RESIDENTS FLEE EXPLOSION IN LA PAZ, BOLIVIA — Residents of La Paz, Bolivia, flee in panic from downtown section of the city Monday after a government arsenal there had several explosions. Initial reports indicated that more than 15 persons were killed in the blasts.

Doctors Are Satisfied With LBJ's Condition

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson—stricken with chest pains—was reported in excellent spirits today. Doctors said they were "quietly satisfied" with his condition.

The doctors said Johnson had experienced some chest pains since entering the Army's Brooke General Hospital here Monday, but the physicians said they were minor and had not been persistent.

Army Col. Robert North, chief of cardiology at the hospital, said there had been "no serious problems of any sort."

North said he expects the former president to remain hospitalized for "at least several days," and predicted that Johnson will be able to continue his active life.

"We plan to prescribe a program of physical activity when he leaves," said North, one of at least three Army doctors attending Johnson, at least one of whom is present at all time.

The doctor called Johnson's sieges of chest pains over the weekend "another manifestation of his cardiac problem that he has had for the past 15 years."

The former president suffered a major heart attack in 1955. North stressed that there were no indications of a heart attack this time.

When Johnson entered his special penthouse suite on top of the hospital, physicians said they noted a minor change in his electrocardiograms, which provide a record of heart movements.

A major heart attack felled Johnson in 1955 when he was Senate majority leader. He was 46 at the time.

Now 61, the former chief executive was flown here by helicopter Monday afternoon following examinations by his heart specialist, Dr. J. Willis Hurst of Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., and three Army physicians.

Johnson was secluded in the seventh-floor suite that was refurbished expressly for him when he came to power in 1963. Electronic devices monitored his heart, and at least one physician stood by throughout the night.

Mrs. Johnson hurried to his side shortly after his arrival here and before long he had received telephone calls from President Richard Nixon, Secretary of State William Rogers and his two daughters.

Son-in-law Patrick Nugent paid him a brief visit.

An aide said the chest pains first struck Feb. 20 and again last Friday night, and that more pains jarrred him awake about 3 a.m. Monday.

The pains recurred about 9 a.m. Monday and then at 5 p.m. after he had entered Brooke, doctors said.

One of his attending physicians, Col. North, said hardening of the coronary arteries was reducing the supply of blood to his heart, causing the pains.

North, chief of cardiology at the hospital, compared it to an automobile carburetor "that doesn't work quite right" when it can't get enough fuel.

He said at a news conference Monday night that there had been no complications.

Pompidou Cheered By Nixon's Surprise Visit, Wings Home

NEW YORK (AP) — French President Georges Pompidou, cheered by President Nixon's surprise trip here to offset the antagonism of pro-Israel demonstrators, met with a group of business leaders today before leaving for home.

Pompidou's French Air Force plane was given a thorough going over at Kennedy Airport before his scheduled 1 p.m. departure, after an anonymous telephone call to the airline said there was a bomb aboard.

The breakfast meeting of the French president with the Business Council of International Understanding was described by the group's president, George McGee, as "very friendly."

Pompidou, reported to have welcomed American business to France, was described by former Undersecretary of State George Ball Jr. as having a markedly different attitude on the subject than that of former President Charles de Gaulle.

"The nationalist note was much less," Ball added.

Nixon's gesture on the last night of Pompidou's eight-day state visit appeared to have eased ill feeling resulting from demonstrations over France's agreement to sell 110 jets to Libya while refusing to release 50 to Israel.

Nixon brought cheers and laughter at a dinner for Pompidou when he said he had wanted the French leader to see the United States as an American president does—"And I must say we overdid it a bit, as we usually do."

Pompidou, who had been angered over what he termed insults to himself and his wife during pro-Israel demonstrations in Chicago, responded by praising Nixon and saying it was a "very great joy" to be at the dinner.

"France is our oldest ally and our closest friend," Nixon said. "That friendship is so deep and so long that no minor difficulties or bad manners are going to impair it."

Pompidou beamed as Nixon spoke and replied in a toast: "In spite of all, allies and friends."

Outside the hotel a pro-Israel demonstration drew up to 5,000 persons at one point, then dwindled rapidly away.

There were shouts of "Boo, boo, Pompidou!" Placards were displayed and some chanted Hebrew songs. Most were peaceful and police reported one arrest.

About 60 pickets maintained a vigil outside the hotel during the night but police reported no trouble.

White House Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler told newsmen on the flight back to Washington that Nixon was "quite pleased" with Pompidou's response to his gesture and the dinner.

Ziegler described Nixon's 15-minute meeting with Pompidou before the dinner as "quite warm" and said there was "good rapport" between the two leaders.

Nixon's trip here climaxed a series of moves aimed at assuaging the French president. Nixon telephoned Pompidou Sunday night to apologize for any discourtesy suffered.

During the day he had Ziegler issue a statement saying, "The President feels very strongly that a head of state who has been invited to this country and is our official guest should receive courteous treatment."

Oral Contraceptives Potential Time Bomb?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A surgeon with half a century experience in breast cancer told Congress today The Pill is a "potential time bomb with a fuse 15 to 20 years in length."

"Although there is no conclusive evidence that oral contraceptives cause breast cancer, the potential hazards involved in their protracted use by young healthy women cannot be ignored," said Dr. Max Cutler.

Cutler is medical director of the Beverly Hills, Calif., Cancer Research Foundation. He commented in testimony prepared for delivery before a Senate monopoly subcommittee that has kicked up a storm of controversy during a month-long investigation into the safety of The Pill.

Underscoring that controversy, another witness today questioned the subcommittee's right to even hear such testimony, blamed it for causing a wave of abortion-seeking and said attempts to project future harm were irresponsible.

"Scientific information cannot be resolved in a democratic approach or by majority vote," said Albert Schulman, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology at New York's Albert Einstein College of Medicine.

"The pills," said Schulman, "have probably been the most carefully scrutinized medication in medical history and we have been hard-pressed to find any significant permanent or harmful effect from using these agents."

Rejecting attempts to predict The Pill will cause cancer in 20 years or less, Schulman said: "This kind of yardstick cannot be applied . . . for if it were, penicillin would only have been released for usage during the past two or three years and thereby have deprived millions of its benefits."

Schulman was called at the request of Republican members of the subcommittee. They have been among the strongest critics of these hearings.

WHEELUS DEAL U. S.-Spanish Air Base Reopened

MADRID (AP) — The United States has reopened a joint U.S.-Spanish air base, and informed sources said it would be used for training U.S. Air Force units that previously trained at Wheelus Air Base in Libya.

The United States is closing down Wheelus at the demand of Libya's revolutionary government, which seized power last September.

Sources at Zaragoza Air Base, 200 miles northwest of Madrid, said about 200 U.S. Air Force personnel had arrived there and that about 500 airmen would be there by the time full-scale gunnery training begins.

The Spanish government and the news media it controls said the reopening Monday was "temporary" and that the base would close down again if the United States and Spain fail to reach agreement on U.S. bases in Spain during talks scheduled to begin in mid-March.

Body Of Coed Found In Carport

HOUSTON (AP) — An autopsy was ordered today on the body of a high school coed found in a darkened carport of an apartment complex.

The body of Patricia Ann Parker, 15, a coed at Jack Yates High School, was found face down beside a station wagon in the carport late Monday night.

She had gone to a friend's house to practice with a singing group.

She telephoned her mother, Mrs. Fannie Bell Parker, once during the evening saying she was going to catch a bus home. She later called and said she had a ride home.

Lamesa's Head Start Money

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith announced U.S. Office of Child Development grants today for Head Start programs at Lamesa, Rio Grande City and the Alabama-Coushatta Indian Reservation near Livingston.

The grants: —$21,328 to the Lamesa-Dawson County Community Action Council for a summer Head Start program for children, 5 and 6, from June 8 through July 31. —$252,516 to the Community Action Council of Starr County in Rio Grande City for a full year Head Start program for 150 children and a summer program for 425 pre-school children. —$17,050 to the Alabama-Coushatta Reservation Tribal Council for a full year program for 20 pre-school children.

CORSICANA COPS NAB SHOPLIFTERS

CORSICANA, Tex. (AP) — Police officers said they believe most of the $4,000 in merchandise shoplifted Monday from two Corsicana jewelry stores will be recovered.

The shoplifters, four women and one man, were arrested by Department of Public Safety officers near Ennis after they fled the city by car.

Investigating officers said the group took a pair of watches valued at $450 from one store and then moved to another where they lifted two trays of rings valued at $4,000 wholesale.

Two detectives from Corsicana police were dispatched to check out the jewelry which was found in the car.

Shooting Spree In Lubbock

LUBBOCK (AP) — Gunfire killed Lois Turnbow, 50, at her truck stop on Lubbock's North Side Monday night in a shooting spree for which police said there was no apparent reason.

They held a man, 27, without immediate charge.

Officers said a customer drinking coffee fired without warning at a waitress and then shot Mrs. Turnbow as she sought to intervene. Neither woman knew the customer, police said.

They reported the man next forced a woman to drive him three blocks to a club and officers took him into custody there.

Nixon Cites U.S. Education Reform Need

New Agency To Conduct Exams Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Declaring that "American education is in urgent need of reform," President Nixon asked Congress today to set up a new agency to conduct research and experimentation in that field.

In a special message, Nixon said the country needs "a searching re-examination of our entire approach to learning."

He said: "We must stop pretending that we understand the mystery of the learning process or that we are significantly applying science and technology to the techniques of teaching—when we spend less than one-half of 1 per cent of our educational budget on research, compared with 5 per cent of our health budget and 10 per cent of defense."

To spearhead an expanded research effort, Nixon called for creation of a National Institute of Education within the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. The NIE eventually would take over existing research programs from the Office of Education.

Noting that his budget for the 1971 fiscal year that starts July 1 calls for $312 million for educational research—an increase of $67 million—Nixon said money to carry on the work of the institute he proposes would be in addition to that.

The message puts no dollar figure on the over-all cost of operating the institute.

In other areas, Nixon said he was establishing by executive order a President's Commission on School Finance with a two-year lifetime, to develop recommendations on the fiscal and organizational needs of both public and private schools in the United States.

"Because we have neglected to plan how we will deal with school finance," he said, "we have great instability and uncertainty in the financial structure of education."

He cited as a "cause for national concern" the gap in educational spending between rich and poor states and school districts.

Discussing the problems of parochial and other schools, Nixon said their financial difficulties are to be "a particular assignment of the commission" because, he said, if all private schools were to close or turn public, the burden on public funds by the end of the 1970s would exceed $4 billion a year for operation. In addition, he estimated $5 billion more would be needed for facilities.

Hunger Committee Draws GOP Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's hunger committee—which has influenced bills improving the food stamp and school lunch programs—has been accused of overstepping its authority and providing a forum for critics of President Nixon's welfare plans.

The chief accuser, Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan., said Chairman George McGovern, D-S.D., a possible Democratic presidential contender, uses his power to schedule witnesses who oppose Nixon's welfare plans.

The attack came Monday, little more than a week after the Senate gave the controversial committee a one-year reprieve and, on a 47-12 roll call vote, granted it authority to spend $246,000 this year to delve into the medical and nonfood areas of malnutrition.

Dole, a committee member, said McGovern should adjourn his hearings, which are weighing several competing income-maintenance plans, in deference to the Finance Committee which has legislative jurisdiction over them.

He said it had already overstepped its rights when it considered the food stamp and school lunch programs, both of which fall under the Agriculture Committee.

The chief opposition to extending the McGovern committee's life span came from conservative and Southern elements of the Senate, many of whom have quarreled with the committee's hunger findings and recommendations.

McGovern read the committee's charter and said: "It seems to me to be a broad mandate to this committee to look at the problems of hunger, of health, of human needs."

"I'm fully aware that this committee has no legislative power," he said, "but I think we've demonstrated that we do have some capacity to influence the course of legislation in the U.S. Senate."

Later, the Rev. Jesse Jackson, a young civil rights leader and key aide to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., issued a challenge to the President to visit the nation's impoverished areas personally, to "touch the hands of the people," and to get a first-hand feeling of their needs.

Jackson, head of the Southern Leadership Conference's Operation Breadbasket, said the President's proposal of a guaranteed $1,600 annual family assistance program bore no relationship to the actual needs of the poor in an inflated economy.

American Buildup Under Way In Laos?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., charging a buildup of American forces is under way in Laos, said today the United States is committing the same errors it did in Vietnam.

Pack 202 Holds Banquet

Cub Scout Pack 202 held its annual Blue and Gold Banquet last week in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Monty Stokes, Lone Star District Executive, was guest speaker and addressed the scouts and their leaders on the responsibilities of parents in Cub Scouting.

Bobcat badge went to Mike Aultman and Wolf Badges went to Timmy Griffin, Mark Young, Barry Fish, Lee Sexton, Mark Pass, and Larry Wheat. Bear Badges were presented to Bobby Sexton, Mark Byrd and Craig McMahon.

Gold Arrows were awarded to Barry Fish, Mark Pass, and Mike Hunley. The Silver Arrow was given to Kevin Crenwedge, Steve Clark, Barry Fish, Mark Pass and Mike Hunley.

Mike Hunley was also awarded the Webelos Scientist award. Oren Craig got a One Year Service pin and Denner badges went to Timmy Robinson and Mike Aultman.

Assistant Denner badges went to Daniel Sundry and Timmy Griffin. All Dens were presented the Parent Attendance award, because of 100 per cent participation in the banquet.

Mrs. Barbara Bright was given a one year membership pin and Mrs. Virginia Byrd was given a two year membership pin. Stokes concluded the presentations by giving Mrs. Byrd the Den Mother's Training Award.

Police Stations Will Be Fenced

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The Board of Supervisors has approved a $100,000 emergency allocation to floodlight and fence police stations vulnerable to bombing attacks.

The unanimous action Monday was requested by police after Park Station was bombed Feb. 16, injuring eight policemen, one fatally.

Some supervisors had expressed concern that fencing might create problems of community acceptance, but the board was told by a police spokesman that the fencing would be "relatively innocuous, such as is used at some industrial plants."

Fair Winner

Jeff Moore was not listed in the initial report on the Coahoma Science Fair held Friday and Saturday. Moore won a sweepstakes award in the primary physical science division for his project "A Study of Mercury."

Opening lead: Queen of ♣. South's setback in his vulnerable four heart contract reveals a lack of planning that may occasionally afflict even the more seasoned player.

West opened the queen of clubs which South won in his hand and proceeded to draw trump in two rounds. The diamond suit appeared to offer the best prospect for developing a 10th trick, so South led the ten of diamonds next.

When West played low, declarer was confronted with a guess. He finally decided to let the ten ride in the hope that West had the queen. East, however, turned up southeast Asia, called for a full-scale Senate debate on the situation, and said the public should be told the nature and scope of the U.S. involvement.

"We not only do not know the truth about our heavy involvement in Laos," McGovern said, "but we are increasingly in the dark about what is really going on in Vietnam."

"It is absolutely incredible that a great nation such as ours could be waging a major military operation in a foreign country without the knowledge of either its citizens or its Congress."

McGovern's charges concerning the buildup of American forces in Laos echoed statements Monday by Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

"We are both in it—North Vietnamese and Americans—and we are in it up to our necks," Mansfield said. "The involvement is so transparent on both sides as to make less than the fiction of the (Geneva) accord or even to exchange charge and counter-charge of violations."

Mansfield made his statement after CIA Director Richard Helms testified before a closed-door session of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

"We need a nuts-and-bolts man who can work to retire the party debt, reorganize the party and broaden the party's base," Barnes said.

"I am in no way criticizing Sen. Fred Harris, D-Okla., but he was concerned too much with the political issues as a U.S. Senator. We should not have an elected official, or one who aspires to running for high office as chairman of the party," Barnes stated.

He said he felt Matthew E. Welsh, former Governor of Indiana would be named as the new chairman.

Humphrey recommended Welsh for the job. Barnes said he was "disappointed" Lawrence F. O'Brien did not accept the position.

Barnes also said he has accepted invitations to speak in eight states over the next two weeks "to help raise money and work hard to elect some new Democratic faces."

Jeff Moore was not listed in the initial report on the Coahoma Science Fair held Friday and Saturday. Moore won a sweepstakes award in the primary physical science division for his project "A Study of Mercury."

with that card and, after he returned a diamond to his partner's ace, a spade shift by West netted two more tricks in that suit.

While declarer was somewhat unlucky to suffer a setback on the deal, he could virtually have eliminated all guesswork, had he merely been willing to do a little inventory taking. South requires only one additional trick to supplement the nine winners he has available in hearts, clubs, and club ruffs.

He can afford to test both the spades and diamonds, therefore, but, since the spade suit can only be played in one way, it is suggested that he turn his attentions in that direction first.

After drawing trump, declarer should lead a spade from his hand and put up the king when West plays low. East will win two spade tricks and then attempt to cash a third. South ruffs out his hand as West shows out. East is known at this point to have started with a five card spade suit headed by the A-Q-J. If he had the ace of diamonds as well, he would surely have opened the bidding in third position.

Therefore, when declarer subsequently leads the ten of diamonds, if West plays low, the king can be put up from dummy with complete confidence that it will win the trick.

Students Get Holiday Friday

Big Spring students will get a holiday Friday along with most students in West Texas when teachers attend the Texas State Teachers Association district convention in Odessa.

Everett C. Lindsey, Cincinnati, Ohio, will give the principal address at 10 a.m. in Ector County Coliseum. How people act and why, how people can be motivated to change, and how they can begin to use all their true ability rather than just a small portion of it, are subjects he will cover.

A former personnel advisor for the Gulf Oil U.S. Headquarters in Houston, Lindsey received bachelor of science and master of science degrees in trade and industrial education at Oklahoma State University.

After listening to Helms, Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., answered questions when asked if the situation is becoming more critical in Laos.

Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., who also attended the committee session, said he was "extremely apprehensive" over the situation in Laos.

"I am going to do everything I can to try to persuade the administration of the dangers of increased intervention there," he said.

Fonseca told Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis the weapon frame was found after about ten days of searching by a Texas Ranger and eight other persons.

The weapon frame was found, Fonseca said, on a dirt road where Jerry O. Watkins, the state's key witness, said Charles Harrelson disassembled the weapon and threw it away a few minutes after Harrelson shot Sam Degelia Jr. to death July 6, 1963.

Scamardo, 31, a prominent Hearne businessman, is accused of being an accomplice in the shooting death of Degelia, his former business partner and longtime friend.

The indictment against Scamardo alleges he offered to pay Harrelson $2,000 to kill Degelia, a Hearne grain broker.

Defense lawyer Percy Foreman said Monday he will attempt to prove that Watkins, Harrelson and Degelia were involved in a $100,000 deal to sell 30 machine guns to Cubans or Mexican nationals.

He said he will also prove that Watkins is "the biggest liar that ever testified in a Hidalgo County Court."

Returning to the stand for further cross examination, Watkins testified that he knew nothing of such a deal. He also denied that the reason he and Harrelson went to McAllen and Degelia was shot to death involved the gun deal.

Foreman asked Watkins if he and Harrelson went to find Degelia because the Hearne man had failed to give them their share of the proceeds of the deal.

Watkins, a former convict, testified that he had not been involved in any gun running or gun deals since his release in 1963 from federal prison where he served a term for violating the federal firearms act.

Two more discrepancies appeared in Watkins' testimony as a result of Monday's cross examination and the examination of a car rental agency manager.

Watkins testified last week and again Monday that he had not been convicted of a felony moral turpitude since his release from prison in 1963.

Foreman produced records of a Houston court showing that Watkins was convicted Dec. 29, 1966, on a charge of passing a worthless check.

John Simmons, manager of the National Car Rental Agency at McAllen, testified that Watkins rented a car from his agency about 10:45 a.m. the day of the slaying and returned it about 7 p.m. the same day. He testified that the car had been driven 139 miles.

Watkins had testified that the rental car was blue. He said the reason he knew it was blue was because he had found blue paint on the clothing he wore that day. Simmons testified that the automobile was "off white" and had never been painted during the time the rental agency owned it.

Other testimony came from Lt. A. J. Woehl, a driver's license officer at Harlingen and former Hidalgo County jailer.

Lt. Woehl presented a record of an application for a driver's license filed by a Charles S. Stoughtenborough of Houston.

Vento, a fingerprint expert in addition to his duties as jailer, testified that he fingerprinted Harrelson in the county jail. He said a comparison of the fingerprints of Harrelson and those taken from the Stoughtenborough license application revealed that the two men were the same person.

Watkins had testified that he first met Harrelson when the first man was using the name Stoughtenborough.

Harrelson, charged with murder with malice in the Degelia slaying and with a similar charge in Brazoria County, was returned to Brazoria County during the past weekend.

Defense lawyer Thomas G. Sharpe Jr. of Brownsville asked Dist. Judge J. R. Alamia to sign a bench warrant ordering Harrelson to be returned to Edinburg. The judge signed the order.

Harrelson had been kept in a special cell in the sheriff's office here for about a month since the trial began. He had been taken into the courtroom on two occasions in order to allow witnesses to identify him.

Alleged Death Weapon Find Highlights Trial

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — A Hidalgo County employee continued testimony today concerning the discovery of the alleged murder weapon in the Scamardo trial.

Eugenio Fonseca, a county employee, began testifying Monday concerning the discovery of a .25 caliber pistol frame found Jan. 14, 1969, on a dirt road south of McAllen.

Fonseca told Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis the weapon frame was found after about ten days of searching by a Texas Ranger and eight other persons.

The weapon frame was found, Fonseca said, on a dirt road where Jerry O. Watkins, the state's key witness, said Charles Harrelson disassembled the weapon and threw it away a few minutes after Harrelson shot Sam Degelia Jr. to death July 6, 1963.

Foreman produced records of a Houston court showing that Watkins was convicted Dec. 29, 1966, on a charge of passing a worthless check.

John Simmons, manager of the National Car Rental Agency at McAllen, testified that Watkins rented a car from his agency about 10:45 a.m. the day of the slaying and returned it about 7 p.m. the same day. He testified that the car had been driven 139 miles.

Watkins had testified that the rental car was blue. He said the reason he knew it was blue was because he had found blue paint on the clothing he wore that day. Simmons testified that the automobile was "off white" and had never been painted during the time the rental agency owned it.

Other testimony came from Lt. A. J. Woehl, a driver's license officer at Harlingen and former Hidalgo County jailer.

Lt. Woehl presented a record of an application for a driver's license filed by a Charles S. Stoughtenborough of Houston.

Vento, a fingerprint expert in addition to his duties as jailer, testified that he fingerprinted Harrelson in the county jail. He said a comparison of the fingerprints of Harrelson and those taken from the Stoughtenborough license application revealed that the two men were the same person.

Watkins had testified that he first met Harrelson when the first man was using the name Stoughtenborough.

Harrelson, charged with murder with malice in the Degelia slaying and with a similar charge in Brazoria County, was returned to Brazoria County during the past weekend.

Defense lawyer Thomas G. Sharpe Jr. of Brownsville asked Dist. Judge J. R. Alamia to sign a bench warrant ordering Harrelson to be returned to Edinburg. The judge signed the order.

Harrelson had been kept in a special cell in the sheriff's office here for about a month since the trial began. He had been taken into the courtroom on two occasions in order to allow witnesses to identify him.

Watkins testified that he had not been involved in any gun running or gun deals since his release in 1963 from federal prison where he served a term for violating the federal firearms act.

Two more discrepancies appeared in Watkins' testimony as a result of Monday's cross examination and the examination of a car rental agency manager.

Watkins testified last week and again Monday that he had not been convicted of a felony moral turpitude since his release from prison in 1963.

KENNEDY DOG MISSING — Freckles, the five-year-old spaniel reported missing from the Virginia home of Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, is shown here walking with master, the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, during the Oregon presidential primary in April, 1968. The dog was later mentioned in several campaign speeches during the California primary.

VOTING RIGHTS BILL Southern Senators Call For Equal Treatment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is locked in its third—and probably biggest—civil rights debate of the year, its ornate chamber ringing to the now familiar Southern cry for equal treatment.

"I hope that the time will soon arrive when American citizens living South of the Mason-Dixon line can be accorded the full faith and credit for being as determined to honor the principles of the Constitution as citizens living anywhere else," declared Sen. Sam J. Ervin Jr., D-N.C.

The beetle-browed 73-year-old former judge fired the opening salvo Monday as the Senate began a filibuster-threatened debate on extending the 1965 Voting Rights Act.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield told newsmen before debate started he hoped for a final vote by the end of the week. But the Southerners appear in no hurry.

Before the Senate is a bill passed by the House last December that would extend the 1965 act for another five years, expand a ban on literacy tests from seven original target states in the South to all 50 and impose uniform, shortened residency requirements for voting for president and vice president.

equal application of the law. This is nationwide and accomplishes that purpose," said Scott.

He referred to the theme of Southern arguments in two recent debates on school desegregation. One of those debates ended in surprise Senate approval of a provision urging the government to press school desegregation policies equally in all parts of the country.

The other ended over the past weekend with defeat of three Southern attempts to curb busing and sanction the freedom-of-choice approach to school desegregation.

Ervin followed the introduction of the Scott-Hart amendment Monday with a dozen amendments of his own that would sharply alter the liberal proposal.

The first votes probably will come on the Ervin amendments but just when that will be is anybody's guess.

Mansfield said he doubted persistent reports that Southerners plan to burst into the midst of the voting rights debate with an effort to force a vote on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell.

Mansfield has promised swift consideration of the Carswell nomination once voting rights is out of the way. But he has indicated delay on voting rights means delay in voting on Carswell to the high court, which could give opponents of the nomination more time to prepare their case, something the judge's fellow Southerners want to avoid.

TRUSTEES CALL FOR CLOSER REVIEW

Suspended Pupils, Fired Teachers

AUSTIN (AP) — Suspended pupils and fired teachers may not be getting a fair shake, several members of the state Board of Education agreed Monday.

Jack Binion, board member from Houston, said a committee would look at the possibility of delaying pupil suspensions pending appeal and requiring a hearing before a teacher can be fired.

"Evidently some of these teachers think they don't have a Chinaman's chance," said board member Paul Greenwood. The matters came up as the board rejected, on procedural grounds, an appeal from a teacher fired by the Marlin School District and one from a high school pupil suspended for allegedly violating the Galena Park School District's drug rules.

Education Commissioner Jim W. Edgar ruled the teacher had no right to an automatic hearing. He said, in effect, that she could be fired without a hearing if she did not ask for one.

T. W. Proctor of Houston, the high school boy's lawyer, suggested a policy is needed that would let a pupil stay in school while his suspension is being appealed.

"It shouldn't be a matter of losing a whole semester whether he is right or wrong," Proctor said.

Edgar had upheld the suspension, which the board sustained, because an appeal was not filed within 30 days.

"As a matter of fairness we should give some consideration and study to the procedure we will use in appeals," Binion said.

The board voted to re-adopt textbooks in 36 subjects, calling for new ones in 24 and wait until later this spring to decide on two others, including one for seventh grade "life science." Edgar said any book considered for seventh grade "life science" must contain a statement that "any material on evolution presented in the book is presented as a theory rather than as a fact."

He also said literature books "should not include language blatantly offensive or language which would cause embarrassing situations in the classroom or cause interference in the learning atmosphere of the classrooms."

In other action, the board: —Said local school districts must contribute $217.2 million as their approximately 20 percent share of the cost of the minimum foundation school program in 1970-71.

—Received a report that the proportion of pupils taking driver education has jumped from 32 per cent in 1966-67 to 88 per cent in the current school year. The report said non-degree teaching assistants are about as effective as driver education teachers with college degrees.

Money Seminar Opens Monday

In the first of a series of money-management seminars Monday night in the high school cafeteria, three local bankers spoke on financial matters to approximately 60 Howard County teachers.

Larson Lloyd, president of Security State Bank, spoke on "Using Credit Intelligently" and "Personal Budgeting." Jimmy Taylor, president of First National Bank, spoke on "Truth in Lending — What It Means To Me" and "Bank Financing of Consumer Products." John Currie, vice president of State National Bank, spoke on "Personal Money Management."

The seminars sponsored by the West Texas Education Center will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. each Monday for eight weeks.

Twisters Bang Parts Of Texas

By The Associated Press
One or more tornadoes skipped through areas just north of Fort Worth and Dallas before dawn today, causing at least some damage, while thunderstorms and often heavy rains battered a broad expanse of North and Central Texas.

The springlike storms, putting in an appearance early this year, set off flooding in Mineral Wells, where as much as seven inches of rain poured down, and filled streets and roadways with water at other points.

State police reported a twister dipped into Grapevine northeast of Fort Worth about 4:10 a.m., battering several trailer homes and knocking out windows in business places. There apparently were no injuries. First estimates put the loss at around $40,000.

Possibly the same tornado slashed into the Wylie community north of Dallas about 5 a.m. and four persons suffered injuries. Hospital attendants listed them as Mrs. Joy Allen, condition undetermined, and her three children, none believed to be hurt seriously. Damage at Wylie was not determined at once.

The turbulent storms raged through the night and into this morning.

Hail rattled off the rooftops during some of the bristling storms.

At the same time showers ranged through the plains opposite the Upper and Middle Texas Coast, and still other bands of showers dampened much of Northeast Texas.

Police Sgt. R.S. Purcell Sr. reported about seven inches of rain sent muddy water rising as much as a foot deep in some stores and dwellings at Mineral Wells, one of the hardest hit places.

"We had to rescue some people off the tops of cars, even using boats right in the middle of Mineral Wells," the officer said.

Lightning struck a trailer house and overturned it atop a car but the occupants escaped injury, Purcell said. Two cars which washed down Rock Creek apparently were unoccupied.

One wave of storms thundered through the Mineral Wells area from around 5:30 to 10 p.m., dumping more than 6 inches of rain, and a second set of squall lines added 7 1/2 inches of moisture from 1 to 2 a.m.

Purcell said most of the high water drained off during the night, leaving scores of cars drowned out.

The thunderstorms sprang up along and ahead of a Pacific cold front stalled across West Texas along a line from Wichita Falls southward past San Angelo and near Del Rio. Another and colder Canadian front meanwhile was pushing southward from Kansas into northern sections of Texas.

Some of the heavier thunderstorms extended over a broad belt from around Wichita Falls and Mineral Wells southward through the Abilene and San Angelo areas, past Waco and close to Austin, at the same time spreading eastward through Jacksboro, Fort Worth, Dallas, Greenville, Paris, Mount Vernon and Texarkana.

Despite the menacing turbulence and frequently gusty wind, there was no report of serious injury anywhere in the storm belt early today.

Earlier Monday evening, severe thunderstorms also formed in Mexico and swept across the Rio Grande toward the Southwest Texas counties of Maverick, Kinney, Uvalde and Zavala, some packing hail and wind gusting at more than 50 miles per hour.

At the same time there were light showers in parts of the Texas Panhandle and South Plains.

By this morning skies were clear in West Texas behind the Pacific front while rains or drizzle hung on farther east.

Forecasts called for gradual clearing and lower temperatures over most of the state by tonight and Wednesday.

Top temperatures Monday afternoon before the colder air kicked up the storms ran as high as 80 degrees at San Angelo with many points recording marks in the 70s.

Readings near daylight today ranged from 70 at Brownsville down to 35 at Dalhart.

New Way Found To Stop Hair Loss, Grow More Hair

HOUSTON, Texas — If you don't suffer from male pattern baldness, you can now stop your hair loss and grow more hair. For years "they said it couldn't be done." But now a firm of laboratory consultants has developed a treatment for both men and women, that is not only stopping hair loss but is really growing hair.

They don't even ask you to take their word for it. If they believe that the treatment will help you, they invite you to try it for 32 days and see for yourself. Naturally, they would not offer this opportunity unless the treatment worked. However, it is impossible to help every one.

The great majority of cases of excessive hair fall and baldness are the beginning and more fully developed stages of male pattern baldness and cannot be helped.

For more information, write Loesch Laboratory Consultants, Inc., and if they believe the treatment will help you, they will advise how you can take advantage of this 32 day trial at a special introductory price with a money-back-guarantee. Just send them the information listed below.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Lord, when did we see thee hungry . . . or thirsty . . . ? And when did we see thee a stranger . . . or naked . . . ? And when did we see thee sick or in prison?" (Matthew 25:37-39, RSV)

PRAYER: Help us, dear Father, to be reconciled to Thee so that we become reconcilers through love of Him who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . ." Amen.

Effort As A Criterion

When the next legislature convenes, money — as always — will be the prime topic. One of the prime topics of the prime topic will be money for schools.

The problem of how much additional revenue will be required and where to get it is a sticky one, especially when one considers that the natives are getting restless. But if the state does come up with additional funding that is geared to the 80 (state)-20 (local) formula, this bodes grievous troubles for many if not most districts.

Thus, there will be a lot more pressure on the legislature in the next session to re-examine the Governor's Report (one prepared by a blue-chip committee named by former Gov. John Connally) which concluded that the basis of state-local participation ought to be changed. In essence, the committee was for the state helping more where local districts are making great effort, and less where the districts are making less effort. This will require a reshuffling of the old economic index which was set up when the Gilmer-Aiken bill revitalized Texas education support. The time has long since passed for supplanting this formula with one that is geared more accurately to honest, uniform values, and to the ratio of honest effort by districts to a standard table of values. Three large districts have filed suit to compel this, but even if there is no decision or if the suit is unsuccessful, the legislature is almost obliged to do something about it.

Frightening Attitude

Hubert Humphrey slammed shut his folder of notes and walked out of the auditorium in Amherst, Mass. He had been trying for 15 minutes to begin a lecture on foreign policy, but a loud group of young protesters, dressed in black robes and shouting, "Guilty, guilty," refused to be silent long enough for him to speak.

It was a frightening example of a one-sided view of freedom of speech — a view which could endanger both that freedom and the intelligent dissent upon which this nation depends for much of its progress.

If freedom of speech is to endure in this nation, it must be based on a willingness also to listen.

It is well to remember that freedom of speech and dissent, so vital to a free society, depend on a universal respect for the rights of others.

It also would be well to remember that the person with whom one disagrees may have something enlightening to say.

"THEY FIT — THEY FIT!"

Hal Boyle Needed: A Course In How To Live

NEW YORK (AP) — It is hard to say today whether we are educating our young for life or for disaster.

Perhaps part of the rebellion of youth may be due to the fact that they feel their heads are being stuffed with useless lumber, information that only a pedant would enjoy acquiring.

Certainly many kids become school dropouts because of a conviction, conscious or subconscious, that they are being taught things that are to them at least a waste of time, and are not being taught things that will help them land a job and lead the kind of life they have in mind.

Why should a girl who only wants to work a typewriter until she lands a man have to study quadratic equations? Why should a boy who wants to become a lawyer have to bone up on the History of Vertebrae Metallurgy or a subject equally nonsensical? We try to strap an education to the student's back instead of leading him to the knowledge he needs.

Civilization is also getting so complicated, it seems to me, that every student needs a simple course in how to live. It would teach him in simple practical terms how to get along in the modern world, how to cope with the problems that all of us, no matter what careers we follow, have to deal with sooner or later.

Such a course, for example, might prepare us for such exigencies, contingencies, bafflements and predicaments as these:

How to sew on a button. Whether it's safe to eat the contents of a half-full can of food in the refrigerator if your wife has been gone 10 days on a visit to her folks.

What to say to a bore when he asks you about a party to which you haven't invited him.

Just what to do if a zipper sticks in an airport rest room, and the plane is scheduled to take off in five more minutes.

Whether to ask a bill collector in for a beer when he kicks on your door and demands to know why you are two months late with your last instalment.

How to make a forceful and winning plea for a merit raise on a day the boss comes in with a king-size hangover.

When you're holding a leaking basement water pipe with one hand, how to reach the kitchen telephone and call the plumber. Then, what to do constructively with your time while waiting for the plumber to get there.

What to do about a fellow employee who insists on coming into the office whistling on rainy Mondays.

When to trust a weather forecaster. How to avoid buying a box of something you don't want—but still be able to come up with the boxtop you need in order to send it away and get something you do want.

These are a few of the prime everyday problems of civilization, and so far our modern educational system has done precious little to help man solve them.

John Cunniff Housing Industry Woes

NEW YORK (AP) — Attended by social consequences that could sour the spirit of the country for years to come, the United States steadily falls behind its goal of 2.6 million housing units a year.

The Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968 set the goal. Inflation and the battle against inflation are aborting it. Money is being drained from the housing market to more profitable investments elsewhere.

In January, the annual rate of housing starts dropped to 1,116,000 units. More ominous, the issuance rate of building permits nosedived, indicating that the number of starts will drop even lower in coming months.

The nature of housing is changing also. Much of the present construction is apartment house style. Individual house construction is becoming less common. And hundreds of thousands are turning to mobile homes.

No matter what is done now to change the rapidly eroding housing industry, it never again will be the same. In order to maintain its skills, any industry must offer work to its members.

Jobs are plentiful in most areas of the economy. When skilled workers leave the housing industry, therefore, they may leave for good. And the same may be said for many small builders.

As a consequence, the house of the future is increasingly going to be made at the factories of large companies that can take advantage of automation, and which can offer steady employment to workers.

Although it is not official economic policy to damage the housing industry as it exists, it is an almost inevitable consequence of such policy. Government officials from the president down concede this.

Why, then, do they permit it? A lot of people are asking that question every day, including of course the 51,000 members of the National Association of Home Builders.

Testifying before a congressional committee last month, NAHB president Louis R. Barba stated: "It is almost beyond belief that we can allow an industry that has proven to be a great national resource . . . be crippled so seriously."

The conventional explanation is that the economy must be brought back into balance through the use of fiscal and monetary restraints. That means tight money. And it also means high interest rates, which are the price tags on money.

Housing might very well get its share of financing if it could pay higher rates. However, for complicated economic reasons, the so-called thrift institutions, including savings and loan associations, are restrained from open competition for funds.

Around The Rim No Money But Plenty Of Music

A couple of Tuesdays ago, in this column, I started a love letter to Bert Bacharach.

A preamble seemed fitting, and in attempting to match the man and his music to his times, what developed was a mini-history of music — American style.

"YOU DIDN'T mention my song," someone said. "Those tunes were before my time," said someone else. "Say, I had forgotten that melody — almost," remarked another.

Let's look again; this time at the decade of the thirties. It began in gloom which gathered momentum as waves from the stock market crash spread from a fearful city to every farm house in the nation. As early as 1931, some 2,300 banks had failed (and even bootleg liquor sales fell off) as the word on every tongue was "depression."

Sinclair Lewis was the first American to be awarded the Nobel prize in literature — and experiments were being made with an idea called television. A moratorium on mortgage foreclosures spread to a number of states and the "Bonus Army" camped in mud flats near Washington, D.C. What kind of fear or frustration may have motivated the disgrace of 30 lynchings which took place in 1931?

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT, Democrat, became president and drastic steps were taken to break the depression. Gold exports were banned. Congress passed the Agricultural Adjustment Act and the National Industrial Recovery Act (N.R.A.). The Works Progress Administration and Social Security were born.

On Aug. 19, 1935, Adolf Hitler, German Chancellor, became "Der Führer." Huey P. Long, Louisiana senator was assassinated — and Will Rogers and Wiley Post died in an Alaskan plane crash.

Orson Welles' radio drama, "War of the Worlds," scared the pants off America.

IT WAS A troubled, terrible time with more in store as the decade closed. World War II was beginning — and bombs were falling on Britain. Unable to make money, many could make music.

In the early years, there was "Bidin' My Time," "Body and Soul," "Dancing With Tears In My Eyes," "Fine and Dandy," "Embraceable You," "Get Happy," "I'm Confessin' That I Love You," "Just A Gigolo," "On The Sunny Side of the Street," and "Walkin' My Baby Back Home." Do you remember humming the tunes?

THEN HOW ABOUT "The Waltz You Saved For Me," "Mood Indigo," "Someday I'll Find You," "Forty-Second Street," "In A Shanty In Old Shanty Town," "Inka Dinka Doo," "It's Only A Paper Moon," or "The Last Round-Up"?

EVERYONE WAS whistling "Begin the Beguine," "Cheek to Cheek," "I Got Plenty of Nuttin'," "Lullaby of Broadway," "Just One of Those Things," "Moon Over Miami," "When I Grow Too Old To Dream," "Zing, Went the Strings of My Heart," "I'm An Old Cowhand," "It's A Sin To Tell A Lie," "The Way You Look Tonight," "You Turned the Tables on Me," "That Old Feeling," "I Can Dream, Can't I?," "I'll Be Seeing You" and "You Go To My Head."

It's How Many Times We Get Killed

WASHINGTON — There have been some frightening figures coming out of the Pentagon lately on Soviet missiles. They have been released by pure coincidence at the very moment that the Defense Department is asking for the second down payment on the antiballistic missile system. We have been told that the nuclear balance is in danger and by 1975 the Soviets will have five times as many nuclear weapons as the United States.

What does this all mean? To find out, I visited the Pentagon and talked with Hiram Hempleweather of SHOT which stands for Scaring the Hell Out of the Taxpayers.

HEMPLEWEATHER was perspiring when I walked into his office. "It may be too late even now to catch up with the Soviets," he said.

"How's that?" I asked. "The Soviet ratio of four missiles to our one could easily change by 1975 to five missiles to our one. We won't have a chance."

"What do you mean we won't have a chance?" "At the moment the Russians can kill each American four times, and we can kill each Russian only once. In five years they can kill us five times and we can only kill them once. This puts us at a terrible disadvantage. We must maintain the four-to-one ratio or we'll be at the Kremlin's mercy."

"BUT SURELY our Polaris Poseidon submarines can protect us." "Not for long. By 1975 we'll have only 650 Polaris missiles available for launching, while the Russians will have 950 submarine missiles to launch at us. This means we can kill each Russian only two-thirds as many times as they can kill each American."

"How did it happen?" "THE AMERICANS have been lulled into thinking that as long as they can kill Russians once, they have a defense."

"They don't?" "Of course not," Hempleweather said. "Suppose we go to the disarmament talks in Vienna and say to the Soviets, 'We have enough weapons in our stockpile to kill every citizen in the USSR three times,' and they come back and say, 'So what? We have enough missiles to kill every American 15 times.' That will put us at a disadvantage. But if we have parity and we can say that we can kill every Russian 10 times for every American they kill 10 times, we'll be in a better bargaining position, and they'll think twice about starting something."

"THE PROBLEM with your argument as I see it," I told Hempleweather, "is that Americans don't want to spend money on weapons that can kill the Russians more than once." "Right you are, and the Soviets are well aware of this. That's why they're winning the missile race. Someday we're going to wake up and discover the Russians can kill us as many times as they want to, and there won't be a damn thing we can do about it."

When Nixon And Pompidou Talked

WASHINGTON — It is gratifying to learn from White House sources who were privy to the Nixon-Pompidou conversations that — among other things — the President of the United States took an alternately tough and apologetic line with the President of France.

NIXON, IT is learned, all but read a lecture to Pompidou about the failure — or unwillingness — of France to crack down on illegal shipments of heroin and other drugs to the United States. On the other hand, he expressed official regret over the refusal of New York's Mayor John Lindsay and Chicago's Mayor Richard Daley to have anything to do with Pompidou on his visits to those hamlets.

Nixon told Pompidou it would be a "great help" to efforts to control drug abuse in the U.S. if France would lay a firmer hand on its international dope merchants. He noted that France, particularly the port of Marseilles where opium from the Middle East is processed into heroin, is the major trafficking center for drug shipments to the American East Coast.

THE FRENCH President also listened as Nixon read a news story from the New York Times which quoted a specialist on drug problems as saying the outbreak of drug deaths in New York City amounted to an "epidemic." Dr. Michael Baden, an associate medical examiner for the city, based his statement on the fact that "more people died in New York City, in the young age groups, of heroin than of all the infectious diseases, and all of the muscular dystrophies and polio and parasitic diseases combined . . ."

POMPIDOU in effect agreed that France's efforts to stem the drug flow had been inadequate and ineffectual. But he said that when he took office he ordered a staff study of the situation and in the meantime has directed law enforcement agencies to step up their activities.

As for the Lindsay-Daley snubs, Nixon explained that mayors of certain cities "have their own foreign policies," designed to suit local political situations. New York City in particular, said Nixon with a grin, was a kind of sovereign principality. Pompidou returned the grin. "Like our Brittany," he quipped.

POMPIDOU ALSO had the last word for Lindsay and Daley, according to those in the know. Nixon expressed his regrets that "certain public officials" had not seen fit to extend simple courtesy to a guest in the nation's official house.

"It is nothing," Pompidou replied. "France has politicians, too. And besides, I refuse to be snubbed. After all, I didn't ask to see either Mayor Lindsay or Mayor Daley." He might have added a triumphant French word, spelled touche.

Marquis Childs The Urgency Of Family Planning

WASHINGTON — Over this reporter's years in Washington (almost too many to contemplate) Congressional hearings have made and broken reputations. They have produced flaring headlines that dissolved with the next morning's mists and with about as much effect on the nation.

At a guess no hearings in a very long time have had such immediate and long-term consequences in the sum total of human misery as those before Sen. Gaylord Nelson's subcommittee on business practices. A parade of witnesses raised medical doubts about the contraceptive pill.

AS REFLECTED in the news media, the hearings seemed to those directly concerned with the grave problem of the population explosion to be both distorted and oversensational. While the medical testimony was not new it got dramatic currency in the news media, with headlines about side effects, including even the intimation of cancer.

NOW, BELATEDLY, one of the world's greatest authorities on the whole population problem has come before the committee to try to put the issue of the pill in perspective.

Billy Graham

I have kept a secret from my husband many years. Must I tell him and take the consequences? I've talked to God and repented, and am willing to confess my sin to my husband. But I fear that his reaction may not be favorable. Please tell me what to do? M.F.

The Bible says: "If we confess our sins unto him (Jesus Christ), he is faithful and just to forgive our sins, and to cleanse us from all unrighteousness." Sometimes the confession of the sin of immorality can bring violent repercussions. In most instances I believe it is sufficient to confess this sin to God, unless the sin was committed so openly that your spouse may find out about it anyway. I know the pressure you must be under to find release from the guilt which has come to you as a result of breaking the seventh commandment. God knows you are willing to confess it to your husband, and He knows you are sincerely sorry for your deed.

Some people equate the sin of immorality with the unpardonable sin. But, it should not be. While it is a terrible thing to break the marriage is forgivable. Jesus forgave many people of this sin in the New Testament, and He will forgive you. If this sin was committed in the far-distant past, perhaps before you yielded your life to Christ — I would be hesitant to share the dark secret with your husband. But, if it is a fresh offense, and one which silence might jeopardize your marital relationship, then a confession to your husband may be indicated. God has forgiven you; now, forgive yourself.

EXPERTS ESTIMATE, according to Dr. Guttmacher, that between 200,000 and 1,000,000 illegal abortions are performed each year with a death rate estimated at 100 per 100,000 when illegal operations are performed by nonmedical persons. But an even darker shadow is cast for the long term, in Dr. Guttmacher's view, by the unwanted pregnancies. He cited a recent study to show that at least 750,000 children born each year are unwanted at the time of their conception.

AT THE ROOT of the matter is the need for far greater research in the pill and other methods of contraception. Repeatedly over the years leading authorities have urged the Federal government to provide funds for research that can come in sufficient volume only from government. In 1967 a group of experts recommended to the Department of Health, Education and Welfare a program of at least $150,000,000 a year for research in reproductive biology, social research and training in population problems and a family planning and demonstration fund of at least $10,000,000 a year. Dr. Guttmacher noted wryly that, needless to say, this appropriation was not forthcoming.

HE URGED MEMBERS of the Nelson committee to support a measure with bipartisan support of 86 senators and representatives for funding extensive research in the whole spectrum of family planning and population. Rhetoric is not enough, however well-intentioned. Only a stern resolve to do what must be done and pay for it will suffice. (Copyright, 1970, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

To Your Good Health Ugly Bruises—Senile Purpura

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In the area from elbows to wrists, I have been suffering ugly bruises every time I bump, or even touch, however slightly, any object.

A hematologist diagnosed it as senile purpura but did not give a prognosis or suggest a course of treatment. Recently I read about a vitamin complex for this. Could you comment?—Mrs. M.S.

Purpura means bleeding into or just under the skin layer. There are various types and causes. "I bruise so easily," is a rather common complaint. Senile purpura is seen in elderly people. Walls of the small blood vessels have lost their tone and become fragile. A slight bump, even pressure, makes them bleed a little. The result: purplish discoloration. Principal areas involved are the arms, thighs, and backs of the hands.

Do not expect too much from treatment, certainly not a sudden correction of a condition that has taken many years to develop. (Doubtless heredity has something to do with it, too. Some of us are born with rugged artery walls; some are not.)

My suggestion for the most effective course is to get more protein in your diet; plus milk (or skim milk, or buttermilk, or cottage cheese; for the calcium, which is necessary; plus vitamin C (as in citrus fruits or juices, tomato juice, or ascorbic acid tablets — vitamin C being ascorbic acid). In fact, vitamin B-complex may be of help, too, so a mixed vitamin preparation of the B-group vitamins and C would be in order.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have had gout for about two years and it is very painful. I am told that excessive uric acid is the cause of it. It has had several kinds of medicine from two doctors but I still have severe attacks. Please tell me what you know about this disease that may help me.—G.A.

You're right that it is painful and right that excess uric acid is the root of the problem. You do not indicate whether you merely "had several kinds of medicine," or whether you are on regular, daily medication — which you should be to get results. Neither do I know how severely your trouble had developed before you started treatment. Some cases take longer to control than others.

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what types of trouble to look for send for Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "You And Your Gall Bladder." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover the cost or printing and handling.

Karen Hoelscher Wins Homemaking Contest

Karen Hoelscher, 16, Garden City High School senior, last week became the second one in her family to be named "Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow" — and she's never had a homemaking course in her life.

"Every year all the senior girls taken the exam," she said. "The test isn't just over cooking and sewing, though. It's about getting along with kids, and your family, and things like that," she said. Her older sister, Linda Hoelscher, won the award three years ago.

Graduating from high school two years early, she skipped the first and eleventh grades, she plans to attend Angelo State University where she will major in math. "I think I'd like to work with computers, but I'm not sure," she said.

A member of the Beta Club, she won the state title in typing in University Interscholastic League during her freshman year and was runner-up in shorthand her sophomore year.

She is outgoing president of the St. Lawrence 4-H Club and is also their Gold Star Girl for 1969. She served as president of her freshman class and secretary of her sophomore class in high school and plays the organ for St. Lawrence Catholic Church.

NEW WAY TO BE SUDDENLY SLIM

Are you a woman whose figure is on the good side but might look perfect? You'll be thrilled by the new easy way science has discovered for you to become Suddenly Slim and yet completely comfortable. If you're more than 15 pounds overweight, or your waistline is larger than 32 inches, then this idea is not for you. If your weight problem falls within this range, then you can realize a new, smoother figure today, without diet or exercise.

Suddenly Slim is an all-new kind of 4-oz. girdle constructed of science fibers. One startling innovation is the sheer nylon front panel. This is permanently stiffened by a science process and cannot give or sag. It's surrounded by a slimming action border. A feather-stitched panel down each side of this girdle will contour your hips if they are a problem.

The girdle itself is of a "wonder" Lycra spandex blend. It's a new power net consisting of nylon, acetate and spandex. It is so comfortable, but has such slimming strength, it gives your figure everything that's possible with a foundation.

"Suddenly Slim," in both girdle and panty versions, is the peak achievement of the California designer-genius, Olga. They are available at Hemphill - Wells Co. Foundation Department, 214 Main Ph. 267-8284.

MRS. LESLIE WAYNE HOOPER

Couple United In Marriage

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Wayne Hooper are residing at 803 E. 13th following their wedding Sunday afternoon in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hooper, 907 E. 13th.

The bride is the former Mrs. Mary Francis Roy, daughter of Mrs. Mary Duckworth of Lubbock.

The single ring ceremony was performed by Walter Grice, Justice of the Peace, before an arch of greenery accented with white satin bows.

The bride was given in marriage by Charles Dickson, a friend of the family. Her wedding attire was a street-length dress of white lace with scoop neckline and long scalloped sleeves. Her floral headpiece held a shoulder-length veil of illusion, and she wore a single strand of pearls. A white Bible, she carried a white orchid showered with satin streamers.

The bridegroom's sister-in-law, Mrs. Don Mince, served as matron of honor and wore a pale blue chiffon sleeveless dress with full skirt banded in blue satin. Her corsage was of pompon mums tied with white ribbon.

Don Mince, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Immediately after the ceremony, the couple was honored at a reception in the home where refreshments were served from a table covered with a white lace and linen cloth. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and groom, and those presiding at the table were Mrs. Henry Hull and Mrs. Charles Dickson. Miss Terri Mince and Miss Sheryl Mince were at the registry.

The bride, who attended school in Wichita Falls, is employed by the Wagon Wheel Drive-In. The bridegroom attended Big Spring schools and is employed by Caldwell Electric Company.

'All My Sons' Speeches Given By Joy Stevens

Joy Stevens, a high school drama student, gave her interpretation of the mother in the play, "All My Sons," by Arthur Miller during a program Monday for Mu Zeta Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi.

Miss Stevens, introduced by her teacher, Mrs. R. C. Shaver, was heard in three speeches made by the mother where she "tried to convince the world that her son had not been shot down in war."

Mrs. Shaver spoke on the art of speech, stressing that language is a basis of all human relationships. She said there can be no understanding without verbal communication and that one's person is reflected in his speech. In conclusion, she noted there are 3,000 languages today, with known written records of language dating back to 1850 B.C.

Texas Heritage Reviewed At Club

"Texas Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," was presented by Mrs. Clyde Angel, guest speaker at the Forsan Study Club meeting Monday at Forsan School. "Texas is proud of its heritage, opportunities and resources," Mrs. Angel said, in her talk.

Mrs. Nell Parker was a visitor. Hostesses were Mrs. Joe B. Hoard, Mrs. Lee Yarborough, Mrs. Tony Brons and Mrs. Don Murphy.

Club Views Film And Style Show

A style show and film on fashion were presented by Mrs. Joe Gunning, fashion coordinator at Montgomery Ward Department Store, Monday at the 1941 Study Club of Forsan meeting in the home of Mrs. Grady Tindol. Mrs. Ruth Smith was cohostess and Mrs. Paul Allen was program chairman.

The movie, "A Soft Look into the Fashions of 1970" was shown, and Miss Denise Estes and Mrs. Kent Stephens modeled. The fashion show was attended by 18 guests.

Plans were announced for the Cancer Crusade April 2 when members will canvass neighborhoods.

Refreshments were served in a Texas Independence Day theme. Hostesses for the next meeting April 6 will be Mrs. Ray Swann and Mrs. Wendell Shive.

Frank K. McCartys Honored At Shower

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kent McCartys were honored with a gift shower Friday evening in the fellowship hall of Evangel Temple Assembly of God Church.

Mrs. McCartys is the former Miss Carol Ann Grimsley. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James O. Grimsley Sr., 1406 Runnels, and Mrs. C.

E. McCartys, 435 Dallas, and the late Mr. McCartys.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. C. Davis, Mrs. Joe Dunn, Mrs. R. G. Nelson and Mrs. Walter Rau. Miss Linda Davis and Miss Shiretta Ownbey served at the refreshment table which was laid with a white cloth with net overlay and centered with an arrangement of pink roses. A pair of silver candelabra holding pink tapers completed the setting.

The gift table was covered with a white cloth edged in white lace.

From history pages, we learn that some 17 centuries ago on the shores of the Mediterranean, the Greeks settled in a place that is now known as Napoli. One memento they left for the future Italians was the art of pizza making. Italians, in turn, accepted the gift, improved it and sent it on to us.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am employed in the records department of a governmental agency, and I would like to use your widely syndicated column to air a gripe.

People who lie about their ages! They louse up our Social Security records, insurance and pension payments. They do the same in private business.

We've had cases where people have lied about their ages from one to 15 years and what a Godawful mess that leaves us in!

So, be a pal, Abby, and tell the people out there, it's a sin to tell a lie.

OLGA IN RECORDS
DEAR OLGA: While I do not condone lying about anything, I can certainly understand why so many people have lied about their ages. Private companies as well as government agencies have been so unfair and unrealistic in their hiring and

DEAR ABBY: There is a fellow in one of my classes who digs me, but I don't dig him. There's nothing wrong with him. He's just not my type. He asks me for dates months ahead, so he knows I can't possibly have a date for that night.

What can I tell him?

DEAR TURNED: The next time he asks you for a date level with him. Tell him to ask somebody else. And if you can dig up a girl who you think might dig him, suggest he call her. It's not as unkind as it sounds. It's better than going with him and wasting his money and your time.

DEAR ABBY: Last summer I wrote to you about my problem and enclosed a self-addressed envelope for your reply. You answered that letter, but I never did see your answer although it helped to save our marriage. Do you know why?

My husband got the mail before I did that day. He saw a letter addressed to me in my own hand, became curious, and opened the letter, read it, and never showed it to me. He told me later that at first he was very angry with me for having written to you, but after he thought about it for a while he decided to take your advice, which was for us to see the family counseling service.

I never could figure out why, out of the clear blue sky, my husband decided we should get professional help.

I thought you'd like to know, Abby, that although our marriage is far from ideal, it is a lot better, and it's improving all the time.

So thanks, Abby, for a letter you wrote to me which I never read, but helped me all the same. MAPLE SHADE, N.J.

Forsan Has 2 In School Race

With only one day left to file for places on the ballots, the Forsan County Line Independent School District has one candidate for each open position on its school board, and the County School Board is short one applicant.

Leon Ward, a pipeliner, filed this morning in the Forsan race for the year left on the unexpired term of Tommy Albertson. Albertson resigned last month to move to Ozona.

Candidates who have filed for the two three-year terms up for election this year include Jimmie C. Shoultz, Box 213, Forsan, dirt contractor, and Burl D. Griffith, Box 666, Forsan, electrician.

No one has filed for trustee-at-large in the county contest. R. L. Heith, 36, 1711 Yale, has filed in Precinct 4 and Hayes Stripling Jr., 44, Box 710, has filed in Precinct 3.

Applications for places on the ballots may be filed in the County Judge Lee Porter's office on the second floor of the courthouse.

There's Little Doubt Labor Leans Toward Yarborough

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Texas AFL-CIO takes a look at U.S. Senate candidates today but there is little doubt that labor leans toward Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

The Democratic senator, arriving on the eve of the convention, receiving a rousing ovation as he entered and left a closed meeting at the convention hotel Monday.

"I would think the sentiment of the convention is for Sen. Yarborough," said Hank Brown, president of the labor organization and longtime supporter of the state's senior senator.

Yarborough, his Democratic opponent Lloyd Bentsen Jr. and the two Republican candidates—Rep. George Bush and Dr. Robert Morris—were to appear today before the AFL-CIO's Committee on Political Education.

Few, if any, doubted that the labor blessing would go to Yarborough, chairman of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee.

Most of the labor delegates sported Yarborough's symbolic "Yellow Rose of Texas" pins and the letters "RWY."

The "RWY," Yarborough said, stands for "Right Way Yarborough."

Monday's session was part of a COPE area conference, sponsored by the National AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education. It was opened by Al Barkan, national director of COPE. It was stressed during the session that the present balance in the Senate is 57 Democrats and 43 Republicans, with 25 Democratic seats up for grabs and only 10 Republicans under the gun.

Yarborough told the conference the rash of voter registrations in the last two weeks before the Jan. 31 deadline make it possible for the Democrats to win the 1970 elections in Texas, but he warned that the voters registered are going to have to go to the polls in heavy numbers if they are to turn back the Republican push.

Gov. Preston Smith and his Republican opponents, Paul Eggers and Roger Martin, are to appear before the group Wednesday. They will be followed by Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes and his GOP opponent, Byron Fullerton.

The final appearance before the convention will be by Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin and his Democratic opponent, Dist. Judge David Brown, and Republican Edward Yturri.

Book Sale Set For Wednesday

The HCJC Writer's Club has collected several hundred books for its annual book sale to be held Wednesday from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Student Union Building. Mrs. David King, club sponsor, said there is a wide selection of all types of books, paper and hardback.

This book sale is the only means of raising funds for the club's trophies and awards to be presented each year to the members for individual writings.

Three Policemen Injured While Foiling Gem Caper

HOUSTON (AP)—Charges of assault to murder and robbery were lodged late Monday against two men in a jewelry store hold-up which left both injured along with three policemen.

The charges name James L. Mayes Jr., 28, and Tommy Peavy, 25. Both are in Ben Taub Hospital, Mayes in critical condition with gunshot wounds and Peavy in poor condition with injuries suffered in a collision with a police car.

None of the three officers was injured seriously. Police received a call in the afternoon that the Mathis Jewelry Store in southwest Houston was being robbed.

Officer J. H. Parham, first on the scene, said he found a man holding a gun to the throat of Mrs. Jim Mathis, the store's owner.

Mathis was forced to lay down his pistol and the gunman then pistol-whipped the officer and fired once at him, grazing Parham's ear. As the bandit ran from the store he exchanged shots with another policeman, W. E. Reed, who said he wounded the fleeing man.

But the robber jumped into a car driven by a second man and they sped away with officers in pursuit.

Several blocks away, as the fleeing car roared through an alley, a police car containing officers J. L. Nicholson and J. E. Williams blocked the route and the two cars collided.

Nicholson said, "I bailed out and emptied my .38 into their windshield."

The two men then surrendered.

Officers said they found two pistols and a brief case containing $15,000 in jewelry in the get-pistol-whipped the officer and

Six Hawks In Double Figures In Last Go

By TOMMY HART

Operating with an abandon that might be a tipoff of their mood for the upcoming Region V tournament at Amarillo, HCJC's Jayhawks all but blew NMMI out of the gym in stitching together a 118-69 Western Conference victory here Monday night.

The Jayhawks have fulfilled every obligation in their bid for a share of the league crown. They'll have to get help from Lubbock Christian College tonight, however — the Chaparrals will be at home to pace-setting Odessa. Last night's win was significant in several ways to coach Buddy Travis and his troops. It not only gives them 20 victories for the year (compared to seven defeats) but enables them to retain a momentum that has seen them win 10 of their last 11 starts. Six of the Hawks had their troubles early in the season but they may have peaked at the right time. In conference, HC finished with a 12-4 record.

The job became so frustrating for the Bronchos they ultimately decided to settle for an occasional field goal. Don Martinez and Warren Dyer hit consistently for the visitors to stay the avalanche for the Roswell team.

Ten of the 11 Hawks broke into the scoring column. George Tiley and Danny Clendenin teamed up in the back court to stage a sensational show. Each settled for 24 points; and the way they went about getting them was something to see.

HC had six players in double figures. Jerry Phillips, menacing as always under the basket, accounted for 14. Glen Fletcher and Sammy James each had 11 while Decell Lewis tallied 10.

Fletcher was a one-man gang at wrecking NMMI's battle plan, going high time and again to bat away balls that seemed on target.

On three different occasions late in the game, the Hawks boasted 52 point leads, even though Coach Travis saw fit to use his reserves more than half the final 20 minutes.

Shelly York, Lewis, James and Phillips proved to be awesome rebounders, taking turns at pulling down the rebounds. Martinez, deadly from outside the keyhole, led the visitors with 22 points while Dyer had 17.

The defeat was NMMI's 18th, compared to seven wins. In conference, the Cadets finished with a 2-14 record.

HCJC next sees action against McLennan Community College at 4 p.m. Thursday in the Regional tournament. Three wins at Amarillo would qualify the Hawks for a trip to Nationals again.

Paul Christman Succumbs At 51

COLUMBIA, Mo. (AP) — Paul Christman was a legend in his own time at Missouri. Now only the legend remains.

Christman died Monday of heart seizure in Lake Forest Hospital in Lake Forest, Ill., at the age of 51.

After he won All-American honors as quarterback at Missouri from 1938-1940, Christman was part of the Dream Backfield of the old Chicago Cardinals, who won the National Football League title in 1947.

Christman became a well-known television commentator in the 1960s and was noted for his analyses while working as the TV color man for both American Football League and NFL games.

Auburn Finds Wildcats Can Still Claw

By The Associated Press

Kentucky had the solution for Auburn Monday night but no one had the right answer for Coach Adolph Rupp.

"I have only one comment—why?" Rupp growled after being informed that his Wildcats had slipped from first to second behind UCLA in the next-to-last Associated Press college basketball poll of the season.

Certainly, Auburn couldn't tell him. The Tigers succumbed 102-81 and became Kentucky's 24th victim in 25 starts.

Led by Dan Issel's 43 points, Kentucky broke away from a slim 43-33 halftime lead and within five minutes had the bulge up to 14 points.

The Tigers showed balanced scoring. John Mengelt had 29 points, Henry Harris 14, Bill Alexander 13 and Carl Shetler 12, but it wasn't nearly enough as Mike Pratt contributed 20 for Kentucky and Tom Parker added 16.

In another Southeastern Conference game, a 55-point spree by Pete Maravich led unranked Louisiana State to a hard-fought 97-87 victory over Mississippi State, enabling the Tigers to clinch at least a tie for second place.

Maravich's seventh point of the game, an 18-foot jumper midway through the first half, wiped out Elvin Hayes' major college single season scoring record of 1,214 points.

Pistol Pete has 1,263 points, with one regular season game remaining before the National Invitation Tournament. Maravich is 66 points short of Earl Monroe's all-time college record of 1,329 points in a season.

That appears well within his reach. And if LSU manages to play four games in the NIT, he could accumulate the 210 points he needs to match Bob Hopkins' career scoring record of 3,759.

Mississippi State held Maravich to 17 points in the first half, but the scrawny 6-foot-5 senior broke loose after the intermission, scoring 30 of the Tigers' final 32 points.

Western Kentucky, Houston and Villanova all warmed up for their appearances in the first round of the NCAA Tournament this weekend with lopsided victories.

The Hilltoppers, ranked 12th, whipped Austin Peay 100-84 and concluded their regular season with 16 consecutive wins and a 22-2 record. Seven-foot center Jim McDaniel led the way with 33 points and 16 rebounds.

Yearlings Slam Sands In Pair

Big Spring Runnels broke into the win column here Monday evening, defeating Sands in a girls' volleyball match, 15-8 and 15-2.

Lisa Pipes with Sally Jones and Debra Woods at the net, led the Yearlings in scoring with seven points in the first game.

Marilyn Neill had eight points for Runnels in the second contest, at which time Cheryl Cannon and Elizabeth Martinez were impressive up front.

The Yearlings oppose Goliad in Goliad's gym in three games Thursday, the first of which gets under way at 4 p.m.

Smith Is Hired By Stamford High

STAMFORD — Charlie Smith of Ranger has been named head football coach and athletic director of the Stamford schools.

Smith succeeds Bill Anderson as coach here. In three years as coach at Ranger, Smith guided his teams to a 31-6 record. The Bulldogs won two district crowns in that era and advanced to the state quarter-finals on each occasion.

Smith, formerly was an assistant at Olney and coached one year at St. Joseph's Academy in Sherman. A native of Duncan, Okla., Smith graduated from Austin College. He is 31.

Stanton Hosts Game Tonight

STANTON — Sands will be seeking to improve upon a 21-7 record in an 8 o'clock bi-district game with Buena Vista here tonight.

The winner qualifies for the Regional meet in Levelland this weekend. The loser will be shunted to the sidelines.

Sands will be the visiting team and its fans will occupy the east stands. Ticket admissions will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

UCLA Back On Top Of Cage Ratings

By The Associated Press

The Bruins of UCLA are back in their accustomed positions of (1) winning basketball games and (2) heading the national rankings.

After dropping from first to second a week ago following their only loss of the season, the Bruins climbed back on top by 10 points over Kentucky in the next-to-last Associated Press poll released today.

UCLA ran its record to 23-1 with weekend victories over Stanford 120-90 and California 109-95. Kentucky whipped Alabama 98-89, struggled past Vanderbilt 90-86 and then beat Auburn 102-81 Monday night for the 24th triumph in 25 starts.

PHILLIPS REPEATS

Reist Unanimous All-SWC Choice

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Gary Reist, Rice's hot-shooting guard, was the only unanimous selection on The Associated Press 1970 All-Southwest Conference basketball team.

The other first teamer included Southern Methodist's Gene Phillips, the leading scorer in the SWC. Texas Tech's Gene Knolle and Greg Lowery; Baylor's William Chatman; and Texas A&M's Mike Heitmann.

Phillips, the only repeater of the 1969 team, was selected "Player of the Year."

Coach Don Knodel of Rice's SWC champions was picked by his fellow mentors as "Coach of the Year."

Lowery was selected as "Sophomore of the Year."

The 6-foot-2 Reist, a junior letterman from Hamilton, Ohio, averaged almost 20 points per game—mostly on long jumpers. His playmaking ability also was invaluable to the Owls.

Joining Reist at guard was Lowery, the fast-blooming junior college transfer from West Palm Beach, Fla. Chatman, averaging 21.1 points per game, anchored the center position with his strong rebounding and follow shooting.

The 6-foot-5 junior—a transfer from Tyler Junior College—was second in the scoring race behind Phillips.

Phillips, averaging almost 29 points per game, easily captured one forward position while Texas A&M's Mike Heitmann, averaging 19 points per game, and Tech's Knolle, averaging 20 plus, tied for the other forward spot.

The versatile Phillips also received one vote for guard and another for center.

Heitmann is the only senior on the team.

Reist, Knolle and Heitmann also received "Player of the Year" votes.

Texas Tech's freshman coach Bob Bass and TCU's Johnny Swaim were also named on "Coach of the Year" ballots.

Arkansas' Almer Lee got a "Sophomore of the Year" ballot.

Longhorns Visit Lubbock For Game With Coronado

The Big Spring Steers launch a 23-game baseball season against Lubbock Coronado in Lubbock at 4 o'clock today.

Coach Oakey Hagood's boys have benefitted from a month of workouts but Hagood is having problems finding four infielders. His 1969 inner cordon was wiped out by graduation.

Seven lettermen are back from last year, including four regulars. The regulars are catcher Joe Martinez, pitcher Jimmy Ferris and outfielders Roger Dickson and Andy Gamboa.

Hagood guided the Steers to their most successful season in history last year. The locals wound up tying for second place in 3-AAAA, immediately behind Midland Lee.

The Longhorns don't open their home season until a week from today, at which time they host Odessa Permian. They were to have played in a tournament this weekend but that has been cancelled.

Big Spring and Coronado split a series last year. Coach Mark

Sands, Imperial Meet In Stanton

In Cass B area bi-district games tonight, Sands (21-7) will oppose Buena Vista of Imperial (17-13) at 8 o'clock in Stanton while Bronte squares off with Merton at 7:30 p.m. in the San Angelo Coliseum.

In each instance, the winner becomes eligible to play in the Regional tournament at Levelland this weekend.

Game Ace Ailing

BALTIMORE (AP) — Kevin Loughery, his four broken ribs not knitting properly because of a punctured lung, apparently will miss the remainder of the National Basketball Association season.

Probable starters:
SANDS
Johnny Peugh, 5-6; Bobby Beall, 5-7; Steve Horn, 6-2; Ronnie Ooks, 6-2; Felix Jones, 6-2.
BUENA VISTA
Bill Barron, 5-10; Richard Cox, 6-7½; Larry Wilhelm, 5-10; Fred Esparzo, 5-8; Terry Swetman, 6-1.

Dave Hill Is Having Woes With Taxes

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Notes from the pro golf tournament trail:

Some of the tourists candidly admit that were it not for golf, they'd probably be hawking hot dogs. Dick Crawford and Al Geiberger were discussing one such, mercifully unidentified.

"He can't hit the ball any better than a six handicapper," said Crawford, "but he makes up for it with that putter."

"Yeah," agreed Geiberger, "if it wasn't for that putter, he'd be walking around with mustard on his shirt."

Dave Hill, who made more than $150,000 on the tour last year, said he has some problems with his income taxes.

"But," noted Dave, whose out-spoken pronouncements have brought him a number of fines, "I've got a pretty deduction—to the players' retirement fund."

Dave's brother Mike came into the press room for a mass interview recently.

"Any relation to Dave?" asked one of the local scribes. "He's my brother," said Mike.

"Strong family resemblance," noted the writer. "We have the same father," said Mike.

The Texas license plates on Rocky Thompson's car: "ROCK."

Doug Ford, a tour regular for more than 20 years, has taken a club job outside of New York.

The 47-year-old Ford has career earnings of more than $400,000, and won 19 championships, including the 1955 PGA title and the 1957 Masters.

There were only three bachelors in the list of the top 60 money winners in 1969—Ray Floyd, Ken Still and Miller Barber.

Kenneth Johnstone, a representative for the English cigarete company that is sponsoring a $180,000 tournament in England on dates conflicting with the Greater Hartford Open, made a recent trip to this country in an effort to line up talent.

He was notably unsuccessful. Players can compete in such a conflicting event only with permission from the commissioner of the Tournament Players' Division.

Crawford Champ In Handball

Gregg Crawford captured the Beginners' Handball tournament at the YMCA the past weekend, defeating Lanny Hamby in the finals.

Roy Thornton was third in the 25-man field while the Sportsmanship Award went to Larry Moreno.

The YMCA City-Wide tournament, boasting three divisions, will be held March 12-13-14. Entry fee is $1.

ANOTHER MEAT SALE? — Bob Altes, a butcher in a New York City market, sticks his head into meat case to serve customer. If he is looking for cheaper "buy," the search may be a long one, because Manhattan beef prices, like those elsewhere in the nation, are considerably higher than last year.

Farmers, Housewives Unhappy About Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The price farmer Calvin Goেকে for his cattle is about the same as a year ago. The price Ricky Murph, mother of three, pays for beef is 8 per cent higher.

Both are caught in an erratic beef price situation still recovering from a spasmodic summer and responding to the rising prices of competitive meats.

Both are unhappy about the prices, and both are reacting in similar fashion. Goেকে is handling half as many cattle as his Marshalltown, Iowa, farm. Mrs. Murph is feeding fewer expensive cuts of meat to her South Weymouth, Mass., family.

MARKUPS FATTER
But there's enough money in the pocketbooks of other farmers and housewives to mute the actions of the Goেকেs and Murphs. So analysts expect prices to keep going up.

"We don't look for lower meat prices," says C. William McMillan, marketing executive for the American National Cattlemen's Association. "People are generally paying the prices."

Why are retail beef prices higher than they were a year ago, while farm prices are the same?

One reason is that retailers' markups are slightly fatter than they were last summer.

Retailers say this is necessary to make up for thinner profits—or even losses—they endured when beef prices shot up last summer.

PORK PRICES
Retailers had to hold down the prices they charged the housewife during the summer to keep shoppers from turning away from beef and leaving it to spoil on the shelves, said S. Kent Christensen, economist for the National Association of Food Chains.

Another reason for the disparity is that it takes a month or more for fluctuations in wholesale meat prices to be translated into changes in retail prices.

Even as retailers are making up for past losses on beef, they are being squeezed by spiraling pork prices, Christensen said. In the past year, pork prices at the slaughterhouse have risen 38 per cent. Retail prices were up 13 per cent. Despite periodic fluctuations, the farmer's share of the consumer's meat dollar has remained relatively stable in the past two decades. In 1949, government statistics show, the farmer got 67 cents for every $1 spent for beef. In 1959, the figure was 62 cents. In 1969, it was 65 cents.

BIGGER FARMS
Middlemen like those in Christensen's association also say they are feeling the pinch of rising labor and handling costs.

Helping sustain the increasing prices are two products of American affluence—bigger farms and a persistent craving for meat.

The average price for sirloin steak went from $1.20 a pound at the start of last year to $1.42 by mid-summer, then settled at $1.29 at year's end. The price of a picnic ham went from 48 cents a pound to 56 cents a pound during the year.

The Association of California Consumers was one local organization which organized a protest—"Operation Protein Switch"—during the beef price increases last summer.

Sylvia Siegel, executive director of the Sausalito based association, claims a temporary success in getting housewives to stop buying expensive cuts of meat. But she describes the effects as short-lived.

BUYING HABITS
"This is a result of the post-war generation that was brought up on steaks and chops when their mothers were working," says Mrs. Siegel.

"Their buying habits are so firmly fixed it's tough to get them to switch to anything else."

Doris E. Behre, an Alexandria, Va., housewife who is president of the Virginia Citizens Consumer Council, says she has found consumers confused and apathetic in responding to the meat prices.

Farmers, meanwhile, are also in a quandary. Long-time depressed prices have made growers hesitant about re-entering the market now that prices are rising.

And so many hog growers dropped out while prices were low that the small farmers who used to jump in when prices rose have given way to bigger farmers who have a keener sense of when prices become profitable.

Live pigs which were selling for 21 cents a pound at livestock markets last January are now up to 28 or 29 cents a pound. J. Marvin Garner, executive vice president of the National Pork Producers Association, says 24 cents is considered the break-even price.

But farmers are expecting prices to drop eventually, he added, and growers aren't ready yet to invest the $100,000, or so needed to start a profitable pig operation.

In the cattle industry, meanwhile, some growers say they are operating below the "break-even" line.

Goেকে, for instance, now buys cattle for about 33 cents a pound, fattens them and then sells them to packers. He figures he should be paying about 30 cents a pound, instead of 33 cents, for the cattle to show a profit.

Faced with potential losses, he has cut the size of his herd in half, to 100 head.

UNHAPPY FARMER — Calvin Goেকে of rural Marshalltown, Iowa, says he is unhappy because he is selling cattle now for about the same price as a year ago, although retail prices of meat are up some 8 per cent. As a result of price squeeze, Goেকে is feeding about half as many animals as a year ago.

Multiple Listing Service

Some of the important advantages of a MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE are:

1. Buyers and sellers receive the benefit of cooperation between REALTORS rather than the restriction to the offerings of a single agent or a series of agents.
2. Negotiations are carried on under rules of procedure designed to assure ethical practice, thus furthering the interests of Clients and the public, while extending adherence to high standards of practice.
3. Current market information which is readily available through Multiple Listing, means that REALTORS, their clients and the public are better served and informed.

Down Three More American Copters

SAIGON (AP) — Viet Cong and North Vietnamese gunners shot down three more American helicopters Monday, while 156 of the enemy and five Americans were reported killed in other action across South Vietnam.

One American was killed and six were wounded in the three helicopters. One went down near the Laotian border 19 miles south of the demilitarized zone, a second near the Cambodian border 90 miles northeast of Saigon, and the third 15 miles northwest of Hue.

This raised to 6,459 the number of American aircraft reported lost in Vietnam since Jan. 1, 1961.

The biggest claim of enemy casualties came from South Korean forces, whose headquarters announced 81 Viet Cong and SPRING FEVER — Clear, sunny skies and the appearance of colorful flowers this week were signs that spring is just around the corner in the Pacific Northwest. But they also are the symptoms of a disease dreaded by school teachers. Stopping to admire some flowers in Longview is little Michelle Guyer, who has caught a case of spring fever.

Rail Strike Looms Larger

WASHINGTON (AP) — A union leader says "the possibility of a nationwide rail strike looms larger" because of a federal court order barring a selective walkout against any single railroad.

"If we have to strike, we'll have to strike them all," William W. Wimpfinger, chief labor negotiator, said before today's meeting of leaders of the four shepcraft unions.

The meeting was called after U.S. District Court Judge Howard Corcoran Monday prohibited a single "whipsaw" strike in the dispute over job jurisdiction. A nationwide strike would throw 325,000 rail workers off the job and paralyze the nation's transportation system unless Congress intervened.

"The court concludes that the shepcraft unions' 'whipsaw' strike against the Union Pacific Railroad violates the Railway Labor Act" because the unions had agreed to bargain with the railroads on a national basis, Corcoran said.

Treasure-Hunting Vessel Released By Communists

MIAMI (AP) — An American treasure-hunting vessel seized at gunpoint by a Cuban patrol boat has been freed to leave the Communist island and the skipper's wife said she was informed it had sailed for home.

The Swiss Embassy in Havana sent word that the Jocelyn-C, captained by Sten Carlsson of East Orleans, Mass., was released Monday 24 hours after it was boarded, the State Department said.

Earlier Monday, State Department press officer Robert J. McCloskey told a news conference reports received by his office indicated the Jocelyn-C was in international waters when it was boarded.

McCloskey told a news conference he was satisfied that the American boat "had no connection with the U.S. government."

The vessel carried a crew of five when captured near Cay Lobos in the old Bahama channel about 15 miles north of Cuba.

The State Department and Rear Adm. Paul G. Prins, commandant of the 7th Coast Guard District, said there had been no contact with the boat.

The only U.S. vessel in the vicinity, the Coast Guard cutter

The red, white and blue vessel was escorted into the port of Cabanari as the Steadfast stood by three miles offshore, outside territorial waters.

The Steadfast was sent to the area when Carlsson radioed that he was being approached by the Cuban craft.

Boys Club Party

The February birthday party for the Boys Club honored 10 boys Thursday. The party was sponsored by the 1955 Hyperions, who presented the boys with club pens and free passes to the Ritz. Entertainment for the 85 boys present included games and the movie "The Red Balloon."

Job Training, Housing On Base-Community List

Discussion of programs to help bring better job opportunities to local citizens who want to upgrade their status, either through adult education or on-the-job training; and of a citywide housing improvement program was on the agenda at Monday's meeting of the Base-Community Council.

Members of the Council have been taking surveys to determine if there is a sufficient number of people looking for training for the unskilled unemployed or for establishing better skills. The finding is that there are a number of sources open, but that probably lack of communication has kept these from enrolling the applicable people. It was felt that central organization should assume the role of exploring and developing this area, and Base-Community Council representatives will be in touch with the Howard County and Big Spring Community Action Committee, which has authority to seek funding assistance in various training areas.

Base-Council people also reported that there continues to be a shortage of standard rental housing to accommodate all needs of Webb AFB personnel, and said that more efforts should be directed in this area. Under study is a housing improvement program throughout the city, to be conducted in conjunction with a cleanup and beautification program operating under the Chamber of Commerce PRIDE committee.

The Council also discussed the feasibility of preparing a printed piece which would in effect be a directory of activities in Big Spring, so that there would be a source of direction for people who request welfare assistance, recreation programs, religious counseling, civic and professional club affiliation, and the like.

Preliminary report was given on the state convention of the Air Force Association to be held here in July, and working committees soon will be established, said A. J. Statter, local AFA chapter president. Jeff Brown, who also is civilian chairman of the Base-Community Council, heads up convention arrangements.

For $1995... it's a little gas.

For a little more...it's a MAVERICK GRABBER

The new Maverick Grabber. It's nothing you'd take out to a track to run against the big ones. It's more of a jazzy firecracker you'd take to the beach, or a basketball game. Because with all its sporty Grabber features, with all its extra flair, the Grabber is still a Ford Maverick at heart. Still the Simple Machine that doesn't take a pit crew to keep it running.

The new Maverick Grabber is at your Ford Dealer's now.

Here's what you get:
• 200-cubic-inch Six engine • Bodyside tape stripes, black-painted hood and grille • Whitewalls, 14" wheels and trim rings • Deck lid spoiler, dual racing mirrors • 3-spoke wood-tone steering wheel, black all-vinyl seat trim • Choice of five hot Grabber colors

Plus all this:
• No big price tag • No high insurance rates • No hard-to-tune engine • No hard, stiff ride • No high maintenance costs

For more information about Maverick, see your Ford Dealer or write: Maverick Catalog, Dept. N-20, P.O. Box 1503, Dearborn, Michigan 48121.
