Draft Call Unlikely To Go Above Number 90

WASHINGTON (AP) — Stepping along at the rate of 30 numbers a month, the draft will probably call men holding lottery numbers up to 90 in March, an informed source says.

Although the March limit is still unofficial, the source said it has been virtually decided to make it number 90.

Since January, draft boards have been calling men for military service in the principle of lowest-number-first, according to the Dec. 1 lottery that gave each man a number from one to 366.

But many low-numbered men — originally counted on in Pentagon calculations — will not really become available until they lose deferments later this year.

If draft boards were required to meet rigid quotas before they become available, they might have to take high-numbered men to fill the gap.

To avert that prospect, officials of the White House, Pentagon and Selective Service decided to set lottery-number limits that would let the boards climb the lottery list at a uniform rate. This would hold down the numbers until the deferred low-numbered men are available.

'Blitz Bandits' Captured?

HOUSTON (AP) — Detectives seized four men at a small hotel early today and said they were prime suspects in a search for a gang of "blitz bandits" blamed for a series of Dallas holdups.

The prisoners, all Negroes, were held without immediate charge.

Officers gave these details: A hotel guard heard the four men talking about stolen cars, checked and found they were driving a car stolen in Dallas.

Police found a roll of coins taken in a Dallas robbery and four guns in possession of the quartet. They also carried Dallas newspaper clippings about a big jewelry store burglary and three holdup killings of Dallas area women.

Egyptians Demanding Vengeance

By The Associated Press

Egyptian planes struck across the Suez Canal today and the Israeli military command claimed one was shot down.

In Cairo thousands of Egyptians demonstrated demanding vengeance for the Israeli air raid Thursday that hit a scrap metal plant north of the Egyptian capital, killing 70 workmen.

An Israeli spokesman said the Egyptian plane, believed to be a fast Soviet-built Sukhoi 7 fighter-bomber, went down in Egyptian territory near Ismailia, about midway along the canal.

The attack was mounted by six Egyptian jets which paired off in attempts to hit three Israeli emplacements on the central and northern sectors of the 103-mile-long waterway, the spokesman said. No Israeli casualties or damage were reported.

By Israeli count, the Egyptians have lost 68 planes in combat since the 1967 war, contrasted with 10 Israeli aircraft.

Thousands of Egyptians, carrying large banners and denouncing what they called U.S.-Israeli collaboration, assembled on the streets of Cairo today.

A confidant of President Gamal Abdel Nasser and editor of the Cairo newspaper Al Ahras, Hassanein Heikal, claimed the United States, in a series of recent "close coordination meetings" with Israeli officials, collaborated in a "100-day blitz plan" to exert maximum pressure on Egypt to oust President Gamal Abdel Nasser.

He said the United States gave the Israelis the go-ahead to use American-built Phantom jets in deep penetration raids against Egypt according to a mutually arranged progressive timetable.

Three Harlem Stars Killed

GREENVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Three members of the Harlem Stars, a basketball organization, died today in a collision of their car and a truck.

Three other players suffered critical injuries.

Investigators identified the dead as Curtis Williams, 27, of Los Angeles; Lyndall Conway, 27, of San Antonio; and Morris Ray Reece, 20, of Texarkana, Tex.

Williams and Conway were dead at the scene and Reece was dead on arrival at Parkland Hospital in Dallas.

The injured were Thomas Bennet, 22, of Dallas and O. B. Gray, 35, formerly of Lubbock, and Pratt Lyons, 23, of Dallas.

The accident occurred on Interstate 30 about eight miles west of Greenville, which is 50 miles northeast of Dallas.

The team played an exhibition game Thursday night in Hooks, Tex., and was en route to Dallas when the collision with a truck loaded with chickens occurred about 5:30 a.m.

FEDERAL GUARANTEE OF UP TO $21 MILLION Assistance For New Cities

WASHINGTON (AP) — A planned community near Minneapolis was designated today as the first to receive assistance under the federal program to stimulate development of new cities.

Secretary of Housing George Romney announced that the Jonathan Development Corp. will receive a federal guarantee of up to $21 million for the cost of acquiring and developing land for the project near Chaska, Minn.

The planned community named Jonathan, about 20 miles southwest of Minneapolis, is to house approximately 50,000 people in 20 years.

The idea of new cities is to relieve racial, social and population pressures on existing cities by creating new communities in outlying areas.

Jonathan will be integrated both socially and racially and will have approximately one-tenth of its 5,000 housing units reserved for low income families.

Henry T. McKnight, president of Jonathan Development and a Minnesota state senator, said plans for the new community will preserve and enhance the rolling hills, wooded areas, creeks and lakes on the site.

Plans call for five residential villages, with school, shopping and civic facilities linked by a network of roads, walkways and open spaces.

Each village will have a population of 7,000. Another 10,000 will be located near the town center in high-density units and 5,000 in a nearby learning center.

Within each village, there will be a center for shopping, required municipal services, a medical clinic and a post office. Five industries have already located in Jonathan, which was started in 1968.

Army Captain Charged With Twenty Murders

WASHINGTON (AP) — Charges filed Thursday against an Army officer alleged a second massacre of South Vietnamese civilians occurred near the hamlet of My Lai March 16, 1968, it has been learned.

The Pentagon is not releasing details, but military sources told The Associated Press 20 deaths are alleged in unpremeditated murder charges lodged against Capt. Thomas K. Willingham, 25, of Allenhurst, N. J.

The Pentagon is withholding the number of victims set forth in the specifications pending a required investigation to determine if Willingham will, like Lt.

Lt. William L. Calley Jr., be court-martialed.

Military sources who provided the number, said the specifications Willingham do not say whether he actually killed the victims or ordered it done by the platoon he commanded.

The alleged incident in which Willingham stands accused occurred about two miles from My Lai where, according to the Army, Calley killed 102 civilians March 16, 1968.

Willingham is the highest ranking officer yet charged in the case. At the time he was a lieutenant commanding a platoon.

He is also the fifth U. S. serviceman formally accused in connection with the controversial operation.

In addition to Calley, two sergeants and a private who served with his company have been charged.

Army sources said they expect now that other individuals who served with Willingham may be charged.

Pentagon officials say all together 37 individuals—15 soldiers and 22 ex-soldiers—are now considered under investigation.

Willingham was due to get out of service last Tuesday when he was advised that charges were prepared against him.

He was held on active duty and had the accusations formally read to him Thursday after obtaining a civilian lawyer, Robert McKinley of Newark, N.J.

He also was appointed a military lawyer, Capt. Jerold Allen, of the judge advocate general staff at Fort Meade, Md.

The information leading to the charges against Willingham was developed, according to Pentagon officials, during testimony presented to a panel headed by

Gen. William R. Peers in the Pentagon.

The Peers group has been assigned to find out whether Army officers tried to hush up atrocities which may have occurred at Song My.

Willingham was promoted to captain one year ago. He holds several decorations for Vietnam duty, among them the Bronze Star, the Air Medal, and the Purple Heart.

The Washington, D. C., native is married and was commissioned from the ROTC Jan. 28, 1967, after graduating from Murray State University, Murray, Ky.

'COMMAND INFLUENCE' MOTIONS PENDING

Calley's Trial Set For May 18

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — A military judge has ruled that the Army has jurisdiction to try Lt. William L. Calley Jr. on charges of murdering 102 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai March 16, 1968.

Soon after Calley's trial was set Thursday for May 18, Pentagon sources disclosed that another officer, Capt. Thomas K. Willingham, has been charged with unpremeditated murder of 20 persons during the same operation nearly two years ago.

At a pretrial hearing for Calley here Thursday, Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy rejected a defense motion to dismiss the charge and end the case on the grounds that the Army had illegally retained Calley beyond his scheduled Sept. 6 discharge date and had no right to try him.

Still pending were motions for: —Disclosure of documents and messages that might have passed between Saigon and Washington officials concerning the Calley case.

—Dismissal of the charges on grounds that "command influence" from President Nixon on down the chain of command was brought to bear on the decision to charge and try Calley.

The Supreme Court has reversed convictions when in other military cases command influence was proved.

George W. Latimer, Calley's

chief civilian lawyer, wants to subpoena Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor and the Army's chief of staff, Gen. William C. Westmoreland, to testify on the command influence issue.

Kennedy has denied the request for subpoenas until the defense has a chance to interview Laird, Resor and Westmoreland to find out whether they would have any testimony relevant to the issue.

Kennedy delayed argument on the command influence motion until March 9.

Kennedy denied outright the motion to dismiss on the grounds the Army lacks jurisdiction. He also denied the disclosure motion on grounds it did not specify what documents the defense wanted and where they were located.

DON'T VIOLATE DEAL WHICH RESULTED IN BOMBING HALT

Laird Issues Warning To Red Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird issued a cautious warning today to North Vietnam not to violate the understanding which resulted in the Nov. 1, 1968, bombing halt.

At an airport news conference after a three-day inspection trip to the war zone, Laird was asked if the U.S. policy of striking back at enemy forces that attack from sanctuaries outside Vietnam included the right to make air strikes on antiaircraft positions which could fire on U.S. reconnaissance planes.

UNDERSTANDING

The secretary replied, "If the North Vietnamese violate the supposed understanding of more than a year ago, the consequences of their violation as it relates to the theory of protective reaction is something that they should bear in mind."

Laird refused to be more specific, and later an aide explained that U.S. officials never disclose so-called "rules of engagement" outlining military action to be taken in given circumstances.

Murder Suspects Jailed In Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — Police arrested two youths today in connection with the killing of a woman grocery clerk.

The youths, both 16-year-old high school pupils, were arrested at their homes in Northeast Dallas.

They are being questioned about the death of Miss April Tufts, a night drive-in grocery clerk who was killed by a single shotgun blast Jan. 27 as she talked on the telephone to her roommate.

Her killing was the first of a series of robbery-killing which have left five Dallas area women clerks dead in 1970.

The U.S. version of the "understanding" with North Vietnam is that Washington made clear American reconnaissance flights over the North would continue to check on possible enemy buildups. Hanoi denies there was any understanding

'Hot' Missile Is Removed

BRENNHAM, Tex. (AP) — Rocket experts lifted a potentially dangerous Polaris missile booster from an overturned trailer truck and sent it to Bergstrom Air Force Base today.

While officials had discounted the threat of an explosion, they said the missile's 20,000 pounds of solid propellant fuel posed an extreme fire hazard if exposed to intense heat.

Winches hoisted the 24-foot long missile motor and its metal case into another vehicle for a 90-minute ride to Bergstrom, at Austin. There it was to be disengaged and inspected by specialists.

Navy officials in Washington had warned that no effort should be made to move the booster into another truck until demolition experts arrived.

Civilian and military authorities with special cooling equipment and emergency vehicles from Bergstrom had been standing by at the scene, seven miles west of Brenham on U.S. 290, since shortly after the truck upset Wednesday.

Removal of the missile unit permitted the reopening of a five-mile stretch of highway closed because of the hazard. Two families living within a mile of the spot, in a rural and hilly area, had been evacuated. They were allowed to return home.

and says American reconnaissance planes are violators of its air space and liable to be shot down.

The question was prompted by recent American air attacks on antiaircraft positions inside North Vietnam which the U.S. Command said fired on American reconnaissance planes and their armed escorts.

'SOLID PROGRESS'

Laird said earlier that "solid progress" in Vietnamization of the war will permit more American troop withdrawals despite a continuing enemy threat and lack of progress in the Paris peace talks. He warned, however, that "the road to Vietnamization will not be free of hard knocks and some disappointments."

Laird termed his tour to see how President Nixon's Vietnamization program is working "informative and meaningful" talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu and other top South

Vietnamese and U.S. officials

But he declined to forecast when more U.S. forces might be pulled out of Vietnam. He said periodic announcements of troop withdrawals would be made by Nixon. Laird said the fact that 110,000 Americans can be withdrawn by April 15 proves that Vietnamization is working.

FIRST-HAND LOOK

He said the United States and South Vietnam continue to hope for a breakthrough in the Paris peace talks. He said that in his discussions with South Vietnamese leaders they explored ways to "encourage the enemy to be more receptive to the route of peaceful negotiations in Paris."

Before the news conference, Laird took a first-hand look at Vietnamization and said he was impressed by a Vietnamese general's report of how he is reducing desertions.

Wearing Army fatigues and a black peaked cap, Laird took a helicopter to the Trung Lap headquarters of the South Vietnamese 49th Regiment, 35 miles northwest of Saigon. He and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, arrived two hours after the base was "Vietnamized" by the withdrawal of the last U.S. combat troops.

MORALE HIGH

"You say morale is high and there's no question of your being able to handle the situation," Laird asked Maj. Gen. Nguyen Xuan Thinh, commander of the South Vietnamese 25th Division.

"Yes, sir," said the general. Desertion is one of the major problems in the South Vietnamese army, and Thinh said he had cut his division's rate by "knowing the psychology" of his men. He gave no figures, but told Laird he makes sure the men share field assignments equally, eat good food, get holiday leaves and are allowed visits from relatives.

Equally important, he continued, whenever possible his troops are ordered to go all the way to seize combat objectives, even though the enemy forces might have been driven out beforehand by artillery and air strikes.

'WAITRESS' OUTDATED

AUSTIN (AP) — "May I have my check please, waitress . . . I mean sales hostess."

That's the way the 4,000-member Texas Restaurant Association's directors want it. The TRA has dropped the term "waitress," calling it outdated.

2 Bomb Police Station, Rob Bank, Injure 25

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Two men bombed the Danbury police station today, robbed a bank, and set off another bomb in a shopping center parking lot, injuring an estimated total of 25 persons.

About 20 of the persons injured were in the police station when a powerful blast occurred near the front entrance of the building. It smashed out all the front windows, blew a hole in the wall, ruptured water pipes, and sent rubble spewing onto Main Street.

A short time later, two armed men invaded the Union Savings Bank and robbed it of an undetermined amount of money, making the employees and customers lie on the floor. A bomb exploded in the bank shortly after the robbers left, injuring several persons.

A third blast demolished a car in the parking lot at the Danbury mall, damaged half a dozen other parked cars, and broke the front window of the Grandways Store.

A bulletin was put out for two men in a white station-wagon with New York license plates.

The seriousness of the injuries suffered in the explosions was not immediately determined. Most of the injuries were reportedly cuts caused by flying glass.

THANKS FOR DOING A SCOUT'S GOOD TURN
Col. Chandler Estes receives plaque from Grant Boardman

Excellent Prospects Ahead For Scouting, Panel Told

Prospects are excellent for a good year in Scouting in this district, Grant Boardman, vice chairman of the Lone Star District, told the district committee Thursday at its monthly meeting in the VA Hospital.

Col. Chandler B. Estes, base commander at Webb AFB, who stepped into the breach as district chairman last year when Col. William C. McGlothlin was suddenly transferred to Randolph AFB, was cited for his service to the district and was presented a plaque by Boardman.

Reports from various committee chairmen reflected activities already under way and a stepped-up tempo in the offing. The meeting also drew about 10 institutional representatives, whom Monty Stokes, district Scout executive, termed the managers of the Scouting program in the sponsoring institutions.

"Our sponsoring institutions have formed a partnership with the Boy Scouts of America to make Scouting an integral part of their youth programs, and these representatives are the men who will see that boys have leadership, a meeting place, and a real program."

One new unit at Mount Bethel Baptist Church is in the offing, reported Chaplain A. C. Hicks, chairman of organization and extension. College Baptist has set up a meeting with the panel. Eight other potential sponsors have been contacted.

Bill Brooks, leadership training chairman, said the sessions for Cubbers have been completed by 20 adults, and the courses will be repeated later. Scout leader training begins the first Tuesday in March and will continue through April 14.

A volunteer to be the commissioner in charge of the Scouting monthly Roundtable is needed, said Dean Lagerstrom, district commissioner. The staff of neighborhood commissioners is being recruited. Jimmy Ray Smith reported on plans for the Scout exposition.

Winners of the advancement awards for the past year were announced by C. A. McDonnell, advancement chairman. Capt. Jim Fisher, Explorer chairman, pointed out that responsibility for the over-all operation of this program has been shifted to one committee, which initially has its work cut out in reactivating five units. Capt. Dennis Scarborough, Webb AFB Scouting project officer, was introduced as was Jerry Rottler, assistant district executive.

Sweet Life Fades Away From Rome

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP)— Ten years after Federico Fellini's film "La Dolce Vita" glamorized the Via Veneto, the Sweet Life has faded away from Rome.

The movie took in a fortune at the box office. Its breath of scandal stirred up bitter questions in Parliament about the decadence of Roman society. Police stood guard to prevent violence at theaters where the film was shown.

But it has been years since anyone walked a cheetah or a lion cub down the Via Veneto on a leash. No more blondes ride down the street in leggy poses on the hoods of yellow Cadillacs in quest of movie contracts. It has been a long time since anyone danced a barefoot cha-cha on the table of a Trastevere Restaurant.

Some tourists still go wading at night in the Fountain of Trevi, but few of them have the bosom that Anita Ekberg displayed in the movie.

Chairmen For Scout Exposition Announced

Committee chairmen for the annual Scout Exposition at Highland Center mall March 7 have been named, according to Jimmy Ray Smith, Lone Star District camping and activities chairman.

Maj. Bill Lund is the general chairman, assisted by Aubrey Bryans. Ticket sales chairmen are Charles Boadle and Baxter Moore, and Chaplain A. C. Hicks, VA Hospital, is handling the participation. Publicity will be directed by Joe Pickle; judging by Dean Lagerstrom; health and safety by Dr. Max Black. Assistance in layout, construction and maintenance will be given by the Order of the Arrow under Dub Day.

Distribution of tickets to the various units has begun, said Lund, and so has the sign-up of units which will participate by setting up exhibits or demonstrations. More than a score of Cub packs or Scout troops are expected to take part.

Ticket sales are one way units can help raise some finances for their own activities because they receive 40 per cent of the 50-cent tickets. The remaining amount goes to pay expenses, and any left over goes into the council's camping program.

Wave Of Zero Temperatures

By The Associated Press

An Arctic cold snap powered by strong northerly winds pushed a wave of zero temperatures into the nation's heartlands for the fourth time of the winter today.

The mercury toppled to 20 below at Grand Forks, N.D., hours before daybreak. Subzero readings extended southeastward across Wisconsin and into Iowa.

The Weather Bureau said the severe cold was expected to spread into much of the Northeast by Saturday morning.

Travelers warnings were in effect for Ohio and western Pennsylvania as a result of sometimes heavy snow south and east of the Great Lakes. Light amounts, one to three inches, were general from northern Illinois to the Lake Ontario vicinity.

Freezing cold also lingered in the Southeast, where temperatures overnight were frequently lower than in the central Rockies. Atlanta shivered in a low of 29 while it was 38 in Denver.

Light snow dusted the northern Plains and portions of the northern Rockies.

Mild Pacific air scattered showers into the Northwest, but temperatures in the Far West remained generally mild.

West chose to ignore his partner's overall in hearts, and selected the king of diamonds instead as his opening lead against South's four spade contract. East followed with the deuce and, when the king held the trick, West continued with a small diamond. East was in with the ace and he shifted to the king of hearts which was won in dummy.

South correctly diagnosed that from East's failure to continue diamonds, that he was out of the suit which made it appear likely that he had length in both hearts and clubs. Declarer accordingly decided to see if some pressure could be applied in that direction. His first step was to ruff a heart in his hand. Next came the ace of spades and a spade to the jack. When everyone followed, South was in position to ruff another heart removing West's last card in that suit.

Declarer now played his last trump. East still had two hearts left in addition to his original club holding, and he was able to discard a heart safely, retaining the queen as protection against North's ten of hearts. When the clubs failed to break, declarer fell one trick short of his goal.

South made his mistake relatively early in the play. After winning East's heart shift at trick three with dummy's ace, it was all right to ruff a heart in his hand, but he should take this opportunity to concede another diamond trick to West. East will be forced to make an immediate discard, presumably a small heart. When South plays off his last trump subsequently, East is down to one heart and four clubs and is unable to defend. If he throws the queen of hearts, North's ten becomes established. If he discards a club instead, South will be able to win four clubs.

'Chicago 7' Go To Jury This Weekend

CHICAGO (AP) — Some time this weekend the jury will be locked up to reflect on five months of testimony, legal rulings and bitter conflict and decide whether seven men plotted violence at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

"It's an awesome task," defense lawyer William M. Kunstler told the U.S. District Court jury of 10 women and two men Thursday in his final argument.

"It's hard to divorce five months of experience from your minds and decide this case on the facts."

"You've seen and heard many things here—a man gagged, bitter interchanges. Some were humorous, some were boring, I'm sure."

The trial has recorded outbursts, arguments and slurs perhaps unequaled in American court annals.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman, 74, a tiny, wrinkled man, has been subjected to disobedience and, in his judgment, "vilification."

The defendants have maintained a constant stream of insults and discourtesies.

The judge repeatedly made it clear that he had the power to hold the defendants and their attorneys in contempt, but that failed to halt the outbursts.

—Defendant Abbie Hoffman —no relative of the judge—called him "a disgrace to the Jews," and swore at him in Yiddish.

—Bobby G. Seale, a Black Panther leader, was sentenced to four years in prison for contempt and held for a separate trial after gagging and tying failed to quiet him. He repeatedly called Judge Hoffman, "a racist, fascist pig."

—Jerry C. Rubin, a co-founder with Abbie of the Yippies — Youth International party — called the judge "a Hitler . . . a tyrant."

—David T. Dellinger, 54, the oldest of the defendants, called the judge "a liar, a hypocrite." His bail was revoked last week after he used an obscenity and called a witness a liar.

Kunstler told the judge he was a disgrace to justice.

His partner, Leonard I. Weinglass, was often told by the judge that his conduct was intolerable.

During an argument over whether it was a political trial or a criminal case, Kunstler said, "They tell us the trial against Jesus was not a political trial either."

"I wasn't alive at the time," the judge replied.

Of the 54 government witnesses, 33 were policemen, city officials and law enforcement agents. The defense called, as Weinglass pointed out in his closing argument, "housewives, civil rights leaders, police officers, pacifists, authors, newsmen, attorneys, academicians, clergymen, performers, directors, nurses and a physician."

Allan Ginsberg, the bearded poet, dotted his testimony with chants of, "Oomp." He said this booming noise helped calm crowds during the convention.

Other defense witnesses included folk singer Arlo Guthrie, authors Norman Mailer and William Styron, comedian Dick Gregory and Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley.

Policemen and city officials testified about inflammatory statements allegedly made by defendants.

The prosecution contended the defendants deliberately planned to incite a riot as "the first step to the revolution."

The indictment said the defendants had the intent to incite rioting before they came to Chicago.

Weinglass told the jurors that if they had any doubt about the defendants' intent, "then you must acquit these men."

If convicted, each man faces a $20,000 fine and a maximum of 10 years in prison.

In addition to Abbie Hoffman, Rubin and Dellinger, defendants are Rennie C. "Rennie" Davis, 29, Thomas E. Hayden, 30, Lee Weiner, 31, and John R. Froines, 31.

APPEARS TO HAVE FAILED TO GET POST — Wendy Green, 16-year-old high school student from Miami, apparently has failed in her bid to enter the all-male world of congressional pages. House patronage committee member B. F. Sisk, D-Calif., says no change currently is anticipated in the policy of hiring only young men. Wendy had written to President Nixon and every member of the House of Representatives in the hope of landing a page job.

Largest Bite — Houston Lighting & Power Co. has paid the city $5,449,403 in gross receipts taxes from 1969. City treasurer Henry Krieger said the payment delivered by the firm's president, Carl Sherman, "is easily the largest single collection in the city's history."

Anti-Negro Deed Of Carswell Found

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The deed to a piece of property sold by Supreme Court nominee G. Harrold Carswell and his wife in 1966 contained a whites-only clause, the Palm Beach Post reported today.

The anti-Negro restriction was apparently first established by Carswell's brother-in-law, Jack Simmons Jr., the Post said, when he obtained 38 acres fronting on Ochlocknee Bay in 1963. It said Carswell's wife Virginia acquired part of the land from her brother the same year.

"Ownership, occupancy and use shall be restricted to members of the Caucasian race," said a covenant written into the deed recorded at the Wakulla County courthouse in Crawfordville.

When the Carswells sold their lot for about $4,800 July 12, 1966, the deed specifically made the sale subject to the restrictive convenants in force three years earlier when Mrs. Carswell got the property, the Post said in a copyright story.

Domestic workers employed by and residing with Caucasian families were excepted from the restrictions, the Post said.

The Carswells no longer own any property in the bayfront complex, according to the current Wakulla County tax roll.

The Post story said purchasers of the Carswell lot were Mrs. Harriet N. Yon, wife of Tallahassee Postmaster Peyton Yon, and Mrs. Mazie Middleton, a Tallahassee widow.

The Carswells and others reported involved in the deal were not immediately available for comment.

Carswell, a judge of the 5th Circuit Court of Appeal, has been in seclusion since the Senate Judiciary Committee last week recessed its hearings on his Supreme Court nomination.

Sammy Jones Describes Boy Scout Purposes

Boy Scout Week was recognized Tuesday by Kentwood Elementary School Parent-Teacher Association, which had an Eagle Scout, Sammy Jones, as guest speaker.

Jones, a senior at Big Spring High School, has been in the Scouting program for nine years and has earned the God and Country Award. He attended the twelfth world jamboree in Idaho, and in 1971, will travel to Japan as a Scout leader.

"The purpose of Scouting is to develop one's self," said Jones. "If you learn everything offered in Boy Scout books, you will have the equivalent of a college degree.

Jones divided Scouting into three categories, which were 1) academic, where there are 135 merit badges one can specialize in; 2) personal development, where boys learn to work as a team, and in so doing, build character, and 3) social development, which teaches a boy to sell himself and gives him the opportunity to meet others, be friendly and show respect.

In conclusion, Jones stressed that Scouting is good for every boy, but without parents' backing, he is handicapped.

Mrs. Paschal Odum presided, and the flag ceremony was performed by Boy Scout Troop 179.

The Rev. Bob Knutson of Trinity Lutheran Church brought a devotion based on a quote by the late Dag Hammarskjold, "I am the vessel, the drop is God's. God is the thirsty one." He used a picture of water to show how talents can be used to the fullest extent or wasted.

Mothers of students taught by Mrs. Lee Freeze and Mrs. Ray Cantrell served on the hospitality committee. The room count was won by Mrs. Charles Phillips' first grade class.

Music Club Hears Talk

"Music Influenced by the World Wars" was the program topic Wednesday for the Big Spring Music Study Club. Mrs. Richard Cook, 402 Westover Road, was hostess and presented the talk. Cohostess was Mrs. Clyde Cantrell.

Mrs. Rene Brown sang "You've Got To Be Carefully Taught," from South Pacific, and Mrs. James Baum brought a number of old 78 rpm records and played a piano medley.

"World War I and the depression influenced American music and made it what it is today," said Mrs. Cook.

"World War I unified the nation, and the depression caused people to look for cheap entertainment such as community choruses and orchestras.

"The advent of the radio after the war and the spread of teaching music in schools, also contributed enormously to the direction American music took."

Mrs. Baum played records of typical songs from 1920 to 1950, then played a medley of 15 songs on the piano including, "Maple Leaf Rag" from the '20's, "Green Eyes" from the '30's and "My Funny Valentine" from the '40's.

The next meeting will be March 11 at the home of Mrs. Aubrey Hyden, 1725 Yale.

'Explaining Death To A Child' Is Discussed By Rev. C. Hildebrand

"Explaining Death to A Child" was discussed by Rev. Caleb Hildebrand at the Child Study Club meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. W. Tipton, 507 Highland. Mrs. W. A. Riley was cohostess.

In explaining death to a child, Rev. Hildebrand said, "Above all, be frank and honest. Don't mislead the child about death. Speak when you have control of your faculties so as not to give a child constant fear of death."

"Children of different ages have various ideas of death. From three to five years, they deny that death is final. From five to nine years, a child accepts death, but not as happening to him. By nine years, a child recognizes death as inevitable and will occur to himself."

When discussing death, Rev. Hildebrand advised, "Don't explain death away in a fairy tale. Don't say someone died because he was sick; a child might be afraid to go to the doctor. Don't say the dead person is asleep, and don't tell a child to be brave and not cry. Why shouldn't he cry at

Dr. Jim White Is Speaker

Cardiac surgery and other circulatory disturbances were discussed Tuesday by Dr. Jim White, guest speaker for the Texas Nurses Association in the home of Mrs. Lee Butler, 2604 Rebecca. The cohostess was Mrs. Claude Van Vleet.

Mrs. Fannie Clark presided as the group agreed to sponsor a birthday party each year for members of the Boys' Club. It was reported that $165 was sent to the Texas Nurses Foundation in Austin for scholarships.

Initial plans were made to celebrate the centennial year for nursing. Locally, the event will probably be observed during Nurses' Week in the fall.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in the Valentine motif. The March 10 meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. R. T. Winn, Coahoma.

Gardeners Help Pupils At School

Thirty children at Moss Special Education School planted cigar box gardens Thursday morning with instruction from the Oasis Garden Club.

Garden club members covered the boxes in brown adhesive paper and put pictures on the top. The children planted moss, bits of evergreen and small plants such as strawberry and columbine in the boxes. Many of the flowers can be transplanted into gardens.

Assisting the children were Mrs. J. D. Leonard, Mrs. C. O. Hitt, Mrs. Boone Horne, Mrs. M. C. Stulting, Mrs. H. T. Hansen and Mrs. Tom Evans.

The next meeting will be at 10 a.m., March 19, at the school. Garden club members and the children will plant seeds in the school flowerbeds to grow chrysanthemums, marigolds and nasturtiums.

Mothers Slate Activities For DeMolay Meet

The DeMolay conclave slated here June 5-6 was the main topic of business during a Tuesday meeting of the DeMolay Mothers Club in the home of the president, Mrs. Gloria Ezell.

During the conclave, the club will be responsible for the visiting DeMolay chapter sweethearts, with 18 chapters to be represented. Also, the club will provide a gift for each girl. Miss Denise Estes is hostess sweetheart.

Mrs. Ezell, general chairman, named committees, which included Mrs. A. Swartz and Mrs. Robert Stripling, decorations; Mrs. Omar Jones, luncheon; Mrs. Star Warford, sweetheart presentation; Mrs. Lloyd Nalls, entertainment for chaperones and mothers; and Mrs. Jimmie Jones, registration. Mrs. Carl Strom will host a get-acquainted party for the sweethearts, chaperones and mothers.

Discussed briefly were the 10 remaining DeMolay activities for this term in which the mothers' club will participate.

Banquet Held By Groups At Christian Church

A Sweetheart Banquet was held Thursday evening at the First Christian Church for the Christian Women's Fellowship and Christian Men's Fellowship.

A covered dish supper was served and tables were decorated with red and white hearts and white candles on white tablecloths.

The program, "Times Are A Changing" was given by Capt. John Millhollen, Webb AFB. He discussed the generation gap and how Christian parents should listen to the youth of today. They should answer the questions of youth and not ignore them, Capt. Millhollen said.

The Rev. John Beard gave the closing prayer.

Bride Honored With Gift Party

Mrs. Kent McCarty, the former Miss Carol Grimley, was honored with a lingerie shower Tuesday evening in the home of Miss Jan Cooper, 3213 Drexel. Other hostesses were Mrs. R. L. Cooper and Miss Sherry Wooley.

The bride's chosen colors of blue and white were used to decorate the refreshment table. Mrs. McCarty was married Friday evening to Frank Kent McCarty, now serving in the Navy.

Valentine's Day was celebrated by the Kiwani-Queens at their regular monthly luncheon Thursday at Holiday Inn. Favors of chocolates and Valentines were given to each member. Hostesses were Mrs. Horace Reagan and Mrs. T. B. Atkins.

Jackie's Letters Signal Mystery

NEW YORK (AP) — Auto-graph dealer Charles Hamilton said Thursday the attorney who gave him four letters from Jacqueline Onassis to former Undersecretary of Defense Roswell Gilpatric to sell at auction claimed they had been found in a wastebasket in Gilpatric's law office.

Hamilton said the attorney told him he had received the letters by mail from an unidentified man who claimed to have worked nights as a stenographer in Gilpatric's office.

The letters were withdrawn from sale Monday after Gilpatric said they had been taken from his office safe.

The attorney, whom Hamilton declined to identify, claimed he knew of no theft and said he was unable to locate the stenographer.

"He doesn't exist! He's just a mythical person!" Hamilton quoted him as saying. The attorney had told him he was unable to reach any stenographer by phone and that the man did not live at the address he had given him.

He said the attorney claimed he had been "duped, deceived."

The letters, to Gilpatric, 64, span a five-year period from 1963 when Mrs. Onassis was the wife of President John F. Kennedy to 1968 when she was on her honeymoon cruise with Greek shipping millionaire Aristotle Onassis.

The last letter thanked Gilpatric for a remark he had made after she had married Onassis. She said she was "very touched" and ended with, "I hope you know all you were and are and will ever be, to me—with my love, Jackie."

Hamilton said the attorney had cashed a $500 advance check on the letters but paid it back after learning of Gilpatric's complaint. He said the lawyer put it in his own account explaining that he had been unable to find the mysterious stenographer.

Hamilton said that at first he had thought the attorney was acting on behalf of Gilpatric but that he did not press for the letter owner's identity because it might prove embarrassing.

"It's beginning to be my own feeling that there was no name," Hamilton said.

Deadline Near For Our Little Miss Pageant

Entries for the Our Little Miss Pageant must be post-marked no later than midnight Saturday to appear in the program, but entries will be taken through 5 p.m. Feb. 27 for competition.

All checks and entry forms must be mailed along with the contestant's picture to either Mrs. Roy Cederberg, 2306 Merrily, or Mrs. Roy Watkins, 606 Drake.

The pageant has two divisions, Miss La Petite, ages 3-6, and Our Little Miss, ages 7-12. The La Petite division will compete in party dress and sportswear. The Little Miss division will compete in party dress, sportswear and talent presentations of less than three minutes.

The entry fee for the local pageant is $17.50. Entry forms can be obtained from Hemphill Wells, Tot 'N Teen and The Kids Shop.

All girls between the ages of 3 and 12 and whose parents live within a 35-mile radius of Big Spring are eligible to enter the local pageant, which is an official preliminary to the Texas Our Little Miss Pageant and the World's Our Little Miss Pageant.

The pageant will be held Saturday, Feb. 28, with the finals beginning at 7:30 p.m. Sponsor for the Big Spring pageant is the Big Spring High School Choir Booster Club.

DEAR ABBY: My New Year really started off well! New Year's Eve my boyfriend admitted to me that another girl is going to have his baby in about five months.

We tried to break up because of this but we just couldn't. John (not his real name) and I love each other too much. Abby, we've gone steady nearly a whole year.

John said he ran into this old girl friend of his a few months back and they both had too much to drink, and it just happened. He says she doesn't mean anything to him anymore, and she knows it.

Now John tells me that this girl plans to give up the baby for adoption, and Abby, I want it! It's John's baby, and we planned to be married next year, but if we could adopt this baby, we'd get married sooner. John is all for the idea.

The girl says it doesn't matter to her who gets the baby as long as she's giving it up. John would pay all her expenses. What do you think?

JOHN'S GIRL: DEAR GIRL: How old are you? And how old is John? Have you discussed this with your parents? And with John's? Is the girl mature and stable enough to let you adopt the child without causing trouble later? You had better get some counseling with your local clergyman, or from someone who sees the total picture clearly and objectively before making such an important decision. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: In his explanation of the derivation of the word "cop" (slang for police officer) your correspondent made an error. He stated that "cop" came from the Latin word "capere."

There is no such word in Latin. However, there is a word, "capere," a verb of the third conjugation which means to seize or to capture. Perhaps that is what he meant.

LATIN TEACHER: DEAR TEACHER: Thank you (and many, many others) for pointing this out. Latin may be a "dead" language, but there are plenty of living Latin scholars.

DEAR ABBY: My sister became disenchanted with her husband of nearly 10 years, and confided in me that she was going to get a divorce. She complained that her husband was dull, never sent her flowers, never said, "I love you," and had a nasty disposition. I am quite sure she is correct.

Short May Run For Governor

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Robert E. Short, owner of the Washington Senators baseball team and a former national treasurer of the Democratic party, says he probably will run for governor of Minnesota this year.

Short, 52, was the Democratic-Farmer-Labor candidate for lieutenant governor in 1966 but was defeated along with Gov. Karl F. Roivaa, who was seeking re-election.

on all four counts, but in his defense I must say that he was not a drinker or gambler, and he didn't chase women. He provided her with a de luxe apartment and the best of everything.

She contacted an attorney who advised her to snatch the furniture while her husband was at work, and since their savings were in both names, she should draw out all the money, which I'm sure runs into a considerable sum.

My question: Would a reputable attorney give such advice, and would a decent woman do this sort of thing?

DEAR JUST: In my opinion, no reputable attorney would give such advice, and no decent woman would do this sort of thing. Furthermore, the wife's "possession" of the furniture and money would not confirm her right to it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope, 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

Murder Trial Of Scamardo

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — One seat remained empty in the jury box for the murder trial of Pete Thomas Scamardo as jury selection entered its 15th day in 82nd District Court today.

A new panel of 200 prospective jurors, ordered by Dist. Judge J. R. Alania, reports at 1:30 p.m. The latest call brings to 1,300 the number of persons called for possible jury service for the trial.

The 11th juror was seated Thursday. He was Rodolfo Gonzalez, 49, employed by a Weslaco motor company. Gonzalez, a Roman Catholic, expressed no opposition to the death penalty.

Scamardo, 31, a prominent Hearne businessman, is accused of hiring a Houston man to kill Sam Degelia Jr., his former business partner and longtime friend. Degelia's bullet torn body was found near McAllen July 11, 1968.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Judge not, that ye be not judged. For with what judgment ye judge, ye shall be judged. (Matthew 7:1-2)
PRAYER: Father, help us to examine our hearts in the light of Christ's love and example. Help us to be our own best critic rather than a judge of others. Amen.
(From the 'Upper Room')

Precarious Chain

Rep. George Mahon, chairman of the House appropriations committee, has cautioned that President Nixon's forecast of a $1.3 billion surplus in the proposed federal budget could easily turn out to be a $5.19 billion deficit.

Under former accounting procedures, the budget probably would appear in deficit, but even under the new consolidated procedures it is dependent upon fortuitous circumstances and upon an almost unbroken chain of events.

Part of the balance and surplus is conditioned upon predicted stepup of collections which would give a one-year windfall of some $1.6 billion, but without this, Rep. Mahon reminds, the surplus would shrink to $131 million. If user taxes on highways and airports are not enacted as proposed, another $653 million in revenue could be lost, and this would mean a $522 million deficit. Failure to extend excise taxes on phones, cars, etc. would cost another $560 million in revenue, projecting the deficit to $1.08 billion. If Congress does not raise the taxable Social Security base from $7,800 to $9,000, then the trust fund would shrink by $309 million, edging the deficit to $1.39 billion. Should the $2.1 billion in savings from suggested cuts and eliminations, plus revenues from sales, fail to materialize, the deficit would mount to $3.52 billion. If a projected raise for civil service and military employees is advanced six months, as well it might be, then another billion is added to the deficit. Finally, if postal rates are not raised to provide $674 million more revenue, the deficit would reach $5.19, according to Rep. Mahon's calculations.

Of course, not all these eventualities will occur, but it is unlikely also that everything proposed will come about either. Rep. Mahon has performed a sound service in reminding that the prospect of a budget surplus is one to be held with considerable reserve until it comes to pass.

Worth Pursuing

An alarming specter in Western minds has long been that rapid expansion of China's huge population, a fourth of the world's total, would compel outward aggression for living room and food.

That alarm may be somewhat relieved if the meticulously researched deductions of a leading American expert on Chinese affairs, Leo A. Orleans of the Library of Congress, can be verified.

Most recent estimates of China's population run over 760 million with a growth rate to reach a billion by 1960. Orleans' writings in scholarly journals put the current population under 750 million, with an annual growth rate now of a little more than 1.5 per cent, to reach a total of 800 million by 1975.

The Peking government was reported in the 1950s to have undertaken a broad population-control program. It has an on-again-off-again record. Orleans' conclusion is that it is now being pushed harder with greater effect than generally thought, over 500 million population under continuing threat of famine. Despite years of official population-control efforts, India's annual growth is still running at a potentially disastrous high rate of 2.6 per cent. And although that is well below some Latin American rates, such as Mexico's 3.6 per cent, for India it means an added 13 million people each year to feed.

If China has been able to reduce its population growth rate to the degree that Orleans estimates, every effort should be made to find out how that was achieved. For such knowledge could make a substantial contribution in the struggle against the gravest of worldwide problems.

A National Policy On Education

WASHINGTON — Let's hear it today for Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss. He is currently pressing an amendment to the basic Federal aid-to-education bill aimed unerringly at the hypocritical and double talk of professional Northern liberals who preach, but do not practice, integration of the races.

STENNIS' AMENDMENT would insure that Federal school desegregation pressure would be "applied uniformly in all regions of the United States." In so doing, he is challenging the practice of distinguishing between de jure, or deliberate, and de facto, or inadvertent, school segregation. It is in the South, of course, where schools were once separate by law, that de jure segregation is easier to prove.

The key words de facto. The fact is that statistics of the Health, Education and Welfare Department show nearly as much racial isolation in the North and West as in the South — and sometimes more. Stennis' amendment would order HEW to disregard the de jure-de facto distinction and take steps against any kind of segregation by race in the schools, even that practiced by white civil rights crusaders.

FOR YEARS a certain segment of this crusading crowd has been demanding that other people — meaning mostly those parents who can't afford private school tuition — send their kids to integrated public schools. They themselves, of course, either have avoided such public schools like a plague or made "arrangements" insuring that the public schools in their own neighborhoods remain lily white.

I cite the case of one well-to-do family which is transferring its boy from a Northern public school to a private facility because he has a couple of Negro teachers. A Negro lawyer I know is borrowing money so he can yank his boy out of a Washington public school and install him in a private school.

IN THE LATTER case, the black lawyer has good cause. With one or two exceptions, Hell City's public schools are an anarchic mess, bedeviled by violence and intimidation of pupils. The same can be said about New York City's public schools and probably about those in most other big cities.

At any rate, I do not depose that Stennis' motives are of purest ray serenity. The senator candidly admits that uniform integration pressure nationwide will mean less pressure everywhere, especially in the South.

As he told the Senate the other day, Northern senators "are going to hear from Momma and Poppa" if Northern school districts become subject to the same pressure as Southern districts.

THIS IS NOT the stuff of idealism, but at least it argues for equal enforcement. Whatever his motives, Stennis is merely asking for a national policy to execute what the Supreme Court has ruled is the law of the land.

The Mississippian has even been joined in his campaign by a Northern senator, Clifford Case, the New Jersey Republican. Case introduced a bill last week attacking Northern-style segregation. In doing so, Case agreed with the Nixon administration that the subject should be given further study.

WELL, OKAY. But I trust the more hypocritical bleeding hearts will have the grace to wear red faces over Stennis' suggestion that they buckle down to talking out of only one side of the mouth.

Old Magazines-Doctors Case Solved

NEW YORK (AP) — For years, like most patients, I had idly wondered while sitting in the waiting rooms of doctors and dentists why they were stocked with old magazines from three months to 50 years out-of-date.

There must be some reason that current issues of any periodical were rarely, if ever, available. I decided to find out why.

After consulting the musty and dusty desks of several magazine dealers, I was referred to a Mr. Irving F. Teelbaum, whose shop was in a third-floor walkup near Times Square.

"Mr. Teelbaum," I said, "I understand you are a specialist dealing in back issues of magazines to be sold to doctors and dentists."

"I'm the biggest in the world," he said. "Tell me how big your office is and I'll tell you how many you need."

Teelbaum looked bitterly disappointed when I told him I was no customer but merely wanted to know why doctors and dentists keep old rather than new magazines in their ante-rooms.

"If they kept new magazines, their patients would steal them," he said. "And doctors and dentists are like everyone else—they have a distinct aversion to giving away something for nothing."

The explanation was so obvious that I felt let down. Then I noticed his face wore a crafty expression. Suddenly I reached out and grasped him by the throat.

"Teelbaum, you're lying. I shall not release you until you tell me the full truth."

"All right," he said, as I let up a big on my grasp to permit him to talk. "I'll do it, even though it will ruin me. But as I was going to retire next month anyway, I might as well tell you the secret."

"Go on."

"Well, the real reason doctors and dentists keep only old magazines around is because it saves them from embarrassment."

"Why is that, old man?"

"The new magazines have articles about the latest drugs and newest medical treatments, things a busy doctor hasn't yet had time to find out about. If a patient starts asking the doctor about them, he doesn't know what the patient is talking about. That doesn't make him look so good.

"On the other hand, if the patient has read a health article in a magazine 10 years or more old, the doctor or dentist isn't so likely to be surprised by the information in it. Most medical men, however, prefer magazines from 20 to 50 years out of date."

"Where do you get most of these magazines?"

"Some come from the cornerstones of old buildings being torn down. But most of them I buy from old doctors when they quit their practice. Those most in demand are back copies of the National Geographic. Most health articles it carries are about native witch doctors, and a modern doctor can pooh-pooh their theories."

"Is it a profitable business?"

"Guaranteed. Every year thousands of doctors and dentists graduate, and none can open an office safely without a good supply of old magazines. The only reason I'm retiring is that I'm old and tired myself."

"Teelbaum," I said, releasing his throat. "You don't need to retire. What you need is a young partner. How about me?"

Profits In Spinoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — Peter Hilton, a New York business consultant, has detected what he feels will become a growing corporate trend during the next two years: spinoffs, or sales of products and product lines.

Many of the products to be sold, he says, were acquired during the rash of acquisitions in 1968 and 1969. Entire companies, not just their product lines, were bought up by corporations in those years.

Now, with inflation forcing businesses to cut costs, and with new accounting methods exposing unprofitable operations, dozens of big blue chip corporations have unwanted product lines for sale.

The products aren't only poor ones. Some are profitable but are in marketing areas that do not suit the company's long-range goals.

Adding to the availability of products is the fruition of corporate research and development programs that result in a steady stream of new products that a company cannot, for various reasons, market by itself.

The chief pursuit of Hilton, who heads Corporate Diversifications Ltd., is products, product lines and technology that might fit into his clients' operations. He is paid to search out existing products that can be bought.

In his searches, Hilton says, he is finding a growing number of companies which are unwilling to let technology remain idle — companies which no longer desire to carry products merely for the sake of tradition.

"The climate today," says Hilton, "suggests that sometimes it is to cut back sales rather than increase them. If there ever was a stigma attached to spinning off products it no longer exists."

"On the contrary," he suggests, "product spinoff is interpreted in business circles as an indication of aggressive, scientific management."

The companies which purchase the spinoffs, Hilton says, also are learning the beauty of acquiring marketable products that specifically relate to their goals rather than entire companies with their unprofitable accretions.

The acquiring company can be far more selective; it doesn't have to buy what it can't use. And perhaps more important, it doesn't get involved in prolonged hassles with regulatory agencies and stockholders.

To Your Good Health

Itching And Burning Feet At Night

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Why do my hands and feet itch so badly after they get warm in bed? What can I do? I am 52 and in good health otherwise. Rubbing alcohol helps for just an hour or so.—F.H.

Dear Doctor: A burning and drawing sensation exists on the ball of my foot and toes and at times they look inflamed. Again at times they feel quite normal.—A.

Itching can be a form of burning feet (and hands) when they get warm, but there is no single cause. One is old frost bite. Raynaud's disease or other circulatory disorder can cause it. Smoking may be involved. Vitamin or calcium deficiency is still another.

Temporary relief by an alcohol rub suggests that faulty circulation is involved, which can be impaired even though general health appears to be good.

What to do about it?

Lack of calcium can be corrected by drinking milk — skim milk, 2 per cent milk, cottage cheese, buttermilk, yogurt, if you have a preference for any of these. They all are rich in calcium. Or calcium can be taken in tablet form.

B-complex vitamins may be lacking; they can be taken in capsule form.

If these measures do not relieve the situation, then your best bet is to have your doctor investigate whether poor circulation is causing your troubles. (If you smoke, stop, because smoking constricts the small blood vessels.)

In other cases, medication to help circulation may be necessary.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there a definite explanation for shingles and why they are so painful? The dictionary says "nerves" but that doesn't make sense to me. The pain was in my hip and it looked as though someone had beaten me.—Mrs. P.W.H.

Shingles isn't from "nerves" in the sense of anxiety or nervousness. Rather, it is a virus infection of a nerve trunk — meaning a nerve in the sense of the physiological nerves which carry impulses throughout the body. Shingles is a very real and physical ailment, and quite painful. If the nerve trunk involved supplied the hip or buttock area, this could account for the area affected.

To learn of the many factors that can be involved in the treatment of hiatal hernia, which concerns the esophagus, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "Hiatal Hernia and Eight Ways to Combat It," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

It's The Spirits That Count

Here's an anonymous letter from my drinking cousin, Bobby Harris, Oklahoma City:

DEAR PAL:
Well, here it is St. Valentine season; the time when I usually take time out to write a few lines to my good friends and relatives, the time when I remember all the good things and indulge myself to the extent of getting a little sentimental.

It's a blustery evening, but here in my den it's cozy and comfortable. I'm sitting here before a nice open fire with my typewriter, sort of half-listening to the music and slowly sipping a nice, very dry double Martini. I only wish you were here, but since you are not the very least I can do is toast your health and happiness . . . so time out, cousin, while I bend my elbow to you.

I JUST TOOK time out to mix another Martini and while I was out in the kitchen I thought of all the time I would waste this evening if I went out to mix another drink every once in a while . . . so I just made up a gib pitcher of Martinis and brought it back with me so I'd have it right beside me and wouldn't have to waste time making more of them. So now I'm all set and here goes. Besides Martinis are a great drink. For some reason they never seem to affect me. Can drink them all day long . . . so here goes.

THE GRETETS thing in the whole world is freship Adn Believ me pal are the graetest pal anybody ever had.

New Crime Laws And Freedoms

WASHINGTON — Six years from the coming July 4th the nation will mark the 200th anniversary of the great charter of freedom that gave America its being. These six years promise to be years for good or ill about the survival of those freedoms that any period since the war that was fought for our independence.

SPARKED by a fear of crime reaching an almost-hysterical pitch, the Senate has passed anti-crime bills that slash into the guarantees of freedom for the individual written into the Constitution. The House Judiciary Committee will consider these measures with signs that more serious study is to be given to their effect on constitutional rights than was accorded in the Senate.

But, given the fear of crime and its political exploitation, the House is likely to follow the example of the Senate. Then will come a dramatic coincidence posing the threat of a radical alteration in the status of free Americans. Coming events that cast their shadow over the brief span of six years suggest the following timetable.

FINAL CONGRESSIONAL action on the organized anti-crime and noknock arrest drug bills can be expected by May 1. Then the legal machinery to implement these measures giving the law powers transcending in several areas the rights of the accused will be put in motion. The first arrests will come; a suspect in the District of Columbia held in "preventive detention;" officers breaking into a suspected drug trafficker's dwelling without knocking and seizing a cache of drugs.

CIVIL LIBERTIES and minority

The Same School Law For All States

WASHINGTON — All the states of the union are supposed to be equal. But somehow the people of the state of New York are today enjoying rights which the people of several states of the South apparently are being denied.

Many congressmen are calling attention to a statute passed by an overwhelming vote of both houses of the legislature of the state of New York and signed by Governor Nelson Rockefeller, which became effective on Sept. 1, 1969. It provided that, except with the approval of a board of education the majority of whose members are elected:

"NO STUDENT shall be assigned or compelled to attend any school on account of race, creed, color or national origin, or for the purpose of achieving equality in attendance or increased attendance or reduced attendance, at any school, of persons of one or more particular races, creeds, colors, or national origins; and no school district, school zone or attendance unit, by whatever name known, shall be established, reorganized or maintained for any such purpose, provided that nothing contained in this section shall prevent the assignment of a pupil in the manner requested or authorized by his parents or guardian."

THIS GIVES the parents of the children a chance to pick a school in their neighborhood and not be forced to send them elsewhere in order to fill racial quotas.

THE effect of the legislation is to prevent appointed school boards and the state education commissioner from directing the assignment of pupils and altering school boundaries or attendance zones just to eliminate racial segregation.

CONGRESS NOW is being asked to pass a statute which will give the Southern states a similar privilege.

rights groups will single out one or more of these cases for a test. Let's say this comes early in 1971. In the ponderous course of the law, with appeals taken step by step, the Supreme Court should get a test case in, at a guess, two and a half years. In the fall term in 1973 the nine justices will be called on to say whether the statutes enlarging the powers of officialdom violate the rights of the individual under the Constitution.

A STRICT constructionist court should, on balance, sustain the anti-crime statutes and hold against the individual. If it was the intent of the legislative branch to put limits on individual rights, whatever the Constitution may say, then the judicial branch, strictly interpreting the law, should not intervene.

The unity of the nation in the coming six years is to be tested as perhaps only once before in the crisis of the Civil War. The end of the Vietnam conflict is not yet in sight. Although currently somewhat abated, the divisiveness of that war can flare again in protest and violence. The uproar in the several conspiracy trials puts a well-nigh intolerable strain on the processes of justice.

AND CRIME, like a monstrous and ever-present ghost, stalks the scene. Fear has transformed the lives of city-dwellers who barricade themselves increasingly behind double locks and a variety of costly protective devices.

The challenges to come out of all this are evident enough. In the court of last resort, with justice meted out by the strict letter of the law, historic freedoms are bound to be eroded.

The Same School Law For All States

This could be done by an amendment to the school-aid authorization bill at present before the Senate. Congress has the right under the Constitution to limit the appellate jurisdiction of the Supreme Court of the United States. In the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Congress declared that the law does not "empower any official or court of the United States to issue any order seeking to achieve a racial balance in any school by requiring the transportation of pupils or students from one school to another or one school district to another in order to achieve such racial balance."

BUT SOME of the lower federal courts have ruled to the contrary, and there are cases pending which have not yet been passed upon by the Supreme Court. Many of the Southern senators feel that Congress should reiterate its declaration concerning the limitation of the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court so as to exclude rulings on busing to attain "racial balance."

The issue is whether the people shall have "freedom of choice" — the right to determine to what schools their children may be sent.

THERE ARE lots of areas in the country where busing is not popular. The theory behind the New York state law is that the parents shall have the right to decide where their children shall go to school.

"Freedom of choice" is open, of course, to Negro parents as well as to white. If they wish to have their children bused to a school outside their neighborhood, they may do so. The problem really arises when parents are required, against their will, to send their children to faraway schools.

Within the next few weeks, Congress will have to come to some solution of the problem and apply it to all states of the union.

Capitol Hill TB Tests Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Up to 15,000 Capitol Hill employees are expected to take tuberculosis tests in the wake of seven TB cases—two of them fatal—in the past six months.

"We don't want to raise any big red flag that this is an epidemic, because it's not," said a U.S. Public Health Service official after it was recently reported 144 of 500 persons given tuberculin skin tests had developed positive reactions.

"But it's a serious health problem," he said, "and preventive measures must be taken."

Medical authorities said a positive reaction to a skin test is an indicator a person has been in contact with tuberculosis germs. But they said it is not proof positive he has the disease nor that he will ever contract it.

Congressional officials report there has been an undue panic because of the seven cases reported so far.

And they say House and Senate restaurants, which serve up to 12,000 persons daily, have lost no business because patrons fear infection.

Three of the cases, including both deaths, occurred among dining room and kitchen employees in the Senate restaurant.

Robert Moran, administrative assistant in the Capitol physician's office, said the testing which begins Monday for congressional employees has been expanded to include employees of the U.S. Supreme Court and the Library of Congress.

Brig. Gen. Walter Tkach, the White House physician, has said 546 civilian employees in the executive branch, many of whom visit Capitol Hill daily, will soon undergo skin tests and X-rays.

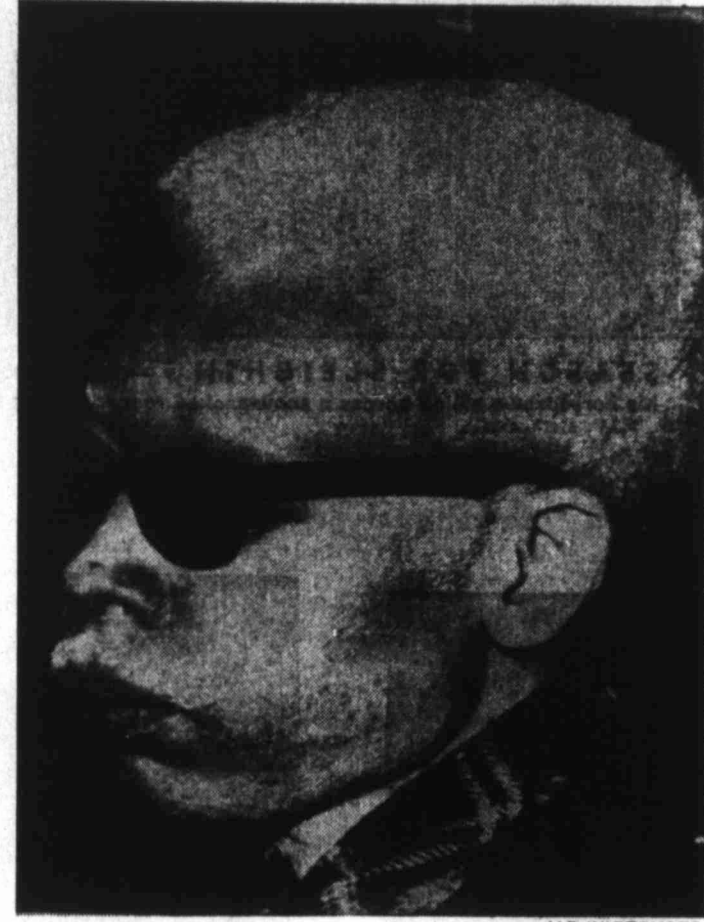

"One of the flabbergasting things about this whole situation is the two deaths," said Robert Alden, information officer for the National Center for Communicable Diseases. "That's because TB now is definitely considered curable by the medical profession and most cases respond well to modern treatment."

Until the current cases, there has been no requirement that the Capitol's 400 restaurant and cafeteria workers have periodic X-ray checks.

All that will be changed now, says Kermit Cowan, director of the House restaurant. "Everybody who goes on the roles will get skin tests and a verifying X-ray and, perhaps later, blood tests too."

The new policy will cover Senate restaurant employees as well.

CHANGED COLOR — James W. Finley, 33, of Cleveland, Ohio, has sued the federal government for $500,000. Finley, a Negro, contends negligence on the part of doctors at a VA hospital in Cleveland resulted in a loss of skin pigmentation, turning him completely white, including his hair. He alleges the color loss was caused by a drug he was given during treatment for a peptic ulcer. He was in St. Paul Thursday to visit relatives.

Bishop College Campus 'Quiet'

DALLAS (AP) — The Bishop College campus was quiet today in the aftermath of a six-day chapel sit-in which ended in the arrest of 359 students.

More than a dozen officers remained on campus late Thursday after most of the students were released from jail.

About 250 riot-equipped officers stood by or helped in the arrests early Thursday. There was no violence.

The protesters had demonstrated for a list of 19 grievances. Classes went uninterrupted during the sit-in, which began last Friday when a few student leaders entered the chapel.

Dissidents returning from jail sang "Meet Us at the Chapel" as they walked on the campus in far South Dallas.

Twenty-four student leaders, including six co-eds, were the last to go free as they posted bonds of $200 apiece late Thursday night.

The others charged with disorderly conduct, were released on their own recognizance.

Dr. Milton Curry, college president, held talks — which failed — with the student leaders during the protest. Dissidents insisted on amnesty for the 24 leaders who entered the chapel.

The students also sought an end to the polarization of the Campaign Urges State Aid Issue In 1971 Session

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Roman Catholic officials have announced a campaign to make state aid an issue in the 1971 session of the Texas Legislature.

Retired Col. Joseph McShane, an active Catholic layman who is coordinator of the project, said the drive will be aimed at candidates for the state legislature.

"We want to know where they stand" on state aid, he said, adding that about 17 states already give some kind of assistance to private schools.

McShane said the campaign is concerned with all private schools in Texas, not just church institutions.

DISCOUNT CHANCE OF GENERAL MIDDLE EAST WAR U. S. Condemns Israeli Attack On Mill

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. policy makers are deeply worried about the increasing Israeli-Arab violence, but sharply discount the chance of a general

Middle East war in the months ahead.

The most serious danger in the situation, as it is assessed here, is the pattern of attack and counterattack will continue to grow, more advanced arms gradually will be introduced by outside powers, and eventually — unless the process can be arrested — there will be real peril of drifting into a full-scale war.

But at present, U.S. officials believe Israel has successfully frustrated, at least for the time being, the war of attrition Egypt has been waging for about a year and is in a relatively strong position.

Egypt, in the U.S. view, has suffered a series of reverses in recent months and has neither the will nor the resources to launch full-scale operations against Israel.

The United States Thursday condemned an Israeli attack on a steel mill near Cairo. Egypt claimed at least 68 persons were killed in the raid and 98 were wounded.

Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson presented the U.S. protest to Israeli ambassador Yitshak Rabin by telephone.

The Thursday attack was the 10th Israeli strike in the Cairo area since Jan. 7.

Officials said while the United States is worried about creeping escalation and seriously concerned over the possibility of mounting civilian casualties, its diplomatic pressure on both the Israeli and Egyptian governments is directed toward a cease-fire.

Israeli spokesmen have said they would accept a cease-fire if Egypt would abide by it. Arab leaders, however, recently stressed their determination to go on with the conflict until the lands occupied by Israel in the 1967 war, chiefly Egyptian territory in the Sinai Peninsula, have been cleared.

Egypt declared in March, 1969, it would no longer be bound by the United Nations-arranged cease-fire when the Israelis re-tified positions on the east bank of the Suez Canal. It was then that Arabs began to talk of waging a war of attrition.

The United States called on Britain, France and the Soviet Union at a private meeting of ambassadors at the U.N. Thursday to join in a concerted effort to re-establish a cease-fire.

It was learned that envoys of all three countries said they would refer the U.S. appeal to their home government; none rejected it out of hand.

March, Rally In Uvalde

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — An official of the local anti-poverty agency says Uvalde County commissioners have instituted the organization is responsible for Mexican-American unrest here.

The commissioners voted earlier this week to ask federal officials to audit the books of the Southwest Texas Community Council, Inc., the Uvalde Leader-News reported.

Ben Hidalgo, assistant director of the agency, said no reason was given for the request.

He said the council's books are open to the public and that the last audit was made in May, 1969.

The commissioners, he said, "never contacted us about anything of this sort."

A march and rally to protest the commissioners' failure to adopt a surplus food commodities program is scheduled Sunday.

Organizers say up to 1,000 persons are expected to attend. The march also will focus on the commissioners' "refusal" to allow a Volunteers in Service to America (VISTA) program in Uvalde County; and on complaints of allegedly contaminated drinking water in a low-cost subdivision here.

Among other issues to be brought up at the rally are grievances over policies at a predominantly Mexican-American elementary school here.

A lawyer for a group of Mexican-American parents, who drew up the requests for such items as bilingual education, said they hope to present them to the school board when it meets next month.

Runs For Sheriff While In Vietnam

GASTONIA, N.C. (AP) — A 20-year veteran of the Marine Corps has decided to run for sheriff of Gaston County while serving in Vietnam.

Sgt. C.W. Waldrep, who leaves for a second tour in Vietnam Monday, has been a recruiting sergeant in Gastonia for two years.

While he's in Vietnam, campaign work will be done by his wife and four children and the Republican party.

In case he wins, Waldrep will retire from the Marines in November.

He is opposed by Dwight Beam, a Democrat who has been sheriff for 16 years.

Eggers Starts His Campaign

DALLAS (AP) — Paul Eggers, starting his campaign as Republican candidate for governor, said "inflation and making ends meet for the little man" will be among his key objectives.

"I think it's time to stand back and take a long look at state government in Texas," he said. "Only after we do this can we figure out how to slice up the (revenue) pie."

Eggers spoke before the Dallas County Republican Men's Club in what was described as the kickoff in his primary election campaign.

In an unsuccessful race as the GOP nominee two years ago against Gov. Preston Smith, he polled more than two million votes.

Eggers, a Wichita Falls lawyer, now is general counsel of the U.S. Treasury Department.

He also said that as governor he expected to "bring the young people of Texas into the government."

"The understanding gap between the generations is one of the most serious problems facing us," Eggers said. "As governor I will have young people well represented on my staff."

Seize Heroin Worth Millions

NEW YORK (AP) — Heroin and cocaine worth $9 million retail were seized from three persons arrested Thursday, Queens Dist. Atty. Thomas J. Mackell said today.

He said the drugs, seized at a Manhattan apartment and two in Queens, were believed to have come from France. The nine kilograms of heroin and five kilograms of cocaine could be sold for $9,150,000 on the street after being cut and prepared, Mackell said. A kilogram is 2.2 pounds.

Mackell said $12,500 in cash also was seized.

Wade Choate Enters City Commission Race

Wade Choate, a native Big Springer who has been active in many civic programs, filed today for a place on the ballot in the April 7 city commission election.

Manager of the Webb AFB Federal Credit Union since June, 1965, he previously served as Howard County Auditor from 1963-65, and was 118th District Clerk from 1956-63. He and his wife, the former Toni LaRue Barron, were married in 1959 and they have two children, Kyle Wade and Melody Ann.

"I have no preconceived opinions on the many problems facing the city governing body," Choate said. "I will study the problems as they come up and make my decisions on the basis of the facts and on what will best serve all the residents of the city."

"I have served in several elective positions," he said, "and I feel I am acquainted with many of the problems and obligations of public service. If elected, I will appreciate hearing from all residents, on any problem, at any time," he emphasized.

Choate is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harold Choate, who live on Moss Creek Lake Road. He is a graduate of Coahoma High School, Draughton's Business College, Abilene; Howard County Junior College; SMU in Dallas; and the University of Wisconsin School for Credit Union Personnel. A member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, he serves in the vestry.

His community activities cover a wide spectrum of volunteer service. In the YMCA, he sponsored a Hi-Y Boys Club, 1957-67; was a member of the board of directors six years; president in 1968; vice president in 1966-67; directed the membership campaign in 1965; and received the leadership award from the Hi-Y Council in 1961.

In the United Fund, he was a member of the executive committee and personnel committee in 1969; a member of the board in 1965 and in 1969; directed the county employees division in 1963-64; directed the governmental employees division in 1962; and served on the budget committee in 1968.

He was March of Dimes campaign director in 1965, chairman of the board in 1966 and treasurer in 1967-68. A charter member of the Big Spring SMU Alumni Association, he was its first president in 1958 and treasurer in 1960. He was a member of the SMU Alumni Association directorate in Dallas in 1965, 1967-69, and is its college student recruiter-interviewer.

Choate organized and served two years as president of the Howard County Employees Federal Credit Union. His second term as a member of the Howard County School board expires this year.

He is alternate director of the West Texas district of the Texas Credit Union League; a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge; Boys Scouts district finance chairman in 1969; vice chairman-treasurer of the Big Spring High School Foreign Exchange Program.

In the Chamber of Commerce, he was a member of the board in 1969, a member of the Ambassador's Club in 1969-70, and a member of the board of Water, Inc.

Money In Hogs Parley Set

LUBBOCK — A "Money in Hogs" conference will be held in Lubbock at the Raiderland Convention Center on Tuesday, Feb. 24.

This conference will give farmers and ranchers and agribusinessmen an opportunity to find out more about pork production and to look at the enterprise as another economic opportunity for West Texas, according to Billy C. Gunter, district agricultural agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service which is one of the sponsoring organizations.

The program will get under way at 1:30 p.m. with an outstanding slate of speakers to discuss all phases of the pork production business. Several experts will speak.

Dr. Jim Osborn, associate professor of agricultural economics at Texas Tech University, will talk about the profit potential of various size units and methods of swine production while Roy L. Poage of Lubbock Swine Breeders, Inc. will discuss some "do's" and "don't's" about the hog business.

Chief's Car Hit While Parked

Approximately $1,000 worth of damage was done to Police Chief Jay Banks' official car Thursday night while the car was parked on Main Street in front of the Ritz Theatre.

According to police reports, a car owned by James F. Shillingburger, 2707 Central, rolled from a parked position into the police car. Damage was to the left front fender of Banks' car.

Youths Selling Eggs For Drive

Runnels Junior High cheerleaders and pep club members will be selling Easter eggs house-to-house during the next few days to make money for the Howard County Easter Seal campaign.

"We have 160 bags with approximately 25 eggs in each bag," Jane Upton, sponsor, said. The girls started canvassing residential areas Thursday afternoon and will continue until all the eggs are sold. The bags are $1 each.

Postal Receipts Show Increase

Postal receipts for the accounting period — Jan. 10-Feb. 6, 1970 — showed an increase of $1,582.81, over the same period a year ago, according to figures released today by Postmaster Frank Hardesty.

Receipts for the four-week period for 1970 totaled $45,757.47; for the same period in 1969, $44,174.66.

Easter Seal Drive Slated

The 1970 Easter Seal Campaign will begin Feb. 23, and continue until March 29, Easter Sunday, it was announced today by Mrs. Morris Robertson, general chairman.

Hirt Will Wait To Blow His Horn

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Trumpeter Al Hirt, a Mardi Gras casualty, says he'll probably wait at least a month before attempting to blow his horn again although his doctors say he can try it in approximately two weeks.

"I believe your lip is going to be all right," Dr. Fred Meyer said Thursday when he took the stitches out of the bearded trumpeter's upper lip.

Hirt was hit in the face by a thrown object Sunday while riding a float in the Bacchus Carnival parade. It took 16 stitches to close the wound.

Hirt said he was canceling all engagements for the next month because he didn't want to take any chances.

Vocational Teachers Due Here For Workshop

James Howsley, administrator for Vocational Education, El Paso Public Schools, will challenge the group with a presentation on "The Significance of the Zero Reject Concept in Relation to VIE."

Ed Shive, area consultant, Vocational Industrial Education, Texas Education Agency, will act as chairman, assisted by Darrel F. Tilton, teacher-trainer, Division of Extension, University of Texas. Leon Taylor, instructor, metal trades, Big Spring Area Vocational School, will serve as recorder and summarize events that transpire during the workshop.

Theme of the workshop will be "Making instruction in VIE more relevant to student needs."

An estimated 100 instructors are due here from every area of the district except El Paso. Included will be those from Abilene, Andrews, Brownwood, Colorado City, Del Rio, Fort Stockton, Lamesa, McCombs, Merkel, Midland, Odessa, Pecos, San Angelo, Snyder, Sweetwater and Winters as well as Big Spring.

A special session is set for 7 p.m. today at the ICT classroom in the area vocational school at BSHS to map plans for the annual Vocational Industrial Club Association spring meeting and contests at Odessa March 13-14.

John Smith, high school principal, will welcome the group, and Billy Roy Jones, president of TIVA district 1 will report. A tour of the vocational building and its facilities will precede lunch, after which group sessions will be held. Leaders are Gerald Callaway, Brownwood; Travis Smith, Abilene; W. L. Wilson, San Angelo; Loyd Willis, Andrews; Paul Isbell, Brownwood; and Joe Hopkins, Odessa.

South Breezes Push In Texas

Brisk south breezes pushed moist air ashore from the Gulf of Mexico while a fresh cool front eased southward through the north part of the Texas Panhandle.

Fog and low clouds developed over much of South Central Texas, dropping visibility near zero in places. There also was some ground fog in some East Texas areas.

By early morning the new front lay along a line from just south of Dalhart to near Pampa and it was so mild that temperatures still stood above freezing.

A few showers were expected by Saturday as the cool air spread into South Texas. Forecasts called for clear to partly cloudy skies in other sections. A little cooling was predicted in the Panhandle and a little warming elsewhere.

Temperatures climbed into the 60s and 70s at many points Thursday afternoon, running as high as 77 at Brownsville. Texas was the coolest spot with a high of 51.

Readings near dawn today ranged from 34 degrees at Dalhart and Wichita Falls up to 60 at McAllen.

LARGER THAN LIFE—Detroit sculptor Marshall Fredericks has created a 1,000-pound four-foot-high bust of the late John F. Kennedy which he claims is the world's largest. Fredericks, who worked two years on the project says "I wanted to show that he had learned and become a real man, but still was a visionary." The sculpture will be bronzed and placed in a Mt. Clemens plaza where Kennedy spoke during the 1960 campaign.

Prospects For Industry Here Are Contacted

Chamber of Commerce Manager Tom Eastland said this morning he, Adolph Swartz, and Industrial Foundation Chairman Don Womack returned from a search for new industry in Tulsa and Dallas with four good prospects.

Eastland said the three discussed what the city had to offer with the four companies, and that all four had shown interest in establishing a plant in Big Spring.

He did not reveal the type of industry the manufacturers were involved in, but said that all were highly successful and had established a broad base of operations.

The four manufacturers were not contacted through the regular industry finding agencies, Eastland said, but were found through the efforts of the chamber and the Industrial Foundation. He said not all of the four had been contacted by other cities, and that this put Big Spring in a favorable bargaining situation for the time being.

Eight Servicemen Killed In Combat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced Thursday the names of eight servicemen killed in action in the Vietnam war.

They include Pfc. Luis A. Alaniz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Alaniz, 305 S. 29th St., Edinburg, Tex.

The Pentagon said Warrant Officer Bobby G. Frost, husband of Betty J. Frost, 3307 Northeast 10th St., Mineral Wells, died in Vietnam but not as a result of hostile action.

Port Passenger Traffic Triples

HOUSTON (AP) — A survey by the Houston Chamber of Commerce shows airport passenger traffic in Houston has more than tripled in the past decade.

Passenger arrivals and departures at Hobby and Intercontinental Airports in 1969 totaled 4.5 million.

Five Business Houses Are Hit By Burglars

Police are investigating five burglaries reported this morning in the commercial district along East Second and West Third, in which the thieves apparently went to considerable trouble to gain very little.

Christensen's Boot and Western Wear Store, 602 W. 3rd, reported the heaviest loss to the burglars which police said entered the store by breaking a hasp on the front door. Owner J. L. Christensen, 2507 Lynn, told police three purses, several pairs of pants, two jackets, two men's watches and one wallet were stolen and placed a value of between $100 to $150 on the goods.

George Bair, 2306 Brent, called police around 7 a.m. to General Welding Supply, 605 E. 2nd, and reported that burglars had tried to open the company safe with one of the store's cutting torches. Police said the would-be thieves failed to open the safe and Bair could find nothing missing although the office files and desks had apparently been searched. Entry was gained by forcing a rear

Attack Plain Of Jars Airport Second Time

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — North Vietnamese troops attacked the Plain of Jars airport today for the second straight morning but were repulsed after 90 minutes of fierce fighting, a Defense Ministry spokesman said.

Col. Thongphanh Noksy said the attack probably was aimed at recovering the North Vietnamese bodies left after the attack Thursday, in which he said 80 North Vietnamese were killed.

Six government troops were wounded Thursday, he reported. There was no word on casualties today.

Thongphanh said the government forces had lost about 10 small outposts around the Plain of Jars in recent days, but he did not believe the North Vietnamese and the Pathet Lao had started their anticipated big offensive to retake the strategic plateau in northeast Laos. He said the enemy isn't ready yet.

However, other sources believe the offensive has started. Thongphanh estimated that the enemy had two divisions and one regiment around the Plain of Jars.

Statement Due On Consolidation

County Attorney W. H. Eyssen said this morning he expects to release a statement concerning the attorney general's report on consolidation of city and county tax collection after a conference scheduled this afternoon with City Attorney Herb Prouty. Eyssen said several conferences this week have been postponed for various reasons.

"The question which the two are trying to settle has to do with the different percentages of property evaluation.

"The question we have to decide is one of semantics. We have to decide if the way the report is worded is favorable or not," Eyssen said.

Julian Lopez, Dies Today

Julian Lopez, 79, died this morning in a local hospital. Funeral services are pending at Nalley-Pickle.

He came to Big Spring in 1966 from Nolan County where he had lived since 1923. He was born June 19, 1890, in Mexico. He is survived by his wife of Big Spring; one stepson, Jesse Pineda, Colorado City; one brother, Joe Lopez, Big Spring; 12 grandchildren, 20 great-grandchildren.

Appeal Cases Filed In County Court

Twenty-nine appeal cases from City Court have been filed by 14 persons in Howard County Court.

Norman Coglein Wood, 47, Midland, is appealing five citations for disregarding stop signs, two for disregarding red lights, one for failure to stop for emergency vehicle, one for speeding, one for driving on the wrong side of the street and one for failure to give a right turn signal.

Wood was arrested Jan. 25 after a high-speed chase through Big Spring. Sgt. Jack Boyd said the chase began near Big Spring High School and ended at the intersection of FM 700 and Gregg where Wood's car was in collision with another car.

Horoscope
TOMORROW
—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until mid-afternoon, you are under excellent aspects for meetings and conferences with others. But the rest of the day and evening offer much confusion. Avoid misunderstandings. Keep your own counsel. Be patient.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Be more willing to get together with regular allies for recreation today, but be careful in driving, etc. The day can be very pleasant, but somewhat strange conditions come up in the evening. Use caution.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) Make improvements to property and show others you are clever at handling finances. Day hours are best for you. Gaining of good will from merchants, but take it easy tonight. Do some reading you like.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Morning is best time to make contact with persons you admire and get their support for whatever you desire. The evening is not good for social undertakings. Do whatever will improve your appearance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There are many personal and other duties to be handled today, so get right off them early. Assist those who are having rougher sledding than you. Have a cheerful and romantic attitude.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Join good friends for lunch, but later carry on by yourself and get things done. Be sure to do whatever will please them. Use caution later in the day and especially in the evening. Drive with utmost care.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be sure to get an early start in doing important duties in the morning when you are feeling dynamic, since later you slow down considerably. Improve your image. Get to bed early and get needed rest.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) There are all sorts of new conditions building up around you, so be sure to handle them well by 4 p.m., but be on the alert for others later. New friend has fine ideas. Use your own judgment later on.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 21) Improve rapport with associates during the day, but avoid them later when they are apt to be in a bad mood. Be sure you cement better relations with the one you love. Make the evening much happier.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Show that you understand what associates expect of you, but make sure you do not annoy them later in the day. Get important affairs handled nicely early. Be cool, calm and poised this evening.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Handle those duties that please you in the morning, then work on those you find boring, and get all behind you quickly and efficiently. Only in the morning can you depend on co-workers. Later they want to play.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Make arrangements early for the fun you want later, but be sure you do not take any unnecessary risks. Be affectionate with persons you admire, but don't be extravagant. Hold that temper.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You can go ahead and change those unattractive conditions of home early, but you show that you value close ties. Try not to spend your money foolishly.

Kidnap Trial Date Revealed

TEXARKANA, Ark. (AP) — Five men charged in the kidnaping of Karen Vickers, 15, of Texarkana are due to stand trial March 23.

The men were arraigned before U.S. Dist. Judge Paul Williams. They waived formal reading of a three-count federal indictment and pleaded innocent to all counts.

Williams then set the date for their trial.

Named in the indictment are Paul L. Bryant, 21, Joe W. Feggett, 23, and Booker T. Burkhalter, 24, all of Dallas; Johnny Tasby, 21, of Lafayette County, Ark., and Hugh M. Smith, 22, of Texarkana.

The indictment charges the men with one count each of conspiring to kidnap, kidnaping and using interstate communications in an attempt to collect ransom.

The five also face state charges of assault with intent to kill and armed robbery.

The five are being held in the Miller County jail in lieu of $25,000 bail, except Smith, whose bond is $20,000.

Miss Vickers was taken from her home and held for about 26 hours before she was released unharmed from a Texarkana, Tex., motel. A ransom demand of $40,000 was never paid.

CHIMP'S VERSION OF ST. VALENTINE'S DAY MASSACRE — Youngsters looking on at the Lincoln Park Zoo in Chicago seem to be getting more of a kick out of the pre-Valentine's Day party than the chimpanzees who have mangled a cake that was given them by zoo attendants.

New Demos Open Convention Tonight

WASHINGTON (AP) — The New Democratic Coalition holds a much-delayed national convention in Chicago this weekend to decide if it has any future as a national liberal political organization.

Already there are signs that, at least for the immediate future, the prospects are bleak, if not nonexistent, for the coalition to stay alive.

It closed its Washington office three weeks ago, owing a $1,400 telephone bill. Over-all, sources say, the NDC is about $20,000 in debt.

But more critical is its failure to solve a basic split personality—whether to be a tightly organized national organization or just a loose confederation. This question has plagued it ever since the NDC was put together in the fall of 1968 by those who had worked for Sens. Eugene J. McCarthy, Robert F. Kennedy and George S. McGovern in the Democratic presidential contest.

Plans for a national convention in spring 1969 to map its course were put off until fall, then delayed again when the date chosen coincided with the massive antiwar march on Washington last November.

Donald Green, who served as the group's acting executive director the past few months, left recently to join Referendum '70, a new group organized to raise funds for anti-Vietnam war candidates and a reordering of national priorities.

Asked by a newsman if he thought NDC had a future, Green said it would have to be shown in local and state successes in the 1970 campaign, rather than as a political leftover from the 1968 campaign.

NDC still has 33 chapters. Its members were active in municipal campaigns last spring in New York City and Los Angeles for defeated mayoral hopefuls Herman Badillo and Thomas Bradley, and some are seeking office this year.

Chief speaker at tonight's opening convention session in Chicago is Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa. McCarthy has stayed personally aloof from the group's activities, while McGovern has weekend speaking engagements in Hawaii.

Battle Is Looming Over Genocide Pact

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is mapping a fight to break a 20-year logjam that has made the United States the most conspicuous holdout against an international treaty banning genocide.

His first step, it has been learned, will be an effort to reverse American Bar Association opposition to the treaty, a direct outgrowth of German extermination of six million Jews during World War II.

Nixon probably will come out for Senate ratification later this month, sources said, timing his statement to coincide with consideration of the treaty at the ABA's midwinter convention Feb. 23 in Atlanta, Ga.

This will be in tandem with a lobbying effort at the ABA convention itself.

A tough battle is looming, with opponents of the treaty marshaling arguments that ratification could open the United States to international trials on genocide charges raised by Black Panthers, North Vietnam and others.

The treaty makes an international crime acts of mass destruction of racial, religious or ethnic groups. The ratifying nations agree to punish individuals for acts of genocide. Individuals—or countries—could be punished by the United Nations.

Though the United States signed the treaty in 1948 under President Harry S. Truman, it has withheld ratification since—largely because of opposition by ABA spokesmen, some Southern members of Congress and the late John Foster Dulles, secretary of state to former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Now, in the expectation that a new generation of bar leaders has emerged after two decades, sources indicate administration forces will join hands with ABA President Bernard G. Segal and other top lawyers to try to win endorsement by the association's House of Delegates.

The State and Justice departments already have given their clearance to ratification.

"We anticipate a hard core of opposition which has existed for 20 years," said Mrs. Hauser in a telephone interview, "but we feel the developments in the last 20 years in the field of international human rights are going to produce a change of minds in the current membership of the American Bar Association."

However, it won't be easy. Several former ABA presidents are lined up to speak against ratification.

Others opposing include Eberhard P. Deutsch, a prominent New Orleans lawyer who is chairman of the ABA's treaty law committee.

Deutsch, explaining his opposition in a telephone interview, said the treaty could lead to trial in Vietnam of U.S. soldiers accused by Hanoi of genocide, whether the charge is justified or not.

"If the man were tried in the United States he would even be subject to extradition to Vietnam if he were found innocent here," Deutsch said.

Similarly, the lawyer said, the United States would be subject to trial as a country on allegations by the Black Panthers that the government is attempting genocide of the movement.

"We can take care of our own business pretty well," Deutsch said. "We consider these sort of charges internal and not subject to the treaty powers of the United States, which should deal only with matters of foreign relations."

Deutsch also stressed another common ground of opposition to ratification—that in the United States murder is generally a state crime. The treaty would oblige the federal government to try genocide murders, upset-

Country-Western Tunes Key To Racial Tension?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon's civil rights chief suggests racial tension in the military might be relieved if white servicemen learned to sing spirituals and blacks, country-western tunes.

L. Howard Bennett also recommends group dancing in which "Negroes could learn the polkas and schottisches and whites the Charleston and the Cakewalk."

Bennett, acting deputy assistant secretary of defense, lists these ideas in an 11-page report on "reducing tensions and unrest through group activity."

The report recommends to military commanders a wide range of measures for "avoiding racial conflict and maintaining harmony, unity and strength in the armed forces."

Bennett calls for vigorous leadership in improving relations between black and white servicemen.

Among other steps, he urges: —"Education in human relations" from officer and noncommissioned officer schools down through basic training of recruits.

—Encouragement of panels and roundtable discussions at military installations and aboard ships "so as to dispel misunderstanding, resolve irritating issues, and achieve, whenever possible, understanding and consensus" among the diverse groups in the armed forces.

—Unclogging communications channels within the services so complaints will be heard and acted upon without fear of reprisal.

—Establishment of human relations councils comprising a cross-section of officers and enlisted men from differing racial, ethnic and religious interests.

"We must develop recreational programs and group activities, involving black and white military personnel, that reach

PINK PETUNIA PLANTER PAINS

CHINA LAKE, Calif. (AP) — The China Lake Naval Ordnance Test Station, a desert facility dedicated to sophisticated weaponry, has a new project: a pink petunia planter.

It's destined for Beverly Duval of San Bernardino, 80 miles south of here.

Mrs. Duval's daughter, after an outing at a beach, hauled home a 100-pound "piece of junk." Her mother decided to paint it pink and use it as a petunia planter.

Just in time, she learned from watching television that dangerous explosives sometimes wash ashore during Navy maneuvers. She called an expert, who confirmed that it was a depth charge loaded with explosives.

The Navy rushed to her home, brought it here and planned to blow it up.

But Thursday, Mrs. Duval received a telephone call.

"We just didn't have the heart," an officer told her, "to blow up your petunia planter."

In about a week, it will be returned to her — minus explosives and painted pink.

NARCOTICS Student Tells Why He Quit

A 21-year-old college senior will explain Sunday night how and why he quit using narcotics.

Phil Miller, majoring in English at Texas Christian University in Fort Worth, will speak at 7 p.m. Sunday in Wesley United Methodist Church, 1206 Owens.

"I heard him speak last week in Dallas, and he's an excellent speaker as well as a remarkable person," the Rev. Caleb Hildebrand, minister, said.

Miller is the third in a series of four programs on narcotics at Wesley Methodist. Mrs. Dick Ream will be the last speaker Feb. 22. She will speak on the narcotics situation in Big Spring.

The first session held two weeks ago included a film, "You've Got To Get On With It," from the Social Concerns Commission of the United Methodist Church. Last Sunday Jack White, Department of Public Safety, showed a film, "Marijuana," and led discussion afterward.

Miller will speak Sunday in place of the regular Sunday evening sermon. Rev. Hildebrand said, inviting all interested persons to attend.

A reception for high school students in the church fellowship hall will be held after the talk to give young people a chance to talk personally with Miller, Rev. Hildebrand said.

Decade Brings Changes In Traditional Religion

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — New and novel currents are rising in the religious realm as the world enters the 1970's, ranging from a resurgence of mysticism to institutional revolt.

Whether the trends bode well or ill for the traditional ecclesiastical organizations remains to be seen, but as the decade opened, evidence abounded of a growing, if unconventional, religious vigor.

Rather than assuming any clear-cut shape or system, however, it appears widely as a loose, varied, formless movement, cutting across the standard patterns of operation.

It is provisional, mobile, questioning, inventive, heterogeneous, open-ended.

Signs of the process show up in the mushrooming campus courses on religion, the challenges to authorities, including church establishments, the spread of unofficial, religiously mixed communes, the "underground" churches, "encounter" groups, coffee house ministries.

There also is the upsurge of mystical techniques, including glossolalia, parapsychology, yoga, drugs and astrology, the new "swinging style" of worship, the blurring of denominational lines, both in concepts and in activity.

Among students, "even as the institutional religious forms and practices disintegrate, religious sensibility seems to be appearing, almost in inverse proportion," says the Rev. Robert D. Dewey, dean of the chapel at Kalamazoo College in Michigan.

The new generation has rejected the "god of science" and rationalism alone as possessing ultimate answers to personal meaning and ethical progress, many scholars maintain.

They cite a turn to the intuitive, ecstatic, impressionistic sensibilities of man, stressing the mysteries of life and celebration of it.

Modern youth has become

"obsessed with the sacred," and is "well on the way to becoming superstitious," says the Rev. Andrew Greeley, a Catholic priest-sociologist and head of the University of Chicago's National Research Center. But he adds that "positive signs far outweigh the negative ones."

The changing, shifting attitudes, though still in flux, offer pointers for the decade ahead.

"The 70's will be marked by movements within the church to develop a power base for the visionaries," says the Rev. Dr. Gabriel Fackre, of Lancaster, Pa., Theological Seminary.

It will bring a drawing together of rebellious but believing idealists for "mutual-encouragement, insight and support and to take action of which a more timid establishment is incapable," he writes in a United Church monthly, Social Action.

Although 43 per cent of the nation's population—90 million people—still occupy the pews on an average Sunday, generally adhering to regular worship forms, the overall statistical yardsticks of institutional strength are generally down.

Average attendance has declined gradually for a decade, and in some cases, reversed into a decline.

But in contrast to the organizational slumps and the sharp confrontations with denominational leaders at church conventions, many disaffected believers have developed new ways of religious expression at the edge of the churches, inside and outside.

Simultaneously, the ecumenical movement for Christian unity, long carried on chiefly by denominational officials, has lost much of its leadership to a kind of rebel ecumenism among grass-roots laymen.

Special Services Scheduled By Local Churches For Lent

Catholic, Lutheran and Episcopal churches in Big Spring are scheduling special services during Lent, which began Wednesday and ends Easter.

Speakers are scheduled each week at St. Mary's Episcopal Church, 10th and Goliad.

Judge Austin McCloud, Colorado City, the first speaker, will discuss "The Church, the Christian, and Politics" at 6:30 p.m. Feb. 18.

Others include Chaplain Lee Butler, Big Spring State Hospital, "The Church, the Christian, and Mental Health," 8:30 p.m. Feb. 24; Col. Harrison Lobdell, Webb AFB Wing Commander, "The Church, the Christian and the War," 6:30 p.m., March 4; Clark Elzey, Texas Tech University, "The Church, the Christian and the Family," 6:30 p.m. March 11; and the Rev. Wes Seeliger, Texas A&M University chaplain, "The Church, the Christian and the Campus," 6:30 p.m. March 18.

St. Paul's Lutheran Church is also holding Lenten services every Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

The Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church, 1009 p.m., March 4; Clark Elzey, Texas Tech University, "The Church, the Christian and the Family," 6:30 p.m. March 11; and the Rev. Wes Seeliger, Texas A&M University chaplain, "The Church, the Christian and the Campus," 6:30 p.m. March 18.

Billy Graham's Publicist Joins Texas Baptists

DALLAS — Gil Stricklin, public relations director for the Billy Graham Evangelistic Association since 1965, is the newest member of the Baptist General Convention of Texas staff. He has been appointed staff associate for personal evangelism in the BGCT Evangelism Division.

While a member of the Graham organization, Stricklin directed communications activities for the World Congress on Evangelism in Berlin, Germany.

He replaces Ralph Neighbour in the personal evangelism post. Neighbour currently pastors the West Memorial Chapel in Houston, an experimental church.

St. Thomas Catholic Church, 506 N. Main, will have Stations of the Cross every Wednesday at 6 p.m. during Lent.

Scared Heart Catholic Church, 508 N. Ayford, will have Way of the Cross every Friday at 7 p.m. No other special services are planned until Holy Week, and that schedule has not been completed.

and oyster shells

A pearl is a thing of beauty—iridescent—a precious gem. An oyster shell is rather ugly—a remnant of a marine mollusk much esteemed as a delicacy. And yet both are built of identical shell-producing cells.

It is happenstance that causes tiny parasites or grains of sand to penetrate the oyster, severing the shell-producing cells and carrying them deep into the oyster to form perfect pearls.

It is no accident that some men from poor beginnings have become great leaders, statesmen or educators. Others from identical surroundings live out their lives in poverty and despair.

The difference is integrity and a yearning for excellence in every part of life—that love of God that illumines and elevates.

Your church can help you to make the most of your life. As you grow to understand God as a part of any real achievement, strength and vitality and joy will enrich your days.

Murphy, Trevino Are Out Front In Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — It's a putter's course," said Lee Trevino. "It's a putter's course, definitely," said Bob Murphy. And Billy Casper, considered by many to be the putter of them all, was just one stroke back of the leading Trevino and Murphy going into today's second round of the $100,000 Tucson Open golf tournament.

Murphy and Trevino matched six under par 66's—Trevino with a double bogey six on the last hole—Thursday on the flat, wide open Tucson National Golf Club course.

The steady Casper and Dudley Wysong, an 8-year tour veteran who hasn't won in four years, were just one stroke back at 67.

EIGHT AT 68
The group of eight at 68 included 49-year-old Julius Boros,

Mason Rudolph, Tom Shaw, and J.C. Snead, nephew of Sam Snead.

Frank Beard, last year's leading money winner, was in a large group at 69 and U.S. Open title holder Orville Moody had a par 72 in the near perfect golfing conditions—warm, sunny weather with virtually no wind.

Casper, one of only three men to reach $1 million in winnings and the winner of the Los Angeles Open earlier this year, loomed as a definite threat.

He had six birdies including long putts of 25, 14, 20, and 25 feet, and a single bogey, three putting the last green.

Both Murphy and Trevino said the flat course is made for the good putter.

"You can miss the fairways and still hit the green," Trevino said.

CO-LEADER AT TUCSON
Texan Lee Trevino

Trevino, who scored his last victory in this tournament a year ago, was extremely annoyed with his double bogey on the final hole.

"It's as much my fault as it is my caddy's," he said. "Except one thing, I'm going to kill him."

ACCUSES CADDY
He was eight-under-par when he stepped to the last tee. He had to wait a couple of minutes while "two ladies walked down the middle of the fairway. I guess they were out for their Sunday stroll. I waited because I didn't want to hit anyone. But if I knew I was going to take a six, I'd have hit them."

His caddy handed him a driver.

"I wasn't thinking," Trevino said. "The weight had broken my concentration. The caddy's supposed to think for me. He knows I'm charged up. He's been with me for two years. So he hands me a driver. I'm eight-under with out of bounds on one side and water on the other and I shouldn't have been playing for anything but a five and he hands me a driver."

Trevino promptly put the shot in the water.

He had seven birdies, three after irons left him five-foot putts, the others on putts ranging from 10 to 30 feet, and he eagled the par-five 11th after a three-wood shot put him eight-feet away.

Murphy bogied the first hole but birdied three of the four par-fives, had a pair of ducous and reeled off a string of three consecutive birdies coming home. But he said a 12-foot par saving putt on the ninth was the key to his round.

Hawks Invade Badger Home

Coach Buddy Travis and his HCJC Jayhawks, feeling there is nowhere to go but up in the Western Conference basketball standings, invade Amarillo tonight for a 7:30 p.m. joust with the AC Badgers.

The Hawks, fresh from a 62-56 success over Lubbock Christian College, one of the co-leaders, will be seeking to improve upon a 6-4 league record.

Over-all, the locals are 14-7, not bad but not in keeping with the record some Hawk teams have achieved in the immediate past.

Amarillo was gravely wounded in a previous meeting with HC here, 71-56, but has always been tough to handle in its own gymnasium.

Travis likely will again start four sophomores and a freshman. The second year men are Glen Fletcher, Danny Clendenin, Sammy James and George Tilley. Decell Lewis, a frosh, apparently has beaten out soph Jerry Lewis for the other starting position but Phillips is still clocking a lot of playing time. He's invaluable as a rebounder.

Melvin Perez, Monte Pillion, Shelly York and Billy King are others likely to get into the fray for Howard County.

The Hawks are especially looking forward to playing in the Amarillo Gym, since that will be the scene of the Region V tournament this year. The Hawks have yet to get an invitation to that meet, however.

HC plays its next home game Tuesday night against New Mexico JC and will be gunning for revenge in that one. The T-Birds plastered a defeat on the locals in Hobbs Jan. 22.

Jayton Tries Sands Tonight

ACKERLY — Powerful Jayton, which replaced the perennial powerhouse, McAdoo, as champion in its own Class B district, invades Sands this evening for an exhibition with James Blake's Mustangs. Tipoff time will be delayed until 8:30 p.m.

The Ponies, already crowned titlists in District 13-B, are marking time for the playoffs but coach Blake still doesn't know his team will play in bi-district. It could be either Imperial, Grandfalls or Balmoreha.

The champion in District 14-B could be determined this evening. The bi-district game will take place either March 2 or March 3.

Sands carries a 20-5 record onto the floor against the Jaybirds tonight.

The high school seniors are staging a peewee tournament in the gym, which is the reason for the late start of the varsity contest. Only one contest is on tap.

Netters Kayo Lamesa Twice

LAMESA — Big Spring swept the boards in both ends of a girls' volleyball doubleheader here Thursday evening.

The Steerettes' A team won, 15-7, 15-12, after the B team had prevailed, 15-6 15-6.

Teresa Griffin paced the regulars in scoring with nine points. Patty Spier, Mary Lou Brown and Judy Dyer were doing Trojan service up front for the Big Springers at the time.

In B team play, Cynthia Cook and Sherry Hudson each counted seven points for Big Spring.

The Steerettes are now 4-3 on the year while the reserves have won seven of eight assignments.

The Steerettes return to play today in the Crane tournament, meeting Kermit at 12 noon in the first round.

Cisco Clinches Tie For Crown

CISCO — Cisco Junior College clinched at least a tie for first place in its zone by defeating Navarro Junior College, 122-76. Cisco is 25-4 for the season in the Texas Junior College Athletic Conference.

Five Cisco players hit in double figures with Wilson Barrow setting the pace with 21.

Cisco hosts Hill County Monday, and a victory will give them a clear title to the zone crown.

Prelims Launched In Houston Meet

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Astrodome-Federation National Indoor Championships get underway today with top track stars from all sections of the country competing.

Thirty-six preliminaries will be held during the first day of the two-day Astrodome event with final events scheduled to night and Saturday.

The 60-event meet will have 2,000 athletes representing 260 institutions competing in five divisions.

"This will, without a doubt, be the No. 1 meet in the country, as far as participants, matchups and the large number of events," said Carl Cooper, president of the United States Track and Field Federation. "It's simply fantastic, the number of top flight athletes who will be in competition."

Cleburne Price of Dallas Baptist College, who serves as meet director, was equally enthusiastic.

"I don't know of a record in the meet that couldn't be broken by the time the meet is over Saturday night," Price said.

Talents such as miler Marty Liquori and quartermiler Larry James make Villanova the favorite in the university division although such powers as San Jose State, Kansas, Kansas State, Tennessee, Wisconsin and USC are threats.

Liquori has zipped to a 3:45 outdoors. His biggest challenge is expected to come from USC's Richard Carr.

Kansas could take the university division because of its three shot putters. Karl Salb, Steve Wilhelm and Doug Knop are three of the world's best. The 6-4, 275-pound Salb has heaved the shot 65-5 1/2 indoors.

Kansas State, led by Ken Swensen, the Big Eight's top middle-distance man, will try to dominate the relays just as it did a year ago.

Gerald Tinker of Memphis State has a 5.1 clocking to his credit on the boards in the 50-yard dash his top competition is expected to come from UCLA's Reggie Robinson and Clyde Glosson of the University of Texas at El Paso.

Jim Ellis Is Given Nod By Ex-Champ Braddock

By JAMES J. BRADDOCK
Former World Heavyweight Champion
(Written for The Associated Press)
NEW YORK (AP) — The more I think about it, the more I'm amazed by the fight between Joe Frazier and Jimmy Ellis in Madison Square Garden next Monday to clear up the heavyweight situation.

It's so much like my own fight for the title with Max Baer in the Long Island Bowl on June 13, 1935. At the end of 1933, I was just another Irishman working on the Hoboken docks taking a fight here and there to make a few bucks. As far as I was concerned, my career as a fighter was over. I never thought about titles or big money. Just making a living and that was tough in those days.

Then, in 1934, I got a break. The Garden put me in against Corn Griffin and I knocked him out in three. Then they gave me John Henry Lewis, who later became light heavyweight champion, and I beat him in 10. In March of 1935, they fed me to Art Lasky in a 15-rounder to provide a challenger for Baer and I won. I got my Baer. And I'm saying right here that Jimmy Ellis will get his Frazier.

Baer was the powerhouse, cocky, always popping off, and everybody thought unbeatable. Frazier is undefeated, strong and bullish, and like Baer, showing no respect for an opponent. Like Baer, he appears to be a little too sure of himself. Baer and Frazier were different in styles, of course, but if ever two fighters were made for each other, Baer was made for me, and Frazier is custom-tailored for Ellis.

Odessa Wins Over Texans

ODESSA — Odessa College snarled the Western Conference basketball race again by defeating South Plains, 100-86, here Thursday night.

Three teams are now virtually tied for first place in the standings. Odessa, South Plains and Lubbock Christian College are still very much in the scrap for the top spot.

The win was Odessa's eighth in 11 league starts. At one time in the second half, Odessa led by 18 points.

Ken Davis led the winners with 32 points.

ODESSA (100) — Davis 12-8-32; Thomas 7-1-15; Lenford 7-3-17; Hunter 5-0-10; Alvey 6-5-17; Campbell 6-1-11; Allen 2-0-4; Johnson 1-2-4. Totals 49-26-100.

SOUTH PLAINS (86) — Moore 6-7-19; Munday 1-0-7; Perry 8-6-22; Zorger 10-5-22; Doyle 0-2-2; White 3-0-4; Donsby 0-2-1; Loosley 4-0-8. Totals 32-33-86.

Half time score — Odessa 52 South Plains 46.

Wright Is New Hamlin Coach

HAMLIN — Deane Wright is the new athletic director and head football coach at Hamlin High School. He succeeds Joe Youngblood, which has left coaching to enter private business.

At Springlake-Earth last year Wright had a 7-3 record and was named South Plains Class A coach of the year by the Lubbock Avalanche Journal. He is a graduate of West Texas State and has coached at Slaton, Tahoka and Amherst.

What's he going to use for security when he's seventeen?

One of the best ways is a U. S. Savings Bond plan. When you buy Bonds, you're securing his tomorrow by investing in America today.

Bonds are easy to save. You can join a Payroll Savings Plan where you work. Or arrange a Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.

One thing though. If you think Savings Bonds are a get-rich-quick scheme, forget it. There are other places to make a fast buck. Or lose it just as fast.

But Bonds pay off when you'll need them, in the years to come. And, at a guaranteed rate. His future isn't too far away. But he'll need more than his blanket for security.

A good education. But college is expensive these days. And likely to be more so in the future. That's why you should start planning now.

Take stock in America Buy U.S. Savings Bonds

If they're lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace 'em.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The way I heard it, Gene Stallings was told to unload some of his assistants at Texas A&M or run the risk of being bounced himself.

The Aggies have been going down hill since their appearance in the Cotton Bowl several years ago and the help has been absorbing much of the blame.

Incidentally, Big Spring's new coach, Clovis Hale, made a good impression on the University of Houston coaching aide Melvin Robertson, who visited here last week.

Robertson thinks Hale is a dedicated football man who will give Big Spring a winner, if given time and shown patience.

When Clovis was an aide to Spike Dykes here, he was content to let others do the talking. His greatest shortcoming perhaps was a failure to communicate.

Once elevated to the head position, he became an outgoing individual. Friends of the school who never knew him are going to like him and his philosophy toward the game.

Coach Tom Landry of the Dallas Cowboys says that, outside of his team, the Atlanta Falcons may have come up with the prize catches in the first two rounds of the recent draft.

Landry favorably compared John Small, a linebacker the Falcons picked up from the Citadel, to Tommy Nobis.

Atlanta's No. 2 pick was Art Malone, running back for Arizona State. Landry says Art's style reminds him of Don Perkins, who went full throttle most of the time for the Cowboys.

Chip Bennett, a superb linebacker for Abilene Christian, was picked up in the third round of the pro draft by the Cincinnati Bengals. It was the highest ever for an ACC footballer.

Ted Dawson, the general manager of the West Texas Rufeks who visited here last week, says that George Gentry told him that if the opportunity ever presented itself he (Ted) should take the coaching job at Big Spring.

Gentry, one of the most able school men who ever lived, was high school principal here in the early 30's. He was an administrator in the Temple schools when Dawson was coach there.

Dawson, whose high school teams won 160 games over some 20 seasons, asked to be considered for the Big Spring coaching job several times but was never called in for an interview. Four of his teams went to the state finals.

Buffalo, N.Y., is as good a sports town as there is in the country but its weather is something else.

Kerby Ferrell, one-time manager of the Cleveland Indians, once said of conditions there:

"Buffalo has two seasons. Winter and the Fourth of July."

Only winners in that recent strike of pari-mutuel clerks at the California horse tracks were the horse players themselves. They didn't get a chance to blow their loot.

The first 20 days of the strike at Santa Anita cost the state $5 million in taxes. Horsemen lost $1.5 million in purses. The track didn't get an expected $1.3 million in revenue. The City of Arcadia blew $100,000 in taxes.

Baseball is so active in the courtroom these days, one observer writes, that a section for attorneys should be added to the Cooperstown Hall of Fame.

The champion in District 14-B could be determined this evening. The bi-district game will take place either March 2 or March 3.

Sands carries a 20-5 record onto the floor against the Jaybirds tonight.

The high school seniors are staging a peewee tournament in the gym, which is the reason for the late start of the varsity contest. Only one contest is on tap.

The Ponies, already crowned titlists in District 13-B, are marking time for the playoffs but coach Blake still doesn't know his team will play in bi-district. It could be either Imperial, Grandfalls or Balmoreha.

The Hawks are especially looking forward to playing in the Amarillo Gym, since that will be the scene of the Region V tournament this year. The Hawks have yet to get an invitation to that meet, however.

HC plays its next home game Tuesday night against New Mexico JC and will be gunning for revenge in that one. The T-Birds plastered a defeat on the locals in Hobbs Jan. 22.

Melvin Perez, Monte Pillion, Shelly York and Billy King are others likely to get into the fray for Howard County.

Drake Bulldogs Hold On To Tip Bradley

The Cardinals had an easier time maintaining their share of first place with a 77-67 victory against over-matched Tulsa. Meanwhile, streaking Cincinnati won its seventh straight game, walloping Wichita State 84-57 to stay two games back of the conference co-leaders.

Elsewhere Army, the nation's leading defensive team, whipped Iona 60-34, Georgetown battered New York University 94-72, Marquette took St. Louis 66-54, Niagara downed Fordham 77-68 with Calvin Murphy scoring 25 and Villanova defeated St. Peter's 108-91.

FUNK CHALLENGER Wrestling Title At Stake Here

The Western States Heavyweight wrestling championship goes on the line in the Municipal Auditorium here tonight, when The Beast goes against challenger Terry Funk.

TERRY FUNK

The Beast (he won't volunteer his real name) has held the crown for six months. Funk, who beat the titlist in an exhibition here several weeks ago when nothing was at stake, says he can do it again.

The Beast took the championship belt from Tex McKinzy. The champion says he never shows his real talent until there's something at stake, that Funk will be gasping for breath after he gets through with him.

There's no love lost between the two. The Beast brags that he took Terry's father, Dory Funk Sr., apart some time ago and can conquer the likes of any of the Funks — and there are three of them.

My idea of an entertaining evening would be to meet all of the same evening, one after the other," The Beast says in a manner reminiscent of Cassius Clay.

The Beast-Funk test is one of four matches scheduled by promoter Dean Slattion. The semi-windup will be a tag-team match pitting Mad Dog Race and Bull Ramos against popular Ricky Romero and Gorgeous George Jr.

Ringside seats sell for $2.50. General admission can be had for $1.50 while kids four to 11 years of age will be admitted for $1.

The matches begin at 8 o'clock.

Stanton Winner Over Forsan 6

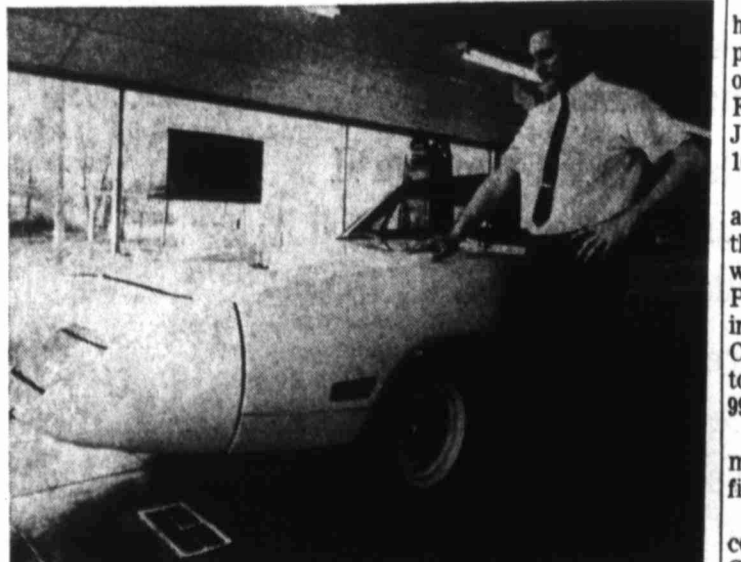

STANTON — Stanton, girls' basketball champion of District 5-A, humbled Forsan in a practice tilt here Thursday night, 67-59.

Gloria Dodd of Forsan topped all scorers with 31 points. Sandy Chandler counted 28 and Doris Howard 26 for Stanton.

Ranger Triumphs

RANGER — Four players hit in the double figures as Ranger Junior College blasted Weatherford, 93-63, in a Texas Junior College Athletic conference game Thursday evening.

Ranger won stands 5-4 in the conference. Gregg Hunter pitched in 33 points for the Rangers.

DEWEY RAY INTRODUCES Paul O'Brien as the Tire and Speed Equipment Department manager. Paul came to Big Spring, Texas, in 1959 with his family and this is where they have made their home since. Paul is no stranger to the parts of an automobile. He started building automobiles at the age of 13 and has done well with the cars he has built for racing. Paul was formerly employed by Mickey Thompson in his speed shop in Long Beach, Calif. At that time he built his own car, an E Stock Car with a 427 V-8 Chevrolet engine and lift chassis suspension. He has competed at the Irwindale Drag Strip where he won the E Stock Class; Orange County Raceways winning the Stock Class; Lions Drag Strip where he was the Stock Runner-up; Fountaine Drag Strip winner of the E Stock Class, all of these races are held in California. His pride is the trophies and prize money from these and other races. Paul is thoroughly experienced in all racing and stock car equipment and will be pleased to give technical assistance to all persons interested in racing equipment. Paul's Department features such brand names as HURST, E T MAGS, HOOKER HEADERS, DOUG HEADERS, EDELBROCK, AND HOLLEY CARBURETORS just to name a few, and of course the famous ARMSTRONG TIRES AND RELIABLE BATTERIES. Paul and his wife, Jana, reside at 611 Johnson here in Big Spring.

MOLLIE CONDRON

HC Fems Host Weatherford

LUBBOCK — HCJC's Jayhawk Queens dropped their sixth basketball decision in nine starts by yielding to Texas Tech, 50-40, here Thursday night.

The Big Spring team will be back in action at 7:30 this evening, at which time it hosts Weatherford College.

In a previous game at Weatherford, HCJC won by the narrow margin of 43-41.

Carol Lane and Mollie Condon led the Queens' scoring last night, counting 14 and 13 points, respectively.

HCJC (40) — Mollie Condon 14-13; Carol Lane 7-6-14; LaDonna Russell 3-1-7; Paula Bichsel 0-1-1; Sherry Cozart 1-1-3; Doris Medrano 1-0-2; Totals 18-40.

Links Team In Angelo

SAN ANGELO — The District 3-AAAA golf tournament will be resumed here Friday over the San Angelo Country Club course.

Last week Odessa Permian, playing on its home course, fashioned a four stroke lead over Midland with 309. Lee came in third with 315, Odessa and Big Spring 318, and San Angelo 321.

Coach Wilbur Cunningham leads the Big Spring delegation south and again will rely largely upon boys like Mark Slate, Howard Stewart, Pat Weaver and Gary Travis.

Weaver led the Steers in scoring in the first match with a 75.

This is the second of five such tournaments scheduled within the district this year. Aggregate scores of the top four players on each team court toward the championship. A medalist will be determined in the competition.

The top two teams in the league qualify for regional. Big Spring is in good shape for a run at the championship, since it is only nine strokes off Permian's pace and Permian has already played its home course.

San Angelo Cats Oppose Longhorns

Big Spring seeks to avenge a 60-54 defeat suffered at the hands of San Angelo Central in an 8 o'clock game here this evening.

By upsetting the Bobcats, Big Spring can virtually assure itself of finishing out of the 3-AAAA cellar. San Angelo, after experiencing some success in the first half of the campaign, has failed to win in five second half starts.

Big Spring will carry a 9-20 record on the floor. San Angelo has an impressive 16-11 over-all record.

BACK THE STEERS TONIGHT, QBC URGES SCHOOL FRIENDS

The Big Spring Quarterback Club has thrown down the gauntlet to the student body at the local high school.

Shaffer pointed out, since San Angelo is an arch rival of the Steers.

San Angelo, which is coached by Dick Rittman, has averaged 70.5 points over the year to 65 for the opposition and will have a decided height advantage this evening.

Attendance at local games has suffered since the season began and Shaffer said it was one of the aims and intentions of the QBC to give support and encouragement in all high school sports.

Coach Kirby Pugh, who reminded QBC members that the Steers have only two more home games this season, received a standing ovation from the estimated 100 attending the Thursday night session of the boosters, which was held in the high school cafeteria.

New Battle Cry Adopted By Quarterback Club

The Big Spring Quarterback Club has assayed an old school color and adopted a new battle cry, "Gold Rush '70," behind the leadership of its new co-captains, Paul Shaffer and Harroll Jones.

Hale said he took great pride in the training regimen of the school's boys and noted that not one athlete was involved in the recent investigation of students' use of dope.

In a rare spring session held Thursday night in the High School Cafeteria, an event which drew an estimated 100, Shaffer said a concerted effort would be made to outfit all boosters of BSHS athletics in gold regalia — starting with tonight's basketball game between the resident Steers and San Angelo.

"I wouldn't have much of a job," Hale stated, "if I knew you didn't want a winner. It's a challenge to all of us. I'm not coaching for me, Clavis Hale. I like to work with kids. I'm coaching for them."

"We want to show our teams we're behind them 100 percent," Shaffer stated. "We want them to be able to look up in the stands and know right away where their backers are."

All coaches in the system were introduced by the new head coach and several members spoke briefly on ways to kindle interest in the QBC's program.

Multiple Listing Service

Some of the important advantages of a MULTIPLE LISTING activity are:

1. Sellers of property, while retaining the professional services of a single agent, have access to the marketing facilities of all REALTORS who participate.
2. Buyers, by contacting only one REALTOR, may have access to the listings of all REALTORS who participate.
3. The needs of the buyer and seller are more readily matched, thus serving their interests, and saving time in more readily acquiring or disposing of property.

Yarborough Says Blount Should Quit

AUSTIN (AP) — Postmaster General Winton Blount should resign because he belittled American postal employees while in Japan last November, Sen. Ralph Yarborough says.

Yarborough, a member of the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee, said Thursday that Blount "denounced American postal workers as lazy and incompetent" while praising their Japanese counterparts.

The senator addressed a legislative conference held by the Building Trades Council of the Texas AFL-CIO.

"Any cabinet officer going overseas to denounce American workers ought to resign first," Yarborough said.

The senator, who is seeking re-election this year, also told the council that repressive labor laws would be passed if Republicans gain control of Congress this year.

"They already have it written," he said.

Later he told an interviewer a bill has been written that would replace the National Labor Relations Board with a labor court, "reducing labor to the status of serfdom."

Other speakers at the conference included Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes.

Barnes said he favored a change in state voter registration laws to replace annual registration with voter certificates good for two or four years.

County Judge Race Also In Glasscock Co. Dan'l Boone, Wife Play Matchmaker

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Some teachers in the nation's primary schools may wonder where some of their small charges picked up a new and wonderful Lincoln story. It seems it was Daniel Boone who brought together Nancy Hanks and Tom Lincoln who became the parents of our Civil War president.

Any way that was Thursday's tale on NBC's "Daniel Boone." In this weekly adventure, Dan'l has been around a lot of our Founding Fathers. It would not be surprising if impressionable young viewers believe that Dan'l did more than George Washington to get this country started.

One of the devices frequently used in the Fess Parker series is to mix a little history into a lot of fiction to create a plot. On Thursday, Lincoln's birthday, Boone and his wife were busy playing matchmaker to a hot-headed cooper, Tom Lincoln—"ornery as a sore-toed bear," said Dan'l—and pretty Nancy Hanks who loved books and talked mystically about having a son some day who would rise to high places.

When Tom and Nancy finally walked hand and hand into the sunset, Mrs. Boone reflected about how nice it would be if their future son grew up to be president.

The Boone series has done well, but it has run into tough going recently since CBS moved "Family Affair" and "The Jim Nabors Show" into competitive time spots. There now appears to be a strong possibility that it will be one of the shows NBC will retire at season's end.

The program was followed by end save money.

He said the shift was part of the GOP reorganization of the federal bureaucracy. Most federal regional headquarters are in Dallas.

The Republican senator said he thought it proper that the Nixon administration should be reconsidering to some of the projected jobs or transfers which were ordered before Johnson left the White House.

"Regarding the Austin Geriatrics Center, there has been ample controversy in regard to this matter to justify a careful examination by the Nixon administration," Tower said.

A nonprofit group formed by associates of Johnson got 26.5 acres of federal surplus land in Austin without charge six weeks before Johnson left office.

A nursing home for aging persons is planned for it, using more than $8 million in federal loans.

The Health, Education and Welfare Department says the group, headed by Frank Erwin, a University of Texas regent, should return the land until completion of a study about the deed transaction.

Tower said he agreed also with the restudy of the Veterans Administration's transfer of a data processing program from Hine, Ill., to Austin, but he contended the move should be made.

Tower said there are major reasons why the Hines computer project should be consolidated with the other VA data processing sections in Austin.

A centralized center is cheaper and more effective, he said, and the neighborliness with the Treasury disbursing center will bring about still more economy. The commitment to Congress, the Post Office and the Treasury Department to make the move already has been made, he said.

He added the move of 230 regional workers for the Office of Economic Opportunity from Austin to Dallas would in the
