APOLLONAUTS RECHARGE WEAK BATTERY

Streak Toward Earth

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Apollo 13's astronauts recharged a weak battery and prepared other systems in their command ship today for the unique and critical maneuvers needed to bring their crippled craft back to earth Friday.

James A. Lovell Jr., Fred W. Haise Jr. and John L. Swigert Jr. streaked toward a splashdown in the Pacific Ocean after an engine firing Wednesday night shifted them off a course that would have left them stranded in space.

With the veteran Lovell at the controls, they triggered their lunar module engine 15 seconds and successfully changed course. Had that firing and later course corrections failed, Apollo 13 would have missed earth by 104 miles and skipped off into space.

With that hurdle cleared, the spacemen turned all attention to Friday's re-entry and landing, scheduled for 12:07 p.m. (Big Spring time).

Using flashlights to find their way in the dark and chilly cabin, the astronauts checked the three batteries in the command ship that will provide the power for the blazing dive through the atmosphere. They found two of them at full 40-amp-hour strength, but the third with only about half that power available.

On a normal re-entry, they would require 70 to 80 amp hours. So Mission Control told them to hook up a cable to the power system of the lunar module and recharge the weak battery. This process will take about 15 hours and draw eight amps from the L.M.

Although the temperatures in the command ship, which was drawing oxygen from the sturdy L.M., were down around 50 degrees, flight director Gerald Griffin said the craft's systems all appeared to be in good shape.

"The pressures and temperatures in the plumbing system looked fine," he reported. "Two of the thrusters have temperatures low enough so we'll have to heat them before pressurizing the system. But all these temperatures are going to rise when we apply some power to the command module with the batteries. The whole command module looks good," he said.

The command ship was disabled Monday night by an oxygen tank rupture in the attached service module. The accident knocked out fuel cells which would have provided long-life power. Without the cells, the moon landing had to be canceled and the astronauts turned to the lunar module supplies to keep them alive and bring them home.

Lovell, Haise and Swigert continued to ration vital oxygen, water and power as they raced closer to earth. They had ample margins in all systems to complete the flight. But they knew a sudden loss of any system would imperil them in the final hours of their abortive journey.

At midmorning they were 140,000 miles from home and accelerating as earth's gravity tugged them on an increasing speed.

By the time Apollo 13 hits the atmosphere at 400,000 feet Friday, they'll be traveling 24,623 miles an hour.

The landing site in the Pacific is about 580 miles southeast of Samoa. The carrier Iwo Jima was steaming toward the area and expected to be on station Friday morning.

Steady Rise In Income, New Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's personal income continued its steady rise in March while new housing starts rose for the second consecutive month, the Commerce Department reported today.

The figures gave some indication the housing construction industry may be recovering from its year-long slide into deep trouble, although the newest figures only brought the indicator to about where it was last December.

Personal income—roughly wages before taxes, although it also includes dividends, rental and interest income—totaled $782.6 billion during March, at a seasonally adjusted annual rate.

In other words, the year's personal income would be $782.6 billion if every month's was the same as March.

This was up about $4 billion from February, which in turn rose about $4 billion from January. In March, 1969, the figure was $730.7 billion.

Housing starts, the basic barometer of the housing industry's current condition, totaled 1.38 million, up from 1.30 million during February and 1.06 million during January. In December the figure was slightly under 1.30 million.

However, housing starts fell in the South and West while rising in the Northeast and North Central regions of the country.

Housing starts for buildings containing five or more apartments accounted for the increase with a rise to 623,000 from 507,000 in February. Starts of single-family homes declined to 690,000 from 722,000 in February.

The major component of the higher personal income was wage and salary disbursements, Commerce said. They increased $2.5 billion largely on the strength of higher pay rates.

Teacher Claims Right Of Free Speech Violated

HOUSTON (AP) — Attorneys for a fired Odessa Junior College teacher charged before a three-judge federal court Wednesday that his right of free speech had been violated.

Robert P. Sindermann, a government teacher at the school, is appealing a district court decision in favor of the school. Sindermann is asking for reinstatement, back pay and a trial on other issues including a claim for $475,000 in damages.

His appeal is backed by the National Education Association. Sindermann's teaching contract was not renewed last May after he took a position contrary to the regents of the Odessa school in testimony before a state Senate committee in April.

Viet Cong Assails Yankee 'Henchmen'

PARIS (AP) — The Viet Cong alleged today that American troops have penetrated deep into Cambodian territory from South Vietnam and share responsibility for the massacre of Vietnamese civilians living in Cambodia.

Deputy Viet Cong negotiator Dinh Ba Thi told the 63rd weekly session of the deadlocked Vietnam peace talks that the United States is "running headlong into an extremely dangerous adventure" by expanding the war throughout the Indochinese peninsula.

"The United States must be held responsible for the criminal acts of its henchmen in Cambodia and for their consequences," Thi declared.

Deputy North Vietnamese negotiator Nguyen Minh Vy said the United States is trying to save itself from defeat in South Vietnam by propping up "reactionary administrations" in Laos and Cambodia and expanding the war to those countries.

U.S. negotiator Philip C. Habib, the last speaker of the meeting, said: "The plain truth is that you do not respect the sovereignty, independence, neutrality or territorial integrity of Cambodia or Laos. It is an accepted fact that today your regular armed forces are conducting combat operations in Cambodia and Laos and are using the territory of those countries as a base of operations against South Vietnam. That is the root of the problem in those two countries.

"Further, twice in the past few days your forces have indiscriminately rocketed Saigon with accompanying death and injury among innocent civilians. . . . The recent increase in your military attacks in South Vietnam is not compatible with serious negotiations."

Watch For Tornadoes In West Texas Towns

By The Associated Press

A tornado sprang up west of Lubbock today—spotted by a pilot and indicated by radar—settling off an alarm by the Weather Bureau. But within a short time it dissipated.

But as the storm conditions moved to the northeast, the Weather Bureau cancelled advisories county by county. Large hail and severe thunderstorms were forecast for the area with the possibility of twisters.

Radar found a severe thunderstorm about five miles east of Floydada at 8 a.m. It moved east-northeast at about 40 miles an hour.

The Weather Bureau's tornado and storm watch covered 41 counties on the Midland-Childress axis.

Shortly after 8 a.m., the Weather Bureau reported that the Floydada area thunderstorm was east of the town and called it possibly severe but weakening. At that time, light thunderstorms also covered much of a section from 10 miles west of Morton to 10 miles north.

The moisture in other sections was a carryover of damp weather which developed as a weak Pacific front edged across the state from the west.

By early today this front had stalled along a line from near Childress toward the Big Bend country in far West Texas.

While the shower activity continued through the night, forecasts made no further mention of tornadoes which threatened a broad stretch of North Texas Wednesday. A tornado watch was cancelled during the evening without word of damage.

Thunderstorms bobbed up again around Lubbock near dawn today.

Low clouds and drizzle cloaked most of East and South Texas, where it was foggy and humid.

Nixon Retreats On Postal Hike

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon asked Congress today to raise the cost of mailing a letter to eight cents—instead of 10 cents as originally proposed—and call for establishment of a new United States Postal Service.

In a special message to Congress, Nixon laid out the terms of an agreement between negotiators for government and the postal unions that couples higher wages with a revised plan to reorganize the Post Office Department.

Nixon also retreated a bit on his 1969 recommendation that the postal service be transformed into a corporation. Instead he said it should be revamped as an independent establishment controlled by nine public members of a bipartisan commission who would hire the postmaster general.

"The postmaster general would no longer be a member of the Cabinet, under this proposal," said Nixon, "and the postal service would be insulated from direct control by the President, the Bureau of the Budget and the Congress."

A key provision of the agreement which Congress is asked to ratify would give postal workers an eight per cent pay boost, over and above the government-wide increase of six per cent which Nixon signed into law only Wednesday. In addition, postal service employees would reach top salary in eight years instead of the present 21 years.

Having proposed only April 3 that postal rates be increased immediately to offset the $2.5 billion a year pay raise, Nixon announced that he was compromising on his earlier postal rate proposals, which had scant chance of passage by Congress.

"In the interest of making realistic progress toward the objective of bringing postal expenditures into balance with postal revenues," he said, "I now propose to:

"—Increase the price of the first class stamp by one-third, from six cents to eight cents.

"—Keep the price of the air mail stamp at ten cents.

"—Increase the average second class postage rate by one-half.

"—Increase third class bulk and single piece rates by one-third.

Avalanche Kills 70?

SALLANCHES, France (AP) — Seventy persons — most of them tubercular boys under the age of 15 — were feared dead today, buried under a massive avalanche that swept down on them as they slept.

The Ministry of Interior reported rescuers had found only 17 bodies 11 hours after the wall of rock and snow — 60 feet high and 600 feet wide — roared down in the darkness on two dormitories and a nurses' residence at a tuberculosis sanatorium.

"There is no hope of anyone surviving under that mass of snow and earth," said one police lieutenant as hundreds of rescue workers dug with picks, shovels, cranes and bulldozers.

The huge slide also smashed into one wing of the sanatorium's main building, but 14 children and three adults in that section were rescued unhurt.

Thinks Prayer Helping Astros

PARIS (AP) — Billy Graham said today he thinks prayer is helping to get the Apollo 13 astronauts safely back to earth.

Graham, here for a European conference on evangelism, said in a statement:

"At no time in history have so many people been praying in so many languages representing so many races and nationalities or a single event as for the successful return of our astronauts to earth. I think that reason it is going so much better than we thought a few hours ago is in answer to prayer."

Soviet Maneuvers

MOSCOW (AP) — The big Soviet naval and air maneuvers have started in the North Atlantic, the Mediterranean and the Sea of Japan, the Defense Ministry newspaper Krasnaya Zvezda — Red Star — reported today.

The ministry announced two days ago that the maneuvers would be held until the end of May but did not say when they would start. There also has been no announcement of how many ships and planes are taking part, but most of the Soviet navy is believed to be involved.

Nixon's Welfare Reform Bill Headed For Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's sweeping welfare reform legislation appeared headed today toward a major victory in the House despite efforts by opponents to strip some of its costly provisions.

The opposition, however, fought a rear-guard action after the House voted 204 to 183 Wednesday to sustain its Rules Committee in barring all floor amendments.

Conservatives wanted to knock out provisions for families with breadwinners and for a spelled-out income assurance — $1,600 for a family of four.

They argued the cost would rise far beyond the $4.4 billion official estimate. Some liberals sought a chance to increase the assured income level. Opponents also argued the incentives for welfare recipients to train for and take self-sufficient jobs would be ineffective.

But their combined strength was not enough to upset the rule that the House must vote the whole package up or down or send it back to the Ways and Means Committee for more work.

Cops Seize Pure 'Horse'

NEW YORK (AP) — Police found 220 pounds of pure heroin in a raid on a Chelsea district apartment Wednesday. It was one of the largest seizures of illegal narcotics ever made in the city.

The drug was found in four suitcases and in a small trunk stowed in a closet that was fitted with a special lock. A police lock expert was needed to open the door.

Three men and a woman were arrested and charged with possession of dangerous drugs and possession of a dangerous weapon—a .22 caliber revolver found in the apartment.

Speakers, including William Kunstler, defense lawyer for the Chicago Seven, addressed crowd estimated at 20,000 persons.

Viet Moratorium Rallies Lure Thousands, Clashes

By The Associated Press
Vietnam Moratorium rallies Wednesday drew tens of thousands of generally peaceful protesters in cities across the nation. But in a number of instances groups of radical youths rampaged afterward and clashed with police.
The worst violence came in Cambridge, Mass., where some 1,100 riot police used tear gas, dogs and clubs to battle 6,000 demonstrators who set fires, broke windows and threw rocks from rooftops in Harvard Square.
They had assembled after an earlier peaceful rally by 60,000 persons on Boston Common — the day's largest crowd.
At the Berkeley campus of the University of California 1,000 demonstrators tried to storm the Navy ROTC headquarters. Forty law enforcement officers were bombarded with rocks, bottles and water balloons. They replied with repeated barrages of tear gas.
Other disorders occurred at Columbia University in New York City, Miami University of Ohio and Pennsylvania State University and in the nation's capital.
The latest moratorium was timed to coincide with the April 15 federal income tax filing deadline. Many demonstrators protested the use of taxes to support the war.

Turnouts were generally less than the first moratorium last Oct. 15.
Moratorium organizers expressed dismay that the voices of antiwar "moderates" were submerged by the strident demands of smaller groups of radicals.
In New York City some 20,000 demonstrators turned out in Bryant Park but radicals in the crowd pushed forward to try and take the stage and shift the focus from Vietnam to the cause of imprisoned Black Panthers.
At Columbia University Wednesday night 200 youths, many not students, broke windows, splattered red paint and set off stink bombs after a rally demanding that the university put up bail for 11 jailed Panthers.
For the first time since the massive Columbia student strike in the spring of 1968, city police were called onto the campus by acting President Andrew Cordier. There was no clash but the radicals vowed a strike today.

In Cambridge, the rioting in Harvard Square left 300 injured. Sporadic looting was reported and the National Guard remained on standby in nearby armories.
A state of emergency was in effect at the Berkeley campus today after the violent demonstration that left dozens injured. Police arrested 21 persons during the melee and at one point used demonstrators as human shields against the hail of rocks from the dissidents.
About 34 of the 100 policemen on duty reported injuries.
National Guard troops prepared to move on the Miami University campus in Oxford, Ohio, today after 150 demonstrators were removed from the ROTC building by state highway patrolmen Wednesday night.
The demonstrators, demanding abolishment of the school's ROTC program were arrested and charged with trespassing.
At University Park, Pa., about 200 persons sat in the street and stoned state police in front of a bus removing antiwar demonstrators from the Pennsylvania State University campus. Ten troopers were injured.
About 50 troopers had moved onto the campus minutes earlier

Battle Losses Remain At Seven-Month High

SAIGON (AP) — The Communist Command's spring offensive kept American battle losses at a seven-month high for the second successive week with 141 Americans killed in action last week, the U.S. Command reported today.
The toll was three more than the number killed the week before and the highest since the week of last Sept. 1-7, when 143 died in battle.
The number of Americans wounded fell by more than half, from 1,179 the previous week to 457. The decrease was attributed to a decline in the number of rocket and mortar attacks, which had increased sharply as enemy forces began their offensive on April 1.

The Saigon government said 542 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 1,336 wounded last week, compared with 734 killed and 1,716 wounded the week before. Enemy casualties rose to 3,458 killed from 3,366 the previous week, the U.S. Command said.
In battle action Wednesday, U.S. spokesmen said, American fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese mortar positions inside Cambodia after a Vietnamese outpost in Chau Doc Province, in the western Mekong Delta, was hit by several rounds.
The mortar site was destroyed, the Americans said, in the sixth reported retaliatory strike into Cambodia by U.S. planes and artillery this year. The United States and South Vietnam claim an "inherent right of self defense" to attack across the border when their forces are fired on from outside Vietnam.
Allied forces reported killing 333 enemy troops Wednesday, 61 of them in three engagements involving South Vietnamese forces in the Mekong Delta. But 14 Americans were killed and 32 were wounded when a Viet Cong booby trap made from a U.S. artillery shell exploded and triggered further blasts among stockpiled mortar shells.
Eight more Americans were killed and 20 wounded in a North Vietnamese attack on a 1st Air Cavalry Division artillery base near the Cambodian border. Three other Americans were killed and seven were wounded in the downing of three helicopters by enemy fire around the besieged Dak Seang Special Forces camp.
This raised to 11 the number of U.S. aircraft reported brought down around Dak Seang in the 16-day-old siege of the camp 277 miles northeast of Saigon.
Saigon was hit by four rockets Wednesday night, but they caused only minor damage and casualties.

The racism resolution set off the greatest debate heard so far at the convention but was ended by J. Lee Williams, a delegate from Salt Lake City, who asked for a vote and said, "Talk, talk, that is all we have done. The time is now."
The resolution asked the YWCA to "Trust its collective power behind the one issue inherent in all of the imperatives stated in the 1970 convention work book, and that imperative is the elimination of racism wherever it exists and by any means necessary."
The resolution also called for more black staff and volunteer representation at all levels of each YWCA.

Silent Protest Of Viet War By YWCA Delegates

HOUSTON (AP) — Delegates to the 25th convention of the National Young Women's Christian Association ended their session Wednesday night with a silent protest of the Vietnam war.
Some 2,000 delegates to the convention silently walked from the convention center, then formed into a candle-lit procession outside the hall.
Earlier Wednesday, the women had adopted a Vietnam resolution saying, "The military involvement in Vietnam continues to cause a tragic loss of life and drain on vital resources needed for the solution of pressing domestic problems and the YWCA strongly urges the President of the United States, the United States Congress and the public to take appropriate action to insure U.S. military disengagement in Vietnam without further delay and put emphasis toward a negotiated end to hostilities including acceptance of a coalition government for South Vietnam."
As the delegates walked from the Albert Thomas Convention Center only the sounds of thousands of shuffling shoes could be heard.
Outside, almost all of the women accepted candles from ushers, then formed up and marched around the hall softly singing, "All that we ask is, give peace a chance," before walking the three blocks with candles alight to their hotel headquarters.
The women also adopted Wednesday a resolution urging the YWCA to use its influence to end racism in the nation and to remove 125 sit-in demonstrators from the main administration building. At least 50 were arrested, some were carried bodily from the building to the buses.

The sit-in began after an hour-long rally and march attended by some 500 persons.
In Washington, about 200 antiwar demonstrators marched from the Capitol across town to Dupont Circle leaving a scattering of broken windows and burning trash baskets. Police dispersed them after an hour-long stand off.
At the Capitol earlier, pacifist David Dellinger told a crowd of some 2,000 to withhold payment of federal income taxes as a war protest measure.
"I advocate overthrowing the government by force but not by violence," he said, "and tax refusal is but one of the cutting edges and forces that are available to us."

Smith Appoints 10 Scientists

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith appointed 10 Texas A&M scientists Wednesday to recommend what chemicals, if any, should be banned from the state in the public interest.
The panel also will advise Smith and the legislature on the safe use of agricultural chemicals, the governor said.
Smith said that if scientific evidence indicates it would be in the public interest to ban certain chemicals, "we will spare no effort to insure that they are no longer used in Texas."
The scientists and their fields are: P. L. Adkison, chairman, entomology; William B. Davis, environmental engineering; John Griffiths, meteorology; Morris Merkle, soil and crop sciences; F. W. Plapp Jr., entomology; Jack Price, agricultural chemistry; Sammy Ray, biology and oceanography; Rudolph Radeleff, veterinary toxicology; James Teer, wildlife sciences; and J. Van-overbeek, biology.

Arabs Attack U.S. Embassy In Jordan

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — Arab guerrillas with sub-machine guns helped guard the U.S. Embassy in Amman today as hundreds marched again through Jordan's capital to protest the Middle East visit of U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Joseph Sisco.
The guerrillas stood alongside Jordanian troops behind coils of barbed wire thrown around the embassy compound following a mob attack on the embassy and the American cultural center Wednesday.
The cultural center was bombed and destroyed by fire. Police stood guard today over the blackened shell.
The unified command of the guerrilla movement has distributed leaflets calling for a general strike Friday to coincide with Sisco's arrival from Israel. Today more than 1,000 banner-waving demonstrators, escorted by armed guerrillas, marched through Amman chanting "Sisco, Sisco, go home, Sisco."
It was the third day of anti-American demonstrations in the city.
The Arab guerrilla movement has denounced Sisco's visit to the Middle East, charging he is trying to impose a political settlement on the Arabs. The guerrillas oppose any peaceful settlement with Israel.
Across the border in Israel, Sisco met with Israeli Deputy Premier Yigal Alon before flying to the Beisan Valley to have a first-hand look at the Jordan River cease-fire line. The American visitor meets tonight with Premier Golda Meir.
Sisco came to Israel Tuesday following three days of talks in Egypt. In Cairo, Vice President Anwar Sadat stated today those discussions "produced nothing."
A request for Jordanian Arabs living under Israeli occupation for a meeting with Sisco was turned down by the American consulate in Jerusalem because of his "crowded schedule." A consulate spokesman said the request was made Tuesday night shortly after Sisco's arrival and his schedule already was full.
On the battle front, Israeli warplanes continued their bombardment of Egyptian positions along the Suez Canal with a night raid on the southern and central sectors.

Tax-Collection Speed-Ups Asked

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, concerned over preserving President Nixon's slim $1.3 billion budget surplus predicted for the coming fiscal year, have proposed tax-collection speedups to bring in $1.6 billion for federal employees' wage increases.
Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy sent letters Wednesday to the House and Senate outlining the plan to accelerate collection of gift and real estate taxes.
Under the proposed plan, gift taxes would be collected every quarter instead of annually as required by law.
And payment of estimate estate taxes would have to be made seven months after a person's death instead of requiring the first payment 15 months after death under present law.

The comparable increase for military personnel is retroactive to Jan. 1 and will apply to the serviceman's total compensation that makes it roughly equivalent to a 8.1 per cent increase in basic pay.
Cost of the pay boost over a full year is expected to total $2.6 billion for 5.3 million employees.

Drinking Alcohol Promotes Smoking

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — St. Louis University scientists said today they have shown for the first time in animals that habitual smoking appears to create a genuine physiological need for nicotine.

They also said their research indicates that drinking alcohol promotes increased smoking.

Dr. Budh D. Bhagat of St. Louis University School of Medicine said that in experiments over the last three years, rats were given injections of nicotine roughly equivalent to smoking three packs of cigarettes a day. The rats grew normally, Dr. Bhagat said, but the production and use of a brain hormone called norepinephrine was greatly increased. Drugs which cause such an increase in the brain hormone, he noted, produce excited behavior and may act as antidepressants.

Thus, Dr. Bhagat said, the nicotine-produced increase in the brain hormone may produce an elevation in mood, a stimulation.

"Once the body becomes accustomed to this increase in the production and use of norepinephrine," the researcher said, "any withdrawal of nicotine results in depression. Thus, the body begins to depend on nicotine."

Crusade Set At Coahoma

Coahoma United Methodist Church will have a Three Days for Christ Crusade, with a series of four services starting at 7 p.m., April 17-18-19, and a Sunday morning service at 11 a.m. Leading the crusade will be Steve Harper and Danny Amerson.

Harper has been the youth evangelist for the Ed Robb Evangelistic Association since 1968. In helping young people develop their religious faith in preparing them for roles of leadership, the church has a tremendous challenge, Harper says. He has been preaching since he was 16. He was licensed to preach at 17 by the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church and during the past four years has preached approximately 1,000 sermons. Harper is a senior at McMurry College in Abilene, and is planning on entering theological seminary in 1970.

Amerson, a McMurry College student, will lead the singing as well as working with the youth.

State Bank Bid At Round Rock

AUSTIN (AP) — An application has been filed for a new state bank at Round Rock in Williamson County, State Banking Commissioner J.M. Falkner said Tuesday.

Falkner said the First State Bank of Round Rock would have capital of $200,000, surplus of $200,000 and reserves of $200,000.

Proposed as directors were James N. Ludlum, J.F. Allen, Dale Hester, Charles A. Johnson Sr., all of Round Rock; and William H. Lueddecke III, H.R. Leigh, Irving Dochen, Mrs. James B. Rutland and Dr. H.A. Gorges, all of nearby Austin.

Ramsey Speaks On Oil Imports

AUSTIN — Railroad Commissioner Ben Ramsey said here today that a stable federal policy on limitation of foreign oil imports is necessary for the orderly development and regulation of the petroleum industry in Texas. He is seeking a second, full elective term on the three-member Railroad Commission in the primaries May 2.

A consistent federal policy of restrictive imports would not only be beneficial to the domestic industry but also would give the Railroad Commission a more firm basis to determine its policies, Ramsey said. "This is not just an oil industry problem," Ramsey added. The state government relies heavily on taxes from the petroleum businesses for support of its programs, including services, schools and universities. "Additionally," Ramsey said, "some 210,400 employees in Texas alone with a $1.6 billion a year payroll are directly dependent on the petroleum industry."

Navy Chaplain Still Fit At 81

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Retired Navy Chaplain Milton Petzold has received a Red Cross certificate stating that he successfully swam 50 miles under a "swim and stay fit" program.

He's 81 years old.

Petzold, who retired from the Navy in 1948 as a captain, entered the Red Cross program last November at Ft. Sam Houston.

Under the program, swimmers must complete at least one-quarter of a mile at a time to receive any credit toward the 50-mile mark.

Petzold played football at Syracuse University, and organized swimming training on the Battleship Tennessee in 1929, but until he joined "swim and stay fit," he had no regular exercise program.

Opening lead: Queen of ♠
 South's four heart contract appeared to be such a sound undertaking that he never stopped to consider what pitfalls might lie in store for him, and the final result was an unnecessary setback on the deal.

West opened the queen of clubs, the deuce was played from dummy and East signaled encouragingly with the eight. The suit was continued and South ruffed the third round. He was on the verge of claiming the rest of the tricks at this point and, more or less as an afterthought, he decided to draw trumps first. The ace of hearts was cashed, followed by a small heart to the king.

When West showed out on the second lead declarer thought better of his original impulse.

In point of fact, South's prospects had dimmed. If he drew one more trump and proceeded to run the diamonds, the odds were that East would be able to ruff before declarer could get rid of his losing spades. A better chance seemed to be to try the spade finesse, so South led the queen of spades from dummy and played the three from his hand when East did not cover. When West turned up with the king of spades, the contract was automatically set.

Instead of being so confident of success, South would have been better advised to ask himself what could go wrong. An obvious answer is that only a bad trump break could threaten his prospects. It is relatively simple to take out insurance against this possibility.

At trick four, declarer should lead a small heart from his hand and, when West follows, the ten is played from dummy. If the ten holds the trick and East follows suit, South is in position to draw the remaining trumps and now make his claim. If the ten of hearts loses to the jack, declarer merely wins East's return, pulls trumps and discards his three losing spades on the dummy's diamonds.

Five Names Are Added To Roster At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Five more names have been added to the roster of the Coaches All-America football game to be played in Texas Tech's Jones Stadium June 27.

Signing to play for the East is Warren Muir, 5-10, 195-pound fullback from the University of South Carolina; Steve Tannen, 6-2, 194-pound defensive back from the University of Florida; and Walker Gillette, 6-5, 200-pound split end from the University of Richmond.

Gillette, nicknamed "The Blade" by his teammates, soared to glory for Richmond in 1969 catching 57 passes for 1,099 yards and 11 touchdowns, an average of 19.1 yards per catch. His career marks are 158 catches for 2,649 yards and 24 touchdowns. A math major, Gillette hails from Capron, Va.

Brand, rated by Coach Frank Broyles as a "superior blocker with speed and quickness," has Paul Dietzel, describes Muir as "the best inside runner in college football." He is a civil engineering major and has signed to play for the New York Giants. He consistently graded among the top three offensive linemen for Arkansas in every game last year. A native of Newport, Ark., Brand is an education major.

MIAMI NATIVE

A native of Miami, Tannen is Florida's career leader in pass interceptions with 12. He holds the school record for blocked kicks with five and returned two punts for touchdowns. Tannen returned 16 punts for 137 yards in 1969 and intercepted three passes.

DEFENSIVE STARTER AT HOUSTON — When University of Houston football players stage their annual Red-White game in Corpus Christi Friday night, Bill Burckett (above) will be in the lineup for the Whites as a safety man.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Herman Kalser and Johnny Bulla tied for 20th in the 1946 Colonial National Invitational Golf tournament in Fort Worth in 1946 and each won $75. (The late Charles Akey of Big Spring played in the same event and finished 28th).

Four linksters tied for 20th place in last year's Colonial and each was rewarded with $1,325.

Harry Gage, the veteran Dallas golf writer, always did have a soft spot in his heart for Ben Hogan, the Fort Worth patriarch who dominated pro golf in the '50s.

Gage says that when Hogan was forced to the sidelines with injuries, something went out of golf that has never returned. The game has been devoid of real class since that time, insists Harry.

Hogan never developed the army of worshippers that Arnold Palmer won over but probably was a better golfer than Palmer. He developed a "killer instinct" that any athlete needs to succeed.

No one ever worked as hard to succeed on the golf course as the Fort Worth bantam. People kept their distance because Hogan never developed a warmth that his fellow Texan, Byron Nelson, seemed to always have but Ben could psyche an opponent into defeat with that ballful stare of his. The little man had ice water in his veins and no compassion for the opponent who dared to match strokes with him.

Jimmy Elder, who went from the streets of Levelland to become the national amateur heavyweight boxing champion, has turned pro and is being aimed for the big time. He's called "Gorilla" because of his size.

When Jimmy Marcum took his Levelland High School baseball team into Snyder the other day, it marked the first time Snyder's Speedy Moffett had ever faced a team coached by one of his former players.

Speedy says he has had 10 games cancelled by weather conditions this spring. This has been one of the worst springs in recent years and track teams, as well as baseball clubs, have suffered because of it.

One of the year's finest defensive plays was contributed by Big Spring's Andy Gamboa the other day in Abene. Andy went into deep right center field to gather in a long blast off the bat of Abilene's Randall Tatum, diving to get the ball. Coach Oakley Hagood, who would like to see Andy get a baseball scholarship, says he's never seen a better defensive play in baseball.

You'd better believe those who argue that the Southwest Conference is a depressed area in basketball.

Of the 50 players chosen to the Associated Press' three teams plus honorable mention, the SWC was shut out completely.

Tommy Jackson, the splendid young Negro golfer from Dallas, sat out HCJC's Western Conference golf match the other day because he wasn't able to assure coach Tommy Rutledge he'd be able to put a bridge on his temper.

Tommy has all the shots necessary to be a tremendous player but if he doesn't learn to cool it in tense situations his game will suffer.

Jackson fired a 66 in a practice round the week of the WC match here. Had he been available and done that well when the chips were down the Jayhawks would have won easily.

Kittens Claim Five Firsts In Fem Meet

GARDEN CITY — Garden City won five first places and finished first in the District 23-B girls' track and field meet here Tuesday, scoring 150 points to 95 for runnerup Ira.

The Kittens were especially strong in the relay events, winning the 400, 880 and mile relay races.

Judy Halfman also copped the shot put with a toss of 30-2 1/2, and Twila Coffman the 60-yard dash in 7.6 for Garden City.

Winners of the first three places in each event qualified for Regional competition, which will be held in Robert Lee April 27.

DRAFT CHOICE

Drafted in the 12th round by the New York Jets, Pierson is described by Coach Don Coryell as "more than just the guy who hikes the ball. Bill is a smart, aggressive blocker and knows how to make a play work." A native of Arlington, Tex., Pierson is a marketing major.

Nine players have now accepted offers to play for the East squad and 10 for the West.

Already announced are Jim Reilly, Notre Dame; Buddy McClinton, Auburn; Jim McFarland, Nebraska; Terry McMillan, Missouri; Ken Geddes, Nebraska; Mel Eastley, Oregon State; Billy Bridges, Houston; John Ward, Oklahoma State; Butch Davis, Missouri; John Small, The Citadel; Ron Gardin, University of Arizona; and Godfrey Zaunbrecher, Eddie Ray, and George Bevan, all of LSU.

Bobcats Win Over Eagles

ABILENE — San Angelo took sole possession of first place in 3-AAAA East Zone standings by defeating Abilene High, 5-3, here Tuesday.

The win was the fourth in five league starts for the Bobcats. Abilene slumped to 3-2.

Joe Walz pitched the win, although Abilene outhit the Cats, 8-4. Jimmy Tindall had three hits for the losers.

The Angeloans erupted for all five runs in the fourth. Steve Caraway's three-run homer highlighted the round.

Mayberry Rips Giant Hurling

HOUSTON (AP) — Big John Mayberry, Houston's rookie first baseman, showed how he made it to the big leagues by hitting a final run which gave the Astros a 7-6 victory over San Francisco in the 10th inning Wednesday night.

The Giants struck back in the second when Tito Fuentes walked, went to second on a single by Bob Heise and scored on another single by Bobby Bounds, who wound up stealing three bases in the game.

Then came the homers by Mayberry and Peppone, but not before the Giants got four big runs in the fourth on walks to Bonds and Alan Gallagher, a single by Ken Henderson and a three-run homer by Willie McCovey.

Then catcher John Edwards ripped a sharp single to right and big John, running for all he was worth, made it to third.

Next came Jim Beauchamp who, with the outfield pulled in, cracked a long drive to right that Bobby Bonds tried to glove with his back to the plate. It went through and Mayberry scored.

McMurry Signs Steers' Barnes

Mike Barnes, Big Spring defensive end, is committed to attend McMurry College in Abilene on a football scholarship, according to McMurry officials.

Mike stands 5-11 and weighs 175 pounds.

Others recruited by McMurry recently include Sherwin Upshaw, Roby tackle; Jack Gregory, Floydada quarterback; Ed Paschich, El Paso tackle; Tom Orwig, Midland linebacker; Delbert Dearing, Fredericksburg quarterback; K. K. Klaerner, Fredericksburg linebacker; Nick Farrell, Slaton halfback; Jimmy McKamie, Post tackle; Robert McDonald, Slaton tackle; and Willie Harrison, Snyder defensive back.

Mavs, Yearlings Wind Up In Tie

Goliad's 1320-yard relay teams finished one-two in the final event of the day, enabling the Mavericks to tie the Runnels in the eighth grade division of the City Championship track and field meet here Wednesday. Each team scored 229 points.

Goliad easily won the seventh grade division with an aggregate of 258 points, compared to 194 for the Yearlings.

Seven records fell in the seventh grade division. This was the third annual City Championship meet and all records had been set in both divisions last year.

In eighth grade competition, six marks were shattered and another tied.

Evaristo Pineda and Clifford Krebs of Runnels and Ronald McKee and Earl Reynolds of Goliad were among top performers in the eighth grade competition.

Hayes Stripling Jr., of Goliad set records in both the 660-yard and 1,320-yard runs on the seventh grade level.

Runnels entries won eight first places in eighth grade activity, compared to six for Goliad.

On the seventh grade level, Goliad earned nine blue ribbons, compared to five for Runnels.

International Teams Await Opening Play

Six International Little League teams are poised to begin competition next week at Webb AFB, chasing the bauble captured by the Rockets last year.

The teams will each play 20 games. Minor league affiliates will limit their activity to 15 contests.

Major Phillip Raig is the new president of the circuit. Joe Cyr serves as vice president while Dave Baker is the league treasurer.

Opening ceremonies will be conducted on the league diamond at 6:30 p.m., Saturday, April 25, at which time all the players in the circuit will be present and introduced.

Until minor league play begins May 30, major league teams will start their games at 7 o'clock each evening. Once the minors get under way, the farm clubs will play their games at 6 p.m. and the majors at 8 o'clock.

Managers of the major league teams include:

Sabres — Frank Moore; Starfighters — Rick Whitsell; Comets — Dave Heine; Rockets — Randy McClure; Talons — Gladio Gutierrez; and T-Birds — Eric Stone.

Actually, league play begins April 23 in a game between the Sabres and Starfighters. The Comets and Rockets clash the following evening.

Lamesa Links Meet At Hand

LAMESA — A large turnout of players is all but assured for the 19th annual Lamesa Invitational Golf tournament, scheduled at the Country Club here this week.

Play gets under way Friday and continues through Sunday. Entry fee is $15. No entries will be accepted after 6 p.m. Friday, according to tournament director J. W. Massengale.

A 'shotgun' start will be used Saturday to open play. Winners will be determined in medal competition and entries will be required to shoot 27 holes of golf on each of the final two days of the meet.

Defending champion of the tournament is Jess Claiborne, a former Southwest Conference star.

The field will be limited to the first 96 entries. The list already exceeds 60 players, Massengale stated. The players will be assigned to six flights, assuming as many as 96 registrars.

A social hour will be staged for tournament entries from 7 to 9 p.m. Friday while a barbecue is planned for Saturday.

Prizes will be awarded to the top four finishers in each flight. The medalist will be determined in the first 18 holes of competition Saturday.

Practice rounds can be played

Torrez One-Hitter Highlights Play

The homer-happy Atlanta Braves have Manager Luman Harris punchy but that's nothing compared to the kavo Mike Torrez delivered over the Montreal Expos with his arm and bat.

The Braves tagged two more four-baggers Wednesday night, stretching their start of season homer streak to nine games and downing San Diego 7-5. Torrez, meanwhile, limited Montreal to an eight-inning single and stroked three of his own, leading St. Louis to a 10-0 romp over the Expos.

In other National League games Wednesday, Houston edged San Francisco 7-6 in 10 innings, Cincinnati shaded Los Angles 3-2 and Chicago dropped Philadelphia 5-1. Pittsburgh and the New York Mets had the day off.

In the American League, Boston defeated New York 6-2, Chicago blanked Oakland 7-0 and unbeaten Minnesota whipped California 8-2.

Washington's doubleheader at Baltimore was postponed by weather.

Orlando Cepeda tagged three hits including a homer and Cleo Boyer also hit one as the Braves continued their long-ball assault on enemy pitchers. They are four games short of matching the record for homers in consecutive games at the start of a season set by the Chicago Cubs in 1954.

It was an ordinary single by Cepeda that broke the tie against the Padres in the seventh inning. Then Bob Priddy came out of the bullpen in the ninth to nail down the victory for George Stone, who gave up two homers to Nate Colbert and one to Clarence Gaston early in the game.

The Braves may be using the lively ball but Torrez certainly wasn't throwing one at Montreal. The tall Cardinal right-hander gave the Expos nothing until Adolfo Phillips connected in the eighth for Montreal's only hit.

Yellow Cat, Crappie Are Striking Fishing Lines

Tom Bailey, L. E. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Pye of Big Spring reported good catches on Mitchell County fishing trips recently.

Brewster To Head Effort

O. T. Brewster, manager of the Holiday Inn, was named Wednesday to head the Chamber of Commerce Task Force on Conventions.

Brewster has been active in civic affairs since moving here with his family in 1963.

"What we need to bring out-of-towners to Big Spring is the help of the people in Big Spring who belong to organizations that have district, area or state meetings and who are interested in having the chamber help them host a convention," he said. "We plan to work out a package of things we can offer groups, everything from golf tournaments to children and teenage entertainment and all sorts of assistance in seeking places for their meetings. We also plan to work with motel, hotel and restaurant owners to see that the reasonable rates and services now so prevalent will stay that way."

Testimony Ends

Testimony concluded this morning in 118th District Court in a $51,600 damage suit filed against Safeway Stores Inc. by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Webb. Mrs. Webb alleges she was injured in August, 1969, in a fall in the store. Court was adjourned shortly before noon for Judge R. W. Caton to draw up the charge to the jury.

Valuation On Trailer Houses Is Scheduled

A valuation schedule for mobile homes, which go on city, county and school tax rolls this year, has been prepared by Earl Dean, local tax evaluator.

The schedule is based on a unit cost of $70 per lineal foot, with 10 per cent depreciation per year and a minimum residual of 30 per cent. Additions will be valued at $35 per lineal foot if construction is the same as the mobile home.

The tax schedule covers trailers varying in length from 30 feet to 80 feet. Valuation on a 1970 model trailer ranges from $5,600 for the 80-foot home to $2,100 for the 30-foot home.

The trailers are depreciated year by year until 1963. Valuation on a mobile home which is a 1963 or earlier model varies from $630 for a 30-foot trailer to $1,680 for an 80-foot trailer.

The county and Howard County Junior College both assess on a 25 per cent valuation of full value, however, the county has a $1.05 tax rate and the junior college charges a 60 cents tax rate.

The city assessor charges $1.40 tax rate on 60 per cent valuation, and the Big Spring Independent School District has a 75 per cent valuation at $1.70 tax rate.

Wind Gusts, Snow Piles

A wintry storm dumped snow from Montana to Minnesota today and rain dampened most other areas of the nation's mid-section from Texas to the Great Lakes.

Heavy snow piled into parts of North Dakota and warnings of additional heavy accumulations remained in effect in the state's northwest. Minot measured 15 inches, from the current storm and from another earlier in the week.

Wind gusts of 30 to 40 miles an hour swept over the Plains and into the northern Great Lakes.

Light rain fell along a cool front from north Texas to the northern Great Lakes. Thunderstorms tumbled through the night in the lower Mississippi Valley.

Colder weather setting in behind the snow belt drove the temperature down to 16 at Butte, Mont., before daybreak.

Readings elsewhere outside the Rockies and northern Plains generally were in the 40s and 50s.

Stanton Youth Enter IL Meet

STANTON (SC) — Several Stanton High School students will attend the Interscholastic League Literary Meet in McCombs Saturday, beginning at 9 a.m. Those participating will be Diana Payne, poetry interpretation; Debra McMeans, prose reading; Cynthia Avery, Susan Vest and Jackie Cook, ready writing; Darla Dowden and Kim Douglas, spelling and plain writing; Lyn Herzog and Leatrice Jones, typewriting; Don Robinson, Marc Briggs, Kim Douglas and Steve Klein, number sense; John Anastasio, Stanley Louder, Kenneth Simonek and Cynthia Avery, science; Chester Koppel, David Workman, Tommy Deavenport and Steve Douglas, slide rule.

Fund Raising Panel To Meet

Chamber of Commerce Vice President John Burgess has announced plans for the formation of a chamber task force to screen fund raising efforts in the city.

Burgess said the increased number of organizations seeking donations from Big Spring residents has made it desirable to organize a committee to screen fund raising campaigns and set guidelines.

Interested members will meet Tuesday, April 21, at 10 a.m. in the chamber offices to discuss the project.

Checks Complaint

Sgt. Oscar T. Armstrong, Lamesa, Department of Public Safety officer, was in Big Spring this morning investigating a complaint by a Howard County resident against a local highway patrolman. Sgt. Armstrong said the citizen and the patrolman will be notified of the findings of his investigation.

Two Women Hurt In Crash

Two women sustained minor injuries in a two-car accident at Seventeenth and Scurry around 9 a.m. today.

Both drivers, Claudene A. Cooper, 19, 1610 Owens, and Elpidia Perez Ramirez, 707 N. Scurry, complained of bruises and scratches following the mishap, officers said, but neither was hospitalized.

Loses Trucks

Jack Cunningham, Jay's Farm and Ranch Center, reported Wednesday to Howard County sheriff's officers that a set of two-wheel hand trucks had been lost from a truck between Big Spring and Garden City. He described the hand trucks as green metal with varnished wood handles.

Fires were set in all trash barrels in the area, and a fire broke out in the Northeast Federal Savings Bank where, like all banks in the square and along the route of the march, the windows had been smashed. A fire also was set at a newsstand next to the entrance to the subway, spreading to the subway entrance, but was quickly doused. Subway service was halted.

Tear gas was used when demonstrators blocked fire apparatus.

Some 60 of the injured were admitted to area hospitals.

Harvard University opened its health facilities to the injured and treated about 70, university officials said.

Rampaging groups smashed up three police cruisers and burned them.

Cambridge, police reported around 20 arrests.

The rally at Boston Common attracted more than 60,000 persons by police estimate.

Speakers included Abbie Hoffman, the Chicago Seven conspiracy trial, Black Panther Party leaders and state Rep. James Shea, sponsor of a recently enacted Massachusetts law to test the legality of the Vietnam war.

DUCKING THE CONFERENCE — A flock of mallard ducks that make their home on the Manned Spacecraft Center facility at Houston, Tex., doze on the grass outside the press room auditorium oblivious of all the excitement connected with the Apollo 13 spaceflight. Because the area around the space center is a bird sanctuary it isn't likely the ducks will become members of the press—pressed duck, that is.

Mexico's Share Of World Tourist Dollars Declines

MEXICO CITY (AP) — The increasing expenditure of Mexican tourists abroad poses a threat to the country's economic situation, two banks say.

The National Foreign Commerce Bank and the National Bank of Mexico said rising Mexican travel and spending abroad far exceeds the slow rise of tourism income to the country.

Tourists to Mexico, said the National Bank, increased from 1.7 million in 1967 to 1.9 million in 1968 and to over 2 million in 1969. Incoming income reached $425 million for 1968 and over $300 million last year.

These figures do not include the income from tourists who visit the northern border cities. They are estimated to spend close to $600 million a year.

The Foreign Commerce Bank said Mexicans were estimated to have spent $250 million abroad during 1969—almost 30 per cent more than last year and almost double the 1966 total of $136 million.

"For some years, our tourist income has been growing more slowly than our tourist expenditures abroad, such that the net balance in our favor is diminishing," said one of the banks.

"Between 1963 and 1968, our income from tourism grew 15.5 per cent annually, where Mexican tourist expenditures abroad rose 38.2 per cent per year."

DOWNTOWN IMPROVEMENT — Juniper and gravel were combined to make an attractive border in front of Big Spring Savings Association. Jack Worsham (left), president of Big Spring Savings, said he got the idea to improve his building's appearance through work on the Chamber of Commerce Pride People Task Force and that he hopes other businessmen downtown will work to improve that section's over-all appearance. Wade Choate (right), secretary-treasurer of Big Spring Gravel Co. donated the gravel used to fill what was a washed-out 190 square foot area of unattractive and unproductive dirt. Worsham said a similar project could be done for less than $30.

DEATHS

Mrs. Eula Pond, Friday Rites

Mrs. Eula Pond, 77, died Wednesday at 8:05 p.m. in a local hospital following a lengthy illness.

Funeral will be held Friday at 2 p.m. in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with the Rev. James A. Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple, officiating. Burial will follow in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Mrs. Pond married James E. Pond, July 4, 1916, in Colorado City and they moved to Big Spring in 1918. Mr. Pond preceded his wife in death March 24, 1932. She was a member of the Baptist Temple, Rebekah Lodge 284, and the Royal Neighbors of America, and had served as a past Noble Grand.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Jack Landers, Duncan, Okla., Mrs. Jack Underwood, Odessa, and Mrs. B. M. Robbins, Corpus Christi; two brothers Columbus Boykin and Harvey Boykin, both of Cisco; two sisters, Mrs. Agnes Ezzell, Modesta, Calif., and Mrs. Beulah Stephenson, Arlington; four grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Graveside rites will be held by the Rebekah Lodge.

Pallbearers will be Leon Cain, Gene Thomas, Ross Hill, Earl Wilson, Lonnie Griffith and J. R. Petty.

A. G. Easley, Saturday Rites

Artis G. Easley, 65, died today at 5:25 a.m. in a local hospital.

Services are scheduled for 3 p.m. Saturday in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel with burial to follow in Trinity Memorial Park.

Mr. Easley was born Oct. 2, 1904, in Rankin, Okla., and came to Big Spring in 1946. He married Grace Ingram May 14, 1928, in Wheeler. He worked as a cement finisher for Kasch Bros. Inc. for 15 years and was a member of the Baptist Church.

He is survived by his wife, Big Spring; his mother, Mrs. Mattie L. Easley, Sunray; six brothers, Delmer Easley, Brady, Neb., Leon Easley, Spearman, A. C. Easley, Dalhart, Tim Easley, Dodge City, Calif., Daily Easley, Sunray, and Leroy Easley, Sunray; three sisters, Mrs. Ada M. Dunlap, Amarillo, Mrs. Mattie Lou Burks, Sunray, and Miss Mabel Easley, Amarillo; and several nieces and nephews.

One Way Of Escaping That Lonely Feeling

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A shared, is one way of escaping that lonely feeling, a psychologist says group nudity, properly and appropriately.

But S. F. Kreitzer, interviewed here Wednesday at the 1970 convention of the Western Psychological Association, said it should be supervised by someone properly trained to use it as a psychological device.

Kreitzer, of nearby Encino, said persons often express despair by saying: "Nobody would or could accept me if I let them know what I am really like."

"Therapy helps them get rid of this notion, he said, and group nudity is a faster way of accomplishing it."

Consolidation May Require Legislation

Any consolidation of local tax collecting agencies will probably have to come through state legislation, City Attorney Herb Prouty and County Attorney Bill Eyssen said Wednesday.

They were speaking to county commissioners, city commissioners and trustees from the Big Spring Independent School District and Howard County Junior College in the second of a series of luncheon meetings.

County commissioners hosted the meeting in the Settles Hotel, with no planned agenda and no official action.

Eyssen suggested he and Prouty, with representatives of the four taxing agencies, travel to Austin to confer with staff members in the attorney general's office about the proper way to approach the consolidation.

He said an attorney general's report requested earlier this year was evasive about the possibility of consolidating tax collectors; however, a more recent opinion given to Tyler

Screwworms Record Posted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation set a record at mid-month by going 121 days without a single case of screwworms, the Agriculture Department announced Wednesday.

"Veterinarians with USDA's Agricultural Research Service say this is the longest screwworm-free period on record."

The last confirmed case was reported Dec. 15 in Comal County, Tex.

Screwworms are the larvae of a fly which lays eggs in open wounds of livestock. The larvae can maim or kill cattle and other animals.

Wildcat Strikes Increase Layoffs In Key Industries

By The Associated Press

Wildcat strikes by truck drivers in scattered cities across the nation caused mounting layoffs today in industries crippled by the walkouts.

In other labor disputes, teachers remained on strike in Los Angeles, Minneapolis and Muskogee, Okla.

In New York, the mediator in negotiations involving the four major daily newspapers said the talks had "reached a critical stage."

Paris shortages due to the trucking strikes were blamed by American Motors Corp. for announced layoffs of 10,000 workers today and Friday at auto plants in Milwaukee, Kenosha, Wis., and Brampton, Ont.

A General Electric Co. plant in Louisville, Ky., where 3,100 workers already have been idled by the strikes, said 500 more employees would be laid off today.

International Harvester Co. announced in Chicago that 4,500 employees were being laid off at several plants, including 2,500 at a Springfield, Ohio, plant. The company said all plants would be nearly shut down next week if the trucker strikes continue.

Among the cities hit by the trucker strikes were Los Angeles, Cleveland, St. Louis, Akron, Ohio, and Buffalo, N.Y.

The drivers were striking to protest a tentative nationwide contract with provides wage increases of 1.10 over three years. The Teamsters Union is preparing to hold a national referendum on the contract. Drivers currently average $4 an hour.

Some manufacturers predicted the layoffs may reach massive proportions unless a settlement is reached before next week.

In Pittsburgh, major steel producers said a week-long strike by independent steelhulers may force them to shut down operations.

U.S. Steel and other producers made the statement in asking a Pittsburgh federal judge to end the walkout by the Fraternal Association of Steel Haulers, which claims 10,000 members who lease and drive their own trucks for carrier firms. The union has demanded the right to bargain with the carriers independently of the Teamsters Union.

The continuing teacher strikes concerned issues ranging from wages and class size in Los Angeles to desegregation plans in Muskogee.

The Los Angeles dispute, in which more than half of the city's 25,000 teachers were idle for the fourth day, was termed a "local issue" by Gov. Ronald Reagan. However, Mayor Sam Yorty blamed Reagan and the state for giving "inadequate" financial aid.

Muskogee teachers voted overwhelmingly Wednesday not to return to work until the school board's original desegregation plan is readopted. The plan was withdrawn after the election to the board of Michael Moore, an outspoken opponent of busing to achieve racial balance.

In the New York newspaper negotiations, mediator Theodore W. Kheel said, "We will be able to determine shortly if there is any possibility of an agreement, or if the parties will continue to remain far apart."

Despite the termination of their contracts March 30, the 13,000 workers at the New York Times, Daily News, Long Island Press and New York Post have remained on the job.

'Ode To The Mini' Not Short Enough

WASHINGTON (AP) — Poets gathered at the White House Wednesday for tea with Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and two of them, asked for their fashion views, wrote this "Ode to the Mini" on the spur of the moment.

The verse contributed by Louis Untermeyer, former consultant in poetry for the Library of Congress, went:

"I think that I shall never see
A lovelier, livelier show of knee."
And the second verse, promptly ad libbed by William Jay Smith, the present consultant in poetry at the library, went:

"And if the mini continues to fall,
I will not see a knee at all."

The occasion was a tea for eight foreign poets who are attending the International Poetry Festival at the Library of Congress.

Nuclear Arms Race Parley

VIENNA (AP) — The United States and the Soviet Union opened talks today to see if they can check the nuclear arms race. President Nixon told the Russians he hopes the nuclear missile arsenals of the superpowers can be first limited and then reduced.

The two delegations opened the substantive round of the strategic arms limitation talks — SALT — at a ceremony in the ornate, historic Belvedere Palace. They had arranged the negotiations at a preliminary round in Helsinki during the winter.

Chief U.S. Delegate Gerard Smith read a message from Nixon pledging his "firm commitment to the search for an early, equitable, verifiable agreement. The President said he had given Smith "authority to approach the issue in the most comprehensive manner."

Nixon said he hoped the Soviet Union would "carry into the Vienna meetings the same determination to bring about a mutually acceptable agreement."

Greyhound Screens Free Travel Show

The itinerary includes Virginia, Florida, the "Magnificent West," and Canada, and it's a trip Big Springs can make Friday night without ever leaving home.

At 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Municipal Auditorium, Greyhound Bus Lines will sponsor a free travel show with four color movies.

"Colonial Virginia" includes brief film visits in Williamsburg, Jamestown, Richmond and the battlefields. A short excursion into Luray Caverns and across the state line into Washington, D.C., are included.

The Sunshine State stars in "Tip To The Sun," featuring shots of Silver Springs, the Cypress Gardens, Key West, Miami, Marineland, St. Augustine and The Great Masterpiece.

"Magnificent West" includes a filmed journey through Cheyenne, San Francisco, Los Angeles and the Grand Canyon. From Ottawa over the Trans-Canada Highway to such towns as Calgary, Banff, Lake Louise, Vancouver and Victoria is the route traveled in "Canada," the last film in the quartet.

Storm Poses No Threat To Astronauts

ABOARD USS IWO JIMA (AP) — A tropical storm in the South Pacific has dissipated and poses no threat to the troubled Apollo 13 astronauts, the space agency said today.

Tropical Storm Helen earlier appeared to be plodding toward the splashdown site southeast of Samoa but space officials in Houston and weather observers elsewhere said it had broken up.

At one point earlier in the week this ship's forecasters said the storm could have grown into a hurricane.

Helen or its side effects provided frogmen with rough weather training Wednesday on their final recovery exercise.

Swim teams worked in a driving rainstorm and said they were ready for the astronauts' return.

"We wanted a rough weather simex," said one helicopter pilot. Simex means simulated exercise.

Despite downpours that cut visibility to less than three miles at times, waves were moderate. The exercise took only about 45 minutes.

Scattered clouds at 2,000 feet and easterly winds at 15 miles per hour were predicted for Friday's splashdown. No rain was expected, a space agency spokesman said.

Waiting to give aid if needed were ships from countries around the world, including the Soviet Union.

The Russians dispatched two ships to the general target area on standby in case the spacecraft splashes down too far from Iwo Jima.

A LOVELIER YOU Accessories In Hair Beautify Total Look

By MARY SUE MILLER
It seems that the young crowd is on the prowl for "hair things." A switch from finger rings!
Much in demand are hair accessories that look smashing but manage a sneaky assist for a hairdo. It's quite an order, considering the scope of hair styles — the belle epoque with its upsweep and toss of tendrils the short cuts and the Godiva manes. Still, there's many a new goody to be had. As a guide here are just a few items:

classical daytime and leisure clothes.
● Belles with up locks and down tendrils could scatter-pin a few tiny ribbon bows (one inch across) around the head. Solid colors by day, miniature florals in the evening.
● A quilted headband of tricel, built over foam and elastic, backsweeps mini and midi haircuts to perfection. You can have an assortment of prints to fit your moods and outfits.
● Long, hanging manes now take to tiebacks — swirling scarves of surah attached to braided elastic bands. Color starts with wild psychedelics and ends with demure polka dots. To each her own!
● Ideas from Paris: Pin a gardenia at the eyeline. Wear veiling as a substitute tie for ribbon and veiling as a scrim for your face and then back-tie. Wow!

TEEN TRESSES
Is your hair a problem, Miss Teen? Then send for my leaflet, "Teen Tresses, Model Type." It tells how to correct such ailments as oily hair and flaky scalp; fly-away, unmanageable, lackluster locks. Included, too, are styling tips and model grooming quickies. For your copy write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 10 cents in coin.

Bridal Shower Held For Miss Delia Rubio

Miss Delia Rubio, bride-elect of Gregory Pello, was honored Tuesday evening with a pre-nuptial gift shower in the fellowship hall of La Fe Baptist Church.
The honoree, attired in a long-waisted pink dress with pleated skirt, was presented a corsage of pink, yellow and blue carnations. She received guests with her mother, Mrs. Herbert Rubio, and her grandmother, Mrs. Petra Parras. The mother of the prospective bridegroom, Mrs. Alejandro Pello of Monterrey, Mexico, was unable to attend.

Hostesses were Mrs. Ralph Luevanoes, Miss Mary Luevanoes, Mrs. Richard Vera, Mrs. Roy Salame and Mrs. Mike Ramirez.
Gifts were displayed, and refreshments were served from a table covered with a floor-length white cloth. Figurines of a bridal couple and bridesmaids centered the table, and crystal punch bowls were placed on either end. Other appointments were crystal and silver.
Miss Rubio and Pello plan to be married April 24 in the First Baptist Mexican Mission at Stanton.

Reviews Three Books For Spoudazio Fora

A cross-review of three books, "Psycho-Cybernetics," "What It's All About" and "Success Through Peace of Mind" was given by Mrs. J. W. Dickens Tuesday at the Spoudazio Fora Study Club meeting at her home in Silver Heels.

The theory that man can do whatever he thinks he can do. They expounded the philosophy of the Bible and Plato, that "man is what he thinks, if he has faith," Mrs. Dickens said. "There is no such thing as a perfect situation or time to start," said Mrs. Dickens. "One must start today and go one step at a time. Every man has his ultimate value and belief that he can succeed with faith and determination."

Club Invited To Tour Library

An invitation to visit the school library during National Library Week was issued by Sister Margaret at the Tuesday meeting of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Mothers Club.

Mrs. Keith Thompson presided and announced a school board meeting for April 18 in the school cafeteria. The club will hold a boutique sale May 2. The program was given by Mrs. Eugene Bellevue who spoke on the life of St. Theresa. New officers will be installed at 7 p.m., May 12, at the Spanish Inn.

Colorful Platter

For variety's sake, cut carrots crosswise, diagonally, to form oval slices. Cook as usual but to characterize their flavor add a shake of sugar — the same amount as salt. When nearly tender, add frozen Italian green beans, and finish cooking this compatible combination of the orange and the green.

Game Night Held By Auxiliary

Members of the National Association of Letter Carriers Auxiliary 1975 brought prizes for a game night Tuesday at First Federal Community Room. Mrs. Roy Zeiger served as hostess. Birthday cakes were taken to the Veterans Administration Hospital by Mrs. Melvin Newton and Mrs. Wendell Payte. A guest at the meeting was the auxiliary's "adopted" patient at Big Spring State Hospital. The next meeting will be May 12.

Parents At Gay Hill Give Views

Parents gave their views on education Tuesday at the Gay Hill Parent Teacher Association meeting. Mrs. Phillip Riddle and Mrs. J. M. Wilson were elected delegates to the spring conference, and Mrs. John Appleton was elected alternate.

Mrs. B. B. Henson gave the devotion, "I'm Thankful," from original poems written by her fifth and sixth graders. Mrs. Faye Newman's first and second graders presented "Cowboy Reunion."

Perfect attendance pins will be presented to Mrs. Appleton, Mr. and Mrs. George Archer, Mrs. Jack Brown, Mrs. Jack Buchanan, Mrs. R. J. Coleman, Mrs. James Ellison, Mrs. Henson, Mrs. F. C. June, Mrs. Newman, Mrs. Hollis Puckett and Mrs. D. C. Rhoton.

The room count prize was won by the first and second grade classes. The next meeting will be May 12.

Gardeners Tour Ranch

A tour of the Brooks Ranch and azalea gardens of Dr. H. W. McIntyre, Sweetwater, was taken Tuesday by the Green Thumb Garden Club. The Brooks Ranch is 10 miles south of Sweetwater and is known for its quarter horses and sheep. The ranch home is newly-built of natural stone, and the patio is beside a flowing spring for natural landscaping.

Club members also viewed the 100 azalea bushes now in bloom at the McIntyre residence. They had lunch at the Sweetwater Country Club. Guests on the tour were Mrs. Clifton Nieland, Mrs. J. L. Schneider, Mrs. Steve Currie of Garden City and Mrs. Pete Warren.

The next meeting will be an evening picnic May 4 at the home of Mrs. Lee O. Rogers with husbands as guests.

Nurses Hear Dee Jon Davis

Dee Jon Davis, local attorney and candidate for state representative, was guest speaker at the Texas Nurses Association meeting Tuesday at Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center. Mrs. John Black and Miss Audrey Elmore were hostesses.

A committee was established to select a "nurse of the month" from the local membership. The District 15 TNA will meet in Abilene Saturday. Mrs. Jack Payne, clinic coordinator for Big Spring State Hospital's seven out-reach clinics, will be a guest speaker. The American Nurses Association convention will be held in May at Miami, Fla.

The nominating committee distributed ballots to be for new officers to be returned by mail. Officers elected will be announced at the May 12 meeting.

The "call to prayer and self-denial" in observance of the needy minority groups was held Monday by the Martha Circle of Wesley United Methodist Church. Members met in the home of Mrs. S. L. Thurmond, 705 E. 13th. Mrs. Thurmond led the study on the "New Opportunity for Joint Action of Missions Overseas and Minority Community Developers in the U.S."

The "call to prayer" concentrates on studying minority groups such as the Indians and people of Appalachian Mountains and the ghettos and making contributions through the church to aid them. Mrs. M. O. Hamby gave the prayers. The next joint meeting will be in the church April 21.

Bodies Puzzle Still Unsolved

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — A Cambodian Army spokesman said today he knew nothing about the hundreds of Vietnamese bodies seen in the Mekong River southeast of Phnom Penh for the past two days. But he said the killing of Vietnamese civilians in Cambodia could be considered punitive actions because of Viet Cong attacks in Cambodia.

"If Vietnamese go with the Viet Cong they must take the consequences for this is our country," Lt. Col. Kim Eng Kouroudeth told newsmen at the inauguration of regular military briefings by the leaders who overthrew Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

The colonel said Vietnamese are being rounded up for security checks, and "we will take measures against the other Vietnamese to insure they remain quiet. It is not racial, it is just a precautionary move."

Another 30 Vietnamese bodies floated this morning past the Mekong River ferry point at Neak Leung, 50 miles down the river from Phnom Penh. Like the hundreds that passed there Wednesday, the bodies had bulet wounds in several places and the hands of many were bound. Nobody would say where the bodies came from. But foreign sources in Phnom Penh said an estimated 600 Vietnamese men had been arrested early Monday in the village of Xon Bien, near the Cambodian capital, loaded on boats and taken away.

Cambodian military sources at Neak Leung said 200 Cambodian troops were trapped on the Mekong banks farther south near the frontier, and South Vietnamese helicopter gunships, ground troops and tanks had pushed across the border in an attempt to help the Cambodian troops.

This was the first report that South Vietnamese troops are operating in that part of Cambodia, west of the Plain of Reeds. Previous cross-the-border operations have been reported in the Parrot's Beak area some 70 miles to the east.

Grand Jurors 'Cool' It For Sen. Heatly

LUBBOCK (AP) — A federal grand jury—looking for possible violations of the U.S. Civil Rights Act—has completed its investigation without returning any indictments in a probe of the race for Rep. W.S. Heatly's House seat.

Jury foreman Robert Davis of Slaton told U.S. Dist. Judge Herbert O. Woodward: "It is our opinion that the facts do not sustain a prosecution for violation of federal criminal laws."

That ended the grand jury investigation Wednesday that started at San Antonio in February when Heatly's Democratic and Republican opponents alleged they were pressured to drop out of the May 2 primaries.

Heatly, 57, is chairman of the powerful House Appropriations Committee and is facing opposition in his race for re-election for the first time in six years. Heatly, who was not subpoenaed to testify, has been chairman of the committee a record five times and is seeking his ninth term in the House.

His opponent in the Democratic primary, Leon Williams of Quanah, said he lost his job with the Quannah Chamber of Commerce after he announced for Heatly's office. Mrs. Williams said she was told by the Texas Extension Service to quit her job as home demonstration agent or be fired.

The Republican candidate for Heatly's post, Zack Fisher of Memphis, said he lost his connection with his bank after becoming a candidate.

Before going to Lubbock, a San Antonio grand jury heard four days of testimony from 17 witnesses.

The San Antonio probe ended when the grand jury foreman told U.S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears if any indictments were returned, they should be considered by the grand jury in the Lubbock-Amarillo division of the Northern U.S. District of Texas. U.S. Atty. Seagal Wheatley of San Antonio said possible violations of up to four federal laws under the U.S. Civil Rights Act were under investigation.

Teenage Dance

Another teenage dance has been scheduled for Friday evening at the American Legion hall on US 87 South. The Bicycles will furnish the music, and the dance will be from 8:30 p.m. to 11:30 p.m. Net proceeds from the script charge will go to the Legion building fund.

Cosden Adds To Awards

Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. was one of eight industrial and engineering firms who last month awarded slide rules to area winners of the National Engineering Scholarship competition.

The awards, made through the Permian Basin Chapter of the Texas Society of Professional Engineers, went to three students from Monahan High School, two from Midland High School, four from Odessa Permian, two from Fort Stockton and two from Midland Lee.

The firms donating the slide rules included Abbott Building Co., Champion Chemicals Inc., El Paso Products Co., Revex Polymers (Dart Industries), Texas Electric Service Co. and Sivalis Tanks Inc., all of Odessa; the Orloff Corp., Midland; and Cosden, Big Spring.

Fullerton Will Speak Here To Civitans Friday

The GOP candidate for Lieutenant Governor of Texas, Byron Fullerton, will be guest speaker at the noon luncheon of the Civitan Club Friday. The Austin Republican has scheduled Big Spring as part of his statewide campaign tour. He is the associate dean of the University of Texas School of Law, served 3½ years as an assistant Texas attorney general under Will Wilson, who is now an assistant U.S. Attorney General.

Fullerton is critical of Democrat incumbent Ben Barnes for advocating a sales tax on food and for wrangling with the governor on various state issues. Fullerton will speak at the Downtown Tea Room to the Civitans. He is on leave from the UT law school.

Spring Band Concert Staged

STANTON (SC) — The annual Spring Band Concert was held Monday, at 8 p.m., in Stanton's High School Auditorium, directed by George A. Walker. Three bands participated, including the beginners band, the cadet band and the concert band. The 1969-70 band officers were recognized, David Workman, president; Bill Pardue, vice president; Lyn Herzog, secretary-treasurer; Chester Kokel, reporter; Dennis Jones, parliamentarian.

Concert Contest

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton High School Band will participate in a concert contest April 22 at Lee High School in Midland. On April 24, the band will travel to San Antonio for the Fiesta Flambeau Parade, returning home April 26.

Growl Of Cotton Gin Giving Way To Moos In Alabama

WASHINGTON (AP) — The growl of the cotton gin is giving way to the moos and bawls of cattle as the Old South shifts its agricultural gears for a new decade, says Alabama cattleman John M. Trotman.

As farmers turn from cotton, they find Southern grass and climate ideally suited to herds of beef cows needed to produce calves which wind up in Western feedlots.

Trotman, 43, operates a cattle business near Montgomery, Ala., and is first vice president of the American National Cattlemen's Association.

"Basically," he said in a recent interview here, "we're a grass country. Our weather and use of fertilizers to produce forage have been the basis for this growth."

Trotman cited government inventory reports showing cattle gaining faster in the Southeast than in any other area. Of course, he admitted, Alabama has a long way to go before out-ranking Texas as number one.

Still, he is optimistic that even Texans one day might envy Alabama cattle producers.

WHAT WAS THE ANSWER?

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A well-dressed woman in her late forties asked the federal tax office for advice on filling out her income tax.

She told the interviewer she had been to Europe four times husband hunting and three times the trips failed. She didn't say so, but she apparently got her man the fourth try.

What she wanted to know: Would the first three trips be deductible as gambling losses or as travel and entertainment expenses?

"Alabama has more than doubled its cow numbers since 1940," Trotman said, "and we feel like we have just scratched the surface."

The Southeastern states in general, he said, have increased steadily as cotton diminishes in relative farm importance, a situation caused by slower demand, less labor and recently poor harvests.

"And since we have lost cotton to the West (Texas, for example)," Trotman said, "we like to say we would like to move the cow factory to the East."

The latest government report showed Texas with about 12.2 million cattle and Alabama with almost two million.

States such as Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi, Florida, Alabama and Louisiana have emerged as major calf-producing centers for the nation's fattening pens, most of them in the Midwest and Southeast.

Snyder Judge Is Sworn In

Wayland Holt, former district attorney, was sworn in as judge of the 132nd Judicial District in Snyder Wednesday morning by Judge Austin McCloud, Colorado City, judge of the 32nd district.

Judge McCloud was invited to administer the oath of office for both Judge Holt and for J. Mills, who succeeded Judge Holt as district attorney. The shifts were occasioned by the resignation of Judge Sterling Williams because of continued ill health.

Both of the new judicial appointees by Gov. Preston Smith will serve until the general election. Executive committees of the Democratic and Republican parties will have the privilege of naming nominees since the time for filing is past.

Judge Holt is a graduate of Baylor University law school and is chairman of the Scurry County United Fund. Mills is a graduate of University of Texas Law school.

Party Loyalty Stressed As Issue In Campaign

Party loyalty, antiwar demonstrations, help for the unemployed and seniority in Congress figured in what Texas candidates for U.S. senator had to say about one another Wednesday.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough accused his opponent in the May 2 Democratic primary, Lloyd Bentsen, of deserting their party during the 1952 presidential race, when Bentsen was a congressman from the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Bentsen, now a wealthy Houston insurance man, said Yarborough "has finally quit ducking and dodging on whether he intends to endorse this week's moratorium" by antiwar partisans.

Fencing was somewhat less spirited in the contest between Rep. George Bush and Robert Morris for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Morris said his opponent wants to do away with the seniority system in Congress and asked,

"What is George trying to do to Congress and the country?"

Bush again said he favors tax incentives for private industry to hire and train the unemployed.

Yarborough, campaigning at long range from Washington, issued a statement in Austin asserting Bentsen "deserted the Democratic party" and "stabbed the noble Adlai Stevenson in the back" in 1952.

Citing a Harlingen newspaper story published Aug. 28, 1952, the Yarborough release quoted it as stating: "Rep. Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr. will go along with Gov. Allan Shivers and Atty. Gen. Price Daniel in splitting with Gov. Stevenson over the tidelands issue, but said he would not attempt to tell the rest of the people how to vote."

That was the year that a revolt over state ownership of the oil-rich tidelands, in which Shivers played a leading role, helped to elect President Dwight Eisenhower.

Yarborough noted, however, that the current issue of the Texas Observer said Bentsen had denied opposing Stevenson for the presidency.

Bentsen, speaking at a San Antonio reception, declared that Yarborough, in saying he supports the antiwar demonstration "ought to remember that last fall the moratorium he endorsed provoked the Viet Cong flag wavers into violence."

He noted that Yarborough was quoted as telling reporters April 4 in Dallas that "he understands the demonstrators this month plan to pray and fast and he supports anyone who wants to pray and fast."

Bentsen went on to say that Yarborough "voted in the Senate three times against permitting voluntary prayer in public schools and buildings. He votes against one kind of prayer and endorses another. It just amounts to more evidence that the senator has lost touch with Texans."

Tiny Aquarius Proves Itself As Life Boat

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Aquarius was designed to land men on the moon and return them safely to moon orbit. And that's all. But in the emergency of Apollo 13 it proved itself as a life boat, the sole means of survival for the three imperiled astronauts.

The little craft—cramped for two men, crowded for three—is a fragile specialist.

It can fly only in the vacuum of space. Attempt to fly it in the atmosphere of earth and it would crumple. During launch, the craft must be sheltered from the atmosphere in a chamber of the Saturn rocket.

Aquarius resembles a bug. Its first flying brother, in fact, was named Spider because of the craft's resemblance to one. Spider flew on Apollo 9.

It has long, spindly legs which absorb the shock of landing. It has a rocket engine on its underside which is designed to lower it gently to the moon.

The outer shell of Aquarius is composed of many layers of a plastic-like film which resembles cellophane. This forms a thermal blanket which protects an inner metal shell from the temperature extremes of the moon's surface.

Inside, Aquarius is designed for function, not comfort.

Aquarius has no bunks or beds. The Apollo 11 astronauts spent their night on the moon sleeping on the floor. Hammocks were added for Apollos 12 and 13.

The moon lander has enough oxygen, water and power to support two men on the surface of the moon for about 70 hours.

Its supplies are sufficient to take three men and a command module around the moon and back to earth.

To do it, the astronauts were forced to turn off many systems of the craft to save electricity and water.

The lunar module docks to the command module through a collar on its roof. Astronauts board the moon lander from the command module through its ceiling.

Aquarius consists of two sections. The top stage contains the cabin and the engine which lifts astronauts from the moon. The bottom stage contains the descent engine, the one which has brought Apollo 13 back from the brink of disaster.

The engine is unsuited for the job required of it on Apollo 13, but has three times ignited properly and pushed the crippled command ship back on its course toward earth.

Spacecraft experts first thought of the lunar module's possibilities as a lifeboat on Apollo 9.

The lunar module on that flight, Spider, was used to push the command module around in earth orbit and proved that it could be done.

Aquarius will never occupy a place in some museum. It will live in history in memory only. The craft is too fragile to bring back to earth. Discarded just before re-entry, it will be torn to pieces and then burn up as it plunges into the earth's atmosphere.

Lamesa Death Case Closed

Lamesa authorities have closed the investigation in the Tuesday night shooting death of a young woman identified as a Big Spring State Hospital patient.

Officers Wednesday afternoon questioned a Kansas truck driver and released him. "Our investigation is closed," Sheriff J. A. (Shorty) Hancock said. "As far as we're concerned, it was suicide."

Justice of the Peace Arthur Standefer is withholding a ruling until he receives a report on the autopsy conducted in Lubbock Wednesday. The autopsy report is expected Monday.

The young woman, identified as Sammie Faye Ivey, 18, Odessa, reportedly walked away from the hospital campus here Tuesday afternoon. Her body was found about 9:30 p.m. Tuesday when Mrs. Irene Rushing, operator of a Lamesa truck stop, investigated a gunshot.

Roadblocks were set up in surrounding counties, including two in Big Spring, after she told authorities she saw a truck driver pick up a gun from near the body and drive off.

The Kansas truck driver was stopped near Canyon about 1 p.m., transferred to Lamesa, and released after giving a statement to officials.

Banquet Set

STANTON (SC) — The junior-senior banquet will be on Saturday, at 7:30 p.m. at Furr's Cafeteria in Midland.

16 APR 16

BEAUTIFULLY-GRAINED wood is used by Mrs. John Grow to accent the dining room in their home at Webb Air Force Base. When Col. Grow was in Thailand he bought the massive fork and spoon which serve as wall hangings, as well as the intricate carvings which grace the china cabinet. Centering the highly-polished table is a bowl of carved wooden fruit.

'New Mexican' Food Is Pungent, Peppery

By JO BRIGHT

To some people's way of thinking, Mrs. John W. Grow Jr. may be a little heavy-handed with the pepper pod.

"In Albuquerque, where I was reared, we do 'New Mexican' cooking," she said, "and that means Mexican food prepared much hotter than it is in most places."

Luckily, the men in the family don't have tender tongues, and they look forward to a "New Mexican" meal at least every couple of weeks. They are Col. John Grow, new base commander at Webb Air Force Base; Robert, 12, a seventh-grader at Goliad Junior High School; and Wesley, 5, who decided to be a kindergarten "drop out" this year and keep his mother company for a while.

The Grow's have three other sons including Jim, 18, a high school senior who is staying with friends in Mountain Home, Idaho, until graduation. The other are Charles, 27, a Marine Corp officer stationed in Vietnam, and Randy, 21, a senior at Idaho State University whose wife is named Chris.

For Mexican cookery, one of the main ingredients is red banana pepper. Not long ago, when Col. Grow was in Albuquerque, he bought a string of the peppers which Mrs. Grow boiled and put through a ricer. Discarding the skins, she used the pulp to make hot sauce. Often, Mrs. Grow's mother mails her packages of pepper powder from New Mexico.

A typical Mexican dinner served by Mrs. Grow will include enchiladas with red chili sauce (or the green chili version) along with beans (not refried), four tortillas, and perhaps sopapillas for dessert. A variation may be cube steak with chili sauce or chicken and rice. To prepare the latter, Mrs. Grow fries the chicken lightly in oil, then adds crushed garlic, being careful not to let the garlic burn. Next she adds rice and pimento letting the mixture steam until done.

"A lot of the time, John is content with just chili meat and beans," said Mrs. Grow.

Game birds provide another favorite meal in the Grow home.

"My husband is quite a hunter," continued Mrs. Grow. "He has hunted deer, quail and dove, but probably he prefers duck hunting. When we lived in Mountain Home and he left for duty in Thailand, there were 76 ducks in our freezer so I was giving them away for quite a while!"

Mrs. Grow used to join her husband on hunting trips, and remembers one trip in particular, to the Grand Tetons, when the bears were not exactly her cup of tea.

"Now that the boys are grown, John always has a buddy, so I'm happy to stay at home," she said.

Breakfast is not a big meal for the Grow's. When Col. Grow was stationed in Laredo, he had to get up very early so he began starting the day with an instant breakfast drink. Finding it satisfying, he continued the practice and was later joined by Robert. Thus, the leisurely breakfast is saved for week-ends.

The noon meal usually finds Mrs. Grow and Wesley snacking alone, for Col. Grow spends that hour to get exercise with a quick tennis game when his schedule allows it.

Mrs. Grow shops at the base commissary and does all her housework, including the ironing. The latter poses a small problem, for Mrs. Grow says, "At times there is more ironing than food in the freezer."

The family resides at No. 3 Albrook where the entryway and kitchen feature indoor-outdoor carpeting. The spacious living room is accented with a round, marble-topped table, oil paintings from Germany, and a carved wooden chest which Col. Grow brought from Thailand. Mrs. Grow's hobby of ceramics has provided a large lamp and tall white figurine of Quan Yen. One of her hanging lamps is used in a corner of the den, over a small bear skin rug.

Pack Nut Brittle As Party Favors

Packed in attractive containers, some of this candy may be used for take-home favors.

ROWENA'S NUT BRITTLE

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/4 cup light corn syrup
- Dash of salt
- 1/2 cup water
- 1-16 tsp. baking soda
- 2 tbsps. butter
- 3/4 cup coarsely chopped nuts

In a heavy saucepan stir together sugar, corn syrup, salt and water. Stirring constantly, cook over medium heat until sugar is dissolved and mixture comes to a boil.

Continue cooking without stirring until temperature reaches 300 degrees on a candy thermometer and a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water is brittle.

Remove from heat; quickly stir in baking soda, butter and nuts. Pour in a very thin sheet onto large greased cookie sheet. As candy cools, lift edge and pull as thin as possible. When cold break into irregular pieces. Makes about 1 pound.

Skillet Tamales For Quick Dish

Prepare this in a wink for unexpected company.

- SKILLET TAMALES
- 1 can (8 ozs.) tomato sauce with tomato pieces
- 1 cup drained canned whole kernel corn
- 8 cooked tamales

Into a 10-inch skillet pour the tomato sauce; stir in the corn. Arrange the tamales in the sauce. Cover and heat gently, stirring the sauce several times, until the tamales are hot through.

Makes four servings. If you like, you may top each serving with grated cheddar cheese.

Potato Pie Is Sweet, Plentiful

Southern cooks have a knack for capitalizing on the dessert qualities of sweetpotatoes.

They frequently use "sweets" in making pies and puddings. Holiday meals provide an ideal setting for sweetpotatoes and sweetpotato desserts, says the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

This is the time of year when peak supplies are moving to market. USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service is reporting heavy arrivals at most points now.

Where the sweetpotato originated is unknown, since it has never been found growing in a wild state. It was cultivated in ancient China and may have been native to the East Indies or to tropical America.

For centuries it has been one of the most popular food plants of tropical countries. Men of the Columbus expedition were fed the boiled roots by natives of the West Indies. De Soto found sweetpotatoes growing in Indian gardens in what is now Louisiana. Louisiana is still our principal producer of "sweets."

SOUTHERN SWEETPOTATO PECAN PIE

- 1/4 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- Dash salt
- 1 1/4 cups mashed cooked sweet potatoes
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 3/4 cup dark corn syrup
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1 cup pecan halves
- 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell
- Cream butter, sugar and salt until light and fluffy. Combine yams, eggs, corn syrup, vanilla and pecan halves. Mix well. Add to butter-sugar mixture and mix until well blended. Pour into pastry shell. Bake in 375-degree oven 50 to 55 minutes, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean.

SWEETPOTATO COCONUT PIE

- 1 1/4 cups mashed, cooked, fresh sweetpotatoes
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1 cup toasted shredded coconut
- 1/2 cup chopped peanuts
- 2 cups milk
- 1 unbaked 9-inch pastry shell
- Combine yams and eggs. Beat well. Add sugar, salt, coconut and peanuts, and mix well. Turn into pastry shell. Bake in 400-degree oven for one hour, or until knife inserted in center comes out clean. Cool thoroughly. Top with meringue, if desired.

For the meringue, beat three egg whites with one-eighth teaspoon cream of tartar and dash of salt until frothy. Gradually add six tablespoons sugar, one tablespoon at a time, beating constantly. Beat until stiff. Spread meringue over yam filling. Bake in 325-degree oven 20 minutes or until meringue is lightly browned.

SWEETPOTATO MOLASSES COOKIES

- 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/4 tsp. baking soda
- 1 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. ginger
- 1/2 tsp. cloves
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1/2 cup seedless raisins
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 1/4 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- 1/4 cup hot water
- 1 tbsps. vinegar
- 1/2 cup molasses
- 1 egg, beaten
- 1 1/4 cups mashed, cooked sweetpotatoes

Sift flour, salt, baking soda, baking powder, ginger, cloves and cinnamon together. Add raisins and mix well. Cream shortening and sugar together until light and fluffy. Combine hot water, vinegar and molasses. Mix well. Add to creamed mixture and mix well. Add egg and yams, beating until well blended. Add sifted dry ingredients and mix until thoroughly blended. Drop by tablespoonsfuls on greased baking sheets. Bake in 350-degree oven 12 to 15 minutes, or until done. Cool.

Cut Cucumbers Plus Red Pepper

An unusual and delicious combination of vegetables.

CUCUMBER WITH RED PEPPERS

- 1 med. or large cucumber, pared and thinly sliced
- 2 large sweet red peppers, seeded and cut into thin strips
- 1/4 cup boiling water
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 tbsps. butter

Into a 10-inch skillet turn all the ingredients except the butter. Bring to a boil; cover and boil gently, stirring several times, until cucumber slices are transparent and pepper is tender-crisp — about 10 minutes.

Drain. Mix in butter. Makes 4 servings.

APPLE FRITTERS GO GREAT WITH HAM Give Easter ham a lift by serving it with fritters

Introduce Yourself To Tradition; Serve Up Some Apple Fritters

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

If it pleases you to tie yourself to tradition, serve up some apple fritters.

These delicious batter-covered apple rings were in favor with all those intrepid women who in the past century put pen to paper and wrote our earliest cookbooks.

How lavishly they treated fritters!

Mrs. Randolph, whose cookbook first appeared in 1824, doused the apple rings in brandy and wine, sugar, cinnamon and grated lemon rind before covering them with batter.

APPLE FRITTERS

- 4 large cooking apples
- Lemon juice
- 1 cup enriched white corn meal
- 1/2 cup sifted regular flour
- 1 tsp. salt

Peel and core apples. Cut into 1/2-inch rings. Dip in lemon juice.

In a medium mixing bowl, thoroughly stir together the cornmeal, flour, salt, sugar and cinnamon. Add egg and milk; with a rotary beater (electric or hand), beat until smooth.

Dip apple rings into the batter. Fry a few at a time in the hot deep fat (375 degrees) until golden brown — 2 to 4 minutes.

As each batch of apple fritters is fried, remove to brown paper or several thicknesses of paper toweling to drain. As soon as drained, place on paper toweling on a large platter or in a shallow pan in a low oven to keep warm while remaining fritters are fried.

Makes 6 servings.

Note: The large apples called for in the recipe were about 3 inches high and 3 inches in diameter. If medium-size apples are used, about 6 will be needed. Rome Beauty, Winesap,

- 2 tbsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk

Jonathan and McIntosh are varieties of apples that may be used.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

If dry beans have to be cooked in hard water, it's a good idea to add baking soda after the beans have been soaked and are ready to be cooked. Use one-half teaspoon of soda to two quarts water.

Heat Welsh rarebit sauce and serve with omelet — plain or puffy.

• • • • •

For an epicurean appetizer, top stuffed-egg halves with smoked oysters. The oysters come in flat cans — like sardines — and are available in food markets, especially those that carry fancy specialties.

As a sauce for smoked tongue, you might like to mix grated pared apple, bottled horseradish and a suspicion of salt with commercial sour cream. Add a touch of sugar, if you like.

• • • • •

Heat currant jelly in a big skillet with a little red wine (leftover); add drained canned pears. Continue heating until the pears are hot through. Delicious served with baked ham.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

By Mrs. John Grow

GREEN CHILI ENCHILADAS

- 12 tortillas
- Oil for frying
- 1 tbsps. butter or margarine
- 1 tsp. minced onion
- 1 cup half and half cream
- 1 pt. sour cream
- 1 can chopped green chilies
- 1 lb. Monterey Jack cheese cut into 12 strips
- Wilt onion in butter; add cream and salt. Set aside. Mix sour cream and chilies and salt. Set aside. Fry tortillas lightly in hot oil, and dip into light cream mixture one at a time. Place a strip of cheese on each tortilla, roll and arrange in a buttered baking dish. Pour on remaining light cream and spoon on sour cream mixture. Bake at 325 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

SHRIMP CURRY

- (Serves 12)
- 7 bunches onions
- 7 cans cream of chicken soup
- 1/2 tbsps. curry powder
- 3 cans mushrooms
- 3 cans sliced water chestnuts
- 3 lbs. shrimp
- In large skillet, saute onions then add all other ingredients. Simmer for six to eight minutes and serve over hot rice.

VEGETABLE SALAD

- Canned green beans (thin)
- Avocado
- Onion
- Tomato
- Lettuce

FRENCH DRESSING

- Marinate green beans in French dressing for several hours. Place beans on bed of lettuce, top with a slice of onion and tomato and chunks of avocado. Pour on remaining dressing. (Goes well with curried shrimp.)

ROAST DUCK

- 5 or 6 mallards
- 3 cups cooked rice
- Small can crushed pineapple
- Celery, chopped (desired amount)
- 1 onion, chopped
- 1/2 lb. bulk sausage
- 1 tsp. anise seed
- Anise oil (or extract and olive oil combined).
- Rub inside and outside of ducks with combined oils and let stand at least one hour. Fry onion, celery and sausage well. Add rice, pineapple and anise seed. Stuff ducks and bake uncovered at 500 degrees for one hour. Serve with orange sauce.

ORANGE SAUCE

- 2 cups orange juice
- 1 cup chicken broth
- 1/2 tbsps. grated orange rind
- 2 tbsps. white vinegar
- 1/2 cup sugar
- Corn starch
- In sauce pan, mix all ingredients except corn starch. Heat. Mix enough water with corn starch to make thin paste and add gradually to sauce until consistency of thick cream.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Peter opened his mouth, and said, Of a truth I perceive that God is no respecter of persons. (Acts 10:34)

PRAYER: Deepen my faith, O Lord, so that when You call me to share Your work, I am ready to go where You lead and willing to love as You love. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Knowledge And Balance

Gov. Preston Smith made the not-to-original observation recently that the mass media may be responsible for bomb-throwing radicals.

Professional and amateur psychiatrists, psychologists and sociologists have been toying for years with the theory that exposure to violence incites violence. But advocates of this theory often over-emphasize environmental influences on man.

The human being is not merely a slate to be written upon by his environment. Environmental effects are real and crucial to an understanding of human development. But man also is endowed with something called free will. He is able to some extent to control his environment and its effects on him.

Smith also said: "We do not advocate censorship; we are opposed to that. What we advocate is truth, relevance and responsibility." Herein lies the closest thing to an adequate solution yet formulated.

The public not only has the right to know; it has a responsibility to inform itself of increasing violence. For solutions to social upheaval in a democracy must come from its citizens.

Dealing with an undesirable situation requires a balanced knowledge of the circumstances. It is the responsibility of the media to present the trend toward violence in proper perspective.

The public has a right and a responsibility not to deceive itself through censorship. The media have concomitant rights and responsibilities to strive constantly toward a balanced and realistic presentation of reports and comment.

The New York Race

If Texas politics at this stage do not pre-empt capacities for interest then the New York gubernatorial race might be a candidate for attention.

The first round of the Democratic nomination which has several candidates, including Arthur J. Goldberg. After an on-and-off situation, Goldberg jumped into the race a couple of weeks ago. Things have livened considerably.

Goldberg has long been in the public eye as secretary of labor, as an associate justice of the Supreme Court, as ambassador to the United Nations. Before entering public service he was well known as counsel for the AFL-CIO. He may not get the nomination, but that would be surprising in view of his reputation.

The Democratic candidate, whether Goldberg or one of his rivals, will not have an easy fight. The Republican incumbent, Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, is a formidable opponent. Among his political assets are his name, his wealth, and a strong organization. His 12 years in the governorship show him to be a capable administrator with a progressive record.

Rockefeller does have some political liabilities as well. Naturally he has made enemies over the years. Also, a conservative third party can be expected to draw off many Republicans. This might be the year to beat him.

One factor lends particular interest to the New York contest. If Goldberg should get the nomination and go on to win against Rockefeller, he would doubtless find many Democrats advancing him as a presidential candidate in 1972.

Corruption In Vietnam

WASHINGTON — President Nixon's speech on Vietnamization overlooks a serious and continuing problem in his praiseworthy campaign to turn the war and the country back to the South Vietnamese people.

It is the wholesale thievery of American dollars by the politicians, bureaucrats and military of President Nguyen Van Thieu's Saigon regime. A hush-hush report by a United States investigative team — with some undercover aid from the FBI in this country — discloses that in the past 18 months more than $1.5 million has "disappeared" into Vietnamese pockets and foreign bank accounts.

D-Maine, has proposed a four-year $320 million increase in the program.

LAND REFORM in South Vietnam not only is long overdue, but scheduled at a snail's pace. It took two years for the South Vietnamese legislators to pass the reform bill, and Thieu signed the bill March 26.

The new law is designed to distribute almost half of the rice land in Vietnam — more than 2.25 million acres — to 500,000 tenant farmers who now work it. But the distribution will not be accomplished until mid-1974, four long years from now. By that time, there may no longer be a government in Saigon friendly to the United States, or at least of a non-Communist nature.

VIETNAMIZATION will be critically hobbled unless Thieu cracks down on the crooks within his regime. To be sure, his government is more stable today than ever, but it cannot survive to take over the war if it loses the confidence of the people, among whom the regime's corrupt way of life is open knowledge.

Disclosure of the extent of the thievery also comes at a time when the U.S. is planning to invest more money in Thieu's land reform program. The Agency for International Development (AID) so far has asked for only $30 million to be spent by mid-1971, but Sen. Edmund Muskie,

ADMITTEDLY, there is a financial problem. The tenants would pay nothing to the 50,000 landowners to whom they now pay rent. The Saigon government would reimburse the expropriated landlords 20 per cent in cash and 80 per cent in government bonds. Thus, time is needed to get up the necessary money. But if passed, the Muskie bill presumably would provide the funds for an accelerated land transfer.

THERE, TOO, is the rub. American proponents of the land reform program, including the National Committee for a Political Settlement in Vietnam, have said that with "intensive" U.S. and South Vietnamese surveillance large-scale fakery will be difficult. That would sound reassuring if it were not for the fact that the Vietnamese grafters — as emphasized in the American investigative report — are still finding ways to profiteer despite Thieu's assurances over the years that he has ended corruption.

Billy Graham

I have sinned so deeply, but I am trying hard to become an honest Christian. Maybe, though, the only way I can receive help is if Christ shows me a sign or something.

A.J.A.

I believe God has already shown you a sign that you are forgiven. It is the figure of a dying Savior on the cross saying: "Father forgive them for they know not what they do." Could there be a greater sign than this? All through the Bible we find the teaching of forgiveness, in illustration and in statement.

"In whom we have redemption through his blood, the forgiveness of sins, according to the riches of his grace." Ep. 1:7.

"And you, being dead in your sins and uncircumcision of your flesh, hath he quickened together with him, HAVING FORGIVEN ALL YOUR TRESPASSES." Col. 2:13.

You say you have sinned deeply, just remember that most of the people whose lives Jesus touched in the New Testament sinned deeply too: Peter, Magdalene, the Woman of Samaria and the adulteress. Christ's blood suffices for the deepest sin, even murder.

Believe the Word of God! Believe that God meant it when He said we have forgiveness of sins. Then, go your way and sin no more. God has forgiven you. Now, forgive yourself.

VIETNAMIZATION will remain only a slogan unless the Thieu regime can assure itself of rural support by getting on, speedily and honestly, with the reform program. It is in the boon-docks where the war is being fought, and that is where Thieu and his pals must close the credibility gap or lose both the war and their political necks. Embarrassed Announcer

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP) — The announcer on Rhodesia's only television channel began a news item about an African wanted for house-breaking. As he said police were appealing for information about the man, on the screen flashed a picture of Chief Leabua Jonathan, prime minister of the tiny African kingdom of Lesotho. "It was just one of those things," mumbled an embarrassed station spokesman.

Times Have Changed . . . Suddenly

NEW YORK (AP) — Annual meetings need to be pleasant affairs, both corporate officers and shareholders generally will agree, at least when the profits were satisfactory.

Attendance at the annual get-together was one of the rites of spring, like going to the opening baseball game or raking the lawn or cleaning out the cottage. Poor as they were, box lunches were consumed with gusto.

Companies that really wished to impress their shareholders held extravagant all-day affairs under enormous striped canopies that "flowed like sails above the manicured lawn of the latest plant addition.

Routine business was rushed through before a bored audience of old timers. Nobody criticized.

About the worst of the board of General Electric or General Motors had to face was the badgering of Wilma Soss or the Brothers Gilbert or other professional shareholders who made the circuit of annual meetings.

Annual meetings this year will not be picnics, for shareholders have become activists in behalf of causes that include peace, clean environment, women's rights, minority rights, stockholder rights, even leftist rights.

It may not be wise to turn off the mike.

War protesters have let it be known they intend to disrupt meetings of companies holding military contracts. Groups concerned with the environment plan to put profit-minded corporate officers on the spot, to test their sincerity.

Name any topic and you'll likely find a shareholder group organized to promote it. While the emphasis still may remain on profits and losses, discussion of social problems will rule many meetings this year.

And perhaps next year and for many years after. Corporate officers are aware that pressure groups have discovered that shares of stock are tickets to annual meetings. A trend is developing.

Seven individuals who call themselves The Project on Corporate Responsibility, Inc. purchased at least 12 shares of common stock early this year and managed to put up two proposals for voting by General Motors shareholders.

This and other groups have provoked GM into placing newspaper ads that pose questions such as "Does GM Care About Cleaner Air?" and which answers, "You bet we do!"

The Corporate Responsibility group's proposals, if passed, would create a committee to represent special interest groups and increase the size of the board of directors by three.

employee of a computer service. She apologized and asked me to take down two numbers to which I could refer their customers.

Then my wife arrived and, into the evening, we shared the answering chores.

As it turned out, we could call outside numbers but no one could reach us, except the people trying to reach that computer.

To still the ringing overnight we dialed "one" and took the receiver off the hook. That produced a recording, an infinitesimal "You are dialing the wrong number; please hang up and dial again; you are . . . etc."

No interruptions came until 5:30 a.m. with the usual ring of the alarm clock. A bit fuzzy of mind at that hour, I wandered about the apartment, wondering about what sounded like a gurgling noise. Was there a leak some where? No leaks.

Then I remembered. "You are dialing the wrong number . . ." I replaced the receiver and escaped to the office.

Returning in late afternoon, I was not too surprised to hear the phone ringing. Oh well, I thought, and braced myself.

But the voice on the other end asked for me! It was a phone company representative, and he assured me that all was well.

Upon hanging up, I immediately called my wife at her office. And it worked!

'Computer Speaking'

By RAY KOHN
(Submitting for Hat Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — "Computer speaking."

That became the "programmed" response of my wife.

Five days previously, our phone had gone on the blink. Numerous calls to the phone company produced a wealth of courtesy but no results.

A New York Telephone Co. spokesman said, "It appears to be a segment of defective cable between the central office and your building." He promised a quick check.

But that isn't the story.

As I entered our apartment one day the phone was ringing. I raced for the receiver.

A male voice said, "Chicago calling; who is this?"

"Whom did you have in mind?" I asked.

"I'm calling the computer," said the man. "Is this . . ." and he rattled off some digits. I said, "Wrong number, sorry."

In about 10 seconds the phone rang again and the same voice asked for "El Computer." He was most apologetic.

Another 30 seconds, and "brrring." This time I took my cue: "Computer speaking." Silence.

A few more rings, a few more hangups. More rings — still immediately when a human voice answered. Who needs humans when you're calling a computer?

Then a call from a young lady, who identified herself as

Tricky Clicking

An overflow crowd packed the Tuesday evening meeting of the Big Spring City Commission, and a number of times they glanced above and behind them at a mysterious clicking sound. Most of them no doubt left puzzled at the chattering camera.

JIM RENTZ, The Herald's photographer, has this little gadget he attaches to his camera, then he can press a button elsewhere and it will operate the camera. It turns out to be a handy item for such news events.

Tuesday, he mounted his camera near the ceiling of the commission room, then took a comfortable seat up front and snapped photos of the proceedings whenever something happened. Just to be sure, he also snapped a few shots "down close" and these are the pictures that appeared in the Wednesday edition of The Herald.

Elsewhere in today's Herald, a panoramic picture of the commission room during the swearing-in ceremonies, appears.

AS MOST OF US become blasé over such marvels as men going to the moon, this gadget of Jim's fascinates me. My first camera was one of those square boxes that needed only a roll of film and perfect light to produce a picture.

Keith McMillin, a former Herald photographer, introduced me to the old "press type" camera, "light meters," and all of those mysterious guide numbers and film ratings that modern photographers would not be without. These appeared the ultimate.

EVEN IN THAT advanced age of almost 20 years ago, the negatives were still a good handful and a guy could almost never miss. Today, Jim uses a compact about the size of a half dollar, and produces a picture up to an 8 by 10; needs little or practically no light, and rarely whips out his flash gun. His satchel of equipment would make a burden for a camel.

I'D NOT BE surprised if he will not come up some day with enough gadgets to have the photos made without it being necessary for him to be there. It is near that point now, because he allowed me to press the button for his remote camera Tuesday.

The Old Nixon Appears Again

WASHINGTON — I can now reveal why President Nixon made his bitter attack on the Senate after the Judge Carswell defeat. From talking to inside White House sources and putting bits and pieces together, I have learned that this is what happened.

Wednesday night after Carswell had been defeated, everyone in Washington had gone to bed except the President at the White House and Martha Mitchell at the Watergate, who was still trying to rouse someone at the Arkansas Gazette.

THE PRESIDENT was in a despondent mood and was pacing up and down his bedroom, when out of the clothes closet came the Old Nixon.

The Old Nixon seemed jubilant. "Well, you see what happens when you're Mr. Nice Guy."

"Oh, go away," the New Nixon said. "You always come around to gloat when something goes wrong."

THE OLD NIXON said, "You wouldn't listen to me, would you? You wanted to remain above politics, a statesman, a man of all the people. I told you it wouldn't work."

"How could I do otherwise?"

"You thought you could let Spiro do all the name calling and the mud slinging," the old Nixon said. "But it wasn't that easy, Dicky."

"What can I do now?" the New Nixon protested loudly.

"HUSH, YOU'LL wake up Pat," the Old Nixon said. "This is what you can do. You can call the press and say that both Haynsworth and Carswell were victims of assaults on their honesty and racial beliefs because they were from the South. And you can hint that you will make it perfectly clear that anyone who voted against the Carswell appointment will be treated very roughly by the Administration."

"But that's dirty pool," the New Nixon protested. "Some of the men in the Senate voted their consciences."

"Look, Dick. What is the most important thing in the whole wide world to you?"

"The New Nixon thought for a moment. "Winning the South in 1972."

"RIGHT. And the only way you can do it is by publicly stating tomorrow morning that both your nominees for the Supreme Court were defeated by a concerted effort of civil rights groups and liberals because they were Southerners."

"Can't Spiro do that?"

"No," the Old Nixon said. "The South wants to hear it from you. If you don't show them how mad you personally are, you can watch your whole Southern strategy go up in a smoke."

"I CAN'T DO IT," the New Nixon said. "I'm President of the United States. It would be lowering myself to make the Supreme Court a partisan political issue."

"All right," the Old Nixon said. "If you won't do it, I'll do it."

"You?"

"Why not? I've been holed up in that damn closet for over a year. Give me a chance, Dick."

"The New Nixon thought hard for a few moments. "All right," he finally said. "Go ahead, but keep me out of it."

Long-Range View Of Vietnam

WASHINGTON — With the prospect that President Nixon will be able to announce the withdrawal of 50,000 more American troops from Vietnam, the big question arises: What is the long-range outlook in Vietnam?

Obviously the North Vietnamese, while occasionally mounting an offensive, will not really be putting up much of a sustained campaign during the time American troops are in process of being pulled out. The Hanoi government sees no need of doing anything of major consequence, because it might delay the departure of the rest of the American troops. The objective at the moment is to get rid of the American forces as soon as possible.

UNTIL THE United States has taken out almost all of its troops — possibly leaving only about 50,000, which is the number still remaining along the armistice line in Korea — the North Vietnamese are not likely to take steps to gain possession of South Vietnam. When the main part of the American army is gone, it may be anticipated that the North Vietnamese will move in to take over if they can.

WHILE MOST American troops will have been taken out of Vietnam, plenty of them will still be stationed in bases at Okinawa and in other parts of the Pacific in readiness for a sudden return. Planes and naval forces could be brought to the scene readily to assist the South Vietnamese. Undoubtedly the North Vietnamese are aware of these contingencies, and no large-scale offensive will be tried at least until American forces on the mainland of Asia — and on the periphery — have been reduced to a relatively small number.

IF A CRISIS does develop, it could emerge in the year 1972, just when a presidential election in the United States is in the offing. There would naturally be a hesitation at that time on the part of the administration to become involved again in any major way in the war in Vietnam. But to allow the North Vietnamese to grab South Vietnam and render useless the effort for which the American troops have made such big sacrifices would be interpreted, not only in Asia, but in other parts of the world, as a sign of weakness.

THERE IS considerable confidence here in the potential strength of the South Vietnamese army. American advisers say it is being built up steadily and will be a powerful military unit. So long as it is supplied with arms and technical advisers from the United States, which undoubtedly will be the case for many years to come, the South Vietnamese military power ought to be adequate to resist any army coming in from North Vietnam.

IN ANY EVENT, the story of Vietnam will not be finished until the North Vietnamese try out their strength against the newly developed South Vietnamese army, and the United States will have the first real test of whether its guidance and training of the South Vietnamese have been successful. If so, this will be a lesson to other states in Southeast Asia that, with adequate military supplies, they, too, can build sufficient forces to resist acts of aggression by the Communists. Smaller countries thereupon could also feel safe from Communist offensives because of the continued presence in some form of the forces of the United States backed by its commitments under the Southeast Asia and other defense treaties.

Bedsore Are Universal

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: When in France taking care of my mother, who is 76 and in a rather advanced stage of senility, I discovered a red spot in the region of her sacrum. The doctor said it was a bed sore.

With mercurochrome, alcohol, and massages we managed to make the sore clear up. Nevertheless I am afraid more may come back, and I don't know any way to prevent them or cure them.

The doctor said he has heard that Americans had hardly any problems with bed sores and advised me to find out how it is done in this country.

My mother gets up every day and walks a little, but most of the time she is sitting or lying down. She has poor control of bladder and bowel and soils the bed almost every night.—M.M.J.

The other field always looks greener — and your doctor in France would find that we have plenty of trouble in America with bedsore, too. But there are some methods which, if followed, will prevent a great deal of that trouble.

Much of it depends upon careful nursing.

Bedsore develop when people are confined for long periods in one position. It is a matter of pressure, plus moisture, plus (often) faulty nutrition.

The skin of elderly patients is altered because of poor nutrition (oldersters become finicky eaters at times) and then the pressures and moisture do the rest.

So first of all, have her diet contain as much protein as possible. It's usually wise to give a vitamin supplement, too. Moisture on the skin is a distinct factor, whether from perspiration or other causes. The daily alcohol rub, used in so many hospitals, is comforting — but also very useful. In the particular situation you describe, your elderly mother's incontinence compounds the problem. Keeping her scrupulously clean as well as dry is essential.

Rolling her, or helping her to turn from side to side periodically, will prevent pressures from building up in one spot.

Finally, there are pads made of sheepskin or other materials that are very effective in preventing bedsore (by reducing pressure). They can be laundered. Such pads may perhaps have been what your doctor in France had in mind.

Strict attention to these few factors can do a great deal to prevent bedsore; bedsore, once they have developed, can be difficult to cure.

Acne is one of the most terrible problems of growing up. If you are afflicted with this aggravation, or if you have children who are, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of his helpful and comforting booklet, "Acne — The Teen-Age Problem." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope, and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Big Thicket Hearings Set

WASHINGTON (AP) — An attempt to save 100,000 acres of the Big Thicket in Southeast Texas as a wilderness national park is bringing a Senate committee to Texas to investigate the proposals.

Sen. Alan Bible, D-Nev., chairman of the parks and recreation subcommittee, will hold hearings June 12 in Beaumont or in the Big Thicket itself and may continue them for a second day if necessary.

Bible said Wednesday that a plan of Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., to preserve the Thicket, in parts of Hardin, Polk, Tyler, Liberty and San Jacinto counties, showed great promise.

Yarborough said the hearings are "great news for conservationists and biologists everywhere. It is the first big breakthrough in my four-year fight for the Big Thicket."

Fists Fly During Melee At Houston University

The Associated Press

Fists flew during an antiwar demonstration on one college campus Wednesday and there was a brief tussle at another, a calmer course elsewhere in the state.

Blows were exchanged during a five-minute melee at the University of Houston as rival groups held rallies and the Students for Victory in Vietnam started to burn a Viet Cong flag. This occurred as the National Vietnam Moratorium Committee was holding a sepaarate meeting.

Someone snatched away the Viet Cong flag from a member of the pro-war gathering and the fight flared before it eventually was burned. Apparently there were no serious injuries.

After the fracas the two groups listened to their speakers at points about 50 yards apart.

Another tussle occurred at Lamar Tech in Beaumont, where the American flag was lowered because rain began to fall and a group calling itself Americans for Democratic Action ran up a peace flag to half staff.

Lamar Tech authorities were alerted by a member of the campus Young Republican Club, Randy Trybus, and the

International Pollution Problems Are His Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Warren Magnuson, calling for a "world view of the environment," said today he will soon introduce legislation dealing with international aspects of pollution.

"The problems of environmental quality are global in scope and extend far beyond the industrialized nations," the Washington state Democrat said in remarks prepared for a meeting of international scientists.

Magnuson said his bill will lay the groundwork for a World Environmental Institute which would serve as an information clearing house and a center for research on international environmental problems.

Most nations, said Magnuson, "have not yet paused to consider questions of ecology that we ignored ourselves for generations."

"A cooperative international effort could clarify the choices these nations face and could help avoid the costly mistakes we made in similar stages of our own development."

Under Magnuson's proposal, the institute would be a nonpolitical body open to all nations.

Magnuson, who has shepherded other major environmental bills through the Senate as chairman of its Commerce Committee, said that while the pollution problems of Western nations are well known, those of the Soviet Union are not.

He said Russia is undergoing environmental difficulties much like those of the United States.

"And while we in the United States are still in the talking stage, with respect to noise pollution," he said, "the Soviets have already taken action: cars and trucks are no longer permitted to drive through Moscow during the hours when most Muscovites are asleep."

group defied an order to remove the substitute flag. Trybus joined the authorities in taking down the peace flag.

At Texas A&M University in College Station, school officials said Earl Brown, 22, of Austin, representing the Student Mobilization Committee was arrested during an unauthorized campus rally. He pleaded no contest to a charge of breach of the peace and was fined $75.

Brown was quoted as asking the A&M crowd of about 200 to go to Austin for an antiwar march Saturday.

Officers escorted Richard Worth of Baytown, a Texas A&M student, from the rally after he protested Brown's arrest. Dean of students James B. Hannigan said Worth and four fellow students faced possible disciplinary action for staging the rally.

Rain washed out a moratorium gathering at White Rock Lake in Dallas half an hour after about 250 people showed up. They departed without hearing any speeches. The sponsoring Dallas Peace Committee had predicted 1,500 would turn out.

A proxy voter, Mrs. Joyce Gjemre, appeared at a Dallas meeting of Texas Instruments stockholders and offered a motion that the big company stop bidding on defense contracts.

Board chairman P.E. Haggerty ruled the motion was out of order after allowing Mike Wimmer five minutes to speak in its behalf. There was applause as Haggerty adjourned the meeting.

Spokesmen for antiwar militants said in advance that pickets would surround the Texas Instruments plant during the session, but none appeared.
