$4 AN HOUR Autoworkers Get Living Cost Hikes

DETROIT (AP) — Big Three autoworkers will get two pay increases by the end of next month that will boost their pay to more than $4 an hour. The first goes into effect Monday.

The average hourly wage of employees in General Motors, Ford and Chrysler plants now is $3.83. Combined, the Big Three employs some 684,000 across the country.

The wage increases will not affect prices on 1970 cars because the Big Three knew the increases were coming when they established the 1970 prices.

The upcoming raises are the final automatic increases built into three-year contracts with the United Auto Workers Union which run out next Sept. 14.

Effective Monday is an eight-cent hourly cost-of-living increase, which the automakers customarily pass on to white-collar workers as well.

A so-called annual improvement factor, designed to compensate workers for cost-saving automation, becomes effective Nov. 24. It will add 11 cents, bringing the average wage to $4.02 an hour.

Catholics To Get Simpler Mass

NEW YORK (AP) — Roman Catholics will get a new, simplified Mass in 1970, a rewritten rite using totally new prayers for the first time in 400 years.

One of them is a closing phrase to the Lord's Prayer from the early Christian days of the catacombs, although it has a Protestant ring in Catholic minds — "For Thine is the Kingdom, and the Power, and the Glory." Protestants and Orthodox have said it that way for centuries.

The coming changes in the Mass, central act of all Catholic worship, were authorized by Pope Paul VI last April 3 in a Latin document containing the entire new formulation.

The bishops of the United States and 11 other countries where English is spoken assigned experts to translate the papal document into a common English text.

Questioned on what to expect and when, the American experts said the new Mass would begin for their country's 48 million Catholics sometime during Lent, which runs from Feb. 11 to Easter on March 29.

The U.S. Catholic bishops will vote a precise starting date next month at their semiannual meeting in Washington, D.C. Their liturgy experts have recommended Palm Sunday, March 22.

The final version of the English text will be sent out next week to all 280 American bishops, said the Rev. Frederick R. McManus, director of the U.S. Bishops Committee on the Liturgy.

Deposits and total resources zoomed to new records in response to the bank call of Oct. 21. The deposit total of $53,952,238 was 10.47 per cent over a year ago and nearly a million over the previous peak. Total resources of $59,380,051 were up 9.63 per cent. Loans of $25,280,788 were almost static (up .396 of one per cent) and cash of $10,049,501 was the same (off .893 of one per cent). Bond holdings of the banks were way up.

A sickening tragedy claimed the life of an outstanding youth. John R. ## Charges Filed In Friday Shooting

A family quarrel Friday evening in the Vealmoor area erupted into gunfire, leaving one man dead and his brother-in-law in county jail facing murder charges.

Pedro Rodriguez, 41, was killed in the disturbance, fatally wounded by five bullets from a .22 calibre pistol, which a sheriff's deputies later recovered. The quarrel and shooting occurred at Rodriguez' home, 1 1/2 miles south of Vealmoor on FM 1584.

Passersby, seeing the quarrel in progress, called Sheriff A. N. Standard's office, and deputies A. G. Mitchell and M. L. Kirby, accompanied by Texas Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell, went to the scene shortly after 5:30 p.m. They found the wounded man and six members of the family, then began seeking the suspect.

Deputy Bill Whitten and Texas Highway Patrolman Jimmy Parks also assisted at the scene, quizzing witnesses and helping in the investigation.

Ennis Gutierrez, 38, a brother-in-law of Rodriguez, was located at a house about 2 1/2 miles south of the death

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanese army troops were locked in combat Saturday with Palestinian guerrillas, an armored force crossed the Syrian frontier into Lebanon and reports from other Arab capitals said Lebanese planes strafed and bombed refugee camps.

The internal Arab conflict and escalation of the Arab-Israeli air war sharpened the Middle East crisis. The Soviet Union expressed concern that the United States might become embroiled, and spoke out against Big Power interference.

Israeli jets struck both Egypt and Jordan. Egyptian planes struck Israeli positions on the Suez Canal. Palestinian guerrillas battled Lebanese troops in the northern port city of Tripoli and in several southern villages.

Broadcasts by the Voice of Palestine radio in Cairo and Damascus claimed Lebanese Mirage jets bombed Palestinian refugee camps at Nahr el Bared twice Saturday morning and afternoon. The radio said a number of huts were hit and two civilians wounded.

A later broadcast by the guerrillas' Voice of Assifa radio claimed "large numbers of Palestinians were killed and wounded" in the air raids. It said the Lebanese planes were called in due to the "failure of ground troops to deal with the commandos."

As Arab guerrillas battled Lebanese security forces in the north and south, Beirut radio said that an armored column with 300 men had crossed the Syrian frontier and moved into the hills overlooking a village four miles from Lebanon's eastern border.

Authoritative sources said they believed the force was a contingent of the Syrian army, but this was not confirmed.

The broadcast said the column of 20 troop trucks, five armored cars, three jeeps armed with recoilless rifles and eight vehicles towing 120mm mortars entered Lebanon Friday night and moved into position above the village of Yanta.

Lebanese army units moved into the village to block access routes, but there was no report that the armored force tried to advance into Yanta.

Unconfirmed reports said five Lebanese border guards on patrol near the village were kidnapped.

Shortly before the broadcast, the Syrian government insisted in a statement from Damascus that its forces would not become involved in the Lebanese crisis. But a spokesman for the Al Fatah guerrilla organization said in Damascus that none of its forces had crossed the border in the Yanti area. He added that no guerrillas stationed in Syria were equipped with armored cars or weapons such as were mentioned in the broadcast.

Street warfare in Lebanon's northern port city of Tripoli entered its second day. Eleven persons have been reported killed in Tripoli in two days of fighting.

Civil defense forces in Beirut were placed on alert and ordered to report to their posts at the sounding of air raid sirens.

Troops and gendarmes, backed by heavy armored cars, surrounded the Old City of Tripoli, occupied by several hundred Arab guerrillas, and all police posts inside the Old City were evacuated to a single hilltop strong point.

All around the Old City troops crouched in doorways with rifles and submachine guns. Office and apartment buildings were turned into fortresses.

A flying column of armored cars and truckloads of troops raced from point to point where the firing was heaviest.

"Our soldiers are good, but we are too few," complained a senior Lebanese officer. "If we had more men this never would have happened."

A senior Tripoli administrator spoke bitterly of the insurgents: "Lebanon has given its hospitality to 200,000 Palestinian refugees and thousands of Syrians work here because they can earn a better living than at home. They envy Lebanon's prosperity and want to see it destroyed."

Some 15,000 Palestinian refugees live in two camps outside

U.S., Russia Begin Arms Talks Nov. 17 In Finland

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union announced Saturday they will begin in Helsinki on Nov. 17 their long-awaited talks on curbing the spiral of big-power nuclear arms race.

Secretary of State William P. Rogers said these "could be one of the most important negotiations this country was ever involved in." But he took a wait-and-see stance on whether the talks would fall early or would prove "fruitful to mankind."

"We shouldn't confuse the beginning of the talks with the success of the talks," the U.S. foreign affairs chief cautioned. Possibilities for U.S.-Soviet agreement to curb MIRV—Multiple Independently Targetable Vehicles—and ABMS—Antiballistic Missile Systems—are high-priority items for U.S. negotiators.

Years might be needed for the over-all negotiations, going potentially to the heart of the strategic power of the two nuclear superstates.

The announcement issued simultaneously in Washington and Moscow Saturday was a milestone in fixing a firm starting time for the so-called SALT—Strategic Arms Limitation Talks—about three years after former President Lyndon B. Johnson first proposed them in a message to Soviet premier Alexei N. Kosygin. Washington backed off a proposed start in August 1968 after the Soviets invaded Czechoslovakia.

The one-sentence announcement issued by the White House said:

"Confirming the agreement reached earlier to enter into negotiation on curbing the strategic armaments race, the government of the United States and the U.S.S.R. have agreed that specially designated representatives of the United States and the Soviet Union will meet in Helsinki on November 17, 1969 for preliminary discussion of the questions involved."

Rogers expects the Helsinki preliminary discussion to last several days or "maybe a few weeks", with the negotiators working out details such as the size of delegations, agenda and a permanent site for the talks.

He left open the possibility that substantial questions might be considered at this opening round—such as a proposal for a freeze on MIRV testing—though he indicated brass-tacks negotiating on such issues more likely would not begin until the preliminaries are out of the way.

The U.S. disarmament chief, Gerard C. Smith, will head a five-man U.S. delegation.

Lebanese Battles Add To Middle East Crisis

TRIPOLI. The army threw defenses around them to prevent reinforcements reaching the Old City.

Two police posts north of Tripoli were reported besieged, and the Palestine Liberation Organization claimed its guerrillas burned one of the positions.

In the south, where battles between guerrillas and Lebanese troops last week sparked the current crisis, Arab guerrillas were reported in control of Bint Jbeil village. But the PLO said the army killed two guerrillas and took 27 prisoners in repelling a force from the village of Deir Mimas, 15 miles northeast of Bint Jbeil.

In Tel Aviv, the Israeli military command said that Egyptian planes raided Israeli positions for the third straight day and that Israel launched air strikes against both Egypt and Jordan.

DID YOU FORGET?

Daylight Saving Time ended at 2 a.m. today. At the stroke of 2 it became 1.

You may have awakened late if you live in a county or city with the new 2 a.m. drinking curfew and took advantage of an extra hour to hoist a few at the club.

We go back on DST next April 26 at 2 a.m. when clocks will be moved forward to 3 a.m.

NATIONAL AWARD — The Big Spring Post of the American Legion received a national award Saturday night for its veterans' rehabilitation pilot program. From left: C. G. ## Legionnaires Pleased With 'Square' Remarks

A jam-packed, flag-bedecked American Legion Post headquarters in Big Spring Saturday night greeted with wild enthusiasm the "square" remarks by Lt. Col. Bobby Hodges, commander of the 147th Fighter Group, Texas Air National Guard.

Col. Hodges was the featured speaker of the fall convention of the 19th District, American Legion, which drew over 300 delegates from throughout West Texas.

"The word 'square,'" said Col. Hodges, "meant — in the time of Mark Twain — good, honest and straightforward. To have a square meal, give a square deal and look someone square in the eye were then, and still are, the basic ideals of true Americans."

"I propose the formation of a Society of Squares," he declared. "The kind of squares who get a tingle in the spine when the flag passes by, who stand erect and proud when the National Anthem is played, who stand 'square' for America and her allies and ideals."

Thousands Seek Glimpse Of Liz's Giant Diamond

NEW YORK (AP) — The chance of a brief glimpse at the 69.42-carat diamond actor Richard Burton bought for his wife, Elizabeth Taylor, drew thousands of people to Cartier's, the Fifth Avenue jewelry store, Saturday.

A store spokesman said about 7,000 people had paraded through the posh main gallery of Cartier's between 9:30 a.m., when the stone went on display, and 4 p.m. "And," added the spokesman, "the line's gotten longer since 3:30 p.m."

Robert Kenmore, chairman of the board of Kenmore Corp., owner of Cartier's, bought the stone—which is set in a ring with two half-moon diamonds totaling 2.92 carats—at auction Thursday for $1.05 million.

Burton, whose agent was at the auction, but stopped at $1 million, bought the stone from Cartier's Friday for an undisclosed amount.

UF Enters Last Phase Of Drive

As the United Fund campaign settles into its final phase, nearly 75 per cent of its $110,000 goal has been attained.

Latest contributions from the employees of Montgomery Ward, who increased their contribution 300 per cent from last year, and the employees of Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital, which showed a 50 per cent increase, have brought the drive total to $80,274.73.

"I'm real satisfied with the way the drive's been going," said Harry Sawyer, campaign chairman. "There have been hiccups in some places, but I've picked back up in others. I feel we are at least on a par with other years."

Sawyer said the campaign was originally scheduled to close by the end of October, but that, unless people signed their pledge cards and turned in their checks, the drive would have to be extended.

"I think we have as good a chance to meet our goal this year as we have ever had," he added.

Erven Fisher's public employe division is due to top its goal this week and wind up its campaign. It has already collected more than 96 per cent of its goal ($1,319), and has another two agencies to report in.

All government agencies showed a substantial increase in their contributions this year.

The out-of-town division (goal: $10,439), with Paul Meek as chairman; big gifts ($34,821), Roger Brown; and the employe division ($26,105), Ken Perry, are also approaching their goals, Sawyer said.

Other division goals and their chairmen are special gifts, $6,310, Morris Robertson; metropolitan, $3,568, Louis McKnight; Webb AFB, $13,000, Lt. Col. Ernest C. Cutler; area and rural, $1,171, Larson Lloyd; and women's, $3,135, Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. Harold Davis.

Contributions to the United Fund go to its 14 agencies in this area, which are the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA, Lakeview branch of the YMCA, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Big Spring Milk and Medicine Fund, Westside Recreation Center, Summer Recreation Program, Air Force Aid Society, Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, USO, Texas Rehabilitation Center, and the Halfway House.

JOHN BEN SHEPPERD

Shepperd To Get Second Annual Lester Award

WACO — John Ben Shepperd, Odessa, former secretary of state and attorney general of Texas, has been named 1969 recipient of Texas' highest award for historic preservation.

The second annual Ruth Lester Award for Meritorious Service in Historic Preservation, given by the State Historical Survey committee, was bestowed on Shepperd at the Awards Luncheon of the Survey Committee, held here Saturday.

Charles R. Woodburn, Amarillo, president of the survey committee, called attention to Shepperd's dynamic leadership of the committee during his terms as president from 1963 to 1966. Shepperd helped get the organization off the ground and conceived its guiding program: RAMPs, whose initials stand for the Recordation, Appreciation, Marking, Preservation, and Surveying of Texas history.

Under Shepperd, the number of historical museums in Texas climbed from 82 to 281. In addition, the Texas Institute of Small Museums was established to help give needed professional assistance in that area.

In one of his finest efforts, Shepperd guided a package of eight preservation bills through the Legislature, thereby establishing the basis for the great surge of interest in preservation that is evident today throughout the state.

The rigorous standards of the state marking program were largely formulated by Shepperd, who gave freely of his time and personal resources throughout his service to the Survey Committee.

Two days ago, one of the primary goals of Shepperd's RAMPs program was achieved with the approval of the five-thousandth official marker to be projected since 1964.

The Ruth Lester Award honors Mrs. Ruth Lester of Jefferson, who was a member of the committee until her death in 1968. Her work in the restoration of the town of Jefferson — once the largest inland port in the Southwest — began in the 1930s.

Weather Halts Cotton Harvest

The weather has done it again. Harvesting has come to a complete halt in the Abilene territory, reports B. B. Manly Jr., officer in charge of the USDA Cotton Classing Office in Abilene. It appeared for a while that receipts would really pick up, as much of the crop over the area has been desiccated and is ready to strip, he said.

"We processed 7,500 samples last week, compared to 32,000 for the same week last year," he explained. This brings the seasons total to 26,200, compared to 65,500 for a season's total last year at this time.

Grades were about the same as last week with 38 per cent in the white category, 56 per cent in the light spotted category, and five per cent in the spotted category. Bark bales were four per cent and below grades were only one per cent.

Staple was a little shorter last week, with 46 per cent, 29; compared to 42 per cent for the previous week. Other staple lengths were: 28, seven per cent; 30, 32 per cent; 31, nine per cent; 32, three per cent; 36, two per cent; and 37, one per cent.

Micronaire readings were about the same with 92 per cent in the premium or 3.5-4.9 range; seven per cent, 5.0-5.2; and one per cent, 5.3 and above.

The Consumer and Marketing Service in Abilene reports that prices are good on the cotton market and cotton is bringing producers from 125 to 300 points over the government loan. Some prices are: 3130-19.50 cents; 4129-18.90 cents; 3230-19.50 cents; 4229-18.05 cents; 4230-18.85 cents; 5229-16.00 cents; and 5230-17.35 cents.

Not Planning To Attend Meeting

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent of business for the Big Spring Independent School District, said that no representatives from the local district will attend the regional meeting of the National Association of Educational Buyers at the University of Texas, Oct. 26-28.

"We're not affiliated with that organization," Crockett said.

"We go to meetings of the Texas Association of School Business Officials and the National Association of School Business Officials," Annual meetings for the two are in October and March respectively. No one from Big Spring went to the national meeting last week in Phoenix, however.

BIG BAND IN BIG SPRING—The world-famous Airmen of Note, official dance orchestra of the United States Air Force, will appear in a free concert in City Auditorium Nov. 7 at 8 p.m. Admission is by ticket only, but tickets are free.

Airmen Of Note Offer Free Concert

The generation gap may be bridged — if only briefly — Nov. 7 in City Auditorium when youngsters and oldsters alike will get a chance to see and hear one of the truly authentic "big bands" left in the nation.

The Airmen of Note, official dance orchestra of the U.S. Air Force, carry on the old Glenn Miller tradition in a concert to be held in Big Spring City Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday, Nov. 7.

Free tickets are available at local radio and television stations, at the Chamber of Commerce and from members of the chamber's Cultural Affairs Committee.

The Airmen of Note generally break attendance records wherever they appear. In a well balanced program ranging from Gershwin's "Strike Up the Band" to modern jazz, music in the style of Glenn Miller will be the frosting on the cake for many of those attending.

Jimmy Stewart, star of "The Glenn Miller Story," in which the Airmen of Note portrayed the Glenn Miller Orchestra, has appeared with the band several times since the release of the picture.

Other celebrities who have worked with the orchestra include Sammy Davis Jr., Stan Kenton, Buddy de Franco, Doc Severinsen, June Christy and Nancy Wilson.

The band has appeared all over the world, including the Sportsplatz in Berlin, the 1958 World's Fair in Brussels and on the BBC television network in England, where they garnered an estimated 22 million viewers.

Says singer Nancy Wilson, "The Airmen of Note are a gas! What more need be said?"

What more, indeed — except get your tickets. They are free but auditorium capacity is 1,500, and you must have a ticket to get in.

Three Webb instructor pilots received Distinguished Flying Crosses Saturday morning for actions while serving in Southeast Asia late last year and early this year.

The trio—Captains Mark Stahl, Henry Pirrkala and David Peters — received the DFCs during the graduation ceremony of Class 70-03 on the Webb flightline.

Capt. Stahl, currently a T-37 instructor pilot in the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron at the base, earned the DFC for his performance as an A-37 pilot in Vietnam between September, 1968 and May, 1969. According to the citation accompanying the award, he flew extremely hazardous missions through adverse weather conditions and through the constant threat of hostile ground fire and attack yet he accomplished his objectives. He was stationed at Bien Hoa AB, Vietnam.

The others receiving DFCs were T-38 instructor pilots in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron.

Capt. Pirrkala won his DFC for his actions as an F-100 Super Sabre pilot in Southeast Asia, Nov. 16, 1968.

He flew a close air support mission for the Vietnamese army. Despite marginal weather conditions and intense hostile ground fire, the captain delivered his ordnance precisely on target, completely neutralizing the large enemy force.

Capt. Peters attained the DFC for participating in aerial flight as an RF-4C Phantom II aircraft commander who flew over classified targets in Southeast Asia Jan. 9, 1969. The citation accompanying the award said the captain was specially chosen to fly a top priority reconnaissance mission over a high threat target area, performing his mission with professional expertise.

Colorful Fall Festival Next Sunday At St. Lawrence

ST. LAWRENCE — One week from today the area's most colorful fall festival will be held for the 15th time in this southwest Glasscock County community.

If last year's record is equalled, some 3,000 people will visit this thrifty farming settlement to feast on the traditional dinners and suppers, bid on numerous items in an auction and purchase home canned fruits and vegetables and other goodies as well as needlework by the women. And some will stay to frolic in the traditional dance which will this year feature the music of the LeRoy Matocha band from Fayetteville, Tex. The polkas will be as authentic as the flavor in the mountain of German sausage which is another traditional feature of the day.

Serving begins at the St. Lawrence community hall, part of the St. Lawrence Catholic Parish, at 11 a.m. and continues to 1 p.m., then again from 5:30 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. The dance climaxes the day's activities from 7 p.m. to 11 p.m. The auction and bazaar will be held during the afternoon.

Heading arrangements this year are George Schwartz, B. R. Seidenberger, Ed Plegens, Ed Batla for the men and Mrs.

Daniel Hirt for the women's division. As usual, Alfred Schwartz is the chief sausage maker for putting up and smoking 2,500 pounds of German sausage at the Fred Hoelscher barn, and Cecil Halfmann will lend his mastery again at barbecuing some 1,700 pounds of beef. Net proceeds of the festival go to finance the church, which has a new sanctuary nearing completion.

Martha Jordan Is Candidate For Homecoming Title

Martha Jordan, a 1968 Big Spring High School graduate, is one of seven finalists for Homecoming queen at Angelo State University. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jordan, 1209 E. 17th.

ASU students will select a queen in an election to be held Monday, and she will be crowned Nov. 1 at half time ceremonies during the Homecoming football game against Tarleton State University.

Miss Jordan is a sophomore English major at ASU. She is a member of the Lambda Tau sorority and is on the Hall Council of the Women's Residence Hall Association. At Big Spring High School, she was a member of the National Honor Society and Who's Who.

Other finalists include Emma McFarland and Sara Trigg, both of Snyder; Marsha Behrens, San Sabá; Diana Block, Wall; and Nancy Fraser and Jan Henderson, both of San Angelo.

THE WEEK

a 1,200 foot cable tool wildcat 16 miles south of Colorado City.

Every loyal Big Spring Steer football fan was on a mountain peak this weekend savoring the 19-18 victory over the San Angelo Bobcats. Our team measured up like men when they had to in achieving what is their finest hour. Everyone did more than was expected; Gary Hinds used the ultimate weapon, a great kicking foot, to achieve a record that would have made the pros happy; and Spike Dykes and his staff did a superlative job in adjusting to the San Angelo offense and defense. Alas, it's down to earth, because Friday brings up Permian, and this is the roughest one of all.

Now that a lot of other things are out of way, it's time to concentrate on the Big Spring Concert Association, which opens its 1969-70 season Nov. 19 with the New Orleans Symphony. This is a great orchestra — and there are three other great programs to go with it. So get your membership now.

Datamate Computer Systems, Inc. begins delivery of its Datamate 16 system this week with the first unit going to NASA at its Goddard Space Flight center adjacent to Washington, D.C. A second unit will be to a research center in California, and others will follow promptly. Existing production is booked, and new orders will be filled from the new building which is a month or so away from completion at the Gamco center on the Snyder highway.

In another bit of local industrial news, Fiber Glass Systems stockholders voted unanimously to raise capital for expansion through stock options to original stockholders. The $226,000 potential from this source will permit a doubling of the manufacturing facilities. V. F. Michael, president, said the market to support it is more than adequate.

Don't forget that one week from today brings up the 15th annual St. Lawrence Fall Festival. To get to this colorful (and tasty) event replete with three tons of sausage and beef, turn off RR33 about 10 miles south of Garden City and drive five miles west.

Rural Taxpayers Association dropped its suit challenging Big Spring Independent School District values on land, still contending for a lower compromise figure but realistically conceding it would be too expensive, and if successful, merely open the way for a long trail of litigation. The association put its hopes on next year.

Growth Planning Course In Midland

Owners and operators of small businesses in Midland and this area will have an opportunity to make thorough studies of their own businesses when a practical course, "Planning For Growth" is conducted in Midland.

Midland Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the ten-hour course in business planning, Monday, Nov. 3, through Thursday, Nov. 6, at the Community Room of the Commercial Bank & Trust Company. The course will last from 7:30-10 p.m. each evening, and the registration fee is $12.50 per participant.

There's added incentive to the Airman of the Month award at Webb AFB these days. Those to attain the honor this year will have the free use of a new Opel for one month. A. I. C. Steven Allen is the first to benefit from this.

Forsan Independent School District got close to 10 teacherages last week — but not quite. The low bid for the project was $196,272, whereas only $175,000 had been funded. Trustees and architects are seeking to negotiate a contract.

Bobby Randall Crain has asked for the change of venue on the charge that he took part in the murder of A. D. Blount, pet shop operator, here last Dec. 9. Rae Bourbon, remaining defendant, is due to file such a plea Monday. Bobby Eugene Chriscio, first to go to trial, received a life sentence.

Czech Red Purge Due To Continue

PRAGUE (AP) — Communist party chief Gustav Husak's regime faces a serious threat from an ultraconservative faction, a top party secretary said Friday night.

Alois Indra told a party meeting that the fight against the liberal supporters of ousted party leader Alexander Dubcek "has not even reached the halfway mark" and "remains the main task" of Husak's government.

Building Costs Jump Higher In Southwest

AUSTIN (AP)—Building costs have risen faster in the southwest than elsewhere and should increase at close to the present rates for the next two years, a University of Texas survey says.

Dr. Robert Williamson, associate professor of finance, reported on construction in a Bureau of Business Research analysis.

Tight money and high construction costs have squeezed the new home market, he said.

"Building costs rose throughout the nation during 1968 and 1969 at the fastest rates recorded in approximately 20 years. The most recent reports show some slowing of the cost rise, but the annual rates of increase in building costs during the 12 months ended in September remained over 7 per cent for the nation as a whole and even higher within the southwest," he said.

Wages provided the major upward cost push in 1969, Williamson said.

"Future wage increases already set under existing labor contracts indicate a continuation of the increase in building costs at close to the present rates during the next two years," he predicted.

Williamson said construction in Texas "is showing signs of weakness" while making good year-to-year gains.

The value of building permits issued in Texas during the first nine months of 1969 was 14 per cent greater than in the same period of 1968.

"The 1969 trend on a monthly basis has been generally downward, however, mainly because of a downturn in homebuilding. If this trend continues, Texas construction for all of 1969 will show little, if any, increase over the 1968 total," he said.

Total construction in September, measured in the value of new building permits, was up 12 per cent and nonresidential permits were up 28 per cent from August.

Retail Sales Report Given

Howard County had more than $61 1/2 million in retail sales in 1967, the United States census report shows. This is the latest year in which a business census was taken, and the figures have only recently been published. Big Spring generated $58,936,000 of that amount of sales. In Howard County, there were 329 businesses which reported a payroll (emploies other than owner). They had sales of $58,378,000 and a payroll of $6,423,000. Of this figure, 301 Big Spring business houses with payrolls had sales of $56,036,000 and a payroll of $6,202,000. Ector County led the area in the number of businesses with 811, followed by Midland with 581 and then Howard, Borden and Glasscock County each reported eight establishments. Here is a chart on sales:

A Devotion For Today . . .

If any one is in Christ, he is a new creation. (II Corinthians 5:17, RSV)

PRAYER: We pray, our Father, for Christ's renewing power to help us cast out of our hearts all unworthy thoughts and attitudes. Make each of us a new creation in Christ, with new vision, new depth, new outreach. In His name we pray. Amen.

Fight Not Over Yet

The Senate Finance Committee came within a whisker of recommending retention of the present 27½ per cent oil depletion allowance, but the proposal lost on a 8-8 tie vote. The committee then pegged the cut at 23 per cent on a 12-3 vote.

While coming within a whisker is not good enough, the 23 per cent figure does represent an improvement over the House-passed bill which slashes the allowance to 20 per cent. Although fights may be expected on the floor of the Senate to restore the 27½ per cent level, or to cut the 23 per cent figure more drastically, the end result is apt to be acceptance of the committee's recommendation.

Normally, the difference between the House's 20 per cent and the Senate's probable 23 per cent would be split in conference between the two houses. This would leave the final figure at 21.5 per cent. Some oil industry spokesmen have indicated that the industry might be able to live with a 23 per cent figure, but the 21.5 would be wholly unacceptable.

If the Senate can be prevailed upon to approve the committee figure by a margin similar to the committee's vote, then there will be every reason for the Senate to insist upon its 23 per cent level. If the vote is close, pressure might be exerted to split the difference.

All of which means that the fight is not over by a long shot. Friends of the oil industry — and the multiplied thousands who earn their living from it as well as the legions of others who benefit from it — need to keep up the effort to persuade senators that critical tampering with the allowance would end up costing the public far more in higher prices than some claim would result from cutting the depletion allowance. Actually, the 8-8 committee vote to retain the present allowance is an encouragement to step up efforts. It is not impossible that the Senate could be persuaded to accept a figure higher than 23 per cent.

Good Economic Health

Bank call figures, which showed deposits at an all-time peak, are heartening. Normally, there is some sag in the third quarter of the year because this catches farm producers just before the harvest begins. The picture is completely reversed this year with a 10 per cent increase.

It should be recognized that there is an abnormal factor in the presence of heavy industrial deposits, which fluctuate drastically from day to day.

The call date caught us in a favorable position, but even discounting this, there is a substantial margin of improvement, possibly on the order of five per cent or better.

Loans and discounts were practically static, so banks were investing vastly more in United States and other bonds.

All in all, the bank barometer of economic health shows a strong reading for our community and area.

Nixon Defends Judge Haynsworth

WASHINGTON — If ever there was a case of "character assassination" — as the term was used during Senate committee investigations in the 1950's — it is the attack which has been made on Judge Clement F. Haynsworth, who has been nominated by President Nixon to be an associate justice of the Supreme Court.

President Nixon is plainly displeased with accusations that have been leveled against a man whom he considers innocent of any wrongdoing. Mr. Nixon says that, having evaluated all of the allegations, he reaffirms "with even greater conviction" the support he has given Judge Haynsworth, and makes a pointed plea for fairness as follows:

"WHEN A MAN has been through the fire, when he has had his entire life and his entire record exposed to the glare of investigation — which, of course, any man who is submitted for confirmation to the Senate should expect to have — and in addition to that, when he has had to go through what I believe to be a vicious character assassination, if after all that he stands up and comes through as a man of integrity, a man of honesty, and a man of qualifications, then that even more indicates that he deserves the support of the President of the United States who nominated him in the first place, and also the votes of the senators who will be voting on his nomination."

MR. NIXON now has personally examined all the charges mentioned by opposing senators. The President is particularly critical of those who say Judge Haynsworth's nomination should be withdrawn just because "a doubt has been raised." Mr. Nixon continues:

"The appearance of impropriety, some say, is enough to disqualify a man who served as judge or in some other capacity. That would mean that anybody who wants to make a charge can thereby create the appearance of impropriety, raise a doubt, and that then his name should be withdrawn. That isn't our system. Under our system, a man is innocent until he is proven guilty."

THE PRESIDENT declares that it is not proper to turn down a man just because he is a Southerner or a Jew or a Negro or "because of his philosophy," and that the real question relates to what kind of lawyer he is and what his attitude is toward the Constitution. Mr. Nixon contends that it is the duty of the senators to take into consideration the following:

"Is he a man of integrity? Is he a man that will call the great cases that come before him as he sees them, and in this case will provide the balance that this great court needs? I think Judge Haynsworth does that."

THE PRESIDENT notes that if Judge Haynsworth's philosophy leans to the conservative side, this is in his favor, because the Supreme Court "needs balance." Mr. Nixon explains it this way:

"I think that the court needs a man who is conservative — and I use the term in terms of economics, but conservative, as I said of Judge Burger, conservative in respect of his attitude towards the Constitution."

"IT IS THE judge's responsibility, and the Supreme Court's responsibility, to interpret the Constitution and interpret the law, and not to go beyond that in putting his own socio-economic philosophy into decisions in a way that goes beyond the law, beyond the Constitution."

The truth is the critics oppose Judge Haynsworth because of his views. They have raised the issue of honesty as a smokescreen in order to defeat the nomination as demanded by civil-rights leaders and labor unions who don't like some of Judge Haynsworth's rulings.

Despite Fever, Inflation Said To Be Slowing

NEW YORK (AP) — Inflation keeps barreling along but government and private economists insist that signs of a slowdown in the economy are becoming more evident.

The cost of living climbed at an accelerated rate in September to a record high after having slowed a bit in August.

This was dismaying news to the Nixon administration, but officials said monthly figures are "somewhat erratic" and that scope of price moves in the July-September quarter was encouraging.

The Labor Department reported this past week that its consumer price index rose at an annual rate of 6 per cent in September, compared with 4.8 per cent in August.

The actual increase of 0.5 per cent in September boosted the index to 129.3 per cent of the 1957-59 average, which meant that staple goods costing $10 a decade ago now cost $12.93.

DISTURBING SIGN Another discouraging development in the battle against inflation was the Commerce Department's report that new factory orders for durable goods rose 5.9 per cent in September to $32.2 billion. This reversed the downward trend in August and was the sharpest increase since the 6.7 per cent gain in October 1968.

Durable goods orders are considered an important indicator of future business trends.

Paul McCracken, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said this past week "evidence is accumulating" that the administration's policies of restraint were beginning to slow the rate of inflation.

The House passed a $4.9-billion housing bill. The funds would include $2 billion for urban renewal projects, $1.5 bil-

MIXED EMOTIONS

- Government says inflation eases, but some signs cast doubt
- Cost of living, after August breather, rises at record rate
- New factory orders show 5.9 pct. jump during September
- However, industrial production slips, employment stable
- Defense department cuts $4.1 billion spending
- House passes housing bill, corporations feel profit squeeze lion with which the Government National Mortgage Corp. could finance low-cost Federal Housing Administration and Veterans Administration mortgages, and $750 million for the model cities program.

The House bill differs from the housing bill passed by the Senate last month, and differences will have to be reconciled by a conference committee.

PROFIT SQUEEZE The American Bankers Association endorsed a one-year extension of current authority to set ceilings on interest which financial institutions can pay on time and savings deposits.

A flood of corporate earnings reports this past week indicated the profit squeeze which was evident in the second quarter had continued in the third quarter. Among the most spectacular drops was that of Chrysler Corp., whose third-quarter earnings fell 87 per cent to $3.8 million, or 7 cents a share, from $29.7 million, or 63 cents a share, a year earlier. Despite the decline, Chrysler declared its regular quarterly dividend of 50 cents a share.

DEFENSE CUTBACK The Pentagon said this past week that the $4.1 billion cutback in defense expenditures in an effort to slow inflation would eliminate 212,000 jobs—10 per cent of the work force—in the defense industry.

Congress took tentative action this past week on legislation that could have tremendous impact on the housing and oil industries.

The House passed a $4.9-billion housing bill. The funds would include $2 billion for urban renewal projects, $1.5 bil-

Around The Rim

That First 'Gusher'

The death last week of Mr. Earl Morrison, for many years a well-known figure in the Colorado City and Big Spring area, touched off a race of memories about events that surely have to be included in an important chapter in any history of this section.

As a kid growing up in Colorado City, I knew who Mr. Morrison was, as did everybody else, since he had been in many business and public activities and was an individualist in his own right.

BUT IT WAS an oil well that bore his name that stands out as one of the exciting moments of an earlier day, before the nodding "muleheads" you see in every direction became so commonplace.

"Oil" in those days was the magic word for automatic wealth. People knew of the fantastic booms at Spindletop, at Ranger, at Burkburnett, and a growing country was crying for all the petroleum that could be found. Times have changed in the oil business, of course, but it seemed to be all gold then.

THERE CAME an adventuresome group to seek out oil in Mitchell County, over around Westbrook. The bold ones were called "lease hounds," always distinguished by the knee-high lace boots they wore, and by the air of savoir faire. They were regarded by the old nesters, rightly or wrongly, as a bunch of "high livers," and they attracted much attention as they scurried about to block up their acreage and prepare to take the big gamble.

Those stirring days in C-City, when everybody sensed there was oil just for the digging, brought more excitement than at any time since the old salt works burned. ANYWAY, A location was staked on Mr. Morrison's land out of Westbrook. It was somebody's "No. 2" brook. It was somebody's "No. 2" (I don't know whatever happened to No. 1).

As the drilling went on, rumors flew fast, and there began to be evidence that this was going to be a well. The lease hounds were heroes, the drillers were men ten feet tall.

THERE CAME a day when it was apparent that the Morrison No. 2 was going to be a producer. I do not recall what the timing was, but arrangements were made for a public demonstration for the blow-in. They dismissed school for the afternoon, so kids could be taken by their parents out to the field to witness the spectacle.

And that's the day that stands out in my memory.

SURE ENOUGH, the Morrison No. 2 did hit pay that afternoon and the crude rumbled out of the pipe, began to push up like a mighty fountain and gushed up over the crown block. Nobody would waste valuable oil like that any more, but this prospector called for drama, and drama it was. People who had only read about it now saw first-hand this "black gold" which tumbled out of the top of the derrick, and was carried by West Texas breezes to blacken acres around.

THE INDUSTRY'S historians say that a later well, the Underwriters No. 1 T&P, was the real discovery of the Permian Basin, that now covers county after county and is one of the world's great accumulations of natural resources. But for me, the historic well was the Morrison No. 2, because it's the first one I ever saw. If it wasn't a bona fide gusher, I sure didn't know the difference.

Cost To The Russians: Not One Ruble

WASHINGTON — A top-secret meeting of Kremlin officials was held last week to discuss the latest defense strategy against the United States. Comrade Alexandrov Potomski, in charge of the Third Bureau in the United States, was the first to make his report.

"Comrades, I am happy to report that air pollution in the United States has risen more than 140 million tons, which is 10 million tons more than last year."

There was applause from everyone in the room.

"HOW DID YOU manage this, Comrade Potomski?" one of the members of the Presidium asked.

"I wish I could take the credit, but the Americans have done it themselves. At the present rate of air pollution everyone in the United States should be dead in 20 years."

"But surely," a marshal said, "the Americans must be aware of what air pollution is doing to them."

"THEY ARE, but it doesn't matter. They have many pressure groups who scream that if something serious were done about air pollution it would hurt their businesses. So the government leaders talk about the problem and do nothing."

"Then we can count on air pollution in the United States for the foreseeable future?"

"I cannot see the Americans doing anything serious about it for a long time to come," said Comrade Potomski.

COMRADE REDHEVNOV of the Fifth Bureau got up. "Comrades, I also have good news. The Americans are polluting their water at such a rate that in 10 years they will make every river, stream and lake undrinkable, unswimmable and uninhabitable for fish."

"Why are we spending money to pollute American waters?" the first secretary of the Communist Party of Leningrad asked. "If the Americans found out, they could take serious action against us."

"We are not doing it," Comrade Redhevnov said. "The Americans are doing it to themselves. They pour sewage into it. Factories spew out every kind of chemical and detergent and put anything you can think of in the water supply."

"BUT SURELY the Americans are not stupid people. If they knew they were poisoning their own water, they would demand a stop to it."

Comrade Redhevnov said, "I know it's hard to believe, comrades, but even though they know what they're doing, they still keep doing it. If they stopped pollution, the polluters say, they would stop production of goods the Americans need. So no one is going to give the polluters any serious trouble."

"Excellent," said the Kremlin planners. "So far it hasn't cost us a ruble."

There were murmurs all around the conference table. Finally the chairman said, "From what you have told us, there doesn't seem to be any sense in the Soviet Union spending vast sums of money for new weapons against the United States."

"Therefore, I make the following recommendation. Everyone held his breath. The chairman said, "We all sit tight."

Laxity In Preserving Our Land

SAN FRANCISCO — The lure of California is one of the most remarkable phenomena of our time. Like a great magnet it pulls people — young, old, a vanguard of hippies, escapees, opters out — from the rest of the country to this slope on the Pacific shore.

The belief was that the state's growth rate had begun to flatten out. On the contrary, the latest Census Bureau estimate showed that the population upsurge was continuing at a rate of 2.7 per cent annually. Since the last head count 3,700,000 people swelled the grand total of this record-breaking state.

EVEN FOR the Chamber of Commerce boosters this is almost too much of a good thing. Like the frantic movement of the lemmings to the seashore, with an instinctual drive that sends them finally to their destruction, there will soon be standing room only if the present rate of growth continues.

Nothing could illustrate this better than the controversy over the Point Reyes national seashore. A beautiful, still relatively untouched peninsula about an hour from San Francisco, Point Reyes is one of the few spots on the coast that has not fallen to the developers and the sub-dividers. With the parks in the metropolitan bay area hideously overcrowded, Point Reyes is a natural outlet for city dwellers in search of quiet and unspoiled beauty.

BUT THE sub-dividers are on the doorstep and pressing hard. Less than half the land for Point Reyes has been acquired by the federal government since the project was authorized in 1962. With each passing year land values have sharply increased. And now the White House is saying through the Bureau of the Budget that a freeze is imperative through 1973 to hold down spending and stop inflation.

OTHER PARKS and seashores staked out by Congress to save a part of vanishing America before it is all paved with concrete are also threatened by the double-squeeze of inflation and economy. Besides Point Reyes, Cape Cod in Massachusetts, Assateague Island in Chesapeake Bay and Padre Island in Texas are in a half-completed state, threatened by the land speculators who stand to gain from federal delay.

The Nixon Administration has been generous with rhetoric. Secretary of Interior Walter Hickel, in a speech to the National Park and Recreation Association in Chicago, proposed a $6.3 billion development program for urban parks. The secretary noted that while 75 per cent of the population is concentrated in urban areas, city dwellers have reasonable access to only 25 per cent of available recreation facilities and three per cent of public recreation lands.

"THE SOLUTION is clear," said Hickel with a fine rhetorical flourish, "an equitable distribution of outdoor recreation resources and opportunities."

Point Reyes precisely fits this description. But Hickel in the same speech included an escape hatch that negated much of the fine rhetoric. "Present fiscal restraints" would very likely make it impossible to ask Congress for any funds to make the grandiose dream a reality.

Pack 29 Cubs Given Awards

Cubs of Pack 29 recently received awards and badges.

The presentations were made at a meeting Thursday in the Elbow Cafeteria. In carrying out the theme for the evening (Buckaneer Days), the cafeteria was decorated to resemble a pirate ship; and boys walked the gangplank to receive their ranks.

Den 2 entertained with a skit, "Buccaneers in the days of Old," while Den 1 opened the meeting with the Grand Howl. Den 3 served refreshments.

Awarded during the evening were denner stripes to Mike Anderson, Kim Long, Steve Cowley and Wayne Hooper. Assistant denner stripes went to Gary Martin, Dale Earnest, Gerald Yarbrough and Tony Arnold.

Bank Robbers Keeping Texas Officers Busy

By The Associated Press

Bank robbers stayed busy again Friday, continuing a spree that has kept Texas officers busy most of the week with little apparent success.

One would-be robber, using a toy hand grenade as a "weapon," failed to get any cash in Austin when his intended victim, an 18-year-old girl teller, ran instead of giving him money.

In Dallas, a bomb hoax telephone call before the city's fifth bank robbery of the year was being investigated as possibly linked with the latest heist. A police spokesman said the fake bomb call "scattered our people" and possibly assured a getaway for the robber.

The White Rock National Bank in Northeast Dallas was robbed of what a bank official, Bill Dempsey, said was "probably about $5,000."

Dempsey said the young robber, a woman's stocking pulled over his face, drove up to a bank window and inserted a pillow slip in the booth's slip-out drawer.

Miss Peggy Rice, 22, the teller, said she showed her a yellow package wrapped in black tape and told her it was a bomb. She put the money in the pillow case as the robber demanded and passed it back to him.

Dallas police theorized the robber was the same person who held up a drive-in teller Wednesday at North Park National Bank and escaped with about $18,000. The Wednesday robber wore a Halloween mask who also held up a package he said was a bomb. He handed the woman teller a note threatening to blow up the bank if he did not get the money.

Thursday, in Houston, two young robbers who fled on a motor scooter took more than $12,000 from a Houston bank. Police recovered more than half the money and arrested a young man who claimed he had been asleep — in an uncompleted building.

The Austin teller, confronted by what she believed to be a live grenade was Patty Urdmann, 18, who last year was a cheer leader at Austin Reagan as the school's team won a football championship.

Miss Urdmann left the booth fast when the grenade tumbled in, and the robber left quickly, too. The grenade was a toy which the robber had told her would be electronically detonated if she pushed an alarm button. She didn't wait to see, and the robber, his hands empty, didn't either.

Dallas' two robberies of the week brought to five the number of banks, including four drive-ins, that have been robbed in the city since Sept. 22. Combined loot has amounted to more than $85,000.

Neither Dallas officers or agents of the Federal Bureau of Investigation have made an arrest in the Dallas robberies.

Basin Petroleum Pioneers Plan Midland Reunion

More than 400 early day oil pioneers or widows of pioneers have pre-registered for the Sixth Biennial Permian Basin Petroleum Pioneers reunion, which will be held in Midland Friday.

Still more registrations are expected before the big event gets underway. And registrations will be accepted during the morning of Oct. 31.

Any person who was actively engaged in the oil business in West Texas or Eastern New Mexico prior to Oct. 1, 1939, is eligible to become a member of the PBPP. Widows of early-day oilmen also are eligible.

"If you think you are eligible and have not yet received an invitation to the reunion, please contact the Midland Chamber of Commerce," urged general chairman Robert C. "Bob" Tucker.

Registration of pioneers will begin at 9 a.m., Oct. 31, in the lobby of the Hotel Scharbauer, followed by a men's "get-together" at the Midland Petroleum Club. The men's luncheon will be held in the hotel ballroom.

Master of ceremonies will be John P. Butler, chairman of the board of the First National Bank. Invocation will be given by C. W. Brown, prominent oil operator and civic leader from McCamey.

Principal speaker for the luncheon will be J. C. "Peck" Cunningham of Midland, a longtime oil scout and landman in West Texas.

Cunningham retired as chief landman of Humble Oil & Refining Company's Western Division in 1957, after more than 30 years with that firm. He started in the oil business in 1924 as a tool dresser in Callahan County. A year later he joined Humble as a scout in Cisco.

Cunningham was stationed in Houston, San Angelo, and McCamey before moving to Midland in 1930. Except for three years in Florida, he has resided in Midland since that time.

Cunningham's talk is expected to relate stories and experiences about the early-day oil activities in the area.

The ladies' luncheon will be held at the Midland Country Club with Mrs. Robert Patteson in charge of arrangements.

A new feature for this reunion will be presentation of a new musical production, "Texas: West!" at 3:30 p.m. in the hotel ballroom. The day-long events will close with an informal reception and buffet at 6 p.m. at Ranchland Hills Country Club.

Program Announced For State Farm Bureau Meet

SAN ANTONIO — Some 2,000 persons, including more than 800 voting delegates from 203 organized county Farm Bureaus, are expected to attend the 36th annual convention of the Texas Farm Bureau here Nov. 16-19, according to Sidney Dan of Victoria, TFB president.

All convention events will be held in the San Antonio Convention Center.

Policies to guide the state's largest organization next year will be adopted by the voting delegates on the two final days of the meeting. They will also approve recommendations on national issues which will be forwarded to the annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation slated for Dec. 7-11 in Washington, D.C.

Prominent issues to be decided by the delegates include national farm program legislation and proposed amendments to the TFB by-laws. The delegates are expected to recommend to the American Farm Bureau Federation convention the kind of farm program they think farmers should have when the present program, the Agricultural Act of 1965, expires in 1970.

Registration will get underway at 2 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 16, in the Convention Center Theater lobby. A discussion meet competition for young people in Farm Bureau will be held that afternoon. Vesper services and Talent Find competition are scheduled for that evening.

The Monday morning program includes the annual address by President Dean; an administrative report by Cliff Laywell, Waco, TFB executive director; and the financial report by Steve Lilly of Nacogdoches, TFB secretary-treasurer.

Thirteen district queen candidates will compete in the finals of the TFB Queen Contest that evening.

Guest speakers on Tuesday morning include State Representative G. F. (Gus) Mutscher, Brenham, Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, and State Representative W. S. (Bill) Healy of Paducah. A banquet and recognition program, honoring county Farm Bureaus with outstanding achievements in membership acquisition, public relations, and safety, will be held Tuesday evening.

The business session gets underway Tuesday afternoon with voting on resolutions sent in by county Farm Bureaus. The session will continue Wednesday until all recommendations have either been amended, adopted, or rejected. Voting delegates will elect board members for two-year terms from seven districts as the last order of business.

Just Didn't Feel Too Good

DALLAS (AP)—It was a race to see who could get to the door faster than the occupant could call it securely. Police manpower won. They got inside and arrested the woman. Officers got into the case when neighbors reported that the woman, residing in South Dallas near the State Fair grounds, fired a shot at them from her window. She hit no one. Police were held at bay for a time, then decided to break in the door. As they rammied it, the woman rapidly pounded nails into the door and the doorjamb to keep them out. Neighbors said the woman had no real grievance. She just awoke in an aggressive frame of mind.

The Big Spring Traffic Commission has scheduled a meeting for Tuesday at 10 a.m. in the commission room. ## African Ordeal Still Undecided

DUBROVNIK, Yugoslavia (AP)—The opening joint session of National Olympic committees and the executive board of the International Olympic Committee ended in controversy Saturday as African nations demanded that South African and Rhodesian delegates be ejected from the hall. The executive board met later but was unable to find a way out of the situation. Avery Brundage of Chicago, IOC president, then called in the South Africans and Rhodesians, who said they would not leave the meetings. Brundage told the 69 national delegations that the executive board was powerless to oust the South Africans and the Rhodesians but asked for a vote. The national committees voted 43-21 to eject the South Africans while two abstained and three voted to abstain. On Rhodesia, 39 voted to eject with 27 voting to seat the delegates. Three others abstained.

DEATHS

Sam Cauble, Pioneer Rancher, Dies Friday

Samuel Ivan Cauble, 95, pioneer rancher and cattle trader, died unexpectedly at his home at 800 Johnson, at 9 p.m. Friday.

SAM CAUBLE

He and a son, Ladd Cauble, had had their nightly domino game, before Mr. Cauble decided to retire. When his son passed the door of his room a few minutes later, he noticed Mr. Cauble across the bed with the light still on. He was dead. Last rites will be conducted by a nephew, Chaplain Donald Cauble, Abilene, at 4 p.m. Monday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel. Burial will be in the City Cemetery.

Mr. Cauble was born Oct. 8, 1874 in Aquilla, Tex., and came to Big Spring in 1897. He and a brother, George Cauble, acquired 18 sections immediately southwest of Big Spring and ranched until 1910 when they sold out and he went to New Mexico. After two years, however, he returned. For many years he bought and sold cattle, and for a time he worked for John Hodges. He continued his trading until he retired several years ago.

He was married to Margie Mae Carter in 1901, and she died here in 1936. Mr. Cauble was a Methodist. He leaves two sons, Ladd Cauble, 800 Johnson, and J. C. Cauble, Las Vegas, Nev.; three grandchildren; four great-grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

Swap Their Spies

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today freed two young Britons in the Brooke-Cohen spy deal and flew them to London. Michael Parsons, 24, and Anthony Lorraine, 23, had been jailed for drug smuggling. Parsons was serving a four-year sentence and Lorraine a three-year term.

She and her husband, the late Wilmer Jones, came to Stanton in 1906 from Williamson County. He died in November, 1947.

Surviving her are one son, James Jones, Stanton; one sister, Mrs. Charlie Kelly, Lockhart, and one brother, Jess Parr, Robstown. She also leaves two grandchildren (including Mrs. Dean (Joanne) Forrest, Big Spring; four great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild, numerous nephews and nieces.

Curious Copter Pilot Sets Off Biggest Fight In Weeks

SAIGON (AP) — A five-hour fight started by a curious helicopter pilot turned out to be the biggest battle fought by American troops in nearly six weeks, the U.S. Command reported Saturday. Troops of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division killed 51 North Vietnamese soldiers during the fight Friday in the Ho Bo Woods area 28 miles north of Saigon. Ten Americans were killed and 12 wounded. The U.S. troops called for air strikes.

"I didn't think there would be anything alive in there after those air strikes," Pfc. Ernesto Gonzales told Associated Press. "They hardly fired at us until we got right on top of them. Then they started coming out of the ground everywhere. There were Viet Cong behind us, in front of us and on all sides of us. 'All we could do was grab our casualties and shoot our way out," said Gonzales, of Freer, Tex.

The battle in a bomb-cratered abandoned plantation apparently came as a surprise to both the American troops and the North Vietnamese regulars holed up there.

But the surprise was much more costly to the enemy. During a sweep through the area Saturday, the bodies of 51 North Vietnamese soldiers were found along the blood trails where the wounded had been dragged away.

Asks For His Mother, But He'll Never See Her Again

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Two-year-old Tony Fraga keeps asking for his mother as he lies in a hospital bed here—but his mother will never again be at his side. He'll never again see his mother, father or infant brother, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fraga Jr. of Dallas and their son, were killed a week ago in a traffic accident near D'Hanis, Tex.

Three other persons were fatally injured in the two-car smashup. Except for the doctors, nurses and aids, Tony was virtually alone at Bexar County Hospital here for four days. His brother, David, 1, survived the crash and was treated and released. The tot had relatives in Dallas, but they couldn't afford to make the trip to San Antonio.

"He was real happy to see us," Miss Saucedo said, speaking also for Mrs. Saucedo, who speaks only Spanish. "We stay here all day and only leave at night."

With literally no money in their pockets, the two women are the guests of The Rev. and Mrs. Frank Flores, who were contacted by the Saucedos' pastor in Dallas.

Does Tony realize yet what happened to his parents? "I don't think he knows," Miss Saucedo said. "He keeps asking for his mother. I point to my mother and say, 'Here she is,' but he says, 'No, it's the wrong one.'"

Beeville Supe Elected To Head Teachers' Group

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Archie Roberts, Beeville school superintendent, was certified Saturday as the new president-elect of the 123,000-member Texas State Teachers Association.

The convention earlier Saturday approved a task force report that outlines ways to strengthen the TSTA's ties to affiliates. Roberts was elected in a statewide referendum of TSTA members this month. He takes office in March, succeeding Mrs. Jewell Harris of Abilene, who will step up to the TSTA presidency.

Mrs. Harris, a speech and English teacher at Jefferson Junior High School in Abilene, also will take her post next March. She succeeds Supt. Claude Hearn Jr., of the Randolph Field School District here. L.P. Sturgeon of Austin remains as executive secretary, the only appointed officers' position. Roberts has been Beeville superintendent since 1956 and active in teaching school administration and professional association work for 22 years.

Mrs. Harris is in her 22nd year of classroom teaching. The TSTA's task force report on local affiliates drew strong support Saturday from Amarillo, Dallas and several other local associations.

Delegates also approved an amendment allowing TSTA presidents the option of taking a leave of absence from school duties to serve their one-year terms. The report provides three optional methods of organization for the local affiliates:

—An all-inclusive local association of teachers, administrators and other educators, in which policy is determined by a representative council.

—An all-inclusive association with separate departments for classroom teachers, administrators and others.

—An association of classroom teachers and an association for administrators, with the two co-

Tech Hosts Textile Meet

LUBBOCK — Something like 350 people, representing 11 foreign countries, 16 of the United States and the District of Columbia, will be in Lubbock Oct. 29-31 for the International Textile Symposium on the Texas Tech Campus.

Included are 10 representatives of the Far East textile spinning industry, traveling as a part of the U.S. Cotton Orientation Program and hosted on the local level by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. According to Donald Johnson, PGC Executive vice president, the symposium and the cotton orientation group are both "a continuation of market development activities which ultimately must be the savior of the High Plains cotton industry."

From the Far East will be spinning mill people from Korea, Hong Kong, India, Vietnam, Japan, Indonesia and the Philippines. And these are the countries which have traditionally taken the lion's share of cotton exported from the High Plains area. Also in attendance will be textile experts from France, Belgium and Germany.

The U.S. Cotton Orientation Program is sponsored by the National Cotton Council, Cotton Council International and USDA's Foreign Agriculture Service.

WSCS Sets Prayer Call

Members of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First United Methodist Church of Big Spring will hold a special meeting at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday in the chapel as part of a national observance of the "call to prayer and self-denial." The call is sponsored by the Board of Missions of the United Methodist Church and focuses on mission study, offerings for special world and national projects, and a deepened spiritual life. More than 1,250,000 women in 36,500 local guilds and societies are expected to join in the observance.

Each year the women's division designates certain mission projects as beneficiaries of an offering, given as part of the call. Last year offerings totaled over $40,000.

Each woman who takes part is asked to save for an offering over a length of time and then bring her offering for the designated projects to the call observance. Women are also asked to pray for workers and their projects.

You Count 'Em Six Generations

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — A 5-pound, 11-ounce boy born in Baptist Hospital Friday represented the sixth living generation of his mother's family, dating back to 1873.

Identified as Baby Boy Blanton until he is officially named, the baby is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Blanton of Pensacola. He was born by Caesarian section but the hospital said both the baby and his 15-year-old mother were doing well.

The baby has two living great-great-grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Greer, 92, and Mrs. Lou Jobe, 96, both of Rosebud, Ark. His great-great-grandmothers, Mrs. Owen Newman, 70, and Mrs. Mae Jobe, 80, are both from Romance, Ark., but all of the others in the six-generation chain are from Pensacola.

The infant's great-grandmother is Mrs. Farris Jobe, 49, and his grandmother is Mrs. W. E. Watson, 31.

Jury Makes $20,000 Award

Bill R. Allen was awarded damages amounting to $20,000 Saturday by a 118th District Court jury as the result of a civil suit against Alert Ambulance, Inc. The jury returned the verdict about 7:30 p.m.

At the same time the jury absolved the company from paying any damages to Earnest Barbee.

Allen and Barbee had originally filed separate suits against Alert Ambulance; but just before the trial started, they consolidated their cases. They were suing for damages arising from a collision between an Alert ambulance and a car driven by Barbee about two years ago. Birdwell Lane and FM 706. NOT AVAILABLE TO MAJOR INDUSTRIAL USERS IN SOME AREAS

Market Demand Causes Natural Gas Shortage

NEW YORK (AP) — Industries seeking to expand their gas consumption or convert to natural gas to reduce air pollution are being turned down in some areas due to shortages of the cleaner burning fuel. Utilities say they can't guarantee gas supplies for large conversions in some areas, said W. Morton Jacobs, president of the American Gas Association. The Bureau of Natural Gas in its latest national study, moreover, has forecast a deficiency by 1974.

Consolidated Natural Gas in New York said it "will honor all existing contracts to industry customers but at the moment we will not take on any large industrial customers."

Rochester Gas & Electric, which gets its gas from Consolidated, said it recently turned down a request from Eastman Kodak Co. for a major gas conversion project.

produced by its previous fuel, backing off on expansion because it lacks sufficient supplies. Northern Natural Gas Co. in Omaha said it was trying to withdraw a pipeline application it had made with the Federal Power Commission because it didn't have enough gas reserves for the projected line.

TRAINS FOR MOON LANDING — Astronaut Charles (Pete) Conrad, left, tells about his training on the Lunar Landing Training Vehicle as he prepares for the Apollo 12 moon flight and landing. At right he flies the spider-like machine during a training flight. Apollo 12 is scheduled to make its blast off on Nov. 14.

Conrad 'Ready' After Lander Simulator Flight

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Charles Conrad Jr., commander of America's second moon-landing flight, flew a lunar lander simulator Saturday and said afterward, "I'm ready." The balding, blue-eyed astronaut flew the lunar landing training vehicle (LLTV), a spiderlike lifting platform that simulates the low moon gravity, up to more than 200 feet and then guided it about 1,000 feet down a runway to a smooth landing.

Conrad said training flights in the weird craft will be invaluable to him in landing the lunar module on the moon next month. He guided it to a smooth landing and the team abruptly stopped. Conrad is commander of the Apollo 12 moon mission, scheduled for launch Nov. 14. "I'm ready. Have been for two years now," said Conrad. Conrad accelerated the rocket engine and took off slowly, going straight up. The craft then turned and he guided it down the runway, suspended 200 feet in the air by the thrust of the rocket. Plumes of steam shot in all directions as he controlled the vehicle with small rocket thrusters. He guided it to a smooth landing and the team abruptly stopped. Conrad said he was pleased with the flight and hoped to make another. The astronaut had made 10 flights on a similar craft last year. The lunar landing training vehicle is a four-legged, wingless platform that is supported in flight by rockets. A large jet engine lifts five-sixths of the vehicle weight and a throttleable rocket controls the other one-sixth, giving the pilot the "feel" of flying in the moon's gravity. Sixteen rocket thrusters control the attitude. Neil Armstrong, commander of the Apollo 11 flight, said the LLTV training was "frosting on the cake" in teaching him to land in the reduced gravity of the moon. With Conrad on the Apollo 12 flight next month will be Richard Gordon Jr., the command module pilot; and Alan Bean, the lunar module pilot. Conrad and Bean will make the actual landing and Gordon will remain in orbit around the moon aboard the mother ship.

Bids To Be Opened For New Facility At Webb

The Webb Air Force Base Procurement Office has announced the opening of bids for the construction of a miscellaneous recreational facility at the base. Bids will be received until 3 p.m., Nov. 25, in the Base Procurement Office, Building 625, at the base.

and equipment and performing all operations as specified. The primary construction is that of an 18 by 32 foot picnic shelter on a four-inch concrete slab. The estimated cost of the proposed construction is less than $25,000. The contractor will be required to complete all work within 30 calendar days after receipt of notice. A set of plans and specifications is available upon request from the Procurement Office.

Doing His Thing

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — The sleek official limousine of Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro III received a ticket while stopped in a no-parking zone—in front of City Hall. Just as Patrolman Carter Spencer finishing writing the $7 summons, the mayor walked out and, with a forced smile, said the officer "was only doing his job."

mill? I have wondered for years why we gave up our windmills. I agree that they were good to have around for several reasons besides the soothing, soft clunk they made when pumping . . . We never suffered for water even if we didn't have such good pressure. There's lots of things worse than not having high water pressure in our houses. Our trouble is that we are spoiled. Each of us thinks being modern is a grand word, but we are making things worse instead of better when we study more about keeping modern than about our souls and the hereafter. One of my neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sheppard have their windmill, and I hear it when it runs and it's music beyond words to describe. I hope you print Mr. Whiskey's column real often to keep us reminded what we are missing trying to be modern. I'm by that word like I am "style." Why can't people dress neat and decent and clean and be satisfied and not worry about so-called styles. While I'm on my soap box, I'll say I believe we have made a mistake trying to irrigate so much, and now we're hollering shortage of water. It also seems to me like we are poisoning the land and water when we poison vegetation. If my letter is too long, please forgive me; when I get started on these subjects, I don't know when to quit. ## Rain Plagues Area Farmers

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Bad weather for harvesting and maturing of late crops plagued Texas farmers last week. More rain in the northwest kept outdoor work slow, said Director John Hutchinson of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Late crops over much of the High Plains, hit by the mid-October freeze, suffered yield and quality losses, the director noted. Recent rains helped the growth of range forage and improved grazing prospects. Eastern parts of the state suffered from drought, Hutchinson said. Livestock are in fair to good condition with range forage described as lush in some areas. Early and voluntary wheat is providing grazing on the High Plains in increasing amounts, Hutchinson said. District agents reported: Cotton harvesting in the south counties of the South Plains (Lubbock) was delayed by poor weather. Cotton plants are drying out after the freeze and yield and quality, especially on late cotton, will be down. The sorghum harvest is near completion and the soybean harvest in full swing. The freeze stopped all vegetable harvesting. Army worms are still a problem in early and voluntary wheat. Livestock are grazing stubble fields and wheat pastures. Moisture in West Central Texas is fully adequate to surplus and wet fields are delaying planting of grain and harvesting of cotton. Grains are making good growth and some are being grazed and the cooler weather has slowed army worms. Peanuts in San Saba County have been damaged some by overly wet soil. Pecan prospects are only fair. Most ranges are lush and winter grazing prospects are good. All classes of livestock were in top condition and the market is good. Preparations are under way for the hunting season. Moisture in South Texas ranges from very short to spots to surplus in others.

EVEN IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOLS Attacks On Teachers More Frequent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Students in schools across the nation are physically attacking their teachers with increasing frequency.

The most serious incidents occur in junior and senior high schools, surveys indicate, but hundreds occur in elementary schools, too.

The two national teacher organizations are seeking contract authority for teachers to bar unruly youngsters from the classroom, and a Senate subcommittee is studying the situation to see if federal action is needed.

The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., is assembling statistics on the assaults on teachers. Staff members say some school boards are reluctant to disclose figures.

But according to reports they have received, Chicago listed 1,065 assaults on teachers during 1968, an eight-fold increase in five years. Los Angeles reported 181. New York listed 180 in a strike-shortened year.

Examples of attacks abound. Sixth grade teacher Alan Banov was stabbed in the back this month in Washington's Simon Elementary School. A 12-year-old pupil, who had just received a spanking for an earlier attack with a broken bottle, hurled a knife at Banov.

The same week, Vice Principal Eugene Kidwell had his throat cut by a former student while chaperoning a dance at Gwynn Park Senior High School in Maryland's Prince Georges County, a Washington suburb. The cut required 50 stitches.

On Friday half the 45 teachers in MacFarland Junior High School in the capital walked off their jobs, claiming they are in serious physical danger. One teacher had been struck by an egg thrown by a pupil.

An San Bernardino, Calif. High School, English teacher William Threat suffered a broken rib, concussion and serious chest injuries when he was knocked down and kicked while trying to aid Principi George Dibs, who was fighting off several pupils.

In Manhattan's P.S. 116 a student kicked teacher Myra Entenberg, who was previously assaulted Sept. 12. Another teacher in the same school, Evelyn Zucker, was bitten by a pupil in April and hit with a chair this month.

Of Chicago's 1,065 assaults in 1968, 760 were by pupils in grades 1 through 6, Superintendent James F. Redmond reported to Dodd's subcommittee.

Most assaults on teachers in San Francisco also were counted in elementary schools, according to E. D. Goldman, associate superintendent. San Francisco began keeping figures Nov. 22, 1968. By May 2, 1969, it had counted 136 assaults on teachers, 224 threats to teachers and 996 assaults on other students. Eighty-three of the 136 teacher assaults were by elementary students.

Boston's associate superintendent, Louis R. Welch, reported 17 teachers attacked in 1968 compared with 3 in 1964, 5 in 1965, 3 in 1966, and 7 in 1967.

District of Columbia officials said six teachers were assaulted in 1967 and 64 in 1968. Assaults on students went from 599 in 1964 to 703 in 1967 before dropping to 412 last year.

New York's figures remained more constant: 193 teacher assaults in 1965, 213 in 1966, 214 in 1967, 180 in 1968 and 146 in 1969. January and June of this year.

Different reporting standards may account for the wide variation of incidence from city to city.

George W. Rhodes Jr., who heads junior and senior high schools in Washington, told a Senate investigator that arrest statistics maintained by the police department would not accurately reflect the magnitude of the problem because such crimes often are not reported for such reasons as fear, intimidation, or the attitude that nothing will be done to punish the perpetrator.

But George D. Fischer, president of the million-member National Education Association, said in an interview: "School boards have buried this for years. If it comes out, it looks like their system is breaking down."

David Selden, president of the 175,000-member American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, said in a separate interview: "There is an increase of violence in the schools and teachers get the brunt of it."

Selden and Fischer said schools generally don't know how to deal with disruptive children—their phrase for trouble-makers.

One result surfaced this year at East St. Louis, Ill. Charles M. Merritts, school board president, said a majority of his system's 1,900 teachers were carrying guns. Merritts said women packed small pistols in their purses. He estimated 90 per cent of the men armed themselves.

Educators disagree about whether to assign police to schools.

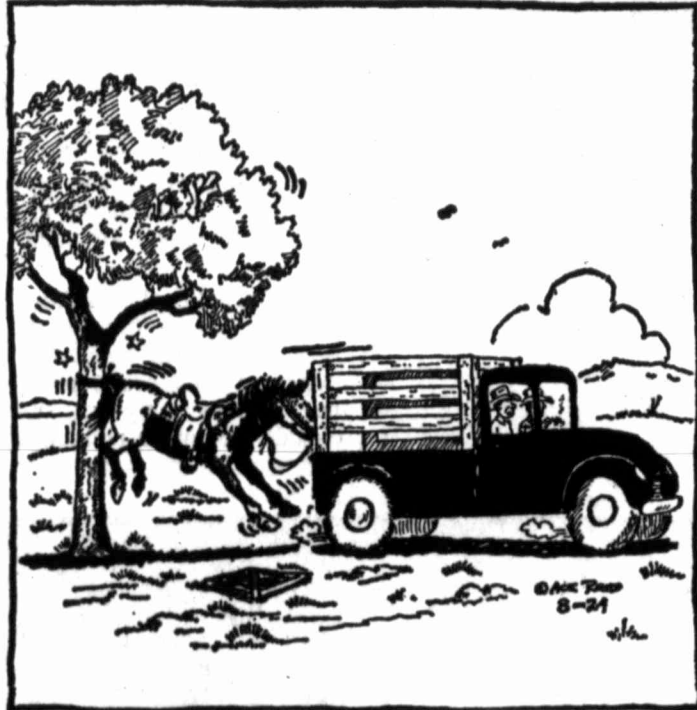

The National Education Association reports that security guards—some uniformed and armed, some unarmed in civilian dress—were used at Newark, Kansas City, Denver, Oakland, St. Louis, South Bend, Ind., Chicago and Philadelphia.

NEA's Fischer says police should be used "only as a last resort. What the teacher needs most is a voice, almost deterministic powers as to who comes into the class, who stays and who goes."

L. J. D. Nash, head of the 12-man detective force of Atlanta's 163-school system, said "I don't think the stage is set for full time guards yet." From January through Sept. 3, Nash's office tallied 142 cases of assault and battery compared to 144 for the entire year of 1968.

DEAR ABBY: I was one of those sloppy housekeepers who never seemed to get her housework done. I could sit for hours, day-dreaming, and when my husband came home from work, the house looked about the same as when he left, or worse!

Gary never complained, so for four years we lived in a pigpen, whether I was working or not.

Finally I became pregnant, and when the day came for me to go to the hospital I left behind dirty dishes from three days, an oven full of dirty pots and pans which had been "hidden" there for weeks, and soiled clothing piled high to the ceiling right next to my new washer-dryer.

This is only a partial description, but it will give you an idea of what a lousy housekeeper I was.

I realize this is long, Abby, but I'm sure it describes many homes from Boston to San Francisco, and I want to be sure these lazy women recognize themselves.

Well, I am sending you a copy of the letter my mother wrote to me while she stayed at my house when I was in the hospital. Perhaps if you print it, it will wake up some other lazy wives. It sure did wake ME up. And though it's been two years, her letter has been read and re-read and cherished. I am still so ashamed of my old habits, I've changed the names, so feel free to print it as it is.

"Dear Lisa, Just a note between us girls. I am cleaning your house today so you won't have so much to do when you come home.

Now you're probably saying, "Gee, that's sure nice of you Mom, I didn't ask you to." Well, the truth of it is, you didn't. But I wanted to, and it sure needed it. But that is all in the past. Let's look at the future.

You are now a mother, and it's time you became a housekeeper, so get busy! If Gary made you a living the way you keep house, you would starve to death. He does his job well, and you should start doing YOUR job, too. Okay?

If you're tired, talk to your doctor. If you're too lazy, talk to yourself.

You may say, "Mom, you have no right to say this!" I say, "Oh, yes, I have. It's a mother's right."

Your house is spotless now. Keep it that way! And when you get over being mad, make a pot of coffee and invite me over.

All my love, MOM"

DEAR ABBY: Recently I was asked to baby-sit (without pay) with my daughter's children while she and her husband went out for dinner.

I went directly to their house from work, thinking that was what they expected. When I got there I noticed she had TV dinners ready for the children, but nothing for me, so I went home (only a few blocks away), got myself a bite and brought it back and sat with the children. They ate their dinners and part of mine! All the while, their mother looked on.

I must have spoiled this daughter more than I know, for her to be so thoughtless. What can I do now, if anything? Ask her to feed ME next time, too? Or am I too sensitive?

GRANDMA
DEAR GRANDMA: It's difficult to believe that a daughter could be THAT thoughtless, but if you're in, tell her that the next time she asks you to sit she should be prepared to feed you.

DEAR ABBY: When being introduced to a person, it is okay to say, "I have certainly heard a lot about you?" RON
DEAR RON: It all depends on what you've heard.

Sanders' Field Goal Disappoints Ponies

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Jerry Don Sanders kicked a 36-yard field goal with 16 seconds remaining Saturday to give underdog Texas Tech a stunning 27-24 Southwest Conference football upset over Southern Methodist.

Sanders' winning kick in the regionally televised game was set up with 1:50 remaining on a fumble recovery by Dale Rebold at the Tech 43. Rebold pounded on the ball after SMU's Gary Hammond was knocked cold following a 27-yard pass reception from Chuck Hixson.

Poised sophomore quarterback Charles Napper then drove the Red Raiders within distance for Sanders' second field goal of the day.

Coahoma Bulldogs Flog O'Donnell Flock, 71-6

Coahoma led 22-0 midway through the first period then seemingly lost interest, however, even while toying with the Eagles, they could not keep the score down. By the end of the first quarter it was 29-0. At the half Coahoma held a slight 50-0 advantage.

The score mounted into a basketball category in the second half. The Bulldogs added 16 points in the third quarter and picked up a final touchdown in the fourth stanza to register points in every period.

O'Donnell managed to push across one touchdown. That came in the third period when the Eagles intercepted a Coahoma pass. They returned the interception to the Coahoma one-yard line. On the next play quarterback Louie Amaro rammed it over.

Quarterback Kenny Clanton ignited the Coahoma rout by scoring the first touchdown of the evening on an 11-yard run. Donnie Buchanan closed out Bulldog scoring in the first half by running for a touchdown.

Toby Green hauled in a 41-yard pass for a touchdown to start Coahoma's scoring parade in the second half. Last Bulldog to cross the goal line in the second half was Augustine Hernandez, who tallied on a 40-yard run in the fourth period.

In between these four touchdowns were additional TDs coming via runs or passes. Even a field goal was successfully booted by the Bulldogs. Coahoma points were registered by the likes of Clanton, Dean Richters, Gaylon Harrison, Green, Buchanan, James Dunn and Charles Denning.

Wildcats Claw OU Sooners

MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP) — Kansas State vented the frustration of all its years of football futility Saturday, riding an unbelievable offensive explosion to a 59-21 victory over Oklahoma as records fell as easily as Lynn Dickey's passes cut up the Sooners.

Dickey dazzled a record 38,500 fans celebrating the Wildcats' homecoming with the greatest passing display in Big Eight history.

It was the most points ever scored against the Sooners' in their 75-year history of playing football. It also was the worst margin of loss inflicted on Oklahoma since Notre Dame humbled the Sooners 38-0 in 1966.

About the only thing salvaged by the Sooners was the fact that star tailback Steve Owens rushed for 100 yards for his 145th straight regular season game.

Dickey completed 28 of 42 passes for 380 yards and three touchdowns before retiring with 9:58 left in the game. Both the completions and yardage are conference records.

Mack Herron scored three touchdowns and reserve Jerry Lawson put on a great show in relief of the injured Mike Montgomery to share the glory with Dickey. Lawson scored twice.

It was the most points scored by the Wildcats since they beat Washington University of St. Louis 61-0 in 1917, and their biggest margin of victory since they whipped Kansas 46-0 in 1955.

Troy Storms Back To Win Over Wreck

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Southern California Trojans about to be knocked out of the unbeaten football ranks, stormed back with two touchdowns in the final minutes Saturday to turn back Georgia Tech 29-18.

Sophomore quarterback Jimmy Jones, on the sixth play of an 80-yard drive, passed for 55 yards and a touchdown to Sam Dickerson to put the Trojans in front 22-18 with three minutes remaining.

Southern Cal converted a fumble on the ensuing kickoff on the Yellowjackets' nine and tailback Clarence Davis ran it in for the final score 12 minutes and 13 seconds into the final period.

A crowd of 53,341 was on hand in Memorial Coliseum for the intersectional game which left the Trojans with five victories and only last week's 14-1 tie with Notre Dame marring their record.

Georgia Tech, operating with sophomore Charlie Dudish, was the rank underdog after three losses and only two victories this fall. But in the wild fourth quarter the Yellowjackets' line man Wayne Lairrey intercepted a pass by backup quarterback Jim Fassel on the Trojan 14.

The aroused visitors pounded down to the one-foot mark and Dudish scored for what could have been a major upset of the season.

Texas (No. 2) Is Impressive In Win

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Second-ranked Texas flexed its defensive muscles Saturday and whipped Southwest Conference foe Rice, 31-0, for the Longhorns' 14th straight victory.

It was Texas' tenth consecutive victory this year and set up a battle with SMU next week in the Cotton Bowl.

The Longhorns stilled by Rice's charged-up defense and four major 15-yard penalties in the first half, broke loose on a 66 yard punt return by half-back Danny Leser, who probably should not even have tried to run with the ball.

Texas' Wishbone-T offense ground out 291 yards rushing and quarterback James Street hit 6 of 10 passes for 94 yards to keep the lowly Owls guessing.

Rice has now lost four straight after an opening victory over the first half, broke loose on a 66 yard punt return by half-back Danny Leser, who probably should not even have tried to run with the ball.

Texas was leading only 7-0 when Lester grabbed Bucky Allhouse's 28 yard punt at the Texas 30 yard line and sped to the Rice four. Sophomore Jim Bertelsen cashed in on the next play, and there was not much question of the outcome after that.

Lester, a 180-pound junior, also scooped up a Rice fumble at the Owl 28 and knocked away a Rice pass in the end zone to save a possible touchdown.

Joining him in the Longhorns' rugged display of strength was defensive end David Arledge, a 183-lb sophomore who was starting his first game.

Arledge caused three Rice fumbles with hard tackles, including one that set up Texas' third touchdown.

As usual, Texas' scoring was a ground affair. Fullback Steve Worster scored from the two and, after Bertelsen cashed in his sub Billy Dale scored from the four and one-yard line.

Happy Feller added four extra points, running his string for the year to 22 without a miss and kicked a 24 yard field goal, his fourth in five tries this season.

Spray Overtakes Archer On Coast

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Young Steve Spray, gunning for his first victory, shot a sparkling, five-under-par 68 Saturday, surged past struggling George Archer and vaulted into the third round lead in the $100,000 San Francisco Open golf tournament.

Spray, 28, and in his fourth year on the tour, had a 54-hole total of 199, including a second round 63 that matched the course record for the 6,677-yard Harding Park golf course.

Spray, whose best previous finish was a second more than a year ago, was just two strokes back of the best 54-hole score posted this season.

The obscure young player from Indianaola, Iowa, now playing out of Cedar Rapids, held a three-stroke lead over pudgy Miller Barber and big Bob Lunn, tied at 202, and Billy Casper, who rallied with a 66, was tied at 204 with Bob Charles, Chi Chi Rodriguez, Lee Elder and Jerry Heard.

Arnold Palmer's comeback attempt was jolted with a 73 for 210. 11 strokes behind the leader.

Spray matched a bogey — on the second, where he three-putted — with single birdie — a 12-foot putt on No. 7 — on the front nine while Archer, Lunn and Barber jockeyed for the lead.

With the front-runners unable to make a real charge, Spray assumed command with four birds in five holes on the back nine, starting at No. 10.

He ran in a 14-footer there, needed only a five-foot putt on the next hole, birdied the 13th from 10 feet and pitched to within five feet on the 14th.

That gave him the lead, and he stretched it with a 10-footer for a duce on the 17th, and it widened even further when Barber bogeyed the 18th Lunn three-putted the 17th.

Aggies Upend Baylor Bears

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M's relentless Cadets dealt Baylor its fifth straight defeat Saturday night, shutting out the hapless Bruins 24-0.

Sophomore quarterback Rocky Self engineered the rout with key runs and passes while defensive back Edwin Eblom was stealing two Baylor passes and returning one 44 yards for a touchdown.

Aggie tailback Larry Stegent, hammering at the Baylor line all evening, cracked in for two touchdowns as A&M picked up its second victory and first Southwest Conference triumph of the season.

The Cadets, making their debut before a crowd of 37,190, are now 1-2 in SWC action. Baylor is 0-2.

Leading 10-0 at half time, the Cadets broke the game open with two quick touchdowns within a span of 26 seconds late in the third period.

Self, weaving 35 yards on a keeper, took A&M 41 yards in five plays and sent Stegent diving in from the one for the first of the rapid-fire touchdowns.

Moments later, Eblom picked off a Laney Cook pass at the Baylor 44 and streaked straight down the left sideline and into the end zone for the backbreaker.

Arkansas' other touchdowns came on a one-yard run by fullback Bruce Maxwell, a 90-yard punt return by Terry Stewart and a six-yard run by reserve quarterback Steve Walters.

Wichita quarterback Bob Renner, who was under constant pressure from the Arkansas defense, got some consolation by passing 24 yards to Gene Robinson for a second-quarter touchdown. It was the first touchdown pass Arkansas had given up this season.

Randy Jackson scored the Wheatshockers' other touchdown on a 78-yard burst in the final quarter.

Renner's fourth-down scoring pass to Robinson put Wichita within 10 points, 17-7, with two minutes left in the half.

One minute and 40 seconds later Eichler completed the scoring pass to Morrison that completed a 69-yard scoring drive. A 27-yard run by Maxwell and a 16-yard pass from Eichler to Morrison on fourth and eight were the big plays.

BIG SPRING QB GARY HINDS (12) TAKES WINGS ON 87-YARD RUN FROM SCRIMMAGE
 His second quarter dash set up the Steers' first of three touchdowns

Steers Nudge Cats, 19-18, For 5th Win

around again time and again. CATS TAKE CHARGE
 Angelo fairly well dominated play the first half although Big Spring left the field leading, 13-12. The Steers "won" the second half by (1) spreading their offensive line out slightly to force the Cat linebackers farther out and (2) resorting to a pincher's play on defense, a stratagem that neutralized the effects of San Angelo's wide plays and compelled the Felines to stay inside.
 Quarterback Gary Hinds, who probably played his greatest game ever in a Big Spring uniform, kicked the PAT after Big Spring's first score early in the second period and, in the end, that proved to be the difference between the two clubs.
 A short time earlier, San Angelo had driven from its own 40 to Big Spring's one where on fourth down, a crumpling tackle by Jimmy Farris on fullback Thomas Williams jarred the ball loose.
 Fillmore Gunn was there to make the recovery at the three for Big Spring and the complexion of the game suddenly and dramatically changed.
 Running plays by Joe Zubiate and Rick Peurifoy worked the ball out to the 11, from which enemy pass to turn the game

Sears' Dune Buggies Entries In Mexico

NEW YORK (AP) — Another machine to two other entrants, Rebuilt Corvair engines will be getting into the motorsports field.
 A Sears spokesman said the cars will be available soon in four dune buggies in the Mexican 1000 off-road race Oct. 28-30. Nov. 1 and will furnish similar parts.

HUGE ELK FELLE — Bud Nichols, Elbow, is shown with the head of a huge elk he killed on a recent hunting trip near Walsenburg, Colo. The elk had an antler spread of 42 inches and had horns 48 inches in length. The horns are perfectly matched. The animal weighed about 1,000 pounds. It was killed with one shot in the shoulder with a 7 mm. Magnum at 100 yards. W. J. Harlow, Stanton, and A. J. Barron, Colorado City, were Nichols' hunting companions.

cut back and raced 87 yards down to the Felines' two. He had three blockers with him but none was in a position to take a shot at sophomore linebacker Steve Norred, who ultimately arrested Gary before he could stream on across the double stripes.
 With 9:07 left in the half, Joe Chavez boomed across for Big Spring's first score on the next play, after which Hinds booted the vital point.
COME BACK SWIFTLY
 An enraged San Angelo came back to score on the next series, driving 79 yards in five plays. Junior Stanley Howard did the honors off tackle from the 13 after a 37-yard pass from QB David White to Sam Hensley had set up the score.
 Lewis' kick for point fizzled after the holder was victimized by a bad snappack from center. San Angelo bolted ahead the very next time it got the ball, driving 72 yards in six plays with the aid of a pass interference call against Big Spring. White rang the bell with an eight-yard pass to Roy Holland, at which time 3:53 was left in the period. Farris broke up the passing try for two points.
 Gunn frustrated another San Angelo opportunity with 2:30 left in the half when he recovered a fumble by White on the enemy 38 and in so doing set Big Spring's second TD drive in motion.

MORE
 ON balance, Mike Barnes gathered in a pass from Hinds for 22 yards and fell to earth. Running plays moved the ball to the 11, from which point Hinds isolated Farris in a corner of the end zone and hit him with a perfect aerial. There was 1:08 left in Round Two at the time. Peurifoy tried legging it in for the two points on a sweep but was engulfed by a wave of tackle.
 White desperately took to the air trying to get San Angelo back on the board just before the intermission but Hinds intercepted the ball at his own 30 and returned it to the Steer 44. He punted to the enemy ten just as the half ended.
LATE DRIVE
 Neither team got very close to the pay window in the third until Big Spring launched a late drive from its own 30.
 Running from the Shotgun formation from time to time, the Bovines had worked the ball down to the enemy 15 when the quarter gun sounded.
 It took them six plays in Round Four to crowd across Chavez got the score from the one and Big Spring went farther ahead, 19-12, with 8:57 left in the game.
 After one abortive attempt and with 5:55 remaining in the game, the Orange started a 78-yard drive that resulted for a score when White threw a 24-yard Alley Oop pass to end Walter Lewis in the end zone. Lewis wasn't the primary target — Hensley was — but Walter caught it in heavy traffic, just the same.
 The Cats resorted to a pass for the two extra points that would have put them ahead but two Big Spring defenders hit the intended receiver, Hensley, as the ball zipped in and it fell away to earth.
 That left the score at 19-18, with 3:07 still to go.
 San Angelo immediately got a break when it kicked off. Receiver Kyle Roseene could do little but touch the ball before it went out of bounds on the Steer ten.
 The Steers had to maintain possession for the eternity that remained in the contest but Hinds craftily called on first Peurifoy and then Zubiate and Chavez for two first downs that enabled the Steers to maintain possession. The Cats were facing the clock and, having used all their time outs, helplessly watched time tick away.
 The hitting both teams were doing might have caused the Seismograph needle to flutter as far away as Phoenix. Almost the universal underdogs, the Steers were giving more than they took at the end, with Farris leading the defensive charge.
 Randy Morgan recovered another fumble for Big Spring that kept the Steers out of harm's way, that one at Big Spring's 25 early in the first quarter.
 Score by quarters:
 Big Spring 0 13 0 6-19
 San Angelo 0 12 0 6-18

Goliad Herd Unscored On

The Goliad Longhorns finished its 1969 grid season undefeated, dumping the Runnels Cowboys, 9-0, in seventh grade football action on Blankenship field Saturday morning.
 The victory moved Goliad's record to 6-0. Runnels, meanwhile, dropped to 3-3 and tied the Goliad Eagles for second place in the seventh grade loop. The two will probably play for an uncontested possession of second place Saturday.
 Even more impressive than the Longhorns' unblemished slate was the team's gritty defense. Goliad went the entire season without yielding a touchdown to any opponent.
 The Longhorns' only tally against the Cowboys came in the third quarter. Kirk Wrinkle scooted left end for three yards to score, climaxing a 60-yard march. Third team fullback Wade Franklin registered most of the yardage in the drive as he plunged for 50 yards. Franklin also ran for the two-points following the touchdown. The Cowboys moved inside the Goliad 20-yard-line on three occasions, but each time the drive was stopped by the alert Longhorn defense.
 Longhorn standouts for the game were Andre Hurrington, Stanley Wallace, Mark Taylor and James Coffee on offense and Mark Callahan, Nat Carl, Terry Treadway and Barry Canning on defense.
 The Goliad Eagles might have forced a second place playoff

Zachery Paces Midland To 21-7 Win Over Ector

MIDLAND — Midland High School's rugged, reliable half-back, Galberson Zachery, ran for two touchdowns here Friday night and paced the Bulldogs to a 21-7 District 3-4A football victory over winless Odessa Ector.
 The loss was the seventh in a row for Ector and fifth straight in district play. Midland, which stands 2-8 overall, is now 2-3 in district action.
 Zachery, who last week scored all his team's points in the Bulldogs 21-0 whitewashing of Midland Lee, logged 15 of Midland's 21 points against Ector.
 He raced 54 yards untouched for the first Midland score and then went seven yards later in the first period for the second Bulldog touchdown. Clarence Rankin scored the other Midland TD on a three-yard run and Zachery kicked all three extra points.
 Ector's only score came in the second period. Al Hernandez went one yard to score on a quarterback sneak. Ramon Nabarette added the point after.

Port Arthur, Permian Tie

PORT ARTHUR — Odessa Permian fought back in the third quarter to tie Port Arthur Thomas Jefferson, then spent the fourth quarter unsuccessfully trying to push across the winning touchdown as the two teams played to a 14-14 standstill here Friday night.
 The powerful Odessa team moved within seven inches and five yards of touchdowns in the Panther-dominated fourth period. Each time, Permian fumbled the ball away.
 Although Permian scored first, it trailed at the half, 14-7. The Panther touchdown came on a Charles Billingsley one yard ram with 2:13 left in the first quarter. Permian moved the 58 yards to score in two plays. The big play was a Steve Cox-to-David Bizzell pass which covered 57 yards and set the stage for Billingsley's tally.
 Permian tied the game in the third quarter when Cox again tossed to Bizzell. The play covered 49 yards with Bizzell streaking the final 20 to the goal line.
 Kent Halsey successfully booted both extra point attempts to round out Odessa scoring.

Toros Frog Foe, 67-0

COLORADO CITY — The Big Spring Toros achieved their most impressive victory of the season here Saturday morning, running roughshod over the Colorado City ninth graders, 67-0.

Tenth Ranked Florida Is Winner Over Vanderbilt

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sophomore quarterback John Reaves, continuing his assault on school records, hurled five touchdown passes Saturday and led 10th ranked Florida to its sixth straight football victory, a 41-20 triumph over Vanderbilt in a Southeastern Conference game.

Goliad's Mavs KO Cee City

COLORADO CITY — The Goliad Mavericks registered an early 16-0 advantage against Colorado City here Saturday morning then continued to pad their lead throughout the game to score a 36-0 triumph over the Red Dogs.

The victory brought the Mavericks record to 5-2 on the season with three games remaining. The team returns home for an encounter with San Angelo Edison at 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Reaves, equaled the SEC record of five touchdown passes in a single game, one he had tied in the Gators opening game victory over Houston.

It gave Reaves 20 touchdown passes for the year, breaking Florida's single season mark of 16 set by Heisman Trophy winner Steve Spurrier in 1966.

Quarterback Tom Sorley set the stage for Goliad's first touchdown when he passed 25 yards to Glen Carlton, who was tackled at the one-yard-line. Sorley then ran in for the touchdown on a quarterback keeper. Carlton got into the scoring act by running over the two-point conversion.

Carlos Alvarez, another of Florida's sophomore sensations grabbed scoring passes of 6, 8 and 11 yards, giving his 10 for the year which ties a conference record of eight set by Charlie Casey in 1965.

Later in the first quarter Paul Douglas intercepted a Colorado City pass at the Goliad 30-yard-line. Douglas returned the ball to the C-City 40-yard-line. There the offense took over and in one play — a Carlton 40-yard run — the Mavericks were again on the scoreboard. Bruce Abbe followed with a conversion kick for a 16-0 Goliad first quarter lead.

Reaves' other touchdown passes went 31 yards to Tommy Durrance and 28 yards to Bill Dowdy. Durrance, the SEC's leading scorer, got another touchdown on a three-yard run.

Vanderbilt once trailed 21-7 but rallied behind the running of Doug Mathews to trim the margin to 21-20 early in the fourth quarter. Florida's Steve Tannen blocked the extra point try that would have tied it and later intercepted two passes setting up Gator touchdowns.

Mathews scored on a 10-yard run for Vandy and set up his team's other scores which came on runs of one and six yards by quarterback Watson Brown.

SUNLAND P.K. RACE RESULTS

Goliad scored twice more in the second period. Doug Smith carried 30 yards on a power sweep for the first score of the period. It capped a 60-yard march.

Later on in the second stanza Goliad lighted the scoreboard again. This time it was Earl Reynolds who tallied on a 15-yard run. Tim Dunn ran across a two-point conversion for a 30-0 Goliad half time margin.

Goliad recorded its final touchdown in the third period. Defensive end Barry Loyd intercepted a Colorado City screen pass and returned it to the Red Dog eight-yard-line. On the next play, Sorley tossed to Loyd for the final six points.

Several boys came in for defensive mention in the shut-out victory. They were defensive linemen John Parks, James Lacey and Dunn; defensive safety Douglas; and linebackers Lonnie Gillihan and Abbe.

Tigers Outlast Auburn, 21-20

Linebacker Bill Thomason blocked an extra point attempt by Auburn kicking specialist John Riley in the early minutes of the fourth quarter Saturday to save a 21-20 Southeastern Conference victory for Louisiana State.

Thomason, a senior from Sulphur, La., who had earlier blocked a field goal attempt by Riley, submarined across for the game-saving block after Auburn's sophomore passing sensation Pat Sullivan had connected for his second touchdown toss to tailback Mike Zofko.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Coahoma Has Team Coming

By TOMMY HART

Fort Worth football buffs simply won't warm up to the TCU Horned Frogs... Of the 38,123 who witnessed the recent TCU-A&M game, 20,000 were Aggie boosters... Coach Spike Dykes of Big Spring dickered with Sherman, Corpus Christi King, Amarillo and El Paso officials before firming up the Steers' 1970 non-conference schedule.

BILLY CANNON

It's the policy of the Odessa paper never to refer to the San Angelo Central football team as the Angry Orange, an appellation coined by scribe Bob Milburn... All incoming sports writers of the Odessa news organ, and the paper has had a succession of them recently, are briefed on that fact before they are issued a writing quill... The Odessa Permian Junior Varsity, which hosts Big Spring in its final game of the season, scorched Abilene's JV recently, 62-8... East Texas State's new basketball coach, Jim Gudger, will be working with the tallest team in the school's history this season... However, his loftiest player, 6-10 Steve Coffman, won't be regular... Coffman, who played for Grayson Junior College last year, will be backup man to 6-7 Calvin Walker... The Lions have another 6-10 boy, Henry Brinkman, in school but he's ineligible... Arnie Herber, who played quarterback for the Green Bay Packers when the late Bob Flowers of Big Spring was active there, died recently of cancer... Herber threw for 66 touchdowns in his pro career... Olie Cordill Jr., son of the all-time Big Spring High School football great, is now a punter for the New Orleans Saints... In his first 12 kicks in the NFL this fall, he averaged 44.3 yards, second best in the league... Young Cordill, who played his college ball at Memphis State, tried out with Cleveland last year... San Angelo likely will meet Dallas Bryan Adams, Fort Worth Arlington Heights and Temple in non-conference games next fall... Ex-Texas aide Charley Waller is being groomed to replace Sid Gillman as coach of the San Diego Chargers.

Unbeaten now in three years as a unit, Coahoma's ninth grade football team could be the best in the school's history when it graduates to the varsity... which is one reason coach Bernie Hagins doesn't mind being promoted to Class AA... The Bullpups have terrific backs in QB Snickle Beal, fullback Freddie Franklin and halfbacks Lynn Ashley and Ben Herrera and outstanding linemen in such boys as Steve Stone, Steve Fraser and James Blair... The Coahomans recently belted Stamford Junior High, 56-0... When the Coahoma B team played the Big Spring Sophs recently (losing only by 14-0), all seven of those boys were in the lineup... Now that the World Series is out of the way, maybe the Baltimore Orioles will seek sanctuary at Aransas Pass with the Whooping Cranes... Coach Buddy Fornes of McCurry College says that Texas A&I probably has the finest team in Lone Star Conference history... Although Big Spring went 21 years without a football victory over Odessa High, the Steers don't trail by very far in the 30-game series, having won 12 while losing 18 and tying two... The Steers have won the last three and five of the last six meetings with the Bronchos... Stanton is one of those rare places where more boys are now out for football than at the beginning of the season... coach Gerald Loyd has about 60 in uniform... Given time, Loyd will come up with a winner over there... He thinks highly of his sophomore talent... At one time in the recent McCamey game, all four boys in the Buffalo backfield were sophs... Angelo State College's basketball team picks up some height at mid-term when 6-7 Dana Keese of Oklahoma City becomes eligible... Miami's Charley Tate calls the current LSU team the best the school has had since Billy Cannon and Jimmy Taylor played as Tigers... The West Texas Rufneks, a far cry from the team which opened the season back in August, recently handed the pink slip to Big Spring's Thurman (Big Daddy) Randle... Radio huckster Boom-Boom Baum insists he only reads someone else's weather forecast but he modestly says his predictions are 85 per cent correct two per cent of the time.

rash of mistakes (two passes intercepted, four fumbles lost, and eighty yards in penalties); but the Bearcats, through mistakes of their own, were unable to capitalize on favorable circumstances. After feeling Hawley out in a dull first quarter, the Buffaloes finally sprung senior back Leon Hobbs loose for a 62-yard scoring jaunt on a pitch out around right end. Then Doyle Whetsel, a 140-pound senior who played fullback most of the game, kicked the point after touchdown, which eventually proved to be the winning margin.

RASH OF ERRORS
In the third quarter Forsan committed a variety of errors and the Bearcats, coached by Charles Cude, were able to put their first score on the board. Hawley's 135-pound cornerback Bill Cagle intercepted a pass thrown by end Darrow Cobb at midfield and raced to the Forsan five-yard line with the ball. Two plays later senior back Doug Vinson scooted four yards around right end for the touchdown. Quarterback Gary Womack's pass for a two-point conversion was incomplete.

Forsan found its stride again in the fourth quarter when line-backer Bobby Davis recovered a Bearcat fumble on the Bearcats' 37-yard line with about six minutes left in the game. On the very next play Cobb took the handoff from quarterback Jeff Williams and threw a deep pass down the middle to Davis who carried it into paydirt. Williams then completed a pass to Hobbs for the two-point conversion which would have put the game on ice, but an off sides penalty nullified the play. When Forsan tried again, Bearcat tacklers smothered Williams before he could throw the ball.

Hawley then proceeded to start hearts pounding as they took the ball after the kick-off and a 15-yard penalty against Forsan for grabbing the face mask, and marched 54 yards in 13 plays for a touchdown, making the score 13-12. Forsan, Vinson again carried the ball around right end from the four yard line for the tally, with a little more than a minute left in the game. Cagle's pass for the two-point conversion was knocked down, and the Buffaloes saved their victory.

Each team earlier in the game had missed an opportunity to score. In the first quarter Hawley had carried the ball from its own 48 down to Forsan's 11-yard-line before running out of downs. The start of the fourth quarter saw the Buffaloes stymied at the two-yard line after they had had first and goal from the Bearcat ten.

TOP RUSHER
Forsan's Hobbs was the leading rusher in the game, picking up 142 yards in 14 carries. Davis managed 71 yards in 12 tries for the Buffaloes, while Hawley Vinson carried 23 times for 74 yards and caught two passes for 16 more. During halftime, Miss Kay Walraven, sophomore representative, was crowned homecoming queen by her escort, Philip Medlin; the crown had been presented by last year's queen, Miss Mary Lou King, who was escorted by Marlin Medlin. Other candidates for the honor and their escorts were senior, Miss Susie Moreno, by Dee Highley; junior, Miss Marcy Faught, by Everett Bedell; and freshman, Miss Gayle Moore, by Mike Murphy. Hawley 0 0 6 6-12 Forsan 0 7 0 6-13

NM State Loses To West Texas

CANYON, Tex. (AP) — West Texas State's Buffaloes, thanks to a pass which missed by inches, defeated New Mexico State 17-16 here Saturday afternoon before a homecoming crowd of 16,500. The Aggies scored at the final minute of play on a one-yard run by Jim Terralls. Quarterback Rhettt Putman threw to end Hayward Findley on the attempted two-point conversion which could have won the game for New Mexico State.

TOUCHDOWN, BIG SPRING — Jimmy Farris (88) is shown all but being pushed out of the end zone after he had caught a touchdown pass from QB Gary Hinds in Friday night's 3-AAAA thriller with San Angelo. The rangy end accounted for the Steers' second score in a game won by Big Spring, 19-18.

ACKERLY — Much-improved Sands snapped out of its doldrums after the first half to smash Hermleigh, 14-0, in the first District 7-B game for both teams here Friday night. Sands barely missed a touchdown on the final play of the first half when the Cardinals' safety man tripped up Eddie Newcomer at the Hermleigh 21. After Newcomer had taken a pass from Steve Herm, the play originated on Hermleigh's 48. The Mustangs finally got on the board in the third when a 62-yard drive ended with a Hermleigh touchdown pass to fullback Reggie Hambrick, the play covering ten yards. James Blake's team drove 62 yards for the tally. Running by Johnny Peugh and Tony Gillespie sparked the drive. Sands failed to convert, however, so the lead was precarious.

In the fourth, Newcomer put the verdict on the top shelf by breaking for 31 yards and paydirt, at the end of a 57-yard surge. He broke loose on a reverse. Blocks by Kelly Gaskins, Gavino Rodriguez, Perry Gillespie and Steve Herren sent him free. Sands added the two extra points when Herm went to Ronnie Oaks with a pass. The Ponies had two fourth period touchdowns wiped out by penalties. Newcomer broke loose for 27 yards, also on a reverse. Newcomer broke loose for 27 yards, also on a reverse. Newcomer broke loose for 27 yards, also on a reverse.

Hermleigh's big charge limited Sands to 38 yards rushing the first half. Hermleigh made 45 yards in ground gains during the same two periods. Sands was playing with the services of starting end Felix Robles, who was sent to the hospital to have some fluid drained from the knee.

Gaskins again led Sands' defensive play by making 13 tackles. Randy Clemens had 12, Rodriguez ten and Marcy Robles ten. Center Larry Shaw went both ways for Sands and did a fine job. He came up with five tackles and blocked better than he has all year. He also recovered a fumble. Rodriguez pounced on one enemy fumble, Gaskins another. Randy Roemisch led Hermleigh's ball carrier with 70 yards net. Newcomer had 80 yards in 11 carries for Sands, Peugh 43 in 11. Tony Gillespie gave the Cayuses excellent punt coverage. Coach Blake had 26 boys suited out and played them all. The Mustangs journey to Roby for another conference test next Friday. Roby was upset by Jayton this weekend, 28-20. ## Top-Rated Buckeyes Rip Illini For 18th In Row

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Junior quarterback Rex Kern eclipsed an Ohio State career yardage record Saturday, leading the top-ranked Buckeyes to their 18th straight football victories and ran for another, earning 224 yards against the winless Illini. That gave the 6-foot, 186-pounder 2,579 yards, surpassing the Buckeye record of 2,530 set by former All-America and Heisman trophy winner Hopalong Cassidy.

Cougs Receive Another Score

ODESSA — Unbeaten and number two rated class AAAA Abilene Cooper received its second score in three weeks here Friday night when it escaped with a 14-7 football victory over Odessa High School in District 3-4A action.

Three weeks ago the Cougars narrowly topped Big Spring, 15-13 in another crucial district tussle. Richard Mildren, Cooper's star quarterback, was again instrumental in the victory. Odessa successfully stifled the Abilene running game, thus forcing Mildren to take to the air.

Mildren passed for one touchdown, hitting Bobby White on a 25-yard TD toss on the final play of the first half, and set up the other Cougar TD with his passing wizardry. For the game, Mildren completed 13 passes for 131 yards. Abilene moved to a 14-0 advantage after three quarters of play when Roy Longacre ran 11 yards for a TD and John Villareal kicked his second PAT. Odessa's only tally came in the fourth quarter when Mark Green scooted seven yards to score. Lanny Phillips booted a successful PAT. The victory brought Jayton's season's ledger to 4-2 while Roby now stands at 5-1.

Jayton Jolts Roby, 28 To 20

JAYTON — The Jayton Jaybirds knocked the Roby Lions from the undefeated ranks here Friday night with a 28-20 triumph. The victory brought Jayton's season's ledger to 4-2 while Roby now stands at 5-1.

Sweetwater Zaps Levelland, 27-0

LEVELLAND — Favored Sweetwater High School performed true to form, burying Levelland, 27-0, here Friday night. The well-balanced Mustang attack featured running touchdowns by Gary Smith, Larry Williams and Mike Tucker and a passing score via a William Hunt-to-Don Hicks 25-yard aerial. The victory was Sweetwater's first in District 3-AA action and righted its district ledger at 1-1. Over-all the Mustangs are 3-4. The Lobos are 0-2 in the district and 1-6 on the season.

Oakland Tries San Diegoans

By The Associated Press

The San Diego Chargers, in search of a scoring wallop to counter the paydirt passing of Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, entertain the rampaging Raiders today in a wild West showdown that headlines the American Football League schedule. Oakland, atop the Western Division with a 5-0-1 mark and unbeaten in 14 straight regular season games, pits the hot-handed Lamonica against poised John Hadl and a San Diego club that continues to mystify coach Sid Gilman despite a four-game winning string. "I guess we're leading the league in just about everything on offense — except scoring," Gilman said after the Chargers squeezed past winless Boston 13-10 last weekend. "We can get the ball down there, but we can't get it across."

league's top defensive team, is a solid favorite to stymie the young Bengals and average a stunning 24-19 loss at Cincinnati last month.

O. J. Simpson, whose West Coast return was overshadowed by Lamonica's passing heroics, last week, will try to get the Bills' attack rolling in the Miami sunshine. Buffalo, however, is down to one quarterback, veteran Jack Kemp, with rookie Jim Harris out for the season, after ripping knee ligaments in the Oakland mismatch.

Bob Griese almost brought Miami back from a 17-0 deficit at Kansas City last week, but the rally fell one touchdown short. It's been that way for the Dolphins all year.

STANTON — Gerald Loyd's first year as head football coach at Stanton High School is rapidly turning into an unforgettable traumatic experience.

It is not the exasperating string of defeats that the 1969 grid season has unfolded which has shocked the ex-Big Spring assistant.

Nor is it caused by helplessly watching his team receive a thorough massacre such as the 45-0 ambush Crane inflicted upon Loyd's charges in their most recent outing in Buffalo Stadium Friday night.

Instead Loyd quivers uncontrollably at the thought of fielding a football team week after week.

Slowly his backfield has been depleted through injuries. After two star backs were benched with physical ailments, linemen began coming up lame.

INJURY-RIDDLED

The Crane contest was no exception as Loyd's seventh player, and sixth starter, sustained an injury. Sophomore defensive back Franky Barnhill limped around the quiet Buffalo dressing room following the Crane defeat with an injured leg.

He joins company with backs Gary Kitchens, Rusty Hicks, Alan Gregston, Lupe Padilla and linemen Scottie Fisher and Mark Hurst, all of whom have already been sidelined.

Further examination of Barnhill's leg will reveal the extent of damage. Loyd is praying he will be ready for Friday's Colorado City clash and hopes several others will be back in the lineup before the season finale.

Even the weather has turned against the Stanton mentor. Two practices were rained out last week and spoiled Loyd's intensive preparations for the Golden Cranes.

It is doubtful, however, whether two more days of practice or a healthy corps of griders would have resulted in a better performance against Crane.

The powerful Golden Cranes, certainly a district 5-AA title contender, flashed offensive and defensive might to demolish Stanton and dash any upset ideas the Buffs might have held.

Crane's blanking of the Bisons was its third straight shutout victory and fifth overall. It is now unbeaten and unscored upon in two 5-AA outings. The Golden Cranes stand 5-2 on the season.

Stanton, meanwhile, is 0-2 in district action and 1-6 over-all.

The Jack Gothard-coached Golden Cranes scored in every period. Crane's well-balanced offense clicked for 20 first downs, 269 yards rushing, 222 yards passing and scored six touchdowns.

RUGGED DEFENSE

The tenacious Golden Crane defense held Stanton to 46 yards passing, two yards rushing, five first downs and registered one touchdown.

Stanton, on several occasions, received the football with excellent field position. The Crane defense, however, nary gave ground. In four plays the Buffs were normally punting.

First half statistics showed Stanton with a minus 26 yards rushing, nine yards passing and one first down.

Crane, by halftime, had piled up 101 yards rushing, 125 yards passing and held an insurmountable 27-0 lead. The second half was more of the same.

SMITH RUNS AWAY

Swift, elusive back Jerry Smith was the first to score on Crane's first possession of the football. He galloped 23 yards for the touchdown and 6-0 Golden Crane first quarter advantage.

The second quarter was Crane's most productive period as it scored three times. Quarterback Ricky Andregg, on the first play of round two, passed 29 yards to end Jimmy Wilson for a TD. Andregg also passed to Smith for a successful two-point conversion following the score.

Defensive tackle Mike Warren next entered the scoring derby. He intercepted a blocked Glen Ray pass and turned fullback as he chugged 62 yards to the goal line. L. V. Tennison followed with a conversion kick.

With two minutes left in the half, Smith danced 68 yards for his second of three touchdowns of the evening. Andregg ran for a two-point conversion to culminate first half scoring.

2ND HALF SCORES

The first time Crane had the ball after intermission it again punched across a touchdown. Andregg tossed 38 yards to Wilson to cap a seven play, 75-yard advance. The score came with 9:50 remaining in the third quarter.

With 9:50 left in the fourth quarter Crane had another score. Smith did the TD honors with a three-yard run after the Golden Cranes methodically marched 69 yards in nine plays.

Not satisfied with a 39-0 lead, the visitors struck a final time. Don Hollins, in one play, did the damage. He ran back a Stanton punt 65 yards for a touchdown, advancing Crane's margin of victory to 45-0.

Loyd now has the job of putting his team back together, both physically and mentally. Colorado City will be a rugged test. The following week Ozona comes to Stanton for a "must" game. Ozona is winless this season and the loser will probably gain the 5-AA collar spot an unenviable position. A Buff defeat could be even more humiliating since it will be Stanton's homecoming game.

GARDEN CITY — The rambling Borden County Coyotes knocked the Garden City Bearcats out of the running for the District 3-B eight-man football flag by winning a 42-24 decision here Friday night.

The Coyotes experienced a 20-point third period to swing the issue their way.

The game was practically all offense. Gail's ability to hit on passes ruined Garden City's hopes.

The Coyotes counted twice in the opening period on drives of 63 and 38 yards. An 18-yard pass from Rick Hendley to Jimmy Hodge produced the first score, after which Joe Harding ran the ball into the end zone for the two extra points.

Robert Sorrells executed an end around play that produced Gail's second tally, the play covering 31 yards. Hendley then passed to Hodge for two more points.

Garden City pulled back into contention with two touchdowns in the second. The Kats powered their way 53 yards for their first score and Floyd Schwartz got it on a two-yard bolt. Garden City failed to convert, however.

Schwartz again scored on a three-yard jaunt before the half was out, at the end of a 51-yard surge. Garden City again failed to convert, however, and went to the dressing room trailing, 16-12.

Gail broke the game wide open in the third with three touchdowns. A pass from Hendley to Hodge, good for 37 yards, produced the first TD of the round. Gail moved 48 yards following a punt for the tally.

Harding then broke loose for 70 yards and a score on a dive play to widen the gap. The development occurred after the Coyotes had been moved back 15 yards for a major infraction.

Garden City got back into the scrap when Kenneth Chandler gathered in the following kickoff That made it 28-18, Gail, but and ran 72 yards to pay dirt. The try for point failed.

The Coyotes all but salted away the decision before the period ended when Hendley passed 30 yards to Hodge at the end of a 54-yard march. Harding ran across the two extra points to make it 36-18.

The teams scored matching touchdowns in the fourth. Gail got on the board first on a three-yard run by Hendley, at the end of a 60-yard drive.

Garden City retaliated with a 43-yard scoring pass from Steve Hirt to Chandler. That march covered 48 yards.

The defeat left Garden City with a 4-3 record. The Bearcats will be idle the coming week. Score by quarters:

Abilene Routs Lee's Rebels

ABILENE — The Abilene High Eagles earned its third District 3-4A football victory here Friday night with a resounding 56-19 pasting of luckless Midland Lee.

It was the Eagles substitutes who inflicted most of the damage against Lee, although the regulars also played an important role in the rout.

Substitute back Lorenzo Bell scored a pair of touchdowns to pace the Eagle attack and substitute quarterback Dan Edwards threw 52 yards to Don Brown for a touchdown, besides kicking six extra points.

Full House Lauds Play

By PHILIP STEPHENS
On Thursday night, "All My Sons" opened to full house of nearly 100 persons and received favorable comments from all who attended about its tense drama and suspense.

The arena staging allowed audiences to capture full force, the deep emotions underlying the play. Audience response was good after each act, but after the middle of the second act, in particular, the audience seemed glued to the edge of their seats, in anticipation of the next line.

Dan Shockey's debut as play director at HCJC seemed successful indeed. Gaining nationwide academic recognition with its annual geology trip to Big Bend National Park, the campus Rocco Rocco Hamma Club made its return, weary and worn late Sunday evening. The large delegation was composed of the following students: Archie J. Adkins, Charles R. Branton, Michael Evans, Patrick Ferrell, E. Ray Gaines, Teddy J. Griffin, Gerald L. Harris, William R. Henry, Daniel M. Jarrell, Jane L. Lusk, David Lyle, Marion D. McMains Jr., Neil McMorries, Arlie R. Moore, Don Prescott, Earl T.

Reefes, Devvie S. Roemisch, Russell P. Rutledge, Bill H. Schwarzenbach, Donald E. Swaim, David S. Talbot, Robert G. Thompson, Kent Vickery, Charles S. Voight Jr., Stephen D. Williams, Edward C. Wisenbaker. The sponsor was Mr. E. Lee Thackery.

"The trip featured lectures at various scenic stops along the way, and we toured many of the areas of geological interest in the park," explained Mr. Thackery.

This Wednesday, Oct. 29, "HCJC Presents" will feature the business administration and Dean Box, head of the department.

Organizational plans were laid for the Creative Writing Club last Friday at activity period, revealed Mrs. Susan King, sponsor of the club. The first major meeting is scheduled this coming Friday week, during activity period.

Mrs. King went on to explain that in the past the club has put out a literary magazine in the spring, using poems, essays, fiction, and drama submitted by the students.

Each spring, the Creative Writing Club also sponsors a contest, with engraved plaques as prizes, for categories in essays, drama, fiction and poems. Only college students will be eligible.

Robert C. Deming, 2608 Rebecca, is one of 23 Texas Tech University students who have been awarded Air Force ROTC Financial Assistance Grants for the current academic year.

Coahoma pledges are Herman E. Greenfield, son of Mrs. Freda Y. Greenfield of Coahoma, and Mike Duane Hinsley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon R. Hinsley, 401 N. First.

The Student Council also decided to build a cement patio outside the high school building. This will provide a place for students to go during the lunch hour.

Nine weeks tests were taken Oct. 17 and 18 and report cards were handed out Thursday, Oct. 23.

The honor roll was also posted Thursday. Seniors making the honor roll were Alvis Ashley, Leslie Woods, Molly McKinney, Jan Stout and Dick Stout. Juniors were Dicky Stone, Jackie Wolfe and Stanley Lowe.

Members of OEA will meet Monday night at 7:30. The purpose of this meeting will be to work on their homecoming float.

Picture sales ended Thursday, Oct. 23. The annuals will go off sale Wednesday, Oct. 29. Everyone who has not yet purchased an annual but plans to should bring their money to one of the annual staff members as soon as possible.

Junior high football and pep squad pictures will be taken Friday, Oct. 31.

A pep rally was held at noon Thursday to promote spirit for the B team who plays Stanton.

GOLIAD Permanent Squad-Leaders Selected

By JILL RHYMES
Permanent squad leaders selected for the pep squad are Le Ann Brazel and Caki Campbell from the seventh grade, Patti Lyons and Frances Sanchez from the eighth grade.

Money from the pep squad cookie sale begun last week will go toward the purchase of pompons.

The Goliad, Runnels and high school band members are selling aerosol spray fire extinguishers for $2.95 each. The proceeds will go into the general Band Booster fund.

Nine weeks exams will be given Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The schedule for the exams will be as follows: Tuesday, 1st and 4th period exams; Wednesday, 3rd and 6th period exams; and Thursday, 2nd and 5th period exams. Report cards will be distributed Wednesday week.

During a Halloween assembly on the 31st, the 1st and 2nd period seventh grade choir classes will put on skits. There will also be a ghost choir.

The 2nd period speech class will present a skit at the pep rally next Thursday. The skit is entitled "School Spirit Takes All Kinds."

There is one new student this week. She is Patricia Padron, an eighth grader.

By BEVERLY HARTLEY
Preparation for Homecoming came to a halt Friday evening. The homecoming float was finished Wednesday evening by the pep squad. All arrangements for the senior supper were made early in the week. The pep squad voted on the three candidates for Mr. Bearkat. The pep squad practiced the homecoming routine Thursday night. Another final and short practice was held Friday afternoon during fourth period. This short practice was held on the football field.

Candidates for Mr. Bearkat were Steven Hirt, Larry Wheat and Floyd Schwartz. Judy Ann Halfmann was escorted by Larry Wheat, Beverly Hartley was escorted by Floyd Schwartz and Cathy Batla was escorted by Steven Hirt.

The homecoming float was a large red heart on the side of the float with "G.C." in big, black letters inside it. The float was equipped with a large, black and white football in the center of the float. It also had red and black streamers all around the float and also pompons on the sides.

Becky Reynolds, the pep squad vice president, crowned Mr. Bearkat. Millie Christie, cheerleader, carried the sweetheart crown. Cecelia Seidenberger, cheerleader carried the Mr. Bearkat helmet. # The 1970 VW will stay ugly longer.

Just what hath Volkswagen wrought this year? A longer-lasting engine, that's what.

It's more powerful than the old engine. (Top speed: 81 mph vs. 78 mph.)

It has better acceleration. But most important, it doesn't have to work as hard to get you where you're going.

Thus, according to every calculation known to man, it will last even longer.

And just to make sure the engine and every other VW part leads a long, happy life, we have another surprise for 1970:

The Volkswagen Diagnostic Checkup. Now before the name scares you away, listen to what it is:

VW Diagnosis is an exclusive service checkup by specially trained technicians using specially made diagnostic equipment. The equipment is faster and more thorough than any mechanic alive. It's so advanced, it can actually tell you you have a problem early, before it becomes a real problem.

For instance, let's say the resistance in one of your spark plug wires is too high.

Nothing serious, but it could reduce your gas mileage and eventually foul up your spark plugs.

During a Diagnostic Checkup, our equipment can find and we can fix this problem in a matter of minutes.

When you buy a new VW, you're entitled to four of these advanced checkups free.

What could be a better deal than that?

You buy a bug. We take care of the bugs.

Quotable Quotes

By The Associated Press
 Some quotable quotes from women during the week:
 "I don't think all the jumping and carrying on is going to help. We should find a solution to the war, but in the meantime, we ought to support what our boys are doing for us."—Hazel Slick, 56-year-old grandmother who believes antiwar protests do more harm than good and bakes pies so she can buy gifts for the GIs.

"I am very happy to be a Caltech professor. As to being the first woman professor, that is a derivative pleasure. I consider myself primarily a professor and only incidentally a novelty."—Jenijoy La Belle, 26-year-old English professor, on becoming the first woman to join the faculty at traditionally all-male California Institute of Technology.

"I've had to learn to walk like a state trooper and stand like a soldier. But getting to travel around Georgia is enjoyable."—Mrs. Lester Maddox on her life as wife of Georgia's governor.

"We were quite surprised."—Mrs. Alfred D. Hershey reacting to the news that her husband had been named one of three scientists to win the Nobel Prize for physiology and medicine.

"Women also naturally are being readied for such prolonged space flights—all the more so because men cannot be left alone for a long time even in space, otherwise there would not be order about them."—Soviet cosmonaut Valentina Tereshkova, the world's only female space traveler, speaking at the congress of the World Federation of Trade Unions.

"Comedy isn't a quality that attracts men. In fact, by and large they resent a funny woman—one reason why there are so few comedienne."—Comedienne Phyllis Diller, in an interview.

Miss Sawyers Weds James Ed Wilkerson

MRS. JAMES ED WILKERSON

Miss Mary Kathryn Sawyers became the bride of James Ed Wilkerson Jr. Saturday evening in the First Baptist Church in Garden City, with the Rev. Calvin Wiley of the First Assembly of God Church in Pasadena, Tex., serving as officiant.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Olive D. Fry of Spur and Leonard Schafer of Coahoma. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Wilkerson Sr., 2207 Johnson.

Mrs. Jack Berry of Big Spring sang "Whither Thou Goest," "The Twelfth Of Never," and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Alton Cook.

The altar was centered with a crescent candelabrum holding votive lights and flanked by large arrangements of gladioli, chrysanthemums and stock. Emerald fern completed the altar setting, and the bridal aisle was marked with tall candelabra entwined in smilax.

The bride was attired in a formal A-line gown of candlelight silk organza, designed with a scoop neckline and long, sheer cuffed sleeves. Re-embroidered lace and seed pearls adorned the bodice, sleeves and center front of the skirt and was repeated on the detachable chapel-length train. Her headpiece was a cap of re-embroidered lace sprays sprinkled with seed pearls from which fell a finger-tip-length veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade bouquet of butterfly roses, stephanotis and white orchids.

Miss Patricia Sawyers, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Danna Werst, Miss Paula Hardy, Miss Gaylene Etchison, and Miss Velma Lee Sherrod. Tammy Joe Sawyers, sister of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. All were attired in formal gowns of peacock blue georgette fashioned with shallow scoop necklines, sheer bishop sleeves accented with narrow cuffs, Empire bodices and column sheath skirts designed with a flowing panel in the back. Their headpieces were sheer braid loops atop a braid bow with brief double veils. They carried nosegays of bronze chrysanthemums backed in matching tulle and showered in satin.

Larry Stroud of Midland was best man. Ushers were Ray Crowell, Monahans, Bill White and Bobby Mealer, both of Big Spring; and Dennis Seidenberger. Craig White of Big Spring was a junior groomsman.

Staci Wilkerson was flower girl, and ring bearers were Donnie Stroud of Midland and Jana Calverley.

'File Accurately,' Says HD Speaker

"A business office is not the only place where papers and records need to be filed," said Mrs. Gerald Miller when she spoke to the College Park Home Demonstration Club at Tuesday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Melvin Brown, Sand Springs.

Mrs. Miller, assisted by Mrs. Aaron Combs, discussed keeping home files up to date. The speakers stressed that bills should be filed and safe storage provided for wills, insurance policies, stocks and bonds. They emphasized that papers concerned with running a home should be kept in current order and filed in special storage places for income tax purposes and other records.

Plans were discussed for the Howard County home demonstration club exhibit and luncheon today at First United Methodist Church.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

For a change, one day, I thought of cutting out tiny biscuits instead of the regular size ones to go with fried chicken and so many cream-gravy dishes.

My husband loved them and said they were a big improvement, because there were more crunchy surfaces and that is what he likes best.

Looking for a cutter small enough, I found a small plastic pill bottle and used that. I rolled out my own biscuit recipe and cut with the "pill cutter."

If you are in a hurry, you could use refrigerated biscuits instead of starting from scratch. One biscuit from the packet makes four bite-sized biscuits. Gently squeeze the biscuit dough together as you go around the edge cutting.

There are no trimmings left over this way. The entire biscuit will be used.

For a buffet or a luncheon, I have also rolled these tiny biscuits in Parmesan cheese or onion soup mix. Claire Stanton

Dear Heloise:

When our son was about twelve years old he was always taking his glasses off to wash his face and misplacing them or knocking them off the counter. So my husband attached an old eyeglass case on the wall in the bathroom near the wash basin.

This kept the glasses safe and sound and they were always easily found.

Dear Heloise:

I'm a junior in high school and I would like to share my gift-wrapping idea for your readers.

When I wrap gifts for my friends from school, I use our school newspaper as wrapping paper.

Then I tie it with ribbons (using our school colors). My friends all think this is a real cute idea. Deborah Peters

Dear Heloise:

My husband is always asking me for the telephone numbers of our friends. Sometimes I remember and sometimes I have to refer to our little black book.

More often than not the little black book has been misplaced.

I finally solved that problem with the help of my label maker.

I made label names (shortened versions) and phone numbers for our most often called friends. I struck them right on the case of the wall phone. It would work just as well on the sides of a desk or extension phone.

I also noted the hospital, our doctor, the fire department and the police—all emergency numbers, too.

It's so handy... right before our eyes and never misplaced. Darlene Odell

Keep Cleaners In High Cabinets

When you're handling any potentially harmful chemical cleaning aids, keep them out of reach of children. When finished, store containers in a safe place, preferably a high spot where children cannot get to them.

Debra and Sheryl Williams students at H.C.J.C. are ready to swing with the season in "Butternut Coordinates". These are the ones you can mix and match as your mood changes or your activities. You will love the navy, gold and red colors. Scarf and Tam Set.

New Patriotism Is Noted By Speaker

The American people temporarily forgot the war in Vietnam and were united in the hope for universal peace," said Mrs. S. R. Nobles in discussing "A New Patriotism" at Friday's meeting of the Modern Woman's Forum. The group met in the home of Mrs. Hugh Duncan, 1800 Tucson.

Mrs. Nobles was referring to the space flight of the Apollo 11 and the landing on the moon. She read an article, "The American Spirit," by Tom Anderson, and Mrs. W. E. Moran reported on "A Man Who Believed In America." Her talk was based on the life of the late Dwight D. Eisenhower.

A contribution was made by the club to the Western District of Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for the name of Mrs. Hugh Duncan, past president of the club, to be inscribed in the "Golden Book" in Austin.

Mrs. W. A. Laswell reported on the Western District leadership conference held Oct. 21-22 in Marfa. Others attending were Mrs. Mary Brown and Mrs. Nobles.

The Halloween motif was used in the decorations and refreshments.

A LOVELIER YOU Fashion Mufflers Are Must For Fall

By MARY SUE MILLER

The way chiffon scarfs wrapped Isadora, yards and yards of mufflers wrap winter fashions. Every designer, the lot of them, muffles up everything from rugged pantsuits to mink maxi coats — in everything from schoolboy knits to matching materials and esoteric furs.

Combinations are often unpredictable and great fun. A checked tweed suit, for instance, muffles up in a boa of raccoon (shades of grandma's attic). Leather-fringed mink swishes around the shoulders of a midl leather coat. Black velvet "smokings" team with the wool tartans of the Highlands.

It seems that designers vie to produce the longest mufflers. Some run to 10 feet and that's a lot of muffler. For petites, lengths are modified to six feet and less. Widths are on the boa side or just a little fuller.

However sized, the effect with day clothes is all breeze and dash. In the evening it's sure pow. Except, of course, a wearer is muffled to the strangling point. Again, page Isadora.

Deft wearing calls for high, soft draping across the throat and a twist or loop at one side that flips the ends to front and back. Of an evening with fancy pants, mufflers sometimes muffle the hips. You just sling yours around and loop it to the side. Of course, if it happens to be of the 10-foot ilk, it will trail like a train. Well and good.

unless it's like white mink.

LSD 'Trips' Described By John Kegerries

"You only have to take LSD once to have a 'good' trip or a 'bad' trip, and you may have recurring trips six months later from the same dosage," said John Kegerries, staff psychologist at Big Spring State Hospital, speaking at Thursday's meeting of the TOPS Pound Rebels in the First Federal Community Room.

"LSD was first derived from a wheat fungus called ergot," said Kegerries. "The effects of taking a 'trip' depend much on the emotional makeup of the person taking LSD. Those people who have troubled minds or problems have them brought immediately to the forefront."

He emphasized that the drug is used for mental health problems after doctors have studied a patient's emotional and physical background, and that good effects have been achieved through the use of the drug with proper supervision.

Mrs. K. C. Webb presided, and Mrs. W. C. McCutchen led the pledge. Mrs. Robert Doe received a badge for a ten-pound weight loss, and Mrs. John Sevey won the bowl of fruit. The club reported a total weight loss of 33 pounds.

The next meeting will be Thursday at 7:30 p.m. in the First Federal Community Room.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Some wives of striking husbands in Nottingham, England, and some garbage collectors in Santiago, Chile, while very far apart geographically, are pretty close when it comes down to the nitty-gritty of pressing a point.

Having wearied of days of no money for food and other necessities, the housewives went on a strike themselves. They did no cooking, no housecleaning, no washing or ironing for their husbands... the garbage collectors simply drove their odorous trucks around the buildings housing the government officials, just like in the covered wagon days in the old west.

I have no idea how long either of the groups held out but I'd be willing to say it would concentrate a lot of thought in either instance.

The happy occasion of the engagement of TERRY JO O'BRIEN to FOY HENSON Thursday brought together a number of good friends and many oldtimers. It was nice to have a visit with MRS. LINA FLEWELLEN who has recently moved back here from Dallas... She's enjoying being back with her longtime friends but she misses the activity of the city. MRS. C. W. HEAD who lived here for several years when Col. Head was on the staff at Webb, was back for a visit with pilot trainee son, Bill Jr., and saw a number of friends at the tea. She had been in Lubbock to spend DEDE's birthday with her and spent four days in a Tech dormitory with her daughter. She also visited MRS. CHAMP RAINWATER in Lubbock. Here she was the houseguest of MRS. HORACE GARRETT. The Heads are presently at Randolph AFB in San Antonio.

DR. and MRS. W. E. DROKE who live in Albuquerque, N.M., have passed on the happy news that they have adopted another child, a boy, WILLIAM RUSSELL, who was born on Oct. 13. The couple brought him to their home on Oct. 21. Mrs. Droke is the former KATHY McREE.

The couple's little girl, Amy, is 18 months of age. The grandparents, MR. and MRS. W. T. McREE plan to wait until the weekend to go to Albuquerque to see the new baby and to attend his christening which will be on Nov. 2.

Congratulations to MR. and MRS. BIRT STEVENS who are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary today. We feel a closeness to this couple because they now reside in the house we outgrew on Dixie Street.

Good friends got together here last week when some were guests of relatives and others were houseguests of friends.

DR. and MRS. JOHN HATCH of Corpus Christi were here to visit his sister, MRS. ROBERT T. PINER, and other relatives and at the same time MRS. MALCOLM PATTERSON's sister, MISS WILLIE HOLLAND of Tulsa, Okla., was a guest in the Patterson home. The Patterson's entertained for the group and included, among others, MISS NELL BROWN and her houseguests, MRS. LUCILE BRADY of Fort Worth and MRS. HILDA CALHOUN of Jackson, Miss. Mrs. Hatch, Mrs. Calhoun and Miss Brown

The theme of the week will be "Let the Earth Bring Forth," from Genesis 1:24, emphasizing the need to feed the hungry.

The day is sponsored by the Women's Division, Board of Missions, United Methodist Church. The division, one of four major units of the board, is the national body through which local women's societies and guilds function.

The WM. S. TALBOTS are happy to have their son, REX, home on furlough from the US Navy. His furlough lasts until Oct. 30.

In Lubbock this weekend to visit friends are MR. and MRS. ROY GRANBERY and their children.

GEORGE W. DABNEY JR. flew in from California Friday to spend the weekend with his parents, MR. and MRS. G. W. DABNEY. "Mayor" Dabney, incidentally, is making a recovery from his serious illness a couple of years ago and is getting around under his own power.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Kopp, 1008 Briarwood Blvd., Arlington, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Bernice Ellen, to John B. Mott. The wedding will be held Dec. 6 in the Vandergriff Chapel of First Methodist Church in Arlington. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Mott of Stanton.

Wedding Solemnized In Catholic Church

Wedding vows were solemnized for Miss Lydia Munoz Martinez and Manuel Chabarria Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the Sacred Heart Catholic Church. The Rev. James Delaney performed the ceremony before an altar centered with an arch entwined with ivy and flanked with pedestals holding fern. The altar vase held arrangements of gladioli.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Martinez, 2208 S. Monticello, and Mr. and Mrs. Domingo Chabarria of Pecos.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of peat de sole designed with an Empire bodice of scalloped lace accented with a high-rise collar. The A-line skirt and chapel-length train were enhanced with scalloped lace, and her veil of silk illusion fell from a petal headpiece adorned with seed pearls, crystal and lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations encircling white roses.

Mrs. Edward Martinez Jr., Abilene, was matron of honor, and Mrs. Ramon Montez Jr. of Fort Worth was bridesmatron. Miss Ruth Almanza of Abilene was a bridesmaid. All wore formal lime green gowns with Empire bodices and A-line skirts. They wore green velvet bows with brief veiling as headpieces and carried long-stemmed yellow roses.

Edward Martinez Jr., Abilene, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were Ramon Montez Jr., Fort Worth; and Gilbert Chavarria of California.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College and Hardin-Simmons University. She graduated from Hendrick Memorial Hospital School of Nursing and has been a registered nurse at Hendrick Memorial Hospital. The bridegroom is a graduate of Pecos High School and served three years in the Air Force. He is employed as a jet engine mechanic at General Dynamics in Fort Worth.

A reception was held in the Sacred Heart Youth Center. The refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink linen and centered with an arrangement of white carnations encircled by candles. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with miniature bridal figurines, and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Those in the house party were Miss Matilda Martinez and Miss

Maria Isabel Martinez, sisters of the bride.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Alfonso Villela, Pecos; Mr. and Mrs. Alfredo Martinez, Midland; Miss Marsha Mallouf and Miss Jo Baldwin, both of Abilene; Mrs. Manuel Almanza, Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Martinez, Lubbock; and Mr. and Mrs. Cruz Dominguez of Irving.

Mr. and Mrs. Chabarria left on a wedding trip, and for traveling, the bride chose a Navy blue A-line dress accented with yellow French cuffs and matching collar. The couple will be at home in Fort Worth.

Weight Must Be Controlled, But Avoid 'Miracle Diets'

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
County HD Agent

It seems that just about any newspaper or magazine you pick up these days will have some type of discussion of weight control with an accompanying dietary plan. Even a casual observance of books for sale will reveal that weight loss proves to be a popular subject with authors of books, too.

The emphasis on weight control has been brought about by several reasons, two of these seeming to receive the most attention. One, the concern for one's personal appearance — the cult of the slender, youthful figure has caused many people to embark on a weight control diet. Second, life insurance companies and those in the medical profession have been calling to our attention the correlation between excessive weight and mortality rates.

The public's anxiety about overweight has caused many ill-informed people to promote dozens of so-called "miracle diets." A survey of current periodicals will result in finding numerous advertisements indicating that excessive loss of weight is possible by following a particular plan. Sometimes these diets are given a name that resembles that of a well-known institution. Frequently, a promoter is able to develop some version of a high fat, low carbohydrate diet which sounds scientific enough to be convincing to the average layman.

According to Dr. Philip L. White, director of the Department of Foods and Nutrition of the American Medical Association, and secretary of the AMA Council on Foods and Nutrition, "A frequent result of low-carbohydrate diets is a serious dehydration — that is, a loss of necessary fluids and minerals. This forced dehydration can have serious consequences for people with kidney and liver diseases, undiagnosed diabetes and certain heart conditions — to mention a few examples."

Generally, overweight is simply the result of eating more food than the body needs. Habit is a strong factor. Some families always include more rich foods in daily menus and some individuals develop the habit of eating mainly high calorie foods. Studies show that boredom and dissatisfaction are often the cause for overeating. Whatever the reason for overeating may be, an honest self-appraisal will help set a plan for action that will get results.

A good reducing diet is a conventional, balanced meal plan, with the extra calories eliminated. Keep in mind this principle: No food is fattening. Any food eaten to excess will cause weight gain, but no simple food has the unique property of being fattening when it is eaten in reasonable amounts as part of the day's food intake. The oft-repeated statement, "starches, potatoes, and bread are fattening," is simply not true. It is what we do to these foods that may cause them to be offenders.

The best way to lose weight, and keep it off, is to base the reduction diet on a meal pattern that will provide good nutrition during the weight loss period and remain as the basis for normal eating once the desired weight has been lost. Some crash or fad type diets may result in some weight loss, but that weight is usually regained as soon as the person returns to his old eating habits. The key to maintaining the weight loss is to change eating habits while on the reduction diet.

A good diet plan is one based on the four food groups included in the Food for Fitness Guide. This plan allows literally hundreds of everyday foods to choose from. A plan of this type fits into the budget of the family and allows enough variety so that monotony can be avoided. The adult recommendations for the Food for Fitness Guide include two servings from the meat group each day, two servings from the milk group, four servings from the fruit and vegetable group, and four servings from the bread and cereal group. A diet based on this plan which includes simply prepared foods served in modest amounts will yield about 1,200 calories a day. And, family members who do not need to reduce can eat the same foods, but add extras such as jellies, gravies, fat spread, and desserts in order to increase the calories to fit their needs.

The concern over the use of artificial sweeteners as an aid to lowering calorie consumption has come to the forefront in recent weeks. Our weight-conscious society has increased drastically the use of these sweeteners. With the indications that they may be harmful to health those using cyclamate are being removed from the market that has made them available to the general public. Individuals who have leaned heavily on these sweeteners will need to find some new snacks that are satisfying but low in calories.

Need a low calorie snack idea? Blend one pint cottage cheese, one package of dry onion soup mix, two tablespoons lemon juice. Add enough skim milk to thin to a dip consistency. Prepare raw vegetables such as cauliflower, celery, carrots, turnips with which to dip. The dip will have about 30 calories for two tablespoons.

How serious is overweight? That depends on the individual situation, but studies show that it is definitely a health hazard. It puts an extra burden on the heart and blood vessels as well as the system in general. Overweight is a social handicap at any age, usually affects morale and self-confidence. Normal weight promises greater comfort, better health, longer life and more attractive appearance.

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special) — This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Thousands of copies have been passed from hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S.

Because this diet really works. We have testimonials reporting on its success. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. No weight loss in the first four days but you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter lose one pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pangs. Revised and enlarged, this diet lets you stuff yourself with formerly "forbidden" foods, such as steaks trimmed with fat, roast or fried chicken, gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon, fats, sausages and scrambled eggs and still lose weight. The secret behind this "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger"), to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose slightly fat and excess body fluids. A copy of this startling successful diet can be obtained by sending $2 to

Citrus Diet Plan

Money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, another 6 pounds in the next 7 days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth.

Texan's Stay In Australia Basis For A Readable Book

By PAUL BOLTON

For stay-at-homes, the magic phrase "Land Down Under" conjures up images of the koala, the kangaroo and the kookaburra, the platypus and the wallaby. Anne Metcalfe Clark was pretty much of a stay-at-home until her husband, Edward A. Clark, was named ambassador to Australia in mid-1965. For the next two and one-half years Mrs. Clark through letters shared her own delight in Australia with her family and friends. Now, the University of Texas Press has put those letters into a book, called "Australian Adventure." In hard covers those letters seem today as fresh and vital as when first they were written.

THEY HAD AN 'AUSTRALIAN ADVENTURE' Mr. and Mrs. Edward A. Clark

EXCEEDS TRAVELOGUE "Australian Adventure" is far more than a travelogue. It reflects the emergence of a new, Texas-style diplomacy — from the first day when Mrs. Clark accompanied the ambassador from the residence to the chancery for the first meeting with his staff — "To give him some support, as Jack Benny had Rochester for a straight man" — to that time some 400,000 miles later when the Clarks were "farewelled."

When they left Washington, the Clarks had been told by President Johnson: "Be yourselves." "Australian Adventure" is a rollicking record of how the Clarks were themselves, all the way from the diplomatic dinners and ballrooms in Canberra, the capital city, to the back country home of the aborigines.

TOOK OUT SIGNS One of the ambassador's first acts was to personally pull up the "no trespassing" and "private" staked signs which dotted the lawns and driveways of the embassy. These properties, he declared, belong to the people of America. Doors were opened, particularly to all visiting Americans, but certainly not limited to them. During a Red Cross benefit tour, so many hundreds of visitors came that the Clarks were told jokingly by other diplomats that they might be expelled from the ambassador's Union for over-exposure.

To get to know the people of Australia the Clarks travelled to every corner of the sub-continent. And wherever he went, the ambassador carried with him a visible reminder of his beginnings — a yellow rose in his jacket lapel. During their stay, "The Yellow Rose of Texas" vied in popularity with "Waltzing Matilda."

SUSTAINING HISTORY That the Clarks won affection and esteem by being themselves is attested in a brief foreword to the book by Dame Zara Holt, widow of the late prime minister. She refers to "one of America's most beloved Ambassadors," and adds: "I would like to congratulate Anne on keeping alive a little piece of history." Beyond the exposition of a new diplomacy, "Australian Adventure" captures the sense of wonder which has drawn Americans to far-away places. Mrs. Clark's second letter home spoke of "a new world, a new climate, even a new language"

Carnival Planned

Cub Scout Pack 236 has scheduled a Halloween carnival Tuesday at the old Midway School from 6:30-9:30 p.m. Events will include a cake walk, fishing pond, dart throw, ring toss, baseball throw and apple bobbing, and food will be available.

new flowers and birds, animals, even new stars." She wrote her daughter Leila Wynn: "Canberra is a clean, green, spread-out city... the surrounding hills, the Snowy Mountains foothills... like a cup rimmed with mountains; the glow is pink, not the violet crown of Austin. The weather (in August) is like one of our dry, crisp winter days. The oak trees have turned brown but the leaves do not fall."

LIVE LIKE KINGS As for her first impression of the diplomatic life, she wrote a close friend, the late Allan Duckworth of the Dallas News: "Every night we eat by candlelight, and have finger bowls even for breakfast, Kings and Queens cannot live better." Speaking of having to curtsy at the first formal visit to Australia's Government House, she said: "I feel that neither life on the old plantation nor handshaking at an East Texas political graveyard working equipped me for the gesture."

Nor did Mrs. Clark ever forget

Denied Aid May Be Paid

AUSTIN (AP) — Retroactive Texas welfare benefits may be paid to 403 persons who were denied aid because of a one-year residence requirement the U.S. supreme court ruled unconstitutional.

The state Welfare Department is mailing certified letters to the last known address of each of the 403 persons. A San Antonio federal court allotted the department 120 days to investigate the cases to determine how much may be due in back benefits.

No estimate of the amount of money involved can be made until the 120 days are up, said Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney.

Anyone who has not contacted the department within the 120-day period will no longer be considered entitled to back benefits.

Aid to dependent children benefits could be paid back to March 1, 1968, when a San Antonio federal court issued an injunction in a Texas case. Other categories of assistance could be paid as far back as April 21, 1969, the day of the Supreme Court's residence ruling.

visit to a war memorial, she wrote Mrs. Wynn: "Your father had to buy a Homburg. Those light Texas Stetsons won't do with striped pants, and he must wear a hat in order to remove it when he lays a wreath on the war memorial."

The Clarks entertained more than 2,000 persons at the embassy; and names of notables are sprinkled through the book: steelman Roger Blough, banker George Moore, Alcoa's John Harper, Ford's Arjay Miller, actor Charlton Heston; Averill Harriman, Richard Nixon, Hubert Humphrey; such well known Texans as John Murchison, Gus Wortham, Houston Harte, Ralph Yarborough, Harlan Fentress, Dillon Anderson — and the Odessa junior chamber of commerce, to select a few almost at random.

DIPLOMACY IN ORDER Diplomatic occasions are conducted by inflexible rules and with minute timing. The student of government will find a small gold mine in several diplomatic timetables included as an appendix: The visit to Australia of the Queen Mother; the visit of President Johnson and the precise protocol governing the presentation of his credentials by the new ambassador.

One who read the original letters has suggested that "Australian Adventure" is a veritable textbook on the care and feeding of ambassadors and how to mold diplomats into beloved Americans instead of ugly Americans. As such, it would be well to place a copy in the hands of every newly appointed ambassador's wife. State Department please note.

HUMOR INCLUDED Humor bubbles from the pages. Introduced to the embassy staff, Mrs. Clark was delighted to learn that for the first time, she had the services of a private plumber. Prior to a 'HEIRONYMUS MERKIN' — Connie Kreski, Anthony Merkin, Joan Collins.

Erotic Comedy To Open Wednesday

With complete film-making virtuosity, Anthony Newley not only stars, produces and directs "Can Heironymus Merkin Ever Forget Mercy Humppe and Find True Happiness?", but also authored the screenplay and wrote the music for the nine songs in the picture. What results is a hilarious erotic comedy with music.

Also starring Joan Collins and Milton Berle and co-starring Bruce Forsyth, Stubby Kaye and George Jessel, the release in Technicolor comes Wednesday to the Cinema Theatre. Garnering 10 pages in color in the March, 1969 "Playboy," that magazine on its cover calls it "The wackiest, sexiest film yet."

The story is a movie within a movie. Newley plays an intro-spective film singing idol who relives his part-real, part-illusory past, drawing on strange characters to people the past as well as lovelies who line up as Heironymus plucks them one by one. Berle is his satanic agent, named Good Time Eddie Filth, who lures him into his career of ardent desire, and Jessel, as the Presence of death, occasionally materializes and then pops out to spout shaggy jokes as pointless parables. Newley takes both him and Berle to task in the final reel, spouting a parable of his own to Jessel, and ignoring the urgings of Berle.

Miss Collins, as she is in reality, plays Newley's wife, and their actual children, Tara, four-year old daughter, and Sascha, two-year old son, serve as the audience along with grandpa, witnessing the biographical movie-fantasy within a movie. Herman Raucher collaborated on the screenplay.

With lyrics by Herbert Kretzner, Newley performs six of the nine hit songs he wrote for the picture. The dance numbers, choreographed by Johnny Greenland, range from the old time English music hall, as exemplified by Forsyth in the early part of the story, to the beautiful, almost psychedelic Astrolgal Ballet.

Astroworld Slates More Grad Nights

Astroworld's second annual "Grad Nite" celebrations, offering special arrangements for graduating high school seniors, will be on two Friday nights next Spring — May 1 and May 8.

Astroworld will be open exclusively to seniors and their dates from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. on these nights with special music for dancing. All regular Astroworld adventures, which have been popular with teenagers, also will be available.

Groups of 30 or more purchasing Grad Nite tickets in advance will get a $3 per person rate. Tickets will be sold at the gate each of these nights to seniors at $3.50 each.

All food and refreshment facilities in Astroworld will be open. Alcoholic beverages are not sold on the premises of Astroworld and will not be permitted to be brought into Astroworld.

Grad Nite advance ticket order forms, which will be available to all schools in Texas, Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Mississippi, must be returned to: Red Carpet Service, P.O. Box 288, Houston, Texas 77001, no later than April 25 for the May 8 celebration, and April 18, for the May 1 get-together.

Special rates of $4.50 per person (4 to a room) will be available at the Astroworld Hotels-Motels next to Astroworld and the Astrodome. Tickets to Astros baseball games in the Astrodome on nights before or after the Friday dates will be available at $3.50, $2.50, and $1.50, the National League schedule permitting.

Last year's first Grad Nite ceremonies included students from 43 schools in Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas. Music was provided by the Fun & Games, the Sound Investment, and the Over the Border Brass.

Lubbock Reporter Irish, 47, Dies

LUBBOCK (AP) — Lubbock Avalanche-Journal courthouse reporter Kenneth Irish, 47, died Thursday night in a hospital where he had been a patient for a month.

The Lubbock newsman, who had received numerous academic honors as a student, had been a reporter for the Avalanche-Journal nearly 13 years.

He had worked for newspapers in Galveston, Bryan and Lufkin before coming here in January, 1957.

'IF IT'S TUESDAY...' — Ian McShane and Suzanne Pleshette.

'Light Touch' Lands Her Starring Role In Film

When you're in the movies you never can tell who's watching you! Take the case of lovely Suzanne Pleshette.

Drama was her forte. Her roles on the New York stage in "Compulsion," "The Cold Wind and The Warm," "Two For the Seesaw" and "The Miracle Worker" were hailed by the critics as small masterpieces of the tragedienne's art. When she got into pictures she drew similar praise for her parts in "Rome Adventure" and Alfred Hitchcock's "The Birds." But then came "40 Pounds of Trouble." And somebody was watching.

Nothing was done about it however, until noted TV and film producer David L. Wolper decided to make his comedy of American tourists "doing" Europe, "If It's Tuesday," which opens Friday at the State Theatre in Color by DeLuxe. Because it needed the light touch Wolper named Margulies to produce it and then Margulies remembered Miss Pleshette, whose light touch he had admired.

As a result Miss Pleshette shares top stellar honors in the new comedy with Ian McShane, described as a newcomer to the big time scene. Co-starring support is by Mildred Natwick, Murray Hamilton, Michael Constantine, Norman Fell and Sandy Baron, with a number of surprise "cameo" roles played by some of the biggest names in Hollywood.

Miss Pleshette is a native New Yorker who attended that city's famed High School of the Performing Arts where she was early singled out as an exceptional talent. She went on to Finch College to master the thespian's craft and would have entered the Broadway stage upon graduation had her elders not insisted upon her completing — or at least obtaining a grounding in, a classic education.

Eastwood Has Pace Change

It first became evident in the most unexpected of places — the Austrian Alps. Clint Eastwood, the erstwhile pride of the prairies, had discarded his trusty steed. His boots and saddle, his poncho and western hat were put in limbo. So was his six-shooter. The lanky star had traded in the lot after seven years as TV's "Rawhide" star and his three "Dollar" movies.

But he figured he made a good swap. He now stars with Richard Burton and Mary Ure in the most important, highest-budgeted picture in his career, "Where Eagles Dare" at the Jet Drive-In starting tonight. An adventure movie in the epic scale, it casts Eastwood as a rugged American Ranger, assigned to an Allied team led by Burton on an incredible mission behind World War II enemy lines.

Its filming became an adventure in itself for the stars. In violent Alpine weather that included blizzards and avalanches they often found themselves emoting in sub-zero temperatures and howling winds that drowned out their dialogue.

On more than one occasion the camera froze. Another had to be hauled to the location site by sled across vast stretches of snow.

MIDNIGHT COWBOY — Dustin Hoffman and Jon Voight (right) star in the film that was partially put in the "can" in Big Spring, Stanton and Midland. The film continues at the Ritz all this week.

Campbell Appears In His First Movie

It must be fairly difficult by now to surprise Glen Campbell. The country's newest singing sensation has been around and knows the score. If he wanted to, Campbell certainly could rest on his laurels.

Born in Delight, Ark., Campbell was a musical child prodigy. By the time he was 15, he was playing in bands and his career has moved steadily upward since then. He conquered the medium of television, beginning by appearing as the Smothers Brothers summer replacement, but so popular that he soon had his own regular show.

What was left? Why the "movies," of course. And now, even that has come to pass — and his is no ordinary film debut.

Campbell was signed for a starring role in "True Grit," film version of the best-selling novel by Charles Portis. Campbell plays a Texas Ranger named La Boeuf who helps a 14-year-old Arkansas girl track down her father's murderer in 1880.

Campbell may have thought he was through with surprises by the time filming was completed, but producer Wallis had more in store for him. Wallis signed him up for another starring role in Paramount's forthcoming "Norwood," also based on a book by Charles Portis.

"True Grit," which opens Wednesday at the Jet Theatre, stars Campbell, John Wayne and Kim Darby. The film was produced in Technicolor.

Crown Queen Amidst Jeers

CARBONDALE, Ill. (AP) — The homecoming queen-elect was left holding the crown amidst the cheers and jeers of 2,000 students Thursday night after her predecessor refused to crown her.

Joan Agin, a 26-year-old divorcee from Fairfield, Ill., was crowned queen of Southern Illinois University by one of her attendants as hecklers protested the legality of her election.

Moments before, retiring queen Shellah Goldsmith handed Miss Agin the crown and said, "Do with it what you wish."

"This has been a most unbelievable week," Miss Agin said in brief coronation remarks. "I've never seen such examples of hate on this campus."

She said earlier that she had become the target of a smear campaign because of her marital status.
