Police Bullets Claim Two Black Students

By The Associated Press
Police fired into a crowd outside a dormitory at predominantly-Negro Jackson State College in Mississippi early today, killing two black students and bringing to six the number which have died in the current wave of campus unrest.

Nine other persons, all but two of them students, were wounded by the fusillade which followed reports of rock-throwing at passing motorists.

Police said they opened fire after someone fired at them from the building. National Guardsmen were in the area with unloaded weapons but not at the scene of the shooting.

NIXON'S DECISION

Early last week four students were shot to death in a confrontation with Ohio National Guardsmen at Kent State University during a protest over President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia.

Witnesses in Jackson today said the policemen confronted a crowd of men standing in front of the dormitory and opened with a 7 to 10 second barrage after hearing a sound like a shot or a firecracker.

Neither police nor the college issued a statement on the shooting or the cause of the rock throwing.

There has been discontent on the campus for some time, with many students claiming too many blacks are sent to Vietnam immediately after graduation.

STUDENTS SCREAM

After the shooting, students screamed at the policemen from windows of other dormitories while students in front of the building dropped to the ground to take cover.

National Guard troops in armored personnel carriers with 30-caliber machine guns on top moved on to the scene on the 3,500-student campus.

Hinds County Coroner B. R. Billock identified the dead as James Earl Green and Phillip L. Gibbs, 21. He said autopsies would be performed.

Another 11 persons were treated for minor injuries after the violence. All were blacks except a highway patrolman who received minor laceration. One student said, "They said somebody shot but it was just a bottle. It made a popping sound when it hit."

In Athens, Ohio, the president of Ohio University ordered the school closed early today after 1,000 National Guardsmen were

Campus Turmoil Not Bad?

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The head of one of the nation's most troubled campuses says colleges and universities have performed "an important service" to the country by absorbing the initial brunt of social unrest and discontent.

Roger W. Heys, chancellor of the University of California at Berkeley, told the American Society of Newspaper Editors Thursday that "had the unrest and discontent initially been targeted on other institutions, the impact on society might have been much worse."

Despite the uproar and violence on the nation's campuses, he said, "universities have strengthened our students' faith in our basic freedoms and democratic ideals."

"Hostility on the part of the public complicated our task not a little," he added.

What has been learned by the establishment because of campus turmoil has helped the other institutions of society, he said.

In a question-answer session following his speech, he was asked his reaction to Gov. Ronald Reagan's statement that there is something conspiratorial behind campus turmoil. "I don't believe it," Heys said.

Heys added that radicals may communicate with each other but giving there is no "apparatus said orders."

ordered into the city following day-long campus disorders.

TEAR GAS

Police earlier fired tear gas to disperse about 2,000 rock-throwing students at the school while the highway patrol sealed off the southwestern Ohio town of 17,000 people.

An aide to Gov. James A. Rhodes, who ordered the guardsmen onto the Kent State campus last week, said there was no immediate plan to use them at Ohio University.

At the 41,000-student University of Maryland in College Park, National Guardsmen and state policemen fired tear gas and marched shoulder to shoulder Thursday night to clear 5,000 students off U.S. Highway 1.

The new violence came as many striking students around the country mapped plans to move their protests off campus — to streets, factories and legislative chambers.

A nationwide survey showed 14 schools officially closed and the student strike information center at Brandeis University in Waltham, Mass., reported student strikes at 278 colleges and universities.

'PAUSE FOR PEACE'

The student information center said 267 of the nation's 1,500 educational institutions had strikes Wednesday and 286 Tuesday.

Students at hundreds of colleges have been protesting the Kent State killings in addition to the war.

Representatives of striking students from 236 colleges assembled at Yale University in New Haven to decide what direction student strikes should take.

The representatives heard Yale Prof. Kenneth Mill urge that campuses be kept open throughout the summer for "political education."

Students at Williams College in Williamstown, Mass., said they were abandoning plans for a national "pause for peace" plan under which workers throughout the nation would halt work for one hour May 27. They said labor and industry didn't appear to be interested.

At Harvard University in Cambridge, Mass., the Nonviolent Direct Action Group said they will form a human barrier at the Boston Army Base today to block buses carrying draft inductees.

"We are committed to stay until arrested and we shall not resist arrest," they said in a letter to President Nixon.

The New Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam has announced that GI's at 22 military bases will stage anti-war protests in connection with Armed Forces Day Saturday. The announcement said antiwar organizations at 43 military installations would participate.

Authorities at Ft. Bragg, N.C., and adjoining Pope Air Force Base, announced that the installations had canceled plans for programs open to the public Saturday.

They said the cancellation was a safety measure because demonstrators, including actress Jane Fonda, had announced plans to protest near the posts and in nearby Fayetteville.

Rules Committee, said his panel will wait until week after next to meet on clearing it for floor action.

If both the House and Senate pass it in two weeks, it would take at least another week for House-Senate conferees to work out a compromise between the two versions and send it back to the two bodies for final approval.

But Colmer, whose Rules Committee must schedule the bill for House action, said he is opposed to provisions he said could require postal workers to join unions.

Strike May Delay Postal Pay Boost

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, which appeared ready to halt action on a postal pay boost when New York mailmen threatened to strike Thursday night, is now on a timetable that could bring final approval in three weeks.

"Congress is not going to be pressured by a strike," the senior Senate Post Office Committee member, Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, said Thursday before New York letter carriers called off the strike.

Fong said the committee is ready to put out the bill for a Senate vote but a walkout would have forced a delay until a settlement was reached.

Rep. David N. C. Henderson, D-N.C., second-ranking Democrat on the House Post Office Committee, said Congress' reaction to a new mail strike might be even worse.

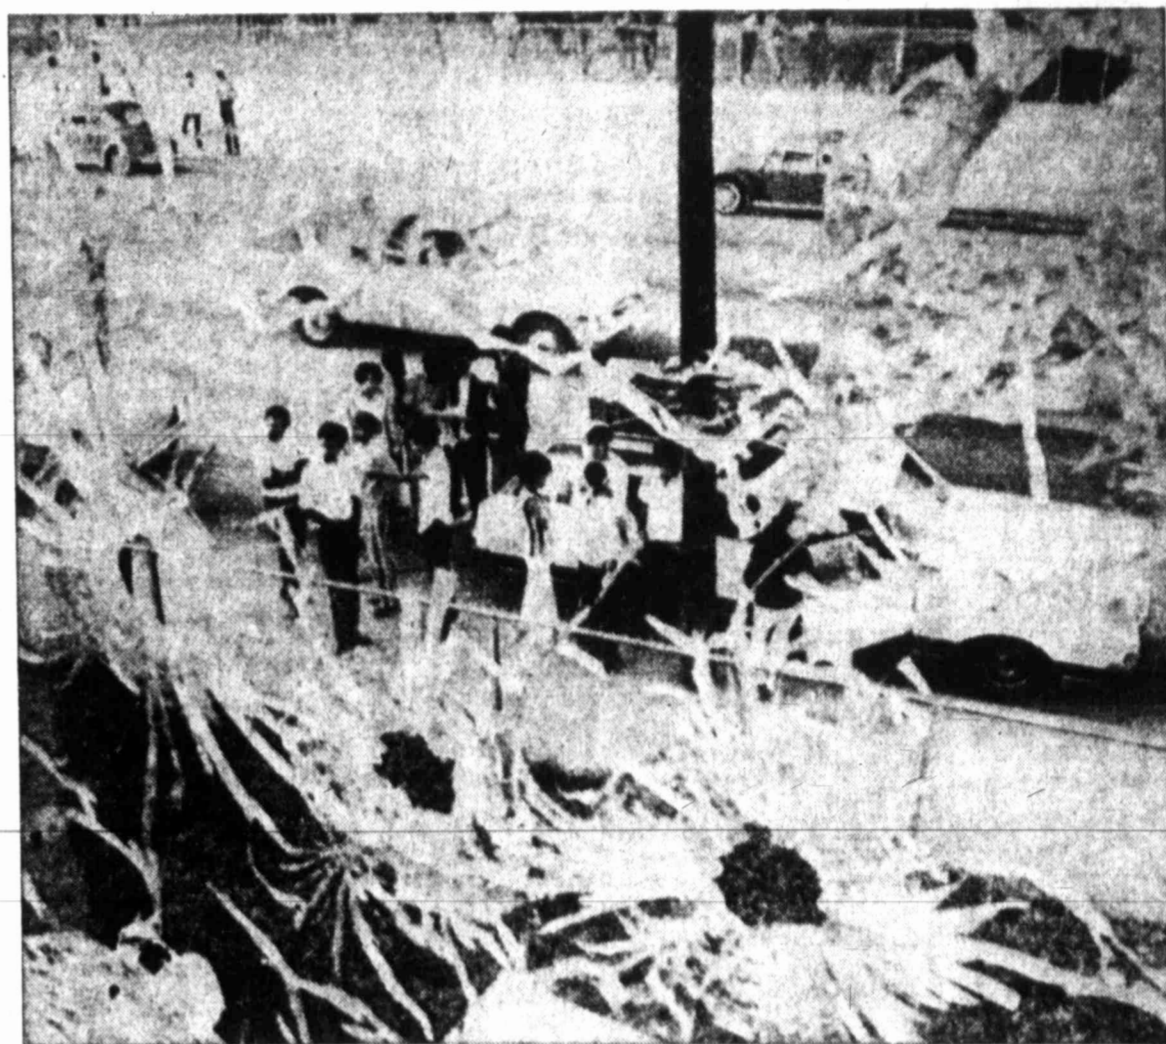

"I don't see how it could speed it (the bill) up very much," he said. "And it might kill it."

But New York Branch 36 of the National Association of Letter Carriers, one of two New York locals that triggered the nationwide mail strike in March, voted Thursday to stay on the job and put off any further strike consideration until June 12.

The 8 per cent pay raise for postal workers is tied to differing House and Senate bills that would create a U.S. Postal Service to put the mails on a self-paying basis by 1978 and operate much as an independent corporation.

Fong said the Senate postal committee should clear the package next week, adding the chamber's leadership has agreed to give it priority for a Senate vote that could come before the week is over.

The House committee has already passed its version but Rep. William M. Colmer, D-Miss., chairman of the House

Guards Help Evacuate San Marcos Residents

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — Many residents of San Marcos, perhaps hundreds, were forced to leave their homes today as rain driven flood waters forced Purgatory Creek and the San Marcos River out of their banks.

There were no known casualties.

Local National Guardsmen later aided by 42 from Austin, helped evacuate stranded residents with boats and big Army trucks.

Water ran as deep as five feet in some residential sections of this Central Texas city. At mid-morning visibility was limited to no more than 50 yards by the low clouds and driving rain. A rescue jet helicopter sent from the Department of Public Safety in Austin had to feel its way 31 miles southward to San Marcos, flying low over Interstate 35.

Fire departments from San Marcos and Seguin also took part in the early morning evacuation.

Most of San Marcos' telephones were knocked out of service by the high water and in some sections electric power was interrupted.

A number of abandoned cars dotted city streets, left where they stalled in the high water. Two highway patrolmen who radioed out first word of the stranded residents were "immobilized by water," reported public safety headquarters in Austin. The two abandoned their police cruiser and walked three miles to one of their homes, then were unable to get out because of the rapidly rising water.

The Parks and Wildlife Department in Austin was asked for any available boats and men to operate them.

Because of the breakdown in communications, the Department of Public Safety in Austin sent out its special radio equipped van to furnish communications for the rescue and police work.

Enemy Forces Step Up Pressure In Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnam and Viet Cong troops stepped up their military pressure today in Cambodia outside their hard-hit eastern sanctuary area. The main target was the largely untested Cambodian government forces.

U.S. B52s hammered at enemy supply trails and depots in eastern Laos, jammed with war materiel kept out of Cambodia by the allied offensive, informed sources said.

But concern mounted in Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, over new action by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

MANY 'MISSING'

The enemy forces took control of a town across the Mekong River from the important provincial capital of Kompong Cham, 45 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, a Cambodian general said. He reported two Cambodian battalions "missing."

Brig. Gen. Phan Moeung, commander of the 1st Military Region, said three Cambodian companies were still fighting north of the town of Tonle Bet but he did not expect them to hold out. It was feared the road to Kompong Cham would be cut.

Farther northeast, the Viet Cong opened a drive to capture Stung Treng, near the Laotian border. The drive was mounted from the provincial capital of Kratie, already in Viet Cong hands.

North Vietnamese forces struck at Limphat in Battanakri Province in the Northeast, in southwest Cambodia government troops were forced out of an area north of the Gulf of Siam port of Kep near the border with South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese troops scored a success with the smashing of North Vietnamese battalion near the vital ferry crossing of Neak Luong. Prisoners said enemy forces had planned an attack tonight on Prey Veng, 30 miles southeast of the Cambodian capital.

All of this activity was outside the enemy sanctuary area in eastern Cambodia, where U.S. and South Vietnamese troops on a dozen fronts continued their drive to destroy enemy stores of ammunition and supplies.

Informed sources in Saigon said the drives into eastern Cambodia have restricted the enemy's efforts in South Vietnam. Thus far, the allied commands said, the drives have killed 7,200 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops, captured 11,731 weapons, hundreds of tons of ammunition and 2,500 tons of rice.

The sources reporting the B52 attacks in eastern Laos said the allied drives in eastern Cambodia had deprived the enemy of many base camps at the end of the Ho Chi Minh trail.

"All those supplies are moving from North Vietnam and there's no where to put them," said one source.

The sources said the raids extended from south of the Mu Gia pass in North Vietnam along more than 200 miles of the Laotian frontier. They were the heaviest in the Laos panhandle in two weeks.

New York Post To Hike Price

YOU'VE GOT TO BE KIDDIN'

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an action almost unheard of in the federal government, the U.S. Forest Service has asked that Congress cut back its budget authorization for the fiscal year beginning July 1.

Deputy Chief M. M. Nelson Thursday asked the House public works road subcommittee to slash the authorization from $170 million to $100 million for forest development roads and trails.

Nelson told the subcommittee that although the service wants the figure restored to $170 million the following year, "we have substantial carry-over authorization" this year.

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Post announced today it will increase the price of its daily afternoon newspaper to 15 cents, effective Monday. It now costs a dime.

The Post also publishes a weekend edition Saturday which now costs 15 cents. There was no indication this would be raised.

In its early edition, the Post cited the doubling of wages during the 13 years the daily cost 10 cents and said "the impending new contract settlement, retroactive to March 31, commits the Post to the highest wage increases in its history."

The cost of distribution, newsprint and other supplies and services in all areas of our operation have also risen sharply over the years."

TORNADO WATCH Lubbock Continues To Clean Up

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — Gusty winds and a tornado watch kept storm-shy Lubbock on edge Thursday night while it made strides toward restoration following a killer twister.

Cleanup crews fought the debris and damage caused by the storm that killed at least 21 persons. Power and water were brought to satisfactory levels, but a return to normal for those utilities appeared impossible by the weekend.

Although tornadoes popped up in much of West Texas on Thursday night, no severe storms hit Lubbock.

Damage estimates still ranged between $100 and $200 million from the gigantic funnel that ripped apart a quarter of the city Monday night.

Most major roadways were cleared, and officials were hopeful that the stricken downtown area could be opened up Friday. Barriers manned by Texas Department of Public Safety personnel kept the curious out of the downtown area.

Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., visited the area Thursday and announced he would press for legislation to expand aid to storm victims. President Nixon already had included Lubbock in a declaration of Texas disaster covering recent tornadoes in the Plainview-Clarendon area as well as the Lubbock twister.

Hospital Slaying Suspect Is Dead

SHEFFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A former mental patient wanted in the shooting deaths of three Veterans Administration Hospital officials apparently shot himself as officers closed in on him, police say.

Coleman G. Gish, 45, was spotted Thursday by an off-duty state trooper who was going fishing near Sheffield, 150 miles northwest of Danville, scene of the triple slayings Wednesday.

Trooper William Rosenow said he drove past a car on a gravel road and saw a man who fit Gish's description drinking beer and eating a hamburger. The car sped off and Rosenow said he radioed for help.

Three other troopers and the Sheffield town marshal answered the call. As they approached Gish's car, Marshal Peter Minnaert said, the man shot himself in the head with a .38-caliber pistol.

24-Hour Cease-Fire

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese armed forces will observe a 24-hour cease-fire from noon Monday to noon Tuesday to mark the anniversary of Buddha's birth, government military spokesmen said today.

Earlier reports said there would be a 24-hour cease-fire to mark the traditional holiday, but no hours had been announced.

OH, HAPPY DAY FOR MacCONNELLS

Mr. and Mrs. George MacConnell, 1804 Hearne, received two happy phone calls this morning — their son and son-in-law called to advise they had been promoted to the same rank on the same day.

Both young men were staff sergeants and have been promoted to tech sergeants. Sgt. Bruce David MacConnell is stationed at Dover, Del., and Sgt. James H. Kern is stationed at Orlando, Fla.

Both have been in the Air Force less than a year.

Fem Forfeits $20,000 Bail

NEW YORK (AP) — Jane L. Alpert, who pleaded guilty May 4 to conspiring to bomb federal buildings here last fall, has forfeited her $20,000 bail, and a warrant has been issued for her arrest.

U.S. Dist. Judge Milton Pollack revoked Miss Alpert's bail Thursday. He said he did it because she failed to check with the U.S. attorney's office this week.

Miss Alpert, John David Hughey and Samuel Melville are to be sentenced June 19 on the bomb conspiracy charges. Judge Pollack also revoked the $20,000 bail of Hughey. Melville's $100,000 bail had previously been revoked after he tried to escape.

Tiny Chance Soviet Union Will Team With Peking

LONDON (AP) — Soviet authorities privately are ruling out any possibility of active military cooperation with Red China against the Americans in Indochina, some Asian and European diplomats reported today.

Informal Chinese efforts have been suggesting a reconciliation with the Russians to meet the challenge of President Nixon's intervention in Cambodia.

These diplomats said they have been told by senior Soviet colleagues any renewed Russian-Chinese cooperation would require a Chinese initiative.

None has been sighted, and Moscow has no proposals to offer.

The informants have been in touch with high Soviet officials. Their informal exchanges have been reported to their home governments. The account they offered of Soviet thinking have been checked and cross-checked, examined against Moscow's actions and pronouncements and seem to have an authoritative ring.

The Soviet Union's policy, according to the informants, was summarized thus:

—The Kremlin is ready to provide all military aid for North Vietnam, and other left-wing Indochinese forces, short of manpower. This contrasts with unofficial Chinese talk of enlisting volunteers for service in Indochinese battle zones if they are needed.

—The Kremlin is resolved to avoid any direct confrontation with the Americans in, or over, Indochina. This ties in with a Western belief that Moscow would not mind watching the Chinese and Americans slug it out in the region.

—The Kremlin is ready to go on providing the North Vietnamese with all the arms and equipment needed to replace the losses sustained during the American-South Vietnamese sweep through Cambodia.

Soviet circumspection over the Indochina crisis has been reflected in official actions and pronouncements.

The government-in-exile of Cambodia's Prince Norodom Sihanouk, based in Peking, has yet to be recognized by the Russians. China and several other Asian Communist states have done so.

Tornadoes Hopscotch Across Ohio

By The Associated Press

Tornadoes hopscotched across a 150-mile stretch of Ohio's mid-section today as violent spring weather kept up a week-long siege in the Midcontinent.

Six persons were reported injured in the Ohio storms.

Another was injured in Indiana when lightning struck near a home.

The Ohio Highway Patrol said the rural area surrounding Mount Gilead was hardest hit. Five were injured when a funnel cloud overturned a mobile home east of Mount Gilead. Another was injured when his truck was blown off Interstate 71 near Mansfield.

Several rural homes and barns were either heavily damaged or destroyed in Richland and Morrow counties in Ohio, the patrol said. A mobile home was overturned and trees were uprooted in Logan County.

Winds ripped into the Indiana community of Chalmers, north of Lafayette, late Thursday and caused an estimated $250,000 damage to more than 50 homes. The winds came out of severe thunderstorms which hit much of Indiana before lashing Ohio.

Heavy rain and hail were common in the thunderstorm zones.

Funnel clouds were sighted in sections of Texas, Missouri and Indiana.

Severe weather watches or warnings were in effect for parts of 11 states from New Mexico to Pennsylvania at one time or another during the night and in the pre-dawn hours.

One of the worst hailstorms pounded Hondo, Tex., west of San Antonio, with ice clumps the size of golfballs. Heavy rain and wind accompanied the storm, which caused some flooding in the area.

Two inches of rain soaked Columbia, Mo., before daybreak. Nearly that much fell at Tulsa, Okla.

Officers Help Area Search

Two Big Spring police officers joined the search Thursday for two Mexican Nationals who reportedly raped a Mexican woman on a ranch east of Midland Wednesday.

Capt. Stanley Bogard and Bob Dugan participated in the aerial search for the two men who, the woman said, bound her husband and repeatedly assaulted her at the Rage Ranch, 26 miles east of Midland, Wednesday night. The two suspects were employed at the ranch and the incident was said to have occurred when the woman and her husband, also Mexican nationals, stopped to spend the night there.

Texas Ranger Charlie Hodges discovered the woman wandering in the countryside and she told him she had managed to escape after the two assailants had fallen asleep.

Bogard and Dugan, who piloted the aircraft, joined the search from the air which had begun when a Department of Public Safety helicopter was dispatched to the scene Wednesday. Bogard said this morning the search had failed to uncover the two men and that the terrain is such that the suspects could remain in hiding with little chance of discovery.

Big Lubbock Building Has No Structural Damage

LUBBOCK — It has been established definitely that the First National Bank-Pioneer building here received no structural damage during Monday night's tornado.

This report resulted from a detailed inspection of the building by a team of architects, engineers, contractors and insurance adjusters, according to an announcement made today by A. C. Verner, president of the First National Bank, and Burton P. Smith, president of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company.

The initial estimate for the rehabilitation of the building is approximately $1 million, all of which is covered by insurance.

The building's electrical system has been gone over completely and totally secured from any possibility of damage from short circuits or other wiring problems.

The First National Bank-Pioneer building's electrical power is supplied by a gas operated total energy plant located in the parking building across the street from the main structure. During the height of the storm on Monday, the system was shut down by gas company personnel on duty because of a seepage of water into the total energy area. This water seepage was stopped, and the system was restarted in about seven minutes. Aside from this short emergency, the building was totally powered for lights, elevators and all other electrically operated equipment throughout the immediate post storm period. The bank's electronic data processing equipment lost only 45 minutes of operating time due to the storm.

Air conditioning equipment in the building is operating and providing service to all areas of the building currently occupied. Boarding of areas that were broken out by the storm was completed Thursday.

Perner and Smith announced that work on the reproduction of the building has already been started. No estimates of the length of time this work will require are available.

Scout District Is Leading Council

At the end of last month, the Lone Star District was leading the Buffalo Trail Council in percentage of Scout-age boys reached. But, warned Monty Stokes, executive, other new units will need to be organized and more boys recruited to hold that position.

Through April there were 558 Cubs in 17 packs, 443 boys in 21 Scout troops, 66 youths in six Explorer units, a total of 1,067 (34 per cent) in 44 units. Troop 17, an inactive unit, may be revived under the sponsorship of the Elks Club, reported Chaplain Clayton Hicks, chairman of organization and extension. Troop 45 at North Birdwell Lane Methodist Church is a new unit, he said.

In the council as a whole, membership is running ahead of a year ago, Steve Odum, Midland council executive, told the district committee meeting at the VA Hospital dining room Thursday. This is the first time this has happened in several years, and this is the first time that the council has had a complete staff in several years.

Encouraging reports on the sustaining member drive among adults were voiced by Jack Powell, district chairman, and by Chaplain Hicks, who has handled the effort among the institutions.

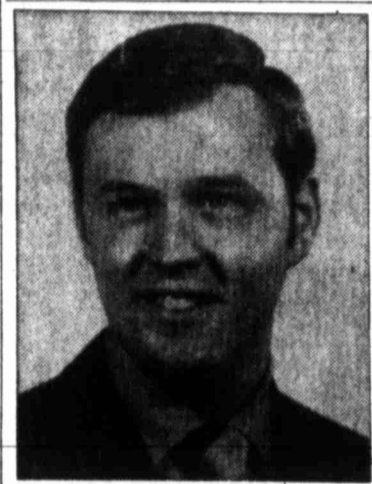

Summer camping will see at least 85 per cent participation by local troops, according to Jimmy Ray Smith, chairman. Activities include a possible camporee, also a swimming meet Aug. 8 at the Webb AFB Airman's pool. Dr. Arnold Friedman of Webb AFB has volunteered to man camp clinic facilities June 24, he said.

He also presented certificates to Maj. Bill Lund and Aubrey Bryans for outstanding service in the Scout Exposition.

Leadership training for Scoutmasters ended the current session Thursday evening, said Bill Brooks, chairman. Only two units in the city have leaders who have had no training at all. In the autumn, new sessions of all phases of leadership training will be launched again, he added.

Explorer (senior boys) membership now has exceeded year-end goals, said Capt. Jim Fisher, who said leadership training sessions were now under way. Further gains are anticipated. Recent Explorer Olympics brought 115 boys to Webb AFB, he reported.

Another phase of work on the merit is advancement, according to C. E. McDonnell, chairman. The eighth boy this year is due soon to qualify for his Eagle badge. A new merit badge council book also is nearing completion. A new member of the committee introduced Thursday was Jimmy Jones, institutional representative for the Rotary Club's Troop No. 1, which now has received more than 55 successive charters.

JOHN R. FISH

John Fish To Get Degree

John R. Fish, son of Dr. and Mrs. J. H. Fish, 907 Mountain Park Drive, will receive his doctor of medicine degree at the 80th annual commencement of the University of Texas Medical Branch in Galveston.

The exercises will be in the Moody Civic Center at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, June 10.

He will do his internship in Methodist Hospital in Dallas, and then he plans to do his residency in ophthalmology. John Fish is a 1963 graduate of Big Spring High School and earned his bachelor of arts in chemistry at Texas Tech in 1966. While in medical school, he has been a member of the Phi Chi medical fraternity.

He was married in August, 1969, to the former Donna Caldwell of Dallas.

The University medical branch, sixth largest medical school in the nation, is due to confer degrees upon 149 candidates in the various divisions.

MOLLY MCKINNEY

Coahoma Selects Honor Students

Leslie Woods, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Woods, Coahoma, has been named valedictorian of the 1970 graduating class of Coahoma High School. He compiled a grade average of 94.4 during his high school career.

Salutatorian will be Molly McKinney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McKinney, who had a grade average of 91.6. Commencement will be Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Coahoma High School auditorium. Baccalaureate will be at 8 p.m. Sunday in the auditorium with the Rev. Wayne Oglesby as the speaker.

Woods plans to attend the University of Texas in Austin where he will major in chemical engineering. While in high school in Coahoma he was vice president of the student council, freshman class president, member of the National Honor Society and Who's Who, and was named best citizen and "most likely to succeed" this year.

Miss McKinney plans to major in secondary education at Sam Houston State. In high school she was named best all-around, a member of Who's Who, "most likely to succeed" and was a winner in the Youth Achievement Awards sponsored by Zales and The Herald. She was editor of the annual and production editor and business manager of the school newspaper.

A LOVELIER YOU Deep Cleanse Face With Beauty Grains

By MARY SUE MILLER

A Teen Lovely asks: "Do you approve of beauty grains for cleansing the face? I have been told that because of its grittiness, use can be irritating. I would love to know for sure."

The Answer: First of all, please note that a number of cosmetic houses make "beauty grains." The term covers a variety of products that are similar but not altogether alike. Some are made with fine-ground almond meal, while others contain coarser meals and grinds. But never, never in gritty textures. A few brands are medicated; all either suds or foam when correctly applied with warm water.

The principal action is deep-deep cleansing. Thus, application is by no means limited to teen complexions. It comes recommended at any age for such conditions as oily skin, enlarged pores and blackheads. There is one main exemption—blemished or disturbed skin—the treatments for which should be approved by a doctor.

For best effect, cleansing grains and meals should be used twice each week at bedtime after every trace of makeup has been removed. You must follow instructions on the package to the letter. G-e-n-t-l-e is the byword. But then, all facial treatments require a feather touch.

After cleansing, a few pats of mild skin tonic or antiseptic liquid form a soothing finish for oily skin. Dry and normal skins respond to the merest film of baby oil, or a favorite night cream.

RELIEF FOR OILY SKIN

An oily skin can be improved. Just send for my leaflet, "Relief for Oily Skin." Advice covers corrective treatments and makeup; such special problems as pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller, in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

Stanton Organizations Hold Year-End Events

STANTON (SC) — The Phi met recently for a buffet Lambda Chapter of Beta Sigma dinner and installation ceremony in the home of Mrs. Donnie Thompson with Mrs. Granville Graves presiding.

New officers are Mrs. Claude Nowlin, president; Mrs. Owen Kelly, vice president; Mrs. Bud Glaspe, recording secretary; Mrs. Al Smith, treasurer; and Mrs. Gene Atchison, city council representative.

An ice cream and cake supper was planned for members and their families.

The Stanton Scale Steppers met Tuesday at the Martin County Library with Mrs. Henry Louder, president, presiding.

It was announced that a public meeting will be held next Tuesday in the library with Mrs. Joe Myers of Knott as guest speaker. She will demonstrate the making of several items including burlap flowers, purses, crocheted beads and articles created from plastic bottles.

Phillip Stovall. Mrs. Henry Graves spoke briefly on aims of Beta Sigma Phi.

The program was presented by two speakers. Mrs. Bill Stone discussed architecture, and Mrs. Jerry Bethel described modeling procedures with plaster of Paris and papier mache. Members participated in the latter by making gifts.

A garage sale was slated Saturday, and a farewell luncheon was planned for Mrs. Stovall and Mrs. Graves. Refreshments were served.

Child Study Club Holds Installation

The Child Study Club held an installation luncheon Wednesday at Coker's Restaurant. Hostesses were Mrs. Leo Gee, Mrs. Frank Pierce and Mrs. Richard Grimes. Guests were Mrs. Whitney Reynolds and Mrs. L. K. Gladden.

Mrs. Gladden installed the following new officers, Mrs. Charles Warren, president; Mrs. Gee, vice president; Mrs. David Hodnett, secretary; Mrs. Don Grantham, treasurer; Mrs. David Elrod, parliamentarian; and Mrs. W. A. Riley, librarian and historian.

Two new members were welcomed into the club. They are Mrs. Norman Knox and Mrs. Reynolds. Mrs. Don Lovelady and Mrs. Warren reported on a party they gave for youths at Big Spring State Hospital.

Mrs. Gee, Mrs. Calvin Daniels and Mrs. Kenneth Franks will be hostesses at the June birthday party at the hospital.

A called meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Hodnett, 2718 Lynn, to amend by-laws. The club adjourned until September.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: I got so tired of my husband and sor. throwing their pants over the back of a chair every night, instead of hanging them on a hanger in the closet where they belong.

They usually wore a different pair the next day, so that left me to hang the pants up and place in their closet.

Finally I got real smart. I went to the dime store and bought four of the cheapest towel racks I could find.

I screwed two on the inside of each closet door about three feet apart. One is at head level, the other is just above the door knob. Then I gave my men orders . . . When you take off your pants, open the closet door and drape them over that towel rack from now on.

I gave them the excuse that the towel rack would keep them from wrinkling. By golly, it really does, Heloise. But tell me, why they don't get wrinkles in them like they do when you throw them over the back of a chair? . . . Tired Mother idea, the pants can be hung up straight while there is still body warmth in them.

And the pants will have nary a wrinkle . . . Heloise

LETTER OF THOUGHT
Dear Heloise: I have learned that to live is to love. It is only when we love that we truly live . . . Georgial. Schmitt

Dear Heloise: After a company dinner (or for that matter, any time that I have dabs and dabs of leftovers), I have found an easy way to reheat and serve leftovers.

I take small pieces of foil, put the dib in the center of the foil, and pull up the sides and corners to make a basket. Do not close completely.

I place all of these baskets in a shallow pan containing about an inch of boiling water. Cover partially and heat for a few minutes.

The leftovers heat quickly without cooking and can be removed and served as fresh as the first time.

The beauty of this method is there is only one pan to wash . . . F.C.E.

Dear Heloise: My mom bought some inexpensive beach rafts, and while swimming last year, the long part of the raft got a big hole in it.

When she got them out of storage last week, she cut the long part off leaving the pillow part (which wasn't broken).

We can use these for a float or to lean on while swimming this summer!

She's a real smart mother, wouldn't you say? . . . Gail

A Devotion For Today . . .

O sing to the Lord a new song! (Psalm 98:1, RSV)

PRAYER: Dear Father, thank You for the young people in our homes, in our schools, in our churches. Help the adults who work with them to be filled with imagination and common sense. Help each one of us to encourage one another in the use of talents; for Jesus' sake. Amen.

Obscured Crisis

Obscured by the smoke from the Cambodian thrust in Southeast Asia is the seething crisis in the Middle East. Sooner or later (and probably sooner) the President is going to have to make some hard policy decisions about aid policies toward Israel. Recently he refrained from making available to Israel modern fighter planes on the grounds that this might heat-up the Arab-Israeli conflict, particularly the duel going on along the Egypt, Israel frontier.

Since then, however, late-model Russian planes have been flying over Israel's territory, and with Russian pilots at the controls. That they have greatly reduced the unlimited sky is undeniable. In fact, they have emboldened Egypt to make excursions into the Sinai territory held by the Israeli; moreover, this cover, plus more sophisticated and powerful Russian artillery, has increased pressure on the Israelis. In short, it has strengthened the ability of Egypt and other Arab nations to wage a war of attrition, because of the mathematics of the thing, this is precisely what Israel can not endure indefinitely.

The administration has been seeking to cool it in the Middle East in hopes that Russia will ease off on its aid to the Arabs. Unless the temperature drops, there may soon be no logical choice but to give Israel more and more substantial help.

Supersonic Airline Flights

The supersonic transport (SST) plane is moving right along, reports indicate. Work on a prototype was begun under congressional authorization last September at a Boeing plant in Washington state.

Will the SST be permitted to fly supersonically over populated areas in the United States, given its successful development? The strange answer to this questions is: No. Yes. Maybe.

Transportation Secretary John Volpe made the definitive statement on the subject when he said the SST "will not be allowed to fly over populated areas unless and until the noise factor comes within acceptable limits."

H. W. Withington, manager of Boeing's Supersonic Transport Division, seemed to be talking out of both sides of his mouth at a recent press conference when he said: "As of today, we don't know of any way to get at it (the sonic boom) that will make any significant difference." Nevertheless, he claimed that at 63,000 feet, the SST's expected cruising altitude, the effect at ground level "will be comparable to the impact of a spinning lure cast by fishermen on calm, inland waters."

In the absence of any demonstrated pressing need for supersonic airline flight, Congress would be well advised to preclude these until such a time as the shock waves have been brought well within tolerable limits.

Explaining Nixon's Position

WASHINGTON — The biggest tragedy in America today is the existence of a "communications gap." There are many millions of people — young and old — who don't know or understand what their government is doing in the Vietnam war, and they have drawn hasty conclusions or accepted the misrepresentations of hearsay and rumor.

UNFORTUNATELY, many students and educators who should have the time to make a thorough examination of the facts have not done so. The most encouraging thing that has happened is that they have gone to Washington to make a protest against government policy. For this could mean that they are sufficiently interested to learn what the policy is and why it is being pursued.

How many of them know why the United States government really decided to send troops into Cambodia? How many of them understand what the Vietnam war means in the long run to the safety of the American people?

PRESIDENT NIXON now has before him a serious problem — how to withdraw troops without endangering the lives of the American forces that temporarily remain. Unquestionably, as he sat down with his military and civilian advisers — and the conferences had to be secret — it was determined to eliminate one threat of possible attack. This was posed from the Communist sanctuaries in Cambodia. The Defense Department advised the action.

MR. NIXON, in effect, had to answer the question of whether he would pull out 150,000 men and run the risk of serious assault on the troops who remained, or whether he would permit a few weeks of time to be spent in wiping out the "sanctuaries." He decided it would be safer to eliminate the sanctuaries first.

The American government felt it was better not to explain the program in advance, and so the entrance into Cambodia unfortunately seemed like a new military venture instead of a protective defense which would be completed by the end of June.

THE PRESIDENT told the country that he was going to bring home another 150,000 men. He referred to an earlier speech in which he said Vietnamization was going well so that American troops could be gradually brought home. He added:

"But I also warned at that time that increased enemy action in Laos, in Cambodia, as well as in Vietnam, was something that we had noted, and that if I had indicated, and if I found, that increased enemy action would jeopardize the remaining forces who would be in Vietnam after we had withdrawn 150,000, I would take strong action to deal with it. I found that the action that the enemy had taken in Cambodia would mean the 240,000 Americans who would be there a year from now without many combat troops to help defend them would leave them in an untenable position. That is why I had to act."

WHETHER OR NOT the younger generation agrees with him, the President will not allow any of the men remaining in Vietnam to be massacred. He is certain the only way to be sure that this will not happen is to wipe out the "sanctuaries" where supplies had been accumulated by the enemy.

Hundreds of thousands of students, however, engaged in demonstrations involving vandalism just the same.

President Nixon's words were completely ignored by millions of persons who never even read them in the press or heard them over the air. The "communications gap" remains.

'Nagging Will Get You Nowhere'

NEW YORK (AP) — Husbandly remarks that wives get tired of hearing:

"Yes, I heard every word you said. The trouble is that I've heard them all 10,000 times before."

"Nagging will get you nowhere."

"Well, how can I take you out when you say you have absolutely nothing to wear?"

"This meal looks awful familiar. Didn't you cook it before?"

"I don't mind ordinary leftovers, but I don't like leftover leftovers."

"If you wanted to live like a rich woman, why didn't you marry a rich man?"

"You pick up after the children—so why do you holler so much about picking up after me?"

"What on God's green earth do women know about politics anyway? They never vote for the man—they vote for or against his face."

"How many times have I told you not to phone me at the office unless it's a real emergency? I don't feel that the fact you've just found your first gray hair is that kind of an emergency."

"What if junior doesn't want to go to college? Maybe he can become a plumber or a television repair man and keep us all in comfort."

"Lower your voice, Bert. Here comes my battle ax and she's got ears like three microphones."

"Go on a second honeymoon? Are you out of your mind? Do you know what our first honeymoon cost? And what did we really get out of it?"

"I wouldn't mind if your mother just visited us now and then, but does she have to try and haunt our house on a permanent basis? Why don't you just invite her for next Halloween?"

All right, now that I've got a firm grip on my Martini, calm down and tell me what happened. Did one of the kids lose a front tooth or the cat have kittens in the shower?"

"If I ran my job the way you do this house, the whole family would be in a breadline by the end of the week."

"Okay, if you have to get it off your chest, get it off your chest. But when you finally run out of breath, let me remind you of one thing: there are laws now about creating noise pollution."

"I'm not knocking marriage but, looking back, all in all I had even more fun in the Army."

Money Panic, Market Chaos

NEW YORK (AP) — Influential economists and investment advisers in this area are expressing alarm at the present confused state of the economy and have become increasingly critical of government fiscal and monetary policy.

Phrases such as money panic, money market chaos and financial collapse have appeared in their evaluations, although not always for the same reasons.

The nearest they come to agreement is that there is a shortage of capital to finance government and corporate spending plans. The goal of controlling inflation by curtailing spending, they say, has collided with spending needs.

As a result, they say, interest rates may continue to soar, cutting into corporate profits and leading to the collapse of some stock prices.

Some feel more money should be released to finance these programs. Others maintain that spending plans must be scrapped. Talk of credit controls, and even of controls on wages and prices, are becoming commonplace.

Ironically, expectations that the economy is attempting to resume its expansion, without the capital to do so, are viewed as contributory to possible further disorder in stock and bond markets.

John Wright of Wright Investors Service, blames "excessive severity and persistence" of Federal Reserve Board restraint as leading to a "strangulation of capital markets."

He calls the present stock-bond market chaos, "The Burns capital crisis," in reference to Chairman Arthur Burns of the Federal Reserve Board.

"The time to fear financial collapse is now," said Wright, a stock market conservative. He noted that the federal government last week nearly failed to market its own bonds, and was rescued at the last minute because the Federal Reserve stepped in and made purchases.

Asked if more credit wouldn't simply add fuel to the fires of inflation, Wright contended that the economy was in a tailspin and that even if more money were freed now the descent couldn't be halted for another six months.

Elliot Janeway, former adviser to President Lyndon B. Johnson—he broke with him over what he felt was improper financial planning for the Vietnam war—claims the government is locked in a battle with industry for too meager a supply of capital, and that interest rates are riding a relentless upward spiral.

Yea, Durant High!

Today's college students must be smarter. They've figured ways to avoid classwork that no other generation ever dreamed of.

A lot of UT students voted to go on strike before even negotiating for better hours, higher grades and time and a half for studying.

LET TEXAS A&M never say I did not give them the chance. Here I was going to make them rich and famous with a series of hilarious Aggie jokes.

In fact, I had already started the campaign. But it now is halted. I have learned officially that the university does not appreciate the campaign.

"They just aren't funny," the alumni magazine says.

So I'll let my old alma mater take the brunt of the campaign. From now on, they'll be Durant High jokes.

Did you hear about Durant's traditional football game with Ardmore? Ardmore was leading 7-0 with several minutes to play. An automobile backed fire, and Ardmore players left the field thinking the game was over.

In three plays the Durant Lions marched down the field to score. They tried for the 2-point extra point, but failed, and lost 7-6.

MEANWHILE, BACK to baseball. If the Yankees, owned by CBS, appear on NBC's Game of the Week, does ABC get equal time?

A nomination for the wackiest sentence of the week on television is in. It was:

"Fruit of the Loom panty hose can be bought at the Piggly Wiggly."

MY DRINKING cousin, Bobby Harris, thinks "all this fuss about a moon shot is silly." Claims he's been taking them for years and has been out of this world many times.

To paraphrase President Kennedy: "Astronaut what you can do for your country . . ."

A friend, Mrs. Joe McLean, reports she took up smoking as a teen to "prove how adult I was." She bought a brand which had the slogan: "Not A Cough In A Carload."

"Twenty years later," she says, "I'm ready to say their slogan was right. It was the second carload that got me."

IT IS MORE deductible to give than to receive.

Counter-Revolution From The Right?

WASHINGTON — The last of the litter is being cleaned up, the last of the stragglers have departed. It was a famous victory for peaceful — or relatively peaceful — protest. But, like such victories in the past, the end result is as transitory as the shouted chants of the huge crowd on the Ellipse.

What matters far more is the beginning of a movement on the campuses to use the political process to change the policy of the government from war to peace. Princeton University started it with the decision to grant all undergraduates two weeks in October to go and work for Congressional candidates.

THE STUDENT BODY of Harvard College, along with most of the faculty and service employees, came to Washington to try friendly persuasion with members of Congress. They had even cut their hair and cleaned up to show that they were ready to work through the electoral process. The same signal is coming from other campuses around the country and, if these young people really mean business and do not lapse during the summer into the old cop-out attitude, they can help to work a change in both the atmosphere and the political stance of Washington before the country.

THIS HAS COME, it must be said, very late. The alienated young have stirred profound underlying prejudices in middle America. They have seemed bent on deliberately flouting the privileges of higher education. And for the middle mass for whom such privileges are out of reach this is an outrage.

For many of the young coping-out has been a passive protest. Long hair, preferably dirty, bare feet, and Indian head bands, drugs — these have been limp symbols of rebellion. This has been a form of romantic rebellion, a way of breathing defiance that at times looks pretty infantile, hardly more than exhibitionism.

MOST OF THESE young could not say how they would change the system if they had it in their power to do so. There is, however, a small minority of activists bent on bringing the system down. Insofar as they articulate their conviction, beyond the shouting of obscenities, they say bring it all down and then something better can be built in its place. They man the bomb factories. They try to turn every demonstration into violence.

Ominous signs make plain the polarization that is taking place and the deep currents of prejudice and hatred below the surface.

THE ATTACK of the construction workers, the hard hats, at high noon in Wall Street was the most ominous of these signs. Peaceful young demonstrators against the war and in memory of the four Kent State dead were assaulted mercilessly by some 200 hard hats from nearby construction sites. At least 70 persons were injured, some of them bystanders who tried to stop the assault. Trinity Church became a dressing station for the wounded, with the hard hats twice trying to break into this refuge and to tear down the Episcopal flag which they apparently thought was a Viet Cong flag.

SO MUCH is still unknown about the assault and the subsequent attempt to storm City Hall. How was it organized? Who determined the timing? Was there a common ideological motive or was it simply a blind hitting-out at the long hairs?

These questions deserve some answers. Above all, the romantic anarchists should be concerned about the answers. They are a tiny minority capable of generating not their kind of revolution but a violent counter-revolution of the right.

Where Is College Authority?

WASHINGTON — Citizens over 30, especially those with kids, should not be surprised but merely appalled — again — at the national movement among the rabbits who allegedly run our colleges and universities to cancel the remainder of the school year.

As usual, these timid and unresourceful academics are running away from trouble. They flee the kitchen because it has become too hot, and send the children home to their parents.

WITH 'TYPICAL' sophistry, our college administrators claim they are shutting down their schools as a demonstration of opposition to the Vietnam War and other assorted policies of the Nixon administration. As usual, they talk pusillanimous nonsense. Colleges and universities are being closed for the season because in most cases the administrators have lost control of their student bodies and don't know what else to do.

THIS WOULD BE a preposterous admission in another, civilized era when our institutions of higher learning were governed by their governors. Unfortunately, the nation has been saddled with an army of politicos who have failed to keep order on their own campuses and therefore have concluded that the way to handle chaos is to vacate their houses.

No apologist in military uniform will sell me his bill of goods on the shooting to death of those Kent State students. Whatever the provocation, and it was great, murder was not the answer. But when the blame is doled out a share should be heaped on the shoulders of the people who run our colleges.

IN ALL the tragic fuss, everybody seems to have lost sight of the fact that a university or college, like any other society, has certain rules and regulations. A student agrees to abide by these rules when he registers. He is not dragged, kicking and screaming, against his will, into the registrar's office. He is not compelled to remain in school; by doing so he tacitly accepts its form of government.

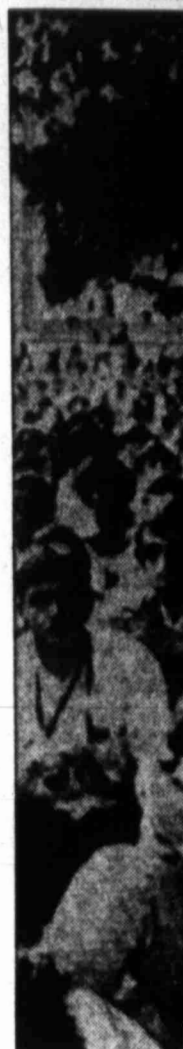

But the rabbits who operate the schools have forsaken their rules. It is a rare exception, in most institutions, when a student is penalized for misbehavior or even for burning down a school building or kidnapping a college president.

INCREDIBLY, the response of college presidents and faculties is to shut down their shops. They cry that these shops foster rational thinking and civilized behavior, but they shut them down when trouble arrives.

Perhaps the flower and chivalry of academia has left us no choice. Perhaps we should stand aside, in sighing resignation, and let the students take over our colleges. They may not smell as sweet, but they possess one virtue their schoolmasters lack. I call it guts.

LOOKING FOR A PATH — Actress Jane Fonda, weaves her way through a crowd of some 4,000 persons prior to speaking at an antiwar rally Thursday, near the campus of the University of South Carolina.

Four Fail To Post Bonds Totaling $2.5 Million

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Four persons remained jailed today in lieu of bonds totaling $2.5 million after they were formally presented with an indictment charging them in a $25 million heroin smuggling case.

One of the four, Manuel Suarez - Dominguez, has been identified by city narcotics officers and the U.S. Justice Department as a former Mexico City police chief.

They were indicted Wednesday on charges in the seizure of nearly 90 pounds of heroin here last week. Federal officials estimated its value at $25 million when diluted and sold to addicts.

U.S. Commissioner Frank Baskin presented the three men and one woman with the indictment in a hearing Thursday.

An examining trial had been scheduled for the four Thursday, but Baskin held that it was moot since they already had been indicted.

An examining trial is held to determine whether there is sufficient evidence to bind a case over to the grand jury.

Defense lawyer Oscar Gonzalez objected in vain to the decision to forego the examining trial. He also criticized federal officials for moving so quickly in presenting the case to the grand jurors. The indictment was returned during the grand jury's regularly scheduled meeting Wednesday.

Gonzalez said he would file a request for a preliminary hearing, a routine procedure, and also would seek a reduction of bond.

Indicted with Suarez-Dominguez, 59, were Yolanda Yanes-Schmidt, 32, also of Mexico City; and nightclub operator Alfredo Montemayor, 33, and Savador Mazatini, 36, both of San Antonio.

All four were indicted on charges of conspiracy to import and sell heroin illegally. They also were charged with receiving and concealing the heroin after importation.

Mazatini and Montemayor also were charged with selling about two pounds of heroin to an undercover agent here April 15, and Suarez-Dominguez was charged with illegal possession of a firearm.

Fund For Hurt Child

Persons wishing to make donations for 16-month-old Michelle Hall now undergoing treatment in Galveston for second and third degree burns may contact Mrs. Derrell Bearden, Box 214, Ackery.

Michelle received the burns Monday when she crawled into a lavatory and turned on the hot water. She was taken late Tuesday to the Shrine Burn Center in Galveston.

Mrs. Bearden said the baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall, contacted friends here Thursday night and said Michelle was "doing as well as could be expected." They said doctors told them this first two weeks was the critical period. Michelle will require intensive hospital care from two to five months.

Mrs. Bearden said persons mailing checks should make them out to Joe Dean Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Hall have asked that no toys or flowers be sent the child since they cannot be kept in the hospital room.

Nance To Sing At H-SU Rites

Kenneth W. Nance, son of Rev. and Mrs. Wayne Nance, Albuquerque, N.M., and formerly of Big Spring, will be on the baccalaureate program for Hardin-Simmons University Sunday at 3 p.m. in Abilene.

Kenny is a member of the graduating class and will sing "Hear My Prayer, O Lord." His father was for many years educational and music director at First Baptist Church.

The Rev. Eddie Foy Crow, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Brownfield, will deliver the baccalaureate sermon. Dr. Nolan Estes, superintendent of schools at Dallas, will deliver the commencement address at 10 a.m. Monday.

Honorary degrees will be conferred on Rev. Crow and on William James Whitfield.

Deadlines For Mail Changed

Effective Saturday outgoing mail must be received at the main post office by 6 p.m., in order to make the day's last dispatch that leaves the office at 6:30 p.m.

Previously the final dispatch of out-going mail has been 8:40 p.m. However, this dispatch will be cancelled Saturday and mail deposited after 6 p.m. in the Big Spring post office cannot be dispatched until the following day.

Postmaster Frank Hardesty asked for the cooperation of all mailers — large and small — in getting out-of-town mail to the post office as early in the day as possible.

"If we can receive a higher volume of mail before 4 p.m., we can dispatch this mail on an earlier schedule that leaves our office at 4:45 p.m. Earlier mailing will help us to expedite the mail, and prevent the log jam that ordinarily develops just before our last dispatch of the day at 6:30 p.m.," Hardesty said.

Cut-off times for air mail dispatch are 9 a.m. and 4:30 p.m.

Tons Of Help Sent Thursday

More than 12 1/2 tons of clothing, food and other necessities have been sent to the victims of the Lubbock tornado by the Churches of Christ in Howard and four surrounding counties.

Royce Scott, of the benevolence committee of the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ, said the 25,270 pounds of goods was transported to Lubbock by two large moving vans furnished by the Morehead and Wooten Transfer companies.

He quoted relief workers in Lubbock as saying that there are hundreds of families without household items, insurance or money. The relief effort needs, in particular, appliances, furniture or the money to buy them, Scott said. Contributions by check will be forwarded on to the relief effort if mailed to Lubbock Relief Fund, P.O. Box 1968, Big Spring, Scott said.

Case Dismissed

Included in a list of cases on the docket call for the Howard County Court was one against Marshall Lee Miller. This case has been dismissed, court officials said today.

NEWS BRIEFS

First Playday Set Saturday

The first of three open playdays scheduled by the Coahoma Roping Club will be Saturday. Events will begin promptly at 7 p.m., with the entry books closed at 6:30 p.m.

There will be four events run by American Junior Rodeo Association rules. They will be barrel racing, poles, flags and goat-tying. Entry fee is 50 cents per event. Ribbons will be awarded for first through sixth places.

Points will be counted separately for the top four males and females in each class. Riders in each event with the largest accumulation of points for the three combined shows will receive a gift at the closing show. The other two shows are set for July 11 and Aug. 29.

Horse Show Set At Colo. City

COLORADO CITY — The Western Riding Club of Colorado City will have its annual Quarter Horse show May 30 in the Riding Club Arena west of town. Leo Thompson and Mrs. Charles Wood will be in charge of this year's show.

Also, May 27-30 the Riding Club will be sponsoring a junior rodeo which is approved by the American Junior Rodeo Association. Red Whitley, Crosbyton, will furnish the stock for the show.

There will be a big rodeo parade through downtown Colorado City beginning at 6:00 p.m. on Wednesday, May 27. Trophies will be awarded to the top sheriff's posse and riding club in the parade.

Injured Officer Back On Duty

Police Sgt. Don Thorpe returned to duty Wednesday, apparently fully recovered from a wound he sustained in an unsolved shooting incident the morning of April 27.

Thorpe said he had been shot by two young Negro men he had stopped near the KHEM radio facilities on IS 20.

He gave a full description of the men and their automobile, but an area-wide search failed to find the suspects. A state-wide records investigation also failed to net the assailants.

Thorpe was shot once through the upper part of his left arm by what appeared to be .38 caliber bullet. Thorpe reported that three shots were fired at him by one of the men, but none of the slugs was recovered.

Tuttle Elected Bar President

Charles Tuttle, attorney for Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., was elected president of the Howard County Bar Association at a business meeting in the Elk's Club Thursday afternoon.

The 15 lawyers present also elected Wayne Basden, local attorney, vice president; and Herbert L. Prouty, city attorney, secretary-treasurer of the HCBA.

Summer School Plans Slated

A summer reading and math program has been announced by the Big Spring Independent School District, to be held from June 2 through July 10 at Moss Elementary School.

The program is designed to help youngsters who have had difficulty and need extra help with reading and math. Students are asked to register with their school principals; out of town students may register at the Administration office. Those who do not pre-register may sign up between 9-11:30 a.m. June 2.

Tuition fee is $30 per subject, and classes will be held for two hours in the mornings. Parents who want additional information may contact Mrs. Rogers Hefley, 7-8245.

Pledges Are Being Received

The Big Spring Industrial Foundation had received this morning more than $10,300 in response to a call for pledges issued after International Technovation Corp. signed to establish a plant here Wednesday.

Foundation President Don Womack said the organization had asked that members donate one-third of their total pledges to help get new industry to begin development at the site.

He said the donations so far are essentially voluntary, since the official call for pledges was delivered to each member by mail this morning. About $72,000 has been called for in this initial effort. Pledges amounted to more than $200,000.

Woman Injured

A Big Spring woman was treated and released in Big Lake this morning after she was injured in a one-car accident one mile south of Big Lake. Mrs. LaVerne Taylor, 607 Gollad, received lacerations and bruises when her car flipped over as a result of a tire blow out. The car was reported as a total loss.

Annual Reunion Set For July 31

Date for the annual Howard-Glasscock Counties Old Settlers Reunion has been fixed formally on the traditional date of the fourth Friday in July — this year on July 31.

Jess Slaughter, president, said that donations toward the barbecue fund and other expenses of the old timers get-together are needed. He asked that these be mailed to him at P.O. Box 188.

The reunion is held in the Old Settlers pavilion at the Comanche Trails Park and usually features a barbecue meal, visitation, fiddle music, etc.

The 35th mid-year meeting concluded today of the Institute's division of refining, and six other men received awards by committees and sub-committees of the division. There are in recognition of outstanding service to the committee and the Institute. The meeting was held in the Rice Hotel.

Larry G. Perkins, Rites Saturday

Funeral will be held Saturday at 3 p.m. in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for Larry Gene Perkins, who died at his home Thursday. Paul Keele, of the Marcy Drive Church of Christ, will officiate, assisted by Claude Woods, of the Stanton Church of Christ. Burial will be in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Survivors include his mother, a sister, his paternal grandmother, and several aunts and uncles.

Pallbearers will include Craig Powell, Mark Powell, Mike Brumley, Ricky Vinson, Kevin Keele and Harold Cagle.

Paul D. Davis, Funeral Held

Last rites were to be held at 3 p.m. today for Paul D. (Dee) Davis, 67, who died here Wednesday evening. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian minister, assisted by the Rev. Harland Birdwell, St. Mary's Episcopal rector, officiated and burial was to be in Trinity Memorial Park beside the grave of his wife, Margaret, who died in 1958. Mr. Davis had lived here since 1904 and was a farmer-rancher.

Survivors include his son, Dee Jon Davis; a sister, Mrs. Josie

E. L. Helwig, Funeral Today

Funeral was held today at 2 p.m. in the Nalley-Pickle Rosewood Chapel for E. L. Helwig, who died Tuesday. Burial was in St. Lawrence Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, four sons, one daughter, two brothers, two sisters, and three grandchildren. Included Alfred Schwartz, George Schwartz, Charles Jurocek, A. C. Hoelcher, Florence Wilde and M. A. Braden.

Rites Today For Reuther

DETROIT (AP) — Leaders of industry and government join those of labor today at funeral rites for Walter P. Reuther, 24-year president of 1.6 million United Auto Workers, and his wife May.

The Reuthers and four others died in the crash of a union-chartered jet on a trip to northern Lower Michigan last Saturday.

The setting for the double funeral was Detroit's Ford Auditorium, a Civic Center showpiece and a gift from the automotive family.

The grained oak caskets rested parallel and alone on the huge stage, a golden curtain and flowers forming a backdrop. No funeral procession was planned. The bodies were to be cremated.

Loudspeakers were set up to carry the rites to those who gathered outside.

Several UAW local unions across the country arranged for closed-circuit television and announced membership meetings to coincide with the funeral, which meant closing plants where they worked.

All U.S. and Canadian plants of General Motors, Ford, Chrysler and American Motors, and some of the aerospace and agricultural implement industries, already had arranged to shut down for three minutes of silence out of respect for Reuther's memory.

Key Club Award Given To Hoover

The Garland Helton Service Award of the Key Club was presented Thursday evening to Robin Hoover, out-going vice president of the organization. The award, honoring the late Garland Helton who was one of the founding sponsors of the club, is for club and general school service and leadership. Robin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoover.

New officers installed at the parents night affair at Cosden Country Club were Louis Dunnam, president; Brad Cederberg, vice president; Sammy Chappell, second vice president; Ricky Simpson, treasurer; Allen Hill, secretary, and Brent Clifton, reporter.

Retiring officers recognized were Jeff Talmadge, who becomes the incoming district lieutenant governor; Robin Hoover and Bobby Walker, vice presidents; Joe Moss, secretary; Arthur Torres, treasurer.

Speaker for the evening was L. K. (Clegg) Gladden, and Ben Bancroft, Kiwanis Club chairman for Key Club sponsorship, presented Talmadge the flag of office.

Scott Rogers, Midland, present lieutenant governor, headed a group from his Key Club on an inter-club visit. Charles Burnsed is co-faculty sponsor for the club.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have been engaged to a wonderful girl for over a year. A week ago I called on her unexpectedly, and to my surprise, she refused to see me, and told me to come back in half an hour. She explained later that she wanted time to put her make-up on. We plan to get married soon. Abby, I love her with or without make-up. Why won't she let me see her like she really is?

ROME, ITALY
DEAR ROME: Before the honeymoon, most girls "make-up" and kiss. After the honeymoon they kiss and make-up. Don't pout. You'll see her "like she really is" soon enough.

DEAR ABBY: My husband had a birthday last week and the children and I spent the afternoon baking and decorating a birthday cake for him. When he came home that evening he told us he had already had a birthday party at the office. The children looked so hurt, and I was mad!

It seems the "girls" in his office took it upon themselves to give him a birthday party with cake and ice cream and all the trimmings.

If they want their boss to know they "remembered" him on his birthday, why don't they just buy him a nice card and have everybody sign it?

Do you think I am making too much of this? And is there some way to stop this asinine practice?

HURT HURT: Yes, I think you are making "too much" of it, and there is NO way to stop this practice. (I wouldn't call it "asinine.") Your husband's "crime" wasn't eating his cake and having it, too. It was his lack of judgment in knowing that you're the kind of woman who might become upset over something like this, he should have kept his mouth shut and spared you the anguish.

Vote On Curbing Battle Funds Put Off In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration forces in the Senate, facing an uphill fight, say approval of restrictions on U.S. military spending in Indochina would cast doubt on President Nixon's judgment and credibility.

Republican Whip Robert P. Griffin of Michigan told newsmen Thursday Senate approval of the Church-Cooper amendment to bar further use of U.S. troops in Cambodia "would suggest the President doesn't mean what he says and that the Senate doesn't believe him."

DOORS CLOSED

"It appears to question his judgment. It appears to question his word as commander-in-chief," declared Sen. Robert J. Dole, R-Kan., in a floor speech.

Griffin and Dole made their comments as the administration sent a top-level three-man team to lobby at a closed-door meeting for the support of the 43-member GOP bloc.

Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, national security adviser Henry Kissinger and Undersecretary of State Elliot Richardson told the divided Republicans the administration vigorously opposes approval of any amendment appearing to tie the President's hands in Southeast Asia.

REACTION MIXED

Reaction to the session was mixed. Some senators came away saying Nixon seems bent on forcing a constitutional confrontation, but others said they saw no such prospects.

The floor debate, meanwhile, moved swiftly to the heart of the issue—the President's powers to protect U.S. troops whether Congress restricts funds or not.

Voting on the first in a series of amendments aimed at curbing funds was put off until next week at the earliest, probably Tuesday.

Republicans denied any intention to stall. But Griffin conceded to a newsman delay won't hurt administration efforts to defeat or water down the crucial Cooper-Church amendment to a $300-million foreign military sales bill.

Although Griffin would not comment, other GOP leaders said the amendment would carry on a straight up or down vote now.

The amendment, sponsored by Sens. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., and Frank Church, D-Idaho, would bar the use of funds for retaining U.S. troops in Cambodia after July 1 and would allow no money after that to support advisers or instructors for Cambodian troops or U.S. air support for Cambodian soldiers.

PRESIDENTIAL RIGHTS

"We're not trying to restrict the presidential rights. We're trying to exert some of our own," Church told the Senate.

"Do you agree that the President has the right to protect our forces?" asked Dole, who introduced an amendment that would bar funds except for this purpose.

"If the safety of American troops is really involved the President can make his case with Congress," Church said.

"If that is so, replied Dole, "the President must come to Congress to protect the lives of Americans who may be under attack at that very moment."

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., who introduced still another amendment that would bar Cambodian-like incursions into Laos and Red China, said the President can use the excuse of protecting American troops any time he wants whether it is actually true.

IT WAS STRANGE

"I thought it was strange that the President ordered the invasion of a foreign country with thousands of troops but said he wouldn't go farther than 20 miles," said Gore. "The tragic mistake was in crossing the border of that country."

The Cooper-Church proposal, tacked onto the sales bill in the Foreign Relations Committee, will be the last amendment voted on after a half-dozen or so weaker versions are offered as substitutes.

In New York, Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., said support is growing in the Senate for the antiwar measures.

Kennedy said at a news conference that 34 senators already support a proposed amendment co-sponsored by Sens. George McGovern, D-S.D., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore., to require withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam by mid-1971.

BRIDGE THE GAP

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott, meanwhile, was working on an amendment in another effort to bridge the gap between the administration and the antiwar forces.

He read the GOP caucus a version permitting the President to send U.S. troops to Cambodia to protect American forces in Vietnam "after consultation with appropriate committees of Congress." But he later was considering changing that to include consultation with leaders of both political parties in Congress.

Scott called a Monday meeting of Republican senators to go over the matter.

The Foreign Relations Committee meantime, heard Ellsworth Bunker, ambassador to Vietnam, disclose the United States has shipped 7,200 U.S. M2 carbines to Cambodia in addition to 6,000 Soviet AK47 rifles captured in battle.

Administration Is Convinced Economic Policies Working

WASHINGTON (AP) — The newest government statistics paint a picture of gloom, a full-fledged economic slowdown not at the crisis stage but still troublesome.

Despite the uncontradicted negative figures indicating lower profits and higher prices, the Nixon administration remains publicly convinced its policies are working and business will start upward sometime between June and December.

"We're traveling a narrow path between recession and inflation," Arthur F. Burns, the Federal Reserve Board chairman, told Congress Thursday.

Although not an official member of the administration, Burns was President Nixon's chief domestic adviser until January and now is as responsible as any other individual for the health of the money and credit systems.

These were the developments Thursday, a day heavy with economic news:

—The Commerce Department said prices during January, February and March rose at an annual rate of 5 1/4 per cent, a quarter of a point higher than its earlier estimate. With the recent 6 per cent federal pay raise figured in, the increase was 6 1/4 per cent, highest since the Korean war.

At the same time, actual production dropped 3 per cent, the largest since the 1960 recession, instead of the 1 1/2 per cent listed in preliminary figures.

—Output of the nation's factories dropped almost one-half of one per cent during April to 170.4 per cent of the 1957-59 benchmark. It reversed a similar March increase and continued a general slide that began last August.

—The stock market dropped 9.05 points, bringing the bellwether Dow-Jones industrial average to 684.79, the lowest in more than seven years.

The market has slid almost 40 points since April 28, when President Nixon assured a group of visiting businessmen, "Frankly, if I had any money, I'd be buying stocks right now."

Asked Thursday at a news briefing if Nixon still stood by that, Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler smiled, took a sip of coffee, and went on to the next question.

—Personal income gained a record $17.8 billion during April, due entirely to the Social Security and federal pay increases.

Private wages and salaries declined $1.5 billion, at an annual rate after seasonal adjustment.

—To the surprise of almost no one, corporate profits dipped $6 1/4 billion to an annual rate of $85 billion during the first quarter. As a result, corporations' tax liability fell $3 1/4 billion, giving strength to administration fears the current fiscal year—ending next month—may produce a budget deficit.

—The balance of payments took a sharp turn for the worse in the first quarter, with all international transactions, showing a deficit of $1.73 billion after a $532 million surplus in the October-December quarter last year.

Government economists said the figures weren't unexpected. Treasury Undersecretary Charles E. Walker said the figures "would not indicate to me that the picture was any different from yesterday before the figures came out."

And Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, speaking in Utah, said he saw signs "that the worst may be over."

HUD Will Help Twister Victims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Housing Administration is making several hundred homes available for persons whose homes were caught in the tornado that ripped the city Monday night, according to Rep. George M. Mahon, D-Tex.

Representatives of the Fort Worth office of the Department of Housing and Urban Development are now in Lubbock making arrangements following authorization by George Romney secretary of HUD.

Most of the vacant homes are foreclosed properties and are being made ready for occupancy at the present time, Mahon said.

KIDNAP COPS SUSPECT Posse Nabs Texas Gunman In Florida

INVERNESS, Fla. (AP) — A 100-man posse of policemen, combing Levy County swamp-land with the aid of blood hounds, captured early today a young Texas gunman who allegedly abducted two policemen and an elderly couple.

Robert L. Baldwin, 23, of Nederland, Tex., was spotted by two Marion County sheriff's deputies as he walked across a railroad trestle over the Wacacassa River two miles from U.S. Highway 19.

The deputies, Towles Bigelow and Martin Stevens, said they ordered Baldwin to lie down. He followed their orders and the officers said they found two .38-caliber pistols on him.

Thursday afternoon, Baldwin allegedly forced Finess Knapp, 66, and his 71-year-old wife to drive him from their home in New Port Richey to Inverness, about 100 miles north of Tampa.

Knapp said Baldwin told them to get out of the car in a wooded area near Inverness.

Baldwin drove away and later fled on foot into the jungled 130,000-acre Gulf Hammock wildlife preserve after policemen forced the car off the road.

The manhunt for Baldwin began in Pinellas County Wednesday night after he drew a gun and captured two officers who stopped him for questioning in Tarpon Springs, police said.

The Pinellas County Sheriff's Department said Baldwin forced the officers to drive their police cruiser down a lonely road near Lake Tarpon. He handcuffed the policemen in the back seat of the cruiser after it bogged down in deep sand then fled on foot, deputies said.

The four-county manhunt shifted to the Inverness area after the Levys hitched a ride to the Citrus County Sheriff's office and told their story.

Baldwin is wanted in Nederland on a missing car charge and also is wanted on a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, police said.

Opening lead: Four of ♦

A resourceful play at trick one by South, declarer at four hearts, netted a substantial profit for him on the deal when it led to the development of a vital 10th trick.

The bidding was routine and West opened fire with the four of diamonds. With scarcely a flicker, declarer played the three from dummy and East put up the queen which held the trick. A spade was returned and ducked in the closed hand. West was in with the queen and continued the suit. East covered North's ten with the jack which dislodged South's ace.

Declarer led a diamond and put in the ten from dummy. East won the trick with the ace and the king of spades was returned and ruffed by North with the deuce of hearts. The king of diamonds was cashed and South discarded his remaining spade.

The six of hearts was led, East followed with the seven and declarer put in the ten. When the finesse succeeded, he continued with the king and ace of hearts to draw the remaining trump, and the rest of the tricks were his. In all South lost one spade and two diamonds.

Observe that if declarer plays the ten of diamonds from dummy on the opening lead, he is unable subsequently to develop a trick for himself in that suit, and is left with a losing spade at the end.

East can counter South's strategy by putting in the seven of diamonds after dummy has played the three, but to do so would lay him open to the charge of having peeked into the declarer's hand. If South has either the eight, nine or jack of diamonds instead of West, then East would be surrendering a trick by failing to put up the queen.

There's another Texas in Texas.

It's a Texas that doesn't make the headlines. These Trail maps will guide you there. To quiet adventures that lie far off the expressways. In old-world towns where the fragrance of baking kolaches invites you to linger. Or deep forests, serene and silent. Or lakes where giant bass challenge your skill. Or abandoned forts where ghostly bugles blow retreat at sundown.

This is Texas for the explorer in you. And our Trail folders include detailed maps, interesting highlights and the location of parks and recreation areas in these away-from-it-all places. Pick your Trail and discover a Texas that the casual tourist seldom sees.

of rude awakenings before she finally settled into a Manhattan advertising job. Ginny Schultz, 31, right, shown in her apartment, also in Queens, was at first bewildered about how to get a job but managed to get one as a supervisor of teachers in Manhattan. (AP Wirephoto)

Ex-Nuns Face New World When They Shed Habits

By DEE WEDEMYER
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — When they leave their old world for a new, it is a shock, like Rip Van Winkle awakening.

There are so many adjustments to make that people on the outside take for granted—dress, money, dating, even makeup.

They are the ex-nuns. An estimated 8,000 left the religious life alone last year to rejoin the secular world of their generation.

One of them is Barbara Kane. Before she had been simply Sister Matthew Maureen.

Her first job was the routine of applying for a job.

"I thought what am I getting myself into," said Barbara, 27, who found interviews were just the beginning of a series of rude awakenings she would have before settling into a Manhattan advertising job and a Queens apartment.

"I wrote my friends and told them they should have practiced a few four letter words on me."

Dating proved no problem. Barbara, a plain but friendly blonde, who was in orders eight years, quickly learned dance steps. But it took her about 11 hours to learn to apply eyeliner.

Then there were "dating" bars. She found that scene too desperate and awkward when asked the standard, "Who do you know?" and "Where have you been?"

Barbara didn't want to lie about her past, but she didn't want to advertise it either.

"They start asking what you did last summer and when you went to Europe last," she said. "You get worn out trying to tell the truth and not tell the truth."

Another ex-nun, Ginny Schultz, 31, a former Dominican sister, was given $300 by her order and $100 by a relative.

Totally bewildered about how to write a resume or get a job, she went to Incarings for Reestablishment, Inc., an organization that aids about 1,500 former nuns and priests each year with job counseling and social rehabilitation.

"It's a strange sensation to go out on a job interview selling yourself," said Ginny, a nun 13 years.

Although she was a qualified teacher, her first job was as a $110-a-week secretary to pay her apartment deposit.

She has since found a $10,500-job as supervisor of teachers at a large Manhattan association for the handicapped but her Bronx studio apartment is still only partially furnished.

Ironically Ginny said, one of her main problems has been adjusting to poverty.

"My standard of living was a lot higher when I was in the convent but everything is relative. For example, I could never have had a bright yellow chair in the convent." Now she does in her apartment.

She also spent $100 at a discount store for her wardrobe. And now, like many other women, she has found her tastes have changed.

"Getting clothes wasn't as difficult as trying to decide what I liked," she said.

Barbara still attends Mass regularly. Ginny has stopped going. Barbara says she would consider birth control if she married. Ginny would not hesitate to practice it and furthermore states emphatically she would not rear her children in the same strict Catholic manner in which she was reared.

"I consider myself a good Catholic but I would not put my children through the same brainwashing process I went through," said Ginny.

Barbara harbors no animosity toward the order or the years she spent there. She thinks it is a fine vocation for some people, just not her.

"I don't think I was unhappy as a sister," she said. "I'm just freer as a person and I represent myself now."

Ginny cites internal politics and philosophical differences as her reasons for leaving.

Presbyterians Discuss Future

More than 600 Presbyterian U.S. ministers and laymen from all over Texas will meet in Sherman next week for the 15th annual Synod of Texas, to discuss the denomination's future.

Attending from this area will be Dr. and Mrs. R. Gage Lloyd, and Dr. and Mrs. Preston Harrison from First Church, Big Spring. Rev. Dan Sebesta and Elder, Charles Dobbs of St. Paul, and Rev. David Northcutt and Elder, Bill Best, Coahoma, and Rev. John C. Parse of Colorado City.

Increased cooperation with the United Presbyterian Church in the USA and continued concern for the disadvantaged and minorities in Texas will be the subjects of many of the recommendations before the Synod.

Outgoing moderator John Minter, pastor of University Presbyterian Church, Houston, will preach the moderator's sermon Tuesday. The Rev. Minter, who is pastor of an interracial church and part-time campus pastor on the campus of Texas Southern University, will speak on "God and His Vocal Minority," using a text from Isaiah 42:6-7, which says in part, "I have called you . . . to be a light to all peoples . . . to open eyes that are blind . . ."

Retiring executive secretary of the Synod of Texas, Eugene A. Dean, will be honored with a reception at the home of Austin College president John D. Moseley on Wednesday evening. Dean, who has been Synod's executive for 22 years, is moving to Atlanta, Ga., to become executive director of the denomination's official publication, the Presbyterian Survey.

The Rev. James M. Campbell, associate executive secretary, has been nominated to serve as interim executive secretary until a new executive is found.

Rev. and Mrs. R. Matthew Lynn will also be honored at the reception. Dr. Lynn, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Midland, is now serving as moderator of the General Assembly (highest court) of the Presbyterian Church U.S.

Speakers during the meeting of Synod include Burton G. Hackney, Commissioner of Public Welfare of the State of Texas, who will bring the commissioners up to date on the welfare needs in Texas; Louis W. Adams, Presbyterian chaplain of the State Department of Corrections, Ramsay Unit; and representatives of Austin College, who will both lead worship during four periods, and give the Synod a report on the progress and goals of the college.

Missionary Gives Program On Japan

Ruth E. Rawlings, missionary to Japan for the Church of the Nazarene, will present a slide program on progressive Japan and the opportunities and challenge of evangelism Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Miss Rawlings and E. Wages Lankford, pastor of the Big Spring Church of the Nazarene, 1400 Lancaster, attended high school together in Hennessey.

RUTH RAWLINGS

BURMA BIBLES
SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP) — The Assemblies of God, an evangelical denomination, has launched a $50,000 fund-raising project to supply Bibles for Burma, a Buddhist country closed to Christian missionaries since 1966.

Okla., and college at Bethany Nazarene College.

She is home on her first furlough since being assigned to Japan in 1965. After two years of language study in Karuzawa, Japan, she was sent to Chiba, Japan, to teach English and linguistics in Japan Nazarene College.

She taught Bible classes and helped with music in the local churches. She also lectured at seminars for junior high and high school English teachers throughout the prefecture.

Miss Rawlings was born in Oklahoma City and is a graduate of Hennessey High School. She received her A.B. degree in speech from Bethany Nazarene College and her master's in college education from the University of Oklahoma at Norman. She has also studied English at Northwest State College.

She studied Japanese for two years at the University of Washington, Seattle. Prior to her assignment to the mission field, she taught English and music at Boys' State Training School, Helena High School, Helena, Okla., and taught English at Dodge City Junior College, Dodge City, Kan.

While on furlough, Miss Rawlings is living in Tahoka where her father, the Rev. E. A. Rawlings, is pastor of the Grassland Church of the Nazarene.

Select The Church Of Your Choice And Be Faithful In Your Attendance

"Too good to believe!" Sometimes we receive news so joyous that we are almost afraid to accept it — the birth of a child, a crisis past, a successful business venture. Yet the greatest good news that can be ours, we often take for granted and lose the profound joy of it.

What if we had never heard the message which the Christian Church proclaims? What if we knew nothing of a Saviour who died that all men might be forgiven, who gives us the assurance of everlasting life!

If this good news were revealed to us suddenly, we might well say, "It's so good that it's hard to believe." But it has been verified by countless millions of believers in all lands, through many generations. We accept it in our own hearts, and the confirmation becomes personal.

We know, then, that in the Christian Church we hear the best news that has ever come to the human race.

Seniors Test Mettle Of Steers Saturday

Along about 9 a.m. Saturday group will have their starting offensive unit practically intact. Only the late Dave Thomas, an all-district performer, will be missing. Playing under game conditions means that each team will have the ball for four downs only, unless they get a down renewal. In case they fail to make the yardage, the ball will be put 30 yards downfield and given to the opposition. No punting or kicking off will take place, however.

The high school coaches will probably play as many as three units against the seniors. The first unit will probably play the opening period, the alternate club the second quarter. Later on, the teams will be mixed up to see how they fare.

The seniors won't be caught napping. Most have been working out and in Gary Hinds will have an able, battle-wise quarterback.

Dave Duncan and Mike Adams will share the chore of directing the 1970 team's attack.

The flu bug has hit the Steers a low blow. Lineman Steve Rich has been hospitalized for some time now. Pink Dickens and Joe Pesina returned to camp only Thursday after spending several days in sick bay.

James Pearce had intestinal flu and later developed an infection after stepping on the scales of a dead catfish. He suffered a gash between his toes and the infection set in almost immediately.

The Steers were sluggish Tuesday but snapped back with a good workout Wednesday and coach Clovis Hale said he was highly pleased with the improvement the team had shown.

The Steer squad will be divided about next Wednesday for the annual spring game, which will be unreeled a week from tonight in Memorial Stadium. The coaches will split up the boys and Duncan will serve as navigator of one team and Adams the other.

Sponsor of the game will be the Quarterback Club, which will use proceeds to finance operations into the fall. Actually two games are scheduled Friday night, because the freshmen will square off for a contest around 5 p.m.

Morton's Tips Reed's, 5-4

Morton's Foods rallied for runs in each of the last three innings to edge Bill Reed Insurance, 5-4, in City Softball League play here Thursday night.

The Reed's team was short one man. However, the Insurors outthrew the Morton team, 10-7, Francis Johns collecting three safeties for the losers.

Jimmy Roger's home run in the sixth tied the score for Morton's. In the seventh, Dan Turner singled and scored the winning run for Morton's.

The Merchants plastered a 15-4 defeat on Neel's Transfer in the second contest.

Kenny Strickland highlighted a six-run outburst for the winners in the seventh with a home run.

Jim Ward, on the mound for the Merchants, parceled out only five hits and was never in trouble after a first inning that saw Neel's count three of its runs.

Every man in the Merchants' starting lineup hit safely at least once. Charles Burdette had three blows for the winners.

Marichal Is Given Rough Reception

Just when the San Francisco Giants figured things couldn't get much worse, guess what happened. They did. The Giants opened a series in Los Angeles Thursday night with slugger first baseman Willie McCovey (10 homers, 32 RBI) doubtful for the entire four-game set with a lingering minor eye ailment and a sore shoulder, to boot.

Then, the Dodgers shelled ace right-hander Juan Marichal with a five-run third inning, boosting his earned run average to a whopping 6.94.

In the fifth, catcher Dick Dietz was struck on the left foot by a foul ball and had to take his .375 batting average and league-leading 35 RBI to the sidelines.

SANDY TO HILL
To top it all off, the Dodgers sent a pitcher named Sandy to the mound and the result was a 6-3 triumph. That was one of only four games in the majors Thursday. Elsewhere in the National League, Houston defeated San Diego 3-1 and St. Louis outslugged Pittsburgh 11-7. The New York Mets-Chicago Cubs and Montreal-Philadelphia games were rained out.

Minnesota turned back Kansas City 5-2 in the only scheduled American League action. Marichal, 1-1, was staked to a 1-0 lead in the first inning on Bobby Bonds' single. Don Mason's double and a sacrifice fly by Willie Mays, who was playing first in place of McCovey.

But the Dodgers erupted in the third. Singles by Maury Wills and Manny Mota put runners on second and third, Mota taking second on the throw. Willie Davis singled them both home, stole second, went to third on Wes Parker's infield hit and scored on Willie Crawford's

Gold Rush '70 Theme Evident At QBC Party

A spring banquet honoring athletes engaged in winter and spring sports, staged under the auspices of the Quarterback Club in the High School Cafeteria Thursday evening, attracted so big a crowd additional tables had to be prepared.

The "Gold Rush '70" theme was tastefully carried out by co-captains Paul Shaffer and Harroll Jones and their many co-workers. Perhaps the biggest surprise of the evening was the brevity of the program — it lasted only an hour and 40 minutes. Invariably, a program of this type endures upwards to two and a half hours.

The head coaches in each sport were introduced and they, in turn, introduced each athlete in their program but that part of the ceremony came off most effectively.

R. H. Weaver served as master of ceremonies and, together with Shaffer and Jones, kept the program moving at a fast clip. Chief speaker of the evening was famed Randy Matson, the world champion shot putter from Texas A&M by way of Pampa and Houston. He was introduced by Shaffer.

Matson favorably compared Big Spring with his own home town and cited advantages in growing up in a small community.

Randy pointed out there isn't much enthusiasm for a high school athletic program in a place like Houston, mainly because "the parents don't get involved."

The Olympic titlist, who revealed he would try to qualify for the 1972 U.S. team in Munich, Germany, said the crowd Thursday night was the biggest he'd seen anywhere at a spring banquet.

Randy also traced his career from the time he was first named student manager of the Pampa High School track team and said one of his biggest thrills was in getting to represent the U.S. in a track meet in Moscow on the strength of what he had done as a high school performer.

The first annual Obie Bristow award, named for a former coach of BSHS, was presented to Jimmy Farris for all-around athletic excellence by Tommy Hutto, a brother-in-law to the late Obie, acting on behalf of his sister.

The ritual followed a brief eulogy on Bristow delivered by Dr. Howard Schwarzenbach, who once played under Obie. Swartz said Obie was the finest man he had ever known. Hutto echoed his sentiments and Weaver also paid warm tribute to the man's memory.

The trophies which went to the various athletes in the spring and winter sports were donated by GAMCO, Tate-Bristow and Parks Insurance, First National Bank, Security State Bank, State National Bank, R&R Theatres and Texas Electric Service Company. They will be rotating awards.

Colts Win, 10-7, Over Scotties

The Colts made it two wins, compared to three defeats and a tie, by defeating the Scotties, 10-7, in National Minor Little League play Thursday.

Ricky Moore, working in two innings of relief, received credit for the victory.

First baseman Billy Yockers had two of the winners' 11 hits. The Scotties failed to connect safely. They are now also 2-3-1.

UP BY 22.4 PER CENT Sunland Betting Shows Big Gain

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Sharp increases in both wagering and attendance were recorded at Sunland Park. The daily handle for the '69-'70 seasons reached $151,212, which is a hike of 22.4 per cent over the '68-'69 meeting. The daily attendance for both the fall and spring meetings reached 2,613, up 13.6 per cent over the '68-'69 seasons.

In comparing the spring meeting with the spring portion of the '68-'69 seasons, the daily wagering showed a boost of 16.9 per cent, while the daily attendance was up 18.1 per cent.

Total wagering for the spring meeting was $8,447,233; for both the fall and spring sessions, the figure reached $12,550,616.

Riley Gilbert's Rag Tag Circus, hero of the El Paso and Sunland Park Handicaps, has been awarded the spring meeting's highest honor, that of Horse Of The Meet.

In addition to the supreme honor, Rag Tag Circus was also named the meeting's Best Handicap Horse and Best Router.

To the surprise of no one, William Burns' locally unbeaten Fast Gas was accorded almost unanimous acclaim as the Best Three-Year-Old and Best Three-Year-Old Colt or Gelding. He also out-pointed several older rivals to be named Best Sprinter.

"Filly honors went to Scharbauer and Durham's Lady Meda, the Sunland Derby second behind New Kameha King. The Sir Ribot filly was also runner-up to Fast Gas the only time the two met, that coming in the six furlong Santa Fe Handicap.

J. H. Rose's Randis Joy, a five-length victor in the Riley Allison Futurity, was selected as Best Two-Year-Old Thoroughbred.

Allan Wisenbaker's Cobre, who began the 1970 campaign with a victory over $2,500 opposition, then later started in the Sunland Handicap, was voted the most improved horse. The big gray gelding also took down honors as the Best Claimer, winning five times for tags ranging from $2,500 to a pair of scores for $7,500.

In mixed competition, the 870-yard crown proved to be a tight battle between the quarter horse Mona's Ben Jay and Battle Scout, who was also a nominee for Best Sprinter. The latter, owned by Daniel Hooper, received the honor after winning two of his three tries over the distance.

The older quarter horse championship went to Hugh Preston's Jolly Jet Deck, winner of the Open To The World 400 and holder of Sunland's 400-yard track mark. The swift mare also held the 350-yard record for a short time before it was lowered by Le Etta Chicks who subsequently fell to Jolly Jet Deck in the Open-To-The-World.

The Spring Quarter Horse Futurity victress, Lincoln Land Farm's Carlotta 2, was named Best Two-Year-Old Quarter Horse. The speedy miss defeated a powerful throng of male rivals in winning the $75,300 event, richest ever carded at Sunland Park.

Richard Strauss and Paul A. Smith are the jockey and trainer champions of the 1969-70 seasons.

Strauss, who started the twin seasons as an apprentice, ended up with 104 victories in 598 trips to the post. The win total put him in sixth place in all-time Sunland jockey standings.

Smith captured the trainer championship — for the third straight time. Smith saddled 241 horses, winding up with 41 winners, 30 seconds and 26 thirds. He ended the 83-day statistics with a four-win bulge over his nearest rival.

Both Strauss and Smith earned the championship award of a $400 U.S. Savings Bond.

The Steers were sluggish Tuesday but snapped back with a good workout Wednesday and coach Clovis Hale said he was highly pleased with the improvement the team had shown.

The Steer squad will be divided about next Wednesday for the annual spring game, which will be unreeled a week from tonight in Memorial Stadium. The coaches will split up the boys and Duncan will serve as navigator of one team and Adams the other.

Sponsor of the game will be the Quarterback Club, which will use proceeds to finance operations into the fall. Actually two games are scheduled Friday night, because the freshmen will square off for a contest around 5 p.m.

Randy Matson, who fulfilled a speaking engagement here this week, was committed to appear in the Fresno Relays in California last week before officials had second thoughts about the cinder shoe and called it off.

The campus unrest has everyone jittery and the Fresno people decided to take no chances.

Gordon (Moe) Madison, who grew up here and took part in athletics throughout his high school days, would return to basketball coaching if the right opportunity came along.

Madison, now a resident of Odessa and a teacher in the school system there, coached the game at Ector until back miseries forced him to quit a couple of years ago.

He says from Nov. 15 until Feb. 15 he truly misses coaching. Moe was a second generation footballer for the local high school. His father, the late Carl Madison, was a speedy back on some of the teams in the 1920's here, when the high school used the old T & P baseball diamond just off West Third and Lancaster streets.

Sluggler Frank Robinson is one who takes issue with Negro militant Jackie Robinson for urging Negro players to become more active in the civil rights movement.

Kenneth Lunsford, the state game warden assigned to this area, says the two most common violations with which he has to cope pertain to water safety in the summer months and shooting firearms from the confines of a right-away at other times.

Guilty parties no longer get a lecture in either cause. The game department learned through sad experience that people gently chided for a violation usually don't correct the shortcoming. They invariably act immediately to remedy the problem, however, once they're hauled into court.

Not too long ago, Lunsford charged three boys who were shooting at beer bottles down IS 20 with a 30.30 weapon. They said they weren't aware of the law. The fine for that violation is now $50.

During the past NBA season, Westley Unseld of the Baltimore Bullets pulled down 1,370 rebounds. In addition, he averaged 16.2 points a game. Neither feat got the attention it deserved mainly because Baltimore was off its feed in the pennant race.

At least one of the schools in District 3-AAAA has been plagued by a few athletes who have admitted to the use of marijuana. A veteran narcotics man says every high school of any size in the nation has had complaints against students sampling the drug.

Mario Eyes Good Start

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—Little Mario Andretti was back in action at the Indianapolis Speedway today, aiming for at least a front row shot at the Rich Memorial Day racing classic he won a year ago.

The 5-foot-4 Andretti, returning with another new car to replace the one he wrecked earlier in the week, joined other drivers in a final day of shake downs leading to Saturday's run for the 500 pole position.

The conditions under which they were to work today were not expected to be ideal, however. An overnight rain left the famed old Speedway soggy and almost certainly slower. Furthermore, weather forecasters said more showers likely would fall during the day.

The 33-car field, representing the fastest cars in an original entry list of more than 70, will be determined in two weekends of qualifying. The fastest car in Saturday's first round wins the pole, worth $10,000, and goes of prestige.

Joe Leonard, one of several threats to cop the honors this year, holds the one and four-lap records of 171.953 and 170.559 miles per hour, respectively. Most observers believe both marks will fall, and even Leonard has predicted a pole speed of 173.4 m.p.h.

Al Unser, who missed last year's race after breaking a leg in a garage area accident, has come the closest to Leonard's single-lap standard in practice.

The 31-year-old brother of 1969 winner Bobby Unser was clocked at 171.233 m.p.h. earlier in the week and came back Thursday to put 170.295 on his chart in his Vels-Parnell Jones Ford. Before today's final practice he was the only driver to exceed 170 m.p.h. but others have come close.

Andretti, 30, demolished his German-built McNamara Ford in a collision with the fourth turn wall Monday. Only the engine and transmission were salvaged and these were put into a new chassis.

Player A Help To Lee

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Lee Trevino paid tribute to Gary Player after tying the little South African for the first round lead in the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

"It always helps to play behind Gary," the quick-quipping Mexican-American said Thursday. "He does such a wonderful job repairing the greens. He's out there tamping down every spike mark on every green."

"Why, that little man is bent over so much he looks like he's planting corn."

Trevino and Player, the top two money winners this year, matched 66, four-under-par and led the massive assault on the proud old Colonial Country Club course.

In all, a record 27 players bettered par 60 on the 7,142-yard layout, breaking the previous record of 20.

Among them was the limping little figure of Ben Hogan, a five-time winner of this event and playing in his home town. He birdied the 16th and 17th for a 69, well along the leaders.

"It's always tough to play in your hometown," the 57-year-old master said.

Most of the leaders said the demanding layout played easier than in the past, citing the relatively short rough in particular. But both Player and Trevino had a different idea.

"I don't know of a better or tougher golf course in the world," said the globe-trotting Player. "It has everything a good golf course should have. It's an ideal course."

"I've always said this is the hardest golf course I've ever played," said Trevino, the No. 1 money-winner this season and already a two-time champion.

"I think the changes have made it easier. But any course is easy when you're hitting the ball like I am."

He didn't miss a green, hitting his irons with rifle accuracy. But he and Player held only a one-stroke lead over a group of five at 67-Frank Beard, R.H. Sikes, Johnny Pratt, Gay Brewer and Bob Smith. Four more, Bruce Devlin, Jim Weichers, Terry Wilcox and Tom Shaw, were locked at 8.

Hoag of course, read the group at 69 that also included Bert Yancey, Gene Litter, Art Wain and Dave Stokton.

Jack Nicklaus had a 71. Defending champion Gardner Dickinson took a 73. A n o l d Palmer and Billy Casper are not competing.

Stanton Seeks Grid Mentor

STANTON — Bill Jennings, elevated to the head football coach job at Stanton High School about six weeks ago, has resigned to take a similar position at Kress High School, a District 3-A team.

Jennings said his wife would become a Home Economics teacher in the Kress system and the move would give him a chance to finish work toward his master's degree at West Texas State University. His contract extends for two years.

Jennings' departure leaves Stanton needing four coaches, including a head basketball mentor.

Bill's first assistant at Kress will be Gary Culpepper, formerly of Coahoma, who is now freshman coach at Grand Prairie. The two coached together at Dunwanville.

Kress basketball coach Randall Murray is remaining on the staff but another varsity aide will be added.

Kress lost its veteran coach, one-time Stanton mentor Leo Fields, recently. Fields is to become high school principal at Sudan. Leo had been at Kress a dozen years and last season guided the school to a 7-3 football record.

Farwell was the champion in Kress' district last year but Kress has some fine material returning. Jennings indicated he would also coach track at Kress.

Abilene Winner

ABILENE — Abilene High's Eagles rallied behind sophomore Clint Thomas' fifth-hit pitching to defeat Midland Lee, 4-0, here Thursday and even their District 3-AAAA playoff series at one game each.

The playoff winner will be determined in a 2 p.m. contest in Midland Saturday, with the winner advancing to bi-district.

Randy Prince, on the mound for Lee, yielded only two hits but his teammates wouldn't give him any mace support.

Shetland Sheep Dog Wins Local Obedience Trial

Seven local dogs were judged by Mrs. Roy G. Deel in a graduation obedience trial held by the Big Spring Kennel Club Tuesday night.

This trial represented the final lesson for the current class in Novice Dog Obedience Training.

High Scoring dog was a Shetland Sheepdog, (Taffy), owned by Lt. John Townsend, of Webb AFB. Finishing second was a German shepherd, (Dana), owned by Mrs. Iona Hardison.

Third place went to another German shepherd, (Tabitha), shown by Polly Mar, and fourth place went to Popper, a West Highland White Terrier, owned and handled by Mary Jane Wright.

Cruz Rios Spurs Giants To Win

The all-around play of Cruz Rios spurred the Giants to a 6-5 Texas Little League victory over the Indians Thursday night.

SHARA DEE HAMBRICK

KELLY GASKINS

Honor Students Named at Ackerly

A high school grade average of 97.32 earned Shara Dee Hambrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hambrick, Ackerly, the title of valedictorian of the Sands High School Class of 1970, graduating Tuesday.

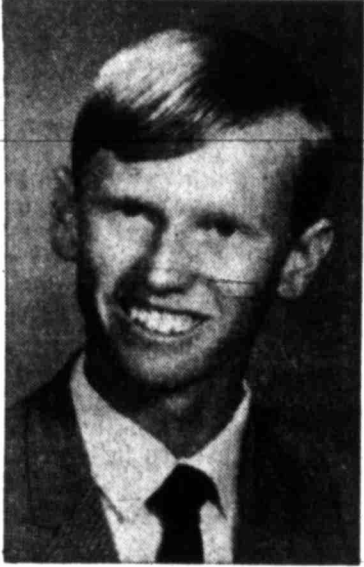

Robert Herren, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Herren, was named salutatorian with a grade average of 93.0—and Kelly Gaskins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Mac Gaskins, was named third highest with an average of 92.0.

Gaskins will deliver the class history during commencement Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Sands High School Auditorium. Speaker will be Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Big Spring.

Baccalaureate services are scheduled Sunday in the school auditorium with Wallace Bradberry, minister of the Ackerly Church of Christ, as speaker.

Other honor graduates on the program for commencement at Sands are Patsy Davis, who will give the parting charge, and Steve Herm who will give the farewell to the seniors. Ushers will be Kay Smith, Carla Hunt, Eddie Newcomer and Gavino Rodriguez.

Miss Hambrick, as well as having the highest grade average in the class, has been active in all phases of extracurricular activities. She was a member of the basketball team, Beta Club, Future

ROBERT HERREN

Home makers and Student Council. She served as a class officer and was second runner-up in the state Journalism University Interscholastic League contests in feature writing.

Herren served as student council president, was a class officer and a member of the Beta Club, and played football and basketball.

Doctors' Group Seeks More Study On Hospital District

A dozen Big Spring physicians in a meeting Wednesday night agreed on a public announcement to recommend that the new county-wide hospital district project be brought before the local medical society, "where all of its ramifications can be studied."

The County Commissioners Court Monday voted to create a hospital district at the request of Medical Center Memorial Hospital. Spokesmen for this institution said the district would be a vehicle through which it could seek a Hill-Burton federal grant to help finance a major expansion to the hospital.

The doctors meeting Wednesday, associated with the three other hospitals in the city, said that, contrary to published reports, they had not been informed in advance of the proposed expansion program formulated by the County Hospital Authority; and that the report that no doctors had objected was also incorrect.

The physicians explained that they felt that the medical society should have a complete report on the project and be given details on all aspects of the County Authority proposal.

Soviet-Made Jets Downed

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli pilots claimed shooting down three Soviet-made Egyptian MIG jets in dogfights over the Suez Canal today.

By Israeli account, two MIG17s were shot down in morning battles over the blocked waterway and a MIG21 shortly after noon.

All three planes were seen falling in Egyptian territory, the military command said here.

The MIG21 had "attempted to interfere" when Israeli planes were on a bombing and strafing mission against Egyptian military targets along the central sector of the canal, a spokesman said.

It was the second Israeli raid of the day and followed two Egyptian strikes.

All Israeli aircraft returned safely, the spokesman said.

Israel started the action with a bombing and strafing attack on Egyptian military targets in the southern and central sectors of the 102-mile-long waterway.

Egyptian warplanes then struck back in the northern sector of the canal.

An hour later, according to the military command, Israeli planes intercepted attacking Egyptian MIG17s, shooting down two.

The military command said Israel suffered no casualties in the Egyptian raids.

In other action, the command said Geshur Hasiv, a kibbutz four miles south of the Lebanese border, was shelled from Lebanon during the night. Mortar shells also fell on border settlements at Yardenia and Kfar Rupim in the Beisan Valley.

The command said the Israelis returned the fire and sustained no casualties.

Israel announced Thursday that an Egyptian missile boat sank a 70-ton Israeli fishing trawler in Mediterranean waters not far from where the destroyer Elath was hit and sunk in 1967.

A military announcement said the fishing trawler Orit was hit Wednesday night 11.3 miles north of the occupied Sinai Peninsula. The four crewmen were reported missing. An announcement said the "chances of finding them are slim."

The Elath was hit on Oct. 21, 1967—also by ship-launched missiles—and 51 crewmen were killed when it sank.

Three days later the Israelis retaliated with a devastating raid on Port Suez oil installations.

The military announcement said the Orit was apparently hit by an Egyptian missile while fishing off the Bardawil lagoon in the Mediterranean. Explosions and flashes of light were heard and seen in the area.

Israeli search vessels found only pieces of the ship, a buoy and lifebelts.

In Amman, an El Fatah spokesman claimed its guerrilla forces Thursday fired rockets into the Israeli town of Beisan, south of the Sea of Galilee, scoring direct hits on a factory.

The spokesman also claimed Al Fatah commandos chased Israeli troops near the frontier in southern Lebanon and shelled settlements in upper Galilee "to prove that our forces control the area completely." He said an Israeli half-track and a truck were destroyed.

A strong Israeli task force of

Students Tour VA Hospital

Home economics students of Miss Helen Willard, Big Spring High School, toured the Veterans Administration Hospital at 1:30 p.m. today in connection with Hospital Week activities.

The students were shown the offices, dietetics, labs, recreational facilities, occupational and recreational therapy centers, dental equipment, pharmacy, barbershop, canteen and a representative ward and day-room.

About 28 students made the tour today, and approximately 30 will tour the VA Hospital.

Interest Rate Ceiling Vote

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — Voters will decide Saturday whether to remove a 5 per cent interest rate ceiling on unsold school bonds to allow partial sale for rebuilding Amarillo High School.

Two Former El Paso Cops Face 10 Charges

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Two former El Paso policemen charged with burglary and theft received five more indictments from the county grand jury Thursday, bringing to 10 the number of charges against them.

Fred Hatfield, 44, and William E. Crawford, 39, were freed on bond on a previous indictment before Thursday's action.

Hatfield was named in three counts charging theft of air compressors valued at more than $11,000 while a fourth indictment charged theft of an electric typewriter.

Crawford was named with Hatfield in one indictment charging theft of a compressor.

TCPC Seeking $8 Million More

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston school district administration and the Teacher Council for Professional Consultation, negotiating group for teachers, still are about $8 million apart in agreement on a 1970-71 salary schedule.

The administration's proposal would cost $87.7 million, TCP's $96.1 million.

The basic difference is the administration would pay less for experience gained outside the Houston district. TCPC wants all teachers paid the same for like experience, regardless of where earned.

Daughter Of Lana Whips Pot Charge

SAN FERNANDO, Calif. (AP) — Charges of marijuana possession have been dismissed against Cheryl Crane, 26-year-old daughter of actress Lana Turner.

Miss Crane and a friend, Maria Cebarrario, 26, were arrested last month by highway patrolmen who said they found pot, marijuana plants and marijuana cigarettes in their automobile.

Thursday, Municipal Court Judge William Drake ordered Miss Cebarrario held for arraignment in Superior Court and ruled there was insufficient evidence to prosecute Miss Crane.

Enrollment Holds

Enrollment at the end of last week for Big Spring schools was highly stable for so near the end of the school year. Elementary schools actually gained two in reaching 3,727, while secondary schools had a decline of three for 3,192. Special education's 157 total was down one, making a drop of only two for the week. Last year the same week showed a drop of 38.

tanks backed by planes swept into southern Lebanon Wednesday and attacked Arab guerrillas.

Other Al Fatah units attacked settlements in the central and northern Jordan Valley and in upper Galilee, inflicting 14 casualties, the guerrilla spokesman said.

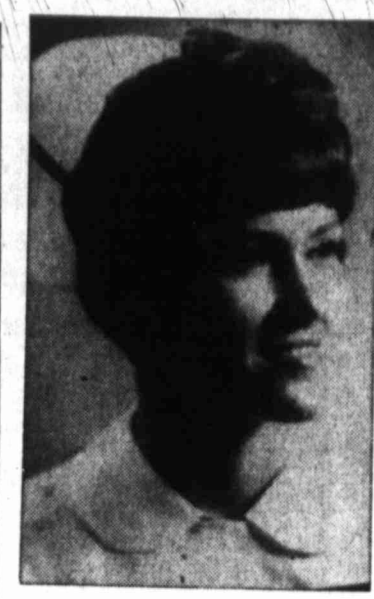

A military spokesman in Amman said Israeli 140mm guns bombarded two villages in northern Jordan Thursday night seriously wounding two girls, one 10 and one 3 years old.

In Cairo a close confidant of President Gamal Abdel Nasser wrote that time was on the Arab side in its conflict with Israel.

"All we have to do is maintain our will to fight and never disengage the enemy on any front, no matter what losses we may suffer," wrote Hassanein Heikal, editor of the semi-official newspaper Al Ahran. He recently was appointed information minister.

In Beirut, the Lebanese government began contacts with Arab ambassadors and other interested parties to work out its response to a reported entry into Lebanon of heavily armed troops from Syria.

A post midnight Cabinet meeting broke up in apparent disagreement on whether the troops were Syrian regulars or members of the Syrian-backed Al Saika guerrilla organization. Some members insisted the government should take action to protect Lebanon's sovereignty.
