CAN SWIGERT MESH TALENT WITH PRIME CREW MEMBERS?

Apollo 13 Astros To Leave For Moon Saturday?

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Apollo 13 commander James A. Lovell Jr. reportedly gave his approval today to have backup astronaut John L. Swigert aboard for Saturday's trip to the moon. But the final decision on whether to launch or postpone still had to come from the top man in the space agency. The weather for the scheduled 1:30 p.m. (Big Spring time) launch also caused some late concern. The latest forecast was for cloudy skies and possible showers. It was left to NASA administrator Thomas O. Paine to rule whether Swigert, the backup command module pilot, can mesh talent and personality with prime crew members Lovell and Fred W. Haise Jr. If not, the flight would be postponed until May 9 at a cost of $800,000. Swigert was with Lovell and Haise in practice sessions this morning, concentrating on those stages of flight that require close coordination. Thomas K. Mattingly II, who had the misfortune not to be immune to the German measles to which he was exposed, was all but ruled out of the mission Thursday. Physicians figured they'd be taking too much of a chance sending him on the 10-day flight.

While Swigert worked out in simulators with his new crewmates, the sleek, 363-foot high Saturn 5 rocket was being readied as if no uncertainties existed about its human cargo. The preparations were on schedule. The weather was forecast to be scattered clouds, no rain. In the make-believe space capsule where launch, flying and moon-landing conditions are simulated by computers, Swigert worked on achieving the precise coordination that is needed among crew members. The question was not how well he knew his job. His training had been identical with Mattingly's, but always with different cabin mates. "It's really a compatibility sort of thing to get him up to speed, in language and responses—this sort of thing," a space agency spokesman said. "It's a matter of responding and knowing. A lot of time they use their own sort of shorthand in speaking." Such compatibility could be crucial in an emergency. Lovell, the mission commander, was known to have misgivings about having an understudy step in just before curtain time. His appraisal of how well Swigert fit in "was a major factor in the final decision. Mission Director Chester N. Lee ordered the countdown for the launching to proceed after a 2½ hour conference with NASA officials about all aspects of the flight. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew and Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany headed the list of distinguished guests expected for the liftoff.

4.4 PER CENT

Jobless Rate Still Soaring

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate continued rising last month to the highest levels in nearly five years, climbing from 4.2 to 4.4 per cent of the civilian labor force, the government said today. The actual number of jobless persons declined 61,000 but unemployment generally falls even more sharply in March. The Labor Department therefore figured this as a rise of 230,000 on a seasonal basis to a total of 3.7 million unemployed. The report by the Bureau of Labor Statistics marked the third straight monthly increase in unemployment under President Nixon's anti-inflation policies. The number of unemployed has risen one million since March 1969, when the jobless figures dropped almost to the post-Korean war low. The March report said the rise in unemployment was concentrated among adults seeking full-time jobs.

Hold That Rope, Podnuh!

Hold that lasso, podnuh! The calf roping match between Barry Burke, Duncan, Okla., and Ronnie Sewalt, Chico, is not until Sunday, May 3. Press releases announcing the event included the Sunday, but neglected the May 3 date. So the celebrated contest is four Sundays away, said E. P. Driver, secretary of the Big Spring Rodeo Association. Both of the star contestants are second generation specialists in calf roping. Last year, Burke finished third in the over-all competition of Rodeo Cowboys Association by earning $21,601, which was only $206 shy of putting him in second place. Sewalt ranked sixth for the year with $18,373. In addition to these lasso virtuosos, there will be a jackpot roping of two calves, and Driver said he anticipates some 20 top ropers to take part. A girl's barrel race will round out the afternoon's excitement.

'Forget Me Not Day'

Saturday is "Forget Me Not Day" in Big Spring. This is an annual fund-raising event by chapter 47 of the Disabled American Veterans, who will be assisted by band girls from the Sand Springs area. DAV leaders and workers will meet at 9:30 a.m. at the Settles, then canvass the downtown and shopping center areas. The little Forget Me Not flowers are a reminder that veterans who gave so much should not be forgotten.

TEACHERS PICKET — Striking Minneapolis teachers outside school building as young pupils watch with amusement. About 2,500 of the city's 3,400 teachers ignored the state's no-strike law for public employees and a court restraining order and walked off their jobs Thursday. About half of the city's 99 public schools were closed. The teachers want higher pay, more class preparation time, smaller classes and other fringe benefits.

Okies In Muskogee Join Tutor Strikes

By The Associated Press Teachers were on strike today in Minneapolis and others were poised to walk out in Los Angeles, Muskogee, Okla., and Butte, Mont. Issues ranged from salary demands to school board desegregation policies.

The 1,800-member AFL-CIO Minneapolis Federation of Teachers struck Thursday in defiance of the state's no-strike law for public employees and a court restraining order.

Half of the 1,600 members of the rival City of Minneapolis Education Association joined the walkout that closed about 50 of the city's 99 schools. Only a small minority of the 68,000 pupils received regular instruction.

The strikers demanded a salary scale of $8,000 to $16,100, while the school board had offered a scale of $7,500 to $15,000. Nonsalary demands included a class size limit of 35 in elementary schools.

In the 653,000-pupil Los Angeles school district, the nation's second largest, teachers voted overwhelmingly to strike Monday over demands for a 6 per cent wage hike. It would be the district's first major strike.

The Board of Education has offered 5 per cent and superintendent Robert E. Kelly said the district simply does not have the money to meet union demands. A board negotiator called total union requests "utopian."

Nonsalary demands include a class size limit of 25 in junior and senior high schools and 20 in elementary schools, an aide for each teacher and carpeting, soundproofing and air conditioning in all classrooms.

The United Teachers of Los Angeles claims membership of 22,000 of the 25,000 teachers in the sprawling, 583-school district. Present salary range is $7,230 to $13,650.

Hiring practice, not money, was the issue in Butte, where a strike was called for today.

Sources in the Butte Teachers Union said the basic issue was the school administrator's action in hiring a vice principal without regard to the union seniority list.

In Muskogee, some 275 of the city's 400 teachers voted to walk off their jobs until the school desegregation problem is resolved. They also said they were protesting the "apathy of Muskogee citizens in the present crisis."

The school board earlier submitted a desegregation plan that was approved by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Then the board discarded the plan.

HEW officials warned the board Monday that unless another acceptable plan is presented by April 17, the district will not be in compliance with the law and the case will be referred to the Justice Department.

Teachers said a loss of federal aid would result in many teachers losing their jobs and others taking reductions in pay. School Supt. Jon Statton said the board would draw a new plan by next Tuesday.

SAIGON (AP) — A relief battalion of South Vietnamese mobile strike forces broke through to the Dak Seang Special Forces camp today on the 10th day of a North Vietnamese siege, military spokesmen said.

The break-through came after savage fighting against an estimated 2,000 North Vietnamese who have surrounded the camp and battered it with more than 2,000 rockets, mortar and artillery shells.

Asked if the drive into the camp meant the siege was broken, a South Vietnamese spokesman replied: "I cannot speak for the enemy. The fact is that the situation has substantially eased up."

Officers in Pleiku said the mobile force troops—civilian irregulars led by 11 Australian advisers—reached the camp at 1 p.m. After regrouping within the perimeter of the small base, the troops moved back into the sparse jungle and elephant grass to set up positions to the south and southeast of the camp.

Another mobile strike force battalion led by U.S. Green Berets set up positions east of Dak Seang. The central highlands camp is eight miles east of the Laotian border and 277 miles northeast of Saigon.

The relief troops were reported in heavy contact up until the time they reached the outpost. Sporadic fighting was reported as they moved out from Dak Seang to try to clear the enemy from the area.

Savage Fighting At Special Camp

Teen Charged With Slaying 2 Young Girls

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — An 18-year old high school dropout was charged with murder with malice today in connection with the slayings of two young girls in this North Texas area.

Charles Dennis Easley of Denison was accused in the deaths of Laurie Stevens, 11, of Denison and Donna Marie Golish, 7, of Sherman.

Sheriff Woody Blanton said Easley was arrested Wednesday at a county park west of Denison. Blanton said Easley had been under surveillance since April 4 when the nude body of Laurie Stevens was discovered in northwest Denison. The girl had been missing several days.

She had been shot several times, officers said. Justice of Peace A.L. McGuire denied bond for Easley.

Donna Marie disappeared last September. Her battered and torn body was found in a field of weeds. Officers said she apparently had been run over several times with a motor vehicle.

Blanton said the teenager had a small caliber pistol when arrested at Loy Lake Park. He was charged with theft under $50 and carrying a prohibited weapon.

The sheriff said the pistol was sent to Austin for ballistic tests. Neither child, officers said, was sexually molested although their clothing was removed. Laurie Stevens apparently was abducted within 500 yards of her home as she returned from school. Her books and purse were found on the road leading from school.

Mrs. Geneva Gould, a teacher at the school, said she found a drawing in Laurie's desk that depicted in a childish scrawl a car driven by a man with a little girl standing outside.

The legend on the drawing said: "Live a little—Don't get into cars with strangers."

Laurie's drawing was the only one of its kind after the class had been asked to make posters on a general safety theme, the teacher said.

"Laurie was shy and timid, but she showed a lot of initiative and was alert," Mrs. Gould said. "I don't think she voluntarily would have entered the car of a stranger."

Blame Arsonist For Lumber Fire

EL PASO (AP) — Firemen blamed an arsonist for a blaze which raged out of control for several hours Thursday night at the Galbraith-Myre Lumber Co. near downtown El Paso.

SHERIFF CONFERS WITH KIRK AIDE — Sheriff Richard W. Weitzenfeld of Manatee County, Florida, confers with Gov. Claude Kirk, of which he officiated during a press conference.

Gov. Kirk Plays 'Superintendent'

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Claude Kirk, backed by 90 Florida lawmen, named himself superintendent of Manatee County schools today. None of the U.S. marshals sent to enforce a federal court integration order on Thursday appeared.

A U.S. attorney said Thursday the federal officers were threatened with gunfire if they tried to enforce the desegregation order with arrests.

"I was told by the governor's office that if the marshals try to enter the area and arrest anyone, they will be fired on," U.S. Atty. Johns Briggs reported.

A Kirk aide denied the threat was made. Kirk took over Manatee County school headquarters at 4:30 a.m. today and moved into the office of the school superintendent he suspended twice this week.

The governor sent an aide with surgical tape and a marking pen to paste over the suspended superintendent's name a sign that read: "Superintendent Gov. Claude Kirk Jr."

Kirk gathered about 10 state troopers and sheriff's deputies in his commandeered office and put about 80 more officers — all in civilian clothes — in an upstairs meeting room of the two-story brick building. No weapons were in evidence.

The Republican chief executive said he would not appear personally before a federal court judge in Tampa this afternoon to show why he should not be held in contempt of court for blocking integration of the schools in this Gulf Coast county. Kirk said he was hopeful the federal judge would hold him in contempt and fine him.

The gubernatorial takeover, however, threatened teachers and school employees with a personal financial crisis.

AFTER HUGE AMOUNTS OF GRAFT DISCLOSED

NCO Clubs Placed In Hands Of Base Commanders

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army is taking direct control of service clubs away from officer and enlisted committees and putting it squarely in the hands of base commanders.

The action is an outgrowth of Senate and Army investigations that turned up evidence of irregularities in the operation of non-commissioned officer clubs. One senior noncommissioned officer has been charged with bribery and graft and another veteran sergeant is under investigation by the Army.

A new Army order now being published does away with boards of governors of officers and NCO open messes which formerly ran them. Replacing the board of governors will be an elected advisory council, with reduced powers including recommending "the scope, character, program and operating objectives" of the clubs.

The Senate investigations subcommittee last year developed testimony that some senior non-coms raked in huge amounts of graft, including kickbacks from suppliers and entertainers and used club supplies for their own purposes.

Last fall, Secretary of the Army Stanley Resor acknowledged shortcomings in the enforcement and policing of regulations and in picking club managers. Resor said at the time that some commanders "have been lax in supervising" club activities because of the pressure of other more important matters.

The new regulation makes clear that a commander must now concern himself directly with the club operations and not limit his supervision to a remote review of reports. The Army has some 650 officer and enlisted clubs around the world.

They are operated with what are called "nonappropriated funds"—money generated by military personnel and their families through patronage rather than funds provided by Congress. The new regulation is the latest in a series of reforms since the NCO club scandals surfaced last summer.

Among other things, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, has ordered that service clubs be audited at least once a year.

Work Detail Is Sought

Volunteers are needed to make the National Little League park playable for the coming season, John Currie of the circuit's official family said this morning.

A work detail is being asked to report to the park, located just off Highway 87 south of town, at 1 p.m. Sunday for the purpose of refurbishing the park.

The league will supply the paint, Currie stated.

League play gets under way April 23, with the Braves opposing the Wildcats in the initial contest.

Minor league competition will not begin until April 27, at which time the Colts tackle the Tigers.

Minor league play extends through June 17 while the major league will close out July 1.

Competition in the PeeWee league begins May 2 and extends through June 27.

South Korean Trains At Webb

S. Sgt. Yong K. Kim has recently completed the on-the-job training in the non-destructive inspection (NDI) laboratory here, it was announced this week by personnel of the 3560th Field Maintenance Squadron at Webb AFB.

Sgt. Kim's home is in South Korea and he will return there to perform NDI work in his country's air force. The sergeant arrived in the United States Nov. 14, 1969, attended technical school at Chanute AFB, Ill., and completed the NDI course.

He arrived at Webb Feb. 13 for three months' on-the-job training. His sponsor in the NDI shop has been T. Sgt. James K. McDonald. Trained here under the Military Assistance Program, Sgt. Kim leaves Tuesday.

NIXON CLAIMS SENATE WON'T OK SOUTHERNER Court Controversy Grows Hot

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has touched off a new round of political controversy over his Supreme Court nomination, asserting the Senate has forced him to by "as the South in his quest to put a conservative jurist on the high court."

"I have reluctantly concluded," the President said Thursday, "that it is not possible to get confirmation of a judge on the Supreme Court of any man who believes in the strict construction of the Constitution as I do, if he happens to come from the South."

"This is the most damning evidence of a Southern strategy we've had since the term was first put in print," protested Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., a leader in the fight against two Southern judges rejected by the Senate: G. Harrold Carswell and Clement F. Haynsworth.

"I find it incredible that the President would make such a statement," chimed in Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., another leader against the Nixon nominees.

But Nixon's statement brought rods of approval from senators who stood behind Carswell and Haynsworth.

"In view of the present makeup of the Senate, it would be very difficult to confirm any judicial conservative nominee from the South," said Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb.

No matter who Nixon nominated from the South, "the powerful blacks and labor unions" would rise up against him, Sen. Allen Ellender, D-La., said.

Nixon met briefly with newsmen Thursday, a day after the Senate voted 51 to 45 to reject his nomination of Carswell, a 50-year-old federal appeals judge from Tallahassee, Fla. He told them "My next nominee will be from outside the South and he will fulfill the criteria of strict constructionist with judicial experience either from a federal bench or on a state appeals court," he said.

Bayh said later the President was telling the South his two previous nominees were picked solely because they were from that region. That means, Bayh said, the President is trying "to feather the political nest of Richard Nixon" rather than fill a high court vacancy created by Abe Fortas' resignation last May.

Two Southern senators who voted against Carswell after supporting Haynsworth also disagreed with Nixon.

Both Sen. William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., and Sen. J. W. Fulbright voted for Haynsworth, a

South Carolina federal judge, when he was defeated for the seat five months ago.

Fulbright's vote against Carswell triggered another controversy—this one involving Mrs. Martha Mitchell, wife of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, and also a native of Arkansas.

Mrs. Mitchell called on the Arkansas Gazette—during a long-distance telephone call to the paper at about 2 a.m. Thursday—telling the Gazette reporter.

Mrs. Mitchell admitted she made the call and urged Fulbright's defeat but she denied using the word "crucify." Fulbright said he regretted "her rather flamboyant language" but indicated he didn't take the attack too seriously.

The Fulbright-Mrs. Mitchell incident typified the intensity of the controversy swirling over the court vacancy.

"The President's statement on the Supreme Court vacancy is an affront to the people of an entire region," said Lawrence O'Brien, chairman of the Democratic National Committee. He said the President had chosen to ignore many distinguished Southern jurists.

"From the very beginning, we have made clear that we could support a Southern strict constructionist who met the standards spelled out in part by the President himself—namely that our judges be dedicated to the great principles of civil rights and be men of excellence," Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said.

Jay Wilkinson Bids For Congress

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Jay Wilkinson, son of the former University of Oklahoma football coach who made an unsuccessful bid for the U. S. Senate against Democrat Fred Harris, announced his candidacy today for Congress.

Yarborough, Bentsen Trade Verbal Pokes In East Texas

Sen. Ralph Yarborough and the fellow Democrat who wants to succeed him in the Senate, Lloyd Bentsen, traded some more verbal pokes Thursday.

The two Republicans vying for the U.S. senator's nomination in Texas, Rep. George Bush and Robert Morris, kept up their campaigning meanwhile at a somewhat more sedate pace.

Underscoring the importance attached to the East Texas vote in the May 2 primaries, Yarborough flew home after spending most of the week in Washington to speak at a dinner in his honor arranged by supporters at Longview.

Bentsen followed the senator into Longview by only a day for what aides described as an old-fashioned rally, complete with Western band, free soft drinks and mock trials for leading citizens failing to wear beads.

"When I used to work on a farm in Henderson County, we did not know nothing about farming," Yarborough said in a folksy approach to a dinner crowd estimated at 800. "This man Lloyd Bentsen in one year, 1966, drew out $152,000 in farm payments he didn't plant and put it in his blue jeans—and now he talks about economy in government."

Bentsen said an issue in this race is my effectiveness. After about a week of that, some friends began to say, 'Lloyd, you'd better change that—Yarborough's done so much that everybody knows of something he's done.' So he changed that."

The next stops on the stump trail for Yarborough today were Corpus Christi and San Angelo.

Speaking in Fort Worth, Bentsen said that while a six per cent pay boost headed off a postmen's strike, "it leaves the chronic ailment untreated."

"It seems to me we ought to get a decent postal reform bill passed by Congress and work on efficiencies and economics instead of raising the cost to the public," Bentsen said.

"If postal reforms hadn't been blocked by Sen. Yarborough and others, maybe the pay increase for letters carriers could have been accomplished without the need to burden the taxpayer with still another postal hike."

Bush took occasion to discuss the bill he offered in Congress to strengthen federal laws covering bombs and bomb threats. It would impose prison terms up to 10 years and fines up to $10,000.

"There can be no place in an ordered society for these sorts of disruptions," Bush said in a formal statement. "The bombings and bomb threats throughout our country can and must be eliminated. There can be no place in the 1970s for such senseless destruction of property and sometimes unfortunate loss of human life."

President Nixon said Thursday, after the Senate's rejection of G. Harrold Carswell as his nominee for the Supreme Court, that he presumably must pick a jurist from some section besides the South to obtain confirmation.

North has 16 high card points which is technically one short of the requirements for proceeding directly to six no trump, since partner's opening call may be based on only 16 points. North promoted his holding slightly since he had so many top controls plus three tens. His aggressive course was rewarded when South gave an excellent account of himself in manipulating the dummy.

West was at a loss to find a satisfactory lead against the slam and finally, in the hope that it was the least of evils, he selected the five of diamonds—fourth best from his longest suit. Altho it was the only lead to drop a trick immediately, the final outcome would probably have been the same no matter what he played, for declarer can always manage the diamonds so as to take three tricks in the suit.

North's six of diamonds won the first trick. It appeared that West had a stopper in the suit, but just to make certain, declarer led a diamond from dummy to his ace. When East discarded a club, South's suspicions were confirmed. He now had 11 tricks off the top with a chance to make a 12th if clubs were favorably divided. There were additional prospects involving a squeeze on one or both of the opponents. In order to set up the desired end position however, a trick must be given up first, and South selected the heart suit for the concession.

He cashed the king of hearts at trick three and continued with a small heart, putting in the ten from dummy. East was in with the queen of hearts and he returned the suit to dummy's ace. South now played North's king of diamonds. East had only black cards left and, whether he threw a spade or a club, he would have to surrender his protection in that suit and present declarer with his 12th trick.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married for 11 years and have three children. My wife thinks she has done her duty, and now it's got to be Christmas or my birthday before she will let me near her.

I kept a record. Last year I was turned down 97 times. (She gave in 14 times.) Now, don't tell me that's normal!

I keep myself clean and I am not rough or anything like that. I do route work and am in contact with women all day who look like women, then I come home to a wife who is wearing pants! She hardly ever puts a dress on anymore.

Please tell me what to do. But don't send any letters to my house. If she knew I wrote to you, there would be a fight. Thank you.

FED UP WITH NOTHING DEAR FED: I think I know who wears the pants in your family, which could be part of your problem. A normal wife doesn't "give in" — she gives because she wants to. If you can't persuade her to get some professional counseling, you had better learn to live with a sad, but not uncommon problem.

DEAR ABBY: I worked for a large company back east for 20 years. A few years ago I moved to California, near Disneyland. Some of the people I worked with never came to my house when I lived in the east, but they come out here to spend their entire vacation with me, use my home as a hotel and even expect transportation to and from the Los Angeles airport — 45 miles away.

How can I say "NO" without hurting their feelings?

TIRED AND BROKE IN SANTA ANA DEAR T AND B: It's inconceivable that anyone would call you from the airport and say, "Come and get me," but if that's the case you will have to screw up the courage to say, "Sorry, full house here." I see no reason under the California sun for anyone to play the role of an unwilling host.

DEAR ABBY: After six years of trying to become parents, my husband (I'll call him John) and I underwent the usual tests, and my John was found to be sterile. We consulted with adoption agencies when we learned that the Oklahoma legislature had legalized artificial insemination.

We found a doctor who was familiar with the procedure, and I became pregnant from an unknown donor. Five months ago we became the parents of a darling baby girl!

Only our lawyer, doctor and we know it was accomplished through artificial insemination. (Even John's parents and mine do not know.)

Actually carrying the baby, and delivering it makes the baby ALL mine, and our doctor did such a good job in selecting a donor whose description matched my husband's, that our baby looks more like John than ME! HAPPY IN OKLAHOMA

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Water, Inc., To Have Workshops

The program of work for County Units of Water, Inc., will be unveiled at three regional workshops scheduled in mid-April. Each of the workshops at Pampa, Plainview and Lamesa will feature a briefing by Harry Burleigh Austin, chief of investigations in Texas, Bureau of Reclamation. Burleigh will detail work being done by his office in Texas Water Plan reconnaissance. The Lamesa session will be at 1:30 p.m. Friday in the Community Center.

Following the briefing by Burleigh, those attending will be divided into three areas of interest, (membership, education and publicity), for detailed workshops. The sessions will be directed by Tom Williams, Gerald Ivey and Duncan Ellison, associate directors of Water Inc., said K. B. (Tex) Watson, president. The over-all program, will be supervised by Bill Clayton, executive director.

Trucker Killed

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP) — John Bavar, 58, of Mesquite, Tex., and Deming, N.M., was killed Thursday night in a crash involving two trucks a mile west of here on U.S. 80. Officers said Bavar's truck hit the other vehicle from behind as it slowed to turn off the highway.

Pressing For Impeachment Of Court Justice Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP) — A final decision by a group of House members on an attempt to impeach Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas probably will be made next week. The decision likely will be to proceed. House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford met Thursday with House members anxious to initiate an impeachment proceeding and found himself faced with strong sentiment to take action immediately, sources said. Senate rejection the previous day of President Nixon's court nominee, G. Harrold Carswell, "opened the flood gates," the source said. "There was a considerable amount of sentiment that Mr. Douglas ought not to remain on the court, that if Carswell wasn't satisfactory, Douglas isn't either."

Congressman Dowdy Due To Be Arraigned Today

BALTIMORE (AP) — Texas Congressman John Dowdy was scheduled to be arraigned today on bribery charges.

In a federal indictment, the Democrat was charged with conspiracy, perjury and carrying $25,000 in bribe money from Maryland to an airport in Atlanta.

The bribe was allegedly to insure that Dowdy would "corruptly influence" a Justice Department probe of the Monarch Construction Corp., a now-defunct Washington home repair firm.

The arraignment was scheduled for 4 p.m. before Chief U.S. District Court Judge Roszel C. Thomsen.

Hugh J. McGee, a Washington lawyer named as a co-conspirator in the case, was also to be arraigned at that time.

Also charged in the indictment returned March 31 was Myrvin C. Clark, 50, of Long Beach, Calif.

Clark, former sales manager of Monarch pleaded guilty Tuesday to one count of the indictment and agreed to testify that he passed $25,000 to the congressman.

In exchange, the government dropped an earlier fraud case against him and agreed not to press further charges in the Dowdy case.

Nathan H. Cohen, president of Monarch, was named in the indictment but not charged.

Charges against Dowdy span the period August, 1965, to December, 1969, when he allegedly received compensation for representing Monarch before the Justice Department.

The $25,000 bribe allegedly occurred Sept. 22, 1965.

Dowdy is charged with using interstate facilities to promote bribery as a result of his alleged transfer of the money from Maryland to Atlanta.

Other counts charge he committed perjury during a March 4 grand jury appearance when questioned about his relationship with Cohen and Clark.

If convicted on all counts, Dowdy faces up to 40 years in prison and up to $40,000 in fines.

Sgt. Vermeulen Gets March Honor

The Webb 3560th Air Base Group's March noncommissioned officer of the month award was given to S. Sgt. Arthur W. Vermeulen, noncommissioned officer in charge of Security Police Operations. He is a veteran of more than 12 years.

He joined the Air Force after his graduation from Sarasota High School in Florida. He and his wife, the former Miss Joyce Dykes, Orlando, Fla., have two children, Valerie, 7 and Arthur Jr., 6.

Students Go To Parley

Four Big Spring High School students will be joining high school students from around the state this weekend at the 15th annual Howard Payne College "Democracy In Action Week" in Brownwood.

Johtaylor Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Omar Jones; Ellen Gossett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gossett; Glynda Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harrold Jones; and Tom Angle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Angle, left Thursday for the meeting. William Martin, advanced government teacher, is also attending the meeting.

The House, acting as sort of a grand jury, then votes. If impeachment is approved by a simple majority—219 votes—the matter then goes to the Senate for trial.

Conviction requires a two-thirds Senate majority—with judgment going no further than removal from office and disqualification to hold any other federal position.

William Hallman, office of Iranian Affairs, Department of State Bureau of Near Eastern and South Asian Affairs, was the keynote speaker Thursday night.

Activities for today included two concerts by the U.S. Naval Band in the Brownwood Coliseum and group meetings in the Douglas MacArthur Academy of Freedom.

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Your light must shine before people, so that they will see the good things you do and give praise to your Father in heaven." (Matthew 5:16, TEV)

PRAYER: Our Father, help us to be in tune with Thy purpose for our lives so Thy love can shine through us into the hearts of all mankind. Through Jesus Christ. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Generous America

An annual report by a national group of professional fund-raising organizations says that Americans gave $17.6 billion to philanthropies last year, 8.1 per cent more than in 1968.

Charity has long been considered among the worthiest virtues, but the American people should be more aware today than in the past of the necessity of channeling their charitable inclinations along constructive paths.

Now it is the obligation of domestic charity agencies to see that these funds are used to the full benefit of their recipients. Sometime this can be a stimulus to self-improvement in the light of advancing sociological knowledge. Often times it still will be simply that cup of human compassion.

Private foundations and governmental social aid agencies have shown themselves capable of careful administration of donated funds. But the newer concepts of social welfare are in a constant state of flux, inevitable in reach of a young and experimental realm of theoretical endeavors.

The administrators of charity must continue to move ahead, hand in hand with the new but sound sociological findings, in their attempts to put their funds to the best use.

Undermining Administration

We confess to a naivete, but we cannot understand the pressures to oust Dr. John Kinross-Wright as the commissioner for Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

From our point of view, Dr. Kinross-Wright came to his post with excellent credentials and has capably administered a sound and forward-looking program.

But for some months now there have been abortive efforts by some members of the board to oust him, and this week there is one report that six of nine members of the board have now signed a letter suggesting that the commissioner submit his resignation. Conjecture is that part of the difficulty has been brought into focus by the commissioner's having discharged one of his deputy commissioners who holds the view that he cannot be separated without board approval. In so many words, the issue is that of a personality clash, possibly fortified by a divergence of professional views. If this is true, then the board seems to be dabbling into administration, and such a course can but have demoralizing if not chaotic effects in the long run.

Isaac Arnold Sr., Houston, one of those who declined to sign the letter requesting that the commissioner resign, had a suggestion of his own: That if the commissioner is asked to resign that all members of the board do likewise because of a hopeless division. This is not likely to happen, but it would be most helpful if the board would cease trying to do its business by mail and instead function in open meeting — openly. The overall program affecting the lives, welfare and future of residents served in MH and MR institutions and centers cannot be aided by undermining administration.

The Cost Of Wildcat Strikes

WASHINGTON — Hundreds of millions of dollars have been lost to the economy in recent days and more will be in the future unless Congress takes punitive and preventive action against wildcat strikes. Deliveries through the mails and by air have been delayed, and this has affected many business transactions and the shipment of goods. Now unauthorized strikes have produced further losses in the transportation of goods by truck in different parts of the country.

There was a time when collective bargaining was supposed to be an orderly method whereby unions negotiated with employers and approved contracts made. But rarely has there been so much disruption as exists today due to a complete disregard by workers of the acts of their own union officers and leaders.

Congress has been in session but has taken no action. Many businesses which are incurring damage are not going to be reimbursed, and it is possible that the concept of wildcat strikes has been encouraged rather than discouraged by the latest developments.

Billy Graham

A few months ago I asked God to answer a certain prayer of mine through a dream. A week ago I had a dream which gave me the answer exactly as I had prayed. Do you believe that I was really God answering my prayer through a dream, or just a coincidence? A.B.

The Bible indicates that the Lord works both through our conscious and subconscious. Joseph had dreams that came true, and they were given him by the Lord. Daniel dreamed dreams of forthcoming events. The Bible says that in the last days your "young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams."

While I don't believe that all dreams are fraught with spiritual meaning (some may be the result of indigestion). I believe that it is possible that when we pray for God to reveal Himself through our subconscious minds, that He may well do so.

Obviously, He has done this for you. I would not doubt it, but thank God for answering your prayer. Too many of us restrict our spiritual meditation and exercise to an hour of worship on Sunday morning. David said: "I have cried day and night before thee." I find it a profitable exercise to go to sleep meditating upon the Lord, and pouring my heart out to Him in prayer. When we do this our dreams can be filled with spiritual thoughts and images, and sometimes answers to prayer come through the subconscious.

He Doesn't Envy Jet Set

By WARD SIMS
(Special Writing for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — I used to envy the jet set, but not any more.

An air traffic controller's slowdown and a bit of nasty weather which disrupted the beginnings of a beautiful spring are to blame for my disenchantment.

It all started in Seattle and wound up, some 17 hours later, in New Brunswick, N.J.

Wife Virginia, son Dixon and I were ticketed from Seattle to Newark, N.J., with a change of planes at Chicago.

Early on the morning of departure, before the coffee had even started to perk, the airline called and said the New York flight had been canceled. Would I care to take an earlier direct flight to Philadelphia?

It took some fast packing, but we made it, flying east through the friendly skies of Canada by way of Kimberly, Lethbridge, Moose Jaw, Regina and Winnipeg. Then it was south to Philadelphia and the landing approach.

I thought we flew through the clouds for an interminably long time and the captain confirmed my suspicions by advising via the intercom that Philadelphia International was glazed with ice from freezing rain and that he would not attempt to make an immediate landing.

We proceeded to take a half-hour tour through low-hanging clouds, with only momentary glimpses of a snow-covered countryside from time to time.

On came the captain again. It would take at least another hour, he said, to sand the runway, so we were heading for Dulles International Airport. On to Washington.

At Dulles, we were hustled aboard a bus en route to Washington's Penn Station, then put on a train for New York, courtesy of the apologetic and harried airline.

Being a congenial connoisseur, I reasoned that if we were to leave the train at Trenton, N.J.—with no scheduled stop at New Brunswick—it would beat traveling all the way to Gotham and then doubling back to home territory.

We did. Time elapsed since enplaning at Seattle: about 14 hours, including three lost to the time zones.

There was a long wait at the Trenton bus station, a bumpy ride over snow-covered roads to Princeton, N.J., and another half-hour wait in freezing temperatures on a dimly lit street corner for the last bus to New Brunswick.

Pressing on, we finally arrived at our destination at about 1 a.m.—the exact times were now beginning to slip away from me—but the longest night was not yet over.

For another half-hour I tried in vain to flag a cab, any old cab. Whence the taxi we finally snared came I know not, but it was shading toward 2 a.m. when we finally reached home.

The flight across country—from Seattle to a cloudy stop over Philadelphia—had taken 4 hours and 38 minutes. We had spent approximately 9½ more hours, including the three-hour time loss, trying to reach our front door.

Cutting the cold with a dollop of Kentucky's best, I had to reflect on that lonely street corner in windy Princeton.

One bug-carrying sign "Bus Following"—had passed us as we stood there shivering and shuffling in the snow.

With my luck that Easter night, the last bus should have sped right on by, with a sign "Bus Ahead."

Sacrifice! Who Me?

NEW YORK (AP) — The President of the United States is learning firsthand what all the fuss is about on the business-labor scene. That is, Post Office wages are to rise and so the President seeks an offsetting increase in stamp prices.

This, of course, is just what keeps the inflation spiral spinning. And it is the very problem that business and labor leaders have been complaining about.

To stop the spiral, somebody needs to sacrifice. But who?

The situation points up the emptiness of mere rhetoric or good intentions in attacking inflation. Proof that neither helps is the continued increase in wholesale and consumer prices despite the government's anti-inflation efforts.

The guts of the inflation problem are faced when an executive, surrounded by rising costs, still decides not to raise his own prices. The same situation exists when a labor leader seeks less than the optimum.

To hold the price line, the executive knows, is to see his profits drop. To knowingly tolerate such a situation is tantamount to malfeasance. And that is but one step removed from involuntary retirement.

For a union leader to hold the wage line is to anger its members, create dissension in the ranks and provoke an argument over whether he has failed in his moral duty to improve the lot of his workers.

Now both business and labor see the President faced with the same situation and they see him reacting in the very same manner. No amount of words or good intentions, they know, will aid him.

Heart Failure And Heart Attacks

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain the difference between heart failure and a heart attack, and how to live a normal life with either. Some say there is no difference and some say there is a lot.—M.B.

A heart attack is damage to the heart muscle from a shutting off of circulation to part of it.

Heart failure means that the heart is not able to pump as full a supply of blood as is normal.

Failure can result from a heart attack, depending on how severe the heart attack is. But failure also can result from entirely different causes — damage to heart valves from rheumatic fever or other infections.

The majority of patients who have had heart attacks recover in time to the extent of leading normal lives. After very severe heart attacks, however, the patient may have to limit his activities — in such a case, some degree of heart failure may be involved.

Heart failure requires that the patient avoid strenuous activity which overtaxes the limited ability of his heart. If he huffs and puffs, and particularly if exertion causes chest pains, he knows he is doing too much. His heart can't support that amount of activity.

The doctor will prescribe medication to ease the situation somewhat, but the patient must still avoid overexertion.

Some cases of heart failure can be greatly relieved by heart surgery, as repairing damaged valves or other defects in the heart, but each case has to be judged on its own merits, and not all are suitable for surgery.

That's a bob-tailed answer, but if you want a fuller explanation of how your heart works, what can happen to it, and how you can protect it, send 25 cents in coin and a long self-addressed, stamped envelope in care of The Herald for my booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart."

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Due to an accident I had more than 75 X-rays, all in the upper portion of my body, and am deeply concerned over the effects of such a large amount of exposure to radiation. Do I have cause for such concern?—S.S.

Look at it this way. Assume that each exposure was for one-tenth of a second. That's still only seven or eight seconds of exposure. And with modern equipment an X-ray is made with far shorter exposures than that.

Furthermore, undoubtedly the radiation was directed only on the area where the pictures were being made. It was not

"total body radiation."

When you realize that therapeutic X-ray (as for cancer, and other purposes) may be measured in minutes, instead of fractions of a second, you'll feel a lot better about it. You've had a lot of X-rays, but really not very much exposure.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband works in a bakery where it gets very warm and isn't too well ventilated. He gets very thirsty, not only at work but while he sleeps. He drinks ginger ale, cider, water and iced tea, and has to visit the bathroom every two hours or oftener. Do you have a booklet on excessive thirst?—E.O.

No such booklet. Excessive thirst such as you describe is one of the common symptoms of diabetes, and before doing anything else, have your doctor make the necessary tests to see whether that is your husband's real trouble.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes—The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

What Price Canine Pulchritude?

Yes, I did see a dog with its left ear in a split — or bandage — in front of the Settles Hotel.

ONE WHO KNOWS says the dog is a Doberman Pinscher. They have floppy ears. Some people want the ears to stand, so some slight surgery, plus time with an ear in a splint, is required.

And I suppose they do it one ear at a time, so the dog will maintain communication.

Personally, I like floppy ears. That may be because I have some.

Doggerel shouldn't happen to a dog.

THE GOVERNMENT is pushy. For some years I have devoted a good share of April to preparing my income tax forms for them.

Now I've got to make a bunch of black dots for a computer to read for the census.

It's interesting to note that if there are more than eight persons in your household, the government says "We will call to get the additional information."

That's what big families need — one more person at the front door asking questions.

"MY MAIN TROUBLE," remarked Bob Rogers, "is that lately all my dreams have rated G."

If America could just bring itself to read during the commercials on television, we'd become a more intelligent nation, even if we read only the comics.

A release from the Office of Economic Opportunity in Austin (OEO), as we "Paste-Pot Men" write it, includes the information:

"A 13-page instruction booklet to explain the guidelines will be released soon."

It's got to be a record.

CIGARETTE smoking and highway driving may be America's answer to Russian roulette.

Have you ever wondered what your brain thinks of you?

Front page make-up expert J. O. Sheid said he overheard:

"Sure I'll miss you when you're gone — like braces on my teeth."

One woman rightist has a slogan: "Cinderella's Dead!"

It sounds like a job for Prince Charming.

JAPAN HAS HAD its first airliner hijacking.

In a couple of years, after they get organized, they'll lead the world in this field.

A. J. Vaughn, Scurry Street Sage, says some of his friends who have no refunds coming hope the IRS is the scene of the next wildcat strike.

MRS. JANICE TALLENT and Mrs. Reba Wolfe, Big Spring Herald big-wigs, stopped me Tuesday near the switchboard as I was making a dash for the front door.

They had a big, big question. What does Yogurt taste like?

"It tastes like clabber milk," I stammered.

"More like cottage cheese," said Wall Street Journal reader Harold Canning.

This remark finished spoiling my day.

I had planned to add: "I've always wondered — how do you milk a clabber?"

JAMES "RED" THOMAS, commits the worst pun of the year, so far:

"Show me a man who raises cattle especially for rum punch, and I'll show you a fanny farmer."

On The Israeli-Syrian Border

NAHAL GOLAN, Golan Heights, Israel — Less than a mile away across the sunlit valley is the Syrian border. From the farthest command post through binoculars you can see at times the movement of Syrian forces. At dusk the floodlights go on and for several hundred yards the area in advance of the kibbutz is brilliantly illuminated as the guard keeps constant watch for guerrilla infiltrators.

NAHAL IS the acronym for Army Agricultural Pioneering Youth. The NAHAL-type of kibbutz is both frontier outpost and, like the other kibbutzim throughout Israel, a communal farm producing eggs, chickens, sheep, milk and grains. The young men and women of NAHAL Golan in army olive drab are both soldiers and working producers.

The young women, about 40 per cent of the force, are preparing lunch in the kitchens and working the farms. With characteristic efficiency the new crop of lambs already had numbers stenciled on their sides even though they are still unwaned. Each lamb will be weighed at regular intervals and the date of its sale determined by growth and marketing conditions.

NAHAL Golan produces about 400 eggs a day. Across the main road along Golan Heights are fields of young wheat.

BUT THERE is no mistaking that this is a front-line post. At the first sound of an incoming shell — Katusha shells fell last week — all except those in the command outposts make for the concrete shelters. Activity on both the ground and in the air has greatly increased recently.

It is a never-ending threat and what impresses the visitor is the good natured, unassuming way these young people go about their jobs. They reflect the intense commitment of this nation that discovered the new borders won in the six-day war of June, 1967, meant more territory to defend from Arab enemies.

YET BEFORE the six-day war the Syrians rained down from the Golan Heights, heavily fortified and mined, and intermittent barrage directed at the many kibbutzim where over the years the Israelis made the desert bloom. The road up to Golan Heights is still strewn with rusted and ruined Russian and Czech tanks.

To the north we go, through the abandoned Syrian town of Quneitra, where the Druses still live. Farther to the north, right on the Lebanese border, is Metulla, a long-established Israeli community with an extensive textile industry. Plainly visible on the hillsides, less than a mile away is a Lebanese village.

YOU ARE NOT aware of it in bustling, flourishing Tel Aviv nor in the communities where new housing for new immigrants marches up and down the hills, but in the outposts you understand all too clearly that this is a country under siege. How long the siege will go on and what the ultimate cost will be not alone in men and money but in strain and tension, in the idealism, the vision, that gives Israel its strength, no one can say.

A Boy Prefers Tarzan-Alone

WASHINGTON — There is, of course, no such thing as a family movie any more. You take the kids to the latest adventure in sex and sadism or you stay home and make hashish. This, I suggest, is too bad for the male child. There is a period during a 10-year-old boy's life when no girl save for an understanding mother who eschews beets and cauliflower in the daily menu should intrude upon his male existence.

IN MY DAY, we hated all women who injected their femininity into a boy's movie. They represented what we called "mush." Besides, they were always in the way.

I suppose I would be a millionaire today had I not spent a cool fortune buying my way into Blanchard's Theater to join Tarzan for an hour's vicarious swinging through the jungle. On the traditional mile back to the family hearthside, I filled the air with Tarzan's battlecry, and — when Mr. Clemence wasn't looking — turned his peach tree into a tangled, vine-covered thicket in Darkest Africa.

THE LADYBUG in my Saturday afternoon's ointment was Jane. Although she made a point of swinging along with Mr. T., she seemed always to be interfering with his career. Every time Tarzan was strangling a lion or disposing of a crocodile, Jane would get into trouble and Tarzan would have to leave his work and rescue her.

Jane's capacity for encountering scrapes was fantastic. Let a wicked white trader appear and a few minutes later Jane would be trapped in his tent, cringing before his porcine advances.

JANE GOT HERSELF carried off by unfriendly apes, black warriors on the warpath and even — I believe — by a naughty elephant. She fell into rivers and down cliffs. She was, in short, pretty much like the girls I knew, and therefore to be avoided like Sunday School.

Worse, Tarzan seemed actually to like this troublesome broad. I do not think he ever actually kissed her, but there was some tentative hugging and an occasional bout of nuzzling, and the two made eyes all over the lot.

YET TARZAN remained in my good graces because he never made the final commitment. In the movies that followed him on the screen, Jack Hoxie, Tom Mix and Art Acord never left any doubt, when the piano player went into hearts and flowers, that a wedding ring and a rose-covered cottage was in the offing.

JANE, HOWEVER, was a far more sinister influence on the girls of the neighborhood than any of Hoxie's doxies. Seeing Jane making herself at home in Tarzan's tree, these females demanded similar participation in our fun. The memory is still fresh of the day a sister named Lucy insisted on a role in our current Tarzan drama, and was admitted through the intercession of a kid who was sweet on her at the time.

Naturally, Lucy took charge and directed us regular fellows to leap from the hayloft door of the family barn — then herself clung to the threshold and refused to follow suit. The direct action I took kept me indoors after school for a week. I stomped up and down on her fingers.

HUGHES' WIFE AT OSCAR SHOW — Actress Jean Peters, who has been almost as reclusive as her husband, Howard Hughes for the past 18 years, sits virtually unnoticed in the Los Angeles Music Center Tuesday night awaiting the start of the Academy Award show. It was one of her first public appearances since the announcement three months ago that she will sue Hughes for divorce.

'Teach Child About Money'

"Everyone needs some money for which he does not have to account," said Mrs. Delaine Crawford, guest speaker Tuesday for the Child Study Club, in discussing "Helping Your Child Manage His Money."

"When teaching children to manage money, the allowance plan is where most parents start," she continued. "In some families children are given allowances, but are not given money for good grades, chores, or good behavior. Children in such families stand a better chance of learning that money is a medium of exchange, but is not synonymous with virtue, nor can it absolve a person from obligation to his fellows. Children need to be included in family matters concerning money, but explain to them that this is confidential."

"If a child loses his money he needs sympathy. Discuss with him how this happened and how to keep it from happening again. A child feels badly enough having lost his money. It's double punishment and insult to injury when he confronts an enraged parent."

Mrs. David Elrod was hostess, and Mrs. Ronald Wasson was cohostess. Mrs. Frank Pierce presided as officers were elected for 1970-71. They are: Mrs. Charles Warren, president; Mrs. Leo Gee, vice president; Mrs. David Hodnett, secretary; Mrs. Don Grantham, treasurer; Mrs. W. A. A LOVELIER YOU To Prevent Oily Skin Use Face Care Plan

By MARY SUE MILLER

As the weather warms, most oily skin becomes oilier. Before sizzle sets in, the time is ripe to take extra precautions against oil-induced blemishes. Increased secretion tends to clog and enlarge the pores. Blackheads and pimples result.

The first move is to gather together remedial cosmetics and treatments. Such a cache includes non-oily makeup remover, a soap or wash for oily skin, a grainy cleanser, astringent lotion to use after cleansing and under makeup, a drying agent like calamine or a disaster lotion for treating pimples, medicated night-care lotion and medicated powder base.

To use the supply effectively,

follow these special tips:

1. Wash your face and rinse well several times daily.
2. Twice weekly wash with a grainy cleanser (not if skin is broken out) and apply chilled astringent.
3. At the first sign of a pimple, apply hot water compresses to the spot; follow up with blemish lotion.
4. Remember that a little sun may temporarily help oily conditions. But sunburn is taboo.
5. Your greatest boon is medicated powder base. Use it daily. It protects your skin against dust and clog; it treats while it disguises problems.
6. Keep your hair cleaner than ever. Oily hair and oily skin threaten each other.

FOR OILY SKIN
An oily skin can be improved. Just send for my leaflet, "Relief For Oily Skin." Advice covers corrective treatments and pattern here—

Largest Crusade Ever Aired By Billy Graham

Evangelist Billy Graham, preaching in Germany this week, caused traffic jams in Kristiansand, Norway, more than 1,000 miles away. His current EURO 70 Crusade is being relayed live and direct to 35 major cities of Europe. Audiences hear and see the evangelist on the huge screens of Europe's largest-ever closed-circuit TV network. Graham's first night overflow crowd of 14,500 in Dortmund's Westfalenhalle, was boosted to almost 100,000 continent-wide. Kristiansand's 20-mile long traffic jam was caused by hundreds of cars carrying an estimated 5,000 people who could not get into an auditorium already packed with a similar number. "Never before have we tried to reach so many people in many countries at the same time by TV," commented the evangelist, who also admitted to being "more nervous before the beginning of this crusade than any other in my life." While using modern methods of communication, Billy Graham is preaching the same message he has been proclaiming around the world for the past 20 years. "I am not here to defend Christianity and the church," he told newsmen at the pre-crusade press conference. "I am here to talk about Jesus Christ and what He can do for people today." European news media is giving a good coverage to this unique crusade. Germany's National TV Network is carrying news on it almost daily, including live cut-ins on the Westfalenhalle meetings. In Holland, Graham is seen nightly as almost the entire meeting is telecast from one-and-a-half hours nationwide. On Radio, American and British Forces Networks are carrying news and services of the crusade. Newspapers across the entire continent are covering the event, some with banner headlines such as those in a Nuremberg Daily which reported the opening night under: "The Answer To The Anarchy Of Our Times." Billy Graham looking tanned and healthy ("but I don't have the energy and strength of 10 years ago") is riding high on a wave of enthusiasm for this unprecedented opportunity of communicating simultaneously to 10 nations in seven different language areas. Perhaps his greatest encouragement came from one of the smaller relay centers in Zagreb, Yugoslavia, scene of his only East European Crusade in 1967. Last night, he was told, some 1,100 people packed a hall designed to accommodate less than 500. An interior wall was demolished to cope with the larger crowd. He arrived in Europe April 5 to conduct simultaneous Evangelistic Crusades on the largest closed circuit television network ever attempted in Europe.

Pick Archdeacons
DUBLIN (AP) — Electoral colleges have picked two archdeacons to be bishops in the (Episcopal) Church of Ireland. The Ven. George Quinn Archdeacon of Down and rector of Bangor, will be Bishop of Down and Dromore in succession of Dr. F. J. Mitchell, retired. The Ven. John Duggan, Archdeacon of Tuam, has been chosen as Bishop of Tuam in succession of Dr. Arthur Butler, translated to the see of Connor.

'Ghettos Of Aged'
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Criticizing the church practice of establishing special homes for the aged, Dr. Herbert C. Lazenby, head of a residential development for older citizens, calls them "ghettos of aging." He told a Christian Church (Disciples) meeting here that "age segregation is as serious as segregation by economics, race or creed."

Church Briefs

Lutherans Merge Jurisdictions
HOUSTON — The 700 delegates of the Texas District of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod meeting in convention last week at the Rice Hotel in Houston dealt with the proclamation of the Gospel of Jesus Christ, social ministry and leadership. The Texas section of the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod voted to join the corresponding jurisdictions of The American Lutheran Church and the Lutheran Church in America in the establishment of a "Lutheran Social Service of Texas." Opposition rose over supervision of chaplains in hospitals and other institutions. "Lutheran Social Service," a cooperative of the A.L.C. and the L.C.A. presently operates homes for the aging and provides service for orphans, unwed mothers and families in Texas. Action was also taken to "empower the District President to establish an Urban Improvement Fund for the purpose of granting financial assistance to the programs instituted and administered by indigenous black and brown leadership within the ghetto communities."

Missionary League Meets Sunday
The West Texas Zone of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League will meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in St. Paul Lutheran Church. Societies from Midland, Odessa, Monahans, Pecos, Ft. Stockton, Kermit and Andrews will be represented. The program theme is "There's a World Between B and C" and the guest speaker will be Niranjan K. Sharma, formerly of Nepal. Also featured on the program will be a book review by Mrs. Ray Cantrell on "My Flickering Torch" by E. J. Mall. The business meeting will be presided over by Mrs. L. L. Drennan, followed by a salad supper in the Parish Hall. The host committees from the local Lutheran Women's Missionary League are Mrs. Leroy Budke, general chairman; Mrs. Marilyn Gieseking, program; Mrs. Garland Hilton, food; Mrs. Ralph Hadley and Mrs. William Davis, co-chairman; Mrs. Moran Oppgaard, tables; Mrs. H. T. Hansen, decorations; Mrs. Walter Pachall, registration; and Mrs. Gail Lutinen, nursery. Welcoming coffee will be served by Mrs. August Graumann. Mrs. Alton Marwitz is the president of the local group.

Teen-Led 'Celebration' Sports Different Look

FORT WORTH — Time slots usually given over to speech-making will be filled by a teen-lead "celebration" in the 3rd assembly of the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) in Texas here beginning Wednesday. Approximately 2,500 voting and non-voting delegates are expected to be on hand for sessions at the Tarrant County Convention Center. At least that many more are expected to register statewide in support of the assembly, but not attend. The assembly will handle 18 items of business, and in two dozen small groups discuss ways to practice Christianity in life situations and also hear a variety of presentations developing the theme, "There Is a Way!" A cast from the Texas Christian University theatre arts department will present a play that deals with a broad range of sticky issues. It is Lorraine Hansberry's "The Sign in Sidney Brustein's Window." Teenagers of the Texas Christian Youth Fellowship will lead an audio-visual worship experience. "The Celebration of Our Life Together As God's People."

Staff Banquet

The Big Spring Baptist Association will sponsor a church staff banquet at 7 p.m. today in Furr's Cafeteria for all staff members, including pastors, music directors and secretaries, and the wives and husbands. Dr. Jim White will be the guest speaker; and the Rev. Bryan R.C.S. area missionary, will be master of ceremonies.

Midway Baptists Schedule Revival

The Rev. Monroe Teeters of the Summit Baptist Church, Amarillo, will be preaching at the Midway Baptist Church on Interstate 20 East all next week. The church is beginning a series of revival services Sunday, continuing through the following Sunday. J. V. Bristow, Midland, will direct music for the meeting. Services will be held at 10 a.m. and at 7:30 p.m. daily Monday through Friday, said the pastor, the Rev. R. Bartlett Mills. The evangelist is a graduate of Howard Payne College and of Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary.

NO LONGER A QUARTET — The famed Beatles, the world's top pop group, now are a trio. Paul McCartney, left, announced today that he's split from the group but said he may be back. The remaining Beatles are John Lennon, second from left; Ringo Starr, second from right; and George Harrison, right.

At Least 73 Behind Barbed Wire Killed

PRASAUT, Cambodia (AP) — At least 73 Vietnamese men, women and children held behind barbed wire in this town were killed by automatic weapons fire early today.

They were cut down about the same time a Viet Cong force attacked Prasaot, 20 miles from South Vietnam, from all sides for six hours with mortars, B40 rockets and automatic rifles.

The exact circumstances surrounding the slaughter of the Vietnamese held under guard as security risks were not clear. Cambodian troops in position around the detention camp were hesitant to discuss it.

One lieutenant said the Vietnamese, rounded up Wednesday, were killed in a crossfire between Viet Cong and Cambodian troops.

Two Viet Cong bodies were still lying in the dry paddy field only 100 yards from the detention camp which is on the exposed eastern edge of Prasaot. A nearby thatch house lay in smoldering ruins and troops said Viet Cong grenades did it.

The two buildings inside the 80 by 100 foot enclosure where the Vietnamese are kept showed no signs of being shot up in a crossfire that would have to be prolonged to cause the kind of carnage still visible.

One of the buildings had a concrete base which could have provided cover. In addition there were two deep drainage ditches on two sides where the 150 or more Vietnamese could have hidden.

But by the pools of blood in the middle of the compound, it appeared most of them died there.

Hours after the shooting, there were two persons with Red Cross armbands attempting to give first aid to the 35 or more badly wounded who lay moaning and twisting in pain.

A major with the troops, when asked how the Vietnamese had been killed, replied: "They are all Viet Cong." When asked for details he begged off by saying he had just arrived in Prasaot.

In the grassy compound, heavy with the smell of death and the sound of women and children sobbing, an old Vietnamese spoke in Cambodian. He managed only a few words of French but said "pas Viet Cong, pas Viet Cong"—not Viet Cong—as he looked around him.

On two sides of the little area lay the bodies, lined up near the loose three-strand barbed wire fence. Straw mats and light blankets, part of the few possessions the Vietnamese brought when removed from their homes in Prasaot, covered the bodies. At least eight were children under 10. A precise count of the dead was difficult because some bodies were still entwined under the mats.

Pay Raise For Millions?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The six per cent pay raise for more than 5.6 million postal and other federal employees is expected to move quickly to President Nixon.

The across-the-board pay boost passed the House Thursday and only Senate agreement to minor House changes remains before the measure moves to the President for signature.

The House passed the bill 370 to 7 despite complaints that it was unfair, was forced by an illegal strike, and no provision has been made to pay for it.

Postal unions and the administration were expected to reach agreement today on an additional eight per cent postal pay raise tied to post office reform. But Chairman Thaddeus J. Dulski, D-N.Y., of the Post Office Committee said he would press ahead with a postal corporation bill regardless of what the union and administration recommend.

President Nixon has asked Congress to raise the price of a first class letter from six to 10 cents to pay for the salary increases, but committee members told the house they will recommend a postal rate increase to cover only the cost of the raises of postal employees.

FIRES BACK AT PRESIDENT — Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., introduced a resolution today charging that President Nixon's claim of geographic prejudice in the Senate's rejection of G. Harold Carswell to be a Supreme Court justice is "an assault on the integrity of the Senate." Gore is one of a handful of Deep South senators who opposed Carswell's nomination.

New Commissioners Take Office At Tuesday Meet

The new and re-elected city commissioners will go to work Tuesday as they meet for the first time with the other commissioners in regular session in city hall at 7 p.m.

Heading the agenda is the swearing in of the newly elected commissioners Wade Choate, Eddie Aciri, and Mayor J. Arnold Marshall. Choate and Aciri are beginning their first two-year terms on the commission, and Marshall his fifth.

Following the official canvassing of last Tuesday's vote, the commission will choose one of its members to serve as mayor for the next year.

Marshall has been mayor since 1966.

George Zachariah and Garner McAdams are holdover members on the commission. Walter Stroup did not seek re-election this year, and Jimmy Morehead failed in a bid to regain his seat on the commission last Tuesday.

After the commissioners are installed, they will consider eight items set for action on the agenda.

The public works department is asking for a new loader for the sanitary landfill which would cost an estimated $45,000. City officials propose to transfer the bulldozer now used at the landfill to the street department and to trade in the 1956 model used on the streets for the new machine. This trade-in is valued at about $5,000.

Mrs. W. O. Washington has filed a claim against the city to recover $63.43 in damages allegedly incurred when a city mower threw an object through a plate glass window of Marie's Arcade on March 31.

Bids for a city depository will also be opened Tuesday night. The commission requested proposals from the city's banks in February to determine where the city deposits would be kept this year.

The commissioners will discuss changing their meeting time, but City Manager Larry Crow said this morning no specific recommendations had been made for such a change.

Appointments to the tax equalization board will be made for this year, in conjunction with the county and school district.

The city traffic commission's recommendations from the meeting of Feb. 23 will be considered.

The Permian Basin Natural Gas Processors Association annual compressor roundup will be held Tuesday in Buildings A and B of the Ector County Coliseum. Participants may pick up their name cards from 8-9 a.m., and the roundup will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Lighter rains fell at many points, skipping on the west side of the state. Near dawn skies were clear over far West Texas and the Panhandle. It was partly cloudy to cloudy elsewhere.

There was early morning fog around Corpus Christi, McAllen and Palacios.

Fugitive Captured

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — William Kendall, 27, who escaped Sunday from a Dallas jail, was held today as a fugitive from federal custody.

Kendall apparently came to New Orleans shortly after escaping with three other prisoners, two of whom were recaptured Tuesday in Dallas.

Police said Kendall gave his name as William T. Walkins but a fingerprint check showed his identity.

A fourth escapee, Vernon Morales, 31, remains at large.

Captured Tuesday in a gun battle with Dallas sheriff's deputies were Robert L. Bennett, 22, and Frank Y. Street, 24. Both men were wounded slightly in the shootout with officers.

The escape was made by sawing through an air conditioning duct at the jail and crawling to freedom.

NO DOUBLE EAGLE COULD BE MADE ON 15TH HOLE NOW

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — As in the case of the weather, everybody at the Masters Golf Tournament is talking about the 15th hole but nobody can do anything about it.

They've dubbed it "Stone Mountain South." "It looks like they've buried a herd of dinosaurs out there," said Bill Casper. "I think it detracts from the natural contour of the course."

"You don't help a hole by lengthening it—I think it's a mistake," adds Gene Sarazen, whose double eagle on the hole in 1935 is one of the classic shots in the history of the game.

Sarazen would never be able to make a double eagle there now. Nor would almost every body else in the field, which 260 yards, will have to play their second shots short of the lake at the front of the green, taking a regulation three strokes to reach the green. However, long hitters like Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Tom Weiskopf, who on an open hole can often knock the ball 300 yards off the tee, can, with well-placed shots, reach the green in two for a good chance at a birdie and a possible eagle.

nold Palmer died by his own sword. "I shot dead for each hole-like I always have—and was penalized for it," fumed Palmer. "It's not in my blood to hit shots soft and hope they happen to trickle up near the hole."

Palmer settled for a 75. Aaron tamed Augusta National's diamond-hard greens with a four-under-par 68 and his closest pursuers were one shot off the pace. Grouped at 70 were Dan and R. H. Sikes along with Chi Chi Rodriguez, Charlie Coody and muscular Bob Lunn.

Jack Nicklaus, a three-time winner, stayed close with a 71 along with 1969's leading money winner, Frank Beard. South African Gary Player got off slowly with a 74.

"NOTHING SHOTS" "Good-looking shots turned into nothing all day," said four-time champion Palmer. "The ball skidded across the greens and I found myself looking back at the hole from behind the green."

"The rye grass that sprouts in many of Augusta National's rolling fairways failed to tickle Palmer's fancy. "It makes shots miserable to hit," he said. "If I owned a golf course with fairways like that, I'd plow them up."

Palmer was in an unexciting tie for 32nd place with the likes of Hsieh Yung-yo of Nationalist China.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

If the Teen-Age Baseball association complex is to be moved (and rumors are rife that the two parks will be made room for industry), I hope the new location will be at a lower elevation than the one now in use, and one of the diamonds is built so that it can be shared with the public school teams here.

Steer Park, present home of the high school clubs, has the only field in 3-AAAA with a covered grandstand (a holdover from the days of professional baseball here) but it was, alas, built on top of the world and the wind is restless there when it doesn't blow anywhere else in the community.

With home plate situated as it is in the northwest corner of the park, a stiff breeze moving in from the southwest will favor the hitter over the batter, create a sun field problem for the left fielder and often complicate the defensive play of the left side of the infield.

There is lots of land in the area on which such a complex could be built. No doubt it would have to be located at a considerable distance from the high school but that wouldn't be an insurmountable problem.

Although the fee must have been handsome, you can bet the NBA Atlanta Hawks didn't ante up $1.9 million to LSU's Pete Maravich to sign a long-term contract.

Insiders say Maravich got something like $250,000 in negotiables — which certainly isn't chicken feed.

Several years ago, the NBA formed a funding pool to match the millionaires of the ABA. Elvin Hayes and Westley Unseld cost the pool something like $300,000. The individual clubs put up the difference.

The pool may be tapped for $150,000 to hold Maravich, while Atlanta itself may have paid him only $100,000.

However, an annuity fund guarantees Maravich still more over a lifetime. His employers will insure him for $800,000 at a cost of, say, $25,000 a year. They add a double indemnity clause and that insurance becomes a possible $1.6 million item.

Kansas City's pro footballer, Mike Garrett, has a contract wrapped around mutual funds. He reportedly received $300,000 cash on a $330,000 contract. The other $300,000 was invested in mutual funds on annual time payments. If it continues 15 years, the Chiefs are paying $20,000 a year. If the national economy goes right, the fund will accelerate 5 to 10 per cent per year. At the end of 15 years, they will be in a position to take back their $300,000 and Garrett will get an equal amount, plus gaining the benefit of capital gains. He would cost his employers nothing.

Bill Daniels, who may transfer his Los Angeles ABA club to Albuquerque before next season, has a sister living here. She is Mrs. Robert Tinley, wife of a state hospital doctor.

Mrs. Tinley says Bill hasn't tipped his mitt about his future plans, quite probably because he hasn't made up his mind what he's going to do.

Benny Lenox, the University of Texas basketball albe (who's been featured in some of these TV motor car commercials), says that Houston Wheatley's Dwight Jones will dominate the college game like Lew Alcindor did a few years ago.

If that be the case, then look for Johnny Wooden to land Jones at UCLA. The UCLA miss very few boys they want.

Jones, incidentally, is at least an inch taller than the programs listed him to be. They had him at 6-9 1/2.

Texan John Elliott, who now plays with the New York Jets of the NFL, has opened a summer boys camp on the Nueces River. He'll coach football in the camp, which he calls the K-Bar Ranch.

Wilt To Lead Lakers In Set With Atlanta

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The huge man who came back, Wilt Chamberlain, prepares to lead the Los Angeles Lakers on an invasion of Atlanta after piling a fantastic reversal which brought victory over upstart Phoenix in their National Basketball Association playoff.

The Suns fell 129-94 Thursday night in the seventh and deciding game of the opening set after leading the series three games to one.

Chamberlain led the Lakers' three-game winning surge and in the finale the 7-foot-2 star scored 30 points and swept away 27 rebounds.

A pleased Coach Joe Mullaney observed: "I felt he was the major factor in turning the series around."

The Lakers had finished second in the NBA West during the regular season. Phoenix tied for third with Chicago, which lost to Atlanta after a coin flip decided the semifinal matchups.

Only one other team, Boston in 1968, had been down 3-1 and captured a playoff series.

Many didn't believe the 33-year-old Chamberlain would be around for these playoffs. He ruptured a tendon in his right knee on Nov. 7, underwent surgery and didn't return to action until March 18 when only three games remained on the regular schedule.

The Lakers needed time to adjust their game to the big man's presence, a fact which might have accounted somewhat for the solid advantage built by the Suns—that, and the fact the Lakers were cold-shooting.

The Lakers meet the Hawks in Atlanta on Sunday and return to the Forum next Friday and Sunday.

While the Lakers and Hawks await the start of their final Western series, Milwaukee and New York open their best-of-seven set for the Eastern title Saturday in Madison Square Garden.

Los Angeles roared into a quick and permanent lead in the Phoenix finale with Elgin Baylor scoring a dozen first-quarter points.

Umpires Convene At 1:00 Sunday

Officers for the 1970 season will be elected at a 1 p.m. Sunday meeting of the Big Spring Umpires association, which will be conducted in the Chamber of Commerce offices in the Permian buildings.

Jack Griffin, who presided over the group last year, said plans would be made for shouldering umpiring chores in local softball play, as well as for Little League and Teen-Age ball.

Jim Zapp is secretary of the association.

Pairings Are Completed For Webb Golf Action

Golf teams representing Webb AFB and the Big Spring Country Club clash on the Webb course Saturday. This is the first of two matches planned this year between the contingents and good weather could bring out a host of players. The return match will take place at the Country Club.

The first foursome tees off about 8:30 a.m. Free food and drinks will be served to all participants. Entry fee per person will be $1.50.

Entry is restricted to club members and golfers who have established handicaps. The course will be limited to tournament play only for that day.

Base personnel can receive their pairings and tee times by calling the golf course at extension 2196. Members of the Big Spring Country Club can call 267-5354.

Each foursome will consist of two Big Spring golfers and two Webb golfers, paired according to their handicaps.

Each match will be played between a two-man team from each club. Each match will be 18 holes, medal play, with credit for full handicap.

Combined scores of both players on a team, less full handicap, will be that team's score.

The team with the lowest net score wins its match and one point. The club with the most

Steer Golfers Eye 2nd Place

MIDLAND — Fourteen strokes behind pace-setting Odessa Permian but hopeful of overtaking San Angelo and earning a spot in the Regionals two weeks hence, the Big Spring High School golf team competes in the final round of District 3-AAAA competition at Hogan Park here today.

The Steers trail San Angelo by a mere three strokes. Permian leads with an aggregate score of 1245 and apparently has first place sacked up.

San Angelo is in at 1256 while Big Spring is third with a 1288 trailing the Longhorns at Midland High, 1290; Midland Lee, 1295; Abilene Cooper, 1298; Odessa High, 1292; and Abilene High, 1238.

The Longhorns picked up ground on both Permian and San Angelo last week by touring the Abilene municipal course in 307 strokes. Permian settled for a 311 while San Angelo breezed around in 309.

Tim Phillips of Permian is the current leader in medal competition with a 302. His teammate, Randy Smith, is four shots off that pace.

Among Big Spring players who have played four rounds, Mark Slate is low with a 318. He'll play today, along with Gary Peters, Pat Weaver, Gary Travis, Jarroll Carroll and Howard Stewart.

Par for the Hogan Park course is 71. Play was to begin at 9 o'clock this morning.

Cooper Given Nod In 5-A

SEAGRAVES — Lubbock Cooper is favored to repeat as track and field champion in District 5-A. The meet is scheduled here today.

Coahoma, Plains, Seagraves, Wink and O'Donnell are other schools fielding teams in the cinder show.

Cooper went on to win the State Class meet a year ago and has two strong relay teams again, as well as fine performers in individual events.

Steers Visit Abilene High

The Big Spring Steers open their second round of play in the District 3-AAAA baseball race Saturday in Abilene against Abilene High. Game time is 2 p.m.

Last time out, the Eagles walloped the locals, 11-2, completely dominating play. Since that time, the Steers have beaten Abilene Cooper and lost a 1-0 heartbreaker to San Angelo Central.

Quite likely, coach Oakay Hagood will send his ace right-hander, Jimmy Farris, to the mound again Saturday, although Dave Dumcar and David Englert are ready to pitch.

Coach Hagood has shaken up his lineup since the Abilene game. He moved Charley Roquez to third and sent Andy Womack to shortstop.

Abortions In Mexico City Arranged For Texas Women

DALLAS (AP) — Abortions in Mexico City have been arranged for 32 Dallas women in the past week.

The count is being tabulated by a Houston woman who, under the name Mrs. Lindsey Peterson, operates the Pregnancy Counseling Service in Houston. "The response has been tremendous, just tremendous," said the counselor. "We are still getting a good six to seven calls a day from Dallas."

She said the telephone rang "every 15 minutes" following a newspaper report about the free referral aid in aborting unwanted pregnancies, the first in Texas.

She said several Dallas women said they were referred to her by their physicians.

One person has called from Los Angeles and many others have come from the Ft. Hood area, Odessa, Sulphur Springs, Irving, Tyler and Naples, Tex.

The woman said she has been "pressured" to move to another office, however, but maintains the same telephone number in Houston, 523-5354.

"The landlord found out about it, through another person, I think, and suggested very strongly that I leave," she said.

Shows Can Be Dangerous

AUSTIN — The proverbial April showers can bring May flowers to Texas, but the Texas Safety Association cautions they also may bring some special problems for Texas motorists.

A sudden spring shower can catch many drivers unaware. Wet weather accounted for over 16 per cent of all fatal injuries and more than 20 per cent of other injuries in traffic accidents, according to the most recent statistics.

Faulty, or inefficient, windshield wipers, slick tires, and other unsafe conditions on passenger cars become even more dangerous during wet weather.

A sudden shower, after days without wet weather, can turn highway and roadway surfaces slick as glass as oil and road residue build up. Drivers are reminded that if a skid occurs, the wheels of the automobile should be turned in the direction of the skid to regain control, and the brakes should be touched lightly.

THEFT REPORTS

'Killer' Hurls Chair After His Conviction

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Screaming that there is "no justice in this court for a black man," a Negro hurled a chair and shouted obscenities Thursday after a jury convicted him of murder.

Lawrence Johnson's outburst occurred minutes after he was found guilty of murder with malice in the fatal beating and stomping last August of Michael Perkins, a fellow prisoner in the Bexar County jail.

The 37th district court jury later assessed a life sentence but Johnson, 22, from Waco, took it calmly. Prosecutors had sought the death penalty.

He was the second prisoner convicted in the slaying. Six more, also cellmates with Perkins at the time he died, remain to be tried.

Two deputies were cut by glass when Johnson burst through a door pane. His outburst began this way:

Shortly after the jury returned its verdict and retired to deliberate punishment, Judge Richard Woods went into his office to confer with lawyers.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Charles Conaway started to leave the courtroom and his way was blocked by Johnson's feisty outburst against the judge's bench as he sat in a chair.

Conaway asked Johnson to let him pass but then decided to go around him.

Witnesses said Johnson then snatched up a heavy oak chair, screamed obscenities, and threw the chair at Conaway. He missed as deputies grabbed him.

Lawrence called officers, court officials and the jury "white pigs."

As he was led still screaming from the courtroom, he bolted into a big plate glass panel of a courtroom door. Two deputies who cut their hands trailed blood as they led him to a cell.

TOMORROW
 —CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A strange and bewildering day and night in which most persons fluctuate from being patient and pleasant one moment and moody and quarrelsome the next. Try to avoid getting emotionally involved in any sort of unfamiliar situation.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Avoid that associate whose ideas are not to your liking and be more concerned with home and kin. Think carefully about what your obligations to others are. Pay bills.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) An associate can be just as stubborn as you today, but if you are more cooperative, you reach proper understanding. Make sure you get your work done first, then go out for some entertainment.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You had better keep that promise you made even though it may take more time than you had anticipated, or you could get into trouble over it later. Talk over that situation of home quietly with one who can be of assistance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Try not to do anything that will anger those around you today. Show kindness and understanding instead. Do your work with greater enthusiasm. Make a much better impression on others.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Do your civic duty without complaint and talk over the future with associates intelligently. Do not put too much stick into boring. Get into that detailed work that is necessary, too. Don't waste time today.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Joining with pals and associates for important conferences or entertainment today is fine. Don't miss out on some big chance to advance if you stick to that worthless plan. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Listen carefully to what an expert has to say regarding some important government or intimate affair. Do not be so much in a hurry that you lose some big opportunity that presents itself. Be wise.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Some partner is trying to take advantage of your generosity so be careful to give only enough aid to help him back on his feet. Make better investments yourself. Be wise.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Take advantage of any fine investments or pleasure that come your way today. Some changes may be necessary to gain your aims, but don't gripe about them. Take it easy at home in the evening.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Better make commitments early if you want to have the pleasures and conferences that mean much to you. Take that congenial person along with you. Stop being so shy with mate and show you really care.

Lack Of Data Thwarts Desegregation Checkup

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The lack of statistics on Mexican-American children in Texas has somewhat clouded analysis of school district desegregation formulas, a top Justice Department official said Thursday.

southern school districts is the "official policy" of segregation which exists in some southern areas whereas in northern areas it is fundamentally a problem of racial "isolation" which creates defacto segregation.

Jerry Leonard, assistant attorney general with the department's civil rights section, said data regarding Mexican-Americans and school segregation has been largely overlooked, but added that he is unaware of any pending court action regarding it.

Leonard and four other government officers were in Dallas Thursday on the first stop of a national tour to brief civil rights personnel on implementation of President Nixon's desegregation plans.

Robert Mardian, executive director of the Cabinet Committee on Education, said it is "possible to learn the numbers of Mexican-American children within a certain school but we don't have figures to indicate how much, if any, segregation exists within the school regarding Mexican-Americans."

"There hasn't been enough attention given to this area," admitted Leonard, "but we need to develop policies regarding this."

Leonard said 31 districts in Texas are "now in the act" of complying with federal guidelines governing school desegregation.

"Busing of students isn't the answer," he said.

Leonard said the main difference between northern and as yet failed to comply with federal guidelines.

For the feet-draggers, Leonard said "they had best begin to move rapidly."

"I believe," he said, "President Nixon plans to put all schools under a uniform policy and then attack the reasons for defacto segregation such as economic, social, ethnic and the other reasons for racial impaction."

"We have had difficulty in analyzing school district reports" in Texas because of the Mexican-American situation, Leonard said. "But so far as black and white students are concerned I don't think there are too many violations."

Overall, he added, Texas is probably high on the list of complying states.

He said that Mississippi has 50 school districts which have
