Army Doctor, Pal Discussed Tate Slayings

FAYETTEVILLE, N.C. (AP)

— Capt. Jeffrey MacDonald's best friend said today they discussed the Sharon Tate ritual killings in California two days before the Army doctor's wife and two children were beaten and knifed to death at nearby Ft. Bragg.

"It's all so ironic," said Lt. Ronald Harrison, 26, of Columbus, Ohio.

Harrison revealed his conversation with MacDonald, 26, of Patchogue, N.Y., as scores of Army and civilian investigators continued the search for clues in the deaths of the pregnant Mrs. MacDonald, 26, and the two children, Kimberly, 6, and Kristen, 2.

They were found dead and MacDonald injured in their six-room apartment at Ft. Bragg early Tuesday. The word "Pig" was scrawled in blood on the headboard of the MacDonald's bed.

MacDonald told police that the strange pre-dawn attack was carried out by a hippie-type band of three men and blonde girl. He said the girl carried a candle and murmured, "Acid is groovy; kill the pigs."

Acid is a slang term for the hallucinatory drug LSD.

Harrison, who had visited MacDonald in the Womack Army Hospital, where he is recovering from stab wounds and a bruise on the head, said in an interview the conversation about the Tate murders occurred Saturday at MacDonald's home.

Members of a hippie-type cult are accused in the Tate slayings and the word "pigs" was scrawled in blood on the door of Miss Tate's home.

"Jeff treated drug addicts and knew what the problem was like," Harrison said. "He felt they were unfortunate people."

Get-Out-Vote Drive Planned

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders are planning a get-out-the-vote drive among union members in what they view as a vital fight to keep Congress in the hands of liberal Democrats friendly to organized labor.

Political strategists of the 13.6-million member labor federation announced Wednesday they will spend $50,000 to get union members registered and to the polls on election day.

FILED IN COURT Secret Report Into Death Of Mary Jo

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The secret report on the closed inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne in Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's car last summer has been filed in Dukes County Superior Court.

The report, of unannounced length, was handed in Wednesday by Judge James A. Boyle, who presided at the inquest in January. He filed with it the only copy of a transcript of the testimony taken during the 3½-day investigation conducted in the Dukes County Courthouse.

The report and transcript were impounded immediately by the court clerk, Mrs. Sophie B. Campos, in accordance with an order issued by the Massachusetts Supreme Court last fall.

The court, on a petition filed by Kennedy lawyers, ordered that the inquest be held in secret, and that all papers and records, as well as the recommendations of the inquest judge, be withheld from the public until all possibility of any further criminal proceedings is ended.

The inquest judge has the power to recommend prosecution if he finds that a death under investigation was caused by some criminal act of another person. He also can order the immediate arrest of any person he charges with a violation of law.

Kennedy went into District Court before the same Judge Boyle last July 25, a week after the accident, and pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of the fatal accident without making himself known.

He was given a two months jail sentence, suspended on probation for a year.

Judge Boyle's report and the transcript and any other papers in the inquest proceeding are to be turned over to the clerk of Suffolk County Superior Court in Boston, on orders of Superior Court Chief Justice G. Joseph Tauro.

The Superior Court sits in Dukes County only twice a year, and the next session is not until May. Some final disposition could be made more quickly in Boston where the Superior Court is continually in session.

Deadliest Year

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council said today that 1969 was the deadliest year in history on the nation's highways.

Traffic deaths rose by two per cent last year and totaled 56,400, said the council. This surpassed the previous record of 55,200 deaths set in 1968.

World Talk Draws Praise From Leaders

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's first State of the World message drew praise from Senate leaders of both parties for its stress on negotiation and shared responsibility in foreign affairs.

"It's almost a 180-degree turn from the 'let's lick them before breakfast' attitude that we've had in the past," said Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, the Senate's senior GOP member.

MORE LATER

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said he was "pleased that the President emphasized negotiation, participation and shared responsibility" but added that the message seemed filled with generalities. He said specifics will have to be forthcoming.

The 40,000 word Nixon report sent to Congress Wednesday stirred no debate and drew sparse comment in a Senate preoccupied with the school desegregation problem.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he heads may hold hearings later in the year on issues raised by the foreign policy report.

Mansfield praised the President's restatement and worldwide application of the so-called Nixon Doctrine. The President described it this way:

"Its central thesis is that the United States will participate in the defense and development of allies and friends but that America cannot—and will not—conceive all the plans, design all the programs, execute all the decisions and undertake all the defense of the free nations of the world."

GOOD JOB

"We will help where it makes a real difference and is considered in our interest," Nixon said.

"He has done a good job, I think, in shifting away from the period of U.S. dominance," Mansfield said.

There was disagreement on Nixon's advocacy of an expanded Safeguard antiballistic missile system as the response to Soviet intercontinental missiles. Aiken said he had misgivings about the ABM plan; Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., said the Safeguard proposal "will face great opposition in the Senate."

But Sen. George Murphy, R-Calif., said Nixon "dealt in fantasy rather than false hopes or facts" to explain why we must have the Safeguard antiballistic missile system and why we cannot permit the Soviet Union to become predominant in the Middle East.

PEACE LINE

Javits praised Nixon's emphasis on restoration of the Middle East cease-fire and said he believes Americans will welcome the President's pledge "to provide arms to friendly states as the need arises."

Sounding the only immediate criticism of Nixon's report on Vietnam policy, Javits said he sensed "a danger of complacency which I do not believe is justified by the situation. I think there should be a much greater sense of urgency about the need to withdraw from the major combat responsibility there."

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford said Nixon's policy for the 1970s "is a peace line—a realistic strategy for achieving and maintaining world peace. There will be no return to isolationism under Nixon policy," he said.

Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said Nixon "placed in proper context the role which the Soviet Union could and should play in the encouragement of peace in Vietnam and in the Middle East."

Baby Limit Urged By Nixon Official

KEE-SPLAT — It isn't often university students get a chance to throw pies at their president. So, Shaw University students got a big kick last night out of splattering their president Dr. King V. Cheek with pie in Shaw's first pie throwing contest.

Finch Unfurls His Two-Child 'Master Plan'

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top Nixon administration official says parents should limit their families to two children if they want to help start improving the quality of life in America.

Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, disclosed his two-child suggestion in a speech Wednesday night before an opening session of a conference on the environment.

The secretary, describing overpopulation as a paramount concern that must be dealt with if other environmental problems are to be solved, said "the best job we can do now" is make birth control information available to more women.

In a question and answer period, he was asked what people could do on a voluntary basis to improve the environment.

"I would begin with recommending that they start with two children," Finch said. "Beyond that, there are many other voluntary commitments others can do." He did not give specifics on the last point.

He also said the government might have to offer "disincentives" to discourage parents from starting big families but he did not spell out what he meant.

Philip Handler, president of the National Academy of Sciences, echoed Finch's remarks, saying "the greatest threat to the human race is man's own procreation."

Handler said the United States is expected to have 100 million more people by the year 2000. He said virtually all the nation's domestic ills stem from the rapidly growing population.

Finch touched on overpopulation at one other point in his talk.

"Unless the American people are really prepared to pay pollution 'taxes' and meet the costs of environmental restoration—costs that may range from less powerful autos to less frequently occupied basins—no political authority can control the excesses of affluence or rampant technology."

Finch called on industry and science to find other ways to cope with the problems of the environment.

The victim was identified as Pfc. Earl Tidwell Jr., husband of Carolyn F. Tidwell of 1106 E. Inwood, Arlington.

PREDICTS REPUBLICANS WILL CAPTURE SENATE AND GAIN IN HOUSE

GOP Chief Can't See Wallace As Presidential Candidate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the Republican National Committee thinks the nation is moving toward a resolution of its racial problems that will eliminate George Wallace as a presidential candidate in 1972.

In an interview with the Associated Press, Rogers C. B. Morton said the policies of the Nixon administration are leading toward a better environment in which there will be less segregated community patterns.

Morton said neither major political party can take comfort from the fact that more and more Americans are registering as independents. Both parties—specifically his own—need to re-examine themselves and find a new sense of mission, he said.

Morton, who also is a congressman from Maryland, said he knows of no plans for President Nixon to go on a political barnstorming tour this year on behalf of Republican candidates.

And the plight of the Democratic party concerns him, he said, because it might lead to government intervention in the financing of political campaigns. Some key questions and answers:

Q. Speaking of third parties, George Wallace is still in the picture. Do you expect him to be a candidate for President in 1972?

A. I don't think so. I have a feeling that what George is going to do is try to keep his power base by focusing it sharper on the Southern states. . . . I can't see him in 1972 running a national campaign.

Q. Do you think that all this agitation in and out of Congress over school desegregation is fading out?

A. No, but I'll tell you what I think is happening. . . . I believe the enforcement of these policies is going to take on a national scope rather than a regional scope. This thing is going to work so that the whole country is going to get into the act, and when the whole country gets into the act the process is going to get more evolutionary than revolutionary. . . .

And hopefully, and I am confident they will, all the other programs enhancing the environment—I'm dealing now with housing, transportation, all the things that tend to integrate the community—are going to be working.

I don't believe you can say we'll integrate the schools and then forget about the community. . . . And I'm saying that the Wallace issue is going to be downgraded in this area. Without the segregation-integration issue there is no Wallace issue. . . .

Q. Do you have any predictions as to how you will fare as a party in the congressional elections?

A. I think we'll pick up across the board. . . . I think we'll gain in the House and I think we'll take the Senate. It's a little early to tell the climate you're in. A lot of things depend on unemployment, where the economy is going, tight money, the war—it's a volatile time. . . . If the climate is on our side, we'll do real well. If it's on the other side, we'll be lucky to hold our own.

Q. How about President Nixon? It seems he is going to take a very active role in a lot of campaigns.

A. I don't know whether he is or not. There has been a lot of talk that he is, but in conversations with the President and with his senior advisers—and there have been several—I don't quite get the feel he is going to go out on any great big barnstorming tour.

Q. Do you think it might backfire if he did?

A. Well, I think you have to use a lot of judgment.

He's President of the United States. You've got to remember that. . . . I think he should be awfully well guarded as far as the options for him, as how far politically inclined he should go. . . .

Hall Plans Appeal To Supreme Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — State Sen. Ralph Hall planned to return to Texas today after conferring with Washington lawyers about carrying his fight to run for Texas governor to the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Texas Supreme Court ruled 9-0 Monday that Hall was ineligible because he was in the Senate when the governor was voted a pay raise of $15,000.

Hall, a Democrat from Rockwall is claiming the state law violates his right of equal protection under the 14th Amendment.

As the state law now stands 14 state senators would be eligible to run for higher office because their term expires now but 16 would not.

Hall's four-year term runs until 1973.

He wants to challenge Gov. Preston Smith, a Democrat seeking his second term.

Hall said he will file a jurisdictional statement within a week with the high court.

He said he believes the U.S. Supreme Court has jurisdiction over the case because the Texas Supreme Court's opinion addressed itself to his federal rights.

Bush, Eggers Will Attend
AUSTIN (AP) — Two Republican candidates for statewide office announced Wednesday they will attend the Washington's birthday celebration in Laredo this weekend.

U.S. Rep. George Bush, Houston, said he will be President Nixon's representative at the festivities Saturday. Bush is a candidate for the U. S. Senate.

Paul Eggers, a GOP candidate for governor, also will attend.

Both men plan to attend a luncheon Saturday morning honoring Dr. Leo Cigarroa, a Laredo physician, as "Mr. South Texas of 1970."

Topcoat Weather Over Most Of Texas Today

By The Associated Press
It was topcoat weather over most of Texas again today. Whipping southward on gusty winds, the latest cold front had pushed into the coastal plains and curved on across South Texas toward the west by this morning. Temperatures slumped well below freezing in the Panhandle-Plains sector but still stood in the 80s at southern points still ahead of the mostly dry northerly. The only rain was reported around Cotulla in Southwest Texas. Clouds overhung areas along and south of the front while it was mostly clear elsewhere. Forecasts called for further cooling tonight with the freeze line due to move southward as far as South Central Texas.

Near dawn the mercury slipped down to 22 degrees at Lubbock, 25 at Wichita Falls, 26 at Childress, 31 at Denison and Sherman, and 32 at Abilene and Dalhart. Ahead of the cold front at the same hour it was still 62 at Laredo and 63 at Brownsville and Corpus Christi. Top marks Wednesday ran as high as 85 at McAllen. Alice recorded 83, Cotulla, Laredo and San Angelo 82, Del Rio 81 and Brownsville, Lufkin, San Antonio and Wink 80. Dalhart was the coolest spot with a high of 50.

Agent Posing As Student Breaks Narcotics Gang

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Five youths were arrested Wednesday as an undercover agent posing as a high school student was credited with breaking up illegal drug traffic at Stark High School.

Police Chief L. C. Jones would not identify the officer although he said the narcotics gang had already discovered he was working with the police. He said the officer's life had been threatened and police were keeping a 24-hour watch on his residence.

Jones said, "The big ones got away, but the students had learned the identity of our undercover man, and we had to go ahead with the arrests." David Littlefield, 18, and two 17-year-olds, Barry Honeycutt and Mike G. Mansak, were arraigned before Justice of the Peace James Stringer and released on bonds of $5,000 each. Two youths, aged 15 and 16, were turned over to juvenile authorities who released them to custody of their parents.

An adverse division in trumps appeared to doom South's four heart contract. Declarer found a way to convert his trump loser into an asset however, by employing it as a means to saddle his opponent with the lead in a favorable end position.

West opened the King of spades against the four heart contract and continued with the ace and then a third round which South ruffed. The ace-king of trumps were cashed and, when East discarded a club on the second heart, West was revealed to have a sure trick in the suit.

Declarer could see that if he led clubs himself, he would have to lose the setting trick. It would be necessary to induce the opponents to open the suit for him, but this could be accomplished only by depriving them of all other exit cards, so he proceeded to strip the hand.

The top three diamonds were cashed, and on the queen, South carefully threw a club from dummy, so that he would be able to ruff another spade subsequently. The remaining diamond was trumped by North as West followed suit.

A spade was led and ruffed by South. Altho West had no more spades, he refrained from overruffing, but he was merely postponing the fatal moment. Declarer had completed the preliminaries and he now exited with his last trump to throw West into the lead.

West returned the six of clubs and South was confronted with a guess as to the location of the king of clubs. Since West had already shown up with most of the missing strength in the other suits, declarer decided to play East for the club king. He, therefore, played the ten of clubs from dummy and East was helpless to prevent South from winning the last two tricks.

SOUTHERN VICTOR — Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., meets with reporters after the Senate voted his amendment which requires uniform enforcement of school desegregation in the North as well as the South. The proposal added to an education bill yesterday gives the Deep South one of its biggest civil rights victories in more than a decade.

Giant Victory Seen For South

WASHINGTON (AP) — Southern senators, flushed with a major victory in their fight to slow down Dixie school desegregation, sought today to strike the power of federal courts to order busing to achieve integration.

Pending as the Senate resumes its two-week-old debate on the multimillion dollar education bill was an amendment of Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C., stating simply that no court or federal agency would have the power to order such busing.

This proposal appeared to have less support than the amendment which gave the South its first big civil rights victory — in years — Wednesday with the 56-36 adoption of a provision by Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., to provide a uniform national policy on school desegregation.

The rider requires the government to attack neighborhood school desegregation in the North as vigorously as it has moved against legal segregation in Southern school systems.

However, some Dixie senators conceded the victory might be more psychological than real.

They expressed far greater interest in the more direct relief the Ervin proposal would provide.

Stennis commented he would “not expect any great immediate things to happen in the North as the result of this amendment.” But he and other Southerners made it quite clear they hoped it would exert enough pressure on the North to slow down the school integration drive all over the nation.

Civil rights supporters who fought the amendment declared its real purpose was to allow Southern officials to blunt the push to end their region's dual school systems.

These senators said the Dixie officials would contend that desegregation orders could not be enforced against them until comparable progress was made against de facto — neighborhood — segregation in the North.

The Stennis amendment was adopted with votes of 29 Democrats and 27 Republicans. It was opposed by 24 Democrats and 12 Republicans.

However, it narrowly escaped being side-tracked in an earlier test. In that vote, Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania lost only 48 to 46 on his substitute which would have wiped out the Stennis proposal.

The substitute also called for a uniform national policy on desegregation but was considerably less broad than the Mississippi senator's rider.

Busing Referendum Sought By Smith

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith wants the state Democratic Executive Committee to place a public busing referendum on the party's May 2 primary ballot.

Such a referendum would not be binding.

The committee meets March 9 in San Antonio to approve the primary ballot. It could place such a referendum on the ballot at that time.

“Busing of public school children to achieve racial balance is a federal and a local issue,” Smith said. “Yet it is an issue on which I believe our citizens should have an opportunity to express their opinions . . . The question as I see it is not whether we should bus our school children or whether we should avoid busing to perpetuate segregation. The only important question is how we can best answer the educational needs of our children.”

“I would charge federal officials to assist us at the state and local level to upgrade our neighborhoods and our schools. We can never accomplish harmony and eliminate racial barriers until we have solved the problems of housing and employment. Solve these problems and we will have minimized integration problems. And we will have minimized them without the expense and trouble of shuffling our school children,” he said.

Port Bond Vote

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — The Galveston City Council will decide Thursday on an ordinance to call a $7.7 million bond election to expand the Port of Galveston.

The funds would be used to set up a container cargo operation at the port.

Oil Company Exec Bass Dies

DALLAS (AP) — Oil company executive Harry W. Bass died Wednesday.

He was chairman of the board of H. W. Bass & Sons, Inc., of Dallas and of Goliad Oil & Gas Co. in Canada, and had been engaged in the oil and gas business since 1919 in Oklahoma and Texas.

Bass, a native of Enid, Okla., had made his home in Dallas since 1932.

He was known as a pioneer in the recycling of natural gas and a builder of gas plants and gathering systems.

Bass was a past president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

The funeral service was set for 11 a.m. Friday at Highland Park Methodist Church.

Survivors include the widow and two sons, Harry W. Bass Jr. and Richard D. Bass of Dallas.

UT Exes Slate Banquet March 3

Tom Campbell, University of Texas football player, will speak at a banquet March 3 for the Big Spring chapter of the University of Texas Ex-Students Association.

The banquet is in celebration of Texas Independence Day March 2. The UT Austin campus will celebrate March 2 with a traditional cannon-firing ceremony that originated in 1896. Classes will be dismissed for the ceremony which will be held on the mall south of the main building.

The alumni office has set the theme for the 1970 observance as “It's a ONE-derful Year,” in deference to the UT Longhorns' capture of the national football title.

The local group will meet at 8:30 p.m. in the Big Spring Country Club, with the speech scheduled to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Miller Is Nixon's Pick For Chairman Of NLRB

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has announced as his choice for chief federal umpire in company-worker disputes a Chicago lawyer who has specialized in representing management.

Strong labor opposition is expected against congressional approval of Edward B. Miller, 47, for chairman of the National Labor Relations Board.

Secretary of Labor George P. Shultz, who met with Nixon before the Miller announcement Wednesday, said the administration wants a “reasonable” NLRB and this can best be done by staffing it with reasonable people.

Miller said his labor relations work had been “exclusively with management.” He had been offered legal assignments by labor unions, but declined them, he said, because they would have created a conflict of interest.

A newsman asked Miller if he thought the NLRB has been unreasonable.

“Even reasonable men can differ,” he answered, adding he would not characterize recent boards as unreasonable. Shultz said he agreed with Miller. Could he fairly assess the legitimate views of organized labor, Miller was asked. His answer: A board member should not look at each case “as a battle to be won. The real name of the game is to find some basis for agreement.”

Miller is nominated for a five-year term on the board, replacing Sam Zagoria, who has been under attack by congressional critics who charge the NLRB with pro-union bias. If the nomination is approved, Nixon said, Miller will be designated chairman, succeeding Frank W. McCulloch.

Egyptian Jets Attack Targets

TEL AVIV (AP) — Egyptian planes attacked Israeli positions along the Suez Canal today for the third day in succession, but an Israeli spokesman said there were no casualties.

There was no word on whether Israeli planes responded to the raids in the southern sector of the waterway. The Israelis did not respond to two air strikes Wednesday by the Egyptians. Those strikes were directed against positions along the northern sector of the 103-mile waterway, and again the Israelis said there were no casualties.

An Egyptian broadcast claimed the planes returned safely after hitting targets "with precision" and accomplishing "the missions with success."

A Soviet correspondent reported from Cairo today that an Egyptian air force pilot who recently shot down the first Israeli Phantom jet has been made a hero and is known popularly as "Phantom One."

Although the correspondent did not say so, the Egyptian apparently was flying a Soviet-built MIG21, one of the approximately 200 such fighters delivered to Egypt about a year ago. Israel received its first Phantoms last December. They are considered vastly superior to the MIG21s.

U.N. Secretary-General U Thant met in Geneva with Gunner Jarring, his special representative for the Middle East.

Man Nabbed In Check Case

A 28-year-old man arrested Wednesday night in connection with a stolen billfold has been identified in Hobbs, N.M., as the person who cashed a stolen paycheck from Harding Well Service, Coahoma.

Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard said an employee of a Hobbs liquor store picked the man's picture from a group of seven pictures. The information was turned over to Hobbs officials and a complaint is expected to be filed today.

Standard said the man was arrested Wednesday night in connection with the theft of a billfold belonging to David Stewart, Odessa. The billfold was left in a Coahoma business and apparently was stolen from the person who found it.

Standard said the man has said he will sign a waiver to be transferred to New Mexico without extradition procedures.

Approximately 240 payroll checks were taken Jan. 9 from the well service in Coahoma. Five checks have been reported cashed in Hobbs, Midland and Odessa, each signed with the name Jack Randolph Abey and carrying the number of an expired New Mexico driver's license.

Standard said the pictures of the seven suspects were to be shown today to officials in Midland and Odessa.

Mrs. Knauer Can't Get Her Sofa Fixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's consumer advocate is getting a first-hand taste of the citizen frustrations which pour into her office daily.

Virginia Knauer, a homemaker, mother and grandmother when she's not fielding the complaints of consumers, can't seem to get her sofa fixed.

"The buyer has the right to register his dissatisfaction and have his complaint heard and weighed when his interests are badly served," said President Nixon in his "Buyer's Bill of Rights" last October.

But Mrs. Knauer says she's had a little trouble getting satisfaction since a new sofa was delivered to her home last August.

"Can you imagine sending out a sofa with a broken leg?" she asks. "And badly... badly stitched together. I could have done a better job."

Mrs. Knauer is pleased with the response she gets when she approaches manufacturers about the 2,000 to 3,000 letters and complaints she gets in her office every month.

She managed to convince a floor tile firm it should replace a cracked floor for one woman. For one man she managed to get his refrigerator warranty extended because the appliance had been in repair shops for half the original three-year warranty.

But what's happened with the sofa replacement she was promised?

"Now they're not even sure that they ordered the one they promised to deliver sometime between August and the first of October. I think the first of November at the latest they would have had the new sofa," she says.

"So at this point I've gotten a little defeatist about it," she says. She jokingly suggests calling a news conference, but she doesn't mention the name of the large Washington department store involved.

"And this isn't schlock furniture. This was good furniture. Which shows that maybe I should have stuck to antiques."

"I think this is unconscionable. I'm so busy solving other people's problems, I don't have time to take care of my own."

Prosecution Rests In Bourbon Trial

District Attorney Wayne Burns rested his case about 10 a.m. today against Rae Bourbon, 77, being tried in 32nd District Court in Brownwood as an accomplice to the shooting death of A. D. Blount here in December, 1968.

William W. Bell, court-appointed defense attorney for Bourbon, asked for a recess before beginning defense testimony. Court was to reconvene about 11 a.m. today.

Last witness today for the prosecution was Police Capt. Jack Jones, who testified to phone calls from Bourbon threatening to hire a professional killer to kill Blount.

It was not known whether Bell will put Bourbon on the stand in his own defense.

Blount was shot Dec. 9, 1968, in the hallway of his living quarters at the rear of the Pet-A-Zoo on U.S. 87 South. A .45-caliber gun reportedly owned by Bourbon was later found a few miles south of the Pet-A-Zoo on the Garden City Highway.

Recommendations will go to Gov. Preston Smith and to the legislature for consideration by the 62nd Legislature in 1971. Committee members from the area include Sen. Pete Snelson, Midland, and Rep. Renal Rosson, Snyder.

Cinch Bug 'Killers' Here's New Worry

AUSTIN (AP) — Home owners who have battled cinch bugs in their St. Augustine lawns now have something new to worry about, the Texas Department of Agriculture says.

The department reported Tuesday that St. Augustine decline, a virus disease that slowly kills grass over two or three seasons, has been found in Dallas and the Corpus Christi area.

"Right now there is no treatment for it," said Charlie Chapman, director of the department's plant quarantine division.

St. Augustine decline appears as a light mottling of the leaf, as if the chlorophyll was missing. It progresses until the grass finally dies.

A public hearing has been set for March 6 at Robstown to discuss quarantine measures. Chapman said a thorough survey will be made of nurseries along the Gulf Coast and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, where most of the state's St. Augustine grass is grown commercially. He said the department will order diseased patches of grass killed with a herbicide and will ban sale of grass from fringe areas around diseased spots.

The disease was first identified at Texas A&M from samples of grass, Chapman said. A&M informed the department "about a month ago," he said.

Widow Takes Stand Today In Edinburg

EDINBURG (AP)—Mrs. Ginger Degelia was to be the first witness to testify today in the trial of the man accused of hiring a Houston man to kill her husband.

Testimony got under way today in 22nd District Court in the murder for hire trial of Pete Thomas Scamardo of Hoarne. Scamardo, 31, is accused of offering Charles V. Harrelson $2,000 to kill Sam Degelia Jr., his former business partner and longtime friend.

Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis, who is seeking the death penalty, said Mrs. Degelia would be the first of about 60 witnesses to testify.

Scamardo is defended by lawyers Percy Foreman of Houston and Thomas G. Sharpe Jr. and Eduardo Rodriguez of Brownsville.

Dist. Judge J. R. Alamia, who called 1,300 persons for possible jury service before finding a jury of six men and six women, set the date for testimony after the 12th juror was accepted Tuesday. It took 17 days of questioning to seat a jury.

Testimony in the trial is expected to last from three to six weeks.

One of the prosecution witnesses listed is Jerry O. Watkins, 43, of Houston. He was originally charged with murder with malice in the Degelia slaying. The indictment against Watkins was dismissed just before the trial got under way Jan. 26.

McInnis, who accepted five jurors who said they were opposed to the death penalty, has indicated Watkins will be about the sixth person called to testify.

Harrelson, also charged in Brazoria County with the slaying of Alan Berg of Houston, is being held in a special cell in the Hidalgo County Sheriff's office just below the courtroom.

McInnis has said Harrelson will be called as a witness, but Foreman, who represents both Scamardo and Harrelson, has said he will not permit Harrelson to testify.

Mishap Disrupts Electric Power

A car in a parking lot in the 100 block of Runnels Street backed into a guy wire and touched off a chain of events that disrupted electric service to part of Big Spring shortly after noon Wednesday.

The tightened guy wire shook a pole, which caused two power lines to vibrate together and create a short circuit. Crewmen quickly restored the fallen line and had one circuit back within 15 minutes. All areas were back in service in little more than 20 minutes, said Don Wornack, district manager for Texas Electric Service Company.

Pupils Square Off In Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Police arrested 31 people and ordered officers onto Las Vegas High School campus today and Friday to prevent further racial trouble.

Twelve adults and 19 juveniles were arrested Wednesday, most for investigation of loitering after they refused police orders to leave the vicinity of the school. There was no trouble on the campus itself, where three students were injured in black-white encounters Monday. Police had to stand between 100 blacks and whites Tuesday as they squared off across a cafeteria floor. The troubles at the 1,400-pupil school began last Friday night when a white student was beaten by blacks after a basketball game. About 50 white students marched into a classroom building Monday and attacked blacks in apparently planned retaliation. Six white students were suspended after the incident. A group of black girls later attacked three white girls with clubs. The white girls required stitches at a hospital to close cuts. The school was then closed and reopened Tuesday with 30 police on campus, who have remained there since.

First Big City Called On Carpet

AUSTIN (AP) — Houston—the south's largest city—was scheduled to explain to the Texas Water Quality Board today why it does not meet minimum standards for sewage treatment. The board began a series of hearings late last year to crack down on towns and industries that discharge into streams and lakes water dirtier than their permits authorize. The board started with north-east Texas watersheds because of high industrial development in that area. Houston is the first big city to be called to account.

Jury Convicts Bank Robbers

DALLAS (AP) — A federal court jury convicted both Jack Flanagan and his wife Marie in a $43,446 robbery of the Bank of Dallas last Sept. 22. The jury found Flanagan guilty of armed robbery, for which the maximum sentence is 25 years. A separate verdict held Mrs. Flanagan was guilty of robbery without a weapon, for which the top penalty is 20 years. The findings were reported Wednesday night to U.S. Dist. Judge Joe E. Estes after the jury of eight men and four women deliberated for three hours and 20 minutes. Sentencing was set for March 10.

Pupils Protest At Eagle Pass

EAGLE PASS, Tex. (AP) — Dismissal of the principal and assistant principal at Eagle Pass High School sparked a protest Wednesday involving about 100 students. No reason was given for the firing of principal Tom Guthrie and his assistant Nobel Masters. The men were fired in an executive session of the school board Monday night. The board decided to pay off the contracts of both men which run until Aug. 31. The students protested about an hour. An estimated 100 of the school's 1,200 students participated in the walkout.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Feb. 19, 1970 7-A

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR Critical Of County Road Plans, Engineer Needed

To the Editor: In this time of high interest in economy in government, I think the people of this community would be interested in a project the county has under way off the Andrews Highway, approximately 1 1/2 miles west of the Ramada Inn. The county is in the process of opening a new road that connects the Andrews Highway with a dead-end county road.

This new road about 3/4 miles in length is being paved but does not serve over one family, while there remains, throughout the county, many miles of unpaved roads that serve many farm families. The Commissioners Court should answer why this project? Who is to benefit? Who owns the land on each side of the new road? What are the plans for this newly available acreage with a paved road?

Suit To Block Construction

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A federal judge has set a hearing for March 10 on a suit to block present and future construction of multi-family housing units in predominantly Mexican-American Edgewood school district. U. S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears Wednesday also denied a request for a temporary restraining order to halt construction of a housing unit now under way.

I think it is past time the citizens of the community demand that a county engineer be hired to administer the Road and Bridge Department so that matters such as this will not occur again. Every voting citizen should closely inquire of every commissioner candidate and each of the candidates for county judge to determine whether the candidate is in support of the Unit System — the system adopted over 20 years ago by progressive citizens of Howard County. Yours very truly, J. V. CHERRY 417 Edwards

Houston Seeks Chancery Tax

HOUSTON (AP) — The City of Houston is prepared to go to court if necessary to collect $216,284 in taxes which the Galveston-Houston Roman Catholic Diocese says it doesn't owe. City Atty. William A. Olson said a court suit could be filed over taxes assessed on the $1 million chancery building of the diocese.

Church officials claim the chancery building is exempted from taxes under the Texas law because it contains a chapel, and residence quarters for the diocese chancellor and three other priests. The city claims the chancery is an administration building and not eligible for an exemption. They say it also houses the Texas Catholic Herald, offices of the diocese superintendent of schools and meeting rooms. The Texas annual Conference of the Methodist Church is also listed on the delinquent rolls as owing $20,586 in city and school taxes for what the city claims is an administration building. The Catholic diocese has cited a ruling by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin which they say holds the diocese not liable for taxes on the chancery.

Free Ear Clinic

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — A free ear, nose and throat clinic will be opened here Thursday for the treatment of persons who cannot afford private medical care in that field. The clinic will be operated jointly by Jefferson County and John Sealy Hospital in Galveston.

About 75 persons crowded into Judge Spear's courtroom as he heard the case Wednesday.

U.S. Wins Split Verdict In Trial Of 'Chicago 7'

CHICAGO (AP) — The government has won a split verdict in its prosecution of seven men accused of inciting violence at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention, but defense lawyers plan to contest the validity of the federal anti-riot law in higher courts.

A U.S. District Court jury convicted five men Wednesday of crossing state lines with the intent to incite rioting during the convention in August, 1968.

But the jury of 10 women and two men acquitted all seven defendants of conspiracy to promote the bloody confrontations between police and antiwar demonstrators.

HELD IN JAIL
Two defendants, Lee Weiner and John R. Froines, were cleared of conspiracy and of a charge of teaching the use of incendiary devices. Froines and Weiner both resided in Chicago during the summer of 1968 and were not charged in the indictment with crossing state lines to incite rioting.

Convicted were David T. Dellinger, 54; Jerry C. Rubin, 31; Thomas E. Hayden, 30; Abbie Hoffman, 31; and Rennie Davis, 29.

Each man could be sentenced to a maximum of five years in prison and fined $10,000.

Judge Julius J. Hoffman did not set a date for sentencing.

All seven defendants are being held in the Cook County jail on contempt sentences imposed by Judge Hoffman last weekend. The sentences ranged from 2½ months to 2½ years. The judge has refused to grant bail on the contempt charges pending appeal.

PRISON TERMS
The defense lawyers, William M. Kunstler and Leonard I. Weinglass, also were given prison terms for contemptuous conduct during the five-month trial — Kunstler four years 13 days, Weinglass 20 months five days. The judge stayed execution of their sentences to May 4.

Weinglass said late Wednesday that he hoped to file a motion by Friday seeking to have admitted to bail the five men convicted of inciting to riot.

He said appeals on the convictions themselves will be filed "as soon as possible."

Although the jury acquitted all seven men on the conspiracy charge, Weinglass said the conviction on the second count would provide an equal test of the federal statute's constitutionality.

COMPROMISE
Weinglass declared the statute "is unconstitutional to begin with" and that "there were so many errors in the course of the trial" that there would be many avenues of appeal.

Weinglass said the verdict "is obviously a compromise. The jury was deadlocked and they broke the deadlock by negotiating."

Kunstler said, "I would rather have them hanged than compromised."

Everyone was seated the doors were locked.

Judge Hoffman's bailiff reported, "The jury has reached a verdict."

The defendants were busy reading newspapers. Weinglass repeated the statement, "A verdict."

DANCE ON GRAVE
Rubin turned toward his wife Nancy, who was sitting with newsmen in the third spectator row. He said, "A verdict." He turned his thumbs downward.

The judge then granted a government motion to remove all families of the defendants because of their past behavior. The wives of Hoffman and Rubin, Dellinger's 13-year-old daughter, Weiner's girlfriend and Froines' mother-in-law were ejected.

Amita Hoffman, Abbie's wife, shouted at the judge, "The ten (the original eight defendants and their two lawyers) will be avenged. We'll dance on your grave, Julie."

Rubin's wife shouted from the hallway, "My husband is being sentenced and they won't let me watch."

Kunstler urged the judge not to grant the government motion, saying:

CROWNING INDIGNITY
"The verdict of the jury should not be received in secret... The last crowning indignity you can possibly do is to let these defendants stand alone, divorced from their family and friends and supports at a moment in their lives when they are about to receive a verdict which will affect their lives."

After the spectators were removed, the court clerk began reading the verdicts handed to him by Edward T. Kratzke, the jury foreman.

After reading the five guilty verdicts, the clerk announced Weiner was innocent of both charges. The defendants applauded. When the clerk read the innocent verdict for Froines, the defendant sobbed openly and was comforted by Kunstler who embraced him and began crying himself.

ALL SHOOK UP
After the verdicts, the defense requested the jurors be polled.

The strain of 40 hours of deliberation in the 4½ days since the jury retired appeared to show on at least two jurors.

Jean Fritz was visibly shaken during the reading of the verdicts and was hardly able to speak when it was her turn to affirm the verdict.

The defendants had been convinced that Mrs. Fritz, a fortyish blonde with children in college, was sympathetic to their cause.

Kay S. Richards, 23, the youngest juror, also spoke in a wavering voice when she affirmed the verdict.

Thomas A. Foran, the U.S. district attorney and chief prosecutor, praised the jurors and the jury system after the verdict.

"I think," he said, "the verdict proves what has been under attack in the case—that the system works. Here was a jury that worked a long time. They found two defendants not guilty and all were found not guilty of conspiracy. It works both ways."

'AWESOME CHORE'
The jury had what Kunstler called "the awesome chore" of sifting through more than 300 exhibits and reviewing the testimony of 190 witnesses who appeared during the five-month trial.

The jurors refused to discuss their deliberations or details of the trial with newsmen.

Judge Hoffman set Friday for "dealing appropriately with the matter" of transcripts containing conversations of the defendants which the government admitted were obtained by wiretapping.

The judge said prior to the trial that in the event of a conviction he would rule after the verdict on whether the government used the wiretapped information in its presentation of evidence.

Crowds of demonstrators surrounded the Federal Building following the verdict but there were no incidents. A sudden drop in temperature and a rapidly falling snow combined to keep the crowd down.

The rule held illegal by the Court of Civil Appeals said a private club guest must be personally introduced or physically accompanied by a member before being served. Each club must have at least 25 members and a permanent membership committee and must bill active members for purchases by guests, the rule said.

ABC Administrator O. N. Humphreys Jr. reported the new nickel a drink private club tax yielded $339,977 in revenue during January. That's 6,779,540 drinks. The tax has produced $1,316,451 since taking effect Oct. 1.

A waitress or the manager, who is a member. They drink their drinks and pay in cash.

"It is the firm belief of the Alcoholic Beverage Commission that a person who is required to pay for alcoholic beverages served to him in a private club is not a 'guest' within the meaning of the Liquor Control Act," the commission said.

"We mean to enforce the law," Gordon said.

The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals here knocked down the guest card rule Jan. 21. The ABC announced plans Wednesday to appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Meanwhile, the ABC said in a statement read by Gordon, some clubs have "mistakenly interpreted" the decision as a "go ahead" to sell liquor by the drink to customers under the subterfuge they are guests.

Texas has many clubs where customers become "guests" of

Three Suits Ask $175,000 Damages

Three damage suits totaling $175,000 have been filed in 118th District Court naming Merchants Fast Motor Lines and Cleo Bullard as a result of a July 2, 1969, accident.

In separate suits, Essie Davis is asking $50,000; Coralyn

Davis, $50,000; and Ann Bazar $75,000. Mrs. Bazar alleges the accident caused her to give premature birth.

The accident occurred about 10 a.m. as the truck driven by Bullard entered the north service road from IS 20 approximately 7/10 of a mile east of Big Spring and was in collision with the car driven by Mrs. Coralyn Davis on the service road.

The Davis vehicle was traveling east and the truck was traveling west at the time of the collision. Mrs. Essie Davis and Mrs. Bazar were passengers in the Davis car.

Political Rally Slated Friday

Political candidates seeking county offices have been invited to speak at the Gay Hill PTA

Community Meet at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Gay Hill School.

Ross Westbrook, PTA president, said most candidates have agreed to attend the meeting. PTA members will auction off "home-baked" cakes, and free coffee will be available.

Gay Hill is located 18 miles northeast of Big Spring on FM 669, 13 miles from the junction with SH 350. All interested persons are invited.

No Filing Fee

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — No filing fee will be charged candidates in the Jefferson County Republican primary May 2, the GOP executive committee has determined.

Candidates who had already paid filing fees will have them returned, party officials said.

Barry Claims Voting Laws Out Of Tune

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater urged Congress today to wipe out legal technicalities that prevent millions of citizens from voting in presidential elections.

The Arizona Republican, his party's candidate for President in 1964, said state residence requirements and restrictions on absentee voting "are utterly out of tune with the changing needs of a modern, mobile society."

In testimony prepared for a Senate constitutional rights subcommittee hearing on voting legislation, Goldwater said, "In my opinion every able-bodied citizen of the several states should be entitled to participate in the choice of his President-period."

"A citizen should be able to exercise this right regardless of where he is in the world on election day and regardless of how long he has been a resident of any particular state."

Goldwater offered his proposal as a substitute for a section of a House-passed voting rights bill that provides a person residing in a state on Sept. 1 in a presidential election year could vote if otherwise eligible.

The establishment of a uniform residency requirement is one of the least controversial parts of the bill, an administration measure that would replace the 1965 Voting Rights Act, but Goldwater contended it is inadequate.

In his statement, he didn't touch on the key issue in dispute—whether the 1965 act, applying only to parts of the South, should be extended or supplanted by the nationwide legislation urged by President Nixon.

During testimony Wednesday, civil rights leader Clarence Mitchell appealed for passage of a bill extending the 1965 voting rights law without change for five years.

He said Congress should not let "this valuable legislation get bogged down in a morass of litigation because of technical changes in the present statute."

Mitchell said that he was confident the House would accept a simple extension bill if the Senate passed it.

By a 208-203 vote last December, the House approved the administration's nationwide voting rights bill in place of a measure extending the 1965 act.

The administration bill bans the use of voter literacy tests in all states instead of just the Southern states covered by the 1965 act. It also permits election observers and examiners to be sent anywhere to protect voting rights.

But it repeals a section of the 1965 law requiring Southern states to get advance clearance from the U.S. attorney general for any change in their election laws.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., testifying in support of extending the 1965 act, said this section is the key to success in increasing Negro voter registration in the South.

Registration Law Unconstitutional?

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — A cafe and lounge operator filed a class action suit in federal court in Corpus Christi Wednesday asking the Texas voter registration law be declared unconstitutional.

In his suit, Jimmy F. Beare alleged the law violates provisions of the 14th and 24 Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. Beare said he had attempted to register to vote Tuesday. He said the law forbidding him to register as a voter after Jan. 31 violates equal protection statutes of the Constitution.

Beare's petition calls for a temporary restraining order and a speedy hearing. The suit names as defendants

Gov. Preston Smith, Texas Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. and Richard Magee, Neuces County tax assessor-collector.

DALLAS (AP) — Patricia Ann Mahanay, 21, was stabbed to death Wednesday night in her apartment.

Police report a friend found the body and summoned officers. Detectives said the nude body lay in a bedroom and had been stabbed 20 times, apparently with a butcher knife which was in the bed covers.

The friend who called police was questioned and released.

Gang Leader Loses Round

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals has upheld the conviction of Carlos Marcello, reputed Cosa Nostra chief of Louisiana, on charges of assaulting an FBI agent. Marcello, 59, was convicted in U.S. District Court at Houston, Tex., on Aug. 8, 1968, and sentenced to two years in jail. He was accused of striking FBI agent Joseph Collins at the New Orleans International Airport on Sept. 30, 1967.

Collins was in a group of newspapermen and photographers when Collins testified, Marcello took a swing at him. The appellate court's three-judge panel said in its decision Wednesday "we find wanting" each of the 15 points of error raised by Marcello's lawyers. An earlier trial at Laredo, Tex., resulted in a mistrial and a change of venue to Houston was granted. Marcello has been free on bond since his conviction.

ROBBIE BEAMS AS SHULA TAKES OVER — Miami Dolphin managing partner Joe Robbie, right, beams as Don Shula takes over as head coach of the Dolphins Wednesday night. Robbie made the announcement at a news conference in Miami. Shula, former Baltimore Colt head coach, said he is convinced Miami wants to go all out for a winner.

Stock Deal Lures Shula To Miami

MIAMI (AP)—It was clearly money that convinced Don Shula to shuck aside the prominent Baltimore Colts to coach a Miami team that has been nothing but a loser. "Immediate and substantial interest in the Dolphins caused me to leave the Colts," said the 40-year-old Shula. "Being active in ownership while still coaching is something I've always wanted." Shula joins two elder statesmen of pro football in the owner-coach class—Vince Lombardi of the Washington Redskins and Paul Brown of the Cincinnati Bengals. Miami's managing general partner, Joe Robbie, announced Wednesday night that he was firing George Wilson as Miami coach and replacing the ousted 56-year-old chief with handsome, young Shula. Wilson will be offered another job in the Dolphin organization.

Shula. "I don't have any magic formula...I'm not a finesse man...I've always been straightforward with my ball players and we'll depend on hard work." "He's the coach of the future in the National Football League," Robbie said. "This is a red-letter day for Miami Dolphins." Shula posted a 71-23-4 record in seven seasons at Baltimore. He was named three times as NFL coach of the year, but 1969 was not a banner year as the Colts fumbled to a disappointing 8-5-1 record. "I expect the Baltimore-Miami rivalry will get pretty hot because of my move," Shula said, breaking into a grin. "I'm good friends with that fine bunch of football players left. I'm sure they would enjoy beating me when we meet." Miami will be in the same division with the Colts under the new NFL setup. It will be the Dolphins, Baltimore, Boston,

Ashland 2nd To L'jacks In AP Poll

Unbeaten Stephen F. Austin continued its reign over the Associated Press small college basketball poll while pretenders to the throne challenged Ashland, Ohio, for second place. The Lumberjacks, 22-0 after two victories last week, received eight first-place votes and 226 points Wednesday from sports writer and sportscasters voting in the weekly poll. Ashland, 20-1, held on to second place with 161 votes, only 19 more than Cheyney State and 20 more than Maryland State, which settled into third and fourth positions.

Cheyney State, 20-1, advanced from sixth to third and Maryland State, unbeaten in 18 games, moved from fifth to fourth. The Top Twenty, with first place votes in parentheses and total points awarded on basis of 20-10-10-5-3-2-1 etc.

IN BATTLE FOR SECOND PLACE HC Faces Texans

HCJC's Jayhawks have reached the crossroads in their bid for another Western Conference basketball championship. They can break the logjam for the runner-up spot in the standings in a 7:30 p.m. game today with South Plains College in Levelland. The assignment will be a big one for the Big Spring collegians. South Plains beat them here, 105-95, last month and will be fighting mad after losing a decision to Lubbock Christian College at home earlier this week. Coach Buddy Travis, however, believes that his team is capable of reaching the heights after they came from far back to topple New Mexico JC Tuesday night. South Plains has some stellar players in Bruce Mundy, Albert Moore, Gene Perry, Terry Zorger, Randy Lesaley, Walt Dansby and Hyman White. Moore stuffed 30 points through the hoop against HC in the previous game. White accounted for 20 and Mundy 15. HC has only four regular-season games remaining and three of those will be away from home. The locals go to Borger for a contest with Frank Phillips Feb. 26 and pop over to Clarendon the following evening. The Hawks appear at home only one more time. That will be March 2 against New Mexico Military Institute. The Hawks carry a 16-7 record onto the floor. Against conference opponents, the locals are 8-4, which insures them of another 500 season. The Big Springers would have to win the rest of them to insure themselves of another 20-game season, however, the level for which Travis ordinarily shoots. Odessa is going to be hard to overtake in the race, the other coaches agree. The Wranglers have already beaten HCJC twice in league play and has split with South Plains. Odessa goes to Roswell Friday night to oppose New Mexico Military, will be at home to Amarillo Feb. 24, visits Clarendon Feb. 26 and closes out against Lubbock CC in Lubbock March 3. The Region V tournament will be held in Amarillo March 5-7 and the Hawks hope to get an invitation to the meet.

Gallery Will Help, Insists Lee Trevino

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino, the happy guy gunning for his second consecutive victory, said he had an edge on the rest of the field today as he set out in the first round of the $100,000 San Antonio Open Golf tournament. "The gallery," he said, pointing to the milling mob he has dubbed "Lee's Fleas" that follows his every move, laughing at his every utterance—whether they can hear it or not. "They've got to help you," said Trevino, a Texas born Mexican-American who now lives in El Paso. "Man, hit one into the rough and those Mexicans are kicking it right back in the fairway. Just like that," he said, pointing to an imaginary ball in the air. "I hit it in there and it comes out like it had hit a tree," he laughed. "No, seriously, the gallery does help me," he said. "I get a big following of Mexicans here, just like in Tucson. I like to have people around me. They're all pulling for me. "Somehow, when you've got all those people pulling for you, you play harder. You play better. They're all with you and you get charged up and want to show them something." Trevino showed them something last week at Tucson. He made up two strokes on Bob Murphy on the last hole, tied big Bob for the top spot, then beat him with a birdie on the first hole of a playoff. And he's got another little edge, too. He has eased up just a little on his fantastically demanding schedule. "I'd been playing too much," he said. "Until I went to Tucson I'd play everyday in the year. I think that's why I was having trouble on those last rounds. I was tired." Trevino had been in contention in every tournament of the year, only to fall back on the last round. He had final rounds of 74, 75, 73, 77 and 75 before breaking through at Tucson for his first victory in a year.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Lum Harris, manager of the Atlanta Braves, says he'll settle for seven more wins than his club notched last year but three of those would have to come in the National league playoff and the other four in the World Series.

One of Elwood Kettler's last official acts for Texas Tech before he parted company with the school was scouting Brownwood's Jimmy Carmichael in that Class AAA playoff game with Monahans here last November.

Kettler wasn't rehired when new mentor Jim Carlen moved in. Elwood, who played football at Texas A&M under Bear Bryant and who later succeeded Emmett McKenzie as mentor at Nederland when McKenzie came here in 1960, recently became a coaching aide under Charley Shira at Mississippi State.

Kettler also had a chance to go to Georgia Tech but obviously preferred working with a team affiliated with a conference.

Apparently, Big Spring's Danny Birdwell will try it again with the Oakland Raiders in 1970. Knee problems kept him sidelined much of last season but he's been given an OK by his doctors.

Danny is one of five Raiders who underwent operations after the 1969 campaign. Joining him on the operating table were Hewritt Dixon, Kent McCloughan, Tom Keating and Rodger Bird.

A one-time Big Springer, D. A. Miller, has been named president of the Odessa chapter of the Southwestern Basketball Officials Association.

Byron Nelson, who dominated pro golf as much as any one man could before World War II, says that arthritis in his hands and wrists has just about eliminated his playing the game. Nelson concedes he may be too busy to try an occasional 18 holes, however. He'll be at the TV microphone for about 15 tournaments this year, including the British and U.S. Opens, and early in June will go to Japan for a visit at a golf pavilion featured in Expo 70.

George Halas was one of the founders of the National Football League. At times, he has acted as if he maintained the power of life and death over the 50-year old circuit. At 75, they say, he hasn't mellowed a bit.

Five years ago, Sam Huff, was creating a reign of terror in the NFL as a linebacker for the New York Giants. Huff had a reputation for hitting late and piling on, something that not even his coach denied. As a matter of fact, the Giants learned well from Huff and play that way to this day.

The Giants were in Chicago one day to try and muzzle the Bears. Huff was a step behind a play but he came barreling up with all the daintiness of a whale in shallow water and wiped out a few people on the Chicago sidelines.

While he was on the ground, he felt football cleats grinding into his hand. Sam looked up and saw the shoes to which the cleats were attached coming out of civilian pants. They belonged to Papa Bear, then 70 years old.

Huff helled up like a canful of enraged wasps, rammed his shoulder against Halas' breastbone and followed with a pop to the chin.

Reacting with a quickness that would have flattered a deep receiver trying to cover a Don Maynard, Halas planned Sam's arms and growled: "You S.O.B. I wish you played for me!"

Buffalo and the New York Jets in the American Conference's Eastern Division. There will be three Miami-Baltimore battles in 1970 including a preseason game Aug. 29 in Miami's Orange Bowl.

HAD MISGIVINGS "The last two weeks have been pure murder," said Shula. "I weighed this deal from every angle. I have regrets in leaving Baltimore and a fine owner in Carroll Rosenbloom and I regret leaving that fine ball club of young men." Shula just finished the first segment of a five-year contract with the Colts, but Rosenbloom released him to take the Miami offer.

The matchup pitted the touring Harlem Stars against a picked team from Webb AFB. Among the Harlem players was Eddie Nelson, former BSNS and HCJC great.

Stanton To Play Spearman Sextet

STANTON — Stanton's girls have been matched against mighty Spearman in the first round of the Class AA Regional Basketball tournament.

The two teams square off at 1 p.m. Saturday in the Lubbock coliseum.

Stanton evened its record at 13-13 by defeating Alpine in bi-district competition earlier this week, 54-39. Spearman won its 31st straight game by knocking off Wellington, 50-33, in bi-district competition.

Coach Bill Jennings of Stanton, pointing to the fact that his girls have won their last six games, says the Buffaloes have a positive attitude toward the game.

Only senior starting on the Stanton club is 5-8 Doris Howard, a forward averaging 16 points a game. In the fore court with her will be Sandy Chandler, 5-8 junior, who has a 19-point average; and junior Jana Hall, 5-4, with a 5.6 point average. Jana is the

Frank McGuire Ailing But Gamecocks Win

By The Associated Press When Donnie Walsh pays you back it's a pretty good feeling. When Jacksonville and Duke do it they really know how to hurt a guy.

When Walsh was just a toddler in New York City, he got his first basketball. . . from Frank McGuire. He later starred for McGuire at North Carolina and currently is McGuire's chief assistant at South Carolina.

The boss was out with the flu Wednesday night so Walsh took over and guided the fourth-ranked Gamecocks to a 71-69 Atlantic Coast Conference victory over 12th-ranked North Carolina State.

"Donnie Walsh is the finest young basketball coach in the United States," McGuire says in South Carolina's press brochure. "Donnie understands my way of thinking about the game and I have complete confidence in his judgment and abilities." Sixth-ranked Jacksonville got revenge for its only setback in a 20-1 campaign by beating eighth-ranked Florida State 85-81 while Duke, loser of a bitter overtime struggle to Davidson last season, paid back the ninth-ranked Wildcats 79-66. . . in overtime, naturally. Three other members of The Associated Press' Top Twenty also were in action. St. Bonaventure, No. 3, coasted past St. Francis, N.Y., 87-57; No. 13 North Carolina held off arch-rival Maryland 90-83 and Louisville, ranked 19th, trimmed Belarmine 95-75.

John Roche, who finished with 38 points, paced South Carolina to a 52-38 lead with 12 1/2 minutes left. Vann Williford and Paul Coder helped North Carolina State cut it to five with 3 1/2 minutes to play but the Gamecocks opened it to eight before State scored the last six points.

Chip Dublin, one of two players filling in for Jacksonville's injured 6-foot-10 Rod McIntyre, combined with 7-2 Artis Gilmore and 7-0 Pembroke Burrows to choke off two Florida State rallies and send the Seminoles to their third defeat in 23 starts.

Gilmore, one of five Dolphins in double figures, scored 19 points, pulled down 21 rebounds and blocked eight shots. The winners were carried off the court on the shoulders of the home town fans and some players held up one finger, signifying "We're No. 1."

CCSW Trojans Retreat To Third In JC Poll

Vincennes U. remained in the top spot in the weekly NJCAA Cage Poll, while Christian College of the Southwest, last week's runner-up, was edged out by Brevard Junior College and dropped into third place.

The Christian College team received quite a shock last week when several of its starters were involved in an automobile accident. All have been released from the hospital and should be back at full strength later in the week.

Robert Morris of Pittsburgh, Pa., held onto fourth place, while Casper J.C. moved into the top five for the first time this season.

COACHES Boal Quits Rankin Job

RANKIN — George Boal has resigned as head coach and athletic director at Rankin High School after one year on the job.

His 1969 club won five of ten starts and ended District 7-A play with a 3-2 record.

Boal moved from Vidor to Rankin and indicated he might return to the Gulf Coast area.

Head basketball coach Terry Rice and his assistant, Bill Beasley, have also submitted their resignations.

CHRISTOVALL — Gerald Brister, head coach and athletic director at Christoval High School, has submitted his resignation.

Brister said he may quit coaching to embark upon a career as a school administrator. His football team won six and lost three last fall. His basketball team finished with a 2-15 record.

Brister coached at Rochelle before moving to Christoval.

Skeen Again Has Team In Region

Charles Skeen, who grew up in Forsan and who formerly coached at Grady, has again guided his Follett team into the Regional at Levelland.

Follett ran his record to 25-2 by defeating Adrian, 54-43, Monday night in a bi-district game at Panhandle.

Follett, a Class B spearman, has lost only to Class AA Spearman and to Darrouzett this season. Follett owns three wins over the latter team.

Follett, District 2-B champ, will play some team from the El Paso area, possibly Fort Hancock.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1970 SEC. B

Hungry For Cookies? Look For Girl Scouts

At 4 p.m., Friday, local and area Girl Scouts will begin knocking on doors. They will be asking for a helping hand, not a handout, for their organization when they sell cookies Feb. 20 through Feb. 28 to friends and neighbors.

This is each girl's service project for her fellow Scouts, and it is a money-earning project.

The 50 cents you pay for a box of cookies goes a long way toward improving Girl Scouting for your girl or your neighbor's girl.

Twenty-two cents from each box's sale goes into the West Texas Girl Scout Council property fund which supports summer camp at Camp Boothe Oaks in Sweetwater, year-round troop camping, the new Girl Scout service center in Abilene, and other local properties. Five cents a box goes into each troop's treasury, one cent assists girls and adults who attend national and international events, and the remaining 22 cents goes back to the cookie company. Councils do not get cookies for free!

Money from United Fund Drives or Girl Scout Fund Drives only goes into operating budgets for the council. Thus, the cookie sale is the only source of income for camp and general properties.

Special awards will be given this year, for the first time, to above average Girl Scout sellers. Girls who sell at least 42 boxes of cookies will earn a green patch with a gold Girl Scout emblem and the words, "42 Club, 1970 Cookie Sale," lettered in gold. These patches may be worn on patch jackets or jeans.

Partial camperships will be given to girls who sell 100 or more boxes. One-half of their camp fee for the session of their choice will be paid. This should help out any girl who wants to go to camp.

The same four brands of cookies will be sold, as last year: assorted sandwich, chocolate mint, butter shorties and peanut butter.

Girl Scout Cookies will be sold only during the week of Feb. 20 through Feb. 28. If you are not contacted by a Girl Scout and would like to buy cookies, then please call your local service unit cookie chairman.

Representing the Big Spring area are Mrs. Charles Tate, Garden City Rt.; Mrs. Dub Coates, Coahoma; Mrs. M. R. Robinson, Webb Air Force Base; and Mrs. Jack Little, Big Spring.

The Council's goal for 1970 is 66,000 boxes of cookies.

New Teaching Aids Are Shown To AAUW Group

Mechanical teaching aids such as projectors and micro film readers, were demonstrated by David King, guest speaker for the American Association of University Women Monday in First Federal Community Room. Topic of the meeting was "New Look On Campus." Mrs. Ray Ebling, leader and area education representative introduced King who is a history professor at Howard County Junior College. King spoke about the program of government aid to train professors to operate a media center at HCJC. Looking to the future, he described the use of computers for business purposes and computerized teaching. He also discussed the opportunities offered by closed circuit television in education. He brought an overhead projector, slide projector, and dry mounting and laminating machine to demonstrate their uses in teaching.

The refreshment committee members were Mrs. C. M. Condray, Mrs. Oakey Hagood, Mrs. Cass Hill, Mrs. Charles Burnsed, Mrs. Bill Early, Mrs. John Payne and Mrs. Carol Stephens. Mrs. Eric Machinist was a guest.

The next meeting will be March 16. "Recreation Facilities and Needs in Big Spring" will be discussed by a panel of Jim Baum, Tom Eastland, Bert Andries and Don Crockett.

Les Girls Club Buys RCA Stock

Les Girls Investment Club reviewed its current portfolio and purchased additional shares of RCA during a Monday meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office.

Mrs. W. U. O'Neal, vice president, presided as Mrs. Leslie Lloyd reported on Sterling Drugs, and Mrs. J. R. Farmer reviewed an article on Ampex Corporation. Mrs. O'Neal reported on Alco Standard.

The next meeting will be in the same office, March 17.

HD Agent Shows Slides Pertaining To Floral Art

Flower arranging was discussed by Mrs. Delaine Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent, when she was guest speaker Tuesday for the Airport Home Demonstration Club.

Mrs. Crawford showed slides, which gave instruction in the floral art, to illustrate her program.

"The tallest flower in your arrangement should be about 1 1/2 times the height of the container," said Mrs. Crawford. "Creating the arrangement will be much faster and easier if you have the needed equipment such as shears, knives, clay, pin holders, foam, florist tape and plenty of foliage."

Mrs. James Findley, vice president, was hostess for the meeting and presided for the business session. Mrs. Charles Sitton was a guest.

The next meeting will be held March 3 in the home of Mrs. Doyle Gillihan, 1603 Lancaster.

Brown Is Latest Fashion On Scene

Those "little black dresses" have hogged the fashion scene and won the haute couture stakes for far too long. Brown now appears to be a sure winner.

In all its subtle shades that range from bitter chocolate, sepia, ochre, tan, chestnut, cinnamon, khaki, putty and palest coffee cream, brown is perfect — and sensible — for days at the office, yet splendidly sophisticated for evening wear.

It is an utterly dependable color, giving a woman value as well as a switched-on look. Discerning women rate it better than black because it is soft-toned, looks marvelous on blondes, brunettes and redheads. Choose it with confidence if you want to reduce the apparent size of your figure.

Since brown is so elegantly understated, be imaginative with accessory colors. Team it with red, yellow, orange, blue, pink, green and turquoise.

Colorful Mints

An attractive ending for a company supper: rainbow-colored mints.

MRS. M. L. PETRULLO

Michael Louis Petruccos Honeymoon In Greece

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Louis Petruccio are at home at 901 NE 160 Terrace St., North Miami Beach, Fla., following a honeymoon in Greece and Italy. The couple was married Jan. 31 in St. Ann's Catholic Church in Midland.

The bride, the former Cherie Ann Sabbato, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank S. Sabbato of Lubbock, formerly of Big Spring. Mrs. Petruccio, stewardess with Eastern Airlines, attended the University of New Mexico, Albuquerque. Petruccio, a pilot with Eastern, is a former pilot for the U.S. Navy with the rank of lieutenant commander. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis Petruccio, of Westwood, N.J.

The low rounded neckline closed in front with a flat bow. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a Dior bow of white chiffon velvet. She carried a colonial bouquet of white chrysanthemums and stephanotis tied with white satin ribbons.

Miss Jean Krolak of Miami Beach was the bride's honor attendant. She wore a gown of similar design to that of the bride in coral and carried a bouquet of coral chrysanthemums.

Frank S. Sabbato Jr. of Lubbock served as best man by proxy for Joseph Petruccio.

Musical selections were played by Mrs. M. J. Walters, organist.

Texas' Draft Quota Jumps

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas' draft quota for March is 1,064 men, all for the Army, State Selective Service Headquarters announced today. No man will be drafted with a lottery number higher than 90, said Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state draft director.

The quota is up from February's 929, which is being filled with men whose lottery numbers are 60 or lower.

A draft official said a recent survey of local boards produced a rough estimate that Texas would not need to go over lottery numbers 75 or 80 to meet its March call.

The March quota is Texas' share of a national call for 19,000 men, all for the Army.

Schwartz also said the state's quota for pre-induction physical and mental examinations is 8,253, down from 9,359 in February.

Schwartz said all volunteers at draft boards must be inducted ahead of non-volunteers.

He also said any man with a low lottery number can join a reserve unit or enlist in the active service any time before his draft notice is issued.

Navy Adopts More Lenient Drugs Rules

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has adopted a more forgiving attitude towards sailors who briefly try some kinds of drugs, but then reject them.

The aim is to save "otherwise good sailors and creditable performers" from being kicked out of the Navy because of a temporary indiscretion.

The action applies to amphetamines and barbiturates, but not to LSD or "hard" narcotics.

Until recently, Navy regulations required discharge of men who improperly used any narcotic or dangerous drug. An exception was permitted for experimental use of marijuana.

In a notice circulated to all ships and stations late last month, the Navy enlarged this exception to include "the possession of marijuana and the use or possession of the amphetamines or barbiturates."

Instead of requiring discharge of an offender, a commander may submit a report to the chief of naval personnel stating the circumstances and offering recommendations.

The Navy notified commanders the more lenient rules "is directed to those cases where the individual has been involved for a short period of time and has rejected the idea of further use; or certain individuals who may be intermittently involved to a slight extent over a longer period one month perhaps, but who now reject use."

Return To Russia 'Unthinkable'

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — Joseph Stalin's daughter, Svetlana Alliluyeva, says she received last spring a semi-official visitor who invited her to return to the Soviet Union.

"I will not tell you his name," she was quoted in an interview in the Evening Times of Trenton. "He advised me never to give up my Soviet citizenship."

Mrs. Alliluyeva said her visitor also advised her not to write any more.

Air Pollution Standards Will Get Stiff Scrutiny

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Air pollution standards and controls in Texas will get a stiff scrutiny by the staff of the Texas Air Control Board, the board chairman says.

McKee said the staff would present its findings at the board's next meeting, March 23 in Austin.

The chairman, Herbert C. McKee of Houston, told the board Wednesday that present standards are inadequate. He suggested that they be brought more in line with those established by the U.S. Government and various states.

The board granted new variances to:

- Austin Road and Worth Construction Co. of Fort Worth until April 1; Eastman Co. of Longview until July 1; Texaco for their refinery in Jefferson County until Dec. 1; U.S. Gypsum Co. at New Braunfels until Dec. 1; Trinity Portland Cement Co. of Fort Worth until June 1; Southern Clay Products Co. of Gonzales until June 1.

Compliance report due on that date; Odessa Natural Gas Co. until July 1 and Olin Corp. at Beaumont asked for variance until Nov. 30 and was granted only until Aug. 18.

Dec. 11; Trinity Portland Cement Co. of Fort Worth until June 1; Southern Clay Products Co. of Gonzales until June 1.

Compliance report due on that date; Odessa Natural Gas Co. until July 1 and Olin Corp. at Beaumont asked for variance until Nov. 30 and was granted only until Aug. 18.

Reform Cries At Bexar Jail

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Cries for reform at Bexar County jail erupted Wednesday after a prisoner was treated at a hospital for injuries received in his cell.

Florencio Hernandez, 23, held on Nevada charges of rape and robbery, was hospitalized Tuesday after a jail guard found him injured.

Neither he nor his five cell-mates would say what happened.

About 30 persons confronted Bexar County commissioners Wednesday, demanding reforms. They compared the incident to the beating death of a prisoner last year in which eight inmates were charged.

"This was a fist fight," Sheriff Bill Hauck told the crowd, referring to Hernandez. "And you had 75 last night in beer joints around town. He wasn't stomped and he wasn't beaten."

The protesters appeared at a regular commissioners meeting to present their demands. About 30 persons also held a night-long vigil at the jail Tuesday night to protest the incident.

Hernandez was returned to jail Wednesday and placed in a private cell. A doctor said he suffered a bruised arm, a black eye and a slightly cut lip. The fight began when he discovered some of his tobacco missing, Hauck said.

'Annie' Rated Brightest Hour Of TV

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television Staff Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Annie, the Women in the Life of a Man," on CBS Wednesday night shaped up as the freshest, brightest hour of television entertainment since the original "Laugh-In" special.

Anne Bancroft emerged with fresh laurels as comedienne, chanteuse and tongue-in-cheek femme fatale in an hour that combined keen wit, perceptive humor and unflinching good taste.

The theme was woman and Miss Bancroft played a dozen or so different ones. She was a bride having panicky doubts in the midst of the wedding ceremony; an ex-career girl facing happily the fact that "marriage is better;" an Elizabethan lady cavorting with knights in armor; a 1920s flapper; a society lady on a psychiatrist's couch and many more.

The men in various lives obviously were chosen for their special contributions—Robert Merrill singing a passionate love song with a snapper ending; Lee J. Cobb playing a psychiatrist without a line to speak but his face expressing volumes; Dick Shawn as a nervous bridegroom, and Arthur Murray in the most dramatic role in his career.

Among the funny sketches was one serious moment, Dick Smothers, in a World War I doughboy's uniform singing an antiwar song to his mother—Miss Bancroft in a gray wig. It was effective drama.

The program arrives when television seems overgrown with variety shows featuring loud music, humor pegged on shock value and guest stars who seem to do the same thing show after show. This special may start a new and welcome trend and certainly is worth an encore.

NBC and CBS are expected to start lining up sponsors for their 1970-71 programs within days or even hours, and ABC is expected to follow along within a week or 10 days.

At this point it seems that survival is unlikely for CBS' "Get Smart," "Lancer" and — surprise — "The Red Skelton Show." Jackie Gleason, who has resumed negotiations with the network, may return in some specials instead of a weekly show. There is talk that "The Tim Conway Show," a disappointing midseason replacement, may be converted into an hour-long variety show starring the comedian.

It appears that NBC's "I Dream of Jeannie," "Debbie Reynolds Show," "Daniel Boone" and "Bronson" are soon to leave, and it is likely that "My World and Welcome to It" is likely to be a casualty at the end of the season.

ABC, whose midseason replacements have helped improve its ratings, still has a lot of decisions to make. It is expected that "The Flying Nun," "Here Come the Brides" and "Paris 7000" will be scuttled and possibly "The Englebert Humperdinck Show" and the new Pat Paulsen half hour.

Skelton's hour, after 19 years, is still rated among the top five or ten programs in popularity. CBS, however, is known to be concerned with the composition of its audience as much as its size. The network is eager to build an audience in the 18-49 age bracket, and strengthens its appeal to urban audiences. Skelton, it is felt, did not fit into this programming effort.

Air Pollution Standards Will Get Stiff Scrutiny

EL PASO, Tex. (AP)—Air pollution standards are inadequate. He suggested that they be brought more in line with those established by the U.S. Government Control Board, the board chairman says.

McKee said the staff would present its findings at the board's next meeting, March 25 in Austin.

In action here, the board denied one variance and extended several others while granting a series of new variances.

The variance denied by the board was one asked by Jefferson Chemical Co. of Fort Worth. The firm had asked an extension until June 30 to gain compliance.

The board granted new variances to:

- Austin Road and Worth Construction Co. of Fort Worth until April 1;
- Eastman Co. of Longview until July 1;
- Texaco for their refinery in Jefferson County until Dec. 1;
- U.S. Gypsum Co. at New Braunfels until Dec. 11;

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—"Annie, the Women in the Life of a Man," on CBS Wednesday night shaped up as the freshest, brightest hour of television entertainment since the original "Laugh-In" special.

Anne Bancroft emerged with fresh laurels as comedienne chanteuse and tongue-in-cheek femme fatale in an hour that combined keen wit, perceptive humor and unflinching good taste.

The theme was woman and Miss Bancroft played a dozen or so different ones. She was a bride having panicky doubts in the midst of the wedding ceremony; an ex-career girl facing happily the fact that "marriage is better;" an Elizabethan lady cavorting with knights in armor; a 1920s flapper; a society lady on a psychiatrist's couch and many more.

The men in various lives obviously were chosen for their special contributions—Robert Merrill singing a passionate love song with a snapper ending; Lee J. Cobb playing a psychiatrist without a line to speak but his face expressing volumes; Dick Shawn as a nervous bridegroom, and Arthur Murray in the most dramatic role in his career.

Among the funny sketches was one serious moment. Dick Smothers, in a World War I doughboy's uniform singing an antiwar song to his mother—Miss Bancroft in a gray wig. It was effective drama.

The program arrives when television seems overgrown with variety shows featuring loud music, humor pegged on shock value and guest stars who seem to do the same thing show after show. This special may start a new and welcome trend and certainly is worth an encore.

NBC and CBS are expected to start lining up sponsors for their 1970-71 programs within days or even hours, and ABC is expected to follow along within a week or 10 days.

At this point it seems that survival is unlikely for CBS' "Get Smart," "Lancer" and — surprise — "The Red Skelton Show." Jackie Gleason, who has resumed negotiations with the network, may return in some special instead of a weekly show. There is talk that "The Tim Conway Show," a disappointing midseason replacement, may be converted into an hour-long variety show starring the comedian.

It appears that NBC's "I Dream of Jeannie," "Debbie Reynolds Show," "Daniel Boone" and "Bronson" are soon to leave, and it is likely that "My World and Welcome to It" is likely to be a casualty at the end of the season.

ABC, whose midseason replacements have helped improve its ratings, still has a lot of decisions to make. It is expected that "The Flying Nun," "Here Come the Brides" and "Paris 7000" will be scuttled and possibly "The Englebert Humperdinck Show" and the new Pat Paulsen half hour.

Skelton's hour, after 19 years, is still rated among the top five or ten programs in popularity. CBS, however, is known to be concerned with the composition of its audience as much as its size. The network is eager to build an audience in the 18-49 age bracket, and strengthen its appeal to urban audiences. Skelton, it is felt, did not fit into this programming effort.

New City Hall

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP)—Two departments of the Port Arthur city government have started moving into the new $1.6 million city hall now under construction.

The move from the present city hall began after the City Council accepted the one-story wing of the five-story structure. The rest of the building should be occupied by the end of February, city officials said.

Claims Computer Cut Her Children Off Welfare Rolls

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A mother of six has filed suit against the Texas Department of Public Welfare, asking that the agency be ordered to continue its $209 monthly payments for her children. The suit was filed in U.S. District Court in behalf of Mrs. Gearline Felder and all others in similar situations. It contends that a computer determined that her children should be removed from the welfare rolls of the Aid to Families with Dependent Children program. When she married a janitor last September, the suit says, the computer said in a printed message: "Your children are no longer deprived of parental support due to marriage." The suit claims no examination of need was made. It also contends that the state's interpretation of both Texas welfare laws and federal Social Security statutes "is aimed at discouraging morality and encouraging the breaking up of a family and depriving children of a father image."

Packets On Drugs Available

The police department has compiled a limited number of drug information packets designed to aid local students in their school assignments on narcotics, Officer Stewart Dickson said this morning. He said the packets were put together using information gathered from the Federal Narcotics Division's Dallas office and can be checked out for two weeks to students who are doing legitimate school work on the drug problem. The demand for such material has increased in the past few months, Dickson said, and police decided to incorporate the packets into their regular drug information program. He said that, in addition to the materials, the officers assigned to the drug information program will help any student with papers or presentations on drugs if the student will make arrangements in advance. Dickson said the call for police department presentations on narcotics has increased in the past month and some organizations are now asking for repeat programs and showings of the film "Marijuana," recently purchased by the department with the help of several local civic groups.

Burk Reaping His Rewards

DENVER, Colo. — Barry Burk of Duncan, Okla., roped his first calf when he was only five years old. Today the 28-year-old professional rodeo cowboy is reaping his rewards. The Rodeo Cowboys Association said Burk was the all-around winner at the El Paso, Tex., rodeo, which ended Sunday, by taking $1,371 in calf roping and steer wrestling. His combined earnings of $6,828 this year place him first in the national all-around cowboy championship race. Burk has won more than $170,000 in the rodeo arena, and has been national calf roping runnerup three times. Married to a former Miss Rodeo America, he is related to Oklahoma's "Ropin' Burks," top contestants of the 1930s, '40s and '50s. His uncle, Clyde, had been calf roping champion three times; his father, Dee, and another uncle, Jiggs, were both outstanding ropers.

Sinatra 'Sings' Until Charges Are Dismissed

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Contempt charges filed against Frank Sinatra were dismissed Wednesday following the singer's appearance Tuesday night before a state crime commission probing underworld activities in New Jersey.

Acting at the request of Sinatra's lawyer Edward Feinberg and with the concurrence of the State Investigation Commission, Superior Court Judge Frank Kingfield dismissed the contempt citations brought by the investigatory group and a warrant that had been issued for Sinatra's arrest.

Feinberg said Sinatra had "fully and completely answered all questions put by the commission." Kingfield said that he believed Sinatra's earlier refusal to testify had been on the "advice of counsel" and "was not done to thwart the law."

Sinatra's appearance before a hastily called meeting of the State Investigation Commission ended almost nine months of legal moves to bring him back to his native state.

The 53-year-old singer-actor had been fighting a subpoena to appear before the commission since last June 25. When he failed to answer the subpoena, the commission obtained a warrant for his arrest, good only in New Jersey.

His testimony was not disclosed.

Since its inception, the SIC has ordered two alleged Mafia leaders and a third man to indefinite jail terms for their refusal to testify about organized crime in the state. Two other underworld figures, including Gerardo "Jerry" Catena, alleged boss of the New Jersey Mafia family, are fighting contempt citations.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: This is in reply to the woman who said that the mother whose son was lying dead in Vietnam was better off than she, whose 19-year-old son was sick, dirty, living hand to mouth and using drugs.

I run a drug treatment program called RAP (Recognize All Potential) which deals primarily with adolescent and college-age drug users. Many of them are sick and dirty, living hand to mouth.

When I read them the mother's letter above, some of them said, "I'll bet my mother wrote that. She really wishes I were dead."

Abby, please tell that mother to examine her own feelings towards her son. Why has she given up hope for him?

Perhaps if some of these parents would worry less about what to tell their friends and more about what to tell their children, I could work less than 20 hours a day attempting to help kids whose parents wish they were dead.

PATRICIA PACKARD
Pittsburgh, Pa.

DEAR PATRICIA: It's a great job you and your colleagues are doing. Drug addiction among the young is, in my opinion, one of our nation's most serious problems. If only we had an educational program effective enough to keep our kids away from the stuff, we wouldn't have to work so hard to get them off the stuff.

DEAR ABBY: I guess my problem is a very common one as my husband says all men do the same thing.

Let me explain. A few months ago my husband and I were getting ready for bed, and he reached over to lay his wallet on the dresser and he missed. His wallet fell on the floor and everything in it spilled out. Plain as could be were some pictures of naked men and women together. (I do mean together.)

Now this morning when I went into his pants pocket to get a dollar for my daughter to take to school, I found more pictures just like the first.

This time I mentioned it to my husband, and he said all men carry pictures like that around. Do they?

DEAR WANTS: Only the emotionally immature would look twice at such pictures. If your husband "never used to act this way," perhaps he is undergoing some personality change due to a physical illness. Ask your doctor. It's "normal" for curious little boys, but not for grown men.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 26-year-old woman, unmarried. I live with my father. Dad is 62 and has been divorced from my mother for several years.

What bothers me is that my father refuses to go with women anywhere near his own age. He is very good looking and keeps himself in excellent physical condition by jogging, golfing, and dieting, and he looks more like 50 than 62.

He goes with three different women. The youngest is 32 and the oldest is 36. He says he doesn't intend to get married again and he prefers the company of young girls to that of women his own age, and if his friends don't like it, that's their problem. What do you think?

DEAR DAUGHTER: I think a 62-year-old man, who looks like 50, should be able to bring a woman of 32 to a party without being criticized. Furthermore I think his friends are probably more jealous than bothered. And you, young lady, shouldn't be bothered either. Daddy is a big boy now.

CONFIDENTIAL TO S.A.: A closed mouth gathers no feet.

Sheriff Sued For $15,000

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Sheriff Bill Hauck is being sued for $15,000 by a man who claims he received a three-day prison sentence but was held in Bexar County jail for 10 months and 10 days.

Carlos Aguilar, 57, a truck driver, filed the suit in U.S. District Court.

The suit says he was jailed for failing to follow a court order to pay his wife temporary alimony pending settlement of a divorce suit. He was sentenced to three days, the suit says.

Aguilar was released on a writ of habeas corpus filed by the Legal Aid Association, a lawyer said.

Car Insurance Plan Draws Fresh Fire

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's auto insurers are split sharply over a plan that state officials said would drop New York State premiums by an estimated 56 per cent by eliminating the basis of costly lawsuits.

Some lawyers oppose the plan, saying it would cost them much of their practice.

Under the plan, backed by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, auto owners would insure themselves for any injuries suffered by themselves or their passengers regardless of who is at fault in an accident. Owners also would be able, but would not be required, to insure their own cars against damage. Property damage liability, exclusive of damage to cars, would continue as at present.

Under present law the driver found to be at fault pays. The process involves lengthy and sometimes costly lawsuits.

"New York's system can be made more responsive to today's needs without stripping the public of vital rights of recovery, or shifting the insurance cost burden from the guilty to the innocent," the National Association of Independent Insurers said.

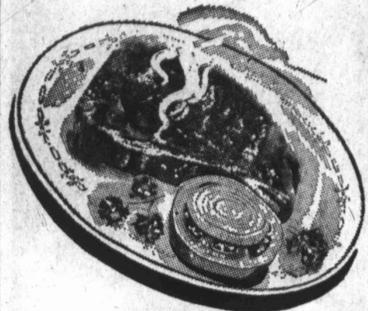

The association, which claims 362 members and over 50 per cent of the nation's auto insurance market, said the plan would make New Yorkers "guinea pigs for radical experiment."

However, the American Insurance Association, which claims more than 125 members and 30 per cent of the market, said, "From what we have seen of the proposal, we would agree with its general conclusions. Editorial reaction of the nation's press in the past year substantiates our belief that such a major reform is in the public interest."

The AIA added that similar proposals had been introduced in legislatures in California, Connecticut, Hawaii, Illinois, Massachusetts, Michigan and Minnesota.

The American Mutual Insurance Alliance, which claims 115 members and about 10 per cent of the market, said, "We don't think this plan can be taken seriously as a publicly acceptable reform of the auto insurance system. It invites negligent drivers to smash your car and injure your family at your own expense."

The plan was presented Friday by the New York State Insurance Department and endorsed two days later by Rockefeller. The governor said he would try to persuade the legislature to adopt the system, but did not expect success this year.

Horoscope TOMORROW —CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: This is a day that calls for caution. It can bring a great deal of confusion into your life. Because of the oncoming Full Moon, you could commit yourself for some time to a comprehensive course of action that you will soon wish you had done nothing about. Study that fine print in any deals presented to you.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are highly elated over some new plan that you think can make you rich quick, but think it over very carefully. Then do it wisely. Make sure you don't spend too much for recreation today, either.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You are not able to discuss home affairs properly now since you have the wrong impression, ideas, so wait for a better time. Don't hold a grudge so long. Let it go and it will take care of itself.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Avoid accidents by being careful in motion and be most tactful in handling some problem with an associate. Go over any letters, etc., for errors. Make sure that you get those reports out early.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You will find it impossible to get backing for some project you have today, so do not pursue as yet. Keep busy at work.

PIES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Better get right down to that work ahead of you even though you may find it boring or are in the wrong mood. Be conscientious. Don't run rough-shod over ideas that co-workers may have. Listen.

MRS. W. R. WARD AND DAUGHTER, MRS. MAURICE SMITH

Traditions Observed By Catholic Family

By JO BRIGHT

In former years, the 40 days of Lent brought restrictions in diets of the faithful. Today, at least for those of Catholic faith, there are only two days, Ash Wednesday and Good Friday, when fasting and abstinence allow only one meal each day — and that one is meatless.

Times may change, yet tradition, personal beliefs or force of habit still influence many menus that will be served this season. A lucky household is that of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Smith, 4037 Vicky, for it has two good cooks, Mrs. Smith and her mother, Mrs. W. R. Ward, a widow who has shared their home here for the past six years. The women plan menus together, but a large part of the preparation is done by Mrs. Ward for her daughter is a registered nurse at Big Spring State Hospital. Smith is an anesthetist at the Veterans Administration Hospital. He and his wife are both graduates of Providence School of Nursing in Waco.

"With two nurses in the family, we are pretty sure of having balanced meals," said Mrs. Ward, noting that practically all the meals include a green salad.

While the Smiths are at their jobs, Mrs. Ward stays home, preparing meals and caring for one of her grandchildren, Thomas Edward, a handsome two and a half-year-old who afflicted with cerebral palsy. The other Smith children are Anna Marie, 13; Teresa, 12; Paula, 11; Maurice Jr., 9; Billy, 8; and Elizabeth Ann, 5. Three of the children attend Immaculate Heart of Mary School, just down the street, so they come home for a hot noon meal every day except Monday. On that day, they eat at the school where the Mothers Club sells hot dogs and other snacks.

The day begins early in the Smith-Ward home, for the alarm clock rings at 5:30 a.m. and the women serve a hearty breakfast at a big table in the combination kitchen and family room. There is always orange juice, toast or rolls and hot or cold cereal. (Smith and Tommy have a standing order for hot oatmeal.)

After the rest of the family leaves, Mrs. Ward and Tommy have the rest of the day to enjoy each other and do the exercises and "patterns" which are required for the youngster's well-being. Mrs. Ward has found a smart thing to do is join Tommy for a mid-day nap, so she is rested and ready to prepare dinner by the time the other children return from school.

In cooking for a large family, Mrs. Ward finds the best policy is not to cook things any of them dislike. That way, everyone stays happy and no food is wasted.

Great Meatless Dish Livens Days Of Lent

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Here it comes — a great meatless dish! Designed for cooks who get real satisfaction when they cook from scratch, this homemade noodle recipe is so thoroughly tested and clearly explained that even a novice in the kitchen should be able to make it successfully.

After the noodles are cooked, we suggest giving them a partner: a can of the delightful small early peas that nowadays are widely available.

And one suggestion: at our house we made up the noodle dough one day, cut it in strips and let the strips dry thoroughly overnight. Next day it was easy to cook the noodles and add the peas for a delicious main dish.

HOMEMADE NOODLES WITH PEAS

2 eggs
1½ tbsps. cold water
½ tsp. salt
1½ cups sifted flour
½ cup butter or margarine
1 can (17 ozs.) small early peas, drained
1 egg yolk, well beaten
¼ cup grated Parmesan cheese

Salt and pepper to taste. In a medium mixing bowl beat together the eggs, cold water and salt until the eggs are thickened and lemon colored. Stir in the flour to form a stiff dough; if necessary add more flour, kneading lightly to work it in.

Divide dough in half. Using a prepared pastry cloth and stockinet-covered rolling pin, roll out one-half of the dough so it is very thin and about 12 inches square; repeat with second half of dough. Place the dough between dish towels to dry partially (dough should still be soft enough to roll up). Roll up each portion of the dough in jelly roll fashion; cut into one-half inch wide strips; spread out between towels to dry thoroughly before cooking.

To cook the noodles, gradually add them to six cups of rapidly boiling water and 1½ teaspoons salt. Boil uncovered, stirring occasionally, until just tender — about 10 minutes. While noodles are cooking, in a small saucepan melt the butter.

Add drained canned peas and keep warm over very low heat. When noodles are done, remove from heat and add a small amount of cold water to stop the cooking process.

Drain thoroughly and place on a large serving platter. Toss salt and pepper. Makes four to with beaten egg yolk. Add peas six servings.

FOR A FINE LENTEN DISH, make these homemade noodles combined with a can of small early peas, egg yolk and grated Parmesan cheese. Matter of fact, compliments will put this recipe in your file for any season.

Stop Discoloring

When cutting up fresh apples or bananas for a fruit salad, be sure to sprinkle them with citrus juice to prevent discoloring.

Add To Cabbage

Cooking plain buttered cabbage wedges? Try adding a pinch of dill weed, basil, dry mustard or tarragon for imaginative seasoning.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

In hot weather, keep water-ground cornmeal in a tightly covered jar in the refrigerator.

Measuring molasses or syrup? Grease the measure first so the sweet stuff won't cling.

Does your toddler nag you when you are speaking on the telephone? Keep a toy phone handy so he can have his own conversation!

Use a wet spoon when you are dropping cream-puff paste onto a baking sheet.

A little lemon juice added to mushrooms that are being simmered helps to keep them white.

A large glass measure is a good utensil to use for whipping cream or making pancake batter. You can pour the pancake batter right onto the griddle from the measure!

Wash a nylon pastry brush in warm, not hot, water. Never dip the brush into butter (or other fat) that is being melted on the surface unit of the range. Have the butter melted and cooled before you put the brush into it.

Shine up those freshly washed windows with clean white crumpled tissue paper!

Salmon Pie Contains A Surprise

We admit to having been slightly skeptical when the following recipe came our way. The idea of putting together salmon and cottage cheese in a cracker crust didn't entrance us, but because an epicurean friend had highly recommended the dish, we gave it a try.

Was our skepticism misplaced? This Salmon Souffle Pie turned out to be, just as our friend said, "A really good recipe — one of the best. Economical and high in protein." The only note we can add is that its making is fool-proof.

SALMON SOUFFLE PIE

1 cup fine unsalted cracker crumbs (25 2-inch crackers)
¼ cup butter or margarine, melted
½ plus ¼ tsp. salt
¼ tsp. dry dill weed or basil
1 can (7½-ozs.) salmon
1 cup small-curd cream-style cottage cheese
3 eggs, separated
½ cup heavy cream
2 tbsps. flour
½ tsp. pepper
1 tbsp. chopped chives fresh or freeze-dried
1 tsp. lemon juice

Stir together the cracker crumbs, melted butter, ¼ teaspoon salt and dill weed. Press over bottom and sides (up to rim) of a buttered 9-inch glass pie plate; reserve. Turn salmon (including liquid and bones) into a mixing bowl; add cottage cheese and egg yolks; beat until well-mixed. Stir in cream, flour, one-fourth teaspoon salt, pepper, chives and lemon juice. Beat egg whites until they hold stiff, straight peaks; fold into salmon mixture.

Turn into reserved cracker crust; bake on a low rack in a moderate (350 degrees) oven for 35 minutes; remove and let stand for five to 10 minutes so center will finish setting. Serve at once. Makes four large servings.

NOTE: You may use any grade of salmon you wish on this recipe.

Combine For Pie

Try these fruit combinations for a pie: Apricot and banana; rhubarb and strawberry; blueberry and peach; apple and cherry; pineapple and strawberry.

Cheese Casserole

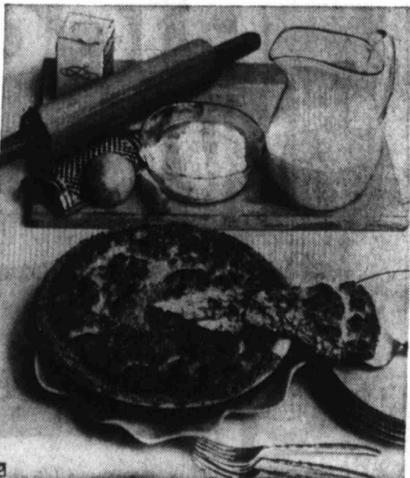

If macaroni - and - cheese casserole is one of your specialties, try adding these seasonings: Chopped pimiento, parsley, chives, green pepper, olives or bacon bits.

Whipped Cream

Serve mint-flavored whipped cream over slices of fluffy chocolate cake. To concoct the cream, beat it and fold in a little creme de menthe.

Tea Party Ideas

Having a large tea party? You'll find it's economical to use loose tea rather than tea-bags for a big group.

TAMPA BAY OIL SLICK DAMAGES Humble Sues Ship's Owners

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Humble Oil Co. has been allowed to join in the state's suit against the Greek tanker which caused the now-dissipated Tampa Bay oil slick, bringing to $4 million the amount of damages sought from the ship's owners.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joseph Lieb approved Wednesday the oil company's request to file against Shipping Developments Corp. of Panama damage claims of $150,000 for loss of cargo; $200,000 for expenses in fighting the slick and $1.6 million for expenses the company says it will incur in continued clean-up operations.

Federal pollution control officials said Humble was not responsible for the spill and provided valuable aid in combating it.

The tanker ran aground last Friday in Tampa Bay and 20,000 gallons of fuel oil escaped through gashes in her hull.

The slick at one point covered 100-square miles and tarred gulf resort beaches, boats in harbors, waterfront property and mangrove bays that are spawning grounds for many famous salt water gamefish.

Biologists said this spring's shrimp catch at Tarpon Springs would be hit hard by the slick, and that sport and commercial fishermen could look for smaller catches in the bay area for the next few years.

Cormorants, ducks, pelicans, grebes and other water birds died by the thousands. About 3,500 more were plucked half-dead from the water and their tarry coatings removed, but only a small percentage were expected to survive.

Four congressmen came to the area Wednesday to investigate the slick.

Reps. William Cramer, R-Fla.; Jack McDonald, D-Mich.; Frank Clark, D-Pa., and Hastings Keith, R-Mass., boarded a Coast Guard helicopter and flew over the area, but they were too late to see much.

Father Of Dallas Cowboy Tackle Lilly Found Dead

FORT WORTH (AP) — John Ernest "Buster" Lilly, 60, the father of all-pro Dallas Cowboy tackle Bob Lilly, was found dead in his U.S. mail delivery truck on a downtown parking lot about 4:30 a.m. today.

County Medical Examiner Dr. Feliks Gwozdz ruled death due to natural causes.

County medical investigator Tommy Harris said Lilly was found by his co-workers when he failed to show up on time to pick up his daily mail cargo to be delivered to Throckmorton.

Lilly always waited in his truck on the parking lot, Harris said, before picking up mail about 4 a.m. to take to his home town of Throckmorton.

Harris said exact cause of death was not known and the medical examiner will decide whether to do an autopsy after talking with Lilly's doctor in Throckmorton. Friends said he had a history of heart trouble.

Lilly had lived in Throckmorton most of his life and had been with the Post Office for about six years.

Funeral arrangements will be announced by the Walter Merriman Funeral Home in Throckmorton.

Other survivors include his widow; another son, Larry; and a daughter, Anne, of Throckmorton.

Draft Indicates No Tax Increase

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch says a preliminary draft of the 1970 city budget indicates no tax increase will be necessary.

Welch said the preliminary budget total will be about $103,842,479. He said increased sales tax revenue, the hotel tax and a high collection rate make a tax increase unnecessary.

At a news conference after the flight, Cramer said he would introduce in Congress a bill to provide $35 million for control of oil spills and research into their prevention.

C-City Man Pleads Guilty

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Eldon Wayne Veal, 23, Sweetwater pleaded guilty to burglary of the Safeway Store in Colorado City Oct. 1 and was sentenced Wednesday by District Judge Austin McCloud to two years in the state penitentiary.

Veal had been tried before a jury which had received the case at 11 a.m. and had remained deadlocked throughout the afternoon. Twice the jurors sent notes to Judge McCloud stating that they were unable to agree on a verdict. On both occasions, Judge McCloud instructed the jury to continue deliberating.

At 5:45 p.m., Veal withdrew his plea of "not guilty," waived his right of trial by jury, and asked to be sentenced by the judge. Judge McCloud gave Veal credit for the 4½ months spent in the Mitchell County jail awaiting trial.

The state was represented by District Attorney Weldon Kirk and Mitchell County Attorney Frank Ginzle. Attorney for the defense was Temple Dickson, Sweetwater.

THAT VOLKSWAGEN RELIEVES GAS PAINS

Any customer who buys a new Volkswagen at Barney Toland Volkswagen from Feb. 20, 1970, through March 1, 1970, will be furnished (at no charge to customer) gasoline for a 10-day vacation anywhere in the United States. The only requirement is that you take your vacation in your new Volkswagen that you purchased by Aug. 15, 1970.

You can buy a new Volkswagen for only $1937.00 delivered in Big Spring, Tex., plus state and local taxes and license.

After you've paid for it, it starts paying for itself.

We didn't want our buy to be a hog.

That's why we made it go about 26 miles to a gallon of gas.

And why we persuaded it to take pints of oil instead of quarts.

And why we gave it an air-cooled engine. (Air is free. Antifreeze isn't).
And why we put the engine in the back so you get more push from the rear wheels. (And less pull from tow trucks.)

And that's why at trade in time if things are still the same as they have been, you can count on getting back more of your initial investment of $1937 than practically every other car owner gets of theirs.

After all, why shouldn't the car that's been saving you money while you own it do the same when you sell it?

500 Reduction In Work Force

DALLAS (AP) — Blaming "a general slowdown in the economy," Collins Radio Co. said Wednesday the work force at its suburban Richardson plant will be reduced about 500 persons in the next several months.

Officials reported employment at Collins has dwindled from 7,500 in October to a current total of 6,500. They said about 600 were laid off and attrition accounted for the rest.

"Similar reductions in total employment," the officials said, "also have been made at other Collins operations in Cedar Rapids, Iowa; Newport Beach, Calif., and Toronto, Canada.

"These reductions reflect business conditions affecting not only Collins but many other companies through the nation."

Return To Viet Targets After Attacks In Laos

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers went back to targets in South Vietnam today after 48 hours of heavy attacks in Laos. All 75 of the Strategic Air Command's big bombers in Southeast Asia had been diverted to the Laotian front.

Sources in Saigon said B52 strikes were continuing against North Vietnamese supply depots and the Ho Chi Minh trail through eastern Laos. But the sources said the attacks were not of the magnitude of those flown Tuesday and Wednesday.

The U.S. Command announced two B52 missions in South Vietnam between midnight and 6 a.m. today, a total of 10 planes dropping 300 tons of bombs on base camps and troop concentrations in the western Mekong Delta. The targets were five miles from the Cambodian border and 125 miles southwest of Saigon.

Informed sources said the big bombers for the time being were flying their usual number of missions, about seven every 24 hours in South Vietnam and about two every 24 hours in Laos. This means 35 planes dropping about 1,000 tons of bombs in South Vietnam, and 10 planes dropping about 300 tons across the border.

From time to time more missions are flown in Laos than in South Vietnam in efforts to slow North Vietnamese infiltration of troops and supplies before they are in position for an offensive. But the total diversion to that target area this week apparently was due to the North Vietnamese offensive launched last week against the Plain of Jars, a strategic communications hub in northeast Laos. U.S. fighter-bombers fly regularly in support of Laotian forces there, but sources in Saigon said the B52s were used Tuesday and Wednesday for the first time in the Plain of Jars area.

The U.S. Command never announces planes lost in Laos since it does not admit that U.S. planes are flying combat missions there. But it did announce the loss of three more helicopters in South Vietnam with 19 troops killed and three injured. One was shot down 20 miles north of Saigon, one farther northeast near the Cambodian border, and the other had mechanical trouble 78 miles south-east of Da Nang.

A total of 6,410 American helicopters and fixed-wing planes have been reported lost in the war.

Allied forces reported 72 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in half a dozen scattered clashes. In the ground fighting, U.S. headquarters said, one American was killed and two wounded. Four South Vietnamese were reported killed and 25 wounded.

The weekly casualty summary issued by the allied commands today showed a 25 percent decrease in combat deaths among government troops but little change for American and enemy forces compared with the week before.

Raids Hint Two Gangs

DALLAS (AP) — City detectives said a series of raids Wednesday turned up evidence that two gangs, operating in similar fashion, were to blame for an outbreak of armed robberies.

They arrested seven men and two women, all Negroes.

Detectives said at least two of those in custody worked with both gangs, reinforcing earlier belief that a single group was responsible for the raids on food and liquor stores.

They lodged charges against Charles Gillon, 22; Allen Jermerson, 20; Ross Williams, 23; Jerry Johnson, 22; Ronald Starnes, 21; Eddie Freeman, 24; Leroy Curlin, 21, and twin sisters Brenda and Linda Williams, 18.
