McKay Pleas For His Wife

LONDON (AP) — A haggard-looking newspaper publisher, acting against the advice of his doctor, appealed through the press Saturday for the return of his wife, missing since Monday and believed kidnapped.

Publisher Alex McKay appeared before newsmen in his bedclothes and said: "I ask whoever is holding Muriel to get in touch with me and let me know exactly what they want."

"If it is money then I must know how and where it can be exchanged for my wife."

"In order to be certain that I am dealing with the person who is holding Muriel, I must have some positive proof that she is safe."

McKay, 60, had been under sedation, in the constant care of his family doctor.

His wife, 55, suffers from arthritis and the doctor has said her health depends on three injections a month. She disappeared from their home in the fashionable London suburb of Wimbledon.

He said he was seeing the press "without the permission of my doctor, who up to this stage has not allowed me to do so." McKay has suffered two heart attacks and has been receiving treatment this week for complications.

"I have now received many calls and letters regarding my wife," he explained. "But so far I have received no demand specific enough for me to believe the demand is genuine."

57 WITNESSES

Grand Jury Called For Study Of Drugs

The Howard County Grand Jury has been called back into session to study narcotics traffic in Big Spring.

118th District Judge Ralph Caton issued the order late Friday afternoon directing the grand jurors to reconvene at 10 a.m. Jan. 12.

John Currie, foreman of the jury, requested the session and said its sole purpose will be to discuss narcotics problems and, more specifically, the six Big Spring people charged Dec. 18 with the sale of marijuana and LSD.

James Reed is charged with the sale of marijuana; James Toon Jr., Gary Jeter, Brenda Mesker, Edgar Mack Payne and Marshall Miller are charged with selling LSD. All except Toon have posted bond on the felony charges.

There is a list of 57 persons to be subpoenaed for testimony before the grand jury. A new grand jury is scheduled to be called the fourth Monday in January.

Members of the present jury include Currie, Wilson Edwards, Ernest Byrd, Charles Tompkins, Curt Mullins, R. C. Thomas, Mrs. Ralph Gossett, Mrs. Bennett Brooke, Don Newsom, E. O. Brown, Mrs. Walter Slate and Mrs. James Johnson.

"Something has got to be done," Currie said. "We've got to bring attention to the fact that drugs are a problem in Big Spring, and we've got to get full community support to do something about it."

Nixon Hints He May Ask New Taxes

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon completed all the major decisions on his new budget Saturday and hinted he may have to ask Congress for more taxes.

"I'll do the best I can," Nixon said when asked if taxes would be sufficient to provide the balanced budget that he has promised.

The chief executive got rid of all but minor budget details in a working session at his desk at the Western White House with Budget Director Robert P. Mayo and presidential assistants John Ehrlichman and Dr. Henry A. Kissinger.

Afterward he took off by helicopter for Los Angeles to see comedian Bob Hope and play a round of golf at Lakeside Country Club. The President wanted to talk with Hope about the latter's Christmas-time visit with a troupe of entertainers to American troops in Vietnam.

Hope and his troupe put on a preview performance at the White House last Dec. 14.

And on the trip, officials said, Hope had encouraged servicemen who are getting out of uniform and going home to take advantage of educational opportunities available to them with government help. Nixon wanted to talk about this.

The budget details were all but completed at what Nixon said was a very short meeting. But he wasn't giving out any of them.

Demos Planning Anticrime Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic National Committee chairman Saturday accused the Republicans of inaction in the anticrime field, and announced his party will have its own conference to weigh legislation on this politically explosive issue.

In announcing a Democratic Action Conference on Crime, Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma said the Nixon administration plays "on the public's fear of crime in the streets, but they have failed to come up with a comprehensive national effort against crime."

Harris said the conference will involve national, state and local party leaders and will be held in Washington early this year, the exact date to be announced later.

Harris' statement was the latest move on the political front of the war against crime. Pending crime bills are expected to get early attention after Congress reconvenes Jan. 19 and both parties are maneuvering for custody of the vote-rich issue.

"Last year, President Nixon campaigned on a promise to reduce crime by getting a new attorney general," Harris said. "Despite that emphasis on 'law and order' in the 1968 campaign, the fact is that the rate of crime in the United States has gone up 11 per cent during the first year of President Nixon's term in office."

Republicans claim the President has taken the initiative in this area and that it is the Democrat-controlled Congress that has dalled. A Democratic research document to be used by candidates in coming campaigns, disputes the GOP, saying Nixon "has garnered great publicity when issuing his messages, and then Congress has had to wait months for the bill."

Harris said the conference will launch a program for new and improved crime-fighting tools.

The program would push for channeling law enforcement funds to cities, bypassing the states. As it stands, said Harris, Cleveland received only $40,000 last year of the $1 million allotted to Ohio.

Greater emphasis should be placed on police training and increased federal assistance for local police salaries. A patrolman should start at $8,000 a year, Harris said.

Speedy trials and improved rehabilitation of criminals should become reality through federal legislation, Harris said.

Remaining goals were stepped up assaults on organized crime and drug traffic at state and local levels and increased funding for programs to prevent juvenile delinquency.

GUNBOAT AFFAIR French Aid To Israel Now Cut Off

PARIS (AP) — The flow of French arms and spare parts to Israel — quietly resumed after Georges Pompidou became president — has been firmly shut off because of the gunboat affair.

Sources in a position to know said Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann told Israeli Ambassador Walter Eytan this at their meeting in the Foreign Ministry New Year's Day.

That was when Schumann, after having summoned Eytan, informed the Israeli envoy that Adm. Mordechai Limon, Israel's chief arms purchaser in Europe, must leave the country because of his role in the gunboat incident.

Ranking French sources say Israel had coolly calculated the risks involved in circumventing the embargo on the boats — even to the point of writing off the supply of spare parts for its largely French-equipped air force and the 50 Mirage warplanes kept in France by the embargo.

Deliveries of the spare parts and other military equipment were stopped a year ago when Charles de Gaulle was president as punishment for an Israeli raid on Beirut Airport in Lebanon.

Then, at his first news conference last July, Pompidou said he was willing to consider letting some military equipment go to Israel under a "selective embargo" — that is, he might permit shipment of "nonoffensive" material.

Shortly afterward, authoritative sources reported, these shipments were secretly resumed.

KEY FIGURES IN INQUEST — The inquest into how Mary Jo Kopechne died in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car on Chappaquiddick Island off Massachusetts begins Monday in Edgartown.

Mass. Persons involved include Sen. Kennedy (left), Miss Kopechne, Edmund Dinis, James A. Boyle, Mary Lyons and Dominic J. Arena.

Inquest Into Mary Jo's Death Finally To Start

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The inquest into how Mary Jo Kopechne died in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car begins Monday, 5½ months after the auto plunged off narrow Dike Bridge on Chappaquiddick Island.

Complicated legal maneuvers delayed the inquest, which will be conducted in secret in the century-old brick courthouse where Kennedy pleaded guilty to the charge of failing to report the accident.

The 38-year-old Democrat's expected testimony this week will be his first response to formal questioning on the July 18 accident which has left his political future in doubt.

His appearance on the witness stand will give him the chance to clear up for authorities some of the questions left unanswered about the party before the accident, the plunge into the water itself and the 10 hours that passed before police were informed of the death.

Kennedy has made two public statements about Miss Kopechne's death. The first was to Edgartown police the morning after the accident and the second on national television the night after he pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of the accident.

Kennedy's objections to the ground rules laid down for the inquest by District Court Judge James A. Boyle, who will preside at the inquiry, prompted the State Supreme Court to rule that this and all subsequent inquests in Massachusetts will be closed to the press and public.

The official verdict on the girl's death is that she drowned. This is based on a viewing of the body by an associate medical examiner.

A judge in Pennsylvania, where the 28-year-old Miss Kopechne was buried, refused to allow exhumation of the body and an autopsy because he said no sufficient evidence was presented to counter the drowning verdict.

Israelis Capture Soviet Radar Unit From Egypt

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel acknowledged in a radio broadcast Saturday that Israeli commandos captured a "complete P-12 type Soviet anti-aircraft installation from Egypt" a week ago.

"It was a feat probably unequalled in modern warfare," said the state radio station's military commentator, Haim Herzog, a reserve army general and former head of army intelligence. "It is the only operable radar of its type in the free world."

Herzog said the station was designed for use with Soviet-built SA-2 surface-to-air missiles and had an operating range of 186 miles. Other knowledgeable sources said the unit was mounted on two trailers and surrounded by concrete revetments with only the antenna protruding above ground.

In another development Saturday, Israeli commandos slipped into Lebanon and came home with 21 Arab prisoners.

The 2½-hour raid over the Lebanese frontier raised tension along that border, already primed for a major confrontation between the Israelis and Arab guerrillas.

The Israelis said they mounted the attack in retaliation for what they called a series of "aggressive" border incidents, including the seizure of an Israeli night watchman on New Year's Day.

Top Israeli leaders have gone on record with warnings to the Lebanese to stop Arab guerrillas from crossing the border on sabotage missions in Israel—or risk a severe military response.

But significance of the raid tended to pale in comparison with the just disclosed account of the capture of a new Soviet-built radar station which—according to informants—was taken apart by the commandos and flown to Israel in helicopters Dec. 26.

The seven-ton radar station, reported to be worth about $1 million, was hijacked by a commando team which crossed the Gulf of Suez and raided an Egyptian army camp near Ras Ghareb, 115 miles south of Suez City.

Informants said Israeli jets provided cover for the commandos as they dismantled the radar station with steel-cutting torches before it was hoisted aboard the heavy-duty helicopters. At the same time, it was learned, the Israelis captured four Soviet-trained Egyptian radar technicians and inflicted "several casualties" on camp defenders.

The story has been an open secret in Israel ever since, but military security prevented publication until it was printed overseas.

There was no immediate reaction in Cairo to the Israeli account of the radar station hijacking.

Reviewing the . . .
Big Spring Week
. . . with Joe Pickle

The sleet storm which moved in last Sunday was bad enough, but we were saved by the bell. Just as a major communication, power and transportation break down appeared inevitable, the jangling let up and gave way to light snow. Fifteen years ago a similar condition set in and kept going with the result of critical failures. Then, as last week, the hardest hit local area was in the Knott-Ackerly-Nealmore sector when practically all poles broke. This time, in Howard and Mitchell County, approximately 250 poles went down, plus three or four dozen cross arms. Conditions were so bad that highway traffic either moved with super caution or halted for the duration.

Sudden adverse weather conditions, however, caught Grady Sudberry, 51, local truck driver, just south of Mason, and he was fatally injured in a mishap.

Good news came of the nomination of Col. Harrison Lobdell Jr., Webb AFB wing commander, to be a brigadier general. Also in the small list of such promotions were the names of Col. William

ROBBERY CHARGE Mrs. Smith Goes To Trial Monday

STANTON — Mrs. Wilma Smith, 20, wife of a Webb Air Force Base sergeant, will go on trial at 10 a.m. Monday in 118th District Court here for robbery by assault in connection with the murder and robbery of a Stanton service station attendant last July.

Mrs. Smith, Sgt. Donald L. Smith, 21, her husband; Steven Lewis Blanchard, 21, US 80 West; and George Lewis Hite, 21, Midland, were indicted for armed robbery and murder Sept. 2, 1969, by the Martin County Grand Jury.

Marcus Tarango, 35, the lone attendant at a service station on IS 20 at the Lamesa Highway, north of Stanton, was robbed and killed shortly before 5 a.m. July 10. Approximately $125 reportedly was taken in the robbery.

Martin County Sheriff Dan Saunders said Tarango was shot at fairly close range with what appeared to be a small caliber weapon.

The four suspects were arrested by Midland police as they refueled their car at a service station at IS 20 and the Garden City Highway in Midland.

Mrs. Smith was released on $10,000 bond July 11 by Justice of the Peace Martin Gibson, pending birth of her child. The baby was born Aug. 11. Bond was refused for the men.

Blanchard, under a five-year probation sentence for burglary at the time of the arrest, was sent to the Texas Prison in Huntsville in September, after 118th District Judge Ralph W.

Caton revoked his probation. Blanchard was returned to Martin County Jail New Year's Eve, where Smith and Hite have been held since their arrest.

Caton said Saturday no definite dates have been set for the robbery trials of the three men, or any of the murder trials.

Hite has filed an affidavit of present insanity, but Caton has taken no action. He will have to rule on the affidavit before Hite is tried.

Defenders Throw Back Storming Enemy Attack

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese troops, behind a mortar barrage, stormed up a steep hill south of Da Nang Saturday but the U.S. defenders threw them back.

The American Division's 11th Infantry Brigade had placed an element on the hill, near Duc Pho, 310 miles northeast of Saigon. The hill overlooks an infiltration route to the coastal region.

Field reports said the enemy troops charged up the brush-covered hill from two directions firing mortars and small arms and hurling hand grenades.

The defenders called in artillery support and helicopter gunships. The reports said the enemy troops broke off the attack several times when flares illuminated their position, then opened fire again under cover of darkness. They never were able to penetrate the Americans' perimeter.

The four-hour battle ended shortly before 4 a.m. when the enemy withdrew.

The U.S. Command said 29 North Vietnamese were killed, and 12 weapons were captured. Seven Americans were killed, and 11 wounded.

Sources in the field said the American position was located on a mountain range that juts out toward the sea and offers the enemy a natural route to the populous coastal lowlands around Duc Pho.

Only scattered ground action was reported elsewhere in Vietnam Saturday.

MRS. NICHOLS EXCITED OVER NEW POST

Mrs. McDaniel Retires As Librarian

Mrs. McDaniel Has Moved Library Twice

By TERRY HOPKINS
Mrs. Opal McDaniel remembers when the Howard County Library was sheltered in the little red firehouse on the corner of the courthouse square. She remembers when it was moved into a little cubby-hole of space in the new courthouse, and she remembers the move up the street to the Dora Roberts homestead.

MRS. OPAL MCDANIEL

That's because Mrs. McDaniel has been the county librarian through all those moves, for the past 16 years. Mrs. McDaniel will see the next move too, to the old post office building, but she won't be as much a part of it this time, for Mrs. McDaniel retired last week.

Retirement that pictures a doddery old man leaning on a cane is not what Mrs. McDaniel has in mind, however. She does not even see visions of a life of leisure ahead, because she retired to continue her education. Paradoxically, she plans to go back to school to get a degree in library science. "I'm just so proud to retire," she said, "now I can get down to work on that one year that's left to get the degree. I enjoy studying, and library science seems to be right down my alley."

Mrs. Nichols To Start Out Moving Books

Mrs. Edna Nichols has worked for the Howard County Library off and on for nearly 10 years, so she was already well versed in its ways when she stepped into the boots of the county librarian Jan. 1. She was hired by county commissioners Dec. 22 to succeed Mrs. Opal McDaniel, who retired Thursday after 16 years as the county's librarian.

MRS. EDNA NICHOLS

Mrs. Nichols, 32, is the mother of two children and lives in the Elbow community where her husband ranches. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Harrell, live in Knott, and Mrs. Harrell is the postmaster there. The new librarian's children, Marcia, 11, and Weldon, 8, had mixed emotions about their mother's new job at first, but now they are excited about it and are looking forward to spending the afternoon time between school and when their mom comes home, with grandparents and cousins.

"I'm sure it will work out," Mrs. Nichols said. "This is a great opportunity for me as well as the family." The new librarian said she has always enjoyed studying and is looking forward to workshops and seminars, as well as college courses to keep her up to date on the latest happenings.

Her quest for knowledge led her from Knott High School's 1955 graduating class to Howard County Junior College for a year, and then on to correspondence courses until she completed her two-year associate degree from the junior college.

"As a matter of fact, I'm taking another course right now," she said.

As for any new plans for the library, Mrs. Nichols said she plans to ease into the job first, becoming well acquainted with every phase of the library, before she even considers any sweeping changes.

"I look forward to some innovations after we move into the new building," she said, "but for a while that move itself will be a full time job."

Mrs. Nichols said she does plan to continue the story hour that Mrs. McDaniel started two years ago. "I hope children will keep right on coming every Tuesday from 10 to 11 a.m. to hear Mrs. Richard Vera, our catalogue, read their stories," she said. "Mrs. Vera already has a great following among the children, for she demands, and gets, concentrated attention."

Mrs. Nichols said she also plans to continue the same hours of operation for the library, from 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. weekdays, excepting Monday which is 1 p.m. to 6 p.m., and Thursday when the library is open until 9 p.m.

"We're also open on Saturday," she said, "from 8:30 a.m. to noon."

To Reopen Mansion

AUSTIN (AP) — The governor's office said Friday that on Jan. 5 the Governor's Mansion will be reopened for public tours.

Since about Sept. 15 the downstairs area of the mansion has been renovated and the mansion has been closed to tourists. The renovation included repairs, painting, refinishing floors, reupholstering furniture and adding new drapes and carpeting. "Finally we have everything back in order and it is beautiful," Mrs. Preston Smith said today. "We are extremely proud of it and are anxious to share its beauty with all the people of Texas, with all the people to whom this house belongs."

The mansion tours will be 10 a.m. to noon during week days.

Mystery Horses Puzzle Police

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The sheriff is looking for whoever did some claimjumping on grazing rights next door to the Denver County jail. Someone built a barbed wire fence on city land adjoining the jail property, then installed 25 horses in the make-do corral. Mayor Bill McNichols said Friday that unless the owner moves the herd, the city may conduct a horse raffle soon.

DEAR ABBY: When are the clothing manufacturers going to realize that not ALL women are size 10, and 16 years old?

I am nearly 60 and wear a size 12 to 14. I have good legs, but I don't care to show them above the knee! I am at my wit's end trying to find dresses that are appropriate for a woman my age.

I have neither the time nor the ability to sew, and the last time I tried a dressmaker I waited three months for a simple skirt. Can't something be done for the forgotten women? HOPEFUL IN LAWNDALE, CALIF.

DEAR HOPEFUL: Before you give up, shop in some of the more conservative shops. If you still can't find what you want, wear your old clothes, and when they fall apart, try another dressmaker, and breathe down her neck until she delivers.

DEAR ABBY: This is for "MAD AT ME IN ALBUQUERQUE": A rude woman knowingly pushed ahead of me at a checkout counter. As she did so, she said "Since I have more groceries than you, I will go ahead of you."

My answer to her was, "And since I have more manners than you, I shall let you go." J.C.R., GAFFNEY, S.C.

DEAR M.R.: The rude woman was also short on logic. How did she figure that since she had more groceries than you, you wouldn't object to her going ahead of you? Had she had FEWER items, it might have made more sense.

DEAR ABBY: My elderly mother recently passed away. When I went to the small town in which she lived to move her things, I could not find her beautiful Limoges plates, a cranberry fruit bowl, and several pieces of Bavarian china.

After finishing my task, I bought a little gift and went to call on a woman mother said had been kind to her in her later months.

The woman had a very unpretentious home, so I was not prepared for what I saw? I am sure she had thousands of dollars' worth of antiques in her living room. In a china closet was my mother's cranberry fruit bowl. A shelf on the wall featured mother's Limoges plates (eight of them) and the Bavarian candy dishes were also on display.

The woman seemed flustered by my unexpected visit, and she told me my mother had insisted she take these things.

In visiting with a neighbor of my mother's, I learned that my mother was on this woman's "routine list." Her weekends were visiting elderly women for an hour or so. She brought a Bible in one hand and a piece of cake in the other. She read the Bible and feed these ailing shut-ins goodies, while all the time she had her eye on a few treasures she subtly managed to acquire.

I've told this story to many of my friends, and they all seem to know many of these vultures. I didn't. Sign me NAIVE IN NEBRASKA

Campus Revue Off To A Good Start

By MARILYN NEVELS
The Big Spring High School Campus Revue is off to a good start. Todd Lane, choreographer from Wichita Falls, has been rehearsing with the cast since Monday and feels certain that the Revue will be "very polished" by show time Feb. 5. Lane has choreographed the Revue for the past three years and "it gets easier every year," he said.

Steer band members have been practicing enthusiastically 8-12 hours a day on the show since Monday. "For every minute of the show it takes an hour of rehearsal and choreography," Lane said.

Lane, who is a graduate student at Midwestern University, chairman of the arts lecture series there, had to return Saturday to take final exams and stage a show, but will return to rehearse and direct lighting effects for the Revue Jan. 23-Feb. 9.

He has done theatre work for more than 10 years and is technical director, lighting designer and stage manager for the Wichita Falls Ballet Theatre. He is stage manager and designer for the Dallas Metropolitan Ballet and producer-director for Wichita Falls Summer Youth Musicals. In addition he has worked on many touring shows including "Hello Dolly," "Camelot" and "Cactus Flower."

"Step To The Rear" is the block-busting opening number in the '70 Revue. Thirty-one dancers do snappy steps and intricate marching to this number. It includes a squad of protesters and the band, with everyone dressed in black and white costumes. The protesters carry signs reading "stop air pollution," "don't smoke in the bathroom," "Mickey Mouse wears corrective shoes."

In all, Lane choreographed and staged six major numbers for the Revue, including "Rhythm of Life" and "Big Spender" from "Sweet Charity," "If My Friends Could See Me Now," "Aquarius," "Good Morning Star Shine" from "Hair."

Band directors Bill Bradley and Don Turner have been working hard with the students. Bradley has been marking rhythm and shouting "smile" to the band until everyone is dancing and smiling in unison.

None of the band members has danced before, but they're learning rapidly. The hardest number, said Lane, is "Rhythm of Life." It took eight hours to choreograph and has some complicated movements, lifts, sliding and pulling. The dancers come on with the boys pulling the girls, who are crouched, across the stage. The dances are done by three groups dressed in mod costumes. They do an amusing and slinky cat-dance with some quick, complicated, high-stepping stalking around the stage. James Person is the singer for the special number.

The emcees for the production are Izell (Twinkle) Johnson, Robert Margolis and Bob Bryant. The annual revue, the biggest entertainment of the year at the high school, is to begin Feb. 5.

PRACTICING FOR 'RHYTHM OF LIFE'—Julie Seay, Robert Willbanks (front) and Sheila Lewis, and Wesley Cook go through their paces Friday afternoon in this number for Campus Revue '70.

Lorraine Lad Has Best Pig In Mitchell Show

COLORADO CITY (SC) — son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Harris. David Compton, 17, Lorraine High School senior, showed a lightweight cross-bred pig to Grand Champion honors at Colorado City Friday in the opening day of the Mitchell County 4-H and FFA livestock show. Compton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Shep Compton, Lorraine, and a member of the Lorraine-FFA.

Clyde Hines, 15, Westbrook High School sophomore, had the reserve champion, a 221-pound Duroc. Hines, the son of Westbrook agriculture teacher, Pete Hines, received an award for the best pig bred in Mitchell County. It came from his father's sounder. Hines also received the first place award for pens of three. His brother, Steven Hines, had the second place pen of three.

Eldon Harris, Colorado City 4-H member, received the Showmanship Award. He is the

Newscaster Says Can't Tell Truth

SAIGON (AP) — A television newscaster on the American Forces Vietnam Network — AFVN—charged over the air tonight that a broadcaster on the network "is not free to tell the truth."

The newscaster, Spec. 5 Robert Lawrence, 27, of Atlanta, Ga., made the accusation at the end of his 11 p.m. broadcast.

"As a newscaster," Lawrence said, "I am dedicated to giving the public the news and events worldwide and on the local level."

"I am pledged to tell the truth at all times, and I will always tell the truth either in the military or as a civilian."

"In the military in Vietnam, I have found that a newscaster at AFVN is not free to tell the truth and in essence to tell it like it is."

Lawrence said that the Military Assistance Command in Vietnam, overseer of all American forces in the country, "has seen to it that all those newscasters who are dedicated to their work are sent away to other areas, in some cases off the air completely."

A spokesman said the U.S. Command would have no immediate comment. He said the command was attempting to determine exactly what was said and that a statement probably would be made later.

After the telecast, which startled viewers and sent military brass rushing to the station, Lawrence said by telephone: "Right off hand I'm in a confused state. It was hard for me to do that, because I'm still in the military. I don't know what the consequences will be. This is a pretty serious incident. The thing is that something had to be done. The thing is, I was convinced about what MACV (U.S. Military Assistance Command Vietnam) was doing here, how much control they had over us."

LEASE HAS EXPIRED

Time Runs Out For Short Road

By WAYNE C. SELLERS

Palentine Herald-Press
Written For The Associated Press

PALESTINE, Tex. (AP) —

"The little girl isn't out in front waving," engineer O. D. Womack of Rusk said with disappointment as he came within a few hundred yards of completing the last run of the Texas-South Eastern Railroad from Palestine to Rusk the past week.

Lease of TSE to use the facilities of the Texas State Railroad from Palestine to Rusk expired Dec. 31 and TSE is not renewing.

With the expiration of the lease, another short line railroad run is ended in Texas and an interesting chapter in Texas railroad history is closed.

TSE also operates a line from Lufkin to Diboll which is not affected by this discontinuance.

Rail service to Palestine over the line was started in 1909.

On the brisk and sunny New Year's Eve, Womack said, "I hated to see this day coming, but I knew it would be here when the announcement was made the lease wouldn't be renewed."

Womack had been on the run since the first TSE train reached Palestine Nov. 1, 1962. It was on that date that TSE took over from Southern Pacific which, with its predecessor Texas & New Orleans, had operated the line since 1921.

Last run of the TSE started about 7:30 a.m. Wednesday in Rusk when Womack and Conductor Carroll Dover of Maydelle checked with the Cotton Belt Depot to see if there were any cars for the TSE. They had already been by and started their engine, TSE No. 22, and left it idling to warm up the cab, for it was a nippy morning with a glaze of ice and frost.

There wasn't any business at the Cotton Belt. One car was moved from a feed facility on the TSE track to the Cotton Belt transfer track. The car had carried chicken feed and was to be sent back to Waco.

It was then headed to Palestine with nothing but the engine, a General Electric 70-ton job with some 670 horse-power.

The track from nearly the center of Rusk goes straight to Rusk State Hospital. The train switches to another track there and then heads for Palestine.

What is now the State Hospital was the reason for building the Texas State Railroad in the first place. The line was started in 1894 by the Texas Prison System as a plant facility of the penitentiary at North-Rusk to serve an iron furnace and other industries.

By 1896, 4.73 miles were completed, extending to the penitentiary lands lying toward Palestine; by 1906, 10.2 miles were completed to Maydelle; and by 1909 32.7 miles were completed when the railroad entered Palestine.

The road was built with convict labor.

In 1917 the iron furnace for which the road had been built was sold and the plant at North-Rusk was converted to an asphalt lum which is now Rusk State Hospital.

From Rusk to Vernon Calhoun Packing Co. on the outskirts of Palestine, it was only the locomotive joggling along sitting inside the comfortably heated cab looking at the pines and underbrush sparkling with a thick layer of frost was delightful.

Free Booklet On Tax Tips

The 1970 edition of the "Farmer's Tax Guide," Publication 225, is now available free from county agricultural agents or the Internal Revenue Service, Ellis Campbell Jr., IRS District Director for North Texas said today.

The booklet shows how farmers should fill out the new 1040 tax return and which schedules should be attached. A listing of important Federal tax dates for farmers can also be found in the publication.

Recovery Project Gets Green Light

The gigantic carbon dioxide repressuring project for the Kelly-Snyder oilfield in southwest Scurry County has been given the green light by the Texas Railroad Commission.

The commission announced approval of a 40 per cent increase in allowable wells in the SACROC unit in two successive stages. A hearing had been held last Oct. 5 by the commission on SACROC's bid for a greater allowable which is financially necessary for undertaking the secondary recovery project.

The first increase of 20 per cent will be from 174,270 to 209,124 barrels per day (both subjected to proration) effective with commencement of work on pipeline and compression stations for a 200-mile system to bring carbon dioxide from Val Verde County to Scurry County. The second increase to 243,978 barrels per day, also subject to proration, will be effective with commencement of injection of carbon dioxide into SACROC wells.

The SACROC unit began water injection in 1954 as one of the first major oil reservoirs to waterflood. This quickly restored bottom hole pressures, which have been maintained by using water to displace the oil. The new operation envisions injection of the inert gas into the oil stratum ahead of the injected water, which will continue to furnish the drive. The stepped-up recovery program also will call for a sharp increase in the amount of water which SACROC will require. The unit is one of the major oil field customers of the Colorado River Municipal Water District.

Cost of the project is estimated at $117,000,000. However, this is due to resulting recovery of an additional 156,000,000 barrels of oil with no significant change in the life of the field.

News Briefs Posse Wins First Place

The Howard County Sheriff's Posse began the new year with a first place win Saturday in the parade riding competition kicking off the Sand Hill Herd and Quarter Horse Show in Odessa.

The riders have been invited back to participate in the rodeo's Grand Entry Monday night in honor of the win. Second place in the competition went to the San Angelo Saddle Club, and third to the Kermit Saddle Club.

First place is not unusual to the Howard County riders. They won the state parade riding championship for 1969 with 10 firsts, two seconds and three thirds and have been asked to lead the parade starting the Ford Worth Livestock Show and Rodeo Jan. 30.

National Death Toll Is 320

The traffic death toll rose to 320 Saturday, with another full day left in the four-day New Year's holiday weekend.

Freezing weather, with snow falling from the Rocky Mountains east across the northern sections of the country, covered the continental states. Southern Florida was the only area that had above-freezing temperatures.

The count of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday.

Army Aviator Will Speak To Rotary

Capt. William P. Rosser Jr., 21-year-old Army aviator, will speak on the Army's activities in Vietnam and the achievements and experiences of the individual soldier at the noon meeting of the Rotary Club Tuesday.

Lowell N. Jones, program chairman, said the meeting will be open to the public. The meeting will be in the Settles ballroom, and the speech is scheduled to begin about 12:30 p.m.

Capt. Rosser is one of 30 soldiers who make up the Army Speakers Program, an extension of the Speakers Bureaus located on military installations.

While in Vietnam he flew more than 1,000 reconnaissance and scout missions and logged over 650 combat hours. His decorations include the Bronze Star for meritorious service, 13 awards of the Air Medal, the Army Commendation Medal and Enlisted Good Conduct Medal.

Holiday Mail Near Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — The volume of Christmas mail reached a near-record 7.9 billion pieces in 1969, the Post Office Department announced Saturday.

This total was second only to the 1967 Christmas season when 8.1 billion items were handled with part of the volume attributed to businessmen's efforts to beat a postage-rate increase which became effective in January 1968.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount said that despite an increase of 71 million pieces over the 1968 Christmas volume, work hours were reduced 1.3 million.

Mexico Hit By Flu Bug

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Nearly one third of the seven million population of Mexico City has been hit by the flu epidemic, the Public Health Ministry says.

Schools, which were to reopen Monday, will remain closed until further notice, the ministry said.

Ministry spokesmen said city hospitals are jammed and that house calls by doctors have tripled in the past few days.

The Social Service Institute recalled all its doctors on vacation because of the epidemic. It asked city residents to take special precautionary measures and urged them to take vaccination shots.

"A large percentage of the sick people is made up of school-age children," an institute spokesman said.

Most government and private offices are working with skeleton crews or on vacation because of the holidays.

Several common medicines for colds have become scarce in drug stores, it was reported.

Texaco Has Stepout Site

Texaco Inc. scheduled No. 1 Florence Reed as a 1 1/2-mile northwest stepout to Clear Fork production in the Coahoma, North multiphase region of Howard County, 11 miles northeast of Big Spring.

Drill site for the 4,300-foot venture is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 7, block 30, T-1-N.

The Coahoma, North field has one Clear Fork, two Fusselman and one Ellenburger oil wells.

Adobe Oil Co. of Midland finished No. 3-A Sale Ranch as a one-half mile southeast extension to the Sale Ranch sector of the Martin County portion of the Spraberry Trend Area, 10 miles northwest of Stanton.

It flowed 220 barrels of 39-gravity oil and 25 barrels of water in 24 hours through a 14-1/2-inch choke with surface pressure 430 pounds from shot holes between 8,106 and 8,977 feet with a gas-oil ratio of 1,100-1. The interval had been fractured with 80,000 gallons of refined oil and 240,000 pounds of sand.

It is 1,320 feet from south and east lines of section 27, block 37, T-1-N, T&P survey.

The hijackers, seeking to go to Cuba, ran into another delay in Panama when a generator used to start jet engines failed to function after the plane took another load of fuel.

Brazilian Hijackers Have Troubled Trip

PANAMA (AP) — A Brazilian woman-rebel and four-male commandos—carrying out the world's longest air hijacking in terms of time—ran into new trouble Saturday but finally took off for Cuba.

An airline spokesman in Rio de Janeiro said late Saturday afternoon that the plane had landed in Havana.

After spending 27 hours grounded in Peru because of a dead battery, the hijacked Brazilian airliner, carrying 28 persons, including seven crew members, came to Panama for a refueling stop.

But a faulty airport generator, used to start jet engines in an emergency, prevented for 3 1/2 hours their takeoff for the 1,000-mile hop to Havana where the hijackers said they wanted to leave two small children of a comrade they claim is jailed and being tortured in Brazil. The pilot was unable to get the two engines of the French-built Caravelle started—a development similar to the one that kept the plane in Lima, Peru's capital.

The plane was hijacked around 6 p.m. EST., Thursday, after taking off for Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, from Montevideo, Uruguay.

When the plane landed in Panama, it had gone 3,500 miles in about 36 hours. Before Lima, it had refueled in Buenos Aires, Argentina, and Antofagasta in Chile.

The previous record for a lengthy hijacking was that of ex-Marine Raphael Minichello who hijacked a TWA jetliner in California on Oct. 31 and ordered it flown to Rome in Italy. That took nearly 24 hours with refueling stops in between.

As in Lima, the passengers and crew in the hijacked plane of Brazil's Cruzeiro do Sul air line sweltered during the Panama stop. The temperature outside was close to 90 degrees.

Capt. Patricio Jansen, civil aeronautics director at Panama's Tocumen Airport, was allowed to talk with some members of the plane's crew while ground crews refueled the plane.

Jansen said he was told that the woman, apparently the leader of the hijackers, held a pistol on the Caravelle's pilot while the refueling went on. She has been identified as Isolda Sommer, 26, who officials in Rio de Janeiro said is the wife of a terrorist accused of a bank robbery there last year. They said the husband, identified as Ronaldo Lobato, was a member of a Communist cell in Belo Horizonte, Brazil.

The plane was parked in Panama about 100 yards from the main terminal building but only ground crews and other airport personnel were allowed near the plane.

Lorraine Showman Has Mitchell's Champ Calf

COLORADO CITY (SC) — A Hereford calf shown by Bimbo Stewart, 16, a sophomore at Lorraine High School, was named grand champion steer Saturday at the Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show.

The steer was also named best calf bred in Mitchell County and best Hereford calf in Mitchell County. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Stewart, Lorraine.

The reserve champion steer was shown by Becky Merket, 15, a freshman at Lorraine High School, and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Merket, Lorraine. The calf was also named the best Angus calf in Mitchell County.

Full results in the heavyweight steer competition had first place going to Bimbo Stewart, Lorraine FFA; second to Becky Merket, Lorraine 4-H; third, Mike McClure, Colorado City 4-H; fourth, Jeff Merket, Lorraine 4-H; and fifth, Bob Girvin, Colorado City 4-H.

In the mediumweight class, first went to David Stubblefield, Colorado City 4-H; second, Larry McClure, Colorado City 4-H; third, Becky Merket, Lorraine 4-H; fourth, Charles Light, Colorado City FFA; and fifth, Bob Girvin, Colorado City 4-H.

In the lightweight class, first went to Eddie Merket, Lorraine 4-H; second, David Stubblefield, Colorado City 4-H; third, Kenny McClure, Colorado City 4-H; fourth, Bobby Moody, Westbrook 4-H; and fifth, Larry Wallington, Colorado City 4-H.

James Light's calf took first in the heifer judging, representing the Colorado City FFA; Eddie Merket, Lorraine 4-H, second; and Charles Light, Colorado City FFA, third.

Janet Brownfield, 15, Colorado City sophomore, had the grand champion sheep with her Hampshire. Her sister Marsha, 17-year-old junior, won the reserve honors and showmanship award. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brownfield, vocational agriculture teacher at Colorado City High School.

Teresa McClure won the award for having the best bred sheep in Mitchell County.

In the finewool class, first place went to Larry McClure, Colorado City 4-H; second, Mike McClure, Colorado City 4-H; third and fourth, Larry McClure; and Randy Hoyles, Colorado City took fifth.

VIOLENCE INCREASES Traffic Deaths Drop Sharply

By The Associated Press

Traffic deaths in Texas during the New Year's holiday showed signs of dropping sharply as compared with the Christmas period, but other forms of violent death swung up sharply.

Latest reports showed 18 persons perishing in traffic and 24 dying of other causes.

During the Christmas holiday, 54 persons died in Texas traffic and 20 died of other causes.

The Texas Department of Public Safety expects a lower traffic toll during the New Year's holiday, estimating 32 will die before the count ends Sunday at midnight. The tabulations began at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Reason for fewer traffic deaths is that there is less traveling in the New Year's period. The department estimated 54 would die in the Yule period and the actual count met the prediction exactly.

Latest reported deaths: Patrick Hogan, 17, died in Brazosport Community Hospital of what Justice of the Peace A. L. Lee said Saturday was sniffing fire extinguisher fumes. The justice said Hogan at a teen-age party filled a handkerchief with extinguisher fluid and sniffed the fumes.

Carlos Corrallo, 16, was killed in Houston early Saturday morning when hit with a 22-caliber rifle projectile while walking through a used car lot. Officers said the case will be referred directly to the grand jury.

The nude body of an unidentified woman was found Friday in a motel in Dallas. The body was beside a bed which had been burned. Police said the woman and a man checked into the motel Thursday. They were unable to find her companion.

A pre-dawn fire in a house trailer on Houston's far north side Saturday claimed the lives of an elderly couple identified by authorities as Till Bedwell and Delsy Bedwell.

Calvin Leonard, 69, and Salvatore Perez, 50, both of San Antonio, were killed Friday night when their car hit a parked truck 9.1 miles north of the South Texas town of Tilden, in McCullen County.

Leslie Webb, 57, of San Antonio was found stabbed to death Friday night at his home. Police sought a man for questioning.

A 22-caliber rifle discharged Friday while Kenneth W. Dugar, 14, of Beaumont was playing with a companion. Dugar died several hours after the bullet struck him in the abdomen.

Mrs. Francisca Acevedo, 89, of San Antonio burned to death in her home Friday. Authorities said the woman's clothes apparently touched a wall heater.

Air Force Sgt. Walter Rhodes Jr., 25, and his wife, Mary, 26, were found shot to death at their home Friday in Austin. Police said Rhodes was shot once in the head and his wife suffered three bullet wounds. A rifle lay across Rhodes' body.

Cruz Reyes, 42, of Victoria was killed and two other persons were injured Friday in a two-car head-on collision on U.S. 87 four miles south of Victoria.

A fire swept a frame home Friday at Cuero in South Texas, killing Mrs. Edwards G. Orasco, 83, of Cuero.

James Vincent Ercole, 21, an airman stationed at Del Rio, and his wife, Paula, 21, were killed Friday night in a three-car collision on Interstate 35 near New Braunfels.

Stereo Stolen

Chester Stays, 1410 Oriole, reported a stereo valued at more than $50 stolen from his car as it was parked in front of Wilson's Cafe around 6 p.m. Friday. The thief evidently decided to try Stays' stereo out, because Jim Matlock, 1214 W. 3rd, told police around midnight someone took stereo tapes worth $25 from his car parked near his residence.

Thief Has Time On Hands

A thief, who must have plenty of time on his hands today, reportedly broke into the City Pawn Shop, 204 Main, sometime Friday night and took merchandise valued at $1,275, including 51 watches.

Police Sgt. Jack Boyd noticed the front window of the shop smashed while on patrol at 3:37 a.m. Saturday and, after investigating, called officer Aubrey Weaver, 601 Washington, to estimate the loss. Weaver said the watches were of different types and makes and were worth about $1,175. He also reported two antique pistols valued at $100 taken and estimated damage to the front window at $300.

Police said the window was apparently broken by a large concrete block found inside the shop.

Dead Soldier Gets Last Wish Granted

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — A young Negro soldier killed in Vietnam was reburied Saturday in a formerly all-white cemetery after a five-month legal battle against racial restrictions.

The brief, simple services in Elmwood Cemetery for Pfc. Bill Terry, 20, ended his family's legal struggle to fulfill his desire to be buried within sight of the house in which he grew up.

Terry was killed in combat July 3 and had been interred in all-Negro Shadow Lawn Cemetery when Elmwood refused to sell his family a burial plot.

At Saturday's funeral Terry's parish priest, the Rev. Eugene Farrell, told a crowd of 500 in Our Lady of Fatima Catholic church, "I hope this burial is a symbol of a new age. This may be the last barrier of discrimination."

The crowd swelled to 750 for a solemn procession to Elmwood Cemetery, half a mile away. By the time the flag-draped casket reached the graveside, more than 1,000 persons were present.

Father Ferrell, white pastor of a predominantly Negro parish, said: "This is not a time of mourning, it is a time of rejoicing. We rejoice that we are able to respond to Bill Terry's last wish."

Terry enlisted in the Army and was assigned to Vietnam last year. He told his family he wanted to be buried in Elmwood if he did not survive.

Elmwood refused to sell the family a burial plot because, it said, restrictive clauses in contracts with other plot owners prevented it from serving Negroes.

A federal judge ruled last week that the clauses were illegal, and Elmwood has said it would not appeal the decision. Terry's mother attended the services with her other three sons and five daughters. She remained beside her daughter, Grace, an Army nurse who has served in Vietnam. Another son, Lucius, is scheduled for Army induction later this month.

Terry's 16-year-old widow, Margaret, was accompanied by her 18-month-old son, Patrick Donovan, who slept in a relative's arms during the walk to the cemetery.

The services in the modernistic church were religiously and racially integrated. The Most Rev. Joseph Vath, Bishop of Birmingham, sat in the altar area. A black minister, the Rev. John Porter, spoke after Father Farrell.

Knights Templar Set Installation

Big Spring Commandery No. 31, Knights Templar, and the Social Order of the Beauceant No. 211 will have a joint open installation at the Masonic Temple, 221 1/2 Main, Monday.

Dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and the installation rites for officers will be at 7:30 p.m.

Hal Burnett, Alpine, who is the grand master of Texas Masons, will serve as installing officer.

Among others due to participate are Arthur G. Coots, Dalhart, installing marshal; Sam Hilburn, Midland, installing prelate.

The installing officers for the Beauceants will be Mrs. Harry Middleton, installing officer; Mrs. A. G. Coots, marshal; Mrs. Sam Hilburn, assistant marshal; Mrs. Jack Alexander, standard bearer; Radford Clayton, color bearer; Mrs. Jo Lemmon, director of music; Mrs. V. S. Hagerty, recorder.

More Views On Space

To the Editor:

In regard to recent letters concerning "moon rocks," I suggest we heed the apostolic warning not to become so consumed with words that we pass by the wounded man in the ditch.

I note the mark of modernist here... "one exhibiting an air of subtle super-piety."

In 1857, a deaf school teacher named K. E. Tsiolkovsky stated "earth is the cradle of the mind, but one cannot live in the cradle forever;" and in the small town of Kaluga, 100 miles south of Moscow, Rocket Motion was born that provided a means of escaping from the earth.

Tsiolkovsky foresaw space exploration as a continuing social process which would eventually transform human life and spread it throughout the solar system.

Others may not "have swallowed the conglomeration about the moon," but even so far-sighted an American as Woodrow Wilson spent time denouncing the automobile. People are still bringing prophecies of doom and gloom.

We do see in the Scriptures that nothing is impossible with God, and that He will not overrule the design in equipment. Undoubtedly Saturn V will have a successor, and I am sure that science will achieve for the mind and the spirit of mankind unparalleled heights of grandeur.

Cotton Crop Harvest Held Up By Cold

The cotton harvest came to a standstill last week as the ice and snow of last weekend forced area farmers to again wait for dry weather before they can gather the few bales still in the field. At week's end, few gins reported processing any cotton not already in their lots by last Sunday.

The storm hit the area as farmers were recovering from one of the periodic spells of precipitation which have hampered the harvest from its beginning. Just prior to the storm, most gins reported increased activity, and ginners and farmers alike were hoping the harvest might be complete by the end of this week. Now, they estimate that it may take another two weeks to get the cotton in, and longer if good weather does not hold.

Ginners think the weather has had little effect on the quality of the cotton so far, but point out the possibility of significant damage to unharvested plants if moist weather continues to delay the harvest. County Agent Paul Gross noted only slight discoloration of the bolls earlier in the week and said this would probably be remedied by bleaching in the sun for a few days.

Barring another bout with wet weather, gin operators think the harvest can be continued early this week to gather the remaining five to 10 per cent of the cotton in the field.

Police Return Ring To Owner

A diamond ring valued at $1,095, reported lost last week-end by an Odessa woman, has been recovered and returned to its owner by police.

Capt. Stanley Bogard said to Mrs. Nell Edwards, 1417 to Mrs. Nell Edwards, 417 Lauderdale, Odessa, who told police last Saturday she thought she lost it in the vicinity of the Settles Hotel and Greyhound Bus Terminal. The ring was described as having three large diamonds and 57 diamond chips in a fish-shaped platinum setting.

THE WEEK

C. McGlothlin, Col. Lobdell's immediate predecessor, and Col. Edwin White, who formerly was stationed at Webb AFB.

Jan. 1 is a sort of an unofficial starting date for local politics, and 1970 has preserved the tradition. By the end of the first week, there were several already in the field for Democratic nominations. There'll be more before the month is out.

The "October" grand jury is due to be reconvened Jan. 12 to look into reports concerning drug traffic here. Taking cognizance of recent arrests and charges, John Currie, foreman of the jury, indicated his panel will go into session with a list of some three score people to interview.

Little Carmen Denise Spivey is Miss 1970 of Howard County. She arrived at 9:07 a.m. Jan. 1 as the county's first baby of the New Year. Her parents are 2nd Lt. and Mrs. Wayne Spivey. He is a member of Class 70-08 at Webb AFB.

Aikman Bros. No. 1 Swearingen was completed as a three-eighths of a mile outpost to the Big Spring Fusselman field, about six miles northeast of here. This deep pay keeps edging southward.

Five men were named to the new, combined industrial panel of the Chamber of Commerce. Immediately, there was word that they were hot on the track of a prospect (a mobile homes manufacturer), but it is well to consider these contacts with proper reserve because of the intense competitiveness of the situation. Industries are like fish — you have them when you land them, not when they nibble.

Two new directors of the chamber for the year were named by Paul Meek, president, as he neared completion of his organization. One was Mrs. Odell (Edna) Wymack, active many years in civic affairs, and the other was Billy McElroy, a resident of about a year as manager of Montgomery Ward, but active in business and community matters.

COURTS TOO LENIENT Crime Soars In Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Murder, rape and robbery reached an all-time high in the nation's capital in 1969 and many Washington law enforcement officers say there will be no slowdown until Congress acts and court attitudes change.

Charts released by Police Chief Jerry V. Wilson show crime turned upward here in 1963 after investigative arrests were stopped and accelerated even faster after the Supreme Court decision in the Escobedo case in 1964 and the Miranda case in 1966.

These decisions established strict rules regarding questioning, arrests and subsequent interrogation of suspects and the manner in which confessions could be taken and used in court.

For the district police officer, Washington's Bail Reform Act is a major headache. "It's murder," one officer said.

The act makes it mandatory that the court release the accused on his own recognizance, if unable to post bail, if he has ties in the community. A recent court decision prohibits the court from considering the suspect's danger to the community.

Clogged criminal courts have caused some judges to dismiss cases, another officer said, and he cited the instance where a prosecution witness was not immediately available and the "judge dismissed the case and a stuck-up man walked out scotfree."

Many officers who feel courts have been too lenient in the past point to what happened in 1969 when bank robberies decreased drastically.

Last January 19 financial institutions were robbed; then a bank robber was sentenced to 45 year-to-life and another one had his bail fixed at $250,000. Statistics released by Wilson show that bank robberies dropped to two the next month. At year's end the bank robbery total stood at only 50 compared with 102 in 1968.

President Nixon's proposed legislation for controlling crime in the District, already approved by the Senate, is awaiting action in the House. It calls for court reform and new wire-tap and search warrant powers.

Agnew Puts Limit On Sending Troops To Asia

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew said Saturday President Nixon won't send U.S. combat troops to Asia unless there are exceptional circumstances.

Agnew also praised Thailand, a staunch U.S. ally, for its "self-reliant attitude" in fighting insurgency at home while helping in South Vietnam.

He demonstrated within a 24-hour period the two sides of the Nixon doctrine. He pledged to President Chiang Kai-shek of Nationalist China that the United States will stand by its treaty obligations. He then struck the theme of Asian self-help on arriving for a two-day visit in Bangkok.

As he made the four-hour flight from Formosa on Air Force Two, part of it across South Vietnam, the vice president discussed with reporters the administration's reasons for supporting the congressional action last month barring use of ground combat troops in Laos or Thailand without congressional approval.

"I think that was simply a resolution to indicate that the President wouldn't move unilaterally to engage us in any conflict—further conflict in Asia beyond the Vietnam situation—without returning to the Congress for approval of such action," Agnew said.

"I think it also indicated the President's conviction that we would not become involved in any other combat activities with our troops in Asia unless some very extreme, provocative and substantial action took place that might make it necessary for him to seek re-evaluation by the Congress."

Agnew said he doubted he would get into the question of future levels of U.S. forces in Thailand during talks with Thai officials. About 6,000 of the 48,000 Americans here were withdrawn last year.

Watson Extradition Hearing Monday

AUSTIN (AP) — California state attorneys and the lawyer for Charles D. Watson argue Monday over whether Texas should send the youth back to California for trial in the Sharon Tate murder case.

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. will conduct the extradition hearing at 10 a.m. After reviewing the testimony, he will forward a recommendation to Gov. Preston Smith, who must decide on the extradition request from California Gov. Ronald Reagan.

Watson, 24, and four others were indicted in Los Angeles in the bizarre killing of Miss Tate and four other persons in her home.

Watson's lawyer, Bill Boyd, filed a bill of particulars with Dies Dec. 29 saying "The State of California has been inundated with publicity about this case and it would be impossible for the defendant to get a fair trial in California."

Boyd said Reagan's extradition request contains "insufficient evidence" that Watson is the same person who was indicted in California.

Mendez Released To Harris County

AUSTIN — Jose Mendez, convicted Feb. 3, 1969 in Howard County for robbery by assault, and assault with intent to murder, has been paroled to Harris County.

The Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles announced the parole, crediting Mendez with 19 years and nine months of a 25-year prison sentence. Although he actually spent less than 10 years in state custody, he received extra time credits for good behavior.

Navy Will Sink Munitions Ship

PEARL HARBOR (AP) — The U.S. Navy says it will sink the smoking munitions ship Badger State, but "when, where and how" had not been decided.

The ship's 40-man crew abandoned the Badger State into heavy seas Dec. 26 when the cargo of bombs and rockets broke loose in the holds. Fourteen men were rescued and one body recovered. The others are presumed lost. The ship has a cargo with a combined explosive equivalent to 2,000 tons of TNT.

The fleet tug Abnaki, keeping a watch over the derelict from a distance, radioed Friday that the Badger State was burning in the aft sections and settling further in the water 1,500 miles northwest of Hawaii.

Time To Begin Study For Annual Spelling Bee

Now that school will be resumed Monday and pupils will be back in the studying mood after the holidays, interest in the annual Howard County Spelling Bee is due to increase rapidly.

There are some changes this year, principally in the time and place of the contest. Heretofore, it has been held on a Saturday, but this year it will be on a Tuesday—Tuesday, March 24. Moreover, instead of the Saturday morning setting, the contest this year will be at 4:30 p.m. in the Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

One reason for the change in time is the advance to the date for the regional spelling bee in Lubbock. To hold the contest immediately prior to that would run into conflicts with the Easter holidays and the teachers annual district meeting.

Because of the switch in dates, most young spellers may want to obtain their books at once and start spelling. "Words of the Champions," which is the official practice book issued by the National Spelling Bee, is now available at the Herald at participate in the spelling bee if he or she has not passed beyond the eighth grade at the time of their individual school finals; and if they have not reached their 16th birthday on or before the date of the national finals in Washington June 1.

Each county champion in the Lubbock area will receive a Paper-Mate pen, also a blue ribbon. The winner at Lubbock will receive a free trip of transportation, lodging, meals and entertainment to the Washington finals; also an individual trophy, plus his or her name inscribed on a rotating plaque that becomes property of the winner's school for a year. Other awards include a set of Encyclopaedia Britannica; 12-inch black and white Zenith Television set; two sets of Lincoln Library of Essential Information; 1970 Britannica Book of the Year; Britannica Atlas; World Almanac plus $10; three other cash awards.

Horoscope Forecast FOR TODAY AND TOMORROW —CARROLL RIGHTER

SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: If you have been living in accord with your planetary positions, you have had a very busy week. Now you would be wise to relax. Build up your spiritual, mental and physical well-being. Plan constructive ways to use your energies during the coming week.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have been studying other philosophies of life, but it is now time to compare them with your own original ones and then you know what to do. Get rid of confusing conditions and ideas. Get back on even keel.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have fine intuitive perceptions and can plan the future more wisely, clear up present confusions. Come to a better understanding with men, also. Plan the future wisely by an exchange of ideas.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are now able to expound your own ideas with associates who usually know you down conversationally. However, make sure you are in nice surroundings. Then all goes just fine for you.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Forgetting self and doing for others, especially those who have done much for you in the past, is wise. Get busy and handle all those duties you have been neglecting. Be efficient.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) You have some talent that should now be put to use for your own pleasure and that of others. Make children around you happy. Buy some fine gift for the one you love and bring real joy.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Don't let your temper ruin the fine harmonious relationships at home, but do whatever makes others happy. Some new idea you have is fine, but it requires more study before putting in operation. Be wise.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Don't neglect services today and meet with persons who are of your own philosophical way of thinking. You are able to garner some data that can be most helpful to you. Use it wisely and don't confuse in others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Think on a higher plane so you know how to become more affluent in the future. ethically. Talk with a most successful individual and get ideas, advice. Be smart.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) If you discuss with other what you would like them to do, you find they cooperate. Attend to little duties that make you more charming. Meet with success in all that you do.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) If you do that work quietly and quickly that will further some fine talent you possess, you meet with success. Be sure to assist one you like who looks to you for assistance. Avoid the gossip, the superficial.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Be sure to express that gregarious quality you possess and make as many new contacts as you can today. If giving a party is best, by all means do so. If invited to one that is worthwhile, accept. Be charming—be yourself.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Analyze how far you have reached in some career matter and then plan to get the aid of some bigwig to whom you are devoted. Think of how to handle that credit affair wisely. Retax tonight and read.

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Most nervous and discontented today and tonight. Unless self-control is used, promises may be broken. Unpleasant and sarcastic comments can be in the office. Many seem to have a need to get bad humor off their chests. Avoid those who act unpleasantly. Do your job quietly.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Avoid going off on some tangent and being with strangers who could get you into trouble. Keep rooted to present operations which are good and honorable and is fine for you. Be subtle.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Trying to fool others so that you do not meet your obligations would only result in a serious boomerang. Make those collected and honorable with others. Plan how to have greater income in the future.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Instead of berating an associate for some error, be sure to see the fault was really your own in the first place. Be controlled when tensions arise. Show that you have your feet firmly on the ground.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Keep busy of regular duties although you feel another is taking advantage of you, since this feeling is mutual. Clear the matter up later. Do whatever is necessary to improve your health.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Get rid of that disposition to have a good time of whatever the cost, since it could be miserable and worthless at the same time. Be happy with mate. Do whatever will soothe and help this individual.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) With all the tension of home now, don't add to it by making some extra remark that could really set off a fuse. Get of the cause of things and quietly eliminate. Then all is fine and happy again.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) You have to be most careful in motion and in speaking with others today or there could be adverse results. Routine work should be done very carefully. Count your money when you shop—don't fall for any tricks.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Don't think you can straighten certain matters out with mere money—do what is honorable instead, or find the right solution if you don't owe anybody anything. Postpone that property affair until a better time. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You are tempted to blast everyone around you but this would only be regretted later on when you cool down. Be more interested in improving your appearance. Rid yourself of whatever it is that is bothering you. Be clever.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You don't fall heir to troubles of one who is being highly dramatic. Smile and all is well.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Good friends need your assistance now so don't ignore them. Be helpful. This is not a good day to be articulate on some important matter. Study details of such more thoroughly.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Try to do anything that causes others to criticize or you lose much where it is of vital importance to you. Be good for some serious work you have on hand.

Funds To Aid Policemen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government Friday awarded $10.7 million in grants to 720 colleges and universities to help educate the nation's policemen. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said the awards, made through the Justice Department's Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, raised to $17.2 million the amount distributed this fiscal year under the crime-fighting agency's academic assistance program.

The program is designed to professionalize personnel in police, courts and corrections agencies. LEAA awarded $6.5 million to the 720 schools last August.

Charles H. Rogovin, LEAA director, said the money will finance studies by 65,000 persons during the 1970 fiscal year. "Those receiving the aid, he noted, range from police on the beat to promising students preparing for careers in law enforcement.

It's Official, Steers Are Rated First In AP Poll

By The Associated Press
Texas' irrepressible Longhorns, who preserved their perfect record with a mighty finishing victory over Notre Dame, captured the national collegiate football championship Saturday by a whopping electoral margin in the final Associated Press poll.

The Longhorns, atop the national rankings at the closing of the regular season and acclaimed by President Nixon as the reigning major college power before their Cotton Bowl clash with the Fighting Irish, proved themselves all over again on New Year's Day.

in the closing minutes, they came from behind to win 21-17 and nail their second title in seven years. The Longhorns were No. 1 in the country in 1963, the seventh of Darrell Royal's 13 seasons as head coach.

The Top Twenty, with first place votes in parentheses, won't records, including bowl games, and total points. Points awarded on basis of 25-18-16-12-10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1.

Royal: It's 'Relief' To Learn...

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Darrell Royal of Texas, the normally conservative coach who gambled his way to the national championship in college football's 100th year, said Saturday it was "a relief" to learn his Longhorns ranked No. 1 in the final Associated Press football poll.

for them." The Longhorns earned the national crown with dazzling fourth down gambles in comeback victories over Arkansas Dec. 6 and over Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas New Year's Day.

Royal once said three things could happen with a forward pass and two were bad. Royal said he didn't intend to make the mistake of accepting too many invitations for public appearances. He said he did this after Texas won its last national championship in 1956.

beginning in 1965, Texas stumbled through three straight 6-4 seasons. "Being a winner and winning big doesn't always make recruiting easy," Royal said. "You can reach such a level that young prospects are afraid of you. In fact, Steve Worster (the Texas running star) was reluctant to come to Texas for fear he would have to sit on the bench."

SAYS LIONS' COACH We Have Right To Be No. One

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP) — A beaming Joe Paterno, head coach of Penn State, stepped off a plane from Miami Saturday to the shouts and cheers of hundreds of Nittany Lions football fans shouting "We're Number One."

"It's just not fair," he kept repeating, holding his 2½-year-old son David. "One thing they can't take away from us is our 30 straight wins. The boys on the team know we are number one in the nation and will continue to think so. I am very unhappy over the poll."

Astros Play In Houston On March 31

HOUSTON — A 28-game 1970 spring training schedule that will wind up with three-game series against American League champion Baltimore and the New York Yankees in the Astrodome has been lined up for the Houston Astros, General Manager H. B. (Spec) Richardson has announced.

Twenty-two of the 28 scheduled exhibition games will be played in Florida, opening against the Los Angeles Dodgers at Cocoa on Friday, March 6, and closing out against the same Dodgers at Vero Beach on Sunday, March 29.

The final six pre-season games will be played in the Astrodome. Baltimore's Orioles will play 7:30 p.m. games at Houston on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, March 31-April 1-2. The Yankees will help the Astros close out the spring schedule with 7:30 p.m. games at the Astrodome Friday and Saturday, April 3-4, plus a 2 p.m. finale on Sunday, April 5.

IN THE SAME BOAT — Nancy will surely be the wish of many who admire the trim figure on the trim craft. The girl, Nancy, is a Nel Barden swimwear model. The boat is Ocean Bird, a 30-foot variable beam trimaran built by Honor Marine Ltd., of Totnes, Devon. Both craft and girl are in the same boat—so to speak—for both will be at the Boat Show which opens at Earls Court, London, Tuesday.

South Stars Turn Back North, 24-23

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Florida State's Bill Cappelman and Louisiana State's Eddie Ray combined on a 48-yard touchdown pass in the final five minutes Saturday to give the South a 24-23 American Bowl football victory over a heavily-favored North team which later claimed a bad officiating call cost it the game.

North Coach Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State claimed officials were wrong when they ruled that Jim McFarland of Nebraska was out of the end zone when he caught a pass in the final two minutes. John Riley of Auburn kicked the winning point following the Cappelman to Ray bomb, but the North struck back quickly on the clutch passing of Dennis Shaw of San Diego State and appeared headed for victory.

Shaw dumped the pass to McFarland from the four yard line to the back of the end zone. But the official said McFarland wasn't in bounds. Despite the ruling as an incomplete pass, it appeared that the North would pull out the victory anyway when Jim O'Brien of Cincinnati attempted a 21-yard field goal directly in front of the goal posts but the kick sailed wide to the right.

NOT SOON ENOUGH — Quarterback Bill Cappelman of Florida State gets away a pass despite the efforts of Bill Brundige of Colorado in the Annual Lions American Bowl Game. The South won, 24-23.

Bradshaw Named A&M Assistant

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Charlie Bradshaw, former Kentucky head coach until he quit in the 1968 season, was named Saturday as a coach with the Texas A&M offensive unit. The announcement came from A&M athletic director and football coach Gene Stallings who worked alongside Bradshaw on the staff of coach Bear Bryant at Alabama.

Bradshaw came to Kentucky in 1962 from Bryant's staff. His years at Kentucky are marked in the early days by dissension on the squad and mass resignations. His record at Kentucky, his only head coaching job, was 25-41-4. He quit during a 2-8 season and has been in the insurance business in Lexington, Ky., since. Bradshaw grew up in Montgomery, Ala., and was on the Kentucky squad one semester without seeing action. He joined the Marine Corps in World War II and returned to Kentucky to play three years of varsity football when Bryant was coach there.

He and returned to Kentucky to play three years of varsity football when Bryant was coach there.

He was Bryant's offensive line coach at Alabama. Stallings said Saturday, "I think Bradshaw is one of the finest offensive coaches I've ever seen."

Lamesa Defeats Kermit, 77-54

KERMIT — The Lamesa Tornados won a non-conference basketball game from Kermit here Friday night, 77-54. Floyd Jenkins led Lamesa in scoring with 20 points. His twin brother, Lloyd, tossed in 16 while Jerry Jernigan settled for 13.

The win was the 17th in 18 assignments for the Tornados this season.

Bearcats Launch Loop Play Jan. 6

GARDEN CITY — The Garden City Beakats, who were involved in the Sterling City Basketball tournament the past weekend, start conference play Tuesday night on the road against Water Valley.

Porkers Must Build Anew Next Season

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mentally, the Arkansas Razorbacks will have to start anew in 1970. The potential is there for another fine season, but the Razorbacks must forget their 15-14 loss to Texas and the 27-22 defeat by Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl.

The situation was reversed entering the 1969 season. The Razorbacks, using a 16-2 Sugar Bowl victory over Georgia as a Springboard, zipped to a 9-1 record, losing only to the Longhorns in the much publicized Dec. 6 shootout at Fayetteville.

During the 1969 season, Arkansas averaged more than 33 points a game and led the nation in defense against scoring — permitting less than eight points a game. The Razorbacks lose four offensive starters and five defensive starters from that team. Three of the school's offensive record holders — quarterback Bill Montgomery, tailback Bill Burnett and flanker Chuck Cicus — will return.

CAREER LEADER Montgomery, with his 360 yards total offense in the Sugar Bowl, took over as the Arkansas career leader with more than 3,700 yards in two years. However, Coach Frank Broyles has promised much heralded freshman Joe Ferguson an opportunity to win the quarterbacking job in spring practice.

With Montgomery at quarterback, Arkansas has won 17 times in 20 games. Burnett, the last and the best of the Burnett brothers, has scored 17 touchdowns in two seasons and led the Southwest Conference in rushing with 900 yards.

Dicus, the most valuable player in the Sugar Bowl game with Georgia, has caught 98 passes for 1,542 yards — both school records. Tight end Pat Morrison and split end John Rees also return. The departure of fullback Bruce Maxwell, who proved in the Sugar Bowl that he could do more than just block, will leave a void. Maxwell, who seems certain of a pro opportunity, caught nine passes in the Sugar Bowl and was the leading ball carrier with 108 yards on eight carries.

Russ Gerber is in line for Maxwell's job. Arkansas offensive line coach Mevin Johnson may have the biggest rebuilding job. He loses All-American center Rodney Brand, guard Jerry Dossey, a second team All-American choice, and tackle Bob Stankovich, a two-year starter.

TOP HANDS Guard Ronnie Bennett and tackle Tom Mabry, both of whom have size, are the top prospects to replace Dossey and Stankovich. Brand started for three years and was a key man in the Razorbacks' pro style passing attack.

On defense, middle linebacker Cliff Powell and outside linebacker Lynn Garner, graduate. Powell was a third team All-American choice. There has been some speculation that Rick Kersey, an all-conference performer at defensive tackle, may be shifted to middle linebacker for his final season. The front four should be solid. Bruce James, Dick Bumpas and Roger Harnish are all underclassmen.

Defensive halfback Terry Stewart, a three-year starter, and safety Dennis Berner will not be around in 1970. Stewart and Powell will be the most difficult defensive performers to replace. Bill McClard will be back to handle the extra points and field goals, but the coaching staff will have to find a punter to replace Cary Stockdell, who was recruited two years ago from the junior college ranks.

There is already speculation that Arkansas will find the replacements necessary to prompt the American Broadcasting Co. to again gamble, and attempt to reschedule the Arkansas-Texas game for early in December.

Jim Carlen Is Hired As Texas Tech Coach

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Jim Carlen, a Methodist lay minister and strong football disciplinarian, starts preaching his doctrine of winning football as the Texas Tech head football coach this week. "I never predict win-loss records," Carlen said. "But if we have a 10-0 record next season we'll win the Southwest Conference championship and that's our goal."

Mighty soothing words to title-hungry Red Raider fans who have seen their heroes emerge as strong contenders in recent years but never the champion. Carlen says he doesn't have many rules for his players to follow but the ones he does have, he wants followed. He basically has three rules: 1. go to church on Sunday; 2. no smoking or drinking—the year round; 3. no cutting classes. That philosophy helped Carlen direct West Virginia to a 9-1 record and a 14-3 victory over South Carolina in the Peach Bowl last Tuesday. He had a 24-13-3 over-all record in four years at West Virginia.

Carlen, named to the head job Friday, replaced J. T. King, who now is athletic director. Carlen said his first task would be to organize his staff but also prominent in his thoughts these days what offensive approach he'll take to win football games in 1970.

Carlen was successful with the now famous Wishbone-T at West Virginia last season. His first two years with the Mountaineers, 1966-67, he operated from the "T" formation. The Mountaineers threw the ball last season.

"I imagine by the time spring training is over, we'll make some changes," Carlen said. "But I really haven't had a chance to look at our personnel yet."

"I'm certainly not one to run a particular offense—just because it's a good offense. We will run the Texas Tech offense and we will do what the personnel dictates."

Carlen had a 3-5-2 record his first season as the Mountaineers' head coach and they had winning seasons thereafter. Carlen was 5-4-1 the following year, 7-3 last year and 9-1 this season, losing only to second ranked Penn State.

Carlen will start his recruiting campaign in Dallas Thursday with King at a Red Raider Club meeting at the Dallas Athletic Club.

"I will help in the recruiting when asked," said King, who stepped aside with a 44-43-3 record as Tech's head coach. "Mainly, I want to help him get the type of start he deserves in this new job. But it's his show. And I'll be trying to help in every way I can."

Carlen had a 3-5-2 record his first season as the Mountaineers' head coach and they had winning seasons thereafter. Carlen was 5-4-1 the following year, 7-3 last year and 9-1 this season, losing only to second ranked Penn State.

Dick Strauss Boots Home 3 Winners

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Apprentice Richard Strauss, the leading jockey of Sunland Park's fall season, wasted no time getting back on top of the heap.

The young pilot booted in three winners in Saturday's program, which gave him six victories over the first three days of the spring meeting.

Included in Saturday's triple was John The Boy, who made easy work of the six-furlong handily. With Strauss and a wispily load of 113 pounds to carry, John The Boy got the role of favorite.

Strauss allowed the opposition to go to the front and waited until the first turn before asking his mount to move. John The Boy stayed in the clear on the outside, then easily swept to the front when Strauss went to the whip.

John The Boy crossed the finish line with a two-length gap and stopped the clock with a brisk time of 1:09 4-5 seconds. Supporters of the five-year-old gelding earned $5.00, $3.80 and $2.80 in the mutuels.

Skeeter's Gold, a longshot guided by Arthur Anderson, took the place spot and dished out $11 for place and $4.40 for show. Sheila Sheila came from out of the pack to nail down the third spot, returning $3.40.

Ski Car Strands High In Air

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP) — A ski lift cable car containing 121 passengers was stranded 200 feet in the air Friday by a power failure.

Some of the passengers were lowered to the ground during the 3 1/2-hour rescue operation, spokesman Hans Von Norde said.

WHERE'S THE SUNSHINE? — Curt Flood, left, and Marvin Miller pose in light snowfall near pile of snow and ice outside television studio (ABC) in New York Saturday. Flood was traded by the St. Louis Cardinals to Philadelphia last Oct. 8. Earlier this week he petitioned Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn for rights to negotiate his own contract. His request was turned down. Miller is executive director of the Baseball Players Association. Reason for their visit was to appear on a TV show.

Bill Battle is elevated to Vols' coaching post. KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Bill Battle, a former Alabama end and a University of Tennessee assistant coach for four years, was promoted Saturday to head football coach of the Volunteers.

Battle, 28, succeeds Doug Dickey, who resigned Wednesday to become head coach at the University of Florida. He thus becomes one of the youngest coaches in the country of a major college football power.

Chancellor Charles H. Weaver, in announcing Battle's promotion, said: "I feel that we are fortunate to have on our staff such an outstanding young man available for the head coaching position."

The selection of Battle to try to keep Tennessee among the nation's football powers came as somewhat of a surprise. Dickey recommended him to Athletic Director Bob Woodruff along with Doug Knotts, his chief defensive assistant, and Jimmy Dunn, his top offensive aide.

Dunn and John Majors, Iowa coach and former Tennessee All-American tailback, had been regarded as the prime candidates for the job. But Dunn eliminated himself by choosing to go to Florida with Dickey.

Austrian Blonde Wins Ski Event OBERSTÄUFEN, Germany (AP) — Berni Rauter, 20-year-old Austrian blonde, won the special slalom of the World Cup Alpine ski meet today with a total of 91.01 seconds for two runs. Karen Budge, of Jackson Wyoming, was fourth with 94.54 seconds; Rosi Fortna of Warren, Vt., took sixth with 96.72, and Patty Boydston of McCall, Idaho, was seventh in 96.92 for strong finishes. The slick run knocked many of the leaders out of the competition.

Among those knocked out by falls or disqualified for missing gates on the 57-gate second course were France's Michele Jacot, the leader in the World Cup standings with 71 points; Kiki Cutter of Bend, Ore.; Barbara Cochran, of Richmond, Va.

Trout Ponds Can Pay Off

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — While a prairie farmer worries about his unsold grain, that waterhole in the back quarter may harbor an unsuspected pot of gold.

Researchers from the Fisheries Research Board's Freshwater Institute at the University of Manitoba have discovered that rainbow trout can be grown on prairie farms profitably.

Small, shallow "potholes" lakes formed in the ice age dot farms of the prairie provinces. Farmers have tried to drain them for agriculture. Last spring researchers from the institute stocked 10 of the lakes in the Erickson area of Manitoba, south of Riding Mountain National Park, with 100,000 rainbow trout fingerlings and 150,000 smaller fish fry.

When harvest time came in late October, the results were encouraging enough to lead researchers to predict a harvest of 10 million pounds in the next five years.

The yield is about 120 pounds an acre, in comparison with the three pounds an acre from commercial fishing areas like Lake Winnipeg.

Dr. Lionel Johnson, a biologist in charge of the fish population dynamics section of the institute, estimates the experimental lakes cost less than $20 an acre to stock. With each acre producing 120 pounds, and with the Freshwater Fish Marketing Corp. now paying fishermen 60 cents a pound for rainbow trout, the trout farmer can expect a $40 net return per acre. The annual yield for wheat is estimated at $20 an acre.

Deadline Is Nearly Here Less than 72 hours remain before dogs can be registered for the annual All-Breed Dog Show and Obedience Trial under the auspices of the Big Spring Kennel Club.

Owners must forward notices of entry to Jack Orloff of Oklahoma City no later than noon Tuesday.

The show itself is scheduled Jan. 17. More than 700 animals, a record for a local show, likely will be in competition. Entry blanks can be picked up at Wright's Prescription Pharmacy, 419 Main.

Bears Eyeing Houston QB

By TOMMY HART

Remember Jake LaMotta, who won the middleweight boxing championship after he threw a fight? He's now in show business, has a part in the recently completed movie, "House In Naples" . . . LaMotta's director, Peter Savage, says Jake could be the next Wallace Beery . . . LaMotta was the first ever to whip Sugar Ray Robinson . . . The state of New Mexico, which has four horse tracks, had a betting handle of $34,667,000 in 1969 . . . Paul Stueckler, basketball coach of the Midland Lee Rebels, says Abilene High's current team is better than the 1968-69 Odessa High Bronchos . . . Whereas Odessa boasted a two-man club in John Wilson and Craig Heap, Stueckler points out, Harold Wilder has developed a five-man unit at Abilene, one without an apparent weakness . . . The Philadelphia Eagles probably didn't clear enough on their flight to San Francisco for their recent game with the 49ers to pay for their chartered plane . . . The jet which took them to Philly cost $22,000 to charter . . . The 49ers, incidentally, are trying to talk the Buffalo Bills into trading O. J. Simpson for Ken Willard and Clifton McNeil . . . The three highest rated NFL telecasts during the regular season in 1969 all featured the Dallas Cowboys, with the Monday night contest between the Pokes and New York drawing the biggest audience . . . Shed no tears for the financial plight of Cassius Clay, even though his alimony and legal fees are heavy . . . He gets $1,200 for lectures on college campuses, has a piece of two Texas oil wells and gets a cut from Champburger restaurant income . . . The Chicago Bears may deal for Houston's Pete Beathard, if Coach Wally Lemm concludes that his quarterback is expendable . . . The Bears want someone who can throw those look-in passes to Gale Sayers . . . Abilene High will play non-conference football games with Hurst Trinity, Cleburne and Brownwood next season while Cooper has booked Brownwood, Fort Worth Eastern Hills and Wichita Falls . . . Jim Crowley, one of Notre Dame's famed Four Horsemen, played high school ball under the late Curly Lambeau in Green Bay, Wis. . . . Lambeau later coached the Green Bay Packers, when Big Spring's Bob Flowers was a defensive standout there.

JAKE LAMOTTA

Nineteen different schools have played in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl game at Houston . . . Big Spring is one of the larger birthplaces of Southwest Conference basketball mentors—Texas Tech's Bob Bass first saw the light of day here . . . TCU's Johnny Swaim was ushered into the world at Jean, Texas' Leon Black in Martin's Mills . . . Three of the mentors hail from outside the state — Shelby Metcalf was born in Tulsa, Don Knodel of Rice in Hamilton, Ohio; and Bob Prewitt of SMU in Columbus, Ohio . . . Despite those claims out of Santa Domingo that Juan Marichal was misquoted in his remarks about Willie Mays, you can bet that the ace pitcher of the San Francisco Giants said that Willie should give up baseball now and Willie "with his temperament contributes to creating problems on the team" . . . Marichal, incidentally, was paid the same salary as Mays last year ($125,000) but $10,000 was designated for "scouting duties," although Juan does no scouting for the Giants . . . The management simply wanted Willie to be identified as the highest salaried man in baseball . . . A speaker appeared before the Washington, D.C., Ad Club not long ago, entitling his speech, "If there's no football, this must be Tuesday" . . . After what happened in Dallas last Sunday, pro football fans of that city might be willing to forego to call them the Irving Cowboys . . . The Lamesa Tornados lost only five boys off that fine basketball team but at least four are quality players — Brent Minnix, Lloyd Jenkins, Floyd Jenkins and Jerry Jernigan . . . Georgia had a rather dismal football record in 1969 yet set a new home attendance record — averaging 57,911 for five games . . . The pro football people are currently saying in unison: "The next guy who hits me up for a big bonus is in trouble" . . . The 1969 bonus babies, O. J. Simpson and Ted Kwalick to mention two, didn't fare so well on the field . . . After last season, Kwalick's coach at Penn State remarked, "Ted is the best tight end in America: He could start for half a dozen pro clubs right now" . . . Kwalick not only didn't start for lowly San Francisco, he didn't clock much playing time . . . Fearful it was losing prestige to pro teams in Southern California, the Tournament of Roses recently hired a public relations team to better its image—a New York-based firm, of all things . . . Vanderbilt's Bill Pace reportedly turned down J. T. King's offer to become head coach at Texas Tech . . . The Houston Cougars, 9-2 last year in football, should be even better this fall.

Orv's Win Highlight

By The Associated Press

Orville Moody, who spent almost half his life in the Army and putts cross-handed, surprised the golfing world in 1969 by taking the U.S. Open championship in 92-degree Texas heat.

The 35-year-old native of Chickasha, Okla., who had never won on the tour, turned in rounds of 71-70-68-72 for a one-over par 281 over the Houston Champions course to earn golf's biggest prize and $30,000.

An Army veteran of 14 years, Moody won the Open by one stroke over Al Geiberger, Deane Beman and Bob Rosburg.

Moody's earnings on tour totaled $78,323, plus a $50,000 check from the World Series of Golf in which his 141 for two rounds beat Masters champion George Archer by two shots. PGA champion Ray Floyd finished four shots back with British Open winner Tony Jacklin.

GOLFER OF YEAR

At year's end Moody was named the PGA golfer of the year. In 1968, his first full year on tour, the chubby-faced Moody had won only $12,950. He was backed by three businessmen from Killeen, Tex.

Floyd's 276 enabled him to beat South Africa's Gary Player by one shot for the PGA crown and $35,000. Archer, a 6-foot-6 Californian shot a 281 to take the Masters by one stroke over Tom Weiskopf, Billy Casper and George Knudson.

Frank Beard, by winning the Westchester Classic and $50,000 with a birdie on the final hole, led the money winners with $175,223.

Dave Hill, Jack Nicklaus, Player, Bruce Crampton, Gene Littler, Floyd, Casper, Lee Trevino and Arnold Palmer were others in the $100,000 plus class on the pro tour.

After 15 months without a victory Palmer won the last two events of the year, the Heritage Classic at Hilton Head, S.C., and the Danny Thomas-Diplomat Classic at Miami.

He won the first by three strokes with a 283 total and shot a brilliant final round 65 to win the Miami event by two strokes with a 270 total. He was the only player to score consecutive wins on the tour.

DEY APPOINTED

Joe Dey, former executive secretary of the United States Golf Association, the game's ruling body, was named pro commissioner of golf and the 1968 rift between touring and club pros was a thing of the past.

Steve Melnyk, 22, of Brunswick, Ga., won the U.S. Amateur championship with a 285, five strokes better than Vinny Giles who finished second for the third straight year.

El Zag's Son Races Today

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — D. E. Basden's Shady Zag, a winner of three of four starts during the fall meeting, will test his sprinting talents against five rivals in today's 5½-furlong headliner at Sunland Park.

The five-year-old son of El Zag picks up top weight of 124 pounds and will be ridden by Bobby Harmon. Opposition for the hard-knocking gelding consists of Pat Birmingham's Silk Ribbons, Fred Grimes' Samoa Sands, Phyllis and Jack Strong's A Run'n Haint, Sherry Molene's Capitol Mac and Frank Lewis' Bold Signal.

Post time for Sunday's 12-race lineup is set for 1:30 p.m. Shady Zag, known best for his front running ability prior to Sunland's fall season, performed well when rated off the pace while charging to three straight local victories. He caught an off track in his final '69 appearance but still managed to come from last to be second at the wire.

Silk Ribbons, who'll have the services of Robert Young, scored her maiden victory during the fall with a wire to wire effort over six panels. The royally bred daughter of Beau Gar looms a strong threat on the front end under a modest 114 pounds.

Capitol Mac will also be seeking a second local victory, having turned back $3,500 company over 6½ furlongs in November. The five-year-old Tuna Capitol gelding also does his best running near the pace, and will be ridden by his regular pilot, Joe Sherman.

Dunbar Outlasts Snyder Tigers

LUBBOCK — Lubbock Dunbar staged a comeback in the last half to topple Snyder, 81-80, in a basketball game here Friday night.

A layup scored by Donald Atkins in the final 40 seconds of play turned the tide Dunbar's way.

Marc Wilson counted 36 points for Dunbar while Lee McNeil led Snyder with 33.

Snyder led at half time, 43-35.

Forman Matched Tuesday Night

HOUSTON (AP) — George Forman of Houston, Olympic heavyweight champion, meets Charlie Poole of Holyoke, Mass., next Tuesday night in a scheduled 10-round bout in Sam Houston Coliseum.

Foreman will be seeking his 13th straight victory since turning professional.

Darrell Royal Is Named State's Coach Of Year

By The Associated Press

Darrell Royal, head coach of the No. 1 ranked Cotton Bowl champion Texas Longhorns, doesn't like to disappoint people.

After Texas' pulsating 21-7 come-from-behind victory over Notre Dame in Thursday's Cotton classic, Royal told President Nixon by phone:

"I am glad we didn't cause you to be embarrassed by your selection." Royal referred to a plaque Nixon earlier had presented to Texas declaring them the No. 1 team in the nation.

Nor did Royal disappoint Texas sports writers who Sunday named him the Texas Senior College Coach of the Year. Royal polled more than half of the first place votes cast in the annual balloting by the Texas Sports Writers Association. Royal took the Longhorns to an unbeaten 11-0 season and an almost certain national championship in the final Associated Press poll. He polled 51 of the 91 first place votes cast.

Gil Steinke, who coached Texas A&I to the national small college championship, was second to Royal in the voting. The Javelinas defeated Concordia of Minnesota 32-7 in the NAIA Championship Bowl to cap an 11-1 season.

Others placing in the balloting, in order, include:

—Bill Yeoman, whose University of Houston Cougars lost their first two games, then came back to win nine straight, including a 36-7 victory over Auburn in the Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl in the Cougars' first major bowl appearance.

—Rod Rust, who led North Texas to a 7-3 season in the Missouri Valley Conference. The Eagles' offense, sparked by rubber-armed quarterback Steve Ramsey, was fourth in the nation in forward passing.

—Ernest Hawkins, who directed East Texas State to a tie for the Lone Star Conference football championship with Texas A&I.

McWilliams Quits Post At Abilene

ABILENE — David McWilliams, head coach of the Abilene Eagles the past four years, has resigned to become freshman line coach at his alma mater, University of Texas.

DAVID MCWILLIAMS

In his tenure here, McWilliams has guided his teams to 22 wins, compared to 16 defeats and two ties.

Chuck Moser, director of athletics in the Abilene public schools, said he had not received McWilliams' resignation but expected David to accept the proffered job at Austin.

"It was a hard decision to make as I felt we were going to have a good team (in 1970)," McWilliams said. "However, an opportunity like this doesn't come along every year."

McWilliams won three varsity letters as a star lineman at Texas and served as tri-captain of the 1963 national championship team.

The '63 Longhorn club climaxed a great year by defeating Navy in the Cotton Bowl, 28-7. McWilliams clocked more playing time than any other individual on the team in '63.

He was awarded the Clyde Littlefield scholarship, the team spirit award, the team scholastic award and a berth on the Southwest Conference Academic team.

He hired on as an assistant at Abilene High after graduating from Texas and was promoted to the head position two years later.

His best seasons were in 1966 and 1969. Each team finished with a 6-3 record. Only in 1967 did the Eagles drop below .500, winning only four of 10 that year.

Talladega 500 Is Advanced To Aug. 23

TALLADEGA, Ala. — The date of the second annual Talladega 500 at Alabama International Motor Speedway will be changed from Sept. 27 to Sunday, Aug. 23, according to an announcement by Bill France, president of the International Speedway Corp.

France, currently in the process of finalizing all of the race dates for the first full season of racing at AIMS, also announced that a Formula Ford race over the 1.5-mile infield road course at the $6 million facility will be sanctioned by the International Motor Sports Association (IMSA), Saturday, April 11, the day before the first annual Alabama 500 for NASCAR Grand National cars.

Starting times will be 1 p.m. for the Talladega 500, 4 p.m. for the Formula Ford event and 7:45 p.m. for the Alabama 500. The Alabama 500, the first major event of the season at the spacious 2.66-mile high-banked trioval layout, will be telecast live by the American Broadcasting Company (ABC-TV).

A three-day motorcycle road racing series will highlight the American Motorcycle Association's debut at the mammoth new facility, May 15-17. The second annual Vulcan 500 for Automobile Racing Club of America (ARCA) late model stock cars is set for June 14. And a national championship series for sports cars will test AIMS's demanding 4.0-mile road circuit, July 25-26, in a program of events sanctioned by the Sports Car Club of America (SCCA).

The NASCAR Grand American Challenge Series (formerly Grand Touring) moves into the AIMS picture for the second annual "Bama 400, Sunday, Sept. 6.

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Jerry Colangelo says he has mixed emotions about taking over as coach of the Phoenix Suns of the National Basketball Association.

In his debut, the Suns edged San Diego 121-120, Friday night after Coach Johnny Kerr announced his resignation earlier in the day.

"It was the biggest thrill of my life," said Colangelo, who is also the general manager, "but it was the saddest day of my life. Johnny and I are very close."

"I have done all I can to make the Phoenix Suns a winner," Kerr said, "and in failing I feel it is in the best interest of the club to step down at this time."

Colangelo said he would handle the team on an interim coaching basis. But he added, "I do not have any particular coach in mind, and it is possible that a new coach might not be hired until after the playing season."

Colangelo, 29, has never coached. He played at the University of Illinois, and served as director of merchandising and chief scout for the Chicago Bulls before coming to Phoenix in 1968.

Kerr coached the Bulls for two years before accepting the Phoenix post. He piled up a 62-101 mark while at Chicago, and was 31-89 during his two years at Phoenix.

Champ To Oppose Minun Ben Ali

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — World bantamweight champion Ruben Olivares of Mexico City will meet Minun Ben Ali of Barcelona, Spain, in a non-title bout here Feb. 6, boxing promoters said.

Olivares is unbeaten in 57 fights and has 55 knockouts. He won the title last year, knocking out Lionel Rose of Australia in Los Angeles. He retained his crown by flattening England's Alan Rudkin last month.

Fourth-ranked Ben Ali has been campaigning only in Europe since his loss in 1967 to Jesus Pimentel, now the North American bantamweight champion. He recently lost a 15-round title bout with European champion Franco Zurro.

Sunland's Daily Double Becomes A Love Affair

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Friday night's daily double at Sunland Park sounded more like a love affair than a pair of horse races.

The first race was captured by Smoochin while the second race went to Be Gorgeous. Ray Spencer did the riding on both ends of the daily double. The payoff was $48.00 even.

In the six-furlong headliner, Hankins Dancer, ridden by Ken Hart, jumped into a fat early lead and crossed the finish line with a three-length gap. The three-year-old colt is owned by Lowell Hankins of Rock Springs, Tex. A $2 win ticket was good for a return of $10.20, $6 and $3.40.

Special notice showed good early footing while taking the place spot. Senior Sly, owned by Alan Antweil of Hobbs, N.M., finished third.

The winning presentation was made by Morris Antweil (Alan's father), after whom the race

NBA Could Grant Europe Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Basketball Association, looking ahead to the 1970s, might be the first sports league in the United States to expand to Europe in a planned 20-team international circuit that also could include several American Basketball Association clubs.

That's the way it looks to Walter Kennedy, the president of the NBA the last seven years of the 1960s who has just signed a new five-year pact into the '70s.

Kennedy, in a year-end interview, also indicated the NBA is prepared to continue a bidding war against the ABA should there be either a merger or until there is either a merger or some type of absorption of ABA teams by the NBA.

"The NBA historically has paid top dollar for draft choices," Kennedy said, pointing to the huge bonuses paid such players as Bill Bradley and Cazzie Russell to sign, "and we're prepared to continue that policy."

That war began in earnest last spring when the NBA and ABA each offered more than $1 million to Lew Alcindor before he signed with the NBA's Milwaukee Bucks. However, even pro football, a far more profitable sport with its 50,000-seat stadiums and large television contracts, could not afford a bidding war and settled for a merger, something that seems likely to happen again with the NBA and ABA, although recent merger talks fell through.

"Right now," Kennedy said, "I don't anticipate a merger at all with the ABA, or in the foreseeable future. We're committed to carry out our announced expansion program; but if some of the ABA teams fall into that pattern in the '70s, they could be part of it."

Kennedy explained that the expansion program was first studied and researched in 1964. "We saw that ultimately we would have a 20-team league," he said. "We had nine then and since we have added five. We'll have two more next year and four more sometime in the '70s."

Although that 20-team number might have to be altered if some ABA teams are included, Kennedy's vision included such foreign cities as Milan in Italy, Barcelona and Madrid in Spain and Paris.

"I believe it will become an international association with the broadening of jet travel, the influx of Americans in foreign countries and the growing popularity of basketball in Europe," he said. "A road trip to Europe is no farther than going from the east to the west coast."

"Italy already has a highly successful league and so does Spain, and France to a lesser extent."

GREECE POSSIBILITY He also mentioned Greece. "Each foreign team would be made up mostly of American players with several nationals to augment it—A number of Americans, like Bradley, already have played in those leagues."

Kennedy visualized a setup similar to that of baseball and football—two 10-team east and west conferences split into four five-team divisions with either no inter-conference schedule like baseball or inter-locking games on a limited basis like football.

Kennedy also expected all of the present NBA cities to be around in the '70s.

"Maybe not all of our teams are making money, but that fluctuates with the won and loss record, like in any sport," he said, pointing out the stability of a league that has moved only one franchise in the last seven years.

"Not many years ago, some writers accused the NBA of being bush," Kennedy said, "and maybe it was to some extent. But not now. We're playing in major league arenas under pro conditions. We have more superstars than any other sport and our players are the highest paid as group in any sport. We just raised the minimum pay to $13,500 and a Wall Street Journal survey had the average salary at about $27,000 to $30,000 a year."

He did admit that salaries couldn't go much higher because of the limited attendance that games can draw in enclosed arenas. However, he predicted plenty of growth for players.

"Players 6-foot-8 to 7-2 will be at forward positions instead of in the pivot," he said, "and the quick backcourt men of the future will be 6-7. A player 6-2 is going to have a tough time making it."

Zaragoza Signs With Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The University of Houston Cougars disclosed today the signing of Tino Zaragoza, a star defensive back from Austin High School of Houston.

Zaragoza, a 6-foot-4 player who weighs 185, also earned letters at Austin High in track and baseball.

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The heart attack that prevented Michigan football coach Bo Schembechler from seeing his Wolverines lose 10-3 to Southern California in the Rose Bowl won't keep him out of football for long, doctors say.

Regional winners will compete in the March 5-6-7-9 state tournament here and state champions will go to the national meet March 16-19 in Las Vegas.

Regional tourney dates include: Amarillo, Jan. 8-10; San Antonio, Jan. 20-21-23; Corpus Christi, Jan. 22-24; Houston, Jan. 28-31; Odessa, Feb. 5-7; Denton, Feb. 6-7-9; Tyler, Feb. 11-14; Temple, Feb. 12-13-14-16; Lubbock, Feb. 12-14; Fort Worth, Feb. 13-14-19-20-21; Beaumont, Feb. 18-20; Abilene, Feb. 19-21; and Dallas, Feb. 19-20-21-23.

Regional dates are pending in Austin, Harlingen and Wichita Falls.

There will again be 10 weight divisions in Golden Gloves competition. Boxers who become 26 years of age on or before April 1, 1970, are ineligible.

Rice Trophy Won By UT

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — The University of Texas, top choice on four of five ballots, was named Saturday to receive the Grandland Rice Award of the Football Writers Association of America.

The award reflects the association's version of the national collegiate championship, as voted by a secret five-man committee which also picked No. 2 and No. 3 teams.

Penn State was runner-up. One committee member gave his first place vote to Penn State, listing Texas No. 2, but the other four agreed it should be vice versa.

Southern California was a four-out-of-five choice for third place, with defending champion Ohio State receiving the other vote for third.

Association President John Mooney, sports editor of the Salt Lake Tribune, announced the results. The voting followed the bowl games on New Year's Day.

Members of the committee were Raymond Johnson of the Nashville Tennessean, Sid Hartman of the Minneapolis Tribune, Blackie Sherrod of the Dallas Times Herald, Arnie Burdick of the Syracuse (N.Y.) Herald and Joe Herrickson of the Pasadena (Calif.) Star News.

The Andrews ninth grade B team edged Big Spring Runnels' eighth graders, 39-35, in a basketball exhibition played here Friday evening.

The Yearlings, now 3-5 on the year, were playing without the services of one starter, Larry Stanley, who was out of town. Several reserves were also missing.

Regulars Randy Marshall and Everisto Pineda fouled out in the third quarter for Big Spring and another starter, Albert Smith, sprained his ankle and had to leave play in the second.

Pineda tossed in 12 points before he departed. The Yearlings return to play Monday night in Snyder against Lamar.

BS RUNNELS (35) — Randy Marshall 11-3; Albert Smith 2-4; Wes Seay 1-13; Orville Rou 4-4; John Thomas Smith 2-4; Everisto Pineda 6-6-12; Gordon Collier 0-0-5; Ken Froman 0-0-0; Nathan McGuire 0-1-1. Totals 163-35.

ANDREWS 9TH B (39) — Tom Holtz 11-3; Wayne Roberts 6-7-17; Johnny Nelson 4-1-9; Kenny Miller 2-1-5; Daniel Madrid 0-0-0; Steven Zao 2-0-3; Martin Williams 0-0-0. Totals 141-39.

Mormons Gain Strength But Blacks Protest

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — In the 10 years just past, Mormonism gained strength as never before, but finished the decade under attack for a doctrine that limits the role of Negroes in church affairs.

In a year-end report, the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, Mormon listed membership of more than 2.3 million — an increase of 74 per cent during the 1960s.

The church was organized April 6, 1830, with six members including prophet and founder Joseph Smith.

In 1960 there was just one Mormon stake diocese outside the United States and Canada. Now there are 37 in foreign lands, and a total of 496 within the church.

Brigham Young University, keystone of the church's education system, grew to more than 25,000 students — and an impressive, sparkling new campus above the community of Provo.

As 1970 opened, work was under way on a 25-story Mormon office building in downtown Salt Lake City.

While the widespread construction work bespoke a prosperous organization, there remained the traditional lack of information on church finances.

The Mormon organization has massive business and land holdings and members are expected to pay a full 10 per cent of their income in tithing — in addition to local and regional assessments.

This implies a multimillion-dollar volume, but precise figures are not published.

A final line in an end-of-decade church report gives clue to a sore spot that may fester in the 1970s.

It says that the number of male members ordained to the Mormon priesthood now totals 670,000.

The significance is that no priesthood bearer is a Negro of African lineage.

This ban on blacks is generally traced to a reference in Mormon scripture. Its effect is to keep Negroes out of important church positions.

Mormons defend the policy as their private religious business and say the church is not discriminatory.

But blacks protest the teaching. As the 1960s faded there were demonstrations during a athletic contests involving Brigham Young University, Stanford University cut off competition of any kind with BYU.

Couple Jailed For Pupil Withdrawal

REDWOOD CITY, Calif. (AP) — A husband and wife who kept their five children out of public school because of objections to a sex education course face charges Tuesday in Municipal Court.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Scott surrendered and were booked in San Mateo County jail Friday on charges of violating a section of the California Education Code which requires classroom attendance.

They were released four hours later on $315 bail each.

Scott, a 61-year-old chiropractor, and his wife, Margaret, removed their children from school after criticizing a family life program.

LIKES CHANGES YOUTH IS MAKING Hobo King Makes Holiday Visit Here

By MARILYN NEVELS
The King of Hobos passed through Big Spring a few days ago. It was not Richard Wilson's first visit through here following the rails, but he had not been to Big Spring for quite a while.

Wilson was elected Hobo King at the annual hobo meet in Britt, Iowa, last August. The old hobos are dwindling in number and only 15-20 made it to the meeting.

"We've been meeting in Britt since 1900," said Wilson, who was born about 1908. From what Wilson has heard, "the hobo conventions got started about 1880 somewhere in Illinois or Indiana."

Wilson well qualifies as Hobo King. He has been a hobo 45 years, since he ran away from home at the age of 16. The only home he has ever had was Franklin, Pa., a small, mountain town near the northwest corner of the state. He has criss-crossed the nation more times than he can recall, but never cared to go back home. He said he doesn't care about relatives that may exist, and has never stayed in one place longer than three months.

The Hobo King is proud of his title and makes a point of stopping at local newspapers to get himself "written up," and he usually does, as the pack of newspaper clippings he carries shows. Even his most recent clipping from Dallas is worn from many readings. He keeps all his papers precisely folded like road maps and wrapped in several plastic bags forming a fat bundle in his shirt pocket.

Wilson wears a hobo's crown of two battered felt hats, held together with paper clips at the brim. The hats are loaded down with feathers, buttons, beads, plastic rings, flowers, shells, an Indian doll and cellophane lei. He had a button that read "Hobo King," but "a little girl, or maybe her brother, swiped it when I wasn't looking," he said.

Around his neck dangles another collection of souvenirs, tabs from pop-top cans, a tiny red wagon wheel and more buttons, reading "I like little old ladies" and "I'm a bumper sticker."

He spent his time here in Lilly's Bar, 1214 W. 3rd, but he doesn't drink; he just visits with the patrons. Wilson dropped in the bar near the T&P Railway Co. tracks, and Jim Matlock, owner, offered him a place to sleep, shave and clean up.

The hobo king appeared clean-shaven for his interview, in brand new overalls, new navy blue jacket, two clean work shirts and heavy boots. Although the bar was warm, he never shed his jacket or hat. He kept his large back pack handy. The pack weighed 45 pounds and contained everything he owns, including his favorite books, "The Bible" and the works of Socrates, Benjamin Franklin and Confucius.

Wilson fancies himself as more of a philosopher than a religious man, though he often quotes the Bible. He follows the rules and teachings in the Bible, "the Bible is a book of history," he said. "I travel so I can meet people. You've got to meet people so you can understand yourself and others, you can't learn without practicing." Wilson said thoughtfully as he twisted a strand of hair.

His hair hung past his collar in wavy curls. It was dark brown and lightly streaked with gray. Wilson has a ruddy complexion and looks a decade younger than he is. However, when he opens his mouth to speak, he reveals not one tooth. He said he shuns tobacco, drugs and alcohol to keep in shape for his outdoor life and to carry his heavy pack. He rides less on trains and more in cars as times have changed, and Americans have taken to the highways, leaving small train trunk lines to wither.

He refers often to the '30s when, "everybody was on the road, men, women and children." A woman hobo he recalls from the '30s was called "Boxcar Myrtle."

"There was a rat-race during the '30s, but after World War II, whoo-woo, what a race," he exclaimed. "Generations go through the same phases only a lot faster now," he said. "In the '30s everybody was on the road looking for work and for answers," Wilson said. "The younger generation wants to change the laws of man and have peace and equality. I think what they're doing is a good thing. They're travelling and looking for the answers. They're trying to understand everything."

"I wish I'd been better trained so I could understand everything. I travel and find knowledge and understand things better. Like in the Bible, 'Seek ye first the kingdom of God and all things will come to you.'"

"It's up to you to straighten yourself out. All things good and bad are written in the Bible. You can learn what is good and what is bad. It's a book of history, you reap what you sow. You look for wisdom and how to get along with your fellow man on earth."

"The most important thing is to get along with people," he said. "I can get along with anybody."

In his travels he has hobnobbed with most types of people, including hippies. To the hobo king, the people he has met and his experiences are what he values most. Although he professes love for his fellowmen, peace and equality, he also possesses a few racist

Sculpture Show Opens New Year

Southern sculpture and Selections from the Permanent Collection" will be the opening exhibit for 1970 at the Museum of the Southwest in Midland.

The sculpture in the show was organized by the Southern Association of Sculptors, Inc. and was juried by Theodore Roszak, internationally known sculptor and prominent leader in the New York School. Roszak says of the exhibit, "The pieces represent individual instances which speak... of forms that occupy the attention of our present-day artist."

In addition, the exhibition includes selections from the museum's permanent collection, featuring donations from the American Association of University Women and of graphics executed by regional artists. The exhibition, opening to the public Tuesday, Jan. 6, will continue through Feb. 1.

ideas. However, he has no hate for the black race; he thinks they should remain segregated with what equality they now have.

Wilson likes hippies for their beliefs in peace and love, but does not condone drug use.

"Hippies are real friendly. They'll give you a meal and help you on your way," said Wilson. "But I don't like drugs and marijuana and things that are bad for the body. I don't smoke or drink and I don't eat meat. Meat makes men savage. When I'm travelling I usually make eggs and potatoes and coffee."

The only kind of cure Wilson takes is the wearing of copper bands on his wrists to "draw out the arthritis." Now that he is older, he stays in the desert southwest where it is warmer and drier for winters. "I can visit most any town and stay a couple days with friends, and visit with their kids."

In his travels Wilson usually finds people in the big cities friendlier, though he thinks people are about the same everywhere. He sees no great regional differences. "People in the cities understand me better. They'll talk to me." He figures that problems in the cities are due to the crowding and overpopulation. "Overpopulation is the biggest problem there is. Every young woman wants to have a lot of kids. When people get jammed together, they get on each other's nerves and start to hate each other."

Wilson has crossed the United States many times and lately has thought of "settling down" and plans to quit the road and live in either New Mexico or Utah.

Speed Reading Classes Set For Big Spring

The famous Cutler Accelerated method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here in both day and evening classes.

The average person today reads some 200 words per minute with about 60% comprehension—a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college, and business.

This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 4 times their beginning rate with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine-week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.

Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.

Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

This remarkable accelerated reading and study course is offered here exclusively by Accelerated Education Schools with locations in major cities in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

This professionally conducted course boasts over 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading, and to their staff of professionally qualified master teachers.

A series of meetings has been scheduled for those in the Big Spring area who desire to know how they too may learn to read with greater speed, power, and efficiency.

At these free one-hour orientations, full details about speed reading, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to those forward-looking persons attending.

Since there is no cost or obligation by attending, you owe it to yourself to attend the time most convenient for you. Drop in and find out how you can make 1970 a more successful year.

All meetings are open to the public, and will be conducted as follows:

Monday, January 12 at 7:30 p.m.

Tuesday, January 13 at 7:30 p.m.

Wednesday, January 14 at 7:30 p.m.

Sunday, January 18 at 2:30 p.m. and again at 4:00 p.m.

All meetings will be conducted in the Conference Room (Main Floor) of the Settles Hotel, Rannels at 3rd, in Big Spring. (adv.)

"HIGH NOON" comes early in the day to an imaginary Main Street of the Old West as Johnny Warner and Billy Scott settle an old score, out where men are men — and a new twist has been added to the old game of "cowboy and Indian."

MUSIC MAKES exercise a lot more fun as Tim Kennedy and Kim Hill join a circle of children to swoop, swirl, bend and bow to rhythmic melodies.

"The Games Children Play"

By JO BRIGHT

"Make me a child again — just for today." How wistfully adults look back, remembering days that seemed devoid of care and filled with simple pleasures.

The eager energy and ignitable imagination of a child enable him to be whoever he likes, wherever he chooses, for as long as he wills it so — and time does not intrude to steal away his dreams. Run, hop, skip, jump, swirl, swoop, bend, bow, chase, hide, sit, stand, see, feel, clap, sing, shout.

They quickly catch the moment, and just as swiftly let it go. Alone or linking hands in a chain of children, the young ones learn the games their parents played, sometimes altered to suit the changing times.

These children, at games, were caught by The Herald camera at Berea Kindergarten and Jack and Jill Kindergarten—First Grade and Nursery.

THE MYSTERIES that go on while one's eyes are closed still fascinate children, in variations of games that continue from one generation to the next. This version, called "Doggie, Get Your Bone," is played by a group. These active participants are Debbie Holquin and Stacy Lynch.

A MAKE-BELIEVE microphone seems made for Michelle Torres who takes her turn at being a performing artist during a program heard "all over the world."

WHEN THE MUSIC stops, it's every man for himself, and what a scramble! Fast enough to find a chair are Mack McPherson, Kim Hill and Kathy Kennedy. Racing for the remaining spot are Ray Rye and Sheila Montgomery.

KEEP YOUR EYES and ears on this trio for someday you might see their names in lights. Some old-fashioned harmony with a very new sound is that produced by these young "artists," Stacy Crotts, Alecia Gordon and Leslyn Overman.

"HIGH-STEPPING HORSES" is a game that calls for a lot of energy and whatever grace one can muster. Performing it with vigor are Tim Kennedy, Mack McPherson, Mark McPherson and Kim Hill.

"MUSICAL CHAIRS" stands the test of time and proves a challenge in dexterity for this group of youngsters. Those within view are,

Consider Periods, Styles, When Furnishing Your Home

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD COUNTY HD AGENT

Throughout the ages furniture designs have represented a way of life. Whether an authentic antique, a reproduction, an adaptation, or this year's modern, furniture tells a story about people and their cultures. The best designs of each era have lived, been copied, modified and used again and again. You are fortunate to live in a period when there is such a variety of furniture from which to choose. The styles being designed and produced offer almost custom choice — never before known.

There is furniture of good design in every price range if you know what to look for. The choice is much easier if you begin with a furnishings plan — one that fits your home, your family and the way you wish to live. Such a plan not only helps you to know what pieces of furniture are needed but will also help guide the selection of just the right styles for your home.

CHOOSE STYLES

The task of selecting the right style furniture for you and your family is made simpler by first deciding on the atmosphere you wish to create. Is it one of formality, of casual informality or something in between? With this decision as your guide, you are not likely to limit your choice to any one style but to select a combination of compatible styles that seem to belong together.

"Putting furniture together" may be compared to dressing for a party. The dress-up occasion calls for silks, satins, jewels and furs. The casual get-together suggests denim and play clothes or just-everyday apparel.

Like parties, most furniture falls into three major classifications — formal, semi-formal and informal. On the formal side we find the stately elegance of most eighteenth century English, with Regency close behind. At the opposite extreme is Provincial furniture with varying degrees of formality.

By keeping the quality of formality or informality in mind, it is usually easy to achieve a pleasing combination of furniture pieces. To the formal styles you would add formal fabrics, such as satin, damask and velvet; rich wood finishes; full-length draperies and elegant floor coverings. With the informal styles, choose the gaily printed chintz; the nubby-textured fabrics; the softer tones of fruitwood, pine and maple; tweedy floor coverings and simple window treatments.

Since there is always overlapping of styles, the periods that follow each other in development can usually be blended safely. For example, Early American will combine nicely with Colonial American and the more elaborate Colonial with Federal.

BLEND PERIODS

By today's standards a room in one style of furniture is monotonous. There are no set rules for blending but these general principles can guide you in combining furniture successfully.

1. One style of furniture should dominate, but a few well-chosen pieces of another style for contrast will add interest.

2. The style of the house, the way you and your family live and your personal tastes may dictate the style you wish to have predominate.

3. A more interesting and lived-in appearance may be achieved by using some old pieces along with new furniture.

4. The woods may also offer a cue in combining. They do not necessarily have to match but they should be compatible.

5. Pieces of about the same characteristics and scale are usually compatible when used together.

6. Color can be the ingredients that unifies a grouping made up of different styles.

7. Don't copy someone else. Remember, you are selecting and combining furniture to fit your house and the way you and family live.

GET BULLETINS

Many styles offered by today's manufacturers combine with ease. The way you select and combine the styles is an important way to add individuality and a touch of personality to your home. Furniture styles of the past three centuries are presented in a chronological order in a chart that appears in a new Texas Agricultural Extension Bulletin MP-920 "Furnishing Your Home — Periods and Styles." This bulletin is available for you at the County Extension Office in the basement of the Courthouse. Other new bulletins that deal with home furnishings which are available include: L-844, "Furnishing Your First Home"; L-843, "Furnishing Your Home — Begin with a Plan"; L-846, "Arranging Furniture"; and MP-919, "Buying Case Goods."

Receptionist Volunteers Are Needed

A new program for volunteer receptionists at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center will begin with an orientation at the center beginning at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

The orientation will be conducted by Mrs. Ben Hitt and Jim Thompson, director of the center.

Those interested in participating in this program for clinical or clerical work can obtain details by calling Mrs. Morris Robertson, 267-7319.

A LOVELIER YOU

Hair Coloring Magic From Aerosol Cans

By MARY SUE MILLER

Would you care to tune up the color of your hair before this day is done? What's stopping you? Could it be the time element? ... You're entirely too busy to go through the mixing, messing and several hours work required to freshen your haircolor?

Well now, could you spare 15 minutes — magic moments, really — for a permanent color job that brightens fading locks, covers gray and restores natural color or darkens it, as desired?

You'll make the time? Good, here's what you do with it:

First off, brush dust and tangles from your hair. Next, apply a rich creamy aerosol hair coloring foam to your dry head; work it in and around. Wait 15 minutes, rinse with clear water. That's all. No shampoo of any sort is required, and there's no clean-up from drips, as there are no drips. Your head is ready to dry and set.

For a super job remember these tips: Wear the gloves enclosed in packages while using foam. When selecting a shade, try for the nearest match to the natural color of your hair. Don't get fidgety about touchups. You re-apply a tint because you want to, not because you have to. New growth and old sort of meld. And do take an easy preliminary test for possible allergic reaction. Don't chance it. At this point, you can see how you just might have the glowiest head at the party. Here's to that!

LOVELIER HAIR

Overcome your hair problems! Send for my booklet, "How To Have Lovelier Hair." Advice includes: corrective care of dry, abused, oily and hard-to-manage hair; expert coloring methods and treatment of tinted hair; hairstyle formulas; tips on perfection cutting, permanents, straightening and grooming. Write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald for your copy, enclosing along, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin.

MRS. GARY LEE HALL

Couple United In Marriage

Wedding vows were exchanged by Miss Linda Gail Olsen and Sgt. Gary Lee Hall at 7 o'clock Saturday evening in the chapel at Webb Air Force Base with Chaplain Edward Galloway serving as officiant.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Olsen, 1805 Settles, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hall of Washington, Iowa.

The double ring ritual was performed before an altar adorned with baskets of white chrysanthemums and branched candelabrum holding white cathedral tapers. Mrs. William Martin accompanied Mrs. Robert Buffington of Washington, sister of the bridegroom, as she sang "Twelfth of Never," "Wedding Prayer" and "A Time For Us."

Miss Bobbie Jones, Miss Jeanette Conway, Miss Becky Rogers, Miss Carol Benson, Mrs. Richard Dowell, Washington; Mrs. Wendell Hall, Parkwood, Iowa; and Mrs. Herbert Hall, Pontiac, Ill.

A white cloth covered the refreshment table, which was centered with a silver candelabrum and the bride's bouquet. The tiered cake was topped with wedding bells.

Out-of-town guests were Richard Dowell, Washington; Herbert Hall, Pontiac, Ill.; Wendell Hall, Parkwood, Ill.; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Buffington, Washington.

For traveling, the bride wore a red knit dress with white trim, matching accessories and the corsage from her bouquet.

Attending the bride were Mrs. Paul Thurman, matron of honor; Miss Patti Olsen, maid of honor; Miss Janice Boadle of Midland, bridesmaid; and Mrs. Bill Moore, bridesmatron. They were identically attired in velveteen Empire gowns with scooped necklines and Victorian sleeves. Miss Olsen wore a green gown, and the other attendants' gowns were red. Their headpieces were bows with circular veils, and each carried a white fur muff.

The bride wore a white formal gown styled with wide taffeta panel down the front, and the rest of the gown was of taffeta overlaid with lace. The Empire bodice was marked with a sash which circled the waist to tie at the back with streamers forming a chapel-length train. The ring collar was enhanced with seed pearls, and the long lace sleeves featured scalloped edging.

Her bouffant veil of illusion fell from a large taffeta bow, and she carried a cascade of French carnations centered with an orchid corsage.

Sgt. Allen Dykes was best man, and groomsmen were Sgt. Paul Thurman, Sgt. Mike Reeser, all of Webb AFB, and Rick Olsen of Bethany, Okla., brother of the bride. Ushers were Sgt. Charles Crane and Sgt. Bill Miller, both of Webb Air Force Base. The bridegroom's niece, Schelena Dowell of Washington, was flower girl, and his nephew, Bret Dowell of Washington, and Teana Moore lighted the altar tapers. The ring bearer was Billy Paul.

Following a wedding trip, the couple will reside at 1211 Runnels.

The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is attending Howard County Junior College. She was a member of Future Teachers of America and Future Homemakers of America. In 1968, she was third runner-up in the "Junior Miss Big Spring" competition. The bridegroom graduated from high school in Washington where he was a member of Future Farmers of America. He attended an electronics school in Chicago, Ill., prior to entering the Air Force.

RECEPTION
The First Federal Community Room was the scene of a reception honoring the newlyweds, with Miss Gail Arrington presiding at the guest register.

Other members of the house party were Miss Debbie Adkins,

Wedding Solemnized In Baptist Ceremony

Miss Linda Dell White and Willard W. Newbern Jr. were married in a double ring ceremony Saturday at 4:30 p.m. in Berea Baptist Church.

Miss White, 1801 Hearn, is the daughter of Mrs. Thomas Earl White, Haskell. The bridegroom, stationed with the Air Force at Webb AFB, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard W. Newbern Sr., Elizabeth City, N.C.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Valton P. Barler. The Rev. Jack Key, pastor of Sweet Home Baptist Church, Rule, conducted the ceremony. The couple exchanged vows before an arch entwined with greenery and flanked by branched candelabras and sunburst baskets of white gladiolas, mums and greenery. Mrs. Arnold Tonn sang "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Wedding Prayer," accompanied by Miss Jerre Tonn, against.

The bride was attired in a gown of candlelight peau de soie with Empire waist and A-line skirt. The bodice and petal point sleeves were of Alencon-lace over peau de soie. The detachable chapel-length train of peau de soie was accented with lace appliques and seed pearls. A Dior bow held her elbow-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a cascade of white carnations with a white Bible.

Mrs. Ben McGee was matron of honor, and Miss Donna White served as bridesmaid. Both, from Haskell, are sisters of the bride. They wore gowns of emerald green velvet with Empire waists accented by a satin Dior bow. Their headpieces were emerald green satin Dior bows, and each carried a long-sleeved rose with emerald green streamers.

Best man was Lt. Derrick W. James, Elizabeth City, N.C., and groomsmen was Thomas Cooper Via, Blacksburg, Va. Ushers were Sgt. Wayne Pantelemon, Berea, Ohio, and Airman I.C. William Wayne Wright, Shelby, N.C. Flower girl was Lisa Kay Salazar, and altar tapers were lighted by Cindy Barler and Gerri Barler, nieces of the bride.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Rule High School where she was a member of Future Homemakers of America and Beta Club. She is employed at Webb AFB. The bridegroom is a 1964 graduate of Elizabeth City High School and attended the College of Albermarle where he was a member of the Circle K Club.

The reception was held at the church with the refreshment table covered with a lace cloth over a green underlay. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white flowers and greenery. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom. The receiving line included with the wedding party, Mrs. T. C. Via and Mrs. Valton Barler.

The bridal couple left on a wedding trip to New Mexico. They will reside at 1500-A Virginia.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Sorrells, Mrs. Bill Carter and Miss Leona Carter, all of Haskell; Mr. and Mrs. Van Sedberry, Lubbock; Mrs. Billy Carter, Snyder; Rev. and Mrs. Stanley Key, and Miss Judy White, all of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Carter, Hamlin; Mr. and Mrs. Valton Barler, San Angelo; and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Medford, Odessa.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Saturday

MRS. JOSE S. LOPEZ

(Curley's Studio)

Miss Lucretia Bertha Rodriguez and Jose S. Lopez were married Saturday morning at St. Thomas Catholic Church and will make their home at 308 NE 11th. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Leo St. John, with music by Santos Lujan, who played "Ave Maria" and other nuptial selections.

The church altars were graced with arrangements of white gladiol stock and emerald foliage, and the bridal couple knelt on a white prie dieu beneath an arch entwined with boxwood vine.

The bride's Empire gown of white satin, overlaid with lace, was fashioned with high neckline, long fitted sleeves and an A-line skirt complemented by a chapel train. Her headpiece was a tiara of seed pearls which held an elbow-length veil of illusion. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Mrs. Cruz Velasquez of Midland was matron of honor and Miss Gloria Ann Rodriguez was maid of honor. There were 18 bridesmaids, and all the attendants were attired in pink velveteen dresses with Empire waists and A-line skirts. Their headpieces were matching fabric roses, and each carried a bouquet of light and dark pink carnations tied with bows and streamers.

Cruz Velasquez of Midland was best man, and Fidel Saldivar Jr. and David Rivera were ushers. Mimi Galvan was flower girl, and the ring bearer was Cruz Velasquez Jr. Leticia Hernandez and Bobo Galvan were the train bearers.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Big Spring High School. He is employed by Gamco, and she has been employed at the Texas Employment Commission.

Out-of-town guests from El Paso, Midland, Odessa, Lamesa, Ozona, Pecos, Fort Worth and Olton attended a reception in the church hall where Miss Martha Fierro attended the registry.

The refreshment table was laid with a white floor-length net cloth over a white underlay splatter. The tiered wedding cake was trimmed with swans and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

SETS DATE—Mr. and Mrs. Alfred H. Pitts of El Paso are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Marietta Patricia, to E5 Bruce Harris Wells of the United States Army. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam W. Wells, 410 Hillside Drive. The wedding will be solemnized Jan. 24 in Grandview Baptist Church in El Paso.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

Even though there have been two complete days passed since the onslaught of football games which I watch with enthusiasm, the strains of "Aquarius" and "Hawaii 5-0" are still lurking in the deeper most part of my brain. I know this doesn't seem to have anything to do with football but it does, this year at least.

Perhaps you are the type who doesn't watch or listen to the halftime activities. I am. Having found or made the time to spend all afternoon and much of the evening watching the New Year's Day sports extravaganza, I try not to miss anything. Hence the ringing in my ears of the two favorite tunes of the various band directors at the numerous ball-games.

It seems each year that the current top tunes are purchased by all the bands in the land. Even the high schools favored them during their season. After the excitement of the games has calmed down, the melodies linger on . . . and on . . . and on. I have to think "The Eyes of Texas" before I can get my mind cleared.

MRS. JAMES HOCUTT, the former Lou Eyssen, is expected to return here Tuesday after spending 10 days in Honolulu, Hawaii, with her husband, Lt. Hocutt, who was on his RR from duties in Vietnam. He has been stationed in Vietnam since last March and will complete his tour this March. Mrs. Hocutt flew from Midland Dec. 28 to Los Angeles and then to Hawaii. She attended Texas Tech University the past semester but plans to be here with her parents, MR. and MRS. W. H. EYSEN JR., until her husband returns.

MRS. LOUISE DILLINGHAM of Dumas is visiting her brother-in-law and sister, MR. and MRS. PAT MURPHY. Mrs. Dillingham plans to move here to make her home in February.

Back from Christmas in Corpus Christi are the F. H. TALBOTS and the WILLIAM S. TALBOTS who were guests of MR. and MRS. JACK McDANIEL.

Holiday visitors in the home of DR. and MRS. J. E. HOGAN were MR. and MRS. PAT LARKEY and their children, Hank and Jana of Ann Arbor, Mich., and MR. and MRS. BOONE POWELL and Mark, Cristi and Carl of Abilene. It took the Larkeys 12 hours on their return flight to Michigan due to the adverse weather conditions.

The DAVID DIBRELL family and MERRY LEE DIBRELL have returned to Dallas after spending the holidays with their parents, MR. and MRS. JOHN L. DIBRELL.

The BILL CLEMENTS were here from Bloomington, Ind., for the holidays with their parents, DR. and MRS. P. W. MALONE and MR. and MRS. J. T. CLEMENTS.

The visitors have all returned to their homes after being here for the vacation period with MR. and MRS. J. E. FREEMAN. MRS. CARL FRANKLIN and her children, Mitchell and Gregory, were here from Lubbock and MR. and MRS. JOHNNY FREEMAN and Kevin came from Denton. They also visited her parents, MR. and MRS. A. J. HOOVER.

The one-piece uniform is silver-colored, with a zip-up front, large button-down pockets, and black and gold insignia badges.

To go with the suit, there's a plastic-front helmet complete with lift-up face shield and a simulated microphone mouth-piece.

Collegian Visits During Holidays

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin D. Newton and son, Jeffrey, have had as a holiday guest, another son, David Newton, a sophomore at Stephen F. Austin College in Nacogdoches. David also visited his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Harrison who now reside in Stanton.

Quotable Quotes

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"If no one will come to our aid, we will continue to fight, because fight we must."—Bernadette Devlin, 22-year-old Northern Irish member of Parliament, urging Londonderry Roman Catholics to fight on.

"I left teaching because it was no longer challenging. I guess it was about the same as a bunny."—Caryl Goldman, former Playboy bunny, now a New York brokerage house representative.

"The funniest things are the lines I have to hear from the men. You wouldn't believe the number of times I've been invited to visit some guys' apartments."—Arlene de Strulle, a pretty 19-year-old New York taxi driver.

"It has been hectic, happy, interesting, sometimes strenuous, sometimes tiring, but never boring. No, never boring."—Mrs. Arthur Rubinstein, reflecting on 37 years of marriage to the famed pianist.

"It's been hard getting over the obstacle of being Dionne's sister. People ask why I don't change my name. Not after all this time of singing. I'm not. It took Eva Gabor a long time, but she made it."—Singer Dee Dee Warwick, sister of famed singer Dionne.

"There's never a dull moment. It's always very interesting."—Mrs. Olathe Abbott, 59-year-old grandmother, who has adopted 13 Mexican children.

Miss Diana Rodman Weds C. C. Barnes

Miss Diana Rodman became the bride of Charles Curtis Barnes Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock in St. Paul Presbyterian Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodman, Sterling City Route, and Barnes 1408 Park, is the son of Mrs. Esther Barnes, Beaumont, and M. H. Barnes, 610 Tulane.

The bridal couple was united in marriage in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Dan Sebasta. The altar was decorated with an arch of greenery and wedding bells flanked with baskets of white gladioli and white candelabras trimmed in yellow. "Whither Thou Goes" and "The Wedding Prayer" were sung by Miss Mary Dirks with organ accompaniment by Jerry Oliphant, who played a prelude of traditional wedding songs.

The bride wore a white crepe sleeveless gown with skirt gathered at the Empire waist. A long-sleeve bolero jacket of rosepoint lace, with stand-up collar and scalloped sleeves, covered the bodice. Her elbow-length tulle veil with rosepoint lace border was held by a cap of lace petals edged with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and ivy centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Bill Seal, Bryan, was the matron of honor. She wore a pale yellow crepe gown with Empire waist, A-line skirt, long fitted sleeves and stand-up collar. A moss green velvet sash accented the waistline, and she wore a matching Dior bow headpiece. She carried yellow chrysanthemums tied with moss green streamers.

Paul Biffle served as best man, and Bobby Rodman and Tommy Rodman, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

For the wedding trip, the bride's traveling costume was a red knit coat-dress with white collar and cuffs, belted at the Empire waist. She wore black patent accessories and carried the orchid from her bouquet.

The bride is a graduate of Forsan High School where she was a cheerleader, active in several clubs and salutatorian of her graduating class. She is currently a sophomore at HJJC and has recently been employed at the Big Spring Experiment Station.

The bridegroom graduated from Big Spring High School, where he played football, and attended Cisco Junior College where he also was a member of the football team. He is now employed by Texas and Pacific Railroad Co.

RECEPTION

The newly-wed couple was honored with a reception in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony and they received guests with their parents and the attendants.

The table was laid with a pale yellow cloth overlaid with yellow net and centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple and decorated with confection yellow doves and white roses.

Mrs. Julius Paukune of Grand Prairie registered guests.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Henry Dirks Jr., Mrs. Joe Knight, Mrs. H. P. Wooten, Mrs. Ross Callihan, Mrs. W. F. Harrell, Mrs. T. M. Dunagan, Mrs. A. D. Barton and Mrs. Ruby Bruns.

Out-of-town guests included Buster Barnes and Mrs. Dawn Brigham, El Paso; Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Graham, Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Rodman, Hooker, Okla.

MRS. CHARLES CURTIS BARNES (Curley's Studio)

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: To clean lint and dust off ink pads and rubber stamps without soiling your fingers:

Tear off a strip of cellophane tape a bit longer than the pad and hold it with the sticky side down. Place it across one end of the pad, press down, remove it, and proceed with this until the entire surface of the pad has been exposed to the tape.

Works wonders. Then apply your ink to the pad and you have a smooth, almost brand-new appearance.

Do the same thing with fresh tape for your rubber stamps. It removes the dust and lint that have a tendency to adhere to these too. Martha Firebaugh

It sure does make a difference... Try it! Heloise

Dear Heloise: My neighbor had an idea which I thought might interest gals with babies.

Until her baby was ready to eat table foods, she converted her breadbox (the kind with a shelf inside) into a baby food cabinet!

On the top shelf she kept his electric feeding dish, several spoons and a few single-serving boxes of cereal.

On the lower shelf she kept a variety of both strained and junior jars of food.

Now that her son is completely on table foods, she has converted the breadbox into a "ditty" cabinet.

It houses her trading stamps, stamp-books coupons and all the various items we housewives usually cram in a drawer!... Jacques Long

Dear Heloise: Put a layer of marshmallows in the bottom of a pumpkin pie then add the filling. You will have a nice topping, as the marshmallow will come to the top.

Try it and see!... Mrs. L. E. Volker

Dear Heloise: I hang a lightweight blanket on a hanger in my closet, so whenever I need it during the night it's easy to get to.

I keep a cleaning bag over it to prevent blanket lint from getting on my clothing.

This idea sure has saved me a lot of getting up and down at night to search for a blanket in the linen closet... Brenda

Dear Heloise: I had one of those contour shag bathroom rugs that fitted around the bottom of the basin. Well, it shrank when washed. What to do?

I cut the two "ears" off evenly across the top of the rug, whipstitched these together around the curved edges with heavy buttonhole thread and presto, a super-duper car washing mitt for my husband!

The rest of the rug, now with a straight edge at the top, fits nicely in front of the wash basin, and everyone thinks it was made for that space originally.

How's that for killing two birds with one stone?... Sewing Susie

LETTER OF THOUGHT Dear Heloise:

It isn't easy to think of gifts for elderly people, but I came up with one recently that may interest you.

I know a darling lady in her 80s who has managed for many years with only "uppers." She has a marvelous sense of humor and whenever we asked her what she wanted for her birthday, Christmas or Mother's Day, she always said, "a box

Treat Family To Delicious Iced Bars

Chances are this cookie bar will be a favorite at your house. Make it during the holidays.

SHAGGY BARS

1 cup sifted flour
1 1/4 tsps. baking powder
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 lb. (1 stick) butter, at room temperature
3/4 cup sugar
1 large egg
1 tsp. vanilla
1/2 cup fine cornflake crumbs
1/4 cup plus 2 tsps. chopped toasted blanched almonds

Caramel Frosting, see below

On wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder and salt. In medium mixing bowl cream butter and sugar; beat in egg and vanilla. Add flour mixture, cornflake crumbs and one-fourth cup almonds; with a spoon mix until thoroughly combined.

Spread in buttered cake pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches). Bake in a preheated 375-degree oven until lightly browned — about 25 minutes. (Expect center to sink slightly.) Cool slightly. Cover top with Caramel Frosting; sprinkle with the remaining two tablespoons almonds, pressing them into frosting. When frosting has set, cut in bars; remove with a small spatula to

MRS. ANDREW MERRICK AND MRS. BEN HADDERTON

Two Women Honored At Retirement Party

Mrs. Ben B. (Jane) Hadderton and Mrs. Andrew J. (Lucille) Merrick were honored with a retirement party Friday afternoon in the dining room at Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. Mrs. Hadderton, with 18 years service, has been assistant supervisor of the dietary department, and Mrs. Merrick, cashier, has completed 21 years service.

Cake and punch were served to hospital employes and friends who gathered to extend best wishes to the honorees. Both were presented orchid corsages, and there was a cake for each honoree, decorated in colors to match her corsage.

Mrs. Merrick, who was widowed in 1944, has two sons, Lt. Col. Andrew J. Merrick Jr., Offutt Air Force Base, Omaha, Neb.; and Joe Dick Merrick of Big Spring who is associated with Cosden Oil and Chemical Company. There are eight grandchildren.

Beginning work in Lamesa in 1922, Mrs. Merrick worked for the sheriff and tax collector, later was employed by E. C. Nix, Real Estate and Insurance & Loan, and in 1923, went to work for Sadler and Martin Insurance and Loan in Lamesa. She became associated with the Lamesa Independent School District in 1925, serving as secretary to the superintendent and high school principal, also teaching typing for two years.

When her husband, who was sheriff of Howard County, died, Mrs. Merrick was appointed to fill his unexpired term, serving in that capacity through Dec. 31, 1944. From 1945 to 1948 she worked in the tax assessor-collector's office, joining Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital April 1, 1948. She officially retired Dec. 30, 1969.

Mrs. Hadderton, who was widowed in 1968, has one daughter, Mrs. C. A. Smauley of Big Spring and two grandchildren, Mrs. C. D. Sterns, Denver, Colo., and Mrs. George G. Wood, Albuquerque, N.M. There is one great-granddaughter, Pamela Jean Wood, also of Albuquerque.

Mrs. Hadderton came to Big Spring in 1942, working as produce manager for Rhodes and Williams Grocery and later as stock clerk for the Roy Carter Grocery.

Her association with Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital began Aug. 5, 1951, and her official retirement was Dec. 30, 1969.

Pressboard For Easier Sew Days

A needle pressboard is an invaluable aid when you are sewing with pile or nap fabric such as cotton velvet and velveteen, velour, corduroy, cotton sude, and cottonbacked fake fur.

Pressboards are studded with needles set in a pliable mat backing.

To use, put the right side of the fabric to be pressed down on the needles. Press the wrong side of the fabric lightly, lifting the iron and placing it on a different spot each time.

CHOCOLATE WAFFLES
Lure family to breakfast

Cook Quickly On Gridiron

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

How Waffle irons have changed!

In colonial days two gridirons were hinged and given a long handle for use in making waffles in the kitchen fireplace. The gridirons eventually lost their long handle and acquired a stand, the better to use on coal, wood or gas range.

Then came the electric waffle iron — the darling, in its time, of college girls.

Nowadays a waffle iron may be part of an electric grill designed for buffet service. An appliance of this sort can produce waffles, toast sandwiches and grill other foods. One model has reversible grids: a plain surface for grilling foods; an attractively patterned surface for making waffles and French toast. We tested the following recipe on these patterned grids, and the chocolate waffles turned out as pretty as a picture. You might like to try this recipe on your own waffle iron. Because these dessert waffles are not overly sweet, they take to a topping of ice cream and chocolate sauce.

If you have or acquire a buffet grill, don't forget that it is particularly useful for weekend brunches. There's nothing like sitting at the table while you cook! A friend of ours has a pet set of grill combinations for brunchtime that are worth passing on: sausages with bananas and toasted English muffins; potato pancakes with bacon and apple rings; chicken livers with mushrooms and tomatoes. Don't these plate-mates sound good?

CHOCOLATE WAFFLES

1½ cups sifted cake flour
1½ tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt
½ cup sugar
2 squares (2 ozs) unsweetened chocolate
½ cup butter or margarine
2 eggs, separated
¾ cup milk
¼ tsp. each vanilla and almond extract

Sift together into a mixing bowl the flour, baking powder and salt. Melt chocolate in top of double boiler over hot water; add butter; stir to melt and blend; cool. Beat egg yolks with milk to blend; add to dry ingredients, beating until smooth. Blend in chocolate mixture, vanilla and almond extract. Beat egg whites until they stand in soft peaks; fold gently but thoroughly into batter. Bake in pre-heated waffle iron, following manufacturer's directions. Serve hot with ice cream and chocolate sauce.

Make Vichyssoise By Using Blender

A frosty soup to prepare in the electric blender.

CUCUMBER VICHYSOISE

1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of potato soup, undiluted
1½ cups milk
½ of a large thick cucumber (about 8 inches long), pared
¼ cup clear strong chicken broth

Salt and white pepper
Minced fresh chives

Into the electric blender turn the soup, milk, cucumber and chicken broth; whirl until liquefied. Chill for 48 hours. Add salt and white pepper to taste. Serve in small oriental rice bowls or cups; sprinkle each serving with chives. Makes about 3¼ cups. Makes four servings.

EASY SALAD
Made From Lettuce Wedge

Make Salad In Advance For Club, Church Meet

If you hate the last minute bother of tossing a salad, here's the perfect salad for you. A lettuce wedge salad which you can prepare at least two hours ahead. Although the recipe here is a salad for four to six, it is the ideal salad for church suppers, or meals prepared in quantity for club and other group gatherings.

LETTUCE WEDGE SALAD

1 head western iceberg lettuce
¼ cup corn oil
2 tbsp. vinegar
½ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
½ tsp. sugar
2 tbsp. chopped parsley
Few grains pepper

Remove core from head of western iceberg lettuce. Rinse under cold running water. Drain well and place in refrigerator crisper or plastic bag. Chill.

About two hours before serving time, cut lettuce into four or six wedges depending on the desired size per serving. Place wedges in a shallow dish or pan. Measure corn oil, vinegar, salt, pepper, Worcestershire and sugar into a jar; shake well. Pour dressing over lettuce. Cover with waxed paper and refrigerate until serving time. To serve sprinkle wedges with chopped parsley; arrange on serving plate. Makes four servings.

To make 24 servings of Lettuce Wedge Salad, use these quantities: six heads of western iceberg lettuce, 1½ cups corn oil, three-fourths cup vinegar, one tablespoon sugar, chopped parsley to garnish.

To make 48 servings of Lettuce Wedge Salad, double these ingredients.

SOARING SIXTIES—A WORLD IN ORBIT

Recreation's Growth, The 4-Day Weekend

By PAUL CORCORAN
Copley News Service

In the 1960s, Americans discovered they had more leisure time than ever before.

It was a time to be on the go for a people who always worked at having fun. Those Americans who stayed home to sit by the fire more often than watched their first color television or listened to music on expensive stereo sets.

It was a decade in which recreation meant more than taking the wife or girl friends to the movies to watch Marilyn Monroe, Doris Day, or Charlton Heston as "Ben Hur." A visit to the ball park once or twice a month to watch Roger Maris try to break Babe Ruth's home run record did not quench the average fan's thirst for sports action.

And seemingly for everyone who searched for something to do, there was a business ready to respond to him.

On the threshold of the 1970s, Americans were spending $83 billion a year on leisure activities and related expenses. All the more remarkable is the fact that pleasure industries have been growing at the rate of $6 billion a year since 1965, with the total increase of 42 per cent in the final half of the decade.

Where was the money going? Almost half, or $38.2 billion, went for recreation, including sports events, sporting equipment, reading matter and all the products that go with "having fun." Vacations and recreation trips within America consumed $35 billion, while travel abroad reached $5 billion.

Tours and pay later plans put travel abroad within reach of more Americans than ever. Americans spend billions of dollars more on second homes, swimming pools and vacation land and lots. It is not uncommon for families with young sons and daughters to own four or even five cars, one a camper or four-wheel-drive auto for travel and outdoor camping.

The long weekend has been a significant factor in increasing the number of persons engaged in participatory sports and other recreation. At the start of the 1960s, a three-day weekend was a rarity, and the idea of spreading a holiday over four days was little more than that—an idea.

But by 1969, many businesses were providing four-day breaks at Thanksgiving and other holidays which fall on a Tuesday or Thursday. Some industries choose to close plants down for a full week at Christmas.

Too, roads are greatly improved, making it possible for city dwellers and suburbanites to leave town on a Friday afternoon and reach a mountain cabin or beach house by early evening. Many of the throughways and freeways planned under the 1956 interstate highway program reached completion in the 1960s.

An increasing population—200 million by 1969 against 180 million at the start of the decade—also offered sports an opportunity to expand. The American Football League, a very poor, fragile infant, came into being in 1960 and grew to think about themselves and the future.

In general, more Americans maturity with the help of television.

Stodgy baseball magnates laughed at the late Branch Rickey when he proposed the 10-team Continental League to augment the existing eight-team National and American Leagues. But by 1969, baseball had added a total of eight new franchises.

The National Basketball Association several times added new teams, and found itself challenged at the end of the decade by the still young and relatively poor American Basketball Association.

A amateur athletics, particularly college football, benefited from the combined increase in population, leisure time, and money.

The 1960s, perhaps more than any other decade in American history, saw youth revered as the ultimate ideal. At least, the young look.

Diet foods reached an all-time peak in sales. There were more toupees bought by men, more cosmetics of all kinds bought by women and men, and more often expensive exercise programs than ever before.

The late President Kennedy spurred physical fitness with touch football and an organized exercise campaign, even if his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, a sedentary man, swore off 50-mile hikes. But former Interior Secretary Stewart Udall and Robert F. Kennedy climbed mountains and ran river rapids. Awaiting the call to Washington, President Nixon found time in a busy schedule to golf and swim.

In other words, there was nothing political about keeping in shape. It was a matter of style.

If the 1960s produced more leisure time, it also gave more people time and opportunity to drink alcoholic beverages excessively. Far more used drugs, sometimes indiscriminately, to keep awake, slow down or go to sleep. Too often, people used both liquor and pills.

The symbol of glamor in the 1950s and early 1960s was Marilyn Monroe, an "insecure girl with a comic talent who never really believed in herself. With lots of time and money in the make-believe world of Hollywood, she drank to excess and took too many pills. The end result: Suicide at the age of 36, in August, 1962.

The increasing number of suicides and despondent men and women to whom leisure was as much a curse as a blessing did not go unnoticed. Suicide prevention bureaus—which accept calls at all hours from those threatening to take their own life—sprang up around the nation.

What psychiatrists, psychologists and sociologists had been warning for years was coming to pass.

Americans were used to working, to having their time absorbed in energy-consuming jobs. When they do have extra leisure time or when they retire, a large number of them are at loose ends. Both psychologically and physiologically, these persons are the subjects of concern for society.

At the end of the decade, increased emphasis was being placed upon educating all on how to use their leisure time. Preparation for a full life that includes hobbies, public service, and a vocation which may provide satisfaction in later years is getting more emphasis in a land in which the leisure class always has been relatively small.

Spending $83 billion a year for leisure pursuits, after all, isn't going to buy happiness, unless Americans are relaxed enough to enjoy the fruits of the 1970s.

BOB WHEELER

Bob Wheeler Announces For Pct. 4 Race

Bob Wheeler, who resigned his job as purchasing agent for Howard County to devote time to operating his business, last April, is announcing his candidacy for election for county commissioner of Precinct 4, subject to the Democratic Primary May 2.

He resides at 3307 Drexel with his wife, Dorothy, and three children: Carrie, an eighth grader at Runnels Junior High; Kyle, a fifth grader at Moss Elementary; and Beverly, who is in first grade at Farrar's Private School.

Wheeler is a life-time resident of Howard County and his forefathers were among the first farmers in the county. His father was born here and was employed for the county road department for 20 years before his death. Thus, Bob Wheeler grew up being closely associated with county business, and he, himself, was employed by the road department for 15 years.

"As an employe I worked (and if honored with the office will continue to work for) the following views," he said:

1. "To negotiate a fire fighting agreement with the City of Big Spring;

2. To install a plan I have, that will enable the older employe of the county to retire at the age of 65 with a livable income at no cost to the taxpayer;

3. A long-range, planning and building program which will insure better roads for less money."

"My job with the county required me to meet with the commissioners court every week, and I am very grateful for the opportunity of having worked for the county. The experience I received gives me a great knowledge of what needs to be done, and I am deeply conscious of the responsibilities attached to this position. If I am nominated and elected, I feel that I can give the county some of the leadership that is necessary to accomplish these goals."

Annual Inspection Slated For Jan. 25-30 At Webb

"Inspection," will be the order of the day at Webb AFB when a team from the Inspector General's office, Headquarters Air Training Command, conducts the annual general inspection Jan. 25-30.

ATC's annual inspection provides an over-all evaluation of the effectiveness and efficiency of Webb's management systems. The basic reason for the inspection is to assist all elements in the development of the efficient training.

The command inspection system is designed to determine the efficiency of command operations, and to place proper emphasis on those matters most vitally affecting the mission performance.

Lt. Gen. Sam Maddux Jr., ATC commander, has emphasized that the Inspector General's mission is to assist commanders in determining the status of their commands. He stressed that the findings of the team enable commanders to take action to eliminate problems.

Col. Clarence A. Martin Jr., ATC inspector general, said every assigned officer, airman and civilian contributes to the final results of the inspection... either positively or negatively. He said personal appearance, bearing, individual conduct and living conditions, as well as job performance reflect on the effectiveness of a base.

He said that although only major functional or organizational areas are rated during the inspection, all elements within each area contribute to the rating, which may be "excellent," "satisfactory," "marginal" or "unsatisfactory." He said individual activities, practices and procedures may be rated in the same manner by specific findings in the report.

Col. Martin added that an inspection conducted by detached, impartial specialists represents the ideal circumstances for objective evaluation and enables responsible commanders to take prompt remedial action on problem areas.

The inspection team will present its findings to the flying base commander and his staff prior to leaving the base. Returning to ATC Headquarters, the team will brief Gen. Maddux and his staff on its report, including corrective actions required.

Unscheduled follow-up inspections will be made by the Inspector General as required to determine the status of corrective actions taken.

MEN IN SERVICE

Pvt. Jimmy Franco, 20, son of Mrs. Celia Franco, 1204 Mobile, Big Spring, also graduated recently from eight weeks of basic combat training at the U.S. Army Training Center at Fort Bliss.

He was assigned to D Company, 2 Battalion, 3 Basic Combat Training Brigade.

He previously served at Da Nang AB, Vietnam, and has served 27 months in the Republic of Korea. His wife, Jeanette, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Patterson, 607 Johnson, Big Spring.

May Take Time For Same Chance

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Air Force Lt. Gen. Benjamin O. Davis Jr., America's highest-ranking Negro military man, says it may be a while before all Negroes in military service can say they have an equal chance with white soldiers. Davis, retiring Feb. 1 as deputy commander of Strike Command at MacDill Air Force Base, reflected in an interview on his own career and on the future of other Negroes in the military.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth." (Matthew 5:5, RV) PRAYER: O God, we thank Thee for the peace that comes from knowing Thee as our heavenly Father...

Looking Ahead

More out of custom than profundity, we have, for many years, taken a look on the first Sunday in the new year at what that year might bring...

Agriculture: With a good start on underground moisture, 1970 promises to be at least average, possibly better, although 1969 reminds what a summer drought can do.

Business and Finance: The year should be reasonably steady, could be better. In the long run, the outlook here is the product of many other influences on "community development."

Construction: This year should be better than the past one which was the worst in a score of years. Residential building will revive but slowly; business and public construction will be modest.

Cultural: The new year will bring gradual gains. There will be accelerated gains for the decades. People will become more interested in the library, hobby groups, art, gardening, music, Little Theatre, etc.

Churches: Activity will be fairly steady for the year with little major plant expansion. For the decade, there may be a reorientation of ministry to reconcile to contemporary needs.

Education: No dramatic changes for the year, but with continuation of some new teaching aids. The cost squeeze will continue. Effects of the pill will be felt in enrollments.

Government: Operations will be somewhat the same for 1970, with the "cost squeeze felt here as everywhere. The decade will see more mechanization in certain areas, a gradual effort to minimize duplications of service.

Health and Medicine: There will be some steady improvement of services for the year. The decade will see some dramatic changes as research bears fruit in new medicines and equipment.

Industry: Outlook for our present industry is steady to good. Some may experience substantial growth. For the decade, this is the prevailing problem.

Military: The international situation will exercise strong influence. Hence, immediate changes are not indicated.

Petroleum: The prospect for this year is generally good with exploration continuing. For the first half of the decade, minor strikes will about offset declines in oil fields.

Pressures Of Inflation Still Strong

By WAYNE EISENMAN AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Further signs of a stubborn inflation surfaced during the year's last week in business, in a kind of symbolic climax to 1969 and the soaring '60s.

Strong inflationary elements were part of the controversial tax reform bill finally signed into law by President Nixon. "The tax reforms on the whole are good . . .," said the President.

Water: Weather will influence the immediate outlook, but by mid-summer much of the pressure should be relieved. For the decade, the outlook is excellent; this is one of the brightest spots.

Community: The prospects for this year is for somewhat like last year and the last half of the past decade. The first half of the decade will see a transition to new leadership, relieving that which has wrought so nobly for the past score of years.

Workers will look at rising prices and demand bigger wage hikes, consumers will buy less until prices begin easing, and businessmen will resist labor demands as sales drop, he said.

And flowing out of Clinton by mail are thousands of free samples of merchandise, from cold pills to shaving cream, from cookies to the latest in instant coffee.

"Mr. Retailer" is the A. C. Nielsen Co. coupon clearing house, a division of the firm which also provides TV ratings.

"Between incoming and outgoing mail, we handle about 300,000 pieces a day for Nielsen," says E. J. Murphy, superintendent of mails in Clinton.

That's about a million and a half pieces per five-day business week, or around 75 million pieces of mail a year," Murphy added.

PRESSURE STILL ON

- Some say tax bill may encourage private spending
Chicago carrier seeking raise in commuter fares
California power unit must hike rates for project
FHA money hiked to peak 8 1/2 pct.; higher prices seen
But some think consumers, business men to resist

THE SAMPLE CAPITAL

By CHUCK NOLAN Associated Press Writer

CLINTON, Iowa (AP) — Never heard of Clinton, Iowa, eh? But to the U.S. Post Office, this eastern Iowa city, population 35,000, is big business, indeed.

The clearing house acts as the redemption agent for about 250 food and drug product manufacturers who issue coupons — a billion of them through the first 11 months of 1969 — through clip-out advertisements or direct mailings of coupon packets.

The firm's services include redeeming discount coupons for retailers, judging contests, supervising sweepstakes, sending out prizes or samples for sending in boxes or labels and cash refunds for boxes or product labels.

The business keeps a staff of about 700 workers busy, with about 400 directly involved in processing incoming or outgoing mailings in the fully computerized operation.

To Your Good Health When You Stop Taking 'The Pill'

Dear Dr. Thosteson: What should one expect when you stop taking birth control pills? My periods have been quite irregular since I stopped. — Mrs. D.C.

It is usual for women to resume the pattern that prevailed before taking the pill. If they were irregular or had very profuse flow before use of the pill, in some instances it will normalize the cycle, but that does not always happen.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 14 and started menstruating when I was 11. I flow so heavily that I have to miss one or two days of school. Is there anything a doctor can do about it? — N.N.

Yes, a thyroid disorder could be involved, and I suggest that you be checked. The excessive flow also can contribute to anemia which, in turn, can make the trouble worse, so you may need treatment for that, too.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told that a glass eye can now be connected to the muscles that control the other eye, so they look more natural. — L.S.

Around The Rim Now That's A Happy New Year

The year 1970 might be a brighter one if — A man's shoelace wouldn't break on the morning he is already 15 minutes late (of course there's no new shoelaces in the house) — Impatient motorists urging the traffic light to change green wouldn't pull up into the crosswalk, forcing poor pedestrians to walk in a great circle to get across the street; and fearing all the time the gunning vehicle will run them down —

A FELLOW could avoid shaving knicks, and a lady would never have a runner in her hose (always the brand-new pair) — The other person's phone line wouldn't be busy for an interminable time when you're in a hurry to get through with an important call —

AND, WHEN summer comes, the lawn would develop a method of mowing itself — And some miracle would occur to let my vegetables flourish —

AND EVERYBODY on the street would do a bit of cleanup, but not to such extent that it would make one embarrassed about his own place — The car wouldn't get out of whack

David Lawrence Looking Ahead To Major Problems

WASHINGTON — The usual tendency as a new year begins is to look ahead and try to forecast what will happen in the next 12 months, instead of in the next several years.

PERHAPS THE biggest single oversight has been in not appraising the impact of a growing population on the social welfare as well as the economic progress of the country.

It was expected that the cities would have to deal with the problems of transportation and housing as factories, office buildings and stores were established where there once were residences.

TO SAFEGUARD the future of a national economy as complicated as is that of America today is not a simple task. The truth is that in many cities there are unemployed people while in other sections of the country a great demand exists for all kinds of help.

Art Buchwald The Creative Depletion Allowance

WASHINGTON — The government of Ireland has made a radical proposal which I can't help but applaud. They have a bill pending, exempting creative writers and artists from paying income taxes.

There are some dangers inherent to the plan which I think should be considered. If all the creative writers went to Ireland to avoid taxes, we might get nothing but novels, articles and stories about the Irish. While everyone admires Irish literature, there's just so much of it that the rest of the world can stand.

SECOND, without taxes to pay, many writers could become rich, and instead of wanting to deal with the social problems of our time, they might devote themselves to defending the status quo and keeping the lower class in their place.

THESE ARE just a few of the pitfalls of the plan. There are many advantages to the idea and I believe the United States should take immediate action to prevent American writers from leaving the country for an Irish tax haven.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Louisville firemen found Friday night was a poor time to watch television. On two successive Fridays, firemen reported their color sets were stolen while they answered alarms.

Select The Church Of Your Choice And Be Faithful
In Your Attendance

Is there life on other planets in other galaxies out there? This is a question we ask with increasing frequency these days. When God made our world, was it the only one He fashioned?

We may never know. The answer may lie far in the future. But it is an enticing subject to speculate about.

Many fascinating subjects are being discussed today—in church. If this surprises you, it only goes to show that you haven't been attending church lately. To keep in touch with this challenging world, start going not only to regular services but to some of the special discussions in your church.

THE LBJ BRAND — Lyndon B. Johnson moved into the White House and left his own brand on the presidency of the United States. Here LBJ rounds up a steer on a visit to his Texas ranch in 1964.

A Decade Ends

The 1960s were dramatic years, and each of them will be remembered for a variety of news events. Some of these were caught by the camera and appear here as they will in some history books.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

AN ASSASSIN STRIKES ONCE MORE — Dr. Martin Luther King met death at the hands of an assassin in 1968. His final procession through the streets of Atlanta drew this huge crowd of mourners.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

CONTROVERSY BEGINS — Jack Ruby (right) shot down Lee Harvey Oswald, accused assassin of President John F. Kennedy, in the basement of the police building in Dallas, putting out of reach Oswald's own story of the assassination.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

FREEDOM, FREEDOM, FREEDOM — The theme of the 60s was freedom . . . exemplified by this East German soldier leaping over a barbed wire barricade to a new life in West Berlin.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

NEW HEART, NEW LIFE — Among the medical breakthroughs of the 60s, probably the most dramatic was the heart transplant. Dr. Philip Blaiberg lived 19½ months after receiving a heart transplant.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

FATHER AND SON — He was a young president. Here John F. Kennedy is greeted by his young son, John Jr., on arrival at airport in Massachusetts.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

ANOTHER TRAGEDY FOR THE KENNEDYS — The Kennedy family, beset by personal tragedies, experienced another in 1968 when Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was assassinated in Los Angeles.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

THE ULTIMATE PROTEST — Flames consume this Buddhist monk in a Saigon street in 1963 in the first suicide by fire in the Buddhist protest against the government of South Vietnam.

Youthful Pilots Won Epic Battle

'BATTLE OF BRITAIN' - Wilfried Van Aaken (left), Hein Riess and Peter Hager star as the German generals.

Youngsters - call them kids if you will - fought and won the epic Battle of Britain in the skies over London in 1940 - and it's youngsters, kids maybe, who make up most of the supporting cast of Harry Saltzman's spectacular re-enactment of that most decisive of all battles, "Battle of Britain," coming to the Cinema Thursday.

Their names are in striking contrast to the stars assembled by Saltzman for key roles in his multi-million dollar spectacle. Everybody, for example, knows Harry Andrews, Michael Caine, Trevor Howard, Curt Jurgens, Ian McShane, Kenneth More, Laurence Olivier, Christopher Plummer, Nigel Patrick, Michael Redgrave, Ralph Richardson, Robert Shaw, Patrick Wymark and Susannah York who play the key roles.

But very few know of Edward Fox, Nicholas Pennell, James Cosmo, Gareth Forwood, Nicholas Tate, Alan Tickerand and Myles Hoyle who play the young pilots. And yet, says Director Guy Hamilton, there undoubtedly are at least several names of tomorrow's stars

Old Habits Stubborn

Clint Eastwood stars in both "The Good, the Bad and the Ugly" and "Hang 'Em High" opening tonight at the Jet.

In the first, as the "man with no name" Eastwood again portrays the bearded, cigar-smoking, poncho-clad cowboy, this time in a unique Civil War story.

Then as a clean-shaven, grudge-bearing deputy marshal in "Hang 'Em High," Eastwood tracks down a band of vigilantes who tried to lynch him as a cattle rustler.

Eastwood has become so completely identified with his western pictures that he considers his modern dress roles to be the "costume pictures." For "The Switches," filmed between westerns, he appears clean shaven and wearing a business suit.

Americans Admire Mrs. Eisenhower

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) - Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower heads the 1969 list of women Americans admire most, according to the latest Gallup Poll.

Mrs. Eisenhower received 125 votes, followed by Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India, 112 votes. Mrs. Richard M. Nixon, 110; Prime Minister Golda Meir of Israel 103; and Mrs. Aristotle Onassis, 100.

During the San Antonio location of the film, which also stars Pamela Tiffin, Jonathan Winters and John Astin and co-stars Keenan Wynn, Harry Morgan, Alice Ghostley and Kenneth Mars, Ustinov completed several interviews with local Mexican-American television personalities for use on Spanish-speaking stations, entirely in their native language.

In addition, the world's most successful actor-writer can converse almost flawlessly in French, Italian, German, Dutch and Russian.

Ustinov keeps in constant linguistic practice. He is truly an international person. He maintains residences in Paris and Switzerland. He recently directed an opera in German. He owns a large yacht and his captain speaks almost exclusively Spanish. Most of his literary and dramatic works are written in English. He is a rector of a university in Scotland. He travels extensively.

His collection of dialects of each language are innumerable. "English has obviously become the international language," Ustinov, who should know, explained. "Two major situations are responsible. World War II is one of them and pure economics is the other. American tourists are very numerous all over the world and anyone doing business with them has found that at least a minor knowledge of English is much better for the cash-register than no English at all. That extends into all realms of the biggest businesses, as well."

For his role in "Viva Max!," which Ustinov considers the most difficult of his career because of the Mexican accent of his general, he studied several speech patterns before selecting the eventual one.

Bumbling General Is Fluent Linguist

Peter Ustinov, star of "Viva Max!" is world-renowned for being a personage with something to say.

And he can say it fluently in any of six languages with a nodding knowledge of so many more that he has difficulty in counting them.

In "Viva Max!," opening Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre he plays a Mexican general who succeeds in recapturing, if but for a moment, the famed Alamo setting off an unpredictable and hilarious chain reaction of typical American bureaucracy.

Being an American picture, the part is logically spoken in English. But if it were to be recited in Spanish, Ustinov would be almost equally at home.

Slate Is Best Known For 'Bad Guy' Roles

"Jeremy Slate is the most despicable movie villain since Jack Palance menaced the homesteaders in 'Shane'." It is how a major motion picture critic recently described one of Slate's recent film performances. The critic ended his comment on Slate by referring to him as "the next big man-you-love-to-hate star."

In "Hell's Angels '69," in which he co-stars with Tom Stern, Conny Van Dyke, and Steve Sandor opening Wednesday at the Jet Theatre, the rugged Slate once again plays the "bad guy" to the hilt and leaves no doubt that what critics are writing about him is true.

In "Hell's Angels '69," Slate portrays a wealthy playboy, who with his brother, played by Tom Stern, rob Caesars Palace, one of the major casino-hotels on the Las Vegas "strip." Together they devise a deadly scheme designed to involve the Hell's Angels in the crime they didn't commit.

Prior to his acting career, Slate worked as a dairy hand,

'Krakatoa' Stars International Cast

"Krakatoa, East of Java," a spectacular adventure, filmed against the background of the greatest explosion in the history of the world, starts today at the R/70 Theatre.

The distinguished international cast is headed by Maximilian Schell, Diane Baker, Brian Keith, Barbara Werle, John Leyton, Rossano Brazzi, Sal Mineo, J. D. Cannon, and Jacqui Chan.

Krakatoa, East of Java, recreating the cataclysmic events of the eruption of Krakatoa in 1883, an explosion which has never been equalled, bring to the screen a dramatic story of that event and how it affected the lives and fortunes of a group of desperate people on a perilous voyage. They are passengers, crew and prisoners aboard a ship searching for sunken treasure. Some are motivated by love, some by greed, and some by the chance for freedom.

Among the unique sequences, on which special film crews worked for more than a year, are tense scenes aboard the Batavia Queen, an almost 100-year-old freighter, as it fights its way through one of the greatest tidal waves ever recorded; an extraordinary balloon ride into the jaws of a roaring volcano, and spectacular underwater sequences.

Maximilian Schell, who won an Academy Award for his performance in "Judgment at Nuremberg," has the leading role as the captain of the ship whose passengers will have to choose between life and death, between safety and escape. It is he who has the final responsibility aboard a ship torn by suspicion and bound by the fight for survival.

Diane Baker portrays the wife of the lost ship's captain, and she is searching for her son. Brian Keith and Barbara Werle are two of the passengers, a deep sea diver and his girl friend, who seek to find a new life amidst a life of adventure. J. D. Cannon is a prisoner intent on taking over the Batavia Queen. John Leyton portrays a scientist in search of a fortune. Rossano Brazzi and Sal Mineo are a father and son team of balloonists whose differences reach a peak at their personal

Peppard Is Ruthless Ace

The highest award that could be won by German air aces during World War I was the Pour le Merite, as the British nicknamed it, "The Blue Max."

This delicate cross of blue enamel edged with silver eagles was bestowed by the Kaiser on 81 members of the German Air Service, the most distinguished of them being Baron Manfred von Richthofen of Flying Circus fame.

The search for glory that this coveted medal represented is personified in "The Blue Max" by George Peppard, appearing as a ruthless ex-infantryman who will stop at nothing to gain recognition as an air ace.

Also starred in the CinemaScope and DeLuxe Color production, which opens Thursday at the R/70, are James Mason and Ursula Andress.
