

Gay Hill School To Be Kept Open

The Gay Hill school problem reared its head again Tuesday night, and Big Spring Independent School District trustees voted to keep all six grades at the school and continue cafeteria service.

Supt. S. M. Anderson said that few male teachers are available in the elementary grades. "We have only five or six," he said. "I think the people out there would be more than willing to aid in any disciplinary problems," Delnor Moss said, as incentive. Anderson said so "People in our community feel they pay their fair share. In fact they probably pay more than any other area which has an elementary school," he said. Westbrooke spoke of the "vanishing rural America" and told trustees he felt that the abolition of rural schools was escalating this.

Assistant Superintendent for Instruction Lynn Hise presented six alternatives concerning the Gay Hill School, ranging from the plan discussed at the last meeting to the continuance of the current operation.

Under the plan accepted unanimously by the trustees Tuesday night the school will have three teachers. First and second grades, third and fourth grades, and fifth and sixth grades will be combined, and cafeteria service will be continued. The positions of principal and clerk will be discontinued. Estimated enrollment is 78.

Investigators Rap Nixon, Sen. Muskie

WASHINGTON (AP) — A team of Ralph Nader's student investigators has accused both President Nixon and Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of passively supporting the build-up of deadly contaminants in the atmosphere. In a lengthy task force report on air pollution in the United States, the group said Wednesday ineffective laws coupled with corporate irresponsibility have permitted the air to become so fouled that "almost no city street in America is safe."

Both Sen. Muskie and President Nixon have moved this year to accumulate mileage on America's latest "motherhood issue—air pollution," said John C. Esposito, chief architect of the report. "Both the senator and the President, each in his own way, offered more of the same palliatives which have failed the nation over the last several years."

South lost his four heart contract today when he failed to take any measure to prevent an impending spade ruff which had been set up by the defenders.
West opened the five of clubs and East won the trick with the king. In an attempt to develop additional tricks for his side before declarer could bring dummy's diamond suit into play, East shifted to the queen of spades.
South played the ace from dummy and then led the queen of hearts for a finesse. West was in with the king and promptly cashed the king of spades and then led a small one which East ruffed for the setting trick. Declarer's technique left much to be desired. It should have been obvious when East led the queen of spades, that he was short in that suit. South must therefore exert the maximum effort to prevent West from obtaining the lead to give his partner a ruff. He could have accomplished this objective with the existing distribution by simply refusing the heart finesse and playing the ace and another heart. West can go in with the king on the second round, however, East has no more trump and the spade ruff is thereby averted. There is more to the hand than this, however. Observe that if East has the king of hearts—where that card is finessable—the play of the ace and another trump may prove fatal if East holds the third heart and can put his partner in with the king of spades for the ruff. In order to achieve the maximum protection, proper technique calls for the declarer to sever his opponent's line of communications. This can be accomplished by permitting East to hold the lead with the queen of spades at trick two. If the latter continues with a spade, South is in and if he plays the ace and another heart and it develops that East has the king of that suit—the latter will be unable to put his partner in for the ruff, since he has no more spades.

Blast Rips Transmitter

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The transmitter of KPFT-FM, a radio station belonging to the Pacific Foundation, was ripped by an explosion Tuesday night. No one was injured. The tower, about 12 feet away, showed no immediate signs of damage. The site is about 20 miles from downtown.

The 11 p.m. blast scattered debris over a 100-foot area in an isolated section of Harris County southwest of the city. "It just caved in," said Glenn English, Jr., the chief engineer of the station. "The metal is all ripped up and the equipment is destroyed."

A spokesman for the Harris County Sheriff Department said it was "one very, very large blast" and that the explosion definitely originated inside the building. The FBI is also investigating.

They would not say immediately what caused it. KPFT-FM is listener sponsored, as are the other three Pacific Foundation radio stations. There are two in California and one in New York. Larry Lee, general manager of the Houston station, said everything suddenly went dead at the downtown studio, denoting a complete loss of power.

Increase In Payments To Nursing Homes OK'd

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Public Welfare Board approved a proposal Tuesday for a six per cent increase in payments to nursing homes that will require patients in certain categories to provide money from private sources.

If the plan is successful, no additional state expenditures will be necessary. The resolution approved by the board calls for a "deduction of a supplement allowance of $25 per month from patients in intermediate care facilities II and III.

Under this proposal submitted by the Texas Nursing Home Association, the $25 obtained from private sources would be used to offset the 6 per cent increase overall.

The first category is the skilled nursing care home, which has 24-hour nurse supervision for all patients. Don Brewer, president-elect of TNHA, said administrators he talked to felt sure they could get 70 per cent of families who had patients in TNHA institutions to pay the extra $25 per month.

Herb Shore, representing the Texas Association of Homes for the Aging, opposed the plan, saying "the 6 per cent increase doesn't even help us stand still. With six per cent we aren't even catching up." Shore said church-related and church supported nursing homes already depend on families and churches for funds. He doubted that families of poor people would pay, especially if they didn't understand the program.

Bulb Sale Was Best Yet

Response to the Downtown Lions Club light bulb sale this year was the best yet, Waymon Clark, president, said Wednesday.

He praised the organization effected by Jimmy Parks, general chairman, his two division leaders, Tom Henry and Paul Petterson, and expressed thanks to the public for its support.

"We were received warmly everywhere we went," said Clark. "The response by the people of Big Spring was simply great. Nearly all our workers brought in stories of how they found residents waiting for them to call with light bulbs.

"We sold more than 100 cases — and we didn't even get over all the territory. To those who have supported us in the past but who were missed this time, we apologize. We just plain ran out of bulbs.

"The Downtown Lions Club is overwhelmed by this wonderful support, and we want the people to know that everytime we provide a pair of glasses, help a blind person, or send a crippled child to camp, that they are actually making this possible."

Student-Police Clashes Continue On Campuses

By The Associated Press
Student strikes and demonstrations have continued to surge and subside on campuses. At the University of South Carolina, 100 persons were arrested during student-police clashes. The arrests Tuesday night at the 13,000-student campus in Columbia, S.C., were made after students threw bottles, bricks and firecrackers at city and state police, backed by National Guardsmen, who were imposing a 9 p.m. curfew. Law enforcement officials used tear gas and clubbed several students. Two guardsmen received minor injuries. The student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., reported today that 266 colleges and universities were on strikes of indefinite length. Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr said in Washington that a majority of the nation's students have turned against the Vietnam war and the Nixon administration because of the dispatch of U.S. troops into Cambodia. His office announced that student draft deferments will not be jeopardized by the campus strikes and closings.

IN PROTEST
Strikes at many of the nation's 1,500 four-year colleges and at other educational institutions began last week to protest Nixon's decision to send American combat troops into Cambodia and the deaths of four Kent State University students shot as National Guardsmen attempted to quell a disorder. All but a small number of the campuses were never officially closed or have been officially opened. However, unofficial student strikes and protests have continued on many campuses with impacts of varying degrees. Michigan Gov. William Milliken declared a state of emergency in Ypsilanti following two days of disorders by Eastern Michigan University students.

The emergency order sets a curfew and prohibits the local sale of gasoline in containers. The college has 14,500 students. Striking students engaged in a variety of antiwar activity, including demonstrations, leafleting, lobbying, withdrawing money from banks, urging workers to strike for peace, and cashing in U.S. savings bonds. MILITARY BASES
The New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam announced in Washington that GIs at 22 military bases will stage antiwar demonstrations this weekend to coincide with Armed Forces Day Saturday. The announcement said organizations at 43 military installations would participate. In New York City, the City Wide Work Stoppage Committee, an organization of students and workers set up recently to promote a general labor strike against the war, said 300 workers met with an equal number of students to discuss strikes for peace. "Everyone at the meeting was for a general strike to demand immediate withdrawal from Southeast Asia. The question is when," a committee spokesman said. The meeting came following verbal clashes on Wall Street between another group of 1,000 workers and 800 peace demonstrators from half a dozen business schools at Eastern universities. PERSONAL LETTERS President Nixon has sent hand-written letters to the parents of the four Kent State students, the White House disclosed. The announcement said the correspondence was "extremely personal" and would not be made public. The letter to Mr. and Mrs. Louis A. Schroeder of Lorain, Ohio, said, in part, "Mrs. Nixon and I have been deeply saddened by your son William's death, cutting off so tragically a life so full of youth and promise. He has been and will be continually in our thoughts and prayers." Suggestions for a high-level commission to investigate the killings at Kent State were endorsed by Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare. He also said he favored proposals to give college students time off next fall to work in political campaigns.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: My problem is my 16-year-old brother. He treats our mother terribly. Just today he pushed her into a wall and made her cry. He curses her, and even hits her with his fist. It's the same with the rest of the family. He is always hitting me and my younger sister.

Last night my mom told my brother not to go out, but he told her to shut up, and he went out anyway. Please don't recommend a doctor because he wouldn't go. I really feel sorry for my mom.

DEAR WORRIED: Your brother is out of control and it will take more than a letter from Dear Abby to straighten him out. I'm sorry for your mother, but no parents loses authority all at once. Your brother must have been allowed to get away with his bullying tactics some time ago, until finally he has the whole family terrorized. This matter is too far gone for the women in your family to handle. Tell Dad and let him handle it!

DEAR ABBY: On a couple of those late television shows where guests come on and talk, I've seen some transvestites. Transvestites, I understand, are people who dress up in the clothes of the opposite sex, right? Now I have a question to ask you.

When a transvestite is dressed up in clothes of the opposite sex, which restroom does he use?

WONDERING DEAR ABBY: If he's dressed up like a lady, he uses the ladies' room. If she's dressed like a man, she uses the men's room. (But they're very careful.)

DEAR ABBY: Loved your advice to the lady whose problem was nosy-bodies who bluntly asked her age.

Pointed personal questions are always embarrassing, and create resentment. Recently I underwent an operation on my tongue, which left me with a slight lisp. Thoughtless people often ask me about this impediment, implying that I am "putting them on."

Q. — "Where did you get that lisp?"
A. — "It is medically known as a partial lobectomy, an operation of the tongue."
Q. — "Really? Gee, you're lucky it wasn't cancer!"
A. — "It was."

One friend of mine who went through this routine was so embarrassed he said, "If I had my teeth in, I'd bite off my own tongue..."

Your advice to people, often peppery, is a delight to me. I love to listen to your radio program, and I "read you" in more ways than one.

Scouts Given Honor Badges

Fifteen Boy Scouts Monday night were certified to receive 33 citizenship badges after an intensive course in city and county government.

The boys are David Dunn, Bobby McDonald, Gerald Dennis, Maxie Brashear, Joe Alexander, Mark Lagerstrom, Mike Owens, Wesley Thixton, Tony Thixton, Gage Mims, Donald Dunn, David Williams, Scott Dennis, Robert Highley and Asa Von Reefsneider.

They have been meeting twice a week for the last two months with Harvey Hooser, merit badge counselor for the Lone Star District.

They have attended political rallies, city commission meetings and question and answer sessions with City Patrolmen Ed Kissinger and John Scott, Sheriff A. N. Standard, County Attorney Bill Eysen, District Attorney's Investigator Wayne Tollett, Highway Patrolman Jimmy Parks, Liquor Control Board Agent Billy Flynn, Darel Highley with the Webb AFB fire department and Bob Lindley with the television station. They have also toured the Big Spring Police Station and Webb AFB.

Hooser said the Scouts must have two of the three citizenship badges to become Eagle Scouts, and approximately eight of these 15 boys are now eligible to become Eagles. The three badges include citizenship in the home, citizenship in the community and citizenship in the nation.

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Almost everyone thinks he or she is right about whatever arises and will rise to defend his viewpoints, often lacking self-control. It is needed to settle problems amicably. Be sure to self-petal that urge to speak your mind frankly and without reserve and save yourself worry, headaches and money.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You are anxious to have a good time today, but you have to be careful of expense. Drive carefully. Be kind and courteous with others and all is fine. Forget that habit of criticizing.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Avoid some controversial subject at home or there can be a very serious argument. Get rid of old furniture, etc., that is no longer useful of home, and replace with the modern.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Make sure you drive with utmost care and avoid an expensive accident. Do not make these sarcastic comments that come so easily. Be sure to acknowledge a favor asked you by one of whom you are very kind.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get on the good side of those who have power over your affairs, so ask questions cleverly. Don't make that investment that you feel will make you rich, since it could ruin you. Be careful.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Listen to what bigwigs have to say that will bring you greater success and happiness. Avoid people who envy you and have their eye on your assets. Home is your best bet in the evening. Entertain quietly there.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 21) There are some confidential duties you have to perform, but don't adopt an attitude of martyrdom. Your keyword phrase is "I serve" and this is your best mode of expression today and tonight. Be kind.

LIBRA (Sept. 22 to Oct. 21) Try not to say the wrong thing at the wrong time that could put an end to a beautiful friendship. Forget that social affair in the evening. Avoid making an enemy there.

SCORPIO (Oct. 22 to Nov. 21) Do nothing that will jeopardize your fine reputation today or ruin your credit. Take away good will of business people you depend upon. Avoid that highly superficial person. Be on the safe side.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to finish dull chores but tomorrow would be a better day for that. First get your work done, then think of fun things. Be careful driving.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) There is some situation you do not understand very well and you have to use tact to handle it wisely. Show that you pay your bills on time. That hunch you have is not really good, so do not follow it.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Don't take that know-it-all attitude so seriously; then you get along fine. Be careful in doing your work, though. Listen to what others say — believe only about a third.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Be sure you plan all that work you have to do very carefully, otherwise you make many mistakes. Avoid that co-worker who makes uncomplimentary remarks.

Latins In Uvalde Continue Boycott For The 29th Day

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—Mexican-American pupils boycotted public schools for the 29th day here Tuesday.

Supt. R. E. Byrom said 437 pupils missed school Tuesday.

No signs of a settlement were reported. The strike began April 14 over the all-Anglo school board's refusal to renew a Mexican-American teacher's contract.

A list of demands was issued two days after the boycott began. The board says it will discuss them only after the pupils return to school. The final class day before final exams begins May 19.

More than half of the 3,560 pupils enrolled here are Spanish-surnamed.

94-0 Win Is Posted By Blackmun

WASHINGTON (AP) — Judge Harry A. Blackmun's Supreme Court nomination has swept through the Senate without opposition, ending President Nixon's long fight to fill a vacant seat with a man he regards as a strict constructionist.

The Senate's 94-0 confirmation vote Tuesday means the 61-year-old Rochester, Minn., jurist is eligible to assume the post at any time, although Blackmun's office and the high court said no time has been set.

In Rochester, Blackmun took the news of the Senate in typical low-keyed fashion, saying "I'm just not up to making any verbal statement."

But in a written statement, Blackmun said "I am troubled by an awareness of the awesome responsibility of this new assignment. I sincerely hope that I have the character and the strength and the intellectual capacity adequately to fulfill it."

PONDERS POINT—Judge Harry A. Blackmun of Rochester, Minn., tightens lips as he ponders answer to newsmen in Rochester Tuesday shortly after the U.S. Senate confirmed his nomination to the Supreme Court. Blackmun, 61, received unanimous vote of confirmation from the Senate.

City Charter Review Panel To Be Selected

Big Spring City Commissioners Tuesday night took a first step toward a review of the city charter by acting to form a charter study committee of 15 residents.

Meeting in regular session before a sparse gallery, the commission voted to table Jones Construction Company's request to extend the completion date on chemical facilities at the water treatment plant and approved three zoning requests.

Commissioner Eddie Acric recommended the charter committee be formed "to see what changes need to be made" and to recommend either a rewrite or amendment to make the necessary changes.

Acric suggested that each of the five commissioners nominate four "interested" citizens for service on the committee. From the 20 nominations, the commission would choose 15 as committee members.

After a short discussion, the commissioners agreed to have their nominations ready by the next meeting and to name the committee at that time. All four commissioners present expressed some enthusiasm for the project.

City Attorney Herb Prouty said he would begin preparations for the study immediately.

Jimmie D. Jones, of Jones Construction Co., had submitted a written request to have the completion deadline extended on the contract to build aluminum sulfate and lime dispensers at the water treatment plant. The contract was awarded Jones' company in August, 1968, for completion in February of the following year at a cost of $44,590. Acric moved to table Jones' request saying, "I feel, before we give him any time, he should finish the facilities." The commission agreed and voted to postpone action on the request until after June 1, by which time Jones has said the project can be completed.

Certificates of occupancy were approved by the commission for two local tavern operators. Louis A. Casillas, 3704 US 80 west, and Katie B. Schwab, 4200 Wasson, were asking for certificates for Margie's Place, 3704 US 80 west, and the Sands Lounge, 2900 US 80 west, respectively.

First Federal Savings and Loan's request for a change to light commercial zoning in one block of Wright Street was passed to third reading.

A traffic commission recommendation to place a "form one lane" sign for northbound motorists in the 1300 block of Goliad where the street narrows from four lanes to two was also approved.

During routine review of city vouchers, Acric asked Finance Director Charles Smith to designate in some way those items listed which had already been paid.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mayor Arnold Marshall read aloud a letter from a Boulder, Colo., couple congratulating and thanking the city for its camping facilities in Comanche Trail Park, and another letter from Lubbock Mayor W. D. Rogers thanking city officials for their help when he was head of the Texas Mayors Council last year.

Chief of Police Jay Banks followed with a report on the situation in Lubbock following the tornado Monday night saying that the city's emissaries, Assistant Police Chief Leo Hull and Fire Marshal A. D. Meador, had talked with the Lubbock City Manager and offered the city's help.

Commissioner Wade Choate commended the Chamber of Commerce Pride People for anti-litter efforts and said that with cooperation of residents and organized groups, plus rigid enforcement by police of litter laws, the appearance of the city could be improved.

Two Anglo Teachers Mull Civil Rights Suit Action

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP)—A civil rights suit on behalf of two Anglo teachers may be filed against the predominantly Mexican-American school board here.

The board voted 4-3 Monday night not to renew the contracts of Mrs. Mozelle Willmon and Miss Betty Dodds, elementary school teachers at a migrant school here.

No reason was given for the vote against renewal.

The teachers asked for a public hearing but none was held because the newly appointed school district attorney, Jesse Gamez, advised the board that the matter should be handled in executive session.

Larry Watts, a civil rights lawyer who represented the teachers at the meeting, was unavailable for comment on future plans. But a spokesman at his law firm in Houston said Tuesday, "If their contracts were not renewed, we plan to file suit."

Mrs. Willmon said the matter was "in the hands of our lawyer. I feel that he will follow up on it."

Watts argued during the school board meeting that the teachers' constitutional rights were violated.

He also charged that the contracts were not renewed because of the "caprice and whim" of Jose Angel Gutierrez, the school board president.

Gutierrez, who won election to the board last month in a controversial campaign, denied Watts' charges.

The school board had been predominantly Anglo until last month's election. Gutierrez and two others running with him on a Mexican-American third party slate won the trustee posts by a wide margin, joining another Mexican-American already on the board.

Americans Pulling Out Of Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today the first American troop withdrawals from Cambodia. At the same time South Vietnamese forces launched a drive along Highway 1 toward the capital of Phnom Penh, 50 miles away.

Associated Press correspondent David Rosenzweig reported that a South Vietnamese armored column accompanied by U.S. advisers pushed up Highway 1 from the provincial capital of Svay Rieng to Kompong Trabeck 25 miles to the west. The armored column linked up with South Vietnamese marines driving up the Mekong River, then engaged about 600 enemy troops three miles beyond Kompong Trabeck in heavy fighting.

The announced purpose of the drive was to clear Highway 1 for the repatriation of Vietnamese in Cambodia.

Informed sources said the initial U.S. troop withdrawals from Cambodia totaled fewer than 2,000 men.

The command first announced that elements of the 3rd Brigade, 9th Infantry Division, had been withdrawn from the Parrot's Beak section of Cambodia about 45 miles west of Saigon.

Later, headquarters reported the withdrawal of one-third of the 4th Division task force operating more than 200 miles to the north in the Se San base area of Cambodia, about 50 miles west of Pleiku City.

U.S. Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said in Washington earlier that several thousand American troops already had been withdrawn from Cambodia.

Sources said the 9th Division unit had secured Ba Thu, about a mile inside Cambodia, after the North Vietnamese base area had been seized by South Vietnamese. U.S. losses during the week of occupation were reported as four killed and 20 wounded.

The U.S. Command said today that all U.S. losses in Cambodia totaled 101 killed and 427 wounded.

Official sources have said 14,000 to 16,000 U.S. troops and 18,000 to 20,000 South Vietnamese troops are operating inside Cambodia on more than a dozen fronts on both sides of the Mekong River.

Allied headquarters said American and South Vietnamese forces have killed more than 6,000 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops and seized nearly 10,000 weapons and hundreds of tons of ammunition in Cambodia since the drive began two weeks ago.

South Vietnamese losses were put at more than 350 troops killed and about 1,600 wounded. In action inside Cambodia Tuesday, a column of South Vietnamese tanks pushing north from Svay Rieng met resistance from dug-in enemy in the town of Kompong Trach on Route 24, about 80 miles northwest of Saigon.

The South Vietnamese drove the enemy from Kompong Trach today and joined up with South Vietnamese engaged the had been fighting along the Mekong River. In the afternoon the South Vietnamese engaged the enemy again, this time three miles north of Kompong Trach. Enemy forces were estimated at 600.

U.S. 25th Division infantrymen in the Parrot's Beak northwest of Tay Ninh and 2 1/2 miles inside Cambodia, came under heavy, North Vietnamese fire which killed five Americans and wounded 44. Thirteen enemy were killed.

On another front inside Cambodia, more than 200 miles northeast of Saigon, troops of the U.S. 4th Infantry Division suffered two killed and five wounded. They uncovered a 2 1/2-ton munitions stockpile that included 200 rifles, 15 50-caliber machine guns, and 200 pistols.

Eight American soldiers were killed and eight wounded when elements of the U.S. 11th Brigade operating 102 miles southeast of Da Nang detonated an artillery round rigged as a booby trap.

Lubbock Tornado Labeled 'Miracle'

TOM DeCOLA
Associated Press Writer

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — May 11, 1970.

Just another date until after 9:45 p.m., when an ugly black tornado turned this South Plains city of 170,000 into a stunned shambles.

Although it's located within Texas' famed tornado alley, Lubbock had escaped killer tornadoes until Monday night.

The twister killed at least 20, but those who saw the havoc reaped by the deadly funnel marveled at the fact that the toll was so low.

The twister started slowly bending three of the brand new high intensity light standards at Texas Tech's Jones Stadium, while skipping over and around student dormitories.

It picked up steam and began picking up roofs as it moved down 4th street. It ruined businesses showing no prejudice. Mickey Mantle's Country Cookin' went and so did several small hamburger stands. Churches toppled. And bars and motels.

A poor, predominantly Mexican-American section turned into a tomb for some. And others died in the wreckage of homes near the Lubbock Country Club.

Utilitarian warehouses were ripped apart. So were sleek, new downtown office buildings. A 20-story building downtown yielded to the savage pounding and gave a little. Officials cordoned off the area for fear that the structure might topple. It still might. Thousands were left homeless, some injured but alive. Hundreds of these ended up in the coliseum on the Tech campus, accepting with various degrees of appreciation the free food and shelter offered there.

Trucks and railroad cars were blown over. Private planes moored at the West Texas Air Terminal were flipped and left to lie on the concrete like dead bugs.

Some schools closed. Another was transformed into a temporary morgue.

Laborers were undistinguishable from executives as Lubbock residents pitched in to clean up after the ruthless storm.

There were problems. Sightseers clogged the roads and hindered some vital operations in the black, dangerous night following the storm.

As always, some looting was reported. National guardsmen were called in to thwart the illegal efforts tempted by blown-out store front windows.

The guardsmen carried weapons, whether enforcing street blockades or directing women and children to food and milk facilities.

Some people pitched in to help restore their ravaged city. The Amarillo Globe-Times published the paper for the Lubbock Avalanche Journal, which suffered extensive storm damage.

While many helped, others just stood by, wondering if it was worth it.

Dismay and disbelief were universal.

Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., shaking his head grimly as he surveyed the incredible devastation, declared:

"I don't think anyone can visualize this until they've seen it. It is the worst damage from an act of Nature I've ever seen."

And U.S. Rep. George Mahon of Lubbock:

"I'm astounded at the immensity of the damages. I couldn't believe the preliminary reports."

Hilary Sandoval, director of the Small Business Administration and a Texan:

"I saw what was left after hurricane Camille and this is just as bad as that."

"The worst I ever saw," said State Rep. H. J. "Doc" Blanchard of Lubbock.

And Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, stricken with a bad back, stepped from a helicopter and announced quietly that "this is one of the worst tornadoes in Texas history as far as damage is concerned."

But, he added, it was simply a "miracle" that with such widespread damage—an eight mile strip of utter destruction—the loss in human life was not more staggering.

"We've got a lot to be thankful for, despite the catastrophe that has happened."

New Airline Gets Go-Ahead

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Supreme Court overturned lower courts today and gave Air Southwest Co. a go-ahead to operate intrastate air service between Dallas-Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio.

The unanimous decision knocked down previous decisions by an Austin district court and the 3rd Court of Civil Appeals which upheld opposition to the new airline from Braniff Airways Inc., Continental Airlines Inc., and Trans-Texas Airways Inc.

Air Southwest originally was given authority by the Texas Aeronautics Commission to operate intrastate between the three airports with four Lockheed Electra aircraft. There would be eight flights a day between Dallas-Fort Worth and Houston, six flights between San Antonio and Fort Worth-Dallas, and four flights between Houston and Fort Worth-Dallas.

Evidence produced during a seven weeks trial before the Austin court showed there would be no in-between stops, no reservations on connecting flights and lower fares than other airlines charge.

Abilene Smacked By Thunderstorm

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms, spawning treacherous funnel clouds in some instances, swept across Southwest and portions of North Texas during the night.

Radars reported the heaviest thunderstorms over open country and no reports of hail or damaging winds were received.

Abilene was caught in one about midnight with winds gusting up to 41 miles per hour.

A funnel cloud was sighted by the Texas Department of Public Safety eight miles northwest of Gail in Borden County, about midnight. Earlier there were unconfirmed reports of a funnel cloud near Southland.

A full funnel cloud was sighted two miles east of Tahoka and about 30 miles south of Lubbock, which was ravaged Tuesday night.

The thunderstorm activity ended by early morning except for western portions of North Central Texas.

Outside the thunderstorm area skies were generally partly cloudy to cloudy except in far West Texas where it was clear.

Today's outlook called for mostly afternoon and evening thundershowers in Southwest and Northwest Texas. Otherwise it was to be cloudy to partly cloudy.

Temperatures ranged in the 60s and 70s.

Hopefuls List Poll Expenses

AUSTIN (AP) — Rep. George Bush of Houston claims he spent $165,989 in his easy Republican primary victory over Robert Morris for the U.S. Senate.

This would leave Bush, a millionaire businessman, with a campaign surplus of $2,549 from the primary as supporters donated $168,538 to the campaign, he said.

Bush won the primary by 94,609 votes to 13,369 for Morris, whose campaign expense report had not reached the secretary of state's office by the close of business Tuesday. The reports had to be postmarked by midnight Tuesday.

Lloyd Bentsen Jr.'s final report was expected today. Bentsen, who defeated Sen. Ralph Yarborough in the May 2 Democratic primary, reported initial expenses of $488,099 as of April 22.

Yarborough's final expense report Monday showed his campaign cost $275,096.

Gov. Preston Smith, who had no opponent, said he spent $73,774 in the primary out of $141,163 donated to his campaign.

Paul Eggers, winner of the Republican nomination for governor, reported spending $67,591 from gifts of $32,126 and a $40,000 loan.

Commuterniks, Suburbanites Bear Startling Similarities

MOSCOW (AP) — Ivan the commuternik spends three hours a day competing with several million suburbanites to get to and from work in Moscow.

He lives in a new high-rise apartment block in Golotsino, 25 miles west of the capital. Every morning he takes a bus to the railroad station, rides the electric suburban train to Moscow's Fili subway station, and transfers to a train that takes him to the Arbat station in the city center.

He rises early and comes home late after a 9 to 6 day "perking in a government ministry. His nerves are frayed from body contact with rush-hour crowds. Trains and bus schedules keep him hopping. His wife nags him because he never spends enough time with the kids.

His plight bears startling similarities to that of suburbanites commuting to the concrete caverns of New York or Chicago.

Ivan is not in the suburbs—by choice, however.

He would love to live in Moscow, the "big village." He cannot find an apartment in the crowded city, so he commutes.

Russian commuterniks have the same gripes as their Western counterparts—station delays, poor scheduling, inadequate feeder transportation to suburban stations, poor heating of trains in winter and bad ventilation in summer, uncomfortable seats, standing room only at rush hours and lack of a buffet, the Soviet equivalent of a club car.

The only difference is fares and, in the case of the Moscow subway system, cleanliness. The Soviet Union boasts one of the cheapest transportation networks in the world.

Ivan's ride from Golotsino to Moscow costs him 40 kopeks one way. That's about 45 cents. The subway takes one anywhere in the city center for 5 kopeks. Buses cost the same, electric trolley cars 4 kopeks. The Soviet capital has seven million residents and only about 80,000 privately owned automobiles. Most Muscovites rely on public transport to cross the sprawling city, covering a

HER FIRST TORNADO

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Before Monday night's tornado struck, Mrs. Beverly Williams lived in an apartment house near the Texas Tech campus here. Shortly after the tornado struck, Mrs. Williams told a newsman: "I don't have an apartment left."

When she realized the tornado was imminent, the housewife said, "I ran to put my shoes on."

"I heard a tremendous whomp. We were going to break into another apartment on the ground floor, but we didn't have time because we heard it coming."

She and a neighbor piled mattresses and various pieces of furniture on top of themselves, she said, and waited out the storm.

"I was scared," she said of her first tornado experience, "but I never thought I was going to die."

"A neighbor woman kept yelling, 'Oh God, we're going to die' and I just tried to calm her down."

After a brief lull, Mrs. Williams said the wind began kicking up again. "This time we climbed into the bathtub, but the second time never came."

rough circle about 25 miles across.

The oblast, or district, has 5.7 million more people. About half of these commute regularly to the city for work or shopping. Since the district car-owner ratio is even lower, most ride electric trichka trains.

Moskovskaya Pravda, a capital newspaper, recently acknowledged that city and suburban transport "falls far short of accommodating the great migration of inhabitants to the city center."

It blamed slow planning and construction, financing snarlups and inadequate use of funds for "a critical rush-hour situation."

Will Get His Law Degree In Time

GOLIAD, Tex. (AP) — Tim Von Dohlen, 25, who already holds a degree in pharmacy, will get his law degree just in time to take a seat in the Texas House of Representatives.

Von Dohlen, who will represent DeWitt, Goliad, Jackson and Lavaca counties, has only one more semester's work toward his law degree at the University of Texas.

Von Dohlen was scheduled for a runoff in the Democratic primary with State Rep. Terry Newman, but Newman withdrew from the race last week. There is no Republican candidate.

Newman, who trailed by 900 votes, said he withdrew because he is "morally unwilling to do what seems to be necessary to gain favor at this time." Newman did not elaborate on that statement.

Von Dohlen has been working in the family drug store in Goliad.

Students Discover Public Pit No. 1

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States Senate, storm center of national controversy over much of its existence, has played the role to the hilt in the opening months of the Nixon administration.

Bitter fights over the Vietnam war, appointments to the Supreme Court, national tax policy and civil rights have come to swirling climaxes on the Senate floor or in its committee rooms.

The fact that the Senate is the primary pit for debate on public issues—a fact lost on few, if any, presidents of the United States—finally has dawned on the youth of America intent upon questioning the judgment of their elders.

FAST ACTION

When the Vietnam Moratorium Committee concluded that street demonstrations no longer were an effective tactic for protesting the war, and its leaders went their separate ways, one of them signed on with the National Student Association to organize students for political action, specifically to work in this summer's campaigns for the Senate.

To David Hawk it was a simple choice. "The Senate," he said, "is where the action is."

As if heeding his advice, this day finds hundreds of college-aged youngsters trudging the corridors of the Capitol, practically stumbling over themselves as they buttonhole congressmen and senators, urging a vote against President Nixon's policies in Southeast Asia.

STOP THE WAR

While members of the House are getting their share of advice, the young people are concentrating on the Senate, urged on by such senators as Democrat Harold Hughes of Iowa, who has instructed some of them in the techniques of lobbying, and Democrat George McGovern of South Dakota, who made it plain why the Senate should be their No. 1 target.

"This is where we have a chance to stop the war," McGovern told them.

Whether the Senate has a chance or not it is likely to spend the next several weeks trying as it takes up a series of proposals—to cut off funds for the war in Cambodia, to repeal the Tonkin Gulf resolution, to set limits on the amount of "excess" military equipment the Pentagon can hand over to friendly nations—in a head-to-head fight with the Nixon administration.

TAX TROUBLE

It will not be the first confrontation between the two, nor is it likely to be the last.

While few presidents have had reason to view the Senate as anything more than a cross they had to bear, none has had more

Shriners Help Michelle Get Burn Treatment

Little Michelle Hall, of Ackerly, was under treatment today at the Shrine Burn Center in Galveston, thanks to cooperation between local medical people and members of the Big Spring Shrine Association.

Michelle, 16-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall, suffered second and third degree burns on her legs and lower abdomen late Monday when she managed to climb into a lavatory and turn on the hot water before her mother could get to her.

Her condition indicated special care and treatment were needed, and the Shrine organization was notified Tuesday morning.

Sgt. Tom Stewart of Webb, chairman of the Shrine Club's Masonic Services, perfected an application for the Galveston Burn Center, got it approved, and then arrangements were made to fly the baby and her parents to Galveston Tuesday afternoon. All the work was accomplished in some four hours, and an ambulance was waiting at the Galveston airport to take Michelle to the Center. Doctors here indicated she can recover, although extended care is likely necessary.

MR. and MRS. HAROLD HALL should be getting settled in Blackpool, England, by now for a nice visit with some special people. While he won't get to see them all he will get to see a MRS. FORTUNE who is now 93 years of age and her daughter, MRS. BASSELMANN. The Fortune family were Harold's good friends when he served with the U.S. Army and he last saw the family in 1945.

The Halls left here Monday for Fort Worth where they visited her brother, G. H. Hayward Jr., and his family. The Tuesday they left from Dallas on a 747 for Chicago, and from there they were to fly into London. Hall remarked that the trip over this time would take six hours and he thought he made a quick trip by ship in 1945 when he got home in five days.

While they are on the islands they will tour Scotland, and if things turn just right they may go onto the continent but plans when they left here were to spend as much time with Mrs. Fortune as possible and to really see Scotland. They will return here on May 29.

MR. and MRS. KENNETH MAXWELL and family have returned from a visit with her parents, MR. and MRS. J. B. JOHNSON, in Elk City, Okla. The group spent four days fishing at Lake Foss, Red Rock Canyon and Roman Nose State Park. May 4 was spent in Elk City where the group joined in a family birthday party for Mr. Johnson, his brother Gene, and Mrs. Eunice Maxwell.

MR. and MRS. MERLE STEWART and son, Stamford, expect to return here tomorrow.

Conviction In Scurry County Court Reversed

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal appeals court agreed Tuesday that a deaf-mute woman's husband should not have been chosen as her interpreter at the trial of a man accused of trying to rape her.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals upheld a U.S. district court judge's ruling reversing the conviction of John W. Prince in Scurry County, Tex., on a charge of burglary.

The district court ruling had been appealed by the director of the Texas Department of Corrections.

Though the charge was burglary, the appeals court said the main accusation was that Prince broke into the "apartment of Ella Mae Andrews in the nighttime with the intent to commit rape."

Thus, the appeals court said, the appointment of Billy Ray Andrews as interpreter passes "the line of tolerable imperfection and falls into the field of fundamental unfairness."

Prince was sentenced to life in prison in the 1959 trial.
