

CALL ARMY'S FORMER TOP POLICEMAN TO ANSWER General Accused Of Peddling Guns

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army's former top military policeman was called before a Senate subcommittee today to answer allegations he white-washed a criminal conspiracy and sold confiscated guns for private profit.

Maj. Carl C. Turner, 56, who retired in 1968 as Army provost marshal general, was summoned by the Senate investigations subcommittee which heard accusations against him last week and again Monday.

Turner, who was appointed chief U.S. marshal after his 33-year military career, resigned abruptly early last month from the new Justice Department job.

A subcommittee investigator testified Monday that Turner persuaded police chiefs in Chicago and Kansas City to give him hundreds of confiscated rifles, shotguns and handguns.

The investigator said many of the guns—some of which turned up in an illegal five-ton cache of weapons being sent to rebels in Haiti—were sold by Turner for private gain, even though the officer had signed receipts stating they were to be used for Army training.

Witnesses last week accused Turner of a coverup and a "god-damn fix" for allegedly blocking investigation into the affairs of Sergeant Major of the Army William O. Woodridge.

The subcommittee has heard allegations Woodridge was leader of a clique of sergeants who systematically looted the funds, equipment, food and liquor of the noncommissioned officers clubs they ran in Germany, South Vietnam and the United States.

Woodridge, no longer the Army's top enlisted man, recently was named sergeant major at White Sands Missile base in New Mexico. He was first to hold the rank of sergeant major of the Army, a temporary grade.

In 1967—the year he allegedly blocked the Woodridge investigation in the Army's Criminal Investigations Division—Turner was presented with the Enforcement Award by the Association of Federal Investigators. He also got a special award for merit from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Col. James C. Shultz, Turner's executive officer in 1967, testified Friday that when he complained to the general that charges against Woodridge were serious and should be followed up, Turner ordered him out of his office.

"He told me Sgt. Maj. Woodridge was just a very simple fellow and people took advantage of him frequently," Shultz said after reciting a list of accusations against Woodridge that included a role in multi-million dollar thefts and conspiracy to manipulate U.S. and South Vietnamese currency.

Philip R. Manuel, a subcommittee investigator, gave the testimony Monday that Turner sold many of the guns he obtained—purportedly for official use—for private gain.

The investigation said about 200 of more than 700 weapons were turned into the Army, but the rest are unaccounted for. Manuel said Turner gave the Army most of the weapons it has received from him on Sept. 23, a full nine months after his retirement.

The investigator said he uncovered evidence Turner sold some of the guns to the Pine State Gun Shop in Fayetteville, N.C.

Fayetteville police said the shop is owned by Earl V. Redlick, currently under $5,000 federal bond on charges of keeping incomplete records on automatic weapons. Redlick's lawyer said his client and the general became friends while Turner, himself a licensed gun dealer, was provost marshal of the XVIII Airborne Corps at nearby Ft. Bragg.

Haynsworth Willing To Put Holdings Under Trusteeship

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Clement F. Haynsworth says he would be willing to put his financial holdings under a trusteeship to "avoid any further suggestion of conflict of interest" if the Senate approves his appointment to the Supreme Court.

This word from the White House Monday came as both supporters and critics of the nomination worked to ready reports on Haynsworth's fitness to sit on the high court.

Haynsworth's leading opponent, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., had been going through a stack of financial records. He said a preliminary look had led him to actively fight the nomination.

On the other side, nomination backers had prepared their defense of Haynsworth's civil rights decisions while a judge on the 4th U.S. Court of Appeals.

In making the trust announcement, the White House said the idea came from the wealthy South Carolina jurist himself and not from President Nixon who is fighting to win Senate confirmation of the nomination.

Haynsworth, contacted in South Carolina, confirmed he had made the suggestion to the administration last week. He said he had not thought out how the trust would work.

"But I'm agreeable to any agreement that would avoid any further suggestion of conflict of interest," he said.

Haynsworth has been attacked for ruling on cases involving firms in which he had financial connections.

We just dismissed a patient that was referred to us by a doctor in another city. With proper diagnosis and adequate therapy, he took a few treatments and we both agreed that he was as good as new and could return home.

His case was much like that of a woman who was referred by an insurance company.

Again with proper diagnosis and adequate treatment, this woman returned to the ranks of the well and healthy. In both cases these people had continued to suffer even though they were receiving treatment. It wasn't until chiropractic was used that they could overcome their injuries and rapidly become well.

CAPT. JOHN J. MCCARTHY Beret Captain Held In Spy Killing Freed

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Green Beret Capt. John J. McCarthy Jr. says he is "confident I will be acquitted" of the murder of a Cambodian aide in Vietnam, for which he spent nearly two years in confinement.

McCarthy started a month-long home leave with his family Monday after his release by the Army pending his appeal to the Court of Military Review. He had been held at the disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., since January 1968.

Asked whether the dropping of charges against eight other Green Berets accused of slaying a South Vietnamese agent might have led to his release, McCarthy said, "The only parallel is that we all belong to the same unit."

McCarthy, 26, flew to Phoenix and was met by his wife, his three children and his parents.

"It's good to be home," he said. "I've been assigned to Ft. Huachuca, (in Arizona) but I haven't been told yet what my duty station will be."

McCarthy was convicted by court-martial in Long Binh, Vietnam, of the murder of Inchin Hai Lam. The aide was shot while in a car on a road outside Saigon.

McCarthy, who was riding in the car with Lam and a Green Beret sergeant, conceded at the trial that he was holding a .32-caliber revolver, cocked and loaded, when there was a shot and the Cambodian slumped, dead.

GOP In Texas Urges Nixon To Stand Fast

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Republican Party urged President Nixon Monday to stand fast in his support of a 27½ percent oil depletion allowance.

The resolution, adopted at the close of the State GOP Executive Committee, brought on brief discussion and was amended from its original form to make a direct communication to the President.

Originally the state committee was asked to go on record as expressing "its continued support" of the oil depletion allowance, but Mrs. J. D. Boggs of Pasadena offered an amendment. The change made the resolution read that the committee "urges President Nixon to stand firm in his continued support of the oil depletion allowance."

"I'm not sure I know where the President stands on the oil depletion allowance," said James V. Garvey of Fort Worth. "I don't know whether he is for the House-passed bill with 20 percent in the resolution."

The changes were made on voice vote.

Early in September, Secretary of the Treasury David Kennedy told a Senate committee that the Nixon administration would reluctantly "accept" the 20 percent allowance voted by the House. However, a Nixon aide said later, in a letter to Midland County Judge Barbara G. Culver, that Nixon "continues to stand by his campaign commitment. . . . The House did vote to lower the oil depletion allowance from 27½ per cent but this was an action of the House of Representatives and not of the President."

Another resolution adopted by the state GOP committee Monday urged Nixon to "hold steadfast" in his nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

Heroin Users Find Solution

By The Associated Press

Brownsville police had any information about heroin use.

In Austin, Police Capt. Harvey Gann said it's too short a time since Intercept was begun to tell about the status of narcotics traffic.

The Narcotics Division of the Houston Police Department reported Monday that a "small panic" is being registered among users in Houston. The pinch comes from Intercept, a U.S. government program of stepped-up Customs inspections along the U.S.-Mexico border.

Lt. E. L. Kennedy of the Houston police said some of the users are just going across the border, "using" there, and returning.

"It's happened before, but none of those occasions involved anything as tight as Intercept," Kennedy said.

The effects of the operation are varied in the rest of the state.

In Harlingen and Brownsville near the border, opposite effects are reported.

Brownsville Police Chief Gus Krausse said Monday the price of marijuana in that city has doubled since Intercept went into effect. Krausse said the price squeeze is beginning to cut high school users out of the market.

"I don't see how they can afford it now," he said. Krausse said marijuana cigarettes sold for 25 cents apiece before Intercept and are going for 50 cents now.

But in nearby Harlingen, Police Chief Marshall Rousseau said marijuana is "just a little bit scarce." Rousseau said he has no indication of price increases.

Pill traffic from Mexico has declined noticeably, Rousseau said.

But neither Harlingen nor

It's Bye-Bye Jungleland

THOUSAND OAKS, Calif. (AP) — Forty-three years ago a young animal attendant for Universal Pictures built a few cages in a rural valley west of Hollywood, brought in some lions, and called it "Goebel's Lion Farm."

Louis Goebel's idea was to rent animals to movie studios, so they wouldn't have to keep their own menageries. Later, he sold tickets and let the public watch animal trainers at work. His 27-acre complex, later renamed Jungleland, flourished. Here Tarzan pictures were made when Johnny Weissmuller was the star. This is where Dr. Doolittle talked to the animals. Hundreds of movies, television shows and commercials used 1,800 animals of all varieties. Top lion and tiger trainers prepared their acts here.

But times and public tastes change. Where jack rabbits once hopped, housing tracts sprawl. A freeway bounds one side of the park. The Conejo Valley is now a booming Los Angeles suburb.

Come Wednesday, the ring of an auctioneer's hammer sounds the end of Jungleland.

The place is in bankruptcy. An attorney appointed to handle the case blames high insurance costs, dwindling attendance and "had feeling" between Goebel—who still owns the land—and the latest of six sets of exhibit owners.

Except for the land, everything goes: animals, buildings, cages, ticket booths, trucks, filing cabinets, even hay and grain.

Auctioneer Al Silver estimates the value at $3 million and says, "We are getting inquiries from all over the world, from museums, zoos and circuses."

The list of animals reads like a roster of the ark: lions, tigers, leopards, jaguars, elephants, hippos, chimps, baboons, wallabies, monkeys, camels, goats, seals, deer, Brahma bulls, iguanas, zebras, bears, turtles, skunks, alligators, lizards, llamas, flamingos... and on and on.

Jungleland "doesn't blend in with the community now," says Lee Johnson, executive secretary of the Conejo Valley Chamber of Commerce. "It has sort of deteriorated."

The attorney handling the bankruptcy says the place may be turned into a shopping center.

The key to victory in today's hand was a simple matter of timing and, because the defenders were quick to seize the initiative, they emerged with the laurels on the deal.

West opened the bidding in third seat with one diamond. North was too strong for a mere one heart overall, so he made a take-out double. Altho East's raise to two diamonds was intended primarily as a preemptive effort, it was nevertheless a distinct exaggeration of his negligible values. South was unwilling to be shut out of the auction and he competed with a free bid of two hearts. North took any further pressure off his partner by jumping to game.

West opened his fourth best diamond and, when the dummy was spread, declarer saw that he was confronted with four prospective losers, two in spades and one each in diamonds and clubs. His sole hope for eliminating one of these losers lay in the club suit (if West held the king of clubs which appeared likely from his opening bid, a sluff could be established by leading toward the club queen).

In order to be successful, South realized that it was necessary to throw his opponents off the track, for the initial advantage of timing was in their hands. The only immediate entry to his hand was the queen of hearts and, if he made his club play prematurely, the enemy would become alerted to the necessity for a spade shift, and declarer would be unable to gain access to his hand in time for the needed spade discard.

At trick one, South played a low diamond from dummy permitting East to win the trick with the queen. If the latter did not shift immediately to a spade, declarer planned to enter his hand via a third round diamond ruff, and lead a club toward the queen, forcing West to go up with the king.

Dummy's queen of clubs would be cashed subsequently, the closed hand would be reentered via the queen of hearts, and the necessary spade discard would be taken on the ace of clubs.

East was fully aware of the delicate timing advantage possessed by his side, however, and at trick two he returned the six of spades. West's ten forced out the dummy's ace and, when South subsequently led a small club from his hand, West put up the king and the defenders quickly cashed out two spade tricks to set the contract.

Muscular Dystrophy Drive Staged During October

Canvassing for the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America will continue through the month of October, according to Mrs. John Ray, a member of the board of directors for this area.

Big Spring's house-to-house canvas is planned for Oct. 16, but the fire department has already put canisters in various stores. This is a task they perform each year.

Other events during the month will include a Tag Day (Oct. 6), in which the F.H.A. home economics department will go through the business area and sell Muscular Dystrophy buttons; and a tamale sale, (Oct. 18); one of the Catholic churches here will make hot tamales, which can be delivered to the home. Several coffees will also be given at various homes.

Columbia, Ackerly and Garden City have all had or will have, a house-to-house canvass too.

Six Killed In Accident

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP)—Five small children and a young woman were killed and another woman critically injured when a refrigerator truck rammed into the rear of a stalled car on Interstate 10 at the city's western limits Monday night.

Killed were: Clarence Moore, 1; Nathaniel Moore Jr., 2; Anita Moore, 4; their mother, Mrs. Mary Moore, all of Houston; and Dale and Gayle Bill, ages 7 and 4, children of Alex Bill Jr., the driver of the auto.

Bill's wife, Edda, was listed in critical condition at a Beaumont hospital.

Police said Bill was frantically trying to wave traffic around the vehicle, which was stalled in the middle of the lane, when the truck plowed into and then over the car. Ambulance attendants worked almost two hours to remove the victims from the wreckage.

Officers said the truck apparently was operated by Joey's Oysters, Inc. of Amite, La. The driver, William Brumfield of Amite, was not believed seriously injured.

Blast Deaths Cost $275,865

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Judgments totaling $275,865 have been handed down by U.S. Dist. Judge Lee Brewster in a suit against the government over a shell that exploded on a nearby ranch in 1964. The blast killed two persons and injured two.

CAN YOU READ?

"That's a stupid question," you say: "of course I can read." Indeed you can. But have you ever thought about how well you read? Some people read so poorly that, by comparison with people who read well, they are practically illiterate. Have you ever thought about how fast you read? How much faster you could read? How much of what you read do you remember? (Most students don't remember more than half of what they read, even right after they have read it.) Can you decide what is worth trying to remember? Do you read charts and tables in a book? The captions for them? What do you do when you first start to read an assignment? What do you do when you finish reading the assignment? How many times do you read an assignment? When? Do you read a textbook the same way you read a novel?

OPTIMIZATION can answer all these questions for you. Now that school has started again, it's time to think about the coming fall and spring months. Don't you agree that if your reading was faster, you would be able to accomplish much more. There are so many assignments that require extra reading you just don't have the time to do it.

OPTIMIZATION can help you accomplish tasks you never thought possible. In 8 - 3 hour sessions it guarantees that you will be able to read at least 1000 words a minute or a book per hour with good comprehension or money back. In the past year, hundreds in Alabama, Louisiana and Mississippi have taken the course with the average student reading about 2500 words a minute.

TAKING THE OPTIMIZATION SPEED READING COURSE could very well be one of the most important things you will ever do.

DEAR ABBY: As a cat owner and unofficial pet consultant on the Jacksonville Journal, I found your letter about the allitrophic (cat-hating) mother-in-law very interesting.

You are right. The story about cats sucking babies' breaths is an old wives tale, left over from the days when cats were thought to be messengers of the devil and the familiar companions of witches. You are misled about ringworm, however. I once contracted ringworm from a Siamese kitten. It's not a major threat, however, and is easily recognized by patchy skin and "bald spots." If a cat HAS ringworm, it can be transmitted to humans—especially children. Ringworm is found in cats who have roamed and been in contact with other animals. A well-cared for stay-at-home cat as a rule does not have ringworm. Sincerely,

CAROLYN McELDOWNEY

DEAR ABBY: I hasten to tell you what I know about cats, and being a cat breeder, I know something.

Cats CAN — not necessary DO, but CAN carry ringworm. Now, ringworm is not an internal parasite. It is a type of SKIN FUNGUS, annoying and unsightly, but easily cured. As a matter of cat, ANY warm-blooded animal can contract ringworm and transmit it to other animals and humans.

In warm, damp climates, we breeders look for this fungus every spring and take precautions to prevent it.

You are right. Cats DO NOT suck breath from a baby, but they should be kept out of a baby's crib for sanitation reasons.

I had cats before I had children and I certainly didn't get rid of the cats. Hope this helps.

MRS. C. M. Mc

DEAR ABBY: Shame on that woman who told her pregnant daughter-in-law she should get rid of her pet cat before bringing a new-born baby into the house!

Of course ANY animal which HAS a disease can infect the human members of the family, but why assume ALL cats have ringworm?

I have raised all my children with cats, and they make wonderful pets. I have adopted

The former president of the bank, John D. Gipson of Fort Worth, pleaded guilty Monday to part of the charge.

His plea was for a count charging that the two men used the U.S. mail to further their scheme to defraud the bank. The other counts were waived.

Gipson is to be sentenced Oct. 16.

Planes Dive Through Fire, Hit Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Wave after wave of Israeli warplanes dove through a hail of Jordanian anti-aircraft fire today to bomb Arab guerrilla positions in the northern Jordan Valley two miles inside Jordan, newsmen on the scene reported.

It was one of the heaviest air attacks on targets in Jordan in several months.

Despite the heavy anti-aircraft fire, "all our planes returned safely," the Israeli military command said.

A Jordanian spokesman said five civilians including a child were seriously injured when two Israeli jets attacked the Midjra area in the northern Jordan Valley with rockets and machine guns. Six houses were damaged, he said.

The 20-minute raid was in retaliation for mortar and rocket barrages fired at Israeli settlements in the Beisan and Jordan valleys south of the Sea of Galilee, the command said.

Clarification

In reports of vandalism over the weekend, ownership of an airplane, which had its tires slashed at the Howard County Airport, was improperly attributed. The Cessna 140 belongs to Odell Anders, Midland. Both tires were ruined.

Voting Machine Shown Commissioners Monday

A new punch card system for voting was presented to Howard County Commissioners Court Monday afternoon by the president of Datamedia Computer Service, Inc., Joe Perrin, Fort Worth.

Perrin listed advantages of his Vote - A - Corder system saying that it is the same approach as the paper-ballot but that the voter is given a computer card to punch. He said the punch card system virtually eliminates waiting lines at precinct voting areas and that the workers like it because a central computer does the actual tabulation of votes.

Perrin cited cost savings as another advantage of his punch card voting system. He said the portable, 17 pound machine costs about $160 and he estimated that 100 units would be needed for Howard County. He said in Randall County that $15,000 had been saved in salaries from the reduced number of precinct workers needed and added that the cost of the initial investment in his system included two years of supervision and guidance from his company.

Whitney Named To Planning Panel

Herbert W. Whitney, former Big Spring city manager, has been named executive director of the Regional Planning Commission at Corpus Christi. He has been in retirement since the end of 1967 when he left the Corpus Christi city manager's post, which he assumed upon leaving Big Spring.

Homer Dean, chairman of the executive committee of the planning commission, said 25 applications had been received for the place, but Whitney was not an applicant. However, the committee approached him because it felt a man of his experience was needed. He consented to take the place but would not commit himself beyond the end of 1970.

He set up a voting machine to demonstrate the punch card system and explained that at the end of a voting day, all cards are carried to a central computer center for counting. He said his company rents a local computer for the tabulation job at an hourly rate. The commissioners also looked at literature from Computer Elections Systems, voting machines by IBM. Also presented to the commissioners' court was an application from Margaret Ray, chief deputy to the county clerk, for the position of Howard County Librarian which will be left available in January when Mrs. Opal McDaniel resigns.

Mrs. Virginia Black, county auditor, presented regular monthly bills for the court's approval.

Students Applaud Young Commie's First Lecture

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Students applauded the first lecture by a miniskirted young Communist assistant professor Monday, then asked other faculty members to quit teaching until University of California regents give academic credit for her course.

Shapely Angela Davis, 25, drew an overflow crowd of 1,900 students to the university's Royce Hall and about 100 were turned away for lack of room.

"I'd like to lecture," she said. "I don't think we ought to allow the regents to interfere."

The audience gave her a standing ovation after her talk on black literature and adopted resolutions demanding a faculty classroom boycott until the young Negro is granted full reinstatement.

Miss Davis was fired by the regents last month because she has said she is a member of a Communist club. A committee of the academic senate demanded that she be permitted to teach. The regents ruled Friday that she can teach, but not for credit, until they hear an appeal from their original decision.

Meanwhile Miss Davis continues to receive her $9,684 annual salary.

Miss Davis, her hair in African natural style, sprinkled her lecture with quotations from Karl Marx, existentialist Jean Paul Sartre and philosopher Herbert Marcuse.

Her course is called "Recurring Philosophical Themes in Black Literature."

"The history of black literature," she said, "provides a much more illuminating look at the concept of freedom than philosophical discourse in Western society. The pivotal theme of this course will be freedom as it has unfolded in the literary enterprise of the black people."

IS IT TALLER THAN IT IS WIDE?
It looks that way doesn't it? But the fact is, this top hat is just as wide as it is tall. Check it with a ruler. It's just a famous visual illusion. Which proves you can't always believe what you think you see. Nor are you always aware of what you hear.
Take Muzak, for example. It is a musical environment, only people don't really listen to it. They react to it—psychologically and physiologically. We design it that way. Muzak is scientifically programmed to motivate people and increase their efficiency. That's like money in the bank when you consider the high cost of recruiting, training and keeping employees happy on the job these days. Let us show you what Muzak can do for your business by proving what it is doing so productively for businesses just like your own.

Help Needed For Theatre

An ambitious program to enlarge the stage at Cosden Country Club and provide auditorium seating for audiences attending Little Theatre plays was launched last week.

Work started last weekend, and is expected to be finished in time for the forthcoming production of "Thousand Clowns," which will be offered to the public on two weekends in November.

The seating and stage extension will be portable, moved into the Cosden Club ballroom only for Little Theatre plays, and moved away after the final curtain.

Persons interested in helping with the building program are being invited to call Danny Fiveash, 7-2559, or Mrs. Lida Boland, 3-4363. No particular skill or experience is required, and seamstresses are particularly needed. The sewing requires only the straight seams and hems.

A LOVELIER YOU Eat More Calories To Gain Extra Weight

A young Lovely writes: Please, please tell me how to gain weight and look it. Besides eating a disgusting lot.

The answer: When you are in good health and cannot gain a needed pound, you just have to eat more and face up to eating more. It's not easy.

You would not be underweight were it not for a fussy appetite. You have to make up your mind not to let it boss you. Vice versa! This program then insures gains:

- 1. Add 500 calories to present daily intake for two weeks. Then up the count to your gaining quota. To figure exact number, multiply your ideal weight by 15, then add 1,000.
- 2. Expand your calorie allotment on three well-balanced meals and three between-meal snacks. Emphasize protein and vitamin foods (like red meat and green salad), whole-grain bread and whole milk. Until you have eaten those basics, take it easy with starches and goey sweets. Snack on milk, cheese and crackers, custards and ice cream.
- 3. Increase the variety of foods you eat; overcome dislike for dishes by repeatedly sampling them.
- 4. Relax before eating — really let down.
- 5. Live by the health rules: get plenty of sleep, mild exercise and fresh air; try not to jitter and rush. Otherwise, you scarcely can take in enough calories to keep going, much less to gain.

For a more attractive bosom write Mary Sue Miller in care of The Herald, requesting her pamphlet, "Enhanced Bosomline." Include 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope. O's Are Awaiting Mets' Challenge

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, the only major league baseball team with a traveling wine steward, are looking forward to their third and final champagne party of the 1969 season.

Party No. 2 was held Monday after the Orioles bombed the Minnesota Twins 11-2, winning the American League pennant with a three-game sweep in the best-of-5 playoff series.

On hand in Minneapolis—St. Paul to assist with the cork popping was Omar Aparicio, a wine steward from a downtown restaurant who is a cousin of Chicago White Sox shortstop Luis Aparicio.

The Orioles, who won a near-record 109 games while taking the Eastern Division title, now sweep for the Orioles—who go against the New York Mets

COOPER TAILBACK — Rugged Roy Longacre, 185-pound tailback, is one of the Cooper Cougars Big Spring is going to have to stop Friday night if the Steers win their third straight 3-AAA game. Cooper is unbeaten in four assignments and already holds a win over Odessa Permian.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: FRANK LUCCHESI, new manager of the Philadelphia Phillies, expressing his philosophy about making a success of the position:

"The trick is to stay close to the players, to head off problems before they get out of hand. When you have set rules, they go for all 25 guys, not 24. Some say I don't have the stature to handle big league players. Look, my first year at Medford, Ore., I was 24 and had six guys older than me. I learned fast how to take control. . . . Once, in a game at Syracuse, umpire John Kibler chased me. Impulsively, I climbed an 80-foot water tower in spikes and uniform. When I got up there, I suddenly remembered I was afraid of heights. Then it got funny. All three umpires were at the bottom, yelling, 'Frank, you gotta come down!' I was yelling back, 'Yeah! Come and get me!' Finally, they held a watch on me. If I wasn't down in 60 seconds, I'd forfeit the doubleheader. I came down, but only because I was scared stiff. Then, in the second game, I almost got in a fight with the other manager. Kibler chased me for agitating. As I was leaving, he yelled, 'please don't go back up on the tower.'"

CATFISH SMITH, manager of the Baylor Bear Club and former coach, offering advice to new BU mentor Bill Beall:

"I hope you got a dog. I never would coach without a dog. When you come home, that dog will wag his tail, whether you win or lose."

WEBB EW BANK, coach of the New York Jets:

"I would rate Floyd Little (of Denver) right along with O. J. Simpson. O. J. may be a little faster but Little is quicker."

RICHARD CAMPBELL, Texas Tech's all SWC defensive end:

"I'm majoring in journalism but I'm a very poor journalist. That's why I decided to become a sports writer."

DARRELL ROYAL, Texas University football coach:

"Our quarterback, James Street, is no alibi man—he'll take the blame. And when he's right, he'll swagger more. That's all right, too."

ART ARAGON, one-time Golden Boy in professional boxing:

"I owe a lot to the sport. I owe the government $70,000. I owe my ex-wife $20,000. I owe my attorney $15,000 . . ."

TED DAVIS, linebacker for the New Orleans Saints, discussing the Dallas Cowboy rookie, Calvin Hill:

"I played against Jim Brown and this guy reminds me of him because he uses his blockers the same way. Also, when you hit him he falls down for a gain of four yards."

DEL CRANDELL, former big league catcher, on his experiences as a first year manager in the minor leagues:

"It was more difficult than I expected. It was harder than I used to think it was, as a player. As a catcher, I was only concerned with the pitcher. As a manager, you are concerned with everything. What surprised me most was reappreciating my own baseball knowledge and applying it to the boys just embarking on their careers. But it's all most rewarding. I am eager to continue."

A U.S. Lawn Tennis association official, complaining about the sports' new alertness to commercialism:

"Our last tournament looked like one great TV commercial."

Texas Climbs To 4th Place In AP Poll

By The Associated Press

The Ohio State Buckeyes, still solid leaders in The Associated Press' major college football poll, next take on Michigan State, the team that gave them their toughest battle during an undefeated 1968 season.

The Buckeyes, who had a 10-0 record last season, including a Rose Bowl triumph over Southern California, were able to beat the Spartans by only five points, 25-20. Michigan State with a 2-1 record, is ranked 19th this year.

Ohio State, 2-0 in 1969 after walloping Washington 41-14 last Saturday, drew 34 votes for first-place and accumulated 807 points in the most recent balloting by 41 sports writers and broadcasters on the AP's regional panel.

Texas, which crushed Navy 56-17, climbed from fourth into second place. The Longhorns replaced Penn State, which tumbled to fifth after its 17-14 squeaker victory over Kansas State. Arkansas held third place and Southern California moved up one notch to fourth.

Georgia, in sixth place, Missouri, Oklahoma, Purdue and Tennessee round out the Top Ten.

Georgia and Missouri gained ground. The Bulldogs, seventh a week ago, downed South Carolina, 41-16 while Missouri soared two spots after crushing Michigan 40-17. Oklahoma, idle last weekend, fell two positions while Purdue, which just managed to beat Stanford, 36-35 slipped from eighth to ninth. Tennessee, a 55-16 winner over Memphis State, held 10th place.

Notre Dame moved back into the Top Twenty, advancing to 15th after downing Michigan State, 42-28. Nebraska and Auburn are the other newly-ranked teams, finishing in a tie for 20th place. Michigan and Mississippi dropped out of the ratings. Mississippi lost to Alabama, 33-32.

The Second Ten rankings in order are UCLA, 11th, followed by Florida, Alabama, Louisiana State, Notre Dame, Stanford, West Virginia, Wyoming, Michigan State and Nebraska at Auburn in a deadlock.

Local Men Grab Amarillo Award

Tito Arenchibia and Reeves Moren teamed to capture first place in the B division of the Golden Spread Handball tournament sponsored Friday and Saturday at Amarillo by the YMCA of that city.

They defeated a Lubbock team on the way up and then in the finals rallied to beat Garfield and LaFont of Amarillo, 15-21, 21-14 and 21-15.

Don Farley and Ray Thomas competed in the A doubles, Farley in the B singles and Thomas in the A singles. They ran into national ranked opposition, and were bumped in the opening rounds.

HERALD'S PLAYERS OF WEEK

Morgan, Fryszak, Adams Among Honored Boys

Following is a list of football players in the area singled out by The Daily Herald for their performances in last weekend games:

BIG SPRING

Lineman of the Week is RANDY MORGAN, a senior guard, who continually stayed "in the hair" of Lubbock quarterback Pat Kelly and who finally intercepted a pass and returned it six yards for Big Spring's final touchdown. Randy was able to field the ball after it had been tipped by Robert Dennis.

Two boys, fullback JOE ZUBIATE and halfback RICK PEURIFOY, divide honors as Back of the Week. Zubiata's fakes into the line consistently enabled Peurifoy and the other Steer backs to break loose on end sweeps. Joe scored one of the Steers' four touchdowns on a dazzling 29-yard run. Peurifoy counted twice, one on a startling run of 94 yards, and wound up as the Longhorns' leading ground gainer with 195 yards in 18 carries.

COAHOMA

JAMES DUNN was tapped out for Back-of-the-Week award at Coahoma. This 140-pound right halfback, playing his senior season, exemplified perpetual aggressiveness against Stanton and is one of the reasons Coahoma thwarted an upset. He ran for one touchdown and rammed over a two-pointer after a TD. In addition, he intercepted a pass that stopped a Stanton drive, and played generally good ball at his defensive halfback post.

Coaches tapped out a back for the Lineman-of-the-Week award. WENDELL WALKER, a sophomore, got the honor because of his defensive play as a cornerback, which he played

Official's Warning Is All For Naught

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash: Syracuse wasn't rubbing it in by passing for a two-point conversion after running up a 41-7 lead on Wisconsin with 2½ minutes left Saturday.

"We were asked by a stadium official not to kick the extra point because they were afraid the fans behind the end zone would start fighting for the football and someone might get hurt," reported Coach Ben Schwartzwalder.

A fight developed anyway. The players went at it for three minutes on the ensuing kickoff.

The 43-7 rout was Wisconsin's 18th consecutive setback and 23rd game without a victory. But Marshall of West Virginia is the current losing king with 24 straight, four short of the major

STICK TO GROUND Steers Outgain Foe By 2 To 1

The Big Spring Steers will carry good credentials as an offense-minded football team into their crucial game with Cooper in Abilene Friday night. Spike Dykes' team has outgained the opposition by a margin of more than 2-1 in their four starts to date.

The Black and Gold has moved the ball a total of 1,272 yards, compared to 595 for the foe — practically all of it on the ground.

The Steers have completed 18 of 50 passes, compared to 22 of 60 for the foe. Sixteen of those made good by the enemy came off the arm of Lubbock's Pat Kelly last Saturday night.

OBC EYEING BIG TURNOUT

With the biggest game of the 1969 football season looming dead ahead, the turnout for tonight's meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club likely will be big.

The resident Steers go to Abilene Friday night to oppose unbeaten Cooper and local scouts will offer a detailed report on the Cougars.

In addition, films of the exciting game last weekend between Big Spring and Lubbock High will be screened for the benefit of those who did not get to see it.

The session begins at 8 o'clock in the High School Cafeteria. As usual, refreshments will be served.

Illness Stops Crusader 11

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Holy Cross football season came to an abrupt halt Monday when it was discovered that the entire 75-man squad had contracted infectious hepatitis.

For 22 seniors and a new head coach, Bill Whitton, the news was just a bit more difficult to swallow.

"I don't think anyone ever represented Holy Cross football better than you," Whitton told his squad in a final meeting that was not devoid of tears. "My opinion of you has always been high. I've never altered it."

The disease struck a majority of the team members over the weekend, and Sunday night 19 players were crammed into the school infirmary. The results of blood tests showed Monday the entire team had been infected, along with seven coaches, four managers, a trainer and the director of sports information.

Athletic Director Vincent G. Dougherty contacted the remaining eight opponents on Holy Cross' 10-game schedule and informed them it would be impossible to fulfill the school's commitment.

Dr. John Shea, vice president for student affairs, said the college would isolate those affected to prevent the spread of the disease to the remainder of the 2,350-member student body.

Hepatitis attacks the liver, but rarely is fatal. It is prevalent chiefly among young people, and the only cure is rest, usually about six weeks.

Health officials have been conducting a general sanitation survey at the school in an effort to pinpoint the source of the disease.

Bearcats Await Game At Loop

GARDEN CITY — Victorious in three out of their first four games, the Garden City Bearcats get down to the nub of things this week when they begin district 3-B play at Loop.

The teams may be rated about even, although Garden City last week upset Smyer, which had beaten Loop.

Coach Jack Woodley reports his boys have come through in excellent condition in their pre-district games.

Q'back Club Has Big Membership

COAHOMA — Members of the Coahoma Quarterback Club will gather with coaches in the high school cafeteria at 8 o'clock this evening for another in their series of weekly sessions.

The organization now has 208 members, which makes it one of the biggest in the state for a town the size of Coahoma.

The club recently purchased a $125 movie camera for the team, which will be used to film games involving the Bulldogs.

Films of the Coahoma-Stanton game will be screened for the benefit of those who missed last week's game.

In addition, a scouting report on the Bulldogs' next foe, Rotan, will be given.

Witness To 'Death' In Twilight Zone

Editor's Note: This is the story of a highway tragedy that wasn't. A story about an incident that never became a story. The author, Elston Brooks, a former police reporter, is the longtime columnist editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

FORT WORTH (AP)—This is a horror story with a happy ending, a twilight zone story that couldn't have happened. But it did.

I saw a man "die horribly" in front of my eyes, yet he's somewhere out there walking blissfully among the living.

It all began at 11:35 a.m. Sunday as I drove with my family east on the turnpike toward Dallas, just past the Six Flags area.

'MAKE IT, MAN'

I glanced for some reason in my rear-view mirror and saw a white Chevrolet fishtailing behind me, careening over three lanes as the driver fought to bring the car under control.

Motorists on each side of him were trying to give him room. His speed must have been 60 or 70 miles per hour, and puffs of smoke were coming from a blown-out tire as the vehicle rocked crazily on the rim.

"Make it, man! Make it!" I exclaimed aloud, my eyes fixed in dismay on the mirror.

And then the car skidded sideways. The driver, a man whose face I couldn't see, was thrown against the door.

The door popped open and he was hurled out on his back to the pavement.

Like a nightmare you're not lucky enough to awaken from, I saw his skidding car then do a 180-degree turn and pass over him as he lay on the concrete.

SHAKING

"Oh, God," I said. The traffic on each side closed in behind me and I could see no more. I told my family not to look back. I had never seen a man die before my eyes.

Up ahead I saw a Highway Patrol squad car stopped on the shoulder behind another car. I pulled over and got out. I could hardly stand, I was shaking so much.

"Is it about the accident?" the officer asked. The other car had just flagged him down and its shaken driver told him what he had seen. I nodded numbly. The officer made a U-turn and blared back down the opposite of the highway.

We drove on to our destination at the State Fair in Dallas. But it was no good. The day was ruined. I couldn't shake the image.

ARE YOU SURE?

That night, back at home, I phoned the Star-Telegram city desk to get the details. They had no report on the death.

And that's when it became twilight zone.

As the night wore along, the Department of Public Safety and the turnpike police reported no accident. No hospital, no ambulance, no funeral home had made a pickup. There was no accident.

At one point, Police Reporter Chuck Cole asked me: "Are you sure you were even on the turnpike today?" I was so numbed, so stunned at the information, I almost began to doubt it.

Monday morning I went straight to the top to unravel the mystery. Capt. Jack Sutherland of the DPS verified there had been no accident, but discovered four other people had reported seeing the same thing.

He put me in contact with DPS Patrolman David Fisher. The one I had talked to on the turnpike.

SHOPPING?

Fisher explained he sped back down the turnpike, as the other reports began coming in on his radio, looking for the wreckage.

"The only thing I saw was one man in a white Chevrolet pulled over to the side of the highway fixing a flat. Ordinarily, we stop and help people fixing flats, but, of course, I had to keep on going, looking for the accident. But there wasn't any accident to be found, and when I came back, the man had already fixed his flat and had driven away."

The only explanation was that he survived the fall. His car missed his body when it passed over him. No traffic behind him ran over him as he lay there. His car must have coasted somehow to a stop. So he got up and fixed his flat.

I don't know who he is, but he's out there someplace.

Perhaps shopping for seal belts.

Smoke, Smoke That Cigarette

HENDERSON, N. C. (AP) — A stolen tractor-trailer truck was found abandoned near Henderson Monday night, but thieves had made off with most of the $108,000 load of cigarettes.

The State Highway Patrol reported that all but 15 or 20 cases of cigarettes had been stolen. The truck, valued at $25,000, was stolen over the weekend from the New Dixie Motor Lines terminal on U. S. 70 west of Raleigh.

'The Visit' Opens Friday At Midland

The Midland Community Theatre, Inc. will present "The Visit," by Swiss playwright F. Durrenmatt. The play, which has been called "macabre, stunning and eerily sinister," will run Friday and Saturday evenings, Oct. 10-25 at Theatre Centre, Midland.

"The Visit" is set in a small, impoverished central European town. It's people's only hope is that the town's one rich, successful daughter, Claire, will restore the town to its former affluence, with a loan or gift during her visit. The townspeople's hopes are fulfilled as she announces a lavish gift of money, half to the people, half to the town. However, she imposes a terrifying condition and the people are confronted with a disturbing choice. How that choice is made by each person gives "The Visit" its dramatic impact.

Playing Claire is Loretta Marsh. Charles Hartman takes the part of the man Claire had loved in her youth. Directing the cast of 32 is Art Cole.

"The Visit" won the N.Y. Drama Critics Award as best foreign play of 1958-59. It ran

Cold Front Moves South

By The Associated Press

A cold front that pushed south-east across Texas Monday, reached the Gulf today. A high pressure ridge brought clearing skies and fair weather to most of the state.

Most of Texas was clear but cloud patches still hung over parts of the east, south and west. Early temperatures ranged from the 40s in the Panhandle to the 70s in the south.

The cold front covered all the Lower Rio Grande Valley. The high pressure ridge started clearing up skies across the state that Monday produced showers and thundershowers. Drenching rains hit San Antonio last Monday afternoon, causing the Weather Bureau to issue a flash flood warning for low water crossings.

Showers fell in East Texas over an area from just south of Marshall to 20 miles east of Palestine and 25 miles southwest of Corsicana, late Monday.

Temperatures Monday ranged from 93 at Lufkin to 59 at Big Spring.

GOP Primary In Illinois To Test Nixon's War Policy

CHICAGO (AP) — Voters in Illinois' affluent 13th Congressional District are expected to vote in record numbers today in a Republican primary considered a test of President Nixon's Vietnam policy.

There are eight candidates in the GOP primary. Their views on the war range from conservative to liberal.

Cook County Clerk Edward J. Barrett predicted Monday that 117,000 of the 286,000 registered voters in the 13th District would cast ballots—more than twice the number who voted in the 1968 regular congressional primary.

Several of the contenders and other political observers have said the Vietnam war is the primary reason for the expected huge voter turnout.

The GOP candidates are vying for a spot on the Nov. 25 general election ballot opposite State Rep. Edward A. Warman of Skokie, who is running unopposed in the Democratic primary. The seat was left vacant by the resignation of Donald Rumsfeld this year to head the Office of Economic Opportunity.

Encompassing wealthy North Shore communities and mushrooming industrial suburbs to the west, the district has been called "the safest Republican seat in the House." Republicans have held it for 50 years.

The election of the first Democrat in 157 years to represent Massachusetts' 6th District last week over a Republican supporter of Nixon's policies has not gone unnoticed by candidates in this race.

Several who have previously stressed support of Nixon's policy in Vietnam didn't mention it in their latest paid campaign advertisements on Chicago radio stations. They continued to stress their advocacy of early U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam.

The eight names on the GOP ballot are:

—Lar "America First" Daly, a perennial candidate who's been defeated in 24 previous campaigns for various offices and the only nonresident among the eight. He urges a United States invasion of North Vietnam.

—Gerald Marks, 41, president of a lighting company, advocates withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam by the end of 1970.

—Alan R. Johnston, 55, a lawyer, and state representative, says the United States should withdraw its forces from Vietnam "as quickly as the military situation permits."

—Joseph Mathewson, 35, who recently resigned as Gov. Richard Ogilvie's press secretary, He says President Nixon's withdrawal policy is a good plan, but he wants the President also to announce a cease-fire, suspend the Paris peace talks and push for an Asian conference to end hostilities.

—John J. Nimrod, 47, an engineer, has praised Nixon's withdrawal plan.

—Samuel H. Young, 39, a lawyer, urges the country to unite behind Nixon.

—Eugene F. Schlickman, 39, a lawyer serving his third term in the Illinois House, praises the President's program for a measured withdrawal.

—Dr. Philip M. Crane, 38, a lecturer and former history professor, supports continued withdrawal of U.S. forces from Vietnam, but says victory can be achieved through a "global economic strategy" that would include ending all U.S. trade with and aid to Communist bloc nations.
