GROUP OF REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMEN

Move To Impeach Justice Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP)—Preliminary work on a possible move to seek impeachment of Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas has been started by a group of Republican congressmen with the blessing of the party leadership.

A spokesman for House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan said the organizers of the move told Ford of their plans and he is keeping in touch with them, but is not personally engaged in searching for evidence to support a possible impeachment resolution.

"He is not discouraging them from going on," the spokesman said.

He quoted Ford as saying that the move against Douglas should not be related to confirmation or rejection by the Senate of President Nixon's nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

But he said Ford added: "If Haynsworth is rejected on the Birch Bayh standards, then the same standards should be applied to all members of the Supreme Court."

Sen. Bayh, D-Ind., is a leader of Senate opposition to Haynsworth's confirmation.

A Republican Congress member who has been a consistent critic of Douglas said, however, it appears to him the issue appears to be "if Haynsworth is not confirmed, we'll go after Douglas."

This member, who would not be quoted by name, said he had not been consulted about the pending move, but that it appears Ford is a prime mover in it.

Much of the recent criticism of Douglas relates to his serving as a salaried officer of the Parvin Foundation of Los Angeles, which received some funds from gambling interests. Douglas severed that connection earlier this year.

Under the Constitution, impeachment proceedings against federal officers, including judges, must begin in the House. If the House acting as a sort of grand jury, votes an impeachment resolution, the accused official is tried by the Senate.

Employment Hits Record High In U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's total employment edged up in October to an all-time high of 70.6 million, on a seasonally adjusted basis, and unemployment declined slightly following the big jump of a month before, the government said today.

But the average work week, overtime work and average pay all declined, signaling a possible economic turnaround later, said Asst. Commissioner Harold Goldstein of the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The total number of unemployed last month dropped about 119,000 and the national jobless rate dropped from 4 per cent to 3.9 per cent of the civilian labor force. The bureau adjusts the figures in line with usual seasonal employment changes.

The jobless total in October included 906,000 men for a 2.4 per cent unemployment rate, 1.1 million women for a 4 per cent rate and 836,000 teenagers for a 13 per cent rate.

Plotting New Drives To Cut Arms Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate defense costs critics are plotting new drives to cut arms spending, including curbing the Safeguard antimissile system, despite their largely unsuccessful efforts with the $20.7 billion military procurement authorization bill.

Leaders of the bipartisan coalition opposing the administration's missile defense proposal began laying their latest plans even before Thursday's 58-9 Senate vote sent the compromise procurement bill to the White House.

Their new target is the $70 billion-plus defense appropriations measure scheduled for consideration next month.

But the efforts to amend the money bill by limiting Safeguard funds to research could be hampered by pressures to end the year-long congressional session and adjourn for the Christmas holidays.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., announced the plans to make new assaults not only on the Safeguard but on other items in the appropriations measure.

President Nixon is expected to sign within the next few days the authorization measure that drew some criticism during a three-hour final debate Thursday. The House approved it in just a few minutes by voice vote Wednesday.

While this will clear the way for consideration of appropriations legislation, Pentagon backers in the House appear to have set up a schedule that will make it difficult for Proxmire and the anti-Safeguard forces to mount a major fight.

Assault Outposts Defending Saigon

PRESIDENT GREETED ON FLORIDA ARRIVAL — President Nixon was greeted by Home-Steak Air Force Base personnel and their dependents on his arrival Thursday with Mrs. Nixon to spend a long weekend at their bayside home at Key Biscayne, Fla. Nixon will mix relaxation with conferences with cabinet members and advisors.

Senator Sends Forsan A Flag For Post Office Dedication

An American flag which has flown over the capitol building in Washington, D.C., has been received in Forsan from Sen. John Tower to fly over Sunday's dedication of the town's new post office, but Officer in Charge of the Post Office, Edward L. Engel, said today he has not received confirmation on whether or not the senator himself will be on hand.

Other honored guests who plan to attend include E. I. Fisher, postal service officer, Abilene; C. J. Lamb, mayor of Forsan; Frank Hardesty, postmaster, Big Spring; H. D. Smith, superintendent of Forsan schools; Edward L. Engel, and Mrs. Vera Harris, Forsan's postmaster from 1933 until 1968.

The new post office opened for business Thursday about a block down the street from the original post office building which was right in the center of town. Nearly 80 boxes of the available 144 key-lock type were rented the first day, according to the officer in charge.

The building itself, owned by Wallace L. Boulit, San Antonio, and leased to the federal government, cost $11,000 to build and sits on a lot 35 feet by 70 feet which cost Boulit about $400.

Engel explained that the new building is part of a lease construction program of the postal department which allows the facilities to remain under private ownership and be leased to the federal government.

"This gives the department flexibility in adapting its building program to changes in mail volume, transportation, and population. It also eliminates the need for large money outlays from the treasury," Engel said.

The third class post office encompasses 768 square feet of work space and has been approved for three employees. Two are working there now, however; Engel and Mrs. Alma Rose Murphy, Forsan, who is the post office clerk.

The old post office, the building itself still belongs to Mrs. Vera Harris, was opened in 1929 with Mrs. Gladys Arnold as postmaster. Mrs. Harris took over the post in 1933 and served until her retirement in 1968. Mrs. Audrey Bardwell was postmaster until April of this year, when Engel, who is from Big Spring, took over as officer in charge.

'Phantom' Gives Away $100 Bills

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — He's dark haired, in his 20s, probably bearded and driving a silver-green Pontiac. He gives away $100 bills.

Nobody knows why, except maybe the Indian, if he is an Indian, and he isn't telling.

It's a complete mystery to a college professor, a retired farmer, a service station attendant and a teenage girl who got the bills.

"It's really weird," John Tackett, editor of the Stephenville Daily Empire, said Thursday. "We call him the Phantom Philanthropist."

He said residents of the Stephenville area, southwest of Fort Worth, still are "buzzing with excitement over the possibility he may return and unload a $100 bill on them."

The mystery gifts were bestowed on four persons Sunday but the story only came to light after the recipients visited banks to check the legitimacy of the bills.

Larry Newlin, who pumps gas at a station in nearby De Leon, apparently was the first to catch the mystery man in his bountiful mood.

Newlin said the man gave him a $100 bill to pay for $6 worth of gas and told him: "You lucky boy, go ahead and keep the change."

Noting Newlin's dumbfounded look, the man added, "Go over there and see the Indian and he'll tell you what this is all about."

Newlin said he approached the man indicated, who was standing near the service station, and asked him for an explanation.

"No savvy," was all the man would say. "It looks like you're $100 richer," a banker told Dr. Robert Fain, a science professor at Tarleton State College.

SWARM OF CHOPPERS — A swarm of choppers, their rotors humming, sweep into a jungle clearing about 55 miles northwest of Saigon during raid by members of the 1st Cavalry Division on a North Vietnamese battalion headquarters along enemy infiltration route from Cambodia. Each chopper or helicopter carries six or seven soldiers.

AIDS VETERANS Poppy Day Is Saturday

Poppies will be distributed Saturday to honor veterans of American wars and proceeds will aid disabled veterans. The tiny, scarlet paper flowers are made by men in Veterans Hospitals. Flowers distributed Saturday have been made at Kerrville and Temple VA hospitals.

The American Legion Auxiliary will supervise the distribution of the bushels of poppies by local youth groups, and members of the American Legion Post 355 will assist. Participating groups named by poppy chairman, Mrs. Halvard Hansen, are the Key Club, Future Homemakers of America, and student council at Big Spring High School; Rainbow Girls; American Legion Junior Auxiliary; and the youth group at the Church of God in Christ.

Poppies will be distributed all day Saturday at shopping centers and downtown for contributions. The contributions go to a number of projects aiding needy veterans. A large percentage of the donations are used daily at the local VA Hospital. Each Monday the American Legion comfort wagon visits patients, carrying toilet items, stamps, stationery, candy, gum, and other small sundries. Patients may choose whatever they need at no cost.

Monthly bingo parties with prizes are held for patients and refreshments are served. Also, the American Legion provides refreshments for the Chaplain's Coffee Hour, held about twice a month.

Other services to the veterans include the Gift Shop at the hospital. The gifts, suitable for every member of the family, may be chosen at no cost to the patient and sent gift-wrapped to his family for Christmas. Presents for birthdays may also be sent. The gifts are donated by various local organizations. Gifts are wrapped and mailed by volunteers headed by Mrs. Zelda Rea, American Legion Auxiliary. When a patient is bedridden, a cart filled with a selection of gifts is brought to him by the Legion volunteer.

Part of the donations from the poppies is used to give a $200 scholarship to Howard County Junior College. The scholarship is for a veteran's child who is a graduate of a Howard County high school. In the past, several scholarships have also been given to students wishing to take vocational nurses training.

During the holidays the poppy donations are used to send baskets of food to needy veterans' families. Just before Christmas, Post 355 and the Auxiliary visit every patient and give them a card with a new, crisp dollar bill.

In addition, clothing is given to veterans in nursing homes who have no family to provide for them. Hospital equipment, such as crutches, wheelchairs and beds, are provided to needy community residents, veterans and non-veterans, for care of the sick.

The wearing of the poppy symbolizes the concern the community holds for its men who have given their lives or health for the service of their country.

Astronomers Think There's Life On Venus

AUSTIN (AP) — The University of Texas said Thursday that a majority of scientists at a recent astronomers' meeting agreed some form of airborne life may exist in the heavy atmosphere of Venus.

A discussion was held last month at the 40th International Astronomical Union Symposium at Maastricht about the possibility of life on Venus and Mars, the university said in a news release.

Attending the symposium were some 100 scientists, including four Russians.

One of the ten professors in charge of the meeting was Dr. Harlan Smith, UT-Austin astronomy professor and director of the McDonald Observatory near Marfa.

"Although speculation was raised that the polar caps of Venus might be cool enough to allow the existence of life, the only agreement that could be reached at the symposium was that airborne life could exist in the middle levels of its atmosphere, which is so much like an ocean," the UT statement said.

The depth of the atmosphere below Venus' cloud-cover is estimated at 40 miles, with a pressure about 100 times that of the Earth's atmosphere, or 1,500 pounds per square inch, the statement said.

"The Russian scientists confirmed information from their first Venus probe and ground-based astronomy on Venusian conditions with the information received from their last two probes, Venera 5 and 6. Venus' atmosphere is approximately 90 per cent carbon dioxide. The surface temperature is approximately 500 degrees centigrade over the entire planet," it said.

"Based on spectroscopic examination, the Venusian clouds seem to be composed of hydrated ferrous chloride, a form of dust composed of iron and chlorine combined with a moderate amount of water."

"A very detailed account of Mariners 6 and 7 was given," Smith said. "These two fly-bys produced more new information on Mars than the Russian probes did on Venus."

They attributed that mainly to improved equipment on the second and third American probes to Mars, while the Russians' second and third Venus probes were no improvement over the first Venera craft.

Smith said detailed surface studies by television showed the existence of low-level clouds or ground fog in some regions on Mars at various times of the day.

Guy Gets Real Obscene Letter

TERRA LINDA, Calif. (AP) — Taking advantage of a new federal law, a young man has notified the post office he considers obscene a letter ordering him to appear for a preinduction physical.

With tongue in cheek, Robert Blanch, 20, filed a notice with Postal Supt. Frank Ely on Thursday, demanding his name be removed from his draft board's mailing list.

Ely said the form will be forwarded to the Post Office Department in Washington "on a routine basis."

IT'S A HIT — At least as far as Singer Wanda Conklin's family is concerned, her first album, "Hush," already is a hit. The singer is shown with her family, Jackie, Cheryl, young Peter on her lap, and her husband, S.Sgt. Jack Conklin, plus the family pooch.

Finds Happiness Singing The Blues

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — Can a girl from upstate New York find happiness singing the blues, country style?

Wanda Conklin can. The strawberry-blonde wife of an Air Force sergeant in Denison has cut a country album called "Hush" and it's catching on across the country.

Wanda, from Glen Falls, N.Y., is the mother of three and she changed from housewife to touring singer in a surprisingly short time.

Sherman songwriter Johnny Sands heard about an Air Force wife with a good voice while he was looking for someone to sing his latest songs.

Wanda sang one for Sands, with backup music, and Sands liked what he heard.

A group of musicians was lined up, and within a few days, Wanda was flown to Nashville to cut the album.

A former church choir singer, she and Sgt. Jack Conklin have been married 13 years.

She had sung professionally around Oklahoma and Texas, but never counted on a singing career.

Since the album, she's already getting a lot of fan mail.

"She had the voice I had been seeking," said Sands. "I got with my partner, H.R. Baker, and we made arrangements to fly immediately to Nashville. It took several days to get arrangements made to line up a combo. By then, Baker and I were so excited that we decided instead of making just a single record, we'd do an album."

Lloyd Green, a steel guitarist and one of the top arrangers in Nashville, took Wanda in tow. He lined up a group of musicians in support and the album is off to a great start.

Wanda Conklin sang her first public solo at the age of eight in the Christian Missionary Alliance Church of Glen Falls. She became active in the youth choirs and then graduated to the church choir where she was a featured soloist.

She looked down from the choir loft on Sundays at Jack Conklin. When he entered service, she found out that she missed him more than she imagined so when he came home before signing up for a second hitch in the Air Force she signed up as Mrs. Conklin.

"Wanda has a beautiful alto voice," Sgt. Conklin said. "I've been in service long enough and have seen enough sadness and grief to do me a lifetime. I think if you have something beautiful like a voice you should share it."

So Wanda started out, singing first in NCO clubs at Perrin and other Air Force bases in the area. Soon she was in demand at civilian clubs from Oklahoma City to Dallas.

Then came her first major break. Jerry Lee Lewis, one of the singing stars of the television show "Hee-Haw" was playing in the area and needed a girl singer to fill in. Wanda got the job.

"During intermission, a lot of the audience rushed up and wanted autographs," she recalled. "Lewis stepped in front of me and started reaching for their programs, but they said they wanted my autograph, not his. I didn't know what to say, and Mr. Lewis just didn't say a thing. At least to me the rest of the show."

Kansas May Owe Him $30 Million

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Cameron K. Reed says Kansas may owe him $30 million.

Reed, president of the United Funds Inc., recently discovered a $500 bond issued by the territorial government of Kansas on May 14, 1859. Reed said he bought it from a friend for $25 about 20 years ago, then put it away and forgot it.

"At 10 per cent—the interest it was supposed to draw—the value of the bond doubles about every seven years," Reed said. "That makes it worth about $30 million."

However, Reed doesn't think he'll try to collect from the state. "I suppose I'll give it to the Kansas Historical Society," he said, "if it wants the thing."

Consumer Legislation Labeled 'Deceptive'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Consumer advocate Ralph Nader has charged President Nixon's proposed consumer protection legislation is "farcical in part and deceptive in the remainder," Nader launched his attack Thursday by releasing drafts of two administration bills and the text of a letter he was sending to Mrs. Virginia Knauer, President Nixon's special assistant on consumer affairs.

Mrs. Knauer could not be reached for immediate comment.

The letter declared a bill giving statutory standing to the existing White House Consumer Office "adds little to what the office can do presently."

Nader also condemned a proposal in the bill to include representatives of business on a 20-member consumer advisory council to be appointed by the President.

"Do you know of any consumer representatives on any of the dozens of industry advisory committees that are attached to various government agencies?" Nader asked, and then answered: "There are none."

He said in his letter industries obviously would be happy to "advise and assist your office. The tenor of this entire bill suggests a relationship to the consumer movement similar to company unions vis-a-vis the labor movement a few decades ago."

Nader said it would be wrong to establish a Consumer Protection Division within the Justice Department as the President proposes because the department already represents agencies the new division is supposed to monitor.

He said a second bill, the Consumer Product Testing Act of 1969, "is a step backwards and a serious one at that." Nader contended the measure is vague and gives industrial and commercial standards groups exactly what they wanted.

"This bill would lead to quasi-official status for private standards groups, an undermining of the policy of governmental standards arrived at independently for public health, safety and credibility," he said.

As a postscript, Nader said the administration had consulted with trade groups in drawing up its proposed legislation but had failed to communicate with consumer groups.

Episcopalians Choose Dallas Diocese Bishop

DALLAS (AP) — Episcopal churchmen chose the Rt. Rev. Robert Claffin Rusack, 43, suffragan bishop of the Los Angeles diocese, to become bishop of the Dallas diocese Wednesday night.

He won out on the 12th ballot over the Rev. Homer Francis Rogers, rector of St. Francis Episcopal Church in Dallas, runner-up through most of the voting, which began in the forenoon.

A nominating committee had offered 18 names to clerical and lay leaders as possible successor to Bishop C. Avery Mason, retiring after 24 years as head of the 48 county diocese.

Majorities among both the clergy and the lay delegation were required. Delegates to the convention represented 50,000 church members.

On the 12th ballot the Rev. Rusack received 74 of 143 votes cast by the clergy and 273 of 492 cast by laymen. He received a majority in the lay delegation on the eighth ballot but lacked a majority among the clergy.

The Rt. Rev. William Paul Barnes, suffragan bishop of the Dallas diocese, collected the second largest totals—31 clergy and 124 lay—on the 12th ballot.

In California, Bishop-elect Rusack said by telephone he was "humbled and overcome" at the decision.

The new bishop is a native of Worcester, Mass., and was ordained a priest in 1951. He was rector of St. Augustine-by-the-Sea Church at Santa Monica, Calif., before being elected suffragan bishop of Los Angeles in 1964.

Bishop-elect Rusack is married and has two children.

LSD Advocate To Talk At SMU

DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Timothy Leary will be allowed to speak on the campus of Southern Methodist University, but an opposing voice to Leary's views will also be invited to speak, Dr. Richard Ayres said.

Ayres is head of the Faculty-Senate Committee on Student Organizations.

The SMU Men's Organization invited Leary to speak, and a controversy arose, ending with a ruling by SMU President Willis Tate that Leary would not speak unless someone opposing his views was also invited.

Ayres said as far as he knows, acceptance by his group constitutes final approval of Leary's invitation.

The opposing voice was not identified by Ayres, but he said a "couple of names" were being considered.

Any appearance by Leary will be open only to SMU students, faculty and staff, Ayres said.

Water District Directors Take Steps For Construction

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District took steps Thursday to meet commitments for 1970. They authorized some additional construction to make the additions to the system operative by Jan. 1 and at the same time provide for flexibility of operation to meet customer demands under varying conditions.

One step which may be taken is the erection of an earthen dike across the Colorado River just below the main pump station at Lake E. V. Spence, in order to back water into the intake. This is similar to the plan that was employed at Lake J. B. Thomas in its earliest stages before the lake had caught enough water to reach intakes on its own.

Lake E. V. Spence, just above Robert Lee, has some 24,000 acre-feet of water, counting that in the borrow areas from which earth for the dam was taken, and a substantial amount of this can be utilized, said O. H. Ivie, general manager. High velocity, low-head pumps would boost water from the lake over the dike to form a small lake at the intake. The earthen dam would have to be only about 400 feet long, said Ivie.

Water from Lake Spence will be pumped to Moss Creek Lake, southeast of Big Spring and there mixed with water from Lake J. B. Thomas. Plans are to fill Moss Creek Lake to capacity, currently about 2,500 acre-feet, to be ready for summer demands. Also looking toward the summer, the injection of Lake Thomas water into the dewatered zones of the Martin County well field will be resumed as soon as turbidity of the lake water declines. Recent inflow into Lake Thomas stirred it up, but it is settling rapidly.

The district is preparing to furnish two additional customers in 1970, starting Jan. 1 with the City of Midland and later the City of San Angelo, which is due to let a contract soon for construction of a pipeline from San Angelo to Lake E. V. Spence.

Ivie told directors that not all pumps will be ready before the end of the year, but that the basic pumps capable of delivering 17,000,000 gallons a day from Lake E. V. Spence would be operative. Clement Bros. general contractors for the dam at Robert Lee, has asked for a final inspection. H. B. Zachry Company, which is building the main supply line (42-inch diameter) from Moss Creek to Lake Spence, lacks only about eight miles, said Ivie, and the contractor should complete the job by Dec. 1. Terry Construction Company is working on three pump stations.

The diversion of the normal low flow of the Colorado River at a point just above Colorado City is working well, the manager reported. The diversion side storage reservoir now contains about 900 acre-feet. Ivie estimated that the diversion so far had the effect of removing 9,000,000 pounds of chlorides from the river flow.

An agreement with Travelers Insurance Company for handling employee hospitalization insurance was authorized, as was a right of way easement to Monsanto in Borden County.

Burkett was first appointed to the board March 5 to succeed O. R. Crawford of Jasper, who resigned.

His new appointment starts Nov. 15, the day after Crawford's unexpired term ends.

Group Sets Service For Thanksgiving

The Howard County Minister Fellowship determined on a community worship service for Thanksgiving at 10 a.m. in the First Christian Church at a meeting Wednesday at Webb AFB. No preacher has been determined for the service.

The group also accepted an invitation from Jim Holmes, principal of Kentwood Elementary School, to attend a luncheon next Wednesday in the high school cafeteria at 12:10 p.m. They also set Dec. 3 as the date for their next meeting.

Previous to the meeting the group had been hosted to a luncheon with other ministers from the city by the chaplain division of Webb AFB. A film, "Sign Posts Aloft," was shown; and Maj. Ruric H. Wester, chief of the base personnel office, spoke on American youth and their relation to society.

Two Ex-Critics Supporting Nixon's Plans To End War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield and his Republican counterpart, Hugh Scott, both previously critical of U.S. Vietnam policy, are sponsoring a resolution supporting President Nixon's efforts to end the war but also calling for a "mutually observed cease-fire."

The two Senate leaders would not reveal details of their resolution in advance of its introduction today but Mansfield said he and Scott worked it up to "generate support for the President."

An aide to Scott said the Senate resolution "requests the President to call on the government of North Vietnam to observe a mutually observed cease-fire."

The proposal comes one day after the House Foreign Affairs Committee approved 21-8 a resolution supporting Nixon's efforts to "negotiate a just peace."

The House measure makes no mention of a cease-fire.

Both Mansfield and Scott previously have proposed cease-fires, but without specifying they should be "mutually observed."

While he has been mildly critical, Mansfield also has urged that Congress and the people give Nixon their backing.

Speaking of Nixon's efforts to end the war, Mansfield said in the Oct. 2 interview: "He sure as hell wants out. He is just finding the ways and means difficult."

Scott made what appeared to be a proposal for a unilateral cease-fire in Vietnam last month. But after the idea was denounced by Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird, Scott issued another statement saying that he intended to propose a mutual cease-fire.

The Pennsylvania senator also found himself going counter to the administration during the summer when he proposed more troop withdrawals at a time Nixon was trying to fend off such pressures from Democrats. At that time he was the assistant Republican leader.

The Senate leaders decided to go with introduction of the resolution today, Scott's aide said, after getting 32 signatures early Thursday afternoon—with still more senators saying they wanted to cosponsor it.

The House resolution, largely fashioned by Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., and introduced three days ago, has the backing of 181 members.

Family Law Needs Overhaul

The 61st Legislature made several judgments, under contemporary concepts of social justice and acceptable social behavior, in drafting a new Family Law Code. While some improvements were made, serious deficiencies and anachronisms remain in Texas' family relations law. The job should be done over again by the next Legislature.

And next time the legislators should enlist expert advice, in sociology as well as in this specialized legal field. If they had done that this year, no doubt they would have avoided a blopper just pointed out by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

The legislators' most obvious error, in devising a modern Family Law Code, was failure to abolish common-law marriages. Such marriages, without public license or religious service, are recognized as legal where a couple openly cohabitates and demonstrates marital responsibilities over a reasonable period. This is a relic of the frontier, where pioneer circumstances often delayed official marriage ceremonies, and should no longer be countenanced.

The Legislature compounded that error, however, by failing to consult the attorney-general's office on the consequences of changing marriage-law without abolishing common-law marriages. And he now has to say, I could have told you so.

The new code, taking effect Jan. 1, prohibits males under 19 or females under 16 from obtaining marriage licenses without parental consent and prohibits marriage of boys under 16 and girls under 14 even with such consent. But the old law, un repealed, allows males 16 or over or females 14 or over to enter into common law marriages. So a boy 16 to 19 and a girl 14 to 16 can, without parental consent, enter into a common-law marriage that must be recognized as legal in Texas. And the times being what they are, a number may do just that before the Legislature can correct its error at the next regular session in 1971.

In legislation so broad, sensitive and complex, the Legislature should fully avail itself of the research services of the Texas Legislative Council, the bill-reviewing service of the attorney-general's office, and expert testimony in public hearings. Equally important, it should heed good advice when it gets it, as it did not in respect to abolishing common-law marriages.

Protests Pay Off

Some 90,000 seal pups were clubbed to death on the St. Lawrence ice floes by Quebec and Newfoundland fishermen last March. There was nothing unusual about that; this barbarous way of satisfying women's demands for the highly prized white coats of seals only three or four weeks old had been going on for many years.

There was a difference last year: Color pictures of the bloody business were widely published. Millions of people who had been unaware of the annual baby seal carnage were given a graphic look at the glorious hunt. An outcry of revulsion arose in the United States, Canada and Europe.

The happy consequence is that the Canadian government has banned the hunting of baby seals in the Gulf of St. Lawrence next March. Only the taking of "beaters," older seals that have learned to swim and are ready for the migration to Arctic waters, will be permitted — and then only with rifles, not clubs.

Canada also is negotiating with Norway for an agreement to end hunting of baby seals all along the northwest Atlantic coast. Thus there is a good chance that this abomination will be stopped at least in that major seal area. It all shows that protests by the public do sometimes pay off.

Water Bond Arguments

By GARTH JONES
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER
Texas officials and legislators are set to get over their shock at the defeat of the Texas water bond referendum Aug. 5. They still don't know what to do about it.

Water authorities, state and federal, are urging action soon. "We've got a lot cut out to do," says Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake, head of the special legislator-layman study committee of nine that is just now being appointed. It still has to organize, decide what it wants to do, hold public hearings, make its findings and recommend what should be done to the 1971 legislature.

THE SAME legislature that authorized the study committee after defeat of the proposed amendment for a $3.5 billion bond issue, by 6,277 votes, also gave the Texas Water Development Board an extra $1 million to at least continue planning future projects.

But the mammoth Texas water plan, covering water needs for 50 years, is fast reaching the point where Texas must stop talking and start spending money.

"Some plan of financing will have to be provided if we are to implement the Texas water plan and provide the water Texas will need tomorrow and the next century," Jack Pickens, assistant director of the Texas Water Development Board, told a San Antonio meeting of water experts. He predicted the 1971 legislature will resubmit some form of financing to voters.

An Interior Department official told the meeting "Texans can not afford to drag their feet on the Texas water plan."

THOSE WHO were instrumental in defeat of the amendment are expected to continue their criticism of the Texas water plan in its present form when Clayton's committee holds public hearings.

"Texas needs a water plan. We who rejected the last one, are responsible that the new one was better," said Dr. Daniel Willard, University of Texas botany professor who was a leader in opposition to the Aug. 5 water bond proposal. Willard then claimed the plan would "destroy the face of Texas" by causing long range weather changes.

"Four general areas need revising: The nature of the planning committee, ecological concepts, administrative arrangements and the method of financing," Willard said in a recent article volunteered to The Associated Press.

WILLARD'S PROPOSALS, briefly, would put more ecologists, conservationists and landscape architects on the planning committee; tighten water pollution laws on municipal and agricultural wastes; "perhaps charge farmers for the costs needed to clean their water"; pass laws governing usage of ground water; spell out the rights and requirements of bays and estuaries; declare commercial fishing and tourism as industries; and desalt useful quantities of fresh water.

"Ecologically speaking the great fault with the 1968 Texas water plan may be that it was too large, but that it wasn't large enough," Willard said. "If the citizens of the state really want $3.5 billion worth of water facilities perhaps they would endure a pay-as-you-go system. The superb highways of Texas were built under such a system."

CLAYTON SAID his committee certainly will investigate alternative means of financing, since voters showed such reluctance to one big bond issue.

"Perhaps a dedicated water user tax or a one mill dedication of the sales tax," he said, "or submitting several bond issues to voters, in increments, instead of hitting them once for a huge bonding authority."

Can't Get A Job, She's Too Smart

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — If a little knowledge is indeed a dangerous thing, too much of it is killing. Especially if you're a young, childless housewife who wants to do something besides stay home.

My wife, for instance, she heeded all those admonitions to "stay in school so you can get a good job," and stuck it out right through college.

Now she's probably smarter than me. But that's not what worries me most.

What worries me most is that she can't get a job.

She's too smart, the potential employers keep saying. They're afraid she'll be bored, or demand higher pay, or lead a demonstration for more coffee breaks (although she never does at home).

Just the other day she applied for a position at a local office of a national chemical company. The interviewer took one look at the space on the application marked "education" and muttered: "You have a degree?"

Then he mumbled something about "seeing problems developing already."

He later told the employment agency, "I would have hired her but she had a college degree, so I hired a high school graduate."

Earlier, she applied at one of the South's largest credit companies and got the same treatment. The interviewer seemed interested until he asked the fatal question—education.

It shook him when she said she was a college graduate but the devastating blow came when she said well on the company intelligence tests.

"Sorry," he said, "but we're afraid you'll be bored."

"Maybe," she said later, "but I'd rather be a fixture in somebody's office than scrub fixtures at home."

When she tried for a more challenging position, but deciding that simple jobs the results were the same—nothing.

A bank told her she had too much education for one job, but she couldn't start at a higher position because she'd have to work her way up from the first post.

By now she's decided that job interviewers must be in league with the antifeminists, and that her father could have better used his money training her to be a brick mason.

To paraphrase a famous ad: "To get a good job, you need a good education—but not too much."

'Real Profits' Dip

NEW YORK (AP) — A closer look at the corporate profit reports for the recently completed third quarter of the year shows a deterioration that wasn't easily noticed at first glance.

Many companies reported surprisingly good earnings. In fact, more than one-half of the big industrial blue chips that make up the widely used Dow Jones stock average reported increases over the April-May-June period.

The bad news for corporations, however, was revealed by their profit margins, or the percentage of net income to gross income. Sharp declines were evident throughout a long list of blue chip companies.

In fact, much of the earnings increases reported by some companies was nothing more than inflation, as pointed out by John Wright, an investment adviser and publisher of Wright Advisory Reports.

"Real profits," says Wright, "are now declining, although nominal earnings are up. Dollar earnings for the third quarter were 4.5 per cent ahead of a year ago, but inflation cut dollar power by 5 1/2 per cent."

The net result, Wright observes, is that many companies that reported earnings increases over a year ago actually had declines.

The profits deterioration shows most clearly by dividing total sales into net income.

An analysis of 25 industry groupings, based on reports through Oct. 31, shows that only six improved their profit margins. The rest remained the same or declined, some of them very sharply.

A year ago, for example, eight printing and publishing companies listed on the New York Stock Exchange had an average profit margin of 6.07 per cent. This year the figure dropped to 5.09 per cent.

A study of incomes for 24 food companies show that profit margins in the third quarter of 1968 were around 4.5 per cent. This year the percentage deteriorated to 3.63.

Evidence of similar shrinkages can be found throughout industry, strong evidence that the government's slowdown program is being felt strongly, despite the illusion created by some seemingly healthy profit reports.

Turning The War To S. Vietnam

WASHINGTON — President Nixon has found a way to solve the Vietnam problem so far as it involves the United States. He asks the South Vietnamese government to assume full responsibility for fighting the war. This means that the build-up of a large army will have virtually completed in the next few months and that American forces will be able to withdraw in large part some time in 1970.

BUT MR. NIXON, while indicating the process of America's pullout of its combat forces, is not abandoning South Vietnam. American military experts and technicians will be on hand, and there will be a continuous flow of munitions and supplies to the South Vietnamese. This is the strategy which now is practiced by the Soviets and the Red Chinese at a high annual cost but without casualties.

Mr. Nixon cannot specify what he will do in every contingency. It is clear that if major attacks occur or there are threats of a mobilization of larger forces against South Vietnam, the United States will be in a position to reconsider and determine just what steps can be taken at once to help the South Vietnamese.

MR. NIXON has in mind the Vietnamization of the war. He has been seeking this all along, but he has not been able to demonstrate the meaning of that term as he can today. The Saigon government is well aware of Mr. Nixon's plans to withdraw American forces.

In a nutshell, therefore, the South Vietnamese will be fighting their own war, and the United States will be helping them — not with manpower but with money and supplies. This should satisfy those elements of American public opinion which have been ignoring the importance of the Vietnam settlement to the future of Asia and have been concentrating solely on getting American soldiers back home.

BUT THE PROSPECT of a bigger war has been worrying the countries of Southeast Asia for some time. Mr. Nixon has made it clear from time to time that the United States should always be in a position to fulfill its pledges as proclaimed in the Southeast Asia collective defense treaty — namely, to help preserve the right of the peoples of each country to determine their own form of government and to be free from acts of aggression. Naturally, he would ask Congress to authorize any use of military force.

THIS IS, therefore, really not a new turn of policy but a carrying out of the promise made by President Nixon to place the main burden of the war on the shoulders of the South Vietnamese. They have been fully aware that this move is coming, and they have asked for various kinds of military advisers to help them in training and arming sufficient forces for major combat operations as well as for countering guerrilla warfare.

THE NEW American program has been carefully studied for many weeks, and is not the result of any impulsive decision. The President recognizes that American public opinion has always favored the return of American troops as soon as South Vietnam was prepared to assume full responsibility. What has happened is that the Vietnamization of the war has come to the point of fulfillment. While many things can develop in the next few months, the outlook is for a steady build-up of South Vietnamese military strength as American troops gradually move back home.

Haynsworth Again

WASHINGTON — It is true that Sen. Dirksen's death deprived the President of a vote and a powerful voice for the Haynsworth nomination, but it's also true that Dirksen left a hurtful example in party loyalty behind him.

The man who took Dirksen's place as Minority Leader, Hugh Scott, remains coy and mysterious as the eleventh hour ticks on, but Scott will probably not support the President's nomination. The man who took Scott's place as Minority Whip, Bob Griffin, has already come out against Haynsworth, and one reason Griffin has for feeling free to do so is that Dirksen opposed other of the President's nominations.

THE PRESIDENT just hasn't had any luck at all where the Supreme Court is concerned. His newly named Chief Justice, Warren Burger, turned down the administration's arguments for something less than instant integration in the Mississippi school case, and the "chaos" predicted by HEW Secretary Finch is sure to set in all over the Deep South. The White House anticipates a sudden proliferation of private schools where Southerners will send their children. The expense will be more than most working-class Southern families can readily absorb, and this means vast discontent against any incumbent President.

MADDENINGLY, the Court decision probably came too late to help Judge Haynsworth. It certainly removes one issue on which the Judge has been opposed, for there's little likelihood that the Court can ever go any further, or could ever retreat, on the matter of race-mixing in the public schools. Therefore, Haynsworth in the ninth seat would not be a factor in what the NAACP has been trying to accomplish. But too many Senators have already found excuses to oppose the Judge, and will find it awkward to change their minds except for extraordinary cause.

AS MATTERS stand today, White House aides in charge of collecting a majority for Haynsworth are frank to say that it isn't there. They are optimistic, however, about winning over some undecided Senators and even of getting some to change their minds after being presented with rebuttals to the trumped-up accusations against the Judge. But the undecideds and the switchers will come from a bloc of Western Democrats who are said to be more interested in fair play for Haynsworth than in the approval of Labor and Civil Rights bosses.

THE ONE Republican vote which the Haynsworth nomination must have belongs to Senator Williams of Delaware. The feeling is that Williams' most unforgettable Senate speech will be the one in which he asks his colleagues in both parties to give the President full authority to build a new Supreme Court with men of the highest caliber, as Haynsworth clearly is, and not be thrown into a panic by political terrorism.

Billy Graham

You are always talking about sin. What about the good in the world? Why not accept the positive aspects of Christianity? M.F.

The Christian faith is realistic about this matter of sin. We can't escape it; there is a dark side to human nature. Read your newspaper. Look within your own heart. There is a sad expression on the average human face. The Bible says quite frankly that within every man's heart is a sense of lostness. If you are going to be a Christian you must begin to think realistically about human nature. We must face up to the negative aspects of our nature before we can begin to think positively. Sometime we must say: "God be merciful to me a sinner." This shatters our self-satisfaction and ushers us into the Presence of God.

Even though the Christian faith is realistic about sin, it is not pessimistic. It says: "Even though a man be dead, if he believe in me, he shall live." It says: "As many as received him, to them gave he the power to become the sons of God."

The depth of our sin is measured by the price God paid to conquer it in our lives — the giving of His only begotten Son. Until you squarely face up to your lostness, you can never trust Christ for Salvation.

Skin Cancers 'Shed' Idea

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A new technique has enabled the human body to "shed" skin cancers in 90 per cent of 122 patients treated during 10 years of testing, a researcher said Thursday.

Dr. Edmund Klein of Roswell Park Memorial Institute in Buffalo, N.Y., made the report to a lecture session at Mount Zion Hospital and Medical Center, outlining his findings two months before their publication in a professional journal.

The treatment consists of using "simple" chemicals, in lotion or cream form, to activate the body's own defense mechanism to reject the skin cancers, he said.

The use of the drugs locally, to trigger the human system's immune reaction, has been limited thus far to accessible malignant tumors, the researcher said.

The body cells learn to recognize the chemicals as foreign materials to be rejected and thus, too, the skin tumors and lesions are rejected as alien tissues.

Dr. Klein said that early in his research it was observed that the administration of some drugs which cause skin allergies caused the disappearance of superficial precancerous conditions. The responses provided an early cancer warning system by producing a reddening in otherwise undetected malignant areas.

There were no serious side effects in any of the patients as a result of the treatment, the specialist added.

He said his technique is now being used at 22 medical centers in the nation.

The doctor said about 80,000 new cases of skin cancer occur in the U.S. each year.

MADAME CHAIRMAN — Mrs. Florence C. Braden, the first woman to be elected chairman of the GOP Western States Conference, chats with Lt. Gov. Edward Fike of Nevada. Republican party leaders from 13 western states are in Honolulu to discuss strategy for the 1970 elections.

Most Western Republicans Want Agnew To Keep Firing

HONOLULU (AP) — Most Western Republican leaders attending a conference here say the voters want Vice President Spiro T. Agnew to keep firing away at antiwar demonstrators. But one GOP Governor thinks he should tone down his words.

Gov. David Cargo of New Mexico told a newsman some of the organizers of the Vietnam Moratorium Day are "a mess." But he added: "I'm not so sure they are all intellectual snobs. I'm not so sure they all don't have anything to offer. Young people have a lot to say. They have noble ideas."

Cargo and other party leaders were interviewed Thursday at a session of the Western States Republican Conference at which Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., strongly defended Agnew for calling the leaders of the demonstrations "impudent snobs." Goldwater got his biggest ovation when he said of Agnew, "The vice president's crime, it seems, was to describe an effete corps of impudent snobs as 'an effete corps of impudent snobs.'" "I couldn't agree more with Vice President Agnew," said Gladys O'Donnell of California, president of the National Federation of Republican Women. "I think he speaks out. I think he is right. He is his own man." However, Cargo remarked that "we've done a lot of talking about lowering voices," referring to a phrase used by President Nixon, and asked "Why not do it?"

New Lamesa Post Office Dedication Set For Sunday

LAMESA (SC) — This city's new $275,000 U.S. Post Office will observe its formal dedication Sunday at 2 p.m. at North 1st and Avenue G. Streets. Rep. George Mahon will be here to help with the dedication.

The new facility was occupied on Nov. 1 and now all patrons as well as area residents will have an early opportunity to tour the facility as well as meet Rep. Mahon.

The facility was built by Null Construction Company of Fort Worth and consists of 13,425 square feet brick construction. It provides 918 boxes as well as modern facilities for the fastest postal service.

This facility replaces the old federal building constructed in 1938. Ground breaking ceremonies for the construction of the new post office were held early in March this year.

Visiting the VA Hospital are Kenneth F. Johnson, hospital requirement specialist, and Albert Olmer, architect, preliminary planning service. They are from the Hospital Construction Service at the central office in Washington and have been visiting here since Wednesday.

Railey To Tell Of Experiences

David Railey, Southern Baptist missionary to Hong Kong, will speak of his experiences in the Philippine Islands at the Phillips Memorial Baptist Church at 7 p.m. Saturday, Youth Night.

Railey has been the featured speaker at a revival at the church, which started last Sunday.

During one stay at a village in the Philippines, the first time a white man had been there in eight years, Communist agitators tried to disrupt Railey's preaching with the purpose of doing him physical harm. About two weeks earlier, the same group had killed 15 people in a nearby village.

Stock Survey To Be Made

During the last half of November some 40,000 Texas ranchers and farmers will receive a livestock survey questionnaire from Cary Palmer, state statistician for the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. This is a joint endeavor of the Texas Department of Agriculture and the Statistical Reporting Service, U.S.D.A., to provide a program of county estimates for Texas.

Crowd Attacks Two After They Nab Runaway Girl

AUSTIN (AP) — Apprehension of an 11-year-old runaway girl at the University of Texas Thursday turned into an attack by a crowd on two plainclothes officers, police said.

The two officers, Sgt. James Beck and Howard Brownlow, said they apprehended the girl in the Student Union, and a crowd of about 100 youths began shouting obscenities.

Beck said the youths followed the officers to a door, then surrounded them at a mall outside the building.

"They refused to let us leave the area with the girl," Beck said. "And I pulled my service revolver."

Brownlow handcuffed the girl to his arm after some of the surrounding youths began pulling at her. The girl was reported as a runaway.

After the officers and the girl entered an unmarked police car, the youths pounded on the auto and threw rocks and bottles, Beck said.

He said one of the youths slashed a tire, which went flat after the officers traveled about 4 blocks with the girl. The crowd caught up to the car and the officers called for help on their radio.

Other officers arrived and dispersed the crowd.

Austin Police Maj. K. R. Herbert said four youths were arrested and jailed after six of them voluntarily drove to police headquarters.

Herbert said the four were from Austin, Fort Worth, Missouri and Pennsylvania. No charges were filed at once.

$2 Million Debt Hinted

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A report forecasting a possible deficit of up to $2 million for the Bexar County Hospital District will go before board members for consideration next Tuesday.

The report includes recommendations for hiring a "super administrator" for the two-hospital district.

Dr. Walter Walthall, board chairman, disclosed the possible $2 million deficit Thursday in a study report by 27 experts provided by the University of Texas system.

However, he said, the deficit could be as low as $800,000.

"There is no realistic solution to overcome the estimated deficit," he said.

The consultants recommended a personnel reduction in keeping with the national hospital employe average.

Antiwar Moratoriums Hit By Westmoreland

DALLAS (AP) — The former commander of U. S. forces in Vietnam, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, said Thursday that moratoriums like the one scheduled this month are unconstructive efforts to stop the Vietnam war.

New Army chief of staff, Westmoreland addressed the annual Army-Industrial Dinner here.

"Our strategy is about to bear the fruit of success, but we are led to believe that a sizable portion of our population wants to get out of Vietnam immediately," he said. "Such a withdrawal would haunt Americans for decades."

The general said America is beginning to hand over the shield of security to the South Vietnamese and is still honoring its moral commitment there.

At a news conference, Westmoreland said immediate Vietnamization of the war is impossible, but present efforts will soon account for nearly 65,000 troops being withdrawn.

Asked about the likelihood of future Vietnam-type situations in Laos and Thailand, Westmoreland said he believes America will continue to honor its commitments. "But the support and encouragement may take a different form," he said.

Westmoreland said unified support would be the road to peace. "The demonstrations only tend to confuse the leadership in Hanoi as to the will of America and prolong the war."

The general said the objective has never been to take over North Vietnam nor to take over the North Vietnam army.

"It has been the policy to defeat North Vietnam forces and

There was early morning fog at such scattered points as Alice, Cotulla, Del Rio and Texarkana.

Forecasts indicated no major change during the weekend.

Temperatures climbed in South Texas to afternoon highs Friday of 87 degrees at Beeville and 88 at McAllen.

Readings early today ranged from 37 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 71 at Galveston on the coast and 72 at Lufkin in East Texas.

Fulbright Attacks 'Freedom Fighter'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans to produce as many as 325 relatively inexpensive, easy-to-fly fighter aircraft for Asian allies including South Vietnam over the next five or six years.

Officials Thursday reported this is the foreseeable demand for the new jet as Sen. J. W. Fulbright attacked the program as "backdoor foreign aid."

The plane would go not only to South Vietnam but also to South Korea, Formosa and other countries eligible for U.S. military aid, Pentagon officials said.

Many would be sold but an unspecified number of others also would be given away under the aid program, they said.

Fulbright chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said the Pentagon's proposed development of the plane implies the United States expects to be involved in Southeast Asia "for a good many years to come."

Fulbright sharply criticized the plan as a Senate-House bill last spring, senators heard witnesses charge erroneous credit reports had cost them jobs and ruined their careers.

expect the plane to follow or be a revamped version of the Northrop-produced F5 "Freedom Fighter," the standard American giveaway plane which more than a dozen countries have received over past years.

The F5, similar to the Air Force's T38 supersonic trainer, has been popular among the smaller nations because it is not laden with complicated electronics gear requiring intensive training.

The United States has never used the F5 for its own forces but some 1,000 models have been sold or given away abroad under the aid program.

Allies probably would be able to buy the new plane for something around $1 million each. Latest American aircraft such as the F111A run around $8 million.

Chief Arrests His Own Son

NORTHVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Police Chief George Scunzio Sr., has arrested his own son in the investigation of vandalism at Northville Central School.

George Jr., and Dennis J. Darby, both 17, were charged Wednesday with first-degree criminal mischief and freed on $1,000 bail.

Chief Scunzio was joined by state police investigators in the inquiry after $150,000 water damage was done Sept. 29 at the school in this small Adirondack foothills town.

Credit Reporting Bill Skips Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed without dissent a bill to protect consumers against arbitrary and erroneous credit reports.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., chief sponsor of the bill, hailed its passage Thursday as "the biggest consumer victory this year" in Congress.

The measure now goes to the House where sponsors of similar legislation said the subject would be considered in the Banking Committee later this year or early in 1970.

Any House floor action will not come before next year, they said.

Proxmire said credit ratings now are maintained on 110 million Americans and that the bill would for the first time give individuals a federally guaranteed right to correct false information in their files.

The measure should "prevent consumers from being unjustly damaged because of inaccurate or arbitrary information," the senator said.

The Senate acted on the bill by voice vote after less than an hour's debate with only half a dozen members present.

During committee hearings on the bill last spring, senators heard witnesses charge erroneous credit reports had cost them jobs and ruined their careers.

Although the design has not been chosen, Pentagon officials expect the plane to follow or be a revamped version of the Northrop-produced F5 "Freedom Fighter," the standard American giveaway plane which more than a dozen countries have received over past years.

Plans To Seek State Office

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — Former Congressman Lindley Beckworth said Thursday that he will seek a State rather than a Federal office in 1970.

While he did not identify the post, it is believed Beckworth probably will seek a judgeship.

If Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes should file for governor or U.S. Senator, however, Beckworth could go after the lieutenant governor's post.

Beckworth, 55, served two years in the Texas Legislature and 24 years in Congress. In redistricting, the then 3rd District congressman was put into the 4th District and he was defeated by Rep. Ray Roberts of McKinney.

"In view of very recent developments, it is my present opinion I shall seek a State rather than a Federal office," a brief announcement from Beckworth stated.

Barnes said recently that three private polls showed him running ahead of Gov. Preston Smith for governor and Sen. Ralph Yarborough for U.S. senator. Then a Texas Supreme Court justice disclosed he would not seek re-election.

With these posts open, observers felt Beckworth will seek one of the two.

South found that he had dealt himself a bridge player's dream when he sorted his cards—a hand containing no card of less than honor rank. He properly opened the bidding with two spades and, when his partner responded positively by raising to three spades, he proceeded to check for aces. Finding that the partnership was missing one of the top controls, he settled for a small slam in spades.

West opened the six of hearts and, after East cashed the ace, his shift was to a low diamond. Declarer put up the ace of diamonds on which West dropped the king. South would gladly have traded one of North's spot cards in spades for his own ten at this point, for with a three-one division in trumps he would be able to cash his high club honors and then enter dummy with the fourth round of trumps in order to run the balance of the clubs. Since North had no side entry however, it appeared that declarer would have to overtake the second club in the hope that the suit would split evenly.

South observed that he had 11 top tricks, so that he was in position to run off his winners in the major suits before testing the clubs. There was a chance that either an opponent might err in discarding, or else find himself burdened with too much to protect in diamonds and clubs.

Declarer accordingly proceeded to play five rounds of trumps followed by his two high hearts. As the last heart was led, South was down to the jack-ten of diamonds and the king-queen of clubs, and the dummy was left with four clubs headed by the ace-jack. East held four clubs at this point and the queen of diamonds with one discard still to be made. Convinced that he must hold on to his diamond honor, East chose to throw a club. Declarer cashed the club king, overtook the queen and took the balance with the dummy's by now established suit.

Bennett Is New Manager At Singer's

Bill Bennett was named manager of the Singer Center in Highland Shopping Center Nov. 1. He has worked at Singer for a year and three months in sales and repair.

Bennett retired here with his family in 1966 after 20 years in the Air Force. He was first stationed in Big Spring with the hospital squadron in 1960. He remained here because of the friendliness and helpfulness of the people appealed to him. "The friendliness rubs off on you, too," Bennett said.

He got into the sewing machine business partly due to his wife, Ingeborg, who is a professional seamstress.

"I got interested in sewing machines by helping my wife and fixing her sewing machine." Previously he had been in the automotive business, therefore was familiar with mechanics. Before working for Singer he was in the garage and auto salvage business.

Bennett supervises five employees including his wife, who "works for me for free," he said. A new member of his staff is James G. Crenshaw, Big Spring native and graduate of the high school in 1968. Crenshaw joined Singer Oct. 27 and has completed salesmanship training. He is now in sewing machine training.

Revision Of Abortion Laws Is Urged By Texas Baptists

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Texas Baptists closed their 84th annual convention after issuing a call for updated abortion laws and adopting a record $14.5 million budget for 1970.

The 2,000 messengers, representing 1.8 million Texans, also pledged respect Thursday for the Christian convictions of both conscientious objectors and those who feel they should go into battle.

A day earlier they once again held strong to the traditional Baptist stand on church-state separation rejecting a proposal that would allow church schools and other institutions to obtain government loans.

In action Thursday, the delegates overwhelmingly passed a resolution urging Baptists to boycott businesses that remain open seven days a week.

The Baptist General Convention of Texas will be guided in the coming year by a San Antonio pastor, the Rev. Jimmy Allen, 42, of the First Baptist Church.

Traditionally, the incumbent president is elected to serve a second year. The 1970 convention will be held in Austin.

The 1970 budget — $1 million above this year's — includes $9,642,500 for Texas church causes and $4,857,500 for worldwide use by the Southern Baptist Convention.

All 12 recommendations by the Christian Life Commission — including one urging liberal revisions in abortion laws — were approved by convention delegates Thursday.

The commission declared that the state's present abortion laws are "based primarily on a 19th century dogma" and said "meaningful and necessary changes" in the abortion laws have been delayed in Texas.

Charging that the delay is the "result of a strong and well organized lobby effort," the recommendation said the delay ignores, among other points:

- "The need for protection for victims of rape or incest."
- "The misfortune of continued unwanted pregnancy in instances of fetal deformity."

The commission said Texas Baptists can combat this delay by informing themselves on the issue and individually contacting their state legislators.

The recommendation on conscientious objectors passed without debate despite a motion failed for lack of a second.

Baptists were urged to pledge themselves "to respect the conscientiousness of those who feel that they should participate in war as well as those whose Christian conviction is that they should not participate."

New Motions In Riot Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — A San Francisco lawyer planned to present new motions today in behalf of Bobby Seale, sentenced by Judge Julius J. Hoffman to four years in prison for contempt of court.

The nature of the motions to be offered by the attorney, Francis J. McTernan, was not disclosed in advance. Hoffman denied McTernan's motions Thursday to vacate the contempt order and to set bond for Seale pending a possible appeal.

Seale, 33, national chairman of the Black Panther party, was ruled in contempt Wednesday because of a series of courtroom disruptions at the trial of Seale and seven others charged with conspiracy to provoke riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

Seale's outbursts largely were protests against a ruling that he could not act as his own lawyer. His attorney, Charles R. Garry, long-time counsel for the Black Panthers, was unable to be present because of recent surgery.

McTernan is Garry's law partner.

Throughout the U.S. District Court trial, Seale has been held in jail on a New Haven, Conn., fugitive warrant charging him with murder. He is the only one of the eight defendants not free on bond. At the time Judge Hoffman ruled Seale in contempt, he also declared a mistrial for Seale, severed his case from the others and scheduled a separate trial for him in April.

Judge Hoffman also denied Thursday motions for mistrial in behalf of the other seven defendants. The judge rejected counsel's contention that the jury was influenced by the behavior of Seale and the judge's action in having him bound and gagged.

Turning to a recommendation on extremism, the commission stated, "the dangers of the radical right and left continue to disrupt American Society."

It called on Texas Baptists to "reject the unchristian and unethical tactics of all groups who use persons as if they were things, claim that they alone have the truth, and foster fear, hate, and distrust in our nation."

A vote on a motion to defeat this section was strongly defeated.

Also approved were recommendations encouraging parents to provide their children with sex education, and urging Baptists to support a U.S. Senate bill that would expand family planning services.

Delegates passed by a large majority a resolution urging Baptist pastors and church leaders "to enlist our Baptist people in a commitment to restrict their business to those stores which close their doors one day each week."

It noted that the Texas Supreme Court this week upheld Texas' one-day closing law.

HOME ARE THE SAILORS — Seven men rescued from a foundering yacht 150 miles off Nantucket meet the press at the Coast Guard base in Boston after being brought ashore by a Coast Guard patrol boat. The men were picked up at sea by the American tanker Thomas H.

Club Welcomes New Members

T. A. Camp and the Rev. E. H. Phillips were honored as new members of the Morning Optimist Club at its regular meeting Wednesday.

Part of the program consisted of a slide lecture, given by Max Coffee, guest of Curtis Strong on various monuments and shrines he saw on his trip through Europe. Jim Murphy also explained the "Partner in Safety Program," which is to be kicked off soon.

The club voted to join the Hi-Noon Optimist Club in sponsoring a band banquet for high school band members, and to accept an invitation from S. M. Anderson, school superintendent, to eat lunch at the high school during American Education Week.

Previous to the meeting, the board of directors met and approved the Zone Oratorical Contest. Delbert Donelson was also present at the regular meeting as the guest of Jimmy Anderson.

GOV. SMITH ADMITS Housing Shortage For 'Poor' Texans

AUSTIN (AP) — Half the homes in Texas are "inadequate or substandard," and the state has a critical shortage of decent housing for low and moderate income families, Gov. Preston Smith said Thursday.

He addressed the 17th annual meeting of the Texas Research League and announced he has asked the league to recommend ways of easing the housing squeeze.

The league is a non-profit organization, financed and directed by leading industrialists and businessmen. Smith's predecessor, former Gov. John Connally, now a Houston lawyer, was elected to the league's board of directors today.

Smith said a special task force made an inventory of Texas housing for him shortly after he took office.

"The results were shocking," the governor said.

"Our inventory indicated that approximately 50 per cent of the 2,803,000 housing units in our state are inadequate or substandard."

Of the total, 20 per cent are old, dilapidated and in advanced states of deterioration and decay, Smith said. These, he said, are "what might be called Texas' slum housing." Another 30 per cent of the total, he said, are obsolete, "inadequate and inferior in both size and location. These units are primarily 700 square feet—or less—in floor area, a size manifestly inadequate for the average Texas family which has 3.5 members."

"In short, there is in Texas a critical shortage of decent housing for low and moderate income families. Within two years—according to the most reliable projections—the housing shortage will reach crisis proportions for us all," he said.

The greatest potential for solving slum problems is not public housing or rent supplements but "effective programs of governments to assist slum residents in becoming home owners," Smith said.

He raised two possibilities for state government action—a statewide building code to eliminate some local restrictions that "hamper our advances in construction techniques and speed," and a State Housing Agency to coordinate among local governments and the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Earlier, State Welfare Commissioner Burton Hackney said President Nixon's welfare proposals "won't result in great savings for Texas."

3,350 Head Chile Bound

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP) — Starting Monday, 3,350 head of polled Hereford cattle will begin a series of trips from Wichita Falls Municipal Airport to Chile.

A jet cargo line will ship the cattle in every-other-day flights. The stock was sold by scores of breeders across the nation to the Chilean government.

A serious beef shortage in recent years is the reason for the record-breaking buying of U.S. cattle, Chilean officials said.

The transaction is being financed as part of a $23 million loan from the State Department's Agency for International Development.

William Wright of Texas International Airlines said the Wichita Falls airport was chosen for the transport because its long runway makes it possible to load more cattle on the planes and still get them off the ground.

NEW YORK (AP) — Call it bad timing or simply the lady's prerogative. But just before people found out about Alice's Restaurant, Alice sold it.

"That whole scene is over, anyway," theorizes the celebrated hippie chef, propped next to a suitcase still unpacked from a trip to the Caribbean. "It could never happen again."

OFTEN UNHAPPY She isn't complaining. Emerging from often unhappy obscurity to a lucrative reign as one of the most publicized ladies of folk legend, Brooklyn-born Alice Brock, 28, has what she modestly calls "a flash in the pan" going for her.

It got its beginning in 1967, when Woody Guthrie's mope-headed minstrel son, Arlo, cranked out a song called "Alice's Restaurant Massa-cree," an 18-minute blues talk tale partly about Alice's frustrating attempts to keep house in a church full of hippies while running her beanyery in Stock-bridge, Mass.

While Alice was finding the situation mostly miserable, more than 400,000 other people were delighted enough to buy Guthrie's record.

Then Alice's story was fashioned into film by director Arthur Penn, who persuaded most of the original characters to re-live the legend in a production entitled simply, "Alice's Restaurant."

SKIPS EGO TRIP Although Alice, a pretty, bronze-skinned brunette, turned down a starring role in the movie—"that's one ego trip I don't want to take"—she hasn't exactly been sitting on her apron strings.

Drawing on the advice of New York financiers who know how to put mileage on success, she already has published a cookbook and is completing plans for a chain of franchised restaurants in New York, Los Angeles and Chicago.

Probably the best fringe benefit, by Alice's own measure, is the new independence that has accompanied her good fortune and fame.

Divorced and now a home-owner in Stockbridge, she seems largely unimpressed with every thing else.

"With all this publicity, I guess people can have opinions about me without ever knowing me... and that's a little strange," she says.

FOOLING AROUND "But as far as I'm concerned things really haven't changed that much. I'm just fooling around now, doing what I want.

I know I'm moving. I don't know where."

With unusual frequency, Alice's present often has led to the unpredictable.

Raised in Brooklyn, she was by her own admission a "difficult" child whose early bent toward nonconformity led eventually to a stint in reform school.

Upon completing high school, she enrolled at Sarah Lawrence, a properish Eastern school for women.

Alice left the college two years later and returned to New York, where she met and married Ray Brock, a young architect. They moved to Stockbridge to take jobs at a local prep school, Ray as a carpenter, teacher and Alice as a librarian.

The jobs lasted only a year—"it was very straight work"—but it was long enough for the Brocks to attract a large following of young friends. Leaving the school for summer work at a youth hostel on Martha's Vineyard, they invited some of their students to follow and drew a shaggy-haired batch of 18 boys, including Guthrie.

PRECIOUS THING It was then that everyone decided to stay in Stockbridge and with the help of Alice's mother, who ran a real estate agency in the town, the Brocks bought a deconsecrated Episcopal church, opening the ground floor to their friends and reserving the steeple for themselves.

That was in the spring of 1966, probably the happiest time of all for the loosely knit family of usually a dozen or more teenagers. How their dream disintegrated is the theme of the story that made Alice famous.

"It's a strain when you live with other human beings—and the more people you have the harder it is," she says of her two years in the church.

"I tried to run a household for a while, but that was impossible. Soon privacy became a very precious thing."

"I guess to the kids, Ray and I were parent figures," she said, "but I always thought of them as friends, not children."

MONEY PROBLEMS "It was really lack of communication. They didn't understand my need to be alone, to work something out for myself. It's the same thing they don't understand about their own parents."

Money was another problem, and one left largely to Alice to solve. Again drawing on her mother's reserves, she bought a small restaurant set unobtrusively at the end of a small alleyway off Stockbridge's only store-front street.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Forget worry and get busy keeping appointments and doing the work that is strictly your own. Get that idea in operation that will make an associate very happy. Avoid the dull and drab.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) A good day to get financial and property matters handled efficiently. Be sure that everything is in order around you. Stop catering so much to that demanding person.

JUST THE SKELETON — The steel beams for a new $80,000 Catholic Church at St. Lawrence crisscross the afternoon sky. Rev. Augustine Lucca, pastor at St. Lawrence, said the building was originally due to be completed before Christmas, but rain and problems with delivery of materials have delayed it. The new building will seat 450 people, and will be paid for through proceeds from the community's fall festivals.

St. Lawrence Church Due Christmas Finish

Members of the St. Lawrence Community hope to begin using their new church, currently under construction, by Christmas, but those hopes may be frustrated.

"Construction started in September," said the Rev. Augustine Lucca, pastor, "and it was supposed to be finished in 120 days. But rain has caused delays, besides there being some trouble in getting all the materials needed. Now it's hard to say exactly when the building will be finished.

The Catholic church will cost $80,000 when completed, and will seat 450 people. McRan Inc., San Angelo, is doing the work. Services are currently being held in a wooden structure, which used to be an Army barracks.

The church will be paid for through funds raised by past and present fall festivals, the last of which was held this past Sunday. Proceeds from the festivals have already paid for the new rectory built last year, Rev. Lucca said. He added that they would get the church paid for before thinking about other projects.

Rev. Lucca serves about 95 families in the St. Lawrence community; approximately 425 people. He has been at his present post 18 months.

48 Going To Assembly

Forty-eight persons from the local congregation, plus other interested individuals, will be attending the Jehovah's Witnesses Assembly in Hobbs, N.M., starting this evening and continuing through Sunday.

"Each delegate will be paying for his own travel expenses, as well as for his food and lodging at the assembly," said C. L. Lunsford, presiding minister here. "Jehovah's Witnesses are known world-wide as an assembling group, having two annual area circuit conventions and one large meet in various cities each year. Even children save money so the family can make the trip to an assembly."

Tonight, following the ministry school session, which is a regular feature of all assemblies, there will be a program on "They are no part of the world." Then Sunday E. R. Brandt, special traveling minister of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society in New York and district supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses, will address a crowd, expected to number 3,000, on "True worship vs. false."

The general theme throughout the convention will be "Right Kind of Ministers."

New Members Installed During Disciple Service

FORT WORTH — Dr. Kenneth L. Teegarden, executive minister, and other staff members of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Texas were installed in a special service here last Monday night.

Dr. Teegarden, who assumed the highest ministerial and administrative post among Texas Disciples in July, formerly was an assistant to the international general minister and president of the Christian Church.

Christian churches in the state and from all disciples organizations attended the service.

Dr. James M. Moody, moderator of the Christian Church in the United States and Canada and chancellor of Texas Christian University, was the installing minister, while the installation sermon was preached by Dr. Ronald E. Osborn, vice president and dean of Christian Theological Seminary in Indianapolis, Ind.

Dr. Granville T. Walker, minister of the host church, presided. He is chairman of a special CCT committee planning the event.

Other participants included Dr. Howard E. Dentler of Indianapolis, an assistant to the general minister and president of the Christian Church; Dr. Dan H. Loving of Dallas, president of CCT; and the Rev. W. Kenneth Pope of Dallas, United Methodist Church bishop.

Installed with Dr. Teegarden will be three associate executive ministers — Roy D. Holt, Harrell A. Rea and James C. Suggs.

Also taking new posts were two associate ministers in leader development, Miss Arla Elston and James S. Oglesby; two area ministers, Dr. John C. Knowles of the High Plains and Warren Chrisman of Dallas; the CCT director of program resources, Mrs. Paul Campbell; and business administrator Edwin F. Johnson.

African Speaker To Talk At Snyder

WESTBROOK (SC) — Dr. Frank Owen, missionary to Africa, will be guest speaker Tuesday, Nov. 11, when Mitchell-Scurry Baptist Association Workers conference will meet at Green Hill Baptist Church in Snyder.

Supper will be served by the host church at 6 p.m. and executive board meeting and Woman's Missionary Union will meet at 6:45 p.m.

Theme for the program will be "Missions My Missions" and the program will begin at 7:30 p.m. with congregational singing led by Joe Jones. The Rev. Don Timberlake, new pastor at Oak Street Baptist in Colorado City will word the invocation. Malcolm Brown is area missionary.

Dr. Owen is a member of the Christian Church in the United States and Canada and is currently serving in Africa. He will be speaking on "The Role of the Christian Church in Africa."

Local Church Hosts Ministers Meeting

The First Church of God, 2009 Main, will host the West Texas ministers meeting, scheduled to open this coming Monday at 7:30 p.m. It will conclude with a noon luncheon Wednesday.

The meeting is an annual affair and is attended by most Church of God pastors in West Texas. New officers for this district will be elected during the meeting, and future plans will be formulated. The Church of God has its national headquarters at Anderson, Ind.

Rev. Edwin Ogle, director of public relations of the Gulf Coast Bible College, Houston, will be the featured speaker during the meeting. Rev. Ogle has traveled widely as an evangelist and guest speaker and was a successful pastor before accepting his present position with the college.

The Melody Makers Choir, composed of children from the Jack and Jill Kindergarten, will also present a program at 10:45 a.m. Tuesday. Parents especially are invited to attend.

Forrest Robinson and Bill Thomson, pastors, cordially invite the public to attend evening services on Monday and Tuesday and hear Rev. Ogle.

Workers Confab Set At Crestview

The Crestview Baptist Church will host a worker's conference of the Big Spring Baptist Association this coming Monday. Executive boards will meet from 6:45 p.m. and refreshments will be served from 7:30 p.m., when there will be a general assembly. Mr. Lloyd Henderson, director of Christian missions, Baptist general convention of Texas, will be the speaker.

Attend Church Sunday

Select The Church Of Your Choice And Be Faithful
In Your Attendance

If only I had been born with the ability to reason and all the wisdom great decisions require.

Then I'd ask Daddy to teach me a prayer.

And I'd ask Mommy to read me a Bible story.

And, if nobody offered to take me, I'd walk myself to Sunday School.

But, as things are, I've no more say about my destiny than a missile has. You grown-ups decide how high—or how low—my life shall be aimed!
And when to launch me! And where!

And, from what I hear, some of us never get off the ground.

Please . . . SOMEBODY . . . plan my orbit.

NEW YORK METS MAKE STAGE DEBUT — Seven members of the world champion baseball team of the New York Mets make their stage debut at Caesar's Palace Thursday night to a sellout crowd. Here they are singing "The Im-

Giants Due A Win; Cowboys Get Nod

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The roof really caved in last Sunday, trapping the Dallas Cowboys, St. Louis Cardinals, Oakland Raiders and the old Hand picker in the wreckage. After a 6-7 week it takes a lot of heart to try again, even if a 64-24-3 season record does help. But the season is only half over and, at least, the Los Angeles Rams haven't let us down yet.

REMAIN UNBEATEN JV's Turn Back Abilene, 30-0

Another sterling effort by the defensive unit propelled the Big Spring JV's to a convincing 30-0 victory over the Abilene JV's here Thursday night.

In the second, the Eagles pushed as far as Big Spring's 28, lost the ball on downs and then recovered a fumble on the Steer 27. An interception halted them a play later.

The Dogies opened all stops on offense, too, gaining a total of 470 yards. The Eagles could make only four first downs during the contest, although they were presented with several scoring opportunities.

Deeper in Round Two, the Dogies failed to get a punt away and Abilene took over on the Big Spring 14. The invaders could move the ball only two yards in four plays, however.

A pass interference call against Abilene set up the Dogies moving from their own territory down to Abilene's 19 on the penalty.

Tommy Fletcher made it 14-0 by booting the PAT.

Lamar Nudges Goliad Mavs

SNYDER — Snyder Lamar scored twice in the second and again in the third to defeat Big Spring Goliad, 22-13, in an eighth grade football game here Thursday evening.

The Dogies, now 9-0, wind up play against Odessa Permian in Odessa next Thursday at 7 p.m. Score by quarters:
Big Spring 7 0 16 8-30
Abilene 0 0 0 0-0

Wayne Dickens booted the PAT, the first one the Mavericks had kicked all year.

Lamar's fullback returned Snyder to contention with some fine runs in the second period, scoring twice on runs of two and ten yards.

Lamar counted again in the third after Goliad had lost possession of the ball with a fumble on its 20.

In the fourth, Goliad's Bruce Abbe capped a 35-yard drive by going over from nine yards away.

Goliad bruised to Lamar's goal line in the second but Snyder dug in to hold.

The defeat left the Mavericks with a 5-3-1 record. They wind up play against Big Spring Runnels next Thursday in Memorial Stadium.

The Mavericks gained a total of 269 yards, thanks to a fine effort by the Goliad line. Individual standouts on offense, in addition to Reynolds, included Tom Sorley and Monty Gillihan.

Reynolds was also a rock on defense, as were Tim Dunn, James Lacy, Ducky Robertson and Jimmy Stewart.

Score by quarters:
BS Goliad 7 0 0 6-13
Snyder Lamar 0 16 6 0-22

Golden Boy Is Links Leader

HONOLULU (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, threatening to make the fall tour his personal showcase, carried a whopping four-stroke lead into the second round of the $125,000 Hawaiian Open Golf tournament today.

Big Jack, who has won both of the fall tournaments he has entered, established a course record with a blistering 63 on the 7,020-yard, par 72 Waialae Country Club layout Thursday.

It was accomplished in the face of blustery trade winds that reached gusts of more than 40 miles an hour and sent most of the rest of first round scores soaring.

His leading margin was the biggest of the season after 18 holes and had his fellow pros talking to themselves.

"If he keeps on putting like that, you just can't beat him," said Billy Casper, one of the pre-tourney favorites who had an opening 73, 10 shots back. Ken Still and Dave Stockton were tied for second with 67s, while Jack McGowan and John Schroeder had 68s. The group at 69 included Bill Johnson, Grier Jones, Randy Wolff and Larry Ziegler.

SANDS TO OPPOSE JAYTON Homecoming Ritual Set For 4:30 P. M.

ACKERLY — Plenty of entertainment has been planned for Exes who will attend Homecoming ceremonies here Saturday. The rites will be highlighted by a 7:30 District 6-B football game between Sands and Jayton.

Jayton is favored but the Mustangs have been coming on strong in recent weeks and could make quite a battle of it.

Girls who have been nominated for the title of Homecoming Queen include: Sandra Nichols, senior; Jan Nichols, junior; Carolyn McHanney, sophomore; and Diane Bowling, freshman. The program formally gets under way at 4:30 p.m. A supper will be served in the high school cafeteria at 5 p.m. A pep rally and a bon fire is scheduled for 5:30.

At that time, the Sands drill team, called the Prancing Ponies, will perform.

Winner in tonight's game in Seagraves between Coahoma and Seagraves picks up all the marbles in District 5-A. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

The two teams have consistently been rated in the Top Ten in State Class A circles. Both have unbeaten and untied records.

Seagraves had only one close call. That was the time it edged Sudan, 12-6.

Coahoma knocked off Lubbock Cooper, 41-7. Seagraves beat the same team, 44-28. Stanton gave the Bulldogs more trouble than it did the Eagles, losing to Coahoma, 26-14, and to Seagraves, 44-14.

A. D. Shaver coaches the Eagles. Bernie Hagins the Coahoma club.

Seagraves depends a lot on two talented backs, quarterback Eddie Knight and halfback Rickie Field, the league's leading scorer.

Coahoma goes in heavily for a running game and relies heavily upon such operatives as QB Kenny Clanton, halfbacks Dean Richters and James Dunn and fullback Johnny Ted Fowler.

Guard Bill Bailey, who had

been injured earlier, worked out at Coahoma again Wednesday and will start tonight. The remainder of the Bulldogs are in good shape.

Coahoma is the defending titlist in the district. The Bulldogs lost a hard-luck decision to Sonora in the bi-district round last year, 7-6. Sonora went on to win the state title.

The game was played in near-impossible conditions at San Angelo. The field was a quagmire.

Although both teams have a game to play after tonight, the winner is assured of going into the playoffs. Coahoma catches Wink at home next week and doesn't figure to lose that one.

Probable starters:

only to Class A Eldorado this year — that time by a score of 39-6.

Six were to Jim Ned, the other six to Wall.

Bronte beat the former, 39-6, and routed Wall, 38-6.

Since then, the Longhorns have given up only 12 points.

The Longhorns' Big Four includes Nicky Arriotti, a hard-running halfback; QB Keith McCutchen, end Willie Zuniga and halfback Randy Barbee.

Yearlings Blank Snyder Travis

only one first down and just 13 yards rushing.

Runnels got on the board after Larry Stanley returned a punt 21 yards down to Travis' 30.

Stevens has few seniors on his ball club but the underclassmen are beginning to play like seniors.

In a game which saw all 34 Yearlings boys get into action, the Yearlings humbled Snyder Travis, 16-0, in Blankenship Field here Thursday night.

QB Orville Rau passed 20 yards to Avaristo Pineda and Pineda scored on the next play, with 1:45 left in the half. Terry Clinton added the two PAT's on a run.

Stevens, incidentally, was ill earlier this week. In his absence, coaching aide George White took charge of the club. Don will probably be on the sidelines tonight.

The success was their third of the year, compared to five defeats and a tie. It was perhaps their finest effort of the season for, in a previous game, they had lost to Travis, 12-6.

Yearlings broke for 35 yards and a tally, Pineda doing the honors, at which time 2:32 was left. Rau then went to Wes Sey for the two extra points.

Up front, Forsan will give away a lot of weight but the Bisons boast a high-octane offense that may be hard to defend.

So tough was the Yearling defense that Travis could gain only 61 yards on the ground and just nine through the air.

On defense, Vern White, Johnny Martinez, Clinton, Eric Lanspery, Ken Froman, Vicky Woodruff, Pineda, Billy Nugent, David Krebs, Albert Smith, David Lewis, Larry Stanley and John Thomas Smith excelled for Big Spring.

Probable starters:

Much of that came early when Travis recovered an on-sides kick and powered its way to Big Spring's 17, where Runnels took over on downs. It was the only time Travis crossed midfield. In the last half, the visitors could make

On offense, standouts included Pineda, Nathan Baker, Clinton, Rau, Sey, Albert Smith, Nugent, Clifford Crow, Woodruff, Jerry Mintz, Lance Terry and Froman.

Shortly before the half ended, Big Spring took the lead on an electrifying 82-yard sideline pass from QB Mike Adams to Mike McCormick. He got the ball away despite a terrific rush. Big Spring led, 24-20, with two minutes to play. San Angelo was far from through. The Kittens almost scored on the kickoff. They proceeded to march to Big Spring's goal, where the Shorthorns held for four nerve-racking plays. The Big Springers took over on the one-foot line, ran three plays and then gave up a safety rather than risk having the punt blocked.

The Big Springers had to stave off yet another drive before nailing down the win, however.

Big Spring's offense sputtered but made the big plays when it counted. Adams made 53 yards running with the ball, Jones 51. All told, the Shorthorns gained 234 yards. The entire defensive unit played magnificently, especially the center of the forward wall.

LORENZO BELL

Big Spring tries to bounce back from a three-touchdown defeat handed it last week by Midland High in an 8 o'clock game with Abilene High in Abilene this evening.

There won't be anything riding on the outcome of this contest but prestige but the Steers and the Eagles probably both will be "up" for this one.

A third place finish is possible for the winner and a sixth victory would certainly be frosting to Big Spring's fine season.

The Steers are capable of some outstanding ball. They were off their feed last week against Midland but had previously had three out-standing games in a row — against Abilene Cooper, Odessa High and San Angelo.

Coach David McWilliams of Abilene went largely with sophomores last year and has done an outstanding job with his material this fall. Only team to beat the Eagles was Odessa Permian. The War Birds tied San Angelo, 7-7, though many said they deserved to win that one.

The deadlock, incidentally, could knock the Eagles out of the chance to represent the conference in the playoffs — the Abilene club still has Abilene Cooper to play.

Greg Stirman directs the Abilene club and he is a fast-thinking quarterback with a good arm and fair speed. He runs the option well and throws the long ball to near perfection.

Stirman has lots of help in the Abilene secondary. John Chitwood is a strong runner and a good lead blocker. He is a 170-pound senior.

TOP RUNNER
Mike Brooks is Abilene's leading ground gainer, a junior with the quickness. He is hard to tackle.

backer Randy Bryant, nose guard Clifton DuBoise and monster man Danny Edwards are other titans in Abilene's defensive alignment who will strike out.

Big Spring hopes to get its running game in full gear again. The Steers clicked through the air to set up their only touchdown last week.

Big Spring scouts say Dan Cobb is the leading threat in the Abilene backfield when he's well. He has been ailing for two weeks but reports have him ready to play 48 minutes, if necessary. Dan is always counted upon for the short yardage.

A good outside threat in the Eagle secondary is Lorenzo Bell, a junior who alternates at the right halfback spot with Brooks. He has been injured, too, but is said to be ready.

Abilene's rugged line play is led by Victor Callison, 195-pounder; and Ricky Childers 195 and Ricky Childers 195 and Ricky Childers 195.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am secretary to the owner of a small but successful business and have been for some time. I handle all the bills.

Recently my boss' wife called and asked me to send the office telephone bill home. She said her husband had unjustly accused her of making several costly long distance calls from the office and she wanted the bill to prove that she had not. Naturally I sent the bill to her.

Here's the hitch. My boss has had a girl friend for several years. She lives out of town and I know that he makes many long distance calls to her. (He doesn't know that I know about her.) I don't know if his wife suspects anything. She is a lovely woman. (His wife.)

Well, today my boss said, "If my wife asks for the phone bills again, please don't give them to her!" No further explanation. What am I supposed to do now? I can't ignore the wife's requests. And I can't tell her that her husband doesn't want me to send the phone bills to her. I am Very Truly Yours,

DEAR ABBY: You are working for HIM — not HER. And no secretary who is as sharp as you appear could be so naive as to send the office telephone bill home to the boss' wife without first consulting the boss. It's almost as though you wanted his "lovely" wife to catch him in something. Don't take orders from anyone but your boss again, or for Christ-mas you're apt to get your walking papers.

DEAR ABBY: What ever happened to all those nice thoughtful ladies who used to offer their mailmen a glass of ice-cold lemonade in the summer, and a cup of hot steaming chocolate in the winter? Even a glass of ice WATER would be nice, and it surely wouldn't break up anyone's budget. Would it now?

WALKING DRY
DEAR WALKING: Those "nice, thoughtful ladies" were our mothers and grandmothers, most of whom are gone now. You're right. It wouldn't break up anyone's budget, but it's not the money — it's the time that most homemakers are reluctant to spend. With all the new-fangled time-saving devices at milady's fingertips today, she seems to be too "busy" for the old-fashioned courtesies. Doesn't make much sense, does it?

DEAR ABBY: When will we learn the lessons of human behavior that abound in so much of Greek and Roman literature? The ancients were well aware of seduction, and the Bible treats it extensively. We on the other hand, pretend that sexual responses can only happen when and where they're ideally supposed to. All the while, police blotters and hospitals and institutional admissions reflect more than half of our crimes stem from wrongful passions and uncontrolled lust.

Seduction is seduction, and any sexily-clad female had better believe that ALL men into whose view she comes can be affected by her "teasing" attire as well as the ONE man she may be seductively dressed for.

Also, please know that it is because a man is NORMAL that he is aroused, not because the female displaying a lot of thigh or cleavage is built like Venus. She could be built like half a cord of firewood and still arouse his basic instincts. Unfortunately rape or the sex act are not always a man's responses to sexual provocations. A man exposed to an office full of sexily dressed women can go home and beat his fat, dumpy wife senseless is a way of relieving the tension he's been under all day.

Every woman who dresses to show too much of herself knows that she is teasing. And this goes for someone's 15-year-old daughter, or his 60-year-old grandmother.

CONFIDENTIAL TO HEARTBROKEN PARENTS: From your letter I would say that you did your best. Now, quit punishing yourselves. Some parents "train up a child in the way he should go" . . . and out of sheer spite and rebellion, the child deliberately departs from it.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teenagers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Mrs. Griffith In Recital

LEVELLAND — South Plains College will present Ruth Holmes Griffith, pianist, in a faculty recital at 8 p.m. Monday, Nov. 17, in the college auditorium. Mrs. Griffith's recital will include Sonatas by Scarlatti, Beethoven, Chopin and Prokofiev and is open to the public without charge.

Hendrix Going To Music Conference

Jack Hendrix, chairman of the music department of Odessa College, will represent his institution at the 45th annual meeting of the National Association of Schools of Music in Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 26-28. Hendrix will deliver a paper at a Tuesday session, the topic of which will be "The Outreach of Music in the Junior College: Prospects and Potentials for the 70's."

Some 450 delegates, representing music schools throughout the nation, are expected. The general meetings will deal with problems confronting music education in the U.S. One session, in particular, will show slides of some 40 new fine arts and music buildings recently built at NASM campuses. The panel in charge will include a well known architect and a professional acoustical engineer. Plans have been completed for back-stage tours of the Music Center and attendance at three performances. Hendrix formerly was chairman of the music department for Howard County Junior College.

Whale Heads Toward Delta

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A 30-foot-long grey whale swam into San Francisco Bay, bumped into a barge and was last seen Wednesday heading toward the Sacramento-San Joaquin River Delta.

"He must have been very lost to be going up a river," said Dr. Robert T. Orr, associate director of the Academy of Sciences. "Usually whales stay close to the shoreline and in sight of other whales."

Orr said this is the season when grey whales migrate down the Pacific coast from the Arctic to Baja California. The whale jostled the barge at Port Chicago and then headed eastward toward the delta.

Abilene Christian College. She holds the Master of Music Degree in Piano from North Texas State University where she also received the Bachelor of Arts Degree.

While there she was a pupil of Stephan Bardas and Larry Walz and held a teaching fellowship in piano and music theory. Prior to attending North Texas, Mrs. Griffith received the Associate in Arts Degree from Texarkana College where she was a pupil of Robbie Tye. She has done doctoral study at North Texas and is currently studying with Louis Catuogno at Texas Tech.

Mrs. Griffith is the wife of Capt. Wayne E. Griffith, of Big Spring, who is an instructor pilot in the T-38 program at Reese Air Force Base. The Griffiths have given joint piano-trumpet recitals at North Texas and Abilene Christian College.
