GUERRILLA CASUALTY OF BATTLE WITH LEBANESE — One of the guerrillas killed during an attack against a government-held stronghold at the mountain village of Rashaya, is carried away Wednesday by Lebanese troops. According to a government communique, a strong guerrilla force tried to occupy the outskirts of the village but it was fought off by Lebanese forces. House Leaders Cancel Draft Reform Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to open up President Nixon's draft lottery plan for a sweeping Selective Service overhaul stretched into a second day today after nervous House leaders abruptly canceled a Wednesday night vote.

Dissidents said the delay gave Nixon and House leaders time to line up votes needed to restrict House action to the lottery plan only.

"It's a long time between (Wednesday night and this afternoon) if the President really wants to move in and work on them," said Rep. Richard Bolling, D-Mo.

The drive to open up the lottery bill for rewriting the entire draft act on the House floor was assumed headed for easy defeat until the vote was called off in a surprise turnabout by House leaders Wednesday night.

They reportedly believed they had the votes to defeat the move even though many congressmen had left for the night—but were unsure enough to delay the vote until nearly all members would be on hand.

Bolling charged during House debate the prohibition against broad draft reform was contrived to force Congress to turn its responsibility for writing Selective Service laws over to Nixon.

But Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., promised his House Armed Services Committee will take up broad draft revision next year. He said the lottery plan alone was being put to Congress now only because of Nixon's strong request for it.

Bolling's forces have said their draft proposals could be approved by the House in a week to 10 days.

Their amendments range from repeal of the draft except in time of declared war to eliminating college deferments in time of war.

A complete new draft law proposed by 89 House members would incorporate a lottery plan, exemptions for all conscientious objectors, uniform administrative and appeal policies nationwide and computerization of the draft system.

Nixon's lottery plan is the key to a series of reforms he said he would establish to limit the draft to 19-year-olds and give them advance notice of when and if they are likely to be called.

The lottery would scramble the 365 birthdates for the following year to determine the order of calls.

EGGS TOSSED Nixon Draws Enthusiastic Response

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's return to the political stage for the second straight night drew the large and enthusiastic response any politician would want — except for a couple of eggs tossed his way.

One egg burst on the top of the presidential limousine as Nixon drove up to a Republican rally in Morristown, N.J., Wednesday night, but the chief executive was not hit. At least one other egg hit the automobile carrying his Secret Service boyguards.

While the turnouts for Nixon in the GOP strongholds of Morristown and Hackensack were large and overwhelmingly friendly, he perhaps got a closer look at more antiwar demonstrators than at any time since taking office.

The protesters, gathered in clusters ranging up to several hundred along his route, were highly visible because of the flickering candles.

Nixon, who campaigned in Virginia for Republican gubernatorial candidate Linwood Holt Tuesday night, went to New Jersey to promote the cause of six-term GOP Rep. William T. Cahill. Cahill seeks to be elected Nov. 4 as the state's first Republican governor in 16 years.

Blacks Seize Vassar Building

POUGHKEEPSIE, N.Y. (AP) — A band of black women students at exclusive Vassar College peacefully seized the administration building early today and said the occupation would continue until black demands were met.

"We have stopped the school," a spokesman for the student Afro-American Society declared. The spokesman said there were 59 black students at the school with a student body of 1,600. More than half the blacks occupied the building, she said.

The blacks said the building was occupied because the school administration has not responded to demands for a black studies program and separate black housing.

Vote To Cite FCC Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Commerce Committee voted today to cite Chairman Rosel H. Hyde of the Federal Communications Commission for contempt of Congress for refusing to turn over subpoenaed records in a license renewal case.

The vote was 20 to 13. Rep. Harley O. Staggers (D-W. Va.), committee chairman, said he would discuss scheduling of the contempt citation with House leaders. Asked whether there was any precedent for citing a regulatory agency chairman for contempt, Rep. John E. Moss, (D-Calif.), told reporters:

Personal Tax Break Boost Turned Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee rejected today by a tie 8-8 vote a proposal to increase the personal income tax exemption, Albert Gore, D-Tenn., reported.

It then turned to consideration of other forms of relief for individual income taxpayers.

Gore told reporters that the key vote came on his proposal to raise the personal exemption from the present $600 to $900.

This was a compromise from his original suggestion, which was for a boost to $1,000. Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., the committee chairman, has predicted his panel will vote over-all individual income tax relief approximating the total of $3.2 billion in the House version of the tax legislation.

Nixon administration officials attending the closed-door session strongly opposed any boost in the exemption.

They said it would knock too many taxpayers, 12 million, off the rolls and that a $1,000 exemption costing $12 billion would take far too much revenue from the Treasury.

Gore declared the exemption increase "would provide the tax relief where it is really needed — to the low and middle income taxpayer, particularly with children to educate."

He told the committee 90 percent of the relief from his plan would go to persons with less than $20,000 a year income.

Tie, Gag Negro After Outbursts In Federal Court

CHICAGO (AP) — The prosecutor says he feels like a character from "Alice in Wonderland." A defendant, bound and gagged, shouts muffled words at the jury. A federal judge is repeatedly called a "racist, fascist pig."

Two lawyers have been jailed temporarily. The defendants hold regular noon hour news conferences. A Viet Cong flag, a birthday cake for a defendant and a box of jelly beans have been spread over the defense table.

Fiction? No, it's the U.S. District Court trial of eight men charged with violating the anti-riot provisions of the Civil Rights Act of 1968. Specifically, they are charged with conspiring to cross state lines with the intent to incite riots during last year's Democratic National Convention in Chicago.

The bizarre proceedings that often occur in the large, wood-paneled courtroom on the 23rd floor of the U.S. courthouse frequently begin with a flamboyant entrance by the long-haired defendants.

They arrive in eccentric dress, whispering and giggling.

They embrace Bobby G. Seale, the jailed Black Panther leader.

Wednesday, the spotlight was on Seale, the only defendant not free on bond. He is lodged in the Cook County jail each night on a fugitive warrant from New Haven, Conn., where he is charged with murder.

Since Oct. 22, Seale has sporadically interrupted the trial with demands that he be permitted to conduct his own defense.

His remarks often include calling Judge Julius J. Hoffman "a blatant racist, a racist pig and a racist, fascist pig."

Judge Hoffman, 74, a tiny, wrinkled man with steel-rimmed glasses and a reputation as a law scholar, has just as persistently threatened to have Seale bound and gagged.

It happened Wednesday. Seale was physically restrained by marshals twice during the morning session. When he interrupted the judge at the start of the afternoon session, Judge Hoffman ordered a marshal to take Seale into another room and "deal with him as he should be dealt with."

Minutes later, Seale, managed to a metal folding chair and gagged with a white cloth that flapped over his shoulders like a scarf, was returned to the courtroom.

During arguments between defense lawyer William M. Kunstler and U.S. Atty. Thomas A. Foran, Seale shouted through his gag, "Sit down, Kunstler, you don't represent me!"

Judge Hoffman called a marshal aside and told him the gag wasn't working effectively. A brief recess was called and again Seale was returned to the courtroom in manacles, but this time layers of adhesive tape were added to the gag.

Judge Hoffman explained to the jury of 10 women and two men that the "steps were taken to insure a fair trial."

By the end of the session, Seale had worked the gag loose enough for his muffled demands to be heard. He also rattled the chains against the chair and Judge Hoffman hurriedly excused the jury.

The jury in this trial must be used to this by now.

Arguments between Judge Hoffman and defense lawyers, outbursts by Seale, and antics by other defendants have often sent the jurors scurrying from the courtroom at the judge's order.

During the introduction of the defendants to the jury, Thomas E. Hayden, 30, an architect of the Students For a Democratic Society, stood and shook a clenched fist at the jurors.

"Excuse the jury," Judge Hoffman shouted.

"That was only my usual greeting," Hayden said.

"There will be no fist shaking in this courtroom," Hoffman admonished.

Hoffman has rejected most of the defense motions, including requests for a one-day adjournment for the defendants to participate in Moratorium Day and permission to give Seale a birthday cake.

Arab Guerrillas Attack Lebanon's New Airport

By The Associated Press Arab guerrillas attacked Lebanon's new military airport at Klayat early today, supported by rockets, mortars and artillery fire from nearby Syria, the Lebanese government announced.

Fighting also raged around the mountain town of Rashaya, where government forces were said to have beaten back another guerrilla attack on their outer defenses.

A communique said a strong guerrilla force tried to occupy the village of Aiba, two miles from Rashaya, and the surrounding hills. Newsmen on the scene have reported the guerrillas already occupy Aiba, but the Lebanese army has not admitted this.

The new fighting came amid indications from Cairo that prospects for a peace agreement were improving. An Egyptian spokesman said Egypt had approved Lebanon's proposals for peace with the guerrillas, had agreed to mediate, and had invited guerrilla chief Yassir Arafat to Cairo for peace talks.

At Klayat, in north Lebanon about three miles from the Syrian border, the guerrillas were driven off after a 90-minute gun fight and suffered heavy losses, the Lebanese communique said. It reported one building hit by a rocket, the runway slightly damaged and one soldier wounded.

Klayat was used by Lebanon's new Mirage jet fighters until they were moved to a less vulnerable base after the conflict with the guerrillas developed. The road to Klayat has been cut by Arabs in a refugee camp north of Tripoli, and the army has made no attempt to reopen it.

In the southern port of Sidon, another guerrilla force attacked an army checkpoint with grenades and machine guns and wounded one soldier, the communique said.

Beirut was quiet following another night of terrorist dynamite blasts.

Hassan Sabry el Kholi, a special representative of President Gamal Abdel Nasser, said the Lebanese government had agreed in principle to give Palestinian guerrillas "freedom of action within the country provided this does not contradict with Lebanon's security and sovereignty." The statement was distributed Wednesday night by Egypt's official Middle East News Agency.

El Kholi's statement said Egyptian representatives reached agreement with a Lebanese delegation headed by Army Chief of Staff Emile Bustany on the basis of proposals submitted by Gen. Bustany.

The Egyptian statement gave no indication of what these proposals were. But there has been speculation the Beirut government would agree to let the guerrillas alone if they confined themselves to the arid, sparsely populated area in southeast Lebanon which they have been using as a base for raids on Israel.

Vietnam Toll Exceeds 100

SAIGON (AP) — The total of Americans killed last week in combat in Vietnam climbed to 102, exceeding 100 for the first time in five weeks, the U.S. Command announced today.

The increased toll, 24 higher than the total reported for the week before, reflected a slight increase in ground fighting involving Americans, including one battle northwest of Saigon last Friday in which 10 Americans were killed.

Enemy casualties also increased sharply, to 2,303 as compared with 1,624 reported last Thursday. The Saigon government said its battlefiled dead totaled 297, four less than the week before.

The U.S. Command said 39,149 Americans and 564,607 of the enemy have been reported killed in action in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

STRIPS SOUTHERN SCHOOL OFFICIALS OF CRUTCH

Mississippi Told To Integrate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court has stripped southern school officials of their favorite legal crutch and ordered an end to delay in the desegregation of public schools.

The unanimous decision, given Wednesday night in a Mississippi case, said the "all deliberate speed" doctrine no longer may serve as a cover for the continued operation of segregated schools.

"The obligation of every school district is to terminate dual school systems at once and to operate now and hereafter only unitary schools," declared the decision, first under Chief Justice Warren E. Burger.

The ruling was a stunning setback to the Nixon administration, which had maintained education officials needed more time to "validate" desegregation plans for schools in Missisissippi.

Its import extends far beyond the state, reaching wherever racially separate schools remain as a vestige of segregation laws the court began declaring unconstitutional in 1954.

Beyond that, the decision could serve as a platform for legal attacks in the north, through most northern school segregation is a result of neighborhood housing patterns. The ruling's effect in these situations was not immediately clear.

The court acted with urgent dispatch. It had conducted its hearing only last Thursday and issued its ruling during a recess, the first such move in nearly five years.

The opinion was unsigned, though some of the phrases bore the unmistakable imprint of Justice Hugo L. Black, who in an interim ruling last month recommended a final uprooting of the "all deliberate speed" doctrine.

The decision requires the U.S. Court of Appeals in New Orleans to order Mississippi school districts to "begin immediately to operate as unitary school systems within which no person is to be effectively excluded from any school because of race or color."

The appeals court is to use as a vehicle desegregation plans that had not taken effect Sept. 1 had not the administration counseled delay until Dec. 1.

"Modifications" may be made, the Supreme Court said, so long as they "insure a totally unitary school system for all eligible pupils without regard to race or color."

The school officials are free to lodge whatever objections they may have, the high court said, but these are to be considered by federal judges in Mississippi after—and not before—the plans are put into effect.

SUBDUED — This is a Chicago Sun Times artist's impression of Black Panther Bobby Seale who was gagged and manacled to a metal folding chair in U.S. District Court in Chicago Wednesday after he refused to remain silent. The order to subdue Seale was ordered by Judge Julius Hoffman. Seale and seven others are on trial for inciting rioting during the Democratic National Convention in Chicago in August, 1968.

The decision contained a stinging rebuke to the court in New Orleans for accepting the administration's advice last August and postponing further desegregation.

"The court of appeals," the high court said, "should have denied all motions for additional time because continued operation of segregated schools under a standard of allowing 'all deliberate speed' for desegregation is no longer constitutionally permissible."

The decision cited 1964 and 1968 rulings that called for immediate desegregation of Virginia schools.

The concept of "all deliberate speed" was set forth by the Supreme Court in 1955. Recognizing that school officials faced massive administrative difficulties in abandoning racially separate schools, the court said they should act, nonetheless, with "all deliberate speed."

Following the ruling, the Justice Department maintained a cautious stance, saying the government's future course depended on what the New Orleans appeals court did to implement the ruling.

Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., said "the decision spells disaster for public education in Mississippi and many parts of the South."

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., said the court "has allowed ideological passion to overcome reason in this tragic ruling." John C. Satterfield of Yazoo City, the former American Bar Association president who argued the case for Mississippi, said if Health, Education and Welfare plans, as submitted, are put into effect immediately that could destroy many of the school systems.

Nixon's Foreign Aid Bill Appears Headed For Slash

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's foreign aid bill, already sharply cut, appears headed for a further, Republican-led money-trimming effort on the House floor.

Rep. E. Ross Adair of Indiana, the senior Republican on the House Foreign Affairs Committee, said he will propose a deeper slash than the $42.5 million already knocked off Nixon's request by the House panel.

This collided with an administration drive to hold the line on the $2.19 billion aid ceiling for this year voted by the committee Wednesday. The measure is due for House action next month.

A top official of the aid-administering Agency for International Development termed Nixon's request modest and voiced the committee version "will be maintained" by the full House.

"The cost of about one penny of every dollar of the federal budget for our economic assistance programs to the developing nations is the minimum this country should provide," the high AID officer said, "and that is just about what we have asked." He asked not to be quoted by name.

What overseas assistance level Congress sets is regarded as particularly important this year in light of decreasing funds for the program in recent years.

If Washington does not reverse this down trend, international aid groups have said, other countries may also slacken their aid efforts despite a growing gap between rich and poor nations.

However, both Adair and Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., the committee chairman, indicated further cuts are likely.

Adair, a veteran critic of the legislation, said the only question is how much the cut will be. Morgan expressed hope the final House version could be held to at least the $1.97 billion authorized in 1968.

The overseas aid bill has never been politically popular on Capitol Hill and has proved especially vulnerable when Congress is in an economizing mood.

Also, the House committee action was only a first in a long legislative process before it becomes law.

IN WEST TEXAS GHOST TOWN They'll Stage Another Chili Champ Cookoff

TERLINGUA, Tex. (AP) — Some of the nation's hottest cooks compete here Saturday for the coveted title of World's Championship Chili Cook.

But if the title is actually awarded to some concocter of the hot, spicy meat stew known as "chili" along the U.S.-Mexico border, it will be a surprise.

The first tongue-in-cheek title bout in 1967 ended in a deadlock when the deciding judge claimed his taste buds were seared beyond usefulness by an unidentified contestant's sample.

There was no decision again in 1968 when three shotgun-armed bandits made a clean getaway with the ballots cast by five judges.

The site for the cookoff is this dusty ghost town which had nine persons in 1960 and has lost population steadily since then. It is 90 miles south of the far West Texas town of Alpine, its nearest neighbor, and just west of the Big Bend National Park on the international border.

"The play-dirty leadership of the Chili Appreciation Society in Dallas is secretly planning a special event for Saturday—the public burning of 3,300 copies of my book, 'The Great Chili Confrontation,'" H. Allen Smith told the Associated Press.

Smith wrote the book after he and Wick Fowler of Austin, the world's champion as recognized by the Chili Appreciation Society International, battled to the draw in 1967. Smith, author of some 30 other books including "Low Man on a Totem Pole," sparked the contest when he wrote a magazine article entitled: "Nobody Makes Better Chili Than I Do." He now lives in Alpine.

"I don't know how we can burn 3,300 copies of his book when only 3,000 copies were published," said Tom J. Tierney, Dallas, spokesman for CASI, "and I'm sure he still has all 3,000."

Smith is a judge this year along with David Witts, Dallas attorney-financier who owns Terlingua. Three other "secret" judges will be introduced at the last minute, if necessary, said Tierney.

Fowler, a newspaper columnist, war correspondent and manufacturer of his special chili mix, is challenged this year by at least three regional champions.

Woodruff (Wino Woody) De Silva, former director of the Los Angeles Airport and protégé of famed racing driver Carroll Shelby, faces Fowler for a second time as California's challenger. He cooks chili in a Chinese wok, a shallow rounded steel pan, and flavors it with champagne.

"Wino Woody will whip Wick if his wok works well," Shelby predicted.

A new entry to the contest is Joe De Frates of Springfield, Ill., owner of a chili canning factory that spells the meat stew with two "ls" because Illinois has two in it.

The fourth entry, also making his first appearance, is C. V. Wood of Los Angeles, who bought London Bridge and is reconstructing it at his housing project in Lake Havasu City, Ariz. Wood says he will cook "green" instead of the usual reddish-brown chili.

"It's generally accepted that green chili is the cause of most of the smog that affects the West Coast," Fowler said.

A special delegation from the Pasadena, Tex., "pod" of CASI will fly to Terlingua to boost their own chili cookoff Nov. 19. "We make a special Houston Ship Channel formula of chili," said Tex Adams, Pasadena publisher who is chief chef. "We are four years old and still have our first bowl of chili. No one will touch it."

Snow Swirls Onto Plains

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Snow swirled out of the Rockies and onto the Plains today as a wave of arctic cold rolled toward the midcontinent.

Up to 3 inches of snow whitened the Nebraska Panhandle before daybreak after coating most of Colorado and eastern Wyoming. Northwestern Kansas also was hit by snow.

The wintry weather followed a belt of rain which extended from Texas and Louisiana to Minnesota. Downpours of an inch or more were common.

Temperatures skidded sharply in the northern Rockies. The mercury fell to 13 above zero at Bozeman, Mont., several hours before dawn.

A slight warming trend fanned through much of the East, but frost again coated the countryside in parts of the eastern Great Lakes and through an area stretching southeastward into North Carolina.

Showers dampened the Pacific Northwest and portions of Florida.

Genuinely mild weather remained confined to Florida where Miami had an overnight low temperature of 77.

"Poppy Day" to remember and aid veterans, will be Saturday Nov. 9, two days before Veterans Day. The small scarlet flowers will be distributed by American Legion Auxiliaries, and donations will be used for programs sponsored by the American Legion to benefit disabled veterans.

The poppies are made by the men in veterans hospitals. The men are given the materials and paid to make the flowers.

In Big Spring, the American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 355, uses part of the donations to give a $200 scholarship to Howard County Junior College. The scholarship is for a veteran's child who is a graduate of a Howard County high school. In the past, several scholarships also have been given to students wishing to take vocational nurses training.

A large percentage of the donations are used daily at the local VA Hospital. Every Monday the American Legion com-

Monthly bingo parties with prizes are held for patients and refreshments are served. Also, the American Legion Junior Auxiliary provides refreshments for the Chaplain's Coffee Hours.

Other services to Veterans include the Gift Shop at the VA Hospital. The gifts, suitable for every member of the veteran's family, may be chosen at no cost to the patient to be sent to his family for Christmas. The gifts are donated by various local organizations. Little Theatre Needs Help, Lions Club Told Lida laid it on the line for the Lions.

Speaking to the Downtown Lions at the Settles Wednesday noon, Mrs. Charles R. (Lida) Boland made it plain the Little Theatre needs more help and participation if it is to continue as a viable force in the community.

It needs people who will appear as actors; people who will help behind scenes with making sets, costuming, makeup, etc.; people who will support this branch of the arts at the gate.

Little Theatre has had its ups and downs since it was re-activated, she recalled, but it has presented some outstanding productions, affording a vehicle of self expression to many local and area people.

For some reason, people do not seem to realize it is for all the people and is in urgent need for more people to share in its activities, she said. "Little Mary Sunshine," a delightful musical, drew only about 150, while shortly thereafter 180 local people drove to Odessa to see a production.

One of the most popular things the Little Theatre has done was its Easter pageant, which had to be abandoned for lack of volunteers for roles and back-scene help.

She is directing the Little Theatre's next production, "A end showings Nov. 13-14-15 and Waymon Clark, president of the club, announced that the Nov. 12 meeting will honor the governor of District 2A-1, A. E. Paugel, Sonora. He also reported on the club's ladies night entertainment last week for members of Webb Class 71-01 and their wives.

The club will sell and take up tickets for the Motorcycle Scramble Sunday, off the Country Club Road, and operate the concessions. Jimmy Parks is in charge of this project, which will help supply funds for purchase of glasses for children who cannot afford them.

Coding System For Drugs Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord Nelson said today a uniform coding system for all prescription drugs could mean the difference between life and death in cases of overdoses.

He introduced a bill requiring all such drugs be assigned a designation indicating its name, the manufacturer, recommended dosage and the manufacturer's lot number. The designation would be assigned by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"With an identifying code on every tablet and capsule, proper treatment or antidote could be administered without delay," the Wisconsin Democrat said in a statement prepared for Senate delivery.

Among those coming here to pay last respects to R. L. Tollett was the Rev. L. Calvin Browning, Fort Worth and Temple, founder and national director of the Youth Crime Prevention League. Tollett had been a supporter of the Rev. Browning.

"The appeal for law and order has come in style lately," he said. "We were preaching it 10 years ago."

That's about how long he has been pushing the league and its objectives of education, obedience to law, better citizenship, wholesome activity, leadership, well-rounded religious activities, and self respect and respect for the rights of others. As a fourth-generation Negro minister, he works primarily among Negro youth.

He conducted a workshop here two years ago and hopes later in the year to return. Currently, he is pushing for support of the league's effort to raise $200,000 for a state and national center in Dallas to advance the league's program. A trust fund has been established in the First National Bank in Dallas (1401 Elm) and those who want to have a part may send contributions to the account (No. 08-4668-3).

The Rev. Browning takes black militants such as James Farmer, Stokely Carmichael, Rap Brown, Dick Gregory and others to task. The only way the race problem will be solved is together, he says.

This is why he has, in part of his program, "declared war on riots."

"The majority of black people are just as threatened as white people by militants. Violence, rioting, and looting are not only a disgrace to society; they are a reflection on our race."

Militants have been gaining, he concedes, but "because of weak opposition. That is why the Youth Crime Prevention League was founded — to bring out the voice of the silent ma-

Local Option Votes Illegal

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP) — Dist. Judge Thurman Roberts ruled Monday that 18 ballots cast in an April 5 local option election were illegal.

The ruling invalidates the vote that approved the sale of liquor for off-premises consumption. But Roberts said sales may continue, pending an appeal of his ruling.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Its gates shall never be shut by day—and there shall be no night there. (Revelation 21:25, RSV)
PRAYER: Almighty God, we thank Thee for the gift of freedom. Direct us so to use it that our lives will be increasingly open to Thine indwelling love. Grant that the use we make of our freedom will enable us to enter through the gates into Thine eternal city. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

How To Contribute Indirectly

The scope and operation of the military establishment are dependent upon the expanded or restricted demands for the services of the armed forces. This controls the number, type and distribution of installations and the functions and personnel assigned to these.

For several years we have been in a state of expansion, or a static expanded state. Now, with the prospect of lessening our participation in the Vietnam war, and the relief of a few other international pressures, there is a prospect of pulling in the horns of the military establishment.

Apparently, Webb AFB is one of those which will be unaffected by the general retrenchment. Probably, the nature of its mission as a jet pilot training base has an important bearing upon this.

Those which will be unaffected by the general retrenchment. Probably, the nature of its mission as a jet pilot training base has an important bearing upon this.

We should like to think that the record of achievement by the base has had some influence upon this decision, as well as the efficiency with which the facility has functioned.

Perhaps the relationship of the community to the base is outside the purview of factors in decision making, but it is not without importance in helping the base achieve its mission.

A Major Industry

The Texas Tourist Development Agency reports that travel to Texas during the first seven months of 1969 shows a surprising two per cent increase over 1968, the HemisFair year.

These figures are based on checks at 14 major attractions, which projects into 12,085,213 out-of-state vacationers through July.

This is most impressive, yet perhaps it should not be such a surprise after all.

Perhaps it should not be such a surprise after all. Evidently HemisFair spread the word around that Texas has everything. Hopefully, those now coming will do the same.

With sound promotion, conscientious service and fair treatment of our visitors, there is no reason why this traffic should not increase each year.

David Lawrence Action Against Illicit Drugs

WASHINGTON — What was the piece of news most important to the American people in the last few days? It was the two-hour conference between President Nixon, leaders of both parties in Congress and the officials of our government who are dealing with the "dope" problem in the world today.

MORE THAN 20,000 words were released to the press covering the two conferences. The first was a discussion between the President, the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare, and the Director of the Bureau of Narcotics, members of Congress and Art Linkletter, the TV star, whose daughter committed suicide two weeks ago after struggling with a problem created by drugs.

Here is a summary of the most significant points made as revealed in the official transcript:

- 1. The President first emphasized that the subject was "completely above partisan consideration." He said that the country has too little information on the subject and that "there is too much ignorance" of its scope.
2. THE DIRECTOR of the Narcotics Bureau, John E. Ingersoll, revealed that "Operation Intercept" on the Mexican border was very successful and that a system of cooperation between the United States and Mexico to prevent the smuggling of drugs has begun to function effectively.

Billy Graham

Do you think it is because of sin in my life that my prayers are not answered? P.N.

You know better than I about the sin in your life. Isaiah said, "The Lord's hand is not shortened that it cannot save . . . but your sins have separated between you and your God."

Remember also, God doesn't always give us what we want — He gives us what we need. Just as a good parent does not always grant the request of his child, God doesn't give us every request on a silver platter.

He makes no mistakes, though at times we may question His wisdom. But when we get to heaven and see the reasons for the things that came to us, we will fall at His feet and thank Him for not answering some of our foolish prayers. "Now we see through a glass darkly, but then face to face."

What Others Say

There is no ginsaying that the admission to the United Nations of tiny countries, some of which are unable even to afford a fulltime representative to that body, is an exercise in political fantasy.

So, delicate matter or not, the State Department's move to put the matter of creating a United Nations "associate membership" up for discussion is worth a try.

It is ludicrous that the Maldive Islands, population 97,000, should be admitted to full United Nations membership. It is even more fantastic that the Island of Nauru, population 4,914, should be talked of as a prospective member.

John Cunniff Polyglas Tire Problems

NEW YORK (AP) — What would you think of a company that, for competitive reasons, came out with a product that would last twice as long, thus apparently shrinking its market, reducing revenues and cutting into profits?

At first glance, at least, you might be inclined to think the company's officers had the marketing sense of a child selling homemade lemonade.

The company involved, however, does not run a lemonade stand. It is a behemoth of American industry, with sales last year of nearly $3 billion. And it feels the critics are the ones without understanding.

This is the situation. In 1967 the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co. decided to market what is called a bias-belted tire, a phrase that cannot be explained without backtracking a bit.

Throughout the 1960s the accepted tire was a so-called two-ply product. Ply means the cord — rayon, nylon or polyester. Two of these cords were wound diagonally in an X-pattern to give strength, and then the rubber was added.

In 1967 Goodyear decided to market an improvement on this tire. On top of the plies, and under the rubber tread, there is now a woven fiberglass belt. That explains the "belt" part of the phrase.

"Bias" simply refers to the diagonally wound plies beneath the belt. If you look up the definition of bias in the dictionary you will find it means, "a line diagonal to the grain of a fabric."

Therefore, bias-belt. Now this much stronger tire, customers were told, would provide twice the mileage for a much smaller increase in price.

This led to the assumption by critics that the tires would last twice as long, cutting the market in half.

Goodyear, at least, did not think so, because it embarked on a $20-million advertising campaign.

Its promotional efforts were successful, and this year Detroit accepted its Polyglas tire as standard equipment on new vehicles.

If a guy touches the arm of a little old lady with the intention of assisting her through the traffic, she is likely to belt him in the face with a 30-pound handbag and yell:

"Help! Police! I'm being mugged!"

That points up the second problem of male gallantry—the changing attitude toward it by women.

Women theoretically still like for men to be chivalrous and knightly. But when a man does treat her with a flourish of good manners, she either is made uneasy or misunderstands his motives.

So what profiteth it a man to be a perfect gentleman anymore, since he so seldom meets a perfect lady to be a perfect gentleman to? If he doesn't get the credit, why take the trouble?

It's far easier for a man to forget the antique graces of yesterday and to treat women as if they were men which, according to some statistics, 65 per cent of them secretly would rather be anyway.

Suppose, remembering his daily good deed as a Boy Scout, he makes it a policy to help across the street every little old lady he meets.

Suppose, for example, he decides to take off his hat and make a sweeping bow as a lady enters a packed office elevator. All he manages to do is to scatter dandruff over 12 people and win glares of hatred from every other man in the elevator. The lady, if she notices him at all, thinks of him as some kind of a nut.

Suppose, remembering his daily good deed as a Boy Scout, he makes it a policy to help across the street every little old lady he meets.

Around The Rim Labor Of Love

It's about the same story: a few people doing herculean work in order to be ready for the opening curtain.

FOR OVER A MONTH now, about seven folks have been meeting night after night, struggling to remember their lines, when to make an entrance, and how to "act" as the next production of the Little Theatre is taking shape.

All of these are amateurs, doing their best to stage a professional show and meet expenses, and of course, for the fun of it. That last part sometimes is usually late hours and hard work, sweat and tears — and needing help.

FEW HAVE tackled a production job with the organization that didn't make it their last one. It is a difficult hobby, requires long hours, and few are devoted enough to give it the time and attention it requires.

The organization has wobbled at times, but somehow manages to hang together enough to keep some kind of production in the works. Even amidst the problems of getting one show ready, there is usually someone demanding that the next one get off the ground.

IT IS AN ORGANIZATION that never quite seems to run out of problems. When there was a large list of folks ready to work, there was no place to stage a show.

And so it has been for the past dozen years. The key point, however, is that these problems have been solved, one at a time. At the moment, there is a place to play, stage and seating arrangements are being made, and a cast is currently polishing its lines for the opening of a modern and delightful comedy.

NONE OF THIS has been easy, nor is it at the moment for those directly involved. The reward for those long hours will come through a large and receptive crowd, which hopefully will turn out in November.

Holmes Alexander Best Biography Of Nixon

WASHINGTON — "One Man Alone" was Hemingway's definition of a hero. Those three words are also, and inadvertently, the title of the first in-office biography of Richard Nixon, and far and away the best life of Nixon that we have to date.

I think I have read them all, and this one (Funk & Wagnall's) by Ralph de Toledano is best because of its level focus on the subject. No other writer has so keenly perceived that Nixon, despite his out-of-nowhere arrival at the apex of success is not "romantic" or Horatio-Algerian but "an introvert in an extrovert profession."

"NO," SAYS Toledano, "I did not have the Hemingway definition in mind. My working title was 'Man Alone' but the publishers thought they were taking the curse off by naming it 'One Man Alone.' I know that every problem he had was one decided by himself, in solitude, cut off from all."

THIS BOOK has insight that isn't in other Nixon biographies, and I think it's because the author himself, once an intimate, was cut off from a former friend, the President. In 1949 Toledano's assignment, as a Newsweek reporter, was the Hiss Case. Rep. Nixon (R., Calif.) was staking his career on exposing Alger Hiss as a perjurer, a hidden Communist, and would never have succeeded without sympathetic journalists.

"YES, I WAS irritated," Toledano tells me. "But I was asked to write this book just after the November '58 election, and it took a re-reading of the Nixon material to tell me how much he'd done and how unfairly he'd been treated. I realized that other persons, not Dick Nixon, had kept us apart."

Without that separation this book, I think, would not have its authenticity. The insider always seems to chirp like the king's canary or like the palace magpie, giving forth either madrigals or gossip, as we have come to expect from the past two presidencies. But the ex-insider, if he's without pique and doesn't lean too much on I-knew-him-when, can achieve a valuable objectivity toward a living statesman.

THIS THE AUTHOR has done. It would be difficult to count the ways. For one, Toledano understands that Mr. Nixon "compartmentalizes" his friendships, so that what one learns from Robert Finch and Murray Chotiner is not an over-lap of what one learns from William Rogers.

THE RICHARD NIXON of the inner room is unknown, but the capacities keep unfolding and seem to be inexhaustible. I did not know till I read this book how close and how often the President had been to chucking politics, and how inevitably a compulsion of fatalism refused to let him go.

FATALISM, and those kept-apart friendships, once when Nixon was ready to quit, Toledano wrote him, personal and confidential: "Many, many people have pinned their hopes on you. If you back down now, you will be letting them down. Can I urge you to do one thing? Let the matter ride for several weeks before you make up your mind . . ."

Art Buchwald White Rats Have All The Fun

WASHINGTON — The key to man's survival on earth seems to be the white rat. Most experiments being conducted these days to see what effect our environment has on human beings are first conducted on white rats. Only after we know what happens to white rats will we take any action to protect the human race.

Nobody has bothered to find out how the rats feel about this. In man's ever-questing search for truth, I visited a large government laboratory the other evening around midnight and recorded what the white rats were saying to each other.

"Zelda, you look so thin."

"THEY'VE HAD ME on cyclamates. I must have lost three ounces in a week. What have you been doing?"

"I've been taking monosodium glutamate. It's tasty, but it gives me headaches. Oh, Horace, will you stop coughing?"

"Ack, ack, ack. I can't help it. They've got me smoking a pack of cigarettes a day."

"Why don't you give them up?"

"I'd like to, but they won't let me."

"WHAT ON EARTH is Sheldon doing? He's staggering all over his cage."

"He's involved in the marijuana experiments. He goes on a trip every night."

"That's what I call luck. How can I get off cyclamates and in the pot program?"

"You have to know somebody. Every rat in the lab wants to go on pot."

"I don't. I feel you have to face reality and not seek escape. That's why I'm proud to be associated with the air pollution project."

"How can you stand it?"

"IT'S NOT BAD. Every day they drive me around New York City and I just breathe. If I die, they know the air pollution count is too high.

If I live, I get to see the city."

"You're probably right, Bettina. I volunteered for air pollution, but some computer assigned me to water pollution. I'm getting sick of drinking dirty river water every day."

"What's the matter with Whitney? He seems awfully quiet tonight."

"HE'S BEEN eating grapes with DDT on them for a week, and I guess it's finally getting to him."

"Who's crying?"

"Sandra. They have her taking the birth control pill. She wants babies in the worst way."

"Well, at least she's having some fun."

"I GUESS Sampson has the best job of any of us."

"What is he doing?"

"They put him in front of a color television set all day long to see how much radiation he absorbs. He's the only white rat I know who gets to watch Laugh-in."

Execs Favored

NEW DELHI (AP) — Indian airline hostesses prefer business executives for passengers.

"They are chic, polished and courteous," many of them said in interviews for jobs, the Indian Air Lines magazine reported.

Politicians ranked next in preference, although, as some said the government officials ranked a poor third.

Tech Establishes Center For JC Development

LUBBOCK — The establishment of a Center for Junior College Professional Development at Texas Tech and a director for it have been announced by Dr. Grover E. Murray, president.

Education Prof. Kenneth Freeman, who has served as president of three junior colleges, has been named head of the center at Tech.

"The center will provide pre-service and in-service education for personnel in junior colleges," Dr. Freeman said, "and much of the planning for the center has been under way since early summer. The center at Tech can and will provide a service to junior colleges by training faculty and other personnel to meet their expanding demands."

He said the four-year colleges and the major universities welcome the junior college movement because it allows them to concentrate their efforts toward improvement of their programs for advanced and graduate students and in the fields of research and public service.

The plans for the Center for Junior College Professional Development were described for eight visiting junior college officials on the Tech campus recently, including Dr. W. A. Hunt, president of Howard County Junior College.

"The program is uniquely and specifically designed for the prospective junior college teachers," Dr. Freeman said. "It incorporates ideas and suggestions from junior college personnel, programs from other colleges and universities, the A.A.J.C. Faculty Development Project and the faculty of Texas Tech University."

It was planned, he added, with the active participation of junior colleges.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR Reader Finds Fault With City's Paving Program

TO THE EDITOR: When Assessment Paving Program 68-4 was awarded to have 65 of our city blocks paved, this contract was awarded to the W. D. Caldwell Company. Of the 28 streets that were included in this program, I see at the city commission meeting Tuesday evening they were real generous to the company in allowing 20 of our city streets to be dropped from this paving program. The reason given was that due to back taxes on this property it would be unprofitable for the W. D. Caldwell Company, and that the company didn't want to pave these 20 streets unless it received its money first.

In this paving program, if I am correct, only eight streets have been paved. I know of two streets that have back taxes still owing as far back as 1951 yet these streets have been paved under this program. Why?

If I am correct in saying the City of Big Spring, with the consent of the city commissioners approved to pay for the paving on certain streets, if they are going to approve to pay for some streets in one part of the city, why can't they approve enough money in other parts? What I mean by paying for the paving is that the City of Big Spring will pay to the W. D. Caldwell Company the money that the taxpayer would have paid to have his street paved, and in return the City of Big Spring will take a paving lien against the property. If the city can take a lien against some of the streets, why can't it do the same for the 20 streets that have been cut out?

City Commission at the meeting Tuesday were nice enough to add some 32 new streets to this same paving program. What happens if back taxes are found on these 32 new streets. Will the contractor go back to the city commissioners and ask to drop some of these streets? I feel that the city commission should start a new paving program, asking for new bids on these 32 new streets, and that they shouldn't just add and subtract at will.

When the city sales tax was passed the citizens were promised paving, lighting and drainage. So far all I have seen is eight city streets paved, 20 cut and 32 added. I feel that the promises made should be kept by city commissioners.

Bill Extending Jobless Benefits

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee is ready to introduce a bill extending unemployment insurance to more than four million workers in small firms and agricultural processing plants, and increasing the time during which benefits may be collected.

The measure, which the committee finished drafting Wednesday, does not include as many workers as the Labor Department had recommended, and members rejected attempts by some to include farm workers.

Plan To Shut Down Every Artesian Well

DENVER (AP) — The State of Colorado is planning to shut down every artesian well in the San Luis Valley this winter, says State Engineer Clarence Kuiper, in hopes of saving 150,000 acre-feet of water which otherwise will be wasted.

Kuiper made the disclosure while attending a meeting of the executive committee of the Colorado Legislature's Water Committee Wednesday afternoon at the Capitol.

Kuiper said his agency will order the well closure and added: "We will probably wind up in court."

He also told the committee "We would like to have greater legislative backing"—apparently a request that a stronger provision be written into the underground water law allowing the state engineer to order wells closed. He insisted the present law actually permits a shutdown order, however.

Kuiper's remarks followed a comment by Bill Kopelman of Center, president of the Rio Grande Water Users Association, that the artesian wells should be capped in winter. He said most of the water which flows from the deep wells at that time of year evaporates and is lost. He estimated the flow at 150,000-acre-feet.

The plan to close off the winter flow of artesian wells apparently has no direct connection with a dispute over waters of the Rio Grande which has led Texas and New Mexico to file suit against Colorado in the Supreme Court of the United States. They claim Colorado is more than a million acre-feet short of water deliveries required under the Rio Grande Compact.

The closure subject arose, however, when Kuiper discussed with the committee the possibility that the state might set up some sort of a revolving fund to finance small water projects.

The engineer said that it would be a means of helping improve water management in the San Luis Valley, among other places, and cited possible re-channeling jobs along the San Antonio River, the Conejos River and the Rio Grande. He also said it might be possible to undertake a water development project in the so-called closed basin of the valley.

Most of the valley lies in southern Colorado, but part of it is in extreme northern New Mexico.

Kuiper's remarks drew a sharp retort from Director Felix L. Sparks of the Colorado Water Conservation Board. Precipitating Sparks' comments was a statement by the engineer that Texas and New Mexico "know more about the geology in the San Luis Valley than Colorado."

Saying he was "in total disagreement" with some of Kuiper's contentions, Sparks declared that Colorado had studied the Rio Grande for 20 years and "we know it a hundred times better than Texas and New Mexico." He said the state has pumped $100,000 into water studies in the area and he declared the best solution to Colorado's water delivery problems would be a federally-financed $8 million closed basin project.

The problem, Sparks said, has not been getting federal money but the lack of feasible projects and local opposition to projects.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Wednesday that no Texas military bases would be shut down but 1,661 jobs will be lost to civilians and 2,683 military personnel will be transferred.

The cutback will hit all sections of the state with most military bases taking a small cut, the department said.

Hardest hit in the civilian sector will be the Red River Army Depot at Texarkana which will lose 434 civilian jobs by July of 1970.

At Kelly AFB in San Antonio, a military airlift squadron will be deactivated, headquarters staffs reduced and 1,130 military personnel will be cut.

The cutbacks are:
Abilene—The Air Force will cancel the scheduled transfer of Dyess AFB from Strategic Air Command to Tactical Air Command; the 96th Bomb Wing and assigned units will remain and C130 aircraft maintenance operations will be reduced by January 1970-352 military.

San Antonio—The Air Force's 741st Aircraft Control and Warning Squadron at Lackland AFB will be inactivated by January 1970 and the Air Force portion of the joint Air Force-Federal Aviation Administration site will phase out. The search radar and remainder of site will be transferred to the FAA-79 military.

Operations of the Air Force's Aerospace Medical Division at Brooks AFB will be reduced by January 1970-36 military and 26 civilians.

Soph-Monahans Game Highlights Activity

Three games involving local football teams are scheduled here this evening. Feature attraction will be a clash in Memorial Stadium between the Big Spring Sophomores and the Monahans B team, scheduled to start at 7 p.m. The eighth grade teams of both Runnels and Goliad will play home games on Blankenship Field. The Goliad squad hosts San Angelo Edison at 5:30 p.m. while the Runnels eleven will oppose San Angelo Glenn at 7:30 p.m. Both the local ninth grade teams wait until Saturday for games and both play in San Angelo. The Toros oppose Edison at 2 p.m., while the Brahmas tangle with Glenn at 4 o'clock. Both those contests will be in the old Bobcat stadium. The Big Spring JV's, Big Spring's only undefeated club, was originally to have played today but their encounter with Midland in Midland was moved back to Saturday due to wet grounds. Starting time for that one is 1:30 p.m. The scrappy Sophs have knocked off Coahoma's B team twice, 20-8, and 14-0; humbled while the Runnels eleven will oppose San Angelo Glenn at 7:30 p.m. Both the local ninth grade teams wait until Saturday for games and both play in San Angelo. The Toros oppose Edison at

Scrambles Are Scheduled By Area Motorcyclists

Seven events are scheduled for Sunday afternoon when an area Motorcycle Scrambles event will be held on a track southwest of the Country Club Road. In addition to competition in four classes, plus open and main races, there will be a contest from minibike riders 12-years old and under. A helmet will go to the winner of this race. All others pay cash in three places for a total of $500.

Morton Sick, Landry Says

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Even an undefeatable coach can get on the hot seat. Tom Landry was there Wednesday and his Dallas Cowboys are 6-4 in the National Football League. Landry started out his usual Wednesday press conference by saying "We hope (quarterback) Craig Morton will be OK for the Cleveland game Sunday."

Landry went on to explain Morton was five pounds underweight because of a virus attack when he played all the way against the New York Giants Monday night in a 25-3 victory. Then the questions came in a barrage. Why wasn't the press informed? Was that why Morton looked so bad? Was the information withheld to dupe the Giants? Morton, the NFL's leading passer going into the game, was intercepted twice, failed to see open receivers, and was throwing poorly.

Jack Dolph Named ABA Commissioner

NEW YORK (AP) — Jack Dolph, who started wrestling at 103 pounds and wound up in television's heavyweight class, has been chosen to lead the American Basketball Association's fight for survival in the professional cage game.

Dolph, Director of Sports for the Columbia Broadcasting System Television Network since 1959, was named commissioner Wednesday of the ABA, now in its third season.

The 41-year-old media veteran succeeds George Mikan, who resigned last July 14 after leading the ABA's battle for parity with the established National Basketball Association since the new league's inception.

Mikan, the former DePaul All-American and NBA superstar, is enshrined in basketball's Hall of Fame. Dolph's basketball career ended shortly after it began.

"I went out for my high school basketball team and the wrestling coach grabbed me," the new commissioner said. "So I wrestled for four years and watched basketball from the sideline."

The new commissioner will see his first ABA game Friday night at Denver as he begins a get-acquainted tour of the 11 league cities. After that, his primary concerns will include the procurement of a national television contract and the renewal of merger discussions with NBA chief Walter Kennedy, who broke off talks following the signing of several NBA players by ABA clubs.

"I've known Walter for the 10 years I've been in New York," Dolph said. "We're quite close friends and I sincerely hope we remain so. I know we can talk — I'm sure of it on my part anyway."

"A merger has value to both leagues. In the future, economics may dictate it. Right now, we are neither counting on it, nor worrying about it. At this point, we can exist separately."

"We need television and I believe we have a product television can use. There are two baseball leagues, two football leagues and two basketball leagues. I believe there's room for both basketball leagues on television."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Larry Click, coach of the Midland High team which descends upon Big Spring Friday night for a little football drama, apparently has written off this season to concentrate on building a winner for 1970.

Click is starting eight juniors on offense and seven on defense. Along about this time of year, juniors are expected to start playing like seniors, so Big Spring can expect no easy time of it.

Big Spring buffs will be looking at one of the finest running backs they'll see all year. He is Gaberson Zachery, who gave the Steers fits last year. That Steers won that one, 35-28, but only by putting it all together in the final minutes of a very fluid battle.

Zachery gained 148 yards in 18 carries against Ector last week. The opposition pays Gaberson tribute by setting up special defenses for him. He may be Midland's greatest ball carrier since Jay Francis.

At this moment, it appears Texas will be returning to the Cotton Bowl, Penn State will go to the Sugar Bowl, Tennessee is poised to book hotel reservations in Miami for the Orange Bowl (where it would play the Big 8 champion) and USC will represent the Pacific 8 in the Rose Bowl.

An ideal game would pit Texas against either Penn State or Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl but the Nitany Lions, they say, want no part of Texas and the Orange Bowl people have the inside track on getting any team they want — and they want Tennessee.

The Cotton Bowl committee likely will look to LSU for its second team.

After agreeing to send their team here for an exhibition game next fall, Bryan school officials called back to beg off. They explained that school trustees didn't want their teams traveling so far from home.

That attitude is difficult to understand. High school bands follow football teams to their games — and they are permitted to make extended trips, often out of state.

Nobody challenges their right to travel.

A reader wonders about the "move list" in pro football. Such a list is a complicated numbers game involving players who can be made inactive without being claimed or lost for the season.

Each team is allowed to have a total of seven players on the taxi or move list at one time and can make ten "moves" during any one season.

A moved player may be reactivated, traded or waived after two games or 16 days. After five games, he must be reactivated, traded, waived or moved again.

Benefit of the move list involves injured players who now don't have to be placed on reserve, retired for the season or counted against the roster.

Coach of the Roby Lions, one of the better Class B teams around, is Freddie Stuart, the former Howard County JC sprinter.

Had Stanton had six fewer students attending classes this fall, it would have been returned to Class A from AA next fall. Had such a thing taken place, the Buffaloes would have replaced Coahoma in District 5-A.

AA schools must have a minimum of 230 students and no more than 499.

The Cleveland Indians have taken measures to protect John Howell, the former Midland Lee pitcher, in the baseball draft. He'll be signed to a AAA contract for the 1970 season. No team in baseball needs southpaw help more than Cleveland and John is a portlander.

Cy Young Award Won By NY's Tom Seaver

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitching for the New York Mets has always been an experience, but never much of an honor until Tom Seaver came along.

Two years ago, Seaver won himself Rookie of the Year honors in the National League and now he has been selected the winner of the Cy Young Award as the league's best pitcher in 1969.

But Seaver represents more than just an honor or an award for the Mets; he represents the miraculous reversal for him born out of a Mets' past that includes such master losers as Roger Craig, Craig Anderson, Jack Fisher, Jay Hook, Al Jackson, Galen Cisco and Tracy Stallard.

Only eight seasons ago when the Mets were created they lost a record 120 games and missed by a hair of becoming the first team with three 20-game losers.

In that first year, pitching for baseball's worst team ever, Craig lost 24 games, Jackson 20 and Hook 19. Anderson, who didn't pitch much during the final month, took 17 defeats.

Craig went on to lose 22 the next year, 18 of them in a row, and Stallard lost 20 and Cisco 19 in 1964.

Fisher was the big loser the next three years with 24, 14 and 18.

And the hitting and fielding, were just as bad, making it easy for a pitcher to lose 20.

But 1967 marked the beginning of a new era. It heralded the appearance of young right-handed Seaver, the first Mets' pitcher with a future.

No one laughed when Tom Seaver took the mound. He was a 16-game winner that first year, but more important, he was a winner. He started the Mets thinking of victory rather than settling for defeat.

In 1968 Seaver again won 16 games and made the All-Star team for the second time. That year he was joined by Jerry Koosman, with 19 victories, and the Mets finished with their best record, 73-89.

Lilimorann Race Entry

EL PASO — Frank Vessels Jr.'s Lilimorann will be after her second straight local score in Friday's Retired Officer's Purse at Sunland Park. She'll face eight other sophomores over 5 1/2 furlongs in the top offering on the twilight program, which gets under way at 3:15 p.m.

The improving daughter of Limelight will face Lewis Shaw's Rich Bonanza, C. W. Grissom's Straw God, Freddie White's Tsali Boss, Patricia Anne Leonard's Tiger Rule, Lowell Hankin's Hankins Dancer, Walter Miller's Kancity Penny, Gladys Borden's Love Away and Fred Grime's Solid Challenge.

Despite breaking slowly in her initial Sunland test, Lilimorann outraced a field of three-year-old maidens by a length. She'll pick up seven pounds off that effort, carrying 119 and Dave Morris.

Big Spring High School lost 15 pupils during the past week, leaving secondary enrollment at 3,352. Elementary enrollment of 3,802 was up by two, while special education dropped one to 156, making a total of 7,310 enrolled at the end of last week. Involvement In Laos Ires Sen. Fulbright WASHINGTON (AP) — Senior senators on the Foreign Relations Committee who made life miserable for President Lyndon B. Johnson over Vietnam are banging heads with the Nixon administration on U.S. policy in Laos.

After committee members clashed Wednesday with Secretary of State William P. Rogers, both sides indicated they hadn't been swayed during the closed door meeting on Laos and arms limitation efforts.

"I don't think there is going to be any change in policy, not now," Rogers said of U.S. involvement in Laos.

"I think the hearings will alter the administration's views," declared Committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., referring to hearings by a subcommittee on the Laos issue.

Rogers said U.S. involvement in supporting Laotian anti-Communist efforts goes back eight years and should have been no surprise to the veteran senators.

In addition to Fulbright, others critical of the U.S. policy included the committee's senior Republican member, George D. Aiken of Vermont; Stuart Symington, D-Mo., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky. They said they had not known until recent hearings how large the U.S. involvement was.

Rogers' contention that the senators should have known all about what has been going on in Laos was supported by Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Sen. Milton Young, R-N.D., a senior member of the Appropriations Committee.

"I've really found nothing new in the hearings that I didn't know," said Mansfield, speaking of the earlier hearings held by the Foreign Relations subcommittee headed by Symington.

"Everyone that has intelligence information would be familiar with what's been going on," Young said in an interview. He said that except for the bombing of the Ho Chi Minh Trail, a key Communist supply route through Laos to South Vietnam, "it's practically no different from what goes on in other countries."

But Fulbright, who charged there is no congressional authority for U.S. activities in Laos, insisted "we had no knowledge of such a war on such a large scale."

And Cooper announced he will try to amend the defense appropriations bill to bar any U.S. combat support of local forces in Laos or neighboring Thailand to keep the United States out of another Vietnam-type war.

Some Committee members also took issue with Rogers concerning the forthcoming U.S.-Soviet strategic arms talks.

Rogers asked the committee to put off any action on the proposal by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., and 41 cosponsors calling on President Nixon to seek a moratorium on the testing of multiwarhead missiles.

"He didn't talk us out of it," Fulbright said, explaining that he expects the committee to take up the Brooke resolution "very soon."

Rogers said last weekend the issue of multiwarhead missiles probably would receive early attention at the U.S.-Soviet talks which are to start Nov. 17 at Helsinki, Finland. The administration has said it feared the Brooke resolution could hamper its bargaining position on the issue.

Youths Beat Fem Teacher In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A woman teacher was beaten and a principal was kicked during fighting which broke out in three Chicago schools Wednesday. A shot was fired and rocks and bottles were thrown in one of the disorders.

Police moved in to restore order and arrested 54 youngsters, most of them on charges of disorderly conduct.

At Gage Park High School on the South Side, a band of youths and girl pupils assaulted Alice Garber, 22, a teacher. Police arrested 50 persons. Miss Garber was listed in good condition in a hospital with an eye injury.

At Crane High School, principal James Maloney was kicked in the head. He was not hurt seriously. Maloney said the pupils were angered when he rejected their demand for an assembly in honor of two brothers killed two weeks ago in separate incidents by police bullets.

Shots were fired and rocks and bottles were thrown at Forestville Upper Grade Center on the South Side but police said there were no injuries reported. Four youngsters classified as juveniles were picked up.

Later, pupils mounted a procession from Crane, on the West Side, to City Hall, shouting that the policemen involved in the shooting of the brothers, John Soto, 16, and his brother Michael, 21, should be indicted for murder. Police said the march was orderly for the most part.

Firm Stages Buying Meet

Representatives from four different manufacturers were in Big Spring Tuesday to show their wares in a spring buying session of 15 West Texas T. G. & Y. stores.

D. L. Weitzel, district supervisor from Odessa, and L. H. Myers, divisional vice president from Dallas, also attended the session which was hosted by the two local stores.

Weitzel assumed his supervisory post in Odessa in September, moving from southern New Mexico with his wife and two children. He has been with the T. G. & Y. chain six years.

Salesmen were trying to woo managers from the 15 stores into buying products that ranged from a lady's low-backed dress to a bag of fertilizer in the get-together which lasted from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. and alternated between the College Park Shopping Center store and the Holiday Inn.

Early morning marks slipped down to 33 degrees at Plainview, 34 at Dalhart, 35 at Perryton and 36 at Amarillo and Lubbock in the Panhandle-Plains section. At the same hour thermometers registered 72 at Galveston and Palacios on the coast.

Top readings Wednesday afternoon ranged from 79 at Brownsville down to 50 at Dalhart.

Rains Pace Cold Front

By The Associated Press
Gusty thunderstorms led a cold front across Texas today, loosing briefly torrential rains in some areas.

Skies started clearing in the dry air behind the Pacific front in western sections of the state, meanwhile, and temperatures held a little above freezing in even the chilliest spots.

While snow whitened much of Colorado, none of the white flakes appeared in the Texas

Panhandle by early morning as the Weather Bureau had said they might.

Up to one inch of rain per hour and strong winds accompanied the noisy thunderstorms and showers which paraded through a broad stretch of the state.

At one time or another the storm belt embraced Texarkana, Marshall, Palestine, Longview, Tyler, Corsicana, Waco, College Station, Beaumont, Houston, Victoria, Corpus Christi, Austin, Brownwood, Fort Worth, Dallas, Denison and Sherman.

Fog developed at some points in West Texas, generally east of a line linking Amarillo and Midland.

Near dawn the forward edge of the cold front stretched from Dallas to Cotulla and was moving toward the southeast.

Forecasts called for clearing skies throughout the state tonight and Friday with overnight temperatures as low as 30 degrees in the Panhandle, 35 in Southwest Texas and in the 40s elsewhere.

Three To Be Tried On Raps Of Maltreating 14 Recruits

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Three former drill sergeants at the only Air Force basic training center have been charged with maltreatment of 14 recruits and will be tried by general courts-martial, officials announced.

A spokesman for Lackland Military Training Center said the veteran enlisted men will be tried separately and the first case could come to trial next week.

Maximum punishment would involve dishonorable discharges, of forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and one year at hard labor for each offense.

Charged are Staff Sgt. Raymond T. Lucy, Jr., 28, a native of Lawrenceville, Va.; Staff Sgt. Daniel W.W. Clark, 34, of Oberlin, Ohio; and Sgt. Ronald E. Wood, 29, of Indianapolis, Ind.

Lucy has served the military nine years, Clark 14 and Wood seven.

A Lackland Air Force Base spokesman said Wednesday Lucy has been charged on seven counts of maltreatment, Clark four and Wood five.

Specific charges were not disclosed. The announcement said only that the sergeants are accused of "subjecting of basic trainees to instances of indignities and physical discomforts."

Officials said it is against Air Force Regulations to release such details as names of the 14 recruits or the sergeants' relationships until the trial opens.

The charges allege that the offenses took place between July 3 and Aug. 3.

None of the accused men is being held in custody and the 14 trainees are still assigned to Lackland, a spokesman said.

At the time of the alleged offenses, the sergeants were training instructors for the 3726th Basic Military Training Squadron at Lackland. The 14 recruits were assigned to Lackland's basic military correctional custody unit.

The men were relieved of their duties as training sergeants and assigned to administrative jobs when a seven-week investigation began Aug. 4.

The Air Force has provided the men lawyers and they also have retained a civilian attorney to represent them, the announcement said.

Nov. 2 it will meet at the Rodeo Bowl, County Barns to have a picture taken for an article in "Rider's Roundup" magazine. Members should bring their horses and wear full posse costume.

Officers Mull Man's Death

STANTON — Justice of the Peace Martin L. Gibson of Stanton is withholding a ruling on the mysterious burning death of a Lamesa man, pending results of an autopsy on the dead man and a polygraph examination of his companion.

The body of David Esparza, 33, of Lamesa, was found in the back seat of a car Tuesday night on SH 137 about 24 miles north of Stanton. It had been burned beyond recognition. The car was also destroyed.

The driver of the vehicle, identified as Sylvester Torres Jr., 1408 N. 1st St., Lamesa, is being detained as a material witness and was to take a lie detector test in Midland today.

He told DPS officers that the car suddenly caught fire while heading toward Lamesa, that he stopped the vehicle as soon as he could, and tried to rescue Esparza, but was unsuccessful.

Remains of the deceased were sent to Lubbock for an autopsy. Justice Gibson says he will make no ruling until results of the autopsy and polygraph examinations are known.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: In response to your request for a definition of the word "hippie," the following is rendered:

In one particular lawsuit "hippies" are identified as unconventional young persons in rebellion against competitive middle-class values who usually consort with their own kind and tend to symbolize rebellion through hairiness and picturesque garb. Sincerely, SAN DIEGO ATTORNEY

DEAR ABBY: The word "hippie" has no meaning. It is simply another example of the American penchant for classifying, pigeon-holing and lumping together everything and everybody into convenient little categories.

In the minds of ignorant small-minded people, a "hippie" is equated with uncleanness, drug addiction and the Communist conspiracy. This image has become so implanted in the American mind that many people who wear their hair long and dress individually are harassed by the police, denied their civil rights, and have been violently attacked by their fellow Americans.

I have worn my hair long for two years, and I dress to suit myself. I bathe at least once a day. I don't use alcohol or drugs, nor do I advocate the overthrow of our government. In fact, I served in the United States Air Force and received an honorable discharge.

No one likes to be called a "hippie." I have a name. My parents gave it to me when I was born, and it suits me just fine. I know who I am. Thank you.

—WILLIAM

DEAR ABBY: A hippie is a runaway, a cop-out, an escapist. He has nothing to contribute to society and hangs around with people like himself, sharing that "nothing." He gives the appearance of being unwashed and his hair is long and wild. He dresses in a manner to attract attention while insisting that all he wants is to be left alone to do his "thing." (His "thing" is doing nothing.) He shouts about his "right" to discover his own identity and to be "himself." Then he turns on with marijuana and LSD, and can't remember where he's been or who he is.

A hippie is anti-establishment, anti-church, anti-conformist, and anti-everything. But if you line up these "individualists" side by side, you can't tell one from the other.

A 23-YEAR-OLD FOGEY

DEAR ABBY: A "hippie" is something that looks like a Jack, dresses like a Jill, and smells like a John.

DEAR ABIGAIL: So you want to know what a hippie is? Please pay attention: "Untoiled, one who sprang forth unattended, a random product of some indifferent mating process." Cheers! TOM LEARY

DEAR ABBY: "Define a hippie," you say. When I hear "respectable" (and narrow-minded) women my age making caustic remarks about "hippies," I have felt that this sort of confrontation has occurred again and again through history. So I finally broke into verse. Here is my poem:

"What are these persons—bearded, shabby and not over-clean, who preach against our emperor, our legions and our shrines?"
"My dear, they are a strange sect call Christians, I believe."
Cook it, kids, no lions this time. Merely jail or fines! I fear my sympathies lie entirely with the younger people. Sincerely,

HERMONA BEACH GRANDMA

Petition Asks More Patrols

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A petition asking for more patrols in the business section of Brownwood was presented to the City Council and Police Chief Bill Donahoo Tuesday by a group of Brownwood businessmen.

The petition said cases of theft and vandalism were becoming so frequent, the extra patrols were necessary.

Donahoo said the force did not have enough men to handle the extra patrols and that such a measure would require additional funds.

Hereford Drive

HEREFORD (AP) — The Hereford United Fund has reported that this year's drive is 70 per cent completed. Some $30,000 has been collected toward the $28,000 goal.

Will Setting Up Home 'For Aged White Men' OK'd

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court upheld today a Midland woman's will setting up a home "for aged white men." The court affirmed lower court action in deleting the word "white" but leaving the rest of the will alone.

Mrs. Jessie Wallace Bowden, who owned Midland county property valued at $400,000, attempted to set up a charitable trust for the purpose of establishing the home.

Heirs who would have divided her estate if the will was voided said the will's discriminatory clause was contrary to public policy.

The trial court cut out the offending word, and the Court of Civil Appeals affirmed the trial court. The Supreme Court previously ruled the lower courts committed no reversible errors. Today, the court denied a motion by the heirs for a rehearing.

The Court of Civil Appeals said the "dominant and primary purpose of (Mrs. Bowden) trust...she may have preferred the home...to be limited to white men, but this was not her dominant purpose in establishing this trust, and the trial court in our opinion acted with correct analysis when it deleted the word 'white' in order to enable the obvious dominant purpose of this charitable trust to be put into effect."

Don Drysdale Wife Beater?

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Don Drysdale, 33-year-old former pitching ace of the Los Angeles Dodgers, has been accused by his wife of beating her more than 30 times.

Ginger Drysdale, also 33, is a onetime model who was a Tournament of Roses princess in 1957.

She also said in a divorce action filed Tuesday that Drysdale subjected her to assault and battery last Wednesday and that they separated on Monday. Married 11 years, they have a 10-year-old daughter.

Mrs. Drysdale's petition said her husband's annual income exceeds $100,000 and that their community property in worth more than $500,000.

Drysdale retired Aug. 11 after aggravating an old shoulder injury.

Retention Boards Named In Austin

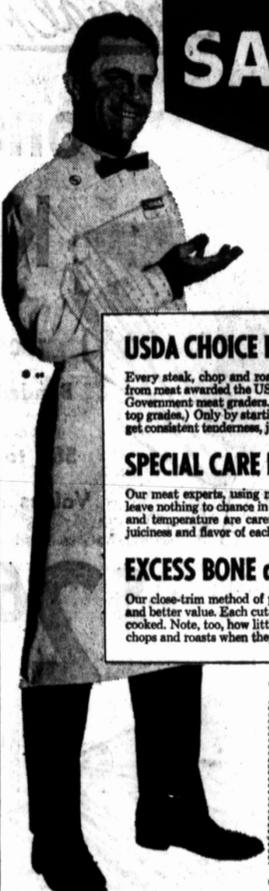

AUSTIN — Three boards designed to assure retention of capable officers of the Texas Army and Air National Guard beyond 20 years of service have been named in Austin by Maj. Gen. Ross Ayers, the Texas adjutant general.

Two Army boards, called Selective Retention boards, will review records of officers after completion of 20 years or more of qualifying service. In addition, the boards will provide a means of recommending qualified officers for promotion. The Air Guard board will act in an identical capacity.

Gen. Ayers, in naming the boards, noted that they would review the individual performances of officers and recommend selection and retention solely on the basis of proficiency.

Carnival Worker Facing Murder Charges In Paris

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Paris officers have filed murder with malice charges against a 39-year-old carnival worker, Leonard Francis Sprague, in connection with the June 17 disappearance of a 9-year-old Paris

Negro, Jimmy Scott.

Sprague was arrested in Aransas Pass Monday and transported to Austin, where he underwent polygraph tests, said Paris police.

He had submitted to a lie detector test in the case here last June, but findings proved negative.

Texas Rangers and Paris detectives returned him to Paris early today.

He was formally charged before Justice of the Peace L. A. Merritt and bond was denied.

Horoscope

TOMORROW — CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until noon, your judgment as well as the judgment of others is apt to be erroneous and you would be wise to discontinue what- ever arises. Then wait until later in the day before putting any new plan in effect. However, the afternoon finds you able to get conditions organized at your home so that they operate much better in the future.

Suing Union For Bundle

HOUSTON (AP) — A. D. Downer, 43, former secretary-treasurer of a Meat Cutter and Butcher Union Local, is suing the national union for $2 million in damages, claiming union officials made malicious statements about him.

Downer said he was removed from office and his reputation was damaged because he campaigned for more power for the local union of Amalgamated Meat Cutter and Butcher Workmen of North America AFL-CIO.

He was elected to the post of the Allied Food Workers District Union 103 in 1966 but removed from office two years later by the national union.

The suit alleges the union leaders conspired to remove Downer from his $200 a week post.

Downer formerly was Shelby County attorney in Shelby County (Center), a state representative from Shelby and Panola counties, (Carthage) and an assistant district attorney in Fort Worth.

Three-Continent Affair Charged

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mary Elliot Cummings, suing actor Robert Cummings for separate maintenance, says he uses drugs and has carried on a three-continent affair with a divorcee.

Cummings, 59, sued for divorce March 6 charging cruelty. In her action filed Tuesday, Mrs. Cummings, 51, alleged cruelty, desertion and infidelity.

Mrs. Cummings named as co-defendant Regina Fong, 31, described as a native of the Portuguese colony of Macao on the China coast. The complaint said Cummings had been with the former secretary in Hong Kong, New York and Paris, and traveled across America with her in a camper.

The complaint declared Cummings had been using methadone since 1965 and in recent years had undertaken losing business ventures on the advice of astrologers and numerologists.

Mr. and Mrs. Cummings were married March 3, 1945, and have five children.

MRS. ARNOLD MARSHALL

Mayor's Wife Wants Quick, Easy Recipes

By RHODA LEMONS
Mayor Arnold Marshall and his energetic wife, Rachel (or Peggy as she is known) have lived in Big Spring 29 years and have a lovely home at 700 Highland. They have one daughter, Nancy, 25, who is attending the Academy of Royal Arts in Madrid, Spain.

Nancy attended Texas Christian University until her junior year when she went to the University of Madrid. She speaks fluent Italian, Spanish and English and some French. After graduation from college, she came home and then decided to go back to Spain, hoping to work in the American Embassy. While awaiting response from her application, she is taking more courses to further her career.

Marshall, owner of the H. W. Smith Transport Company, believes that his job as mayor of Big Spring is "just a small return on the investment of having been privileged to live in this town."

Mrs. Marshall, who has a cholesterol problem, must exercise strenuously each day to keep it under control. She plays golf at least twice weekly, does most of her housework and is always busy at something.

The day of the interview, she had baked a chocolate pie before 7 a.m., golfed during the morning, straightened her home and was preparing to cook dinner. Her husband's favorite food is steak, which he gets often, and Mrs. Marshall's favorite recipes are those that are tasty and quick to prepare.

"I hate dishes with tons of ingredients that cost a fortune to prepare," she said.

Mrs. Marshall has a fetish about homemade ice cream. In summer, she prepares it almost every day, and in winter, when company comes.

By the nature of his business, the Marshalls are asked out a great deal and are included in all the city's functions. They entertain frequently, mostly at home, and usually about 24 people. Mrs. Marshall does not entertain elaborately but as simply as possible.

"Arnold cooks the meat outdoors on the grill, and I arrange everything buffet style," said Mrs. Marshall. Her dessert is often homemade ice cream.

Mrs. Marshall sews, and until Nancy was 15, made almost her entire wardrobe. "I don't have to sew as much now as I did," said Mrs. Marshall, "but I made a lot of the clothes she took to Spain with her."

Both Mr. and Mrs. Marshall belong to a "42" dinner club which meets once monthly. "I play bridge occasionally, but that is really not my game," said Mrs. Marshall.

Her husband's favorite hobbies are hunting and fishing, which he gets to do once about every five years, according to Mrs. Marshall. "When he does get away, he really has a ball," she said.

Good Buys Listed For November

Turkeys and canned peaches top the list of foods currently in abundant supply.

November marketing of turkeys is expected to run about the same as last year, while cold storage holdings are slightly above average. This year's peach crop for processing is estimated at 78.6 million bushels — the largest in 10 years. Carryover stocks are high, too, which means a lot of peaches on the grocery shelf.

Other foods reported plentiful this month by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service include fresh apples, sweet potatoes and potatoes, broilers, canned and frozen green beans, dry beans and rice.

Apples fill the bill for tasty out-of-hand eating. They're great snack favorites with young and old alike. You'll find baked apples are a special family treat served on cool autumn evenings.

Chicken paves the way to good, economical eating. You can make the dish simple or exotic — depending on preference and the amount of time you have to spend.

Although the current rice crop fell short of last year's large production, the carryover makes supplies the second largest of record. Versatile rice can serve as a breakfast cereal, an accompaniment to meat and vegetable dishes or a dessert.

A record-large fall production of Irish potatoes will be moving to market. And this is the peak season for sweet potatoes. Include both in your meal plans.

Keep these foods in mind in your November shopping. Your Thanksgiving table will abound with plentiful foods.

Cook Green Beans On Outdoor Grill

Next time you're having a cookout supper, surprise your family with green beans also cooked on the outdoor grill. Nothing could be easier. There will be no pots and pans to wash and no slaving over a hot stove. Diagonal-cut green beans, seasoned with onion, bacon and cheese are a "snapping" good accompaniment for all grilled meats.

Place one can (16 ounces) drained diagonal-cut green beans on a large square of double thickness aluminum foil. Season with salt and pepper. Top with one tablespoon chopped onion, one tablespoon butter and one strip of bacon, diced. Bring edges of foil up; seal tightly.

Place on grill over hot coals; heat about 25 minutes. Remove from heat and open foil package. Sprinkle beans with one-fourth cup shredded Parmesan cheese. Heat until cheese melts. This makes four servings.

Use Other Flavors

When you are frosting chocolate cake you have a number of flavors to choose from. Frosting flavored with vanilla or orange, coffee or mint will go well with the cake.

Try Flaky Piecrust

Upper piecrust will be more flaky if it is brushed lightly with cold water just before it is popped into the oven.

TASTY CARAMEL APPLES
Give a treat, not a trick

Make Caramel Apples For Hob-Goblin Set

Halloween is just around the corner. That's reason enough for getting out a pot and "brewing" a batch or two of Caramel Apples. They're a treat for all ages. Youngsters, specially, love biting into the creamy, rich coating enveloping the crisp fruit. And Caramel Apples are always best in autumn when juicy apples are in peak condition.

Your own little hobgoblins can get into the act, it's that easy to make the luscious confections! They're great "as is" but... let pint-size cooks exercise their imagination. They can add decorative touches with goodies such as marshmallows, crushed peanut brittle, chopped nuts, coconut, raisins, decorating "mini-candies," cinnamon candies, gumdrops and jelly beans. They'll have lots of fun fashioning funny faces, pop art patterns and all sorts of tasty trimming effects such as the delightful version pictured — Caramel Corn Apples.

Dairy-fresh caramels are always available in 14-ounce "see-through" bags — the right size for one batch of Caramel Apples. During the fall caramel apple "season," you'll find the sticks packed right on the bag of caramels. Before you start making these popular treats, wash the apples well in warm water to remove any wax or dust. Then, dry them thoroughly so that the scrumptious candy coating clings well to the fruit.

Here are the simple directions for Caramel Apples. Wash and dry four or five medium size apples. In a double boiler or saucepan over low heat, melt #9 (14-oz. bag) caramels with two tablespoons water. Stir occasionally until sauce is smooth. Insert a wooden stick into stem end of each apple. Dip into hot caramel sauce; turn until coated. Scrape off excess sauce from bottom of apple. Place on greased waxed paper; chill until firm. Keep in a cool place.

CARAMEL CORN APPLES
Before chilling Caramel Apples, roll in popcorn. Place popcorn around stem end of apple. Then, place apples on greased wax paper and chill and store according to directions for caramel apples.

MINCEMEAT COFFEE RING — A fall brunch for good friends or just the family gives a warm welcome to the new season. The star is a beautiful glazed bread that's easy to make. The silver plate is Wm. Rogers "Desert Rose," the pattern being offered Imperial Sugar users in a new five-piece setting.

Use Imperial Sugar For Favorite Recipes

This year do something different to herald the beginning of the autumn season. A festive brunch is a pleasant way to entertain. And it can be as fancy or as casual as you want to make it.

Along with the generous spread of brunch foods, you'll want to feature an interesting bread, of course. Here's an easy one, a quick bread called Mincemeat Coffee Ring. It is glazed and tastes especially good served warm.

With prepared mincemeat available year-round, it's a joy to discover another delicious way to use it. The recipe comes from the popular anniversary collection of recipes compiled by Imperial Sugar Company.

MINCEMEAT COFFEE RING
2 cups sifted flour
¾ cup Imperial Granulated Sugar
2½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
1-3 cup shortening
1 egg, well beaten
½ cup milk
¾ cup moist mincemeat
Sift flour, Imperial Granulated Sugar, baking powder and salt into bowl. Cut in shortening with pastry blender or two knives until mixture resembles coarse corn meal.

Blend together the egg, milk and mincemeat; add to flour mixture; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened. Turn batter into a well-greased 1½ quart ring mold. Bake at 375 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes or until cake tester or wooden pick comes out clean. Cool about 10 minutes on rack before removing from mold. While still warm, drizzle glaze over top and sides.

GLAZE
Combine one tablespoon butter and one and one-half tablespoons hot milk; stir until butter is melted. Add one cup

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Rub chicken that is to be broiled with a cut lemon, then baste with melted butter during the broiling process.

Some good cooks like to start a turkey or chicken roasting with the breast down, then turn so that the breast is up during the last half of the roasting period.

It's not necessary to core or peel apples when making apple sauce; just put them through a food mill after cooking.

When you are barbecuing spareribs in the oven, you may wish to cover the pan during the roasting; if so, be sure to uncover the meat about half an hour before done.

Nothing in the house for lunch? Serve canned vegetables in a cream or cheese sauce with hardcooked eggs. Garnish with crisp bacon if there are a few slices on hand.

Mushrooms make a good addition to the usual combination of cooked peas and carrots.

Some outdoor cooks say that if hamburgers are grilled close to white-hot coals, turning to near both sides, you can cut down on shrinkage.

Steak sandwiches make beef go a long way! Nice for outdoors or indoors next time you're having a snack party.

Brew Batch Of Syrupy Popcorn Balls For Treat

Good little ghosts and goblins go for popcorn balls sparkling with the tantalizing taste of sorghum. This lively flavor imparted its tempting tang to treats in grandmother's day, but to many modern day youngsters it is delightfully new. This pure golden-syrup glids the popcorn balls with bright eye-appeal as well as taste-appeal; and when you turn them into jack-o-lanterns with bits of gumdrops for faces, you'll have treats that will captivate Halloween callers completely.

There's a happy surprise in store for you, too, when you discover what mellow richness sorghum adds to cakes, cookies and desserts... how it sasses up sauces with zesty new interest.

2 tbsps. butter
½ tsp. salt
2 cups sorghum
1 cup sugar

Combine these four ingredients and bring to a slow boil. Boil to the hard ball stage, 280 degrees. Remove from heat and pour over six quarts of freshly popped corn. When cool enough to handle, butter hands and shape into balls. While still warm, use gumdrop slices to make jack-o-lantern faces.

Seek Qualified Black Officers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A task force of high-level Los Angeles police officers is slated to embark within a month on a lengthy tour of Negro colleges in the Deep South. Its mission: to recruit black policemen.

Inspector Merton Howe, the department's chief of staff, announced the plan Tuesday. He said the task force would be gone between six weeks and two months in an effort to "recruit as many black college students as we possibly can."

The idea stemmed from a letter to Police Chief Edward Davis from C. E. King III, a leader in the Los Angeles black community who heads the volunteer Rumor Control and Information Center.

King, who wrote to Davis last Aug. 29 when the latter assumed office, noted that a similar drive a few years ago in white schools of the South brought in many applicants.

Howe said at present only about five per cent of the 6,000-man force are Negroes. He added that the search for more would be made in the South because "we haven't been able to recruit enough of the college level minority officers in Los Angeles."

He listed two major reasons for the failure locally.

"One I've heard is that members of the Negro community ostracize those who become police officers. Also, with community relations being stressed so much, many minority people with the qualifications can find positions they like better and which pay more elsewhere."

Jack Slip Kills Texas Patrolman

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) — Sgt. Floyd W. Ethridge, 35, of the Texas Highway Patrol was killed Tuesday night when his state car slipped off a jack and fell on him.

He was working on the vehicle at his home in Palestine. Ethridge, married and father of a son, 13, joined the Department of Public Safety May 16, 1957.

After graduation from the training academy he was stationed at Brownsville until his promotion to sergeant Dec. 1, 1965, and transfer to Childress. He was sent here last Feb. 1.

monthly. Howe also disclosed plans to implement another suggestion by King—the establishment of a police complaint center. It will be manned, Howe said, by a black, a brown and a white, each empowered to handle the complaints of his own ethnic group.

Wool Prices Due To Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wool prices paid farmers are expected to drop slightly next year because of rising competition from man-made fibers and a record world output, says the Agriculture Department.

Prices through the first nine months of 1969 have averaged about 4 per cent more than a year earlier but are expected to be "a shade below" this in 1970, officials said.

The department said U.S. wool production next year is expected to continue the decline of the past decade, though probably at less than the 6 per cent drop of 1969.

Total shorn wool output this year was estimated at 167 million pounds, grease basis. Mill use was estimated at 220 million to 225 million pounds in 1969, compared with 238 million last year.

Officials said, however, that "some recovery" in total wool use by textile mills is likely next year because of somewhat lower prices and an expected rise in consumer demand for wool apparel.

Imports of apparel wool textiles during January-August were 12 per cent more than for the first eight months of 1968, the report said.

Imports of raw wool, however, dropped 29 per cent during January-August. For the year, the department said, raw wool imports probably will total 110 million to 115 million pounds, clean content, compared with 130 million in 1968.

The smaller output of wool reflects a long-time downtrend in the number of U.S. sheep and lambs. Officials estimated 21.1 million head on farms last Jan. 1, compared with 22.1 million a year earlier.

Sheep and lamb production rose during the late 1950s and totaled 33.2 million in 1960, but have declined steadily each year since.

Farm And Ranch Center To Open

Ribbon-cutting ceremonies are set for 11:30 a.m. Saturday for the grand opening of the new Jay's Farm & Ranch Service Center, Inc., 600 E. 3rd. Mayor J. Arnold Marshall and the Ambassadors Club of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce will be on hand.

Jay Cunningham, a veteran of 16 years association in the feed business in Big Spring, manages the new facility, which holds the city's exclusive franchise for famous Purina products.

Formerly occupied by an automobile agency, the building at East Third and Austin has some 9,600 square feet of floor space, displaying many varieties of farm, yard and garden products, in addition to feed and tack gear.

Customers can drive right into the building to load their purchases, and Cunningham plans to have a complete feed mill in operation within 60 days.

Hours of operation will be 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday. Coffee and doughnuts will be served at Saturday's grand opening. Jay's is not hard to find. Look for the big Purina checkerboard.

Handy Item For Football Games

If you get cold feet over a ballgame, the Key Club and Kiwanis Club are prepared to help your situation.

Club members will be offering Snug Bugs, similar to a half sleeping bag, at the next two home football games. The first will be here Friday at the Midland game, the second Nov. 14 at the Odessa Permian game.

The bags, made of rain and wind resistant nylon quilted over heavy polyester insulation, have an elastic top to fit around the waist and zipper half way down the side to make it easy to get into and out of.

The stadium bags are 3 1/2 feet long, so that the tallest person will be comfortable. Cost of the bags are $12.50 each.

The bidding:
South West North East
1♥ Pass 2♥ Pass
3♦ Pass 4♥ Pass
Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠
A slight slip in timing proved fatal to declarer's cause in today's hand. The bidding was straightforward and North and South reached a four heart contract routinely.

West opened the king of clubs and the ace was played from dummy. Declarer apparently had to lose three tricks in the spade suit, so that the fate of the contract appeared to hinge on the trump situation. In his haste to find out how the hearts split, South promptly cashed the ace and king.

When East showed out on the second round, declarer's prospects were considerably dimmed. He continued by taking his top diamonds and ruffing a third round in dummy. A club was trumped in the closed hand to enable South to ruff out his remaining diamond. Another club was trumped with the four of hearts bringing declarer's trick total to nine—five aces and kings in hearts, diamonds and clubs and two ruffs in each of the minor suits.

South was still left with one trump, the nine of hearts and, if there were some way to lead from the dummy at this stage, he could have put his trump card to good use by ruffing out North's last club for the game fulfilling trick. Since he was in his hand, however, he had to surrender the lead, and after West drew the last trump with the queen of hearts, the defenders took the remaining tricks.

South's mistake was quite simple to avoid. At trick two, he should have led a club from dummy in order to get in an early ruff. He could now cash two top trumps and if the hearts split, everything becomes routine.

When the queen of hearts holds out, South begins his cross-ruff, as before. The only difference is that, with one ruff already in, declarer is in position when the last club is led from dummy to put his nine of hearts to effective use to score the 10th trick. The defense has no effective counter-measure at their disposal.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE H. HAYWARD

Reception To Honor The G. H. Haywards

Mr. and Mrs. George Hobson Hayward will be honored on the occasion of their Golden Wedding anniversary with an open house Saturday in the Hayward home at 502 Hillside Drive.

Hosting the affair will be the couple's children, Mrs. H. H. Wyatt Jr. (Dora Ann) of Wichita Falls; Mrs. Harold Hall (Dorothy Dee) of Big Spring and G. H. Hayward Jr. of Fort Worth, along with their husbands and wife. Calling hours will be from 3 to 6 p.m., and all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Members of the house party will be Mrs. Ed Black, Mrs. A. A. Grauman, Mrs. Ray Fleeman of Odessa, Mrs. W. D. Berry, Miss Dee Ann Wyatt of Wichita Falls, a granddaughter; and Mrs. H. M. Hall Jr. of Houston, wife of a grandson.

Mrs. Hayward, who will wear a gold knit dress, will be presented an orchid corsage, and Hayward will receive a gold boutonniere.

The refreshment table, which will be laid with a white, flounced cloth and appointed with silver, will be centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with gold wedding bells and the numerals, "50". Silver punch and coffee services will be placed at each end of the table. The punch ladle, made by Hayward's great-grandfather, a silversmith in England, has been in the family for four generations. Gold candles will be used, and gardenias and greenery will form a semi-circle around the cake.

Out-of-town guests are expected from Abilene, Fort Worth, Hamlin and Dallas.

Bobbie Allen and George H. Hayward were married Nov. 2, 1919, at Moran in the home of her parents. They lived in Moran where he was cashier of the First National Bank until 1923, when he joined the Internal Revenue Service and they lived in Wichita Falls and Abilene. In 1928, they moved to Big Spring when he became a manager for Mrs. Dora Roberts. He has been an independent oil operator since 1952.

Hayward is a director of the First National Bank and the Salvation Army, holding membership in the Independent Petroleum Association of America, West Central Oil and Gas Association, Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association, National Society of Public Accountants and West Texas Chamber of Commerce, which he served as director in 1948.

The Haywards are members of the College Baptist Church. Mrs. Hayward has taught a Sunday school class for 35 years.

The couple has five grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

MRS. PORTER MOTLEY

Knott Teacher To Get Award

Mrs. Porter Motley of Knott was selected one of four recipients of the second annual Tops 'N Awards for community service.

The non-partisan awards program was established last year by the Texas Federation of Republican Women and the Republican Party's women division. It seeks to honor the "unsung heroines of Texas" whose community service goes largely unpublicized.

Their awards will be presented by Mrs. Spiro T. Agnew, wife of the vice president, at the Federation's Awards Banquet Friday night at Villa Capri Convention Center in Austin.

The winners are selected from statewide nominations. This year's panel of judges consisted of Texas women who themselves are active in community service projects.

Mrs. Motley impressed the panel with her efforts to help Mexican-Americans learn English in order to improve their educational opportunities.

A teacher for 36 years, she organized a first-year program, "Pre First" in the small Martin County school community of Grady. Through the PTA, she started another program. It dealt with English classes for mothers of "Pre First" students. Her intention was to not only provide a broad base education foundation for the student, but to help the students' mothers who wanted to learn English.

"She not only gave up her own time for this program, but almost lost the sight in one eye," said Mrs. Buddy Roper of Andrews in nominating her. "Although she was warned by doctors to stop the volunteer teaching, she considered her programs and her children too important."

Mrs. J. Bayne Discusses Trip

Mrs. John Bayne discussed her trip to South America last summer at Tuesday's meeting of the Faculty Ma'ams in the home of Mrs. Dawson De Viney, 1745 Purdue. Mrs. W. T. Rutledge Jr. was cohostess.

Mrs. Bayne described customs and living habits of people in South America and told of the highlights of her tour. She displayed gifts brought back from the countries she visited.

Miss Lalla Layton was introduced as a guest. The next meeting will be Nov. 25 in the home of Mrs. Wayne Bonner, 2504 Larry, with Mrs. David King as cohostess.

Plans Carnival

Plans were made to participate in the Jaycee Halloween carnival slated Friday and Saturday at Tuesday's meeting of the Opti-Mrs. Club in the home of Mrs. Jess Looney, 611 Colgate. Mrs. Bill Reynolds presided. The next meeting will be Nov. 18 in Coker's Restaurant, with Mrs. Gene Haston as hostess.

FORMER RESIDENTS Tom Spencers Observe Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Spencer, formerly of Big Spring, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday afternoon in the Comanche Garden Club at Comanche.

The couple was married in Winters on Oct. 26, 1919, and moved to Big Spring in 1926. He farmed in the Luther community until 1952, when they moved to their present home near Comanche.

A tall brass candelabrum, entwined with gold grapes and chrysanthemums, centered the table. Crystal and brass appointments completed the setting.

Mr. Spencer's table was covered with a brown linen cloth and centered with a matching brass candelabrum. The chocolate cake was decorated with gold roses, and a brass coffee service was used. Gifts of floral arrangements were used throughout the home.

Those in the house party were Mrs. Harold Blair, Mrs. Vernon Harrison, Mrs. Edna Blanchard, Mrs. A. L. Civinettes Plan Drive For Children's Shoes

Plans were made for an annual drive to provide shoes for school-age children at Tuesday's meeting of the Civinettes in the home of Mrs. Eddie Trice, 1309 Mt. Vernon. This is a project of the Civinettes which the Civinettes assist with each year.

Local merchants have agreed to donate some shoes, but there will be a further need for good, used shoes. Tentative plans were discussed for a door-to-door canvass, and if anyone has shoes to give to this project, call Mrs. Tom Merrill, 263-4038. They will be donated in December, and the children will be fitted for their sizes.

Mrs. Mike Hull presided. A banquet was slated for 7 p.m., Nov. 7, at the Holiday Inn. Dr. J. Ben Wilson, Texas District governor of the Civitans, will be guest of honor and principle speaker.

Tentative plans were announced for a party honoring work village residents at Big Spring State Hospital. The time and date will be set later.

Four new members, Mrs. Henry Brewer, Mrs. Ronnie Reeves, Mrs. Richard Porter and Mrs. Mike Craddock, were welcomed. The next meeting will be Nov. 18 in the home of Mrs. Henry Brewer, 2513 Carol.
