

Hospital Week Planned At VA

National Hospital Week, an annual observance established by the American Hospital Association to focus attention on the work that hospitals are performing in providing high-quality long-term care, will be observed at the Big Spring VA Hospital this week.

The highlight of the week will be the recognition ceremony for adult volunteers Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in Room 232.

Fifty-four volunteers will be honored for their services to the patients and hospital. Music will be provided by these members of the hospital staff — Mrs. Elizabeth Anderson, W. H. Brooks, Julian Patterson, Mrs. Cynthia Fritsche, Mrs. Marie Peay, Mrs. Ella McCutchan, Mrs. Frances Archie, Mrs. Betty Coffee, Carl Reynolds and Chaplain Robert Knutson. Refreshments will be furnished by the VA Employees' Association.

This year's theme, "Your Hospital Cares," emphasizes the interdependence of all community health services. The VA Hospital depends heavily on the community, directly Jack D. Powell fills a vital role in the community health services. Over 3,500 patients are treated at the 235 bed facility each year, and outpatient visits are surpassing 8,000 visits.

Volunteers play a vital role in the hospital's program. Last year, volunteers contributed 22,504 manhours performing many types of services, ranging from escort to personal services, to clerical and recreation activities. "People of all ages help in ways that mean so much to lonely patients. Many visitors will find that they, too, can find a place to help — a place to fill their own spare time by helping others. Many "senior citizens" find the work especially rewarding. Youth volunteers find not only new experiences but, in some cases, experience upon a health career."

Care for the patient does not cease on discharge from the VA hospital — care is continued through several different programs based on the patient's need and eligibility, including care through their hometown physician at VA expense. Presently 402 veterans are in the local hospital's program, and there are 388 veterans being followed for cancer under the hospital's Tumor Board Registry program to assure continued medical evaluation in event of recurrence or advancement of the disease. Every assistance is given veterans in need of nursing home care following hospital discharge, to obtain this care. During the current fiscal year, the local VA Hospital has had an average of 27 patients a day in the contract nursing home program.

For those who are interested, guided tours will be available Wednesday through Friday by contacting Mrs. Ara Cunningham, Director, Voluntary Service, 263-7361, ext. 38.

HOWARD COUNTY WINNERS — Lawrence N. Howard Countians Share In Conservation Awards

By JEAN FANNIN
Two Fort Worth visitors were on hand Friday night at the Region II Soil and Water Conservation Awards Banquet Friday night at Howard County Junior College.

Farmers and ranchers from 45 counties were here to see Walter Humphrey, former managing editor of the Fort Worth Press, and W. A. "Bill" King, agriculture representative of the Fort Worth Chamber of Commerce, recognize outstanding persons in Region II.

Leo K. Gee, First United Methodist Church, gave the invocation. The Kendall Soil and Water Conservation District was presented with $300 as the outstanding district in the region which comprised one-fifth of the state.

Plaques were presented to the Del Rio Chamber of Commerce, "outstanding civic group;" J. B. Harmon, Concho River District, "outstanding business-professional;" and KNAF, Fredericksburg, "outstanding radio station."

Silver bowls were given to Otto Schumann, Albert, "outstanding rancher;" and Tely F. Robbins, Bandera High School, "outstanding teacher;" and a cup was presented to Juanita Silvers, Leaky High School, third place winner in the regional essay contest. Hatch Smith, Plano High School, second place winner, was unable to attend, but will be given a silver cup.

so on one sense deposits were steady to up slightly. Loans were up by three-quarters of a million dollars.

Big Spring Chamber of Commerce has set a "Blast Off" party for Wednesday, and some industry announcement is expected. The industrial team has been busy with prospects in recent weeks, and perhaps something will jell.

Once more, the appeal has gone out to make sure that everyone is included in the current U.S. census. If you are not absolutely certain that you or your family has been enumerated, please call the Chamber of Commerce first thing Monday.

HCJC faculty members came in for across-the-board salary raises last week. They each got $500 more or about seven per cent on base pay or less on the higher brackets which include higher degrees and long tenure. Total cost to the budget is about $24,000, which will be offset largely by more state revenues.

Unusually well attended and rewarded by some five score professions of faith during the past week has been the Youth Crusade at Comanche Trail Park. The services have been extended to include a final one at 3 p.m. today.

Datamate Computer Systems, Inc., which already is in production on its No. 16 model has announced its Datamate 70, a highly compact version that has amazing versatility for its size. This one could almost fit into your brief case.

M. Sgt. Gordon Utz has been nominated by Webb AFB as its entry in the Airman-of-the-Year contest for the Air Training Command. Not only has Sgt. Utz been highly efficient at Webb, but he has been active in base and community affairs outside his duties. He is a real participant.

That celebrated roping match here last week saw Ronny Sewatt best Barry Burk by averaging 12.57 on 10 calves. Man that's roping! When he averaged 13.50 a year before on 10 calves, everyone figured that was about as low as you could go. Incidentally, the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo comes up June 24-27.

Good news for some 200 young people who have to work to help earn their way through school was approval of $48,800 for the work-study program administered through Howard County Junior College.

Volunteers are being honored these days. Friday evening the Big Spring State Hospital paid its respects to scores who have given time and otherwise helped with the program there. Tuesday, the Veterans Administration Hospital staff will say thanks to its volunteers.

It was a sort of homecoming for Col. Ralph Brooks, who was the dining-in speaker for Class 70-07 Friday. Col. Brooks is a Big Spring man, recently returned from a command in Vietnam and has been stationed in Florida. Another hometown-boy who made good is Dallas Woods, who was made trust officer and auditor of the First National Bank in Lamesa.

Officers Seize 350 Pounds Of 'Weed'

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Officers seized 350 pounds of Chicago-bound marijuana valued at nearly $700,000 in underworld traffic Saturday. Seven long-haired men and two teen-age girls were arrested.

In an apparently unrelated case late Thursday, officers confiscated 92 pounds of heroin worth $25 million at retail. Four persons were charged.

Most of those arrested Saturday were from the Chicago area. One was from San Antonio. State, city and customs officers made the marijuana raid early Saturday on a plush motel near the airport.

Officers said they seized five suitcases and two footlockers of the weed, plus more not yet packed, after the haul was brought to the motel early Saturday morning.

Sgt. Jack Westbrook of the police said the "good quality" marijuana apparently was bound for Chicago and would have been sent there via commercial plane.

He estimated that when cut and rolled into cigarettes, the marijuana would be worth about $2,000 a pound—or $700,000 total.

The haul was smuggled into Texas from Mexico, Westbrook said.

Bond was set at $20,000 each for two men. The others were held under $10,000 bond each. All were held in jail in lieu of bond.

Charged with receiving and concealing imported marijuana and placed under $20,000 bond were Thomas Miller Chaney IV, 19, of Pittsburg, Pa., and John Joseph Woodbury, 19, of Woodstock, Ill.

Also charged on the same counts and placed under $10,000 bond were Christine Ruth Barr, 18, of Pittsburgh; Thomas Donald Kasovich, 26, Des Plaines, Ill.; Dominick Joseph D'Agostino, 24; Allen Wesley White, 34; Richard John Walberer, 31; and David Howard Prussat, 19, all of Chicago.

A second girl, 19, of San Antonio, was not at once charged. An examining trial was set for 10 a.m. May 19.

DEAR BOSS: Writers Should Be Read, Not Seen

My picture printed in The Herald recently has not had the effect on my readers I would have hoped.

A woman wrote that I looked like her first husband, to whom she stayed married eight days. Another woman said I didn't look like her idea of a writer at all, but a beer or corset salesman at the end of a long day. Still another commented, "Whatsa matter, honey? Were you born too soon for pep pills?"

I'M NOT TOO crazy about the picture myself, but I have learned to adjust. I know it is disillusioning and often disappointing to meet writers face to face. It's like discovering John Wayne has training wheels on his horse.

Some writers (especially book authors) solve the problem by using their high school graduation pictures. (The Vaseline coated waves and megaphones are dead giveaways.)

The rest of us take our lumps. Recently I had occasion to take some tests at a clinic and was running around like the first act of "Oh Calcutta!"

I WAS CLUTCHING a TV Guide in order to bridge a credibility gap when a husky Big Springer charged me and said, "Good grief! I had you figured for a smaller man. Wait'll I tell Betty."

"I write thin and tall," I apologized and immediately crouched.

"You look like just a plain old, fat Texan," he growled.

He had expected Clark Gable and was confronted with "Jose Jimenez." I wanted to sit down and cry but all the chairs were metal.

I KNOW HOW the poor man felt.

Probably the same when I discovered Truman Capote wasn't a baritone: Jacqueline Susan couldn't make den mother, Mickey Mantle passed up milk for gin at a Kansas City clip joint and Mary McCarty didn't want to keep the faith.

I have always subscribed to the theory that writers should be like the old radio heroes and heroines — heard but not seen.

Then they could be anything you wanted them to be, limited only by your own imagination.

"PASTE-POT" men should be people of mystery who regard reality as a nice place to visit, but they wouldn't want to live there.

Writers should be a little weird and a lot unconventional. They should be wild, zany, exciting, stimulating and unpredictable. It takes a lot of imagination from the reader.

I wanted to run after that man and say, "Would it help if I told you I had a trench coat? That I type my column from a whizzing motorcycle? That I don't kick dogs, but I used to chase women? That I was told to check in my OU baseball uniform by Coach Jack Baer "because son, you'll never weigh 150 and all pitchers should weigh at least that much?"

Alas, it was too late.

THEY COULD run Willie Shakespeare's photo with my column and that one reader would still see me — all 217 pounds — shivering in the clinic, insecure and clutching a TV Guide. He could never identify with that.

Opinion May Cost Heatly, Caviness State Revenues

AUSTIN (AP) — Atty. Gen. or services sold to a state agency if he was in the legislature when the funds were appropriated.

Two lawmakers who probably will feel immediate effects from an attorney general's opinion issued Friday are Reps. Don Cavness, Austin, and W. S. Heatly, Paducah, House Appropriations Committee chairman.

Martin held that the state cannot legally pay a legislator for his business firm for goods

Retardation MHMR, said Earl Scott, the agency's legal adviser and assistant to the MHMR commissioner.

Will the decision force cancellation of the contract with Cavness' agency?

"I'm afraid so, if I understand what you've just read me," Scott said after he read the summary of Martin's opinion.

Another legislator who might be affected is Rep. W. S. Heatly, Paducah, who rents office space in his home town to the Texas Employment Commission. Heatly also has sold sand and gravel from a pit he owns to the Highway Department and to road builders under contract to the state.

System Flexibility Helps Stretch Water Supply

Flexibility of the Colorado River Municipal Water District's system is being brought into play to stretch water supplies pending rains.

Although the district topped a billion gallons for the first time in its deliveries this year during April, the amount withdrawn from Lake J. B. Thomas was about 100 million less than required for the municipal customers. Or to put it another way, the amount supplied from the low-quality water of the diversion works, plus that coming from the new Lake E.

V. Spence reservoir, exceeded mining and industrial consumption by approximately 100,000,000 gallons.

Lake Thomas still has about 30,000 acre-feet (or about 30 billion gallons) which is being stretched because this water is of best quality and is used in maintaining sound quality of the system.

During April, the district delivered 758,598,000 gallons to municipalities and 410,677,922 to mining and industrial users, a total of 1,169,275,922. This brought to 2,050,137,000 gallons the municipal requirements for the year and 1,658,229,033 mining and industrial, a grand total of 3,708,366,333 gallons, an over-all increase of 9.26 per cent.

April production included 343,435,000 gallons from Lake Spence, and another 100 million gallons of the mining requirements were from the non-potable water from the diversion works.

During April Odessa used 344,680,000 gallons, up 4.90 over April a year ago; Big Spring 187,103,000, down 9.92 per cent; Snyder 51,748,000, down 8.41; Stanton 7,460,000, up 42.87, and Midland — a new customer — 167,607,000.

Last week, municipal users were using upwards of 40 million gallons of water a day, led by Odessa with a daily demand of 15 million. Midland used 13.5 million, although its average is around 10 million a day. Big Spring is using eight million and Snyder three million, about average. Stanton uses about a quarter a million gallons per day.

By bringing Lake Spence water from Coke County to Moss Creek Lake, for one mixing, and on to the Big Spring terminal for another with Lake Thomas water, chlorides in the Spence water are reduced to an approved standard. The brine water from the diversion works on the Colorado River above Colorado City is pumped to Sun Oil Company and to Walsh & Watts repressuring units.

Borden Included In Road Projects

The Texas Highway Commission has approved development of three miles of Farm to Market Roads in Borden County as part of the 1970 Texas Farm to Market Road Program. District Engineer J. C. Roberts of the Texas Highway Department said the estimated cost of the work is $142,700.

The proposed project of the usual farm to market road design will extend from the end of the presently designated FM 1054, south for a distance of three miles and will consist of constructing grading, structures and surfacing. The work will be under the supervision of Homer Ray, senior resident engineer, Snyder.

Work authorized in this county is part of 543.1 miles of Texas Farm and Ranch to Market Roads earmarked for development in the new program, and includes 144 projects in 109 counties. Estimated total cost of the program is $22 million. New construction totals 377.6 miles, with an estimated cost of $18.2 million.

The remaining $3.8 million represents additional financing on 165.5 miles of previously designated roads.

The additional new mileage brings the designated Farm and

Volunteers At Hospital Are Paid Public Tribute

By TERRY STARK
"We must become involved," the speaker said, and three score persons were called forward to be honored by Big Spring State Hospital for years of involvement in the problems of the mentally handicapped.

Nearly 300 of the Big Spring State Hospital Staff and their guests attended the hospital's third annual awards banquet Friday night in Allred Auditorium to recognize those at the hospital and in the community who have contributed much to the treatment and care of the patients there.

Cullen Akins, West Texas humorist, civic leader and oil man, was featured speaker and treated his audience with a staccato delivery of down to earth jokes, sayings and rhyme before launching into an appeal for involvement in "all aspects of the community."

Observing what he believes is a trend away from traditional American morality today, Akins said, "Have we forgotten that in 200 years we have built the highest standard of living ever."

"We've been generous, but what have we gained," he continued, "We have filled men's stomachs, but we haven't filled their hearts."

Voicing an appeal for a "quieter time" and a return to "the founding principles" of America, Akins said he did not fear the enemy without, but the unrest and disruption within.

For the first time, the awards selection committee chose six rather than five staff members for the hospital's Commendation Award. Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent of BSSH, said the committee had received a barrage of recommendations for all six winners and that there was little choice but to make an exception and vote six recipients of the hospital's highest service award this year.

The honorees are: Mrs. Ruth Billingsley, house mother at the Community House; Mrs. Nelva Briden, assistant to the director of nursing; Rev. Lee Butler, BSSH-Chaplain; K. T. Downs, manager of the hospital laundry; Mrs. Dorothy Severin, receptionist for the outpatient clinic; and Robert Von Rosenberg, director of the hospital improvement program.

Members of the private community were also honored Friday night for their service to the hospital. Dr. Harold Smith, head of the BSSH Volunteer Council, Mrs. Star Warford, consultant in adult education, Jack Y. Smith, former chairman of the Volunteer Council and now treasurer of the All-Faith Chapel Fund, and Frank Hayford, president of the All-Faith Chapel project, all received special awards for their volunteer work on behalf of hospital projects.

Mrs. Dorothy Wise, charge attendant at the Adolescent Unit for four years and a hospital employe for 13, was announced as Psychiatric Aide of the Year on the basis of her thorough knowledge of hospital operations.

Chaplain Butler held a short memorial service for hospital employes who had died while in service there.

Conventions Argue War And Protests

By RAYMOND HOLBROOK Associated Press Writer Texas counties, a Mexican-American third party—La Raza—has been formed. Verbal fireworks highlighted the political scene in El Paso. Hillary Sandoval, administrator of the Small Business Administration and the highest ranking Mexican-American in the Nixon administration, lambasted Democrats in a keynote address at the El Paso County GOP convention.

passing a resolution to award Sandoval "The Spiro T. Agnew Award." The El Paso Democrats also passed resolutions asking for troop withdrawals from Vietnam and Cambodia, lowering the voting age to 18 and to increase representation for minority groups.

The Travis County Democratic convention at Austin by a narrow 790-786 vote called for the immediate withdrawal of American troops from Cambodia. Similar resolutions were defeated by Democrats at Houston and Wichita Falls.

The Val Verde Democratic convention meeting in Del Rio passed a resolution urging that demonstrating college students be required to pay for any damage they caused and the cost of lawmen assigned to the demonstrations. The Travis County Democrats praised the Austin police, the Department of Public Safety and the University of Texas students for showing through peaceful anti-war demonstrations that "lawful dissent is still very American and very alive in Austin."

Conservative Democrats at Midland voted down a slate of liberals to the state convention. At Tyler the Smith County Democrats rejected Richard Brooks Hardee, a nephew of liberal U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough, as county chairman and passed a resolution supporting the unit vote. Democrats in District 11 in Galena Park, a Houston suburb, adopted a resolution denouncing the winner of the senate primary, Lloyd Bentsen, for conducting what the resolution called his "campaign of falsehood, half-truths, innuendo and appeal to bigotry and his slanderous attack upon the character and works of Ralph Yarborough."

LETTER

A Mother's Love Speaks

To the Editor:
Friday a most rewarding thing happened to me and I would like to share it with you. After picking up my first-grade son, Tracy, after school, I was presented with the most loving memento I have ever received. I know that every other first-grade mother received the same gift made by her child. The reason I feel that mine was so special is that it was given from a smiling face (that has two front teeth missing) and big blue eyes filled with love.

I cannot express to you the feeling in my heart at this time.

In such a restless time my heart goes out to all parents who are losing their sons daily in the battle zones.

And so, on Mother's Day, May 10, 1970, it is my hope that each mother will pray that peace will come soon and that no other loving sons will have to give their lives.

MRS. JERRY SPENCE

Baylor To Yield Dentistry School

DALLAS — Baylor University trustees Thursday adopted a resolution to divest itself of the properties and facilities of the School of Dentistry at Dallas; adopted a recommendation that required chapel continue at the world's largest Baptist university; named Dr. H. H. Reynolds as executive vice president; and named former Texas Gov. Price Daniel to the Baylor medical college board of trustees.

Chapel attendance, a tradition at the university, is to be accompanied by reforms including long-term scheduling of programs, and an option of 25 per cent of cuts by students.

MOTHER'S DAY MESSAGE

Okay Bobby, Here It Is

To the Editor,
At the present time, I am on the USS Denver (LPD-9) serving off the coast of Vietnam, and have just completed an operation around Cambodia waiting for the hijacked ship, SS Columbia Eagle to be released.

When a young man is away from home, he really does realize how much a mother means to him. Soon it will be Mother's Day and I would like to do something special for my mother. If you could, I would like for you to put, in your paper, a little message for my mother this Mother's Day. Something like:

To the most wonderful Mother a man could have.
Happy Mother's Day.
Love, your son,
Bobby.

If there is any way you could do this, I would appreciate it very much.
My mother is Mrs. R. B. Plowman.

Thank you so very much,
Bobby Plowman

Says ROTC Ought To Equal Hula

HONOLULU (AP) — Mayor Frank Fasi disagrees with professors at the University of Hawaii who say academic credit should not be given for ROTC courses.

Director Deeply Touched

Contemporary America Stars In Film

"Zabriskie Point," Michelangelo Antonioni's new film and his first to be shot in the United States opens Wednesday at the Cinema Theatre. Set against the sights and sounds of contemporary America, it is Antonioni's first film since the triumphant "Blow-Up."

It was the phenomenal success of "Blow-Up" that brought director Antonioni to the United States in the late spring, 1967. For six weeks he criss-crossed America: beginning in Los Angeles, he drove into the Mojave Desert where he discovered Zabriskie Point, a promontory overlooking the bed of Death Valley, and went on to Las Vegas, San Francisco, Dallas, Houston, New Orleans, Detroit, Cape Kennedy, Atlanta and Chicago.

He returned to Rome with a few notes and vivid impressions, convinced he must make a film in America. It would be set in the West and include the desolate yet beautiful Death Valley and a major American city. And it would be about young people for they touched him most deeply during his visit.

Preparing for the film was as rigorous as the actual shooting. Besides the writing and technical aspects, Antonioni had to find two young leads. He found the girl first. He noticed her dancing briefly in an experimental film one night, asked to see her and within a week signed 19-year-old Daria Halprin, a Berkeley student, for "Zabriskie Point."

Finding the boy was much more difficult. After countless interviews with hopeful young men who responded to casting calls, an Antonioni scout found Mark Franchette, a 20-year-old sometime carpenter, at a bus stop in Cambridge, Mass., shouting at a man who had thrown a flower pot at a quarreling couple. After several interviews and a brief screen test, Mark had the part.

The third lead, that of an attorney, was set when An-

Briton Is Musical Star

From London To Las Vegas

Shani Wallis, who stars Wednesday at the R-70 Theatre as Nancy in the exuberant screen version of Lionel Bart's "Oliver!", Best Picture of the Year and winner of five other Academy Awards, is as much at home in Las Vegas as she is in her native London.

Now an international singing star — records, television, night clubs and the musical comedy state — the titian-haired Miss Wallis first came to America to see for herself the country responsible for the musical comedies in which she rose to London fame.

Shani was living in Hollywood, and making records and television appearances, when she first was invited to screen-test for "Oliver!" adapted from Dickens' "Oliver Twist."

Shani has been a performer since she was three years old, when she was a member of a children's dance act.

Recordings first won national attention for Shani; but her Academy training for the legitimate theatre soon came into focus.

She was cast in the ingenue role in Irving Berlin's "Call Me Madam," and became known as "the English Ethel Merman," though that was not even her role.

Later, seeing her in vaudeville at the Palladium, critics dubbed Shani "the English Judy Garland" (a good deal closer to the truth). Little wonder, then, that many an American musical success staged in London extended its lead to the young star. Another U.S.A.-born musical, "Bells Are Ringing," took her to Australia.

She appeared in the dramatic starring role in William Inge's "Bus Stop," and then in "Irma La Douce." Shani sang, danced and acted in that musical for two years. She made her Broadway debut in "A Time for Singing." Her successful screen-test for "Oliver!" followed.

'Willie Boy'

Unusual Tale Of Old West

An unusual western drama starring Robert Redford, Katharine Ross, Robert Blake and Susan Clark, "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here," comes Wednesday to the Ritz Theatre.

The film tells the story of a young Indian whose search for romance and identity leads to murder, and sets off a manhunt unparalleled in Western history.

Redford, who portrays undersheriff Cooper assigned to bring to white man's justice Willie Boy, guilty only of following tribal dictates, is one of the film's most versatile performers. He moves to "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here" from his performance in "Butch Cassidy and The Sundance Kid" where he also teamed with Katharine Ross who portrayed his schoolteacher-mistress.

Pianist From Texas To Play For Cancer Congress May 24

A GIFTED YOUNG American, acclaimed as the "brightest of the young piano stars in the United States" will be the featured soloist at the opening ceremonies of the Tenth International Cancer Congress, May 24.

James Dick, a native of Kansas but now a resident of Texas, has achieved in a surprisingly short time an international reputation as a brilliant musician with a tremendous facility and an unusual interpretative understanding of his instrument. His performance on May 24 will be with the Houston Symphony and he will perform Tchaikovsky's First Piano Concerto.

The Tenth International Cancer Congress will be held in Houston, May 22-29, with preliminary special sessions starting on the 22nd. Approximately 7,000 physicians, scientists and research personnel from 70 nations will attend. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will give the keynote address on Sunday prior to the musical program featuring Dick.

WHAT'S IT LIKE to have the South's largest amusement park all to yourself for a giant party? Some 2,000 Southern Gas Association delegates found out last week when a private, catered party was held in Houston's Astroworld.

It marked the first time the giant amusement park has hosted a private party. It won't be the last. Astroworld General Manager Gene Patrick said the evening was a great success... so much so that the park will host similar events in the future.

"During our Spring and Fall schedule, we're not open weekdays," Patrick said. "But, arrangements can now be made for large groups to have private, catered parties any weekday." Patrick said either his office or the Group Sales Department could make arrangements for interested groups.

MANAGER WARNS MOVIEGOERS
Playboy Exposes 'Hush-Hush' Story From Bold and Brash Adult Movie
RATED FILM BANS MINORS

A daring 12-page exposure by Playboy magazine of the subject matter in "All The Loving Couples" proved a shocking experience for those who read the article or saw the startling, unbelievable transition to the screen.

Audiences viewing "All The Loving Couples" were jolted by the bold movie scenes and frank words ever dared on any screen.

This movie, a true-life story about real people—telling of personal and confidential desires—is based on a startling, hush-hush trend spreading rapidly throughout this country, involving people from all walks of life, and all age groups.

Your desire to protect young people and adults with hangups and shy standards and established advertising ethics, prohibits the dissemination of any spoken words from this movie, the theater manager emphasized.

"People easily offended, embarrassed, or those with hangups definitely should not see 'All The Loving Couples,'" the manager cautioned. "For them," the manager warned, "this movie will be a shattering emotional experience!"

Kent State Hit Hard By Student Violence

KENT, Ohio (AP) — The bill for student violence at Kent State University will run in the millions. The bill depends largely on the business of 21,000 students and faculty of about 1,500 and hundreds of KSU employees.

It will deal a harsh economic blow to the city of Kent which has lost about $150,000.

looting of stores in downtown Kent and also fires that destroyed an Army ROTC building and a storage barn on campus. These losses are estimated at more than $150,000.

The cost of keeping more than 900 National Guardsmen on campus for most of seven days is figured at $350,000. There also was heavy overtime payments by the state to some 100 highway patrolmen, and the university and surrounding communities beefed up their police forces, all at unexpected expense.

It is estimated that room and board refunds to students, caused by the termination of the spring quarter at the half-way mark, will run as high as $750,000. Off-campus room and apartment rents to be lost by towns people for the next five weeks, or longer if the summer session is delayed or cancelled, will be staggering.

The shutdown of the university also may result in temporary layoffs of operating employees and a resultant heavy drain on their savings.

Windy Weather In WT Slows All Plant Growth

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Most Texas farmers have been out in force as the weather turned favorable for outdoor work. Warm days and cool nights, noted director John Hutchison of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, didn't produce the best growing weather but crops made fair to good progress.

Planting is near complete from the Blacklands east and south and is making progress west and north, Hutchison said. Soil moisture, especially surface, is becoming short in the west and north, he noted.

Ranges improved in many sections but general rains are needed in others to keep grass growing, he said. Livestock in general area in good condition with good calf and lamb crops in many districts.

The total picture, Hutchison said, is good. Grains are showing signs of maturity and in eastern areas many fields are being baled for hay, he said. Moisture is needed on the High Plains to insure a good grain yield from dryland wheat, he said.

District agents reported: Recent cool snaps and sandstorms slowed planting on the South Plains (Lubbock) but improved weather this week is

Garden City Fund Grows

By TOMMY HART

Someone asked me recently what I thought of that North football squad chosen recently to play in the Texas Coaches Association all-star game in Houston in August—it never had a 3-AAAA on it but included two of our Lubbock, one from Amarillo and another from Borger . . . I suggest . . . the 3-AAAA all-district platoons could beat the North elite by three touchdowns, maybe more . . . How could the selection committee possibly leave off boys like Permian back Charles Billingsley and Big Spring linebacker Jimmy Farris? . . . Sam Aguilera, the Big Spring athletic trainer, turned down five offers from small colleges shortly after accepting the local position . . . 'Doc' is the only trainer in 3-AAAA with a Master's degree . . . After BSHS mentor Kirby Pugh accepted the San Angelo Central tender, he called Spike Dykes at Alice to tell Spike of his decision—Dykes had hoped to add Pugh to his staff . . . Tommy Wickerson, the local linker who still has a year to serve with the Air Force, will help the communications systems in the upcoming Colonial National Golf tournament by working a walkie-talkie . . . The Sweetwater Golf tournament will likely be hurting for entries next year because the few who, disillusioned by the prize money last year, returned to find flight winners earned no more than $75 in merchandise, flight runners-up no more than $45 . . . Third place in the recent Munny Invitational here paid what first place did at Sweetwater . . . After assuming his duties as golf coach at Odessa College last year, Barry Rodenhaver was severely criticized by members of his golf team for his insistence in adhering to a training regimen . . . But out of that carping grew a respect for the man . . . The discipline he exacted, the no-nonsense training rules he set up paid off with a richly-deserved Western Conference championship this year . . . Golf is one sport that demands a slavish attention and Rodenhaver got it . . . Eleven Texans were starting for the University of Oklahoma football team in spring training, eight of them on defense . . . I feel the Southwest Conference would get stronger, not weaker, if the University of Texas departed it, as rumored . . . Athletes like to be involved in a championship race and now only Texas and Arkansas battle for the SWC football title, throwing a few crumbs around now and then for the other clubs . . . Texas might find it harder to recruit after going independent.

Those bleeding hearts who make a case against all baseball because the new Milwaukee American League club didn't hire Eddie Mathews are short-sighted . . . Seems to me Mathews owes baseball something, rather than the other way around . . . He made good money for years, qualified for a lucrative pension plan (which he can start drawing at the age of 45, if he chooses) and obviously has a good thing going for him in business in Milwaukee, none of which would have come about without exposure in the game . . . Maybe I'm out of step with things in general but does it make sense to build what amounted to a $40,000 track in Memorial Stadium, add a $25,000 dressing room (which has been shared by the BSHS football team and HCJC track athletes), then drop the sport? . . . There was a time (under coach Red Lewis) when the endeavor brought great credit to the school and the community . . . Of course, Lewis was a rare jewel—he loved the sport and worked harder than any member of his team to make a success of it . . . There's talk baseball won't be a part of the program in District 3-AAA next season because most schools are finding it too expensive . . . Carl Bizzell, split end for the Odessa Permian Panthers, has quit the game because of stomach ulcers . . . Those live wire people in the St. Lawrence community (south of Garden City) don't believe in doing anything halfway . . . The merchants there arranged a benefit dance for football Tony Chandler and third grader Clay Kingston not long ago and netted $982, which will be split evenly to help pay medical expenses for the two boys . . . Chandler was paralyzed from the neck down in a mishap last fall but was home this week from Gonzales and is determined to walk again . . . Young Kingston has muscular dystrophy . . . Over $2,500 had previously been raised on Chandler's behalf by the Glasscock County people . . . Frank Goodish, who has been writing sports for the Midland paper, has signed with the Washington Redskins for a starting salary of about $14,300 per annum . . . He played tackle with the West Texas Ruffnaks last year . . . Ron Skosnik, who quarterbacked the Ruffnaks last year, will try football in Canada again . . . Big Springer James Newman threw a one-hit game for Odessa College against Ranger recently . . . The Wranglers needed it to pull to a 1-0 victory.

EDDIE MATHEWS

Bovines Win, 5-4

— Jimmy Farris steadied after a shaky start and his mates backed him up with some timely hits as Big Spring knocked San Angelo out of the running for the District 3-AAAA East Zone championship here Saturday.

Final score was 5-4 and Big Spring did it the hard way, by spotting the Bobcats four runs in the first two innings.

The Steers clawed back for three tallies in the third and then shot ahead with a two-run outburst in the fourth.

Farris recovered from his slow start and was throwing aspirin tablets at the end of San Angelo's entire season west down the drain.

If Big Spring had started the season like it finished, the Longhorns would have won going away. In their final two games, coach Oakley Hagood's boys put it all together.

In Big Spring's third, Riley Falkner worked Hunt Batjer for a walk. Roger Dixon reached base the same way. David Hanson singled and Rick Peurifoy walked to force in a run. Andy Gamboa hit into a double play which started at home and nobody scored. However, Charley Rodriguez singled to plate Hanson and Peurifoy.

Still saving the effects of that rally the next time they came to bat, the Longhorns counted twice more the next time they came to bat. Farris doubled and Randy Womack plated him with a double. After two had been retired, Womack raced to third on a wild pitch. Dixon was walked. Hanson then took two strikes and singled to left to score Womack with what proved to be the winning run.

In San Angelo's first, Ramsey Koschak singled and Neil Sykes tripped, then raced home himself on Chris Frederick's one-baser.

In the Bobcat second, Batjer singled, Langford was safe on a ground ball when Big Spring tried unsuccessfully to arrest the runner at second. Joe Walz hit a fielder's choice, forcing Langford. Gary Lacy doubled to score Batjer and on the relay home the ball got away and Walz spiked the dish.

San Angelo couldn't get anyone on in the third and fourth. In the fifth, the Cats had runners at first and second with two out when Frederick struck out.

In the sixth, the Angeloans again put two runners on but Falkner started a double play that eliminated the threat.

In the desperation seventh, Farris forced Walz to ground out, Lacy to fly out and fanned Roy Holland.

Big Spring managed seven hits and San Angelo six. Farris whiffed eight to raise his total to 111 in 75 innings. Ninety-two of those have come in 53 innings against 3-AAAA foes.

Over-all, Big Spring wound up with an 8-12 record. In conference, they were 5-7, two games behind second place San Angelo and one length ahead of Cooper.

Steady as a rock, Angelo's batting line-up was: P-1, Lacy ss, 4-11; Gomoof cf, 3-0; Holnd 3b, 4-10; Rodfuz lf, 4-12; Kosk c, 2-10; Farris c, 4-11; Sykes cf, 3-11; Womk lf, 3-11; Freck lf, 3-0; Mery c, 3-10; Lewis 2b, 2-0; pr-Fies, 0-0; Barr p, 2-10; Patter 2b, 2-10; Watt lf, 1-0; Dixon lf, 1-0; Land' lf, 3-0; Hanson rf, 3-1; Watz rf, 3-0; Totals, 28 5 7.

Big Spring: P-1, Lacy ss, 4-11; Gomoof cf, 3-0; Holnd 3b, 4-10; Rodfuz lf, 4-12; Kosk c, 2-10; Farris c, 4-11; Sykes cf, 3-11; Womk lf, 3-11; Freck lf, 3-0; Mery c, 3-10; Lewis 2b, 2-0; pr-Fies, 0-0; Barr p, 2-10; Patter 2b, 2-10; Watt lf, 1-0; Dixon lf, 1-0; Land' lf, 3-0; Hanson rf, 3-1; Watz rf, 3-0; Totals, 28 5 7.

Bruce Crampton Holds On To Houston Lead

HOUSTON (AP) — Bruce Crampton lengthened his lead despite a triple bogey seven Saturday while Ben Hogan remained in mild contention after three rounds of the $115,000 Houston Champions International Invitational golf tournament.

The poker-faced Crampton finished with a one-over-par 72 and a 54 hole score of 20. Crampton, an Australian now living in Dallas, went into the day's play with a one shot lead but takes a margin of two strokes into Sunday's final round on the 7,166-yard Champions Golf Club course. Hard-hitting young Bert Greene moved into second place with a three-under par 68 as most of the field backed up on the long, testing course. Hogan, a 56-year-old master who last won in 1957 and is making his first competitive appearance in three years, limped in with a 71 for 217—just six strokes off Greene's second place 211.

"I played a little better," said Hogan limping noticeably on an injured left knee, "but it wasn't much to get excited about."

As he has throughout the tournament, the little giant with the steel-gray eyes drew the majority of the gallery.

SETS NEW STATE RECORD — William Crampton (AP Wirephoto) Lee of Midland, clears the bar at 15 feet 6 inches to set a new AAAAA pole vault record at the schoolboy track meet at Austin Saturday.

Eagles Wrap Up Zone Title

ABILENE — Abilene clinched first place in District 3-4A East Zone baseball here Saturday by defeating the Cooper Cougars, 5-0. The Eagles scored their runs on seven hits while the Cougars got six.

Marshall and Edwards were the big guns for the Eagles, each getting a double and a single. Tatum also helped the cause with a triple. For the Cougars it was Rusty McKeever leading the attack with two hits.

Clint Thomas was the winning pitcher, putting his record to 6-5. Richard Vannoy was charged with the loss, slipping him to a 4-7 season's total.

JUDGES OVERLOOK HERM EVANS, PLACE HIM SIXTH AT AUSTIN

AUSTIN — Herman Evans, Big Spring, was given a sixth place finish in the Class AAAAA 100-yard dash in the State Track and Field meet here Saturday but his coach, Glenn Petty, said it was his considered opinion Evans wound up no worse than fourth in a closely-bunched field.

Both Petty and a coach sitting beside him in the stands caught Evans in the time of 9.6. Gene Pouncy of Dallas Lincoln won the event in 9.4.

Among others, Evans beat out Amarillo Palo Duro's Scott, who had beaten him in Regional competition at Lubbock. Scott wound up seventh.

The official time for Evans was 10.1. Herman was second at the 40-yard mark. Petty said it astonished him that the Big Spring runner could have been overlooked at the tape but that it had happened in other events in the giant meet.

Obie Bristow Award To Be Made May 14

The Big Spring Quarterback Club will sponsor the first annual Spring Sports Banquet at 8 p.m., May 14, in the BSHS cafeteria. In the BSHS Olympic record holder, will be guest speaker at the event. Highlight of the evening will be the presentation of the Obie Bristow Award, which will be awarded to the best all-around athlete in Big Spring High School sports.

The sports included in the banquet will be basketball, baseball, golf, boys and girls tennis and volleyball. Over 143 athletes will be on hand.

Presentation of trophies will be to the best athlete in each of the sports. The new award is for the best athlete in the athletic program.

"The Obie Bristow Award is to be the greatest honor bestowed on a Big Spring High School athlete," said Harroll Jones, co-captain of the Big Spring Quarterback Club.

This will be a first for Big Spring, as the only banquet held before has been the football party. Reason the Quarterback Club is doing this is to encourage more participation in the sport of BSHS.

The speaker, Randy Matson, needs no introduction.

Mayor Arnold Marshall has designated May 14 as Randy Matson Day in Big Spring. Many city dignitaries will be on hand to welcome him.

Eagles Surprise Conference Foes

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — North Texas State upset defending champion Drake University in the Missouri Valley Conference track and field meet here Saturday, nipping the Bulldogs 127-114.

The meet, hampered by rain on its second and final day, saw four conference records set, one new mark established in the Drake fieldhouse, and a league record tied.

Cincinnati finished third with 106, Memphis State fourth with 83, and Wichita State fifth with 79. Bradley was last with 49 points.

The meet got off to a record-breaking start Friday when chunky Bill Schmidt of North Texas pitched the javelin 265 feet, 6 inches.

Drake was on the tail end of the scoring with only 15 points going into Saturday's event.

The defending champs of 1968 and 1969 were unable to overcome a 39-point advantage stacked up on opening day by North Texas.

In Saturday's events Al Lanier of Cincinnati triple-jumped 48 feet 6 inches to break the conference mark of 48-5 set by Tulsa's Bob Daugherty in 1964.

Gerald Tinker of Memphis State, who tied the world indoor 100-yard dash record at Houston this year, set a meet record of 21 seconds flat in the 220 dash, slicing a tenth of a second off the old mark set by Doyle McGee of North Texas in 1966.

In the three-mile run, Cincinnati's Ron Stapleton posted a new mark of 14:15.2, erasing the record of 14:17.3 set by Drake's Dave Compton last year.

A Memphis State baton quartet composed of Maurice Knight, Ed Hammonds, Ray Peters and Tinker tied the 38 North Texas record of 41 seconds flat in the 440 relay.

MOST HAPPY FELLOWS — Three jubilant New York Knickerbockers pound each other on the back in mutual congratulations in Knicks locker room Friday night in wake of their victory over the Los Angeles Lakers at New York's Madison Square Garden. They are, from left: Dave DeBuschere, Willis Reed, and Cazzie Russell. The win brought the Knicks their first National Basketball Association title in 20 years.

Pain-Racked Reed Helps Knicks Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Where there's a Willis, there's a way. And the New York Knicks found that way behind pain-racked Willis Reed Friday night, beating the Los Angeles Lakers with surprising ease 113-99 to win the National Basketball Association title.

New York's ace center, playing "because there's no tomorrow" and loaded with pain-killing cortisone, provided a physical and inspirational lift to give the Knicks their first championship in the final, seventh game before a deafening full house at Madison Square Garden.

"The fans were just great, and I didn't want to disappoint them," Reed said in the champagne-drenched euphoria of the winner's dressing room. "When I was warming up, there was a lot of questions in my mind.

"I said to myself, you must do the job... your team needs you."

"REAL TRIBUTE"

"Probably a lot of guys wouldn't have played in his condition," said a disappointed

Jerry West, the Lakers' super guard, who lost his seventh playoff series. "It was a real tribute to the man that he was out there at all."

Reed, the NBA's Most Valuable Player and the Knicks' acknowledged leader, badly bruised his right hip in Monday's fifth game here. He sat out Wednesday night's loss to the Lakers that tied the series at 3-3.

Before the final game, he had two pain-killing shots pumped into the right hip area. Then, just before game time, he walked onto the court amid a thundering, standing ovation.

Reed had said before the game, "I'll play if I can crawl." He almost had to.

His opponent at center, Wilt Chamberlain, beat him down the court on many plays in the first half. Reed was playing on one leg. He grimaced and hobbled, but got the job done — that is, he stopped Chamberlain.

"I was apprehensive from the first moment he stepped on the court," said Red Holzman, the Knicks' coach who was soaked from a dressing room champagne shower. "We meant to use Willis defensively from the start. He knew what he had to do."

Reed also got the Knicks going offensively. He scored the Knicks' first two field goals with his needle-threading jumper from the key. That brought Chamberlain out, and nullified his awesome rebounding pressure under the basket.

STOPS CHAMBERLAIN

While Reed draped himself around Chamberlain, Walt Frazier scored 15 of his game-high 36 points. This helped the Knicks to a 38-24 first quarter edge, and it was all downhill for New York after that.

Reed played the first half, as New York all but buried the hopes of the bridesmaid Lakers with a 69-42 lead. He got another pain-killing shot at the intermission, then played about half of the third quarter.

At the 5:44 mark, backup center Natz Bowman came in with the Knicks ahead 81-56 and the confetti-tossing crowd uncontrollable with glee.

"Willis told me how to play Chamberlain," said Bowman. "He told me to just keep my elbow in his back and lay on him real good."

The advice worked. Chamberlain wound up with 21 points, far from his Herculean performance of 45 Wednesday.

The seconds ticked away in the third quarter, and the crowd got more unruly. Other Knicks took turns hitting baskets — Dick Barnett, Dave DeBuschere and Bill Bradley — and drove more nails into the Lakers' casket.

At the end of the third quarter, it was 94-69 New York.

Reed was voted the Most Valuable Player of this world series of basketball and will collect a cash prize.

The Knicks won a total of $118,000 from the playoffs, about $8,000 to $9,000 a man. The Lakers, who lost for the seventh time without tasting victory champagne, got $87,000 or $6,000 to $7,000 each.

West, who scored 28 points to lead Los Angeles, said: "We were never in the game. The Knicks handled the ball well, they shoot well and they're intelligent."

BANKS HITS 499TH Cubs Rout Reds Back Of Hands

CHICAGO (AP) — Jim Hickman's three-run homer and Ernie Banks' 499th of his career spurred the Chicago Cubs to an 8-1 victory over Cincinnati Saturday in a battle between the National League's division leaders.

Bill Hands, boosting his record to 5-1, contained the hard-hitting Reds but lost his shutout in the second when Lee stint by Ray Washburn with the bases loaded and one out kept the Cubs in check.

The Cubs added another run in the fifth when Callison doubled, took third on a single by Banks and scored while Hickman was grounding out.

LA Stars Defeat Rockets To Win Playoff Series

DENVER (AP) — Merv Jackson's jump shot with 16 seconds left to play gave the Los Angeles Stars a 109-107 victory over Denver and the Western Division title in the American Basketball Association Saturday.

The Stars won the best-of-seven series, four games to one, and will meet the Indiana Pacers for the ABA championship.

The battle before a national television audience climaxed a climb from the ABA Western Division cellar for both teams.

Denver moved from last place in December to first place at the end of the regular season. The Stars, winning 17 of their final 21 regular season games, just made it to the playoff and then eliminated Dallas, while the Rockets eliminated last year's ABA champion Washington Caps, who won as the Oakland Oaks.

The Stars, without a superstar, used a balanced scoring attack to overcome a 37-point performance by Denver's Spencer

Haywood, the rookie chosen the most valuable player in the ABA.

The Stars had seven players in double figures, led by George Stone with 22 and Jackson with 20.

Baltimore Lowers Boom On Sox Ace

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles, hitless against Tommy John for five innings Saturday, raked the Chicago left-hander for four runs in the sixth after an error by Gall Hopkins and went on to edge the White Sox 4-3, extending their winning streak to five games.

Brooks Robinson's two-run homer capped the sixth inning uprising and gave the Orioles a 4-2 lead. The homer, and a pair of singles in the same inning, were Baltimore's only hits off John and reliever Danny Murphy.

Carlos May homered for the White Sox in the eighth, closing the gap, but winning pitcher Tom Phoebus and reliever Eddie Tiedt checked them the rest of the way.

Merv Rettenmund led off the Orioles' sixth with a grounder to shortstop Luis Aparicio and first baseman Hopkins let the throw get past him for a two-base error. One out later, Curt Motton singled to left for the first Baltimore hit, scoring Rettenmund to trim the Sox' lead to 2-1.

A walk to Boog Powell and Paul Blair's run-scoring single tied the game, but Blair was thrown out at second trying to stretch his hit. Brooks Robinson then crashed his fourth homer of the season, scoring behind Powell to break the deadlock.

Hopkins' error made three of the runs unearned.

The White Sox took a 2-0 advantage in the fourth when Hopkins lashed a two-out triple and Ed Herrmann followed with his first homer of the year.

Ratliff's first home run of the season and his second in the major leagues came off Dennis Higgins, the third Cleveland pitcher, and followed a walk to Leo Cardenas.

It was Minnesota's eighth triumph in the last 10 games and ran Cleveland's losing streak to four games and seven of nine.

The Indians had tied the game with two runs in the eighth.

The Twins went ahead 3-1 in the seventh on walks to Rich Reese, Ratliff, Tiant and Cesar Tovar.

Brewers Edge Sens, 3-2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Ted Kubiak drove in the winning run with a bases-loaded, two-out single in the 10th inning Saturday as the Milwaukee Brewers edged Washington 3-2.

Mike Hegan started the winning rally with a one-out single off Joe Grzenda, the fourth Washington pitcher. With two away, Danny Walton was hit by a pitch and Joe Coleman replaced Grzenda.

But Coleman walked Ted Savage, filling the bases, and Kubiak came through with a single to center.

The Senators, trailing 2-0 after the third inning, tied the score against John Morris in the seventh. Rick Reichardt doubled and Aurelio Rodriguez tripled for the first run. Rodriguez was nailed in a rundown on Ed Stroud's tap to the mound, but Stroud then scored from second when Paul Casanova's wind-blown fly fell in center field for a single.

John Kennedy's squeeze bunt scored Kubiak in the second as the Brewer's took a 1-0 lead against Dick Bosman. Walton's single scored Hegan with another run in the third.

Horton Leads Tiger Surge

DETROIT (AP) — Willie Horton paced a home run barrage with two, driving in three runs to help the Detroit Tigers to a come-from-behind 7-4 victory over the Kansas City Royals Saturday.

The Royals had gone to a 4-1 lead before Tiger bats started booming with a three-run rally off starter Jim Rooker in the sixth to tie the game.

Three KC runs were the result of homers. Ed Kirkpatrick hit one in the third and Joe Keough hit a two-run blast off Tiger starter Mickey Lolich in the sixth.

Al Kaline's double opened the sixth and Freehan singled him home. After a single by Jim Northrup, pinch hitter Dalton Jones hit a sacrifice fly off reliever Ken Wright. Second baseman Rich Severson booted Ken Szotkiewicz' grounder for an error and then shortstop Paul Schaal let pinch hitter Gates Brown's grounder get by him for another error, scoring Northrup.

Sunland Park Ends Fine Season Today

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Sunland Park closes out its successful 57-day spring season today with the sixth running of the Riley Allison Futurity over five furlongs. The 13 race program which includes an important Appaloosa event, get underway at 1:30 p.m.

An outstanding lineup of young talent is readying for the Allison Renewal, the gross purse of which measures $49,350. John McKee's undefeated Envoy colt Cable Trouble and Inman and Ogden's Crimson Kitty are expected to view for favoritism as the field nears the post.

Cal's Trouble, victor by a nose in his trial division, came out the best at the draw, winding up on the rail. He was also drawn on the inside last week in his trial victory. Crimson Kitty will break from post position eight and will again be ridden by John Lively.

In sending out Crimson Kitty in the '70 Allison, Hoss Inman is bidding to make it two straight successes in Sunland spring juvenile fixture. Last year, his Mary Lancer was a handy winner over the likes of Special Duce and Clifton Clowers. John Lively, who piloted Mary Lancer, is also gunning for two in a row.

78-Year-Old Atlas Still Quite A Man

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Charles Atlas is muscling towards his 78th birthday and still nobody kicks sand in his face.

"Check these biceps," said the king of body builders. "No man ever had arms like that at 77. Maybe no one ever will again."

Fellow condominium residents gasp upon learning Atlas' age. He looks 55 with vigor that would do justice to a pro football tackle.

"Every morning I do 50 knee bends, 100 situps and between 200 and 300 pushups — 50 at a time," he said, a smile opening in a face tanned like rich leather.

"There were competitors in the physical culture business, but they all went out of business. I was the only one who practiced what he preached."

Charles Atlas was born Angelo Siciliano in the South of Italy on Oct. 30, 1892. His father was a farmer, but by 1904 the family had moved to New York.

His now-legal name of Charles Atlas blossomed long before the noted strongman peddled body building texts.

"I was walking with boyhood friends back before World War I," he said, tapping an active memory. "We stopped at the old Atlas Hotel in New York and noticed a statue of Atlas holding the globe perched atop the building."

A pal told young Siciliano, "You look like that statue, Angelo." The unknown immigrant thought about it and decided to adopt the name Charles Atlas.

"A kid named Angelo Siciliano didn't fare too well in the neighborhood I lived in."

Body building became a religion with Atlas several years before his date with the hotel statue. He swears the famed Charles Atlas advertising story of a beach bully kicking sand into the face of a 98-pound weakling really happened—happened in fact, to Angelo Siciliano.

"I lost my best girl because of it," Atlas said.

The romance ended and the frail 15-year-old boy decided it was time to act — before going back to a beach.

"There was a man named William Davenport who ran a community house for kids in Brooklyn," he said. "Mr. Davenport told me about body building after I asked, 'Can a skinny kid like me ever become strong?'"

"That answer comes every day from one glance at Atlas' 17-inch neck, 41-inch chest or hard 34-inch waist. Not to mention 15½-inch arms that resemble a blacksmith's."

The coming week, Hale and his aides will go into the more advanced part of their defense, working particularly on stunting assignments.

On offense, the team will work to perfect quick pitches and power sweeps. Their offense is patterned after the University of Houston's Veeer attack.

The final week will be devoted toward the task of polishing the attack and the defense.

The 1970 team will scrimmage the 1969 seniors next Saturday. That will be quite a task, since seniors have practically their whole offense intact and have been working out.

The annual spring game takes place in Memorial Stadium Friday, May 22, and it will be sponsored by the Quarterback Club.

Spring Drills OK'd; Transfers Approved

AUSTIN (AP) — The Inter-scholastic League said Saturday it has changed its controversial transfer rule to permit an athlete who changes schools to play football or basketball in his senior year.

The vote of member schools was 876 for and 127 against, changing the rule which has sparked debate everywhere from the playing fields to the legislature.

A proviso was written into the rule, requiring an athlete to get certification from his school superintendent and from the principal and coach of his former school that he was not recruited and that no "undue" influence was exerted against him or his family to move.

The gaining district's executive committee also must approve, and can overrule opposition to the athlete's participation.

Formerly the league operated under a transfer rule adopted to halt the football recruiting wars of the 1920s. That rule, in effect until passage of the new regulation, required transfer pupils to sit out a year of football or basketball.

This ended high school sports participation of seniors whose families had to move.

The new rule says: "A student who has only one year of eligibility remaining may participate in any new school to which he may transfer, provided he has a release, signed by the superintendent of the district or by other designated administrator, and by the principal and coach of the school he previously attended, to the effect that the pupil was not recruited and that no undue influence was exerted upon him or his family; and provided he is approved by the district executive committee of the district to which he is transferring."

"Refusal to release a pupil may be reviewed by the receiving district executive committee and this committee has the authority to declare the pupil eligible if there is no justifiable evidence for denying the release."

In other referenda, the league voted: —To keep the present awards rule, which prohibits awards worth more than $20 over a high school athlete's entire career for participating in inter-school competition, plus $3 each year for additional "symbolic awards."

—To retain spring training in conference AAAA football.

—To prohibit participation in league competition of anyone who did not attend school — a major portion of the preceding semester, completing at least three and one-half units or the equivalent, including at least two separate courses.

—To change the opening date for football games to the second Thursday in September.

—To carry Conference B, football and six man football through to a state championship.

Hale Is Delighted With Improvement

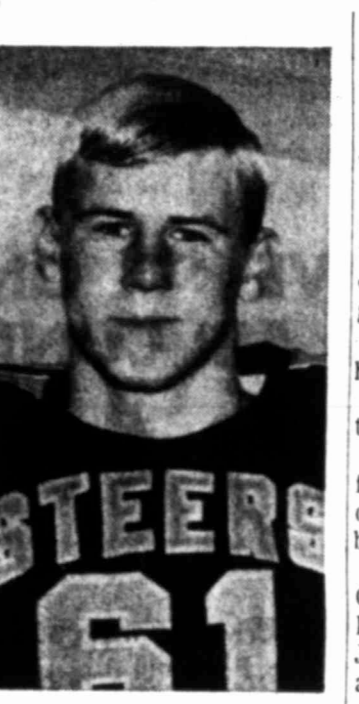

Big Spring High School football coach Clovis Hale said he was delighted with the progress the Steers had shown in their first week of spring workouts, after a Saturday morning scrimmage which was filmed.

"We may have our hopes too high but the desire is there and that is what builds football teams," Hale said.

"We had only one-half a workout where the boys drug a little bit and that is to be expected, because it came a day after they had gone all-out for a long time."

The Steers worked hard on both their running offense and passing game in Saturday's scrimmage. All receivers who showed to advantage, taking arias from Dave Duncan and Mike Adams, were Mike McCormick, Harry Crosby, John Weeks, Cal Lowery and Nat Potts. The latter is a 150-pound, 5-10½ sophomore who has come along surprisingly well.

The club's running game was not overly sharp after one week of drills but coaches haven't tried to polish that facet of their game.

HOWARD STEWART

Fullback Joe Chavez and running backs Roddy Caffey and Arthur Trevino prospered, however. Caffey is back after being out the early part of the week with a groin injury.

Trevino has improved 'out of sight.' He's a 165-pound senior-to-be who could make a big difference in the Steers' running game next fall.

The Steers worked about two hours, 15 minutes Saturday. The blocking left something to be desired but Hale said: "We're going to have an offensive line. We're not coming out of the line as we should but that takes time."

Defensively, tackle Dale Crenshaw, rover Grady Ray, linebacker Chavez and end James Miller have looked good all week.

No boy on the varsity has quit but an outbreak of flu and other ailments has hurt Steve Rich, James Pearce, Bill Coleman and Phillip Ferguson have all been ailing and Howard Stewart returned only Friday after fighting a sinus infection. Pearce has a minor outbreak of ulcers.

The coming week, Hale and his aides will go into the more advanced part of their defense, working particularly on stunting assignments.

On offense, the team will work to perfect quick pitches and power sweeps. Their offense is patterned after the University of Houston's Veeer attack.

Chippers Crank Up For Victory

The Chippers used 15 hits to defeat the Scotties, 24-6 in a National Minor League game here Friday. James McLaughlin, Ronald Sundry and Johnny Mize each had two hits for the Chippers while Richard Fannin and Rickey Clark had the only hits for the Scotties.

Kevin Low was the winning pitcher with James McLaughlin giving him relief. The losing pitcher was Jeff Scott with relief from Daniel Barber, Rickey Cluck and Richard Fannin.

The win gives the Chippers a 3-1 record and drops the Scotties to 2-1.

Incidence Of Drownings Up In State This Year

AUSTIN — Texas waters have claimed 47 lives since the first of the year, and the outdoor recreation season has just barely begun, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The department says the warm weather during the past month has brought a flood of drowning reports. Most of the recent drownings occurred while the victims were engaging in some form of outdoor recreation such as swimming, boating or fishing.

Seventeen of the drownings were the result of boating accidents, and three of these victims were in violation of the law which requires that a Coast Guard approved life jacket be on board for each person in the boat.

Swimming accidents accounted for eight drownings. Perhaps the most tragic of the drownings were those of young children who wandered away from their parents just long enough to drown in some innocent looking body of water. Several children under six years old have died this year near their home in swimming pools or canals.

Department officials say most of the drownings could have been prevented by following some simple rules: keep a tight rein on small children around water; obey the Water Safety Act which was designed to save lives of boaters; and when swimming, know your abilities and your limitations.

Dodgers Invade Angelo At 1:30

The Lions will carry a 3-3 record against the locals.

Firebirds Singe Sports, 20 To 6

The Firebirds used ten hits in achieving their third American Minor League victory here Friday night by defeating the Sports, 20-6. The Sports had only six safeties.

Jim and Jeff Aldrich led the firebirds in victory by going three for four at the plate. Jim got credit for the win. Smith and Dennis led the Sports by going two for two.

The loss puts the Sports at 0-3.

Sportsmen Plan May 15 Picnic

The Permain Bird Dog and Sportsman Association will stage a picnic for members and guests at 7 p.m., Friday, May 15, in Comanche Trail Park.

Members of the board of directors are Roy Smith, Lee Freeze and John Puckett, all of Big Spring.

Cards Oppose Lamesa, CC

The Big Spring Cardinals will play a doubleheader today in Steer Park against the Lamesa Eagles and the Colorado City Indians. Game time will be 1:30.

The Cardinals will bring a 5-1 record to today's game after last weekend's victory over the San Angelo Lions. The Cardinals took ten innings to defeat the Lions by the score of 9-7 in San Angelo.

Mother's Day activities are in store for today's games as two free meals will be given away and a cardinal corsage to three winners. The meal will be served to the Phillips 66 Truck Stop and the corsages will be from Faye's Flowers.

Tony Fierro will be on the mound for the first game with Jerry James, Leon Hobbs and Jody Flores available for relief duties. Also in the lineup for today's first game will be: Felix Martinez, short stop; Junior Mendoza, left field; Pat Martinez Jr., first base; Tony Marinez, third base; Jesse Zapata, center field; Benny Marquez, right field; Billy Pineda, second base; and Ramirez behind the plate.

For the second game several positions will be manned by different players. Jesse Glague will be at second base and Andy Gamboa will be in center field. Joe Martinez will be catching. The rest of the lineup will be the same as the first game.

Junior Mendoza will be on the mound for the game with the Indians.

SOON TO GET 3,000TH HIT Henry Aaron Is Closing In On Major Milestone

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)—Henry Louis Aaron, on the threshold of one of baseball's greatest achievements, says, "I only hope it's a clean hit."

He's talking about the 3,000 hit of a fabulous major league career, one that will fulfill a lifetime dream and grant him membership in one of the game's most exclusive clubs.

Aaron entered a weekend series against the St. Louis Cardinals needing 12 hits to reach the magic mark and become only the ninth player in history to do so.

The list includes eight Hall of Famers, and the superstar of the Atlanta Braves is virtually assured a spot in the Cooperstown museum when he becomes eligible for induction.

Ty Cobb heads the list with 4,191 hits, followed by Stan Musial with 3,630, Tris Speaker, 3,515, Honus Wagner 3,430, Eddie Collins 3,311, Nap Lajoie 3,251, Paul Waner 3,152 and Cap Anson 3,081.

However, The Hammer would be the first player, ever with 3,000 hits and 500 career home runs, but that's an honor that should soon be overshadowed since San Francisco's Willie Mays, who has 603 homers, needs only 56 hits to reach 3,000.

At 36, Hammerin' Hank has reached what normally is the twilight of a baseball career, but he's remained so physically fit that he easily could have five more seasons as a regular.

"Did you ever look at his waist?" Mickey Mantle asked last winter. "Lean and tough, and he's durable. He's the sort who never gets hurt."

The 180-pound Aaron has added only 10 pounds since he broke into the National League in 1954 when the Braves called Milwaukee home.

He spent only two years in the minors, batting .336 at Eau Claire and .362 at Jacksonville before the Braves began reaping returns on their $10,000 investment — the amount the Braves paid the Indianapolis Clowns of the Negro American League for Hank's contract.

Aaron had hoped to hit No. 3,000 at Atlanta Stadium, but that's now unlikely. Following the three-game set with the Cards, Atlanta begins a 12-game road trip facing Chicago, Cincinnati, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

"If I don't get it on the road trip," Aaron said, "I'll be in one hell of a slump."

However, if he should fall one hit short entering the final game at Los Angeles, "I'd like to sit one out to get it at home," he said.

Musial, the National League record holder, had hoped to reach the milestone at home, too. Musial's came at Chicago when he doubled as a pinch-hitter driving in a run against Moe Drabowsky on May 13, 1958. At that time, Aaron had fewer than 800 hits.

Falcons Deflate Ravens, 30-5

The Falcons, with only six hits, routed the Ravens in a Minor International Little League game here Friday night by the score of 30-5. The Ravens went hitless.

The Ravens had pitching trouble in the early innings as their pitchers gave up 28 walks. The winning pitcher was Terry Flowers. Belliveau took the loss.

The win leaves the Falcons with a 3-0 record and drops the Ravens to 1-1.

Yale Out Front

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale triumphed over Harvard and Princeton Friday in a triangular encounter for the Big Three and Red Cup golf championships.

Yale won the Harvard match 4-1, Princeton 3-2 and Harvard 3-1.

Poss Pitches Yanks To Win

Del Pos pitched the Yankees to a 7-4 victory over the Devils in a National Little League game here Friday night to bring their record up to 2-1. The loss dropped the Devils to 0-3.

All eight of the Yankees hits were equally distributed among the ball club while three of the Devils' nine hits were made by Jackie Romine.

The Devils took the lead in the first inning by scoring three runs, the Yanks finally tied up in the third and brought home the victory in the final two innings.

The losing pitcher was Robert Johnson.

FIRST TIME IN A HALF CENTURY No Statewide Runoff Primary

By The Associated Press
The Texas Election Bureau said Saturday the Democratic party will not need to hold a statewide runoff primary for the first time in at least a half century.

And an analysis of the May 2 voting demonstrated clearly that Sen. Ralph Yarborough's inability to get out the city vote was a major cause of his defeat by Lloyd Bentsen Jr.

Some runoffs for local offices will be held June 6 and the Democrats will name a nominee for Dist. 7 of the U.S. House in Houston—the spot once held by Republican George Bush, his party's Senate nominee to oppose Bentsen.

The absence of any need for a statewide runoff was nailed down Friday when Hawthorne Phillips of Austin withdrew from what once looked like a Democratic contest for Place 3 on the Supreme Court.

A runoff had appeared in prospect for the Supreme Court until the weekend, when Texas Election Bureau final figures gave James Denton of Amarillo a majority of 2,702 votes over both opponents combined.

The final Election Bureau figures in that race were Denton 581,830, Phillips 289,703 and Matt Davis of Texarkana 289,298.

Other vote totals in contested races:
Democratic primary:
Senator: Bentsen 812,365, Yarborough 721,627.
Attorney General: Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin 951,994, David Brown 343,999.
Land Commissioner: Bob Armstrong 697,942, Commissioner Jerry Sadler 433,224, Fred Williams 196,538.
Railroad Commissioner: Commissioner Ben Ramsey 1,018,399, Connie Lawson 252,495.
Criminal Appeals Court: Truman Roberts 574,601, Earl Smith 538,564.

Republican primary:
Senator: Rep. George Bush 87,221, Robert Morris 12,333.
Governor: Paul Eggers 89,722, Roger Martin 6,642.
U.S. House, by districts:
Democratic:
1: Rep. Wright Patman 55,372, Bill Russell 16,988.
5: Rep. Earle Cabell 29,837, Mike McKool 25,777.
Republican:
7: W. R. Archer 13,485, Ross

Baker 6,117, Dudley Sharp 5,375, Charles Grace 65,968.
9: Henry Pressler 1,926, William McNich 1,261.
Final count in the Democratic contested races for civil appeals courts, included:
4: Fred Klingeman 79,405, Hancock 35,229.
11: Austin McCloud 42,879, Roger Garrett Jr. 18,498.
12: Connally McKay 43,439,

Yarborough, leader of the liberals, had to obtain a large vote in the cities where ethnic minorities are concentrated. But the citizens simply did not vote in the larger cities, and that doomed the senator.

In the eight metropolitan counties as defined by the Election Bureau, only 30 per cent of the voters turned out compared with a statewide percentage of 55. Yarborough took those big vote counties but by a trivial margin, 309,346 to 308,765. Bentsen carried Bexar (San Antonio), Dallas, Tarrant (Fort Worth) and Jefferson (Beaumont-Port Arthur) counties. Yarborough won in Harris (Houston), El Paso, Nueces (Corpus Christi) and Travis (Austin).

Urban counties as defined by the Election Bureau, of which there are 26, showed a vote of 37 per cent of potential, and Bentsen captured them 178,722 to 146,007.

The rural counties had their day—the indifference of the city voters bringing the smaller-vote sections into renewed prominence after they appeared to be fading in political power.

Rural and smaller-town voters turned out 55 per cent of their potential, putting Bentsen easily over the top. The vote in these 220 counties was Bentsen 324,878 and Yarborough 266,274.

Fulbright Thinks Senate Will Cut Funds For War

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright, chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, says he thinks a majority of the Senate is now opposed to the Vietnam war and will vote to restrict funds for it.

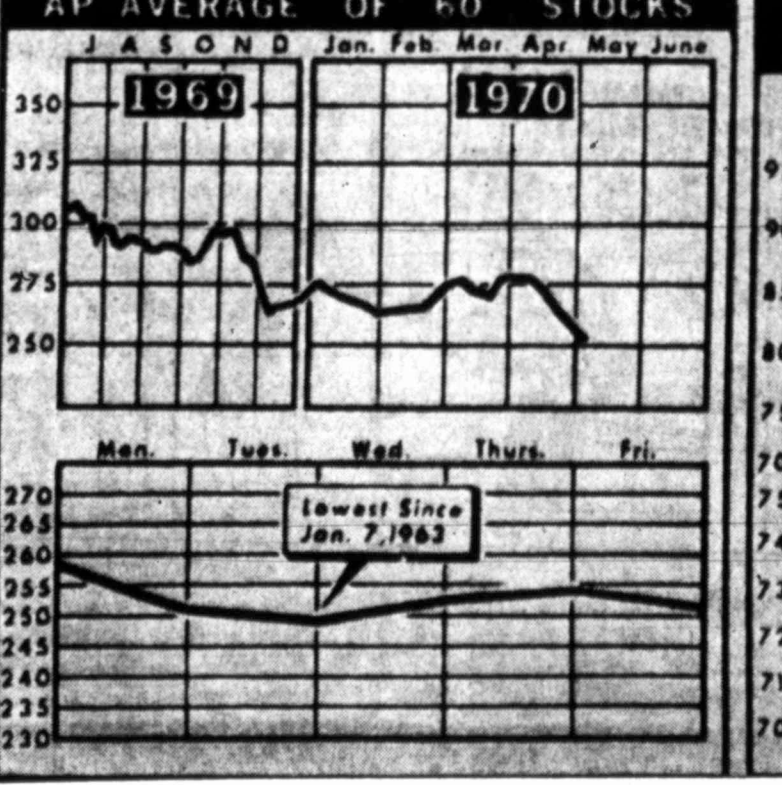

The Arkansas Democrat said that even if the House fails to go along he believes such a Senate vote—which could come within 10 days—would persuade President Nixon "to go to a conference and settle the war."

"He would surely feel then it was time to re-evaluate his policy," Fulbright said.

Here are the questions and answers from the interview with The Associated Press, conducted a few hours before President Nixon's Friday night news conference:
Q. What kind of a constitutional crisis do you think we're in?
A. It's the profound difference of view on policy between the executive and legislative branches of the government. It stems, I would say, from the previous administration and from the 1964 Tonkin Gulf resolution which itself was a very questionable constitutional procedure. I believe, and a number of us believe, it was obtained by deception. This embitters the whole matter. If he (former President Lyndon B. Johnson) had come in 1964 and had asked for a declaration of war and had received a declaration of war, this would have made a tremendous difference to the constitutional relationship. Not having received that, the procedure was not really proper under the Constitution—and I take a good deal of the responsibility for not having recognized this at the time. Quite obviously, in normal times, the Senate would never pass a resolution of that kind. There would be no occasion for it in normal times. But it was wrong. Now this was the beginning of what I think has developed into a constitutional crisis.

Q. Did Secretary of State Rogers promise to consult with you any new moves in Southeast Asia?
A. Without any equivocation, he promised to consult before action was taken and I think he said before decisions were made.
Q. But they didn't?
A. That's the way I interpret it. I don't consider it consultation when it wasn't a frank revelation of the decisions that had been made. It was something else. We discussed the question of the request for aid. We did not discuss the movement of our troops into Cambodia... It is my feeling, judging by the vote just recently on the authorization for the military, that a majority of the House still supports the war in Vietnam. But I don't believe a majority of the Senate does. That's a belief: we haven't had an out-and-out test yet.

ANOTHER LOSS — The stock market fell again this week with the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closing at 717.73 Friday, four days after hitting its lowest level in 6 and a half years. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell by 1.6 to 252.5 over the same period.

Stock Market Plummets After Thrusts, Violence

NEW YORK (AP) — New American military thrusts into Cambodia and student violence on the domestic front sent the stock market plummeting to new lows the past week.
On Monday, the Dow Jones average of 30 industrials fell 19.07 points, the largest single-day loss since President John F. Kennedy was assassinated Nov. 22, 1963, when the average fell 21.16 to 711.49.

The following day, the average closed at 709.74, lowest closing level since Aug. 9, 1963, when it stood at 708.39.
A mild technical rally Wednesday and Thursday erased some of these losses, but the market still ended the week on the soft side. The rally was sparked by the Federal Reserve Board's reduction in the margin requirements for stock purchases.

Antiwar demonstrations erupted in the Wall St. area during the week. Trading on the New York Stock Exchange dropped to its lowest level this year, while on the American Stock Exchange it tapered off to its lowest point in over three years. Big Board volume was 6.93 million, and Amex volume was 2.05 million.

Figures Congress To Work Longer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Saturday the U.S. military move into Cambodia has stretched the timetable for congressional adjournment past the original Labor Day target date.

"I think Congress should be prepared to stay in session for the rest of this calendar year, the elections notwithstanding, to face up to its duties and responsibilities," both in Southeast Asia and at home, the Montana Democrat told reporters.

Both the House and Senate have stayed close to their original schedule, raising hopes that the timetable could be met and members could get home well before the November elections in which all 435 House seats and 35 Senate spots will be filled.

But Mansfield, one of those running for re-election this year, said, "the invasion into Cambodia has lengthened that timetable. 'While I would like to get out by Labor Day, I'm ready to stay in all year.'"

He expressed grave doubts about the Nixon administration's ability to meet its own schedule for pulling out U.S. forces from Cambodia by June 30, commenting that "there will be replicas of the situation that existed before the initial thrust. 'That's what makes it difficult to understand the move and its validity and its logic,'" Mansfield added.

The Goliad band will present "Bravuria," "Git On Board" and "Relax." Runnels band will play "Gallantry March," "Hoosier Holiday" and "Aria and Fugue."

DEAR ABBY: It all began when three families were good friends. The husband of one and the wife of another had an "affair." Then the wronged wife and wronged husband decided to even the score, so they had an affair.

It was a very messy scandal which got to the point of where both couples were asking for divorces, with one man accusing the other man of fathering his last child.

The third family (mine) was not involved, except that we were friends of both.

Well, they patched up their differences, and, believe it or not, these two families took all their kids and vacationed together!

don't feel that I should sit in judgment of anyone.

SMALL TOWN, OHIO DEAR SMALL TOWN: If your husband doesn't want to pal around with these two couples, I don't blame him. Find other friends. It's not a matter of "sitting in judgment" — it's respecting the wishes of a mate who can hardly be blamed for putting the kibbosh on couples who play musical beds.

DEAR ABBY: Five years ago I was given a license by the state of California to marry my stepbrother. We were married in a Christian Church ceremony and have two beautiful children who are baptized in the church. I am sure there must be hundreds of other married couples who used to be stepbrother and stepsister.

In your column you called a woman who married her stepbrother a "weirdo." If you are suggesting that there is something either immoral or illegal about such marriages, please retract it, as that kind of statement can hurt a lot of people.

EX-STEPISTER NOW WIFE AND MOTHER DEAR EX: The "weirdo" in my column was referred to as a "weirdo" not because she married her stepbrother, but because she married him while she was still married to her husband, which made her a bigamist!

DEAR ABBY: I could just cry! For two weeks we've been looking for a house to rent and have had no luck at all. We've seen several homes that would be ideal for us, but as soon as we tell them we have six children they say, "Sorry, we want adults only."

It just makes me sick, Abby. What are we supposed to do with our children? Drown them? COULD CRY DEAR ABBY: I understand your problem and sympathize with you. But if you were a property owner whose property had been damaged by children, you'd be reluctant to rent to families with children, too. Not everyone with six children owns a home. Keep looking.

A Day For Mother

Today the children will bring gifts, and fathers will say 'thank you' in many ways. For only a moment in time, the living world will pause to reflect on the miracle of birth. The day is for "Mother", whose loving eyes see the greatest gift of all—her children.

IT'S A SERIOUS MOMENT between mother and daughter as Mrs. Jack Hallett Jr. explains to Lynn Marie, 3, that she can hold 'little sister' in just a moment. The baby, born March 30 to Capt. and Mrs.

Hallett, 2612 Larry Drive, has been named Jennifer Sue. The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jones of Newark, Ohio, and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hallett Sr., Toledo, Ohio.

MOTHER'S DAY finds Mrs. Paul R. Mrs. Petterson is the former Gloria Coker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Coker, 1018 Birdwell. The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Petterson of Colorado City.

JUST TEN DAYS OLD, Robert Russell McEwen IV ("Torbin") lets a great big smile show that he's a pretty happy fellow—and likes his bright red sailor suit. Torbin's mother, Mrs. R. Russell McEwen III, is the former Laura Parks, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. R. Wendal Parks, 1757 Purdue. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr., 809 W. 14th, and the late Mr. McEwen. The young family will soon return to Austin where McEwen attends the University of Texas.

New Methods Make Yeast Bread Convenient To Bake

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
(County HD Agent)

Once upon a time, Grandmother spent a couple of days making one batch of yeast bread. She had to let it rise all night because the yeast worked slowly. Later yeast was improved. Its action speeded up so that after a couple of hours rising time the bread could be baked.

During World War II, a second improvement was made. Active dry yeast was developed to be used by the armed forces.

Now, using more techniques that have been developed, it is possible to make bread quickly and easily, let it rise in the refrigerator, and bake it at your convenience. The new method eliminates watching and waiting while the bread dough rises. The bread is mixed, kneaded, and shaped in a single operation that takes just 45 minutes. The pan and loaves are then refrigerated for at least two hours or up to 24 hours. Whenever it is convenient you can bake your loaf of bread, or pan of rolls.

EASY WHITE BREAD
(Ingredients for 2 loaves)

- 5 1/2 to 6 1/4 cups regular flour
- 2 pkgs. active dry yeast
- 2 tbsps. sugar
- 1 tsp. salt
- 1/4 cup soft margarine
- 2 1/4 cups very hot tap water
- Cooking oil

Measure the flour the no-sift way. Spoon or pour into measuring cup. Level off and pour onto wax paper. Mix undissolved yeast with 2 cups flour, sugar, and salt in large bowl. Add margarine, then very hot tap water. Beat two minutes at medium speed. Add one cup flour. Beat at high speed until thick and elastic, one minute with table model mixer, or two minutes with hand mixer. Stir in remaining flour gradually — add enough to make soft dough which leaves sides of bowl. Turn onto floured board.

Knead by shaping dough into ball. Fold in half toward you. Using heels of hands, push dough away with rolling motion. Turn one-quarter way around. Repeat kneading until smooth and springy, about five to 10 minutes. Cover with plastic wrap, then with a towel. Let rest 20 minutes on board.

Punch dough down. Divide in half. Roll each half into an 8x12-inch rectangle of uniform thickness. Break any bubbles with rolling pin. Shape into loaves, beginning with upper 8-inch side and rolling toward you. Seal with thumbs. Seal final seam securely. Fold sealed ends under. Place seam side down in center of greased 8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inch loaf pans. Brush lightly with oil. Cover loosely with oiled wax paper and plastic wrap. Refrigerate two to 24 hours. Remove, uncover, and let stand 10 minutes. Puncture any large bubbles carefully just before baking. Bake at 400 degrees for 30 to 40 minutes. Remove from pans immediately. Brush with margarine. Cool on racks.

Tips to make your bread the best:

Mix yeast thoroughly with two cups of flour and the other dry ingredients. With this method you no longer have to dissolve the yeast in water.

Add tap water all at once. "Very hot" is as hot as the hand can stand — not scalding.

Beat first two additions of flour with the electric mixer. This strengthens the dough and helps make high, light loaves.

Knead dough thoroughly for good texture and volume. To check, press your finger into the dough. When kneaded sufficiently, the dough will spring back.

Cover the dough to keep it moist while it rests on the board, and rises in the refrigerator. Be sure the wax paper and plastic wrap over the refrigerated loaves are not tucked under the pans. Coverings should be loose enough to allow the dough to rise.

Correct pan size is important for high, well-shaped loaves.

Refrigerate loaves on a shelf which allows room for the dough to rise. The space between shelves should be about five inches.

Test for doneness by tapping the top crust with your finger. If the bread sounds hollow and the crust is a nice brown, the bread is baked.

Cool bread slightly before slicing. Use a serrated-edge knife with a gentle sawing motion for the best results. This is a good place to put that electric knife to good use.

A slice of this bread will supply one serving of the four servings of food from the bread and group that you need each day.

It contains three important B vitamins that are: thiamine, niacin, and riboflavin. These help cells use the energy from food, and keep nerves and skin in good condition. Thiamine helps you enjoy what you eat by promoting good appetite and digestion!

Carbohydrates in bread are used as fuel in the body. They give you energy for work and play. Energy is measured in calories. Your daily activities determine the number of calories you use. The more active you are the more calories you use.

Iron is also found in breads. You may know that your body needs iron, but do you know why? The mineral iron is needed by all cells . . . especially the red blood cells. They carry oxygen from the air you breathe through the blood vessels to all cells in your body. Without iron, you feel tired and rundown.

Homemaking Department Will Offer Three Adult Workshops

The Homemaking Department of Big Spring High School will offer three workshops for adults this summer. There will be no charge for the workshops; however, individuals must furnish materials which they will use in the course.

From June 15-19 "Techniques of Basic Sewing" will be taught from 7 to 9 p.m. by Mrs. John Hamilton and Miss Kay Condon. "Furniture Antiquing and Creative Stitchery" will be led by Miss Helen Willard from June 22-26 from 9 to 11 a.m. The third workshop will be conducted by Mrs. Wilbur Cunningham on "Sewing Techniques" from July 13-17 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The course in basic sewing will present methods of construction applicable for making blouses, skirts, pants and one and two-piece dresses. This course is designed for the beginner or those wanting to learn new methods in this area. The course in furniture ant-tiquing is planned to make old furniture beautiful and usable with a minimum of expenses and effort. The July workshop on sewing techniques is intended as an intermediate course and might be used as a follow-up of the beginner's course offered in June. The content of the course will be influenced by the special interests and needs of the students.

Local and area women are invited to enroll in one or more of the classes by calling the high school at 267-7461, Ext. 48.

Forum Hears Talks On Youth Rebellion

"The American Home and Family" was the program topic at the Modern Woman's Forum luncheon Friday at the home of Mrs. Mary Brown, 1006 Wood.

"As our homes go, so goes the nation," Mrs. Clyde Lowry said in discussing "Building a Happy Family Life."

"Values and goals are essential," she said. "How we apply them to living and to reality make for a better Christian home life."

Mrs. S. R. Nobles, president, discussed "Today's Youth — What They Should Learn from Their Parents." The generation gap is one of the grim realities of our time," she said. "Over half of the world's population is under 21 years of age. Today much of this youthful segment of society is in revolt. Our young people today feel betrayed by the three traditional character molding and life-shaping institutions of society: the home, school and church. The home is fast disappearing as the traditional bulwark for standards of conduct."

The club contributed to Howard County Library. Mrs. E. C. Howard was welcomed as a new member, and Mrs. Ray Paige, Corpus Christi, was introduced as a guest. The club will not meet until next fall.

Couple Recites Vows In Home Ceremony

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Mears, 711 Scurry, was the setting Friday evening for the wedding of Miss Deborah Kay Morton and Micky Lynn Gammons.

The wedding party stood before pedestals holding baskets of blue and white carnations as the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Claude Craven, pastor of Trinity Baptist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin G. Morton, 1314 Harding, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Billie Gammons, 2100 Runnels, and Archie Gammons of Big Spring.

The bride's street-length wedding dress was of white satin overlaid with white lace. The sleeveless A-line fashion, styled with semi-fitted torso featured a neckline squared low at the back and marked with a bow topping a back center pleat. Her face veil was attached to a cluster of satin roses, and she carried a bouquet of white carnations centered with a white orchid.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Zonell Mears. Her street-length dress of white lace featured a high rounded neckline and puffed Victorian sleeves fitted from the elbows. Her headpiece was a blue velvet bow veiled in blue net, and she carried a single long-stemmed blue carnation tied with blue streamers.

Leonard Allen Sneed served as best man.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception was held in the home where the refreshment table was covered with a white lace cloth over a blue underlay. The centerpiece was of white carnations flanked by crystal candle holders with white tapers.

Mrs. Mears presided at the guest registry, and other members of the house party were Miss Jill Franklin and Mrs. Donnie Jones.

Guests from Stanton were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Brumley and Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Brumley.

Following a wedding trip to the Dallas-Fort Worth area, the couple will reside at 2100 Runnels. Mrs. Gammons is attending Big Spring High School, and Gammons, who also attended BSHS, is employed at Planter's Gin.

COLLEGE PARK
Cool rise bread that can be mixed with an electric mixer was demonstrated to members of College Park Home Demonstration Club Tuesday. Mrs. Royce Walker was the hostess in her mother's home, 1517 11th Place. Mrs. Ken Watson and Mrs. Melvin Brown showed how the bread is made.

To avoid batter spattering, they suggested that a cup towel be draped around the mixer and bowl. After the bread-batter is mixed it is left to set for 20 minutes, then rolled out. It rises in the refrigerator for two hours or can be left overnight and baked the next day.

The next meeting will be a safety program May 19 in First Federal Community Room with Mrs. Melvin Brown as hostess.

AIRPORT
Mrs. S. A. Wilson presided as the Airport HD Club met in the home of Mrs. William Lee, 3621 Calvin, Tuesday for a program and salad luncheon. Guests were Mrs. Rex Morton and Mrs.

Ben Chamberland, mother of the hostess.

"Rapid Mix Cool Rise Bread" was the program given by Mrs. James Finley and Mrs. Lee Wright, who demonstrated the faster method of making yeast bread. They stressed the value of bread in the diet, noting that it contains thiamine, niacin and riboflavin as well as other vitamins. Bread helps build energy cells and keeps nerves and skin in good condition.

Mrs. Vern Vigar was named nominee for delegate to the state convention, and Mrs. R. D. Key was elected council delegate.

The next meeting will be May 19 in the home of Mrs. C. L. Mason, 1013 Bluebonnet.

CITY CLUB
"Active dry yeast was invented during World War II and now a new method has been invented for making bread," Mrs. E. R. Moren said at the City Home Demonstration Club meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. Marvin Sewell, 407 Washington Blvd.

Mrs. Sewell and Mrs. Mohen presented the program on "cool rise, rapid-mix yeast bread."

"The new method eliminates watching and waiting for bread to rise," Mrs. Moren said. "It takes only 45 minutes to mix,

Mrs. Elmer Lyster was appointed stamp chairman to replace Mrs. Garland Helton who is moving from the city.

The hospitality committee reported 11 visits. A meeting will be at 8 p.m. held May 18 in the parish hall to patch and pack clothing for Lutheran World Relief. The next regular meeting will be June 4 in the home of Mrs. A. A. Grauman, 1903 Nolan.

Casually Yours

By JO BRIGHT

How nice to feel wanted! The John Hodges had a call from Mrs. E. V. (Liz) Spence in Corpus Christi the other day, and she instructed them to tell me to get back to writing columns so she can keep up with old friends through The Herald.

Well, it's likely Liz knew Mrs. Isadore Weiner of Dallas, who lived here some time ago with the late Mr. Weiner, an oil producer. Mrs. Weiner sends the announcement that her daughter, Mary Jane was married April 8 to Edmond Harrison Potest Jr., and the couple is residing in Arlington.

Understand the R. H. Weavers have purchased the stately white home on Hillside Drive of Mrs. George Peacock and the late Dr. Peacock. Don't know if they've made the move. News came from Enid, Okla., that Jonathan L. Graham, a sophomore student at Phillips University; and son of Mr. and Mrs. Burl M. Graham Jr., Route One, had a leading role in the college's religious drama, "The Sausage Maker's Interlude" presented May 5.

Speaking of drama, I noticed Ernest Boyd, principal of Park Hill School, in the lobby of Midland Community Theater Friday night during "The Andersonville Trial" so guess Mrs. Boyd was in the audience, too. The play was good, but the only burst of applause during the action was for young Lee Edwards, a high school sophomore, who played the role of a young war prisoner. Among the lobby display of "stitchery" was a striking black and white impression (obviously of Cosden) which I thought was beautiful. The generation gap was obvious when a young couple next to me muttered "pollution!"

Willard Sullivan had an interesting chat Friday in the Settles Drug with another pharmacist Billy Delaney of London, England, who with his wife, Sheila, is here to visit his brother, Rev. James Delaney at Sacred Heart Catholic Church. Rev. Delaney will take several days off to join the couple for a quick trip to Mission and Monterrey, Mexico.

Mrs. J. B. (Ruth) Apple, a past president of Big Spring Credit Women and the Lone Star Council, was in Breckenridge Friday night to install officers for a new credit women's chapter.

Comdr. (Ret.) and Mrs. Neel Barnaby have returned from a 10-day trip which took them to Corpus Christi to visit Capt. (Ret.) and Mrs. Bill Bookout. (He is a business partner of Billy Peugh, who invented the net used to pick up astronauts.) Later, they were in Harlingen to see her sister, Miss Grace Newby, and in Brownsville as guest of Capt. (Ret.) and Mrs. Bill Peterson. Neel travels so much — don't think he has his shore legs back since retirement.

Note comes to say that Anne Ethleen Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Robinson, was recently initiated into Delta Delta at Southern Methodist University. Such a pretty girl.

When I was in El Paso last weekend to attend a funeral, the trip was made lighter by having as a traveling companion, Mrs. Curtis C. Choate, who visited her sister, Mrs. Marge Houghton and other relatives.

Don't forget today: The Big Spring Art Association is holding the final day of its spring show in the First Federal Community Room. Open to the public, free of charge, viewing hours are from 1 to 5 p.m. Deadline. Call me?

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Cooper, 3213 Drexel, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Janice La Nell, to Sgt. Wayne Edward Dow, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Dow of Winnfield, La. The couple will marry July 18 in Trinity Baptist Church with the Rev. Claude Craven officiating.

New Orleans Site For May PTA Convention

Mrs. Leon S. Price, president of the national PTA, this week announced that the 10-million-member organization will hold its 1970 convention from May 31 through June 3 at the Roosevelt Hotel in New Orleans, La.

The theme of the convention this year is "Quality Living and Quality Learning for All Americans." It is also the title of the new national PTA "Action Program" which outlines PTA priorities for the next two years.

"We expect delegates from PTA's in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and the European Congress of American Parents and Teachers to attend this important convention," Mrs. Price said in a recent statement.

Highlights of the convention include a panel discussion on student unrest, Arthur Godfrey talking about pollution, an astronaut from one of the moon shots and Sam Levenson adding humor with a serious message.

"As the world's largest volunteer organization devoted solely to the welfare of children," Mrs. Price said, "it is only fitting that the national PTA focus attention on critical issues facing the nation today." While in New Orleans, delegates will come to grips with such subjects as parent involvement in the schools, hunger and disadvantages, project RISE (Reading Improvement Services Everywhere), and challenges of the 70's to the PTA. Among distinguished guests scheduled to participate in the

Dashing Accents

For dashing accents that will transform a boxy, oddly shaped or just plain drab room, look into such new accessories as contact paper for a contrasting wall, hanging rice-paper lampshades in bubble effect, clip-on lights for difficult corners — or a can of black spray paint to transform an ordinary door into a conversation piece.

Miss Linda L. Magnor Weds CWO R. H. Boyd

Miss Linda Lou Magnor, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. George H. Magnor, Vincent, and Army CWO Robert H. Boyd, Ft. Rucker, Ala., were married at 8:30 p.m. Friday in Vincent Baptist Church. CWO Boyd is the son of Mrs. Florence M. Boyd, Buzzard's Bay, Mass.

The Rev. Magnor performed the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of gladioli flanking an arch of greenery.

Mrs. Steve Hailey sang "Walk Hand In Hand," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Arlene Milliken, pianist.

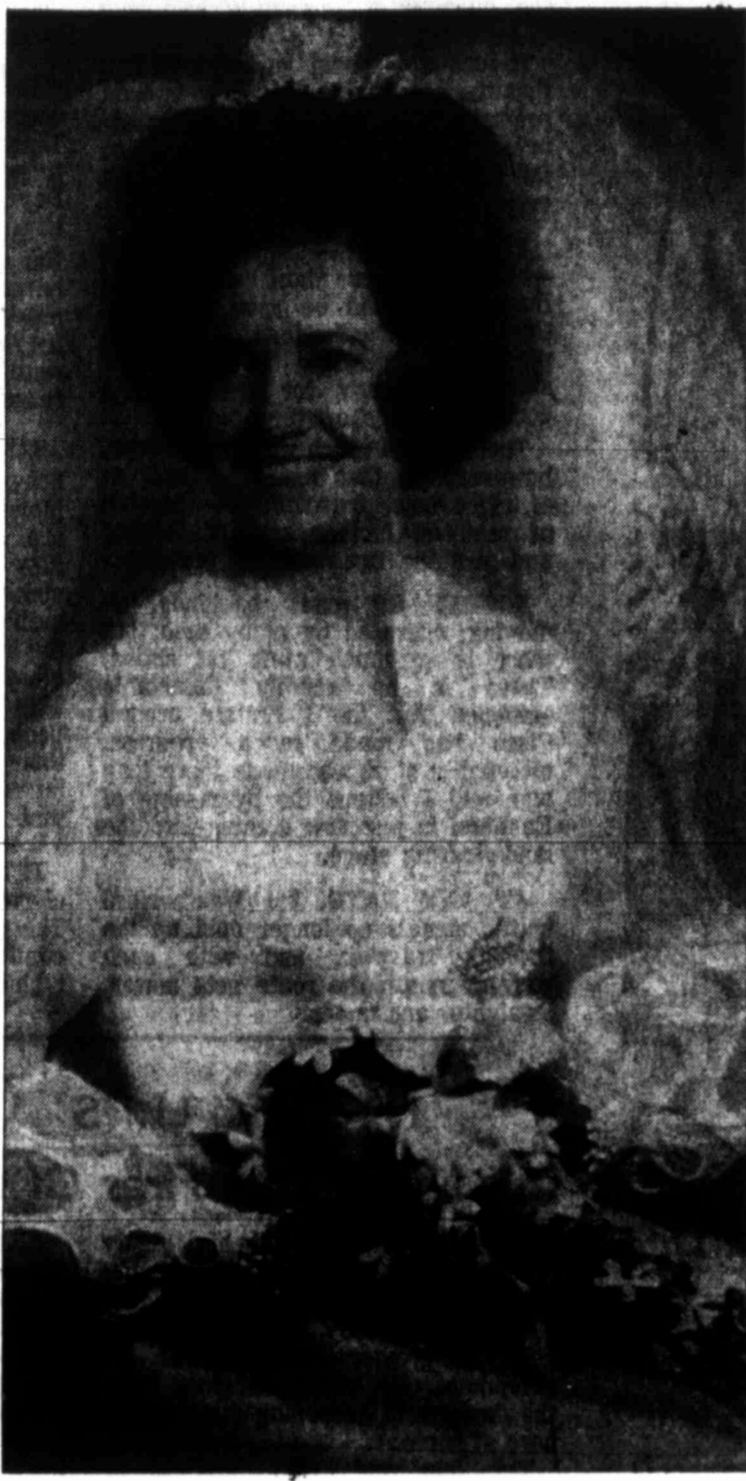

The bride was attired in a crescent-waisted gown of organza fashioned with Camelot sleeves. Venice lace accented the sleeves and neckline. The detachable chapel train was trimmed with snowflake embroidery. The bride's wrist-length veil of illusion was held by a double crown of pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Daniel A. Fox, Vincent, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and Miss Jeralyn Dunn, Colorado City, was the bridesmaid. They wore yellow chiffon dresses with long sleeves trimmed in white lace. They carried nosegays of yellow carnations tied with white ribbon.

1st Lt. Michael Kerl, Mineral Wells, served as best man and CWO Steve Hailey, Weatherford, was the groomsmen. Danny White lighted the altar tapers and served as usher.

The bridal couple will reside in Buzzard's Bay. The bride wore a yellow A-line linen dress with matching accessories and orchid corsage for the wedding trip.

Tells Effect Of 'Love' On Health

The effect of love on one's health was discussed by Mrs. Herman Schifflet at the Texas Delta Chapter of Phi Sigma Alpha meeting in her home Thursday. Mrs. Schifflet explained that many people who lacked love and attention during their formative years resorted to "round about or devious ways" to get attention as adults. They created illnesses for themselves and talked a great deal about their health problems.

"Loving is a basic emotional relationship with others and its greatest single factor is the willingness to give to others," she said. "The willingness to give of oneself is a sign of emotional maturity and mental health. By giving, one gets the most satisfaction out of life. These people have a healthy respect for themselves. They are generally so outgoing that they rarely have time to think of themselves, except in a positive way."

Mrs. Arthur Wadle, president, announced that the PSA state convention will be held in Houston Oct. 9-11. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. John Sullivan, 1005 E. 21, June 4.

Auxiliary Hears Convention Report

Mrs. Roscoe Cone, president, presided at the American Legion Auxiliary meeting Thursday in the Legion Hut. Mrs. Cone and Mrs. Zella Ray reported on the 4th Division convention held May 1-2 in Big Spring. Mrs. Ray, hospital representative, announced that orientation will be held for volunteers at the Veterans Administration Hospital June 1. Sherri Turner, Junior Auxiliary delegate to Girls State in Seguin will attend an orientation dinner in Lubbock June 2.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

Mother's Day is Beautiful! Aside from the sentiments of love and devotion everything about it is pretty. When we think of all the pink ribbons, we think of a girl who is the mother, whether she is a young one or an older one. There is always some lace to denote quiet strength or fragility and flowers, red for vigor and courage and pure white for memories of all those wonderful years before the parting. Truly, it's beautiful. Happy Mother's Day!

MRS. W. A. (AL) MOORE certainly added to her Mother's Day happiness Thursday morning. To her and Mr. Moore were born twins, a boy and a girl, at 4:03 a.m. and 4:08 a.m. in a Dallas hospital. The boy weighed in at five pounds, six ounces, and the girl at five pounds, two ounces. They are the grandchildren of JOHN ASKEW COFFEY and the late MARQUERETTA COFFEY. Mrs. Moore is the former Glenna Coffey. The Moore home is at 7707 El Santo, Dallas 75420.

MRS. NELSON THOMAS SR., has extended her visit here through Mother's Day with her daughter, MRS. L. K. GLADDEN, MR. GLADDEN and their son. Mrs. Thomas is from Jennings, La., which is known throughout Louisiana as "The City of Trees." It was Mrs. Thomas' father, Dr. C. E. Hunter, and several of his friends who took unto themselves the task of planting numerous oak trees about the city many years ago. They are now huge trees, according to Mrs. Gladden.

What a happy time for the FLOYD DIXONS to have their son Benny back with them after his having been wounded in Vietnam. After receiving treatment, he is home with his parents for a period.

MR. and MRS. HARRY JORDAN plan to go to Houston Tuesday where Mrs. Jordan will undergo surgery Wednesday at Methodist Hospital.

MR. and MRS. G. A. BARNETT have as their guest, her mother, MRS. AUNA NICHOLSON of Dallas.

Comes a note to JP from MRS. ANDY COX of Kerrville sending greeting from former President Lyndon B. Johnson. Mr. and Mrs. Cox and Kim, took their daughter and her family, MR. and MRS. ELLIOTT PERRYMAN, Michele and Amanda, Big Spring people, to see the Johnson ranch when they visited in Kerrville last week. While they were looking at the home, who should come down the walk but Mr. President, who greeted them in his "true to Texas" style. Upon learning the Perrymans were from Big Spring he asked that they tell Joe Pickle hello for him. And Mrs. Cox was nice enough to write a friendly little note to say "hi."

MRS. MYRTLE SMITH has MRS. ANN McCABE of Lubbock as her guest.

MISS MINNIE EARL JOHNSON is doing well after undergoing surgery at Cowper Clinic and Hospital Wednesday.

MRS. ELEANOR MATHENY accompanied us to Lubbock Friday for funeral services for CARL L. SVENSEN, husband of the former Miss Ruth Rix. They were married in 1931 at Lubbock where he was associated with Texas Tech. Mrs. Svensen was a longtime resident of Big Spring. Mr. Svensen died Wednesday in Austin where the couple had lived for a number of years.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Charm is deceptive and beauty fleeting; the woman who fears the Lord is to be praised. (Proverbs 31:30)

Studying The Basic Code

On the agenda for Tuesday's city commission meeting is review of what has been about possible revision of the charter with a view of considering what if anything needs to be done. Several years ago the city council named a charter study commission which held several sessions with the idea of making suggestions for revisions. Eventually, the study more or less withered on the vine, principally because the changes were not substantive, or that some suggested opened up areas potential confusion or conflict. Besides, there also arose the question of whether a revision or a rewriting was in order. These are perhaps some of the questions which will come up again and which may still not be clearly defined. There are a couple of considerations in weighing changes in the charter — one if need of clarification is to the point that it is almost urgent, and the other whether changes go beyond the point of being basic policy and get into the realm of administrative detail. Like marriage, this is something not to be entered in advisably but discreetly.

Needed Facility

Prospects are said to be good at this stage for approval of the Howard County Junior College Application for funds under the college facilities act. The college has had in its bid for a few seasons for aid on an industrial arts building, which would be designed for and become the home of its vocational-technical division. By the same token, this would free some space presently assigned out of the Practical Arts building for use in meeting academic demands.

Through the generosity of the Dora Roberts Foundation, the college has on hand most of its matching share of the project, provided inflation of costs haven't jeopardized the entire project. It is to be hoped that this is not the case because this building will add greatly to the utility of the college and strengthen its position in a phase of study and service which will increase in importance with each passing year.

David Lawrence Voices Against Violence Must Speak

WASHINGTON — There are two ways to appraise the unprecedented unrest of the younger generation which is sweeping the country. One is to attribute it to base motives and denounce it as in every sense misbegotten or possibly even treasonable. The other is to examine sympathetically the causes of the strange epidemic that has struck many students and some members of the faculty of various universities and colleges. The contagion has also spread to groups in the middle-age brackets, too, which are discontented for a variety of reasons.

BASICALLY, the primary trouble is a dislike of war. The youngsters who do not want to go to Vietnam have suddenly been seized with apprehension that a widened conflict has come and that they might be compelled to serve in a combat area. Congress itself has numerous politicians who cater to the anti-war voters.

The whole uprising is not at all due to any factor of poverty. Most of the students who are engaging in campus riots are sons or daughters of parents who can afford to send their children to college. As Vice President Agnew declared in a speech to the American Retail Federation:

"FOR THE FIRST time in history a great nation is threatened not by those who have nothing — but those who have almost everything. . . . It was not surprising that the announcement of the military operation just undertaken in Cambodia should have promptly aroused again a spirit of rebellion in the colleges and a desire to promote 'demonstrations' throughout the United States. Many parents are themselves sympathetic with such moves.

VICE PRESIDENT Agnew seems

Billy Graham

Why don't you present more proof of the immortality of the soul? What proof is there? Please answer so that perhaps we unbelievers can grasp it and have something to cling to. N.K. Life has its intangibles and its tangibles. The intangibles cannot be proven; they are woven into the fabric of our consciousness, and simply assumed. They are, in a sense, more real than the things which can be proven scientifically.

I cannot prove love. It has never been adequately defined. It has never been scientifically analyzed. It has never been photographed. And yet, the smallest child does not doubt its existence. It is assumed, discussed, and experienced by all. So are the things of the Spirit. I believe in immortality because I have experienced it, just as I have experienced love. God, through Christ, took eternity and placed it in my heart. I feel in my being the thrill of the future life. I am more sure of immortality than I am of most things I can see, feel and touch. And I believe in immortality because my Lord said: 'I am the resurrection and the life. . . . whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die.' He experienced it, and He says that all who trust in Him shall live forever. I believe Him because He is trustworthy.

to think that a counterdebate can accomplish a great deal in rebuttal. He says: "We have listened to these elitist laugh at honesty and thrift and hard work and prudence and logic and respect and self-denial. Why then are we surprised to discover we have traitors and thieves and perverts and irrational and illogical people in our midst?"

"There is no greater problem confronting the American people than this. There must be an intellectual, philosophical counterattack made against the cynics, the moral relativists, the creators of the 'era of moroseness.'

"IN OUR COLLEGES, in our pulpits, in our forums, we must once again hear the principles of western freedom defined, and defended, rationally, openly, proudly. The cynics have held the center stage of our intellectual life for too long.

"Let us have open public debate on the principles on which our nation and our civilization is built."

BUT WHEN FEELING on an issue becomes extreme, voices of reason have little appeal and passions flame to the point of violence. That is what has happened in many parts of America. When the police intervene, they are accused of being too "brutal." Yet on many campuses the authorities have been reluctant to maintain "law and order," and National Guardsmen have had to be called in at some universities and colleges.

There will not be an abandonment of violence and a change to peaceful methods of debate until large segments of the population exert their influence in each community. A responsibility particularly rests on the parents of those students who are prone to engage in gatherings that lead to violence and sometimes to tragic consequences. What Others Say

Perhaps nobody heard us at the time, but years ago we predicted that this country would begin losing its way after instruction in Spencerian penmanship was discontinued. An irreparable blow to written communication was then delivered.

Therefore we find it difficult to conceal a certain amount of perverse pleasure to learn that poor penmanship is causing some ruffled feelings in upstate New York. A snow plow from the Westfield area, for instance, received a parking ticket for improperly parking in New York City's Times Square on July 4. A steam roller in Syracuse also got a ticket through the mails for illegal parking in New York City.

Harry F. Becker, director of the city's Traffic Summons Control Bureau, blamed these "astounding discrepancies" on ticket-writers. The patrolman writing the citation makes a BK look like a BL, or executes a poor L, Q, or V. The carbon copy turned into the central control bureau is misread. So the summons goes to the wrong party.

It's never too late to say: We told you so. —CORPUS CHRISTI TIMES

Business Mirror Hopes Of Interest Slashes Get Cold Water

SLOWING—MAYBE

- Inflation pressures said too great to support interest drop
- Reductions apt to come slowly, federal deficit is possibility
- Lower margin gives market transfusion, but little reaction
- Rate of gain for consumer buying dips to three-year low
- Steel production off 4.2 pct. for week, sharpest of year

NEW YORK (AP) — Cold water is being thrown on smoldering hopes for sizable reductions in major interest rates this year.

Three leading bankers cautioned this past week that about the best that can be expected is a gradual slippage of rates which are at record high levels. Prospects have been clouded by failure to make substantial inroads on the rate of inflation, unabated demand for credit, and the likelihood that the federal budget may show a deficit instead of the anticipated surplus.

Homer Jones, senior vice president of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis, projected "only gradual downward movement in long-term interest rates."

He told the National Industrial Conference Board in New York, in a discussion of the mid-year economic outlook: "If the rate of price increase declines only from the recent 5 per cent to 4 per cent at year-end, any sharp decline in long-term interest rates seems unlikely."

REACTING — SLOWLY A. W. Clausen, president of the Bank of America — the world's biggest bank — said he saw "clear signs" that both higher prices and interest rates are beginning to react to government pressure and "subside in the desired manner."

But he added that any decline in interest rates "will be a moderate one" because demands for credit "will remain too strong to allow a major, widespread reduction."

In a discussion of interest rates, Gaylor A. Freeman, chairman of the First Chicago Corp., parent holding company of the First National Bank of Chicago, said, "I would anticipate relatively little change during the balance of this year. The Federal Reserve Board this past week gave the ailing stock market a shot in the arm by cutting the margin requirement — amount of cash downpayment on stock purchases — to 65 per cent from 80 per cent. But the market, in a wobbly fling, didn't move immediately very far from its sickbed.

UP AND DOWN The Federal Reserve announced the cut after the close of trading on Tuesday. In the first half hour of trading on Wednesday, the Dow Jones industrial average shot up more than 15 points. This gain faded to about a point in early afternoon. A late comeback lifted the average at the close to a gain of about half of its early surge. New business statistics were sparse this week.

The Federal Reserve Board reported the growth of consumer installment credit fell off sharply in March to the lowest monthly increase in almost three years. The gain of $198 million was the slimmest monthly growth since $190 million in May, 1967. It was far below the $332 million average for January, February and March.

Installment credit outstanding at the end of March totaled $96.66 billion. Steel production last week fell 4.2 per cent — biggest weekly drop of the year — to 2,593,000 tons from 2,707,000 tons the previous week.

CASTRO'S BITTER SWEET

MIAMI (AP) — Cuba's sugar harvest, the crop Fidel Castro has pegged the honor of his revolution to, has fallen a million tons behind schedule and promises to lag even more.

Radio Havana said Friday night the harvest total had reached seven million tons. That put the crop a full million tons off the pace set by the government.

A calendar issued by the Sugar Industry Ministry called for seven million tons to be reached April 20 and eight million on May 7.

Those were two steps on the way to 10 million tons by July 15. Castro has said repeatedly in public statements that the honor of his Communist revolution hangs on reaching the 10 million ton mark.

To Your Good Health Some Words From An Old Timer

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D. Here's a letter that ought to give quite a lift, not only to diabetics, but folks with more serious diseases:

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am writing this note regarding the 18-year-old with diabetes who wanted to know about a pancreas transplant. This note may give him a little hope.

Dear Diabetic: I have had diabetes for 45 years and been taking insulin that long, starting with 145 units of the old Toronto insulin four times a day.

Today I take 45 units of Lente insulin and still am quite active in the real estate business.

in Florida and spend much of the winter there, and fly back when necessary. As far as transplanting the pancreas is concerned, they still don't know whether that is the trouble. It could actually be in your pituitary gland. It is not known for sure what the cause of diabetes really is.

They tried some transplants in New York several years ago without success. Take care of yourself, and I am sure you can lead quite a normal life and enjoy every day. One of the largest helps I can suggest is to work at something you enjoy, as nervous conditions will tend to make you run sugar.

From a senior diabetic — W. J. G.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My husband thinks our 15-month-old son should be able to eat popcorn and peanuts. I feel that he is too young and doesn't have enough teeth to chew these items properly. What is your opinion? — Mrs. G. W.

sometimes a peanut or a chunk of popcorn gets caught in the windpipe instead. It's hard; it won't soften or dissolve. Sometimes babies die strangling on such things.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I get so tired of eggs and meat on my diet. Is there a high-protein tablet I could take? — Mrs. C.B. How about getting more variety from different kinds of fish, fowl, cheese and nuts, all high in protein?

Note to R. F. B.: Parkinson's disease is not contagious. There are various treatments — different types of medication, sometimes surgery. Research on a still newer drug, L-dopa, looks very promising but is not in general use yet except in certain centers.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of the Big Spring Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes — The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Interstate Will Be Open—Some Day

Odd-ends report on a quickie automobile trip to Dallas:

Ever so slowly, it seems to the person who drives the route fairly regularly, progress is being made on the opening of remaining segments of Interstate 20. It was a pleasant surprise to find that the new divided highway is open around Weatherford, and it winds across beautiful hills and valleys so far south of the town that you can't even see the place.

IT APPEARS — repeat, appears — that another short segment of Interstate should be open soon just this side of Weatherford. It also appears that the swing around Ranger should be ready for traffic in a comparatively short time.

There is still much work to be done, however, on that lonely — and as of right now, frustrating — stretch of road on farther east of Ranger and past the Brazos River crossing.

SCORES OF giant machines are moving, operated by many men, but there is so much work yet ahead. There is no readily detectable evidence that the Interstate around Cisco has made much progress, although a start was made there long ago, and I believe the by-passing of Eastland is just now coming into the land-clearing stage.

AT ANY RATE, the Weatherford traffic signals no longer hold up the through traveler, and with each passing month the route gets newer, straighter and faster.

For some time I harbored a private dream to be able to stay on Interstate completely from Big Spring to Big D, before I got too old to renew my drivers' license. It's still touch and go, but there's a chance I might make it.

ONE HAS to be mightily unconcerned, on a motor trip across Texas, not to marvel at the wondrous things accomplished by our Highway Department and the contractors who build the roads. The stretch between Ranger and Weatherford at times can be exasperating, when lines of cars must fall in behind the behemoth trucks, but actually the temporary routing is well done for safety and reasonable speed.

SUNDAY TRAFFIC is amazingly heavy, as contrasted to say, that on Monday. Noticeable in all the traffic are several things: the continuous flow of massive truck vans; the number of people pulling boats; the number of camper-type vehicles; and the number of women who are driving alone and doing an expert job of it. They're the ones who keep the steady pace, just at the legal limit, flash their turn signal lights when changing lanes, and paying strict attention to their driving.

IT'S NO WONDER the country has choked itself on automobile traffic. The people brought it on in designing comfortable cars and comfortable highways. —BOB WHIPKEY

Marquis Childs Nixon Stirs Fires Of Power Seekers

WASHINGTON — In his highly emotional performance announcing the invasion of Cambodia President Nixon touched only glancingly on the peril of greater Soviet-Chinese involvement. He chose to gloss over the dangers in deepening divisiveness here at home.

This last was made manifest on Capitol Hill and on the college campuses hardly before the sound of his words died away. It is a storm that will gain momentum as the weeks pass in what seems almost certain to be still another prolonged and, finally, futile "search and destroy" pursuit of an enemy as elusive as the shadows in the jungle.

SERIOUS AS IS this divisiveness, with the threat of a house divided against itself in fratricidal hatred, it pales alongside the peril of a confrontation with the other super powers at the brink of the nuclear abyss. A root cause of the grave instability in the world situation is the accelerating feud between the Soviet Union and Red China. Rivals for leadership of the Communist bloc, they must compete in adventurism and in hostility toward the "imperialist powers."

IN WESTERN EUROPE one of the ablest young leaders with full access to intelligence reports puts primary stress on this rivalry as an obstacle to stability and peace. In his appraisal Moscow has no motive to bring about any abatement of the Indochina war. On the contrary, while it continues China must in spite of a primitive and strained economy supply material help to Hanoi.

But neither is Moscow a confident giant. In the balance between war and peace a classical element has always been internal weakness and unrest. Foreign adventurism and a threatening enemy are a convenient means for enforcing unity.

SERIOUS ECONOMIC troubles plague the Soviet Union — a shortage of consumer goods, bottlenecks and snafus in production, the ills of a moribund bureaucracy.

What is far less well known is the external weakness of the Soviet Union. Far from being an answer to the unrest in the Eastern bloc, the Soviet invasion of Czechoslovakia in August of 1968 and the purging of Alexander Dubcek and his liberalizing regime fed the deep discontent and distrust in the satellite capitals.

THE CZECHS seemed to submit to the brutal assault from the east. But they have had centuries of experience in frustrating the aggressor. Intelligence reports indicate they are finding effective means of resisting the occupation. A work slowdown is jeopardizing the economy, retarding the production of advanced industrial equipment essential to less-developed countries in the Warsaw Pact.

Janos Kadar of Hungary is both more subtle and more cautious than Dubcek in frustrating the dictates of Moscow. Rumania's Communist Party General Secretary Nicolae Ceausescu openly defies the Kremlin.

THE DISSIDENTS are confident for one good and simple reason. They are convinced Moscow cannot afford another Prague. It would shatter the remaining pretense of unity on the eve of the convulse of Communist nations the Kremlin has called for the fall.

Now by his newest war President Nixon has given the Soviets a chance to whip up the hostility of the satellites. With restraint and a show of quiet strength he could have helped to hold the balance for what he professes to want — negotiation and not confrontation. Instead he has taken a perilous gamble that is in itself a confession of weakness. (Copyright, 1970, United Feature Syndicate, Inc.)

Art Buchwald Why The President Can't Be Impeached

WASHINGTON — No one who has followed the events of the past two weeks can have anything but admiration for the political sagacity of Atty. Gen. John Mitchell.

Mitchell's astuteness as a king-maker goes back to Miami Beach, Fla., where he engineered the nomination of Richard M. Nixon as the Republican candidate for President of the United States. But it did not end there. In one of the smoke-filled rooms that you always read about, Mitchell, puffing on his pipe, discussed some of the problems Mr. Nixon would have to face if he were elected to the Presidency.

"ONE OF THE things we can't overlook," Mitchell said, "is that the people might want to impeach you, Dick, at some time early in your term."

"I haven't even been elected yet, and you're already talking about my impeachment," Mr. Nixon protested. "We have to prepare for every contingency," Mitchell said. "Suppose you decide to widen the war in Indochina?"

"But I've promised to end the war in Vietnam and bring our boys home."

"WE KNOW what you've promised, Dick. But you may wish at some stage to go into Cambodia or Laos."

"Why that's ridiculous. Why would I do that?" Mr. Nixon asked. "Perhaps to clean out the Communist sanctuaries once and for all."

"But if I did that," Mr. Nixon said, "they'd have to impeach me."

We have to make it impossible for them to take your job away."

"How do you do that?"

"We have to select a vice president that the public will be so frightened of that they wouldn't dare impeach you."

"I never thought of that," Mr. Nixon admitted. "The best insurance a President could have would be to have someone standing in the wings that nobody could accept for the office. Who fits the description?"

THE ATTORNEY GENERAL took out a list. "We have a few people here that might fill the role. Strom Thurmond, Gov. Kirk of Florida, Gov. Reagan of California, Carl McIntyre of the Christian Anti-Communist Crusade, J. Edgar Hoover, and that guy from Maryland . . . what's-his-name."

"What do you mean what's-his-name?"

"I have it somewhere. Here it is. Spiro Agnew."

"You have to be kidding. Whoever heard of Spiro Agnew?"

"THAT'S NOT the point. With television we can make him into a household name overnight. The question is, can he produce enough fear in the American electorate to keep it from impeaching you?"

"How do you know that?" Mr. Nixon asked. "We don't know it," Mitchell replied. "But we've been talking to the guy, and he sounds like someone who can really ruffle people's feathers. If we send him out to fund-raising dinners for a year and give him enough exposure, and let him say what he wants, no one in this country would dare impeach you." Colorado City Student Sees Paris Fashions

DALLAS — "The midi and the maxi were the only lengths we saw in any of the French couturier collections," said Christy Stubblefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles N. Stubblefield, Colorado City. She had just returned from Paris, France, where with other students of the Dallas Fashion Merchandising College, she saw the advance collections of Guy La Roche, Jean Patou, Herbert Givenchy and Christian Dior.

CHRISTY STUBBLEFIELD

Dior's new, soft, long look for day was debatable at first. However, after seeing it in a variety of moods and fabrics, the students decided they liked the longer skirt.

"You can't get the look simply by dropping the hem of a short dress — unfortunately," said Miss Stubblefield. In sportswear, Dior kept the bodice sporty by giving it the T-shirt top. He favored the thinnest of crepe de chine — both in prints and solid colors.

There was watercolor softness in prints at Givenchy, also. There, the soft shirt was a winner. Keynote in all the collections was a new femininity — a young spirit of the seventies.

Another highpoint during the Paris sojourn was the students' tour of the Palace of Versailles and the French history the Palace recalled. Marie Antoinette's garden, Napoleon's initialed mahogany chair, the bronze statue of Louis XIV were three of many examples.

A visit to the Louvre was another highlight of the Paris trip. Despite a dispute between labor and the French government, students were able to spend a few hours in the world-famous museum. Government guards replaced regular ones and viewing time was limited.

Said Christy, "This Paris trip was the thrill of a lifetime."

Arrangements for the Paris trip were made by the college which maintains a permanent residence for its students at 58 Avenue Des Minimes, 94 Vincennes in Paris.

Extra Oxygen For Premature Infants

Premature infants often need extra oxygen in order to survive. But excessive oxygen, past tragedies have shown, can cause blindness.

This danger can be avoided by keeping close watch to detect any severe constriction of the blood vessels in the eye retina so the oxygen supply can be promptly reduced before permanent damage occurs, reports the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine.

Fluorescent Paper

Wallpapers are available in art designs of fluorescent orange circles over glowing green in a non-repeating pattern for those who want their walls to be groovy — not to mention dizzying. They are an idea for the playroom or to create a corner for the record-player and albums, but youngsters may like the idea of fluorescent from floor to ceiling.

EDITOR'S NOTE — For those who expected major violence, Yale's Panther weekend was something of an anticlimax. Still, there was tension as well as much activity on campus and community — an atmosphere more and more prevalent in some college towns. In the following report, a Yale student who participated in some of the activities presents her own vivid account of what went on. The writer is a 23-year-old graduate student in philosophy.

Written For The Associated Press
NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — It wasn't the usual Yale weekend you become used to here — happy social life, and tranquility. This was the Panther weekend.

A lot of people, on and off-campus, had prepared for it like Armageddon. New Haven citizens took special riot precautions, National Guardsmen dotted the street corners, police were mobilized and federal troops stood by in adjacent states.

There wasn't a great deal of violence. But the community got a thorough dose of the special kind of tension familiar to many American campus towns today.

And Yalies got some interesting sights and sounds.

On the big day, for instance, last Friday, the colors are drab, the blues of Levis and work shirts, knapsack green, leather browns and blacks and metallic accessories. Gone are the festival pastels and flowers.

The brightness in the crowd comes from the banners and flags, dayglow orange and yellow, carried by the Youth Against War and Fascism, Yippie black, National Liberation Front red, and from the motley of cycle helmets, precaution against falling night sticks.

We are waiting on the New Haven Green for the scheduled 4 p.m. round of speeches by Panther leaders and members of the Chicago seven.

I too have taken care in my dress. I am carrying a rag, soaked in vinegar and distilled water, for protection if I am gassed. On my arm I have linked emergency phone numbers, medical aid, legal aid, etc. I carry dimes for police station phone calls and no medicine of any kind in case I get busted. My preparations are in strict conformity with the profusion of instruction leaflets, fliers and cards that have been passed out to students and visitors.

Miss Linda Smith Honored Saturday At Afternoon Tea

Miss Linda Jean Smith of Amarillo was honored with an afternoon tea Saturday in the home of Mrs. T. H. McCann, 702 Highland. Miss Smith is the bride-elect of Robert Dean Jr. of Big Spring.

Receiving guests with the honoree were her mother, Mrs. Eugene Smith of Amarillo, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. R. M. Dean. Each received a carnation corsage in the bride's chosen color of shocking pink. The refreshment table was centered with a white milk glass bowl holding pink carnations, fuchsia heliotrope and Tiffany roses.

Hostesses with Mrs. McCann were Mrs. Bill Johnson, Mrs. Sherman Smith, Mrs. Bob Bradbury, Mrs. Harold Pearce and Mrs. Charles Sweeney.

Alternating at the guest registry were Miss Betty McCann, Miss Patsy Sweeney, Miss Nancy Dean, Miss Susan Dean, Miss Beverly Pearce and Miss Denise Johnson.

The engaged couple, both students at Texas Tech, plan a June 5 wedding in the Pleasant Valley United Methodist Church of Amarillo.

TO WED — Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oaks, Ackerly, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Nella Sue, to Jimmy Lee Smith. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Smith, Big Spring. The couple plans to marry June 6 in the home of the bride-elect.

ATTEND RALLY — Joan Thompson, a first year graduate student at Yale University was one of many Yale students who helped run the recent May Day rally in New Haven in support of the Black Panthers legal cause.

Although Yale did not call this rally, the students are playing host.

Emergency numbers have been tacked to trees all over the Green. Stenciled signs with green houses and red coffee cups posted around campus indicate where food and shelter are available. Maps are provided for all visitors.

I work in the general housing information center, taking requests for housing and directing people to the residential colleges and dormitories that still have room. In my three-hour shift I direct more than 500 people to housing on campus.

At the south end of the Old Campus are the blue and white awnings of the food tables. Campus food facilities are to feed thousands of people two meals a day of cereal, tea, salt and brown rice.

Teams of medics, in white coats and arm bands weave among the crowd on the Green itself. Medical centers have been established on the Green's periphery.

BSP Group Adjourns Until Fall

Mrs. Horace Rankin was installed as president of Beta Sigma Phi City Council Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Robert Knight, Silver Heels. Mrs. Gerald Wooten, outgoing president, installed the new officers. Serving with Mrs. Rankin are Mrs. Roe Fulgham, vice president; Mrs. Oscar Johnson, recording secretary; Mrs. Clay Larochelle, corresponding secretary; and Miss Beverly Jones, treasurer.

Mrs. Johnson was appointed BSP chairman of the Tuberculosis Drive. Refreshments were served from a table decorated with a black runner accented with felt daisies and centered with a bouquet of fresh daisies. Brass and crystal appointments were used. The council adjourned until fall.

A BOY IS A BOY by Ogden Nash

"He's a will-o'-the-wisp; he's a small tornado;
He's a marshal cleaning up Laredo;
He never closes a door behind him,
And I wish you'd tell me where to find him."

The Kid's Shop 3rd and Rannels

It seems to me that the real heroes of the day are the marshals, identified by their bright yellow headbands. They are working to keep the crowd calm and to locate and offset incidents which spell potential violence and panic. Some of my friends are working as marshals and I am concerned. Many are women, and should big trouble come I'm not sure the training they received in crowd control and first aid will really protect them from getting badly hurt.

They have, however, spent the week doing "role-playing" exercises to prepare for such trouble.

These precautions are in response to a week of rumor sifting. Spokesmen of the Panther party have called for a peaceful rally but rumors still circulate of stolen guns, and dynamite.

These rumors have taken their toll in New Haven. Small shops began to board up their windows as early as Wednesday. This made me angry, as I thought it could only add to the air of crisis which has replaced the usual pollution. The boarding, however, was soon covered with stencils saying "Why are you afraid?" and calling for "love" and "justice."

For those who were looking for violence, the rally today must be disappointing. The rhetoric of the speakers somehow managed to combine militancy with a plea for nonviolence. The contradictions implicit in this wedding make it a tenuous one at best. Tenuous and tense. I sit in the middle of the Green, vaguely alarmed by the idea that "should anything happen" I will have difficulty getting to a safe distance.

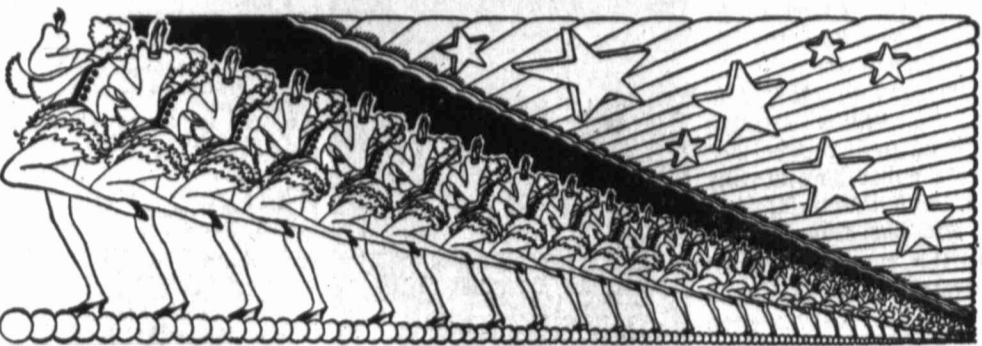

The crowd is not cohesive, but fractional. As I look about me this becomes clear as the members of the different are easily identifiable. The Yale students have a look anxious and relatively straight. They are not good at this sort of mixing. Bouncing and dancing come the remnants of the love generation. Many of these are stoned or getting stoned. The size of the crowd gives them a sense of immunity so the smell of grass is everywhere. Panther Doug Miranda suggests that we give drug money to the Panther Legal Defense Fund. For many this suggestion comes too late.

The Yippies are a little frightening. They seem to be seeking violent confrontation, yet they lack the discipline of the Panthers. It is, I believe, only heavy Panther pressure which keeps those kids in line. Wondering just how long this pressure will be effective makes me once more envious of safer places on the Green's periphery.
