Jail 100 Arabs Bomb Blast Kills Man, Injures 23

TEL AVIV (AP) — A bomb packed in a box of fruit and placed beneath a parked truck exploded in a crowded market in the town of Afula today, killing a man in the truck cab and injuring 23 others, police said.

Several of the injured, including women, children and Arabs, were reported in serious condition. Police rounded up about 100 Arabs for questioning.

Sources said the charge, which weighed between four and eight pounds, rocked the market area jammed with about 500 Arabs and Jews shopping or bringing in produce on one of the biggest shopping days of the week.

Afula is in the West Bank sector of Jordan which Israel occupied in the 1967 war. It is 20 miles southwest of the Sea of Galilee and about eight miles south of the Biblical city of Nazareth. The market, on the town's main street, draws many Arab farmers from surrounding towns.

Arab guerrilla attacks also were reported along the Jordan River and in the northern Sinai Desert, which Israeli seized from Egypt in the war.

Reward Posted For Arrest Of Vandals

A $100 reward was posted this morning by Police Chief Jay Banks for information leading to the apprehension of individuals responsible for shooting glass windows throughout the city during the past few days.

"Thousands of dollars in plate glass windows have been broken by vandals," the chief said, "and we are anxious to find the shooters." He said any information turned in to him will be kept confidential, and if it leads to the arrest of the vandals, the reward will be paid.

Broken glass, or windows with small pellet-size holes, have been reported in the past few days at:

Workers Search For Soldier

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Rescue workers searched today for the body of a Ft. Sam Houston soldier presumed drowned while trying to ford the San Antonio river on horseback in Brackenridge Park.

The soldier, about 27, was not at once identified. He disappeared after his horse balked in high water and threw him off Sunday, a witness said. Heavy rains swelled the river. More than 2.75 inches fell in the 24 hours ending at midnight Sunday.

Police said the witness reported the water where the soldier was thrown off appeared to be about eight feet deep.

The witness, a woman, tried in vain to rescue the man, officers said.

Workers at mid-morning cleared debris from the river to lower the water level. About 20 soldiers from Ft. Sam Houston joined the search.

It Sure Beats Whisky War

SEVEN OAKS, Tex. (AP) — Residents of the newly incorporated town of Seven Oaks in Polk County voted 38-20 Saturday to legalize the sale of whisky and beer.

The matter wasn't settled so easily back in 1902, when a county whisky war resulted in two fires that nearly wiped the town of Seven Oaks off the map.

Seven Oaks now has 200 people. The city is about 30 miles from Lufkin on U.S. 59.

'Why Should I Send Men Out To Be Killed?'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An Army officer headed for a second tour as a battalion commander in Vietnam asked bitterly, "Why should I send men out to be killed?"

This veteran soldier spoke of disillusionment, of pointlessness to a war he sees as going nowhere.

"If we were trying to win, it would be different," he said. "But we're just hanging on."

This infantryman's frustrations and doubts were echoed by other military professionals, all in private conversations. None would be quoted by name.

An admirer whose job gives him a wide-angle view of the military establishment said morale has overtaken money as the No. 1 problem in retaining younger officers.

The erosion of morale seems to be a compound of factors—a war that is essentially a holding action, repeated separations from families and resulting marital turbulence, the surge of antimilitary sentiment in Congress and the country.

The depths of this erosion cannot be measured, but it may be significant that officer resignations have been rising.

Air Force resignations were up nearly 50 per cent in fiscal 1969 over fiscal 1968. In the Army, officer resignations jumped about 14 per cent. The climb was smaller in the Marine Corps and Navy figures showed level, but the Navy is worrying about losing aviators and submariners.

"Many of my contemporaries with 15 and 16 years of service are packing it in," reported one decorated Army lieutenant colonel.

"Pride of profession has kept them going, but that pride is taking a terrible battering these days.

The services cannot afford a serious drain of younger officers particularly those who have gained experience and seasoning in the field and on staffs.

The problem is growing, too, so far as attracting junior officers is concerned, with a general forecast that the antimilitary climate will affect college ROTC noticeably this year.

He recalled how, on a recent tour of ROTC units, one cadet told him: "General, you don't know how rough it is to wear a uniform on campus."

Gen. Leonard F. Chapman Jr., commandant of the Marine Corps, recently voiced the resentment which is evident throughout the military at being tagged "hawks."

"I believe," he said, "that the true dove is born of battle. No one wants peace more than that young Marine rifleman on his 50th patrol or the Marine aviator flying his third helicopter medical evacuation mission in one day."

Determined To Replace Bulk Of Units In 1970

SAIGON (AP) — President Nguyen Van Thieu said today the Vietnamese people "are determined to replace the bulk of

Stanton Trials Are Continued

STANTON — Two murder cases set for trial in 118th District Court were postponed on a motion for continuance for want of a witness by Judge R. W. Caton.

Charged with murder with malice aforethought in the July 9 slaying of Marcus Tarrango, service station attendant, are Sgt. Donald L. Smith, 21, and his wife, Wilma Smith, 20, both of 1208 Stanford, Steven Lewis Blanchard, 21, W. Highway 80, and George Lewis Hite, 21, Midland. Cases for Mrs. Smith and Hite were set for today.

"The most important thing is that the Free World and, first of all, the U.S. ally, should not let Vietnam fall into the Communists' hands. And as long as the Communist aggressors from the North still remain on the territory of the Republic of Vietnam, the allied forces cannot withdraw from the Vietnamese territory.

Aussie Mystic Facing Trial In Mosque Fire

Plan To Unveil Long-Awaited Indian Policy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration plans to unveil this week its long-awaited Indian policy, promising continued federal protection while promoting greater freedom for American Indians to manage their own affairs.

Details were kept under tight wraps so they could be revealed first to the National Congress of American Indians, meeting this week at Albuquerque, N.M.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel, speak Wednesday, while Indian Affairs Commissioner Louis R. Bruce addresses the conference Thursday. They are expected to emphasize that the administration rejects the "termination" policy expressed in a 1953 congressional resolution, which aimed at ending federal trusteeship over reservations.

They also are expected to emphasize a greater role for Indians in determining the programs that affect their lives.

Along these lines, some administration sources think the Albuquerque convention may be the platform for announcement of the creation of an Indian Advisory Committee, as pledged by Hickel in August.

It might be the occasion, as well, for announcement of plans also promised in August—to reorganize the Bureau of Indian Affairs.

Interior officials have considered a task force to draw up reorganization plans, but that step might be bypassed for more direct action. They want to simplify bureau structure and make it more flexible.

At least one high-ranking official is thinking of reducing the number of area offices, and insulating the bureau's education from raids by area directors for other purposes.

Future Indian education policy has not yet been fully developed, but an authoritative source said it would seek greater involvement of the tribes in running the federal schools on their reservations.

Specific programs in other areas of concern would be developed, he said, on a "reservation-by-reservation basis" to make them responsive to local needs and problems.

ARRIVES FOR TRIAL — Michael Denis Rohan, 28-year-old Australian sheep shearer accused of setting fire to the Al Aksah Mosque, arrives at court in Jerusalem today under heavy guard for the start of his trial. The 1,400-year-old mosque, located in Old Jerusalem on Islam's third holiest site, was partially destroyed by the fire which occurred Aug. 21.

Scott Hints Breakthrough

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's chief spokesman in the Senate, Republican Leader Hugh Scott, has indicated a breakthrough may be in the offing in the search for peace in Vietnam.

Although he provided no details, Scott answered "yes, it is possible" when asked Sunday if both sides might be approaching a de facto cease fire.

The Pennsylvania gave the same answer when asked if Nixon "might be on the verge of something right now."

"I cannot tell you where there will be solid news, but there are some things happening," Scott said.

He was interviewed on the CBS radio-television program "Face the Nation."

But in a separate interview, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said he knew of nothing that was about to be revealed by the Nixon administration on the Vietnam situation. He also backed up Nixon's refusal to be swayed by antiwar protests. The President "cannot respond to the exhortation if he is convinced that the exhortation is based on illogics, simply because there are large number of people, because large numbers of people in a country of 200 million are still a small percentage of the citizens," he said.

Agnew said the United States has made many unsuccessful efforts to bring about peace.

"I can't point to anything specific," Agnew said. "I can only say the President is moving in all ways possible to reach an amicable solution to this terrible conflict."

He was interviewed on ABC's program "Issues and Answers." Agnew's and Scott's comments came as Congress appeared to be preparing for increased debate on Vietnam policy.

Chief protagonist for stepping up the public debate is Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., whose Foreign Relations Committee has scheduled five days of hearings on a bill to get all U.S. troops out of Vietnam by Dec. 1, 1970.

"The President has stated an intention to extricate the United States from the war," said Fulbright. "The Senate should give thorough study to all policy alternatives for achieving that objective."

Scott has called for a moratorium on criticism about administration Vietnam policy.

"As long as peace with guarantees has not yet been restored in Vietnam and a new Communist aggression is still threatening this part of the world, I think that under whatever form, the Free World forces should remain on this land."

Thieu spoke for an hour and 18 minutes, the longest public speech he has made since he came to power.

He emphasized that he remains willing to negotiate an "acceptable" peace while determined to avoid a coalition government or surrender to the Communists.

He asked for increased American military and financial assistance to enable her to share more of the burdens of the war.

He outlined a series of domestic programs to strengthen the army, improve such services as education and reform government administration.

He drew applause from the largely conservative legislators several times, notably when he said: "We are determined to continue to fight to safeguard freedom and democracy."

Although he referred several times to American public opinion and aligned himself with President Nixon's policy of troop withdrawal, he made clear that he thinks complete U.S. withdrawal is a long way off.

Jerusalem Court Hears Confession

JERUSALEM (AP) — A police superintendent told a Jerusalem court today that a young Australian mystic had confessed setting fire to the Al Aksah Mosque in Old Jerusalem to clear the site for the rebuilding there of Solomon's Temple.

Supt. David Ofer said Michael Denis Rohan, 28, told the police in a statement after his arrest:

"About a week after I arrived in Jerusalem I discovered a Scripture that said that one person will be called by God to build the temple and therefore I decided God wanted me to build this temple. Therefore if I am the chosen one to do this, I will have to prove it by destroying the mosque. If this was God's will, then He would allow me to do it."

BULLETPROOF
The Al Aksah Mosque was built on the site of Solomon's Temple, and the Wailing Wall nearby is the last remnant of the temple. The site is also Islam's third holiest shrine because Moslems believe that the Prophet Mohammed ascended into heaven from there.

Rohan is a member of a Christian sect which believes that the Messiah cannot come until Solomon's Temple is rebuilt on its original site. A sheep shearer by trade, the young man came to Israel in March.

Sitting in a bulletproof glass enclosure like the one that protected Nazi war criminal Adolf Eichmann, Rohan went on trial today on four charges of arson and desecration of a holy place. His Israeli lawyer told the three-judge court Rohan "does not confess to the charge and he does not confess to the facts" outlined in the charges.

IF CONVICTED
Under Israeli law, a defendant does not plead guilty or not guilty. He can admit or deny all or some of the alleged facts, or he can refuse to reply at all.

If convicted on all the charges, Rohan could be sentenced to 44 years in prison.

The police superintendent said Rohan in his confession gave this account of setting fire to the mosque:

After describing in detail the purchase of inflammables, he arrived at the mosque at 7 a.m. on Aug. 21. He paid the lone Arab guard 10 Israeli lira to gain entrance.

He put containers of kerosene and benzene behind the mosque staircase while an elderly Arab woman looked on.

"I pretended to take photographs," Rohan said.

When the woman left the mosque, Rohan took a kerosene-soaked scarf, put it behind the staircase and lit the end of it with a match.

The entire procedure took only five or ten minutes.

'IS THAT SO?'

He offered 10 Israeli pounds to both a guard and a priest when he left the mosque, but they refused the money.

Rohan said he walked about 100 yards and then started running. He hid his knapsack in a cactus plant, took a bus to Tel Aviv, and went on to a nearby kibbutz.

"At the kibbutz," the statement continued, "I met a friend of mine, an American Christian, and he told me, 'Did you hear that the Al Aksah Mosque was half burned down?'"

"I said, 'Is that so?'"

"Later on in the evening, I told him that I burned the mosque. I asked him if he believed me, and he said he believed."

The Israeli government in its trial of Rohan is seeking to refute Arab charges that its occupation of the Arab quarter of Jerusalem was responsible for the fire on Aug. 21 at the 1,400-year-old mosque, located on Islam's third holiest site.

Some Arabs charged that the fire, which burned an 800-year-old pulpit and part of the roof of the east wing, was the result of an Israeli plot. Others contended that the Israelis had not given sufficient protection to the Moslem holy places.

Accused Of Running 'Khaki Cosa Nostra'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Allegations of improper gun sales are expected to be added to a seething Army scandal so far composed of accusations of theft, currency manipulation and bribery against a clique of sergeants accused of running a "khaki cosa nostra."

And the Army's one-time top law enforcement officer is to be grilled by senators on allegations he protected a leader of the ring through what one of his investigators called a "god-damn fix."

Pentagon sources said at least one high-ranking officer was involved in the allegedly improper gun sales, including some Vietnam war weapons.

The military sources said a team of Army investigators has uncovered evidence some of these guns were sold for private profit to civilian dealers.

In a second week of hearings before the Senate's investigators subcommittee, Army witnesses are expected to detail more about the double life they said was led by former sergeant major of the Army, William O. Woodridge.

These are a few of the allegations so far made in the Senate testimony:

Woodridge was a leader of a multimillion-dollar criminal conspiracy of top-ranking enlisted men who schemed to systematically loot funds, equipment, food and liquor from NCO clubs in Germany, the United States and Vietnam.

That the alleged scheme grossed $350,000 annually in rake-offs from slot machine proceeds in the clubs of the 24th Infantry Division in the Augsburg-Munich area of Germany.

That Woodridge used his rank, connections and influence to promote his friends, and to protect the alleged conspiracy from exposure.

That at a secret, conclave at Ft. Benning, Ga., Woodridge, the clique of sergeants and a retired major general met to plan a scheme to manipulate U.S. and Vietnamese currency and to direct the investment of illicit funds skimmed from the clubs.

That some of the sergeants formed their own firm—the Meredem Corp.—to sell equipment and goods to the clubs they themselves ran.

That payoffs in money and liquor dampened outcries and caused official investigations to be hampered or halted.

That the provost marshal general of the Army, Gen. Carl C. Turner, personally intervened to halt an investigation that threatened to link alleged illegal activities in Augsburg and Ft. Benning—an alleged action one of his key investigators said he called a "goddamn fix."

That files containing records of a 1943 court-martial and two counts of AWOL against Woodridge mysteriously disappeared from a record depository.

And that there existed a highly unusual system which enabled the sergeants involved to be transferred in a body from Augsburg to Ft. Benning to Vietnam—in each case to assignments as NCO club officials.

That the Hancock family at 11:30 p.m. with a loud announcement that something was wrong in the back yard.

Hancock looked out and spotted a young wolf.

He grabbed a rifle. The wolf ran. He waited. The wolf returned—and was shot dead about 15 feet from the Hancock's back door.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Sometimes I suspect that in order to check on your readership, you deliberately give a stupid answer just to see how many protests you will receive.

Well, I strongly protest your answer to "MRS. FUNNY-NAME," who asked her husband to change their name to something more acceptable, but he wouldn't allow it. Instead of giving her some encouragement, you sided with the husband saying, "He's the one who has the last word, so why fight it?"

I have been a school teacher, so I know how a comic or vulgar-sounding name can humiliate a child. How sad to think that a man would handicap his children thus.

Please change your answer, Abby, and encourage her husband to think of his children.

MRS. H.J.K. of L.A. DEAR ABBY: Had "MR. Funnyname" asked me if he should change his name because it was a source of embarrassment to his family, I'd have encouraged HIM to do so. But "MRS. Funnyname" wrote to say that her husband was "proud" of his name and refused to change it (which, of course, his right), so since he had already turned a deaf ear to his wife's pleading, I say, "skip it." Her husband DOES have the last word.

DEAR ABBY: I am in love with a divorcee and I want to marry her. She says she loves me, too, but she doesn't want to get married again. Her reason: If she marries, it will end her alimony checks, which are considerable.

I am not a rich man, but I could support her well enough so that she wouldn't have to go to work.

How can I get her to change her mind? DEAR ABBY: You probably can't. And I think it's just as well. Your Lori has a cash register where her heart belongs.

DEAR ABBY: I just read the letter from the lady who signed herself "FOOLISH BUT LUCKY," and I must agree, she is both. In this case she was lucky that her neighbor knew what to do upon finding her "lost" boy unconscious in a locked and abandoned refrigerator.

Did you know there are 3,380 chapters of the American Red Cross throughout the country offering courses in first aid, FREE OF CHARGE? This course includes instruction on how to give mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, how to stop severe bleeding, how to treat poisoning, open wounds, broken bones, and even accident victims who are suffering from shock.

The course is only 10 hours. Everyone who drives a car, has a child, works in a factory, swims in a pool, or peels a potato should know how to give emergency first aid.

VOLUNTEER DEAR VOLUNTEER: A 10-hour investment which could save a human life sounds like a pretty good deal to me. I urge all my readers to call their nearest Red Cross chapter and sign up for the course BEFORE an accident happens.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

No Soldier Has License To Murder, Ladd Says

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Army colonel who twice commanded Green Berets in South Vietnam emphatically denies that assassination is part of the Special Forces' assignment in the war.

"The suggestion that assassination plays any part in the mission of the Army Special Forces is absolutely false and utterly absurd," Col. Fred Ladd said in an interview. Ladd, who headed the 5th Special Forces in Vietnam in 1962-63 and again in 1967-68, said assassination and terrorism are neither taught nor advocated in Green Beret training at Ft. Bragg, N.C.

"No soldier has a license to murder anybody," he said. Ladd's comments came in the wake of a growing assumption in some quarters that the Green Beret murder case indicates the elite Special Forces are engaged in something more than training and organizing mountain tribesmen to fight the Viet Cong.

Ladd declined to discuss whatever details he knows about the case of the eight Special Forces men who once faced charges of murder and conspiracy in the alleged slaying of a South Vietnamese double agent.

But as other officers have lately, Ladd called attention to the fact that Col. Robert Rheault, his immediate successor in Vietnam until being accused in the case, was the only career Green Beret in the group of eight originally charged.

The rest were intelligence officers assigned to the Special Forces. Only one of them had served a previous tour in the Special Forces.

A refusal by the CIA last week to let its agents testify in scheduled courts-martial led the Army to drop charges against the men.

Army Secretary Stanley R. Resor said the CIA was "not directly involved" but it has been established from various sources that the agency discussed the "disposition" of the South Vietnamese with the Green Berets.

Ladd, now serving in the office of the deputy chief of staff of the Army, acknowledged that Special Forces have intelligence personnel but said their mission is not "clandestine" intelligence work such as behind enemy lines operations.

Their intelligence operations involve monitoring enemy infiltration across borders, plotting troop movements within countries and otherwise learning what they can about North Vietnamese and Viet Cong activities.

In two tours in Vietnam, Ladd said, he never received any instruction or order to his knowledge that came from the CIA.

"Special Forces units," he said flatly, "do not get their orders from the CIA."

Rather, assignments come through the chain of command from Army headquarters in Saigon.

Inga Pops Bermuda

MIAMI (AP)—Hurricane Inga skipped across the edge of Bermuda Sunday and sped into the open Atlantic where colder, northern air began penetrating her wind circulation.

Forecasters at the National Hurricane Center said the colder air should cause the winds to diminish gradually as Inga lost its tropical characteristics. Early today the hurricane was more than 400 miles east-northeast of Bermuda.

Damage from Inga reportedly was minimal during its brief passage over Bermuda, although electrical power was knocked out for several hours.

Inga's top winds as it neared Bermuda were 80 m.p.h., but the storm intensified after passing the island and at one time had winds of 115 m.p.h.

Thirty-one of the 72 attacks reported between 8 a.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Monday caused casualties or damage, headquarters said. Fifteen of the attacks were against U.S. units or installations.

The U.S. Command said 10 Americans were wounded. Incomplete reports said six Vietnamese were killed and about 35 were wounded.

The attacks were the heaviest since Sept. 12-13, when a total of 86 shellings were reported.

Official sources said the enemy level of activity has been higher in recent weeks than during previous lull periods this year, although the number of American battlefield deaths is down. But they added that significant enemy ground attacks are still very few.

"Small unit contacts are staying up well above the 40s," said one source. "Last week they averaged 49 a day and the week before 55 a day. During previous lull periods in August they were down around an average of 40 a day."

American forces killed 53 enemy troops in four clashes northwest of Saigon with no U.S. losses, headquarters said.

But American infantrymen were dealt a setback shortly before midnight Sunday when North Vietnamese troops attacked their 75 miles southeast of Da Nang. Four Americans were killed and 15 wounded under a rain of mortar and rifle fire. Enemy losses were not known.

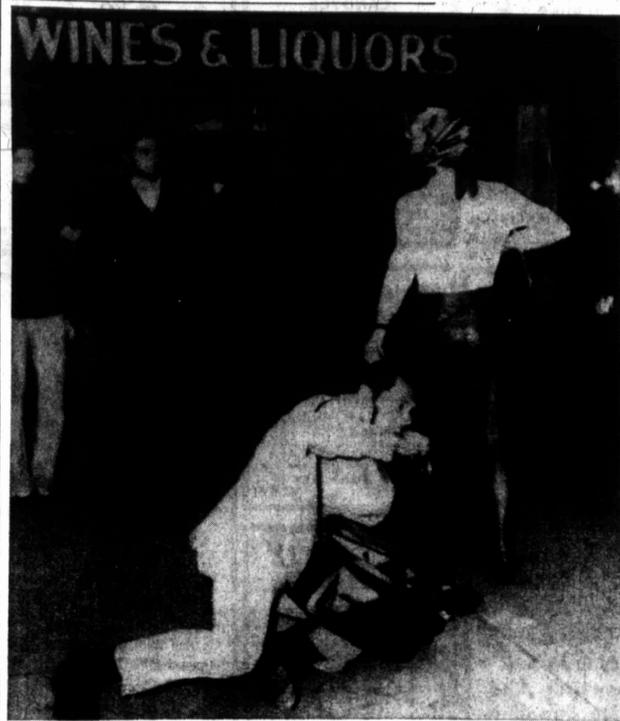

South Vietnamese troops reported killing 30 Viet Cong in two fights in the Mekong Delta. Government casualties were reported light.

American B52 bombers made another series of heavy attacks on enemy bases and staging areas. Some 40 of the big bombers dropped more than 1,000 tons of explosives on targets ranging from 66 miles northeast of Saigon to the Central Highlands 225 miles northeast of the capital.

The withdrawal of 35,000 American troops continued as another 1,700 Marines from the 3rd Division boarded the troopship Iwo Jima. They are scheduled to arrive in San Diego Oct. 30.

A total of 3,900 3rd Division Marines sailed from Da Nang Sunday and today.

LEAVING THE SCENE — Mrs. Jacqueline Onassis, in scarf, white sweater, and mini skirt, breezes past New York Daily News photographer Mel Finkelstein on 57th Street in Manhattan Sunday. She was leaving the Cinema 57 Rendezvous Theater after attending the Swedish movie, "I Am Curious (Yellow)." Finkelstein said he was knocked to the sidewalk by Mrs. Onassis as he attempted to take her picture.

Photographer Says Jackie Flipped Him

NEW YORK (AP) — A newspaper photographer says Jacqueline Onassis flipped him to the sidewalk with a judo hold after he took her picture outside the movie theater showing "I Am Curious (Yellow)," the Swedish sex film.

Mel Finkelstein of the New York Daily News said Sunday night that Mrs. Onassis "grabbed my right wrist... put her leg out and flipped me over her thigh."

Seek Bail For Hoffa

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Formation of a committee seeking the release on bail of imprisoned Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa was announced Sunday by a union attorney.

Robert Morgan, western states chairman of the organization, said it was operating in 32 cities to raise money for bail and legal representation.

Crippled Children's Clinic Slated Saturday

The Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, in cooperation with the Howard County Easter Seal

Society, will conduct its next crippled children's clinic Saturday beginning at 9 a.m. Parents of children may pre-register by calling the center, 267-6387, or register the day of the clinic until noon.

The clinic will be under the supervision of the center's medical advisory committee, including Dr. B. Broadrick, Dr. M. W. Talbot Jr., Dr. Nell W. Sanders, Dr. Louise Worthy, Lt. Col. Parker, Dr. Pete Rhymes, and Dr. Jim Roberts. The medical director of the clinic will be Dr. Rhymes, orthopedic surgeon.

All children up to 21 years of age are eligible to attend. This will include children from the surrounding area as well as from Big Spring and Howard County. It is hoped that children from Lamesa, Colorado City, Snyder, Loring, Stanton, Sterling City, Garden City, and other cities as well, will benefit from this clinic. No charge will be made.

Parents of crippled children, who wish to have their children seen in this clinic, should contact their family physician in order to have them referred. If they do not have a physician, they should contact the center or register the day of the clinic.

The purpose of the clinic is to offer a diagnostic and evaluation service to crippled children through the team approach. The team will consist of an orthopedic surgeon, pediatrician, physical therapist, public health nurse, and brace man. The team approach is expected to give a better evaluation of the child's treatment program. The clinic will help to determine what kind of treatment is best for the child. The child might need one or a combination of the following types of treatment: physical therapy, surgery, braces, corrective shoes, drugs, or a home program.

The clinic is designed to locate children who have not been treated. It is essential that children who are eligible for the state crippled children's program be seen by a physician who is a member of the board of physicians approved by the state crippled children's division before they can be placed under this program. Children who attend this clinic will be eligible to apply for the state crippled children's program.

Wrecks Send Texas Death Toll Soaring

By The Associated Press

Heavy rains in Texas over October's first weekend sent the violent death toll climbing, including one traffic mishap that killed five persons.

Motor vehicle accidents killed 23, shootings took eight lives and other violence killed eight as the toll soared to 39 dead.

One weather-attributed motor vehicle crash killed five persons and seven residents of Goliad died in similar skid-and-crash mishaps.

UNLUCKY ELEVEN

At least 11 of the motor vehicle accident deaths were attributed to the weather.

The Associated Press began the weekend violent death tabulation at 6 p.m. Friday and continued it until midnight Sunday.

A two-car crash at a highway intersection at the Rhome city limits killed Willie James Black, 21; Wesley J. Ivory, 24, both of Amarillo and Richard Braggins, an 18-month-old Dallas boy.

Five Goliad residents were killed in a heavy rainstorm near Kennedy about 10:30 a.m. Sunday when their car skidded across the highway and was struck by another vehicle. The dead were Ruby Kerlick Barnhart, 46; Randy Ryan Hill, 17; Adella Bridges Carter Von Dohlen, 34; Elio Gustav Von Dohlen, 53; and Virgie Dale Coles, 26. The accident occurred on Farm Road 239 about 8 miles south of Kennedy.

FIND BODY

About the same time, two other Goliad residents—Allen Carter, 78, and his wife, Earlene Cunningham Carter, 63—were killed in a similar accident on U. S. 59 about 3 miles east of Goliad.

In another weather-attributed accident, Jimmy Spangenberg, 25, of Fredericksburg drowned when his car was swept downstream at a crossing of Baron's Creek near Fredericksburg without injury. Searchers found the man's body about six hours after the post-midnight accident. Jesse Hunnicutt of Abernathy in West Texas was killed Saturday night as he walked across an Abernathy street. Police said a large truck struck Hunnicutt. They said they were holding the truck's 28-year-old driver.

STABBED TO DEATH

A two-car collision on Farm Road 399 four miles north of Post, Tex., Saturday night killed Leta Tipton, 68, of Post. Linda Harris, 23, of Cross Plains was critically injured in the accident.

James T. Griffin, 50, of Brownwood was stabbed to death Saturday in a fight at a housing complex. Police said they were holding a man for investigation in the slaying.

Mrs. William D. Spinks of Huntsville was shot to death Saturday and her husband was charged in the slaying. Police said the shooting occurred at the Spinks' home, 15 miles north of Huntsville.

Bobby Eugene Glazner, 33, was stabbed to death in front of his Gainesville home Saturday. Sheriff Bill Pratt of Cooke County arrested a man in the case.

FATAL PLUNGE

Aubrey Dale Murry, 37, of Chirene, Tex., died Friday night when his car plunged off Texas 95 about 15 miles southeast of Nacogdoches.

Louis Ramirez, 66, of Wharton was killed early Sunday when he was struck by a car three miles south of Wharton on Farm Road 1301. The DPS said Ramirez was standing in the road when the accident occurred.

Anselmo Gonzales, 28, of Harlingen was drowned early Sunday when the cattle truck he drove was swept into Sycamore Creek by high waters near Del Rio. The accident occurred at a U.S. 277 crossing.

Mrs. Moseetta Henry, 44, of Greenville was shot to death and a companion critically wounded Saturday on railroad

Three Happenings

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — Three members of The Happenings singing group have been charged with possession of marijuana and hashish.

Bridge Test

—CHARLES H. GOREN

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

(© 1969 by The Chicago Tribune)

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠ 10 4 ♥ AKJ 10 6 ♦ K 10 8 7 6

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♥ 2 ♣ 1 NT Pass

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two diamonds. No more aggressive action would be justified at this point. Partner's distribution is still an unknown factor and until a fit is found, we can't be certain how much this hand will produce.

Q. 2—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠ A 10 7 2 ♥ A ♦ J 10 7 4 ♣ Q 10 7 2

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

Pass Pass Pass 1 ♥

Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1 NT

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. While we prefer, wherever possible, to take the pressure off partner, we have not sufficient values in this case to do so, having only 11 points in high cards.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠ KJ 6 2 ♥ J 7 5 ♦ AQ 9 4 ♣ 6 4

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

Pass 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♠

Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four diamonds. A strong bid is in order. Partner's two heart bid constitutes a so-called "reverse" and should be based on at least 19 points. Your hand is worth 12 points in support of diamonds. A slam is therefore not remote and it is recommended that the display of strength be made below the game level.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠ K 4 3 ♥ 5 4 ♦ 10 5 4 ♣ K 10 5 2

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

3 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Four spades. While this hand contains the minimum in high cards you should carry on, the partner's raise is not forcing. The club fit is the determining factor. Reverse the hearts and clubs and a doubtful situation would exist.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, opponents have 60 part score, and as South you hold:

♠ K 9 7 5 3 ♥ 6 2 ♦ A 9 3 ♣ 10 5 2

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 NT Pass Pass Dbl.

Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. Under normal conditions, holding more than six points, you should pass the no trump bid for penalties, but in this particular case it pays to be a little more cautious. Since one no trump puts the enemy "out," partner may have stretched a point to double in order to put up some sort of fight. You should, therefore, keep your powder dry by bidding two spades.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠ 6 2 ♥ AK 10 9 8 7 5 3 ♣ K 9 5

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠

1 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Partner has announced a strong hand by making a free rebid of one no trump after the adverse spade bid. The suggested call is a raise of the no trump. With a timid partner perhaps to three no trump, with most partners a raise to two no trump would suffice.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠ 8 ♥ QJ 8 6 ♦ A 9 7 4 3 ♣ K 10 5

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

2 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. This hand has splendid distributional values, and if a good suit fit can be found a slam is not at all remote. Partner's jump to two no trump does not deny possession of a four-card heart suit and the temporary bid is strongly recommended.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠ A 8 4 ♥ AK 5 3 ♦ AJ 7 ♣ QJ 8

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 1 ♣ Pass

2 NT Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Three hearts. The four-card major which you suppressed on the first round should be announced at this point. This is preferable to showing the diamond support. If the bidding progresses constructively diamond support may be shown belatedly.

The Wide-Track Family for '70. Grand Prix, Bonneville, Executive, Catalina, GTO, LeMans Sport, LeMans, Tempest and Firebird.

Pontiac Motor Division.

(We take the fun of driving seriously.)

This is the way it's going to be.

Pontiac Bonneville. For people who really dig luxury. But agree that being big is no excuse for being clumsy.

You see, these are the people we built our '70 Bonneville for.

There's so much luxury our upper-crust competitors have started a pout-in. Pontiac's hidden radio antenna. Endura protection on the sides and rear. Steel beams in the doors. The plush interior ever.

Yet Bonneville has all the performance of a 360-hp, 455 V-8, firm suspension and Wide-Track stance.

Sound like your sort of thing? See your friendly Pontiac dealer. He knows what's happening.

REC TIME — Guy Peterson (left) and Nell Walker (center) play dominoes while Porky Britton watches in one of the recreational areas at the Big Spring Nursing Inns. The institution qualifies as an extended care facility; that is, it has licensed personnel to provide around the clock care for those who need it.

BS Nursing Inns Aim At Home-Like Atmosphere

"Our aim is to provide a home-like atmosphere," said John Barker, administrator of the Big Spring Nursing Inns, Inc., 901 Goliad. "We want to do what is best for our patients, not for us."

Since the Nursing Inns (formerly called the Bennett House) changed ownership last March, that goal has been steadily sought. All the facilities were repainted with a paint that is fire resistant for four hours.

The institution is also qualified to offer medicare and types II, III and IV care. This means the institution has licensed personnel on duty around the clock to serve as an extended care facility; if a person needed 24-hour care, he could get it at Big Spring Nursing Inns.

The Nursing Inns employ a director of nurses, Miss B. Bowen, two other registered nurses, 11 licensed vocational nurses, seven orderlies, and 34 nurses aides — a nursing staff of 55. The total number of employees is 82. The institution has a 200-bed capacity, but is currently serving 139 patients.

The Nursing Inns has its own dietary facilities and a state-approved dietician, who has a degree in nutrition. The dietician controls all dietary functions and plans the menu; a patient must not only receive good food, but should not be under- or overfed, Miss Bowen said.

A nurse-call system in each room rings at the main desk in each corridor. There is no danger about not hearing the person calling, because the system stays on until it is shut off. That can be done only in the patient's room.

"All patients are admitted and discharged by a physician," Barker said, "and all medicine is prescribed by a physician of the patient's choice. All patients are admitted without regard to race, color or creed, in accordance with title VI of medicare.

The institution has connections with local hospitals and employs a consultant pharmacist who controls medication within the Nursing Inns. A record is kept of the date the medication is issued, the doctor's name, the prescription number, the patient's number, and the dosage. All medications are kept locked.

Big Spring Nursing Inns also supplies a number of things designed to aid the patients, such as handrails on all the walls and stairs, bed rails on all beds, and raised commodes. There is only one or two beds in a room (no wards); and oxygen is kept ready for any emergency. It also has a veteran's program where they can receive nursing medication, and doctor services for six months.

The institution must also pass a continual round of inspections including those for fire, safety, narcotics and staffing; a nursing inn is actually more closely inspected than a hospital, Barker said. The staff also meets monthly with professional people about medicare itself to meet medicare requirements.

Key Rexall Drugs Has Full Veterinary Supply

When drug or pharmaceutical supplies are needed, be sure to visit Key Rexall Drugs, Highland Center, first.

"We are a full-line drug store," said Norman Krisle, owner and manager. "We have a large store, and most people find what they want right away."

Krisle has operated at his present location for the last three and one-half years; previously he had for seven years managed a veterinary supply shop in Dodge City, Kan. He has a wife, Jean, and two children, Kirk, 4, and Kim, 2.

Key Rexall has just opened up a new department of veterinary and pet supplies. The department includes a full selection of medicine and supplies for all animals, including cats and dogs. Their supply also includes a full selection of animal vaccines.

C. A. Walker, a registered pharmacist who has dealt in veterinary medicine and supplies for 45 years, 43 of which he was in business for himself on Main Street, has become affiliated with Key Rexall to help with the veterinary department.

"Mr. Walker and myself will both be available to help with veterinary problems," Krisle said. "We can take care of anyone who comes in. We have some supplies here that a person might have to go 100 miles to find elsewhere."

The department features Franklin livestock veterinary items, but also carries others too.

Besides the veterinary supplies, Krisle stocks a full line of regular drug items, including pipes and pipe accessories, school supplies, King's and Pangburn's box candy, gift selections, cosmetics, and costume jewelry.

Gifts for the coming Christmas season have already begun arriving, Krisle said, and many people may want to take advantage of the lay-away plan Key Rexall offers. Items will be gift-wrapped free, if a person so desires.

The cosmetics section features a full line of Revlon, Helena Rubenstein, Max Factor and Aloe supplies, besides other hair-care and skin-preparator items. The store employs a cosmetician, who will be glad to help anyone who comes in with skin or make-up color problems.

Key Rexall also offers a 24-hour prescription service; after hours, just call 267-8532 for that necessary prescription. Drugs are delivered free anywhere in the city.

Be sure to stop by Key Rexall Drugs, Highland Center, first the next time drug supplies are needed, and be confident of finding the item wanted.

FULL LINE DRUG STORE — Key Rexall Drug Store, owned and managed by Norman Krisle (right), has opened a new veterinary department; it can provide many kinds of medicines and supplies for both farm animals and pets, such as cats and dogs. C. A. Walker, who has dealt in veterinary supplies for 45 years, is now affiliated with Key Rexall to help in this department.

Artificial Sweetener Sours Administration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration, nearly a year after government scientists reported a possible health hazard, is showing signs of concern about cyclamate, an artificial sweetener used by an estimated 175 million Americans.

The sweetener, known as cyclamate, has been linked most recently to severe birth defects in chickens.

Cyclamate is found in a wide range of products from bacon to children's vitamins to diet soft drinks and diet foods.

FDA scientists reported in late October 1968 that a cyclamate breakdown product formed by one of every five humans who use the sweetener causes a shattering genetic material when given to rats.

Comparable genetic breaks in humans are associated with birth deformities and cancer.

Following network television accounts of the deformed chicks, FDA Commissioner Herbert L. Ley, Jr. called late last week for a 30-day, hurry-up evaluation of cyclamates by the non-governmental National Academy of Science.

On its delivery, said Ley, "I will decide the best methods of restricting the use of cyclamates."

Consumer spokesmen on Capitol Hill, led by Senator Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., have complained the FDA has reacted too slowly to cyclamate danger signs.

The agency failed to alert a National Academy of Science Panel to the critics' say. The NAS panel issued a generally favorable report on cyclamates in December.

And, the critics point to the fact that Ley waited 4 months after the report before proposing what they say are mild labelling restrictions on cyclamate use.

Products would have to show cyclamate content, and adults and children would be advised to limit their intake of the substance. The proposed regulations have not yet been put into effect.

City Budget Hearing Set For Tuesday

A public hearing on the proposed 1969-70 budget will highlight a special meeting of the city commission Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the commission room.

Expenditures in the budget total a record $3,072,219, exceeding anticipated income of $3,038,769 by some $33,450. The last time expenditures exceeded income was in the 1959-60 fiscal year when a deficit of $77,314 was recorded.

The budget will involve no increase in taxes.

The commission will also consider bids on replacing 11 police cars, seven pickups, one public works car, and one garbage truck; hold the third reading for an off-premises beer permit for the Hilltop Grocery; and consider an appointment to the planning and zoning board.

Rescued Seamen Reported Okay

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Two seamen rescued after being trapped for 36 hours in an air pocket of their capsized boat were reported in satisfactory condition today.

A doctor at the U.S. Public Health Hospital said Andrew J. Rouse, 60, of Seabrook, Ark., and W. C. Wells, 55, of Beaumont, were "doing quite well."

"Of course they are not back to normal yet but we anticipate continued improvement," the doctor said. "We are trying to keep them quiet."

The two Texas seamen were found when the vessel, the Lady Verna, was upright Saturday in the Gulf of Mexico. Rouse said the craft's cargo shifted and caused her to capsize in rough seas early Friday.

More Snow For Rockies

By The Associated Press

Two cold fronts began to inch into the nation today and scattered drizzle and fog filtered through the Midwest from the Great Lakes to Texas.

Frost warnings were posted for tonight in the Central Plains. Snows continued piling up in the Rockies. Fraser, Colo., measured 20 inches on the ground.

Hurricane Inga headed a cold front in the Atlantic Ocean. The storm was expected to weaken from its current force of 100 miles an hour as it continued in its northeasterly direction.

It was warm and sunny in the Far West and in the Northeast but heavy rains caused flood warnings in Texas.

At least 11 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents directly attributed to the weather and flood warnings went out for the Frio and Leona Rivers in South Texas.

The weather bureau also forecast moderate flooding on the Middle Nueces River through the end of the week.

A large polar high dominates the weather picture in the western half of the nation and temperatures are expected to dip.

Freeze warnings are posted for parts of Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Arizona. Frost warnings are in effect for New Mexico and scattered frost is expected in the Dakotas, western Minnesota and southeast Kansas.

Freezing temperatures are likely in the North and central Rockies and plateau regions.

The rest of the nation is expected to remain mild with only scattered frost expected in the mid and north Atlantic States.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 27 at Laramie, Wyo., to 81 at Melbourne, Fla.

Penn's New Job Pays $19,000

Penn's wife, Faye, has been Smith's secretary several years.

Heroin Twice As Expensive

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Operation Intercept has cut the flow of narcotics from Mexico enough to make marijuana and heroin twice as expensive as before in some United States cities, and unavailable in some others, a spokesman at operation headquarters says.

"Generally the price is almost doubled," the spokesman said Sunday, two weeks after the intensive federal border check system began. "But more important is that much of it is unavailable or extremely scarce."

In New York, he said, marijuana is hard to get, and in Miami impossible.

Most marijuana available now is grown in the U.S. Midwest and is of poor quality, he said. It sells for as much as $200 a pound.

Other drugs, such as LSD and cocaine, remain readily available, the federal spokesman said.

Officials reported checking 2,234,530 persons during the past week as they crossed border points into the United States. The total since Sept. 21 is 4,618,132.

Businessmen in border towns continued to criticize the program for deterring tourists because of the possibility of long waits at check points. But some in Tijuana, south of California, said they noted an upswing in business.

Said one merchant: "Now we're getting the nice tourists."

U.N. Asked To Ban 'Piracy In The Air'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Eleven countries are requesting the U.N. General Assembly to ask all nations to outlaw aerial hijacking.

In a letter today to Secretary-General U Thant, the countries asked that "piracy in the air" be added to the agenda of the assembly's current session.

They sought a study of legal measures that governments might adopt against a "growing menace to commercial aircraft."

They proposed a resolution calling for effective laws against seizure of aircraft in flight, punishment of hijackers, a new international convention against air piracy and compliance with the 1963 Tokyo convention "relating to the prompt release of passengers, crews and aircraft."

Countries sponsoring the resolution are the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Canada, New Zealand, Lesotho, the Malagasy Republic, the Philippines, Argentina, the Dominican Republic and Ecuador.

Interested diplomats said the assembly probably will agree this week to take up the question although there may be some dissent.

They speculated that the Soviet Union would argue that an assembly debate is unnecessary because the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal is working on the problem.

Meanwhile, black African diplomats planned to step up their attack against white governments in Africa and against South Africa's failure to release South West Africa to U.N. control.

President Ahmadou Ahidjo of Cameroon was to present the General Assembly this afternoon a declaration against colonialism and racism that the African nations adopted Sept. 10 at their summit conference in Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Braves Lose Two Openers At Home

NEW YORK (AP) — "If I had been told before the series started we'd get six and five runs off (Jerry) Koonsman and Tom Seaver, I would have thought we'd sweep the series," says Atlanta's Hank Aaron.

Instead, the Braves, champions of the National League's West Division, move into the home of the New York Mets—Shea Stadium—after losing the first two games at home.

With the Mets jumping off to a 9-1 lead before the Braves' five-run outburst, some of the 50,270 fans began grabbing at banners being carried throughout the park by loyal Mets fans.

However, the Braves weren't ready to play dead even though the Mets won eight of their 12 meetings during the regular season.

"I'm not conceding," said Manager Luman Harris of the Braves. "If I was playing One-Eyed Cat I wouldn't concede."

Neither were the Mets talking about a sweep, but Koonsman was confident of victory.

"The way we are hitting I have all the confidence that we will get another win," Koonsman said.

"Our boys, I think, are underrated as a hitting ball club," said Manager Gil Hodges of the Mets. "Naturally I thought our pitching would be better than it has been but they send up some pretty good stick men. We're fortunate our boys were hitting."

Aaron belted a three-run homer in the fifth Sunday when Atlanta rallied for five runs and trimmed the New York lead to 9-6.

"He (Aaron) always has been a nasty fellow with the bat," said Hodges. "I mean that as a compliment. He's a credit to the game."

Cleon Jones and Art Shamsky had three hits apiece for New York as the Mets clubbed six Atlanta pitchers for 13 hits.

Orioles Holding Two Game Lead

MINNEAPOLIS-ST. PAUL (AP) — Embattled Billy Martin, squeezed into a dark corner in the American League's championship playoffs, called on burly Bob Miller, a refugee from the Minnesota bullpen, to plug the hole today against the irrepresible Baltimore Orioles.

But the Orioles, holding a path hand following their second sudden-death victory in the best-of-5 series, didn't intend to let Martin's Twins off the hook.

"We've been down before and we've come back," Martin said Sunday at Baltimore after the Orioles nipped his club 1-0 in 11 innings on Curt Motton's run-scoring pinch single and the gutsy, three-hit pitching of Dave McNally. "It's been a matter of inches. Who knows? We can still tie it up and win."

The victory, 24 hours after Paul Blair beat Minnesota 4-3 with a 12th inning squeeze bunt left the Orioles one step from the World Series as the East-West playoff shifted to the Twins' park.

Game three pitted Miller, a National League castoff and one-time relief specialist, with a 5-5 regular season record, against Jim Palmer, who topped a 16-4 comeback for the Orioles by hurling the American League's only no-hitter two months ago.

"Any more of these cliff-hangers and I'm gonna have myself a heart attack," said big Bog Powell, who chugged home from second on Motton's two-out single in the 11th Sunday, breaking up a brilliant duel between McNally and the Twins' Dave Boswell.

After McNally, who held the visitors hitless following Tony Oliva's leadoff single in the fourth, overcame a streak of wildness in the top of the 11th—two successive walks and a 3-0 count on Bob Allison—Powell drew a walk on four pitches to open the bottom half.

Brooks Robinson sacrificed, Dave Johnson was walked intentionally and Mark Belanger fouled out. Martin then lifted Boswell, who had given up seven hits and as many walks, and Motton batted for Elrod Hendricks against reliever Ron Peranowski.

Motton, a reserve outfielder, lined a shot over second baseman Rod Carew's head into right center. Oliva came up with the ball on a short hop and fired off-balance to the plate.

The throw was a couple of feet up the third base line and Powell churned across the plate as the ball skipped past catcher George Mitterwald.

Cupit Recovers After Double Bogie For Victory

BRIDGEPORT, Tex. (AP) — $1,300 and Lively got $1,000 as the runner-up.

Scoring a double bogie on the first hole might rattle some golfers, but Jacky Cupit kept his cool and today has the North Texas PGA golf championship to show for it.

Cupit hit his tee shot out of bounds and staggered to a double bogie on the first hole of the final round at Runaway Bay Sunday but recovered for a one-over par 71 and a four-stroke victory in the second annual tournament.

Cupit's 72-hole total of 274 held off the push made by John Lively Jr., of Canton, who finished at 278 with a final round 69 that included a hole-in-one on the 155-yard 15th hole.

Cupit, who won the tournament inaugural at Garland's Eastern Hills in 1968, took home finished third with a 280 score and won $800. Hal McCommas, Billy Martindale and Earl Stewart Jr., all of Dallas, tied for fourth at 283, earning $38 each.

Oilers Put Down Bills

HOUSTON (AP) — Buffalo Bills Coach John Rauch says his team "still needs consistency."

"We had momentum at times but we lost it whenever we got it," Rauch said in discussing the 28-14 victory by the Houston Oilers over the Bills Sunday in the Astrodome.

The Oilers maintained their American Football Eastern Division lead with the victory before 46,485 in the Astrodome, but Oilers' Coach Wally Lemm was not completely happy with his team's performance.

"We had some good points and some very bad points," Lemm said. "Buffalo is much improved."

Houston quarterback Pete Beathard passed three yards to Roy Hopkins for a one touchdown and ran four yards for another. Other Oilers scores came on a 51-yard interception by Ken Houston and a one-yard plunge by Hoyle Granger.

Max Anderson ran six yards for one Buffalo touchdown and quarterback Jack Kemp passed 26 yards to Marlin Briscoe for another.

Royal Gives 'Em Exercise

By The Associated Press

It's not that head coach Darrell Royal is dissatisfied with his Texas Longhorn football team, it's just that they've been out of work a lot lately.

Royal ran the fourth ranked Longhorns through about 45 minutes of conditioning drills Sunday declaring his unbeaten charges needed the exercise.

"It isn't the way they've been playing," Royal said. "They just need the conditioning. It's been a result of their being inactive," he added after the Longhorns' first offensive and defensive units played less than a half in Saturday's 56-17 victory over Navy.

Going back farther, the coldly efficient Longhorn starters have not played a full game under the gun this season. Royal pulled his first teams in the third quarter of the 'Horns' 17-0 victory over California.

Queens Defeat Tech In Pair

The HCJC women's volleyball team turned back Texas Tech in two games played here Friday, winning the first 15-9 and the second 16-14.

In the first game Barbara Futrell and Linda Halfmann each scored four points for the HCJC Queens, while Barbara Dairs had five for Tech. In the second, Daria Cooksey slammed in nine points for HCJC, while Carol Newsom had five for Tech.

DESTINATION: TOUCHDOWN — Ricky Peurifoy (41), conveyed by such Big Spring stalwarts as Robert Dennis (73) and Roy Anderson (75), is shown starting his sensational 94-yard touchdown run against Lubbock High in Lubbock Saturday night. Peurifoy, who has six TD's this year, wound up as the leading rusher of the game and counted again during the game on a three-yard surge. Big Spring won the non-conference joust, 29-15.

Pokes Crush Eagles, 38-7

By The Associated Press

The Philadelphia Eagles crashed into a Hill; the New Orleans Saints couldn't handle Snow in Los Angeles—and the Dallas Cowboys and the Los Angeles Rams rolled merrily along as the only undefeated teams in the National Football League.

Rookie running back Calvin Hill of Dallas sat out the second half in Philadelphia Sunday because of an ankle injury. But by that time he had helped put the game out of the Eagles' reach.

Jack Snow snared three of Roman Gabriel's four touchdown passes as the Coastal division-leading Rams drubbed New Orleans 36-17 for their third straight victory.

Two other teams met their first defeats after two victories—Green Bay being beaten 19-7 by Minnesota and Cleveland 20-21 to Detroit.

Green Bay's loss left the Packers in a three-way tie for first in the Central Division with Minnesota and Detroit. Cleveland now shares first in the Century Division with the New York Giants, who handed the Chicago Bears their third straight setback, 28-24, and St. Louis a 27-14 victory over Pittsburgh, 1-2.

In other NFL action, Baltimore 1-2, edged Atlanta, 1-2.

Foursome Wins Mundy Feature

A team composed of Richard Pachall, Russell Tidwell, Kirby Brown and Jay Corley captured first place in the Big Spring Golf Association selective drive tournament Sunday over the Mundy course. Their combined 84 was good enough for $42 or $10.50 each.

To Bob Rogers, Bill Overhauser, Jerry Forestry, and Bob Brown went second money of $23, or $7 each, for the round of 65. This was the final special tournament of the season, and the association's tournament is set for Oct. 19-26.

It's Down Hill For Cowboys

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Dallas Cowboys' rookie Calvin Hill does so many things well someone asked him if his tumble into the end zone recovered for a touchdown was a play.

"No, that was unhearsaid," said the 227-pound fullback from Yale, the Cowboy's No. 1 draft pick but the 24th player selected in last winter's pro draft.

Hill, the National Football League's leading ground gainer, played only in the first half Sunday as Dallas whipped the Philadelphia Eagles 38-7. He strained a ligament in his right ankle and sat out the second half.

Fred Cox kicked four field goals, Dave Osborn scored on a three-yard run and the Minnesota defense shutout Green Bay until the final five seconds.

The Packer touchdown came on a seven-yard pass from Bart Starr, trapped seven times for losses, to Dave Hampton. Joe Kapp, who passed for seven Minnesota touchdowns in the previous game, could complete only six of 20 attempts for 60 yards.

Trailing Cleveland 21-7 at halftime, Detroit came back to win on Bill Munson's 26-yard scoring strike to John Wright, a one-yard touchdown plunge by Nick Eddy and Mel Farr's two-yard blast into the end zone. Munson passed for Detroit's first score, while Bill Nelson threw for all of Cleveland's touchdowns.

Chicago fought back from a 21-7 deficit to go ahead 24-21 on Mac Percival's 25-yard field goal, but the Giants pulled out the victory with 59 seconds left when Fran Tarkenton hit Joe Morrison with a 26-yard touchdown pass.

St. Louis capitalized on three interceptions and a fumble to beat Pittsburgh. Willis Crenshaw scored two St. Louis touchdowns on runs of 26 and four yards.

Baltimore gained its first victory when Johnny Unitas passed six yards to John Mackey in the fourth quarter. Baltimore tied the game when rookie Jim Dunbar scored on a 92-yard kickoff return with 22 seconds left in the first half.

Washington gained its tie with San Francisco on a four-yard scoring pass from Sonny Jurgensen to Jerry Smith with 26 seconds remaining in the game.

Cancer Kills Walter Hagen

TRAVERSE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Charles Walter Hagen, the father of modern professional golf and one of its most colorful stars on and off the course, died of cancer about midnight Sunday. He was 76.

Hagen had been in a coma about 10 days and he died in his estate here.

Hagen underwent throat surgery in January 1967, third surgery since a cancerous larynx was removed in 1964.

One of "the Haig's" last public appearance came in August 1967 when many of the great and near-great of golf gathered in this northwest Michigan resort for a testimonial sponsored by his local friends.

Among them was current star Arnold Palmer who, in a moving tribute to a man he idolized, said, "If it were not for you, Walter, this dinner tonight would be downstairs in the pro shop and not in the ballroom."

"The Haig," as he was reverently known throughout the golf world was one of the first men in sports to earn more than a million dollars, of how he made it—and spent it—are legend.

"I never wanted to be a millionaire. I just wanted to live like one," Hagen wrote in his autobiography.

Just under 6 feet, with weather-beaten features and hair slicked down in the fashion of his era's matinee idols, Hagen won the U.S. Open in 1914, repeated in 1919 and finished in the money until his playing days were over.

He was the only man ever to win the Professional Golfers Association title five times or four times in a row. He won it in 1922, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927.

In 1922, he became the first American-born pro to win the British Open with a victory that spelled the beginning of the end to British domination of the sport. He won that title four times.

Hagen also whipped the legendary amateur Bobby Jones 12-up and 11-holes-to-play in a 72-hole match. It brought him the biggest purse ever won by a

Livingston Proves Fit, Dumps Broncos

By The Associated Press

It's a long way from third string quarterback to starter but Mike Livingston, suddenly thrust into the spotlight by the Kansas City Chiefs, proved fit for the job.

More than fit, as the Denver Broncos saw it after Sunday's 26-13 American Football League loss.

Livingston, a product of Southern Methodist and the Chiefs' second-round draft choice last year, was hailed as the "best pro quarterback prospect to come out of Texas in years" by Texas Christian Coach Fred Taylor after he broke most of Don Meredith's passing records at SMU.

But Livingston, cast by the Chiefs into the shadows of Len Dawson and Jacky Lee, had little chance until Sunday to show what he could do.

With Dawson and Lee sidelined by leg injuries, Livingston stepped in and completed 14 passes for 124 yards, more yardage than the combined figures for two Bronco quarterbacks, Steve Pensi and Pete Liske.

Livingston clicked on screen passes to fullback Robert Holmes and on longer throws to Otis Taylor and Fred Arbanas. Jan Stenerud, the sensational soccer-style kicker, accounted for 12 Kansas City points with four field goals, one a 54-yarder for a Denver stadium record, as the Chiefs widened their Western Division record to 3-1 and the Broncos squared theirs 2-2.

Kansas City's touchdowns came on a 12-yard run by Warren McVea and a 60-yard dash by Jim Kearney with an intercepted pass.

In other AFL games, the world champion New York Jets, 2-2, beat Boston, 0-4, 23-14 and Houston, 3-1, whipped Buffalo, 1-3, 28-14.

NEWSMEN EXAMINE CUBAN MIG — Newsmen examine and photograph a Cuban Air Force MIG 17 which was flown to Homestead Air Force Base Sunday by a Cuban pilot. The pilot, who was not identified, received political asylum at his request.

Russ-Made Fighter Plane Lands Near Nixon's Liner

HOMESTEAD AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP) — A Russian-made MIG 17 fighter plane piloted by a defecting Cuban officer landed Sunday near President Nixon's Air Force One jetliner.

As Nixon relaxed 30 miles away at his Key Biscayne retreat, the pilot set the Korean War vintage plane down on the base's only runway at 12:25 p.m. EDT.

Air Force One stood on an apron being readied for the President's return to Washington.

The little jet was picked up by radar 90 miles east of Key West, a Defense Department spokesman said. Military sources declined to say whether U.S. planes were sent to intercept it or whether its cannon and machine guns were loaded.

The Cuban defector asked and was granted asylum. His name was not disclosed.

The U.S. State and Defense departments said in Washington that the Czechoslovakian Embassy was asked to inform Cuban authorities that the plane would be made available for return to Cuba. The United States and Cuba have broken diplomatic relations.

The dull gray plane was searched by military officials and placed under police guard in a hangar on the base. It bore the number 232, a Cuban flag, and carried red stars on its wings and tail.

Gerald L. Warren, deputy press secretary to the President, said Nixon was kept informed of the situation.

A pair of Cuban citizens escaped the island in 1962 in a crop-dusting plane, landing in Florida. One of the men, Santiago Mendez Acosta, died in another crop duster seven years later while working over an Alabama field. His aircraft struck a power line.

Operation Intercept Increases Bitterness

WASHINGTON (AP) — Relations between the United States and Mexico are at the lowest point in years because of Operation Intercept on the border between the two countries, Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez said Sunday.

"People tell me the feeling along the border hasn't been this bad since the Revolutionary War," the San Antonio Democrat said in an interview.

Gonzalez said the worst thing about the border-long crackdown on narcotics traffic was that the Nixon administration did not tell the Mexican government of the real scope and economic implications of Intercept.

"It was a unilateral decision," he said.

He said his sources indicate the details of the project were not disclosed in advance to Mexican officials, let alone any forecast on what their border cities could expect in dropping business and tourist dollars.

A delegation from Mexico left Sunday for Washington and a series of talks with the State Department. The Mexicans will argue that Intercept be stopped because of its damage to border economies.

Last week a three-hour detention of a Mexican counsel at El Paso caused the Mexican government to file a protest with the State Department.

This weekend the U.S. Customs Bureau sent the word to its men on the 2,000-mile border that Mexican government officials, including policemen, should be passed through without the long wait and detailed examination which other travelers face.

Gonzalez said smaller-scale incidents of frustration and bitterness are becoming commonplace in the Mexican border towns left nearly deserted because tourists stay away rather than face hours-long delays in returning to the United States.

Worst of all, Gonzalez said, the Intercept operation is not as effective in catching drug smugglers as the previous method of surprise spot checks, which allows freer movement of people between the countries.

"But they're hardheaded," he said of the Intercept planners. "They're not listening. They're determined to keep it going."

Gonzalez claimed that the U.S.-Canadian border has been left partly unguarded because customs agents have been sent south to help with Intercept. Gonzalez asserted that the majority of heroin smuggled into this country comes through Canada.

Hubert Fears Unemployment

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today that President Nixon has virtually abdicated his responsibility to fight inflationary wage and price hikes.

And, said the man who lost the presidential election to Nixon, White House policies aimed at slowing the economy to cool inflation threaten a drastic increase in unemployment.

"That's the old tried and tested Republican medicine guaranteed to produce a cure worse than the disease," Humphrey said in a speech for some 1,000 AFL-CIO convention delegates.

Humphrey, speaking to the labor group that was the main bulwark of his Democratic bid for the presidency, said Nixon is favoring bankers, corporations and his Southern political allies at the expense of the rest of the nation.

"Inflation, interest rates, civil rights, education, conservation, consumer protection, antitrust—don't name it and the Nixon-Agnew administration has reneged on its friends and forgotten the rest of us," Humphrey said.

"What we have witnessed in the past eight months is a virtual abdication of the President's responsibility—yes, even his duty—to take the lead in fighting inflation, in both prices and wages," he said.

Death Claims Dr. Fosdick

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, whose liberal voice was a pillar of American Protestantism for a half-century, is dead at 91.

Dr. Fosdick died Sunday in Lawrence Hospital in Bronxville, where he was taken two weeks ago with a heart condition.

As a preacher in the pulpit and a teacher at Union Theological Seminary, Dr. Fosdick was a leading spokesman for modernism and a target of fundamentalists, who often called him a heretic.

Polka Music Competes With Noise Of Midway

DALLAS (AP) — Brass by Francis E. Kott of Fred Czechoslovakian polka music competed with the din of the midway Sunday at the State Fair of Texas.

A crowd of 156,967, including about 6,000 who showed up for Czech Day, withstood light showers and dark clouds for the second day of the annual event. The attendance was about 2,000 less than last year.

Judging in the Pan-American Livestock Exposition continued with champions announced in cattle, turkey and sheep divisions.

Thelrick Brangus Farms of Bloisville showed the grand champion bull and reserve grand champion bull in the Brangus division. Named grand champion was Thelrick's Rocky, 908, and Thelrick's Fernando, 808, took reserve grand champion honors.

'Twin Plants' Idea Drawing Attention

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — An industrial seminar to promote establishment of "twin plants" along the U.S.-Mexico border has drawn the attention of American labor as well as American businessmen.

James Givens, secretary-treasurer of the El Paso Central Labor Union, said pickets would be stationed today at the main bridge leading from El Paso to Juarez, where the two-day conference is being held.

Most of the 250 industrialists and bankers registered for the seminar are interested in the low production costs offered by a business operation on the Mexican side. American labor is concerned over possible loss of jobs.

The twin plant concept was developed by El Paso and Juarez businessmen to help solve problems created by inflation. Several American companies now operate plants in northern Mexico to take advantage of lower costs.

Jack C. Abert, president of an Arizona company which manufactures camping equipment said his plant in Nogales, Mexico, has "enabled me to compete with Japanese imports."

His company's plant in Phoenix employs 150 persons; the one in Nogales, Mexico, employs 40.

Nick Pavlovich, a merchant from Bisbee, Ariz., supported the twin plant program, saying: "Mexican workers in Nogales, Mexico, spend much of their money in Nogales, Ariz."

"We are not interested in run-away, fly-by-night plants trying to capitalize on low wages," said Jaime Bermudez, a Juarez industrialist helping direct the seminar. "We are seeking American firms which have found it necessary to relocate to Taiwan, Hong Kong, Korea and the Philippines to keep from being priced out of both U.S. and foreign markets."

Bermudez is constructing an industrial park in Juarez to accommodate U.S. firms seeking sites in Mexico.

To entice foreign industry along its northern border, the Mexican government has arranged for:

- Establishment of a 100 per cent foreign-owned operation within the 12-mile border zone for assembly purposes or complete manufacturing.
- Assembly or production facilities may be 100 per cent Mexican owned and arranged to the specifications of the foreign manufacturer.
- Continual duty-free importation into the Mexican border zone of machinery, equipment, raw materials or components.

Off-Duty Officer 'Felt Like Crying' With Frustration

NEW YORK (AP) — Off-duty patrolman Alfred Rivera said he held three robbery suspects at gunpoint for 20 minutes Sunday while passersby refused his pleas to summon help.

"They wouldn't even talk to me. No one wanted to be bothered," Rivera said.

Two plainclothesmen came to his aid after he fired his service revolver into the air to keep the three from fleeing, police said.

Rivera, who moonlights as a cab driver, said he was attacked after he drove the two men and a woman to their Bronx destination.

One of the men pointed a pistol at Rivera and the other held a knife to his throat, the policeman said. The pistol was a toy, police discovered later.

"I grabbed the gun from the guy in the back seat, flung the front door open and punched the guy who had the knife," Rivera said. "They all got scared when they saw I had a gun on me."

The patrolman said he "felt like crying" with frustration when passersby continued to refuse aid.

Charged with attempted robbery, possession of a dangerous weapon, and illegal use of a gun—the toy pistol—were Isaac Fisher, 23; Nathaniel Anthony, 18, and his sister, Beverly, 20, all of the Bronx.

CAN YOU READ?

"That's a stupid question," you say: "of course I can read." Indeed you can. But have you ever thought about how well you read? Some people read so poorly that, by comparison with people who read well, they are practically illiterate. Have you ever thought about how fast you read? How much faster you could read? How much of what you read do you remember? (Most students don't remember more than half of what they read, even right after they have read it.) Can you decide what is worth trying to remember? Do you read charts and tables in a book? The captions for them? What do you do when you first start to read an assignment? What do you do when you finish reading the assignment? How many times do you read an assignment? When? Do you read a textbook the same way you read a novel?

OPTIMIZATION can answer all these questions for you. Now that school has started again, it's time to think about the coming fall and spring months. Don't you agree that if your reading was faster, you would be able to accomplish much more. There are so many assignments that require extra reading you just don't have the time to do it. OPTIMIZATION can help you accomplish tasks you never thought possible. In 8 - 3 hour sessions it guarantees that you will be able to read at least 1000 words a minute or a book per hour with good comprehension or money back. In the past year, hundreds in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi have taken the course with the average student reading about 2500 words a minute.

TAKING THE OPTIMIZATION SPEED READING COURSE could very well be one of the most important things you will ever do.

Pantsuits, Fabulous Furs Are Hits Of OWC Fashion Show

By JO BRIGHT

Time was, when fashion changed slowly, so as not to startle. Timid hemlines took years to inch up or down, and bashful body lines eased gradually from fullblown bubbles to slender, shape-showing shafts.

No more. Now a fashion may hit you in the eye — knock you on your ear — or send you reeling — but it gets your attention!

This year's attention-getters were shown Thursday by Swartz at Webb Air Force Base during a luncheon for members and guests of the Officers Wives Club.

"Modas en Ropa," the fashions of today, was presented by the wives of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron with Mrs. James Malone as general chairman. She was assisted by Mrs. Richard Lang, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Biggs, decorations; Mrs. Bruce Bickhaus and Mrs. Chris Raphael, menu; Mrs. Glen Shaffer, door prizes; and Mrs. William May, publicity.

The commentary was by Mrs. Joe Wiser, with music by Mrs. Gail Bonner.

Models were Mrs. David Mott, Mrs. Harry Hopper, Mrs. A. Del Hoyo, Mrs. Michael Rega, Mrs. William Lund, Mrs. Harold Boe, Mrs. William Cofer, Mrs. Michael Corcoran, Mrs. Larry McLain, Mrs. John Kurtak, Mrs. Owen Wormser, Mrs. Richard Stanton, Mrs. William Henley, Mrs. D. L. Quillin and Mrs. Julius L. Gresham.

The fashions from Swartz were shown with shoes from Barnes-Pelletier.

SPANISH DECOR

Spanish decor, carrying out the luncheon theme, featured black wrought iron cages, holding pink and red paper flowers, on each table. Ivy runners extended to candle holders circled with matching flowers.

The T-shaped runway extended from a stage centered with wrought iron tiered baskets filled with paper flowers, and flanked with patterned screens in gray, orange, blue and beige. Models posed briefly before the screens before stepping onto the runway.

Prior to the show, special guests introduced were Mrs. Harrison Lobdell Jr., wife of the wing commander; Mrs. Chandler B. Estes, wife of the base commander; Mrs. Anderson Atkinson, wife of the deputy commander for operations; and Mrs. Donald Jones, wife of the deputy commander of material.

From the first "Buenos dias" to the gay "Adios, amigos," the show was fast-paced, completely new — and a little astonishing. So surprising, in fact, that an audible gasp came from the audience when Mrs. D. L. Quillin threw open her double-breasted grey wool maxi coat to reveal a silver grey satin pantsuit belted with rhinestones.

The first model was Mrs. Hopper, whose shirtwaist was hardly recognizable as such in a short white cocktail version with "see-through" midriff of gold chains and pearls, after which, Mrs. Mott modeled a smashing ivory jumpsuit in wool knit and sweeping white wool coat with deep fur accents on the tuxedo front. Mrs. Del Hoyo showed a mood of evening opulence in a short cocktail dress of metallic copper and silver, waisted with a wide sash, and Mrs. Rega stepped smartly on stage warmed with a chic white coat. Blue Fox forming a big shawl collar, extending down the front and circling the generous hemline.

The best in brown was modeled by Mrs. Lund when she showed a slack suit with A-line tunic top belted slightly above the waist with brown patent and accented at the neckline with an orange and brown paisley scarf, and Mrs. Boe took her bow in a mustard colored coat of soft leather, trimmed with lamb and belted at the natural waistline with a string of leather. A coat of deep coral wool, babied with bleached lamb, was worn by Mrs. Cofer over a very plain A-line white wool dress, followed by Mrs. Corcoran, who caught the audience's attention with a white crepe pantsdress styled with chiffon sleeves and a harem look achieved with gold braid banding the bodice and a triangular "see-through" panel above the waistline.

Personifying the modern young matron was Mrs. McClain, who appeared in an oxblood maxi coat utilizing the "wet look" of crushed leather-look, weather resistant fabric styled in the always popular trench manner with military buttons.

Pleated culottes topped with a tailored jacket formed the black knit pantsuit modeled by Mrs. Kurtak, and Mrs. Wormser won approval in a practical grey leather coat made more feminine with face-framing fox fur. Mrs. Stanton was next, showing a dramatic pantsuit for after dark. The black suit was brightened with rhinestone buttons, black and white striped lining and long, long matching scarf.

Rust suede looked new again in the smart coat worn by Mrs. Henley. The "now" touch was the Canadian Natural Fox fluffs that formed the front. Seasonal brown was at its best in a rich hued bonded wool coat and dress shown by Mrs. Gresham which caught the eye with looped French frogs which circled big gold buttons down the front of the coat.

In a romantic mood, Mrs. Hopper showed that femininity is the finest of looks in a champagne chiffon gown, misty as a cloud, held by a tiny bodice of gold bugle beading over braids.

WHITE WOOL

The blondness of Mrs. Mott was best brought out by a coat and dress costume in white wool, the coat with flared fullness and accented at the neck with the toss of a pretty scarf, and Mrs. Del Hoyo looked elegant for evening in a scroll patterned knit in white wool and gold metallic shaped tunic over solid white pants. A tasseled white satin cord belt drew the eye to her small waist.

Applause greeted Mrs. Rega when she stepped on stage wearing a slightly flaired coat tiered in grey, white and charcoal wool, tie-wrapped at the neck and trimmed on the cape-like sleeves with soft Grey Fox.

Mrs. Lund shimmered like a starry night in a full-length, jewel banded dress of metallic gold and silver over the soft blue base that needed only simple styling for the elegant fabric of the gown. Next was Mrs. Boe in a timeless gown of white crepe, pleating falling from a plain yoke and belted to the natural waist with self-fabric and large rhinestone buckle.

Mrs. Cofer's black velvet pantsuit was sparked with a full-sleeved white satin blouse, and Mrs. Corcoran's flowing chiffon formal was definitely "orange," with a pleated bodice in gold, bronze and rhinestones. New and dashing was Mrs. McClain's red knit wool jersey cape and dress, fitted at the front with matching belt that left the back free to flow and show its Black Fox trim. Mrs. Kurtak modeled the latest in coat lengths, a ¾ wool coat in mint green which topped a long-sleeved, lean satin dress, the long torso ending in a circle of pleats, and a matching scarf for a gay touch at the neckline.

The pantsdress look was repeated by Mrs. Wormser in a shimmering metallic styled with rhinestones, studding a see-through midriff, and the same bare look was the focal point of a chartreuse chiffon gown shown by Mrs. Stanton. The long look continued in a pink crepe pantsuit worn by Mrs. Henley. The long tunic top was brilliantly trimmed with rhinestones on silver braid which was repeated at the high rise collar.

A bell of the ball was Mrs. Quillin in a bell bottom pantsuit completely covered in shiny black sequins, and Mrs. Gresham got double duty out of her grey crepe pantsuit featuring a long tunic top, which could be worn as a mini cocktail dress, or teamed with the pants for a fashionable ensemble.

The elegant ending of the show featured furs — all types, all styles that brought applause of approval as each appeared on stage. Mink was made more beautiful in modern stylings of coats, both full and fitted, jackets for dress or more casual wear, and handsome stoles. The animal world never looked more beautiful than it did in the jaguar, beaver, fox, leopard and broadtail that turned into beautiful coats to top the latest in fashions for 1969.

Complementary footwear from Barnes-Pelletier included high-heeled fitted boots in smooth leathers or shiny patents, pumps with gold and silver ornamentation and pumps for daytime wear in a variety of heel and toe stylings.

Maj. G. Jones Talks At Hyperion Luncheon

Major Glenn E. Jones, instructor pilot at Webb Air Force Base, spoke on "The Southeast Asia Situation Today" at Saturday's luncheon of the 1930 Hyperion Club at the Big Spring Country Club.

Major Jones was a liaison officer and fighter pilot in Vietnam, where he lived with the Vietnamese people. He told how the Communists had influenced the minds of the Vietnamese and the counter measures taken by the United States. He stressed that what would cause happiness to an American might seem 'incredible' to a Vietnamese citizen. He noted the basic concepts of the Eastern peoples are not comparable to those of the Occidental, and their aims and goals in life are completely different.

The club program theme for the year is "East Is East." The tables were laid with paisley cloths and the Oriental theme was carried out with lotus blossoms in the decorations. A curry was served for luncheon.

Cohostesses were Mrs. Roland Schwarzenbach, Mrs. Ralph Gossett, Mrs. J. R. Farmer and Mrs. Toots Mansfield.

Mrs. Horace Garrett presided during the business session and introduced the guests, Mrs. Glenn Jones, Mrs. Harrison Lobdell and Mrs. A. W. Atkinson.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Thou wilt show me the path of life; in Thy presence is fulness of joy. (Psalm 16:11, ASV)
PRAYER: Dearest Christ, help us to win life's real happiness by bringing other souls to Thee. Help us to inspire them to live by Thy standards and so live creatively and learn the deep meaning of the prayer Thou hast taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Uncertainty With A Danger

A new storm has broken over the location of a four-year college in the Permian Basin. Oil operators with interests under a tract specified by the University of Texas regents have indicated they will not consent to being dispossessed.
This was greeted in Odessa by bitter denunciation by leaders in the effort to have the college located in or in proximity to the city; and in Midland with gratification because many Midlanders felt that there had been a commitment by Odessans to locate the college midway between the two cities.
So now the jockeying apparently starts all over again. Whether Odessa can, by public pressure, dissuade the operators and manage to present an unencumbered and unrestricted site is doubtful. Whether the regents will accept the midway site is not known.
It is possible, and dangerously possible, that the resultant turmoil about a site could kill or unnecessarily delay the entire project.

German Elections

The West German national elections, an event of high European-wide concern, drew slight popular attention in the United States. That is probably because what was generally expected to happen — results keeping the 20-year-old federal republic on the democratic, pro-Western path in firm alliance with the U.S. — did happen.
No matter what coalition might emerge from the neck-and-neck race between the Christian Democrats and Social Democrats, with the small Free Democrats in a swing position as neither major party gained a clear majority, Bonn relations with Washington are unlikely to be substantially changed. West Germany's European neighbors, who watched the election closely, were more concerned with the outcome in terms of international financial policy — whether the undervalued mark — than with the domestic politics and other foreign policies involved.
The freedom of the elections with such a close race between two major parties without drastic differences is reassurance of West Germany's democratic stability and continuing development toward a competitive two-party system. The most important aspect of that reassurance was the failure of the National Democrats, generally viewed as having neo-Nazi or extreme nationalistic tendencies, to get the five per cent of the vote necessary for representation in the Bundestag, the decisive lower house of parliament which is the base of federal governmental power.
Russia's propagandistic exaggeration of the neo-Nazi threat it professed to see in National Democrat Adolf von Thadden's violence-marred campaign and 4 1/2 per cent vote is unlikely to be forgotten by West Germans who might be tempted to look eastward for new alignments holding hope for German unification. The NDP was discredited and so was the Kremlin's professed fear of its significance. That is an asset to the West whether interparty negotiations put incumbent Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger (CDP) or Vice Chancellor Willy Brandt (SDP) at the head of a reshuffled coalition government.

David Lawrence Alternate Electoral Proposal

WASHINGTON — President Nixon wisely took himself out of the controversy over what kind of constitutional amendment should be adopted to govern presidential elections in the future. Mr. Nixon would have preferred to retain the electoral college concept, but he wants some revision adopted as early as possible. He apparently thinks a direct vote by the nation as a whole, which the House of Representatives approved, would be a simpler way. But it may well be assumed that Mr. Nixon primarily wants a reform in the system. He undoubtedly will be the Republican nominee in 1972 and could be benefited if a constitutional amendment were adopted in time for that election.
IN THE SENATE itself, however, there is a distinct feeling that the direct-election method would be wrong and that it would impair two-party strength by encouraging numerous candidates to enter the field. Also, the fact that any candidate could be elected by getting 40 per cent of the total vote would place the emphasis on winning the support of the voters in the big cities.
Many senators and members of the House are already worrying about the abolition of electors in rural areas and states with very small cities.
Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Nebr., has just made a comprehensive study of the problem, and has come up with

Billy Graham

I do so very much want to be a Christian, however, I am not sure that I am one. How can I make sure that I am a Christian?
P.C.
I am glad to inform you that there is a way that you can be sure you are a Christian. The same Bible that tells us how to become a Christian tells us how we can be sure that we have become Christians. This is nothing that we should take chances on. We should never be uncertain about this matter because it is life's most important relationship.
The Bible clearly tells that we can be sure. I John 5:13 says: "These things have I written unto you . . . that ye may know that ye have eternal life, even unto you that believe on the Son of God." Evidently the writer of this very short Epistle had dedicated this entire writing to help people find out for sure whether they had eternal life or not. In this letter there are many examples of tests that you can apply to your Christian life. For example, one verse says, "He that saith he is in the light and hateth his brother, is in the darkness even until now." This is a darkness that many can apply to their Christian life. If there is a warm feeling of love among Christians, this is one of the evidences that we are truly in the faith. Try this and the other tests, and when you have finished it, you may know for sure whether or not you are a Christian. These tests can all be found in the First Epistle of John.

GAME OF THE WEEK—

Hal Boyle Wake Up Tired This Morning?

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:
If every dog has his day, this must be the day. The latest pet-pampering device, a mobile van called a "groomobile," calls at the dog's home when he needs a grooming, thus saving him the nuisance of having to make a trip to town for a bath and hair trim.
Wake up tired this morning? Maybe the mattress was to blame. Most people roll over or change posture 40 times during eight hours of sleep—but more often if the mattress is too hard rather than merely firm. Sleep experts say the extra twisting and turning can leave you weary.
What is the healthiest period of life, except for accidents? Medical authorities say it is between the ages of 5 and 15, when the body's resistance appears at its peak and therefore the mortality rate from infectious disease is at its lowest.
Weeds are the bane of the forest as well as the home flower or vegetable garden. They have been found to limit the growth of trees—and thereby the production of lumber—more than any adverse factor.
Space may need its traffic cops before this century is over. Already in orbit around the earth are nearly 3,000 manmade objects, and more are going up all the time.
Quotable notables: "There are days when any electrical appliance in the house, including the vacuum cleaner, seems to offer more entertainment possibilities than the television set."—Harriet Van Horne, critic.
The "Kachoo" season is here. How can you end a sneezing attack? The old Pennsylvania Dutch thought the best way was to stare fixedly at the tip of your nose with both eyes. If that doesn't work, try using your hanky.
Worth remembering: "A little lie is not so bad—it's all those you have to tell to keep up with the first that makes you so uncomfortable."
Know your language: Why is Cupid often called Dan Cupid? Cupid, the god of love, derives from the Latin word "cupido," meaning desire, passion, or love. Dan is merely an old title of honor or respect, similar to Lord, Master or sir. Poetic references to Dan Cupid date from the 14th century.

Folklore: Moonlight makes a razor dull. To get rid of a wart, rub it with corn, bore a hole in a tree, put the corn in the hole, plug it up—and the wart will vanish. A child will die young if it sees its face in a mirror before its first birthday. When you see a white horse, spit on the ground, or you'll have bad luck.
It was George Santayana who observed, "Life is not a spectacle or a feast; it is a predicament."

John Cunniff Listens For Forecasts

NEW YORK (AP) — From his office near Philadelphia, Albert Sindinger listens by telephone to the sound of America's confidence in the future, particularly as it concerns the economy, and he finds it waning.
For most of the 1960s the sound was of earners, spenders, eager buyers. Now he detects worry about jobs, about the stock market, about the large size of personal debts and the relatively small amounts in the bank.
Sindinger, a former associate of George Gallup, is a professional surveyor of the marketplace, especially noted for his accurate forecasts of automobile sales. Corporations buy his studies, for they know that today's confidence foretells tomorrow's sales.
Every day for the past 13 years Sindinger's telephone interviewers have rung the phones of hundreds of Americans—all locales, all walks of life, male and female—and queried them on their plans.
Throughout the sixties, Americans generally felt they were earning more money six months in the future, that their jobs would be secure, that business in their areas would be good and that their financial situation was satisfactory.
Sindinger often listened to the interviews, for they are conducted in one room at his headquarters in Norwood, Pa. He could measure the optimism or worry in the voices, detect emotions, adjudge the nature of fears.
His method, he claims, has been uncannily accurate in detecting the nation's mood. One night in 1968, for example, his interviewees took a decidedly negative turn. Something obviously had unnerved Americans.

Lyndon Johnson, it seems, had just televised his State of the Union Message. He had looked old, sick and worried. Subsequent questions proved, Sindinger claims, that this poor appearance worried Americans about the future.
The present drop in confidence, he has found, "is the first such radical drop among all groups since 1957." And if past patterns, hold, this drop foretells a sharp turnaround of the economy.
People worried about jobs begin to cut spending. They delay buying cars and they switch to cheaper cuts of meat. They adopt a recession psychology, the opposite of an inflation psychology.
During inflation people buy "now" to avoid higher prices in the future. As the recession psychology develops they save now because they might not have the money or a job tomorrow.
Should the confidence index continue to decline for another month, Sindinger believes, the nation almost inevitably will find itself in a recession.
"For the first time in eight years I find businessmen worried," he says.
The turn in confidence began in early May. At that time the index showed signs of deteriorating, but it plunged beginning about the Fourth of July weekend. After leveling off in August, it began declining again.
One of the big reasons for the drop was found to be that more households anticipated lower income in the coming six months. Further examination showed that it was stock owners mainly who anticipated a downturn in their fortunes.

To Your Good Health Has Gall Stone Attacks At Age 29

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In three weeks I have had two gall bladder attacks and X-rays show massive gall stones.
Is an operation needed immediately or may I postpone it for a few years with proper diet? I am only 29, so why would I have stones?
I have also been troubled with colic in the last six months. Could that come from the gall stones? — Mrs. M.F.
"Colic" covers a multitude of pains — sharp, paroxysmal pains in various tender parts of the anatomy. "Biliary colic" is the term for the often excruciating pain as a small gall stone works its dreary way into the bile duct. Sure, your colic could have come from the stones!
While gall stones aren't commonly found at age 29, they still are not respecters of age. They can cause trouble while you are young, as you've found out.
You say the X-rays show

"massive" gall stones, but you can pretty nearly take it for granted that there are some smaller ones, too, and as (or if) some of them get into the bile duct but are just too large to move through easily, get ready for some more colic.
I doubt that a diet would do you any good. Sometimes patients resort to a diet that is low in fats and low in highly seasoned foods in the hope that it will prevent a certain amount of digestive distress, but frankly, I don't set great store by it. Maybe it helps a little; maybe it doesn't. But it will not get rid of the gall stones and will not prevent them from continuing to form.
Nor will diet prevent the major complications that can develop from a crop of gall stones — a stone totally plugging the bile duct, causing lots of pain plus jaundice, inflammation of the gall bladder; or, in time, cancer, which is better to avoid (if you can) than to try to treat later.
Therefore, Mrs. M.F., even though you feel that you are on the young side to be having gall bladder trouble (as indeed you are) you aren't going to gain anything by postponing surgery.
Diet isn't going to give you any appreciable help.
You are very likely going to have more painful troubles if you try to hang onto your gall bladder for a bit longer.
Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for send for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "You And Your Gall Bladder." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Guarding The Gasoline Reserve

One thing and another:
A service station man here says it would surprise you to know how many people of substance, at the wheels of expensive automobiles, drive into his place of business and ask for "a dollar's worth of gasoline."
He doesn't think money is that hard to come by, that parents are reluctant to fill up their cars' gas tanks so that children can drive them until they are again empty.
Some one said recently that your temper could be the most generous thing about you. Invariably, it can give you away.

Both Los Angeles and San Francisco spend far more money on tourist promotion than New York, yet neither city gets as many visitors as Gotham.
In 1968, Los Angeles invested $856,000 on such promotion, San Francisco $265,000, New York $110,000.
Yet New York drew 13.5 million tourists, Los Angeles 7.9 million and San Francisco 2.2 million.

No wonder we stay in a constant state of confusion.

We're asked to observe a calendar year and a fiscal year. And the year changes in the eyes of many, when the new model automobiles come out. And no sooner do you get used to daylight saving time than standard time rolls around again.
The fellow who never has to consult the calendar or the clock has to be admired.

Don't anyone awaken the postmaster to repeat this but, in England recently, one James Wishart mailed an anniversary card to friends and found the postman delivering it when he visited them 13 minutes later.

Voltaire put it best, when speaking of opera, he said:
"Anything too stupid to be spoken is sung."

Deposit a little understanding to the credit of one Jonathan Foster of Leicester, England, who obviously needs it.

He telephoned the police recently to report an "emergency." When the squad car arrived, he asked for a lift home.

Holmes Alexander Motherhood Potent Vote-Getter

WASHINGTON — It's no joke. The Flag and Motherhood will always get a majority vote. The U.S. Senate proved that twice in September and did not stop there. On Flag and Motherhood, the Senate voted yes to the following proposition: "Bad legislation is better than none."

IN VOTING for two military procurement items, the Senate leaders acknowledged the contracts were faulty but the weapons were needed anyhow. In voting for an inflated Food Stamp bill, mostly to nourish mothers with too many children, the Senate admitted the legislation was leaky and loose, but the food was essential.

Well, is it really acceptable for senators to be bad legislators in order to prove themselves good patriots and good humanitarians? One of 'em said so. Sen. Ernest (Fritz) Hollings (D., S.C.) gladly admitted he voted $2.7 billion too much on military procurement and $500 million too much on free food. He challenged anybody to twit him on it.

"YOU ARE bound to make mistakes," Sen. Hollings declaimed. "If this (the food stamps) is a half-million-dollar mistake, come back and tell me next year." Just as you did tell the military, Sen. Hollings, you did on hunger. "Come back and tell me, and that will be fine; but do not kill a good program."

Hollings spoke for the many (the vote was 88-39), but Sen. George Aiken (R., Vt.) was on the other side. Sen. Aiken, who favored economical but not extravagant food giveaways, said he presumed those voting with Sen. Hollings didn't know what they were doing, "because they were not in the Chamber when it was being discussed." The vote against "hunger" was a vote in the dark for Motherhood.

THE LEGISLATION, by Sen. George McGovern (D., S.D.) saturated the country with food coupons, and it over-Federalized the program. It also rewrote the dictionary definition of food to mean products necessary to personal cleanliness and hygiene. In fact, "soap, toothpaste, Lysol, toilet tissue and any number of other things," as one senator summarized.

Too eager to get themselves recorded on a blank check for Motherhood, the majority of senators didn't bother to remember they were paid by the taxpayers to legislate and not to emote. They were giving the Secretary of Agriculture more money than he said he needed, and they were flying in the face of experience and information.

Earlier on the day of this vote, Charles Percy (R., Ill.), who supported Federalized feeding, spoke about a Federalized housing project in St. Louis.

"EIGHT MURDERS last year," Percy recited. "Human excrement and urine in the elevators and stairways . . . a woman who has not left her apartment for three years because she is afraid . . . a mother who fears that her 8-year-old daughter will be raped for dope, stairwells serving as havens for dope addicts and perverts . . . 15 years (since the project was started) translated a vision of hope into fear, squalor and hopelessness."

Available information, also, warned the senators against passing a big money bill just to record their fondness for Motherhood. Indeed, birth control which is anti-motherhood, is more important than bread in the abolition of hunger. And something that is now called "jensemsim" should have been a main topic in the debate, but wasn't. Prof. Arthur Jensen (U. of Calif.) has published a 123-page article (in the Harvard Educational Review) which has the effect of cautioning against Motherhood among the poor, particularly the Negro poor.

A GIVEAWAY food plan, not balanced by birth-control and not recognizing what Jensen calls "racial genetic differences," will speed the breeding of still more persons without the wits to feed themselves and their children.

Burleson Reports Unfair Tax Treatment

Rep. Omar Burleson, M. C., 17th District, Texas
WASHINGTON, D.C. — Perhaps there is no such thing as a fair distribution of the Federal tax burden. In fact, there are some who feel that there is no such thing as a "just" tax at any level.
During the course of the recent hearings on tax reform, a definite conclusion can be reached that those representing the Treasury Department look at the total revenue losses and gains first, and equity second. Referring to the income tax burden for single persons, a knowledgeable Committee member admitted that the single person is really in a bind but added that the loss of tax revenue probably rules out relief. At the same time, the purpose of tax reform means the establishment of equity.

WHAT IS FAIR and equitable is subject to opinion. There are approximately 19 million single taxpayers — young people working their way through college, elderly widows trying to make ends meet in meager incomes, school teachers, nurses, telephone operators, secretaries, stenographers, factory workers and thousands of retired people across the Country who now pay an average of about 40 per cent more than married couples in the middle income brackets filing joint returns.
Under the present law, married couples pay lower taxes than others because the law enables them to split their income and take advantage of the lower rate. Widows, widowers and certain other single persons with dependents are taxed at head-of-household rates midway between those for single and married persons. The reform bill would extend head-of-household treatment to all widows, widowers and those single persons over 35. Widows and widowers with dependent children would be permitted to pay the married rate as if their spouses were still living.

ACTUALLY, THERE is no law that says single people must pay higher income taxes just because they are not married. Congress has never passed, nor does it contemplate passing such a provision because of the Constitutional question. If people have to pay higher income taxes because they are single then it would follow they should pay higher property taxes for the same reason.

The present tax treatment of single people came about more than 20 years ago under the community property law. It originally applied for Federal income tax purposes, only to those states having community property laws. At that time only 36 of the 48 states had such a law. Subsequently the law was changed to permit the community property treatment for the other 12 states.

SINCE THE ENACTMENT of the Federal income tax in 1913, arguments have persisted as to the moral rightness or wrongness of the graduated income tax system. The "ability to pay" has been legally sustained throughout the years, but the contention exists that the penalty is placed on those who are able to pay by reason of industry, ability and, possibly, luck. A percentage of taxable income appears to be the only way to apply an income tax. The "blood out of the turnip" still holds, but nothing can erase the moral issue.

There are, however, glaring discrepancies in tax treatment and that of the single person is one of them. Perfection, of course, can never be reached in any tax treatment, but there can be the application of reason and logic to work toward the old paraphrased adage of "it is not as good as it ought to be, but as good as we would want it to be, but thank goodness it might be better than it used to be."

Namesakes

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Lee County in Kentucky was named in honor of the famed Confederate general. Grant County in Kentucky was named after Samuel Grant, killed by Indians on the north bank of the Ohio River, not after the famed Union general.

NIXON SAID IT WOULDN'T AFFECT HIM ANY
Doing Their Vietnam Thing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those "kids" are at it again, doing their Vietnam thing, and it may be that President Nixon will witness this month the most massive concerted blast of popular dissent ever directed at an American president.

The President said it wouldn't affect him any, thereby tripling their enthusiasm for the task. They're a year older now these young ones who worked for Bobby Kennedy and were thwarted by a bullet, who slaved for Gene McCarthy and were beaten back by orthodoxy.

YEAR WISER
They're a year wiser, a year better organized, and they've saved their mailing lists and marked well who their friends were in 1968, the year they refuse to forget.

And they are fired by a conviction that, unlike 1968, the weight of public opinion is on their side when they say it's time for Nixon to bring the troops home. All the troops. Now.

They are the Vietnam Moratorium Committee and its thousands of supporters recruited across the land for the first day of moratorium—Wednesday, the 15th of October 1969.

If all goes well, they hope history will record that day as a watershed in participatory democracy, a turning point in their country's philosophy of world leadership. They want it to be the day the people stood up and made something happen.

MAIL, MONEY
If it works they will give much credit to Nixon himself who at 12:10 p.m. Friday, Sept. 27, defied them by declaring at his news conference: "Under no circumstances whatever will I be affected by it."

The mail and money pouring into the shabby Washington headquarters of the committee have nearly tripled since that presidential statement.

"We couldn't believe he'd say that," said David Hawk, 26-year-old co-coordinator of the moratorium, speaking in barely concealed exultation. "But we couldn't have asked for more. The people didn't like that."

He waved a pale hand around the cluttered, frenetic office. Girls in long hair and short skirts, young men in long hair and short beards, sitting on cardboard cartons, opened stacks of envelopes. Their work table was piled with currency and checks—for amounts ranging from $1 to $500.

NO BUTTONS
"My God, we're out of Buttons!" someone wailed from a back room, as requests poured in for the blue badges with the white dove and "Work for Peace October 15."

Hawk, a Cornell graduate and All-America swimmer now awaiting trial for refusing draft induction, emphasized that "October 15 is not just a day of activity, an event in itself, but the beginning of an escalating process."

The committee intends to follow up the first moratorium day with two days in November and three days in December.

It began as a campus movement, and after a summer of ferment, and after a summer of feverish organization, the committee feels sure now of well-organized support on some 600 campuses in every state of the union.

But now the movement has spread beyond campuses. Committees of lawyers, doctors, clergymen, businessmen and housewives, are springing up, says Hawk, to spread the word throughout the citizenry at large.

The committee is urging businessmen to offer employees the day off, and to shut down if possible—a "moratorium on business-as-usual to allow concerned citizens to spend that day participating in antiwar programs in their local community."

Besides bringing pressure to bear on Nixon for a troop withdrawal, Hawk said, a key objective of Oct. 15 is to prepare for "an enlarged and lengthened moratorium for November."

The committee started out with minimal funds from Kennedy and McCarthy supporters. Now it is receiving as many as 1,000 envelopes a day—most bearing gifts. The money pays for buttons, bumper stickers, of office rent, painting, and minimum subsistence salaries for the dozen or so regular moratorium staff members.

So busy is the office that nobody has stopped to count the money, or the volunteers who wander in daily to help with the mail and telephone calls.

POURING IN
"The volunteers began pouring in a week or so ago," said Peggy Shaker, the 21-year-old director of volunteer work. She is a slim, olive-skinned worker from Niles, Ohio, who was graduated from college in June and spent the summer looking in vain for a job with a liberal in Congress.

The atmosphere in the overheated warren of rooms is hectic and serious. But the mood is cheerful and friendly.

Hawk, like his fellow coordinator Sam Brown, the Harvard theology dropout who ran the McCarthy youth drive last year, and other staff members, patiently endures repeated visits and identical questions from newsmen, along with the hot lights of television film crews and the TV equipment that clutters the offices.

A freckle-faced girl walks shyly in, her skirt at knee length, her hair in a conservative bob.

'MY NAME IS EDNA'
"My name is Edna," she told Peggy Shaker. "Do you want to work now or sign up for later?" Miss Shaker asked.

"I go to D.C. Teachers and we're not organized for the moratorium and I want to organize it."

"Okay. In there. If you can't find anyone to help you come back here."

On October 15, they will hand out leaflets at supermarkets connecting the war and the high price of groceries. Workers leaving their plants will get leaflets tying the war to the income tax surcharge and the inflation that is diminishing the value of their paychecks.

PROTEST MONEY — Peggy Shaker, left, chief of the volunteers at the Vietnam Moratorium Committee headquarters assists her staff in sorting the contributions arriving in Washington last week. The mail and money pouring into the office of the committee have nearly tripled since President Nixon told a news conference September 27th that he would not "under no circumstances whatever" be affected by the planned student protest.

Federal Action Labeled 'An Educational Tragedy'

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Elimination of an $8 million federal program aimed at instructing thousands of Mexican-American school children in the English language will have disastrous effects, a professor at the University of Texas at El Paso (UTEP) said today.

Dr. Raymond Past, director of the program at UTEP, said the Nixon administration has decided to eliminate the training of teachers in bilingual education. Past called the move "an educational tragedy."

The announcement of the termination of the bilingual education program known as the Basic Studies Program in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW) came in a letter from HEW associate commissioner Don Davies, Past said.

Davies said the budget cut would not effect the program to retrain Negro teachers in the South.

"I think the dropping of the bilingual education program in the Southwest and elsewhere is disastrous," Past said. "I do not mean to imply that it was deliberate or discriminatory. It's inadvertent but the fact is that these Spanish-speaking kids are getting wiped out from a chance at a successful life."

"We want these children to grow up to be useful citizens," Past said. "If a person does not know the English language in the United States, then he can't cut it. It's like saying 'sorry' to the Mexican-Americans."

The program, which continues through the current year but will not be renewed, trains Spanish-speaking teachers in techniques of instruction in the English language. These teachers learn to instruct Spanish-speaking grammar school pupils in English as well as teach them Spanish. The aim is to make all instruction eventually in English.

HEW statistics show that 89 per cent of Spanish-speaking children drop out of school. The

Highest Award

HOUSTON (AP) — Dr. Lee Clark, president of the University of Texas M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, will receive the American College of Surgeons' highest award Thursday in San Francisco.

Clark will be awarded the 1969 distinguished service award in recognition of his work as a teacher, surgeon and administrator.

Changes Made At Newspaper

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A series of executive promotions were announced Sunday by Charles O. Kilpatrick, executive editor of the San Antonio Express and Evening News.

Named associated executive editor for both papers was Bill Wagner, who has been managing editor of the Express and News. He will continue as managing editor of the Evening News while sharing executive responsibility for both papers with Kilpatrick.

Ken Kenamer, assistant managing editor, was named managing editor of the Express. John Newell, news editor for the news, was named assistant managing editor for the afternoon paper.

Fane Burt was selected as Sunday editor. He will replace Sterlin Holmesly, who has joined the editorial board of the Express and News. Holmesly, who previously worked on the Corpus Christi Caller-Times, had directed production of the Sunday paper since 1966.

Mrs. June Kent was named editor of the Sunday magazine and features section. Wagner has been with Express Publishing Co. since 1949, serving as city editor of both papers and managing editor.

Kenamer joined the Express in 1956 and had been Express city editor for nine years before becoming assistant managing editor.

Newell joined the company in 1951 after service as state editor of the Arkansas Gazette.

Swirling flood waters were expected to spill over the Frio and Leona Rivers in South Texas today after downpours left up to 12 inches of rain in the area.

The Weather Bureau warned persons that extensive rainfall would move down the Frio River to Derby with a crest of 20 feet by night. Considerable flooding was expected on the Leona River below Batesville.

The deluge-like rains Sunday came as all of Texas received downpours.

At least 11 persons were killed in motor vehicle accidents directly related to the weather. Two men were swept to their deaths in flood waters that rushed over highways.

Widely scattered showers lingered over the state early today as a sluggish cold front moved to a Dallas-San Angelo-Midland line.

Only traces of rain were reported at Corpus Christi, which caught 12.70 inches Sunday in one section.

About 9 inches pushed San Felipe Creek out of its banks at Del Rio as torrents pounded the middle Rio Grande Valley. Up to 10 inches fell in the Fredericksburg region of the Texas Hill Country. Uvalde between San Antonio and Eagle Pass was soaked with more than 12 inches.

Flash flooding in the area west of San Antonio subsided along the upper Frio River and tributaries eastward to the Sabinal.

Rains of 4 and 6 inches sent the upper Guadalupe River cascading across low places in the Comfort-Kerrville areas southward to Canyon Dam.

Events include a concert by the Smiley High School band, a talk on rehabilitation and an evening banquet for both groups.
