Vietnam. Essentially a glider with a 210-horsepower Continental engine, the Y03A carries two men, with the pilot seated in the rear of a cockpit covered by a bubble-shaped canopy.

Mercury Near Zero In Parts Of Colorado

By The Associated Press

Icy air rolled out of the Rocky Mountains on the heels of a severe weekend snowstorm today and scored record lows in many sections of the midcontinent.

The cold sting was felt from Washington to Texas. Laramie, Wyo., and Denver, Colo., shared the nation's low reading, 1.

Casper, Wyo., 9; Billings, Mont., 18; Scottsbluff, Neb., 10; Olympia, Wash., 25; Kansas City, Mo., 35; Dallas, Tex., 41; and West Palm Beach, Fla., 65, reported record lows for the date.

Snow drifts of nearly a foot remained on the ground in parts of Colorado and Wyoming.

Light snow dusted the Lake Superior region as the out-of-season storm rolled into southern Canada.

Heavier snow blanketed portions of the Far West during the night. Two inches fell at Lakeview, Ore. Flurries sifted into mountain areas along the California-Oregon line.

In contrast, unseasonable mild weather dominated the East, where high temperatures in the 80s were widespread Monday.

Tropical storm Kara was centered more than 300 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla., before daybreak and moving toward the southwest at 13 miles an hour. The storm's peak winds were 45 miles an hour.

Light rain dampened an area from Florida to New York. Temperatures before dawn ranged from 8 at Laramie, Wyo., to 78 at Key West, Fla.

Three Charged With Lynching

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Testimony was expected to begin today in the trial of three Negro youths charged in the beating of a white Hirsch High School male teacher.

The trio, all 17 years old, are Dennie Ray Higgins, Charles Young and Robert H. Mack.

They were charged with second degree lynching, a felony, after the Sept. 11 incident when biology teacher C. H. Dowdy Jr., 37, was knocked down and kicked in a school corridor.

School authorities said Dowdy had asked a group of Negro youths to button their shirts and remove their hats in the school.

ONE GIFT WORKS MANY WONDERS

UF Hits $63,251

The United Fund drive soared past the halfway mark Monday as more than $10,000 was turned in. The campaign total now stands at $63,251.96, while the goal is $110,000.

Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. employees turned in the biggest contributions, and their total contribution was $1,100 more than last year. The big gifts division, with Roger Brown as chairman and the women's division, with Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. Harold Davis as co-chairmen, also reported in.

79TH Ceremonies Honoring Ike Birthday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, facing a nationwide Vietnam Moratorium Day, said today the debate is about how to bring about "not a temporary, but a lasting peace" in Vietnam.

Observing the 79th birthday of the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Nixon said Americans have always been a people dedicated to the cause of peace.

Because Eisenhower hated war so much and knew the cost of maintaining the peace, Nixon said, he was able to provide leadership to end war and provide peace. Nixon said it is that same responsibility which the nation has today.

"Let the world understand," Nixon said, "the American people want peace." And he said they want to bring an end to the war in Vietnam "in a way to provide not a temporary but a lasting peace."

Nixon made his remarks in White House ceremonies in which he presented three Eisenhower People-to-People awards for contributions toward international understanding and peace. Mrs. Eisenhower was among those attending.

Eisenhower launched the non-profit, private people-to-people program of educational and cultural exchanges in 1956 "to build a massive program of communication between Americans and citizens of other lands" with the aim of promoting peace.

Among the awards Nixon handed out was one for Astronaut Neil Armstrong, commander of the Apollo 11 mission, who is now on a world tour.

The other awards went to George V. Allen, a retired 30-year veteran of the U.S. Foreign Service and chairman of the people-to-people board of trustees; and to Dr. Frank H. Krusen, of Tufts University in Boston for his service in the rehabilitation of the handicapped.

A $100 a plate fund-raising dinner was planned for tonight in Washington as part of a drive to raise $5 million for Eisenhower College at Seneca Falls, N.Y.

And in Abilene, Kan.—Eisenhower's hometown where he was buried after his death March 28 — Postmaster General Winton M. Blount was on hand today for dedication of a new postage stamp honoring the 34th president.

Oil Boom Warning

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — Itching to get to Alaska and the big oil boom?

Make sure you have a job or a lot of money — preferably both — before setting out for the 49th state and its newfound riches.

There's a big rush to the biggest state these days, and a lot of folks are discovering there is no pot of gold awaiting them.

The State Department of Labor calls it a "people rush" to the north and has joined industry and labor in sounding a word of warning to those who might be lured by the oil boom.

The sudden interest is attributed to the publicity surrounding the $900 million sale of oil and gas leases on the North Slope last month and an earlier announcement that an 800-mile crude oil pipeline would be built in the state.

State Labor Commissioner Thomas Moore says it is state policy to hire Alaskans first, and the resident work force is capable of handling all jobs that will open except for certain professional or skilled occupations.

In Today's HERALD Nixon To Speak

President Nixon, after saying again he will not allow Wednesday's blossoming Vietnam moratorium movement to influence his policy, has announced he will speak to the nation early next month on the course of the war. See Page 5.

Texans Pro, Con On War Moratorium

By The Associated Press

Mixed reactions to Wednesday's Vietnam war moratorium became more and more evident across Texas today.

Pro and con statements came mostly from various college and university campuses, but there also were expressions from individuals and groups outside academic settings.

Eighty-four professors at the University of Texas endorsed the impending demonstration in a statement urging fellow faculty members in Austin to cancel classes that day.

Presidents of the University of Texas in Austin, El Paso and Arlington—Herman Hackerman, J. R. Smiley and Frank Harrison, respectively—recommended nevertheless that the university system "carry on normal academic programs and that no institutional moratorium on teaching be authorized."

Concurring in this view, the university system's executive vice chancellor, John J. McKetta, added, "It is anticipated that all students who wish to attend classes on that day will have the opportunity to do so."

School administrators making up the Texas A&M executive committee said at College Station that classes would not be dismissed and there would be no excused absences because of the moratorium. A stand supporting this course had been taken by the A&M student senate.

"Having decided to give no support to the so-called Moratorium Day," the A&M administrators said in a formal statement, "the executive committee suggested that students be reminded of the university regulations concerning the proper method of obtaining permission to have public speakers on campus and . . . no such meetings or speeches were approved for Oct. 15. . . . Suspension from the university is the recommended action for violations of these regulations."

Steps to mark the occasion were being taken, meanwhile, at schools in Houston, Lubbock, Lamar Tech, San Antonio, San Marcos and Seguin.

S. E. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., made it known, meanwhile, that he favors massive turnouts endorsing the antiwar moratorium as long as it remained nonviolent and lawful.

Army's Ex-Top Cop Says He Did Wrong

'Whitewash' Allegations Still Pending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Looking back on it, the Army's former top policeman concedes he did wrong in signing a receipt saying some guns he received from Chicago authorities were for Army use.

Retired Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, former provost general of the Army, gave the testimony Monday about weapons which he has said he took for his own use after signing the receipts.

"Did you think as a general you did the right thing?" asked Sen. Karl Mundt, R-S.D. "You knew you signed something patently false, wasn't it wrong?"

"This is hindsight," said Turner. "You're right."

The senators still haven't questioned Turner about allegations he whitewashed an investigation into graft at noncommissioned officers clubs.

During two weeks of testimony witnesses have told the senators about the skimming of thousands of dollars from the service club slot machines in Germany and kickbacks to club managers in Vietnam.

Now it will be late in the month before the senators can probe that area. The hearing was recessed after Monday's session for two weeks because of other commitments by the senators.

The questioning Monday switched back and forth from the senators to Turner and Chicago Police Supt. James B. Conlisk Jr.

Turner denied or did not recall many critical accusations made against him.

The retired general said Conlisk knew the weapons were for personal use. Separately, Turner said some of the weapons had been sold.

S. E. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn., asked Conlisk, "Did Turner tell you these were not for the Army?"

"He did not sir," Conlisk answered.

Conlisk also denied he had told the general, as Turner had testified earlier, "Well, this is the way we clear our records" referring to signing the receipts.

"His statement is incorrect," Conlisk said.

Turner was asked if he wanted to change his testimony.

Turner answered that Conlisk's testimony "is highly inaccurate."

In another exchange, Conlisk said Turner had called him twice after Internal Revenue Service agents had looked into the gun receipts and "asked that I order the receipts of the transfer of the weapons to him destroyed. I informed Gen. Turner that this would not be done."

Mundt asked Turner, "did you ask him specifically to destroy the receipts?"

FORERUNNER OF LATEST ORBITING SOVIET SPACESHIPS — This is a diagram of Soyuz 3, the predecessor of the three Soviet spaceships, Soyuz 6, 7 and 8, presently orbiting the earth with a total of seven cosmonauts aboard. Cosmonauts sit in middle cabin during launching, re-entry and certain orbital maneuvers. Orbital compartment, situated forward, contains additional working space. It is jettisoned before spaceship crew returns to earth. There are two cosmonauts aboard Soyuz 6, three on Soyuz 7 and two on Soyuz 8.

No Indication Of Plans For Spaceships Linkup

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's seven orbiting cosmonauts went ahead with their assigned program today, Tass announced, but there was no indication of plans for the linkup of spaceships that is expected.

The Soviet news agency said that by 8:30 a.m. "all the cosmonauts had morning exercises, made a medical checkup of each other, and then had breakfast."

Col. Vladimir Shatalov, commander of the three space ships, "reported that after the night's rest the cosmonauts are feeling fine."

"After the checking of the

Capt. Marasco To Quit Army

WASHINGTON (AP) — Capt. Robert F. Marasco, once accused by the Army of killing a South Vietnamese double agent, is quitting the Army, the Pentagon announced today.

Marasco, one of eight Green Berets originally involved in the controversial case, will be released from the Army at this month by the end of this month, a spokesman said.

Marasco applied for "immediate release from active duty" last Wednesday.

board systems of the space ships," the announcement continued, "the cosmonauts started fulfilling the program of the regular day of flight."

Tass did not say what that program was. But the seven cosmonauts, the largest number ever put into space at one time, were believed getting ready to link up at least two of their ships to form the first permanent orbiting space station.

Soyuz 6, with two men aboard, blasted off Saturday. Soyuz 7, with a crew of three, was sent aloft Sunday. Soyuz 8 left the pad Monday with Shatalov and engineer Alexei Yeliseyev aboard.

The West German Space Institute at Bochum said the three craft edged closer together Monday night and conducted extensive experiments early today. The nature of the experiments was not disclosed.

Soviet officials said earlier that the goal of the Soyuz series is to build manned orbiting platforms.

The Soviet Union apparently is concentrating on building a space station because it has no booster rockets as powerful as Saturn 5, which the United States used to send its Apollo 11 astronauts to the moon.

U.S. experts believe the Soviets plan to send rocket parts to platforms orbiting outside the earth's gravitational pull and assemble them there for flights deeper into space.

U.S. experts had said they expected the Soviets to build a space platform some time this year or in 1970. The United States is concentrating on more moon flights and does not plan to have a space station up until 1972.

Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny hailed the current Soyuz mission as "this outstanding achievement in the field of space navigation."

Kara Churns Toward Coast

MIAMI (AP) — Sucking strength from the warm Atlantic, Tropical Storm Kara turned north today and churned toward the coast of the Carolinas.

The National Hurricane center said Kara formed an eye after coming to a virtual halt some 350 miles east of Jacksonville, Fla. After the pause, forecasters said, Kara picked up strength and began a northward push at 5 to 10 miles an hour.

Top winds were estimated at 60 miles an hour.

This morning, Kara was about 225 miles south of Cape Hatteras, N.C.

AFTER OKLAHOMA CITY SHOOTOUT

Two Sought In Bank Holdups Captured

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A pair of desperadoes, wanted in Texas on charges of murder, rape, burglary, jail escape, robbery and bank robbery, were in jail today after a losing shootout.

Sgt. Bennie Caswell suffered a bullet wound in the shoulder in the gunfight.

Arrested were Donald Gene Richardson, 23, Sweetwater, Tex., and Harvey Dale Webb, 22, a native of Okemah, Okla.

Their girl friends also were picked up.

Their arrest came when they flashed too much cash.

Richardson and Webb broke out of the Eastland County jail May 27 to start the crime rampage. The break occurred as the sheriff was leading Richardson and Jerry Baird back to their cells from a courtroom. They overpowered him and unlocked Webb's cell and the three fled. At that time, Richardson had been sentenced to seven years in prison and Baird to nine years, both for burglary. Webb was being held pending his appeal on a 75-year-sentence for rape.

Baird was later captured. The other two reportedly forced a farmer and his wife and four children to drive them to Sweetwater.

Richardson and Webb were next charged for the $28,000 robbery of the Harrisburg Bank of Houston on June 10.

Someone then took $8,800 in diamond rings from a Houston jewelry store. On Aug. 22 police charged Richardson.

He was again charged with the Aug. 25 robbery of the East End Bank in Houston, which netted $17,000.

Police then found Richardson and another man near Beaumont on Sept. 16, but as they closed in, the men escaped in separate cars and later fled on foot to a swamp.

A mechanic and his mother were then forced to drive a man who identified himself as Don Richardson to Houston later that night.

Richardson and Webb also are charged in the shooting death and robbery Sept. 27 of James L. Farmer, 44, of Vidor. He was a city councilman and owner of the grocery store they allegedly robbed of $850.

On Oct. 10, two men robbed the Northeast National Bank in Houston of $35,000. Employees, looking over pictures provided by the FBI, identified Richardson as one of the men.

An auto dealer tipped police about the foursome after their carefree squandering puzzled him and the sight of stacks of cash in their pickup camper made him suspicious.

Police said they found about $20,000 in cash in the camper.

GALS NAMED
Taken into custody with the men were Kathy Marilyn Frazier and Sandra Gale Gamble, both 21, who told officers they are from Houston.

Officers said they had no information about the women.

An auto dealer called police after the foursome came to his showroom, talked about cars, then had some minor repair work done on their car, but insisted on paying him $50 for what he felt was only a few dollars' worth of work.

When there was a mixup on the change for the repairs, the dealer told police, he saw some of the group rifle through a box full of money in the camper.

While the dealer was summoning police, the foursome bought an auto from another dealer, paying for it with cash. Caswell curbed Richardson and Miss Gamble in the auto after police put out a description of the group.

HANDS PISTOL

Caswell searched Richardson outside the car, according to a witness, John Wilson, but when the officer walked around to talk with Miss Gamble she handed a pistol to Richardson.

A LOVELIER YOU New Gel-Like Polish Never Needs Shaking

By MARY SUE MILLER

An old cosmetic problem has been solved. You should know about it.

It has to do with frosted nail polish that thickens and settles in the bottle, causing streaky applications. A unique new formula, using a "Thixotropic" system, keeps polish in constant suspension. No mixer beads are necessary. No shaking, ever.

Because the polishes are gel-like in appearance, they are known as frosted ices. The gel becomes fluid in use, but still resists running. Translucent — softshine polishes — take a similar approach. The flow here is marvelously smooth; three strokes really do the job on a nail.

There's more! How often do you scrounge around in your makeup drawer for the shade of lipstick you want at the moment? Well, now lipsticks provide a tangible clue. The lipstick wears a ring of color — the exact color that's inside. You don't have to remove cap after cap to locate the shade you're after.

Still more: The crack and peel of lipstick is a thing of the past. If your applications crack — look scaly or lined — investigate newer formulas. It isn't nice to hear, but you are behind the times. Just not with it.

Neither white spooky nor dark spooky shades do you justice. Wearers look like character actresses. That's not for you, unless you get paid to play the role.

LOVELIER HANDS

Do you have a hand problem? Send today for "Lovelier Hands," a booklet that covers every step in a quest for hand beauty. It tells how to keep the skin and nails groomed; how to overcome weak nails, polish-chips, discolored knuckles, prominent veins, wrinkles; how to use the hands with poised grace. To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin.

Report Sinking Red Spy Ship

SEOUL (AP) — The South Koreans reported sinking a North Korean infiltration ship with about 20 North Koreans aboard early today after a fierce battle off the southwest coast. All hands presumably went down with the ship, the South Koreans said.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

WHERE SHIP WAS SUNK — Map locates Hukusan Island in the Yellow Sea and the site nearby where a North Korean infiltration ship was sunk by the South Koreans early today.

The Defense Ministry said its forces—a destroyer escort and several jet fighters—returned unharmed. The sinking occurred near the Hukusan Islands, 260 miles southwest of Seoul.

A spokesman said the ship, believed on a mission to land saboteurs on the coast, had a high-speed metal hull and a deceptive superstructure like that of a fishing boat. He said it was a 75-tonner, a class which usually carries 20 crewmen and is capable of doing 40 knots.

Armament of the ship included an 82mm recoilless gun, two rocket launchers, two 14.5mm antiaircraft guns and 15 machine guns.

It was the third infiltration ship from the north reported seized or sunk by the South Koreans within a month off the south and west coasts. Another infiltration vessel escaped after sinking a police patrol boat.

The Defense Ministry said the infiltration ship fired on the South Korean destroyer escort after being challenged, then fled north in the Yellow Sea. A nine-hour chase ensued.

The North Koreans put up heavy resistance when the destroyer escort and several F5A Freedom Fighters caught it. It went down in deep waters, which ruled out recovery of the wreckage, a spokesman said.

North Korean attempts to land infiltrators by sea along the South Korean coast have increased in recent months, while overland infiltration across the demilitarized zone has dropped off markedly. U.S. and South Korean officers say this is because their defenses along the DMZ have been greatly improved.

The South Koreans today also reported the arrest of nine North Korean agents and South Korean collaborators and said an army counter-intelligence team was searching for three agents near Yangju, just north of Seoul.

Journalist Freed By Red Chinese

HONG KONG (AP) — A British journalist who worked for the Chinese Communists crossed the border into Hong Kong today with his wife and 14-year-old son after 23 months of detention in Red China.

Eric Gordon, his wife Marie and son Kim brought along several wooden crates which he said contained their personal possessions, some clothing and a few household effects.

"We are very glad to be out of China," Gordon told Hong Kong immigration officials. "We won't be going back."

Gordon was the third British journalist released by Peking in the past 10 days, since the British government of Hong Kong freed the last of the Communist journalists it had jailed during the Communist campaign of violence here in 1967.

Gordon, a member of the British National Union of Journalists, went to China in 1965 for an organization called the Foreign Language Press. In Peking he worked for the Chinese Institute of Foreign Languages.

'THEY'RE BAD FOR WOMEN'

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — A Florida state representative says some glasses can be dangerous for lady auto drivers.

"Unfortunately, fashion has supplied us with those big, fat, jeweled glasses which blot out a whole hunk of peripheral vision," said Rep. Cecil Bothwell, R-Orlando. "They're bad at intersections."

Bothwell has proposed a bill that would make it a violation for any driver to wear glasses with rims three-eighths of an inch in width.

THERE ARE SIX CUBES, RIGHT?

It depends. Stare at them for a few seconds and the 6 cubes suddenly become 7. It's just a visual illusion. Muzak is like that. It's what you might call an aural illusion. It sounds like music but it's actually a scientifically conditioned musical environment. One that people don't really listen to but react to psychologically and physiologically.

Companies all over the world—large and small—use Muzak as a programmed musical climate to motivate people and increase their efficiency. It is easily one of the most effective, low-cost management tools you can use to stimulate your employees to greater production.

We can show you precisely how Muzak can work for you most profitably. If you would like more information on our scientifically-planned musical environments, just phone.

Astros Smitten By An Earth Bug

LONDON (AP)—American moonmen Neil Armstrong, Edwin Aldrin, and Michael Collins arrived in London today, hoarse and tired and smitten by an earth bug.

A shouting crowd of about 1,000 greeted the astronauts and their wives at the U.S. Embassy.

Crowds waited in the rain for a glimpse of the astronauts at their hotel.

The spacemen and their wives, now on the 12th stop of their 22-nation world tour, looked tanned and fit, but their voices were hoarse. Their doctor, William Carpenter, ordered them to take it easy and cancel two television interviews.

"We all have a virus of some kind," Mrs. Armstrong said, "and it's kind of hard to get rid of it. We don't have very long to sleep at night."

This afternoon they were to meet Queen Elizabeth II at Buckingham Palace and tonight were to be the guests of honor at a reception given by Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Manager Is One Of Store's Busiest Staff Members

One of the busiest members of Piggly Wiggly manager Tom Young's staff is Young, himself. If he isn't neatly stacking endless rows of cans, or dashing over shelves with a feather duster, he is waving hello to customers, or helping them to the car with their groceries.

Young took over as manager of the Piggly Wiggly Store on Eleventh Place one month ago. He was assistant manager of the Highland Shopping Center Piggly Wiggly for three years.

Young, who is 25, has been with the company almost eight years. He is a native of Andrews and a graduate of Andrews High School.

Young and his wife came to Big Spring four years ago. They have been married five years and have a three-year-old daughter, Lori Ann. They are members of the Baptist Temple Church. He belongs to the Gideon Christian Businessmen's Association, and in his spare time, he collects coins.

TOM YOUNG

Young says that the manager's job brings "a lot more responsibility." He supervises 15 employees. "One thing I'm going to do is keep all the merchandise in stock," he said. How well the store is stocked depends upon how well the stock boys are trained. "I'm making good stockers out of boys," Young says. His only frustrating days are Wednesdays when the store is mobbed for "double stamp day." Then the Piggly Wiggly staff is swamped with customers. But Young likes making friends with his customers, and he is friendly even on a busy Wednesday.

Vandals Shoot 2 More Windows

Alvin Whitaker told police Monday vandals had shot two plate-glass windows from Whitaker's Sporting Goods, 910 E. 4th. He estimated it would take $238 to replace them.

The A-1 Cycle Shop, 906 E. 4th, also reported windows damaged by BB guns from the sheriff's office. Proprietors of both businesses said they thought the holes had been there about a week.

A tire, wheel and battery, valued at $17, were taken from a car belonging to Carmen R. Gonzales Jr., 909 S. Runnels, while it was parked in the 900 block of North Douglas. It had been parked there about a week.

'Old West Atmosphere' Studied At Colo. City

COLORADO CITY — City Council members Monday night heard a proposal by Nathan Kiser, consulting planning engineer, to study the central business district. The study was called for by the Operation Pride Committee, directed by Dr. Bill Bridgford.

Kiser's plan called for the creation of "an old west atmosphere including wooden sidewalks in a four block area bounded by Main Street on the south, Third Street on the north, and Walnut Street on the east. The planning study will cost $1,900," Kiser said. The proposed plan, to be completed in three phases, will be studied by the Council, the Chamber of Commerce, and city engineers before action is taken.

The Lone Star Gas Co. made a request for rate increases. J. C. Wilkerson, local manager, said the increase will add an average of $1.43 to each customer's bill. The new rate increase will be studied by the Council.

Philip Berman, retired merchant, offered to sell or lease the Berman Hotel to the city for use as a museum. He did not quote a sale price, but offered to lease the hotel to the city for $175 a month with ownership to pass to the city in approximately 25 years. The council tabled the proposal until the December meeting.

A final proposal was presented by Don Benson, manager of TESCO. He offered to change 250 92-watt street lights and 180 189-watt street lights from incandescent to 175-watt mercury vapor street

NIXON WILL REPORT TO PEOPLE ON WAR Moratorium Takes Shape In U.S.

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer

President Nixon, after saying again he will not allow Wednesday's blossoming Vietnam moratorium movement to influence his policy, has announced he will speak to the nation early next month on the course of the war.

The announcement of the Nov. 3 address came Monday only a few hours after the White House made public a letter on which Nixon told a Georgetown University student there will be no change in Vietnam course "merely because of a public demonstration."

SURPRISE

Still, the timing of the speech announcement and the way in which the letter was released caused considerable surprise.

It is rare that a planned presidential speech is announced three weeks in advance. And it is even rarer that the White House releases contents of a presidential letter to a private individual—the usual procedure being to let the recipient announce the contents.

In saying Nixon would discuss the entire Vietnam situation Nov. 3 "as it exists at that time," the White House noted the speech would come just about a year after former President Lyndon B. Johnson ordered an end to U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

Thus, the White House said, early November would be a good time for a major discussion of the war.

EVERY FACET

While Nixon continues to insist he won't allow "his course to be swayed by those who demonstrate," it is growing more and more apparent the moratorium has grown far beyond the scope of the student-organized concept.

Instead of a day in which students would demonstrate their opposition to the war by staying away from classes for a day, the movement has spread to include nearly every facet of the nation's life.

Leaders of the four-million member Alliance for Labor Action announced Monday it is backing the protest movement, the first endorsement of the moratorium has received from a major labor organization.

The alliance was formed by United Auto Workers President Walter Reuther and acting Teamsters president Frank E. Fitzsimons.

The AFL-CIO, which no longer counts the UAW and Teamsters as members, has strongly supported Nixon's Vietnam policies and is not taking part in the moratorium.

HIGH PRICE

Further support came Monday from W. Averell Harriman, the original U.S. Paris peace negotiator under the Johnson administration. Speaking with considerable emotion, the former New York governor said, "We're a free country paying a tremendous price for the war and entitled to dissent."

Civil Rights leader Whitney M. Young, executive director of the National Urban League, expressed opposition to the war for the first time in endorsing Wednesday's series of rallies, prayer meetings, marches and discussions.

"Vietnam is tragically diverting America's attention from its primary problem—the urban and racial crisis—at the very time that crisis is at its flash point," Young said.

At Whittier College, which Nixon attended as an undergraduate, moratorium leaders plan to light an antiwar "flame of life" as a "constant reminder of those who have died and are dying while it burns."

BITTER CLASHES

In Congress, where previous Republican calls for a moratorium on dissent have disappeared in the winds of oratory from both sides of the aisles, the protests have generated lengthy and often bitter clashes.

Edward M. Kennedy, the Senate's No. 2 Democratic leader, said Nixon's reaction to the war protesters indicates the administration has no interest in alternatives to its Vietnam policy.

who has given the moratorium a lukewarm endorsement, expressed concern that the demonstration will "take on political aspects."

Scott said he fears attempts will be made "to unload responsibilities for an inherited war on the wrong administration."

In the House, where pro-moratorium members are preparing to try to force an all-night session Wednesday, Rep. Wayne L. Hays, D-Ohio, said congressmen backing the demonstrations were "self-appointed emissaries of Hanoi."

Hays said he will do whatever it takes to stop the more than 20 representatives from carrying out plans to keep the House chambers' lights burning through the night.

New York City's Mayor John V. Lindsay has called for the city's churches to toll their bells hourly in memory of the war dead. He also ordered flags lowered to half-staff and city hall to be draped in purple bunting in a "day of observance."

Lindsay's opponents for re-election, Mario Procaccino and John Marchi, said they would observe the moratorium by offering prayers in church.

Wall Street even showed signs of being affected by the movement. Some analysts said Monday's strong showing of the stock market was influenced by the moratorium.

But the moratorium wasn't going without opposition.

The conservative Young Americans for Freedom sought court orders in several cities prohibiting the closing of schools Wednesday, claiming such shutdowns would violate the rights of students wanting to attend classes.

FEARS 'CRAZIES'

Campus veterans clubs at Marshall University in Huntington, W. Va., put up stickers urging students to show their support for U.S. soldiers in Vietnam by attending classes Wednesday.

And Sen. William Saxbe, R-Ohio, said he doesn't think moratorium leaders can prevent the demonstrations from becoming disorders. "I question their ability to keep it out of the hands of the crazies," he said.

Here is a rundown of other developments and activities involving the moratorium:

—Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., and 34 co-sponsors Monday introduced a resolution to support the continuing U.S. goal of self-determination for South Vietnam.

EXTRA POLICE

—A federal judge in Charleston, W. Va., overruled the city's police chief and ruled a peace group should be allowed to parade as part of the moratorium.

—Eight Ivy League college newspapers complained the moratorium had been diluted but backed the protest movement anyway. They called for an immediate withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam.

—The Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy and other leaders of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference endorsed the protests and said they would take part in the moratorium.

—Although some cities have ordered extra police on duty for traffic control Wednesday, a survey indicates most states, local and campus authorities expect little trouble.

—Americans attending Loyola University in Rome plan to stay away from classes and attend masses, discussion sessions and a candlelight march as their part of the protests.

Students at Paris' American University circulated a petition calling for suspension of classes. But there was no sign this would be granted and there were no reports from other European nations of planned demonstrations.

35 B52s Unload Tons Of Bombs On Commies

SAIGON (AP) — About 35 U.S. B52 bombers unloaded more than 1,000 tons of bombs on two enemy regiments reorganizing in base camps along the Cambodian border 93 to 100 miles northeast of Saigon, military spokesmen reported today.

The bombing raids were part of the allied campaign to blunt the winter-spring campaign which U.S. experts expect the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese to launch next month.

Regiments of the 5th Viet Cong Division were reported reorganizing and refitting in the camps hit Monday night and early Tuesday. Allied intelligence says elements of four enemy divisions are in camps along the Cambodian border, preparing for the next offensive.

Allied communiques again reported only small, scattered ground actions as the lull in the war continued in its sixth week.

Two Americans and 10 enemy soldiers were reported killed and seven Americans wounded in three clashes. American pilots said they counted 14 more enemy bodies after an attack by helicopter gunships and bombers on an enemy base camp 42 miles north of Saigon.

A South Vietnamese battalion clashed during the night with a Viet Cong force in rice paddies 18 miles northwest of Saigon, killing eight of the enemy at a cost of four killed and four wounded. A U.S. Army helicopter gunship supporting the ground troops was shot down, and one American was wounded.

Another helicopter from the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division drew machine-gun fire just before midnight while on a reconnaissance mission five miles south of the Cambodian border. The helicopter crew directed artillery fire onto the enemy positions, an Air Force AC119 gunship joined the attack, and the American fliers said they counted 28 enemy bodies by the light of flares. There were no U.S. casualties and the helicopter was not hit.

The Saigon government reported a record 35,000 enemy soldiers, political cadre and sympathizers have defected to its side this year and turned in more than 2,200 weapons.

This brought the total number of defectors to 125,437 since February 18, 1963, when the government launched the massive propaganda campaign known as Chieu Hoi—Open Arms—to woo the enemy's support. Only 894 of the defectors have been North Vietnamese.

Stevenson, a tobacco merchandising salesman from Iowa Park, appeared at the front door and Mrs. Fedrick answered his knock about 7:10 p.m. Fedrick, sales manager out of a national tobacco firm, was out of town on a business trip.

Pat Fedrick, 17, heard her mother call through the door. "Tom is not here... I can't let you in, Steve, because you've got that gun."

The man outside broke a small section of glass, thrust a pistol into the opening and fired. Mrs. Fedrick fell as she and her daughter fled screaming, and the daughter ran out the back way to a neighbor's home.

Patrolman S. G. Grosvenor arrived to find Mrs. Fedrick lying on the floor. He heard a muffled sound like a shot and came across the wounded Stevenson a few feet distant in a bathroom.

Mrs. Fedrick and Stevenson both died about an hour after reaching a hospital.

Chilly Weather Lingers In Texas

By The Associated Press

Freezing weather nipped the Texas Panhandle for a second straight morning and the chill reached deep into the state early today.

Readings near dawn ran as low as 26 degrees and there was moderate frost at Perryton in the northeast edge of the Panhandle.

The mercury dipped to 31 at Amarillo and Dalhart. Most other points recorded marks in the upper 30s to 40s except in South Texas, where it was a comparatively warm 56 at Galveston and 57 at Brownsville.

Skies were generally clear except for a little cloud cover in West Central and Southwest Texas.

Chilly weather lingered in the wake of a norther which swept out of state Monday after triggering tornadoes, thunderstorms and flash flooding in some sections.

The season's first hard freeze Monday, dropping temperatures to record lows for the date at many points, dealt severe damage to late cotton in parts of the South Plains. Executive vice president Bob Potet of the Cotton Exchange at Lubbock said initial estimates put the loss at around 200,000 bales of cotton.

Temperatures Monday afternoon went no higher than 40 at Dalhart, where the overnight low was 23, and 46 at Amarillo. Top marks elsewhere ranged up to 75 at McAllen deep in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Forecasts promised returning clouds and rising temperatures in all sections of the state tonight or Wednesday, with possibly a little rain in North Central and Northeast Texas.

House Cut In Depletion Allowance Draws Attack

HOUSTON (AP) — The chief spokesman for the Texas petroleum industry the past two years said today a House approved bill that would cut oil's 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance would stifle individual initiative.

"It is sincerely hoped the Senate coolly and impartially review this bill and then recommend what is best for the United States," said Carbin J. Robertson, retiring president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

"This country today is the freest, richest and most powerful country in the history of the world because of individual initiative," the Houston oilman said. "It cannot be destroyed without disastrous results."

Equally dangerous, Robertson said, would be drastic revision of the oil import quota system now being reviewed by a cabinet level task force appointed by President Richard Nixon.

"Any substantial change would have the eventual effect of making us reliant on foreign oil and lessening the domestic role to that of a minority," he said. "And the American consumer would be paying a lot more for a gallon of gas than he is today. Our defense posture would be severely weakened."

Robertson spoke at the general session of the golden anniversary meeting of the trade group that represents all segments of the Texas oil and gas industry.

His remarks were in line with two resolutions adopted by the executive committee Monday. One asked that Congress retain the full 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance. The other asked Nixon to retain the mandatory oil import control program that has been in effect since 1959.

The Senate Finance Committee is studying a House approved tax bill that would cut oil's depletion allowance to 20 per cent.

Robertson, who was to be succeeded today by Kenneth E. Montague of Houston, said the reckless phases of the House bill also affect capital gains, municipal bonds, farm losses and foundations.

"These actions were taken without the clear and certain knowledge of what effect they might have on our national economy," he said. "Obviously, with the present delicate state of this economy, no action should be taken except those that surely could be beneficial. The reduction in the depletion allowance was a direct result of emotionalism."

On the state level, Robertson said the industry was hit for about $18 million a year in new taxes this year but was exposed at various times to several plans which would have been highly discriminatory and in some cases downright ruinous.

He suggested the association start planning for state tax problems of the future.

"In spite of this year's $350 million tax bill, the legislature will likely face the responsibility of digging up several hundred million more when it meets again in 1971," he said.

"I would suggest today that this association's tax committee begin a study of the state's fiscal situation and the various revenues alternatives. Our industry should be prepared to assist in the formulation of a revenue program that will be participated in by all elements of the Texas economy to provide adequate support of state services."

Like the executive committee, Robertson also endorsed a proposal that the legislature authorize the Railroad Commission to require unitized operation of an oil or gas field where economically feasible. Current statutes authorize voluntary unitization.

"Texas operators will have to increase their efficiency of recovery if they are to compete with Alaska and the other big oil producing areas of the world for markets and for investment capital," he said.

ENLIST ELECTRONICS IN CRIME FIGHT — New York City police use television sets to monitor trouble spots in the city. The "electronic eyes" have been installed in a new command post in police headquarters to receive pictures from fixed and mobile stations.

Paving Leads City Agenda

The city commission will consider the deletion of 20 blocks from the paving program at its regular meeting tonight at 7:30 in the commission room.

The contractor, W. D. Caldwell Inc., has requested the deletion because many of the units are delinquent in taxes, and any taxes would have to be paid before a paving lien could be assessed.

At the same time the commission, if it approves the deletion, will be given an additional 33 blocks to consider as possible substitutes.

The commission will also:

1. Consider a request for damages amounting to $12.50 from Joe A. Welch, 3239 Drexel.
2. Hold public hearings for an off-premises beer permit for the Foodway Store and an on-premises beer permit for the Cherokee Lounge.
3. Consider an NYC contract with the Dawson County-Lamesa Community Action Agency.
4. And consider recommendations from the traffic commission.

Cameras Keep Eye On Trouble Spots

NEW YORK (AP) — A new police command post is using television cameras to keep an eye on trouble spots in New York.

Mayor John Lindsay and Police Commissioner Howard Leary put the command center—a windowless room with giant, wall-mounted television screens—into operation Monday at Police Headquarters.

The facility and its equipment cost the city $410,000. It has three functions:

- A special police television network of fixed and mobile cameras will enable headquarters to follow demonstrations and other events as they occur throughout the city. Fixed cameras now cover City Hall Plaza Square, Madison Square Garden and United Nations Plaza. Other will be mounted on trucks and police helicopters.
- The command post will be connected by a direct line to a special telephone in each of the city's 78 precincts and several other police units. At the beginning of each shift, after consulting with sergeants in charge and using a small computer, the center will prepare a table showing exactly how many men are on duty and where they are.

—The command post itself—with its huge screens upon which television pictures, tables and detailed maps can be projected and its direct link with the department's communications and dispatch system—will mean faster and more efficient police response to calls.

"Our people visited the Strategic Air Command in Omaha, the Space Center at Houston and the Pentagon, and borrowed the best from each," Lindsay said. "And this extraordinary command center came out of it. It's the most sophisticated police command center in the world."

The new system will be tried out Wednesday during the Vietnam moratorium observances in the city. However, Leary said only a few cameras will be working and the police will also watch regular stations for a view of the over-all situation.

The pictures flashed on the giant screens will also be videotaped and stored. Thus, the face of a bottle thrower in a crowd may later be identified.

The center will be in operation 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Trustees To Meet Tonight

The regular monthly meeting for the Big Spring School Board trustees is set for tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the portable classroom building behind the superintendent's office on Eleventh Place. The agenda includes a number of financial statements; bills paid and payable, and a budget statement as of Sept. 30.

Other business under consideration is the resignation of two employees, hiring of six new employees, a proposal from Park Hill PTA for campus improvement, approval of preliminary application for foundation funds, 1969-70, and several reports from Superintendent S. M. Anderson.

Novis W. Womack, Tax Appraiser, is also slated to appear before the board, as is the Brown and Hamby firm to present a delinquent tax report.

15 Million Fish Killed By Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 15 million fish were killed by water pollution last year, "a macabre reminder that our rivers, lakes and streams are being poisoned by many highly toxic and dangerous substances," the Interior Department said today.

The number of dead fish, set at 15,236,000 on the basis of reports from 42 states, is up 31 per cent from 1967. It is the highest since 1964 when municipal sewage, industrial wastes and other pollutants killed 18,387,000 fish.

"While improved reporting practices, variations in weather and other factors could be partially responsible for the increase, the report is a macabre reminder that our rivers, lakes and streams are being poisoned by many highly toxic and dangerous substances," said David D. Dominick, commissioner of the Federal Water Pollution Control Commission.

Two-thirds of the fish killed by pollution were commercial fish while 9 per cent were classified as sport fish, the department said.

The department pointed to municipal and industrial pollution as the main cause of the fish kills, blaming city sewage for the death of 6.9 million and industrial waste for the death of 6.3 million.

In the eight years records have been kept, more than 103 million fish have died from water pollution.

Society's dumping of sewage into its lakes, rivers and streams poses a greater hazard than just the death of fish. Scientists reported last year fish can pick up human disease germs and spread them back to humans when eaten.

White perch caught in Chesapeake Bay, dumping ground for several rivers running through heavily populated areas, were found to contain germs which could cause typhoid fever, dysentery and tuberculosis.

Coho salmon caught in the Great Lakes were impounded by the government early this year when found to contain dangerously high levels of the pesticide DDT. And University of Michigan scientists say pesticides seeping into Lake Michigan destroy nearly half the eggs laid by salmon.

Thermal pollution, the injection of hot water or air into lakes, rivers and streams, also is causing increasing concern. It comes from industrial plants, electric generators and irrigation, and kills fish by destroying their oxygen or food.

The largest fish kill of 1968 was caused by overflow from a petroleum refinery pond on the Allegheny River at Bruin, Pa., where more than 4 million fish died.

Sewage from an overloaded treatment plant at Mobile, Ala., killed more than a million fish in a two-mile stretch of the Dog River—the second largest single kill.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I just read that letter from the woman who wanted you to recommend a doctor who would give her hormone shots so she could breastfeed her ADOPTED baby. What kind of nut is she anyway? Who ever heard of a woman who has not been pregnant being able to nurse a baby? I know that some mothers who have enough milk to nurse more than one baby sometimes take on the dubious pleasure of breastfeeding babies other than their own, but a woman who thinks SHE can nurse an adopted baby has got to be nuttier than a fruitcake.

AMAZED IN PENSACOLA, FLA.

DEAR ABBY: I was one of those old fashioned mothers who cried for a week when I realized I couldn't breastfeed my baby. I heard about the Le Leche League and asked my doctor about it. He said, "Mother's milk is overrated." Also that bottle babies were better off because the mother always knew exactly how much milk the baby got at every feeding, and she could be SURE the quality of the milk was consistent and GOOD. (Not all nursing mothers have GOOD milk, you know. And some don't have enough, and the poor child practically starves to death on the breast.)

I've had mothers tell me that the reason they nursed their babies was because it gave them a feeling of "total" motherhood. Some of those nursing mothers should examine their own motives.

"PRO-BOTTLE," STATE COLLEGE, PA.

DEAR ABBY: Shame on you! Where are all those "experts" you consult on technical matters?

An adopted child can most certainly be breastfed by the mother into whose arms he is placed!

It is a fact that in some Latin American countries the grand mother routinely nurses the baby. Also, virgin girls have been known to nurse babies and there is a tribe in Africa where the old MEN actually nurse the babies!

MRS. K.: CHICAGO
DEAR MRS. K.: I DID CONSULT FOUR TOP ranking medical authorities who agreed unanimously that the woman who wanted hormone shots in order to breastfeed her adopted child should be advised to abandon the idea or she'd wind up with no milk and a mustache.

I also heard from hundreds of La Leche League members who could have not been more enthusiastic about the wonderful work of this fine organization. I must publicly confess my ignorance. I would not have believed that a woman who had never been pregnant could successfully nurse a baby, and I certainly would have bet against a 'MALE'S' ability to do so. (See my column tomorrow for more letters on this subject.)

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The bidding: South West North East 1♣ 3♦ 3♥ Pass 3NT Pass Pass Pass

Today's hand produced a substantial swing when it was dealt in a recent team-of-four match. A final contract of three no trump with South as the declarer was reached at both tables on an identical series of bids.

South opened the bidding with one club and West made a preemptive jump overcall of three diamonds. North chose to take the pressure off his partner by freely bidding hearts and when the latter carried on to three no trump, the auction subsided.

At one table, West opened the queen of diamonds and declarer had an easy time of it. East discarded a club and South won the trick in his hand with the king. The king of hearts was cashed followed by a small heart on which West given his heart trick with the queen but he had no diamonds to return and could not put his partner in to run the suit.

East shifted to a spade. Declarer put up the ace and ran for cover with nine tricks—five hearts, one spade, one diamond, and two clubs.

At the other table, West refrained from leading his suit. South was marked with the king of diamonds to warrant his rebid of three no trump, and West wanted to get his partner in to make a diamond play thru declarer. There was the further consideration that if East had only a singleton diamond, West would cut the line of communications between the two defenders if he opened the queen of diamonds.

West chose the unbid suit for his attack, and he opened the four of spades. East put up the king and declarer permitted him to hold the trick. The jack of spades was returned and South ducked again as West overtook with the queen.

West reasoned that his partner must be void in diamonds when he failed to shift to that suit at trick two, and inasmuch as West was in the lead for the last time, he carefully cashed the ace of diamonds before he returned the third spade. East's eight forced out declarer's ace.

Due to the shortage of entries to dummy, South was obliged to take the heart finesse into the East hand. When the latter got in with the queen of hearts, he cashed the ten of spades for the setting trick.

Little Girl Raped In Harlem School

NEW YORK (AP) — A little girl, 7, was raped last week on a staircase in her Harlem public school, police say.

The belated report of the lunchtime incident came Sunday when parents disclosed plans to protest the school security system, which they say made the rape possible.

The third-grade girl's assailant is being sought.

Naomi Patterson, president of the school's parents association, said the rapist wandered about the school for two hours unharmed by the staff who thought he was a parent.

NEW YORK (AP) — Baseball is a lively corpse. An early sampling of television ratings for the 1969 World Series showed the 100-year-old national pastime clobbering the sport which critics predicted would bury it—pro and college football.

However, the entire trade accepts certain rating systems, and shows and career have collapsed as a result of these figures. NBC announced today that 51,500,000 were tuned in on the World Series Saturday and 58,500,000 had the picture on the Mets and Orioles on Sunday.

BALTIMORE (AP) — Coach Don Shula says his Baltimore Colts "really made it exciting for everybody right down to the end."

The defending National Football League champions, rated 14 point favorites, sputtered Monday night in a light drizzle before hanging on for a 24-20 victory over the injury-riddled Philadelphia Eagles.

Shula said he was happy the Colts had won, but he didn't appear overly impressed with the victory which squared Baltimore's record at 2-2. The surprisingly tough Eagles now are 1-3.

Sports dialogue: DAVID MERRICK, Broadway producer: "I think professional football was saved by the platoon system. Why not have it in baseball—an offensive team and a defensive team. It would add so much to the game."

Baseball has the advantage over show business. In the theatre, the audience usually knows the end. Baseball is better because there is a suspense in not knowing the result. But they're unmindful of their audience in baseball. I find it appalling that they're not thinking of the fans. You almost feel they want to build a fence around the diamond and play without spectators. They've forgotten it's a spectator sport. In the theatre, we're always thinking of the audience and audience reaction."

FURMAN BISHOP, Atlanta scribe: "Wouldn't you consider it safe to call the death of the Coaches All-America football game a mercy killing?"

TED BATTLES, Midland columnist: "Although he was a virtually unknown before the season's start, if Big Spring's Ricky Peurifoy continues at his present pace, it's going to be difficult to keep him off the All-District 3-A team."

WAYNE WALKER, linebacker for the Detroit Lions: "Anybody who says the game is beastly, brutal and nasty, he's right. You are out there to inflict punishment. It's a great personal satisfaction when you get a good hit on someone... you know the guy is wondering what the hell happened and who the hell are you and now he's got to respect you a little."

IRV CROSS, player-coach for the Philadelphia Eagles: "Any great team has to have exceptional linebackers. The Rams always had a good defensive line, but the team didn't become very good until it added fine linebackers, like Maxie Baughan, Jack Pardee and Myron Pottles. The Packers, of course, have had and still have great linebackers—Lee Roy Caffey, Ray Nitschke and Dave Robinson. The Dallas Cowboys' defense has been working together for a long time, and the defense has to be together if it is to be successful. Having that eliminates a lot of guesswork. The secondary in any good defense is a matter of timing and coordination. Once it is reached, you never want to break it up."

RON SWOBODA, New York Met slugger: "Sometimes you can think about baseball too much. We were fortunate to platoon our players and give everybody a frequent rest. The Cub regulars had to play every day."

The FOOTBALL NEWS: "The way Travis Williams and rookie Dave Hampton have been carrying the ball for Green Bay, who needs the $600 bonus kid Donny Anderson for anything more than punting?... Scouts and coaches who have seen Orange Juice Simpson play unanimously agree that while he has the makings of a pro, he will fumble frequently if he continues to run around the Buffalo field with the ball cavalierly cradled in one arm away from his body."

'Hero' Audie Murphy Takes Stand Against Vietnam War

DALLAS (AP) - Audie Murphy, the Texan who turned actor after becoming the most decorated soldier of World War II, says the war in Vietnam poses difficult questions but he's inclined to side with the doves.

"I think it is morally wrong," Murphy told a reporter, "to force someone to fight a political war that we don't want to win."

Stalks Can Cause Trouble

Cotton stalks should be destroyed immediately after harvesting to reduce trouble next year from pink bollworms, boll weevils and tobacco budworms, Paul Gross, county agent said.

Destroying the stalks eliminates the food supply for these insects and holds down reproduction this fall, according to Gross.

Chamber To Use Computer Help

Some of the bookkeeping and clerical work at the Chamber of Commerce will be computerized, starting in November.

The Chamber's board of directors approved the move for a six-month trial period at its regular meeting Monday in the Settles Hotel. They approved an expenditure not to exceed $200 for setting the program up, and another $100 a month for operating expenses.

At the same time, said Chamber Manager Tom Eastland, the receptionist had

Attorney Reports Suits To Be Filed

City Attorney Herb Prouty said today the city is planning to file suits soon against hazardous structures where it has been unable to determine the owner. If the suit is successful, the city will demolish the buildings.

Prouty said difficulties have been encountered in taking care of hazardous structures because the owner of the land is in some cases different from the owner of the house. While records are kept for landowners, none exist for who owns the buildings.

It took us many years to get the bugs out of the bug.

The first Volkswagens to come to this country had windows so small you could hardly see out of them. They had no gas gauge at all. When you make a new kind of car you keep finding things that could use improving. And over the years you improve them. And that's the advantage to buying a new car that isn't a whole new kind of car. It's up to you. You can buy a lot of bugs. Or you can buy a bug.

TELL OF BEING EX-HIPPIES — Jim Lockway looks (left) like a clean-cut young business or professional man today, but until last year, he reports, he and his wife Nia, 20, were hippies — "going full route . . . drugs, beard, long hair and beads." They attribute their change to religious motivation. Lockway, 25, now works for an architect in Corona Del Mar, Calif.

Ex-Hippies Find Something Better

CORONA DEL MAR, Calif. (AP) — Jim and Nia Lockway, once full-fledged hippies, say they have kicked the drugs and other trappings and made it back to the straight world. "We've found something better," Nia said, meaning religion.

"The hippie," her husband declared, "is just as hypocritical as the people he criticizes. Materialism is as bad in the hippie movement as it is elsewhere."

"The hippie talks about love, but he doesn't mean it or practice it in the Biblical sense. It is mostly sex—in fact, sex worship."

The Lockways, said Jim, were hippies "the full route."

He had long hair and a beard. They used the hippie drugs, wore the hippie love beads, and dressed in hippie attire.

Last year they decided to drop out of the hippie world. Kicking drugs was toughest, Lockway, 25, says he used LSD and methedrine, which hippies call "speed." Nia, 20, says she smoked marijuana.

Both quit. They cut their hair. Nia stopped wearing yellow-tinted glasses with gold rims. Lockway traded his jersey with barber-pole stripes for a white shirt and tie.

He quit drawing advertisements for an underground newspaper and put his talents to work for an architect. And he started a window washing business on the side. Lockway told Hubbard Keavy

PERFORMING COLOR SCHEME

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — At the new Performing Arts Center, the restroom entrances have been cleverly worked into the curving walls of the promenade.

Instead of having the usual "men" and "women" emblazoned on the proper doors, the labels are discreetly placed in unobtrusive bronze on the walls. But when the lights go on for intermission, the bronze becomes almost invisible in the color scheme.

Oilmen Pick Montague

HOUSTON (AP) — Kenneth A. Montague of Houston was elected president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association Monday.

Montague, president of the General Crude Oil Co., one of the state's largest and oldest independent oil firms, succeeds Corbin J. Robertson of Houston.

Montague's selection was announced after a closed meeting of the executive committee of the trade group that represents all segments of the Texas oil and gas industry.

Committee sessions were being held preliminary to Tuesday's Golden Anniversary meeting of the association.

Robertson has headed the 4,000-member association two years and is to submit his report Tuesday.

J. C. Johnston of Houston, chairman of the oil information committee, told his group Texans must be reminded of their stake in the outcome of major issues facing the industry.

The settlement of such issues as taxes and oil imports will depend to a great extent, Johnston said, on what industry employees and other Texas citizens do about them.

He said the committee must remind community leaders all through the state that the industry is of vast economic importance to them.

Johnston said 40 per cent of the taxes collected by the state government comes from oil and gas and that the industry's buying power through payrolls totals $1.5 billion a year.

'Ham' Vandals Spoil Research

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Vandals released 3,000 hamsters in the Bio-Research Institute Monday, destroying years of research into medical problems.

A spokesman said most of the hamsters could be recaptured, but it would be impossible to match the individuals up with the records and ancestry.
