'Big Bang' Idea 'Hot'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Navy astronomers reported today discovery of new evidence supporting the "Big Bang" theory that the universe was created billions of years ago by the explosion of a fireball.

The evidence consists of X-rays believed to come from an invisible galaxy some 76 million-trillion miles from the planet Earth, the team of Navy scientists said.

RADIATION

The pattern and relatively low level intensity of the X-rays substantiate Big Bang theorists' beliefs that space radiation has an extremely cold temperature.

The temperature would have to be "cold" to confirm the Big Bang theory. Earlier measurements taken in the Milky Way galaxy by infra-red techniques have indicated space radiation is warm.

The "Big Bang" theory has long been the more heavily-favored of the two major concepts to explain the birth of the universe.

It holds that some 10 billion years ago all the matter for a potential universe was contained in a primordial fireball—a massive single "atom"—having a temperature of 10 billion degrees.

This super-fireball lasted only a second, then exploded with a "Big Bang"—to eventually form all the stars, galaxies and planets.

INITIAL BLAST

The theory also holds that radiation from the initial blast still pervades the universe—so that at least some of the radio-waves detectable on earth by radio-telescopes represent, in effect, the very whispers or echoes of creation itself.

The rival theory to the "Big Bang" is the so-called "Steady State" concept—also known as "the theory of continuous creation."

It contends the universe has always been in a steady state, but that matter is continuously being fed into it—possibly just one atom at a time—and that this is what makes the universe expand, rather than any primeval firework.

NEW EVIDENCE

The new evidence was obtained by an X-ray telescope carried 102 miles high by an Aerobee rocket launched from White Sands, N.M., missile range in April, 1968.

SAYS PACT WITH HIJACKERS 'WILL WORK OUT' — Aristotle Onassis, the Greek multimillionaire who owns Greece's Olympic Airways, talks with newsmen in Athens today. Onassis told the newsmen he had personally assured Arab terrorists who hijacked one of his planes Wednesday that the Greek government's pact with them "will work out."

United States Aid To Latin America Dips

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration's Latin American policies have been damned by critics as the "politics of neglect." Supporters praise U.S. relations as "politics of realism."

But both sides agree on one thing—the administration's South-of-the-border diplomacy has not been practiced by the United States for some time.

President Nixon's "low profile" policies represent a studied effort to make the United States less visible in Latin America.

Economic assistance to Latin America has dipped to a 10-year low. Military aid has been cut by 75 per cent from 1966 levels. United States military missions in the region are being reduced to almost half the size they were two years ago.

State Department declarations on Latin America, once a common occurrence, have been reduced to a trickle. Every major region of the world has been visited by Secretary of State William P. Rogers except one—Latin America.

EMERGENCY

Nixon Signs Bill To Perk U. S. Housing

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon signed today an emergency bill to give the lagging home building industry a much needed infusion of money. He called it "the most significant housing legislation" to be passed by this Congress and "enormously important" to the industry in giving needed impetus in the financial market to get more homes built.

The Emergency Home Finance Act, sent to Nixon by the House Monday, authorizes the appropriation of $1.2 billion to fund three mortgage interest rate subsidy programs. Two are to be established by the measure and would directly aid middle income families—those with incomes around $9,000 a year—with a reduction of home loan interest rates to 7 per cent.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said Monday that experts expected as many as $12,000 new home loans for low to middle income families as a result of the emergency bill.

This would in turn provide up to 1.1 billion new jobs, if the measure's provisions are used to their fullest extent, Patman said. He based his estimates on a study made for the U. S. Savings and Loan League.

Dockers Dent Mail

It may be hard to believe but the London dock strike is affecting West Texas.

Postmaster Frank Hardesty has announced that surface mail to Great Britain is embargoed and will not be accepted for mailing in Big Spring or any United States post office; however air mail is not affected.

Says 'Mafia' Is No, No!

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell has ordered a stop to use of the words "Mafia" and "Cosa Nostra."

"It is becoming increasingly clear," Mitchell said in a memorandum prepared for department officials, "that many good Americans of Italian descent are offended by the use of the terms Mafia and Cosa Nostra in news reports dealing with organized crime."

"Accordingly, since there is nothing to be gained by using these terms except to give gratuitous offense, I am requesting that we discontinue their use in news releases, speeches or other public statements of this department and its components," Mitchell said.

The decree came as a result of numerous complaints received by the department, congressional offices and the White House, an aide to the attorney general said.

Henceforth, what once was termed the Mafia or the Cosa Nostra—and termed as such by no lower figures than the attorney general and FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover—will be known only as "organized crime" or "crime syndicate," the aide said.

The aide said the memorandum is in no way intended to suggest that the Mafia or the Cosa Nostra does not exist.

D. C. Crime Bill Includes 'No Knock'

President's Anticrime Win Posted

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's anticrime bill for the nation's capital, complete with the controversial "no-knock" and pretrial detention provisions, has become the first of the White House's crime fighting proposals to clear Congress.

Senate approval on a 54-33 vote Thursday climaxed a week of debate marked by charges that parts of the bill are repressive and violate constitutional rights.

PROTESTS

Most of those against passage were liberals, but Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., a strict constitutionalist, led the fight against the bill, passed by the House last week 332 to 64. Ervin called passage "a victory for repressive criminal procedures."

Chiefly in dispute were sections permitting pretrial detention of defendants judged likely to endanger community safety and authorizing police to enter homes without knocking while executing some search and arrest warrants.

Opponents also protested provisions for expanded police wiretapping under court orders, adult trials for juveniles charged with violent crimes such as murder and rape, and mandatory minimum sentences for second offenders convicted of crimes of violence while armed.

BAIL AGENCY

Other parts of the bill providing for a reorganization of the local courts, more judges, an expanded bail agency, and a public defender system were not disputed.

The measure was in line with recommendations submitted last year by Nixon, who described Washington in his 1968 election campaign as "the crime capital of the world."

Other administration crime-fighting proposals still before Congress include measures to renew federal aid to local police agencies, revised penalties for narcotics related crimes, combat organized crime, and apply preventive detention to all federal jurisdictions.

Nixon has strongly criticized the legislators for not moving faster on these measures.

SAFEGUARDS

Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he believed sufficient safeguards had been written into the preventive detention and no-knock search provisions to enable them to withstand attacks on their constitutionality.

RACIAL VIOLENCE

Shooting, Firebombing

By The Associated Press

Shooting, firebombing and rock throwing erupted around three predominantly Negro federal housing complexes in Peoria, Ill., Thursday night after two women were evicted from one of the projects.

In separate incidents, shotgun blasts from the street wounded three white patrons in two taverns near one of the projects. Police blamed a youth gang. Two of the patrons were seriously injured.

SWAP SHOTS

Police arrested more than 20 adults and detained about a dozen juveniles before dispersing the crowds early today. Mayor E. Michael O'Brien imposed a curfew on persons under 21 until further notice, and halted liquor and bulk gasoline sales.

In Cairo, Ill., white and blacks exchanged gunfire late Thursday night but no injuries were reported. Police arrested one person but would disclose no details.

And in New Brunswick, N.J., police said they fired a volley of shots over the heads of about 15 black youths to disperse them during a night of rock throwing and firebombing in which 13 persons were arrested.

In Peoria, police reported several robberies occurred during the disturbance including one incident where a group of black youths took $300 from a cash register of a downtown hotel.

Unlikely To Act On Draft Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — Without closing the door on President Nixon's plan to abolish student draft deferments, House Armed Services Chairman L. Mendel Rivers says Congress is unlikely to act on draft reform this year.

Rivers made the statements Thursday at the same time Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird announced draft calls will average below 10,000 a month for the remainder of the year.

The reduction to pre-Vietnam levels was coupled with a statement by Laird that "we are doing all we can to plan and implement a program that will reduce draft calls to zero and enable us to establish an all-volunteer force."

Laird made no prediction when this might happen.

Rivers said a subcommittee review of the entire draft law is already under way, but added he plans no wholesale reform bills this year.

"It depends what the presures on the President are and whether he needs it," the South Carolina Democrat said of Nixon's deferment plan. "We'll have to find out."

"I don't think we can do much this late in the session," he said. "I plan no bills this year—but I don't know what the subcommittee will recommend."

In the Senate, Armed Services Chairman John C. Stennis, D-Miss., promised hearings shortly after Nixon asked Congress April 23 for authority to abolish student deferments. But no Senate hearings have been scheduled.

Nixon called the student deferments unfair and said he would abolish them for all young men not already in college that day if Congress would give him the authority.

At the same time, the President urged Congress to begin the transition to a volunteer army when the draft law expires July 1, 1971.

ISRAEL CALLED BARRIER TO MIDEAST TALKS

Egypt 'Buys' U.S. Plan

By The Associated Press

Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser says he accepts the latest U.S. proposals for Middle East peace negotiations, but he says they are "only procedural" and contain nothing new.

The proposals, made June 19 by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, call for a temporary Israeli - Egyptian - Jordanian cease-fire of at least 90 days and indirect Arab-Israeli peace talks through U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring.

In a speech in Cairo Thursday night, Nasser said the same proposals have been made in the past by the U.N. Security Council, and "it is Israel who rejects them." He said he does not expect the new American initiative to achieve any results "because of Israel's attitude and foolishness."

Rogers was reported "very encouraged" by Nasser's response, which Soviet Ambassador Anatoly F. Dobrynin transmitted to him.

Israel has not responded formally to Rogers' proposals yet, but Israeli spokesmen have rejected the idea of a temporary cease-fire, contending that it would only make Arab rearmament easier. Itzhak Rabin, the Israeli ambassador to the United States, said in a television interview Sunday that his government favors an "unconditional and unlimited cease-fire."

Nasser, speaking on the 18th anniversary of the revolution that overthrew King Farouk, declared: "We do not want war for war's sake. We want to liberate our land and we want the rights of the Palestine people. We tell Nixon and the American people that we have accepted the American proposals as presented by Rogers."

But he added: "We do not see anything new in them since we have accepted them in the past. It is Israel who rejects them."

He said the Israelis "have thus far refused to mention the word withdrawal, and there was strong opposition in Israel against former Premier Levi Eshkol when he said in a press interview he would withdraw from certain Arab lands."

Nasser reported that during his recent visit to Moscow, Soviet leaders promised to support Egypt "with defensive and offensive weapons to liberate our land." He acknowledged that "Soviet experts are now with us teaching our soldiers" but said there are no Russians fighting with the Egyptians.

CURTAIN GOES UP IN TATE MURDER TRIAL Linda Is Star Witness

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The curtain goes up today in the Sharon Tate murder trial with a young prosecutor ready to outline the state's case against four hippie-type defendants.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Vincent Bugliosi had promised that in his opening statement he would disclose the reason the beautiful, pregnant actress and six others were slain last August. "The motive is even more bizarre than the killings themselves," he said.

After Bugliosi's remarks the state was expected to begin calling a battalion of witnesses, aiming to prove that shaggy-haired, diminutive Charles Manson held a strange dominance over members of his hippie-style "family," including the three comely women on trial with him—Susan Atkins, 21, Leslie Van Houten, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22.

The state will try to show that Manson held a strange dominance over members of his hippie-style "family," including the three comely women on trial with him—Susan Atkins, 21, Leslie Van Houten, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22.

All are charged with murder-conspiracy. The prosecution is expected to bring forth members of Manson's nomadic cult to tell of their communal life at the Spahn Ranch and later at a fortress-like encampment near Death Valley.

The state's ace is one star witness—petite, sandy-haired Linda Kasabian.

Mrs. Kasabian, 21, onetime member of Manson's clan and mother of two babies, has reportedly agreed to tell what she knows of the killings in return for immunity from prosecution.

She'll take the stand Monday, and the prosecution says she may testify for as long as five days.

COMELY WOMEN

The state will try to show that Manson held a strange dominance over members of his hippie-style "family," including the three comely women on trial with him—Susan Atkins, 21, Leslie Van Houten, 20, and Patricia Krenwinkel, 22.

She'll take the stand Monday, and the prosecution says she may testify for as long as five days.

Attorney Daye Shinn, representing Miss Atkins, told newsmen, "We will show that they were not connected with the killings. We'll show that they had nothing to do with it."

Shinn said one piece of evidence the defense will challenge is a fingerprint found on the door of Miss Tate's mansion. The state says it's Miss Krenwinkel's thumbprint. Shinn says the print is too fragmentary to be positively identified.

He also said there was a lack of physical evidence against Manson and predicted, "He should walk out of there at the end... They've got him on a thread."

CREDIBILITY

Shinn said he'll also challenge the credibility of two women prisoners who told police that Miss Atkins described details of the killings while in jail.

The life style of Miss Tate's social set is expected to be brought up by the defense.

A courthouse source said the prosecution would deal with the gunshot-knife slayings of Miss Tate and four visitors shortly after midnight Aug. 9 before turning to the next night's stabbing deaths of wealthy market owner Leno LaBianca and his wife, Rosemary.

Asks FBI To Make Public Results Of Investigation

SINTON, Tex. (AP)—San Patricio County Sheriff Wayne Hitt has asked that the FBI make public the results of its investigation into the controversial slaying of Dr. Fred E. Logan Jr. of nearby Mathis.

Sheriff Hitt said he sent the request in telegrams a FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover, U.S. Atty. Gen. John Mitchell, and others because he felt the people of our area are entitled to know the results."

FBI agents and state and local officers launched investigations after Logan's death triggered accusations that left Mathis in turmoil. He was shot to death July 11 during a scuffle with a deputy sheriff after his arrest.

An osteopath, Logan operated a clinic at Mathis and worked with Mexican-Americans in the small South Texas city. More than 1,000 Mexican-Americans attended his funeral and 300 or more gathered at a meeting in Mathis Tuesday night to discuss his death.

Sheriff Hitt said he did not know if the FBI had completed its investigation. FBI officials were unavailable for comment.

In his telegram, the sheriff stated:

"I most respectfully request that information obtained by the Federal Bureau of Investigation as a result of their investigation of the death of Dr. Fred E. Logan Jr. be made public."

Hitt said his office had invited the FBI to investigate and had offered agents all the information the office had. The sheriff's department and state police also are probing the case. Hitt said the telegrams also were sent to Penrod Harris, FBI agent in charge at nearby Corpus Christi; Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.; Sen. John Tower, R-Tex.; Rep. John Young, D-Tex.; Rep. George Bush, R-Tex., and Lloyd Bentsen, Democratic Senate candidate.

No Plans To Relocate Facility For Insane

RUSK, Tex. (AP) — Expressing pleasure with what they found, a special committee headed by Rep. Joe Allen of Baytown toured the Rusk State Hospital Thursday, emphasizing they had no definite plans to relocate the facility for the criminally insane.

But members said relocation has not been ruled out and the matter remains open to action.

Five patients escaped from the hospital during the pre-dawn hours last Sunday. Rusk Mayor E. H. Whitehead praised the hospital staff but told the committee that he would like to see Texas Rangers posted at the maximum security unit.

"From what I had heard and read, it is not what I expected," Allen said, adding that what he called erroneous news reports left the impression that the committee definitely planned to move the hospital.

"We didn't come here to move the hospital. We came here to study its problems," said Raymond Vowell of Austin. Vowell is associated with the University of Texas system.

Youth Are Taking Over, But It's Their Rodeo

If youth is taking over the country, it is beginning right here with the Howard County 4-H Junior Rodeo. The youngsters serving as this year's Junior Rodeo Directors are Danny Wilson, Johnny Peugh, Steve Fryar, Kelly Gaskins, Larry Don Shaw and Max Earhart.

They are responsible for seeing that the goats for the sacking and the calves for the roping events are purchased, transported, and unloaded before the rodeo begins.

Other 4-H Club members will be helping man the stock chutes for the roping events, setting the arena for the pole bending and barrel racing, and distributing programs.

A lot of youngsters (probably around 250) will be contestants in the various events, and the ones who are using their own money to pay the entry fees are likely to be downright serious about the competition.

Jim Allison, assistant county agent and 4-H advisor, keeps the club members busy making it their own show. He also has to make sure nothing is left out when parents volunteer to fill necessary jobs.

Adults, often parents of contestants, are asked to sell tickets, take tickets, run the concession stands, and handle

Tech Fee Hike Recommended

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech University President Grover E. Murray announced Thursday that an increase of $10 per semester in the building use fee, part of which was approved in a campus-wide vote in the spring, has been recommended to the Board of Regents.

The increase will boost the building use fee to $35 per semester for students carrying a full load of academic courses. It will be pro rated for those taking less than 12 semester credit hours.

The Board of Regents has been polled by the chairman, Retha R. Martin, preparatory to final action on the recommendation at its regular meeting Aug. 21. The increase is scheduled to become effective with the 1970 fall semester.

Five dollars of the increase, approved in a student referendum, will go for expansion of student center facilities. The other $5 will go to retire a $5 million bond issue for new construction.

Area Students On UT Honor Roll

Several area students have been named to the spring semester honor roll for the School of Communication at the University of Texas at Austin.

Big Spring students earning a 3.0 grade point include Jennifer C. Bean, 611 Tulane, and Susan Campbell Lewis, 702 Marcy. Area students listed include Howard Burke Miller, Route D, Lamesa, and Robert Lynn Musgrove, 406 Cedar, Sweetwater.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have gone with one man for the past 10 years. He couldn't marry me for the first five years because he had to support his mother. Well, his mother died, so he found another reason. He wanted to be clear of all his debts. Next he wanted to buy a boat! (I let him have $1,400.) Anyway, he says I'm the only one for him and in the meantime he is getting awfully hard to find. Last Friday night he rushed me home (he said he had a "headache") and said he wasn't going to do much on the week-end.

I didn't hear from him, and his car was gone. He still owes me $1,400 which he never even mentions. I have cried my eyes out, Abby, and I can't eat or sleep. He knows how much I love him. What should I do now?

ONE MAN WOMAN
DEAR ONE: Collar the heel and ask him what (and who) is new? If it's the end of the romance, it's better to know it now than to kid yourself for another 10 years. Also be prepared to write off the $1,400 as "tuition in the school of experience." And finally, brace yourself for a farewell to arms. His.

DEAR ABBY: I am 20 and my girl friend is 19. She's a beautiful girl and a very nice one, but her pucker power is zero. In other words, she doesn't know how to kiss. I don't want to hurt her feelings, but maybe if you put this in your column she'll see it. JACK THE LIPPER

DEAR JACK: Maybe the "pucker failure" is yours. Check your transmitter. You could have a dead battery.

DEAR ABBY: A letter appeared in your column from a bride, asking whether to invite her father and his "new" wife to her wedding. The bride said that since there had been ill feelings about her parents' divorce and her father's remarriage, the "new" wife would probably have the good taste to decline.

You said, "And what if she doesn't? Don't risk inviting anyone anywhere hoping they'll decline. They just may accept." That's exactly what happened to me. My father remarried shortly after he and my mother were divorced. Not wanting to do anything in poor taste, in planning my wedding, my mother and I sent an invitation to my father and his wife. They accepted promptly.

Thus, the day that should have been the happiest in my life was ruined. The tension at my wedding could have been cut with a knife. My stomach was so tied in knots that I thought I was going to throw up on the way down the aisle. If I had it to do over again, I wouldn't even have invited my father. I would have asked my brother to give me away. Keep up the good work, Abby.

MONEY IS TIGHT Tutors Hunt Jobs

AUSTIN (AP) — "Wanted: One teaching position. Have Ph.D., will travel. Need is desperate," reads a sign fastened to a bulletin board at the University of Texas.

Mrs. Mary Moore of University's Placement Service reports only slightly more than half of the school's job applicants have found work and this situation seems to have spread across the nation.

"Approximately 15 states have sent recruiters to the university and all of them have said similar situations exist in their states," she said. "All of them told me that their needs are far less than they were at this time last year."

The teaching placement staff as a whole thinks the main problem has been the economic

Plans For Community Complex Are Announced

AUSTIN (AP) — Plans for a complete community as part of a proposed industrial complex at San Marcos were announced Thursday at a meeting of the Texas Industrial Commission.

Richard L. Burdick, president of Therman Manufacturing Co. of Houston, invited the nine commissioners to groundbreaking ceremonies Aug. 11. Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes will be there.

The commission said Therman created a new corporation called INDECO, a private industrial development company, after employees voted to move from their Houston location, which the firm had outgrown.

"We simply found we can operate less expensively in the smaller area of San Marcos than in Houston," Burdick said. "And, our land in Houston is more valuable as a shopping center or apartment complex than for manufacturing."

situation facing the nation," she said. "Money is tight, and those people who usually move on to other jobs aren't moving."

"Right now, teachers are having to work harder at getting a job. They can't be as selective as graduates were a few years ago," the staff member said.

Mrs. Moore indicated the higher education levels are feeling the pinch more than elementary and secondary. Hardest hit academic areas so far have been English, foreign languages, math, social sciences and home economics.

"Things always have a habit of getting worse before they get better, and we feel the teacher placement situation is going to get better soon," Mrs. Moore said.

'Thrifty, Not Miserly'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Kasson Avery had a reputation of thrift.

"Thrifty, not miserly," said a member of the staff of the Sir Francis Drake Hotel, where Avery lived from the time it opened in 1928 until he died in June, 1968.

Another recalled that Avery picked up bottles left in hallways by other guests and redeemed them for the few pennies deposits. He also often checked pay telephone slots for change.

Now it has been disclosed that Avery had an estate valued at $1,848,000. His will left half of it to the Salvation Army and $482,000 each to the YMCA and YWCA.

Nixonites Fail To Dig Campus Woes, Says Pro

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration has failed to recognize that campus turmoil "must be viewed as a national emergency," according to President Nixon's special adviser on student unrest.

Alexander Heard, Vanderbilt University chancellor, said late Thursday that while Nixon had displayed "a searching interest in what we had to say," he was unsure what the White House would do about it.

At the same time, Heard released publicly—reportedly at Nixon's request—excerpts from three reports he had written the President, one of which charged

Friends Hold Book Fair

The Book Fair organized as their first money making project by the Friends of the Library was to be in full swing until 4 p.m. today, and will be open again from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Saturday.

President of the organization is Mrs. Calvin Daniels, who said the drive for used books netted over 1,200 contributions. A work detail then sorted them, priced them, and arranged them on tables inside the old Silent Woman Inn, 217 Main.

Selections include novels, mysteries, Zane Grey Westerns, and a variety of non-fiction reading material, all at bargain prices.

National Geographic Magazine issues, encyclopedia volumes, and Reader's Digest condensed novels are also on display, with special sections for children's books, paperbacks, and "collectible" books with early copyrights. There are even a few records for sale.

The money is to be used for expenses involved in moving the Howard County Library into its new home at the former post office building.

The library will be closed for about two weeks beginning Aug. 1 while the changeover is being made. She said the library will open as soon as the move is completed, sometime before the middle of August.

Testimony Centers On Breath Test

Defense in this morning's County Court trial of Billy Lester consisted largely of challenging the result of a Breathalyzer test. Lester, Lamesa, is charged with driving while intoxicated. He has pleaded not guilty.

Texas Highway Patrolman Kenneth Maxwell was the first witness. Defense Attorney Lanny Hamby objected to Maxwell's testimony on the results of the breath-test. Hamby contended that Maxwell was not qualified to judge whether or not a person was intoxicated, based on the results of a Breathalyzer test.

Maxwell was the only witness who had testified shortly before 11 a.m. today. Both Hamby and County Attorney Bill Eysen had reserved the right to call in more witnesses. Lester had not yet testified.

Six jurors were selected to hear today's testimony from a panel of 17. They are Bobby L. Reed, Edward R. Wells, Charles P. Moore, John M. Pipe, Donald Martin Horton, and G. C. Broughton Jr.

Major Makes Different Kind Of Pass At His Gal

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A retired Air Force major made a different kind of pass at his girl friend early today—with an airplane.

The woman told authorities a short time later that a small airplane buzzed her home 11 times. She said some of the passes missed the house by only three feet and that on most of the passes the plane's lights were out.

The airport manager reached the pilot by radio and told him the woman had been removed from the house. The pilot agreed to return to the airport but threatened to crash with the plane.

Instead he made a perfect landing. Half a dozen officers extended his journey to the jail.

The airport manager said the major owned a plane but that it was being repaired and he flew a single-engine craft belonging to someone else.

Police Await Further Information On Theft

Big Spring detectives are waiting to talk with family members to ascertain what goods may be missing in the Saturday night burglary of the R. L. Tollett home.

As much as $11,000 in jewelry items, could be missing based on an insurance policy inventory, according to investigators.

"But we won't know for sure until we can talk with someone who can verify what is missing," said Detective Avery Faulkner. Mrs. Tollett as well as the children were out of town and had not been reached as of this morning. A son of Mrs. Tollett was to return home today from a vacation trip.

Officers said an employee of the family who was taking care of the house noticed drawers rifled in some of the rooms when he made a routine check of the premises around midnight. The man immediately notified police thinking someone might still be in the house.

When the officers arrived they could locate no one in the house. Police detectives found an open sliding glass window with window screen cut and lying inside the house.

President-To-People Foray Gets Under Way

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flew west today in a new President-to-people foray taking him to meetings in North Dakota and Utah with assorted Republicans, one Democrat and leaders of the Mormon Church.

His plane took off from Andrews Air Force base in suburban Maryland at 11:15 a.m. EDT.

Nixon, reactivating the Western White House near his seaside villa at San Clemente, Calif., for about 10 days, arranged stops along his westward route at Fargo, N.D., and Salt Lake City.

The Fargo layover was for a conference with the governors of five upper plains states—North Dakota, South Dakota, Minnesota, Iowa and Nebraska. The Chief Executive, who has said he will consider no partisan undertakings in this election year—at least until October—meets with four Republican governors and one Democrat—host governor William L. Guy of North Dakota.

In addition to Guy, the well-

Welfare Changes Due Next Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three days of Senate hearings into President Nixon's welfare reform plan, already revised once, indicate the ultimate bill may only slightly resemble the administration's proposal.

"This is our best effort," the welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson told the Senate Finance Committee Thursday in referring to the administration's proposals.

But the committee, which had already forced revisions after the House passed the original measures in April, made it perfectly plain after Richardson's three days of testimony, the effort was not enough. Hearings resume next Tuesday.

Basics of the administration's proposals is a minimum income guarantee that would provide a family of four with $1,600 a year, increasing on a sliding scale until household earned income reaches $3,920.

Elderly, blind or disabled adults would get a minimum of $110 a month.

It would pay 30 per cent of whatever more is needed to bring income to the poverty level with the states required to chip in the rest—so long as they don't end up paying more than their current welfare costs. Total cost of the package in present form in 1972 would be $9.1 billion.

Critical members of the Finance Committee, both Republicans and Democrats, set two major issues at this point.

First: Another 14 million people will go on the welfare rolls, bringing the total to 24 million. And do the administration pro-

Man Charged With Burglary

Charges were filed Thursday in connection with the Thursday morning burglary of the John Richard Coffee residence.

Albino Ortega, whose address was listed as Wyoming Hotel, was charged with burglary in Justice of the Peace Jess Slaughter's Court. Bond was set at $2,000.

Coffee reported to Big Spring police that a man had walked into his house about 10:20 a.m. Thursday and taken a tape recorder. The recorder was recovered at a local pawn shop.

Mishap Involves City Police Car

A Big Spring police patrol car was involved in a collision at 2:49 p.m. Thursday at the corner of NE 9th and Gregg.

The patrol car, driven by patrolman James W. Baker, 1103 Blackmon, was headed north and another car driven by Beatrice Perkins, 203 N. Gregg, was headed west.

No injuries were reported. Damage to the police car was estimated at $400.

U.S.-Korea To Stabilize Air Defense

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States apparently has agreed to stabilize its air defense of South Korea while reducing American ground troops there this year, according to Pentagon officials.

Their interpretation results from a vaguely worded U.S.-South Korean communique issued after high-level talks in Honolulu.

To dispel any doubts about the troop withdrawal, American diplomatic officials said in Seoul Thursday "there is no change" in the announced U.S. intention to move ahead with reduction of its forces in Korea this year.

It is expected the United States will gradually withdraw about 20,000 of the 60,000 U.S. military men now based in South Korea.

Before the Honolulu conference, South Korean leaders said their prime need is help in shoring up air defenses because their air force is outnumbered heavily by a more modern North Korean air force.

According to the conference-ending communique Thursday, the American and South Korean delegations "agreed to develop a plan under which certain U.S. aircraft can be shifted to bases in the Republic of Korea from other U.S. Pacific bases."

Quadruped What?

Ten days can be a long time to be away from home, especially for a small black pony who is lost. Luckily for the pony, he has been able to find refuge at the Guitler Ranch on the Andrews Hwy. The pony was found wandering along the highway by Ebb Smith, Guitler Ranch, who has been caring for the little, lost critter ever since.

Anyone who has lost a pony matching the description of Smith's quadruped foundling is asked to contact him at the ranch.

Mr. Treadway was to have retired today after 18 years service as a civilian air base employe. He had been in carpentry service all that time. There would have been a ceremony honoring him on his final day of work. He came to Webb AFB June 16, 1968, from Amarillo AFB.

Born Sept. 2, 1905, in Crossville, Tenn., he married Jewel Ruth Bragg Nov. 17, 1929, in Albany, Okla. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

BOMBING PLOTS IN MAJOR CITIES

13 Weathermen Indicted

DETROIT (AP) — Federal agents search underground haunts today for 10 of the 13 members of the radical Weatherman organization indicted on charges of conspiring to build a nationwide revolutionary network to bomb and kill.

Some may have already sought sanctuary in Communist countries, said Asst. Atty. Gen. Will B. Wilson, head of the Justice Department's criminal division.

"If they are in the country, we'll catch them eventually," Wilson said in Washington after the indictments were made public Thursday.

LED REVOLT

Three of the accused were arrested Thursday.

Heading the list of seven women and six men charged with the plot were Mark Rudd, 23, who led a campus revolt at Columbia University three years ago, and Bernardine Dohn, 27, former national secretary of the Students for a Democratic Society, both missing. The Weatherman faction broke away from the SDS a year ago.

The indictment charges the defendants conspired to "use bombs, destructive devices and explosives to destroy police installations and other business and educational buildings throughout the country and to kill and injure persons therein."

Wilson said only one alleged bombing attempt was carried out—at the Detroit Police Officers Association building. Detroit police said a package containing 10 sticks of dynamite was thrown through a rear window of the building March 6, but failed to explode.

"DAYS OF RAGE" In the far-reaching case, 15 persons were named coconspirators but not defendants in the indictment, returned by a federal grand jury in Detroit.

Five of the 13 named defendants Thursday and four named coconspirators were among 12 persons indicted in April on charges of conspiring to cross state lines to incite a riot during the Weatherman's so-called "Days of Rage" in Chicago last Oct. 8-11.

The indictment centers around the Weatherman's "war council" at Flint, Mich., at the end of December, when leaders met to plan national strategy.

The scheme allegedly called for the organization of a "central committee" to direct underground bombing operations with headquarters in Berkeley, Calif., Chicago, New York, and Detroit.

Rains Tease West Texas

By The Associated Press

Showers teased moisture-hungry sections of Texas during the night and early today, but none brought rain of real benefit.

El Paso's .38 inch Thursday evening, boosting the 24-hour total in that far West Texas city to .49, was the largest amount.

Shower activity was scattered over the Panhandle, elsewhere in West Texas and along the coast. It was partly cloudy in most other areas. No big changes were forecast.

It was hot and sticky nearly everywhere as top temperatures Thursday afternoon ranged from 96 degrees at San Angelo down to 77 at Marfa in the West Texas mountains.

Readings near dawn today ran from 64 at Texarkana and 66 at Amarillo, which received rain, up to 78 at Galveston and 79 at Brownsville.

'Misinformed Hero' Guilty

BARTON, Fla. (AP) — A Lakeland truck driver described by the prosecution as a "self-styled but misinformed hero" has been convicted of violating state school attendance laws that ordered his white children to attend a predominantly black school.

Henry Giddens was found guilty Thursday by a jury of four white men, a white woman and a Negro woman. They deliberated 1 1/2 hours.

Polk County officials had said they were pessimistic about finding a jury that would convict the father, who refused to send his three daughters to Lincoln Elementary School after a county-wide desegregation order transferred them from Griffin Elementary.

Stage Mass Raid On Drug Peddlers

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)

Fifty policemen swooped down on the city's Cole Park, beside Corpus Christi Bay, and rounded up 40 young people in a narcotics raid about dusk Thursday.

Officers estimated 200 others escaped. "They're down there every day, and they had just got started real good," said police Cmdr. T. J. Despain.

He reported about half those taken into custody were juveniles. They were released to their parents for later appearance.

Of the others, four were listed as suspected of selling marijuana or dangerous drugs and the oldest taken to headquarters was 25.

Despain said felony complaints would be lodged against those accused of buying or selling narcotics. Only three of the remainder were able to post $200 bonds and go free by early today.

Officers moved into the bay-front park in 11 cars at a signal from an undercover agent that trading in and use of narcotics were in progress.

Despain said the raiders seized 12 to 15 pounds of marijuana and smaller amounts of LSD, heroin, amphetamines and barbiturates.

"They're all hippies and they'd about taken the park over," Despain said. "Most of them are from prominent families."

Chamber Exec Chosen Institute Class Advisor

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce Association announced today that Big Spring's Chamber Manager Tom Eastland has been chosen class advisor for his group at the USCCA's Institute for Organizational Management to be held at Fort Worth next week.

Eastland will be the only undergraduate serving as class advisor, a position usually filled by Institute graduates when the session begins Aug. 26 on the campus of Texas Christian University.

The USCCA institute at TCU is one of the six held annually as part of a six-year training program for chamber of commerce managers.

This session will be taught by economics and business professors from such universities as Southern Methodist, Texas Christian, Syracuse, and the Universities of Texas, Kansas, Missouri and Florida. Two special lecturers from USCCA will hold seminars in community development.

Each student must attend the school sessions for six years before admission to post-graduate seminar classes. Preparation required of students before the week-long institute session includes the reading of books on economic theory and management, and a written examination over the reading matter administered before classes begin.

The Aug. 26-31 session has classes from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day, and extra evening sessions will be held twice during the week. Course topics include industrial development, budgeting, community relations, personnel management, communications, and organizational structure and purpose.

'Have You Ever Seen A Hippie On A Horse?'

DALLAS (AP) — Protests from horsemen prompted the city council's zoning revision committee Thursday to forestall action on an ordinance proposal which would outlaw horses on city lots smaller than three acres.

The committee made the ordinance change proposal several weeks ago following numerous complaints from citizens who termed horses in backyards a health hazard.

Horse owners retorted Thursday: "Have you ever seen a hippie on a horse?" They cited the character-building aspects of horsemanship.

The revision committee promised to review the ordinance proposal and return with an amended version within 30 days.

Receives Degree

A Big Spring man is one of 155 University of Texas at Arlington students completing requirements for a bachelor's degree at the end of the first six-week summer session. He is James Dee Burnett, who has earned a bachelor of science degree in geology. There are no public commencement exercises during the summer.

Memo Hoax, Says Agnew

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has denounced as a hoax a memorandum, allegedly written on his stationery, which calls for repeal of the Bill of Rights and postponement of the 1972 elections.

Agnew said he learned the memo would be printed in the next issue of Scanlan's Monthly magazine.

"This is a totally spurious document and an irresponsible action of the editors in not checking my office as its authenticity," Agnew said in a statement released by his office. "I unequivocally denounce this hoax and whatever motives that may lie behind it."

Sidney E. Zion and Warren Hinckle III, editors of the West Coast magazine, said in a statement: "The vice president's denial is as clumsy as it is fraudulent. The document came directly from Mr. Agnew's office and he knows it. We do not hesitate to submit our credibility against his."

Old Spyglass

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — An old English brass spyglass believed carried by Capt. William Clark on the Lewis and Clark Expedition to the Northwest in 1804-06 has been given to the Denver Museum of Natural History.

Fred Rosenstock, Denver collector, said he bought the spyglass and other belongings of Clark from the explorer's great-grandson, Jefferson Clark of St. Louis.

County Agent Prescribes Cures For Fungi, Parasites

Area homeowners are running into two problems this summer, according to County Agent Paul Gross, one afflicting peach trees and the other hurting crepe myrtle and rose plants.

Powdery mildew is a fungus that causes rose bush and crepe myrtle leaves to have a chalky appearance, Gross said, but with repeated use of the proper fungicide the disease can be controlled.

Karathane, Actidon PM, and Folpet are recommended for powdery mildew, with application repeated every five to seven days. Gross explains that wettable sulfur may also be used, but tends to burn the leaves in hot weather.

He said other fungicides such as Captan and Zineb are ineffective in controlling powdery mildew, and may explain why some people have used fungicides without results.

Gross said peach trees are being attacked by a small worm-like parasite known as the root knot nematode.

The nematodes cause stunted growth, yellowing of the leaves, and sometimes small galls (the knots) on the roots. Nematode problems can be controlled either by planting trees with resistant rootstocks or by soil fumigation.

Resistant rootstocks, Okinawa or Nemaguard, should be used by anyone planning to plant peach trees this fall. Homeowners are advised to check with their nurseryman now to be sure the peach tree they prefer comes grafted to these rootstocks.

Fumigation of the soil, for infested trees already planted, is accomplished by use of a nematicide containing DBCP such as Nema-X, Nematode

Killer, Fumazone, Nemagon, or Oxy-BBC-112.

These are applied in a basin around the drip line of the tree and then watered in with a water seal about three inches deep.

Gross said that soil analysis is the surest way of establishing the presence of nematodes, since the characteristic root galls do not always appear.

Peach growers who would like to be sure before fumigating may send soil samples to the lab at Texas A&M. Gross said he can explain the procedure and provide mailing containers for such analysis.

Confronted with the apparent loss of one trick in each suit, South managed to salvage his four heart contract by making one of those losers disappear.

West opened a diamond and East covered dummy's king with the ace. With the appearance of declarer's jack on the trick, East decided that a shift was indicated so as not to present his opponent with a ruff and discard. He accordingly led the eight of spades at trick two and South put up the ace.

A heart was led to the queen and East was in again with the ace. This time he exited with a trump and declarer played a third round to draw West's remaining heart. A club was led to the king and a spade returned from dummy. East followed with the deuce, and South, after a moment's reflection, refused the finesse, going up with the king. The queen remained outstanding.

Declarer was in position to establish the spade suit by leading a third round, however two shuffs would not help him materially because he still must lose a club trick. In order to eliminate one of his black suit losers, he would have to find the long cards in spades and clubs located in separate hands, in which case an end play can be affected.

In order to strip out all safe exit cards, South cashed the ace of clubs as both opponents followed suit. Now a spade was led. West was in with the queen and he had nothing left except diamonds. On the forced return, declarer ruffed in the dummy as he discarded a club from his hand. South's hand was high, consisting of a trump and two good spades.

South claimed his contract, having lost one spade, one heart, and one diamond.

FOUNDATIONS FOR CHAPEL LAID — Construction on All-Faith Chapel at Big Spring State Hospital is almost 20 per cent complete with final pouring of foundations set for this week. The $129,131 facility could be completed ahead of the January scheduled completion date if contractors, Houston Hill Construction of Midland, do not run into delays because of weather or shipment of materials, according to Jack Y. Smith, member of the chapel committee.

The trio will perform each night of the revival Aug. 3-9 beginning at 7:45 p.m. They also will appear at the VA Hospital and for other community organizations while in Big Spring.

Church-Industry Relation Begins

EDINBURGH, Scotland (AP) — The (Presbyterian) Church of Scotland has decided to employ a technological expert at a salary of 3,000 pounds ($7,200) a year to "pioneer relations between the church and the new world of computers."

The Rev. George Wilkie, Industrial Organizer, said the appointment grew out of a recent conference of industrialists, trade unionists and churchmen which recommended deeper involvement of the Church in Britain's industrial life.

LONDON (AP) — Bishop Mervyn Charles-Edwards of Worcester will resign his see Sept. 30 to give place to a younger man. He is 68.

The bishop was vicar of St. Martin-in-the-Fields, the well-known Anglican church on London's Trafalgar Square, from 1947 to 1956, when he was consecrated Bishop of Worcester.

He also served as a chaplain to King George VI and to the present monarch, Queen Elizabeth II. While vicar of St. Martin's he pioneered lunch-hour talks on sex in the church crypt.

Church Union Is Asked In Africa

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Churches of different denominations should pool their facilities and manpower for greater effectiveness, South Africa's Church Unity Commission said in its news bulletin "In Touch."

The commission, which promotes organic union among Anglican, Congregational, Presbyterian and Methodist churches, said the churches are wasting enormous amounts of money, effort and resources, in a time of chronic manpower shortage in all churches.

Religious Names For English Pubs

LONDON (AP) — A popular pub and eating place, where the waitresses wear some of the miniest skirts in town, is called the Cardinal and is right opposite Archbishop's House, Westminster. Although one restaurant is called The Bishop's Table and another The Cardinal Grill, landlord Peter Broderick says he hasn't seen John Cardinal Heenan, from over the way.

Monastery Life For Police Cadets

CONSETT, England (AP) — Police cadets are getting character-training at the Roman Catholic Passionist monastery of Minsteracres near here. In groups of four and of any denomination they briefly share the lives of the priests and novices while learning something of the underlying principles of discipline and service.

"We are not imposing strict monastic rules for the cadets," said Father Colum Devine, the Superior. "The idea is to give them plenty of healthy work and let them see what kind of work we do."

Webb Gets New Chaplain

Chaplain (Capt.) Harlan E. Welsh recently arrived here as Webb's new Episcopal chaplain.

Having just entered active military duty, this is Chaplain Welsh's first assignment. His prior military career includes a four-year stay in the Army, during which he was assigned to the 24th Infantry Division, Korea.

After leaving the Army in 1954, he attended the University of Puget Sound, Tacoma, Wash., where he received a bachelor of science degree in geology. He then attended and was graduated from the Seabury Western Theological Seminary, Evanston, Ill. Before arriving at Webb, the chaplain was pastor of the Trinity Episcopal Church, Watertown, S.D.

Chaplain Welsh said, "I came into the military again because I felt the need to help the military man. Since I was in the Army, I feel I am qualified to recognize and possibly do my part to alleviate someone's problem."

A native of Tacoma, Wash., Chaplain Welsh married the former Carolyn Cronant, also of Tacoma. They have three children: Leslie 17, Claudia, 12, and Jennifer, 6.

In Your Attendance

Happy day!

Money in the mailbox!

But does it have to be money? How about a letter from someone who loves you? Or four tickets to the next World Series? Or an invitation from good friends to dinner?

And surely, good things don't have to come by mail. They could come in kind words from a friend. Or in your boss saying, "I'm giving you a raise." Or as an "A" grade on a carefully-researched term paper.

But what is the "best" happiness? Where can we find it?

The best happiness is a letter from God, saying that His Son is your invitation to His Kingdom.

Where can you find this letter? In the Bible and in church this Sunday and every Sunday.

the many faces of happiness

New Attacks On Positions Near Ripcord

SAIGON (AP) — American fighter-bombers today made massive attacks on North Vietnamese positions around fire base Ripcord, abandoned Thursday by U. S. troops after three weeks of heavy losses.

The U. S. Command said that by noon Air Force and Marine pilots had flown 36 sorties against enemy positions around the base 13 miles east of the Laotian border. A sortie is one flight by one plane.

SMASHED BY RAID

Fifty miles to the northwest and only a mile below the demilitarized zone, U. S. B52 bombers carrying 10 times the load of the fighter-bombers attacked North Vietnamese base camps and supply depots.

South Vietnamese infantrymen sweeping five miles southwest of Ripcord found a North Vietnamese camp that had been smashed by a B52 raid Wednesday, but the destruction had no apparent effect on the enemy pressure which forced the American withdrawal the next day.

No new ground action was reported in the region although U.S. patrols were operating out of four other fire bases in the area. Ranging from four miles north of Ripcord to nine miles to the southeast, the bases form a semicircle north and northeast of the A Shau valley, and astride the routes used by the North Vietnamese to the populous coastal lowlands 25 miles to the east.

FILL THE GAP

The American command apparently will try to fill the gap left by the closing of Ripcord with increased bombing raids that have the advantage of holding down U.S. casualties.

In Cambodia, the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese stepped up harassment attacks in Prey Veng Province some 30 miles southeast of Phnom Penh, but elsewhere in the country little fighting was reported.

A military spokesman in Phnom Penh said Prey Veng, the provincial capital, was hit by mortars for three hours Thursday night but no casualties were reported. A brief mortar attack also was reported on the village of Svay Anor, three miles to the northeast.

Just north of Cambodia's border with Laos, Laotian government troops reinforced the local garrison on Khong Island, in the Mekong, in an attempt to counter North Vietnamese guerrillas infiltrating the island.

PRETTY QUIET

A spokesman for the Laotian Defense Ministry, Gen. Thongpanh Knoksy, said in Vientiane that the island had been quiet for the past week but that four North Vietnamese battalions were dug in nearby. He reported that the North Vietnamese now have unobstructed use of the Mekong as a supply route from southeastern Laos to Stung Treng, in Cambodia 25 miles south of the border.

Lost Wallet

CENTRAL CITY, Ky. (AP) — An ad carried in the Central City Times Argus left no doubt about what was wanted.

"LOST" wallet in downtown Central City containing Army discharge papers, marriage license, pictures of my three children and wife and about $350 in cash. Finder may keep papers and pictures, but I have a sentimental attachment to the money. Reward."

More Schools Facing Desegregation Suits

AUSTIN (AP) — A new school district has been added to 45 Texas districts threatened by federal desegregation suits, and others may be added later, according to a Texas Education Agency spokesman.

The new district is Goose Creek, the spokesman said. Refugio, Silsbee and Sabine Pass reportedly said they were in compliance with federal requirements and would not send representatives.

Karnack, Kilgore, San Augustine, Elysian Fields, Sulphur Springs and Hempstead school districts were to decide at board meetings Friday whether to send representatives, the spokesman said.

A schedule for talks with the other districts was announced. July 28, 9 a.m., Hearne, Austin, Wichita Falls; 10 a.m., San Angelo, South Park, Galena Park; 11 a.m., Richardson, Madisonville, Henderson; 1 p.m., Klein, Concord, Shelbyville; 2 p.m., Temple, Goose Creek, Garland; 3 p.m., Waskom, Cypress-Fairbanks.

July 29, 9 a.m., Lubbock, Amarillo; 10 a.m., Palestine, Crockett, Ector County; 11 a.m., Nacogdoches, Port Arthur, La Vega; 1 p.m., Lufkin, Midland, Katy; 2 p.m., Jasper, Bellville, Ferris; 3 p.m., Atlanta, Calvert, Jefferson; 4 p.m., Carthage, Marshall.

Three school districts originally listed by the department of health, education and welfare—Friendship, Jackson and Mount Haven—previously merged with other districts.

tives to talk with federal officials in Austin July 28-29, the spokesman said.

Profus testified he was out on the town last May 17 when, somewhat drunk, he entered the Texas Commerce Bank downtown about 3 a.m.

He said the bank looked like the public library in Prague, which is open all night.

Defense lawyers Morton Suman, a former U.S. attorney, and J. C. Zbrank of Liberty, a former state legislator who speaks Czech, found a witness to verify that the two buildings are similar.

Police testified that Profus was found behind a teller's cage but nothing was missing from the bank. A security guard was the only person to see Profus in the bank.

The defense also proved that the front door of the bank could have been opened with a hard shove.

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — A 17-year-old's essay titled "A New Way to Educate Americans" was among winners in a local newspaper essay contest.

Jerry Gorman, a student at Central High School, said, "I have not yet come to grips with the solutions of our national problems; however, I don't believe many of my elders have either."

He said the power structure is "maintained by a subtle brainwashing of the young. Until America realizes this problem and strives to achieve a free educational system, we cannot call America the democracy it is supposed to be."

He said a new system must be established in order to break the doldrums of the traditional, "narrow-minded American thinking."

He said in a new educational process, the individual is given more responsibility and freedom. "He becomes a learner, not of facts, but of a way of thinking for himself."

Houston Jury Frees Czech In Bank Case

HOUSTON (AP) — A Czech immigrant who feared a jury had been ordered to convict him was found innocent Thursday of entering a bank with intent to steal.

"I think I'm happy for the first time in my life," said Rudolph Profus, 27, who migrated to Canada after the Russians invaded his homeland.

The jury in the court of U.S. Dist. Judge John V. Singleton Jr. said the young man's innocence was never in doubt.

Profus, pale from two months' imprisonment at the Harris County Rehabilitation Center while awaiting trial, seemed unable at first to comprehend that he was a free man.

He had told his interpreter of fearing that the jury might have been secretly ordered to convict him.

Profus testified he was out on the town last May 17 when, somewhat drunk, he entered the Texas Commerce Bank downtown about 3 a.m.

He said the bank looked like the public library in Prague, which is open all night.

Defense lawyers Morton Suman, a former U.S. attorney, and J. C. Zbrank of Liberty, a former state legislator who speaks Czech, found a witness to verify that the two buildings are similar.

Police testified that Profus was found behind a teller's cage but nothing was missing from the bank. A security guard was the only person to see Profus in the bank.

The defense also proved that the front door of the bank could have been opened with a hard shove.

Welcome Veterans

Two Army veterans were to be honored today when the Civilians held the regular luncheon meeting.

Sgt. Allen Ray Daniels and Ronald Hope were to be presented with framed letters from Mayor Arnold Marshall as part of his Veterans Recognition program.

Daniels, 22, spent three years in the Army, stationed in Germany, Korea and at Ft. Bliss. He was named soldier of the quarter while at Ft. Bliss where he worked with Nike Missiles. In Korea he worked with Hawk Missiles. A graduate of Big Spring High School, Daniels is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Daniels, Box 268, Gail Rt.

Hope, 23, was a Huey Cobra helicopter pilot and was wounded in Vietnam where he served seven months. He has been in the Army two and a half years and holds the Purple Heart, Distinguished Flying Cross, Bronze Star, the Air Combat

ALLEN DANIELS

Medal and 22 air medals.

A graduate of Big Spring High School, where he played football one year, Hope attended Howard County Junior College for a year before joining the Army. He plans to return to school majoring in agriculture and business. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Edwards, 1703 Yale.

State Bank Application

AUSTIN (AP) — Five Houston men have filed an application for a new state bank in that city, state banking commissioner Robert Stewart said today.

The proposed Bristol Square Bank would have capital of $400,000, surplus of $400,000 and reserves of $200,000.

The proposed directors are Joe L. Albritton, Robert W. Davis, J. Harold Bates, R. K. Wark Jr. and Benson Ford.

Albritton is projected as chairman of the board and Davis as president.

The bank would be located at 14000 Memorial Drive.

No hearing date has been set.

Charges Lodged Against 2 In Bombing Of 36 Buses

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Two Longview men were arrested and charged Thursday in connection with the July 4 bombing of 36 school buses, the FBI announced.

The pair, Fred L. Hayes, 43, and Kenneth R. McMaster, 42, were held in lieu of $125,000 bond each. The men were arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Don Reeves and jailed at Tyler.

U.S. Attorney Roby Haddon named four co-conspirators in the two-count indictment but the Dallas FBI office said it had no plans to arrest the four who, it pointed out, were not defendants.

Hayes and McMaster were charged in the indictment with conspiracy to violate the civil rights of Negro pupils of the Longview Independent School District.

CATERING SERVICE Many of the buses were heavily damaged by a series of concealed plastic bombs united in a web of fast fuses which joined plans to arrest the four who, it pointed out, were not defendants.

Death Penalty

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP) — The first death penalty in 20 years in Nueces County was pronounced Thursday against Guadalupe Sanchez, 23, for the murder by strangulation in 1965 of 83-year-old Earnestine Lynch.

Judge Paul Martineau sentenced Sanchez to die in the electric chair Nov. 20.

Overeating Called Self-Destructive

Malnutrition and overeating both are self-destructive, according to an article on "Self-Destruction" read by Mrs. Ray Menges at the TOPS Plate Pushers meeting Thursday in the Salvation Army Activity Room. Mrs. Earl Glazier, treasurer, presided and introduced a guest, Mrs. Earl J. Grifford, Arleta, Calif.

A LOVELIER YOU Keep A Cool Head, Avoid Droopy Hairdo

By MARY SUE MILLER
 Hairdos will all-too fast in hot weather. A head that looks slick in the morning can become a mass of damp wisps by five o'clock. And you just know it!

Of course, you can take cover in a wig. Otherwise these groomers, one or a combo as needed, bring order out of chaos:
 To freshen the scalp, apply a mild herbal hair tonic with an eyedropper. Simply run the dropper through your hair at close intervals and trickle the tonic directly on the scalp. Dusty or oily residues respond to dry shampoo powder combed through the strands and brushed out.
 For flyaway locks and stubby ends, the instant groomer is a pomade or cream hairdressing. Use the palms of your hands to apply it and then brush. Straggling ducktails are subdued by wisp stick.
 The quickest reset comes, of course, via electric rollers and —even if you perspire freely.

Enjoy this Guaranteed Dryness

 Why does Nina stress guaranteed dryness? Because millions of women have failed to find anything that keeps them really dry. Because they have found promises of "extra dryness" and such phrases to fall disappointingly short of real dryness.
 Especially, women who perspire freely.
 So Nina Anti-Perspirant is guaranteed. Because it really works. It contains far more anti-wetness agent than it is possible—chemically possible—to put in an aerosol spray can. Any aerosol can!
 And for women who perspire moderately, Nina Anti-Perspirant is so effective, many find they need use it only every third or fourth day, regardless of bathing, and still enjoy luxurious, confident dryness.
 With all this, Nina Anti-Perspirant is entirely safe for normal skin and clothing. It is certified safe for fabrics by The American Institute of Laundering. And fully effective as a deodorant, too.
 And for good measure, Nina Anti-Perspirant—liquid or cream—is guaranteed. If you are not entirely satisfied, return the unused portion to your retailer. He is authorized to refund full cash price.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Clevenger of Baton Rouge, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Anderson, Coahoma.

MRS. JAMES C. ANDERSON

She carried a bouquet of white orchids surrounded by white carnations.

Miss Kathy Sue Clevenger, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Miss Sheila Kinstley, Addis, La., was the bridesmaid. They wore powder blue chiffon over satin dresses styled similarly to the bride's gown, with puffed sleeves and a satin bow accenting the front of the waistline. The headpieces were matching veils of illusion held by clusters of satin bows. They carried small bouquets of blue carnations.

Bud McMeekin, Houston, was the best man, and Johnny Ray Baker, Coahoma, was groomsmen. Jack Clevenger, brother of the bride served as usher.

Purpose Of Altrusans Explained

"Why I Enjoy Altrusa" was explained by each Altrusa Club member Thursday at a luncheon meeting in Coker's Restaurant.

Mrs. G. C. Broughton Jr., past president, presided and was in charge of the program.

Altrusa is a Greek word meaning service. Mrs. H. D. Cowden, a charter member, read an ancient Chinese poem by Kuan Tzu to express that Altrusa meant serving others by teaching them to help themselves.

"Give a man a fish, he will eat once. Teach him to fish, and he will eat many times," began the poem Mrs. Cowden read.

Mrs. Homer Petty scholarship chairman, said she joined Altrusa Club because of its policy "to help others." She recited the "House Beside the Road," which concludes, "Let me live in a house beside the road and be a friend to man."

Mrs. Petty announced that Linda Jo Roberts, 203 Central, will be this year's scholarship recipient to attend Howard County Junior College.

The next club meeting will be Aug. 13 with Mrs. Willard Hendricks giving the program.

Luncheon Held At Christian Church

A Bible and "praying hands" formed the centerpiece at a luncheon held Wednesday in the fellowship hall of First Christian Church by the Homemakers Class. Rev. John Beard worked the invocation.

Guests introduced were Miss Sandra Kay Coldron, Mrs. Monty Stokes, Mrs. A. A. Marchant, Mrs. Florence Hallam, Rev. Beard, and the assistant minister, Lonnie Ivey.

Mrs. C. G. Burnett presided, and Mrs. John Beard brought the devotion. The meeting closed with the class benediction.

The next meeting will be Aug. 26.

Stanton Girl District Winner In 4-H Revue

The District 6 4-H Dress Revue was held in El Paso Wednesday in the Sheraton Motor Inn.

Doris Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Burnell Howard of Stanton, was one of the winners. She will represent District 6 at the state 4-H dress revue to be held at the State Fair, Dallas, in October. Doris modeled a sleeveless red maxi-coat and a matching mini-dress. The coat featured a V-neckline and was accented with buttons down the front. The dress featured a red bodice with sleeves gathered at the wrist and a plaid flared skirt stitched to a dropped waistline. The collar, also in plaid, had a sailor effect. The ensemble was of 100 per cent wool.

Other winners to attend the state revue are Peggy Jones of El Paso County and Leanna Williams of Winkler County. Jeanie West, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver West of Garden City, was named alternate to the state revue from District 6.

A Devotion For Today . . .

When he had sent the multitudes away, he went up into a mountain apart to pray; and when the evening was come, he was there alone. (Matthew 14:23)

PRAYER: Our Father, help us each day to talk to Thee and to learn to lean upon Thine unending wisdom. May this holy time of communion with Thee bring peace to our often troubled hearts. We pray in Christ's name. Amen.

Pity The Poor Frenchman

Americans who complain about conditions — the inflation-recession squeeze, high unemployment, a wobbly stock market, heavy taxes — may derive some cold comfort from how things are going in France.

Mr. Average Frenchman, it seems, takes home the equivalent of about $2,100 a year — before taxes. The Gallic executive does much better than that, but his average income of about $7,500 doesn't measure up very well to U.S. executive standards.

About 57 per cent of French families do manage to own a car. Driving is an expensive business, though, with gasoline selling for around a dollar a gallon. French housing problems are monumental, too. According to Robert Vivien, the government executive charged with responsibility in this area, "Half of our population is not living in decent conditions." It also is reported that 75 per cent of the French people are either in debt or broke. That sounds familiar enough, but 75 per cent!

None of this is much help to Americans struggling to make ends meet in a war-inflated economy. All the same, how many of us would care to trade our bag of troubles for those of the average Frenchman?

European Troop Withdrawal

West German Defense Minister Helmut Schmidt feels that his country's budget will no longer be able to carry alone the burden of the costs of U.S. troops stationed there. A mutually satisfactory agreement for troop-cost payments between the United States and the European Allies will be necessary, he said.

It is an awareness of this West German thinking that has persuaded some members of Congress, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield in particular, to call for a reduction in our commitment of approximately 300,000 troops to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) force. The argument for troop reduction rests on two persuasive assertions: (1) That we must not incur a further increase in our balance-of-payments deficit and (2) that our commitment to the defense of West Germany and the European community of nations under NATO would be just as credible with 150,000 men in Europe, say, as 300,000.

The balance-of-payments problem is a particularly nettlesome one. International arrangements through central bankers have largely eliminated the drain on U.S. stocks of gold. But the failure of payments outside the United States to balance with incoming revenues is a major factor in the weakness of the dollar in the international market.

The argument for reduction of our forces in Europe is most difficult to refute. There is, of course, no magic number of troops in Europe that would make credibility unmistakable. It can be argued with considerable force, in fact, that 25,000 men in Europe, in the context of our NATO commitments, would be enough to convince an enemy that if our soldiers were imperiled, the reaction of the United States would be swift and sure.

Unless the West German government can be persuaded to change its position as enunciated by Schmidt, the United States will most certainly withdraw substantial fighting forces and their support elements from Europe. It is time to do so, even if West Germany were willing to continue to bear the cost. A reduction in force in Europe is one of the clearest cases for a reduction without danger in the defense budget.

David Lawrence Inflation Means Economic Setback

WASHINGTON — Inflation continues around the world but all eyes are on the United States. For if its economy can become adjusted, the effects should be felt in many countries abroad. The news here, however, it is not yet good enough. Thus, in the first quarter of 1970, the labor cost per unit of non-farm output in America went up by an annual rate of 8.4 per cent as compared with 6.4 per cent in 1969 and 3.9 per cent in 1968.

THIS CAN ONLY mean higher prices on some products. Automobile manufacturers, for instance, face negotiations with labor unions for increases in wages. The outcome could be a rise in the amount the buyer has to pay and hence perhaps the purchase of fewer cars or else a turn to lower-priced cars.

There is no doubt that organized labor, through the tremendous power it wields in the large industries, has a substantial effect on the whole price structure. Workers in one set of industries note what the employees in other lines are getting and feel they should receive the same compensation in their factories, too.

WHILE PRICES rise in the United States, there are incidentally increases on other continents. Thus, during the past 12 months price rises have ranged from 29.3 per cent in Chile and 21.7 per cent in Brazil, to 8.3 per cent in Japan and 6.3 per cent in Sweden.

Many European bankers and economists are saying that, unless inflation is controlled, there will be a worldwide recession more painful than any experienced since the 1930's. Certainly some wage increases could be absorbed as well as price rises, but when inflation gains headway, the situation tends to get out of hand. There is a hesitancy to take governmental steps for fear of producing a recession and increasing unemployment. Yet the longer the wage-price situation is left untouched, the more difficult becomes the task of bringing back price stability.

THE BANK for International Settlements in Switzerland recently made it clear in a report that worldwide inflation has reached the danger point. The chairman of the bank said:

"There is a tendency in some quarters to find solace in the fact that prices are rising abroad more or less as they are at home. In other words, as long as we happily inflate together, expansion will run into no difficulties. I'm afraid I have no sympathy with this view. Inflation is a disease in itself, and when it persists, it leads to distortions which increase the danger of a severe economic setback."

"THE WAGE and price increases that are now spreading like wildfire are a problem of the utmost gravity. In practically every country, year in and year out wage rises now tend to exceed productivity gains. This trend . . . is ultimately bound to encroach on profit margins and to make recession inescapable."

THE ADMINISTRATION is not saying very much about labor's role in the inflationary crisis, but certainly, as the big contracts in the automobile industry come up for negotiation, a voice of caution would not be without some effect. All sides realize the delicacy of the economic situation as a whole. Painful strikes have occurred, and organized labor has obtained wage increases which have not been based upon increases in productivity. So it is logical for an administration which is responsible for the future welfare of the economy at least to make to labor a frank plea for restraint in the matter of wage scales that are not going to be balanced by greater productivity.

John Cunniff 'They Don't Mean A Thing'

NEW YORK (AP) — A highly successful investor in about 15 corporations was describing the process of making a sound decision when he was interrupted by a listener.

"Don't you attempt to judge a company's investment merits by reviewing its list of directors?" the listener asked.

"Never," the investor snorted. "They don't mean a thing. Maybe I'd look at how many shares they owned because then I'd know something about their commitment. But never just the list of names. They're only window dressing."

To him, boards too often are meaningless. He, at least, has made up his mind, but millions of other investors today are growing more confused about the function and responsibilities of directors.

You can look for a lot more discussion of this touchy subject, especially in Washington, but that doesn't insure any action. Investors have wondered and worried for years and still the matter is cloudy.

The latest reason for reopening the discussion is the Penn Central Transportation debacle, a $2.8 billion enterprise now being reorganized under the bankruptcy laws.

Some directors of that corporation, all highly respected in business circles, revealed they knew little about the precarious financial position of the railroad until, in effect, there was little to do but resign.

Nevertheless, the board of any corporation is theoretically where all the power resides. It can delegate this power and authority to management, but unless the rules have changed, it is accountable to stockholders for that management.

This responsibility has, however, become less clear in many instances.

In some corporations the board's function is little more than ceremonial. Members attend meetings merely to sanction the agenda placed before them by management. Sometimes there isn't time for an intelligent evaluation.

In some companies the boards are made up very heavily of insiders, men and women who already occupy executive jobs with the company and who therefore are hardly objective critics of performance.

Some boards are poorly balanced, either all young or all old, and often without the proper representation of financial authorities—men and women who can understand today's incredibly complex financial statements. Meanwhile, the responsibilities of board members would appear to be growing rather than diminishing. It is they, for example, who supposedly must shape the response to demands for a new social commitment by business.

Hal Boyle The Bald Spot Shows

NEW YORK (AP) — No matter what your birth certificate says, you are middle aged if—

Your doctor calls you by your first name.

Everybody within hearing distance sighs when you start to tell a story.

It is your considered opinion that no hotel room in the world is worth more than $5 a night.

You still kind of miss not seeing Robert Benchley on screen or in print.

Somewhere in the attic you still have an old mah jong set, a broken-stringed ukelele, and a ouija board.

Some days you feel like you can keep one of your chins up—but not both of them.

You don't actually sit down in a chair anymore. You just kind of sag into it.

It takes you longer to put your shoes on in the morning, and after you do, you rest for a moment or two brooding whether it's really worthwhile to get up.

The only tune you still remember all the words to is "It's a long way to Tipperary," but after two Martinis you are willing to sing them any old time and any old where.

You vaguely suspect there isn't as much fun in the world as there used to be—but if there is, the wrong people are having it.

The dentist warns you that if you don't let him do something about them this year, next year may be too late. You conclude that from now on your life will be full of more dentures than adventures.

That second cup of coffee makes you feel a little bilious.

Half the girls in the office stay home on your birthdays so they won't have to give you a kiss; those who do come in only peck you on the cheek.

No matter how you comb it the bald spot shows.

It seems to you that in the old days newspapers had more interesting stories on the front page—and not just all this crime and disaster stuff.

It begins to dawn on you that you probably won't become head of the firm unless a miracle happens—and you're not too sure you want the miracle to happen. Responsibility can age a man quicker than anything.

You can still do practically anything you ever did, but half the things you used to do no longer seem worth doing.

All this blather about the youth revolt annoys you. If youth knows what it wants, why doesn't it get it, and if it doesn't know, then why doesn't it shut up?

Each day seems a little longer, each year a bit shorter.

Buy Home Now

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Money is available for buying homes today and "there's no going to be any better time in the foreseeable future than right now," says Louis R. Barba, president of the National Association of Home Builders.

Barba, of Chatham, N.J., told a meeting here that waiting for interest rates or building costs to drop in the next few months is "wishful thinking."

To Your Good Health Stopping Those Choking Spells

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a friend, aged 44, who has choking spells night or day. You think he is not going to get his breath back. Is there something to do for it?—A.F.

Yes, there's something to do for it—but the first order of business is to find out what causes these choking fits. That means he'd better go to the doctor for diagnosis.

Some causes are relatively harmless ones; others require sophisticated treatment. Some people have such an active gag reflex that they gag and choke when having a throat examination or dental work done and they have to have medication at such times to relax them.

Some choke because of a defect in the esophagus or gullet—a tumor or a diverticulum, for example. To find this requires X-rays.

Sometimes a defect in the larynx or even a neurological problem that interferes with the swallowing mechanism can be responsible.

People who frequently choke at mealtimes but not other times usually do so because they eat too fast and don't chew food sufficiently, especially meat. Some so-called fatal "heart attacks" at the table subsequently are found to have been suffocation from choking on food.

Finally, a very common cause is irritation from long years of smoking. Membranes become red and irritated, and excessive phlegm (mucus) is produced. This can result in choking spells. When that is the cause, there is one answer: Give up smoking, after which the irritation subsides. And the choking. Same day your letter arrived, so did the following one.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send your booklet, "Tips On How To Stop Smoking," for which I enclose 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope. I have addressed it to my husband as a hint to him.—Mrs. M.A.D.

Many times to stop smoking is the answer—but keep in mind that there can be other causes of choking, and choking can be a serious matter sometimes.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

Return Of The Un-Native

Just before I left on a two-week vacation mostly in Oklahoma, several ex-Oklies and a few Indian pals met "in a phone booth at Fourth and Johnson" as suggested by a local (or is that loco d. j.) and got around to honoring Jim Baum.

We decided to name him Chief Bald Eagle.

DEAR READERS, I think you'll agree I needed a vacation.

I feel I must get away periodically to experience the joy of returning to Big Spring, ready to face another year, and once more appreciating the fine points of this city and West Texas.

I had two weeks with no television at all, and didn't miss it.

Of course, a lot of this time was spent fishing on Ol' Blue or Lake Texoma—views at sunset that wouldn't stop.

I ALSO spent many hours with Mama Ladd, my 95-year-old grandmother, who wasn't feeling quite up to Indian wrestling or bowling.

One night she handed me a tattered piece of paper with a bit of poetry. And considering the fact, The Herald mysteriously went to press without my stewing for two weeks, it's pretty good advice, even if whiskered:

SOMETIME, when you're feeling important,
Sometime, when your ego's in bloom,
Sometime, when you take it for granted
You're the best qualified in the room,
Sometime, when you feel that your going
Would leave an unfillable hole,

Just follow these simple instructions
And see how it humbles your soul.

TAKE A BUCKET and fill it with water.
Put your hand in it, up to your wrist;
Pull it out, and the hole that's remaining
Is a measure of how you'll be missed.

You may splash all you please when you enter,
You can stir up the water galore,
But stop, and you'll find in a moment,
That it looks quite the same as before.

The moral of this quaint example
Is, do just the best that you can;
Be proud of yourself, but remember,
There's no indispensable man.

MY RICH UNCLE, Houston Ladd, has a friend (which will surprise quite a few people) who for 30 years smoked cigarettes. But he never took more than one puff before dropping it to the floor and stamping it out.

At the end of the 30th year, he died of cancer of the shoe.

The 3-day weekend certainly has caught on with dispatch. With all the Monday holidays coming up, we can stretch it to four days?

MY WONDERFUL aunt, Mildred Ladd, who celebrated a birthday Saturday, writes:

"If we all obeyed the 10 Commandments, we'd need fewer newspapers."

Back in Oklahoma, some Indians are making inexpensive furniture. One item is a cheap Sioux veneer.

Andrew Tully Cool White House Secretary

WASHINGTON — If there were any justice in this rabbit warren of bureaucracy, a remark made by White House Press Secretary Ron Ziegler at lunch the other day would go into the textbooks as must reading for all government officials.

Ziegler, who usually works a 13-hour day, was asked how come. "Well," he replied. "There's work to do, of course. But mostly it's because I've got a lot to learn. I've never been the White House Press Secretary before."

ZIEGLER PAID for his lunch then and there. He will, of course, be dropped from his club for such heretical candor, but his admission that he doesn't know it all after 18 months as President Nixon's spokesman assures him of a footnote in the history of the Nixon administration, even if he is subsequently given the sack for speaking kindly of a Democrat.

Although Ziegler is available twice daily to the press at his "briefings" (an unfortunate bit of nomenclature), it had seemed time for a long private chat with him, if only to determine whether he now got his exercise climbing walls. The answer to that came out no.

ZIEGLER MAY be the most relaxed White House spokesman in recent years, a man of leisureed cool who enjoys his job and his intimacy with power without suggesting it has gone either to his head or his stomach.

It was remarked that Ziegler seldom if ever asked administration critics in to try to convert them to the Nixon philosophy. "What's the use?" he asked. "They know where the President stands. I can't elucidate it any better than the President has done." He grinned. "Besides, we're in favor of dissent, remember."

THIS IS NOT to say that Ziegler is too relaxed to mount a counter-attack. In the matter of Democrats' charges that Nixon is hogging prime TV time to sell his policies, Ziegler can warm up fast. "Some of the Democrats are being ridiculous," he said. "TV time is one of the rewards of the Presidency. His speeches and statements are carried by TV because he was elected President by all the people. This material is not forced on the television industry; it is merely made available. TV itself decides whether to carry it."

AS FOR THE suggestion that Richard Nixon is the first President to monopolize the tube, Ziegler was ready with statistics. They say that John Kennedy made 50 TV appearances during his first 18 months in office, and Lyndon Johnson 35, compared with Nixon's 40. He gave the impression the Democratic strategists have only themselves to blame for the circumstance that 15 of Nixon's appearances have been during prime (evening) time, compared with seven for Johnson and only four for Kennedy.

ALL IN ALL, it was a good performance, perhaps because it didn't appear to be a performance. Ron Ziegler is an advocate, of course, and this properly makes him suspect to any reporter. He also uses glibly words like "input." But he doesn't hit you over the head with the party line, and for anyone to whom lunch is the first meal of the day it is soothing to break bread with a young man who knows how to lower his voice.

Marquis Childs Crime Bill, Gun Registration

WASHINGTON — Cannon to the right of him, cannon to the left of him—that is the beleaguered position of Maryland's Sen. Joseph Tydings. On the one hand he is the sponsor of the District of Columbia crime bill with its no-knock and preventive arrest provisions so odious to liberals. On the other he is under intensive fire from the gun lobby, determined to defeat him in November for sponsoring a gun registration proposal bottled up in committee for two years.

IF HE SUCCEEDS in putting over the crime bill, as he thinks he can, Tydings will have alienated the liberal and perhaps also part of the black vote. One charge is that the measure discriminates against the repressed black minority.

Tydings makes the case that the crime bill does no more than write into law—and more equitably—practices that today are discriminatory. High bail set in hundreds of cases is, in effect, preventive detention, since the judge knows the suspect cannot make bail. He is held for many months to insure that if turned loose he does not commit another crime.

BUT FOR a number of senators on both sides of the aisle this is rationalization which they reject. Few issues over the years have stirred such profound fear of the repressive arm of government breaking through the constitutional guarantees of freedom for the individual.

The issue has a thrust far beyond the District of Columbia, since if the restrictive measure is passed it will be taken as a model in many states.

CRIME IN the streets, fear, mounting violence, an emotional tide sweeps away reason. As for Tydings, he says, and with good cause, that he has probably a greater grasp of crime, punishment and the laws in this field than any member of the Senate. He regards his gun-registration proposal as simply another piece in the fight against crime.

But the emotion it generates, fanned by one of the most powerful lobbies in the country, could defeat him. An organization called Citizens Against Tydings (CAT) is raising money throughout the country. A fier for a rifle association in Medford, Ore., carried this appeal: "Help defeat Sen. Tydings. Buy a raffle ticket."

POWERFUL as the gun lobby is, it is difficult to pinpoint its leverage and its resources. A spokesman for the National Rifle Association, with its 1,200,000 members, disclaims lobbying actively for or against candidates.

A careful survey by Congressional Quarterly showed the indirect, if not the direct, power of NRA. The association's magazine, The American Rifleman, free to all members, with advertising in the magazine providing 25 per cent of NRA's revenue, can generate great opposition to any gun measure whether state or Federal. An NRA official said that perhaps half a million letters stimulated by the Rifleman would be a good guess.

TWO WELLSPRINGS of emotion are back of the anti-Tydings campaign. One originates with hunters convinced that the Tydings proposal would deny them their sport. By a singular irony, with the possible exception of Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, Tydings is the most active hunter in the Senate.

The other emotion on the far right is the belief that gun registration is a step toward confiscation, leaving guns in the hands of the Communists who would take over the nation.

Americans In Little League Final Round

The Big Spring American League Stars won their way to the finals of the district Little League finals by beating the Big Spring Nationals 6-3 in Andrews Thursday evening.

They used hot bats to turn the trick, slugging in all but one of their runs. David Wheeler put a climax to the hitting party with a home run in the top of the sixth.

Jackie Romine was the big gun for the Nationals, banging out two doubles and a single. Pat Carroll started for the Americans but was pulled in the third for Jimmy Shanks, who snuffed out the Nationals the rest of the way.

David Spence started for the Nationals but departed in the second when the American League scored three runs. Jerry Currie replaced him and Robert Doe finished on the mound.

The Americans outthrew the Nationals 9-6. This evening, Midland South will tangle with Andrews Americans to decide the other finalists. The championship game is scheduled for 8 p.m. Saturday in the Andrews park.

Hubber Exes Rise Again

LUBBOCK — Many fond old memories for area baseball fans will be revived Saturday night in Lubbock when a reunion game will be played between former members of the original Lubbock Hubbers and members of the Lubbock City Council.

The game is slated for 7:30 p.m. at Lubbock's Lowery Field with pre-game activities to begin at 7. The contest will be followed by a game between the current Hubbers, a semi-pro outfit sponsored by "Rip" Griffin, and the Amarillo Plowboys.

Carl (Jackie) Sullivan, who managed the 1947 Hubbers to the championship of the old West Texas New Mexico League and went on to beat Kilgore in the "Little Dixie Series," will be in charge of the old Hubbers.

Such former standouts as Jackie Wilcox, Wilcy Moore, Jim Prince, Mike Dooley, I. B. Palmer, Frank McAlexander, Don Moore, and Eluis Rosson have indicated that they will be here.

The City Council team, managed by Park and Recreation administrator Dick Walker, will include all members of the council and city staff. It will be supplemented by former pros Bobby Brown, Stan Grzywacz, Roy Parker, Buddy Maner and Tech Coach Kal Segrist.

Milt Pappas First To Blank Cincinnati This Season

By The Associated Press

Milt Pappas zeroed in on his former teammates and came through with his fourth straight victory, aided by a home run pitch and a pitcher's dream.

Pappas, a 31-year-old right-hander, scattered four hits Thursday in blanking the Cincinnati Reds 1-0 as the Chicago Cubs rolled to their third straight triumph. It was the first time this season the West Division leaders had been shut out.

Pappas, a 14-year major league veteran, has now hurled four complete games and raised his record to 6-3 since coming to the Cubs from the Braves on June 25. He is 4-1 in his new uniform.

The former Baltimore Oriole, who was traded to the Reds in 1965 for Frank Robinson, said "I feel I'm starting a new career at the age of 31."

He said the turning point in Thursday's game was in the sixth inning when the Reds had the bases loaded with only one out. He got out of the jam unscathed.

In the only other National League games, Pittsburgh moved 2 1/2 games ahead of the idle New York Mets in the East with a 6-5 victory over Atlanta and Houston edged St. Louis 3-2.

Dave Cash capped a three-run eighth inning with a sacrifice fly in the Pirates thrilling victory.

With the Pirates trailing 5-3, Richie Hebner opened the Pittsburgh eighth with a single, moved to second on an error and scored on Al Oliver's single.

Roberto Clemente ripped a pinch hit double and Manny Sanguillen drew an intentional walk, filling the bases.

Bob Robertson was then hit by a Don Cardwell pitch, tying the contest and Cash drove in another Pirate run in a three-run third with a single while Cash tripled in another.

Bob Tillman capped a five-run Atlanta sixth inning with a two-run single as the Braves knocked out starter Luke Walker who had pitched hitless ball for five innings.

Jawbones Make More News Than Racquets At Tourney

CINCINNATI (AP) — Action did not center on the center court Thursday at the Western Tennis Championships. Players on an end court stole the show — some with their play and some their dramatics.

Top-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia, in one of the leading matches, defeated 14th-seeded Jaime Fillol of Chile 6-2, 6-4. The two were forced to play on the end court — the seventh court — because of a long match at center court.

The dramatics started when sixth-seeded Ion Tiriac of Rumania was playing unseeded Brian Fairlie of New Zealand whom he ended up beating 8-6, 1-6, 6-3. Tiriac began disputing line calls in a loud tone and Clark Graebner of New York City and Ray Ruffels of Australia grew irritated because they were playing a match on the adjoining court. Then Graebner yelled back at Tiriac. The yacking continued.

By the time the referee arrived, Tiriac had knocked off Fairlie. Then Graebner and Ruffels moved onto the seventh court and concluded their match with Graebner, seeded No. 8, downing the unseeded Australian 4-6, 6-2, 9-7.

Second-seeded Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., ousted Yugoslavia's Nicola Spear 6-3, 6-4. Fourth-seeded Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia edged 11th-seeded Georges Goven of France 6-3, 4-6, 7-5. The third seed, Iie Nastase of Rumania, breezed by UCLA student Jeff Borowiak 6-0, 6-1. And seventh-seeded Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., outlasted 16th-seeded Bob Carmichael of France 57, 6-3, 6-2.

Unranked Airman Upsets Defending Singles Champ

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Air Force Worldwide Tennis Tournament opened Thursday with sixth-seeded Capt. Dewey Varn of Travelers Rest, S. C., falling to unranked Airman I.C. Karl Haase of Reseda, Calif.

Haase upset Varn, the U. S. Air Force-Europe singles champion for the past two years, 6-2, 6-1.

Top-seeded 2nd Lt. James Parker of St. Louis, Mo., who was an All-American at Rice University, defeated Airman I.C. Gary Granel of Northridge, Calif., 6-2, 6-1. Granel was a 1968 NCAA doubles champion while at Fernando Valley State College, Calif.

Fourth-seeded Airman I.C. Bob Murio of San Francisco beat Capt. Anton Pausz of Portland, Ore., 6-1, 6-3 and drew a bye.

Varn's twin brother, seventh-seeded Capt. Ben Varn, downed Capt. Richard Thompson of Chevy Chase, Md., 6-1, 6-1, and 1st Lt. Gary Sutton, Long Beach, Calif., 6-0, 6-3.

The tournament continues at Lackland Air Force Base today with the singles quarterfinals and doubles second round.

Orioles Love That 'Cousin' Relationship With Royals

By The Associated Press

As a newcomer, Kansas City had a fine first meeting with the Baltimore Orioles, but then they got to know each other like "cousins," and the relationship has been deteriorating ever since for the Royals.

That first meeting was back on May 9, 1969, and after the usual introductions, the expansion Royals and Dick Drago went out and beat the powerful Orioles.

The Royals must have been happy to see the Orioles again the next night, but it wasn't the same, and hasn't been since. Baltimore won that game and went on to win the next 19 after that, including a 5-4 decision Thursday night in Kansas City.

The Orioles' 20 straight victories over the Royals pulls them within one of the firmest "cousin" relationships ever in the major leagues. "Cousin" is a term used in sports for a team that is a pushover for another club, and only the New York Yankees of 1927, who beat the St. Louis Browns 21 times in a row, ever had a better relationship.

Elsewhere on a light baseball night, Minnesota beat Detroit 2-1 and Cleveland upended the Chicago White Sox 5-2 at night in the American League and California stopped Boston 4-1 in the afternoon.

The victory also increased Baltimore's Eastern Division lead to six games over Detroit, which bowed to the Twins on George Mitterwald's eighth homer that broke a 1-1 deadlock in the seventh.

Rookie Bert Blyleven, 4-3, won a duel from Joe Niekro, 10-9, yielding only four hits. Vada Pinson hit a two-run homer in the fifth for a 3-2 lead after Eddie Leam slammed a solo shot in the third.

Some people can really talk you to death.

Drivers who insist on facing their audience while they talk — instead of the road ahead — can be deadly bores. Even their funny stories can turn tragic in a hurry if the car in front stops suddenly. A sudden curve can kill a punch line — and the joker — instantly.

self, think about the consequences. Your new car dealer wants to see our highways safe. He wants to see you safe whether you're behind the wheel or just a passenger. So join the battle against careless talkers. Help them face their responsibilities — and the road ahead — and all their stories will have happy endings.

Westside And Catholics Meet

Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic avenged an earlier season defeat and turned the tables on Crestview Baptist Thursday evening to earn a place in the championship match today. The Catholics won it 12-6.

The Catholics will meet Westside Baptist, so far unbeaten in the championship tournament, at 7:30 p.m. on the Comanche Trail Park diamond. If they should defeat Westside in the first game, a second one will be necessary immediately to decide the title because it is a double elimination tournament.

Earlier in the year, Crestview had laid it on the Catholics to the tune of 21-2.

For the winners, Charles Boadie and Tomato Mendoza doubled, while Mendoza and Baxter Moore homered in the first inning and Al Oldfather in the fourth. Roo Roberts and Bobby Rogers doubled for Crestview, and Jerry Phillips had a pair of triples and Dorman Shaw had one three-base hit.

The Catholics jumped to a 3-lead in the first, but Crestview went ahead with four in the bottom of the second. The Catholics tied it in the third and went ahead in the fourth to stay.

MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE DOES SELL EQUITIES:

Some of the important advantages of a MULTIPLE LISTING SERVICE are: (1). BUYERS & SELLERS receive the benefit of cooperation between REALTORS rather than being restricted to the offerings of a single agent or series of agents. (2). NEGOTIATIONS ARE carried on under rules of procedure designed to assure ethical practice, thus furthering the interests of clients and the public, while extending adherence to high standards of practice. (3). CURRENT MARKET information which is readily available through Multiple Listing, means that REALTORS, their clients and the public are better served and informed.

Big Spring Youngster On European Scout Trip

Sammy Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Jones, 1407 E. 19th, leaves Sunday for a three-week Scouting Friendship tour to central Europe.

The tour is supervised by the national council of the Boy Scouts of America, which furnishes leadership for the venture.

Sammy is one of three boys from Texas selected to take part in three tours to different areas of Europe. His particular itinerary includes Holland, Brussels, Austria, Italy, Switzerland and Germany.

In one instance, he will be a guest in the home of a Belgium Scout. Mostly he and others will be visiting Scouts for informal talks and filling speaking engagements, plus some sight-seeing.

Sammy's schedule calls for him to meet Sunday evening in New York with others on his tour and to leave Monday for Amsterdam. Two days will be spent there before going to Antwerp, where he will live in the home of a Belgian Scout.

Aug. 4 he leaves for Rothenburg, via Cologne, then goes to Innsbruck, Austria, with a stop-over in Munich. From that point he will go to Venice with stops in Carbenin and Cortina, thence to Florence and Rome for four days. His group will leave Milan for Switzerland, then over to Heidelberg, Germany, and back to Amsterdam and New York Aug. 17.

Flies Gliders

ALTON, Ill. (AP) — Soaring is Dr. Joe Emons' idea of a happy weekend.

Emons, a dentist, is a member of the St. Louis Soaring Association which features long-distance gliding.

On a recent Sunday glide, Emons soared 322 miles from Highland, Ill., to Springfield, Ohio, a record soar for the association.

Emons piloted his glider, "Libelle" as high as 6,000 feet during the 5 1/4 hour flight. Emons, 43, has been a soaring enthusiast since 1956. He had previously soared 247 miles in a triangular pattern. The national record is 600 miles.

Coed Killer Draws Life

HOUSTON (AP) — Rudy Mendoza, 19, of San Marcos pleaded guilty Thursday to murdering a Southwest Texas State University co-ed whose body was found with 26 stab wounds last December. He was sentenced to life in prison. Mendoza was charged in the Dec. 5 slaying of Martha Sue Thompson, 21, also of San Marcos. Her body was found Dec. 11 in the Blanco River near Interstate 35. A psychiatrist described Mendoza as mentally retarded. The youth yawned and gaped at the ceiling as Dist. Judge Dan Walton took his plea of guilty.
