THIS HAS BEEN one of those weeks when it's not particularly fun to be in the news business.

The news event that has shocked our nation this week was the tragic situation in Guyana, which included the murders of the California congressman and the newsmen, followed by the mass suicides by some four hundred members of the cult which had been established by Jim Jones.

It is hard to realize that such atrocities as happened in the small South American country could happen in the 20th century, and especially that they were perpetrated through an organization that called itself a church.

It is equally hard to realize that an individual can hold the type of power over other people that Jim Jones apparently held over his followers. It must have been the Hitler-type of hypnotism that the Nazi leader used to recruit his followers earlier in this century

Jones must have thrived on persuading his followers to do his every bidding, even to carrying out the mass suicide that shocked the entire civilized world early this week.

Another thing that is puzzling is just what Jones was attempting to build there in the South American jungles, if indeed he had any type of master plan.

It would appear that since warnings and complaints had been coming from the Jones compound for most of the past year, that more caution would have been taken by those going in to inspect the situation

The irony of the mass deaths, it seems to us, is the fact that Jones supposedly called his followers to a

The Chamber of Commerce is in the process of electing five members to its board of directors.

Letters containing ballots were mailed out to all chamber members last week, and the ballots must be returned to the chamber by December 1 in order to be counted. Ten names are on the ballot which was mailed out. They are Danny Murphree, V.R. Wilcox, Dale Smith, Joe Tongate, Travis Graves, Leland Hutson, Wade Wright, Jerry Cass, Mike Riethmayer and Dale Houlette.

In other business at the recent monthly meeting of directors of the Friona Chamber of Commerce, it was voted to sponsor the Maize Queen, Laura Ellis, in Muleshoe's Christmas Parade on December 2. The chamber office has entry blanks if local clubs or organizations wish to be represented in this parade.

The board also made further plans for the Christmas Lighting contest which the Chamber will sponsor. All residents, both of the city and the surrounding rural area are invited to enter. Three categories will be judged, yard, window and door decorations. Prizes of $25, $15 and $10 will be awarded.

A major item of discussion at the meeting was the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, which has been scheduled for Saturday, January 6 at the Community Center. The speaker for the banquet has already been selected. He will be Bill Yung, head coach at West Texas State University. Philip Weatherly is banquet chairman.

The Chamber is still in need of nominations for Man of the Year, Woman of the Year, Employee of the Year, Student of the Year (boy and girl).

"The board would appreciate your help in selecting the ones for these honors. Please submit your nomination and supporting statement to the Chamber of Commerce office," said Gale Warren, Chamber chamber board included the new "Welcome to Friona" sign which has been erected south of Friona on Highway 214. The board also discussed the idea of buying a marquee for announcements of various city activities. It was decided to do more investigation into the matter.

Next meeting of the directors will be Tuesday, December 12, at 6:30 a.m. at Carl's Parmer House Restaurant. All members of the Chamber of Commerce are urged to attend.

Edward White Takes Prize

Longtime entrant in the Friona Star's football contest, Edward White, says he can't remember when, or if he ever won the weekly prize before. But if he hasn't before, he has now

White claimed the weekly first prize of $10 cash after correctly picking 18 of the 22 contest games. White won the grand prize in the Star's annual contest, back in 1965, but says he didn't ever win the weekly prize that season.

The week's first place winner was one of four contestants correctly picking 18 games, but claimed first place on the basis of the tie-breaker game. He wasn't too terribly close Atlanta over Chicago. Dale missed Littlefield over Olton, Canyon over Estacado, Baylor over Rice and Atlanta over Chicago. 165.

Five contestants correctly picked 17 games, narrowly missing out on a shot at one of the cash prizes. They were Wayne Amstutz of Hereford, Eddle Mann, Lee Roy Nuttall, Myrna Baize and Russell Field of Dalhart.

In the race for grand prize, the top three leaders held their places, as Marlene Drake, Jim Pope and Benny Pryor all had scores of 15 for the week.

Mrs. Drake leads the contest with a score of 169, Pope is second at 167, his score of 14 caused him to drop into a tie for third place with B.R. Mears of Clarendon with a score of

Next, at 164 comes Myrna Cain, Preach Collier, Jackie Morgan and Roy Smith

Two weeks remain in the contest, counting the current weekend's games, so the leaders still have to sweat out the results of 44 more football games.

At the conclusion of the 14-week series, the contestant with the leading score receives $100 in cash. Second high contestant will receive $25 and third place receives $15.

We are reminded that the Bible speaks of prophets as well as false prophets. It isn't hard to figure out in which category the late Mr. Jones belongs.

WE USED TO THINK it was hard to be at least a part-time fan of the Houston Oilers football team, because it seemed that try as they might, the Oilers always came up second best. In fact, they were the type who would come up with new ways of losing games.

But after this season, and particularly their showing on their Monday night games, it's becoming less and less of a chore to root for the Ollers. In fact, some of our Dallas Cowboy loyalty may start to shift a little bit.

If the Cowboys had Houston's Monday night record this year, they wouldn't be concerned at this point as to whether they can make it back to the Super Bowl. They would practically have it wrapped up.

on the tie-breaker score, missing it by 25 points, but this was better than the other contestants did.

Second place in the weekly contest went to Edward Castillo and third place went to Richard Wilson. Donald Dale was the other contestant to correctly pick 18 games.

On the week's scoreboard, the West Texas State-New Mexico State game was not considered, and everyone was given a point for that game, since it turned out to be a Wednesday night game rather than a weekend game.

White chalked up his score of 18 by picking seven of the eight college games and five of the six pro contests. His misses were in picking Baylor over Rice and Minnesota over San Diego. He also incorrectly picked Littlefield over Olton and Canyon over Estacado.

Castillo missed Littlefield over Olton, Tulia over Floydada, Baylor over Rice and Atlanta over Chicago. Wilson missed Springlake-Earth over Kress, Baylor over Rice, Washington over St. Louis and

Friona Cotton Is Used Around The World

Bill Scott at Friona Farmers Co-op Gin received a letter recently which indicates that cotton grown in the Friona area is used halfway around the world in the manufacture of garments.

Raymond C. Adams, vice president of sales for Bush-Hog Continental Gin, wrote:

"On a recent trip to the Peoples Republic of China, I removed the enclosed gin bale tag from a bale of cotton in a textile mill warehouse. This mill was located in Shanghai, and employs approximately 8,000 people

"The Chinese at this mill indicated they were very pleased with the High Plains of Texas cotton which they have purchased the last several years.

"Congratulations to Friona Farmers Co-op Gin and to the farmer who produced this bale of cotton for helping to equalize the balance of trade for the United States," the letter concluded.

Scott said that the bale ticket had been on a bale of cotton belonging to Dale Christie and Bob Rule.

"This shows that our cotton really gets around!" Scott said.

United Fund Hits 55% Of 1978 Goal

Friona's United Fund Drive for 1978 stood at 55 per cent of its goal of $11,227, according to co-chairmen Bill Wilshire and Ron Smiley. The report came late Wednesday, just ahead of Thanksgiving.

"We are running behind the pace I had hoped for, and we encourage those working city areas to conclude their drives and make their reports as soon as possible," said Wilshire. The drive officials remain optimistic that the 1978 goal will be met, but encourage every resident of the area to give generously when contacted, in order that all of the agencies which benefit from the fund drive may receive their needed share from the drive.

Agencies which benefit from the United Fund include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Red Cross, Salvation Army, United Cerebral Palsy, Local Emergency Fund, Friona 4-H Club, Texas Mental Health, Friona Little League, U.S.O., Texas Community Service and July 4th Activity Fund.

The project benefits Parmer County Community Hospital during the Christmas season each year, and in the course of its history has raised over $40,000 for equipment for the local hospital. Equipment which cost over $27,600 has been provided in the past eight years by gifts to the project.

Residents of the area are requested by the club each year to donate to the fund rather than mailing Christmas cards to local friends. Names of those contributing are published on a full page in the Christmas edition of the Friona Star. as a community-wide greeting to everyone in the Friona area.

Donations may be left at Friona State Bank. Club members will also place containers at several local businesses, where residents may leave their donations.

Deadline for donating to the fund and being a part of this year's project will be Monday, December 18 There is no set amount for the donations. Each person or family is requested to donate at least the amount they would normally spend on Christmas cards and postage to local friends.

We all know obesity stems from many factors. Psychological derangements, nervous disorders, glandular deficiencies, endocrine disturbances, and just plain old over-eating.

Admittedly, mine comes from the latter. But, alas, not from delectable delicacies. My intake in all cases is indigestible and my acidity is rampant. However, I cannot spell relief R-

My astronomical intake, in a nutshell, is words. Simple, everyday words and phrases uttered without benefit of ice-cold logic and sound mental reasoning. Comments meant to convey maxims of truth but ending up as insipid weaknesses due to lack of physical support. I offer the following as proof.

"No, you cannot have a dog." We do.

"That dog will not come into this house." He does.

"Only dog food will be fed." Steak. No, you cannot feed him from the table." On.

"No, he cannot sleep in this house." My bed.

I know the above added five or ten and an inch or two of roll. Realizing this. I began a strict diet of profound mental processes. No longer would I blurt out asinine phrases I would have to swallow. My brain would be functioning before activating my vocal cords. Sound thinking before verbal intercourse was to be my motto. Below are only FEW results. 'My son will not drive until he is 18." He was 15.

'My son will not drive until fully legalized."???

'My son will not drive until he buys his own gas." Gas statements are staggering.

'My son will not have a car until he pays for it himself." The bank called last week-----for me.

If this continues, I will soon make the Guinness Book of World Records. I will even have a coffin especially designed for me----five feet long and five feet wide.

I realize I do not have this market cornered. Thus, it's really no wonder our chidlren are so asea. We say something and do not follow through or speak without thinking, creating childish insecurity, one of the worse emotions a child can harbor.

Well, as for me, I certainly do not want my children feeling insecure, more so when I am certain their insecurity is a direct result of my being so stupidly garrulous. Therefore, I once again make promises, this time secure in the knowledge that I will overcome. Never again will I make rash statements harmful to their mental maturation. No longer will I create doubts in their youthful minds and hearts. I positively will not utter anything whatsoever I will not back. As I told my son just yesterday, "I'll never smoke another darn cigarette for as long as I live

Dimmitt Rolls Up 26-0 Win In Finale

The Friona Chieftains had a lot of luck last Friday night against the Dimmitt Bobcats in their final season football game, but unfortunately for the Chiefs, it was all bad.

Dimmitt won the game, 26-0. It was played on a cold night and a soggy, slippery field which was muddy due to some five inches or more of snow which had fallen in the Dimmitt area on Thursday.

To get the field ready, Dimmitt officials had to scrape about four inches of snow from the field on Friday. By the second quarter, the middle portion of the field was a quagmire.

For a long while in the first , it appeared that it might be one of those 7-0 games, with whichever team that got the breaks coming out with the win. It looked like the first half might be scoreless, as both teams were finding it hard to operate under the slippery conditions, and the defenses were doing better than the offenses.

But Dimmitt was enjoying the best field position, and finally the running of Dennis Veals and Larry Bossett got the Bobcats on the scoreboard before intermission. Veals, who went over the 1,000-yard mark for the season during the game, gained ten yards to the Friona 25.

It appeared that Friona might hold, as the Bobcats came up facing a fourth down and a yard to go at

Squaws Win, Lose In First Week's Action

The Friona Squaws won their opening game of the 1978-79 basketball season last Saturday, edging the Bovina Fillies, 29-25. On Tuesday, the team's record evened at 1-1 following a 39-29 loss to the Vega girls at Vega.

The Bovina game was close throughout. Bovina led after one quarter, but the score was tied, 14-all at the half of a low-scoring contest.

Scoring didn't pick up in the third quarter, after which Friona led, b 19-18, and the Squaws held on for the four-point win.

Dana Miller was high point girl for their own 16. But Bossett took the handoff, broke a tackle at the line of scrimmage and fought his way 16 yards for the touchdown.

The score came with just 59 seconds left in the half. The kick gave Dimmitt a 7-0 halftime lead. Friona decided to try a little strategy to open the second half. Dimmitt was the receiving team. The Chiefs elected to try a "squib" kick, laying it flat, and hoping Dimmitt would have trouble fielding it, with the wet turf and all.

It would have been a good idea, but the kick got too much altitude, and Bossett fielded it at about his own 20, and after bouncing off a would-be tackler at about midfield, ran it back 80 yards for a touchdown. Dimmitt missed the kick, but the score had become 13-0. The 'Cats had scored in the last minute of the first half, and on the first play of the second half.

Rod Owen ripped off good gains for the Chiefs following a short Dimmitt kickoff, and Friona moved to the Dimmitt 39. Here, they faced fourth down and three. The Bobcats held Friona to a two yard gain and took over on downs.

Veals was stopped for no gain on first down, but then quarterback Jack Stewart lofted a pass to big Gary Naylor, who ran under the ball at about the Friona 40, and legged it on into the end zone for a 63-yard scoring play on the soggy turf. Robin Ryan's kick made it 20-0. Only 3: 54 had elapsed in the third quarter.

Friona was moving late in the quarter, when flanker Leslie White raced 15 yards on the end around play and then took a nine-yard pass from Chris Barnett. However, Dimmitt made their first of three interceptions at this point, to stymie the drive.

Dimmitt threatened two or three times to score, once after partially blocking a Friona punt, but each time the Friona defense would rise up to stop them.

The Bobcats got the ball back with 2:15 left in the game, and set out on a 52-yard drive. They seemed determined to add to their lead, calling all of their remaining time outs, to kill the clock. The score came with 22 seconds left to play, and was another pass from Stewart to Naylor.

Dimmitt apparently had the idea they were avenging a loss from the year before, saying Friona left their first team in all the way in the 34-7 win. Facts of the matter are that Friona had a 34-0 lead in the '77 game before the third quarter was over, and reserves were playing when Dimmitt was able to avoid the shutout.

In spite of the wet conditions, the game was relatively error-free. Neither team lost a fumble, with the only turnovers coming on Dimmitt's five pass interceptions.

The Chiefs competed six of their first nine passing attempts, but missed ten in a row in the second half, during which three were intercepted.

The punting of Kevin Kothmann kept Friona out of bad field position time and again in the early part of the game. Kothmann boomed punts of 45, 40 and 37 yards, despite the slippery conditions.

All U. S. farmers have a difficult financial row to hoe. That's been proven. But here in the Southwest, the farmer's income problems are magnified.

Crop-killing heat spells get national news coverage when they happen in the Midwest. But Southwestern growers accept heat and drouth as just two of the normal hazards they regularly face.

And fuel bills? Southwestern farmers who irrigate spend more dollars on fuel alone than Midwestern farmers spend on seed, chemicals, labor, repairs, grain drying and fuel! (Based on U.S.D.A. figures for 1978.)

You may think these facts affect only farmers. But agriculture is so important in this part of the U.S. that nearly everyone is touched by the Southwestern farmer's special plight.

What can you do? Help spread these facts to those who don't understand, especially business and political leaders whose decisions affect agriculture.

And most of all, be appreciative. The Southwestern farmer . . . and farmers everywhere . . . deserve our thanks . . . and support.

SPS Named Top Utility Company

Southwestern Public Service Company, Amarillo, Texas, has been selected as "Electric Light & Power'' magazine's Outstanding Electric Utility for 1978, according to Robert A. Lincicome, Editor.

The award presentation, to be held Friday, November 17 at a special luncheon at The Villa Inn, Amarillo, will be made by Lincicome. Accepting for Southwestern Public Service Company will be Chairman Roy Tolk and President Berl M. Springer.

Southwestern currently serves approximately 275,000 customers in a service territory of over 45,000 square miles, located in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, eastern New Mexico and Southwestern Kansas

The selection of Southwestern as EL&P's 10th annual recipient of the Outstanding Electric Utility of the year was based upon the company's ability to cope with the "seemingly insurmountable obstacles which confront all electric utilities nationally," Lincicome said. "Its success is a testimonial to the foresight, initiative and dedication of the entire corporate family, and that of its strong close-knit senior management team.

Southwestern Public Service was chosen for the honor by a panel of judges on the basis of its strong financial performance in the face of a difficult fuel supply situation, its innovative efforts to solve the fuel problem, and its success in bringing order to the rapid growth in its service territory. Southwestern, which was virtually 100 per cent fueled by natural gas, made a decision in 1972 to convert to low-sulfur Wyoming coal. In August 1976, the company brought on line the first of three 350-MW coal-fired units. The second unit went into service in mid-1978, and the third is due for completion in 1980. As a result, Southwestern has gone from a situation where the company had practically no coal generation in mid-1976 to approximately 25 per cent coal generation this year.

By 1985, the company expects to generate approximately 75 per cent of its kwh from coal, thus insuring its customers of a continuous, economic and uninterrupted electrical supply for many years to come. "Significantly," Lincicome said, "the utility designs and engineers its own plants and has been able to hold the cost of new units to a level well below the national average."

"Electric Light & Power" magazine is published monthly by Technical Publishing Company, a leading national publisher of business-professional magazines, specialized consumer books and educational-training systems.

1979 Grain Program Released By ASCS

Program is basically the same as the progarm for the 1978 crop, according to the ASCS officials. It requires corn and grain sorghum growers who want to qualify for program benefits to set aside eligible cropland equal to 10 per cent acres of corn and 100 acres of grain of their farm's planted acreage.

The 1979 Feed Grain Set-Aside acreage (the additional 10 per cent) voluntarily set aside. For example: Typical farm in Parmer County has NCA of 460 acres with 130 bushel established corn yield and 98 bushel grain sorghum yield.

Now, let's assume that there is 150 sorghum planted on the farm in 1979 Also, growers will be offered and the farm is to participate in the diversion payments if they will set additional (for pay) set aside aside an additional acreage equal to program. In this case there would be 50 acres of land set aside with 25

Alternate winners will take their entries to district if the first-place winners cannot attend.

All the hustling, bustling and rustling of luggage lids, car trunks and other "getting ready to leave town" sounds are always heard prior to the closing of school for holiday vacations. From the noises I've heard, it seems that more people will be going away rather than having company this weekend. If about one third of the people who are leaving will call next week,

Town Talk will be filled to the brim with Thanksgiving get togethers here and there. + + + +

Everyone who attended the Cindy Lundy-Carroll Cook wedding Saturday afternoon got a glimpse of what can be done decoratively with home grown plants-even in the fall when the roses, honeysuckle and other spring flowers are gone.

How many of us would have ever thought of gathering pampas grass plumes, cattails, pine cones and other dried flowers and combining them with candlebras, satin bows and a few votive cups to make a beautiful setting for a wedding?

No one I visited with would claim credit for the unusual decorations, which were also carried out in the reception, so I'm wondering if Cindy and Carroll were responsible for the whole idea.

It is regrettable that words are so inadequate when it comes to painting pictures a writer would like to paint for readers.

The couple exchanged vows in the chapel of the University of Houston and Mrs. Shackelford reported, "I've never been in a more beautiful chapel."

After visiting a few days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hurst, Ann boarded a plane for her return trip. The sun was shining through a film of clouds when the plane landed at Dallas-Fort Worth Airport, but when it got to Lubbock, the weather wasn't cooperating very well. One of her nieces, who lives in Farwell was on a later flight from Dallas-Fort Worth and when her plane got to Lubbock the fog was so thick it wasn't safe to land. They

Candlelight Ceremony Unites

Cindy Lundy, Carroll Cook

Cindy Louise Lundy and Carroll Ray Cook were married in a candlelight ceremony at 3 p.m. Saturday, November 18, at Sixth Street Church of Christ. The double ring ceremony was performed by D.L. Harguess.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cook and Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Lundy, all of Friona.

Vows were exchanged before an arched candelabrum holding melon tapers with spiral candelabras on either side, complimented by baskets of pampas grass plumes interspersed with cattails and tied with apricot satin bows and streamers.

An apricot memory candle, amidst a pillow of tulle and dried apricot colored flowers with four lighted candles and two unlighted candles, and votive cups decorated with pine cones, dried flowers, and apricot satin bows and streamers, with lighted candles marking the bridal aisle and seven branched candelabra completed the setting.

Preceding the ceremony, parents of the couple lighted the two candles from the four, which were burning. Then at the conclusion of the ceremony the newlyweds lighted the memory candle with the two which their parents had lighted then extinguished them.

Traditional wedding music was provided by a vocal group from Sixth Street Church of Christ, which sang "If", "The Wedding Song", "What a Difference You've Made In My Life", and "We've Only Just Begun".

As the bride was escorted and presented in marriage by her father, she wore her mother's wedding gown of formal candlelight silk completely enhanced with chantilly lace. It was designed with sheer front and back yokes and cap sleeves. The back of the full skirt alternated tiers of English net and chantilly lace, which swept into back fullness cascading into a chapel length train.

Her Juliet cap of matching candlelight silk held her fingertip veil of bridal illusion. In keeping with tradition, she wore pennies minted in the years of the couple's births in her shoes and an heirloom diamond ring on a gold chain around her neck. The ring originally belonged to her great-grandmother Dora Kate Kolb. Her veil was new and she borrowed her mother's wedding dress. She also wore a blue garter.

Her bouquet of apricot and rust colored silk flowers entwined with baby's breath and dried flowers was carried atop an antique lace fan, which had also originally belonged to her great-grandmother.

Christy Lundy, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Other bridal attendants were Mrs. Rickey Rector of Friona; Marcia Merryfield of Lubbock and Corrie Lundy, also a sister of the bride.

Candlelighters were Shannel Woodard and Brook Massey, both of Friona.

Leah Wooley of San Antonio, niece of the groom, was the flower girl and Shon Gales of Canyon, was the ring bearer. He carried the rings on the same satin pillow used in the wedding of the bride's parents.

Miss Lundy wore an apricot formal of qina designed with an empire bodice highlighted with matching ribbon bows in front and long sleeves. She carried a fireside basket filled with pine cones and dried fall flowers matching those in the bride's bouquet.
