IN DEFIANCE OF WHITE HOUSE

Senate Likely To Cut Funds For GIs In Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate advocates of legislation to cut off spending for U. S. military operations in Cambodia now appear to have the votes to pass it in defiance of the White House.

But their voting strength could be diluted if Republican leaders and the administration succeed in fashioning an alternative acceptable to President Nixon.

An Associated Press survey of the Senate showed 45 senators now favor the appropriations cutoff, and five more are leaning toward support.

Thirty-four senators are lined up in opposition to the measure; 16 are uncommitted.

That lineup is based on an AP poll and on the public declarations of senators on the appropriations staff sponsored by Sens. Frank Church, D-Idaho, and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky.

At least two senators are certain to be absent when voting begins, probably next week. Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., and Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., both are hospitalized. That means a maximum of 98 votes, with 50 votes sufficient for passage.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield said Saturday he is confident sporters have the votes they need.

But Sen. Hugh Scott, the Republican leader, said neither side has 50 votes. He said 12 to 15 undecided senators hold the balance of decision.

The White House has declared its flat opposition to legislation the administration insists would infringe upon President Nixon's constitutional powers as commander in chief.

Mansfield said he sees no chance of compromise on the issue. "Frankly, I don't think the amendment is strong enough,"

he said. "But it's a good start."

The amendment, attached by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to a bill authorizing military sales abroad, would prohibit the use of appropriations for the purpose of "retaining United States forces in Cambodia."

Nixon has pledged the withdrawal of U.S. forces by June 30, and sponsors of the amendment—now 32 strong—said their measure could not take effect before that time.

Scott called another conference of Republican leaders Tuesday in his effort to work out an alternative acceptable to the administration.

The Scott formula would have the Senate declare its opposition to a wider war in Indochina, but would permit Nixon to waive the appropriations cutoff if he deemed that necessary for the protection of U.S. troops.

A switch of that magnitude would shift the current balance, away from an outright ban on future spending.

Five Senate critics of Nixon's policy in Indochina said they had sent to newspapers throughout the nation a background paper challenging administration accounts of the Cambodian operation.

The paper was prepared by George McT. Kahin, director of the Southeast Asia program at Cornell University.

Miss Virginia Gains Crown, Lauds 'Daddy'

MIAMI BEACH (AP) — Miss Virginia, statuesque brunette Debbie Shelton of Norfolk, was named Miss USA Saturday night over 50 contestants.

The winner goes on to the Miss Universe pageant in July, hoping to succeed Gloria Diaz of the Philippines as holder of the international beauty title. Four of the 18 previous Miss USAs have gone on to become Miss Universe, the last one being Sylvia Hitchcock in 1967.

Miss Shelton, a 5-foot-8 student at Old Dominion University, is the 21-year-old daughter of a Norfolk dentist and says the greatest man in the world today is "my daddy."

MISS TEXAS MOST AMIABLE—Diane Swendeman, 20-year-old blonde from Fort Worth, smiles into the glare of the spotlights at the Miss USA Beauty Pageant after being named Miss Amity by the other contestants.

The 10 semifinalists eliminated at the first plateau were:

Miss Washington, Susan Joan Hyde of Seattle; Miss California, Linda Lee Hall of Los Angeles; Miss Ohio, Jane Harrison of Wickliffe; Miss Florida, Cheryl Johnson of Orlando; Miss District of Columbia, Nikki Phillips of Washington, D.C.

Miss Maine, Margaret McAleer of Waterville; Miss New York, Christina Tefft of New York City; Miss Arkansas, Mary Jane Dial of Bella Vista; Miss Oregon, Lura Rae Smith of Portland; and Miss Texas, Diane Swendeman of Austin.

Miss Virginia was the most buxom entry. She weighs 125 pounds and said she entered the contest "for excitement and travel and to meet people and promote good will."

Miss South Carolina, Vicki Lynn Chesser of Mount Pleasant, was the first runnerup. Miss Nevada, Sheri Schruhl of Las Vegas, was voted the second runnerup.

Rounding out the five finalists were third runnerup Miss Tennessee, Donna Marie Ford of Trenton, and fourth runnerup Miss Georgia, Cherie Stephens of Atlanta.

The 51 contestants came from every state and the District of Columbia 10 days ago after capturing their titles in their home areas.

The 10 days were hard work, but at the end, the winner was sure of a mink coat and $5,000, a tour of the United States, and a contract promising her a job for a year just to be beautiful.

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week . . . with Joe Pickle

Well sir, Big Spring blasted off with a new industry last week with the announcement that Intech will put an egg, meat and food polystyrene package plant here. Initial employment in the 43,500-square foot facility will be from 30 to 70, and if all goes well, expansion is possible. Intech is a division of Ling-Temco-Vaugh Aerospace division. Don Wornack, president of the Big Spring Industrial Foundation, which helped bring Intech here, said that the Foundation was nursing along other prime prospects.

Big Spring church and civic groups rallied to the aid of Lubbock, which was hit by a tremendously destructive tornado which killed 21 Monday and inflicted over $100 million in damage. The Salvation Army emergency unit and the MARS mobile communications center moved in promptly and Red Cross sent help, followed by truck loads of food, clothing, household goods, etc.

A hospital authority was created by the commissioners court as a vehicle to apply for a federal grant for hospital construction. If the grant is obtained, then all assets of the Medical Center Memorial Hospital will be turned over to the authority, which has a commitment for $1.6 million in revenue bonds to finance a 70-bed facility with ancillary units such as laboratories, surgical rooms, etc. Doctors of other hospitals, however,

School Bus Collision

FOLEY, Ala. (AP) — A school bus full of Mississippi youngsters headed for a Florida outing slammed head-on into a tractor-trailer truck three miles west of here Saturday while crossing a bridge on US 98, troopers said.

Two persons were killed, including the truck driver. At least 35 were injured, many seriously, troopers said.

The truck driver was S. L. Stein of Shelyville, Ind. The other fatality was not at once identified.

The bus involved was one of three en route from Moss Point, Miss., to Johnson Beach, Fla.

Many Armed Forces Day Events Axed

By The Associated Press

State police used tear gas Saturday to disperse antiwar protesters who swarmed onto the Ft. Dix, N.J., Army post at the end of an Armed Forces Day demonstration against the war in Southeast Asia. Thousands of Americans elsewhere marched in parades honoring U.S. servicemen.

Ft. Dix was one of about two dozen military installations that had canceled Armed Forces Day observances because of "threatened demonstrations."

Among other bases that canceled observances were Ft. Bragg and Pope Air Force Base in North Carolina.

At Fayetteville, near Ft. Bragg, actress Jane Fonda and other war critics addressed a rally of about 1,200 persons.

The confrontation at Ft. Dix came after several of a group of about 3,000 demonstrators who marched to the base tore down a wire fence and moved onto the post grounds.

About 50 military policemen, backed by state troopers and armed with rifles and riot gear, confronted the demonstrators. State police sprayed tear gas on the mob. Five civilians were taken into custody.

OTTER HUNT UTTER CHAOS

SALISBURY, England (AP) — An English otter hunt was snuffed out in utter chaos Saturday by a group of Oxford University professors who believe it's cruel to chase and kill the fun-loving creatures.

During an hour-long melee on the banks of the River Nadder, a pack of sneezing hounds ran amok, a herd of cattle stampeded and two swans flew straight into an oak tree.

The professors, mostly philosophers and scientists claimed "total victory" over the gentlemen of the Bucks and Courtenay Tracy otter hunt on the Earl of Pembroke's land near this Wiltshire cathedral town.

Snuff traps, laid along the river banks by the Oxford group drove the otter-hunting hounds crazy. They began running in circles, sneezing explosively. Huntmaster Ian Alexander grappled with the leader of the Oxford protesters, psychologist Richard Ryder. That was when the cattle took fright and stampeded.

The two swans took off from the river and crashed into the tree because—as one witness put it—"They were casting worried glances back over their wings."

Ryder said later: "I think we achieved our object. Otter hunting should be banned. The harmless otter is facing extinction in this country."

Israeli Warplanes Sink Destroyer

Russ-Built Missile Ship Is Attacked

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli warplanes attacked an Egyptian naval installation on the Red Sea 500 miles south of the Suez Canal Saturday and sank a destroyer and a Soviet-built missile boat, the military command here reported.

YEA, MAN—Flag-waving youth displays his approval as a contingent of Marines passes down State Street in Chicago Saturday during Armed Forces Day festivities.

It was one of the longest Israeli combat flights of the Middle East confrontation.

The military command said the attack was in retaliation for Egypt's sinking of an Israeli fishing boat in the Mediterranean and the mining of the harbor at Elath, the Israeli port on the Gulf of Arqaba.

The attack was made at Ras Banas, 560 miles southeast of Tel Aviv, and opposite Yanou on Saudi Arabia's Red Sea coast. About 200 miles west of Ras Banas is Egypt's Aswan High Dam.

Earlier in the day, the military command said Israeli jets shot down two more Egyptian MIGs in new dogfights over the southern end of the Suez Canal—the sixth and seventh Egyptian plane losses in three days of air battles. At the same time, the Egyptian command claimed its planes downed an Israeli Mirage jet.

The attack on the naval station came late in the afternoon. The Israeli command did not say how long it lasted.

A military spokesman said the Egyptian destroyer was a former British warship of World War II vintage which normally carries a crew of about 250 men.

According to the London Institute of Strategic Studies, the Egyptians have six destroyers. The missile boat was described by the spokesman as an 80-foot craft which carries two sea to sea missiles, one 15mm, two-barrelled anti-aircraft gun and crew of 15-20 men. It was believed to be of the Komar class.

The spokesman declined to say how the two ships were sunk and what weapons the Israeli planes used to do the job.

Few Strikes Still Marring Campuses

By The Associated Press

A three-day conference of student strike leaders from colleges and universities across the country closed Saturday at Yale University with a call for "a summer of resistance and liberation." Black students, meanwhile, opened their own four-day meeting at Yale.

Most of the colleges and universities themselves were quiet. Gov. Robert McNair lifted a five-day curfew at the University of South Carolina in Columbia, scene of confrontations between students and National Guardsmen last Monday.

About a dozen schools remained closed and a student-run strike information center at Brandeis University, Waltham, Mass., reported some strike activity at 269 institutions of higher learning. There are 1,500 four-year colleges and universities in the United States. The information center list is not restricted to these schools.

A Yale, both the strike leaders, who said they represented about 300 schools, and the Negroes, at a conference organized by the Black Panther party, urged followers to show the same outrage when black protesters die as when white students are killed.

Four white students at Ohio's Kent State University were shot fatally during a confrontation with National Guardsmen during an antiwar protest May 4.

Six Negroes were fatally shot in the back early last week during rioting in Augusta, Ga., following the beating death of a jailed black youth. Two Negro youths, one a college student, the other a high school senior, were killed Friday by police gunfire outside a dormitory at Jackson State College in Mississippi.

In Jackson Saturday, Mayor Russell Davis announced that 20 city police officers involved in the incident agreed to testify before a biracial committee investigating the shootings. The 20 had balked earlier at testifying, but agreed to speak, Davis said, when told the panel had no legal power.

President Nixon, at the Florida White House, said he and Mrs. Nixon were "deeply saddened" by the deaths of the two boys. He said the deaths make it urgent for every American to make greater efforts "toward understanding, restraint and compassion."

The strike leaders who attended the three-day Yale conference urged students to keep universities open all summer. They urged at least one school in each state to serve as a "liberation center."

Spokesmen said individual activities would vary from state to state. Many students turned to political field — backing peace candidates in upcoming elections and lobbying congressmen.

Massive Cleanup Job In San Marcos

By The Associated Press

Rains that staggered San Marcos and sent South Texas streams flooding toward the sea left the state Saturday.

A sunny, crisp weekend was a hand although the southern third of Texas will be muddy and often water logged.

Before departing, the rains fell prodigiously in South Texas, with tiny Dime Box, 40 miles east of Austin, drenched by 9.02 inches in the 24 hours to dawn Saturday.

In the same general area, La Grange had 5.79 inches and Giddings 5.23. Four inch rains were commonplace.

San Marcos, 35 miles south of Austin, emerged from the rampaging floods of Purgatory Creek and the San Marcos River with a massive cleanup job starting. The downpour from 12 inches or so of rain left two children drowned, 650 persons routed from their homes, and uncounted tens of thousands of dollars in damages. The Small Business Administration declared the town and Hays County a disaster area.

Among the anonymous relief workers reported in San Marcos was Luci Johnston Nugent and her husband, Patrick. Her father, former President Lyndon Johnson, attended college at the stricken town.

The San Antonio Weather Bureau said low areas along the San Marcos, Blanco and Guadalupe rivers will be flooded as the surplus waters seek the sea.

The San Marcos ran bankfull at Luling by noon Saturday. The Guadalupe will reach that stage in Victoria late Tuesday.

Nearly all Texas skies cleared. Some high, thin cloudiness persisted in parts of Central and East Texas. Clearing started in the coastal regions before noon.

Twister Toll Climbs To 23

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP)—Lubbock's devastating tornado claimed its 22nd and 23rd lives Saturday.

Jose Luz Leyva, 14, of Brownsville died shortly before noon Saturday. He was visiting here when the twister struck Monday night.

Early Saturday, Joe Garrett, 25, succumbed in the intensive care ward of Methodist Hospital. He was hurt when the tornado demolished his home.

Sunday will be a day of prayer for victims. Mayor James Granberry issued a proclamation Friday designating the prayer observance, noting specifically those killed, injured and left homeless.

Jaycees Will Give Free Vaccine Against Rubella

One of the most tragic diseases is rubella — or German measles. The disease can cripple and kill unborn babies. The human and emotional cost of the German measles epidemic that struck the United States in 1963-65 may never be fully known. But the dollar cost is now becoming apparent as some 30,000 rubella-damaged children are ready for school. Education and care of these children will cost about $2.8 billion, says Dr. Louis Z. Cooper, director of the Rubella Birth Defect Evaluation Center at Bellevue Hospital Center, New York. He notes that it costs from $9,000 to $13,000 a year for the care and education of each child. Deafness is one of the most common birth defects associated with German measles. About 16,000 children were born deaf after the 1963-65 epidemic. Education is all the more complex for the rubella-damaged child who may not only be deaf but may also have other handicaps such as impaired vision, circulatory and neurological problems, and psychological difficulties. Rubella is normally a mild childhood disease, however, the real danger is to expectant mothers who have never had the disease. Groups around the nation are organizing to protect women in the childbearing age without actually giving them the vaccine. In order to accomplish this, it is recommended that both boys and girls in the one-through-10 age group be given the vaccine, thus preventing them from contracting the disease and exposing an expectant mother.

STOP RUBELLA — That's the goal of the Jaycees-sponsored Rubella Day (planned for May 24 in Municipal Auditorium when children under 12 will be given free vaccine against rubella, or German measles as it is more commonly called. Mayor Arnold Marshall (right) who has proclaimed May 24 "Rubella Day" is shown here with Larry Knight, a member of the Jaycees.

To help promote "Rubella Day," Mayor Arnold Marshall has designated May 24 as "Rubella Day" in Big Spring, and the Jaycees are showing two films on the disease to local civic clubs. The films are "What Will Poor Robin Do," about the life of a woman who contracts the disease while pregnant, and "Stop Rubella," a factual narration by Lloyd Nolan and Diahann Carroll.

Calls For Quick Stop Of Draft For Vietnam Duty

AUSTIN (AP) — McGeorge Bundy, president of the Ford Foundation, called on President Nixon Friday to increase the withdrawal rate of troops from Vietnam and adopt "a policy of partnership" with congress. He also called for a quick stop of the draft for Vietnam duty. "It is tearing a generation apart," the former special adviser to Presidents John Kennedy and Lyndon Johnson told the International Ex-Students Conference at the University of Texas. "Not only must there be no new incursion by Americans across the Cambodian border, but nothing that feels like that to the American public must happen again, on the president's say-so alone," he asserted.

In August of last year she presented 16 paintings to the hospital.

'OH, MY GOD WE'RE ALL GOING TO DIE' Lubbock Ravaged By Cool, Cruel, Tricky Killer

Editor's Note: "It stood me on my head in the air and threw me down on the street." "It was an eternity." "Then boom! It fell on us." "Oh, my God! We're all going to die." These are some recollections of persons victimized last Monday by what may have been the nation's most destructive single tornado. A recapitulation.

By MIKE COCHRAN
And TOM DECOLA
Associated Press Writers

LUBBOCK, Tex. (AP) — It was a cruel trick, a murderous freak.

It formed in a green sky which offered ominous clues—but descended without warning.

"Mother Nature didn't say 'Hey, here I come,'" said a veteran U.S. Weather Bureau official.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS

It was what will go into the vocabulary in Texas at least as the "Lubbock tornado" just like "Waco tornado," a twister that killed 114 persons 17 years earlier to the day.

It was a five-minute nightmare last Monday, killing at least 23, injuring more than 350, leaving thousands homeless and crippling this South Plains city of 170,000.

With damage estimates ranging from $100 million to $200 million, some are calling it the most expensive tornado in history. And perhaps it was the most unusual. There are signs it may have been the most powerful on record.

Several observers flying here for official inspections used the same description: Where the tornado struck the landscape had the appearance of cities bombed into destruction during wars.

"Rather than moving in on us," said Harold Frost, chief meteorologist of the Lubbock Weather Bureau. "It (the funnel) developed over us."

SURPRISE, SURPRISE

"It would appear it was one giant tornado with strong winds along the sides . . . it was so terribly wide. There are numerous ideas that there were one, two, even three. I can't say."

"I've never heard nor read of a twister nearly this wide . . . I don't know of anybody who has."

Destruction shows the tornado was a mile in breadth and stayed on the ground for eight miles before lifting.

Earlier, weathermen had reported a radar sighting of a "hook," indicating the possible presence of a tornado, in a slow but massive buildup south-south-east of the city.

Perhaps the biggest factor in the surprise strike resulted from an unusual shift of storm clouds to the northwest—over the center of the city—before the twister plunged down.

NO TIME

The Weather Bureau issued warnings about the south-southeast hook but said "When a tornado funnel develops right over a city, there is absolutely no time to get an early warning out."

And such was the case Monday night, said meteorologists.

The twister curled down from above the Texas Tech University campus. It missed student dormitories.

And then it was hell.

The twister spun northeasterly on a collision course with the downtown area, crumpling apartment houses and other dwellings en route.

LET'S GO!

"A neighbor woman was screaming, 'Oh, my God! We're all going to die,'" said Mrs. Beverly Williams.

"I never thought I was going to die, but I wish I could leave Texas right now."

Mrs. Ruby Tatum: "I was in the house with my sister . . . They said it lasted three to five minutes, but it was an eternity—I'll tell you that. I don't know if I was just scared or numb."

"My two children had just left the house. I thought maybe they were dead . . . somewhere."

They weren't but others were.

The tornado drew a bead on heavily commercial Fourth Street, shredding nearly everything in its path as it pounded into the downtown area.

It crippled, among other things, the city's tallest building, the 20-story Great Plains Life structure. This became a lingering peril.

FATE IN DOUBT

A day later, civil defense officials, fearing the building would collapse, roamed the streets warning those in the vicinity to "mount up and move out."

Sound truck amplifiers boomed: "The building is falling." It never did, but its fate remained in doubt.

It was on and around Fourth Street that the twister turned into a killer.

Leaving this commercial area a shambles, the tornado veered toward the Guadalupe area, a low income addition occupied mostly by Mexican-Americans.

Many of the victims were Mexican-Americans and Smylie Wilson Junior High School in the neighborhood was turned into a temporary morgue by rescue workers.

Said an officer on guard at the school in the confusion of those early hours, "All we can do is tag the bodies, fingerprint them, give them a number and shoot a picture."

JUST DON'T KNOW

Chewing up warehouses, utility poles and buildings and then sweeping them out, the tornado split toward a residential area near the fashionable Lubbock Country Club.

One building was the beauty and barber supply business owned by Cecil White.

"I don't know if I'll even try to start again," said White, 66, sitting alone in the rubble of his store. "I just don't know."

Mrs. Cecil Gibbs, fleeing her demolished home with her family: "It picked me up and stood me on my head in the air and threw me down on the street. We never lost track of the baby. First I had him, then my husband had him. We lost the little girl. We found her later."

And then into the Mesa Road area, where the storm claimed in a single stroke a family of four—Kenneth Medlin, 23, his wife and two children, one 3 years old and one 9 months.

CHASING LOOTERS

A neighbor: "We didn't know them, but they lived right over there." She pointed at an empty stretch of ground.

Dewey Nesmith stood atop the debris, wielding a hammer and trying to salvage something from the ruins. Next door, a family of six said Nesmith saved their lives.

"I didn't do anything anyone wouldn't have done," said Nesmith, moving gingerly because his back was hurt in the storm. As he spoke, police were chasing looters from some damaged stores.

"There was the grandmother pinned under the bed," Nesmith recalled. "I was afraid to touch her or another man for fear I might make it worse. I ran down to the road and found an off-duty patrolman. He called the ambulances."

Leveling expensive homes and slinging their remains onto the fairways and greens of the Country Club, the storm ripped on.

Mrs. Larry Duncan: "We could hear it coming, yet it happened so quick. It was a horrible feeling. First rain, then hail . . . and then it became very still. And then . . . boom! Just a boom. And it fell in on us."

PINNED UNDER BED

"I was pinned under the bed, and then the wall caved in on the bed. I was lying in water several inches deep and just wondering if the rest of them were alive." Her husband and houseguests were. But her husband went into apparent shock after going for help. He was hospitalized.

NATIONAL DISASTER

People waded through the flooded, littered streets, the black night enveloped the powerless city, illuminated only by the eerie sparks from shorted electrical wires.

Residents of the south side of the city were unaware for a time of the incredible destruction across town. The only evidence of the storm there was a smattering of tree limbs across wet streets.

Dawn brought horrible emphasis to the scene. For the first time, the initials the twister carved into the city were clearly visible.

President Nixon declared it a national disaster.

Shaking his head in disbelief, Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., surveyed the shambles and said: "I don't think anyone could visualize this until he's seen it."

ROOFLESS HOUSE — A powerful tornado which struck Monday night lifted the roof off this house in the residential district of Lubbock. The twister killed 21 persons and injured hundreds. Damage is estimated to go into millions of dollars.

NO SERVICES HERE THIS SUNDAY — Members of this church in Lubbock, will have to hold their worship services elsewhere this Sunday. The church was one of the many buildings in Lubbock smashed when a tornado ripped through the city last Monday night.

TORNADO DAMAGE — One auto was upended and another remained right side up when the tornado that ripped through Lubbock, crushed this brick building.

Expresses Thanks For Victim Aid

Appreciation for a tremendous and spontaneous response to appeals for help for Lubbock storm victims was expressed here Saturday by Royce Scott.

He headed a relief effort spearheaded by Churches of Christ, which drew support from all quarters.

"On behalf of the victims of the Lubbock disaster, we want to express appreciation to the scores of individuals, churches and youth groups for donations of food, clothing and household goods, and for working, sorting and packing these items, said Scott, spokesman for local Churches of Christ.

Two truck loads containing 12½ tons of materials were taken to Lubbock for distribution. Items came in so fast that it was impossible to record them, he said.

New Alarm Firm Opens

Establishment of a new business here, specializing in burglar alarm systems and known as Century of West Texas, has been announced by Lowell Shortes.

The establishment is located on Sterling City Route and deals in custom-made systems since each situation may demand a different set-up.

Shortes is a native of Howard County, graduated from Ackerly High School, had four years of classroom electronic training, completed special schools, and has studied extensively in electronic circuitry analysis and has had 20 years experience in electronics.

His company is not franchised, he pointed out, because equipment components are acquired from 132 suppliers as they are needed for specific jobs. He does fabricate a closed circuit television camera used in surveillance. He emphasized that the electronic systems do not involve switches and break-wires, but are dependent upon sophisticated radar techniques.

One of these systems, he said, has been installed recently at Gibson's Discount Store.

Shortes is married to the former Gladys Kenney and they have two daughters.

Legion To Elect Officer Slate

The 1970 annual election of officers for the American Legion, Howard County Post 355, will be held Thursday at 8 p.m. in the post home, according to Dr. J. Gale Kilgore, post commander. Candy Will Go On Trial

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP)—Candy Barr, a former $2,000 a week star of the strip tease circuit, will be tried Monday in district court on a charge of marijuana possession.

Miss Barr, whose real name is Juanita Dale Phillips, was arrested March 11, 1969. Officers said they found marijuana seeds and some shreds of the plant in shoe boxes in her apartment.

She was sentenced in 1959 on a similar charge and had served three years of a 15-year term when pardoned.

She was a noted stripper in Dallas, New Orleans, Las Vegas and the West Coast before she entered prison.

Yarborough, Tower Report Honorariums

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas Senators John G. Tower and Ralph Yarborough, after listing contributions and honorariums received in 1969, rank eighth and ninth among senators getting honorariums.

In the report filed Friday with the secretary of the Senate, Tower listed outside income of $45,823, with $27,623 of that total coming from the Republican Party of Texas—the highest party donation given any senator.

Yarborough, Texas' senior senator, reported outside income of $25,425.

Tower made 20 speeches in 1969 and received $18,200 in honorariums, his report said.

FROM DINNERS

For 18 speeches during 1969 Yarborough received $17,850 in honorariums. He reported contributions of $7,575 with the largest receipts coming from two appreciation dinners in Dallas—$2,000 and $1,500.

The Democratic Party doesn't have the policy of furnishing its senators with a supplemental expense allowance as the GOP does with Tower.

Tower itemized his expense allowance, with the largest items being $11,464 for air travel, $3,275 for food and lodging while traveling, $3,327 for radio report production, $3,224 for entertainment and $2,106 for subscriptions.

Other expenses which Tower listed as being paid out of the GOP fund were: telephone calls $284, telegrams $346, auto rental $170, staff travel $747, postage $1,100 and miscellaneous office expenses $1,515.

SPEECHES

Tower's 20 speeches were to: Sears Roebuck and Co.; Glass Containers Manufacturers; California Bankers Association; Peoria County Bar Association, Associated Credit Bureaus, Youngstown State University, Mortgage Bankers Association, Gas Appliance Manufacturers, Pennsylvania Home Builders, the University of Illinois.

Also, International Telephone and Telegraph Public Affairs Council, American Council on Germany, Brookings Institute, Mecklenburg County General Practitioners Association, Triton College, Modesto Junior College, Teledyne Inc., Whittier College.

RALPH'S TALKS

These were the groups Yarborough addressed:

University of the Pacific, Cornell, Building Contractors Association, National Association for Practical Nurse Education and Service, American Book Publishers Council, Pacific Coast District M.E.B.A. retirees group, Harvard, American Dental Association, National Association of Sanitarians, Columbia University, American Federation of Government Employees, Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers, Machinists non-partisan Political League, American College of Radiology, National Federation of Licensed Practical Nurses, Maritime Trades Department, National School Supply and Equipment Association, and Albert Lasker Foundation.

FCC Action Opens Way To Paper Merger

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Communications Commission has approved the sale of KRLD-TV to the company which publishes the Los Angeles Times and thus makes possible a merger between the Times and the Dallas Times Herald.

The FCC, in its Friday ruling, also gave approval to the proposed sale of KRLD-AM and KRLD-FM to three members of the family of Dallas Mayor Erik Jonsson.

The Times Herald, both radio stations and the television station are owned by Times Herald Printing Co.

If the proposed merger goes through, the Times Herald will be acquired by the Times Mirror Corp., which publishes the Los Angeles Times.

The Jonsson family has offered $6.5 million for the two radio stations. Philip Jonsson, one of the mayor's sons, said the actual transfer of ownership will not come about before late June or early July.

The three Jonssons involved will set up a new corporation known as KRLD Corp. The owners will be Kenneth Jonsson and Mrs. Margaret Charlton, also the mayor's son and daughter; Karl Jacob Thomsen and Robert W. Olson.

REPORTER (W)RATHER SEE WESTERNS

No Gore Fails To Bore Kids

By TERRY STARK
When The Herald Reporter sat down, somewhat nostalgically, with his 19-month-old son to view the Cinema's Saturday morning offering, it became immediately apparent that kid shows are not what they used to be.

from the morality play on screen. One thing the old and new audience do have in common is a contempt for love affairs depicted in celluloid. Saturday the subdued hum of conversation rose to the pitch of disregard when the monkey king wooed his monkey princess. Some girls did watch, however.

before him, he would have fallen heir to all the EIs that can be produced by a nine-year old manufacturing spitwads from a popcorn box. Watching the whole movie was socially unacceptable and the customs of the times were diligently enforced.

Maybe television and constant exposure to all media have satiated the modern child's appetite for entertainment. Maybe they thought the movie was dull or maybe they thought it was fascinating. It's a cinch they're more sophisticated than their child of some years ago.

"Alakazan the Great" was presented by the local Chapter of American Business Women to help a scholarship fund for worthy students and the reporter was expecting a nostalgic trip into the not too distant past when he too skipped down the aisle on Saturday mornings to accept eagerly whatever Hollywood had to offer. He found out that times appear to have changed.

The children there Saturday actually knew how to act in a theater. They sat patiently waiting until everyone was seated for the animated story of Alakazan, a magic monkey king who learns a lesson in "humility, mercy and wisdom."

ADVENTURE
In the early 50's every kid show was a 10-year old "B" Western or adventure serial and from the minute they claimed their front-row seats, the pint-sized patrons set off a howl for the show to begin.

Saturday no such nonsense occurred and, except for some natural restiveness during lapses in the action and the ebb and flow of the stream to the snack bar, these boys and girls were attentive.

Back when Randolph Scott rode across the screen on the Texas Theater in Denton every Saturday morning, he could expect a loyal posse of kids to back his every move against the forces of evil, usually personified by Barton McClain.

BLACK BART BOOR
If old Black Barton acted a little too evil a little too early for the last reel's inevitable showdown, Randolph could count on the audience to soften the bad guy up with a barrage of paper wads, popcorn, candy and other objects which were fired in a volley at the outlaw's twitching mustache.

Prepared for a similar assault against "King Gruesome" in Saturday's epic, the reporter took prudent measures to avoid becoming the innocent bystander who got in the way of adolescent wrath. However, no barrage was forthcoming, and the wordman unducked, and began to realize that these kids are not as dumb as he was when he pitched in to rid Alder Gulch of outlaws back in '52. They knew it was all for fun and remained relatively aloof.

SECRETARY ROMNEY SAYS: Housing, Blight, Slums More Serious Than Ever

WASHINGTON (AP) — The problems of the nation's cities — our housing situation, the blight, the slums — are more serious now than they have been, says Secretary George Romney of the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"As a matter of fact, I think the situation is becoming more explosive rather than less explosive," Romney said in an interview with The Associated Press.

The secretary, who was governor of Michigan at the time of the 1967 riot in Detroit, emphasized he did not mean that widespread rioting is more likely now. "Those who initiated the riots in earlier years have become somewhat sophisticated about them and they recognize that such widespread destruction boomerangs," he said.

Romney was interviewed shortly after he helped persuade President Nixon to keep Model Cities' funding intact. Some questions and answers: Q. Are the nation's big city slums deepening?

Q. Don't you think it would be helpful if there was a coherent statement of the administration's urban policy? A. Yes. Q. What happened to that idea? A. Well, there have been expressions, but they've been piecemeal and not complete and adequate, in my opinion. I think that's an area that should be dealt with more definitely and firmly and specifically.

Q. Has there been a conscious decision made to put greater emphasis on mobility, on putting people where the jobs are? A. What I've been stressing as much as anything else is that to make it possible for every American family to live within a reasonable distance of their jobs and daily activities. . . Q. Do you feel the President is as aware as, say you are, of the seriousness of the problems in the cities? A. I think he is. In his State of the Union address this year he said, "The violent and decayed central cities of our great metropolitan complexes are the most conspicuous area of failure in American life. I don't think he could put it stronger than that."

Red Forces Regrouping

SAIGON (AP) — An estimated regiment of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops surrounded and fought their way Saturday into Kompong Cham, Cambodia's third largest city.

The action threatened to trigger the biggest battle of the war. About 45 miles to the east, other Communist command forces, apparently regrouping after initial retreats from their border base areas, stood off American forces trying to push into nine enemy cache sites occupied by the North Vietnamese 5th Division.

NO FIGURE
Amid these latest turns in the war the U.S. Command in Saigon announced withdrawals into the thousands of American forces from the sanctuary area of Eastern Cambodia. The command did not give any figure, but informed sources estimated the total at 5,000 to 6,000. From 9,000 to 10,000 remained beyond the border in the drive that began on May 1.

An Associated Press correspondent just outside Kompong Cham reported that the enemy forces of 800 to 1,000 men had encircled three Cambodian battalions and were fighting other government troops inside the city. Under battle conditions the enemy force was considered a regiment strength. There was no estimate of just how many government troops were involved.

POUND ENEMY
Kompong Cham is a provincial capital, 74 miles by road and 50 by air from Phnom Penh, and the military headquarters for three surrounding provinces. U.S.-made T28 bombers flown by Cambodian pilots pounded the enemy positions surrounding the town, and the Cambodian high command rushed reinforcements toward the city aboard commandeered civilian trucks and buses.

Cambodian officers renewed an earlier request for South Vietnamese ground troops to help break the siege. Officers at South Vietnamese Task Force Headquarters at Tay Ninh were considering the request Saturday night. Lt. Gen. Do Cao Tri, the task force commander, rejected the first request for ground forces Friday, but ordered fighter-bombers to fly support for the Cambodian defenders.

SUFFERING
The city is 35 miles from the Vietnam border—beyond the 21.7-mile limit in which American forces are permitted to operate. "The situation is extremely grave," a South Vietnamese officer told an AP reporter at Tay Ninh. "The Cambodians may not be able to hold out much longer."

A South Vietnamese radio team inside Kompong Cham reported that a Cambodian battalion moved out of the city Saturday in an attempt to open the road to Phnom Penh in case the defenders were forced to withdraw. The Cambodian troops ran headlong into an enemy force and suffered two killed and 24 wounded. They claimed they killed 11 enemy and captured eight.

SHOT DOWN
Hundreds of civilians streamed out of the city on oxcarts, in taxis, aboard motorcycles, bicycles and on foot. To the east along the Cambodia-Vietnam border, U.S. 1st Air Cavalry Division troops encountered steady resistance as they tried to push into jungled base areas more than 100 miles north-northeast of Saigon and 10 miles inside Cambodia.

Several American light aircraft, including medical evacuation helicopters, were shot down in the area, killing some crewmen and wounding others. U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers and Army helicopter gunships pounded the area to open the way for American troops to explore the cache sites spotted from the air.

An AP reporter there said the caches are in the same area where three American fire bases were attacked on three successive nights last week. Officers in the field said this was the first time they had encountered serious resistance from organized, regular enemy units.

Mrs. Tiny Tim Has Miscarriage

HOUSTON (AP) — A miscarriage Friday ended the hopes of a child for falsetto-singer Tiny Tim and his Miss Vicki.

The couple, married on the nationally-televized Tonight Show last Dec. 17, were expecting the child in September. They were in Houston for an appearance by Tiny Tim at the Cork Club.

Miss Vicki, 18, it's Mrs. Victoria May Khaury on her marriage license, was admitted to Methodist Hospital Friday morning with severe abdominal pains, and had a miscarriage about four hours later, the hospital said.

The child would have been a boy, they said. HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor's physician says the actress will be hospitalized three days for what he describes as minor gynecologic surgery.

USE HERALD WANT ADS

DEAR ABBY: "Drop in" you want MY opinion, yes, I've seen many women who look "prettier" with gray hair. But none who look "younger" with "ins" are persons whom we never invite because almost anything the boob tube has to offer is preferable to their company.

I wish you would say a few words about people who invite you over — coaxing even, so that after several invitations you finally give in, so as not to be stigmatized as an "unfriendly" neighbor. And then, when the invited guest shows up at a prearranged time, the host or hostess has the television on — and LOUD!

Even so, the guest is not permitted to concentrate on the program because conversation must go on, despite the blaring emanating from the unwatched, but raucous, box.

Well-mannered persons would appreciate your comment on this. As for me, I've solved the problem. (Sign me)

UNFRIENDLY BOOR
DEAR BOOR: Of all the reasons for accepting an invitation, not wanting to be "stigmatized as an unfriendly neighbor" is the poorest — for after having accepted, good manners demand that you reciprocate. And why get on that kind of a merry-go-round with persons you'd never invite to your home because you feel that "almost any offering from the boob tube is preferable to their company?"

DEAR ABBY: I am being called a "poor sport" because I refuse to go along with the following deal:

My husband (I'll call him "Paul") and I go around with a couple I will call "Bill and Angie."

Paul digs Angie and Angie digs Paul. Bill digs me, but I don't dig Bill.

Paul and Angie and Bill say I am a "poor sport" — that it's three against one and I'm spoiling their fun. Angie keeps telling me that Bill is really great, and if I tried this wife swapping deal just once I might like it.

I just can't see it. What is your opinion?

ONE MAN WOMAN
DEAR WOMAN: I can't see it either. Ask Angie what she wants with your husband if HERS is so "great."

TEACHING UNDERGROUND — Mrs. Jane Gosdin keeps her flashlight handy and tries to ignore the leaky roof while conducting her classes in Stanton's underground school. Teachers like the facility because of the minimum number of outside distractions and the increased wall space available for decoration purposes.

TEACHERS PREPARED IN UNDERGROUND CLASSROOMS

Flashlights Are Standard Tools

By JEAN FANNIN
Not many teachers are issued flashlights at the beginning of a school year.

But then not many teachers spend the school day underground as do the teachers in the Stanton Primary School.

The school if 4½ years old and teachers and parents seem quite satisfied with the facility. The first and second graders were prone to just smile shyly, nod their heads and dash away when asked how they liked their school.

The building has eight classrooms and houses 200 youngsters in their first two years of school. Superintendent of Schools Russell McMeans said only seven of the classrooms are being used now, although the eighth will probably be utilized next fall for the kindergarten program.

The flashlights are kept on hand by all teachers for those moments when the electricity goes off. The school has an emergency generator and the lights are never off for more than a few minutes, "but it gets dark down here," one teacher said.

Other than the occasional blackouts, the teachers seem to like the building because of the lack of distractions and because of the available wall space.

"I don't have to quit teaching everytime the train goes through or the sand blows," Mrs. Jane Gosdin said.

"We also have so much room for displays," Mrs. Imogene Ledbetter said, pointing to the walls in her classroom which are covered with flowers, birds and other things of interest to her students.

"The parents really like their children down here in case of tornadoes," Mrs. Russell McMeans, who teaches in the primary school, said. The building is stormproof, fireproof and is completely electric with climate-controlled air conditioning, she said.

Mrs. McMeans is an 11-year veteran of the classroom and has spent the last four years in the underground school. "I really like it," she said although she admitted to some skepticism when she first began teaching there.

"I can see it might bother some people to be underground, but I just never think about it."

STANTON PRIMARY SCHOOL — It may not look like much from the outside, but in reality this is an eight-room modern school building which daily accommodates 200 first and second graders.

I guess if I just sat around and worried, it would bother me," Mrs. Gosdin said. She is just out of college and in her first year of teaching.

She is quick to explain the cast on her leg is the result of a skiing accident and not the stairs which are the only means, other than the emergency exit, of entering or leaving the school.

"We never know what the weather is like," Mrs. McMeans said. "We always have to send a child up to see if the sand is blowing or something."

"It's really strange," Mrs. Gosdin said. "Because the sun may be shining when you come to school, and then by lunchtime it can be snowing, and you never know until you go outside."

One problem McMeans doesn't like to talk about is a leak in the roof which causes many teachers to have to scatter buckets around their rooms during a rainstorm.

"We don't know exactly what caused it or what we can do about it," he said, indicating that the safest guess seems to be that the building has settled and shifted.

The school is constructed of concrete. A roof was placed at ground level and then a concrete layer was poured over that. This top concrete layer provides a play area for the children.

"If it is the roof that leaks, we don't know how to get to it," McMeans said, looking up at the water stains on the ceiling of a first grade classroom.

American Troops Expect To Pull Out About June 30

KEY BISCAIYNE, Fla. (AP) — A top White House official said Saturday Communist counterattacks in Cambodia were just harassing actions and both U.S. and South Vietnamese troops expect to pull out of that country on schedule about June 30.

It was conceded, however, that the timetable might slip by a few days as far as the South Vietnamese are concerned because of problems of destroying and removing vast stores of captured enemy supplies.

And a warning sign was raised by the official that it would be foolhardy for the enemy to try to rebuild its border sanctuaries. While the United States has no intentions of furthering Cambodian operations, the official said, the South Vietnamese might return if new enemy buildups occur.

The latest assessment of the Cambodian situation came from a White House staff member who accompanied President Nixon here for a Florida weekend. He declined to be named or quoted directly.

In a show of antiwar sentiment on Armed Forces Day, a group of about 100 marchers staged a demonstration near the President's vacation home, carrying an American flag upside down. An irate 71-year-old woman neighbor, passing in a car, stopped and snatched it away from the parade leader.

Nixon, planning an excursion to a friend's island, Grand Cay in the Bahamas, was still at home when the protesters came, but he did not see them.

The new attacks by the North Vietnam and Viet Cong in Cambodia were described by the presidential adviser as aimed primarily at increasing American casualties, rather than regaining lost ground or recapturing supplies. He termed it simply harassment.

The enemy was pictured as having suffered a setback of 6 to 10 months in its ability to launch any major offensive operations in South Vietnam. Supplies captured in the sanctuary area were estimated at enough to equip 40 enemy battalions. And the official said it would take at least a year to build up a supply system of the type captured in Cambodia.

The captured arms, described as far exceeding expectations, were said to be posing a massive problem. Many might have to be blown up because of inability to move them out before the rainy season, the official said.

Cambodia may get some of them, mainly infantry weapons and ammunition to fit their rifles. But no decision has been made on that yet, the official reported. In any case, he added, they will get no sophisticated or complicated equipment that might require military advisers or instructors.

The official made these points: —The United States intends to keep its withdrawal timetable, concluding the Cambodian operation by June 30 and pulling another 150,000 U.S. troops out of South Vietnam by next spring.

Prizes totaling $100 will be divided among the first, second and third place winners, parade Chairman Malcolm L. Patterson said Friday.

Those wanting information on rules for float entries may call the Chamber of Commerce at 263-7641. Generally, the judging will be based on portrayal of subject, originality of idea and overall appearance.

Patterson said the contest is open to all clubs, organizations, commercial business, and individuals.

The State Department made the announcement Friday and added it is seeking to counteract what it called the increasing dependence of Latin American countries on European suppliers of military hardware.

Austin (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission reported Saturday that 92 oil wells and 47 gas wells were completed during the past week in Texas.

That raised the total oil well completions for the year to 1,955, compared with 1,882 a year ago, and gas well completions to 736, compared with 1,024 at this time in 1969.

The commission said 130 wells were plugged, including 29 dry holes.

name would have to be reserved. But American military personnel would not be involved in Cambodia.

The United States does not want Cambodia to become an extension of North Vietnamese power, but also has no interest in Cambodia becoming a province of South Vietnam, nor reason to suppose this will take place.

NOT RAISING —The United States is not raising its terms for peace negotiations because it has made military progress. It is hoped Hanoi will take a hard look at the situation when the Cambodian operations end and conclude that a negotiation toward peace is the best outcome.

—Diplomatically, U.S. relations with other major powers have not been significantly impaired, and there may be positive results in the long run.

—The move in Cambodia was in no way designed to demonstrate American toughness or to confront the Soviet Union. The United States was responding to a heavy military handicap posed by the border sanctuaries.

—The United States wants to undertake international agreements to guarantee the neutrality and independence of Cambodia. It feels the current Asian conference in Jakarta could start a process by which responsibility in that area will shift to Asians. This is a goal of the Nixon doctrine.

Jackson Police Agree To Testify

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — City police who balked at testifying before a biracial committee probing the killing of two Negroes at the Jackson State College campus changed their minds Saturday when told the panel had no legal power.

Mayor Russell Davis said the 20 officers agreed unanimously to testify when he told them the five-man committee would not be a vehicle for any legal action in the shooting incident.

The officers wondered "if the committee was going to supersede the grand jury," said Davis, who formed the panel.

The committee is to report to the mayor in 10 days on events of Thursday night, when lawmen fired a 25-second barrage at students gathered in front of a dormitory, killing two and wounding nine.

City police and state troopers confronted the students that night, but the city officers said they did not fire.

Prior to the first day of committee testimony Saturday the city officers met and said they felt the hearing was illegal.

"Nobody is going to tell them anything," said one officer. "We have nothing to hide, but if they want us to talk they will have to bring us before a grand jury."

A main issue before the committee, apparently, is the police charge of sniper fire Thursday night.

M. B. Pierce, chief of detectives, said the officers who fired were "returning fire on one specific incident" prompted them to fire but immediately prior to that time they had been receiving fire. There was certainly a tremendous amount of sniper fire.

WINGS OVER BIG SPRING OK Instrument Flight Course

Area sail plane enthusiasts are preparing for the 12th World Soaring Championships to be held in Marfa, June 20 through July 4. Big Spring Soaring Society President O. C. Shapland said several local men may attend, although none is eligible to enter the international event.

The 126 national meet in Hobbs, N.M., however, could draw an entry from Big Spring when competition begins Independence Day, Shapland said. Entries in the New Mexico contest are limited to single place crafts which are of lower performance expectations than those at the international meet.

Accept Site For Retarded

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Mental Health Board accepted a 200-acre site Saturday from Brenham to construct a state school there for the mentally retarded.

The site, about one mile south of the South Texas town on Texas 36, is to be annexed by the city next month, the board said.

A survey of 52 Washington County organizations showed 1,262 volunteers can be expected to work at the school.

Two Houston architectural firms, Irving R. Klein and Associates, and Hoff, Blackstone, Stode, were designated to play and design the $3 million first phase of the school's construction.

The board also accepted $102,020 in state and federal grants, including $73,995 for the Richmond State School.

Ahliene received $4,700, Austin $4,800, Mexia $4,800 and Travis State School at Austin $4,700 for student work experience and training. A $9,025 grant will go to the Texas research institute for Mental Sciences at Houston for alcoholic research.

Defends Thrust Into Cambodia

FORT WORTH (AP) — The deputy U.S. secretary of defense justified Friday the American presence in Cambodia on military and legal grounds.

David Packard said that on "military grounds it makes no sense" to let the enemy use as staging areas and headquarters terrain which is off limits to American power.

He said that under international law the United States had the right to strike enemy positions in Cambodia.

Packard said that Cambodia had not lived up to its legal obligations as a neutral state and this freed the United States from the obligation to stay out of the area.

He said the capability of the enemy to conduct substantial, sustained military action "without these inviolate bases" will be seriously crippled.

Jap Minister Calling For Indochina Parley

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Foreign Minister Kiichi Aichi of Japan called Saturday for a broad-based meeting, possibly with Communist participation, on the whole Indochina crisis.

He spoke before a closed session of the Asian and Pacific conference on Cambodia, which the Communist countries of Asia and some nonaligned nations boycotted.

Aichi's speech reflected the hopes of most delegates that the Cambodian conference could develop into a launching pad for a broader-based meeting.

Aichi said such a meeting should be called "at the earliest possible date." He added that a meeting "with all the parties concerned" was essential to finding a solution to achieving peace in Indochina.

Cambodian Foreign Minister Yem Sambour asked the conference for arms and economic aid. Earlier it had been reported that Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik had persuaded the Cambodian minister not to make a direct bid to the conference for arms.

"We continue to hope that the military aid which we have requested be granted to us in sufficient measure to enable us to organize our own defense," Sambour said.

He warned that if the sovereignty of Cambodia is not guaranteed, "Southeast Asia will be faced with increased insecurity and finally perhaps the whole world will be faced with an apocalyptic conflict."

The conference heard proposals that it demand withdrawal of all foreign troops from Cambodia, appeal to the United Nations, and reactivate the International Control Commission as provided for in the Geneva accords.

Participants in the two-day conference ending Sunday were Indonesia, Japan, Cambodia, South Vietnam, South Korea, Laos, Thailand, Malaysia, Singapore, the Philippines, Australia and New Zealand.

$15 Million Loss Feared By Hospitals

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Mental Health Board adopted a resolution Saturday to use whatever state funds they can to avoid the possible loss of $15 million in federal funds to five state hospitals.

Acting Mental Health Commissioner Earl Scott told the board that unless some effort is made to hire more physicians, psychiatrists and nurses and do some minor remodeling, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare may cut off the entire department from the medicare-medicaid program.

Affected would be the Kerrville, San Antonio and Rusk state hospitals, the Rio Grande Valley Mental Health Center at Harlingen and the Vernon Geriatric Center.

Scott said the entire program at Kerrville is paid for by medicare money.

Scott said Texas is now getting $15 million in medicare payments, with higher sums expected in the future.

Scott said he doubts that the professional employees can be hired before the federal inspection is conducted late this month, "but I need this resolution from the board indicating that we are trying to meet the requirements."

He said the San Antonio Hospital can meet the federal requirements within its current budget by transferring money.

Viet Cong Strategy Of Terror

SAIGON (AP) — A research study says the killing of Hue citizens by Communist-led troops in the 1968 Tet offensive was planned and systematic, rather than random slaughter.

The study report says the killing occurred in three stages during the 26-day battle for Hue.

It started with the elimination of persons on a blacklist and ended in efforts by the retreating forces to "leave no witnesses."

These findings are reported by Douglas Pike, a U.S. government political analyst and author who is widely regarded as a top Western expert on the Viet Cong. His report, titled "The Viet Cong Strategy of Terror," says evidence indicates that virtually all known victims of the bloodbath were slain by some 150 local Viet Cong cadre, rather than North Vietnamese troops. He says it is not known where the execution orders originated.

Pike says 2,810 bodies have been exhumed from the series of mass and single graves at nearly 20 locations south and southeast of the old imperial capital. In addition, 1,946 persons are listed as missing. Many may be in graves not yet discovered or exhumed.

"Virtually no Communist killing was due to rage, frustration or panic during the Communist withdrawal at the end," Pike writes.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alcoholic or drug-induced impairment of pilot judgment figured in 11 light-plane crashes in which 23 persons died, according to a new survey by the National Transportation Safety Board.

The immediate causes of the crashes, according to the report, included failure to obtain and maintain flying speed after takeoff, uncontrolled descent, and visual flying into adverse weather by pilots untrained to fly by instruments.

But in all the cited cases, according to the report, the pilots' blood contained sufficient alcohol to cause befuddlement, and in one case was found to contain barbiturates as well.

LARD, WHAT A MISTAKE!

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — After five hours of deliberation, a jury found Lard the dog innocent of running at large through the city streets.

Lard's owner was arrested in February after the dogcatcher claimed Lard was running with three other canines, in violation of town law.

Lard and his owner pleaded innocent and requested the jury trial. Lard's lawyer produced three other dogs. The dogcatcher incorrectly identified one of the "witnesses" as Lard.

"Lard didn't appear in his own behalf," the owner said. "He gets too nervous when there are a lot of people around."

Shriners Pay All Expense Of Baby's Burn Treatment

All expenses involved in the treatment of little Michelle Hall in the Shrine Burn Center in Galveston are being paid for by the Shrine organization, it was emphasized Saturday.

The 16-month-old child, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall of Ackerly, suffered severe burns in a mishap at the home early in the week. After physicians notified of the baby's condition, Shriners immediately arranged for admission to the Burn Center, arranged for transportation, and proceeded with full care sponsorship.

"This is a major part of our philanthropic efforts," said Chester Cathey, president of the Big Spring Shrine Association. "No child requiring treatment in a Shrine Burn Center or a Shrine Crippled Children's Hospital is ever charged a cent. We have helped many children thusly."

He said Shriners want the public to be aware of this program.

Meanwhile, neighbors of the Halls at Ackerly had made a solicitation of funds to help the family. They issued a statement Saturday which said "at the time we started this request, we were not aware of the amount of assistance the Shrine organization could give. We now know the Shrine is doing this in its entirety, and we want to give this organization full credit for the wonderful work it is doing."

"It is still felt that the Halls will need help in some other areas, since treatment of Michelle may take from two to five months, and the Halls must be in Galveston a great deal and do much traveling back and forth."

"The response to our request in the Ackerly area has been most gratifying."

Recreation Signup Now Underway

Flyers detailing information about the Citywide Summer Recreation program have been placed in the schools and will be taken home by children early this week.

Parents are urged to register their children in the program as soon as possible at the YMCA, which serves as the administrative agency for the activities.

Every school-age child in Big Spring is urged to take part in the learn-to-swim, or the recreational parts of the program. Those in junior high and high school are invited to participate in the special basketball fun play.

The learn-to-swim program is set for the Comanche Trail Park pool June 1-5 from 10 a.m. to 12 noon. There is no charge, but those who are able are requested to pay $1 for pool fees.

The supervised recreational program, which also includes swimming, will begin June 7 at Comanche Trail Park and will operate Monday through Friday mornings through July. Again, there is no charge, but a $1 fee to cover costs of additional arts and crafts supplies is suggested. In no case will any child be denied any part of the program for lack of funds.

There has been a tremendous response to the pre-registration at Lakeview, although the formal signup there is not until May 23. Dates for the basketball signup will be announced later.

The summer recreation program is made possible by the support of the City of Big Spring, the United Fund, the Big Spring Independent School District, and by the YMCA.

CENSUS BLUES Where, Oh Where, Are Those 30,000 People?

AMARILLO (AP) — Amarillo Chamber of Commerce officials launched a search Friday for 30,000 persons the chamber believes were left off the official 1970 census.

Preliminary census figures showed Amarillo with a population of 123,973, a decline of 13,998 from 1960.

Chamber of Commerce statistics showed a population of 155,000. Since 1960, the big Amarillo Air Force Base has been deactivated.

Chamber president Dr. Fred Johnson and manager Don Hileman said sources other than the preliminary 1970 census figures show 30,000 or more citizens may not have been counted. They asked persons who think they may have been left off the count to contact the chamber. Since that plea was issued, Hileman said, the chamber office has received several calls from people who were not counted.

The chamber count was based on electrical connections, gas meters, water meters, workers and students and pupils in Amarillo. Hileman said a postal official's method of estimating population by counting the number of mailboxes also supported the chamber figures.

Johnson said if the preliminary census figures stand "the drop would have a great impact on Amarillo's future." He said a city with a declining population cannot attract new business and advertising media would probably lose some national accounts.

Englert Wins All-SW Spot

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Pitchers James Street and Burt Hooton, who compiled a combined record of 16-2 for Southwest Conference baseball champion Texas, were named Players of the Year in the 1970 SWC coaches baseball poll by The Associated Press.

Street and Hooton each posted 8-1 records. Street was 5-1 in SWC play with an earned run average of 0.94 while Hooton was 5-0 with an ERA of 1.09.

Rice mentor Doug Osburn, who guided the Owls to a third place finish, was named Coach of the Year by his fellow competitors.

Texas Tech's fine pitcher, Rufen Garcia, was selected frosh of the year.

David Chalk, Texas' hard-hitting third sacker, and lefty Doug Rau of runnerup Texas A&M were the only unanimous selections to the All-SWC team.

Street and Hooton joined Rau on the mound staff of the mythical squad.

Other first team selections in the infield were Glenn Monroe, Texas Christian, shortstop; Skip Balthrop, Baylor, second base; Chris Sans, Texas A&M, first base; and Billy Hodge, Texas A&M, catcher.

The outfield first stringers were John Dodgen, Baylor; R. J. Englert, Texas A&M; and Jack Miller, Texas, and Jeff Newman, TCU, who tied in balloting for the third spot.

Englert is a native of Big Spring who is in his sophomore season at Texas A&M.

He hit .400 over the regular season for the Aggies, while appearing in 25 of the team's 34 starts.

DALLAS (AP) — Here is the 1970 Associated Press All-Southwest Conference baseball team as selected by the league's coaches:

Infield — Chris Sans, Texas A&M, 1B; Skip Balthrop, Baylor, 2B; Glenn Monroe, TCU, SS; and David Chalk, Texas, 3B.

Pitchers — Doug Rau, Texas A&M, Burt Hooton, Texas, and James Street, Texas.

Player of the Year — Street and Hooton tie.

Frosh of the Year — Rufen Garcia, Texas Tech, pitcher.

Coach of the Year — Doug Osburn, Rice.

Flood Suit Will Begin Tuesday

NEW YORK (AP) — Curt Flood vs. Baseball. That's the way the battle lines are drawn for Tuesday's opening of the trial in which Flood, former outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, will challenge the sport's reserve system and attempt to prove that baseball is a monopoly operating in restraint of trade.

Flood's suit will be heard here in Federal Court before Judge Irving "Ben" Cooper. But it is likely to wind up in a higher court, possibly the U.S. Supreme Court, before it is finally resolved and all the repercussions known.

At issue is what is popularly known as the reserve clause — actually a set of rules — that binds a player to the team that signs him until he is traded, sold or released with or without his knowledge and/or approval.

Flood's case is both important — and unique — because it will be the first in which the merits of the reserve system will be argued. There have been past suits which challenged the rules but they wound up dealing with the issue of the court's jurisdiction.

Judge Cooper already has ruled that "the trial must encompass the factual issues raised respecting the reserve system, hailed as a blessing by proponents, condemned as destructive by antagonists."

The antagonists in this case are Flood, the plaintiff; his attorneys, including former U.S. Supreme Court Justice Arthur Goldberg, now a candidate for governor in New York, and the Major League Players Association headed by Marvin Miller.

The proponents in this case are the defendants — Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, the American and National League presidents, the 24 major league clubs and the defendants' attorneys, Mark F. Hughes, representing the majors, and Paul Porter, representing the commissioner.

Daniels Leader In Comeback

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — When Mel Daniels gets mad — at himself — or thinks his Indiana Pacers team is in trouble, watch out.

The Pacers, largely through the fourth quarter efforts of the 6-foot-9 Daniels, broke open a tight game with Los Angeles Friday night and won the first game of the American Basketball Association championship playoff, 109-93.

Daniels had 16 of his total 18 points in the final quarter. He was pulled from the game with 3:27 left in the first quarter because of three fouls. An angry Daniels left again with about 10 minutes left in the third with four fouls.

"Maybe I was mad at myself or maybe I thought we were in trouble, but I knew I had to go in and do my best," Daniels said after sparking the fourth-quarter surge. Indiana was in front only 73-71 starting the final frame.

Abilene Wins Over Rebels; Game Ends In Free-For-All

MIDLAND — In an afternoon of excitement that ended with a bloody free-for-all and involved fans as well as players of both cities, Abilene High blanked Midland Lee, 3-0, here Saturday to win the District 3-AAAA baseball championship.

The Eagles came back to win the final two games of the series after dropping the opener.

Stan Lambert and Clint Thomas combined to limit the Rebels to one hit. That was a single up the middle by Jim Witt in the second.

Greg Stirman and Jimmy Tindall scored in the second for Abilene and Don Marshall followed with a run in the third.

Lee had the bases loaded in the sixth but Thomas struck out Terry Webb and Steve Morris to end the threat. The crowd was estimated at close to 2,000.

Abilene now is 14-9 on the year and plays Monterey in Lubbock Tuesday in bi-district competition. Lee ended with an 18-9 mark.

Abilene: Stan Lambert, Clint Thomas (6) and Don Edwards; Mike Griffin and Larry Jennings.

DIGGIN' DIVOTS ON LOCAL SCENE Select Drive Meet Set At Muny Course Today

A Select Drive tournament will be staged for Big Spring Golf Association members at the Muny golf course, starting at 1:30 p.m. today.

Those planning to play should register by 12:30 p.m. Entry fee is $2 and merchandise awards will go to winners.

Players in each of the four handicap divisions (A-B-C-D) will team to form a team.

Rules of the tournament dictate that each foursome play the best drive from each teebox, after which individuals use their own balls in holeing out.

Those who are not yet members of the BSGA but who would like to play can register at the clubhouse for a $3 annual fee.

A total of 64 players took part in a Texas Electric Service Company golf party staged Saturday morning. The course was not closed to other players, however.

Hemphill-Wells is planning a similar tournament for its employees at the course this morning.

The first in a series of scotch foursomes will be held for BSCC members a week from today.

Present plans call for such meets to be staged the fourth Sunday in each month through the warm months.

C. G. Griffin, Country Club pro, said that 31 tournaments are now on the junior tour planned by the West Texas Chapter of the PGA, including one at the Big Spring Muny June 19 and the Big Spring Country Club the following day.

Lee's 205 Is Low In Meet

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Lee Trevino surged into sole control of the lead in the Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament Saturday with a third-round 69 while Dale Douglass bolted into contention with a remarkable, course-record 63.

Trevino, the leading money winner and already a two-time champion this year, had a one shot lead on the strength of his 54-hole total of 205, five under par on the 7,142-yard Colonial Country Club course.

Douglass, the lean and lanky winner at Phoenix earlier this season, ripped into the proud old course for seven birdies and not a single bogey as he lowered the course standard by two strokes. His total is 210.

Homero Blancas, a 32-year-old tour regular who scored his last victory in 1966, moved past faltering Bob Smith and Roberto de Vicenzo and took over second place with a 69 for 206.

De Vicenzo and Smith were tied with Trevino for the lead going into the warm, sunny day, but couldn't stand the pace. Smith, still looking for his first victory in 2½ years on the tour, took a 73 for 209. De Vicenzo, a 47-year-old Argentinian, stumbled to a 74 for 210.

Steady Gene Littler cruised in with a 66 and held third place with a 207. Larry Ziegler followed with a 68 for 208.

Smith was next with De Vicenzo, Douglass, Jack Nicklaus, Hale Irwin, Kel Nagle and Tom Shaw at 210. Nicklaus, Nagle, Irwin and Shaw all had 69s.

South African Gary Player drifted back with a 72 for 212 and Ben Hogan fell well off the pace with a 73 for 219.

Brantley said he had hopes of playing in the Odessa Pro-Am during the summer but had yet to choose a partner. Charley also said he planned to have a one-day pro-am but hadn't set the dates. It will probably be staged toward the end of the golfing season.

An invitational partnership tournament would also be staged at the Muny course sometime this year, he revealed. It possibly will be held in the fall and the entry fee will be no more than $10 per player.

Personality Is Pimlico Leader

BALTIMORE (AP) — Personality rushed through on the outside and edged My Dad George Saturday at Pimlico and won the $203,800 Preakness Stakes. Kentucky Derby winner Dust Commander finished out of the money.

Personality, owned by Mrs. Ethel B. Jacobs and ridden by Eddie Belmonte, got home by a neck over My Dad George, Raymond M. Curtis' Derby runner-up.

Sonny Werblin's Silent Screen was third, three lengths back of My Dad George and two lengths in front of Mrs. Jacobs' High Echelon.

HIGH AND OUTSIDE—Personality is high in the air coming down to the wire Saturday to win the Preakness. Aboard is Edward Belmonte.

Robert E. Lehmann's Dust Commander, a five-length winner in the Derby, finished ninth in a field of 14 3-year-olds. His defeat means that racing for the 22nd straight year will not have a winner of the Triple Crown. Citation was the last to win the Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes in 1948.

Belmonte guided Personality over the 1 3/16 miles on a fast track in one minute, 54 1/5 seconds to pick up first moneys of $151,300 from the gross purse in this richest triple crown race ever. It was the first time the Triple Crown event has topped the $200,000 mark.

B. Hunt's Sir Wiggle, Briardale Farms' Stop Time, William C. Robinson Jr.'s Admiral's Shield, Dust Commander, James B. Mills' Buzkashi, Walter J. Hickey's Robin's Bug, Lawrence Boyce's Hark the Lark, Rex Ellsworth's Plenty Old and Mrs. Merle Weisman's Oh Fudge. Each starter carried 126 pounds.

Dust Commander, again ridden by Mike Manganello, made a move on the turn for home, but it was not his day and he faded out of contention as Personality and My Dad George waged a bitter stretch duel.

Silent Screen, ridden by John L. Rotz, took the lead after the first one-half mile and held it until approaching the eighth pole. He then tired, and Personality and My Dad George went zooming by, My Dad George on the rail, and Personality, with Belmonte whipping away, on the outside.

The two then ran almost as one to the wire in a torrid stretch run where Personality got his neck in front to give John Jacobs his first victory in a Triple Crown race. His famous father who trained 3,596 winners, never saddled a victor in any of these events.

Personality started from No. 2 post, just outside his stablemate, and broke second. He lay fifth after the first quarter mile, sixth after a half and then moved into his challenging position, second, 1½ lengths ahead behind Silent Screen and a length in front of Dust Commander, who for a fleeting moment looked like he might add the Preakness to his Derby victory and move into position to become a Triple Crown champion.

My Dad George, ridden by Ray Broussard, returned $3.20 and $2.60, while Silent Screen, the 1969 2-year-old champion who has been unable to regain his form this year, was $3.80 to show.

Personality is by Hall to Reason out of Affectionately and is trained by Mrs. Jacobs' son, John. The trainer's father, the late Hirsch Jacobs, who became a legend as the winningest trainer ever and also a top breeder, had considered Personality the epitome of breeding.

Personality's victory in the Preakness atoned for his eighth place finish in the Derby. In the Louisville race, Belmonte said Personality jumped a mud puddle and went off stride, causing his dismal placing.

"When I was ready to let him go he went," said Belmonte after the Preakness.

"He was running pretty good. I was in perfect position. Silent Screen was moving out and forced me a little wide. But I was hitting him pretty good and he was running."

Following High Echelon across the finish in order were Her-Jac Stable's Naskra, Nelson

Marti Liquori Overtakes Keino To Grab Feature

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — Trailing by 30 yards starting the last lap, Villanova's Marti Liquori passed fading Olympic champion Kid Keino midway through the stretch to win the 1,500-meter race at the second annual Martin Luther King Games Saturday at Villanova Stadium.

Liquori upheld his ranking as the world's best at 1,500 meters as he finished 10 yards ahead of Keino, who almost came to a stop 30 yards from the finish and then picked up enough speed to last for second over Villanova's Chris Mason. Byron Dyce of United A.A., New York, finished fourth.

Liquori was timed in 3:42.6, with Keino, the police sergeant from Kenya, running the distance in 3:43.8. Mason's time was 3:44.1 and Dyce 3:44.3.

Texas A&M's standout 440 and mile relays teams won impressively in the meet honoring the memory of Dr. Martin Luther King, the late civil rights leader. The only individual double winner was sprinter John Carlos, who took the 100-meter dash in 10.1, and the 200-meter event in 20.4.

Red Birds Topped By Chicago, 3-2

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Two-out doubles by Cleo James and pitcher Ken Holtzman in the fifth inning ended Chicago's scoreless streak at 22 innings and the Cubs went on to defeat the St. Louis Cardinals, 3-2 Saturday.

The fifth inning run snapped a scoreless deadlock and Jim Hickman's two run double in the eighth enabled the Cubs to withstand a ninth inning St. Louis rally.

The Cubs, beaten 4-0 by New York Wednesday on Gary Gentry's one hitter and nipped 1-0 by the Cards Friday night, managed only one hit until the fifth.

St. Louis southpaw Steve Carlton retired Hickman and Jack Hiatt on fly balls, but James, batting .143 at the start of the game, doubled into the left field corner. Holtzman, a .273 hitter, then drove in his fourth run of the season with a liner between third baseman Mike Shannon and the bag.

After Carlton, 4-4, was lifted for a pinch hitter, the Cubs increased their lead to 3-0 in the eighth on two walks and Hickman's two-out double off reliever Jerry Johnson.

After Carlton, 4-4, was lifted for a pinch hitter, the Cubs increased their lead to 3-0 in the eighth on two walks and Hickman's two-out double off reliever Jerry Johnson.

The Cubs, beaten 4-0 by New York Wednesday on Gary Gentry's one hitter and nipped 1-0 by the Cards Friday night, managed only one hit until the fifth.

St. Louis southpaw Steve Carlton retired Hickman and Jack Hiatt on fly balls, but James, batting .143 at the start of the game, doubled into the left field corner.

Holtzman, a .273 hitter, then drove in his fourth run of the season with a liner between third baseman Mike Shannon and the bag.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Much Depends On Fullback

By TOMMY HART

DICK FARRELL

Ron Plumlee, new head basketball coach at the local high school, once played the game under Don Easterling, who later was to become a mentor of Olympic swim champions at UT - Arlington . . . The two were at Weatherford Junior College at the time . . . In high school track and field, Plumlee ran the 100, broad jumped, vaulted and was a member of his school's sprint relay team . . . Ron is another Big Spring coach whose last name starts with the letter P, and there have been a lot of them—Doyle Parker, Frank Pulattie, Cliff Patton, Delnor Poss, Bob Presley, Glenn Petty, Jimmy Pope, Kirby Pugh, E. H. Poteet and J. S. Pierson, to name a few . . . You never heard of the latter two? . . . They were associated with the local school in the 20's . . . Donn Clendenin, who starred in the last World Series for the New York Mets, tells intimates he'll retire from baseball after this year to resume work with that nationally known pen company . . . When golfing veteran Ben Hogan was in Houston for the tournament at Champions, he said all the young players seemed to be off balance when they were swinging their clubs . . . With tongue in cheek, he attributed the deficiency to too much hair . . . Next year, Jack Nicklaus will likely show up for the Houston tournament but skip Fort Worth's Colonial meet . . . Until San Angelo's Steve Langford faced Big Spring in a relief role in that recent baseball finale at Angelo, he hadn't retired a batter this season . . . Some observers were shocked that coach Fern Smathers summoned him to spell Hunt Batjer rather than Joe Walz . . . San Angelo eventually lost the game, 5-4, and with it all chance to tie for first place in the East Zone of District 3-AAAA . . . Houston's baseball attendance is running around 26,000 ahead of the comparable period last year and the 1969 Astros drew a total of 1,442,995 . . . And the Astros' 1969 gate was up 130,108 over the preceding year . . . If you thought that NBA (basketball) season was long, you were right . . . It extended eight months . . . Some reason the NBA people will soon try to play the year around . . . The pathetic part about the pro cagers' season is that it is only a preliminary to the playoffs—a team has to be very unlucky not to qualify . . . Casey Wilder, 12-year-old son of the new HCJC basketball coach, Harold Wilder, hurled a no-hitter in Abilene Little League play recently and came within one pitch of a perfect game . . . He hurls for the NEWCO club.

Big Spring Raceway, Inc., which stages motorcycle events locally, is having second thoughts about holding weekly programs and likely will henceforth plan programs twice monthly . . . In its last venture in the 5/8ths mile track located in the old Sahara Drive In, more out-of-town than local people attended . . . Tennis Cliff Richey of San Angelo figures to earn well over $60,000 on the courts this year . . . Gibby Gilbert, winner of the recent Houston golf tournament, has been a full-time circuit player only since the Doral Open . . . After Mickey Mantle hit the first home run in the history of the Astrodome, Dick Farrell, the Astro pitcher who delivered the ball, went by Mickey's locker to remind him he didn't even hit the ball well . . . "What would have happened if I hit it with my bat?" Mickey asked . . . "What does that mean?" Farrell inquired . . . "Why, I hit that with my forearm," Mantle jested . . . Spies say that coach Dan LaGrasta of San Angelo Central is very pleased with his spring football drills but that much depends on how much off-injured fullback John Myers (210) can play . . . Major league umpires, who are paid anywhere from $15,000 to $30,000 a year for six months' work, also draw $40 a day in expense money and first class air travel between cities . . . In spring training, they receive the same $40 per diem plus the use of a rented car but they draw a salary—$25—only on the days they work a game . . . Andy Gamboa, Big Spring's nifty little center fielder, wound up hitting a robust .359 in 3-AAAA games while his teammate, third baseman Charles Rodriguez, hurt enemy pitching with his .320 mark . . . With Carl Devorce and Stan Bracy returning next season, Colorado City needs just a little more help to win first place in the Class AAA State track and field meet . . . The University of Oklahoma drew 27,000 customers for its annual spring football game . . . QBC co-captains Paul Shaffer and Harroll Jones would gladly settle for a turnout of 1,000 when the Big Spring Steers engage in their annual spring classic here next Friday night . . . A lot of questions will be answered in that one . . . They say that one of the best relief pitchers in the big leagues, whose career was shortened in a losing battle with the bottle, hasn't reformed and has become an embarrassment to his community . . . Odessa College baseball coach Julian Pressley was present when Big Spring mound ace Jimmy Farris tamed San Angelo recently and said he would offer Farris a full scholarship.

MOTORCYCLISTS GET CHECKERED FLAG — This has become a familiar sight at the motorcycle races staged by Big Spring Raceway, Inc., on the infield of the old Sahara Drive.

In theatre. Howard Walker is the flag man. More events are scheduled today, starting at 2 p.m. In all, about 15 races will be staged.

McKay Lined Up To Play At Lubbock

LUBBOCK — Another top name has been added to the roster of the Coaches All-America game with the signing of Bob McKay, an offensive tackle on the 1969 National Championship Texas Longhorn team.

One of the finest blockers ever to wear the Texas colors, McKay was a consensus All-America selection. He will play for Coach Dan Devine's West squad in the All-Star contest slated for June 27 in Texas Tech's Jones Stadium.

At 6-6 and 250 pounds, McKay made the Texas ground game so potent. His crunching blocks helped the Longhorns to post a new Southwest Conference rushing and total offensive marks. The Longhorns averaged 363 yards rushing per game — second highest ever in NCAA history.

Coach Darrell Royal has this to say about the big tackle: "Bob is exceptionally fast and quick for a big man. He's a strong blocker at the point of attack, also he has thrown many downfield blocks and is a fine pass-protection blocker."

A native of Crane, McKay is an education major. He is the fourth Southwest Conference star to sign for the All-Star contest. Already announced are Denton Fox of Texas Tech and Rodney Brand and Cliff Powell of Arkansas.

Eighteen players are now on the West roster and 16 have accepted invitations to play for the East.

Already signing in addition to McKay, Fox, Brand and Powell, are Jim Reilly, Notre Dame; Buddy McClinton, Auburn; Jim McFarland and Ken Geddes, Nebraska; Terry McMillan, Missouri; Mel Easley, Oregon State; Bill Bridges, Houston; John Ward, Oklahoma State; Butch Davis, Missouri; John Small, The Citadel; Ron Gardin, University of Arizona; Godfrey Zaunbrecher, Eddie Ray, and George Bevan, all of LSU; Warren Muir, University of South Carolina; Steve Tannen, University of Florida; Walker Gillette, University of Richmond; John Isenbarger, Indiana; Robert Asher, Vanderbilt; Bob Reinhard, Stanford; Ron McBride, Missouri; Bill Pierson, San Diego State; Jim Otis, Ohio State; Bob Parker, Memphis State; Bruce Taylor, Boston University; Dennis Leuthauser, Air Force; BEly Parks, California State at Long Beach; Jim O'Brien, Cincinnati; Tom Banks, Auburn; and Eric Harris, Colorado.

Tickets to the game are on sale at the Texas Tech Ticket Office.

Ruidoso's First Race Card Slated May 23

RUIDOSO DOWNS, N.M. — Floyd Haake and Thomas Perrett, all Ruidoso businessmen, will begin operation of the track with a $100,000 loan from the Ruidoso State Bank.

This loan will cover all outstanding obligations and present operational costs. It was also announced that additional money is readily available to the trustees if more is needed to open the racing season May 23.

With opening day less than a week away, the action at "Downs" has taken on a new feeling of anxiety. Horses have been pouring into the barn area in large numbers in the last few days, and horsemen are hurriedly preparing their charges for opening weekend. Maintenance crews are putting final touches on the completely refurbished track, and also are readying the grandstand area for the expected large opening-day crowd.

This season will be highlighted by the "Tres Coronas," the triple crown for two-year-old quarter horses comprised of three races carrying a purse of over $100,000 each. The first two of these races are the Kansas Futurity at 350 yards worth $175,000 (est.) to be run June 14 and the Rainbow Futurity at 400 yards worth $125,000 (est.) to be run Aug. 16.

These two races serve as very rich stepping stones to the All American Futurity, World's Richest Horse Race, this year worth over $600,000 in its twelfth running Labor Day, Sept. 7. In addition, there is an excellent stakes program scheduled for both quarter horses and thoroughbreds.

Crestview Still Is Undefeated

Crestview Baptist measured Bera Baptist, 15-1, and First Assembly of God flagged down First Church of God, 13-10, in Church Softball League games here Friday night. Crestview is still unbeaten in circuit play.

Home runs by Phillips, McMahon and Robey propelled the Crestview team to its easy success.

Don Ritchey, on the hill for Crestview, stopped Bera with five hits and shut out the losers.

until the final inning, when Shortes crossed the plate. Shortes of Bera and B. Scott of Crestview unloaded for doubles.

First Assembly of God accumulated six runs in the first, three in the third and four more in the fourth to outlast First Church of God.

Charles Williams survived one crisis after another to get credit for the mound win. He was tagged for seven safeties.

Choate and Richard Townsend of First Assembly smashed four-masters while Thompson had a triple for First Church of God. E. Thomas helped the First Assembly cause with a two-baser.

Longhorns Nudged By Seniors, 12-6

The Seniors edged the 1970 Big Spring Steers Saturday morning in a football scrimmage held under game-like conditions, 12-6.

The result was not unexpected, since the Seniors had all their offensive starters, with the exception of center Dave Thomas, intact.

Coch Coach Hale said he was pleased with the performance of his Longhorns, particularly his defensive unit.

The offense played quite well, considering the fact that such regulars as Steve Rich, Dale Crenshaw and Roddy Caffey were missing. All were idled by the flu. Other members of the club who weren't suited out included Jan Whately, Gillis

Ellis and Louie Smith. Hale said he and his aides had been concentrating almost exclusively on defense since a week ago Wednesday.

The Steer mentor had particular praise for the Steers' forcing unit, which carried the fight to the Seniors.

A pass from QB Gary Hinds to Jimmy Farris, good for about 20 yards, produced one Senior score. Herman Evans got the other on an aerial from Hinds, also from about the 20.

QB Dave Duncan went over for the Steers from the one on an outside option play.

The Steers didn't throw much but the combination of Duncan and John Weeks produced favorable results. Arthur Trevino filled in for the ailing Caffey and was the outstanding back of the day.

Weeks, Trevino, fullback David Stanley and center Tony Stewart were offensive players singled out for praise by the coaching staff.

On defense, the performances of end James Miller, linebackers Howard Stewart, Joe Chavez and Grady Ray were lauded.

The coaches have installed everything they planned to use during the first two weeks of drills. The third week will be devoted to polishing and perfecting techniques.

Asked if the Steers had accomplished everything he hoped they would, Hale replied:

"Definitely, in fact, in some areas they have done better than we dared to hope, especially on defense. We still have a way to go on offense, but that is understandable. We just haven't worked on it enough. In this league (3-AAAA) you live or die on defense, though, and we intend to keep stressing that phase of our game."

On one occasion, the Steers drove down to the Seniors' 30 but lost the ball on a fumble. Bobbles set up both the Seniors' scoring opportunities, to.

The coaches will divide the team evenly as possible Wednesday for Friday night's big Spring Game, which winds up spring workouts.

That contest is being promoted by the Quarterback Club, officers of which are working to have a good crowd on hand. The contest will be unreeled in Memorial Stadium Friday night. Starting time is 8 o'clock.

The Colts are now 2-5 in the standings while the Pirates are 2-4.

Reliever K. McMurtrey was credited with the win. C. Burrow started on the pitching rubber for the Colts.

Wilder Signs 3 Cagers For Howard County JC

Harold Wilder, new basketball coach at Howard County Junior College, has announced three more boys have been signed to pre-enrollment blanks.

They are Bruce Hutto, who played for Big Spring High School the past season; Claude Tucker, a football-basketball standout for the same school; and Billy Charles Graham, 6-5, who played for Midland Lee.

Tucker's high school career ended prematurely with a leg injury when he was injured in football two years ago. He tried a comeback in basketball and did reasonably well but had to undergo surgery later.

Known as "Snake" by his friends, Tucker, 6-3, is said to be completely well now and eager to resume his basketball career. He boasts a fine scoring touch and is a good rebounder.

Hutto, 6-2½, has an uncanny eye for the basket and will fight the boards. Wilder says Bruce has a fine future in the game and should fit snugly into his plans.

Dog Club Slates Thursday Meeting

Regular monthly meeting of the Big Spring Kennel Club will be held Thursday, May 21, at 7:30 p.m., in the Community Room of the First Federal Savings & Loan Association.

The program will be presented by club member Robert Carr on the breed, Basenji. The program will be followed by an informal social hour, and all area residents, who are interested in purebred dogs are invited to attend.

Good Humor Man Has Time For Everyone

CHICAGO (AP) — Elder statesman, co-captain, inspirational leader, garbage sweeper, grounds keeper and philosopher. All of these things and more is Ernie Banks.

Banks, the 39-year-old ageless heart of the Chicago Cubs hit his 500th home run last Tuesday against the Atlanta Braves.

Banks became the ninth man to reach the coveted plateau and with the same swing he also drove in his 1,600th run to become the 12th man in baseball annals to turn the trick.

When Banks hit his homer the Cubs trailed 2-1. They trailed throughout the game although O'Ernie also drove in a run with a sacrifice fly in the seventh. Then his teammates, realizing Ernie wanted No. 500 to go along with a victory, rallied to the cause, and the Cubs won 4-3.

Then the media stepped in. Radio interviews, television interviews, tape interviews, newspaper interviews.

Ernie put up with them all. The Patient Man refused no one. More than an hour later, he started the long trip to the Cub dressing room.

Banks stopped and signed autographs. Then he grabbed a broom from one of the members of the cleanup crew and helped sweep empty beer cups and peanut shells into a corner.

On the field he grabbed the hose from a member of the ground crew and sprinkled the home plate area.

Finally he was back in the dressing room. Most of his teammates were gone.

Unlike most super stars who rush to leave after such an ordeal, Banks sat back to enjoy his great moment with four lingering members of the press.

"Oh, I'll call my wife and tell her to get the kids ready and we'll all go out and have a nice quiet dinner somewhere," said Banks.

"It wasn't until 1957 or 1958 I began to loosen up," said

Banks, a $25,000 bargain picked up by the Cubs from the Kansas City Monarchs in 1953.

"Yes, I was once worried about my career reaching an end. That was in 1963 when I ran into eye trouble. Mr. Wrigley (Cub owner P.K. Wrigley) had me come back from St. Louis to have my eyes examined. I started then to think I might be reaching the end of the line.

"But things worked out. In 1966 I didn't hit my weight in spring training and got off to a Star break I went up to Wisconsin with some friends and the family and relaxed. I got loose and finished strong," added Banks.

BEST OF ALL ENTRIES — Miss Countdown Loben, a Pembroke Welsh Corgi, owned by Ben Jernigan and shown here by Mrs. Jernigan, was judged 'best in show' at the Amistad Kennel Club's first AKC Plan sanctioned match held in Del Rio earlier this month. Chip Atkins (left) of San Antonio was a judge in the meet. The Jernigans reside at 707 E. 16th St., here. The show attracted some 80 entries. COLORFUL CAREER T's Father Dies At Age Of 78

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — In his lifetime, Clark Shaughnessy could never quite squelch an aphorism — that he was the father of the T-formation in football. He was, however, undeniably the father of the modern T-attack.

Saughnessy, who devoted six decades of his life to the sport as a player, coach and counselor, died in Santa Monica Hospital Friday. Death at 78 came from natural causes.

Messages of regret and condolence poured in Saturday to his home here, the office of the Los Angeles Rams, whom he coached successfully in 1949. And they came from all parts of the nation because Clark Shaughnessy left his knowledge and genius in many places.

Funeral Services will be conducted Wednesday afternoon at Pierce Bros. Mortuary in Santa Monica.

Saughnessy's college coaching career following his varsity playing years at Minnesota began at Tulane University in New Orleans.

It was at Stanford, however, in 1940 that Shaughnessy reached the summit of his success as a college mentor.

He took a team of much the same personnel that had lost nine games the year before, and led it to the Rose Bowl and defeated a good Nebraska team, 21-13.

The magic key was the T. Shaughnessy was the first to say the T was really the oldest formation in football. What he did was simply to rejuvenate it, dust it off and counter-attack the general single and double wing maneuvers. The T-explosion followed around the country.

The Shaughnessy-Stanford story had a Cinderella theme. Shaughnessy's coaching post at Chicago vanished when football was erased from the UC campus.

Friends introduced Clark to Stanford athletic officials. The marriage followed. Two losers made history.

It was during his 1933-39 years at Chicago that Shaughnessy formed a close friendship with George Halas, the founder and owner of the Chicago Bears.

From 1951 through 1962 Shaughnessy was on the Bears' coaching staff as a technical advisor. Not too well is it known that Shaughnessy was not only a wizard on offense but defense as well.

Felts Calls Conference Of Teen-Age Managers

Jimmy Felts Jr., commissioner of the Teen-Age Baseball Association, has called a meeting of all managers of the two leagues for 7:30 p.m., Monday, in the Reddy-Room at the Texas Electric Service Company building.

All interested parents of players have an invitation to be on hand, too, Felts stated.

Several items pertinent to the association will be discussed and schedules for both leagues will be passed out.

In addition, membership cards for the players will be distributed to the managers.

Present plans call for the leagues to open play May 29.

Opening day ceremonies will be staged Saturday night, May 30, Felts said.

Managers have been appointed for the five Hi-Junior and eight Sophomore league teams. About 85 boys will be involved in the Hi-Junior circuit while 140 boys will play in the Soph league.

The Optimists, managed by John Newman, won the Hi-Junior league championship last summer while Al Valdes' Rebels were the titlists in the Soph circuit.

Both Newman and Valdes are back with the same teams this year.

But when they lose control drinking, they often lose control driving.

It's not hard to see how each year, problem drinkers are involved in killing at least 25,000 of us on our highways. What is hard to see is why we keep letting them.

Finch To Defend His Leadership

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Welfare Robert H. Finch, once regarded as the most effective liberal Republican voice in the Nixon administration, has called a mass meeting of his employees Monday to defend the quality of his leadership.

Finch, it was learned, plans to reply to complaints that he has allowed the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, kingdom of domestic agencies, to drift and has abdicated responsibility to speak out against what dissidents within the department regard as the rightward lean of the administration.

Finch's difficulties are another indication of unrest in the federal establishment, especially since President Nixon's move into Cambodia and the slaying of four students at Kent State University.

Among other things, Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel's letter urging Nixon to seek better communications with the young was leaked to the press, the President's youth director resigned, and more than 800 government employees turned out for a rally on the Capitol steps to protest the Vietnam war.

Monday's meeting at the Welfare Department stems from an employe petition two months ago asking Finch for public justification of the administration's civil rights policies. It came after the ouster of Leon Panetta as head of the civil rights enforcement office, and Panetta's charge that White House aides were bringing pressure on the department to ease up on forcing desegregation of Southern school districts.

Concerns have since expanded. The 4 p.m. session now is expected to cover, in addition to civil rights, student unrest, the rhetoric of Vice President Spiro T. Agnew's speeches and communication with the young.

Six From Here Due Degrees From NTSU

DENTON — Six Big Spring students are among 1,072 seniors who have applied for bachelor's degrees at North Texas State University.

Spring commencement exercises are scheduled for 8 p.m. June 3 at Fouts Field.

They are Gloria Jean Ballou, Thomas Daniel Brown, Leahmon Foster Bryant, Suzanne Gillespie, Terry J. Proctor, and Russell R. Wilkinson Jr.

Miss Ballou, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Ballou, 2501 Carol, is a candidate for a bachelor of science degree in elementary education.

Brown is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weiland W. Brown, 6 September Trail, and is a candidate for a bachelor of science degree in industrial arts.

Bryant, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Bryant Jr., 1602 Tucson Road, is a candidate for a bachelor of business administration degree in management.

Miss Gillespie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gillespie, 2905 Hunter's Glen, and is a candidate for a bachelor of arts degree in art.

Proctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Proctor, 3210 Drexel, is a candidate for a bachelor of arts degree in English.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Talmadge E. Bolding Sr., 2413 Morrison Drive, Wilkinson is a candidate for a bachelor of science degree in psychology.

Salvation Army Feeding Throngs In Storm Area

The Salvation Army is serving an average of 7,000 meals per day in tornado stricken Lubbock, according to the organization's state commander, Colonel Paul Thornburg at Dallas.

Feeding is carried out in damaged residential areas where people are clearing debris and have no way to prepare meals. This includes meals being served to law enforcement agencies, fire department personnel, and service personnel.

Canned goods, packaged foods and clothing are being distributed at Salvation Army headquarters in Lubbock. A clothing receiving and sorting center has been set up at the cotton warehouse.

The Army has been operating on a 24-hour basis. From Dallas, Fort Worth, Midland, Abilene, Borger, Littlefield, Big Spring, Plainview, San Angelo, Clovis, New Mexico, and Shreveport, La., came five feeding vans and eight support vehicles, 20 officers and 30 support personnel.

Washington, the proceedings from the Departmental Auditorium, which seats only 580, will be broadcast into various departmental cafeterias.

In a preview Friday, Finch met with about 75 young employees "to open the channels of communication," according to a department spokesman.

Interviews with men close to the secretary disclosed almost universal agreement that Finch allowed policy questions to slide because of intense preoccupation with politics in his home state of California. They say that on several occasions in the past six months, Finch was one step away from declaring his candidacy for the Senate seat held by his long-time political friend, George Murphy. Finch has heatedly denied this.

Finch's difficulties are another indication of unrest in the federal establishment, especially since President Nixon's move into Cambodia and the slaying of four students at Kent State University.

Among other things, Secretary of the Interior Walter J. Hickel's letter urging Nixon to seek better communications with the young was leaked to the press, the President's youth director resigned, and more than 800 government employees turned out for a rally on the Capitol steps to protest the Vietnam war.

Panther, Death Tie-In Probed

HARDEEVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Sheriff J. P. Raymond of Jasper County says the possibility of Black Panther connections and a tie-in with a Florida slaying are being investigated in the aftermath of a robbery attempt here which left two men dead.

The sheriff gave this account: John R. Bazemore, 49, the proprietor of a fireworks store, and Coleman Miller, 19, one of his alleged assailants, were fatally wounded Friday.

Bazemore was shot by one of three persons who came into the store and demanded money, and James Wood, 16, Bazemore's employe, killed one of the trio with a shotgun blast.

The other two fled in an automobile with Florida license plates, but were apprehended at a roadblock.

One of the two being held claimed to be 17 and the other said he was 15. But Sheriff Raymond said the identities they gave may be false, and that several sets of fictitious identification papers were found in the automobile.

The sheriff said that in the car were Black Panther leaflets and a number of weapons, including a sawed-off shotgun, two sawed-off rifles and several pistols.

Raymond said officers from Broward County, Fla., are expected to question the two about the slaying of an insurance collector at Fort Lauderdale on May 5.

Falsely Jailed, Gets Big Verdict

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge Friday entered a final judgment in a case which gives a former county prisoner $25,500 in damages against Sheriff C. V. Kern.

William Whirl, 48, of Houston sued the sheriff for damages for false imprisonment in 1961 and 1962. Whirl had been charged with a felony but the charges were dropped shortly after filing. However, the sheriff's office was not notified of the dropping of charges, according to trial testimony, for an additional nine months.

Friends of Sheriff Kern have donated about $15,000 so far to help him pay the judgment.

Westbrook JP

WESTBROOK (SC) — George T. Sweatt is the new justice of peace for Precinct 2, Westbrook. He was appointed recently to fill the unexpired term of J. W. Plummer, who resigned. The appointment by the commissioners court is effective June 1.

Draws Death In 'Hot' Seat

McKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — A jury has assessed Herman Calvin Smith death in the electric chair for killing Milligan Ray Burk, 30, a McKinney policeman, last Jan. 30. The verdict was returned Friday, the climax of a shootout following what appeared to be a routine disturbance call at a residence.

10-B Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Sun., May 17, 1970

Burk, at the police station a half hour before time to report, went with patrolman Tommy Lee Ashley, to answer the disturbance complaint. As they arrived, two men opened fire. Burk was shot in the chest and Ashley was hit in the abdomen.

Ashley was able to return the fire and wounded one of the men inside. Both were captured.

THE POET HAS SAID that one is closest to God in a garden, and working in the soil has long been recommended as a fine source of serenity. Chaplain (Ret.) and Mrs. C. O. Hitt welcome the extra time in their garden which his recent retirement has afforded them. Here, they join forces to do what is needed for their prize snapdragons.

PEOPLE WHO ARE still productive after middle age are generally those who are happiest. At right, Mrs. W. E. Ford, a professional seamstress, completes handwork on a beautiful wedding gown which is her speciality. Working at home, she can continue her profession and still be with her mother, Mrs. I. B. Cauble, 94, who has recently been confined to bed. Shown below are Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rust who celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in April. Retirement has not meant a slowing down for these active people; it has only given them more time to do the things they enjoy. Crafts take up a lot of their time, and here, his wife watches as Mr. Rust prepares a frame to make one of his decorative pillow tops.

PREPARING TO BOARD the "Circuit Wagon" following a sewing session at Big Spring State Hospital, where they mend clothes for the fashion shop are Mrs. Justin Holmes, Mrs. Beulah Morrison, Mrs. W. A. Turner and, in the car, Mrs. Alberta Elam. All are long-time volunteers of the hospital. The Volunteer Council sponsors a program of service funded by the Governor's Committee on Aging that has been in operation for three years. Other volunteers who serve weekly in the program are from Snyder, Colorado City and Lamesa.

"The Good Years"

The golden years — the great years — the days of doing as one desires. Past the life pattern that put everything else before personal fulfillment. The rest after the rearing. The reward for duty done. The pause for a little pleasure.

It has become a national tradition to designate the month of May each year as the time to give recognition to older Americans, that part of the population which has made life better for the younger generation.

Many such people, most of retirement age, are like those pictured today. They have provided for the years when they could turn the reins over to eager, younger hands, and have long looked forward to pursuing a neglected hobby or avocation.

There are others who have not planned so wisely, or through no fault of their own, find themselves unoccupied and unhappy. It is this group which President Richard Nixon was considering when he said, "For too long we have lacked a GOLFERS GET TOGETHER on any likely-looking day — and in West Texas, that means almost every day. The game is one that most men appreciate having more time for — so it's nice when work doesn't interfere with play. Chipping onto a green at the Municipal Golf Course is Erwin Daniel, and the foursome is completed by Alden Thomas, Pat Allen and Miller Harris. Usually joining the group, but not shown, are Horace Beene and O. L. Nabors.

TO MARRY — Mr. and Mrs. M. (Acorn) Bohanan of Stanton have announced the engagement of their daughter, Billie Louise, to Larkin Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Martin of Houston. The couple will be married July 4 at the Courtney Baptist Church. The Rev. T. L. Pond will officiate.

President Schedules Conference On Aging

national policy and commitment to provide adequate services and opportunities for older people."

It is with this thought in mind that President Nixon proclaimed May as Senior Citizens Month with the theme, "Older Americans Speak to the Nation — Prologue to the 1971 White House Conference on Aging." He noted that in meeting the challenge of rapidly changing society, older Americans have gained invaluable experience.

"We ask them to draw on this fund of knowledge to create a better and more enriching life in the later years," he said. To assure success of the conference, he urged local governments, voluntary organizations and private groups to arrange community forums or other appropriate meetings where older citizens might come together to express their views and voice their needs.

In Texas, Gov. Preston Smith also gave older citizens special recognition, commending senior citizen centers for "their unceasing efforts in the fight to overcome boredom, loneliness and isolation in older members of the community; for their constant struggle in the uplifting of spirit, body and mind; and for their earnest desire to firmly establish the conviction that older persons are talented, contributing members of today's society."

In furthering these ideas on a local level, interested persons last year formed the Howard County Committee on Aging. Its members are Chap. A. C. Hicks, Mrs. W. R. Cashion, Lee Porter, Harold Canning, Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Rev. James P. Delaney, Mrs. Fred Hyer, B. M. Keese, Leon M. Kinney, John P. Clancy Jr., Coy R. Burt, Mrs. R. C. Thomas, Jack Powell, Rev. R.

L. Parramore, Byron M. Nugent, Mrs. Arnold Marshall, Mrs. Jack Margolis, Miss Bessie Love, Mrs. Mary Cochran, Mrs. J. T. Baird, Rev. Robert S. Knutson and Mrs. Delaine Crawford.

The group's aim is to discover particular concerns of older people; their needs in the areas of health, income, housing, employment and education; the roles they can fill and the activities which interest them; ways they may achieve spiritual well-being; and resources they have available for meeting their needs.

Statistics show that about 75 per cent of the nation's older people are not limited in mobility by chronic condition and that their life expectancy far surpasses that of the preceding generation. Yet, in 1968, about a quarter of all older persons were living in households with incomes below the poverty line for that type and size of family. White persons make up 92 per cent of the older population, and half of them had only an elementary schooling or less. There are 135 older women with every 100 older men — with the ratio increasing. Most older women are widows. Seven of every ten older persons live in families; about a quarter live alone or with non-relatives. Only one in 20 lives in an institution.

In plan with the White House Conference, older people will serve on the Advisory Committee to the Conference, testify at hearings and be among delegates to the conference, slated Nov. 29 to Dec. 3, 1971.

Girls Urged To Register For Summer Day Camp

Day camp — just like any other camp except girls do not stay in it overnight — is being planned for girls in this area for early June.

While it is being sponsored and directed by Girl Scout leaders, the camp is open to all girls regardless of whether they are members.

Dates for the camp will be June 8-12, and the site of the old Seven Sells south of Big Spring will be the site for what has been named Camp Flintstone. Hours will be from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Any girl who will be in the second grade or above is invited to attend.

Fee for the affair is $3 for registered Girl Scouts and $3.50 for non-members.

Registration deadline is May 25 in order that leaders may make preparation, acquire supplies, etc. Any girl or parent interested is urged to call Mrs. Bill Fryrear at 391-5517 or Mrs. Dale Young at 391-5534.

"If you know of any girls who would like to make new friends, cook a meal outdoors, go on a hike, learn new songs and some nature crafts, along with games and many other exciting and happy activities, please call us," said Mrs. Fryrear, director.

Mrs. Melvin Brown is in charge of nature crafts, Mrs. Jean Rorick, arts and crafts; Mrs. Tom Ivey, equipment; Mrs. Young, business affairs.

Wildflower Tour Taken By Society

The Big Spring and Comanche Trail Park were toured Thursday by members of Permian Basin Medical Auxiliary Society. Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper and Mrs. Floyd Mays took members on an identification tour of wildflowers.

Refreshments were served at the Comanche pavilion by Mrs. George Peacock, Mrs. Jack Woodall and Mrs. M. W. Black. Mrs. C. F. Kennamond was a guest.

New officers elected were Mrs. Robert Tinley, president; Mrs. James Kreimeyer, treasurer; and Mrs. Milton W. Talbot Jr., secretary. The society adjourned until the fall.

Builders Must Avoid Swindlers

With ready financing for home improvements and less ready funds for new construction, many families fix up their old homes rather than move to new ones. This current trend to home modernization support a big, growing business.

Legitimate home improvement activity grows, but so does the number of complaints against home improvement and repair schemes. Of the $7.5 billion spent each year on home improvements, more than $1 billion finds its way into the pockets of gypsies.

Miss Cynthia Birdwell Honored At Bridal Tea

A bridal tea honoring Miss Cynthia Birdwell, bride-elect of John Marshall of Salt Lake City, Utah, was held Friday from 3 to 5 p.m. at Big Spring Country Club. The couple plans to be married May 31 in St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. R.B.G. Cowper, Mrs. Pete Rhymes, Mrs. Gene Nabors, Mrs. Roger Brown, Mrs. Ralph Caton, Mrs. Rich Anderson, Mrs. Donald B. Williams and Mrs. Milton W. Talbot Jr.

Guests were registered at a table accented with an arrangement of yellow candles and daisies. The tea table was covered by a white cutwork cloth with spring green underlay and centered with white daisies. The appointments were crystal and silver.

Luncheon Honors Miss Susan Cape

A luncheon honoring Susan Cape, Big Spring High School graduating senior, was held at noon Saturday in the home of Mrs. Adrian Randle, 1903 Mittel. Mrs. Don Wiley was cohostess. The 18 guests were seated at quartet tables decorated in colors of gold, orange, blue and green. Each table was centered with a potted plant of crepe paper flowers topped with a tiny bookworm wearing a graduation cap.

Mrs. James Cape, Susan's mother, presented each of the guests with a miniature diploma bearing an individual prophecy. The honoree was given an autograph hound signed by the guests.

Altrusans Host Party For Boys

Mrs. G. C. Broughton, president of the Altrusa Club, presided at the Thursday business meeting and luncheon at Coker's Restaurant. Luncheon tables were decorated with baskets of flowers by Mrs. Ruby Billings.

An invitation was read from the Altrusa Club inviting Big Spring members to attend a convention May 21-23. Mrs. Mildred Vanderford reported that she and Mrs. Willard Hendricks served at the Boys Club birthday party in April. Mrs. Hendricks reported on the Altrusa Club workshop in Lubbock that she recently attended. The workshop dealt with "Reddy Kilowatt." The next meeting will be May 28 with a program on community service.

Heat cider with a few cloves and a stick of cinnamon. Pour into warm mugs, add a lemon slice stuck with a clove and cinnamon stick to each.

We appreciate the notes from former Big Spring residents who have been away from here many years but wrote to learn how their friends in Lubbock might have fared from the Monday tornado. From Malibu, Calif., MRS. ERNIE KEEFFER (Louise Hayes) and from Houston, MRS. PAUL DROUET (Elizabeth Northington) were interested about former Big Spring people who now make their home in Lubbock.

First Baptist Church groups entertained for MR. and MRS.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Ask The Cook: Do You Know What Recipe Ingredients Do?

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
County HD Agent

Included in the information in this column last week were the directions for making yeast bread. Some of the advantages of the method that were discussed included:

—No need to dissolve the yeast
—No worry about water temperature
—No risk of killing the yeast

—Electric hand beater or mixer used for speed and ease
—Superior results can be achieved with little effort

—use the rapid mix method with any recipe!

1. Measure all of the ingredients for your favorite recipe. (Be sure to include the water you usually use to dissolve the yeast.)

2. Thoroughly mix undissolved yeast with 1-3 of the flour and all other dry ingredients.

3. Heat liquids with the margarine over low heat until warm. (Margarine does not need to melt.)

4. Add liquids to dry ingredients. Beat for two minutes at medium speed of electric mixer, scraping bowl occasionally.

5. Add about 1/2 cup flour, or enough flour to make a thin batter. If eggs are used, add here. Beat on high speed for two minutes, scraping bowl occasionally.

6. Stir in additional flour required and proceed with preparation according to recipe directions.

Each ingredient in a bread recipe is very important. By understanding a little about the role of each individual ingredient in the recipe you will be able to understand the process of making breads with yeast.

YEAST Yeast is a living plant. It is the leavening in breads and rolls which makes them rise and makes them light. It is available in active dry yeast or compressed yeast (fresh active). If dry yeast picks up moisture it will lose its stability so it must be kept dry. Compressed yeast is perishable and must be kept in the refrigerator.

FLOUR The all-purpose flour in your grocery store is wheat flour. This is used for bread baking because it contains gluten. When flour is stirred and kneaded with liquid the gluten stretches. This forms the elastic framework that holds the gas bubbles produced by the yeast. For the recipes in this lesson, it is not necessary to sift regular flour, and you may use instant blending flour. To measure, spoon the flour into the cup or pour into cup. Level it off with a spatula or a straight edged knife. Do not tap or shake the flour down before leveling.

Why does the same recipe for bread or rolls need 5 1/2 cups of flour one day and 6 1/2 cups the next time I make it? Flours differ from one time of the year to another. Humidity can change the amount of flour needed in a recipe, too.

BUYMANSHIP TIPS All-purpose flour is the flour to be used in most recipes calling for "flour," when no specific kind is mentioned. It is made of a combination of hard and soft flours, producing a wide range of products, including yeast breads, quick breads, cakes, cookies, and pastries.

ENRICHMENT During the milling process of white flour, all the bran and germ are removed in a process known as refining. This process significantly reduces the vitamin content of the flour. To offset this nutritive loss, most refined flour is fortified or enriched with thiamine, riboflavin, niacin, and iron. The addition of the B vitamins that are normal components of wheat is important because this enrichment once again makes bread and flour products made with enriched flour a useful source of these important vitamins. Enrichment does not change the taste, color, texture, baking quality, or caloric value of the flour.

LIQUID Milk, water, and water in which potatoes have been cooked are the usual liquids used in breads and rolls. Fresh liquid milk, evaporated milk, or reconstituted dry milk all give good results. It should be warmed before using. Unpasteurized milk needs to be pasteurized and cooled before using. Water makes bread crusty. Milk gives them a soft crust and a creamy white crumb.

SUGAR Sugar is the food yeast needs to form the gas that makes the dough or batter rise. It also adds flavor and helps the crust brown. White sugar is usually used, but brown sugar, molasses, or honey can also be used.

SALT Salt brings out the flavor, and it controls the action of the yeast, slowing its rate of gas formation. Plain or iodized salt give equal results.

FAT Margarine, butter, salad or cooking oils, hydrogenated shortening or lard makes breads tender, keep them soft, and give them a soft silky crust.

EGGS Eggs add food value, color and flavor. They also help make the crumb fine and the crust tender.

OTHER INGREDIENTS Seasonings — herbs and spices, nuts and fruits, add flavor to breads, rolls and coffeecake.

JUDGE BREAD

APPEARANCE AND CRUST A loaf of bread should have an evenly rounded top, be symmetrical in size with no bulges or bumps. The "bread and shred" between top and side should be uniform. All breads should be crisp and tender.

INTERIOR COLOR AND TEXTURE. Color should be uniform, depending upon the type flour, liquid, sweetening and other ingredients. There should be no light or dark streaks. The holes should be small and uniform.

CRUMB The crumb should feel soft. A tender, moist crumb will tear easily, showing uniform texture.

AROMA The characteristic yeast smell should be detectable in cold bread, even though it is much more pronounced when the bread is hot.

FLAVOR Breads should taste as good cold as when they are hot.

Pre-Nuptial Shower Is Held For Miss Gross

A pre-nuptial gift shower was held Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Mike McCreary, 1306 Wood, for Miss Sandra Gross, bride-elect of Donnie Phillips. Cohostesses were Mrs. Curtis Nichols, Miss Linda Halfmann of Garden City, Miss Sherry Cozart of Lamesa, and Miss Sharon Roman, Mrs. Mary Lewis, Miss Vicky Wallin, Miss Mischa Reid, Miss Phyllis Wynn, Miss Twila Wall, Miss Cathy Evans and Miss Charla Meacham, all of Coahoma.

A lace cloth and blue underlay covered the refreshment table which was decorated in shades of blue. The centerpiece was a bridal party arrangement. Streamers extended from the fan skirt of the bridal doll to doves at the corners of the table. Appointments were crystal and silver.

Miss Gross, attired in a royal blue A-line dress, was presented a corsage of blue gladiolus. Her mother, Mrs. Ted Gross of Sand Springs, and her fiancée's mother, Mrs. Earl Phillips of Loraine, received rosebud corsages. Among the out-of-town guests was the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. L. C. Stoval of Stanton.

The couple plans to be married June 20 in the First Baptist Church at Loraine.

New Group To Probe Learning Disabilities

The Big Spring Council of the Texas Association for Children With Learning Disabilities was organized Thursday at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Twenty-five parents, educators and interested professional people indicated their goal would be to encourage diagnosis, treatment and educational services for children in all grade levels with learning disabilities.

Dr. Harold Smith outlined the program already underway at the rehabilitation center for those youngsters referred by the public schools. Mrs. Paul Campbell detailed the results of the recent testing of five-year-olds in three local kindergartens. Twenty-five per cent of those tested will be followed with additional examinations. The group designated a steering committee to nominate officers and committee chairmen. Line programs for the coming year. The steering group includes Mrs. Bob Daniel, chairman; Mrs. Roscoe Newell, Mrs. E. A. Guinn, Mrs. Jack Parrott, Mrs. C. B. Baker and Miss Dolly Wilkins. Your 'Out-Go' Gone? Better Check In-Take

Do you eat too much or too little? Are you a nibbler? A snacker? Do you eat only bread and butter or forget to eat at all?

No matter what age — young, mature or "old" — people must eat right to feel their best. Eating to feel better requires many good tasting foods. Eat regularly three or more times a day. This gives less heart strain and you don't get so hungry. Eat all kinds of foods for about 60 nutrients the body needs and uses.

Bread and butter is fine, but a little bite of chicken, a few swallows of milk and some tomato juice is even finer. Why? Because this gives us food from the basic four food groups. These are the meat, milk, bread-cereal and vegetable-fruit group.

All your life, these foods are needed to keep you going and in good shape so you can enjoy children, grandchildren, family, friends, and above all, yourself. The milk group includes milk and milk products. Milk comes in many forms — fresh, whole, skimmed, buttermilk, canned and dried. Also included are milk products such as processed cheddar cream and cottage cheese and ice cream. Two or three glasses of milk daily insure healthy bones.

The meat group is an important source of protein and includes meat, fish, poultry, eggs and alternates such as dry beans and peas, lentils and nuts. Protein is needed for growth and repair of body tissue. Muscles, organs, blood, skin and hair are all made up of protein.

Vegetables and fruit have important minerals and vitamins, and some of the minerals prevent anemia. A poor intake of foods rich in vitamins may result in poor appetite, impaired absorption, constipation or general weakness. You do not need vitamin pills unless you fail to get enough in your food. In this case, a doctor should prescribe them.

Cereal products, when made from whole grain or enriched with added vitamins and minerals, provide significant amounts of iron, thiamin, riboflavin and niacin.

Don't forget to drink plenty of water every day. Water helps digestion and absorption of foods and helps prevent constipation.

Food Association Names New Slate

Mrs. E. R. Wright presided for a Thursday meeting of the Big Spring School Food Association. Mrs. E. R. Williamson was installed as president, Mrs. Pat Arista, president-elect; Mrs. Garvin Sims, secretary; and Mrs. Raymond Garcia, treasurer. The ceremony was conducted by Mrs. Florence Crow of Odessa, District Four president, and a money corsage was presented to Mrs. Wright.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a gold cloth and appointed with silver. The centerpiece was a spring floral arrangement. The group will not meet again until September.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stewart, 411 Lancaster, announce the engagement of their daughter, Glenda Kay, to Gary D. Kelley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Kelley, 1203 Settles. The wedding will be June 12 in the Carl Street Church of Christ with Ronnie Sellers officiating.

Art Group Announces New Slate

Big Spring Art Association met Thursday evening at Big Spring Country with Mrs. A. B. West as hostess. Mrs. Bob Eisler, Mrs. Mabel Kountz and Mrs. Richard Porter were introduced as guests.

New members welcomed were Mrs. Michael Back and Mrs. DeForest Frazier.

New officers are Mrs. Daryle Hohertz, president; Mrs. W. L. Patton, first vice president; Mrs. West, second vice president; Mrs. Dawson DeViney, secretary; Mrs. Frank Hartley, treasurer; and Mrs. Ruby Bruns, publicity. Goodwill committee members are Mrs. Bismarck Shaffer and Mrs. M. R. Siverling.

The Southwestern Area Art Show will be May 31 through June 21 at the Museum of the Southwest in Midland. Barry Phillips, art instructor at Howard Payne College, will judge.

He said approximately 50 youngsters have worked three hours each on the project. The building is scheduled to receive a fresh coat of paint Monday.

The clean-up campaign was spearheaded by Raul Paradez, Tyrone Miller and Raymond Lopez. Workers included Emzie Woodward, Octavia Loyla, Frankie Rubio, Robert Aldridge, Jo Perkins, Danny Sherman and Greg Gossett.

Charlie Merritt, Lakeview board president, and Rosetta Brown, Ever Ready Civic and Art Club president, rounded up adult workers; and Rev. A. J. Adams and Odder Johnson recruited helpers from the younger generation.

A Devotion For Today . . .

You shall receive power when the Holy Spirit has come upon you; and you shall be my witness. (Acts 1:8, RSV)

PRAYER: Our Father, we are tired of life as it has been, and hopeful for what life can become through Christ. Forgive our blindness and our shunning of Thy love, our failures and our sins. We ask Thee to receive us and use us for the fulfillment of Thy purposes. Amen.

Got A Thing Going

Several events of the past week have suggested that things are looking up.

First, the announcement that Intech is locating a plant here for manufacture of polystyrene food, meat and egg containers was a psychological as well as an economic shot. It represents a break-through by the Industrial Foundation, which by the way, is working real hard on one or two other mighty warm prospects. It also represents an industry utilizing an important item in the stable of products by Cosden. Finally, it is the sort of a modern industry which has capacity for growth.

In somewhat the same vein, Datamate Computer Systems announced the production of a new compact model which possesses amazing versatility despite its small size, and which is priced within reach of quite modest business operations.

Another development was the creation of a county-wide hospital authority as an initial step toward filing an application for a federal grant to be put with a revenue bond issue to finance a $2.6 expansion program.

Local interests acquired most stock held by out-of-town owners, and two new directors here were named to the First National Bank board.

Howard County Junior College trustees were told that prospects are excellent that the college may at last get its facilities grant when the new federal fiscal year starts in July. This may mean that a start on the urgently-needed vocational-technical building is in the offing.

And on the general business front, many — not all — merchants and dealers reported an upturn in April, and the business climate in general was encouraging.

That good three-inch rain (or even a hard thunderstorm to put out stock water and replenish lakes) would really put frosting on the cake.

Nevertheless, we have some momentum going, and this is a good time to keep it rolling.

Somebody Cares

In recent days several recognition affairs have honored volunteer workers on several fronts.

The Red Cross chapter cited several individuals who have given several years of unstinted service to add up to one lifetime. The VA Hospital recognized a large number with an impressive total of hours, one of whom has given more than 5,000; another over 3,000 hours. Previously, the Big Spring State Hospital paid tributes to its corps of volunteers who habitually give untold hours of service of a kind money can't buy. (And this doesn't include those who have labored so fruitfully and full of faith to virtually assure an All-Faith Chapel.)

In these beleaguered times, it is easy to get the idea that nobody cares anymore. Nonsense! Just look at what our volunteers do.

Taking Away Presidential Powers

WASHINGTON — For the first time in American history, the Senate Foreign Relations Committee has ignored not only the spirit but also the letter of the Constitution. It has approved an amendment to a bill which, if accepted by the Senate and the House, would deprive the commander-in-chief of the armed forces — namely, the President — of his power to conduct military operations. In the midst of a war, a congressional committee recommends a law to withhold funds unless its methods and restrictions are followed.

THE PRINCIPLE is important to the security of the United States, which has joined with other countries — twice in Europe and twice in Asia — to prevent communism from taking over small countries and eventually dominating the free world.

By a vote of 9 to 4, the Senate committee has begun to say to the President that no matter what contingencies may arise, he must pursue a specified course with respect to Cambodia. He is being told to follow the rules outlined by the committee in connection with operations that the President feels are necessary to protect the remaining American troops in South Vietnam.

NOBODY KNOWS just what the North Vietnamese may do after a substantial number of American combat troops have been withdrawn from South Vietnam. There is a possibility that attacks will be launched from bases in Cambodia and North Vietnam, and that the South Vietnamese will need all the help they can get in thwarting them. The President, as commander-in-chief, needs a free hand in dealing with military contingencies. This has always been the rule.

THE AMENDMENT voted by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee would bar not only the use of U.S. combat troops in Cambodia but the employment of American advisers and instructors. The President, however, has to look at the problem on a long-range basis. He must be sure that the American troops who are left in Vietnam for the time being are not threatened by any major offensive, for this could mean the loss of many lives.

MR. NIXON has said that by July 1 our troops will be out of Cambodia. The enemy has not started any offensives that could interfere with such a decision, but, in a war, nobody knows when or from what direction an attack may come. This is why the commander-in-chief must have the widest discretion in the use of troops and equipment.

INTERFERENCE by Congress in the actual operation of the armed forces is a serious thing at any time. But nowadays the Communists can derive much encouragement from such a situation. They may feel inclined to take chances on the theory that the President will not dare to return any troops to Vietnam once they have been removed. A big assault might therefore be launched by Hanoi against the remaining Americans and the South Vietnamese after a major part of the U.S. forces have been withdrawn.

There has been plenty of opposition in Congress by isolationists before wars began. But during a war no attempts have been made actually to impair military movements or the use of armies or navies. This has been left to the judgment of the commander-in-chief.

Economic Signs Wiggle Back And Forth

By JOHN HENRY
NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices over the past week fell sharply but then made a strong comeback.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks jumped 17.43 to 702.22. The Dow had not gained as much since April 8, 1968, when it closed 18.61 points ahead.

The surge followed Thursday's performance when the Dow average skidded to 684.79 after having fallen below the 700 level in nearly seven years.

The drop came after a more gradual slide that saw the paper value of common stocks traded on the New York Stock Exchange decline by $139 billion from $692 billion in the period from December, 1968, to end of April.

"DON'T KNOW"
Investors, confronted with the biggest market losses since World War II, were completely demoralized, many analysts said.

Some brokers were equally pessimistic. "My customers keep asking me when the sell-off is going to end," said one. "I tell them the truth. I tell them I don't know."

Many factors appeared to contribute to the demoralization gripping the financial community. These included the U.S. involvement in Cambodia, the prospect of intensified conflict in the Middle East and continued unrest among the nation's youth.

On the bright side, the government reported Monday that wholesale prices in April held stable for the first time in 18 months. The drop was due mainly to a decline in food prices.

STEEL PRICES UP
Not so encouraging to inflation fighters was the news that United States Steel Corp., the industry leader, was increasing its basic steel price by 4.7 per cent. The products involved account for at least 30 per cent of total industry shipments and are used in such consumer products as automobiles and refrigerators.

Bethlehem, the industry's second largest producer, had announced a similar increase last month.

Industry observers believed that, in view of the moves by the two biggest companies, the rest of the industry would follow.

The Commerce Department reported Tuesday that business inventories in March rose slightly in February while sales declined. The slump in sales was the sharpest decline—$1.07 billion — since a $1.24 billion drop last November.

SALES DROP OFF
Sales in the first quarter declined $1.6 billion from the fourth-quarter level last year, the first decline since the first quarter of 1967.

The automobile industry reported a 22.9 per cent decline in car sales on a daily rate basis in the first 10 days of May. This represented the sharpest drop in daily sales for a reporting period since October, 1967, when there was a Ford Motor Co. strike.

The government indicated during the past week it was opposed to import quotas despite a rising tide of support for protectionism. Carl J. Gilbert, President Nixon's chief trade official, said the administration disapproved of legislated import quotas on textiles and shoes.

UNCERTAIN

- Stock market hits seven-year low, then rallies strongly
- Wholesale prices steady as food declines slightly
- U. S. steel boosts prices on 30 pct. of its output
- Inventories rise as sales decline during first quarter
- Auto sales in early May dip sharpest since 1967

MISTRIAL DECLARED

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A mistrial has been declared in Mayor Joseph L. Alioto's $12.5-million libel suit against Look magazine for an article linking him with the Mafia. The mayor says he will seek a speedy new trial.

The mistrial was declared Friday by U.S. District Court Judge Bruce Thompson after the jury, which deliberated 23½ hours, reported an 8-4 deadlock in Look's favor.

A unanimous verdict is required in federal libel cases.

Alioto said he will seek a speedy retrial, adding: "Because I am a public official, it was necessary to prove a lot more than if I had been a private citizen. We'll win next time."

The article, in last Sept. 23's edition, said the mayor was "enmeshed in a web of alliances" with at least six members of the Mafia.

To Your Good Health

Should Babies Get Extra Water?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: How much and how often should babies and small children be offered liquids other than their daily milk? I always felt they received pretty much what they needed from milk and foods, but a friend says children need to be offered water constantly because it is good for the kidneys.—Mrs. M.J.

The average normal baby gets enough fluid from milk (whether breast milk or formula) for ordinary needs, including even moderate hot weather, milk fever, or milk intestinal upset.

Your good judgment should take care of extra needs, as in extended hot weather, and keep in mind that a baby will need more water if its food intake is inadequate — but in that case the baby needs attention other than just getting enough water.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Besides being an eyesore, to what extent are pigeon droppings in a building detrimental to health?—A.C.

Bird droppings can be a source of psittacosis or "parrot fever," and that applies not only to pigeons but to chickens, ducks, and other birds. In cleaning out a pigeon loft, henhouse, or whatever, care should be taken not to touch the material and not to reach a dust.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is the skin of chicken harmful?—A.B.P.

Nothing harmful about the skin. However, chicken fat is a saturated fat, and if there is a great deal adhering to the skin, it should be avoided by those concerned over their cholesterol.

Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is nevertheless vital to human life. For this reason, Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim

I Can't Read Your Writing, Either

The other day I was working over a report form with a fellow and suggested, "shouldn't a couple of other lines go here?" I scrawled out the wording.

He took a glance, peered more closely, and finally advised, "I can't read your writing."

THE FIRST impulse was to be incensed. Then I looked, and sure enough I couldn't have read the stuff either, but for memory. Some notes 24 hours old I simply can't deduce.

Which brings us to the last art of penmanship.

A famous American in his 80th year looked in his files and noted that his handwriting had changed since the days of his youth.

HE RECALLED those days when it was the fashion for people to sign their names with a sweeping flourish, with lots of "curlycues."

Of course, as he (and others) climbed the hill of life, they began to simplify life's chores, including a trend toward saving time and effort in writing.

The world has changed, too. In decades past it has shed superfluous decoration not only in handwriting but also in clothes, furniture, typography, literature and all other "excess baggage."

SINCE THEY serve no practical purpose, the doodads that went with penmanship are abandoned by today's man. He has streamlined his automobiles, his buildings, his appliances and his aircraft. All for utility purposes.

So, as one writer put it, decorative handwriting has passed out with over-ornate chandeliers and canopy bedsteads.

This is well enough, but doesn't really solve the issue for people who just can't write legibly and no matter the modern streamlined trends.

OH, YOU SEE a number of people — mostly women, I think — who cling to a precise sense of proportion and beauty in the writing of words and names. This neatness, seen mostly on envelopes addressed for social purposes, evoke reaction from me. First, admiration, second, envy.

There is a suspicion that some businessmen make it a personal thing to develop a signature that is completely illegible but which, in time, is recognized and accepted by the banks which clear his checks.

THIS TOUCH of individuality is acceptable, but I haven't even managed to develop a distinctive signature. It is just a scrawl, pure and simple, with a good deal of messiness and lack of character.

The essence is that very likely most of us do our writing and sign our names in too much of a hurry, so that any care with penmanship goes out the window.

BUT EVEN WE who write and run must pause now and then to note favorably an example of neat, precise and tasteful handwriting.

'Tis an accomplishment once commonly admired and sought after. Today — well, we just don't have the time.

—BOB WHIPKEY

The Science Of Body Counts

WASHINGTON — One of the things that constantly impresses people in Washington is the accuracy of the body counts in Indochina. No part of the war has been handled with as much scientific accuracy as enemy body counting, and we know to the last Commie aggressor how many Viet Cong have been killed each day.

The Office of Enemy Body Counts is located at the Pentagon and has a staff of 23,678 people. The director of OEBC is a civilian named Hammersmith Moody, who could safely be called the "father of enemy body counting."

"WHEN THE WAR first started," Moody said, "body counting was a hit or miss proposition. Our boys would go into an area, shoot up the place, burn down the village and then place in a figure of enemy killed to Saigon. This figure was arrived at by questioning each GI who was in on the operation and asking him, 'How many gooks did you get?'"

"Now, almost every outfit in Vietnam had soldiers from Texas in it, and no matter what the other GIs said, the Texans would insist they got more. So everyone kept escalating the figures and pretty soon there was some question as to how accurate the count was. To further complicate matters, the South Vietnamese troops found out the easiest way to please the American high command in Saigon was to hand in high enemy body counts.

"THE MORE ENEMY the ARVN commander could report dead, the more equipment, medals and promotions he could get for himself and his outfit, and pretty soon South Vietnamese officers were flooding Saigon with exaggerated body count statistics."

"There doesn't seem anything wrong with that," I said. "After all, no one got hurt."

"TRUE," MOODY said. "The complication arose, though, when these figures were reported to the Pentagon and released to the public. At the rate we were reporting enemy deaths, we would have run out of anyone to kill in the first 16 months of the war. How could we justify our staying in Vietnam after we had reported that everyone in North Vietnam was already dead?"

"It isn't easy," I admitted.

"SO I WAS asked to develop a new body count system which would make it possible to prove that we are beating the Communists, at the same time guaranteeing there were enough left to make us keep our commitment."

"How did you do it?"

"We took all the counts submitted by the various units and divided by six."

"But even this figure was too high to announce every day, so we set up what could be called an enemy body count bank. Now when things are going bad and the press and public are getting restless, we release figures from the bank which will prove how well we're doing in Vietnam."

"ARE YOU DOING the same thing in Cambodia?" I asked.

"The emphasis in Cambodia has been on supplies rather than bodies, but we're still getting very high reports from the field. If we can report 10 enemy dead for every ton of rice seized, we'll be very satisfied."

Middle East Is Heating Up

WASHINGTON — The drift in the Middle East at an ever-faster tempo is toward another full-scale war. The worry of those with a long background of knowledge looking on from the outside is that it may already be too late to prevent a disaster.

Two months ago the Nixon Administration announced that the Israeli request to buy more Phantoms, the jet fighter-bomber that is such a superb weapon, would be deferred. At the same time the announcement clearly stated that if a continuing survey of the military balance in the area showed any change the decision on the Phantoms would be reversed.

IN THE ARAB world this was received with the familiar howls of irrationality. Instead of recognizing the element of restraint in the decision, following on Secretary of State William P. Rogers' speech of last December calling for an "even-handed" approach to the Middle East, it was taken as another proof of America's total allegiance to Israel.

Since then another and more alarming element has been introduced in the explosive mix. On April 18 for the first time, according to Israeli sources, Russian pilots flew MIG-21s with Egyptian squadrons. This happened contrary to the belief of most of the Kremlinologists who contended that the Soviet military would not be injected directly so far remote from Soviet borders.

A NEW intelligence appraisal is going forward. The best information available is that the Russians are flying defensive missions over the Nile Delta; Alexandria, which is the Soviet operational center; and the Aswan Dam. They have not yet exchanged fire with Israeli fighters. Therefore, the need at least for the time being is for a cautious approach. This is the position of those who see the danger of making a bad situation impossible.

BUT THE alleged restraint of the Russian pilots is small consolation for the Israelis. It limits their action to the Suez area. Their losses with continuous artillery pounding from the Egyptian side of the canal are such that, despite repeated sorties flown by Israel's pilots, they cannot indefinitely hold that line. And they see as a major Soviet objective the opening of the canal as a short route for the Soviet fleet into the Indian Ocean and a further challenge to American naval power in the Mediterranean and the Far East.

BOGGED DOWN in the Cambodian Vietnam quagmire and faced with a revolt in Congress and on the campuses, the Administration has given only piecemeal attention to the pillar of smoke on the Egyptian-Israeli borders.

A broad, over-all look not only at Israel's military situation but at the mounting pressures on the economy is the urgent need. Forty-three per cent of the Israeli budget and 25 per cent of the gross national product are going into defense. While Israeli leaders say proudly that this can be sustained indefinitely, the showing in budgetary deficits, foreign currency reserves and other fiscal measurements tell another story.

A FOURTH Arab-Israeli war carries the threat of far greater perils than the previous wars. If Russian "defensive" pilots turn offensive, the present Israeli ratio of superiority in pilot capability and maintenance — as high perhaps as four or five to one — could be overcome. Would the call then go out for direct American assistance? Here is the formula for an American-Soviet confrontation and that, supposedly, both powers seek to avoid.

She called headquarters and then asked the three men in the car if they wanted to sell it.

The men eagerly agreed, she said, and began discussing a price. To make sure they did not drive off, the woman asked for the car keys so she could look under the hood.

'Skullduggery' Stars Are Moving Up Fast

In the patois of Hollywood, there are "men on the move" and "women on the way up." But for Robert Reynolds, actor, much more fitting is "star on the grow."

The growth of Burt is the field of motion pictures. He has done six successive pictures over a two-year span, the latest of which is "Skullduggery," coming Wednesday to the Ritz Theatre.

Reynolds himself is hard put to qualify his position as sought-after actor. His Hollywood career was launched with the successful television series "Riverboat." After 29 episodes he moved to the big screen in "A More Command" and "Navajo Joe." Burt then returned to TV as star of the series "Hawk," which lasted only 11 segments but resulted in six successive feature movies, which included "100 Rifles," "Sam Whiskey" and "Angel Baby."

In "Skullduggery," Reynolds portrays an adventurer who leads an anthropological safari into the wilds of New Guinea, discovering a band of missing-link-type creatures which results in a sensational courtroom trial that focuses the eyes of the world on the issues involved — racism, miscegenation and murder. When Susan Clark first read the script she figured that it had been sent to her by mistake.

"I was certain it couldn't be meant for me," grinned the beautiful redhead from Canada, "because there wasn't a single nude scene in the whole picture."

Susan pointed out that the reasoning for her disbelief was that in four of her last five pictures, she was called on to disrobe down to the bare essentials.

"It was becoming an accepted thing in my mind," she said. "It all started with Henry Fonda in 'Madigan.' Then there was Clint Eastwood in 'Coogan's Bluff,' Robert Redford in 'Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here,' and finally Eric Braeden in 'The Forbin Project.'"

Big Spring School Choirs To Present Two Concerts

TWO CONCERTS ARE ON tap by the Big Spring High School choral department. Kenny Sheppard, director, will be leading his singers in a concert at 2 p.m. today in the high school auditorium and again Thursday at 8 p.m.

Today's concert is free and will feature the a cappella choir. Thursday's program will include the entire choral department and the junior high schools. Tickets will be $1.25 for adults and 75 cents for students. Choir Boosters will be admitted free.

Several guest soloists were to be here today for the concert, Sheppard said. The first half of the program will include four pieces by contemporary composers. The second half will be Soloists' "Mass in G." Bowers, choral director at Denver City; Kenneth MEIS, choral director at Monahan; Carolyn Lancaster, music teacher at Midland and described by Sheppard as one of the finest sopranos in West Texas; and Pam Bristol, Midland, will be the accompanist.

ONE OF the world's most celebrated circus stars has returned from a triumphant European tour and this season is back at the scene of her initial triumphs.

Her name is La Toria and she is one of the featured aerial stars of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus. The all-new edition of THE GREATEST SHOW ON EARTH comes to Lubbock Municipal Coliseum on May 26 for performances through May 27 at 4:15 and 8:15 p.m. both days.

La Toria's real name is Victoria (Vicki) Unus and she is the daughter of Franz Unus the world-famous acrobat who stood

Two Lead Guitars For Iron Butterfly

NEW YORK (AP) — Iron Butterfly, one of the best sellers of recordings during 1969, has replaced its lead guitarist Erik Brann with two lead guitarists, Mike Piner, formerly with the Blues Image, and Larry "Rhino" Reinhardt.

The idea is to produce a more complex sound. The first LP with the new personnel is to be called "Metamorphosis."

'Naked Lady' Is Spoof On Nudity Craze

Allen Funt has his cake and eats it, too, in "What Do You Say to a Naked Lady?" The first theatrical film of the famed star of TV's Candid Camera series is a spoof of the current obsession of Hollywood and its audience with nudity on the screen.

At the same time it offers ample evidence that Americans are becoming more sophisticated in their attitudes toward sex.

Having it both ways — satirizing the nudity craze while implying the audience can take it in stride — insures Funt of a wide and appreciative patronage for his film, at least among those able to see it. The film is rated X.

The Funt film uses basically the method he employed on TV of setting up absurd situations in which ordinary people are caught off guard — discommodulated and embarrassed by the film-maker posing as someone else and recording their reactions with a secret camera and microphone.

For the picture Funt has contrived incidents they would never have permitted on TV in a free-wheeling, catch-as-catch-can style, with interruptions on his forefinger. Pretty, blonde Vicki was born in Vienna and came to America at age three when her father was signed by Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey.

With all spotlights focused on her she calmly rolls her body over and over, ascending a rope until she reaches the top, nearly fifty feet high. From there she goes to the Roman Rings and executes a series of intricate gymnastics that include aerial splits, hand stands, one arm roll-ups and other tricks that have even the seasoned performers of the Circus gaping in awe.

ODESSA COLLEGE STUDENTS will continue their presentation of "Man of La Mancha" Friday and Saturday in the College Auditorium. Tickets are $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students. Odessa College students are admitted free.

CANADA IS visited in new 16mm films now available at the Howard County Public Library. "Rogers Pass," a half hour color production, tells of the discovery of this mountain route through the Rockies of British Columbia, and of the struggles to build a railroad through this rugged land. The film follows today's modern highway through the beauties of this western Canadian province.

Outdoorsmen will enjoy another new film at the library entitled "Paddle and Portage." This short color film provides expert instruction on the art of canoeing.

To reserve any of these films for showing at your home or to your church group or service club, you need only to call the library.

TELL THEM WILLIE BOY IS HERE Susan Clark, Katharine Ross, Robert Redford

Redford Stars In 'Willie Boy'

A strong individualist who admires this trait in others, Robert Redford sums up his philosophy of life by saying: "If it's something I want to do, I'll give it 100 per cent. If it isn't, I won't do it."

Redford, who admits that it takes a lot to get him away from his carefree way of life, is currently starring in the western drama "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here," now showing at the Ritz Theatre.

Redford says he took the role because it concerned the American Indians, and thinks the story had social and moral involvement. His role is that of an under-sheriff who is assigned to bring to justice an Indian who meets the establishment head-on during the year 1909.

Redford is teaming with his schoolteacher-lover from "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid," Katharine Ross, for their second consecutive movie. Co-starring with them in "Tell Them Willie Boy Is Here" is Robert Blake, Susan Clark and Barry Sullivan.

Star Says 'Pretty-Boy' Actors Have Rough Time

"In show-business the good-looking men get the women, but the ugly ones get the choice parts," Thus spoke Hywel Bennett, who has just finished a co-starring role with Hayley Mills in the psychological thriller, "Twisted Nerve," which opens at the Jet Theatre tonight double-billed with "Daddy's Gone A-Hunting."

"If you're good-looking, which I suppose to some people I am, then you keep getting offered pretty-boy parts which mean nothing beyond merely setting the scene for the character actor to come on and steal the picture. As an actor, matinee, and perhaps starts losing his looks, it can be much more rewarding for him as a performer," Bennett said.

Part of the story of "Twisted Nerve" deals with the effect of one good-looking young man on a group of people. His presence disturbs the set order of their lives — and the attraction that destroys them eventually betrays the young man himself in a thrill-laden climax.

The distraught point of view on the matter of looks comes from co-star Hayley Mills who sums up her reaction: "When a woman an actress of course she worries about her looks, but it's the ability to act which is most important. The only unfair thing about it is that a man at forty-five can look absolutely super while most women are having a hard struggle to keep up appearances."

County's Cotton Crop Now About 75 Pct. Planted

Cotton farmers are about 75 per cent complete with planting, according to County Agriculture Agent Paul Gross.

"Some cotton is beginning to come to a stand," he said. Surface moisture has been short, Gross said, but the half inch of moisture Wednesday night in some areas should help control any severe water stress. "If we get some more rain," Gross said, "conditions are good for an excellent crop year." He said it is still too early to forecast the number of bales per acre.

Cotton is the leading cash crop in Howard County. In 1966, a total of 753 growers planted 66,998.2 acres of cotton and harvested 66,397.8 acres. Most of the cotton is concentrated in the northern part of the county, Gross said, although the Elbow and Lomax areas in southwest Howard are prolific producers.

This year the cotton allotment has been raised from 70,000 acres to 76,000 acres. Farmers can plant any percentage up to 100, Gross said, estimating 85 per cent of the county's allotment will probably be used.

Gross noted that the most favorable planting dates for cotton in Howard County are between May 5 and May 20, although winter seemed to hang on a little longer than usual this year. "The soil was colder this year and it took a little longer for it to warm up," Gross said. It is recommended that the soil be 60 degrees for 10 days measured at an eight feet depth for successful cotton planting. Gross said this condition was recorded back at the first of May.

Most of the cotton farming in Howard County is dry-land farming, only about 2,000 acres being irrigated. Very little fertilizer is used except on irrigated tracts.

Judge Candidate Asks For Recount

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — James Collins, a defeated Harrison County judge candidate, asked Thursday for a recount in the May 2 Democratic primary in which he lost by 16 votes.

Collins filed suit in 71st District Court contesting the votes in two ballot boxes and 59 absentee ballots.

Collins was a member of a grand jury which recently called for a federal investigation into alleged voter irregularities in the race. Incumbent County Judge Jim Ammerman was named defendant in the petition and has five days in which to answer.

DEAR BOSS: Goliad Students Entered Frog In Jumping Match

DEAR BOSS: Shades of Mark Twain! Do you know what we missed this weekend? The International Frog Jump of Calaveras County was held Saturday and today in Angels Camp, Calif.

You and I may have forgotten about this celebrated event, but Miss Agnes Currie, Goliad Junior High English teacher, and her classes made sure Big Spring had a representative in the contest.

A famous American writer, Samuel Clemens, more commonly known by his pen name of Mark Twain, gave birth to the Frog Jump when he penned the famous story, "The Celebrated Jumping Frog of Calaveras County."

This story was Mark Twain's first famous public work of literature and the citizens of this small mountain community re-enact the original frog jump each year.

Miss Currie has included the story in her English classes for years and several years ago read about the contest and sent for information.

Last year her students decided to enter the frog jump, but the entry blanks arrived too late. So this year she decided to enter a Big Spring frog.

However, the rules state specifically that no toads can be used, and since horned toads are about all that's available, certain problems arose. (Understand, Boss, I'm not saying we don't have any frogs, but we don't have any who seem particularly anxious to take off to California for a jumping contest.)

Officials of the Jumping Frog Jubilee came to her rescue and offered to provide a frog and a jockey for the contest.

There's a $1,200 cash award for the owner of the frog who can break the world's record of 19 feet and 3/4 inches. Interested, Boss?

If you want to enter a frog next year, just write Calaveras County Fair and Jumping Frog Jubilee, P.O. Box 96, Angels Camp, Calif., 95222.

JEAN FANNIN

$45 Million 'Bait' Voted

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has approved 173 to 88 a bill authorizing expenditure of $45 million over the next three fiscal years to lure more foreign travelers to the United States.

The bill authorizes $15 million each year for the United States Travel Service.

Earlier in the day the House had passed a bill actually appropriating $4.5 million for the same purpose for the coming fiscal year. If the Senate goes along with the House authorization measure Congress could later increase that figure.

Rep. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, opposed the measure, saying "Lord knows we've spent enough money nursing foreigners. They surely ought to know where the United States is by this time."

Free Consultation On Hearing Aids NEW TECHNICAL ADVANCE IMPROVES SOUND

A team of engineers of Dahlberg Electronics, Inc. has just completed the development of a technical advance that may improve the sound of hearing aids. This would give many people better understanding and more clarity in their hearing.

Dahlberg Electronics, Inc. has selected Joe H. Miller as their authorized dealer in this area for this new concept of improved hearing.

Is your hearing aid too loud? Do background noises bother you? The Company announces this amazing new development called the MIRACLE-EAR PITCH-LINK may help you. It is adaptable to most "eye-glass" and "behind-the-ear" hearing aids regardless of make. The cost is under three dollars. Despite its low cost the PITCH-LINK will actually acoustically modify the pitch of an aid thus enabling the user to hear more clearly.

Mr. Novis Bryant will be in Big Spring to introduce the new MIRACLE-EAR PITCH-LINK. He has built a reputation as a distinguished expert in the field of hearing correction.

MIRACLE-EAR is holding an OPEN HOUSE in conjunction with Mr. Bryant's visit. It will be held Tuesday 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Wednesday 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Also at the same time Mr. Bryant will present three new improved hearing aids developed by the same team of engineers. One in particular, for the very hard of hearing, incorporates the latest in internal adjustments for custom-fitted fittings.

"Never in the history of helping the hard of hearing in this area have we had such an opportunity to do so much good," Mr. Miller said. His wife, Gloria who is working shoulder to shoulder with him at their MIRACLE-EAR hearing aid center was amazed at these new developments and said, "Now almost everyone can be custom fitted for hearing happiness."

The new MIRACLE-EAR All-in-the-ear, with no tubes, no cords or anything behind the ear is truly the instrument that other companies have tried to copy. It is still years ahead, so don't be led into buying something that claims to be just as good.

MIRACLE-EAR invites you to visit their consultation and learn if improvement is possible for you. There will be no charge for the service of hearing evaluation and the cost of the MIRACLE-EAR PITCH-LINK is under three dollars. So do come in and everyone attending will be given a plastic model of a MIRACLE-EAR All-in-the-ear Hearing Aid. The dates — Tuesday and Wednesday May 19 & 20.
