Nursing Disabled Ship To Splashdown Friday

BULLETIN

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Mission Control reported today that the Apollo 13 spaceship was off course and must make a midcourse engine correction tonight or Thursday if it is to return to earth. If the firing is not successful, the spaceship would miss the earth by 164 miles and probably would have no way to get home.

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 13's astronauts nursed their disabled spaceship back toward earth today rationing vital water, oxygen and power to keep the craft alive for a Friday splashdown in the Pacific Ocean.

The three spacemen and Mission Control Center appeared more confident with every passing hour that Apollo 13 would make it safely home.

But with two days to go it's still a potentially perilous journey, with the astronauts reduced to dependence on the power and other resources of the attached lunar landing craft.

And ahead lies the critical re-entry when the crippled command ship must carry James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. on a blistering dive through the earth's atmosphere.

GOOD IDEA

Splashdown is set for 12:18 p.m. EST Friday. However the recovery area southeast of Samoa was threatened by Tropical Storm Helen and the astronauts might have to shift their landing site.

After hours of calm but tense composure following Monday night's oxygen tank rupture that wiped out their moon landing attempt, the astronauts today were in better spirits. For the first time since the chilling accident had drained oxygen and electrical power from the command ship they joked with Mission Control.

They were buoyed Tuesday night when astronaut boss Donald K. Slayton radioed: "We think you guys are in good shape all the way around. Why don't you quit worrying and go to sleep?"

"We think that is a pretty good idea," Lovell said. "And at least part of us will."

HECTIC HOURS

The astronauts have been sleeping in shifts so that at least one is up at all times to monitor the lunar module systems.

But in the hectic hours after the accident there was little time for rest and Lovell complained Monday night: "We've gone a hell of a long time without sleep."

The lunar craft Aquarius is hooked nose-to-nose with the command ship and the tiny ship's oxygen is being used to supply both craft. The astronauts transfer back and forth through a connecting tunnel.

Early today Haise, standing watch while his companions slept, reported a slight venting of gas from the area of the command ship's service compartment, where the oxygen tank ruptured Monday. He also said he saw a four-inch piece of silver-colored metal float away from the area.

Mission Control said it didn't know whether this was connected with the original rupture or whether it was something new. There was no concern because the service compartment no longer was needed. It will be jettisoned before re-entry and the command ship will fly through the earth's atmosphere on a separate battery and control system designed for re-entry and landing.

With 60 hours to go, this was the situation in the lunar module Aquarius:

—Electrical power usage had been reduced from 17 to 14 amperes per hour, which would leave a reserve of 500 amp hours at the end of the mission. Later, Mission Control reported that at times the hourly usage rate dropped to 12.3 amps.

—The lower power outflow also reduced the water usage, and the astronauts were consuming 2.7 to 3.2 pounds an hour. The total water supply was 215 pounds. During periods of heavy electrical activity, such as engine firings, the water supply needed to cool electronics is increased to five or more pounds an hour. Mission Control told the astronauts they didn't have to skimp on drinking water.

Control told the astronauts they didn't have to skimp on drinking water.

The money bill for the U.S. Office of Education, passed by voice vote and sent to the Senate, goes $319 million over Nixon's budget requests.

Officials Aboard Iwo Jima Keep Close Watch On Helen

ABOARD USS IWO JIMA (AP) — A tropical storm that could give birth to a hurricane lumbered toward the Apollo 13 splashdown site today but recovery ship officials said they expected no weather they could not cope with.

Observers aboard the Iwo Jima kept a close watch on Tropical Storm Helen as it moved across the Pacific at less than six miles per hour.

If it keeps up its present course and speed, forecasters said the storm's fringe could be as near as 230 miles to the target point when Apollo 13 returns to earth Friday.

Winds near the center of the storm were clocked at nearly 50 miles per hour and gusts up to about 35 m.p.h. lickered out from the center for 150 miles.

The ship's meteorologist, Lt. R. B. Otis, said the storm prob-

BURNS SELF TO DEATH 'My Mind Is No Longer My Friend'

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Andy Anderson wrote a poem about his drug experiences saying, "My mind is no longer my friend. It won't leave me alone."

Then he burned himself to death. County Judge John Connell made public Tuesday the poem and a note in which Anderson, 20, wrote: "The drug experience has filled me with fear and doubts of myself. I cannot go on. Please try to remember my good points and excuse this final act of desperation."

The University of Florida junior, his body and his car doused with gasoline, burned to death Feb. 19 about 100 yards from his apartment building. A coroner's jury ruled the death suicide.

"This Christmas I had a very bad experience with a drug called mescaline. I had smoked a little pot before—as many my age—but I tried mescaline only once," Anderson wrote.

"Since then I have not been in control of my mind. I have killed myself because I can no longer run my own affairs, and can only be trouble and worry to those who love and care for me.

"I have tried to straighten myself out, but things are only getting worse."

ably will intensify. "It could very well become a hurricane" he said. He added that Helen, traveling southeastward, could take a more southerly course and speed up.

GOP Leader Ties Gambling To Douglas

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford has set the stage for a possible impeachment move against Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas, charging that Douglas may have had long-time ties with gambling and underworld figures.

Ford's attack on Douglas, drafted for presentation to the House today, covers a wide range of the 71-year-old Justice's activities, including his voting record on the court, his off-the-bench writings and his relationships with Las Vegas figure Albert Parvin and possibly with Parvin's associates.

Douglas' dealings with Parvin began in 1960 when he aided in setting up the Albert Parvin Foundation and became a director and later its president at $12,000 a year. Douglas resigned from the post last May.

The foundation, using $250,000 to $300,000-a-year income from Parvin's gifts, has financed 12-month fellowships for foreign students to study at Princeton University and the University of California at Los Angeles.

An official of the foundation estimated last year that about 50 fellowships have been granted.

Ford charges that Parvin has long been connected with underworld figures, the associations dating back as far as 1946 when he was hired by Bugsy Siegel to decorate the Flamingo Hotel, a Las Vegas gambling palace.

Parvin later purchased a large share of El Rancho, another Las Vegas gambling enterprise and, according to Ford, eventually teamed up with William Israel "Ice Pick Willie" Alderman to run the Flamingo.

Officials noted that if the weather creates critical problems the astronauts could maneuver their craft to land 200 miles beyond or short of the splashdown target, about 600 miles south of Samoa.

Capt. Leland F. Kirkemo, commander of the recovery ship, said he anticipated no problems even if the splashdown occurred in winds of around 45 m.p.h. He said several practice exercises already had been conducted in winds of that velocity off Hawaii.

Space agency officials on board expressed confidence that if the astronauts enter the earth's atmosphere, the landing will go normally.

The Iwo Jima was expected to remain within 100 miles of Samoa until late today when Rear Adm. Donald C. Davis, commander of recovery forces in the Pacific, was scheduled to arrive aboard ship by helicopter.

The ship will head for the splashdown area late today or early Thursday.

Plans call for the astronauts to be flown by helicopter to Samoa Saturday for a flight by jet back to Houston.

Scientists Elated With Moonquake

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The rest of the Apollo 13 mission may be a washout but scientists are elated with the moonquake created by crashing the Saturn 5 booster rocket into the lunar surface.

The impact at 8:00 p.m. EST Tuesday sent a four-hour shudder through the moon that was recorded by a seismometer erected in the lunar Ocean of Storms last November by the Apollo 12 crew.

Describing the seismic signals radioed to earth as exciting data scientists said the moonquake proves that crashing manmade objects into the lunar sphere can be a powerful tool for ultimately unraveling the mystery of the moon's origin.

"We now have a powerful and effective method for investigating the lunar interior even if we never get a big meteor impact and even if we never get a moonquake," said Dr. Maurice Ewing of Columbia University.

Ewing, Dr. Gary Latham of Columbia's Lamont Geophysical Observatory and Dr. Frank Press of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology spoke at a news conference Tuesday, several hours after the booster rocket impact.

The three seismologists were baffled by the seismic signal received last November when the Apollo 12 lunar lander was purposely crashed in a similar experiment. Such an impact on earth would have produced a brief signal, but on the moon the seismic waves lasted an hour.

When the seismic signal received Tuesday was almost identical with the one last November, the scientists knew the Apollo 12 moonquake was not a unique event. It proved that man-made impacts can produce significant seismic data and that seismic investigations aren't dependent on meteor hits or natural moonquakes.

"Now we can think in terms of a series of studies, maybe four or five moon missions — so, where you have impacts of increasing distance so that seismic waves penetrate deeper and deeper into the moon," said Press.

The seismologists have not agreed yet on what causes the strange reverberating seismic signals from the spacecraft crashes.

Latham prefers the idea that the moon's outer shell is extremely broken up—a layer of jumbled blocks that bounces seismic waves like sound in an echo chamber.

Press thinks perhaps the impact of a spacecraft in the vacuum of the lunar atmosphere creates a "wave of debris" that fans out for miles under the surface.

"As this debris moves horizontally along the surface it continues to pump energy into the ground. It continues to excite seismic waves," he explains.

Brown Power Call Sparks YMCA Parley

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Delegates at a national YMCA meeting listened Tuesday to a call for brown power as many of them planned for a peaceful protest today against the Vietnam War.

The call came from a Mexican-American state legislator, Joe Bernal of San Antonio. He urged those in the audience to get more Chicanos (Mexican-Americans) into their ranks.

"Most of you have for some time seen the plight of the blacks in our nation as a major social problem," Bernal said, "but you may not have recognized the magnitude of the problem involving the Mexican-American."

"I ask you to look around here at this convention. Do you have any Chicanos to tell their story? Are they in decision-making committees? Do you have them on your national and regional staff? If not, why not?"

Some of those attending the convention passed out leaflets urging the delegates to demonstrate for peace today.

The leaflets asked them to wear a black ribbon as a symbol of mourning for those killed in the war and suggested the delegates fast for peace by skipping dinner, and giving the price of the meal to the world YMCA refugee fund.

A silent vigil for peace was scheduled after the evening meeting today, with all delegates asked to leave the hall in silence and participate in a candlelight walk from the convention center to convention headquarters at a hotel several blocks away.

The chairman of the National Conference of Black Women of the YMCA told the delegates Tuesday her group will "no longer tolerate false liberalism."

Mrs. Donald Dammond of New York City said, "We, the black women of the YMCA, are determined that this convention take responsibility for the fulfillment today of our purpose, which declares that the YMCA, a movement rooted in the Christian faith and nourished by the resources of that faith known in Jesus, seek to respond to the barrier-breaking love of God in this day."

She asked that the YMCA "draw together into responsible membership women and girls of diverse experience and faiths that their lives may be open to new understanding and deeper relationships so together they may join in the struggle for peace and justice, freedom and dignity for all people."

Mrs. Dammond said the black women of the YMCA want to change the systems of the YMCA to give blacks more power in the organization.

"We are solidly united in determination to close the gap between the YMCA as stated in the purpose and YMCA practices," she said. "We will no longer tolerate false liberalism. We have no alternative but to immediately make this convention responsible for the fulfillment of the YMCA purpose or to fulfill that purpose ourselves at inside or outside of the YMCA."

WHICH TWIN HAS THE CLIPPER? — Even the barbershop mirror doesn't reflect the difference between identical twins Benny and Denny Lovell of Paris, Tex. Here Denny, the auto parts manager, swaps places with Benny, the barber. That's Benny using the mirror. We think.

Mother Couldn't Tell Them Apart

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — When Benny and Denny Lovell were a day old, their mother couldn't tell them apart.

At Bogata schools, the teacher had to place the identical twins on opposite sides of the room for identification. They swapped seats.

They double-dated a lot and often switched in the middle of a date. The girls never knew the difference.

Now, at 29, the Paris twins are still having trouble convincing the public they're really two.

Benny owns a Paris barber shop. Denny is manager of an auto parts department. They have a standing agreement. Benny doesn't sell any auto parts, and Denny doesn't cut any hair.

"But I had the devil of a time convincing a customer at Sears the other day that it was Denny, not me, who worked there," chuckled Benny. "He thought I was kidding him."

The Lovell twins, the youngest of nine children, got an uncommon amount of attention as kids. They were born with identical birth defects, a foot deformity, and until they were 16 years of age, the trips were regular between Red River County and Scott and White Clinic at Temple.

"The nurses there put a red ribbon on one of our arms," recalled Benny, "so they could tell which chart went with whom."

Sports was no problem. Denny played fullback, Benny end in Bogata High football. Both played guard in basketball. The numbers helped.

With girls, it was a different story.

"We double-dated and if we didn't like our dates, we'd swap in the middle of the evening," said Benny. "They'd never know the difference."

Board Elects HCJC Faculty

Trustees of Howard County Junior College elected the faculty at Tuesday's meeting and named three new members to fill vacancies.

Included were W. Arthur Capps, Mesquite, who will direct the law enforcement technology course; Mrs. Mary R. Crawford, Coahoma, who will be a library assistant; and Ronald B. Vorheis, Canyon, who will instruct in mathematics. Capps has his master's degree plus 30 hours other graduate work; Mrs. Crawford is librarian at Coahoma; Vorheis is an instructor at West Texas State University.

Others elected were: Dr. Dawson DeViney, administrative dean; Ben F. Johnson, academic dean; Leslie L. Lewis, registrar; and Don G. Shoemaker, business manager. All these were for a 12 months contract.

More Heat On Heatley

LUBBOCK (AP) — The grand jury investigating into allegations of political pressure regarding the campaign of Rep. W. S. Heatley of Paducah resumed today.

The lengthy probe was recessed several weeks ago in order to line up more witnesses.

Two Heatley opponents have claimed there were undue pressures placed on them to drop out of the race.

The hearings started in San Antonio and were moved to Lubbock where testimony was given by a number of witnesses.

Names of the new witnesses were not immediately available.

Commission To Meet Earlier

The city commissioners decided Tuesday night to change their regular meeting time to 5:15 p.m.

Commissioner George Zachariah said, "We met for years at 5:15 and I would like to see it go into effect during Daylight Savings Time."

The other commissioners agreed to go along with a change to test public reaction and set no specific date when the change might be reviewed. The commission voted to put the measure into effect at the next regular meeting set for April 28.

The regular time has been 7 p.m.

C-C Board Favors Demolition Job

Chamber of Commerce directors have gone on record commending the demolition of the building at Third and Gregg and expressing the hope that problems with it can be worked out.

The project lubbed a stump when it ran afoul of a city ordinance which prohibits demolition of structures when taxes are owing. It may be that the liability may all be transferred to the land and that a letter of intent will suffice in lieu of a bond for demolition work at any rate, directors adopted a resolution expressing the hope that the matter could be worked out with the city so the building, formerly housing Montgomery Ward Co., can be torn down.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, reporting on a state-wide tax assessing officers' seminar which drew 29 (plus several wives and husbands) here last week, said a one-day regional meeting had been set here for May 14.

A report on the formation of the Amistad Trail Association and plans for a sign here, along the proposed route was given by Joe Pickle, highway committee chairman, who also touched on status of other projects including impending widening of the west part of the Andrews highway in Howard County, the advanced planning on an eastern Big Spring railroad overpass, and the outlook for US 87.

Rich Anderson mentioned that Borden County is seeking an extension of the Vealmoor road some three miles into that county.

The next quarterly meeting may honor officials of the local political subdivision. Introduced as a new member of the board was Col. Anderson W. Atkinson, wing commander at Webb AFB, and guests were Mrs. Elbert Boullion, who touched on beautification projects, and M. Cort. Robert Butler, a member of the committee.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I think the world has gone mad with fashions for men. It's bad enough that men are now sporting velvet and ruffles and crazy color combinations in shirts and ties. But how about those skin-tight pants, Abby? The pants are so tight that they're made without pockets.

Where is a man supposed to carry his wallet, keys, handkerchief and pocket comb?

WONDERING: DEAR WONDERING: In his purse, silly!

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our early 60's and have had a very happy marriage, but now my doctor tells me that I have an incurable disease and will soon be a help-less invalid, and I'll probably linger on for years as a "vegetable," no good to my husband, or anyone else.

My husband is healthy, handsome, and virile, and I haven't had the heart to tell him the awful news that he is tied to a doomed wife who will bring him nothing but misery and anguish for the next few years.

I love my husband too much to run his life this way, and am seriously considering getting a divorce and setting him free to seek new happiness with someone who can be a real wife to him.

What should I do, Abby? I would also welcome suggestions from your readers — especially the men. Thank you, all.

"I'M DOOMED" DEAR I.M.: Ask your doctor to tell your husband, in your presence, what he has told you about your condition. Then don't try to second guess your husband's reactions, or blueprint his future, however well-intentioned. You won't "ruin" your husband's life — you may enrich it. Because, after a long and happy marriage, he may want to put more into that marriage now than he ever has before.

Now, ask yourself this: "If your husband were dying, would you permit him to divorce you in order that you could seek happiness with another man?" I doubt it.

DEAR ABBY: Ten years ago, when we were married, we decided to have four children. Through the years we were blessed with three healthy sons, and on sharing in the happiness of dear friends who had adopted an infant, an idea grew in our minds.

Since it is true that so many babies are born out of wedlock, and the world population is increasing so rapidly, why should we bring still another child into the world when there are so many children who desperately need the love and care of a family — truly the right of ALL children?

We made an appointment with a licensed adoption agency in our state. All we needed was a medical checkup, showing us to be physically fit, three character references and a letter stating our religion. (In this state, the adoptive parents must be the same religion as the baby's natural mother.)

We were interviewed both at home and at the agency and within two months we had a beautiful, healthy, alert six-month old daughter!

Please pass this on to others, Abby. I think "natural motherhood" is vastly overrated.

Lynching Charge Filed in Dallas

DALLAS (AP) — A rarely-invoked charge of second-degree lynching was filed Tuesday against a 22-year old man in connection with the assault of a policeman during Sunday's melee at Lee Park.

Dist. Atty. Henry Wade filed the felony charge against Michael Ray Maloney. Wade's complaint said Maloney threw a pop bottle which struck a police officer in the head. It took five stitches to close the wound.

Wade asked bond of $5,000 on the charge.

Bomb Killer's Writ Attempt Hits Snag

DALLAS (AP) — A writ of habeas corpus hearing for convicted killer Harry L. Washburn has been delayed indefinitely to allow defense attorneys time to locate more witnesses, Judge Jerome Chamberlain said Tuesday.

Washburn seeks release from a 99-year sentence for the 1955 car bombing death of his wealthy former mother-in-law. He became the focal point of one of the most sensational crimes of the 1950s.

The hearings, Chamberlain said, will resume at a time when the defense has ready additional witnesses in the case.

The hearings began Thursday in Dallas and concluded Friday after only a few hours of testimony. Over 50 witnesses had been subpoenaed but all did not show up.

The bombing occurred in San Angelo but Washburn was tried in Dallas after the first conviction was overturned.

Washburn has made repeated efforts to free himself from prison on various legal grounds.

Washburn's brother, Frank R. Washburn of Houston, filed a $3 million damage suit in 1967 against the victim's husband and attorney Percy Foreman.

Mrs. Helen Harris Weaver was killed at her San Angelo home Jan. 19, 1955 when she started her car and dynamite exploded.

All New for 1970 Firestone "500" with the new WIDE LOOK of the 70's

Read what Mario Andretti says about the new, wide Firestone 500

"They gave me more mileage... yet retained all the high performance capabilities!"

"Most people don't buy '500's' for mileage alone. They buy them because they're strong... ready to stand up to all types of punishing side roads and take the abuse of sustained long distance runs at superhighway speeds. But you'll be happy to know the new wide '500's' will deliver great mileage. If you're a sensible driver—use good judgement in braking, cornering and accelerating, rotate tires and check alignment regularly—you get even more mileage."

"They improved the traction on wet and dry pavement."

"That's important! Your high-powered car has a good braking system... but your tires actually stop your car! Your tires grab the road when you apply the brakes. The new wide '500' is nearly one inch wider and concave molded so that the entire tread 'footprint' is in contact with the road when the tire is inflated. This bigger 'footprint' allows you to stop faster... up to 30% faster on wet pavement than the previous '500.'"

"They restyled the sidewall to give you the sportiest tire of them all!"

"Tires have come of age! They're no longer round and black... period! You want a great looking tire as well as a great performing tire. The new wide '500' is for you! The sidewall treatment on this tire is unique... just like the tire itself. It has two raised white stripes... plus raised white '500' numerals. This tire really stands out in a crowd and gives your car real class."

Outside Court Guns Driver He Believed Killed Son

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Police say Eugene Friedman shot and killed a truck driver he held responsible for the traffic accident death of his young son last September.

Lou T. Watts, 37, the driver, fell dead under a fusillade of pistol fire Monday outside the Municipal Court building.

Friedman, a 43-year-old employe of the Los Angeles County Real Estate Management Department, had been seeking for months to have Watts prosecuted for the death of the boy who was struck while bicycling. Ethan, 10, was Friedman's only child.

The district attorney said there was no evidence to justify a prosecution. Friedman hired a private investigator, whose report failed to alter the situation.

Watts told investigators the boy had swerved suddenly and he couldn't avoid him.

Later, police said, Watts was found to have four driving licenses obtained by giving false information.

On March 9 police arrested Watts for investigation of driving with a revoked license.

Police said Friedman was at Municipal Court when the case came up Monday, talked with Watts briefly outside the building, then began firing an automatic pistol at him.

Friedman was booked for investigation of murder.

Use Of Migratory Farm Workers Is Decreasing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Use of migratory farm workers has decreased from about 400,000 to roughly 250,000 in the last decade, a Labor Department official said.

Arnold R. Weber, assistant secretary of labor for manpower, told a Senate labor subcommittee that the system of migratory labor in agriculture is gradually phasing out as a major labor market activity.

But he said that migrant workers will continue to be a significant segment of the farm labor force for some time.

The subcommittee is studying problems facing the workers who move from state to state seeking mostly farm work.

Chairman Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said he was appalled by the sense of powerlessness of the migrants. "They work hard er for less than any people in the country," he said.

Donald Paarlberg of the Agriculture Department said the migrant force is declining about 22,000 every year. Use of mechanized equipment on farms is cutting down jobs for the migrants, he said, and they will need training to transfer to non-farm jobs.

Weber said the Labor Department is interested in developing stability of employment for the migrants and the maintenance of wage, working and living standards.

Weber estimated the average income of migrant workers at less than $1,800 in 1969. Mondale commented that this is about half of the amount the government has called a poverty level for a family of four.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

As long as DOUG PARRISH of Chicago, Ill., was going to be sick last week, anyway, he's glad the illness hit him on his first trip to Big Spring.

Parrish had been in San Antonio to a NFPA meeting to represent the Borg Warner Company. It was his first trip to Texas, and when the meeting concluded, he decided to make a loop around Big Spring and Codden Oil and Chemical Co. refinery. He had heard of Big Spring from a Borg Warner vice president and former Big Spring resident, RHODA STEWART.

When he arrived here, Parrish was ill and called DON YATES, an employee of the refinery. He was admitted to a hospital where the doctors and nurses gave him pretty special attention because he was so far away from home and really had his head under his wing for about five days.

When he was able to travel, the Yateses took him to his plane and were fortunate enough to run into MIKE HULL who was going to Dallas on the same flight. At Dallas, Mike got him aboard a plane to Chicago which wasn't easy with no reservations. However, all went well and Parrish has called back to say he's happy to be back home, well and feels good to have such good friends back in Texas.

MRS. JIM LEMONS is spending a few days in O'Donnel with the WAYLAND TAYLOR family. The Lemons and the Taylors were close friends when the Lemons lived there several years ago.

MRS. GEORGE HALL has returned from Abilene where she was a guest at a luncheon honoring her granddaughter, CINDY REAVES, who will graduate from high school there in May. Hostesses for the Fiesta affair were MRS. JAMES STRAIN and MR. BILL HENRY at the Strain home.

Mexican or was used in the table settings and favors. Twelve of Miss Reaves' classmates were included on the list along with her mother, MRS. CONARD (Harriet Hall) REAVES. Feature of the gathering was a "This Is Your Life" program which the hostesses assembled from birth records, tape recordings, etc. A letter from the honoree's sister, MISS RINDA REAVES, was read as she could not attend. She now makes her home in San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Hall accompanied MR. and MRS. HAROLD HALL as far as Abilene. They were en route to Houston to visit their son, DON, and his wife and little daughter.

Chaplain Hicks listed 20 points for becoming sick, neurotic and eventually psychotic. All of the points more or less involved an indulgence of self. A LOVELIER YOU Beauty Imperfections Should Be Remedied

By MARY SUE MILLER

Do you quest for springtime loveliness? Well, a search begins with grooming rites. A program that systematically tunes up the head-to-toe cannot be overestimated. Surely, we can expect a little help from fashion on that score. Almost all clothes will be abbreviated in some manner.

Why not be rid of little imperfections? Solutions to usual problems follow:

For Lustrous Skin. In bath or shower use water-mixable oil made expressly to soften and moisturize dry, flaky winter skin. Follow by a long, brisk rubdown with a grainy terry towel. In addition, massage with rich, creamy body lotion, night and morning. The exception here would be skin blemishes — across the shoulders, let's say. Then, for body lotion, substitute medicated skin liquid or fluid.

For Calloused Spots. Pump bumps, callouses, rough elbows and scuffed knees respond to three-weekly treatments with nupture soufflé cream or pumice stone. Plus weekly procedure of manicure caliber.

To Remove Fuzz. Scant, dark fuzz on the legs and arms may be bleached. Noticeable growths require depilation. For the underarms, the razor method is best.

For Veins. Reddish, thread-

LATEST NOMINEE TO SUPREME COURT SAYS:

He Calls 'Them As He Sees Them'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The any of us might have and take the lead in expanding constitutional precepts when we are faced with a limiting Supreme Court decision," Blackmun wrote.

"It would not be too surprising if the Supreme Court one day were to hold that a court errs when it dismisses a complaint of this kind," he added.

Blackmun has written opinions directing the West Memphis, Ark., school district to desegregate its faculty and seek racial balance in the student body, and ordering another Arkansas school system to make every effort to rehire Negro teachers dismissed when their schools were closed.

In a case last month, Blackmun wrote an opinion directing the Dorado, Ark., school district to achieve further integration. But he said:

"We do not rule that busing is a constitutional imperative. Busing is only one possible tool in the implementation of unitary schools. Busing may or may not be a useful factor in the required and forthcoming solution of the elementary school problem which the district faces."

Although he has upheld the death sentence in celebrated cases, Blackmun wrote a 1965 decision ordering a new hearing for an Arkansas Negro sentenced to death for raping a white woman. He held that a confession introduced as evidence was involuntary, the type of ruling that appears to conflict with Nixon's views.

Political observers began predicting immediately that Blackmun would not meet the opposition which defeated Nixon's last two nominees—Clement F. Haynsworth and G. Harold Carswell—although senators were generally cautious in their initial reactions.

Haynsworth and Carswell, both judges on U.S. appeals courts in the South, were rejected by the Senate after bitter controversy centering about labor and civil rights issues and Haynsworth's outside business interests.

Nixon said after the Carswell defeat last week he thought the Senate would not confirm a Southern judge who shared his views on the Constitution.

The Senate Judiciary Committee plans to start public hearings on the nomination next week, and early committee and floor votes are expected.

Blackmun is a native of Nashville, Ill., but began his education in the same kindergarten class in St. Paul attended by Burger. He was best man at Burger's wedding.

The nominee graduated with highest honors from Harvard with a degree in mathematics and from Harvard Law School. He practiced law in Minneapolis for 17 years before moving to Rochester as counsel for the Mayo Clinic in 1950. He was named to the federal appeals court by President Eisenhower in 1959.

He is married and has three daughters.

Dr. Dale Straughan, research assistant at the University of Southern California, addressed the annual Pipe Line Conference of the American Petroleum Institute's transportation division.

One reason for the limited damage, the scientist said, was because the spill occurred in an area that for centuries has been plagued by oil seeps. She said the Santa Barbara channel, therefore, would have a large population of oil-degrading bacteria.

She also observed that "species living in this area have been exposed to large concentrations of oil over many generations and perhaps they have developed a higher tolerance to oil than is normally found in marine species."

Dr. Harold Orton, visiting professor of English at the University of Tennessee, says these expressions are just a few of the 88 ways the English have of saying left-handed.

Orton, professor emeritus at the University of Leeds in England, discovered the expressions while compiling his 12-volume "Survey of English Dialects."

Orton, who retired in 1964, is teaching courses in history of the English language at UT.

Santa Barbara Oil Damage Not As Great

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A university researcher said Tuesday that although data is incomplete it is generally acknowledged that marine life damage from the Santa Barbara, Calif., oil spill was not as great as was initially reported.

Oklahoma Legislature Slated To Adjourn Today

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — The 32nd Oklahoma Legislature, all its major business behind it, was set to adjourn late today, ending one of the shortest sessions in state history.

Not since 1943 has a legislature concluded its work earlier and not since 1911 has one worked fewer legislative days.

The last major bill, the $119.8 million common school appropriation, cleared both the House and Senate Tuesday, leaving only a handful of measures to be considered today.

Senate President Pro Tempore Finis Smith said sine die adjournment could come as early as 3 p.m., the time set in a resolution passed by both houses. But most sources expected adjournment to come later in the day, with the clock covered at 3 p.m. as the official sign of sine die adjournment.

New Trustees Take Oaths

One incumbent and one newcomer were sworn in as trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District Tuesday night, and a board of equalization was appointed.

Roy Watkins repeated his oath of office and Delnor Poss accepted his first commission to the board at the end of the meeting. Jack Alexander retained his place on the board through Tuesday's meeting.

Trustees appointed E. S. "Pat" Murphy, Billy T. Smith and W. E. "Jack" Shafer to the board of equalization, and set the public hearings for July 7-9. The oil and utilities hearing will be June 17.

Ballots cast in the April 4 election, in which Watkins and Poss were elected, were canvassed, with Poss receiving 1,114 votes; Watkins, 1,031; Ray Thomas, 550; Mary Thomas, 501; and Ted Ferrell 357. Two write-in votes were recorded for Bertis M. Harris and one for Don Horton.

Joe Moss was re-elected president, Grant Boardman was re-elected vice president, and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper was renamed secretary in the customary revision of board officers necessary after each election. All three were re-elected unanimously to their offices.

A Devotion For Today . . .

In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth. (Genesis 1:1)
PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we pray that Thy love may become the ruling force in our lives. Thou hast showed us what is good—to do justly, to love kindness, and humbly walk with Thee. Help us in these things, through Christ our Lord. Amen.

Registration, Now Education

Voter registration drives have paid off unexpectedly well in Texas. With Rockwall County yet to report officially, the total number of registrants had climbed to 4,150,645. This sets a record, which is at least unusual in a non-presidential-election year (the 1968 figure was 4,073,576).
 Now the much bigger issue looms: How many of the more than 4 million Texans registered to vote actually will cast their ballots this year on the basis of the candidates' records and platforms?
 The fervent get-out-and-vote campaigns of past years obviously do not go far enough. Knowledge, beyond catchy campaign slogans and candidates' pictures on bumper stickers is needed.

The growing facilities of the mass media can be invaluable to voter education. Voters have access, as never before, to knowledge of the candidates from whom they may choose their leaders.
 Yet, the American voter too often has allowed himself to fall victim to masterful advertising in lieu of effective airing of the issues.
 Political campaigns have long adhered to the basic tenet that an uninformed voter will cast his ballot for the familiar name or face. And this principle is finding fertile ground in the expanding mass media. It is this superficial concept that the voter must repudiate if truly representative leaders are to be elected.

Words Can Miss Issue

Allen J. Laborde, president of the Louisiana-Arkansas division of the Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association got carried away with his rhetoric recently.
 Speaking to the Louisiana Association of Manufacturers, Laborde charges that Secretary of the Interior Walter Hickel had become "an expert of 15 minutes experience" after a brief flight over the Santa Barbara, Calif., oil spill last year.
 "A couple of dead gooney birds replaced Donald Duck in national popularity ratings as a result of Hickel's flight," Laborde said.
 He asked for support to lift a federal ban on offshore oil lease sales.

a ban resulting he said from a 30-minute flight by Hickel over a burning well off the Louisiana coast.
 Laborde surely must realize that the oil and gas industry is going to have to get along somehow with Hickel, the general public, and environmentalists. These are uneasy bedfellows, to be sure. But the continuing controversy will not be settled by polemics, clever slogans, or wisecracks.
 Differences of opinion must be reconciled. A calm discussion of the issues can lead to fair and workable agreements. Loose talk can only complicate efforts to produce a sound settlement.

Fuss In Texas American Party Suffering

By TED SIMMONS
 Associated Press Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Two years ago, George Wallace of Alabama won a place on the ballot of all 50 states as a third party candidate for president.

He did it through the efforts of a group of state organizations using various names, but referred to generally as the American Independent Party (AIP).

At the peak of his campaign, there was speculation that Wallace's organization conceivably could form the nucleus of a major permanent third party offering state and local candidates and competing with Republicans and Democrats in some states.

AS THE 1970 elections draw closer, however, the AIP, almost everywhere, is suffering from a lack of funds, a lack of organization and from intra-party squabbles. Its chances, according to a national survey by The Associated Press, of electing anything more than a handful of local and/or state officials are extremely remote.
 In many cases where candidates are being offered this year, party spokesmen acknowledge that they have little hope of winning. Even in the five Southern states which Wallace carried in 1968, AIP activity is either fragmented or nonexistent.

IN WALLACE'S home state of Alabama, ironically, there is no AIP. In his presidential campaign Wallace used the regular party machinery there — Gov. Albert Brewer was one

Billy Graham

Some people in our church argue that God is too much a God of love to let anyone really spend eternity in hell. What do you think about this?
 S.W.T. While the Bible teaches the existence of hell, there is not a single reference that God sends people there. "Judas by transgression fell that he might go to his own place." Certainly Jesus didn't want Judas to go to hell. In fact, he did everything to keep him from going there. But, Judas, like you and I, had the power of choice. Even though he had the most wonderful opportunity of being a faithful disciple of Christ, he chose the path of greed and betrayal. I see people making this same choice every day, and one thing God cannot do is to interfere with man's free choices.
 Of course, no one deliberately elects to go to hell. But, while this is true, many people do acknowledge God's power, God's provision of eternal life, through Christ — but in their willfulness cannot bring themselves to accept God's offer to keep them out of hell. The Bible says, "He that being often reproved, and hardeneth his heart, shall suddenly be destroyed, and that without remedy." Just as God cannot prevent people from suicide, alcoholism and narcotic addiction, He cannot keep them from self-destruction, if that is their determination. In fact, He has done everything possible to save them from it, including the sacrificing of His only Son, and the daily persuasion of the Holy Spirit.

Hal Boyle Are You A Normal Liar?

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you normal, too normal, or too abnormal?
 These are important questions in a world in which many people are living at a pace that is out of this world. Others, trying to survive, have withdrawn so deeply within a shell that the question arises as to whether they are dwelling in a nutshell.
 No one would want to submit the degree of his sanity to the judgment of a computer. Anyone who would trust a machine that far would already have to be far gone.
 It is possible, however, for a person to find out for himself just how normal he is. All he has to do is answer a series of simple questions, such as:
 If you found a good parking place, would you try to keep it for yourself?
 Can you lose your head when all around you are losing theirs, and still manage to blame it on them?
 If you are a member of the middle class, do you believe the government's present tax program is designed to squeeze that class to death?
 Is it impossible for you to whistle on the way to work any time within the last 10 years? Do you find it impossible to whistle on the way to work anyway?
 Suppose you had a chance to be reincarnated in an after life as mouse, a college president, a barnacle, a lion or a lucky slob. Wouldn't you prefer to be a lucky slob?
 If you knew of a surefire way you could steal a million dollars today and escape all prosecution except by the pangs of your own conscience, wouldn't you be a millionaire before sunset?
 Doesn't it make you uncomfortable to walk behind a woman whose ankles wobble because she has remover heels?
 Don't you feel cheated when you try to smell a beautiful flower and find that it has no aroma?

Have you ever cheated on your golf score, fudged on a diet, pretended to an illness you didn't have in order to escape a social obligation, and told at least one little white lie a month to your wife during the period of your marriage?
 If you had it all to do over again, wouldn't you rather inherit money than have to pull yourself up by your own bootstraps?
 Actually, you had more help along the way from others than you care to admit, didn't you? And you left behind you a few unpaid bills—right?
 While the best friends you have live in the same block with you, the first thing you'd do if you won a $100,000 lottery prize is move to a better neighborhood—isn't that true?
 Okay, now to your box score. If you answered no to more than half the questions, you are a normal liar and should get along in the world all right. If you answered yes to all of them you are an abnormal fool, too truthful to be trusted, too honest for your own good.

John Cunniff Bookkeeping Breakdown

NEW YORK (AP) — Observations from the world of business and finance:
 —The top-ranking official in the world's most powerful Communist nation, and the top man in the largest manufacturing concern in the capitalist world, apparently share some thoughts.
 In criticizing lagging labor productivity, Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev's comments sounded a bit like those of James Roche, chairman of the board of General Motors Corp.
 In a television address this week to the Russian people, Brezhnev said:
 "Many of our rank-and-file workers and many leading officials at time lack a heightened sense of responsibility and discipline. Some sectors of the economy fail year after year to fulfill their plan."
 He demanded stiff penalties against shirkers and drunkards, and he reminded workers that each "has an interest in the improved functioning of enterprises."
 In a speech several weeks ago to the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, Roche complained that worker productivity was falling badly, that absenteeism had doubled in a decade, and that the quality of work was not what it should be.

 Roche said workers had a responsibility to produce quality in keeping with their demands for higher quality in the goods they buy. Like Brezhnev, he reminded workers that their efforts do indeed effect the total picture.
 "Our ability to improve our standards of living depends directly on our willingness to work to create the goods and services we enjoy," Roche said.
 —After months of pleading that a misbilling be corrected, a customer said to the service representative of a large utility: "Things must be pretty confused in your billing department."
 "Oh no," she replied. "We've got only 10,000 similar situations now."
 Told that this appeared to be a very high figure, she stated: "A few months ago we had 40,000."

Around The Rim And Suddenly . . .

Early one morning eight years ago I watched and listened raptly as Alan B. Shepard entered a capsule atop a rocket poised off the coast of Florida. I scarcely breathed as the count down came and fire billowed from the base of the craft as it seemed to shudder and then slowly rise from its pad and slowly climb into the sky.

SOON HE WAS in sub-orbital flight, then pitched back in a scorching descent. As millions of others must have done, I prayed that he would return safely. Finally there came word that the parachutes had opened and he was coming down as planned. When John Glenn went up for our first orbital flight, it was equally suspenseful, especially when it came to falling back into the earth's atmosphere.

OVER THE YEARS, however, success piled upon success, with the only tragedy the death of three astronauts in a fire aboard the capsule while running a routine ground test. Somewhere along the line we got the idea that our technology was infallible, that every eventuality was covered. Only when we finally landed a module on the moon and man set foot upon another planet did we realize anew the immensity of this historic moment. And once more, the nation prayed as the men touched the switch which would determine if rockets would lift them off and toward a rendezvous with the command capsule orbiting above.

THE SECOND MOON landing was accomplished with such precision that it defied imagination, yet most of us took it in stride. Our scientists had it all figured out, and practice had made everything perfect. We must have begun to feel that we were "the master of (our) fate."

But now we have three men up there in deep trouble, hopefully on their way back to a safe return to earth, but with every bit of help and ingenuity our space scientists and technologists can conjure needed to help avert what we almost blithely told ourselves — someday we may lose some up there.

SUDDENLY we realize how dependent man is after all upon such simple things as oxygen to breathe, on water to sustain life, and upon some means of power — even just enough to cooperate with such great forces as gravity.

Once again we realize that we need help, and we look up with the awe and humility of the Psalmist. "When I consider thy heavens, the work of thy fingers, the moon and the stars, which thou hast ordained, what is man that thou art mindful of him?"

A TINY SPECK of dust in the dark reaches of space, and yet we devoutly pray that God is somehow mindful of those who are there. —JOE PICKLE

Andrew Tully Let Him Pay The Price

WASHINGTON — Before we all go stark staring mad and proclaim Eldridge Cleaver king, perhaps we should take a quick look at the cases of two young Americans — one dead and the other obnoxiously alive.

THE DEAD youth is, or was, Dale Blake of Holden, Mass., a declared pacifist who refused to dodge the draft even as a conscientious objector, entered the Army, and was killed in Vietnam, March 20.

Then we have one Thomas G. Jolley, who fled to Canada to evade the draft, legally renounced his United States citizenship, and now wishes to come home without being harassed by the enforcement of a lot of laws which apply to other young Americans.

NOTHING WE SAY now can help Dale Blake, but in time perhaps his widow and children will find some comfort in the knowledge that he did his duty, that he fulfilled his responsibility as a citizen. At the same time, I hope Mrs. Blake and her tads will carry on Pfc. Dale Blake's quiet, law-abiding crusade against all wars, even those endorsed by the American Legion and the Freedom Loving Friends of Mao Tse-tung, Inc.

But we can, and should, say quite a bit about Thomas G. Jolley, including the statement that he's got a lot of nerve. The kindest aspect of his case is that Jolley wants it both ways. Unfortunately, he is supported in his position by assorted wet-pants liberals, hysterical members of the silly woman set, and such part-time liberals as Sens. Ted Kennedy and New York's Sen. Charles Goodell, who seek total amnesty for youths of the Jolley ilk.

JOLLEY'S MOTIVATION, to put it in simple English, is immaterial. The law says all males between 18 and 26 must abide by Selective Service regulations. Jolley is granted by the Constitution the right to dissent from both the law and the regulations on legal or moral grounds. He could have sought deferment, alternative service or exemption as a conscientious objector. He did none of these things, but fled to Canada.

It did not occur to him, as it seems never to have occurred to the crusaders of the New Left, that every right is secured and maintained by a responsibility.

THAT, OF COURSE, is the crux of what I suppose must be described as a national problem. Jolley has no more "right" to decide which laws he will reject than I have to refuse to pay my income tax — blast the Internal Revenue Service to perfection.

I suppose I am sorry for Thomas G. Jolley, as I am sorry for any mixed-up kid. But I lose no sleep over him, as I might well over Pfc. Dale Blake.

SURE, LET HIM come home — but only if he says he is now prepared to pay citizenship's price by submitting to the draft system. Granting Thomas G. Jolley full amnesty, as some of our befuddled politicians advocate, would be an insult to the memory of an American named Dale Blake. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

David Lawrence Opposition Might Well Continue

WASHINGTON — President Nixon will challenge the Senate to approve a nominee for the Supreme Court who doesn't come from the South but who believes in a strict interpretation of the constitution. The President emphasizes that it is a principle which he is seeking to establish rather than the selection of any particular individual.

AT THE SAME time, however, Mr. Nixon makes it clear that he believes Judges Haynsworth and Carswell were subjected to "vicious assaults on their intelligence, on their honesty and on their character." And that they had been "falsely charged with being racists." He adds that, when all the hypocrisy is stripped away, "the real reason for their rejection was their legal philosophy" and "the accident of their birth — the fact that they were born in the South."

Since Mr. Nixon now has asked his attorney general to find someone outside the South, he is, in effect, expressing his regret on behalf of the people of the South that no "strict constructionist," no matter how capable, who comes from that area can expect to be confirmed by the Senate "as it is presently constituted." The President believes that this was at the bottom of the fight against both Judge Haynsworth and Judge Carswell.

THE PEOPLE of the South have been witnessing the anti-Southern expressions in the Senate, and have not been happy about it. The racial problem is a difficult one to handle. But solutions were not advanced by the unreasonable attitudes of those senators who selected a speech made 22 years ago and used it as the basis for their rejection of Judge Carswell, even though he declared that his views had, of course, changed.

But what will the Senate do with any nomination in the future? If the President takes a chance again and selects someone who has been on the bench a number of years, certainly the decisions rendered by such a judge will be scrutinized minutely. If some of them were reversed by a higher court, it may be charged with being "in error." If any speeches were made expressing sympathy with a cause that happens to be involved in the controversies of the day, such a nominee runs the risk of opposition from organizations espousing opposite viewpoints.

ANY JUDGE who has served in the federal courts or in the state judiciary has had his opinions reversed in various instances by higher tribunals. But in the case of Judge Carswell, his record was widely advertised as an example of "mediocrity" and as showing lack of ability.

Few men have been the victims of such smear campaigns as were leveled at the two defeated nominees for the high court not only by some newspaper editors who in the past have dealt with these matters objectively but by organizations which have become super-sensitive about racial questions.

WHEN A nomination is before the Senate for three months, there is time enough to spread many kinds of rumors and reports. An opportunity is afforded political groups to exert their pressure. It was so intense on the occasion of the Carswell nomination that 13 Republicans deserted their president, while 28 stood by him. But it is to be noted that practically all of those who felt compelled to vote against Carswell came from areas where there is a large Negro vote and civil-rights groups exercise quite an influence particularly in big cities. The same is true of labor organizations.
 So if an appointee has heretofore expressed himself on racial questions or labor matters in a manner that might antagonize these organizations, which virtually exercise majority control in Congress, there is little chance for the nomination to be approved. ## To Your Good Health Cold Water

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Thosteson: Information on cold water treatment for minor burns would be appreciated. I find it very successful but have some questions:
 1 — How soon must the cold application be used to be effective?
 2 — For how many minutes must it be applied?
 3 — Is tap water effective or must it be icy cold?
 4 — Does it actually reduce severity of a burn?
 The first time I tried it I had burned my arm on an iron so badly I expected a huge blister, but none appeared and the injury healed rapidly and left no mark at all.—Mrs. T.W.
 I've recommended the "water treatment" for burns before. Having been told by some surgeons who specialize in treating burns that it was the most effective first aid known.
 1 — The sooner you use it after a burn, the better; after blistering has developed, you may still get some relief but not as much.
 2 — Use until pain stops. Sometimes for an hour or so.
 3 — The experts tell me that they consider ordinary tap water best, that ice water isn't any better and may not even be as good. Just plain cool water.
 4 — I don't know if there's proof that the "water treatment" actually reduces the severity of the burn but am inclined to believe it does. At least it stops the pain.

 At a very minimum, it prevents further damage to the skin. Burned skin is damaged skin. It should be handled as gently as possible. Keeping the burn in water does just that.
 And it keeps people from smearing the burn with butter, grease or other such stuff which does no good — and the process of spreading it on (and later taking it off) further damages the skin.
 The treatment is of utter simplicity. Just put the burned hand, arm, or whatever, in a container of water (pan, tub, etc.) just as it comes from the tap.
 Dear Dr. Thosteson: A friend says oranges are acid and grapefruit aren't, meaning I suppose that one gives a person an acid condition and the other doesn't.
 I have always thought that both give an alkaline condition. Which is correct?—B.F.P.
 You are far closer to the right answer than your friend is. Both oranges and grapefruit, of course, are acidulous to begin with. After being digested, both have an alkaline ash or residue.
 But neither has any bearing on an "acid condition," which is a rather pointless term, used to mean whatever the person using it wants it to mean. A true "acid condition," as too much acidity in the blood, is a serious condition, not controlled by what you eat.

 Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor tells me I have leukoplakia but could tell me little more than that he did not know what causes it and there is no cure. Is it contagious? Does it spread?—Mrs. R.E.L.
 Leukoplakia is a whitish, patchy thickening of mucous membranes, and some sort of irritation is the usual cause — if it is leukoplakia in the mouth, smoking or jagged or broken teeth are the commonest causes.
 Since these patches in time can become pre-cancerous, they should be watched and then removed surgically (not a difficult procedure) before they become dangerous. Any sources of irritation should be corrected, but other than that, there's no cure.
 Leukoplakia is not contagious.
 What about constipation? Many can be relieved of it, both mentally and physically, by reading the booklet, "The Way To Stop Constipation." For a copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Bodies Of Hundreds Seen Floating In Mekong River

NEAK LEUNG, Cambodia (AP) — The bodies of hundreds of Vietnamese floated down the Mekong River in southeast Cambodia today, many with their hands tied behind them. It appeared to be the biggest mass killing yet revealed in Cambodia.

A police official at the Neak Leung ferry crossing 36 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, said he had counted 400 bodies this morning. But still they came, and more could be seen for a mile up the river, until it disappeared around a bend.

The stench was overpowering, and passengers on the ferry gagged as the boat moved through the bodies.

Some women were among the slain but very few. Most were men clad only in black shorts. One group of eight bodies, including one woman, floated by tied together.

Cambodians along the bank including the police said they had no idea where the bodies came from.

The government leaders who deposed Prince Norodom Sihanouk have been whipping up an anti-Vietnamese campaign directed not only at the thousands of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops who operate back and forth across the border with South Vietnam but at the 600,000 Vietnamese who live in Cambodia.

The Khmer people of Cambodia and the Annamites of Vietnam have been traditional enemies for centuries, and government planes dropped leaflets in Phnom Penh Saturday reminding the people of a historic massacre when "the Khmers once rose up and killed all Annamites on Cambodian territory in one night."

At least 73 Vietnamese who had been rounded up in the town of Prasaut for security checks were killed there last Friday, and according to available evidence Cambodian troops were the killers.

On Saturday at least seven more Vietnamese were shot by Cambodian troops just south of Kamolng Trabek, near the border west of Prasaut.

The Saigon government said today it was asking Cambodia to let a "people's delegation" from several charitable agencies, enter the country and investigate accounts of killing and other mistreatment of Vietnamese nationals.

There was some belief the bodies at Neak Leung floated down from the area south of Kompong Cham where large French rubber plantations have labor forces of Vietnamese.

A number of Vietnamese villages have been burned by Cambodian troops claiming that the Vietnamese fled with the Viet Cong. At least two Roman Catholic churches have been pillaged and burned in predominantly Vietnamese villages. Many of the Vietnamese are Catholics, while the Cambodians are predominantly Buddhists.

Meanwhile, diplomats in Phnom Penh reported that the Viet Cong overran three Cambodian army outposts in southern Cambodia's Takeo Province during the night, including a village with a Buddhist temple that was a tourist attraction. The temple is at Angkor Borie, about 50 miles south of Phnom Penh.

Rotary Given Pageant Preview

Members of the Rotary Club were given a preview of the talent to be seen at the Miss HCJC pageant at their luncheon Tuesday.

Dal Herring, pageant director, gave a little background of the show and Kerry Gunnels told of the planning phase that started last September.

Ethel Green sang two numbers and Halena Wozencraft presented a dance sequence from their talent acts. Don Williams was in charge of the program and introduced Herring.

Sidney Clark invited Rotarians to a meeting April 17 in Lamesa of Water, Inc. and urged interested members to join the association.

President Curt Mullins reminded members of the district conference in Plainview, April 24.

Marshall Re-Elected Mayor; Gallery Is Packed Tuesday

Two new city commissioners took their places for the first time Tuesday night in city hall and joined the incumbents to re-elect by acclamation Arnold Marshall as Big Spring mayor.

Marshall has been mayor since 1966 and was chosen by the commission to continue on a motion by Garner McAdams. New Commissioner Wade Choate seconded the nomination and Mayor Pro Tem George Zachariah stated the commission to acclaim Marshall mayor by a unanimous vote. There were no other nominations.

The three commissioners selected in the city election April 7, Marshall, Choate and Eddie Acri, were sworn in by City Secretary Charles Smith before a packed gallery of more than 65 persons. Acri and Choate replaced Walter Stroup and Jimmy Morehead on the commission. The out-going commissioners received plaques from Marshall in recognition of service on the commission from 1966 until this year. Stroup chose not to run for re-election this year, and Morehead finished fourth in the April 7 balloting to lose his seat on the commission.

Before the commissioners were sworn in the old commission voted to accept the election returns on a motion by Morehead. The official count shows Choate leading the balloting with 1,224 votes; Acri next with 1,077; and Marshall third with 918 votes. Morehead was the closest of 10 other contenders with 682 votes.

Commissioners Zachariah and McAdams remain on the commission until their place come up for election next year. Both Morehead and Stroup ended their stint on the commission an "honor and privilege" and expressed gratitude for the opportunity to serve. Stroup summed up his work on the commission saying, "We've tried to be fair with each citizen of this community."

Hawaiian Hawk Faces Extinction

HONOLULU (AP) — More than half the 85 species of animal and bird life in danger of extinction are found only in Hawaii, says George Du Bois of the Hawaii Wildlife Federation. Du Bois said one threatened island species is the Hawaiian hawk, which now lays eggs so full of accumulated pesticides they no longer hatch.

He estimates the bird will be extinct within a decade.

Big Monopoly Game Underwater

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — College students with diving skill and business sense are going to the bottom of a 5,000-gallon theater to decide the underwater Monopoly championship.

The big game April 24 at Sea World Aquatic Park on Mission Bay is being played for needy school projects.

Four-player teams will compete in 30-minute shifts, with sea maids from the park distributing snorkels and diving masks.

Parker Bros., maker of the real estate game with play money, is providing a big water-resistant game, said a spokesman for the Outing Club at San Diego State College, which arranged the stunt.

Other teams will be from University of San Diego, United States International University and the Scuba Club of University of California at San Diego.

First Non-Anglo Is Elected Mayor In Carrizo Springs

CARRIZO SPRINGS, Tex. (AP) — One of the two Mexican-Americans elected to the Carrizo Springs City Council has been unanimously elected mayor by his fellow councilmen.

Rufino Cabello, a Carrizo Springs lawyer, succeeds Joe Schmidt, the mayor for the past four years who was defeated in the April 7 election.

Cabello was elected Tuesday in the regular reorganization meeting of the council during which he and another newly elected councilman, Jesus Rodriguez, were sworn in.

The two are the first non-Anglo ever to serve on the city's governing board.

Incumbent councilman John Mogford was named mayor pro tempore. Other members of the five-man body are Leon Brown and Albert Smith.

Steers' Roger Dixon legs it to 2nd base but overruns bag and is tagged out

Farris Razor Sharp In Steers 1-0 Win

By TOMMY HART

Jimmy Farris, throwing aspirin tablets and tricky little hooks all the way, hurled Big Spring past Abilene Cooper, 1-0, in a District 3-AAAA game here Tuesday.

An unearned run scored by pinch hitter Ricky Peurifoy in the sixth enabled the resident nine to achieve its second league win of the season, compared to three reversals. Cooper plopped into the cellar with a 1-4 record.

Farris never gave the Cougars a look-in but Gary Littlefield of Cooper did almost as well. He was his own worst enemy. After Peurifoy had reached base on a bobble and moved to second on Felix Martinez's sacrifice bunt, Littlefield committed two wild pitches that enabled Rick to get all the way home.

Farris, who had blanked Cooper in Abilene ten days previously, yielded only two hits and whiffed 13. The Steers managed four blows, two of which came off the bat of Roger Dixon, at Littlefield's expense.

Leroy Polnick singled in the first for Cooper and was erased on a double play started by Roddy Caffey.

Mike Mayes blasted a clean shot to left field in the second for Cooper's other hit, after Randy Shelton had gained a life on a bobble. Farris, however, settled to whiff Clark Lawrence and Larry Bouldin to get out of the jackpot.

Cooper advanced one runner as far as third but he was promptly picked off by catcher Joe Martinez. That occurred in the fifth when Bouldin walked. Jimmy Huddleston went in to run for him and moved to the far corner when Joe Martinez threw erratically into center field.

However, Huddleston got too far off the bag and Martinez fired a strike to third baseman Charles Rodriguez, who made the tag.

Randy Womack and Caffey had the other hits for Big Spring.

Big Spring had runners at first and third in the opening round but Caffey was retired trying to steal second. Andy Gamboa was on third at the time.

In Cooper's third, Littlefield walked to open the inning and advanced to second on a wild pitch but Farris settled to retire the side on strikes, getting Scooter Finley, Polnick and Ricky Hamric in that order.

Over-all, Big Spring is now 5-8. The Steers return to play in San Angelo Saturday against pace-setting San Angelo.

Alcindor Named Frosh Of Year

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Lew Alcindor, wearing the National Basketball Association's rookie's of the year crown with modesty, refused Tuesday to predict the outcome of the Eastern Division playoffs.

The Alcindor-led Milwaukee Bucks move back into the Milwaukee Arena for the first time in more than a month to take on the New York Knicks Friday night in the third of their best-of-7 series.

New York won the first two games, in New York's Madison Square Garden.

"I feel that my game has improved," Alcindor said Tuesday. "I'm able to do a lot more things now than when I started last year."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

It'll take up to 105 days to install Astroturf in Dallas' Cotton Bowl. It should be ready long before the first game scheduled there in the fall.

Texas and Notre Dame might as well have been playing in a plowed field when they met in the last Cotton Bowl classic.

No one takes golf more seriously than Barry Rodenhaver and members of the Odessa College team.

Rodenhaver brought his Wranglers here regularly for practice for two weeks prior to the last Western Conference matches. Being in first apparently means more in prestige to the school than a championship won in basketball or track.

The Wranglers dominated the WC golf race until last year, when HGIC slipped in ahead of them. The upset obviously didn't set well with the Odessa College people or their downtown sponsors.

One thing you can say about Rodenhaver and his boys: They believe in hard work.

Bob Hyland now decorates the roster of the Chicago Bears rather than Green Bay probably for one reason: He snapped the ball so hard, quarterback Bart Starr of the Packers contended he was hurting his hands.

Tugboat Jones, director of athletics of the Midland public schools, once performed for the football Brooklyn Dodgers. Trace the lineage of the Baltimore Colts and they go back to the Dodgers.

Tugboat also took a coaching job in Big Spring once but didn't stay here long. He was quite a player in his salad days.

Earl W. Smith, who is a candidate for the office of judge of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals in this year's election, was a 150-pound quarterback for the Plainview Bulldogs back in 1926. This was a unique case at the time, since he was one of the few footballers in the country who wore glasses. And that was in an era before the space helmets players wear today. Smith didn't even wear a nose guard.

The year 1926 was a vintage year for Big Spring. Frank Boyle and Alfred Collins teamed up to coach the Big Spring Steers to a 7-3 won-lost record.

Mighty Cisco beat Big Spring that year, 33-0, and Abilene and Colorado City humbled the Steers but the locals cleaned up on every other team, including Odessa, Lamesa and Sweetwater.

When Arnold Palmer won the Hermitage Golf Classic at Hilton Head last December, sponsor Charley Fraser figured it meant a million dollars more in national attention than if one of the game's journeymen inksters had prevailed.

The sponsors are happy enough to see the Mike Hills or Richard Crawford win somebody else's meet but they want a fellow like Palmer, Jack Nicklaus or Gary Player in the driver's seat in their own show.

Linebacker George Webster, now with the Houston Oilers, recently was named the greatest football player in the history of Michigan State University.

When you consider the fact that Earl Morrall, Bubba Smith, Clinton Jones and Lynn Chandnois all played for the Spartans, that is quite a distinction.

BRIAN JENKINS

Local Youth Cops Award

Brian Jenkins has competed in his last swimming match as an eight-year-old, climaxing an unusual record for a beginner.

Last weekend he captured a first place trophy in the 50-meter back stroke event with a time of 46.1 in the Corpus Christi invitational meet. Carrying the colors of the Big Spring YMCA, he took second place medals in the 50-meter fly (46.9) and the 100-meter individual medley (1:47.6). He also captured fifth place ribbons in the 50-meter free style (40.6) and 50-meter breast (1:01.7). He also took a seventh place ribbon in the 100-meter free style (1:38.9).

The previous week he captured one first place and two ribbons at San Antonio. He has been a consistent winner in his age division in the West Texas circuits with meets at Midland, Odessa, Abilene and Big Spring. He also has competed in Amarillo and Norman, Okla.

At Corpus Christi, Brian was in the top three for a trophy in his age group, having earned 33 points.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jenkins, 1902 Eleventh Place, and is confident that with time and experience he can share in honors in the 9-10-year bracket after his birthday April 25. Brian began swimming as a 6-year-old and his favorites are backstroke and butterfly.

Felts Calls 2 Meetings

Officials of the Teen-Age Baseball association will devote Thursday, Friday and Saturday to business relating to 1970 operations of the two leagues.

Managers of the Sophomore circuit will gather in the Red Room of the Texas Electric Service building at 7:30 p.m. Thursday to discuss final plans for the upcoming tryouts.

Pilots in the Hi-Junior circuit mass in the same place at 7:30 p.m. Friday for the same purpose.

Youngsters who have not yet signed to play during the 1970 season can discharge that obligation by reporting to the Johnny Stone Teen-Age park anytime between the hours of 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. Saturday.

Max Coffey, player agent for the association, said that approximately 30 per cent of the boys expected to play have yet to put in an appearance.

Jimmy Felts, association president, said plans for the two leagues are progressing nicely and play would begin the final week in May.

Darrell Froman To Join Staff As Coach Of JV's

Darrell W. Froman has been added to the Big Spring High School coaching staff and will serve as head junior varsity mentor and will be in charge of the Steers' scouting teams.

Froman, a native of Howard County who is married and the father of three children, is coming out of a year's retirement as a coach. He and his wife have been operating a grocery store northwest of Big Spring.

Two years ago, Froman coached the Lamesa Golden Tornadoes into the state baseball tournament. He will teach PE here, in addition to his coaching duties. The Fromans will arrive here next Monday.

A 1961 graduate of Sul Ross, Froman started his coaching career as head mentor at Barstow High School the fall of that year and remained there one year.

He moved to Call as head coach and athletic director of the Borden County schools, where he served for two years. He became varsity backfield

The Atlanta Stadium scoreboard was flashing numbers so fast it was an electrician's dream—the ideal situation for a machine-age hitter like Ken Henderson.

First there was an eight-run inning for the Braves, then a five-run inning for San Francisco and the numbers were running wild. So too was Henderson, the Giants' outfielder, who walloped a grand slam home run in the ninth inning, breaking up the slugfest and giving the Giants a 15-11 victory.

The homer was the fourth hit of the night for Henderson, who improved his batting style this spring with the help of a pitching machine which fed him

OVER ATLANTA HAWKS West Is Standout In Lakers' Win

ATLANTA (AP)—Jerry West, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, plays defense, too.

The Los Angeles star pitched in the Lakers Tuesday night as the Lakers defeated Atlanta 105-94 to take a 2-0 lead in the Western Division playoff finals.

But West's key contribution came on defense where he continued to shake Atlanta's Lou Hudson, holding him to 12 points, 13 below his regular season average.

Hudson managed to hit only 5 of 20 shots from the floor, and went only 6 for 16 in his 16-point effort in the first game of the best-of-7 series here Sunday.

"We did not expect to win two games here," West said. "It's nice to be in this situation."

Los Angeles could sweep the series with victories on its home floor Friday and Sunday nights and then face the New York-Milwaukee survivors of the NBA championship.

New York also leads the Eastern Division playoffs, which resume at Milwaukee Friday night, by a 2-0 margin.

If the capacity crowd of 7,100 expected to see blood, they were disappointed.

Atlanta Coach Richie Guerin, irked at the officiating in Sunday's game, called a news conference Monday and accused officials of protecting West and Elgin Baylor.

"If we get called for little bitty fouls, then West and Baylor won't be around at the end," Guerin had said. "A lot of blood will be spilt on the floor tomorrow night."

Westside Winner By 20-6 Score

Westside Baptist maul'd Baptist Temple, 20-6, and First Assembly of God bowled over Crestview Baptist, 19-5, with the help of a 15-run inning in Church Softball league practice games here Tuesday evening.

Jerry Don Paige was the winning hurler for Westside. He fanned ten in his four-inning stint on the hill.

Ken Mayhail and James Ivey smashed doubled for Westside while James Frazier hit a two-baser for Temple.

Charles Williams paced the First Assembly of God's attack with two singles. Doug Barker accounted for a double for the winners in that game.

Wayland To Play UTEP Grid Team

PLAINVIEW — Wayland Baptist College has completed its basketball schedule for the 1970-71 season with three major universities added to the slate.

The Pioneers will play the University of Texas at El Paso in El Paso, Dec. 2; the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque, Dec. 10; and the University of Texas at Arlington, Dec. 12 in Arlington and also in Plainview, Jan. 5.

Also on the Pioneer schedule are Eastern New Mexico, Bethany, Sul Ross, New Mexico Highlands, Lubbock Christian; the Sul Ross, Cameron State, and Chadron, Neb. Tournaments and District 8 North Zone opponents Texas College, Wiley College, Dallas Baptist, Austin College, Dallas Bishop and Midwestern University.

The Pioneers, who were 19-10 this past season, have 11 home games and 18 on the road.

Strong Field Awaits Play

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Newly crowned Master champion Billy Casper ranked as a mild favorite today in a surprisingly strong field assembled for the $125,000 Greater New Orleans Open Golf tournament.

Casper declined to take a day off after his 18-hole playoff victory over Gene Littler at Augusta, Ga., Monday and played a practice round over the 7,070 yard, par 72 Lakewood Country Club course Tuesday.

"I've got it going now," Casper said. "I can't afford to let it get away at this stage."

It was unlikely that he was speaking from a financial standpoint, however. The 38-year-old Casper, one of two double winners on the pro tour this year, has career earnings of over $1 million, including $34,000 this year.

BANQUET SET AT ACKERLY

ACKERLY — Caddo Matthews, basketball coach at Colorado City High School, will be the principal speaker at the Sands High School All-Sports banquet here Saturday night. The meal will be served at 8 o'clock.

Football awards will be passed out, among them the Big Spring Daily Herald's Back of the Year and Lineman of the Year certificates.

Hawks Will Run In Plainview

PLAINVIEW — The Wayland Baptist Pioneers and New Mexico Junior College defend their titles here April 24 in the Annual All-College Meet at 'ayland Bowl.

The Pioneers, who last year edged Sul Ross for the championship, will put their crown on the line against Texas Tech, New Mexico State, Eastern New Mexico, Southwestern, Okla., Panhandle State, McMurry, West Texas State and Sul Ross.

NMJC has Lubbock Christian, Odessa, South Plains, Howard County, New Mexico Military and Christian College of the Southwest opposing it for the juco title. Lubbock Christian finished second to New Mexico J.C. last year.

Sometimes we get the feeling we're being followed.

Everybody's getting into the act. Everybody's making a small car. And since we've made more of them than any one else, we thought we'd pass along some things we've learned about the business over the years: First off, there's no doubt about it, the only way to make an economy car is expensively. So Rule No. 1, don't scrimp. Get yourself the best engineers in the business and then hire 9,000 or so top inspectors to keep them on their toes.

Next, try to develop an engine that's not a gas-guzzler. If you can get it to run on pints of oil instead of quarts, great. If you can get it to run on air instead of water, fantastic. Work on things to make your car last longer. Like giving it 45 pounds of paint to protect its top and a steel bottom to protect its bottom.

Important: Make sure you can service any year car you make. There's nothing worse than having someone find out that a part they need to make their car go is no longer available.

Finally, spend less time worrying about what your car looks like and more time worrying about how it works.

Perfecting a good economy car is a very time-consuming business. So far it has consumed 25 years of our time.

Marshals Await Demonstration

AUSTIN (AP) — An undisclosed number of federal deputy marshals awaited a possible demonstration today at the southwest regional district center of the Internal Revenue Service.

U.S. Commissioner John Brady said he deputized the men Tuesday, but declined to say how many men took the oath.

A report circulated in Austin indicated an anti-Vietnam war demonstration was planned at the IRS center on Interstate 35 south of the downtown district.

U.S. Marshal Sam Roberts of the Western District of Texas said a "reasonable group" of men was deputized.

Brady said federal officers around the country received information that anti-Vietnam demonstrations would be held at IRS centers this week.

WHERE NEGRO SLAIN Demonstrators Batter Houston Gas Station

HOUSTON (AP) — About 15 persons were arrested and streets were blocked off for an hour Tuesday night in a disturbance at a service station in a Negro neighborhood.

The violence grew out of a demonstration at the station, scene of a shooting death last week.

A plate glass window of a drug store a block away was also shattered but police reported no looting.

At one point about 50 policemen in 30 patrol cars were in the area urging the crowd to disperse.

One policeman suffered a minor injury to his arm from a thrown rock and another was bitten on the arm.

One spectator estimated about 40 to 50 persons were involved in the throwing of rocks, bricks and bottles. The service station was heavily damaged.

On Saturday George Henry Deason, 23, was shot to death as he argued over the price of a $2 car inspection certificate. Joyner Joseph, 35, owner of the station, was charged with murder in the shooting. Pickets formed at his station Tuesday after he was released on bond.

Tuesday night the crowd grew and members began pelting cars with thrown objects.

An hour after police arrived the crowd had been dispersed, police said, and traffic was moving normally.

Trustees Given Grim Look At Forthcoming Budget

School trustees took a grim look at a grim subject Tuesday night — the 1970-71 proposed budget.

With all except state revenue showing a decrease, the budget still will have an increase in receipts, but just barely.

In the rough draft of expenditures expected, Business Manager Don Crockett managed to keep expenses within the slight revenue increase, squeezing under by approximately $30,000.

With revenue showing an increase of $383,069, proposed expenditures will jump $356,766.50. Total revenue expected during the coming year in the general fund is $4,747,955 and total estimated expenditures are $4,712,554.

In the interest and sinking fund the debt service requirements will be $482,478 from the $484,200 expected income, leaving a balance of only $1,722.

Crockett said the budget is based on the current school tax, and said an increase in school taxes is not necessary.

"We've spent many hours on this budget," Crockett said. "And we think we've got it down to the bare essentials."

Crockett said for the first time the Big Spring Independent School District will be utilizing state revenue to the utmost.

And, trying to brighten the picture somewhat, he reminded trustees that in the past the school has never exhausted a budget. "We have always had some excess left at the end of the year," he said.

"We've tried every way to keep the budget down this year," he said.

"There's got to be another way," Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper said. "Since I've been on the board, we have more than doubled the budget, and we still don't have enough money."

Crockett said local receipts are expected to be down $64,148, because of an expected $1,500,000 reduction in the tax roll. He said he also expected county receipts to go down $38,000 and federal revenue to decrease by about $29,000.

Only state revenue shows an increase, credited to the fact that per capita income and transportation allocations will rise.

Crockett also forecast a $219,000 cash balance at the end of the current school year.

Keeping up with the state level in salaries is the thorn in the side of the budget-makers again this year. In addition to the $331,550 increase in instruction salary, increases totaling $3,490 are also going to secretarial and clerical employees in the administration, business and tax offices. There are 11 employees covered under this increase, placing them on a salary schedule utilizing the state aids guideline.

Under the instructional salaries, increases go to principals, classroom teachers, special service teachers, supervisors and counselors, special education teachers, vocational education teachers, special education teachers, secretarial clerical workers in the individual schools, teacher aides and substitute teachers.

The increase in teacher aides is because of the necessity of providing elementary teachers with a free 45-minute planning period each day. Next year the district will still have to maintain a 2:45 dismissal hour for first through third graders.

The biggest decrease under expenditures is $14,593 cut from the capital outlay fund, which this year will not include payments for the administration building, band overlays or laundry equipment. In the student body activities fund, $9,704 was sliced and Crockett said approximately another $4,000 can be trimmed from this when the school laundry begins handling laundry in the athletic program. The school laundry is already in operation, but the athletic program is under contract to a commercial laundry.

Plaint maintenance shows a $750 expected decrease because of the expected slow-down in moving portable buildings.

Trustees asked Crockett to have a more detailed budget ready for the April 28 meeting, at which time the trustees will begin studying expenditures in earnest to try to pare expenses even more.

Board OKs Purchases, Canvasses Vote Returns

Several purchases of equipment were authorized by trustees of Howard County Junior College at the regular monthly meeting Tuesday.

Most of these were budget items and included replacement of two IBM typewriters at a net price (with trade-ins) of $740; replacement of a hot water heater in the kitchen in the amount of $308.10; library equipment (tape recorder, dry mount press, stereo recorder, player, viewer) $777.59; copy machine elements for $300 (the remaining ones to be bought in the autumn).

An unbudgeted expense of $5,000 to $6,000 for repair of the air conditioning system and a school of instruction for operators was approved with Worthington Company, manufacturers of the equipment, to do the work.

Results of the trustee election April 4 were canvassed with Dr. P. W. Malone, (1,054) and J. A. Coffey (1,038), incumbents and only candidates, being declared elected. There were 18 individuals who received written votes, none more than two. Total vote was 1,157.

The board approved joining the National School Boards Association, an organization to be devoted to problems of board members for two-year communities, colleges, at a fee of $200 per annum.

The board also authorized J. A. Coffey, board president, to sign a letter from local governmental agencies requesting that the Texas Research League conduct a study for "a delivery system for governmental services which provides maximum public benefits in return for a reasonable and prudent investment of tax dollars." The study would be two fold: first to indicate improvements which might be implemented within limits of existing constitutional and statutory authority; and to suggest an outline of the "best system and organization . . .

which can be devised for Howard County without regard to any constitutional or statutory restrictions which may now exist."

Organization of the board was delayed until the attendance of all members. The board gave its blessing to Dean Johnson's participation in a curriculum seminar at Austin should it materialize.

Trustees asked Crockett to have a more detailed budget ready for the April 28 meeting, at which time the trustees will begin studying expenditures in earnest to try to pare expenses even more.
