DIST. ATTY. DINIS CONTRADICTS AUTOPSY TESTIMONY BY MEDICAL EXAMINER

Doctor Thinks Mary Jo's Body Should Be Exhumed

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP) — Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis took the witness stand today to contradict earlier testimony by an associate medical examiner who said Dinis had told him he did not think an autopsy on the body of Mary Jo Kopechne was necessary.

Dinis said he had first sought an autopsy on July 20, one day after the young woman's body was recovered from Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's automobile in a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island.

By that time, Dinis said, Miss

Kopechne's body already had been flown to Pennsylvania for burial in nearby Larksville.

Dinis testified before Judge Bernard C. Brominski of Common Pleas Court in the second day of a hearing on Dinis' petition to have the body of the 28-year-old secretary exhumed for an autopsy.

He says an autopsy is vital to an inquest he has scheduled into her death.

Dr. Donald R. Mills, associate medical examiner for Duques County, Mass., testified Monday about a telephone conversation he had with Dinis "on Thursday, July 24 or thereabouts."

Mills quoted Dinis as saying: "Mills, you're quite sure of your diagnosis of death by drowning?"

"My answer was, 'I certainly am,'" Mills said.

"Then Dinis said 'I don't think an autopsy is necessary, do you?' and I answered 'No I don't,'" Mills testified.

Dinis today denied he had discussed the advisability of an autopsy with Mills. He said he only discussed whether or not the physician was satisfied with his findings.

Joseph F. Flanagan, counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N.J., who are opposed to the autopsy, objected strenuously again and again as Dinis sought to give his reasons for pursuing the investigation into the girl's death and his need for an autopsy.

Armand Fernandes Jr., assistant to Dinis, asked the Massachusetts prosecutor whether he was satisfied with the investigation conducted by the police. "I am not satisfied," Dinis said loudly just as Flanagan shouted an objection.

"It is not Mr. Dinis' determination to make, whether he is satisfied or not," Brominski commented in sustaining the objection.

"With reference to the death of Mary Jo Kopechne, what investigation if any has your office done?" Fernandes asked.

The objection on this was overruled and Dinis answered, "The district attorney has endeavored to speak to the parties who were present prior to and after the estimated time of death of Mary Jo Kopechne but has been unable to do so.

"None of the witnesses was available," Flanagan then asked that this answer be stricken.

Brominski ordered it stricken. Under cross examination by Flanagan, Dinis said that he has authority to order an autopsy "if I am unsatisfied with the conditions as they existed at that time."

"You had authority at that time?" Flanagan asked.

"If I had knowledge upon which to base my judgment."

"You are the authorized district attorney of the four southern Massachusetts counties?"

"Yes."

"Did you order any police officer to do anything?"

"I am the chief prosecutor of the courts. I have no authority over the police. I have no authority to order any police officer to do anything."

Dinis said he decided to take formal action only after Kennedy made his nationwide television address on July 25, explaining his part in the accident. (See DOCTOR, Page 6, Col. 6)

Coup Staged In Somalia By Military

DJIBOUTI, French Somaliland (AP) — Mogadishu Radio announced today that the army and police took control of Somalia at 3 a.m. today in the wake of the assassination of President Abdirashid Ali Shermarke.

The broadcast said the new regime would continue Shermarke's policies.

The frontiers and the airports have been closed, the announcement said.

Shermarke was assassinated by a member of his police guard during a tour last week of drought areas in northern Somalia. The country had been calm following the assassination, apparently because Shermarke and the alleged killer were from the same clan.

Shermarke, who was elected in June, 1967, was given a state funeral in Mogadishu Monday.

The parliament had been expected to elect his successor within a month, and acting President Muktar Mohamed Hussein was among the leading candidates.

Hussein moved into the acting presidency from the presidency of the national assembly.

The Somali Embassy in Nairobi said a junta had been formed and had replaced the government of Prime Minister Mohamed Ibrahim Egal, the head of the Somali Youth League.

Shermarke became prime minister of Somalia in 1967 when the Texas-size territory of 4.5 million people gained its independence after years of rule by the Italians and the British.

Located at the tip of East Africa, Somalia is one of the hottest countries in the world and its people are nomadic cattlemen and traders. It is bordered by French Somaliland, Ethiopia and Kenya.

Hail Rips Roofs Twister Snaps Power Poles At Andrews

By The Associated Press

While the mighty winds of hurricane Laurie veered away from the Texas coast today, a tornado accompanied by heavy downpours snapped utility poles at Andrews in West Texas.

An estimated four inches of rain drenched Andrews during the pre-dawn turbulence. Golfball size hail battered roofs and gusty winds scattered tree limbs.

Although Laurie continued to shift northeast toward the mouth of the Mississippi River, a hurricane watch remained in effect from Galveston to Apalachicola, Fla.

The Andrews tornado dipped down five miles north of town, hitting near the Wentworth Manufacturing Co. and downing eight power poles. It lifted and then hit again, turning over a trailer house but injuring no one.

The rains did not cause any home flooding, although they sent City Lake inside the town a little higher. It already was out of its banks and did flood some streets.

Laurie's turbulence pushed clouds inland over Texas, triggering showers in the southeast portion. Rains washed Houston's Intercontinental Airport.

Most shower activity occurred along a cold front that extended from El Paso to San Angelo and Shreveport, La. Thunderstorms dumped .11 inches on Midland and .04 in El Paso.

Other showers dotted areas in the vicinity of Lubbock and Amarillo.

The Weather Bureau warned that the hurricane watch along the Gulf coast should not be relaxed until the path of Laurie became more definite.

The hurricane pushed tides as much as two feet above normal along the Texas coast.

Andrews patrolman Herman Williams said rain fell in torrents as the twister disrupted telephone and utility service in several sections of the city.

Williams said he saw the tornado touch ground just northeast of Andrews. The accompanying water spilled into businesses and covered streets from curb to curb.

Sensational Testimony About Army Graft Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has abruptly recalled a general from Europe to the Pentagon for what may be further sensational testimony in a Senate investigation of military graft.

The Army said Brig. Gen. Earl F. Cole was being reassigned indefinitely to Washington "in connection with the current Senate hearings on alleged irregularities" in noncommissioned officers' club operations.

The Army didn't go further officially, but Pentagon sources said Cole's name has figured in military reports on the irregularities which have been turned over to a subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham A. Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Committee sources said Cole, who turned 50 today and is a native of Madison County, Neb., is expected to be questioned although he has not yet been subpoenaed.

Ribicoff's panel is scheduled to resume hearings Wednesday.

The sessions recently produced testimony that a group of sergeants profited at the expense of NCO clubs and that Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, former provost marshal general, sold police-confiscated guns for personal gain.

It was understood the subcommittee wants to question Cole about his tour in Vietnam as deputy chief of staff for personnel and administration in 1966 and 1967—a job which made him a chief overseer of NCO club operations.

It was during that general period when M. Sgt. William Higdon, named in previous Senate testimony, was chief custodian of several service clubs in Vietnam.

Higdon, quoted by one hearing witness as having said a club custodian job "is worth $150,000 a year," ran clubs in the Long Binh area from July 1966 to July 1968.

He was one of several sergeants who joined former Sgt. Major of the Army William O. Woodruff in forming a corporation which did a million-dollar-a-year business with NCO clubs.

Subcommittee sources said Cole also may be questioned about any relationship he had with William Crum, associated with a Hong Kong-based firm called Sarl Electronics which sold slot machines to enlisted men's clubs.

Scurry College Step Nearer

SNYDER — An election is due early in November for the establishment of a Scurry County junior college district.

The Texas Coordinating board for Colleges and Universities Monday gave approval without a dissenting vote, for Scurry County to proceed with a ratifying election. Harry Province, Waco, and Walter Bassano, Paris, who visited an Oct. 8 meeting in Snyder when some 750 people turned out for a mass meeting concerning the bid for a junior college, made and seconded the motion for approval.

This was Scurry County's third bid for a junior college, the first however, to go to the coordinating board. Last year, a special bill to qualify Vernon for a junior college also brought requirements within Scurry County's reach. The minimum requirement now is 3,000 scholastics and county values of at least $30,000; Scurry County has 4,145 scholastics and $138,000,000 in valuations.

When the election is called, seven names will be proposed for trustees. Issues will include the authorization of a maximum 35-cent tax rate and issuance of $3,500,000 in construction bonds. Buford Browning, chairman of the steering committee, predicted that the college proposal would get a 4-1 approval.

Uprising In Chile

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Officers and men in two army infantry regiments mutinied today and the government announced it was faced "with an attempt at military sedition."

The head of the uprising appeared to be Brig. Gen. Roberto Vialva-Marambo, promoted to general command of the 1st Army Infantry Division and officer status nine months ago and withdrawn from command of the 1st Army Infantry Division and called into retirement last week.

The government gave no immediate details. Chile — unlike the majority of other Latin-American countries — has not had a military coup in more than 30 years.

Restiveness has been mounting in the three armed forces steadily for the past two years as a result of low pay. President Eduardo Frei narrowly averted a military crisis in August, 1968, when he promised to do everything possible to raise the military pay.

Gen. Vialva was ordered into retirement and removed from command of the 1st Army Division, with headquarters in the northern city of Antofagasta, for protesting what he called the "dramatic situation" of officers and men.

Vialva tried to get an audience with Frei. He was denied it. Then he sent a long letter to the president outlining his views and made it public.

In Washington, Chilean experts said that the bulk of the Chilean armed forces are in northern Chile and that so far there was no word as to what was happening there.

Gale Force Winds Whip Louisiana's Low Coast

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Gale force winds from 100-mile-an-hour Hurricane Laurie began whipping Louisiana's offshore waters near the mouth of the Mississippi River today.

The powerful storm lost forward speed during the morning as it moved sluggishly through the Gulf of Mexico. The New Orleans Weather Bureau said Laurie would have a slow and erratic movement today but that a drift toward the northeast was indicated.

At 10 a.m. the New Orleans Weather Bureau located Laurie at about 230 miles south of New Orleans.

The Weather Bureau's 10 a.m. advisory said Laurie was poking along at about five miles per hour with a predicted slow and erratic movement during the day.

Thousands of residents along Louisiana's vulnerable low coast fled inland for fear of being trapped in a danger zone on Mississippi's coast devastated by Hurricane Camille two months ago, or even farther east to Alabama or Florida.

A hurricane watch was in force from Galveston, Tex., to Apalachicola, Fla.—some 600 miles.

Due to her shift to the east, the Weather Bureau said the threat to the Texas and west Louisiana coast had lessened—but that the hurricane watch should remain.

ONE GIFT WORKS MANY WONDERS
UF Up $5,000

The United Fund jumped another $5,000 Monday to reach a total of $75,416.16; this year's goal is $110,000. The employees of McMahon Concrete Co. reported in with 100 per cent, fair-share giving, with a donation of $24.56 per employee. Contributions also came in from Paul Meek's out-of-town division, Roger Brown's big gifts division, also the Big Spring State Hospital, and the Big Spring Independent School system.

The hurricane sent howling gales whipping the sea for 160 miles to the north and east of its center.

The most extensive exodus Monday was from Lafourche Parish (county), to the west of New Orleans, where Civil Defense officials asked some 25,000 residents to move to refuge centers at Lockport, Raceland and Thibodaux.

Outside the gulf region, showers and thunderstorms washed much of the Eastern seaboard. Up to an inch of rain fell in Pennsylvania and New York before daybreak.

Clear and seasonally crisp weather prevailed in most of the nation from the Pacific to the Appalachians.

A smattering of isolated showers dampened parts of Arizona and the northern Great Lakes.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 26 at Laramie, Wyo., to 81 at Key West, Fla.

Miracle Whip Trip New Fad

CHICAGO (AP) — A federal drug expert says youngsters in some parts of the country have taken to injecting peanut butter and mayonnaise into their veins as a substitute for narcotics.

In several documented cases the result has been death, Ernest A. Carabillo Jr., a lawyer-pharmacist in the Federal Bureau of Narcotics, told a news conference Monday.

Carabillo said the information that peanut butter and mayonnaise would send users "on a little trip" was contained in an underground recipe book purporting to outline "culinary escapes from reality."

Other recent fads, he said, included the use of paregoric, cleaning fluid, the local anesthetic ethylchloride and freon, the pressurized propellant gas in aerosols.

Carabillo said users of narcotic substitutes confused the bizarre and toxic reactions with the so-called "high" provided by such drugs as heroin or marijuana. He cited the smoking of dried banana skins, a fad of a couple of years ago, as an example.

Frank Gulich, a narcotics bureau official stationed in Chicago, said the underground "cook books" usually sell for about $1 and often give the formulas for preparing drugs such as LSD.

Drug users, Gulich said, are "always looking for new drugs that won't be a violation of the law." Carabillo and Gulich appeared at the annual meeting of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Carabillo urged hospital and control centers to help the narcotics bureau by reporting new fads among users of drugs or substitutes.

"Hopefully, with this type of information, we can eliminate the necessity of waiting for widespread manifestation of a particular form of abuse," he said.

Oh, Officer How Could You?

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. (AP) — An unidentified woman said in Municipal Court she might have been speeding, all right, and it wasn't the ticket that bugged her so much.

The cop who issued it wrote her birthdate incorrectly on the ticket. He made her 10 years older.

"I could get real mad about that," she told the judge.

Judge Says Sadler Must Give Up Loot

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler must surrender all sunken Spanish treasure items, Dist. Judge Paul A. Martineau said Monday.

Judge Martineau said he told Texas Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin that Sadler must give up the items by Tuesday night.

Most of the treasure has been locked in Sadler's office. The rest is in the Texas Memorial Museum at the University of Texas.

The items are artifacts that were salvaged from sunken Spanish galleons off Padre Island by Patoro, Ltd., Inc., of Gary, Ind.

Martineau said he learned just last week that Sadler still had the treasure. Now he wants Sadler to turn the items over to the custody of a special inventory committee headed by Joe Kilgore of Austin.

The committee will take possession of the material Wednesday and Thursday.

Sadler first said he and Patoro had a contract agreement to split the treasure 50-50. Later, however, Sadler denied he had ever signed the contract.

Patoro worked on the wreck during the fall of 1967 until Martineau issued a temporary restraining order Dec. 13, 1967 against the firm. A temporary injunction was filed Jan. 15, 1968 and no work has been done on the site since.

Martineau informed Martin Sept. 18 that he had been given authority to move the items Sadler still possessed to the Balcones Research Center at the University of Texas.

The items will be processed and rehabilitated by Dr. W. W. Newcomb, head of the Texas Memorial Museum and State Archaeologist Curtis Tunnell.

BANK BANDITS BOTCH CAPER

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP) — Robbers went to a lot of trouble in the community of nearby Clifton Hill over the weekend to rob a bank that wasn't there.

They took a ladder from a lumber yard next to the old Clifton Hill Savings Bank, and cut power lines to a burglar alarm. After falling in an attempt to enter through a rear door, they entered by removing iron bars from a window.

The building, vacated almost two years ago, was empty.

The building's owner found blow torches left by the intruders when he visited the building Sunday.

GOP Leader Scott Calls For End To 'Name Calling'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, rebuking Vice President Spiro T. Agnew without naming him, has called for tolerance and an end to "name calling and accusation" in the debate over Vietnam.

Scott, in his most evident disagreement with the White House since his election the GOP's Senate leader a month ago, said "the sincere intent of this debate and of demonstrations" as a phenomenon of freedom and a product of anguish over the war.

The Pennsylvania senator said such protests "will not be stifled or talked down."

In New York, Secretary of State William P. Rogers said the administration has "listened with respect" to opponents of the war.

"Our President is striving for peace in ways that only the man in that office can," Rogers said at the Council of Churches annual "Family of Man" awards dinner.

While there were some "unpleasant aspects" of last Wednesday's demonstrations, Rogers said, "on the whole, it seemed to me that a great many of the demonstrators wished principally to register dramatic but dignified expression of their deep concern for peace in Vietnam. And we listened to these voices with respect—because we, too, have a deep concern for peace in Vietnam."

And the Republican national chairman, declaring flatly that President Nixon is "bringing our involvement in Vietnam to an end," accused administration critics of playing politics over policy.

Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland dismissed Nixon critics as "soundoffers."

Scott's written statement, volunteered late Monday, did not mention Agnew. But a source close to the GOP leader made clear the statement was prompted by Agnew's Sunday attack on the war protest movement.

Agnew, in New Orleans, said leaders of the protest movement are "hard core dissidents and professional anarchists."

The vice president said they were being encouraged by "an elite corps of impudent snobs who characterize themselves as intellectuals."

Scott said the American people have heard enough of invective against Americans who feel a different way.

At the same time, Scott said, Nixon already has responded to public opinion "with significant moves in the direction of peace."

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee which will open a week of Vietnam hearings next Monday, called the Agnew speech undignified. He accused the vice president of "very poor manners."

Suicide Ruled In Shooting

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Suicide has been ruled in the shooting death of Gary Earl Johnson, 21, who officers said led police in a high speed chase ending in a head-on collision early Friday.

Johnson was shot once in the head, a pistol lay beside him in the car after the crash.

Dr. Carl Walker, county deputy medical examiner, ruled suicide.

Nine patrol cars were damaged in the 15-minute chase. The engines burned out in three cars, a transmission fell out of a fourth and four others collided with each other.

State Fair Shy Of Three Million

DALLAS (AP) — The 1969 State Fair of Texas closed a 15-day run Sunday just shy of a three million attendance figure.

Fair officials said 2,992,853 persons attended the exposition this year, compared to last year's record of 3,014,114.

Attendance on closing day was 273,914, up from 203,445 in 1968.

The largest single day crowd this year was 337,815 on High School Day Oct. 10.

Two Cosmonauts Will Visit Manned Spacecraft Center

NEW YORK (AP) — Two Soviet cosmonauts took in a Broadway show and dined in a French restaurant on their first day in the United States. They drank only vodka.

One of them said their warm welcome "revealed humanity at its best."

Maj. Gen. Georgi T. Beregovoi, 48, and Konstantin Feoktistov, 43, a civilian, arrived in New York Monday from Moscow.

They immediately declined an invitation to Mayor John V. Lindsay's reception for the New York Mets, the baseball world champions.

"They have just had a 12-hour jet trip and they're pooped," said Col. Frank Borman, the U.S. astronaut who is their host on the two-week tour.

Beregovoi and Feoktistov went to their Plaza Hotel suites to rest, then went to see "Hello, Dolly!" with Pearl Bailey and Cab Calloway.

Miss Bailey brought the Soviet spacemen and Borman on stage after the show, to a standing ovation from the audience.

"I love you," she said, and kissed each on the cheek. "But tell me, how do you manage to fly up in space like that?"

"You have to have time and ability to do everything," Beregovoi told her.

"How well I know, honey. How well I know," Miss Bailey chortled, and the audience roared.

The party then went to Chez Vito for a late supper. The cosmonauts ordered coquille st. jacques—a scallops-in-cream-sauce dish—steak and vodka.

Beregovoi told newsmen, "I was very much impressed not so much with just the city as with the people and especially the memorable people in the theater whose welcome surpassed cordiality because it revealed humanity at its best."

The spacemen surprised their American hosts by announcing they could not make their scheduled stop at Cape Kennedy, Fla., where America launches its moon missions.

They gave no explanation, but some Americans traveling with the party speculated that Moscow feared if the two visited Cape Kennedy then Washington might request that American astronauts be allowed to visit the Soviet secret take-off center at Baikonur in central Asia.

Beregovoi and Feoktistov fly to Houston today where they will visit the Manned Spacecraft Center and hold a news conference.

Rise In Welfare Payments Noticed

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' new $80 million annual welfare ceiling raised the average aid to families with dependent children payment by nearly $40 in September, the first month of the new increase.

Voters decided Aug. 5 to raise the ceiling from $60 million to $80 million a year. Of the increase, $15 million was automatically appropriated, effective Sept. 1.

Increases were granted to all categories of welfare recipients, with dependent children getting the most.

Average monthly grants rose in September to $122.65 per family, compared with $83.91 in August, the state Welfare Department said.

Only a small increase was allotted to old age assistance recipients. Their average payment increased from $59.48 in August to $64.18 in September.

Aid to the blind average grants increased from $71.77 to $77.13. Aid to the disabled rose from an average of $59.07 to $62.23.

The department said anyone with questions about the size of his own grant should contact his caseworker.

As a result of the rise in the welfare ceiling, the department boosted maximum old age benefits from $110 to $125 per month, maximum disabled benefits from $84 to $100 and top aid to the blind checks from $96 to $110.

After the increase in aid to families with dependent children was approved, rolls rose by 5,688 children in September—twice the increase in August.

"More people became eligible because of lowered eligibility requirements," a spokesman said.

During the campaign for the welfare amendment, the department said approval of the measure would increase total state spending for families with dependent children: From $6.1 million to $18 million a year, old age assistance from $48 million to $50 million, aid to the disabled from $4.2 million to $5.5 million, and aid to the blind at $1.4 million.

Tijuana's Brass Isn't Boycotting

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Tijuana's brass isn't boycotting the Tijuana Brass, but the mayor refused to cross the border Monday night to attend Herb Alpert's benefit concert in San Diego, Calif., for two children's hospitals in Tijuana.

Enrique Perez Ruiz said there was no official protest in his decision to stay south of the border, and he described the concert as magnificent.

"It's just something personal. Operation Intercept is not over. I haven't crossed the border since it started and I won't until it is over," he added. "I'm not going north until the delays stop."

Operation Intercept, the U.S. program against drug smuggling, started Sept. 21 with intensified checks of border traffic. Inspections resulted in delays of up to six hours for motorists returning to the United States, and fewer tourists came to Tijuana.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be sure you get routine work done early since something unexpected can happen and you want to have time for such. Listening to what an expert has to say can pay off later on. Be smart.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Look to that clever associate for the ideas you want of this time instead of giving them with you. You have to use diplomacy in any social affairs later. Don't start an argument over some controversial matter.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you really want to add to abundance, listen to what a higher up has to suggest. Advise. Be sure to persevere in some difficult task ahead of you. This makes a big impression on higher-ups.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can advance more quickly in your career if you keep up to date on most current trends in your line of endeavor. You have excellent new ideas to offer those with whom you are closely allied. Be practical.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Take care of all responsibilities ahead of you so that you have more time to be with loved ones. Follow your hunches and you know exactly the right arrangements to make for the future. Be efficient.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Your associates are vital to your advancement right now, so do everything in your power to come to a better understanding with them. Take over present operations in a very practical way. Get busy on the cultural in the evening.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Try to make your home more comfortable and beautiful so that all will be more peaceful there. Cooperate with an irritated co-worker. Find the right godfests that make your work easier. Be smart.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Discuss with others just how you can make your personal life more satisfying and enjoyable. See how and where they can be of assistance. Be sure to entertain others and get big benefits later on.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Find out what family want and need and quietly do those things that please them. Be sure that you get rid of that obstacle that stands in the way of happiness. Don't be cryptic with anyone.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Talk over how you and associates can become more successful in your line of endeavor, but do it without losing your temper. Then get busy making appointments and corresponding. Be explicit. Have fun in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Study that plan well that will help you to have more abundance in the near future. Get information from one who is really successful. Cutting expenses can be possible, if you think in a practical way. Don't be too soft with others.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Be more interested in the social now and stop giving in to that demanding, narrow-minded person. Get out and have fun. You are such an attractive person that others will really appreciate.

Col. Hodges To Be Legion Meet Speaker

Col. Bob Hodges, commander of the 147th Fighter Group, Ellington Air Force Base, Houston, will be featured speaker at the fall convention of District 19, American Legion, in Big Spring Saturday and Sunday.

Col. Hodges just returned from a three-month inspection tour in South Vietnam. He will speak at a 6:30 p.m. banquet Saturday at the American Legion Post Home, Country Club Road and US 87 south.

Dr. Halvard T. Hansen, commander of the Big Spring Post, said Gen. Walter Staudt, chief of staff of the Texas Air National Guard, originally scheduled as banquet speaker, would be unable to attend, and Col. Hodges would replace him.

About 200 delegates from West Texas will attend the convention. The Big Spring Post will receive a national award for its pilot program on veterans' recognition, according to Dr. Hansen.

Texas Tech Coed New Miss Cotton

DALLAS (AP) — Francine Tippen, 18, a Texas Tech coed who comes from Paducah, was named 1969 Miss Cotton of Texas at the State Fair of Texas Saturday night.

The first and second runners-up were also Texas Tech coeds. They are Pat Lambert, 18, of Abernathy and Gloria Foster, 18, of Wilson.

OH, HAPPY DAY — Willy Brandt, first Social Democratic Chancellor of West Germany, who was elected this morning, and his Norwegian born wife are all smiles during short congratulatory session at the Parliament building at Bonn today.

Bundestag Elects Brandt Chancellor Of Germany

BONN (AP) — The Bundestag elected Willy Brandt chancellor of West Germany today, ending two decades of Christian Democratic rule and giving West Germany its first Socialist chancellor in the nation's 20-year history.

The vote in the lower house of Parliament was 251-235 in Brandt's favor with five deputies abstaining, four ballots invalid and one deputy absent.

Brandt's victory, which gives him a mandate to govern for the next four years, was made possible by a coalition with the tiny Free Democratic party. In the Sept. 28 general election, Brandt's Social Democrats won only 224 seats to the Christian Democrats' 242, but the Free Democrats control 30 seats and gave Brandt the necessary majority.

Brandt, 55, succeeds Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger of the Christian Democrats who Brandt served as foreign minister. They had formed a Christian Democratic-Socialist coalition in December, 1966.

Brandt earlier was mayor of West Berlin, a Socialist stronghold.

The vote for Brandt was two more than the required majority of the total 496 seats in the Bundestag. Brandt noted that he got "200 per cent more" votes than Konrad Adenauer did when he was elected West Germany's first chancellor in 1949 by one vote.

"I am thankful and a little bit proud that I am able to hold this office," he declared.

He said he regarded his election as "a major hurdle" for his government coalition of Social Democrats and Free Democrats, but he added that the government's work "will not be, all that easy."

Kiesinger said Brandt's small majority on the vote was "a sign of what is ahead."

"The new coalition will have a difficult time," he told newsmen. "It will have an opposition that is stronger than any in previous Bundestag. We will, of course, be a strong opposition." Kiesinger added that there were differences between the partners in the new government, but that he expected the two parties to avoid making an issue of them at first. "One will see how long it lasts," he said.

Two More Texans Killed In Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Texans were among 28 Americans killed in action in the Vietnam War on the latest casualty list released Monday by the Defense Department.

Listed were Army Pfc. Robert L. LaCombe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. LaCombe, Route 1, Box 67, Brookshire, and Marine Corps Lance Cpl. Lawrence L. Dwyer Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Dwyer Sr., 222 Future Drive, San Antonio.

Three other Texans were listed as killed from non-hostile causes. They were CW02 Ronald C. Rudolph, husband of Mrs. Paula W. Rudolph, 2607A Les-toak Road, San Antonio; Pfc. Willie G. Lewis Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie G. Lewis Sr., 4884 Keller Springs Road, Plano; and WO1 Rocky D. Armstead, father of Ronda D. Armstead, 2520 Hollandale, Apt. C, Arlington. All three men were in the Army.

East resorted to sleight-of-hand to pull the rug from under the declarer in today's three no trump contract. With a diamond lead it would appear to the world that South has 10 sure tricks, so we feel it is expedient to attend to the telling of our tale without further ado.

West opened the four of diamonds, dummy played the eight and East's queen was captured by declarer's ace. A club was led to dummy's nine and permitted by East to hold the trick. On the club continuation, East rose with the ace and observed that his partner discarded the three of hearts.

It was now apparent that the defense had no future in the red suits and that the only possible place to establish tricks was in spades. The routine play at this point would be the three of spades in the hope that partner has a card to top dummy's ten. It appeared to East, however, that a more drastic course of action was indicated, inasmuch as declarer appeared to have an abundance of tricks available to him as soon as he could regain the lead.

East shifted to the queen of spades, and his desperation move placed the declarer in an awkward position. Had South been gifted with X-ray vision, he would have covered the queen with his king in order to establish North's ten as a third round stopper in the suit.

It appeared to declarer that the queen of spades had been led from a holding which included the jack as well as possibly the nine. If he covered the queen with the king and it lost to West's ace, the dummy's ten of spades would be subjected to a successful finesse on the return, enabling the defense to run the suit.

South therefore chose to play low from his hand, permitting East to hold the return. He ducked the continuation around to the ten, fully expecting that West would be obliged to play the ace in order to win the trick. It came as a distinct shock to South when West produced, in turn, the jack, ace and another spade to set the contract.

Mexican Cops Quiz Yankee About Deaths

TIJUANA, Mexico (AP) — Mexican police questioned a 25-year-old American, Phillip Lee Sumarkoss, today about a missing Laredo, Tex., couple, Mr. and Mrs. Hilario Flores Aguilar.

Sumarkoss already had been charged with murder in the slaying of Bruno C. "Tony" Lanza, 79, a retired San Diego, Calif., sheriff's deputy.

A misunderstanding Monday led relatives of the missing Laredo couple to believe they had been found dead on a Mexican ranch.

But Guadalupe Loera, Aguilar's brother-in-law, telephoned from Mexico early today to say that the Aguilar had not been found at that time and he was continuing the search.

Police Chief Filiberto Estrada Silva said Monday that Sumarkoss, also known as John Hunter, was charged Monday with Lanza's slaying.

Sumarkoss and Elsa Nevev Barrows, 19, were arrested Wednesday at a Tijuana motel. A car identified as one owned by the Aguilar was found there.

The Laredo couple had not returned to Laredo as expected after a vacation. Sumarkoss told officers he bought the car in Tijuana in September for $500.

DID YOU READ THAT RIGHT THE FIRST TIME?

A lot of people usually don't see the extra "the" at first reading. Which only goes to prove that you can't believe everything you think you see. The same thing with your hearing. You're not always aware of what you hear.

Like Muzak, for example. Here's an unobtrusive, scientifically programmed musical environment that people don't consciously listen to but subconsciously react to in a positive, functional way. That's one reason why Muzak is so successful in motivating people and increasing their efficiency. Not because we say so. But because companies like your own are proving it every day.

Bond Sales Off The Pace

District 4 is barely off the pace needed to reach its goal in United States Savings bonds for the year, Larson Lloyd, chairman, reported Tuesday.

September sales amounted to $122,620, which is barely under the $125,000 monthly average the district needs to maintain. For the year, district sales have reached $987,503, which is 66 per cent of the $1,500,000 sales quota for 1969.

Four counties are ahead of their quotas for the first three quarters — Andrews, Fisher, Howard and Martin.

By counties the September record (with cumulative totals in parentheses) and percentage of year's quota, is as follows: Andrews $2,448 ($47,923) 60; Dawson $5,423 ($67,383) 67; Fisher $1,486 ($39,956) 80; Gaines $3,104 ($38,239) 55; Howard $83,873 ($490,653) 82; Martin $5,593 ($26,701) 89; Mitchell $6,297 ($63,075) 42; Nolan $9,736 ($117,621) 44; Scurry ($4,661 ($95,952) 64.

Area I sales for September amounted to $854,447, or $8,596,229 for the year, 68 per cent of quota. Texas September sales of $13,508,678 made $134,118,669 for the year, or 78.8 per cent of quota.

Time For A Decision

What President Nixon's views on Latin American policy really are no one yet seems to know. He is hardly helping inter-American relations by apparently trying to stifle discussion and debate on his increasingly worrisome complex of issues, before he unveils his own proposals as now scheduled for Oct. 31.

Mr. Nixon may have sought to appease Latin impatience by sending Gov. Nelson Rockefeller on four fact-finding trips to the region. But he has only aggravated that impatience by suppressing the content of the Rockefeller report, which was supposed to point the way toward a revised U.S. hemispheric policy, and, to all indications, muzzling the New York governor on the subject.

Some leaks suggest that Rockefeller urged shifts in emphasis in a continuing Alliance for Progress, granting long-sought trade concessions to Latin American countries, and channeling more U.S. aid through international institutions. Rockefeller apparently concluded that U.S. private investment could not take over nearly as much of the task of Latin American development as Nixon would like, and this may be one reason a lid was slammed on his report.

However, it takes only a cursory survey of Latin American conditions and inter-American relations to demonstrate how needful it is to bring all these problems into open discussions, however more immediately pressing our problems in Asia, Europe, the Middle East and at home may be.

Latin American food output has actually recently dropped while record population increases continue. Industrialization is stalling for want of capital and foreign markets. Well over half the region has slipped under military dictatorship. And while communism is not so great a threat there now, there is a mounting wave of new nationalism increasingly suspicious of U.S. interests.

No one cognizant of the complications of Latin American social economic and political problems would expect President Nixon to come up his first year in office with a wonder-working new inter-American policy. But his administration's reluctance to pay serious attention to this important foreign-policy area, is causing consternation among democratic Latin American leaders, as well it should.

Admirable Accomplishment

Russia's accomplishment in putting three space vehicles in simultaneous trajectory, and with a rendezvous of these carriers and their seven cosmonauts is an admirable one. It is something that we have the capacity to do, but something that we have not done.

Demonstrably, Russia has the capacity to link units together, perhaps even to the structural validity of welding parts together. The implications are clear — the idea of a space platform is not only possible, but it is just around the corner.

We have plans in this direction, and regardless of whether we alter our time-table, it should be apparent that of necessity we will be obliged to proceed in this direction. Whether or not these platforms are used for reconnaissance or other military purposes is moot, for the sobering truth is that they could be.

It is to be devoutly prayed that they will be used instead for peaceful pursuits, as a watchpost for global movements of the atmosphere, the seas, and for an unveiled point of viewing the outer reaches of the universe, or for unlimited communications.

Marquis Childs
Sen. Aiken's Pitch For Phasing Out

WASHINGTON — In his slow, twangy Vermont speech Sen. George Aiken tells the story of the farmer whose cow was lost. He and his wife looked for it in vain. Finally, his young son set out and, to the family's surprise, came back in an hour with the cow.

"I just thought about where I'd hide if I was a cow," the boy said, "and I went there and there she was."

THE SENATOR uses this story to illustrate how he would respond if he were President to the ever-louder demand to end the Vietnam war. Disclaiming any advisory role, the Vermont senator has in recent months frequently consulted with President Nixon on the war. He believes the President will order an additional 35,000 to 40,000 troops out of Vietnam shortly before Christmas, bringing the reduction in American combat forces to 100,000 for the year.

divisiveness here at home. He asked for time for the President to carry out a maneuver as perilous as any since America's big-power role.

WE CANNOT, said this unassuming Vermont, achieve "instant gratification" by a precipitate withdrawal of our troops. While no one can predict with accuracy what would happen, whether there would be wholesale massacre such as occurred at Hue during the Tet offensive in February, 1968, the consequences could be disastrous at home and abroad. If law and order in Vietnam should break down with a resulting blood bath it would invite a repetition in this country, the senator warned, of the ugly days of the late 1940s when Americans flailed at Americans over the absurd proposition that nefarious forces within our own government "lost" China.

"Vietnam is no more 'ours' than was China."

He puts it on the line to the President: So long as officialdom in Saigon has a big stake in our arms, our dollars and our all-pervasive presence, the United States will have to impose a government willing to make peace. The old Vermont doubts that we can do it effectively.

HE HAS COME to believe that the war will end not with a peace treaty formally signed and ratified but with a gradual trailing off of hostilities.

The phasing-out line as put by Sen. Hugh Scott, the minority leader, on "Face the Nation" and Secretary of State William P. Rogers on "Meet the Press," is that infiltration from the north has fallen by two-thirds, casualties dropping to an all-time low as encounters with the enemy are steadily reduced.

THE TROUBLE with the line is that no sooner do the officeholders in Washington put it out than the military in Saigon denies it. Not so, say the reports, the enemy is merely preparing for a new winter-spring offensive. Confusion in the public mind could hardly be worse compounded.

This suggests why it is difficult for Mr. Nixon to take Senator Aiken's common-sense advice. The Joint Chiefs of Staff and the far-flung military establishment in Vietnam have had too much influence in the nine months of the Nixon Administration. Far more important, however, is the President's embrace of President Nguyen Van Thieu. Imposing another peace-making government becomes all but impossible.

BUT ONE of the Senate's principal doves has come out for time — time for an orderly liquidation of a long and searing tragedy. That fact outweighs a large number of banner carriers demanding an instant solution.

Billy Graham

I am a university student, who would like to be a real Christian, but I don't seem to have the strength to follow through. How can I become a stronger, more effective Christian? S.R.

One young man in the same position as you said, "My faith is like the ivy on the buildings at the university — but when the walls fall, the ivy falls down."

Too many of us have a 'second-hand' faith — handed down by our families, but we have really never made Christ our very own. They know the idea of Christianity, but they have never grasped the ideal.

First, make sure you have had a personal encounter with Jesus Christ. Jesus said to Philip, "Have I been so long time with you, and dost thou not know me?" Make sure you have repented of sin and received Christ.

Next, establish a regular devotional life. I would no more think about starting a day without a session with the Scriptures, and communion with my Commander-in-chief, than I would go into battle without orders.

Third, give expression to your faith. Sometimes we call this witnessing. The world is hungry for spiritual reality, but the Church is letting them down. Make bold to share your faith with others. And then, of course, make sure you are in a church that will nurture you in the faith.

'LEGISLATION?—WHAT LEGISLATION?'

John Cunniff
'Real Sugar' Drinks

NEW YORK (AP) — The speed with which American business can adjust to changing conditions, the power of its positive thinking, the ingenuity of its marketing men should never again be doubted. Almost anything is possible.

Within hours after the government announced that the artificial sweeteners called cyclamates would be withdrawn from the general market, the multi-million dollar diet drink industry raced to comply.

Amazing when you consider that cyclamates in diet drinks were felt to be what cocoa is in a chocolate bar: an essential ingredient without which there wouldn't be a product.

The availability of cyclamates was perhaps the main reason for the development of this relatively new industry.

In the 1960s the diet drink industry became one of the fastest growing in America. Diabetics and sufferers of high blood pressure felt they could drink them without fear. And calorie conscious drinkers found the absence of sugar much to their liking.

After the government announced its ban Saturday, because tests showed massive doses had caused cancer in rats, there was immediate speculation that some of the best known brand names in America might disappear.

How wrong! Within hours it was known that the impact would not be a death blow because new formulas already were prepared. And almost as quickly it was realized that to some in the industry here was a golden opportunity.

In marketing soap or cereal or soft drinks it is always useful to have something interesting on the label. "Ten cents off" is a common gimmick, but its a costly one too. "New" may be more effective and less costly. The trouble with "new" is that people have become too used to it. "New" can mean very little indeed, perhaps just a new bottle or a label. It's very difficult to come up with something really new.

Now that they have something really new to work with—revolutionarily new, in fact—the advertising and marketing men are almost breathless, although as usual, not wordless.

Almost as fast as advertisements can be prepared, at least one major soft drink manufacturer announced a brand new package with a great big "NEW." And what was new about it? For one thing, it will have none of those suspect chemicals called cyclamates.

Pearls Are A Girl's Best Friend

By JOY STILLEY
(Substitution for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Give a woman enough rope and she'll wear it — if it's made out of pearls.

Last year the gals joined a chain gang, clanking stylishly though heavily along in linked necklaces, bracelets, belts, suspenders and other metallic adornments.

This year the oyster is their world, and pearls are a girl's best friend.

But those oysters would cluck their bivalves in disbelief at what has been wrought in their name: everything from seed pearls up to near ping-pong ball size, and colors no mother molusk would admit to having produced.

The modern miss has come a long way since her only choice in pearls was among one strand, two or three. Now she can decorate her whole body with them, from her luminous headband to the cuffs of her harem pants.

In between these points she can wear pearl garments ranging from bibs, bras and boleros to tunics and trousers. The lustrous spheres that once adorned cily ears, neck, wrist and fingers have migrated to strange new locations, such as the chunky circlets for the upper arms and rings chummily joined to bracelets by chains.

As for that traditional necklace—my, how it's grown! It no longer merely encircles the neck—it has multiplied from one strong to dozens of varying lengths, it hangs down to the hemline, girdles the waist, loops and drapes to form body jewelry and ties itself into knots a Boy Scout would find hard to duplicate.

Once all this is accomplished, if there's any extra skin space around, the jewel-conscious girl will find something for that area too. Fortunately, she's got 10 fingers, at least eight of which can be outfitted with a ring. This tends to present a few problems, not the least of which are putting on gloves and shaking hands without a bit of discomfort to both the shaker and the shakee.

Although she has rings on her fingers, so far fashion hasn't dictated that she have bells on her toes. There is, however, a toe-ring and leg bracelet, presumably for indoor wear only. This somewhat startling ornament is an ankle bracelet attached by chains over the instep to a jeweled-ring on the big toe.

To Your Good Health
Child's Headaches Can Be Real

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My 6-year-old daughter complains almost every day about headaches. However, mostly she keeps on playing.

The school nurse phoned me about this, too. I took her to the doctor, but he thinks she is just growing up.

I hesitate to give her many aspirins because she vomits very easily and I am afraid the aspirin might be bad for her stomach. Can you help me?—Mrs. F. B.

Children seldom complain of headache. When they do, there usually is a reason. Oh, it's true that occasionally a youngster has heard a lot about headaches around the house and may use a "headache" as an excuse for something. But an excuse for something. Therefore when a child complains of headaches, I am inclined to take it seriously. (I don't see any point in saying that "she is just growing up," unless there's more to the story than I haven't heard.)

To find out what really is the matter, you may have to do a fair amount of investigating. I would suggest the services of a pediatrician, if there is one in your area.

Infection — particularly of tonsils or sinuses — should be suspected.

Allergy must be considered, particularly a food allergy, and that could well fit with her tendency to vomit.

Migraine headache occurs in children, too, and there again the nervous stomach could be part of the pattern.

An electroencephalogram ("brain-wave" test) may be necessary if other clues do not give you an answer. Such a test, also called an EEG, can sometimes disclose a migraine pattern or show whether the headaches are part of some subtle convulsive disorder.

Meantime, if necessary to give modest amounts of aspirin for relief, try giving it with meals, or with a glass of milk, to avoid stomach irritation.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Have arthritis. Understand cortisone is excellent for it. If it be, why doesn't a physician give it to one when one needs it? Is it so expensive or what?—Mrs. R.E.M.

The action of cortisone is entirely temporary, and when the effects wear off, the ar-

If it could be given indefinitely, that would be fine. But unfortunately, in dosage sufficient to relieve arthritis, cortisone returns to the way it cortisone builds up side effects which make it unwise to continue the medication in effective quantities.

My best advice to you is that you read my booklet, "How You Can Control Arthritis." For a copy, send 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of this newspaper. The booklet discusses cortisone, as well as medications and methods that can be used permanently.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am on a strict low-salt diet, and the doctor said no salt in baked goods. I have baked food that calls for baking soda, and someone told me that soda is salt. Is that so? I mean soda in cake or cookies.—T.K.

Soda isn't salt — but like salt, it contains sodium. It is sodium bicarbonate or "bicarbonate of soda."

Since it is the sodium that you must avoid, that means you should avoid bicarbonate of soda, too. However, many baked products are labeled "salt free" or "low sodium," which can help you with your shopping.

Headaches! You can beat them. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "How To Tame Headaches." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim
It's Not The Food, It's The Do-Dads

Supermarketing Magazine, which should know about such things, seems surprised to find that women are spending less money on edibles and more on non-food products when shopping in supermarkets.

THIS MAY BE news to the nation's grocers, but the girls have known all along that the staff of life has developed many branches — shampoo, detergent, tissues, deodorant, furniture polish, notebook paper, etc.

Grocery stores now stock these comfort items, and hundreds more, somewhere between the meat counter and the produce bins, thus providing the advantage of one-stop shopping. The moment of truth — or half-truth in this case, comes at the checkout stand, when mama picks up her "groceries" with three fingers of one hand. She's just as surprised as dad to discover they take up precious little space on the pantry shelf.

IT WAS THE pantry shelf that got me to thinking along these lines in the first place. I've figured out how we can save some money, girls, and get back in the big boy's good graces. What we need is a food pool — you know, where we could draw names for partners, or maybe use the buddy system. Just think, we could save bundles just sharing a 19 cent package of garlic! Has ANYONE ever used a whole package of garlic? I'd like to meet the one that has — or maybe I wouldn't.

AND CEREAL. Raise your hand if you have a son who says, "No, thank you, I CAN'T STAND STALE CEREAL!" (It was opened yesterday.)

Oh, for someone who likes the last three pieces of bread!

Being a country girl, I remember when these, and other things, weren't wasted, for there was always a hungry mouth to feed, dogs, cats, chickens, pigs. How I hate to feed a garbage pail that just sits there — and doesn't even produce kittens.

TELL YOU WHAT, I've decided not to shop this week. Instead, I will save, save, save, by utilizing those things that have been pushed back to the dark corners of the pantry and are pining for the caress of a can opener.

Here we are. Hmmm, one can chopped greens, three cans anchovies, one small can water chestnuts, one gallon can gooseberries, one-fourth can Macadamia nuts . . .

I NEVER did like to eat alone. Pot Luck, anyone? —JO BRIGHT

Art Buchwald
A Way Of Getting Out Of Vietnam

WASHINGTON — The Vietnam solution, as most people look at it now, is for the Americans to get out "with honor." How this can be accomplished is President Nixon's major problem and one that he is devoting his days and nights to.

Prof. Heinrich Applebaum, dean of the political science department at the University of Dissent, has been studying various withdrawal plans that could be implemented as soon as the President decides to move.

"THE SECRET of getting out of Vietnam can be found in how we got in," Prof. Applebaum told me. "We just cannot leave South Vietnam after all these years without some explanation. We had a cover story when we went in, and we must have a cover story when we go out."

"What kind of a cover story, Professor?"

"We must plan a Gulf of Tonkin Resolution in reverse."

"How's that?"

"IF YOU RECALL, the Gulf of Tonkin Resolution passed by the Senate gave President Johnson carte blanche to escalate American participation in the war. It was after the Gulf of Tonkin that the President decided to bomb the North and send in hundreds of thousands of GIs. What happened at the Gulf of Tonkin was that two American destroyers reported they were attacked by North Vietnamese PT boats at night. This got the President furious and he decided that if the North Vietnamese were going to attack him in the Gulf of Tonkin, he damn well was going to attack them anywhere he pleased.

"There is still some question," Applebaum said, "whether the two destroyers actually saw any PT boats, but that's not the point.

"THE PRESIDENT got Senate approval to do anything he wanted to, and he did. Now President Nixon is faced with the job of undoing most of what President Johnson did."

"What do you suggest, Professor?"

"We should rig it so that four or five PT boats attack two American destroyers in San Francisco Bay. Then President Nixon could go on the air and announce that our American ships were fired upon at night and he was asking the Senate for a 'Bay of San Francisco Resolution.'"

"What would be in the resolution?"

"THE RESOLUTION would state that since two American destroyers had been openly and defiantly attacked, the President was calling all the troops in Vietnam to California, where they would be stationed until the Californians could defend themselves.

"Do you think the Senate would pass a 'Bay of San Francisco Resolution?'"

"They would if we produced the proof that the destroyers had been attacked. After all, the United States has a commitment to California. It was first made by Eisenhower, then confirmed by John F. Kennedy and then Lyndon B. Johnson. President Nixon could not go down in history as the first President to lose a state."

"SO AFTER the resolution was passed by the Senate, President Nixon could start pulling our troops in Vietnam out."

"Morally the President would have no choice. No matter what you think of Gov. Reagan's regime, you couldn't let California go down the drain."

Feat That Bears Watching

WASHINGTON — The Soviet space platform — if it materializes — is generally regarded here as "jerry-built" and a feeble riposte in technology to the American moon-landing. A roundup of opinion in the military-space community of Washington would be —

"ANYTHING THEY can do, we can do better."

This is all very heartening, except for the air of over-confidence. The Russian Sputnik of '57 caught us by surprise, and the Russian first manned orbital flight by Maj. Yuri Gagarin in '61 caught us far behind. By dint of a magnificent national effort, we tore past the Russians in Space like the fast express. We outdid them in rendezvous, in docking, in precision and in distance, and put our men on the moon to the wonder of the world.

WE ARE clearly superior in all but one phase, but that could make a difference. Basically, the USA exploration of space is for peaceful and scientific purposes. NASA is a civilian agency, and the Russian space program is all-military. NASA is a research-and-development shop. Its products are primarily used for national prestige, secondarily for providing information to other governmental shops, including the Defense Department.

The Russians are far more single-minded. Their objective is military supremacy, and they move toward this goal on the muffled oars of secrecy. Yet in touching six or eight bases of informed opinion around town, I have found only one source from which the Soviet Space station is viewed with more than ho-hum concern.

THIS SOURCE, Sen. Howard Cannon (D., Nev.), is alert but not alarmist. He is one of two senators who sits on both the Armed Services and Space Committees, and he's a World War II pilot.

"This Russian platform is something that could move toward military significance," Cannon told me. "We don't have any specific plans in that direction, and I don't like to see us caught in the position of always reacting to what the Russians do first."

Cannon disagreed with the complacent viewpoint that a Soviet orbiting station would have no use beyond military reconnaissance and surveillance. The Russians don't need a spy-system against us nearly so much as we need one against them. They have far greater use than we do for a surprise weapon or a blackmail device. Space has become a third element for military activity, along with air and ocean, and the Russians today have reached parity in nuclear missiles and are clearly ahead in oceanography and submarines.

STUDIES LIKELY will show that a nuclear attack, or blackmail, from space is possible but impractical, considering how much more easily the same purpose can be accomplished by missiles from land or sea. Our own orbital station, called the "workshop," is scheduled for launching in 1972, and will have a far grander design than the Soviet Soyuz three-part assembly.

Ours will be launched as a whole, with most of the equipment in place, and will offer living and working room for three astronauts for periods up to 56 days. The peaceful uses include observation of the sun and planets, forecast of terrestrial weather and agricultural warnings against crop failures, forest fires and floods. There is much confidence here that our workshop, once in orbit, will do the USA both credit and service.

BUT THE fact remains that the Russians appear to have a three-year jump on us in this feat, and that they are military-minded about space whereas we are not.

Barn Destroyed

BENTON, Ky. (AP) — Ed Zucker of Hardin, didn't get much use from his new barn.

The barn was rebuilt after a windstorm destroyed it. Then one week after it was completed, an auto overturned on a curve near Zucker's place and knocked down three walls of the structure.

Alpha Chi Unit Host To Rushees

Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, hosted a pot luck supper for rushees and their husbands Saturday in the First Federal Community Room. Theme for the meeting was "Dinner on the Moon."

The table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with a white cake adorned with confection "moon men."

Mrs. Robert Rogers worded the invocation, and games were directed by Mrs. Rubin Reavis and Mrs. N. R. Holcombe. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Campbell.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. Jack Grigg Receives Badge

Mrs. Jack Grigg received a badge for a ten-pound weight loss and won the bowl of fruit at Monday's meeting of the TOPS Salad Mixers in Knot Community Center. Mrs. V. O. Jones was given a five-pound weight loss badge. The next meeting will be at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

On Campus Trip

When visiting the youngsters on campus, take along a "comfort kit" of plastic cups and plates that can be rinsed and used again.

Take pretty paper napkins or fingertip towels, instant coffee or chocolate and soup and a tin box of favorite goodies for a dormitory gab session or after-study-hour party. Cheese straws or rye crackers and sandwich makings may be more welcome than cookies.

Phi Zeta Omega Hears Program On Friendship

Qualities that make for friendship were enumerated by Miss Linda Dorton during a program given Monday evening for Phi Zeta Omega Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

"One must be a friend to have a friend," said Miss Dorton. "Show interest by asking questions. Don't always expect the other person to make the first move; go and introduce yourself." The speaker listed characteristics needed for friendship as dependability, respectability, faithfulness, understanding, trustworthiness and patience. She said that when one is in school, there are many opportunities for making friends, but in later life, one must create opportunities by affiliating with clubs or organizations. In conclusion, she

Mu Kappa Chapter To Sew Layettes

Plans were made to sew layettes for the Howard County Welfare Office at Monday's model meeting of Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, in the home of Mrs. Seth Lacy, 2908 Cactus.

Rushees attending were Mrs. Tommy Stephens, Mrs. J. M. Bradley and Mrs. M. A. Bartlett.

Mrs. Hanson Lawhon presided and announced the club will hold a garage sale Dec. 5-6 at her home, 1900 Gollad. Mrs. Dick Egan won the door prize.

The jewel pin and pledge ritual will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Elks Lodge.

Bob Lewis Probes Foreign Policy 'Key'

Bob Lewis, news director of Radio Station KHEM, spoke on "The Great Foreign Policy Dilemma" at Monday's meeting of American Association of University Women in the First Federal Community Room.

"The main key to our foreign policy is information," said Lewis. "The United States Information Agency presents most of the news to the world's people." He cited instances of calls being made by the thousands in the Voice of America by people who wanted information on the election, the Czechoslovakian situation, American policy in Vietnam and Apollo 11.

Lewis talked about his travels, as a young man, throughout the United States and Mexico, then described his travels in Europe after 1957. Stressing the influence of Thomas Wolfe's writings on his life, he concluded his speech by quoting a passage from Wolfe, "Learn about your own country by leaving it," noting this proved to be true in his case.

Following his talk, he showed a film, "From Where I Sit," which presented different countries' views on territorial and fishing rights off the American coast. A question and answer period followed the program.

White and Mrs. Julian Patterson. Hostesses were Miss Gladys Hardy, chairman; Mrs. S. M. Anderson, Mrs. A. G. Beene, Mrs. Warford, Mrs. John Smith, Mrs. John Talmadge and Miss Margie Newbrough.

The next morning study group will be Nov. 3, when Tad Corbett of Big Spring State Hospital will speak on "How Sane Are We?" The evening study group will hear a talk on "Sub-Standard Living and How It Affects Society." The next general meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 19, and the program will be on "De-commercializing the Holidays." An orientation breakfast is slated for Nov. 22.

'The Christian Agnostic' Reviewed For Guild

"Sometimes in the dogma and doctrine of religion, we fail to worship God," said Mrs. Don Lester when she reviewed the book, "The Christian Agnostic," at Monday's meeting of St. Mary's Guild, St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

"We expect people to believe the way we do," continued Mrs. Lester, "and sometimes this has a tendency to drive people away from the church. Therefore, we should keep an open mind, realizing that we may not be completely right and that we don't know all the answers. People should pray for strength and courage to bear their trials, but not that they will never have any. "There are no unforgivable sins. God will forgive all sins if we pray for forgiveness and love one another. Faith is really a test, and doubt is a part of faith."

Mrs. Terry Bull, co-chairman, presided, and Mrs. John Hodges brought the devotion. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Ray Boren and Mrs. James H. Kriemeyer.

The next meeting will be Nov. 17 with Mrs. Hodges and Mrs. M. N. Thorp as cohostesses.

Big Spring State Hospital Is Chosen As ESA District Project

District projects were announced by Mrs. E. C. McFadden of Crane, president of District Eight, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, at the district meeting held Sunday in the Scurry County Coliseum at Snyder with Iota Psi as the host chapter.

Social service projects chosen are the West Texas Children's Home at Pyote and the Big Spring State Hospital. The district philanthropic project will be the ESA Disaster Fund.

State projects, for which nearly $5,000 has been allotted, include children's medical centers in four Texas cities. At Houston, $1,000 will be spent for a carbon dioxide incubator; in Dallas, $1,390 was established for a vital signs monitor; in San Antonio, $1,000 was earmarked for office furniture and diagnostic equipment; and at

Pythian History Given At Meeting

Mrs. Choc Smith gave a brief history on the founding of the Order of Pythian Sisters at Monday's meeting of Sterling Temple No. 43, in the Castle Hall.

The chapter was founded by Joseph Addison Hill, Oct. 23, 1888. Pythian Sisters throughout the United States and Canada will observe the founding.

The first Pythian Sisters chapter was instituted at the Pythian Sisters Temple in Warsaw, Ind. Mrs. Smith paid tribute to early founders who gave time, money and effort to form the Pythian Sisters.

Initiation services were held for Mrs. Grace Lee Grider. Mrs. Bonnie Bennett won the silver drill prize, and Mrs. Bob Renshaw received the capusle prize.

All charter members will be honored at the Nov. 3 meeting with Mrs. E. V. Cockerham and Mrs. Pearl Hill as hostesses. This will be the annual roll call when a donation will be accepted for the Texas Pythian Home in Weatherford. The money will be used at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

A LOVELIER YOU New Fringe Takes On Look For Fall

By MARY SUE MILLER
Silk fringe, leather fringe, wool fringe... Fringe swings and sways on scarves, shawls and fur boas. Cascades of it spill over dresses.

If you've lived a little, the fashion brings to mind a picture of floppy, shimmering flappers and sinuous, sexy vamps. Both types went in for fringe, although they were worlds apart in their approach. They wore the swishy stuff with a difference. It took a bit of doing and still does.

Dresses with tier after tier of fringe shorten and widen the figure. To get away with it you have to be very slim, fairly tall. Less willowy statures look best in fringe that falls from the waist or just below the hipline. And here a longish tier is more becoming than several short, choppy ones.

But becomingness counts for little unless you carry a fringed costume superbly. Fringe moves when you stand stock still. The slightest gyration on your part — a hip wiggle, for instance — turns you into a whirling dervish. If that fits your scene, well go ahead and gyrate.

Otherwise, pull up tall and glide along in slow rhythm. Play it cool!

Could be you'd prefer your fringe in touches. Suede fingers on a mink muffler, maybe. I'm for that, so easy to wear when sized for you. I've already seen a damsel trip on hers, it was that too long. Ugh!

PLAYERS OF WEEK Chavez, Chandler Among Honorees

Following is a list of football players in the Big Spring area singled out by the Daily Herald for their distinguished play in games played last weekend:

BIG SPRING
JOE CHAVEZ played his finest game of the season in helping Big Spring edge by Odessa High. In earning Back of the Week honors, Chavez, a fullback, barely beat out Herman Evans, who scored the first touchdown of the game against the Bronchos. Chavez played both ways for the Steers. From his linebacker's spot, he came up with 18 tackles and the Steers had to have them all in order to sneak by Odessa, 12-6.

Lineman of the Week is tackle ROBERT DENNIS, a terror on defense and a fine blocker on offense. His consistency has been largely responsible for Big Spring's four wins to date. He made 14 tackles. A close second in the scramble was center Dave Thomas, whose blocking cleared the way for Big Spring ball carriers on their thrusts inside.

STANTON
STEVE FRYAR emerged as Lineman of the Week. Offensive right tackle and defensive end, Steve's ability to block McCamey's 230-pound linebacker, Nolan McMarion, kept the Buffalo attack going. He was also a scorpion on defense, firing across the line to stop McCamey plays before they got untracked. Fryar is a 175-pound junior.

Back of the Week is GLENN RAY, a sophomore quarterback who kept his coolness under fire. He threw a touchdown pass with the opposition hanging all over him, added a two-point conversion on a rare quarterback sneak. He also played occasionally as a safety on defense, although coach Gerald Loyd hesitates to use him there because of the team's injury problems.

FORSAN
Sophomore quarterback JEFF WILLIAMS gets the nod as Back of the Week. His play selection and execution consistently kept Miles off balance. He carried the ball five times for gains netting 37 yards, completed five of nine passes for 125 yards. He also intercepted a pass from his safety spot. He's a 162-pounder.

Lineman of the Week is PHILLIP MEDLIN, 174-pound sophomore tackle. A linebacker on defense, he came up with nine tackles. On three scoring plays, he threw key blocks which sprung Buffalo ball carriers loose.

COAHOMA
Because Coahoma's defeat of Cooper in the Bulldogs' first District 5-A was so thorough, the coaches suggested that the honors go to the entire squad rather than any individual. It would be difficult to point to any one boy and say he stood

Area Anglers Find Fishing Is Rewarding

John Paul and Don Parks, both of Big Spring, and Aubrey Menser, Coahoma, are among area people who have experienced fishing luck on Mitchell County lakes in recent days.

Using gold fish as bait, Paul hooked an eight-pound yellow catfish at Lake Colorado City. Parks reeled in a yellow cat weighing nine pounds in the same locality while Menser reported he snagged 15 pounds of crappie fishing near the City Park on Lake Colorado City.

Catches reported included:
LAKE COLORADO CITY
CITY PARK
DON ROLAND, Midland, caught a 14 pound yellow cat on trawline using gold fish. AUBREY MENSER, Coahoma, caught 15 pounds of crappie fishing from boat using minnows. JOHN PAUL, Big Spring, hooked on a 9 pound yellow cat using gold fish. H. W. WHITE caught 15 pounds of crappie weighing up to 2 pounds each, these were caught in the Crapple House on minnows. Fish biting red good.

LOUIE'S LAKESIDE LODGE
GLENN STEWART, Lubbock, hooked a 28 pound yellow cat and a 28 pound yellow cat. C. W. GRANTON, Dallas, caught 19 pounds of crappie. MR. SIDES, of the Lake, caught a 5 pound yellow cat and a nice stringer of smaller ones. Good crowd out and a lot of pan-size fish were caught.

COOPER'S COVE
MR. HAYGOOD, Big Spring, caught 8 crappie up to 1 1/2 pounds. MRS. DORIS YARBROUGH, C. CIVIL, caught 29 crappie up to 1 1/2 pounds. MR. AND MRS. TOMLINSON, DONALD REATHBAUM and DENISE REATHBAUM, Midland, caught 24 crappie—16 pound total weight, the largest weighed 2 pounds. MR. and MRS. DENSON, Herring, caught 22 crappie, 12 pounds total weight. DON WALKER, C. CIVIL, caught a 9 pound yellow cat. MR. HARMON, of the Lake, got a 5 1/2 pound yellow cat. DOCK and HILMA BROWN, Odessa, got 20 crappie, 16 pounds total weight and two 18 pound channel cat. MR. WATTS, Big Spring, caught 14 crappie up to 1 pound each. MR. and MRS. CHARLES GUESS, Midland, caught 10 crappie up to 1 1/2 pounds each. DON JACKSON, Odessa, caught a 1 1/2 pound yellow cat. W. W. HALEY, Andrews, hooked a 19 pound yellow cat. MR. WALKER, C. CIVIL, caught a 1 1/2 pound channel cat. A. H. HANTCHE, Lorraine, hooked a 11 pound yellow cat.

BAKER'S GREEN ACRES
PINKY RHODES and CARL TACKER, Odessa, caught a yellow cat, a white bass and 13 crappie. MR. and MRS. SPRAGUE, Snyder, caught 26 large bluegill using meal worms, 16 crappie and 6 black bass weighing up to 2 pounds. MR. and MRS. L. L. PATSY ESTES, Lovington, N.M., caught 18 pound channel cat. ALVIE and WELDON ENNIS, C. CIVIL, caught a 2 1/2 pound black bass. Several smaller black bass. JOHN HAWKINS, Andrews, caught a 1 pound black bass measuring 4 inches across and 11 inches long.

'Dogs' 5-AA Card Is Set

COAHOMA — The Coahoma Bulldogs will play District 5-AA home games in 1970 with Ozona and McCamey, coach Bernie Hagins announced this morning. Hagins attended a schedule conference with representatives of other schools in Coahoma's new district Monday night.

Coahoma likely won't play Rankin again in 1970, Hagins said, but is negotiating with such schools as Rotan, Hamlin and Winters for non-conference games.

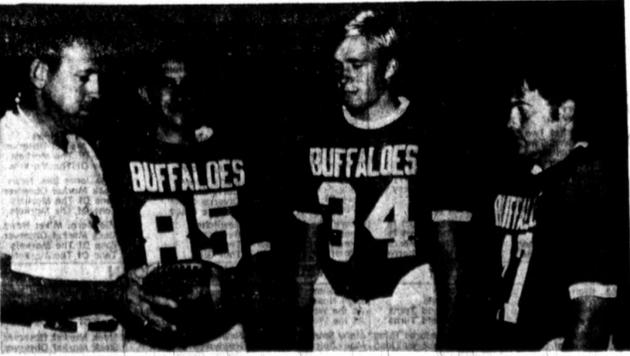

He plans to book three other home games for the Big Red. Coahoma's district schedule: Oct. 16—At Stanton. Oct. 23—Ozona here. Oct. 30—At Big Lake. Nov. 6—McCamey here. Nov. 13—At Crane.

Forsan Fems Set For First Game

FORSAN — It's basketball time for area schoolgirls. Forsan's A and B teams host Sands in the season's first game tonight, with the reserves taking the court at 8:30 p.m.

Coach Don Stevens of Forsan will be starting only one senior. She is guard Belinda McKinnon. Others who will open for the Buffaloes include 5-10 Gloria Dodd, Kay Walraven and either Jackie Condon or Connie Dunagan at forwards and McKinnon, Janice Clanton and either Diane Wash or Judy Maxwell in the back courts.

The Queens will be out to improve upon a 28-7 record achieved by the 1968-69 Forsan club. Last year's Queens went all the way to Regional before losing to Quitaque.

STANTON'S TWO-YEAR LETTERMEN — Pictured here with head coach Gerald Loyd are Stanton's three-year lettermen. From the left, they are end Steve Stallings and backs Johnny McMeans and Alan Gregston. Gregston was injured last week and won't be available when the Buffaloes host Crane Friday night.

MERLIN OLSEN, all-pro tackle for the Los Angeles Rams: "A player can't afford to evaluate other players publicly. If you say they are bad, you give them an emotional reason to come back and kill you. If you say they're good, you give them confidence to do it."

BOBBY DOBBS, football coach at UT-El Paso: "As a group, I feel this is the best defensive line we have had since I have been at Texas-El Paso. We may have had better individuals in a spot or two but certainly we have not had a better unit."

MARIO ANDRETTI, automobile racing champion: "Sheer speed just doesn't necessarily make for good racing. When you are racing at speeds up to 200 MPH, you simply can't put on much of a show for the spectators. We race on a mile track in Dover, Del., at 100 MPH and it's a good example. No one dares to go into the turn side-by-side at that kind of speed. It has to end somewhere. Pretty soon the race car driver will be faced with the same thing a jet pilot will and he'll have to start guiding the machine by gauges. Back in 1967 at Daytona, I blew two engines at an 180 miles per hour. It was unreal. I was already in the spin and gone before I got my foot to the clutch. . . . I'd like to race six to ten years more, maybe even longer than that. The grind gets a little tough at times, but if you get a couple days' rest your battery gets recharged and you're ready to go again. I thoughtly enjoy every minute of it. It's my life."

A press-box witness in Philadelphia, after the Dallas Cow boys had thrashed the home-town Eagles there recently: "It looks like two different leagues, and one is the Continental."

A San Francisco 49er fan, after his team had suffered another in a series of defeats: "Wouldn't it be better to get a young guy and watch him improve than to get a guy and watch him get worse?"

JOE LOUIS, former boxing champion: "I don't see much boxing these days. I don't know anyone I really want to see. I used to go watch my friends—I liked Clay and Liston—but I don't know people in the ring now. Boxing is a sport that needs one man to make an image. It needs one man who can electrify a crowd. If we can find that man boxing will come back. You used to walk down the street and kids would be shadow boxing and throwing punches and saying, 'I'm Joe Louis' or 'I'm Rocky Marciano.' Now they want to be Joe Namath, or Johnny Unitas, or Willie Mays."

Psychologist WILLIAM BERKOWITZ: "The closer a football team comes to the other fellow's goal the more fumbles, interceptions and penalties it shod commit because it experiences a form of guilt over its intrusion."

BERT R. SUGAR of the Football News: "NBC might not pay the package price of $16 million next year for the AFL games (to include the Browns, Colts and Steelers), up from $12 million this year, and might drop pro football in 1970. That would be a blow to pro ball where TV revenues have offset rising costs. In fact, commissioner Rozelle has said that player payrolls have increased 25 to 30 per cent since the merger of the two leagues on June 7, 1966."

DAN LaGRASTA, San Angelo coach: "This is probably the best football team Big Spring has had in five years."

FOR SUSPENSIONS Wyoming Coach Is Supported

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP) — Policies regarding Negroes. The Wyoming faculty senate passed a resolution urging that the suspensions be made temporary until a committee could investigate the move. The university's board of trustees, headed by Gov. Stan Hathaway, approved Eaton's action.

"There is little chance the 14 players will be reinstated on the team," Eaton said Monday after day-long meetings on the situation. "If I did that, it would be discriminating against the 43 members of the team who obeyed the rules and have been working hard."

At Arizona State University in Tempe, Ariz., ASU football Coach Frank Kush pronounced his support for Eaton and said, "When you get into a situation like that, there's nothing else you can do." Eaton, who has driven the Cowboys into a position of national football prominence, suspended the 14 players after they wore black arm bands in protest against playing a game Saturday with Brigham Young University. The athletes said BYU, affiliated with the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), had instituted racist

Vols Advance To 3rd Spot

By The Associated Press
The Tennessee waltz past Alabama has put the Volunteers in third place on the major college football hit parade.

Tennessee drubbed Alabama 41-14 last Saturday and jumped from seventh to third in The Associated Press poll released Monday.

Ohio State, 34-7 winner over Minnesota, remained in first place with 27 first-place votes and 666 points. Texas, idle last Saturday, was second with five first-place ballots and 612 points, while Arkansas, also idle, remained fourth with 417 points, 18 points less than Tennessee.

Southern California, third last week, dropped to seventh after a 14-14 tie with Notre Dame which fell from 11th to 12th. The poll of sports writers and broadcasters saw Penn State, fifth last week, drop from fifth to eighth after edging Syracuse 15-14. However, the Nittany Lions did get one first-place vote.

Missouri advanced from sixth to fifth and UCLA jumped two places to sixth. Louisiana State and Florida stayed 9th and 10th respectively.

None of the Top Ten has been beaten. Oklahoma heads the second 10, followed by Notre Dame, Georgia, Auburn, Purdue, Wyoming, Mississippi, Kansas State, Stanford and Air Force. Kansas and Air Force are newcomers to the rankings.

Dropped from the list were Michigan, 13th last week, and Alabama, who was 20th.

The Top Twenty, with first place votes in parentheses, season records and total points for the first 15 weeks on a 20-16-14-10-8-6-4-2 basis:

1. Ohio State (27)	666
2. Texas (5)	612
3. Tennessee (1)	435
4. Arkansas	417
5. Mississippi	397
6. UCLA	341
7. Southern California	335
8. Penn State (1)	294
9. Louisiana State	276
10. Florida	222
11. Oklahoma	152
12. Notre Dame	126
13. Georgia	102
14. Auburn	47
15. Purdue	47
16. Wyoming	46
17. Mississippi	29
18. Kansas State	23
19. Stanford	23
20. Air Force	4

Renfro Is Standout

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Andy Lowe ran for two touchdowns and Ed Lee Renfro rushed for 96 yards to lead the Texas Tech freshmen to a 31-14 football victory over the University of Texas at Arlington Monday night.

Adult tickets cost $1.50 each while students can gain admission for 50 cents.

Paid turnout for the Big Spring-Odessa High game here last weekend was 4,961.

When Big Spring played Lubbock High in Lubbock several weeks ago, the paid crowd was 2,235. Most came from Big Spring.

No ordinary love story....

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Our family is divided on something and we'd like your opinion. Our father and mother were married for 32 years. Eight months ago, Mother died after a lingering illness and Dad was so broken over it we thought we were going to have to bury him, too.

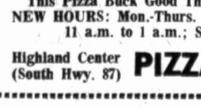

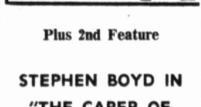

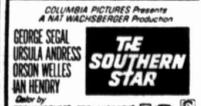

After six months Dad's grief miraculously vanished when on a vacation to recuperate he met a woman slightly younger than Mother. You guessed it. They are planning to be married soon. Some feel that out of respect to Mother, Dad should wait a full year to remarry. Others say it's not necessary. What do YOU say, Abby?

NO NAME OR TOWN, PLS. DEAR NO: Waiting to show "respect" for the deceased is a pretense. The time to show "respect" is while that person is living. If your father made your mother happy, and gave her a good life, that is all the "respect" any woman wants. If he wasn't a good husband, waiting a year to remarry (or 20 years!) will not show "respect" to a deceased wife. It's too late. She is gone!

DEAR ABBY: Our teenage daughter's boyfriend recently went into the service. He wrote and asked her to send him a picture of her in a BIKINI, and one in a SHEER SHORTY NIGHTY. He said he wants to put it on a display board! Our daughter doesn't have any pictures of herself that fit that description yet, but she wrote and told him she would have some taken right away and send them to him. We disapprove, for frankly we think Christians should not be seen in lustful attire as he has requested. But it seems that she desires to fulfill his every wish rather than abide by our teaching.

Don't you think if this boy really respected her he would not have asked for such pictures? Also, don't you think that if she had proper respect for herself and her parents she would try to forget this boy?

HEARTBROKEN PARENTS DEAR PARENTS: Since the boy did ask, and your daughter responded in the affirmative, I would say the matter is out of your hands. But you are correct in stating the boys lacks respect for his "girl" and she lacks respect for herself.

DEAR ABBY: I notice that some of your readers object to people referring to "police officers" as "cops."

Why? There is nothing derogatory about it. I am told by a British friend that "COP" is short for "CONSTABLE ON PATROL."

In San Francisco where I grew up we had a beloved Irish cop who settled our baseball disputes and was our friend and Father Confessor. We all called him a "cop" and meant no disrespect. Of course this was a long time ago, as I am a veteran of World War I and II. Best regards.

CHET IN ATASCADERO

FATHER OF TWIN BOYS: Talk with the boys. Neither accuse nor condemn. If your suspicions are correct, arrange for professional counseling. This could be a "stage" through which they will soon pass, but take no chances.

Champ Brings Peugh $500

The grand champion of the junior barrow show at the Texas State Fair, owned by Johnny Peugh, Knott 4-H Club member, was sold at Saturday's auction in Dallas for $500 to Neuhoff Brothers Packers. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Peugh.

Including the champion, 533 barrows, totaling 112,351 pounds, were sold for $31,152. The average price per pig, not including the champions, was $58.05.

Other area sales included the champion Chester-white, owned by Billy Wood, Lynn County 4-H Club, sold to Sears, Roebuck and Co. for 55 cents a pound; and the reserve champion, Spots, owned by Danny Amaro, O'Donnell Future Farmers of America Club, sold to Columbia for 46 cents a pound. John Ray Slaughter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Slaughter Jr., Lamesa Highway, showed a blue-ribbon 980-pound steer at the fair, and it sold for 31 cents a pound. He is a member of Lucky Acres 4-H Club.

'Round The World Assignment Joys

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A junior college class assignment will take Nancy Liemen, 18, around the world in 35 days.

After enrolling in New Johnson County (Kan.) Junior College, Nancy got a chance to make the trip with a travel club. Her father, a travel agent, said she earned the trip by working for him.

Nancy plans to become a travel agent, so James Sandilos, the school's aviation director, made the trip an assignment on which she will get academic credit.

MAJ. WILLIAM MAGINSKY

New Supply Chief At Base

Webb Air Force Base's new chief of supply has taken his post following a year's duty in a similar job at Laredo Air Force Base. Maj. William H. Maginsky, who replaced Maj. Wayne Thurn as chief of supply, started his service career in 1945 in the Navy. He served three years as a radar operator on aircraft carriers and sea plane tenders.

Between 1949 and 1952, he attended Syracuse University, receiving his bachelor of arts degree with a major in sociology. The next year he attended military academic instructor and supply officers' schools.

Following a two year assignment at McCoy Air Force Base, Fla., Maj. Maginsky attended base communications officers' school at Scott Air Force Base, Ill. He combined the knowledge of both schools in his next assignment when he served as unit supply officer and base communications officer at Wetherfield Air Base, England.

For four years, 1958-1962, he served in various supply positions at Forbes Air Force Base, Kan., then returned overseas for a three year tour at Phalsbourg Air Base, France, serving in equipment management as well as in supply.

Returning to the United States in 1966, he was supply inspector at the Aeronautical Chart Information Center in St. Louis, Mo. The major left that assignment for a one year tour of duty as chief of support division, Vung Tau Army Field in Vietnam. His first assignment back in the United States was at Laredo Air Force Base.

Two Sharp Fights Close To Border

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops killed seven Americans, wounded 18 others and damaged two helicopters in two sharp fights Monday near the Cambodian border north of Saigon. The U.S. Command said 16 of the enemy were killed.

Farther south along the border, other American air cavalrymen exchanged machine-gun and rifle fire for nearly three hours with North Vietnamese troops 58 miles northwest of Saigon. Two helicopters supporting the ground troops were hit by machine-gun fire which wounded three crewmen, but the helicopters made it back to their bases.

U.S. spokesmen said two Americans were killed and two were wounded on the ground, and two enemy bodies were found on the battlefield.

One North Vietnamese force apparently took about 150 troops of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division by surprise as they waited in a landing zone 85 miles northeast of Saigon for helicopters to pick them up after a reconnaissance patrol.

The North Vietnamese opened up with a 25-round mortar barrage and machine-gun and rifle fire, killing five Americans and wounding 13 before the company could take cover.

American artillery, helicopter gunships and dive-bombers raked the enemy positions, and 14 North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed in the 30-minute counterattack.

As the lull in the war continued in its seventh week, South Vietnamese headquarters reported a slight increase in enemy terror attacks. It said the Viet Cong attacked three hamlets along the central coast and shelled two district towns in the Mekong Delta, killing three civilians, wounding 18 and kidnapping one.

Military investigators began a search for the cause of a fire that extensively damaged the USO Club in downtown Saigon. The fire broke out about midnight Monday and burned for an hour. U.S. officials said so far there was no indication of sabotage.

No casualties were reported, but scores of Vietnamese living in nearby buildings fled into the streets with as much of their belongings as they could carry. However, firemen confined the flames to the rear of the USO building.

The U.S. Command announced that another 2,300 U.S. Marines are leaving South Vietnam this week under President Nixon's withdrawal program, including the first major elements of the 3rd Division's 4th Regiment to be pulled out. They are going to Okinawa.

The 4th Regiment, after 4½ years of tough combat from the coastal lowlands to the demilitarized zone, is the last regiment of the 3rd Division still in Vietnam. When it is gone, the only Marine division in the war will be the 1st Division, which is operating along the coastal lowlands south of Da Nang.

Hooks Painting To Fill Space

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Instead of a marlin trophy on the wall, Lee Floyd caught a painting to fill the space.

Floyd and his wife were marlin fishing in their boat 45 miles west of Point Loma when he said they found the 2-by-4-foot painting floating in the water.

"I was sure it would fall apart when I brought it aboard but it was in real good shape, not even water soaked," Floyd said. "It shows boats on canals in Venice and the artist's signature is Bianco."

"My wife Frances and I are wondering where it could have come from," said Floyd, an electrical engineer who lives in Imperial Beach.

Homecoming At Loraine

Four Loraine High School coeds have been nominated for Homecoming Queen in the town's annual event Saturday.

Candidates are Pam Sanford, senior, daughter of Mrs. and Mrs. Frank Sanford; Rhonda Oliver, junior, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Oliver; Becky Merket, sophomore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Merket; and Teresa Walker, freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Walker.

The homecoming will be kicked off Friday at 6 p.m. with a pep rally and bonfire. Registration begins at 10 a.m. Saturday with lunch scheduled for noon in the school cafeteria.

The Class of 1939 will conduct the program, which begins at 2 p.m.; it will be followed by a business meeting.

A chili supper, sponsored by the Lions Club, is set for 7 p.m. Saturday, followed at 8 p.m. by the main event — the annual Homecoming game between the Loraine Bulldogs and the Trent Gorillas.

Homecoming officers include Bill Cornutt, president; Leroy Scott, vice president; and Billy Cornutt, secretary.
