TOO EXPENSIVE Rural Tax Ruling Will Not Be Appealed

The Howard County Rural Taxpayers Association will not appeal the summary judgment granted by District Judge R. W. Caton for the defendants in the controversial tax suit against the Big Spring Independent School District over tax valuations on rural property, it was announced today by attorneys for the plaintiffs, Dee Jon Davis and Donald R. Curry, Dallas.

"The association questions the wisdom of the three man Board of Equalization of the school district," Davis said, "but we feel that to appeal would be too expensive for both sides." He added that even if the association were successful with the appeal, the case would still have to go back to the trial court for actual trial with the probability of even more appeals.

"The association feels confident that the trustees will review the assessments on rural property next year to bring them in line with values assessed by the county, Forsan schools, Howard County Junior College, and the State of Texas," he said. He added that the association feels that the trustees will appoint a board of equalization next year that will work with the trustees in closer harmony.

The judgment, for the defendants Oct. 10, stated there was an absence of any material fact in the plaintiff's suit for declaratory judgment.

The taxpayers association brought suit in September as a result of their dissatisfaction in the tax re-evaluation of their land last spring, which raised farm land assessments from 33 to 100 per cent. Attorneys for the taxpayers arrived at a compromise valuation with attorneys for the four county taxing agencies, and it was accepted by the Forsan Independent School District, Howard County Junior College, and Howard County.

The Big Spring school board trustees also accepted the compromise plan, which lowered the valuation on rural land about $10 an acre. The taxpayers association claimed the board of equalization also entered into that agreement and should therefore be bound by it.

The summary judgment ruled the decision of the board of equalization final and conclusive.

The statement released today by the association of taxpayers said it was glad a compromise was reached with the other taxing agencies.

MOVE YOUR CLOCK BACK ONE HOUR

By The Associated Press

Daylight saving time ends at 2 a.m. Sunday. You should move your clock back one hour before going to bed Saturday night.

There will be an extra hour of drinking time in cities and counties that have a 2 a.m. curfew. At the stroke of that hour it becomes 1 o'clock instead of 2.

DST lasted six months. We go back on DST at 2 a.m. next April 26.

American-Born Spies Released

LONDON (AP) — Morris and Lola Cohen, the American-born Communist spies who radioed NATO naval secrets to the Russians, were released from prison today and took a British jetliner to Poland.

Champagne and smoked salmon were on the menu for their first meal in freedom.

The couple, who were once members of the Rosenberg spy ring in the United States, had served eight years of a 20-year sentence. They were freed in exchange for three Britons: Gerald Brooke, a teacher who spent four years in a Soviet labor camp for delivering anti-Communist propaganda to Moscow, and two others who tried to smuggle drugs from Afghanistan through the Soviet Union.

New Rules For CATV

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission will issue soon rules to allow cable television broad freedom to originate programs, and to support them with commercials. An official spokesman would say only that the FCC "has not completed action" on the rule-making.

But an informed source said today the commission would soon announce the adoption of some of the rules proposed last Dec. 13.

Lebanese Government Calls Curfew In Cities

By The Associated Press

Demonstrators defied a round-the-clock curfew in Lebanon today and battled security forces in the northern Lebanese town of Tripoli, according to reports reaching Syria.

Three demonstrators were reported killed and four seriously wounded. The demonstrators apparently broke the curfew to attend Moslem Friday prayers in mosques.

Censorship has been imposed in Lebanon. The reports of the demonstration in Tripoli came from Palestinian guerrilla leaders inside Lebanon, according to information reaching Damascus, Syria's capital, from Beirut.

The Lebanese government clamped the curfew on Lebanon's major cities and sought negotiations to restore peace between it and Arab guerrillas trying to use Lebanon as a base for raids against Israel.

Other cities including Beirut, were reported tense but quiet. A few of the Moslem faithful defied the curfew to go to mosques, but no incidents were reported.

The government ordered the curfew in Beirut, Tripoli, Sidon, Tyre and Baalbek after leftist leaders called a general strike to protest Lebanese army operations this week to curb the guerrillas. The government feared the strike would spawn riots and fighting.

Troops and armored cars guarded strategic points in Beirut, and the city was quiet but tense. A helicopter hovered over the largely deserted streets in

Bank Deposits Hit All-Time High Mark

Deposits set an all-time high mark for local banks as of Oct. 21, the call date issued today by the United States Comptroller of Currency and the state banking commissioner.

Similarly, total resources peaked and came near the $60 million level.

The deposit total of $53,952,238 was 10.5 per cent over the corresponding call of a year

	Oct. 21, 1969	Oct. 30, 1968	Gain(Loss)

Racism Charges Snag Beauty Hunt

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Charges of racism made by student NAACP members caused postponement Thursday night of a contest to select 12 girls for the beauty section of the North Texas State University student yearbook.

Janice Johnson, president of the student NAACP chapter, said, ". . . the contest is marked with racism and biased judgment of the beauty contestants."

2 Explosions Rock Plant At Texas City

TEXAS CITY, Tex. (AP) — Two huge explosions rocked the Union Carbide Corp. plant Thursday night, injuring at least eight persons and causing hundreds of nervous residents to evacuate their homes.

None of the injured was believed to be seriously hurt and the residents returned to their homes after resulting fires were brought under control within 30 minutes.

The blasts gave residents some anxious moments as they occurred near an area in this Texas coastal city where a 1947 holocaust killed more than 500 persons.

Plant officials said the No. 3 Olefins Unit, a gas-cracking unit, blew up first. It caused a fireball that shot up 300 feet and could be seen 25 miles away at Kemah, Clear Lake City and the Manned Spacecraft Center, training base of the nation's astronauts. A second blast occurred 10 minutes later.

A spokesman for the police department in La Marque, which adjoins Texas City, said a residential area near the plant was evacuated for fear of additional explosions.

"It was terrible," said Mrs. W. T. Loewe, who lives on Texas 3 in La Marque. "I live in a brick house, and it jarred the whole house."

A service station attendant a mile from the blast scene said "It shook this place like a piece of paper."

The explosion of the French freighter Grandcamp on April 16, 1947, set off a chain reaction of blasts and fires here resulting in more than 500 killed, 4,000 injured and 115 missing. Property damage was set at $67 million.

Residents a half mile away said glass windows were blown out of their homes Thursday night.

J. M. Barrett, assistant superintendent at the plant, said the explosions were caused by a rupture in the base of a column in the ethylene complex.

"We have been unable to determine the exact extent of the damage," he said. "All people are accounted for, and fortunately no one has been seriously injured."

Barrett said eight persons were treated in the plant dispensary. He said six were released and two were admitted for observation at Galveston County Memorial Hospital.

City Notified Of Approval For TOPICS Program

The Bureau of Public Roads has approved the inauguration of the planning projects required for the TOPICS program in Big Spring, according to City Manager Larry Crow.

The city was notified this morning by the district engineer's office in Abilene of the approval, which included a prospectus and plan of operation for the program and asked for the number of miles of streets the city maintains and for the names of city personnel involved in the program who will serve on a joint study committee.

"The program will include an intensive study of Big Spring's traffic patterns, growth patterns, and economic patterns," Crow said. "It will be an updating of our Master Plan begun in 1960, and now under contract with Marvin Springer, our planning consultant."

"We are one of the first cities in the state to be included in the program. I feel it will lead to major improvements within the city over a period of time, but no priorities have been established on the improvements."

The purpose of the TOPICS program is to increase traffic safety and improve transportation in the city on streets other than highways. Crow said this not only improves safety for the community, but also helps relieve the traffic load on highways through the city.

"The next step involves gathering traffic and statistical information regarding the community," Crow said. "On this, Springer will work in conjunction with highway department planners. Included will be an inventory, analysis, and recommendation on such things as existing street use, accidents, street capacity, parking, travel time, and traffic volumes. A forecast will also be made to 1990, including an employment survey and socio-economic data by the consultant, and origin and destination surveys by the department."

Crow added that many of the studies which are necessary prerequisites to the program are already in progress by Springer.

First Lady Hires A New Press Aide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The First Lady has a new $30,000 a year press secretary-staff director and as a result the Richard Nixons have the first husband-wife team in their official family.

While Constance Cornell Stuart, 31, is guiding Mrs. Nixon's public relations in the East Wing of the White House, her husband Charles, 32, is at work in the West Wing as a staff assistant to presidential counsel, John Ehrlichman.

Mrs. Nixon announced Thursday that Mrs. Stuart, an attractive redhead, would be her new "chief of staff."

She replaces Gerry Van der Heuvel who after 11 months as Mrs. Nixon's press aide is taking a job as special assistant to U.S. Ambassador Graham Martin at Rome.

New Gadget

LUCKNOW, India (AP) — They say necessity is the mother of invention. And so I. K. Puri, an engineer in the government owned Indian railways, has invented a gadget which will stop a train if the driver goes to sleep.

Called the "driver's vigilance control," the gadget rings a bell emitting orange light after every 40 seconds inside the driver's cabin. If the driver fails to acknowledge the warning signal by pressing an indicator, the train automatically stops after five seconds.

Nurses Can Get Help In Civilian Training

Recent changes in U.S. Army regulations now make it possible for nurses to attend civilian schools of anesthesia and still receive financial assistance.

For several years the Army has sponsored registered nurses in civilian colleges and universities while they studied to achieve a Bachelor of Science or Masters degree in Nursing. New provisions have been added to regulations enabling qualified registered nurses to receive this financial assistance while attending an approved school of anesthesia.

to qualify for a commission in the Army Nurse Corps, and must be accepted or matriculated as a full-time student in a university, college or school of anesthesia for nurses in the United States acceptable to the Department of the Army. The educational institution must offer an educational program leading to a baccalaureate or higher degree in nursing or diploma in Anesthesiology Nursing. The individual must be able to complete all requirements for the degree or diploma in anesthesia within 24 months. The selected participant receives pay and allowances of the officer rank for which he or she qualified — for up to and including 24 months. Additional information may be obtained by contacting local U.S. Army Recruiting personnel. Appointments for counseling and assistance will be continued at the present, and an Army Nurse Corps officer will be available for interviews.

LONDON (AP) — Britain's Post Office, which runs the telephone service, says it has perfected a system of "secret alarms" to detect hooligans damaging equipment in public phone booths.

Goldwater Gigs Viet Cease-Fire Proposal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has acidly criticized the Vietnam cease-fire proposal of Sen. Hugh Scott, adding the Republican leader does not necessarily speak for his GOP colleagues.

It was the first flicker of conservative Republican restiveness since Scott, a self-described progressive, became GOP leader last month.

Goldwater noted Scott had said he was not in the habit of clearing his ideas in advance with the White House.

"I think it would be helpful if he would also state that he is not in the habit of clearing such statements with all members of his own political party in the Senate," Goldwater said.

In advancing the plan for a unilateral U.S. cease-fire, to remain effective unless the Communists violate it, Scott said he was offering a personal hope.

The Pentagon promptly rejected the idea, and so did Goldwater.

"I for one wish to make it very plain that while I recognize the senator from Pennsylvania has been duly selected minority leader of my party, I do not accept his personal recommendations on any and all subjects," Goldwater told the Senate.

Goldwater said unilateral action will merely convince the Communists we are afraid of them.

Scott, in Sharon, Pa., renewed the cease-fire call Thursday night.

"I hope that a cease-fire will be announced just as soon as it can be safely arranged," he said.

That speech was the latest in a series of almost nightly appearances at Republican fund raising dinners in Pennsylvania where Scott will seek re-election next year.

Scott won re-election in 1964 despite the crushing defeat of Goldwater, who was the Republican presidential nominee. He has a record of attracting Democratic and independent voters.

"In that regard, the minority leader's job is a mixed blessing," said another Pennsylvania GOP politician. "He's trying to accommodate the President, he's trying to accommodate his colleagues in the Senate, and he has to consider his constituency."

A crucial test in all three departments could be the confirmation vote on Clement F. Haynsworth Jr., President Nixon's choice for the Supreme Court.

on's choice for the Supreme Court.

Scott, who describes himself as undecided, is under heavy administration pressure to vote for confirmation, which would be a liability among labor and Negro voters in Pennsylvania.

The problem was compounded Thursday when Sen. Richard S. Schweiker, Scott's Republican colleague from Pennsylvania, announced his opposition to Haynsworth and accused the judge of violating judicial canons of ethics.

EXPRESS SYMPATHY, SORROW, CONCERN

Letters To Linkletter Pouring In

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — A letter from Magnolia, Ill., said, "On Memorial Day I buried my 20-year-old son. He, too, was murdered by LSD..."

From Honolulu: "May the youngsters of this world take heed of your brave and magnificent words..."

From Richmond, Calif.: "You have brought me and my family many hours of smiles and happiness. What can we do for you now?"

Such is the mail pouring in for television star Art Linkletter—25,000 letters in the last 10 days, he told President Nixon and congressional leaders Thursday after his daughter Diane's death.

Twenty-year-old Diane, youngest of his five children, died Oct. 4 in a plunge from the kitchen window of her sixth-floor apartment.

From rich and poor, young and old, prominent citizens and obscure, the letters to Linkletter express sympathy, sorrow, concern—and admiration for his forthright blaming of LSD immediately after the tragedy.

"What a fine person you are, to make the story known to all of us who have young people in our homes," says a letter from Columbus, Ohio.

Some letters, telegrams and telephone calls request speaking engagements. Some letters say, "God bless you," or "tell me what I can do to help" with the drug problem.

Some say, "Please write to my son." These are from parents who know their children are involved with drugs but don't know what to do.

"Frankly, I can't tell them what to do because I don't know," Linkletter, 57, told the two-hour White House meeting on the President's proposals dealing with the drug problem.

Linkletter said at the meeting that his daughter "leaped to her death in a depressed state from bad LSD trips six months before..." She thought she was losing her mind.

He urged that an educational program be aimed at both parents and pupils beginning in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

In Hollywood, meanwhile, three secretaries continued opening and answering the letters. Some are from college officials, ministers, bankers, doctors, lawyers, judges. All the letters express sympathy.

Anxious parents included one in Chicago: "Please advise me what course to follow as I'm so worried and fearful of my daughter's future."

Neptune Beach, Fla.: "My daughter is 17 and on LSD. It is wrecking her life and health. If you can send me any advice of any kind, I will appreciate it greatly."

Georgia: "My 17-year-old son has been in jail for over a month awaiting trial for possession and selling of LSD. We are a low-income family. He got started on it from a small salary he made from working at a drive-in."

Another Georgian knows the Linkletters' grief first-hand: "I also lost a daughter who jumped from a 17-story building."

Van Nuys, Calif.: "My son, who would have been 18, took his life by hanging from taking LSD."

San Diego: "I have lost two children to dope, a son and a daughter. They are still alive in body, but I know they have no conscious life left."

San Antonio, Tex.: "My 27-year-old son is taking some kind of narcotics. It caused my husband to die of a heart attack."

Panorama City, Calif.: "My son's last downfall was an overdose of LSD... This boy is what they term a vegetable, totally disabled, only 25 years old and finished."

Other letters have a religious tone. Charleston, S.C.: "Perhaps Diane's death is God's way of calling you to accept the great challenge of your life."

A fourth grader, Astoria, Long Island: "We in our class offered prayers for your family and especially Diane... You always loved children and made them happy."

Many letters express admiration for Linkletter. San Angelo, Tex.: "Your courage and integrity in exposing the cause of this loss is appreciated and admired by all of us who are concerned with the drug abuse problem..."

Indianapolis: "With all my talking, all my pleading to warn my four children of the dangers—it surely has meant more coming from you."

Mays Landing, N.J.: "If anyone can get to the kids, it's you."

Police Hunt 'Nearsighted' Killer In Sharon Tate Case

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Police have disclosed that the person who killed actress Sharon Tate and four others last August dropped a pair of spectacles indicating he was nearsighted.

They believe this may lead to capture of the killer. Detectives said Thursday they found the thick-lensed tortoise shell eyeglasses when they discovered the honey blonde Miss Tate, 26, and four companions slain last Aug. 9 in her Bel Air home.

Near Miss Tate's body was the body of her former boyfriend, hair stylist Jay Sebring.

Their heads were hooded and joined by a cord. Outside the house were the bodies of coffee heiress Abigail Folger, Polish playboy Voltyck Frokowsky and Stephen Parent, friend of a caretaker.

All were shot, stabbed or both. The eyeglasses, Detective Lt. Robert Helder told a news conference Thursday, were found inside the home, where they "probably fell off during a struggle."

Police tried to keep the glasses a secret, Helder said, because they were useful in lie detector tests as long as suspects weren't aware detectives knew about them.

But six weeks ago detectives asked eye specialists to help them find the owner of the glasses, and word that police knew about the spectacles leaked out.

In addition to correcting nearsightedness, the glasses—as described by Helder and Dr. Wayne W. Hoelt, one of the first optometrists to examine them—indicate their owner was between 20 and 40 years old with a small head, characterized by Hoelt as "volleyball-shaped."

Webb Class Gets Wings

The 58-member undergraduate pilot training class 70-03 is scheduled to receive its silver wings and certificates of aeronautical rating Saturday in graduation ceremonies on the Webb AFB flightline.

A full parade and pass-in-review, beginning at 10 a.m., has been planned. In case of inclement weather, the graduation will be held in Withercombe Hall, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

The class culminated the 58-week pilot training program earlier this week. Tonight the class dining-in will be held in the Webb Officers' Open Mess.

Col. Lew Allen, director of office of Space Systems, Washington D.C., will be the guest speaker.

Class 70-03 graduates include 55 Air Force officers who initially received their commission through the Reserve Officers Training Corps program.

Officers Training School, the Air Force Academy and the Air National Guard. There are also two Norwegian students and one Marine Corps officer graduating with the class.

Private Eyes

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Bogus private eyes have given the profession "a most unsavory reputation of being a collection of peeping toms and cranks," the South African Council of Private Investigators charged.

"I doubt whether most people posing as investigators in South Africa have even a layman's knowledge of the country's laws," said F. Toubkin, president of the council. The council called for regularization and control of freelance detectives on American lines after the conviction of an investigator who broke a window to take photographs of a couple as evidence in a divorce case.

Priest, Nuns Disagree On Dress Code Ideals

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK (AP)—The parish pastor insisted that the nuns wear religious habits while teaching. They refused, insisting they were free to wear regular contemporary clothing. The upshot: No classes for the time being.

That clash of positions, which occurred at St. Mary's church in South Dartmouth, Mass., last week, reflects in miniature an aura of tension developing between Roman Catholic authorities and some sisterhoods. At issue was the extent of freedom to be allowed the communities of women in initiating new styles and methods of carrying out their work. The leeway seemed to vary from place to place, depending on the local bishop's attitude.

It may be that nuns will "have to work differently in one diocese than from the way they will work in another diocese," says the Rev. Edward L. Heston, an American priest who now holds a Vatican post dealing with religious orders. "They'll have a freer hand in one place than they'll have in another place," he told the recent annual meeting in St. Louis of the Conference of Major Superiors of Women's Religious Institutes.

"That's the human element that we can't do anything about. We have to take people as they are and that includes ordinaries (bishops), too," Father Heston added.

In the South Dartmouth case, the pastor, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Arthur G. Considine, had the backing of Bishop James L. Connolly, of the Fall River, Mass., diocese, in insisting the nuns wear habits, a chancery office spokesman said.

The three nuns involved are members of the Sisters of Mercy, one of the largest orders of teachers and nurses in the American Church, with about 13,000 of them in two branches. It and many of the more than 500 other Catholic communities of women recently have been modifying regulations to permit wider options in dress and modes of life.

The process has brought scattered incidents of conflict. A showdown now appears in the offing over one of the most prolonged and dramatic collisions, involving the Immaculate Heart of Mary Sisters. They've been ordered by the Vatican to cease experiments and adopt uniform rules.

However, they have sent a letter replying that their innovations still are in a testing stage, that they probably cannot be properly evaluated until 1975, and "in the meantime, we will continue with no change of direction."

The order's new provisions allow its members wide flexibility in devotional life, work and apparel.

REV. D. M. DUKE

Duke To Take Pastor Duties At Shreveport

Rev. D. M. Duke, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, has accepted the pastorate of the Church of the Nazarene in Shreveport, La. He will be leaving Big Spring about Nov. 17.

Rev. Duke has been serving the church here since May, 1965; he is currently serving as vice president of the Big Spring Pastors' Association. He came to Big Spring from Wichita Falls First Church, where he had ministered for eight years. The district superintendent will meet with the church board within the next two weeks to find another pastor for the church here.

Office Sign

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—A physician in suburban St. Matthews has, for years, created an unusual amount of comment with an office sign that reads: "Disregard This Sign."

Nazarene Church To Host Area Holiness Convention

The Church of the Nazarene, 1400 Lancaster, will host the denomination's Area Holiness Convention, to be held here Nov. 5-9. Dr. Lyle Eckley, West Texas district superintendent, will be moderator.

Dr. John L. Knight will be the principal speaker, while the Rev. Jim Bell and his wife, both of Bethany, Okla., who were recently pastors of the Lubbock First Church, will be in charge of music. Others to be featured in the afternoon services are Rev. William Dorrough, Rev. Ralph West and Rev. Clyde Dawson.

The Church of the Nazarene accepts the Wesleyan persuasion; that is, that holiness of heart and life is fundamental to church doctrine. They believe after regeneration there is a second work of divine grace whereby one is sanctified wholly, and being delivered from original sin, is filled with the Holy Spirit and empowered for service.

This will be the theme of the convention, which is expected to be attended by many people throughout West Texas.

Ver Duin Is Made Director At TCU

FORT WORTH — Dr. Don J. Ver Duin, field representative for Texas Christian University since 1964, has assumed the position of acting director of church relations for the institution. His appointment, effective Sept. 1, was announced by C. C. Nolen, vice chancellor for development.

"Because of Dr. Ver Duin's vast acquaintance with ministers and churchmen across Texas, New Mexico and Louisiana and because of his intimate and long-standing association with TCU, he has been asked to serve as acting director of church relations until such time as that program can be evaluated and formulated in light of New Century Program goals," said Nolen.

Dr. Ver Duin, former associate minister of Fort Worth's University Christian Church, succeeds Dr. John Knowles, who directed the church relations program for seven years prior to assuming the position of area minister for the High Plains of Texas.

New Degree Course At Brite

FORT WORTH — Brite Divinity School, the graduate theological seminary of Texas Christian University, will inaugurate a new program leading to the Doctor of Ministry degree, beginning with the opening of the 1970-71 academic year.

The Doctor of Ministry degree curriculum is designed to prepare students for creative work in the pastorate and in emerging forms of Christian ministry rather than to educate them for teaching and research in colleges and universities. The doctoral students will concentrate in two theological disciplines, one classical and one practical. These will be integrated in terms of a secular discipline in TCU's Graduate School.

DR. LYLE ECKLEY

District Chief Will Moderate Nazarene Meet

Dr. Lyle Eckley, Lubbock, ordained an elder in the Nazarene denomination in 1933 and currently serving as supervisor of the West Texas District, will moderate the Area Holiness Convention to be held at the Nazarene church here next month.

He took this position in June, 1968, succeeding Rev. Raymond Hurn, Lubbock, who had been elected two weeks earlier by the Nazarene General Board to be secretary of the department of Home Missions for the general church.

Dr. Eckley had been superintendent of the Northwestern Illinois District for 20 years prior to his move to Texas. He had also served six years as superintendent of the New York District and as pastor of churches in Sidell, Ill., Freeport, Ill., and Milwaukee, Wis.

Dr. Eckley attended Asbury College, Wilmore, Ky., but transferred to Olivet Nazarene College, Kanakee, Ill., where he received a bachelor of arts degree.

Promotion For Pearson

Alton Pearson, assistant administrator of Hillcrest Baptist Hospital in Waco has been named executive director of Baptist Memorial's Geriatric Center in San Angelo.

Pearson, an employee of the Waco hospital for 16 years, will succeed H. D. Bruce, who will retire from the San Angelo post, Oct. 1. The Waco and San Angelo institutions are two of the nine hospitals sponsored by the Baptist General Convention of Texas and work with the convention's Human Welfare Commission.

The geriatric center in San Angelo encompasses a 248-bed geriatric hospital, the 200-room Cactus Hotel for the elderly and a development area of 70 acres consisting of cottages and living units for retired persons.

Pearson is a member of the American College of Hospital Administrators. He has held a number of elective positions with the Texas Hospital Association, is immediate past president of the Waco Lions Club and is a deacon at Lake Shore Baptist Church in Waco.

Baptists To Study Traditional Stand

A decision regarding the traditional Baptist stance on separation of church and state is to be called for at the annual meeting of the Baptist General Convention of Texas Nov. 4-6 in San Antonio. That meeting will be preceded by another annual meeting, the Texas Baptist Men, Nov. 3-4, which will feature talks from a space scientist, a southern mayor and an ex-missionary recently released from a Cuban prison.

At the convention meeting, Texas Baptist churches will vote again on a motion previously presented in 1966, which would allow Baptist institutions to secure low-interest government loans. The 1966 motion was defeated by a 739-536 margin.

Among the out-of-state personalities featured on the convention program are William Hull, Southern Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, Ky.; Kenneth Chafin, holder of the Billy Graham Chair of Evangelism at Southern Seminary; Glen Archer, executive secretary of the Washington D.C.-based Americans United for Separation of Church and State; and Arthur Bessitt, unorthodox "minister to the Sunset Strip" in Los Angeles. Dr. Gordon Clinard, San Angelo's First Baptist pastor, is stepping down as president of the 1-8 million member convention after a two-year tenure.

Edward Lindaman, an executive in the Space Division, North American Rockwell Corporation, is one of the speakers scheduled at the Texas Baptist Men's meeting. He has been consulted by top government, industrial, educational and church leaders in exploring implications of man's entrance to the space age. The former president of United Presbyterian Laymen worked on the team which designed and manufactured the Apollo spacecraft.

Lindaman conducts a weekly 30 minute television production in Los Angeles, discussing ethical implications of recent scientific discoveries with high school students.

Other speakers at the two-day convention will be David Fite, a Baptist missionary who spent two years in a Cuban prison; Lambert Mims, youngest mayor in the history of Mobile, Ala.; T. A. Patterson, executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, Dallas; and Luman Holman, businessman and Baptist layman from Jacksonville, Tex.

The convention will feature testimonies, leadership conferences and special music from the Seminary Choir of Torreon, Mexico. All sessions will be held at the Alamo City's First Baptist Church.

Texas Baptist Men meet in convention session each year immediately prior to the Baptist General Convention of Texas annual sessions.

NOBODY LOVES ME

Mark sat in the middle of the hospital ward, looking scared and lonely. All around, other babies were being hugged and cooed at by their visitors.

He couldn't know we'd stopped to get his clothes and that today he'd be going home. His understanding of the situation was limited. But then he saw us, and he laughed and held out his arms, loneliness and fear forgotten.

Sometimes life makes us feel lost and lonely. Perhaps a business fails, a son is unreliable, a new job overwhelms or a loved one's gone. When we can't see our way, where can we turn?

God is our Comforter. Whatever our problem, there is guidance and help in His word.

Your church is the best place to learn understanding of God and yourself. This understanding is the key to the abundant life that is His promise.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Kentucky Tuberculosis Hospital Commission has recommended phasing out the state's six TB hospitals over the next decade. They have been operating at about half capacity.

Offers Help To Library

The Cultural Affairs Committee of the Chamber of Commerce decided Wednesday to offer its assistance to a new library and to request that a library board be established. Also, it will back the visit of the Air Force dance orchestra, the Airmen of Note, by distributing free tickets and posters.

The committee has organized a library sub-committee to consult with the County Commissioners Court and to offer aid. Library committee members are Mrs. Daryle Hohertz, Mrs. Smith Swords, Mrs. Richard Davis and Mrs. Harold Davis. Mrs. Swords made a motion "that the faculty recital (set for February) profits be applied toward a library fund."

The librarian, Mrs. Opal McDaniel, has listed library needs as carpeting, a projector, furniture and books. The committee has set up an "opera corner" at the library, with 25 volumes of classical and opera music. The records or money for records was donated by women's clubs. Providing an opera corner listening room and getting books on the opera and classical music was also discussed.

Mrs. McDaniel will be leaving her job in January. Committee members voiced their hopes that a new qualified librarian with a degree in library science would be hired by the county.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter (I'll call her "Sue") chose to marry a man for whom nobody in our family has any use. He was in the service, went AWOL, and finally got a DISHONORABLE DISCHARGE.

This didn't set very well with my family because our oldest daughter's husband was killed in Korea. We have a 20-year-old son who is now in Vietnam, and a 27-year-old who is home after serving two years in Vietnam where he lost a leg.

Sue made it plain that she would never set foot in our home again unless her husband was made welcome, too. Well, since we love our daughter more than we hate her husband, we agreed to accept him.

Our oldest daughter says if this terrible son-in-law walks in while SHE is there, she will walk out. I know there is no easy solution, Abby, but what should we do to hurt the least number of people?

UP A CREEK
DEAR UP: No one (not even your children) should dictate whom you shall welcome into your home. If you have chosen to accept a son-in-law for whom you have no use rather than to "lose" your daughter, that is your right. If your oldest daughter wishes to walk out, that's HER right.

DEAR ABBY: My husband spends his ENTIRE vacation every summer visiting with his parents in Europe, and he says he will continue to do so as long as they are alive. For financial reasons he cannot take me and the children.

I think it is commendable that my husband is so considerate of his parents, but at the same time I think his wife and children should be considered. Am I selfish in feeling somewhat resentful?

DEAR TORONTO: NO! The selfish one is your husband.

DEAR ABBY: I never could get Gerald to trim the hedges or mow the lawn. And he always used the excuse that he had hay fever and asthma and couldn't do yard work. Now he goes for shots and practically lives outside, planting everything he can get his hands on. The reason? A pretty young neighbor girl. She's in her yard a lot. I think you get the idea.

Gerald is 57 and this neighbor is 30 — our daughter's age! I'm sure she couldn't care less about Gerald, but it grieves me to see him make such a fool of himself. I keep thinking that if HER husband comes home and sees my old goat looking at her like she's a chocolate marshmallow sundae he's apt to part Gerald's hair with a shovel!

Should I let him know I'm jealous? Or should I give HER some motherly advice and tell her to put Grandpa in his place?

DEAR JEALOUS: Let Gerald know you're jealous. (He might enjoy it.) But don't say anything to the girl next door. Why spoil the old boy's fun?

DEAR ABBY: I have been reading the letters in your column pro and con about sex education in public schools, and I think you have given the best advice to concerned parents so far: "GO TO SCHOOL AND ASK TO SEE THE COURSES GIVEN." Too many people are willing to believe everything they hear and read.

Bids Called For Elbow Addition

Forsan County Line Independent School District will accept bids until 4 p.m. Nov. 6 for the construction of six classroom units at the Elbow School plant.

Work will include plumbing, heating, electrical, air conditioning and kitchen equipment. Plans and specifications are available at the offices of the architects, Gary and Hohertz, Big Spring.

Bids will be opened in the Forsan High School auditorium, and trustees are asking for a lump sum proposal.

State Oilmen Express Vote Disappointment

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Texas oilmen expressed disappointment at the Senate Finance Committee's vote to cut the industry's depletion allowance to 23 per cent.

The oilmen said they hope the full 27 1/2 per cent will be restored when the tax reform bill reaches the Senate floor.

The Finance Committee voted Thursday to cut the allowance to 23 per cent. The committee is considering a House-approved bill that includes a cut to 20 per cent.

Evidence introduced at the committee's hearing showed that "any reduction in the depletion allowance can be expected to make it difficult to keep the United States in a position of self-sufficiency in petroleum," said M. A. Wright, board chairman of Humble Oil & Refining Co.

Wright said a reduction would cause the United States to become more dependent upon foreign crude oil.

Kenneth E. Montague, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, said any recovery from the cut voted by the House is encouraging but the Senate has before it voluminous testimony supporting the need for the full 27 1/2 per cent.

"The nation's supply of oil and gas will be endangered if this reduction is permitted to stand," said Montague, chief spokesman for the trade group that represents all segments of the Texas oil and gas industry. Houston independent Michael Halbouty said "certainly 23 per cent is better than 20 per cent. In my opinion it should remain at 27 1/2 per cent."

A spokesman for the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association said that group would wait until the full bill is out before deciding whether to continue the fight for 27 1/2 per cent.

The current 43-year old depletion permits 27 1/2 per cent allowances on gross incomes from producing leases but limits the allowance to no more than 50 per cent of net.

HUNT CRUEL KILLER

DALLAS (AP) — The body of a Dallas girl was found shortly before midnight Wednesday on a Dallas street.

She was identified as Leona Fowler, 17. Police said she had been stabbed about 50 times.

A knife apparently used in the slaying was found a short distance from the body, police said.

did they swap the BIBLE for a prayer book?

Indeed not! From beginning to end, the Episcopal Prayer Book IS the Bible in some form or another. It's possibly the finest key available to understanding the Bible. The person who uses this book faithfully finds himself reading the New Testament twice and the Old Testament once in a year's time.

The Prayer Book is so arranged that the minister cannot depart from the Bible. He is prevented from dealing in ideas that have no Biblical foundation... or from belaboring his congregation, over and over, with his own favorite passages.

Episcopalians are never required to accept any belief that cannot be proved from, or is not agreeable to, the teachings of Holy Scripture.

Your nearest Episcopal minister would be happy to explain why, for him and his congregation, the Bible will never be obsolete. It's all a matter of viewpoint... and there's no obligation on your part if you'd like to understand the Episcopal viewpoint.

One of a series presented by "Those Crazy Episcopalians" in your area.

St. Lawrence Youngsters Named Gold Star Winners

GARDEN CITY — Rudy Halfmann and Karen Hoelscher were named Gold Star Award winners for 1969 at the annual Glasscock County 4-H Achievement Night, held Monday at the St. Lawrence Community Hall. Hosts for the event were the St. Lawrence 4-H Boy's and Girl's Clubs.

The boys put on a program on the "Meaning of 4-H," while the girls were in charge of refreshments. Patrolman Jack White, Big Spring, Texas Highway Patrol, gave a talk on citizenship.

There were 150 parents and 4-H members present for the event.

Achievement awards were presented by County Extension Agent Oliver F. Werst and Mrs. Mildred C. Eiland, HD agent.

Rudy Halfmann, 17, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Halfmann of the St. Lawrence Community. He has been in 4-H Club work eight years, and has carried on projects with all kinds of livestock and exhibited them at shows all over the state. He had had champion animals in the pig, lamb, and steer classes at the Glasscock County livestock show, and has won the showmanship award in all livestock shows, and had the first place Charolais cross steer in the lightweight class at San Antonio in 1969. He has served on the District 4-H council two years and is presently serving as president of the St. Lawrence Boy's 4-H Club. In addition to the Gold Star Award, he also won the Citizenship Medal, the Danforth Foundation Award, and a copy of the book "I Dare You."

Karen Hoelscher, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoelscher, has been a club member for seven years. She has done outstanding work in clothing, been a county dress revue winner two years, second alternate in district dress revue 1969, and has served as junior clothing leader for two years. Her other projects include home management, home improvement, food nutrition, citizenship, and leadership. She has attended the county recreation workshop, county and district leadership and district council workshops.

RUDY HALFMANN

Karen has served as secretary and president of her local club, putting into practice leadership techniques learned in training workshops. She is active in school, church and community organizations. She is a member of the Beta Club.

Achievement medals were presented to the following 4-H members:

Beef cattle — Mark Werst. Achievement medals — Ronnie Halfmann, Chris Hirt, Mike Bissard, Sandra Halfmann, and Pat Halfmann. Agricultural awards medals — Mike Batla, Kenny Batla, Allen Dierschke, and Diann Halfmann. Swine production medals —

Lynn Halfmann, Gary Batla, Larry Batla, and Barry Hirt. Clothing medals — Barbara Hoelscher, Kay Donna Halfmann, Roxanne Hirt, and Linda Schwartz.

Consumer education — Dinell Hirt. Dairy foods — Antoinette Schraeder, Karen Woodley, Melissa Kohutek, and Brenda Schwartz.

Electric awards — Kay Woodley and Jeanie Werst. Food-nutrition — Phyllis Johnson, Mary Kay Hoelscher, Dann Kohutek, Elaine Jansa, Kathy Schwartz, and Karen Schwartz.

Food preservation — Laurie Lange, Connie Schwartz, Denise Jansa and Sheryl Kohutek. Health — Sharon Frysak. Home improvement — Kay Hayden, Sherry Smith, Dana Halfmann and Becky Hirt.

Home management — Sheryl Newell, and Jan Hirt. Leadership — Kay Schraeder. Safety — Shirley Schwartz, Betty Smith, and Becky Schwartz.

County Demos Plan Drive To Sign Up Voters

The Howard County Democratic Executive Committee, Thursday night in the county courtroom, mapped plans for a county-wide voter registration drive.

Cecil Riordan, county chairman, said that several thousand brochures are being printed explaining registration procedures and requirements, and will soon be available in numerous locations. The brochures will contain a postage-paid card by which the citizen may register to vote.

Over 6,000 Howard County residents have already registered.

The executive committee also discussed plans for an area-wide meeting in early January at which local and state candidates will appear. A nationally-known speaker — perhaps a U.S. Senator — is planned.

Representatives of the Young Democrats were also present at the meeting and discussed efforts in the state legislature to lower the voting age.

State Park Site Costs $1 Million

AUSTIN (AP)—A beautifully wooded 4,775-acre state park site with nine miles of Pedernales River shoreline has been bought by the state for nearly $1 million, Gov. Preston Smith announced Thursday.

In 1963, the state could have had the land for free, but the legislative conference committee on appropriations knocked out the park improvement funds that were a condition for the gift.

Smith announced the Parks and Wildlife Commission signed a sales contract with Mrs. C. A. Wheatley of San Antonio to buy the Circle Bar Ranch for $200 an acre, or about $955,000.

The ranch, 50 miles west of Austin and 70 miles north of San Antonio, is the second site acquired under $75 million bond program approved by the voters in 1967 for state park acquisition.

Smith said the site is "well preserved and contains some unique and natural scientific and recreational features found only in the Edwards Plateau. The site has a year-round flowing river, some cascading waters, large cypress, live oak, pecan, juniper and sycamore trees, a variety of other types of trees and wildflowers and an abundant supply of wild game. It has the type of scenery that beckons Texans to come relax and enjoy the out-of-doors."

The Wheatley family donated the land in the early 1960 on the condition that the state spend $250,000 to develop it in the 1963-65 financing period. Gov. John Connally, the legislative Budget Board, the House and the Senate all agreed to include the money in the 1963 legislature's appropriation bill.

When a 10-man conference committee finished work on a compromise appropriations bill toward the end of that session, the Wheatley park development money was left out, forfeiting the park.

"As a result of the deletion by the conference committee, the state completely lost title to this land," Gov. John Connally said in a stinging message, vetoing nine park projects that neither house had approved but which were inserted into the conference report.

Opponents of the Parks and Wildlife Commission's decision in 1964 to designate a 250-acre site near Stonewall as the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park were quick to bring up the lost opportunity for the much larger Wheatley tract.

Land for the LBJ park cost private donors between $160,000 and $170,000, and more than $1 million in state and federal money has been spent for improvement.

"It is sites such as this which must be set aside for this and future generations of Texas. I feel that the commission, made up of Pearce Johnson of Austin, Harry Jersig of San Antonio and Pete Gilvin of Amarillo are to be commended on their choice of sites," Smith said of the Wheatley tract.

The new park will be about 25 miles east of the LBJ State Park.

Mark Gosdin, director of state parks, said allocation of funds to develop the Wheatley site must await completion of a master plan for the park. Development funds will come from the park bond program, he said.

The conference committee that knocked out the $250,000 in development money in 1963 was headed by Rep. W. S. Heatly, Paducah, present chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, and Sen. George Mofett, Chillicothe, who has retired. Other members were Reps. Maurice Pipkin, Brownsville, now the director of the State Judicial Qualifications Commission; Gus Mutscher, Brenham, the current House speaker; Henry Grover, Houston, now a Senator, and Robert Johnson, Dallas, the present director of the Texas Legislative Council; and Sens. A. M. Aikin, Paris, now the head of Senate budget writers; Martin Dies Jr., Lufkin, now the Texas Secretary of State; Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo, the present director of the Texas Water Development Board, and Grady Hazlewood, Amarillo, Senate Finance Committee chairman.

No explanation was ever given for the deletion of the Wheatley park money.

The conferees were appointed by Smith, then the lieutenant governor, and then-Speaker Byron Tunnell, now a member of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Steer Band To Show Routine

The Steer band will present its University Interscholastic League marching contest routine at tonight's game against San Angelo. The band will march on to the field at half-time playing Eagle Squadron March.

They will drill to Barnum and Bailey's Circus March, showing off the contrasts of their new gold and silver uniform overlays. More drill patterns will follow to a snappy Blue Skies. The band will exit playing the First Suite in E Flat.

Clubbers Plan Year's Program

The St. Lawrence Boy's 4-H Club this week elected officers for the new year. Rudy Halfmann was elected president, Pat Halfmann, vice president, Earl Jansa, secretary, and Floyd Schwartz, reporter.

The boys selected wildlife management as the theme for the year and will study animals and birds at their club meetings. A demonstration on telling ages of deer by their teeth was given at this club meeting by County Agent Oliver Werst.

Prizes will be given to the boy who makes the best collection of jawbones and labels them as to age correctly. Also prizes will be given to the boy who kills the deer with the largest set of horns; the boy who brings in the largest tusk from a javelina hog. These prizes will be made at the January meeting.

NASA To Get 1st Datamate

The National Space and Aeronautics Administration will get the first Datamate 16 system to be delivered from the Datamate Computer Systems, Inc. plant here next week.

The system will be used for classified purposes at the Goddard Space Flight Center in Greenbelt, Md., just out of Washington, D.C. L. D. McLendon, director of marketing, stressed that this was a complete system.

This also will be the case for the second unit, which will be delivered on the heels of the one to NASA. It goes to Leasco Science and Research at Santa Ana, Calif.

Previously, it had been announced that final checks were being made on these units prior to delivery, but NASA had not released the fact of its purchase since the computer was to be used in classified work.

Orders are on hand to take up the present line of production, which will be superseded by a new line of production within the next two months, when the new Datamate building is completed at the Gamco complex on the Snyder highway.

NASA contracts are in the amount of $26,200 according to George A. McAlister, president of Datamate.

Midland Demos To Hear Rep. Bob Armstrong

State Rep. Bob Armstrong, Austin, will be the main speaker Monday at a meeting of the Midland Democratic Club and the Midland Democratic Women's Club in the Banquet Room of the Downtowner Motel starting at 5:30 p.m.

According to Mrs. Katherine Wingo, president of the Midland Democratic Club, this meeting will launch the voter registration campaign of the two clubs.

Rep. Armstrong has served three terms in the legislature and during the special session last summer led the fight against the proposed sales tax on food and farm machinery. He was co-chairman of Texans for Tax Reform, which sponsored a statewide TV special explaining the tax issues to the public. He has participated in statewide campaigns including the Kennedy-Johnson ticket in 1960, the Johnson-Humphrey ticket in 1964 and for several state officials.

Recently, Armstrong has been mentioned by the newspapers as a possible candidate for land commissioner. The public is invited.

Vagrancy Rule

VIENNA (AP) — A man who told a magistrate he earned his living as a blood-donor was sentenced to eight days in jail because of "vagrancy."

The judge ruled the one-weekly donorship could not be considered a proper job and the money he received was not enough for his keep.

The bidding:

West North East South

Pass 1♠ Pass 1♣

Pass 3♠ Pass 6♣

Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Queen of ♠

The small slam reached by North and South is a reasonable effort. When South responded with one spade, the opening bidder's hand became worth 17 points in support of that suit [14 in high cards and 3 for the singleton]. The jump to three spades is quite acceptable, and the only objection is North's lack of a trump honor. Facing a partner who could open the bidding and follow up with a jump, South realized that his side had all the necessary ingredients for the slam. So, without further ado, he bid six spades.

West opened the queen of hearts taken by declarer's ace. With the appearance of the dummy, it was immediately apparent to South that he had more than enough tricks and the only problem was to hold the trump losers to one. He entered the North hand with the king of diamonds and led the eight of spades. East promptly played the deuce, and the declarer after a moment's thought, put in the jack from his hand.

West was in with the queen of spades and he returned a diamond. South won the trick in his hand with the queen and laid down the ace of trumps. When West showed out, another spade trick had to be conceded to East and the slam was defeated.

Declarer had made the proper play in leading a spade from the dummy and, if East had covered with the ten, it would have been correct for South to play the jack from his hand. This protects him from losing two spade tricks in the event that East has the K-Q-10 of trumps.

When East follows with a small spade however, South should play the ace from his hand. This has the advantage of eliminating any guesswork on the next lead of the suit. In addition, the play of the ace gains whenever West has the singleton king or the singleton queen. It loses only when he has the lone ten. Two chances are certainly better than one.

Being uptight doesn't make it. Busting loose makes it.

A Devotion For Today . . .

He healed many who suffered from various diseases, and drove out many devils. He would not let the devils speak, because they knew who he was. (Mark 1:34, NEB)
PRAYER: Lord Christ, touch our mountains that we have made from molehills. Take our anxieties and fears that paralyze us and help us to imagine obedience to Your spirit and will. Amen.

Memory Dictates Caution

Among the last things that President Nixon needs is another Dominican Republic crisis, such as politically hurt President Johnson badly. Johnson critics were never convinced that communism was threat enough to justify U.S. military intervention in that island's 1965 civil war, and bringing the Organization of American States in for an arranged settlement never fully salvaged the embarrassing affair.

Now the Dominican Republic is facing another presidential election next May, with the filing deadline in mid-February. Tension is already building around intricate political maneuvering.

The big question is whether President Joaquin Balaguer will seek re-election. If he does, the Dominicans' fear of "continuismo," or entrenched dictatorship like Rafael Trujillo's 31-year tyranny, may be inflamed.

If Balaguer retires, the field will be open to a wide variety of aspiring candidates. These include right-of-center Vice President Augusto Lora and left-of-center former President

Hector Garcia-Godoy.

Exiled former President Juan Bosch's party is still numerically a popular majority, but severely split and undecided on what to do. The Castro-Communist left, a small minority, is also fractured. The military likewise is divided sharply between nationalistic progressives, such as recently took over in Peru and Bolivia, and old-line reactionaries such as Gen. Wessin y Wessin, a leader in the 1965 civil war that followed the ouster of Bosch who it was feared would allow a Communist take-over.

Consequently, whatever Balaguer's decision, there is likelihood of pre-election turmoil inviting a military coup, what type depending on which military faction gains internal army control. In any event, it is probably that the United States, so painfully burned so recently in an intervention criticized throughout Latin America, will keep hands off this time unless there is an internationally convincing threat of Communist ascendancy.

A Trifle Tardy

Congress has given final approval to a bill designed to encourage banks to make federally-guaranteed loans to college students. The timing is, to say the least, somewhat curious.

Bank interest rates, as everyone knows who has sought a loan, are at the highest point in modern times. The prime rate — that assigned to the best customers, usually corporations — is now 8 1/2 per cent. The rate for others — usually they have to be customers — approximates 10 per cent.

Most banks in Texas have declined to grant student loans guaranteed by the federal government at seven per cent as set by law, claiming they cannot make enough profit from them. Some banks — the First City Bank of New York, for instance, which has approximately 20,000 student loans on its books — have been making the loans as a public service. But loans under the government program were effectively denied to most students in the United States.

Under an amendment to the law, just passed by Congress, the secretary of welfare is empowered to set the amount of incentive interest to promote student bank loans. The incentive can range upward to three per cent more than the seven per cent set in the original law. This probably will ensure a renewal of loan funds to students.

There is one bit of irony in this — school started in September. Perhaps someone should break this tender secret to Congress.

Marquis Childs California's Hot Gubernatorial Race

SAN FRANCISCO — When the prophets of doom were predicting another earthquake in April that would shatter the city as it was shattered in 1906, Mayor Joseph L. Alioto held a big public rally at 5:15 in the morning, the time set for the crack of doom. Thousands gathered in City Hall Plaza for coffee, doughnuts, rock-and-roll music and a rip-roaring speech by the mayor.

IT WAS characteristic of the Alioto style, which is bravura all the way. Recently, when a Look magazine article listed past Alioto law clients as Mafia figures, the pundits wrote off the mayor's political future. The smiling confidence he radiates today grows out of his belief that the Look article and his indignant response to what he claimed was "guilt by association" has been a positive benefit.

He is talking about winning not only the primary fight he will have with the state's most conspicuous Democratic candidate for the governorship, Jess Unruh, but going on from there to defeat the Republican champ, Ronald Reagan.

NEXT YEAR will be, politically speaking for this most populous and most rapidly growing state, the year of the tiger. It could be a test of whether the theatrical-television image types are to be the wave of the future not only in California but nationwide. For in 1970 two such types will be on the Republican ticket.

TO THE SURPRISE of practically no one, Sen. George Murphy announced in Los Angeles that he intends to run for re-election. A son-and-dance man in the heyday of film-dom, Murphy in a number of pictures played Shirley Temple's father. Now that Shirley is a member of the United States Delegation to the United Nations, having been defeated for a seat in the House, the theatrical trio is front and center on the Republican stage. Reagan is indelibly stamped on the public mind as the hero of all those TV Westerns.

FOR THE DEMOCRATS to pump up confidence takes considerable doing. The party is divided and in disarray. Until late in the 1968 presidential campaign Unruh sulked. A Kennedy man all the way, he had been a leader of the rebels at the convention in Chicago.

Alioto not only nominated Hubert Humphrey but he went all out for the ticket. His claim to party loyalty cannot be challenged. More important, however, with the left-of-center wing of the party is the attack he is beginning to direct against Reagan. He charges that the governor is running against the student rebels at Berkeley and on the other campuses of the University of California complex is conducting an anti-intellectual campaign threatening to destroy a great institution.

THE MAYOR has also seized on the environmental issue — the pollution of air and water rapidly eroding the natural resource base of a once-majestic and beautiful state. He talks about the 15 wealthy backers who can put up $10,000 each to buy the $150,000 house in which Reagan lives in Sacramento. They are, the mayor charges, the heart of the oil-oil lobby blocking any really effective measures to combat pollution.

A bruising Alioto-Unruh primary fight can leave the Democrats in even worse disarray than they are today. But the Republicans can also carve themselves up. Last year they nominated the incredible Max Rafferty, Superintendent of Public Instruction, for the Senate, rejecting a moderate, former Sen. Thomas Kuchel. Rafferty was defeated in November by Alan Cranston. It only proves that in California politics anything can happen, and it usually does. (Copyright, 1969, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

What Others Say

One of the amazing things about the state of technology these days is that man can accomplish just about anything he sets his mind to. Of course, when it comes to pollution, the predominant problem has been the failure to muster a massive commitment against it.

Out in California near Lake Tahoe there is at least hope for a better future. Sewage water is pumped through a special treatment plant and then piped 14 miles south to a man-made reservoir where conservationists say the water is pure enough to drink — so pure, in fact, that it is full of rainbow trout.

It's called an experiment . . . But let's put a patent on the process before it's forgotten. —ATLANTA JOURNAL

'WHAT'S TAKIN' YA SO LONG?'

Hal Boyle How Normal Are You?

NEW YORK (AP) — How normal are you? This is a question many people are asking themselves today in a world which seems to get wackier by the hour.

They wonder whether it is they who are getting daffy or merely the time in which they live that is out of kilter.

Too much worrying about the problem can be dangerous as well as confusing. After all, a fellow might go off his rocker brooding over whether he has already gone off his rocker.

Fortunately, it is fairly easy through a little self-examination to tell if you still have all or most of your marbles.

Just ask yourself the following questions:

Can you name three vital differences between your mother-in-law and the Loch Ness Monster?

Would you rather inherit a fortune than earn one on your own?

When you study your face in the mirror in the morning, do you feel it shows more character lines than wrinkles?

Do you sometimes lose your head when all about you seem to be keeping theirs screwed on nicely?

In telling a funny story to your boss do you nervously muffle the punchline about half the time?

Do you feel you could quit smoking if you ever really made up your mind to do it?

As a child when you had a pet dog, cat or rabbit, did your parents have to feed the animal fairly often because you neglected to?

Most of the time when you get up and yield your seat on the bus to a little old lady, doesn't it make you feel good inside, regardless of the fact that you intended to get off at the next stop anyway?

At the cocktail parties you go to, do you sometimes have the conviction that the host bought cheap booze and put it in bottles of a more expensive brand?

John Cunniff Stock Market Panic

NEW YORK (AP) — Forty years ago it was, long enough for some to dismiss as irrelevant history, that men in the market place parlayed their greed into the greatest market collapse of all time.

Throughout the 1920s the investors, speculators and manipulators inflated the prices of stocks, confident in their own abilities, whatever they were, optimistic about the country's future and certain in their hearts that wealth was the new standard.

Confidence, optimism and certainty evaporated on Oct. 24, 1929. Traders who believed a new and vigorous strain had appeared in the American species learned instead that it was an illness.

Before noon the stock market was in panic. Prices fell as if in a vacuum, and although they bounced a bit near the close of the day, the dreams of many Americans were turned to scrambled nightmares. It was the beginning of the crash.

Naturally enough, readers of history ask if it can happen again. And John Brooks, who spent two years writing about the era of 1929-1933, feels it can — even that it is likely, although not soon.

"As long as people are greedy there will be stock market booms and crashes, and as far as I know this will be forever," said Brooks, author of "Once In Golconda," a current best seller which chronicles the rise, fall and new beginning of the market.

Brooks concedes that regulation today is much better, and that unlike 1929, when the stock exchanges were physically unable to handle the suddenly expanded volume, the markets today are better equipped for emergencies.

But to Brooks there is the echo of an old refrain in such assurances.

"In 1929," he said, "people felt there was no danger of a crash because of the machinery of the Federal Reserve Board," which was set up to regulate cash and credit following the 1907 panic.

"People felt certain the Fed would step in and prevent another crash," said Brooks. Just as they do now.

In today's market many people feel confident that should prices drop too sharply the big mutual funds and other institutions would step in and abort the decline, just as in 1929 they thought financier J.P. Morgan and his friends would do so.

To Your Good Health Sinus Not A Simple Matter

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Thosteson: Will you give me some information on what I have been calling sinus trouble? I have been bothered with it for many weeks, off and on, according to the weather (showers, strong wind blowing, etc.).

I have tried drugs advertised so often as the cure, and nose sprays, salves, etc., but the trouble continues. Can you inform me on something to do for relief? —N.W.

Sinus trouble is neither as simple as some people assume, nor as mysterious as others think it is. And most certainly there is no single, easy "cure" for sinus trouble. Rather, there are numerous ways of gaining relief.

Quite a good many people, unfortunately, call any sort of sniffle "sinus" trouble.

There may be infection in them, or inflammation. The surfaces may be swollen or boggy. The entrance ways leading to these chambers may be obstructed, wholly or partially, so fluids from the sinuses cannot readily drain out. Then pressure builds up inside, and this can be either a nuisance or painful — or both. There can be aching in the region of the upper cheekbones or in the area of the eyes — or above them. The obstruction of the ducts may be from germs (cold germs or others), from polyps or other growths, from swelling resulting from allergy, which is anything but an unusual source of trouble, or from other causes.

I think that shows adequately enough why no single pill, salve, spray, or what have you is going to be the correct treatment for "sinus trouble" in general.

That also is why it is essential to understand what and where the sinuses are.

Therefore, my booklet, "You Can Cure Sinus Trouble," (and I recommend that you read it) describes the sinuses basically, before going on to discuss the various treatments which are used, depending on just what type of trouble is involved. It would not, and could not conscientiously, suggest anything that is "the cure for sinus." If you'd like the booklet, send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Herald.

Proper drainage, control of infections, desensitization or other means of subduing allergic reactions, sometimes surgery (rather simple surgery in some cases, as removal of polyps)—any of these will help the right cases but be of no use in the wrong ones. The most valid help I can give sinus sufferers is to convince them that they must identify the type of trouble before they are likely to find relief.

But once the nature of the trouble is known, there is every likelihood of easing, and often entirely ending, the misery.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have hammer toes and of late years corns. I rub the corns with castor oil with excellent results. My question is: can this be harmful in any way? I've read that the castor bean plant is poisonous. —P.A.

True, the castor bean is poisonous if swallowed, but there is no harm in using the castor oil as you do.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: This may sound silly but it's serious to me. Is it possible to have my big toes shortened? —Mrs. F.R.

There is no way short of partial amputation. The big toe is important in keeping one's balance, not to mention the matter of general mechanics of the foot. I'd abandon that notion.

"Tips On How To Stop Smoking," by Dr. Thosteson, will help you give up this habit. To receive a copy of the booklet, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing with your request 10 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Holmes Alexander Death March Of Non-Violence

WASHINGTON — It was a Gandhi-style revolution, with variations, and it caught the nation badly off balance.

In retrospect, the Oct. 15 Mobilization Day unhappily failed to alarm us, mainly because it wasn't "like a fireball in the night," to use JFK's words, but was a muted knell, nonetheless ominous.

Some of the variations were morbid warnings. "It might be a good thing," muttered an anti-war celebrity when someone suggested that the President's life was endangered by the sheer number of protesters in the streets.

A TWO-HOUR silent march under candles circled the White House under dark, and the President stayed out of sight, like Herbert Hoover in the bitter days of Depression.

In Farragut Park at noon a youth carried the American banner with a crepe-bunting attached to the staff. "It means I'm ashamed of my flag," he said to me. Red flags of communism broke out in other parts of town, and at least one packet of leaflets called for "redistribution of wealth" as well as withdrawal from the anti-Communist war.

ON OCT. 14 Sen. Gordon Allott had warned in a press release that "strategy for participation" had been planned last June 25 at the East Berlin World Peace Conference.

Writing from Tokyo, Columnist Jack Anderson said that a few of the rabid mobilizers were getting "instructions" from Hanoi. We learned on the 14th that the North Vietnam premier had sent a message to "dear American friends" and wished the Mobilization well.

SEN. GENE MCCARTHY, under oath to uphold the American Constitution against all enemies, declared that it would be "a sign of great statesmanship" in Mr. Nixon "to preside over an American defeat." Other members of Congress, similarly pledged to the Constitution, left town to agitate on campuses for what Sen. Barry Goldwater called "people whose business it is to kill American fighting men."

IN NOVEMBER the demonstrations will take two days, and in December three days, and so on until Mobilization progressively becomes immobility, with schools out, campus classrooms closed, Federal State and business office depopulated.

It is an uprising, as I wrote before, against the presidency, not so much against Mr. Nixon and his family, as against the symbol and majesty of government. No nation can survive this creepy erosion.

ONLY A SWEEPING knowledge among the people of what's happening to them can reverse the process. It will take a counter-uprising, on some occasion when calculated nonviolence is recognized as imposed paralysis.

It will take a resistance movement among Americans who won't stand still for the Mobilization Days to come. (Distribution by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

David Lawrence Who Are Our Real Enemies?

WASHINGTON — How many Americans know who are the real enemies of the United States in the Vietnam war? Two governments have helped the North Vietnamese to kill or wound tens of thousands of Americans in the last five years. So, when an enemy boastfully and officially acknowledges the military assistance it is giving the Hanoi government, the item might at least be expected to make news for our front pages.

This correspondent read many newspapers last Sunday morning and nowhere found printed a dispatch distributed by the United Press International wire on Saturday night which read as follows:

"MOSCOW — A North Vietnamese delegation led by Premier Pham Van Dong left Moscow Saturday to return to Hanoi.

"Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin and other officials saw off the North Vietnamese at the railway station. The North Vietnamese will visit Volgograd, the former Stalingrad, en route to Hanoi.

"The delegation arrived last Monday and during its stay signed a new agreement for Soviet military and economic aid to North Vietnam for the coming year."

Reuters News Service sent over its wires in this country on Monday afternoon the following dispatch:

"HONG KONG — Russia declared its readiness to give all necessary assistance to the Vietnamese Communists until they achieve complete victory in South Vietnam, a joint Soviet-North Vietnamese communique released today said.

"The communique issued at the end of a one-week visit to Russia by a North Vietnamese delegation led by Premier Pham Van Dong said . . . Russia fully supported conditions put forward by the Vietnamese Communists for a settlement and demanding the U.S. put an end to its aggression and withdraw its troops from South Vietnam 'completely and unconditionally.'"

DEVELOPMENTS of this kind have, of course, been reported in the press hitherto when similar action was taken. But somehow the information has never been given attention inside the United States, especially by dissenters who have been engaging in antiwar "demonstrations" and are supposed to be readers of the news in the press.

On Monday morning, some papers did print on the front page an Associated Press dispatch on the subject which said that, according to U.S. government sources, the level of Soviet arms aid to Hanoi has dropped considerably in recent months but that this does not mean "any abandonment of Moscow's policy of large-scale material support for Hanoi's war effort."

WHY HASN'T this information been emphasized throughout the country? Why aren't the American people told how much the Soviets and the Red Chinese have done to bring about casualties in South Vietnam year after year? Do the critics in Congress approve of a continuance of diplomatic relations with any government that is actively helping the enemy?

WHAT HAS the Senate Foreign Relations Committee done about this problem? Committee members snipe at their own government for trying to protect American troops in Vietnam by employing certain forces in Laos, but criticism of Russian and Red Chinese intrigue in Asia is being omitted. An open debate on Communist participation in the Vietnam war would be more constructive than the so-called "moratorium" speeches that have been made in recent days inside and outside of Congress. SCOTT KNIGHT (33), BILL CURRY (41) STOP WOLVES' QUARTERBACK Skipper Huskey (14) of BS Sophs is ready to help if he's needed

Sophs Win 5th Game At Wolves' Expense

Garland Braun's Big Spring Sophomores insured themselves of a 500 won-lost season by humbling Colorado City's B team, 36-12, Thursday evening on Blankenship Field here.

The win was the fifth in seven assignments for the Sophs, who catch Monahans here next Thursday in their final home game of the year.

The Dogies took a 16-6 lead in the first period, expanded that to 24-6 at half time and fairly well dominated play after the intermission.

Big Spring scored in its first possession, moving 54 yards in five plays. David Stanley got the score on a 24-yard end sweep.

Scott Knight set up the score with a 26-yard jaunt. Big Spring went in despite a 15-yard penalty in the series. Stanley then added the two extra points on a run.

Colorado City ran back the followup kickoff for 75 yards and a score to close the gap but the Sophs drove 51 yards for another tally after Cal Lowery had returned the kickoff 22 yards to Big Spring's 49.

In six plays, the Sophs went in when Stanley broke loose on another 24-yard end sweep. Mike Adams added the two extra points on a run to make it 16-6.

In the second, Mike Cramer ran three yards for a Big Spring TD at the end of a 42-yard surge and Stanley bruised across for the two extra points.

The Dogies had trouble moving the ball in the third, due mainly to the slick ball and the treacherous underfooting, but scored near the end of the period when Adams raced around left end for 13 yards. That made it 30-6.

In the fourth, after recovering a Cee City fumble, Big Spring marched 43 yards in four plays for its final tally. Mike Stenbach managed the score on a 34-yard sprint around left end.

Colorado City counted its second touchdown on a 50-yard surge, mainly against Big Spring reserves. The Dogies made a tremendous stand inside their own ten before yielding the six-point.

The coaches suited out 35 boys and all played. When the two teams met previously in Colorado City, Big Spring won, 28-6.

Stanley was Big Spring's leading ground gainer, with 106 yards net in 13 lunges. Scott Knight picked up 56 paces in six carries, Gatlin Jones 40 yards. All told, the Dogies gained 316 yards, all of which came on the ground.

Score by quarters:
Big Spring 16 8 6 6—36
Colorado City 6 0 0 6—12

Archer Leads Coast Links Meet With 63

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — George Archer said his elbow hurts, Jack Montgomery said he was still weak from a recent appendectomy and Dick Mayer said he just came along "to see who all these names belong to."

But the three ambled and scrambled through the cold and damp, with an occasional side trip to the woods, into the top three places in the $100,000 San Francisco Open Golf Tournament Thursday.

Archer, the 6-foot-6 Masters champion who has been sidelined with tendonitis in the left elbow for six weeks, had 10 birdies en route to an eight-under-par 63. Non-winner Montgomery and the veteran Mayer, each had 64s in the first round.

And Arnold Palmer, who said "the course could not be playing easier," had to settle for a 70, far back in the 144 man field.

The tight, 6,877-yard Lakeside layout took a terrible beating. In all, 59 players broke par 71, with the prospect that it may take a subpar total to make the cut when the field is trimmed to the low 70 shooters and ties for the final two rounds Saturday and Sunday.

Jerry Heard, a 22-year-old who has just completed his first year on the tour, and big Bob Lunn trailed Mayer and Montgomery with 65s. Lee Elder and Mike Hill each had a 66.

Seven more, including Dave Hill, Bob Goaly and Dale Douglass, had 67s. Billy Casper, who won the event a year ago when it was called the Lucky International, had a 70 and PGA champ Ray Floyd took a 71.

Archer, who withdrew from last week's Sahara Invitational and was a questionable starter until the last minute said "It was just my day. It is like shooting dice. Everything I shot came up a seven. Everything I got close to the hole went in."

Mayer, a 46-year-old who won the U.S. Open in 1957, scored his last tour victory in 1965. He said he doesn't know half the players on the tour since he has been off for about a year.

"I just wasn't playing good enough," he said. He came back Dick continued "because it's kind of like an old tap dancer—you get near the stage and you want to dance."

Boilermakers Bid For Trip To Bowl

It sounded a bit like a put on. "We won't have a problem of overconfidence," said Ohio State Coach Woody Hayes about Saturday's game with lowly Illinois. "We've had too many squeakers with Illinois lately."

But the showdown at Columbus between the terror of the Big Ten and its worst team shapes up as anything but a squeaker—more like a squelch.

While the junior-studded Buckeyes have been reeling off four straight victories with the greatest of ease (by such one-sided scores as 62-0, 41-14 and 54-21), the Illini haven't managed a victory yet in five tries. They were outscored 155-70 in those games.

To top it off, the Buckeyes will have a little extra incentive going for them—Illinois was the last team to beat Ohio State (17-13 in 1967) before the Bucks started their current 18-game victory string.

The match, however, takes second billing in the league to upstart Northwestern's visit to No. 15 Purdue as far as a trip to the Rose Bowl is concerned.

The Buckeyes, defending Rose Bowl champs, are barred from another trip to the New Year's Day classic because of the league's "no repeat" rule.

Consequently, if Ohio State wins the championship, the runner-up team goes to the Rose Bowl, and Northwestern—which lost its first three games before beating Illinois and Wisconsin—Indiana and the Buckeyes are currently tied for first, all with 2-0 records.

Purdue, with a loss to Michigan the only blemish on its record, is a three touchdown favorite to stop Northwestern, while Indiana isn't expected to have much trouble with Wisconsin.

Meanwhile, a thousand or so miles to the West, No. 6 UCLA travels to No. 13 Stanford in another crucial test that could go a long way to determining the other Rose Bowl representative.

The bruising Bruins have brushed off all six foes this season in building a 3-0 mark in the Pacific-8. Stanford's only setback in the league was a 26-34 clipping by No. 3 Southern California 3-0 in the Pacific-8 and 4-0 over-all, two weeks ago.

FOR SEVENTH WIN JV's Vanquish Angelo, 25-0

The Big Spring JV's used their muscle and flaming spirit to subdue the San Angelo JV's, 25-0, on a muddy field in Memorial Stadium here Thursday night.

The win was the seventh without a loss for the Shorthorns and continued an amazing string the boys started as sophomores last year.

After they had safely nailed down the victory, the Big Springers staged a goal line stand in the waning seconds to preserve the shutout — apparently just to show that it could be done. The Kittens were only two yards removed from a down renewal and just three from the pay window but the Dogies refused to yield ground and were in possession of the ball at the end of the struggle.

The shutout was all the more amazing in view of the fact that Big Spring lost seven fumbles, invariably leaving the Angeloans in good field possession.

San Angelo now has a 3-3 record. The Kittens have beaten Midland High, 39-18; Abilene High, 19-8; and Ector, 53-0; and have lost to Permian, 20-7; and Midland Lee, 21-7; as well as to Big Spring.

It was as if the Shorthorns were tossing the visitors a few crumbs, daring them to do something about it. This one perhaps was the local JV's most gratifying win of the year — and the Dogies have won some big ones.

In seven games now, the provincials have outscored the opposition, 225 to 46. They go to Midland for another challenge next Thursday, tangle with Abilene High Nov. 6 in their final home game and then head for Odessa Nov. 13 to oppose mighty Permian in their season's finals.

The Shorthorns were deprived of a score in the opening round when San Angelo recovered a fumble in the end zone at a time the locals were hammering away at the enemy's nose.

Undaunted, the Steers stormed back for two touchdowns in Round Two.

Roddy Caffey stormed into the end zone from one yard out at the end of a 60-yard drive. Key play of the series occurred when QB Dave Duncan passed 25 yards to Tommy Fletcher.

Not long before the half, Caffey turned in the most electrifying play of the game when he broke loose on an 88-yard run with Grady Ray, Fletcher and Pink Dickens throwing the timely blocks at the line and Weeks clearing the way down field.

In the third, Duncan smashed over from the one for Big Spring's third tally after passing 25 yards to Weeks. Weeks almost got in after spearing the ball.

Weeks gathered in a scoring bomb from Duncan for 35 yards in the fourth quarter for the final TD, catching the ball in the clear around the ten. This time, Fletcher booted the PAT.

Duncan again played brilliantly for Big Spring, as did his fellow backs, Caffey, Arthur Trevino, Phillip Ferguson, Benito Rubio, Fletcher and Scott McLaughlin.

In the line, Weeks, Ray, David Englert, Tony Stewart, Dickens, James Miller, Mike Gerhart, Rondal Brock and James Pearce were outstanding for Big Spring.

It was Miller's interception of a San Angelo's bomb, made in heavy traffic, which set up Big Spring's final score.

Score by quarters:
Big Spring 0 12 6 7—25
San Angelo 0 0 0 0—0

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Cassius Clay's proposed rumble in Mississippi was more literary than physical.

In the first place, it was an incongruous setting for a member of an ethnic race in a state where voters desert one political party in the fond hope that another will not be as expedient in their integration flow.

More to the point, Mississippi hasn't had a boxing match in 15 years and isn't likely to in another 15. There are people there who feel far more kindly toward capital punishment than they do about the art of manly defense.

There is a State Athletic Commission in Mississippi, true, but it supervises wrestling. Mississippi's last heavyweight title fight occurred in 1889, when John L. Sullivan was in against Jake Kilrain.

Sands Seeks First Win In Hermleigh Contest

ACKERLY — The Sands Mustangs seek their first victory of the season, and stand a good chance of getting it, in a 7:30 p.m. game with the Hermleigh Cardinals here tonight.

The contest opens District 6-B competition for both teams.

Sands, fielding a team of under-classmen, has tied Lorraine and lost the rest of its games. Hermleigh has yet to win.

Chief Cardinal threat is Randy Roemisch, a 168-pound half-back who runs with authority.

Ray Mason is the Hermleigh coach.

Steve Herr, a doubtful starter earlier in the week due to an injury, will open at quarterback for the Mustangs.

Probable starters:

SANDS
E—Romie Oaks 132 and Perry Gillespie 135; T—Ricky Oaks 128 and Gavino Rodriguez 180; G—Randy Clemens 122 and Kelly Gaskins 155; C—Larry Shaw 187; QB—Steve Herr 140; FB—Reggie Hambrick 145; HB—Eddie Newcomer 134 and Johnny Peugh 136.

HERMLEIGH
D—Marvin Callier 138 and Bruce Haas 148; T—Ralph Stiri 132 and W. D. Kinzies 163; G—Larry Nachinger 122 and Rudy Oberde 157; C—Johnny Thompson 149; QB—Tommy Vineyard 147; FB—Dale Peterson 154; HB—Randy Roemisch 168 and Hector Del Toro 150.

Queens Entered In Tournament

The HCJC Jayhawk Queens, who won their sixth game in seven starts in Abilene Thursday evening, venture to Alpine today for a weekend tournament at Sul Ross College.

Odessa, Texas Tech and UP-El Paso are other schools which will field teams in the tournament.

HCJC knocked off Hardin-Simmons in straight sets last night, 15-6, 15-9.

Darlene Cooksey led the Queens' scoring in the first game with seven points while Barbara Futrell paced the Big Springers in the second one with five.

Pre-Nuptial Tea Held For Terrye O'Brien

Miss Terrye Jo O'Brien, bride-elect of Foy J. Henson Jr., was honored at a tea Thursday afternoon in the Gold Room of Big Spring Country Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. O'Brien Jr. of Midland, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Foy J. Henson Sr. of Arlington.

Hostesses for the complimentary affair were the honoree's grandmothers, Mrs. J. Y. Robb and Mrs. George O'Brien Sr., and her aunt, Mrs. Ike Robb.

Receiving guests with the hostesses, Miss O'Brien was attired in a sleeveless beige wool dress accessorized with a wide brown leather belt. She was presented a white cymbidium orchid corsage, and her mother wore a green orchid corsage.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Ola Mae Williamson, Mrs. E. L. Powell, Mrs. A. Swartz, Mrs. Hayden Griffith, Mrs. Jera Connally, Mrs. Sidney Clark, Mrs. Tom Crofts Jr., Mrs. Jerry Worthy, Mrs. Jesse Lee Townsend, Mrs. Lloyd Wasson, Mrs. Elmo Wasson, Mrs. John Hodges, Mrs. Nina Carter, Mrs. Jack Irons, Miss Nell Hatch, Mrs. Vi Worthy, Mrs. Cecil Guthrie, Mrs. Robert Johnson, Mrs. Hayes Stripling, Mrs. Paul Shaffer, Mrs. Dee Jon Davis, Mrs. Bob Kountz, Mrs. Don Newsom, Mrs. R. W. Whipkey and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow. The house party members wore small corsages of a white floral spray tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Hatch presided at the guest register which was placed on a round table covered with a white flounced cloth and accented with a silver shell epergne arranged with white roses, gardenias and smilax extending to the table and curving at the base.

The green and white theme was repeated in floral arrangements enhancing the Gold Room. Coffee tables held French arrangements of white spider mums, white carnations, cushion pom mums and Fuji mums interspersed with leather fern and eucalyptus. The credenza held a companion arrangement in a silver wine cooler.

The tea table, covered with an embossed organza cloth, was centered with twin silver candelabra arranged with white roses, gardenias, pom mums and smilax which extended onto the table.

Miss O'Brien and Henson will be married Nov. 29 in the First Presbyterian Church in Midland with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd of Big Spring and the Rev. R. Matthew Lynn of Midland officiating for the ceremony.

Stanton Couple United In Home Wedding Rites

STANTON (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Edward Evans are at home at 205 E. 10th following their wedding Oct. 17 in the home of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wells. The bride is the former Nelda Jo Wells, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Jo Wells, and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Evans.

The setting was enhanced with arrangements of blue and white carnations, and the double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. H. Uhlman, a Baptist minister.

Carrying a bouquet of white carnations, the bride was attired in a street-length white fitted dress, fashioned with a V neckline and long full sleeves. The maid of honor, Miss Debra Holloway, wore a long-sleeved blue velvet dress trimmed with embroidery. Carl Dean was best man.

A reception for family and friends was held immediately after the ceremony. Miss Diana Wells presided at the registry, and members of the house party were Mrs. Terry Shanks and Mrs. Ross Roberts. Attending from out of town were Mrs. S. D. Evans and Miss Laura Polard, both of Idalou.

The refreshment table was covered with a white linen cut-work cloth over blue and centered with a blue and white floral arrangement. Appointments were crystal and silver, and the tiered cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

The bride is a senior at Stanton High School. The bridegroom is attending Howard County Junior College and is employed at Big Spring State Hospital.

A LOVELIER YOU Exercise Will Help Firm Upper Arms

By MARY SUE MILLR

The upper arm is a trouble spot in mature figures. The muscles in the area are prone to sag, and then the skin becomes lax and quivery.

The problem is usually put down to the aging process, but that is not the sole factor. In-sufficient exercise and faulty skin care contribute in a very real way. As do large fluctuations in weight.

In order to sidestep flab, a woman past forty would be wise to set her sights on normal weight. Of course her entire figure and her health would benefit thereby. In addition, her arms need special attention. The following course is excellent for preventing and relieving flaccid conditions:

1. Tune up circulation and skin texture during daily baths. Simply massage-scrub with a well-lathered loofah sponge or body brush.
2. At least once daily, apply a rich body or hand lotion to the entire arm. Massage in well from wrist to shoulder with the cupped palm of one hand.
3. Perform this exercise 20 times, night and morning: Stand erect with arms extended at shoulder height in front of body and backs of hands touching. Swing arms away from each other, toward ceiling and then as far behind body as possible; quickly swing arms to touch chest with thumbs and tense upper arm muscles for 10 counts. By reversing actions return to starting position and repeat.

TRIMMERS AND SLIMMERS

Let me help you with the problem of a too-fleshy arm, chest or upper back by sending you my leaflet, "Trimmers and Slimmers." It contains a set of coordinated spot reducing exercises — easy to do, quick to get results. Just write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope and ten cents in coin.

Martin HD Club Names New Slate

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. D. E. Ory was elected president of the Martin County Home Demonstration Club Council at a meeting Tuesday in the Cap Rock Auditorium.

Other officers named were Mrs. Fred Bowlin, vice president; Mrs. Morgan Hall, secretary; and Mrs. W. T. Wells, treasurer.

It was announced that the annual county-wide achievement day date has been changed from Nov. 18 to Nov. 20. The meeting will be held at the Cap Rock Auditorium, with the theme, "Changing Times."

Members of all home demonstration clubs in the county are invited to attend the Christmas program Dec. 9.

Mrs. James Eiland, Martin County home demonstration agent, read a report on family stability and commented on the program on aging directed recently by Miss Minnie Bell, extension agent.

The council will host a party for persons 65 and over on Nov. 25 from 3 to 5 p.m. in the Texas Electric Reddy Room.

Mrs. Ory and Mrs. O. D. Green reported on their attendance at the Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting in Dallas, where they were delegates from Martin County.

Lodge Has Initiation

Initiation services were held for Mrs. Robert Boadle and Mrs. Matthew Mooney at Wednesday's meeting of the BPO Does in the Elks Hall. Mrs. Mary Ragsdale was conductress.

Mrs. Roscoe Cone was welcomed as a new member. Mrs. Myrtle M. Leroy presided, and Mrs. Annie Mellinger served as junior counselor. Mrs. Glenn Gale acted as treasurer.

A nominating committee was appointed, including Mrs. Kay Williams, Mrs. Ragsdale and Mrs. Mellinger. Mrs. L. D. Jenkins was named to assist Mrs. Frank George in serving refreshments during November at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Gardeners Told To Utilize Color

"Dramatize one color to make your garden more effective and attractive," said Mrs. Garner McAdams, guest speaker at Tuesday's meeting of the After Five Garden Club in the home of Mrs. Dee Thomas, 1907 Mitchell. Mrs. F. V. Clark was cohostess.

Mrs. McAdams spoke on "Color Calendar of '69," giving pointers on how to have a blooming shrub or flower all year. She stressed the use of evergreens, naming those which do well in this area. They include pyracantha, japonica and evergreen shrubs. She showed pictures of azaleas, bamboo and trees that enhance her garden.

Mrs. Thomas and Mrs. Adele Rogers distributed yearbooks. Plans were discussed for the Big Spring Garden Club Council flower show, Nov. 1, in the First Federal Community Room.

Boxes of stationery were distributed, to be sold as a fund-raising project.

The next meeting will be Nov. 18 in the home of Mrs. Jack Little, No. 6 Highland Cove.
