Lieutenant Governor Hit By Divorce Suit

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Ben Barnes, wife of Texas' lieutenant governor, filed a divorce suit late Wednesday, claiming the marriage that began when they were teenagers has become "insupportable because of discord."

THAT'S ALL
The lieutenant governor issued a short statement today, saying the divorce suit was "uncontested," that Mrs. Barnes would receive custody of their two children, and that all questions of support and property rights "were agreed upon in advance."

"The ground for the suit is 'incompatibility,'" Barnes said. He added that "no further statement on this matter will be forthcoming."

The Barnes' 13th wedding anniversary is Feb. 22.

'NO FAULT'
Mrs. Barnes' lawyer Hime Cofer, delivered the petition for a "no-fault" divorce, permissible under the new Texas family code that took effect Jan. 1, to Dist. Clerk Ben Wilhelm at 4:45 p.m. Wednesday. The Barnes are from DeLeon.

The petition will be considered by Dist. Judge Truman Roberts. Wilhelm said the law requires a 60-day waiting period before the judge can act.

A Barnes aide said Mrs. Barnes and their two children had moved out of the recently redecorated lieutenant governor's apartment in the Capitol. Mrs. Barnes requested custody of the children, Greg, 12, and Amy, nearly 8.

There had been unverified reports for more than a week that Mrs. Barnes was considering a divorce. The lieutenant governor, 31, had no comment when asked about it last Saturday.

NEW TEXAS CODE
Mrs. Barnes' petition merely follows the format laid out by the new family code and makes no specific allegations concerning the reason for the split.

"Said marriage became insupportable because of discord that destroys the legitimate ends of the marriage relationship, and at the time of filing this petition prevents any reasonable expectation of reconciliation," the petition says.

In addition to requesting custody of the children, Mrs. Barnes asked for "a just division" of the Barnes' community property.

Roberts has discretion under the new family code to order the Barnes' to see a marriage counselor, who then would report back on the outlook for a reconciliation.

Comanche County is where Ben and Martha Barnes grew up. They own property and vote in the county, making it a legal residence for the purpose of the divorce action.

MOST PROMISING
Barnes has been considered one of the Texas Democratic party's most promising young politicians. He was 3½ months shy of his 27th birthday when he was elected Texas House speaker in 1965. He was elected lieutenant governor in 1968. Barnes recently announced for re-election, ending rumors he might run for governor or the Senate this year.

Barnes married Martha, his high school sweetheart, Feb. 22, 1957, about a year and a half after graduating from DeLeon High School, where he was a football player. He gave her credit for helping get him elected to the legislature in 1960.

"My wife and I knocked on the doors of every home in the district and asked people for their vote," he later said of his race to represent the Brownwood area district.

Mrs. Barnes helped him work his way through the University of Texas, holding a job as a stenographer while he sold vacuum cleaners door to door.

RUSSIA GOES DOWN FOR THE FULL COUNT — Census taker Patimat Alipshayeva, right, interviews two people in the Soviet republic of Dagestan as the first full-scale canvass of Soviet population in 11 years began today. More than 700,000 persons with pencils and questionnaires in hand will be knocking on doors for the next eight days.

State Oil Allowable Unchanged

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission held the statewide oil allowable steady at 68 percent of potential for February today, the highest production factor for that month since 1953.

The February allowable will permit maximum production of 3,732,913 barrels a day, the same as this month, but actual production next month is estimated at 3,250,000 barrels daily.

Major buyers of Texas crude oil asked the commission for 3,226,192 barrels a day in February. Of the 14 major purchasers who made oral presentations at the statewide allowable hearing, none asked for more oil next month than in January. Ten sought the same amount and four requested fewer barrels of oil next month than this month.

Atlantic Richfield noted, however, that its request for 25,000 fewer barrels in February was the result of a merger and did not indicate a desire for a lower allowable. A spokesman said Sohio Petroleum Co. nominated for crude oil previously requested by Atlantic Richfield in four of the state's 12 districts.

Commissioner Chairman Ben Ramsey said Texas' crude oil stocks totaled 95.6 million barrels as of Jan. 9, which is 500,000 fewer than a week ago, 2.9 million fewer than a month ago and 5.8 million less than a year ago.

Ramsey said the commission decided to continue the 68 percent allowable because of the declining stocks and an estimate by the Bureau of Mines that the February demand for Texas crude next month will be 3,420,000 barrels a day.

J. T. Moore of Shell Oil Co. told the commission his company had been able to sell surplus crude oil which it had had in stock for two months.

Nominations by major purchasers, in barrels per day, for February:

- Atlantic Richfield 200,000.
- Cities Service 84,100.
- Continental 32,000.
- Diamond Shamrock 33,000.
- Gulf 229,800.
- Humble 613,000.
- Mobile 270,000.
- Pan American 435,000.
- Phillips 124,000.
- Shell 146,500.
- Standard of Texas 54,500.
- Sun 143,000.
- Texaco 180,000.
- Union of California 66,050.

Nigeria Has Refused Aid From White Governments

LAGOS (AP) — The Nigerian government has said no to aid from four white governments and all private agencies that helped Biafra. But it said it is consulting "a number of friendly governments for immediate requests for relief."

The ban affects the governments of France, Portugal, Rhodesia, and South Africa as well as such groups as Caritas, the Roman Catholic relief agency, Joint Church Aid, grouping a number of agencies; Canare, relief of Canada and the French and Nordic Red Cross.

The government said nothing about the four black African governments that recognized Biafra as an independent state: Zambia, Tanzania, Gabon and the Ivory Coast.

The government also put the persona non grata tag on "all foreign relief workers who operated illegally in the secessionist enclave" and said they would not be permitted in Nigeria. Presumably this means expulsion for those still in what was Biafra.

Lord Hunt, who headed the British team that conquered Mt. Everest, arrived in Lagos today with a committee to work out plans for British relief. His government has allocated $12 million for aid and 10 tons of relief supplies are waiting in London for airlift to Nigeria. The Nigerians first refused to allow them to be brought in on military planes, then submitted a request for extra medical supplies to be included in a civilian airlift.

The U.S. State Department announced that Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon, the Nigerian chief of state, told a U.S. envoy that the Nigerian government will not hesitate to call on the United States for assistance. The department said the Nigerian leader expressed warm appreciation to the U.S. diplomat, Assistant Secretary of State David Newsom, for the aid offered by the United States.

"There is no problem of delay or refusal to accept relief," said one official in Washington. "It is just a question of working out practical detail."

The official said enough food is on hand in what was Biafra to feed the population for more than a month. The problem now, he said, is to find out how many people need relief and how to reach them.

Football Player At TCU Slain In Front Of Gym

FORT WORTH (AP) — Barry Lynn Leatherman, 18, a former all-district high school football player and a freshman guard at Texas Christian University, was shot and killed in front of Fort Worth's public schools gymnasium Wednesday night.

David McGinnis, 18, of Snyder, Leatherman's roommate at TCU, told police that three youths attacked them as they walked from the gym after a game between Fort Worth Carter-Riverside and Como high schools.

BARRY LEATHERMAN

Witnesses said they saw Leatherman fall and two youths pull a third away from him. Those three got into a car and sped away, but no one heard a shot fired, police said.

T. R. Harris, Tarrant County medical investigator, said Leatherman was shot in the center of the chest at close range.

Leatherman was an all-district lineman for Carter-Riverside's football team in 1967-68.

He was a starting guard for TCU's freshman team the past season. A TCU spokesman said he was expected to be a varsity starter next season.

McGinnis said neither he nor Leatherman had seen the attackers outside the gymnasium. He said he was not sure exactly what happened.

"I didn't really have time to see," he told investigators. "I just saw they were after Barry and I went to help him."

McGinnis said one of the attackers hit him with a stone. He was treated for a slight cut on the chin.

Carter Riverside Principal Lawrence Dixon, one of those standing near the gym door, said, "It couldn't have been 10 seconds by my watch until we were breaking up the fight."

South Texas Hunt Ends In Shootout

CONROE, Tex. (AP) — Police killed a Kansas City man today in a shootout climaxing a South Texas manhunt for the strangler of a tavern owner whose burned body, hands tied, was found Monday.

It was the second exchange of gunfire in two days between police and the hunted man, identified by police as Jesse Faulk, 31. Faulk's 14-year-old niece was captured and taken to a hospital with a bullet wound in her foot.

Today's gunfight was at a house on U.S. 75 in Conroe, which was encircled by police while an elderly woman inside was held as hostage, police said. She was rescued unharmed.

Police Chief Larry Evans said Faulk and his niece were on foot since Wednesday night when they abandoned a car taken at gunpoint Wednesday.

Evans said the two were wanted for questioning in the Monday night slaying of Colfax Bradford, 70, a tavern owner whose badly burned body was found in his charred tavern.

Bradford's hands had been tied with strips from a bedsheet, the police chief said, and an autopsy showed he was strangled about two hours before the fire.

Evans related these details: The man and woman were first seen here late Monday when they jumped off a passing freight train. They spent Tuesday night at the home of Quincy Kidd, an elderly man who lives near the downtown area, and Kidd was threatened with a pistol by the man.

The pair apparently became frightened when Kidd began screaming Wednesday. They ran to a tavern and asked the owner to drive them to the police station.

Tommy Nixon, the tavern owner, told police they pulled a pistol on him and he jumped from the car.

The couple began firing and Montgomery County Sheriff Gene Reaves and Conroe police Sgt. Drew Finley, who were parked nearby, exchanged shots with them. The man or the woman may have been wounded.

Abandoning the car, the two fled on foot into the woods.

About 75 officers, aided by bloodhounds and a helicopter, were involved in the search.

Nigeria Seeks Iron Curtain

GENEVA (AP) — Gen. C. Odumegwu Ojukwu charged today Nigeria seeks to draw an iron curtain around conquered Biafra in order to carry out genocide. He appealed for a neutral force to prevent it.

"The sole motive behind Nigeria's determination to draw an iron curtain over Biafra and exclude international observers, relief agencies, journalists . . . is to make sure that the atrocities they will certainly carry out in Biafra is unseen and unreported in the world press," the former Biafran leader said from a secret hideout.

"I repeat the aims of Nigeria are genocidal — the test that the contrary is the case would be her willingness to admit humanitarian agencies whom Gowon has now openly declared he will exclude."

Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon is Nigeria's leader. Ojukwu also appealed for the world to help Biafrans whom he described as starving and exhausted after an unsuccessful fight for independence from Nigeria.

Atomic Plant Sabotage?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Destruction of equipment at a major Atomic Energy Commission plant in Colorado has raised suspicions of sabotage and prompted an intensive, round-the-clock investigation by federal agents, according to government informants.

The AEC confirmed there recently had been "a few instances of damage to government property" and equipment at the Rocky Flats Colo., facility, but refused to characterize the incidents as sabotage "because we are still investigating."

The plant, the only one in the country which processes plutonium for nuclear warheads, was crippled by a $45 million fire last May 11.

'Race With Animals' Battlefield Deaths Spiral

WASHINGTON (AP) — A noted birth control specialist said today women are in a grim race with laboratory animals to determine the safety of the pill.

"The ultimate outcome of this race between dogs, monkeys and women can be anticipated by informed observers only with great apprehension and concern," Dr. Roy Hertz told the Senate monopoly subcommittee.

Hertz is chairman of the cancer task force of a Federal Food and Drug Administration advisory panel that twice has reported on the growing number of suspected hazards in taking oral contraceptives.

Testifying on the second day of hearings into the safety of oral contraceptives, Hertz said it might take years to confirm suspected links between the pill and cancer of the breast and uterus.

Allied spokesmen attributed the rise in casualties — after a low period of fighting during the New Year's cease-fires — to a significant increase in enemy activity, particularly south of Da Nang. The 98 battlefield deaths were 33 more than the 65 reported in the Dec. 28-Jan. 3 period.

Insured Rocket Fired

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — A commercial communications satellite zipped through a great oval orbit today, carrying a rocket motor which must fire successfully Friday to avoid a multi-million-dollar insurance payoff by an international group of underwriters.

The Intelsat 3 payload rode into space Wednesday night aboard a Delta booster.

The first three stages of the Delta fired flawlessly and propelled the 642-pound satellite into a preliminary orbit ranging from about 165 to 22,700 miles above the earth.

But the insurance companies won't be able to breathe easy until the fourth stage fires for a 27-second burst about 9 a.m. EST Friday.

Thundershowers Rumble Around South Florida

By The Associated Press

Rain or snow fell on much of the far west from Arizona to Montana today and thundershowers soaked southern Florida with heavy downpours.

Bitterly cold air spilling across the eastern Great lakes dropped temperatures far below zero in parts of upstate New York and New England.

Temperatures remained generally mild in the Far West, and snow was confined to high mountain area in the widening pattern of damp weather. Snow also fell across the upper Mississippi Valley and in scattered areas southeastward into the Appalachians.

Thundershowers rumbling over south Florida dumped more than two inches of rain onto Key West during the night and upped the 24-hour rainfall to almost four inches.

The storms triggered what was termed a possible tornado near Palm Beach Wednesday evening, but there were no reports of damage or injuries.

The intense cold in the north-east was the hard core of a mass of arctic air that ranged westward across the northern Midwest and into the northern Rockies.

In the West, the cold front divided sharply contrasting temperatures. The mercury rose to 49 at Helena, Mont., Wednesday afternoon while 140 miles to the north it stood at 11 below zero at Cut Bank. The Weather Bureau offered small comfort for those still shivering from last week's record cold snap in the midcontinent, the South and East. It's 30-day outlook said temperatures would continue below normal for the entire eastern half of the nation.

Temperatures before dawn ranged from 26 below zero at Watertown, N.Y., to 70 at Miami and Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Ex-Chief In Trouble

'Texas Will Have To Get In Line'

San Marcos, Tex. (AP) — Mayor Richard Bean said he had accepted Dial's resignation, effective Feb. 15. No reason was given.

Bean said Dial now has been suspended and Lt. Joe Hawkins has been named acting police chief.

Bean himself submitted his resignation last week during a dispute with city councilmen over who has authority to fire city employees.

The city council urged Bean to reconsider, and he said he would do so.

Sheriff Kinser said Dial left San Marcos last Saturday, one day before his arrest in Beverly Hills.

Beverly Hills Police Chief Joseph P. Kimble told newsmen Dial may have been involved in other crimes in the Beverly Hills area.

"Texas will have to get in line if they want this one," Kimble said. "When this case is over we will have solved many burglaries in this area."

Hays County Sheriff Bobby Kinser of San Marcos said his office is investigating several other burglary cases in this area.

Dial, 35, who recently resigned as police chief, and Carmen Falzone, 27, of Azusa, Calif., were arrested Sunday at a home in the exclusive Trousdale Estates area of Beverly Hills, officers reported.

Police said both men were armed but refused to disclose other details except to say officers were alerted by an alarm system in the home.

Dial was arraigned at Beverly Hills Tuesday. A preliminary hearing will be held Jan. 20. Bond for both men was set at $6,000.

A local peace justice said charges in the Christmas Eve burglary of a San Marcos drug store were filed against Dial, police chief here since 1962 and an officer on the force before that.

Car Insurance Hike Predicted

AUSTIN (AP) — An insurance companies' spokesman says police and judges should take a "harder line" toward traffic laws.

Darby Hammond, executive director of the Southwestern Insurance Information Service, predicted another auto insurance rate increase unless accidents are reduced by 140,000.

Hammond wrote Gov. Preston Smith Wednesday saying the governor's traffic safety program was not extensive enough.

The 140,000-accident reduction is needed before the State Insurance Board can even begin to think about holding the line on insurance rates, he asserted.

It is quite unlikely the governor's traffic safety program, as it now stands, would accomplish such a reduction," Hammond said.

Hammond proposed a driver information program on traffic regulations and driving skills; evaluation of Texas traffic courts; curtailment of judicial "stay orders" that allow certain offenders to continue driving; impoundment of autos of persons arrested for drunken driving; expanded news coverage of traffic safety problems; and inclusion of a safety brochure with each set of new license plates.

Dr. Hayakawa Will Not Run

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, the San Francisco State College president who gained national attention with a hard-line policy on student demands, said today he has decided not to run for public office this year.

"I am going to continue with my task of defending and extending academic freedom and protecting the intellectual integrity of academic life in the one place where I am beginning to learn how complex the problems are and how to go about solving them," he said.

The campus scene of arson, window breaking and mass marches during the strike, has been generally peaceful this year.

Hayakawa had been mentioned for months as a possible Democratic candidate for the Senate.

Price Fixing Costs $87,600

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin gave the state treasury $161,000 Wednesday representing anti-trust penalties he has collected.

Martin said $87,600 came from manufacturers and distributors of brass mill tube and pipe whom Martin sued in 1968, charging a price fixing conspiracy. Fourteen defendants were named in the case.

The $64,000 balance came from one of 18 publishers and 20 distributors of children's books sued in 1968 on charges of non-competitive bidding.

Nixon Proposals Would End Many Student Deferments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only medical students will be eligible for college deferments under the Nixon administration proposals to eliminate draft inequities.

After a specified date, no other student entering college can claim a draft deferment on the basis of education.

However, a sophomore, junior, or senior with an existing draft deferment when the new rules go into effect will be permitted to complete his undergraduate schooling.

This is the thinking of Pentagon officials who have been shaping the Administration's proposals to do away with draft deferments in the student, occupational, and parental categories.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said last weekend President Nixon "wants to move in the direction so that all young people are treated equally and fairly."

Proposed measures to carry out this objective will be reviewed by the National Security Council and laid before the Senate Armed Services Committee next month with indications the administration will put them into effect as soon as possible.

Just when this will be still uncertain.

Officials said young men having occupational and parental deferments at the time the more stringent rules take hold will be allowed to retain them.

But, as in the case of student deferments, no new ones will be granted.

Unlike the student deferment, which officials say will permit exceptions for pre-medical stu-

Railroads Plan 23 Major Texas Projects

DALLAS — The Missouri Pacific Railroad and the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. have budgeted $8,600,000 in 1970 for 23 separate physical improvement projects in Texas, an increase of $2.2-million over 1969.

This is in addition to the more than $23 million that MoPac-T&P has budgeted thus far this year on new freight cars and locomotives and does not include other improvements of a systemwide nature.

The largest project involves the third and final phase of work to expand the T&P Lancaster Yard at Fort Worth, and to convert it to an automated, electronic freight classification yard. This project, which will provide substantial savings in time for trains moving through the Dallas-Fort Worth area, is expected to be finished this year. Work on the $6-million project began in 1968.

At New Braunfels a new yard will be built seven miles south of the city. An industrial park will be developed south of Austin, by Missouri Improvement Co., a MoPac subsidiary.

There appears to be no prospect of any further deferments for job or family reasons, except where hardship might be involved.

Job deferments have been heavy in the field of teaching, police, and fire department work.

Authorities expect community needs can be filled adequately by former servicemen and no special deferments will be required in these areas.

The same reasoning applies to hard skill jobs in the mechanical and technical fields, it was said.

As the United States scales down its commitment in Vietnam and simultaneously reduces the over-all size of the armed forces, fewer and fewer young men will be required for the draft. The Pentagon expects the draft will take about 225,000 young men this year, a drop of 65,000 from 1969. The level should go down even further in 1971.

Some Pentagon experts believe the virtual elimination of student deferments may indirectly help the flagging ROTC program with some students possibly enrolling as a hedge against the draft interrupting their schooling.

Authorities say provisions may be made for allowing young freshmen who enter college before they are 19 to finish that first college year. However, they would then have to report for military service.

Laird has stressed the new system will keep draft deferments in effect for medical and hardship reasons.

A Devotion For Today

"I say unto you. That except your righteousness shall exceed the righteousness of the scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdom of heaven." (Matthew 5:20)

PRAYER: Spirit of God, remove the deadness from my religion. Give me a hunger and thirst for the reality Christ offers. I now hunger, I now knock, I wait, I take by faith, I receive now. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Weight Of Foreign Affairs

Never before in its history has the United States been simultaneously engaged in such a vital, interrelated, global array of diplomatic negotiations.

This massive, intricate diplomatic effort has not perhaps been popularly realized because attention to one, the most anxious, aspect — disengagement from the Vietnam war — has so far shadowed the big picture now tentatively taking shape. The over-all effort is nothing less than to restructure the world power balance in the waning of the two superpowers' cold war that dominated international affairs for a quarter century.

There are several main arenas of this diplomatic struggle, but all overlap, with each greatly affecting the other. The painful extrication from Vietnam is coupled, for example, with a revived alliance with Japan and declaration of a new U.S. Far Eastern policy designed to avoid another American military intervention on the Asian mainland.

In turn, the attempt to develop a new U.S. Asian policy is closely coupled with Washington's bid to resume the Warsaw talks with Peking. The purpose of these talks is to try to lessen tensions between the United States and Communist China, preliminary to trying to find a formula for peaceful coexistence in the Pacific arena.

That has a bearing on the preliminary negotiations between the United States and the Soviet Union to limit and control strategic nuclear weapons. With Russia and China so adamantly hostile toward one another, the United States must combat the suspicions of both that it might take sides in their bitter dispute.

Meanwhile, the United States and its NATO allies are pursuing a better economic cooperation alignment in Western Europe, while also probing the possibilities for a stable detente between the NATO and Warsaw pact divisions of that continent. But disturbing the whole big picture is the threat of another Middle East war, which the Big Four powers are discussing means to prevent. Finally, with all this going on, the United States also must revise and improve its relations with aspiring and explosive Latin America. It is thus understandable why higher priority to foreign, than to domestic, is sometimes necessary.

National Library Needs Attention

The Library of Congress was re-started after the British burned the Capitol in 1814, with purchase of Thomas Jefferson's 6,400-volume personal collection. Today its collection of some 50 million volumes is the biggest library in the world and by far the greatest single repository of knowledge on American civilization.

Initially intended as an aid to Congress in legislating, the Library of Congress now serves all branches and levels of American government, other public libraries, colleges and universities, private enterprise and institutions, and the general public. But the "knowledge explosion" of the past two decades is causing it to burst at its old Italian Renaissance seams.

This priceless treasure, with the myriad valuable services it renders, is in a disgraceful condition that is rapidly getting worse. Books are piled on the floors in front of stacks. Large parts of its immense collection are stored in warehouses and office buildings scattered over the country. The main building is a maze of temporary partitions for offices for 4,300 staff members.

For a dozen years Congress has been dallying over a request for a much-needed, space-doubling annex to be called the James Madison Memorial Library. The estimated cost of this facility would be $90 million, a relatively modest sum in a federal budget now running around $200 billion annually, but so far Congress has not even appropriated planning funds for the project. Surely this national library should command a higher priority than that.

Inflation Controls Have Failed

WASHINGTON — Against the background of the Nixon administration's dismal failure in its first year's efforts to curb inflation, arguments are mounting within the official family to try some "moderate" form of wage and price controls.

No two persons in authority agree on what is meant by the term "moderate." A guess would be that it would provide for ceilings on wage and price increases, instead of a flat prohibition on further boosts as of the effective date of the controls. But

Billy Graham

I have never heard you comment upon the government doles to the minority groups. Do you think this is the right way to wage an effective "war on poverty?" Millions of Americans do not think so. I would like your opinion.

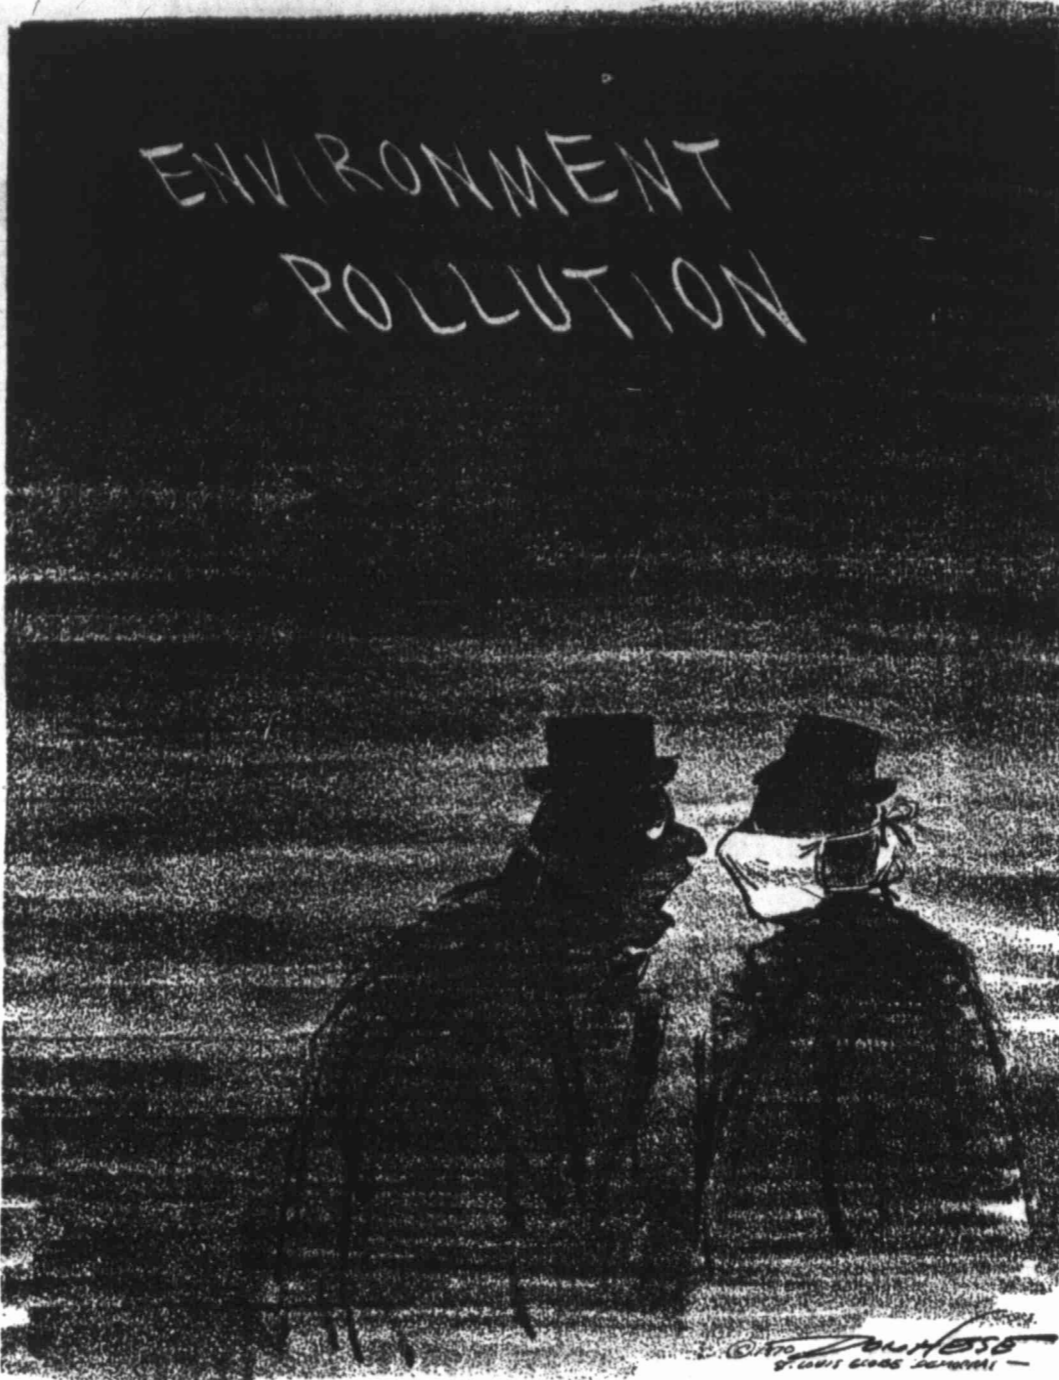

W.E.M. As former Vice President Hubert Humphrey said, "There are more poor white people than black — for the simple reason that there are more of them to begin with."

Certainly no thoughtful American would be against helping those who cannot help themselves. The Bible teaches our responsibility to the poor in scores of places. But most Americans, according to the polls, are opposed to funneling government funds to those who are physically able to work, but refuse to do so. The Bible teaches they are to work . . . it warns against laziness. The "unemployment checks" in many cases amount to a form of petit larceny. Let me quote from a concerned black woman who shares the view of millions of Americans on this subject. Her words reflect the sensible view of many thoughtful blacks in the country:

"What is wrong with you in Washington? You keep giving the poor more free handouts, when what they need is a job so they can learn to work and help themselves. If you give them a check make them do something in return . . . Do you people not know that any human who gets something for nothing loses all pride and initiative? . . . Don't tell me you can't find work for them to do. If I cannot get what I want, I scrub floors, and have done so. My mother taught me that nothing is impossible if I work hard and am honest. We are sick and tired of supporting those who are too lazy to stand on their own two feet."

'EVEN FLYING SAUCERS CAN'T FIND US'

Hal Boyle

Not Impressed With 1970's

NEW YORK (AP) — I don't know what your opinion of the 1970's is, but so far I'm not impressed.

Everybody got so worn out by the 1960's, that perhaps we all expected too much of the decade to follow it, which was heralded by its cheerleaders in glowing terms ordinarily employed by real estate developers trying to palm off a swamp.

Yes, sir, the 1970's got a tremendous advance built up. Didn't you get the hopeful feeling that it would signal the dawn of a better life and a better world?

Well, anyway I did. I thought 1970 would arrive in a blaze of bugles and the waving of many banners, the dramatic striking off of age-old human chains and fetters, the lifting up of human hearts and hopes, flight after flight of bluebirds, and perhaps even the lowering of a state sales tax here and there.

I don't know how it is in your area, but after the first 15 days of the new decade, I can't see that it has made any striking major improvements on the street where I live. In fact, if it were not for the date on the calendar, it would be easy to believe that we were still back in the glum 1960's.

Life remains pretty much the mixture as before. For example: No flights of bluebirds have flown over my house. I did see a droop-shouldered, shivering robin, his bosom a withered orange. But this early bird was getting no worms; they were asleep deep in earthen beds.

Weren't we to get June in January during the 1970's? The expectation was a fraud. The view from my window shows the same old vista of ice, snow and pavement slush. The trees stand budless and bare.

War still wanders the world with bloody sword and flaming torch. The dove of peace remains a flying fugitive, and the olive branch in its beak droops ever more limply.

Wasn't inflation to be curbed? Where I buy my groceries the price of eggs is still going up. So, I hear, is the price of practically everything else — from free love to college educations.

Way back at the start of the 1960's weren't scientists predicting an early end to the problems of cancer and the common cold? But here it is 1970 already and millions of people are still dying of the one and sniffing from the other.

Maybe I'm being too critical of the 1970's. What I'm going to do is to give them another couple of weeks to prove themselves. Then, if things don't get a darned sight better, I'm going to start looking forward to the 1980's. Surely mankind can't dwell in darkness and despair forever.

Making Ends Meet

NEW YORK (AP) — Battered by high interest rates, prices and taxes, the average American has been forced to scramble like a threatened quarterback in order not to lose yardage in the old game of making ends meet.

Evidence of this is clear, and it tends to undermine the assumption widely held that somehow, for some reason, the ordinary consumer has been able to live easily with inflation and even to ignore government antidotes to the malady.

Not so. In 1969 there was considerable trading down in big ticket merchandise and postponement of many purchases. There was a surge in borrowing on life insurance policies. Credit unions reported loans outpaced savings.

While Americans were feeling very confident of their purchasing power they bought a lot of red meat and, allegedly, that is the reason beef prices rose early in the year. That appetite tapered off later, and so did red meat prices.

Ask any small banker if there wasn't a reaction. Small investors discovered in recent months such things as U.S. Treasury bills and municipal bonds yielded greater returns than bank account interest. And so they bought them.

A record of $252 million was drained from accounts in the nation's 500 mutual savings banks in December. These banks are limited by law to granting a rate of interest that now hardly matches inflation. Once content to leave his money in the bank, the small investor withdrew it in 1969 for bigger returns.

The impact on the banks is quite observable as they offer wrist watches, can openers, toasters, luggage, clocks, radios, blankets, pots and pans, knives and forks and whatnot for new accounts.

Ask the big insurance companies if there hasn't been an impact. By November, loans on life insurance policies had soared to $13.58 billion, an increase of about $2.36 billion in one year. Such borrowing is the least expensive of all.

Perhaps the most pronounced effect is observed in retail sales. Preliminary reports by the Commerce Department indicate that although there were more Americans to buy in 1969 than in 1968, there really wasn't any commensurate increase in sales.

It is possible that the retail sales figures might appear larger. But then they have to be discounted by about 5 per cent to writing the price inflation out of them.

The tendency toward trading down and postponing seemed to grow stronger as 1969 wore on.

To Your Good Health

A Girl Who Took LSD Twice

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am a teenager with a problem that bothers me deeply. I tried LSD twice a few months ago without realizing what might be happening to me.

Now I've read that it can cause chromosome damage. Will the drug in any way affect my children if I marry? I never again intend to use this drug. —S.P.

You aren't the only one who has asked me this same question, but there isn't any answer. It's something you'll have to wait and find out.

It's one thing to demonstrate breakage of chromosome chains; it is quite another to know whether the cells from which babies are created will be defective, too.

The most comforting thought I have on the subject — and it isn't exactly gay — is that when cells are too defective, nature's remedy is miscarriage. But obviously that does not prevent all defects, because even some serious defects do not cause miscarriage. Witness the "thalidomide babies."

The current "protest generation" has chosen some topics worth protesting about, but it has also expressed itself by protesting in areas that are not very sensible. The attempt to justify drugs is one of them.

I suspect that the tragedy of Art Linkletter's daughter has had its impact, but the disclosure of chromosomal damage from LSD may be having even more.

Young people who felt that they had a right to "live their own lives" were suddenly confronted with the possibility that they might be playing havoc with the lives of their children-to-be. —A sobering thought.

Whether LSD (and other drugs) either will or may cause birth defects is a question without a positive answer. For all I know, there may never be a positive answer, but for me it is enough to know that powerful drugs of any sort are not totally predictable.

Certain extremely useful medications are used only with great caution when the known risk to life is only on the order of one in a million cases.

We had the example of restricting the use of cyclamates with no evidence of serious harm to humans but only the potential risk demonstrated by giving rats many times the amount that would be eaten.

To the many thousands who are wondering whether hallucinogens and other drugs may bear a crop of defective children, all the solace I can offer is to say I hope not. Nobody knows, yet.

But don't you suppose this free-wheeling urge to fool around with drugs may not at last be approaching an end?

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Thosteson's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

A Catalogue For Policies

The various city laws are relatively easy to locate, since codification of all city ordinances a few years ago. All of the ordinances in effect are handily catalogued, and the citizen interested in those that affect his property and life, can easily look them up, or have his attorney do so.

CITY COMMISSION policies are another matter, but just as binding or restrictive to the citizen. So far as I know, these are not detailed, listed, catalogued, or stated in so many words, anywhere. For all I know, there may not be enough of them to list.

Often, residents appear before commission meetings with some complaint or request, only to find out that the commission has a policy that does not permit them to make some requested change. No manner of appeal will sway them, in the face of some previously decision on policy. At the same time, the commission on occasion has strayed from its previous firm policy, due to some slight difference in the request.

FOR EXAMPLE, requests for damages in the case of a backed-up sewer line. Time and again, the commission has denied damage claims caused by sewer line stoppages, pointing out the law does not require the city to pay them. Yet, on several occasions, the city commission has voted to pay such damages, seemingly in conflict with its policy. The circumstances of the damage claims have played a big part in the final decisions, and where the fine line is drawn is not easy to explain, or understand. Nonetheless, few residents are aware of the policy or what might be considered outside it.

NO ONE commission can bind another, so after each annual election, it is possible for the policies to change. Thus, even if a list of policies were drawn, it would be necessary to review them annually, for any needed revisions or changes of heart.

That might be a good policy in itself. Often, city employees are at a loss to explain to a resident what he can expect from the commission concerning his request about closing a street, a paving inclusion or deletion, a beer zoning change, water and sewer traps, to mention a few.

SUCH A LIST might not only provide guidance for residents, it might serve to guide city employees as well. In addition, there have been times when a commissioner has served most of his term before finding out the details of some policy, or is faced with a decision on a matter, unknown of a previous policy decision.

Such a policy might be useful, then, to city residents, city employees, and the city commission itself. It might also give many misunderstandings before the fur begins to fly. —V. GLENN COOTES

Art Buchwald The Best Interests Of The Nation—

WASHINGTON — Since everyone

seems to be interested in what will happen to the economy of the United States in the Seventies, I invited a distinguished panel of the nation's leading businessmen, labor leaders, economists and government forecasters to a meeting in Washington, D.C., to discuss the subject. The meeting was held in the shadow of the White House: in a booth at a Walgreen's drugstore, to be exact. Here are some excerpts from the discussion:

ELIAS ENDICOTT of the Banking Institute of Compounded Quarterly Interest was very optimistic. "The challenge of the Seventies will be closely tied to the monetary policies of the government. If Washington gives the banks permission to raise the rates of interest on money borrowed, to a reasonable 18 and one-third per cent, and at the same time permits us to pay no more than 2½ per cent interest on money deposited by our clients, we could send the inflationary spiral into a downturn by 1975."

Sheldon Carbon, president of the Recall Motor Co., believes the key to the fight against inflation is labor's attitude toward wage increases. "Labor must be responsible and realize that any demands for wage increases will only heat up the economy."

"NO ONE is more sympathetic to the rise of the cost of living of the average worker than management. At the same time, labor is only hurting itself when it makes unreasonable wage demands at a time when everyone should tighten his belt. To show that Recall Motors is serious about wanting to keep inflation from getting out of hand, the Recall board of directors has voted to increase the price of their new 1971 models by only $991.50 which still makes a two-door, four-cylinder 'Recall' at $10,980

David Lawrence

Our Attitudes In Past Decades

WASHINGTON — It is natural to analyze the past and forecast the future when there is a turn in the decades. But a discussion of changes from the 1960's to the 1970's would hardly be adequate without some comparison with the state of mind of the country on previous occasions as one decade ended and another began.

Thus, for instance, five decades ago, as the year 1920 started, World War I had just been concluded and the United States Senate had refused in 1919 to ratify the treaty which President Wilson had signed at Paris providing for the formation of the League of Nations to help preserve peace in the world. The national political campaigns of 1920 resulted in a victory for Warren Harding — a triumph for "isolationism." In the subsequent 12 years, there were only Republican presidents in the White House.

BETWEEN 1920 and 1930, America went through an economic cycle that has had no parallel. It was a period of "profitless prosperity" which was characterized by wild speculation in the stock markets and finally a breakdown of the economy as the decade ended. This helped to elect a Democratic president in 1932. During the '30's the United States experienced its worst depression in history.

The year 1940 did not open with any encouraging prospects for the subsequent decade. World War II had broken out in Europe in 1939, and there were fears that America would be dragged into the conflict. This did happen in 1941 when the Japanese attacked our fleet at Pearl Harbor. Almost the entire decade of the '40's was concerned with World War II and with attempts at economic one of the best buys in the country."

ROCK SLOBODA, president of the United Typewriter, Sandstone, Match and Picture-Framing Federation of Labor, felt that the Seventies would be an opportunity for everyone to show good faith. "We want to keep our demands in the ball park," Sloboda told the panel. "Therefore we will not ask for a three-hour, four-day week, with double time for coffee breaks. We will stick to the same demands we made last year: a four-hour, three-day week with a two-month paid vacation every year. If management agrees to what we believe is the absolute minimum our members will accept, we see to reason for industry to increase its prices in the next 10 years."

ALEXANDER BELL, the XII, the telephone company's vice president in charge of public relations, said the phone company was working on more efficient and cheaper phone service than the American public had ever had before. To provide this cheaper service the phone company was asking for an increase in rates for the early Seventies of only 33 and one-third per cent.

Charles Fairweather, President Nixon's adviser on inflationary trends, said the Administration still felt the solution to inflation was a "full unemployment program."

"WITHOUT belaboring the point," he told the panel, "the basic reason for inflation is that people have too much money to spend. If they are not working, the problem of inflation will 'take care of itself.'"

While the panel members came to no laud conclusions, they all agreed that the causes of inflation were other irresponsible forces at work in the country, who unlike them did not have the best interests of the United States at heart. (Copyright, 1969, The Washington Post Co.)

County Commissioners Study Salary Adjustments

The County Commissioners Court began considering salary adjustments for county employees today, adjourning shortly before noon to attend a joint luncheon at the Cosden Club with city commissioners, members of the school board, and members of the junior college board. County commissioners planned to reconvene at 1:30 p.m. to continue the salary study.

They okayed a $480 annual car allowance and office allowance for Mrs. Lulu Adams, justice of the peace for Precinct 2 in Coahoma, with Mrs. Adams to pay her own phone expense out of the office allowance except for long distance calls. Mrs. Adams has an office in her home in Coahoma. She is paid $1,320 annually.

Commissioners also agreed to place secretaries of Justices of the Peace Walter Grice and Jess Slaughter on a four-day work week at $14 per day each. The women ordinarily work a three-day week but were placed on five-day weeks in December because of an increasing case load.

They also suggested the four days be staggered so that both offices be open eight hours per day, five days per week. Commissioners studied requests for raises for Wayne Tollett, special investigator for District Attorney Wayne Burns; Ed Cherry, chief deputy sheriff; and deputy sheriffs but took no action.

Burns requested Tollett's salary be raised from $522.50 per month to $575. Judge Lee Porter said the salary is based on the salary paid to the chief deputy sheriff. Burns was in a session with the Grand Jury this morning and unable to attend the commissioners meeting, so action on Cherry's salary was delayed until Tollett's salary can be worked out.

Commissioners adjourned during discussion of the salaries of deputy sheriffs, but most seemed in favor of some kind of raise.

"They're actually earning less than what a rookie policeman receives," Bill Tune said.

Four members of the New Car Dealers Association met with commissioners concerning specifications for county vehicles. Commissioners asked the men to have their fleet managers meet to work out specifications for two classes of cars which the county might need.

The four men, Bill Pollard, Bob Brock, Barney Toland and A. M. Farris, agreed the county needed some kind of standard specifications which the car dealers could help to update when needed. The men will work out specifications for a heavy car suitable for out of county travel and a lighter car suitable for in county work.

In other action commissioners gave permission for West-Phone Co-op to bury telephone cables in the borrow ditch along county roads near Knott.

Approved employment of replacement clerk in the tax collector's office.

Approved order to repair records in the county clerk's office.

Approved a purchase order of $68 for a new camera for the sheriff's department.

Reserve Officers To Hear Pilot

Capt. William P. Rosser Jr., Army aviator and Vietnam veteran, will be the featured speaker at the meeting of the police reserves tonight at 8 p.m. in the police department classroom.

Capt. Rosser was awarded the Bronze Star for meritorious service in Vietnam after logging 650 hours flying in combat, including 1,000 reconnaissance missions. He is now assigned to the Army's speakers program at Fort Bliss.

Reserve officers said the public is invited to hear Capt. Rosser's address.

Lillard Leaves Office Today

Public Works director Ernest Lillard is finishing his last day of work for the city of Big Spring today. Friday he will move to Wichita Falls to assume similar duties for that city, leaving his lifelong home for the first time.

Lillard was born on a farm near Ackerly and graduated from Flower Grove High School and, after a stint with the military, from Howard County Junior College and Texas Tech. He and his wife, Dolores, were married here in 1951. They have one daughter, Vickie, age 10.

He was resident engineer for the construction of Howard County Airport before becoming city engineer in 1959 and was appointed Public Works Director in 1963.

Lillard headed construction of the city Master Plan projects and paving program.

He said in announcing the move Dec. 19, "This area is my home. I have enjoyed my association with the city here, but I feel this move is a great opportunity for me and my family."

A 59-year-old Big Spring man was transferred from city custody to the Howard County jail Wednesday evening on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Roy Rogan Retires Today

Roy Rogan retires today after more than 25 years service maintaining the city's complex electrical network.

As electrical superintendent he has had the task of keeping the current flowing to the water filter plant, sewage treatment plant and the traffic signal system since Oct. 2, 1944.

Rogan is a native of Brownwood, where he graduated from Baker Presbyterian College and was employed by a petroleum company for seven years before moving to Big Spring in 1942.

He is noted for his ingenuity in dealing with adverse circumstances, such as reluctant traffic signals, and has kept city machinery going in the face of limited funds and mechanical failure from time to time.

Rogan lives with his wife, Reba, at 1313 Lincoln in a house that has been described as an "architect's dream" which he redecorated in 1968. People who have worked with Rogan are certain that he will always find something constructive to do, even in retirement.

Restaurants Help Drive With Annual Coffee Day

Several hundred dollars were collected by Big Spring restaurants Wednesday in the annual "coffee day" event of the January March of Dimes fund raising campaign to combat birth defects.

Capt. Stanley Bogard, campaign chairman, said the city's restaurants cooperated in staging the event, and all proceeds from the sale of coffee during the day went into the fund.

O. T. Brewster, as he has for many years, organized the coffee day, which included the cooperation of nine restaurants. These included Coker's Restaurant, Crystal Cafe, Harris Restaurant, Holiday Inn Restaurant, Lamar's Restaurant, Phillips 66 North Restaurant, Ponderosa Restaurant, Ramada Inn Restaurant, and the Spanish Inn Restaurant.

The coin containers for the annual campaign were placed on locations throughout the city by the Big Spring Police Department according to Bogard. Each year the officers put out the containers and pick them up at the conclusion of the month long effort.

The war against birth defects was adopted by the National Foundation — March of Dimes after the war against polio was resolved. Over a hundred treatment centers are financed through this annual effort, and most of the money collected in this area remains here to assist those afflicted by birth defects.

Four Found Dead In Plane

FREDERICKSBURG, Tex. (AP)—Four persons, including a Colorado businessman and a San Antonio couple, were found dead near here Wednesday in the wreckage of a light plane missing since Friday.

A relative of the San Antonio man and wife was due here today to attempt to identify the badly burned bodies.

Investigators from the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency were to inspect the wreckage.

Fredericksburg Police Chief Milton Jung said one body had been positively identified as Gordon Walker, the pilot, a prominent Fort Collins, Colo., real estate developer.

Walker owned a private air strip east of Fort Collins.

The others found in the dipped and twisted wreckage were tentatively identified as Raul Gomez, 42; his wife, Oralia, both of San Antonio; and Tony Garcia, a friend of the Gomez couple, believed from the Houston area.

Chief Jung said two of the bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Search pilots spotted the wrecked craft about 12 miles east of here and about five miles northwest of former President Lyndon B. Johnson's LBJ Ranch.

Ground parties said the plane apparently struck a tree in the rough Texas Hill Country and swept onward for about 400 feet before crashing near a creek on the Edgar Duecker Ranch.

Wreckage was strewn for 40 feet around the craft.

The plane was on a flight from Fort Collins and had been missing since it landed briefly Friday night for fuel at nearby Llano, Tex. Chief Jung said it was flying south when it crashed.

Fort Collins officials, before the plane was found, had identified one of the passengers aboard as George Gomez.

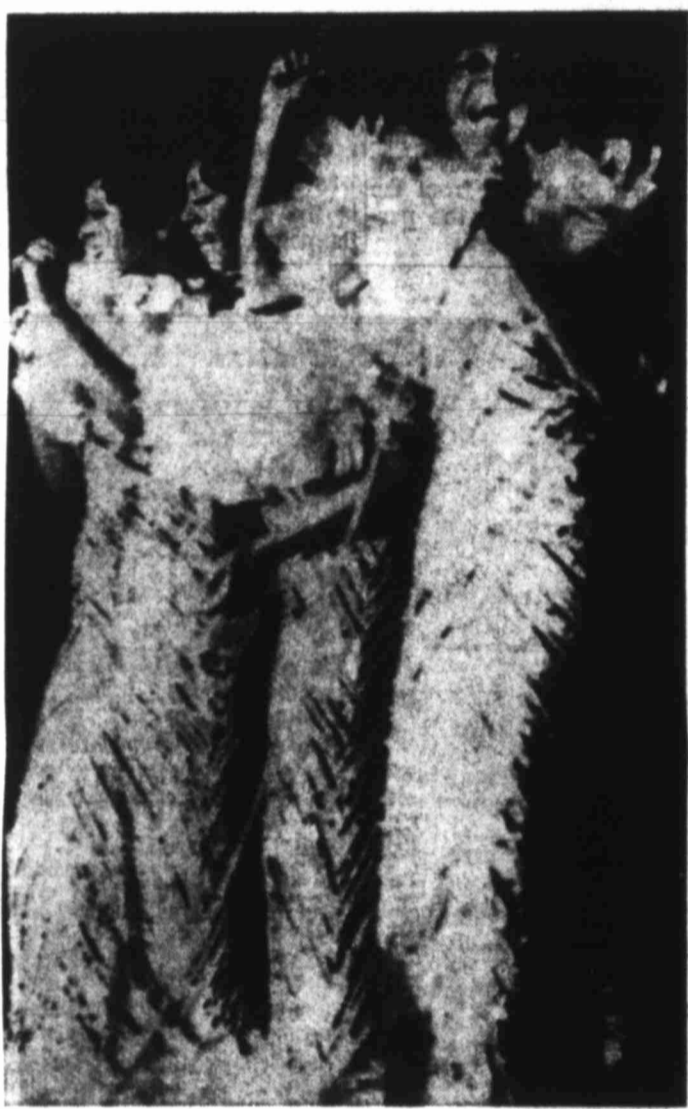

Gomez, 22, of San Antonio, said he is a nephew of Raul Gomez, the dead man.

Chief Jung said Raul was carrying identification papers of his nephew. He said it was not at once known why.

The younger Gomez said Garcia was a friend of the Gomez couple and that he understood his uncle and aunt had planned to live in Colorado.

He said he didn't know why they were flying from Fort Collins. Gomez was to attempt to identify the three bodies today.

Garcia left his wife and children in a motel near Fort Collins, Jung said.

'Hastings Corners' Arrives Too Late

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — It was one of those NBC "Multi-Special Nights" Wednesday—three programs in rapid succession, each designed to create fun, laughter and a sense of well-being.

The 2½ hours had marked ups and downs, but there was considerable diversity, some pleasant singing and dancing, lots of stars and, once in a while, a chuckle.

The evening started with a pilot show for a series, "The Shameful Secrets of Hastings Corners," a half-hour comedy that was a parody of "Peyton Place," every soap opera on the air and—in the courtroom sequence—"Perry Mason."

"Hastings Corners" had its moments, but it has arrived a couple of seasons too late: "Peyton Place" and "Perry Mason" have departed into reruns and the daytime soap operas are rarely seen by the male half of the nighttime audience, so the satire was lost.

Next was a pleasant hour of song, dance and wry sketches built around the unpredictability of womankind.

Gene Kelly starred in "The Wonderful World of Girls," strolling easily through his musical numbers and handling the sketches nimbly. He had some very expert help from Barbara Feldon and Ruth Buzzi but the show drooped occasionally because there was little or no unpredictability about the sketch material.

Rowan and Martin followed with a special dedicated to one of television's favorite games, making fun of television. The show kidded, in sketches and blackouts, everything from TV news departments to the commercials.

They, too, had some expert help—Carol Burnett, the Smothers Brothers, Sammy Davis Jr. and cameo appearances by other stars.

One series of blackouts was pegged on the premise that television had changed the course of history: Washington crossed the Delaware in search of a TV repairman, the Titanic changed course in mid-Atlantic to pick up a better TV signal.

The stars, while involved in a lot of costume changing and parts in the sketches, stuck pretty close to their functions in "Laugh-In" and were rarely the cause for much hilarity.

Tuesday night's "Movie of the Week" on ABC ran about 12 minutes short because somebody started the projector for part two of "Foreign Exchange" while several minutes of film were left on the projector unreeling part one.

This resulted in the omission of a big chunk of action in mid-program and panic at the studio when the program unexpectedly ended early. They grabbed a handy reel of film and slammed it on the air.

This viewer thought the sudden movement of plot, while confusing, was just sloppy film-cutting and bad editing. Almost 350 viewers called ABC to ask what was wrong. And two called to congratulate the network on the filler program, a minidocumentary on the Revolutionary War that was never finished.

HOWARD A. SHERRILL H. A. Sherrill Enters Contest In Precinct 2

Howard A. Sherrill is announcing his candidacy for the office of Howard County Commissioner of Precinct 2, subject to the Democratic Primary, May 2.

Sherrill came to Big Spring in 1952. He married the former Ethel Lomax, of Big Spring, and they have one son, Fain, a sophomore in Coahoma High School. The Sherrills reside east of Big Spring in the Midway community where they own their home. They are members of the First United Methodist Church.

Sherrill attended Kilgore Junior College at Kilgore, and for three years studied in the evenings at Howard County Junior College.

"If elected to this office, my interest will be for the people of Precinct 2 and the people of Howard County," he said.

"I have watched the growth and progress of Big Spring and Howard County in the 1950's and 1960's. I feel Howard County has the potential for great advancement in the 1970's. I would consider it an honor and privilege to serve Precinct 2 as its county commissioner. I shall strive to serve the people to the best of my ability, putting myself at the disposal of the people and the duties of the office at all times.

"Your vote and support will be greatly appreciated. I will try to repay your confidence in faithful service."

Officials Pledge Action To Avoid Another Blackout

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Officials promise action to avoid another power blackout like one that stranded an elevator operator for the Tower of the Americas high above the ground this week.

Bill Lindquist, Tower manager, said winds over the past several months had swept rain into the tower's generator, corroding some parts.

This led to a short in the generator, which blew a 1,200-amp fuse, causing the power failure, he said.

Lindquist said the generator will be sealed off to stop seepage.

Miss Blance Garcia, 20, the elevator operator, was trapped for at least two hours almost 600 feet above the ground when the failure occurred Tuesday night.

More than 25 customers remained two hours in the restaurant atop the tower.

Miss Garcia was rescued after firemen climbed an interior stairway and dropped a ladder to the elevator escape hatch.

New Riches Bringing Problems To Trevino

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Lee Trevino is an American phenomenon although he'd probably change the tag to "Mexican-American" — instant hero, rags-to-riches, free-wheeler, irrepressible.

NEW COACH FOR CHAPARRALS — Max Williams, general manager of the Dallas Chaparrals of the ABA, announces he is assuming coaching duties of the basketball team after Cliff Hagan tendered his resignation.

Trevino walked about two miles a day from his motel to the course that was the site of the U.S. Open golf championship because he couldn't afford a cab.

LOOKING 'EM OVER With Tommy Hart. Includes a small portrait of Tommy Hart.

When Frank Howard called it a day recently as coach of the Clemson Tigers, the game lost one of its most colorful characters.

In 1964, Clemson hosted TCU and Howard was briefing his captain on what to do at the coin-tossing ceremony prior to the opening kickoff when he glanced across the field and saw that the Horned Frogs had four players (Joe Ball, Ernest Bayer, Gary Cooper and Dan Jones) preparing to meet the Clemson representatives at the center of the gridiron.

Howard quickly looked to his bench and ordered four more boys to accompany his captain to the rendezvous, explaining: "They ain't gonna out-captain us before the game starts."

Clemson not only 'out-captained' the Frogs but beat them as well on the field, 3-0.

One of the game officials that day was ex-Big Springer Peppy Blount (now of Longview), who said later he could tell Howard was a level-headed guy because he had an equal amount of tobacco juice running out of each corner of his mouth.

Great things are expected of Abilene High in football next fall but at Abilene a man long associated with sports (who will not be identified here) thinks the Eagles will lose at least three 5-AAAs contests.

NCAA To Permit Its Schools 11 Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Collegiate Athletic Association, having sent the nation's college football coaches into a whirlwind of activity by permitting them to schedule an additional game next fall, today faced the controversial case of Yale's ineligible basketball player.

A session between coaches Darrel Royal of top-ranked Texas and Joe Paterno of runner-up Penn State was just one of many hurriedly arranged meetings Wednesday as schools scurried to line up opponents for the newly approved game.

Meanwhile, although the NCAA's 64th annual convention Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Jan. 15, 1970 9-A officially ended Wednesday, the NCAA Council, policy making body of the national organization, was expected to punish Yale for knowingly using a basketball player declared ineligible by both the NCAA and its affiliate, the Eastern College Athletic Conference.

The likelihood was that Yale would be slapped with some form of probation, possibly contingent on whether it ceases to use the player. However, the school has said it will continue defying the NCAA and ECAC.

The issue is another power struggle between the NCAA and the Amateur Athletic Union over control of amateur basketball in this country.

In an attempt to bring the AAU to its knees, the NCAA refused to sanction the basketball competition in the Maccabiah Games in Tel Aviv last August, although it had done so in the past and approved all other sports in last year's games.

Yale, however, told its invited player, Jack Langer, that he could participate in the games and he was the only collegian on the U.S. basketball team, which lost to Israel in the finals.

Yale received a minor setback Wednesday when the NCAA delegates tabled a proposal that would have specifically identified the Maccabiah Games as one of the international competitions to be considered for approval.

A Texas-Penn State football game would be one of the highlights of the 1970 season after the storm that arose this past season when both teams posted 11-0 records. However, both sides insisted early today that such a meeting was not settled.

The Texas administration, in fact, voted against the proposal to allow an increase in the regular season from 10 games to 11.

Elsewhere, Paul Dietzel, head coach and director of athletics at South Carolina, said he hoped to announce shortly an 11th game against a non-league opponent. South Carolina belongs to the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Col. A. J. Dielens, athletic director at the U.S. Military Academy, said Army would add the extra contest. Coach Ara Parseghian of Notre Dame said he was for an 11th game but didn't know whether his administration would approve it.

In other action Wednesday, the NCAA delegates approved limiting to two the number of visits a prospective athlete can make to a college. Then they ordered further study of a proposal to limit a coach or his representative to the same number of visits to the youngster's hometown.

FIFTH MEETING

Today's meeting was the fifth the NFL owners have had on re-alignment since last May when Cleveland, Baltimore and Pittsburgh of the old NFL agreed to switch to the new American Conference.

Cleveland will compete with Pittsburgh, Houston and Cincinnati in one division. Kansas City, Oakland, San Diego and Denver will comprise another. Baltimore joins Buffalo, Boston, Miami and the New York Jets in a five-team division.

Met GM Dies At Age Of 61

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Murphy, whose long baseball career was climaxed by the New York Mets' stunning 1969 World Series victory, died Wednesday night in Roosevelt Hospital of a massive heart attack.

A native New Yorker and former star relief pitcher for the Yankees, the 61-year-old Murphy had held the position of Mets' general manager since Dec. 21, 1967, following Bing Devine's unexpected resignation and return to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Murphy had served as the Mets' supervisor of scouting since their inception in 1961.

Commenting on Murphy's death from Glendale, Calif., Casey Stengel, former Mets manager, said: "It was wonderful how the club progressed all year because of the way he made the deals and signed the papers that brought the players to the club."

Murphy had been hospitalized since last Dec. 30 after suffering a heart attack at his suburban home.

Murphy pitched for the Yankees from 1934 to 1947, helping them win seven American League pennants and six world championships. He was one of the game's first standout relief specialists and compiled a career won-lost record of 93-53.

New Huddles Set On Realignment

After five more fruitless hours of meetings Wednesday, Commissioner Pete Rozelle said, "I can't report any progress except I found out some of the owners are dissatisfied with their hotel accommodations."

"I'd say that might be a plus because maybe they'll want to go home."

Rozelle promised that the owners won't leave New York "until we have a resolution on this, one way or another."

CAN'T AGREE

He said if the owners don't unanimously agree to a 5-4-4 divisional setup among themselves this week, he will call the signals for them.

"Someone will have to change his view or I will have to become involved in this," Rozelle said. "I do not have the authority to move in, but I have the responsibility to see that it's done."

Rozelle's methods could involve unilateral action on his part or settlement by lottery, through a series of blind draws.

The commissioner has a few other methods at his disposal, which include "locking them up" as he did during the eight-month hassle over the grouping of the new American Conference.

One of those meetings lasted 36 hours. However, those meetings were more complicated than the current ones because they involved the transfer of three old NFL clubs to give the conference 13 teams. After it was decided which teams would switch, the realignment was settled in a matter of hours.

Rozelle is anxious to settle the National Conference and get on to other things, like the 1970 schedule and a new television of problems, including geography, weather, stadium size, gate potential, and competitive ability. Owners are reluctant to be put into a division which figures to be dominated by a powerful club for any length of time.

Asked if the Super Bowl had changed this sentiment about Minnesota, Rozelle quipped, "The clubs which feel Minnesota should not be in their division still feel that way."

New Orleans wants to be with Atlanta and Dallas, and Philadelphia, New York and Washington want to be together. Los Angeles and San Francisco must be in the same division.

Munzy Pro Passes Tests For Class A PGA Card

Charles Brantley, golf pro at the Municipal course here since Sept. 12, 1967, has qualified for his Class A PGA card.

Brantley spent the early part of the week in Amarillo taking written and oral examinations and attending a business seminar along with other links pros of the area.

The card will be mailed to him by the PGA National organization March 20, he was informed.

Brantley, a native of Longview, started work on his PGA credentials in 1962.

Brantley said that most of the crab grass that plagued the 18-hole Munzy course last year had been eradicated according to plan and he would shortly begin rebuilding the frog hair around each green and would devote his efforts to again making the greens the best in West Texas.

Several pieces of new equipment were recently purchased for use on the course and have either been delivered or are on order.

They include a new pickup truck, a tractor and a grass mower for the rough.

When the weather is favorable, play remains steady at the course.

LIGHT OF PEACE — This rough diamond has 435 carats and will be cut into a pear shaped diamond of approximately 140 to 150 carats, giving it the distinction of being the second largest diamond of this shape in the world.

Diamond Dedicated To Cause Of Peace

NEW YORK — A 435 carat diamond find and a unique plan to dedicate it to the cause of peace were unveiled here Wednesday by Ben A. Lipshy, president of Dallas-based Zale Corporation, leading diversified retailer with more than 1,200 jewelry and other specialty store outlets.

The rough diamond, ranking among the great finds of the world, has been named Light of Peace. When cut, it is estimated the stone will produce the second largest pear shaped diamond in history of approximately 140 to 150 carats with a value between $3 to $5 million.

The largest known pear shaped diamond is the 530 carat Cullinan I, which is in the British Crown Jewel Collection. The Light of Peace will be a modern cut diamond whereas the Cullinan I was cut prior to the advent of modern cutting techniques.

Ambassadors Will Be Busy

The Ambassadors Club of the Chamber of Commerce has a busy schedule lined up for the rest of the month, according to George Zachariah, newly-elected president.

Saturday morning the red-coated men will be responsible for escorting Kennel Show judges to Hangar No. 1 at Webb Air Force Base where the show is being held.

Saturday night a banquet and party are planned at the KC Steakhouse for the installation of new officers.

There are also three area Chamber of Commerce banquets, two on the same night, which will require representatives of the Ambassadors. The Colorado City and Stanton banquets are both Monday night. The Monahan banquet is Jan. 29.

The Ambassadors are also acting as hosts for the reception for the Texas Police Association regional meeting here Jan. 25-26.

'Name' Game Hearing Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cousin Minnie Pearl of the Grand Ole Opry will be there. And sitting next to her may be Johnny Carson, Joe Namath, Mickey Mantle and Pat Boone.

All are players in a multi-billion-dollar-a-year "name" game — the franchise industry.

All have been asked to be witnesses in three days of congressional hearings beginning Jan. 20. So far only Minnie Pearl has accepted.

The eventual outcome could be federal regulation of an industry whose $90 billion annual sales accounts for 10 per cent of the Gross National Product.

Senate investigators laying the groundwork for the hearings say they have found some evidence of fraud and questionable business practices within the still growing industry.

More than 600,000 franchises are operating in the United States today, licensed by some 1,000 different franchisers of everything from service stations to fried chicken and tacos stands.

"The concept of business franchising has been around for a long time, but all of a sudden it's taken off like a big bird and nobody knows which way it's going to fly," says Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr., D-N.J.

Williams says his subcommittee on urban and rural economic development "will attempt to unwrap the entire franchising package for the benefit of all concerned."

Eggers Cites $1 Million Need For Race

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Paul Eggers said in effect Wednesday he'd be a candidate for governor of Texas providing he is assured sufficient financial support to wage an effective campaign.

Eggers, the Treasury Department's general counsel, has said such a campaign would cost at least $700,000 to $1 million.

He told a reporter he no longer doubts that the enthusiasm of his backers reflects substantial grass roots support for a GOP opponent to oppose a re-election bid by Gov. Preston Smith.

Eggers said he had been assured by Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., chairman of the Senate GOP Campaign Committee that enough money would be available to finance two major Republican campaigns in Texas.

The other race would involve Rep. George Bush who has announced he will contend with Democratic Sen. Ralph Yarborough in the latter's bid for a third full term.

Eggers said he plans to sound out potential financiers during a trip to Texas this weekend.

"I've tested the climate and there seems to be unbelievable grass roots support for this governor's race," Eggers said.

"They think I should make it, that there is some impetus left over from the 1968 campaign and that if we'd had more time then we could have won," he said. "They say this year we should finish the job."

Tower refused comment on Tuesday's 20-minute huddle with Eggers.

Eggers is scheduled to speak Thursday to the Texas Manufacturers Association in Dallas.

Mead To Contest Collins For Seat

DALLAS (AP) — Dist. Judge John Mead announced Tuesday that he would challenge Republican Jim Collins for his seat as the representative from Dallas County's 3rd Congressional District. Mead is a Democrat.

Mead said Collins "talks a lot, spends a lot of money and sends out a lot of mail at the taxpayers expense, and accomplishes nothing. Words, money and letter writing are no excuse for results."

Mead, 46, outlined his platform as "positive solutions to crime and inflation and more effective leadership to insure the district's progress."

Collins won office in a special election prior to the 1968 general election. He then beat Robert Hughes in the general election to become the first Republican to represent the district.

Neither candidate has drawn any opposition from his own party.

Waco Candidate Fails To Collect From Papers

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court denied Wednesday a plea by a Waco congressional candidate who sued Newspapers Inc. for $900,000 because it allegedly left his name off a sample ballot and printed a story saying he had received only one write-in vote in a previous election.

The Supreme Court's ruling affirmed decisions by a Waco trial court and the Waco Court of Civil Appeals. There was no written opinion by the high court, which merely stated it could find no reversible errors in the rulings by the lower courts.

Laurel N. Dunn, who she had qualified as an independent candidate in the 1968 general election against Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., alleged that Newspapers Inc. purposed to publish a complete "sample ballot" in the Nov. 3, 1968, Sunday edition of the Waco Tribune-Herald. But Dunn alleged his name was deleted.

Also, he alleged, the paper printed a story that in a 1964 race Dunn had gotten only one write-in vote in a race against Poage.

The Waco Civil Appeals Court said an affidavit from the clerk of McLennan County showed that Dunn had received only one write-in vote in McLennan county in 1964.

However, the Waco court said, Dunn presented affidavits reflecting that three persons voted for him in 1964 in McLennan county and 20 voted for him in Bell County.

$900-A-Month Raise Asked

HOUSTON (AP) — County medical examiner Joseph Jachimczyk has asked the commissioners court for a $900-a-month raise in salary.

If the increase is approved it would make him the highest paid public official in Texas next to Gov. Preston Smith.

Dr. Jachimczyk's present annual salary is $38,700. He wants $49,500. Smith's annual salary is $55,000.

Jachimczyk requested the pay hike in his proposed budget for 1970. Commissioners gave him a $500-a-month raise last year.

Still No Director For Public Works

No immediate replacement is expected for Ernest Lillard, public works director, City Manager Larry Crow said today.

Crow said he has several applications for the position, but they will not be fully processed before Lillard leaves. Thursday is his last day in Big Spring, before he takes over a similar position in Wichita Falls.

"Fortunately we have a strong organization with competent supervisory personnel, and we can continue with our normal operations," he said.

Crow is searching for a certified civil engineer with administrative experience and some knowledge of municipal government.

Clubbers To Ask To See Film

Members of the Lucky Acres 4-H Club met Tuesday at the courthouse, and Mrs. Catherine Crawford gave a program on demonstrations, then asked club members to sign a list indicating whether they would be willing to give demonstrations.

Club members decided to invite a representative of the police department to show the film "Marijuana" at the next regular meeting Feb. 10. There were 18 members at the meeting, and four new members joined.

Opening lead: Seven of ♥
 When South's demand opening bid in spades elicited a positive response in diamonds from partner, followed by a spade raise, he was bent on reaching slam. After his four no trump bid revealed that North held the missing ace, South figured he might just as well play the hand in no trump to avert the possibility of a ruff. He toyed with the idea of investigating for a grand slam, but was finally content to settle for six.

West led the seven of hearts, covered in turn by North's ten, East's queen, and declarer's king. A quick inventory of his assets convinced South that he could take 13 tricks provided that spades broke, and he momentarily regretted not having asked for kings during his Blackwood inquiry. He proceeded to cash his ace of diamonds and then led over to the ace of spades so that he might discard his losing heart on the king of diamonds.

He next led a spade to his queen, but when West showed out the slam went glimmering. East was given his spade trick and he quickly returned a diamond so that his partner might cash the setting trick.

It would have done South no good to refrain from cashing dummy's king of diamonds, for then he would have had a losing heart in his hand at the end. The only way that he can safely obtain the needed stuff on North's high diamond is by taking a safety play in the spade suit—i.e. he concedes a trick that he might otherwise not lose, in order to assure the success of his contract.

After South wins the opening lead, he should cash the ace of diamonds and lead a spade. Instead of putting up North's ace, however, he should play the eight from dummy. East wins and returns, say, a heart. Declarer is in with the ace and leads over to the spade ace to take his heart sluff on the king of diamonds. He reenters his hand with a club to pull East's remaining spades, and now South is all set.

Declarer played the hand as he were in seven. Since he had only bid a small slam, he should have played safe for 12 tricks.

Richardson, state voter registration chairman. Accompanying the women to Big Spring was Nick Sallee, a party field representative.

Receiving guests with the honorees was Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, president of the West Texas Republican Women's Club, and others extending a welcome to the women were Winston Wrinkle, district committeeman, and Dr. Akin Simpson, county chairman.

During the tea both women spoke briefly in offering assistance to local Republicans in familiarizing themselves with the workings of the state organizations and its goals. Hints From Heloise

HINTS FROM HELOISE
Dear Folks:
There is a must for anyone who runs a home. . . .
Clothing and linens must be rotated as they come from the laundry and dry cleaner. . . .
Invariably, anyone opening a closet door trying to find something to wear will grab the first thing they see in the closet, and the nearest one at hand. . . .
Men who wear white shirts to work will always grab the one on top of the pile! It's easy, and it's habit to pile shirts one on top of the other in a drawer or on a shelf when you are putting them away. They also hang suits and uniforms where it is most convenient. Guess where? Right in the middle of that closet. . . .
'Tis much better to put the clean shirts on the bottom of the pile. This way you at least rotate the shirts. Now if you doubt this little idea of mine, go look at your pile of shirts right now (and the ones hanging at the back of the closet) and just see if they aren't yellow. How can you wear them without laundering again? More energy wasted and more money thrown down the drain. . . .
Regular cleaning and laundering always prolong the life of clothing. White shirts, especially, get yellow and deteriorate just like our pillow slips and sheets. You wonder, why grab one off the bottom of the pile or lift that pile to tuck 'em under? But this is very important to the life of your clothes and linens. . . .
So hang your clean clothes in the back of your closet each time you put some in and this will tend to perfect rotation. . . .
If clothes are rotated, they will last much, much longer. This will also keep them from yellowing. And who wants to grab that favorite shirt that you haven't worn in months and find it yellow? . . .
Remember, a penny saved is a penny earned. That may sound like it's backwards, but it's not. In fact, if you stop to figure out if you save ten per cent of your salary, that penny saver is ten cents earned! . . .

'Now' Generation Morals Probed By PTA Panel

"The Morals of the Now Generation," was the topic of a panel discussion at Tuesday's meeting of Kentwood Parent-Teacher Association.

Dan Shockey was moderator, and others on the panel were the Rev. Harlan Birdwell, rector at St. Mary's Episcopal Church; Mrs. Harold Rosson, head of counseling at Big Spring High School; and Miss Dolly Wilkins, elementary school counselor.

The panel aimed to discuss and describe the "new morality."

Miss Wilkins said today's youth does not believe in "Thou Shall Not," but rather "Thou Shall-With Love." She noted their trouble lies in accepting the new morality without reservations.

Mrs. Rosson stressed the new morality is in today's environment and is local in its aspect. "It is not something that is far away in another location," she said.

Rev. Birdwell emphasized that parents and teachers sometimes over-react to anxieties concerning children thus causing a greater problem than actually existed.

The summation of the panel was that parents should take time to talk to and listen to their children, and the church should teach fundamental values, "not for just today but for 10 years from now." They urged that parents set good examples for their children and not just give them advice.

Chaplain Clayton Hicks of the Veterans Administration Hospital gave the devotion. Room count was won by Mrs. Lee Freeze's first grade class.

Refreshments were served by mothers of pupils in classes taught by Mrs. Roy Anderson, Mrs. Troy Allgood, Mrs. Ray Pope and Mrs. Martin Landers.

The district spring conference was announced for April 23 in Big Spring. The annual Book Fair will be held this year, with emphasis being placed on paperback books.

The next PTA meeting will be at 3:45 p.m., Feb. 10.

TOPS Club Views Demonstration

Patrolman Stewart Dickson and Patrolman Richard Talley of the Big Spring Police Department showed a narcotics exhibit and answered questions at Monday's meeting of the TOPS group in the YMCA. Mrs. Tim Lee presided, and a total weight loss of 19 pounds was reported by the 29 attending. The next meeting will be Monday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA, with Capt. R. J. Gibson as guest speaker.

HD Club Approves Recommendations

Mrs. Billy Gaskins read the home demonstration council 1970 recommendations, which were approved, at Tuesday's meeting of the Knott Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins. Mrs. R. J. Shortes presided. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be Jan. 27 in the home of Mrs. Billy Gaskins.

Mrs. Orbin Daily Has Many Interests

By RHODA LEMONS
Mrs. Orbin Daily, a woman of many interests, has reared two children while working full time as cashier for the Big Spring Water Department.

She and her husband reside at 1805 Choctaw, and he is an employe of the United States Post Office.
Mr. and Mrs. Daily share an interest in the Masonic Order. He is a Mason, and she is associate matron of Big Spring Chapter No. 67, Order of Eastern Star. She will become worthy matron in June. The Dailys, who attend meetings in Midland, Odessa and Lamesa, have developed a wide circle of friends in these neighboring towns through lodge work.

Mr. and Mrs. Daily's children are Orbin (Bob) Jr. of Big Spring, and Mrs. Richard (Barbara Ann) Shaughnessy of Arlington, Va. They have three granddaughters.
Mrs. Daily (Barbara) is also a member of the Social Order of Beauceant, and until recently, taught a Sunday school class at College Baptist Church.

While Daily is the gardener of the family, Mrs. Daily has a special fondness for two date palms in their back yard, watching carefully to see that they are nurtured. Other trees include pecan, apricot and two magnolia trees.
Mrs. Daily freezes peaches and other fruits and vegetables that are seasonal. They grow some vegetables in the back yard.
One of Mrs. Daily's main interests is sewing. She makes almost her entire wardrobe and sews for granddaughters. She has knitted a full-length coat for herself, and has crocheted numerous bedspreads, table cloths and afghans.
The family's favorite food is chicken fried steak with potatoes, green salad and chocolate pie. Mrs. Daily prepares this meal often, and in summer, Daily, the outdoor chef, grills the steaks over a charcoal fire.

MRS. ORBIN DAILY

Mrs. Daily began working when Barbara Ann was in the second grade. She first worked for Tandy Leather Company, no longer in business, remaining with them for 10 years. She retired for about a year before going to work for the city.
The Daily living room is done in pale gold with accent chairs of royal blue. Their bedroom is in bright orange and yellow. "Pink is really my favorite color," said Mrs. Daily. "But I don't use it much in my home. I don't know why, except that I have such few things that pink does anything for."

Mrs. Daily does housework on weekends, catching up with ironing, laundry and other chores on Saturday.
"Sometimes, I think I do everything the hard way," said Mrs. Daily. However, she must manage quite well to accomplish so much.

Syrup Gives Sponge Cake Extra Spice

Corn syrup gives sponge cake extra flavor.

SPONGE CAKE
1 1/4 cups sifted cake flour
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. cream of tartar
5 large eggs, separated
3/4 cup light or dark corn syrup
1 tsp. vanilla

On wax paper sift together flour, one-fourth cup of the sugar and salt; turn back into sifter. Add cream of tartar to egg whites and beat until slightly mounded when beater is withdrawn; gradually beat in remaining one-fourth cup sugar; slowly add corn syrup and continue beating until whites stand in straight stiff peaks when beater is slowly withdrawn.

Without washing beater, beat egg yolks until thickened and lemon color; beat in vanilla. Fold egg yolks into egg white mixture. Gradually fold in dry ingredients, sifting about one-fourth cup at a time over surface. Turn into ungreased 10-inch angel food cake pan. Cut through with rubber spatula to remove large air bubbles. Bake in preheated 325-degree oven until cake is lightly browned — 50 to 55 minutes.

Invert pan and let cake stand until cool — about 1 hour. Loosen sides with spatula and ease out.

Note: Cake may also be baked at above temperature in 13x9x2 inch cake pan about 45 minutes; in two 9 by 1 1/2 inch cake pans for about 35 minutes; in three 8 by 1 1/2 inch cake pans for about 30 minutes. Invert to cool for about 20 minutes or until just slightly warm. Loosen sides with spatula and turn out on wire rack to cool completely.

Chicken With Pears Makes Exotic Fare

SAN FRANCISCO DISH — Easy and quick to prepare

"Chinatown Chicken with Pears" is a "where-but-in-San Francisco" sort of dish. It's glamorous as can be, but blissfully simple to prepare.

Bake chicken breasts, then top them with a sweet-sour fruit and vegetable sauce that features fresh Bartlett pears, one of California's most-prized agricultural products.

CHINATOWN CHICKEN WITH PEARS

6 chicken breasts
Salt
1/2 cup melted butter or margarine
3 fresh California Bartlett pears
1 can (13 1/2 oz.) pineapple chunks
1/4 tsp. ground ginger
Dash ground cloves
1/2 medium-size onion, sliced
2 tbsps. cornstarch
1 can (11 oz.) mandarin oranges (optional)
1/2 cup diced green pepper
Rub chicken with salt; place in shallow baking pan; brush with butter. Bake uncovered in 350-degree oven about one hour, basting occasionally with pan drippings. Meanwhile, halve and core pears; cut lengthwise into thick slices. Drain pineapple, saving syrup. Remove cooked chicken to platter and keep warm. Stir ginger and cloves into drippings. Sauté onion and pineapple in drippings. Add pears and saute one minute. Blend pineapple syrup with cornstarch; add to mixture; cook and stir until thickened. Drain oranges and add to mixture with green pepper; heat two or three minutes. Serve over chicken. Makes six servings.

Use Tangy Relish With Leftovers

Leftover turkey in the freezer? This relish can accompany it.
CRANBERRY WINE SAUCE
2 cups fresh cranberries
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup red wine
1/2 cup water
Into a three-quart saucepan turn all the ingredients. Over low heat stir until sugar dissolves. Boil rapidly, uncovered, until berries pop — five to 10 minutes; if some berries don't pop, mash them with a spoon. Cool without stirring. Turn into serving dish, cover and chill. Makes about two cups.

Prepare Quality Foods For Freezer

Preparing foods for the home freezer? Freeze only high-quality food, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Handle all foods to be put into the home freezer as little as possible, since bacteria are spread by handling.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

When you are using prepared stuffing for a duck, add orange juice instead of the water called for and you'll have fine flavor. Adding a little grated orange rind won't hurt either!

If moisture is collecting inside your refrigerator, it may be because you are opening the refrigerator door too often.

Cut out pie dough in large rounds and bake. Sandwich two rounds together with creamed chicken or crabmeat; garnish with pimiento. Delightful for a company lunch.

Whip half a cup of heavy cream and add a couple of tablespoons of sugar and a little vanilla; heap into small paper cups and freeze. When cream is firm, drop the cups into a plastic bag and seal air-tight. You can keep the cream in the freezer for a month and it will be great to have on hand for a dessert topper.

Broil fish steaks and heat barbecue sauce, pour the sauce over the fish and serve with rice or mashed potatoes.

When there are lipstick stains on your white cotton or linen napkins, rub the stains with vaseline, then wash in hot suds. If stains persist, bleach with hydrogen peroxide.

Thread scallops on skewers alternating with squares of bacon and small mushroom caps. Brush with butter and broil.

Mix grated cheese and buttered bread crumbs; sprinkle over tomato halves; broil. Delicious served with broiled chops.

Add drained canned kidney beans (the red variety) to a nippy cheese sauce and serve over crisp toast for Sunday-night supper.

Sour Pickles Are Made With Spices

Sour pickles are brine stock pickles which have been finished in vinegar with spices, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Sweet pickles start as sour pickles from which the vinegar has been drained. They are finished in sweet, spicy liquors which are added from time to time until the desired degree of sweetness is attained.

ORANGE CURRY STUFFING — Tastes delicious with chicken or pork chops. Makes an elegant meal from simple basic ingredients and is good enough to serve for a party.

Stuffing Recipe Worth Its Weight In Gold

An excellent stuffing recipe is worth its weight in gold. Orange-Curry Stuffing with a golden touch of tart-sweet orange marmalade, is just such a gem.
With green onions for nip and celery for crunch, the stuffing is made primarily of rice. The delicious additions include exotic curry, bringing a whiff of the mysterious Orient to your dining table. But, as with most valuable possessions, the recipe is a simple one. Make it ahead if you wish, refrigerate it and heat it with the meat come dinner time.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently become engaged and am in the process of planning my wedding. A problem has arisen about which my mother and I disagree. Let me explain the background:

When I was 16 I got into trouble. The boy ran out on me, but I kept the baby, and with the help of my wonderful family I raised the child. (She is now nearly five.)

Abby, I want to have the kind of wedding every girl dreams about. My fiance says that he is with me all the way. I want a wedding gown and veil, and bridesmaids and organ music, and I even want my daughter to be my flower girl. It's not like nobody knows about what happened to me, Abby. All my friends and relatives know, and so do his. My mother said it isn't "right." Please help me make up my mind. I know that a wedding gown and veil is supposed to be for a first wedding only, but even though I am a mother, this IS my first wedding. Would it be so wrong?

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR WITHHOLD: If you want to have your "dream wedding" and your fiance is "with you all the way," then I vote with you.

However, instead of a stark white gown and veil, I suggest off-white, ivory, or a pale pastel. And please don't think me unkind, but having your daughter for your flower girl would undoubtedly call attention to that part of your life which I think is better de-emphasized on your wedding day. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is quite a talented young artist. She's not "great," but there is a local demand for her paintings, and she has done quite well.

Recently an aunt (my sister) expressed a desire for one of her paintings, so my daughter spent several weeks painting a special picture for this aunt's birthday — as a surprise.

When the gift was presented, the aunt had nothing but criticism for it. "This was wrong, that wasn't right, and the colors weren't good, etc."

My daughter listened to all the criticism, then picked up the painting and said, "If you want a photograph, I'll buy you a camera." My sister was indignant, to say the least.

My daughter sold the painting for $150. The aunt is now threatening to see a lawyer. She says that painting was HERS, and my daughter had no right to sell it. Has my sister a chance to get the painting?

IN THE MIDDLE IN HOUSTON

DEAR IN: I would say that by clear implication, the painting was offered and rejected, so the painting was not your sister's until your daughter had given it to her. However, if this case ever gets to court, anything can happen. (P.S. One thing is certain, your sister will never make the diplomatic corps.)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Fertilizer Boosts Yields

L A M E S A — Fertilizer, especially that indicated by soil tests, sharply increased cotton yields for Buster Snellgrove in his dryland cotton fertilizer demonstration last year.

County Agent Lee Roy Colgan said that Snellgrove used 0-0-0 (check plot), 30-0-0; 0-20-0 and 30-20-0 (the soil test recommendation) in this demonstration. The check plot made 360 pounds lint per acre; 30-0-0 made 412 pounds; 0-20-0 made 350 pounds and 30-20-0 made 468 pounds.

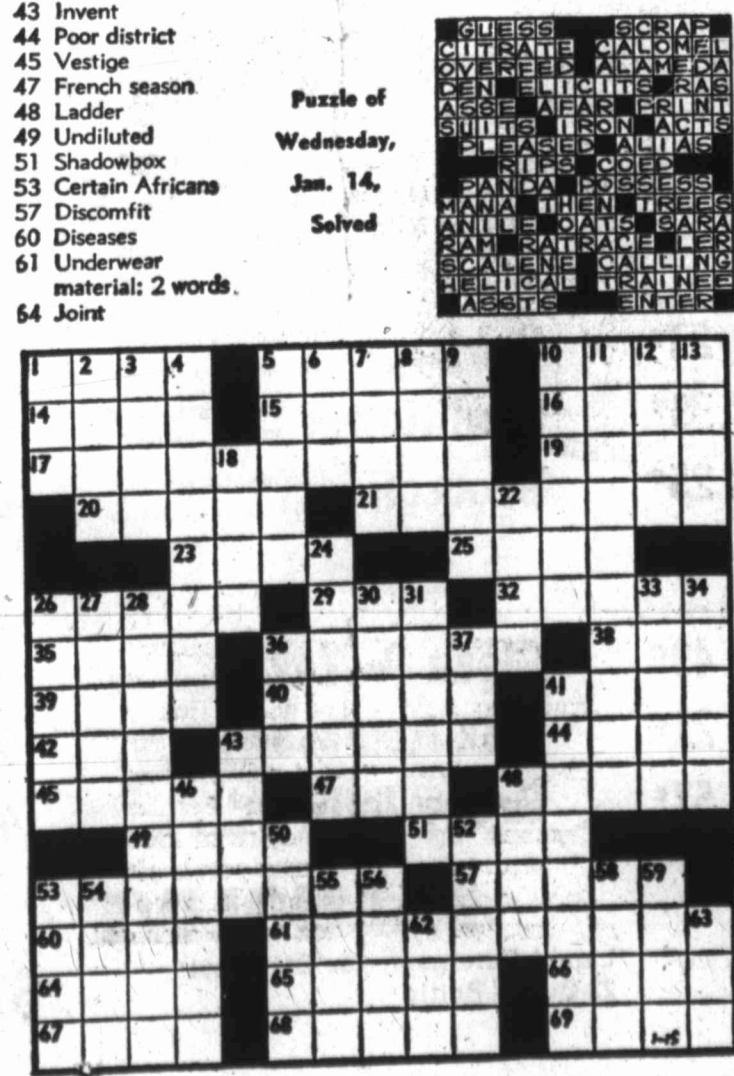

In this demonstration his return for the 30-0-0 and 30-20-0 was around $4 return for each $1 spent for fertilizer, Colgan reported.

This cotton was planted on June 1 and harvested Dec. 8. He planted 16 pounds per acre in a 2x1 row pattern. He received approximately 34 inches of rainfall, an abnormally high amount.

"This again proves that three times out of four we should expect a good return on fertilizing dryland cotton. A good soil test can be a handy tool for a guideline in making a decision on what rate to use," Colgan added.

$2,689,000 First Round Lost By Bank

LUBBOCK (AP) — Homer C. Maxey won a $2,689,000 judgment Tuesday against the Citizens National Bank of Lubbock, which he accused of scheming to take away properties he owned.

The award by a district court jury in a suit over foreclosed notes was the largest ever granted in a civil suit here.

Bank president Willard Paine said his institution will appeal the decision.

Judge Pat S. Moore ruled before the case went to the jury that the evidence did not support an allegation of conspiracy. She said, however, that the value of Maxey's assets and liabilities on the date of a bank foreclosure in 1966 was a question for the jurors to decide.

Trial of the case began last Oct. 27.

Maxey, who spent 17 days testifying, said after hearing the verdict, "I feel great. If I had won a dollar, I'd have won."

Speaking for the bank, Paine said, "We intend to pursue every available legal avenue with confidence that ultimately the bank's position will be vindicated."

The jury decided that the bank bought capital stock in two Maxey corporations for nearly $12 million less than the actual value of the stock.

In addition the jury awarded $15 million in exemplary damages in the view that the bank acted with "evil intent" or with gross disregard for Maxey's rights in the foreclosure.

Fair market value of capital stock in the Plaza Building Corp. with the Maxey family owned, was $1,031,000 at the time the bank foreclosed, the jury decided. Evidence was offered that the bank's Monterey-Lubbock Corp. paid $749, or $1 per share, for this stock.

Stock in the Maxey Lumber Co. was worth $370,000, the jury held, instead of the $231,000 paid for it by the bank.

HOWARD McDANIEL
Cattleman Name Field Inspector

Howard D. McDaniel, Midland, has been appointed a field inspector for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association, according to Don C. King, secretary-general manager. He succeeds Jeff Dunham, who recently retired after 28 years of active service as an inspector for the TSCRA. McDaniel will be stationed at Midland, the headquarters for District 4 which includes the counties of Andrews, Crane, Ector, Glasscock, Howard, Irion, Martin, Midland, Reagan, Sterling, Tom Green, Upton, Ward, and Winkler. McDaniel previously served six years as a field inspector in the Midland district from 1954 to 1960, then serving until 1967 with the American Quarter Horse Association, and most recently as a criminal investigator with the Midland County Sheriff's Office.

War Against Poppy Fields

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Members of the Mexican army and federal judicial police are gathering forces for a two-month intensification of the battle against the poppy fields. The federal attorney general's office issued everything from frying pans and cans of food to high-powered weapons and flame throwers to the judicial police who will find and destroy the fields. Together, the seven army battalions and judicial police will have at their disposal 10 helicopters, 14 small airplanes, and a variety of land vehicles. Traditionally the troops also use horses and mules to reach the fields, many of which are in mountainous regions inaccessible by other means. The campaign, which begins next week, is conducted annually in the states of Sinaloa, Durango, Nayarit, Chihuahua, Jalisco, Guerrero and Nuevo Leon at about this time, when the plants are ready for harvest and more easily spotted because they are blooming. Defense Secretary Marcelino Garcia Harragan, in an announcement endorsed by President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, said recently that in 1969 defense units destroyed a total of 9,200 fields of poppies and 1,100 of marijuana. The poppies were planted on fields covering 26.5 million square meters and the marijuana plants on 7.2 million square meters, he said, and were located in more than half of the Mexican states and territories. Garcia Barragan added that 85.8 million poppy plants were destroyed and 1,800 kilograms of seeds confiscated. Marijuana plants destroyed totaled 52 million, seeds confiscated, 15 kgs, and bags and sacks ready for distribution, 18,500 kilos. During the 1969 campaign he said, 450 individuals were arrested and turned over to federal judicial authorities.

Don Womack drew one year, Ken Perry and Marvin Miller drew two and John Currie and Winston Wrinkle three. Womack is president, Perry is vice president, and Currie is secretary-treasurer. The directors also discussed renegotiation of a lease with Woodrow Robinson, who has been leasing the Big Spring Industrial site, and voted to transfer funds from the Big Spring Industrial Fund into the Big Spring Industrial Foundation.

Industrial Panel Elects Officers

The Big Spring Industrial Foundation board of directors met at noon Wednesday and drew lots for length of service to work out a staggered election system. Don Womack drew one year, Ken Perry and Marvin Miller drew two and John Currie and Winston Wrinkle three. Womack is president, Perry is vice president, and Currie is secretary-treasurer. The directors also discussed renegotiation of a lease with Woodrow Robinson, who has been leasing the Big Spring Industrial site, and voted to transfer funds from the Big Spring Industrial Fund into the Big Spring Industrial Foundation.

PLAYS FRIDAY, SATURDAY 'Up The Down Staircase' Is A Delightful Comedy

Big Spring High School drama students have a treat in store for local citizens Friday and Saturday nights.

That's when the production of "Up the Down Staircase" is scheduled in the high school auditorium. Curtain time is 8:15 p.m.

Some 30 students have been working on the two-act comedy since before the Christmas vacation, and the dress rehearsal Tuesday night showed promise of an excellent performance.

The play concerns a young, idealistic teacher planning to conquer the world through her teaching, only to be overwhelmed by mountains of paperwork and inconsistent memorandums from the administration.

Ginger Adams as Sylvia Barrett, the young teacher, does an outstanding job, considering she is onstage about 99 per cent of the time and has most of the dialogue. Her bubbly characterization of Sylvia reflects both her own talent and the talent of Mrs. Joy Shaver, high school drama teacher, who directed the play.

Belinda Gonzales deserves special recognition for her bitter-sweet portrayal of Bea Schachter, the older teacher who tries to give Sylvia the benefit of her experience. Her characterization of the older somewhat disillusioned but still enthusiastic teacher makes it hard to remember Miss Gonzales is still a high school student herself.

Fine performances also can be expected from Bill Truett as Joe Ferone, the rebellious delinquent; Michel Pope as Jose Rodriguez, the shy student who signs his notes in the suggestion box "Me"; and Ed Frazier as Lou Martin, the inevitable classroom comic who sets the tone of the play in the first minutes of act one when he stumbles into the classroom and says "Hi, Teach."

The cast is too large to enable individual attention here, but all do a good job, and the play is well worth the price of the admission — $1.25 for adults, 75 cents for students and 35 cents for children under 12.

Other students include Bobby McCracken as Dr. Maxwell Clarke; Steve Burnett as Paul Barringer; Steve Pyles as J. McHabe; Liz Lipscombe, Ella Friedenberg; Marjorie Carlton, Frances Egan, R.N.; Norma Backs, Charlotte Wolf the librarian; Ben Johnson, Samuel Bester; and Debra Tate, Sadie Finch.

Members of the class include Marshall Horn, Sabra Fuller, Tracy Guess, Cecelia Coffer, Randy Grimes, Joy Stevens, Lynn Schaefer, Bennett Fletcher, Martha Talbot, Veanda Griffith, Kathleen Thompson and Kelly Draper and Rickie Ray Thomas.

Other cast members include Martha Boodle, Nancy Bortner, Jere Tonn and Jill Shaver.—JF.

Lions Told About Course

Four-fifths of the people who graduate from high school do not attain college degrees, and vocational-technical training is beamed at helping this heavy majority, Doyle Holder, coordinator of the mid-management program at Howard County Junior College, told the Downtown Lions Wednesday at the Settle.

Mid-management is only a small fraction of the effort, but Holder said he felt that it made a definite contribution to helping business and industry.

This program, which calls for two years of work at the college, utilizes on-the-job training, but "if people are just looking for a job, they don't want this program," said Holder.

In addition to working in a business situation, students get a concentrated exposure to business skills including such things as accounting, data processing, business psychology, business law, writing economics, speaking, sales, advertising, problem solving, etc. The objective is to produce people who can function at the sub-management level in operation of businesses.

Participation in a club for mid-management students also adds leadership training along with social development, proficiency, etc., Holder added.

Visitors for the day included E. N. Thompson, Dewayne Schuessler, and Ronnie Lewis of the Midland Southside Club. W. A. Clark, president, announced a board meeting for Jan. 22. Jimmy Ray Smith, zone chairman, reported on the district 2A-1 mid-winter conference in Colorado City.

Inciting Riot Deliberations

HOUSTON (AP) — A jury resumed deliberations today in the trial of two men charged with inciting to riot at the University of Houston last March.

Dwight Allen, 21, and Gene Locke, 22, are accused of provoking a disorder at the University Student Center March 17 which school officials said resulted in $2,000 damages.

The defense asserted Allen and Locke tried to stop the destruction of property in the Student Center's Cougar Den and Bookstore rather than trying to encourage it.

Smoking Film

The VA videotape shown today at 1:30 p.m. in Room 232 of the VA Hospital concerned smoking. "Fair Warning" discussed the physician's role in helping patients stop smoking. Emphasis was placed on methods of presenting information and counseling patients who wished to stop smoking for health reasons. Community medical personnel are invited to all videotape showings. Those unable to view tapes at specified times may request a special viewing from C. E. McDonnell, chief of medical administration.

SBA-Mafia Loans Probe

DALLAS (AP) — Hilary Sandoval, head of the Small Business Administration, said Wednesday that SBA loans across the nation are being investigated to sort out those made to members of what he called the Mafia crime syndicate.

Sandoval said, "We are determined to purge the SBA of any loans that even vaguely suggest Mafia connection or infiltration."

He said the heads of the 64 SBA offices have been instructed to search through their files and find any such loans.

He said, "We are conducting a witch hunt. All suspected cases will be turned over to the Justice Department for appropriate action."

Sandoval said that Mafia connections have been known since 1962. He said reports indicate that some SBA loans have been made to people suspected of Mafia connections in New York, Chicago and New Orleans. He said no such loans are known in Texas.

Mistrial Ordered In Lone Star Steel Bombing Case

MOUNT PLEASANT, Tex. (AP) — A district judge has declared a mistrial in the case of Bobby Frank Clifton, one of three men charged in the bombing of two trucks during the Lone Star Steel strike last April.

Dist. Judge Morris Rolston declared the mistrial after the defense filed a motion saying that the chief defense attorney, Welby Parrish, was ill with a respiratory infection and unable to continue.

Dist. Atty. Alford Flanagan said he would not wait for the next court term in April but will call the case again in the next few weeks.

Clifton, 36, of Lone Star, Tex., where the multi-million dollar steel plant is located, was charged last April along with two other men, of bombing trucks hauling the firm's products.

The bombings were reportedly part of a long line of violence plaguing the company and strikers at Lone Star Steel Co. since the strike began in December, 1968.

The plant public relations chief, Mayo Lanagan, said the violence included so-called "mass picketing," beatings, shootings, fire-bombings and murder.

One man was killed and two maimed by the frequent gunfire.

Clifton was arrested shortly after the bombing which occurred at a motel here. Also arrested and now awaiting trial, were Cordus R. Clements, 40, of Pittsburg, Tex., and Richard D. McClellan, 38, of Daingerfield, Tex.

A sheriff's deputy said a .30 caliber rifle was recovered from the 1963 Ford which the men drove to the truck stop. The trio was among 2,700 men who walked out of Lone Star Steel Co. plant six months prior to the bombing.

The men were charged in the bombing which left a pile of junk of two huge trucks of the Fort Worth Pipe and Supply Co. which were hauling Lone Star products.

Five months prior to the bombings, Clements had been charged with simple assault after a prospective Lone Star employee was beaten.

The Lone Star employees accepted a company offer of a new contract on May 11, 1969, to end the strike.

Unemployment Rise In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Employment Commission said Wednesday that unemployment increased in Texas by 135,000, or 2.9 per cent of the labor force, in November.

The November 1968 percentage was 2.7 per cent.

Clouds Form Over Texas

By The Associated Press

Clouds formed over much of Texas today as a Pacific front approached from the west, and occasional light rain or showers were expected in the northwest and north central parts of the state by tonight.

Prospects for a little rain were seen in all sections by Friday.

Forecasters looked for a more frigid arctic front to thrust into the north edge of the Texas Panhandle and send temperatures tumbling there Friday night.

Occasional ground fog and patches of low clouds dotted broad areas this morning, leaving skies relatively clear only in the western third of the state.

Among points reporting fog were Big Spring, Childress, Wichita Falls, Mineral Wells and Palacios.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from a sharp 22 degrees at Dalhart in the Panhandle up to 49 at Brownsville in extreme South Texas.

Gunners Blast Two Lebanese Villages

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli gunners fired mortar barrages at two Lebanese villages early today in retaliation for a bazooka rocket attack on an Israeli settlement by Arab guerrillas inside Lebanon.

The Arab rockets did no damage to the border settlement of Hanita, four miles inland from the Mediterranean, the Israeli military command said. It was the first reported attack on Hanita since 1948.

Police in Haifa reported two Israeli Arabs were arrested on charges of spying for Egypt. A police spokesman said the case was cracked Wednesday when one of the suspects tried to leave Israel on a false passport.

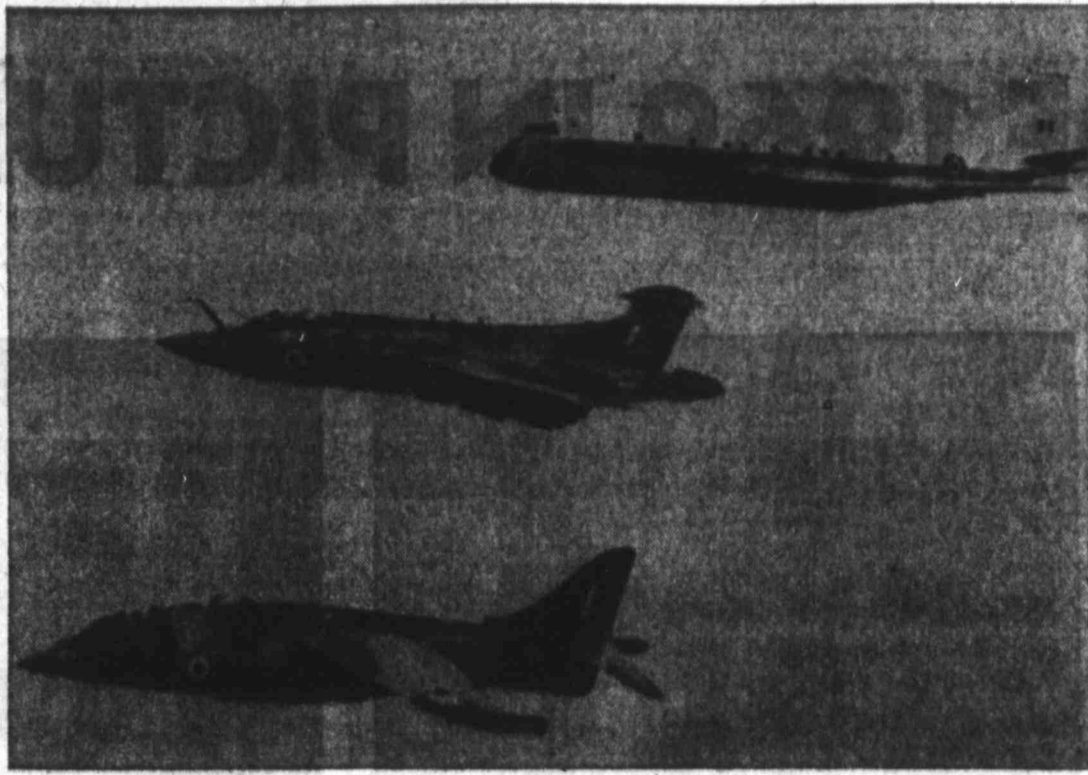

The World Jewish Congress wound up a week of meetings in Tel Aviv with a resolution criticizing the "overt and implicit embargo on defensive arms to Israel by some of the great powers."

The congress also expressed concern over Arab propaganda and noted increased anti-Semitism in the world. It called on the Soviet Union and Arab countries to allow Jews to emigrate if they wish.

The Belgian government started an investigation of newspaper reports that American weapons and military equipment had left Belgium aboard an Israeli ship. The newspapers Het Laatste Nieuws of Brussels and Gazet Van Antwerpen of Antwerp said guns, armored vehicles and crates with unknown contents were loaded aboard the Israeli freighter Tamar at Zeebrugge after arriving in West German railway cars.

A harbor source said the material was shipped as scrap, but the two newspapers said it appeared to be in good condition.

TACTICAL TRIO — The Nimrod (top), one of the world's most advanced maritime reconnaissance aircraft; the Buccaneer, a multi-role, two-seat jet of near-sonic performance (center); and the Harrier (bottom), the world's first fixed-wing, vertical-short take-off, close support fighter, join each other in the air over Hatfield, England, Wednesday. They were on their first flight together from Hawker Siddeley Aviation's airfield, owned by the company which manufactures them.

Federal Probers Checking Galveston Bay Pollution

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Federal Water Pollution Control Advisory Board will conclude its four-day, fact-finding tour of the Southeast Texas coast today.

The board, headed by Carl Klein, assistant secretary of the interior, faces its second day of hearing, state officials explain what has been done in this area to abate water pollution.

Klein indicated that it might be two weeks before any conclusions on the board's findings are released. He has been telling the various state and local officials of their pollution problems are serious.

REGIONAL APPROACH — The board concentrated on the Houston ship channel and Galveston Bay problems at Wednesday's session. The hearing was preceded by two days of travel by the board over the Houston-Galveston area, the Beaumont-Port Arthur industrial complex and the Corpus Christi Bay and harbor.

The Water Quality Board, which regulates effluents discharged by industry and municipalities across the state, said it favored the regional approach to sewage treatment facilities.

Hugh Yantis Jr., executive director of the board, said the regional approach—where everybody pipes their sewage to the same disposal unit—is more expensive to build, but is cheaper in the long run.

The board praised the Gulf Coast Waste Disposal Authority a newly created regional system.

After hearing from the heads of the several state agencies involved in either water development or pollution, Klein and the board members expressed concern over the possible duplication of effort.

"I'm worried about the building of little kingdoms," Klein said. "The state should be the guiding way."

WHY NOT?

"Isn't it just possible there is more than a little redundancy here," asked Edward P. Morgan, a news commentator and an advisory board member. "Why not one central authority?"

By that time, the board had heard from the Water Quality Board, the Water Development Board, the various river authorities and the Texas Water Conservation Association.

A proposal to finance about a third of this $5 billion plan was turned down by voters last year.

Gov. Preston Smith told the board that Texas can take care of its own water problems. He said the technical ability to plan and create monumental projects carries with it the possibility of making monumental mistakes.

He praised industry in its efforts to control water pollution these past few years. Many of the advisory board members questioned if industry had spent enough.

Comments Cost Him His Job

HOUSTON (AP) — Comments before the City Council has cost Ovide Duncantell his job with the anti-poverty program.

Duncantell was on the payroll of the Harris County Community Action Association which administers the anti-poverty program. Francis Williams, executive director, said Wednesday he fired Duncantell because remarks Duncantell made to the council may have placed the entire program in jeopardy.

Duncantell was one of several Negroes who protested before the City Council Dec. 17 the shooting death of William Dockins, 17, also a Negro.

Dockins was shot to death Dec. 11 by a policeman who said he thought the youth had a pistol although the pistol was never found. Police said the youth ran from a pickup truck that was reported stolen.

Duncantell told the council he represented the Central Committee for the Protection of Black People. He said "10 pigs will be killed for every black brother that gets murdered."

Oil Spillage Control Plan

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — J. O. Crooke of the Beaumont Chamber of Commerce Wednesday presented a cooperative plan to control oil spillage and accidental discharge into the Neches River that would involve 18 industries with dockside facilities on the river.

At a hearing of the Texas Water Control Board he suggested that the industrial terminals from the Interstate 10 bridge in Beaumont to the mouth of the river should pool their resources to establish a central index of available facilities and equipment to combat pollution.

He said the plant, the Coast Guard and area Civil Defense departments could join forces to control larger spills. He said no formal group had yet been formed, but he believed it would be formed in the future.

Richard Kammernan of Austin, an attorney for the Water Quality Board, conducted the hearing. He commended Crooke and the chamber for the proposed plan. He said the purpose of the hearing was to collect information so that the board could work out a plan.

Beer Lobbyist Named Judge

AUSTIN (AP) — Beer lobbyist Jep S. Fuller of Port Arthur has been appointed district judge in Beaumont.

Gov. Preston Smith announced the appointment Wednesday. Fuller is a former state senator. He was defeated for reelection in 1962, and registered with the House clerk last year as a lobbyist for the Texas Brewers Institute.

Smith said Fuller would serve only until his successor was sworn in after the November general election.

Fuller said he would resign from the TBI immediately. He will take the bench when the present judge's resignation becomes effective Jan. 27.

Fuller was district attorney of Jefferson County before his election.

NEW PARK SIGN — City workmen Wednesday started putting up a sign at the Wasson Road entrance to the park changing the name from City Park to Comanche Trail Park. The name change was okayed by city commissioners Dec. 23, 1969.

West Texas Officials Gig Order To Provide Food Aid

SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — A majority of officials from West Texas counties apparently dislike a proposal that they must comply with a federal court order to start providing food assistance programs for the needy.

They were told they must comply at a meeting in San Angelo Wednesday. Gov. Preston Smith had called the meeting at which a total of 114 representatives from 24 West Texas counties were officially registered. Burton G. Hackney, commissioner of the Texas Department of Public Welfare headed the meeting.

The federal court order was passed in Dallas recently. It ruled that all counties in Texas must start providing either surplus food distribution or issue food stamps to the needy.

Judge W. E. Cooke of Winkler County commented on the proposal saying, "Frankly, I don't want either of the programs in my county." His statement drew applause.

Concho County Commissioner, Charles Dankworth said, "Nobody has gone hungry in Concho County. In order to implement this program in accordance with the court's orders we are going to have to import some needy people."

Hackney explained to the assembly, "I accepted from the U.S. district attorney my part of the responsibility for the administration of these programs, and I hope that you county judges and commissioners in turn will accept the responsibility to administer the programs locally."

He said, "We are here because a court order has told us what we must do."

John Slaughter, director of

Suit Challenging High Filing Fees

EL PASO (AP) — A candidate for county commissioner has filed a federal suit challenging the validity of filing fees assessed candidates by the El Paso County Democratic Executive Committee.

William Pate sued Wednesday. He also took part in an earlier redistricting suit against commissioners court now pending in federal court.

The suit filed Wednesday charges that the committee is trying to bar prospective candidates unwilling or unable to post large filing fees to get on the Democratic primary ballot. The committee is doing so by keeping the filing fees high, the suit charges.

Wood Cutter Shot To Death

RUSK, Tex. (AP) — June Rogers, 63, a wood cutter of Alto, was found shot to death in a wooded area near Rusk today.

Police said the man was shot once by a high powered rifle.

Inflation Might Clip Growth Of Air Travel

WASHINGTON (AP) — Expansion of U.S. air travel is expected to continue this year, but the rate of growth may drop off considerably as Americans become more concerned about their inflation-damaged dollars.

The Civil Aeronautics Board is forecasting a 6 per cent increase this year over 1969 in passenger traffic on the major domestic airlines.

This compares with an estimated growth of 9 per cent in 1969.

"The comparatively low forecast for 1970 is affected by the pattern of development expected for the general economy: No real recession, but slow growth

Saw Bursts Of Gunfire During Raid

CHICAGO (AP) — A policeman told a coroner's jury Wednesday he saw bursts of gunfire come from the room in which Fred Hampton, Illinois Black Panther party leader, died during a police raid.

Patrolman Philip Joseph made the statement at an inquest into the deaths of Hampton, 21, and Mark Clark, 22, a Panther organizer from Peoria.

Joseph was one of 14 Chicago policemen assigned to the State's attorney's office who raided Hampton's West Side apartment early Dec. 4 in a search for illegal weapons.

He testified he was stationed behind the building, by the back porch of the first floor apartment.

Joseph said he saw the tip of a gun sticking out the back bedroom door and then "two pistol flashes emanating from the room where Hampton's body was found."

He described the flashes as "very small—would say pistol fire. I heard more reports but saw only two flashes. The reason I didn't see more was that I crouched down." He said another policeman yelled, "They're shooting at us."

The patrolman said that when he entered the kitchen three persons in the back room surrendered and Hampton's body was dragged out of the room.

Joseph said he was assigned to guard five persons taken prisoner in the apartment and that none were armed when turned over to him.
