Private Club 'Guest Card' Rule Invalid

AUSTIN (AP) — The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals today held the Alcoholic Beverage Commission's ABC controversial private club "guest card" rule invalid on a technicality and temporarily barred its enforcement.

But the court indicated the commission has a right to pass such a rule if it does so in the right way.

Enforcement was temporarily enjoined pending a new trial of the case by Dist. Judge James Meyers, who had upheld it while at the same time saying two Dallas clubs probably would be injured by it.

"Rule 56" requires that any private club guest must be personally introduced or physically accompanied by a member before being served. It also says a guest's bill must be sent to an active club member, not paid in cash or sent to the guest.

Clubs which depend for much of their business on walk-in "guests" who receive a card from the manager or a waitress claimed the rule would drive them out of business.

The appeals court's unanimous opinion by Chief Justice John C. Phillips said state law requires the board to make a "finding of facts" before issuing a rule.

Nothing in the record, however, indicates such a finding was ever made.

"Consequently, in view of the specific mandate of the legislature, the order is fatally defective," the court said. "We agree with the clubs and hold that the lack of specific findings renders the order invalid."

The court also sustained the clubs' point that the guest provision and one requiring food service in all private clubs are "invalid and unenforceable for vagueness, indefiniteness and ambiguity."

Smith Seeks Second Term

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith announced today as a candidate for re-election, something he has said he would do almost from the day he was inaugurated, exactly a year ago.

"My campaign for a second term will be based upon what we have done, what we are trying to do and what we propose to do in 1971-72," Smith said.

Smith distributed summaries of "some of the programs and progress we feel has been made" during the first year of his term.

"Yet despite what has been done, there are still problems in taxation, education, the economy, governmental efficiency, health, housing, human resources, natural resources, recreation, open spaces, transportation, environmental control and other areas," he said.

Smith said that between now and the November election he would "visit as many communities, talk with as many citizens and shake as many hands as time and the responsibilities of office will permit."

Thus far Smith has no opponent in the Democratic primary.

But John Trice, a Dallas lawyer, has said he planned to announce for governor in the Republican primary, and Paul Eggers, who lost to Smith in 1968 is expected to announce as GOP candidate Thursday.

Pupils To Get Holiday Friday

Students in the Big Spring Independent School District will get a holiday Friday, but it is not an unexpected one.

Friday is listed on the school calendar as "grade-reporting day," when teachers average grades and determine Johnny's final mark for the semester.

Students will be dismissed at the regular time Thursday, and class will start at the regular time Monday which is the first day of the second semester. Report cards are generally distributed on Wednesday.

Snow Socks Big Spring

Freezing drizzle and a light snowfall covered much of Big Spring this morning as the temperature hovered around 27 degrees. Temperatures remained low enough for light snow to stay on the ground until mid-day. The temperature was not expected to rise above mid-30's.

Most parts of the county had early morning mists freezing fog and light ice; Vealmoor, Fairview and Elbow had freezing mist. Forsan, Coahoma and east portions of Big Spring had mist freezing to ice, and Vincent had a fine mist. It appears that the west portion of town had the only significant snow.

Kidnapings Suspect, Pal Recaptured

OLATHE, Kan. (AP) — Thomas Lamb, 28-year-old former Kansas convict accused of two kidnapings and a murder, fled from the Johnson County jail early today with a companion and both were recaptured about four hours later near LaCygne, Kan., about 40 miles south of Kansas City.

Lamb, held on charges of kidnaping and murder, and Patrick McKey, a Johnson County jail trustee, who officers said aided Lamb in the escape, fled Olathe in a car commandeered from a restaurant across the street from the jail.

The owner was forced to accompany the pair.

Officers said that when the car was halted near LaCygne, Kan., McKey held the hostage, Lloyd Midyett, in the car briefly. The report said McKey then released the hostage, but remained in the car holding a gun.

Authorities said Lamb and the officers at the scene then talked McKey into surrendering.

Police at nearby Overland Park earlier said blood had been found near the scene where Midyett was abducted but it was not known whether Midyett had been injured or if possibly Lamb's wounds, suffered in the crash of his auto shortly before his capture last Friday, had bled.

Midyett, 52-year-old stationery fireman at the Kansas School for the Deaf, in Olathe, was in a restaurant when Lamb and his companion entered.

The former convict was charged with kidnaping Miss Karen Sue Kemmerly, 24, of Kansas City on Dec. 2 and strangling her, and with kidnaping Miss Patricia Ann Childs, 18, of Overland Park, Kan., Jan. 15.

Miss Childs was released in Olathe Jan. 16 after her father handed $3,500 ransom to Lamb.

Mexia Residents Okay Bond Issue

MEXIA, Tex. (AP) — Residents voted 560 to 221 to approve a $300,000 revenue bond issue to finance a new sewage treatment plant.

City officials said the new facilities would accommodate the city's needs through the year 2000.

Trio Of Docs Against Oral Contraceptives

WASHINGTON (AP) — A trio of doctors continued the medical onslaught against oral contraceptives today with more congressional testimony about suspected links between the pill and high blood pressure, strokes and fatal blood clotting.

Although none produced any hard new evidence of danger in their prepared testimony before the Senate monopoly subcommittee, all three urged caution in the use of the pill.

And one called for government support of massive research at once.

"Research from these drugs was far from complete at the time they were released for public use," said Dr. J. Edwin Wood, director of the Department of Medicine at Pennsylvania Hospital, Philadelphia.

The subcommittee, chaired by Democrat Gaylord Nelson of Wisconsin, resumed hearings to-

LOOTING BY NIGERIAN SOLDIERS AND ACCOUNTS OF RAPINGS

Famished Refugees Fighting For Food

OWERRI, Nigeria (AP) — The first newsmen allowed inside Biafra saw famished refugees fighting for food, looting by Nigerian soldiers and heard several firsthand accounts of women being raped by victorious Nigerian troops.

The farther the press party went inside former Biafran territory, the worse the conditions of hunger, homelessness and confusion became.

Everywhere refugees were on the road, teetering all their worldly goods on their heads, hunting lost husbands and children, trying desperately to change their Biafran money into Nigerian pounds to buy what food was available at little impromptu roadside markets.

A young British doctor, working in Nigeria less than two weeks, leaned his head against an ambulance and wept with rage.

"I've had Lugers stuck in both my ears," he sobbed. "My life has been threatened umpteen times by soldiers wanting to steal my trucks and ambulances. I'm not a doctor. I'm a bloody copper (policeman)."

The doctor said he had just returned from an open field where 80 to 100 wounded Biafran soldiers were "lying in their own pus and excrement, waiting for treatment that never arrived."

"They bloody well ought to be dead," he continued. "Now I've got to go try and fix them up. Don't go near them unless you've got clothespins on your nose."

The doctor, from Colchester, would only give his name as "Doctor Phil." Without naming the unit, he said the soldiers on duty in the area of the pediatric hospital at Okporo were "such monsters" he never let the nurses go anywhere without an escort, "especially white ones—the native nurses can always go bush if something happens."

"The young girls are afraid to come out of the bush, they are terrified of what will happen," Ibo novelist Cyprian Ekwensi told the newsmen. "There is now a saying among them: 'Stay in hiding or you will be conscripted into the army.'"

Arab Guerrilla Bases Hit By Armored Force

By The Associated Press

An Israeli armored force crossed into Jordan south of the Dead Sea Tuesday night and remained for nearly 20 hours, striking at Arab guerrilla bases, the Israeli military command reported today.

Jordan said there was a major land and air battle.

The Israelis said their force killed five guerrillas and suffered no casualties or damage. Al Fatah, the guerrilla organization, claimed its men killed two of the raiders and destroyed two Israeli tanks.

It was the longest Israeli penetration of Jordan since the 1967 Arab-Israeli war.

Saudi Arabian forces stationed in the area joined Arab guerrillas and Jordanian Army units in battling the Israelis, an Al Fatah communique issued in Damascus said.

A Jordanian spokesman said the Israelis threw in planes, tanks and artillery. Reports to Amman, 100 miles northeast of the battle area said the Israeli force included about 40 tanks and half-tracks backed by heavy artillery.

Israel said the armored raiding force entered Jordan to attack guerrilla bases.

An Israeli spokesman reported five guerrillas had been killed and a number of Arab vehicles damaged in the "combing operation."

No Israeli casualties were reported.

A Jordanian spokesman said the Israelis invaded, at 7 p.m. Tuesday after an air raid in which one Jordanian civilian was killed and three others wounded.

The initial Israeli announcement did not disclose the size of the raiding force.

The military command in Tel Aviv said the operation was launched "following repeated attacks from Jordanian territory on the Dead Sea potash works at Sodom and on civilian settlements in the region."

The potash works were shelled Monday night. Israelis said the shelling attacks came from the village of Safi, a target of Tuesday night's raid. It is 2½ miles inside Jordan.

This same area of Jordan was hit last May 21 by an Israeli motorized force which crossed the cease-fire line to destroy an Arab guerrilla base. That raid lasted almost eight hours.

Orders School Desegregation In Pasadena

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The sedate city of Pasadena, site of the annual Rose Bowl football game, has been placed under court order to submit a plan by Feb. 16 for complete racial desegregation of its schools.

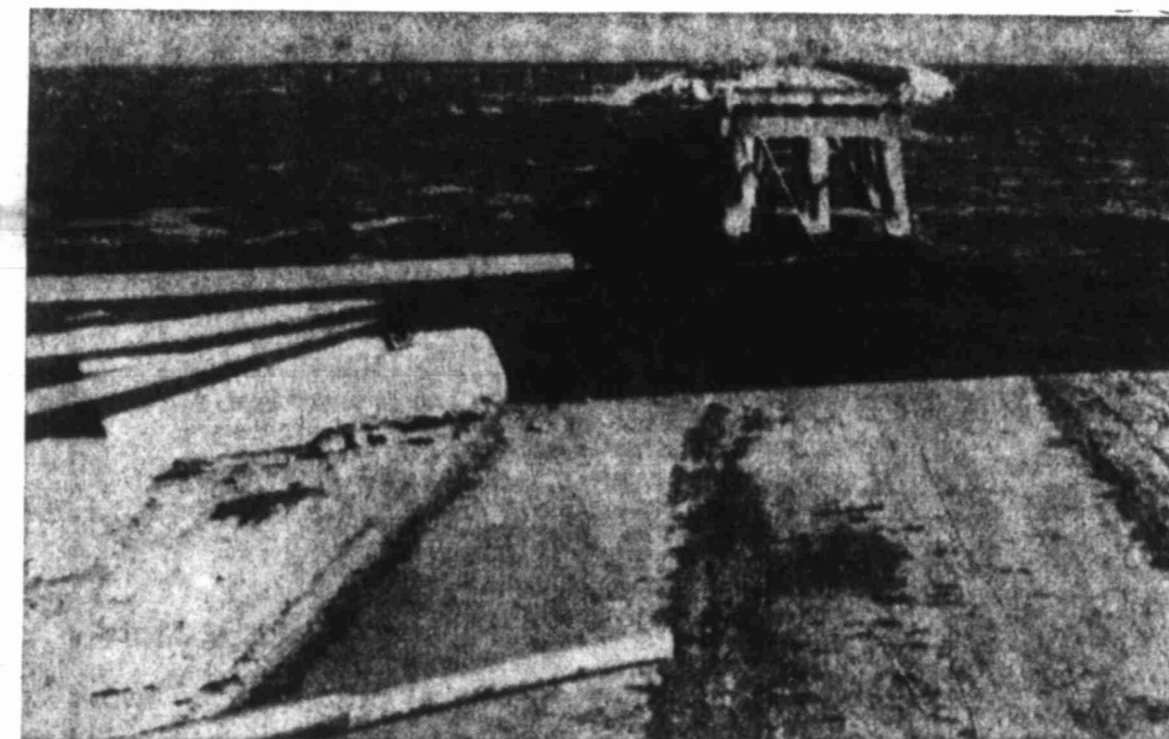

Furthermore, U.S. District Court Judge Manuel L. Real directed Tuesday that the plan must be in full effect by the start of the next school year in September.

The court's verbal ruling before a packed audience climaxed two weeks of testimony in the Justice Department's first school discrimination trial on the West Coast. Pasadena, which lies directly northeast of downtown Los Angeles, has a population of approximately 126,000.

A key provision of Real's order is that desegregation must result in no single school having a majority of students who are members of a minority group. Another is that the desegregation plan must cover racial teaching assignments, hiring policies and guidelines for teacher promotions.

School officials have said that 30 per cent of the Pasadena district's enrollment is black, 58 per cent white and the remaining 12 per cent comprised of Mexican-Americans, Orientals and members of other racial minorities.

The case was one of seven which have been brought by the Justice Department against schools outside Deep South.

Nixon Is Beginning To Talk Compromise

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House, facing stiff Republican resistance to President Nixon's threatened veto of an education money bill, is beginning to talk compromise.

Assurances have been given to key GOP members that if Congress upholds a Nixon veto of the appropriation because it goes $1.2 billion over his budget, he will accept a lesser increase in a new bill.

The case for compromise was strengthened Tuesday when the Senate voted, 74-17, in favor of the $19.7 billion appropriations bill for the departments of Labor and Health, Education and Welfare. The bill covers the current fiscal year that started last July 1.

Despite the clear warning of a veto and vigorous administration efforts to build support for it, 21 Republicans voted for the bill and only 17 against. The vote was 13 more than the two-thirds required to override a veto.

A compromise is also being considered by supporters of the extra funds in case they fail to override Nixon's veto.

At a Tuesday strategy session they decided they would come right back with a bill trimmed about $400 million and try again.

The certainty that even if a veto is sustained the issue of spending for education will not be settled was underscored during debate Tuesday in both the House and Senate. Speaker John W. McCormack said if the veto is sustained and a new bill brought before the House there is "no question" extra funds will be added to it.

The surest area of increase is the one the administration has made its chief target—the "impact" aid program, which puts federal dollars into school districts affected by federal activity, such as military installations and large defense contracts.

Nixon requested $202 million for the program but the House and Senate raised the amount to $600 million. The current impact aid figure is $521 million.

Three Men Captured

NAVASOTA, Tex. (AP) — Police captured three men today wanted in connection with the wounding of a Navasota policeman, thus ending an intensive manhunt that began shortly after midnight.

The incident occurred when patrolman Eddie Downs stopped a car for investigation at about 12:10 a.m. Two of the car's occupants escaped on foot, while the third shot the officer.

Downs suffered a skull fracture when the bullet creased the side of his head, but he is reported in satisfactory condition.

Helicopters and bloodhounds aided officers in the manhunt. As Downs was checking one of the three men in the car, the other two broke and ran.

The third then wheeled and fired a bullet which creased the left side of the officer's head, fracturing the skull.

ONE YEAR AFTER LEAVING WHITE HOUSE Sun-And-Fun Vacation For LBJ

AUSTIN (AP) — Former President Lyndon Johnson leaves today for a leisurely sun-and-fun vacation in Mexico after completing his first year as a private citizen.

RANCH WORK

But he and Mrs. Johnson find plenty of time for ranch work, visiting old friends, playing with their grandchildren and the other pleasures they missed in Washington.

The wives got a tour of the ranch, the Johnson birthplace at Stonewall and the boyhood home at Johnson City. All three sites are favorite tourist attractions.

'LITTLE LYN'

The proud grandfather likes to hoist "Little Lyn", as his parents and grandparents call him, on a small pony and then lead him around the ranch as long as the tot will cling to the saddle horn.

'WORK DAY'

Johnson likes to get out early and help with some of the ranch chores, like driving the yellow pickup truck that leads his registered herds to specially planted oat fields.

Big boxes of manuscripts and papers accompanied the vacationers as Johnson planned to continue work on his first volume of memoirs due later this year.

GOOD YEAR

Johnson, looking healthy and tanned at 61, completed his first year out of the presidency by calling in a group of hometown reporters who have asked interviews frequently—and telling them he was not to be quoted on anything he said.

BIG VOLUMES

Johnson has refused to grant interviews since leaving the presidency or press conferences, with the exception of the contracts he has for his printed and broadcast memoirs.

DEAR TW

Johnson misses the sense of achievement he had when he was president, vice president and Senate leader, but he enjoys the freedom and privacy of being a private citizen.

COCO JOINS FRIENDS — "Coco," a friendly black crow, perches on the arm of one of the first graders at Shands Elementary School in Mesquite, Tex., during his daily visit to the school. Every time the kids come to and from school the crow is waiting for them and joins the group. School officials said the bird appeared puzzled when the students were gone during Christmas vacation and flew around the school yard as if searching for his companions. The crow is reported belonging to a family that lives near the school but spends more time at the school than at home.

Draft Numbers Ceiling Reversed By Officials

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Selective Service System, trying to keep local boards in step, is suggesting they stay within lottery No. 60 in the February draft calls.

It remains to be seen how well the guidelines will achieve uniformity: the results of January's effort are not yet known.

There remains the fact, however, that many low-numbered men will not lose deferments until later in the year—especially college students subject to reclassification after June.

Polar Air Cuts Deep Into Texas

By The Associated Press

A fresh batch of polar air knifed deep into Texas today, setting off a few snow flurries, some freezing drizzle and widely scattered areas of light rain.

The renewed chill kept residents of the state shivering as a cold front came close to a standstill from the mountains of Southwest Texas to the Rio Grande and southward nearly to Brownsville, where it was rainy and still warm.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 19 degrees at Perryton in the northeast corner of the Texas Panhandle up to 66 at Brownsville, with most points in the 20s to 40s.

A little light snow fell around Perryton and also at Midland, far to the south in West Texas.

There was heavy fog at both points by dawn, along with Amarillo and Dalhart.

At Plainview, where fog froze in a white cover on exposed surfaces, light snow started falling briskly at little before daybreak.

Freezing drizzle caused a little icing also around San Angelo.

Outside the freeze belt, very light rain or drizzle early in the day dampened scattered areas from Brownsville, Corpus Christi and Palacios on the coast inland to around Cotulla, Laredo, San Antonio and Lufkin.

Forecasts promised continued cold and mostly cloudy skies throughout the state with isolated areas of freezing drizzle or light rain over the northern half, occasional snow flurries in West Texas and drizzle or rain in the southern sections.

Although much of the state warmed a bit Tuesday, the mercury climbed no higher than 27 degrees at Childress. Alice in extreme South Texas was the hot spot with a high of 75.

Aside from the 19 degrees at Perryton, other marks near daylight today included Plainview and Wichita Falls 20, Amarillo, Childress and Lubbock 22, Abilene, Denison, Sherman and Texarkana 24, Big Spring, Dalhart and Mineral Wells 26, Midland 27, Dallas and Fort Worth 28, Longview and Wink 29, Killeen, San Angelo and Tyler 30, and Waco 31.

Low Voter Registration Delays Ralph's Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said Tuesday he has not decided when he'll announce his plans to possibly run for another term.

However, the senior senator from Texas charged that the men who helped get President Nixon into the White House are now coming to Texas to help out Rep. George Rush, R-Tex., in the Senate.

'Contribute Now, Pay Later' Plea

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — State Sen. Henry E. Howell Jr. has fashioned a "contribute now, pay later" formula for raising money to pay off debts from his unsuccessful bid for the state's Democratic gubernatorial nomination last August.

Howell is sending out letters asking for contributions, and to make it easier to give he's arranged to have them charged on two popular charge cards.

A campaign aide said he thought of the idea after reading about a church that featured "pray now-pay later" donations made by charge cards.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: How can a thing like this happen to two mature, supposedly intelligent people? My best friend's husband and I are hopelessly in love. We have been meeting secretly every chance we are able to swing it, for the past two years.

We realize how much there is at stake if we are caught, but our love is stronger than we are.

We have honestly tried to stop seeing each other, but it always ends up the same way. We can't stay away from each other.

We are together with our own mates quite often, and we feel some guilt, but the four of us enjoy being together, too.

We aren't kids, Abby, we have children in college. It's too bad we didn't meet years ago, but since we didn't, we are making the most of it now.

My husband and his wife are two wonderful people, but something must have been lacking in both our marriages, or this never would have happened. It wasn't a premeditated love affair. It just happened one day accidentally when we were together — alone.

Divorce is out. We aren't hurting anybody this way, Abby, but we have only one life to live. Any advice for —

"TWO IN LOVE?"

DEAR TWO: You don't want advice, you want someone to tell you that as long as you don't get caught, you aren't "hurting" anybody.

There is one basic flaw in your thinking. You say, "This wasn't a premeditated love affair — it just happened accidentally." Not true. Nobody falls in love "accidentally." He has to break the door down.

When two people are mutually attracted to each other, they send out vibrations. (This is the beginning, and it's usually called "an innocent flirtation.") If one, or the other rejects these vibrations — no "love affair" develops.

So far you've gotten away with "murder," (or without it) which makes you two of the luckier ones. Knock it off before your luck runs out.

DEAR ABBY: My husband has a habit which is not only annoying but downright embarrassing. When we are out, he calls the waitresses, "Dear," or "Honey." I am sure he doesn't intend this to be endearing, at least he assures me that he doesn't, but it still bothers me.

Since he reads your column, perhaps you can make him realize how inconsiderate he is, since he knows I object to it so strongly.

"HONEY NUMBER ONE?"

DEAR NUMBER ONE: I'll try. Most waitresses prefer to be called "Miss." Some have their names embroidered on their uniforms, or wear pins bearing their names — which I think is the most sensible idea of all. But if you really want to help your husband overcome this embarrassing habit, suggest that he ASK the waitress what her name is. Then address her by her name.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a man who had to learn how to grow up the hard way. He accidentally took another man's life and went to prison.

For two years I never saw him. I didn't even write to him. I just did my best to take care of our six children. I never divorced him (for religious reasons) but I got a legal separation.

I got lots of letters from him, but I was so bitter, I never opened any of them. I just put them away. Then one day I sat down and opened each letter, and as I read them, I realized that they had been written by a man I never really knew.

He wasn't begging, and he didn't blame "society" or anyone else for his mistakes. He was getting the education in prison that he missed when he was a kid. He spent his time reading, and learning things that would enable him to be a better person when he got out.

He never once asked me to take him back. All he asked for was the opportunity to support me and the children.

His parole was turned down this year, but I will wait. I know a better man will come out because he has the right attitude, and I will be proud to take him back. BEATRICE

BABY BORN, NEW TWIST

CHICAGO (AP) — It was the old story of the baby born in the back of a taxi-cab, but with a new twist.

Sherry Avila, 26, of Chicago, was on a train from Peoria, returning from a baby shower, when the pains began. A Rock Island Lines trainman told the startled husband, Frank, 31, "We told her to get off at La Salle, and at Peru and at Joliet, but she wanted to be with you."

Avila rushed his wife off the train and into Erwin Hollbeck's cab. When the cab pulled up in front of Wesley Memorial Hospital, three passengers got out, including a healthy 4-pound, 5 1/2-ounce boy.

Avila told reporters that Hollbeck said only one thing during the whole ride to the hospital: "Oh, my God."

The bidding:
West North East South
Pass Pass 1♣ 1♥
Pass 3♥ Pass 4♥
Pass Pass Pass

Opening lead: Jack of ♣.
North's original pass may offend some old-timers who hearken back to the days when "three honor tricks" was considered to be a mandatory opening bid. However, with only 12 high card points and even distribution, there is not sufficient playing strength in the hand to warrant a bid.

When South overcalled with one heart, North invited a game by jumping to three hearts. To he has only three card trump support, partner is presumed to have five when he overcalls. South should have passed, since he had already told his full story with his initial bid, and a jump raise by the partner of an overcaller is not forcing. But who are we to argue with success?

West opened his singleton jack of clubs, and East gave him a third round ruff after cashing the king and ace. West exited with a small spade and the dummy was in with the king. South decided to play the opening bidder for the queen of trumps, so he led the jack of hearts and permitted it to ride when it was not covered. Two more rounds of hearts cleared up that suit and permitted South to turn his attention elsewhere.

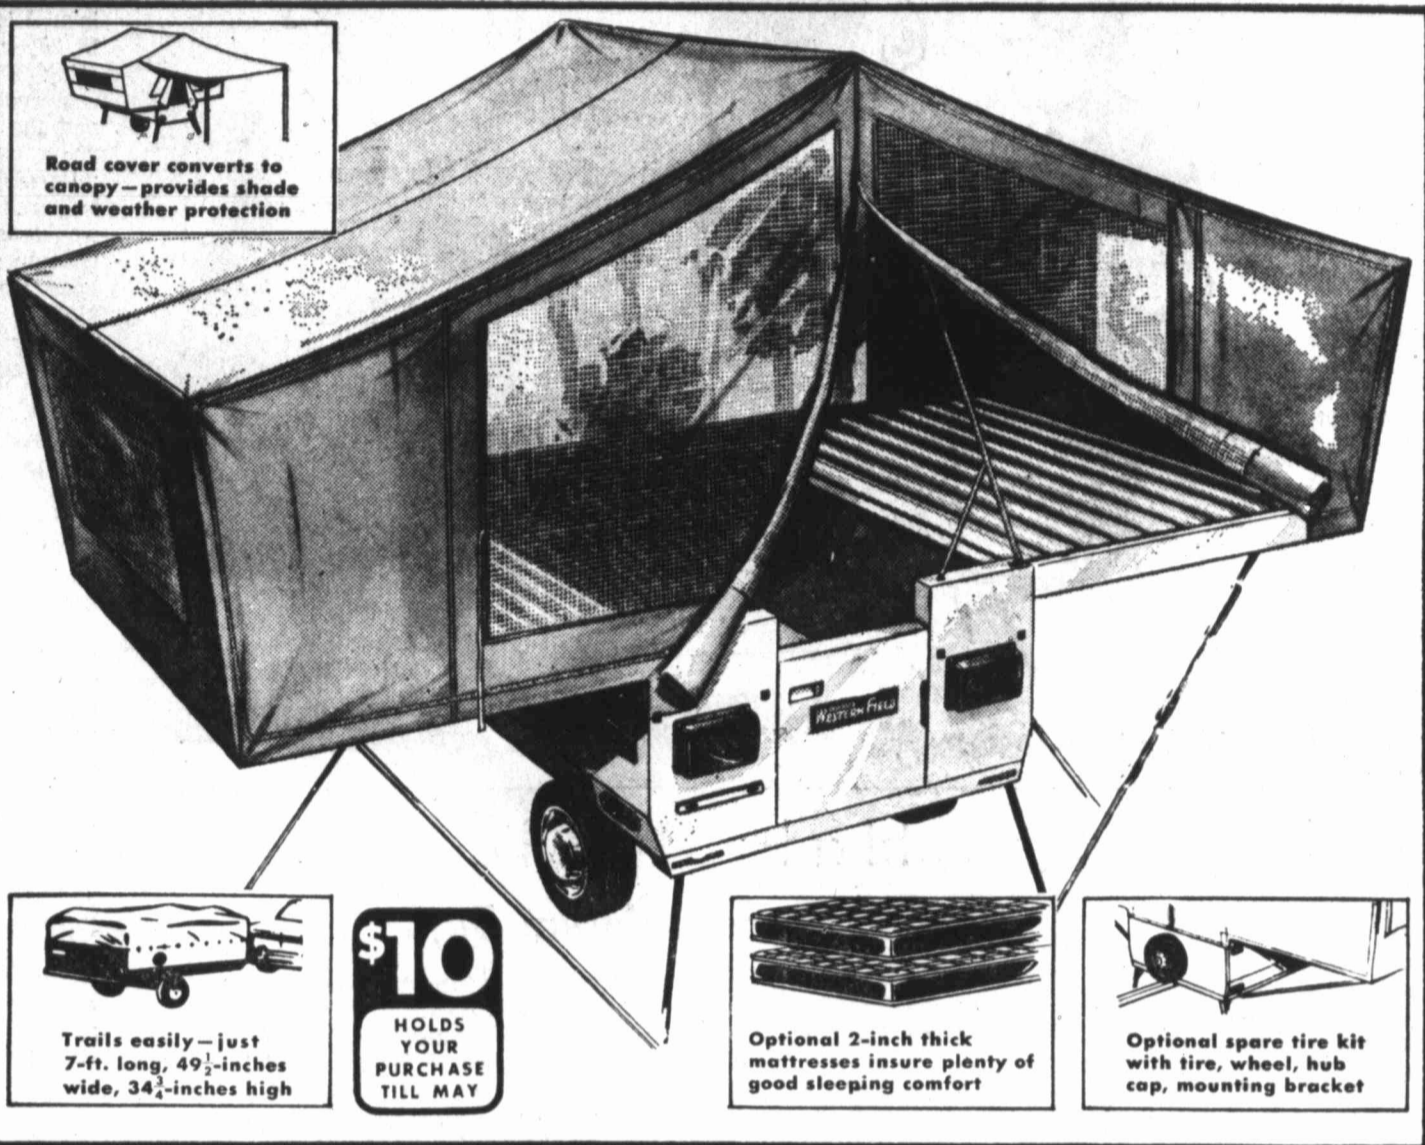

With the defensive book in, declarer had to find some way to dispose of his losing diamond. Unless there was a lone king of diamonds out, the only prospect was to execute a squeeze. Since West had shown up with only one club and two hearts, it appeared that the burden of protecting the other two suits would fall on his shoulders, so South bent his efforts in that direction.

He led a spade to the ace and ruffed a spade to eliminate East's holding in that suit. On the queen of clubs West was able to let go of a diamond, but the last trump placed him in an untenable position. He was down to the nine of spades and the king-jack of diamonds, while the dummy retained the seven of spades and the ace-seven of diamonds. West was forced to hold on to the spade, so he blanked the king of diamonds. The spade was thrown from dummy and the ace and queen of diamonds took the last two tricks.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Ye have heard that it hath been said, Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemy. But I say unto you, . . . do good to them that hate you. (Matthew 5:43-44)

PRAYER: Dear Father, deliver us from following the easy way of returning evil for evil. Strengthen us in will and spirit to obey the teachings of the Sermon on the Mount. We ask Thee for strength to love our enemies. In the name of Christ, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."

Control Of Welfare Appeals

Action by the Supreme Court of the United States this week upheld the City of Fort Worth in its ban against a door-to-door solicitation by the March of Dimes.

This apparently means that Fort Worth's ordinance affecting control of such solicitations is a valid one.

Fort Worth had denied the National Foundation a permit for solicitation after finding that expenses exceeded 20 per cent of collections (a violation of the city ordinance).

The Foundation lost its appeal to the Supreme Court of Texas and to a federal circuit court of appeals; the U.S. Supreme Court's refusal to hear an appeal apparently is the end of it.

This expression by the courts might be an impetus for other municipalities to enact the same or similar ordinance. This certainly would not be directed explicitly at the National Foundation, but toward any organization seeking funds under the banner of welfare and public good but not putting enough of its funds where donors think the money should go — helping the people who are supposed to be helped.

The great increase in special organizations which have emotional appeal to research and seek cures for various diseases should prompt a little closer look at their organizational setup — regardless of the aims of the organization.

Those which patently are meritorious and not overloaded with administrative and promotional budgets should have the green light. Those which cannot meet certain practical standards should be under restriction.

Can Be Turning Point

Paul Meek, Chamber of Commerce president, in his message to the "Tell It Like It Is" breakfast here Tuesday, said he believed that this can be a turning point for the community. This fairly assesses the importance of the meeting, it seems to us. The response of promptly raising $155,600 toward a $180,000 industrial goal offers further confirmation. There seems little doubt that an enthusiastic community can and will quickly meet this monetary goal in seeking to land a live industrial prospect, but if not this one, then another or another.

James Heath, representing the Texas Industrial Commission, spoke to the point in listing a few things which he said he felt needed changing in Big Spring. What he had to say may be sobering if not shocking; at the least, it ought to shake us up.

He listed as foremost a pompous attitude which rests on the notion that we have the best people and best community anywhere. We don't deny it; neither do we fault it. But where this is dangerous is when it gets to be a fetish — a crutch for inaction. And this is what Heath was talking about. He listed a number of other things such as a negative attitude on the part of many — he touched a raw nerve there — and apathy by many others. These and other things had resulted in an attitude of being scared, he thought.

Maybe, just maybe, this is a good thing if it jars us into action. The community that runs scared has a good chance to run well. It is moving and it is making things happen.

Many or most of the appraisals are things well known to us, and often repeated. They are true, and often someone from the outside to sock it to us is beneficial. For instance, take the premise that we need a continually expanding economic base. Indeed we do; yet it is equally important to develop a continually broadening base of popular involvement of all our people. Thus, the turnout and the response at the breakfast meeting is one of the most encouraging signs of all. The spirit, the determination, the willingness to face facts, and to work and invest all argue that this can be a turning point.

As Mr. Heath said: "It's your town."

Andrew Tully Snobbery Unconstitutional?

WASHINGTON — That is a squirming worm's nest three Federal judges have opened in ordering the Internal Revenue Service to stop granting tax-exempt status to segregated private academies established by white Mississippians to keep their children from attending school with Negroes.

The ruling applies only to schools in Mississippi, since it came on a lawsuit filed by five Negro families in that state. But the judges said it would apply to other states if they are asked to consider similar cases. The ruling also orders the IRS to stop approving contributions to the schools as tax-deductible charitable contributions.

WELL, NOW. The issue here is the exclusion of Negro children from those private academies, which the judges say violates the due process clause of the Fifth Amendment. But there may be fun and games in store. If I were the headmaster of a prep school like Exeter or Lawrenceville or Groton, I would set aside part of the day for worrying about what this opinion might mean to my cozy little establishment.

SINCE TIME immemorial, such schools have practiced de facto segregation, and still do on what might be called a more respectable scale. That is to say, enrollment requirements and tuition costs have been such as to bar not only Negroes but also white kids who are considered to lack the proper social and genealogical background.

There are also the private schools run by religious groups which bar non-practitioners of a given faith. Some have by-laws barring children of other creeds, most admit them on the same quota basis other exclusive schools set up for Negroes.

THEFORE, I hold it is permissible to suggest that those three judges, and maybe the Supreme Court, also crack down on discrimination by snobbery and religiosity — or paganism. A child prohibited from attending a school governed by adherence to such standards — to employ a euphemism — is just as deprived as a child barred from a private academy in Mississippi because he is black.

After all, the issue is not whether Mississippi's white academies are legal, but whether the schools and their financial benefactors should get a tax break. Certainly, the motives of the white academies in the South are socially questionable, but so are those of the exclusive private preparatory schools in the North.

IN THAT connection, attention is hereby directed to a provision of the three-judge ruling which states that tax exemptions will still be allowed in those cases where the IRS determines that "the applicant school is not a part of a system of private schools operated on a racially segregated basis as an alternative to white students seeking to avoid desegregated public schools."

HO HO, judges three. In Washington, New York and many other big cities private, exclusive schools have become just that — "alternatives" to white students who themselves or their parents seek to avoid desegregated public schools.

Wiser heads than mine probably will clear up this mess. But perhaps a good start would be to make snobbery unconstitutional, too.

Hal Boyle Dreams Douse Doldrum Days

NEW YORK (AP) — These are the doldrum days of the year when the banners of the spirit droop at half-staff.

The slush in the streets matches the slush in man's mind.

The daily routine chafes. A fellow has the uneasy feeling he is slowly being covered with mold, and everyone wishes he were somewhere else and doing something else.

Well, why not? That's what daydreams are for — to let us travel in imagination to where we want to go and do what we want to do.

For example, all you have to do is lean back in a swivel chair, close your eyes, and in a trice you are —

Sitting in a vast elephant graveyard in Africa surrounded by millions of dollars worth of ivory tusks, all yours for the taking.

Peering into the lovesick eyes of a beautiful veiled Arabian princess as she strums a silver lute and sings you sad songs of desire.

Speaking to a joint session of Congress in behalf of the vast silent majority of Americans, who have chosen you to be their spokesman.

Being told sorrowfully by Gen. Custer you can't accompany him on his march to the Little Big Horn, as he must leave someone trustworthy behind to mind the store.

Stealing a huge ruby from the navel of a stone idol while chanting natives hail you as their new No. 1 god.

Opening a letter from the White House and finding it contains an invitation to dine with Pat and Dick next Wednesday. "P.S., don't forget to bring along your thinking cap," writes Pat. "We plan to play charades later."

Piloting an unknown young thoroughbred to a seesaw victory in the Kentucky Derby that hangs up a track record.

Saving a stricken young seaman's life aboard a submarine in a daring operation during which you give him two quarts of your own blood while cutting out his appendix.

Having Brigitte Bardot write them — and the nation won't miss them."

Dreaming you've bought control of the firm and telling the boss that now he works for you.

However, if the boss comes by and catches you dreaming that particular daydream, you may find yourself back in the doldrums real quick — and with no swivel chair you can any longer call your own.

John Cunniff Value Of Unpaid Jobs

NEW YORK (AP) — With inflation wearing holes in the fabric of the pocketbook, it's nice to know that your net income is really the equivalent of much more than is indicated by your paycheck. Fifty per cent, in some instances.

The "equivalent" comes to you in goods and services provided by your own unpaid activities, such as painting and repairs you do around the house instead of paying outside help to do the job.

Such activities, for reasons unknown, have never been taken into account when assessing a family's economic condition. But, any way you look at it, they constitute productive goods and services.

A pioneer study released by the Institute for Social Research at Ann Arbor, Mich., estimates that the average value of unpaid productivity is nearly $4,000, or roughly 50 per cent of the average family's disposable income.

"This changes the average family income from just over $8,000 to just over $12,000," the Institute reports. "About 90 per cent of this increase," it adds, "is attributable to work done in the home."

The study, by Ismail Abdel-Hamid Sirageldin, and carrying the equally formidable title of "Non-Market Components of National Income," took years of research, so the income figures used are for 1964. Since then money has been inflated by about 20 per cent.

The study documents what many Americans have long known, that enterprising low income families tend to spread their income more effectively when pressed to make ends meet. Ask any farm family.

"For example," the report states, "for families earning under $1,000 a year, nonmarket income shows an increase of 284 per cent over money income, whereas with families earning over $15,000 the increase is only 13 per cent."

Sirageldin concludes that "people faced with constraints in their market activities strive to improve their standards of living, or to maintain a decent life, by increasing their nonmarket productive activities."

And what are these? Sirageldin puts them into several major groups, including regular housework, painting and repairs, growing own food and canning and freezing, and sewing and mending.

Using a complex formula, Sirageldin estimated that the 1964 value of an hour spent doing housework was $1.31, painting and repairs $2.44, sewing and mending $1.79 and growing food for canning and freezing $1.08.

The relatively well-to-do tend to purchase such goods and services; the less well off tend to use their own services, thus saving their money and making their small income relatively much larger.

To Your Good Health Who Was 'Opionated And Selfish?'

Some little time ago a young woman wrote that she and her fiancé agreed that they didn't want children, and she wouldn't marry him until he had a vasectomy — an operation designed to make him sterile.

Among other things, I said that to my mind she was an opinionated and selfish young woman. (I still think so.)

But I have had quite a barrage of letters, virtually all of them misinterpreting what I wrote. This is a typical one: Dear Dr. Thosteson: By denying the girl respect for her judgment, you are helping to perpetuate the myth that all people are capable of and should have children. A person should not be made to feel badly because he is not particularly fond of children and does not wish to have any of his own. By falling to this new low in your column, you have shown that YOU are opinionated. If you continue to use your column to air your own moral opinions instead of answering straight questions, you will lose two more readers, my husband and myself.—Mrs.

W.F.H. This misinterprets my comments totally. I offered no moral judgment as to whether she should have children. Indeed, in view of her expressed attitude, I have no doubt that she would be a lousy mother. Children, if brought into the world at all, both deserve and need love.

That isn't why I called her selfish. I called her that because she insisted that it was up to her husband-to-be to have the operation, instead of having an operation herself. Like it or not, people get divorces. Mates die. People marry again. And I get a steady stream of letters from people who have remarried and now say, "Now we very much want children. How can I get my operation undone?"

Sometimes this can be done, sometimes it can't, and there's no way of predicting. The way the operation is performed in "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys — Facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling. The first place makes a difference. If it is done in a manner to make sterilization as permanent as possible, there is little chance of reversal. If it is done in a manner foreseeing the possibility that the patient may later have a change of heart, chances are very much better — although even then they may be no better than 50-50.

Returning to the young lady in question, I do not see that she has the right to demand that her husband-to-be have the sterilization while she herself does not. She can change her mind later, if she has a change of heart or marries somebody else who may persuade her that she does want a baby. No, she doesn't take the risk. She makes him take all the risk. That's why I call her selfish.

Don't take chances with

Around The Rim

Those Section Line Routes

Today, when we take off in our cars for some out-of-town point, we get on a highway which generally makes a bee line for the immediate destination. The roads are paved, engineered for speed around sweeping curves, protected by reflectors, guard rails, etc. and with paved or sloping shoulders. It was not always thus.

UNTIL THE MID-TWENTIES there was not a foot of paving in Howard County, although the county was recognized as having a progressive attitude for roads. Indeed, the Bankhead Highway (later U.S. 80 and the IS 20; and Glacier to Gulf Highway (U.S. 87) had been gravelled (the east-west artery across the county and the north-south route a distance about five miles from town). But in all instances, the roads followed the hallowed section line pattern. You would have thought that in the great wide-open spaces, a road would have gone like the crow flies in the first place — but not so. They went rather in a series of straight lines, zigging and zagging, all with right angle turns.

TAKE FOR INSTANCE the road to Coahoma. It started out over Coleman Hill (on what is now Third Street), turned north at what is now Birdwell Lane and went to the T&P tracks, paralleled them to the top of the hill about where the W. R. Grace plant is now located, veered east to where the Cabot overpass is located, went half a mile south, then went east through Robinson Chapel (Midway) on to a point a mile south of Coahoma. Then it went north through Coahoma to the T&P tracks, went east before crossing the tracks and then nestled between the tracks and Iatan tank, on east through Rattlesnake Gap.

The original east road was known as the Old Colorado road and went north out of town to a point about a mile north of the Mt. Olive (City) Cemetery, then went directly east in north of Coahoma.

THE LAMESA HIGHWAY went north of Fairview, west a couple of miles before turning north past Auto (later Hiway), then with a couple of zigs and zags to emerge a mile or so east of East Knot. It went to West Knot, then turned straight north to Ackerly, (once it veered eastward to Soash) went west for two or three miles, then across Sulphur Draw to Sparenburg, west and then north to emerge at the southeast edge of Lamesa.

The Stanton road followed Third Street over the hill, swung sharply to the south near the present rodeo grounds, went west to near what is now the Cable overpass, swung to the south about half a mile and crossed the T&P tracks between two natural lakes, continued to above the confluence of Mustang and Sulphur draws, then directly south to the section line one mile north of Morita, where it went south to the tracks and paralleled them into Stanton.

THE STERLING CITY Road went originally out the south edge of town, down the draw through what is now Silver Heels, past the present Big Spring Country Club location and south to what later became Forsan. Later, it left town at Scurry and Marcy, followed what we know as Wason Road to where the Webb Village Road now takes off. The highway went directly south for about 10 miles, turned east to cross the present highway near the old Riley Burns place, went to Three Way, turned south to Konahasset, zigged and zagged to the McIntyre ranch gates and paralleled the Concho River before twisting into Sterling City.

THE GARDEN CITY route turned off the Sterling City road about five miles south of town, went west to Elbow, south into Glasscock County where it made a couple of westward zigs, then made a south beeline into Garden City. Speed over any of the routes was impossible for they were narrow, frequently hogbacked, bumpy, dusty and often had pieces of mesquite grubs sticking up, ready to puncture the first passing tire.

—JOE PICKLE

David Lawrence The Government Runs The Schools

WASHINGTON — Probably few people realize the feeling of helplessness and frustration that pervades the public-school systems in the South today, particularly among the teachers. A woman who has been for 14 years a teacher in Atlanta, Ga., has written a letter to President Nixon to tell him what is really happening to education because of the failure of the courts to give adequate time for the adjustments necessary to deal with racial desegregation in the public schools.

THE TEACHER points out that Atlanta has made every effort to meet each requirement by the federal government, and the school system at large has adopted the 58 per cent white to 42 per cent Negro ratio required for the faculty. But it appears this isn't enough, as the federal court now is ordering that the faculty of each individual school must be integrated to that percentage and, as the Atlanta teacher writes, "worst of all, in the middle of a school year."

"MR. NIXON, how can anyone fail to see what complete havoc will result from the transferring of approximately 1,700 teachers from one school to another in mid-year? Any teacher can tell you what emotional turmoil this will create in the classrooms of Atlanta for both teachers and students alike. It surely would not take a teacher to understand the delay in the learning situation itself which would, of necessity, result from a change of this type.

"ANY EDUCATOR can tell you that a teacher spends much time and effort building up a good 'class climate' and an inter-relationship with his or her students which is conducive to good learning. This is not to mention the obvious fact that it takes time for a teacher to achieve a knowledge of the learning differences, both abilities and difficulties, of each of the children in the class. This is true not only with an elementary teacher with her average of 35 pupils, but more especially with a high-school teacher with a daily load of perhaps 150 different students.

"I MENTION this to try to bring out the point that if it is quality education — the type of situation that is best for each child in a school system — that the federal government is concerned about and is making an effort to achieve, then there needs to be some re-thinking done, because such a step as this cannot fail to bring about the opposite result."

THE TEACHER not only speaks of the disastrous effects of the changes taking place in the middle of the school year, but emphasizes also the inconveniences to the teachers of both races in finding it necessary to travel considerable distances twice each day to go to a school far from their own neighborhoods. This, she declares, has "built up a resentment which is unequal to any we have yet felt." She says:

"To be forced to change one's place of employment is against all that we, as Americans, have always held dear, and the fact that it is actually happening to us here in America is unbelievable."

THERE ARE some points which the Atlanta teacher didn't mention. Is the federal government, for instance, taking over the running of the public schools of the country? Originally the states were supposed to manage and operate the educational system. If fundamental changes are to be made, certainly ample time for readjustments would seem to be logical. But the courts also have stepped in and even fixed dates on which specific steps must be taken. Never has the judiciary so arbitrarily interfered with the operations of the educational system as it has in the last few months.

The Pill Agency Orders Stronger Warnings

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration has told doctors they should explain the risks of high blood pressure, liver damage, diabetes and cancer to women taking oral contraceptive pills even though the agency has no definite proof of any such link.

The FDA also announced manufacturers will be required to strengthen the label warnings about a link between the pill and blood clots.

Meanwhile, the producers of a low-hormone "minipill" oral contraceptive announced it has halted testing with humans because the drug had produced tumors in dogs. The much heralded pill has been tested up to two years on some 3,000 U.S. women and has been in use in France, Mexico and Britain.

Syntex Laboratories Inc. of Palo Alto, Calif., announced the decision, which comes as a blow to U.S. pill researchers. The firm said some tumors in the dogs were cancerous, some were pre-cancerous and some benign. The firm said no cancer had been found in women taking part in the tests. It said tests will continue with dogs and monkeys.

The FDA, in suggesting fuller discussion with patients of the risks of oral contraceptive pills, sent letters to 381,000 physicians, hospital pharmacists and hospital administrators. The letter pointed to a recent British study that found clotting linked particularly to oral contraceptives with high estrogen content.

FDA Commissioner Charles C. Edwards said women should be made fully aware of the risks "thus permitting the participation of the patient in the assessment of the risk associated with this method" of oral contraception.

In strengthening the labeling regulation, the agency is acting on the findings of an FDA advisory committee which said a link between all oral contraceptives and certain blood clot disorders is now proven. Previously the labels were required only to mention that one study indicated a clot link.

National concern — and controversy — over the pill has snowballed since last week when senators began hearing testimony on possible dangers of the oral contraceptives.

BEAUTY AND TALENT — Members of the Officers Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base are practicing their talents this week in preparation for the "Red Stocking Revue." Mrs. James Little, left, will serve as pianist for all rehearsals. At center is Mrs. Robert Vining, talent chairman, and at right is Mrs. Joe Wiser, a singer and pianist, who will participate in the show.

OWC Seeking Talent For 'Red Stockings'

Some "fancy legwork" is already being done by members of the Officers Wives Club at Webb Air Force Base in preparation for the musical production, "Red Stocking Revue," slated for Feb. 20-21 in Municipal Auditorium. The talent committee, headed by Mrs. Robert L. Vining, is busy scouting the base and community for likely talent to be featured in the benefit show.

Mrs. Vining has stressed that everyone in the community who would like to assist with the show is urged to call her at 267-8045.

"Actually, little real talent is required," said Mrs. Vining. "The show will be a fun sort of thing — a series of sketches and musical numbers that most anyone can participate in. The show's director will be rehearsing with us for three weeks, ample time to learn the songs or dance steps required."

A "Meet the Director" party is scheduled at 7 p.m., Feb. 2, in the Officers Open Mess. At least 150 persons are expected to attend, and from this group, the director will select members of the cast. Townspeople who are interested in attending the party are asked to contact Mrs. Vining.

The show will be produced by Jerome H. Cargill Productions which has produced charity shows all over the United States. The company's last show in Big Spring was in 1964.

Chairmen for this year's event are Mrs. W. D. R. Lund, general chairman; Mrs. Harrison Lobdell Jr. and Mrs. R. J. Ream, patrons; Mrs. Vining, talent; Mrs. Billy Walker and Mrs. Lynn Gill, tickets; Mrs. Frank Borner, financial; Mrs. James Jacobs, program; Mrs. James Clevenger, costume; Mrs. Paul Foraste, cabaret; and Mrs. Thad Crooks, makeup; and Mrs. Jay Milstead, publicity.

BSP Chapter Advised On 'Guest Speakers'

Mrs. Alton Jackson presented the program, "The Guest Speaker," Monday for Phi Beta Omega, Beta Sigma Phi, in the home of Mrs. Rick Henderson, 1409 Virginia.

Mrs. Jackson discussed courtesies which should be extended when approaching a guest speaker. She stressed that a potential speaker should be given ample time to prepare a talk and should be given a selected subject and length of time for the talk.

"Offer to escort your speaker to and from the meeting," said Mrs. Jackson. "Also, allow time to introduce your speaker to each member of the audience before the program and present the speaker with a token gift or a sincere note of appreciation."

Mrs. Clay LaRochelle, president, reported that breakfast will be served for an additional $1.50 per member at the Sweetheart Ball Feb. 14 at Big Spring Country Club. Miss Pam Dyer has been named chapter Sweetheart for the ball.

Mrs. Wade Choate, chapter advisor, tested members on rituals.

The next meeting will be Feb. 2 in the home of Mrs. Joe Schalk, 1906 Alabama, where the program will be "Model Of Charm," by Mrs. Henderson.

Garden Tips Given During Program By Bill Sneed

"All gardeners should be conservation minded," said Bill Sneed of the Big Spring Men's Garden Club when he was guest speaker Monday for Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Mrs. Charles Boadle, 2505 Cheyenne, was hostess.

"January is the time to purchase seeds, and planting can be done indoors by the middle of February," said Sneed. "Once a plant has sprouted, it is necessary to water it each day. The plants must be transplanted outdoors in late March or April, when some types of flowers can survive a light freeze."

According to Sneed, the "Armstrong" or California rose grows best in West Texas soil, while the Texas roses do not thrive well here. "The Dr. Huey root stock" grows well here because they are grafted in the same arid soil.

In discussing lawns, Sneed advised watering for one hour once each week so that an inch of water has saturated the soil. Stressing that the soil in Big Spring is high in alkaline salt, he recommended using Epsom salts or sulphur to help neutralize it.

After the program, plans were discussed for a breakfast following the BSP Sweetheart Ball Feb. 14 at Big Spring Country Club.

Mrs. Owen Wormser announced that over 1,500 cigarette packages have been collected and will be used to purchase a wheel chair for a local resident.

Members were reminded to "sign up" for the Red Stocking revue slated Feb. 20-21.

university student named Paul Ohagwa, said. Two Biafran nurses who would only give their names as Theresa and Caroline said they were raped several times as they passed through roadblocks trying to make their way out of the bush. In Port Harcourt, recaptured by federal troops 17 months ago and now a state capital, the state governor entertained top brass at his daughter's wedding feast. But just a few miles away, 60 refugees faced death. About 600 were crammed into the tiny Niger Maternity Home, many of them lying motionless in the hot sun amid vomit, dust and flies.

A group of British construction workers took up a collection to find food for them. They said three to four died daily.

"The villages are the worst off," said an Irish missionary, Father Eammon McMahon, surrounded by hundreds of refugees begging for Nigerian pounds in the shell-pocked main square of Owerri. "They have no food, their money is useless and we have no way of getting anything to them."

The once proud Ibos, who through education and ambition had moved farther up the ladder of progress than Nigeria's 200 other tribes, were reduced to begging, with outstretched hands by the roadside, and fighting and clawing at each other when a food bag fell off a truck or broke at a feeding station.

Such scenes were repeated endlessly in the newsmen's 150-mile tour of Ibo land. For all Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon's good intentions, it did not seem that the Nigerian army and the government relief machinery could begin coping with the problem.

Uli airstrip, except for a few potatoes, seemed to be in excellent condition. But it was deserted save for the rusting carcasses of at least six planes bombed in their parking bays in the final federal siege.

A Nigerian captain in charge of guard detail at the ghost strip was outraged at questions of using Uli strip now.

Capt. Welch Gets Bronze Star, Air Medal

Capt. Thomas A. Welch, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Welch, 1560 Harding, has been awarded the Bronze Star with a V device, also the Air Medal.

He heroically distinguished himself while serving as battery commander of Battery C, 5th Battalion, 2nd Artillery while leading a section of M241 Dusters. He came under heavy enemy fire from two sides while on a sweeping action with two companies of infantry near Ben Luc May 14, 1969.

"Capt. Welch openly exposed himself to the enemy fire in order to effectively direct his men as they placed accurate and devastating fire on the enemy positions," said the citation. "Capt. Welch's actions contributed greatly to the routing of the enemy force. Capt. Welch's personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon him, his unit and the U.S. Army."

The award was announced Dec. 16, 1969. He also had received the Air Medal in action announced Oct. 9, 1969. This citation noted that he had distinguished himself by participating in sustained aerial flight in support of combat ground forces in the Republic of Vietnam. During the period of April 29-Sept. 30, he actively participated in more than 25 aerial missions over hostile territory in support of operations against the Communists. His performance was exemplary.

Capt. Welch graduated from Big Spring High School in 1962, was a junior at Texas Tech when he entered the Army, taking his basic at Fort Bliss and his officer candidate training at Fort Sill, Okla. He went overseas in February, 1969.

In addition to his instructional duties, Capt. Horner also serves as a flight scheduling officer and runway supervisory unit controller in the squadron. He is senior RSU controller.

Prior to his return here in 1968, the captain spent one year in Southeast Asia. There he piloted the Fairchild C-123 Provider, supplying forward assault units in South Vietnam. He was stationed at both Nha Trang and Phan Rang AB, Vietnam, during his tour there.

For his aerial performance in Southeast Asia, Capt. Horner received the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters. He also received the Presidential Unit Citation for his assistance with tactical and emergency resupply missions at Khe Sanh during the Tet offensive there in 1967. The corps bestowed the decoration to Air Force pilots who were based or landed at that Marine outpost.

Capt. Horner received his Air Force commission after completion of Officer Training School in 1965. He is a native of Salem, N.J.

A pan of grease left on a kitchen range flared up at the residence of R. H. Wilder, 3301 Duke, at 11 a. m. causing only slight damage.

An automobile was reported on fire as it was parked near the intersection of Fifth and Benton, but no damage was reported.

Those who can help are asked to contact Bob Taylor, Jaycee president, at 7-6391, or mail checks to him, care of KBST. Checks should be made payable either to Joint Venture Services, Inc., or the Pat Wiley Fund. Taylor said they are tax deductible.

Pat, who lives with her parents at 2400 Robb, wants to return to India in response to letters of appeals from natives with whom she worked on her last tour of duty in the Peace Corps. During that period, she imported a dairy-type buffalo from the northern provinces of India into the southern area and proved that by proper care, the animals would thrive. This also led to productive crossbreeds which have vastly more milk capability than the native buffalo. Interest has been manifested in starting a powder milk plant in the area if the dairy production can be expanded.

Hendrix Will Judge Pianists

Jack Hendrix, chairman of the Odessa College music department, will be in Denton on Saturday as a piano judge in the Collegiate Artists Awards Auditions sponsored by the Music Teachers National Association. Eligibility is limited to graduate and undergraduate college students, 18 to 27 years of age but must not reach their 27th birthday by April 12, 1970, who are studying with teachers who are active members of MTNA.

Candidates will be judged for high artistic ability, both in performance and in selection of repertoire. Required piano repertoire includes a solo program of 30 minutes duration consisting of one complete concerto from the standard repertoire, plus works from each of the three following classifications: Baroque or classical (no transcriptions); romantic; and Impressionist or contemporary.

The winner of this competition will compete with similar winners from Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arkansas (comprising with Texas the Southwest Division of MTNA) in Fort Worth on March 14-15. The division winner will compete with other division winners at the national convention in Miami April 11-15.

The national winner in piano will receive a cash award of $1,000, and similar awards will be presented to winners in voice and orchestral instrument.

Hendrix is vice president of the Southwest Division of MTNA, past president of the Texas Music Teachers Association, and a member of the Odessa Music Teachers Association. He formerly headed the HCJC music department.

Jaycees Help Pat Wiley's Fund Drive

Pat Wiley is within $825 of investing three more years of her life in India.

If she can raise that much more, she will have the $3,000 which will be trebled by the Joint Venture Services, Inc. to insure her expenses on the field at Kurool, India.

Helping serve as a receiving agency are the Big Spring Jaycees, who are asking for investments in Pat's mission of working with the Indians to establish a dairy industry which she founded as a member of the Peace Corps.

Those who can help are asked to contact Bob Taylor, Jaycee president, at 7-6391, or mail checks to him, care of KBST. Checks should be made payable either to Joint Venture Services, Inc., or the Pat Wiley Fund. Taylor said they are tax deductible.

State's First Minimum-Pay Date Feb. 1

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Bureau of Labor Statistics reminded employers today that the state's first minimum-wage law goes into effect Feb. 1.

The wage floor is $1.25 an hour, except for farm workers, who will get $1.10 an hour. There are many exceptions in the law.

The federal minimum wage law applies to businesses that gross more than $250,000 a year. The state law, passed by the last legislature, covers an estimated 2.5 million workers not under the federal law.

Farmers with employees working fewer than 300 man-days a quarter—roughly three to four fulltime employees—do not have to pay the minimum wage.

Industries with fewer than four persons on the payroll are exempt.

Other exemptions include domestics, executives, outside salesmen and collectors paid on a commission basis; switchboard operators of independently owned telephone companies serving fewer than 750 stations; prisoners; employees of family members; dairy workers; employees employed by camps run by religious, charitable or educational organizations; persons under 18 who are not high school graduates; and persons under 20 who are not in high school, college or vocational training programs, unless they are employed in agriculture on a piece rate basis.

The wage goes up to $1.40 an hour on Feb. 1, 1971.

Battle Of Bottle Among Airlines

WASHINGTON (AP) — A battle of the bottle has erupted among the airlines.

Three major competitors for transcontinental traffic—American, Trans World and United—brought the quarrel to light this week by filing with the Civil Aeronautics Board an agreement on cocktail service.

No matter what the other airlines do, they said, they intend to limit the cocktail or highball service on a flight to four ounces of distilled spirits per passenger—two two-ounce drinks apiece.

Before the start of jet service, a decade ago, the argument over the extent of in-flight drinking raged about an Air Transport Association (ATA) agreement, signed by 10 airlines, limiting service to two drinks apiece.

But as traffic and competition increased, the agreement began to spring leaks, and last November it fell apart altogether. "The airlines dropped out of the agreement one by one," an ATA spokesman said.

Horoscope TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The early morning has a powerful Full Moon effect for good, but it is so quickly followed by adverse aspects that you would be wise to attempt nothing of importance. Be especially careful where your romantic activities are concerned. But cultivate those creative skills you are eager to use.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Take care you do not take such risks that you soon find yourself behind the eight ball. Try not to get so irritated with the person you love. This is just a reflex and should be controlled.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The situation of home could be quite difficult so do not add more fuel to the present fire. Make sure that you do something about whatever is causing the disharmony. Show that you have tact, wisdom.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Driving or walking too fast could get you into trouble, so slow down, be careful in all ways. Any word of a sarcastic nature could have serious repercussions. Think before you speak.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) If you are forceful where some monetary matter is concerned, you find that you lose friends, so be calm. Cut down on present expenses now. There are many luxuries you do not really need.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Try not to be so egotistical with others. Be get along better with others and get ahead. Study into personal life and see where to make improvements. Be smart.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Although you may feel that others are imposing on you, you find that it is this feeling that makes you rise above the crowd now. Show that you have what it takes. Be courteous with everyone, though rushed.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Avoid those friends today who are not acting the way you want them to—you are right. Get busy with business and other affairs. Then get your personal life straightened out as it should be.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Instead of dashing off to other things, get your career duties done very well, since they are not so difficult as you think. Follow laws willingly. Get back on the right beam and all is okay.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You had better finish what you have promised before you dash off to new outlets that are appealing, since this is your right course. Don't let that new comer influence you in the wrong direction. Be smart.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have many and varied duties to perform and you must do them precisely and cleverly. Do not be jealous of loved one. Avoid those who are trying to influence you adversely.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Go to that associate and clear up some matter about which you did not agree, but do so in a conciliatory fashion instead of a demanding one. Ignore any things that may come up.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have many duties performed in a quiet way. They should be performed in a quiet way. Stop feeling sorry for yourself. Co-workers may seem irksome, but it's partially your fault. Be calm.

Viet Cong Shell 51 Bases, Towns

SAIGON (AP) — The Viet Cong made their heaviest rocket and mortar attacks in 4 1/2 months Tuesday night, shelling 51 allied bases and towns, the U.S. Command reported today.

The allied commands also reported that their troops and U.S. aircraft killed at least 127 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong in half a dozen clashes along the Cambodian and Laotian borders.

About two thirds of the rocket and mortar attacks were in the 3rd Corps area from Saigon 100 miles north to the Cambodian border. About 25 of the attacks caused casualties or damage.

The U.S. Command said two American soldiers were killed and 23 wounded in the shelling. Light damage was reported, including shrapnel hits on some helicopters. Field reports said 16 South Vietnamese soldiers and 15 civilians were wounded.

American targets included the Army's headquarters for Vietnam at Long Binh and the Bien Hoa Air Base, both about 15 miles northeast of Saigon; the headquarters of the U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division 36 miles north of Saigon; and two brigade headquarters.

It was the largest number of rocket and mortar attacks since the night of Sept. 4-5, when 74 U.S. casualties in the ground fighting were put at two killed and eight wounded, while field reports said five South Vietnamese were killed and 19 wounded.

After one battle near the Bu Dop Special Forces camp, 84 miles north of Saigon, the U.S. Command in Saigon first reported 234 enemy soldiers were killed but later reduced this to 27.

Field reports also said one helicopter crewman was killed and eight American ground troops and another helicopter crewman wounded in the battle. The U.S. Command agreed that one helicopter crewman was killed and another wounded but said: "There were no U.S. casualties in the ground action."

Some 35 American B52 bombers flew heavy raids during the night against a North Vietnamese buildup reported near the Ben Het Special Forces camp, on the Cambodian border 275 miles northeast of Saigon. In Saigon, a terrorist bomb exploded late Tuesday in a movie theater directly below a U.S. enlisted men's billet, forcing the evacuation of the billet while bomb disposal teams checked for other bombs in the theater, which was unoccupied at the time of the blast. Nearly 60 Americans were in the billet, but no one was hurt.

States Will Take Over Much Zoning

HOUSTON (AP) — State governments will take over much of the local zoning now done by cities, a Chicago lawyer told home builders meeting here.

"We are not going to get large-scale prefabricated building," Richard F. Babcock told the National Association of Home Builders, "if every builder has to worry about local zoning laws."

More than 50,000 home builders and exhibitors are attending the association's 26th annual convention here.

Babcock cited several instances of states taking zoning powers for lower and moderate income dwellings away from local governments with new laws and court decisions.

A series of organizations throughout the country, he said, are studying the possibility of fighting local restrictive zoning on the ground that it cancels the right of equal opportunity guaranteed by the constitution.

"I don't have any idea but that one of them is going to strike (through the courts)," he said.

The home builders passed a resolution calling for new legislation to stop lenders from sharing profits from commercial projects they finance.

The directors said some lending institutions in recent years have made it a common practice to insist on a percentage of the profits before they will lend the money to finance it. The practice was said to have spread from apartment projects to shopping centers and other commercial projects. They called for laws to restrict lenders to collecting only principal and interest on such projects. The builders were also promised a cut in government red tape in housing programs.

"We're going to cut red tape so badly, it may come out as a pink ribbon," Eugene A. Gullledge a Federal Housing Administration official said.

He said the FHA will have three guidelines for approving loans:

"Show no discrimination in any form, no favoritism, and don't act stupid—use common sense."

Two Suffocate Near Dimmitt

DIMMITT, Tex. (AP) — Two men suffocated Tuesday when stored grain collapsed under them as they worked in an elevator just outside of this Panhandle town.

They were identified as Valentine Verrara and Woody George. A spokesman for Bruegel Grain Elevators said the men were pulled through a draw gate by the downward surge of grain. It took several hours to recover the bodies.

IT'S COLD — Steam rises from Lake Michigan as ice-coated pilings in foreground show effects of winter weather that has gripped the Chicago area and much of the nation for several days. Part of the Chicago skyline can be seen in background.

Bullet-Riddled Bodies Amid Funeral Sprays

FORT WORTH (AP) — Bullet-riddled bodies of two men and a small boy turned up Tuesday night in a car on a parking lot outside a downtown department store.

Police discovered the bodies of Sammy Ramirez, 26, and his brother Daniel Ramirez, 22, crammed into the trunk of the automobile amid several plastic funeral sprays.

Inside the car, crouched in the back floorboard on the right side, was the body of Sammy Ramirez Jr., about 2 years old. His blue coat was spread over the body.

Beside the body of the little boy were several record albums. The floor of the car was littered with trash.

Patrolmen C. W. Hoffman and R. L. Lowe drove past the Leonard's Department Store parking lot about 9 p.m. and stopped to check whether the lone car there was stolen.

They noted that the red dash light was on and the doors were unlocked. Hoffman then found the coat-shrouded body of the Ramirez baby.

Blood dripping from the trunk of the car led to the discovery of the bodies of the brothers. Apparently they were hastily stuffed inside.

"They had not been dead long," said Tarrant County medical investigator Dail McMillan. "Rigor mortis had not set in. In fact, they had probably been dead less than two hours."

Autopsies were performed on all three bodies early Wednesday. Daniel Ramirez had been shot four times in the head with a .25 caliber weapon, McMillan said.

"It was certainly one of the most brutal cases that I have seen in multiple shootings," said Tarrant County medical examiner Felix Gwozdz.

Dr. Gwozdz said the wounds apparently were from two different small-caliber weapons. He said some of the bullets were fired at close range and some were contact wounds.

"It looks to me like there was more than one person doing the shooting," Dr. Gwozdz said. "It must have taken time to shoot three people in a row." The autopsies revealed that the boy had been shot about three times in the head and his father suffered multiple gunshot wounds.

Police roped off the area while they searched the automobile. It was parked near the Leonard subway's main station.

"I don't believe they were shot here," said Detective Lt. Oliver Ball. "They were loaded in and driven here."

Police checked the car's ownership to an address where they found the auto registered to a young woman, believed to be the wife of Sammy Ramirez. The registration, however, carried the address of her mother.

The older woman informed officers that the last time she or her daughter saw the car was about 1 p.m. Tuesday. Sammy Ramirez was driving it at that time, she told police.

Police were investigating a trail of blood found on a north side street. Officers reported finding a plastic flower nearby and were trying to see if it might be connected with the shootings.

Army Due To Be Cut About Three Divisions By 1972

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some key Pentagon planners forecast the Army will be cut about three divisions below current authorized strength by 1972 as the United States gradually sheds its "policeman to the world" role.

This reduction, to 14 and two-thirds divisions, would carry the Army almost back to where it was when the Kennedy administration took over nine years ago.

Some planners predict the Army will be down to 11 or 12 divisions within three years.

This, it is believed, will be accompanied by a gradual pull-back of most U.S. troops from South Korea and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization area, as well as disengagement from Vietnam.

Army and Marine leaders believe that over the next several years, this country's ground forces will be concentrated in a U.S.-based central reserve, to be sent abroad only where preeminent interests are at stake.

Ground force generals feel this will lead to greater reliance on nuclear weapons, particularly big strategic missiles, to safeguard the nation.

This recalls a debate in the late stages of the Eisenhower administration.

Democratic critics and some Army generals claimed then that an emphasis on massive retaliation starved the conventional military forces and gave the nation little choice between all out atomic exchange and humiliation.

So the Kennedy administration not only accelerated the growth of U.S. missile power but also increased American conventional forces. It boosted the number of Army divisions from 14 to 16.

But the national strategy aims

NEA Backs Sindermann

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Education Association has announced its support of Robert Sindermann, who claims his contract as a teacher at Odessa Junior College was not renewed after he told legislators he favored converting the school into a four-year college.

The association said it has filed a brief in the 5th Circuit Court of Appeals on behalf of Sindermann, a government and social science teacher.

The association said Sindermann, as president of the Texas Junior College Teachers Association, was invited last year to testify before Senate committees on bills regarding academic freedom and establishment of a four-year college in the Midland-Odessa area.

Odessa regents opposed the proposal to elevate the junior college to four-year status, the association said, but Sindermann's name had appeared in a newspaper advertisement advocating such a move.

It was because of this and his testimony, Sindermann asserted, that his contract was not renewed.

A lower federal court ruled against him. The association said its brief "urges the court to lay down specific procedural requirements which school boards must follow in connection with the dismissal of a teacher or non-renewal of his contract."

were different then. Robert S. McNamara, then Secretary of Defense, told Congress in January, 1962, this country's nonnuclear land, sea and air forces had to be strengthened "if we are to have the capacity to respond promptly to limited wars in any part of the globe, and possibly in more than one place at the same time."

The Nixon administration, with the Vietnam war experience shaping its direction, aims to minimize commitment of U.S. ground forces abroad in the future.

As U.S. troops are gradually withdrawn from the Vietnam war, the Nixon administration has set in motion a reduction of U.S. forces.

The Nixon administration has pledged to maintain its present combat troop commitment in South Korea, totaling some 55,000 men, and its level of about 320,000 in Europe over the next 18 months.

But it is making no promises beyond July, 1971. In fact, Undersecretary of State Elliot L. Richardson said Tuesday in Chicago that while the United States is pledged to maintain its current strength in Europe until mid-1971 that doesn't mean the level will be held "for ever and ever."

Some senior generals are forecasting the U.S. commitment in NATO will be reduced to as few as 50,000 men by about 1975.

In the meantime, sources said, they believe the Nixon administration will try to work for a parallel withdrawal by the Russians from the other side of the Iron Curtain.

They included Lt. James D. Conn, husband of Sally S. Conn, 5600 Winifred St., of Fort Worth.

East Stars Slam West, 142-135

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — On display next summer at the Wilis Reed All-Star Basketball Camp will be a trophy proving that it's what's up front that counts.

It will serve as a reminder to the teenage boys present that instructing them in the finer points of the game is one of the best up front—Willis Reed.

Reed already has proved it to some 15,000 persons in Philadelphia's Spectrum and to a national television audience by leading the East to a 142-135 victory over the West in the National Basketball Association All-Star game Tuesday night.

The muscular 6-foot-8 center of the New York Knicks scored all 11 rebounds as the East pulled away to a 106-85 advantage entering the final period. The West made one last effort that got it within six points with two minutes left before falling back.

For his efforts, Reed was voted overwhelmingly the Most Valuable Player in his sixth All-Star game that increased the East's lead over the West to 14-6.

"The game was decided at center," agreed Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and the East, who was runnerup in the MVP balloting after scoring 21 points that gave him a record 230 for All Star competition.

"You saw what happened. They just can't stop those two, offensively and off the boards."

He referred to Reed and 7-2 Lew Alcindor of Milwaukee, who had 10 points and 11 rebounds and gave the East the 1-2 center punch that had made them the favorites in the absence of injured Wilt Chamberlain and Nate Thurmond of the West.

"Red is the toughest center in the league right now," praised Elvin Hayes of San Diego, who scored 24 points and had 15 rebounds as the West's big man.

Rain Likely For Crosby

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The official name is the National Pro-Amateur Golf Championship. It's more familiarly called the Crosby Clambake. And it's sometimes known as The Foul Weather Frolic.

The 29th Bing Crosby gets underway—perhaps—Thursday under its unique format that makes use of three courses on the Monterey Peninsula, one of the most scenic sites in the country.

That "perhaps" involved the weather, more often than not the dominant factor in this prestige-laden event. It has been played in rain. It has been played in snow. It has been played in fog thick as the water-sput of a whale rolling in the bay. It has been played in gale-force winds so severe they've grounded the ever-present sea gulls.

The area currently has been drenched with 10 days of rain that have turned the three courses—Spyglass Hill, Cypress Point and Pebble Beach—into quagmires. PGA officials abandoned golf shores in favor of galeshows that patrol the grounds.

The long-range forecast is: Rain.

But most of the top names in the game are here. Jack Nicklaus is making his first start of the year. Arnold Palmer and Billy Casper are on hand. So are Frank Beard and Dave Hill and all of the 1969 major title-holders, Orville Moody, Tony Jacklin, Ray Floyd and George Archer.

The amateur field is made up of scores of celebrities from show business and sports.

The field is made up of 168 teams of a professional and an amateur. They rotate over the three courses the first three days. Then the field is cut to the low 70 pros and low 40 amateurs for Sunday's final on Pebble Beach.

The final two days of play will be telecast nationally by NBC.

Red-Hot Texans Win Over Hawks, 105-95

An aroused South Plains College team, sensing from the start that HCJC would have to proceed through another period of trial and error in trying to regain its competitive edge, routed the Jayhawks, 105-95, in a Western Conference encounter here Tuesday night.

The Big Spring collegians had been away from the court for a month and the vacation obviously hurt their sense of timing. Even had the Hawks played as well as they have at any time this season, they might have lost — the Texans were that well coordinated.

The Levelland team led from wire to wire, at times as much as 16 points, and was able to go into its delayed game as early as 8:30 before the end.

HCJC got in foul trouble early and South Plains took full advantage of the blunders. The Texans were outshot from the field, 39-35, but made good 35 times in 49 opportunities at the line.

In the first half, 19 infractions were called against the Hawks, only eight against South Plains. The officiating might have been a little close at times but it was fair — the South Plains team simply was slicker at working its variety of patterns.

From time to time, a couple of Hawks tried to help with the officiating and that is not considered to success. One technical was called against the locals and others probably should have been.

South Plains jumped to a 12-1 lead before Howard County was able to sink a field goal. That came after 2:29 minutes of play.

Later in the first half, the Hawks caught fire and pulled to within two points of a tie, at 37-35, but the visitors pulled away again and by half time had a commanding 51-39 advantage.

With 10 minutes to play, the Texans were in charge, 84-70, and doing a good job of controlling the boards. Hyman White of the invaders fouled out with 5:02 to go but by then it didn't matter.

Albert Moore led the Texans with 31 points while White had 20 and Bruce Mundy 15.

HC was led by Sammy James, who counted 22 before he was banished to the penalty box.

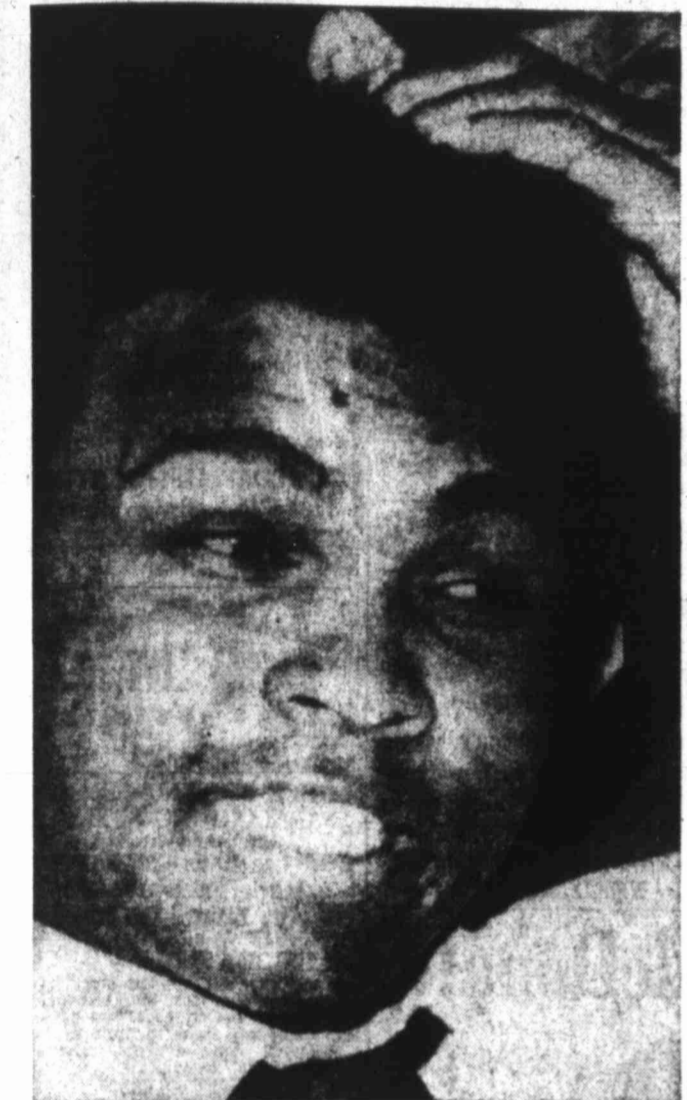

The loss was the second in four league starts for Howard County. Over-all, the locals are 18-5. South Plains is 2-2 in conference and 12-7 on the year.

HC returns to play Thursday night against powerful New Mexico JC in Hobbs.

AFTER COMPUTERIZED K-O — Cassius Clay holds his head after he watched himself technically knocked out by Rocky Marciano in the 13th round of their computerized fight shown Tuesday night in movie houses across the nation. Clay, who goes by the name of Muhammed Ali, watched the film with his wife in a downtown Philadelphia theater. Clay later said the computer was made in Alabama.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

Those Texas sports writers so afflicted with monoplepsia that they chose Calvin Hill as their Texas Professional Athlete of the Year, and in so doing ignored Orville Moody, wound up with more egg on their face when the PGA recently crowned Moody as the fellow who got the most out of his golf game in 1969.

Hill is the running back for the Dallas Cowboys who occasionally sat one out due to physical miseries.

Moody is the ex-Army non-com who sacked up the National Open championship last year and then put frosting on the cake by winning the World Series of Golf.

Moody, who lived in Oklahoma until he scraped together enough money to leave, probably got the award because two other candidates, Dave Hill and Raymond Floyd, were in the PGA doghouse for not measuring up to professional standards of conduct.

This point is, however, that Orville leaned into the wind when the gales of adversity were blowing and came up with the biggest golf prize of them all.

Neither Hill nor his employers, the Dallas Cowboys, came through like champions when the blue chips were showing.

When the 650-pound Man Mountain Mike wrestles in the city auditorium here Friday, promoter Dean Station might be wondering if the improvised ring will hold up. City officials, on the other hand, are probably worried whether that end of the building will hold up.

Through ACC's first 12 basketball games, Mickey Wilson, the ex-HCJC player, was averaging 3.9 points a game. Before the season began, shooting was thought to be one of the stronger talents of the Wildcat cagers whereas the ACC team was believed to be shy of rebounding strength. ACC has consistently outbounced the opposition but through its first dozen starts was shooting only 39.3 from the floor.

Bear Bryant, the venerable coach at Alabama, went with hat in hand recently to both Darrell Royal of Texas and Frank Broyles of Arkansas, asking if either would be interested in becoming his successor at Tuscaloosa. Both declined.

Because they said 'no' and because Woody Hayes of Ohio State and John McKay of USC reacted negatively to such a suggestion, Bryant decided to stay on.

The Bear had his poorest season in 12 years at Alabama in 1969, when the Tide limped to a 6-5 record, and things may not immediately get better in that part of Dixie.

Now, it appears Bryant will stay on at the school at least until the current freshman crop has used up all its varsity eligibility, which means he won't be departing until after the 1973 season.

Most of the buffs would scream to high heaven if some gungsel struck a pistol in their rib cage and demanded their purses but many of the football crowd were held up by the inkeepers and the restaurateurs during Super Bowl Week in New Orleans.

Pro football itself set the example by charging $15 each for seat locations in the Sugar Bowl and the business community took note. Some of the visitors were cheerfully paying $30 and $40 a day for hotel rooms they rarely occupied. The cuisine in New Orleans may be good but not as good as the prices made it out to be.

Now Houston has suggested it can match the total gate at New Orleans by going to $20 a seat in its Astro dome, in event the pro football people would like to set up shop there for its championship game in 1971.

The patrons who would agree to ante up $20 a seat and accept a location in the end zone (when it will be available on TV) deserve to be taken.

GAIL — Borden County edged Klondike in two varsity basketball games here Tuesday night. The boys won 75-73, after the girls had finished on the long end of a 55-53 score.

The Gail boys are 4-1 in District 13-B standings. The girls are 2-3.

Cheron Billick led the Gail fens with 31 points while Sandra Hancock settled for 24. In boys' B team play, Klondike won, 29-19. Randy Hensley counted six for Gail in that one.

Houston Is Given Franchise By NBA

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The National Basketball Association choosing a collision course with the rival American Basketball Association, has decided to add four new cities next season. Now the question is can the cities afford the NBA's other additions?

Aside from voting 12-2 Tuesday to expand into Cleveland, Buffalo, Houston and Portland, Ore., the NBA owners also reportedly added some $500,000 to the entrance fee per franchise, raising it to something like $3.5 million.

Another addition to the price of belonging to the NBA is believed to include a term that would give the new city little of the television money.

"There is a good chance four teams will be added," said NBA administrative assistant Carl Scheer, making the expansion announcement for President Walter Kennedy, who was suffering from laryngitis. "The terms and conditions are being discussed and will continue to be discussed with the applicants."

"The owners will reconvene in a special meeting in the next two weeks when a formal announcement will be made."

While the five hopefuls—Buffalo has two bidders—came to the pre All-Star game meeting ready to fulfill earlier conditions, several and possibly even all five, might not be willing to surrender to the new prerequisites.

Cleveland's Nick Mileti and Portland's Harry Glickman both left town abruptly after the all-day owner's expansion meeting and announcement, not bothering to stay for the East's 142-135 victory over the West Tuesday night.

But Mileti and the others certainly weren't the only ones unhappy about the results of the meetings that dragged on through confusion and bickering, on and off, from Monday morning through Tuesday evening.

The meetings resulted in a reaffirmation of an earlier decision by the NBA to expand, although that earlier announcement indicated only two new cities would be taken in.

Four votes were needed to nix expansion and New York's Ned Irish reportedly was joined by as many as seven of his brethren at one time in rejecting expansion.

However, after a change in the expansion committee for "a fresh approach," the expansion-minded owners once again gained the upper hand.

Pagan's Shot Tips Bisons

STANTON — Stanton dropped a District 5-AA heartbreaker to Ozona here Tuesday night, 51-50. The loss was the first in two conference assignments for Phil Stovall's team.

David Pagan hit a basket from the corner with two seconds to play just when it appeared Stanton had won.

Stanton was inconsistent, hitting 27 per cent of the field the first quarter, 47 the second, 25 the third and 50 the fourth. Inability of the Buffs to make a free shot in the final eight minutes hurt, too.

Tommy Jenkins led Ozona with 16 points while Lindsey Jones tallied 18 for Stanton.

In boys' B team play, Ozona won, 56-36. George Dean counted 17 points for Stanton and R. Tambunga 25 for Ozona. Stanton capped the freshman decision, 50-32, thanks to 16-point efforts by Preston Springer and Rick Wilson.

The Buffs got to Crane Friday night for another 5-AA encounter. Crane, like Stanton, is 1-1 in the standings. Ozona is 2-1.

Sammy Baugh Is Praised

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hanging out the football wash: You don't need $10 million to start your own football franchise in the dream league. It's free. But who'd be your first pick, if you could choose from all the players who ever played the game?

"Sammy Baugh is the first man I'd pick," says Mel Hein, the center on college football's all-time modern time and a 15-year pro great, as well. "Baugh could do everything. He wasn't only a great passer, but a great kicker, a smart leader, a great defensive back and he could also run the ball."

Hein and the other members of the all-time team were honored last week at a luncheon during the National Collegiate Athletic Association's annual convention.

BLIND BOY'S VISION ADMIRER — Luis Sanchez, 15, listens as Karen Button reads letter he received from President Nixon. Luis, blind since he was three, is the top student leader at his junior high school in San Diego, Calif. Mr. Nixon praises his "remarkable zest for life."

Federal Court Jury Convicts Dr. Leary

LAREDO, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Timothy Leary, the so-called "high priest of pot" who prefers to think of himself as an "inefficient wizard," was convicted on federal marijuana charges Tuesday.

Leary, 40, blasted the court proceedings as "another escalation of the war against the young," and said he will appeal.

He was found guilty of illegally transporting marijuana. The former Harvard instructor said he has been arrested more than 14 times in the last five years but found guilty only twice—both times in Laredo.

He was re-tried in U.S. District Court here Monday and Tuesday on charges of illegally transporting less than half an ounce of marijuana into this country via the International Bridge here on Dec. 22, 1965.

He was first convicted in March of 1966. The case came to the court here again after the U.S. Supreme Court overturned that conviction.

Sporting an elaborate fringed leather jacket that he wore both days of the trial, Leary said he and his wife "are not angry about this... We urge all our friends to be non-violent."

"We can win within the system. All you have to do is stay loving and keep cool."

Leary, who says he took up marijuana in 1964 after using LSD, said more than half of those who smoke marijuana are young people.

He indicated he doesn't care for his title of "high priest," telling newsmen "once the media slips an image on someone, it's difficult to get rid of it."

"Actually," he said with a grin, "I'm an inefficient wizard."

Leary said he is a candidate for the Democratic nomination for governor of California. The graying, long-haired hippy said his pretty wife, Rosemary, will run in his place if the conviction "wipes me out."

The all Mexican-American jury of four women and eight men took one hour and 21 minutes to convict Leary. A packed courtroom of spectators rang

Highest Price Paid For Bull

DENVER (AP) — A figure double the price ever paid for any individual animal—$105,000—was handed out Tuesday for one-third interest in the grand champion Angus bull at the 1970 National Western Stock Show.

The Angus, Black Revolution 628, is owned by Aristocrat Angus Ranch of Platteville, Colo., which is operated by Benny Houston and Charles Alexander.

Buyer of one-third of the bull was Schaefer Farms of Jackson, Tenn. This was the first time the grand champion bull or any interest in him was offered at the National Western auction, officials said.

Before Tuesday's bidding, highest price ever paid a single animal was $52,500 for a Hereford bull in 1967, while previous high for an Angus bull was $17,000 in 1965, officials disclosed.

'Small Budget' To Combat Pollution

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is expected to propose a "small budget" approach of user taxes, research and tax incentives to combat pollution—a program already drawing fire from Democrats and Republicans who demand more drastic action.

High administration sources disclosed Tuesday Nixon's State of the Union message Thursday will include the taxes and research proposals rather than expanded government spending and enforcement authority to clean up the environment.

As outlined by the sources, Nixon's program will fall considerably short of the federal initiatives, money and enforcement being suggested by some Congress members.

Officials said Nixon's "small budget" approach is expected to apply to efforts to stop air pollution and solve the problems of solid waste disposal. Some new federal funds may be asked to battle water pollution.

They said more research is needed "because we really don't know what pollution control equipment works yet." Tax credits would be aimed at stimulating industry's own action against pollution, and user taxes would be proposed to help pay for clean-up.

Even as word of Nixon's program was emerging Tuesday, a bipartisan group of House members already was at work pushing a program running counter to the administration.

They sent letters to fellow congressmen urging appropriation of $1.25 billion in the next fiscal year to help build waste treatment facilities. The six representatives said a 1966 anti-pollution program deserves full funding and: "To do otherwise is to invite catastrophe."

Such funding was opposed last September by Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch who said federal outlays from general revenues for solid waste disposal facilities amount to subsidies for the polluter.

Finch figured in another major development on the environmental front Tuesday when he and Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe announced 31 major airlines had agreed to make modifications on jet engines by 1972 to cut down on air pollution.

Representatives of the major domestic carriers said their companies would fit a redesigned combustor—or burner can—to 3,000 of their commercial jet engines which reportedly account for 70 per cent of all smoke pollution from the airliners.

Three Houston Fishermen Found

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — Three Houston fishermen missing since Sunday night were found Tuesday by the Coast Guard, drifting in their 17-foot boat which had run out of gas.

The men—Bill Martin, Delwyn Lee Glasner Jr. and James Campbell—were reported in good condition despite two days spent in the open boat in cold weather.

Political Rally For Third Party

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A political rally to gather support for the newly organized third party in Hidalgo County is scheduled at Weslaco Sunday, the party's county chairman said Tuesday.

Samuel Sanchez, chairman of the La Raza Udnia (The United Race) Party, said the purpose of the rally is to gather signatures for a petition and to aid persons in preparing voter registration forms.

The petition is required in order to have the party's name on the Hidalgo County general election ballot. Sanchez said about 500 persons have signed. The party must obtain 1,200 signatures before the end of January.

The party was formed last Sunday at Edinburg for the purpose of fielding local candidates and to support liberal Democrats and Republicans.

Charged With Murder, It's No Big Surprise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fourteen years after her birth, Debra Mattingly—everyone called her "Muffin"—could say she'd been around.

She had known detention homes, summer camps, courtrooms, hippie crash pads—everything, in short, but stability.

So it was easy, when Muffin Mattingly was charged last week with the murder of her adoptive father, a minor District of Columbia official, to quote her friends that she was "tough as nails, the kind of chick who eats nails."

DEBRA MATTINGLY

STILL A CHILD

The newspaper pictures—a short, blondish girl looking much older than 14, dragging on a cigarette, dressed in old jeans, sweatshirt and mackinaw jacket—made you forget that Muffin Mattingly was still a child.

And it took a few more questions to elicit the information that for all her tough, dirty talk, her love for motorcycles, her fondling of knives, Muffin Mattingly was really a sad little girl

FONDLING KNIVES

Three other men are free on bond as material witnesses to the murder. Another alleged witness is a 15-year-old runaway from Amsterdam, N.Y.—a girl known in hippie circles as "Pegasus," whose real name is being kept under wraps by authorities.

The gang that frequented Dupont Circle, a warm-weather hippie gathering-place, knew Muffin as "Little Spirit." Eugene Comeau, 19, describing himself as a onetime Hell's Angel from California, was called

Move To Put More Money Into Housing Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a move to put more money into circulation for the hard-hit housing industry, two federal agencies have cleared the way for substantial increases in the maximum interest rates banks can pay on savings deposits.

In addition to helping the housing industry, Tuesday's action by the Federal Reserve Board and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation was designed to bring commercial and mutual savings banks into keener competition for the investor's dollar.

The announcement was made after a week of almost daily meetings between the Fed, the FDIC and the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which is expected to authorize higher rates for savings and loan associations as well.

The Fed and FDIC boosted the maximum rates on bank savings deposits from 4 to 4½ per cent, the first change since Nov. 24, 1964.

On single maturity time deposits of less than $100,000, the two agencies authorized banks to pay 5½ per cent interest on one-year securities and 5½ per cent on two-year securities. A 5 per cent rate had previously been in effect.

A new ceiling of 7½ per cent was set on time deposits of $100,000 or more. The rate for such deposits left for six months to one year was increased to 7 per cent, while those left a year or more will be eligible for the highest rate.

The interest rate for savings and loan associations is now 4½ per cent on regular passbook accounts and 5½ per cent on certificates of deposit for a specific length of time.

The FDIC said its discussion with the Fed and the FHLBB had resulted in an agreement that "changes do not signal an easing of credit restraint. They are intended, moreover, to maintain the flow of savings into commercial banks and thrift institutions to support housing and other essential financing requirements."
