Situation 'Cools' Again After Houston Shooting

FIRE IN WACO

All-Negro College Closed

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Officials of the all-Negro Paul Quinn College closed the school today after fire destroyed the cafeteria. Firemen reported gunfire and said they were pelted with rocks when they tried to battle the blaze.

Fire Capt. A. C. Monroe said units went to the campus four times during the night, adding "We were harassed all night."

Peace officers were called to the campus about 10 p.m. as students staged what authorities described as a demonstration protesting the firing of certain school personnel.

Officials said the demonstration lasted about 30 minutes and it was about 3 a.m. before the fire broke out that destroyed the cafeteria. No damage estimate was available.

Monroe said the first call turned out to be a bonfire on the athletic field and firemen did not go on campus.

Revenue Sharing

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York would be the major beneficiary of the Nixon administration's revenue sharing plan, with California not far behind, a Treasury Department breakdown of the impact of the proposal shows.

The department prepared an 84-page listing of how much each state and most cities and counties would receive when the proposal goes into full effect in 1975 — provided it gets through a reluctant Congress.

Power Crisis

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite continued emergency measures to cut electrical usage, the city edged closer to a power crisis today as hot, humid weather continued with no relief in sight.

Dock Strike Ends

LONDON (AP) — Britain's two-week-old national dock strike ended today.

The 46,000 striking longshoremen accepted the peace formula of a government Court of Inquiry and called off their fight to get higher basic pay.

It was Britain's first nation-wide dock tie-up in 44 years and threatened serious food shortages.

200 Trainees At Job Corps Center Booted

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (AP) — About 200 trainees at the Camp Gary Job Corps center have been discharged for taking part in two nights of rock throwing disturbances, officials said.

Spokesmen said the number may reach 300 as investigations continue at the Federal center for young men. Disturbances there Sunday and Monday nights were described as the worst in its five-year history.

About eight deputy U.S. marshals joined a beefed-up security force Tuesday night to guard against further trouble.

Nixon Due To Sign D. C. Crime Bill

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon planned to sign today the controversial District of Columbia Crime bill, which permits police to break into homes unannounced and the pretrial jailing of certain defendants.

The announcement was made at the Western White House

Tuesday night, four days after the bill cleared the Senate. The measure, aimed at lowering the crime rate in the nation's capital but expected to serve as a model for the states, is the first Nixon anticrime proposal to become law.

The legislation expands police authority for wiretapping under court order; sets mandatory minimum sentences for second offenders convicted of armed violent crimes; allows adult trials for juveniles charged with violent crimes; provides more judges and creates a public-defender system.

Most of the debate on the bill centered around the no-knock and preventive detention sections.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, D-N.C., called the bill "a victory for repressive criminal procedures."

And Sen. Harold E. Hughes, D-Iowa, said he fears a trend "that places simplistic faith in the mistaken notion that force and repression are the only routes to achieving law and order."

But Sen. Joseph Tydings, D-Md., who managed the bill, argued that the number of felonies in the District of Columbia rose by 122 per cent during the past years while the percentage of convictions declined steadily. The legislation allows pretrial jailing of persons adjudged likely to endanger community safety, and authorizes police to enter homes without knocking while executing certain search and arrest warrants.

The no-knock feature, designed for use when police fear evidence could be destroyed as they wait at the door, requires that a magistrate approve in each case before it is invoked.

The measure grew out of recommendations submitted to Congress last year by Nixon who, during the 1968 presidential campaign, called Washington the crime capital of the world.

'Star' Relates Deaths 'Deal'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Screams pierced the darkness, Linda Kasabian said, as a man, blood streaming from his wounds, stumbled from actress Sharon Tate's hilltop mansion across the lawn.

"We looked into each other's eyes for a moment, and I said, 'I'm sorry. I'm sorry. Oh, God, make it stop.'"

Sobbing into her hands, the petite, green-eyed Mrs. Kasabian testified Tuesday that she saw two persons slain at Miss Tate's home Aug. 9 and heard the screams of three other victims pleading for their lives.

'NO, NO'

"I heard a man scream out 'No, No' and then I just heard screams. I don't have any words to describe how these screams were. It was just unbelievably, horribly terrible," Mrs. Kasabian cried.

The sandy-haired 21-year-old mother of two told her version of the bloodbath as she testified at the murder-conspiracy trial of shaggy-haired cult leader Charles M. Manson, 35, and three women followers.

Mrs. Kasabian said Manson instructed her to follow the orders of his lieutenant, Charles "Tex" Watson. Then he sent Watson, Mrs. Kasabian and two other girl followers on a midnight mission which ended at the home of Miss Tate, 26, a blonde, pregnant movie star.

Mrs. Kasabian testified that she saw Watson shoot to death the first victim, Steven Parent, 18, a visitor driving away from the house, and stab and beat to death Wojciech Frykowski, 37, a Polish-born guest whose body was found later on the lawn.

Mrs. Kasabian said it was Frykowski she encountered on the lawn, and at one point, after he had fallen, he tried to get up and "Tex hit him on the head and was stabbing him in the back ... I don't know how many times. He just kept doing it and doing it and doing it."

Still weeping, Mrs. Kasabian told of seeing one of Manson's codefendants, Patricia "Katie" Krenwinkel, 22, knife raised, chasing nightgown-clad Abigail Folger, 26, across the lawn. Miss Folger, a coffee company heiress, also died outside the house.

'IT'S TOO LATE'

Mrs. Kasabian said another defendant, Susan "Sadie" Atkins, 21, approached her in the midst of the killing.

"I said, 'Sadie, make it stop,' but she said, 'It's too late,'" Mrs. Kasabian testified.

Mrs. Kasabian said she didn't see Miss Folger slain. And apparently she didn't witness the killings of Miss Tate and hair stylist Jay Sebring, 35, who died in the house.

Mrs. Kasabian's testimony was interrupted by a rapid-fire volley of objections by Manson's attorney, Irving Kanarek, who vainly challenged virtually every prosecution question.

LEAVE SIGN

The state's star witness, who has been promised immunity from prosecution, said she was unaware of the purpose of the mission when Manson sent her with the others into the night.

Outing Ends In Tragedy When Youngster Drowns

Perry Raymond McKnight, 9, of Sand Springs drowned Tuesday afternoon in Moss Creek Lake while on a neighborhood outing with about seven other youngsters and an adult.

Local arrangements are pending with River-Welch Funeral Home. The body will be sent to McNutt Funeral Home, Conway, Ark., where funeral services are to be held Friday.

Ike Rupard, lake patrolman, said Jimmie Brown reported the boy missing about 3 p.m.

Mrs. Brown had called the youngsters from the water to go home when the boy was first missed. She had seen him in the water only moments before and thought he had wandered away, Rupard said.

She summoned lake patrolman Rupard not knowing whether the boy had wandered off or stayed in the water.

The group was swimming on the sandy beach area on the south lake shore several hundred yards upstream from the dam.

Rupard sent four youngsters who were the only other group swimming on the lake at the time to search the shore area on foot.

Youths aiding in the search were Roger Edwards, James Edwards, Joe Ward and Dale Thomason, all of Sand Springs.

Rupard then called Kenneth Lunsford, game warden, who brought the parks and wildlife department boat to begin search operations in the water.

Rupard and Lunsford along with two Big Spring firemen, Alvie Harrison, and Ike Wasson began dragging operations, recovering the body at 4:25 p.m. in about six feet of water, 25-30 feet off shore from where the group had been swimming.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice ruled accidental death.

A rescue unit from the Big Spring Fire Department, a unit of Big Spring police, an Alert Ambulance and members of the city maintenance crews had been summoned to the lake.

A helicopter from Webb AFB joined in the search, flying low over the lake's perimeter trying to locate the boy from the air.

It was the first drowning at the lake since Memorial Day, May 30, 1969.

Perry McKnight was born Dec. 10, 1960, at Shelby, Mont. The McKnights had lived in this area one year, moving here from Marfa. His father is senior patrol inspector for the Texas Border Patrol in this area.

Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kermit McKnight, Sand Springs, one sister, Mrs. Linda Moore, Las Cruces, N.M., three brothers, Scott, Kirk and James McKnight, all of the home; maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Grover Mauldin, Conway, Ark., and the paternal grandfather, Mrs. Viola Elders, Clinton, Ark.

Moss Lake Swimming Ban

Public Works Director Nolen Chafin said today that Moss Creek Lake has been closed temporarily to swimming and wading. He said the lake was closed at 8 a.m. today to swimmers and waders, and would remain so until the completion of a comparison study weighing the safety against the danger involved.

Chafin pointed out that when dry weather causes a lake to recede from its natural beaches, the new shorelines may have unfamiliar characteristics. The bottom line could vary drastically quite near the shoreline making it possible for a wader to accidentally step into water over his depth.

He said the low level of the lake could have been a contributing factor in the drowning yesterday of young Perry McKnight, so the city is taking measures to prevent a similar tragic occurrence while the study is being completed.

Swimming and, or wading may be permitted, Chafin said, after city officials have had a chance to review the results of the study, but the present restrictions will remain in effect until further notice.

He indicated that the major consideration guiding his decision was the best interests of the general public.

Nab 'Mary Jane' Cache, Couple

BEAUMONT (AP) — Officers seized 24 pounds of marijuana Tuesday and arrested a man, 24, and a high school pupil, 15, both of Beaumont.

Chief Deputy Sheriff H. C. Anderson said the cache, believed the largest amount ever confiscated in Jefferson County, was reported by a farmer who discovered the marijuana in a rice field.

Officers said that two suitcases in the field west of Beaumont contained 11 packages and one sack of the weed.

Sheriff's deputies staked out the area and arrested the pair when they went to the cache.

Anderson estimated the street sale value of the marijuana at $8,000 to $10,000.

TRANSFER SCHEDULED JAN. 1

Cosden Club Property To Become City Park

The Cosden Country Club, with substantial acreage surrounding it, is destined to become a municipal park the first of the year.

Negotiations have been completed whereby owners of the club property will sell to the Dora Roberts Foundation which in turn is donating it to the City of Big Spring.

Trustees of the Foundation some time ago voted to make such a proffer, and the City Commission formally has voted to accept it.

Paul D. Meek, president of Cosden Oil & Chemical Co., in a statement in the company publication, the "Cosden Copper," said that the club will continue to operate until the end of this year, and Jan. 1, the property transfers to the city.

Actual owner of the club property is the First National Bank in Dallas, Trustee of the Cosden Petroleum Corporation Pension Trust. The trustee is retaining acreage from the highwater mark on the east shore of the Cosden lake and fronting on US 87 South. This tract of 47 acres includes the Little League ball park.

The property is being transferred through the Roberts Foundation at a price of $225,000. The city administration has not yet made announcement of plans as to operation of the area, including the club building.

The Cosden Club has been one of the city's popular gathering spots, its facilities being used for conventions, banquet sessions, private luncheons, dinners and parties.

The club house originally was opened Oct. 1, 1955, when the facility was designed as a recreation facility for company employees. However, as Meek said in his statement, "the club has evolved into an operation far removed from its original purpose and one which has increasingly imposed a financial burden on Cosden."

The late R. L. Tollett, as president of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, envisioned the area surrounding the "big spring" as a recreation site, and a private corporation, known as the Big Spring Hunting and Fishing Club was created. This unit purchased 125.1 acres of land, in 1951, from the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. Four years later the clubhouse was erected, and in 1960 it was enlarged and extensively remodeled.

Meanwhile the Hunting and Fishing Club transferred to the city acreage surrounding the "big spring," so that this could be retained as a public area of historical and tourist interest.

The Cosden Club originally was for employees and honorary members, but subsequently the Texas Liquor Control Board ruled that membership could not be restricted, but open for general membership. The Cosden management, said Meek, felt it should no longer operate a club for other than Cosden employees. He also pointed out that its use by Cosden employees themselves had declined.

Teens Learn But Don't Earn At VA Hospital

The end of summer means in business. Her hobbies are stamp collecting, sewing and photography.

Vincent Wiggins, a junior honor student, wants to become either a doctor or a science teacher. He's earning a little background experience this summer by working in the hospital's laboratory. Wiggins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wiggins, 3813 Connally. Wiggins also enjoys stamp collecting and lists reading as a favorite pastime.

Gloria Dodd has spent her summer working with the patients on Ward 4 West. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Dodd, 2114 Warren, and she lists sports, home economics and playing the saxophone as some of her favorite activities. Gloria plans to become an English teacher.

"They bring with this service the enthusiasm and every of youth that is appreciated by both the patients and the staff," said Leon Miller, director of volunteer services, describing the work done by the young people donating their time to the VA Hospital this summer.

San Angelo Scores 100

By The Associated Press

Showers took the edge off hot weather around El Paso in far West Texas during the night and early today, with some of the skimpy moisture ranging northward into the Panhandle-Plains sector.

At that, El Paso measured only .03 inch of rain and it apparently was no heavier elsewhere.

There also were a few showers along the coast from Port Aransas to Palacios and over the Gulf of Mexico.

Early morning temperatures sagged to 67 degrees at El Paso and 69 at Amarillo and Midland. Readings were mostly in the 70s at other points, staying as high as 82 at Galveston.

Top marks of an even 100 were recorded Tuesday by Midland, San Angelo and Wichita Falls.

Forecasts called for a few thunderstorms in parts of Northwest Texas and scattered showers in most other sections, but no appreciable cooling was predicted.

By seizing the initiative at the key moment, East found the necessary shift to achieve a spectacular upset of South's four spade contract.

West opened the four of clubs, the six was played from dummy and East put up the king to win the trick. Defensive prospects did not appear to be encouraging. The play from dummy to the first trick suggested that South held the jack of clubs, and could therefore now take three tricks in that suit. His jump to four spades announced a good suit of at least six card length. The red suit aces in dummy provided further reinforcement.

In order to breach this imposing array of strength, it was necessary for East to assume that his partner held a trump trick as well as some side strength, in which case it was vital to launch an immediate assault against the weak spot in declarer's armor. But where should East attack?

Between his own hand and the dummy, East was looking at nine hearts and six diamonds. It was natural to expect, therefore, that the declarer was more apt to be short in hearts than diamonds, and East accordingly selected the latter suit for his thrust. It was necessary to assume that West held the king of diamonds, for if he did not have that card—then the defense might just as well resign.

East shifted to the deuce of diamonds and his partner produced the king to dislodge North's ace. Declarer played the queen of spades followed by a spade to the king. When East showed out, South led one more high trump and then began to run the clubs in an attempt to obtain a quick discard for one of his diamond losers. West, however, ruffed in on the third round and returned a diamond through dummy's jack, enabling East to cash the setting tricks in that suit.

Observe that if East fails to lead a diamond at trick two, South has time to make use of dummy's long club for the discard of a losing diamond.

Desegregation Talks Enter Second Day

AUSTIN (AP) — Federal civil rights negotiators began a second day of school desegregation talks today with Texas officials who are expecting more threats of federal court suits.

"We have not finalized any yet... we do have a couple of plans under study," said J. Stanley Pottinger, director of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare's civil rights section, after the special team talked with 18 schools Tuesday.

Twenty more schools were on the schedule today, each to get a one-hour session with the HEW and Justice Department experts from Washington and Dallas.

The two-day hearing was called after the Justice Department warned the Texas Education Agency that about 50 Texas schools had not filed acceptable desegregation plans. Still other Texas schools, including those in the largest cities, are already involved in federal court suits.

"As a whole the sessions have been harmonious," Pottinger told his late afternoon press briefing.

Most of the Texas school men appearing returned from the closed door negotiations with reports they expect federal suits filed to be against them in the next week or 10 days.

Hugh Fleischer, deputy chief of the civil rights section of the Justice Department, said any suits necessary likely would be filed individually in the four judicial sections of Texas.

Bills Against Four Texans Allege Illegal Vote 'Deals'

MARSHALL, Tex. (AP) — The Harrison County grand jury returned eight indictments Tuesday in connection with absentee voting in the May 2 Democratic primary.

The bills against four persons alleged illegal voting and the requesting of a physician to sign a medical certificate without authority of the voter concerned.

Indicted were County Commissioner Z. T. Carver, John S. Fisher, a notary public; Ray Shirley, bookkeeper of the Harrison County Roads and Bridge Department; and Berta Mae Dowe, one of the many witnesses called to testify in the recent election contest suit of the county judge's race. Carver and Fisher each were indicted on three counts and Shirley and Mrs. Dowe on one each.

The indictments allege the illegal voting of ballots without the voter's consent, a felony and request of a physician's certificate without permission of the voter, stating that because of sickness or physical disability the voter could not appear at the polls on election day. This second offense is a misdemeanor.

Tuesday's indictments concluded more than four weeks of investigation by the grand jury.

Dist. Judge John Furrh ruled on Monday at the end of the two-month long election contest suit that the May 2 primary, in so far as the county judge's race is concerned, is void and of no effect.

The Harrison County Democratic Executive Committee will meet Friday to set the date for a new primary to determine the party's nominee in that race on the November general election ballot.

Women View Indians' Plight

The American Indian was viewed by Mrs. Leo K. Gee in a program given Tuesday for the Women's Society of Christian Service, First United Methodist Church.

The program was divided into three parts, "The Status of the Indian Today," "The Indian and Christianity" and "Solutions to the Problem."

Mrs. Gee's presentation was followed by a general discussion on operation of the Bureau of Indian Affairs. The drawbacks as well as the good points of the bureau were reviewed.

"Many Indians, even well-educated ones, are displaced persons," said Mrs. Gee. "They have not been welcomed into American society, nor are they at home on the reservation." She said it is wrong to try to make the Indian change to another culture rather than preserving his own.

Mrs. H. C. Ernsting presided, and the prayer calendar was read by Mrs. Thomas Corwin.

It was announced that new officers will be installed in a general meeting at 10:30 a.m., Aug. 25. The new officers, who will serve until January, 1972, were requested to attend one of two district workshops. The first is slated Sept. 3 at Andrews, and the second will be held Sept. 10 at Snyder. Hours will be from 9 to 11 a.m. for both meetings.

The Lay Witness Mission is scheduled at the local church Sept. 25-27. Mrs. Paul Kionki and Mrs. Russell Dorsey were appointed chairmen for a garage sale Oct. 16-17.

A LOVELIER YOU Refreshing Change Cures Doldrums

By MARY SUE MILLER

Are you feeling frazzled from work and wilt? It's a common enough complaint in mid-summer, particularly from those who have had no vacation break.

The drain of routine and heat really can get a person down in the dumps. But no law says you have to stay down. Only a few small refreshers are necessary to gain a whole new look and outlook. Try these:

- Make some change in your appearance. Have a new haircut. There's nothing like it to lift your appearance out of the doldrums, particularly if you aim for a styling that trends to fall. As of now the small, neat head is forecast. That goes for wigs too. Actually a newsy wig could be the pick-up you're looking for.
- To renew your skin's bloom, give yourself a few facials — cleanse, apply a stimulating mask, then finish with chilled witch hazel compresses. And do take a fresh approach to makeup. It's best done with new shades like smoky-lavender eyeshadow and bright, gleamy lipstick.
- Refurbish your wardrobe. Get the droopies in just-bought condition. Of course, the addition of a mid-length dress in a tawny fall shade would be ideal.
- Above all, make some switch in your daily routine. If you ride everywhere, walk somewhere. Start growing fresh greenery, avocado and grapefruit offer both sustenance and seed. Have an exotic dinner — dine to a different language every night. Paperback cookbooks tell you how in Chinese, Italian, Swedish et al.

FROM PARIS WITH PANTS — This belted suit with divided pant skirt in brown leather embroidered and trimmed in leopard skin is by Philippe Venet and was shown in Paris Monday as he launched his pants-dress fashions for the fall and winter of 1970. Topping the creation is a fitted hood.

Designers Hold Fast; New Length Is Here

AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — Philippe Venet launched his pants-dress today as the week-long first showings of fall and winter fashions by Paris fashion houses opened.

Many of Venet's dresses have divided skirts. They are cut as straight as pants, falling softly, and hit midcalf. He drops his hemlines to a low-calf length for cocktail dresses.

Venet's collection is based on a full-skirted silhouette, particularly in coats, but featured for dresses and suits for every hour of the day and evening. Accent throughout is on cape sleeves. They are of every length, soft flared, often cut batting.

Under the flared coats, generally of a bright soft cloth, veils or tweed come the series of printed wool pants-dresses following the same flared lines with the same row of metal or matching boucle buttons at the top of the bodice.

Wool jersey dresses in Persian floral prints or precious floral or patchwork brocades recall priceless Persian miniatures. To achieve his flared silhouette Venet resorts to fan pleating on coats, or kilting in silk two-piece suits, often with pleated caped backs and swan sleeves.

Serge Pelage, who presented his eighth couture collection this morning, sees women as pirates, sailors and medieval damsels for fall-winter 1970. For day, his "pirate" bloomers are loosely gathered below the knee in wool or heavy multicolored tweeds. For evening, they go under a long belted matching jacket in brown lame.

Orr served in the music ministry at the Baptist Seminary in Cali, Colombia. He opened his program by singing the hymn, "This Love Is Mine," then showed slides as he discussed his work in Colombia. Orr explained that the hymn had been translated into Spanish and used for the Crusade of The Americas, because "it communicates the message of the love of Christ in a way that many other songs fail to do."

Following his program, refreshments were served at a reception honoring Mr. and Mrs. Orr. The next regular WMS meeting will be Tuesday.

SPANISH GALLEONS SUNK IN 1553

More Treasure Discovered

PORT MANSFIELD, Tex. (AP) — A monthlong search in the murky water of the Gulf of Mexico has resulted in the discovery of more wreckage of Spanish galleons lost in a 1553 hurricane, an official of the state antiquities committee said Tuesday.

Dr. Fred Wendorf, chairman of the committee, and from the anthropology department of Southern Methodist University, said searchers using electronic devices have found eight signals indicating the presence of large quantities of metal. Only one has been proven to be the wreckage of an actual Spanish galleon. Dr. Wendorf said officials of the Institute for Underwater Research, Inc., have pinpointed the wreckage of at least one galleon and have retrieved artifacts to prove their discovery.

Company officials displayed a rust-encrusted cannon, some ancient wood fragments and some ballast stones for newsmen Tuesday.

Texas land commissioner Jerry Sadler, who has been involved in controversies over sunken treasure found off the Texas coast, paid his first visit to the treasure hunt site Tuesday.

HURRICANE

Dr. Wendorf pointed out that the non-profit corporation was removing only enough artifacts to determine what had been found. Platoro, Ltd., a Gary, Ind., firm, found one galleon and removed treasure from it before the Texas Antiquities Committee was established. The matter of who owns the treasure that Platoro found is now before the federal courts.

The non-profit corporation, working with a permit from the state committee, spent about $35,000 on the month-long scientific survey, according to Dr. Wendorf.

Gene McDermott, president of the corporation, urged state officials to preserve the wreckage of the ancient galleons which were lost in a hurricane after they left the New World for Spain.

"EYE 'PIRATES'"

"Because they belong to a relatively little-known period of Texas history, it is all the more important that they be adequately studied for the benefit of future generations," said McDermott.

Dr. Wendorf said the wreck sites are being kept under surveillance by patrol boats and airplanes to keep would-be pirates away.

Scott Hays, an SMU anthropology graduate student, said the cannon is of the same type known to have been aboard Spanish galleons. He said it is easily identified by large swivel rings on both ends of the barrel. He said the cannon would be cleaned in an attempt to determine where and possibly when it was manufactured.

The scientific survey of the Gulf area along Padre Island has been conducted in three phases, according to Hays. After the signals are detected, scuba divers are sent to investigate. The third step, if the metal turns out to be part of a ship, is the recording of the site for future study and eventual recovery of artifacts.

SCUBA DIVERS

Divers visited the site where the cannon was found Tuesday for the benefit of newsmen and Sadler. They retrieved several ballast stones and some other rocks not native to the area. Hays said at least one of the rocks was obsidian, meaning it was volcanic in origin. He said it might have originated in Mexico or South America.

The divers, who must grope in near darkness in the murky water, also reported finding a long piece of wood. Hays said it might be part of the keel of a ship.

HE'S WATCHING

An unidentified vehicle with its license plates covered watched from the beach of South Padre Island Tuesday as the divers worked. The occupants of the red-and-white four wheel drive vehicle drove stakes in the beach even with the diving location.

Officials of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department at Corpus Christi were asked by Dr. Wendorf to find out who was driving the vehicle.

An airplane also circled several times just as the diving operation was completed.

"He's been watching us a lot," Dr. Wendorf said. "He buzzes us almost every day," he added.

Dr. Wendorf said he planned to check with the Federal Aviation Administration to determine who owns the plane.

The survey is to end Friday. Dr. Wendorf said he did not know if the corporation would conduct further operations next summer.

Production Of Wool Expected To Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wool production is expected to decline again this year because of fewer sheep and lambs on U.S. farms, according to Agriculture Department economists.

Officials estimated shorn wool output at about 161.9 million pounds, two per cent less than in 1969 and the smallest production since 1873, according to government records.

The Crop Reporting Board estimated the number of sheep and lambs to be shorn at 19,023,000 head, three per cent fewer than last year. The average weight per fleece, however, was estimated to be slightly heavier—8.51 pounds compared with 8.47 last year.

Higher Gas Prices Urged At Hearing In Midland

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — State political figures and independent natural gas producers were to go before the Federal Power Commission today with an appeal for higher gas prices.

They contend higher rates plus lesser incentives would encourage new exploratory drilling and reverse a gas shortage trend viewed by many as critical.

Faced with shrinking gas reserves, the FPC decided to reopen the historic Permian Basin case in a move aimed at finding answers to the problems.

The commission, in setting the hearing, invited politicians and producers to offer proposals and evidence to help in setting nationwide rates for producer sales of new natural gas.

However, in a surprise move, the FPC proposed last week to exempt all small independent producers from federal regulations, including price ceilings.

"This is exactly one of the things we were going to ask for," Ed Thompson, executive vice president of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, said prior to the meeting.

"It's too early to know just what the FPC had in mind but I feel sure the association will still ask for the increase in the price ceiling even if the small independents are removed from regulations."

Since calling this hearing, the regulatory agency expanded its investigation from the Permian Basins area of Texas and New Mexico to include sales from throughout producing areas in the United States except Alaska and Hawaii.

IN WRITING

The Midland hearing was to confine itself to evidence on gas supply and demand, the cause of any shortage, the effect of price on supply and demand and other data relating to the current nation-wide cost of finding the producing gas-well gas.

Most major companies submitted their views in writing and were not expected to make oral statements.

The prevailing Permian Basin rate is 16.5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet of gas from new wells and 14.5 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for all other gas.

The FPC set the rates in 1965 after 251 days of hearings and 30,000 pages of testimony. The U.S. Supreme Court upheld the decision in a landmark ruling in 1968.

Since that time, producers have contended that ceiling prices have been too low to encourage drilling for new supplies.

Michelle Finds Wonderful Care At Shrine Hospital

Michelle Hall is recovering nicely from critical burns, thanks to outstanding treatment at the Galveston Shrine Burn Center, made possible through the local Shrine organization.

There is a chance that she might be home in about another month.

Michelle, 18-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Hall of Ackerly, suffered wide spread second and third degree burns when she tumbled into a hot water basin at her home May 11.

Shriners immediately arranged for transportation to the Galveston Center, and have provided for treatment since.

Mrs. Hall has recently written a letter to local Shriners, as follows:

"I have been trying to find the words to thank you for all you have done for Michelle. She is doing so well and is healing extremely well. So I guess all we can say is thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

"We want to help in any way we can if and when there is another child to come here. We can tell them what to expect in the way of living conditions here, the hospital itself, and any other information the parents might want to know. You can call us at any time day or night, and we'll come and help all we can. This is such a small matter but something my husband and I want to do. You have been so very kind to us.

"The hospital is really something. It would take me hours to tell you all about it and how beautiful it is. The staff here is the best. They take kids that would normally be crippled the rest of their lives and make these kids into normal happy children. It is really unbelievable the miracles they do here. It is a shame there aren't more of these hospitals, but such a satisfaction knowing that there are as many as there are. If and when you come to Galveston it would be well worth a few minutes to come to the hospital and go through it. They will be more than happy to show you through the hospital and all the laboratories.

"My husband and I would be glad to tell you about the hospital whenever we come home, which probably will be in four weeks. If you would let us know we would try to get some pictures and more information to complete the picture of how wonderful the hospital really is.

"If there is anything at all we can do just let us know. We will never be able to thank you enough for what you have done for Michelle."

'Rock' Shows Called Off In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — A series of free rock 'n' roll shows to "bridge the generation gap" has been called off because of a performance that erupted into a three-hour battle between spectators and police.

Both Mayor Richard J. Daley and Daniel J. Shannon, president of the park district which sponsored the concerts, said at news conferences Tuesday that the violence had been premeditated.

Shannon said chains, rocks, knives and firearms were brought into Grant Park, scene of the concert, Monday, by "those bent on destruction" who overwhelmed "the good kids who just wanted to communicate with music."

Police arrested 165 persons on charges of mob action in the park and in the downtown district, where windows were smashed and stores looted. The total injured was set at 135, including 65 policemen. Three youths were wounded by gunfire.

Chicago Park District commissioners voted unanimously to cancel four more such concerts set for the Grant Park bandshell and a fifth planned for Soldier Field in September.

Monday's disorder erupted after the crowd demanded the appearance of the rock group Sly and the Family Stone and some youngsters mounted the stage.

Two Missing Officials Result In Tabled Items

Operating at minimum strength last night, the City Commission approved expenditures for the purchase of police department equipment and three recommendations from the Planning and Zoning Board.

With Commissioners Wade Choate and Garner McAdams out of town and unable to attend the meeting, the unanimous consent of the remaining three commissioners was necessary for approval of all resolutions and ordinances, and the lack of a vote spelled a standoff on two agenda items.

The subject of the city's purchase of a sanitation truck was in effect tabled, when a motion by Commissioner Eddie Acri, seconded by Commissioner George Zachariah, to reject the bids failed without the mayor's vote.

City Manager Larry Crow said the new vehicle is needed to replace a truck that broke down several months ago and has not been repaired because of its ineffective non-hydraulic packing mechanism and because "We feel the truck has pretty well had it."

Commissioner Acri questioned the efficiency of the container lift mechanism on the body offered in the bid from Pak-Mor of San Antonio. He said a bid returned unopened to Hobbs Trailers in Lubbock because it arrived after the deadline would have been on a cheaper packer body likely to present fewer problems.

MONEY QUESTION
Acri also raised the question of money to pay for the $15,500 vehicle, and was told by Finance Director Charles Smith that the garage fund at this time has only $10,000 but would probably have the rest by delivery time if that turned out to be 90 days.

Commissioner Zachariah called attention to the possibility of a General Motors strike, that could prevent delivery unless action is taken soon, but lack of unanimity postponed the decision until the next meeting.

An ordinance to permit Mayor J. Marshall Arnold to sign an agreement for a $14,000 non-interest bearing short-term loan to cover part of the cost of the landfill loader purchased and delivered last month also stalled.

Commissioner Acri said he could not vote for the ordinance: "I can't take any part in approving this loan because I was against the purchase from the beginning."

'JUST PAPERWORK'
Finance Director Smith said he believed this loan to be "just paperwork, admittedly a little behind" having no real bearing on the purchase question, since that has already been approved.

The commissioners did agree on the allocation of funds necessary to snag two grant awards offered to Big Spring by the Texas Criminal Justice Council.

One grant of $3,164 will go with $1,055 toward the purchase of riot equipment to be used in training sessions at HCJC's Southwest Law Enforcement Academy that would also be available for city riot control.

The second grant of $1,586 would be supplemented with $1,560 in city funds for the purchase of IBM dictation equipment, so that police reports could be called in from the scene and transcribed later.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Why are pipe smokers the most selfish and egotistical of all men? My gentleman friend recently gave up cigarettes, and he's taken up a pipe instead. It may be easier on his lungs, but it's harder on me.

I was terribly embarrassed. I thought he should have given them something. On the way home I mentioned it and he said he didn't think it was necessary, since the musicians were paid to play anyway. One word led to another and a heated argument followed. Do you think I was wrong to bring it up? And isn't it customary to tip musicians under these circumstances?

RAINBOW CHASER
DEAR CHASER: I think you were wrong to have made an issue of it. And yes, it is customary to "tip" musicians for playing requests, even though the musicians sometimes solicit them. P. S. A lesson might have been learned from this. Don't expect a "pot of gold" at the end of THAT rainbow.

PACK MULE
DEAR PACK MULE: Advice for whom? Your gentleman friend seems to be doing all right if he can load his lady down with the smoking gear and have her at his elbow in case he needs something. If you feel abused don't depend on "smoke signals." Tell him in plain English.

Also his tobacco has a sickeningly "sweet" aroma and it smells like cookies are burning. Please print this with your advice. He thinks you're the grooviest.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 40-year-old bachelor who feels that he should live with a woman before considering marriage. He claims that two people don't really know each other until they live together.

I believe that two people can get to know each other well enough without living together, if enough time is allowed.

I realize that they will not know everything about each other, but they'll know enough to decide whether they want to be married to each other.

I would appreciate your opinion in print.

BEING COURTED
DEAR BEING: I'm with you. Tell him it's nix on the undress rehearsals.

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a gentleman who seems very much interested in me. He's charming, well-to-do and attractive. We're not kids, he's 50 plus and I'm a few years younger.

Last evening we were having dinner in a very fashionable spot when a trio of musicians strolled by. (An accordion, guitar, and violin.) They asked if we had any "favorites," whereupon my gentleman friend replied, "No. We like them all."

I then said, "Do you know 'Chasing Rainbows'?" They stood by our table and

Six Officers Given Air Force Medals

Six members of the 3560th Pilot Training Squadron were recently presented honors by Col. Anderson W. Atkinson, wing commander, at the squadron's commander's call.

Capt. Emmett P. Dowling received the Distinguished Flying Cross for achievement as a forward air controller near Qui Nhon, Vietnam, Aug. 24, 1969.

On that day, Capt. Dowling was flying an unarmed light aircraft through hostile fire, directing tactical air power in defense of Qui Nhon. During the operation, a Lockheed C-130 Hercules was scheduled to land at Qui Nhon, however no contact could be established between the control tower and the C-130.

Capt. Dowling dove his unarmed plane through hostile fire to warn the C-130 pilot against landing at Qui Nhon.

Capt. Paul K. Evans received the Distinguished Flying Cross for aerial flight in the F-100 Super Sabre as a tactical fighter pilot near Phu Cat, Vietnam, April 17, 1969. On that day, Capt. Evans flew his aircraft to assist elements of the Republic of Korea's Tiger Division, who were in contact with hostile forces. Capt. Evans also received the Air Medal, first through tenth oak leaf clusters, for duty as a fighter pilot at Phan Rang Air Base, Vietnam.

Capt. James R. Faulkner received the Air Medal for achievement while participating in aerial flight from May 16, 1969 to June 3, 1969, in Vietnam. The letter accompanying the award said, "Captain Faulkner's outstanding airmanship and courage were exhibited in the successful accomplishment of important missions under extremely hazardous conditions."

Capt. Faulkner also received the Bronze Star for service as the officer in charge of life support section, 6th Special Operations Squadron, and later as base operations officer, 533rd Combat Support Group, Pleiku Air Base, Vietnam, from May 11, 1969 to April 17, 1969.

Capt. David A. McDonald received the Distinguished Flying Cross for aerial flight as a McDonnell Douglas F-4E Phantom pilot at Da Nang Air Base, Vietnam, Oct. 7, 1969. The letter accompanying the award credited him with inflicting heavy damage to enemy positions while flying through inclement weather. The captain also received the Air Medal, fifth through twelfth oak leaf clusters, for achievement in aerial flight.

Capt. Keith K. Sweatland received the Distinguished Flying Cross for achievement in aerial flight as a C-7A Caribou aircraft commander near Bu Prang, Vietnam, Nov. 9, 1969. On that date, he flew a combat essential resupply mission into the besieged camp in face of hostile fire.

Capt. Harold Sokolofsky received the Air Medal, ninth oak leaf cluster, for flying F-100 missions from April, 1969, to January, 1970, at Bien Hoa Air Base, Vietnam.

THE ODD COUPLE — A lovely summer day in New York's Central Park, a moment of bliss to be shared together on a park bench. A second glance shows, however, that this couple will never be more than just good friends.

Four 'Sweepers' Enter Westchester Golf Event

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP) — The legendary Ben Hogan, making one of his rare competitive appearances, and Gary Player's return to this country spice the field for the rich Westchester Classic Golf Tournament.

One of the strongest arrays of the year is on hand for the $250,000 event that starts Thursday on the tight, 6,700-yard, par-72 Westchester Country Club Course.

All four men who have swept pro golf's big four tournaments — the U.S. and British Opens, the PGA and the Masters — are competing. It is one of the few times that Hogan, Player, Jack Nicklaus and the 68-year-old Gene Sarazen have played together.

Hogan, who won three of his four national open titles after coming back from a near-fatal auto accident, snapped a four-year retirement when he competed in the Houston-Champions and Colonial National Invitational events earlier this year.

He finished ninth at Houston and had a first-round 69 at the Colonial before the hilly course took its toll on his once-shattered leg.

"I'm playing pretty good," the 57-year-old Hogan said Wednesday. "But this heat is brutal. I played the other day but had to quit after nine holes. It's just too hot."

Player, off the American circuit since the U.S. Open, said he is having problems with his game and is not certain how long he will remain in the United States.

"I'm having trouble putting everything together," the little South African perfectionist said. The huge purse — $50,000 to the winner — lured such a strong field that 158 exempt player filed entries. The normal field is 144 and PGA officials had to expand the field to 171 to allow spots for qualifying.

In all, 58 of the top 60 money winners are on hand. The only ones missing are U.S. Open champion Tony Jacklin and Australian Bruce Devlin who had business commitments.

Top Copper Has Trouble With Unseeded Player

INDIANAPOLIS AP — Stan Smith, America's top-ranked Davis Cupper, struggled Tuesday in 90-degree heat to beat back the challenge of unseeded Milan Holocec of Czechoslovakia in first round play at the National Clay Court Tennis Championships.

Smith led an array of U.S. and foreign tennis stars who advanced into second round play in the week-long tournament being played for the second straight year at Indianapolis' venerable Woodstock Club.

The 6-foot-4 Pasadena, Calif., native won the first set 6-4, lost the second set 2-6 and trailed 2-0 and 3-1 before coming on to take the final set 6-4.

Action was heavy Tuesday in the $50,000 tournament due to two long rain delays on Monday.

Top-seeded American, Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., moved up with an easy 6-3, 6-3 victory over Paul Gerken of East Norfolk, Conn., while the No. 1 foreign seed, Jan Kodes of Czechoslovakia, turned back Indonesia's S. Sugiarta, 6-2, 6-4.

Both defending singles champions also moved into the second round with ease. Second-seeded foreigner Zeljko Franulovic of Yugoslavia, the 1969 men's champ, topped Steve Krulavitz of Baltimore, 6-1, 6-0, while 1969 women's titlist Gail Chamfreau of France won twice.

Mrs. Chamfreau slipped past Jade Schiffman of Riverdale, N.Y., 6-2, 6-0, then dumped Margaret Cooper of Winter Park, Fla., 6-4, 6-2.

Three seeded players fell out of the competition. Yugoslavia's Nichola Spear upset No. 6 foreigner George

Deadline Near For Tourney

Entries continued to lag in the annual Big Spring Country Club Golf tournament for this weekend, but officials hoped for a big upsurge today and before tomorrow evening's deadline.

Places on the local cup team led by Don Reynolds will be decided today, and the matches against a team led by Sunny Edwards, Ruidoso, N.M., will be unrehearsed Friday. This may be a sort of family competition because Edwards is the father-in-law of Reynolds.

Entry fee is $20, and this included play for qualifying rounds, the barbecue Friday evening and the dance Saturday night. Pairings for flights will be based on first round scores.

Defending champion is Don Gauldin, Weatherford.

The tournament chairman is Weldon Bryant, R. P. Nicholson, Don Reynolds, Whitney Reynolds and Wally Slate.

Normally the tournament draws around 150 players, but only about a third this number is so far in sight. Officials had hoped for more than 200 entries, and has posted a schedule of $150, $100, $50 and $25 in gift certificates as the prize awards for each of the flights.

Tournament officials urged all area players to sign up today and tomorrow for the annual tournament, one of the oldest in West Texas.

Holub Has 9th Surgery

LIBERTY, Mo. (AP) — "They're going to name a wing of the hospital after me," says E.J. Holub, center of the Kansas City Chiefs.

And well they should. The 32-year old Lubbock, Tex., native is coming back to his 10th year of professional football after his ninth knee operation.

"The doctor said I have the kneed of an 80-year-old man," said the off-season Dryden, Tex., rancher. "He said I couldn't stand another knee operation."

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

(WALT FINLEY FOR TOMMY HART)

You know, of course that I write this in front of the television set, watching the good old Astros defeat Pittsburgh 6-4 in 10 innings.

I won't say the Pirates are bad guys. It's just that when they (or anybody else) play the Astros, they're No. 2, and trying harder won't even change my mind.

I find myself disagreeing with the plate umpire frequently. After all I have a better vantage point than he does. Often I'm right over the pitcher's right shoulder.

In fact, I've never quite figured why they don't have the umpire work the games from my living room in Big Spring.

Roger Beard joined us in watching Walt Garrison of Dallas blast through the Baltimore line last year in the Cotton Bowl via TV for a good gain and when Chuck Tompson said:

"Garrison is being replaced by No. 26 who is Les Shy."

As you might expect at Dallas Cowboy games, the Indians are cast as the bad guys and wind up biting the dust.

How do you suppose the same halftime show would turn out for the Washington Redskins?

If you think the simple things don't count in this world, just imagine how dull our lives would be if the ball did not bounce.

Texas Christian University opened its 1969 football season with a sophomore quarterback named Steve Judy running the team.

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram's headline on the game story the next morning was:

My Name Is Judy,
How Do You Do

As a matter of fact, Judy's substitute was named Busty Underwood.

The greatest sports question of all time was asked in a television interview viewed in Big Spring recently.

The Dallas station had some time to fill (kill) before a baseball game began, so they dusted off an antique interview with Wilt Chamberlain, who then was with Philadelphia.

The interviewer, whose name I did not catch (and I'm sorry, for he deserves to go down in history for the question he asked), led Wilt through a rather dull discussion of his accomplishments in various sports.

Then cocking his head at about a 90-degree angle and looking up at the better-than-7 foot Chamberlain, he asked:

"Wilt, just what was it that made you decide to concentrate on basketball?"

"I'll give Wilt credit. He didn't even smile, but answered it as if it were necessary."

My bright cousin, Dr. George Ladd, an Okie from Muskogee, said he recently played golf with his preacher who hit a difficult 9-iron shot and almost holed out.

My drinking cousin, Bobby Harris, asked:

"Did he keep his head down?"

Silber Reported In Line For Prexy Post, Fired

AUSTIN (AP) — Dr. John R. Silber was the top choice of a special committee for the presidency of the University of Texas when he was abruptly fired as dean last Friday.

Frank C. Erwin Jr., the regent chairman who many claim engineered the firing of Silber, reportedly told him his dismissal would "outdo" the 1944 Homer P. Rainey controversy at the school.

FAST SHUFFLE
The source said Erwin told Silber, just hours before he was fired, that "I've always admired you because you do your homework. But I do mine, too, and this time I have all the chips. This will make you famous. John. It will outdo Rainey."

Ironically, Erwin, then a university student, supported Rainey in the president's losing battle against the regents over academic freedom. Rainey's dismissal touched off a three-day protest strike by students, and more than 6,000 of the 12,500 students paraded to the capitol carrying a black coffin labeled "Academic Freedom."

A source whose contacts include educators and businessmen around the state, as well as in Austin, said the university's new administration, which fired Silber, also is considering dismissing Page Keeton, dean of the UT Law School.

IN DANGER
The source said the jobs of Deans A.Y. Taniguchi of architecture and George Kozmetsky of business administration also were in danger.

He mentioned specifically that Erwin did not like Kozmetsky's allegedly traveling around the state seeking money from outside sources for the College of Business Administration. The source also said Silber had been a great fund-raiser for the School of Arts and Sciences, but that acting president Bryce Jordan turned down a $225,000 grant from the Ford Foundation until the regents could look at it.

NO TRUTH TO RUMORS
"Frank doesn't want anybody out there he can't control," the source said.

Late Tuesday, LeMaistre and Jordan issued a joint statement: "There is absolutely no truth to the rumors that other deans at the University of Texas in Austin will be removed." LeMaistre and Jordan said the rumor is not new and was specifically denied when brought up at a regular meeting of all the university deans on Monday.

Silber, 43, is a native of San Antonio and was educated at Trinity University there and at Yale before joining the Philosophy Department here in 1955. He was made chairman in 1962 and became dean of the College of Arts and Sciences in December, 1967. He has said he will stay on as a teacher.

Silber had disagreed with the new administration over its proposal to split Arts and Sciences into three colleges, a move which would dilute Silber's influence. And he also wanted to limit the university's enrollment to 35,000, which Erwin opposed.

'BUILDING AN EMPIRE'
A university source accused Silber of "building an empire" and "going around the state beating the drums for his position."

The Arts and Sciences Foundation, a group made up mostly of businessmen from throughout the state, had asked Silber to speak at a series of "Meet the Dean" dinners and it was one of those, in Dallas, that particularly upset Erwin, the source said.

He said Erwin and Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes, a close friend of Erwin, showed up last September at the Brook Hollow Country Club at a dinner arranged for Silber by the sister-in-law of Robert Strauss, finance chairman for the National Democratic Party.

Voting Machines Sale Called Fair

HOUSTON (AP) — The sale of 100 used voting machines to Hillsboro County, Fla., sold the machines to Southern Municipal Sales of Jacksonville, Fla., for $30 each and that company in turn sold them for $500 each to the Shoup Voting Machine Company of Nashville, Tenn.

The grand jury said Shoup spent $700 overhauling each machine and sold them to Harris County with the same five-year warranty given to new machines.

Seniority System Survives New Legislative Assault

WASHINGTON (AP) — The venerable seniority system, which keeps venerable congressmen in committee chairmanships, has survived the first legislative assault aimed at it in recent years.

Hammering out a legislative reorganization bill, the House Tuesday refused either to require committee election of chairmen or simply to state that length of service should not be the only standard.

However, some members who voted against the proposed amendments said they were not wedded to seniority, but thought the matter should be handled in party caucuses, rather than by legislation.

CUSTOM HARDENS
Nothing in the law or the rules of the House provides that the chairman of a committee must be the member of the majority party with the longest service.

But the custom has hardened almost into inflexibility, especially in the 60 years since the House revolted against the heavy-handed Speaker Joseph Cannon, who named and removed chairmen depending on how their performance pleased him.

There have been exceptions. In 1967 the Democratic caucus removed Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, D-N.Y., accused of mishandling committee funds, as chairman of the Education and Labor Committee. Powell later was denied his seat by the House.

70 AVERAGE AGE
As the system operates, party caucuses make the original committee appointments and members move up to chairman or ranking minority member posts as their seniors die, retire, are defeated, or shift to other committees.

The average age of chairmen now is 70.

Defenders of the system argued that no workable substitute has been devised to avoid political infighting within committees.

Rep. Hale Boggs, D-La., said the system also protects minority members. There have been times, he said, when a Negro or a Jew could not have been elected chairman.

POWER TO CHANGE
Others argued that party caucuses have full power to change the method and that writing any reference to seniority into the law would be a step backward.

The House defeated, 196 to 28, a proposal to require that each committee elect its chairman from among the three most senior members.
