AUSTIN (AP) - State Republican headquarters said today that Paul Eggers, Wichita Falls Republican who ran Gov. Preston Smith a strong race in 1968, will announce his 1970 political plans at a 1:30 p.m. news conference Thursday

Eggers is expected to announce for a second try at the governorship.

Smith has called a news conference Wednesday at which time he will formally announce for reelection. Smith has been saying since his inaugura-

Big Crowd Lays It On Line For Industry

Almost $40,000 In 15 Minutes

By GLENN COOTES

An overflow crowd in the Settles Hotel ballroom this morning heard their community called "indifferent. apathetic, and negative" toward new industries. Immediately more than 50 of them helped dispel that image by pledging almost $40,000 in 15 minutes to help prepare a site for a new industrial prospect. This, together with pledges previously obtained, accounted for $155,-575 toward a $180,000 goal. Marvin M. Miller, who heads the team to secure investments in the industrial effort. was poised to send workers out to seek the remainder quickly.

James Edward Heath, member of the Texas Industrial Council, set the tempo for the "Tell It Like It Is" breakfast, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, when he pointed out that 500 new industries were located in Texas last year, then asked: "How many did you get?"

"You have got to get involved," he said, "and give your time and money to secure your future. The Chamber of Commerce is vou," he emphasized. "Don't ask why they are not doing something; ask, why am I not doing something."

He warned of the danger of a community not having a broad enough economic base, and relying too heavily on such as a military base and the petroleum industry. He said he had talked with some residents and that if things don't change, they are planning "to pull out" because they are not doing as well now as they did two years

The biggest fault in Big Spring, he said, is "attitude." "You are pompous. We all think we are the best people in the world and that others will want to move here," he said. This is the No. 1 critical factor, he emphasized.

He said many residents are "indifferent. I couldn't believe it." In talking with residents, he said many of them "couldn't

He said some other residents "apathetic." There is a good industrial team at work to court industry, but they are not receiving support in getting the tools they need.

Regarding the goal of $180,000, he suggested it ought to be $360,000. "If you are not willing to give this support, you have no business being here," he said.

He said he found other residents are "negative." He added the city has everything going for it, mentioning the interstate highway, considerable activity, etc. "Why don't you do something?" he asked. "A lot of hard work is needed," he (See INDUSTRY, P. 2-A, C. 5)

3 Guilty Pleas, Murder Charges Still Pending

BURNET, Tex. (AP) - Three persons accused in the death of Marble Falls rancher Wesley Joe Baugh pleaded guilty Tues-day to theft and robbery charges and were sentenced, the Austin American reported today.

Murder charges filed against the three are still pending, the American said.

Baugh, 36, was found shot to death Sept. 18 on his ranch near Marble Falls. After a nationwide search Marvin Joel Kline, 26, of Monec, Ill.; John Robert Thurman, 22, of Peoria, Ill., and Barbara Ann Long, 26, of Riverside, Calif., were arrested at Rocky Ford, Colo., and returned to Texas on charges of murder,

Nixon Works To Smooth Way For Court Nominee Carswell

Nixon administration, working hard to smooth the way for Supreme Court nominee George Harrold Carswell, sent Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell to Capitol Hill as an advance man to forestall ethics questions.

Hours before Judge Carswell himself was told by the President he was his choice and hours before Monday's public announcement, Mitchell was closeted with top Republicans, displaying financial statements to show there would be no Haynsworth-like problems.

The information in hand, GOP leaders were able to rally quickly behind the Floridian when White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler made the selection public in mid-afternoon. Sen. Roman L. Hruska of Ne-

The Haynsworth nomination failed partly because of a series of ethics allegations leveled at the South Carolina judge. Many of the charges appeared to take the administration and GOP Senate leaders by surprise.

Carswell, 50, in a news conference at his home north of Tallahassee, said: "I have my home and a few parcels of real property I inherited from my father and my grandfather."

Hruska said the judge and his wife have a net worth of about $200,000. Hruska said their assets include some Georgia timberland and an interest in the Alberta Box and Crate Co.

In the 1965 swimming pool ruling, Carswell said closing the facilities following a "wade-in" by blacks "may seem tragically absurd but such decision is clearly under the law a function and responsibility of the elected public officials . . .

Since neither whites nor blacks could be served by closed pools, he reasoned, there was nothing discriminatory about the city's refusal to provide facilities.

Within the U.S. Judicial Conference, Carswell has supported efforts to set new standards of ethical behavior for judges and to have them di close their finances.

Last Dec. 1, a lottery drawing was held matching the birthdays of the nation's draft-age men with a chart of numbers from one to 366-one for each day of the year including Leap Year's Feb. 29.

Draft boards were to meet their calls by summoning men with the lowest numbers firstwithin each board's individual pool of men.

But this raised the possibility that local conditions might force high numbers up the list while as deferred men re-entered the others were still calling low 1-A eligible pool.

Such a result would have been consistent with President Nixon's order of a draft-by-lottery, but White House, Draft, and Pentagon officials concluded the public expected the numbers to rise at a more uniform pace within each board's jurisdiction, a draft official recently ex-

Without any guideline, state directors and local boards are free in February to call up the men they need without regard to how high they must go up the lottery list, or whether local boards must call widely varying lottery numbers.

On the whole, either method should arrive at about the same result over the entire year, since the law requires draft quotas be distributed to states and to local boards in proportion to a smoothing-out would work. the side of their respective draft

The financing, he said, will be provided under an agreement which pairs HUD's Government National Mortgage Association (GNMA) and the privatelyowned Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA) for the purchasing of mortgages on low-income housing.

Under the program, GNMA will buy or commit to buy mortgages at $96 per each $1,000 on the home loan. GNMA funds will subsidize the difference between the $96 and the FNMA auction price.

Romney, speaking before a session of the convention, said "inflation is distorting our economy by slowing housing starts."

In its turn, the housing shortage is contributing to inflation, Romney said, by driving up the cost of shelter.

Part of the housing shortage is caused by wage costs, Romney said. "Construction wage costs last year increased three to five times higher than in other industries.'

The total costs of housing, he said, "are the result of persons trying to take advantage of a shortage situation in a period of crisis.

'Restless Ones' To Be Screened

"The Restless Ones," considered the most successful motion picture yet produced by Evangelist Billy Graham, will be shown here Wednesday at Phillips Memorial Baptist Church, at 7:30 p.m.

With the accent on youth, this feature-length film deals maginatively and dramatically with the teenage crisis. With a background setting provided by the 1963 Billy Graham Los Angeles Crusade, and artfully woven into the story pattern, "The Restless Ones" is a hard-hitting, bold approach to our social problems.

Here is a film which dares to be different, a story which will stir the heart and mind. Having seen "The Restless Ones," you will never be the same.

As one reviewer said, "Here is a picture that tells the world the truth and comes up with an answer, not an easy answer, but an answer from beyond us.' This answer will satisfy challenge and inspire young and old alike and will appeal to churchgoers and non-church-

More Work To Be Done

The 91st Congress in its first session completed the most extensive revision of the federal tax laws in many years. An equally difficult task will be the first order of business in its second session: A comprehensive revision of the Social Security system, though benefits were increased 15 per cent across the board last year.

This task on which the House Ways and Means Committee began hearings in 1969 will to be to correct inequities, eliminate incongruities, and to regear the whole system more closely to contemporary conditions as they relate to the aged.

Since the Social Security Act was passed in 1935, it has been amended in some minor respect every year and comprehensively changed a half

And over the years its basic purposes have changed substantially. The original depression-years concept was to provide for retirement security to take the aging out of the work force to help reduce unemployment; now there is increasing pressure to allow the elderly to keep on working if they choose without losing Social Security benefits. This has special merit when it can be demonstrated that the same amount of funds as employesemployers put in Social Security could yield better returns privately - and with no strings attached. The original insurance concept - which in time was supposed to virtually eliminate welfare for the aged - has been modified by loading the system with welfare provisions.

The next session of Congress is not expected to make any drastic change in the basic structure of the Social Security sytem, though this ultimately may become necessary. It should be expected to go over in minute detail the myriad provisions regarding benefits and coverage mainly to improve the fairness of the system.

Right Decision

The staid and scholarly American Historical Association was shaken by controversy in its recent annual meeting in Washington. The unacademic issue was a batch of resolutions for the organization to take stands on such matters as the Vietnam war, conditions in the urban ghettos, racial discrimination and civil rights, and protest demonstrations and the handling of violence.

The association's majority voted against the resolutions, not on their merit but on their propriety. Distinguished and humanitarian historians argued that, as citizens, they should make their views known on such issues individually or through other politically and socially oriented organizations properly concerned with

Equally distinguished and humanitarian, if more unconventional, members of that professional organization argued that historians must, in their research, writing, and teaching, make value judgments on military, political, economic, and social events of the past. So why not, as a group, make similar judgments on such events that are current?

The association was, we think, persuaded by the right argument. It is hardly the proper role of a scholarly society to make group moral judgments by majority vote in convention gathered. A professional or scholarly organization should not commit its membership to stands on issues that are not professional or scholarly

Andrew Tully A Gamble On S. Vietnam Regime

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's agreed that holding the frontiers is leading advisers on the Vietnam War the key to the grand strategy. If the crossed the t's and dotted the i's on frontiers can be held, it is reasoned, a "final" and vital plan of grand the South Vietnamese forces should rategy at an unpublicized of the National Security Council last week. Then, presumably, they crossed their fingers.

IN ESSENCE, the strategy is a gamble against time - or, put another way, an all-out effort to force time to work on our side

It involves a big push by the rapidly improving South Vietnamese forces to destroy the Viet Cong organization within South Vietnam while Vietnamese troops, with some assistance the frontiers against a "new invasion" by the North Vietnamese. Most of Hanoi's big military units, it is now agreed, have retreated over the

THE STRATEGY is based on two assumptions: 1. That the big battles of 1968 which so infuriated American war protesters because of the heavy U.S. casualties were in fact a largescale defeat for the Communists. 2 That the success U.S and South Vietnamese troops had in beating back 1968's Tet offensive was a shot from American forces, are holding in the arm for the South Vietnamese in that it showed them they could

Billy Graham

Can a teenager be saved without giving up his social life?

Yes. He doesn't need to give up that part of his social life which is good and wholesome. Some young people have the idea that God is a joy-killer - that anything that is fun is wrong. This simply is not true. The word "joy" occurs over and over again in the Scriptures, and in the New Testament particularly. There is every indication that God wants us to enjoy life — in fact, it indicates that the only true pleasure is enjoyed by those who have accepted Christ.

And another thing: to be a Christian doesn't mean that you become a religious snob and shun your former friends. Your circle of friends is your opportunity to "let your light shine for Christ." They, like you, are looking for real meaning in life, and it is your privilege and duty to share your new-found faith with them. I know you will be reluctant to do this. So was I. But I found that when I dared to put in a word for Christ that it struck a response with my friends. From that day to this, I have made bold to put in a good word for Christ, and when I do, I find that people appreciate it, and rarely resent it. We have a notion that religion is a private and secret matter. But our Lord said: "Let your light shine before men, that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven.'

be able to search out and destroy the enemy within — the Viet Cong whose local organizations were exposed when U.S and South Vietnamese troops "reoccupied" the countryside after the Tet offensive.

THERE, OF course, is the rub. The success of the plan depends to a large extent on the Saigon government. The South Vietnamese forces are better fighters than they were two years ago, or six months ago. They are not ready to take over the war, but they are ready to go after the Viet Cong in hamlet and village — if their government will seize the opportunity to pour it on the enemy within.

President Thieu has assured President Nixon that the opportunity will be seized. President Thieu has always been fond of making assurances. This time, it is assumed, he will be held to his word by a White House warning that if Saigon falters in its appointed task the U.S will wash its hands of the whole mess and call a gigantic bluff by handing it over to the United

ALL THIS presupposes the frontiers can be held. For the next 12 months, the South Vietnamese will need the help of American foot soldiers to hold those frontiers. But the estimate is that by early next year the Saigon forces will be capable of holding the frontiers with the help only of American artillery and bombers.

IT'S A GAMBLE, all right. In the final analysis, the success of Nixon's grand strategy depends on the time element. That is to say, the local Viet Cong cells must be destroyed and the South Vietnamese army must be ready to take over the war before public opinion forces the President to withdraw most of the American

If the U.S. loses this gamble, there will be nothing to prevent North Vietnam and the Viet Cong from mounting a massive and all-out offensive which only the presence of American troops now enjoins. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

'You'll Need A Little Laughter'

Around The Rim

Dorothy Parker died, of course, without my having any hope of realizing a teenage desire to meet the famed wit, drama critic and author. Perhaps that is best, for I was never certain that I would like her as much in person as on paper. Still, I'm in her debt — for teaching me to dust myself off with laughter. WE WERE "introduced" by Miss Frances Jackson, a wonderfully dedi-cated English teacher who started nudging my natural leanings toward poetry as early as the ninth grade. Like many teens of today, I was a troubled and lonely child, seeking solace and beauty in books. Miss Jackson recognized the retreat. Seeing I was in danger of disappearing forever in the honeyed sentimentality of "Sonnets From the Portuguese," she threw me a lifeline.

(Do not think me irreverent, dear reader. It was simply not the time.) Putting the volume back on the shelf, I knocked down a thin little book. Bending to pick it up, I saw it was "Enough Rope" by Dorothy Parker. And next to it was "Sunset Gun."

I welcomed her like an old friend. We spent an hour together as I scanned the light verse, and the bitter-sweet words, as so many years ago, made me laugh at myself again.

MISS PARKER, unfortunately, is remembered by many for only two lines, "Men never make passes at girls who wear glasses." Yet she was "MY DEAR," she said, "if you inso versatile in the field of letters that she won the O. Henry Short Story Award and was often compared to her friend, Ring Lardner. Her poems were described by Franklin P. Adams with the words, "Oh, what beauty! and oh, what fun."

Republicans Gunning For Yarborough

WASHINGTON - That unnerving tick, tick, tick comes from the time bomb of the Congressional elections meaning a campaign for 35 members of the Senate and all the 435 members of the House running through the year. These off-year elections that befuddle almost every issue are a curse that conscientious men over the years have tried without success to

AS CONGRESS returns with the old familiar faces, it is a statistical certainty that some of those familiar faces will not be with us in 1971. Of the 35 seats in the Senate 25 are Democrats, 10 Republicans, Granted that the Republicans hold all of their own, and this is improbable, the loss of only seven Democratic seats would mean a 50-50 split. Under the Senate rules Vice-President Agnew would break the tie, and the Republicans would have control with all that this means in the power of committee chairmanships and the prestige of running the ship.

WITH THIS as the goal the Republicans, with plans laid long since and money overflowing the coffers, are zeroing in on a list of Democrats rated most vulnerable. The unenviable honor of heading that list is shared by two Southerners. Whether Albert Gore of Tennessee or Ralph Yarborough of Texas is No. 1 is immaterial, since they both stand in the same jeopardy in a South turned increasingly conservative.

Each state — Tennessee and Texas now has one Republican senator. To add another would be a big step toward consolidating the Southern strategy for 1972.

BOTH YARCOROUGH and Gore are in the populist tradition of the Old South that began to come into its own with the New Deal spending of the 'thirties. In Texas a Republican candidate for the Yarborough seat has already announced. George H. W. Bush, serving his second term in the House from Houston, is the epitome of the New South.

He is the ideal image candidate - smooth, outgoing, looking younger than his 45 years, a business success, no hidebound conservative and yet never stepping so far over the line as to scare the big money.

IN TENNESSEE the only announced Republican candidate is another version of the new politics. The cowboy singer, Tex Ritter, whose residence is Nashville, America's folk music center, has teamed up with Claude Robertson, an announced candidate for Governor.

Two Democrats from Western states, Gale McGee of Wyoming and Frank Moss of Utah, are high, perhaps three and four, on the vulnerability scale. With a small number of voters in the Mountain States money pumped in from the outside goes a long way in what in the cynical political vocabulary are known as cheap seats. The swing in both Utah and Wyoming has been to the conservative Republican side.

IN THE EAST Sen. Harrison A (Pete) Williams Jr., of New Jersey is high on the list. A Republicar member of the House, William T Cahill, won the governorship when the Democrats put up Robert Meyner, a fading rerun, Indictments of office holders in and around Newart brought to light long-rumore, scandals swept under the Democrati rug. In Connecticut Thomas J. Dodo censured by the Senate, is No. 6 In Indiana a Republican swing put Sen. Vance Hartke in jeopardy.

The Republicans also have their vulnerables, conspicuously two new comers, Ted Stevens of Alaska and Ralph T. Smith of Illinois. Adla Stevenson III will oppose Smith George Murphy of California has the handicap of age and illness, but with popular Gov. Ronald Reagan running for re-election he is a likely survivor. Be Wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have an opportunity now to discuss with an associate just how your joint projects are going and how to make more headway. Taking interest in some mundane affair is good. Be happy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) If you are not busy at wark, you are miserable, so get an early start and work quickly and efficiently. Discuss with co-workers how best to get things done. Be kind to them.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Ideal day to use your spare time for the kind of recreation you like and to show deep devotion to attachment. Do whatever will improve your health, also. Be careful of persons who are indecisive.
