U.S. JUDGE Rules Abortions Legal

WASHINGTON (AP) — A federal judge has struck down a District of Columbia law banning abortions performed by doctors and urged that his decision be appealed quickly to the Supreme Court.

Should the high court uphold the ruling, prohibitions on abortion — some enacted a century ago — could come tumbling down in scores of states.

U.S. District Court Judge Gerhard A. Gesell's decision held Monday that a physician may not be prosecuted for performing an abortion.

Gesell ruled that the 1901 law banning abortions except when necessary to save a pregnant woman's life or health was so vague and indefinite as to be unconstitutional.

Although his ruling dealt most directly with the rights of a Washington doctor accused of performing an illegal abortion, the judge added:

"There has been increasing indication in decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States that as a secular matter a woman's liberty and right of privacy extends to family, marriage and sex matters, and may well include the right to remove an unwanted child, at least in the early stages of pregnancy."

Since the law is a federal one, the ruling could be appealed directly to the Supreme Court. Gesell also suggested that Congress might want to rewrite it, providing more concrete terms.

The District of Columbia law is similar to laws in 40 states. A few states, of which Colorado was the first, have laws allowing doctors to perform abortions when pregnancy endangers a woman's physical or mental health, or when caused by rape or incest.

That position is embodied in a model law prepared by the American Medical Association and was brought before a number of state legislatures this year.

Apollo 12 Countdown

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The weatherman today forecast good conditions for Friday's launching of the Apollo 12 astronauts on man's second moon landing voyage.

The prediction came as two of the astronauts, who will fly the world's most sophisticated machine, trained in more prosaic vehicles — a helicopter and a jet plane.

After checking progress of the countdown at the launch pad, Charles Conrad Jr. and Richard F. Gordon Jr. drove to nearby Patrick Air Force Base.

Conrad, who will command the Apollo 12 mission, operated the helicopter as if he were hovering before selecting a landing spot on the moon. Gordon zipped above southern Florida in a T38 jet plane.

The third astronaut, Alan L. Bean, ran through emergency checkout procedures in the lunar module training vehicle. He and Conrad are to land on the moon while Gordon orbits in the command ship.

Wants To Help Texas Cities

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith told the Texas Municipal League today the state government wants to help cities solve their problems.

And a good start already has been made, Smith said.

"In all modesty it is our belief that this administration has done more for the cities of Texas than any previous administration," he said. "This has happened partly because of the changing role of the state in the federal system and partly by intent."

Among things done for cities, he listed his support for a law giving cities benefits from any extensions and expansions of the sales tax and his trip to Washington to oppose removal of the tax exempt status of municipal bonds.

"There are those who have referred to us as a rural governor — the last of a breed, if you will . . . We do not consider ourself a small-town governor or a big-city governor. We are governor of a state that includes both struggling rural communities and thriving urban centers. We must serve both," he said.

Bombs Scar Three NYC Skyscrapers

NEW YORK (AP) — Bombs exploded in three Manhattan skyscrapers early today, slightly injuring one man and causing limited damage.

About six hours later a news agency received an unsigned special delivery letter saying, "During this week of antiwar protest, we set off explosions in offices of Chase Manhattan, Standard Oil, and General Motors."

The letter, blaming "the giant corporations of America" for the world's ills, was in the same literate, press release style of similar letters sent to news agencies after a bomb exploded outside Army and draft offices in the Manhattan federal building last Sept. 19.

Police said they were investigating the letter.

The new blasts occurred about 1:05 a.m., minutes after telephoned warnings. The letter claiming responsibility for them bore two separate postmarks, one at 11:10 p.m. and another at 12:02 a.m. It was sent to United Press International.

The blasts hit in the 70-story RCA Building in Rockefeller Center, the new 50-story General Motors Building at 59th Street and Fifth Avenue and the 60-story Chase Manhattan Building in the downtown financial district.

The blast in the GM building caught maintenance employe Joseph Brandt, 26, of Brooklyn, in a freight elevator two floors away. His car plummeted six floors before it stopped and he managed to get out. He was not seriously injured.

All of the blasts occurred in or near elevator shafts causing heavy local damage but no fire. All occurred at about 1:05 a.m. EST. All could have been fatal to anyone in the immediate area, officials said.

First hint of the impending blasts came at 12:35 a.m. Police said a man telephoned the security police at the Chase Manhattan Building and warned:

"There are three bombs which will go off at about the same time in three different buildings."

At the same time a switchboard operator at the RCA Building took a call from a man who said, "I am calling to let you know there is going to be a bomb exploding from the 11th floor to the 18th floor in 20 minutes."

At the GM Building police said a call was received about 1 a.m. warning that everyone should be evacuated between the 16th and 24th floors.

At each of the buildings search procedures were started. Fire officials said the bomb went off on the 16th floor of the Chase Manhattan Building next to the elevators, causing extensive damage to the elevator shaft and doors and blowing out at least six windows on the Liberty Street side of the building.

There was also light damage to the 15th and 17th floors.

At the RCA Building—the fifth highest skyscraper in New York and sixth highest in the country—the blast occurred on the 20th floor in a corridor between two banks of elevators.

Three Police, Gunman, Woman Shot In Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Three policemen were wounded today in a shooting in a downtown department store as they sought to arrest a man.

The gunman also was shot and wounded, as was a woman customer.

Details were missing but from 10 to 12 shots were fired.

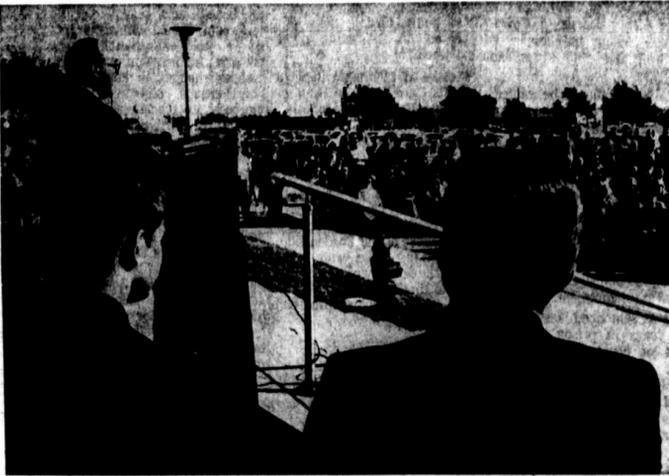

The wounded officers were Lt. L. C. Michna, detective Kenneth Waycott and patrolman R. E. Carver.

Waycott was shot once in the abdomen, Michna twice in the abdomen, and Carver once in a shoulder.

One witness said a man, accompanied by a policeman, entered the store while displaying a gun. The policeman was reported being held as a hostage.

The man went to a wig counter, shoved the policeman aside, and grabbed the woman customer. He then started toward the Travis street exit where he was surrounded by policemen. During the shooting the woman was hit by a stray bullet.

Veterans Day Taking On New Significance

Veterans Day Audience Reminded Of Patriotism

By MARILYN NEVELS

"It is easier to fight for principles, than to live up to them," Big Spring businessman Jack Cook told a Veterans Day audience of more than 400 at the Veterans Administration Hospital this morning. "I believe the young men fighting the unpopular war in Vietnam understand why we are there, better than we do."

Gray dawn cleared and sunny skies brought more than one hundred hospitalized veterans and close to 400 Big Spring residents to the hospital steps today. Scores of patients in wheelchairs crowded into the lobby around the entrance to hear the band and see the color guard raise the American flag to wave in the brisk wind. They devoted this morning to the 38 million veterans, living and dead, and paused to consider Armistice Day, 1918, the great war that did not end all wars; the unpopular Vietnam War; peace and freedom; duty and patriotism.

Cook, Big Spring native and World War II veteran, spoke of patriotism in America today.

"Patriotism is a kind of religion; it is the egg from which wars are hatched," wrote Guy de Maupassant," began Cook. He then quoted Adlai Stevenson in his definition of patriotism:

"Patriotism puts country ahead of self; Patriotism is not short, frenzied outbursts of emotion, but the tranquil and steady dedication of a lifetime . . . it is often easier to fight for principles than to live up to them." Cook quoted.

Cook told of his return from war to the U.S., docking at New York City at dawn Jan. 10, 1946. He and 3,500 veterans of China, Burma and India, after 31 days aboard a troopship, greeted first sight of the Statue of Liberty "with a mighty roar . . . yells and cheers were soon replaced with tears and sobs, tears of gladness, pride, relief, even remorse for those of us who didn't make it back," Cook said.

"We came back to civilian life, ready to experience peace forever," recalled Cook. "Our generation became busily involved in just plain living."

"In our eagerness to forget the past and not wanting our children to go through another conflict such as we had just experienced, we probably took too lightly the responsibility of passing on to them the importance of such things as patriotism."

"It became blasé to show emotion in such things as patriotism or flag waving," said Cook. "In watching TV, listening to the radio and reading the newspapers, we could easily get the idea that our younger generation is made up mostly of protesters, militants, hippies, yuppies, etc., but this is simply not the case."

"The great majority of young people are undergoing a new birth of national pride. I believe the young men fighting the unpopular war understand why we are there better than we do. They know who the enemy is on the battlefield and off."

The real enemy hasn't changed from one generation to the next. He works from inside. "He uses our guaranteed rights under the Constitution to further his own aims; rights under a Constitution in which he does not believe, would not defend."

"Our duty and course of action is clear. As Patrick Henry said, 'The battle is to the vigilant, the active, the brave.' This is opposed to the apathetic, the passive, the weak."

"If we fail to keep our vigilance, if we fail to keep our faith, we could find ourselves in the situation related in the Libyan Fable: 'Once an eagle, stricken with a dart said when he saw the feathers of the shaft: So, by our own feathers and not by other hands are we now smitten.'" Cook concluded.

Visiting VA Hospital patients today under the "VIPs visiting VIPs" program are George H. O'Brien Jr. and four members of the Rufneks professional football team. VIPs — very interested personalities — visiting VIPs—very important patients—was inaugurated at VA hospitals nation-wide today. President Nixon and former presidents Johnson and Truman agreed to serve as patrons of the program. The VIP Program will be a continuing activity to have prominent people from all fields, sports, entertainment, industry, literature, etc., visit hospitalized veterans. O'Brien is a Big Spring native and recipient of the Congressional Medal of Honor for heroic action during the Korean Conflict. He was joined on the guest platform by Rufnek business manager Rufus Tucker, quarterback Ron Skosnik, defensive tackle Gene Layton and defensive end George Resley.

Traditional marches were played by the Big Spring High School Band beginning at 10 a.m. under the direction of Bill Bradley. "America" was sung by Carl Reynolds, with piano accompaniment by Janice Majors, from the band. The pledge of allegiance was led by first class Boy Scout Raymond Martinez Jr. The flag was raised by Webb AFB Security Police color guard.

Participating in the ceremony was Jack Powell, hospital administrator.

Americans Honor Their War Heroes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans honored all who have served in their armed forces today amid demonstrations of support for President Nixon's Vietnam policy and preparations for protests against the U.S. course in that latest of conflicts.

Those who back the administration's Vietnam position seized on Veterans Day to try to signify that there is in fact a "great, silent majority" just as Nixon said in a Nov. 3 speech.

The date, which marked the end of fighting in World War I in 1918, was observed as Armistice Day until 1954. For the past 15 years it has been Veterans Day, a salute to American veterans of all wars.

Veterans Day 1969 comes only a week and a day after Nixon asked the nation for support on Vietnam and only two days before the start of a new round of war protests which are to wind up with a mass rally in Washington Saturday.

Ardent supporters of the President hoped today's activities would become a counterdemonstration to the war protest. Civic, fraternal and veterans' organizations came up with or announced support for ad hoc groups opposing moratoriums and other "get out of Vietnam now" demonstrations.

While they carried on their programs today, Nixon himself was headed for a veterans' hospital in the capital. His daughter, Mrs. David Eisenhower, followed his lead but chose a hospital in Northampton, Mass.

Nixon issued his Veterans Day proclamation on Sept. 24, calling for citizens to honor "those men who have preserved our Union and our freedom."

"I ask that special prayers for peace be offered for our men still involved in defending the inalienable right of liberty; and for those whose memory we honor with a star of gold, let us pause in silent tribute on this Veterans Day, praying that they did not die in vain and that their sacrifices will bring us peace."

Placing of the traditional presidential wreath for the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery was assigned to David Packard, deputy secretary of defense. And the administrator of veterans affairs, Donald E. Johnson prepared a speech warmly supporting Nixon's attempt to end the war in Vietnam. He said tickets for all reserved seats for the 11 a.m. program at Arlington were taken for the first time in 16 years.

Johnson, a former national commander of the American Legion and a Nixon appointee, strongly endorsed the use of Veterans Day to show support for the administration's Vietnam policy. He sent 100,000 packets of material to school and community leaders.

"I do not presume to speak for him (Nixon)," Johnson said in his prepared remarks. "However, I do know how dedicated he is to the task of achieving the theme of Veterans Day 1969—peace with honor . . ."

"To those who may think, or would have others think, that they alone understand and abhor the suffering and savagery of war—to them I say now that they do an injustice to America's 40 million veterans, living and dead. And they deceive themselves."

Scheduled as the centerpiece of today's heightened Veterans Day activities was an afternoon "Freedom Rally for Freedom in Vietnam and All the World" on the grounds of the Washington Monument—also the scene of Saturday's anti-war protest.

The Grand Ol' Opry was called in to entertain between speeches by members of the House and Sen. John Tower, R-Tex. Coordinators of the rally said Monday if the weather was good they expected about 10,000—well below the estimates of a quarter-million and up being put out by war protest groups for Saturday.

"The problem is," Tower said wryly, "most of the silent majority are working people who can't get away from their jobs."

Across the land, supporters of Nixon's war course were being urged to light their headlights and porchlights, fly the Stars and Stripes, parade, wear arm-bands and "I Love America" signs, and pray.

A number of organizations are trying to expand the pro-administration demonstrations to the whole week. Participants can take their choice of names for it: Operation Speak Out, A Week of National Unity, United We Stand, National Confidence Week, Honor America Week.

Planes Shot Down In Aerial Fightings

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Egyptian planes duelled over the Suez Canal today, and the Israelis claimed their airmen shot down three of the Egyptian jets.

This raised to 57 the number of Egyptian planes which Israel claims to have destroyed since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war. The last claim was on Oct. 6, when the Israelis said they shot down three MIGs over the Israeli-occupied Sinai desert.

Israel said all of its planes returned safely from the dogfight today. But Cairo Radio said the Egyptian jets shot down two Israeli planes, with one plunging into the Gulf of Suez and the other crashing on land in flames.

Cairo admitted the loss of one Egyptian jet but said the rest returned to base safely.

Israel said all of its planes returned safely from the dogfight today. An Israeli spokesman said the air battle took place about 8:30 a.m. over the southern part of the blocked waterway during an Israeli air raid on Egyptian targets.

The Israeli fliers brought down the three Egyptian jets with air-to-air missiles and gunfire, the spokesman said. He reported all the planes went down on the Egyptian side of the canal, that one disintegrated, the wings of another fell off, and the pilot of the third bailed out. It was the second day of intense air activity over the canal. On Monday, Egyptian planes attacked Israeli positions at the northern and southern ends of the waterway, while Israeli planes attacked the Egyptian side of the Gulf of Suez and hit Egyptian military targets along the central sector of the canal.

An Israeli senior staff officer said Monday that Israeli planes have knocked out all Egypt's anti-aircraft missile sites along the 103-mile Suez Canal during the past three months and have damaged or destroyed all Egyptian radar sites along the waterway and the Gulf of Suez.

In Cairo, meanwhile, the Joint Arab Defense Council resolved Monday night at the end of a three-day conference that "mobilization and force" is the only solution to the Israeli crisis. The council also agreed "in principle" to an Arab summit conference in Rabat, Morocco, and set Dec. 20-22 as the tentative date.

Mayor Daley To Appear As A Defense Witness

CHICAGO (AP)—Mayor Richard J. Daley has indicated, through a city official, that he will appear under subpoena as a defense witness in the U.S. District Court trial of seven men charged with conspiring to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

There was no indication when Daley might be called to testify, but Leonard I. Weinglass, a defense lawyer, said the government had told him its case would be concluded by noon Monday at the latest.

The city official, Marvin Aspen, an assistant corporation counsel, appeared at the start of Monday's session to ask Judge Julius J. Hoffman to throw out defense subpoenas for Police Supt. James B. Conlisk and James McDonough, head of the Chicago Park District.

The subpoenas were sent out by the defense last week and Conlisk was ordered to appear next Monday. Judge Hoffman scheduled a hearing for Thursday on Aspen's motion.

Aspen told newsmen later that the defense has requested more than 5,000 official documents, including all correspondence with the mayor's office concerning the convention.

Aspen was told by Judge Hoffman to confer with defense attorneys as to who should pay the cost of copying the papers if they are used.

Barbara Callender, a police woman, was on the witness stand throughout Monday's session, undergoing cross-examination about speeches made by Jerry Rubin, 31, a defendant, in Lincoln Park during the convention.

Court was recessed until Wednesday because of the Veterans Day holiday.

OPENS THURSDAY Youngster Cast In A Lead Part

"A Thousand Clowns," a three-act comedy production of the Little Theatre of Big Spring, puts a youngster in one of the lead parts, the first time one so young has been so cast in an adult production.

Brian Sursky is the youngster in the Herb Gardner play, and the adult leads are Gary McCrummen and Darlene Fiveash. Supporting roles are filled by John Howard, E. A. (Slim) Fiveash, and Chuck Boland.

Directing the production is Mrs. Lida Fiveash Boland, and the producer is Danny Fiveash.

The play is being staged six nights at the Cosden Club, opening Thursday of this week, and playing Friday (Webb AFB) and Saturday; then being repeated on the same nights next week.

Tickets at $2 are available at Kathy's Card Shop, in Highland Shopping Center; at Modesta's downtown; or by calling Fiveash Plumbing Co., 7-2559.

Patrons are urged to buy advance tickets, to insure not being disappointed on a particular night. The play is open to all residents, who need not be members of the Cosden Club.

In addition, those who would like to have dinner at the club prior to the 8 p.m. curtain, may make reservations with the club management.

He was sentenced last week to four years in prison for contempt of court by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Julius Hoffman, who had earlier ordered him bound and gagged for his outbursts while trying to act as his own attorney in the conspiracy trial of Seale and seven others.

The judge declared a mistrial for Seale and set retrial for April 23. Trial of the other seven charged with conspiring to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention continues.

Charles Garry, the white attorney who could not defend Seale because of an operation, met him at the jail with a warm embrace and a Black Panther handshake and said: "Whatever he wants to do, I will assist him. All a lawyer does is assist anyway."

Senators Told Draft Reform To Be Limited

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Armed Services Committee has put senators on notice that reform of the military draft this year will be limited to the President's lottery proposal and there will be no reform at all.

Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., with the unanimous vote of his committee behind him, issued that notice Monday although he insisted several times it was no ultimatum.

Stennis said he would meet with senators who want a sweeping, comprehensive overhaul of the Selective Service System now, to try to persuade them to hold off reform amendments until next year.

He and the committee promised to hold extensive hearings on draft reform proposals—including changes in deferments, conscientious objector status, methods of classification, and makeup of local draft boards—no later than Feb. 15.

There was no immediate reaction to the move by the Senate's Democratic leadership who have insisted the draft should be reformed in one package and not one piece at a time.

All members of the committee pledged to act to avoid amendments on the Senate floor aimed at expanding the House-passed bill which calls for random selection of draft-eligible young men from a pool composed of men mostly 19 years old.

Horoscope TOMORROW —CARROLL RICHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are now able to charm others into seeing and doing things your way. In fact, it is the best money you get for free. Do not put on the smile of sincerity and show you are fond of those with whom you have any alliances.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Show appreciation to those new associates and you get fine results. Do some research work that is important now. Be well informed and you have more success.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It is vital that you find a better method for handling these responsibilities you have committed yourself to. Do not rely entirely on "Yuletide" could be faulty today. But it works O.K. with me.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Find out what it is that associates want from you and do whatever brings the right understanding between you. Discuss debatable points intelligently. Get them settled properly. Be clever, even blunt.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Make sure that you do something to make your home, office more charming. Co-worker thinks differently from you so be diplomatic and get along with them. Keep busy at duties ahead of you.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have the time today to do something very thoughtful for friends or those to whom you have some obligation. That big problem can be worked out better first. Improve your surroundings.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Pleasing kin will help to offset that sober and pessimistic mood you now are in. Later you can think better and will be able to handle serious problems wisely. Side-step pending arguments with others.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Get right into all the activity you have planned for today, but be sure to schedule your time wisely first. Then sit down with a higher-up and see if your work is appreciated by a superior.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Find the right system for improving your property and other assets you have. Get busy and get that long overdue financial affair straightened. Be clever and make sure that you figure correctly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You do not need to philosophize so much with others if you use that fine smile more often. You have to get your feet on the ground before you can add much to your present assets. Be fair with others.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) New activities are very appealing but you first have to prepare yourself well before you can get into them. One new outfit is particularly fascinating. Put that one first on the agenda.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Ideal day to be with good friends at the hobbies mutually enjoyed, so set up your appointments early. One friend is in trouble. Help to the point of getting him laughing again and rising above it all.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You had better finish work you have started if you want to gain the approval of higher-ups today. Be more conservative than you have been in the past. Do nothing to jeopardize your good name.

'Fairy Princess' To Dye Himself

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — A North Carolina State University junior with measurements of about 40-32-34 has been selected as a finalist in the school's homecoming queen contest.

He is 165-pound David Mark Brown. Brown and 10 comely coeds were chosen as finalists Monday night by a leadership fraternity. The queen will be chosen for Saturday's game with Houston.

Brown says he will dye himself red and wear a red and white "fairy princess" outfit when he rides in the homecoming parade.

Contest rules specify only that entrants be fulltime students between the ages of 18 and 24.

Panther May Defend Self

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Black Panther leader Bobby Seale says he might act as his own attorney again at his retrial on conspiracy charges in Chicago even though his lawyer is now well and able to defend him.

"There's a point to be made," Seale told newsmen at San Francisco's Hall of Justice. "I might try to defend myself to make an example of what a black man is up against with the power structure."

Seale was flown from Chicago Monday by commercial airliner under guard of three black federal marshals to await extradition on a Connecticut murder conspiracy indictment.

He was sentenced last week to four years in prison for contempt of court by U.S. Dist. Court Judge Julius Hoffman, who had earlier ordered him bound and gagged for his outbursts while trying to act as his own attorney in the conspiracy trial of Seale and seven others.

The judge declared a mistrial for Seale and set retrial for April 23. Trial of the other seven charged with conspiring to incite riots during the 1968 Democratic National Convention continues.

Charles Garry, the white attorney who could not defend Seale because of an operation, met him at the jail with a warm embrace and a Black Panther handshake and said: "Whatever he wants to do, I will assist him. All a lawyer does is assist anyway."

Court was recessed until Wednesday because of the Veterans Day holiday.

The city official, Marvin Aspen, an assistant corporation counsel, appeared at the start of Monday's session to ask Judge Julius J. Hoffman to throw out defense subpoenas for Police Supt. James B. Conlisk and James McDonough, head of the Chicago Park District.

The subpoenas were sent out by the defense last week and Conlisk was ordered to appear next Monday. Judge Hoffman scheduled a hearing for Thursday on Aspen's motion.

Aspen told newsmen later that the defense has requested more than 5,000 official documents, including all correspondence with the mayor's office concerning the convention.

Aspen was told by Judge Hoffman to confer with defense attorneys as to who should pay the cost of copying the papers if they are used.

Barbara Callender, a police woman, was on the witness stand throughout Monday's session, undergoing cross-examination about speeches made by Jerry Rubin, 31, a defendant, in Lincoln Park during the convention.

Gunfire Kills, Wounds Friend

HOUSTON (AP) — Gunfire killed Charles Morris, 19, and gravely wounded a friend Monday night as they walked along a street on the near southeast side of downtown Houston.

Police said the shots apparently came from a passing car and they had determined no motive.

Attendants said the wounded man, Ivory Ned, 31, was hit in the back.

Bad Loser Plans Test In Court

LAMAR, Colo. (AP) — Gene Clay lost the coin toss and a chance at the job of city councilman in this southeastern Colorado town but says he will go to the courts to protest.

Clay and Bob Ratzlaff received 190 votes each in a ward election for councilman Nov. 4 and, by city charter, a coin was tossed to determine the winner.

It isn't Math, History or English. But it's just as basic.

To earn a living, he needs the old fundamentals. To keep on living, he must learn the right way to drive. Yet only one out of three high school students takes a driver education course. Too bad. Automobile accidents are the number one killer of American teenagers.

How important is driver education? Well, it's important enough that trained drivers have 50% fewer accidents and traffic violations. Important enough that many insurance companies offer lower rates for teenagers who have completed driver training.

And important enough that new car dealers across the nation loan 34,000 automobiles every year to our public schools for driver training.

SKYLINES OF TEXAS—II Contrasts In San Antonio

Editor's Note: The skyline of Texas cities is ever changing. Sometimes it changes from day to night. That happens in San Antonio where skyscrapers stand side-by-side with early day missions. This is one of a series of stories about Texas skylines. Today San Antonio, Tomorrow Dallas.

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — With the Tower of the Americas dominating the downtown business district, San Antonio boasts a skyline that few Texas cities can match—by day or night.

By day the Tower serves as a reminder of the contrasts in this historic city, where 20th Century skyscrapers stand side by side with Spanish missions dating back to the early 1700s.

NEW LOOK
By night, illuminated by powerful spotlights gracing the full length of its concrete stem, the Tower takes on a new look, as if to lure passers-by to its big tophouse for a breathtaking view sparkling with a hundred thousand pinpoints of light.

The Tower of the Americas, tallest observation tower in the Western Hemisphere, has been San Antonio's trademark for less than two years.

A product of HemisFair '68, the $5 million Tower rises 750 feet—more than 70 stories—above the fairgrounds. Visibility from its observation decks and revolving restaurant is up to 90 miles.

HemisFair, the downtown world's fair, spurred a construction boom and rejuvenation efforts that brought a new air of freshness and optimism to the nation's 13th largest city.

New buildings are still going up. Just a few blocks from HemisFair, the First National Bank and the San Antonio Loan & Trust Co. are building a seven-story, $4.5 million home. Scheduled for completion in mid-1970, it's said to be one of the most expensive buildings here to date in terms of cost per square foot.

BOOM EXAMPLE
Across the HemisFair and new Convention Center—also a product of the fair—is the Hilton Palacio del Rio, one of the most elaborate examples of the construction boom.

Opened shortly before HemisFair began, the $7 million, 500-room hotel was literally put together room by room. Each of the concrete rooms was built and furnished miles away from the site, then lifted into place with giant cranes.

From one side of the plush hotel, guests have a view of the San Antonio River snaking through the city. From the other side can be seen by HemisFair grounds and the Tower of Americas.

San Antonians seem to have an affinity for towers. Some of the church spires here would be described as towers. San Fernando Cathedral — where Santa Anna flew the flag of "no quarter" at the fall of the twin towers.

The rustic Clock Tower at Ft. Sam Houston, erected in the late 1870s not far from what is now downtown San Antonio, stands 97.7 feet tall and offers a commanding view of the city.

ONLY A FEW
Only a few persons are allowed to climb the Clock Tower's ancient wooden stairs. But at Trinity University, the T. Frank Murchison Tower is open to weekend visitors seeking a look at San Antonio's skyline.

The 166-foot Murchison Tower, named for a former Trinity trustee, was designed by local architect O'Neil Ford, who also designed the "Tower of the Americas."

In the very heart of the city and an integral part of San Antonio's skyline is still another tower — the 30-story Tower Life Building, second only to the Tower of the Americas in height.

San Antonio's tallest building since 1929, the Tower Life Building vies with the Tower of the Americas in beauty when night falls and an elaborate lighting system flicks on.

Three other buildings joined the Tower Life Building at almost the same time to make up much of what is today's San Antonio skyline:

The 21-story Milam Building opened in late 1928 as the first fully air-conditioned office building in the world and the first built of reinforced concrete only, with no steel girders.

BOOTED OUT
In 1930 came the Alamo National Building, with 24 stories. Headquarters for a bank, it houses more than 200 other tenants.

Only a matter of feet shorter than the Alamo National is the Nix Professional Building. Completed in 1931, its top six stories are devoted to a 210-bed hospital. A solarium on the top floor gives patients and visitors a full view of the Alamo and the nearby HemisFair grounds.

Most of the older buildings here have no 13th floor; superstition wouldn't allow it. However, the 21-story National Bank of Commerce, built in 1958, does have a 13th floor—but no 14th.

An important tenant, so the story goes, moved in on the condition that the building had a 13th floor. Plans already had been made to skip the 13th in true building tradition. Doors and elevator panels had already been numbered. But those plans were booting out the window, the 13th floor emerged, and the 14th disappeared.

Didn't Specify What These Were

TOKYO (AP) — U.S. Postmaster-General Winton Blount said today pornography means different things to different people and added: "Some things I would rather enjoy, my mother-in-law would find obscene."

He didn't specify what these were.

Answering a question at the Foreign Correspondents Club of Japan, Blount said pornography "is a growing and serious problem in the United States" but that the Post Office Department's dilemma is how to control it without getting involved in censorship.

Blount is attending the annual meeting of the Universal Postal Union.

This Tale Has Moral

WASHINGTON (AP) — The moral to this tale is that when you expect the President to see your wife, give her a little warning.

Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe told this on himself Sunday night to a women's highway safety group.

"Several months ago I took President Nixon on an early morning helicopter tour above the highways that lead into Washington, so he could get a first-hand look at the traffic congestion that plagues all our cities.

"I saw that we would be flying near the apartment building where Mrs. Volpe and I live, and I asked the President if the pilot could swoop over in that direction and maybe Mrs. Volpe would see us.

"After all, how many housewives get waved to by the President from a helicopter first thing in the morning? So we did — and sure enough, we flew in close, the President waved, and there was Jennie, in housecoat and curlers, hanging up curtains.

"You can bet I've been hearing about that one."

Topless Dancer's Appeal Rejected By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court rejected Monday the appeal of a topless dancer who claimed bare-breasted performances are protected by the U.S. Constitution from criminal prosecution.

The dancer, Carol Derrington, 24, was convicted in Portland, Ore., in 1966 of violating a city ordinance aimed at topless entertainers. She was fined $200.

The court made no comment in turning its back on her appeal.

Miss Derrington's argument was that topless dancing is a form of expression guaranteed by the First Amendment to be free from government prohibition.

At one point she had won a ruling from an appeals court in Oregon invalidating the 1965 city ordinance. But the State Supreme Court, by 5-2 vote last February, approved both her conviction and the ordinance. State courts have reached conflicting decisions on whether topless dancers can be prosecuted. The California and New Jersey supreme courts, for instance, have held they cannot.

Notice Of Indictment Served

An indictment notice was served to Jerry Madry, 19, who listed his address as 3000 Cherokee, when sheriff's officer Bill Whitton returned him from Monahans Friday. Madry was indicted Oct. 31 by the Howard County Grand Jury for forgery and passing worthless checks. He remains in Howard County jail on $2,000 bond.

Arraignments for all 28 persons indicted by the last grand jury are set for Thursday in 118th District Court.

Offered Service With A Smile

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two holdup men took $200 from a service station safe Monday while three accomplices offered service with a smile to customers, police said.

The thugs, armed with a shotgun and revolver, bound the owner, an attendant and a customer at a Clark gas station, but later freed the owner to open the safe, police said.

Curfew Lifted

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Authorities lifted Belfast's drinking curfew over the weekend, and police and army officials reported no disturbances.

The curfew had been in effect for three weekends to check street disturbances between the Roman Catholic and Protestant communities.

To all Federal Employees who live in and around BIG SPRING

Welcome to the biggest and best health-care protection plan in the world—BLUE CROSS® and BLUE SHIELD®

The BIG, IMPORTANT DATES are—NOV. 10 to 28. During this period you can choose, for you and your family's health-care protection the "Blues"—BLUE CROSS® and BLUE SHIELD®. You can swing over to the "Blues" from any other protection service you may have. You can swing to the "Blues", if you now have none at all. All under the Federal Employees Program.

The FIRST TIME in 3 YEARS! And very likely the last time for a long time to come, that you will have this opportunity. Will sickness in your family wait till then?

Why the BLUES? Well, first of all, far, far more federal employees have already chosen the "Blues". The "Blues" were way out in front at the very start of the program. And have been growing ever since. So big a Number One there isn't even a close second.

Second, more than 71 MILLION other Americans have already chosen the "Blues". That's equal to ONE THIRD of everyone in the U.S.! So big a Number One there isn't even a close second.

Third, think how wonderful it is to present that Blue I.D. card at the hospital admissions desk, and feel like you just about OWN the hospital!

Fourth, man what a lot you get for the money!

There is a little leaflet which explains it all, in simple language—and you ought to read it. Ask your personnel officer, or write us, direct. We're all ready to help—we're more than ready to welcome you to the "Blues".

"Everybody's swinging to the Blues!"

Senate Rejects Slash In U.S. Space Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Warned it might leave American astronauts figuratively stranded on the moon, the Senate has rejected a proposed $100 million cut in the U.S. space budget.

"You chop a big chunk out of here and ... you won't have enough left to bring those poor fellows down," pleaded Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., before the 46-22 roll call vote to drop the cut.

Pastore said the cut, proposed by Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., would "crucify the entire program."

Proxmire, who objected to the $3.7 billion earmarked for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in this fiscal year, said Americans already have paid $24 billion to see television record man's first steps on the moon.

"Even by Broadway standards this is a pretty stiff price for a front row seat," Proxmire said.

Debate on the appropriations measure, which provides a total of $14.9 billion for 21 federal agencies including NASA, was filled with references to Fri-

Manhunt Goes On For Two Accused Of Killing Officer

WAXAHACHIE, Tex. (AP) — Householders carried firearms and kept close watch on their cars as peace officers spread farther north from Waxahachie today in search of two youths accused of killing a state patrolman.

Radio dispatchers said possemen centered their efforts during the night and early morning around the Red Oak community, seven miles north of here in Central Texas. They expressed belief both fugitives were injured.

The manhunt, engaging nearly 300 peace officers and volunteers, began after patrolman Travis Locker, 35, was slain with his own pistol Sunday night after he halted a swerving car at a Waxahachie exit from Interstate 35.

With help from two soldiers who told of hitchhiking with the hunted youths, Locker stumbled to his car and radioed an alarm before he collapsed and died.

Police said they found Ernest Guzman, 16, wounded in a car wrecked not far from where the patrolman was shot twice in the back. He was taken to a Dallas hospital, where attendants described his condition as fair.

Officers lodged murder charges against Guzman and Amadeo Guera, 16, and Felipe Orta, 18, all believed from the San Antonio area.

Guards were posted at hospitals in clinics in this area because a bloody trail behind the hunted pair indicated someone suffered severe cuts as their car was wrecked.

A state patrolman said both probably were injured instead of merely one, as was believed earlier. He said they probably remained together instead of separating, as some had suspected.

Commission To Consider Resolution On Council

City commissioners will consider approving a resolution Thursday night expressing Big Spring's desire to join a council of governments for the Permian Basin region.

The commissioners postponed their regular meeting from tonight until Thursday, because city officials are in San Antonio attending the annual conference of the Texas Municipal League.

Two meetings on a Permian Basin council of governments have been held earlier this year. At the last, the delegates decided one representative from each interested government should get together to discuss possible by-laws for a COGs, but a date for that meeting has never been set.

At one of those meetings City Manager Larry Crow said COG is merely a vehicle for mutual planning and cooperation of governmental agencies in a certain area. One government agency, however, has to be contiguous to another before it can form or join a COG.

Also on the agenda for the Thursday meeting will be:

1. Consideration of a request from the Citizens Radio Club of Big Spring for permission to erect an operations building on city property near where the Big Spring Amateur Radio Club now has a lease.
2. Consideration of recommendations from the traffic commission to reduce the speed limit to 20 miles per hour on North Main in the vicinity of Mount Bethel Baptist Church and that the fire lane (no parking) on the south side of Sixth Street be extended from Johnson to Goliad.
3. Consideration of a franchise for a taxicab operation, made by Jack E. Becker.
4. Consideration of allowing the assistant city secretary to sign checks.
5. Consideration of a resolution to the family of Raymond L. Tollett for his outstanding and unselfish community leadership and service.

Free Kindergarten Called Political

HOUSTON (AP)—A move by the Houston School District Board to reinstate free kindergarten has been criticized as a political move by some candidates seeking election to the board this Saturday.

The Rev. Leon Everett, one of the candidates endorsed by Citizens for Good Schools, said Monday that if one of the candidates running on an opposing slate is elected, free kindergarten will again be cut out at the first meeting of the new board in January.

The board voted 3-2 Monday just five days before a city-wide election that had created widespread interest because of the board action in cancelling free kindergarten beginning with last September.

All candidates now seeking positions on the board have taken a stand for free kindergarten. The pre-school children are now paying $30 a month to attend the once free classes.

Erwin Still Pushing Old Folks Home

AUSTIN (AP) — A group of friends of former President Lyndon Johnson haven't given up on plans to build a multimillion dollar old folks home on a tract of surplus federal land, one of the group said Monday.

"We are going to try to build a center," said Frank Erwin, chairman of the University of Texas Regents and president of Austin Geriatric Center, Inc., a non-profit corporation.

Sen. John Williams R-Del., told the Senate Oct. 30 that the corporation benefited from a "land grab" in the closing days of the Johnson administration.

The 26.5 acre site of a discontinued federal fish hatchery was deeded to the corporation just over a month before Johnson left office.

Erwin confirmed he had been informed by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare that the center lacked the federal income exemption needed to receive the land, which had been deeded by HEW last December.

"The only thing that's happened so far from the government's standpoint, that we have any official notice of, is they say we don't have the correct tax exemption in order to receive the land. We are in the process of getting it changed," Erwin said.

Fares Unfair?

DETROIT (AP) — About 20 large automotive companies in Michigan have complained to federal authorities that airline fares for businessmen are discriminatory and often unfair.

"We pray to God that it will be safe," said Sen. Gordon Allott, R-Colo. "If it is safe I am sure we will receive far more than we know now in scientific knowledge."

Proxmire argued the United States should undertake future space ventures jointly with the Soviet Union, and said he saw little value in nine more projected moonshots.

Pastore said the Soviets have refused to cooperate with Americans in space.

Carter's Varied Furniture Saves Shopping Troubles

The next time it's necessary to shop for furniture, save a lot of time, trouble and frustration by stopping at Carter's Furniture, 100-110 Runnels, first.

Carter's offers a complete and varied line of quality furniture, including Sealy, Tell City, Broyhill, La-Zy Boy, Kroehler, Holman and Virtue dinettes. Large selections are available in Early American, Modern, Spanish and French Provincial styles.

The furniture is departmentalized to make shopping easy at Carter's. The Early American suites, tables and chairs, are in the building at 110 Runnels. The furniture is arranged so it's easy to see exactly how it would look in a home.

If the taste is Spanish, Carter's has a large stock in the building at 100 Runnels. In colored accent pieces there are many styles and colors to choose from to match and complement present furniture.

Modern? There's a whole section filled with the latest styles in the newest color combinations.

If French Provincial is the style wanted, shift to the middle of the building and find everything wanted. A look at the furniture by Lenoir House will show the quality Carter's stocks.

Lenoir House captures the grace and charm of pointed front French Provincial design and adapts it for the spirit of youth; the details are countless — carved legs, shaped tops, mirror frames and plastic tops that will not stain, even from FURNITURE SHOP — Carter's Furniture, 100-110 Runnels, offers a comprehensive selection in furniture styling, including Early American, Modern, Spanish and French Provincial. Carter's groups its furniture into departments to make shopping easy.

There are many pieces to choose from — enough to permit complete individuality in furnishing a room. The enchanting bedroom suite is handsome in dove white with gold trim and plastic tops. The drawers have center glides and are dust-proof.

Carter's has just received new Spanish and Early American bedroom furniture. Stop by soon and be the first to have some for the bedroom.

Besides the furniture Carter's has a varied supply of lamps, pictures and accessories, bedspreads, decorator pillows, and many other things that could go into a home.

Even if not shopping for furniture, the dollar table at Carter's is worth paying a visit to. The table is covered with many items that can be used in the home or given as gifts.

Stop in at Carter's, 100-110 Runnels and let Terry and Dorothy Carter or a member of their trained staff help make the right furniture selection for the home.

Key Rexall Is Full Pharmacy

Norman Krisle, Key Rexall Drugs, is a registered pharmacist of many years experience. He stocks a complete line of medicine and pharmaceutical supplies, and can fill any prescription from the doctor. Key Rexall also offers free delivery of prescriptions anywhere in the city.

Get Proven Service At Bennett's Pharmacy

At Bennett's Pharmacy, 305 W. 16th, Bennett Brooke and Paul Keele pride themselves on the fast, convenient, professional service they provide residents.

Included in this service is a drive-in window on the north side of the building on Sixteenth St. The window is designed to aid the harried housewife who doesn't have enough time for everything — or anybody else who is in a rush. The customer doesn't have to worry about leaving the car or dressing up if he uses the window, and mothers don't have to pull their hair trying to get small children in and out of the car.

If the patron requests a physician to call the prescription to Bennett's, the medication will be ready upon arrival.

A family prescription record is also available at Bennett's for its customers. The individual record of each family's prescriptions are kept up-to-date, and are checked each time to make sure medicines are not contraindications or allergies to drugs being presently prescribed.

If a family changes doctors, the family record makes it easy for the new doctor to know what the medication history of the family is. Should a prescription number be lost or misplaced, it would be instantly available under the record system at Bennett's.

For those who have to wait for their prescription to be filled, Bennett's has a coffee bar with hot coffee ready at all times.

Bennett's is open from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., Monday through Saturday; but for emergency service, Bennett Brooke and Paul Keele may be reached 24 hours a day.

During the hours the pharmacy is open, call 263-1751 for prompt service. When closed, Brooke may be reached at 267-7384 and Keele at 263-4416. Brooke reminds residents that winter is approaching, and now is the time to make sure ample medications are in the house; Bennett's stocks a complete supply of vitamins and cold preparations for such a need.

For those convalescing, Bennett's continues to carry many hospital supplies. It rents or sells wheel chairs, crutches, mechanical lifts and other health tools. Mallory hearing aid batteries are also on hand.

Bennett's stock is always fresh; and the store's clean, bright atmosphere creates a feeling of confidence in the visitor.

Brooke and Keele invite women to stop in and see their selection of Allerceme cosmetics. New supplies of elastic support stockings are also in, for both men and women. These stockings give "the therapeutic support your doctor recommends."

The next time a pharmaceutical need arises, be sure to stop by Bennett's Pharmacy, 305 W. 16th.

CUSTOMER CONVENIENCE — Drive-in window service is just one of the conveniences offered customers by Bennett's Pharmacy, 305 W. 16th. Paul Keele (above) and Bennett Brooke also provide a family record service and a one-day film service.

How To Rid Your Home of Roaches
Spray non-toxic No-Roach for fast, quick kill of roaches and ants. Brush on No-Roach for long time control. Take your choice, or better yet... take them both. Johnston's No-Roach. Available at Giant Discount, Safeway, Furr's, Newson's, Gibson's and other super mkt. Dist. by Strippling & Kimbell. —adv.

DEAR ABBY: My husband insisted that Rick, our 12-year-old son, get a paper route to teach him responsibility and the value of money. Rick is the youngest of four children and the only boy, and a little spoiled. Also, he's not the most ambitious kid in the world. I think you get the idea.

Well, Rick has a morning and Sunday route and he has to get up at 4:45 to get those papers delivered. It's pitch dark at that hour and we're afraid to let him take his bike, so I get up and drive him around his route while he delivers the papers.

Now that school has started again Rick stays up late studying and I haven't the heart to wake him up at 4:45, so I let him sleep and I deliver the papers.

Abby, I am 49 years old and am going through my "change," and I don't need a paper route. I've asked my husband to let Rick quit his route, but he says, "No, it will make a man out of him." Meanwhile, it's making a wreck out of me. What do you suggest?

MENOPAUSE PAPER "BOY"
DEAR "BOY": If you do Rick's route for him, he'll think when the going gets rough, he can always quit. Wake him up if he requires more sleep, he'll manage to get to bed earlier. But don't YOU take over his job. In some instances parents MUST drive their carriers, but what's the matter with Papa?

DEAR ABBY: Even though my problem may seem trivial to you, it is a big problem to me.

I am 20 years old and people (usually on the first meeting) will say to me, "My, but you're beautiful!"

This is very embarrassing and distresses me no end. If I say, "Thank you," it sounds as though I am agreeing with the person, and that seems so conceited.

If I disagree and say, "Oh, I am NOT," that sounds so foolish. If I don't say anything, I feel ungracious.

Please don't toss this in the wastebasket, Abby, I really need an answer. "BEAUTIFUL"

DEAR BEAUTIFUL: Every body should have your "problem." When you are told that you are "beautiful," simply say, "Beauty lies in the eye of the beholder." Then you will be thought not only beautiful but gracious, modest, and intelligent as well.

DEAR ABBY: Is there something wrong with me or am I just shy? I am a 15-year-old girl and I haven't dated much, but I have been dating a terrific guy for about four months.

Whenever he picks me up for a date, my mind says, "Sit closer to him," but my body won't move. And if I have a question to ask him, my mind says, "Ask him," but my mouth won't open. In other words, my mind says, "Go," but my body says "Stop." I could give you lots of other examples, but I think you get the idea. What is the matter with me?

"GO AND STOP"
DEAR GO: You have impulses but lack the courage to set them in motion. In other words you are slightly "inhibited." And at age 15, it's probably all for the best.

DEAR ABBY: I recently celebrated another birthday and I just hated it! You see, I was born on Oct. 31st, which is absolutely the worst day in the year to be born. Everyone links Halloween with witches, goblins, and all sorts of evil and ugly things. (And as if that's not bad enough, my Patron Saint has to be WOLFGANG!)

Do you suppose it would be all right if I celebrated my birthday on October 30th or November first? I am sick of being a Halloween baby. Sign me . . .

SPOOK
DEAR SPOOK: Celebrate whenever you wish. And may this be the biggest problem you ever have for the next ninety years!

Pornography Not All Bad

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Pornography can be an important tool in treating persons suffering from sexual impotence or frigidity, the president of the American Institute of Hypnosis says.

"The emphasis today is that sexual stimulation is bad and that anything which caters to lustful feelings is bad," Dr. William Bryan Jr. told the institute's convention.

"But if you don't have those kinds of feelings you may be in a heck of a lot more trouble. If we're going to legislate against sexual arousal maybe we're creating a land of frigid and impotent people."

Bryan, a Los Angeles doctor, specializes in treating impotence and frigidity.

In a weekend discussion of sex education in schools, he told the 250 delegates that "sex education is so sterile it may be bad."

"It's either very medical or very spiritual, making sex something to be prayed about," he said. "But we forget to say that sex is a lot of fun and feels good."

Opening lead: Eight of ♠ South, the declarer at three no trump, held an unloaded pistol in his hand. His opponent, East, proved unable, however, to diagnose the situation in time, and South ran for cover with nine tricks.

West opened the eight of spades, the suit in which his partner had overcalled. North played the ten and East covered with the jack. The normal play by declarer is to win the trick with the ace and lead a diamond to the king. Observe that he has only seven tricks to begin with—six clubs and one spade—but two more may be readily established by dislodging the ace of diamonds.

If East has both missing aces, declarer can safely surrender the lead, for his opponent cannot play spades without establishing North's queen. South feared, however, that West might hold either the ace of hearts or the ace of diamonds, in which case he could get in to lead a spade thru dummy—thereby enabling East to cash several tricks in that suit.

Declarer reasoned that he could improve his chances by holding off on the first trick. This is a calculated risk for, if East continues with a small spade, South is forced to play the ace and North's queen is exposed to capture.

When East held the lead with the jack of spades, he was understandably uncertain how best to proceed. If South started with three spades and West with two as appeared probable from declarer's play—a spade continuation by East would give his opponent a cheap trick and ruin the defense.

East decided to shift to the eight of hearts in the hope that West could get in quickly for another spade play. South ducked in his hand and West put up the ace to return a spade. Declarer's ruse was successful, for now he could run for cover with nine tricks: six clubs, two hearts, and one spade.

THEY PLAY IN THE WAR ZONE — These children of Montagnard mercenaries were photographed at the Bu Prang Special Forces camp in South Vietnam, where they live with their parents. Like most South Vietnamese militiamen, the Montagnard soldiers take their families with them to the camp where they are stationed. Bu Prang is about 110 miles southeast of Saigon.

South Viet Forces Suffer Losses In Week Of Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese forces have suffered comparatively heavy losses in a week of fighting around the Bu Dop Special Forces camp 85 miles north of Saigon, official sources reported today.

The sources said 15 allied soldiers have been killed, 75 wounded, three armored personnel carriers and four trucks have been destroyed and half a dozen American helicopters have been shot down.

A total of 60 North Vietnamese troops were reported killed, but one officer said the kill ratio — four enemy dead to one South Vietnamese or U.S. soldier — "is substantially on the bad side."

Most of the allied casualties have been Vietnamese tribesmen, mercenaries paid and led by American Green Beret troops. These are called Mobile Strike Force troops, and they form the bulk of nearly 1,000 reinforcement troops who have been deployed around Bu Dop to counter a sizable North Vietnamese buildup.

"It's a Vietnamese Army show as far as the ground fighting is concerned," said one American officer. "We are working with them closely. They own the entire area and so they ought to be involved. Back in May we'd have gone in. Now we are working with them. We are up to our necks in Vietnamization."

Mobile Strike Force troops battled about 400 North Vietnamese six miles south of Bu Dop for 6½ hours Monday night. In the heavy exchange of fire, 24 of the enemy were reported killed, while two of the Vietnamese tribesmen were killed and nine wounded, sources said. American helicopters from the 1st Air Cavalry Division sup-

Blacks Ask Fees Return After Hassle

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — About 75 black and white students at the University of Texas-Arlington asked the school's president Monday to refund their student activity fees and "do something about the (Arlington) police."

The meeting followed an incident at Saturday night's homecoming football game between UTA and Abilene Christian College.

Arlington police said, "A few blacks were put out (of the stadium), and the rest got up and left with them."

The blacks, at President Frank Harrison's office, led by Collegiate for Afro-American Progress President Gene Johnson, asked that their student activity fees be returned because "they are not able to participate in student events," Harrison said.

Harrison said the student fees would not be returned because "They are not prevented from participating in activities... The fee includes other than sports events and there is no mechanism to return the money."

Harrison also said an investigation into the incident at the football game has been launched.

"We're using every available channel in the investigation," Harrison said, "including the dean of student life, students and campus security."

South Vietnam Funds Approved

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An allocation of $132,000 for South Vietnam has been approved by the Quadrennial Emphasis Committee of the United Methodist Church.

The grant—$100,000 to rebuild 325 family units on the outskirts of Saigon and $32,000 in development loans for small-businessmen—is part of $2 million earmarked by the church earlier for postwar rehabilitation in South Vietnam.

Moonlighting To Pay Debts

SEATTLE (AP) — Campaign workers for Secretary of State A. Ludlow Kramer say they hope public contributions will rescue him from moonlighting as a gas station attendant to pay election debts.

Kramer, who said he went $10,000 in the red in an unsuccessful race for mayor last month, has been pumping gas for $2.50 an hour after his regular office stint.

Correctional Officers Need Help, Jones Reports

Keith Jones, juvenile officer, said Monday that correctional officers throughout Texas need more help in fulfilling their jobs and he cited the police department, sheriff's office, and the community as a whole as the first avenues for aid. His comments came on the heels of a Thursday meeting of Texas parole, probation, and correction officers in Odessa.

Jones said the primary trend in the field of correction officers is to work to meet changes in both legislation and mores, and that more and more people are needed to do the job.

"This correctional problem is something we will always have," Jones said. "To keep up with it, we've just got to have help." Jones said he is grateful for the community's support of his position in Howard County.

'Round The World Plans Still High

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — James Bede, forced to cut short his attempt to set a world's non-stop distance flying record, says he still plans to fly nonstop around the world.

"I'd like to try it around the world in the spring, but I may want to make one more test flight," Bede said Monday night.

The 36-year-old owner of Bede Aviation, Inc., had completed 8,956 of the planned 11,515 miles of his flight Monday when his autopilot, then his alternator failed, leaving him without electricity.

Lad, 14, Gives Up Plane Hijack Bid

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — A 14-year-old high school student who tried to hijack an airliner faces a juvenile court hearing Thursday.

David L. Booth, a freshman at suburban Norwood High School, was weeping when turned over to Hamilton County juvenile authorities by FBI agents after federal officials declined to file charges.

Trace Of Rain Near El Paso

By The Associated Press

A spell of laggard Indian summer gave way today to scattered thundershowers in mountain areas of Southwest Texas as a cool front eased southward toward the state.

There was a trace of rain around El Paso also during the night.

Official observers looked for the cooler air, moving down from the Great Plains and possibly accompanied by a few showers, to lower temperatures a bit by Wednesday.

Inmates Face Assault Raps

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — Two inmates of the Navarro County jail were charged Monday with assault to murder in the wounding of a state patrolman.

The complaint names Willie Freeman and Carey Young.

Other officers said jailer Frank Chapman was escorting another prisoner into a second floor cell when Robert Parrish was shot in the face and the jailer suffered eye injuries.

Deputy sheriff Bobby Owen said it appeared six Negroes in the same cell were trying to escape at the time and were armed with a gun, presumably smuggled to them by a visitor.

Logic Machine Fails To Please

CHICAGO (AP) — A logic machine has gone to the Smithsonian Institute, the gadget's creator said.

"I figure that as I get older I may kick off and someone would find it in my closet and not know what to do with it," said Benjamin Burack, a professor of psychology at Roosevelt University.

He said the machine, which he dreamed up while an undergraduate at Illinois Institute of Technology, accepts premises fed into it by an operator and then tests the validity of a conclusion based on the premises.

If the conclusion is wrong, a light flashes for a wrong answer.

The machine cost $40 and was fun to make, Burack said, but there wasn't much use for it.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Ye are of more value than many sparrows. (Matthew 10: 31)

PRAYER: Dear Lord, cleanse us of false estimations and inferior feelings of our value. Give us instead that sense of deep regard and reverence for self and for others that comes when we see ourselves to be those for whom Christ died. In gratitude we pray, as He taught us, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

(From the 'Upper Room')

Sour Note On Sweets

Some students of the hidden motive who revel in the conspiratorial view of history hint that sugar interests were responsible for the ban on cyclamates. As proofs, they note that Sen. Warren Magnuson who heads the committee which controls funds for the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) comes from a beet sugar-growing state, Washington.

Perhaps it is sufficient to say that the United States is an importer of sugar to dispose of the hidden-motive story. Not that sugar growers everywhere may not benefit, since cyclamates are 30 times as sweet as sugar. This means that if sugar is substituted for cyclamates, 324,000 tons of sugar will be needed to take the place of the 10,800 tons of cyclamates that have been used each year until the ban. But, of course, cyclamate users may turn instead to saccharine, although the FDA has now turned its investigative attention to saccharine.

It is true that there is no proof that cyclamates are injurious to human beings, but man is a poor laboratory animal. The fact that cyclamates can cause cancer to the bladder in rats is sufficient to cause second thoughts. The FDA acted promptly on the theory that the long-term use of cyclamates may cause damage to human beings, and until it is shown to the contrary cyclamates should be shelved in human food and drinks.

Census To Affect Bracket Bills

The Texas Legislative Council has included in its interim studies one on the effect of the 1970 federal census on the state's population-bracket laws. Local governments would be well-advised to anticipate the census' legal effect on their own operations, for many will be affected in important ways.

That is because the Texas Legislature has over the years passed hundreds of "bracket" laws, mostly based on population. This has largely been done to circumvent the Texas Constitution's prohibition on local or special laws regulating the affairs of counties, cities and districts.

The population bracket laws for that purpose — using a "not less than nor more than" formula — are unconstitutional, though not often challenged in court. The laws with only one population limitation, applying to all counties under a certain figure or over a certain figure, are generally constitutional. The courts also may consider constitutionally reasonable those population-bracket laws that apply statewide, but with differing provisions for counties in various population classes.

The 1970 census is expected to find that Texas' population has increased about 1 1/2 million since 1960, to well over 11 million, with the increase concentrated in the larger cities. So many cities and counties will be moving into, or out of, population brackets, thus changing state laws applicable to their operations.

Local governments will have to go along with that idea because changes in state laws applicable to them, or challenge the probably unconstitutional ones in court or try to get the constitutional ones altered by the next legislative session. All this is an excessive confusion that happens every decade, and it should be reduced by minimizing passage of population-bracket laws. That can best be done by a constitutional amendment for county home-rule, by fully respecting city home-rule, and by setting up standard county population classifications for general state laws that require different provisions for various population densities.

We Must Guard Against Deep Division

WASHINGTON — The warning neon lights in the President's Vietnam speech is national "humiliation." Clearly implied were the disastrous consequences in a divided America of a retreat-and-run pull-out from the war.

THE PRESIDENT has every reason to know that these consequences can be, for he rose to political power in the era when "Who lost China?" was a rallying cry for the right. Suspicion, fear, reckless charges were the hallmarks of that era as a hopeless policy ended with the rout of the corrupt and hopeless regime of Chiang Kai-shek on the mainland.

The American commitment to Vietnam is in many ways deeper than the commitment to China. No Americans died in combat to "save China" in the critical period after the end of World War II. The toll in Vietnam approaches 42,000 American dead and 250,000 wounded.

EVERY INDICATOR shows that a large majority of the American people want to get out of Vietnam as quickly as possible. But with the specter of "national humiliation," the threat of a blood bath with the Catholic refugees from the north as the conspicuous victims, the tensions are likely to grow. They are already taking hold and they can be exploited as they were in the McCarthyist era of the late '40s and early '50s.

THE NOVEMBER Moratorium may go off as peacefully and as successfully as did the October show. But the fact can never be ignored that a very small minority of extremists believe in disruption and violence. They want to bring the system down and nothing would serve their purpose better than street fighting between right and left.

THE VARIOUS anti-war committees are planning a march on Washington of hundreds of thousands on the last day of the Moratorium. They put the figure as high as 200,000 coming from all over the country. While this may be part of the euphoria of the young leaders of the anti-war movement, the number will be large as universities and colleges arrange for charter buses and planes to come to the capital. One phase of the program is a "March Against Death," a continuous, 40-hour, single-file procession from Arlington National Cemetery to the Capitol, concluding at mid-morning on the 15th. The marchers will then join a rally on the ellipse behind the White House "featuring hundreds of thousands of participants" with speeches by leading anti-war figures, the mimeographed release says.

Billy Graham

My children go to a church where they learned more about the Bible than they would learn in my church. Should I join their church? M.F.

Although I do not believe that the children should be permitted to make our most important decision for us, at the same time you have said that they are receiving better Bible teaching than in the church of your own personal choice. In Proverbs 22:6 we are told, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old he will not depart from it." As an enlightened Christian who realizes the importance of training children in the light of the truth of the Scriptures, it would seem that that would be the turning point in your decision. It is a decision, however, that you must make yourself. I cannot make it for you.

I would make it a matter of earnest prayer that you will have the clear leading of the Lord in such an important matter.

YOUTH APPRECIATION WEEK . . . COMMUNICATION BETWEEN TWO WORLDS

Hal Boyle Against Coeducational Schools

By DEE WEDEMEYER
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Dr. Helen Kim, who has devoted almost her entire 70 years to helping Ewha University in Korea become one of the world's largest women's universities, doesn't care to see it admit men.

"In Korea if anyone came out with that (coed dorms) we would question the sanity of that person's mind," said the educator who is in this country raising funds.

"There is enough human experience to tell us that close living quarters like dormitories should be separate at the college age level. Living closely between the sexes might also be a distraction."

"We may be wrong but we think some educators are going along with that idea because they have to, because the students are demanding it, not because they want to."

The petite woman, who can trace the entire development of education for Korean women within her own lifetime, said Korea's traditional secondary role for women makes separate education preferable.

Her own mother, she said, was punished when she asked for lessons in reading and writing.

At the time, Dr. Kim began school in 1907, a woman's college did not even exist in Korea. When she entered college, it meant giving up a family arranged marriage.

Now she said, women graduates are finding it easier to combine careers with marriage.

Ewha University was founded in 1886 by an American missionary as a girls school. It opened with one student, became a college in 1910 and now has 8,000 students. Some men's universities in Korea have admitted women, she said, and occasionally the question of integrating Ewha is raised but never seriously.

In fact, she thinks some of the mens colleges in Korea and in America which have admitted women may wish they could go back to all men.

John Cunniff Airlines Laying Off?

NEW YORK (AP) — What's this, the airlines laying off workers? Why, isn't this the same industry with the unlimited prospects, the glamor business with a hold on the future, the wonder business that will transport us into tomorrow?

Profits are down and so are stock prices. Business has been disappointing. Planes are being hijacked. People complain more and more about airport noise. The airports are congested. Access roads are clogged. There aren't enough traffic controllers.

And perhaps the biggest problem of all is how to finance those huge new jets that someday might make profits but which now represent an outlay of more than $2 billion a year.

The immediate reason for layoffs by Pan American World Airways and smaller airlines, and much belt tightening by most other lines, is the earnings situation. It's very poor.

In the first three months of this year, the Air Transport Association reports, the scheduled airlines suffered a net loss of $1.2 billion. A profit of $67 million was made in the next three months, but preliminary and unofficial figures indicate no real improvement in July-August-September. In fact, the most profitable years of the industry were in 1966, when operating income reached $453.7 million. Now, with earnings depressed, industry executives are hindered in their financing plans.

Aside from money, the next biggest problem is really a conglomeration of problems associated with congestion. More air controllers are needed at airports, and President Nixon has asked Congress to authorize the hiring of 1,000 additional men. This would be on top of 2,800 already authorized by Congress. But, the money hasn't been appropriated.

On days of restricted visibility, it isn't uncommon at some airports for controllers to stack up incoming flights for an hour or more before giving them clearance to land. Additional controllers might help improve the situation.

Newer and larger airports also would help. Many of the nation's terminals offer beautiful architecture, restaurants and shops, but provide poor loading and unloading facilities.

Around The Rim

That Good Ol' Yankee Ingenuity

"Yankee ingenuity" is one of those great catch-all phrases that net almost anything from a cock-eyed, cod fish tale, to Ben Franklin's kite, and if you're lucky enough to be a yankee, that ingenuity runs a close second to common sense in the desirable attributes category.

PEOPLE MAY laugh and scoff at a man's invention or way of doing something, but if his yankee ingenuity tells him it's the right thing to do, there's not a whale's spew that can even come close to knocking him off his plan.

Look at Jonathan Morgan and his Alpha. No one paid any attention to him, but where would we be today if he hadn't experimented with a boiler of hard pine for a steam engine and applied the resulting power to a propeller's shaft to locomote his 50-ton craft?

DADDY'S a yankee, too, he puts orange juice cans in his rubber gloves. Cans with the top and bottom taken out, of course, that's what carries air to the inside and dries out the lining. It is quite practical.

Mother's refrigerator is a marvelous invention of yankee ingenuity, too. It seemed to frost up long before she was ready to tackle the defrosting job, so Daddy hooked it up to a time-clock which turned it off for a while every night, thus continually keeping it defrosted.

Now really, is that eccentric? No, just logical and practical. Daddy's always practical, like the world itself will be one day, full of common sense and practical means of doing things. Daddy's just ahead of his time, like most of us yankees.

THERE'S ME, too, practical, logical me. Using that good old yankee ingenuity I just made one of the most logical purchases of the century, a little camper bus. It's practical, too, we'll save all kinds of greens on motel bills and restaurant fees.

So we have it, a logical purchase, a practical purchase, the epitome of yankee ingenuity. The only problem seems to be that its not turning out to be a very smart purchase. Even my little white puppy wasted no time in conveying her sentiments about the monstrosity, she promptly sat right down between the two front seats—backwards.

THE CAMPER had just received a new third and fourth gear when I bought it, but now I can't seem to get it into first and second. This morning on the way to work, the windshield wiper suddenly got carried away and started wiping the hood, got caught in the air intake and snapped off right below the first knuckle.

So there you have it, the perfect example of the commonest of pranks that fall into the net of "yankee ingenuity," especially mine. It seems to run in the family.

"YOU DON'T suppose I got taken by Southern ingenuity," I asked my Dad.

"Nonsense," he said. "There's no such thing."

Those Speedy Telegrams

WASHINGTON — The most interesting thing to me as far as President Nixon's speech on Vietnam went, was to see the large stacks of Western Union telegrams on his desk in the White House. The President called in the press, news and TV photographers to prove he had the vast support of the American people the day after he made his speech.

What surprised me was how President Nixon got the telegrams so fast. Anyone who has dealt with Western Union in the last few years knows that sending a telegram via Western Union is no problem — it's getting them to deliver the telegrams that takes a bit of doing.

THIS IS HOW the conversation usually goes.

"I'd like to send a telegram."

"What is the party's name and telephone number?"

"What do you want to know his telephone number for?"

"So we can phone the message to him."

"Look, if I wanted to phone him, I'd call him myself. I want to send a telegram."

"What we do is call your party and then mail him the telegram. He should have the wire in a few days."

"IF I WANTED to write him, I'd send him a letter. I want to send a telegram, and I want it delivered to him."

"Well, why didn't you say so? We'll deliver it for you for an extra 75 cents charge, above the cost of the telegram."

WHAT PROBABLY happened was that right after the President's speech, he received a phone call.

"Is this President Nixon?"

"Yes, it is."

"What is your first name, please?"

"Richard—the middle initial is M."

"We have a telegram for you. May

I read it?"

"Yes, go ahead."

"WHOLEHEARTEDLY support your wonderful speech, which laid it on the line and gave courage to the Great Silent Majority. Keep socking it to them."

"That's wonderful. Who signed it?"

"It's signed Julie and David."

The President hung up and the phone rang again.

"President Nixon? We have a telegram for you."

"Read it."

"You certainly took care of the effete snobs and bad apples. My prayers are with you. Love—Spiro."

ALL NIGHT LONG the phone kept ringing and either the President, Mrs. Nixon or Tricia had to write down the messages. They were groggy at breakfast, and finally the President realized he wasn't going to get any work done. So he called a meeting of the National Security Council and it was suggested that the attorney general ask Western Union if they might deliver the telegrams to the White House instead of phoning them in, despite the fact that most senders had not paid the extra 75 cents.

Western Union, in a wave of patriotism, agreed to the request, on the condition that the President wouldn't tell anyone that he was getting his telegrams on the same day without payment of an extra fee.

THE PRESIDENT agreed, but he was so overwhelmed by the number of wires he received that he forgot his promise and called in the press.

Now Western Union is in a helluva jam because of the Great Silent Majority has suddenly discovered it can send a telegram and have it delivered on the same day without paying 75 cents.

It's the first break the Great Silent Majority has had in years.

'Wise Passiveness'

WASHINGTON — I don't know if Richard Nixon reads Calvin Coolidge, but cool minds do run in the same channel.

"He said . . ." wrote Dwight Morrow in relating a conversation with Coolidge, "that it was not the business of government to do good but to prevent harm, that when government tried to do good, they generally got themselves and others into trouble, that he felt I should probably prevent a good deal of harm if I went to Mexico (as the U.S. Ambassador) now."

THIS PASSAGE in neo-Jeffersonism squirmed its way to the front of my mind last week when President Nixon finally made a speech on Latin America. Our new policy there is to be as Coolidge as Cal. We're going to try and kick the do-good habit of the Alliance for Progress, which, true to the Coolidge prophecy, has got ourselves and others in a peck of trouble. From now on in Latin America, if the Nixon banalities have the Vermont twang that I seem to detect, we're going to do what's possible "to prevent harm."

IT'S ABOUT TIME. A little more "progress" under the Alliance for Progress, and we're undone. Chile, Peru and Bolivia have been so grateful of our economic aid and advice that they've confiscated the property of U.S. companies. Brazil, Argentina, Peru, Bolivia, Panama and others have been so delighted with our preachments and pressures for "democracy" that they've installed military dictatorships since 1964.

IT ALL HAPPENED because JFK and LBJ were so hellbent for "doing good" in Latin America. They pushed for land reform, electoral reform, currency reform, tariff reform as the price for investment. If that's the way to be a "good neighbor," well, try walking into the house next door and telling the folks there to buckle down and be more like yourself.

Mr. Nixon tried for a clean break from the do-gooders. We must, he said, deal with Latin American governments "as they are," and not as we wish they were.

LIKE ALL presidents, President Nixon is many men, but at least a discernible part of him is the do-nothing executive which Jefferson and Coolidge idealized. If Mr. Nixon had his way, our policies everywhere, I think, would subside into what the poet Wordsworth called "a wise passiveness." This could never be absolute, of course. It would have to be relative, for do-nothing actually means do-less. But, if I read the signs right, that's what Mr. Nixon intends for us in Latin America, and elsewhere.

HIS STATED policy for the Far East would find us sitting offshore on ships and islands, but not squatting on the Asian mainland. An idea I heard expressed by a high-placed State Department figure, Nixon-appointed, is that NATO should have a European supreme commander instead of the rotating American generals. If the President had won his case in the Supreme Court, our government would have laid off "doing good" in school integration and would have been content to slow down and "prevent harm."

To Your Good Health

Firecrackers In Frog's Mouth

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could there be something wrong with a 14-year-old boy who would put a firecracker in a live frog's mouth and light it and blow the frog to bits?

He is a tall boy for his age, an honor student in school, has a high rating in Scouting, and is apparently physically healthy — Mrs. D.M.B.

So he's smart and he's healthy — but he apparently missed something in the process of growing up. There must be a sadistic streak in him!

Killing flies, rats, ants, and mice is one thing — inflicting as little pain as possible. Make a circus stunt out of destroying a harmless life is quite another.

Small children sometimes do brutal things, not realizing that they are cruel. I recollect a small girl, just a toddler, who caught some toads and broke their legs because she "wanted to be a nurse and bandage them and get them well again." It just hadn't crossed her mind that she was hurting the little creatures.

When that was pointed out to her, she stopped.

But she wasn't 14. She was 3.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: A very dear relative has an offensive breath almost constantly. It seems to smell like gas from the bowel. Can you tell me what might cause this? He is in his middle 50s and has had this trouble for some time. He takes 1/2 grains of phenobarb daily. Would that be the reason? He also expels a lot of gas from the bowel, and his stools seem loose, never solid. — Mrs. E.W.

Since others use phenobarbital regularly and do not have his trouble, I would look elsewhere for the cause. While bad breath can originate in the digestive tract, there usually are other symptoms present, too.

I presume he had had a dental checkup, with attention not just on the teeth but also on the gums, since gum infections can be extremely malodorous.

What about his throat and lungs? Chronic infection in the bronchial tubes (bronchiectasis) can produce an offensive odor such as you describe.

For the reasons why these various factors can cause bad breath, I suggest that you read my booklet, "Bad Breath Can Be Corrected." Send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for a copy. It outlines the variety of causes that need to be investigated when chronic bad breath does not yield to simple remedies.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 60. I love cereal, but the milk does not agree with me. I get diarrhea every time I must drink milk. What is my problem? — T.Y.

Probably a food allergy — and I'm sorry, but I don't know anything to do about it except avoid it. Some people have a milk allergy.

You might tolerate goat's milk, if you can find it. Or try condensed or evaporated milk, and see if it makes a difference.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I took a specimen of urine to be tested and there is albumin in it. Would you explain what this is and what to do for it? — G.L.

It is a sign which makes a doctor suspicious that some kidney disorder is present, although occasionally patients may have albumin without disease. There isn't anything you can do about it by yourself; let your doctor do some further testing to see whether there is kidney disease, and if so what kind. Leave treatment to him.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Bucks Retain Stranglehold On Top Spot

By The Associated Press
It's a bird, it's a plane, it's Ohio State!

Ohio State's impregnable Buckeyes, the supermen of college football, continue to fly high as the nation's No. 1 team.

The Buckeyes, who hit the bullseye last weekend with a 62-7 execution of Wisconsin, drew 25 of 32 first place votes Monday in the weekly poll of sports writers and broadcasters across the nation.

The men of steel from the Midwest roped 618 points overall and kept a stranglehold on first over "Texas" battering Longhorns, 57-0, a 56-14 winner over Baylor.

Tennessee, which cut down South Carolina, 29-14, remained third, while Arkansas, a 30-6 winner over Rice, stayed fourth, and Penn State remained in fifth place after an idle weekend.

The Top Ten remained virtually the same as last week. Notre Dame dropped from eighth to ninth and Missouri climbed a spot to eighth in the only change.

Southern California held onto sixth after pasting Washington State, 28-7; UCLA stayed in seventh after a day off; Missouri hammered Oklahoma, 44-10; Notre Dame unloaded on Pitt, 49-7, and No. 10 Purdue ran over Michigan State, 41-13.

Both Ohio State and Texas managed to win big despite depleted squads. Rex Kern, the Buckeyes' magical junior quarterback, was out with an injury and 14 starters were on the shelf for Texas with a virus.

The Top Twenty, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points in brackets for first 15 places based on 20-18-14-12-10-8 etc.:

PROFILING THE COACHES Bustamante In Air Lift; Gray Played All Sports

Editor's Note: Big Spring Mayor Arnold Marshall has proclaimed this to be Coaches' Week. Two of the men who have done so much to promote athletics locally are herewith profiled.

A native of Alpine, Dan Bustamante lettered in football, basketball and track while in high school.

He enlisted in the Air Force immediately after graduation from high school in 1948. He saw service as a radar specialist in the AF from that year until 1952. His duties in the Armed Forces took him to Berlin, where he participated in the famed Airlift; to Puerto Rico and to the Korean war.

Upon separation from the service, he signed a professional baseball contract. He quit after only a brief career in baseball in order to enroll at Odessa College. He later matriculated at Sul Ross College.

He received both his Bachelor's degree in 1955 and Master's degree in 1958 from Sul Ross.

While in college, he was in the upper five per cent of his class. He was a member of Kappa Delta Pi and Alpha Chi.

He coached two years in the Alpine school system before moving to Big Spring as a coach at the Kate Morrison elementary school, a job he held for one year.

He subsequently spent eight years coaching at Rannels Junior High before moving to the high school.

In 1960, Dan was named the Outstanding Young Man of the Year by the Big Spring Junior Chamber of Commerce.

In the past, Dan has been very active in YMCA and Cub Scout work here. He is a former member of the Howard County Juvenile Board, TB Association and Kiwanis Club. He is presently a member of the Knights of Columbus, Council 1482.

Dan now teaches Health and Driver's Education in high school and coaches football and baseball. He works with the defensive line and the Junior Varsity.

Bustamante has made a tremendous contribution to the school and the community in interesting Latin-American boys in the athletic program here.

Several who first became acquainted with football, baseball, basketball and track under Coach Dan went on to make major contributions to the Steers' over-all effort.

A native of Robert Lee and a graduate of that community's high school in 1957, Jack Gray participated in all sports after reaching high school.

He was particularly impressive in baseball and football and wound up earning four varsity letters in football. He was named to the all-district team three years running and was all-area his senior year.

He enrolled at San Angelo Junior College after leaving high school, after having been offered a scholarship. He put in two seasons with the Rams and played well enough to earn a scholarship at Sul Ross. He played three seasons with the Lobos.

After graduating from Sul Ross in 1961, Gray enlisted in the Army and was fortunate enough to be stationed in Colorado Springs, Colo., where he played two seasons of football.

He returned to Sul Ross after

ROBERT LEE EX Jack Gray

IN COLLEGE DAYS Dan Bustamante

departing the service, where he served as a student coach while working toward his Master's degree.

He started his high school career at Eden as an assistant and helped the Eden Bulldogs win a Regional championship.

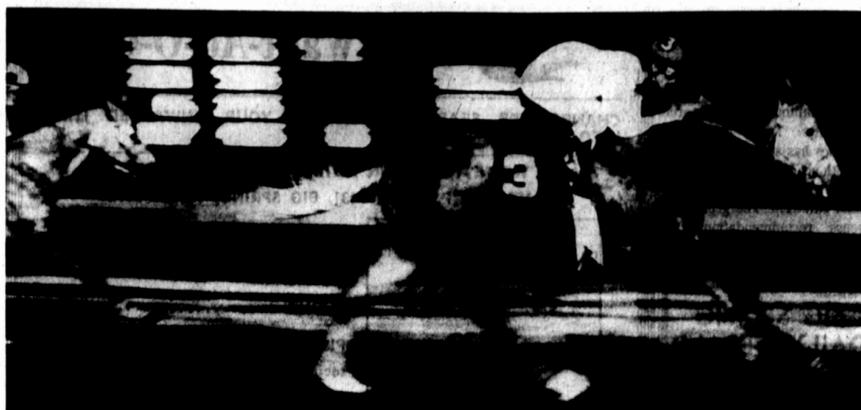

The following two years, he served as head coach at Cross Plains. He moved from there to Snyder, where he coached the offensive and defensive lines.

At mid-term that year, Jack decided to leave teaching and coaching for a better offer in the business world. He discovered, however, that his heart was in coaching, so he finished out the year in the school system at Ranger.

Jack joined the Big Spring coaching staff under Spike Dykes as head coach at Goliad Junior High. When the opportunity arose to play football on a part time basis with the Odessa Runeks last year, he jumped at the chance.

This year, Jack is serving as a varsity assistant, coaching defensive linebackers and offensive tight ends.

He is married to the former Mary Browning and they have one son, Bobby Jack (Chip) Gray II, age two months. Jack is a member of the College Baptist Church.

BIG SPRING WINNER — Tsali Boss, owned by Freddie White of Big Spring, scored an upset win under the lights at Sunland Park last weekend. With Larry Byers aboard, Tsali Boss took command early in a 5 1/2-furlong sprint and stretched out to a 1 1/2-length victory. The winner returned mutual prices of $16.20, $5.40 and $3.60. Racing at Sunland is staged under the lights on Fridays, starting at 7:30 p.m., and at 1:30 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays.

Texas-Hog Loser May Go To New Orleans

MIAMI (AP) — Sales pitches for college football bowl games have been somewhat muffled by strict enforcing of NCAA rules, but the weekend ahead cuts loose the "super woo" on the nation's finest teams.

Penn State and Tennessee are the top items on most bowls' shopping lists. Both are undefeated and apparently undecided.

Deals may not be made until noon Nov. 17 for post-season games, but the order has some teeth for the first time. Contracts have been agreed upon weeks and even months before the designated hour in past years.

Officials of the National Collegiate Athletic Association advised bowl leaders that anybody caught stepping across the contact law would lose their certification. To a bowl man, that's as serious as threatening to take booze away from Dean Martin.

The Miami News speculated that Penn State and Tennessee might settle the prestige question in the Orange Bowl. Although it would be a sensational catch for the 75,000-seat Miami

GOLF NOTES Pro Tour May Lose Tourney

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — Notes from the PGA tournament trail:

There is considerable speculation among northern California golf writers that the San Francisco Open may be dropped from the fall schedule next year.

The event, called the Lucky International until this season, was under the sponsorship in 1969 of the Chamber of Commerce.

The galleries were very, very sparse in the chilly, overcast weather and some reports have it that the sponsors dropped some $30,000.

They had to fight both pro and college football on the weekend and the people just didn't show.

The spring schedule already is filled, so the possibility exists that the tournament may disappear next year.

Cliff Brown got off one of the longest drives on the pro tour this year recently in a pro-am event in California. His drive on a par five hole hit on a cart path, took off and came to rest 418 yards from the tee.

The phone rang in the press room of a recent tournament.

"Press room," the attendant answered, then listened a moment, cast a speculative look around at the confusion and said:

"No ma'm. This is not the psychiatric ward. You're close, but this isn't it."

George Archer, the 6-foot-6 Masters champion who has had trouble with his driver since a recent siege of tendonitis in his elbow, said part of his trouble is flinching.

"Right at the top of the swing, I kind of flinch a little," big George said. "It doesn't really hurt any more. But I'm anticipating pain."

A number of the younger players on the tour are understandably nervous these days. The Tournament Players division is having a review of the players, and several approved player cards are due to be lifted, effective Jan. 1.

Without the cards, players are not eligible to compete in regular tour events. They have two options—either give it up, or regain their card through another session at the players school in Florida.

Barr Is Out For Season
COAHOMA (SC) — Coahoma's loss to Seagraves in the crucial game of District 5-A was both painful and costly.

Maxwell Barr, offensive end, is on crutches with an ankle injury and is out for the season. Charles Deming has a game ankle but may see some action this weekend. Bill Bailey, nursing bruised ribs, had them reinjured and could be sidelined this weekend when the Wink Bullpups come to town.

Coach Bernie Hagins was proud of his boys' efforts against Seagraves.

"We just couldn't pull the big play," he observed. It could have gone either way. We led at the half and were driving in the third, but we barely missed on those crucial third and fourth down situations."

SBOA Chapter Slates Meeting
The first SBOA meeting of the year will be held in the Redd-Room of the Texas Electric Service Company building at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Pete Cook is president of the local chapter of the basketball officiating association while Jimmy Ray Smith serves as secretary.

CONVERSATION SHOULD COME EASY AT 7:30 QBC MEETING

Members attending the Quarterback Club meeting in the High School cafeteria this evening should find it easy to converse with their neighbors.

The resident Steers have a big game behind them, which they won, and a big game ahead of them, which they hope to win.

Abilene is the most recent conquest of the Longhorns. Odessa Permian is the immediate job at hand.

The Steers can tie for second place in the standings by beating Permian.

Guinn, Clemens, Fryar Wind Up With Honors

Following is a list of football players in the Big Spring area singled out by the Daily Herald for their play in games involving their teams last weekend:

BIG SPRING
Back of the Week honors are shared by quarterback GARY HINDS and fullback JOE CHAVEZ. Hinds scored all 21 points for the Steers in their victory and was the team's leading ground gainer with 95 yards in 17 carries. Chavez was a threat in the early stages of the game with his runs up the middle, a factor that forced the Eagles to change their defense.

Later, his faking continued to draw the Abilene team out of position, enabling other Big Spring backs to break loose.

Although he is singled out mainly for his offensive work, Joe was also rugged on defense.

Lineman of the Week honors go to guard FILLMORE GUINN, a consistent ball player a 11 year and especially poisonous against Abilene. Invariably, he was out in front of the ball carrier as the Steers rolled to ground gains totaling 248 yards. His downfield blocking is something to behold.

SANDS
REGGIE HAMBRICK is Back of the Week. Although Sands lost to Jayton, 33-6, Reggie gathered in seven passes for 55 yards and excelled as a blocker. The 145-pound sophomore also made 13 tackles from his middle linebacker's spot.

Lineman of the Week is Steady STEVE FRYAR is the choice for the Lineman of the Week award for the Stanton Buffaloes. This 170-pound junior has been a stabilizing influence for the team all year. Friday against Odessa, his blocking at offensive right tackle was particularly effective. His defensive end play turned sweeps inside time after time, and it resulted in more than his share of tackles.

Back of the Week was MIKE ADAMS, a 165-pound scrappy sophomore. Pressed into service when injuries wiped out veterans, Mike has risen to the occasion through sheer grit as a defensive linebacker. He has started the last four games, and he has gotten tougher in each one.

FORSAN
DOYLE WHETSEL won for the second time the designation of Back of the Week for Forsan. Although it was in a losing cause, Doyle dived and banged into quick holes to pick up 101 yards in 17 carries against Bronte. There were several times when this dynamic 145-pound senior almost broke for the distance. He also had a good night on defense.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:
DICK YOUNG, New York columnist:

"Gil Hodges (manager of the New York Mets) had an advantage over the men who had come before him. He had players who could do what he told them to do, and he had young pitching arms who not only could throw the ball through a brick wall, but they could designate the specific brick."

CHUCK BEDNARIK, former NFL great:
"I've never been on a losing team where there wasn't a lot of griping, everybody sore at somebody. When you're winning, everything's sweetness and light, and you get every break."

O. J. SIMPSON, former All-American, now a star attraction with the AFL Buffalo Bills, upon hearing that his high school alma mater in San Francisco was naming its football field after him:
"I figured they'd name the dean's office after me, instead. That's where I spent most of my time."

DARRELL IMHOFF, NBA player, discussing Milwaukee's Lew Alcindor:
"He's so agile. A guy like Wilt Chamberlain you can push and shove and it's just one force against another. You push Lew and he just goes the other way, he's so quick. So much has been made of the physical thing, he might be over-reacting."

JOHN BATEMAN, Rutgers football coach:
"Wins and losses are the same. I've never known a bad one, but some are better than others."

RICH HEBNER of the Pittsburgh Pirates:
"Happiness is going 2-for-5 and having your batting average drop."

FRAN TARKENTON, New York Giant quarterback, defending fans of the club:
"When we die, they die, too."

Pitcher JIM BUNNING, reacquired recently by Philadelphia:
"I wonder where baseball is going to find replacements for its diminishing crop of superstars. I haven't spotted too many with the extra-ordinary ability and spectator appeal necessary to land the label. Take a look at the rosters of teams in both leagues and you'll have a hard time finding anyone who might be able to take over for Willie Mays and Hank Aaron when they quit playing. Have they found anyone yet to replace Ted Williams or Mickey Mantle. Tom Seaver may qualify but he's a pitcher. In his own way, Pete Rose of Cincinnati fits into the category. Reggie Jackson of Oakland could be, but I haven't seen him. I'll have to reserve judgment on Johnny Bench, the Cincinnati catcher. Richie Allen still has a chance to make it. He's some kind of a hitter and he can drive in the runs and that is what the game is all about, although you do have to show up and play... I'll say this about the new crop of pitchers. They have better control than we did, but I don't think they're any smarter; at least, I'm not going to give them that kind of credit. They've got enough going for them as it is."

FURMAN BISHER, Atlanta columnist:
"What ever became of the sports spectator who used to stand at reverent attention during the playing of the national anthem?"

Kennedy Voices Hope Bill Won't Cut Oil Exploration

HOUSTON (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury David M. Kennedy has expressed hope the increased tax bill Congress is preparing to hand the petroleum industry will not curtail exploration for new oil reserves.

Kennedy did a bit of last minute editing on a speech he made Monday afternoon before the opening session of the golden anniversary meeting of the American Petroleum Institute.

He deleted the word "modest" from the $400 million tax hike he said the Senate Finance Committee has proposed for the industry. Then he inserted the words "we hope" when he read from the original text "the increase in your tax burden should not unduly curtail efforts to find and develop new petroleum reserves the nation must have."

Kennedy also departed from the text to acknowledge there are differences of opinion as to how much new petroleum industry taxes is included in the Senate committee's version of the House-approved tax reform bill.

"I've heard some estimates of $500 million but our computers keep coming out at $400 million," he said.

Earlier, Frank N. Ikard, president of the nation's largest petroleum trade group, told the 2,000 oilmen the industry has the capacity, the will and the skills to continue to meet the ever-increasing energy demands of the American public.

"It can do so effectively only if the ground rules are clear and consistent," Ikard said.

He said there is an urgent need for an overall national energy policy that takes into consideration all the problems now confronting the industry in Washington—imports, tax treatment, natural gas regulation, synthetic fuels, conservation, and offshore explorations.

Ikard is a former Texas congressman who served on the powerful House Ways and Means Committee until 1961. It was this committee that drafted this year's House bill that would cut the industry's controversial 27 1/2 per cent depletion tax allowance to 20 per cent. The Senate committee has proposed a cut to 23 per cent. Kennedy said a minimum income tax included in the Senate version in effect would reduce the percentage to about 21 per cent.

"We in the industry cannot meet our responsibilities if we continue to be judged piecemeal and under the stress of a highly charged emotional climate such as has existed in Washington most of this year," Ikard said.

He said the various issues involving the industry cannot be fragmented because they have an overall purpose to insure America's economic and military security.

"These conflicts in views at the federal level point up the absence of an understandable, overall policy within government relating to the nation's future energy requirements," he said.

The institute that represents all segments—large and small—of the domestic industry approved a $3.7 million 1970 budget for air and water pollution research project. Most of the $700,000 increase was earmarked for oil spills cleanup research, but Ikard's announcement made no reference to last February's spill in the Santa Barbara Channel off the California coast.

Nearly $2 million was pledged for continuation of an automotive emissions research program sponsored by the institute, the Automobile Manufacturers Association, and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

U. S. District Judge Ben C. Connally said he would not rule on an hearing for the indictment until he has studied the briefs in the case.

Government attorney Mack Dimmitt contends that Leary's testimony at the first trial should be admissible for a second trial since Leary was not compelled to testify.

Howard County Commissioners decided Monday to advertise for bids for two new trucks and trailers for the county, bids due Nov. 24. Judge Lee Porter said specifications for the equipment are available from the county road superintendent's office.

Also at Monday's meeting, commissioners discussed the possibility of purchasing voting machines for the county but no action was taken. Judge Porter said most of the commissioners seemed to be in favor of the idea two weeks ago, but since they've talked with their constituents, they think perhaps the public is not in favor of the purchase.

"I just wish we'd take some action on it," Judge Porter said. "When I get something rolling I like to go ahead and take care of it, one way or the other."

Discussion about moving the county library into the old post office building was also a part of Monday's meeting, but again, no action was taken. Commissioners generally agreed they need to consult both an architect and a library consultant about the move.

High Priest Of LSD Cult To 'Cool' It

HOUSTON (AP) — New York attorney Michael B. Standard said his client, Dr. Timothy Leary who is a self-styled high priest of the LSD cult now living in California will not take the stand in any future trials.

Consequently, Standard said, the government will not be able to find out his knowledge on a marijuana case.

Standard contends that Leary should not be retried in his old marijuana case at Laredo, Tex. He said the only issue left surrounding his client is whether Leary knew the marijuana found in his possession was illegally imported.

A Supreme Court ruling last May overturned a conviction Leary drew in 1966 when he was sentenced to 30 years in prison and fined $30,000. The court said that Leary could not be compelled to pay a tax on marijuana without an incriminating himself.

The decision by the high court also said that mere possession of marijuana was not proof that Leary knew it was illegally imported, as alleged in the indictment.

Task Force To Meet At School

The Chamber of Commerce President's Task Force on Priorities has scheduled a meeting with school officials Wednesday at 11:50 a.m. in the high school cafeteria. The group will discuss recommendations for the chamber's 1970 Program of Work.

Peacock Elected By Oil Writers

Darnell Peacock, who was reared at Forsan, has been elected secretary of the American Association of Petroleum Writers.

He attended North Texas University and later was a sports writer for the San Angelo Standard-Times in 1950 and its oil editor from 1953-54. He was oil editor for the Odessa American and worked for other papers, including the Houston Post, where he now is oil editor and edited trade publications, including Offshore magazine at Conroe before going to Houston.

Singer Molly Bee Ends Marriage

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Singer Molly Bee has ended her year-old marriage to actor Kenny Miller, a spokesman says.

Mrs. Miller, who asked no alimony, received custody of the couple's 2-month-old daughter Melia Marti.

The divorce was granted last Friday on grounds of incompatibility, the spokesman said.

Thefts Reported

Two thefts were reported to Big Spring police Monday.

J. E. Frickling, Route 2, said a cotton trailer, valued at $400, was stolen last December from 311 NE 2nd. James Grimsley reported $40 in change and certificates and jewelry of undetermined value were taken from his home, 1203 Barnes. He said he had left it unlocked to go to work.

UA HOMECOMING QUEEN FINALISTS — Diane Kirksey, center, of Eutaw, a Negro coed, was selected as one of three finalists for the 1969 homecoming queen at the University of Alabama last night. Other finalists were Sue Shimoda, left, of Dothan and Karen Parvin of Birmingham.

Wrecked Car Found Monday

The Texas Highway Patrol is still looking today for the driver of a 1961 model car which was found alongside US 87, about 15 miles north of Big Spring Monday, turned over.

Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell said he found the car about 4 p.m. on the shoulder of the north highway just like it had been parked there, except it was upside down. He said the car was a total loss and estimated it had been driven first into the median strip, crossed the highway, into the borrow ditch, and then flipped up onto the shoulder.

Maxwell said he is checking the car's registration to see if the registered owner, in Lubbock, does still own the car. He added that the car was towed to the Ace Wrecking Co., Snyder Highway.

Pleads Guilty To DWI Charge

One guilty plea was entered in Howard County Court Monday, by Billy B. Nichols, 39, Knott, who pleaded to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He was fined $50 plus court cost and placed on six month's probation by Judge Lee Porter. Nichols was arrested July 19 and released the same day on $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter.

A case filed in Howard County Court Monday names George C. Cole, 46, OK Trailer Court, in a charge of carrying a prohibited weapon. He was arrested Sunday and released Monday on $500 bond set by Justice Slaughter.

Granted Parole

Among those granted a parole Monday by the State Board of Pardons and Paroles was John Wayne Hudson, convicted here on a charge of passing a forged instrument. He also was serving a concurrent three-year term from Taylor County for theft, and from Wichita, Lubbock and Dallas counties for swindling with bogus check of more than $50. He had served one year and nine months of his term and was paroled to Lubbock County.

Salvation Army Board Plans For Christmas

The Salvation Army advisory board did a little jingling for Christmas at a breakfast meeting Tuesday at Coker's.

They also set Dec. 8 as the date for the annual advisory board banquet. Maj. Rudolph Lanier, Dallas, Texas division secretary and second in command in the state, will be the speaker. The public is urged to attend this affair, said Lt. Joseph Saint, in charge of the corps here.

As in past years, appeals will go to clubs, organizations and other private groups to man the Salvation Army Kettles, which will go up first on Dec. 12. This will follow a pattern of last year, because it has been found that the returns are as much from a short intensive appeal for cash to help supply Christmas baskets.

Lt. Saint said that there is a need for dolls to be given to small girls at Christmas. He appealed with those who have used or new dolls they can give to leave them at the Salvation Army Citadel. Also needed are clubs or individuals who will volunteer to clean and dress the dolls for redistribution.

The appeal for toys to be repaired will be voiced by the

Will Make Like Marriage Broker

TOCCOA, Ga. (AP) — Mayor Lucius Alewine says this is the first time he has been asked to make like a marriage broker.

Alewine read to the City Council Monday night a letter he received this week from a Southern girl living in New York—"A man of good character, 44 years old, in good health, not bad looking"—asking for help in finding a wife.

"I have a good job here, earn good money, have also started a business of my own and I don't drink alcoholics," wrote Robert Plummer. "I come from good kinfolk. My great maternal grandmother was kin to Gen. Robert Lee of the Confederacy. I would like to meet and marry at once a woman 30 to 60 years old, in good health, not bad looking."

The first thing Alewine plans to do about Plummer's plea, he said, is to pass the letter on to the local newspaper.

'Flying Nun' Is Proud Mom

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Sally Field, television's "Flying Nun," is the mother of a 7-pound, 4-ounce boy.

The baby, born at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital Monday, was named Peter Joshua Craig. His father, Steven, is a writer-photographer.

Miss Field will resume her role in the ABC television series in January, a spokesman said.

Ceremonies Held By Mu Zetas

Mrs. Owen Wormser, president of Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, conducted sorority ceremonies at Monday's meeting in the First Federal Community Room. Mrs. Richard Galloway, a transferee, received the ritual of jewels, and the pledge ritual was held for Mrs. Jack Hallett, Mrs. Tom Warren, Mrs. Rex Goff and Mrs. Tommy Rutledge. Refreshments were served from a table laid with a white linen cutwork cloth, and crystal and silver appointments were used. The ritual table was laid with a black velvet cloth and centered with yellow roses.

Stanton BSP Unit Discusses Libya

STANTON (SC) — Preceptor Mu Chapter of BSP met recently in the home of Mrs. Tull Ray Louder in Stanton, with Mrs. George Dawson, president, presiding. Mrs. Louder presented a program on Libya and was introduced by Mrs. P. M. Bristow, program chairman. During the business meeting, two proposals for use of the state project funds were presented and voted on with the decision being made to aid the Hematology Laboratory. This project will aid children by further research on leukemia, cancer and liver disease. This lab is located at the University of Texas Medical School. The chapter will donate to the Abilene State School and Big Spring State Hospital at Christmas. The next meeting will be held at the Cap Rock Auditorium, Nov. 20, and will be a book review.

Charm Explained At BSP Meeting

"The ability to be one-self," was a definition of charm expressed by Sarah Bernhardt and quoted during a program at Monday's meeting of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi. The group met in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room, and speakers were Mrs. H. G. Adams and Mrs. Bill McIntosh. The speakers also pointed out that charm is "the ability to please" and if one looks for the good in others, one finds more in them to like. They stressed that people who like other people are usually well-liked themselves. Mrs. Bobby Hughes presided and read an invitation from the Jayceettes to the Harvest Ball slated Saturday in Cosden Country Club. The preferential tea was announced for Sunday in the First Federal Community Room. The BSP City Council will host a salad supper Nov. 25 at 7 p.m. in First Federal Community Room, and a Thanksgiving supper was planned for Nov. 21 in the Flame Room.

PLAN TO ATTEND CONVENTION — Delegates going to the state Parent-Teacher Association convention Wednesday through Friday in San Antonio are George Archer, principal of Gay Hill School; Mrs. Dwight McCann, seated, president of District 16; Mrs. J. E. Swindell, president of College Heights PTA; and Mrs. David Hodnett, president of the Big Spring City Council PTA.

Books Reviewed By Mrs. J. W. Dickens

Mrs. J. W. Dickens gave a composite review of three books, "What It's All About," "The Power Within You" and "Psychocybernetics" at Monday's meeting of Mu Kappa Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha. The group met in the home of Mrs. Loy Carroll, 2718 Larry. "Man is the only creature that worships, and all men worship something," said Mrs. Dickens. "We are what we believe, and our thoughts and beliefs are reflected in everything we do, whether we realize it or not. We can become anything we think we can if it is in the realm of reality. We must start small and work up to a more perfect goal, taking only one step at a time. We want forgiveness, so we must forgive others. Lack of forgiveness causes more physical harm than many germs." Mrs. Dickens said people should be kinder to each other, honest with themselves and others and to bear one another's burdens. "If you would live fully, then be merciful," concluded Mrs. Dickens. Mrs. Hanson Lawhon presided during the business meeting, as plans were made for a bake sale Nov. 22 in Highland Center Mall. A garage sale was slated Dec. 5-6 at 1900 Goliad. Mrs. Tommy Mills received the door prize, and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Nov. 24, when members will wrap packages at Big Spring State Hospital.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: I have found the ideal way to store my garden hose. I always detested trying to put away my hose for the winter. It had to be taped in so many places that come spring it took a full day to remove the sticky stuff. Well, just listen to this: I took an old auto tire, put it on the garage floor, started with one end of the hose and put it into the space where the tube normally goes. I just kept winding the hose round and round until it was all in the tire. My hose was one hundred and fifty feet long and the tire took care of all of it. It actually backs up in the tire and won't come out. You may have to tuck the end under when you have finished winding it, but I think you'll find it's easier to store one tire than to fight with that rubber "snake" in the storeroom all winter long. A Reader my opinion is strictly "blah," but if you wear dentures, lettuce poses a problem, because the lettuce pulls away from the meat mixture and you find yourself with the whole leaf of lettuce in your mouth. So here is my hint: While grinding the meat, hard-boiled eggs, etc., add your wedge of lettuce and grind it too. Mrs. C.B. Gillispie

This column is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of The Herald. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

Creative Writing Program Presented
STANTON (SC) — Mrs. Wallace Kelly gave the program on creative writing at a recent meeting of the Xi Epsilon Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in the home of Mrs. Ira Clark. Mrs. Corene Manning presided. The next meeting will be a book review Nov. 20 in the Cap Rock auditorium.

HD Club Hears Talk On Holiday Foods
Mrs. James Eiland, Martin County home demonstration agent, gave a program on holiday foods at a recent meeting of the Lakeview Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Alfred Franks. Mrs. W. J. Harlow, president, announced plans for Achievement Day which will be held Nov. 20 in the Cap Rock auditorium. Mrs. Harlow will be hostess to the Christmas party slated Dec. 4.

A LOVELIER YOU Plan Diet Menus For Losing Weight

By MARY SUE MILLER
It was the husband who threatened to go home to mother when his bride served her set of diet menus five times running. No one should try that gambit. You simply cannot get away with it. Too boring!

In addition to wrecking your home life, you could easily wreck your reducing program by slavishly following ready-made diet menus. You soon come to the end and then you must repeat. Boredom sets in and you begin to make substitutions. Unless you are familiar with calorie counts and nutritional values, you are doomed to the ranks of diet failures.

For a successful outcome, you simply must know how to plan your own diet menus. An easy way to learn is to use a set of ready-made menus as a pattern and then make substitutions on the basis: Replace a food in kind... of the same type and count.

For example, asparagus and zucchini are interchangeable, as are a pork and lamb chop (same size of course), or a nectarine and pear. To make unerring selections, refer to calorie and nutrition charts. Even experts check the scores now and then.

Nutritional values are as vital as calories. Reducers, with a busy winter ahead, must eat healthfully. Otherwise, your energy and sparkle get lost with your weight. So do bone up on protein foods and those with vitamin C, B-complex, vitamin A and iron. Then, for beauty's sake, eat 'em.

Breakfast Club Plans Yule Party
The Friendship Breakfast Club planned a Christmas party at Monday's breakfast in Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. O. G. Burns was hostess. The party will begin at 6:30 p.m., Dec. 8, with a dinner at the restaurant, and the group will later convene in the home of Mrs. Burns, 607 E. 18th, for a gift exchange.

Club Sees Christmas Decorations

"Do Your Own Thing" was the program presented by Mrs. Don Wiley, guest speaker at Monday's meeting of Xi Mu Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in the home of Mrs. Lamar Green, Oil Mill Road. Mrs. Roy Granbery was colhostess. Mrs. Wiley demonstrated the making of Christmas decorations from simple household items and showed how to make decorative reindeer from plastic bottles. Mrs. Wade Choate introduced the speaker.

Plans were made to attend Thursday's presentation, "A Thousand Clowns," by the Little Theatre of Big Spring. Mrs. Harry McMillan, BSP city council representative, announced a salad supper will be held Nov. 25 at First Federal Community Room for all chapters.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and carried out a Veterans Day theme with a red, white and blue fluted ball dotted with miniature flags. The next meeting will be Nov. 24 in the home of Mrs. James Fuller, 4047 Vicky.

Auxiliary Fills Officer Vacancies

Vacancies were filled in the election of officers at Monday's meeting of the Eagles Auxiliary at the Hotel Settles, with Mrs. Hansese Yetman named vice president and Mrs. Edd W. Staub, trustee. Mrs. James Hanson is past president. Mrs. Jimmy Dalton reported on District Four convention held last weekend in Fort Stockton. Three members of the auxiliary will present a program at the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting tonight. Those on the program will be Mrs. Bill Cochran, Mrs. Dalton and Mrs. Hanson. Plans were announced for a fund-raising project, where a turkey will be given away Nov. 23. Tickets are on sale by all auxiliary members.

College Students At Homecoming

KNOTT (SC) — Collegians home for the weekend were Johnnie Wenton McGregor, Texas A&M University; Lance Hopper, Texas Tech; and Larry Newcomer from John Tarleton in Stephenville. They attended the Sands homecoming and football game. Miss Connie Crestman of Lubbock was a weekend guest in the Earl Newcomer home. Mrs. Jess Hefferman visited her sister, Mrs. Herman Jeffcoat, over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. John Allred are hunting at Mason. Mr. and Mrs. John McGregor have returned from a deer hunt. Mrs. J. G. Nichols was scheduled to have eye surgery today in a Big Spring hospital.

Golf Association Plans Fund-Raising Project

Mrs. Floyd Mays, president of the Ladies Golf Association, Big Spring Country Club, announced at Friday's luncheon that the LGA will sell tickets for savings stamp books as a fund-raising project. Mrs. Gwen Neill was welcomed as a new member. Guests were Mrs. Culin Grigsby, Mrs. Ray Boren, Mrs. Alvin Thigpen, Mrs. Frank Hamlin, Mrs. B. B. Badger and Mrs. Joe Herbert.
