Mrs. Joe Jacobs, Mrs. Harry Lees, Mrs. S. R. Noble and Mrs. A. W. Moody. They are mothers who have, in the words of the monument, lost a son "who died in the defense of his country."

Unemployment Is Down Slightly

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped in June for the first time this year although an additional 1.3 million Americans sought unsuccessfully to find jobs.

The seeming contradiction was attributed by the Labor Department Thursday to the fact that the number of adult women and teen-agers seeking work fell far below expectations.

The department also reported, without elaboration, the jobless rate for Negroes rose from 8 to 8.7 per cent last month, returning to the April level after a dip in May.

The nonwhite unemployment rate was 7 per cent a year ago and 7.1 per cent in March, 1970. The 15-year low in nonwhite unemployment was 5.7 per cent in February, 1969.

The over-all unemployment rate for June was 4.7 per cent, compared with 5 per cent in May and 3.4 per cent a year ago. Nixon administration officials have predicted the rate will hit 5 1/2 per cent before dropping again toward the 4 per cent mark.

The number of unemployed Americans totaled 4.7 million last month, a rise of 1.3 million over July. The civilian labor force increased 2.3 million to 84.1 million.

MORE IN FORCE

The government said the increase in the labor force—those Americans working or actively seeking jobs—was much smaller than had been expected. The Labor Department had predicted 2.5 million teen-agers would seek work in early June but the actual number was only 2 million.

The employment figures are compiled from a complicated seasonal-adjustment formula which takes into account what could be expected in the labor market at any time of the year.

The Labor Department said for the first time in eight months the jobless rate of adult males did not rise. The rate for teen-agers remained unchanged.

PAY EDGES UP

The report attached economic significance to the fact that the number of persons holding non-farm jobs increased by only 6,500 in June to 71-6 million, saying this figure also was smaller than expected.

During the 12 months ending in May, average hourly earnings of product and nonsupervisory workers on private payrolls edged up one cent to $3.

This increase failed to match rising consumer prices and resulted in an effective 1.8 per cent reduction in earnings, the Labor Department said.

Only The Waiting Left For 'Let Freedom Ring'

Let Freedom Ring is set for Saturday evening, and members of the sponsoring organizations are looking for an especially enthusiastic turnout.

Waiting in line is Sheriff A. N. Standard, who will deliver the Declaration of Independence on horseback to be read by town clerk Jim Baum.

Mona Boadle, Paula Lemons, Kelly Carlile, and John Green will be featured on fife, drum and trumpet.

College Baptist's "Collegians" will sing patriotic music to lead off the show, including "Let Freedom Ring," arranged and with lyrics by Mrs. Mamie Lee Dodds, the originator of the whole idea in 1968.

There will be Minutemen, frontiersmen, and women in colorful early American dress, as well as a color guard from Webb.

Closing the show will be the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, followed by the ringing of city bells.

Mrs. R. E. Daniel, project coordinator, is trying to get a large number of stagehands to help people with their costumes and attend to last-minute details. Volunteers are still welcome.

According to Chamber of Commerce manager Tom Eastland, "Most people don't realize just how good this show is. Seeing it for the first time, they will really be impressed."

The show will be from 8 to 8:30 p.m. Saturday at the War Memorial Plaza on the east side of the courthouse.

At 9:30 p.m. there will be a 30-minute fireworks display near the Texas National Guard Armory. The show may be viewed from several areas of the city, including Big Spring State Park.

Death Toll You Can Get Hurt On 4th

The 4th of July violence toll mounted sharply today as residents took to the roads early for observance of the holiday.

Not long after sunup, the death count reached 11.

The count began at 6 p.m. Thursday after thousands of offices had closed for the weekend. The tabulations will end Sunday at midnight.

Latest reported deaths:

A three-car smashup near Houston's Intercontinental Airport Thursday night claimed the lives of George L. Lyerly, 38, of Humble and Jan W. Brown of Galveston.

Donnie Wayne Blake, 13, of Houston was killed Thursday night when a car struck him as he was riding a bicycle.

Pfc. Jesse L. Brooks, 21, of Leland, Miss., was shot to death Thursday night, officers said, as he hobbled away on crutches from a dice game in San Antonio. He had been injured in a traffic accident last November and was being treated at Brooke General Hospital, where he had been listed as being absent without permission.

What Corpus Christi police called a shootout in a bar Thursday night resulted in the slaying of Alex Davis, 26, and Curly Willard Dennis, age unknown. Jimmy Guy, 32 suffered wounds.

KALAMAZOO, Mich. (AP) — It was the Fourth of July, 1966. The last thing David Shue remembers seeing was a cherry bomb on the ground and a wooden fence.

Then there was a blast. "I see total black now. It's called a stone blindness," Shue says.

Shue, 20, was blinded by the explosive at a family celebration of Independence Day in his hometown of St. Joseph, Mich.

There were about 15 people around the yard, lighting fireworks, being very cautious. I was 16, one of the older ones, so I was supervising and showing the kids how to set them off," Shue recalls.

He set a cherry bomb in the grass toward the end of the evening.

"I was kneeling and it was on the ground to my right, about an arm's length away."

"I touched it with a sparkler. I didn't have any time to turn my head away or get my hand out of there. I stood up and there was all this liquid pouring down my face and my shirt."

He was driven to a hospital.

Shue was in surgery five hours and in the hospital 22 days, under heavy sedation, with a 24-hour attendant.

He was married June 6 and sings with a rock band to support himself and his bride.

"No matter how careful you are," he says of July 4 four years ago, "you can get hurt. I was being very careful. It was just one of those freakish things."

California Paper Pauper Again

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — California was a paper pauper again today.

For the third consecutive day, the nation's most populous state was in a new fiscal year — 1970-71 — without a budget act, the measure that authorizes the state to pay its 181,000 workers and its bills.

The Assembly passed a compromise $6.59 billion budget sought by Republican Gov. Ronald Reagan 62-15 Thursday after the Republican leadership granted Democratic demands.

The Senate rejected the proposal, however, 25-13 with a two-thirds vote of 27 needed for passage. Then it voted to reconsider the vote today.

Reagan said early Wednesday that Democratic demands amounted to a gigantic tax increase — up to $500 million and wasn't worth the price.

TO CHARGE ADMISSION TO AIRPORT

LOS ANGELES (AP) — City councilmen, by 11 to 4 vote, have ordered drafting of an ordinance imposing a $1 admission tax at the Los Angeles International Airport.

River Boat Hits Floating Mine, 46 Persons Killed

SAIGON (AP) — A passenger river boat struck a floating mine just south of the Demilitarized Zone today and blew up, killing 46 of the 50 Vietnamese civilians aboard, a government spokesman announced.

The mining occurred on a branch of the Cuong Viet River less than a mile from Dong Ha, the boat's destination about nine miles south of the DMZ.

The river is regularly patrolled by U.S. and South Vietnamese boats, and North Vietnamese mines in it have sunk or damaged a number of boats. But the toll today was believed to be the largest.

Only light, scattered fighting was reported in South Vietnam, but the U.S. Command reported the loss of another plane a week ago. It was a Navy A7 Crusader jet that crashed as it was taking off from a carrier June 26 on a mission to Laos. The pilot was rescued.

South Vietnamese officials also announced the withdrawal of a brigade of marines—between 1,000 and 2,000 men—from Cambodia, reducing the total number of South Vietnamese troops in the neighboring country to about 25,000.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian military command said newly reinforced Communist divisions are preparing for a major new offensive and already are moving assault troops into position in one key area.

A spokesman said Cambodian and South Vietnamese troops are "ready for anything." He added that the enemy threat to Phnom Penh has "receded considerably."

The spokesman said another major threat is developing around Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of Phnom Penh, with fresh enemy troops moving into position outside the city. The highway between Kompong Thom and Phnom Penh was still closed despite efforts of several Cambodian battalions to clear it.

A month-long siege of Kompong Thom was broken in late June after U.S. fighter-bombers made heavy air strikes on enemy positions around the town. This was the first reported direct U.S. military intervention on the side of Premier Lon Nol's troops.

HONOR AMERICA

Nation Capital Scene For Big Extravaganza

The nation celebrates its 194th birthday Saturday with the traditional fireworks displays, picnics and oratory. The largest festivities will be in Washington, D.C., where thousands of persons are heading for Honor America Day events.

Sponsors of Honor America Day, who include evangelist Billy Graham and entertainer Bob Hope, estimate that more than 200,000 will participate Saturday in memorial and patriotic ceremonies at the nation's capital.

Going to Washington for the Honor America—Independence Day celebrations is a 17-car train reserved for 1,200 persons from New York City; a train bringing 400 persons from Richmond, Va., and a 500-car motorcade bringing many others from the same area; a chartered plane carrying 150 high school pupils from the Dallas, Tex., area, and many others from other parts of the country.

Graham said at a news conference Friday, "Honor America Day is not for hawks and doves, or Democrats or Republicans, or black or white. It is all of us together."

A special two-minute salute throughout the nation, with church bells chiming, train whistles blasting and motorists sounding their horns at 11 a.m. local time, was urged by the Honor America sponsors.

Boy Scouts in Virginia, carrying an American flag on a balloon, were running from Williamsburg to the national capital. They plan to be there when Graham conducts religious services at the Lincoln Memorial. Hope will lead the activities, including a stage show and fireworks display.

Special events have been scheduled from California to Maine.

At Philadelphia's Independence Hall, the nation's "cradle of liberty," actor Howard Keel will read from the Declaration of Independence and Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., will make a keynote address.

Christian Youths Stage Own March

FORT WORTH (AP) — An estimated 13,500 youths marched up Main Street Thursday night as a climax to the first night of the "Youth Evangelism Conference" of the Baptists of Texas.

The youths marched from the Convention Center nine blocks to the courthouse, where street lights were dimmed while the young people waved flashlights and sang hymns.

The crowd estimate was made by Dr. Wade Freeman, director of evangelism for Texas Baptists.

The youths carried placards, some of them saying, "Turn on with Jesus," "Get High with God," and "A Christian Revolution."

William B. Pogue, support crewman for the coming Apollo 14 moon flight, led the marchers. "Something phenomenal is taking place here tonight," Pogue commented, "this is more impressive than a Saturn leaving the Cape (Kennedy)."

Before the parade, the youths heard Cliff Barrows of the Billy Graham Evangelistic team and Debbie Patton of Odessa, Miss. Teen-Age America of 1970.

Both speakers told the young people that there is one way to peace . . . through Christ.

Betush of the News and Dispatch, Tarenum, Pa. Kenneth is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Costello, Bull Creek Road, Fawn Township.

SMOKESCREEN - Fires in underground electrical circuits sent acrid smoke billowing through downtown Indianapolis Thursday. Power was cut to a seven-square-block area, forcing evacuation of about 15,000 persons from buildings.

Draft Magic Number 240?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's draft lottery ceiling has risen to No. 195 through August and Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr says officials "don't anticipate that it will go much higher" for the rest of the year.

Tarr ordered local draft boards Thursday to add only five lottery numbers for August inductions.

The Selective Service director's announcement means that men holding numbers in the upper end of the "middle third"—somewhere around 210 to 240—might escape the service.

He said an influx of low-numbered men, primarily college students who have lost their deferments, is replenishing the draft pool and "really helping our manpower situation."

The White House estimated at the time of the first lottery last December that the lowest third—men with numbers from one to about 120—would almost certainly be inducted.

It said men with numbers above 240 probably would not. Those with numbers in the middle range were left to wonder about their chances.

Last December's estimates were based on predicted manpower needs of 200,000 men. The Pentagon since has reduced that number to somewhere between 150,000 and 180,000.

Monthly draft calls have shown a corresponding downward trend with the August call of 10,000 the lowest of the year.

Tarr also reaffirmed that local boards need not send men with numbers higher than 215 for pre-induction physicals.

That advice, repeated over the past several months, had been the only indication of how high on the lottery list the 1970 draft might go.

He said he rejects the "notion that persons exercising freedom of speech have a right to shut down a community any more

Attorney General Defends Free Speech And Assembly

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — U.S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell says the federal government encourages the peaceful exercise of freedom of speech and assembly, "regardless of how unpopular the cause."

"This, he told lawyers at the Texas Bar convention Thursday, is one of the guidelines on dissent that the federal government follows.

"In our opinion, merely to tolerate freedom of expression is not good enough in this generation," Mitchell said.

He said the government also follows a guideline of assuring that those who want to hold a demonstration are "given the benefit of the doubt."

In questionable situations it is always wiser to offer a little more freedom than a little less."

State and local law enforcement agencies, he said, should consider these and other federal guidelines to insure free speech while guarding the rights of non-demonstrators.

MORE FREEDOM
The dissent and demonstrations of today, Mitchell said, prove that there is "more freedom of speech and more freedom of assembly today than at any time in our nation's history."

"And I can assure you that so long as I am attorney general, I will do everything within my power to see that these rights continue to flourish."

On the other hand, he told about 900 persons at a junior bar session, non-demonstrators have "rights which should not be seriously impaired."

He said he rejects the "notion that persons exercising freedom of speech have a right to shut down a community any more than a community has a right to exclude demonstrators."

About a dozen pickets with peace signs stood outside the convention center where Mitchell spoke. He took no note of them.

A young man who said he was a member of the Youth International Party later interrupted Mitchell's news conference, but it was quickly brought to order and newsmen butted in with other questions.

Mitchell's speech appeared to dispute claims made here earlier by "Chicago 7" lawyer William Kunstler that freedom of speech does not exist.

Mitchell said, however, that his address was written some time ago and not meant as a rebuttal.

Kunstler was confronted by members of a Brown Power group, the Mexican-American Youth Organization, at one of two appearances Thursday. Leaders charged that Anglo lawyers have ignored the Spanish-surnamed.

The long-haired lawyer said he agreed.

He spoke at a marriage counseling workshop of the Texas State Bar Convention.

Glasser said such drastic measures are "probably illegal" but urged the lawyer-delegates to "get around the constitutional questions" in order to preserve the institution of marriage.

Asserting that "the dissolution of marriage as an institution will be a disaster for society," Glasser said schools, laws, the churches and other social institutions must adapt to the new society which is evolving.

Ask Expulsion
MARION, Ill. (AP) — A group known as Citizens for Southern Illinois has collected more than 25,000 signatures on a petition urging expulsion of students involved in disruptive demonstrations at Southern Illinois University campuses.

He added it was among the top 25 film moneymakers of all time.

Two Lutheran ministers and a Episcopalian testified they considered the movie to reflect life and was neither obscene nor an affront to community standards.

The movie, which won the 1970 Academy Award for the best picture of the year, has grossed sales of $17 million through June 13 according to Gene Jacobs, southern divisional sales manager for United Artists.

COWBOY CLEARED

Theatre Head Absolved Of Obscene Film Count

BROWNWOOD, Tex. (AP) — A citizen who took his family to see the movie "Midnight Cowboy," thinking it to be just another western, has lost his suit charging a theater owner with showing an obscene film.

A jury of four women and two men took two and one-half hours Thursday to acquit Floyd Alford, manager of the Bluff View drive-in theater.

Following the jury decision, Paul Cornwall, western divisional manager for Video Theaters, which owns the Brownwood drive-in, said there were no immediate plans for showing the movie there again.

But he did not rule out the possibility that it might be screened at a later date.

The four-day trial ended after both sides called on clergymen to express their views on the film.

The Rev. Leon Aduddell of the Cogan Avenue Baptist Church, testified he saw the movie with several other Baptist ministers. He talked of a "shameful display of sex and nudity."

Two Lutheran ministers and a Episcopalian testified they considered the movie to reflect life and was neither obscene nor an affront to community standards.

Ex-Slave To Have 128th Birthday

BARTOW, Fla. (AP) — Charlie Smith, an ex-slave who still wears a gumbel from his days as a Texas cowboy, will celebrate his 128th birthday July 4.

Charlie, who lives and keeps store in a small Bartow building, is the oldest person on Social Security rolls. He has been drawing payments since he was 113. That's when they made him stop climbing ladders to pick oranges. When he was 12, Mitchell Watkins was kidnaped from Liberia and brought to American for sale as a slave. A Texas rancher bought him, renamed him Charlie Smith and picked July 4 as his birthday. When freed Charlie says, he became a Texas cowboy.

Soaring Finals Set For Today

MARFA, Tex. (AP) — Excellent soaring conditions were expected to greet pilots today in the final competition of the 12th World Soaring Championships.

America's George Moffat of Elizabeth, N.J. all but clinched the Open Class Thursday, adding another 1,000 points with the best time—64.9 miles per hour average speed on a course from Sierra Blanca to Ft. Stockton to Marfa, a distance of 327.5 miles.

His overall standings of 7,323 points were well ahead of West Germany's Hans Werner who finished in fifth place to earn 899 points Thursday for his average speed of 58.3 m.p.h.

Helmut Reichmann of West Germany retained his first place standing in the standard class, earning 1,000 points for 60.4 miles per hour.

Official scorings for Thursday's task were to be issued Friday morning.

The standard class task was a round trip of 290 miles to Odessa, Tex.

Closing ceremonies were scheduled for tonight in Marfa, West Texas town not far from the Mexican border.

He said he carried the 39 counties that have 35 per cent or more Spanish surname residents with a margin of more than 15,000 votes.

"The chicanos and Ralph Yarborough came through together on May 2, 1970. You and I who have fought so many battles for progress were together again, though some who fought with us in the past were a part of the non-voting, silent majority of 2.5 million qualified voters in Texas who did not vote on May 2," he said.

"Hidalgo County, where 'patron Spanish' was cynically displayed by my opposition, was carried by Yarborough forces by more than 4,000 votes," Yarborough said. Bentsen once represented that county in Congress, and he comes from an old, wealthy Hidalgo County family.

Sen. Yarborough Opines Chicanos Didn't Vote

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough said today that 23.4 per cent of the Texans killed in Vietnam had Spanish surnames, while Mexican-Americans make up only 14.8 per cent of the state's people.

Yarborough said Spanish surname Texans "also have had the hardest time cracking the financial barriers to education," and the GI bill is often their "only educational opportunity."

Brief Case Blast Fatal

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — A tall, slim, bespectacled youth was killed when a homemade bomb he was carrying in an attaché case exploded outside this city's police station. The blast had enough force to knock Police Capt. Harold Lindemulder off his chair inside the building.

Officers said Tommie Lige Harper III, 23, a former student at Compton City College and once an active member of the Black Student Union, was dismembered Thursday by the explosion about 100 feet from the police station's front door. Windows were shattered, ivy was ripped down from a wall and the windshield of a nearby automobile was cracked, officers said. There were no eye witnesses.

Harper, officers said, disappeared last year while serving three years probation on a marijuana possession conviction. They said they had received no warning or threats against the station.

Youngsters Swim Play Ball, Games

The summer recreation program continues to be a success, topping last year's attendance in all categories with more than 300 participating. Youngsters report at either Comanche Trail Park or Lakeview YMCA at 9 a.m. for two hours of games, arts and crafts, exercises and nature hikes then cool off with an hour of swimming. Sessions let out at noon. Recreation continues each Monday through Friday until July 31, and any youngsters who have missed out so far can still enroll. Parents may take their youngsters to the Old Settlers Pavilion at Comanche Trail Park or to Lakeview YMCA each day at 9 a.m., or they can call the central YMCA. About 70 youngsters take part in an evening basketball program at Runnels Junior High.

John Varnell is in charge. Five teams play ball four nights a week. Lakeview had 156 enrolled at last count. Comanche Trail Park has 149 enrollees. Last year's highest enrollment in the program was 83. Y.M.C.A. physical director Eddie Trice said he is pleased the program is going well and serving so many Big Spring youngsters. He said another increase was seen in the annual learn-to-swim program conducted the first week in June. Last year 88 enrolled, but this year 183 reported for swimming instructions. Heading up the staff at Comanche Trail Park is Miss Helen Danford. Sam Dawson handles the Lakeview activities. The program is made possible by support from the United Fund, City of Big Spring, Big Spring schools and the YMCA.

County Court Has 235 Cases Slated For Trial

County Judge Lee Porter has tentatively set the weeks of July 21 and July 28 for the hearings in 235 cases on the county docket. Docket call will be at 10 a.m. July 9 in the County Courtroom.

One possession of narcotics charge and three threatening life charges are listed. Thirty-two cases are appeals from Justice of the Peace Courts and 37 are appeals from City Corporation Court.

Driving while intoxicated and speeding are the most common offenses; 97 and 35 respectively. Seventeen are charged with passing worthless checks; 14 with carrying a prohibited weapon, 10 with non-support; eight with aggravated assault; eight with no driver's license; and six are charged with being drunk.

There are four cases of desertion, four failures to stop at a stop sign, three cases of abandonment, two cases of driving without a license, two cases of selling alcohol to minors, two cases of interfering with officers, and two cases of selling liquor during prohibited hours slated for hearings.

One case concerning each of the following offenses are set: selling liquor without a license, defrauding an innkeeper, contributing to the delinquency of a minor, shoplifting, destruction of property, driving on the wrong side of the road, making an improper left turn, parking on the roadway, illegal passing, improper lookout, and failure to stop for a red light.

Other single offenses are minor in possession, selling liquor to a minor, failure to yield, disorderly conduct, and negligent collision.

Oil Facts Pamphlet

DALLAS — Texas crude oil production hit an all-time high in 1969 but faced even stiffer competition in the market place as its output dropped to only 7.6 per cent of world production compared with 12 per cent in 1960 and 22 per cent in 1950.

These facts and others are revealed in a new leaflet just published by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, 2920 Southland Center, Dallas 75201. Called "70 Fast Facts about Texas Oil and Gas" and designed to be read in less than five minutes, it starts with the drilling of Texas' first oil well and continues through 69 other facts that effectively summarize the entire scope of Texas' number one industry.

Along with setting the new production high of 1,151,799,000 barrels, the industry, already Texas' number one taxpayer, also set a new tax mark by paying $286.5 million to the state, the Association pointed out.

The pamphlet lists other such facts as:

Oil or gas is produced in 209 Texas counties; the state has 198,000 producing oil wells in 8,500 fields; the average Texas well yields 16 barrels of oil daily; Texas has 44 per cent of all U. S. oil reserves; Texas has 92,060 miles of gas pipelines and 70,200 miles of oil pipelines; there are 143 operating petrochemical plants in Texas; Texas' 47 refineries processed one billion barrels of crude oil in 1969.

Credit Women Hear Boys' Club Director

Bert Andries, head of the Boys' Club, was guest speaker at the Big Spring Credit Women luncheon Thursday at Hotel Settles.

Speaker Advises Constant Prayer

"Prayer is a Christian's response to God in faith, hope and love," Mrs. Ronald Wasson said in her talk Thursday to the Lutheran Women Parish Workers of St. Paul Lutheran Church. Mrs. Alton Marwitz, 1611 Osage, was hostess for the monthly meeting.

"A Christian's life is a continuous prayer, not necessarily praying aloud, but it should be a way of life," Mrs. Wasson added. The devotion was given by Mrs. Ralph Hadley. A memorial was given in honor of Mrs. Ruth Bosse, a member who died recently.

Plans were made for the publishing of new yearbooks and selection of new committee chairmen. The Rev. William Roth, pastor, was a guest. Mrs. Marwitz presided at the meeting and served refreshments. The next meeting will be a salad supper Aug. 6 in the home of Mrs. Frank Long, 1206 Wood.

'Fashion Cycle' Is Revue Theme

"The Fashion Cycle" will be the Glasscock County 4-H Club dress revue theme at 8 p.m. Thursday in Garden City School auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

The pre-show judging will be a 3 p.m. Wednesday in the auditorium. The divisions are the junior division and, starting with 14-year-olds, the senior division. The district dress revue will be July 22 at El Paso.

Settles. Mrs. W. E. Moren, club president, presented Andries with $100 for the Boys' Club building fund.

Andries discussed how the club was organized in Big Spring with the board of directors formation in 1967 and the opening of the club in June, 1968. The club now has 225 members, aged 7 to 15 years. It is open four days a week and offers art classes once a week, and woodworking, crafts, table games, ping pong, pool and a library. The club also leases one of the city swimming pools for use of its members.

"Each Boys' Club is independently organized and has its own board of directors," Andries explained. The individual clubs are then affiliated with the national Boys' Clubs of America.

High Winners In Bridge Games

Four tables were in play for the La Gallina duplicate bridge games held at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Big Spring Country Club.

New players introduced were Mrs. Joe Horton, Mrs. John Fort, Mrs. W. A. Moore and Mrs. Vernon Swafford.

Winners were Mrs. Don Wiley and Mrs. Paschal Odom, first; Mrs. W. A. Moore and Mrs. Bill Johnson, second; and Mrs. M.A. Porter and Mrs. Swafford, third.

The next meeting will be at 1 p.m., July 15.

Ironing Tricks

If you want to make your iron breeze along that cotton blouse or skirt, just remember to put fabric softener in the water when the garment is washed. Another "quick-ironing trick": use spray starch as you iron.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:

We have a playroom and have found the "funnest" idea for making it a wee bit unusual . . .

We saved (and our friends helped us) just dozens of soft drink tabs and strung them together forming chains of different lengths. Then the fun began!

We hung the longer chains vertically in the doorway, and the same for the shorter ones, only close together in the window over the couch, just touching the window sill. Gives us plenty of light and privacy as well.

And sweeping through the chains makes you feel like you are entering a really festive spot! They add so much pattern and interest to the room that we're tickled pink with our idea.

Too, as beaded curtains are so popular, yet rather expensive for our budget, we feel our little trick is that much more unique . . . all for free! And so much fun to make! . . . Suzy Shades of Scheherazade! Sounds intriguing as well as serving a purpose. Wish we could all take a peek into that playroom of yours, Suzy, at its amazing what some people can do with practically nothing!

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

When your sunglasses lenses break, here's an idea!

If the frames are still good and of a regular shape, you can buy a pair of those clip-on sunglasses and just clip them to your empty frames. . . . Anne Walsh

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

I am overweight but I love to wear slacks especially for cleaning the house.

To cover my "pot" and "bumper seat," I wear my husband's white shirts (old ones, of course) with the tails. I'm not embarrassed if someone should come to the door and the style is slenderizing.

(Maybe some designer and manufacturer will come up with this shirt for ladies, only with a different collar and sleeves!) . . . "Fanny"

The plastic cap on my nail polish bottle broke off and, as you know, nail polish dries up easily.

I found that if I set the bottle upright inside another larger jar with an airtight lid, it keeps very well. . . . Jeanne Overton

Dear Heloise:

Instead of washing out those aluminum containers with plastic tops in which whipped margarine is sold:

Store those leftover mashed potatoes, green peas, etc., in the "empty" container. Then when you are ready to reheat those leftovers, the "extra" margarine is already there. . . . Ann D.

Your hint is as smooth as the margarine and time you are saving, gal! . . . Heloise

If a person has a chain or necklace and the locket or pendant has fallen off, and they cannot get it back on again, try this:

Thread a needle and tie the thread onto the end length of the chain, then gently pull the threaded needle and chain through the locket loop. It's much quicker. . . . Mrs. A. Couenoisier

4-H Club To Tour Knott Projects

Plans were made Monday for a community tour of Knott 4-H club projects, July 20, followed by a picnic. The tour will begin at the community center at 4 p.m. Johnny Peugh, club president, presided at the meeting which was attended by 50 adults and youths. Members plan to paint trash containers, donated by a local organization, in the 4-H colors and place them at the community center and horse arena.

Keith Locke, a guest from Shelbyville, Tenn., spoke briefly on 4-H club activities in his hometown. New adult leaders were elected. They are Mr. and Mrs. Lon McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Zant and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Peugh.

Volunteer Work Told To Legion

Mrs. Roscoe Cone presided at the Thursday meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in the legion hall. Mrs. E. Norman Rea, hospital representative, reported on volunteer work at the Veteran's Administration Hospital, saying that more volunteers are needed.

Mrs. Ernest Grubbaugh and Mrs. Billie Kirkpatrick were appointed to hold game parties at the hospital this month. Installation of new officers will be Aug. 1. The next meeting will be July 16.

Hearing On Insurance Is Delayed

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Insurance Board has delayed its scheduled July 14 hearing on auto insurance companies' investment income so it can study a new report on the subject.

Ned Price, board chairman, said the hearing probably will be rescheduled Sept. 9.

Price said the board and its staff needed time to analyze a 326-page report issued June 19 by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners on the use of investment income in setting car insurance rates.

The association will consider a recommendation in the report for a change in the treatment of investment income in insurance rating formulas, Price said.

The report "assumes as one of its purposes that investment income will be brought directly into the rate formula," Price said in a statement.

McGovern Refused

NEW YORK (AP) — All three networks have turned down Sen. George S. McGovern's request for equal air time to answer President Nixon's criticism of the South Dakota Democrat's amendment to withdraw all U.S. troops from Southeast Asia by July 1, 1971.

Special programs dealing with all aspects of the Vietnam war will be aired next week on both ABC and NBC, the two networks said.

CBS said it had devoted considerable air time to the Vietnam war and would continue to do so in the future, including congressional developments pertaining to the conflict.

McGovern made the request following Nixon's foreign policy talks with network correspondents Wednesday.

Agreement Reached To End 12-Week Trucker Strike

CHICAGO (AP) — Negotiators announced early today an agreement to end a 12-week Chicago area trucking strike and lockout and to increase by nearly 70 per cent pay raises provided in a national trucking contract ratified in May.

The May contract between the International Teamsters Union and the general trucking industry gave pay raises of $1.10 an hour over 39 months to 325,000 truck drivers who had been earning an average of $4 an hour. Under the new agreement, their raise over 39 months will be $1.85 an hour.

The 37,000 Chicago area truckers involved in the strike and lockout won pay raises of $1.65 an hour over 36 months, the period covered by the separate contract negotiated for them. They had been earning $4.15 an hour under a contract that expired March 31.

Both the Chicago contract and the new wage section of the national agreement must be submitted to the union rank and file.

In announcing the agreement, however, Frank E. Fitzsimmons, acting president of the International Teamsters, said it met union demands. It also appeared likely that trucks in Chicago would resume operations before the voting was finished.

"We're ready to roll as soon as the equipment can be put in shape," said Ray Schoessling, head of Teamsters Joint Council 25 at Chicago.

Chicago drivers had rejected overwhelmingly last week an industry offer of $1.65 an hour over 45 months.

The national contract had specified that it would be renegotiated if any company granted larger increases to a union local not covered by it.

PEOPLE POWER

Houston Backs Down On Private Dumping Site

HOUSTON (AP) — The people won a major battle Thursday and appear to be heading for total victory in the garbage war which was dumped on the city council this week.

The council voted Thursday to open three new city-operated dumps as quickly as possible in other areas of the city.

The action followed a special council session after Mayor Louie Welch met with the county commissioners court to see of what help they could be.

The trouble started Monday when residents near the privately owned landfill site began stopping city garbage trucks as they tried to enter the grounds.

About 39 were subsequently arrested and charged with loitering Monday and Tuesday.

Wednesday, about 200 irate citizens, who maintained their water wells will be polluted by the dump, showed up at the regular city council meeting and voiced their complaints.

Welch told them he would see if the county would let them use their dump until a solution to the new southside dump is found.

The county commissioners agreed to help after Welch suggested a 30-day plan to permit the city to set new sites.

A spokesman for American Refuse Systems, Inc., which owns the dump, said the city's decision to move would virtually mean the closing of the dump.

The company said it has spent $250,000 getting the dump ready after the city decided to dump there eight days ago.

Private trash haulers were also unhappy with the new site, saying they had to pay exorbitant fees to dump there. Some trash was dumped along the roadway leading to two dumps closed this week by the city.

Welch offered to loan the county equipment to help channel as much as 250 tons of garbage daily into the county dump near the Houston Intercontinental Airport.

Perot Honored By Junior Bar

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The State Junior Bar of Texas honored Dallas computer magnate H. Ross Perot Thursday and Junior Bar groups from Houston, Jefferson County and Fort Worth.

Perot received the Junior Bar's 1970 Liberty Bell Award for his efforts to free prisoners of war in Vietnam.

The Houston Junior Bar Association won the State Junior Bar's Award of Merit contest in the large city category over 250,000 population and the Jefferson County Junior Bar Association won in the small city category.

The Fort Worth-Tarrant County Junior Bar Association was named second place winner.

Zone Changes Up For Study

Consideration of two zoning requests and a special permit are slated for the meeting Tuesday of the Planning and Zoning Commission.

The commissioners will discuss a request for a specific use permit for sale of beer on the premises at the Diamond Lounge, 700 Lamesa Highway being made by Reymundo Canales.

They also will study a request for a zone change with a specific use permit to allow Ben Stuteville, of 800 E. 14th, to place a mobile home unit next to his house for use by a member of his family.

The City of Big Spring is requesting a change of zone from Light Commercial to Heavy Commercial for the land tract occupied by Gandy's Creamery along FM 700. This proposed change would correct an apparent oversight in the earlier zoning change when the Creamery was first built. At that time the city commission approved a change from residential to Light Commercial zoning, instead of Heavy Commercial.

The meeting is to begin at 5:15 p.m. Tuesday.

GI Psychiatry Bill Expensive

WASHINGTON (AP) — A San Diego psychiatrist made $176,000 on a GI health insurance program in 1968, a House subcommittee reported today, and the military didn't look into the payments until nudged by Congress.

The House service benefits subcommittee headed by Rep. James A. Byrne, D-Pa., charged no wrongdoing but said it "was concerned about the long delay in determining the propriety of such payments" and recommended the Pentagon revise its procedures to keep a current review of the fees it pays.

The Pentagon reportedly told the subcommittee the psychiatrist worked 12 to 14 hours a day and had records showing he had earned the average $528 a day he received. The payments work out to that average if he worked six days a week.

The $11,121 overpayment, a subcommittee aide said, was the result of poor bookkeeping.

Mercury Poison Kills Bald Eagles

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's national bird, the bald eagle, already threatened by pesticides, apparently faces another man-made danger of poisoning from mercury compounds, the Interior Department said today.

Scientists at a wildlife research center near Laurel, Md., said two eagle corpses found in Minnesota contained lethal amounts of mercury, and two others from Wisconsin had smaller mercury contents.

Director Eugene Dustman said the eagles apparently are absorbing mercury from the fish they eat.

No Chickens, Takes To Tent

BROOKSVILLE, Fla. (AP) — A family of eight has taken to the woods to live in a plastic tent because a Tampa landlord didn't like their chickens running loose in his yard.

Russell Dennis, a tool and die maker before leaving Grand Rapids, Mich., said Wednesday his family still owns the chickens and also two goats on a five-acre plot he is buying near Brooksville — about 40 miles north of Tampa.

He spread pine needles for a bed, and set up a kitchen table and chairs under a tree for his wife and six children ranging in age from 8 months to 11 years.

"The evening dampness is just about as bad as rain," said Mrs. Dennis after a week at their new home. She said she worries about the baby, who is mosquito bitten from head to toe.

Dennis, who put $50 down on the five-acre plot, said he still owes $3,600 because "work was hard to find."

He said he decided to come to Florida when he bought a 10-pound bag of potatoes for $1.

Wide Slate Of Activities Planned For July Fourth

By GORDON ZEIGLER
Happy Birthday America, you are 194 years old Saturday.

From the nation's capital to the local scene Americans pause Saturday to mark their rich heritage.

That historic moment in history, the signing of the Declaration of Independence, will come alive in Big Spring when citizens stage Let Freedom Ring ceremonies at War Memorial Plaza on the courthouse grounds, beginning at 8 p.m.

After ringing of "The Star Spangled Banner" residents are asked to ring bells throughout the city. That should occur about 8:30 p.m.

Bursts of colorful fireworks begin at 9:30 p.m. at the National Guard Training area on Scenic Mountain. Sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and Webb AFB, the event will be supervised by the Webb AFB special services division.

The show was shortened to 30 minutes to give residents a fast moving display. Last firework of the night will be a large, blazing flag.

Residents can watch the display from the lawn of the armory or from Scenic Mountain drive in the state park.

July 4th weekend will be a time for rest and relaxation for many while others will be leaving town for recreation, camping, or trips to visit friends and relatives.

Some businesses closed today giving employees a long weekend and a chance for short trips.

Post office deliveries will not be made Saturday except at lock boxes and special delivery. Window service came to a close at noon today.

H.C.J.C. students got a holiday today. They resume classes Monday. Summer students at Big Spring High School, however, went to school as usual.

The Summer Recreation Program was held today as usual. The YMCA will be closed Saturday for the holiday including the pool.

City pools will remain open Saturday according to Roy Anderson, assistant city manager, and camping areas in Comanche Trail Park are being put in shape for July 4 visitors.

Sheriff's deputies report in full strength Saturday and will be patrolling the highways, according to Sheriff A. N. Standard. Chief Jay Banks said police also will be at full force, and special details will be organized for Let Freedom Ring.

Boating and fishing at nearby lakes should be high on the list of many. Lakes Champion and Colorado City in Mitchell County and Spence near Robert Lee may have their best weekend traffic of the summer. Lake

Powder Puff Derby Ready

MONTEREY, Calif. (AP) — Women fliers from around the world—88 of them—are gathered for the Powder Puff Derby, beginning today.

The estimated average time to the finish at the Bristol, Pa., airport, is four days.

The fastest will make it in 48 hours—compared with 4½ hours by commercial airline jets.

The Powder Puff, oldest longest race for women, was founded by Mardo Crane, 61, of Cupertino, Calif., still flying and a competitor again this year.

Mrs. Crane, who calls herself the "Grandma Moses" of the derby, started it in 1947 after serving during World War II with WASP—Women's Air Force Service Pilots.

Bristol became the finishing point by putting up some of the sponsorship money.

The avoid hazards over the Rocky Mountains, the Powder Puff fliers fan down through the southwest, and fly only in the daytime.

East responded with two clubs and South chose to jump to four spades which closed out the auction.

West was reluctant to make an aggressive lead into the strong bid, and he adopted a neutral course by opening the ten of spades. South pulled trump in two rounds.

Israeli Patrol Hits Saboteurs

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli army patrol caught a band of Arab saboteurs from Jordan in open country west of the Jordan River Thursday night and killed nine of them, the Israeli military command reported today.

It was the largest number of Arab guerrillas slain in one encounter since May 29, when 10 Syrians were killed south of the Sea of Galilee.

A spokesman said the Arabs had slipped into the occupied territory on the West bank of the river near the King Abdullah bridge, which is three miles north of the Dead Sea.

There were no Israeli casualties, the spokesman added. He said the Arabs were carrying materials apparently intended for sabotage purposes.

The military command also announced that two Israeli soldiers were wounded Thursday night in exchanges of fire with Egyptian troops along the Suez Canal.

Grenades thrown in two Israeli-occupied Arab towns killed one person and wounded 23 today, the military announced.

Eighteen Arabs and an Israeli were injured in the Jordanian town of Hebron when a grenade was thrown at a civilian vehicle, a spokesman said. He added that it missed its target and exploded in a crowd of passers-by. The wounded were hospitalized in Jerusalem.

In the refugee-packed city of Gaza, a grenade blew up in a market place, killing an Arab boy of 14 and wounding four other persons, he said.

Demos Plan Monday Meet

Howard County Democrats have been summoned to an important meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the county courtroom.

Cecil V. Riordan, retiring chairman of the county executive committee, said that a report on the year's activities as well as on the finances connected with the recent primaries will be made.

In addition, Frank Parker, newly elected chairman, will take over the chairmanship. Riordan did not seek re-election.

Riordan urged all candidates in the first primary, along with all precinct judges and election clerks, and all other interested parties to attend the meeting.

Part of the session will be looking ahead to plans for the general election campaigns.

Dallas Construction Jobs Shut Down By Bricklayers

DALLAS (AP) — Thirteen major construction projects in the Dallas area were shut down today as bricklayers went into the second day of a strike.

Members of other unions refused to cross picket lines closing the projects Thursday after the bricklayers walked off the jobs when negotiators failed to reach a new contract.

It was the first walkout by bricklayers since 1949.

Y. C. O'Glee, business representative of Bricklayers' Local 5, said about 575 are off the projects.

Harold Moore, general manager of the North Texas Contractors Association, said the union is asking a new 18-month contract with a $1.83 an hour increase in wages and broader fringe benefits.

O'Glee said the bricklayers now have a take home pay of $5.96 1/2 compared to $7.17 in the country's 17 largest cities.

Moore said the contractors are asking the union to agree to changes in 50-year old work rules which he contends are pricing masonry work out of the market.

Mob Gambling Being Investigated

MIAMI (AP) — New York and Miami authorities are conducting a new investigation into alleged mob gambling on sports activities, the Miami Herald reported in Friday editions.

The Herald said State Atty. Richard Gerstein confirmed the probe in Miami, but declined to give details.

Lutherans Soften Stand On Divorce

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Delegates to the biennial convention of the Lutheran Church in America have adopted a policy statement saying that divorce may be preferable to unhappy marriage.

In closing their eight-day meeting Thursday they also condoned birth control and abortion, and urged that homosexuals be treated justly and with understanding.

The statement on sex, family and marriage put the LCA on record, however, against sexual intercourse before marriage or adultery by married couples.

The statement was the product of five years of study by the LCA's Board of Social Ministry. During their sessions the 695 delegates, representing 3.2 million Lutherans, approved changes in church law to make women eligible for the ministry. The LCA is the nation's largest Lutheran denomination.

MARSHALL CHOSEN
Dr. Robert J. Marshall of New York, elected to a four-year term as president of the LCA after serving a two-year interim term, told a news conference the policy statement was intended for better guidance of pastors and church members.

The convention approved changes in confirmation and communion with the aim of bringing children into participation at an earlier age.

Confirmation is to be an educational process from the toddler stage to about 15.

Communion—partaking in the Lord's Supper of bread and wine—may be shared by children of 10 or younger, instead of the present practice of waiting to age 13 or 14, when children are confirmed.

POLICY
The policy statement on sex, family and marriage took these positions:

- Sex education: Responsible sex education in public schools is approved, provided religious and moral commitments are respected. Sex education properly begins in the home, but schools and church also play a role.
- Abortion: A woman or couple may decide responsibly on such an operation, with respect for laws of the land. Couples considering abortion are advised to consult their ministers as well as their physicians.
- Birth control: All persons concerned are entitled to receive information on this from governmental and voluntary agencies.
- Homosexuality: Homosexuals are sinners only as are other persons alienated from God and neighbor. They often are victims of prejudice and discrimination. It is essential for church and community to treat them with understanding and justice.

Delegates rejected a proposal to call for a United States troop pullout from the Indochina conflict by June 30, 1971.

WHEELER RETIRES — Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, speaks today at nearby Andrews Air Force Base during his retirement ceremonies. He will be succeeded by Adm. Thomas H. Moorer, left, who will be sworn in later today at Pentagon ceremonies.

Chamber Spruces Up Christmas

Come Christmas the Chamber of Commerce will have a new treat for young Big Springers — at 15-foot Jack-in-the-box on the courthouse square.

The chamber Christmas decorations committee, meeting early to avoid the rush, decided Thursday afternoon to purchase the $600 tinsel toy to liven up the looks of the square during the long Christmas holiday.

The committee also decided to spend another $700 or more on normal decorating expenses and to replace the one of 40 pole decorations that was ruined in an accident last season.

Plans Are Finalized For Fireworks Display

The fireworks special show, although the U.S. flag stationary fireworks display at the end may be hard to see.

There will be room for 200 more cars in the parking area behind the TNG Army building, with a good view of the flag finale.

There will be room for about 50 cars in the front parking lot of the Army, and people can walk around the building to watch the show.

There are other places where people will be able to park and watch the show, for example along FM 700 near the state park and Army. Chamber of Commerce Manager Tom Eastland and Webb Special Services Officer Joe Maratta checked the area, and they estimate 500 cars will be able to park on the roadside to see the fireworks.

Five Missing In Boat Accident

ORANGE, Tex. (AP) A collision of an outboard motor boat and a barge in the Intracoastal Canal near here left five persons missing and presumed dead Thursday night, the Coast Guard reported.

One occupant of the pleasure craft, Danny Vice, 21, of Orange swam ashore. Hospital attendants said he was in satisfactory condition but had been unable to tell much about what happened.

All the missing also were aboard the motor boat. The Coast Guard identified them as Louis Boulet, 30, of Orange; his children—Ronnie, 7, Bonnie, 5, and Shawn, 4; and Boulet's father Nolan.

McCormack Says He Did Not Know Of Voloshen Activity

NEW YORK (AP) — Speaker John McCormack has testified in federal court that he was unaware that his Washington office was used as a base for influence peddling by his chief aide or anyone else.

"I'm not an inquiring fellow," the Massachusetts Democrat, 78, said in explanation during his testimony Thursday.

He spoke as the final government witness in the trial of Martin Sweig, his suspended chief administrative aide.

Sweig, 48, has been charged with perjury before a grand jury and conspiring with lawyer-lobbyist Nathan Voloshen to use the prestige of the speaker's office for Voloshen's clients.

Voloshen, 72, was indicted with Sweig, and pleaded guilty June 17.

He explained that he had two offices, one as speaker and one as a Massachusetts representa...tive, and that he rarely visited the latter, which Sweig managed.

McCormack said he knew Voloshen as a friend for 20 years, but was unaware the lawyer-lobbyist had been using his office.

Previous witnesses said Voloshen used McCormack's congressional office to make calls and appointments with government agencies and talk with clients.

McCormack described Sweig as "devoted" and said he was authorized to sign some of his correspondence and make appointments for friends and constituents of the speaker with federal agencies.

McCormack said Sweig was not authorized to say on the phone that he was the speaker.

Under questioning, McCormack denied having made any of the calls that officials who testified earlier said were made by someone who claimed to be the speaker.

DR. R. GAGE LLOYD

Dr. Lloyd Ends Pastor Tenure

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd will preach his last sermons as minister of the First Presbyterian Church Sunday.

This was the date of separation he had set April 2 when he announced to the session his intention to resign after 24 years as pastor of the church. Technically, his retirement is not effective until July 31 when the times as minister and congregation are served officially.

Dr. Lloyd will speak at 11 a.m. Sunday on "The New Fellowship," and then he will be the officiant at his last communion service with the church. A brief ceremony will follow.

In the evening, he will bring his parting message: "Love One Another." Members and other friends will join in an ice cream supper reception in Fellowship Hall after the service.

Dr. Lloyd came here from Crockett in September, 1946, and in terms of full-time ministry is the senior pastor of the city. He is a native West Texan, a graduate of Austin College which honored him with a doctorate, and of Austin Presbyterian Theological Seminary. Dr. Lloyd is past moderator of the Texas Synod (1966), past president of Downtown Lions Club, the Big Spring Pastors Association, and for years has instructed Bible at H.C.J.C.

Privates Held Guilty Of Disobedience, Not Mutiny

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twelve Army privates who participated in a sit-down demonstration to protest alleged brutality at the San Francisco Presidio stockade have been cleared of mutiny charges.

The Army Court of Military Review threw out the mutiny convictions Thursday, but upheld court-martial convictions on the lesser offense of willful disobedience of an order of a commissioned officer.

A 13th soldier's conviction for willful disobedience also was affirmed by the court.

The action completes review of court-martial convictions of a total of 24 soldiers who participated in the Oct. 14, 1968, incident near the stockade at the Presidio. Twenty-three were charged with mutiny.

The charges were filed after the group bad-mouthed mess hall food, called stockade living conditions unsanitary and overcrowded and sang "We Shall Overcome" when an officer ordered them back to the stockade.

Convictions of 10 other soldiers on charges of mutiny were previously reduced to disobedience of an order. One case also was thrown out.

The courts-martial handed down sentences as severe as 15 years imprisonment and dishonorable discharge. But the military review court reduced the penalties to bad conduct discharges, forfeiture of pay and allowances and imprisonment at hard labor for as much as a year.

Independence Day

"... That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the Pursuit of Happiness"

On July 4, 1776, at Independence Hall, Philadelphia, American freedom was born, with the adoption of the Declaration of Independence. For the 56 patriotic men who signed this document, their act was both an affirmation of belief and an expression of great courage. In signing, they truly pledged "their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor." To the vision and determination of these men and others like them, we owe our progress and achievements as a nation, and our American way of life.

As we observe Independence Day, we may fittingly celebrate with festivity, for it is indeed a day to be happy. But along with the picnics, the trips and all the pleasures of the Fourth of July, let us remember that, above all, this is a day to commemorate with prayer and thanksgiving, for our God-given rights and for our forefathers' steadfastness in upholding those rights. Let us affirm our faith in the principles and process of personal liberty, and let us pledge to be ever resolute in the cause of freedom.

Who knoweth whether thou art come to the kingdom for such a time as this? (Esther 4:14)

PRAYER: Heavenly Father, open my eyes and my understanding that I may see Thy truth and comprehend Thy will. Give me a humble heart to face the challenge of this day for Thy sake and in the name of the Master, who taught His disciples to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
(From the 'Upper Room')

A Pledge Of Allegiance

Can we count this year upon a resurgence of the true spirit of allegiance to our country and its foundation principles?

There are some grounds for hope. Seemingly more communities than ever will be having organized programs on this Independence Day holiday. Thousands will be massed in Washington, D.C., where such notables as Bob Hope and the Rev. Billy Graham share leadership. Perhaps hundreds will gather in Big Spring, Texas, where a brief, late-evening ceremony puts stress on "Let Freedom Ring."

Older people recall with pleasure the "old time" July Fourth, with its parade, its picnic, its games, its oratory. Subsequent generations, caught up in a faster world that turned somewhat cynical, may have viewed it as a day off from labor and one to "get away from it all" (and while getting away, along with everybody else, creating massive highway traffic jams).

Some observers of the national scene are saying that the hot summer will bring more militant demonstrations, with attacks upon the structure of our government. This threat hangs over us, but also there is evidence that this segment called the "silent majority" is now speaking up to offset such militancy, and is saying something on its own about keeping this country firmly on the course of individual freedom and justice for all.

A July Fourth program does not necessarily change the course of the nation, but it can be the platform of loyal citizens expressing themselves.

Big Springers are encouraged to attend the Saturday evening "Let Freedom Ring" program, as a matter of being counted in the cause of allegiance. If the day's schedule doesn't permit this, the least anyone can do is to pause and pay respect to the principles on which this republic has thrived — yes, thrived, regardless of periodic setbacks — and to resolve anew that when people strive together, under God, they can accomplish peace and goodwill.

Highways And Environment

With one wide sweep, the Texas Good Roads Association recently passed a resolution to give the environment "high priority" in decisions involving the location, design and construction of highways.

The association is an organization of businessmen and contractors who work for highway construction appropriations and against the use of gasoline taxes for nonhighway purposes.

Highway projects have come under heavy criticism recently, as the tide of environmental concern swept over the nation. The highway industry is one of many human undertakings which by its very nature can hardly avoid changing the environment, but it is under pressure to work toward as little such change as possible.

The association's public relations committee pointed out that the highway industry has a bit of an "image problem" and suggested that the association should become an organization of highway users since no "self-interest group" will be able to stop the "antihighway" trend.

The association's resolution may not, at this time, be explicit enough, but it is encouraging that the group understands a possible resistance to that highway development which disturbs natural patterns, and has addressed itself to it.

The U.S. And Its Treaty Obligations

WASHINGTON — American combat troops got out of Cambodia a day ahead of schedule, though during seven weeks of debate in the Senate expressions of doubt were frequently heard that President Nixon would keep his word. The harm done to the prestige of the United States abroad and to the conduct of foreign policy by such political opposition tactics will be felt for a long time to come. Indeed, one democrat already has had the temerity to make the following statement in the Senate:

"I submit that our national interest would best be served by a unified Vietnam even if under a Communist rule, as it would then serve as a relatively firm barrier to Chinese expansion."

THIS IS HARDLY good news to certain members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization — Australia, New Zealand, the Philippine Republic and Thailand. They have regarded the pledges of the United States as obligations that would be honored in the event that communism endeavored again to impair the right of self-determination of peoples covered by the treaty. The speech is reminiscent of what used to be heard prior to World War II and prior to World War I, when "isolationists" in the Senate were giving foreign governments the impression that they need not fear opposition from the United States if free countries were invaded and their independence threatened.

AMERICA'S participation in World War I began 53 years ago, and in World War II nearly 29 years ago. After each war period new generations grow up, and history is not re-examined even by lots of members of the American Congress. Yet, both world wars were in part the direct result of a belief by autocratic governments in Europe that the United States would not give military aid to the countries attacked.

TODAY SOME members of the United States Senate are, in effect, telling the world once more that the United States, because of a costly experience in Vietnam, isn't going to help the small nations in Asia — or perhaps even in Europe — and that communism is free to take over wherever it chooses on the continent of Asia. This means there could be an outbreak of a major war within a few years — and a catastrophe for the whole world could ensue — unless the policies of the United States are enunciated with such resoluteness that there could be no mistaking the intention of our government to uphold its treaty commitments.

THOSE MEMBERS of the senate, of course, who preach "isolationism" think this is popular at home. Certainly it would seem that everybody would applaud a speech which is against war. But the conflict in Vietnam is a small affair compared to a world war, and the casualties insignificant in number as against the millions of deaths in a world war, particularly nowadays when nuclear weapons are likely to be used. The foreign policy of the United States needs, therefore, to be made unequivocally clear.

THE PRESIDENT has not the slightest intention to turn to "isolationism" and let the Communists grab whatever countries they wish. Such a course might be less expensive, but it would be a discreditable policy for the free nation which leads the world in its help for humane causes. But will the Communists risk a big war and bet on what they mistakenly believe is "public opinion" in America?

Baboons Raid

MIDDLEBURG, South Africa (AP) — A large troop of baboons, ignoring signs that "trespassers will be prosecuted," has moved into the army's 650-acre training grounds near here. From this sanctuary they are raiding maize (corn) crops and frustrating farmers who are unable to pursue them when they return to the training area. The baboons have even had a population explosion and boosted their numbers to about 200.

Picket Fence Around Her Thoughts

NEW YORK (AP) — Is Julie Andrews stickily sweet, a girl with a marshmallow smile and a heart of 24-karat sugar?

This public image has mildly haunted the young British singing star ever since she launched her film career by winning an Oscar in "Mary Poppins."

"I don't mind it as long as people don't compare everything I do with Mary Poppins," she said.

"I don't think of myself as being treacly. I'm more stringent than that. I'm a sissy only so far as spiders and beetles are concerned."

In person Julie is open and friendly but likes to keep a little white picket fence around her thoughts. She reminds one of a typical English garden—neat and orderly with every flower in place.

Still only 34 and stunningly beautiful, she is at the peak of her career as one of the world's reigning box-office queens. Her first three pictures, including the wildly profitable "The Sound of Music," grossed over $100 million.

In her latest film, "Darling Lili," produced by her husband, Blake Edwards, she plays with more charm than conviction the role of a German spy in World War I. Her costar is that l'il ole singing former truckdriver, Rock Hudson, who drives a fighter plane in this piece of screened fudge.

"I'd like to do a straight dramatic role next, or a good comedy," said Julie, "but they are hard to come by."

Despite her pleasant air of serenity, Julie is a stern taskmaster with herself.

"To me life is mainly a matter of trying," she said. "It is trying to be, to give, to do—testing yourself—trying in all ways to the best of your ability—trying to make things work, to live life well."

"I'm not sure just what my philosophy is, and I think perhaps it changes from year to year. Possibly it is this: to try to remain open, unfixed, unbiased, and ready to change and listen to suggestions. That's important."

Julie says her worst traits are "laziness and a terrible tendency to interrupt and put my two cents in. As my husband says, 'I have something my wife wants to tell you.'"

She feels her best trait is adaptability.

"I can muck in with most situations, and I learn fast." Sometimes a person's likes and dislikes offer character clues.

Here are Julie's likes: "Honesty — Children — lilac trees and daffodils—Italian foods, potatoes and French bread—outdoor smells and musky perfume in the evening—pretty clothes although I hate to get dressed up—the scents in a warm greenhouse — art, sculpture and painting—clear singing colors like yellow — American football and men with good minds."

These are her dislikes:

"Being made up to look glamorous—parsley—the edgy sound of people's voices when they are uptight—the smell of railway stations—dishonesty and intolerance and sadness of any kind in anyone or anything."

"I feel the world should be a happy place. I feel sorry for young people today, and I'm on their side."

"The pressures on them are enormous to find their way, to be an individual, and to retain that sense of freedom that all must have in life."

No lady however fair can remain young forever.

"When I'm old and gray," said Julie, "I want to be still learning, playing with lots of grandchildren, and planting a beautiful garden."

Annuities Grow Fatter

NEW YORK (AP) — During periods of inflation it is generally true that "more buys less." But purchasers of annuities are now benefitting from an exception to the rule. Their returns are rising.

Annuities are regular guaranteed payments, usually for life. Many persons with mature life insurance policies prefer to take their payments this way rather than incurring the obligation of managing a lump sum.

And elderly persons often sign over to trusts and insurance companies large sums of money from the sale of a farm or home, preferring to lose control of their principal for the security of a monthly check.

In 1966, a 70-year-old man who turned over $100,000 to an increase company would have been guaranteed a monthly return of $733.85 for life; and if he died before the $100,000 was used up the remainder would go to heirs.

In June, 1970, a similar annuitant, with a life expectancy of 12.67 years, would receive $877.30, or more than $100 a month above the 1966 figure.

In those four years, one insurance company, Equitable Life Assurance, has cut its rate nine times, the latest coming one month ago and considered likely to set off a round of matching cuts. A rate cut by the insurer is a way of saying the annuitant is getting a higher yield.

The situation hasn't been widely publicized, but insurance officials expect that the annuity form of estate planning, which grows and wanes, could be in for a renewed surge of interest.

There is no mystery behind the growing yields, of course. Interest rates are high, and lenders are profiting from them. Insurers are big lenders; they are getting high returns, which they pass on to policyholders.

Much of the return to the annuitant is tax-free.

Of the $877.30 a month received at present by a 70-year-old owner of a $100,000 policy, 63.6 per cent is excluded from federal income taxes. Assuming the annuitant is in a 30 per cent bracket, his monthly take-home is $781.50.

If the $100,000 were invested in 8 per cent bonds it would yield the $8,000 before taxes. Assuming he was in the same 30 per cent tax bracket, he would earn $5,600 a year or $466.67 a month after taxes.

To Your Good Health Room Goes Like A Crazy Merry-Go-Round

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Tosteson: In the past few months I have experienced four dizzy spells. Suddenly the room starts going around like a crazy merry-go-round. There seems to be nothing to do but lie down for 15 or 20 minutes until it is over.

In the last few years I have gone to the doctor for a couple of annoying problems—difficulty in swallowing and hearing. These were diagnosed as "nerve problems." I am reluctant to go again with a "nerve problem" unless it is essential.

I am 27 and healthy, if that is relevant.—Mrs. B.S. Here we go again on "nerves." Do you mean (or did your doctor mean) nerve trouble in the neurological sense—or the emotional sense?

But either way the common-sense attitude, it seems to me, is to correct the trouble, of whichever kind, rather than ignore it.

If nervousness causes physical symptoms—as it so often can—it's time to get that nervousness under control, whether you can do it yourself or get some help from your doctor or, in severe cases, need a psychiatrist's guidance.

If the trouble is neurological rather than emotional, you certainly need treatment, and usually by a specialist.

The hearing problem would seem to point to that. And since disease conditions in the ears can cause vertigo or dizzy spells, I think you certainly ought to see an ear specialist. If you don't, you may at the age of 27 be inviting lifelong trouble.

If your dizzy spells turn out not to be neurological in origin but emotional (and that also could be the case), then it's time you started doing something about that.

When you say you are "healthy," but have had trouble swallowing and hearing, and now are having periodic dizzy spells, I would say that your word "healthy" needs some qualification.

Is it "essential" that you go to the doctor? I would say so.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is there anything that can prevent or remove stretch marks after pregnancy? I have heard about cocoa butter and massage on the abdomen.—Mrs. P

Stretch marks are due to sheer stretching—and some skins can stand more stretching than others before the fibres break and leave "stretch marks." But it's the gain in weight, the stretching that does it, and I know of no way to prevent these marks except to limit weight gain to whatever reasonable extent is possible (say limiting weight gain to about 20 pounds in pregnancy).

There is no way to remove the marks after they have formed, but whereas they are red or purplish when they first appear, the color gradually fades.

Never take a chance on diabetes! For better understanding of this disease, write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of the booklet, "Diabetes—The Sneaky Disease." Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Commandments For Retirement

Today's column will mean little or nothing to younger readers. It may, on the other hand, mean much to a somewhat older group — those retired or nearing retirement.

"The Commandments on Retiring."

FIRST COMMANDMENT: Retirement is the beginning of a new way of life, not the end of an old one.

Only a generation or so ago retirement meant a grim financial and social future. Today Social Security and widespread pension plans enable a retiree to be an "elder citizen," not a has-been or parasite.

SECOND COMMANDMENT: Keep physically fit and mentally alert.

Expert agree that the older person often neglects health and permits his mind to stagnate. He tends to sit too much and eat too much. He sometimes ignores the world about him.

Third Commandment: Maintain your customary neat appearance.

Retirement often bring the temptation to be careless about appearance and to adopt the "anything goes" philosophy. Retired men will feel younger if they spruce up.

FOURTH COMMANDMENT: No man retires alone.

Members of a retiree's family, even grandchildren are affected by the man's changed life status — and most of all, the wife is involved. You quit your job and retire but your wife neither retires nor quits. Your wife will be doing more work and getting less reward for it — so pitch in and help.

Fifth Commandment: Thou shalt not covet that which thou cannot afford.

Except in rare instances, retirement means a change in standard of living, and you should have planned for it. Don't fight the necessary adjustment and don't resent it. Live within your means.

THE SIXTH COMMANDMENT: Tomorrow should always be an important day in your retirement calendar.

If you neglect to plan for the days ahead, if you leave too many blank days on that calendar, then your retirement can become dull and lifeless and no fun. Leisure and idleness need not mean the same thing.

Seventh Commandment: Don't live in the past.

An interest in what's going on about you today — local, state, national or world current events — will help keep you mentally alert. Beware of the rocking chair and that staring-into-space attitude.

EIGHTH COMMANDMENT: Do all things in moderation.

Retirement, with its leisure, has its temptations to play too hard — even at golf or fishing — and you may find yourself eating too much, dissipating too much, exercising too much, sleeping too much.

Ninth Commandment: Now do the things you "never had the time for."

Just because you are retired from work, you are not retired from the human race. Do not become a hermit. You can still be an active cog in the community. Set out to make new friends. Develop new interests.

TENTH COMMANDMENT: Don't interfere with others.

Following retirement, many a man is tempted to revisit his old "stompin'" grounds, his former shop or office or factory. He is understandably lonesome. But those others are busy earning a living and haven't time to loaf and gossip with a retired man who has nothing but time. Broaden your contacts with other retired people who, like you, have time.

No, I didn't write the "commandments" — I'm not that smart. The "commandments" originally were written for North American Newspaper Alliance by Oscar Dobb and sent to me by my fishing uncle, Russell Harris.

Is Agnew Dividing The GOP?

WASHINGTON—By feeding the raw meat of unbridled assault to Republican diners Vice-President Spiro Agnew has set what must surely be some kind of world's record. In six months he has raised close to $3 million. At one dinner alone, $100 a plate in Minnesota, the returns were over million and that, his staff says with pride, is also a record.

BUT WHAT may be good for the Republican party is not necessarily good for the country. The time has passed when Agnew can be dismissed as a bad joke sent out to do his duty for king and country. Republicans are concerned — Sen. Mark Hatfield of Oregon said this in public — that he is damaging the party as his attacks grow more and more extreme.

There was a Republican of recent memory, Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin, who did the party great harm. Broadening his onslaught with poison-tipped barbs, Agnew sounds increasingly like McCarthy.

THE TIME has passed, in the view of this observer, when President Nixon can rest on the easy disclaimer that his Vice-President is an autonomous fellow speaking his private mind. Out of his own background the President surely knows how divisive, how inflammatory, is the Agnew form of assault.

Sen. J. William Fulbright is a principal Agnew target, with the charge that as a defeatist he wants to rob the Chief Executive of his constitutional powers. The Vice-President would do well to look back at some recent history of his own party.

AS A SENATOR, Mr. Nixon was a co-sponsor of the Bricker Amendment. That amendment, pushed by Ohio's Sen. John J. Bricker, would have robbed the executive of a large part of the treaty-making power which under the Constitution is a vital element in executive responsibility for foreign policy. Both at home and abroad the amendment and the extremists marshaled behind it were taken as an ominous sign of a return to isolationism.

THE DEBATE raged in the Senate, with opponents charging that the President would "no longer have control over foreign affairs since the Congress would regulate his conduct down to the smallest details." President Eisenhower wrote to the Republican leader of the Senate that the amendment would "shackle the Federal government so that it is no longer sovereign in foreign affairs." A somewhat modified version of the Bricker amendment, still opposed by the Administration, failed of the necessary two-thirds majority by a single vote.

THE REPUBLICANS held narrow majorities in both houses of Congress with President Eisenhower's election in 1952. They lost that narrow hold in 1954. One reason for the setback, in the view of many observers at the time, was the deep division in the Republican party over McCarthyism and its dire consequences.

President Eisenhower ended the Korean War. He restored calm to the country. Today, with a ground war in Asia with 400,000 Americans involved and a casualty list of 42,000 dead, the situation is far more flammable. McCarthyism in whatever degree or kind is a grave risk. Democrats Vs. Spiro Agnew

WASHINGTON — In the matter of the Democratic Party versus Spiro Agnew, we working stiff should settle back and, in Harry Golden's words, enjoy, enjoy! It is a good show, if a touch corny, and the average Main Streeter is under no legal compunction to gnash his dentures for either side.

In their carryings on, both Republicans and Democrats forget that few citizens have a vested interest in their errant troubles. As parties, none of these characters do us any big favors except when expediency beckons and they are neck-and-neck in the business of getting us into trouble.

ADMITTEDLY they are all we've got and although sometimes lunatic, the system is the best in the world, so what else is new? Let 'em both wriggle. It might build them a little character.

Agnew is immoderate at times. But so were Bobby Kennedy and Gene McCarthy in 1968. Agnew sounds, indeed, just like those bright young men in the Kennedy campaign of 1960 who warned us about buying a used car from Richard Nixon.

SPECIFICALLY, there is not much of a reply available to the Democrats when Agnew has fun with former Defense Secretary Clark Clifford. The stand taken by this veteran Democratic big wheel on Vietnam is there on the record, and it tends to sound a lot more hawkish than any utterance by Richard Nixon since he moved into the White House.

Clifford has, deposited, in Life magazine and elsewhere, that the national security of the United States is not involved in Vietnam and that we should get out forthwith. As Secretary of Defense, whatever he now claims to have thought privately, Clifford's public statements were somewhat different in tone.

"WE HAD NO plan to reduce the number of troops in Vietnam at all," said Clifford on Sept. 10, 1968. "We have not yet reached the level of 549,500 in South Vietnam. We intend to continue to build toward that level. We have no intention of lowering that level either by next June (1969) or at any time in the foreseeable future."

As for the problem of enemy sanctuaries (involved in Nixon's Cambodian operation) Clifford on Aug. 15, 1968, declared it was "unwise to sit back in protected areas and just permit the enemy to mount its offensive as he sees fit; that is, to mass his men (and supplies) at certain areas, without any interference from us."

CLIFFORD NOW claims he was an opponent, in Lyndon Johnson's councils, of any incursions across the Cambodian frontier. Well, that's as may be. What shows on the public record is that Clifford vigorously favored operations against enemy sanctuaries.

All this is not to suggest endorsement of Spiro Agnew's bludgeoning tactics. Unfortunately, beating a dead horse — reiterating that the Democrats got us into the Vietnam mess — gets us no fodder in escaping that mess. But I reject the implication that because he is vice president, Agnew has no right to beat a dead horse. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Grace Baptist Honors Family

"Sexton Day" was observed Wednesday at Grace Baptist Church in honor of the William Sexton family. Mr. and Mrs. Sexton and their two children, Jim, 10, and Kathy, 6, will leave Big Spring Sunday for Arlington where Sexton plans to enroll in Bible Baptist Seminary to prepare himself for fulltime service in the ministry. Led by the Rev. Roy E. Honea, pastor, several persons gave personal testimonials Wednesday night concerning the work of Mr. and Mrs. Sexton here. Following a vocal solo and a farewell sermon by Sexton, the congregation adjourned to fellowship hall for refreshments and a surprise miscellaneous shower. Sexton is a native of McKeesport, Pa., and his wife is from Springfield, Ohio. Sexton served three and a half years with the Navy and eight years in the Air Force. He was stationed at Webb AFB, and his family made their home here when he was discharged several months ago. He also served in Greenland, Vietnam, Cuba and Barbados. Sexton, who has had several years of private voice training, was featured soloist in many functions and was assistant music director at Grace Baptist Church.

Action '70 Team Happy With Crusade Results

"Seeing GI's saved in their battle clothes is worth it all," said the Rev. David Railey of the Action Team '70's visit to Vietnam. Railey, a Southern Baptist Missionary, is one of the sponsors of the group. Action '70 is an evangelistic group made up of eight girls, one young man and three evangelists. Five of the girls and the young man are from Big Spring. They are Theresa Griffin, 16, East Fourth Baptist Church; Janice Place, 16, Phillips Memorial Baptist Church; Dana Baker, 16, Berea Baptist Church; Jerre Tonn, 16, Baptist Temple; and Sam Parker, 18, Phillips Memorial Baptist Church. Parker was licensed as a Baptist minister by his church before leaving on the Asian tour. The group is presently in Hong Kong, where they are largely performing in schools. "Ninety-eight persons were saved in one service," writes Rev. Railey. "The Chinese think Jerry Bernard is an angel incarnate. His singing has been the best ever," said Railey. Bernard is another of the evangelists sponsoring the tour.

"The Action '70 Team is 1,000 per cent better than when they left home," continued Rev. Railey. "The Lord has done a fantastic job in them. They are not the same people." According to letters Mrs. Arnold Tonn has received, the youngsters are really enjoying their stay in Hong Kong. The girls have bought themselves a sport coat. Parker found himself short of cash when he wanted to buy slacks to match the coat. He was surprised with a gift of the slacks from the girls in the group. While in Hong Kong, the group is staying at the YMCA. The YMCA is 17 stories and has 200 bedrooms, a full-sized gym and full-sized swimming pool, according to Mrs. Tonn. JULY FOURTH On July 4th, the team will be in Taiwan where they will appear on nationwide TV, similar to an appearance made on Hong Kong television, and will sing in a city-wide service in Taipei. While in Vietnam, the group held services wherever they could. According to letters from Rev. Railey, services were held in chapels, mess halls, hangars, hospitals and in the open. Hundreds of servicemen attended the musical revivals presented by the Action Team. Jerre Tonn wrote her parents that she believed the success of the group was "not because we're American girls, although that helps. It's because we've been telling it like it is in our testimonies and songs about Christ."

Clippings Buried HUTTON, England (AP) — Newspaper cutting about the American moonshot were buried along with parish records and coins inside the foundation of St. Joseph the Worker church, blessed and laid by Bishop Bernard Wall of Brentwood. PENTAGON APPROVAL If the Pentagon grants permission for the group's return, Action '70 will be the only group besides Bob Hope's troupe ever invited back by the military. According to Mrs. Tonn, they will go back for a three weeks' tour if possible. Eighteen services were held for the GI's in five days, according to Rev. Railey. The group then traveled by the China Clipper to Hong Kong. Action '70 will return to the United States July 15, according to Mrs. Tonn. If they are able to return to Vietnam, they will leave again immediately. The group hopes to tour Vietnam for three weeks before returning for the start of school here.

DUGOUT DELIGHT — Pseudo-female Dave Condon, Chicago Tribune sports writer, imitates girl who has been kissing ball players around the country, leads Oakland first baseman Joe Rudi toward dugout during seventh inning of Thursday's game in Chicago. Oakland manager John McNamara told reporters: "He isn't as good as Morganna."

Bateman's Slam Tips Scales For Montreal

By The Associated Press

It took the Montreal Expos almost a year and a half to roll up a five-game winning string, not nearly as long as John Bateman waited to rip the first grand slam of his career.

Bateman, the Expos catcher, slammed the grand slam in the opening inning off St. Louis right-hander Mike Torrez and finished with seven runs batted in as Montreal whipped the Cardinals 13-10 Thursday night, extending their winning streak to five in a row.

"It was my first grand slam ever in organized ball," said the burly 27-year-old veteran of 10 professional campaigns, eight in the majors. "It sure felt good. It was a hanging slider and I'm sure he (Torrez) didn't want to put it there."

The Expos exploded for a six-run first inning and held off the Birds for the longest victory streak in their less than two years of existence. The second-year expansion club won four straight in September of last year.

METS LOSE TWO

In other National League contests, the Philadelphia Phillies swept a doubleheader from the New York Mets, 6-1 and 3-2 and Cincinnati nipped Atlanta 2-1 in the only games scheduled.

Bateman, who has been hitting at a .287 clip since June 10, added a two-run double in the second and delivered another run on a grounder. The seven RBI also set a club record.

Joe Hague drove in five runs for the Cards with a pair of homers while Carl Morton, 9-5, picked up the victory for Montreal.

Bateman, batting 195 three weeks ago, has upped his average to .332 and clubbed six homers and 21 RBI's in that span. He now has nine home runs and 31 runs driven in.

The 6-foot-3, 220-pounder was the Expos' No. 3 choice in the expansion draft in 1968 where he was plucked from the Houston Astros. He missed the first

Niekro's Bid Is Spoiled By Clarke

By The Associated Press

The making of a no-hitter is a once-in-a-lifetime fling for most pitchers. The breaking of one is becoming second nature to one hitter — habitual offender Horace Clarke.

Clarke, who had ruined two previous no-hit bids this season with ninth inning singles, put his whammy on Joe Niekro Thursday night, beating out an infield tap in the ninth for the New York Yankees' lone hit in a 5-0 loss to the Detroit Tigers.

Niekro, who limited the Yanks to two walks before Clarke's one-out spoiler, joined Kansas City's Jim Rooker and Boston's Sonny Siebert on the New York second baseman's list of ninth inning victims.

Elsewhere in the AL, Cleveland outlasted Baltimore 10-9, Minnesota defeated Kansas City 5-2; Oakland trimmed the Chicago White Sox 10-6; California slugged Milwaukee 10-7 and Boston blanked Washington 5-0.

After Niekro got the first out in the ninth at Detroit, Clarke sent a bouncer into the hole between first and second. Tigers' second baseman Dick McAuliffe, who had 10 assists in the game, raced to his left, flagged down the ball and threw to Niekro, covering first, but Clarke barely beat it.

The official scorer awarded a hit to Clarke without hesitation. And Clarke wasn't about to give it back.

Phone Call Helps Canadian Leader

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Friday, July 3, 1970 5-B

LONDON, Ont. (AP) — Gobby Gilbert, the longest guy who came from nowhere to win the Houston Champions earlier this year, credited a telephone lesson from his old tutor with his first-round lead in the $125,000 Canadian Open Golf Tournament.

"I missed the cut at Cleveland last week," Gilbert said, "and played bad in practice rounds this week."

"So I called Joe Gerlak in Hollywood, Fla. I told him what I was doing. I was hitting everything high and to the right."

"I guess he could visualize what I was doing. He knows my game better than I do. He told me I was too wristy, bringing the club back too fast with my hands."

FOLLOW-THROUGH — With pony-tail hair-do flying high, Laura Z. Baugh of Rockledge, Fla., works out with an iron on the practice tee before starting her round in the United States Women's Open tourney in Muskogee, Okla., Thursday. The 15-year-old is playing as an amateur.

Carol Mann Says She Is Ready To Call It Quits

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (AP) — Carol Mann, who last year made more money on the professional golf tour than any woman before her, wants out.

"To get out of this trap you either have to do it gradually or make a quick break," she said Thursday after trying for the lead in the U.S. Women's Open Golf Tournament.

"For it to be a quick break, someone would have to offer me $20,000 to $30,000 a year, and no one's come to me with a check, so I'll have to make it a planned, gradual withdrawal."

The first step, said Miss Mann, is a teaching job beginning July 12 at the Hunt Valley Golf Club, which opens Saturday in Baltimore.

"I don't know if I'm cut out for primarily a teaching existence," she added, "but I'll try it, and if I like it I'll stay."

Continuing on the tour will be only a "problem of scheduling," she added. "The tour goes to Springfield (Ohio) next, but I don't know whether I'll be there or not."

As for the rest of the season, she said, "I always will at least go to defend my titles."

One such defense is in Kansas City in August, the other in Corpus Christi, Tex., in October.

Miss Mann has won 29 tournaments and nearly $200,000 on the tour since 1960. Nearly half the money was won in the past two years. She is third in money earnings on the tour this year.

Carol, a 29-year-old, 6-foot-3 blonde, already has started furnishing an apartment in Baltimore, which she calls her first home away from home.

"I can't tell you how much it means after living out of a car for 10 years," she said. "I'm doing my own cooking, my own

Local Station Plans Contest For July 11

Radio station KBST Big Spring, which airs play-by-play broadcasts of the Houston Astros games for area listeners, will participate in the Astros' boys' baseball contest.

Winners in two age groups, those 10-12 and 8-10, will be flown to Houston with their parents via Texas International Airlines for competition and a weekend of fun.

Over-all winners and runners-up in the competition to be staged in the famed Astrodome will receive scholarships to Big State Baseball Camp at Irving while their parents receive an expense-paid one-week vacation to Old Mexico.

The local contest will be conducted Saturday, July 11, in the American Little League park on the HCJC campus.

Class A entries, those 10 through 12 years of age, will be asked to do certain exercises ranging from situps to push-ups. Class B entries will be required to undergo slightly different drills.

Each boy, having successfully passed this phase, will then engage in such contest as accuracy throws, distance throws and base running.

Each boy participating in the competition will receive a Certificate of Participation. Finalists in the Astrodome competition will earn a "Finalist" Certificate of Participation. There will be medals for individual meet winners and trophies for first, second, and third place.

The contest was originally endorsed by the President's Council on Youth Fitness.

Boys can fill out sign-up blanks now at KBST.

Many of the glamor names in the game—Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus, Gary Player and Billy Casper skipped the tournament to concentrate on preparations for next week's British Open.

Defending champion Tommy Aaron shot himself out of it with a 78, 13 strokes back of the leader.

Asher Signs With Pokes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Offensive tackle Bob Asher of Vanderbilt, second round draft choice of the National Football League Dallas Cowboys, has signed his 1970 contract.

The trade of John Wilbur and the switch of All-Pro tackle Ralph Neely to guard projects Asher strongly into the Cowboy offensive line picture.

Veteran Tony Liscio and Rayfield Wright are slated for starting offensive tackle posts.

"I figure it's a heckuva task to beat them out," said Asher. "I'll just have to do my best and see how it comes out. I'm in shape, and I wish I was going to be there tomorrow."

"I said when the Cowboys drafted me I didn't understand why they would draft an offensive lineman, since in my opinion they had the best one in the business. But I admit when they traded John Wilbur it made me feel a little better."

The 6-foot-5, 255-pound Asher reports to the All-Star camp in a game against the World Champion Kansas City Chiefs.

Both Leaders Are Beaten

Both pace-setters lost games in Summer Basketball League competition in the Rannels Junior High gymnasium Thursday.

The first-place Rockets dropped their second decision in 10 starts by yielding to the Raiders, 61-59, but held onto first place because the second place 326s yielded to the Jets, 49-45.

Rusty Carter led the Raiders' surge with 18 points while George Gossett and Harry Crosby each had 13 for the Rockets.

Randy Womack was a major factor in the Jets' win. He collected 17. Mike Randle had 17 for the 326s.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

If football star Mike Garrett makes the ripple as a baseball player, he'll be the exception to the rule.

Such worthies as Ernie Nevers and Jim Thorpe tried it in the past and were found wanting.

Pounding a line and pounding a baseball are two entirely different things. Ted Williams observed some years ago that the most difficult athletic achievement was hitting, the problem of making solid and consistent contact with a cylindrical object (a bat) against a round object (a ball).

Even some of the good hitters can't always tell you how they succeed.

Thorpe spent six seasons in the big leagues but he never hit for a norm of above .250. The pitchers were quick to learn he couldn't chase down a curve ball.

Sammy Baugh, TCU's legendary passer, remarked several times that baseball was his first love and he tried it for a while in the St. Louis Cardinal chain. Hitting was not his forte.

Ace Parker, Eric Tipton, Fred Sington, Paul Giel, Ernie Koy and Vic Janowicz were other football greats who were journeyman baseball players, at best.

An exception to the rule was Mickey Cochrane, one of the all-time catching greats — Black Mike was quite a football player for Boston University.

Sam Chapman, Jackie Jensen, Jackie Robinson and Alvin Dark were other grid standouts who made the conversion to baseball impressively. Frankie Frisch was still another one. But they belonged to an exclusive club.

Roy Lee Ford, the local barrister who rodeoed for a living and for his own amusement until a sun-dancing quadruped almost did him in out in Colorado Springs a few years ago, is currently concerned with building up a girls' track program here.

Ford could use a little help. He dug into his own jeans for $130 to purchase uniforms for the girls now undergoing training here and anted up some of the expense money for the fems' recent trip to the Odessa TAAF meet. More people are needed to help coach the bits-of-fluff each evening, too.

Roy Lee was drawn to track because his own girls, Paeca and Felicia, like the endeavor so much. Some observers say Paeca has the talent and the drive to rank with the nation's best, in time.

Felicia is only five years of age but she ran one of Big Spring's relay teams in Odessa and earned a ribbon.

Among local people who have been lending Ford assistance are Joe Knight, Carlos Humphrey and Mona Lou Tonn.

Highly rated Mac Foster, who recently took his lumps in a fight with Jerry Quarry, probably should change managers.

His present pilot, Pat DiFuria, is a cautious individual who is not known for unleashing his ring tigers.

Foster has a creditable jab but against Quarry he used it only as a defensive weapon. Ringsiders said Foster froze in the ring against Jerry and neglected to throw his hook, the most potent weapon in his arsenal.

Quarry's win may have revived his camp but it wasn't all that sensational. Foster simply looked worse than expected.

It's interesting to note that Tony Conley, the Odessa boy who had such an outstanding year as a sophomore football player at Rice University in 1968, has decided not to play this fall.

Conley suffered a knee injury last season and the mishap could have proved traumatic.

Tony says he'll pay his own way to school this year but it shouldn't have to be that way. If he got hurt in harness, the school should make good on its scholarship offer.

AT WIMBLEDON Newcombe Faces One-Time Idol

WIMBLEDON, England. (AP) — A 10-year-old Australian boy, just learning to hold a tennis racket, listened to a radio commentary on Ken Rosewall playing in the challenge round of the Davis Cup and told his parents: "That's who I'd like to be."

It was 16 years ago. Now John Newcombe finds himself facing Rosewall, who is 35, in the Wimbledon final.

"To think I was just a small kid when I idolized him," Newcombe said. "He and Lew Hoad were Australia's national heroes."

"I guess he's always been a sort of hero for me. But to play him in the Wimbledon final was never even a childhood dream. It would have seemed impossible."

The final is scheduled for Saturday. Rosewall will be the oldest Wimbledon finalist since America's Bill Tilden, who won the title in 1930 at the age of 37.

Rosewall, playing ice-cool, calculating tennis in a troublesome wind, killed British hopes Thursday by defeating Roger Taylor 6-3, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3.

Newcombe outplayed Andres Gimeno of Spain, 6-3, 8-6, 6-0, in a match interrupted by rain.

The older generation of Wimbledon fans will be wanting Rosewall to win for sentimental reasons. He played in two finals long ago and lost them both — to Jaroslav Drobný in 1954 and to Hoad in 1956.

If anybody thinks Rosewall will not last a Wimbledon final — even a five-setter — he'll have to argue against Newcombe.

"Whatever else may happen, Ken won't tire," Newcombe said. "He's too fit for that, even at his age."

"He's got everything except a big service. I shall just have to come at him at all times, and he will have to counter-attack me."

"Possibly his age will count against him in one respect only — Wimbledon Center Court nerves. After all, time is running out for him and it would be his last chance to win Wimbledon. I still have years ahead of me."

Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., faced her old rival, Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia in today's women's final — a match which, all the experts agree, could go either way.

Mrs. Court has been playing the better tennis throughout the tournament. But she is suffering from torn ligaments of the left ankle and will have pain-killing injections before going on court.

Mrs. King kept in trim Thursday by partnering Rosemary Casals in a women's doubles.

They beat the star Australian air of Kerry Melville and Karen Krantzcke, 6-2, 8-6, in the semifinals.

Patriots Elated Over Phil Olsen

BOSTON AP — The Boston Patriots of the National Football League hope to make Harvard's Ivy covered stadium a showcase for their No. 1 draft choice, defensive end Phil Olsen of Utah State.

The Patriots happily announced completion of signing of all 24 draft choices by getting Olsen to agree to terms Thursday. However, they declined to disclose any details of the contract for the 6-5 All-American 260-pound kid brother of mighty Merlin Olsen of the Los Angeles Rams.

Olsen, who had hoped to play

SOPHOMORE LOOP TILTS

The Patriots now are homeless. Their top choice for a 1970 home site is Harvard with a 40,000 seating capacity. However, the university has rejected flatly any arrangement which might force it to become a long-time landlord for pro football.

Ground has been broken for a 60,000-seat football stadium in Boston, about 20 miles south of Boston. A $5 million stock issue, at 10¢ per share, has been underwritten by Estabrook & Co. It needs only approval by the Securities and Exchange Commission before being offered formally.

Dawson Switching Coaching Jobs

SAN ANGELO — Jim Dawson has resigned as a varsity backfield coach at San Angelo Central High School to become a coach at Angelo State University.

Dawson succeeds the veteran Buddy Horne, who quit to become dean of men at Angelo State.

Departure of Dawson leaves Central two coaches short on the varsity level.

Dawson played his high school football under Gene Mayfield and his college ball under Joe Kerbel at West Texas State.

Two Join Staff

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Tom Urbanik, 28, former star fullback at Penn State, and Gary Blackney, 25, a standout at Connecticut before his graduation in 1967, have joined Brown University's football coaching staff.

When the flag is displayed over a street, the flag of the United States should be suspended vertically with the Union to the north on an east/west street and to the east on a north/south street.

When displayed with any other flag against the wall or in the open from crossed staffs, the U.S. flag should be on the right, the flag's own right, and its staff should be in front of the staff of the other flag.

When displayed in any manner other than being flown from a staff it should be displayed flat with the union uppermost and to the flag's own right, i.e., the observer's left.

When a number of flags are grouped and displayed from staffs, the U.S. flag should be in the center at the highest point of group as illustrated.

When used on a speaker's platform, the flag should be flown from a staff on the speaker's right . . . conversely, a flag displayed off the platform (on the audience's level) would be flown from a staff to the audience's right. Never use flags for draping or decoration. Red, white and blue bunting is designed for this use.

When flown at half staff, the flag is first hoisted to the peak of the staff and then lowered to half staff. Before lowering the flag for the day, it is again raised to the peak and then lowered. On Memorial Day, the flag is displayed at half staff from sunrise to noon and full staff from noon 'til sunset.

Union Leader Gov. Candidate

FORT WORTH (AP) — George Barnes, president of United Auto Workers Local 218 at Bell Helicopter Co., announced Wednesday he would seek nomination for governor as an independent candidate.

Barnes, 44, said he decided to run for the office because "I've always been interested in politics."

The White Settlement resident will need 29,165 signatures from persons who did not vote in either the Democratic or Republican primaries or the runoff election.

The petition with the necessary signatures must be filed by Monday and Barnes said he is going to start "first thing today."

Barnes said he would work toward improving the workman's compensation law, passing legislation for group auto insurance, a decent industrial safety law in Texas and improvement of the unemployment compensation law.

He also said he would strive for better care for retired persons and a union shop in the state if the people so desired. Barnes also said he would work against a state income tax and a sales tax on groceries.

Extremists May Hamper Changes

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The Dean of the University of Texas Law School warned Wednesday that extremists may threaten the first major attempt to modernize the state's penal code.

Page Keeton, here for the State Bar of Texas convention, said extremists "on both sides of the law and order issue might be afraid that we are either going to release everyone from our jails and prisons, or are going to endanger the rights of innocent people."

Keeton is chairman of the State Bar Association committee that was created to provide the first updating of the state's criminal statutes in more than a century.

The proposed revisions will go before the 1971 Texas Legislature.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: You advised a flat-chested girl, "What nature has forgotten — stuff with cotton." That may be all right during the pursuit, but once they've agreed to matrimony, she should shed the artificiality. The poor guy may want a bosomy wife more than anything else in the world (an immature attitude, but many men are immature.) The girl may have known this all along and deceived him with "falsies." If you think this is ridiculous, it isn't. I've seen it happen.

So on their wedding night when the bride is found to be wearing balloons full of jello, there's going to be trouble.

I agree, some things are better left untold, but when two people plan to enter a relationship as intimate as marriage, such "secrets" are bound to be found out.

I'm an old-fashioned guy and I don't believe in rehearsals in bed before marriage, but I do think both parties should be completely honest about what is natural and what isn't before, as the young people say, the marriage is consummated.

TAFT
DEAR TAFT: I find your "old-fashioned" attitude refreshing. However, not all girls wear falsies in order to deceive and entrap. (Some feel they look better in clothes with a few curves.)

No bride with a brain in her head would present herself as a truly bosomy babe right up to the wedding night, and then "deflate" herself — and her disappointed groom. But if she did, she deserves to be left "flat."

DEAR ABBY: Backing up your reply to the mother who doesn't want her daughter associating with a little neighbor girl because of the behavior of that child's mother: Many years ago I tactfully suggested to my five-year-old son that it might be better if he didn't play with a five-year-old neighbor boy because that boy's homelife was miserable, he told outrageous lies, used extremely bad language, his mother was "suspect" and so on. After listening, my son said, "But Mom, how will Billy ever learn to be a nice boy if no nice boys will play with him!"

I was so ashamed! "A little child shall lead . . ."

MOTHER IN PORTLAND
DEAR ABBY: On Mother's Day I received a card, "TO GRANDMA ON MOTHER'S DAY" — signed "from Cindy and Jeff" — my two grand-children, ages two and one. But my daughter (their mother) didn't remember me in a special way. Maybe I'm foolish for feeling a little put out, but for children to get a bit sentimental about their mothers, and I've always enjoyed that holiday above all others. Don't get me wrong, I love my grandchildren, but they are not my children, and just because I happen to be a grandmother doesn't mean I'm no longer a mother.

"PUT OUT"

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 697, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069.

Independence Day

This 4th of July, 1970, let us celebrate the good fortune which those who so long ago declared, and won, and provided for us.

Give us the wisdom and strength to preserve the nation from within and from without.

On your knees thank God.
