BATTERING FOR BETTER HOMES—Men use pole as a battering ram to knock down a shanty in a Rome slum Saturday in a move to force the city administration to find shanty-dwellers decent living quarters. Families that destroyed their houses are among several hundreds that have been illegally occupying vacant apartment houses in the center of Rome. By making themselves "homeless," they believe the city will have to let them stay in the occupied buildings or find them apartments.

Lubbock Pilot Hunters Find Three Bodies In Light Plane

NEWBERG, Ore. (AP) — Hunters found the bodies of three men Saturday in the wreckage of a light plane on a mountainside north of Newberg in Northwest Oregon.

State police identified the victims as George Pinkney Green, 64, the pilot, and Arch R. Harper, 60, both of Lubbock, Tex., and Dolpus Guard Craig, 60, Albuquerque, N.M.

Green last made radio contact with the Federal Aviation Administration in Portland at 10:26 p.m. Friday. He said he was low on fuel but could see the lights of an airport where he said he would land.

Authorities believe he was near Aurora Airport about 10 miles east of where he crashed.

Green had filed a flight plan Friday from Sacramento, Calif., to Portland. State police said the men were to attend a trailer sales convention near Portland.

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week . . . with Joe Pickle

What a tremendous record our Howard County 4-H clubbers achieved last week — five state championships! We have no way of knowing, but we venture that this record has not been equaled by any county at one time. Four of our club members were announced as state winners, then a fifth, Johnny Peugh, Knott, showed the grand champion barrow at the State Fair livestock show. We've had grand champion steers there, but never before the top barrow. Johnny is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Peugh, Knott.

In the state competition covering a year's work, consider these first place winners: Martha Couch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Couch, home management; Carolyn Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delaine Crawford, clothing, and her sister, Linda, dairy foods; Kelly Gaskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, public speaking. The three girls have won trips to the national 4-H Congress in Chicago, and if Kelly is picked as one of two top entries in the nation, he, too, will get to go.

On the home front a bit of the national moratorium splashed over, but the ripple here was small. About all it did was to stimulate the majority to counter expressions. Little flags outnumbered black arm bands overwhelmingly.

The Big Spring Independent School District isn't pushing the panic button, but it is more than a little concerned about failure of the federally impacted law so far to pass Congress. The district has 350 directly and another 1,500 indirectly involved, amounting to $360,000. It would take Commies Take Over Peace Movements?

WASHINGTON (AP) — An amateur undercover agent charged in Senate testimony that "the Communists have completely and utterly taken over the peace movements" arrayed against the war in Vietnam.

But Max Phillip Friedman said he reached this judgment in "a number of unusual ways" because only one admitted Communist party member turned up among 350 to 450 persons at a peace protest planning conference.

Friedman's Aug. 12 testimony to the Senate Internal Security subcommittee was made public Saturday.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., the senator who heard the testimony, said it shows the peace movement is not that all.

"These people do not direct any antiwar protests against North Vietnam," Thurmond said. "They attack only the leaders of the American people."

Friedman, who volunteered his testimony, reported on the National Antiwar Convention in Cleveland July 4 and 5.

"Out of it," he said, "I came to the firm conclusion, based on what I had been told and what I had seen, that this particular conference and in general the over-all peace movement in the United States has now become a Communist front organization."

"I found this out in a number of unusual ways, because of the fact that at the conference there was only one person who admitted he was a member of the Communist party per se, and this was Arnold Johnson of the Communist Party."

Friedman said there were to his knowledge no other Communists at the party.

Friedman told the subcommittee he is not an expert on communism and considers it unfair that he be asked to define the word.

Friedman said the discussions in Cleveland dealt with protests including the Vietnam moratorium of Oct. 15, and a demonstration planned in Washington Nov. 15.

He said there also was discussion of a demonstration on the West Coast, possibly in San Francisco, on Nov. 15, and of one in Seattle, with no date mentioned.

Armed Robbery Suspect Jailed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — San Antonio and Austin police teamed up early Saturday to arrest James Stanley Smedeker, 32, wanted for questioning in the $14,000 armed robbery of a San Antonio supermarket Friday night.

Smedeker was picked up at the Austin airport, about 70 miles from San Antonio.

Officers here identified him as an escapee of the Stillwater State Prison in Minneapolis, Minn.

Moreover, there were signs that plans to construct some type of permanent orbital space station had to be abandoned, and Western space experts guessed that an abortive dock-

CYCLAMATES CAUSED CANCER IN ANIMALS

Orders Artificial Sweetener Halt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Acting on new evidence of cyclamate-caused cancer in animals, the government ordered Saturday an immediate production halt of all foods and drinks containing the artificial sweetener, and grocery-shelf removal by Feb. 1.

But in issuing this order, Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare added, "we have no evidence at this point that cyclamates have indeed caused cancer in humans."

The widely used cyclamates, described by Finch as a $1-billion-a-year industry, are found in both diet and non-diet substances. Tens of millions of families, perhaps three of every four, are estimated to use cyclamate products in their homes.

The secretary said at a news conference he sees no need for families to stop using such artificially sweetened products as diet soft drinks they now have in their homes.

"My decision to remove cyclamates from the list of approved substances in no sense should be interpreted as a life-saving or emergency measure," Finch said. "I have acted under the provisions of law because it is imperative to follow a prudent course in all matters concerning public health."

The strong action followed disclosure this week to the government of two different laboratory findings that cyclamate caused bladder cancer in rats and mice.

One study at the University of Wisconsin found the cancer after extremely high levels of cyclamate were injected into the bladders of mice.

The experimental technique, said a HEW aide, Dr. Jesse L. Steinfeld, is "controversial and the significance of the positive findings unknown."

The second study sponsored by Abbott Laboratories—the principal cyclamate manufacturer—found bladder tumors after rats were fed cyclamates over a lifetime.

The amount fed rats, Steinfeld said, "is fifty times the maximum amount previously proposed for adult human consumption."

Finch said cyclamate products still will be available on a prescription basis for persons who must avoid sugar for medical reasons. Such persons would include those being treated for diabetes or obesity.

Finch ordered a phased withdrawal of cyclamate-containing beverages from stores by Jan. 1, 1970. Such drinks have the highest level of cyclamates of all products and account for 70 per cent of cyclamate consumption.

Artificially sweetened foods, which he said contain lower levels of cyclamate and pose a very minimal risk, must be removed Feb. 1.

Oral prescription drugs suspended in a cyclamate-flavored solution would remain on the market until July 1. Such drugs contain very small amounts of the sweetener and are needed

Thieu Explains Firing On Russian 'Spy' Ship

SAIGON (AP) — "We have our rules, our nation has its sovereignty. Those who break our rules have to accept our reaction."

Thus President Nguyen Van Thieu explained Saturday the firing on a Soviet spy ship by a South Vietnamese navy craft.

"The vessel was inside the 12-mile limit," Thieu said of the intelligence trawler intercepted Friday, "so my navy fired at it." He added that he did not think the incident would have international repercussions.

More than 24 hours after the incident, there was no comment from the Kremlin.

U.S. and Vietnamese military commands left all comment to Thieu. Military sources gave evasive answers or denied knowledge of the incident in apparent moves to avoid diplomatic confrontation with the Soviet Union.

"The first reaction of our navy is to chase away any foreign boat that enters our territorial waters without authorization." Thieu told an informal press conference in the Mekong Delta village of Phu Tam. "Many foreign boats have been captured."

Thieu said the trawler which had come within three miles of the big port city of Da Nang, was identified as a Russian vessel after it had been taken under fire by South Vietnamese coastal patrol boats.

U.S. command spokesmen at an hour-long briefing Saturday steadfastly denied knowledge of the incident while, at the same time, saying there was no U.S. involvement. They also said they did not know if units of the U.S. 7th Fleet had the trawler under observation either before or after it entered South Vietnamese waters.

A U.S. officer in Da Nang said Friday night, however, that the intruder "was identified by the U.S. and Vietnamese navy commands as being a Russian intelligence trawler. Information from the U.S. Navy states that the ship came from the vicinity of Yankee Station off North Vietnam."

Twenty-four hours after the incident, government military spokesmen said they did not know the type or number of patrol boats that intercepted the Russian spy ship.

A spokesman said only that the trawler had been located at 8 a.m. Friday by electronic gear, 10 miles east of Da Nang and moving toward shore.

The Barograph, a Russian trawler loaded with electronic gear, has been shadowing units of the 7th Fleet in the Tonkin Gulf. No name was given, however, for the vessel that was chased away from Da Nang Friday.

The lull in battlefield actions continued, but B52 bombers renewed their raids on North Vietnamese base camps near the Cambodian border. Up to 20 bombers attacked the staging areas north of Saigon where intelligence analysts say four enemy divisions are reorganizing.

Nixon Appeals For Help In Fighting Inflation

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon told leaders of business and labor Saturday they must display price-wage restraint or face the threat of lower profits and burgeoning unemployment.

The White House made public the letter Nixon will send Monday to 2,200 business and labor union officials appealing for their help in fighting inflation.

REAL DANGER

"The danger of inflation is real," he wrote. "The cure requires some unpleasant medicine, patience on the part of all and self-discipline by government, business and labor."

Nixon's 800-word letter closely parallels his Friday radio speech on rising living costs. However, it was more specific in detailing what he expects of business and labor.

"It is in the interest of private business to consider pricing policies in the light of government's determination to check inflation. The business that commits errors in pricing on the upside, expecting to be bailed out by inflation, is going to find itself in a poor competitive position. Betting on every-higher prices is a sure way of losing."

FREE MARKET

"It is in the interest of every union leader and working man to avoid wage demands that will reduce the purchasing power of his dollar and reduce the number of job opportunities."

Rejecting artificial controls on wage and prices, Nixon argued:

"The free market has its own controls on those who slight responsibility: loss of profits to the businessman, loss of jobs to the working man. These are losses that responsible action can avert."

UNPOPULAR ROAD

As in his talk Friday, Nixon predicted that prices will be rising at a reduced rate in the months ahead.

Dr. Herbert Stein, a member of the Council of Economic Advisers, told newsmen the administration expects the rate of increase to be lower quarter by quarter during 1970. Overall, however, living costs would continue upward.

Nixon, in writing to business and union leaders, said, "I would be interested in your own views as to how the private sector and government can work together in holding down the cost of living."

Stein said no formal mechanism has been set up to solicit such views.

LITTLE TO SHOW PUBLIC AFTER ORBITS

Winding Up Space Mission

MOSCOW (AP) — The last of the seven cosmonauts in the Soviet Union's biggest space mission returned to earth Saturday with little to show the public for their five days in orbit.

No breakthroughs in space technology were revealed in the mass of official information provided during the three-craft mission.

Moreover, there were signs that plans to construct some type of permanent orbital space station had to be abandoned, and Western space experts guessed that an abortive docking attempt was to blame.

But the return of space veterans Vladimir Shatalov and Alexei Yeliseyev Saturday in Soyuz 8 was hailed as one more triumph. It was the third on-target landing in three days.

The other ships in the troika, Soyuz 7 and Soyuz 6, came down Thursday and Friday in the same snow-covered landing zone 1,400 miles southeast of Moscow.

Semi-official sources had reported before the first launching Oct. 11 that Soyuz 7 and Soyuz 8 would dock, and be left linked in space to serve as the base for a permanent orbiting station.

Soyuz 6 carried experimental welding equipment and conducted the first welding test in orbit. But Western experts said the Russians had third similar experiments earlier in aircraft under simulated weightless conditions. One expert said the orbital tests would add little, if anything, to the aircraft tests.

The Soyuz mission gave the Russians a record for the largest number of men and spacecraft in orbit simultaneously. It also marked the first time a Soviet cosmonaut had survived a second launching. Shatalov and Yeliseyev were making their second flights. The only other Soviet cosmonaut to be launched twice was Vladimir Komarov, who was killed in 1967 during the first test of the Soyuz ship.

The military significance of the three-craft mission has been examined by U.S. space experts. Reports from Cape Kennedy said the Soyuz crewmen are believed to have carried out several secret military tests, including photography and reconnaissance.

DIGGING into 2,500 pounds of green beans are some of the 300 people who hurried to get free beans at the Salvation Army here Thursday.

Free Fresh Green Beans Given Away

Free beans, all the green beans a person cared to carry away, were given out by the Salvation Army Citadel in Big Spring Thursday.

An unidentified processing plant in Lubbock had "misscheduled and ended up with too many beans," said Lt. Joe Saint, local post commander. The processing company gave 45,000 pounds of beans to the Salvation Army in Lubbock. Saint drove his pickup to Lubbock, where it was loaded with 2,500 pounds of fresh beans.

Local residents were advised of the free beans Thursday afternoon, and about 300 came to cart away boxes and bags of beans. The truck was cleaned out by 6:30 p.m.

"My wife and I enjoyed ourselves giving away something for a change," Saint said. "Usually we're on the receiving end."

However, they are keeping enough beans to feed nearly 500 men. The beans will be frozen and served with the meals regularly at the Citadel.

Depletion's Importance Allowance Is Stressed

By JACK G. SPRINGER
EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
WEST TEXAS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

It is hard to imagine West Texas without oil since it has been a vital part of the area's economy during the past 50 years. The contribution that the oil industry has made to the West Texas region can only be measured in the billions of dollars.

Thousands of people continue to be employed in the exploration, development, distribution and marketing of petroleum products. These people and their families are a most important part of the total population of the entire area.

The millions upon millions of dollars paid to landowners in lease money, bonuses and royalty payments have provided debt free farms and ranches to hundreds of West Texans.

Admittedly there are many other assets in the vast region called West Texas, but the petroleum industry has made all of those assets even more attractive and enjoyable.

Every facet of life has been benefited by the petroleum industry, but during the past several months, particularly, many attacks have been mounted against oil and gas developers, royalty owners and others involved in this critical industry.

The greatest attack has been on a national level. Congressmen and Senators from other sections of the nation seek to reduce or eliminate business cost factors that are peculiar to the petroleum business.

Where the average Texas resident is familiar with such terms as "oil depletion allowance," "intangibles drilling costs," "carve out payments," "ABC plans," etc., those from non-producing states often do not understand the meaning of the terms.

The oil industry has been tarred with terms such as "loophole." The depletion allowance, intangible drilling costs, etc. are no more loopholes than any business costs usually applied by other businesses such as depreciation of equipment and other assets, payrolls, taxes, legal fees, etc. The oil industry has not properly informed the public that these are legitimate costs of doing business.

It is true that the landowner (who may utilize the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance) may not have invested money to develop the oil on his property, but his investment in the property included the value of the minerals under the ground and that asset is being depleted each year.

If the 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance did not exist as an incentive to the developer, the oil on farm and ranch land probably would never have been developed by the oil operator.

The image of the oil-rich Texan has been projected throughout the nation. It has been encouraged, perhaps by Texans. The people who are most vitally concerned with the continuation of a healthy petroleum business climate in Texas are not the oil-rich Texans. The drillers, roughnecks, truck drivers, crew members, and all the others who get their paychecks from oil operators depend solely upon the industry for their livelihood. These people pay taxes, educate their children, support civic endeavors and form a nucleus of solid citizens that fight the same battle-of-the-budget in their families that all other workers fight.

Imagine, if you will, the schools in West Texas if we did not have the oil properties belonging to the state school systems. Taxes to support those educational institutions would be sky-high. The local school systems would not have the high quality equipment and facilities which we now have if the oil companies did not pay substantial taxes to local school districts. In many counties as much as 65 per cent and more of the total taxes collected for school purposes are a direct result of the oil business in the county.

Additional taxation of the oil business, through disallowance of legitimate business expenses, will also curtail many direct by oil companies grants for scholarships in our educational institutions.

The petroleum business, like a large percentage of all business in the U.S., is a free enterprise, profit-making business. It does not make profits quite as large as others.

On the basis of return on net assets the petroleum business only showed profits of 11.5 per cent from the period 1959-'68. This is low when compared to the auto and truck business which showed profits of 17.6 per cent, soap and cosmetics 17.5 per cent, soft drinks 19.2 per cent, drugs and medicines 20.1 per cent, tobacco products 14.3 per cent and on and on through the manufacturing businesses. The average for all manufacturing in the U.S. during the period 1959-'68 was 12.1 per cent.

facturing in the U.S. during the period 1959-'68 was 12.1 per cent.

Bad Weather Slows Harvest

Harvesting activities were delayed by bad weather last week, according to B. B. Manly Jr., officer in charge of the U.S.D.A. Cotton Clashing Office, Abilene, Tex.

The office received around 3,000 samples Monday morning, but receipts fell off sharply during the week due to the heavy rains which fell over the southern part of the territory.

There were 6,400 samples, compared to 20,090 for the same week last season. This brings the seasons total to 11,500 samples classed compared to 33,432 for a seasons total at this time last year.

In general, grades improved last week with 40 per cent in the white category, 54 per cent light spotted, and 3 per cent spotted category. An increase from 1 per cent to 3 per cent below grades last week tends to indicate that some producers returned to their fields too soon after the last rain, said Manly.

There was little change in staple last week. Eight per cent pulled 28; 42 per cent, 29; 36 per cent, 30; 7 per cent, 31; 5 per cent, 1-inch. Manly says it appears some ginners may be over-drying their cotton in an attempt to raise the grade. This has a tendency to shorten staple.

Micronaire readings were slightly lower with 3 per cent below premium, 90 per cent, 3.5-4.9; and 7 per cent above premium.

Chief Unamused By Straw Effigy

WARREN, R.I. (AP) — Three Warren policemen are under orders to perform extra duty for three days, without pay, as a punishment for a prank their superiors didn't think was funny.

A straw dummy was placed in the police chief's chair Wednesday night, and someone put a wine bottle on the table and a glass in the dummy's hand.

Police Chief Henry E. Pratte brought charges of conduct unbecoming a police officer and breach of discipline. The town council imposed the penalties after a hearing.

Crazy Coincidence Almost Matches

KALISPELL, Mont. (AP) — James Petersen told police his pickup truck was stolen from a city parking lot.

Police stopped a truck of the same make, the same year and model and the same color. The truck even carried an unpainted wooden stock rack Petersen said he had just installed.

The coincidence fell four numbers short of a match. Petersen's license number is 7-T-8535. The other truck's license is 7-T-8531.

Huge Cheese On Display At Foodway

Big Spring shoppers may be taking their slide rules and calculators to the new Foodway store in Coronado Plaza shopping center this week. Foodway is asking shoppers to guess the weight of a huge, round cheddar cheese.

The cheese is about three feet in diameter, and about 30 inches tall. It has been aged for 18 months; the older the cheese, the more it shrinks and the denser it becomes.

After the contest, the cheese will be sold for 99 cents a pound.

Oct. 23, customers will again be asked to guess the weight of chunks of cheese. Each may cut his own cheese and receive it free, if he can guess the weight of the cheese. The aged cheddar cannot be cut with a knife; it is cut with thin piano wire, wrapped around the cheese and cross-pulled. This cuts easily through the cheese.

Widening Of Twenty-fifth Street To Begin Monday

The city will begin work Monday on widening Twenty-fifth Street to Fisher Street, according to Public Works Director Ernest Lillard.

Negotiations between the city and Miss Jo and Miss Pearl Cole were completed Thursday, and the sisters decided to the city a strip of land 33 feet wide and 230 feet long. For the land, .171 acres, the city paid $599, a rate of about $3,500 per acre, plus agreeing to move the existing fence to the new property line. Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson said other land in the area had been sold anywhere from $2,200 to more than $3,500.

Lillard said that the widening will be completed within two or three days. All that is planned is a dirt street.

When the right-of-way for Twenty-fifth Street was originally platted, a 50-foot wide road was shown. The developer, Bruce Frazier, however, only owned a strip of land 17 feet wide. The rest was owned by the Cole sisters.

for the right to acquire the land last June, City Manager Larry Crow said a 17-foot wide street does not provide adequate right-of-way for emergency vehicles; and Twenty-fifth Street is the only access to Fisher Street.

At that time, an attorney for the sisters had suggested acquiring right-of-way for Twenty-fifth Street all the way to Golliad. He said it was unfair to take land to provide a right-of-way to serve only four families on Fisher Street.

Crow explained that, if and when Twenty-fifth Street is extended, the developer of the property will be obligated to provide right-of-way and pavement.

Centennial Meet

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — A public meeting was held here Thursday night to make plans for the Longview Centennial Celebration next spring. Tentative plans for the celebration call for it to be held in May.

Arnold Wins Steer Roping Championship

DENVER, COLO. — Walt Arnold of Silverton, Tex., has won the 1969 world's steer roping championship, the Rodeo Cowboys Association said.

Arnold, 31, whose best previous showing was in 1965 when he finished sixth, claimed the crown at the National Finals Rodeo steer roping competition in Pecos, Tex., last weekend.

The association also reported that three-time all-around cowboy champion Larry Mahan, 25, Brooks, Ore., pro rodeo's greatest single-season winner, is nearing a new record. He pocketed rodeo's all-time high of $51,996 in 1967, followed with $49,129 last year. Today Mahan has $51,339, and the season doesn't end until the National Finals Rodeo in Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 6-14.

Dean Oliver, 39, Boise, Idaho, has clinched his record eighth world calf roping crown. He loomed $402 at the North Portland, Ore., rodeo over the weekend, boosting him to $37,633 in that event. He has cracked the record $33,252 roped by Glen Franklin, House, N.M., last year. Oliver's winnings are also the most won in one year in any single event.

Oliver also moved back into second place in the all-around race this week with total earnings of $38,596. The all-around competition is open only to contestants winning in two or more events.

Big Boo-Boos Fill The Bill

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Graduate business students at the University of Southern California recently told their instructors they were tired of hearing only about success stories and wished some speakers would tell about their boners.

So the USC faculty lined up a speakers' series for this fall, advising each guest to prepare a talk not only on their successes, but on their classic boo-boos as well.

Among those accepting the challenge: Walter O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers; Richard Cooley, Wells Fargo Bank president, and Richard N. Frank, owner of Lawry's Foods.

Phoney Facade

LONDON (AP) — A member of Parliament says London's Piccadilly Circus should be declared a slum clearance area. "It's a slum with a phoney facade and a tatty image," said Conservative Patrick Wall.

Ancient Steam Boiler Is Sought For Museum

LOST A vintage 1855 steam engine has been completely destroyed by the acids of the water so that iron nuts half an inch thick crumble in the hands like clay," Captain Pope reported.

In spite of weather, isolation, and the ornerly earth strata, Capt. Pope sank four wells, three of them within five miles of each other in Loving County and the other several hundred miles away, west of the Rio Grande River. The third of the Loving County wells, five miles east of the first, reached down 1,050 feet, a tremendous achievement considering the crude equipment and hardships encountered. The expedition took more than three years and found ample evidences of water.

Capt. Pope later became Gen. Pope and was given command of the Union's Army of the Potomac during the Civil War. Pope's boiler — either the original or a replacement — was abandoned at the Loving County location. The boiler was seen sporadically by the rare visitors to the roadless area. Apparently it disappeared during World War II, perhaps picked up by a scrap iron collector or hauled aboard an oil field truck that happened to be in the vicinity. Museum officials think it might have survived and are looking for word of it.

A spin of fate's wheel might have made Capt. John Pope the beginner of the oil industry in America. Oil lies under the land he drilled for water. Had it been shallower or had Pope been able to drill another 3,000 feet or so he would have discovered oil one year before Capt. Edwin Drake drilled the first successful oil well in Pennsylvania in August, 1859.

People with the petroleum museum aren't optimistic about finding this rusty piece of antique iron, but they'd like to. The boiler, if it still exists, would be the last relic of a U.S. Army expedition which in 1855-58 drilled the first well in western Texas.

Leader of the expedition was John Pope, then a U.S. Army captain. Ordered to look for underground water supplies, Pope shopped the northeast for the primitive drilling equipment used to find brine in Pennsylvania. He picked up an experienced civilian driller, and with a troop of Army men headed across the arid plains. They staked a location just south of the present Texas-New Mexico state line, 15 miles east of the point where the Pecos River slices the boundary.

Pope and his men used a primitive form of the cable-tool drilling rig, familiar to the later generation of oilmen. Steam power from the boiler raised a bit mounted on the end of a long string of oaken poles. The bit was allowed to drop, punching a hole in the earth.

They had their troubles. Their wooden boring rods broke, they ran out of drilling supplies, their holes caved, and their original boiler didn't digest the water of the Pecos River too well.

Capt. Pope Was Early Visitor To Big Spring

Capt. John Pope is among the earliest to make reference to Big Spring. He followed into this area five years after Capt. R. B. Marcy, blazing a trail from El Paso to Fort Smith, Ark., as part of a trail to California, and "found" the spring in 1849.

Capt. Pope reported to the War Department as follows: "Camp No. 31, Friday, March 31, 1854—left camp at five minutes till seven o'clock a.m. and moved in the direction of the Big Spring over a rolling prairie. On our route today, there is a great quantity of mesquite which becomes particularly abundant as we approach the Big Spring. These springs, surrounded by masses of limestone rock, are situated in a basin or reservoir of the same geological character about 60 feet wide and to all appearance, about 30 feet deep. The water is excellent. On exploring the rock eminence of the vicinity, we found quantities of the mussel species imbedded in the rock. It is one of the best camps we have stopped at."

Evidently this visit was on survey which led to his return the following year to drill the wells in what is now Loving County.

THE WEEK

another $22 million in local values to yield that much money for the schools.

That football game Friday evening was the sprt that wrings you out. In the end, it was a case of which side made the last critical mistake, and happily the ball bounced our way. But this is not to say it wasn't exciting, rock 'em, sock 'em football with some pulsating runs and sensational tackles. Poise and never-say-die defense, clutch offense, won it.

We didn't get freezing temperatures but came close last week. That 35 degrees on Monday and 39 on Tuesday was enough to stop the growth processes in their tracks unless and until it warms up. These successive assaults from the north give support to the prophets of an early frost.

The City of Big Spring acquired 171 of an acre from Pearl and Jo Cole for right of way on 25th west of Birdwell. This will solve a problem which resulted when the area was platted, but a problem which penalized several families. It's good to know it is worked out, perhaps someday 25th can be pushed west to join Highland.

Officials of two arms for promoting industry — the Industrial Foundation and Industrial Development fund — are seeking to merge. They both have the same objective and might be more effective as one unit.

Two real old-timers, Walter Robinson, 90, and Robert M. (Bob) Wheeler, died last week. Mr. Robinson, who came to Howard County in 1890, was a solid citizen and an exemplary farmer. Mr. Wheeler, who came in 1894, also was a farmer. At one time he helped haul in materials and build the rig for Santa Rita No. 1, which in 1923 blew the lid off the Permian Basin oil rush.

It was an interesting week for oil developments, although Duane McDaniel No. 1 E. L. Powell, eight miles southwest of Westbrook in southwest Mitchell County, was abandoned at 8,501.

In northeast Howard, Miller & Fox No. 1 Modesta Simpson looked like a good producer at 8,715-35. Texaco No. 1-G Read also promised 191 barrels in the Clear Fork at 4,836-90 and No. 1-F Read 280 barrels from the same formation at 4,555-651 four miles northeast of Coahoma; Texaco No. 1-D Read was taking in the Fusselman at 9,550; Lario No. 1 Reeves, in northern Howard, flowed 163 barrels in 13 hours; and east of Big Spring, U.S. Smelting, Refining and Mining No. 1-4-44 Hutto completed in the Wolfcamp for 379 barrels of 38-gravity oil.

Jack Watkins, local businessman who makes it a practice to ride herd on local governmental fiscal affairs, shook 'em up a bit at the city commission meeting by questioning procedures on routine payments, plus one piece of heavy equipment.

Charlie Boland retired last week after 12 years as custodian at the police building. Charlie's sight is so limited that he is classed as legally blind, yet he has been a real worker since he came here in 1957 to operate the concession stand in the old post office building. His wife, Hattie, is totally blind, but she doesn't let that keep her from her housework or from scattering sunshine wherever she goes.

Don't forget the Pops Concert by the Big Spring High School choir Monday at 8:15 p.m. in the school auditorium. These young singers under Kenny Sheppard are an exceptional group; you'll be helping the program while helping yourself to a musical treat.

One of the next projects at Howard County Junior College is to shape up a master plan. There has been some work in this direction, but Dr. W. A. Hunt told the board last week that serious, long-range planning is urgent. There'll be more about this later.

God has listened to you enough times.

Now how about listening to Him?

More than a few things are troubling our cities, our world, our souls.

Sometimes, we raise our hands heavenward and say, "When oh when are you going to change it all, Lord?" And "changing it all" is just what He expects us to do!

Listen: "Love your neighbor as yourself." If that were put to practice—really to practice—ghettos would not exist, wars would cease, hunger would end, inhumanity would be stricken from the dictionary.

A perfect world. Will we ever see it?

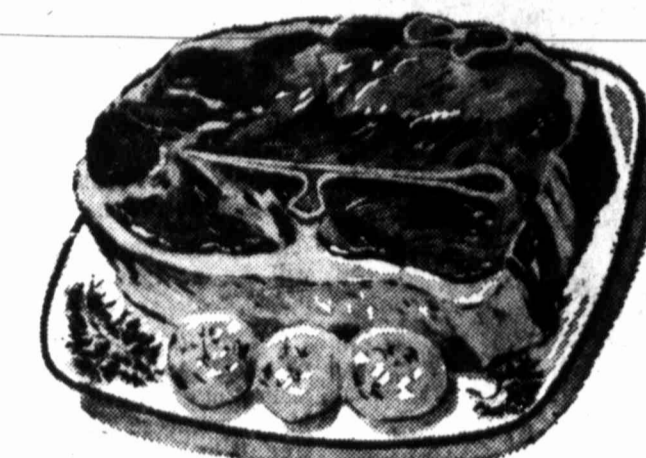

One thing certain, we won't even begin to see it, if we don't start doing what God has asked of us for heaven only knows how long.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Something in your column sure stirred up a hornet's nest in our family, and I'll bet it did the same in hundreds of others across the country. It was the letter from the married woman who said she had a strong "physical attraction" for her husband's brother, and if she didn't get him alone just once she would lose her mind.

Well, last evening my husband's brother and his wife came over for a friendly visit. The first thing the wife said was, "Did you read Dear Abby today?" I said, "Yes, wasn't it a gas?" She said, "Yeah, it sure was." Naturally the men had to see it, too, so they dragged out the paper, and here was this "confession" from a married woman who had the "hots" for her brother-in-law, who was also married. By the time they left, my sister-in-law was barely speaking to me, and if looks could kill, her husband would be dead now.

That night when we went to bed my husband acted mad, but he didn't say anything.

Will you be kind enough to write and say which town, or at least which state she's from so the rest of the world can sleep in peace. Heaven help me.

DEAR NOT GUILTY: You'll not need Heaven's help on this one. Illinois it wasn't.

DEAR ABBY: I was always under the impression that the bride was supposed to acknowledge the wedding gifts and with a personal note, mentioning the gift, etc.

Some time ago my niece was married, and since I received an invitation to her wedding I sent what I considered a most generous gift — a month of my Social Security income.

There was no acknowledgment for nearly four months. Then came a printed card bearing a snapshot of the bridal couple with a commercially printed message, "With Sincere Appreciation For Your Thoughtfulness And Good Wishes."

Has this age become so automated that a bride sends printed "appreciation" for her wedding gifts? If so, I would like to be informed, then I shall know what to do with future wedding invitations. Sign me.

QUO VADIS

DEAR QUO: The printed "thank you" barely covers the obligation, but is better than no acknowledgment at all. The most gracious "thank you" is written individually. The only exceptions are acknowledgments which number in the many hundreds or thousands. But Eleanor Roosevelt, the greatest lady of them all, somehow managed to acknowledge every gift with a personal note.

DEAR ABBY: We are about to marry off our fourth daughter and we are certainly in a bind. We have skipped and saved for the last 15 years to be able to pay the bills for the weddings of our three older daughters. We have deprived ourselves of vacations and other luxuries, and now we find that the only way we can give our fourth daughter the same kind of wedding her older sisters had is to mortgage our home. Prices for weddings today are fantastic! Not one of the grooms' parents ever offered to pay a dime toward the expense of the wedding. We think this is unfair. It should be a 50-50 deal.

Please put this in your column. Maybe it will soak in where it's needed.

MOTHER OF DAUGHTERS

DEAR MOTHER: Don't count on it. But you have only yourself to blame if you go broke putting on a wedding that is beyond your means.

1969 BSHS BAND SWEETHEART — Janice Majors gives a big victory smile during the halftime of the Big Spring-Odesa Bronchos football game Friday night; victory that the Steers were ahead at the time 6-0, and that she had just been elected Band Sweetheart for 1969-70 for Big Spring High School.

Lots Of Calls, But No Arrangements For Paving

Numerous calls have been received at city hall about the possible deletion of 20 blocks of streets from the current paving program, according to Ernest Lillard, public works director, but no one has yet made financial arrangements for keeping their block in the program.

Letters were sent to 150 residents along the blocks in question Thursday, informing them that those with delinquent taxes could come to city hall and pay city taxes or else place an amount equal to the paving assessment in escrow deposit with the city secretary.

"About 90 per cent of the delinquent taxes would have to be paid," Lillard said, "before the streets could be kept in the program."

W. D. Caldwell Inc., who is doing the paving for the city under contract, originally requested the deletion of the blocks last June, but the city commission took the request under study. The matter was again brought to the commission's attention last Tuesday, and Lillard reported the delinquent tax situation was about the same. The commission decided to give the residents another two weeks to make suitable financial arrangements for the paving, or to be cut from the program.

The commission directed the administration to formally notify residents along the blocks. The letter sent out urges people with delinquent taxes to make financial arrangements for the paving, and those who are paid up in their taxes to encourage others to do so.

"The fact that people have back taxes due is used only as an indicator," Lillard said. "If people don't pay their taxes, it would seem to indicate they would not pay a paving assessment. Also, a paving lien cannot be collected until all taxes have been paid. The city cannot force Caldwell to do the paving where he would lose money." Lillard added this is the first time the city has had this kind of problem with back taxes. In the future, starting with 33 blocks under consideration as possible substitutes if any of the 20 are deleted, the commission will be presented the tax status of each block before deciding whether to include it in the program.

Those blocks facing deletion from the program are Thirteenth, from Dixie to Settles (one block); Fourteenth, from Dixie to Settles, (one block); North Tenth, from Main to Rannels (one block); Lorilla, from Seventh to US 80 (one block); Austin, from Fifth to Sixth (one block); North Tenth, from Goliad to Benton (two blocks); North Third, from Trades to Dundee (one block); North Fifth, from Scurry to Main (one block); North Eighth, from Main to Goliad (four blocks); West Eighth, from US 80 to Andree (one block); North Eighth, from Aylford to San Antonio (two blocks); and Trades, from North Third to North Fourth.

The mayor also directed Lillard to check out the blocks which had been suggested as substitutes, to see that similar tax problems do not exist, before the next meeting. Those blocks are North Aylford, from North Third to North Fourth; Carl, from Connally to Wasson;

Grace, from Connally to Wasson; Sixth, from San Antonio to Abrams, Fifth, from Goliad to Benton and State to Settles; Cardinal, from Sixteenth to Webb Lane; Lockhart, from First to Third; North Eleventh, from Gregg to Scurry and from San Antonio to Lamesa Highway; Owens, from Eighteenth to the south end of Mittel Acres; Twenty-second, from Rannels to Johnson; Twenty-fourth, from Rannels to Johnson; Rannels, from Twenty-fourth, from Rannels to Virginia, from Phillips Road to Cole Lane; North Sixth, from US 87 to Goliad; Fifth, from Abrams to Douglas; Twenty-third, from Scurry to Main; and Fifth, from Nolan to Goliad.

Lions To Host Webb Students

Downtown Lions will entertain Pilot Training Class 71-01 members and their wives Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the Dora Roberts Student Union building.

This is part of the community practice of welcoming the young men and wives who will be citizens of Big Spring for the next year. The party also will recognize Vernon Skarke, who is retiring from the Air Force and moving from the city.

There will be no meeting of the club Wednesday noon of this week, said Waymon Clark, president. At last Wednesday's session, the speaker was Walter Stroup, who talked on insurance, and particularly plans which provided deferred income.

Rural Taxpayers Study Next Move

Dee John Davis, attorney for the Rural Taxpayers Association, said Friday that his clients have not yet decided what, if anything, to do about the summary judgment which ruled against them last week in the controversial tax suit against the Big Spring Independent School District.

"We may know something the first of the week," Davis said. "But right now we're undecided about what to do." District Judge R. W. Caton granted summary judgment last week which stated there was an absence of any material fact in the plaintiff's suit for declaratory judgment. The taxpayers association was suing the school board trustees because of its dissatisfaction with the re-evaluation of their land last spring. That valuation raised farm land assessments from 33 to 100 per cent.

Attorneys for the taxpayers arrived at a compromise valuation this fall with attorneys for the four county taxing agencies, and it was accepted by the Foran Independent School District, Howard County Junior College, and Howard County.

The main point of the suit was that the Big Spring school board also accepted the compromise plan and the taxpayers claim the board of equalization also entered into that agreement and should therefore be bound by it. The compromise lowered the valuation on rural land about $10 per acre. The board filed an affidavit Sept. 22, however, which absolved it of any responsibility in the agreement stating it never entered into it. The trustees, who were represented by Gil Jones, stated three main points in their defense in the case. One, that the board of equalization's decision is final and conclusive, and not under the supervision of the school board; two, that the board cannot delegate its power to the trustees; and three, in the absence of illegality or fraud, the court has no jurisdiction. Judge Caton upheld this position in his decision.

LETTERS Baptists Take Stand

To the Editor:
 I feel the following should be made a matter of public record. The Big Spring Baptist Association, composed of 30 local Baptist churches, meeting in its 61st Annual session Oct. 14, adopted unanimously the following resolutions by a standing vote of all its messengers.

Be it resolved that we go on record as being opposed to the sale of beer and wine in the grocery stores of our area, and that we stand on the side of righteousness in all civic, social and moral matters, and that we go on record opposing all movies rated M or R (Mature and Restricted) in the theaters of our area. The resolutions committee of the Association which brought this recommendation to the Association was composed of Dr. R. Byron Orand, Rev. Frank Radcliff, Rev. William Uhlman and Jesse F. Allen, chairman.

Sincerely,
 Signed: REV. JAMES A. PUCKETT

Double Trouble Blues Vanish

HOUSTON (AP) — Michael and Mitchell Wolf, identical twins, got out of double trouble Friday as they appeared in Judge Miron Love's court.

Mitchell was to have appeared several months ago before the judge on a felony auto theft indictment. The judge then gave somebody five years probation.

It was learned later that the somebody was Michael, Mitchell couldn't make the court date because he was in a Sidney, Iowa, jail.

This time the judge ordered both brothers in court before he passed sentence.

Michael was found in contempt, but got off after promising never again to pass himself off as someone else.

Mitchell was given probation again, but for ten years instead of five.

Hunt For Killer Of Tiny Donna

SHERMAN, TEX. (AP) — It is now nearly six weeks since the battered, half-nude body of 8-year-old Donna Golish was found beside a road in Sherman, and Grayson County Sheriff Woody Blanton says he is counting on the public to help him find the killer.

"I think when we ultimately break the case, we'll probably come up with someone that had been least suspected," Sheriff Blanton said. "But if the suspect is from around here, he should have some acquaintances with whom by just his manner and questions he could arouse suspicion."

"We're going to need the full cooperation of the public if we break this case."

Donna disappeared Sept. 10 on her way home from Fairview Elementary School in Sherman. She ordinarily walked home with a friend, but the girl had broken her arm the day before.

"This is as tough a situation as I have ever run into," admitted Blanton.

Texas Ranger Lewis Rigler compared the difficulty of solution to the murder-rape in 1967 of Mrs. Tommie Mae Kirkpatrick of Sherman. Her killer, Carl Edward Hudson, wasn't caught until almost two months later when he apparently attempted another attack.

"We had no leads on that case," said Rigler, "and in the end it was the public who helped break it by reporting a prowler. And I might add, that Hudson was such a quiet, unobtrusive person that even his neighbors were startled when they learned he had confessed to the rape-lying."

"As long as we keep working we have a chance," said Rigler. Blanton said so far he has well over 100 pages of reports on the Golish case. "I have checked cars, checked rumors, checked out information people have given us. I have talked to people who live around the school who may have seen or heard something. I have compared this bit of information with that bit. But so far, everything we have done has hit a blind alley."

"I still feel that somewhere there is someone who saw something that day that will give us the break we need," said Blanton. "I may be wrong but somehow I feel that someone has a personal knowledge of the habits of a person who might be a suspect. It could be someone at first thought who would be a long way from being connected."

"Yet, we don't know who we're looking for. We don't know whether the person is local, or just someone who passed through town. Even though all of my autopsy reports so far indicate the young girl was not raped, I still feel we are looking for a man, not a woman. It is possible that a woman could be involved, but I don't think so," the sheriff said.

As far as Blanton has been able to learn, the girl's teacher, Mrs. Marylyn Odum, was the last person to recall seeing her alive.

Donna walked out of her classroom, then headed west to cross Ricketts Street and then angled across Fairview Park to the street that led to her home. This way, she had only the one street to cross. Blanton is firm in his belief that the girl was picked up by someone on Ricketts. With a lot of youngsters going home at that hour, he said, it just is possible that the stopping of a car and a child getting in could go unnoticed because it was such a common occurrence.

Some Victims Of BB Damage Not Insured

Big Spring police are continuing their investigation into the wave of "BB-gun vandalism" that swept the city two weeks ago. At the same time, city insurance agents report losses are skyrocketing.

Police Chief Jay Banks said that the BB guns wreaked several thousand dollars in damage in various parts of the city. Most of the damage was to plate glass windows in business establishments.

The great majority of the firms damaged were not covered by insurance.

A local insurance man estimates that about 80 per cent of the businesses hit do not carry the special policies required for this type of damage.

Some of the firms reporting damage: Modesta's Gift Shop, Furr's Food Store, Mancill Dry Cleaners, Woolworth's, Zales, Carter Furniture, Toland Volkswagen, Elrod's Furniture, Marigold Milk House and Mead's Auto Supply. The Big Spring police station and high school also sustained broken windows.

Police Chief Banks said that a $100 reward is still offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the vandals.

A large number of the plate glass windows damaged by the air rifles will cost up to $250 to replace, according to insurance men. Most of these were not covered by insurance.

Police detective Sherrill Farmer said he and other officers are continuing to pursue a number of leads. He pointed out that each separate case is punishable by a fine and/or imprisonment, according to the amount of damage, and that parents can be held financially responsible for vandalism committed by their children.

Most of the "BB-ism" took place Oct. 4 and 5, with a few isolated cases reported since then.

INCOME TAX Moving Expenses, Hunt Licenses Deductible?

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service, and answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q — I've got an opportunity to get a better job, but it will mean moving to another city. If my moving expenses aren't paid by my company, can I deduct them?

A — If you move to take a job with a new employer or are transferred by your present employer, moving expenses are deductible when certain conditions are met. These conditions are the 20-mile distance and 39-week employment requirements.

The first requires that your new place of employment be at least 20 miles further away from your old home than your previous job. If your old job was eight miles from your old home, your new job would have to be at least 28 miles from that residence to qualify. The second requires that you work full time in the new area at least 39 weeks during the 12-month period following your move.

Q — If I itemize, can I deduct the cost of hunting and fishing licenses?

A — No, these are not deductible for Federal income tax purposes.

Q — I've been taking a tax deduction for the cost of cleaning out the drainage ditches on my farm while my neighbor has been capitalizing his costs for doing the same thing. Who's right?

A — Soil and water conservation costs such as these may either be deducted within limits or capitalized depending on how you decide to handle them the first year. Once this decision is made, continue to handle these expenses that way or obtain the written permission of IRS to change.

Q — When a person dies, what happens if there had been income tax withheld on his salary during the year?

A — An income tax return must be filed for the deceased taxpayer if his gross income for the year was $600 or more ($1,200 if the taxpayer was 65 or over). The withheld taxes you asked about will be applied against whatever tax liability may exist for the decedent. Any excess will be refunded. For more information send a post card to your District Director and ask for a free copy of Publication 559, Federal Tax Guide for Survivors, Executors and Administrators.

School Truancy Sparks Trouble

Ten youngsters were referred to Juvenile Officer Keith Jones last week, four by the school district for truancy. Appointments are pending for three teenage girls reported out of school. Jones counseled and released a 15-year-old girl on the same offense.

Two domestic problems were referred to the juvenile office by parents and Jones counseled and released a 15-year-old boy and girl. Jones also counseled three teenage boys on game violations before releasing them to parental custody last week.

Traffic Deaths Up 5 Per Cent

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas traffic deaths are about 5 per cent over 1968, state police said Saturday.

Freeze Reduces South Plains Cotton Yield

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Bad weather is a major factor in Texas farming with early freezing temperatures in the northwest and rains, some very heavy, in other widespread sections.

Harvesting, said Director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, along with grain and pasture planting have again been delayed. But, he noted, range forage growth and stock water supplies were helped by the rains. Grain which had been dry planted was benefitted, he said.

Reports are still sketchy on the damage caused by the Monday and Tuesday morning freezing weather, but it is known that late cotton was hardest hit, lowering both yields and quality, Hutchison said.

District agents reported: A freeze reduced yield and quality prospects, especially for late planted cotton on the South Plains (Lubbock). Early cotton which is largely open benefitted the freeze. The sorghum harvest is nearing completion and freeze will speed the harvest on late sorghum. The soybean harvest was well along. The sugar content of beets being harvested was rated as generally low. Corn yields are below average. Livestock are in good condition.

Rain over the Rolling Plains (Vernon) was heavy in some counties. This kept soil moisture adequate and field work slow. Freeze damage reports are not complete. Cotton was maturing slowly with some regrowth noted. Boll weevils and bollworms are causing damage and some defoliation started before the rains.

Cotton harvesting in Far West Texas increased until recent rains slowed the pace. The sorghum harvest also was on and grains were making sufficient growth to permit grazing. Livestock and ranges are in good condition. Calves and lambs are being shipped.

West Central Texas was drenched over last weekend with heaviest falls in San Saba and Real counties. Wet fields slowed the cotton harvest. Army worms caused extensive damage to grains. Some will have to be replanted. Peanut harvesting has been delayed. Ranges have shown great improvement and growth is good. Livestock were in excellent condition and marketing was normal.

South Texas moisture ranges from short to surplus. Ranges improved. Army worms are damaging grains in scattered areas. Vegetables are being planted in the Valley. Cucumbers are being harvested. Some pecans have been harvested in Maverick County. Livestock conditions were good.

At most every regular dental examination, your dentist may first want to take a series of X-rays. These X-rays can pinpoint trouble spots before they get to the stage where extensive work is needed or where a painful tooth-ache results.

Even when work is required, the new anesthetics and high speed equipment make it fast and with hardly any discomfort. Many dentists will prescribe a tranquilizer for a patient before their appointment and a pain reliever for use when the anesthetic has worn off. We fill many dental prescriptions and keep the medications they need on hand.

McCamey had added incentive in the Buffalo tilt, with an enthusiastic homecoming crowd cheering the Badgers on. Stanton, as in previous games, spotted the opponent an early touchdown then was forced to play catch-up ball for almost the entire game.

Stanton tumbled at its own 34-yard on the opening kick-off. The Badgers, on its first play from scrimmage, converted the break into six points. Quarterback Charles Graves

Abilene Cooper Rips M'Arthur

ABILENE — Abilene Cooper, the state's number two rated Class AAAA football powerhouse, after a narrow 15-13 victory over Big Spring last week, resumed its devastating offensive displays with a 49-14 bush-wacking of San Antonio M'Arthur here Friday night.

The Cougars scored on the first play from scrimmage — a 57-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Leroy Polnick-to-Hobby Stevens — then continued its relentless attack throughout the evening.

Before the first quarter had ended, Cooper held a 0-0 lead. At the half it was 0-7; 35-14 after three quarters of play, and 49-14 at game's end.

Also scoring touchdowns for Abilene were Roy Longacre, Russell Cain twice, Mike Mayes, Paul Morrison and Polnick twice.

Crane Railroads Ozona, 28 To 0

CRANE — Halfback Jerry Smith and fullback L. V. Tennison scored all the Crane points as the Golden Cranes rapped Ozona, 28-0, in the District 3-AA football opener for both teams here Friday night.

Smith scored twice on runs of four yards and also scooted 55 yards for a third touchdown. Tennison tallied on a four-yard run and kicked four successful PATs following Golden Crane scores.

Woroner anticipates a gross of $5 million. "The interest has been incredible," he said. "All of Central and South America will see the fight with the exception of British Honduras, French Guiana, Surinam and Guiana. We are dealing for the Far East and Europe."

Woroner is the man who created computerized football and boxing for radio in recent years. He once staged a heavy-weight boxing tournament by feeding his computer with facts and figures a mile long. The eventual winner was Marciano. Clay lost in the quarter-finals to Jim Jeffries.

"This means nothing to what happens when Clay fights Marciano," said the producer. "The computer reacts differently to every matchup of facts and figures."

Champs Faced A Succession Of Crises

NEW YORK (AP) — Say the words softly: The New York Mets—World Champions. Let them roll gently off the tongue: The New York Mets—World Champions.

Think back to the old days of ... oh ... six months ago when the baseball world was still right side up, then say it again: The New York Mets—World Champions.

The New York Mets opened the 1969 season the same way they opened each of their first seven seasons with a loss. The only thing unusual about that was they did it against a team that had never played a regular season game before—the Montreal Expos.

The Mets started their best pitcher that day but Tom Seaver simply didn't have it and the final score was 11-10 for the Expos. It was the start of one of the most fantastic rags-to-riches stories in baseball's 100 years. But no one knew it then.

The club staggered through April and in the last week of the month two starting pitchers—Jerry Koosman and Jim McAndrew—both were sidelined for three weeks with injuries.

Manager Gil Hodges then began the manipulating act that guided the Mets through countless crises during the year. Strapped for starters, Hodges reached into the bullpen and came up with Tug McGraw, Seaver, McGraw and rookie Gary Gentry carried the load until the others returned.

On May 21, Seaver shut out the Atlanta Braves and the Mets reached the .500 level. It was the latest date in their eight years that they had reached the break-even point—baseball's mark of respectability. News-men rushed to the dressing room expecting a celebration but the Mets were quiet.

"We'll celebrate when we get to first place," said Seaver. As if to rebuke the Mets' brightest star for that bit of brashness, the club went into a five-game tailspin. Then, on May 28, Koosman shut out San Diego for 10 innings and the Mets pushed ahead a run in the 11th to beat the Padres. That was the start of an 11-game winning streak. Hodges still points to it as one of the major turning points in this amazing season.

"I think the boys began to believe in themselves a little more when we started that streak," the manager said. In the midst of the streak they put together consecutive three-game sweeps of the Giants and Dodgers—the first time the Mets ever had turned that trick against their New York predecessors.

Pack Gets Big Test In Game With Rams

By The Associated Press. Blumper stickers in Wisconsin exclaim "The Pack Will Be Back." A National Football League game in California should provide a strong clue as to whether the return to the top could come this year.

The Green Bay Packers, NFL champions for three straight years before stumbling to a 6-7-1 record in 1968, will take a share of the top spot in the Central Division into the Los Angeles Coliseum for a battle against the Rams, the undefeated leader of the Coastal Division.

In other NFL action Sunday, Minnesota, 3-1, and tied with Green Bay, is at St. Louis, 2-2; Philadelphia, 1-3, at Dallas, 4-0; the New York Giants, 3-1, at Washington, 2-1-1; Baltimore, 2-2, at New Orleans, 0-4; Atlanta, 1-3 at San Francisco, 0-3-1; and Chicago, 0-4, at Detroit, 2-2.

THE WINNER—Welterweight champion Jose Napoles of Mexico City dons a sombrero after he retained his title in a 15-round bout with Emile Griffith at the Forum in Los Angeles Friday night. Napoles won by unanimous decision.

Judy And Whelan Lead Frog Surge

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Steve Judy's passing and the jackhammer runs of Marly Whelan carried Texas Christian to a 16-6 Southwest Conference football victory Saturday over Texas A&M.

Judy passed for one touchdown and scored a second as the Horn Frogs cracked a four game losing streak before a parent's day crowd of 38,123.

Judy, a sophomore, guided TCU 80 yards and 55 yards for first half touchdowns, and Rusty Underwood kicked a 44-yard field goal to give the Christians a 16-0 lead entering the final period.

STATISTICS		A&M	TCU

A&M, not yet disillusioned, came storming back midway through the fourth quarter and ran full speed into disaster after a 49 yard pass from Self to Brupbacher.

Brupbacher, a split end, fumbled and James Vanderslice recovered for TCU at the Christian 19. That was the beginning of the end for the Aggies.

Judy, with Whelan racking up 45 yards on nine carries, drove TCU 80 yards with the opening kickoff and scored on fourth down from the one.

The big play was a 29 yard toss from Judy to split end Jerry Miller with the Frogs facing second down and needing 25 yards for a first. That pass put TCU at the ten.

Judy took the Christians 55 yards in 11 plays for a touchdown in the final minutes of the first half, shooting 10 yards to flanker Linzy Cole from the 10 for the score.

It was Judy to Miller on a deep 18-yard aerial for the big gainer and Whelan contributed a key run on a fourth-and-one situation that kept this drive alive.

The Cadets had only one other serious scoring threat, late in the first period, when they drove to the TCU 19 before collapsing under a clipping penalty. Mike Bellar's 42 yard field goal attempt into a wind gusting at 20 miles an hour was short.

Perhaps one of the most exciting moments of the day came at half time when a TCU men's club known as the Vigilantes trooped onto the field with two large cardboard banners showing an apple core and proclaiming that "the core is full of worms." A large band of police seized the banners after wrestling one youth to the field.

Whelan wound up with 134 yards of 32 carries to lead the rushers. Judy connected on 13 of 20 passes for 832 yards. End John Bellue was his top target, catching three for 63 yards.

Rocky Fight Film Classic

MIAMI (AP) — It was the last time Rocky Marciano laced on a pair of boxing gloves. Final taping for those mighty fists. The last time anybody ever absorbed a wicked right from the Brockton Blockbuster.

Rocky's waist showed traces of blubber, but Marciano's physical condition was excellent for a man of 45. The time was August, 1969.

Across the ring was a younger, faster man. His name Cassius Clay or Muhammad Ali—take your pick of names. His age 27.

Three weeks later Marciano was to die in the crash of a small airplane in an Iowa cornfield. Thus, film taken of Rocky's session with Clay became a classic.

The film belongs to producer Murray Woroner and interest in a world-wide January showing is booming.

"We've signed 500 theaters and expect 1,500 by show time," said Woroner. "It will be a one-time showing with no returns. Nobody knows what will be seen other than me and one film editor."

What Woroner staged was a computerized fight between Clay and Marciano. He likes to call it "The Dream Fight between two undefeated heavy-weight champions. The two former kings acted out the computer's wishes."

Woroner gladly shows unused, uncut scenes to almost anyone but the fight itself is kept in a vault. Shipment by distributors

GIN STANDS (left) perform the ginning proper and contain as many as 224 saws which pull the lint from seeds and trash through metal ribs. These stands are at the Big Spring Co-Op Gin.

Eli Whitney's Gin Has Been Expanded

By TERRY HOPKINS
When Eli Whitney invented the cotton gin in 1793, it was only to separate the seeds from the cotton fibers. But today the process has been expanded to include the service of improving the quality of the ginned lint, and more recently, additional cleaning steps have been introduced to meet the requirements of mechanically harvested cottons.

The actual removal of lint from seeds, has become but one step in a series of at least eight all equally important, in the production of lint cotton.

There are three basic steps in today's complex ginning operation, but each step has a series of smaller steps.

Even before the cotton gets into the gin, however, there's a problem of storage. Most gins leave the seed cotton in trailers on the lot, but this risks spoilage in case of damp weather.

C. G. Benningfield, manager of the Co-op Gin of Big Spring, said he stores the cotton on his lot and explained the system for using the trailers.

"We have 90 trailers of our own for the farmers to use," he said. "But if they have their own, we deduct $2 from the cost of ginning each bale."

Concerning the moisture problem with this type of storage, Benningfield said his gin is equipped with two large driers to insure that the fiber's moisture content is below five per cent before going on to the first major step in ginning, cleaning.

The drying process consists of conveying the seed cotton pneumatically through a vertical drier. Blasts of hot air, traveling twice as fast as the cotton, dry and fluff the cotton at temperatures not over 260 degrees. These temperatures have proven non-detrimental to the fiber or yarn strength.

The second step in ginning involves cleaning the cotton and sending it into gin stands for ginning. First, smaller particles of trash are screened out of the seed cotton and then larger pieces — sticks, stems, leaves, and hulls — are extracted. At this point the seeds are still part of the cotton which is fed into the individual gin stands.

The actual separation of the lint from the seed is accomplished by the action of high-speed circular saws which pull the lint through narrow openings, called ribs, from which the seeds fall into a conveyor. The fiber is doffed (removed) from the saw teeth by jets of air and conveyed to the press. It may go through one or more lint cleaners on its way to the press, for as much as half a grade in quality has been gained by the extra cleaning at this point.

When compared to a description of how Whitney's gin operated 176 years ago, the initial framework still remains in gins today.

"... hooked teeth in a revolving drum passed between the bars of the grid. These teeth seized the fibers and drew them through narrow slots while the seeds fell into a separate bin."

With Whitney's gin, one man could gin 200 pounds of cotton in a day. With average modern gin machinery, 100 bales of 500 pounds each can be produced in 12 hours, or 4,166 pounds in one hour.

The final step is packaging the cotton fiber. It is first pressed into bales of about 500 pounds and then it is wrapped in burlap and bound with metal strips of baling wire.

Seed Important, Too

Fluffy white lint is not the only useful product of the cotton plant, for the cotton seed itself constitutes a multi-million dollar industry and aids in the production of fertilizer, oil and cottonseed cake. More than four million tons of cottonseed are produced each year and, using County Agent Paul Gross' estimate of the cotton yield, Howard County will produce 16,000 tons of seed this year.

Gross explained that the outer hull of the cottonseed is used for feed, and the inner part of the seed yields the oil.

"You can strip the outer black hull right off," he said. "And then if you press this inner, lighter seed with your thumb you can squeeze out some oil." He said this is the part of the seed that would be the plant leaves.

On a mass basis the oil is extracted with gigantic presses which squeeze 300 pounds of oil from a ton of cottonseed. The oil is similar in composition to olive oil and is used for salads, cooking, and lubrication. It is also used in the manufacture of oleomargarine, soaps and paints. Using the county agent's cotton yield estimate, Howard County alone raises enough cotton to produce more than 4,000 pounds of oil.

About 800 pounds of hulls are separated from a ton of seed and later used as a low-grade roughage for cattle and in the manufacture of paper and fiber board. Howard County should produce more than 12,000 pounds of hulls with this year's crop.

From that same ton of cotton seed comes 750 pounds of cottonseed cake, what is left of the inner seed after the oil has been extracted. It is usually ground into meal and is an industrial source of raw materials for such products as adhesives and protein fibers.

Cottonseed meal is a prime ingredient in plywood glue, plastic compounds, and fire-extinguishing liquids. Howard County's cotton seeds could produce as much as 12,000 pounds of cake this year.

A recent government report said that cottonseed-protein fiber even has potential value as a supplement to domestic wool supplies. The fiber produced from this part of the cotton plant is yellow-orange in color, but it is still useful in furniture, mattresses and air-filter materials.

$5 Million Industry

Howard County cotton constitutes from a three to five million dollar industry annually, according to Paul Gross, Howard County agent.

"That's using the figure that every dollar brought in on a bale of cotton will be multiplied seven times by the time it goes from the farmer to the ginner, and on to seed, fertilizer, and machinery companies.

Gross noted that Howard County has 14 gins which employ from 12 to 15 people per shift and that they run an average of two shifts a day during the season.

"So payroll money alone can affect nearly 500 people," he said.

He also noted that although many of these people are transient workers, they do spend their money in Howard County and are thereby adding to its economy.

TWO COTTON PRESSES at Big Spring's Co-Op Gin compress 500 pounds of ginned cotton lint together under hydraulic pressure. The bale is then wrapped with burlap and bound with metal strips.

Year's Crop Pegged Up To 40,000 Bales

Three educated estimates on the cotton yield of Howard County for 1969 list three different figures as diverse as 10,000 bales. But two of the three say a late frost could be a large determining factor in the actual number of bales ginned from Howard County seed cotton.

Paul Gross, Howard County agent, expects about 40,000 bales of cotton from the county's 69,000 planted acres.

"We have about 19,000 more acres planted this year than last," he explained, "but the per-acre yield will be less." He said this is due to the shortage of rain during the critical periods in July.

"These late rains might add mass to the bolls already developed, a little more weight to the crop we already have," he said. "But unless we have a late frost, it won't aid in developing any new plants."

He added that a late frost might actually do more harm than good with the weevil situation and explained that the insects will stay as long as there's something to eat.

"Also," he said, "the cotton that might develop due to a late frost would be of a low quality anyway."

Jimmy Taylor, agriculture agent at the First National Bank, estimates about a half bale to an acre, or 35,000 bales. With nearly 70,000 acres of cotton land in Howard County, that would figure to 35,000 bales.

"But we could beat that considerably if we had a late frost date," he said. "So many new plants have started with our late rains that if they got a chance to develop we could get a lot more cotton."

The agriculture agent at the State National Bank, Alton Marwitz, thinks the 35,000 bale figure is a bit high and estimates about 30,000 or 32,000.

"I'm just afraid the rains were too late," he explained. "But of course a later-than-average frost date could give us a little more cotton." He added that his yield estimate is sheer guesswork.

Grade Fixes Cotton Value

That classic phrase, "fair to middling," which colloquially answers every question of grade imaginable, be it how one feels or how the day has been, must have originated in the cotton industry, for there really is such a grade for the fluffy substance that spins into thread.

Cotton is judged after it has been ginned and baled, and two basic factors come into consideration. Color is an important factor, for cotton can range in color from preferred white through stages of yellow tints to the least desirable gray tones. Several things determine the color, including the type of cotton, the way it was harvested, and how well it was cleaned.

The second factor, staple length, is particularly important for the spinning mills. The shorter the fiber, the more difficult it is to spin into thread. An average staple length for Howard County is one inch, according to Paul Gross, county agent.

Gross said a new consideration in the quality of cotton has been developed in the last couple of years, micronaire. "Envision a fiber as a straw," he said. "Then consider the thickness of the straw wall. That's the factor we're talking about."

He explained that thin walls often cause breakage at the spinning mills, but that thick walls produce a coarse grade of material. The ideal thickness, he said, is from 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire and in 1969 that meant as much as 45 additional cents to the price of each 100 pounds of lint cotton.

TRAILERS for taking the harvested cotton to the gin can belong to either the gin or the farmer but the farmer gets a $2 reduction in price per bale if he owns his own. These were at the Guitar Gin Co., NE 2nd.

The 1970 VW will stay ugly longer.

Just what hath Volkswagen wrought this year?
A longer-lasting engine, that's what.
It's more powerful than the old engine. (Top speed: 81 mph vs. 78 mph.)
It has better acceleration.
But most important, it doesn't have to work as hard to get you where you're going.
Thus, according to every calculation known to man, it will last even longer.
And just to make sure the engine and every other VW part leads a long, happy life, we have another surprise for 1970:
The Volkswagen Diagnostic Checkup. Now before the name scares you away, listen to what it is:
VW Diagnosis is an exclusive service checkup by specially trained technicians using specially made diagnostic equipment.

The equipment is faster and more thorough than any mechanic alive. It's so advanced, it can actually tell you you have a problem early, before it becomes a real problem.
For instance, let's say the resistance in one of your spark plug wires is too high.
Nothing serious, but it could reduce your gas mileage and eventually foul up your spark plugs.
During a Diagnostic Checkup, our equipment can find and we can fix this problem in a matter of minutes.
When you buy a new VW, you're entitled to four of these advanced checkups free.
What could be a better deal than that?
You buy a bug.
We take care of the bugs.

Buffaloes Conquer Scrappy Foe, 34-12

FORSAN — Forsan wrestled with Miles in non-conference play here Friday night and had its problems before winning, 34-12.

The success was the fourth in five starts for Don Stevens' team, which returns to 7-B competition in a homecoming game next Friday night against winless Hawley.

Forsan	Miles
First Downs	14
Yards Rushing	124
Yards Passing	124
Poses Completed	1 for 7
Poses Inter. BY	2 for 9
Punts, Ave.	2 for 28
Penalties, Yds.	1 for 15
Fumbles Lost	3

Miles fought the Buffaloes on even terms the first quarter but the Bisons added two touchdowns in Round Two and salted away the decision with a score in the third.

The resident eleven counted first in the opening canto when Bobby Davis fled 31 yards around right end at the end of a 50-yard surge following a Miles punt. The try for point was no good.

Miles came back to get on the board when fullback Bill Roberts churned 11 yards up the middle, the run climaxing a 40-yard march. The visitors' try for extra point was blocked by Bill McDonald.

Early in the second, Davis counted again for the Bisons on a 10-yard dive play and QB Jeff Williams passed to Leon Hobbs for the two extra points. The drive covered 65 yards.

Big play of the series occurred when Williams passed to Hobbs, the play covered 25 yards.

Near the end of the half, Williams hit left end Darrow Cobb with a 24-yard pass that resulted in a third Forsan TD. Cobb caught the ball in the end zone. The march covered 60 yards. The try for point failed and Forsan left for the dressing room leading, 20-6.

In the third, fullback Doyle Whetsel went over for Forsan from one yard away but the try for point was negated. Whetsel's run came at the end of a 75-yard surge. Long runs by Hobbs highlighted the offensive.

In the fourth, Miles counted again on a one-yard run by QB Ronnie Hohensee. The try for point was fruitless. That particular surge was for 50 yards.

Forsan came back to count again when Hobbs flitted 11 yards off tackle. Hobbs had set up the score after taking a quick pitch from Williams and traveling 25 yards. Whetsel added the final two points on a run.

Stevens suited out only 15 and played them all. The coach was high in praise of Williams, who mixed up his plays well and executed to near perfection. He is only a sophomore.

Score by quarters:
Forsan 6 14 6 8-34
Miles 6 0 0 6-12

Top Spot Will Go To Winner At New York

By MIKE BRYSON
By The Associated Press

The New York Jets, the world champions without a home, are finally getting their field back...along with an excellent opportunity to launch a repeat performance of last year's drive to the Super Bowl.

The Jets, forced to play exclusively on the road since the start of the season because of the baseball Mets' World Series and playoff engagements, hook up at Shea Stadium Monday night with Houston in a match that could go a long way in determining the American Football League's Eastern Division championship.

The Jets won three of those five road tests, including last week's 21-7 conquest of Cincinnati, giving them the same record they had a year ago this time when they started their bid for the AFL title and an eventual Super Bowl victory over Baltimore.

But the New Yorkers have a little something else going for them this season. Because they were forced to switch two of their early season games to the road, the Jets now face the pleasant situation of playing seven straight on their own field.

IN GOOD SHAPE
And, a victory over the Oilers, tied with New York for first with a 3-2 record, would give the Jets sole possession of the top spot at the start of that long home stay.

The rest of the AFL teams will be in action Sunday, with Buffalo (2-3) at Western Division-leading Oakland (4-0-1), Denver (2-3) at Cincinnati (3-2), Miami (0-4-1) at Kansas City (4-1) and San Diego (3-2) at Boston (0-1).

Houston is still smarting from last week's 24-0 loss to Kansas City—the first shutout in 78 games for the Oilers. The Chiefs intercepted five of Pete Beathard's passes in that one, while the Oilers managed less than 100 yards in total offense.

The Jets, meanwhile, were impressive on both offense and defense against the tough Bengals, sparked by Emerson Boozler's 129 yards rushing, his best single-game effort ever.

Oakland, which beat Denver 24-14, will not only have to contend with Buffalo's new found star, Wayne Patrick, but also O.J. Simpson.

Patrick took over last week when Simpson was sidelined with recurring headaches, and carried 17 times for 131 yards in a 23-16 victory over Boston.

Simpson is expected to be ready for Sunday's game, along with Preston Ridlehuber, an ex-Raider who was activated for the Boston game and threw the winning option pass to Haven Moses.

DIXON MISSING
Oakland, meanwhile, will be without rusher Hewritt Dixon, sidelined for a couple of weeks with a knee injury, but Daryle Lamonica, who threw three touchdowns passes against Denver, will be around to guide the Raiders' sizzling passing attack.

Cincinnati's big task against Denver will be to stop the running of Floyd Little, who gained 92 yards in 20 tries against the Raiders.

Ex-BS Athlete Death Victim

By TOMMY HART

RAMSDELL

It is told that San Angelo Central High School never has to resort to pep rallies, that school officials merely throw a morsel or two at writer Bob Milburn and Milburn can make the Bobcats see red with something in black and white... The Standard-Times scribe, worth more to school morale than the school mascot, has been known to take one sentence appearing in an out-of-town column and write a treatise about it longer than War and Peace... Bob's latest caper is to rally the Bobcats' prejudicial juices over something printed here recently... He does make a point of one undeniable fact: That no team but Odessa Permian has been able to make the Bobcats walk the plank year in and year out... San Angelo's inability to react to the Permian challenge is something that may worry Milburn to the end of his days... It was Charley Chan, wasn't it, who said: "Only brave mouse makes nest in cat's ear"... Big Spring takes the role of the brave mouse next weekend... Some readers have wondered aloud how Washington was able to lure Vince Lombardi away from Green Bay... It was easy—all the Washington people did was (1) offer Lombardi a $1 million slice of the franchise, guarantee him $100,000 a year in wages in a long-term contract and transfer 50,000 shares of stock in Scholz Homes Inc., to Vince's name... The Wall Street Journal recently placed a market value of $1.8 million on Lombardi's holdings in the Toledo, Ohio, based firm... It was the Denver offensive lineman, Wallace Dickey, who remarked recently: "If Hitler is alive, you can bet he's disguised as an offensive guard"... Wayne Johnson, the former Big Springer, reportedly will not be eligible to play basketball at Odessa College this season due to scholastic problems... Mark Callahan, right tackle for the Goliad seventh grade football team here, weighs 196 pounds now and is supposed to be a real comer.

Baseball buffs who resided in the area a quarter of a century ago will recall, no doubt, Willard (The Knuck) Ramsdell, who died Oct. 8 in Wichita, Kan., at the age of 53... Willard was a pitching star of the first magnitude here in the late '30's and early '40's, when Big Spring was affiliated with the old WT-NM league... When Big Spring won the pennant in 1941 under Jodie Tate with a 91-45 record, Ramsdell had a 25-9 won-lost mark and finished with a 2.93 ERA average... Ramsdell, who had been recruited for Big Spring by a barber, the late Virgil Smith, later played on the same Brooklyn team with such personages as Gil Hodges, Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson... He was also 'up' with Cincinnati and the Chicago Cubs... In recent years, he had worked in Wichita as a salesman when his health permitted... Survivors include his wife and two sons, both of whom are in the Armed Forces... Bobby Murcer, Thurman Munson and Mel Stottlemyre are supposed to be the only untouchables on the New York Yankee baseball club but Ralph Houk likely would have given up anyone for Richie Allen, who recently departed Philadelphia for St. Louis... The Phillies let Washington know in the beginning they would not trade Allen for Frank Howard... Dick Metz, who used to golf out this way, has a son named Craig who is trying to qualify for the pro tour... The boy is named for the late Craig Wood, for whom Dick once was assistant at Deal, N.J... Another aspiring linkster on the circuit is Carl Burkemo, son of Walter... Injuries have blighted the pro football careers of two Texans who figured to make it big in the play-for-pay ranks—Howard Twilley and Lawrence Elkins... Ex-Big Spring Steer Rickey Earle recently was promoted to first string safety on the East Texas State University football team—he has three years of eligibility left after this season.

Can-Am. Set For Nov. 9

COLLEGE STATION — The dream of Texas car racing fans becomes a reality here Nov. 9.

That's the date for the inaugural race at the new Texas International Speedway, located on State Highway 6 south.

The event is the Texas International Can-Am, the 11th and final race of the million dollar 1969 Canadian-American Challenge Cup series of International Road Races.

Sponsored by the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA), the event will attract the world's top racing drivers who will share in a record $200,000 championship point fund, in addition to contingency awards and the $45,000 race purse.

The building of the Texas course has been praised as an engineering marvel. From any grandstand position, the spectator is assured 100 per cent visibility of the road course.

This is a remarkable achievement considering that the famed Indianapolis Speedway offers only 20 per cent viewing from many of its seats.

Racing giants such as new Zealand's Bruce McLaren, Denis Hulme and Chris Amon; England's John Surtees; and the USA's Dan Gurney, Mark Donohue, and Peter Revson, are expected to compete in the November classic.

Cowboys At Home To Flock Today

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, Capitol Division leaders of the National Football League, take a nine-game regular season winning streak into Sunday's rematch with Philadelphia and "The Bullet" will be back to give the Eagles a few more defensive nightmares.

Bullet Bob Hayes, the greyhound swift split end, is slated to return to action for Dallas after missing six games with a shoulder separation.

Coach Tom Landry of Dallas

Lamesa Extends Skein Against CC

LAMESA — The Lamesa Golden Tornadoes, capitalizing on several Colorado City mis-cues, opened 3-AAA zone football play on a successful note, punching the Wolves, 23-9, here Friday night.

It was the Lamesa defense, which intercepted five Colorado City passes, that commenced Tornado scoring. Lamesa dumped Wolf quarterback David Garcia in his own end zone for a quick 2-0 Tornado lead.

Colorado City's points came on a 37-yard field goal by Carl May in the second quarter and a four-yard touchdown run by Garcia in the fourth quarter.

says "Hayes will most likely start. We'll also use him on the punt return teams. We plan to play him most of the game unless it's obvious he's still a little rusty."

In Craig Morton, Dallas has the leading passer in the NFL and Calvin Hill is the leading rusher. The Cowboys and Los Angeles are the only two undefeated teams remaining in the NFL.

The Eagles, although holding potent Baltimore to a 24-20 win in their last outing, are 1-3 to Dallas' 4-0. The Eagles have surrendered the most points in the league and were soundly thrashed by Dallas 38-7 two weeks ago.

"It will be a good tough football game," says Landry. "A lot of strange things happened to the Eagles the last time we played them—like Hill fumbling into the end zone for a touchdown and quarterback Norm Snead hitting the crossbar with a man wide open.

"It's always difficult to get up for a team you have beaten earlier in the season."

Landry says he still doesn't "know how good" the Cowboys are.

"You have to be realistic," Landry says. "We haven't beaten any teams who have won a lot of games. But we are hustling, hitting, and have a better attitude than any Dallas team I've been associated with."

She carried a white orchid surrounded by miniature carnations and English ivy.

Indoor Landscaping Warms Winter Day

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD COUNTY HD AGENT

Choice flower bulbs add cheer and color to the indoor landscape during the winter months. Bulbs that are good for indoor forced blooming includes Crocus, grape hyacinths, daffodils, tulips, and hyacinths.

Pot bulbs as soon as they are available. Prepare the soil by mixing equal parts of soil, peat and sand and place a one inch layer of gravel in the bottom of the pot.

Firm the soil around the bulbs, leaving the tips of large bulbs showing above the surface. Barely cover small bulbs and space them about 1/2 inch apart in the pot.

Newly potted bulbs should be stored at a temperature of 40 degrees to 50 degrees F. Success with forcing bulbs depends upon their developing roots during the cold storage period.

Keep the soil moist but not saturated. Six to ten weeks are required for the bulbs to make good root growth and to be ready for forcing.

After the cold storage treatment, place the bulbs in a cool semi-lighted location. Gradually move to a sunny location for good growth and color. Do not allow the bulbs to dry out at any time during the forcing period.

Most bulbs will be in flower by January. By purchasing pre-cooled or pre-treated bulbs it is possible to have blooms by Christmas. For complete information, ask for MP726, "Bulbous and Hardy Plants for Indoor Bloom," at the County Extension Office.

Do your house plants die? You may not be watering them right.

This is especially true during the winter months when plant growth is very slow because of the low light intensities.

It is easy to get impatient and apply additional water and fertilizer hoping to make the plant grow large and healthy. Actually during winter periods the plant is producing very little food and cannot grow rapidly. Overwatering is the worst of offense during periods of slow growth.

Plant roots must have air as well as water. If the soil stays saturated with water, little or no oxygen can reach the roots. This results in loss of the small feeder roots and eventually death of the plant.

Never water plants by rule of thumb such as every other day or twice a week. Once the soil is thoroughly moist, water them only when they need it.

In watering houseplants supply sufficient water so that it runs through the potting soil into the saucer below. Always discard the excess water that drains through the pot into the saucer to prevent the accumulation of soluble salts in the potting soil.

Plants in a cold room need less water than those in a warm dry atmosphere. Flowering plants and those with much foliage require more water than those without blooms or with very little foliage.

If you enjoy live plants in the house the Texas Extension bulletin MP-790 "Indoor Landscaping with Live Foliage Plants," may be of interest to you.

'Quest For Privacy' Denied Famous Pair

By LOUISE COOK
By The Associated Press

It has been one year since Jacqueline Bouvier Kennedy, the president's widow, married Aristotle Onassis, a Greek shipping magnate 23 years her senior.

It has been a year during which the couple reportedly spent $20 million, moving back and forth among their homes in Europe and America as casually as most people move from room to room in an apartment.

It has been a year during which the slender, soft-spoken beauty who drew the admiration of the nation during the tragic days after John F. Kennedy's assassination turned 40—and celebrated with an all-night spree in an Athens nightclub.

And it has been a year during which Mr. and Mrs. Onassis tried—not too successfully—to stay out of the public eye.

Their quest for privacy began with the Oct. 20 wedding itself—a Greek Orthodox ceremony on Scipio, Onassis' private island in the Ionian Sea. Mrs. Onassis' wedding dress was designed by Valentino, her wedding gift from her husband was a collection of jewels worth an estimated $1.2 million.

Then there was the honeymoon—on Onassis' private yacht, the 303-foot Christina, a converted destroyer named after Onassis' daughter by a previous marriage.

Mrs. Onassis returned to the United States less than a month after the wedding to rejoin her children by the late president, Caroline, 11, and John Jr., 8, who attend private schools in New York. Onassis remained in Europe.

When the Onassises were in New York, they followed a normal domestic pattern—normal, that is, for one of the world's most famous couples. They entertained friends with quiet parties in the 15-room, $200,000 Fifth Avenue apartment that Mrs. Onassis had bought in 1964. The apartment overlooks Central Park.

On weekends, the Onassises sometimes went to the country—a rented retreat in Peapack, N.J., 50 miles from Manhattan, where Mrs. Onassis sometimes shed her traditional dark glasses and joined her children in riding shows.

When Mrs. Onassis did venture out in public in New York, she was followed by photographers and fans.

A photographer who snapped a picture of Mrs. Onassis and John Jr. bicycling in Central Park received a summons for harassment. The complaint was made by the Secret Service agent assigned to John Jr. The photographer claimed he got the harassment from the agents.

Sunday, Oct. 5, the Onassises attended the Swedish movie, "I Am Curious (Yellow)." Mrs. Onassis left early and one of the photographers waiting outside said she threw him to the ground with a judo trick. Some witnesses said the photographer slipped.

A U.S. television company offered Mrs. Onassis $100,000 to do a program on Greece similar to those done by Sophia Loren on Italy and Princess Grace on Monte Carlo. Onassis turned the offer down.

'Washington Holds Heritage' Says Hyperion Club Speaker

An imaginary tour of Washington, D.C., the Capitol and White House were vividly described by Mrs. Roy Lamb who presented the luncheon program Thursday for the 1948 Hyperion Club. The presentation was designed to help visitors to Washington appreciate their American heritage.

"Washington is more than just pretty girls and cherry blossoms," said Mrs. Lamb. "It stands as a monument to our country, and the buildings and memorials speak of great figures or moments out of our past."

MUCH BEAUTY
Washington, on the banks of the Potomac River, is famed for magnificent parks, broad tree-lined avenues, botanical gardens and marble monuments, but the visitor also comes to explore an endless variety of exhibits. There are the Lincoln and Jefferson memorials as well as the Washington Monument which offers a panoramic view of the city.

At the Smithsonian Institution there are art galleries, a zoo, the natural history collection and a museum of history and technology. The National Archives Building holds the cherished charters of the nation, the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights. (These documents are housed in cases which can be lowered into steel vaults in 60 seconds should the need arise.) Another famous building is Ford's Theater with its Lincoln museum. The National Gallery was conceived by Andrew Mellon who donated his own collection of paintings and sculpture.

CAPITOL HILL
"Overlooking Washington is Capitol Hill," continued Mrs. Lamb, "where representatives of the people come to shape the nation's destiny. It is the showcase of a working government."

The huge structure covers 18 1/2 acres and contains 540 rooms on five floors. Not simply a law-making "factory," it is a combined art gallery and museum. The 10-ton bronze portals, leading to the Rotunda, were modeled in Rome, cast in Munich and installed at the main East entrance in 1871. They depict scenes from the life of Columbus, the surrender of Cornwallis and George Washington becoming a private citizen when the Revolutionary War ended. Statues line corridors and rooms in the House and Senate wings. On the House side is Statuary Hall where each state is limited to two statues.

"Each new family has colored the White House with its own personality and taste," said Mrs. Lamb. "Today's White House is a far cry from the days when President Adams and Abigail lived there."

Continuing, Mrs. Lamb said Abigail complained of lack of china, flatware, linens and lamps — and hung her wash in the East Room.

HOME CHANGES
Over the years, the White House has been expanded and improved to where it now not only covers the president's residence, but the east and west wings where all official business is conducted. At each new term of office painters and decorators redo the second and third floors to suit the new family's wishes.

Each new First Lady inspects the household staff and kitchens and looks over the handsome china collection. She may make changes to suit her own brand of homemaking. By law, the first floor — the East room, Green, Blue, Red and State dining room — is permanently furnished in 18th and early 19th century styles and cannot be changed without approval of the fine arts commission in Washington. The Rose room is furnished in 18th century "luxury," for five queens have slept here. Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation in the Lincoln suite, and this room is reserved for heads of state.

GOLD SERVICE
In the Monroe room, President Monroe, in 1823, wrote his doctrine warning Europe to keep its power politics out of the Western Hemisphere. In the Gold room, President Monroe started the White House gold collection with French flatware, and later presidents added golden plates, goblets and bowls.

The China room displays dining accessories of the presidents, reflecting the tastes of first families and the mood of the times. President Wilson was the first to introduce domestic china with the presidential seal as a design. Formerly, all china was imported from France and England, so there is a priceless collection of Haviland and Wedgwood. The domestic china is made by Lenox and Castle-

Other aspects of Washington life were opened for discussion by Mrs. Lamb.

The meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Charles Tompkins, No. 3 Highland Cove, where cohostesses were Mrs. H. W. Smith, Mrs. Zollie Boykin and Mrs. Robert Polk. Mrs. Jack Irons, president, introduced four guests, Mrs. Robert Tinley, Mrs. Charles Tuttle, Mrs. Norman Krisle and Mrs. Lamb.

The Nov. 20 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. M. M. Edwards.

BETROTHED — Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gibson Jr., 519 Scott, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Dee Ann, to Terry Wayne Forrest, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn Forrest, 2102 Grace. The couple plans to be married Dec. 20 in St. Paul Presbyterian Church.

Sweater Is Great For Football Game

Sweaters and students go together like fall and football. This fall that's especially true, reports the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear. Prominent among the knits are argyles with their diamonds in both bright and heathery mixtures.

They come in sleeveless pullovers to be worn either under sportcoats and blazers or just as a topping for shirts and slacks. The buttoned coat sweater also is putting in a reappearance — this time, with bells in addition to rolled collars.

WMS Sets Coffee On Tuesday

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church will hold a coffee from 10 to 11 a.m., Tuesday, in the home of Mrs. Lester Morton, 701 Capri.

At this time, group leaders will explain a choice of service areas during 1968-70, as well as the difference between a Round Table group and the Crisis Closet.

All women members of the church are invited to attend the coffee, and a nursery will be provided at the church.

Exercise Controls Small Waist Look

It's a "cinch" to be stylishly small-waisted; all it takes is a little time and slightly more effort.

Try doing the following exercise: Stand with feet slightly apart, knees bent a little, arms out like an airplane. Tighten stomach and buttocks muscles and, without moving arms, push hips as far to the left as you can, then as far to the right. Try putting on a dance record for exercise background music.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, I am the light of the world. (John 8:12)
PRAYER: Dear Lord, grant that our lives may be made powerful through surrender to Thy control. Bring our thoughts, our feelings, and our actions under Thy control so that they may be powerful and productive. Amen.
 (From the 'Upper Room')

Focusing Our Force

Our two chief industrial recruitment teams — the Industrial Foundation and the Industrial Development Fund — are making an effort to consolidate on the supposition that organic unity will be more effective than cooperative unity.

There is every reason to believe that this is so, for no matter how cooperative two agencies may be, they cannot be expected to function with the same total efficiency as though they were controlled and directed from one source. Moreover, one voice and one reservoir of resources are more effective in supplying the prompt decisions which sometimes must be made.

The truth is that we need to develop the most efficient system possible in our efforts to encourage or to secure industries. In this business there are no minor leagues; like it or not, the fight for industrial growth is nationwide, and it's all the major leagues.

The schedule is constant, too; spasmodic enthusiasm and forays simply won't get the job done. The campaign is a constant one, and not without reasonable coasts. Yet, for the small to medium community it is a necessity. Hence, we applaud efforts to meld these two agencies and in turn to coordinate them closely through the Chamber of Commerce industrial program so that all our force will be focused for decisive action.

Day Of Prayer

Wednesday is World Day of Prayer. If the corporate body is like individuals, then prayer unfortunately is often delayed or forgot until times of trouble. That being the case, then we have every need to pray.

If everyone who has become excited over Madalyn O'Hare's barking at the majesty of God; if everyone who has bristled in righteous indignation over

Supreme Court decisions concerning school prayers; in short, if everyone who professes to believe in God will pray, it can and will make a difference.

Provided, we pray submissively, repentantly, earnestly, confidently, and expectantly.

"The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much."

David Lawrence Moratorium For The Uninformed

WASHINGTON — Millions of Americans who took part last week in "demonstrations" on campuses and in cities across the land are supposedly in favor of a so-called "moratorium" in the Vietnam War. Few have checked the word to find out what it means and its relationship to the Vietnam War problem.

WEBSTER'S DICTIONARY defines "moratorium" as "a legally authorized period of delay in the performance of a legal obligation or the payment of a debt; a waiting period set by an authority; a suspension of activity."

But no exact formula of postponement, deferment or inactivity is being outlined. Presumably the main purpose of the show "moratorium" idea is to try to show that public opinion in the United States is against the Vietnam War and wants it "suspended" at any cost.

IGNORANCE OF THE ISSUES involved in the Vietnam War is widespread in this country. Most of the "demonstrators" do not know that they are helping the cause of the enemy. President Nixon expressed his reaction to organized protests of this kind in a letter to a "concerned student." He wrote:

"If a president — any president — allowed his course to be set by those who demonstrate, he would betray the trust of all the rest. What he would do, to allow government policy to be made in the streets would destroy the Democratic process. It would give the decision, not to the majority, and not to those with the strongest arguments, but to those with

Billy Graham

What do you mean when you say "Give yourself to Christ?"

R.F. You were made for fellowship with God. No other creature was made in God's image and likeness — only man was fashioned for communion with Him. But when man sinned, his fellowship with God was broken. He was expelled from the realm for which he was created. He became estranged, he walked in loneliness and fear, he became acquainted with suffering and pain. He experienced anxiety and frustration.

But, although man left God, God never left him. He pursued him in his errant paths. He tried to demonstrate His love and compassion. He tried in many ways to communicate with him. Finally, God clothed Himself in human flesh. He became incarnate in Christ. He proved His love on the Cross when He made atonement for our sins. "God was in Christ, reconciling the world to Himself."

But, since God gave us the power of choice, it is left for every man to decide whether or not he shall accept God's gesture of mercy and Grace. Though we legally belong to God, He makes the giving of ourselves to Him, voluntary. He has paved the way for man to come back into fellowship with Him, but we must come of our own volition. Otherwise, it would be forced love, and God couldn't countenance nor accept that. If we would have all that God offers, we must "give ourselves to Christ." We must live for the One who died for us, if we are to be saved.

Administration Touts Its Economic Brakes

By DON BATTLE
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The Nixon Administration, from the President on down, swamped the nation this past week with assurances that its anti-inflation policy is working, but one group of Democratic congressmen had other opinions.

The President said Friday that while business will be experiencing "slowing pains" as the Administration gently brakes an inflationary economy, the nation "is on the road to recovery from the disease of runaway prices."

Moreover, he said he would send a letter appealing for voluntary wage-price restraints to a cross section of business and labor leaders during this week-end.

President Nixon also said Friday that he will nominate White House aide Arthur F. Burns to succeed William McChesney Martin Jr. in January as chairman of the Federal Reserve Board. Burns, like Martin, is considered an economic conservative in monetary circles.

Earlier in the day, Treasury Secretary David Kennedy and Martin, as if prefacing the President's remarks, said the nation cannot relax its anti-inflation efforts and that present policies are working.

DEMOS DISSENT However, a group of Democratic congressmen, implying that the Administration's anti-inflationary policies are not working, urged the President to mount a "genuine war on inflation."

In their letter to the President, 44 Democratic representatives listed proposals that suggest an even more hard-line approach toward slowing inflation than presently in effect.

The Democrats urged the President and the Federal Reserve Board to issue a joint re-

DIFFERENT STRAWS

- Officials say unwise to relax but ask voluntary restraint
- New FED nominee regarded as conservative in money affairs
- Demos ask President to seek standby control powers
- Personal income gain slows, home-building static
- Industrial production eases but GNP accelerates quest to banks not to increase their business lending over the currently outstanding level.

Among their other recommendations were that the administration withdraw its opposition to proposals for establishing effective wage-price guideposts, after consultation with management and labor by the President, and that the administration seek legislative authority, on a standby basis, to impose consumer credit controls.

In reply, administration officials predicted that the government's current anti-inflation policy would lead to a downward trend in interest rates and a lessening of pressure toward higher living costs by the start of the new year.

PERSONAL INCOME SLOWS Among the indications of a cooling economy this past week was a sharp cut in the rate of increase of personal income.

The Department of Commerce said that last month's $2.5 billion annual rate of increase—the smallest since the $2.1 billion gain in April, 1968—brought personal income to a total of $759.8 billion.

Home-buying plans have remained constant for the last six months, with no downward trends noted.

This finding seemed to coincide with a Commerce Department report last week that new private housing begun during September registered the first monthly increase since February.

DISPUTES CONCLUSIONS It marked the first monthly upturn since a year-long decline caused some homebuilders and economists to worry that anti-inflation measures were taking an unwarranted toll from the housing industry.

Michale Sumichrast, chief economist for the National Association of Home Builders, however, discounted the importance of the increase in housing starts. He said the seasonal adjustment factor for September distorts the figures—a point of disagreement between him and the Census Bureau.

In addition, he said the Federal National Mortgage Association has been pouring large amounts of money into the government home mortgage programs—much more than during the last housing slowdown in 1966.

The Commerce Department also reported this past week that the gross national product—the total output of the nation's goods and services—climbed at a slightly faster pace in the third quarter than in the second quarter as prices continued to rise. The GNP, measured at an annual rate, rose $17.5 billion to $942.3 billion.

Around The Rim Where Do You Find A Windmill?

Come to think of it, if one thinks about it at all, in viewing the dimly-lit ponds which pass for lakes in this area, why did the sturdy pioneers of West Texas give up their private wells and windmills in the first place?

There are a few in Big Spring, and the owners generally are proud to let you know that they have plentiful water without paying a ransom for it; but of course these are the exception rather than the rule.

SOME OF YOU can go back with me to the time that small towns were windmill towns. Every homeowner, as surely as he had a barn, also had a well, windmill and his own storage tank, elevated to the extent that there was sufficient pressure in the house.

You could, I believe, take a census of the community by counting the windmills.

So-called progress evolved, and municipal cities put in water systems, dug up the streets to lay mains, and started connecting the households. What this accomplished, I cannot clearly recall, because at that time the municipal supply itself was from a group of wells drilled somewhere in the vicinity.

SURELY, THE quality of the water was not necessarily good. It was "hard," it was alkali in taste, or perhaps salty, but it bred a hardy race: people with iron stomachs and kids with no cavities, and no knowledge of toothpaste, either.

Memory has it, though, that there was always plenty of water for the household, even on Mondays when it took a lot to fill the iron washpot for any number of boilings and soakings. And Saturdays, too, when everybody took turns at filling a No. 2 tub spotted in the middle of the kitchen floor.

THE WINDMILL, its tower and the tank, made up vital parts of living. Nothing could be more soothing than to hear the soft clunk! of a sucker rod going up and down as a mill turned slowly in a summer evening breeze. With it, the sound of water trickling into the tank.

And when the breeze became a gale, and the gush of water made the tank overflow, it was an immediate chore to go out and tie down the mill, pulling the big fan back against the blades to keep them out of the face of the wind.

WINDMILL TOWERS served another purpose, too. They became the center of growing vines, made a shady spot for outdoor work or play, and generally became a mighty inviting spot for kids.

Nowadays, one finds windmills only out on the ranches, and I think these are gradually disappearing, as powered pumps do the work of drawing water. The people who are putting western museums together, at any rate, are looking for old mills which in time will become items of considerable curiosity.

IN MOST INSTANCES today, we are depending upon surface water. May this supply hold up, because you'd have a heck of a time trying to buy a windmill today.

Art Buchwald Monarchist Shakes 'Em Up

WASHINGTON — Last Monday Randy Dicks, a Georgetown University sophomore, received a two-page letter from President Nixon explaining the Administration's stand on the Vietnam protests. At the time, it seemed like a good idea for the White House to use a student's letter as a way of explaining the President's policy toward the Vietnam protests. But when it was discovered that Dicks was a monarchist, the White House was thrown into a spin.

AN IMMEDIATE investigation was called for to find out how the President wound up writing a monarchist. First J. Edgar Hoover was contacted and asked what he had on the monarchist movement in the United States.

Hoover was embarrassed to admit he didn't have too much in his files on the Royalists. "They've been rather quiet since 1776," he told the White House aide. "Frankly our department doesn't even have any phone taps on them."

"BUT DON'T you realize," the White House aide said, "that we've got to know what the Royalists in the United States have been up to? Just by writing to Randy Dicks, the President of the United States has given the monarchist movement in the United States a job in the arm."

Hoover promised to get back to the White House. He took all his agents off the SDS, the Black Panthers and the FBI television show on ABC and ordered them to find out everything they could about the monarchists.

REPORTS started pouring in from field offices all over the country. A lady in Kansas City, it turned out, had written a letter to her cousin in London saying, "Wouldn't it be nice if Prince Charles took over the 50 colonies, when he becomes Prince of Wales?"

A man in Forchester, Ky., was reported to have had a photograph of the king of Italy in his garage; and a Spanish family in Michigan was driving around with "Alfonso for King" bumper stickers on their car.

ALL THE leads were followed up, and it was decided that the best way to handle the matter was to turn over the problem to the Subversive Activities Control Board, which is supposed to clear all organizations in the United States.

The White House called the board but, unfortunately, it was a weekday and no one was in the office. The voice on the recording machine asked them to call back in February.

ADMINISTRATION officials studied the problem. The best thing, of course, would have been to try Randy Dicks for advocating the return of the royal family. But Dicks had cleverly told reporters that while he considers kingship the superior form of government, he does not favor it for the United States.

So it was decided to ignore Dicks' affiliation with the Monarchist Party, and new safeguards have been established before the President will be allowed to write to another university student. Also a memo has been passed around the White House asking the staff to refrain, even in jest, from referring to the Vice President as "Prince Spiro the First."

Marquis Childs Are We Falling Apart?

WASHINGTON — One of the wise men in this town who follows reports from around the country on what people are saying and doing is filled with foreboding. He finds the belief taking hold that, for whatever reason, the system is simply not working.

This has little to do with politics or, for that matter, with ideology. Nor is the war a concern constantly in the foreground. Vietnam is like an aching tooth that throbs off and on.

The feeling is rather one of distrust and uncertainty over the course of daily life. Who is minding the store? The President has failed to communicate his determination to take charge and end the drift.

THE SPIRAL of rising prices is one of the immediate causes. The confusion of voices out of Washington — some saying the end of inflation is in sight, others warning the worst is still to come — adds to the distrust as the housewife discovers the weekly food bill has inched up another notch. This generates a sense of helplessness and resentment that no one seems to be doing anything about it.

Even the President's stout partisans are beset by doubt. The other day at a meeting of the National Alliance of Business Men in the White House the executives who had come from around the country faced an empty chair — the President failed to show. There was something like nostalgia for the fractious take-charge days of the Lyndon Johnson era.

AS MUCH AS anything in a long time, revelations of Army graft have shaken public confidence. This kind of hand in the cookie jar is as old as organized warfare. With huge military expenditures and 3,500,000 men in uniform, it is on a scale the most avaricious sergeants would not heretofore have dared to dream of.

Services long taken for granted, notably the postal service, seem to be breaking down. Far from an isolated instance, a letter mailed in Washington on Monday is delivered in New York on the following Saturday. The average time for the 250 miles between the two centers appears to be 48 hours.

AS THE President observed in his latest message, the White House has sent up proposal after proposal on which Congress fails to act. The House Post Office Committee vetoed the Nixon plan for a government corporation to reform the postal service, calling instead for reforms within the present system — which is nonsense, since the unions have the power to block any substantive change.

SOMETHING IS wrong. That is the formless indictment. It generates a pessimism easy to come by. In the brilliant television series, "Civilization," Sir Kenneth Clark quotes in the last of 13 episodes the oft-quoted passage from the Irish poet William Butler Yeats:

Things fall apart; the center cannot hold;
 Mere anarchy is loosed upon the world,
 The blood-dimmed tide is loosed, and everywhere
 The ceremony of innocence is drowned;
 The best lack all conviction, while the worst
 Are full of passionate intensity.
 Written more than 50 years ago that could stand, for those who take the gloomiest view of events, as a description of the moment in which we live. Yet, noting in the last scene the serious students in the camera eye, Clark observes that they are in all probability the best educated, the best fed, the most concerned with the arts as well as politics of any generation in England's history.

THE HANDFUL of extremists bent on destruction and anarchy get the headlines. But there are signs in the universities that the serious and concerned young may still lead the way out of the wilderness.

To Your Good Health Period Causes Trouble In Head And Feet

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 30, active as a teacher, and healthy except that, about a week before my period begins, I have headaches and puffiness in face and feet and ache quite a lot. When my period starts, all this ends.

This goes on every month. Is there something to do about it medically? — G.M.M.

Indeed there is something to do about it! I wish we could spread the word more widely that this sort of trouble can be alleviated.

Yours is a classic description of the symptoms that make life miserable for many women before the menstrual period. Some cases are milder than yours, some far more severe.

The explanation: some women retain water in the system with the rise of estrogen (female hormone) just before the period. This accounts for the puffiness of face and feet — the retained water.

It may also account for the headaches.

Some women experience extreme irritability. Some accumulate so much water that they have a temporary but definite gain in weight. It is well known that some women, in this interim, are unable to go to school or to work. One woman took on so much weight (water-weight!) for a few days or a week that she had to have two sizes of clothes.

In addition to that, a woman may experience hypoglycemia (an episode of low blood sugar) that aggravates headache, fatigue, and inefficiency. (For that, trying to stick to a diet high in protein and low in sugar and starch, before the trouble-some time, will help.)

Just reducing your salt intake — using no table salt and avoiding all salty foods — for a few days before the trouble starts may prevent some or most of the puffiness.

And, especially if you suffer from cramps, exercise is proved to help. This has been proved. The type of exercise doesn't matter — walking, swimming, bowling, callisthenics, riding a bike, that sort of thing.

The measures listed above, while simple, are ones you can do yourself, and are well worth undertaking.

If they are not sufficient, then you may need further help from your doctor or gynecologist, but there are recognized methods he can use. If you have a somewhat low thyroid activity, use of thyroid medication can help considerably. This is a frequently overlooked factor.

He may elect to give you, at the appropriate time of the month, a diuretic, to help your system throw off some of the excess fluid that makes your face and feet puffy. This may also help the headaches.

There are cases in which the glandular system is out of whack and needs attention, but this is not likely to apply when the woman has regular periods and otherwise is generally normal.

It is seldom, indeed, that a woman with pre-menstrual miseries cannot be helped quite readily. The trouble is that too many have been brought up from girlhood to believe that "it's just that time of the month, and you'll have to suffer through it."

Actually it isn't too difficult to relieve that suffering.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Some of the Home Demonstration clubs will have a program on the lost art of mending sometime soon and I think they should share what they learn with the rest of us. I occasionally hear women say they have a lot of mending to do. I wonder if they mean mending like I do... that is, sew ripped seams. I recall that many years ago the women not only sewed together ripped seams but also practically wove back to a wearable garment those that were so badly worn that they were no longer thin but completely worn out. There were a lot of mended knees and seats in the boys pants. I guess they mended the girl's clothing, too, but in places that didn't show so much.

Does anyone darn socks anymore? I remember one man who promised his wife he would never expect her to sew runners in her stockings if she wouldn't darn his socks. Seems she did and he had a number of callouses. That wasn't JP but he was sympathetic with him, his darned socks hurt his feet, too.

The JIM MURPHYS and MRS. RUBY BILLINGS have returned from a two month trip that took them to Tennessee, Kentucky and Virginia. Mrs. Billings visited with cousins in Louisville, Owensboro and Russellville, Ky., Bristol, Va., (on the Tennessee-Virginia state line) and in Clarksville, Tenn. She had intended to spend most of the visit there while the Murphys went on through the Knoxville, Tenn., area. They thought the scenery so beautiful that they came back and got Mrs. Billings for the sightseeing trip. Mr. Murphy also has relatives in this part of the state.

Houseguests of MRS. SAM BLACKBURN are her sister, MRS. ELLA J. WILLIAMS and her daughter, MRS. BOB WARD of Ardmore, Okla. They came Friday and when they return Monday Mrs. Blackburn's aunt, MISS ELLA KIRBY, who has been here for five weeks, will return to Oklahoma with them. Miss Kirby's home is in Norman.

There are gremlins in my typewriter. I think I have given Indiana a town named Hattie whether it wants it or not. MRS. CLYDE CANTRELL didn't go there to visit her mother and her brother and his wife didn't go there either. It's Terre Haute and I'll bet Indiana is glad to have it back. Sorry 'bout that.

MR. and MRS. RUDOLPH PACHALL plan to spend several days this week in Bryan where they will visit his brother.

Only NANCY JONES would do this, but she called all the way from Austin to ask: "What do you think about the Mets?" Anything can happen now, she said. She also imparts the intelligence that her mother, MRS. SHINE PHILIPS, and aunt, MRS. EARL EZZELL, who are in Washington, D.C. to see Navy CAPT. BARKLEY WOODS and family and to see Maryland and Virginia in the autumn, are sans luggage. At last reports it was still floating around out there somewhere.

While on a trip to New Jersey to inspect the tests on some big pumps for the Colorado River Municipal Water District, O. H. Ivie and Paschall Odom had an experience they wouldn't want to miss, nor to repeat. While in New York City, they got caught in the crush of the moratorium crowd-in the heart of Manhattan. For more than two blocks they fought their way through waves of candle-carriers, most of them of the hippie type.

Home for part of the weekend for a quick visit with their parents, REV. and MRS. R. F. POLK were BOBBY and TOMMY POLK, students at Hardin-Simmons University.

A good report was received Saturday from GRANVILLE GLENN, member of our composing room force and the ranking senior among Herald employees. He is in Presbyterian Hospital in Dallas for treatment of eye difficulties. Until the last few days, he had been in serious condition, but now he is making encouraging progress, said his wife, ILMA. He may be there for a while yet, pending surgery.

Woman's Forum Told Reason For Vietnam

"Southeast Asia, Communism and Patriotism," was the topic discussed by Maj. Glenn E. Jones, flight commander of the 3650th Pilot Training Squadron, Webb Air Force Base, at Friday's meeting of The Woman's Forum. The group met in the home of Mrs. Merrill Creighton, 208 Washington, with Mrs. T. H. McCann as cohostess.

"We are not fighting in Vietnam for land or people, but we are fighting communism," said Maj. Jones. He stressed that people in Vietnam were fighting for an ideal, and if American people could trans-pose their economic situation to the Vietnamese people, they would still have many of the same problems.

Maj. Jones lived with the Vietnamese people for two years when he served as an advisor in South Vietnam. The club's study theme is "The Art of Living," and the program, which dealt with "The Art of Living Through Freedom," was given in observance of Americanism Day.

Mrs. W. N. Norred, president, introduced the speaker and another guest, Mrs. J. D. Jones. Mrs. Paul Klonka was named vice president following the resignation of Mrs. Marshall Cauley, and Mrs. Max Fitzhugh resigned because she and her family are leaving the city. Two new members, Mrs. Edwin Ballard and Mrs. Pete Warren, were elected to membership.

The club contributed to the "Buck-A-Month" club at Big Spring State Hospital. Members signed telegrams to be sent to Sen. John Tower and Sen. Ralph Yarborough supporting the funds for training in cancer treatment which may be removed from the public health services program.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs urges that a bipartisan committee be appointed by the Congress of the United States to study and make recommendations for modern, efficient election procedures including a division of the electoral vote in the states so that it will more equitably reflect the percentage of the popular vote.

TO MARRY—Charles H. Ar-buckle, 3613 Hamilton, announces the engagement of his daughter, Sherry Lynn, to Tommy Joe Newsom, son of Mrs. R. L. Newsom, 1600 Donley, and the late Mr. Newsom. The couple will be married Dec. 20 in the Eleventh and Birdwell Lane Church of Christ.

Potpourri Club Hears Talk On Art

Mrs. F. D. Williams of the Hobby Center presented a program on hobbies at Tuesday's meeting of the Potpourri Club in the home of Mrs. Ralph Caton, 619 Colgate.

Mrs. Williams stressed that everyone should have a hobby which gives them a feeling of accomplishment. She demonstrated different arts and crafts including papier tole, decoupage, gold leafing, papier-mache fruit, box purses, transfer art, crewel embroidery and holiday decorations.

An after-the-game party was slated Oct. 31, and refreshments were served.

The Nov. 11 meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Pete Cook, 1606 Runnels, with Mrs. Gerald Harris in charge of the program.

Women Want U.N. Campaign

The General Federation of Women's Clubs, in order to spread accurate information and objective interpretation of the United Nations and its agencies, shall promote a campaign of education on the study of the provisions for a review of the Charter, and urges all chairmen to integrate into their programs information concerning these United Nations agencies and activities which are germane to their respective chairmanship.

Use Brush For Scrubbing Mat

It's best to wash both sides of a foam-backed vinyl placemat, because a stain which appears to be on the vinyl side may actually be imbedded in the foam. A vegetable brush dipped in soap or detergent suds makes an effective scrubber for this purpose.

Clean Cool Iron

Allow an iron to cool before attempting to clean it. Wipe the bottom of the iron (the soleplate) with a cloth moistened with soapy water. Rinse, wipe dry. For stubborn spots, use silver polish or baking soda.

Brothers Reunited Here After Adoption As Infants

By TERRY HOPKINS

Two brothers, separated during infancy by adoption, have started their "second childhood" in Big Spring getting to know each other and finding amazing similarities and parallels in their lives which have been separate for more than 40 years.

Henry (Hank) Brewer has been a maintenance supervisor at Webb AFB for 10 years and now his brother, Richard (Bud) Porter, retired this year with 27 years in the Army, has moved his family to Big Spring to be with his brother.

"We both had wonderful childhoods, in wonderful families," Brewer said. "And if our second childhood is anything like the first, our wives will have a couple of star-struck boys on their hands."

Brewer and his wife, Golda, have two sons in the Army, Richard at Fort Rucker, Ala., and Henry, at Camp Roberts, Calif.; another son, Bobby, 18, a senior at Big Spring High School; a 17-year-old daughter, Pat, a junior at the high school; and a daughter from Thailand, who is attending Howard County Junior College, Kanitta Suwanjinda, 18.

Porter, married in Germany to Mary Ann, also has a son named Bobby, a 17-year-old junior at the high school. They have a married daughter, Chris Schultz, 20, who is still in Germany with the Army.

In 1925 the Clark brothers, then just five and two years old, were separated and adopted into different families. The Porter family moved to California but the Brewer family stayed in Phoenix and never kept the fact from their son that he was proudly adopted and that he had a brother.

In 1940, Brewer joined the Army, transferred to the Air Corps a year later and was sent to March Field, Calif. It was then, with the aid of the Red Cross, that he decided to look for his brother whom he knew had the last name of Porter and was living somewhere in California. A year and a half later, the Porter family was located in North Hollywood, Calif., and Brewer traveled to see them.

"I just walked up to the front door, rang the doorbell, and asked to see my brother," Brewer said. "But he wasn't there and I found out he didn't even know he had a brother."

It wasn't until 1950, after having passed each other several times during World War II, that the brothers finally met. "The Richfield Oil Co. brought us together in Tacoma, Wash.," Brewer said. "And they broadcast a telephone call to our grandmother in Phoenix coast to coast."

Brewer and Porter began to correspond after their reunion but it was not until 1965 that they saw each other again when Brewer went to Arizona to see Porter. Porter came through Big Spring in 1966 on his way to Germany and saw Brewer's family but Brewer himself was in Thailand.

"My family and I liked Big Spring so much then," Porter said, "that we decided to make this our retirement home."

And after just two weeks of living together as brothers, Brewer and Porter have already figured out where and how many times their paths have unknowingly crossed during their individual lives.

"In 1944, I was on an LST landing at Utah Beach in Normandy," Porter said.

"And I was in a C41 flying supplies over the invasion," said Brewer.

The brothers compared notes from the Battle of the Bulge, also.

"I was in Bastogne, France, when Bud's eighth Battalion relieved us for the occupation," Brewer said. "For all we know we could have rubbed elbows."

There were several tours of duty in Germany after the war for Porter (that's where he met his wife), but Brewer was back home getting shipped around stateside.

A SECOND CHILDHOOD has started for brothers Henry (Hank) Brewer (left) and Richard (Bud) Porter who were separated during infancy by adoption but are reunited now and living in Big Spring.

"We came to Big Spring in 1958," he explained. "And except for my year's trip to Thailand I've been here ever since. I'll stay here when I retire in three years, too."

And now that the two men are reunited, they find more and more similarities between them.

"We both like fishing and camping, and we're both involved-type people. We act alike, look alike, and even talk alike," they concurred.

"We both wear glasses and our taste in dressing is similar," said Porter, who is now a local representative for United Fidelity Insurance Co.

"And we both have a gap in our front teeth," added Brewer. Brewer lists active affiliation with many organizations like the Chamber of Commerce, the Civitans, American Legion, and the Masons.

"And Bud is interested in civic affairs, too," Brewer added. "But he's moved around so much that he's just now getting involved." Porter joined the local Civitan Club two weeks ago.

"We were both Eagle Scouts, too," added Porter.

And on and on it could go, and it seems that's just how the brothers want it.

"We're not going to cross any paths anymore," said Brewer, "at least not without knowing it."

Explorer Safe Driving Road Rally Set At Odessa

Scores of teenagers from West Texas are expected to be in Odessa Nov. 15 for an Explorers' Safe Driving road rally. The rally is jointly sponsored by the Buffalo Trail Council (Boy Scouts of America) members of The Midland Sports Car Club, and the Joe White Lincoln-Mercury Motor Company of Odessa.

Gary Lipscomb, Post 83 (Odessa) is chairman of the Road Rally.

For the first time, registered Explorers may invite other high school boys and girls who are not members to participate with them in the rally. E. O. Vaughan, field director for the council, said that the rally will be limited to the first 50 cars.

An instruction and orientation period is scheduled from 1-1:30 p.m., at the American Legion Hall on East Highway 80 in Odessa with R. W. Harrington and Charles Webb of the Midland Sports Car Club in charge. Harrington emphasized that this rally is a test of driving skills, with the driver and the members of his team being required to follow a previously unknown 100 to 125 miles route and keep an appointed schedule.

Each of the cars and its team will follow identical routes, starting at two-minute intervals. Trophies will be awarded to the top three teams. Also, the first place team will receive a $25 certificate each, from Dunlap's of Odessa and an Explorer's Windbreaker jacket. The second place winners will receive trophies plus $15 and a gift certificate from the Model Shops of Odessa. The third place winners will receive trophies and a $5 certificate from the T.G.&Y. Stores of Odessa.

At the conclusion of the Road Rally the Explorers will be treated to a fish-fry, presented by the American Legion and the Permian Basin Bass Club, followed by a dance for the Ex-

Exact Home Location Needed On Voting Form

Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, Howard County Tax Assessor-Collector, issued a plea Friday to rural voters to identify themselves by more than just address on voting registration forms. She asked voters who live outside the city limits to indicate exactly where they live by either naming the owner of the property or describing the location.

"We still need the mailing address," Mrs. LeFevre said. "But, especially with these routes that go through more than one voter precinct, we need a more definitive location so we can assign people to their correct voting place."

Mrs. LeFevre also said that nearly 5,000 persons have already registered to vote in the county, about 3,500 more than at this time last year.

"A lot of the voters are mailing in the application I enclosed with their tax bill," Mrs. LeFevre said. She explained that she stamped the back of a copy of last year's voter registration to make it into an application.

"We've had several people come to the courthouse to register, too," she said, "but we haven't been as swamped as we were last year."

Mrs. LeFevre said applications are being placed in several buildings around town and that people may fill them directly to her at the courthouse.

"We're using the same application we used last year," she said. "But, in accordance with a new bill passed in the special session of the legislature, we're not requiring that the blank for occupation be filled out." She said that as the old applications run out she will authorize new ones to be printed in the form suggested by the secretary of state's office to comply with the new law.

Space on the application for date of birth of applicants under 21 years old does not mean that people under 21 may vote.

"This portion of the application is for those people who will be 21 on or before the day of voting," Mrs. LeFevre said. "We allow them to register before that day, however."

Another law recently clarified by the Secretary of State's office concerns drives for voter registration by organizations and businesses.

"These organizations often pass out applications for voter registration and then mail them in all together," Mrs. LeFevre said. "We appreciate the effort, but we can't accept applications which are mailed in mass. They must be mailed separately." She added that members of the same family are allowed to mail their applications in the same envelope.

Hot Rod Action Opens At State

"Hot Rod Action" which opens at the State Theatre, presents the exciting action and thrills of the fastest growing sport in America.

The film details nearly every form of motor racing, ranging from the famed Indianapolis 500 to the lesser known drag racing boats in California's Long Beach Marine Stadium. In between are events that draw nearly 40 million spectators each year in the United States alone.

Probably the fastest growing form of the sport is popular drag racing. This form of racing drew more than six million spectators last year and has in excess of 50,000 licensed drivers competing nationally.

"Hot Rod Action" captures the daring and thrills from the famed Motor Trend 500, Daytona 500, Southern 500, International Drags, Indianapolis National Drags and the World Championship Drags at Southwest Raceway in Oklahoma City. In addition, the color feature depicts some of the activity on the automotive scene INVOLVING Dune Buggies, Rallies and a Concours De'elgance.

Automotive critics have hailed the film as the most definitive of its type ever produced.

The Cinerama release was produced by Robert E. Petersen Productions which is the film arm of the Petersen Publishing Company, the world's largest publisher of specialty books and magazines. The Petersen journalists publish such motoring publications as "Hot Rod," "Motor Trend," "Car Craft," "Sports Car Graphic," "Rod & Custom," "Hot Rod Industry News," and "Wheels Afire." They are acknowledged to be among the world's foremost experts in the automotive field and were instrumental in guaranteeing the accuracy of the film.

'Midnight Cowboy' Coming Thursday

"Midnight Cowboy" moves fast from Texas to New York to Florida and director John Schlesinger moved cast and crew just as fast to the actual locations called for in the script. Neither he nor producer Jerome Hellman, advocates of cinema verite, considered any other option.

In color, the unusual drama starring Dustin Hoffman and Jon Voight, opens Thursday at the Ritz Theatre.

Many scenes for the picture were made in West Texas, including Big Spring, Stanton and Midland.

The film crews made street and cafe scenes in Big Spring, an historic home near Stanton was used, as well as some movie house scenes in Midland. Many area people will be seen in the film as well, as the producers employed "extras" in this area.

"We wanted a bus terminal," Schlesinger recalls, "so we went to the Port Authority Bus Terminal. We wanted a tenement, we found a tenement. There are many tenements in New York. By the time many moviemakers build sets representing locations, they can be at the actual locations and back. With today's cinematic advances, such as zoom and telescopic lenses, there's no reason why street scenes and large interiors should be simulated."

Schlesinger, who developed his cinema verite style as a prize winning documentary filmmaker, considers that it isn't only the look of the scene that is more real, but the feel of it as well.

"Actors are more apt to behave like they're in a bar if they're in a bar," he says, recalling that Dustin Hoffman usually felt much more at ease out of the Filmways Studios in Manhattan than when he was confined to those sets necessary for intimate interiors.

Although Hoffman achieved "overnight" fame for his performance in "The Graduate," he had previously won critical acclaim for his acting on stage in New York. "Journey of the Fifth Horse" won him an "Obie" Award and "Eh" brought him to the attention of Mike Nichols, who cast him as Benjamin in "The Graduate."

His portrayal of Ratso, in "Midnight Cowboy" calls for a seedy, scheming con man. Hoffman rallied to the role. A dedicated actor who has always preferred character parts to star-stereotypes, Hoffman is now in the unique position of being able to combine both characterization and stardom, choosing his roles carefully.

Most comedians are straightforward when they're off the screen and not acting before a camera.

However, this is not the case with Charles Nelson Reilly, seen Thursday nights as Claymore Gregg, the real estate agent of Schooner Bay in "The Ghost and Mrs. Muir."

"I always wanted to be a comedian," said Charles. "In fact, when I look back on my life, it surprises me that I received an education since I was always sitting in a corner of the classroom with a pointed hat on," he related.

"I love to laugh," said Charles Nelson, as he is known, "and it's great for keeping your liver in shape!"

'Romeo And Juliet' To Return To Cinema Screen

Italian director Franco Zeffirelli stunned the screen world when he cast two virtual unknowns to play the "star-crossed lovers," in Romeo and Juliet, returning Wednesday to the Cinema Theatre.

From 300 youngsters auditioned during more than three months, the director chose 17-year-old Leonard Whiting and 15-year-old Olivia Hussey who became the youngest performers ever to play the roles professionally.

Whiting is a handsome London lad who finished school only two weeks before beginning the film. He played the Artful Dodger in the long-running London musical "Oliver!" for 18 months, and for 13 months appeared in the National Theatre production of Congreve's "Love for Love," which toured Moscow and Berlin.

Miss Hussey, age 15, is the daughter of an Argentine opera singer and an English mother. She has been in England for seven years, and until a week before starting Romeo and "ALL MY SONS," an Arthur Miller play, is being produced by Howard County Junior College drama department Oct. 23-25. Standing is the lead son, Chris Keller, played by Phil Stephens and kneeling is Joe Keller, played by Carl Van Vleet.

College To Offer 'All My Sons'

"All My Sons" one of Arthur Miller's plays to receive the Drama Critics' Award for best new American play of the season, will be performed by Howard County Junior College drama department Oct. 23-25, with 8 p.m. performances.

A batch of defective airplane parts are manufactured in their shop, causing the deaths of many men. Deever is convicted of negligence and sent to prison. Kindling the drama is the love affair between a Keller son and Deever daughter, and that a Keller son is reported missing during the war. Adding power to the play is the return of a Deever son, who also was at war, and his bitterness at finding his father in jail while his father's partner went free.

Joe Keller is played by Carl Van Vleet; Kate Keller by Barbara Todd; Chris Keller by Phil Stephens; Ann Deever by Sharon Swim, George Deever by Dwight Fortson; Dr. Jim Bayliss by David Cooper; Sue Bayliss by Michelle Harrell; Frank Luby by Robert Jones; and Lydia Luby by Luan Louder.

Spoudazio Fora

Spoudazio Fora Study Club, by affiliation on the state and national level, is a part of the largest women's organization in the world, the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Chartered in 1947 with Mrs. George Vineyard as president, the club is now headed by Mrs. Roy Reaves, president; Mrs. Dudley Jenkins, vice president; Mrs. Charles Neefe, secretary; Mrs. James Jones, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. J. W. Dickens, treasurer.

In seeking mutual improvement through planned study and association, members have chosen the study theme, "Awareness, Action, Achievement." Programs are either prepared and presented by individual members or guest speakers are invited to discuss specialized subjects.

Since its beginning, the club has chosen special welfare and charity projects as well as supported those of the state and national federations. Its members have helped with fund drives, done volunteer work at hospitals, given aid to needy families and "adopted" residents at Big Spring State

MRS. C. ROSCOE CONE

Legion Auxiliary

The American Legion Auxiliary, Post No. 355, serves as a back-up unit to the post, emphasizing the purposes of the American Legion and working to help accomplish its goals.

Those goals primarily concern war veterans and their families. At the Veterans Administration Hospital, auxiliary members serve coffee, host game parties and help with the Christmas gift shop, as well as offer assistance to needy veterans and their families. Earlier this year, the auxiliary sent two girls to Girls' State in Austin and provided a scholarship at Howard County Junior College. The same projects will be continued in the coming season.

"Americanism" will be stressed as meetings are held the first and third Mondays of each month under the leadership of the president, Mrs. C. Roscoe Cone. Completing the slate are Mrs. Raymond Andrews, vice president; Mrs. Maurine Terrell, secretary; and Mrs. Zelda Rea, treasurer.

The auxiliary was organized in 1932, and Mrs. Frank Powell and Mrs. Pearl Hair were among the first presidents. Mrs. Lorena B. Whatley is the only charter member still active, although 90 names are listed on the membership rolls.

MRS. ROY REAVES

Hospital. The main project, in recent years, has been participation in the hospital's program, "Operation Hope." The work is being continued this year.

Spoudazio Fora has a membership of 15 women who meet twice monthly for programs and several times each year for social activities that include their husbands.

Lakeview PTA

The Lakeview Parent-Teacher Association has as its goal for the year taking the PTA to people who do not come to PTA, building friendly relations between parents and teachers and promoting parent-teacher cooperation to better educate children.

The program theme will be "Understanding the Needs and Problems of Children and Youth," or "Confrontation With Realities."

Officers are A. J. Adams, president; Mrs. John Hernandez, vice president; Mrs. Willie Foreman, secretary; Mrs. James Woodruff, treasurer; and Mrs. Edward Jacobs, program chairman.

The unit was organized in 1949 to promote the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church and community; to raise the standards of home life and to bring into closer relationship the home and the school. Also, to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of the children.

Mrs. Jacobs is the remaining charter member still active, and among the first presidents were Mrs. Ida Mae White and Mrs. Melvage Chaney.

There are 105 members who meet the third Tuesday of the month. Outstanding projects last year included purchasing shrubs to beautify the Lakeview school campus, and organizing a clean-up, fix-up campaign for the community. Also, the unit sponsored Cub Scout Pack No. 40.

The unit, affiliated with the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers, will buy workbooks and other materials for children whose parents cannot afford them.

Progressive Forum

Howard County Junior College had one more student last year than it might have had due to a scholarship provided by the Big Spring Progressive Forum. Making the scholarship available was in line with the club's goal of encouraging intellectual growth through planned study.

Executive officers are Mrs. James Owens, president; Mrs. Roy Cederberg, vice president; Mrs. Maxwell Green, recording secretary; Mrs. D. G. Whitten, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Hugo Campbell, treasurer; and Mrs. Don Priddy, parliamentarian. The forum holds morning meetings the fourth Thursday of every month, and the roster lists 25 members. The group is affiliated with the state and national federations.

Mrs. Bill Draper filled the presidency at its formation in 1963. Other charter members are Mrs. Hugo Campbell, Mrs. Green, Mrs. Horace Rankin and Mrs. Bob Zellars.

"Home of the Club Woman" is the study theme announced for 1969-70.

MRS. JAMES OWENS

1955 Hyperion

F. Dorsey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Jim Watson, treasurer; and Mrs. H. C. Ernsting, parliamentarian.

Programs this fall, based on "The American Woman," are aimed at stimulating individual efforts among members to widen their intellectual horizons and share knowledge with others. In line with this goal, one of last year's projects was working with Head Start.

The club, organized April 15, 1955, has only two remaining charter members; Mrs. Albert Smith, who served as its first president, and Mrs. J. T. Anderson Sr. With a full membership of 25, the club holds afternoon meetings on the first Tuesday of each month.

This year's theme will be "100 Per Cent Americanism."

A number of local school children were better able to see this year because of glasses purchased for them by the Big Spring Evening Lions Club and its Auxiliary, the latter headed by Mrs. G. W. Birrell. Sight conservation and the Lions Crippled Children's Camp at Kerrville are of special interest to the women who help their husbands with charitable projects.

Other auxiliary officers are Mrs. J. C. Wiley, vice president; and Mrs. D. R. Birdsong, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. W. L. Thompson, a charter member, was president when the auxiliary unit was organized in September, 1960. The three other charter members still participating are Mrs. V. L. Perkins, Mrs. J. O. Jaycee-Ettes

The Big Spring Jaycees have a good "right arm" — the Jaycee-Ettes who provide helping hands for most of the Jaycee projects. Locally, the group is comparatively young, being organized Sept. 5, 1963, but it has already chalked up an impressive number of accomplishments in service to the city.

Jaycee-Ettes spurred the March of Dimes campaign last year, served coffee and cake at the Veterans Administration Hospital, donated to the All Faith Chapel fund at Big Spring State Hospital and helped with its Christmas party, and filled ditty bags for the Red Cross. At Thanksgiving, members provided a basket for the needy, and during the year, assisted with the Rattlesnake Roundup and the Miss Big Spring pageant.

Of particular interest to the club is the project of providing transportation to Nolan Underwood, a rehabilitation teacher for the blind.

Many of the undertakings will be continued in 1970, as well as helping with raising money for the United Fund.

Mrs. Max Moore is president. Sharing the slate with Mrs. Moore are Mrs. Melvin Fryar, first vice president; Mrs. Louis Tallant, second vice president; Mrs. Ted Ferrell, secretary; Mrs. Joe Crump, treasurer; Mrs. Don Horton, historian; Mrs. Ben Faulkner, state director; and Mrs. Gerald Wooten, publicity. Mrs. Charles Beil was the first president, and Mrs. Charles Butts and Mrs.

MRS. MAX MOORE

Ferrell are the only charter members active now. There are 20 members who meet the second Tuesday of each month.

Friendship Breakfast Club

Mrs. O. G. Burns and Mrs. Ollie McDaniel will serve as officers for the next three months during meetings of the Friendship Breakfast Club. Each member will serve as a chairman for three months.

The club was formed Aug. 8, 1961, and has a membership of eight members, not to exceed 10. Meetings are held the second Monday of each month.

Last year, the group contributed to the Bible Fund at Big Spring High School and the Christmas Cheer Fund at Big Spring State Hospital. This year, the club plans to assist several charitable organizations and to send flowers and cards to the hospitalized.

The program theme is "A Better Understanding."

MRS. O. G. BURNS

Ladies Home League

The Salvation Army Ladies Home League will study "Daring Dimensions" as the program theme for the year, and its aim is to provide draperies for the Dora Roberts Citadel by raising funds for the project.

The basic purpose of the organization is to give each woman counsel and direction in home management and to influence her in the promotion of a happy, wholesome home life.

The league was chartered in 1939, and meetings are held each Wednesday. There are home leagues in approximately 65 countries.

Outstanding accomplishments during the past year included purchasing a projector for various group programs and supplying money for missionary work in Mexico.

The league assists the Salvation Army in sorting and distributing clothes and other items to those in need.

Officers are Mrs. (Lt.) Joseph E. Saint, officer in charge; Mrs. Birva Kirby, home league secretary; Mrs. R. M. Moore, chaplain; Mrs. Ella Morrell, membership chairman; Mrs. Dora Hart, record sergeant; and Mrs. Pat McNew, treasurer.

MRS. BIRVA KIRBY

Secretaries

Secretaries have been called the backbone of American business, so conceivably, the better the secretary, the better the business.

This is the aim, at least, of Big Spring Chapter, National Secretaries Association (International). The association stresses continuation of professional improvement through educational programs, self-study and encouragement to all secretaries to prepare themselves and sit for the Certified Professional Secretary examination.

Four local chapter members, Mrs. Jerry Callahan, Miss Marguerite Cooper, Mrs. Camille Patterson and Mrs. J. W. Powers, have passed the examination and been awarded the rating of CPS.

Meeting the fourth Tuesday of each month, 22 members are working to increase chapter membership. They plan to sponsor another seminar, with guest speakers, and will enter their chapter bulletin in the Texas-Louisiana Division contest.

All programs are educational and the "program of the year," presented each February, will stress improvement in communications. During 1968-69, the chapter doubled its membership, conducted a one-day seminar and established a chapter in Abilene.

Mrs. J. B. Kain served as the chapter's first president in 1957, and charter members are Mrs. J. P. Curry, Mrs. Bobby Asbury, Miss Cooper and Mrs. Patterson.

Officers are Mrs. Jerry Callahan, president; Mrs. Bill M. Sheppard, vice president; Mrs. E. W. Seitzler, recording secretary; and Mrs. Frank E. Long, treasurer.

We revere and cherish the imagination and charity of Big Spring Women's Clubs. The tremendous aid these ladies lend in making Big Spring the home of many hearts is, at least, commendable. It is the undying faith in mankind that moves them on to their selfless accomplishments. Would that we all cling to that faith.

MRS. B. F. YANDELL

The club has shown concern for others in the community by providing a whirlpool bath for the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, donating youth memberships at the YMCA, contributing to the foreign student exchange program at Big Spring High School and giving

TOPS Pounds Rebels

The problem of excess poundage is faced, sooner or later, by almost every woman. In recent years, as knowledge grew concerning the effects of weight on health and personality, a new type of club sprang up over the nation. It was called TOPS.

MRS. TIM M. LEE

(Take Off Pounds Sensibly.) One of several local chapters, the Pound Rebels has a membership of 35 and meets each Tuesday at the YMCA.

The first such club in Big Spring, it was chartered May 12, 1963, under the guidance of its president, Mrs. Marshall McAdams. Mrs. Grady McCrary, a charter member, is still active.

In learning to control and lose weight, all TOPS members want to become a KOP (Keep Off Pounds Sensibly). The KOPS badge is won by reaching and keeping one's desired weight. As an incentive, the club names monthly, six month's and yearly "queens"; those who have done the most to accomplish their goals. The last six-month queen award went to Mrs. Kenneth Huitt.

The present club leader is Mrs. Tim M. Lee, and assistant leader is Mrs. Jack Minchew. Other offices are held by Mrs. Elton Carlile, secretary; Mrs. Harold Bell, treasurer; and Mrs. James Bodine, weight recorder.

Ladies Golf Assn.

Many of the "extras" that have made Big Spring Country Club a pleasant place have been provided by members of the Ladies Golf Association.

The women have raised money, through the regular duplicate bridge sessions, to buy heating and cooling equipment, drapes, and re-decorating the lounge. This year the club plans to use its money to refurbish the club with new drapes, carpet and holiday and wedding linens. It will also provide funds for social events, and assist the club with golf tournaments.

The LGA sponsors four duplicate bridge games every week. During the summer, "La Gallinas" games are held twice a month for beginning duplicate players, and party bridge is held after each monthly luncheon. The luncheons are scheduled the first Friday of the month, with members alternating as hostesses. Business is transacted, with the aim of bringing the women together to work for the betterment of the club and community.

Programmed this year are teenage dances and parties during the holidays, summer swimming parties and the operation of concessions during golf tournaments. Poker games are held weekly, and free golf lessons have been offered for LGA members and their children. The golf committee has sponsored various tournaments, including the traditional one with women from Webb Air Force Base.

Mrs. Floyd Mays is president of the LGA, and assisting her are the other officers, Mrs. Ken Perry, vice president; Mrs. Dan Wilkins, secretary; and Mrs. Alton Underwood, treasurer. Meetings are not held during the summer.

Rotary Anns

The Big Spring Rotary Club's Rotary Anns is not a formally organized group, and does not hold regular meetings. The women support their husbands in Rotary Club undertakings.

When a district convention is scheduled, or when the district governor and his wife pay an official visit here, it is the Rotary Anns who plan social activities, help with registration and tie together the many loose ends of such a gathering. One such activity, which involved a great deal of planning, was a fashion show for women visitors which was arranged at Big Spring Country Club in 1967.

Heading the Rotary Anns this year is Mrs. Curtis Mullins, wife of the Rotary Club president.

Eastern Star—67

"My Life-Involved" will be the program theme this year for the Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of the Eastern Star.

Officers are Mrs. F. C. Gambill, worthy matron; David Yater, worthy patron; Mrs. O. H. Dailey, associate matron; O. H. Daily, associate patron; Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, secretary; Mrs. C. I. Wright Jr., treasurer; Mrs. J. Alden Ryan, conductress; Mrs. A. A. McKinney, associate conductress; Mrs. Jim Layman, marshal; Mrs. Leon Kinney, chaplain; Mrs. David Yater, organist; Mrs. Elva Biffar, Adah; Mrs. Ralph Mahoney, Ruth; Mrs. Alpha Jones, Esther; Mrs. Nannie Gambill, Martha; Mrs. C. E. Gressett, Electra; Mrs. Alpha Jones, warden; and Mrs. Ryan, sentinel.

A charitable and benevolent organization, the group meets each first and third Tuesday evenings at 8 o'clock. The membership totals approximately 400, and the chapter is affiliated with the Grand Chapter of Texas and General Grand Chapter USA, Order of the Eastern Star.

The first president was a Mrs. Hinton, but most of the records were destroyed in a fire in 1956.

Some of the chapters past accomplishments include support of the home for the Aged in Eastern Star at Arlington, and assistance with serving patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The welfare project is the Eastern Star Home.

Four O'Clock Garden Club

Big Spring is a prettier place in several areas, due to the Four O'Clock Garden Club. With the city's help, the club started Hill Crest Park and has continued to work on its beautification. As a member of the local garden club council, it has worked on council-sponsored projects such as the city park rose garden, patio at Big Spring State Hospital, YMCA landscaping, contacted merchants about downtown planters, city clean-up drive and annual flower shows.

A special project of the club has been garden therapy at the Special Education School.

Basically, the club promotes better gardening for personal satisfaction and beautiful surroundings. Neighborhood and city beautification are aims this year, as in others, and the public will be invited to a special program in December.

Officers are Mrs. Guy T. Cook, president; Mrs. E. D. Campbell, vice president; Mrs. Paul Koshi, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. John Edgar, council representative.

MRS. GUY T. COOK

Actress Lashes At Hugh Heffner

MRS. MYRLE M. LeROY

LeRoy, president; Mrs. Kay M. Williams, first counselor; Mrs. Hugh Nixon, senior counselor; Mrs. Frank George, junior counselor; Mrs. Dudley Jenkins, secretary; and Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, reporter.

Television and motion picture star, Loretta Young, spoke before delegates to the June GFWC convention, voicing sentiments closely in accord with those of the General Federation.

She spoke strongly against Hugh Heffner, publisher of Playboy Magazine, because, she claimed that the image of womanhood which he has created has, "in my opinion, spurred and nurtured today's joyless generation . . . breeding more and more self-degradation and disgust in the minds and hearts of all those who read it."

Miss Young deplored the current trend in movies and felt that the same tactics used on objectionable magazines should also be applied to objectionable motion pictures.

"Hit them at the box office where it counts," said Miss Young. "Hit the producers in the pocketbook — that's where it hurts."

Last year's jacket was styled like a box.
This year's jacket is contoured like a man.

One button is correct.
So are two.

There should be an inside waist pocket to put cigarettes in, so that the inside breast pocket doesn't bulge.

This season the colors to buy are "ish" colors. Grayish-blues, Copperish-browns, Blackish-greens. Just-about-anythingish-grays. And plaids, stripes and checks are bolder and more vivid than ever before.

The trouser must end where the shoe begins.

WE SALUTE ALL
BIG SPRING
CLUB WOMEN

Bulky trousers are a thing of the past. If your husband can slip into a pair with his shoes on, you shouldn't buy them.

If you want this season's look in husbands, don't let them sell you anything but a squared-up shoulder

The big fat lapel is dead. What you want is a slim and styled one.

The sleeve should be short enough to show plenty of cuff

While the up-to-date jacket is longer in style, it's shorter in length.

As far as vents are concerned, make sure the suit you bring home has two. One on each side.

Admittedly, there are several men's suit manufacturers who are completely current in their styling. And if you don't mind a fancy price tag, you can't go wrong with any of them. But maybe you're not made of money. Then there's only one label for you. Tempo. We make contemporary suits that sell for as little as $80. And no more than $100. Now you know how to buy your husband a suit. And have enough left over to pick up a nice little outfit for yourself.

persons to each meeting. The lectures were given by a representative of the Big Spring Police Department and stressed safe driving on country roads as well as city streets.

Mrs. O. B Gaskins, secretary-treasurer, was a charter member when the club was formed in 1929, with Mrs. Lee Castle as president. Other current officers are Mrs. Billy Gaskins, president; Mrs. R. J. Shortes, vice president; and Mrs. Joe Myers, council delegate.

Two club members have received awards for volunteer work at Big Spring State Hospital. Mrs. Billy Gaskins has over 1,000 hours and Mrs. Myers has over 100 hours to their credit. Other members have baked cookies for patients on a regular schedule.

Study themes, (this year "The Key is in Your Hands"), focus on increased appreciation of home life and better family relations. The 10 members meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month.

Order Of Rainbow

The Order of the Rainbow for Girls seek to train girls between the ages of 12 and 18 the "true meaning of womanhood and the responsibilities of womankind."

Organized here in 1946, Big Spring Assembly No. 60 had Vevagene Apple (now Mrs. Don Williams) as worthy advisor, and she later held the state post of grand worthy advisor. The assembly now has 125 members who meet the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month at the Masonic Temple.

Officers, who change every four months, are Peggy Grant, worthy advisor; Esther Dennis, worthy associate advisor; Vicki Annen, charity; Sharon Andrews, hope; and Gayle Webb, faith. Mrs. W. B. Grant is the mother advisor. The worthy advisor's theme is "Walk With Faith in Your Heart."

The assembly, sponsored by Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star, is associated with the Grand Assembly of Texas and the Supreme Assembly at McAlester, Okla. Projects are chosen every four months by the girl holding the office of charity. Some projects have been the March of Dimes, Poppy Sale and Easter Seal Fund. Also, the assembly won first place in the state for collecting hosiery for use in therapy at Big Spring State Hospital. To raise funds for its charities, members have sold perfume and operated concession stands at high school football games.

Women Are Pioneering

The following is from an address delivered at the state convention by Mrs. Walter Varney Magee, president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Pioneering — exploration of new needs — ideas for action — these describe clubwomen of the General Federation of Women's Clubs today.

Clubwomen have had enough of permissiveness in behavior, in entertainment, in government.

Clubwomen are on the move, in their towns and in their states.

Clubwomen have decided that America has too long talked about, studied, and reported many issues, set up committees — and nothing happened.

Clubwomen are fired of fear, of the mild treatment of offenders who cause this fear, and who again and again are turned loose on the public, again to steal, to attack, to intimidate.

Clubwomen are tired of "sick" entertainment. They resent the absence of morality, and they decry the attitudes and promotion of those who claim that a more tolerant and liberal society accepts in its stride what has been foisted upon it by the mass media."

British Wives

A bit of Britain came to West Texas several years ago with the formation of the British Wives Club, most of whom are wives of servicemen at Webb Air Force Base. Due to transfers, membership fluctuates, and at one time, the club was disbanded. Re-activated in November, 1968, it now boasts 20 members headed by Mrs. J. L. Skaggs, president; Mrs. Jim Miller, publicity; and Mrs. Tom Bare, treasurer.

Mrs. Roger Moser was the 1968 president, and five others who joined at that time still hold membership. They are Mrs. Bill Hester, Mrs. Herman Stanley, Mrs. Donald Thelan and Mrs. Bare.

The women help newcomers from Britain get settled in this area and act as "goodwill ambassadors" from their native country to Big Spring.

During bi-monthly meetings, items of interest from Britain are exchanged, and refreshments are typically English. The group has formed a team which plays in the Webb Ladies Softball League.

Plans are now under way for the club to host a Christmas party for a group of underprivileged children.

The Center Point Home Demonstration Club was organized in 1929 and now has a membership of 16 women, whose purpose is learn better homemaking methods, new ways of dressmaking and to contribute to the betterment of the community. Members donate to the Big Spring State Hospital and other worthy organizations.

The club is affiliated with the Texas Home Demonstration Association and last year furnished cookies for the Big Spring State Hospital and contributed to the 'Buck of the Month' club. Also, members assisted with Christmas parties and picnics at the hospital. They gave a donation to the Bible Fund at Big Spring High School, and they plan to continue these same projects this year.

Officers are Mrs. T. A. Melton, president; Mrs. J. W. Trantham, vice president; Mrs. D. H. Griffith, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. J. R. Petty, council delegate.

The aims for this season are to have more beautification programs in the community and in the homes.

intimate touch with many lives and minds," said Mrs. LaRochelle, "thus offering the opportunity for friendship."

Guiding the new group will be the local BSP city council and Beta Sigma Phi International.

Welfare projects, though indefinite at this time, will be aimed toward needy families in the community.

NCO Wives

Mrs. Walter Zook took over the presidency of the Non-Commissioned Officers Wives Club this month when Mrs. Eddie Hood resigned due to her husband's transfer from Webb. Mrs. Rudy Cherry assumed the post of first vice president, and a new second vice president is yet to be elected. Other officers are Mrs. Frank Moore, secretary; Mrs. John Buckley, treasurer; and Mrs. Donald Martin, parliamentarian.

Formed several years ago, the NCO Wives now number 70, holding business meetings the first Tuesday of the month and gathering for a social event every fourth Tuesday. The club provides the opportunity for friendship among members and offers a central agency through which they may sponsor or assist with welfare projects. Most of these efforts are keyed to base needs, however, the women also help with civilian undertakings. Currently, they are helping provide hot school lunches for underprivileged children.

Members have given their time to the Veterans Administration Hospital and the Red Cross, as well as donating time to the base Thrift Shop.

According to Mrs. Zook, this year the club will stress unity among members.

Reasons Behind Uprisings Probed At Convention

The keynote address — "Academia — Where to?" given at the General Federation of Women's Clubs convention by Dr. Forrest H. Kirkpatrick, vice president of Wheeling-Pittsburgh Steel Corporation, probed the reasons behind the college uprisings. Dr. Kirkpatrick, while deploring violence, did feel that "education in the future must either radically adjust its curricula and its major goals of teaching or founder hopelessly in a morass of knowledge." He advocated a new kind of teacher, one less anchored in the past and less parochial in interests. This would produce what the times call for... a new kind of student, more independently oriented and more prone to judge things on a wider spectrum of knowledge.

"My chief concern about student activism is not that it is taking place, but rather that, in too many instances, activism appears to have lapsed into protest for the sake of protest and without regard for constructive results," he said.

Dr. Kirkpatrick observed that "Demonstrations to end war are not the exclusive creation of this generation, although the techniques of demonstrating have changed. Another generation of youth was upset and alienated not only because of wars but also because of a crushing economic depression, the reasons for which we could not understand, but the results of which kept men jobless and hungry."

The speaker said that criticism of the status quo always will exist. "These are the years for searching and questioning; otherwise, college and university life is without meaning and depth."

dent; Mrs. J. C. Rogers, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Abbe, recording secretary; and Mrs. Arthur Wadle, treasurer. The 51 members represent numerous businesses and professions.

"By being part of a national organization, ABWA members receive training designed to make them more efficient and more cooperative toward their work, employers and customers," says Mrs. Hans. "Thereby, they increase earning ability and chances for success in their chosen field."

Particularly interested in encouraging more young women to enter the world of business, Cactus Chapter has awarded six local scholarships, secured one outright grant and one interest-free loan from the national headquarters. In carrying out this year's theme, "Achievement Time is '69," it will award six more local scholarships and work to get one more interest-free loan.

The chapter's first president was Mrs. T. D. Price, and 12 of the charter members are still listed on the membership roll.

Also, the club makes an effort to develop in women and girls a new environment and added happiness in their community life.

Some of the outstanding accomplishments for the past year included donating to the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, the Big Spring State Hospital and assisting 4-H boys and girls in their programs.

The club has assisted needy families in the community and has donated to the March of Dimes, the Heart Fund and the American Cancer Fund.

Officers are Mrs. Ray Swann, president; Mrs. Ralph White secretary; Mrs. D. S. Phillips treasurer; Mrs. O. D. O'Daniel Sr., council delegate; and Mrs. LeRoy Echols, reporter.

The highlight of the year's activities for the Big Spring Chapter of World War I, Auxiliary Barracks No. 1474 was serving as hostess to the District 19 convention held in May, 1969.

The chapter serves refreshments once a month to patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital, and they make a donation to the Cancer Fund. Project aims for this season include making Christmas boxes for patients at the Veterans Administration Hospital and assisting with decorating trees at Christmas.

Eighty-two members meet the second Thursday of each month for patriotic, fraternal, historical and educational purposes. The chapter is affiliated with the District, State and National WWI Auxiliary.

Mrs. Lee Castle is president. Officers are Mrs. E. L. Patton, senior vice president; Mrs. W. E. Moren, junior vice president; Mrs. Mary E. Brown, treasurer; Mrs. T. B. Clifton, guard; and Mrs. Viola L. Younger, publicity chairman.

Officers Wives Club

The Officers Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base came into being when the base was reactivated in 1952. Membership fluctuates from month to month, the current membership being 550, including wives of permanent party personnel and students.

The club serves to collect and disseminate information of interest to its members as well as sponsor social, cultural, educational and charitable activities for the wives and their families. In 1969, the OWC sponsored the first debutante ball held at the base.

Monthly luncheon programs, on first Thursdays, may include fashion shows, musicales, skits, films, art and craft exhibits, or book reviews. Bridge and other table games are played on a regular schedule, and from time to time, special courses are offered of interest to women.

The OWC supports numerous Air Force and service welfare projects and provides volunteer workers for Big Spring State Hospital and the Veterans Administration Hospital. The OWC membership is represented in many community undertakings, including annual fund drives.

Officers are Mrs. Richard L. Cassell, president; Mrs. David P. Mott, first vice president; Mrs. Ronald Sager, second vice president; Mrs. Billy Walker, third vice president; Mrs. Phillip Raign, recording secretary; Mrs. Michael Corcoran, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Frank D. Borner, treasurer;

Lomax HD

The 12 members of the Lomax Home Demonstration Club all joined the group because they wanted to become "better educated women and better homemakers." The opportunity is afforded them, through programs and informative literature made available to them through the A&M University Extension Service and the county HD agent, Mrs. Delaine Crawford.

Through membership in the county HD council, the group participates in county-wide events and keeps informed on what other clubs are doing in study programs and special events.

This season, the members have set their sights on learning all they can about homemaking and other phases of life which interest women in general. Programs already lined up will deal with health, citizenship, safety, 4-H work, recreation, family life, foods, clothing, fashions, furniture and government.

Of interest to many Lomax residents was the Thanksgiving community dinner sponsored last year by the club, which also baked over 2,600 cookies for patients at Big Spring State Hospital as well as delivering a box of gifts there at Christmas.

Officers are Mrs. Waymon Etchison, president; Mrs. L. G. Adkins, vice president; Mrs. David Roberts, secretary; Mrs. Richard Posey, council delegate; and Mrs. Ervin Bridge, reporter. Meetings are held twice a month, on the first and third Thursdays.

XYZ Club

The promotion of friendliness and fellowship among wives and members of the American Business Club is the basic purpose of the XYZ Club.

Founded in 1936, charter members still active are Mrs. J. D. Jones, Mrs. C. O. Nalley and Mrs. Roy Reeder. There are approximately 35 members, and meetings are scheduled the second Friday of the month.

The group is associated with national American Business Clubs, and its main accomplishments last year were assistance to the West Side Recreation Center, and assisting the ABClub with a basketball tournament.

The club does volunteer work at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and assists the ABClub. For the forthcoming year, members will make sandwiches and refreshments for the ABClub to sell at relays to be held here.

Officers are Mrs. Jimmy N. Butler, president; Mrs. Morris Robertson, vice president; and Mrs. Caleb Hildebrand, secretary-treasurer.

JOHN HAMILTON

Marcy PTA

"To facilitate cooperation between parents and teachers in the interests of better schools" is the primary purpose of the Marcy Parent-Teacher Association which meets on the first Tuesday of each month.

Charter members who have remained active are W. R. Dawes, Mrs. Dorothy Eubank and Mrs. John Nobles. The first president was Capt. Ernest G. Baumann. The unit is federated with the Big Spring Council of PTA and the Texas Congress of PTA.

During the past, some of the accomplishments include the provision of a forum for discussion of educational problems and innovations, and provided playground equipment, sidewalks, library books and school furnishings. Last year, with the aid of the school district, the unit provided paved parking space.

The unit has a membership of over 200. Officers are John Hamilton, president; Maj. Duane C. Feichfinger, first vice-president; Mrs. Dearl Pittman, second vice president; Mrs. Joy M. Taylor, secretary; and Sgt. Jimmy C. Wiley, treasurer.

Mrs. JIMMY N. BUTLER

BSP-Mu Zeta

The Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, will provide a food basket for a needy family, visit patients in the Nursing Inn and sponsor parties for the Veterans Administration Hospital and the Big Spring State Hospital, as its annual project for the year.

In order to finance these service projects, the chapter will hold a garage sale, sponsor a spaghetti supper, hold a dessert bridge party and award prizes.

Last year, the group sponsored a monthly grooming class at the state hospital and held an annual birthday party there, besides visiting the Big Spring Nursing Inn.

Mrs. E. C. Bell was the first president, and the local chapter was organized in 1952, with the international club founded in 1931.

Approximately 20 members meet the first and third Mondays of the month for the purpose of uniting young women of the community in forming friendships and aiding in cultural development. The chapter is affiliated with Beta Sigma Phi International, uniting over 9,000 chapters across the world.

MRS. OWEN H. WORMSER

The program theme is "Beauty - The Person Beautiful; The Place Beautiful; and The Life Beautiful."

Officers are Mrs. Owen H. Wormser, president; Mrs. Robert Knight, vice president; Mrs. James Tibbs, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert von Rosenberg, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Garland Braun, treasurer.

Cedar Crest PTA

Head Start will gain support this year from volunteers who are members of the Cedar Crest Parent-Teacher Association, according to Mrs. Iver Spencer Sr., president.

"Basically, our purpose is to help parents and teachers get to know each other and work together for the good of the child," explained Mrs. Spencer.

Two of the unit's most notable undertakings were the paving of part of the playground and raising funds to provide air conditioning at the school.

Organized in 1935 (when the school was known as West Ward), the unit now has 50 members, with meetings scheduled the second Thursday in every second month.

Completing the officer slate are Mrs. Douglas Hedges, vice president; Mrs. Jimmy DeLeon, secretary; and Mrs. George Smith, treasurer.

MRS. EUGENE SMITH

Lees HD

The purpose of the Lees Home Demonstration Club is to preserve the sanctity of the home by teaching its members to work and play together, to believe in God and to have compassion for others.

Chartered in 1953, the club is affiliated with the Texas Home Demonstration Association and has 10 members. Mrs. J. J. Overton and Mrs. A. W. White are remaining active charter members, and meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesday of the month.

Last year, the club won first place in this district for the Texas Communities Improvement contest. The group limits its charity work to the needy of the community, but it is planning an auspicious project for the coming year when the club plans to purchase four acres of land to begin a new community center.

The program theme for the year will be creative arts.

Officers are Mrs. Eugene Smith, president; Mrs. Bennie Blissard, vice president; Mrs. V. E. Phillips, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. J. J. Overton, reporter; Mrs. J. L. Overton, council delegate; and Mrs. Gary Seidenberger, assistant reporter.

Sew And Chatter

The Sew and Chatter Club is just what it implies, a group of friends who enjoy sociability and fellowship while doing things for others. Since March, 1937, the women have met twice a month on Wednesdays.

The first president was Mrs. A. M. McCloud, now a resident of San Antonio, and charter members are Mrs. H. V. Crocker and Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales.

No idle group, the women personify their year's theme, "Fellowship and Action." The action of their nimble fingers benefits the community in various ways. They have sewn and filled ditty bags for the American Red Cross to ship to servicemen overseas, made pitcher pads for the Veterans Administration Hospital, dressed dolls for underprivileged children, donated food baskets at Thanksgiving and Christmas and made quilts for needy families.

An annual project is the making of a quilt to be sold for the March of Dimes. The projects will be continued this year, along with donations to the Heart and Cheer funds.

MRS. C. M. WEAVER

Club officers are Mrs. C. M. Weaver, president; Mrs. Lawrence Robinson, secretary; and Mrs. S. R. Nobles, publicity.

The General Federation of Women's Clubs asks that news media de-emphasize coverage of campus disturbances and that lawmen handle them as they would any other disturbance in order "to discourage publicity seekers."

Rehab Volunteers

The Volunteer Auxiliary of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center has given invaluable aid to the center during the three years it has been organized. The need for such a group had been evident for some time before its formation Feb. 17, 1966. Then, as now, Mrs. Roy Granbery served as president. She is assisted by Mrs. Morris Robertson, volunteer coordinator, and Mrs. Joe Smoot, social chairman.

The 15 members provide transportation for patients, set up booths and equipment for therapists, assist with vocational training and help with office work. Last year, they organized a group of high school junior volunteers to work at the center during summer months, and at Christmas, the auxiliary hosted a party for patients at the center. The volunteers will broaden their service this year by working in the newly-improved speech therapy department.

The auxiliary does not hold meetings except for special occasions.

Jo Bright

Whether it's fashions or weddings, home demonstration meetings or balls, chit-chat or special events, Jo Bright, woman's editor for The Herald, gets in on the act. In addition, she works with the photography department in developing feature pages or picture essays for Sunday's Herald. Mrs. Bright also fires off an occasional, staccato column on people and their doings.

Another familiar by-line in The Herald women's section belongs to Rhoda Lemons. She covers so many fronts it's difficult to pin her down, but she specializes in food page interviews and recipes, and in the role of modern women as managers who run the business of a home. She also introduces new families to Big Spring, writes club and church women's news, as well as the affairs of the PTA and many other groups.

Rhoda Lemons

Lucille Pickle

Another regular contributor to the woman's pages through the medium of her column is Lucille Pickle, a member of one of the city's earliest families but with wide contacts among the newest comers. Her 'Round Town has bits of philosophy mixed with comings and goings, and with tidbits that give the news flavor and make people in the column come alive.

Lots Of News

We may not get all the news—but we get a lot of it. Every year The Herald's women's pages have more than 4,000 news stories about local and area women, plus hundreds of pictures—plus current news and special events from the Associated Press wires. You can help us get more by calling us at 263-7331.

MRS. WAYNE BEENE
Letter Carriers
Auxiliary

Serving as a support organization, the Ladies Auxiliary to the National Association of Letter Carriers directs its efforts toward improving working conditions of NALC members and uniting their families in friendship. Membership is open to wives, mothers and daughters of NALC members, and meetings are held once a month. The local group, composed of 21 members, is affiliated with state and national auxiliaries.

Mrs. Wayne Beene is president, and her fellow officers are Mrs. Edward Slate, vice president; Mrs. Fred White, secretary; Mrs. Wade Bledsoe, treasurer; Mrs. Melvin Daniels, chaplain; and Mrs. Melvin Newton, color bearer.

Uniting their efforts, the women will work toward achieving legislative benefits for the letter carriers and study government action concerning policies in regard to the NLCA.

Last year, the auxiliary helped host the District Four meeting and acted as hostesses for open house ceremonies at the new Federal Building. It sponsors a Brownie Troop and Girl Scout Troop, buying supplies and assisting with parties. Each month, members sponsor a birthday party at the Veterans Administration Hospital (for which they furnish hosiery for therapy and pitcher pads). Monetary contributions go to the Christmas Cheer and Bible funds as well as the state welfare fund.

This year, the auxiliary will continue the VA and Girl Scout projects and hopes to place the "Book of Freedom" in the library and all city schools. In January, the women will host the joint installation of officers for the NLCA and auxiliary, which will be attended by branches and auxiliaries from Midland and Odessa.

Organized in 1961, the auxiliary had Mrs. Willard Hendricks, as its first president. She still holds membership as do other charter members, Mrs. A. W. Moody, Mrs. Don Trupp, Mrs. Melvin Brown and Mrs. Wendell Payte.

"Down to Earth" will be the study theme for the Planter's Garden Club for the ensuing year. Organized in 1954, the club promotes cultural and intellectual development through study of horticulture, flower arranging and gardening and contributes to the community through the study and practice of good gardening by beautification programs.

Club officers are Mrs. Paul W. Guy, president; Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, first vice president; Mrs. S. P. Jones, second vice president; Mrs. Frank Wilson, third vice president; Mrs. J. W. Trantham, secretary; Mrs. J. O. Murphy, treasurer; and Mrs. Luke Fortenberry, council delegate.

Charter members who have remained active are Mrs. Frank Wilson and Mrs. S. P. Jones, who holds honorary life membership. Mrs. Guilford Jones was the first president.

Members meet the second Wednesday of each month, and there are 21 members on the roster. The club is federated with the National Council of Garden Clubs; Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.; District One, Texas Garden Clubs, Inc.; and the Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs.

Last year, the club sponsored two members for preparation as National Flower Show judges, when the club sent the women to flower show schools for study. The group sponsored the first individual club show in the spring and published the monthly leaflet, "Hoe And Rake." During the summer, the club remained active and members entertained their husbands with an ice cream supper, conducted an intensive litterbug campaign and planted a tree at the Veterans Administration Hospital on Arbor Day.

The club's welfare project is an 'adopted' ward at the Veterans Administration Hospital; providing an arrangement each month for the patients and decorating the ward at Christmas.

For this year, project aims will continue for sponsoring members wanting to be flower show judges, conducting a litterbug campaign, volunteering services at the VA Hospital and participating in national, state and district projects and objectives. The group will continue the publication of "Hoe and Rake."

chase youth memberships at the YMCA.

B&PW Club

The Business and Professional Women's Club meets the second and fourth Tuesdays of the month to elevate its standards by promoting interests and extending opportunities for business and professional women and to bring about a spirit of cooperation among all career women.

The club was chartered in 1939, and Miss Edith Gay is the only remaining charter member. The club membership is 55 women. Miss Jeanette Barnett was the first president.

Current officers are Mrs. Weldon Nuckolls, president; Miss Movelda Rhine, first vice president; Mrs. G. P. Morrison, second vice president; Mrs. Ray C. Nichols, recording secretary; and Mrs. Leslie Lloyd, treasurer.

The club is federated with the National Business and Professional Women's Clubs. Aims for this year include becoming a 'criteria' club, to give a scholarship to Howard County Junior College, assist the Big Spring State Hospital, organize a Samothrace Club, sponsor a seminar on parliamentary procedures; unify efforts, assist members through pride and accomplishments and to fulfill the promise of the objectives.

The program theme is "Build, Plan and Work." Last year's

MRS. WELDON NUCKOLLS

Piano Teachers Forum

The Big Spring Piano Teachers Forum unites in one local organization, persons who are engaged or interested in any phase of teaching music education. By uniting, they are better able to advance musicianship and appreciation of music in the city.

Forum officers are Mrs. Donald Richardson, president; Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser, first vice president; Mrs. A. E. Hyden, second vice president; Mrs. Roy Koonce, secretary; and Mrs. Delnor Poss, treasurer. The 14 members meet monthly on the first Monday.

A local organization, unaffiliated with others, the forum presents a piano artist in concert each year, however, this year, three were presented.

They were Larry Evans, Bill Evans and Mrs. Jan Baggett Deats. The project will be continued in 1970, as well as a spring festival when the teachers' pupils will play for judging.

MRS. DONALD RICHARDSON

The forum was founded Nov. 6, 1955, and there are still four charter members, Mrs. Fred Beckham, Miss Roberta Gay, Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser and Mrs. A. E. Hyden.

Kentwood PTA

Last year, the Kentwood Parent-Teacher Association purchased books for the school library and paved a basketball court on the school grounds. Project aims for this year include purchasing a reading machine and film for the school.

Officers are Mrs. Paschal Odom, president; Mrs. Dan Shockey, vice president; Mrs. Les Caperton, secretary; Mrs. John Turner, treasurer; and Mrs. Don Wiley, publicity.

The unit's welfare project is the improvement of Kentwood Elementary School and assisting the children who attend there. The unit is federated with the City Council PTA and the Texas and National Congress of Parent-Teacher Associations.

Mrs. Alvin Huskey was the first president when the unit was organized Oct. 24, 1963. Meetings are held at 3:45 p.m. welfare project was the Big Spring State Hospital. The club hosted a picnic and Christmas party for the patients.

Outstanding accomplishments for the past year were becoming a "criteria club" by giving a scholarship to a local girl at Howard County Junior College and by an equalization of membership.

Kiwani-Queens

The Kiwani-Queens, auxiliary unit of the Kiwanis Club, was formed in 1945 to promote fellowship among Kiwanians and their families, as well as contribute to the betterment of Big Spring. Mrs. H. W. Smith was the first president.

The new slate includes Mrs. Pete Hull, president; Mrs. Billy Smith, vice president; and Mrs. Noel Reed, secretary.

Kiwani-Queens assist with Kiwanis Club projects, including welcoming incoming student pilots at Webb Air Force Base at social events that enable them to become acquainted with townspeople.

The 28 members, who hold a noon meeting the second Thursday of each month, donate to fund drives and sponsor a youth at Big Spring State Hospital.

MRS. DAN BRASHER

MRS. STEVE BAKER

Past Matrons

Only leaders are represented by the Past Matrons Club, Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star, for membership requires that the women have served as worthy matrons of the chapter. The first president was Mrs. Marvin Rawls, now of Cerulean, Ky.

Charter members, when the group was formed in 1938, were Mrs. C. A. Murdock, Mrs. Dalton Mitchell, Mrs. G. W. Dabney, Mrs. Charles Koberg, Mrs. George Hall, Mrs. Charles Dunagan, Mrs. Joe Hayden, Mrs. H. F. Williamson and Mrs. G. C. Graves.

Leading the club in this year's benevolent and social activities will be Mrs. Steve Baker, president; Mrs. Nannie Gambill, vice president; Mrs. Mitchell, secretary; and Mrs. W. D. Peters, treasurer. Night meetings are held monthly on the second Tuesday, with themes following things which apply to the season.

Contributions from the club have gone to the Bible Fund, Heart Fund and Cancer Fund.

Fifteen years ago, there was a need for a younger women's club to become a part of the local federated group. The void was filled in 1954 with the formation of the Junior Woman's Forum, headed by Mrs. Billie McClure. Like the other study groups, the forum is affiliated with the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs and the General Federation of Women's Clubs, supporting their endeavors throughout the world.

President for the 1969-70 club year is Mrs. Joe Horton, and working with her will be Mrs. Alton Marwitz, vice president; Mrs. Delbert Donelson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Leon Miller, recording secretary; and Mrs. Doug Cutsforth, treasurer.

"Look Again," a study of different types of art, will be conducted this year at meetings held on the second Tuesday of the month. The previous theme was "Time To ACT" (appreciate, create, teach), and members worked at applying the slogan to their lives.

All are encouraged to develop their intellect through constructive reading. An off-shoot of this goal is the forum's library project in which members take children at the Westside Recreation Center to the library and help them select books. Besides helping at the center, the women work for the United Fund and March of Dimes.

There are 15 regular members, two associate and two honorary.

Favors Abortion

The General Federation of Women's Clubs favors therapeutic abortions in certain instances and underlines the need for a reaffirmation of national morality and integrity.

Credit Women

The Past Matrons Club of Coahoma, which meets the first Saturday of every month, still has 16 of its 26 charter members. The group acts in conjunction with the Order of Eastern Star and all its members have, at one time, held the office of worthy matron in the OES.

Basically a social organization, the women visit the sick and contribute to welfare needs in Coahoma. Each month, the hostess is responsible for presenting a program of her choosing, which allows variety in subject.

Officers are Mrs. Ernest Garrett, president; Mrs. D. S. Phillips, vice president; Mrs. Melvin Tindol, secretary; and Mrs. Fred Adams, treasurer. Mrs. Florence Read was the club's first president.

ESA—Alpha Chi

Mrs. Jack Price has been elected to head Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, for the current year. Serving with her are Mrs. Ruben Reavis, vice president; Mrs. Ray Weaver, corresponding secretary; Mrs. N. R. Holcombe, recording secretary; Mrs. George Anderson, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Rogers, education chairman.

The 15 members hold meetings on the second and fourth Thursdays of each month during the club year and meet monthly during the summer.

The chapter is affiliated with Epsilon Sigma Alpha, Int., headquartered at Loveland, Colo., and like its sister chapters, benefits its members through education, social activities and philanthropic endeavors.

The chapter supports the international and state projects as well as those that are directly connected with Big Spring. Last year, the international project was the National Foundation (March of Dimes.) State projects included the Birth Defects Center at Galveston and the Muscular Dystrophy Association of Dallas. Closer to home was the state project, the Pyote Children's Home. Locally, the chapter assisted with the muscular dystrophy fund drive and the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Projects for the coming year are not yet confirmed.

The program theme for the

year will be "Facts Are Fun in ESA."

AAUW

The officer's slate for American Association of University Women includes Mrs. Wilbur Cunningham, president; Mrs. Star Warford, vice president; Mrs. Walter Wheat, third vice president; Mrs. Thomas Ross reporter; Mrs. John Annen, treasurer; and Mrs. Richard Kossmiller, secretary.

Project aims for this season are to provide educational entertainment for Big Spring children; provide resource personnel to the adult education project at Big Spring State Hospital; provide a speaker's bureau for other organizations; to support Planned Parenthood and to do volunteer work at the clinic.

The program theme this year will be two-fold. The general meetings will be centered around the four areas of interest, community problems, cultural interests, education and world problems. Two study groups will probe the subject, "This Beleagured Earth — Can Man Survive It?"

Projects during the past included distributing pre-school directories to local residents; supporting the Planned Parenthood program; contributing to fellowships for women scholars to do graduate work and providing resource material for the educational program at Big Spring State Hospital. Finally, the group worked for mutual improvement of programs and leadership with other branches of the AAUW.

The association is not federated, but is a national and international association with state and local organizations. General meetings are held the third Monday of each month, and study meetings are held the first Monday of the month.

The purpose of the organization is to unite alumnae of different institutions for practical education work. It enables members to continue intellectual growth, to further the advancement of women and to better discharge their special responsibilities to society.

There are approximately 75 local members, and 170,000 national members. The national founding was in 1882.

GFWC Calls For Law Enforcement

The General Federation of Women's Clubs feels that law enforcement agencies should be called upon to enforce the laws applicable to the disruption of schools and destroying of school property to the same extent as such criminal violations are enforced when other public or private property is involved.

Music Study Club Plate Pushers

The Big Spring Music Study Club is composed of 30 women who have joined together to foster an appreciation of good music in the home and community.

Programs this year will concern music inspired during and because of military and political revolutions, according to Mrs. G. R. Robinson, president.

Others sharing the executive slate are Mrs. Kenny Sheppard, first vice president; Mrs. Michael Leinen, second vice president; Mrs. Walter Osborne, recording secretary; Miss Helen Ewing, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Clyde Cantrell, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Cook, publicity; and Mrs. Jim Baum, parliamentarian. Mrs. G. S. Schurman was the club's first president in 1936, and Miss Elsie Willis is the only charter member still participating in the Wednesday meetings.

Talents of the members have contributed to the appreciation of the Christmas season when they have appeared on special programs at the Veterans Administration Hospital, Big Spring State Hospital, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and numerous churches. The club was co-sponsor this year for a concert by a former local resident, Bill Evans, and it supported the "music corner" in the Howard County Library.

Plans have been initiated to provide a music scholarship at Howard County Junior College and teach music to children at the Westside Recreation Center.

The club is affiliated with the Texas Federation of Music Clubs.

The common goal of shedding excess weight is shared by 19 members of TOPS (Take Off Pounds Sensibly) Plate Pushers who meet weekly in their efforts for self-improvement.

Officers are Mrs. K. C. Webb, Mrs. R. H. Washburn, Mrs. Frank Russell and Mrs. Ray Menges, with Mrs. Washburn being a charter member when the unit was chartered Nov. 22, 1966. At that time, the president was Mrs. Herb Doering.

The Plate Pushers help one another in their efforts to lose weight and secure help from others by having guest speakers present programs.
