RESCUED — Alpine rescue team helps man from wreckage of a hotel Wednesday at Lans-le-Villard, France. The hotel was partially destroyed by an avalanche which struck the town Tuesday.

23 Avalanche Victims Found By Searchers

LANS-LE-VILLARD, France (AP) — French Alpine troops today rescued a Paris dentist and his wife, caught under a hotel bed for almost 24 hours by an avalanche that took eight lives.

They were the last two listed as missing.

Their calls for help were heard by firemen and soldiers working in the wreckage of the Hotel Grand du Signal after hope for saving them had been given up.

Pneumatic hammers were used to get through the hard packed snow to their second-floor room. The shock of the avalanche had thrown them underneath the bed, which then protected them.

Earlier in the day, two others listed as missing had been found behind a few planks which they had pushed together to shelter themselves.

Avalanches on Tuesday in Lans-le-Villard and in Reckingen, in Southwest Switzerland, left 23 persons dead and 19 others missing.

The biggest toll was in Reckingen where a huge snowslide roared into the village at dawn and buried 50 persons.

Twenty-one of the victims were pulled from the snow alive, but one died during the night. By dawn today 14 bodies had been found and police said there was virtually no hope for the 15 still buried.

In Lans-le-Villard, eight bodies were found and eight were injured.

Nonstop snowfalls and shifting temperatures caused slides throughout the Alps. The Swiss resort of Zermatt was isolated when an avalanche cut the railway to the valley and helicopters flew out vacationers due to return home. A slide buried 14 skiers in Zermatt, but 10 dug themselves out and the other four were rescued.

Some 16,000 tourists and villagers were snowbound in western Austria after heavy snowfalls and numerous avalanches blocked road and rail communication in the Tyrol and Vorarlberg provinces.

An emergency relief center set up by the provincial government here was unable to provide immediate help to many of the isolated winter resorts as adverse weather conditions ruled out helicopter flights to supply food and airlift tourists out of the area.

At Zuers, a snowslide hit part of the Piz Buln Hotel burying Jaun Szaszak, 31, and his 24-year-old wife Lilliane. While Szaszak himself was rescued after 15 minutes, his wife was dug out more than one hour later.

'All Shook Up' By Pill Talk

HOUSTON (AP) — The planned parenthood center here is receiving over 100 telephone calls a day from women seeking alternate methods of birth control than the pill, Norman Fleishman, executive director, said Tuesday.

He said the women "were shaken up by the articles and sensationalism" growing out of the hearings in Washington on the pill.

UNHARMED Kidnaped Little Girls Recovered

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Alan Cain, the father of two kidnaped Alabama girls who were recovered unharmed by the FBI, was reunited with his daughters today and was so overcome with emotion, he could say only "I don't know how I feel."

Cain and an aunt of the girls, Mrs. C. W. Rozzell, had flown here from Butler, Ala.

The children, Tiffany Cain, 1½, and Tina Cain, 2½, were recovered by the FBI at the home of a distant relative in Liberty, Mo., a suburb of Kansas City.

John Charles Messick, 22, Tucson, Ariz. was arrested in Liberty. Cain said upon his arrival here he was tired. He and the girls' aunt were escorted to a private waiting room at the airport to rest.

He said he was going to take the first plane available to Fort Worth, and spend a few days with his parents there.

Quints Born In New York

NEW YORK (AP) — Quintuplets — three girls and two boys — were born Tuesday night at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center to a 27-year-old New Jersey woman who had been taking fertility drugs.

Arsene Egils, a hospital spokesman, said the five infants were born six weeks prematurely to Mrs. Margaret Kienast of Far Hills, N.J. He said the delivery was normal and all five were "doing as well as could be expected."

One-Man, One Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled five to three today that when school board members are elected the election must be held on an equal population basis.

Justice Hugo L. Black, in announcing the extension of the one-man, one-vote principle to elected school boards, said these boards exercise important governmental powers.

They levy and collect taxes, he said, hire and fire teachers, issue bonds, make contracts, supervise and discipline students and acquire property by condemnation.

Therefore, Black said, election of their members must be in accord with the equal protection clause of the 14th Amendment.

Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart dissented.

The court in earlier decisions, interpreted the 14th Amendment to require the election of congressmen, state legislators and members of county governing boards from districts that are substantially equal in population.

NIXON ADMINISTRATION

Seeks Ceiling On Health Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration today proposed ceilings on hospital and physician charges under the medicare and medicaid government health care programs.

John G. Veneman, undersecretary of health, education and welfare, disclosed administration plans to replace the present criteria of reasonable cost and reasonable charge for government reimbursement with negotiated or imposed ceilings.

"Neither the reasonable cost nor the reasonable charge criteria established in the law have provided opportunity for major cost-control efforts," Veneman said.

The undersecretary outlined the cost-cutting proposals in testimony to the Senate Finance Committee.

Veneman said the administration wants the new cost limits for the hospital portion of both medicare and medicaid and for physician charges under medicare but not medicaid.

Medicaid is a federal-state health care program for welfare recipients and other low-income persons.

Veneman outlined three possible methods for determining hospital cost ceilings that would provide incentives for efficiency.

"With rates set in advance, a provider would be challenged to stay within the limits of the known reimbursement to be received and the provider would share in the savings that come from economies that are achieved through effective management," he said.

"I believe also that the law should be changed so as to limit further the rate at which increases in physician's fees would be recognized by medicare," Veneman continued.

He said the administration supports a fee schedule that would increase only in proportion to a general index of cost of medical care.

"Under such an approach, recognition of fee increases would continue but only in relation to things that are happening in other parts of the economy that have a bearing on the physician's cost of doing business," he said.

ABM Expansion Plan Runs Into Crossfire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's proposed expansion of the Safeguard missile defense system is running into a crossfire of opposition in the Senate.

Those who favor confining the ABM to defend U.S. offensive missile bases are joining opponents solidly against any expansion, adding a new level of opposition to the proposal and prompting some senators to say the administration's plan faces an uphill fight.

Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird laid out details of the second Safeguard phase Tuesday, calling for authorization of a third ABM site at the Whiteman Air Force Base, Mo., missile base and advanced work including site acquisition and so-called "long lead time" components for five others.

In addition, the plan outlined by Laird to the Senate Armed Services Committee and the defense appropriations subcommittee urged expansion of the two initial sites, Grand Forks Air Force Base, N.D., and Malmstrom Air Force Base, Mont., by adding more Sprint interceptor missiles.

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., co-leader of the bipartisan effort last year which failed on a 50-50 vote to limit the ABM to research, said "it has already been acknowledged that the system of last year is not adequate for hard-point defense" of missile bases.

Sen. George Aiken, R-Vt., an ABM opponent last year, said he thinks the administration faces an "uphill fight," especially in its proposal to start with area defense against Red China.

This is involved in four of the five additional sites, those in Washington state, the Michigan-Ohio region, southern New England and the Washington, D.C., area.

But Sen. John C. Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the Armed Services Committee, said, "This would move along somewhat easier than last year, perhaps."

Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., a 1969 Safeguard supporter, has said he thinks the program should be confined to the first two sites. Pastore is likely to be especially active in fighting extension of the ABM to New England, Aiken said.

A clue to the way the battle is likely to develop came in the statement by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., a senior member of the Armed Services Committee who was ABM floor manager a year ago.

Jackson supported both the expansion of the two initial sites and inclusion of the third base in Missouri.

He added he favors ABM protection for the fourth offensive missile base, Warren Air Force Base, Wyo.

But Jackson expressed "grave doubt, however, of the wisdom of moving now to the thin anti-Chinese area defense." He told newsmen there would still be plenty of time to move in this area a year from now if the Chinese threat develops.

French President Faces Cool Deal In Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite denials that his country has taken sides in the Middle East crisis, French President Georges Pompidou was faced today with the possibility of a cool, if not hostile, reception during his address to a joint meeting of Congress.

Some congressmen had predicted nearly half the House membership might boycott his appearance in protest of the French sale of fighter planes to Libya. At least one House member, Rep. Lester L. Wolff, D-N.Y., declared he would walk out in the middle of Pompidou's talk.

The French leader, on the first full day of his eight-day visit to the United States, said Tuesday France is "neither in one camp nor in the other" in the Middle East. "We are certainly not against Israel," he told The National Press Club.

Defending the sale of French planes to Libya, Pompidou said the decision was made because "there was suddenly a gap, a vacuum we did not provoke. We felt it was in our interest to fill this gap."

Pompidou met with Nixon for two hours prior to the Press Club talk and, said presidential press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler, the two leaders discussed the world situation in detail, touching on the Middle East.

At the same time, diplomatic aspects of the Middle East crisis, including four-power talks among Britain, the Soviet Union, France and the United States, were discussed in a meeting of Secretary of State William Rogers and French Foreign Minister Maurice Schumann in a nearby Cabinet room, Ziegler said.

Nixon went all out to welcome the visiting leader, greeting him at the White House as the head of "our oldest friend and oldest ally in Europe" and then holding a huge state dinner in his honor Tuesday night. Nixon also will attend a formal dinner tonight to be given by Pompidou at the French Embassy.

While U.S. officials worried about demonstrations that could embarrass the French leader, some congressmen mapped their plans to protest French policy in the Middle East during Pompidou's address.

Base Reductions Hinted By Laird

WASHINGTON (AP) — The upcoming massive reductions of additional U.S. military bases indicated by Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird is in keeping with reduction of American armed forces as Pentagon sources say involvement in Vietnam tapers off.

Laird said Tuesday the reduction would involve "well over 100 bases." Other Defense Department officials said the cutback could affect as many as several hundred bases, some of which may be closed outright.

The Pentagon move, which Laird said would be spelled out in detail within a month, comes on top of reductions or closings at 307 bases in the United States and abroad announced as an economy measure last October.

The defense chief made the remark in passing during a briefing with newsmen on the Nixon administration's plan for expansion of the Safeguard anti-ballistic missile system. He did not elaborate.

Pentagon sources indicated the latest purge of facilities may involve some major installations, including Naval shipyards.

The cutbacks announced in October involved bases in 42 states, Puerto Rico and a number of undisclosed foreign countries. The Pentagon said that dismantling would save $609 million a year.

Since President Nixon took office Jan. 20, 1969, the Army, Navy and Air Force have announced plans to eliminate some 76,700 civilian jobs in the services. In addition, a 550,000-man cutback in military personnel from the Vietnam war peak is expected to be completed by June 30, 1971.

'MOBILE POLITICAL FORCE' MAY SWING RACES

GOP Appealing To Black Voters

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas Republicans are appealing to black voters to become a "mobile political force" that may swing the upcoming U.S. Senate and governorship races, a national GOP spokesman said today.

"There is a great deal of appeal in the black community for two party government in Southern states so that blacks will be able to evaluate the men, not the parties, in a political race," said Clarence Townes, special assistant to the chairman of the Republican National Committee.

Townes, a Negro, is on a quick tour of Texas talking with Negro leaders and business groups to encourage support of the state Republican Party.

"We are looking toward the black vote becoming a mobile force that can be an effect in any election," Townes said.

"The most potent example of this mobile force came from my home state of Virginia when Governor (Linwood) Holton (Republican) won an upset with more than 55 per cent of the black vote. In previous elections the black vote went against him."

Townes said he was in Dallas and Fort Worth Tuesday, would talk with Austin black leaders today and planned to be in Houston Thursday.

"We want to impress the black electorate of Texas of the deep concern the national and state Republican Parties have for them," he said. "We consider this year the best possible opportunity to elect two Republican senators from the state and to elect a Republican governor."

Townes said that in addition to pushing support of the campaigns of Rep. George Bush,

R-Tex., for the Senate and Paul Eggers for governor, he is urging blacks in Dallas, Fort Worth, San Antonio and Houston to support black GOP candidates for the legislature in those areas.

Townes was asked if any Dallas or Fort Worth black leaders mentioned Gov. Preston Smith's request for a statewide referendum on school busing.

"None of them have mentioned it," he said. "Compulsory busing is not an issue with black people. We are concerned that some areas have not lived up to standards of quality education for all, black and white, but busing is not an issue. In my home town of Richmond I doubt if you could get 3 to 5 per cent of the blacks to agree to bus their kids away from home because there are open schools there."

Way To Help Land Industry

Appearing in today's Herald on Page 7-B are forms prepared by the Industrial team of the Chamber of Commerce, through which it is seeking to determine a labor availability among women of Big Spring and surrounding communities.

People who are interested are requested to complete these forms and fold them properly for mailing. They may be mailed without postage.

Industrial team members are stressing the importance of accumulating information on number of people available for jobs in needwork. The information, they said, is necessary to present a proper prospectus to firms which might be interested in locating here.

NEW CAMARO SPORT COUPE — The completely new Camaro design concept combines prestige car styling with top performance handling. Its distinctive long hood, new front end and swept-back roof and rear deck styling are only a few of the many new features in the sporty model, going on display Thursday at Pollard Chevrolet, 1501 E. 4th.

Chevrolet Offers Camaro With A New Design Concept

A totally new "second stage" Camaro will go on sale in Chevrolet dealerships on Thursday, and the car is to be seen locally at Pollard Chevrolet, 1501 E. 4th. Innovations in design and engineering make the new Camaro different from any car now offered, the makers assert. Its new long hood, expensive-looking body and highly improved handling, ride and sound insulation create a completely new car. The car is called "a significant second stage" in the concept of a personal, four-passenger package of excitement that has drawn 650,000 Camaro buyers since introduction in 1967.

The 1970 Camaro comes in a single 2-door hardtop model. It is longer, wider, lower and has wider front and rear treads than the previous Camaro but continues the highly maneuverable 108 inch wheelbase.

Wide choice to tailor a Camaro to a customer's personal taste is continued. A Rally Sport version includes a different grille and front end treatment while Camaro SS and Z-28 versions include higher performing engines and special chassis components. Chevrolet's multitude of options and accessories are also available.

Plan To Curb Drug Abuse In Texas Gains Approval

AUSTIN (AP) — A statewide plan to curb drug abuse in Texas has been approved by the state's top elected officials.

They designated the Texas Justice Council as coordinator of the plan.

"We have developed a good, solid plan for state leadership and action in curbing drug abuse in Texas. By means of this plan we sincerely believe that we can reduce the flow and the use of illicit narcotics," said a news release from Gov. Preston Smith's office.

Smith said the release was a joint statement from him, Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and Speaker Gus Mutscher.

"Our plan, in which we all heartily concur, will provide a statewide concerted attack to extinguish the source, supply and movement of narcotic and drug traffic in Texas. And through more comprehensive educational programs, our people will learn more about the possible physical, mental and personal damage that can result from drug abuse," the statement said.

Immediate action approved by the officials include:

—One-day seminars for law officers and prosecutors throughout the state.

—More aid for local enforcement and prosecuting agencies in analyzing narcotics evidence.

—Additional exchange and cooperation with Mexico.

—Programs to increase "public awareness and knowledge of the problem in major metropolitan areas."

They also requested more information to create "narcotics strike forces of local, state and federal and military personnel and of proposed helicopter patrols along the Rio Grande."

Martin Announces Fifth Seminar

AUSTIN — Attorney General Crawford C. Martin today announced that the fifth annual Attorney General's Seminar on the trial of condemnation cases will be held in Austin, March 25-28.

Scheduled to speak during the seminar are Justice Joe Greenhill of the Supreme Court of Texas; Joe Montano, assistant attorney general of Colorado; Judges Tom King, Dallas, and Jerome Jones, Galveston; appraisers Bill C. Moore, Amarillo and Walstein Smith, Waco; attorneys Richard Miles, Fort Worth; Cullen Smith, Waco; F. Russell Kendall, Houston; and C. W. Percy, assistant attorney general.

Bush To Speak At Midland Meet

George Bush, Republican candidate for the Senate, will be in Midland Saturday to address a Planned Parenthood Group at 8 p.m. in the Petroleum Club, 219 N. Big Spring.

Bush is scheduled to arrive at Midland-Odessa Regional Air Terminal at 4:40 p.m., with a press conference scheduled for 4:45 p.m. in the High Sky Restaurant.

Those intending to attend from Big Spring should contact Dr. Akin Simpson, Howard County Republican party chairman, or W. J. (Bill) Sheppard.

Gives Up Sea Lion, No Regrets

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Fourteen-year-old Renee Laperque has given up her puppy sea lion, but she has no regrets.

She found the sea lion beneath steep cliffs at the beach Sunday. Marked with scars from bullets apparently fired by fishermen, the sea lion followed her. She took him home and Monday he was placed in the zoo.

"It's all right," she said. "I've got three cats, a poodle, two cockateels, two hamsters, five tropical fish . . . and two brothers."

Honor Pilot Announced

Capt. David M. Bittenbinder, a member of C flight in the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron at Webb AFB, has been named Instructor Pilot of the Month for January, it was announced this week by Col. James J. Malone, squadron commander.

In addition to his duties as instructor pilot, Capt. Bittenbinder serves as flight grade folder officer and assistant standardization-evaluation officer. Moreover, he was cited in a letter naming him for the IP honor as a "truly outstanding senior runway supervisory unit controller."

Col. Malone's accolade continued, "His mature judgment, outstanding procedural knowledge and reassuring approach to pilots experiencing emergencies has always resulted in a safe termination."

A 1964 graduate of the Air Force Academy with a BS degree in aeronautical engineering, Capt. Bittenbinder was further praised for his "extensive knowledge of aircraft systems and operating procedures. His ability to impart his expertise contributes significantly to the students' knowledge in these areas."

A native of New England, N. D., Capt. Bittenbinder graduated from St. Mary's High School there in 1960 before he entered the Air Force Academy.

He graduated from the undergraduate pilot training program at Vance AFB, Okla., in September, 1965. Following pilot instructor training, he was assigned to Webb as an instructor for T-38 Talons in the 60th PTS.

Prospectors Meet

The next meeting of the Big Spring Prospectors Club will be at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Texas Electric Reddy Room. The program is to be presented by an employee of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Service on the treasure hunting law passed last fall by the Texas legislature. Any persons interested in collecting old artifacts is invited to the meeting, Bud Lewis, president, said.

Proposals For Toll Roads Turn Into Sparring Bout

AUSTIN (AP) — Discussion of turnpike possibilities in Dallas, San Antonio and Houston turned into a gentlemanly sparring match Tuesday between the Texas Highway Commission and the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike Authority.

The authority suggested exploratory studies on four projects to see if feasibility studies would be worthwhile. The commission asked that the proposals be submitted in writing on:

—A Mountain Creek Lake Tollway, 1.92 miles, connecting Oak Cliff section of Dallas with the mid-cities area, between Dallas and Fort Worth. They proposed a 7,400-foot bridge across the lake, at a total estimated cost of $6 million to $7 million.

—A Mid-Texas Turnpike, 83 miles, connecting Interstate 35 south of Hillsboro to Interstate 45 near Centerville, providing expressway facilities from Fort Worth to Houston, at an estimated cost of $40 million.

—An Airport Tollway, nine miles, connecting the LBJ Freeway and Interstate 35E in Dallas to the new regional airport between Dallas and Fort Worth, at an estimated cost of $18 million.

—A Fort Worth-Dallas Turnpike, 20 miles, connecting downtown Fort Worth to downtown Dallas via the new regional airport, running north of the present Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike, at an estimated cost of $40 million.

The turnpike authority is a statewide agency and can build anywhere in the state, but it must get commission approval.

Dee Kelly, chairman of the turnpike authority, also suggested turnpikes might be the solution to the North Expressway controversy in San Antonio and for a link between downtown Houston and a new regional airport north of town.

EXCEEDED EXPECTATIONS Kelly said revenue on the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike "has exceeded our fondest expectations" and the authority should be able to turn it over to the commission as a free expressway "within five years."

The last legislature appropriated money for turnpike studies, Kelly said, and this money cannot be used after the turnpike has been turned over to the commission.

Commission Chairman D.C. Greer listened intently as Kelly said the turnpike authority did not see itself as a competitor with the commission but as a junior partner that "might be able to do some of these projects sooner than you can."

FREE OF CHARGE Greer made it clear he will be happy when the turnpike can be used free of charge by the public. He suggested the authority give the commission an option of accepting it a year or two earlier by letting the commission rehabilitate the turnpike. Kelly had said the authority wants to put it in "first class shape" before relinquishing it.

H.M. Rely, engineer-manager for the authority, said the president of the Grand Prairie Chamber of Commerce approached the authority about the Mountain Creek Lake Tollway proposal.

Greer interrupted him. "In other words they are a little impatient with the speed with which the Highway Commission is proceeding."

On the Mid-Texas Turnpike proposal, Greer asked Rely if he had an estimate on the cost. Rely said no.

HIS GUESS Greer said he was asking for the benefit of newsmen present.

"We would hesitate to hazard a guess," Rely said.

"If you hesitate, I will guess $40 million," Greer said.

Officer Guns Man To Death

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — A policeman guarding a parking lot shot a man to death today. The dead man was identified as Arthur Parker, 24.

Parker's body gave addresses in San Antonio, El Paso and Pecos, officers said.

Sgt. E. E. Kiddy, hidden in his car across the street from a driven food store, said he shot after seeing a man grab a purse from a woman as she stepped from her own car.

Two blasts from the 12 gauge shotgun struck the man, the closest fired from across the street, and he collapsed one and a half blocks down the street. He dropped the purse as the first pellets hit him.

Body Discovered

SAN AUGUSTINE, Tex. (AP) — The body of the second of two Tyler men who had been missing since January was found Tuesday in Sam Rayburn Reservoir, about 20 miles southeast of here.

The body of Mike Porter, 24, of Tyler was discovered by a rescue boat near the Texas 147 bridge over the lake. The body of Benny McQueen, 30, also of Tyler, had been found Friday.

The two men were participants in a fishing tournament Jan. 18. They disappeared when a squall hit the lake.

New Camaro. Feb. 26th.

We've never announced a car at this time before. But then nobody's ever announced a car like this before.

Super Hugger

If it were just an ordinary sportster, we might have introduced it at the ordinary time.

But we didn't. And as you can see, time was on our side.

Because we didn't bother with the simulated air scoops. Or any other put-ons that might put you off.

Instead we took the time to build a whole new car from the ground up. In four distinctive versions: Standard, Rally Sport, Super Sport and Z28.

We started with a sleek new shape and a low road-hugging stance. So it hovers a few short inches from the pavement.

Right down there with Corvette.

To that we added more hood. A faster fastback. More window area. And wider doors for easier entry.

On RS models, there's even a resilient bumper that surrounds the grille. To protect against nicks and knocks.

Compare the new Camaro with any competitive car in its field. If you can find one.

Two extra buckets. No extra bucks. Most sportsters give you two buckets in front. And a sofa in back. We've done them two better.

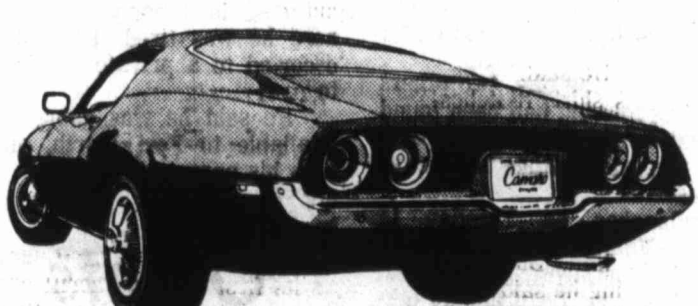

The back seat sofa is out. In are two rear bucket-styled cushions.

Up front the buckets are deeply contoured to put you firmly in place. And keep you there. Even in tight turns.

The instrument panel is just as functional. It's flat black and wraps around. With enough dials and instrumentation to make you think you're piloting a 747.

Only with this one you don't need a flight crew.

The special handling is built right in. Camaro always had a tough reputation when it came to taking on tight turns. Now we made it tougher.

With a forward-mounted steering linkage and an improved front and rear suspension that give the new Camaro a leech-like grip on the road.

It's something other cars will have a tough time coming to grips with.

What motivates all this? Six power plants up to the 350-hp Turbo-Jet 396 you can order. And four transmissions.

Pick the combination that best suits your driving.

Then go pick on an open road.

Standard disc brakes. You stop as well as you go. It's only natural.

With all that go, you want an equal amount of stop. You've got it.

Front disc brakes are standard. For less heat buildup. And more resistance to fade.

New Camaro. The Super Hugger. Other cars always feared it might come to this. And they were right. Only their timing was wrong. Putting you first, keeps us first.

See it. At your Chevrolet Sports Dept.

Camaro Sport Coupe with RS equipment.

DEAR ABBY: We have a 20-year-old son in college who has been everything a son should be. He is an adopted child, but we feel that he is superior to any natural child we might have had, I really mean this. Last summer he met a 19-year-old girl (also a student), and they are now living together in an apartment. They told the landlady they are married, which they are not. He says "a little scrap of paper is meaningless." He appears to feel no shame or guilt. We've never met the girl, and don't care to. A girl who would live like this is not our cup of tea. Her parents are divorced, and her mother knows she is living with our son and seems to encourage it. Although she is on the pill, I'm afraid she might conveniently "forget" one day, and our son will have to marry her. There are several things we could do to force them to quit living together, but we don't want to hurt our son's future. We've talked briefly to a psychiatrist, also to the dean of the college, but no one can advise us. Can you?

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME: If you think you could force your son to quit living with this girl by withholding financial help, but don't want to "hurt his future," it may not work. You might "inconvenience" him, but some young men make it without money from home, and yours might. As for the girl tricking your son into marriage by "conveniently forgetting" to take her pill — they don't have to LIVE together for this to become a possibility, you know. There is no way you can FORCE your son to live according to your rules, but tell him that if he doesn't marry this girl, living with her could do him much harm when his reputation comes under scrutiny by future employers. Personal life styles often reveal a good deal about an individual's stability, common sense, loyalty, and judgment — all important to an employer who is on the hunt for good men.

DEAR ABBY: I just must tell you what Johnny, my little eight-year-old grandson said to me this morning while he was dressing. He said, "Nan, I can't wear this shirt. It itches!" And then he added, "Why don't I write to DEAR ABBY and ask her what to do?" It seems that just about everything that boy wears "itches" him. But wasn't that a cute thing he said?

MRS. J.O.: JERSEY CITY
DEAR MRS. O.: Thank you for sharing the "cute" remark your grandson made, but it was more than "cute" — it was a cry for help. Johnny is "itching" to tell you that he is allergic. So better get him to an allergy specialist without delay.

DEAR ABBY: I am an 11-year-old girl with a problem. Last year a boy in my class got me interested in football. Ever since then I have wanted to be a quarterback for the Green Bay Packers.

Dolls don't interest me. I would rather sleep with my football. My second choice is to be a veterinarian. I still have my heart set on being a quarterback with the Green Bay Packers. My Dad says I will grow out of it. What do you think?
TOMBOY

DEAR TOMBOY: Yes, you'll grow out of it. Although the Packers didn't have a very good year, their backfield is still no place for an 11-year-old girl-type quarterback.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Capt. Fritz Will Quit

DALLAS (AP) — Detective Capt. Will Fritz, former head of the Dallas police homicide and robbery bureau, will retire Saturday after a law enforcement career of nearly 50 years.

Fritz resigned Monday to Chief Frank Dyson. Fritz was transferred from command of the Homicide and Robbery Bureau in November. He was named night commander of the Criminal Investigation Division of the Crimes Against Persons Bureau, organized from the earlier Homicide Bureau.

Fritz is a native of Dublin in Erath County. He began his career as a deputy sheriff at Stephenville. He joined the Dallas police in 1921.

Fritz has been on leave since his appointment as division night commander.

South's hand took on added lustre when his partner responded with two clubs. His rebid of two spades is a reverse which announces about 19 points and is therefore absolutely forcing to game after the original response, and permits a relaxed investigation for bigger things.

When North gave a heart preference, South showed his club fit. North felt warranted in making one move of his own, so he cue bid the ace of diamonds — which East doubled as a lead director. This was all South was waiting for and he jumped to six hearts.

West opened the ten of diamonds and the ace was played from dummy. If the trumps were divided three-two, declarer could count 12 tricks, five hearts, five clubs, and the two other aces. As a matter of technique, he ruffed a diamond in his hand first, before testing the trump suit.

Declarer cashed the queen and ace of hearts next, but East's discard of a diamond on the second round came as a distinct jolt, since the bad trump break deprived South of his 12th trick. A spade loser appeared inevitable, and the outlook was definitely discouraging.

There was only one vague chance which hinged on West's having no more than three diamonds and the king of spades. Altho this was admittedly a longshot, declarer was willing to go down extra tricks as the price of attempting to salvage the slam.

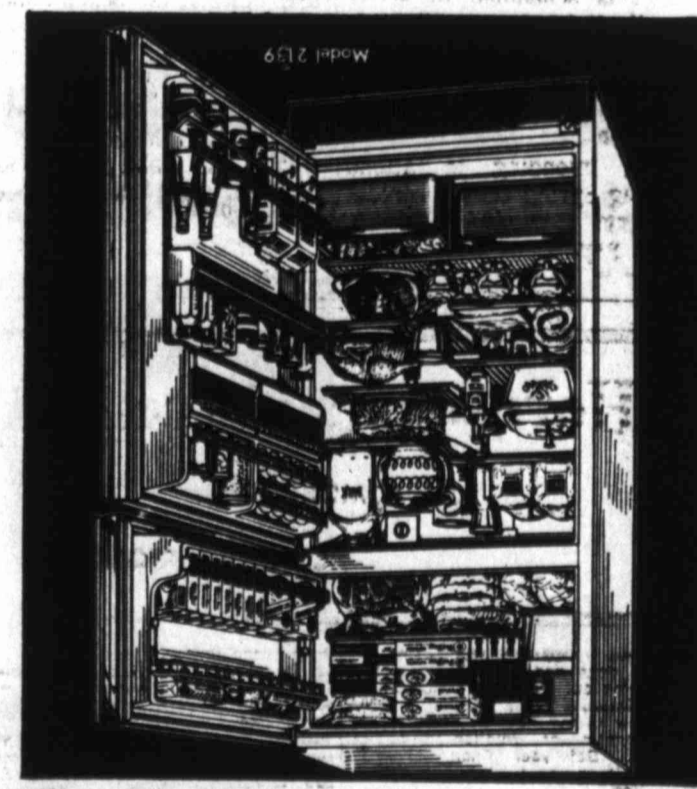

The deuce of clubs was led to dummy's ten, so that South could ruff out North's last diamond. The king of hearts was cashed leaving the jack outstanding and South began to run the clubs by playing the ace and then overtaking his queen with the dummy's king. West could ruff in whenever he chose but, since he was down to nothing but spades, he was obliged to lead away from his king. This permitted South to play the queen of spades from dummy and, when this held, North's remaining clubs and declarer's ace of spades accounted for the balance of the tricks.

Army Gives Up Big Base Camp

LAI KHE, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Army gave up its second division-size base camp in Vietnam today. It was a major step toward South Vietnamese assumption of the responsibility for guarding the northern approaches to Saigon.

With the U.S. 1st Infantry Division leaving for the United States by April 15, the Americans delivered the division's Lai Khe base camp to the 5th Division of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam. The camp is in a neglected rubber plantation 30 miles north of the capital.

The 5th ARVN has had the job of picking up the North Vietnamese trying to infiltrate Saigon, and now it is moving north. It is sort of symbolic of the course that the war is taking these days," said Lt. Gen. Julian J. Ewell, the U.S. commander in the 3rd Corps Tactical Zone that includes Saigon.

The 1st Division's departure will leave two other full U.S. divisions, the 25th Infantry and the 1st Air Cavalry, plus two other brigades in the provinces arching northwest to east of Saigon.

Lt. Gen. Do Cao Tri, South Vietnamese commander of the 3rd Corps area, said "one or two" of those units may also be replaced soon, "but we don't know how many of which ones—that is still up to the two governments to decide."

Officials said the 12,000-man 5th ARVN division will use only a portion of the Lai Khe base. U.S. support units, including artillery, helicopters and supply forces, will back up the South Vietnamese division "until some

Hearing On Test Slated

A public hearing on 17 textbooks recommended for adoption by the Big Spring School District will be held at 7 p.m. Thursday in the portable classroom building at Eleventh and State.

Lynn Hise, assistant superintendent for instruction, said the public is invited to attend the meeting, hear the reports and inspect the textbooks.

The books to be considered for adoption include first, second and third grade arithmetic; supplementary reading books for seventh and eighth grades; eighth grade and high school American history, ninth and tenth grade literature, high school journalism, high school drama, biology, physics, beginning French, fourth-year Latin, first and second year Spanish, distributive education, industrial arts drafting, 80 per cent of the limit proposed by U. S. health agencies. And yet, he said, San Diego has

Cars Burning Leaded Gas Befouls Air, Land, Water

HOUSTON (AP) — Americans are fouling their air, water and land with almost half a billion pounds of poisonous lead annually without knowing how seriously it is affecting health, a scientist said Tuesday.

Dr. T. J. Chow, a geochemist at the Scripps Institution of Oceanography in La Jolla, Calif., said that the highly toxic lead is emitted into the atmosphere from cars burning gasoline with lead additives.

Chow, here for the American Chemical Society convention, said a long-term sampling of air in the San Diego area shows lead concentrations as high as 80 per cent of the limit proposed by U. S. health agencies.

relatively clean air compared to other American cities.

Lead is used in gasoline to increase its octane rating and to prevent engine knocking. As the gasoline is burned, the lead is passed into the atmosphere as a lead aerosol.

Chow said rain and snow cause the lead to return to earth and he has found high concentrations of it on land and in waters near the land. Even rain water is heavily polluted, he said.

The scientist said that isotopic studies—which can identify the age of molecules—show that nearly all of the lead pollutants come from additives used in gasoline.

In large cities such as Los Angeles and Philadelphia, Chow said, lead concentrations in the air can go as high as two to three per cent.

The airborne lead can stay in the atmosphere and travel long distances, he said, and even air samples taken in the mid-Pacific Ocean show some traces.

Chow aided in a study of ice and snow deposits in Greenland where a trio of scientists gathered ice cores to test for lead concentrations down through the centuries.

Ice deposited in 800 B.C., he said, showed almost no trace of lead. Ice deposited in 1750, the start of the industrial revolution, showed a marked increase.

The increase was steady until 1940 when additives became common in gasoline. Then the amount of lead in the ice shot upward and is continuing to rise.

Long-range studies show that the amount of lead in the atmosphere at San Diego increases significantly during the winter, when there is little wind, and then declines in the summer, when winds from the Pacific Ocean blow steadily.

Concentration averages have increased at five per cent annually in the San Diego area, he said.

Car manufacturers have recognized the potential danger now, Chow said, and will start producing cars next year which will burn lead-free gasoline.

Rapid Recovery By Dr. Rudder

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Texas A&M board President Clyde H. Wells said Tuesday doctors indicate that University president Earl Rudder could return home in "30 days to six weeks," barring further setbacks.

The doctors said Rudder is expected to make a rapid recovery with no significant after-effects from his month-long illness.

Wells, along with board members Ford D. Albritton Jr. of Bryan and H.C. Heldenfels of Corpus Christi, met with the physicians in Houston over the weekend, following Rudder's second operation for a bleeding ulcer.

Wells briefed other board members and top university officials following the board's meeting.

The doctors further predicted Rudder would be "well on the road to recovery by summer and participating in a limited way in university activities," Wells added.

Prostitution Flourishes Despite Sexual Revolution

PARIS (AP) — If the sexual revolution has placed chastity under joyful siege from the Atlantic to the Soviet Bloc, nobody has told Western Europe's thousands of prostitutes.

Work goes on as usual for the girls in Vienna with their green identification cards, and for those in the courtyard of Hamburg's Palais D'Amour and in the bars off the Champs-Elysees in Paris.

In An Associated Press survey, only Oslo—where a sculptured relief in City Hall depicts a street walker haggling with two young men—claims an appreciable falling off in business because of the permissive society.

their sex," a correspondent wrote, and "prostitution is not regarded as a big problem in Norway."

But in Stockholm, where sex supposedly has long been demystified — traffic jams are sometimes blamed on the cars of men looking and girls cruising in their own autos for men.

Nowhere has the new Morality — if it exists — gotten behind a drive to bring back bordellos to the nations that have banned them.

To most of the continent's policemen, the notion of a sexual revolution that could kill prostitution is a joke.

Pierre Ottavio, chief of the Paris vice squad, sees no attack on the ramparts of convention.

Luxury prostitutes generally charge $100 minimum. Fees were reported to range from $180 to $800 a session for young actresses and models involved in a Roman call girl ring. The newspaper Paese Sera wrote: "There are people so eager to sleep with an actress that they will pay double an ordinary person's monthly salary to go to bed with her—even if she's only played in spaghetti westerns."

NOT AGAINST LAW
Here is a survey of the countries in Western Europe where prostitution flourishes:

France—Prostitution is not against the law but soliciting or maintaining a disorderly house are. The police take a reasonably tolerant attitude. Bordellos are closed. The Paris vice squad chief says there are 2,000 to 3,000 fulltime prostitutes in Paris and many more part-timers.

Germany—Prostitution is legal and conducted in the open through bars and apartment houses. Hamburg, the big seaport, has 1,600 registered prostitutes, and Frankfurt, near a number of U.S. military bases, Britain—The 10-year-old Street Offenses Act has only driven prostitution underground. Convictions in England and Wales total 1,500-2,000 a year. In spite of all the swinging England publicity, there is tremendous resistance to legalizing brothels.

Italy—Houses of prostitution were banned in 1958. Prostitution flourishes in the small towns. Milan has 8,000-10,000 prostitutes and Rome perhaps 15,000. Rather than falling off, the business appears to be gaining ground, particularly in Milan, where young men have been known to prostitute themselves to homosexuals to get money to visit a woman prostitute.

Scandinavia—Swedish prostitution is centered in Stockholm, Goteborg and Malmo with the business becoming increasingly motorized. The police recently uncovered a number of illicit brothels, including one run by a valet at the royal palace. Authorities in Copenhagen profess not to be able to say how many prostitutes there are in Denmark's capital, but they are now dealing with an increasing number of massage clinics and saunas that are fronts for prostitution. The police say that legalizing pornography two years ago has had no visible effect on the trade. In Oslo, where it is thought that permissiveness has helped limit prostitution, most of the customers are foreigners and the business is discreet and generally expensive.

HOT DEMOLITION PARTY — Zsa Zsa Gabor has a bit of trouble getting her sledgehammer into position, but Sammy Davis Jr. is ready to start demolition of the famous Coconut Grove nightclub in Los Angeles Tuesday night. The club is being torn down to make room for a bigger, fancier one.

Routine Matters Voted During Commission Meet

Consideration of the city's insurance program and the proposed renovation of Beal's Branch took the spotlight away from the city commission's routine agenda Tuesday night, but the commissioners took action on eight items during the regular meeting, including KBYG's new lease on a section of Comanche Trail Park, buying a new tractor for the city golf course, and two zone changes.

The new five-year lease on 3.66 acres of the city park was authorized by the commission without opposition after the commissioners heard that the radio station's section of the park had been adjusted to allow room for expansion of the park entrance. The contract is renewable on option after the initial five years and the rent is set at $60 per month.

Broughton Truck and Implement Company was low bidder for a new tractor for the golf course with a price of $2,199 after a trade-in of $701 on an older tractor. Big Spring Tractor Company was the only other bidder with a proposed cost of $2,238.00.

Requests to move trailer houses into residential neighborhood submitted by C. B. Underwood and Darrell Shortes were approved by the commission without opposition.

Underwood told the commission he wanted the change to permit his son to move a trailer house onto the rear of his lot at 3002 Cactus. Underwood said he and his wife were away from their residence often and that he needed for his son to be there to look after his property in his absence.

Shortes will move three trailer houses to lots at 1201 and 1203 Mobile for rental purposes.

Jack Hanlon, area supervisor and agent representing Pizza Inn, Inc., appeared before the commission to request a beer and wine permit for that company's establishment at 1702 and 1704 Gregg. He said the beverages would be sold for on-premises consumption only. There was no opposition and the request was approved.

Walter Estep was told by the commissioners that he would have to go back to the planning and zoning board to begin the process for obtaining a beer and wine permit for The Black Diamond, a lounge at 904 E. 3rd, after the commissioners heard that the former owners of the lounge had let their license expire and therefore could not be transferred.

The commissioners decided to take bids for a city depository at their regular meeting April 14. The original plan for choosing a city bank was to accept bids March 24, but a provision in the city charter requires that the bids be taken after the April 4 election. City Manager Larry Crow told the commission.

The commissioners also approved a list of the city's vouchers for the past two weeks.

The program calls for use of three-foot long riot sticks, which are not regularly available.

So Sheriff Calvin P. Stewart has students in the high school shop class building 22 of the sticks on lathes during class hours.

Stewart says there is little fear outsiders will come into this rather remote area of west central Utah. He says he is concerned about possible battles between rival high school students during sporting events.

Finds Labor Leader Devoted Christian

DALLAS (AP) — Roman Catholic Bishop Humberto S. Medeiros of Brownsville said Tuesday he had found controversial labor leader Cesar Chavez "to be a devoted Christian who works for peace and justice at great sacrifice."

Chavez has gained public attention as organizer of a farm workers' union which has engaged in a lengthy strike against California grape growers. Some of his organizing activities took place in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Bishop Medeiros made his remarks to the Texas Conference of Churches, an ecumenical group currently meeting here.

He also said, "I hope you will think kindly with me about Mr. Chavez and his work, and not as a certain Catholic publication which insists he is a Communist, by association."

The churchman said he was a member of a five-man committee sent to California five weeks ago to "try to reopen negotiations between the farm workers' union and the grape growers."

This group succeeded in bringing Chavez and the growers face to face for the first time, he said, and felt that "there is a willingness to negotiate."

He added, "We are hoping to reopen negotiations with the growers and believe this will be accomplished before long."

Speaking as a member of Chavez' union, the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee, Antonio Orendain told the church assembly Tuesday, "Teddy Roosevelt said, 'Speak softly but carry a big stick,' and the only stick of the poor people is the union."

MATINEE IDOL DIES — Conrad Nagel, movie star and matinee idol of the 20's and 30's, died Tuesday in New York at the age of 72.

HHH Drowned Out By Jeers

AMHERST, Mass. (AP) — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, jeered off a stage before he could give a scheduled speech, says the country is in trouble when small groups can force their will upon the majority.

The outburst began as Humphrey appeared onstage at the University of Massachusetts Tuesday night to deliver a lecture on foreign policy.

One group of students in long black robes chanted "guilty, guilty," apparently to express their displeasure with the conviction of five persons in the Chicago riot trial.

Other demonstrators booed stamped and tossed paper on the stage.

The former vice president offered to entertain questions about Chicago before giving his prepared speech, but was drowned out by the demonstrators, who appeared to number about 250 in the crowd of some 5,000.

Finally, after trying for about 15 minutes, Humphrey said, "Well, that's it," and left the rostrum.

University Chancellor Oswald Tippo immediately apologized for "the disgraceful actions of some demonstrators."

Humphrey replied that he wasn't upset or angry—"just unhappy that I couldn't give my talk."

"If we can't discuss an issue at a university, the citadel of ideas, there is little hope for freedom," he said.

The former vice president went from the university to the nearby Lord Jeffrey Inn where he delivered his speech to a group of about 50 faculty members and students.

In the talk, he called for negotiations with Communist China leading eventually to that country's admission to the United Nations.

At the same time the Department of Agriculture assured senators it will change the ground rules of the school lunch program to allow schools—many of them old and located in big-city ghettos—to pay private caterers to serve the free or reduced-price lunches.

A current ban on the practice, said Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., has made it impossible for up to 11 million children attending schools lacking kitchen facilities to be served hot lunches.

After a series of hairline-close votes adding or rejecting amendments, the Senate voted 85-0 Tuesday to approve the expanded measure.

Led by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., a band of senators succeeded on a 41-40 vote—in expanding the eligibility standards to include poverty-line children. The Senate standard is based on a family of four earning less than $4,000 a year.

The Senate also rejected its Agriculture Committee's recommendation that federal participation be set at no more than 80 per cent of the total cost. It allowed for full government financing.

Ex-Senator Incompetent?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A severe mental collapse, partially caused by heavy drinking, makes former Sen. Daniel Brewster of Maryland incompetent to stand trial on charges of accepting bribes while in office, according to a report submitted to U.S. District Court here.

Brewster, indicted with the Chicago mail order house Spiegel, Inc., and its Washington lobbyist, Cyrus T. Anderson, had been scheduled to go on trial April 6. He is accused of taking $24,500 in bribes in exchange for votes on postal legislation.

Dr. H. Houston Merritt, a New York neurologist, examined Brewster at a hospital in Ireland, where he has lived since August, 1969.

He said the former senator "suffered a severe mental collapse, characterized by confusion, disorientation and a loss of memory."

"Mr. Brewster stated that this episode followed the excessive intake of alcoholic beverages but not to a greater extent than on many previous occasions," Dr. Merritt said.

Brewster, a moderate drinker for several years, began drinking as much as a fifth of whisky a day after his defeat for reelection in 1968, the doctor said.

Gina Decides Not To Marry

ROME (AP) — Actress Gina Lollobrigida says her planned marriage to New York businessman George Kauffman is off but they will remain good friends.

"We have decided not to marry because of personal reasons," Gina said.

"It was a decision we took weeks ago. I have always been against marriage. I have said that hundreds of times in the past but I thought things were different this time," she said.

"I was confident things could turn out well. But I soon realized the situation was not for me. I talked to George and we cleared all problems."

Young Firebomb Cop Car, Set Up Street Barricade

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) — Sheriff's deputies cleared campus area streets around the University of California at Santa Barbara today after crowds of young demonstrators firebombed a patrol car, set bonfires, smashed bank windows and threw up a street barricade.

The ten-hour disturbance late Tuesday night and early today preceded a scheduled appearance on campus of William Kunstler, attorney for seven men serving jail terms after trials in connection with the violence during the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

"It was a riotous situation," Sheriff's Lt. Morton Duhurst said.

At least six youths were arrested. One patrolman was injured. Damage from an estimated 15 fires, mostly small, and from broken windows and property damage wasn't immediately estimated.

"We think the trouble was not truly spontaneous, as a large amount of rocks and several Molotov cocktails were stockpiled and observed at the scene," Duhurst said.

"Those weapons may have been prepared for the rally for Kunstler. There has been a lot of talk going around that his speech is going to be disrupted."

Persons involved in the disturbance could not be reached immediately for comment. Neither could leaders of the student body association which invited Kunstler to speak.

The crowd smashed every window in the local branch of the Bank of America and used the bank curtains to build a bonfire at a barricade on the main street of Isla Vista, the community near the university campus, deputies said.

Police said the first trouble had come Tuesday when deputies on patrol stopped Lefty Bryant, about 25, a black former student expelled for disciplinary reasons from both the UC Santa Barbara campus and City College of Santa Barbara.

Deputies said while they were talking to Bryant a crowd of about 50 youths gathered and a youth threw a firebomb under the patrol car. The explosion damaged the patrol car and it had to be towed away, but no one was injured, deputies said.

Deputies booked Bryant for investigation of causing a riot and using obscenities and profanity, and booked James Trotter, 28, a UC Santa Barbara graduate student until last quarter, for investigation of throwing the firebomb.

The injured deputy, James Regan, suffered cuts and lacerations when five or six youths tore his uniform and grappled with him as he tried first to arrest Trotter, sheriff's spokesman said.

The reason for the attack on the nearby Bank of America windows was unexplained except that in a previous incident near the UCLA campus, antiwar protesters had trashed the nation's biggest commercial bank with the war in Vietnam. Bank officials have denied any connection and say the war's end could only help the economy — and hence the bank.

IN LOVELY HAWAII Virtually Eliminates Curbs On Abortions

HONOLULU (AP) — The Hawaii legislature has passed a bill virtually eliminating curbs on abortion.

The bill in effect repeals a 101-year-old present law which permits abortion only to save the life of the mother. Final legislative action came with a 15-9 vote in the state senate Tuesday.

The new measure would permit abortion by licensed physicians in licensed hospitals if the woman has been a Hawaii resident for at least 90 days and the fetus is not "viable."

Legislative lawyers interpret "viable" to mean fetuses far enough developed to live outside the womb and say it would cover pregnancies up to four or five months.

Medically unlicensed persons performing abortions would be subject to maximum penalty of a $1,000 fine or five-year prison term.

Gov. John A. Burns, a Roman Catholic who personally opposes abortion, said earlier he would not veto an abortion reform measure but would let it become law without his signature.

Robert Pearson, a Maui Island contractor who led the anti-repeal forces, said he would take the new law to the U.S. Supreme Court if necessary.

Pearson said he believes the unborn fetus is a human being and has a right to life. This was the basic position taken by the opponents of repeal, most of them Roman Catholics.

A joint House-Senate conference committee said, however, that abortion "should not be a matter of legislation but should be left as an individual matter of conscience and choice."

The Senate passed the reform bill four days after the House of Representatives had acted.

Seeking Conference To Deal With Arab Terrorist Hits

By The Associated Press

Demands mounted today for an international conference to plan action to deal with Arab terrorist attacks on commercial airliners.

Among those engaged in preliminary consultations to arrange a conference are governments, presidents of major airlines, pilots' groups and airport authorities.

The United States and Swiss governments are seeking a meeting as soon as possible of the International Civil Aviation Organization in Montreal to discuss the situation.

It was the crash of a Swissair Zurich-to-Tel Aviv flight Saturday in which 47 persons were killed that set off the urgent discussions. Despite conflicting claims and denials, Arab terrorists are generally believed to have gotten an explosive into the baggage compartment of the plane.

As anger against the attack ran high, the chief of the unified Palestine guerrilla command, Yasser Arafat, declared in Amman that his movement is opposed to the sabotage of civilian planes. He also denied that any Arab guerrilla organization was responsible for the Swiss crash. The airline presidents are organized in the executive committee of the International Air Transport Association, a non-governmental group.

They conferred by telephone Tuesday.

Informed aviation sources said they also consulted Sheikh Majid Alammudin, president of Lebanon's Middle East Airlines.

Representatives of Arab airlines scheduled a conference in Cairo Saturday after British Overseas Airways Corp. employees said Tuesday they would not service aircraft for the eight Arab lines that fly to London.

Capt. Ola Forsberg of Finland, president of the International Federation of Air Line Pilots Associations, conferred for an hour Tuesday with U.N. Undersecretary Ralph Bunche and asked for a Security Council meeting to discuss safety in civil aviation.

He said Bunche told him a council meeting would do no good because the situation is "very complicated ... very complex."

Forsberg said the principal officers of the federation will discuss the problem in London Wednesday.

Austrian officials asked the U.N. Human Rights Commission to hold a conference on the grave situation posed by increasing sabotage of civilian aircraft. An Austrian airliner flying from Frankfurt to Vienna had an explosion aboard but landed safely the same day the Swissair plane crashed. The explosion was attributed to a package some Arabs had mailed to Israel.

Four European airlines maintained a suspension of air mail and air freight service to Israel as a result of the crash Saturday. Other airlines embargoed cargo to Israel for 48 hours and beefed up security.

Europe's airports have become places of fear, tension and tiresome checks of luggage and handbags. Armed guards patrol at Swiss airports. Other airports have set up special check-in counters for Tel Aviv and meticulously check passports with tickets. Passengers who object are turned away. Police accompany the passengers as they board the planes, which usually are parked away from normal boarding areas.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, visiting in West Germany, called for a concerted international condemnation of attacks on airliners and consultation on measures to protect international aviation from the terrorists.

Two Burglaries Being Checked

Police are investigating two apparent burglaries, reported by patrolmen making their rounds early this morning. Emmett's Lounge, 508 NW 3rd, was reportedly entered by forcing a back door. The owner, Emmett Warren, 900 NW 5th, was called to the scene to estimate any losses around 3 a.m. and said 1 1/2 cases of beer had been stolen. The door to a storage room was torn off by burglars who were apparently trying to enter the T. G. & Y. store in Highland Center sometime last night. Officers said it appeared nothing was stolen, but an inventory of the wares in the storeroom will be taken.

Truants Turned Over To Jones

Juvenile Officer Keith Jones was returned to her parents in Corpus Christi, and 15-year-old boy was reported here as a runaway. Truancy of a 13-year-old girl and a 15-year-old girl is being investigated today.

Police Checking On Abduction

Police are investigating a report by a Big Spring High School student that he was abducted at knife point by a man who then forced him, under threat to his family, to withdraw $125 from his bank account, hand over $50 of the money and take a bus to El Paso. Officers said the boy reported the incident when he returned from El Paso Monday.

UT Students In Draft Broadcast

AUSTIN — Students from The University of Texas will participate Thursday in a national CBS News radio broadcast on the draft. The program, "Classroom USA — At Issue: The Draft," will allow students from UT Austin, Rutgers University and Santa Monica (Calif.) High School to direct questions to U.S. Defense Secretary Melvin Laird. Among those who will have opportunity to question Sec. Laird is John Howard Payne, III, Big Spring. "Classroom USA" will be broadcast Thursday from 8:10 to 9 p.m. on Austin's KTBC-AM, Radio 59.

Science Academy Meets At Angelo

SAN ANGELO — Representatives of 35 colleges and universities and more than a dozen other institutions will present a total of 240 scientific papers during the 73rd annual meeting of the Texas Academy of Science at Angelo State University March 5-7. Dr. Bernard T. Young of Angelo State, Chairman of the committee on arrangements, said 800 to 1,000 Texas scientists are expected to attend the three-day session. Highlighting the event will be an address by Dr. Elbert King of Houston, former curator of the lunar receiving laboratory at the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center. King will speak at a banquet Friday evening, March 6.

Rodeo Riders At Two Events

DENVER, Colo. — Close behind in the money column was another calf roping titlist, Junior Garrison of Marlow, Okla., who picked up $3,062. He is second in season standings with a $3,944. Making a noticeable impact on the pro rodeo scene is the 1969 rookie of the year, Phil Lyne of George West, Tex., who pocketed $880 in bull riding and $1,932 in calf roping at San Antonio. His combined earnings of $4,810 for the year place him fourth in the coveted all-around cowboy standings, and he leads in calf roping with $4,300.

Six Chicago Riot Defendants Shorn

CHICAGO (AP) — Six of the seven defendants in the recent Chicago riot trial have been given haircuts to conform with standards at Cook County jail. Warden Winston E. Moore said their hair was clipped to "a reasonable length" for sanitary reasons. David T. Dellinger, at 54 the oldest of the group, is balding and conforms to jail standards, Moore said. Dellinger; Rennard C. "Rennie" Davis, 29; Thomas E. Hayden, 30; Abbott "Abbie" Hoffman, 31; and Jerry C. Rubin, 31, were convicted last week of crossing state lines with the intent to incite rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention. They were sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000 each, plus the cost of prosecution. The U.S. District Court jury acquitted John R. Froines, 31, and Lee Weiner, 31, but they and the other five had been sentenced earlier by Judge Julius J. Hoffman to varying terms in prison for contempt of court. Abbie Hoffman, quipped, "You're ruining my movie career," when another inmate began applying the shears and clippers. Lawyers for the seven have asked the 7th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals to let their clients out on bond pending appeal of the sentences. Judge Hoffman refused bail at the end of the trial, saying the men were dangerous.

COMMISSIONER GEORGE ZACHARIAH (left) makes a point during the discussion of the city's insurance problems at the city commission's regular meeting Tuesday night. Commissioner Garner McAdams listens intently to the proceedings at right.

Insurance Needs Discussed But No Action Is Taken

City Commissioners decided Tuesday night to seek an insurance estimate from a consulting firm after hearing a proposal from representatives of a local organization to provide $1,000 deductible general liability coverage at an added cost of some $13,000 per year. It was a regular meeting in city hall. Wendell Parks and Jerry Mancill of the Big Spring Insurance Association presented the city insurance study committee with the $13,000 proposition at a meeting Monday afternoon, after rejecting the committee's proposal to insure only high risk property and machinery. The committee, consisting of Assistant City Manager Roy Anderson and Commissioners Walter Stroup and Garner McAdams, had submitted a "select risk" list of city-owned property to the association in an attempt to reduce annual insurance expenditures which seem to be required, in part, by the Tort Claims Act passed in the last session of the state legislature. Previous estimates for general non-deductible coverage had amounted to an increase of $20,000 per year. Anderson told the commission Tuesday night that Risk Insurance Managers and Consultants of Dallas had contacted him and requested that the firm be allowed to prepare an analysis of the city's total insurance requirements. Anderson said he thought the $13,000 figure for insurance is a fair price and that small claims not covered by the plan because of the $1,000 deductible clause would be rare. Commissioner George Zachariah recommended that the city submit to the Dallas firm anyway, to see if a still lower estimate could be obtained. The other commissioners agreed and the general feeling seemed to be that as long as the city is seeking insurance estimates, every alternative should be explored. As Anderson put it, "We're talking about our whole insurance program now" and said that even though he felt the local organization had offered a fair estimate, no harm could be done by having other plans submitted. The Tort Claims Act limited governmental immunity to emergency cases and set the limits on the amount which may be collected on any one claim against a governing agency. The new law, effective last Jan. 1, is the principle reason for the review of city insurance requirements. The law restricts claims against governments to bodily injury, but Anderson said earlier that no insurance company he had contacted would insure strictly against bodily injury claims and that it looked as though the city would have to pay for inclusive property damage insurance even if it had no liability for such claims.

Bank Robberies, Abductions Linked

UNION, Mo. (AP) — Authorities believe there may be a link between a series of bank robberies in Missouri, Delaware and Connecticut and the disappearance of two Franklin County, Mo., residents. Sheriff Bill Miller says descriptions of bandits who robbed the bank of Pacific, Mo.; the State Bank of Union, Mo.; and banks in Wilmington, Del., and Danbury, Conn., are quite similar. Bombs were involved in two of the robberies. Miller also speculated that J. Russell Pardue, 53, and his 79-year-old mother, Mrs. Daisy Pardue, may have been abducted from their home about five miles west of Union as hostages after the Union Bank robbery. Pardue recently moved from Southport, Conn., to Franklin County. The Pacific bank was robbed of about $80,000 last May by two men wearing ski masks, one of them armed with a machine gun and the other a sawed-off shotgun. Bandits answering the same description took $18,000 from the Union bank on Nov. 13 minutes after a bomb exploded in the Franklin County Courthouse, wrecking the sheriff's communications center and injuring 10 persons. Miller said the robbers fled out of Union, toward the Pardue home. The sheriff said Pardue's car, which still bore Connecticut license plates, and a trailer were missing. Bandits took nearly $100,000 in Wilmington and $30,000 in Danbury earlier this month and their descriptions were similar to those of the men involved at Pacific and Union. In Danbury, three bombs were set off before, during and after the holdup. One bomb outside the police station disrupted communications. The explosions injured 25 persons.

City Employee Will Challenge

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A city employee says he will challenge Thursday at the City Council meeting a rule which says he must live within the Galveston city limits to keep his job. Fireman John E. Jackson, who lives in LaMarque, has been told he must move within the city limits or resign. Johnson says he should be allowed to live where he pleases.

Collins, Lubbock; two sons, Riley Sawyers, Big Spring, Lowell Sawyers, Dallas; 14 grandchildren, 23 great-grandchildren; and four great-grandchildren.

Should Qualify For Insurance

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — County officials say Galveston County should qualify as the fourth area of the United States to be eligible for flood insurance under the National Flood Insurance Act. Officials say the program can go into effect as soon as the county identifies the flood-prone areas in unincorporated sections. The survey could be completed in two weeks, they say.

Pickup Missing

Jimmy Allen, 1405 Wood, told police Tuesday he loaned his 1953 pickup to a friend Feb. 3 and has seen neither his friend nor his pickup since. He valued the truck at $150.

Service Offered

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) — Orange County commissioners have agreed to provide office space for a county-wide mental health service program. The service will be offered in cooperation with the Rusk State Hospital and the Orange County Mental Health Association.

The boys are Randy and Terry Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Davis, and Mark and Max Airhart, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Airhart, all of Gail Route. The boys are members of the North Ridge 4-H Club.

WALTER THOMAS, chief of planning at the Fort Worth office of the Corps of Engineers, explains the proposed $2 1/2 million dollar renovation of Beal's Branch to the city commissioners at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Anti-Flood Plans Explained For Beal's Branch Project

The long-proposed two and one-half million dollar renovation of a five-mile stretch of Beal's Branch came up unexpectedly at the city commission's regular meeting Tuesday night, as two representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers appeared with the tentative plans for the project and asked that the city fathers authorize further study on the project by submitting a letter of intent to the federal government.

Walter Thomas and John Ball, both of the Fort Worth office of the corps presented their preliminary plans for deepening and widening the branch from One-Mile Lake to beyond the sewage treatment plant, and said the commissioners were required to express a willingness to continue planning, before Congress could include financing in the next "omnibus appropriations bill." Their figure for the total estimated cost of the project is $2,528,000, including $948,000 to be expended by the city for its part in obtaining right-of-way, flood control and other improvements. Thomas said the plan would decrease the area along Beal's Branch subject to periodic flooding by about one block all along the length to be reworked. He said the plans include removal of silt to deepen the branch by about seven feet.

The spokesman said the repeater station is a small unit for amplification of telephone line power. Telephone service in Wichita Falls, Childress, Vernon and other Northwest Texas points was disrupted by the blaze, the spokesman said. "We're repairing the circuits on a temporary basis until the regular repeater station can be put back into operation," the spokesman said. "All service should be restored by Wednesday night." Cause of the fire was not learned immediately.

ALVORD, Tex. (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. crews worked around the clock Tuesday and Wednesday to restore long distance telephone service which was interrupted by a repeater station fire here. The brief fire around noon Tuesday destroyed about 1,000 circuits supplying service to various communication media including long distance telephones, a spokesman said.

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A billion-dollar law suit brought against American Smelting and Refining Corp., charging damage through air pollution from the local smelter, was dismissed Tuesday in 168th District Court. Attorneys immediately refilled the suit in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York. The suit has been brought as a "class action" on behalf of all residents of El Paso and Juarez and a number of individuals who claim pollution damage. The motion to dismiss was presented by Atty. Richard C. Marshall representing the plaintiff, who said he is now associated with attorneys specializing in pollution and other ecological cases in New York. Last week, a separate suit asking damages and an injunction against the smelter was ordered transferred from the state court to the U.S. District Court at El Paso.

Vietnam Vet Seems To Adapt

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — In 1962, at the age of 24, Jimmy Dan Edwards went to Vietnam as an air controller in the Navy, assigned to a unit operating out of Saigon.

After leaving the Navy, he enlisted in the Marines. He went back to Vietnam in 1967 in time to help fight back the massive enemy Tet offensive near Hue.

Edwards quit the Marines for the Army, graduating last month from helicopter flight training at Ft. Rucker, Ala., with a warrant officer's bars.

And Edwards, a bachelor, left for Vietnam again, arriving today.

"Jimmy seems to adapt to excitement," said his mother, Mrs. Lyle Thada of San Diego. "He obviously believes in finding it under a variety of circumstances."

She added proudly: "I wouldn't be surprised if he showed up in an Air Force uniform some day."

semi-fastback styling, is built on a 108-inch wheelbase. The four-seat Firebird will be available in one body style, a two-door hardtop.

It will be offered in four models — standard, the luxury Esprit, the high-performance Formula 400 and the Trans Am.

For the performance-minded, the Formula 400 is equipped with a specially-molded fiberglass hood which has distinctive integral air scoops. A 400 cubic-inch engine with a dual snorkle air cleaner and dual exhausts are standard equipment on the Formula 400.

The high-performance Trans Am includes a Ram Air engine, four-speed wide ratio floor shift transmission, variable ratio power steering, Formula steering wheel, power front disc brakes and rally gauge package with instrument panel tachometer and clock.

The Trans Am is recognized by airdams up front and on each of the wheel openings, engine compartment air-outlets on the front fenders and a full-width spoiler across the rear deck.

The front airdam and engine compartment air-outlets reduce the air pressure buildup under the front of the car to keep the wheels more firmly on the ground.

The new rear spoiler builds up an area of high pressure on the deck lid, thus keeping the rear of the car down. This increased force on the rear wheels increases understeer and improves stability at high speeds.

Junior college students and high school seniors are invited to take part in the music scholarship tryouts at Howard County Junior College Saturday.

John Stanley, head of the department stressed that these are not necessarily for music majors, but rather they are open to any persons interested in singing or playing an instrument.

There are scholarships to award for voice, for piano, for instrumental playing, for places on the school choir or the HCJC stage band.

The tryouts are between 9 a.m. and 12 noon Saturday at the music building, Stanley may be called for reservations, but these are not at all necessary.

Rains Taper Off In Texas

By The Associated Press

Rains which fell over much of Texas for four days finally tapered off today and skies started clearing from the west.

Before the last of the showers and occasional thunderstorms ended, however, locally heavy amounts of moisture were measured at a number of points during the night. Hail accompanied the rain in places but there was no word of serious damage.

By this morning the showers had moved eastward into Louisiana except for a few still dying down in the northeast corner of the state.

Skies already were clear in extreme West and South Texas and along the Red River. It was partly cloudy in the Panhandle Plains area and overcast in the central and eastern sections. Moisture amounts ran as high as 1.47 inches at Fort Worth and 1.45 at Waco.

Measurements elsewhere included Mineral Wells 1.13, Dallas 1.10, Tyler 1.06, Austin 1.05, Longview .94, San Antonio .92, Abilene .84, College Station .82, Big Spring .71, Alpine .60, Midland .54, Cotulla and Wink .52, Lufkin .50, San Angelo .43, Beaumont and Port Arthur .42, Texarkana .37, Wichita Falls .36 and Galveston .35.

Aside from a little cooling in most sections tonight, forecasts promised mostly fair and mild weather the rest of the week.

Pontiac announces the beginning of tomorrow.

The all-new Firebirds are here.

There are four. Why?

People have different ideas of what a sports car should be. Incorporating all of those ideas into one car is equivalent to putting an elephant's trunk, a camel's hump and stripes on a giraffe. You end up with a creature that doesn't do anything well.

So... four Firebirds.

Firebird (1). An economical sports car.

Firebird Esprit (2). A luxurious sports car.

Firebird Formula 400 (3). The Firebird built for drivers.

Firebird Trans Am (4). Our ultimate.

Four distinctly different Firebirds for drivers who agree on only one thing. A sports car.

Comfortable seating for four. Period.

Three have always been a crowd. Especially in the back seat of a sports car. So the new Firebirds have two bucket-type seats in back. Plus two bucket seats up front.

Four comfortable passengers, each in an individual seat.

And a more comfortable ride.

The rear seats gave us room to raise the drive tunnel between them. Which gives the suspension room to travel when you hit a bump. Which, in the Firebird and Esprit, produces a ride that many a full-size sedan would be proud of.

Formula 400 and Trans Am don't have it quite as soft. Enthusiasts like a stiffer ride. Stiffer springs and shocks provide it.

A ride is nothing without quick handling.

We didn't compromise handling a bit. We made the Wide-Track-Wider. Made face-resistant front disc brakes standard. And for improved cornering, we installed stabilizer bars up front.

And added rear stabilizer bars to Formula 400 and Trans Am.

Engines to match.

If you read our descriptions of the four Firebirds, the engine lineup makes supreme sense. The basic Firebird has a 250-cubic-inch six. Esprit—a 350-cubic-inch, regular-gas V-8.

Formula 400 has a 400-cubic-inch V-8. And Trans Am features a 400-cubic-inch Ram Air V-8.

Endura bumpers that absorb bumps. Pontiac's Endura material is probably ### the best thing to happen to bumpers since bumpers.

It's a resilient, rubber-like material that looks like painted metal. It resists dings, dents and chips. And it positively won't rust.

A tough bumper. Covering the entire front and of each Firebird.

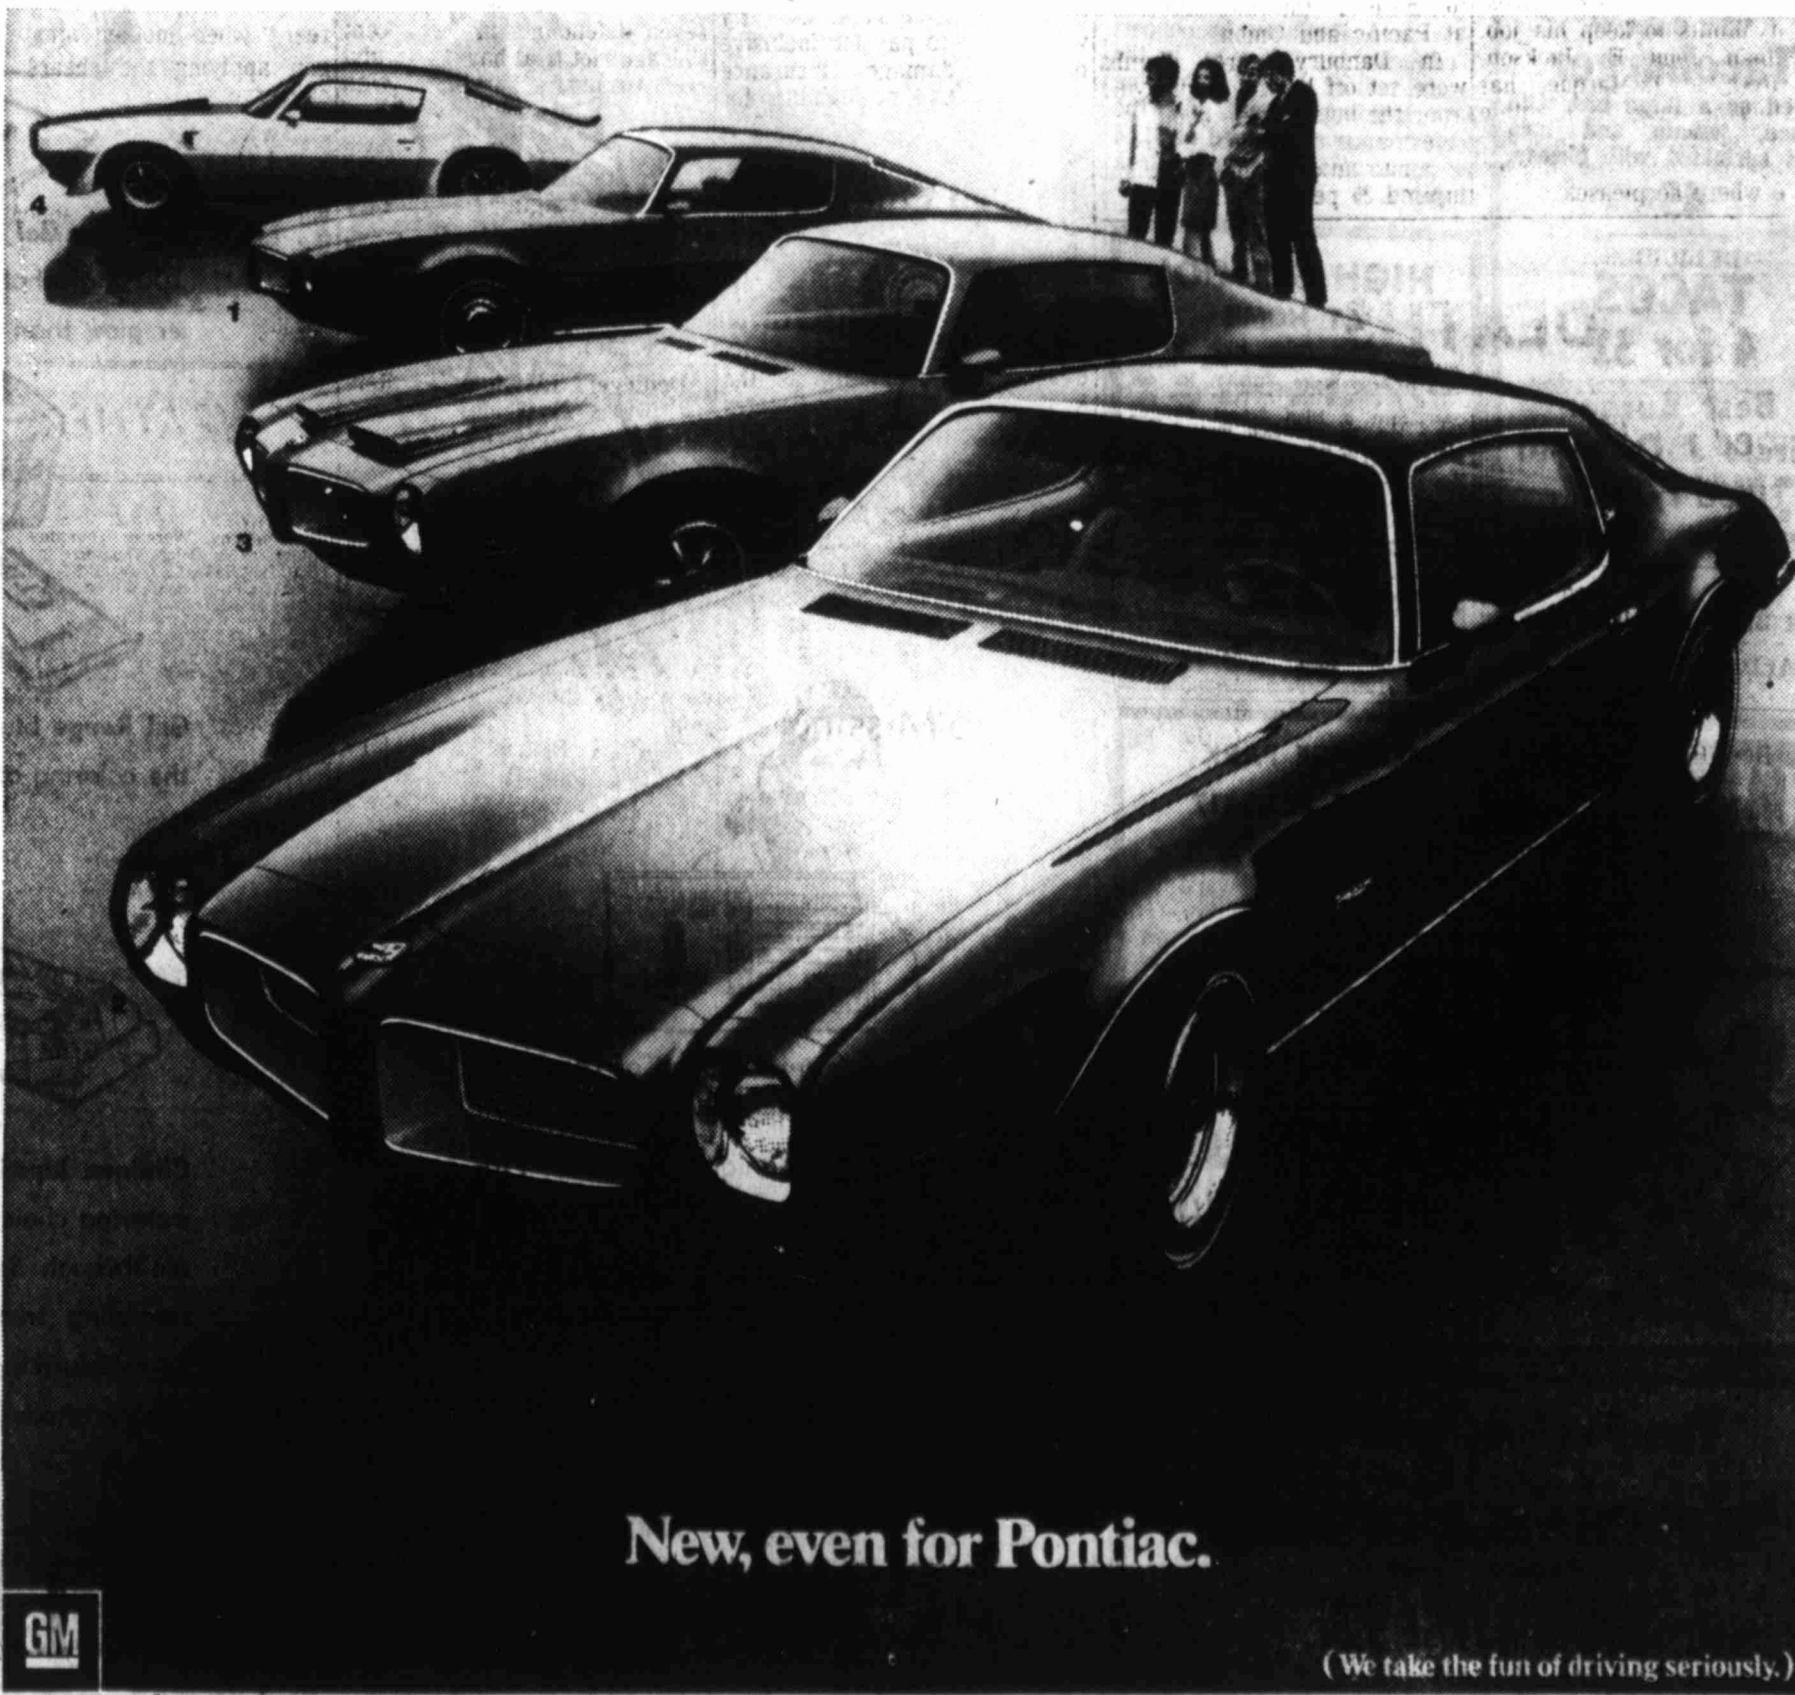

The decisive victory of functionality over fadism.

Instrument panels, for instance. Easy to read. With easy-to-reach controls.

We even designed the panels so that any light bulb can be changed in 60 seconds. By you. Without lying on the floor.

But you'll undoubtedly want to find out for yourself. Please do.

At a Pontiac dealer's. Then you'll know our "beginning of tomorrow" claim is more than a boast.

New, even for Pontiac.

(We take the fun of driving seriously.)

Two Burglaries Being Checked

Police are investigating two apparent burglaries, reported by patrolmen making their rounds early this morning. Emmett's Lounge, 508 NW 3rd, was reportedly entered by forcing a back door. The owner, Emmett Warren, 900 NW 5th, was called to the scene to estimate any losses around 3 a.m. and said 1 1/2 cases of beer had been stolen.

Truants Turned Over To Jones

Juvenile Officer Keith Jones counseled with two runaways Tuesday and today is investigating two truancies reported by school officials. A 16-year-old girl Tuesday was returned to her parents in Corpus Christi, and 15-year-old boy was reported here as a runaway. Truancy of a 13-year-old boy and a 15-year-old girl is being investigated today.

Police Checking On Abduction

Police are investigating a report by a Big Spring High School student that he was abducted at knife point by a man who then forced him under threat to his family, to withdraw $125 from his bank account, hand over $50 of the money and take a bus to El Paso.

The three-time world calf roping champion snared $3,904 in his specialty. He is third in calf roping with $3,504 for the season.

Six Chicago Riot Defendants Shorn

CHICAGO (AP) — Six of the seven defendants in the recent Chicago riot trial have been given haircuts to conform with standards at Cook County jail.

Warden Winston E. Moore said their hair was clipped to "a reasonable length" for sanitary reasons.

David T. Dellinger, at 54 the oldest of the group, is balding and conforms to jail standards, Moore said.

Dellinger; Rennard C. "Renlie" Davis, 29; Thomas E. Hayden, 30; Abbott "Abbie" Hoffman, 31, and Jerry C. Rubin, 31, were convicted last week of crossing state lines with the intent to incite rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention.

They were sentenced to five years in prison and fined $5,000 each, plus the cost of prosecution.

The U.S. District Court jury acquitted John R. Froines, 31, and Lee Weiner, 31, but they and the other five had been sentenced earlier by Judge Julius J. Hoffman to varying terms in prison for contempt of court.

Abbie Hoffman, quipped, "You're ruining my movie career," when another inmate began applying the shears and clippers.

WALTER THOMAS, chief of planning at the Fort Worth office of the Corps of Engineers, explains the proposed $2 1/2 million dollar renovation of Beal's Branch to the city commissioners at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

Anti-Flood Plans Explained For Beal's Branch Project

The long-proposed two and one-half million dollar renovation of a five-mile stretch of Beal's Branch came up unexpectedly at the city commission's regular meeting Tuesday night, as two representatives of the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers appeared with the tentative plans for the project and asked that the city fathers authorize further study on the project by submitting a letter of intent to the federal government.

Walter Thomas and John Ball, both of the Fort Worth office of the corps presented their preliminary plans for deepening and widening the branch from One-Mile Lake to beyond the sewage treatment plant, and said the commissioners were required to express a willingness to continue planning, before Congress could include financing in the next "omnibus appropriations bill."

Fire Snags Phone Calls

ALVORD, Tex. (AP) — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. crews worked around the clock Tuesday and Wednesday to restore long distance telephone service which was interrupted by a repeater station fire here.

The brief fire around noon Tuesday destroyed about 1,000 circuits supplying service to various communication media including long distance telephones, a spokesman said.

The spokesman said the repeater station is a small unit for amplification of telephone line power.

Telephone service in Wichita Falls, Childress, Vernon and other Northwest Texas points was disrupted by the blaze, the spokesman said.

"We're repairing the circuits on a temporary basis until the regular repeater station can be put back into operation," the spokesman said. "All service should be restored by Wednesday night."

Attorneys Refile Pollution Suit

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — A billion-dollar law suit brought against American Smelting and Refining Corp., charging damage through air pollution from the local smelter, was dismissed Tuesday in 168th District Court.

Attorneys immediately refiled the suit in the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York.

The suit has been brought as a "class action" on behalf of all residents of El Paso and Juarez and a number of individuals who claim pollution damage.

The motion to dismiss was presented by Atty. Richard C. Marshall representing the plaintiff, who said he is now associated with attorneys specializing in pollution and other ecological cases in New York.

Last week, a separate suit asking damages and an injunction against the smelter was ordered transferred from the state court to the U.S. District Court at El Paso.

Air strikes hit Muong Soui early today, but the enemy apparently expected the attack and took cover in the hills adjacent to the town.

The North Vietnamese and Pathet Lao force which began driving westward two weeks ago is reported to number about 20,000 men and appears to be aiming to recapture the intersection on the Vientiane-Luang Prabang highway.

There was no indication whether Yang Pao would try to block the drive. So far in the campaign, his troops have fought only as long as enemy pressure was light.

THE FIREBIRD TRANS AM — Pontiac Motor Division's completely restyled 1970 Firebird Trans Am combines high performance with a distinctive appearance. It is powered by a 345 h.p. Ram Air engine with a four-speed floor shift transmission. There is special striping, a rearward facing hood scoop, special spoilers and engine air outlets. Farris Pontiac, 504 E. Third, is showing the new car beginning Thursday.

Pontiac Offers Firebird As Personalized Sports Car

Pontiac Motor Division's latest entry into the personalized sports car field, the new 1970 Firebird will be unveiled in dealer showrooms Thursday and is on display at Farris Pontiac, 504 E. 3rd.

The new Firebird, which has semi-fastback styling, is built on a 108-inch wheelbase. The four-seat Firebird will be available in one body style, a two-door hardtop.

It will be offered in four models — standard, the luxury Esprit, the high-performance Formula 400 and the Trans Am.

For the performance-minded, the Formula 400 is equipped with a specially-molded fiberglass hood which has distinctive integral air scoops. A 400 cubic inch engine with a dual snorkle air cleaner and dual exhausts are standard equipment on the Formula 400.

The high-performance Trans Am includes a Ram Air engine, four-speed wide ratio floor shift transmission, variable ratio power steering, Formula steering wheel, power front disc brakes and rally gauge package with instrument panel tachometer and clock.

The Trans Am is recognized by airdams up front and on each of the wheel openings, engine compartment air-outlets on the front fenders and a full-width spoiler across the rear deck.

The front airdam and engine compartment air-outlets reduce the air pressure buildup under the front of the car to keep the wheels more firmly on the ground.

The new rear spoiler builds up an area of high pressure on the deck lid, thus keeping the rear of the car down. This increased force on the rear wheels increases understeer and improves stability at high speeds.

There are scholarships to award for voice, for piano, for instrumental playing, for places on the school choir or the HCJC stage band.

The tryouts are between 9 a.m. and 12 noon Saturday at the music building. Stanley may be called for reservations, but these are not at all necessary.

Rains Taper Off In Texas

By The Associated Press

Rains which fell over much of Texas for four days finally tapered off today and skies started clearing from the west.

Before the last of the showers and occasional thunderstorms ended, however, locally heavy amounts of moisture were measured at a number of points during the night. Hail accompanied the rain in places but there was no word of serious damage.

By this morning the showers had moved eastward into Louisiana except for a few still dying down in the northeast corner of the state.

Skies already were clear in extreme West and South Texas and along the Red River. It was partly cloudy in the Panhandle

Plains area and overcast in the central and eastern sections.

Moisture amounts ran as high as 1.47 inches at Fort Worth and 1.45 at Waco.

Measurements elsewhere included Mineral Wells 1.13; Dallas 1.10, Tyler 1.08, Austin 1.05, Longview .94, San Antonio .92, Abilene .84, College Station .82, Big Spring .71, Alpine .60, Midland .54, Cotulla and Wink .52, Lufkin .50, San Angelo .43, Beaumont and Port Arthur .42, Texarkana .37, Wichita Falls .36 and Galveston .35.

Aside from a little cooling in most sections tonight, forecasts promised mostly fair and mild weather the rest of the week.

Vietnam Vet Seems To Adapt

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — In 1962, at the age of 24, Jimmy Dan Edwards went to Vietnam as an air controlman in the Navy, assigned to a unit operating out of Saigon.

After leaving the Navy, he enlisted in the Marines. He went back to Vietnam in 1967 in time to help fight back the massive enemy Tet offensive near Hue.

Edwards quit the Marines for the Army, graduating last month from helicopter flight training at Ft. Rucker, Ala., with a warrant officer's bars.

And Edwards, a bachelor, left for Vietnam again, arriving today.

"Jimmy seems to adapt to excitement," said his mother, Mrs. Lyle Thada of San Diego. "He obviously believes in finding it under a variety of circumstances."

She added proudly: "I wouldn't be surprised if he showed up in an Air Force uniform some day."

Pontiac announces the beginning of tomorrow.

The all-new Firebirds are here.

There are four. Why?
People have different ideas of what a sports car should be. Incorporating all of those ideas into one car is equivalent to putting an elephant's trunk, a camel's hump and stripes on a giraffe. You end up with a creature that doesn't do anything well. So . . . four Firebirds. Firebird (1). An economical sports car. Firebird Esprit (2). A luxurious model. Firebird Formula 400 (3). The Firebird built for drivers. Firebird Trans Am (4). Our ultimate. Four distinctly different Firebirds for drivers who agree on only one thing. A sports car.

Comfortable seating for four. Period.
Three have always been a crowd. Especially in the back seat of a sports car. So the new Firebirds have two bucket-type seats in back. Plus two bucket seats up front. Four comfortable passengers, each in an individual seat. And a more comfortable ride. The rear seats gave us room to raise the drive tunnel between them. Which gives the suspension room to travel when you hit a bump. Which, in the Firebird and Esprit, produces a ride that many a full-size sedan would be proud of. Formula 400 and Trans Am don't have it quite as soft. Springsists like a stiffer ride. Stiffer springs and shocks provide it.

A ride is nothing without quick handling.
We didn't compromise handling a bit. We made the Wide-track-wide. Made fade-resistant front disc brakes standard. And for improved cornering, we installed stabilizer bars up front. And added rear stabilizer bars to Formula 400 and Trans Am. Engines to match. If you read our descriptions of the four Firebirds, the engine lineup makes supreme sense. The basic Firebird has a 250-cubic-inch six. Esprit — a 350-cubic-inch, regular-gas V-8. Formula 400 has a 400-cubic-inch V-8. And Trans Am features a 400-cubic-inch Ram Air V-8. Endura bumpers that absorb bumps. Pontiac's Endura material is probably

Fed Grand Jurors To Quiz 'No More Than 4' Folks

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Still here two weeks ago. Also testifying then were candidates for Healy's Dist. 80 seat—Democrat Leon Williams of Quana and Republican Zack Fisher of Memphis. Both men have indicated they underwent pressure almost immediately after announcing for office.

Wheatley said his office would not be seeking an indictment Thursday, adding that further action may depend in part "on what evidence we may hear" then.

Asked if the investigation was moving in more than one direction, Wheatley replied, "A number of possible violations are being considered."

Also testifying Tuesday was Dr. John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Williams, Healy's democratic opponent, has said extension service officials asked his wife to resign as Hardeman County home demonstration agent.

Williams said his wife would not resign but Hutchison said

Tuesday he understood she did plan to do so.

Mrs. Williams, contacted Tuesday in Quana, said she has not yet resigned and is awaiting "further information" from the extension service.

Hutchison said there was a conflict of interest since her husband is running for state office. He said the matter came under a longstanding policy and that no pressure "from any source" was involved.

Another witness Tuesday was Houston banker Walter Mischer. Mischer said Houston banker Vincent Kickerillo, who testified before the grand jury in its first session, is on the board of two banks of which Mischer is board chairman. Kickerillo also is a major stockholder in the First National Bank of Memphis.

Fisher, Healy's Republican opponent, has said he was a business partner with officers of the bank but that he has since severed the agreement.

Others testifying Tuesday included Quana Chamber of Commerce President Clark Burkett, Morris Higley, publisher of the Childress Index, and A.L. Galley, Memphis insurance executive.

Williams said he was asked unexpectedly to resign as manager of the Quana chamber shortly after announcing as a candidate.

Also testifying Tuesday was Sam Russell, manager of the West Texas Utilities Co. at

Concessionaire At Lake Accused After Shooting

GONZALES, Tex. (AP) — A shooting on the Guadalupe River, which left a Vietnam veteran dead and a game warden wounded, led to charges of assault with intent to murder against a Gonzales man Tuesday.

The charges were filed against Max Turner, 30, a concessionaire at a lake near here. He was accused in the shooting of game warden John Gary Collins, 22, who was hospitalized at Seguin with wounds in the hand and shoulder.

Turner also was wounded and was under treatment at a hospital here.

The gunfire Monday night behind a dam on the river killed Elmer Nelson of Thief River Falls, Minn., who marked his 22nd birthday the day he died. He was discharged from the Army at Ft. Hood, Tex., last Friday.

Collins and Turner were listed in satisfactory condition. Officers were still investigating the case Tuesday. They theorized that the shooting occurred after Collins surprised two men netting fish.

When Collins radioed for help, officers from five towns responded. A funeral home spokesman said Nelson was a cousin of Turner's wife and had planned to live here briefly before returning to Minnesota. Nelson served in Vietnam in 1967 and 1968.

CLINIQUE
You don't have to have allergies to appreciate it

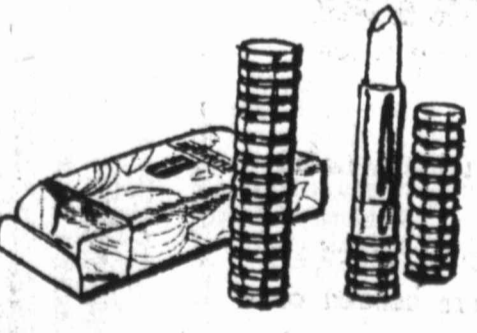

You may not care that Clinique makeup is purer than pure—totally allergy tested and 100% fragrance-free. What you will care about a lot is the pure fashion of it all. The Clinique gels, for instance.

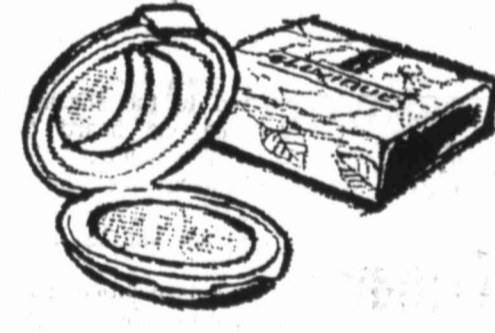

Bronzing Gel is that rare gel makeup, 100% alcohol free, to give you a healthier glow than the sun itself.

Gel Rouge blushes you naturally with the coloring of wild roses.

Clinique Lipstick give you a mouth-watering choice of 20 colors. Pick the see-through Semi-Lipstick formula for trembling translucent mouth-color or Re-moisturizing Lipstick for creamy opaque shades.

Clinique Blushers come in cream or powder formulas. Depending on the state of your skin, dry or oily, one will give you the natural color you crave.

Concealing Stick is the moisturizing way to cover up tiny flaws and lines before applying Clinique Balanced Makeup Base and Clinique Blended Face Powder. Base in 8 shades "fits" all skin types perfectly and Clinique Face Powder in three transparent shades provides an un-masky matte finish.

Clinique is a total system of cosmetic skin care. And the very heart of the system is The Clinique Computer. Programmed by a group of leading dermatologists, it determines your skin type and the right Clinique products for you.

Throughout this week, there will be a Clinique Special Beauty Representative in our Cosmetic Department. Do stop by and bring her your skin and makeup problems. Her training qualifies her to give you the right answers.

Key Witnesses Due Cross Examinations

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — Cross examinations of the state's key witness were due today in the kill-for-hire murder trial of Pete Thomas Scamardo, accused in the death of a longtime friend.

Percy Foreman, defense lawyer from Houston, was granted extra time to study a lengthy statement given officers by Jerry O. Watkins, 43, who held the courtroom spellbound for two days as he gave his version of the killing from the witness stand.

EX-CON TALKS

Watkins, a former convict, testified Tuesday that he was nearby when Charles Harrelson, 31, also of Houston, took Sam Degelia Jr. inside a pump house near McAllen and shot Degelia to death.

Harrelson is charged with murder with malice in the case and is to be tried later.

Scamardo, 31, a Hearne businessman, is accused of offering Harrelson $2,000 to kill Degelia, a Hearne grain buyer who was a former business partner and longtime friend of Scamardo.

Watkins testified that he and Harrelson flew from Houston to McAllen July 6, 1968. He said he and Harrelson spent some time in the private club of a McAllen motel. He said late in the afternoon Harrelson drove off and returned with Degelia in a rental car.

After Harrelson suggested that the men to Mexico for a drink, the three men climbed in the car and headed south. At Farm Road 1016 southwest of McAllen, Harrelson suggested that Watkins take a right turn for a shortcut, the witness testified.

WHAT'S THE MATTER? Watkins said he then drove at Harrelson's instructions, down Farm Road 1016. A few minutes later, he said, "Chuck took out a .25 caliber pistol and pointed at this man in the back seat (Degelia)."

"My God, what's the matter," he quoted Degelia as saying. He said Harrelson then forced Degelia to crouch down in the floorboard of the car and then tied the man's hands.

After arriving at the pump house, Watkins testified that Harrelson helped Degelia out of the car and led him off to the shack.

"Chuck told Degelia he didn't want to hurt him, that he wanted to teach him to keep his nose out of other people's business," Watkins testified.

'LIKE GUNFIRE'

Not long after the two men walked to the shack, Watkins testified, he heard two loud pops "like gunfire." He said he then saw Harrelson walking from the shack, carrying the pistol in one and the rope in the other.

Watkins testified that Harrelson got into the car, pointed the pistol at him and said, "I had to shoot him and I'll kill you, too. I would have killed you if you had moved."

"He said he would kill me before the sun went down if I didn't keep my mouth shut," Watkins testified.

"This is not the first son of a bitch I have had to ring his bell, and he won't be the last. You'll be next," Watkins quoted Harrelson as saying. He testified that Harrelson then disassembled the pistol and threw it from the car as Watkins drove down a dirt road south of McAllen. He said the two men then boarded an airplane and returned to Houston.

Watkins testified that he avoided Harrelson for the next several days, but said Harrelson came to his house on a Sunday afternoon a week or more later. "He saw Sam (Degelia) had been killed for insurance," Watkins testified.

"He told me Pete Scamardo was going to pay him $5,000 to kill Degelia," Watkins said. Harrelson then explained, according to Watkins, that Scamardo has a $50,000 life insurance policy on Degelia and "Pete needed the money."

"It's a shame that your best friend will have you killed and then be a pallbearer at your funeral," Watkins quoted Harrelson as saying.

Watkins testified that he saw Scamardo and Harrelson talking at Lucky Pierre's, a Houston private club, before the slaying. He said Harrelson said of Scamardo "This man is in the insurance business."

Scurry Co. JC Site Is Picked

SNYDER — A site for the Scurry County Junior College has been chosen. It will be on a 160-acre tract near Cogdell Memorial Hospital in southern Snyder, and it was given by Mrs. Jonisue Stiff.

M. L. Broman, chairman of the board, said that 12 sites had been checked, in addition to some that had not been offered. Although prices ranged from donation to $475,000, Broman said the primary considerations in the final selection were accessibility, utilities, street improvements, size and shape of tract, etc.

With the selection of the site, plans for buildings now will be firm, he said. Temporary offices for the college have been opened.

Jury Begins Deliberating Algiers Motel 'Conspiracy'

FLINT, Mich. (AP) — A federal jury begins deliberating today the case of three police officers and a private guard accused of conspiring to assault and intimidate 10 persons at the Algiers Motel during Detroit's 1967 riots.

Closing arguments were made Tuesday, and U.S. District Judge Stephen Roth told the jury of six men and six women that the case would pass into their hands after he instructed them on the law.

On trial are suspended Detroit policemen Ronald August, 30; Robert Paille, 34; and David Senak, 25, all white, and Melvin Dismukes, 26, a Negro private guard.

The government charged that they conspired "to injure, oppress, threaten and intimidate" two white girls and eight Negro teenagers found in the motel July 26, 1967, during a search for reported snipers.

The bodies of three black youths were found later at the inner city motel. All had been killed by close-range shotgun blasts.

Special Assistant U.S. Atty. Kenneth McIntyre told the all-white jury the defendants wanted to "get even" for the riot, which left part of the city in flames, caused millions of dollars in damage and brought U.S. Army paratroopers to Detroit.

"This country cannot afford to simply say, 'Well, there was a riot going on and these things happen," McIntyre declared. Defense attorney Konrad Kole described it as "the unfairlest prosecution I have ever known or heard about."

He asserted: "This is not a prosecution—it's a persecution." Kole pointed out that August already had been tried and acquitted of first degree murder in one of the killings, while Dismukes was found innocent of a charge of felonious assault in connection with the beating of those in the motel.

In effect, Kole complained, the defendants were being tried all over again.

The government called 39 witnesses during the four-week trial.

The defense called only five witnesses, winding up its testimony in less than two hours.

Prof Says Taxes Much Too Low

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A University of Minnesota professor has unilaterally increased the 1970 property tax on his home.

Prof. Donald W. Kahn sent a voided homestead declaration to City Hall which would have given him a lower tax because he lives in the house he owns.

"I feel that the taxes in our city are generally low," said Kahn, "and I do this to express my confidence in city government. I feel that with adequate protection for aged and retired people, it would not be unreasonable to increase the property tax base here."

Science Fair Opens Friday At Coahoma

The 10th Annual Coahoma Science Fair has 110 entries, representing all the grades, according to Phil Wynn, Coahoma High School science teacher.

The Fair will be held Friday and Saturday and all interested persons are invited to attend. The exhibits include parachutes and safety seats that are used in the jet trainers at Webb AFB, as well as a film on safety.

Wynn said some of the entries include volcanoes, ecology of a pond, bacteria growth, animal dissection, distillation and crystallization, flowing solids, etc.

The entries are in four divisions and each division includes biological and physical science sections. Judges for the fair represent Big Spring High School, Howard County Junior College, and Cosden Oil and Chemical Co.

There is no charge for admission and the open house at Coahoma High School will be between 7-9 p.m. Friday, and 9-11 a.m. Saturday.

Dr. Rogers Is Named Chancellor

ODESSA — Dr. Jack Rogers, president of Odessa Junior College, has been made chancellor of the Odessa-Midland Junior College system.

Under a plan adopted by the board over the vigorous protests of Mrs. Betty Dooley, a member, there will be two autonomous colleges — one at Odessa and one at Midland. The Odessa school will be headed by Dr. Clyde Chisum, presently OJC dean, and the Midland school will be directed by Dr. Al Langford, currently dean at Midland.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Not everyone who says to me, 'Lord, Lord,' shall enter the kingdom of heaven, but he who does the will of my Father who is in heaven." (Matthew 7:21, RSV)

New Labor Proposals

President Nixon and Secretary of Labor Shultz have studies completed for major, and controversial, changes in federal labor-management relations law. The proposals are expected to go to Congress soon.
The administration reportedly does not expect this election-year Congress to act, unless a strike crisis compels it. The submission will be to begin Capitol Hill consideration for possible action in the next Congress, but the suggested legislation will be available if a crisis occurs this year.

Uncertain Role

Wall Street is riding uncertainly in the midst of a storm. At the moment even the eventual role of the stock market is unclear.
The apparent end of the great bull market didn't just depress stock prices. It also cut commissions at a time when brokerage houses were working furiously to keep abreast of each day's transactions. According to one estimate, New York Stock Exchange members alone spent $100 million last year on computers and automated systems.

North Vietnamese Holding Back Their Punch?

SAIGON (AP) — Nearly six months after the death of President Ho Chi Minh, North Vietnam's other leaders have apparently still not decided on a clearcut course of action on conduct of the war in the South.
This, in the opinion of persons who deal daily with such assessments, may be the reason why the Vietnam War has settled into a period of indecisiveness, marked by rapidly leveling "highpoints" and offensives which exist only in captured documents.

Billy Graham

Do you believe in reincarnation? If not, why not? Just as one is beginning to learn, life ends. I don't really believe in reincarnation, but I can't help but believe that it is logical for the spirit to be born again. Could you help clarify this for me? J.W.
I believe in "incarnation," but I don't find Biblical evidence for reincarnation, popularly so-called. This teaching that the spirit of man comes back to inhabit another body is popular in oriented religions such as Hinduism and Buddhism. Buddhists believe that when a man dies he is immediately born again, or appears in a new shape; and that shape may vary according to his merit or demerit, ranging from a clod to divinity.

TRUCE OR CONSEQUENCES

John Cunniff Consumer Confidence Indices

NEW YORK (AP.) — Throughout the past year a great deal of publicity has been given to the various indices of consumer confidence, the notion being that a confident consumer is a spender, a timid one a saver.

The low Detroit figure results, of course, from cutbacks in auto production, just as a 59.8 per cent figure for Seattle represents layoffs in the aerospace industry in that area.

Hal Boyle Closet(ed) With Wife

Studies suggest that consumer confidence indices might be able to foretell actual retail sales conditions four or five months ahead, thus enabling manufacturers and retailers to prepare their inventories.

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the ordeals of marriage to a husband is having to clean out his closet.

It is never his idea. It is always his wife's. But at least once a year she gives him the ultimatum: "That closet of yours is looking like the city dump again. There are probably mice in it. Either clean it out or I'll clean it out for you—and you know what that means."

Confidence has been falling of late. Harassed by news about the Vietnam war, inflation, taxes and even the threat of recession, consumers have had a tendency to withdraw into the security of their shells.
In addition, with inflation eroding the value of spending money, their actual ability to spend has in some instances declined. And so the combination of reluctance and inability made a sad story for some retailers.

A lot of Americans, however, don't recognize themselves as lacking in buying confidence or ability. Their willingness couldn't be higher they say. And their ability to spend has steadily increased.

Curious to learn more about the situation, the marketing and opinion research firm of Sindlinger & Co. decided to break down the consumer confidence measurements by various categories, and it found:

—Confidence is lowest in the Midwest, a bit better in the West, higher in the East and highest of all in the South.

—Confidence is higher in rural areas than it is in the big cities.

—Confidence among whites is much higher than among non-whites.

The variations are so wide that it appears misleading to say that Americans are or are not confident. It would be more precise to say that they are or are not in specific regions and markets.

For example, the national average, on Sindlinger's scale, dropped recently to 67.5 per cent, compared with a high of 73.7 per cent one year earlier.

Within this range, however,

"land of plenty," with — as I get it — the implication that this malnutrition is the result of poverty, and the government ought to do something about it.

Well, I can't argue that poverty doesn't have a lot to do with it, but ignorance also does. It's been pointed out to me — children in certain districts lined up at the candy stores in the morning before school. Lines extending out onto the sidewalks.

"Buying their breakfasts," I've been told. And by your evidence, many buy breakfast and lunch there.

For the price of a couple of candy bars, you can produce (at home) a nutritious breakfast. So why do they line up on the sidewalk in front of the candy store? Ignorance? Not caring? Laziness? Or are there other reasons? When a child gets headaches from candy-store breakfasts and lunches, the headaches are just a symptom of much worse damage that is being done.

Around The Rim

Twilight And Dusk

It was the even tide. The sun hung like a great orange disc above the silhouette of a distant ridge, and the shadows stretched toward us as if ready for bed.

"This is my favorite time of the day," said one of our party.

INDEED, THE ending day does have much to commend to our favor, for the dying sun brings down the dim curtains of twilight and dusk, and gently pulls the deep drapes of night.

If there is a time of day when one can be at peace with himself, his neighbor and his God, it is at the closing of day. Whatever it has held, the day's journal of toil or trouble, its hopes and its joys, have been written for better or worse. Somehow, the fading light and stilling breeze settle into acceptance.

SOMETIME, AMIDST the wild extravagance of indescribable color symphonies, the sun bows out with such tremendous glory that one stands in awe. The heart swells in exultation, and yet the soul kneels in humility before the profligate show of Nature.

This is the time that children play as though their time for play was forever fleeing, desperately trying to squeeze in just one more game or one more jump, or one more throw, or to beg another minute before forced retreat inside.

AS IT CAN be an instant for fulfillment, so can sunset pierce with loneliness. Away from home and family, one can suddenly feel empty and hurt. Separated by the mysterious abyss, another remembers the touch of a hand.

And a day long gone may echo with the creaking of a windmill, the lowing of the herd, and the clank of a chain against a pasture gate.

SMALL WONDER the poets in numberless ways have spawned their jeweled thoughts upon the parting day. Perhaps not even the dawn has evoked so many verses or so many immortal lines as has the end of day.

"When day is done and shadows fall," penned the lyricist, "I think of you."

THE HYMN writer lifts up this song of praise: "Day is dying in the west; Heav'n is touching earth with rest; Wait and worship while the night; Sets her evening lamps a-light Through the sky."

"Twilight and evening bell, and after that the dark," wrote Tennyson. "The curfew tolls the knell of parting day . . . and leaves the world to darkness and to me," said Thomas Gray.

SOME HAVE SAID it more beautifully but none with more feeling than Carrie Jacobs Bond: "Well, this is the end of a perfect day, near the end of a journey, too. But it leaves a thought that is big and strong, with a wish that is kind and true. For memory has painted this perfect day with colors that never fade, and we find at the end of a perfect day the soul of a friend we've made." —JOE PICKLE

Andrew Tully Nixon's Man For Massachusetts

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's attitude toward the Massachusetts senatorial candidacy of Josiah Spaulding can be compared these days to the suspicion with which a housewife views an overripe mackerel.

To intimate the President has confided, in effect, that Spaulding won't do as the GOP's standard bearer against the ill-fated but indisputably charismatic Teddy Kennedy. Consequently, Nixon has renewed efforts to persuade Secretary of Transportation John Volpe to make the race.

AT THIS WRITING, Volpe is standing firm against the President's polite demands. Confronted by the proprietor of this space in the locker room of the Watergate Health Club, where Republicans saw away at their suet, Volpe put it gently but firmly. "I've told everybody in every language but Swahili that I won't run," he said. "I don't think there could be any circumstances that could change my mind."

JUST SO. But Nixon has suggested circumstances designed to alter Volpe's stand. For one thing, Volpe has been told that the President — and the party — needs his help. For another, he has been assured that he will suffer no comedown in status should he run unsuccessfully against Kennedy. Volpe's present job, or another of his choice, will be safe, he was told.

IT IS NIXON'S complaint that Spaulding is not running as a Republican but as a Kennedy-type Democrat. The President took umbrage at Spaulding's remarks at a press conference here disassociating himself from the GOP image projected by Vice President Agnew and Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, and calling the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell "insulting."

Spaulding also came out against the anti-ballistic missile program and said he thought the President should take a firmer stand on the side of school integration. Somehow, he also managed to praise Nixon as "a fine man, extremely able," who is doing his best to get the U.S. out of Vietnam.

WITH VOLPE in the race, the GOP would start out with certain solid assets. One is the Mary Jo-Chappaquiddick incident, although no one mentions it. The other is Volpe's political credentials. He is a Catholic. He is also an Italian in a state where the Italian voting bloc has considerable clout. And he would make an excellent sock. He is an excellent, proven campaigner who represents the Nixon administration's calculated appeal to that part of Middle America weary of social excesses.

MOST IMPORTANT to the White House, John Volpe is a tough Kennedy. He would concede nothing to Kennedy. Spaulding is wearing kid gloves; Volpe would don brass knuckles. And he would make the race as an authentic, time-proven Nixon Republican.

In short, to employ a Goldwater cliché, Volpe would offer the Massachusetts voters a choice, not an echo. For reasons perhaps more personal than political, Richard Nixon would like to see such a test. (Distributed by McQuay-Norris Syndicate, Inc.)

David Lawrence 'Segregation'-'Integration'-Confusion

WASHINGTON — The whole problem of "segregation" and "integration" of public schools is in a state of confusion, but only because federal, state and local authorities have thus far been reluctant to face up to the most important fact of all — namely, that it is going to cost a lot of money to rearrange the school systems in order to achieve quality education no matter what ratios of blacks or whites are in attendance.

THE SUPREME COURT of the United States itself, in its 1954 "desegregation" decision, did not use the word "integration," but a year later stressed "racial nondiscriminatory" school systems. Ever since that time, the local courts have been issuing orders trying to require the school boards to attain the main objective — to avoid discrimination in the educational systems.

Today many conflicting opinions have been issued by the courts, and leaders in the South are insisting that, whatever the rules may be, they should be applied also to the North. Conceding this principle, Congress is trying to discourage segregation wherever it is deliberately brought about, and to assist in the process of integration even if this means additional schools in a district.

BECAUSE FEDERAL funds are involved, Congress is inclined to pass a law forbidding any court or local official to order students to be bused from one area to another without the consent of his or her parents. The ultimate result probably will be the formation of districts large enough to provide neighborhood patterns and at the same time enable some students to attend schools in other districts if they wish to do so. But such a transfer would not be compulsory.

In the last several years, school boards in many parts of the country have been disturbed by rulings of the lower federal courts which not only indicated that "integration" was compulsory but required the assignment of teachers according to specific quotas. This has led to dissatisfaction and even to the resignation of some instructors.

WHAT HAS BROUGHT the situation to a crisis was the focusing of attention in recent weeks by Senator John Stennis of Mississippi and other senators on the situation in many northern states where what is called "de facto" segregation has been in existence for years. No laws and very few court rulings have been applied to interfere with this set of circumstances. In the South, on the other hand, rulings of the courts have held that "de jure" segregation — which means virtually all-white or all-black schools due largely to previously enacted statutes that have since been repealed — continues because the pattern of separation has been retained.

MANY OF the school boards in the South now are ready to undertake desegregation. But they want to establish school districts which will enable them to do it in a constructive manner, so that each neighborhood will have good schools without involving compulsory busing.

ON THE WHOLE, it may be said that some progress has been made toward desegregation in the South and not so much in the North. But evidently court orders such as have been issued are not going to do the job. School boards, in assigning teachers chosen on the basis of their ability rather than their color, are likely to prove the best answer to the problem of how to furnish a quality education as real integration gradually is achieved in the schools in all parts of the country. To Your Good Health Headaches And Children's Eating Habits

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D. Dear Dr. Thosteson: In your answer to the mother who was concerned about her child's headaches, you overlooked the most common cause.

Through many years of public school nursing, we traced the cause of most school age headaches to hunger; many times it was the kind of food rather than the lack of it. Also a problem not to be ignored.

You, like school nurses fresh from hospital situations, would be expected to suggest pathology. You would be appalled at the number of children who buy both breakfast and lunch from the candy vendor in preference to better meals that are available. Their preferences begin at home. With apology but also concern — M.R.F., Retired School Nurse.

What are you apologizing for? You are making a point that will help a lot of people — if the right ones read it. We've been hearing depressing estimates about the amount of malnutrition in our Health is being undermined. Energy is being drained. Mental capacity is being sapped away. Lack of attention in school is wasting education that such children, in particular, need if they are to make better lives for themselves.

I hope a lot of people read this letter from the retired school nurse. I hope, particularly, that it will be read by the parents of those children at the candy stores.

But I wonder. Wonder if they will read the letter, and wonder if they will realize what it means.

What causes "balance" trouble? What can be done to correct or overcome it? Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Dizzy Spells," discusses loss of balance, vertigo and nausea, Meniere's disease and labyrinthitis. For a copy of the booklet write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Bucks Yield To Pistons; Lakers Fall

The Milwaukee Bucks and Los Angeles Lakers dug themselves deeper into second place in the two divisions of the National Basketball Association... The Bucks fell before Detroit's final period onslaught and dropped a 136-111 decision to the Pistons Tuesday night at Detroit, and the Lakers were beaten by the Atlanta Hawks 118-106.

Milwaukee's loss, coupled with New York's 121-105 victory over Phoenix, shoved the Bucks 5 1/2 games behind the Knicks in the Eastern Division with only 13 games remaining... Atlanta increased its Western Division lead over the Lakers to three games at Los Angeles with only 12 games to go for each team.

In the only other games, Baltimore Seattle San Diego 128-118 and halted beat San Francisco 130-122... In the American Basketball Association, Los Angeles defeated New Orleans 107-101, Dallas blasted Washington 130-115 and Carolina stopped Pittsburgh 111-96.

Jerry West of Los Angeles, the league's leading scorer, was sidetracked with a pulled left hamstring muscle.

Dick Barnett's 28 points paced the Knicks and he and Walt Frazier each scored eight points in the third quarter when New York raced from a 59-58 deficit to an 91-67 margin... ## Nicklaus Is Out Of Meet

MIAMI (AP)—Jack Nicklaus' withdrawal left "Athlete of the Decade" Arnold Palmer as the top attraction when one of the strongest fields of the year lined up for the $150,000 Doral Open golf tournament.

Nicklaus had been scheduled to play in this first stop on the rich Florida tour but withdrew after the death of his father.

The dynamic Palmer, off the tour two weeks and making his first start since being named the top athlete of the 1960s, was certain to be the gallery favorite, but there was no such thing as a clear-cut choice for the $30,000 top prize.

Two criteria—recent history and the strength of the field—prohibit the naming of any player as the No. 1 favorite.

The field includes, among others, all four major title holders, five of the seven tournament winners this year, the 1969 leading money winner and the Vardon Trophy winner.

And there are such other standouts as Dan Sikes, defending champion Tom Shaw, flashy Doug Sanders, who has played some of his best golf in Florida, and Bob Lunn, one of the most consistent players on the tour this year.

The major champions are Orville Moody, U.S. Open; George Archer, Masters; Ray Floyd, PGA, and Tony Jacklin, British Open, just back from England where he received the order of the British Empire.

Also on hand are Dave Hill, the Vardon Trophy winner last year who said he has just renewed his swing; last year's leading money winner Frank Beard and 1970 tournament winners Dale Douglass, Bert Yancey, Bruce Devlin, Pete Brown and Ron Cerrudo.

Recent history, however, would indicate that a relative unknown may emerge as the winner. Of the five Florida tournaments last year, four of the winners were scoring their first professional triumphs.

Some of the leading candidates in that category this year would appear to be Grier Jones, John Miller, Bert Greene, Hale Irwin, Jim Jamieson and Mike Reardon.

The field is so strong, in fact, that 133 exempt players showed up, leaving only 11 spots in the field of 144 open to qualifiers.

Besides Nicklaus, the only top names missing are Billy Casper, who is skipping the entire Florida swing; South African Gary Player, who has not yet started his American tour; and Lee Trevino, who had other commitments.

Rice Could Get Offer

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Rice hasn't been to the NCAA basketball playoffs since 1942, but the Owls will more than likely get to go if they are in a three-way tie with Texas A&M and Texas Tech for the Southwest Conference title.

Rice is sailing along with a 9-3 record in SWC play while A&M and Tech are 8-4.

Howard Grubbs, executive secretary of the SWC, said "If the NCAA says we have to play in the first round then the team that hasn't participated in the playoffs recently would go—if we have a three way tie."

Texas A&M was the 1969 SWC champion and Texas Tech went to the playoffs in 1961.

A first round NCAA playoff is set for Fort Worth March 7. The SWC will more than likely be in it.

"We won't know for a week or 10 days whether we will be in the first round," Grubbs said. "I would anticipate that we would be in the first round."

Texas A&M downed Trinity in the first round last year. Grubbs said, "If we don't have to play in the first round, then we would flip a coin for one team to get a bye. The other two would meet then play the team that drew the bye to see who represents the conference."

He said there would be a "one game playoff on a neutral site if a two-way tie develops."

DISTRICT 3-AAAA Abilene Winner Over City Foe

ABILENE — Abilene High won the 3-AAAA championship already sacked up, won their 16th straight league decision to racking up Abilene Cooper, 68-62, here Tuesday night.

Cooper made a strong comeback in the final quarter but had too far to go.

Richard Little again led Abilene in scoring with 21 points. Abe Burrus had 19 for Cooper.

Cooper thus finished second half play with a 2-6 record. Abilene was 8-0.

MIDLAND — Midland High won its third 3-AAAA decision in eight second half starts by turning back Odessa High, 72-56, here Tuesday night.

Odessa slumped to 3-5. Mark Green waxed warm for Odessa, scoring 30 points. Midland had five players in double figures, Randy Dvorak leading the way with 14.

ODESSA — Midland Lee won its seventh 3-AAAA game in eight second half starts by slamming Odessa Ector, 74-56, here Tuesday night.

Ector thus wound up its stay in the conference with a respectable 5-3 record. Ector drops back to Class AAA next season.

Randy Prince blistered the nets for 35 of Lee's points. Quincy Wallace tallied 23, as did Perry Cooksey, for Ector.

BUZZ SAWYER

WELL, WELL, WELL! IF IT ISN'T MY FRIENDLY ADVERSARY, OLD NORM HIMSELF! HVA, NORM! SEE HERE, HAPPY JUST HOW DO YOU PLAN TO BEAUTIFY OUR HOUSE SQUARE WITH ALL THE TREES GONE?

PAVE IT, BOY! FILL IT FULL OF BEAUTIFUL, COLORFUL AUTOMOBILES. THE SYMBOL OF THE 20TH CENTURY.

NOW, DON'T YOU WORRY, NORM, OLD BOY. IN PLACE OF "TREATY OAK," WE'LL BUILD A FOUNTAIN IN MEMORY OF OLD CHIEF WHAT'S-HIS-NAME, THE NOBLE REDSKIN.

GASOLINE ALLEY

It's a demonstrator, Fracas, but he knocked $900 off the price!

Speedometer reads 87! They probably set it back!

No, sir! I checked the seal!

Sure this is the original rubber? Looks like they jockeyed the tires!

Fracas doesn't like our car?

Some people just can't stand to see other people get a bargain!

NANCY

WHAT'S THAT VASE DOING IN THE MIDDLE OF THE FLOOR?

I THINK IT IMPROVES THE ROOM

HOW DOES IT IMPROVE THE ROOM?

IT COVERS UP THE INK I SPILLED ON THE RUG

L'I' ABNER

I WAS ONCE AS POPULAR AS AMOS AND ANDY ARE TODAY!!

AMOS AN' WHO?

I GAVE A LOT OF KIDS THEIR START!!—GEORGE JESSEL, HELEN HAYES—

HELEN TWELVETREES AND I WERE CHOSEN "BOY AND GIRL STAR OF THE YEAR" —??— I FORGET WHICH YEAR, BUT IT WAS WHEN EVERYBODY WAS SAYING "KEEP COOL WITH COOLIDGE!!"

AND NOW WE IS K-KEEPIN' COOL WIFOUT COOLIDGE??

BLONDIE

DAGWOOD—HOW OLD DO YOU REALLY THINK I LOOK?

TO ME, TODAY YOU EVEN LOOK YOUNGER THAN YOU DID YESTERDAY

THANK YOU, DARLING—YOU'RE SWEET

I DON'T KNOW WHAT I SAID, BUT IT SEEMED TO COME OUT ALL RIGHT

RICK O'SHAY

THOSE COWHANDS BOTH HAVE SERIOUS BURNS, JESSIE— BUT THEY'RE GOING TO BE ALL RIGHT. HERE'S SOME OINTMENT.

...CHANGE THOSE PRESSINGS DAILY AND KEEP THEM IN BED. THEY'LL BE THIRSTY, BUT DON'T GIVE THEM TOO MUCH WATER...OR TOO COLE.

YOU CAN DEPEND ON ME, DOCTOR.

I'M SORRY I HAD TO CALL YOU OUT IN THIS BLIZZARD. YOU'RE WELCOME TO STAY THE NIGHT.

THANK YOU, JESSIE, BUT I SHOULD GET BACK TO CONNIPPION.

...IT SEEMS THAT EVERY TIME I LEAVE TOWN, THAT JUST WHEN SOMEBODY THERE NEEDS ME.

SNUFFY SMITH

I'LL BE RIGHT BACK, LUKEY— I'M GOIN' OVER TO LOWEEZY'S AN' BORRY A CUP OF FLOUR

I THOUGHT YE WUZNT SPEAKIN' TO LOWEEZY

I AIN'T, BUT I CAN USE SIGN LANGUAGE

UH—LET'S SEE— SHE KEEPS POINTIN' TO TH' FLOWER AN' SHAKIN' TH' CUP— LAND O' GOSHEN!! SHE MUST WANT A CUP OF DAISIES!!

DENNIS THE MENACE

"THE MITCHELLS? YOU MEAN THE PARENTS OF THAT REAL TOUGH KID?"

KERRY DRAKE

DON'T BE A FOOL, SHASTA! THAT BLIND ITEM COULD REFER TO ANYBODY! NOBODY!

YOU LISSEN T' WHAT THE MAN SAYS, ALGER DEAR! "NEVER SAY ME NEVER WARNED YOU, JACK, THAT YOU AN' JILL MAY GET A BROKEN CROWN, IF YOU DON'T STOP GOIN' TO THE WELL TOGETHER AFTER THE SHOW!"

OH, YEAH... GO ON AN' LOOK AT THE SIGN ON YOUR THEATER MARQUEE, YOU LUNK!!

IF YOU THINK YOU CAN DUMP ME, SHASTA LIKE YOU DID YOUR OTHER TWO WIVES, MR. CRAFTON... JES' TRY IT! JES' YOU TRY IT!

BEEBLE BAILEY

WOW!

I'M GLAD YOU LIKE MY NEW SEE-THRU MINI-SKIRT, KILLER

DON'T CARE MUCH FOR THE COAT, HUH?

PEANUTS

HERE'S THE HEAD BEAGLE RETURNING HOME AFTER HEARING CASES ALL DAY

I NEVER KNEW SO MANY DOGS COULD GET INTO SO MUCH TROUBLE

IN TOO TIRIED TO EAT!

IS THE HEAD BEAGLE HERE ALREADY?

THE HEAD BEAGLE HAS HAD IT!

DICK TRACY

YEAH, TWO BLOCKS FROM THIS CURVED GLASS CORNER IS A HOT DOG VENDOR.

I'LL TREAT YOU TO A HOT DOG, MR. TRACY. CAN YOU AFFORD IT, TINKY?

I STUFF ENVELOPES FOR AN ADVERTISING OUTFIT TWO DAYS A WEEK—MAKE FOUR DOLLARS A DAY.

YEAH, BLIND PEOPLE HAVE TO EAT, Y'KNOW MAYBE I CAN GET YOU A JOB, TOO, MR. TRACY.

MARY WORTH

YES—I'D BE HAPPY INDEED TO GO ON LIVING HERE, STACY!

—TO ENJOY THIS UNSPOILED LITTLE ISLAND IN A RELENTLESSLY EXPANDING SEA OF NON-TRANQUILITY!—TO WATCH TOMORROW'S CHILDREN DISCOVER THAT EARTH'S SURFACE IS NOT ALL ASPHALT... AND RUNNING WATER CAN BE CLEAN!

BUT IT WOULD STILL BE A LONELY HOUSE!

REX MORGAN

SUSIE, I'M JUST CALLING TO SEE WHETHER YOU'RE ALL RIGHT.

I'M FINE—

I WAS UPSET BY YOUR LEAVING ME LAST NIGHT.

I'M SORRY, REX. I PROMISE NEVER TO DO ANYTHING LIKE THAT AGAIN. CAN YOU HAVE DINNER WITH ME THIS EVENING—HERE AT THE HOTEL?

NO—YOU'RE GOING TO HAVE DINNER WITH ME, BUT WE'RE GOING OUT! I KNOW A GOOD RESTAURANT OUTSIDE OF TOWN WHERE WE CAN HAVE A QUIET EVENING!

CONSIDER THAT A DATE, DOCKEY!

TERRY

CURSE YOU, LEE! HOW CAN YOU SIT THERE WHEN WE ARE BEING TREATED IN THIS UNCLE MANNER?

THIS HOOLIGAN! IF I HAD HIM IN MY COMMAND, I'D AT LEAST TEACH HIM HOW TO HOLD HIS WEAP... JET ENGINES! OUR PLANE IS TAKING OFF!

LOOK ON THE BRIGHT SIDE, KARSOV. I SAW A PORTER GO PAST WITH OUR BAGS A FEW MINUTES AGO. AT LEAST YOU AREN'T WITHOUT YOUR MEDALS.

SMITTY

WHOOPS! IT MUST HAVE BEEN A ROUGH OCEAN LAST NIGHT...

I SLEPT WELL...

I HAD NO TROUBLES...

HMP! THEY CAN'T TELL ME IT WASN'T ROUGH...

SAY, WHAT'S THAT?

UPSIDE-DOWN CAKE, SIR—

MOON MULLINS

OH, IT'S REALLY SIMPLE, MAMIE— MR. HARTBURN SHOWED ME HOW TO PLACE A CALL ON IT...

OH, HE'S YOUNG AND CUTE— LONG CURLY HAIR... MOD... TAKES HIMSELF VERY SERIOUS...

NOW LET ME SHOW YOU HOW TO END A CALL, LADY P!

Goliad Sets Open House

Goliad Junior High School isn't jumping the gun on Texas Public School Week, but it will observe open house this Thursday evening.

The reason is really to avoid conflict with the elementary schools, explained S. A. (Soc) Walker, principal.

"So many of our patrons have children in the elementary schools, and to avoid conflicting programs, we are scheduling our open house at 7:30 p'clock Thursday. We hope that every patron and all other friends of the school will take time to visit Goliad and see examples of the program.

"Naturally, we want parents to come any time — and particularly during Texas Public School Week March 2-6 — to see the school in action. The program this Thursday evening, however, is something special and we hope for a larger turnout."

Firemen Answer Two Alarms

Fire units were called out to 1413 Wood around 9:15 a.m. Tuesday to extinguish a fire in a dog house at the residence of Royce L. Johnson. Firemen said damage was extensive and that the fire was caused by a faulty electric light in the shelter.

A small fire started in the carburetor of a car belonging to a student at Howard County Junior College, identified as Buck O'Neil, around 10 a.m. Tuesday, but it was doused by firemen before extensive damage was caused.

MISHAPS

1800 block of East Third: Phillip Frank Gressett, 1002 Baylor and a car he had in tow: 10:04 a.m.

1400 block of East Third: Gerald G. Bennett, 2400 Main, and Alfred G. Armendarez, Midland: 11:27 a.m.

1000 block of West Third: Martin C. Newton, 1601 Cardinal, hit utility pole: 11:48 a.m. East Fourth and Owens: Betty J. Knight, 3205 Drexel, and Mary M. Paul, Route 1: 5:10 p.m.

Fifteenth and Main: Kenneth Ray Overby, Lenorah, and Hazel S. Wilson, 1209 Johnson: 11:36 a.m.

Burglary Charged

Isabell Espinoza, 23, 504 S. 7th, Lamesa, was charged Tuesday in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's court with burglary Saturday night of Holiday Motors. Slaughter set bond at $2,000.

Welcome to our showing of the wonderful new Camaro and Corvette. While you're our guests, we would like to invite you to browse through the entire dealership. Special attendants will be stationed in the parts and service departments to conduct you through and answer any questions. Perhaps viewing these facilities; their personnel and equipment; as well as our huge parts inventory will better enable you to understand our reputation for Service After The Sale. We would also like for you to visit our Used Car Department. Without it to efficiently handle your trade-in, our Volume Sales Policy for new Chevrolets could not exist. Our policy of reconditioning the best and wholesaling the rest also assures the used car buyer of great value for his transportation dollar.

Again, Welcome, we value you as our friends and customers.

Webb Chapel Scene Of Wedding Tuesday

The wedding of Miss Patricia Ann Bennett and Spec. 4 Billy J. Swafford was solemnized Tuesday evening with a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Claude Craven, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church, in the Webb Air Force Base Chapel.

The couple stood before an altar centered with an arch of greenery flanked by baskets of gladioli. Family pews were marked with white satin bows. The "Love Theme from Romeo and Juliet" was played by Miss Janice Majors, organist who accompanied Miss Verna Goswick as she sang "More."

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bennett, 2906 Cactus. Parents of the bridegroom are Mrs. Neoma Swafford, 1007 W. 8th, and T. V. Swafford, also of Big Spring. Miss Joyce Bennett, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and matron of honor was Mrs. Jim Clymer. They were attired in floor-length pink bonded crepe gowns with gathered skirts and Empire bodices fashioned with high necklines and brief sleeves. Their headpieces were Dior bows with pink veiling, and each carried a long-stemmed pink carnation tied with pink streamers.

The bride wore a gown of white bonded crepe styled with long sleeves and scalloped neckline. The bodice and sleeves were enhanced with applied Brussels lace flowers with beaded centers, and a border of lace circled the hemline of the gown. Her long silk veil, with silk embroidered border, was attached to a wreath of flowers and short, face-framing veil.

The bridal bouquet was a white orchid centering white Frenched carnations tied with satin streamers.

Norman Moody of McCamey was best man, and groomsmen was Raymond Swafford, brother of the bridegroom. Another brother, Larry Swafford; Gary Bradley and Ricky Smith were ushers.

RECEPTION

A reception honoring the couple was held at the Ramada

MRS. BILLY K. SWAFFORD

Inn where Miss Marsha Heard presided at the guest register. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Moody, McCamey; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Bynum, all of Sterling City.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with white

Danish Cadets Are Speakers

Two air cadets from Denmark, now training at Webb Air Force Base, told of their country Monday at a meeting of Beta Omicron Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, in the home of Mrs. Eddie Cole 2700 Carol.

Air Cadet Hans G. Johansen and Air Cadet Torsten Kindvig attended the meeting with their T-38 training officer, Capt. James W. Jacobs.

The speakers described their school system, religion, government, way of life, income, taxes and social freedom.

In Denmark a person may attend school their entire life without paying. Children attend elementary school for seven years, then may quit, however, most attend school for at least 10 years. After a certain number of years of specialization at a university, a student is asked only to pay for his textbooks, the Danes explained.

The Danish government is similar to that of the United States, except for the social welfare programs. In Denmark, everyone from the age of 15 pays a certain amount into the welfare system. All medical expenses are then taken care of by the government at no additional cost to the patients.

There are few racial, drug or demonstration problems in Denmark. Taxes are very high, said Johansen and Kindvig. A person pays about 40 per cent of his income in taxes. Luxury taxes are especially high. The number of cars owned averages out to one car a family, but cars are not used often due to the high cost of gasoline which must be imported. The Danes are a bicycle-riding people. Those who own cars, buy small autos to conserve gasoline.

All agricultural land in Denmark is cultivated, with none left idle. A main source of income is from dairy products. About 10 per cent of the people fish for a living. Denmark is surrounded by water and in the winter is encircled by ice.

Enzyme Products

Enzyme laundry products fall into two classes, according to Extension Home Management Specialist Doris Myers. Some are complete detergents which can be used in the washer just like conventional laundry detergents. Others are enzyme pre-soak products that are designed primarily to be used for soaking before the regular wash detergent.

Beta Omicron members are making plans for the Founder's Day Banquet April 29. The annual Ritual of Jewels ceremony will be held March 23 at the home of Mrs. David Rhoton, 2801 Lawrence.

Nancy Kennemur To Be Married

Mr. and Mrs. Nobel Kennemur, Garden City Route, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Nancy Jane, to Terry Wayne Hale of Karnes City, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Hale of Schulenburg, formerly of Big Spring. The couple will be married March 6 in the home of the bride's parents with Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, officiating.

linen and appointed with crystal and silver. The centerpiece was an arrangement of pink carnations and greenery, and the tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Members of the house party were Mrs. W. T. Rutledge, Mrs. W. S. Goodlett, Mrs. C. W. Smith and Mrs. J. W. Bradley.

SCHOOLS

The bride and bridegroom are both graduates of Big Spring High School where both were members of the band. She was also a member of the Shorthand Club, and he was treasurer of VICA. The couple will reside at Fort Benning, Ga., where he is stationed with the Army.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Swafford wore a pink brocade dress and jacket ensemble with white accessories and the corsage from her bouquet.

New officers for the Past Noble Grand Club, Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284, assumed duties during Monday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Mary E. Brown, 1606 Wood.

Mrs. Logan Grider is president, Mrs. A. G. Hall, vice president, Mrs. Brown, recording secretary and Mrs. Travis Melton, treasurer.

Mrs. Brown served refreshments from a table decorated in a George Washington's birthday motif. The next meeting will be held March 23 in the home of Mrs. Eugene Thomas, 502 Scott.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Just when I managed to get a raincoat that matched my new umbrella, the weather took a turn for clearing... but hold on, weather man, I don't have any water repellent boots yet. Come on with some more rain... or moisture in any form!

The relatives of the D. E. CARPENTERS left Texas too soon to see our pretty sunshiny weather. Mrs. Carpenter's mother, brother and sister-in-law, lured by the Carpenter's reports of 80 degree readings came down from South Bend, Ind., to have a looksee. What they saw was a weekend that produced snow in 46 degrees and then drizzly days, foggy mornings and then just a good rain. They just didn't stick around long enough. They left Monday morning, and by Tuesday afternoon it was unrainy again.

MRS. LENA BLANTON, sister of A. W. MOODY, is visiting the Moodys this week. She plans to return to her home in Helotes near San Antonio by the end of the week.

MRS. CALVIN BOYKIN, who underwent surgery last week, is in Room 215 at Bryan Hospital in Bryan. The Boykin home is at Monaco Two, Apt. 135, 316 Redmond St., College Station.

JACK AXTENS has returned to his work as an engineer for Kaiser in Jamaica after spending the weekend visiting his parents, MR. and MRS. A. L. AXTENS. Jack flew into Lubbock Friday and visited his father who is a patient at Methodist Hospital, then brought his mother here for the weekend with other relatives.

MRS. WALTER (Anna Agnell) HORNADAY of Austin and MRS. FRED (Cora Ashley) Houser of Houston have been visiting their mothers, MRS. DELLA K. AGNELL and MRS. LULA ASHLEY.

Eagles Auxiliary To Launch Drive

A salad supper to launch a March membership drive is planned by the Eagles Auxiliary for 7 p.m. March 9 at Settles Hotel. Mrs. Bill Cochran is in charge of the supper. The auxiliary met Monday to make plans for the supper.

Miss Edith Davie was chairman of a jewelry chest project to raise money for auxiliary activities. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Nell Tippie and Mrs. Gladys Ogle.

New Slate Named For Noble Grands

New officers for the Past Noble Grand Club, Big Spring Rebekah Lodge No. 284, assumed duties during Monday's meeting in the home of Mrs. Mary E. Brown, 1606 Wood.

Mrs. Logan Grider is president, Mrs. A. G. Hall, vice president, Mrs. Brown, recording secretary and Mrs. Travis Melton, treasurer.

Mrs. Brown served refreshments from a table decorated in a George Washington's birthday motif. The next meeting will be held March 23 in the home of Mrs. Eugene Thomas, 502 Scott.

OPEN TO PUBLIC Censorship Forum To Be Held Thursday

A forum on government censorship is scheduled Thursday at the third in a series of town meetings sponsored by the West Texas Republican Women's Club. The meeting will be held in the District Court room, and a door on the south side of Howard County Court House will be unlocked for those wishing to attend the event.

Good Citizenship Stressed In Talk

STANTON (SC) — Sheriff Dan Saunders spoke on "Responsible Citizens" at a recent meeting of Lakeview Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. W. T. Bryant. Sheriff Saunders stressed the importance of jury duty and other civic and judicial obligations.

Mrs. Alfred Franks, president, announced that Mrs. D. E. Ory, Mrs. E. P. Madison and Mrs. Fred Bowling have been selected by the HD council to attend the Texas Home Demonstration spring district meeting in Midland. Mrs. Bryant read a poem, "I Needed to Be Quiet." The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. W. J. Harlow.

Sheriff Talks On 'Changing Times'

STANTON (SC) — The changing times were discussed by Sheriff Dan Saunders, guest speaker at the Courtney Home Demonstration club meeting in the home of Mrs. N. E. Holloway. Sheriff Saunders explained court proceedings and emphasized the importance of voting in a democracy. Mrs. Albert Pittman presided and Mrs. Holloway read a council report.

Circle Discusses Lenten Season

"What Shall We Give Up for Lent" was the question asked Tuesday of Martha Foster Circle, Wesley Methodist Church. Mrs. Jamie Cofer, 707 E. 15th, was hostess. Mrs. S. L. Thurman conducted the program, assisted by Mrs. Cofer, Mrs. Howard Berry and Mrs. Abbie Anderson. Farewells were said to Mrs. Berry who is moving to Yoakum. The next meeting will be held at the church.

real estate developer, will be moderator for a panel composed of R. W. Whipkey, publisher of the Big Spring Herald; Paul Meek, president of Cosden Oil and Chemical Company; and Lyn Cauley, a Big Spring High School student.

Whipkey will discuss the dangers of government censorship of the news media; Paul Meek will point out the tendency of some news media to influence public opinion by distortion of facts; and Lyn Cauley will give students' reactions to the increase in pornographic literature and graded movies.

Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper, club president, invites the public to attend. Mrs. Ralph Gossett has arranged the program, and Mrs. W. J. Sheppard is refreshment chairman.

Another event in the offing, sponsored by the WTRW Club, is the visit here March 3 of Mrs. George Bush. She is the wife of Congressman George Bush, Republican candidate for the U.S. Senate. The affair is scheduled for 8 p.m. in First Federal Community Room where Mrs. Bush will speak on her life in Washington, D.C. and show slides of the nation's capitol. After her talk, refreshments will be served.

4-H Food Show Slated March 21

Foreign foods were among dishes displayed at the Coahoma 4-H Club meeting and food show Monday at Coahoma Junior High School. Members showed foods including Chinese meatballs over rice, Mexican flan and Kolache, Hungarian coffee cake. Foreign foods are the senior girls' project.

The show was in preparation for the county food show slated March 21. Mrs. Delaine Crawford, home demonstration agent, showed slides of table settings and gave pointers for the county show.

Senior girls who are 4-H junior leaders are working with 4-H groups on food and nutrition in preparation for the show. The leaders are Terri Beistle, Pat Fryer, Gloria Webb and Phyllis Wynn.

The next meeting will be March 23.
