FRAMED WRECKAGE — Framed in the twisted wreckage of a twin-engine private plane is the bedroom of Fred A. Bobbitt, 23, and his 16-year-old wife. Both died when the plane crashed into the house near the Austin airport late Wednesday night. Six occupants of the plane, including Dr. Robert G. Farris, Austin neurosurgeon, his wife and two teenage daughters were also killed. The plane was returning from a trip to Washington, D.C.

PILOT HITS HOUSE AT AUSTIN Plane Crash Fatal To Eight

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — A private plane crashed beside two houses and killed seven persons while trying to land at the municipal airport Wednesday night, and an eighth victim died today.

Most of the twin-engine plane burned and both dwellings caught fire.

Six of the dead were aboard the Beechcraft Bonanza aircraft. The other two were in a bedroom of their home which caught the main impact of the crash.

From checkbooks and other personal effects in the wreckage, Justice of the Peace Bob Kuhn tentatively identified two of the victims in the plane as Drs. Robert G. Farris, about 42, and B.E. Becker Jr., Austin neurosurgeon and business partners who were returning from a medical conference in Washington, D.C.

The Beechcraft Bonanza carrying the doctors and their companions was two hours overdue.

Hours after the crash, police Capt. Robert C. Wilks said the other passengers apparently were Mrs. Farris; two Farris daughters, Marilyn, about 13, and Judy, about 17; and a medical student from Galveston, James Dickens.

Fred A. Bobbitt, 23, was killed as the plane hit his front bedroom. His wife Peggy, 16, died several hours later of burns covering 90 per cent of her body. Spectators reported finding the Bobbitts' four-month-old baby unharmed in another bedroom.

The airport's traffic control tower reported the plane made one landing pass over the field shortly after 11:30 p.m., pulled up to circle and failed to make it back. It cracked up about a quarter mile from the end of a runway.

A passerby, John Griggs, 33, told of seeing the plane circle with one wing low. He was about half a block from where it came down and said he believed one engine had failed.

"By the time I got there," Griggs said, "the plane and the two houses were on fire, and I heard screams inside."

He dashed into one dwelling and carried out Mrs. Bobbitt. Griggs then discovered his clothing was afire. He suffered minor burns.

Rescuers later found the body of Bobbitt underneath a toppled wall.

Observance Of Earth Day In America

By The Associated Press

Atlantic waters break today on a cleaned beach in Brooklyn. Traffic grinds down New York's Fifth Avenue where a picnic was held while cars were banned. Congress is back in session. Earth Day is over.

Hundreds of thousands of Americans joined in the observance Wednesday, uniting in a plea for the preservation of the environment that cradles man, hoping to mark the beginning of the end of pollution.

They marched, demonstrated and rallied—as many as 100,000 strong. They listened to countless speeches by politicians, scientists and other leaders. They swept, scrubbed, picked up litter and planted trees and flowers.

The National Education Association estimated that 10 million public school children participated in teach-in programs.

Some 1,500 Louisville pupils crowded into the Atherton High School concourse to illustrate the problem of overpopulation. The demonstration ended with pushing, grabbing and pinching.

In San Diego, Calif., and Topeka, Kan., many youths went to school on horseback, bicycles, roller skates and skateboards instead of the usual cars or buses.

Congress recessed for the day with many of its members making speaking engagements. Not all were warmly received. Sen. Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y., was greeted at a New York University rally with a leaflet calling his speech "the biggest cause of air pollution."

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., who originated the idea of Earth Day, told an Indiana University rally: "We could stop our involvement in Laos in 30 days, and we should; but the battle to restore man to his proper place in the environment will take a commitment beyond anything we have done before."

He proposed national policies on land use, pesticides and herbicides, national standards for air and water pollution and a ban on offshore oil drilling "until such time as the country needs the oil and until we can extract it without fear of ecological disaster."

Nelson also spoke during the day at the University of California in Berkeley.

In the nation's capital, Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., called for the creation of a "national environmental control agency to conquer pollution as we have conquered space."

A House environmental subcommittee approved a bill that would set national air quality standards and regulate harmful emissions from cars, factories and airplanes. The bill would set authorized spending in the field at $200 million, double the amount spent last year.

Armed Convict, Teen Girl Hop-Scotch Plane To Cuba

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A light plane landed in Cuba today after a hop-scotch trip down the east coast under threats from an armed convict and a teenage girl, the Federal Aviation Administration reported.

The plane was commandeered Wednesday night in Gastonia, N.C., and flew to the Communist island after refueling stops in Rock Hill, S.C. Jacksonville, and Fort Lauderdale.

There was no immediate word as to when the pilot would return.

Authorities identified the hijackers as Ira Davis "Orrie" Meeks, 27, and Diane McKenney, 17, both of Gastonia.

Federal Aviation Administration officials in Atlanta said Meeks told control towers along his route to keep police clear of the refueling stops or he would blow up the plane.

The light plane carried only the two hijackers and the pilot. North Carolina Police Sgt. D. T. King said the plane was piloted by Boyce Strandley, 56, who reported to ground control communications that the couple boarded the plane saying they wanted to "fly around a little."

The pilot was quoted as saying the man pulled a gun and ordered him to fly to Cuba. King said the hijacker took over the communications and told ground forces at Gastonia he had enough explosives to destroy the plane.

A Gastonia Police Department spokesman said Meeks was sentenced to two to four years in 1960 on a manslaughter charge.

Abilene Wins Water Award

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Water Quality Board presented its first Water Quality Award today to Abilene, which it said was "head and shoulders" above most Texas cities in abating pollution.

The legislature authorized the board to recognize cities that receive an extremely high rating on their efforts to treat municipal waste water.

Abilene "is truly one of the bright spots in the state in the abatement of pollution," said Joe Teller, deputy director of the board.

On one scale to judge water quality, 20 is considered "very good," and Abilene consistently rated about 9, Teller said, or much, much better than the "very good" rating.

All-Volunteer Army Endorsed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon ordered today an end to future draft deferments for occupational or agricultural activities and for fatherhood.

He also asked Congress for authority to end future student deferments.

Today's order and the order he pledged to issue if he is granted authority would not affect the deferments now held by students, fathers, and workers or such deferments granted under applications now pending.

SINGLE LOTTERY

Nixon asked Congress to permit the draft to be run on a nationwide basis with a single national call by lottery numbers. This would replace the present system of local calls by individual draft boards which need not call exactly the same numbers at any one time.

At the same time, Nixon endorsed the goal of ending the draft entirely and replacing it with an all-volunteer Army. To achieve this goal he said he will propose additional pay raises and benefits for members of the armed forces, and will seek to encourage enlistment and re-enlistment. He also is ordering a review of military policies to recognize the personal needs, aspirations and capabilities of military personnel.

FACT SHEET

Provisions for student deferments at present are written into the draft law. To change them Nixon must obtain authority by Congress giving him discretionary authority. He said that if this authority is granted he will immediately issue a second executive order ending student deferments in the future.

The White House explained in a fact sheet accompanying the President's message to Congress that as of today students already attending college, or junior or community college, or an approved technical school, continue to be eligible for student deferment.

Those planning to enroll in the future, however, will not be eligible for student deferment. If called for service after he enters school, a student would be permitted to finish his current semester or term before starting service.

But college men enrolled in ROTC or other military programs could postpone active duty until completion of their study programs.

Nixon's order barring future occupational and paternity deferments, however, takes effect immediately.

Those now holding such deferments can keep them as long as they are eligible.

In the case of fatherhood the order permits deferments where a local draft board determines that induction would create extreme hardship.

At present some 1.8 million men hold student deferments and 431,000 hold occupational deferments.

FARM DEFERMENTS

Another 23,000 hold agricultural deferments.

More than four million men are deferred in category 3A because of dependents, but there was no immediate indication how many of these are deferred for fatherhood.

Nixon strongly endorsed the conclusion of his Commission on an All-Volunteer Force, headed by former Secretary of Defense Thomas S. Gates, which reported unanimously on Feb. 21 that an all-volunteer Army could serve the national interest better than a mixed force of volunteers and draftees.

Nixon said the draft could not be stopped short but would have to be phased out, and he said it would probably be necessary for Congress to extend existing draft authority when it expires on July 1, 1971. A stand-by draft system would also have to be established for emergency use, he said.

MONEY FIRST

Nixon said the first step toward an all-volunteer Army was taken this month when military pay was increased by $1.2 billion a year along with a 6 per cent pay raise for civilian government workers.

Nixon said he will propose an additional 20 per cent pay raise for enlisted men with less than two years of service, to take effect next Jan. 1.

He said this would cost an additional $500 million a year.

In the fiscal 1972 budget, Nixon said, he will recommend next January additional pay and benefits totaling $2 billion "especially for those serving their first two years."

Nixon said he has directed the secretary of defense to step up programs to increase enlistments and re-enlistments in the armed services and to report on progress every three months.

Area Twister Watch Issued

By The Associated Press

A 140-mile stretch of Texas' midsection went under tornado watch today, and some of the state's larger cities were included in the advisory.

The watch area included Fort Worth, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Sweetwater, Snyder, Vernon, Mineral Wells, Gainesville, Sherman, Denison and Denton, among others.

The Weather Bureau said a threat of tornadoes would exist in that 42-county section from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m.

A few severe thunderstorms with large hail and locally damaging winds were forecast.

Explosions In Refinery

BEAUMONT (AP) — Three to five violent explosions ripped through a butane gas unit at the Mobil Oil Refining Co. plant today, forcing evacuation of nearby schools and residences.

Thunderheads of black oily smoke billowed hundreds of feet into the air.

First reports indicated four men were injured, three seriously. The explosions cracked through the plant around 9 a.m.

The huge refinery is located two miles from downtown Beaumont.

Texas 69 near the plant was closed and 1,100 pupils at nearby Charlton-Pollard High School and Carver Elementary School were evacuated.

Residents in the immediate area were asked to leave their homes.

A Mobil spokesman said there was "no real danger" but the company asked the evacuation as a "precaution."

The fire, which also affected a nearby propane and other refining units, was fought by plant firemen although civilian firemen prepared to move in if needed.

Salvation Army facilities were made available to the temporary refugees.

Telephone lines to the plant were disabled.

Police said a rash of automobile accidents occurred near the plant as sight-seers converged on the area.

The columns of angry, boiling smoke clouds formed a black pall over Beaumont.

The refinery, one of the largest on the Gulf of Mexico Coast, employs 1,300 or more.

Kennedy Requests Court To Release Transcript

BOSTON (AP) — An attorney for Sen. Edward Kennedy today asked the state Supreme Court to order release of the transcript and judge's report on the inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne.

The petition filed by Atty. Edward B. Hanify for the Massachusetts Democratic senator specified no time but asked that the order opening the inquest record be subject to Superior Court rules to insure "order and decorum in the public examination" of the documents.

The action by Hanify was the latest in a legal tangle over the inquest records centering on the contention of a professional court stenographer that he alone has the right to reproduce and distribute the inquest transcript.

There were no Supreme Court justices on hand when the petition was filed, but a date for a hearing was expected to be set later today.

Miss Kopechne was found dead in Sen. Kennedy's car last July 19 after it toppled off a bridge into a tidal pond on Chappaquiddick Island.

Kennedy did not report the accident for about 10 hours. He said he had been the driver and lost his way, and while he was able to save himself could not reach the girl.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident and was sentenced to a suspended two-month jail term.

Hanify, who was Kennedy's attorney in a successful challenge of plans for an open inquest, said the high court already has ruled that all conditions have been met for release of the transcript and judge's report "at the earliest possible moment."

Eating Piranha, Trapping Anaconda, Is Amazon Life

By JEAN FANNIN

What is it like to leave the United States and move to the Amazon River to live with a group of Indians?

"Great," says Al Graham, a Wycliffe Translator, who with his wife and children moved to Brazil in 1953 to live with the Sater Indians to learn their language and give them a Bible written in their own tongue.

"We live like the Indians," said Graham, who is on a two-year furlough before going back. "My children suffered a cultural shock when they came back to the U.S. to go to school."

"We live in a hut with dirt floors and a woven roof, and we sleep in hammocks," Graham said.

The main food is farina, a yellowish powder which is mixed with water into a gruel-like substance. "It expands inside your stomach and makes you feel like you've just eaten a big Thanksgiving dinner," he said.

The powder comes from a big root, which looks like a large banana. It is soaked in water for about three days, and then all the juice is squeezed out.

"The juice is very poisonous, but when allowed to stand it forms a sediment on the bottom called tapioca which is exported to the U.S.," he said.

Farina is a basic staple on the Amazon, like potatoes or bread elsewhere, he said. Whether there is anything else to eat or not, farina is served at every meal.

Common dangers to the Sater are the piranha and the anaconda.

The piranha are fish with teeth sharp enough to bite through a piano wire. The fish are about the size of a man's hand and are lured into waters where a sticky substance has been spread on the surface. They are scooped into sacks and are considered a delicacy, Graham said.

The anaconda is a constrictor snake which can swallow a cow, he said. They can be from 16 to 32 feet long and are very agile, Graham said. The Indians trap them by using a pig inside a pen made of stakes set just close enough together to keep the animal from getting out. The anaconda will go into the pen, but after he has swallowed the pig cannot get back out of the pen.

The Sater file their teeth to sharp points to resemble the teeth of the piranha as a sign of adulthood, he said. When a girl's teeth have been filed she is of age to marry.

Puberty rites for the male are even more painful. A glove with large ants woven into it is put on his hand, and anyone who can keep the glove on for an entire song is considered very brave, Graham said. The girls choose their husbands during this rite, with bravery being the most important factor.

"The ants are larger than the red ants common to this area," Graham said. Their sting, while not extremely poisonous, is very painful, he said.

"I have seen grown women who won't even mention a sting by a scorpion or tarantula, but cry all day after being bitten by one of these ants," he said.

The skin on the hand swells so badly that it splits open as a result of the sting, Graham said. The ants are soaked in a drug compounded from local plants before they are woven into the glove, but the drug soon wears off.

The Grahams have five children: Keren, 18, Tim, 17, Steve, 19, Tam, 8, and Julie, 2. The two youngest are Brazilian citizens.

"Tam and Julie were born in Belen, Para, Brazil, in one of the most beautiful, modern hospitals in the world. The doctor, a woman, was Jewish and the hospital was a Catholic hospital," he said. "And because I'm the father of Brazilian citizens, the country can never deny me entry to the country," he said.

"My children love Brazil. At 21, when Tam and Julie have to decide whether to keep citizenship in Brazil or the United States, they will probably choose Brazil," Graham said.

"My three oldest children can hardly wait to finish school and come back," he said. His oldest son is saving money to buy a hotel in Brazil and move his family to that country.

Graham said his children were immediately accepted as part of the tribe and grew up playing with the Sater children.

"They learned the language much quicker and more fluently than I did," he said.

"They learned all the idioms and everyday expression from the children they played with. At times I even had to ask my children for the meaning of a word," he said.

Wycliffe Translators go all over the world to translate Bibles into languages which have never been written down. They learn to speak the language and then make up an alphabet to reduce it to writing.

"Sometimes it takes 25-30 years to translate a New Testament," Graham said. "I hope to go through two or three languages in my time," he said.

Graham is in Big Spring this week to speak to various civic clubs, church groups and other interested organizations to acquaint Big Spring with the Wycliffe program. Mrs. William Orenbaum (phone 267-7598) is in charge of scheduling his speeches.

Says All But Four Killed Or Captured

MIAMI (AP) — Fidel Castro says an exile guerrilla force that infiltrated Cuba has been killed or captured except for four men who have been surrounded.

According to his figures the invaders who landed last week numbered only 13.

Church Asked To Ax Charge

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Special committees charged with preparing recommendations for action across a broad spectrum of church and social matters were to begin submitting their reports to the United Methodist Church general conference.

Reports were expected on such matters as population, race and interdenominational relations, and membership.

One major item expected to reach the 950 delegates today or Friday is a request by Black Methodist for Church Renewal for $25 million to finance minority group programs.

The request was assigned to five separate committees for study.

Another matter that could come up today was a request the conference recommend that charges against 23 persons arrested for disrupting Sunday services at Centenary United Methodist Church be dropped.

The 23 were among about 50 members of the "submarine church action network" who disrupted services. The church pastor, the Rev. Dr. C. Lester McGee, dismissed the 1,200-member congregation of the downtown church, known as the Cathedral of St. Louis Methodist.

The request for withdrawal of the charges was made by C. G. Everson of Marion, Ohio.

Timothy Leary's Petition Denied

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The California Supreme Court denied without comment Wednesday Timothy Leary's petition that he be freed on bail pending appeal of his marijuana possession conviction.

The former Harvard University lecturer has been confined since February at the California Institute for Men at Chino on a sentence of one to two years.

Judge Byron K. McMillan of Orange County Superior Court earlier had denied Leary's bail request, calling him "a pleasure-seeking, irresponsible Madison Avenue-oriented advocate of free use of LSD and marijuana."

The conviction stems from Leary's Dec. 26, 1968, arrest at Laguna, Calif., along with his

Howard County sheriff's officers are looking for a truck they think may have been involved in an accident late Tuesday or early Wednesday two miles north of Salem Church. Damage was done to a utility pole, a fence, part of a field and a vacant house.

Priorities Recommended For Lakeview Y Branch

Priorities for the Lakeview branch of the Big Spring YMCA were recommended by a study committee to the board of directors at the Tuesday meeting.

These include improvement of building and grounds, recruitment of membership and volunteer help.

Recognized at the meeting were Sue Duncan, Ronnie Mullins, Candy Middleton and Wes Seay, the youth members for the past two months.

G. R. Robinson was welcomed to the board by Frank Hardesty, president.

Don Farley reported for the physical education classes, and noted that the Scuba class of nine members would end its training Monday. Eddie Trice, physical education director, reported to the board on his training at Denver, Colo., toward certification.

Don Tolle, instructor, and Ronnie Peterson, a student, told about the unusual success of the guitar classes.

Harold Bentley, who headed the study task force composed of a cross section of people in the Lakeview area, made these recommendations of priorities to the board:

1. Face lifting for the building and grounds; ask any garden club or others to aid in the landscaping;
2. Improve the interpretation of the purposes and program of the YMCA to the people which it will serve;
3. Move to increase membership in the Lakeview Y;
4. Recruit more volunteer helpers.

The Y members for March were Sue Duncan, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, and eighth grader interested in volleyball and track; Ronnie Mullins, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Mullins, sixth grader participating in trampoline, gymnastics, swimming, football and basketball.

Those for April were Candy Middleton, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Middleton, sixth grader taking part in volleyball and trampoline; and Wes Seay, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Seay, an eighth grader participating in basketball and football.

Opening lead: King of ♠
 Regarding West's double of South's six heart contract today, we can only fall back on our old repeated sermon against doubling a contract that has been reached on aggressive bidding, unless the doubler is able to defeat the opponents in his own hand.

Had West gotten off to a trump lead, there would have been no story to tell, for South would have been unable to take more than 11 tricks. West, however, hoped for a big killing and in an effort to force the declarer down below his own size—he opened the king of spades, the suit in which his partner had overcalled. The ace was played from dummy and a small diamond was led at trick two. East put up the ace and returned a spade which South ruffed.

With the ace of diamonds located on his right, it appeared to declarer that West was for a certainly marked with all five outstanding trumps, else where was the semblance of a double? Since he himself was down to only four hearts now, his only chance was to play the hand for a straight cross-ruff.

So reasoning, South proceeded to cash out his side winners first. The king of diamonds was led, followed by the king and ace of clubs in that order. When West followed to everything, declarer was well on his way. North's last spade was trumped with the seven of hearts and a diamond was ruffed with dummy's six of trumps after West discarded the queen of spades. With all the small trumps safely in, South had no trouble crisscrossing the last five tricks with the top five of hearts, as West helplessly underduffed.

Observe declarer's sound technique in playing off the top two clubs early. If he attempts to ruff a diamond first, West will have the opportunity to discard a club and declarer must fall short of the goal. In playing for a cross-ruff, it is important to cash the side winners first.

Punch Party Honors Wife Of Commander

Over 600 guests were invited to a punch party Wednesday afternoon honoring Mrs. Anderson Atkinson, wife of the new wing commander at Webb Air Force Base. The complimentary affair was hosted by the Officers Wives Club, and those attending were officers' wives, nurses and townspeople. Calling hours were from 2 to 4 p.m. in the lounge of the Officers Open Mess.

Mrs. Atkinson, who received guests with the OWC president, Mrs. Richard Cassell, was attired in a sleeveless linen dress of turquoise with white lace forming a panel effect at the front and edging the scalloped neckline. Mrs. Cassell's sleeveless yellow dress featured a diagonal sash at the gathered waistline and worn with contrasting neck scarf. Both women were presented white carnation corsages.

Hostess and general chairman was Mrs. David Mott, OWC first vice president, who was attired in yellow linen with a blouson effect, sashed at the dropped waistline.

Silver punch bowls were placed at either end of a long refreshment table, which was laid with the OWC Army-Navy cloth. The centerpiece was a triangular arrangement of yellow lilies and carnations, babies' breath and statice interspersed with lemon leaf. Flanking the flowers were three-branched silver candelabra with swirled white candles. Hors d'oeuvres were served from silver trays, and other appointments were of crystal.

Presiding at the punch service were Mrs. Phillip Raign, Mrs. Billy Walker, Mrs. Owen Wormser, Mrs. Frank Borner, Mrs. James Jacobs, Mrs. Lynn Gill, Mrs. Jay Allstead and Mrs. Mott.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Harry Hopper, Mrs. Glen Shaffer, Mrs. Michael Corcoran and Mrs. John Aarni. Others assisting were Mrs. Earl Glass, Mrs. Charles Tatum, Mrs. James Hussey, Mrs. Porter Medley, Mrs. Stephen Piszczek, Mrs. Henry Rimmer and Mrs. Jerry Callahan.

After Five Garden Club Takes Tour Of Gardens

A tour of three local gardens was made Tuesday by the After Five Garden Club. The women visited the gardens of Mrs. Guy Cook, Mrs. Rex Greenwood and Mrs. Jack Little, 6 Highland Cove, who served as hostess for the meeting. Mrs. Joe Peay was cohostess.

Working indoor with a group of 28 children were Mrs. Albert Hohertz, Mrs. Jack Watkins, Mrs. Paschal Odum and Mrs. William Lund. The women assisted the children in making catalogue cards of flowers, to which fresh blossoms were attached. Planting was done outside with 12 children participating. The adult workers were Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Leonard and Mrs. Halvart T. Hansen. The group planted junipers, bush honeysuckle, daisies, mums, annuals and border plants.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Named

In duplicate bridge games at Big Spring Country Club Wednesday first and second places were tied by Mrs. D. A. Brazel and Mrs. Ray McMahon and Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. J. H. Fish. Third place winners were Mrs. Ward Hall and Mrs. Travis Reed.

Installation Performed By Lodge

Three new officers were formally installed at the Tuesday meeting of John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge 153 in the IOOF Hall. They were Mrs. K. C. Webb, vice grand; Mrs. M. R. Ray, warden; and Miss Juanita Hamlin, right support to the chair.

Installing officers were Mrs. Everett Hood, lodge deputy; Mrs. Jones Lamar, deputy marshal; Mrs. H. F. Jarrett, deputy warden; and Mrs. Jim Ferguson, deputy chaplain.

Resolutions of respect were read by Mrs. Jarrett and Mrs. Joe Evans for the late Mrs. W. H. Wise and Mrs. Charles Eberly. Mrs. Wise was the sister of Mrs. W. L. Barker, a lodge member. The charter was undraped for the late Mrs. George Roberson by Mrs. John Cate, funeral marshal, assisted by Mrs. Jarrett and Mrs. Lee Thackrey.

Mrs. Grady Beck, noble grand, and Mrs. Webb were honored with poetic readings by Mrs. Alton Allen, Mrs. Ray, Mrs. Jarrett, Mrs. Ralph LaLonde, Mrs. Thackrey, Mrs. W. E. Rayburn and Mrs. Cate. The noble grand's song, "Whispering Hope," was sung by Mrs. LaLonde and Mrs. Charles Boland, who also played the piano.

PRIDE committee members reported their projects. The committee will sponsor a contest starting in May to choose a "garden of the month" in Big Spring. Entries may be submitted to the Chamber of Commerce. Also, lists of plants, shrubs and trees most suitable to Big Spring's soil are being compiled to help new gardeners and newcomers to the community.

Mrs. Little gave a talk on "Patios and Plants for More Enjoyment." "Patios can be oriented to the sun by planting trees and shrubs which invite or evade the sun," she said. "Patios should bring light, color and a spacious feeling to a home. Each person can style and shape the patio to suit his way of living. Container plants can be used to add color and versatility to the patio."

The next meeting will be May 19 in the home of Mrs. Perry, 2408 Robb Drive. Mrs. Paul Guy, president of the Planters Garden Club and African Violet Club, will be guest speaker.

The authors listed the five functions of the church as "worship, witness, education, ministry and application." Mrs. Leroy Minchew gave the scriptures and Mrs. E. O. Sanderson and Mrs. C. L. Kirkland led prayers.

A LOVELIER YOU Teen Skin Problems Alleviated With Care

BY MARY SUE MILLER

A lovely mother writes: "Is it possible to prevent teen skin problems? Does proper daily care in preteen years act as a preventative? In any event, I would appreciate knowing the best way to treat my preteen daughter's complexion.

The answer: Natural glandular changes in teen years are what trigger skin eruptions. Nothing yet discovered or developed is a sure preventative. There is evidence, however, that proper care during the preteen years lessens the severity of facial blemishes when they do occur.

The first hope is scrupulous cleanliness. This means oceans of mild soap suds and water, applied with firm but gentle finger-pad massage. An effective rinse comes from cupping the hands and splashing on cool water. Thereafter, the face should be blotted dry with a spanking clean towel.

The second safeguard is the application of a mild, antiseptic lotion after washing at bedtime. If and when the skin shows signs of oiliness, a corrective lotion would be in order.

A good product contains therapeutic ingredients such as hexachlorophene, sulphur, resorcinol, phenol and antiseptic unguents. If it is also skin colored, so that it can be used around the clock, it has immediate cosmetic value to the young user.

P.S. to Girls: Evaluate a product carefully. Every product does not suit every skin. Have patience and find yours. How about asking your doctor?

'YOU SHOULD HAVE SEEN THE SUNRISE' — Remaining on the scene of Philadelphia's massive Earth Day rally attended by an estimated 40,000 persons, Betsy Williams, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Gardner Cadwalader, a University of Pennsylvania senior, lean against a trash basket early this morning. "You should have seen the sunrise — it was beautiful," they said. The participants in yesterday's rally left the Philadelphia park virtually clean of debris.

Charges Fly Back, Forth As Senate Race Heats Up

By The Associated Press
Campaigning heated up Wednesday in the battle between Rep. George Bush and Robert Morris over the Republican nomination for U.S. senator — and there was no cooling of the struggle between Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Lloyd Bentsen for the Democratic nomination.

Separate news conferences in Washington provided forums for the two GOP candidates. Yarborough and Bentsen stayed busy in Texas along with others running in the state's May 2 primary elections.

OIL DEPLETION
Morris, a Dallas area lawyer and former congressional committee aide, talked to reporters in the national capital first. Among other things he renewed an allegation that Bush's proposal to change the seniority system and retire members of Congress at age 70 would be detrimental to Texas.

In turn, Bush then told newsmen that his plan would not affect incumbent representatives and senators. He said his proposed change in the seniority system merely would permit selection of chairmen from the five committees with longest service.

On returning to Dallas, Morris promptly said the Bush proposal nevertheless would allow "important and conservative chairmen to be swept out of office and the Congress radicalized." He added that this would jeopardize the oil depletion allowance "and capital gains would take over."

THERE'S NO WAY
Bush disputed a statement by Morris that his campaign was well financed, maintaining that he actually was having trouble raising money for his race. Morris at the same time complained he was having difficulty raising cash.

Expressing confidence he'll win in the GOP primary, Bush said, "There's no way Morris will beat me even if only 20 people vote."

On the Democratic side of the Senate race, Yarborough and Bentsen voiced agreement in Earth Day statements that vigorous steps must be taken against pollution but differed widely on other topics.

Speaking at Southwestern University in Georgetown, Yarborough pledged further legislative efforts on pollution problems. "But all the bills I help to pass simply will not achieve their desired ends if they are not backed up by a resolute commitment on your part to continue your efforts to assure that the earth is a fit place to live for years to come," the senator said.

DON'T PANIC
Bentsen said at a dinner meeting of Dallas Negro leaders, "American people have a right to expect their government to stretch its capacity to the limit — to be bold and aggressive against the plague of pollution that is gaining on us every day. The time has not come for panic, but it has come for grave concern and urgent corrective action."

On another campaign front, several radio and television stations in the Lower Rio Grande Valley received telegrams from Yarborough stating that he regarded some Bentsen advertising "a slanderous misrepresentation of my public position in the news events and issues portrayed thereof."

Yarborough's telegrams said complaints have been lodged with the Federal Communications Commission over advertisements dealing with antiwar demonstrations last year and disturbances at the national Democratic convention the year before in Chicago.

MOBS, RIOTS
The senator said in the telegrams that he took no part in the war moratorium protests and "I have never condoned or approved mobs, riots, looting, arson, human or spiritual destruction in this society which years for civility, freedom of speech and thought."

Bentsen took occasion, meanwhile, to expand on his allegation that Yarborough's tions earlier that employees on government payrolls are helping run the campaign of Yarborough.

In this case Bentsen said a professional staff member of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee, of which Yarborough is chairman, has been working in the Lubbock and El Paso campaign offices of the senator. He said the committee employe is Tye Fain and has been on the payroll at $26,000 a year since last October.

Bentsen said, "The taxpayers ought not to be paying for my opponent's campaign workers, and I deeply resent Ralph Yarborough's brazen use of public employes in this manner."

DEATHS

William C. Houston, 84, Pioneer Stanton Family

STANTON (SC) — William C. Houston, 84, son of pioneer settlers, died at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Midland Memorial Hospital after a brief illness. He had sustained injuries in a fall about 10 days ago and complications set in. Prior to that he was still active in ranching.

Services were to be held at 4:30 p.m. Thursday in the First United Methodist Church, where he had been a member most of his life, with his pastor, the Rev. Richard Payne, officiating. Burial was to be in the Evergreen Cemetery under direction of Gilbreath Funeral Home.

Mr. Houston was born April 9, 1886, to Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Houston on a ranch in the northern part of Glasscock County before the county was organized.

He graduated from the Stanton High School and attended Polytechnic College in Fort Worth. His father had organized the bank in Stanton, and for the past two score years Mr. Houston had been a director and officer in it. On occasions, during busy seasons, he worked briefly in the bank.

For 20 years, he was a member of the Stanton school board, and he served as recording secretary of the board of stewards in the Methodist church for 43 years.

All his adult life was spent in ranching, and he never put any of his land in farming. For a time in 1918-19, he briefly operated two ranches, one in the Plains area, and the other on the home place. While the children were in school, the family resided in Stanton. He was married Jan. 9, 1912, to Helen Bell Pegues, and she survives him, as do three sons, W. C. Houston Jr. and Sam Houston of Stanton, and Pegues Houston, Morton; one daughter, Mrs. L. E. Burnsted, Riverside, Calif.; one sister, Mrs. H. Grady Spruce, Dallas; six grandchildren; four great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were to be James Jones, M. S. Estes, Bernard Houston, J. C. Eply, Gordon Stone and Pete Woody of Stanton, and A. L. Houston and S. C. Harding of Odessa.

Albert Smith, T&P Conductor

Last rites were said at 2 p.m. Thursday for Albert G. Smith, 62, of 809 W. 18th, veteran Texas & Pacific railway conductor and civic worker. His pastor, Dr. Leo K. Gee, officiated at the services in Trinity Memorial Park with Masonic rites. River-Welch Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Mr. Smith was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Smith, being born Aug. 21, 1907, in Snyder. His father was a pioneer newspaperman at Snyder, Lockney and Slaton, where Mr. Smith went to work for the Santa Fe, transferring to Needles, Calif., and then to Big Spring in 1927 to work for the T&P as brakeman. He became conductor in 1942, and for 16 consecutive years was secretary of the local unit of Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and thrice delegate to the international convention.

He was a life member of four Shrine temples, a founder of the Suez Temple, and president of its subsidiary, the Big Spring Shrine Club. He helped found the local Shrine motor patrol and also was a Knight Templar. He was active in many affairs, including the United Fund and the Salvation Army, whose advisory board he chaired. He also had served in the U.S. Navy.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Janie Davis Smith; one daughter, Mrs. Wallace (Bertie Mary) Cataldo; two grandsons, Wally Albert and Tony Cataldo, and one granddaughter, Julianne Cataldo.

Among those here for the rites are Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Ina Richardson; sister-in-law, Mrs. J. G. Davis, Dimmitt; nieces, Mrs. Ray Ellis, Dimmitt, Mrs. Jimmie Moomau, Okmulgee, Okla.

Funeral for Mrs. Annie Bell Eberley will be at 10 a.m. Friday in the River-Welch Funeral Home Chapel with the Rev. Leo Gee, First United Methodist Church, officiating.

Burial will be beside her husband, the late Charles Eberley, in Mt. Olive Cemetery. She died Sunday in a local hospital. Survivors include two sisters.

Pallbearers will be Robert Currie, Harvey Williamson, Jess Slaughter, Charlie Creighton, Lawrence Adkins, C. C. Johnston, G. H. Hayward and J. C. Woodard.

School Board Prexy Quits

WICHITA FALLS (AP)—Irkard Smith, president of the Wichita Falls School Board, resigned today less than 24 hours after Supt. Don Waldrip was dismissed by the board.

Two other board members were reported without confirmation to be preparing their resignations also.

Smith said he was quitting because of "strong differences of opinion concerning the direction and operation of the system."

Smith said his resignation would permit selection of a new member who "will help cement relations and bring the board back together."

Waldrip was dismissed Wednesday following a Tuesday night closed meeting of the board. The vote for dismissal was 4 to 3.

A meeting of Smith and Waldrip supporters was called for Friday night to discuss the wave of controversy.

Waldrip, who had been superintendent since 1968, said he was given no reason for his dismissal.

"My contract was purchased," he said. Waldrip's contract was to expire in July, 1971.

The Wichita Falls board recently voted to reject a federal school integration plan in favor of submitting its own plan.

The district receives between $1.2 million and $1.6 million annually in federal funds.

Over 18,000 pupils are in the school district.

Theft Reported

Wayne McNew, Knott, reported Wednesday that a gauge and hose, 100-foot extension cord, a case of oil, a planter and a white sack had been taken from the Knott Welding Co. three miles southeast of Knott. Howard County sheriff's officers are investigating.

Lions Told About An Unusual Diet

Food fare of beetle and ant larvae, plus alligator, armadillo, wild monkey and rooks was reviewed for Downtown Lions at their Wednesday meeting. The speaker was Al Graham, missionary for the Wycliffe Bible Translations, who was detailing some of his family's experience in the upper reaches of tributaries of the Amazon.

Graham, who was working on a project for the Institute of Linguistics, explained that translations of the Bible call for living among natives of remote lands until the customs and language are mastered. In this particular experience with Brazilian tribes at Maues, on an uncharted river as large as the Mississippi, he had to reduce the written language to paper inasmuch as the tribes have no written form of communication. In the process, a small Christian following developed. Among all who learned to read the new written language, the rule was that each who learned had to teach another in turn. The rate of literacy in those areas, he reported, is well over 90 percent.

By our standards, he said, they may be classed as primitive, but they in turn regard us in something of the same light. For instance, they can't understand a bikini or why American women "walk on stilts."

He exhibited the skin of an anaconda, a mere 16 1/2-footer. Some of these snakes grow to 30 feet and are capable of crushing and swallowing a full grown cow.

Stanton Lions Plan Broom Sale

STANTON (SC) — The Stanton Lions Club met Tuesday at noon and set May 19 for the annual broom sale. Club members will be calling door-to-door in Stanton and will have a downtown booth during the day.

Doris Howard, 1970 Stanton Lions Queen, was introduced to the club and presented with a check to cover expenses at the San Angelo convention where she will represent Stanton.

Kenneth Lunsford, game warden in this area for the Texas Parks and Wild Life, discussed Texas water safety laws and demonstrated various types of life jackets, vests, belts and cushions. Only those approved by the U.S. Coast Guard are acceptable.

Arvil James Henry, 1423 E. 6th, reported this morning to Howard County sheriff's officers that a stereo, 20 tapes and a tachometer were stolen from his car while it was parked at Fiber Glass Systems Inc. on US 87 North late Wednesday night and early today. The incident is under investigation.

UNITED YOUTH — To help make citizens aware of creative youth locally is the purpose of United Youth of Big Spring meeting at 7 p.m. Friday in the YMCA. The group has been in the planning stages for two months. Officers are (left to right) Sam Chappell, president; Loretta Clark, secretary-treasurer; Bobby Carlile, vice president; and Robin Hoover, publicity chairman. Students in grades 9 through 12 are eligible.

Parks Board Takes Aim On New Park, Director

A depleted budget dominated discussion at the regular meeting of the parks and recreation board Wednesday afternoon in city hall as the members concerned themselves with where the last $500 budgeted for "other activities" this year would be spent.

The board also resubmitted its recommendation that the city hire a director of parks and recreation and that the city land west of Big Spring Country Club be used as a park.

The local Boys' Club was awarded $300 of the board's remaining funds and the rest of the money was to go into a contingency fund to be distributed when other worthwhile projects arise. Another $1,800 is earmarked for financing the city summer recreation program administered through the YMCA.

During the discussions, the members found themselves ager Roy Anderson were doing a good job administering the parks and recreation department and the present situation is "adequate for what we have money for, but inadequate for what we need."

The members also voted to recommend turning city-owned Section 17 into a recreational area. Anderson said he thought the land, west of Big Spring Country Club in Silver Heels, would make an excellent campground and park area. He recommended making only "minimal" improvements to the land to keep it in its naturally rugged state. It is now under lease as pasture, he said, but the lease could be terminated in a reasonable time.

With the understanding that almost any further action taken by the board would depend on getting more money, the members decided to re-establish priorities at the next meeting. Several projects proposed by the board have been stalled indefinitely by money troubles. These include new air conditioning for city auditorium; a fishing barge at Moss Creek Lake; further development of the "big spring"; and improved lighting of some play areas.

Man With Three Kidneys Offers Himself As Donor

The father of a Big Spring man, possessed of three normal kidneys, has offered to donate one of them to an Ohio youth suffering from a kidney ailment.

The prospective donor is A. A. Cox of O'Brien, father of Royce Cox, a Big Spring athletic coach.

Cox read in The Herald of an area-wide appeal for Betty Crocker coupons to be used toward the purchase of a kidney machine for a Wayland College student, Larry Parks. The O'Brien man was visiting his son here at the time.

Later, Cox placed a call to Roy C. McClung, president of Wayland College, offering to donate one of his kidneys.

McClung subsequently wrote Cox, thanking him for his offer, adding that it had been a source of inspiration and stimulation to all in the Plainview area who had discussed the matter.

Cox learned through McClung that the victim was to shortly undergo a kidney transfer in the Ohio State Medical Hospital in Columbus, Ohio, his younger brother having been the donor.

McClung also stated that the coupon campaign for the kidney machine was an unqualified success. More than 250,000 coupons were counted at Wayland alone.

Cox is manager of Custom Farm Services, Inc., in O'Brien. Cox learned about ten years ago when he underwent spinal surgery in Lubbock that he had three normal kidneys, a rare occurrence.

Weapons Go To Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today captured Communist weapons have been transferred by South Vietnam to the Cambodian regime "with our knowledge and approval."

Press secretary Ronald L. Zeigler told newsmen that the Washington go-ahead for shipment of several thousand AK-47 automatic rifles did not represent the Nixon administration's response to "a specific extensive request" from Cambodia for U.S. military supplies.

Police Chief Feted

Local police officers and the staff of the police department helped Chief of Police Jay Banks celebrate his 58th birthday with a surprise party in the department classroom Wednesday.

Banks received several gifts purchased with funds donated by the department employees, and the Big Spring Police Association donated a cake to the party.

GARAGE SALE — Barbara McAlister displays some of the clothing which will be on sale Friday and Saturday in the old Buy-Rite Shoe Store in the east end of the Highland South Shopping Center. Choir Boosters are holding the sale to raise money to air condition the Goliad Junior High Choir Room.

$50 Million Bid To Aid Impoverished Minorities

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Roman Catholic bishops have launched a $50 million crusade to aid blacks and other impoverished minorities.

At the semiannual meeting Wednesday the National Conference of Catholic Bishops also condemned the recent wave of state legislation to lift restrictions on abortions, and promised a campaign for social acceptance of pregnancies and births out of wedlock.

In acting to implement a $50 million drive against poverty, economic inequities and racism, the bishops decided to seek confusion about division of funds.

Bishop Francis J. Mugavero of Brooklyn, committee chairman for the new effort, said the aid would go to projects among the poor not supported by government funds.

He said minority groups who insist on determining themselves how the money is used, such as the Black Economic Development Conference, would be eligible for consideration for aid.

BEDC is the group that has demanded millions in reparations from churches for alleged past injustices to blacks.

Protestant groups including Episcopalians and United Presbyterians have relayed money to it, arousing protests from some white members.

Turning to the problem of abortion, the conference declared:

"We pledge our efforts to do all that is possible to remove the social stigma that is visited on the woman who is pregnant out of wedlock, as well as on her child."

Pre-Registration Set At Sands

Pre-registration for first grade and kindergarten students planning to attend the Sands Independent School system next fall will be held Friday, between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Students who will be five years, five months old next Sept. 1 are eligible to pre-register. Parents are asked to bring the youngster, his birth certificate and shot record.

Burglary Listed

A burglary at Janes Gravel Co., Moss Lake Road, was reported this morning to Howard County's sheriff's officers. Sheriff A. N. Standard said $82 was taken from a cash receipts drawer and a sack of keys was missing from the office. Entry was apparently made through an east window which had been broken. The incident is under investigation.

A Devotion For Today . . .

They continued steadfastly in the apostles' doctrine and fellowship, and in breaking of bread, and in prayers. (Acts 2:42)

PRAYER: Our Father, where we are amiss, fill us with Thy joy and spirit. Grant to us the authentic life of obedience to Thy lordship. Let this day be a part of Thy kingdom. What we ought to do today, give us the strength to do, through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Costly Campaigns

The U.S. Senate recently passed a bill setting a ceiling on federal candidates' expenditures on radio and television broadcasts during political campaigns. The 50-35 vote on the bill was almost straight party line, with Republicans in opposition. The bill also would reduce cost rates for political air time.

Party disagreement over the proposed legislation is easily explained. The Democratic National Committee is heavily in debt; the Republican coffers apparently are overflowing. It is unfortunate that politics opened the way for this legislation, proposed two years ago by the National Committee for an Effective Congress. But partisan motivation does not detract from the basic issue of limiting campaign spending in this manner.

The choice of legislative representatives should be based on the candidates' abilities and opinions rather than financial resources. The increasing effectiveness of radio and especially television as political campaign tools has presented a serious threat to this ideal.

Individuals simply cannot match the financial resources of a party organization. Thus, candidates must depend on strong party affiliations in waging effective campaigns.

The increasing sophistication and complexity of governmental operations and political dealings also have driven candidates to progressively heavier dependence on the party structure. A person running as a political independent is almost an anachronism.

This new legislation affects what now is only a small portion of campaign expenditures, but it might be one step to help save political individualism from oblivion.

Two Criteria

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers has exhibited a belated concern with the effects of its work on the environment. For the first time in the 168-year history of the corps its chief, Lt. Gen. Frederick J. Clarke, recently held a general news conference.

Clarke announced that he was establishing within the corps a six-member environmental advisory board. He said he would transmit new instructions early in May to regional offices of the corps on how they should consider the environmental impact of proposed projects. These instructions apparently would try to meet the requirements of the new National Environmental Policy Act, which requires all federal agencies to include with every recommendation for action a report on its probable environmental impact.

Clarke told newsmen that the corps was caught up in a controversy between "different kinds of needs." They were the need to develop resources and the need to preserve them. He said the corps tried to be responsive to both. Finally the general said that formerly the corps reflected the position of officials in state and local government and "what the people wanted," whereas the corps must now consider "the broader public interest" in developing a national outlook on the protection of the environment.

The New Lecture Scene

WASHINGTON — The most popular speakers on campus these days are the student revolutionaries, black militants and those advocating the legalization of drugs.

And anyone convicted of a crime and out on bail can write his own lecture ticket.

I was at the offices of the "Up Against the Wall Lecture Bureau" the other day and the phone didn't stop ringing.

"HELLO, Up Against the Wall Lecture Bureau. Who's this? . . . Harvard U. What can we do for you? . . . Nope we're sorry the Chicago Seven are booked up through 1976. But we have some great speakers for you. How would you like 'Mad Dog Faucet'?" . . . You know, the one who wrote the book on student revolution titled 'Mother Is the First To Go.'

Right. Fifteen hundred dollars

Billy Graham

I heard our pastor say in a sermon that when we become Christians we become slaves of Jesus Christ. I don't want to be a slave of anyone.

S.W. We are all slaves to something or to someone. The Bible says: "Know ye not, that to whom ye yield yourselves servants to obey, his servants ye are whom ye obey; whether of sin unto death, or of obedience unto righteousness . . . being then made free from sin ye become the servants of righteousness." Rom. 6:16-18.

The Bible teaches we have two options: we are slaves to sin or slaves of Christ. I would rather be a slave to Jesus Christ. In the days of Roman slavery there were good masters and bad masters. When a slave had a good, loving, considerate master, he had the most ideal living situation. His master supplied his every need. He looked after his family. He supplied help in sickness, in sorrow or death. This is the kind of slave-master status we have in Jesus Christ. The Bible says: "And my God will supply all your need according to your riches in glory." That is the best social security available. He supplied the need of love, of forgiveness, of companionship and of needed strength.

Jesus taught that you are going to be enslaved either by sin or by the Savior. As for me, I would rather be Christ's servant and slave than to have the highest position in our land. Serving Christ is such a high and holy thing that it will be engaged in heaven. The Bible says of heaven: "And his servants shall serve him . . . and they shall see his face."

and expenses . . . Sure he takes off his clothes at the end . . . What kind of lecture do you think he gives? . . . Thank you, I'll send the contract . . .

"HELLO . . . What's that? You're booking speakers for Columbia U this fall? . . . Let's see . . . Here's one for you . . . Ruben Ruben . . . Yeh, that's right. He's the one who hijacked the Goodyear Blimp to Havana . . . Uh huh. He's out on bail now . . . No, he'll be available . . . Even if he's convicted this summer he'll appeal . . . You don't think he's a draw?"

"What about Abbie Satchel . . . You know the guy who set fire to the elephant house at the Bronx Zoo during last week's anti-Vietnam demonstrations . . . He's a beautiful person . . . Two thousand bucks . . . Of course he'll get the students fired up. He spoke at Simpson Tech last week and they burned down the library during the question period . . . Right on. He'll be there."

"UP AGAINST the Wall Lecture Bureau . . . Berkeley? What can we do for you? . . . You're having a lecture series in American history and you'd like someone who is an expert in the field . . . I have just the speaker for you . . . Ziggy Rumsfeld . . . himself! . . . The fellow who blew off Theodore Roosevelt's nose with dynamite on Mount Rushmore . . . He's very knowledgeable about explosives . . . That's right, he shows the kids how to make a bomb right on the stage . . ."

"The man hung up and I had a chance to interview him. 'You seem to be really busy.'"

"YOU BETTER believe it. Kids today want speakers they can relate to—None of this education or political baloney. They want gut speakers that will tell them how rotten it really is. Look at this. I have 23 requests from universities who want to hear from anyone who has killed a cop. He doesn't even have to be a big name."

"And every white school in the country wants a Black Panther to speak to them. How many Black Panthers do they think there are in this country? And look at these requests for speakers convicted of pushing drugs. I tell you, these college kids know what they want."

"AT LEAST they're interested in the world around them," I said. "Is there any student demand for prominent men in public life?"

"Are you kidding? Why should they listen to someone like that when they can hear from someone who has cut sugar cane in Cuba?"

Worth Remembering

NEW YORK (AP) — Unforgettable moments of a lifetime: Being kicked by a cow, indignant because you tried to milk her from the wrong side.

Hurting your funny bone and wondering why they call it that—since you didn't exactly feel like laughing.

Trying to creep soundlessly up the stairs to bed the first time in your life you stayed out after midnight.

Landing a job on your own and bragging to your father, "Oh Dad, I'll never need help from you again"—and then hitting him up for two bucks the very next week.

Lying in a ditch in Tunisia under bombardment and trying to claw your way through the earth to China—or anywhere but there.

The vast victory of pinning your first diaper on your daughter without benefit of wifely help.

Breaking an arm and dazedly seeing it dangle beyond control. Asking God for something you knew you didn't deserve—and then feeling vaguely frightened when it was granted to you after all.

Only Speech Deep?

NEW YORK (AP) — Although the winter months were rather poor ones for profits, a good many business executives in recent days seem to be concerned with topics that, superficially, appear to have little to do with balance sheets.

War, environment, revolution, rebellious youth, changing values, the relevancy of institutions and even of their own roles in a changing society. These and other subjects occupy the minds of aware executives.

It was well within the past decade that the business executive at annual meeting time, which is now at its height, felt that all he needed to do was defend his financial management and announce a new and potentially profitable product.

That other concerns should now occupy his time—they have dominated some annual meetings—testifies to the tremendous pressures for changes in the goals and values of business.

For deep and complex reasons, businessmen today are being asked to defend their decisions on a broad range of af-airs. The demands go beyond this, too. They are being asked to help resolve issues that don't immediately concern their companies.

Appearing as a private citizen before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Louis B. Lumborg, who happens also to be chairman of the Bank of America testified:

"In my judgment, the war in Vietnam is a tragic national mistake," he said. "It is time the shareholders of America begin to call for an end to the squandering of American blood, morale and resources."

A day later, J. Paul Austin, president of the Coca-Cola Company, told the annual meeting he feared the earth could become a barren planet with undrinkable water and unbreathable air.

Several days earlier, the president of Formica Corp., Wallace G. Taylor, told a Honolulu audience that the nation's businessmen are "deaf, dumb and blind to a hydra-headed new American revolution that is tearing this country asunder, value by value."

To Your Good Health

'On The Wagon' Has The Shakes

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D. Dear Sir: I have been on the wagon for over a year after doing some constant drinking all my life.

Since I stopped drinking I have developed a terrible case of nervousness. At times I can hardly lift a cup of coffee unless I grasp it with both hands.

Can this nervousness be a reaction from abstaining from alcohol? At times I can hardly write my name.

Can my age have anything to do with it? I am 60.—R.H. To my mind, one thing is obvious: you should have a physician check you over carefully looking for the cause of this "nervousness."

It could, I grant, be related to the drinking—or rather the stopping. Alcohol is a depressant, a sedative, and for all these years you may have been using it, really, for that purpose, subduing your nerves.

I don't say it is that; just that it would be possible.

There are other possibilities that may be showing up at your age. An overactive thyroid is one possibility that should be checked—and either confirmed or ruled out.

Incidentally, your handwriting looked pretty good, so your "shakes" evidently aren't continuous.

Have you noted whether your "nervousness" appears only when you are thinking about it?

Does it perchance disappear when you are intent on other things? If so, your nervousness may be basically a result of being afraid of being nervous. Such things can happen.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: You discussed the importance of calcium to the older person. Please reconcile it with this bit of knowledge that is going around: that drinking milk can cause calcium deposits.—Mrs. C.A.S.

"Knowledge that is going around" isn't necessarily fact. One wonders how much harm is done by people acting on the basis of what is "going around." Drinking milk does not cause calcium deposits.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it possible to have a tipped uterus without having sexual relations?—Mrs. J.G.

Yes, certainly.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My daughter, six, has had pinworms about seven times in 2½ years. Each time I launder sheets, towels, underwear, etc., faithfully every day in dilute ammonia and disinfectant. I also scrub floors and bathroom with disinfectant. Can you give me any reasons why she gets them so often? Mrs. W.H.

I can't say why some children seem more susceptible to pinworms, but her repeated reinfection means that she is encountering the eggs again and again.

My strongest supposition is that you probably are doing an excellent job of cleaning your house and linens—but she is getting the eggs somewhere else. From playmates? Highly probable. Other adults in the family—possible.

I recollect a letter from one reader who had trouble letting neighbor children use his bathroom. For her, that was the answer.

Biggest single protection against pinworm reinfection is keeping a child's hands clean before meals and, if possible, keeping a child's fingers out of his mouth. Have you tried keeping your little girl's fingernails trimmed short? Pinworm eggs can get under the nails and not be removed just by washing the hands. Especially since youngsters don't often do as thorough a job of washing as we might wish.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Wonderful World Of The Car Shows

The brightest portion of the annual State Fair of Texas, for me as a youngster, was the car show. It was inside a building, in the first place, and the cars on display were almost as fascinating as a space ship show might be today. I had never seen many of them on the streets, and every one of them had a sparkling wax coating that made them appear too precious even to touch.

THE FIRST SUCH show I recall was in 1936, and the Ford Co. gave away special commemorative gear shift knobs, which my father put on his Model A Ford. That is all I remember of that particular show year.

Another year, I remember seeing a Rolls-Royce display, in which the demonstrators stood a penny on edge on the engine head, then started the engine and revved it up noisily, to show that the penny would not fall over. It was almost a miracle to those accustomed to a chattering second-hand Ford motor.

LATER, the fabled Tucker was on display one year, and it looked from a distance to be all the makers claimed for it. We couldn't get up close, as the vehicle was roped off, but the salesmen were taking orders for them and seemed to be doing a land office business.

The post-war Studebakers were a real hit one year, and it required a long wait to get up close. They looked like airplane models at the time, and I suspect had a big sale.

ONE YEAR, Sears Roebuck had its Allstate on sale and if I could have managed the down payment, I would have purchased one of the small cars. The same thing happened when I first saw a Crosley, which had a sporty model that would be a good seller even today.

Sometimes, they would also have antique cars at the show, which was displayed with models from the very first one right up to the model then on sale.

AS MOST NEW cars are usually seen daily on the streets today, the outside glitter has given way to the careful inspection of the extras and inside comfort. I know the last show at Dallas I attended had almost been taken over by the fancy boats, among the merely curious, such as myself.

I still like a car show, however. The vicarious pleasure of inspecting them up close is about as new as I expect to get to most of those beauties. It doesn't cost anything to look.

What's Back Of The Disorders?

WASHINGTON — The daily news dispatches from various parts of the country tell the disappointing story of disorders in America. For a time it seemed that campus riots were diminishing, but not only have they been resumed but even in the high schools cases of vandalism have been noted.

The cost of damage to public property has risen. In New York City's public schools the 1969 damage for broken glass, fires and unwarranted entries amounted to $3,266,000, an increase of about 20 per cent over 1968. Figures are not yet available for stolen equipment, broken furniture and defaced walls. It is estimated that the final sum may be three times as large.

LATELY BOMBING scares have increased in lots of cities, and there have been several instances in which explosions have wrecked dwellings. What all this means is a mystery to the average person as well as to the police authorities—federal and local—who are trying to apply discipline.

Often it is stated that the "older generation" doesn't understand the "youth" of the country. But a careful reading of some of the statements by the younger militants sheds hardly any light on the dissatisfaction really is. The explanations frequently are couched in rhetorical phrases of an abstract variety and they offer little information of a concrete nature.

MANY STUDENTS are unhappy for reasons of which they themselves are unaware. Thus, for instance, they are being required to go to classes where subjects are dealt with in which they have only a casual interest. Sometimes the students have mistakenly made their own choices. Unhappiness and unrest is the result.

DISORDER IS a contagious disease. In a student body of several thousands, when a movement is under way to obtain a "reform," the undergraduates are apt to side with one another. They do not always follow the orderly way—to appoint a committee and rely on conferences and discussions.

Unquestionably outside organizations, too, are at work. They send agents to the colleges to stir up disension. Fear of the draft has been widespread. The Vietnam war has been popular, and any "demonstration" demanding it end at once is immediately supported by students.

BUT THE ATTITUDE in the colleges toward the Vietnam war is by no means the only cause of the disorders. The colleges themselves have not been able to revise their programs to make careful studies of the needs of individual students.

WHILE GOVERNMENT may not be able to cure all social ills, it certainly can do much toward removing the causes of much of the unhappiness of modern times. Crowded cities now are being given considerable attention. Constructive efforts are being made to create jobs. But it will be found that the happiness of the student as early as high school days should be a matter of serious concern. Work after school, whether manual or not but something that is liked by the individual, can reduce the size of street gangs and improve the morale of youth. For the problems of the younger generation can hardly be scoffed at.

Now The Bankers Have Blown It

WASHINGTON — My old friend, Mrs. Ariadne O'Brien-Rappaport, admitted today that the anti-war movement as we have known it probably is finished as the result of Congressional testimony by Louis B. Lumborg, board chairman of the Bank of America.

"Some bankers just can't keep their big mouths shut," said Mrs. O'Brien-Rappaport, who began her career as a protester by throwing a rock at General Pershing during World War I. "Everything was going fine until old flannel-mouth Lumborg came out and said the Vietnam War is bad for business."

IT IS ARIADNE'S lament that Lumborg's testimony has exposed Abbie Hoffman and Jerry Rubin as lackeys of the military-industrial-financial complex. Indeed, she claims Hoffman was caught the other day buying a big block of General Motors stock, and that the FBI is investigating the rumor that Rubin is a hireling of the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York.

"I'M AFRAID," said Mrs. O'Brien-Rappaport, "that their covers have been blown. Until Lumborg opened his trap the movement had managed to convince the public that it was opposed to war because war was a good thing for the bankers and industrialists and other porcine capitalists. Now the truth is known, which is that war reduces profits."

Particularly damning, said Ariadne, was Lumborg's statement that "the fact is that an end to the war would be good, not bad, for American business." Lumborg noted that before Vietnam escalation, corporate profits after taxes rose 71 per cent, but from 1966 through 1969 they increased only 9.2 per cent.

"HOW CAN WE hope to impose a socialist-anarchist system on America when bankers say things like that?" asked Mrs. O'Brien-Rappaport. "By our continued protests and demonstrations, we had hoped to force the Nixon administration to expand our military role in Southeast Asia and perhaps even attack India."

As it is, she continued, the Nixon administration—"that good friend and ally of Big Business"—hardly can be expected to initiate further military adventures abroad. Big business, says Ariadne, just wouldn't stand for it. "They're not in business for their health," she pointed out.

MRS. O'BRIEN-RAPPAPORT also found petulant fault with Charles L. Schultz, director of the budget under Lyndon Johnson. Schultz recently estimated that the Vietnam War is costing only about $17 billion a year, a saving of $6 billion from 1969, as a result of President Nixon's troop withdrawal policy. "Why did he have to go beating his gums that way?" she complained. "It's just malicious to leave the impression Nixon's policy is working."

TRUE TO HER destiny, Ariadne is determined not to give up the fight. "After all," she says, "there's still Cambodia—and Northern Ireland." But she is not sanguine. "It's going to be rough from now on. Every time a few hundred long-haired students picket the Pentagon they'll be suspect as being in the pay of Wall Street."

Lock Tonnage

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — McAlpine Locks and Lock 52, near Paducah, Ky., both on the Ohio River, handle a combined tonnage annually almost equal to that of the Panama Canal.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers says 32,165,373 tons passed through McAlpine and 43,895,588 tons through Lock 52 in 1969, compared with about 90 million tons through the Panama Canal.

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter attends a public school and is a fifth grader. She recently took the invitations to her birthday party to school to pass out to those classmates she wanted to attend. There are 33 children in her class, and she wanted only 27 of them at her party.

After she had passed out the invitations, the teacher took her in the hall and told her that as long as she didn't invite all the students, she used very poor taste in passing out her party invitations at school.

Since when does a school teacher have anything to say about where the invitations should be passed out for a party to be held in a child's own home on a Saturday?

ROCHESTER MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: I think the school teacher showed more compassion than you or your daughter. The pain of having been left out will be remembered by those six uninvited children long after the fun of the party has been forgotten by those who attended.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married for 1½ years, and our number one rule has always been "Never go to bed mad."

Well, yesterday I made a mistake and I told my husband about a dream I had. It had to do with an old boyfriend.

Well, he got jealous and was he ever mad at me. Before turning out the light, I said, "Aren't you going to kiss me good night?"

He said, "Oh, go to sleep and dream!"

How do you cope with someone like that? Don't tell me I shouldn't have told him about my dream in the first place. I've already figured that out.

NO MORE DREAMS
DEAR NO MORE: It wasn't the dream that got you into trouble. It was talking about it.

DEAR ABBY: My son and daughter-in-law are adopting a baby. They have been married only three years. My daughter-in-law claims that she has been unable to become pregnant. I don't think three years is long enough to make such a positive statement. She says she's been to a doctor and took tests, but this is hard for me to believe.

I definitely feel that she wants to adopt because she is afraid of childbirth.

I recently was in their home and I found some birth control pills in her drawer. How can I tell my son that his wife is cheating him out of one of the most wonderful experiences a man can have — having his own children? I want to help my son, but I don't want to cause trouble.

A MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: The birth control pills don't prove anything. And because you feel that your daughter-in-law prefers to adopt because she fears childbirth doesn't mean it's true. Perhaps she has had tests. And perhaps your son has also had them, and HE is sterile. Don't meddle, Mamma.

DEAR ABBY: Can a person ever REALLY forgive and forget?

DEAR LEE: Not as long as that person keeps asking himself that question.

Robbery-Slaying Count Hits Teen

HOUSTON (AP) — Tyrone Malone, 16, charged in the robbery-slaying of Armand Yramategui, Burke Baker Planetarium curator, will be tried as an adult.

Juvenile Judge Robert L. Lowery ruled that Malone may be tried as an adult and not a juvenile. Before Malone can be tried in district court a grand jury must indict him on a murder charge.

Yramategui, 46, was shot on a Houston freeway Jan. 27, after he stopped to change a tire.

MANY FAIL TO SEE POINT

LONDON (AP) — The miniskirt is now nothing but a joke to Mary Quant, the designer who invented it. She showed an all mid and maxi collection without bras today.

"We did put in one miniskirt just for a joke, but we couldn't go through with it, so we took it out," a spokesman for Miss Quant's Ginger Group said.

The new Quant clothes are nearly all in knit jersey, worn without bras and outlining every skinny curve.

Cost Of TFX? $9 Billion Plus

WASHINGTON (AP) — The trouble-plagued TFX warplane has cost more than $9 billion, two Senate investigators have testified.

In an appearance Wednesday before a Senate investigations subcommittee, Thomas E. Nunnally and Romulo Garcia said total costs for the Air Force F111, including $377 million spent on a rejected Navy version, would reach an estimated $9,174,900,000.

This means each of the 534 planes scheduled for delivery will cost $16.6 million each, they said.

Nunnally said the original proposal called for 22 planes at a total cost of about $471 million.

Black Panther Denied Parole

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Calif. (AP) — Huey P. Newton, co-founder of the Black Panther party, has been denied parole for the second time, the California Adult Authority reports.

Newton, 28, is serving a 2½-15-year sentence at the Los Padres Men's Colony here on a manslaughter conviction involving the 1967 shooting death of an Oakland policeman, John Frey.

The parole board heard his case last week and the rejection was announced Wednesday. The first parole rejection was a year ago.

Newton will not be eligible for parole again until April 1971. Prison officials told the parole board Newton has refused to perform routine tasks assigned to prisoners and his privileges are restricted.

Districting Laws Due Test

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A legal aid group has filed a federal court suit to challenge legislative districting laws which it claims deprive some Mexican-Americans of equal representation.

The Mexican-American legal defense fund of San Antonio said here Wednesday that it filed the suit in federal court at Houston as a class action. Listed as plaintiffs are Jesse Herrera and Gilbert Rico, described as residents of a crowded, low-income Mexican-American district here known in Spanish as a "barrio."

The suit asks that the Bexar County (San Antonio) multi-member district be declared unconstitutional and that new boundaries be set up.

The present system of a multi-member, at-large district leaves the barrios "without representation in the legislature by people cognizant of the problems endemic to the barrio," the suit declares.

It claims no legislators have come from the barrios because

12-A Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., April 23, 1970

"these candidates have been defeated by the at-large system of voting."

The suit, which requests a three-judge panel, was filed in Houston because a similar case is now on appeal to the U. S. Supreme Court from Houston, lawyers said.

Military Money Bill Moves Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Armed Services Committee has approved a $20.24 billion military procurement authorization bill, including $1.45 billion for the controversial Safeguard antimissile system.

The House is expected to act on the measure next week. It will then go to the Senate where expansion of the Safeguard system faces heavy opposition.

The bill also includes $200 million in contingency funds that the Air Force is expected to use as part of the $645 million emergency financial aid requested by the Lockheed Aircraft Corp., builder of the C5 cargo plane.

Midland Slaying Sentence Studied

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals took under advisement Wednesday an appeal of the murder conviction of James Lee Marion, 27, who is under a death sentence in the bludgeoning slaying of a wealthy Midland, Tex., socialite in 1963.

Richard J. Clarkson, Marion's court-appointed attorney, argued before the federal appeals court Wednesday that two confessions given by Marion to police were not voluntary.

He contended that the trial judge's instructions to the jury on the question of Marion's sanity were "vague and inadequate." Clarkson also argued that the death penalty constituted cruel and unusual punishment and that the exclusion of jurors who had conscientious scruples against the death penalty violated Marion's constitutional rights.

Allo B. Crow, an assistant attorney general from Texas, asked the 5th Circuit not to reverse the conviction of Marion. He said that both confessions were made voluntarily and that Marion was advised on each occasion of his right to counsel. Crow argued that jury selection was made within guidelines which had been approved by the courts.

Marion is appealing a federal court's denial of his request for a writ of habeas corpus. This is the second time his case has been before the 5th Circuit.

Mrs. Fred J. Turner Jr., 66, was found brutally beaten in her home Oct. 29, 1963. Marion was convicted by a jury March 21, 1964 and sentenced to death.

The conviction was upheld by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals, and the 5th Circuit. The U.S. Supreme Court has refused to review the case.

WAR COSTS CENSORED

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird estimates full costs of the Vietnam war for the fiscal year starting next July will be $22.8 billion.

Laird said the figure was hard to estimate but that, "of course, the public is entitled to know how much the war is costing."

Laird readily answered that the Vietnam war cost $28.8 billion in fiscal 1969, is estimated at $23.2 billion this fiscal year and added: "For fiscal year 1971, the full costs of the war are estimate at—"

Reds Down 6 U. S. Planes

SAIGON (AP) — Six more American planes and helicopters have been shot down on bombing and reconnaissance missions over Laos and Cambodia borders, increasing the toll for the past two days to 12 U.S. aircraft, the U.S. Command announced today.

Two Americans were killed, one is missing and 10 were wounded in the four planes and two helicopters downed Tuesday and Wednesday the command said.

This raised to 6,689 the number of U.S. aircraft the American command has reported lost since Jan. 1, 1961.

The costliest loss was a twin-engine Air Force EC47, a spy plane equipped with electronic snooping gear that was shot down Wednesday near the A Shau Valley in the northwest corner of South Vietnam. Two of the crew were killed and six were injured.

Two of the planes were hit in Laos. One was an Air Force F4 Phantom on a bombing mission over north central Laos. The two crewmen nursed the crippled craft almost back to their base at Udorn, Thailand, but ejected about 14 miles from the runway. They were picked up unhurt.

The U.S. and South Vietnamese commands also issued their weekly casualty summaries reporting:

1. A total of 101 Americans killed in action last week, 40 less than the week before and nearly down to the weekly average prevailing before the Communist command's spring offensive began.
2. At least 2,962 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed, more than 500 less than the week before.

3. A 35 per cent increase in South Vietnamese battle deaths, to 740, the government's third highest weekly toll of the war.

4. Another 698 Americans and 1,750 government troops wounded.

While the enemy offensive launched April 1 has tapered off, military sources said they anticipate occasional upsurges or "highpoints" of activity.

The summaries issued today raised the total casualties reported in the war to 41,516 Americans, 624,573 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese and 104,543 South Vietnamese troops killed, and 273,436 Americans and 215,175 government troops wounded.

Meanwhile, informed sources reported that two South Vietnamese task forces thrusting into North Vietnamese military camps inside Cambodia have uncovered two of the biggest munitions and medical stockpiles of the war along with tons of enemy documents.

DISCUSSION REVEALED — President Nixon informed Sen. Edward M. Brooke (R-Mass.) last Dec. 29 that he dropped a program designed to increase accuracy of the MIRV missile to allay Soviet fears, the Boston Globe reported in Thursday editions. The newspaper said a spokesman for Brooke said the senator intends to take the Senate floor Thursday to commend the President for "undertaking a major measure of strategic restraint." Brooke, left, is shown with Nixon at the White House in September, 1969.

Slickout Rules Overstepping?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some federal judges have been told by the Justice Department they are overstepping their bounds in blocking sanctions against air controllers in the recent sickout.

"We feel the matter of sanctions is a matter of executive discretion of the administrator of the Federal Aviation Administration and not the judicial branch," said William D. Ruckelshaus, assistant attorney general in charge of the civil division.

U.S. District Judge Thomas D. Lambros of Cleveland set the pattern when he ordered air traffic controllers to take physical examinations. Those found fit were fined if they refused to return to work.

Lambros then blocked FAA action to punish the controllers before his ruling by refusing to pay them for the days they were absent and giving them days off later without pay.

Ruckelshaus said the department was attempting to persuade judges not to block sanctions in the air traffic dispute because of precedents it might set for other federal workers who might strike the government in violation of law.

Front Stalled In West Texas

By The Associated Press

A weakening cool front came to a standstill across West Texas this morning and a spring heat wave kept its hold on most of the state.

Near dawn the forward edge of the frontal system stood along a line linking Vernon, Post, Midland and Alpine.

Skies were clear in the Panhandle, where temperatures dipped to 32 degrees at Dalhart and 37 at Amarillo. It was mostly cloudy along and ahead of the front, with readings running from the 50s up to 75 at Brownsville and Laredo.

Forecasts held out a prospect for scattered thunderstorms to night and Friday in North Central Texas and occasional showers tonight or Friday in East Texas. It was expected to stay dry in other sections.

Top temperatures Wednesday afternoon hit 97 degrees at Cotulla and 99 at Laredo, while Dalhart registered a high of 72.

ARRESTED RIOTERS — Black Power demonstrator is arrested by Port of Spain police during disorders Wednesday in Trinidad's capital city. The disorders, which have been plaguing the government for the past two months, have led to a declaration of a state of emergency and a request by Trinidad for arms from friendly countries.

Navy Ships To Evacuate Americans If Necessary

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — The government of Trinidad appeared today to have gained the upper hand over a few score army mutineers and Black Power rioters. Three persons have been reported killed in the disorders.

Six U.S. Navy ships were expected to evacuate American tourists and residents if necessary, and the U.S. government flew in small arms requested by the island government. But for the moment, at least, the government seemed to have the situation under control.

A dusk-to-dawn curfew, part of a state of emergency declared Tuesday by Prime Minister Eric Williams, was relaxed in rural areas Wednesday but was continued on a day-to-day basis in Port of Spain. Only persons with police passes were allowed outside Wednesday night.

Most shops were boarded up and closed early. By late afternoon, the downtown section was almost deserted.

There were few guests in the Trinidad Hilton, one of the main tourist hotels. The airport was crowded with foreigners awaiting flights out of the country.

The U.S. Embassy said the dispatch of the American ships to Trinidad waters was a precautionary step and that no evacuation of Americans was imminent. Embassy officials said they were advising the 3,000 Americans on the island to avoid public places, stay indoors and obey the state of emergency regulations.

White House Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler emphasized to newsmen in Washington that no American troop landing was planned. "We have no intention of involving ourselves in the internal affairs of Trinidad," he said.

There were reports that British Commonwealth troops from Jamaica and Guyana had landed on Trinidad, but Jamaica and Guyana denied them.

However, the two British frigates assigned to the Caribbean anchored off Port of Spain to evacuate British nationals if necessary.

Unrest has been increasing in Trinidad, sparked by the Black Power movement's demand that the black government end white domination of the economy, a holdover from the days of British colonialism. The arrest of 14 Black Power leaders Tuesday brought crowds into the streets, throwing rocks, smashing store windows, setting fires and looting. The police went into action, and two persons were killed.

The army said about 50 soldiers sympathetic with the Black Power movement mutinied from the Tetrion Bay base and seized some automatic weapons. One private was killed and three soldiers were wounded in a shootout with coast guardmen stationed on the base.

The mutineers, prevented from moving in to the capital, fled into the hills. The police said they had rounded up 28 of them by Wednesday night and were searching for the others.

Police continued to pick up Black Power leaders in both Trinidad and neighboring Tobago and said they had more than a score in custody. But Geddes Granger, 28, the chief of the movement, was still at large.

The Soviet news agency Tass charged in a dispatch from Washington that the United States was resorting once more to "gunboat" policy.

Ex-Tom Green County Clerk Out Of Race

SAN ANGELO (AP) — Don Glassett, temporarily removed from his office as Tom Green county clerk April 8 by Dist. Judge Joe Mayes, withdrew his name from the May 2 Democratic primary for re-election Wednesday and resigned as county clerk.

He had no opposition in the primary or general election.

Glassett offered no explanation for his resignation. He is free on $2,500 bond on charges of misapplying $1,245.

The former Tom Green county clerk entered a plea of innocent at his arraignment March 16 in connection with the four-count indictment.

He was temporarily suspended from office April 8 by Judge Mayes. Henry Guthrie, retired West Texas Utilities Co. district meter man, was named acting county clerk.

The trial of Glassett is scheduled to begin Monday.

Tom Green County Democratic Chairman Tom C. Massey said Wednesday that it is "too late for anyone else to get on the ballot."

"The Democratic County executive committee will name a nominee for our party who will be the Democratic nominee in the general election in November," Massey said.

The party chairman said County Judge Edd B. Keyes and the commissioners court will appoint a successor to Glassett until a new county clerk is elected.

GOP leaders were not available immediately for comment on that party's plans.

Beer Stockholders Hear 1969 Report

Lone Star Brewing Company stockholders' meeting in San Antonio on the 30th anniversary of the founding of the brewery during the weekend, heard reports on sales and profits for fiscal year of 1969.

Net sales for the period totaled $33,337,987 for 1969, up from 1968's $32,590,999. Net after-tax income was $2,375,858 compared with $2,637,014 for 1968. Coahoma Band Wins Top Rating

The Coahoma High School Band Wednesday received a division 1 rating in University Interscholastic League regional contest in Midland.

The rating makes the band eligible to take part in the Six Flags Band Festival in May, 1971. Wink and Van Horn were the only other schools to receive division 1 ratings. The contest was for Class A schools.

David Talmage, band director, said the band was presented with a plaque which will be displayed in the band hall.

COLLECTING cookbooks is Mrs. Earl Reynolds' hobby. She has stacks of them, including a complete series on Southern cooking, foreign foods, casseroles, desserts and scores of others.

Recipe Collection Had Start At College

By MARILYN NEVELS

Mrs. Earl Reynolds spends more time budgeting flowers for Estah's Flower Shop than she spends working on her grocery budget. Nevertheless, after 15 years as bookkeeper for Estah's, she hasn't lost her touch for cooking. She probably has the most extensive cookbook collection in Big Spring.

"I started collecting recipes and putting them in scrapbooks while I was at Baylor College for Women," she said. "I used to put pleasure before my studies, so my father sent me to a girl's college where there was nothing to do but study and I did just fine.

"Sometimes after work when I'm tired and don't want to concentrate on reading, I'll look through my recipe books for relaxation. I usually find one to try the next day. Some of the new dishes we like, and others end up in the trash."

Since Mrs. Reynolds works full-time, including Saturday, she usually does her cooking Wednesday, her day off. She will prepare a number of dishes to serve later in the week.

"My husband travels a lot and has to eat out," she said. "When he is in town I like to serve him home-cooked meals."

Reynolds is a claim agent for Texas and Pacific Railroad. His investigations take him to towns between Abilene and El Paso.

"I used to go with him whenever I could," she continued.

"Now the flower shop consumes most of my time. Earl likes activity, being on the go and meeting people. I enjoy traveling, too. We visit our daughter and her family once a year in Fremont, but after Earl retires, we'll visit them more often." Reynolds is due to retire in 1 1/2 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds have a daughter, Mrs. Dean Porter, and a son, Whitney Reynolds, 2210 Lynn. Each family has three children, making the Earl Reynolds the proud grandparents of six. Reynolds' mother, Mrs. Eugene Reynolds, who just celebrated her 91st birthday, lives with them.

Family gatherings are popular affairs, and Mrs. Reynolds prepares a feast on their barbecue grill.

"I really grill a mean hamburger," she said. "I get the hamburgers ready the day before our cookout and let them stand overnight in the refrigerator. That way the spices more strongly flavor the meat." She is also known for the whole cooked onions she grills with hamburgers or steaks. She wraps the whole onion in heavy foil with butter and garlic salt and seasons with salt and pepper.

"We use our covered barbecue grill all summer. Sometimes I'll smoke a turkey which takes all day," she said. "My grandchildren love barbecued ribs and chicken the best. Once I got enough ribs and beans and corn-on-the-cob to feed an army, but Earl told me it might not be enough for the children, so I bought chicken legs too. Those kids ate every last scrap. "Earl loves vegetables and corn bread. He's easy to please and will help me cook occasionally, but he stirs everything to death. Over Easter when I was busy at the shop, he called me for the corn bread recipe and baked his own. Now he thinks he can make the best corn bread. He's even gotten to reading some of my cookbooks and will suggest things for us to try."

The Reynolds do a lot of summer entertaining on their patio. Although Mrs. Reynolds doesn't work with flowers at Estah's, she comes home from the shop and works in her own flower beds.

She and her husband have nearly completed the redecorating of their den. They are focusing attention on a large antique hat tree and a huge filing bureau given to them by one of his former co-workers. The furniture used to be in a railway office and is of beautifully finished honey-colored wood.

In decorating she likes "earthy colors" such as orange, gold, and avocado.

Mrs. Reynolds offers some of her favorite recipes.

TEXAS HASH

1 cup uncooked rice
1/4 cup butter or bacon fat
2 tbsps. chopped green peppers
1/4 cup chopped onions
1 lb. ground beef
1-1 1/2 cups water
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. chili powder dissolved in 1/4 cup water
1 small clove garlic chopped
1 cup tomatoes
2 tbsps. pimento cut in 1/2 inch squares

Heat butter or fat in frying pan, add rice and fry to light brown color, stirring occasionally. Remove rice, add two more tbsps. fat. Fry ground beef, onion, garlic and chopped green pepper for 8-10 minutes. Add salt, tomatoes, dissolved chili powder and pimento. Cook 3-4 minutes, then mix in rice. Pour into baking dish, add water and bake at 350 degrees for about 45 minutes. Keep covered.

Girl Scout 'Takes The Cake' In New York Community Bake-Off

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
In Port Washington, N.Y., Liv Haselbach is the person known to bake a mighty good Carrot Cake.

When Liv was in 6th grade, her cake won a prize in a Girl Scout community bake-off. The recipe for the cake itself came from one of her father's Swiss relatives. The recipe for the marzipan carrots that decorate the cake is one her mother learned to make in an eighth-grade domestic-science course in Norway.

We made the cake and the decoration in our own kitchen and they were both a big success. Stored in the refrigerator, the cake stayed moist for a week or so.

If you bake this cake for company, do make the marzipan carrots to go with it. This marzipan tastes so much better than bought marzipan. And the carrot shapes are so attractive and amusing. One caution: the recipe for the marzipan carrots makes more than is needed for decoration; so pass around the surplus just as you would candy. If there are any leftover, wrap them tightly in transparent plastic wrap, store them in the refrigerator and they'll stay beautifully fresh and soft.

LIV'S CARROT CAKE

2 cups sifted flour
2 tbsps. baking powder
2 tbsps. baking soda
1 tsp. salt
2 tbsps. cinnamon
2 cups sugar
1 cup corn oil
4 large eggs
2 cups grated (medium fine) carrots, lightly packed (about 4 medium carrots)
1/2 cup chopped (medium fine) pecans
1/2 cup chopped (medium fine) walnuts
Glaze, see recipe
Marzipan Carrots, see recipe
Grease a 10-inch angelfood cake pan.

On wax paper, sift together the flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt and cinnamon. In a large mixing bowl, with an electric beater at medium speed, beat together the sugar and oil for two minutes. With beater at low speed, add sifted dry ingredients alternately with eggs, beginning and ending with dry ingredients and beating after each addition. Stir in carrots and nuts. Turn into prepared pan.

Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until cake tester inserted in center of cake comes out clean — about one hour. (Do not open oven during baking.)

Place cake in pan on wire rack to cool for five minutes. With a small metal spatula loosen cake from sides and tube; turn out on wire rack. Cool completely. Top of cake sinks slightly toward center.

PANTRY PICK-UPS

Ever add canned clams to canned tomato soup. If you try this, be sure to add water rather than milk in preparing the soup. And once the clams are in the soup, heat but do not boil.

Small raw mushrooms may be stuffed with prepared chicken spread to serve as an hors d'oeuvre. Mushrooms do not need to be washed. After removing the stems, just wipe the mushroom cap with a damp cloth.

Some cooks like to soak chicken (cut up) in buttermilk before frying. The chicken may be left in the buttermilk marinade for several hours or even overnight in the refrigerator, of course.

Want a wonderful dessert? Arrange scoops of vanilla ice cream in meringue shells and serve with frozen strawberries. Let the strawberries defrost enough to separate and mellow, but they should still be icy-cold.

tube so you may want to let the cake cool bottom side up and use the bottom side as the top.

Place cake on serving plate. Pour Glaze over cake, with a pastry brush spread Glaze letting it run down sides of cake.

Before serving, arrange 10 Marzipan Carrots over top of cake.

GLAZE

2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
4 to 4 1/2 tbsps. water
1/4 tsp. almond extract
Mix together the sugar, 4 tablespoons water and extract. If necessary, add more water to make a thick pouring consistency.

Makes two-thirds cup.
MAZIPAN CARROTS
1 1/2 cups (about) sifted confectioners' sugar
1 cup finely ground blanched almonds
1 egg white
4 tbsps. yellow food coloring
3 drops red food coloring
3 drops water

In a medium mixing bowl stir together one cup of the sugar, the almonds and egg white. Knead in as much of the remaining sugar (or more sugar if necessary) to make mixture easy to shape. On wax paper, pat into a 6 by 5-inch rectangle; cut into 30 1-inch squares. Shape each square into a tiny carrot about 1 1/2 inches long.

Mix together yellow and red food coloring and water. Using a clean small water-color paint brush or a cotton swab, paint marzipan carrots with the mixture. Use tiny sprigs of parsley for the carrot tops. Makes about 30. Use 10 to decorate cake; pass remaining as candy.

NOTE: Use a food grinder, electric blender or a rotary-type hand-operated nut grater for grinding the almonds.

If you want to make just 10 carrots to decorate the Swiss Carrot Cake, mix together nine drops yellow food coloring, one drop red food coloring and one drop water for painting them. Use the remainder of the marzipan to shape and color any way you like.

THE FRUITS OF VICTORY — Nancy Seaver rewards her husband, Tom, for setting a pitching record with ten straight strikeouts and tying the major league record with 19 strikeouts in one game against the San Diego Padres in New York Wednesday. Seaver's teammate, Bud Harrelson, left, was also awarded a kiss since it was he who drove in the third inning run that took the New York Mets to a 2-1 victory over the Padres.

Tom Seaver Fans Ten In Row, 19 In All

By The Associated Press
They gave Tom Seaver the 1969 Cy Young Award before Wednesday's game and the wunderkind ace of the New York Mets' pitching staff went out and showed just how much he deserved it.
Seaver pitched his way into baseball's record book, striking out 19 batters including the last 10 in a row and two-hit San Diego 2-1 in an expert display of pitching prowess.
The Young Award, of course, goes to the top pitcher in each league but if you ask the Padres today, they'll tell you that Seaver looked like the best pitcher in all of baseball to them.
ASTROS DOWNED
Elsewhere in the National League Wednesday, Chicago trimmed St. Louis 7-5, Philadelphia dropped San Francisco 6-1, Pittsburgh took Houston 6-1 and Los Angeles ripped Montreal 9-2. Atlanta and Cincinnati were not scheduled.

Seaver was simply superb. He used just 136 pitches to dispatch the Padres and matched the record for strikeouts in a single game of 19 set by Steve Carlton against the Mets last September.
He also wiped out the old record for consecutive strikeouts of eight shared by four different pitchers. One of those four was Johnny Podres, who watched Seaver's performance. "Fantastic, outstanding," marveled Podres, now the Padres' minor league pitching coach. "The amazing thing was that as hard as he was throwing the ball, he was still pitching to spots."

"He was like a machine," said Met first baseman Ed Kranepool, "whump, whump, whump."
"When he did throw a breaking ball," said Al Ferrard, who tagged Seaver for an early homer and then became the 19th and final strikeout victim in the ninth inning, "it was always on the outside corner."
13 STRAIGHT
It was the 13th consecutive regular season victory for Seaver over two seasons, 10 of them coming in his 25-7 mark last year which earned him the Young Award, and three this term.
There were other well-pitched games in the NL but nothing like Seaver's gem.
Pittsburgh's Steve Blass limited Houston to three hits and the Pirates rapped the Astros with Roberto Clemente and Manny Sanguillen collecting three safeties apiece. Bill Mazerowski singled across one of the Pirate runs, collecting the 800th RBI of his career.
Don Sutton scattered five Montreal hits and the Dodgers pounded the Expos with a 14-hit attack.
The middle of the Dodger batting order—Andy Kosco, Willie Crawford and Wes Parker—did most of the damage, collecting half of LA's hits between them. Crawford scored three runs.

HE'S HOMESICK Player Too Good For Golf Leave

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP)—South African Gary Player opened defense of his Tournament of Champions title today with a game going so good he cannot decide whether to go home or not.
"I'm just playing so good right now," Player said before his first round in the $150,000 event, "I just don't know what to do."
"I don't want to quit when I'm playing like this. But I talk to my kids on the phone and I get homesick and I want to go home."
"I just don't know what to do."
Player, winner of one title and more than $61,000 in just six weeks on the pro golf tour this year, played alone in a practice round Wednesday. He was accompanied by a small gallery and a handful of plain-clothes police.
Gary has been the focus of intense security precautions this year because of rumored threats concerning his country's racial policies.
Player steadfastly has refused to comment on the situation but obviously is under a strain.
He won the Greater Greensboro Open two weeks ago, missed by a single stroke in the Masters and was in strong contention in last week's Greater New Orleans Open.
"I'm not committed at Dallas (the next stop on the tour)," he said, "but it's a definite possibility."
"And the sponsors from Houston call me and say Arnold (Palmer) and Jack (Nicklaus) aren't going to be playing there and couldn't I please come?"
"Well, I feel like I have a certain responsibility to these people, but I do want to go home. So I'm just playing it one week at a time."
"I won't make a decision until Sunday."
Player was one of the favorites in the elite field of 31 chasing the $30,000 first prize in

Other top contenders include Masters champion Billy Casper and Palmer and Nicklaus, both of whom are back from a week's rest.

Stone Leader In Star Win Over Chaps

By The Associated Press
Gene Rhodes, coach of the Kentucky Colonels, says he played a game of mental darts before his team's fourth playoff game in the American Basketball Association with the New York Nets.
"I couldn't make up my mind whether to go with Sam Smith or George Tinsley at one of the starting forward spots," Rhodes related. "I finally came up with Smith and he sure made me look good."

The Colonels beat the Nets 128-101 Wednesday night and evened the Eastern Division semifinal best-of-7 series at 2-2. In the other East semi, Indiana, now leading 3-0, beat Carolina 113-106.

Washington evened its Western Division series with Denver 2-2 by beating the Rockets 131-114 while Los Angeles turned back Dallas 144-138 to also square their West semifinals at two games apiece.
The 6-foot-7 Smith, who had missed Kentucky's final two regular season games after being jabbed in the eye, wound up with 28 points and 12 rebounds. He was 12-for-16 from the floor.

With Darel Carrier scoring 29 points and Louie Dampier 26, the 28 by Smith pushed the Colonels past New York early and the Nets wound up suffering their worst defeat of the year. Lavern Tart's 21 points led the Nets.

Washington didn't stop Denver's Spencer Haywood, the ABA Rookie of the Year, but his 41 points weren't enough to overcome the 30 each by Rick Barry and Mike Barrett of the Caps.

Indiana had to come from behind in the final quarter to defeat Carolina, which had a 13-point cushion at one point. The rebounding of Mel Daniels in the fourth quarter was the key factor for Indiana, led in scoring by John Barnhill with 28. High for Carolina was Bob Verga with 24.

Buffaloes Await Regional Meet

LUBBOCK — Forsan's youthful golf team will start competition here today in the Regional tournament, a 36-hole event which extends through Friday.

Top two teams in the Class B meet qualifies for the State tournament in Austin. The tournament is being staged over the Pine Hills Country Club course.

Other Class B linksters entered are Bronte, which won the state championship last year, Fort Davis, Lorraine and Grandfalls.

Steve Threlkeld New Abilene Pro

ABILENE — Steve Threlkeld, 26, assistant pro at the Midland Country Club, has been named head pro at the Abilene Country Club.

He succeeds Bob Maxwell, who quit several weeks ago to take a position with the Squaw Valley Country Club near Fort Worth.

Threlkeld won 22 tournaments while competing as an amateur for Fort Worth Arlington Heights and North Texas State University.

Steve was a strong contender for the Big Spring Open title several years ago.

ROYCE COX

Cox Succeeds Cunningham

Royce Don Cox, 26, tennis coach at Big Spring High School the past year, will become the Steer golf mentor starting with the 1970-71 school year.

Cox, a native of O'Brien, succeeds Wilbur Cunningham, who, with his wife, is returning to school to work on his Master's degree.

Born in Haskell, Cox went through public school at O'Brien, graduating there in 1961. He played both football and basketball under Charles Thorn in high school.

He matriculated at Cisco College, graduating from that institution in 1963. He limited his athletic endeavor to tennis at Cisco. He transferred to West Texas State in Canyon, from which he took his bachelor's degree in 1965 and his Master's degree four years later.

He started coaching in a Canyon elementary school in the fall of 1965 and moved to Roaring Springs as head coach the following year.

Cox remained there three years before coming to Big Spring in September, 1969.

Royce is married to the former Rue Ann Gull of Canyon. They have one child, Michelle Lee, age nine months.

Mincher Delivers For A's

By The Associated Press

Don Mincher's aim was the same—a bit shorter to be sure—but the outcome was the same—another victory for the Oakland A's.

For the second night in a row Mincher cracked the decisive blow as the A's crept to the 300 mark with a 2-1 triumph over Kansas City Wednesday night.

Mincher capped a two-run eighth-inning rally with a sacrifice fly to center field—about 300 feet—which scored Felipe Alou with the clincher and secured the victory for Al Downing, who tossed a three-hitter.

In other AL contests, Washington struggled 18 innings before downing New York 2-1, Minnesota topped Chicago 3-1 in a five-inning rain-shortened game, Detroit blanked Cleveland 5-0, Boston trimmed Baltimore 5-2 and California stopped Milwaukee 3-1.

SECOND SUCH FEAT

Mincher, the big first baseman obtained from Seattle-Milwaukee over the winter, had drilled a two-run ninth-inning homer 420-feet over the center field fence Tuesday night in the A's 4-3 triumph over the Brewers.

Wednesday's ball didn't go quite as far but the result was the same as far as the A's were concerned.

With Oakland trailing 1-0, Dave Duncan opened the rally with a single. Downing sacrificed and Felipe Alou and Rick Monday followed with hits to load the bases.

Bob Johnson relieved loser Wally Bunker on the mound and promptly fired a wild pitch, tying the game. After a walk, reloading the bases, Ken Wright replaced Johnson to face Mincher.

The 6-foot-3, 240-pounder skied to Amos Otis in center and Alou romped home with the winner.

Ed Kirkpatrick slammed a homer for the Royals.

Mike Epstein also put an end to the 4-hour and 40-minute marathon at Washington with a sacrifice fly after Ed Stroud opened the inning with a walk and moved to third on Hank Allen's one-out single.

The Yankees had tied the game at 1-1 in the ninth on Bobby Murcer's homer. Washington had scored in the sixth on Allen's run-scoring single.

Senators' starter Joe Coleman went 9 1-3 innings, allowing only two hits, both to Murcer. The victory went to reliever Joe Grzenda, who allowed one single in three innings.

The Twins swept to their fourth consecutive victory on a two-run homer by Cesar Tovar in the fifth inning, breaking a 1-1 tie.

After Tovar's 367-foot blast, Lolich, 4-1, struck out seven in the first inning off Jim Lonborg on a sacrifice fly by Boog Powell and Paul Blair's single. The Sox tied it in the third on doubles by Lonborg and Mike Andrews and Reggie Smith's single.

Boston added two insurance runs in the eighth on Luis Alvarado's RBI double and a single by Jerry Moses.

Little League Activity Gets Under Way Tonight

Little League action begins on three fronts this evening, although opening night ceremonies in each park are not scheduled until Saturday.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The Continental Football league, of which the West Texas Rufeks were a part last year, will, in 1970, award three points for a field goal of 35 yards or less, four points for one 36 to 44 yards and five points for a goal 45 yards or longer.

It might be better to outlaw the field goal completely. It's one of the dullest events in sports, especially in pro football.

Critics of the field goal point out that touchdowns are so hard to come by that a game shouldn't be thrown off balance by some fellow putting the ball in the air for a comparatively easy half a TD.

Last year in the NFL, the top touchdown-maker could rank no better than ninth among the top scorers. Fred Cox of Minnesota led all the point-getters with 26 field goals and 43 points-after-touchdowns, good for 121 points.

Baltimore's Tom Matte (who didn't particularly have a good year in the league) and Lance Rentzel of Dallas led the touchdown makers with 78 points each. Matte wound up with 13 TDs while Rentzel sailed into the end zone 12 times on offense and got another on a fumble recovery.

Kicking now produces from one-third to one-half the points in most pro games. The kicking specialists learn their art, for the most part, in college, since it has practically become a lost art in high school ball.

In high school, let it be pointed out, a coach had sometimes rather yield the ball to the opposition (it has to be that way) deep in the other team's territory and thereby gamble on the chance of recovering a fumble deep in enemy country than go for the field goal, miss it and then have the ball brought out to the 20.

Memphis State University, which is playing football the way the Southeastern Conference dictates that it be played, recently signed a pro-type passer who erased Terry Hanratty's records at a high school in Butler, Pa.

He is John Robinson, who hit 58 per cent of his passes for his schoolboy team. Hanratty, who later starred for Notre Dame, could connect only 48 per cent of the time while in high school.

He may be overstating his case but Fred Taylor, the TCU football mentor, says injuries have hit his squad in spring training so hard, he's down to three teams after starting with five.

More and more baseball players on all levels are using golf gloves, in the field as well as at bat.

The golf glove may offer a little protection against jarring when ball meets bat, but I doubt it. The same fellow who sold lightning rods must now be hawking the golf gloves for baseball players.

If Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants hit against no other team than Houston, he'll probably have 815 home runs and boast a life time batting average of .600 by this time.

Willie may be a doddering old man to some of the pitchers in the National League but the Astro hurlers, for some reason, roll over and play dead for him.

Before the NBA's regular season ended, coach Tommy Heinsohn of the Boston Celtics remarked that Tom (Satch) Sanders should be included on a league all-star team before he retired.

Satch was grateful for the kind words but he was realistic about his shortcomings. Said he: "I don't get enough points . . . and I'm not consistent enough . . . Not only that but I'm 40 years old."

Stock car racing is one of those rare sports in which a man can come out of a business office or from behind a meat counter, buy a car and declare himself a professional without proving he can drive under such conditions.

San Angelo's Bobcats lost a potential first string football tackle recently when the 190-pound John Sanders moved from the community with his family. Sanders was logging a lot of playing time at the end of last season.

Rumor has it that Rodney Jenkins will be promoted into the head basketball coaching job at Abilene High School but that Dale Mendenhall will be brought back to take Bill Villines' place at Abilene Cooper. Larry Lowe was Villines' assistant. Lowe may have damaged his chances because he insisted on a stronger program.

HC Is Entry At Plainview

PLAINVIEW — A 9.2 sprinter heads the field for Friday night's All-College Track meet. The nine-school meet will be staged along with a junior college division.

The meet was moved from Saturday afternoon so the college coaches can attend Saturday's regional meets.

Texas Tech will be competing, having changed its schedule. The Raiders were originally scheduled to run in the Colorado Relays but dropped out because of injuries.

The Raiders will join host Wayland Baptist, West Texas State, Eastern New Mexico, New Mexico State, McMurry, Sul Ross, Panhandle (Okla.) State and Southwestern Oklahoma in the championship run. Wayland is defending champ.

In the junior college class will be New Mexico JC, Lubbock Christian, Odessa, South Plains, Howard County and Christian College of the Southwest.

The 9.2 sprinter is West Texas' Rocky Thompson, who ran that time in the 100 Saturday afternoon.

Auerbach Refuses To Pick Winner

BOSTON (AP) — Red Auerbach, still not used to being just a spectator for the National Basketball Association playoffs, is making no predictions for the New York Knicks-Los Angeles Lakers final series opening Friday night in New York's Madison Square Garden.

"I'm not that smart," the general manager of the once-weekly Boston Celtics said Wednesday when asked for a forecast. But he did offer a few items by way of analysis.

"Both teams at this point have more or less shaken off the playoff jitters and early mistakes which often can cost the whole ball of wax," he said. "They're rolling now, and they can taste the potential fruits of victory."

"The only edge now is that the Knicks have the home court advantage. That hasn't been that fruitful so far, but nevertheless it is an advantage."

Auerbach discounted the theory that the Lakers, who lost to the Celtics in the finals six times in the last nine years, have an advantage because of all that prior experience.

"If this were the first round, I'd say yes," he explained. "But that advantage is gone now. The Knicks played seven playoff games against Baltimore and five against Milwaukee. That's 12 playoff games already. That's enough experience."

Auerbach watched the Celtics when he coached or headed from the front office 11 NBA championships in 13 years before failing to reach the playoffs this season.

Cliff Richey Is Gunning For Berth In Net Finals

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Top seeded Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., and fourth seeded Bob Carmichael of Australia attempt today to reach the semifinals of the 36th annual River Oaks Invitational tennis tournament.

Richey, the 1968 champion, meets Jim McManus of Berkeley, Calif., in one quarterfinal match. Carmichael takes on Nikola Spear of Yugoslavia in the other.

Tournament officials have spread the quarterfinal matches over two days with second seeded Manuel Santana of Spain meeting Ingo Bugding of Germany and third seeded Clark Graebner of New York City meeting Brian Fairlie of New Zealand Friday.

No upsets were scored Wednesday as the last collegians were eliminated along with former champion Barry Mackay of San Francisco. McManus took out MacKay,

HC Linksters Borger Bound

Coach Tommy Rutledge and members of his Howard County Junior College golf team were to leave today for Borger to take part in the Great Plains Invitational tournament scheduled Friday and Saturday.

The annual meet will serve a double purpose. Part of it will count in Western Conference standings.

Howard County is now locked in a death struggle with Odessa College for first place. The Hawks led most of the season but now trail the Wranglers by half a point.

The first 27 holes of the 54-hole meet will be played as a regular WC test. The second 27 holes will be an invitational tournament and all conference schools have entered teams and, in addition, will serve as a makeup match for one that was rained out earlier this year.

Odessa made giant strides toward returning to the throne room in the league by defeating the Hawks on HC's home course several weeks ago.

Rutledge could go with a lineup that includes Jeff Nieto, Randy Truelove, Teddy Griffin and Mike Weaver or Bill Schwarzenbach, William Breland and Brent Womack are factors, too, as is Tommy Jackson.

The OC lineup could consist of Bart Schuerman, Ray Sutton, Si Harris, Scott Stegner and Donnie Johnson.

"Donnie did very well for us in Big Spring," coach Barry Rodenhaver of Odessa said recently. "In fact, he just about won the match for us when other golfers ran into some trouble. Sutton is struggling a little right now, but for the most part we should be in good shape for the tournament."

"If we take both matches this weekend, we should be in good shape to win the conference championship."

ABILENE — Abilene High defeated Abilene Cooper, 8-5, here in a make-up game Wednesday to tie San Angelo for first place in the 3-AAAA East Zone race.

Stan Lambert picked up the mound win, his first of the year. He labored 6 1-3 innings and gave up nine hits while fanning 10.

Gary Littlefield, Greg Kohutek and Richard Vannoy divided time on the mound for Cooper, Littlefield accepting the loss.

Abilene earned only one of its eight runs. The Cougars were guilty of six misplays.

Abilene is now 5-2 in the race while Cooper slumped to 2-5. The Cougars entertain Big Spring Saturday afternoon.

STANTON — Grant Teaff, head coach at Angelo State University, was guest speaker at the annual Stanton Athletic Banquet Tuesday night. The meal was sponsored by the Stanton Booster Club.

Special recognition went to Johnny McMeans, all-district performer in football for Stanton two years running; Rusty Hicks, Lindsey Jones, Larry Pinkston and Jerry Smith.

Hicks and Jones were all-conference selections in basketball. Pinkston and Smith were second team selections in football.

Girls who were acclaimed included Leatrice Jones, Teresa Louder and Jana Hall, all standouts in basketball.

The school's "Outstanding Athlete" award went to Steve Stallings, ace miler who won the state Class AA title in that event last year and who has qualified for Regional this year. Steve also played end in football.

The title of "Best All-Around Athlete" went to McMeans. Johnny participated in football, basketball and track over a period of seven years, starting down in the grades.

JVs Collide With Rebels

The Big Spring High School JVs wind up a highly successful baseball season in a 4 p.m. contest here today with Midland Lee.

Johnny Sevey will likely charge the mound for the Rebels. The locals edged the Dogies, 6-4, in a previous game at Midland.

In 10 starts this season, the Big Springers have won nine times. Their only loss was to San Angelo in their last assignment. Angelo's margin in that game was 2-0.

Big Spring has outscored the opposition, 73 to 29, this year. That averages out to 7.3 runs a game, compared to only 2.9 for the opposition.

QUARTERBACK CORNER Gap Bowl Contest Slated April 28

By PAUL SHAFER (QBC Co-Captain)

Time is marching on and there is so much left to be done before school is out and the summer months begin.

With the painting of the baseball stadium and securing the services of Randy Matson for the Spring Sports banquet, this leaves the most immediate event to be held the night of April 28 in the high school gym at 8 p.m.

Tickets will, of course, be available at the door that night but are now being sold in the high school by the members of the Student Council and will be sold around town by any who will volunteer.

While the contest is designed primarily to explore the generation gap, it is very important, financially, to the spring program of the QBC.

Besides where else can you witness old men who have come out of mothballs to give this most important lesson in competitive basketball to the young generation just about to leave the nest.

USLTA Fined By Federation

NEW YORK (AP) — Tennis moguls in this country weren't greatly surprised or overly concerned by the International Lawn Tennis Federation's $2,300 fine of the U.S. Lawn Tennis Association for breaches of rules at tournaments in Boston and Philadelphia.

The fine was announced in London Wednesday by Basil Reay, ILTF secretary, following an ILTF management committee meeting in Paris.

"The fine comes as no surprise," said a spokesman at the USLTA office here. Alastair Martin, USLTA president, wasn't available for comment.

The USLTA spokesman said the organization had learned of the action prior to Reay's London announcement.

The ILTF announcement said it was understood that the USLTA was taking disciplinary action against the promoters of the Boston and Philadelphia events, which were staged contrary to the rules. The USLTA was fined $2,000 for the Boston tourney and $300 for the Philadelphia event.

In Seattle, Bob Caldwell, a USLTA vice president who attended the Paris meeting, said: "It was a very fair fine in my opinion because I believe in following the rules and the two tournaments defied the ILTF."

TATE MURDERS PUBLICITY

Plea For More Time

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Charles Watson's attorney says the Sharon Tate murders have received more publicity in California than the "Kennedy Assassination."

The attorney, Bill Boyd of McKinney, Tex., asked the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals Wednesday for more time to study the record in Watson's extradition fight.

The court took the matter under advisement.

Boyd told newsmen he wanted a separate trial for his client. If he can delay the extradition beyond June 15, he may get his wish.

Watson, indicted in the bizarre slayings, was turned down on a habeas corpus application by a state district court in McKinney Feb. 16.

The district judge, David Brown, who is running against State Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, issued an order the following day for the records in the case to be sent to the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Boyd objected. He said the law gives him 15 days to file objections to the statement of facts, 90 days to review the statement of facts after that.

and 30 days to file a brief after that.

Boyd said the trial judge lacks authority to waive these time limits.

"It certainly is not up to the court to shortcut these steps. We're at least entitled to brief this case and come before this court in an orderly fashion," he said.

If the trial court had the right to speed it up, he said, "the entire matter could be disposed of in 14 days. What's the reason for all the rush?"

Tom O'Connell, assistant Col. in County attorney, argued for the state. He said another statute controlled extradition cases.

The statute he cited gives no time limits.

O'Connell said the statute Boyd wants to use would "oper-ate against the very purpose for which the writ of habeas corpus State Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, issued an order the following day for the records in the case to be sent to the Court of Criminal Appeals."

Boyd said Watson could get a fair trial if a federal court in California would assume jurisdiction under an old federal civil rights law and transfer the case to another federal court outside California.

This is the same argument he presented to the Texas secretary of state Jan. 5.

At that time, he said, "No California judge would be in a position to change the venue to a court outside the state, with the possible exception of a federal court."

Kidney Transplant Fund Started For Teenage Girl

Donations of money, General Mills coupons and savings stamps are being asked here for an Amarillo teenager suffering from a kidney ailment.

Connie Conwell, 17, niece of Mrs. C. H. Arbuckle, 3613 Hamilton, is suffering from Bright's Disease and must have a kidney transplant. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Conwell, 4415 Cline Road, Amarillo, and lived in Big Spring about 10 years ago while her father was employed as a custodian with the Big Spring Independent School District.

Mrs. Arbuckle said tests show Mrs. Conwell can donate one of her kidneys to her daughter, but the operation will cost between $18,000 and $50,000.

Arrangements have been made for the operation at Parkland Hospital, Dallas, but the Conwells say, "They won't even admit Connie unless we can raise $18,000, and we just don't have that kind of money." The hospital is willing to schedule the operation if $18,000 can be raised.

A fund has been started with First National Bank in Canyon, where the Conwells lived until about a year ago. Persons interested in making donations can contact Mrs. Arbuckle or the Canyon bank.

Mrs. Arbuckle said the Kidney Foundation in Amarillo can exchange the coupons and savings stamps for money to add to the fund.
