POLICE SEARCH FOR FOREIGN CONNECTIONS

Bombings Kill 14 Persons

Greece's military-backed regime.

ABOUT TO VOTE

Greece withdrew from the Council of Europe on Thursday. Italy was among the nations that were about to vote in favor of Greece's expulsion.

"We want to determine whether any of these groups—right or left—have been in contact with foreign elements," a Rome police spokesman said. Officers working on the case said the three bombs set off in Rome appeared to be of similar composition. The bombs exploded nearly at the same time the Milan bomb devastated a private bank, killing 14 persons.

100 QUESTIONED

Interior Minister Franco Restivo told the Chamber of Deputies that more than 100 persons had been questioned in Rome and Milan in the explosions. He said police guards had been reinforced at airports, stations, museums and the offices of newspapers and political parties.

The chamber listened to Restivo in silence, then erupted into bitter debate between right-wing and left-wing parties, which accused each other of instigating the explosions.

"Anonymous crimes were always signed by the hand of the Fascist and Nazi underworld," a proletarian Socialist deputy said.

RUMOR RULING

Communist leader Pietro Ingrao, blamed the explosions on "a terribly efficient terrorist organization which aims to hit at the roots of democracy." The Socialist party also blamed the bombings on the right wing. One speaker claimed the rightists wanted to create "a power vacuum" which would favor a military takeover.

Neo-Fascists called the charges "gross falsifications".

Premier Mariano Rumor has been ruling Italy for the past four months with a minority Christian Democrat government. He has so far weathered the wave of labor agitation which swept Italy this autumn. Fringe "worker power" groups have advocated violence, but union leaders have told members to disregard their call.

TAX REFORM $100 Minimum SS Payment Seems Doomed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Taxpayers probably get a break in the form of increased personal exemptions in the tax bill now nearing final form — but not as much or as soon as the version the Senate passed Thursday would have provided.

This was the outlook as Congress took a week-end breather before tackling the job of splicing into one the two widely differing versions of the biggest tax revision legislation in a generation.

Some 770 amendments made by the Senate in the House versions — at least 100 of them of real substance — must be accepted, discarded or compromised.

An across-the-board increase of 15 per cent in Social Security benefits appears assured — either as part of the tax bill, as the Senate voted, or in separate legislation as the House is handling it. But the extra Senate provision for a $100 minimum monthly payment, instead of the present $55, seems doomed, at least for the present. It would cost an extra $2 billion a year.

The sections of both bills affecting the mass of individual taxpayers provide roughly the same amount of tax relief, but by different methods and with different timing. It is the timing that mostly concerns the Nixon administration, eager to run up surpluses in the next two years large enough to dampen inflation. The House conferees tend to agree this is necessary.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

As it promised in the beginning, this Christmas shopping season may be one that goes down the wire. There has been an unusual volume of traffic in the stores, matched by an unusual amount of looking. This week the moment of truth will arrive for buyers, leaving the first three days of the next week for the desperation shoppers.

There were many signs of Christmas. One was the appearance of the Salvation Army kettles Friday. These are far later than usual starting, and it will take a more generous and ready response on the part of us all to meet the needs.

Indications are that there are some 500 families in the county needing help at Christmas. The VA Hospital opened its (free shopping) gift shop for patients last week; the Big Spring State Hospital party comes up this Tuesday.

One of the musical and worship highlights of the year comes up at 5:15 p.m. today when "The Messiah" is presented at the First United Methodist Church. The three score-plus voices of the choir will be supported by five soloists, the Texas Tech string ensemble, the organ, harpsichord and trumpet. This evening at least three churches have Christmas cantatas: "Carol of Christmas" at Trinity Baptist; "The Holy Birth" at St. Paul Presbyterian (with First Presbyterian choir joining), and "Love Transcending" at Baptist Temple.

The county commissioners court issued an invitation last week to the City of Big Spring and the Big Spring Independent School District to talk about possible consolidation of tax collection services. There was an immediate response and a general feeling of interest and optimism at a meet-

Former Tiger Of Tammany Hall Guilty

NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury found Carmine G. DeSapio, once a prominent figure in the Democratic party, guilty Saturday on all three counts of bribe-conspiracy.

The 61-year-old former Tammany Hall leader, who helped secure the election of Mayor Robert F. Wagner in 1953 and the gubernatorial nomination of Averell Harriman a year later, sagged in his chair as the verdict was read. He faced up to 15 years in prison and a $30,000 fine.

The government accused him of participating in a plot to bribe a city water commissioner to coerce the giant Consolidated Edison utility company into throwing business to a favored contractor.

MUFFLE CRIES
Antonio "Tony Ducks" Corallo, a reputed Mafia figure and DeSapio's codefendant in the alleged scheme, was found guilty of one of two counts against him. He faced up to five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

The jury of nine men and three women received the case Friday, after a three-hour charge by Judge Harold R. Tyler Jr. and 21 days of trial in which 28 witnesses appeared.

They deliberated 6½ hours before being sequestered overnight, then returned this morning and quickly reached a verdict.

As the verdict was read, DeSapio's wife and daughter—in the front row of spectators—gaped and brought their hands to their mouths to muffle cries.

Jesus Born In Midst Of Terror

Herod, the Great, a despotic king and tool of the ancient Roman Empire, ruled Judea at the time of the birth of Jesus, and helped shape the environment in which the Christian faith emerged.

Starting Monday, The Herald will carry a six-part series of Christmas articles about Herod and the world in which the "good news" of Christ took root and developed.

The series is called, "The House of Herod and Jesus." Prepared by The Associated Press, it seeks to provide background information often lacking in the perennial retellings of the nativity story, and to put the event into its wider context of conditions at that time.

It was a harsh, brutal era, dominated by the far-spread might of the Roman Empire, headed by Augustus Caesar, whose conquests extended his dominion throughout the ancient civilized world around the Mediterranean.

"Ordinarily, the Christmas story is presented in a rather glamorized setting, but the world at the time wasn't so sweet or beautiful," says AP religion writer George W. Cornell, author of the series.

"In fact, Jesus was born in the midst of terror." "The classic materials about the singing angels, the wandering shepherds, the peaceful animals and the wise men and their gifts of incense and gold are a delightful part of the story, but they're only a fragment of the total picture," says Cornell.

"Religiously, the world was on an erratic binge. Economically, politically and socially, it was one vast arena of suppression and exploitation by the powerful elite, who used arms, savage punishments and terror to keep the vast majority in servitude.

"Herod himself was a complete brute, shrewd and canny, but basically an unmitigated barbarian, whose horrors finally turned him into a raving lunatic.

College Coed Death Weapon Search Waged

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Still without a suspect or murder weapon, officers Saturday returned to the scene where the body of a college coed who "trusted everyone" was found brutally stabbed.

"I wish we could report something," said Hays County Sheriff Bobby Kinser. "But we've kind of come to a slowdown."

He said officers sought clues—including the murder weapon—where Martha Sue Thompson's body was found Thursday face down in the Blanco River under a concrete bridge on the outskirts of town.

Investigators, the sheriff said, still were seeking witnesses who saw the pretty Southwest Texas State University coed after she left a high school a week ago.

Officers have located only a high school youth who saw her walking toward a parking lot after leaving the school where she had gone to observe a pupil.

Miss Thompson, 21, of Port Lavaca, Tex., apparently left the school early when she learned the pupil she was to observe was absent.

Friends said she may have hitchhiked a ride and that her trusting nature may have led to her death.

She was stabbed 26 times. Her skull was fractured. She suffered a blow to the forehead. The area about her nose bore abrasions.

GENERAL ALARM FIRE—A Mobil Oil Company storage tank with approximately 15,000 gallons of gasoline erupted early Saturday and continues to burn. A truck from Houston's Intercontinental Airport (left) is trying to reach the tank with foam, but is unsuccessful. Water pressure problems are hampering the firemen from time to time in trying to cool nearby tanks.

Unsolicited Credit Cards Next Target Of Lawmakers

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate panel is ready to brand unsolicited credit cards as a plastic menace amid growing signs Congress is prepared to vote strict controls or ban them from the mails entirely.

Witnesses before the Senate's financial institutions subcommittee have accused unsolicited bank credit cards of causing bankruptcies, fueling inflation, invading privacy and adding a new and lucrative arm to organized crime.

But the two federal agencies most concerned with the problem—the Federal Trade Commission and the Federal Reserve Board—are divided on the issue and the Nixon administration has backed away from an earlier call for an outright ban on mass credit-card mailings.

STUMBLING BLOCK

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who has just concluded his second hearing in two years on problems caused by the cards, predicted in an interview Saturday the Senate will pass controls of some kind next year.

A stumbling block, however, Proxmire said, is the fear a total ban would provide an undeserved windfall for firms already in the credit-card field by insulating them from effective future competition.

But unless we bring unsolicited credit cards under control," Proxmire said, "we are likely to produce a nation of credit drunks."

"It is ironic that in these inflationary times commercial banks continue to send out still more credit cards urging the consumer to buy more at a time of 18-per-cent-a-year interest.

"For those who are prudent the credit card could be a convenient device. But for the less prudent, an unsolicited credit card could spell disaster."

Up, Up And Away With Six Sets Of Rings Stolen Here

A middle-aged man who signed his flight ticket "C. Dawson," narrowly escaped capture as a suspect in the $1,000 shoplifting of wedding and engagement rings from Blum's Jewelers Friday when a tail wind took the Texas International plane he was riding into Dallas 10 minutes earlier than expected.

The theft of six sets of rings occurred about 1 p.m., Friday, and the man seemed to be one step ahead of officials all the way through the affair.

City Patrolman John Minnick was patrolling the downtown area on his motorcycle when he heard Mrs. Lynnette Brooks, daughter of Joe Blum, owner of the store, shout for assistance. Minnick answered her call but the man, who apparently headed East on 3rd Street, was already out of sight. Minnick found out the suspect had gone to the Continental Trailways Bus Station, picked up some baggage he had checked there, and taken a cab to the Howard County Airport. When Minnick called the airport, the man who signed his ticket C. Dawson and answered Mrs. Brooks' description, had already boarded the plane and it was warming up for takeoff. Minnick returned to the jewelry store on Main St. and discovered that three rings had been found on the street and returned to Blum, as well as the display case which held all the rings. Six sets of rings are still missing, however.

In the meantime, a warrant was issued for the arrest of C. Dawson, who was charged with a felony theft over $50 in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's court. The city's detective division placed a call to Dallas officials advising them of the warrant, but officers there arrived at the airport just minutes after the plane had landed early and discharged its passengers.

Blum said Saturday that there was an eye-witness to the shoplifting but that the woman thought the shoplifter was a diamond salesman and paid no attention to him when he picked up the display tray and placed it under an overcoat he carried across his arm. Blum said his firm is covered by insurance for the loss.

Officer Minnick said Saturday he learned that a man of the same description had come into Big Spring on a bus Thursday and had surveyed the Zale Jewelry Store, also.

FUND GIFT IS A MEMORIAL

Col. Charles H. Pierce and his family have been gone from a Webb AFB assignment for some nine years — but they never have forgotten the Christmas Cheer Fund. Each year they make a gift in memory of their son, Bob, who attended high school here and who later met death in an auto accident in California.

Other friends had responded Saturday to the holiday appeal, but the fund total still is only about one-half of what is actually needed. Time moves on, and if you want to help see to it that poor children are remembered at Christmas (and taken care of during the year in emergencies), please send your gift — no matter the size — promptly.

Make check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND and send to The Herald for acknowledgment.

Thanks to these good friends:
Col and Mrs. Ches. H. Pierce
Member of son Bob $25.00
Mrs. E. D. Merrill 5.00
Mrs. Tom Currie 5.00
Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Duggan 5.00

Secret Text Of Latest Plans Shows

LONDON (AP) — The Nixon administration's latest proposals for a Middle East peace require Israel to leave Egyptian territory within three months of a settlement, according to a secret text disclosed Saturday night by diplomats.

This plan for internationally supervised withdrawal comes close to a Soviet proposal made in June, except that the Russians stipulated a two-month deadline.

AMERICAN PLAN

The text of the 14-point American plan, as revealed by neo-American senior diplomats concerned in Middle East exchanges, shows the United States has moved substantially toward accepting other key demands made by the Soviet Union for the Arab states. These demands range from frontier lines to methods of negotiation.

Israel has vigorously protested what Prime Minister Golda Meir sees as an erosion of U.S. pledges in favor of conciliating Russia.

The U.S. document was handed to Russia on Oct. 28. Officially, it has yet to be answered. But there have been several exchanges since then and last Tuesday Secretary of State William P. Rogers disclosed some future modifications.

FAR APART

The American and Soviet positions, however, still seem far apart. The U.S. plan, for instance, makes no mention of a Soviet proposal that a Big Four commission should control all Middle East peace arrangements for a minimum of five years.

The Nixon government's latest plan takes the United States closer to Russia on the following elements of an accord between Israel and Egypt:

—On frontiers the document says: "Israel would agree that the former international boundary between Egypt and the mandated territory of Palestine is not excluded as the secure and recognized boundary . . ."

—On Gaza, the Americans propose Israel, Egypt and Jordan under the auspices of U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring should consider: "(A) The question of the withdrawal of Israeli forces, (B) The demilitarization of Gaza and other practical security arrangements, (C) The possibility of an interim U.N. administration and (C) the ultimate status of Gaza."

More Than Half Of Crop Is In

In his weekly report, County Agent Paul Gross said bad weather again has slowed the cotton harvest.

"Dampness, high winds and cold weather have kept strippers from operating at maximum capacity. However, county farmers have managed to gather some 60 per cent of the cotton to date," he said.

He said the sorghum harvest has been completed and the yields were low due to the adverse growing season. Moisture conditions are excellent for preparing land for next year's crop, Gross said, and the small grain pastures are providing good grazing.

Reports from eight area gin show that the Farmers Co-op No. 1 of Ackerly has ginned 4,865 bales so far and 225 last week.

The Farmers Co-op No. 1 of Knott has 2,942 bales for the harvest and 320 for the week.

The Paymaster of Ackerly has 2,275 for the season and 250 for the week.

The Planters of Big Spring has ginned 2,237 bales through the harvest and 375 bales last week.

The Farmers Co-op of Big Spring has 1,450 for the harvest and a weekly total of 115.

The Planters Gin of Knott shows 1,369 bales so far and 80 bales for the week.

The Guitars Gin of Big Spring has a season total 1,219 bales with 162 last week.

The Acuff Gin of Coahoma reported 658 bales total and 115 last week.

Growers Give Approval For Crop Limitations

Marketing quotas for the 1970 upland cotton crop have been approved by Howard County cotton growers by a slightly greater margin than the nation's growers as a whole in the Dec. 1-5 mail-in referendum.

Gabe Hammack, county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service director, reports that 98 per cent, or 523, of the 535 county farmers voting, approved continuing the crop limitations. Preliminary national returns show the quotas passing by 96.1 per cent of 266,808 votes counted. More than the necessary two-thirds of the nation's cotton growers have approved the program, he said, and the program will continue through 1970. Loans and support payments will remain in effect and growers who exceed their allotments will be subject to the same scale of penalties as this year. This will include growers of both the upland and the extra long staple varieties.

The penalty for growing excess upland cotton is 50 per cent of the parity price next June 15. For growers of excess long staple cotton the fine is 50 per cent of the support price for that variety or one-half the parity price, whichever is higher.

Texas approved the allotments with 96.1 per cent in favor, the same as the national average. Kentucky, Arkansas and Tennessee exceeded the national percentage and Virginia had the lowest percentage of 92 of the 20 states voting.

Easter Seal Society Marks 50th Anniversary

The Easter Seal Society's voluntary effort to provide care for the crippled, is celebrating its golden anniversary this year. Several nationwide events commemorate the society, including dedication of a historical marker and issuing a commemorative stamp.

According to Bo Bowen, president of the Howard County chapter, the society began April 1919 in Elyria, Ohio, with the formation of the Ohio Society for Crippled Children. Key figure in the formation of the society was an Elyria businessman, Edgar F. Allen, whose son had died in an accident when emergency medical facilities were not available.

Now the society has 2,000 state and local affiliates throughout 50 states. They operate nearly 2,500 facilities and programs, including rehabilitation and treatment centers, workshops, home employment, physical, occupational and speech therapy programs.

In Howard County, the Easter Seal Society had provided care for 1,124 crippled children and adults. Information about rehabilitation services can be had at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, where, physical, and speech therapy, audiology and vocational rehabilitation counseling are offered, as well as orthopedic clinics, learning disability evaluation and training and equipment loans of wheelchairs, crutches, walkers, etc.

CAN YOUR FEET TAKE 65,000 MILES?

The average American will walk that many miles in a lifetime. In addition to this his feet are subject to rubbing, scuffing, scraping and kicks, as well as being exposed to the elements — rain, heat and cold. Add to this the daily friction building up heat inside the shoes and normal flexing that takes place.

It is easy to see that, to stand the strain over the years, you must take extra special care of your feet. We have a complete Foot-Care Department in our pharmacy to help you with everyday foot needs. For special problems with your feet we always recommend you consult with your doctor or podiatrist.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

REV. F. W. HODNETT

Pastor To Get Degree

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Rev. Frank W. Hodnett is one of 119 candidates who will receive degrees and diplomas during commencement exercises at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth Friday.

Rev. Hodnett, new pastor of First Baptist in Westbrook, will receive his master of religious education degree. He is a graduate of Wayland College having received his BS degree there in May, 1966. He is a native of Carlsbad, N.M., and was ordained to preach at Hill Crest Baptist Church there Nov. 17, 1964. He has pastored at North Hill Baptist and Lahueta Baptist Churches in Carlsbad and Hill Crest Baptist Chapel in Lubbock for 2 1/2 years. He moved to Westbrook with his wife, Judy, and two children, Frank, 5 and Kristie, 3, on Nov. 29 to assume pastorate of the church here.

L. L. Morris, pastor of First Baptist Church in Midland, will deliver the commencement address and seminary President Robert Naylor will present the degrees and diplomas.

Mrs. Frank Hodnett Sr., Knott, is Rev. Hodnett's grandmother.

Webb Pilot To Represent ATC

Capt. William E. Dunivant, a training officer and Northrop T-38 Talon instructor pilot in the 3561st Student Squadron at Webb AFB has been selected to represent the Air Training Command at the 22nd Arnold Air Society meeting conclave, April 12-16, 1970 in Anaheim, Calif.

CAPT. W. E. DUNIVANT

The 27-year-old captain is believed to be the first Webb officer ever chosen to speak before the Air Force reserve officer cadets. He, along with representatives from all other Air Force commands, will attempt to give the cadets a better understanding of the roles of the Air Force junior officer.

Capt. Dunivant, who will speak on the flying training program, was selected to represent ATC on the basis of his career-mindedness, understanding and instructor pilot background. He was picked by a central board at command headquarters after a review of all applicants submitted by every base in ATC.

The captain will speak with special knowledge of the Arnold Air Society since he was formerly a member of the chapter at Memphis State University, Memphis, Tenn., from where he was graduated with a bachelor of science degree in history in 1964. He was also a distinguished military graduate of the Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps program there.

In his second year at the university, he was presented the Reserve Officer Association Award as the outstanding cadet in the AFROTC sophomore class. In his senior year, he was the cadet wing commander of his ROTC wing and was an officer in the General Everett R. Cook squadron of the Arnold Air Society.

Capt. Dunivant has been stationed at the base since September 1967, and became a training officer in September, 1968. He arrived here from a year's tour in Southeast Asia where he flew the North American F-100 Super Sabre.

For his actions there he was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters. Prior to his SEA tour, Capt. Dunivant spent one year at Webb as an undergraduate student pilot. He received his pilot wings in 1965.

Festive Mood Provides Scene For Accidents

Accidents are always seeking a place to happen, so practice safety during the Christmas and New Year season, advises the Texas State Department of Health.

Today, accidents loom as the nation's number one threat to babies and children. Each year about 16,000 boys and girls under 15 are killed and about 17,000,000 are seriously injured in accidents.

Surprisingly, about four million people receive disabling injuries and some 30,000 are killed in accidents in the home alone.

The Christmas season is a prime time for one of the four million yearly home accidents to happen. A festive mood often dispels caution.

One of the booby traps facing you may be the toys you purchase for your child. The Food and Drug Administration recently asked a distributor to call in a baby pacifier labeled as "one-piece nipple and shield for extra safety." It actually came apart into three pieces — one small enough to choke a baby. In another case a baby rattle when broken produced a dagger-like spike.

Other toys shoot potentially deadly missiles, provide electrical shock hazards, burning hazards and other maiming hazards.

Handy Handbook

WINNIPEG (AP) — Included in a survival kit brochure handed to first-year students at the University of Manitoba was a 46-page birth control handbook. The handbook, written in consultation with medical authorities and family-planning associations, provides the student with diagrams and statistics relating to birth control but doesn't advocate birth control or pre-marital sexual relations.

Large Enemy Force Zaps Armored Unit

SAIGON (AP) — A large enemy force attacked a South Vietnamese armored unit Saturday on the distant northeast approaches to Saigon.

The area has been the scene of repeated clashes for three days.

The enemy lobbed 15 rounds of mortar shells into a U.S. outpost, Fire Base Mary, nine miles southeast of Song Be, which is 80 miles northeast of Saigon. U.S. officials said the shelling caused no casualties or damage.

A South Vietnamese armored unit went looking for the enemy mortar positions. Field reports said the South Vietnamese ran into a large-sized enemy force, which attacked with rocket grenades and automatic weapons.

RETURN FIRE
The government forces returned the fire with heavy-machine guns, U.S. artillery opened up, and helicopter gunships joined the battle.

The fighting was over in 15 minutes, field accounts reported. Six government soldiers were killed and 20 wounded. The reports said 13 North Vietnamese were killed before they began withdrawing through the jungles. The armed helicopters tried to block the retreat and killed eight more, these accounts added.

More than 100 North Vietnamese had been killed in the two previous days of fighting around Song Be, a provincial capital close to enemy bases in Cambodia.

INFILTRATING
The U.S. and South Vietnamese, looking for North Vietnamese infiltrating from Cambodia, had provoked the earlier fighting Thursday and Friday. Saturday it was the North Vietnamese.

About 25 miles to the north, North Vietnamese gunners fired recoilless rifle rounds and mortar shells into the U.S. Special Forces camp at Bu Dop, another area along the enemy infiltration trails that has been the scene of recent fighting. Casualties were reported light among the defenders.

Most of the fighting so far in the enemy's winter-spring campaign have been in border areas where the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong are close to their base areas in Cambodia. Bu Dop is four miles from the Cambodian border.

Three other clashes involving U.S. patrols were reported Friday near the district town of Hiep Hoa, 28 miles northwest of Saigon and six miles from the Cambodian border.

Two patrols of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division setting up night ambush positions on an infiltration route in marshes and rice paddies were themselves ambushed by North Vietnamese troops.

CASUALTIES
The enemy attacked with rifles and machine guns and five Americans were killed and five wounded. Enemy losses were unknown.

Then at mid-afternoon, a patrol being lifted into the area by helicopter came under fire when it landed. One American was killed and four wounded. Five North Vietnamese were reported killed.

A division spokesman said the casualties were the 25th's heaviest in a 24-hour period in more than a month.

Farther south in the Mekong Delta, U.S. 9th Infantry Division troops supported by artillery and helicopter gunships reported killing 20 Viet Cong in a fight 25 miles southwest of Saigon. A spokesman said one American was killed and two wounded.

Viet Cong sappers Friday night cut Highway 4, known as the delta's lifeline, for the second night in a row, blowing up a bridge 15 miles south of the important center of Can Tho. The previous night they blew up a bridge at Tan Phu Thanh.

Powell To Parley In Washington

Jack D. Powell, director of the VA Hospital, will join 225 VA officials for a three-day work session in Washington, D.C., Monday-Wednesday. The administrators will meet for the first time with Donald E. Johnson, administrator of veterans affairs, appointed by President Nixon last June. The officials will exchange information on budget, personnel and legislative matters. Powell left Saturday and will be back Friday.

DOOMSDAY FEARS FADE

VIRGINIA CITY, N. e. v. (AP) — California has survived another widely circulated predicted doomsday by earthquake and tidal wave — a good thing since only 200 fled to inland safety here.

In his best seller, "The Last Days of the Late, Great State of California," author Curt Gentry had written that walls of water from the sea and dams broken by a tremor at 3:13 p.m. PST Dec. 12 would inundate the Golden State. His book helped inspire premature fears of a quake in April.

Gentry presided over a "last meal" Friday of hamburgers, French fries and plenty of beer in a saloon in this historic mining town, 6,200 feet above sea level.

Local Pride

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — South African wines

should have South African names, parliamentary and wine connoisseur Sen. Paul Sauer believes. Sauer accused local wine farmers of lacking pride in their product when they labelled it "claret type," "burgundy type" or "champagne type." An Alsatian wine farmer "would rather die" than call an Alsace wine a "Moselle type," though he lived within six miles of the Moselle River. "How then can we, who are 6,000 miles further away, make an 'Alsace type' or a 'Burgundy type' wine?" Sauer asked.

S. SGT. RAY BEDFORD
Sgt. Bedford Wins Award

S. Sgt. Raymond E. Bedford, career Army, was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for heroic action in Vietnam Sept. 5, 1969. On that date S. Sgt. Bedford was serving as chief of a firing battery at a fire support base near Chon Thanh when it was heavily attacked by enemy fire. S. Sgt. Bedford "immediately left his relatively secure position and maneuvered throughout the hostile grounds to his howitzer parapets. With complete disregard for his personal safety, he remained in his exposed position and directed devastating artillery barrages upon the aggressors," reads S. Sgt. Bedford's commendation.

Bedford is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bedford, 809 Lorilla. He attended Big Spring High School and entered the Army December, 1952, taking his basic training at Ft. Sill, Okla. During his service he has been stationed in a number of states including Utah and Alaska and overseas in Germany. Presently he is still in Vietnam. His home base is Ft. Bragg, N.C., where his wife, Helen, and sons, Donald, Billy, Jimmy and Glenn are living. His daughter, Sherry, lives in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Compassionate Commutation
LANSING, Mich. (AP) — The man who has been in prison in Michigan longer than any other inmate has been given a compassionate commutation of sentence by Gov. William Milliken. Castra Nova, 76, was sentenced to a life term for first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of a Detroit police officer on Feb. 16, 1914. The commutation was made upon unanimous recommendation of the State Pardon Board. The board said Nova had an excellent record. Nova has been ailing and will be released as soon as the Macomb County Department of Social Welfare can find a nursing home in the county able to care for him. He has a sister and other relatives living in the area.

Odessa Site Accepted By Regents For UTPB

University of Texas regents Friday accepted a deed from Ector County conveying the McKnight site as the location of the projected University of the Permian Basin. This had the effect of ending a struggle between Odessa and Midland over location of the college.

The McKnight site, once selected by the regents but which ran afoul of requirements to clear it of all appurtenances including gas lines and an oil-field recharging facility, is at the northeast edge of Odessa.

About 40 Odessans and Midlanders were on hand for the regents meeting Friday in Austin. It was seven hours after the board convened that the regents called for a report from the site committee. There were no dissenting votes when the committee report, which recommended the McKnight location, was received.

Ector County Judge Mike Berry presented a deed to the McKnight property. In accepting it, the board's resolution contained several conditions which must be satisfied before the regents will begin actual construction of the school.

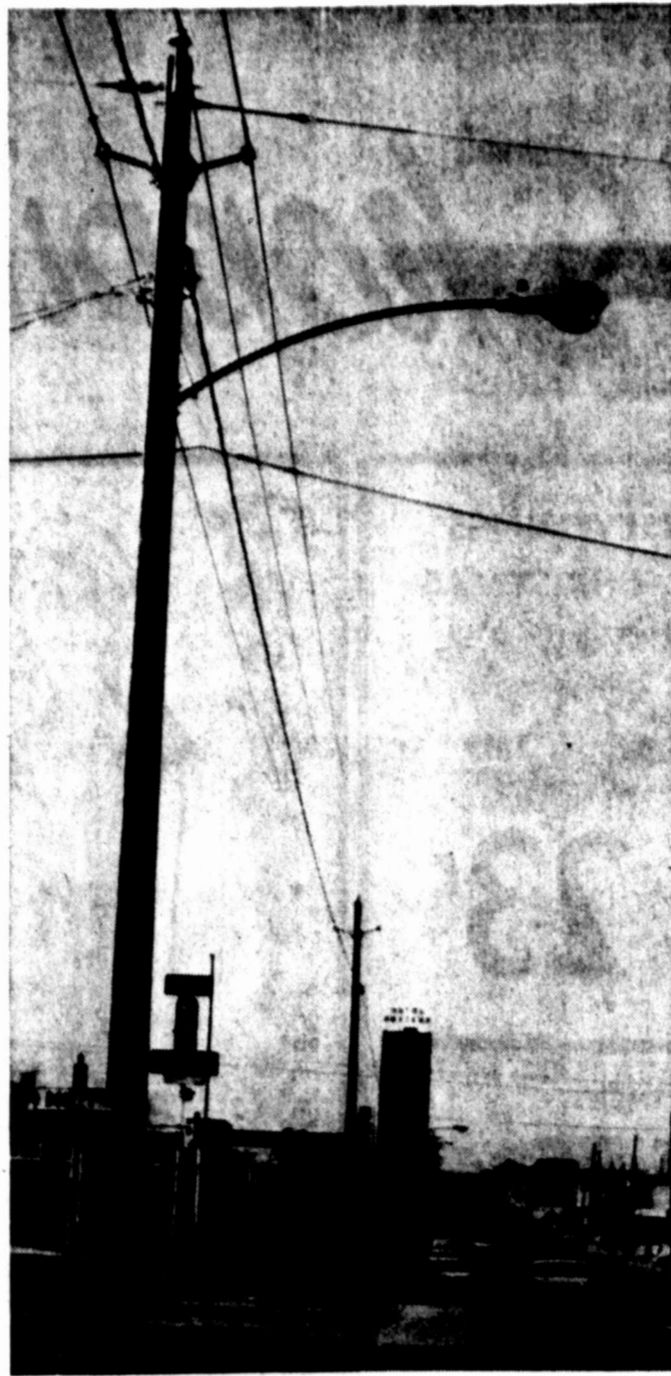

"I want to make it clear," said Chairman Frank Erwin, "that if any one of these conditions is not met, we will not do anything to establish the university."

Among the conditions cited were: No oil or gas production from the site except by off-premises directional wells; removal of all oil and gas pipelines; that Ector County construct a Parkway Boulevard to connect 27th and 42nd Streets on the west side of the site and connect with Loop 338 on the south; that the city annex the McKnight site so that its ordinance which imposes strict controls on the exploration and production of oil and gas will be applicable.

The county had presented a deed to 300 acres to go with 308 acres previously given Ector County commissioners Friday morning had adopted a resolution which would absolve the UT regents from any financial responsibility in condemning oil and gas interests under the McKnight site.

Rep. Ace Pickens, Odessa, said that "there is no longer any question as to the University of the Permian Basin or where it will be located." He predicted that there would be no problems concerning the site when it came time for the legislature to consider appropriations.

Tom Sealy, Midland, former chairman of the UT regents, made an impassioned plea for consideration of the Scharbauer site near Terminal. In the alternative, he asked that another site on the Midland-Ector line be adopted.

NEW CONCRETE POWER POLES Replace old wooden ones on East Third

Power Poles Take On A 'New Look'

The day before Christmas is due to bring residents and businesses along the south side of East Third Street the completion of a project to shape up power poles.

Crews are now busy installing new concrete poles to replace old wooden ones in the stretch from Goliad Street eastward to near the Holiday Inn.

The sleek 40-foot supports are of the armless variety and are being installed on something of an experimental basis in an effort to clean up the appearance of utility lines. After the job is complete, the Texas Electric Service Company will have a look at the situation and see if similar replacements would be indicated elsewhere in the system.

There are 33 of these poles placed at 200-foot intervals.

Poles on the north side of the street are not involved because these are poles that support service lines to individual customers, whereas those on the south side are primary carriers.

Don Womack, district manager for TESCO, said the work is part of a general re-evaluation and improvement of the system. This involves some esthetics as well as utility. In other areas, new wooden poles are being replaced by similar ones but with armless type construction.

Two advantages of the concrete poles, said Womack, other than doing away with the arm, are that they are not climbed, hence will not be skinned and pitted as are wooden poles. On the contrary, they are expected to remain sleek. Another is that they will be imperishable. Workmen are hoisted in a truck basket to service the lines, although bolt steps could be put in the poles if the need ever arose.

Mishap Fatal To Midlander

A fatal accident in Garden City Friday claimed the life of a 52-year-old co-owner of a Midland service station, Elmer Marion Watkins. He was pronounced dead at the scene by Justice of the Peace W. C. Underwood at 2:45 p.m.

The accident was investigated by Texas Highway Patrolman Ben Kalinek, who said Watkins was driving south on Route 137, 19 miles from Midland, when his late-model car apparently went out of control.

The patrolman said Watkins was thrown from the vehicle when it apparently started to go off the right side of the highway, swerved back across the road, went through a wire fence, overturned, and landed on its wheels in a pasture. Watkins was found about 10 steps from the car.

Watkins' body was taken to Midland and funeral arrangements were pending at Newline W. Ellis Funeral Home.

Yule Program At Planetarium

The Christmas program at the Big Spring High School planetarium, "The Christmas Star," is set for Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

The planetarium entrance is just south of the tennis courts at the high school and may be reached by taking the west entrance off 10th Street. Since the planetarium must be dark during a program, no latecomers will be admitted.

FORSAN JR. HIGH Council Fixes Yuletide Party

The Student Council is making progress on decorating for the Christmas party next week. The Student Council collected $32.83 for Kenneth Chandler.

Next week is nine weeks test week. Students are urged to study, because this coming nine weeks concludes their first semester grade.

Forsan turned out Tuesday at 2:00 p.m. for a teachers meeting.

The junior high boys and girls basketball teams played in the Greenwood Tournament last weekend. The girls had a play-off with Coahoma for third place and the Forsan girls won. The boys picked up first place when they lost the championship game.

Higher Rate On Savings Bonds

Robert W. Currie, Howard County chairman for sale of U.S. Savings Bonds, has called attention to the new five per cent interest rate paid on these securities.

The five per cent rate applies to all outstanding Series E and H bonds sold after June 1, 1969, if held to maturity. All outstanding E and H bonds also benefit from the new rate, beginning with the first semi-annual interest period starting on or after June 1.

According to Currie, the maturity period for Series E bonds has been reduced from seven years to five years, 10 months. H bonds continue to mature in 10 years.

Currie pointed out that the higher return should boost savings bonds sales. "And it will be an added incentive for our young folks — many of whom have not learned to save the Savings Bond way."

Released Men Ready To Talk Against War

TOKYO (AP)—Two American helicopter crewmen released by the Viet Cong after 38 days of captivity said today they will support antiwar movements in the United States.

"I will make statements and speeches if peace groups at home ask me to," said Sgt. Vernon C. Shepard, 21, of Akron, Ohio. "My view on the war changed quite a lot during my captivity."

W.O. Michael T. Peterson said his opposition to the war, which he felt even before going to Vietnam, "has been solidified since I have seen both sides."

But he said he has no intention of joining active protest movements. The 21-year-old warrant officer from Redmond, Wash., said "my opposition will be made through my voting."

PULL OUT
Both said the United States should pull out of Vietnam completely by mid-1970.

They made the remarks in an interview after arriving at Tachikawa Air Force Base, west of Tokyo, from Saigon. They are on the way home for family reunions and further medical checkups.

The two crewmen said they are feeling much better, despite multiple fragmentation wounds suffered when their helicopters were shot down by the Viet Cong Nov. 2 in Quang Duc Province.

Peterson also lost two toes on his left foot. He said the Viet Cong provided him with adequate medical treatment. "The toughest part of my captivity was that I had to get through each day despite my injury," he said.

NO COMPLAINT
Shepard, who said he lost at least 30 pounds, said his stomach was returning to normal. "With the Viet Cong, we had to eat rice, vegetables and occasional broth and my stomach seemed to shrink from them."

"We lost much weight because of ants and mosquitoes and, during the nights, it was so cold we had to sleep hugging each other," Shepard said. But he said they could not complain because "they (the Viet Cong) were under the same conditions."

Asked whether they moved around a lot and whether they met other U.S. prisoners, both Peterson and Shepard declined comment.

Propped up on a hospital bed, Peterson said the Viet Cong had not attempted to indoctrinate him and Shepard. "They merely told us how the National Liberation Front started, what their principles were and why they were fighting. "There were no attempts by them to brainwash us," Peterson said.

Purple Heart Award Made

S. Sgt. William L. Patterson was presented the Purple Heart in brief ceremonies here Friday for wounds received in combat in Vietnam.

Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff at the Veterans Administration Hospital where Sgt. Patterson is a patient, made the presentation at rites conducted in the hospital lobby.

The award was for wounds in action Sept. 15, 1969, while Sgt. Patterson was serving with the 219th Artillery of the First Cavalry at Landing Zone Crane, about 20 miles from Tahin, Vietnam.

At the time he was wounded, the sergeant had completed six months of his third tour of duty in Vietnam.

He was evacuated to Brooke Army Medical Center at Fort Sam Houston, Tex., then was transferred to the Big Spring VA Hospital Nov. 27 for further treatment pending separation from the military service.

Among those here for the occasion was his mother, Mrs. Ruth Bryant, Brownfield.

U.S. Court Stops Suspension Order

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court Friday temporarily blocked the suspension of 10 Southwest Texas State University students for refusing to disperse at a campus anti-Vietnam war rally.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals said suspension of the students was enjoined "pending the disposition of this appeal and subject to further orders of this court."

In appealing, David Bayless and the other students contended the university order to disperse was a violation of their First Amendment right to free speech.

A U.S. district court judge denied the students' plea for an injunction against the suspension. This district court order was stayed and superseded by the 5th Circuit ruling.

Judges John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans and Bryan Simpson of Jacksonville, Fla., formed the majority in the 2-1 ruling. Judge James P. Coleman of Ackerman, Miss., dissented.

Coleman said no substantial First Amendment question was involved because the school was only trying to control its own campus to the extent of designating the time and the area

Colleagues Think Gag Not So Funny

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Fletcher Thompson's mysterious letters proclaiming Dec. 9 would be a "big day" aroused the curiosity of his House colleagues.

Thompson, a Georgia Republican, built up Dec. 9 with a series of letters to colleagues. Finally, Thompson ended the suspense.

"Today is Dec. 9," he said in a letter to colleagues last Tuesday, "and the school children of America need your help. How? By co-sponsoring the enclosed bill."

The bill would eliminate race as a factor in assignment of children to schools. A felt-tipped pen was enclosed with it.

Anti-Crime Appropriations Voted Over Some Protests

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Criminal Justice Council has approved allocations of $50,025 in federal funds to fight crime after several protests they were spending too much on "hardware."

The council was appointed by Gov. Preston Smith to disperse funds from the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act. Several council members in a meeting Friday complained about the federal money going for "nuts and bolts" items such as fingerprint cameras and firing ranges.

O'Brien Thompson, council member from Amarillo, said, "If we had unlimited funds, I'd see the reason for granting these items. But I see no reason for a law enforcement entity in any city to call for help to buy a camera."

Dr. George Beto, council member and director of the Department of Corrections at Huntsville, denounced the funding of "firing ranges, cameras and fingerprint sets, and not approving the most innovative program to come along."

He spoke of a request by El Paso county for improvements in operation of the county jail. "I won't buy a pig in a poke on these old guidelines," said Beto, and he urged the delay of further funding until new guidelines are set.

Dr. Arleigh Templeton suggested that "The council is going to have to take this plan home and read it, and come back and make better recommendations and plans for the administration of criminal justice in this state."

The council then voted to delay action on some programs and the setting of future guidelines. Programs recommended for approval to the governor include:

Texas Police Association — $6,490 to conduct two police management workshops.

Texoma Regional Planning Commission — $6,000 for a telephone communications network.

Washington county — $165 for fingerprint camera and kit for sheriff's department.

Caldwell — $34 for photographic equipment for the police department.

Grayson County — $2,244 for training equipment for a firing range.

Smith County - Taylor Area Council of Governments — $5,520 to provide for a regional training facility.

Lower Rio Grande Valley Development Council — $10,800 for a law enforcement officers' training program.

Lubbock County — $2,520 for a survey of probation and related services in the Lubbock county juvenile probation system.

Madison County — $441 for photographic and investigative equipment for the sheriff's department.

Fernan Basin Law Enforcement Committee — $15,624 for a comprehensive regional police training program.

Robertson County — $76 for photographic equipment for the sheriff's department.

Consideration was tabled on applications from Central Texas Council of Governments, Coastal Bend Regional Planning Commission, El Paso County, Howe, Institute of Contemporary Corrections and the Behavioral Sciences of Sam Houston State University, Madison County, San Antonio, San Antonio Police Department and the Texas Youth Council.

THE WEEK

ing Friday. This may be a long road, but perhaps it has had its beginning.

One of the most significant developments in a long time was symbolized Friday morning when County Judge Lee Porter received a deed from the U.S. government for the old post office property. If it is used 30 years as a library, it belongs to the county in perpetuity. The way that building was put together, it is good indefinitely. This could open up a new era for the library just as have new and more spacious homes in the past.

Paul Meek, president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, has been named president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce. To go with this fine executive is a new organization structure that calls for three major categories of service. They are Winston Wrinkle, John Burgess and Mrs. Harold Davis, the first woman to hold this high post in the C-C.

Several financial institutions were declaring dividends at the year's end. Security State led off with a 10 per cent cash dividend, and a like percentage on their 1969 earnings to employees. State National voted a 15 per cent dividend, plus one month's salary bonus. Big Spring Savings & Loan Association voted a 15 per cent dividend.

Howard Countians are due to get a look at a variety of voting machines soon. A company making a punch card type machine, which is relatively inexpensive will put several units on display. Voting in boxes with 100 or more votes is bound to be counted mechanically or electronically in the interest of speed, accuracy and convenience not far in the future.

The city is due to have a traffic expert study the lights at Gollad and FM 700 and may call in a technician from the factory which supplied the light system in an effort to expedite the safe movement of traffic. Out of this may come a discovery: That's a super-wide intersection.

Several more long-time residents or former residents died. One was Guy Simmons, who was a member of a family which had an aggregate of 250 years service to the T&P Railroad; another was Mrs. Ruby Rainbolt, who with her husband, developed an outstanding food enterprise at a critical time; and the Rev. Dow Heard, a former pastor who became head of the VA protestant chaplaincy.

The Parks Board has expressed an interest in HUD for federal aid in developing parks in low income areas — it was more of an inquiry than a commitment. Also it favored renaming the City Park "Comanche Trails Park." There's only one thing sure about this change — it will require longer signs.

Big Spring High School band had 19 members in the all-regional band which performed Saturday at Midland. It also had nine members who were making bids for chairs in the bi-regional band, which speaks well for the quality of the young performers.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District is headed for a record 12.6 billion gallon year. That's a sizable amount of water — the equivalent of 15 Moss Creek Lakes brimming full.

Bill McRee's Scout troop hike a week ago started out well — but somebody wasn't listening. Both patrols thought the rendezvous point was somewhere besides where it was. They weren't exactly lost on account of they knew where they were. Anyhow, despite high wind and a sudden rain squall everyone was rounded up.

"Thank you for bringing home a little closer to me," said Sp. Robert R. Hall in a card of appreciation from Vietnam. There were others from there with similar sentiments. Ross Turner writes from Denton, and J. D. Leonard from Big Spring. Tommy Henry and Jimmy Anderson are sons of the retiring veterans of Conoco.

Two Are Taking Their Retirement

FORSAN (SC) — John B. Anderson and T. T. Henry are taking their retirement from Continental Oil Company. They were honored Wednesday noon with a luncheon at the Forsan Club house.

Among the retirees and present employees of Conoco here for the occasion were Frank Elliott, division superintendent, G. L. McAllister, district superintendent, both of Midland; Tommy Alderson and Miller Ray Henry of Ozona; C. S. Wilson, R. D. Anderson, Buck Buchanan, from the Ackerly field; Bud Pickett, G. F. Painter, Erda Lewis, Bill Todd and J. D. Leonard from Big Spring. Tommy Henry and Jimmy Anderson are sons of the retiring veterans of Conoco.

All Draftable Young Men Shine Your Crystal Ball

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

Spokesmen for all but four state Selective Service organizations say draftable young men with high—or "relatively safe"—lottery numbers cannot count on escaping induction next year.

A White House fact sheet issued at the time the lottery was established last month offered as a rule of thumb that men whose birthdays were among the last 122 drawn would be relatively safe from the draft.

TOO EARLY

"Anybody who can give you predictions like that better shine up his crystal ball," said William H. McCachren, North Carolina's Selective Service director.

He was among those questioned in an Associated Press survey of draft officials in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and New York City, whose draft district is separate from the rest of New York State.

The survey showed: —State spokesmen in Alaska, Colorado, Kansas and Utah agreed, with reservations, that the high lottery numbers in the Dec. 1 drawing were unlikely to be called.

—Spokesmen for 17 states and the District of Columbia said they did not agree.

NUMBER GAME

—Twenty-nine states and New York City said it was too early to tell if the projection was valid.

Although low numbers still are more likely to be called than high numbers, officials said variables such as size of draft calls, numbers and distribution of volunteers, numbers of deferments and chance geographical distribution of birthdays might cause them to call high lottery numbers.

Here is more information from the survey on these subjects:

DRAFT CALLS

The Pentagon estimated that it will need 550,000 new servicemen next year, and that 290,000 will volunteer, leaving 260,000 to be drafted. State officials said they have no way of knowing if that estimate will hold up. They said big draft calls might force them to take men with high numbers. In fact, spokesmen in Massachusetts, New Jersey and Oklahoma said with calls at their present levels there was at least a good probability that they would call all 366 birthdays.

VOLUNTEERS

The White House estimate that high numbers probably would not be called was based on an assumption that the 290,000 projected volunteers would come about equally from holders of high and low draft lottery numbers. State officials cite some evidence that this assumption may not be correct.

Colorado and Illinois officials said enlistments were increasing among men with "hot," or low, numbers, those numbers that were drawn earliest. On the other hand, some men with "cool" numbers, officials say, have tried to get out of ROTC in South Dakota, failed to show up for scheduled swearing-in ceremonies in Colorado and Illinois, taken their names off National Guard lists in North Dakota and stopped going to reserve drill in Pennsylvania. The effect could be to exhaust the hot numbers and leave more men with cool numbers to be drafted.

DEFERMENTS

Officials say they cannot know in advance how many men with hot numbers will get deferments. If a disproportionate number do so, higher numbers must be called. By the same token men now deferred decide to give up their deferments, take their chances with the draft for the one-year liability period and hope to escape military service that way.

Rotary District Joining Chile In Exchange Program

Rotary International District 573 will send six men to Chile for two months under an exchange program this summer. Applications may be submitted through the local Rotary Club, and the deadline is Jan. 15, 1970.

This Rotary district has been paired with the one in Chile for an exchange program that will see Chile sending half a dozen young men to this area in 1971.

Qualification for those selected include young men between the ages of 25 and 35, of high moral character, intelligent, cooperative, presentable in appearance, able to express themselves. They must have been employed on a full-time basis for a period of at least two years prior to making an application.

The Rotary district will supply transportation to and from Chile, and the Chile district will be responsible for lodging, food, and transportation within that country.

Commends County For Tax Proposal

To The Editor: I would like to take this opportunity to commend the County Commissioners for their resolution inviting the various taxing agencies to join Howard County for the purpose of consolidating the tax assessing and collecting functions within the county.

This type of positive, progressive thinking is recognized and appreciated.

I wonder why this type of thinking cannot be applied to the problem of: (1) Adequate fire protection for county residents, and (2) obtaining the services of a registered professional engineer to direct the operations of the county road and bridge department?

Chilly Nights In West Texas

By The Associated Press

Bright sunshine and mild temperatures warmed Christmas shoppers in most sections of Texas Saturday.

Slight cloudiness in western and southern regions and fog in the Del Rio area were the only dull spots on an otherwise fair sky over the state.

Forecasters said the mild warming trend would linger through the weekend.

There was no rain reported and none expected through Monday with warm temperatures continuing after chilly evenings.

51 Grads At Webb Get Silver Wings

By The Associated Press

The "Snarling Snoopys," student pilots of undergraduate pilot training class 70-04 at Webb AFB, culminated 53 weeks of intensive pilot training Saturday morning when class members received their silver Air Force wings and certificates of aeronautical rating.

Included in the graduated class, which numbered 51, were 43 Air Force officers, six Marine officers and two Iranian aviation cadets. All will embark to assignments throughout the United States and overseas within the next few weeks.

At the class Dining-In Friday night in the Officers' Open Mess, six members of 70-04 were singled out for outstanding achievement while in training at the base.

Grabbing the lion's share of the awards presented was Second Lieutenant John Baker, who topped the most coveted prize — the Air Training Command Commander's Trophy — as well as the Flying Training Award and the Academic Award.

First Lieutenant Harold Roberts received the Leadership Award while five officers were selected as distinguished graduates. Lieutenant Baker was included on this list also, along with Capt. Robert Spear, Second Lieutenant Freidhelm Baitus, Second Lieutenant Jeffrey Linder and Second Lieutenant Thomas Jones.

Colonel James Hughes was guest speaker for the dining-in. The colonel is the armed forces aide to President Richard Nixon.

The graduation exercise was the eighth and final class graduation of the year. Class members arrived on base with 78 pilot trainees Dec. 12, 1968. They entered the Cessna T-41 Mescalero phase of training the following week; began Cessna T-37 training Feb. 12, 1969, and commenced Northrop T-38 Talon training June 26, 1969.

Assignments for the class were to most of the major commands in the Air Force with the Military Airlift Command (MAC) and Pacific Air Forces (PACAF) garnering 11 Snoopys apiece. Six graduates of 70-04 will remain in the command and eventually become instructor pilots and another half dozen will move to the Strategic Air Command (SAC).

There were five graduates who received orders to the Tactical Air Command (TAC), three will be assigned to Air National Guard units and one Air Force officer who will go to the United States Air Force in Europe.

The six Marine graduates will return to the Corps. They will be assigned to either Cherry Point, N.C., or El Toro Naval Air Station, Calif. The two Iranian aviation cadets, who trained here under the auspices of the Military Assistance Program, will return to their native land.

World War II Admiral Dies

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Retired Adm. Raymond A. Spruance, renowned World War II naval leader, died Saturday at his home at the age of 83.

Spruance, who had suffered from hardening of the arteries, is credited by naval historians as the architect of the strategy that won the Battle of Midway, turning point of the Pacific war. Spruance died in his Pebble Beach home in California.

After Midway, Spruance was assigned as chief of staff to his good friend, Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, whom he relieved as Pacific commander-in-chief after the Japanese surrender in 1945.

In June, 1942, the Japanese confronted the United States in the Central Pacific with 700 warplanes and 200 warships including 11 battleships, 8 carriers, 22 cruisers, 65 destroyers and 21 submarines.

Whisky Sighted

COLDINGHAM, Scotland (AP) — A 20-ton, 4,000-gallon canister that held whisky worth $180,000 was lost overboard from a coaster in a North Sea storm three weeks ago. Now it has been spotted, badly dented and empty, on the rocks of Berwickshire by Thomas Brown, 56, a shepherd and teetotaler.

New Catholic Chaplain Assumes Duty At Webb

The Catholic chaplain at Webb AFB, Capt. John Darcy, celebrated his last mass at the local base last Sunday and has left for Elmendorf AFB, Alaska. He had been a chaplain here for two years and is being replaced by Maj. Joseph Finch, whose last duty assignment was in Okinawa.

Chaplain Darcy, a native of Long Island, N.Y., initiated the folk mass at the base during his tenure here. He also held special Sunday masses for the graduation of Catholic student pilots when he would bless the wings and present the Lady of the Air Force medal to the pilots. Chaplain Darcy was also actively involved in the renewal mission held annually on base. During the three-day evening conferences, laymen and priest alike would share and relate how they feel the Christian life and faith is relevant in today's modern world.

A four-year Air Force veteran, Chaplain Darcy came here from Korea. Prior to that assignment he served at Amarillo AFB, Tex. He received his ordination into the priesthood from St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore.

DEATHS

Louis Boadle, Formerly Here

Louis A. Boadle, 69, San Antonio, who was born and grew up in Big Spring, died Thursday in a San Antonio Hospital. Mr. Boadle has a brother, sister and three nephews living in Big Spring.

Funeral will be at 10 a.m. Monday at St. Luke's Catholic Church with burial in Mission Burial Park (North). The rosary will be said Sunday at 8 p.m. in Porter Loring Mortuary.

Mr. Boadle was born March 24, 1900, and married the former Carmen Byrd in Big Spring. He left here in the 1920's to work as a roustabout in Monahans, then transferred to the Humble refinery in San Antonio. He later worked for the Humble refinery in Baytown until his retirement in 1965.

Survivors include his wife, Carmen, San Antonio; two daughters, Mrs. Earlene B. Flurry, San Antonio, Mrs. C. L. Rees Jr., College Station; a sister Mrs. Sophie Corcoran; and a brother W. T. Boadle, both of Big Spring; a grand-daughter; nieces and nephews including Robert Boadle, Ben Boadle and Charles Ray Boadle.

all of Big Spring; and Joe R. Boadle, Odessa.

Rifes Monday For Mrs. Crain

Funeral services are set for 10 a.m. Monday for Mrs. Sarah Ella Crain, 88, a former resident of Big Spring, at the Paul A. Rix Funeral Chapel, Odessa. Burial will be in City Cemetery, Big Spring, about noon. Mrs. Crain died Saturday in an Odessa nursing home.

Born Dec. 12, 1881, in Bastrop County, Mrs. Crain was a member of the United Methodist Church. She moved to Odessa from El Paso five years ago.

Surviving Mrs. Crain are one daughter, Mrs. Jim Craven, Odessa; and one grandson, Roy E. Platner, Odessa.

Joel E. Hinson Burial Monday

Funeral services will be held for Joel B. Hinson, 65, Monday at 2 p.m. in Nalley-Pickle Rose-wood Chapel. The Rev. Leo K. Gee, First United Methodist Church, will officiate. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Hinson is survived by his wife, Evelyn, 700 Abrams; a daughter, Mrs. James Cook, Sand Springs; two sons, Jerry Hinson and Harold Hinson, both of Fort Worth; one sister, Bess Hinson, Graham; two brothers, Claude Hinson, Compton, Calif., and Curtis Hinson, Morrisville, Mo.; and four grandchildren. Pallbearers will be Joe Williams, Floyd Williams, Ted Covington, Tommy Young, Bruce Hatfield, Paul Abundy, Ronald Covington and Jimmy Allen.

Plea Of Guilty

Ronnie C. Morris, 24, Snyder, pleaded guilty Friday in Howard County Court to a charge of driving under the influence of drugs, and he was fined $50 plus court costs and placed on six months' probation by Judge Lee Porter. Morris was arrested Thursday by the Texas Highway Patrol and he was released Friday from Howard County jail when he paid his fine.

KETTLES for the Salvation Army Christmas collection were opened Friday. NCOA member S. Sgt. Walter Zook manned the kettle in front of Woolworth's. Sgt. Albert Kick, 1403 Dixie, gave a donation as Lt. Joe Saint, center, wished him, "Merry Christmas and God bless you."

Taking Turns Ringing Bells At Local Kettle Locations

The familiar bells ringing in Big Spring shopping areas signals the Christmas kettles sponsored by the Salvation Army to collect for the needy families here. Most of Big Spring's service clubs are helping the Salvation Army by taking turns ringing bells at the six kettle locations.

Downtown the collection kettle and a loud speaker playing Christmas music are located in front of Woolworth's. Others are at College Park in front of T. G. & Y., at Gibson's, Cooks, Furr's Cafeteria and in Highland Center Mall.

400 FAMILIES This year, according to Lt. Joe Saint, Salvation Army post commander, there appear to be more needy families than ever. He estimates that almost 400 families will need holiday food baskets and children's toys. Lt. Saint emphasized that although the Salvation Army is supported by the United Fund, none of the UF money is used for Christmas projects. The Christmas baskets and toys are received solely by donation.

The holiday baskets and toys are Christmas gifts from residents to their less fortunate fellow residents. Complete meal baskets are donated by churches and clubs. Some also contribute clothing for their "adopted" families. The Key Club will be collecting toys for firemen to repair and the bulk of The Herald's Christmas Cheer Fund, now totalling $600, pays for the repairs and parts needed. In addition, the Salvation Army mails out Christmas appeals letters for holiday donations.

Lt. Saint judges that approximately $4,000 will be needed this year. The first day's kettle collections brought in $200. The appeals letters which were sent out last Tuesday brought $780. Last year's letters brought $1,200 and the kettles collected $1,500.

NO FOOD, FUNDS

Salvation Army kettle collections began approximately 50 years ago in a New England fishing town. A schooner sank off the coast and those rescued were taken to the Salvation Army for care, Lt. Saint related. The Salvation Army ran out of food and money with the influx of people, so one of the young girls assisting in the kitchen took a kettle and went into the street asking for donations to "keep the pot boiling" for the victims of the shipwreck. Soon she collected enough money in her kettle to keep the victims fed.

The kettles were put out in Big Spring shopping areas at 10 a.m. Friday and were manned by the NCOA members. Saturday the student pilot squadron members took over and Monday the Elks will take their turn. Other groups who will man the kettles until Christmas are the Pastors' Association, Webb Junior Officers, Civilians, Kiwanis, Lions, Rotarians, ABC members, Key Club members, Shriners, Optimists, DeMolays, State Hospital staff and policemen and the firemen have offered their assistance.

Governors Of Oil States Get Wristslaps From Exec

By MAX B. SKELTON
Associated Press Oil Writer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Governors of oil producing states have received a bit of wrist-slapping from one of the petroleum industry's top spokesmen.

Jack Abernathy, chairman of the National Petroleum Council, has said, in effect, the governors could have been more effective in dissemination of factual information during the rash of problems that have given petroleum its most turbulent political year in history.

changes in the mandatory oil import control program and have already been impaired by what he termed as ill-advised natural gas price controls and regulation.

"Surely within the framework of legally and voluntarily cooperative action, there must be a way wherein the commission can help the compact states make their views more effective on the federal level on petroleum topics on which they agree," Abernathy said.

He suggested abandonment of any fears a more active role might provoke congressional criticism and attack.

A resolution authorizing extension of the compact from last Sept. 1 to Sept. 1, 1971, has been approved in the Senate and is on Monday's unopposed calendar in the House.

RISKS OF AROUSING

"To my mind, the risks of arousing opposition to the compact are less than the risks of inactivity," Abernathy said. "There will be few problems with extensions by the Congress if the compact is passive, but there will also be few accomplishments. And I think the new era requires activity even Walter J. Hickel is co-chairman.

"Everyone I've met, Democrat or Republican, would welcome a somewhat higher profile or visibility on the part of the compact," Abernathy said.

"These people have enormously complex and difficult jobs, and if they can get help and advice—even opposing advice—from the states, they'll be glad to get it, and often, I predict, they'll act on it."

Abernathy said tax reform changes now being considered will take $300 to $500 million annually out of petroleum profits and that some changes contemplated for the oil import control could cost producers $6 million a day or about $2 billion a year.

WT Rain, Snow Slows Harvesting

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — The weather has continued to complicate harvesting in western and northwestern areas of Texas. But, said Director John E. Hutchison, Texas Agricultural Extension Service on Wednesday, progress was made last week.

A weather change brought to a halt a period of good harvesting weather but did give cotton gins a chance to clean up gins yards, he noted. Land preparation and fertilizer distribution also made progress in other areas until rain and colder weather brought a halt.

Small grain fields continued to make progress. Winter forage growth on native pastures and ranges also furnished improved grazing. Livestock feeding in eastern and northeastern sectors continued heavy due to the lack of moisture throughout the summer and early fall. Field conditions permit, said James Simmons from Vernon.

Livestock generally were in fair to good condition. Intermittent periods of damp, cloudy weather slowed the cotton harvest on the South Plains, but permitted gins to clear up backlogs, said agent Billy Gunter of Lubbock. He said the sugar beet harvest continued with sugar content generally fairly low. Carrot yields were listed as fair to good. Land preparation increased as harvesting was completed and farm labor was extremely short in some areas, Gunter said. Livestock condition was generally good with wheat grazing generally excellent.

Soil moisture was adequate over the Rolling Plains and cotton harvesting was active where field conditions permit, said James Simmons from Vernon.

The harvest ranged from 10 to 70 per cent complete. Small grain growth and grazing from this source were good. Greenbug damage continued light to moderate in several counties and some rust was reported, Simmons said. Guar and pecans are being harvested and livestock conditions were good, the district agent said.

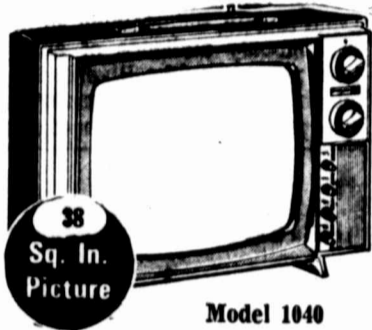

Rain and snow in far West Texas improved the soil moisture situation but slowed harvesting, advised Ray Siegmund from Ft. Stockton. Winter weeds and grass were listed as making good growth for grazing livestock and wildlife. Livestock conditions were good but feeding is increasing.

$4.8 Billion Bill On Public Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has sent President Nixon a $4.8 billion bill that would allow many more poor families to qualify for public housing and help the nation meet a 10-year, 26-million unit housing goal.

The measure also requires that for each slum home or apartment razed as part of an urban renewal project, a new low-income dwelling unit would have to be built in the same area in its place.

Under the bill the new families added to the rolls of public housing would come from the ranks of those too poor in the past to afford even the low subsidized rents of public housing by paying no more than 25 per cent of their income for rent. The bill provides $75 million a year for that phase of the housing program.

Another revision would, for the first time, permit the federal government to pay part of the operating costs of public housing projects and thus rescue those struggling with financial problems.

Other important provisions in the bill would:

- Authorize a new FHA insurance program for mobile homes.
- Make changes to speed up implementation of the existing flood insurance program.
- Increase the maximum mortgage amounts under FHA programs. For example, FHA would be allowed to insure mortgages on single family homes up to $33,000; the present ceiling is $30,000.
- Extend the authority of the secretary of housing and urban development to fix ceilings on interest rates.
- Expand the rural housing program of the Farmers Home administration

Employees Get Safety Awards

Alvie Harrison and Orland White received special recognition Saturday evening as employees of Neel Transfer & Storage, Inc. were guests at its annual Christmas party at the Downtown Tea Room.

In addition to the regular entertainment, T. Willard Neel, president presented wrist watches along with words of deep appreciation to Harrison and White for more than 20 years of continuous service.

E. P. Driver, representing Hartford, presented safety awards to Alvie Harrison for 21 years for an unchargeable accident; to Orland White for 20 years; Tom Traylor for 17 years; William J. (Bill) White 12 years; and Junior Traylor five years. All were for continuous service except for the latter award.

Dean Quips About Marriage Break-Up

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dean Martin, entertaining an invitation-only audience of about 1,000 persons at the Riviera Hotel observed its 14th anniversary, spoke of the breakup of his 20-year marriage in a light vein. The 52-year-old singer, who owns 10 per cent of the hotel, appeared Friday night after refusing comment earlier on a report that he has chosen Gail Renshaw, 22, Miss World-USA, as his future wife.

In the course of his 90-minute show, Martin quipped that he didn't have to pack his suitcase to come to Las Vegas.

"My clothes were already on the sidewalk," he said.

He added that his wife, Jeanie, herself a onetime beauty contest winner, will get the couple's $600,000 Beverly Hills estate.

Then shrugging his shoulders, he said: "But that's all right, I could never find it anyway."

Newsman were unable to learn whether Miss Renshaw, of Arlington, Va., was in the city and her name was not mentioned in the course of Martin's between-songs dialogue.

Also on the program with the singer-actor-comic was his daughter Gail, a singer.

In the audience, composed of friends, celebrities and frequent patrons of the hotel-casino, was another of Martin's daughters, Claudia.

Martin slipped by reporters en route to his dressing room before the show and went immediately to his suite at the end of his performance.

Cotton Volume, Grades Are Off

Sample receipts declined sharply last week at the USDA cotton classing office in Abilene due to the rain and snow which fell over the area.

Officer-in-charge, B. B. Manly Jr., reports that 12,500 samples were classed during the week ending Dec. 12, compared to 21,500 for the same period last year. The season's total is now 122,000 samples classed compared to 376,000 a year ago.

In general all phases of classing were about the same. Grades were 13 per cent in the white category, 76 per cent in the light spotted category, with 32 and 42 the two predominant grades at 17 per cent and 49 per cent respectively, and 11 per cent in the spotted category. Five per cent were reduced in grade because of bark.

Staple lengths were 3 per cent, 28; 24 per cent, 29; 43 per cent, 30; 14 per cent, 31; 7 per cent, 32; 5 per cent, 33; 2 per cent, 34; and 2 per cent were longer than 34.

Micronaire readings were 1 per cent, 3.0-3.2; 1 per cent, 3.3-3.4; 89 per cent, 3.5-4.9; 8 per cent, 5.0-5.2; and 1 per cent, 5.3 and above.

Pressley or strength readings were good with 63 per cent reading 80,000 PSI (Pounds per square inch) and better.

The Consumer and Marketing Service at Abilene reports average net prices ranged from 18.25 cents for 4129 to 18.85 for 4230.

Panel Makes Final Report On Violence

WASHINGTON (AP) — Eighteen months after its creation, the National Violence Commission has written itself out of business with a final report urging an annual spending increase of $20 billion to combat domestic ills.

Chairman Milton S. Eisenhower turned the 388-page report over to President Nixon, assured the chief executive he understands the Vietnam war and anti-inflation efforts are the administration's top priorities, then said at a news conference Friday:

"I shall be the most disappointed man in America," if in five years none of the report's 100 recommendations have become national policy.

Eisenhower said the commission concluded that the ghetto slum is disproportionately responsible for violent crime and it is there that efforts should be made to improve family and community life.

The commission was created and its members appointed by former President Lyndon B. Johnson in June, 1968, in the wake of Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's assassination in Los Angeles.

Eisenhower reported Nixon said he was gravely concerned "and that he will study with care every part of this report."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have an older sister who is married and has three school-age children. When this sister wants to take a weekend trip with her husband (recently they took off for a month!) she just calls "Good Old Mom" to come and stay with her kids, and Mom nearly breaks her neck getting there.

Afterwards, "Good Old Mom" complains to all her friends and relatives about how impossible the kids are to handle, how hard she's worked, and how she'll never do it again.

Well, I'm sure Mom is telling the truth, but just let Sis whistle, and "Good Old Mom" is right back there again. This has been going on for five years. What should I say to "Good Old Mom" when she complains to me? I've thought of some choice phrases, but I'm chicken.

YOUNGER SIS

DEAR SIS: Tell "Good Old Mom" that if she wants to sit, stand, or roll over for Big Sis, it's O.K. with you. But her whining about it is becoming tiresome.

DEAR ABBY: I wish to goodness you would settle this running argument we have been having at our house for a long time. Our children (ages 14, 15, and 17) claim that they study better with all kinds of radio going on around them. One has the stereo going full blast, the other one sits in front of the television set (studying) and the other has a rock and roll radio station tuned in loud enough to bust your ear drums. They all say it doesn't bother them and they can study just fine in that atmosphere.

Holy smokes, when I was a kid I couldn't even study in the same room with our big grandfather clock. The noise of the ticking interfered with my concentration! I'd like your opinion.

GENERATION GAP

DEAR GAP: I suppose it's possible to become so accustomed to noise that one is able to "tune it out," but if you send me your kids' grades I'll be able to give you a better answer.

DEAR ABBY: Six years ago I had an operation, at which time my doctor gave a nurse orders to write down everything I said while I was under the anesthetic. I talked plenty and said a lot of things I don't want anyone to know.

I have asked him repeatedly to destroy the report, but he has refused. I know he has it in his files at his office and I think he has no right to keep it. Is there any way I can legally get possession of that report or be sure it is destroyed so it can't be used against me? If you can't come up with a solution I am considering using force.

NERVOUS AND WORRIED

DEAR NERVOUS: No doctor would "order" a nurse to "write down" what a patient says while he is under the anesthetic. There is not time for such nonsense. Besides, no one cares about the incoherent babbling of a patient who's in a state of unconsciousness. If you have been told there is such a "report" in your doctor's office, someone is pulling your leg. If I were you, I would forget it.

Horoscope Forecast FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A strange, truly live the Golden Rule. If you are going to get away from thoughts of resentment in dealing with others, understand that you are not free to do as you please. Be patient today. It is a time for contemplation.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Morning on what you want most out of life. The morning can get out started on some plan that is constructive for the day. Be sure you are not too hasty in your decisions. Be patient today. It is a time for contemplation.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Show that you understand good friends. Instead of being critical of them, simply because you think they are different from you, avoid those group affairs where arguments can ensue. Be wise.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Ideal day to improve your image with others. Don't make the finest impression on everyone. Plan how to have better credit rating. Cut down on extravagances. See that expert today while he is resting. Get advice you need.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Seek out those systems of a philosophical nature that will help you live a most successful and happy life. Think, act more intelligently. Take time for radio listening or TV viewing.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Your intuition is working just fine, so use it to carry through with the ideas you have to improve position with important people. Don't let anyone spoil the good will you now enjoy with others. You could regret it later on.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't get upset because associates are acting strangely — they have domestic problems. Don't jump to conclusions and start drawing with others. Keep cool no matter what and you will out.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Sit quietly and yourself and alone just who and what you desire to have in your life in the future, but use intellect instead of emotion in so doing. Do something thoughtful for an associate. Stop hesitating about it.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Be sure you go along with the ideas for amusement that others offer since this can be just the ideal thing for you. Be sure that you are especially close to your partner. Be more serious and all is fine.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Being overly blunt of home could start some very serious arguments that would give dire results. Be sure to use caution. Listen to what the other person thoughtfully has to say. The all can be harmonious.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Start counting your blessings instead of dwelling on pessimistic ideas and thoughts. Don't do anything to stir up anger and find peace. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You have some involved financial problems, but intelligent thinking will solve them. Be sure that you are especially close to your partner. Be more serious and all is fine.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you are loving with the idea of tossing present setup to the four winds for something that looks good to you. Be sure that you are especially close to your partner. Be more serious and all is fine.

MONDAY GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today you can exercise good judgment where business and financial matters are concerned. But you are apt to feel tired or depressed tonight. Take care you do not lose your head. Carry through with whatever you have out in motion, and be with cheerful others.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Begin the week properly by handling those problems intelligently and they are soon in the past. You look to you for assistance, so be sure to give it. Avoid any trouble that could occur otherwise.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) A good friend has a problem that is difficult for him to solve. You are able to find the solution very quickly. Do so. Avoid that person who is inimical of some social function. Don't get into arguments.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you observe every regulation that applies to you, you find that others respect you all the more. Be respectful toward higher-ups. Being too blunt could cost you much in the long run.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Good study is necessary before you can make a success of certain fine corner are fine for him, but don't you a bit of good. So forget them as you go on.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get busy on an routine work and wait for a better day for fun. More attention to loved one who feels deserted is wise. Do nothing to upset the fine position you find yourself in now, or there can be regrets later on.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Make better arrangements with associates if you want to have the added income you need just of this time. You have to appear as opponent, but put off until you have studied the matter well. Prepare yourself properly.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Be philosophical now where your work is concerned, combining knowledge with suggestions to co-workers that are helpful. Don't delay doing that Christmas shopping. Do so during lunch hours, etc.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Moderate your surroundings during your spare time and stop living in that same dreary fashion. Plan how to please loved one in the evening. Wake up and live — unhappiness is only in your mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) There are fundamental matters that need change and improvement before you can operate more intelligently. Do just that early. Stop trying to sway family into doing what you want. It won't work. You want to have the added income you want to get those inventive plans working, but you had better first check with higher-ups and get their O.K. Finish that writing, shopping, filing, etc. Have more free time in the future for what ever it is you want to do.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Adjust financial matters so that you don't have difficulty in the future paying the most necessary bills, in particular. Listen to the suggestions of a business expert that can be most helpful.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) If you stop wasting time as you have (the past), you find that you can get all those annoying chores behind you quickly. Improve your charm and health properly. Don't go to any extremes.

ered with a sore shoulder, rifled touchdown passes of 18 yards to Lance Rentzel and 19 yards to Pettis Norman. He set up Walt Garrison's one-yard touchdown plunge with a 44-yard strike to Bob Hayes.

The nationally televised victory gives the Capitol Division champion Cowboys a 10-2-1 season record and dropped the Coastal Division Colts to a 7-5-1 mark. Each team has one game remaining.

It was the first time Dallas had defeated Baltimore in a regular season game. Morton hit 12 of 23 passes for 288 yards behind fine blocking in the offensive line.

Veteran Johnny Unitas was victimized three times. Mel Renfro intercepted two passes and Cornell Green and rookie Otto Brown one each.

Unitas connected on a 52-yard touchdown pass to John Mackey in the second quarter as the Colts managed a 10-10 halftime score.

Morton took the Cowboys 78 yards in three plays after the second half kickoff to break the game open. Hayes beat defensive back Ocie Martin on a 58-yard pass to the Colt 24. Two plays later, Morton found Norman slanting into the end zone from 19 yards out and the Colts, who meet Cleveland Dec. 28 in the Eastern Conference playoff, were home free.

MOVE HELPS
Dallas coach Tom Landry moved Brown to the right cornerback spot in an attempt to shore up the porous Cowboy secondary which had allowed 22 touchdown passes. Renfro, normally a free safety, also played cornerback.

The moves worked as Unitas and his fourth-period replacement, Earl Morrall, had to stick to the short stuff. Unitas completed only 12 of 28 passes for 193 yards.

Street, Powell Selected As SWC Players Of Year

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Texas quarterback James Street and Arkansas linebacker Cliff Powell were named offensive and defensive players of the year Saturday on the Players All-Southwest Conference football team.

Southern Methodist's flashy split end Gary Hammon was named sophomore offensive honor in the Dallas Times Herald poll.

The team is selected by the top 22 players on each of the eight SWC football teams. Players could not vote for their own teammates.

Hammond was the only one of the four individual winners who did not make the first team. He was beaten out by Arkansas' Chuck Dicus, a star in the Hogs' 15-14 loss to Texas. Cotton-bowl bound Texas placed eight players on the first offensive and defensive units. Arkansas placed six players on the No. 1 units.

Texas' 6-foot-6-inch 245 pound offensive tackle Bob McKay was the biggest vote getter with 118 votes of the 167 cast.

Landry Cheered By His Club's Aerial Defense

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys took a giant step Saturday toward gaining momentum for their National Football League Eastern Conference playoff with Cleveland Dec. 28.

The Cowboys whipped the Baltimore Colts 27-10 before a national television audience and Dallas coach Tom Landry said "Our passing game looked better than it has for several weeks. The Colts are pretty good back there and they're not going to give you a whole lot."

Quarterback Craig Morton passed for two touchdowns and the Cowboy pass defense made its best showing of the year with four interceptions.

Burned by 22 touchdown passes this season, Landry alternated rookie Otto Brown and veteran Mel Renfro at the weak right cornerback spot.

Owls Capture Cage Tourney At Cee City

COLORADO CITY — Reagan County pulled away in the last few minutes to topple Crane, 57-51, in the finals of the annual Lone Wolf Basketball tournament here Saturday night.

The Golden Cranes led at the end of the third period, 40-39, but the Owls ultimately went ahead, 50-49, on the strength of two gratis pitches.

McCamey captured third place by turning back Stanton, 68-66, at which time Nolan McMaryion hit 28 points for the Badgers. Rusty Hicks counted 18 for Stanton.

In consolation finals, Ballinger outlasted Colorado City, 57-51. Howard McDaniel tallied 20 points to lead Ballinger while Robert Bender had 16 for Cee City.

Joe Barnes, 5-11 Reagan County senior, was named the Outstanding Player of the tournament.

Other members of the all-tournament squad were James Watson, Reagan County; McMaryion of McCamey; Steve Routh and Howard McDaniel, both of Ballinger; Willie Hopkins and Bender, both of Colorado City; Ricky Andregg and Terry Neal, both of Crane; Boyd Noble, Post; and Rusty Hicks, Stanton.

In semifinal games Saturday, Reagan County won over Stanton, 71-61, while Crane hurried by McCamey, 53-50.

Jim Watson had 24 points for Reagan County, Ricky Mims 14 for Stanton.

Benny Wilson collected 14 for Crane while Nolan McMaryion flogged in 12 for McCamey.

In consolation semifinal contests, Colorado City turned back Post, 61-54, while Ballinger smashed Sweetwater, 48-32.

Steve Routh counted 24 for Ballinger and Perry Thompson eight for Sweetwater.

Clay-Frazier Fight Nixed

MIAMI (AP) — Cassius Clay's on-again, off-again boxing comeback against Joe Frazier is off again. As far as Florida is concerned, it may never be on again.

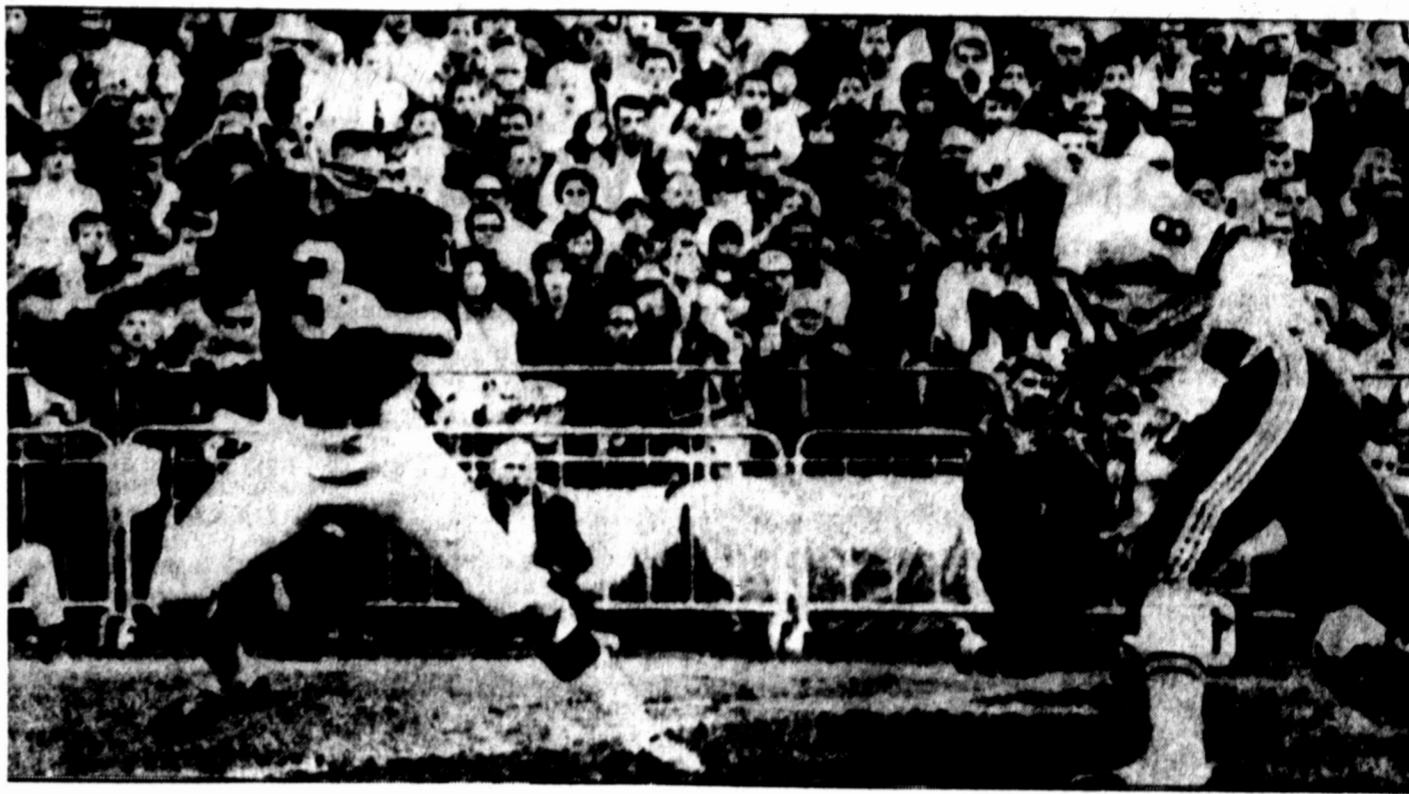

Scheduled for Tampa's 48,000-seat football stadium, the heavyweight championship fight was kayed by public opinion. The promoters threw in the towel Saturday, their plans beaten to submission by irate citizens and a governor who didn't want whether he wanted it or not.

Gov. Claude Kirk endorsed the Clay-Frazier match earlier in the week when plans were announced for a Feb. 16 deal in Tampa Stadium. Promoters promised $300,000 guarantees for each fighter and talked of a $3 million gross including closed-circuit television.

The American Legion came back punching and promised to snub and protest the bout at every turn. Tampa newspapers said they didn't want a pairing featuring draft sidestepper Clay. City commissioners voted unanimously to sneer at the promotion.

Kirk called promoter Ron Gorton Friday and plans began to crumble. "I cannot tell you not to hold the fight," Kirk told Gorton, "but, for the people of Florida, I request that you turn it down." Gorton did.

Frazier is recognized as heavyweight titleholder in seven states. Clay ruled the entire world of boxing until stripped of his crown. He refused to be drafted into military service and still faces court action.

LAMONICA UNDER PRESSURE—Oakland Raider's quarterback Daryle Lamonica skips away from Kansas City's Buck Buchanan as he tries to pass in a game in Oakland, Calif., Saturday. Lamonica was thrown for an 11-yard loss on the play.

Oakland Raiders Win Third Title in Row

OAKLAND (AP) — Daryle Lamonica threw an eight-yard straight American Football League Western Division title pass to Charlie Smith early in the fourth period and Oakland's defense held Kansas City to one late touchdown as the Raiders beat the Chiefs 10-6

Saturday to win their third consecutive AFL title. Oakland, which finished the regular season with a 12-1-1 record, will host the Houston Oilers in a playoff game next Sunday.

FOR NAIA TITLE Javelinas Rip Cobbers, 32-7

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Quarterback Karl Douglas fired 65 and 84-yard scoring passes to lead Texas A&I to a 32-7 victory over the Concordia, Minn., Cobbers to capture the NAIA football championship Saturday.

The 84-yard pass to Dwight Harrison scored six plays later on a keeper from just inches away from the goal stripe.

The Cobbers, led by Linde's passing and aided by two pass interference calls on the Javelinas, reached the A&I 14 before a Linde pass on a fake field goal attempt failed. Two plays later, after Douglas had been trapped at the 3-yard line, A&I fumbled and tackle Bruce Larsen recovered for the Cobbers at the Javelina 4.

The A&I "Border Bandits" defensive unit held the Cobbers at the 4 for four plays.

The final A&I score of the first half came on an NAIA record-breaking 84-yard pass from Douglas to Harrison who grabbed the ball at the A&I 35 and raced untouched down the sidelines.

The Javelinas set a new NAIA championship game record for total offense midway in the final quarter when they reached the 54 yard mark.

Texas A&I's first touchdown came just two plays and 38 seconds after the game got underway. Douglas fired a first-down pass to end Eldridge Small who was open at the Concordia 40 and raced untouched into the end zone.

Concordia bounced back and scored midway through the first quarter. Fullback Mark McNelly dived two yards to conclude a 77-yard, 14-play drive.

Texas A&I then staged an 80-yard scoring drive climaxed when flanker Dwight Harrison ran four yards to give A&I a 14-7 lead early in the second quarter.

The next Javelina touchdown came just four minutes later after defensive back Ed Scott intercepted a pass from Concordia quarterback Paul Linde at the Cobbers' 27-yard line. Douglas

Wranglers Again Topple Jayhawks

ODESSA — The Odessa College Wranglers recorded their second straight basketball victory over the Howard County Junior College Jayhawks here Friday night as the Wranglers tipped the Big Spring visitors, 77-74.

The Odessa-Howard County rivalry now stands at 2-1 in the Wrangler's favor for the current season with one final match-up between the two teams coming up Feb. 3 on the Hawks' home court.

A key last minute basket by Fred Hunter snapped a 70-70 tie and ignited an Odessa rally which projected the hosts to victory.

Hunter was fouled after he shot and added a free throw for a 73-70 Wrangler lead. The Hawks' Sammy James tried to pull Howard County ahead with crucial tip-in baskets, but

Two Sands Boys On All-League

ACKERLY — Two Sands boys, guard Kelly Gaskins and end Felix Robles, have been named to the All-District 6-B football platoons by conference coaches.

Gaskins, a 155-pound senior, was named to the offensive unit while the 160-pound Robles was included on the defensive platoon. Robles is only a junior.

Gaskins also rated the second team on defense.

In addition, Steve Herm and Randy Clemens of the Mustangs gained Honorable Mention on the squad.

The teams were selected in a meeting of coaches and other school officials held last Wednesday at Jayton.

Roby placed five boys on the offensive team, champion Wilson four, Jayton three and New Home two. Fifteen boys were selected since several boys tied in the balloting.

Lyndall Favor, Jayton's 133-pound junior end, was the only unanimous selection on offense.

Woody Follis, Wilson end, and Jim Fillingim, New Home back, were unanimous picks on defense.

On the defensive team, Wilson placed four, Roby and New Home three each and Jayton two.

Only two boys made it both ways. They were Steve Bednarz of Wilson, a guard on offense and a linebacker on defense.

Quarry Says He Didn't Hear Count In Fight

NEW YORK (AP) — Heavyweight contender Jerry Quarry was doing a mental 10-count to control his temper in the dressing room — the reason, a 10-count he took, but says he did not hear, in the ring at Madison Square Garden.

"I've never been knocked out," Quarry bellowed in his dressing room Friday night.

But the record book will show that Quarry was not on his feet at 10, and referee Zack Clayton declared George Chuvalo a knockout winner at 2:59 of the seventh round of the scheduled 10-round bout.

"I wasn't hurt," said Quarry. "The crowd was screaming and I couldn't hear the count. The referee was waving meaning Clayton wasn't clearly signaling the count with his fingers."

"I was signaling and calling the count right in his ear," said Clayton. "He said 'I missed it at nine.' I said 'I'm sorry it's all over.'"

Quarry had closed Chuvalo's right eye and opened several cuts and for most of the seventh round he continued to punish the Canadian about the head. Then Chuvalo caught Quarry coming in, with a left hook and the Bellflower, Calif., fighter went sprawling on his rose-patterned, Kelly green trunks.

He got up at three, then dropped to a knee and spit out his mouth piece. He was still there as the count reached eight, nine and 10, and the crowd of 9,915, which paid a gross $60,810, went wild.

Asked why he went back down, Quarry said, "I figured I'll take the eight count so I went down on my knee. Then he hastily added, "But I wasn't actually on my knee. I was in a crouching position."

"He was on his knee," said Clayton.

Boxing rules state a fighter must have part of his body, other than his hand, on the canvas to be knocked down. But they also state a fighter can take a mandatory eight-count on his feet.

It was his first time Quarry, who weighed 201½, has been knocked out although he was stopped on a cut by Joe Frazier. His record is now 33-4. For the 217-pound Chuvalo, a 32-year-old veteran who has been stopped but never knocked off his feet, the victory made his record 56-15-2. This was his 48th knockout.

As Chuvalo, looking every inch the loser, rested his battered body on a table in his dressing room, a few doors away Quarry pushed through a knot of reporters and entered the shower. He reappeared almost immediately, and said: "Gentlemen would you please leave?"

Senate Acts To Protect Alligator Within State

AUSTIN — Anyone with a pet alligator — whether in a zoo or the family bathtub — has until Jan. 1 either to register or dispose of it, according to Senate Bill 170 passed by the 61st Legislature.

The act is designed to protect the American alligator, a species on the rare and endangered list maintained by the Department of the Interior.

Alligators which were lawfully obtained and held prior to the legislation are considered private property and may be retained, but are subject to control of the State as a protected species of wildlife, according to Howard Lee, director for programs of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Persons having alligators in their possession and desiring to keep them should apply for a special zoological permit from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. The application, which must be in the form of an affidavit, should show the number of specimens, when and how each was obtained, present length and weight and a brief description of the facility where the animal is to be kept.

The application should also contain an agreement that the specimen will be kept in a healthy condition and that the owner will make an annual report on the condition of the alligator.

After Jan. 1, the owner legally may dispose of the alligator only under permit from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

Only the American alligator is regulated by State law. Specimens most commonly sold as pets are juvenile caimans, which are imported from Central and South America and are not regulated by State law. Crocodiles, though native to Florida, are not native to Texas and are not regulated under State law.

Possible State Scoring Record

LORAIN — The Westbrook Junior High School girls basketball team, establishing what is believed to be a state junior high scoring record, trounced Loraine, 83-15, here the past week.

If nothing else, the girls set a new school record for points scored in one contest as well as keeping their unbeaten record intact.

Westbrook, shooting 49.3 per cent from the field and 64.3 per cent from the free throw line, jumped off to an immediate lead and continued its scoring rampage throughout the game.

Sandra Rich scored 36 points to set the pace for Westbrook. She was followed by Kim Sullivan, who spotted 27 points. Loraine's entire point total was accounted for by Vicky Sanford.

Some Paying Dearly For Jan. 1 Ducats

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Super Bowl tickets, at $15 each, are going to be even more expensive for Mrs. Priscilla Correll of Suburban Gretna.

The attractive red-haired mother of eight children was paying two of her older sons and several neighborhood boys to spend the night in the line outside the New Orleans Saints Ticket office, where the only over-the-counter sale of Super Bowl tickets — 2,684 of them — got under way.

The Jan. 11 game in Tulane's 82,500-seat stadium is what pro football commissioner Pete Rozelle insists on calling the "world championship game." Everybody else calls it the Super Bowl and it will match the champions of the American and National football leagues.

Only 2,684 tickets were available to the public because all the others went either to New Orleans Saints season ticket holders or to the team in the two pro leagues.

First person in line for the public ticket sale was 18-year-old Sam Bua of suburban Metairie, who got there about 18½ hours before the scheduled start of the sale.

Larry James, 32, of Hartsville, S.C., had hoped to be first in line. He got off a bus after a 24-hour ride from his home state and hurried to the Saints' office, only to find three others ahead of him.

The Correll boys — Kevin, 14, and Armand, 13 — got there about seven hours later.

"We were Nos. 100 and 161," said Kevin. "But since then, at least 40 people have jumped in the line ahead of us, and I kinda feel like going up and punching them."

The ticket seekers, limited to two each, were huddled in blankets and warm clothing because of 40-degree temperatures. Many played cards, others slept, and still others talked, mostly about pro football. There were numerous bottles of whiskey planted on the sidewalk. Some nipped hot drinks, and others munched on sandwiches.

At 2:15 a.m., there were 143 people behind Kevin and Armand. Another one of two per-

Trust Fund Set Up For Gridder

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Texas announced Saturday the establishment of a trust fund for the personal use of Freddy Joe Steinmark, a university football star whose left leg was amputated after discovery of a malignant tumor.

Steinmark, 20, meanwhile was reported in good condition at the university's M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute. He was transferred from a recovery unit to a private room Saturday, just one week after playing in the nationally televised Texas-Arkansas game.

He has demonstrated great fortitude and marked determination to return as swiftly as possible to his life at the university," said Dr. R. Lee Clark, president of the hospital.

Charles A. LeMaistre, deputy chancellor, announced establishment of the Freddy Steinmark Trust Fund and said the university system's board of regents have accepted full responsibility for all of Steinmark's medical, rehabilitative, and further educational expenses.

"It is our hope that in lieu of other gifts and expressions of love and concern Freddy's many friends and fans will contribute to the Freddy Steinmark Trust Fund," Clark said.

"As Dr. LeMaistre has emphasized the University of Texas System will play for all Freddy's medical and rehabilitative and education expenses. Therefore, this trust fund will be for Freddy's personal use."

surgery Friday for bone sarcoma. His left leg was amputated at the hip after tests revealed he had a malignant tumor of the left femur (thigh bone).

Steinmark played in the nationally televised game when Texas beat Arkansas 15-14 last Saturday.

President Nixon congratulated Steinmark and his teammates after the victory and proclaimed the Longhorns as the nation's No. 1 college team.

Steinmark, a native of Denver, Colo., completed two seasons at Texas. He played in the Arkansas game with pain from what was believed to have been only a thigh bruise.

University physicians brought him to Houston Monday for further examination after Steinmark, the smallest man on the 22-member starting squad, complained of pain.

Physicians said the type of malignancy Steinmark suffered originated within the bone itself.

Steinmark received numerous telegrams, cards and letters from well-wishers and got floral arrangements from his teammates and others.

AM&N Admitted To Conference

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The faculty governing body of the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference voted Saturday to accept Arkansas AM&N College at Pine Bluff into the AIC.

AM&N, a predominantly Negro college, was given until September 1973 to bring all its requirements into line with the AIC. As the qualifications are met in individual sports, AM&N will be eligible to compete for the championship in each sport.

Bubba Crocker Leads Indians Past Drake

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas State, ignited by unheralded Bubba Crocker, struck for two lightning touchdowns in the second period Saturday and swept on to a 29-21 Pecan Bowl victory over Drake.

The Indians, champions of the Southland Conference, nearly broke the game open in the span of 35 seconds as they raced to their first Midwest NCAA College Division football title.

The contest, viewed by a shirt-sleeved crowd of 7,500 and a six-state regional television audience, bore a striking resemblance to an earlier meeting between the two teams that ended in a 21-21 tie.

DRAKE RALLIES — Down 22-0 at halftime, Drake came back with three touchdowns in the final 30 minutes to prevent a lopsided disaster.

Crocker, voted the outstanding player on offense, entered the game midway into the first period when starting quarterback James Hamilton was injured and swiftly chilled the Bulldogs with a 75-yard scoring pass to end Steve Lockhart.

He fired an eight-yard scoring bullet to Virgil Peyton with 3:22 left in the half and then, following a fumbled kickoff, darted five yards for a third touchdown.

The triumph pushed the Indians' season record to 8-1-1 while the loss closed Drake's campaign at 7-2-2.

The verdict compensated smartly for Arkansas State's Pecan Bowl setback last year to North Dakota State and lifted the Indians' bowl record to 2-3-1. Quarterback Mike Grejbowski fired up Drake's fearsome passing attack in a madcap third period, guiding the Bulldogs through the air for one touchdown and unleashing a 51-yard bomb for a second.

Riding a wave of momentum, Marvin Smith broke through to block an Arkansas State field goal attempt from the 20 and Bill McClintock caught the ball and streaked to the ASU 41.

A pass interception stopped the drive. Crocker threw a 35-yard pass to Lockhart as he guided the Indians 80 yards for the clincher, a 3-yard burst by Calvin Harrell with a little more than nine minutes left.

Grejbowski hit on passes on 11, 27 and 11 yards to Bob Rogers and 22 and 9 yards to Dwane Miller in Drake's first

TD drive and rocketed the 51-yard bomb to Miller.

FIRES UP AGAIN — Grejbowski got Miller with a 36-yarder in the final period as he moved Drake to a third touchdown with 2:11 left, but when an on-side kick failed, the Bulldogs' hopes for a tie were gone.

Rogers took the final touchdown toss, a one-yarder from Grejbowski.

Crocker, loosening up the Drake defense with Harrell's sledgehammer blows, caught the Bulldogs flat footed with his first bomb.

Lockhart slipped behind Mike Carden, took the pass overhead at the Drake 40 and sped on unchallenged for the touchdown.

With an 18 yard assist by Harrell, Crocker guided the 7th ranked Indians 59 yards in 11 plays for the second score, drilling his eight yarder to Payton alone in the end zone.

The roof then caved in for Drake. Jim Neswold bobbled the kickoff and end Butch Murray retrieved it for Arkansas State at the Bulldog 28. Harrell ripped off 23 yards and Crocker circled in from the five for the score.

Crocker wound up by completing six of 11 passes for 176 yards and two touchdowns. Grejbowski hit on 15 of 37 for 269 yards and two touchdowns and had two interceptions.

Miller pulled down nine passes for 192 yards. Harrell carried 34 times for 160 yards.

The most valuable defensive player award went to the Indians' All-American tackle Clivis Swinney.

Steer Golfers Win One, Lose One In Matches

The Big Spring High School golf team finished second in a three-team golf match at the Big Spring Country Club Saturday afternoon.

The Steer stinksters carded 299, six strokes more than Lubbock Monterrey, who won the match with a 293. Midland Lee, the third entry, registered a 302.

Jerry Travis led the 10 Steer golfers participating as he finished with a 76. Jerrall Carol was two strokes behind with 74, followed by Howard Stewart, 76; Mark Slate, 77; Pat Weaver, 78; Bruce Bright, 80; and Bill Crocker, 83.

Other Big Springers participating were: Greg Hahn, Richard Egan and Easy Ezell. Hahn and Egan had 88's and Ezell finished with 101.

In a three-team practice match played Thursday on the Hogan Park Golf Course in Midland, the Steer team grabbed first place with a 310 team total. Midland Lee came in second with 315 and Midland High took third with 323.

Weaver, carding a 76, was the medalist in the match. He was closely followed by Slate, Travis

10th Rated Irish Remain Unbeaten

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Austin Carr scored unbeaten Notre Dame's first 11 points as the 10th ranked Irish overcame cold shooting and went on to Beat St. Louis 65-53 Saturday.

Notre Dame trailed until midway in the first half when Carr scored to give the hosts a 15-13 edge. The Irish, 5-0, lead at halftime, 30-27.

SWC Would Favor 11-Game Schedule

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Execu-wait until the NCAA takes positive secretary Howard Grubbs' action on the 11-game proposal Saturday. The Southwest Conference has strong support for an 11-game schedule if it is adopted in January by the conference.

Grubbs said, "We no doubt Grubbs pointed out that seven will approve it. We have taken of the eight SWC members will not official stand, but it could go to an earlier school calendar quickly be decided by mail." year in 1970, creating the opportunity for scheduling an extra game in the 1970-71 season.

RENE BROWN WITH DEER
Game felled near Marfa

Browns Fell Deer, Moose And Antelope On Trips

Rene Brown of 3 Highland Heather is gaining a reputation of sorts as a hunter of big game.

His wife, Kris, shares his enthusiasm for the sport.

Brown recently killed a large mule deer during hunting expedition on the Murphy Bennett Bandera ranch near Marfa. The animal had 12 points and weighed 150 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown returned several weeks ago from a three-weeks' trip along the Yellowstone River in Wyoming, where they felled a moose and an antelope.

The moose, which had 18 points and a 35-inch horn spread, was bagged near Pine-dale, the antelope in the Free-mont area north of Rawlins.

Getting the mule deer in the Marfa area proved to be quite a challenge. The animal's habitat was in semi-arid open country. The terrain was covered with greasewood, prickly pear and numerous other thorny plants. Vertical cliffs rise out of the rock-covered flats to give the region that tremendous look that Big Bend is famous for.

Brown killed the Wyoming moose at a distance of about 450 yards. The Browns camped out all the time they were in Wyoming and Kris says she was delighted with the opportunity.

She recommends the trip for all women who love the out-of-doors.

Olivares Winner In Second Round

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Englishman Alan Rudkin didn't see the punches that stopped him and he can't see any bantam-weight boxer at present who might beat the champion, Mexico's 21-year-old Ruben Olivares.

The champ made quick work of Rudkin, who had fought five 15-round bouts including losses to a pair of world champions, Fighting Harada of Japan and Lionel Rose of Australia.

Olivares, who stopped Rose in the fifth round at the Forum last Aug. 22, needed only 2 minutes 30 seconds of the second stanza to chill Rudkin in the same right Friday night.

lishman had been on the deck in a pro career dating back to 1962. A solid right finished him off in the next round.

Although Olivares says he would prefer fighting for the featherweight title next against either Australia's Johnny Farnoch or Japan's Ho Saijo, 126-pound throne, Forum promoter George Parnassus said the champ would defend against countryman Chuco Castillo in March or April, either in Los Angeles or Mexico.

The knockout was the 52nd for Olivares in 54 fights and 28th in a row. He's never been defeated but fought one draw. Rudkin's record went to 37-6.

A crowd of about 14,700 paid a gross gate of about $175,000.

SPC Falls To Frank Phillips

BORGER — Frank Phillips College staved off a late South Plains College bid for victory, and thus claimed an 88-85 basketball triumph over SPC here Friday night.

South Plains trailing 70-61 deep in the fourth period, closed the gap to one point with two minutes to play but fouls and violations snuffed out the victory.

Lubbock CC Slips By SW Christian

DALLAS — A gritty defense and a slowed-down offense offset a rapid firing attack by Southwestern Christian College and gave Lubbock Christian College a 70-61 basketball victory over SW Christian here Friday night.

The Chaparrals, cashing in on 15 of 25 field goal attempts in the second half, ran their season record to 9-4—two more wins than Lubbock totalled throughout the 1968-69 season. Southwest Christian, meanwhile dropped to 4-7.

Eagles Get 88-63 Roundball Victory

ABILENE — The Abilene High Eagles, employing a well-tuned press and displaying a potent scoring attack, scored an easy 88-63 basketball victory over Fort Worth Western Hills here Friday night.

The Eagles streaked to an early 33-10 second period advantage then coasted home to victory in the final two periods. Richard Little paced the Abilene Eagles, registering 21 points.

Boston Red Sox Swap Talent With 2 Teams

BOSTON (AP)—The Boston Red Sox completed trades with the Chicago White Sox and Detroit Tigers today involving six players.

Boston sent infielder Syd O'Brien and pitcher Billy Farmer plus an unspecified amount of cash to Chicago for veteran southpaw pitcher Gary Peters and catcher Don Pavletich.

The Red Sox also traded 26-year-old utility infielder Dalton Jones to Detroit for infielder Tom Matchick.

Peters, 32, was the American League rookie of the year when he broke in with Chicago in 1963, winning 19 of 27 decisions. Through 1968 he had a 81-62 mark.

The past season his record was 10-15.

Pavletich spent all his major league career with Cincinnati before being traded to Chicago last December. He batted .245 in 78 White Sox games.

O'Brien saw much service at third base last season for Boston batting .243 in 100 games.

Farmer, 23, is a right-hander who had a 12-10 mark with Louisville of the International League.

UCLA BEST, SAYS COACH

By The Associated Press

UCLA again will win the national collegiate basketball championship this season, even though fabulous Lew Alcindor has graduated.

Ron Godfrey, coach of the Miami, Fla., Hurricanes, made that prediction Friday night after the Bruins had crushed his team 137-69 to set a UCLA scoring record for one game.

"Nobody's even near them," Godfrey said. "The UCLA romp wiped out the previous single game high of 127 against Portland three years ago at the start of the Alcindor era."

Tall Hobbs Five Paddles Cooper

ABILENE — A tall and quick Hobbs (N.M.) High School basketball team used its height and speed to superior advantage as the out-of-state Eagles clawed Abilene Cooper, 70-62, here Friday night.

The Cougars stayed in contention for one period before Hobbs' rebounding and scoring punch began to take its toll. The Eagles led 34-25 at the half and maintained a credible margin throughout the second half of play.

Minnesota Vikings Can Still Equal Record

By The Associated Press
The Minnesota Vikings, who have broken the dreams of several teams in the National Football League, put their own 11-game winning streak on the line today in a skirmish with the league's spotters, the San Francisco 49ers.

The Vikings, 11-1, are the fifth team ever to win 11 straight in one season and they have a chance to equal the all-time record of 13 straight set by the 1934 Chicago Bears — if they can beat the 49ers and then

Atlanta in the season finale. The Vikings play Los Angeles for the Western Conference title Dec. 27.

The 49ers, 3-7-2, beat Baltimore twice and Chicago once and tied Dallas and Washington. Los Angeles also has a record riding on the last two games. The Rams, 11-1, play Detroit, 7-4-1, and if they can win, they'll set a season record for victories. But if the Rams lose, either of the next two, they'll miss matching or bettering their best ever — 11-1-2 in 1967. Los Angeles wraps up the regular season in a meeting with Baltimore.

The Lions will be ready because they're battling Baltimore and Green Bay for third place money in the Western Conference.

In other games today, Cleveland, 9-2-1, is at St. Louis 4-7-1; Green Bay, 6-6, at Chicago, 1-11; New Orleans, 4-8, at Washington, 6-4-2; Atlanta, 4-8, at Philadelphia, 4-8-1; and New York, 4-8, at Pittsburgh, 1-11.

Cleveland, which plays Dallas for the Eastern Conference title, was tied by St. Louis in October and lost both games to the Cardinals last year. However, the Browns lead the series 28-8-3. In Dallas, the Cowboys were seeking their first victory in four games against Baltimore.

Gayle Sayers will be out to extend his NFL rushing lead in the Bears' 102nd meeting with their old rivals from Green Bay. The Packers blanked the Bears 17-0 in the season opener, but Sunday's game will feature different quarterbacks: Don Horn has taken over for Green Bay for injured Bart Starr and rookie Bobby Douglas and Virgil Carter are directing the Bears.

Vince Lombardi's Redskins need one victory to assure their best record and first season over 500 since 1955. Washington has already clinched third place money in the Eastern Conference. The Redskins beat New Orleans 26-20 in the season opener.

Atlanta's victory last week over New Orleans marked the most wins in a season for the four-year-old Falcons, whose 239 points are a club record. Philadelphia's Norm Snead's 2,728 yards passing total is just one yard shy of Sonny Jurgenson, who leads the League.

The New York Giants' 10-7 victory over Pittsburgh in October was their last before last Sunday's 49-6 rout over St. Louis snapped a seven-game losing streak. It also was the Giants' highest point total since they defeated Washington 49-34 in 1962.

Greg Cook Out To Shoot Down Denver Today

By The Associated Press
Where have you gone, Greg Cook? Cincinnati turns its lonely eyes to you.

Cincinnati's celebrated rookie of the year, who put on a sour note performance last week, hopes to make sweet music again today when the Bengals meet Denver in American Football League action.

The yearling quarterback, second best passer in the league, had to be pulled in last week's 37-17 loss to Oakland when the Raiders' pass rush got too tough.

Other contests in the AFL today, which winds up the regular season, include Eastern Division winner New York at Miami; Buffalo at San Diego and Boston at Houston.

The 6-foot-4, 220-pound Cook ranks behind Oakland's Daryle Lamonica, in the passing department. The Bengal rookie has hit on 87 of 167 passes for 1,563 yards and 14 touchdowns.

The crowd in Denver's Mile High Stadium also will get a look at the AFL's defense rookie of the year, Bengal linebacker Bill Bergey.

Denver's Floyd Little, who was having his best pro season until he was injured Nov. 2, was back in the groove last week and will probably start today. He has piled up 677 yards despite missing 5½ games this year.

With Steve Tensi having his troubles the past few weekends, Pete Liske is expected to start at quarterback for the Broncos. Winner of the match escapes the Western Division cellar. Both teams are 4-8-1.

Joe Namath, weak knees and all, will probably get into action for New York despite the meaningless season finale with Miami in the Orange Bowl. Coach Weeb Ewbank of New York says the Jets' quarterback will probably play about a quarter, with subs filling in the rest of the way.

Young Rick Norton, a hero for the Dolphins in last week's 27-24 victory over Denver, will probably be at the controls for Miami.

Lance Alworth, trying for a record of 96 straight games in which he has caught one or more passes, leads San Diego against Buffalo. Alworth also is shooting for a third straight AFL receiving crown.

Houston's tough defense gears for Boston and Jim Nance, making a strong bid for a third AFL rushing crown.

Wichita Falls, Mart Advance To Finals

By The Associated Press
Wichita Falls, West Columbia, Sonora, and Mart marched to the finals of the Texas schoolboy football playoffs Friday night in exceptionally hardfought battles.

Wichita Falls advanced to the state Class AAAA finals with a 14-3 victory over Dallas Wilson. West Columbia set up a Class AAA finals match against today's Brownwood-Bonham victor in Fort Worth by defeating Belton 10-7, and Sonora tripped Honey Grove 21-6 and Mart whipped Poth 14-7 to pit those winners against each other in the Class A showdown.

Wichita Falls snapped Dallas

Wilson's 19-game winning streak Friday night in a tough defensive battle. The Wildcats jumped to a quick 3-0 lead on Kris Karl's 30-yard field goal, but Joey Aboussie ran 38 yards for a touchdown shortly before halftime to give the Coyotes a 7-3 lead.

Quarterback Lawrence Williams passed for three yards to Ronnie Littleton on the first play of the fourth period to sink the Wildcats before a crowd of 17,000 in P. C. Cobb Stadium in Dallas.

West Columbia stopped Belton on two crucial fourth down plays in the final quarter before 11,000 fans in College Station's Kyle Field.

David Bertek's three-yard run gave Belton a shortlived 6-0 lead in the first quarter. A six-yard touchdown gallop by Charles Davis and a 23-yard field goal by Mike Ellisor put the winning points on the board for West Columbia. Bertek was tackled twice on fourth down situations in West Columbia territory in the final quarter.

Fullback Lewis Thornton rolled up 168 yards in 30 carries and scored from six yards out with 53 seconds remaining to give Mart a pulsating win over Poth. The game was tied 7-7 at halftime.

Mart's other touchdown came on a three-yard run by Earl Costley. Poth's touchdown was on a 10-yard run by Richard Ramirez.

BIG SPRING TEAM OF THREE DECADES AGO
Personnel now scattered to the four winds

Players On '39 Club Now Solid Members Of Society

By TOMMY HART
Some distinguished men emerged from the ranks of the 1939 Big Spring High School football team, which is pictured here.

The Steers of thirty years ago, coached by Pat Murphy, wound up winning four, losing five and tying one. With a little bit of luck, the Longhorns could have captured the district championship.

Remnants of the team came back the following year and did qualify for bi-district play.

Murphy fondly recalls the club and its personnel.

"We played for fun in those days," he harked back recently. "Football wasn't the year-round operation it perhaps is today. Something has gone out of it."

At least six members of the club are now dead. The whereabouts of several others are unknown.

One of the coaches of the club that year, Herschel (Mule) Stockton, died of a heart involvement several years ago while attending a football game — long after he had quit coaching. He resided in San Angelo at the time.

Murphy served the Big Spring school system as an assistant superintendent until his retirement a couple of years ago. He still makes his home here.

The '39 Steers finished with a 4-5-1 record and beat both Odessa and Abilene. The tie was with Angelo.

Rush still resides here, where he is employed by the T&P railroad. Laman is deceased.

Barton is the superintendent of schools at Wink.

IN SCHOOL WORK
Bostick is the acting principal of Snyder High School and formerly served as head coach there. Nations is employed by an oil company in Midland. Stewart died in action during World War II. Miller is associated with General Electric in the state of New York.

Bethell, a star ball carrier in his day, is a foreman at Webb AFB. Aldredge's whereabouts are unknown.

Howard's address is not known here. Presley resides in Oregon. Walker coached for a while but is now associated with Walker Drilling Co., here.

ACTIVE SUPPORTER

Davidson still resides here and remains one of the Steers' most devoted fans and is a worker in the Quarterback Club. He farms an estimated 700 acres north of Cosden. Rowe was head coach at Wink at one time but now lives in Odessa.

Brummett is deceased. Graves is currently a U.S. Marshall, now stationed in El Paso. Ernest Bostick reportedly lives in Hobbs, N.M., where he is employed in the oil fields. Shaw resides in Dallas.

Suggs reportedly is teaching school somewhere in West Texas. Evans' whereabouts are unknown. Gartman resides here, is employed by Cosden and has been very active in youth baseball. He raised two sons to be BSHS football players.

Priest is a sales representative for Texas Electric here. Battle, a one-time coach (at Snyder) is now associated with the Midland schools. Kasch is a general contractor now residing in Stephenville.

Savage became perhaps the most successful high school coach in the history of Des Moines, Iowa, where he still resides. He reportedly was to become an elementary principal there after retiring as a mentor.

Blount later became a fine pass receiver for the University of Texas, where he played with Bobby Layne, and took part in one Cotton Bowl game. He beat SMU and Doak Walker one year with a sensational pass reception. He was a member of the state legislature at one time and now is a practicing attorney in Longview. He officiated in the American Football League for several years.

ONCE IN NFL
Hardy is associated with a telephone company in Ohio. Campbell is said to be residing in New Mexico. Patton once played with the Philadelphia Eagles when they won the NFL title and now is a PE instructor in the local schools. His son, Johnny, completed his football eligibility here last season. Cliff played in the Texas Coaches' Association all-star game after completing his eligibility here and became one of pro football's noted place kickers.

Pyle is residing in San Diego, Calif., where he reportedly is with a telephone company. Not shown were Charles Buckner, now owner of a used car lot here; Jack Woods, Jack Nichols and Winslet Nance, other members of the club. Woods is employed by Montgomery Ward here. Nichols is no longer here. Nance resides in Longview, where he sometimes hashes up old times with Blount.

Both Blount and Nance had sons who were football stars in their own right for Longview High School.

An assistant coach on the team that year was John Daniel, who now is in business in Weatherford.

Banquet Speaker Once A Coach

Bob Wright, chief speaker for the Quarterback Club Football banquet honoring the 1969 Big Spring High School football team here Monday night, comes from a noted football family.

A native of Ballinger, he composes one-third of a coaching family of father and sons.

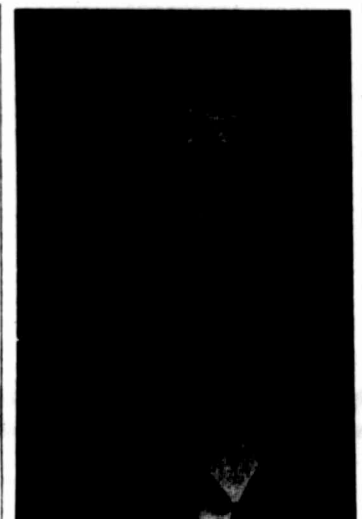

His father was Pooch Wright, a star for Howard Payne in the early 1920's and later one of the state's best known coaches.

Another son (Bob's brother) now coaches in Brownwood.

Bob graduated from Howard Payne in 1949, after serving in Europe during World War II. Upon graduation he served as line coach at Olney for two years. In 1951 he moved to Brownwood High School where he coached for five years.

In 1956 his alma later lured him from the high school and he stayed at Howard Payne College for four years. Next was his old home-town of Ballinger, where he was quarterback on one of his father's regional championship teams in 42. Bob moved from Ballinger in 1965 to become the head coach at Cleburne, where he won one zone championship.

His eight year record as head coach reads 58 wins against 23 losses and one tie. This includes district championships in four of the eight years.

Bob and his wife, Tylene, have three children. A son, Robert, 18, and two daughters, Nilah 14, and Jaime 11.

In January, 1968, Wright moved to Austin to assume duties in the Texas Coaches' Association Office.

Wright is a well known high school sports banquet and student assembly speaker, and has served as keynote speaker for the Texas High School Coaches' Association Clinic on two different occasions, and in 1967 was guest speaker for the National High School Football Coaches' Clinic in Houston.

More than 300 persons are expected to attend the banquet, scheduled to start at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria.

Several awards will be given out during the party. Master of ceremonies will be Jim Baum. Tickets, priced at $2.50 each, will be available at the door.

MEN - WOMEN age 18 and over. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.
Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.
But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of five pass.
Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.
For FREE booklet on Government jobs, including list of positions and salaries, fill out coupon and mail it today.
You will also get full details on how you can prepare yourself for these tests.

MRS. JERRY SPENCE, president of the Wednesday Night Dance Club, chose this sparkling evening pants suit Friday evening when her club joined the Cotillion Dance Club for a holiday ball at Cosden Country Club. The suit, of white and silver lace, is banded on the wide sleeves and neckline of the tunic top with silver braid touched with rhinestones. Sparkling drop earrings and silver slippers complete the costume.

MRS. RICHARD CASSELL, president of the Officers Wives Club, wore sharply contrasting black and silver when the club sponsored its annual dance at Webb Air Force Base. Black velvet forms the bodice of her Empire gown, and the soft fullness of the skirt features rich metallic fabric in silver and black. Silver slippers and winter white gloves complete her attire.

MRS. GEORGE McALISTER JR., president of the Cotillion Dance Club, wore high-fashion black crepe when the Les Elgart Orchestra played Friday at Cosden Country Club. The sleeveless dropped-waist bodice is bordered at the neckline with rhinestone braid extending to the pleated chiffon skirt which ends in a ruffled flair. The rhinestone accents are repeated on her slippers and black evening bag.

MRS. DEARL D. PITTMAN, whose husband is president of the ABClub, preferred a street-length black crepe dress for the club's Christmas dance at Big Spring Country Club. Cut on princess lines, the dress is fashioned with rounded neckline, open-work sleeves and a row of looped buttons at the front. Its single ornament is a rhinestone pin, and her accessories are black.

MRS. N. R. HOLCOMB, social chairman of Alpha Chi Chapter, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, assisted in greeting guests at the sorority dance Saturday evening at Big Spring Country Club. Bright as a Christmas bauble was the red of her soft chiffon dress, styled with natural waistline and tiered skirt. Finishing touches were the gold necklace and slippers and formal white gloves.

MRS. JIMMIE JENNINGS, whose husband is president of the Kouples Dance Club, will wear holiday green in this pleated crepe tunic and pants ensemble when the club holds its holiday formal Dec. 20 at Big Spring Country Club. Sash-belted, the tunic is accented with gold chain necklaces and gold slippers.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1969

'Unusual', To Say The Least

By JO BRIGHT

Jody Don Reid and Douglas Scott Ernest were honored Tuesday with a party in the Texas Electric Reddy Room where they were joined by about 30 family members as the youngsters celebrated their second birthdays.

Jody is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Reid, Route One, Big Spring and Douglas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Ernest, 1406 Tucson. Their mothers are sisters, and each boy is the first, and so far only, child of his parents. That, in itself, is not surprising. A little more rare is the fact that they were born on the same day, in different towns, but most unusual is the fact that their maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Berton Mason were in the waiting room when both were born.

On Dec. 8, 1967, Jody's mother, Mrs. Reid, was checked into Cowper Clinic & Hospital, but the doctor told the Masons that the baby would not be born until the following day. At about the same time, the Mason's other daughter, Mrs. Ernest, called them from Austin to relay the news that she was going to the hospital. Two hours later, the Masons began driving to Austin, arriving well into the night at Seton Hospital where Scott was born at 2:29 a.m., weighing eight pounds, 1 ounce.

Having welcomed one new grandchild, the Masons left Austin at 1 p.m., the same day, arriving back in Big Spring about 6 p.m. to be on hand when Jody was born at 7:53 p.m., weighing 9 pounds, 9 ounces.

Fashions Show Fairy-Tale Charm

What's in right now is the feeling of fun, romance, nostalgia, theatrical flamboyance and fairy-tale charm.

Leading newsmakers include the Dr. Zhivago-look of tall furry hats and cossack coats with hems flouncing down over boots to the new mid-length, swaggering capes and jabots, the little orphan-look of prim black schoolgirl dresses with black tights and a small touch of white or the international look of kilts and Irish sweaters.

Altrusans Meet In Blue Room

Mrs. Loyd Wooten presented the program, "Is There A Santa Claus?" including "The Christmas Spirit" written by E. C. Baird, at Thursday's Altrusa Club Christmas dinner in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club.

The group sang Christmas carols, and gifts were exchanged from a lighted tree. The table was laid with a white cloth and decorated with miniature Christmas trees, holly and red candles.

Mrs. G. C. Broughton Jr., president, introduced four guests, Miss Lila Richbourg, Mrs. Sol Bledsoe, Lt. Col. Lena Parrish and Miss Shirley Ray.

A luncheon meeting was held by the club earlier at Coker's Restaurant. Mrs. A. O. Vanderford was welcomed as a new member, and was appointed to the community service committee. Mrs. Broughton presided, announcing that Mrs. Houston Cowden will assist with the Christmas party Tuesday at Big Spring State Hospital.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Jones, 2404 Carleton, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Joyce, to Airman 1. C. Richard A. Whitsell of Webb Air Force Base. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Whitsell of Granite City, Ill. The couple plans to marry Jan. 16 at Baptist Temple, with the Rev. James A. Puckett officiating.

City HD Club Has Holiday Luncheon

Mrs. A. C. James, Sterling City Route, was hostess for a Christmas luncheon Friday for the City Home Demonstration Club. Cohostesses were Mrs. M. E. Anderson, Mrs. M. F. Hodnett, Mrs. Grady McCrary and Mrs. A. W. Page.

Mrs. Carl Gum, president, read the Optimist Creed as the invocation. She introduced three guests, Mrs. Cleo C. Wilson, Mrs. Delaine Crawford and Mrs. J. W. Jones.

The table was laid with a red cloth and centered with a red and green holiday centerpiece. The entertaining rooms were decorated in red and green.

Mrs. H. P. Wooten won the hostsess gift.

The next meeting will be Jan. 9 in the home of Mrs. Ervin Daniels, 1310 Johnson.

Holds Yule Party

Mrs. Gary Seidenberger was hostess for the Lees Home Demonstration Club Christmas party Tuesday in her home. Each member brought her favorite Christmas food, and gifts were exchanged.

MRS. BRYAN F. CARPENTER

Miss Akker Marries Bryan F. Carpenter

Miss Gwendolyn Akker became the bride of Lt. Bryan Frank Carpenter Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Webb Air Force Base chapel. Lt. Col. Charles Caudill of Randolph Air Force Base performed the nuptial service before an altar adorned with arrangements of white chrysanthemums, gladioli, a Bible and twin candles. Flanking the altar were arrangements of chrysanthemums, and tall candelabra held votive tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Alida Akker, Grand Rapids, Mich., and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Mert Carpenter of Franklin, Mich.

Traditional wedding selections were played throughout the ceremony by Mrs. William F. Martin, organist.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of bridal satin designed in a fitted A-line with stand-up collar, and bouffant Victorian sleeves accented with wide buttoned cuffs. The front panel and sleeves were enhanced with brocade ribbon lace, and the chapel-length train fell from an inverted pleat. Her floor-length silk illusion veil was trimmed with a satin band, and she carried a cascade of red roses centered with white orchids and showered in matching satin and velvet ribbon.

Mrs. Noel Dahlander was matron of honor, and Mrs. Claude Barnhart was brides-matron. Both were attired in floor-length red velvet skirts with pink satin bodices and carried pink nosegays of chrysanthemums.

After the ceremony, the couple partook of Holy Communion.

A reception was held in the Fireside Room of the Officers Open Mess where the refreshment table was laid with a white cloth and centered with an arrangement of red and white roses. The tiered wedding cake was topped with white and red confection roses, and a champagne fountain was at one end of the table. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

The couple will be at home at Eglin AFB in Florida, following a wedding trip to Michigan.

WEBB WINDSOCK

By MRS. JOHN MACKE

'Tis the season to be sharing, and three of Webb's student classes have taken it to heart. Class 70-05 wives gave of themselves and their time to entertain patients from Big Spring State Hospital. Following luncheon at the Officers Open Mess, the nine guests were taken on a tour of the base. Reward came in the offer of a reciprocal tour of the hospital to the five volunteering wives; Mrs. Brian Fields, Mrs. Harold Shimek, Mrs. Ernest Schultz, Mrs. Thomas Kase and Mrs. Robert Hughes.

Even the bachelors of class 70-06 have joined in the class "adoption" of a needy family. Sewing machines are humming, and lots of shopping is being done for food and toys. The food committee, meanwhile, is helping plan wholesome menus for the entire holiday season.

The wives of class 70-07 gathered used clothing for the Salvation Army, and added to it a cash donation of $50 for the Cheer Fund.

Happiness is going home, then why that furrowed brow? You fear you will forget your skates? Here's a reminder, now: Don't forget to pack those ice skates, Mrs. T. L. Albers!

Capt. and Mrs. D. W. Van Tilborg's holidays in Kansas should be a very special treat for their young son. It will be his first Christmas with his grandparents.

The state of Kansas will be richer by two other Webbits returning there for the holidays. They are Lt. and Mrs. Fred C. Boger, who will visit their parents in Great Bend and Dodge City, respectively.

Come to the stable, and learn to ride; so they went to the stable and found no horses. Fifteen enthusiastic wives joined the horseback riding class instructed by Mrs. Edwin V. Newcomer. Assured of the use of a small string of horses, they found on their first ride that all but five had been sold, a number which quickly dwindled to three. The classes, quite naturally, came to an end. There is hope that a new string may be available by next spring. If this hope becomes a fact, new classes will be formed at that time under the instructorship of Mrs. David K. Lynn.

Appropriate for the season is the Christmas program being presented this evening at 7:30 p.m. at the base chapel. Three choirs will be featured, along with Sunday school students ranging in age from three years to those who would rather not say. Under the title, "Who Will Be Vessel?", it will incorporate traditional and folk Christmas songs, recitations, and congregational singing of carols. Better get your vocal chords in tune.

Sixth Grade Students Give Holiday Program

Sixth grade students at Airport Elementary School presented a Christmas program Thursday, under the direction of Mrs. Raymond Stevenson, for the Parent-Teacher Association.

Entitled "If I Had One Wish," the play was written by pupils of Mrs. L. A. Webb and J. L. Rankin. The cast consisted of Russalee Long, Charles Campbell and Ronald Schultz.

Depicting different countries around the world were Karen Hopkins, Carmen Risitter and Crain Pearson, Scandinavia; Timmy Cain and Richard Battle, British Isles; Oliver DelBosque, David Buchanan and Roger Paige, Western Europe; Cheryl Tolson, Italy; Kenneth Sisco, Spain; Bryan Sellers, Scott Goodblanket and Bobby Sargent, Eastern Europe; Anchala Owey, Asia; and Josephine Dominguez and Michael Valenzuela, Mexico. The choir consisted of fifth and sixth grade students.

Rankin gave the devotion, "The Unanswered Question." Cub Scouts from Den Three, Pack One, presented the flags and led the group in the Pledge of Allegiance.

The PTA will purchase fruit, nuts and candy to fill Christmas stockings for every child in the school. Plans were made to complete the Airport park-playground and purchase playground equipment, trees and shrubs as this year's PTA project. A set of six swings has been ordered and will be installed upon arrival. It was announced that more see-saws are needed for the playground.

Room count was won by Mrs. L. A. Webb's sixth grade class, and Richard Burrow won the door prize.

The next meeting will be at 3:30 p.m., Jan. 8, with Mrs. Jack Alexander as guest speaker. On Jan. 12, a film on narcotics will be shown by the Big Spring Police Department. All parents and children were urged to see the film.

PE Staff Hosts Coffee At College

The fourth annual Christmas coffee sponsored by the Howard County Junior College Physical Education Department staff was held from 9:30 to 11 a.m. Friday in the college gymnasium.

Hosts were Jerry Dudley and D. E. (Buddy) Travis; hostesses were Miss Anna Smith and Miss Wanda Ferguson, all physical education instructors at HCJC.

Serving were Brenda Ingram, a freshman from Ackerly and Jamie Lou Brady, a sophomore from Colorado City. Background music at the piano was provided by Ayn McGlothlin, and Elicia Keele, both of Big Spring.

The refreshment table in the gym foyer was decked with a colorful holiday cloth and centered with a large red candle in a cut glass holder. Above the serving table was a large Christmas mural, featuring angels, candles and the greeting "Merry Christmas."

Couple Recites Vows In Baptist Ceremony

Miss Lariece Ann Root became the bride of Dana Lee Craven Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in Trinity Baptist Church.

The altar was adorned with twin baskets of white chrysanthemums flanked by candelabra and palm trees.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Griffin, 1002 E. 14th, and parents of the bridegroom are Rev. and Mrs. Claude Craven, 808 Birdwell.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Craven.

Mrs. Leonard Moody, sister of the bridegroom, was organist, accompanying Leonard Moody as he sang "More," "The Twelfth of Never," "When I Fall In Love," "Whither Thou Goest," and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride was attired in a Chantilly lace dress designed with an Empire bodice with self band at the waistline, forming a redingote effect. The Sabrina neckline was scalloped, and the long sleeves formed petal points over the hands. Her chapel-length lace train fell in tiers, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Richard Dills, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Kathy Byram of Midland, Miss Barbara Long and Miss Lila Williams. All were attired in royal blue velvet dresses, designed with puffed sleeves, and carried white chrysanthemums with long white streamers.

Richard Craven, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Sgt. David Valleau of Webb Air Force Base and Mike McMillan of Fort Worth. Groomsmen were Joe Schalk, Richard Dills, and Jimmy Belew, the latter of Fort Worth.

Londa Moody, the flower girl, wore a royal blue dress with white lace puffed sleeves. Richard Dills was ring bearer, and altar tapers were lighted by Bobby Beasley and Earl Murry.

RECEPTION

A reception was held in the fellowship hall where the refreshment table was laid with a white lace cloth centered with white chrysanthemums and gladioli. The three-tiered wedding cake was trimmed with blue confection, and crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Mrs. Joe Schalk, sister of the bridegroom, registered guests. Others in the house party were Mrs. Ruth Hampton, Mrs. Paul Beasley, Mrs. Bill Swindell and Mrs. Buck Byram.

Out-of-town guests were Charlie Reaves of Killeen, grandfather of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Buck Byram of Midland.

Both the bride and bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School. He attended Arlington Baptist Seminary and is presently employed by T&P Railway.

For the wedding trip, the bride chose a black and purple wool dress with long puffed sleeves and a high neckline accented with buttons.

Mr. and Mrs. Craven will make their home at 902 E. 12th.

Class Party Held By Homemakers

The Homemakers Class of First Baptist Church held a holiday dinner party Thursday evening in the home of Mrs. O. S. Womack, 1601 Tucson. Co-hostesses were Mrs. W. O. Moore, Mrs. Ruler Jones and Mrs. J. W. Greene.

Mrs. Edwin Greer, class teacher, recited the Christmas story, and the group sang carols. Money and food were brought to present to a needy family.

Prayers were worded by Mrs. Charles Sweeney and Mrs. Billy Smith.

The table was decorated with gold and green, and the entertaining area was highlighted by a gold and green Christmas tree. Gifts were exchanged.

Three guests attended.

MRS. ELMER LYNN CATRON

Elmer Lynn Catrons Residing In Amarillo

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lynn Catron are at home at 312 E. 23rd, Amarillo, following their marriage Dec. 6 in Pleasant Valley Pentecostal Church of God in Amarillo. The Rev. and Mrs. E. F. Patton officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the former Miss Connie Lynn Wood, daughter of John Wood of Coahoma, and Mrs. David Gill of Fort Worth. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Catron, Amarillo.

The bride was attired in a dress of white satin overlaid with silk illusion designed with layers of lace trim. The fitted bodice was styled with stand-up collar and the long fitted sleeves came to petal points over the hands. The back skirt formed a chapel-length train.

Boydston Pupils Present Program

Mrs. Curtis Compton, music teacher at Boydston Elementary School, presented sixth grade students in a musical program at Thursday's meeting of the Boydston Parent-Teacher Association.

The theme of the program was "Picture Portrait Time, 1969." The teachers are Mrs. Geraldine Martin and Miss Audrey Arnold.

A young people's group from the First Assembly of God sang a selection of hymns. Those performing were Sharon Farmer, Esther Dennis and June Scott, accompanied by Mrs. Shirley Ryans.

New Slate Named By Sew And Chatter Club

Mrs. C. M. Weaver was elected president of the Sew and Chatter Club during a holiday party and business session held Wednesday evening in the home of Mrs. S. R. Nobles, 405 Washington.

and Mrs. Hollis Webb, reporter. A review was presented of the club accomplishments during the past year. As a group, the women have sewn five comforts for needy families, made 56 pitcher pads for the Veterans Administration Hospital, wrapped 56 gift boxes for Big Spring State Hospital and contributed to the Bible, Cheer and Heart funds as well as the March of Dimes.

A salad supper was served from a table covered with a green cloth and centered with a holiday arrangement flanked by red candles.

Press Pattern

Many a good pattern is ruined by the careless way it is stuffed in the envelope.

If you take a few extra moments to press the pattern carefully with a lukewarm iron and then fold it neatly, it will fit in the envelope without crowding.

Bride-Elect Is Shower Honoree

A bridal shower was given for Linda Hamlin, bride-elect of Lt. Raymond E. Kellogg, in the home of Mrs. Richard Grove, 700 Lorilla, Friday from 7 to 9 p.m.

sented a corsage of red and white, depicting her chosen colors.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a red cloth overlaid with a lace cloth, and the centerpiece consisted of a Christmas arrangement of candles, pine cones and holly. The cake was decorated in red and white with miniature wedding bells and the names, "Linda and Ray," inscribed on top. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

The hostesses, Mrs. Grove and Miss Baula Smyre, presented the honoree with towels and a toaster.

Miss Hamlin will be married in Ruidoso, N.M., Dec. 20, with the Rev. Leon Bruce, pastor of the First Baptist Church officiating. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Hamlin of Ruidoso and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Kellogg of Los Angeles, Calif. Miss Hamlin is the niece of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cain, 702 Lorilla, with whom she resides.

TEL Class Holds Holiday Luncheon

The TEL Sunday school class of the First Baptist Church of Coahoma held a Christmas luncheon Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Robinson. Mrs. C. J. Engle presided, and prayer was worded by Mrs. G. W. Graham. The class adopted Psalms 51:10 as the class scripture. The next meeting will be Jan. 22 in the home of Mrs. J. R. Orr.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Giving is the spirit of Christmas and down Garden City way Bill Cook, 20, gives all those about him a real feeling of Christmas by sharing the results of his hobby with residents of the town where he lives.

Every year since he was a youngster, Bill has decorated the home of his parents, MR. and MRS. JACK COOK, at the Christmas season and it makes a colorful showing at the end of the boulevard, tho' Garden City streets are not named or the houses numbered.

Last year Bill hit upon the idea of taking pictures of all the town's youngsters, infants through the sixth grade. He then projected them on a large screen set up in front of the house. This year he added another innovation — when he took the pictures he taped the kiddos greetings to be played along with the showing of his or her picture. He sits inside of the house and delights in giving his show each evening from 6:30 until 7:30. To add to the season's atmosphere he also shows Christmas scenes and plays Christmas music.

To say the novel idea is popular is the understatement of the year according to MRS. RONALD McDANIEL, a Garden City resident. She says that the mamas, papas, grandmothers, grandfathers, brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles and all their friends await eagerly the showing of the current prides and joys.

Bill is a student at Howard County Junior College and works as a photographer for the publications there.

Right next to Santa Claus he is probably the most popular man in Garden City at this time of year.

MRS. L. D. JENKINS writes from Lubbock that her husband, Leslie, who has been in the Methodist Hospital for a month is progressing slowly but steadily now. The family appreciates the cards that have been sent and the prayers that have been offered during this trying time.

Mrs. Jenkins is staying at Cabin 5, Country Inn Motel 4105 19th Street, Lubbock, 79410.

Good to have another Christmas greeting for those longtime friends, AL and ANN DILLON who live in Irving. He has retired again, this time because of health reasons. . . MRS. ELLEN EUDY who now lives in Arlington says she has recently visited the large drugstore in Irving operated by former Big Springers, WAYNE and NORMAN GOUND and feels good to have a former hometown as her druggist again. She keeps up with the doings here through The Herald courtesy of the GEORGE MONTGOMERY who pass on their copies.

If you are around and about these days you most likely will see Santa giving customers candy in the various shopping centers and stores . . . and if you look quick you just may get a look at the 'right jolly old elf' whizzing away on a motorcycle or motor bike or whatever that two-wheeled conveyance is. But I'm sure it is Santa that's riding it . . . long heard and all.

R. M. 2 and MRS. JOHN CONE and daughter, KELLI PAIGE, of San Diego, Calif., will spend the holidays with his parents, MR. and MRS. ROSCOE CONE, 2609 Carol. They will remain following the New Year, and he will return to duty in Vietnam in January. While here, they will visit Mrs. John Cone's grandmother, Mrs. Oma Brown Lowry, 1406 Eleventh Place. Other Christmas guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Roy Paige of Corpus Christi and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Paige and daughter, Stacey, of Houston. All will spend Christmas in the Cone home.

Musical Review Slated At Webb

Get set for a little, bit of Broadway! "The Red Stocking Review," a musical production to be held next February, will be offered to assist the local United Fund goal.

Sponsored by the Officers Wives Club, it will be a joint project of Big Spring civilians and military personnel. A New York firm will produce the extravaganza, providing costumes, props and an experienced director.

Anyone interested in working with this production (acting talent is not being sought at this time) may call Mrs. W. D. R. Lund, general chairman, at 267-5086.

John Wesley Deats Will Play In Recital

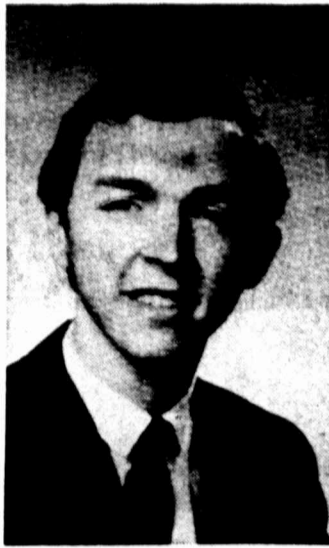

John Wesley Deats, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Deats, 702 Tulane, will be featured today during a recital at Dallas of the piano students of Larry Walt of North Texas University.

The recital will be held at the Museum of Fine Arts where Deats will play "Gigue" from the French Suite by Johann Sebastian Bach. Mr. and Mrs. Deats and their daughter, Annabeth, will attend the recital.

Deats is a graduate of Big Spring High School where he received his music diploma and was a member of the National Honor Society and president of the French Club, as well as representative of the school for Interscholastic League competition in the field of government.

For two years, he was a member of the Steer Band, which he received several honors and was chosen to play in the All State Orchestra at the Texas Music Association meeting in Houston. He won a first place in the National Piano Auditions sponsored by the National Guild of Piano Teachers and took first place in his division in the Pauline Slater Concerto Competition sponsored by the Odessa Music Teachers Association.

In 1967, Deats attended the Rocky Ridge Music Camp at Estes Park, Colo., and studied under Beth Miller Harrod, noted concert artist and teacher. Locally, he was a student of Mrs. Ann Gibson Houser.

MR. AND MRS. B. N. BOROUGHTS

Couple To Be Feted Today

Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Boroughts, 2903 Clanton, will observe their 40th wedding anniversary from 2 to 4 p.m. today at the First Federal Community Room. All friends and relatives are invited to call during the afternoon.

Hosts for the affair will be the couple's sons-in-law and daughters. They are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond (Mona) Chaffin, Loop; Mr. and Mrs. Charles (Melba) Camp, Midway Road; Mr. and Mrs. William (Sally) Roger Sr., Big Spring; and Mr. and Mrs. Gary (Beverly) Holeman, Denver City.

Mrs. Boroughts will wear a black dress designed with rolled collar and trimmed in black and silver buttons. She will be presented a corsage of red roses, and Mr. Boroughts will receive a red rose boutonniere.

The refreshment table will be laid with a white crocheted cloth over red satin and centered with white wedding bells inscribed with the dates 1929-1969 and topped with a red net bow. The cake will be placed in front of a tall arrangement of poinsettias with a red "40" emblem in the center. Flanking the arrangement will be milk glass candleholders holding red tapers.

The registry will be decorated with streamers of small poinsettias, and arrangements of red carnations will mark focal points in the entertaining rooms.

Miss Brenda Chaffin, the couple's oldest granddaughter, will preside at the register. Others in the house party will be Mrs. Don Staben, Mrs. Ruth Wisenbaker, Mrs. A. B. Williams, sister of the honoree, and Mrs. Russell Stephens, the latter two of Plains, and Mrs. Joe Roberts of Welch.

The couple met while attending church in the Lou school building near Welch. They were married in the Bryant Street Church in Lamesa, Dec. 1, 1929, and lived in Yukon County the first year of their marriage. He was a farmer for about five years and then was employed in a cotton gin. In 1942, the couple moved to Big Spring, where he was a brakeman for the T&P Railway until retirement two years ago.

Mr. Boroughts is a member of Masonic Lodge No. 1340 and the Trainmen Lodge, and his wife belongs to the Fairview Home Demonstration Club and Vovete Sunday school class. Both are members of the West-side Baptist Church.

Coffee Held To Honor Scout Exec

A farewell coffee was held recently in the home of Mrs. Bill Fryrear of Coahoma for Miss Celia Fowler, field advisor in this area for the West Texas Girl Scout Council.

The serving table, covered with a red net overlay trimmed with red felt bells, was appointed with a silver tea service. Hostesses were Mrs. Fryrear, Mrs. Betty Padden, Mrs. Allan Brown, Mrs. Tom Ivey and Mrs. Rex Martin.

Miss Fowler will become executive director of the Quivira Council, headquartered in Pampa. She has had an active career in Girl Scouts and previously served Quivira Council as a camping coordinator and field advisor.

For the past two years, she has served in Big Spring.

Miss Fowler graduated from Pampa High School and attended Texas Women's University where she received a degree in sociology. She formerly worked for the Denton State School and did social work for the Goodwill Industries at Dallas where she counseled, interviewed and worked with handicapped adults.

She was a delegate to the National Girl Scout Council meeting at Seattle in October.

Miss Arlene Estes, new advisor for the Big Spring area, will assume duties Jan. 4.

Bride-Elect Honored At Gift Party

Miss Diana Rodman, bride-elect of Curtis Barnes, was complimented with a gift party Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Edward Slate, 1301 Mulberry. Miss Halena Wozencraft was cohostess.

The honoree was joined by her mother, Mrs. Robert Rodman, in receiving guests.

The refreshment table was laid with an ebru lace cloth and centered with a bridal tree of mesquite trimmed with flowers, a miniature bridal couple and rice bags in her chosen colors of yellow and avocado.

The hostesses presented the honoree with a gift of lingerie. The couple will marry Dec. 27 in St. Paul Presbyterian Church.

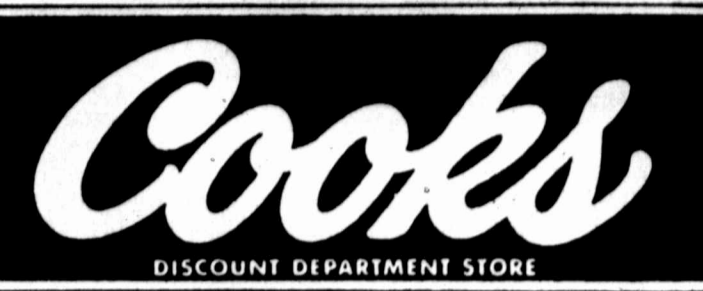

WMS Honored At Christmas Party

The Women's Missionary Society of the First Church of God was honored with a Christmas program and party Friday in the home of Mrs. Forrest Robinson, 2001 Main. Mrs. Bill Thomson was cohostess.

Mrs. Thomson gave the program, "Christmas Is A Mood Of Love." She noted that loving means giving, sharing and accepting responsibility. Others on the program were Mrs. Terry Walton, Miss Anna Smith, Miss Kelly Fuller, Miss Arach Phillips, Mrs. F. T. Hickman and Mrs. William Tucker.

Mrs. Paul Chappell read the Christmas story and directed the singing of carols. Prayers were worded by Mrs. Robinson and Mrs. J. D. Jenkins.

MRS. ROY JOHN CASAVANT (Curley's Studio)

Sacred Heart Church Scene Of Ceremony

The wedding of Miss Senida Aguilar and Airman I.C. Roy John Casavant was solemnized Thursday morning at Sacred Heart Catholic Church with the Rev. James Delaney performing the ceremony. The church choir sang "Ave Maria" and "Forever Yours," and the altar setting was enhanced with arrangements of white carnations and greenery.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aguilar, 1208 Blackmon, and Mr. and Mrs. Gedeon E. Casavant of Tarrington, Conn.

The bride was attired in a wedding gown of white satin with white lace overlaid on the bodice and forming the long tapered sleeves. Seed pearls enhanced the bodice and outlined her shoulder-length lace veil, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with white streamers.

Mrs. John Morelon served as bridesmatron, and the bridesmaid was Miss Irene Carasco. John Morelon was best man, and groomsmen was Jim Borders.

After the ceremony, the newlyweds were honored at a reception in the home of the bride's parents. The refreshments were served from a table covered with a satin and lace cloth and centered with a tiered white cake topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Airman and Mrs. Casavant planned a wedding trip to Tarrington, and for traveling, she chose a green suit with black accessories. Upon returning, the couple will reside at Southland Apartments.

Hawk Players Give Christmas Program

Dan Shockey, drama instructor at Howard County Junior College, presented the HCJC Hawk Players in reading of "The Christmas Carol" by Charles Dickens at Tuesday's meeting of the Kentwood Parent-Teacher Association. Mrs. Shockey, PTA program director, introduced her husband.

Webelo Den Two, Pack 179, performed the flag ceremony, and the invocation was by the Rev. R. Bartlett Mills, pastor at Midway Baptist Church.

Mrs. Paschal Odom was the presiding officer, and Mrs. David Hodnett, PTA city council president, told of the recent state convention in San Antonio. The treasurer reported a total of $368.10 sold in savings stamps.

Room count was won by Mrs. Charles Phillips' first grade class, and refreshments were served by mothers of students in Mrs. J. W. Speegle and Mrs. Ray Cantrell's third grade classes.

The next meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 13.

Modern Woman's Forum Has Christmas Program

Mrs. Fred Whitaker presented the program, "Christmas in Story and Song," at Friday's luncheon for the Modern Woman's Forum in the home of Mrs. S. R. Nobles, 405 Washington.

Mrs. Whitaker gave a history of early festivities and symbols used in celebrating Christmas. She told the story of St. Francis of Assisi, who in 1223 directed the first nativity scene in Italy using live actors. She noted that "Santa Claus," as we now know him, was begun by a man known as Saint Nicholas, who inherited a fortune. His first act of giving gifts was Dec. 6, the date of his birth, and he helped a poor farmer provide a dowry for his three daughters. Later, he used his money to help the unfortunate and became the "Santa Claus" of his time. He was born in Patras, Asia Minor.

Mrs. Whitaker discussed other symbols including the use of bells, candles, caroling and Christmas trees. It was not until the 18th century that people started decorating Christmas trees.

Mrs. W. A. Laswell sang Christmas carols at appropriate moments during the program. A white Christmas tree trimmed with red ornaments highlighted the entertaining room, and gifts were exchanged.

Mrs. Harwood Keith gave the invocation. The next meeting will be Jan. 9 in Coker's Restaurant.

Christmas Dinner

The Jaycee-Elte officers hosted a dinner party and dance Friday evening at the Holiday Inn. The entertaining rooms were highlighted by a silver Christmas tree decorated with red ornaments. Gifts were exchanged. The dining tables were laid with gold linen cloths and centered with arrangements of holly flanked by red candles.

Planters Club Has Luncheon

Mrs. E. O. Sanderson, 819 W. 7th, hosted a Christmas luncheon and gift exchange Wednesday for the Planters Garden Club. The buffet table was laid with white linen and accented with a holiday centerpiece.

The 14 attending answered roll call by naming their favorite "Christmas greens."

Mrs. Paul Guy presided appointing a nominating committee comprised of Mrs. H. O. Murphy, chairman; Mrs. Luke Fortenberry and Mrs. R. E. Gregory. Officers will be elected at the Jan. 14 meeting in the Murphy home at 700 E. 12th at 2 p.m.

Tentative plans were made for a spring flower show. The program, given by Mrs. S. P. Jones, concerned the legends and symbols of Christmas. She told stories of the white rose, Christmas cactus, poinsettias, honeysuckle and "Flower of the Holy Night." In conclusion, she spoke briefly on trees of the Holy Land.

Is Winner Of Beauty Title

Mrs. Reuben Reavis was the times of religious pilgrimages, the faithful Hindus travel to the temples, remaining for several days, and are provided with food as well as a water supply for bathing and washing their clothes.

During the business session, it was announced that the chapter will join Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi to help with a Christmas party Dec. 16 at Big Spring State Hospital.

On Dec. 14 the chapter will decorate a tree in the lobby of the Veterans Administration Hospital. Reservations were turned in for the dance which was held Saturday evening at Big Spring Country Club. Mrs. Bill Adams and Mrs. Bob Oliver will serve coffee Jan. 5 at the VA Hospital, and the next regular meeting will be Jan. 8 in the home of Mrs. George Anderson, 615 Tulane.

High Tallies Told In Duplicate Play

Winners in Friday's duplicate bridge play at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Hudson Landers, first; Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, second; Mrs. Aya McGann and Mrs. Bera Reneau, third; Mrs. Joe Herbert and George Pike, fourth; Mrs. Ray McMahan and Mrs. D. A. Brazel, fifth.

There will not be games played on Christmas Eve or New Year's Eve. Games will be played Dec. 17 and Dec. 19, and no more games will be scheduled until after Jan. 1. The club championship game will be played Jan. 9.

Residents Asked To Give $1 For 15 Agencies

During this holiday season, annual United Fund campaign will reach its goal for the first time in a number of years, according to Clyde McMahon Jr., president. The formal campaign wound up just $6,000 shy of the $110,000 goal, he explained, and the leaders feel that Big Springers want the 15 agencies to continue their welfare and youth guidance work.

At a meeting with the news media Friday, McMahon asked their help in publicizing "United Fund Victory Day" for Thursday. Residents are asked to mail in $1 gifts, or bring them by the UF office, or call 267-5201 and a worker will come to pick them up.

The city's radio stations will keep tabs throughout the day on the progress of the effort, McMahon said, and "we feel this relatively small amount can be brought in if all residents will participate."

McMahon explained that the goal of the United Fund was only $110,000, whereas the 15 agencies had requested a total of $130,924. This means, he said, "we must reach our goal to give them the bare minimum needed to provide the services most of us expect."

The agencies sharing in the United Fund campaign, and their allotment, includes: YMCA, $16,500; Lakeview YWCA, $6,000; Girl Scouts, $7,200; Salvation Army, $17,000; Westside Recreation Center, $1,800; Summer Recreation Program, $1,175; Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, $10,500; Boy Scouts, $13,600; Texas United Fund, $300; Milk and Medicine Fund, $2,400; Red Cross, $15,000; Texas Rehabilitation Center, $500; Air Force Aid Society, $2,750; Halfway House, $300; and USO, $1,000.

There will be a turkey dinner, a program featuring Kenn Eastin, magician, plus Christmas songs and the arrival of Santa Claus to distribute gifts. Shriners and their wives will call around 11:30 a.m. to pick up their young guests and hope to have them back home by 1:30 p.m., said Brazel.

The club renewed its appeal to parents to call in if their child has not received an invitation. Every effort has been made to get a complete list, and the last thing that Shriners would not want to happen is for any handicapped child to be overlooked.

A reminder to parents of handicapped children: If you have not responded to the invitation to your child for the Big Spring Shrine Club's annual Christmas party, please call D. A. Brazel (267-5873) by Monday if at all possible.

The Shriners, with Brazel as chairman of the project, will give their annual party to handicapped children Saturday noon at Cosden Country Club. Right now, they need to know who can come.

A Devotion For Today . . .

When they saw the star, they rejoiced with exceeding great joy. (Matthew 2:10)

PRAYER: Our Father God, as we approach the birth-day of Thy Son, our Savior, enable us to so attune our hearts that we, too, may hear the angels sing. Grant us vision that we may behold the Savior and dedicate all we are and have to Him. Amen.

One Day—And A Fruitful Year

Thursday has been set as United Fund Victory Day in Big Spring and Howard County.

As things now stand, the UF, which is the life blood for more than a dozen agencies, is about $6,000 short of its goal.

V-Day has as its immediate target persuading 6,000 people to give at least a dollar each.

That's not much to ask, especially when you figure what that means in terms of giving to individual agencies. It amounts to about seven cents per agency for one ensuing year. Wouldn't you be willing to give the price of a soda pop to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, the Salvation Army, the YMCA, the milk and ice fund, the Westside and the Citywide recreation programs, the rehabilitation center, and many other programs?

To be sure many have given generously, and we appeal to these to set the example of going the second mile. Perhaps it will persuade those who haven't given anything so far to give more than a dollar and help take up the slack.

But at this stage, the important thing isn't who — but giving. So please mail in your gift, or bring it to the UF, or call 7-5201 so that someone may come and pick up the gift.

One day can make a tremendous difference in the operation of our agencies for a whole year.

Be The Safest Area In Texas

Gov. Preston Smith has declared a state traffic safety emergency in Texas for the period starting today and continuing through Jan. 5.

The efforts of all state law enforcement agencies will be redoubled during this period. Maintenance and other crews will be standing by to lend their support.

Doubtless, local governmental units will join in this intensive effort to "reduce the tragedy and the heartbreak of traffic crashes during the holiday," as Gov. Smith put it.

These are worthy steps, but they can't produce anything like the results we need unless you resolve personally that during the Christmas and New Year holiday season to consciously try to be twice as careful when you drive.

Let's make this area the safest part of Texas for the next three weeks.

Marquis Childs The Difficult Violence Problem

WASHINGTON — In the babble of angry and excited voices rising from every quarter the task of separating fact from impassioned prejudice seems hopeless. But even as the clamor has grown there has been a glimmer of sanity and reason.

The staff reports of the National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence have in one instance after another put the facts on the line. Demonstrations, the black militants, student rebellion — all the symptoms of upheaval in a time of troubles have been subjected to clear, cool analysis by specialists and scholars.

CHAIRMAN OF THE commission for the past year and a half is Milton S. Eisenhower, brother of the late President Dwight Eisenhower.

In assuming a demanding and difficult chore at the age of 69, Milton Eisenhower showed once again the response to public service that has marked his career. As government official, educator and, above all, as close adviser to the President during the eight Eisenhower years, this youngest of the five Eisenhower brothers has dedicated himself to the public good.

STAFF REPORTS OF THE Eisenhower commission do not necessarily reflect the views of the commission itself. A foreword by Chairman Eisenhower in each report specifically states that it is a work of scholarship to be judged on its merits so that the commission as well as the public may benefit from the study and the debate growing out of it.

A recent report deals with the politics of protest and the violent aspects of protest and confrontation. It would be hard to conceive of a touchier subject generating more hostility and prejudice. Nevertheless, the voice of reason comes through clear and strong.

"THE OVERRIDING ISSUE," the report states, "is whether an educational system can endure without the consent and support of faculty and students and whether such higher authorities as trustees, boards of regents and legislatures can expect tranquility on a campus that is governed on controversial issues by remote authorities whose understanding of academic values is minimal and who are empowered to undercut academic and administrative decisions with which they disagree. Reform of the present condition of university governing boards is a prerequisite to campus order in the future."

ESSENTIAL, too, the report declares, is the increased participation of students in university decision and policy-making. This last is a development rapidly taking hold on campus recovering from painful disorders. It is not an infallible solution but, as the report notes, it is neither realistic nor justifiable to expect students today to be content with second-class citizenship.

SOME ADMIRERS OF THE impressive work of the commission have been disturbed by a statement on group violence issued under the imprimatur of the chairman. As a means of coping with force used to abridge the right of free speech in violation of the First Amendment, the commission recommends giving the federal courts the power, on request of the Attorney General or private individuals, to grant injunctions against "threatened or actual interference" with speech or assembly. The proposed law would also authorize suits for either damages or an injunction by persons believing themselves aggrieved and allow the Attorney General to intervene in such suits.

THIS WOULD put the federal government in the role of policeman and arbiter in disputes without end. It would give the Attorney General extraordinary powers and, in light of the record established by the current incumbent, John M. Mitchell, the Congress will want to think twice before any such grant of power.

The long series of reports by the commission, soon to conclude its work, tells the story of divided and disrupted America as it is.

Billy Graham

You speak about being converted, but I can't find this in the Bible. Is the word conversion used in the Bible?

Yes, the word conversion is used many times in the Bible. Psalm 19:7 says: "The law of the Lord is perfect converting the soul." David said, Psalm 51, "Then will I teach transgressors thy ways, and sinners shall be converted unto thee." Jesus said in Matthew 18:3, "Verily I say unto you, except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven." Peter preaching on the day of Pentecost said: "Repent ye therefore, and be converted that your sins may be blotted out."

The word conversion acutely means "to turn." A person repents of sin — that is the negative side. Turns to Christ — that is the positive side. Anyone can be converted. It is not an emotional experience, but a surrender of the total personality to Christ.

What Others Say

The administration's proposed maritime program is based heavily on modernization of the nation's fleet. And if a great deal more federal money is to be poured into the long-ailing merchant marine, the result surely should be ships capable of competing with foreign carriers.

What are the prospects? Well, a highly automated freighter, capable of carrying preloaded barges, pulled into port at New Orleans. Members of the International Longshoremen's Association, one of the unions clamoring for federal maritime subsidies, refused to have anything to do with the ship, arguing that its method of cargo-handling would reduce dock work.

It's just this sort of union resistance to technology, which is neither new nor unusual, that can raise questions about letting much more government money go down with the ships.

'TIS NEAR CHRISTMAS—HIS BAG ISN'T PACKED'

Business Mirror 'Ain't Gonna Be No Recession In 1970'

BUT SOME SAY YES

- Some observers see re-run of recession like 1960-61
- Others say tight money to continue, but no recession
- Inflation pressure said to call for tighter, painful controls
- Retail sales ease off in November, last quarter due drop
- Ford thinks cooling economy will slightly wither car sales

NEW YORK (AP) — The argument among economists over whether there will be a recession in 1970 or if it already is making its bite felt is becoming louder and more intense.

The contention over the question of recession was especially clamorous this past week.

Economist Pierre A. Rinfret, who advised President Nixon during his 1968 campaign, said in quite a departure from the usual stilted phrases of economic experts: "There ain't gonna be no recession in 1970. Period."

"Not only will there be no recession," Rinfret said, "but I think we will smash every economic record that has been established in the history of the world."

'TIS SO, TOO

Another noted economist, Milton Friedman of the University of Chicago, threw his punches from the opposite corner of the economic ring. He said this country was headed toward a recession on the order of that in 1960-61, with interest rates falling and the unemployment rate rising to around six per cent.

Secretary of Commerce Maurice H. Stans expressed the opinion that no recession is ahead, but he said tight money will handcuff big business as the Nixon administration holds to its course in an effort to stabilize the economy.

"It will be bitter medicine for some segments of our economy," he told the Investment Bankers of America at their annual gathering.

A division of opinion among the monetary policymakers of the Federal Reserve Board became apparent.

Sherman J. Maisel, a board member, said this past week that if the Fed holds to its rigid monetary control policy it is risking a "financial crisis" that could upset its anti-inflation effort. He suggested a "mid-course correction" could enable the board to pursue an anti-inflationary policy longer.

J. L. Robertson, vice chairman of the board, took an opposite view, saying "tighter and more painful" controls may be needed to curb inflation.

Among economic developments, the Commerce Department reported that retail sales in November dipped about one per cent to $29.3 billion from $29.6 billion in October but were up two per cent from $28.8 billion in November, 1968. Indications are that price increases accounted for all of the year-to-year gain and that "real volume" has been declining.

EXPECT DECLINE

The Commerce Department also said manufacturers expect their fourth-quarter sales to show a slight reduction from the third-quarter level and that they look for considerably less growth in the first three quarters of 1970.

Henry Ford II, chairman of Ford Motor Co., predicted at his annual year-end news conference that the new car sales boom would wither somewhat in 1970 because of a cooling of the economy.

"Odds are there will be some decline from this year's high level, but how much is uncertain," he said.

FAG FLAGELLATION

WASHINGTON (AP) — Those cowboys, young lovers and emancipated women who puff cigarettes in TV commercials would be banned from the airwaves under a bill the Senate has passed overwhelmingly.

By a 70-7 margin, senators voted Friday to ban television and radio cigarette advertising effective Jan. 1, 1971. The decision followed by five years the controversial U.S. surgeon general's report linking lung cancer and smoking.

The measure, designed also to prevent a massive shift of advertising from electronic to print media, now goes to a Senate-House conference committee where its differences with a weaker House bill will be reconciled.

To Your Good Health Refrigerating Hot Dishes

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What is your opinion about refrigerating food while still hot and covered? I have been told it could be dangerous. — Mrs. G.M.

No, not dangerous. But it can be dangerous not to refrigerate many kinds of food.

It is a danger that is more prevalent in midsummer than at this time of year, but the danger is not entirely absent now.

In spite of a great deal of publicity by health departments and others, somehow we don't seem to have gotten the message across in the right way. "Food poisoning" still occurs with too great frequency.

More than one form of food contamination can occur, of course, but the big offender is the salmonella germ. This is a very common germ, and without doubt all of us have been exposed to it repeatedly — but usually in small concentrations.

But when we get a heavy concentration of it — trouble! Cramps, diarrhea, sometimes such severe illness that hospitalization is urgent.

The question: how do we encounter heavy concentrations? The answer: when conditions are such that a few stray germs can start multiplying rapidly in food.

Foods containing eggs (custards, cream pies, potato salad, dressings) are particularly fertile places for this germ to multiply, although others can spawn salmonella, too, and multiplication is greatest when temperature is high — such as carrying food to a picnic on a sultry summer day, or letting chicken salad or such dishes sit for some time in a hot kitchen before serving a dinner to a large group.

To prevent this, somebody long ago devised the rule, "Keep it hot, keep it cold, or don't keep it at all." That's an excellent rule.

For cooking will destroy the germ; keeping food refrigerated will prevent it from multiplying. But at the right temperature, an enormous concentration of the germ can grow in a matter of a few hours.

Now to the specific question: can food be refrigerated while it is still hot, and covered? Yes, it can, but this puts considerable strain on ordinary household refrigerators. A great deal of heat has to be absorbed.

Therefore, for practical purposes, let things cool to moderate temperature before refrigerating. It will save wear and tear on the refrigerator, and avoid thawing other things in the refrigerator. But there will be no danger from rapid cooling in case you refrigerate something while it is still warm. Or even hot.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I drink

a lot of iced tea sweetened with saccharin, and make it up a gallon at a time and keep it in the refrigerator. Is it harmful? My mother says there is some kind of acid after it is allowed to sit. — S.H.

Tea leaves contain tannic acid and a little is extracted in the brewing. If you left the leaves in the tea afterward, more tannic acid would be extracted, and the flavor would be more bitter.

But if you strain the tea leaves out before putting the tea in the refrigerator, the acid content will not change. So drink your prepared-in-advance tea in peace.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband is 56, 5 foot 4, and 250 pounds, and has high blood pressure. He takes garlic pills he gets at the health store. Do you think this will help him? — B.B.A.

No. Getting rid of a lot of that excess weight probably will, though.

Are you bothered with ringing in the ears? If so, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for the booklet, "Ear Noises — Their Causes and Cures," enclosing with your request 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim Stay In Your Own Lane—Or Else

A few months ago I wrote about the frightening experience of a little old white-haired man trying to preserve his life on metropolitan freeways.

Recently, against my will, I had to go through those complexes again, and must report that things have gotten worse.

The signs are just as confusing, directions remain jumbled, and worse, drivers are just plain losing their patience.

AFTER MY second encounter, I concluded that there are two possible solutions, neither of which is very satisfactory.

One would be that, for example, you were trying to get off a freeway in Dallas to get on another freeway. A reasonably safe thing to do would be to stay on the first freeway and go on to Terrell, where you might get off and spend the night, and phone back to friends in Dallas to come get you.

ANOTHER ANSWER would be, when entering the metropolitan highway complex, to stop at a designated highway patrol station, marked plainly for timid people, and have the officers attach a set of four red flags onto the roof of your car. Then set sail, and all other drivers, aware that there is a stranger in their midst, would yield room, shout encouraging directions, and even lead you out the proper exit.

This presumes that all other drivers are courteous and sympathetic.

FACT IS, the presumption is wrong. Chances are if they saw a vehicle with red flags flying, they would lean out their car windows and yell "yah, yah, why don't you stay home?"

Even in our own home town, a few weeks back I was trundling down Third Street minding, I thought, my own business. In all honesty, I must have veered a bit out of my lane. Because in a second a young and vociferous fellow pulled up alongside. His face livid in anger, he shouted dirty words that can't be printed in a family journal. "You blankety-blank, why don't you look where the blankety-blank you're going?"

THIS UNNERVED me so that I drove on through to Stanton without changing lanes again.

And more recently I was with another driver who shall be nameless and who committed the same miscue. The offended this time was a young woman, and she followed this guy for 15 blocks until he reached his parking place, got out of her car, and lectured him as a stern schoolmaster would scold a wayward pupil.

THE MORAL to it all is that for safety's sake, you must stay in your own lane. And, if you're in the city's expressways and have to stay in your own lane, you will end up in Terrell whether you want to or not.

Some guy reported recently that a research project showed that "senior drivers" may be the best ones on the highways.

They'd better be. If they're not, they'd better get run over or are subjected to a shocking "chewing out."

—BOB WHIPKEY

Art Buchwald The Modern-Day Moviemakers

It is no secret that the major film companies are in a great deal of difficulty. The big, colorful films that cost $20 million are grossing $600,000, and the small films which cost $600,000 are grossing $20 million.

One of the problems is that many of the motion picture companies are now owned by conglomerates who haven't had too much experience in the business.

TYPICAL OF the companies under fire is Blockbuster Films, which for years produced one-third of all the movies made in Hollywood. Unfortunately, five years ago Blockbuster Films was sold to the Zenith Garbage Disposal Inc., which merged with Hallucination Oil Refineries, which became part of the Riptide Fire Hydrant conglomerate.

The president of Riptide fired Sam Blockbuster and put his own man, Arnold Meacham, in charge of the studios. Meacham previously had been treasurer of the Riptide Baking Division of "Mother Goose's Tasty Bread." He was selected for the job after Riptide's president had spent an evening looking at Meacham's home movies of his trip to Acapulco.

THE FIRST thing Meacham did, when he took over the studio, was fire all the producers, directors and writers and technicians. He replaced them with executives from the bread company, who had been so successful in making "Mother Goose Bread," one of the best-selling grocery items in the United States.

At his first press conference, Meacham said that he had every intention of making Blockbuster Films the great movie company it once was, and he planned on producing 350 films the first year — "Significant films that would appeal to the young people of the country, adult films which would tear the sham and hypocrisy away from the sex lives of people who lived in the suburbs and socially conscious films about homosexuality, drugs and animal fetishes."

HIS REMARKS were reported on the business pages of newspapers, and the stock of Riptide Fire Hydrant Conglomerate rose from $6 to $750 a share.

The first film Meacham started was based on a book his wife had read, which she thought would make a wonderful movie. It was such a hot property that Meacham ordered it to be made in secrecy and banned all press from the set. The picture, when finished, cost $20 million, but Meacham was certain it would gross $100 million.

THERE WAS great excitement at the first sneak preview in Pasadena. Riptide executives from all over the world flew in to see Meacham's first effort. They took over the Rose Bowl for an after-theater party.

The preview cards the audience filled out were ecstatic. Some patrons wrote it was the best picture they had ever seen. It was a great evening.

UNFORTUNATELY a lawyer from MGM happened to be in the audience that night, and the next morning he called Blockbuster Films and told them that their picture had already been filmed and MGM had all the rights to it.

Having worked in the bakery business all his life, poor Arnold Meacham had no inkling that someone else had already made "Gone With the Wind."

David Lawrence Regulating Political Contributions

WASHINGTON — Should labor unions be able to collect from their members, directly or indirectly, money to be spent in political campaigns not only in presidential but in congressional elections?

Today the AFL-CIO boasts that, in effect, controls a majority in Congress and insists that all "contributions" from its members for political activities are "voluntary."

SENATOR Paul J. Fannin, Republican of Arizona, has offered an amendment to the tax-reform bill which would take away the tax-exempt status of labor unions or other organizations if they continue to use membership dues or assessments to support or oppose political candidates or parties or engage in voter registration.

The real way to tackle the problem is to enforce the law of the land. The federal corrupt practices act forbids labor unions or corporations from making "a contribution or expenditure in connection with" any election for federal office. The law is being flouted, and no administration has had the courage to seek prosecutions under it since the statute was adopted many decades ago.

IN 1961, the Supreme Court of the United States held that one section of the Railway Labor Act denies a union, over an employee's objection, the power to use his exacted funds to support political causes which he opposes. This had reference to what is known as a "union shop," where employees are required to join a union and pay dues regularly if they want to retain a job.

The Supreme Court, moreover, in 1957 held that a labor union's use of union dues to sponsor a commercial television broadcast designed to influence the election of certain candidates for congress violated the corrupt practices act.

IT IS TRUE that in 1948 the Supreme Court ruled that the federal corrupt practices act does not forbid publication of periodicals issued regularly by corporations or unions for their customers or members expressing views on candidates or proposed measures. This is regarded as one of the privileges of "free speech."

But the fact remains that the statutes do prohibit any direct or indirect contributions to election campaigns. The labor unions today set up "political action" committees. These units, which solicit and handle donations, are supposed to be separate entities but actually are headed and directed by labor-union leaders.

THE FEDERAL LAWS apply, of course, only to campaigns for presidential and congressional elections. In state and city elections, union funds collected to support candidates are permitted except in a few states which have laws against it.

Thus, in so-called free America the spectacle is presented each year of a practice of virtually purchasing votes in Congress by means of contributions exacted from many workers who are afraid not to contribute lest they incur the wrath of the leaders of their unions.

THIS IS A flagrant example of how labor unions violate the spirit, if not the letter, of the federal corrupt practices act and participate actively in politics by threatening members of Congress with defeat if they do not concur in labor-union demands.

GARDEN CITY FHA Schedules Christmas Fete

By BEVERLY HARTLEY
The Future Homemakers of America will have their Christmas party next Wednesday. At this party each girl will bring a toy (wrapped). The girls will unwrap the toys and display them. After the toys are seen at the party, they will be taken to the Big Spring Fire Department for distribution among poor children for Christmas.

Last Sunday afternoon a bus load of Kenneth Chandler's friends were taken to Lubbock by Coach Jack Woodley. His friends visited with him at Methodist Hospital as long as they were allowed. Kenneth is still in high spirits.

The Tuesday night basketball game was played at Sands. All four of Garden City High School teams played. The Garden City tournament began Thursday morning and ended Saturday night. The next tournament that the Garden City teams will play will be at Gal.

The Senior class has been busy decorating the oversized Christmas tree at school. By the end of next week it should tower above Christmas presents. The presents will be handed out Dec. 23 at the high school Christmas party. After the party, school will be dismissed for the holidays.

HCJC Class Favorites Elected Friday

By PHILIP STEPHENS
Class favorites and Mr. and Miss Jayhawker were elected by the student body by ballot in the SUB, all day Friday. Sophomore favorites were Sherry Cozart and Monte Pillion; Freshman favorites were Ann Haggard and Don Prescott. Mr. Jayhawker was Randy Banks and Miss Jayhawker was Carol Lane.

Mr. Dan Shockey and his drama department usher out the final "HCJC PRESENTS" this Thursday at 12:00 p.m. on KWAB-TV, with a formal play reading of O. Henry's classic short story, "Gift of the Magi." This presentation was well received when presented at the college with a reading of "The Christmas Carol" and a short, one-act play of Anton Chekov's

"The Marriage Proposal." This presentation should highlight the whole semester for the show. It will be the final show of the semester.

An assembly program will be given to the student body and community in the HCJC auditorium this Monday, 9:45-10:25 a.m. by the HCJC chorus. A variety of works, including a Bach fugue and a spoken, rhythm chorus, plus traditional Christmas numbers will be presented.

The Creative Writer's Club elected officers at its meeting Monday night in the SUB parlor. Dennis Latimer was elected president; Robert Jones, vice president; Michael Herrell, secretary-treasurer; Phil Stephens, student senate representative; and reporter Elaine Kendrick.

The Christmas Ball, Saturday night, sponsored by the Lasso Club ended the semester's social events and brought a fitting end to the last few weeks, which have been crammed with last minute test preparations and preregistration, which has been going all this week. Most of the final examinations have been scheduled for this coming week.

The choir of HCJC combines with the First United Methodist Church choir and the Texas Tech String Orchestra tonight at 5:30 p.m. to give the annual production of Handel's "Messiah." The HCJC choir director, Mr. Larry Stanley, will again direct the production, college instructor, John Stanley will play the organ and HCJC teacher, Mrs. Mary Grenier will accompany on the electric harpsichord.

FLOWER GROVE Personalities, Retakes Taken

By JACKIE CAVE
Picture retakes were taken for the annual on Tuesday. Also taken were pictures of the wittiest boy and girl, friendliest couple, best all-around, class couple, festival queen and king, boys and girls basketball teams and individual basketball, boys and girls track teams, and pep squad.

Both boys and girls basketball teams won second place in the Ira basketball tournament last weekend, having been defeated by the Ira teams in the finals on Saturday night.

Both the Flower Grove teams were entered this weekend in a tournament at Garden City. The girls' basketball team chose Frank Cruz as their basketball beau. Bonnie Hill was chosen basketball sweetheart.

Best citizen was also chosen. The teachers selected Becky Ross and David Priblyla.

A Christmas program will be presented by grades one through eight. The program will be held Wednesday night at 8 p.m.

BSHS Formal Tabs Favorites

By KAREN MCGONAGILL
Highlighting the Christmas Formal Saturday night was the announcing of the class favorites and Mr. and Miss BSHS.

Mr. BSHS is Lynn Cauley, senior and Miss BSHS is Patti Spier, senior. The senior favorites are Gary Hughes and Lorie Grogan.

Grady Ray and Martha Fierro are the junior favorites and the sophomore favorites are Mike Adams and Sheila Armistead. Freshman favorites are Dick Conley and Cynthia Morris.

Each of the girls named was given a bouquet. The Christmas Formal was from 9:00 to 12:00. The OMAHAS, billed as the Showband of the Southwest, provided the music.

The football banquet will be in the cafeteria Monday night. Many of the football players will be given different awards honoring them for their contributions to the team.

The Student Council is sponsoring the Harlem Stars vs. the Coaches in a basketball game Thursday at 8:00 p.m. The prices will be $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Friday members of the Bible Club and the choral department will stage the Christmas program entitled "The Singing Christmas Tree." School will be dismissed that day at 2:45 p.m.

for the Christmas holidays and classes will resume on Monday morning, Jan. 5, 1970.

Tuesday morning, mid-term graduates are to be measured for their caps and gowns in the library at 8:00.

All class pictures are to be paid for or returned by Wednesday.

Thursday is the big day for the judging of the door contest. Judges will select the two best decorated doors.

This year instead of the prize for first and second place being $5.00 and $3.00, the student council has decided to give a coke party for the first and second place winners. Friday the winners will be announced and will be given a coke party during their regular advisory periods.

The following Steer band members made All-Region Saturday in Odessa: Daniel Lewis, Becky James, Judy Conley, John Tidwell, Susan Trim, Corky Harris, Kay Five-ash, Paula Lemons, Diana Williams, Larry Margolis, and John Brandon.

The following eight bandsmen were also chosen for All-Region and selected to go on to Bi-Region tryouts Jan. 10 in Monahan's: James Person, Sylvia Galan, Sheila Lewis, Shiretta Ownbey, Robert Campbell, Steve Hughes, Bonnie Anderson and Pat Stinson.

BORDEN COUNTY

BC Girl First Runner-Up To Mesa FFA Sweetheart

Terry Canon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Canon, was elected 1st Runner-up for the district Mesa Future Farmers of America Sweetheart at Lamesa Dec. 2. Miss Canon, a senior at Borden, represented the Borden High FFA.

Borden County Cross Country track team traveled to Brownfield Friday and approximately 14 (5 per team) teams were entered from all school levels. Borden County placed sixth. The Borden County team was composed of Jimmy Hagins, Virgil Whitaker, Oscar Baeza, Robert and Hubert Sorrells and Johnny Brooks.

The Borden Coyotes had two athletes to receive All-Tournament at the Roscoe tournament, Dec. 4, 5, and 6. Cheron Billeck, senior, was named on the girls team. Cheron played an outstanding game Saturday morning against Rotan by scoring 51 points. Gary Wilkerson, also a senior was named on the boys team. Gary played an outstanding game Thursday night both on offense and defense. The Coyotes are very proud of these two teammates. Thursday night at 9:00 the boys played in an exciting close game that ended in a losing score of 64-66.

Early Saturday morning the boys went back to play Rotan to a losing score of 41-52. Jimmy Don Hodge was the high point man in both games with 18 points in the first game and 13 points in the second game.

Steve Summers and Bobbie Ludecke received honors in the All-District Band at Odessa, Dec. 6. Steve made the band playing a bass horn and Bobbie received first chair honors playing alto clarinet. Other members of the Coyote band attending the auditions were Loretta Zant, Tommy Lockhart, Johnny Brooks and Ross Sharp.

On Dec. 10, Mrs. Wanda Chapman gave a demonstration to the Homemaking II class, dealing with making yarn flowers. Mrs. Chapman, who resides in Lamesa, is active in projects of various art techniques. The class as a whole made multiple-colored flowers and red yarn poinsettias for the fall-fashion show.

The first Borden County style show of the year is scheduled this Thursday at 8:30 a.m., in the high school auditorium. The theme for the style show is "The Spirit of Christmas in Fashion." Home Economics I and III students will model their garments at this date. Highlight of the style show will be the modeling of children's garments made by the Homemaking III girls Home Ec. II's project for this semester is cooking, so there will also be a spring style show later.

Journalism Club Prints Second Edition 'Lariat'

By SHARA DEE HAMBRICK
The Journalism Club has put out another edition of their paper, "The Lariat," during the past week. It is now on sell for 10 cents a copy. This is the second paper they have put out.

All the different favorites were elected this week to go into the annual. The results will not be announced until the annual is distributed in the spring. Among the favorites elected were Mr. SHS and Miss SHS, Most Popular, Most Attractive, Best Dressed, Most Conscientious, Most Athletic, Most Spirited, Most Talkative, Cutest Smile, Best Personality, Most Mischievous, Loudest Voice, Most Helpful, Most Courteous, and Fiercest. The junior high also voted on a Mr. and Miss Junior High.

Preparations have now begun to get under way for the annual Christmas program that will be held in the high school auditorium on Dec. 22. The singing practices were started Monday at 12 o'clock and lasted until 12:30. One hour each day next week will be devoted to practicing the carols. Any student in high school that wishes to participate in this program may do so. The Journalism Club is in charge of the scenery for the program.

Pictures were taken Wednesday. Retakes were made for the individuals, FFA group and officers pictures were made. Beta Club, Journalism Club, and pep squad pictures were made. Other pictures that were taken were junior high and high school cheerleaders, pee-wee, junior high, and high school boys and girls individual and group basketball, Halloween nominees, and Homecoming nominees.

The seniors termed their Sunday dinner a huge success. Each member of the senior class was required to bring two chickens, a salad, and two pies or a cake. They cleared a profit of about $216.

Robert Herren, Student Council president, passed out names to be drawn for the Christmas party that will be held on the afternoon of Dec. 23. Each person is required to spend not less than $1.25 and not more than $1.50 on the gift.

Both teams were victorious over the Garden City Bearcats in games held Tuesday night. The girls prevailed 52-20 while the boys had a score of 86-35. The "B" team girls also won with a score of 27-15. Both "A" teams were entered in the Garden City tournament that was held Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

GOLIAD '70 Favorites Elected Friday

By JILL RHYMES

Following an election and a runoff, Rodney Ferrill and Shawn Cannon were named seventh grade favorites. James Lacy and Cindy Truette were elected eighth grade favorites; and Tom Sorley and Kim Grimes were elected best all around. Pictures of these will be made for the annual this week.

The canned food drive held at Golad the latter part of the week was a successful one. The highest number of cans donated were from Mrs. Cornelia Gary's home. Mrs. Lynn Calvert's room running a close second. Nine hundred to 1,000 cans were donated by the entire school.

Tuesday the Goliad music and speech departments will present their Christmas program in the high school auditorium. The featured number of the advanced choir, under the direction of Mr. Jeanne Small will be "Twas the Night Before Christmas." The seventh grade and eighth grade girls choir will also sing. Under the direction of Mr. Russell McKiski the band will play, and a selected cast from the speech classes coached by Miss Nancy White will give a short skit. The skit is entitled "Now Do You Believe Us, Charlie Brown?" This program will begin at 8 p.m. The evening will be shared with Runnels Junior High School whose program will begin at 7 p.m. The public is invited to attend both of these programs.

Thursday, the annual staff had its yearly Christmas dinner which was held at the Spanish Inn. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Knoop, Mrs. Barbara Giles and Miss Connie Gary. The staff presented the Christmas gift.

The library aides Christmas party will be held Dec. 18 from 2:30 to 4:30 in the home-making room and patio. Each aide may bring one guest. Admission to the party is a can of food for the canned food drive.

An honor society meeting will be held during fifth period Wednesday. A filmstrip entitled "The Restless Years" will be shown.

Friday of this week school will be dismissed at 2:45 for the holidays following a special assembly. School will not be resumed until Jan. 5, 1970.

Plans Laid For Christmas Party

By PATSY REED

The Student Council met Monday during fourth period to discuss further plans for the Christmas party. It will be held in the cafeteria. The girls are responsible for getting the refreshments and the boys are in charge of getting the tree and the drinks. The idea of getting a victory bell was also brought up.

Each member of the Student Council is now selling vanilla and pepper. This is a yearly project carried on by this organization. They plan to sell till the supply is gone.

Citizens of the month were elected at this meeting. They are Belinda McKinnon and Patsy Reed, seniors and Gloria Dodd, junior.

An assembly was called Monday during fifth period, for grades seven through twelve. Mr. Herb Smith, superintendent, talked with the classes about having school sponsored dances to be held in the gymnasium. Previously Teen Club representatives had met with the School Board members to see if such arrangements could be made.

The Teen Club needs a more adequate place to hold its dances. A questionnaire was given to each student to fill out concerning his views on the proposed plans. There is a place on the questionnaire for the parents to express their opinions on the subject. After all the sheets are filled out, it was to be turned back to Mr. Smith no later than Friday.

Class meetings were held after the assembly. All classes drew names for the exchanging of gifts during the Student Council Christmas party.

The senior class had on the agenda, where to go on their senior trip. The three possibilities of Mexico, Colorado, and the Houston-Galveston area were discussed again. Written votes were cast and the Houston-Galveston area received the most votes. This trip will be taken sometime during the spring.

All plans and estimated costs are to be drawn up and submitted to the school board in February for approval. Mr. John Carroll, one of the senior sponsors, emphasized the fact that our calendar sales are low and the deadline for our quota is Dec. 19.

The junior class discussed more money-making projects and the concession stand.

During the sophomore class meeting, they only drew names and all their business was put off till after the holidays.

The freshmen discussed the questionnaire about the dances and reminded everyone to get their dues paid.

The nine weeks test schedule has been posted for this coming week. The test will begin Monday with fifth period. Tuesday will be periods third and sixth. Wednesday will be seventh period. Thursday will be first and fourth periods and Friday will be second period. School will be dismissed at 2:30 on Friday.

The Homemaking IV class was gone all of Thursday morning to take a tour of the Big Spring State Hospital.

The speech class is working on a play to be presented to the student body the day we get out for the Christmas holidays.

The Buffalo Queens won first place in the Roscoe tournament this past weekend and played their first game in the Garden City tournament Thursday afternoon at Mertzton.

The basketball teams traveled to Klondike Tuesday night. They will meet the Roscoe Plowboys there, Tuesday night.

The journalism class met their deadline on Dec. 10. All articles were to be turned in by this date so that rough drafts and the beginning of publication could get under way for the next issue. The Forsan Stampede staff plans next publication before the holidays.

School was turned out early Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 for in-service training for the teachers.

RUNNELS Runnels Starts Door Dressing

By CARRIE WHEELER

This past week Runnels has been having a Christmas Door Decoration Contest. The rules are that it doesn't cost over $3. You cannot use any glue, magic marker, paint, or scotch tape directly on the door. The doors will be judged on creativity and originality. They will be judged on the afternoon of Dec. 18. There will be a first prize, second prize, and an honorable mention.

Dec. 16, the band and choir will have a Christmas program which will be in the high school auditorium. The whole city is welcome to come.

Tuesday, the National Junior Honor Society had a meeting in the visual aids room. Mark Allen presided. Mark Anderson discussed the program which will be in January.

The subject of a tutoring program was brought up. It was turned down because of too many other conflicting activities.

The seventh grade speech class is giving two plays. The first one is entitled "A Visit from St. Nick." It is narrated by Carol Walker. The Santa Claus is Kemp Hoop. The father and mother are Steven Arnold and Precilla Saiz.

The children are Roxie McDaniel, Janet Bronough, Rual Metcalf, Rachel Majica and Pegg Roth. The mouse is Luan Carlton.

In the play "Synthetic Santa" the girls are played by Leslie Harris, Leslie Long, Kitty Thompson, and Linda Little. Mrs. Santa is played by Joyce Fickling.

The eighth grade speech class is practicing a play entitled "Room 103." The teacher, Mrs. Bunk, is played by Carrie Wheeler. The nurse is played by Patti Fitts. Larry Cates is the principal. Tom Oliver plays the carpenter.

Worcester Group Are Top Amateurs

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The Entr'Actors' Guild, an amateur theater company in Worcester, will represent the United States at the fourth quadrennial World Amateur Theatre Festival at Monaco Aug. 27 to Sept. 7. The New England troupe won a 39-company competition with its performance of Arthur Kopit's "Chamber Music."

First alternate in the festival in case the Worcester group should not go, was won by the Alameda, Calif., Little Theatre, with its production of Gian-Carlo Menotti's one-act opera, "The Medium." Second alternate is the Baton Rouge, La., Theatre, which staged Murry Schisgal's "The Typist."

Turkeys, Hams Shortweighted
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — City officials say inspectors have found eight supermarkets selling turkeys weighing less than the poundage printed on the labels.

"Those Daring Young Men In Their Jaunty Jalopies," Tony Curtis embodies the giddy, rascally optimism of the late 1920's. The film is a tribute to the courageous amateurs who once participated in the gruelling Monte Carlo Auto Rally. Curtis heads an international cast in the film which was produced and directed by Ken Annakin in Panavision and Technicolor, opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre.

The scene is Miami, teeming with killers, blackmailers, topless bikinis, girls, cops, cement blocks. And Frank Sinatra is right there in the middle of the action, heading the cast of "Lady in Cement," the presentation in Panavision and Color by De Luxe opening tonight at the Jet Theatre. Sinatra plays a private eye who becomes involved with a curvaceous heiress in the shape of Raquel Welch and an ex-convict played by Dan Blocker, who is making his motion picture debut.

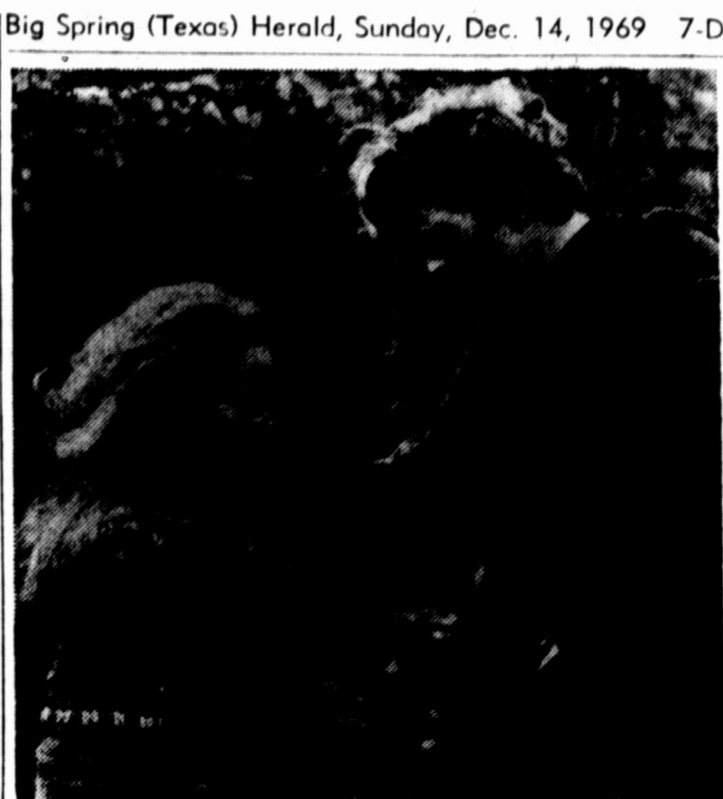

Go-go girls, dope peddlers, ex-Mafia chiefs and hoodlums of a dozen varieties pace an irreverent screen. Made entirely on location in the Miami area, "Lady in Cement" burned up 26 different locales in six weeks of frantic filmmaking.

A quaint sandy spot in the area, known as "Shrimp Road," was the site of film action unmatched since the days of San Francisco's earthquake.

The resulting film was shown at the Berlin Film Festival in 1965, and had a successful run in London. Roach was honored for his 50 years in films at the Berlin Festival by being presented the medal of the C.I.D.A.L.C. Award (Committee of International Diffusion for the Arts and Letters) by the President of C.I.D.A.L.C.

Roach was jointly presented at the Festival by Raymond Rohauer, film curator of the Gallery of Modern Art, New York and Dr. Alfred Bauer.

"The Crazy World of Laurel and Hardy," under the tutelage of Roach, was judiciously viewed and edited from more

'ALFRED THE GREAT' — David Hemmings and Prunella Ransome star in the Ritz offering of "Alfred the Great," which opens today.

'Alfred The Great' Opening At Ritz

"Alfred the Great," features two major battles. But the preparation for these Dark Ages conflicts between Alfred's Saxon army and the invading Danes could hardly have equalled the detailed preparation for the staging of this epic story, filmed entirely on location in County Galway, Ireland.

An abbreviated list of props required for the six weeks of filming the battle sequences alone included: 4,000 arrows, 1,600 swords, 1,800 spears, 1,500 shields, 800 daggers, 300 clubs and axes, 20 saddles, 60 horses, 12 rubber dummies (to play dead) — and three skeletons.

Casualties among the enthusiastic Irish extras included bloody noses, sprains and gashes. To quote director Clive Donner, "The problem was not in getting them to put everything into the scenes, but getting them to stop."

Up to 1,500 extras appeared in the battle scenes. Among them were students from University College, contracted for the length of the production, and 450 soldiers from the Republican Army's Western and Southern command who made up the hard core of the Viking forces. One doctor, four ambulancemen, six nurses and two ambulances were in attendance on locations all the time.

The costumes for the picture were made from hand-dyed material. Costume designer Jocelyn Rickards found this imperative in order to get the exact colors needed. Miss Rickards spent a week with her assistant dyeing rough fabrics in six 44-gallon drums. This entailed working on more than 27,000 yards of material.

The locations for "Alfred the Great" extended over three main sites of about 90 acres each. On one a complete studio was built for interior filming. For the others, 30 tents on each housed ancillary services — canteen, wardrobe, special effects and workshops. Drying tents were provided for extras during wet weather. In all cases, bad weather was not permitted to hinder filming, even when roads turned into a morass of two-foot-deep mud.

All but one of the locations was within 20 miles of the crew's headquarters in Galway City. Even so, a fleet of 50 hired cars was required, with additional trucks and jeeps. More than 1,000 extras, plus 100 crew members, had to be transported each day to locations. Twenty-two school buses were hired from the local education authority and the army transported its men in 27 three-ton trucks.

At least 3,000 meals and snacks were served each day on location, six days per week. The Irish extras, like the English crew, preferred tea to coffee, and 200 gallons were made each day. About half that amount of coffee also disappeared daily down thirsty throats. Local laides supplied 200 pounds of home-made cake a day, 150 loaves of bread and 2,500 rolls.

Most meals (except on Friday) consisted of meat and potatoes. More than 600 pounds of prime Irish meats went through the kitchen each day, three tons of potatoes were peeled per week, and the crew alone got through 20 cases of fruit a day.

In Ireland's hottest summer for years, the Emerald Isle lost its legendary 40 shades of green, so six gardeners were employed full-time to spray the grass green.

Communications required some ingenuity. Five sets of walkie-talkies were used in the battle scenes, six loudhailers and a vast amount of lung-power. Over 1,200 telephone calls a day were made by the unit, so special lines were installed by the department of Posts and Telegraphs.

"Me, Natalie" is a story about today. The motion picture explores the quest for identity of an 18-year-old girl faced with the quiet, and often comic, desperation of approaching maturity.

Patty Duke is "Me, Natalie," growing up in a world where she can find few links, where what is reflected in her mirror overshadows the beauty that is within her. She is complex and bold, yet vulnerable to the myriad emotional pains which are part of the miracle — and the sadness — of growing up. She is a loner, distrustful of the involvement of one person with another, yet in desperate need of someone to fill the voids of her life. She is bitter about the present, yet ultimately optimistic about the future.

Filmed entirely on location in New York City, the movie explores the complexity of life in Greenwich Village, where Natalie escapes from her middle-class existence in order to declare her independence as a person.

Director Fred Coe is reunited in "Me, Natalie" with two players who received Academy Awards for performances in two of his previous films. Coe produced "The Miracle Worker," for which Miss Duke won an Academy Award, and directed "A Thousand Clowns," for which Martin Balsam received his coveted Oscar.

Balsam plays Patty's uncle, home from the Navy after 16 years, who tries to explain to his young niece that beauty goes beneath the surface.

Joining them is a distinguished cast assembled from both the Broadway stage and motion pictures. James Farentino plays an architect turned artist who slowly discovers the key to Natalie's identity. It is he who rescues her from loneliness, and who untaps the dormant need within her to love and trust. He convinces her she has an inner beauty that is reflected in her eyes.

Elsa Lanchester is the kooky, off-beat landlady of a Greenwich Village apartment building. Broadway actress Salome Jens essays the slightly jaded dancer who carries the bruises of failure on her soul. Talented character actors Nancy Marchand and Phil Sterling are Natalie's parents, well-meaning but unable to distinguish that there are barriers in their concept of truth about Natalie.

"Me, Natalie," which opens Wednesday at the Cinema Theatre, provides Patty Duke with the most challenging role of her career. She must transform herself from a plain, awkward teenager into a woman experiencing the heights of life. She is called upon to run the full gamut of emotions in A. Martin Zweiback's screenplay based on an original story by Stanley Shapiro. Producer Shapiro has also brought to the screen such successful comedies as "Pillow Talk," starring Doris Day and Rock Hudson, "That Touch of Mink" and "Operation Petticoat."

Cinematographer Arthur J. Ornitz' camera follows Patty through some of the most fascinating sections of New York, from the splendor of Brooklyn's Prospect Park, to the dizzying pace and fascinating life-style of New York's East Greenwich Village, the haven for artists and hippies where several key scenes were filmed.

It was a strenuous role for Patty, who in the course of the movie had to drive a Honda through the streets of New York and across the Brooklyn Bridge, learn the complicated "lotus" meditation position from a maharishi, and for one climactic scene was called upon to jump from a pier into the muddy, polluted waters of the East River. She accepted all challenges with the intensity of the professional she is.

"Me, Natalie" touches the nerve ends of today's generation, but it is a picture that refuses to compromise in its examination of what is happening with today's world. Sometimes blunt, often tender, and at times genuinely funny, it is a movie of depth and dimension. There are comic touches in Patty's zanily decorated apartment (complete with a moose head, pop-art posters and a bathtub converted to a sofa) that balance well with the scenes of pathos when Patty must confront the sad moments of her life.

CWO Ronald F. Hope, son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert A. Edwards, 1703 Yale, has been awarded the Air Medal with 19 oak leaf clusters for meritorious achievement and air discipline of the highest order during 25 aerial missions over hostile territory in Vietnam February through July.

CWO Hope is in the hospital at San Antonio convalescing from a crash in Vietnam, July 15. He joined the Army Feb. 5, 1968, and went to Vietnam Feb. 5, 1969. His parents hope that their son will be transferred to the VA Hospital in Big Spring by Christmas. CWO
