COMBAT FATIGUE — Four GIs drag a buddy to cover after he collapsed from heat exhaustion and mental strain during a firefight west of Logo, some four miles inside Cambodia Wednesday. The troops met heavy enemy fire and were pinned down soon after entering Cambodia earlier in the day.

U.S. Navy Faces Sharp Fighting In Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Navy boats are planning an assault up the Mekong River to help open a 60-mile stretch of the waterway to the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh, official sources said today. They reported the operation will begin Friday.

If the operation materializes, the Navy boats will be in for some sharp fighting. North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces are dotted along most of the waterway and control the ferry crossing at Neak Luong, 37 miles southeast of Phnom Penh.

NIXON'S PLEDGE

President Nixon has said he would not send American forces beyond 21.7 miles into Cambodia without seeking congressional approval.

The operation would take half of the 500 Americans involved all the way to Phnom Penh. The sources said there will be 40 U.S. boats and 60 South Vietnamese craft.

The South Vietnamese part of the operation was first disclosed by the Foreign Ministry in an unprecedented public announcement of a future operation.

WONT CONFIRM

In Washington, a top Pentagon spokesman refused either to confirm or deny reports of the imminent river operation into Cambodia.

But he said, "We would deeply deplore any release of any information on upcoming operations that would endanger lives of U.S. troops."

Jerry Friedheim, deputy assistant secretary of defense, noted that correspondents agreed to certain ground rules in covering the Vietnam war, including rules against reporting military operations in advance of an official announcement by the U.S. Command.

Asked whether he took the position that a newsman reporting an official announcement by the South Vietnamese Foreign Ministry could be considered to have breached these ground rules, Friedheim said, "I don't know if they announced it or not."

NOT CLEAR

Friedheim said the concept of the operations against the Cambodian sanctuaries of the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces does not involve the securing of Phnom Penh, Cambodia's capital.

There also were reports that U.S. 7th Fleet aircraft carriers were maneuvering in the Gulf of Tonkin off North Vietnam but the intention was not clear.

In announcing the operation, the Foreign Ministry said air cover would be provided for the flotilla, but it did not make clear whether these would be U.S. or South Vietnamese aircraft, or both.

In a related development, it was learned that the government is considering an amphibious assault at the big port of Kompong Som—formerly Sihanoukville—and the Cambodian base of Ream, reported to be threatened by North Vietnamese troops only 20 miles away. Ream is 15 miles southeast of Kompong Som.

Presumably the South Vietnamese are seeking American support for this amphibious assault should they decide to carry it off.

Sources said the American part of the task force in the Phnom Penh operation on the Mekong River will include 38 gunboats armed with 50-caliber machine guns and two 350-foot long landing ships to be used as command posts.

The landing ships also will help carry back any of the 200,000 Vietnamese living in Phnom Penh who want to return to their homeland.

House Votes Down Okay Of 'Policy'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to prohibit U.S. combat troops in Cambodia have defeated in a dramatic House session punctuated by angry outbursts on the floor and cheers and hisses from the galleries.

Even an amendment President Nixon said endorsed his decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia—and opponents said would give him open-end authority to wage war—went down to resounding defeat.

In parliamentary sleight of hand designed to prevent a flat ban against U.S. troops in Cambodia from coming to a vote, the House approved the amendment by Rep. Paul Findley, R-Ill., 171 to 144—then immediately killed it 221 to 32.

"I'm not for one of these amendments, not one," House Armed Services Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., said in urging no House action on Cambodia. "I'd take the Findley amendment as a last resort."

"The President of the United States is doing exactly right with or without this Findley amendment," Rivers said. "President Nixon is saving American boys and you are committed to the same objective—it's as simple as that."

Then drawing loud hisses from the antiwar-dominated spectators in the packed galleries, Rivers added: "I want to talk about something we haven't heard much about here—patriotism."

The angry outbursts from the floor came when the House voted to limit all debate on the Cambodia amendments to a period that gave each speaker 45 seconds to state his case.

Rep. Donald W. Reigle Jr., R-Mich., grabbed a microphone, wheeled around to face the galleries and demanded: "Have you ever seen a sadder sight in your life?"

Spectators cheered and they and Reigle were gavelled to order by the chair. The anger in the House reflected the tide of dissent and disorder sweeping many of the nation's college campuses over Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia.

The antiwar strikes, marches and sit-ins, which multiplied rapidly after the killing of four Kent State University students Monday, continued to mushroom Wednesday.

Gov. Louie B. Nunn of Kentucky ordered state police and National Guardsmen "with mounted bayonets and live ammunition" onto the University of Kentucky campus to enforce a curfew in the wake of an antiwar protest. Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio called for the immediate shutdown of all universities experiencing unrest in his state.

Practical Joke

CAPTAIN COOK, Hawaii (AP) — Roger Bell, 22, was arrested on a common nuisance charge when police spotted him chasing a car in the nude.

Bell, a carpenter, said his clothes were in the car and that the driver "was playing a joke on me."

DESPITE BOOM Technology Can Keep World Fed

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — A massive injection of technology can keep the world fed over the next 30 years despite booming population, an eminent scientist says.

"The natural resources available to present technology are sufficient to allow a vast improvement in the standard of living of all the people who will inhabit the earth 20 to 30 years from now," said Dr. Roger Revelle, director of the Harvard Center for Population Studies.

Speaking at the opening of a three-day conference on technological change and population growth Wednesday at California Institute of Technology, Revelle asserted that birth control — although necessary — cannot be a substitute for economic development.

Some at the conference disagreed with Revelle. "We cannot use the same technological budgeon on the underdeveloped countries that we have used on our own, seriously deteriorating our environment," said John P. Holdren of Stanford University.

"There is no such thing as a free lunch," Holdren said. "It is paid for by someone."

Nixon News Conference

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon will hold a televised news conference Friday, his first since Jan. 30, the White House announced Wednesday.

Press Secretary Ronald Ziegler said the exact time of the news conference would be announced later. He added that Nixon probably would not begin the conference by making a statement.

Instead, Ziegler said, the President probably would immediately begin answering questions.

BLAST OFF PARTY Industrial Announcement

A "Blast Off Big Spring" party, complete with "space food," "moon music," and "astro entertainment" is scheduled for the Cosden Country Club at 8:30 p.m., May 13, according to Mrs. Janell Davis, vice president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

The party will include, according to Chamber President Paul Meek, "an announcement of great importance to the future of industrialization in Big Spring."

Coordinating activities, food and entertainment for the affair are Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Don Wiley, Mrs. Morris Robertson and Mrs. Richard L. Davis. Mrs. Davis said tickets can be obtained by calling the Chamber of Commerce at 263-7641. They are $3.50 each. "The affair is not," she said, "limited to Chamber of Commerce members, but is open to anyone in Big Spring who cares about news of industrial importance."

Entertainment, other than the announcement concerning industry, will include two bands, Jack Camden's Combo and, for a total change of pace, The Living Us, plus a floor show with singers, dancers and the comedy of L. K. Glassen.

Weapons Plot Hints Fresh Irish Attacks

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — The implication of two cabinet ministers in a plot to smuggle arms to the outlawed Irish Republican Army raised new fears today of another summer of violence in neighboring British-ruled Northern Ireland.

Prime Minister Jack Lynch told the Irish Parliament Wednesday night that he had fired Agriculture Minister Neill Bane and Finance Minister Charles Haughey after receiving "information which purported to connect them with an alleged attempt to unlawfully import arms."

Opposition leader Liam Cosgrave said the arms were intended for an illegal organization, and it was generally assumed that he meant the IRA and Roman Catholic extremists in Protestant-ruled Ulster.

For two sets of Big Spring parents, the disorder at Kent State University in Ohio struck close to home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brooks, 801 Marcy, have a daughter who is a freshman there, and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Thomas Difloure, 54 Chanute, have a son who is a senior.

Thomas Lee Difloure, 21, is chief photographer for the Kent State News, the campus newspaper, and his parents said he is busy covering the events there for several newspapers. Several hundred feet of movie film taken by him have been shown on national television, Mrs. Difloure said.

Mrs. Difloure said her son was in Taylor Hall overlooking the Common when the four students were shot. He called his parents immediately after the shooting, and was one of the few persons to place calls before phone communications with Kent State became inoperative.

"He sounded horrified," Mrs. Difloure said. "Of course he had called us Sunday to tell us the campus was getting pretty ugly and that he wasn't going out among the students with his camera," she said.

Mrs. Difloure said that her son lives off campus and that he and several others had been "holed up" in their apartment because of the curfew.

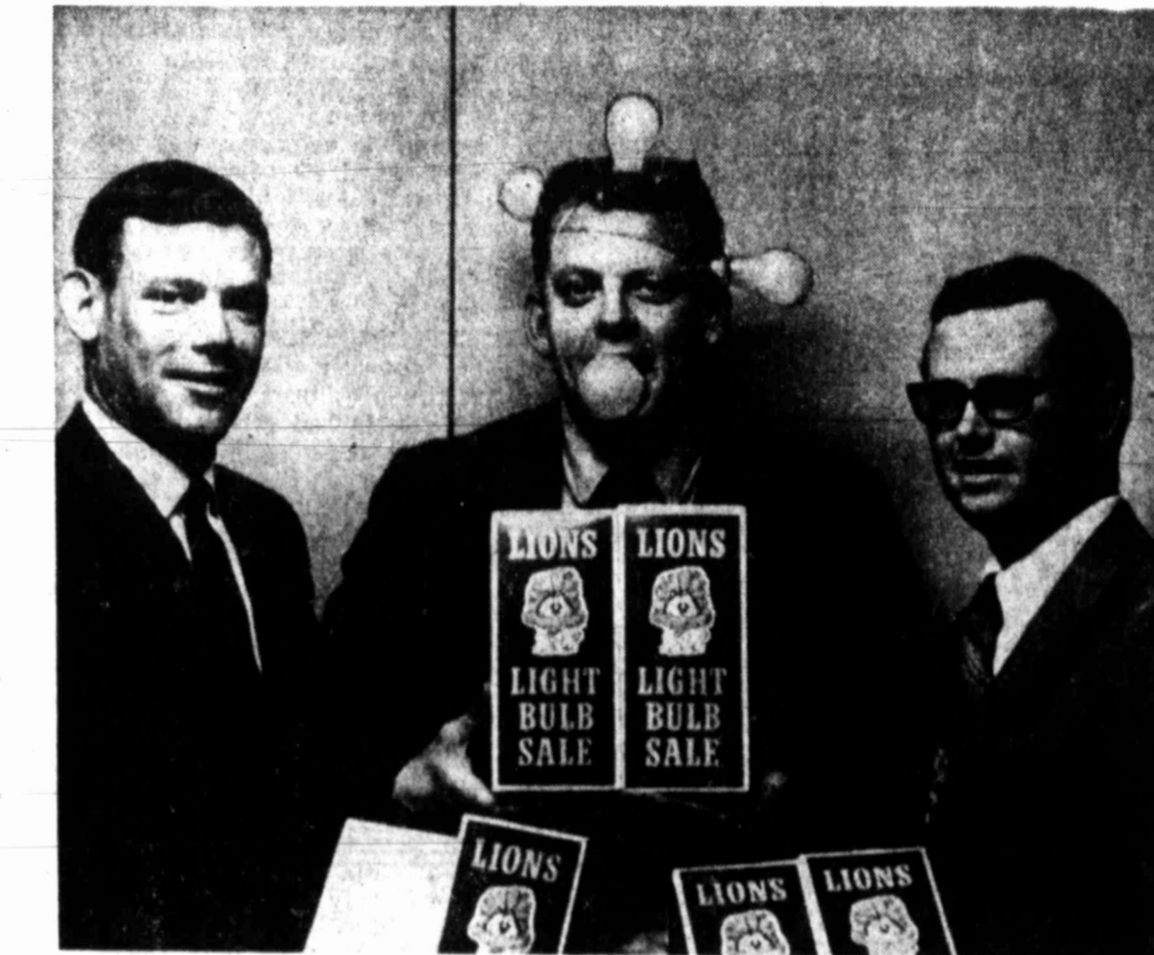

"He said when he went out to his car after the students were shot, the cars on either side of his were bullet-ridden. We told him not to worry about his car."

Mrs. Difloure said her son called Thursday night and said the town was quiet and businesses are beginning to reopen, although there still is no word on whether the university will reopen this quarter.

Difloure is an honor student at Kent and was to graduate in August. He is a political science and journalism major and is now working on his honors thesis.

Conni Brooks, 19, is staying with her grandmother in Baltimore, Md., until a decision is made whether to reopen the university this quarter.

Moon Flight Delayed Until Next Year

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today told the space agency today to postpone until next year the scheduled Oct. 1 launch of the Apollo 14 moon flight.

The delay will give more time to study the problems encountered last month on the Apollo 13 flight, the committee said in a report on a $17 billion money bill.

An explosion aboard the Apollo 13 spacecraft forced the National Aeronautics and Space Administration to call off the moon landing and imperiled the lives of the crew before their lunar lander helped bring them home safely.

Arson Charges Filed In Austin

AUSTIN (AP) — Charges of arson were filed today against one of the University of Texas anti-war demonstrators as a "strike" against classes went into its third day.

Laredo Cole, 29, of Austin was named in arson charges filed before Justice of Peace Bob Kuhn.

University officials said their records showed no student by that name. Kuhn set bond of $10,000 and Cole was returned to the Travis County jail.

University police said there was no doubt the anti-war demonstrations Tuesday and Wednesday were connected with a blaze started in Building Z late Wednesday night. There was slight damage to the temporary structure housing university Biology Department experimental animals.

Officers said witnesses saw two men light a fire under a corner of the building and run. Four Austin Fire Department trucks quickly put out the flames caused by gasoline and newspapers.

A witness said the two men ran from the fire toward the main mall nearby where several hundred demonstrators spent the night after Wednesday's protest.

'Witch' Helps Men Rape Teen In Hall Of Horrors

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — An 18-year-old girl was flogged with a cat-o-nine-tails and raped early today after she was dragged into the Hall of Horrors wax museum in the French Quarter, police said.

A self-proclaimed witch, who collects admission fees at the museum, was booked with aggravated battery, being an accessory to rape and possession of marijuana.

Three men—including the owner of the museum and a tour guide—were booked with aggravated rape.

The girl told police she was walking past the museum with a male companion at about 2 a.m. when a man emerged from the building with a gun and a knife and forced them into the museum. She said she was stripped and whipped by Patricia Jan Hall, 27, also known by her witchcraft name of Inca Anjelique Queen, and then raped by one of the men.

The girl said she broke away from one of her captors at about 5 a.m. and ran into the street. Police officers heard her screams and rushed to the scene where they made the four arrests.

The three men booked with aggravated rape were identified as William Rhodes, 24; Kerry R. King, owner of the museum, and Peter M. Valenzuela, a tour guide.

Police said the girl's companion was held at knifepoint but was not harmed.

80 COLLEGES OFFICIALLY CLOSED, GROWING PROTESTS

Guardsmen Leaving Kent State

STUDENT COMFORTED — Michael Montgomery, 20, a University of New Mexico student from Albuquerque, is comforted Wednesday by unidentified students after a car rammed a barricade. He was hospitalized in good condition.

By The Associated Press

More than 80 colleges and universities were officially closed today in the growing campus protests against the war and the killing of four students at Kent State University in Ohio.

Most of the activities were peaceful but there were incidents of violence that brought National Guardsmen to schools in Kentucky and Illinois and new clashes at the University of Wisconsin in Madison.

Students at the University of Missouri and Syracuse University burned effigies of President Nixon during rallies.

REAGAN'S ACTION

California Gov. Ronald Reagan closed the entire state college and university system totaling 28 campuses until Monday, asking that the 300,000 students reflect "on the grave sequence of current events."

He also asked the state's 92 two-year junior colleges with 750,000 students and the state's private colleges with about 100,000 to close, and many of them did.

"I want to make it very clear that closing the campuses... is not in any way giving in to those who preach and practice violence," he said in a statewide television talk. "This four-day period is support for those who believe in nonviolence."

Pennsylvania State University, with 18 campuses, was ordered closed. Ohio State University was closed by its president shortly after Gov. James A. Rhodes said all Ohio schools experiencing unrest should be shut.

The National Student Information Center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., said 258 schools had reported they were participating in the anti-war strike.

DON'T LOAD

Gov. Louis B. Nunn of Kentucky ordered state police and National Guard troops "with mounted bayonets and live ammunition" onto the University of Kentucky campus to enforce a curfew. But the guardsmen were told not to load their rifles.

His action came after 750 students ignored at 5 p.m. curfew order by university President Otis Singletary after an Air Force ROTC building was burned. "My decision was to wait until the campus was half burned down with lives being lost or to act," Nunn declared.

Steve Bright, president of the Kentucky student body and a leader in the demonstration that prompted the action, termed it "completely absurd and unnecessary."

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie called 5,000 Illinois National Guardsmen to standby alert. The troops had standing orders not to load or fire their weapons without direct orders.

HURL BOMBS

Some 450 troops relieved police Wednesday night in patrolling Southern Illinois University at Carbondale after a clash that left nine students and 12 policemen injured.

An old frame house that was used as extra administration office space was firebombed early today. Small fires flared at several places on the campus Wednesday night, and barricades were thrown up in the streets and burned.

MORE GUARDS

Officials said more guardsmen had been activated and might be brought to the capital today. In three days of violence more than 60 persons have been arrested in Madison.

Weary National Guardsmen continued their exodus today from Kent State University, on orders of Gov. Rhodes. The move was opposed by Ronald Kane, the Portage County prosecutor who said, "The situation is still a potentially eruptive and explosive one."

Thirty-five students occupied the ROTC offices at the University of Montana Wednesday for less than three hours. They left after the administration agreed to suspend ROTC activities for the duration of the current anti-war boycott. The takeover was the first such protest in the history of the state.

Three students were stabbed and five others were struck by cars at a barricade Wednesday in protest incidents at the University of New Mexico. One of the injured was reported in serious condition.

The campus protests were precipitated by the President's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia. The size and intensity of demonstrations grew when National Guardsmen killed four students at Kent State during a demonstration.

representatives of the Association of American Universities to meet with him today to discuss the campus disruptions and the war.

The organizers planning a mass march in Washington Saturday said they will bring the demonstration as close to the White House as they can get despite government efforts to keep them blocks away at the Washington monument.

As he was meeting with the Kent representatives, the board of directors of the Association of American Colleges, representing 900 institutions, called on Nixon to "take immediate steps to reverse the growing alienation between the White House and the academic community."

Enrollment Stable

Enrollment in Big Spring schools was stable last week, the net loss being only three. Elementary schools gained six, secondary schools lost nine — five each in Rannels Junior High and five in senior high. The week ended with 3,725 pupils in elementary grades, 3,195 in secondary, and 158 in special education, a total of 7,078. A year ago the comparable date had 7,205 pupils.

HCJC Students Taking Play To Odessa Stage

The Globe Theatre of the Great Southwest in Odessa Friday and Saturday will stage the Howard County Junior College Hawk Players' production of "Our Town." Curtain time each evening is 8:30 o'clock.

The Globe is the Southwest's only replica of Shakespeare's Globe Theatre and is the home of a professional theatre company which produces plays throughout the year, each summer holding a Shakespearean Festival. "It is an honor for our group to perform in the Globe," states Dan Shockey, director of the HCJC Hawk Players. "The Globe has a stage which provides interesting staging effects."

"Our Town" won the Pulitzer Prize for its author, Thornton Wilder. It is a sentimental picture of life in America just after the turn of the century. The focus is on the courtship, marriage, and death of a young couple in a small town.

Admission price is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, at the door.

Names Hotel

HONOLULU (AP) — The Army finally has decided on a name for the 16-story hotel it is building at Ft. DeRussy.

It will be called Hale Koa — Hawaiian for "House of the Warrior."

Big Springers Place High At State Contest

Big Spring students, among 1,000 individuals entering 4,000 projects in the state industrial arts competition last weekend in Austin, captured two divisions and won several other places.

Douglas Beams won the over-all division in architectural testing, while Lynn Cauley took the division on technical speaking.

Winning first place ribbons were Tracy Guess, speaking; Doug Beams, architectural test; Richard Ethun, drafting; and Lmy Simpson, surfboard project.

John Gary captured a pair of second places in architectural project and architectural test.

Gary Jakubicki won third place with his sheet metal drawing.

Students earned the right to attend the state meet by winning in one or both of the area meets held in Odessa and Abilene, according to B. D. Brooks, department director.

MITCHUM, FLYNN, CURTIS Whatever Happened To Morals Clause?

By BOB THOMAS Associated Press Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The news of Tony Curtis' being arrested for possession of marijuana in England raised a question among film observers: Whatever happened to the morals clause?

There's no indication yet whether the incident will affect Curtis' contract for an ABC television series. Probably not. The series isn't scheduled until the 1971-72 season.

Besides, a marijuana rap is different now from what it was in 1949.

When Robert Mitchum almost lost his career because of one, he drew a 60-day jail sentence. Curtis paid a $120 fine.

If Mitchum's employers had chosen to do so, he could have been fired from his $3,250-a-week contract. The reason is that every movie actor in those times had a morals clause in his contract.

The morals clause was the invention of wily Will Hays, President Warren Harding's postmaster general and the man elected by the movie producers after a series of scandals. The new film czar argued that misbehaving stars could be kept in line by the threat of firing.

"It was a very real threat," recalls a veteran Hollywood attorney.

"But as far as I know, the morals clause was never invoked. I believe the studios tried to use it to get out of contracts with accused Communists during the red scare. But the wording was too broad and the clause didn't hold up in those cases."

But the morals clause remained. Producers remembered all too vividly how Paramount had gotten stuck with hundreds of thousands of dollars' worth of Fatty Arbuckle comedies. The funnyman was tried three times and finally acquitted in the party death of a young woman.

That happened early in Hollywood history. In later years it appeared that the morals clause was merely an instance of producer hypocrisy. It could have been involved by RKO in Mitchum's case. Or Warner Bros. might have fired Errol Flynn when he was accused—then acquitted—of seducing a couple of minors on his yacht.

It so happened that both Flynn and Mitchum were even more popular after the scandals. Hence neither of their studios considered application of the morals clause.

Rep. Dowdy Wants Trial Held In Texas

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Leon H.A. Pierson, counsel for Rep. John Dowdy, D-Tex., filed a motion for change of venue in U.S. District Court Wednesday.

Pierson, seeking to have the bribery trial moved from Maryland to Texas, also asked dismissal of one count of Dowdy's indictment on the count of conspiracy to violate conflict of interest statutes in Dowdy's indictment, contending the charge was too vague.

Dowdy is charged with accepting $25,000 to influence a federal investigation of a now-defunct Washington, D.C., home repair firm.

Pierson also asked that the perjury counts against the Democratic congressman be separated from the others.

He presented other defense motions requesting certain details relating to the case, including testimony of witnesses and other government evidence.

Arguments on the motions will be heard Monday by Chief Judge Roszel C. Thomsen.

Hospital Staffers To Receive Awards

Big Spring State Hospital's third annual awards banquet will be held Friday at 7 p.m. featuring presentation of commendation awards to five of the hospital staff.

Cullen Akins, humorist and long-time West Texas civic leader, will address the gathering in BSSH's Allred Auditorium.

Five staffers are selected each year to receive the hospital's highest award for excellence in service and dedicated performance. The recipients will not be announced until Friday night. A special award will also be announced Friday.

Another 46 hospital employees will receive awards for long service to BSSH. Among them, Mrs. Pearl Jenkins, of the hospital's nursing service, will be presented an award for 20 years service on the eve of her retirement.

He'll Propose Cent-A-Pound Disposal Fee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire said Wednesday he'll propose a penny-a-pound disposal fee on all products—including cars—likely to end in the junk pile within 10 years of manufacture.

"Such a nationwide fee would provide a steady source of funds and an incentive for polluters to control the waste they generate," Proxmire said in a speech prepared for delivery in the Senate Thursday.

"A national disposal fee would generate the funds desperately needed by the cities to cope with rising mountains of solid waste," Proxmire said.

He said the average city spends $20 a ton for collection and disposal costs—"which is what the cent-a-pound fee would raise."

Under his plan, Proxmire said a 3,500 pound car would carry a disposal fee of $35, a five-pound Sunday New York Times, five cents.

He said the charge would generate $3 billion annually and that five per cent of it—$150 million—would be available for research and development in methods of collecting and treating solid waste.

CULLEN AKINS

Akins is a successful oil man who has turned his attentions to civic work in recent years. While serving with organizations such as Lions International, the Boy Scouts of America and the Community Chest, he became well known throughout the Southwest as a humorous speaker with an interesting message to offer his audiences.

D.F. Preston Harrison, superintendent of BSSH, will present both the commendation and special awards, and hospital chaplain Lee Butler will direct a memorial service.

The program Friday night is dedicated to the 10 past recipients of the commendation award.

Power Strike Idles 2,200

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — No progress was reported in negotiations between representatives of the Gulf States Utilities Co. and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers after talks recessed Wednesday night.

A total of 2,200 Gulf States employees in Texas and Louisiana are idled in the three-week strike.

A Gulf States spokesman said the company offered additional proposals for a settlement in Wednesday's session and that IBEW representatives wanted to discuss the proposal in a private session.

Paternity Suit Hits Cary Grant

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A Superior Court paternity suit asks "reasonable support" for an infant which actor Cary Grant is alleged to have fathered by former writer Cynthia Bouron, 33. Grant is 66.

Attorney Donald Bringgold filed the action on behalf of Stephanie Andrea Grant, born last March 12 in Good Samaritan Hospital in Los Angeles.

It asks that Miss Bouron, described as an attractive dark haired woman, be named the child's guardian.

Grant's attorney, Stanley E. Fox, who said the actor was out of the city, told a newsman: "There is no validity to the charge."

Native Of Nepal Tells Lions Of Adventures

When Niranjan Sharma came to the United States from Nepal in 1966, he found himself 13,000 miles from home and surrounded by a totally new culture and new foods. Because the cafeteria was closed at TCU, where he was to enroll, he went hungry his first night because he did not know how to order food — he could only point to what he wanted.

Sharma detailed some of his adventures in a talk to the Downtown Lions at their Wednesday noon meeting. He briefed the club on his country's background and its government—a constitutional monarchy and parliament patterned after Britain, but with election procedures more nearly paralleling those of this country. The king has absolute power, but only once has he exercised it.

The country, mined between India and Red China, is on an international hot seat, yet efforts to promote it as a tourist attraction because of rugged mountain beauty are succeeding. In 1955 U.S. tourists numbered two; in 1968 this had grown to 18,000. Nepal, he reminded, has 20 of the world's 28 highest mountains, including Mt. Everest.

Although remote villages are backward, the capital is as modern as any American city. One problem has loomed: Because marijuana grows wild, some 1,500 hippies have migrated to Nepal.

Dr. Sharma came to this country under a Fulbright scholarship. He was one of 1,000 applying for the scholarship and finally landed it, but to his sorrow he couldn't get plane passage because VIPs had booked space to go to an international conference — and then that plane crashed. Eventually, Sharma made it, entered TCU for graduate study and made excellent grades. He married a Big Spring woman, Karen Gay, and subsequently accepted appointment as a social worker at Big Spring State Hospital. His latest accomplishment is being named president of his bowling league.

Local Officers Have Part In Narcotics Association

Concern among law enforcement officers over the state's pervasive drug problem resulted in the formation of the Texas Narcotics Officers Association at a meeting in Huntsville Tuesday with two Big Spring detectives in attendance.

Detectives Bill Lee and Jimmy McCain represented Big Spring Police Department's newly formed Narcotics Section at the organizational meeting, which was attended by officers of most major law enforcement agencies in the state.

Lee said Wednesday afternoon the association was formed to help coordinate drug law enforcement and education across the state. Recent legislative attempts to reduce the penalty for possession of marijuana to a misdemeanor also pointed up the need for an organization to give a strong voice to narcotics officers in government councils, Lee said.

Howie Katz, former law enforcement officer now an instructor at Sam Houston State University, was the principal organizer of the association, Lee said. Katz contacted all departments large enough to have a narcotics program and asked them to attend, he said.

Elmer Terrell, intelligence officer with the Department of Public Safety, was elected the association's first president, Lee said. Jimmy Riggs, of U.S. Customs, will serve as the first vice president, and Katz a secretary-treasurer.

For organizational purposes, the state was divided into four regions with Capt. Jim Maynard, Midland Police Department, heading the West Texas area which includes Big Spring, Odessa, Midland, San Angelo and others, Lee said.

The next general meeting of the association will be held July 9 in Austin, Lee said.

Sweetwater Man Loses Bar Race

AUSTIN (AP) — James C. Watson, 52, of Corpus Christi, is the new president-elect of the State Bar.

He will become president in July, 1971, moving up from the vice presidency.

Watson defeated Howard G. Barker of Fort Worth in mail balloting.

Franklin Jones Jr. of Marshall was elected vice president over Charles R. Griggs of Sweetwater. He will take office at the bar's annual convention in San Antonio in July.

Wallace's Star Dimmed By Brewer

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Alabama's Republican national committeeman says George C. Wallace's second-place showing in the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination makes him "a dud; sword" as a presidential threat in 1972.

And the chairman of the state Democratic Executive Committee said the former governor "will destroy himself nationally" if he injects a racial issue into the June 2 runoff for the nomination against Gov. Albert Brewer.

Brewer carried most of the predominantly black counties and the big-city districts where Negroes have a majority. Wallace had charged before the primary that black "militants" were conspiring to beat him.

The former governor, who accused President Nixon's administration and both GOP and Democratic leaders of working against him, said he would make a pitch also against "Washington interference."

James D. Martin, the Republican national committeeman from Gadsden, said it would be "difficult for Wallace to launch another third-party movement having been defeated in his own state and not having won the governor's office to use as a base."

The state Democratic chairman, Robert S. Vance of Birmingham, said the former governor "will destroy himself nationally if he yells 'nigger, nigger, nigger'" in the showdown against Brewer.

"He has tried to convince the nation that he isn't a racist," Vance said. "If he runs 'nigger' now, he destroys himself, win, lose or draw."

Cabot Acquires Gas Property

Industrial Gas Corporation, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Cabot Corporation, has acquired Owens, Libbey-Owens Gas Department from Libbey-Owens-Ford Co. and Owens-Illinois Inc. It was announced today by Robert A. Charpie, president of Cabot Corporation. The transfer was effective May 1.

The Gas Department owns substantial gas producing properties, a pipe line gathering system, and compressor stations in the west central portion of West Virginia. The gas properties include 55,000 acres of developed oil and gas leases and mineral rights, and 110,000 acres of undeveloped leases and mineral rights. There are over 750 company-operated gas lines which, in calendar 1969 produced four billion cubic feet of natural gas. In addition, the Gas Department purchases gas from 160 wells of other producers in the area.

HICKEL SUGGESTS AGNEW BE MUZZLED ON STUDENT DISSENT

Administration Attacks Denounced

WALTER J. HICKEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration attacks on young dissenters have been denounced as "inflammatory rhetoric" by the President's own youth advisor and gently criticized by a cabinet member.

Within hours Tuesday, a letter to the President from Interior Secretary Walter J. Hickel suggested the administration has shown a lack of concern for young people was made public and Nixon appointee Anthony J. Moffett named as director of the Office of Students and Youth.

ANTHONY J. MOFFETT

LITTLE PURPOSE

Hickel, who said he had composed the letter for Nixon's eyes only, wrote that administration policies appear "to lack concern for the attitude of a great mass of Americans—our young people."

He politely suggested that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew be muzzled on the subject of student dissent.

"A continued attack on the young—not in their attitudes so much as their motives—can serve little purpose other than further to cement those attitudes to a solidity impossible to penetrate with reason," Hickel wrote.

Moffett, whose rumored resignation became official today with a strongly worded statement on the administration's attitudes toward youth, was less diplomatic.

SPIRO T. AGNEW

MIXED UP

Nixon, Moffett said in a statement, "has shown that he does not understand young people, nor does he wish to communicate with them."

He decried the President's characterization of rioting students as "bums" and his statement that the death of four Kent State University students by National Guard bullets should "remind us once again that when dissent turns to violence it invites tragedy."

"A tone has been set by this administration that has tended to increase polarization," Moffett said in an interview Wednesday night. "The inflammatory rhetoric in the air by administration officials did not help the situation there (Kent State)."

Hickel pleaded with Nixon to solicit the views of individual cabinet members on the current campus crisis and suggested consultations with college officials.

Although Nixon earlier had declined to meet with 37 college and university presidents on the campus response to U.S. military action in Cambodia, the White House confirmed that the heads of nine campuses conferred in Washington Wednesday night with the President.

Nixon spent nearly an hour Wednesday afternoon with six

Kent State students, during which, they said to reporters, they told the President there is a lack of communication between the administration and students.

The President reportedly promised them a full investigation of the shooting deaths at Kent State.

Hickel's assertion the administration cannot afford to alienate the nation's youth was predictably well received among antiwar activists, but they expressed skepticism Nixon would heed his advice.

"The President," said David Hawk, a former coordinator of the Vietnam Moratorium Committee who is now active in the National Student Association's strike, "doesn't listen to anyone."

SCARED

Hickel, Hawk said, "is absolutely right that the President's actions in Vietnam and Cambodia and his statements and those of the vice president are alienating students. They're alienating parents, too."

Bob Bresnahan, a strike coordinator for the Student Mobilization Committee, said Hickel apparently has recognized the political consequences of the Cambodian incursion and the Kent State killings.

"He has allied himself with the forces within the Republican party who are scared out of their pants by this thing," Bresnahan said.

Hickel, the father of six children, compared today's events with the American Revolution and the Depression, and added: "Today our young people, or at least a vast segment of them, believe they have no opportunity to communicate with government, regardless of administration, other than through violent confrontation. And they are convinced we—and I have the capacity, if we will have the willingness, to learn from history."

DEAF EARS

During the revolution, he continued, the protests of Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson "fell on deaf ears, and finally led to war."

In the Depression "our youth lost their ability to communicate with the Republican party. What is happening today is not unrelated to what happened in the '30s. Now being unable to communicate with either party, they are apparently heading down the road to anarchy."

"And regardless of how I, or any American, might feel individually, we have an obligation as leaders to communicate with our youth and listen to their ideas and problems."

National Guardsmen Carry Empty Rifles

WASHINGTON (AP) — National Guardsmen called out to control protests at four major universities across the country after the Kent State shootings have been given orders to keep their guns unloaded.

Troops sent into the University of Kentucky to force a night-long curfew were issued live ammunition Wednesday on orders from Gov. Louie B. Nunn, but the guardsmen were told not to load their rifles.

Ammunition was kept from guardsmen at the University of Wisconsin, where students built barricades in the streets and set them ablaze before being routed by tear gas Wednesday night.

Only in Ohio were guardsmen still carrying loaded rifles, but new warnings were issued against opening fire in the wake of the earlier deaths.

Four students were killed and 10 wounded Monday when Ohio National Guardsmen shot into a crowd of antiwar demonstrators at Kent State. What touched off the gunfire remains unclear, enmeshed in controversy and confusion.

Illinois put 5,000 guardsmen on standby alert and sent part of the force onto the Southern Illinois University campus after a clash Wednesday night. But the militia's top general said the troops had standing orders not to load or fire without a specific command from a senior officer.

Guard guns were also kept unloaded at the University of Maryland, where the last troops were withdrawn Wednesday after five days of demonstrations.

The Pentagon's riot regulations say troops are allowed to load their weapons only upon an officer's orders or if their lives are in danger.

Brig. Gen. Robert Canterbury has said his Ohio guardsmen, under state control at the time of the shootings, carry live ammunition when assigned to riot duty and routinely load their weapons when sent into action.

At Kent State, where troops gradually are being pulled out, and at Ohio State University, closed after unrest Wednesday, soldiers were still carrying loaded rifles, according to Guard headquarters.

But a spokesman said commanders had issued troops new precautions not to fire unless ordered or unless fired upon first.

Gov. Nunn warned that troops sent into the University of Kentucky after a campus fire would be armed "with mounted bayonets and live ammunition." He said they would use necessary force to protect property.

But state Adj. Gen. Larry C. Dawson said the Kentucky guardsmen were ordered not to load their weapons.

In Illinois, Adj. Gen. Harold R. Patton said guns would be kept unloaded unless troops were given a direct command by an officer. He added, "The guardsmen will not fire into crowds. These are standing orders."

The Guard patrolled the SIU campus at Carbondale, Ill., after nine students and 12 policemen were injured in a clash. The troops were kept in an armory off campus during the actual fighting.

At Madison, Wis., guardsmen and police were pelted with rocks as they moved in on burning barricades built in the streets. Clouds of tear gas scattered the students.

Call Sheriff For Rural Fires

In a matter of weeks it will be "grassfire season" again in West Texas. Howard County Sheriff A. V. Standard is reminding residents that rural firefighting units can be contacted through his office as well as at the individual stations. Sheriff Standard said he has a list of volunteer firemen who can be called in case of rural fires.

Playdays Set

The Coahoma Roping Club will have open playdays May 16, July 11 and Aug. 29 in the Coahoma roping arena. The playdays will start promptly at 7 p.m. Gene Adams, president, said. The club also holds roping sessions at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday and Friday nights and at 2 p.m. every Sunday.

The bidding:

When East opened the bidding with one club, South chose to proceed directly to four spades. With a club lead, he could expect to take eight tricks and in the event that his partner could not provide two more, it was reasonable to assume that the opposition could score their way—so that whatever loss was incurred would be worth the price.

West led the four of clubs and East played the ace, dropping declarer's queen. It appeared that South also had the king of clubs and it was reasonable to assume from the four spade bid that declarer's trumps were solid. Prospects looked exceedingly dim, for as soon as the ace of hearts was dislodged, East could not expect to do more than take the ace of diamonds and then retire.

The only vague chance hinged on attempting to kill the dummy's side entry before the hearts became established. In order to launch a profitable attack on North's diamond holding, East must hope to find his partner with the jack of that suit. He accordingly returned a small diamond. His good fortune commenced when West produced the jack to force out dummy's queen.

Declarer was not very happy with the turn of events and he led the king of hearts in the hope that he could sneak thru a trick in that suit. East correctly guessed to play South for a singleton heart, and he put up the ace and exited with a club. Declarer was in and after drawing trump, he had no recourse but to lead a diamond from his hand. When West played low, the king was put up from dummy. East produced the ace and ten of diamonds to record a well earned profit on the deal.

Had East returned anything but a small diamond at trick two, South would have had time to drive out the ace of hearts while dummy still retains an eventual diamond entry to provide a stuf on the hearts.

ICC Orders Santa Fe Runs

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission ordered the Santa Fe Railroad Monday to continue operating—at least temporarily—passenger trains between Chicago and Los Angeles and Chicago and San Francisco.

The commissioner ordered the railroad to wait at least another six months before reapplying to discontinue the "Grand Canyon" and at least a year before seeking to discontinue "The Chief."

The "Grand Canyon" serves Los Angeles and Chicago. "The Chief" serves San Francisco and Chicago. Both run one train each way daily.

In return for the discontinuance, the Santa Fe had offered to re-route the present "Chief" so it would serve some—but not all—of the cities on the two present routes with the run terminating in Los Angeles.

The railroad had cited declining passenger revenue as the primary reason for seeking the discontinuance.

HE'S WANTED — The FBI in Washington released this picture of H. Rap Brown as they expanded the "10 Most Wanted Fugitives" list to 11, making room for the Negro militant. Brown, officially known as Hubert Geroid Brown, failed to appear Monday for his riot and arson trial in Maryland.

Guerrillas Stage Raids In Lebanon

TEL AVIV (AP) — Arab guerrillas made three attacks across the Lebanese border Wednesday night, ambushing an Israeli patrol at the eastern end of the frontier, shelling three settlements and penetrating to within 13 miles of Haifa, Israel's chief port. Four Israelis and four guerrillas were reported killed.

One group of Palestinian commandos ambushed an Israeli patrol on the slopes of Mt. Hermon, killing three soldiers and wounding two in a crossfire of bazookas and machine guns.

The patrol was bracketed by gunfire from both sides of the road, the Israeli command said. The Israelis returned the fire, scattering the attackers, and called in a helicopter to fly out their casualties.

The rocky area has been the scene of several bloody encounters between Israelis and Arab guerrillas.

Israeli troops killed four Arab infiltrators in a running battle through a forest 13 miles north-east of Haifa, the military command announced.

The guerrillas, on their deepest penetration from Lebanon since the 1967 Middle East war, clashed with the Israelis near Ahhud, about 13 miles south of the Lebanese frontier.

Three Israelis were wounded in the fighting, and troops and helicopters fanned out in a search for other infiltrators. Weapons, ammunition, sabotage materials and food were found on the bodies of the dead guerrillas.

It was the second deep penetration from Lebanon in a week. Earlier, guerrillas fought Israeli troops near Safad, about 10 miles from the frontier.

Arab guerrillas, in Lebanon also fired Soviet 120mm rockets at a school in Kiryat Shmona, in Upper Galilee, killed a 17-year old girl and wounded her father and her sister, the military command said.

The rockets ripped through the school, but did not injure 40 visiting children sleeping in a classroom. A number of houses were damaged.

The military command said two other Israeli settlements on the Israel-Lebanon frontier were shelled during the night, but there were no reports of casualties or damage.

On Israel's southern front, Israeli warplanes attacked Egyptian military objectives all along the Suez Canal for four hours today, the military command said.

All planes returned a spokesman said.

In Jerusalem, the Moslem Council, highest organized body of Arab leaders in Israeli-held territory, issued a formal protest over what it called "Israeli confiscation of Arab lands."

The council—made up of West Bank and Jerusalem court judges, labor leaders, and heads of professional groups—called on world public opinion and the International Red Cross to pressure the Israelis.

The Arabs were apparently protesting the Israeli closing of a 750-acre tract in Hebron, part of which will be used as a military base. The Israelis have promised not to interfere with Arab life in the area.

Smokers' Crutch

NEW YORK (AP) — A new crutch for smokers is a 1½-inch piece of sticky tape that shrinks with heat. The so-called "life-guard strip" can be placed around a cigarette at the place where the smoker wants it to go out. When the burning end reaches the strip, the tape shrinks, and strangles the cigarette.

Managing Editor Of Herald Accepts Austin Info Post

Glenn Cootes, managing editor of The Herald, has accepted appointment as public information director for the City of Austin effective June 1.

He will be working directly under Lynn Andrews, city manager at Austin.

His responsibilities encompass public information and service; supervision of the city's print shop; maintaining a master file on federal and state programs affecting the city; etc.

Primarily, his duties will be in liaison with news media representatives regarding city services, programs, developments, etc.

Cootes first joined The Herald in 1953, then left to take over operation of a weekly newspaper in Ohio in 1956. Subsequently, he was with papers in Deming, N.M., Marfa and Temple before rejoining The Herald in 1959. He has served as reporter, city editor, news editor, and managing editor.

He was reared in Handley and attended Dallas schools, the University of Texas, and served in the U.S. Marines during the Korean campaign.

He twice has served as president of the Little Theatre here, is president of the Cap Rock Chapter of March of Dimes, was one of the founders of the Y's Mens Club, served on various Chamber of Commerce committees, on the Tuberculosis Association board, Big Spring Traffic Commission, review board for policemen and firemen, and on the master plan committee. He also was an organizer of the Big Spring Flying Club.

He is married to the former Joyce Connaway, who was a Herald staff member and most recently public information staff member at Howard County Junior College. They have two children, Heidi, 6, and Glenn Jr., 3.

Fryrear Going To Conference

Bill Fryrear, superintendent and research agricultural engineer at the U.S. Big Spring Field Station, has been notified that he is one of about 100 junior and senior executives in the Agriculture Research Service selected to attend a Science and Education Conference.

The conference will be held Monday through Friday in the National Agricultural Library in Washington, D.C. Fryrear said participants will discuss future policies and programs of science and education to help the agriculture department better serve the people.

Rifle Stolen

Howard County sheriff's officers are investigating the theft of a bolt action rifle taken within the last month from A. B. Kinard, 1103 E. 16th. Kinard reported the theft Wednesday afternoon.

Rubber Strike Hits Goodrich

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The United Rubber Workers Union has struck eight of nine B. F. Goodrich Co. plants around the nation, idling nearly 10,000 employees despite what the company called "significant progress" in talks.

The action against B. F. Goodrich expanded the rubber industry strike that started 17 days ago when the URW struck Goodrich Tire & Rubber Co., idling some 22,600 rubber workers.

A union spokesman had said Wednesday night that the union plan was "not to take them (Goodrich plants) down all at once." He said all the company's plants would be closed by Monday if talks were not fruitful.

Negotiations continued today. Union contracts with Goodrich, Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and Uniroyal, Inc. expired at midnight April 20, but so far Firestone and Uniroyal have not been struck.

Goodrich plants idled are in Akron, affecting some 4,600 persons; Fort Wayne, Ind., 1,175; Miami, Okla., 1,557; Tuscaloosa, Ala., 1,086; Los Angeles, 643; Riverside, N.J., 143; Marion Ohio, 400, and Clarksville, Tenn., 350.

The union's contract with General Tire & Rubber Co. of Akron expires May 15.

UNFRIENDLY FIRE — The old Friendly Food Store building at Third and Bell burst into flame for the second time this year Wednesday night. A fireman here uses his hose from the roof to fight the blaze. No cause of the fire or estimate of total damage was available this morning.

Sheriff Checks On Shooting

Robert Atkins Fletcher, Sterling City Route, is in satisfactory condition today in Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital with a small-caliber bullet wound in the lower part of his back. Howard County Sheriff A. N. Standard said Mrs. Fletcher summoned Deputies Eddie Owen and Jimmy Ellison to her home about 12:20 a.m. today, saying her husband had been shot. Standard said the deputies recovered a gun. Mrs. Fletcher was treated for bruises and a fractured nose and released from the hospital. Standard said no charges have been filed.

Vacant Grocery Catches Fire Again

For the second time this year, fire raced through the vacant Friendly Food Store building at Third and Bell Wednesday night. Shortly after 9 p.m. 25 firemen were called to battle the blaze which firemen said apparently started in the southwest corner of the building. The former grocery still contained some refrigeration equipment and other store fixtures which were almost totally destroyed in the fire. At least four of the men fighting the fire came away with injuries which were thought to be minor pending a doctor's examination today. Princeton Daniel and Stanley Owens received foot injuries from protruding nails in the wreckage, and Lynn Clawson and Johnny Gasken both complained of having some trouble with their eyes after emerging from the smoke filled building. A crowd of spectators, some of whom pitched in to help, watched as part of the building's roof began to collapse while firemen were atop it with their hoses. No injuries were sustained as the firemen cleared the area and the roof fell in.

'Hot' Weather Due To Fade

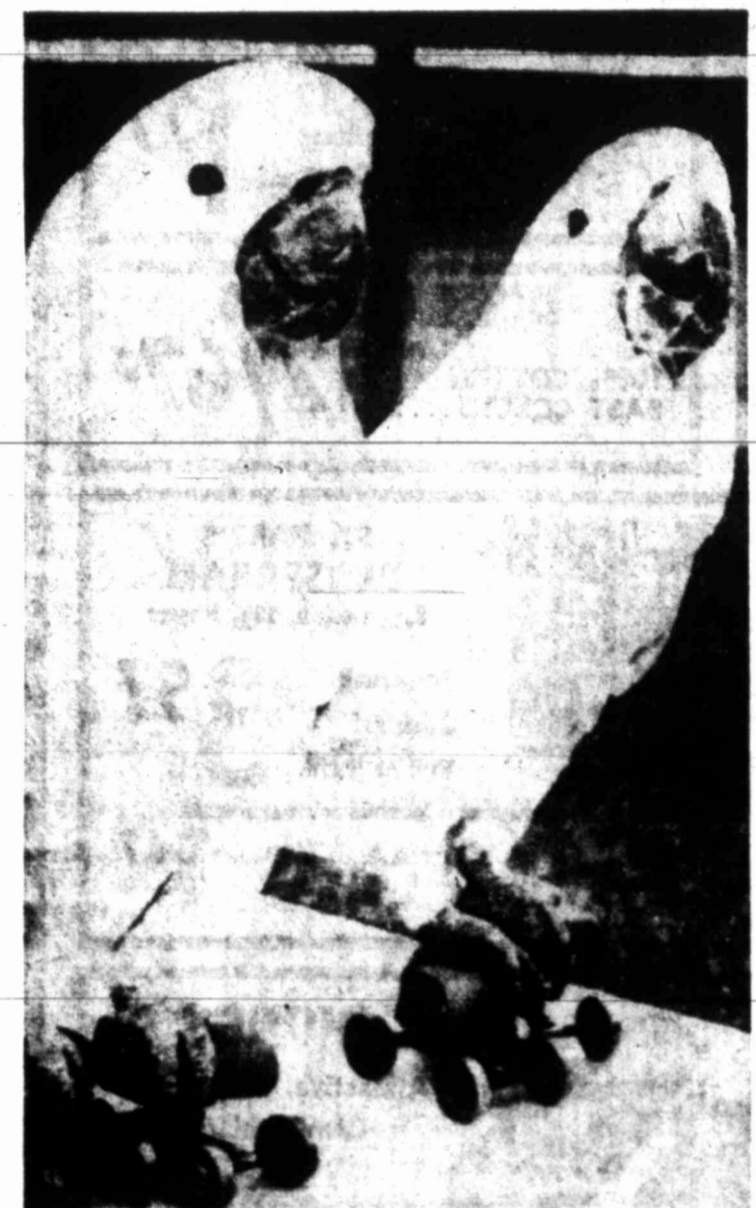

Skies were generally clear and mild temperatures prevailed over the state today, but the weekend prospects don't look as pleasant.

Southerly winds were expected to bring moisture up from the Gulf of Mexico to increase the cloudiness over the state and winds began picking up this morning in far West Texas.

A cold front from the Rockies should be moving into New Mexico today and into North Central Texas by late Friday and is expected to touch off thundershowers.

A warming trend will continue ahead of the front with a change to cooler weather once the front arrives.

Early morning temperatures were generally in the 50s and 60s with the warmest reported at El Paso with 75 degrees and several stations reporting 54.

SUMMER SPORTSTERS — Waiting for the summer crowds to roll up are two skating cockatoos at England's Flamingo Park Zoo. Whizzing along on roller skates is just one of the tricks they perform for their visitors.

GEORGE McALISTER

JIMMY TAYLOR

McAlister, Taylor Elected To West Texas C-C Board

George McAlister Jr. and Jimmy Taylor have been elected directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, according to F. V. Wallace, Amarillo, president of the regional organization.

McAlister and Taylor will represent their home town in the meetings of the board and speak for the other WTCC members in their city on matters of concern to all West Texas businessmen. They succeeded Lester Morton and R. W. Whippley.

Election of new directors was at the 52nd annual convention of the WTCC held recently in El Paso. Directors serve for three years and during that time work upon membership development, program of work and other matters relating to the local WTCC members. The director also serves as liaison between the local chamber of commerce and the regional organization.

The next board of directors meeting will be held in Abilene, July 23-24, according to Wallace, and details will be announced soon concerning the meeting.

The other member of the board from Big Spring is Joe A. Moss.

Mabee Foundation Gives Help For Basin Museum

Trustees of the J. E. and L. E. Mabee Foundation, Inc., of Tulsa, Okla., have pledged $250,000 to the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library, and Hall of Fame of Midland. The museum, a non-profit educational and scientific corporation, is in the early stages of a $6 million fundraising effort. It plans to construct a major industrial museum and library in Midland County that will deal with the history and science of oil and with the Permian Basin.

The Mabee Foundation gift is conditional upon the raising at least of $5 million from other sources and calls for construction to begin in 1971.

Trustees of the foundation, in notifying museum officers of their decision, acknowledged the interest of the late J. E. Mabee, prominent independent oilman in Midland and the West Texas-Southeastern New Mexico region. A resident of Tulsa, he spent much of his time in the Permian Basin and was responsible for a number of oil discoveries in the area.

Joe Mabee and Guy Mabee of Midland, two of the trustees, said they "thought the project is potentially an extremely valuable educational endeavor. Its planning seems sound."

John P. Butler, chairman of the museum's board of executors, termed the Mabee grant most generous and said it will challenge other potential givers.

Butler said that other gifts "of substantial size" have been pledged to the museum project and will be announced at a later time.

One other major gift to the museum project has been previously announced. The Abell-Hanger Foundation, Abilene, has pledged a total of $500,000 to the project, of which $300,000 is toward the construction and endowment of the museum and is conditional on the raising of at least $5 million. The remainder was channeled toward payment of interim operating expenses.

WEATHER FORECAST — Rain is forecast Thursday for the northwest coast of Washington, west of the Rockies in Montana and Wyoming and in northern New England. Showers are due for parts of Kansas and Nebraska.

Cowboys Vote No

KAMUELA, Hawaii (AP) — Cowboys on the world's second largest ranch have voted not to ride with the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union.

Only 18 of the 94 paniolas — Hawaiians for cowboy — voted in favor of the ILWU in a state-supervised election at the Parker ranch.

The 185,610-acre ranch, on the island of Hawaii, is second in size only to the King Ranch in Texas.

Students, Teachers Going To Science Symposium

Two high school students and two teachers from this area have been selected to attend the Tenth Texas Nuclear Science Symposium to be held at the University of Texas at Austin, June 2-5.

They will be sponsored by Texas Electric Service Company, a member of the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation which is joining with the university in putting on the symposium. The foundation is made up of 10 investor-owned electric power companies in Texas.

The students selected are Scott Birdwell, Big Spring High School, and Beverly Enger, Coahoma High School. The teachers who will accompany them to the symposium are W. R. Hakes, Big Spring, and P. A. Wynn, Coahoma.

Some 550 outstanding science students and their teachers, selected by their schools, will attend the four-day meeting. Scientists and engineers from industry and education will discuss nuclear physics and related topics, according to J. D. Womack, company manager.

Less-Than-Average Rain In Most Areas Of Texas

By The Associated Press
Most sections of Texas received less-than-average rainfall during April in contrast to March which was abnormally wet.

The Weather Bureau reported that temperatures were near the season average, being slightly cooler on the High Plains and a little warmer than normal elsewhere.

During the first week, there was little significant precipitation except in the Panhandle, where three to eight inches of snow fell April 3. The snow also marked one of the coldest beginnings of April in the past few years.

The month's most violent weather occurred the weekend of April 17-18, as a cold front swept across Texas, unleashing heavy thunderstorms from the Panhandle to the coast.

The storms spawned tornadoes which killed 24 persons and injured 200 as they ripped through the Panhandle and South Plains. Twelve towns were hit and property damage was estimated at $10 million.

Lakers, Knicks Even After Sixth Contest

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The New York Knicks and Los Angeles Lakers head back to Gotham for the seventh and deciding game for the National Basketball Association championship Friday night and the outcome may well depend on the Knicks' most valuable asset, Willis Reed.

The Lakers, with Reed on the sidelines, evened the title series at three games apiece before an appreciative crowd of 17,500 in the Forum Wednesday night, running away to a 135-113 victory.

Reed, in civilian attire, watched from the sidelines. He fell and suffered a painful muscle injury to the right hip in the fifth game Monday night in New York.

"Reed is a 50-50 possibility to play Friday night," said Coach Red Holzman. The 6-foot-10 star from Grambling, the NBA's Most Valuable Player in the regular season, left immediately after the game for further treatment — and rest — in New York.

The Lakers agreed New York is something with Reed — and something else without him.

Jerry West of Los Angeles summed it up when he said, "New York is in a bad way if Reed can't play."

The sixth game bore out a trend. Neither team has been able to win two in a row.

West got the Lakers off to a 2-0 lead and the team was never behind. The Lakers led by 20 points after the first and second periods, 19 after the third and refused to bend in the final.

The outstanding performer was giant Wilt Chamberlain, who topped the scoring with 45 points. He was also a huge force on defense, snaring 27 rebounds.

Chamberlain, who said he was "truly sorry when Reed was hurt," said he didn't particularly go for such high scoring, just "if the opportunity presented itself." It did.

"We'll be fighting for our life Friday night," said Dave DeBusscher, the Knicks' top scorer with 25.

Walt Frazier of the Knicks said, "home court has to be about a 10-point advantage for us. . . . The Garden will be pandemonium and the crowd may dictate the pace of the game Friday night."

Richard Petty Tears Up Car Following Run

DARLINGTON, S. C. (AP) — Richard Petty is having his usual problems at Darlington — which means that if he gets them solved, he'll be the driver to beat in Saturday's $85,000 Rebel 400.

Petty qualified his Plymouth in seventh starting position in Wednesday's first day of time trials for the spring stock car racing classic, then went out an hour later and demolished the car in practice.

Although he escaped injury, the 32-year-old veteran was forced to return to his Randleman, N.C., home for another car and bring it to the mile and three-eighths course at another qualifying effort today.

Petty, however, has managed to overcome bad luck several times this year.

Three weeks ago at North Wilkesboro, N.C., he broke the engine in his car and cracked the guard rail during practice. The incident kept him out of first-day qualifying, but on race day, he brought his backup car from 16th position in a field of 30 to grab the lead after 52 laps. From that point on he never trailed in gaining the 104th victory of his career.

Tom Seaver Sells Alston On Merits

By The Associated Press

And now the envelope please for this year's Cy Young Award winner . . .

Would you believe Tom Seaver again? He has the vote of Los Angeles' Manager Walt Alston and probably some of his players.

"Seaver is tops with no questions," Alston said after the New York Mets' Cy Young winner of 1969 beat his Dodgers 5-4 Wednesday night in cold, blustery Shea Stadium.

Although Seaver needed ninth-inning relief help, he picked up his sixth victory this season and 16th in succession over two years in regular season play.

"He's tough out there in any weather," said Alston. "But we battled him. Our kids sure as heck fought back."

Hank Aaron crashed his 11th homer and Phil Niekro pitched a five-hitter as Atlanta beat Pittsburgh 3-0 for its ninth straight and Philadelphia rallied to edge San Diego 4-3 in the night's only other games. Snow halted San Francisco at Montreal.

Reliever Ron Taylor said he felt he "was in for a night off" with Seaver going against the hitting-poor Dodgers. Seaver has lost only once to them in his career.

Leading 5-1, Seaver opened the ninth with his eighth strikeout. But then he came unglued with a walk to Wes Parker, a single by Bill Sudakis and a three-run homer by Willie Crawford.

An infield single by Billy Grabarkewitz and a bloop hit to right by Ted Sizemore followed and Seaver gave way to Taylor. He got the last two outs.

The victory was Seaver's seventh straight over the Dodgers and his ninth in 10 lifetime decisions.

Aaron's two-run homer, 565th of his career, sent the Braves to a 2-0 lead in the opening inning and that was all Niekro needed to record his third victory in seven decisions.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

In a letter to this window, Joe Reichler, director of public relations in the office of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, says the major leagues would welcome a Sunday telecast or even a week-night exposure on TV but adds: "It takes two to tango."

The big leagues have been criticized in some quarters for not yielding Sunday television rights to NBC. Apparently, the network wants to devote its Sunday afternoon time to other endeavors like professional golf or water skiing.

Toughest out in the National league is Willie McCovey of the San Francisco Giants.

So says Tom Seaver, the pitching ace of the New York Mets. Most hitters in the league will tell you Seaver is the stingiest man in baseball, when it comes to sharing attention with the batters.

If the NBA-ABA merger materializes, don't be surprised if the Washington franchise is moved to St. Louis, which has been without a club since the Hawks shuffled on down to Atlanta.

Washington is a good football town, mainly because the bureaucrats are willing to take one afternoon off a week to watch a little mayhem but they don't like to miss too many cocktail parties during the week. For that reason, they won't support baseball or basketball.

If coach Howard Wilder of HCJ can't line up an eight-team basketball tournament here for January, he'll settle for a four-team event in which two area teams will switch opponents on successive nights.

Wilder says Bob Bass, the Texas Tech mentor, has given every indication he will help steer the talent to Howard County he reasons isn't quite ready to play senior college ball.

Wilder thinks he scored a ten-strike in landing Abilene High's Kenneth Neal for Howard County. Wilder, of course, knows about Neal, since he coached the agile youth last season.

He recalls that Kenneth was simply devastating in two crucial 3-AAAA games against powerful Midland Lee. Ken scored 26 points against the Rebels the first time around, then came back to pump in 29 when the Eagles were in the act of nailing down the pennant and protecting an undefeated record.

John Brodie, who quarterbacks the San Francisco 49ers, has attained his 35th birthday but he maintains he's given no serious thought about retiring.

"I don't see why I can't play forever," John said recently. "I mean, has anybody ever tried? I haven't seen that many good young quarterbacks coming up."

"I never saw a man yet who quit who was happy about his decision. When you get away from it, you realize how great it really was. The only way they'll ever get rid of me is place me on waivers. I know I'll never quit right after a season ends. Nobody who does that ever means it."

There are those who think that Brodie is the best amateur golfer in America. He's not able to compete in the National Amateur tournament because it comes along in September and he's busy in football at that time of year.

At one time, Brodie thought about joining the pro tour.

A Chicago wit said that the astronauts could have found a cheaper and safer place to land than the Pacific Ocean when they returned from the moon. He suggested Comiskey Park which, he pointed out, is totally uninhabited since the American League season began.

Abilene's Steve Oakey now says that Jimmy Farris of Big Spring is the top pitcher in District 3-AAAA's East Zone.

The hard-throwing righthander is all of that and likely is the finest hurler in all of 3-AAAA. Neither Randy Prinx has been as impressive as Farris. Lee's have Tony Boxell of Permian or San Angelo's Hunt Batjer.

The Jets solved the slants of three Colt pitchers for eight hits, four of which were authored by Sherrill.

R. Christian worked three innings on the mound for the Jets and pitched hitless ball. Altogether, the Colts had four safeties.

The Jets erupted for four runs in the fifth inning and hung on to defeat the Colts, 6-4, and pick up their first American Little League win in four assignments here Wednesday.

The Yankees banked all their runs in the third inning and held on to take the Wildcats out of the ranks of the undefeated National Little League teams here Wednesday night. Final score was 3-0.

David Guinn, on the mound for the Yanks, set the losers down with two hits. Those were delivered by Ricky Watkins and Joe Rains.

Del Poss, Guinn and Duane Thomas scored for the Yanks, who are now 2-1 in the title scramble.

The Steers outlasted the Sports, 10-9, in American Minor League competition here Wednesday.

The Steers in the first and five more in the second enabled the Steers to register their second success in three assignments. The Sports are now 0-2.

The Sports were limited to two hits by two Steer pitchers, Vick and Stockton.

Grand Aggregate winner in the Permian Basin Rifle & Pistol Heavy Varmint shoot Sunday was Guy Wilson of Lubbock. Wilson won on both the 100-yard and the 200-yard shoot.

Second place went to Bill Shoemaker of Midland.

In the 100-yard division, Ben Hanson of Midland captured first place and Harold Broughton of Big Spring was second.

Indiana swept the semifinals with Carolina 4-0.

"What really won it for us was our fronting," said Pacers Coach Bob Leonard. "We moved them out in the third quarter and that put us in."

Leonard had high praise for both his own Bill Keller and Kentucky's Louis Dampier. Keller, who guarded Dampier, had 16 points to eight for the Colonels.

Oakland defeated Indiana for the ABA title last year 4-1.

The Pacers, after trailing Kentucky by 10 points in the first quarter Wednesday night, began pulling ahead in the third, following a 55-51 halftime lead.

The lead changed three times in early minutes of the third before Roger Brown sparked a drive that opened a 90-75 Indiana lead in the final three minutes of the first stanza.

Brown topped all scoring with 28 points while teammates Mel Lewis 23, Gene Moore and Freddie Lewis 23 added 24 and Freddie Lewis 23. Daniels also grabbed 25 points. Daniels also grabbed 22 rebounds.

The Pacers won four straight against Kentucky, a 114-110 winner in overtime in the opener.

T-Birds Upend Rockets, 12-9

The T-Birds evened their International Little League record at 2-2 by belting the Rockets, 12-9, here Wednesday night.

Andy Schmitt received credit for the pitching victory. Both teams collected six hits but the T-Birds used theirs to better advantage. Randy Pittman also saw action on the mound for the winners.

The Rockets scored in every inning but couldn't score often enough.

Hogan's Putting Woes Worry Him

HOUSTON (AP) — "I played with him once," said one of the younger players who asked that his name not be used, "and the way he plays golf is like cheating."

"Tee to green he's as good as ever," said Jimmy Demaret, "but he can't putt it in a bushel basket."

"I'm not in shape to win a tournament," said Ben Hogan.

Those three statements pretty well sum up the fabled Hogan who made his first competitive appearance in three years today in the first round of the $115,000 Houston Champions International Invitational Golf Tournament.

Putting woes forced the 56-year-old master—still one of the world's great shotmakers into semi-retirement several years ago and health problems finally sent him back home to Fort Worth after the 1967 U.S. Open.

Since then he has had an operation on a balky shoulder and has acquired a brace for a troublesome left knee that "causes me a lot of pain on the last four or five holes."

But the indomitable little man with the steely gray eyes is no stranger to pain. He battled back from an automobile accident that shattered both his legs in the late 1940s and won the majority of his major championships after doctors had predicted he would never walk again.

"I wanted to play this one just to see if I could walk the tournament," Hogan said and added that he picked the relatively flat Champions Golf Club course "because it's a good walking course."

He denied, however, that he planned a major comeback.

"I'll play this week," he said, "and depending on how I do, how I feel, I may play next week. But I have no plans after that."

"I just wanted to see if I could play again," he said. "I've been cooped up in that factory for two years and wanted to get out a little."

Brewers' Surge Led By K&K Boys

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., May 7, 1970 11-A

By The Associated Press
They don't exactly conjure up memories of Mantle and Maris, the one-time M&M boys, but the Boston Red Sox will be a long time forgetting what Kennedy and Kubal, the Milwaukee Brewers' K&K kids, did to them Wednesday night.

Between them—and including Wednesday night's accomplishments—the K&K kids have 21 major league home runs, a good month's work for Mantle and Maris.

But K&K were the Kings of Klout as far as the long-suffering Brewer fans were concerned. Their homers snapped a nine-game losing streak and provided the team's first home victory in six starts, 4-3.

Kennedy's 18th career home run, the 17th for a 3-0 lead in the fourth inning and, after the Red Sox caught up on Billy Conigliaro's solo homer and a two-run shot by Carl Yastrzemski, Kubal unloaded the winner off reliever Ed Phillips with two out in the eighth.

Elsewhere in the AL, Baltimore defeated Kansas City 3-1, Detroit took Minnesota 5-2, California downed Washington 4-2, the New York Yankees held off Oakland 7-6 and the Chicago White Sox nipped Cleveland 2-1.

It was a long time between victories for the Brewers, but manager Dave Bristol wasn't at a loss to explain the winning formula.

"When you get a little pitching and a few runs things fall into place with perseverance," he said. "When you work real hard you can overcome some things and I believe in working real hard."

It was only Milwaukee's third triumph in the last 20 games, all against the Red Sox.

Baltimore beat Kansas City for the 16th consecutive time over two seasons behind Dave McNally, with ninth-inning help from Pete Richert. The Orioles pecked away for single runs in the second on Brooks Robinson's single and a double by Dave Johnson, in the seventh on Don Buford's triple and a single by Mark Belanger and in the

Evans Leaves For Austin

Coach Glenn Petty and Big Spring High School sprinter Herman Evans leave today for Austin and the State Class AAAA track and field meet.

Classes AAA and A will stage their events Friday while AAAA, A and B teams take over Saturday.

Evans, second place winner in the recent Regional meet at Odessa, will compete against the following boys in the 100-yard dash. (Listed with each entry is the best time he has posted this season):

Gene Pouncy, Dallas Lincoln, 9.4; Albert Herrera, San Antonio Edison, 9.6; Jesse Locke, Denison, 9.7; Herman Alexander, Austin Anderson, 9.7; Robert Perry, Port Arthur Lincoln, 9.8; Danny Teate, Orange, 9.8; Ralph Scott, Amarillo Palo Duro, 10.0.

Evans has been clocked in 10 flat. He failed to place in the State Qualifiers meet staged in Lubbock last Saturday.

Tour arranged by the area's chapter of the PGA.

Local players have been very active on the tour in the past.

Dome Rites Will Honor Mantle

HOUSTON — Mickey Charles Mantle, certain to enter Baseball's Hall of Fame four years from now, will be honored with the first "Great Moments in the Astrodome" award at home plate Saturday afternoon, May 9 in the Astrodome.

Mantle, one of the great names in baseball, made history in the Astrodome by hitting the first home run in the fabulous new stadium on its inaugural night, April 9, 1965.

The presentation will be made prior to the Houston Astros-Pittsburgh Pirates game which is set for 1:15 p.m. The game is being played in the afternoon that day because it is being carried as NBC's backup game on national television.

Because Mantle will be a special guest that day, the Astros also are inviting Boy Scouts and Astro Buddies to attend free of charge.

As special pre-game music the 92-member Bishop High School Band of Bishop, Tex., will play.

Mantle's feat certainly was a memorable event in the Astrodome. A doubtful starter when

Astros To Stage Camp At Tyler

The Houston Astros' 1970 tryout camp will be held June 11-13 at the Municipal Baseball Park in Tyler, Tex.

Tal Smith, Astros' director of player personnel, has announced.

The tryout camp is to be directed by Stan Hollmig, South Texas area supervisor, and Gordon Lakey, Houston area supervisor, will be open to players between the ages of 16 and 21 years.

American Legion players must furnish a letter from their coach or Legion commander giving them permission to attend the tryout camp, Smith said.

Registration for the camp will be at 9 a.m., Thursday, June 11.

Players attending the camp are to provide their own uniforms, shoes, socks and gloves, Smith said. The Astros' organization will supply the necessary bats and balls. A player's expenses will not be paid unless the player is signed to a contract.

Chippers Blast Colts, 25-7

Morton's Chippers hurried by the Colts, 25-7, in National Minor Little League play Wednesday. The win was the second in three starts for the Chippers while the Colts are 0-2-1.

Allen Cramer, given help by Jim Robinson, was the winning pitcher. Abel Cruz and Jim Duncan worked on the mound for the Colts.

The Chippers scored 13 of their runs in the fifth. Ronald Sundry had three hits for the winners while Dennis Berry, James McLaughlin, Lloyd Jolly, Toby Bryant and Larry Bell counted two each.

Wayde Hooper and Craig Clark made outstanding catches of fly balls for the Chippers in the second inning to muzzle a Colt threat.

Billy Yonkers, Kelly Bingle, Rex Moore and Rodney Davidson had the only hits for the Colts.

Altar Society Installs Officers

An honorary membership in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society was presented to Sister Amabilis when the group met for an installation dinner Tuesday at the Spanish Inn.

New officers are Mrs. A. N. Rutherford, president; Mrs. Fred Hyer, vice president; Mrs. Earl Taylor, secretary; Mrs. Curtis Choate, treasurer; Mrs. Riley Ward and Sister Amabilis, spiritual development; Mrs. Dan Maestas, parliamentarian; and Mrs. James Pfingster and Mrs. Jack Engel, ways and means.

Prayers were led by the Rev. William Meagher.

Dining tables were accented with floating pansies, and the head table held a statue of the Virgin Mary arranged with red roses.

The next meeting will be June 2.

Senior Girls Talk On Americanism

"Americanism" was the theme used by two guest speakers at the Forsan Study Club meeting Monday in Forsan High School.

Two senior girls, with the highest grades in their class, were the speakers. Mrs. H. D. Smith introduced Wanda Beeson who spoke on "What America Means to Me" and Diane Hare who discussed "What I Can Do for My Country."

Guests at the meeting included Mrs. W. E. Heide and Mrs. C. J. Lamb.

Sandy Campbell, Forsan High School, was chosen scholarship recipient by the club. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Don Murphy.

Given Sears Grant For Improving 'Big Spring'

Big Spring Garden Club received a $150 grant from the Sears Foundation during an installation luncheon Wednesday at Holiday Inn. The award, presented by Lloyd Morse, local Sears manager, was prompted by the club's efforts in beautifying the area of the "Big Spring."

Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. Robert Stripling and Mrs. John Knox. Each club member brought a small floral arrangement as her individual place marker.

Church Women Note Anniversary

The Women of the Church celebrated its 58th anniversary Monday with a special offering and party at the First Presbyterian Church. The offering was made to the Villa International.

The program, "What Is Villa International?" was given by Mrs. Calvin Daniels assisted by Mrs. Paul Soldan and Mrs. R. G. Robinson. They explained that the villa will be built next to the National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta, Ga., to house doctors studying at the center. The villa will house foreign doctors from 80 countries, who cannot afford to rent private dwellings.

Mrs. Daniels presided, and Mrs. W. G. Wilson, delegate to the Church Women United, gave a report. Mrs. G. T. Guthrie led prayer. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m. June 1 in the church parlor.

Take High Tallies In Bridge Games

High score in duplicate bridge games held Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Truman Jones, first; Mrs. Mike Craddock and Mrs. Ward Hall tied for second and third place with Mrs. R. W. Whipkey and Mrs. Dorothy Herbert; and Mrs. J. D. Robertson and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, fourth.

Program Stresses Duties Of Mother

The Dorcas Class of Westside Baptist Church met Monday in the home of Mrs. Fred Winn, 1310 Virginia. Mrs. Leroy Minchew gave the devotion, stressing the obligations of a mother does not end with feeding and clothing the children. Piano selections were played by Mrs. Annie Atchley and Mrs. Earl Hollis. Bible games were directed by Mrs. Clyde Cravens.

Miss Joanne Coleman, bride-elect of Charlie King, Lamesa, was honored with a gift tea Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. O'Brien Bowlin, Ackerly.

The honoree's colors of white and shocking pink were used throughout the entertaining rooms, and Miss Sandy Grigg was in charge of the guest register. Miss Shara Dee Hambrick and Miss Janette Nichols played piano selections during the tea.

The refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over a pink linen cloth. The centerpiece was an arrangement of white carnations surrounding a large frosted white candle with wedding bells.

Shocking pink streamers lettered with "Joanne and Charlie" crossed the table. Crystal and silver appointments were used. Miss Diane Bowlin and Miss Jaymie Billingsley presided at the serving table. Mrs. Bowlin was assisted by

PTA Holds Installation Luncheon

New officers were installed by Mrs. M. A. Dunagan at a luncheon meeting Tuesday of the Big Spring City Council PTA.

Challenged by Mrs. Dunagan to show that the local council is "where the action begins," the new slate is comprised of Mrs. David Hodnett, president; Mrs. Frank Moore, vice president; Mrs. Jack Brown, secretary; Mrs. Edman McMurray, treasurer; and Mrs. S. C. Rhoton Jr., corresponding secretary.

Mrs. Hodnett presided, and George Archer, Gay Hill principal, worded the invocation. Named to audit the books and minutes were Mrs. Lee Justiss, Mrs. McMurray, Mrs. Dan Shockey, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Ben Boadle and Mrs. Douglas Hattenbach.

Mrs. Hodnett commended the council for its work on the recent 16th District conference held here, announcing that the council received excellent ratings on the yearbook and scrapbook. Presenting certificates of appreciation to the retiring officers, S. M. Anderson, superintendent of schools, expressed gratitude to the group for its support and cooperation. Mrs. T. A. Harris spoke briefly in commending local school personnel.

Dining tables were covered with yellow cloths, and the head table held a floral arrangement in the PTA colors of gold and blue. Favors were blue flowers.

DeMolays Heard In 'Flower Talk'

DeMolays gave the "Flower Talk" in honor of Mother's Day for Big Spring Chapter 67, Order of Eastern Star, Tuesday at Masonic Temple. Giving the talk were Kent Fish, Floyd L. Moss, Phil Furquerson, Mill Jones, David Simpson, Keith Finke, Scott Nalls, Lee Hanson and Carl Knappe. They were accompanied by Floyd Moss, Chapter Dad, and L. G. Nalls.

Mrs. Steve Baker was appointed in charge of preparations for the visit Friday of Mrs. Sallie Matranga, worthy grand matron, and Richard Porter, worthy grand patron. They will be honored at a dinner at 6:30 p.m. Friday at Holiday Inn.

A report was given on the May 1 "Honor Night" cohosted by Chapter 67 and Coahoma Chapter 499 honoring their grand officers, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Baker, Mrs. D. D. Dyer, Mrs. John Westmoreland, David Grant and C. R. McClenny.

Refreshments were served by David Yater, Alden Ryan and A. A. McKinney.

Leaders Elected By Methodists

The devotional, "Prayer Brings Life's Greatest Happiness," was given by Mrs. David Pohl at the Tuesday meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service, Wesley United Methodist Church.

Mrs. Ben Boadle was elected president, and serving with her will be Mrs. Pohl, vice president; Mrs. Ray Anderson, secretary; and Mrs. Don Morgan, treasurer. Chairmen are Mrs. J. C. Ray, Christian social relations; Mrs. J. A. Wright, missionary education; Mrs. Caleb Hildebrand, spiritual growth; and Mrs. Doyal Milner, program materials. Mrs. Morris Holmes was appointed chairman of the newly-adopted memorial fund.

Prayer was led by Miss Helen Ewing and Mrs. M. O. Hamby.

FFA Plans Party

WESTBROOK (SC) — The Westbrook Future Farmers of America will sponsor an ice cream supper, singing party and game night Friday at 7:30 p.m. in the high school cafeteria. Price for ice cream will be 20 cents per bowl.

Mrs. Harvey Wooten Receives Club Honor

Mrs. Harvey Wooten was chosen by the Scenic Chapter American Business Women's Association, as "Woman of the Year" at a salad supper and "tacky" party Tuesday in First Federal Community Room.

Miss Shirley Lee presided, and Mrs. Jerry Avery was the guest speaker.

Mrs. Avery works in the financial aid department of Howard County Junior College. She told how money is allotted to students having financial need and how they are assisted by the part-time job program. Each student requesting aid is given an analysis to determine his need, based partly on parents' income. The student is then tested to determine what job he is suited for and will enjoy.

"The work program teaches a student to be independent and responsible," Mrs. Avery said. "We try to find jobs suited to the student which will help him with his future profession. The student earns $1.45 an hour but is limited to 15 hours of work a week."

Financial aid includes scholarship grants from private organizations, college loans and the work program. In 1968-69 we had 480 students in the work program and gave them a total of $192,335 or about $400 each.

"High school students interested in the work program must apply early, preferably in September of their senior year. In selecting students to receive scholarships we consider their moral fitness, scholastic potential, financial need and desire to attend college."

Mrs. Drew B. Hunter gave the vocational talk. She works with computers at Webb Air Force Base and attended a computer training school for six weeks.

A $35 contribution was made to the Stephen Bufton Memorial Fund, which contributes to scholarships.

A nominating committee will present officers for election at the next meeting. Committee members are Mrs. Joe Campbell, Mrs. Gene Haston and Mrs. Barbara Phares.

Mrs. F. D. Williams was initiated as a new member. Mrs. Lambert Miskew gave the benediction. The next meeting will be at Holiday Inn.

NO ONE IS GUARANTEEING ANYTHING

Another Try At Mending Housing Project

Big Spring Herald

Section B
May 7, 1970

ST. LOUIS (AP) — That high-rise hell Pruitt-Igoe, a shattered and torn symbol of all that's wrong and ruinous in the nation's public housing program, is about to undergo another emergency operation.

This time, there is a glimmer of hope that the 15-year-old housing project, built at a cost of $36 million, will be, at the least, made livable.

But no one is guaranteeing anything.

Hopes of the 10,000 residents who survive in the tombstone-like 11-story buildings have been raised before only to be dashed in continuing waves of murder, rape, robbery and unremitting vandalism.

Now, a new coalition of labor, business and civic leaders has taken charge of St. Louis public housing after a rent strike drove the housing authority to the brink of bankruptcy.

The coalition, working in tandem with the tenants themselves, hopes to turn Pruitt-Igoe around, perhaps by thinning out its high density, modifying its design or even demolishing some of its 33 buildings.

The key element in whatever plan evolves will be the tenants themselves.

"The biggest problem in public housing is maintenance, vandalism and security," said the Rev. Kirk Walsh, a Jesuit serving as a special consultant in the Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD). "And the only ones who can control vandalism are the people who live there. But they must have a say so they can determine what happens there."

"Unless the people band together, they're not going to get security. Right now it's costing them $1,700 a day in vandalism in St. Louis."

Last year, Pruitt-Igoe endured 10 murders, 14 reported rapes, 129 reported assaults. Gunfire sounded regularly from the half-abandoned project's upper reaches.

The marks of violence are everywhere in Pruitt-Igoe. Far more windows are smashed than remain intact. Heavy steel doors lie crumpled and unhinged. Thick concrete walls are battered through with sledge-hammers. Even the copper flashing protecting the roofs is stripped away.

The vandalism brought disaster last winter—one of the coldest in city history.

Pipes, exposed to the frigid temperatures because of the thousands of broken windows, froze. When they thawed, they cracked and the project was flooded. Heat and power failed.

Scores of families lost their meager possessions as water poured into living rooms, bedrooms and closets.

It was an unusually severe and dramatic emergency, but for residents of Pruitt-Igoe, all of them black and 70 per cent of them on welfare, life is a continuing emergency, dull, depressing and dangerous.

"Pruitt-Igoe is the end of the road," said Miss Elizabeth Wood, a HUD public housing specialist.

But Pruitt-Igoe is unique, not in kind, but in degree.

The seeds that produced Pruitt-Igoe have been sown in virtually every major city in America as the poorest of the poor—with no place else to go—are shunted into public housing projects.

Built beginning in 1952 at a barebones cost of $2,089 per room, Pruitt-Igoe was planned as two projects—one, Pruitt, for Negroes; the other, Igoe, for whites.

A law suit torpedoed the intended black-white separation, but the result was never integration. Instead, Pruitt-Igoe became overwhelmingly black.

Charles Farris, who became executive director of the St. Louis Land Clearance and Housing Authority shortly after the project was fully open in 1956, said Pruitt-Igoe was troubled from the start.

The stairways, virtually soundproof, soon became havens for muggers and rapists. They also became public toilets for the thousands of Pruitt-Igoe children unable to get to their apartments in time.

Children—one-half the project's population is under 16—left without recreational facilities, soon found a favorite pastime—sticking the elevators. One variation was to make an elevator door swing open while the elevator was floors above or below.

The unwary could—and did—fall to their deaths.

Three years after the project opened, the St. Louis Globe Democrat was referring to it editorially as "a paradise for thieves, thugs and rapists and a nightmare for police."

Despite its newness, Pruitt-Igoe was acquiring a reputation as a place to avoid. Its vacancy rate in housing-poor St. Louis climbed to 15 per cent by the fall of 1960. It now stands at 50 per cent.

Efforts are being made to beef up tenant organization and patrolmen are back in the project. Before the alliance, they had entered Pruitt-Igoe only in response to emergency calls.

DOMINANT THEME OF CONVERSATION

Floridians Launch Pollution Fight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — To people in colder, dirtier climes, Florida has always been a sub-tropical dreamland of clear blue skies, sparkling waters leaping with game fish, flamboyant flowers, and wildlife roaming in abundance across forests and swamps.

From everywhere, they came by millions, many as tourists who fell in love with this land of islands and palm trees and returned to settle down. On the southeast Florida Gold Coast, a solid chain of cities rose out of the swamp. Around Tampa Bay on the Gulf of Mexico, they built a teeming megalopolis.

And, as their numbers mushroomed, they unwittingly began to degrade and destroy almost everything that had drawn them here.

Industrial chimneys, jet aircraft and cars clogging streets of cities that host 21 million visitors a year filled once pure air with noxious gases. Human sewage, industrial wastes, and irrigation water thick with fertilizer, pesticides and muck be-fouled lakes, streams, bays and oceans. Famed fishing waters died. Drainage of vital marshlands took a deadly toll of birds and animals.

And as the 1970s arrived, Floridians woke up to the fact that the end of their cherished way of life could be near at hand.

So nature lovers united for the first time, have launched a massive fight to halt pollution and somehow find the road back toward an environment healthy for all creatures.

In just a few months, the battle has brought these results: —Under intense pressure from conservationists, the U.S. government forced a halt to construction of a Miami super jetport that opponents claim would have posed a serious pollution threat to the wildlife of Everglades National Park.

—The Florida Power and Light Co. was ordered by a federal-state conference to prove that thermal pollution will not lay waste to Biscayne Bay before its nuclear power plant at Turkey Point can go into operation.

—Backers of the $200-million Cross-Florida Barge Canal, on which $53 million has been spent, are fighting for the project's life against a mass assault by scientists. Foes of the ditch say, that unless stopped, it will ruin the valley of the Oklawaha River, one of the nation's most beautiful unspoiled streams.

—In an unprecedented action, the state will drain, clean out and restore 30,000-acre Lake Apopka near Orlando. Once famed for its fighting bass, the lake that nature took thousands of years to create was killed in a generation by municipal and agricultural wastes.

—The people are in a state of revolution," says Lyman E. Rogers, president of Conservation 70s, a new organization which claims 250,000 backers and says its numbers are increasing.

As the 1970 legislature went into session April 7, the dominant theme of conversation around the state was conservation and pollution.

This year, all 119 House seats are up for grabs, and many of the state's senators are campaigning for higher offices.

Nathaniel P. Reed, chairman of the Florida Air and Water Pollution Control Board, said hearings around the state brought out a constant parade of witnesses with "horrible, horrible stories."

Tampa Bay, fouled by city sewage, phosphate mine wastes and chemical company acid spills, dangerous for water sports; Palm Beach, water and air pollution threatening health of residents, Lake Worth dying; Pensacola, two giant bay systems strangled by raw sewage and chemical plant discharges; Miami, all streams open sewers, ocean contaminated by sewage outfalls; Jacksonville, air so polluted it kills trees and plants and peels paint off automobiles, a giant mushroom of brown and black slime spreading ahead of the St. Johns River as it oozes into the Atlantic.

Reed claims elected officials "still don't seem to realize the depth of public feeling."

But Rogers predicts that the legislature, beset by "the first powerful conservation lobby ever formed," will yield to pressure and "pass more environmental laws than any other session in history."

Although the full-scale people's war is less than a year old, the first battle fire was heard Jan. 25, 1966—a day on which former Gov. Haydon Burns called a hearing to consider a package of Florida public works proposals for the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers.

At the time, the Corps had received its first $1 million and had started a little work on the barge canal connecting the Atlantic and the Gulf of Mexico across north Florida.

No public hearing had been held before Congress approved the canal. Conservationists saw in the Burns session an opportunity to voice outrage over a project they said would rape the Oklawaha Valley for the benefit of a handful of bulk cargo shippers.

"We showed them under," said William H. Partington, head of a scientific group called Florida Defenders of the Environment. "Hundreds showed up to fight for a shift of the canal route away from the Oklawaha. Scientists were there from all over the nation."

"But it was soon obvious," Partington related, "that nobody was listening to us. Our objections never were reported to Congress. It was the beginning of a realization that we had to get started in politics if we were going to save Florida."

Two years later, when the Dade County Port Authority announced that it would build a giant jetport for the super-jet age of travel on a 38-square-mile site in the Everglades west of Miami, the reaction was quick and decisive.

Warning that the jetport would block and pollute the "River of Grass," which nourishes a wildlife system that has survived since the age of dinosaurs, 19 national conservation groups rallied for a showdown fight.

Although work on the $13 million spent, Gov. Claude Kirk lined up with the conservationists. Interior Secretary Walter D. Hickel and Transportation Secretary John A. Volpe worked out an agreement with the Port Authority to move the jetport to another site.

"It was at this point," Partington said, "that conservation became politically rewarding." Now feeling their muscles, Partington's FDE marshaled 160 scientists for a new, all-out attack on the barge canal. President Nixon has referred the project for restudy to his Environmental Quality Control Council; the legislature is considering whether to cease state support of the project, and the Environmental Defense Fund of New York has sued to stop the canal, charging the Army Corps of Engineers with violating the constitutional rights of the people of the United States by destruction of treasured natural resources.

The successes in Florida, Partington says, "have had a terrific impact on the conservation movement, because everybody has an affinity for Florida. No matter where you go, people talk about it. Even if they don't get to come, they like to know that it's here."

Thank you, thank you, thank you! Even though I had no opponent in the primary Saturday, I deeply appreciate every vote received. If ever I can repay you in any service, please call on me at any hour. My office door always is open to you.

Public Relations Men Might Feel Ax Of Nixonites

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration apparently is considering reducing the number of public relations men in the executive branch of government.

The administration has asked each agency for a nose count on the number of public relations men in each branch by May 1.

No official tally of public relations men and women in the executive branch of government has been made for at least a decade. But an Associated Press survey in 1967 revealed that at least 6,858 were on the federal payroll.

It is presumed the number is now larger.

Federal outlays for speech-writing, publicity, news and related activities in the AP survey were estimated to cost at least $425 million a year, considerably higher than the operating budget of Congress and the judiciary branch.

The tabulation is believed an outgrowth of President Nixon's plea in January for personnel cuts of up to 10 per cent by mid-1971.

BEING USED AT HOUSTON

Computer Saves Money In Picking Jurors

EDITOR'S NOTE: Harris County has taken the money-saving step of selecting potential jurors with a computer instead of a jury wheel. They believe the final results will make serving on a jury a bit more pleasant for the average citizen.

HOUSTON (AP)—“Most people called as jurors spend the majority of their time sitting in a waiting room looking at the pictures on the wall of dead judges,” Dist. Judge Tom Stovall Jr. said.

But starting in February of this year, Harris County, which contains Houston, started a system of calling jurors which gives the county the tools to end the long waiting periods for jurors.

And unlike many improvements, this one will cost the taxpayers less, not more money.

The county has replaced the old jury wheel with a fancy new computer which accomplishes in hours what used to take weeks.

“The new system saves the county $24,000 a year in direct out-of-pocket costs,” said county auditor S.G. Fullerton.

“There's no way to measure just how much we are saving in indirect costs,” said Dist. Clerk Ray Hardy. “We're able to use employees in more productive work, instead of tying them up in calling juries.”

The old system, which Harris County used until February and every other Texas county uses right now, went this way:

Once a year, all names on the jury registration list, which is now on computer tape, were run off on small cards. At the same time, temporary employees typed on cards all the names on the county property tax rolls.

Then the two different lists had to be checked for duplication, the little cards were cut up, shuffled and put in the jury wheel.

Every four weeks, the presiding judge of Harris County would have to supervise the pulling of names of jurors for the next month.

“The process would take a day and a half,” Hardy said.

As the cards were pulled out of the wheel, clerks would have to type up a list. Then sheriff's deputies would type individual summonses from the list, insert them in envelopes, stamp and mail them.

It tied up office space and personnel, plus the fact that the more times you physically type a name, the more chances you have for error,” Hardy said.

The old method had other faults. Despite checking, duplications did occur. And because the property tax rolls were used, frequently dead persons or out-of-county owners of property were set a jury summons.

“Our sheriff would get a call from a widow, ‘Buster (C.V. ‘Buster’ Kern), you served as a pallbearer for my husband, and now you're calling him for jury duty!’” Fullerton said.

The last legislature passed a law which made the new system possible. It allowed the largest Texas counties, those with seven or more district courts, to use a computer system to pick jurors and use only the voter registration list as a source.

Harris County went into action immediately. They hired consultants at the University of Houston to design a computer system and six weeks after the law was signed, it was ready for testing.

The new system works this way:

The voter registration list is run through a computer which stores all the information on magnetic tape. Before storing it, the computer knocks out information on the voter registration list involving the race, political party or precincts in which the voter lives, thus insuring that the jury list is free of bias. The whole process of setting up the jury list, which used to involve scores of people for weeks, takes just two hours.

The computer, using a random numbering system, runs off the 1,000 jurors a week needed, for the civil courts or the 950 needed for the criminal courts and puts the information on magnetic tape.

The tape then runs through a high speed printer which automatically cranks out a complete jury summons, ready to be mailed, at a rate of 11,000 lines per minute.

The preparing of four weeks of jury summonses, which used to take a day and a half, now takes an hour or so.

And officials say they get a better cross section of jurors.

“In the old method, no matter how well we tried to mix the cards,” Fullerton said, “We might pull out a handful of people, all from Pasadena.”

Using test runs, the county has found that the new system comes close to pulling a true cross-section of the county's population.

The county is also getting more actual jurors, Judge Stovall said. “Under the whole system, we found that after persons were eliminated because they were dead or lived out of the county or could claim an exemption we would actually have 38 per cent of jurors called. Now, so far, we are getting 48 per cent.”

But Judge Stovall sees more refinement of the system in the future. Now jurors are called for one week. They spend most of their time sitting in the jury room, looking at those pictures of dead judges.

Once in a while they are summoned for a particular jury. Those not chosen go back to the jury room and wait for a call on another case. And if a man serves on a jury on a case which ends Tuesday, he goes back to the jury room and is available for further service.

“That's why it's hard to get lawyers to start cases on Thursday or Friday,” Judge Stovall said. By that time, almost all the jurors have been turned down for other juries. The lawyers call them “culls” and usually don't want them.

“Also, a juror on Thursday afternoon doesn't want to serve. He's been here all week, he knows if he's picked the case will probably go through the next week, and he didn't plan to be here next week,” Judge Stovall said.

Under the new system, Stovall said, the computer could actually pick a panel for every case called. It was impossible, technically, under the old system to do that. We just didn't have enough pencil pushers,” Judge Stovall said.

Stovall said it probably will take a further change in the law, but potential jurors could be called for the exact day and hour they would be needed. If they were not accepted on that jury, they would go home.

Each jury panel would consist of new, fresh names. And citizens would not be forced to give up an entire week of their time, sitting around just in case they might be needed.

A SWIM SUIT with matching jacket is being sewn by Mrs. Charles Sprietsma for her husband. The Sprietsmas are from Florida, and enjoy water sports. A painting Mrs. Sprietsma did of a yellow sun on fiery orange background hangs on the wall.

Sewing Offers A Challenge

By MARILYN NEVELS
Mrs. Charles (Jean) Sprietsma, Coronado Hills Apartments, had no trouble adjusting to the Air Force life. She is admittedly an "Air Force brat" who has lived in New York, Florida, California and the Philippines. She has, however, changed branches of service. Her husband is a Marine taking flight training at Webb Air Force Base.

"I'm a Marine wife," she proudly declares, in a town where she is vasily outnumbered by Air Force personnel and subject to all the jibes tossed at the few Marines on base.

For a wife who won't celebrate her first wedding anniversary until July, she can cook and keep house like an old pro. Her young daschund, Max, still in puppyhood, provides her with lots of company and some housekeeping chores such as retrieving doggie biscuits.

"Max is always eating something he shouldn't, and will go after anything that moves," Mrs. Sprietsma said, dragging Max away from a garden spider.

Since the Sprietsmas do not have children, and jobs for wives are scarce, Mrs. Sprietsma devotes time to class wives projects, dress-making, cooking and art. She majored in art at the University of Tampa where she met her husband. Her father retired from the Air Force there and her husband's family is from Tampa.

Mrs. Sprietsma entered her work in the recent Officers Wives Club arts and crafts show. Her hand-crafted ceramics won honorable mention, and she won second place for a spring dress with matching coat she modeled at the show luncheon.

"I must have started sewing when I was eleven," she recalled. "A girl friend and I made look-alike blouses and doll clothes. Now I'm making Chuck a bathing suit and matching jacket. I'll have to hurry, for the pool opens soon. It's the first thing I've tried making for him, and the bathing suit is giving me problems."

Although she lacks an easel, she has been doing quite a bit of painting. Friends spot her pictures and want her to make copies for them. Her daisy pictures have been especially popular.

"I've made three so far, and a friend wants one done in blue and green," she explained. "I like to do watery, washy-type paintings, easy flowing things and blending colors."

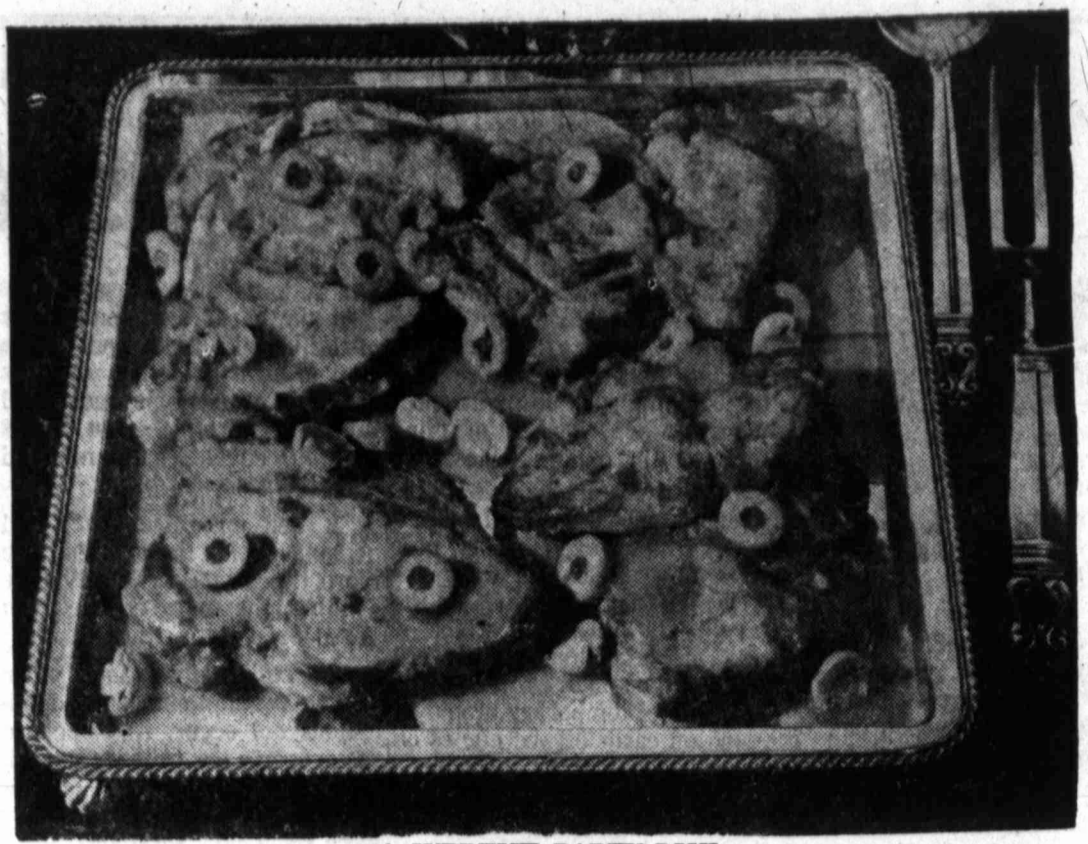

Her subjects range from bright abstracts and pop art daisies to portraits in grays, blacks and other dark shades. Mrs. Sprietsma enjoys getting together with class wives for weekly bowling, bridge lessons, Hi-Bye coffees and OWC luncheons. She worked on decorations for the OWC Christmas formal and helps in all class wives projects, picnics and parties.

"The class bake sales gives me a good excuse to do a lot of baking," she noted. "Chuck loves banana bread, and my recipe comes from his family. I make the banana bread, oatmeal cookies and rum cake for sales. When I entertain I like to make lots of appetizers and decorate a pretty little table with lots of goodies for informal parties.

"I love to try new casseroles, too, and it's funny to see Chuck's reaction. He'll either say 'outstanding' or 'really poor.' My favorites are spaghetti and lasagna."

Mrs. Sprietsma learned the chicken rice recipe from her mother, and the fruit salad is a favorite in her home for holidays.

A SUPREME PARTY DISH
These cutlets are a gourmet delight

Make Your Next Party 'Go' By Serving Festive-Not Fussy-Foods

What makes a party go? Remember the times when the company, the conversation, and the food seemed especially good? Then you probably remember the hostess who set the scene by enjoying every minute of her own party. Whether it's a family get-together or a buffet supper, enjoying your own party is a matter of planning. It calls for food that's festive but not fussy, food that can be prepared and served easily and with confidence.

Veal Olivetta, for example, is a gourmet's delight with an out-of-the-ordinary taste that blends the delicate flavor of veal with the pungency of green olives. It's easy to make and easy to serve, for there's no carving. Arrange it on your most elegant silver platter and serve it with pride.

Cheese Replaces Meat For Meal

This hearty cheese dish takes the place of meat.

ITALIAN CHEESE PUDDING
8 slices white bread, crusts removed
3 tbsps. butter
1 tbsps. prepared mustard
1 lb. Fontina cheese (Kasseri or Italian sharp), shredded
6 eggs, slightly beaten
2 cups milk
1/2 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
1 cup drained cooked vegetable

Spread bread with butter, then with mustard; cut into cubes (makes four cups). Mix together bread cubes, cheese, eggs, milk, Worcestershire sauce and vegetable; turn into a greased 2-quart casserole. Bake in preheated 350 degree F. oven to a custard-like consistency — about 30 minutes. Serve hot. Makes six servings.

Organization note: Veal Olivetta can be prepared in the morning — or even the previous day — and simmered a bit at the last minute.

VEAL OLIVETTA
8 veal cutlets (or 3 half-inch veal steaks cut in serving-size pieces)
4 tbsps. vegetable oil
2 cups chicken bouillon
2 cups sliced or chopped stuffed green olives
1 cup (or 2 four-ounce jars) sliced mushrooms
1/4 cup chopped shallots (similar to onions) or green onions
Roll veal in flour and brown

RECOMMENDED RECIPES

Used By Mrs. Charles Sprietsma

24 HOUR FRUIT SALAD
2 eggs, beaten
1/4 cup vinegar
1/4 cup sugar
2 tbsps. butter
Fruit (canned fruit cocktail, chunk pineapple, bananas)
Small marshmallows
Walnuts, chopped
1 cup whipped cream

Combine beaten eggs, vinegar and sugar in top of double boiler and cook, while stirring, until mixture is thick and smooth. Remove from heat; add whipped cream. Chill for 24 hours, and let cool. Fold in whipped cream. Chill for 24 hours in covered dish.

DEVILED HAM DIP

1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 8-oz. pkg. cream cheese
1 2 1/2-oz. can deviled ham
2 tbsps. chopped pimiento
1/2 tsp. onion juice
1/4 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
Dash of salt
Dash of pepper
Blend mayonnaise and cream cheese until smooth, then add remaining ingredients, mixing well. Serve with chips.

CHUCK'S BANANA BREAD

1 cup sugar
1/2 cup shortening
2 eggs
3 large mashed bananas
1 1/4 cups flour
1/8 tsp. salt
1 tsp. soda
1/2 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup nuts (optional)
Cream sugar, shortening, eggs and bananas. Add flour, salt, soda and baking powder. Blend well, then add nuts. Pour into greased loaf pan, and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes to one hour.

PEPPERMINT MERINGES

2 egg whites
1/8 tsp. cream of tartar
Salt
3/4 cup sugar
1/4 tsp. lemon juice
1/4 tsp. vanilla
1 small pkg. mint chocolate chips
Green food coloring

Beat egg whites until very stiff, gradually adding sugar. Add rest of ingredients, stirring in mint chips last. Drop by teaspoon on brown paper bag. Pre-heat oven to 350 degrees, then turn off. Put in meringues and let them sit in oven overnight.

CHICKEN RICE

Cooked chicken (can be left-overs)
1 large onion, chopped
1/2 stalk celery, chopped
1/2 green pepper, chopped
Almond slices, (optional)
Small can button mushrooms
1/2 tsp. curry powder
1 cup uncooked rice
2 pkgs. dry chicken noodle soup
4 cups boiling water (part or all may be stock or broth)

Saute vegetables in fat until tender. In large skillet add rice, soup and boiling water. Add chicken, curry powder and almonds if desired. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

RUM BALLS

1 large pkg. vanilla wafers (approximately 2 1/2 cups crushed)
1 cup powdered sugar
1 cup nuts, chopped fine
2 tbsps. cocoa
1/2 cup white corn syrup
5 ozs. rum (or can substitute bourbon)

Crush wafers; add sugar, cocoa and nuts. Gradually stir in syrup and rum. Blend and put in refrigerator until chilled enough to form into small balls. Roll in powdered sugar if desired. Keep in refrigerator until ready to serve. (Best when three weeks old.)

RUM CAKE

(Use half recipe for loaf pan)
1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup shortening
2 cups sugar
4 eggs
3 cups unsifted self-rising cake flour
1 cup milk
3 tbsps. rum extract
2 tbsps. vanilla extract

Preheat oven to 325 degrees. Grease and flour a 10-inch tube pan. In large bowl at medium speed, beat butter, shortening and sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in the eggs, one at a time. Stir in flour, in fourths, alternately with milk, in thirds, beginning and ending with flour. Stir in rum and vanilla extracts just to combine and turn into pan. Bake one hour and 20 minutes, or until cake tester inserted near center comes out clean. Cool in pan on wire rack for 15 minutes.

Meanwhile, make glaze: In small saucepan, combine 1 cup sugar and 1/2 cup water; bring to boil, stirring until sugar is dissolved. Remove from heat; add 1 teaspoon vanilla extract and 2 teaspoons rum extract. Cool slightly.

Remove cake from pan. Brush top with glaze. Cool thoroughly on wire rack. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

Notice: Instead of using cake flour you may substitute 3/4 cup flour plus 1/2 tsp. baking soda and a pinch of salt.

A Devotion For Today

The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. (Revelation 11:15)

PRAYER: O God, we praise Thee for the knowledge that Thou dost rule the world in majesty. Save us from anxiety and distress of mind and give to us that peace which comes to those whose trust is in Thee. For Christ's sake. Amen. (From the 'Upper Room')

Getting The Job Done

The project of the People's Pride Task Force in seeking to cleanup along US 80 and US 87 through the city is getting good and well deserved response.

This is tackling a job which long has been needed but which has been passed because it was assumed there was no easy way to get it done.

There still is no easy way, so the committee has taken the hard way. This means contacting owners for permission to clean exteriors, grounds and vacant lots (and you'd be surprised to know that this isn't always the easiest thing to obtain). It means also getting organizations to volunteer labor for accomplishing the work. Many hands not only make light work, but many cooperating hands may mean accomplishing the difficult or the impossible.

This will not only make our town more presentable to through visitors, but it also will prove to us that there is a way to do things.

Contributory Negligence

The Department of Transportation reached a "startling and shocking" conclusion recently. The department reported that a study revealed that auto insurance repaid only one-fifth of the $5.1 billion compensable losses resulting from deaths and serious injuries in car accidents in 1967.

The study, ordered by Congress, revealed that less than half of the potential compensation, or $2.5 billion, was actually paid to those who suffered major physical injuries, or in the case of persons killed, to their survivors. It found that auto accidents are "killing or seriously injuring about 513,000 people every year and that the total economic loss from major auto accidents tops $9.1 billion."

As far as Texas is concerned, the reason for failure to compensate four-fifths of the losses can be summed up in two words: Contributory negligence. If contributory negligence can be shown, plaintiffs and their heirs are not entitled to compensation, other than from medical payment insurance.

For a number of years unsuccessful efforts have been made to modify the contributory-negligence doctrine. These efforts have concentrated mainly on an attempt to introduce the element of comparative negligence. Under this theory a plaintiff would be entitled to recover some damages if he was less at fault than the other driver. While this approach has not been abandoned, more emphasis is now being given to a non-fault proposal. Under this plan a person injured in an accident could collect up to $10,000 of proven damages, irrespective of who was to blame for the accident. This would be accomplished without court action, but would not prevent suits to recover higher damages.

Companies may seek to preserve status quo, but discretion might prove the better part of valor by relaxing the present prohibition against claims which involve contributory negligence. There might be some compensation from fewer suits.

One thing, however, is not made clear in the report, and that is the rather pertinent point of what higher settlements might do to already high premiums. Somebody, somewhere, must pay.

Forcing Reds To The Peace Table

WASHINGTON — Both the Soviet Union and Red China have issued statements blasting President Nixon for daring to attack the Communist sanctuaries in Cambodia in his effort to protect American troops against raids from these bases. But, at the same time, the Communists are apparently stunned by the boldness of Mr. Nixon's declaration that, even if he fails to gain a second term in 1972 because of his actions, he intends to do his duty in protecting the lives of the American troops in South Vietnam as a gradual withdrawal is carried out.

FAR MORE significant, perhaps, than the assaults on the supply bases in Cambodia is the determination shown by the commander-in-chief of the United States to resume the bombing of North Vietnam if it is necessary to safeguard our troops. It is conceivable that Hanoi was getting ready to conduct a major offensive after the United States pulled out a substantial number of its forces. Mr. Nixon's decision, therefore, is in the nature of a warning. He is prepared at any time not only to begin bombing but possibly to return troops to South Vietnam to protect those left behind if their lives should be jeopardized. The whole objective is to convince the Communists that both sides should sit down at the peace table and devise a peace agreement.

THE OPERATION in Cambodia by itself is of military importance. But the arguments of the President's critics that it is a "new war" or part of a plan to "widen the Vietnam war" really have no basis. Talk of that kind could actually help to persuade the Hanoi government that Mr. Nixon will be forced by public opinion to order the troops out of Vietnam and do no more fighting. The Paris peace talks have been unproductive thus far because of a belief by North Vietnam that the United States would withdraw almost all of its forces and there would be no need for the Communists to make any agreement at Paris.

PRESIDENT NIXON'S latest television talk stresses that he is not ready to give up the fight just because he is withdrawing troops. He also intends to continue to assist the South Vietnamese not only by supplying munitions, military advisers and other forms of aid, but by being prepared to keep enough air power in Vietnam to carry on powerful bombing operations. If the North Vietnamese start an offensive which violates the understandings that have up to this time been observed by both sides.

IT IS TWO and a half years before the next presidential election, so there is plenty of time for Mr. Nixon to bring about a peaceful settlement in Southeast Asia through the help of neutral countries. The expense of a prolonged Vietnam war is probably not relished by either the Soviet Union or Red China, and a meaningful peace conference may not be far off now that the United States has demonstrated that it will not surrender and will not desert its ally in South Vietnam, even though the bulk of the American army may be withdrawn during the next two years.

THE CRITICS argue that the United States need not have become a participant in any war in Southeast Asia. This, however, overlooks the fact that the Soviet Union and Red China are pivotal factors in the future of Asia. The United States has a deep interest in the Pacific as well as the Middle East and is again making it clear that aggression inside Asia will not be ignored by this country and its allies.

Americans Numb, Bewildered

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk comments of a Pavement Plato: The American people feel blue.

They have the taste of ashes in their mouths.

The whole nation is in the dumps. There is a sickness in our souls.

Who can remember a time when everybody felt so bad about so many things and so few people had any idea of a remedy that would make us feel better?

We are cut up and divided more ways than an apple pie in a cheap boarding house. We are like a dazed pedestrian caught on a superhighway, wondering from which direction he may be hit next.

Here we are the richest and supposedly the most powerful land on earth, but we are as uneasy as the dwellers in a wooden castle whose pillars are riddled by termites.

Power? What power? Internationally, many nations are looking down their noses at us as military bums because of our adventures in Indochina. Like Bre'er Rabbit's epochal struggle with the Tar Baby in the Uncle Remus fable, the harder we fight the more we get stuck. Our brush war in Vietnam has become a long bonfire we seem unable to put out.

Domestically, our plight offers small cheer. One month we are scared to death of inflation, the next month we are scared to death that the steps we take to combat it will lead us into a major depression.

Money won't buy what it used to—and neither will credit. As a matter of fact, credit is getting almost as hard for the average man to find as money.

The rich are worried about the predatory poor, and the poor keep pressing the government for more welfare and a fairer shake. As for the middle class, it is convinced it is being squeezed out of existence.

A widening generation gap has left youth contemptuous of age and age fearful of youth. If things keep up this way much longer babies will probably soon be born with picket signs in their hands.

We are immersed in a bath of violence. There is so much crime it has become a national crime that we put up with it.

Our college sons and daughters, the hope of tomorrow, are the despair of today. They don't know what they stand for—only what they are against.

Our police threaten to strike, and our schoolteachers do. Parents try to dull their woes with martinis; the younger generation turns to a newer opiate—marijuana.

The problem of how to live is accompanied by the problem of where to live. Rents are going up—like everything else—and young couples complain they can't mortgage their future by paying the interest charges on a housing mortgage.

About all we can point to with pride are a few souvenir rocks brought back from a couple of round trips to the moon—and if you look up at the stars at night the man in the moon seems to be laughing at us for our labors.

Yes, the state of the Union at the moment is a state of shock. The American people are numb, bewildered, confused.

Stuck With Computer

NEW YORK (AP) — The electronic computer, to which many companies hitched their wagon during the explosive expansion of the 1960s, is beginning in some instances to drag like a weighty millstone as the economy contracts.

One of the best illustrations of the developing situation involved the collapse recently of the McDonnell & Co. brokerage firm, but there are many other examples. A typical situation is this:

During the late 1960s a company's business is increasing rapidly, so fast, in fact, that it cannot hire enough experienced clerical help to deal with its paperwork. A computer, it reasons, could do the work of 50 clerks.

Projecting a continuation of increased sales and earnings for the next five years, the company decides that it might as well plow a considerable amount of money into expensive equipment. No sense getting caught short again.

Aiding in the decision is the new electronic data processing manager who argues that while the new machinery might not pay off immediately, it certainly will become profitable by the 1970s. And so the company buys a big new computer.

Then the economic expansions stops. In fact, the company's sales begin to sag and, looking over the books, the management group decides it must cut back. But where? It could have cut 25 clerical workers. But it's stuck with the big computer.

More and more companies are facing such situations today, according to consultants at Brandon Applied Systems, Inc., which advises computer owners on management and technical matters.

"We think it reasonable to expect further collapses of the McDonnell kind," said a spokesman, "as well as reduced earnings for corporations with a heavy investment in data processing. Insurance companies, banks and brokers may be dragged down the most."

Around The Rim

Where Have The Voters Been?

Candidates representing most spectrums of the political scene have offered themselves for public office this year, but where have the voters been?

IN THE SCHOOL race, the city contest, and now the first primary, voter apathy has been the most surprising factor after the results were in. All of these elections had a common feature: a variety of candidates were entered, and most of them took definite stands for this or that issue. This should make for a lively campaign, and insure widespread interest.

THE CAMPAIGNS have been more lively than usual, at least among the candidates. In most cases, they have been whooping it up and trying to talk issues. At the same time, apparently there has been little discussion among the voters, in all three of the elections.

On the several election days, there was even less interest. In the first place, the number of qualified voters was small this year, about one of every two persons otherwise qualified bothered to register. The county had 13,174 qualified voters on the election days, and all but 3,008 of these lived inside the Big Spring corporate limits.

PERHAPS THERE were 11,500 qualified, but only about 1,700 cast ballots in the school trustee contest. And despite a record number of candidates, only 2,800 voted in the city election, where there are 10,166 qualified voters.

Capping it off, a mere 5,899 marked ballots last Saturday, throughout the county, in which there were many candidates in local races, in addition to the statewide and district contests.

THE INGREDIENTS were there for a big turnout — lots of candidates, varied points of view, plenty of campaigning, and even reasonably good weather on all three election days. The polls were all dressed up for the voters, most of whom simply did not show up.

Somewhere along the line, something is missing. It has been suggested that the registration time be extended; or that all of the various elections be held on the same day; or that the primaries be held later in the year, near the general election day; and others. Maybe all of these, perhaps none of them, could dispel voter apathy.

ALMOST ANYTHING would be worth a try.

Computer Has The Answers

WASHINGTON — It is not generally known but there is a top secret computer, located within the continental limits of the United States, which has stored in its memory bank all the reasons that a President can use to justify military actions without the consent of Congress. This computer makes it possible for the Commander in Chief in a matter of moments to produce the phrases that can be included when explaining why he has chosen to take a certain course of action.

AS SOON AS President Nixon made his decision to invade Cambodia, the computer went into action. A White House speech writer who was plugged into the computer tapped out the following message:

"WHAT WOULD BE OUR REASON FOR GOING INTO CAMBODIA?"

The computer replied, "TO SHORTEN THE WAR IN VIETNAM."

The speech writer tapped back, "WHY ARE WE GOING IN AT THIS TIME?"

"BECAUSE THE ENEMY HAS BEEN USING CAMBODIA AS A REFUGE WHICH HAS BECOME A VAST STAGING AREA AND REFUGE WHICH HAS BECOME INTOLERABLE."

THE SPEECH writer continued, "WHAT WILL THIS DECISION DO TO THE AMERICAN PEOPLE?"

The computer replied, "IT WILL BE A BASIC TEST OF THEIR WILL AND CHARACTER, AND IT WILL SHOW THAT THE AMERICAN PEOPLE HONOR THEIR COMMITMENTS."

"HOW WILL THIS DECISION REFLECT THE COMMUNIST REACTIONS?"

"IT WILL MAKE THEM REALIZE THAT THE UNITED STATES WILL NOT ACT LIKE A PITIFUL HELPLESS GIANT WHEN FACED WITH A MILITARY THREAT."

"IS THAT ALL?"

"YOU CAN ADD THAT WHEN A REAL CRISIS COMES, AMERICA

WON'T BE FOUND WANTING."

"WHAT IS THE EASY THING THAT THE PRESIDENT COULD DO?"

The computer was silent for a moment, then it replied, "THE EASY THING FOR THE PRESIDENT TO DO IS TO BRING ALL OUR TROOPS HOME IMMEDIATELY, TO ACCEPT DEFEAT, TO DESERT THE SOUTH VIETNAMESE PEOPLE AND TO GET A PEACE AT ANY PRICE, A PEACE OF HUMILIATION."

"WHAT IS THE HARD THING FOR THE PRESIDENT TO DO?"

"TO DO WHAT'S RIGHT. TO BRING THE WAR TO A SUCCESSFUL CONCLUSION."

"IS THIS AN INVASION OF CAMBODIA?" the aide asked.

The computer seemed to flounder. "REPEAT THE QUESTION."

The White House aide repeated the question.

"NO, THIS IS NOT AN INVASION OF CAMBODIA. WE ARE JUST DESTROYING AREAS THAT HAVE ALWAYS BEEN IN THE HANDS OF THE VIET CONG. THE PRESIDENT IS REALLY TRYING TO AVOID A WIDER WAR."

"HOW WILL THIS AFFECT THE PRESIDENT POLITICALLY?"

The computer paused.

"ARE YOU THERE?" the aide tapped out.

"I'M THINKING," the computer tapped back. "HOW ABOUT THIS? WHETHER HE IS A ONE-TERM PRESIDENT OR A TWO-TERM PRESIDENT IS INSIGNIFICANT COMPARED TO WHETHER AMERICA BECOMES A SECOND-RATE POWER AND ACCEPTS THE FIRST DEFEAT IN ITS PROUD 190 YEAR HISTORY. THAT SHOULD DO IT."

"THANK YOU," the aide tapped, "WE'LL BE BACK TO YOU IN CASE THE SPEECH IS TOO SHORT."

Aftermath Of Kennedy Affair

WASHINGTON — In his sparse New England prose, Judge James A. Boyle of Massachusetts' Dukes County District Court wrapped up the tragedy of Sen. Teddy Kennedy as a political man.

"It is my understanding," said Boyle in his inquest report on the Chappaquiddick incident, that Kennedy "already has been and will continue to be punished far beyond any penalty this court can impose."

KENNEDY PUT it in different words: "We must all live with the loss of Mary Jo (Kopechne) and the pain that this has inflicted upon us." By "we," of course, he meant the family of the girl who was drowned when the car driven by Kennedy went off the Dike bridge. But while Mary Jo's parents mourn their personal loss, Kennedy's pain will be mostly political.

One section of Kennedy's testimony at the inquest emphasizes the heavy handicap that afflicts his public life. With the accident still unreported to the authorities, Kennedy testified he returned to his hotel room under the urging of two lawyer friends to call police.

BUT, HE SAID, he continued to wrestle with the hope that Mary Jo was still alive. "I somehow believed that when the sun came up and it was the new morning that what had happened the night before would not have happened. . . . He could not find 'the strength within me, the moral strength, to call Mrs. Kopechne at 2 o'clock in the morning and tell her that her daughter was dead.'"

I SUGGEST THAT anyone who says he cannot understand how Kennedy felt is utterly devoid of human compassion. As a human being, and especially one whose family had lived intimately with sudden death, his state of mind must have been engulfed with horror. Under the blow of still another tragedy, some men would have gone mad.

But the public has the duty to judge Kennedy also as a political man. At the time of Chappaquiddick he was considered a shoo-in for the Democratic Presidential nomination in 1972. Even recently, before release of the inquest report, party leaders again were speaking of him as a Presidential possibility, largely because none of his potential rivals for the nomination had caught on.

Probably Kennedy couldn't have made it anyway. But his testimony describing his thoughts in that hotel room has doomed his chances. More than anything his opponents could say, Kennedy's admission that he didn't have the "moral strength" to face the situation wrote an end to his White House ambitions.

POLITICIANS ARE an imperfect breed, in part because of the expedience with which they perform most live. But no Presidential candidate ever admits he lacks "moral strength," at least before the fact of an election. A President with the nuclear button never beyond arm's reach is expected to possess "moral strength." If any of those who have sat in the White House since the birth of the atomic bomb were deficient in that respect, he kept it a dark secret.

Treating A Club Foot Is Slow

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My son is six months old and since birth has had to have casts every two weeks for a club foot.

The doctor tells me when he is a year old he will have to have an operation. Please tell me why he must suffer for another six months? Why can't they do it now? With men going to the moon, why in God's name must a child suffer so—Mrs. S.J.

For your little boy's sake, as well as your own, I suggest you stop over-emoting and try to understand the condition.

It's too bad he has a club foot. But aren't you glad he doesn't have leukemia, brain damage, congenital blindness, or a lot of other things we can't cure even if men have gone to the moon? Aren't you glad he doesn't have two club feet. Some 40 per cent of babies with club foot do.

The cause is not certain. Since it can occur to more than one in a family, heredity may be a factor. Another suspicion involves the position of the baby's foot before birth.

Early treatment is essential, but it is effective, and while the casts are a nuisance, I think you are very much overdoing things by calling it "suffering." Of course, it's no fun — but it's tolerable.

The feet, you must remember, are, mechanically, one of the most intricate parts of the body, and it is foolhardy to try to reshape a deformed foot all at once. Correction must be done little by little, with a series of casts. Furthermore, you don't want any scar tissue which can interfere with normal and even growth.

Parents should be warned — as you evidently have been — that correction, if it is to bring best results, has to be slow.

Further, if treatment is interrupted for any reason, a relapse can occur, so observation should continue for several years to make certain that the correction will be maintained. (Special shoes are used as the child reaches the walking stage.)

Surgery is necessary in less than half the cases — when the slow—but steady methods do not achieve full correction.

Babies catch on so very quickly! If a baby gathers the notion that his casts are a horrible misfortune, rather than a means of preventing deformed feet, the youngster can be harmed psychologically as badly as he would be by the deformity itself.

So by all means view the situation more calmly and philosophically. Anyway, six months isn't forever.

"You Can Stop Sinus Trouble!" is the title of my booklet explaining what sinus trouble really is and encouraging sinus sufferers to do something about it. Multi-Millionaire Planning An Eternity Of Parties

DALLAS (AP) — O.L. Nelms, who amassed a fortune by wheeling and dealing in real estate, is planning to leave this world, not with a whimper, not with a ban, but with a bash.

The Dallas multimillionaire has a plot and it's not staked out deep in some cold cemetery ground.

You've heard the old drinking song about "16 men on a dead man's chest, yo ho ho and a bottle of rum?"

Well, Nelms is expanding on the idea, only there'll be more than just 16 men dancing around his chest—in this case, his casket if he has his way, and you can be assured that there'll be more than one bottle of rum.

Nelms says he is setting up a trust fund of about $5 million to give cocktail parties before and after he dies.

And he plans to make all of them. If it's in the hereafter, the wheeler-dealer will be there in spirit . . . and body, for his will decrees that his $25,000 silver casket ("It's the best we could buy 10 years ago.") will be carried to every party and remain until the last reveler leaves.

For the 62-year-old Nelms, it's his way of being remembered forever and also of repaying the people who helped him make his millions.

Besides, he says, why sink $25,000 into a beautiful casket and then sink it into the ground. It's logic like this that makes you see how he made his millions.

The bashes will be financed by the interest earned on the principal set up in the trust fund, meaning that, inflation or no inflation, Nelms and his casket may go party-hopping from here to eternity.

"A certain amount of money—say, $100,000—will be allotted for each party," he says, "and the party will continue until the money runs out. It may take a day; it may take a week."

The party plan has not been the only expression of Nelms' gratitude. Folks driving around the Dallas-Fort Worth area, where he has the bulk of his property, may not remember his name, but they're bound to have run into his advertisements somewhere in their travels.

On his roadfront property, Nelms has put tractor trailers, at one time numbering 135, saying "Thanks To All Of You For Helping O.L. Nelms Make Another Million" and "O.L. Nelms And All Of Texas Welcome You All To Texas." He's also run newspaper advertisements on this subject. This tycoon is just a poor farm boy—he says—who made it good in the big city. At age 13, he ran away from his folks' farm not far from the small community of Lone Pine in Anderson County.

He came to Dallas 47 years ago and began making his fortune as a walking five-and-dime store, wearing an overcoat stuffed with novelties.

"Everybody was a potential customer," he said. He learned his salesmanship in his early boyhood when his mother would keep him out of school two days a week so he could sell the family's farm products in town.

In his early 20s, he went into the wholesale jobbing business, dealing in candy, cigars and tobacco. By 1945, he had 13 wholesale stores which he sold for $18 million.

10-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., May 7, 1970

"All of this time we were accumulating real estate," he said, "building some and buying some already built."

To Nelms, it's always the editorial "we," which is another way of expressing his belief that it took many people to help him get rich.

In 1950 he closed his first real estate deal of more than a million dollars. In 1968 in Dallas, he auctioned off 38 pieces of real estate which grossed him $6 million. At that affair, there was organ music to liven up the bidding.

Although he has holdings in shopping centers, office buildings, and the like, Nelms also builds quite a few taverns and dance halls. He's found them to be good business while other builders tend to shy away.
