'OLD GUARD' WANTS TO ELECT NEW PRIME MINISTER

Mrs. Gandhi Expelled From Her Political Party

NEW DELHI (AP) — The "old guard" majority in the top leadership of India's badly split ruling Congress party expelled Prime Minister Indira Gandhi from the party today and ordered Congress members of Parliament to elect a new prime

The party's top policy-making body, the Congress Working Committee, took the unprecedented step against Mrs. Gandhi. She was accused of "spreading indiscipline" in the 84-year-old organization.

The action was not expected to affect Mrs. Gandhi's position as prime minister immediately. Her supporters in the party had announced previously they would not recognize any expul-sion orders issued by the party president, Siddavanalli Nijalingappa, whom Mrs. Gandhi has been trying to oust.

SERIOUS TEST

A meeting of all Congress members in Parliament is to be held Thursday. It was called in advance of today's action, Mrs. Gandhi was expected to seek a fresh vote of confidence then.

Her supporters claim she has an overwhelming majority among the 431 Congress members in Parliament. A more serious test is expected after Parliament begins its winter session on Nov. 18. Then Mrs. Gandhi is certain to lose most or all of her 23-seat majority over the opposition parties because of the split within her own party. This will force her to rely on leftist, Communist and independent members to keep her government in office. The prime minister was giving a luncheon for visiting Hungarian President Pal Losonczi when the expulsion decision was taken, and she was not immediately available for comment

The Congress Working Committee issued a communique after a three-hour meeting saying the committee was "regretfully obliged" to expel her from the party because she had set up a rival working committee and a rival All-India Congress Committee, which is composed of some 700 delegates from all of the 17 states.

The expulsion was voted by only 11 of the 21 members of the working committee. Mrs. Gandhi and her supporters have boycotted the past three meetings of the committee to protest the party president's dismissal of three of her faction from the

Marcos Seems Pretty Sure Of Vote Win

MANILA (AP) - Ferdinand E. Marcos looked more and more today like the first president of the Philippines to win re-election.

With about a fourth of the vote counted, Marcos was leading Sen. Sergio Osmena Jr. 1,348,097 votes to 872,111.

Returns from many rural areas were coming in slowly, but the lead for the 52-year-old incumbent president was growing steadily. He also had a strong lead in Manila, which in the past usually went to the opposition.

The voting was Tuesday, and by noon today Marcos had issued a victory statement, declaring the elections represented a new mandate for him. He had already stated that the new mandate would strengthen his hand in coming negotiations to enlarge Philippine jurisdiction over U.S. servicemen stationed in the islands.

Osmena, son of a World War II president, charged widespread terrorist tactics were being used to insure the re-election of Marcos. He told newsmen that people in his home province "are getting restive. They want to shoot it out."

The coordinator of Operation Quick Count, the semiofficial tabulating organization, said many precincts were slow in reporting because election workers feared for their lives. Reports to Manila newspapers indicated that political killings would total about 60 from June through election day.

Marcos' running mate on the Nacionalista party ticket, Vice President Fernando Lopez was running ahead of the president by nearly 10,000 votes in his race for re-election against Liberal party Sen. Genaro Magsaysay, brother of the late President Ramon Magsaysay.

With Marcos' victory likely, his foreign secretary, Carlos P. Romulo said today the government's foreign policy will be more nationalistic. He indicated this will include opening of relations with Communist countries.

"For the past 22 years we have followed a policy that was too one-sided," Romulo said. "We closed the door of our country to one half of the world. Why should we continue in this manner? The United States deals with Communist countries. Why should we be more popish than the pope.'

Romulo said, however, that Philippine overtures to Red China had met with no response. Asked if he planned new moves toward China, he said he would first consult with Marcos.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) - A Chilean jetliner with 63 persons reported aboard was hijacked today while on a domestic flight and ordered to fly to Cuba, a spokesman for the airline LAN

He said the twin-engine Caravelle was taken over shortly after taking off on a flight to the Chilean south.

The spokesman added that the plane under orders of the hijacker or hijackers headed for Antofagasta in Chile and Lima, Peru, possibly for refueling.

Laite Draws Prison Term

FORT WORTH (AP) - A federal judge sentenced William Laite Jr. to a year and a day in prison after the former Georgia legislator pleaded guilty Tuesday to making false statements to the Federal Housing Administration.

Judge Leo Brewster, dismissing 22 of 23 counts against Laite, ruled that the sentence would run concurrently with a previous conviction for per-

The charges against Laite, 37, of Macon, Ga., stemmed from his role in an FHA housing rehabilitation project in Big Spring, Tex., in 1965. In a related case, Laite, who served four terms in the Georgia House of Representatives, was convicted previously on two counts of perjury before a federal grand jury in Lubbock.

'Biggest Ever' Support Of Nixon Events Staged Support Of Nixon In America

By The Associated Press

Hundreas of Veteran's Day ceremonies, many aimed at giving President Nixon's "silent majority" a chance of piping up, drew thousands of flag-waving citizens in cities and hamlets across America.

Some of the larger crowdsestimated by police at more than 10,000 each-were in Washington, Boston and Tallahassee, Massachusetts Gov. Francis W. Sargent-declaring "Veterans are being produced the hard way in Vietnam at this very moment"-led 11,000 marchers in Boston. The Tallahassee parade featured traditional floats and civic displays.

HAD THEIR DAY

In the nation's capital, organizers of the Veterans Day Freedom Rally at the Washington Monument could claim success as the estimated turnout on a cool but clear autumn day matched their predictions.

The mostly white, neatly dressed gathering in Washington applauded and shouted approval during the 21/2 hours as speaker after speaker attacked leaders of the war protest move-They heard Rep. Donald Lukens, R-Ohio, call the war protesters "Spockettes" after the well-known baby doctor and outspoken war critic, Benjamin "They've had their day, they're beginning to make daddy and big brother mad," Lukens said.

They cheered agreement when Ed Butler, 34, who calls himself a "conflict manager." said of Saturday's war protest march: "Parading with these people is like marching with the Mafia for better law enforcement.

'FREEDOM RALLY'

Some 35,000 were on the same ground Oct. 15 for music, speeches and the beginning of a candlelight march the night of the Vietnam Day Moratorium. And it was as an answer to this war protest and others that the "freedom rally" Tuesday was declared to make something extra of the Veterans Day observ-

Not far away, the President and Mrs. Nixon paid a 45-minute visit to a Veterans Administration hospital. Their daughter, Julie, and her husband, David Eisenhower, observed the day in the same fashion by touring a hospital in Northhampton,

Gina Admits She Will Wed

ROME (AP) — Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida said today she would marry New York real estate man George S. Kaufman "as soon as possible."

"We wanted to keep it a secret," the brown-haired, 41year-old actress said. "But now that the word has leaked out on our romance, we might as well bring it out in the open.

Miss Lollobrigida made the announcement at an airport news conference before flying to New York with Kaufman,

"I hope we will be able to marry in the States," said Kaufman, a tall, dark-haired man who looks younger than his 40

"We don't know the where and when, but we will announce it in New York," he said.

Veterans Day in Texas took on added significance across Texas Tuesday as President Richard Nixon's "silent majority" made its presence felt.

The mood in many places was not only one of reverence for the nation's veterans. It took on tinges of a pro-Nixon demonstra-

Government officials in general blasted anti-war demonstrators, and colleges and universities staged programs of support for Nixon.

The Dallas Morning News reported it sold out of American flags. One woman bought enough to supply all the homes on her block. TEXANS READY The tone for the day was set early by Gov. Preston Smith. He urged Texans to "fly flags from every home and business today (Tuesday)." The governor said he was convinced that "Texans are ready to honorably support our military servicemen and all they represent." Support was evident at Texas A&M. where the 3.000-member corps of cadets honored an estimated 1,000 veterans attending the University. The honors took the form of a military review. The campus was still for a minute at noon in honor of war dead. More than 100 American flags lined the school's main entrance and parade grounds. Corps Commander Matthew R. Carroll said "We in the corps of cadets wished to express our appreciation to A&M's veteran

Two Medal of Honor winners attended the A&M affair. They were Dr. Eli Whitely, now a professor at A&M, and Clarence Sasser of Rosharon.

Veterans' groups sponsored severa! activities throughout the state. Those included the United Spanish American War Veterans, Disabled American Veterans, American Veterans, Veterans of World War I, and the Jewish War Veterans.

At the ground of the Capitol steps in Austin, a crowd of around 200 held a memorial service to honor the nation's war dead.

Representatives of various veterans' and patriotic groups laid flower sprays on a mock grave. The Capitol crowd heard a memorial address from the Rev. Ed Haffner of Brownwood, state chaplain for the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Among those attending the Austin tribute was Brig. Gen. James Cross, pilot of Air Force One during the Lyndon Johnson administration. Cross is now commander of a reconnaisance wing at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Heavy On Technology

Technologists and engineers have taken over the lunar exploration program. Scientists are being relegated to the sidelines. In retrospect it seems inevitable.

The Apollo program, for instance, was a spectacular technological achievement and an engineering triumph of the first order. But specific discoveries growing from it so far have been minimal.

The mood of true scientists who work on the threshold of the unknown has been revealed by Dr. Persa R. Bell, a widely known nuclear physicist. Dr. Bell is resigning from America's Moon Laboratory to conduct thermonuclear studies at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., National Laboratory.

Dr. Bell said he had encountered a "whole spectrum of difficulties" in trying to deal with the approach or the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to scientific research.

"They feel they should have firm operational control of the laboratory," he said of the engineers. "It's time for the guys who organized it to move

There is, after all, a built-in incompatibility between engineers and scientists. The engineer is interested primarily in the application of new scientific discoveries. The research scientist is mainly interested in new knowledge for its own sake, removed from any thought of its practical application. Both scientists and engineers are essential to a modern industrial nation, but they do not always mix very well.

From Both Sides

The press of the United States is in an interesting predicament: It is being accused almost simultaneously of bias against Democrats and bias against Republicans.

Attorney General John N. Mitchell (known irreverently in the Department of Justice as the Great Stone Face) has sternly rebuked the press for manufacturing a case against Judge Clement F. Haynsworth, nominated for a Supreme Court vacancy. Then President Nixon chimed in by characterizing the opposition to Haynsworth as "character assassination."

Almost at the same time, House investigators who looked into the violence at the Democratic National Convention in Chicago last year produced evidence to show that the press and television deliberately concocted and reported scenes which made the Democrats look bad. This, presumably, was to contrast the Chicago violence with the relatively peaceful Republican National Convention in Newsmen long ago concluded that if both sides were belaboring you, your news stories must be going pretty well somewhere near where the truth of the situation may be.

Annual Roundup Where Buffalo Stop Roaming

over the hill from the west - just like in the history books: Coughing, snorting and butting, running full bore for a fate unknown. Their cloven hoofs sounded like a running river. The ground vibrated. The nine riders, silhouetted against the morning sky, pushed them on.

It was roundup time at the National Bison Range, an 18,541-acre chuck of western Montana where every year a page of American history is relived.

THE "WHOA, whoa, juh-hah" cries of the buffalo drivers could be heard long before the first black speck appeared on the range a half mile from the corrals where the shaggy beasts would be judged.

Some would be sold for slaughter, others to build private herds across the nation. The remaining animals would be put back on the range for another year.

There were 150 head in the first bunch pushed into the holding pasture. An equal number thundered over another hill the next day.

Seventy-nine of the animals were sold alive to predetermined sealed bidders for an average price of

"This is very dangerous business," said Marvin Kaschke, a round-faced man in charge of the range. "Anything can happen with these Billy Graham - has dropped to an all-time of 20 known wild buffalo in 1900.

In the Bible God said: "I create good and I create evil. I the Lord do all these things." It is difficult for me to believe that the Bible was inspired by God because of this statement and others similar. and tooo, some stories I find in the Bible are of gross immoralities. How do you explain this?

First of all, there is much lost in translation in certain verses that are problem verses. For example, in this one the word "evil" has absolutely no moral connotation of any kind. Rather, God is saying there that He assumes responsibility for judgment that may come upon a nation; that is, judgment of the nature of some physical catastrophe.

But you had better be careful not to attribute to God's direct action every accident and every calamity. This can be done only when such judgments are clearly predicted in Scripture and announced beforehand.

As for the stories of gross immoralities being in the Bible, this is actually an evidence rather than a contridction to the teaching of inspiration. If the Bible were not totally true, then we would reject it. It is precisely because these stories are there that we know it is true, because God has not covered over the sins even of those people that were called His servants. David's horrible sin of adultery and murder were not covered over even though God recognized David as one who had trusted MOIESE, Mont. (AP) - They came animals," he said while walking above some of the milling buffalo on a catwalk.

> BIG BULLS weighed near 2,000 pounds, making a Hereford bull look like a midget. Some broke through a range fence just as the sorting began. A bull also decided to exit through a four-inch steel pipe corral gate and a welding truck was called in for repairs. "They won't bother you. They're not cornered and we're not between a cow and her calf," said C. J. Henry, a former refuse manager at the range called in to help with the roundup. Buffalo don't herd like cattle, plodding along at a walk. Ask Matt Stile, a government trapper called in from nearby Missoula to help manage the herd.

"I thought herding buffalo would be like moving big barnyard cows. I was wrong. These animals are wild," he said as his black horse chaffed at the bit, snorted and sweated following the drive. The national wildlife refuge is nestled in the forested valley of the Flathead River, near the middle of the Flathead Indian Reservation. It was established May 32, 1908. "OUR JOB is to perpetuate a representative herd of American buffalo," said Kaschke.

The bison range was created at a time when the herds — once numbering 40 million to 60 million animals has dropped to an all-time low

The first buffalo were released on the range in October, 1909 - there to roam with their lifelong companions: elk, antelope, big horn sheep, whitetail and mule deer, golden eagle and a host of other birds. Some animals on the range reach 25 years old, though formerly they were slaughtered hwen they reached 10. On some the winter hair under the chin reaches 17 inches in length.

For three days in early October the cowboys combed the range bringing the herd together. It took another three days to sort and handle the animals.

From the holding pasture, five or six riders cut a few head at a time. moving them into pens lined by spectators from many states.

GETTING THEM in was one thing; out another.

The smell of smoke and singed hair rose from the small green wood chute where the animals were squeezed so Grant Hoyde, a Ronan rachher, could put a five inch "9" brand on the rumps of calves. With a clipper in one hand, Hovde literally grabbed the bulls by the tail. He smoothed both rumps and jammed the red-hot irons onto tender skin. The reaction was spontaneous.

THE LONGER ANIMALS were jammed in a "big squeeze," a red iron affair capable of containing 2,000 pounds of angry buffalo. Three men operated the chute, squeezing the animals so veterinarians could safely put a metal tag on their ears and a numbered tag on their rumps. Both are required by the federal government for interstate movement. Bull No. 401 banged the chute till his horns were red with rubbed-off

The Real Motivation

What motivates a veteran to trade his civilian status for a tour of obliga-tion or a career in military service?

NOT WITH ANY idea of becoming a hero, or that there is somehow something romantic in putting on a uniform and dashing off to war. If there was a time when personalized man-to-man tests of skill and strength and the simplicity of movement by foot or horse offered a personal physi-cal challenge and mental stimulation, that time has long since gone. There is no glory in war, although there are those who rise to glorious heights in total disregard for self sometimes to survive in lasting humility, more often to die.

It is not to gain some secret fulfillment out of exposure to danger, for war is not confined to a daring charge down some slope or up some hill. It is enduring bitter and unending cold, surviving through swamps and slush and eternal rain; crawling through dirt and craving for drink, fighting the vermin and enduring the NOR IS IT .. to escape from responsibilities of school or of home unquestioning. There is no running away, for one moment of reality piles upon another. Certainly, the impelling reason is not to travel and see the world, although that may be part of service.

There may be some exhiliration in or family. There is no escape in arms, for here discipline is rigid and in the midst of strange customs, but this is not the tourists trip. Novelty gives way to nostalgia, and adventure to longing for home; tolerance to frustration.

IT IS NOT for economic security. Although some have found a better break in service than they would in civilian pursuits, they could, with equal energy, likely have achieved an equal or greater station on the outside. Both the floor and the ceiling are too low, considering the ultimate risks, to induce a man to put his life on the line for money.

NOR IS AN evangelistic fervor that swells the breast in some superpatriotic action the reason for most.

No, there must be and there is some greater motivation that draws and holds men and women, although they be volunteers or conscripts, into the Armed Forces of our nation. That quality may be called duty - a sublime sense that impels men to do what they have to do, to sometimes do what they do not want to do, to be braver than they are, to die without whimpering, to hold up their heads in their pride that whatever their feelings and whatever their fears, that they did their part for their fatherland.

WORDS in the last line of the Declaration of Independence capture the inate quality which puts the nation forever in the debt of those who serve their country at home or abroad:

WASHINGTON — Plenty of associations with special interests to serve maintain offices in Washington or send representatives to the nation's capital regularly to lobby for certain causes, and claim to speak for great numbers of people. But there is no way of telling whether they really do reflect the wishes of the citizens whom they purport to represent.

THE PRESIDENT of the National Education Association has sent to every member of the Senate a telegram which is supposed to represent the views of "more than two million professional educators in 9,000 state and local affiliates." They are alleged to have concluded that the record of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth on civil Also a taxidermist, musician rights "renders him unfit" to fill the and school teacher, Scriver vacant seat on the Supreme Court of the United States.

A STATEMENT by the NEA president was released at the same time accusing the Nixon administration of having "sold out to racism in the nomination." Nowhere in the documents, however, is proof given of any decisions by Judge Haynsworth that an impartial board would consider "racist." The pronouncement of the National Education Association doesn't concern itself with the accusations about indiscretion in conflict of interest matters, although this has been the chief factor in criticism of President Nixon's appointee.

MANY TEACHERS who are members of the National Education Association probably can recall the days of "McCarthyism," when it was charged that innocent persons were smeared by political demagoguery. In this instance, the NEA doesn't cite any case which would sustain linking Judge Haynsworth with "racism." Eminent judges on the bench have given their testimony that he is a man not only of high integrity but well qualified by his service on the bench to be promoted to the high court. The American Bar Association, through a special committee, made a report of Judge Haynsworth's record and approved his nomination.

EVERY SENATOR received a month ago from Senators Hruska and Cook, members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, a comprehensive report of all the civil-rights cases in which Judge Haynsworth has participated. Professor G. W. Foster Jr., who made the study, is described as "a strong civil-rights advocate." He was largely responsible for the formulation of the original school desegregation "guidelines" put out by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare in 1965, and has had contact with federal judges on these problems. He appraises Judge Haynsworth's record in these words:

"I have thought of his work, not as that of a segregationist-inclined judge, but as that of an intelligent and open-minded man with a practical knack for seeking workable answers to hard questions.

UNDOUBTEDLY there are some teachers in the National Education Association who are sympathetic with the AFL-CIO and also with Negro civil-rights groups, which have been leading the fight to prevent confirmation of Judge Haynsworth. But if a poll were actually taken of the two million members, and the question were asked as to how many of them had read any case decided by Judge Haynsworth on civil rights or racial matters, it probably would be found that very few have studied his record. Yet a statement is made in the name of a prominent organization of professional educators which undertakes to pass judgment on the qualifications of a man who for 12 years has been a judge on the United States court of appeals and is highly regarded by the judicial fraternity.

Give 'Em Hell, Mr. President

Holmes Alexander

WASHINGTON - A man's best said, "Lob one into the men's room friends ought to be his frankest critics. I say this in full knowledge criticism often puts the kibosh on

I am the proud possessor of a White House thank-you note from President Nixon, and of an inscribed photograph, and I would not want to show infidelity to such friendliness as I've enjoyed with Mr. Nixon over the years. All the same, there's an offchance that criticism, which he certainly won't get from inside his household, may have some corrective utility if it comes from a well-wisher on the outside.

MR. PRESIDENT, I speak up for the "silent majority," though I have no license to do so. But you used that phrase in your speech to the nation on Nov. 3, and I listened, I studied it, I read it more than once. I heard comment from some who are mobilizing against you this month and from those who admire you I attended a morning-after press conference by the Mobe leaders. They were snickering and saying "he helped us." I consulted with a Medal of Honor winner. He agreed with me that it was only a so-so speech and that it would fail to arouse the country.

SIR, YOUR speech was "too neat and not gaudy enough," as a reviewer once wrote about one of my works. Why do you suppose that the majority of Americans who want victory yes, sir, victory - in Vietnam are so "silent?" Well, I venture the opinion that you don't give them - give us — something to shout about. We cheered when Lyndon Johnson told the troops to "hang a coon-skin on the wall." And when Barry Goldwater at the Kremlin." And when Gen. MacArthur orated, "There is no substitute for victory."

MR. PRESIDENT, you cannot lead a "silent" people in a shooting war. You must give them passages of prose that literally lift them out of seats. A silent majority is one that will dwindle away, and the very situation that you fear - a policy made in the streets by the "vocal minority"

I say in all reverence, for God's sake, get mad. Next time you write to a Hanoi leader, rip him tooth and nail. Please don't ever tell the world that you might re-escalate the war if North Vietnam does so first, and then pull the punch by saying "This is no threat."

MUCH WAS made of the fact that the Nov. 3 speech was the 10th draft of a script that you wrote without assistance. I'm bound to say, that it sounded that way. I would rather have heard the first draft. You do better when you shoot from the hip, and I think you wouldn't have flubbed those lines if you'd been ad libbing.

YOU HAVE NOT spoken the last word on Vietnam. There's always a next time. But don't wait too long. This nation is hungering for evocative leadership, as never before. Certainly the outcome of the war, which we have substantially won in the field, is to be finally decided at home I say that if the majority remains silent, it won't remain a majority for much longer.

Give us something to shout about Mr. President, and soon.

POKER PLAYERS' EYES MAY TIP OFF HIS ACES

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)

— A psychologist says the pupils in a poker player's eyes may tip off the kind of hand he is holding.

The pupils are apertures in the iris which normally expand in dim light or darkness and contract when the light is brighter.

But for an unexplained reason, Dr. Eckard H. Hess told a convention of the American College of Medical Hypnotists Monday, the pupils also grow bigger when the eye beholds something pleasant, like a full house or four of a kind.

Sick Airline Plans Merger

NEW YORK (AP) - Northwest Airlines, the nation's most profitable airline in 1968, plans to merge with ailing Northeast Airlines, officials of both companies announced Tuesday.

Northeast stockholders would receive one share of Northwest stock for every five shares of Northeast they turn in under the atentative merger agree-

The plan is subject to approval of the Civil Aeronautics Board and directors and stockholders of both airlines.

Northwest turned a profit of $50 million last year, while Northeast compiled a $2.4 million deficit. Northeast's deficit for the first nine months of 1969 was reported as $8.7 million. It has lost money in 13 of the last 14 years.

Nixon's Draft Lottery Looks Like Winner

ate approval of President Nixon's draft lottery proposal appears virtually certain after senators favoring broader reform dropped their fight in the face of an ultimatum from the Armed Services Committee.

Final action on the lottery bill could come within two weeks. The reform advocates received a pledge of hearings and possible action in 1970 from Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the committee, as they agreed Tuesday to go along with the lottery plan passed by the

Even though chances of extensive draft reform this year were ruled out, the subcommittee on administrative practices and procedures continued its draft hearings today by calling Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, and Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif. Sen. Edward M. Kennedy,

D-Mass., a leader in the draft reform forces, is presiding over the hearings. The pledge by Stennis of hearings and possible action next year appeared of doubtful value for two reasons: -Stennis himself has indicated opposition to many reform proposals such as an all-volunteer army. -There is no guarantee the House Armed Services Committee will take any action next Services Committee supported Stennis Monday in opposing any change in the House bill, which merely repeals the one sentence in the 1967 Selective Service Act that bars a lottery if 19-yearolds are drafted first.

The 1969 All-District 3-AAAA football team will be selected the coming week in a meeting of coaches and sports writers at Abilene.

As per custom, the conference playoff representative, in this instance Abilene Cooper, hosts the meeting.

Big Spring should be well represented on the elite squad. Quarterback Gary Hinds has had as good a year as any back in the league. Back Rick Peurifoy will raily some support — he was brilliant against some early conference Steve Tidwell deserves support as a defensive back.

End Jimmy Farris, tackle Roy Anderson and guards Randy Morgan and Fillmore Guinn have earned serious consideration. Roy Anderson is in front row center. Big Spring's league record, now 5-2, will help the cause of the local candidates. It's far easier to project your player talent when you win more than half your league tests. Morgan was truly terrific against Abilene High last weekend.

He's been getting better all along. Against the Eagles, it would have been hard to improve on his performance. Big Spring's offensive line dominated play what time it was in action and Randy was a leader in the tong war.

One of Big Spring's former coaching aides, Jack Tayrien, has guided Lockney to six wins in its first nine starts in his second year on the job. In District 3-AA, Tayrien's boys are

The team won a cliff-hanger last week, edging Dimmitt,

For a frustrated group of boys, I offer you the Muleshoe Mules. They have yet to score in nine games this season.

The Big Spring Sophs' 24-22 victory over San Angelo, achieved on enemy soil last weekend, was all the more remarkable when you consider the fact that two of coach Garland Braun's regular backs, Scott Knight and David Stanley, played no offense due to injuries. San Angelo had previously beaten the Sophs here by three touchdowns but Braun remained unconvinced that San

Kansas State University, where Big Springer James Carver distinguished himself as a starting offensive guard, will rage 35,000 at its home games this fall. Three years ago, the Wildcats were drawing a norm of only 12,000 at home. Kansas State officials wisely gave coach Vince Gibson a

Dear Editor:

I want to add my comments to others concerning television and movies. In yesterday's paper it was stated some newspapers and radio and television had refused to advertise those films. I have felt a deep concern as I've seen these ads in the Big Spring Herald and heard it on the radio stations. Whose responsibility is it? Cam was a popular to the Big Spring Herald and heard it on the radio stations. Whose responsibility is it? Cam was a popular to the beautiful to the b
