, Maberry Willbanks, J. J. Williams. Smith and Wiggins have completed over 30 years without a lost-time accident.

People Don't Understand Tuba?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The San Francisco Symphony claims to have the youngest tuba player performing with an orchestra of first rank—a 21-year-old former high school football player who thinks "people don't understand the tuba."

"It can be a very lyrical, expressive instrument," said Floyd Cooley of Oskaloosa, Iowa, who started playing tuba at the age of 12 and became a soloist with the Indiana University Philharmonic.

Judges picked Cooley for the orchestra position here in an audition last May. His San Francisco debut will be Dec. 10 in Tchaikovsky's Symphony No. 6.

Operation Slowing Down Drug Traffic, Business

By The Associated Press

Operation Intercept appears to be slowing down drug traffic across the Texas-Mexico border at mid-week, but threatens to wreck other business on both sides says a Texas congressman.

Rep. Eligio de la Garza told The Associated Press that several thousand regular U.S.-Mexico commuters are adversely affected in his district.

"These include kids who live in Brownsville, green carders who live in Mexico but cross over to jobs in the United States daily, the export-import people, and the Americans who have business in Matamoros—and of course all of the tourists we have advertised for."

At Hidalgo and Brownsville delays of 3 to 4 hours were virtually the same as before, but at Laredo the waits were down to an hour and half from two hours or more previously. And at Del Rio delays were cut down to about 25 minutes compared with an hour on Monday.

Passengers arrive from Mexico at Houston's Intercontinental Airport found that each piece of their luggage was inspected, rather than only a spot check as is usually made. A customs director said most delays were less than a half hour.

Operation Intercept continued to force long delays at El Paso-Juarez crossing points Tuesday. The Juarez tourist business was noticeably slower than usual.

HANDED FOLDER

Persons returning from Mexico were being handed a folder signed by Myles Ambrose, commissioner of customs.

The folder said a presidential taskforce determined that "Virtually all of the high potency marijuana used in the United States is produced abroad and smuggled into the U.S."

Arthur Adams, assistant customs agent in charge, said traffic was running smoothly under the circumstances and that each car search was taking about three minutes. He said the average time wait for cars was about 90 minutes. But motorists reported waits of up to five hours.

New Members Named For Various City Boards

The city commission Tuesday named new members to serve on various city boards. One four-year term on the planning and zoning board was left vacant temporarily, but J. D. Jones was reappointed to the board for another four-year term.

Mrs. Odell Womack was reappointed to the parks and recreation board, while Don Horton was named to replace F. D. Rogers; both terms are for three years.

All retiring members of the traffic commission — Jerry Worthy, Paul Soldan, Don Crockett, Jimmy Jolley and George Weeks — were reappointed for two-year terms, while Bill Coleman was named to replace Dick Collier on the board of adjustment and appeals for a one-year term.

D. O. Gray will take the place of Jerry Mancill, while E. B. McCormick and John R. Coffee were reappointed to the zoning board of adjustment; all three are two-year terms.

On the electrical board R. G. Webb will serve another two years, and Raymond Talley, Bill Row, Louis Jones, and (alternate) Ray Anderson were named to replace Gene Haston, Clyde Chesser, Vernon Parmenter and Travis Bracken. Their terms will last two years.

John Gary and Haley Haynes were reappointed to two-year terms on the plumbing ordinance appeals board, while Bill Talbot will take the place of Tom McAdams for a like term.

Winter or summer ... you'll enjoy total comfort in a Total Electric home

The Total Electric way is the clean modern way to carefree comfort the year around.

When the weather is hot, dependable high-capacity electric air conditioning keeps you delightfully cool. When the weather turns cold, clean gentle electric heat provides uniform, automatically controlled warmth.

Because electric heating and cooling are flameless, your Total Electric home stays clean and new-looking. Less time is spent housecleaning. Redecorating is needed less frequently. Only electricity provides such comfort and cleanliness.

Before you build, buy or remodel, let us tell you about the many other advantages of Total Electric living and our low rate for Total Electric homes.

Are 'Country Club' Days Back With Sox?

BOSTON (AP) — The firing of Dick Williams has stirred controversy galore in this town where just two years ago he was being idolized for leading Boston's 100-1 longshots to their Impossible Dream pennant.

Fan reaction reported on newspapers and on radio and television was mostly critical of the Red Sox after the club announced the ouster of the controversial field boss with a year left to go on his $50,000-a-year contract.

Speculation also was rife that the action represented a coup for dissident players in a throwback to the old "country club" days for which the team was famous before William came on the scene.

General Manager Dick O'Connell told a news conference the firing was "a culmination of a number of things," climaxed by "a falling down of communications between the managerial staff and the players."

Williams acknowledged this as the reason given by the club, but also alluded to a "personality conflict" between himself and owner Yawkey.

Meanwhile most of the players weren't talking for publication—but in some cases they didn't really have to.

"I don't have anything to say," commented George Scott, who was at odds with the manager almost the entire 1968 season. "I think it's obvious how I feel. It's gotta be."

Tony Conigliaro, who made no secret of his unhappiness with a couple of Williams' comments in 1968, also declined to get involved.

Carl Yastrzemski, considered by many to be the other principal in a star-manager feud, which cost the manager his job, denied any such involvement.

"We had no personality clash," the slugging outfielder said. "We had a few problems, and we had them right out in the open man to man. There was never any lingering problems."

O'Connell in his news conference conceded that there were cliques on the club, but said he didn't know of any cases of players going to Yawkey behind Williams' back to voice complaints about the manager, as has been rumored.

SHOWING HURT He said the disappointing showing of the club this season was one factor in the decision to dismiss Williams and added that the "falling down of communications" was not just a reason thrown at the manager out of the blue when he was fired.

"We talked to Dick about things we thought should be changed," he said.

Williams said at his home in Peabody that he was disappointed but not completely surprised. "There has been too much in the papers," he said. "I was even making other plans for next year."

The manager said he thought his biggest mistake was becoming "more lenient." He said he did so because he felt the team had matured during the pennant race, but that "I was going back to the 1967 regime next season."

Coach Gene Mayfield of Periman remarked following the contest that Cooper wasn't nearly as strong as it was last year. Perhaps District 3-AAAA is finally leveling off, which means the race for the title is wide open this year and Big Spring has as good a chance as any to grab the brass ring.

The Steers can take another stride toward the title by measuring Ector this week but they can't afford to look past the Eagles. Ector is too tough for that sort of approach and too smart not to take advantage of such an oversight.

The first week of freshman football drills at the University of Texas cost Big Spring's Rocky Woolley 18 of the 208 pounds he weighed when he left here.

Austin's early September heat is rough on a West Texan. Too, the Longhorn coaches had him going both ways — at fullback on offense and linebacker on defense.

EX-BSHS Steer Joey Baker is now the University of Houston's No. 2 punter, right behind Mike Parrott.

The New York Jets have now played to ten straight sellout football crowds.

For two years in a row, the Jets lost their No. 1 draft choices in their AFL openers.

Last year, it was Lee White, who tore knee ligaments in the team's debut. This year it was Dave Foley of Ohio State, who had to undergo knee surgery for ruptured ligaments one day after the Jets launched play against Buffalo.

Last two No. 1's to make it through the season with the Jets were Joe Namath in 1965 and Matt Snell in '64 and both went on to win "Rookie of the Year" honors.

Tony Conley of Odessa, one of the hardest football runners District 3-AAAA ever had, has been moved back to fullback from tailback by the Rice coaching staff.

A knee injured in the ninth game last year kept Conley from breaking All-American Kossie Johnson's 13-year school record for most season carries.

The New York Jets' upset of Baltimore in the last Super Bowl game is still breathlessly talked about by AFL friends but the surge of the New York Mets in the National baseball league race this year probably is the bigger surprise.

The team was originally bought by Mrs. Joan Whitney Payson as a tax writeoff and for seven years provided amusement around the nation with the many ways it could lose ball games.

To Mrs. Payton's consternation, and perhaps to her delight, the Mets have never been losers at the box office, however.

Gl Hodges' boys never quit, even when they trailed the Chicago Cubs by 9½ games in mid-August. Houston was the team which was supposed to be building on youth. The Astro fans, conditioned to accept defeat, never did believe the Houston team could pull off a miracle this year. The Mets buffs apparently never thought otherwise.

Incidentally, not everyone in Chicago suffered when the Cubs went into their tailsn. The bigger lead the Cubs built in their division, the more insufferable manager Leo Durocher became with the writers who cover the team.

Anything to contribute to the humility of Durocher was well received by the ink-stained wretches in the press box. In Chicago, as in many other cities where Lippy has been a manager, the writers found Durocher to be an insufferable pomposity when he was winning and a human, decent sort when he's not on top.

There hasn't been an over-abundance of Big Springers who have won varsity football letters at McMurry College but Luven Flores is down there trying to earn his spurs as an Indian.

Big Spring natives who have topped numerals at the Abilene school include Gerald Anderson, Buster Bell, Bobby Hayworth, Ike Knauts, Tommy McAdams, Frankie Segall and Wiley Wise.

Dr. W. A. Hunt, now president at HCJC, won four letters there back in the '20's. Herschel Conkton, Clovis Hale, John Daniel, Roy Baird, Pat Murphy and Conn Isaacs are McMurry exes who later coached here.

LINEMAN OF THE WEEK — Mike Reid, Penn State defensive tackle, has been named Associated Press lineman of the week for his defensive play against Navy last Saturday. Penn State won 45-22.

Rice Takes The Hint

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — That contagious disease common to the Southwest Conference known as "offense," finally has spread to the Rice University football team.

Long after the malady rampant on such teams as Arkansas and Texas, the nation's third and fourth ranked teams, and pass crazy Southern Methodist, the symptoms finally showed up at Rice in the form of a 55-0 shelling of VMI.

But what made the diagnosis crystal clear was the Owls' 535 yards in total offense — good enough to lead the SWC in the first week of statistical gatherings.

Sophomore quarterbacks Philip Wood and Stable Vincent each Crabtree rushed for 119 yards and moved into second place among SWC rushers.

The rest of the league wasn't sitting on the sidelines. SWC teams split 4-4 in the eight inter-sectional games averaging 49.9 points per contest and outscoring the opposition 226-171.

Arkansas is second in total offense with 500 yards followed by SMU with 342.5 for two games and Texas with 329.0.

SMU's Chuck Hixson continued to spray passes in all directions to maintain his command of the league passing lead. Through two games the defending national passing champ has completed 59 of 100 for 59 per cent and 599 yards.

TCU's sophomore quarterback Steve Judy completed 19 of 36 passes for 213 yards and four touchdowns in his varsity debut to move into second behind Hixson.

Texas Tech's deadeye quarterback, Joe Matulich completed 80 per cent of his passes (12 of 15) for 145 yards to pull the Raiders past Kansas and move into third place among league passers.

On the receiving end, SMU's Gary Hammond, the replacement for Jerry Levas, leads with 16 receptions for 209 yards and one touchdown.

Arkansas' Bill Burnett rushed 119 yards in the Hogs' opener against Oklahoma State to start out as No. 1 in the rushing department.

Arkansas quarterback Bill Montgomery and TCU's Linzy Cole are the league's leading scorers with 18 points each.

FISHING NOTES Big Catfish Is Hooked At Lake

A Lubbock man reported catching an 88-pound yellow catfish at Lake Champion in Mitchell County last week.

He is Don Henderson, who also reeled in one weighing 17 pounds.

Boy Scout Troop 16, Big Spring, enjoyed an outing on Lake Colorado City and caught 40 mixed fish weighing up to three pounds each.

Among catches reported:

Petition Supply Available From Local Jaycees

Business houses may obtain a supply of the letters petitioning NASA to permit reading of the Bible by astronauts on future base missions, Eddie Buffington, chairman, said today.

If businessmen desire to place these where their customers have an opportunity to sign, all they have to do is call Buffington at 267-5522 or Bill Myers at 267-5512.

Response locally has been gratifying, and prior to the cut-off date, Oct. 1, Buffington anticipated that hundreds, perhaps a few thousand, more will sign the letters. The effort is intended as a rebuttal to the court action brought by Madalyn O'Hair, publicized atheist, to enjoin reading of the Scriptures aloud by any future astronaut while on a space mission.

In the meantime, a copy of the letter appears in today's Herald, courtesy of the Jaycees, and will be in Friday and Sunday issues for convenience of those who might not otherwise have a chance to sign a copy of the letter. The letter clipped from The Herald should be mailed to P.O. Box 335.

Selection Of Jurors In Riot Trial Begins

CHICAGO (AP) — Eight men come to trial in U.S. District Court today charged with conspiring to set off the bloody clashes between police and anti-war demonstrators at the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Selection of jurors is scheduled to begin this morning in the extra-large Ceremonial Courtroom of the U.S. Courthouse with Judge Julius J. Hoffman, 74, presiding.

The defendants, who call themselves The Conspiracy have said they will call upon their supporters to demonstrate against the trial, the first under the anti-riot provisions of the 1968 Civil Rights Act.

Some 700 persons gathered Tuesday night in Lincoln Park scene of some of the worst of the convention week clashes, and marched more than two miles to the courthouse carrying lighted candles.

Six young men were arrested along the line of march into the Loop and at the courthouse. All were charged with disorderly conduct. One also was charged with resisting arrest.

The defendants are Abbie Hoffman, 32, New York, leader of the Youth International party — Yippies; David Dellinger, 53, New York, editor of Liberation magazine; Rennie Davis, 29, Chicago, organizer for the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam; John R. Froines, 30, chemistry professor at the University of Oregon; Thomas E. Hayden, 30, a founder of the Students for a Democratic Society; Jerry Rubin, 31, New York, organizer of 1967 antiwar demonstrations in Berkeley, Calif.; Lee Weiner, 29, Northwestern University research assistant in sociology; and Bobby G. Seale, 32, of Oakland, Calif., national chairman of the Black Panther party.

The defense sought a hearing on its contention that wiretap evidence against the eight was obtained illegally, but Judge Hoffman ruled that the proper time for such a hearing was after the trial.

"If the defendants are acquitted," he said, "the government can save the expense of such a hearing."

The judge has also denied motions that he disqualify himself on grounds of prejudice and that he have the trial moved to a larger arena. Once jury selection is ended in the Ceremonial Courtroom, the evidence will be heard in Judge Hoffman's smaller court.

U.S. Marshal John C. Meisner has brought in deputies from across the nation for extra security and a contingent of Chicago police has been deputized to assist them.

Tuesday evening's Cub night, arranged by Joe A. Moss and Don Green, resulted in 174 Cubs being signed (the Washington pack organized previously with 23 boys), making 197 so far signed. In addition, the Lone Star District has 35 new den mothers and 34 new men in adult leadership places.

Any boy who was not able to attend the Tuesday evening sign-up can obtain an application blank from his principal, or if this is not possible, he can call Stokes at 263-7568.

There are still other packs to hold their Cub nights, including those at Garden City, Sterling City and Forsan-Elbow.

Tuesday's effort also resulted in the pack sponsored by College Heights P.T.A. being reactivated. J. E. Swindell will be the cubmaster.

No Action Yet On Street ROW

The Cole sisters were contacted by phone Tuesday, according to Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson, but no time for a meeting was set. He said they were to call back later to determine a meeting date convenient to both parties.

The city is trying to acquire a parcel of land from Miss Jo Cole and Miss Pearl Cole to provide a 50-foot wide right-of-way for Twenty-Fifth Street to Fisher Street. The city has title to 17 feet of the right-of-way, but the road is not wide enough for emergency vehicles.

Five Cases In County Court

Five cases have been filed in Howard County Court since Monday including a charge of aggravated assault on a police officer. Elbert (Delbert) Ross Franklin, 49, Odessa, faces that charge and he was released Monday on $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter.

Jose P. Ontiveras, 35, Midland, was arrested for driving while intoxicated Sept. 15 and released on $400 bond the following day. A theft charge of over $5 and under $50 is on the docket for Julius Bailey, 38, Gail Road. He was arrested May 3 and released the same day on $200 bond.

F. S. Gomez, 71, 511 NW 4th, is charged with selling alcoholic beverages during prohibitive hours. He was arrested and released Tuesday on $500 bond. A warrant has been issued for Mrs. H. L. Curry, Stanton, who was charged Monday with writing a worthless check.

City To Lease Gas, Oil Rights Under Powell Lake

The city commission at its regular meeting Tuesday passed a resolution authorizing the mayor to sign an agreement leasing the city's interest in gas and oil rights in land under Powell Lake.

Robert K. Kimberlin Jr. submitted a bid of $2,061.72 for a five-year lease; he had originally asked the city to take bids on the lease. After being asked by Mayor Arnold Marshall, Kimberlin said there would be no annual rentals paid for the lease, and this arrangement was the same as had been negotiated for other leases in the area.

A scheduled public hearing for an off-premises beer permit for the Settles Package Store was not held because, said City Manager Larry Crow, the store already has a valid permit, even though it has a new owner, James R. Davis.

The commission also set Oct. 7 as the date for a public hearing on the 1969-70 budget, approved the second reading of an application for an off-premises beer permit for the Hilltop Grocery, and approved the third reading of both the zoning ordinance and the rate increase for Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

WATCHES GET OUT OF HAND

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A Rhodes Junior High principal Frank Runnels, says he's spent half his time in the past 10 years searching for lost watches. But no more.

Runnels has asked parents to make their children leave their watches home.

Every school day in the past years, he said, two or three pupils would report lost wristwatches. The job of looking for missing timepieces was getting out of hand.

Now, he said, "Parents are cooperating beautifully."

ROMA, Tex. (AP) — Elsa Pena Perez, 18, of Roma was killed Tuesday night in a two-car collision on rain-slick U.S. 83 about 1 1/2 miles east of this Rio Grande Valley town, of ficers said.

Wants Nursing Homes Inquiry By Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate subcommittee chairman called today for new hearings into problems in the nation's nursing homes.

Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, singled out a series of articles this week by The Associated Press on nursing homes.

"The time has come for another hard look at chronic problems in the field," said Moss, who heads the subcommittee on long-term care, part of the Senate Committee on Aging.

Moss said in a statement he plans hearings on chain ownership of nursing homes, requirements in medical care, and payments under the medicare and medicare programs. He also indicated he may hold national hearings similar to a series across the country in 1965 which led to stiffer federal regulations. No date was set for the hearings.

Before the meeting adjourned Commissioner Jimmy Morehead asked Public Works Director Ernest Lillard to suggest to the traffic commission the possibility of a signal light at Fourth and Lancaster because of the poor visibility. Mayor Arnold Marshall suggested the traffic commission re-evaluate the "no parking" on the north side of Fifteenth, between Gregg and Lancaster, and Commissioner Walter Stroup pointed out a tree is obscuring a stop sign at Fifteenth and Main.

Jack Watkins said he had noticed some city vehicles operating without warning lights and traveling against traffic while working.

Opening lead: King of ♠

In browsing thru our bridge archives the other day, we came across this strikingly unusual example of a dummy reversal play. In the hand presented above, South was able to take six trump tricks by making every one of his spades count separately.

North's decision to raise South's three spade bid with two small trumps is perhaps a shade unorthodox, but it turned out to be a fortunate choice, for declarer cannot fulfill a three no trump contract unless he guesses to take a first round finesse in spades.

West opened the king of clubs and declarer ruffed in his hand. He saw that with a favorable trump break, he would win five spade tricks which along with the dummy's two ace-king combinations increased the total to nine. The 10th would have to come from a favorable break in the red suits. This all seemed like too much to expect, and declarer finally chose a line of play which hinged more or less on finding no worse than a four-two division in both red suits.

A heart was led to the king and declarer ruffed a second club with the jack of spades. The dummy was reentered three times more with the ace of hearts and the ace-king of diamonds to successively trump the remaining clubs. Declarer now had a nine tricks in with North's holding, consisting of the 9-8 of spades, still intact. By force, one of these trumps must stand up for the game fulfilling trick.
