

PATRONAGE FEUD Yarborough's Nephew Quits Federal Post

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — U.S. Atty. Richard B. Hardee of Texas Eastern District resigned today under steady pressure from the Justice Department.

The personable, young attorney told a news conference:

"This morning I gave President Nixon my resignation . . . this resignation will enable me to fulfill my long-time desire to enter private practice of law in Tyler . . ."

"During the eight and a half years I have served as assistant U.S. attorney, first assistant U.S. attorney and as the U.S. attorney, the law has prevented me from taking an active part in politics. It is my belief that Sen. Yarborough will seek re-election, and this resignation will enable me to actively support him in the campaign."

The office of Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., announced Tuesday that Hardee and two U.S. marshals had been dismissed by the President.

"I have not been contacted by President Nixon," Hardee said.

Hardee said he had been contacted by the Justice Department about a week ago, and that he told the department he would resign in 60 days.

However, the Justice Department called again Tuesday and told Hardee that President Nixon was considering "asking for my resignation. I thanked them for advising me."

Hardee is a nephew of Sen. Yarborough and Tuesday expressed strong desire to campaign for the senator.

His resignation climaxed a long patronage feud in Texas between Yarborough and Tower. Tower brought the feud to a head Tuesday when his office announced recess appointments by President Nixon of men to fill Hardee's job and that of two U.S. marshals.

The other appointees will replace similarly dismissed U.S. Marshals Jesse L. Dobbs of the Western District of Texas and M. M. Hall of the Southern District.

Dobbs, of San Antonio, will be replaced by Col. Sam Roberts of Austin. Marshall Rousseau will take over in the place held by Hall in Houston.

Grand Jury Calls 3 More Witnesses

The Howard County Grand Jury began its third day of investigation into local drug traffic today at 9 a.m. and by noon at least three of the 65 youngsters subpoenaed to testify had already been quizzed by the jury. About 10 of the youngsters were questioned Tuesday, compared to just two Monday.

Three more subpoenas were issued for witnesses Tuesday, and those three persons were expected to report to the grand jury today.

The scene on the third floor of the courthouse, where the jury is conducting its session, was another quiet one this morning, while 11 youngsters waited to be called.

The October jury was recalled by its foreman John Currie after the Dec. 18 arrest of five Big Spring youngsters and one from Denton, all on charges of selling drugs. All but one of the five have been released from Howard County jail on various bonds, and all six were among the youngsters subpoenaed to testify before the grand jury.

Heart Disease May Be Linked To Monoxide

NEW YORK (AP) — Danish scientists said today that carbon monoxide from cigarette smoke is "very likely" part of the reason smokers develop more coronary heart disease.

If this is so, they said, it means that scientists concerned about preventive medicine will have to take a look at all forms of exposure of people to carbon monoxide, such as automobile exhaust.

The carbon monoxide from cigarette smoke gets into the bloodstream, the scientists said, where it appears to pave the way for the accumulation of cholesterol in the arteries.

An excess of cholesterol is one factor that has been implicated in the incidence of heart disease. Deposits of the fatty substance clog the arteries, preventing normal flow of blood and oxygen.

The new report came from Drs. Poul Astrup, Knud Kjeldsen and John Wanstrop of the department of clinical chemistry at the Royal Hospital in Copenhagen. Dr. Astrup described work on rabbits and studies of humans at a conference on biological effects of carbon monoxide sponsored by the New York Academy of Sciences.

Dr. Astrup said his department noticed high concentrations of carbon monoxide in the blood of young men with coronary artery diseases. Carbon monoxide, a poisonous gas released by combustion, combines with hemoglobin in the blood, displacing vital oxygen.

About 10 per cent of the smokers they studied, Dr. Astrup said, had unusually high levels of a compound formed by the carbon monoxide and hemoglobin—a compound called carboxyhemoglobin. The levels reached 10 to 20 per cent.

The high levels were linked to individual smoking habits, such as depth and duration of inhalation.

He Will Appeal His Conviction

PHARR, Tex. (AP) — State Sen. Jim Bates of Edinburg said he will appeal his conviction on a simple assault charge resulting from an incident involving an Edinburg truck driver.

Justice of the Peace Joe Rendon found Bates guilty on the charge Tuesday. The Democratic legislator had been charged with assault and battery and entered a plea of nolo contendere. The conviction will be appealed to Hidalgo County Court at Law, Bates said.

The senator was accused of striking Victor Gallardo, a truck driver, with a pistol Dec. 20. The senator alleged the truck driver ran him off U.S. 28 three times between Edinburg and Pharr. The truck driver, hospitalized after the incident, said he had not seen the senator prior to the incident.

Sen. Bates admitted striking Gallardo, but denied using a pistol.

Nixon May Call For Cuts In Government Services

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's first budget message will call for a federal spending total of around $202 billion to $203 billion, administration sources estimate.

To help squeeze costs down and assure a surplus, one official reported privately, the Jan. 27 message to Congress may call for cutbacks in some government services, possibly including operations of the Post Office. No details were provided.

The budget reportedly will show a surplus of "a very few billion dollars," an official said, with the help of an odds-and-ends package of tax increases, user charges and speedups in tax collections.

Nixon met Tuesday with his Cabinet, the White House reported, for a review of the budget proposals "before totally locking it up."

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler indicated the President would be able to keep his promise of a balanced budget for fiscal 1971, starting July 1.

However, doubts have been rising within the administration on whether Nixon can hold spending to $192.9 billion in fiscal 1970, as he has vowed, in view of bulging costs and rising interest outlays, plus some unwanted increases made by Congress in appropriation requests.

Still hanging fire is the $19.8 billion appropriation bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare; it carries $1 billion more for education than Nixon asked. The President also has criticized a pending military and civilian pay bill, which would affect the current fiscal year's budget.

The quest for new revenues to improve the 1971 fiscal picture has produced a variety of proposals from the Treasury. Several of them are expected to appear in the budget message. They include:

—Increasing the federal tax on cigarettes from 8 cents to 13 cents a pack, and hiking the taxes on all alcoholic beverages by perhaps 10 per cent.

—Raising the federal gasoline tax from 4 cents a gallon to 5 cents.

—Speeding up estate and gift tax payments. Estate tax payments now lag as much as 18 months after death because survivors are permitted to put a valuation on the estate, for tax purposes, either as of the date of death or one year later.

The Treasury's plan would preserve this choice, but would require payment of an estimated tax within six months after death. A refund would be made later if found necessary. The tax on gifts, applying to gifts of more than $3,000—is paid now after the end of the calendar year. The Treasury proposes to speed up the collection by requiring payment within six months.

—Requiring corporations to make earlier payment to the Treasury of excise taxes collected from the public and income taxes withheld from employees' pay checks.

—Imposing new or increased charges on users of federally supported highways, waterways, airports and airways.

No Green Light Yet For Relief

LAGOS (AP) — A squabble between Nigerian organizations over directing aid for Biafra appeared today to have been settled, but there was no green light yet for foreign governments waiting to send massive shipments of food, medicine and supplies to the war zone.

Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, the Nigerian head of state, rejected help from Joint Church Aid and other private agencies which flew mercy shipments to Biafra during the civil war.

The relief program was reported stymied by a dispute over its control between the government-affiliated National Commission for Rehabilitation and the Nigerian Red Cross. But the head of the rehabilitation commission, Timothy Omobare, said today that the commission "is in charge of determining priority of emergency relief operations, while the Red Cross is in charge of emergency operations."

"We don't trouble them at all," he added. "The decree sharing our responsibility is very clear. All we need . . . now is to get to the field and meet the needy masses and not sit down in Lagos quarreling."

A defense department spokesman said the government had not cleared a relief airlift from Britain because the government had no official information.

"All we know is what we hear on the radio," he said. Other Nigerian officials said the government has all the food it needs, but the problem is getting it to those needing it. They said all efforts must be channeled through agencies approved by the government.

The Red Cross said there were 13,000 tons of food on hand, and that another 10,000 tons would be available within days.

In London, Prime Minister Harold Wilson announced that Britain would give Nigeria $12 million for relief work in Biafra. The Lagos government temporarily banned British military planes from flying into its territory, but it earlier had notified Britain it would accept emergency supplies flown in by civilian aircraft.

U.S. Undersecretary of State Elliot L. Richardson said in Washington that the United States has put $2 million at the disposal of the Nigerian Red Cross and has informed the United Nations Children's Fund that it has 48 trucks ready to be airlifted to Nigeria.

Richardson said details on U.S. aid and the handling of it will be available after a report arrives from Lagos on talks Tuesday between Gowon and U.S. Assistant Secretary of State David Newsom. President Nixon announced Monday that $10 million is available for relief work in Biafra.

The Canadian House of Commons unanimously asked its government to urge the Nigerian government to get church relief goods moving immediately into Biafra.

Gen. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu, who led Biafra's secession and then fled with his family Saturday, was reported in Lisbon. A Biafran source in the Portuguese capital said he had taken refuge in the Biafran mission there and was seeking asylum in the Ivory Coast, a former French colony 400 miles west of Nigeria.

Persons returning from the war zone said Biafran troops were surrendering without difficulty and refugees were pouring out. They said there were 2,000 prisoners of war at Ikot, Ekpen and Port Harcourt, and that they saw no signs of mistreatment of Biafran troops or civilians.

Rio Grande City Schools Close

RIO GRANDE CITY, Tex. (AP) — Public schools in this Lower Rio Grande Valley city remained closed today following an outbreak of a flu-like illness.

Superintendent S.P. Cowan ordered the schools closed Tuesday because of increased absenteeism. He said 1,050 of the system's 3,497 pupils were ill and 24 of the school's 132 teachers have been absent due to illness.

Cowan expressed hope that classes could be resumed next Monday.

Snelson Looks Ahead To Great Challenges

By TERRY STARK

State Sen. W. E. (Pete) Snelson, Midland, replaced an ailing Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes as featured speaker at the Jaycees' Annual Bosses' Night Banquet Tuesday night in the Big Spring High School Cafeteria.

Barnes told the Jaycees by telegram he was under a doctor's care in El Paso, where he spoke earlier in the day, following a "sudden bout with the virus" and recommended Snelson to take his place. Snelson and Barnes have worked closely in both the House of Representatives and the Senate since they served their freshman term as representatives together in 1961.

In his address, Snelson looked to the 1970's as "a challenge to young men" and cited the Jaycee organization as one where young men have always accepted the challenges of a changing world.

"The future for this state has never been brighter," he said, and "the challenges are greatest in the years ahead" for those working in government and civic affairs. He said he saw the expected population growth in the state in the next decade as a "bright spot" because there would be more youth to deal with the state's problems. "This is your country," Snelson said, "what are you going to do with it?"

Snelson said he is interested in the youth because half the state population is below the age of 35 and because organizations of young men such as the Jaycees have always represented "courage, hope and ambition" in facing the state's problems.

"The crime rate is the most serious problem our state faces today," he said and cited Texas' murder rate to stress the point. He said the state is well above the national average in number of murders and that almost as many murders were committed in Texas as in New York, a state with almost double the population of Texas.

"More cooperation is necessary in all areas of government," Snelson told the Jaycees, and "state government must modernize if we are to meet the challenges of the future."

He said the key to effective leadership in government and the community in the '70s would be "creating change." He said Lt. Gov. Barnes is a "creative leader" and praised him as a young man with the interest of

A TRUE APHRODISIAC MAY HAVE BEEN FOUND

Sex Stimulant Arouses Men, Women

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Georgetown University neurologist disclosed today unexpected evidence that the experimental drug L-dopa can be a powerful sex stimulant that might prove to be a long-sought medical weapon against female frigidity and male impotence.

L-dopa already has been hailed as a possible breakthrough against crippling Parkinson's disease, but Dr. William E. O'Malley said it also looks like "a true aphrodisiac" that could benefit hundreds of thousands of people throughout the world.

O'Malley said in an interview the drug has demonstrated powers of giving some men "in their 60s and 70s" more sexual vigor than the average 20-year-old man.

And, he added, while predominantly affecting men, it also has induced "hypersexuality, that is, a marked increase in sexuality," in certain women.

He reported that the unexpected findings have been discerned as a side-effect in about 2 per cent of the patients being given the drug for Parkinson's disease—the so-called "shaking palsy" malady known since Biblical times.

CHASED NURSES

He told of one male patient, about 60, who hadn't been sexually active for at least six years, "who started chasing nurses" after being treated with L-dopa for quite awhile.

O'Malley said the evidence of increased sexuality in certain patients with this disease—which ordinarily tends to depress sexual activity—is so dramatic that studies appear warranted to explore possibilities for using L-dopa as a treatment for female frigidity and male impotence.

Frigidity is the incapacity of certain females for normal pleasure in sexual intercourse. Male impotence, which is much less common than female frigidity, is the inability of certain males to perform the sexual act.

"At least 20 other investigators" throughout the country had told him privately they had noted similar hypersexuality in some of their L-dopa treated patients, O'Malley said. He added: "At first, we felt we ought to keep this quiet, but now most of us feel that it ought to be publicized because of the possibility of engendering studies—at some later date—of the possible, controlled use of L-dopa as a treatment for frigidity and impotence."

NEW THRILL

He stressed that, for the present, all neurologists are "fully occupied" with further exploring L-dopa's use against Parkinson's disease.

O'Malley said researchers are aware of the possibility that if L-dopa becomes generally available to the medical profession—in contrast to its present status as an experimental drug—"hippie-like lids, always looking for any kind of a new thrill" might try to get it by improper means.

"But anyone with such intentions," he said, "should be warned that L-dopa, while a very safe drug in skilled hands, is a very dangerous drug in unskilled hands."

33 Perish In Lagoon

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — Fishermen have recovered the bodies of all 33 persons who perished when a twin-engine airliner crashed into a shallow lagoon Tuesday.

Authorities said the DC3, only aircraft operated by Polynesian Airlines, crashed and burned seconds after it took off from Faleole Airport, in the independent island country of Western Samoa.

The dead, all Western Samoans or New Zealanders, included 30 passengers, the pilot, copilot and stewardess.

Officials said the plane took off in a heavy rain on an 80-mile flight to Pago Pago and nosed into the sea only 400 yards from the end of the runway.

Chief Charged With Burglary

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Police chief Wayman Dial of San Marcos, Tex., has been arraigned in Municipal Court on charges of burglary and attempted robbery.

Beverly Hills police said they arrested Dial, 35, and another man, Carmen Falzone, 27, in a home in the plush Trousdale Estates area last Sunday night. Police, who were alerted by an alarm system in the house, refused to disclose further details of the case.

Dial was arraigned Tuesday and a preliminary hearing was set for Jan. 20. He was held on $6,250 bail.

In San Marcos, City Manager Richard Bean said last Thursday he had accepted Dial's resignation, effective Feb. 15. No reason was given, Bean said.

San Marcos is the home of Southwest Texas State University, alma mater of former President Lyndon Johnson. Dial has been police chief seven years.

TAKING CARE OF OIL SPILLED INTO WATER Texas Governor To Air Plan

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith will outline a plan to combat oil spills in the Texas bays and coast Wednesday at a hearing before the Presidential Water Pollution Advisory Board.

Smith will highlight the hearing—which may run into Thursday—where representatives of industry, municipalities, state agencies and others will tell what is or isn't being done to abate water pollution in their areas.

Carl Klein, assistant secretary of the interior for water quality and research, chairman of the advisory board, will conduct the hearing.

Monday Klein took a helicopter tour of the Houston Ship Channel and Galveston Bay, calling the channel one of the worst polluted channels in the nation.

While he was making that tour, the members of the advisory board visited the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area. The board then flew to Corpus Christi for a boat trip up the Corpus Christi harbor to con-

Baptist Trustees Denying Charges Of Extravagance

FORT WORTH (AP)—Trustees of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary deny charges of extravagance in their authorization of a new $125,000 home for the president.

They said the president's home is a vital need in continuing the work of the world's largest evangelical seminary.

Some Baptists, in recent letters to the Baptist Standard, called the $125,000 authorization "sadly absurd," "outrageous" and "ridiculous."

A board official said some 40 letters of opposition have been received, which he dismissed as a small number for a denomination which claims a membership of about 11 millions.

The new home, said Dr. James E. Coggin, pastor of Fort Worth's Travis Avenue Baptist Church, "will serve for more purposes than merely the home of our president."

Dr. Coggin, who was chairman of the seminary trustees when the home was first proposed, said "There will be a major portion which will be used strictly for institutional functions with another section to be used as housing for the president and his family."
He said the current president, Dr. Robert E. Naylor, did not request the new home. Dr. Coggin noted that Dr. Naylor is nearing retirement and would live there only a short time.

When today's hand was dealt in a recent tournament, most North-South pairs reached a contract of four hearts. Where a spade was opened by West, the defenders cashed two tricks in the suit and then West exited with a diamond. When South got around to playing clubs, he led a small one from his hand and put up the queen when West played low. On the return, declarer finessed the ten of clubs losing to the jack and then West cashed the ace for the setting trick. At only one table did the declarer succeed in holding his losses in the club suit to one trick, enabling him to fulfill his contract for a very fine score. The defense started out by cashing two spades and then shifting to a diamond.

South drew the trumps in three rounds, but before attacking clubs, he decided to get a count on his opponents' hands. All of the diamonds were run as declarer shed two small clubs. West had followed to four diamonds and two hearts. His original lead of the three of spades had presumably marked him with a maximum of four cards in that suit, which meant that he had at least three clubs — and East, at most a doubleton.

On the basis of the count, South resolved to play West for the jack of clubs. Since he was in the dummy after running the diamonds, he led a small club and played the queen from his hand. If the queen held, it was his intention to lead back another club and play low from the dummy in the hope of felling a doubleton ace on his right.

When the queen of clubs was captured by West's ace, the latter was obliged to return the suit in order to avoid giving the declarer a ruff and sluff. South permitted the nine of clubs to ride successfully around to his ten, and North's king took the final trick.

Presidents Predict Campus Violence Passed Its Peak

HOUSTON (AP) — Violence on America's college campuses has already peaked and is now declining, most college presidents attending the Association of American Colleges meeting here believe.

"The atmosphere is altogether different at this meeting," one college executive noted. "Last year all we talked about was how to counter demonstrations. This year we're back to talking about money."

TRAILING OFF
San Francisco State College President Samuel I. Hayakawa, whose school was hard hit by demonstrations and student strikes last year, said the signs point toward quieter times.

"It's now peaked and is trailing off," he said, when asked the prospects for more violence. Improved communications between students, faculty and administration, plus concrete action on many student demands is credited with the cooling off.

"There's more talking between the students and the administration now than ever before," said one college president.

Asked if this communications improvement would have happened without the prairie fire of violence which struck the campuses, he shook his head, "I doubt it."

In addresses opening the first general session of the association meeting, Dr. Hayakawa, Dr. Edward J. Bloustein, president of Bennington College, Vermont, and Dr. Samuel E. Stumpf, president of Cornell College, Mount Vernon, Iowa, put forth their programs to keep the campuses tame.

Dr. Hayakawa defended the iron-fisted approach that put down disturbances on his campus in December, 1968.

He said he called in police to break up an unauthorized rally, and 461 students were arrested.

"This is really what broke the back" of the violence, he said. "They didn't think I would do it. But it happened."

DIRECT VOICE
Dr. Bloustein proposed that students be given a direct voice in the selection of college presidents.

Under a plan he proposed, students, faculty and boards of regents would have one vote each in the selection of a college president. This, he said, would make the presidents more responsive to the students. He also advocated allowing college presidents to take stands on sensitive issues.

Dr. Stumpf said violence came because a delicate consensus in the academic world had been tipped. Students, he said, were demanding more quality in their education, but found that their teachers were "more interested in their own careers and successes than in the welfare of students."

He advocated "reasoned discourse" between students, faculty and administration to return to the consensus.

A student speaker, Stephen Lieurance of San Jose State College, California, said that faculties and students in American colleges "seem to be on a collision course."

FRUSTRATING
He said faculty members continue to be most resistant to change and to blindly defend the institutional faults felt by students.

Lieurance said students are expected to refrain "from full involvement in the adult world" and "accept the institution as it is presented to them by the learned faculty."

"Such a position can be highly frustrating to students," he said.

Students, he said, have found it easier to communicate with the administration "via the evening news than attempting to hassle with the bureaucracy."

Lieurance said that without efforts by students and faculty to gain mutual insights and understanding, "there will be an unbridgeable gap and a collision course."

"It is the faculty that today sets the tone and character of the educational environment," he said. "If there is to be real institutional renewal, this is where it must take place and the students know this."

Burned GI 'Critical'

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — An Army private from Portales, N.M., who said two men doused him with gasoline and set him afire in Lubbock, remained in critical condition here today.

Physicians said Ronnie Williamson, 18, suffered second and third degree burns over 65 per cent of his body—most of them on the back side from head to foot.

He was treated at the Army Institute of Surgical Research at Brooke Army Medical Center. A team of specialists flew him here from Lubbock early Tuesday.

Williamson told investigators two men picked him up in Lubbock Monday night as he was hitchhiking. The pair, he said, pushed him into an alley, beat him and set him afire after soaking his clothes with gasoline.

He said he rolled on the ground to put out the fire. Neighbors heard his screams and rushed to his aid.

In Lubbock, police questioned two men Tuesday and said they apparently had no connection with the case. No charges were filed.

Williamson said he was on leave from a training brigade at Ft. Lewis, Wash. He is an orphan and his guardian is Grover C. Ross of Portales.

Shot Kills Patrolman

DALLAS (AP) — Gunfire killed patrolman R.H. Shipp, 21, and critically wounded a man stopped for a traffic violation on a West Dallas street Tuesday night.

Officers identified the wounded man as James Millage, 27, an ex-convict.

Shipp's partner, patrolman E. E. Hardy, said it happened this way:

Millage tried to run into a house after his car was halted, Hardy grabbed him and the two scuffled. The ex-convict snatched Hardy's pistol from a holster and fired once as Shipp tried to help Hardy. The bullet hit Shipp's left side.

Speed Reading Classes Set For Big Spring

The famous Cutler Accelerated method of speed reading, created by Dr. Wade E. Cutler, who holds a doctorate in psychology, will be taught here in both day and evening classes.

The average person today reads some 200 words per minute with about 60% comprehension—a rate inadequate to cope with today's reading demands in school, college, and business.

This widely acclaimed course guarantees its graduates will read at least 4 times their beginning rate with a definite increase in comprehension.

Many graduates of the nine-week program far exceed the guarantee and complete with rates of 2,500 and more words per minute with far better comprehension.

Concentration, recall, study and test-taking skills show a remarkable degree of improvement.

Such achievement means that a person can read books of average length in 45 minutes or less, and understand, remember, and enjoy them better than ever.

This remarkable accelerated reading and study course is offered here exclusively by Accelerated Education Schools with locations in major cities in Texas, New Mexico, Louisiana, and Oklahoma.

This professionally conducted course boasts over 10,000 successful graduates due to its common sense approach to better and faster reading, and to its staff of professionally qualified master teachers.

A series of meetings has been scheduled for those in the Big Spring area who desire to know how they too may learn to read with greater speed, power, and efficiency.

At these free one-hour orientations, full details about speed reading and the unique Cutler Accelerated Method will be given to those forward-looking persons attending.

Since there is no cost or obligation by attending, you owe it to yourself to attend the time most convenient for you.

Drop in and find out how you can make 1970 a more successful year.

All meetings are open to the public, and will be conducted as follows:

Wednesday, January 14 at 7:30 p.m.
Sunday, January 18 at 2:30 p.m. and again at 4:00 p.m.
All meetings will be conducted in the Conference Room (Main Floor) of the Settles Hotel, Rannels at 3rd, in Big Spring. (adv.)

Teacher Facing Evasion Charge

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Bernard Jack Gebhardt, 23, a teacher, arrested on charges of draft evasion, was free on bond today.

A teacher in Edgewood School District here, Gebhardt was charged Tuesday with violating the Selective Service Act by willfully failing to report for induction into the armed services, FBI agents said.

Gebhardt was arrested at his home late Monday and arraigned before a U. S. commissioner, the FBI said. He was released on a $500 personal recognizance bond.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Let your light shine before men; that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father who is in heaven. (Matthew 5:16, ASV)

PRAYER: Our Father, lead us to realize, acknowledge, and accept life and its blessings as gifts from Thee. Inspire and motivate us to live and serve, leading others to Thy way and purpose. In Jesus name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Wise To Settle Issue

Russia has been forced to adopt a defensive posture on the subject of boundaries. It is a Pandora's box. If the issue of one is permitted to reach the negotiating table, many more will promptly appear.

Russia, for instance, will not even agree to the mutual withdrawal of forces along its 4,000-mile border with China. She will not concede that unequal treaties forced by the Czars on China should be rectified, even with a Communist brother.

Perhaps the most reasonable request of the lot has come from Japan, seeking restoration to Japanese sovereignty of Kunashiri and Etorofu Islands in the Kurile Islands which stretch from Russia's Kamchatka Peninsula to the northern-most Japanese island of Hokkaido. The islands were seized by Russia after World War II.

The Russians insist that no territorial dispute exists with Japan, hence there is nothing to discuss. But the Japanese are practically unanimous in demanding the return of the two islands. Yet for Russia to yield here is to open up demands for rectification of boundaries with Poland, Finland, Romania, and of course China.

If the Russians were sensible they would make a deal with Japan over Kunashiri and Etorofu. It would be to their long-range national interest. Yet the positions of 20 and more years are frozen, leaving no room for maneuver or diplomacy. If this leaves Japan with no alternative than to lean toward Peking, some other generation of Russians will be left to regret the inflexibility of the present regime in Moscow.

A Way To Help

While the Howard County Grand Jury continues its inquiry into the extent of drug and marijuana traffic or use, it is well to take a constructive view of these deliberations. Some people have created rumors and nurtured them with a degree of hysteria. Minor occurrences have been blown in to distorted reports in some quarters. None of this helps; on the contrary, it hinders the purpose of honest and diligent inquiry.

The probe is, it seems to us, in competent hands and is proceeding in an orderly manner to gather information and shake out the chaff of rumor and hearsay in order to develop the facts as they are shown to exist.

Now if any person has information which can be useful, he or she has an obligation to volunteer it. If there is too great hesitancy in contacting the district attorney or law enforcement officers, then why not talk with a member of the grand jury? The law would seem to indicate that members of the grand jury are obligated to bring to the attention of the grand jury knowledge he or she may have concerning indictable offenses.

Thus, if any person has information on this subject which is of a substantial nature, he may volunteer it to John Currie, foreman, Wilson Edwards, Ernest Byrd, Charles Thompkins, Curt Mullins, R. C. Thomas, Mrs. Ralph Gossett, Mrs. Bennett Brooke, Don Newsom, E. O. Brown, Mrs. Walter Slate and Mrs. James Johnson, other members of the panel.

David Sarnoff: Splendid Example

WASHINGTON — In most newspapers on Thursday there was a brief dispatch from New York City saying that David Sarnoff, age 79, had retired as chairman of the board of the Radio Corporation of America due to reasons of health. The record of his leadership in the development of radio and television is remarkable, but the story of what an "underprivileged" individual can accomplish constitutes an even more significant lesson for so many of the "younger generation" of today who fail to perceive what responsible individualism can do for America.

AT THE AGE of nine, David Sarnoff was brought to this country from Russia by his immigrant father, and grew up in a tenement in the ghettos of New York City. He had to learn English, and, before and after going to public school each day, he helped to support his family by selling newspapers and working at other odd jobs. He was only 15 when his father died, and he found it necessary to leave school and get full-time employment. This happened to be as a messenger boy, at five dollars a week, with a small commercial telegraph company. Young Sarnoff used his first week's salary to buy a dummy telegraph "key" and instruction book, and started to learn the Morse code. His next step was as office boy at the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company of America, where he soon qualified as an operator.

SARNOFF came to national attention on April 14, 1912, when, at the age of 21, he was on duty as manager of an experimental wireless station atop the Wanamaker building. He picked up distress signals from the ocean liner Titanic, which had collided with an iceberg in the Atlantic and was sinking. He stuck to his instruments continuously for 72 hours straining to pick up the messages coming faintly from rescue ships while President Taft ordered all other wireless stations in the country to shut down in order to eliminate interference. Only when Sarnoff had the name of the last of the 706 survivors of the sinking — 1,517 others had gone down with the ship — did he leave his post.

OUT OF THIS incident came national recognition of the part that this new means of communication could play. In its development, Sarnoff, who had foreseen the possibilities long before anyone else, became a leader as his creative genius and driving force pushed the industry forward. When the Radio Corporation of America was formed in 1919, he was named commercial manager, became general manager three years later, and took over as president in 1930.

Sarnoff came to be recognized as perhaps the foremost of America's executives in the field of communications. He more than any other individual is responsible for the fact that radio and television sets, including color, are so widely distributed today. The late Winston Churchill, prime minister of Great Britain, paid him this tribute:

"DAVID SARNOFF has devoted his life to the realization of his ideals which he believes to be for the good of his fellow citizens and for the whole of mankind. He is a leader in the advancement of civilization. His name belongs among the greatest names in world history. The impact of his contributions to the various fields of his activity will remain for the future historians to evaluate. For the present, we can only say that David Sarnoff is a blessing to all the forces striving for peace, progress and democracy."

What was the secret of Sarnoff's success? It may be found in his own words in a talk to a group of young men:

"The boy who believes that his parents, or the government, or anyone else owes him his livelihood and that he can collect it without labor will wake up one day and find himself working for another boy who did not have that belief and, therefore, earned the right to have others work for him."

Proper Understanding Of Credit?

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the fact that the law now requires interest rates on consumer loans to be stated as clearly as possible, the suspicion exists that many buyers still are unaware of the implications of the credit age.

Clearly, credit as a way of life is not only firmly established but growing relentlessly, both in total amount and as a percentage of disposable income. Close to $120 billion is outstanding, not including home mortgages.

A proper understanding of credit may not be developing simultaneously, however, and the falling seems to be shared by both borrower and lender.

A survey by the Federal Reserve Board in July, 1969, showed considerable confusion among heads of households about the interest rates they paid on automobile loans, department store credit and even home mortgages.

Since then the Truth-in-Lending Law has gone into effect, requiring that lenders state the dollar amount of finance charges and the interest as a percentage. But can anyone easily understand the charges on installment credit?

Compounding the confusion is the sometimes incredible state of credit bookkeeping. Holders of some credit cards find it almost impossible to get errors corrected. And in some stores the situation is as poor.

Consider, for example, the problem involved in a payment made but not recorded promptly by the creditor. The creditor includes the amount on the next bill, along with an interest charge.

One month later the creditor does make note of the payment and deducts it from the balance. But does the interest charge also come off? Not always, and not many borrowers are likely to spot the error either.

Some users of credit suspect that the much touted efficiencies of credit are not so real as advertised. They prefer instead to pay cash, seek a discount and keep their own records.

In Montebello, Calif., the editor of "Western Milk & Ice Cream," a Mr. Henry Adam

Morse, complains:

"Establishments accept credit cards willingly, waiting 30 days for their money less part of their profit, but when one offers cash and asks for a discount it produces a financial crisis that requires calling the manager."

Several years ago Morse printed up some "Discount-For-Cash" cards and sent them to friends. Soon he was getting orders from all over the country though they cost him only one cent to print.

So heavy were the orders, he says, that "for awhile I thought I had discovered perpetual motion." What he had discovered were individuals of similar sympathies.

Another problem of the credit age is the matter of controls on the proliferation of bank credit cards that seem to appear in the mails as regularly as "cents-off" coupons. Although almost casually offered, these cards are an A-1 claim on the lendable funds of the dispensing bank.

A customer might apply to a bank for $600 in credit to purchase furniture and be turned down because of tight money. If he has the bank's credit card, however, he can buy that furniture without a question being asked.

Apple Polishing Veeps

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that a vice president gets tired of a vice president:

"Often a bridesmaid—never the bride."

"He's the kind of guy who always gets the second best job, the second best secretary, the office with the second best view. Even his season football tickets are on the 45-yard line."

"The boss was tied up, sir, so they referred me to you."

"I hear his son was just elected vice president of his class in college. It must be a family curse."

"I'm taking this cup of coffee to the president, Mr. Tiswell. Do you mind if I bring yours in a little later?"

"What does he really do? Well, he seems to be in charge of turning out the lights and burying things under the rug."

"Oh, Mr. Tiswell, won't you give you any trouble. All you have to do is be sure to order roses for his wife on her birthday, and be sure to get a new cushion for his swivel chair every three months."

"No, he doesn't come up with many new ideas, but why should he? There's nothing that makes the president of a firm more annoyed than vice presidents with a lot of fresh ideas. He's sure they're after his job. The only safe time to have an idea is before you become a vice president."

"I wouldn't say that Tiswell is an apple polisher, but I've noticed that when the boss comes out to attend the annual office Christmas party, Tiswell is the first to start singing, 'For he's a jolly good fellow.'"

"His biggest decision every day is whether to have a third martini at lunch, and nine out of 10 days he votes yes."

"I'm going to spend next week in Florida, Tiswell, and want you to take charge of the office for me. If anything really important comes up, my secretary will get in touch with me."

"He has been saying yes at the office so long that his wife was able to wheedle a fur coat out of him this year because he had forgotten how to say no."

"His biggest ambition is to be vice president in charge of all the other vice presidents."

"I took the liberty, Mr. Tiswell, of showing some of the doodles you've made during conferences to a friend of mine at the Museum of Modern Art. Now the museum wants to buy several for permanent exhibition."

To Your Good Health

A Word About Mongoloids

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Could you give me any information on mongoloid children? The pediatrician says that this baby that I know about is the worst case of mongolism he has ever seen.

What does this mean? What is the average life span for them?—Mrs. E.

Mongolism is a congenital condition involving both physical and mental defects — the mongoloid child is shorter and chunkier, fingers tend to be stubby, there is a characteristic facial appearance including a shaping of the eyes that somewhat resembles an Oriental cast, which led to the name "mongolism." Mentally, these children are retarded in varying degrees.

All those are outward signs. The mongoloid child is the victim of other physiological distortions, however. Such children are much more than averagely subject to infections, whether colds, skin infections or other germ-borne ailments. Some mongoloid children — a few — show relatively mild indications of their condition, and are not as severely retarded mentally as others. But the severely affected ones are able to learn very little and are not able to do much for themselves. These require a lot of care.

As to life expectancy, it used to be that mongoloids didn't live long. Subject to all sorts of infections, they soon ran into one germ or another that they could not cope with.

This has changed markedly in recent years, primarily since the introduction of antibiotics, and they are living to adulthood instead of succumbing early.

How long they can be expected to live, we do not know. We haven't had antibiotics long enough to find out.

One other point needs stressing. When parents have a mongoloid child, too often they feel that it is because of something they have done wrong. This is not so, and they should not blame themselves.

Specifically, mongolism is the result of having one extra chromosome, but what causes this extra chromosome has not yet been discovered. For whatever reason, mongoloid children are somewhat more likely to be born to older mothers, but that is just an additional factor. The fundamental cause of this error in the chromosomes is still under study.

You can lose weight if you really want to! Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Lost Secrets of Reducing," tells you how — naturally and with no gimmicks — to the level best suited to your individual needs. For a copy, write to Dr. Thosteson, care of The Herald, enclosing 35 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim

Under An Evil Star

When it comes to the tube, I'm a born loser.

There is some fendish god out there who rides the ether waves and who personally sees to it that my sense of timing is perfect — perfectly wrong, that is.

JUST LET ME get in late and years for a few quick looks at a ball game or some other production, it will take forever for the thing to warm up. If it does respond quickly, the audio will pick up in tempo and excitement right up to the moment the video pops on — and then "One moment please . . ."

Or if I feel like I am ready to settle in comfort for the showdown, this is what I get: "And now a word from our sponsor" or "Now for this important word." Sometimes they let me down easy: "We'll be back just two minutes from now." All of this is the signal for endless commercials, not a few of them with characters smuggled from the silly sanctuary.

LET ME BE DETAINED from the moment-of-truth pro game and at long last get to the tube, with uncanny timing I hit it right on the nose: "Well, that brings us to the two minute warning. Now for a word . . ." If you have just 30 seconds you can invest in a quick glimpse of action, here is what you get: "There's a full time out on the field. And now for an important message . . ."

IN THE MIDDLE of an exciting drama, when I am about to chew my finger or suck my thumb, there is a sudden break in the continuity: "We interrupt this program to bring you this important message: A black and white Poland china pig has been lost in the vicinity of 12th and Zodiac. He is a family pet and answers to the name of Oink. He is not considered dangerous, but approach from the upwind side." Then back to action, but before I can pick up the thread again: "We interrupt this program . . ."

LET THERE be a dreamy melody that soothes the nerves and gently stirs the juices accompanying the temperature readings, exactly when they get to what I feel is the most beautiful part, — whock! it's off. Back to the bangedy-bang-bang of a rock group.

If all else fails, there are the sure-fire remnants of technical difficulty. Right when the funny man gets to his punch line, there is a conglomeration of scratching, roaring, plus flickering and cascading frames zizzing by like the 7:15 express as seen through a picket fence. I am blessed with this message: "The difficulty you are experiencing is not with your set," or "This interruption is between our facilities and the point of origin." Often times, what is perfectly obvious to my frustrated soul, I hear this insulting bit of news: "We have temporarily lost the video (or audio) portion of our program."

THE NEWSCASTER, delivering the daily intelligence of the world with great aplomb, says blandly: "And now we take you live to Paris, via satellite, to see the can-can girls . . ." And what happens: Spitz blk zrrrth! "We regret that due to circumstances beyond our control we are unable to bring you . . ."

Now a new menace has appeared on the horizon. Its reception is perfect, I get this at the peak of suspense in the mystery story: "To be continued." It's not a case of you can't win them all; I can't even win some. —JOE PICKLE

'Good News'

Citizens At Their Unselfish Best

By The Associated Press

Attention was focused on war and conflict. Crime and corruption claimed headlines. Yet there was "good news" in 1969 and some of the best of it was recorded in stories that showed countless citizens at their unselfish best.

It was the year a blind high school dropout named Clyde Raymond Smith earned his doctorate degree. It was the year that Illinois neighbors pitched in to help Don Kruse when he lost parts of both legs in a farm accident.

IT WAS another year of conflict on many of the nation's campuses but at Eastern Mennonite College in Virginia students took odd jobs and helped raise $400,000 for a start on construction of a $1.4 million library.

Perhaps one of the best remembered "good news" stories of the year occurred on a Detroit bus. A man attacked the driver and broke his arm. Most of the passengers covered in their seats but 71-year-old Bernice Kuliszko ran up the aisle and pushed the assailant away.

Smith, now teaching in Peoria, Ill., dropped out of high school and had abandoned hope of supporting himself and his wife. Later he passed an entrance exam to Arkansas State College. He graduated with honors, got a master's degree from the University of Missouri and in December got his doctor of education degree from the University of Tennessee.

PEOPLE GAVE of themselves. In Moro, Ill., Kruse, 31, a part-time farmer, lost parts of both legs when caught in a corn picking machine. His friends not only raised $12,000 to help him, but also harvested his fields and built a concrete sidewalk, driveway and patio for his house.

In North Bend, Wash., neighbors of a baker who was injured with his shop themselves. Among those helping sell the pastries were a minister and an undertaker.

A Richfield, Minn., widow got a new roof for her home. It was installed by the "Operation Brotherhood" organization whose members donate several hours each week to an "ability bank" to help people in need.

EVEN PRISONERS displayed generosity. This year 240 inmates of Tucker Prison Farm in Pine Bluff, Ark., each contributed $1 they received as Christmas presents from the state for presents for 25 poor children living nearby.

Animals got into the act at Broward Humane Society Shelter in Fort Lauderdale, Fla. They licked their chops at an overflow of donated food after staffers appealed to the public. The 800 cans of food and 700 pounds of dry meal was plenty for all including an armadillo, a monkey and a turkey who made it through the Thanksgiving crisis.

HONESTY WAS one of the traits seen in this year's good news. A woman in Boone, N.C., who lost a pocketbook with $800 and no local address in it, got it back through a radio appeal. In Aurora, Colo., a billfold with $44 and a bevy of credit cards in it was lost and returned intact by mail to its owner. The 18-year-old finder did not want a reward.

And in St. Louis, a young Marine who had been stranded in Los Angeles earlier in the year and was loaned $12 toward a plane ticket by an unidentified woman, showed his thanks by donating $100 to the Central Institute for the Deaf. She had declined repayment but suggested he send any amount he wanted to the school.

The Liberals Pick Lindsay

WASHINGTON — Mayor John Lindsay of New York is said to be flattered but a trifle uneasy over a major development concerned with his ambition to move into the governor's mansion in Albany and, eventually, the White House.

That development, not yet publicly announced, is the decision of the newly-formed liberal-activist "Referendum '70" to support some Democratic nomination to challenge Gov. Nelson Rockefeller. Lindsay, it is reported, was informed of the decision "informally," meaning through mutual friends.

NOW, "Referendum '70" has been described by its founders as an outfit dedicated to assisting selected super-liberal candidates for Congress. It is peopled by leftovers from past Presidential campaigns such as John Kenneth Galbraith of Harvard, who has never recovered from the discovery of his own brightness, and Richard Goodwin, the former John Kennedy, Gene McCarthy, Bobby Kennedy, "adviser" who more recently helped Teddy Kennedy write his TV explanation on Chappaquiddick.

GALBRAITH IS honorary chairman of the organization and wrote its opening statement calling for an end to the war in Vietnam, reduction of defense expenditures and a halt to the "harassment" of dissenters. Goodwin is a member of the advisory committee, which also includes ex-Kennedy aide Fred Dutton; Charles Evers, Negro mayor of Fayette, Miss.; Don Green, director of the New Democratic Coalition, and Ted Van Dyk, former aide to Hubert H. Humphrey.

"REFERENDUM '70" will indeed spend time and money on picked Congressional candidates. But it wants John Lindsay as its glamor boy — as the head of its ticket, at it were.

It should go without saying that all "Referendum '70's" big wheels supported Lindsay, most of them in absentia, in the 1969 mayoralty brawl. Under ordinary circumstances, that would make them John Lindsay's kind of people. But the circumstances involved in Lindsay's run for state and national office are not ordinary.

LINDSAY MAY NOT be as bright as Galbraith (who is?), but he's a better politician. He realizes that running for mayor in the nation's most liberal city is not quite to be compared with running for governor and President. In the rest of New York state and across the country, voters tend to look at things differently than they do in Manhattan, which among New York's boroughs gave Lindsay his only really solid support last November.

There is also the fact that more New Yorkers voted against Lindsay than for him. Undoubtedly, this warned Lindsay of a pressing need to broaden his political base.

AND SO the handsome mayor is not quite bowled over by "Referendum '70's" pledge — or threat — to support him for governor. His dilemma is the age-old one of requiring protection from one's friends. Lindsay has acknowledged to intimates that the support of Galbraith and Co. would help him enormously with liberals, but he noted that he already has the liberals, and must look for a way to win points with upstate New York's moderate-to-conservative bloc.

Patron Tickets Ready For 'Red Stockings'

The sale of patron tickets for the base-community production, "Red Stocking Revue," was off to a good start Tuesday as the first tickets were purchased by Mr. and Mrs. George A. McAlister Jr., 2403 Cindy Lane.

Mrs. Harrison Lobdell Jr., wife of the Webb wing commander, and Mrs. R. J. Beam of the Big Spring community are co-chairmen for the patron ticket sales.

Mrs. Lobdell announced that over 300 letters to prospective patrons were mailed Tuesday, with indications of a good response to the show, which is being produced as a charity benefit. The patron tickets will sell for $5 each, and Mrs. Lobdell noted that half of this amount is deductible because all proceeds will go to charitable organizations. Regular tickets for the show will go on sale about Feb. 1.

The Officer's Wives Club, sponsor of the show, is asking the support of the community, stressing that both local and base talent will be needed for the musical review.

"The Red Stocking Revue" will be produced by Jerome H. Cargill Producing Organization, Inc., which has produced such shows all over the United States. Mrs. M. Alexander Introduced At Coffee

Mrs. Jack R. Alexander and Mrs. John Thomas were hostesses for a coffee introducing Mrs. Mark Alexander Saturday morning in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club. Calling hours were from 10 a.m. to 12 o'clock noon.

Mrs. Alexander, a recent bride, wore a white wool dress with red accessories. On a polished table were appointments of copper and brass with a center arrangement of yellow spider chrysanthemums and green foliage.

Miss Rebecca Cowling of Kermit and Miss Mary Jane Gully presided at the register, and those serving punch and coffee were Mrs. Robert Goodlett, Mrs. S. M. Anderson, Mrs. John Dibrell and Mrs. Barney Hines. Others assisting in the house party were Mrs. Ben Cowling and Mrs. W. B. Lovelace, both of Kermit; Mrs. R. W. Thompson and Mrs. Jack Gully.

New Slate Takes Office

New officers assumed duties at Tuesday's meeting of the Center Point Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Bob Wren, 700 E. 14th.

The new slate includes Mrs. J. R. Petty, president; Mrs. L. J. Davidson, vice president; Mrs. Travis Melton, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Wren, council delegate and reporter. The by-laws and study rules were re-adopted, and recommendations from the HD council were approved. Yearbooks were distributed and meeting places were assigned.

Leaders and committee chairmen were appointed. They include Mrs. Alden Ryan and Mrs. Leslie Bryson, home furnishings; Mrs. W. E. Anderson, clothing; Mrs. D. W. SNELSON the state first in his mind. Snelson said he intends to "back his (Barnes) goals for the '70s."

"We are fortunate to have the state government we have," Snelson said. "It represents a cross-section of the state's people." He said all people in government work toward one goal — "to aid Texas."

"It's hard to conceive the situation in 1960," he said noting problems such as environmental pollution and the war in Vietnam which need to be solved in the present decade, "but thanks to the Jaycees it will be a brighter time."

The Jaycees presented a plaque to Snelson following his address in appreciation for his efforts to appear at the banquet on short notice.

Snelson was a freshman representative from Midland County in 1961 and was elected to the state senate in 1965. His district was changed the same year and he was forced to run against Sen. Dorsey Hardeman who was also placed in the new district, in 1966. He lost to Hardeman by 61 votes in that election but regained the seat in 1968 by more than 6,100 votes, running against the same man. He was state president of the Jaycees in 1967 and 1968 and had occasion to visit Big Spring several times in that capacity. A former sports writer and editor, Snelson now owns an advertising agency in Midland.

Snelson presented a check for part of the net proceeds from the banquet to Bert Andries, president of the Boys Club, to be included in the club's new building fund and contributed the first dollar to the Jaycees "Buck-A-Block" campaign, also to aid the Boys Club building fund.

Banquet co-chairman Ben T. Faulkner said the affair netted the Boys Club between $300 and $400 and that the other portion of the net proceeds would go toward different Jaycee community projects.

Approximately 300 persons attended the banquet, including many civic and business leaders, which also featured the presentation of awards to several of the area's outstanding young men.

JAYCEES PRESENTED these four young men with awards for outstanding service in their fields of work. Left to right, they are Bill D. Brooks, Outstanding Young Educator; S. Sgt. James W. Baldwin, Outstanding Young Airman; Jerry Iden, Outstanding Young Farmer; and Larry D. Lee, Outstanding Young Patrolman. The awards were made at Tuesday's Bosses' Night Banquet in the high school cafeteria.

Seven Honored With Plaques At Bosses Night Banquet

A highlight of the annual Jaycees Bosses Night banquet was the presentation of awards, including the announcement of the "boss of the year," W. D. (Slim) Broughton. The membership of the Jaycee voted to present the Jaycee of the Year award to Ben T. Faulkner, owner of West Texas Roofing Company. Winston Winkle, KBST, cited Faulkner for his activities in the organization in presenting the plaque. Faulkner is a graduate of Big Spring High School, Howard County Junior College, and Texas Tech and has served the Jaycees as first and second vice president and as president. Bob Taylor, incoming president, awarded Broughton, a local engineer, the plaque naming him "boss of the year." Broughton is also a Texas Tech graduate and a veteran of World War II. He is active in scouting, Little League, and the YMCA. He is a member of the Optimist Club and serves on the city parks and recreation board. The "boss" award goes every year to the Jaycee employer the general membership votes most active in the organization's community efforts. Dr. Harold Smith, optometrist, was selected as recipient of the Faith in God Award. Dr. Smith graduated from Hardin-Simmons University and Abilene High School. He is a director of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center and a deacon in the East Fourth Street Baptist Church. Dr. Smith has donated much time and energy in aiding the disadvantaged and still gives his services to needy persons along the Texas-Mexico border. He established his practice in Big Spring in 1960. S. Sgt. James W. Baldwin, Webb AFB, received the award as outstanding airman. He is a maintenance controller at Webb and active in the Webb Catholic Chapel Program. He is a member of the "S-Watters" Radio Club and has worked in the United Fund drive and other civic projects. Larry D. Lee of the Big Spring Police, received the Jaycees' outstanding patrolman award. Lee holds the basic certificate of a police officer, and has taken courses in police technology and law at several colleges. He is the most recent winner of the department's PRIDE Patrolman award for the season. Cited for his knowledge of the scientific elements of farming and his ingenuity was Outstanding Farmer Jerry Iden, Ackerly. He started farming in 1960 at the death of his father and, through the use of innovative farm methods, improved his production of both crops and livestock. Bill Brooks, industrial arts instructor in Big Spring High School, was named Outstanding Young Educator. He is a North Texas State graduate and has taught in Odessa and Lubbock before moving to Big Spring in 1968. He developed the new system of drop boxes outside the post office for which he received national acclaim. Capt. Steve Sutton, Webb AFB, honored 18 foreign student pilots from Webb at the banquet saying they had overcome adversities such as the language barrier and strange surroundings to participate in pilot training. The students represented Denmark, Iran, and Norway. The organization also honored its four former Outstanding Young Texans; Dr. John E. Hogan, 1944; Dan Krause, 1958; James M. Hardy, 1960; and Dr. Charles Warren, 1969. Jim Baum recognized special guests in the audience representing government, business and state Jaycee leaders.

Two Arrested

Two young women were arrested Tuesday in separate shoplifting incidents at Cook's Discount Center. An 18-year-old woman was arrested at 2:49 p.m. for theft under $5, and a 17-year-old woman was arrested at 5:20 p.m. for theft under $5. The 17-year-old was referred to the juvenile officer.

HCJC Enrolls 575 Students In First Day

Registration for the spring semester at Howard County Junior College was very light early this morning, but Business Manager Don Shoemaker said he expected it to speed up towards mid-morning.

Shoemaker said 575 students had cleared the business office as of 8 a.m. today, and approximately 300 more are expected to enroll before registration closes tonight. Classes will begin Thursday.

Out of the 520 students who pre-registered, about 100 have not picked up their registration packets, Shoemaker said. Between 75 and 100 students registered Tuesday night, he said.

Shoemaker said registration is expected to match registration for last spring, when just under 900 students enrolled for classes.

Freshmen were to register from 1 to 4 p.m. Tuesday and continue from 8 a.m. to noon today. Night students were to register between 6 and 9 p.m. Tuesday and today. Sophomores registered between 8 a.m. and noon Tuesday. Any student who had failed to register could do so between 1 and 4 p.m. today. Dormitories opened at 10 a.m. Monday.

Stanton Livestock Show Is Saturday

STANTON (SC) — Everything is set for the annual Martin County Junior Livestock show Saturday at the county barns on East Broadway.

Somewhere between 80 and 90 head of sheep, hogs and steers will be on exhibit and judged. A sale will climax the event at 2 p.m. with Eddie Owens, Big Spring, serving as auctioneer.

The lamb and hog judging will begin at 8:30 a.m. with prospect of 40 lambs and some 40-45 hogs vying for places. Steer judging will be at 1 p.m. with only around five head competing. Martin County exhibitors sold five head of their steers at the Sand Hills show in Odessa last week.

Chuck Eilmore, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee which sponsors the event, is in charge of the show.

Firemen Douse Only One Blaze

Firemen made two brief runs to reported fires Tuesday, extinguishing one and found the other to be only escaping steam atop a local dry cleaning store.

A fire at 511 Benton was reported at 9:34 a.m. Tuesday. The fire was in a gas stove. Firemen turned off the gas and were only at the house about 10 minutes. The house is occupied by Raymond Madewell. There was smoke damage to the house.

A Coronado Hills resident reported smoke at the B&H Cleaners on Wason Road at 9:45 p.m. However firemen reported there was no fire, only steam escaping from the roof of the building.

Mrs. Yarborough Is Recovering

AUSTIN (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough's office here said today that Mrs. Yarborough is recovering satisfactorily from surgery Tuesday at M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute in Houston.

Yarborough told his office the surgery for removal of a tumor was successful and the tumor proved non-malignant. The Democratic senator has been with his wife in Houston since Sunday. He plans to resume his speaking activities Thursday with a luncheon appearance in Dallas and a voter registration speech in San Antonio.

Olle Cole, 69

MIDLAND — Rites were held at 10 a.m. today in the Tennessee and A Church of Christ for Olle Cole, 69, well known Sweetwater and Midland cattleman who died here Monday evening after a long illness. Final services were set for 3 p.m. in the Fourth and Elm Church of Christ in Sweetwater with burial on the Double Hart ranch which he established in the early 1930s.

DEATHS

Rev. Dan Oglesby, 43, Former Area Minister

Funeral for the Rev. Daniel Aubrey Oglesby Jr., 43, former pastor of the Lomax, Prairie View, Bethel and Midway Baptist Churches near here, was held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Caps Baptist Church, south of Abilene where he was pastor.

He was dead on arrival at Hendricks Memorial Hospital at 11:30 p.m. Monday after having a heart attack at his home in the Caps parsonage. He had returned only Saturday from a trip to the Holy Land.

Burial was to be in the Westbrook Cemetery at 4 p.m. under direction of Elliott's Funeral Home.

At the time of his death he was moderator of the Abilene Baptist Association. Before coming to the Caps Baptist Church in 1967, he had served at Downing and South Leon Baptist churches near Comanche, as well as those near Big Spring. He was a veteran of World War II. Born March 11, 1926, in Westbrook, he graduated from Foran High School and from Hardin-Simmons University and Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1962. He was married to the former Opal Massey Nov. 3, 1944, in Big Spring. She survives him as do a son, Wayne Oglesby, Route 1, Roscoe; a daughter, Mrs. Wayne Brown, Bryan; his father, Mr. D. A. Oglesby Sr., Westbrook; a brother and two sisters.

Memorial Services Set For Capt. Frank Dahl

Col. William Johnston flew here from Dover AFB, Del., Tuesday to assist Mrs. Diane F. Dahl in arrangements for last rites for her husband, Capt. Francis W. (Frank) Dahl Jr., 28, who died Jan. 9 in the crash of his F-104 in Korea.

It is possible that there will be memorial rites here and at Dover AFB, the home base of the 95th Fighter Interceptor Squadron, ADC, to which he was attached before being assigned to Korea in November.

Capt. Dahl leaves his wife, the former Diane Baker, and daughter, Stephanie, 3; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Dahl Sr., Newtonville, Mass. He was a graduate of Denison University at Granville, Ohio, and earned his wings at Webb AFB in March, 1966, as a member of Class 66-S. Mrs. Dahl and their daughter have been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Baker, 1707 Yale, while the captain was overseas.

A military memorial service will be held Friday at Osan Air Base, Korea.

He was listed as presumed dead by the Air Force when his plane crashed off the southwest coast of South Korea into the Yellow Sea. Capt. Dahl was alone on a night training mission. Searchers failed to find the missing pilot, but found a piece of the plane. Capt. Dahl was on six month's tour of duty in Korea with the 95th Fighter Squadron from Dover AFB, Del.

He flew more than 100 combat missions in Vietnam in 1967. While in Korea he was project officer of Angella Orphanage, and children from the orphanage will attend the memorial service.

Mrs. Cooper, 85

Services are pending in Ontario, Calif., for Mrs. Etta Cooper, 85, who died in Ontario at 7 a.m. today. She is the mother of A. A. Cooper, Mrs. Mary Sneed and Mrs. Ethel Winslett, all of Big Spring. She is also survived by seven other children including Mrs. W. S. Blair, Belton, and Rex Cooper, Antone.

James Allison, 42

ODESSA — Services were held at 11 a.m. Wednesday in the Hubbard-Kelly Chapel for James L. Allison, 42, who died in the VA Hospital at Big Spring after a long illness. Burial was to be in the Childress Cemetery. Mr. Allison, a resident of Midland, was a veteran of World War II.

Mrs. Irene Mason, Services Today

Funeral was held for Mrs. Irene Owen Mason, Denver, Colo., today at 2 p.m. in College Baptist Church with the Rev. Francis Pruitt, Redoak, officiating, assisted by Dr. R. Byron Ornd, pastor. Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Mrs. Mason was the assistant executive vice president of the Saving League of Colorado and a member of Riverside Baptist Church, Denver.

She is survived by her husband, Vernon Mason, Denver, Colo.; a son, Barry Mason, Dallas; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Owen, Lawton, Okla.; a brother, Max Owen, Concord, Calif.; and two grandchildren. She also has been staying with Mrs. J. W. Phillips and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Mason, 1602 E. 17th.

W. L. Cason Sr., Funeral Today

Funeral for W. L. Cason Sr., 78, was held today at 3:30 p.m. in Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. Leo Gee, First Methodist Church, officiating. Burial was in Trinity Memorial Park.

Survivors include his wife, Ethel, 1410 E. 18th; a son, W. L. Cason Jr.; two daughters, Bernice Cason, and Lorraine Cason, all of Big Spring; four brothers, Clarence Cason, Wellington, Claude Cason, Plainview, Lee Cason, Borger, and Miller Cason, Amarillo; a sister, Mrs. Ora Thomas, Wichita Falls; a grandson, several nieces and nephews. Pallbearers were Earl Plew, Cecil Nabors, Gene Nabors, Clark Hamilton, Glenn L. Brown and Choc Smith.

SILLY — Cecil F. Poole, the nation's lone Negro U.S. attorney, describes as silly and wasteful the Justice Department's grand jury investigation in San Francisco of the National Black Panther Party. Poole leaves his office, held since 1961, on Jan. 31.

One Dead, Nine Hurt By Blast

SABINE PASS, Tex. (AP) — One man is dead, nine injured and Coast Guard and company officials are still trying to discover what caused an explosion and fire which ripped through an off-shore drilling rig Tuesday.

The incident at an Atlantic Richfield operated offshore rig 20 miles southwest of here caused some of the 28 men to leap into the waters.

The dead man, Claude Bailey of Shreveport, La., drowned, a justice of the peace ruled.

The most seriously injured of the nine, Eugene Miller, was reported in fair condition today suffering from eye injuries and exposure. The other eight were listed in satisfactory condition.

C. R. DeLay, president of the Storm Drilling Co., which owns the rig, said the fire apparently started in the engine room or was the result of a well explosion. The Coast Guard said a gas pocket explosion caused the fire, which spread to the engine room.

Witnesses aboard boats in the area said all 28 men on the rig were accounted for. A. E. Pender, one of the workers, said the explosion came without warning.

Hull Joins TEC Office

A former Howard County resident has been hired to take charge of agricultural placement at the local Texas Employment Commission office, according to Office Manager Leon Kinney.

Les Hull, 56, started work Monday. He was born in Big Spring and attended school in Coahoma and Midland. He left Big Spring in 1941.

He has been employed with TEC about eight years, he said. He came here from El Paso.

Hull farmed about 20 years four miles east of Midland on US 80 before joining TEC in Midland.

He is the son of Mrs. Elmer Hull, Stanton. He has three children, William Carroll Hull, Albuquerque, N.M.; Leslie Donnell Hull, Midland; and Mrs. Johnny Murdock, Lubbock.

New Park Sign Is Going Up

Comanche Trail (City) Park will have a new sign at the Wasson Road entrance before the week is out, according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager.

Anderson said city workers will replace the raised metal letters in the arch over the entrance. "We will keep the word park and replace the word city with 'trail,'" he said. "Comanche" will be placed over the arch.

Raymond Neill, superintendent of general maintenance, has taken down the word "city" from the sign, and has been cutting out "Comanche Trail" in the city warehouse. The letters are formed in metal and are welded to a lattice-work metal background.

The park entrance near the site of the "big spring" will have a sign on the old "Pioneer Park" sign, Anderson said. The background will be repainted with reflection-type paint and the letters will be painted over that. No plans have been made for the US 87 entrance.

Kidnaping Bonds In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — U. S. Commissioner Ned Stewart Jr. set bond at $25,000 apiece Tuesday for the five men charged with the kidnaping of a Texarkana girl.

Karen Vickers, 16, was taken from her home Thursday night by three masked men, police said.

She was released unharmed Friday night at a motel. A ransom of $40,000 was not paid.

Stewart set Jan. 21 for a preliminary hearing for the men, who did not enter pleas.

Charged were Jonnie Tasby, 24, of Lafayette County, Ark.; Hugh M. Smith, 26 of Texarkana; Paul Lawrence Bryant, 21, Joe W. Peggett, 28, and Booker T. Burkhalter, 24, all of Dallas.

Food Chain Names New District Head

Art Burke has been named district manager for 7-Eleven Food Stores in West Texas, and Frank E. Stone has been named a supervisor in Odessa, according to Bob Davis, zone manager.

The West Texas district includes 7-Eleven stores in Odessa, Midland, Big Spring and Lubbock.

Burke replaces Charley Wood who has moved to Dallas as district manager in Oak Cliff. Burke has been an employe of 7-Eleven since 1963. He was formerly a supervisor in Odessa.

Managerial Group

The Big Spring Managerial Association will hold its February meeting at noon Thursday at the Tea Room. Noel Reed, director of special services for the Big Spring Independent School District, will be the speaker. J. R. Wallis, vice president, said.

Police To Get Breathalyzer, Foundation To Get Trackage

Big Spring City Commissioners Tuesday approved purchase of a Breathalyzer for the police department, and made arrangements to give some railroad trackage to the Industrial Foundation.

Chief Jay Banks asked permission to buy the Breathalyzer at a cost of $900, which was not included in the current year budget. He pointed out the growing problem and number of cases of DWI, and said the best solution is another county court here.

In lieu of that, he said police are reducing many DWI cases to a city court charge of drunkenness, and sending only the most aggravated cases of DWI on for trial in county court. Even at that, he said the county docket is heavy. The results of the Breathalyzer test can be used as evidence in court, he added, simplifying prosecution in such cases. The commission approved his request.

Commissioners received a request from Webb AFB officials to remove a building and some railroad trackage from the base, both owned by the city. Cost to repair the building for use was described as "exorbitant." At the same time, the Industrial Foundation asked that it be permitted to use the rail trackage for improving the industrial site. The commission approved asking Webb to demolish the structure and make the trackage available to the Industrial Foundation.

Permission was given for the administration to ask bids on Feb. 19 for a tractor to be used at the golf course. This replacement was included in the current budget, and is estimated to cost between $2,300-$2,500.

The contract with Earl O. Dean, new tax appraiser, was approved, with the amendments as stipulated by school district trustees Monday evening. Unpaid vouchers were glanced through and approved. Ernest Lillard, director of public works, was recognized for his work by a commendation resolution on motion of Mayor

Conservation Group Plans To Organize

Persons interested in conservation are invited to take part in a meeting this evening to explore the possibility of organizing a local chapter of the Soil Conservation Society of America.

The nearest chapter is in Abilene, and some score of people in the vicinity have indicated a desire to form a local chapter.

Charles Richenthin, Temple, state president and also the state resource conservationist, will be on hand for the meeting. The organization concerns itself with all aspects of conservation, not just soil, and it assumes a practical view of the problems involved, said Bill Fryrear, director of the United States Experiment Station where the 7:30 o'clock meeting will be held.

Out On Bond

Larry Edward Moore, 21, 1404 Lexington, was released from Howard County jail Tuesday on $500 bond set by Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter. Moore was transferred to the jail Tuesday from city custody on Dean, new tax appraiser, was approved, with the amendments as stipulated by school district pro tem George Zachariah. He is leaving Jan. 16th to take a similar post at Wichita Falls.

Larry Crow, city manager, pointed out that Lillard had "done a fine job. I hate to see him leave." Lillard said "I could not have received better cooperation and support" while serving Big Spring.

Mayor Arnold Marshall also pointed out that Lillard had opened most commission meetings with a prayer, and he thanked him for it.

Marshall also reminded the commission that he had invited school trustees, county commissioners, junior college trustees, to a luncheon meeting Thursday at the Cosden Club, but there is no agenda planned — just conversation.

The mayor also appointed a committee to study the problem of the new torts claims law, and to recommend possible changes in the insurance program. Committee members include Garner McAdams, Walter Stroup, Crow, Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson, and City Attorney Herbert Prouty.

Tech Elevates Bill J. Parsley

LUBBOCK — Bill J. Parsley, vice president for development at Texas Tech, has assumed the new position of vice president for public affairs at the university. President Grover E. Murray said Bicknell K. Beckwith has been appointed director of Development and Information Services.

Parsley has been vice president for development since Jan. 1, 1966, assuming the position upon completion of his second term as state representative from the Lubbock district.

Beckwith, who joined the Tech staff last week, was public information officer for the 3500th Pilot Training Wing at Reese Air Force Base from 1949 to 1952 and assistant director of information for the U.S. Air Force Academy, from 1964 to 1968.

North Ridge 4-H Officers Elected

Officers for 1970 were elected at Monday's night meeting of the North Ridge 4-H Club held at the home of Raymond Phillips. Nancy Phillips was elected president; Sherry Phillips, vice president; Joyce Fickling secretary-treasurer; and Terry Davis, reporter.

A program was presented by the county extension agents to a crowd of about 20 persons. The next meeting is set for Feb. 2 at 7:30 p.m. at the home of Glenn R. Earhart, Old Gail Road.

DEAR ABBY: I could always figure out my own problems, but since we seem to be living in a different world from our children, I have come to the point where I can use some help.

My daughter is 22. She has a boyfriend who is going to college in another town. It's his last year, and he lives close enough so he could drive home on weekends if he wanted to. He used to, but lately he hasn't, so my daughter thinks it is all right for her to drive down to visit him every weekend.

Maybe I'm old-fashioned, but I don't think this is right. She talks about getting married next year, and they aren't even engaged. I don't like to see her running after him. I think she is cheapening herself. I love my daughter, and I trust her, but this difference of opinion is driving us apart. What do you think?

LOVING MOM

DEAR MOM: There are two schools of thought. "Absence makes the heart grow fonder." (Yours.) And, "Out of sight, out of mind." (Hers.) Knowing nothing about the relationship between your daughter and the young man, I hesitate to recommend one school over the other, but I'd be inclined to tell her to let her drive home, and let HIM burn up the highways for a change.

husband, Ross, many lovely pieces of furniture as a wedding gift. Leona died quite suddenly, one year after her marriage and Ross put the furniture in storage and moved into a smaller apartment. That was two years ago.

Now my brother is getting married, and my parents have told me that they intend to ask Ross for the furniture so they can give it to my brother and his fiancée as they feel it should be kept in "our" family. Ross is also considering marriage in the near future.

Abby, I wasn't "asked" for my opinion. My parents simply told me of their intentions. I personally feel that my parents are out of line to ask Ross for the furniture. I believe that Leona would have wanted Ross to keep whatever they shared. I also believe that my brother and his wife would feel uncomfortable accepting the furniture. Should I speak my mind? Or should I keep my mouth shut?

STILL WATER

DEAR STILL WATER: Speak your mind. I agree with you.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Demos Have 11 Filed For May 2 Primary Vote

Democratic Chairman C. V. Simpson said today that a total of 11 persons have made application with him to run for public office in the May 2 primary, with hopes of going on to the general election in November.

Those who have filed and plan to run in the Democratic primary, with the offices they seek, are:

Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace Precinct No. 1, Place 2.

L. E. Young, justice of the peace Precinct No. 2.

Howard Sherrill, county commissioner, Precinct No. 2.

Frances Glenn, county treasurer.

Jeff Grant, county commissioner, Precinct No. 4.

Fern Cox, district clerk.

Roy L. Ford, state representative.

Bob Wheeler, county commissioner, Precinct No. 4.

Lee E. Young, justice of the peace Precinct No. 1.

Mrs. Lulu Adams, justice of the peace Precinct No. 2.

Pauline Petty, county clerk.

"There's a lot of interest being generated in the election," Riordan said, "we believe we'll have a full slate of candidates."

Riordan said that the Democrats are pleased with the candidates they have, and he feels confident the party will come out of the primary with nominees who can go into the general election and win every office.

Republican Chairman Akin

Simpson said today that although no one has made formal application with him to run for any of the offices this year, that there is definite interest among several persons.

The terms of eight county officials expire this year: District Judge R. W. Caton, District Clerk Fern Cox, County Judge Lee Porter, County Treasurer Frances Glenn, Commissioners Bill Tune and Ray Nichols, Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter, and County Clerk Pauline Petty.

The deadline for making application with either party to run in the May primary, a prerequisite for running in the November election, is by 6 p.m. Feb. 2.

PRESIDENT'S FAMILY ASSISTANCE PLAN

'Death By Invisibility' Charged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is complaining that powerful groups which should be lobbying for welfare reform have abandoned the President's sweeping family assistance plan to "death by invisibility" in Congress.

Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, singled out organized labor in particular, saying its "neutral, negative and cautious" stance on the President's welfare overhaul program has imperiled chances for congressional passage.

Finch directed lesser criticism at such organizations as the National Conference of Mayors, the Urban League, the NAACP, the Urban Coalition, the American Jewish Committee and the National Conference of Catholic Charities. He said their support has been "anything but loud and clear."

The secretary's bare-knuckle criticism of both Congress and the urban-interest lobbies in a speech Tuesday before the National Press Club gave voice to a deep anger among liberal Republicans in the administration.

Their complaint: The urban and welfare lobbies that should be supporting a revolutionary plan that amounts to a guaranteed income are not, solely because a Republican and supposedly conservative president proposed it.

"Here we fought like crazy for something the liberal community has been advocating for years and we get nothing but token support," said one HEW legislative strategist. "You can bet they'd be pressuring Congress like crazy for this if a Democrat had come up with it."

Finch contended a virtual conspiracy of silence has enveloped welfare reform despite the administration's elaborate public relations efforts aimed at governors, mayors, newspaper editors and public opinion leaders.

Finch added this pessimistic note: "I would estimate the odds in Congress for any type of welfare reform are very, very bad today."

MERCY MISSION — The Rev. Gordon Smith talks with four of the six Vietnamese children he has arranged to have flown to the U.S. for open-heart surgery. With them is a Vietnamese nurse who will travel with the group to the U.S. The group, shown at Saigon Airport Wednesday, will fly to the Swedish Hospital in Minneapolis, Minn., where the operations are to take place. The children suffer from a congenital heart defect that is fatal without surgery. The two children not shown were lying down due to fatigue from walking.

Rain Lingers In Few Areas

Light rain or drizzle lingered from Central into South Texas this morning while freezing temperatures nipped northern areas of the state.

Moisture amounts during the night ranged from .52 inch at Brownsville and .25 at Corpus Christi down to traces at a number of points.

Most of the rainfall fell in an area from Waco, Austin and San Antonio southward into the Lower Rio Grande Valley and from Houston down the Texas coast to Brownsville.

Skies were at least partly cloudy nearly everywhere in the state.

Forecasts called for the rain to end by evening.

Early morning temperatures ran as low as 25 degrees at Daltart in the Panhandle. The mercury sank to 27 at Amarillo, Denison, Sherman and Lubbock, 28 at Mineral Wells and Texarkana, 30 at Childress and Fort Worth, 31 at Longview and 32 at Dallas.

At the same hour Brownsville recorded 49 degrees.

Top marks Tuesday afternoon ranged from 70 at Brownsville down to 36 at Childress.

Multi-Million Dollar Contract

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A multi-million dollar contract was awarded Tuesday for building two offshore oil platforms 100 miles out in the Gulf of Mexico south of Cameron, La., in water 165 feet deep.

Brown & Root, Inc., was awarded the contract by Texaco, Inc., the operating company for a 50-50 partnership with Pan American Petroleum Corp. The amount of the contract was not disclosed.

Company sources said the offshore platforms will be the farthest-at-sea permanent installation in the world. The project is to be completed in mid-July.

One platform will measure 165 feet by 65 feet and support a drilling rig and crew quarters capable of sustaining the work required in drilling 12 gas wells.

The second platform, with about 70 square feet of deck section, will be used for production facilities.

Enemy Already Has Enough Troops To Start Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. officials said today that the rate of North Vietnamese troop infiltration into South Vietnam is not necessarily an indicator of Hanoi's intentions. They said the enemy already has enough troops available to launch an offensive.

Sources said, however, that a 10-fold increase since last October in truck traffic moving through Eastern Laos and a "logistics buildup" in the A Shau Valley of South Vietnam adjoining Laos indicates the Communist Command is preparing an option "to do something."

One official disclosed that there was no increase in infiltration in the weeks before one enemy offensive last Feb. 23-March 28.

"The infiltration surged after the beginning of the offensive and didn't peak until two or three months later," he said.

"In a sense the enemy doesn't have to tip off what he's doing," said another source. "You don't have to have a rise in infiltration before an offensive. But we think that from it we can tell what is going to happen next."

Infiltration of troops from North Vietnam has long been a major item in the Vietnam policy debates. Some observers stress any sign of increased traffic to support requests for additional American troops and air raids over Laos, while others jump on any sign of a decrease in infiltration as a signal that Hanoi wants to negotiate. Sources estimate there are now 230,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops in South Vietnam, border regions of Cambodia and Laos, and in the demilitarized zone, compared to 290,000 a year ago. They say the enemy could launch a country-wide offensive with these 230,000 troops already available, but they doubt he will attempt anything of the magnitude of the 1968 Tet offensive.

Allied communiques today reported two small clashes in the western and southern Mekong Delta, where a buildup of regular North Vietnamese infantry units has been reported. South Vietnamese forces reported killing 15 enemy soldiers at a cost of four men killed and three wounded.

South Vietnamese headquarters also reported enemy attacks on two Special Forces camps near the Cambodian border. The defenders' casualties were three men killed and 14 wounded. Enemy losses were not known.

Only small skirmishes and a handful of enemy rocket and mortar attacks were reported by the U.S. Command.

About 45 American B52 bombers attacked North Vietnamese base camps and storage areas along a 60-mile stretch of the Cambodian border north of Saigon.

Making their heaviest raids reported in a week, the bombers dropped more than 1,300 tons of explosives. Sources said the attacks were aimed at blunting an anticipated increase in enemy activity in the region. South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu said the hard fighting around the Bu Prang and Duc Lap Special Forces camps near the Cambodian border last fall was a resounding victory for government troops.

Thieu told a victory celebration at Ban Me Thuot, in the central highlands, that the performance of government forces proved South Vietnamese troops "will defeat the Communist aggressors, both guerrillas and regulars, until the Communists realize they cannot win."

U.S. military analysts consider the Bu Prang-Duc Lap fighting was only a qualified victory for the government troops because the estimated 10,000 North Vietnamese in the area never launched a major thrust and because heavy fire support from U.S. artillery and aircraft helped prevent a major enemy attack.

No U.S. ground troops were committed to the battles.

Robbers Kill Teen, Escape

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Fern Rodriguez, 15, shopping at a grocery, was killed Tuesday night when two bandits robbed the store, police reported.

Rodriguez was the only customer in the store at the time.

Police said he was shot in the back of the head after he screamed when he saw one of the bandits strike Hector Moreno, 34, owner of the store.

The two robbers fled the store with about $40, officers said. Young Rodriguez was one of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. Pilar Rodriguez. The family lives three houses from the store.

2,052,037 Texans Sign

AUSTIN (AP)—Reports from 186 counties show 2,052,037 Texans had registered to vote by Jan. 1, says the State Democratic Executive Committee.

The committee said Tuesday the figures from the other 68 counties were not available because those counties had refused to join in the SDEC's "Operation Everybody" registration drive.

The SDEC has a goal of more than 4 million registered voters before the Jan. 31 registration deadline.

Four States To Observe 'King' Day

By The Associated Press
Students at Ohio University bring out their hammers today to build the shacks of a small "Resurrection City" in which they will live through Saturday to mark the birthday of the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Four states and several large cities will observe "Martin Luther King" day Thursday, when the Nobel Peace Laureate would have been 41.

At Ohio University in Athens, Ohio, school officials approved building shacks on the college green as a memorial to King, who planned the "Resurrection City" protest in Washington, D.C., but was assassinated before it took place.

The Kentucky Christian Leadership Conference said Tuesday it would organize a union of domestic workers in King's memory. "Since improving the conditions of the poor was the main thrust of his work, we thought it was only fitting to help organize the union," said the Rev. Leo Lesser Jr.

King was killed April 4, 1968, in Memphis, Tenn., where he had gone to organize support for striking sanitationmen.

His body was removed Monday from Southview Cemetery in Atlanta and buried next to the Ebenezer Baptist Church there, where he was co-pastor with his father.

Martin Luther King Jr. Memorial Park will be built on the site, which will be inaugurated officially Thursday with a ceremony that his widow, Coretta Scott King, will attend.

Gov. Kenneth M. Curtis of Maine, Marvin Mandel of Maryland, Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Dan Evans of Washington designated Thursday "Martin Luther King Day." The mayors of Atlantic City, N.J.; Buffalo, Charleston, W. Va.; Kansas City, Mo.; New York and Rochester, N.Y., made similar proclamations. The city councils in Boston, Cleveland and Los Angeles called on Congress to make Jan. 15 a national holiday.

Public schools will be closed in New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Kansas City and Berkeley, Calif., while Washington, D.C., schools will be open for a half-day.

Okay Money For Airports

AUSTIN (AP) — Airport construction and improvement grants totaling $87,620—including $13,200 for Marshall to restore runway lighting and buy land for a runway extension—have been approved by the Texas Aeronautics Commission.

The commission said Tuesday Brenham and White Bluff (Hill County Water District) received the maximum possible state grants of $27,500 each.

A new airport is planned for White Bluff, and Brenham wants to build another apron, taxiways and a longer runway.

A grant to Dumas of $9,900 is to buy land and remove an electric line.

Rockwall was granted $9,600 to acquire clear zone easement and resurface a runway.

Edinburg cancelled a $27,500 grant. The commission said City Manager Jim DeBerry said the city was unable to proceed with its work and was willing to give up the grant.

Taft released a $26,000 grant because it needed additional time to complete land negotiations. Taft, however, said it hoped to be included in next year's grants.

The commission also told its staff to review applications of Lake Brownwood, Ennis and Zapata and to report at a subsequent meeting.

NASA To Fire 50,000 Men

WASHINGTON (AP) — After enjoying lavish funds in the '60s for its exotic forays into space, NASA is beginning the '70s with a purse drawn so tight it can barely stay afloat. It won the '60s race with the Russians; it is losing out to the national needs of the '70s.

Its already shrunken workforce is being cut by 50,000 people. Other curtailments may signal an indefinite delay in sending men to Mars and a slowdown by at least a year in the next big space move—building a space shuttle and advanced earth stations.

To save money, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration will stretch out its moon landing flights to two a year for the seven flights remaining, skipping 1972 entirely. It will postpone a planned unmanned landing on Mars by at least two years and order no more Saturn 5 rockets beyond the eight being built or nearing completion.

In the manner of a man discussing the terminal illness of a close friend, administrator Thomas O. Paine announced the cuts Tuesday, saying he is "taking actions to redirect portions of our space program to bring NASA's total operations in line with the budget which we will work with in fiscal 1971."

He did not say how much space agency money President Nixon will request when he submits his budget Jan. 27, but it was obvious the figure will be no more than $3.7 billion—the lowest in a decade. The total may even go below $3.5 billion.

With three moon flights in the current fiscal year, NASA's spending will be about $3.6 billion, down from a high of $5.25 billion in 1965 and $5.175 billion in 1966.

"NASA can move forward strongly while still achieving greater economy in 1971," Paine said. "While we will be reducing our total effort, we will not dissipate the strong teams that sent men to explore the moon and automated spacecraft to observe the planets."

Paine pointed out the agency already has announced closing of its Electronics Research Center in Cambridge, Mass. "We estimate," he added, "that the total number of Americans working in NASA programs will decline from 190,000 at the end of fiscal year 1970 to about 140,000 at the end of fiscal year 1971."

At the peak, in 1966, the figure was 420,000.

Quarterbacks Big Problem At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Lou Saban says the winner of the American Football League all-star game Saturday in the Astrodome will be the team "making the fewest mistakes."

Saban of Denver will coach the West and will start John Hadl of the San Diego Chargers at quarterback, using Mike Livingston of the Kansas City Chiefs as backup.

George Wilson of Miami, coach of the East, has indicated he will alternate Mike Taliaferro of Boston and Jack Kemp of Buffalo at quarterback. Speculation is that Taliaferro will get the nod as the starter.

Quarterbacks have been a problem for the contest, the final event for the AFL. Next season it becomes the American Conference of the merged AFL and National Football League.

Originally the West was to be led by Oakland's Daryle Lamonica but a hand injury he suffered in the AFL title game against Kansas City eliminated him.

Kansas City's Len Dawson was substituted for Lamonica but his doctors ruled him out because of a knee injury. Denver's Steve Tensi and Cincinnati's Greg Cook also were scratched from the available list because of injuries.

Joe Namath of the New York Jets was the original quarterback for the East but knee injuries also prevented his playing. Pete Beathard of the Houston Oilers was named to the squad but had an injured thumb operated on last week.

The East also lost the services of New York flanker Don Maynard because of a foot injury and Houston's wide receiver Jerry LeVias because of an eye injury. Jim Beirne of the Oilers replaced LeVias but no replacement has been named for Maynard.

Stanton Raps Foe, 68-66

STANTON — Stanton cleared a big hurdle in its quest for the District 5-AA basketball championship here Tuesday night, edging a highly-respected Reagan County team, 68-66.

The Bisons hit 41 per cent from the floor and 64 per cent at the foul line. In addition, all the Buffs fought well on the boards.

Rusty Hicks had a big night for Phil Stovall's team, scoring 22 points. Rod Miller tossed in 17 points and Joe Barnes 15 for Big Lake.

Stanton is now 1-0 in conference and 9-10 over-all. A cold third quarter on the part of the Bisons made the score as close as it was.

Big Lake is 0-2 within the circuit, having lost earlier to Ozona.

Big Lake won the freshman contest, 43-32, despite a 14-point surge by Tom Davenport of Stanton, and prevailed in the B game, 41-37.

The Buffaloes will be idle Friday, then catch Ozona in a big one here next Thursday.

STANTON (68) — Ricky Mills 2-4; Rusty Hicks 6-10-22; Alan Gregson 2-3-4; Lindsey Jones 7-17; Glenn Roy 1-1-3; Johnny McMeans 4-8-1; Dennis Jones 2-4. Totals 24-20-48.

BIG LAKE (66) — Joe Barnes 4-7-15; James Watson 4-11; Sammy Goodale 3-5-4; Gregory Watson 4-2-10; Rod Miller 6-17; Junior Fought 2-2-4. Totals 23-20-46.

Sands' Kelly Gaskins Named To All-State

Kelly Gaskins has become Sands High School's first all-state football player.

The 160-pound senior guard was named today to the Texas Sports Writers Association first all-star unit and coach James Blake of the Mustangs said the writers picked a jewel.

"He was the heart and soul of our defense," Blake said. "I've never coached a better one."

Only other boy from this immediate area named to the first unit was quarterback Keith McCutchen of Bronco, a 168-pound senior.

West Texans honored on the second team included James Vaughn, Bronco guard; Larry Mitcham, Jim Ned guard; and Randy Barbee, Bronco fullback.

Darrow Cobb, Forsan junior, was selected as an end on the third team, along with Nicky Arrott, Bronco halfback.

WRANGLERS SMASH BUTTONS, 108-67

CISCO — Cisco College smashed the HSU Freshmen, 108-67, in a basketball exhibition here Tuesday. Harry Ward led the winners with 25 points.

The win was the 15th in 17 starts for the Wranglers.

Alcindor Rattles Royals' Defense

By The Associated Press

Low Alcindor of the Milwaukee Bucks had a migraine headache until about two hours before the game and said he felt dizzy for the first half. Then, he made Cincinnati Royals dizzy in the second half.

Alcindor scored only 10 points in the first half, but he came back with 18 after intermission, including seven field goals in nine attempts, and blocked five shots as the Bucks won for the 15th time in 17 games by bombing the Royals 112-82 at Cleveland.

In other NBA action, Philadelphia held Atlanta to eight points in the second period and drubbed the Hawks 136-105. Boston snapped a four-game losing streak by topping Seattle 111-102. Detroit trounced San Francisco 115-102 and Baltimore whipped San Diego 144-126. Denver blasted Pittsburgh 136-122. Washington edged Dallas 122-121 and New Orleans downed New York 126-106 in the American Basketball Association.

Philadelphia broke open its game, which followed the Boston-Seattle contest at Philadelphia, by outscoring the Hawks 24-1 in the first seven minutes of the second quarter to build a 58-23 lead.

Atlanta went without a field goal after Walt Hazzard scored with 2:05 left in the first until Joe Caldwell scored with 4:17 remaining in the second.

Archie Clark scored 29 points for Philadelphia which snapped a three-game losing streak. Butch Beard notched 27 for Atlanta, which lost its fourth straight.

Larry Siegfried helped Boston break its losing string by scoring 22 points. Lucius Allen got 23 for Seattle which lost for the sixth time in seven games and lost Player-Coach Lennie Wilkens early in the first quarter.

Wilkens apparently caught a virus and was sent back to his hotel.

Detroit got 17 points or more from five players and scored the last 11 points of the game, seven by Dave Bing, in beating San Francisco.

Jimmy Walker topped Detroit with 23 points and was followed by Erwin Mueller, with 22, and Bing, with 21. Jeff Mullins with 23 points and was followed by Erwin Mueller, with 22, and Bing, with 21. Jeff Mullins poured in 36 and Joe Ellis 32 for San Francisco.

Baltimore broke open a close game with San Diego by outscoring the Rockets 37-15 in the third period to take a 104-80 lead going into the final quarter.

Fred Carter's short jumper in the waning seconds of the first half gave the Bullets the lead for good 67-65.

Kevin Loughery provided most of the Baltimore's scoring impetus with 35 points and Earl Monroe contributed 27. Elvin Hayes of San Diego garnered game honors with 37 points.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

Larry Mildren, head of the Abilene household that did so well by Cooper football teams, says the family still gets 'hate' mail from people who are distressed that son Jack didn't enroll at some Texas school.

Practically all the letters come unsigned, of course. Larry always did have a fine sense of humor and hasn't yielded any of it, despite his poison pen pals.

He regards such correspondents as part of a lunatic fringe that perhaps should be paying regular visits to some head shrinker.

Son Jack was one of the most publicized football players in the history of Texas high school football and chose to cast his lot with the University of Oklahoma. He was named the outstanding freshman up there and was selected as the Big Eight's outstanding sophomore last fall.

He's majoring in a course that would indicate he wants a career in the oil business. If the pro footballers want him (he says modestly), he may try the game for a while. If he stays healthy he'll no doubt be a top draft choice because he has the skills the pro scouts are forever seeking.

Incidentally, there's a third Mildren boy coming up through the grades. His name is Glenn and he's only 12 but already a great future is being forecast for him.

Larry says Glenn may let someone else do the passing (and the quarterbacking) and he'll do the catching. The boy has a great pair of hands.

Does Glenn like the game as much as his two older brothers. Larry says he traveled 5,400 miles this past fall just to watch teams perform. He saw Jack and OU play four times in Norman and accompanied Cooper on practically all its trips.

Curt Flood, the major league fly chaser, is getting some poor advice in his decision to fight baseball's reserve clause. That comes from listening to people not in the game who see a chance to make a fast buck and get their names in the papers.

Should the game's baseball law concerning the reserve clause be ruled contrary to the anti-trust laws, the players would be paid in less than a season, with hats in hand, begging that the clause be restored.

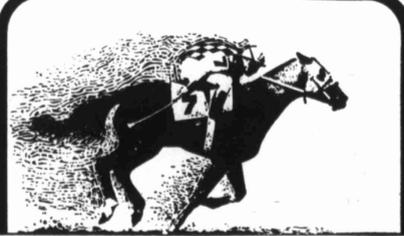

Certainly no owner is going to invest thousands of dollars in a player who may switch teams after each season.

Major league players in general are the most prosperous and the most pampered athletes in any sport and perhaps in any business.

What fan wouldn't jump at the chance to become a member of that 'hardship society,' where a minimum wage is guaranteed, where road expenses are always much more than enough to pay the freight, where champions always find the pot at the end of the rainbow and where a member can guarantee himself a tremendous pension after only four years of big league service?

Perhaps it is time it dawned on the athletes themselves that they're not being exploited.

The coach of one of the players named to the Class AAAA all-state football team earlier this month had to give it a lot of thought before he would even project the boy's name for the all-district team.

Researcher Says 'Pill' Can Result In Cancer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A birth control researcher told Senate investigators today there is strong reason to believe The Pill can cause cancer.

"Breast cancers have been induced in at least five different species of animals by treatment with the same synthetic hormones being marketed in the oral contraceptives," said Dr. Hugh Davis of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.

Davis told the monopoly subcommittee of the Senate Small Business Committee in prepared testimony that every agent which has been shown to cause cancer in humans also has been shown to cause it in animals.

"There is no reason to presume," he said, "that the single exception . . . will turn out to be oral contraceptives."

There is even less reason for such a presumption, Davis added, since the same compounds have been shown to produce breast cancer in males.

Calling this a "very rare finding under other circumstances," Davis asked the subcommittee: "Shall we have millions of women on the pill for 20 years and then discover it was all a great mistake?"

He said no woman should take the pill continuously for more than two years.

Davis was one of four researchers called to testify as the subcommittee, chaired by Democrat Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, opened five days of hearings into the safety of the pill, now used by 8.5 million women in this country and an estimated 10 million abroad.

The hearings, two days this week and three next, are the first by Congress on the safety of the pill, which has been linked to everything from headaches to fatal blood clotting.

Most of the 18 witnesses scheduled have been critical of the pill for one reason or another.

Scheduled with Davis today were three researchers who cited possible genetic damage.

One reported a study showing a form of synthetic female hormone used in one type of pill had caused cleft palate in mice.

Main purpose of the hearings, as outlined by Nelson, is to determine whether women are being adequately warned of the pill's known and suspected side effects.

Davis said little attempt has been made to either inform or protect women.

Davis also said intrauterine devices have been perfected so that they are now 99 per cent effective in preventing pregnancy in the 94 per cent of women who can use them.

BACK IN THE POLITICAL THEATRE — Murray Chotiner, the old line political wheeler-dealer, said a few weeks ago he was through with the political whirl. Now he's right back in the thick of it as President Nixon's new special counsel. The 60-year-old Chotiner was named Tuesday to the reportedly $36,000 post.

'Mum' Divorcee Indicted By Federal Grand Jury

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Quara Robertson, a central figure in a sweeping federal probe that involves Oklahoma state Sen. Gene Stipe, was indicted by a federal grand jury Tuesday on a charge of obstructing justice.

No trial date was set. The charge carries a maximum penalty on conviction of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

The 42-year-old blonde divorcee had been in jail since last Dec. 5 for refusing to testify in a U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission investigatory hearing.

Although she was promised immunity if she would testify, she declined to answer several questions at that time, including this one: "How much money was paid to Gene Stipe to fix this investigation?"

Stipe, of McAlester, has charged the federal government with waging "a spiteful vendetta" against him since he was acquitted of a federal income tax evasion charge in July of 1968.

The investigation centers around alleged illegal sale of stock in United Australian Oil, Inc. Mrs. Robertson is an associate of Hardy Buford Todd, the firm's president. Todd is serving two six month prison terms for criminal contempt of court for selling the stock in violation of a federal court injunction.

Mrs. Robertson originally was from Oklahoma City, but she moved to El Paso last year after Todd began serving his term at the La Tuna Federal prison near the West Texas city.

Stipe says his only connection with the case is that he is one of Todd's attorneys.

An SEC attorney, Cecil Mathis of Fort Worth, Tex., filed an affidavit in U.S. District Court here last month alleging three informants had told the SEC that Stipe "received money which he was to use as a bribe" to fix the UAO case.

Stipe has said the affidavit is "utterly false — there is just no truth in it."

Alleged My Lai Massacre Suspects Hiked By Nine

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of persons under Army investigation or charged in the alleged My Lai massacre of Vietnamese civilians has grown to 35—nine more than reported by Army Secretary Stanley Resor to Congress last Nov. 26.

The increase results from evidence turned up by Army prosecutors during questioning of men who witnessed, or knew about, the events at the Vietnamese hamlet March 16, 1968.

The investigation is far from finished. Officials consider it possible the list could grow even more, although some persons now under investigation could be cleared.

Four soldiers have been charged so far and two of them have been ordered to face court-martial trials. Decisions on whether to try the other two may be weeks off.

In addition, there are 13 soldiers and 18 former soldiers whose actions at the time of the My Lai episode are under scrutiny.

The Army has refused to identify any of those under investigation except the four men formally charged.

Meanwhile, the Army has ordered consolidation of the investigation and the processing of allegations under a single senior officer, Lt. Gen. Albert O. Connor, commanding general of the 3rd Army at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Ga.

The only cases to remain out of Connor's control will be those of 1st Lt. William L. Calley at Fort Benning, Ga., and Staff Sgt. David Mitchell at Fort Hood, Tex.

They are the only ones so far ordered before courts-martial and the Army said their cases have progressed to a "point where transfer would be impractical."

Calley has been charged with premeditated murder, Mitchell with assault with intent to commit murder.

The cases of the two other soldiers already charged will be shifted to Fort McPherson.

The consolidation of all but the Calley and Mitchell cases was brought about, the Army said, by "the scope of the investigation and the number and scattered locations of possible witnesses both military and civilian."

As a result, the Army said, a number of men who are either under investigation or potential witnesses will be reassigned to Fort McPherson or nearby Army installations.

The Army did not estimate the number of persons who will be concentrated at Fort McPherson.

More than 140 witnesses have been questioned both here and in Vietnam by a special Army board trying to determine why a field investigation of massacre reports right after the alleged incident led to no legal or disciplinary action.
