

COASTAL DWELLERS BEGIN RALLYING AFTER HURRICANE

Celia's Mighty Blows Kill 32

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Residents of this storm-smashed vacationland on Texas' Coastal Bend struggled to regain their balance today in the wake of devastating Hurricane Celia. Figures kept mounting on death and destruction from the effects of Celia's sledgehammer blows in the Corpus Christi area and northward into Mexico, where the tropical juggernaut finally beat itself into harmless bits Tuesday.

There were 13 deaths in Texas alone. Including five who perished as the growing storm battered across Cuba and 14 who drowned in turbulent Florida waters, the over-all toll stood at 32 fatalities.

LOSSES RISE

Still incomplete estimates of loss approached $300 million. With damage to more than three-fourths of the buildings and houses in Corpus Christi and dozens of neighboring towns, officials tentatively put the property total around $233 million.

Crop losses added nearly $60 million more.

Winds ranged up to a staggering 160 miles per hour, the Weather Bureau disclosed, as mighty Celia surged ashore Monday across Corpus Christi Bay. Before crossing the international border to hit Mexico's mountains, it still packed winds as high as 89 m.p.h. and dealt lessening blows as far as 250 miles inland.

Surprisingly, however, Celia brought rains amounting to less than nine inches along the watershed of the Rio Grande, where downpours up to 30 inches set off massive floods on the heels of Hurricane Beulah in 1967. There nevertheless were warnings of some flooding in low areas on the Rio Grande and the Nueces River, which flows into the Gulf of Mexico here.

DISASTER ZONE

President Nixon declared the Corpus Christi area a major disaster zone, making federal money available to speed relief, soon after Gov. Preston Smith and others advised him of the crippling damage.

The President acted without waiting for formal reports from Secretary of Commerce Maurice Stans and Small Business Administration director Hilary Sandoval, who inspected the area in a helicopter tour. Gov. Smith was among those accompanying them.

Doctors and nurses came from Houston and other cities to help care for the injured—running in to hundreds, although many escaped with minor hurts. It was necessary for them to use boats in reaching Port Aransas, on Mustang Island just up the coast from Corpus Christi and normally served by ferries.

65,000 FAMILIES

Hospitals suffered severe damage at neighboring Aransas Pass and at Robstown, west of here. Lighter blows were felt by the four hospitals in Corpus Christi and others in this vicinity. Army hospital units set up at Aransas Pass and Ingleside.

Inspection disclosed widespread damage from around Corpus Christi to Rockport, 30 miles up the coast, and in Port Aransas, Aransas Pass, Ingleside, Taft, Sinton, Mathis and Robstown.

The Red Cross reported about 65,000 families suffered losses. These included an estimated 8,950 homes destroyed and 13-

Manson Scores 'Scoop,' His Lawyer Shares Cell 'Guilty' Headline Flashed To Jurors

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A defense lawyer is spending three nights in the same jail as Charles M. Manson, the shaggy-haired clan leader who briefly halted the Sharon Tate murder trial by flashing at the jury a newspaper headline reading: "Manson Guilty, Nixon Declares."

The trial judge ruled attorney Daye Shinn committed "a willful and deliberate contempt" of court by leaving the paper with in Manson's reach at the counsel table. Shinn said he'd done it by mistake.

Manson's move came Tuesday after Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older denied without comment a defense motion for a mistrial based on Nixon's statement — later withdrawn — that Manson was guilty directly or indirectly of eight murders.

Defense lawyers said later they would consider a further mistrial motion based on their contention that the jury has been "tainted" by exposure to Nixon's statements, made to newsmen in Denver Monday.

"This is a massive kind of prejudice," said Paul Fitzgerald, counsel for Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, one of four defendants charged with killing Miss Tate and six others a year ago. He added: "What we want to analyze is what would happen if such a motion were granted. Would it be humanly possible to find a jury that hadn't been tainted by publicity?"

Older said that since Nixon's remarks were made he had ordered special precautions to protect jurors from exposure to the news reports. He had windows made opaque on buses that ferry jurors to court and ordered their access to telephones, radio and television suspended.

"I'm satisfied there has been no exposure," he said.

Shinn, attorney for Susan Atkins, 21, was the third defender to be jailed in the past week. Ronald Hughes, representing Leslie Van Houten, 20, was locked up for a night for making an obscene comment during a bench conference. Irving Kanarek, Manson's lawyer, spent a night in custody for numerous interruptions of the testimony of the state's star witness, Linda Kasabian. Shinn will be permitted to continue in court.

When Manson held up the paper—an early edition of Tuesday's Los Angeles Times—all attorneys were huddled at the bench in conference with the judge. Deputy Dist. Atty. Aaron Stovitz spotted Manson and shouted: "Your honor!"

GRABS PAPER

A bailiff quickly grabbed the paper from Manson.

Minutes later, Older called each juror separately to the witness stand to say under oath whether they'd seen the headline. All but two said they had seen at least part of it; 11 had read it all.

Only one juror said it might influence him "subconsciously," but added he hoped it would not.

What did they think of the headline?

"I think if the President declared that, it was pretty stupid."

WHAT'S THIS — Janice Tallant fills a bucket with rainwater to get a closer look at that funny stuff falling from the sky. Howard County residents were treated to a brief shower Tuesday afternoon, and gauges at the Big Spring Experiment Station measured .04 of the wet stuff. For the month of June the area received only .10 inch of rain, and the measurement in July was even lower at .01.

TAX BOOST LOOMS Unemployment Payments Lengthened

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's signature would give unemployment insurance coverage to 4.7 million more workers and, in times when jobless levels are especially high, lengthen the payment periods for all.

On a 50-19 vote, the Senate completed congressional action on the measure Tuesday, a compromise which the House passed 388-3 on July 23.

The bill had been stalled for three months after Senate-House conferees deleted a provision in the original Senate version which would have made a start on extending coverage to farm workers.

Those voting against the bill Tuesday weren't opposed, but still were trying to send it back to conference to have the farm provision restored.

As it is, the bill extends coverage to small firms with one to three employees (the minimum now is four), additional agricultural processing workers, employees of nonprofit organizations, state hospitals, colleges and universities and to some Americans working abroad.

It also contains a feature which would extend the maximum payment period another 13 weeks when the national unemployment rate reaches 4.5 per cent for three months running.

That provision also could be invoked for individual states, if their levels represent a climb of 20 per cent over the preceding year and the overall rate is at least 4 per cent.

The lengthened payments will be possible legally as of 1972, or earlier if state action so provides. The states would share the cost equally with the federal government.

The federal unemployment tax would be boosted immediately one-tenth of one per cent, and the payroll base on which it is levied would go from $3,000 annually per employee to $4,200 as of 1972.

Unlucky 13 Deaths Listed

By The Associated Press

Officials listed 13 deaths in Texas from Hurricane Celia today.

The victims were:

Boyd Wilson, 66, struck on the head as a window blew out in Corpus Christi.

Cleotus Leal Gonzales, 42, caught under a falling wall in Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Michael Hughes, her son Michael Jr., 19, and her daughter Melba, drowned in a ditch at Port Aransas.

Richard Gotcher, 23, crushed as the roof of his home at Sandia fell in.

Sam Fuller, electrocuted at Alice while trying to cut a power line which had been knocked down by a broken tree limb.

Two unidentified persons in Corpus Christi, plus three others who died of heart attacks during the storm.

State Hospital Patient Falls From Water Tower

A 17-year-old patient at Big Spring State Hospital fell 105 feet to his death at 9:40 a.m. this morning from the cone shaped roof of the water tower on the west side of the grounds.

In a statement to The Herald Dr. James Kreimeyer, acting superintendent, said a 17-year-old Latin American boy "left his open unit this morning after breakfast and was located on top of the water tower." Kreimeyer said the incident was called to his attention at 8:30 a.m.

"He was approached from the ground by several attendants who knew him well, but he refused to come down."

Kreimeyer said he had contacted A. D. Meador, Big Spring fire marshal, but they had nothing tall enough to reach the water tower.

"We were in the process of getting a snorkel unit from the electric company."

"We cleared the area of people in hopes he would climb

Hurricane Celia Refugees Find Haven In Big Spring

By LINDA CROSS

"We just didn't believe that it would hit or that it could be so bad," said two victims of Hurricane Celia who have fled to Big Spring to stay with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Little, 509 E. 17th.

Mrs. Sandra Kay Berry, her two daughters and Mrs. Janet VanConnett and her two-month old daughter, Melissa, are staying with the Littles, who are Mrs. Berry's parents. The women bundled their children and belongings into Mrs. Berry's car at about 8 p.m. Tuesday and came to Big Spring from Corpus Christi.

"We couldn't leave earlier because of the curfew, and all communications were cut off so we couldn't call and let anyone know how we were. The first phone we could get to was in Pleasanton and we called from there to say we were coming," said Mrs. Berry.

"The sparkling city by the sea doesn't sparkle any more," said Mrs. VanConnett. "And it's not by the sea, it's in it," added Mrs. Berry. Both women said the damage was unbelievable.

"The funny thing was that you couldn't tell there had been a hurricane after it was all over, unless you looked at the damage. The sky was beautiful," said Mrs. VanConnett.

Mrs. Berry added, "The hurricane struck and four hours later, the sun was shining."

According to Mrs. Berry, "There is not a building downtown that has a window left in it. Street signs are wrapped around telephone poles. House trailers and Greyhound buses are also wrapped around telephone poles, and signs from service stations were all over the highway."

"They took the boats out of the water, but it didn't do any good," she added. "They're all in the streets now."

Mrs. Berry had taken her two daughters, Ladina Angell and Paula Lynn, with all their belongings loaded into the car, to the Sands Motel after they were ordered to evacuate their North Beach home. Mrs. VanConnett, who works at the motel restaurant was staying at the motel with her two-month old daughter, Melissa.

According to the two women, the worst part of the storm struck the motel at about 6:30 p.m. Monday. The motel was demolished, and the restaurant's glass windows were blown out.

"The debris flying around was terrible. We nearly lost Melissa because of the debris and falling boards," said Mrs. Berry.

"A two-by-four fell through the motel room roof and landed right where the baby's head had been while she was sleeping. A woman who was staying with us had picked her up just a few minutes before. Melissa didn't even wake up. Nothing wakes her up," said Mrs. VanConnett.

Mrs. Berry had had enough warning and had packed all of her belongings and took them with her to the motel. Mrs. VanConnett was not as fortunate.

"I didn't really believe it would hit. I didn't think my house would move either, but it did — right into the ocean," said Mrs. VanConnett. She made it to Big Spring with the clothes she was wearing, two blouses, a pair of slacks, and diapers and a pair of shoes for the baby. "But I didn't get any shoes for myself," said Mrs. VanConnett, as she looked down at her bare feet.

"I have plenty of diapers for the baby and a couple of little dresses for her. I lost about $120 in the storm and the money is now somewhere in the ocean," she added. Mrs. VanConnett referred to the money as her "going home money." She is from California and has been trying to get in touch with her parents since the storm to let them know what has happened. Mrs. VanConnett's husband is currently serving in Vietnam.

Neither Mrs. VanConnett or Mrs. Berry plan to return to Corpus Christi. Mrs. Berry plans to send for the remainder of her things which she had placed in storage.

Mrs. VanConnett says she is not returning to Corpus Christi for anything. "I left my furniture there," she said. "It just isn't worth saving."

BACK TO SCHOOL

There's precious little time left to attend to those many things related to the start of a new school year. A reminder of the impact of another season of classes will appear in Sunday's Herald, with much space being devoted to school information, schedules, faculties, all the details parents want to know.

There'll be an offering of special Back-to-School values, too, from local merchants — real news for cost-conscious people. You'll do well to check Sunday's Herald for Back-to-School information.

LIKE FATHER, LIKE SON — Randall L. Atkinson (left) is sworn into the U. S. Air Force by his father, Col. Anderson W. Atkinson, commander 3560th Pilot Training Wing at Webb AFB. Young Atkinson is a graduate of the University of Arkansas where he majored in chemistry. He entered Officers Training School at Lackland Monday.

Scout Swim Meet Set For Weekend

Big Spring is host to a swim meet for Boy Scouts trying for ribbons in seven events Saturday at the Webb AFB airman's pool.

More than 100 scouts from Howard, Glascock, and Sterling counties already have entered, according to Jimmy R. Smith, chairman of the camping and activities committee, Lone Star District, Buffalo Trail Council. The district comprises 22 troops.

Any other scouts may enter through troop scoutmasters, by contacting Smith prior to Saturday, or by showing up for registration Saturday morning. Registration begins at 9 a.m. and ends shortly after noon, before the events begin.

Events include free style, breast stroke, side stroke, back stroke, individual medley, medley relay and free style relay.

Individual first, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in each event.

For the troops scoring the highest total number of points will be issued first, second and third place ribbons.

Scouts will compete in two separate groups according to age. Group A will be composed of scouts 11-13 and Group B for scouts 14 years and older.

There is no charge to entrants who are asked to bring their own swim suits and a towel.

Deadline For Farm Bureau Queen Entrants Thursday

Thursday is the deadline for entrants in this year's Howard County Farm Bureau queen's contest which now has nine entries.

Individual appearances before the judges will highlight competition for the crown when the event gets underway at 8 p.m. Saturday in HCJC auditorium.

Entrants so far include the following hopefuls:

Janette Nichols, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nichols, Route 1, Knott, and is a junior at Sands High School.

Robbie Cline, 20, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cline, Knott Route and has attended Howard County Junior College.

Debra Buchanan, 17, will be a senior at Big Spring High and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Buchanan, Gail Route.

Diane Procter, 16, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Procter, 502 S. Main, Coahoma. She will be a junior at Coahoma High.

Julie Choate, 16, will be a junior at Coahoma High and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Choate, Route 1, Big Spring.

Sally Anderson, 17, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Anderson, Box 136, Gail, and will be a senior at Radford Prep School, El Paso.

GI Forum Parade Set

The GI Forum is slated to meet tonight at 8 p.m. to discuss further plans for a parade and city-wide celebration Sept. 16.

At their July 29 meeting, the Forum members planned gala celebration for Sept. 16 as Mexican-American Independence Day.

A barbecue supper will kick off the events on the evening of Sept. 15, with a downtown parade at 4 p.m. the next day in which all Big Spring citizens will be urged to participate.

The parade plans include floats, the Webb AFB color guard, the Shriners, the Sheriff's Posse, and Mexican-Americans in native costumes.

Local Students Attend Workshop

SAN MARCOS — Four high school students from Big Spring participated in a two-week speech and drama workshop at Southwest Texas State University ending July 31.

From Big Spring were Sam Chappell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Chappell, 1809 Owens, debate and persuasive speaking; Mike Bearden, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Bearden, 1727 Purdue, debate and persuasive speaking; Steve Reagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Reagan, 1500 E. 6th, debate and persuasive speaking; Jeff Talmadge, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Talmadge, 2709 Carol, debate and persuasive speaking.

Odessa Firm Gets City Pipeline Bid

Meeting in special session at 11 a.m. today, the City Commission went over the five pipeline bids submitted July 30 and chose Key Enterprises of Odessa as the contractor for the construction of two water lines, one to Cosden and one to Intech.

Key Enterprises was the low bidder on Alternate III, a construction plan in which the major portion of the line would be reinforced concrete cylinder rather than asbestos-cement or cast iron.

Key bid $78,006.60, with R. B. Hodgkin, Midland, the second lowest bidder with $79,654.50.

R. B. Hodgkin appeared to be the low bidder on Alternate III last week when the bids were opened, but a calculational error of $2,000 turned up in a recheck of figures.

Cap Gun Causes False Alarm

An alarmed resident phoned Big Spring police Tuesday evening to report "a man shooting a 22 caliber pistol" in his backyard across the alley.

Four officers dispatched to the scene found not a man with a gun, but a young boy shooting a cap pistol.

Resident Charged With DWI Second

Joseph Green Arnold, 63, 201 NW 2nd, has been charged with driving while intoxicated, second offense. Arnold was released on $1,000 bond set by Justice of the Peace Walter Grace.

Arnold will appear before 118th District Judge Ralph W. Caton in connection with the charge.

850 others dealt major damage. An urgent appeal for $6 million in relief funds was issued by Red Cross Chairman E. Roland Harriman.

One of the officials making an aerial survey, George Hastings of the Office of Emergency Planning, said, "It looks like hell. It's the worst hurricane damage I've seen, and I've seen them all since 1960."

Red Cross Celia News Postponed

Due to communication breakdowns and tremendous damage in Corpus Christi, the local Red Cross will not be able to complete inquiries to friends and relatives until at least Thursday according to an official communique received by Mrs. Louise Allen here Tuesday.

Youth Horsemen Meet Thursday

Howard County Youth Horsemen will hold a general cleanup at 5 p.m. Thursday at the arena, followed by a practice session and an ice cream party honoring members going to the finals of the American Association of Riding Clubs Aug. 11-15 in Fort Worth.

Woman Injured In Car Accident

A San Angelo woman was injured Tuesday in a one-car mishap two miles north of Big Spring on FM 700 at 4:15 p.m.

Janice Dollins, who was taken to Cowper Clinic and Hospital shortly after the accident, was released from the hospital this morning.

Immaculate Heart Students Register

Registration for the Immaculate Heart of Mary School will begin Monday in the school cafeteria. Hours will be 9 a.m. to noon, 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. and 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. New pupils must present an immunization record and birth or baptismal certificate. Children entering kindergarten must be five years old by Sept. 1 and those entering the first grade must be six years old by Sept. 1. Classes will start Aug. 24.

In County Jail

Frank Cruz Lemon, 23, Wyoming Hotel, was transferred to county jail by city police on a charge of burglary. Lemon was released on $2,000 bond. Lemon is charged in connection with the burglary of Kwikie's Drive-In Grocery No. 1 on Gregg.

Showboat Snaps Moorings, Still Proves Haven For 11

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Eleven persons, including two children and a girl named Charlie, put to sea in a showboat here during Hurricane Celia.

The boat is the "Capt. Clark's Showboat," which usually hauls merry-makers on the protected waters of Nueces Bay. The 85-footer looks like a Mississippi River Boat but has a fake paddle wheel and twin diesel engines.

The group didn't mean to shove off into the winds of Celia Monday. They originally meant to ride out the storm aboard the three-decker boat while it was tied up at pier a few hundred feet from downtown Corpus Christi.

COULD HAVE WALKED

Aboard the craft were Capt. Billy Allen and his wife, Helen; Richard Crane and his wife, Ann; the Cranes' two children, Mona, 8, and Robert, 7; Buddy Clark, the son of the boat's owner; his girl friend, known only as Charley, and three deckhands.

Things were fine until the full force of Celia hit the showboat and demolished much of the dock. Captain Allen found himself floating free with a flat-bottomed boat which draws three feet of water and has a superstructure like a sail.

"The captain backed her out and we went straight across in that 100 mile an hour wind until we ground out in the bay," said Fred Hiles, one of the deckhands. "Then the hurricane sucked all the water out of the bay, and there we were high and dry. We could have walked out if we had wanted to buck the wind," Hiles said.

UP AND DOWN

"When the eye of the hurricane passed, the water came roaring back in and the Captain headed her straight out into the bay," said another deckhand who wanted to be known only as Fred.

Next, the cable holding one of the two rudders broke and wrapped itself around one of the twin props," Crane said.

"The captain tried to hold it straight into the wind. But one minute the wind was hitting on the port side and the next minute on the starboard side," Hiles said.

The showboat was shaking and bounding up and down as the wind blew her sideways across the rough seas in the shallow bay.

The fight went on for three hours as the unwieldy boat was blown about like a leaf.

MISSED ROCKS

Pointing to a breakwater, Crane said, "We just missed those rocks. We did take out one of the marker lights."

In the main cabin, the rest of the group had to duck for cover as the heavy glass windows were smashed by the winds.

Finally, the showboat was pushed toward the causeway that runs from Corpus Christi to Portland, but just before the boat could smash into the steel and concrete, the captain managed to run it ashore on the soft sand bottom.

"After the wind died down, I went out and measured it. We were just 72 inches from that causeway," Crane said.

Tuesday, the captain and his crew pulled the showboat out of the sand and brought her back in under her own power, unhurt except for minor wind damage.

Church Now Looks Like 2 Book Ends

PORTLAND, Tex. (AP)—Had it not been for a meeting before Hurricane Celia struck, a church that now looks like two book ends would have been used as a shelter for 300 persons.

The First Baptist Church of Portland was smashed by a tornado spawned by the hurricane, the pastor said.

The Rev. W.D. Broadway said it was decided at a meeting with Civil Defense officials to use two schools, sturdier buildings than the church, for a haven.

If the church had been used, he said as he stood on its shattered remains, "we would have had 300 people here."

He estimated the damage to the nine-month-old building at $250,000 and said it "looks like the only thing we can do is tear it down and start over."

The tornado struck after the eye of the hurricane, the pastor said, whacking and chewing up the midsection of the building and spitting it out at nearby homes.

"Some 68-foot roof trusses came bouncing over us," he said. "We could see them breaking up like toothpicks."

The Rev. Mr. Broadway and his family plus about 20 other persons sought refuge at the church auditorium about 150 feet away. It was only slightly damaged.

About a dozen children and adults remained in the church itself briefly but fled to the auditorium when part of the church building's roof was ripped away.

Soon the building was rubble piled on top of pews, a new organ, choir books and the pulpit. The pastor said $8,000 to $10,000 in his personal books and tape recordings were a "total loss."

"It was a gathering of more than 20 years of preaching," he said. "My sermon files were all lost."

He added: "Well, the Bible is full of good sermons."

Flash Flooding Threats In Far West Texas Areas

By The Associated Press
Hurricane Celia's last vestiges brought moisture—and even threats of flash flooding—to usually dry areas in far West Texas today.

Although no longer a hurricane, the nearly dead storm brought more than two inches of rain around Sanderson, where wind gusts estimated at more than 60 miles per hour damaged utility poles and trees.

Similar amounts soaked areas in Big Bend National Park and the moisture spread toward the north and northwest to the Guadalupe and Davis Mountains and the vicinity of Van Horn.

By this morning the Weather Bureau placed its center about 50 miles southeast of El Paso, or more than 500 miles from the Corpus Christi area where Celia slammed ashore with wind up to 160 m.p.h.

Forecasters warned that flash floods might hit normally dry arroyos or low places in that general area. Wind gusts as high as 40 m.p.h. still were expected.

Except for low clouds here and there in South Central Texas, skies were clear over the rest of the state, which was enveloped in warm and moist air.

12 Counties Declared Storm Disaster Area

WASHINGTON (AP)—Twelve South Texas Counties battered by Hurricane Celia were designated a major disaster area Tuesday by President Nixon. Property losses in that section were estimated at more than $200 million.

This serves to make available government funds for temporary housing, unemployment compensation for workers minus jobs

President's declaration are Atascosa, Aransas, Bee, Goliad, Jim Wells, Karnes, Live Oak, McMullen, Nueces, Refugio, San Patricio and Wilson.

Hilary Sandoval, director of the Small Business Administration, said emergency SBA offices will be opened at Port Aransas, Robstown, Sinton and Taft to help the agency's office in Corpus Christi handle the increased work load.

About 75 SBA employees will come from over the nation to man those facilities, Sandoval said, and their number probably will reach 200 before the emergency operations end.

Wild Winds Rake Crops

SINTON, Tex. (AP)—Farmers sifted through their fields in the coastal bend today to see what could be salvaged from the remains left by Hurricane Celia.

It was to have been a good year for the grain crop, needed after several bad years. About 3,000 to 4,000 acres of grain sorghum was ready for harvest in the Ingleside area, San Patricio County Agent Dan Pawlik said Tuesday. It was one of the areas hardest hit by the storm.

Most of the county's grain crop had been harvested, he said. The outlook for a good cotton crop this year was dim to begin with, as the fields were soaked by early rains and infested with insects.

Pawlik said the county has about 65,000 acres of cotton and most of it had been planted late. It is now putting on bolls and blooming at the top and would have been ready for harvest in about two weeks.

Zoning Board Gives Okay

Two specific use permits up for consideration by the Planning and Zoning Commission were approved at the meeting Tuesday evening.

Chairman Bill Sheppard and four other members discussed one request by Manuel Puga Sr., for a special permit to allow the sale of beer and wine for off-premises consumption at The Little Store in the rear of his sheet metal shop at 4009 US 80 West.

The other request made by Mrs. D. M. Osborn asked permission to place a trailer house on a lot at 1209 Frazier, adjacent to her home, for rental. The permit would also allow her to rent the lot to someone owning his own trailer house. Residents notified of each area had been notified of the requests, but no one appeared at the hearing to offer objections, and the commission approved both requests for consideration by the City Commission.

Celia Crushes $30,000 Home

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Bill O'Connell awoke Monday morning in his $30,000 home and went to bed that night as a refugee.

Hurricane Celia demolished his fashionable brick house as easily as it had thousands of wooden shacks and sheet-iron buildings in its path.

"I never realized a hurricane could be that intense," said O'Connell, 31, Tuesday, standing outside his tormented home.

His three-car garage had disappeared. Most of his roof was missing. All of the inside was soaked, and only a few shingles remained on one corner of the house top.

Celia caught O'Connell—and most of Corpus Christi—by surprise. He awoke Monday to news that the storm was only hours away.

"We debated whether to stay here or at my father- and mother-in-law's place. We decided this one would be safest," he said.

As the most intense part of Celia slammed into the house, O'Connell had his wife, two children and his wife's parents gather in the master bedroom, the point farthest from the storm.

He went out into the garage, which was catching the full brunt of the wind, and saw the doors bowing inward. "You could feel the pressure in there," he said. He hurried back to the bedroom and told his family to crawl under a mattress.

A few minutes later, he became homeless. "I could hear the nails being pulled out of the lumber, and then I saw the roof over the kitchen go," he said. The garage already had disappeared.

Part of the roof sailed about 100 feet and slammed into a neighbor's roof. "Two-by-fours were flying like spears," he said, pointing at two such boards which plunged through part of his house.

O'Connell moved his family and his wife's parents into a neighbor's house where they rode out the storm.

Cops' Vault Shields Eight

ARANSAS PASS, Tex. (AP)—Three women, three children and two ambulance drivers hid from Hurricane Celia in a tiny vault at the police station here Monday.

Mrs. Van Elliott, 25, said she and the others took shelter in the six-by-three foot vault while two policemen held filing cabinets against windows a few feet away to keep Celia's winds from roaring through the building.

Finally, after essential equipment was stashed inside the vault, the officers hurried to another room to escape flying debris.

Mrs. Elliott said she periodically knocked on the vault's wall with her hand to let the officers know they were all right.

"We were in that vault an hour and a half," Mrs. Elliott said.

"We held the door open about four inches to keep from creating a vacuum," she said. "Our ears were popping so badly we couldn't think."

"One lady was so scared she just stood with her arms crossed and smiled," Mrs. Elliott said. "I talked 90 miles an hour because I could feel the walls shaking in that vault, and I knew if she felt it, she would panic."

UGLY TREE — Bill Hand, a mechanical engineer, retained his sense of humor as he cleaned debris around his home in Corpus Christi left by Hurricane Celia when she hit the Texas coast. Hand lost several nice shade trees in his yard and made the sign to explain the ugly stump.

LENORE LEADS — Lenore Romney, wife of U.S. Housing Secretary George Romney, took an early lead against her opponent Robert Huber for the U.S. Senate Republican nomination. With final tabulations yet to come, Lenore leads Huber by a slim margin. The winner of the nomination will oppose U.S. Senator Phillip Hart in November.

Symington Wins By Big Margin

By The Associated Press

Lenore Romney held a narrow lead today in her bid for the Republican nomination to the Senate from Michigan, one of four states holding primary elections Tuesday.

Computer troubles in Detroit, where one-fifth of Michigan's voters live, delayed the tabulation of votes—and the outcome—in Mrs. Romney's race against state Sen. Robert Huber. She is the 61-year-old wife of George Romney, secretary of Housing and Urban Development in President Nixon's Cabinet and a former governor of Michigan.

With 73 per cent of Michigan's 6,044 precincts reporting, the unofficial count was 239,804 for Mrs. Romney and 221,970 for Huber.

SCORES LANDSLIDE
In the other three states with primaries Tuesday, the unofficial count showed these results in major races:

Missouri: Sen. Stuart Symington was a landslide victor in his bid for the Democratic nomination to his fourth term in the Senate. His November GOP opponent will be Atty. Gen. John Danforth. All 10 incumbent congressmen—nine Democrats and one Republican—won re-nomination.

Kansas: Atty. Gen. Kent Frizzell was a runaway winner over four opponents for the Republican gubernatorial nomination and the right to meet incumbent Democrat Robert Docking in November. Docking had no primary opposition. The state's five GOP House members were all re-nominated.

FACES HART

Idaho: Gov. Don Samuelson won the Republican nomination for a second term, beating Dick Smith of Rexburg. Cecil D. Andrus was nominated by Democrats to oppose Samuelson in November. The state's two congressmen, both Republicans, were unopposed in the primary.

Mrs. Romney was picked as Michigan Republicans "consensus" candidate at the party's March convention.

The GOP winner will face two-term Democratic incumbent Philip A. Hart in November. Hart had no primary opposition.

EASY WINNER

Republican Gov. William Milliken was an easy winner over magazine publisher James Turner in Milliken's bid for a full, elected term as state chief executive. As lieutenant governor, he succeeded Romney in the statehouse when Romney was named to the Cabinet.

State Sen. Sander Levin led a field of four seeking the Democratic nomination as governor.

Of the state's 19 man congressional delegation—12 Republicans and seven Democrats—four had primary opposition and all had substantial leads over their opponents.

Coahoma Youth Hurt In Mishap

A two-car mishap on Gibson's parking lot at 6:03 p.m. Tuesday resulted in minor injuries to a Coahoma youth.

Rob Alden Shive, 18, Box 228, Coahoma, was taken by private car to a local clinic where he was treated for minor lacerations. Shive's vehicle was in collision with a car driven by Lloyd Delton Rodgers, 813 W. 6th.

Overconfidence on the part of the declarer provided his opponents with an opportunity on which they alertly capitalized.

The four heart contract was reached by North and South without a wasted motion. After West overcalled South's opening one heart bid with two diamonds, North was content to offer a simple raise. Coming in the form of a free bid, the two heart call designates a hand of average strength. South saw nothing to be gained by showing his second suit and he proceeded without further ado to four hearts.

West opened the jack of spades and the ace was played from dummy. A club was led to declarer's queen as East followed with the six. South now put the queen of hearts thru for a finesse and East was in with the king.

The switch was to the king of diamonds. West overtook with the ace and continued with the queen, on which his partner discarded the three of clubs—completing an echo in that suit. West, observing East's high-low, shifted to a club and East ruffed for the setting trick.

Altho South was the victim of a sharp defense, he should have taken precautionary measures to safeguard his contract. When the dummy is spread, declarer can virtually count 10 tricks—four hearts, five clubs and one spade. He should, therefore, be willing to forgo the luxury of a trump finesse—which at best represents a mere overtrick—in the interest of securing complete safety.

It is suggested that the declarer play dummy's ace of hearts at trick two and continue with the ten. East can take the king whenever he wishes, but after the defense cashes two diamond tricks, they are finished. When South regains the lead, he draws trumps and then runs the clubs.

Wing Support For Victims

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—

C119s, manned by crews from the Corpus Christi area, flew support missions Tuesday for the victims of Hurricane Celia.

The 922nd Tactical Airlift Group transported three 9,000 pound generators from Gulfport, Miss., to the stricken Texas city, where some of its members are currently engaged in their annual two weeks active duty tour.

The 921st Military Airlift Group, using C124s, carried two communications vans, a jeep and three additional generators, also from Gulfport.

Both units belong to the 343rd Military Airlift Alamo Wing at Kelly Air Force Base here.

The equipment was furnished by Mississippi Seabees Construction Battalion Center at Gulfport, who themselves were among the victims of Hurricane Camille last summer. The 921st and 922nd Air Force Reserve Groups helped in their cleanup operations.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You are in a very cooperative mood and seek new arrangements with those you regard as partners. You do so if you sidestep tendency to get uptight about conditions you do not understand. Take time to show others the value of your silence.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Plan time to discuss with partners new ideas that will cement relations for a long time to come. If you are not so hotheaded as usual, you can straighten out misunderstandings with others. Don't lose your temper.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have many tasks to perform but they require meticulous handling. Make your life more worthwhile. Show your value to co-workers who are doing a good job.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) There are recreations you can enjoy now so contact the people you like to go along with you. Be more devoted to mate, also. Stop permitting others to influence you in wrong directions.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Be sure to carry through with wishes of kin. Waste not, so that you want not. Be sure to smile more. Find the right methods for starting an upturn in all of your affairs.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Ideal time to go out with persons you seldom see but want in your life in the future. You can communicate with others to your benefit now. Be happy with mate tonight.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get the aid of experts in your particular line of endeavor. Handle those money matters wisely. Cut down on unnecessary expenses. Save for more worthwhile things in the future.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Entertaining good friends will show you value them, but be sure you try to please them. Improve your health. Paying important bills is very important since your credit needs boost.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You like to analyze whatever is puzzling about others. This is a good day for just that, but do not intrude. Evening is particularly good for romance. Much happiness with love interest is possible.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Friends expect much of you so do not be disappointing. Show also, that you have a sense of humor. You are able to get ahead in social affairs during evening. Save time for conversation with frinds you like in the evening, also.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have out-of-the-ordinary chores to perform, so get at them, especially one that pleases you the most. Add to prestige through some civic work. Show others that you appreciate them.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get together with persons you want to have mutual goals. Plan a vacation that will put you in touch with worthwhile people. Choose the right site.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Those responsibilities you have should be taken care of very cautiously now. Be sure you cooperate with others intelligently. Use some extra thoughtfulness in pleasing mate. Don't be gloomy.

Special Integration Fund Draws Fire From Senators

WASHINGTON (AP) — After hearing charges that a special Nixon administration integration fund is pledged to foot-dragging Southern districts, two Northern senators have asked officials to spell out how the money will be spent.

Sens. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., and Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., asked Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Elliot Richardson to detail how the $1.5 billion asked by President Nixon will be used to promote school integration.

Richardson and his civil rights deputy, J. Stanley Pottinger, will testify before Mondale's Select Equal Educational Opportunity Committee Thursday.

Congress already has appropriated $75 million at the President's request to help districts involved in integration. The $1.5 billion would be spread over the next few years.

Mondale and Javits asked for more information Tuesday after

Yarborough Asks Change In Federal Disaster Aid

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Ralph W. Yarborough, D-Tex., urged the Senate Tuesday to change the federal disaster aid bill so it could include the victims of Hurricane Celia as well as victims of the Lubbock tornado last May.

The proposed amendments, sponsored by Yarborough and Sen. John G. Tower, R-Tex., would enable a city hit by a natural disaster to request urban renewal funds within one year of the event.

The bill, as amended, would provide relocation benefits for those forced to leave their homes in just the same way that moving and living costs can be provided for those whose homes are torn down in an urban renewal program.

Yarborough said he would leave for Texas to inspect the Celia damage as soon as an amendments to the disaster relief bill had been presented in the Senate.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I dread summer because my next door neighbor is a pest. We rarely see her in the winter, but the moment one of us goes outside to hang up the clothes, work in the yard, or if my husband wants to wash the car — she's right there with a constant stream of chatter. If we go outside to just sit, she comes over and joins us. Other neighbors get pestered, too, but we get more of her because she's right next door.

This woman has a husband and two school-aged children. She doesn't work outside the home, and judging from the time she spends outside, talking to anyone who happens by, she doesn't do anything inside the home either. We put up a fence two years ago, but she leans over it and talks a blue streak.

We have lived here for 25 years, our children are grown and the house is paid for. We've always gotten along well with our neighbors. Short of moving, what can we do?

PESTERED IN SUMMER
DEAR PESTERED: How about a higher fence?

Katy Sticking To Present Plans

KATY, Tex. (AP) — The Katy school board has defied federal orders to speed up integration by sticking to its present plans.

In a brief statement, board members said Tuesday they feel the district is in compliance with the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and intend to continue integration as planned for 1970-71.

Katy's freedom of choice plan to end segregation was found to be unsatisfactory at a recent hearing held in Austin by the Justice Department and Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Cypress-Fairbanks school district northwest of Houston this week closed a predominantly Negro elementary school to comply with federal orders.

DEAR ABBY: Mine is a very serious and humiliating problem. I am a woman, 24, and I snore so loudly that sometimes I wake myself up.

I'm going with a man who has asked to marry me, and I am worried about sleeping with him and experiencing the embarrassment of keeping him awake with my snoring.

I know that I must snore very, very loudly because whenever I have slept away from home (camp, college, and overnight as a house guest) I have been kidded about my snoring.

This is becoming a monumental hang-up, Abby. Is there anything a doctor can do to help me? Any other suggestions will be appreciated.

DEAR ZZZZZZZ: First, see a doctor. If your snoring is due to a nasal obstruction, the doctor may be able to eliminate it (or tone it down) by performing minor surgery. ("Minor surgery" is an operation performed on someone else.) If that doesn't help, tell your fiancé you snore before you marry him. There are enough

OES Holds Initiation

W. C. Fryar and Sheila Fryar were initiated into Big Spring Chapter 67, Order of Eastern Star, Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Daily, worthy patron and matron, presided and welcomed guests, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Tanner, worthy patron and matron from Coahoma Chapter 499, and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Steen, worthy patron and matron of Laura B. Hart Chapter.

Members plan to attend a 7 p.m. salad supper and meeting in the Lamesa Masonic Temple Aug. 14 honoring Mrs. Fredrick Herrin and Victor Jones, associate grand matron and patron. Mr. and Mrs. Daily are one of the host couples.

Refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. C. R. McClenny, Mrs. Tom Rosson, Mrs. Roy Johnson, Mrs. Anna Foard and Mrs. Edwina Griffin. The table was covered in a pink organza cloth with ruffled, floor-length skirt. The centerpiece was a treasure chest filled with pink, orchid, white and blue flowers. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

The next meeting will be Aug. 18.

Miss Crythia Ann Westbrook and Larry Dean Ball exchanged wedding vows Friday morning in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Westbrook, 1608 E. 4th. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Ball of Snyder.

The nuptials were performed by the Rev. Wales Lankford, pastor of the Church of the Nazarene. The bride was attired in a street-length, princess sheath of white embossed pique, and flower tendrils enhanced a headpiece which held her shoulder-length veil of illusion. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of blue carnations.

The couple will reside on North Birdwell Lane.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

There are a number of things I wouldn't swap anything for in my native Big Spring, but the main thing I wouldn't swap is that wonderfully cool breeze that comes up every night. Coupled with the rustling of a neighbor's cottonwood tree leaves, I can imagine that it's raining and I know the evening is cool.

Our senecia is in full bloom, and with the blooms come thousands of the busiest bees in the neighborhood. I wonder if they go away and make senecia honey.

Set Fall Festival Plans At Church

Fall festival plans were announced by Mrs. Fred Hyer, chairman, when the Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society met Thursday evening in the church hall. The festival is slated Sept. 19-20, with the society sponsoring a dinner the first night, and a Mexican dinner is scheduled on the 20th.

Serving on the August altar committee will be Mrs. Mildred Ward, Mrs. Leland King, Mrs. Eugene Reinkemeyer and Mrs. Jack Powell.

A guest, Mrs. Jim Holub, was welcomed, and a card and flowers were sent to a member, Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, who recently underwent surgery. Prayers were worded by Mrs. Hyer and Mrs. C. C. Choate, and the attendance prize went to Mrs. Ava Russell.

Baptist Group Meets At Supper

A spaghetti supper was held Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McGlothlin, 2703 Apache, for the Friendship Class, First Baptist Church. Members brought dishes for the patio supper and invited their husbands and church staff as guests.

Among the guests were the Rev. Lee Butler, interim pastor, and Mrs. Butler, and Connell Taylor, music director, and Mrs. Taylor. The devotion was worded by Carl Rogers, and supper was served to 30 members and guests. The September meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Harold Bentley, 2917 Macaulan. Mrs. Charles Sweeney is the class teacher.

Rebekahs Conduct Lodge Rituals

Mrs. E. V. Cockerham, noble grand, presided at the Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284 meeting Tuesday as the 29 present reported 67 visits to the sick.

The charter was draped for the late Mrs. Bertha Bell, a lodge member. Mrs. J. R. Petty officiated at the ceremony with the assistance of Mrs. A. G. Hall, Mrs. W. N. Wood, Mrs. T. A. Melton and Mrs. A. R. Cadzow. The resolution of respect was read by Mrs. Ivan Collins, and a duet was sung by Mrs. Melvin Newton and Mrs. T. V. Neal, accompanied by Mrs. Logan Grider, pianist. Mrs. A. F. Gilliland worded prayer.

Following the ceremony, refreshments were served from a pink covered table overlaid with lace and centered with an arrangement of pink flowers.

Lodge Has Undraping Of Charter

The charter was undraped for Mrs. Walter Schattell at the John A. Kee Rebekah Lodge 153 meeting Tuesday. Mrs. Ralph LaLonde and Mrs. LaVerne Rogers conducted the ceremony, and Mrs. J. C. Barker was pianist.

A letter describing progress made on the construction of the Rebekah home for the aged in Ennis was read by Mrs. Jones Lamar.

It was announced that Mrs. Nettie Morris, past president of the Texas Assembly, was elected assembly secretary. The next meeting will honor Odd Fellows, who are members of the Rebekahs.

YOU ARE INVITED

A LOVELIER YOU Shape Your Figure For Fall Fashions

In the fall and fashion seasons ahead, how would you like a trimmer figure? A lighter step? More pizzazz? You would? Well then, perform the following tamer uppers every day:

1. Stand with back against wall and raise arms to sides at shoulder level. Swing right leg across body and try to touch toes to left hand; swing leg back to starting position and swing left leg to right. Alternating sides, repeat action 20 times briskly. Be sure to keep shoulders flat on wall throughout. (Chances are, toes will not connect with hands. It's trying that counts.)

2. Stretch out, back on floor, arms down at sides; raise left knee so sole of foot rests on floor; swing right arm up and back to rest on floor, well stretched. Now, pull down with right foot and up with right arm, pressing spine to floor for 5 counts. Relax and repeat 6 times. Reverse leg and arm positions and continue as before.

3. Sit erect on floor, legs straight and arms extended overhead. Slowly curling spine, touch fingertips to toes; straighten up and repeat 10 times. Concentrate on roll of weight through buttocks.

4. Jog in place, raising knees as high as possible. Work up to 1 minute.

In a very short while you will firm up, feel willowy and look ready for the environment of fall, 1970

SPOT REDUCING Spot reduction — key to a proportioned figure. Exercise is the only way to trim those stubborn bulges... to lose inches exactly where you wish. My new booklet, SPOT REDUCING EXERCISES, gives easy routines — 40 in all — for slimming the upper back, arms, midriff, hips legs, ankles... Plus ideal measurements other figure-trimming tips. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of The Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 35 cents in coin

Return Of Veterans Bad News For The Rookies

By The Associated Press
A lot of rookies were packing their bags today as National Football League veterans were winning back their jobs—but one eight-year star was also going the route of the youngsters.

Wide receiver Lance Alworth of the San Diego Chargers retired Tuesday night. The 6-foot, 180-pounder from Arkansas had been an unofficial holdout, seeking renegotiation of his long-term contract with San Diego.

A pair of star quarterbacks—Minnesota's Joe Kapp and Joe Namath of the New York Jets—remained away from their training camps.

Kapp, who played out his option last year while leading the Vikings to the NFL championship, is seeking a million-dollar, four-year contract and a $250,000 bonus. The reason for Namath's absence isn't known, nor are the whereabouts of either player.

Baltimore placed four rookies on waivers and announced the retirement of nine-year veteran Ron Kostelnik.

ADDERLY CUT
The Green Bay Packers' roster swelled to 63 but it didn't include Herb Adderly. The defensive back said last year he might not return but club officials said he was expected.

The St. Louis Cardinals released two rookies and got some good news when Chuck Latourrette, out all of 1969 with a knee injury, ran two miles in 12 minutes.

The Chicago Bears went through a triple session of drills and Coach Jim Dooley said sophomore Bobby Douglass would start at quarterback in the team's exhibition opener Saturday night.

Cincinnati was also going through an accelerated practice but Paul Brown, coach and general manager of the Bengals, grabbed the spotlight by criticizing NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle for granting the players' negotiators extra time to report to camp.

Washington's interim coach, Bill Austin, taking over for hospitalized Vince Lombardi, had his Redskins huffing and puffing through longer-than-usual workouts including the body-contact "nutcracker" drill devised by Lombardi.

Miami running back Mercury Morris suffered heavy hemorrhaging in the thigh when he was kneed during the Dolphins' workout and will miss the team's preseason opener Saturday night.

All but 10 of Boston's 45 veterans were in action and Coach Clive Rush expressed surprise at the effectiveness of the Patriots' pass offense and pass defense.

San Francisco Coach Dick Nolan called the 49ers' opening-day workout the best he has ever seen and said there would be no player cuts until the weekend.

New Orleans signed cornerback Nat James as a free agent and cut four players, veteran linebacker Jeff Smith and three rookies.

The Los Angeles Rams said only defensive tackle Roger Brown and cornerback Kermit Alexander were missing but were due today to complete the 53-man veteran roster.

COWBOYS CHARGE — The National Football League's Dallas Cowboys, rookies and veterans, work out at the club's Thousand Oaks, Calif., training camp yesterday. In center back-ground quarterback Roger Staubach (12) hands off to a running back.

Nicklaus, Defending Champ Floyd, Rule As Favorites

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Streaking Jack Nicklaus and record-holder Ray Floyd ruled as the favorites today on the eve of the $150,000 American Golf Classic.

And the return to this country of U.S. Open Champion Tony Jacklin added spice to the select field of 101 that begins competition Thursday on the awesome 7,180-yard, par 70 Firestone Country Club course.

Jacklin, the handsome 26-year-old who became the first Englishman in 50 years to win the U.S. Open Championship, has been out of the United States since he turned the trick in Chaska, Minn., more than six weeks ago.

He's due for a late arrival, as were British Open champ Nicklaus and defending title-holder Floyd.

Floyd's winning total of 268 in 1969, a course record on one of the most demanding layouts in the country, was ranked by his fellow pros as one of the major accomplishments of the year.

The swinging bachelor had been in a lengthy slump since winning the PGA national title a year ago, but has played well in recent weeks, including a tie for fourth in last week's Westchester Classic.

Nicklaus was a reluctant favorite. Of the last three tournaments he has finished, the Golden Bear won two and finished second in the other.

He took the title in the British Open, teamed with Arnold Palmer in the National Four-Ball and missed by a stroke at Westchester.

Among the missing in the chase for the $30,000 first prize are Palmer, Masters champion Billy Casper, Lee Trevino, Australian Bruce Devlin and Dave Hill.

Terry Dill and National Amateur champion Steve Melnyk made late withdrawals.

Palmer wired tournament officials that business commitments and preparations for next week's PGA Championship prevented him from coming.

In addition to Nicklaus and Floyd, other top candidates include Australian Bruce Crampton, who won at Westchester; Gary Player, host pro Bobby Nichols, who was second in this tournament last year and has played well in recent weeks; and Orville Moody, who won last year's World Series of Golf on the Firestone course.

Some others include Dick Lotz, winner of two events this year, big Bob Lunn and Larry Hinson, who tied with Nicklaus for second last week.

Elkins, Once Top Flanker Prospect, Fights To Stay

LATROBE, Pa. (AP) — Five years ago the Green Bay Packers and the Houston Oilers thought enough of Lawrence Elkins as a pass receiver to make him their first pick in the separate drafts by the warring pro football leagues. An uncanny series of injuries later, he has been reduced to a free agent trying out for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The blond Texan, a 6-foot-1, 200-pounder, recalled his unfortunate medical history after he and 49 other Steeler veterans worked out Tuesday for the first time since the end of the National Football League players' owners dispute.

A two-time All-American at Baylor and the nation's leading receiver as a senior, he signed with Houston. A knee injury in his first exhibition game sidelined him for the year.

He shared flanker duties the first half of the next season and took over as a regular after his knee got stronger. Things looked even better the following campaign—until the third game. A shoulder separation ended his season and his career at Houston. They cut him.

Elkins came to Pittsburgh last year for another try. He led the team in receiving in the preseason only to break a collar bone in the final exhibition game. Another season was gone.

PRO FOOTBALLERS TO RETIRE — Lance Alworth, left, San Diego Chargers flanker, and Ron Kostelnik, right, defensive tackle with the Baltimore Colts, are retiring from pro football, it was announced Wednesday. Alworth said he had made bad investments and had to earn more money.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Jim Hall of Midland, who was incapacitated in a driving mishap a couple of years ago and spent many months in dry-dock, is a revolutionary in the world of auto racing — a man who sets the styles others follow.

When every road racing sports car had a four and five-part transmission, Hall put an automatic in his car. He'd pass his competitors on the turns with both hands on the steering wheel while they were grappling with the gears. The opposition blew their minds.

Hall also reasoned that a car would hug the road better if you added a wing. The finished product looked odd at first but his competitors came unglued again when they found his car had better balance in tight situations.

Not too long ago, Hall introduced Chaparral Cars' Group 7 latest creation. Identified as 2J, it is called by some the world's fastest vacuum cleaner.

The new Chaparral Sweeper lasted only 18 laps in the recent Canadian-American Challenge Cup race at Watkins Glen, N.Y., but for those 18 laps it gave the Bruce McLaren car of Dennis Hulme a fit. The McLarens have been unbeatable in Can-Am racing, but it's a sure bet that a number of people are heading back to the drawing boards after seeing the West Texan's car.

Hall's Chaparral is the ugliest-looking car to hit the racing scene in some time. Design is a conventional Group 7, as are the McLarens and Lolos. Low frontal area, smooth body lines, sleek and racy. The 2J is a little more boxy on the sides than the others, however.

Big difference is to look at the car from the rear. The back is chopped off square, and boldly projecting are two big fans that resemble the rockets of a moon-bound spaceship. It's the fans that Hall has added to his car that has the racing fraternity climbing the walls.

Air is drawn under the car by the fans. The whole rear section of the car is used as a vacuum reservoir. The fans, sucking air from under the car, pull the car right down to the ground with a force of 1,000 pounds, over half the weight of the entire machine. The sweeper can do 180 MPH plus at full throttle. A skirting system of unbreakable plastic is fitted around the bottom of the car to create the partial vacuum. The ground clearance is only one-half inch.

At Watkins Glen, the 2J had problems. Jackie Stewart gave the vehicle a good thrashing but the brakes went out and other little things went wrong. It was expected. No car ever goes perfect the first time out.

You can bet your last jelly bean when the Super Swisher shows up for the next event, a lot of the problems will be solved and the odds will go on the Hall mount to vacuum its way to victory.

Writing for Sports magazine, Mickey Mantle says the nine most underrated players in the American League are third base Ken McMullen, second baseman Mike Andrews, infielder-outfielder Cesar Tovar, shortstop Mark Berlangier, second baseman Dave Johnson, pitchers Joel Horlen, Andy Messersmith and Diego Segui and outfielder Roy White.

Several district 2-AAAA footballers who were considered either too small or too slow to rate offers from Southwest Conference schools have committed themselves to attend East Central State College of Ada, Okla. The talent is proven and could give the Oklahoma school a winner.

The Big Spring Steers are rated dead last in the 1970 5-AAAA football race by Dave Campbell's Texas Football magazine.

Campbell uses the same consultants each year to predict the order of finish and they're more often wrong than not.

The Steers have no intention of looking up to seven other teams in the conference from the confines of the cellar.

Graebner Stuns Top-Seeded Newcombe In First Round

BROOKLINE, Mass. (AP) — According to the draw sheets, Clark Graebner has pulled off one of the biggest upsets in the history of the U.S. Pro Tennis Championships, but the 26-year-old New Yorker doesn't see it that way.

"I felt just about the same as I feel for most matches," Graebner said, recalling the start of his 6-2, 6-4 conquest of top-seeded Wimbledon champion John Newcombe of Australia in the first round Tuesday night.

Veteran observers believe this was the first time in memory that a top-seeded player was eliminated in the first round of the tournament, but Graebner still refused to concede that it was that much of a surprise.

"It's always nice to beat the No. 1 guy in the world, of course," he said, "but nowadays when the pros get together some guys win and some guys lose. Somebody has to be seeded No. 1, somebody has to be seeded No. 8, and some guys have to wind up not seeded."

Graebner dominated the first set, breaking Newcombe in the first game and again in the fifth en route to an easy triumph. The second set was more of a struggle, with each player breaking twice in the first seven games, at which point Newcombe led 4-3. Graebner held his service in a tense eighth game which went to deuce twice before he won it with an ace followed by another big serve and a winning volley.

The American then broke his foe for a love in the ninth game, finishing it off with a brilliant backhand return, then served out the match.

Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., pulled Tuesday's other major upset, defeating seventh-seeded Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., 2-6, 6-4, 6-3.

Rod Laver of Australia, seeded second although he's gunning for a fifth consecutive championship, breezed through his first round match against Torben Ulrich of Denmark, 6-3, 6-2, while third-seeded Ken Rosewall of Australia also won in straight sets, defeating Roger Taylor of England, 6-2, 6-4.

Oilers Whamming In Practice

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — They're playing Loyd Wainscott's game here. It's called "hit." It's accomplished by lining up, searching out the man with the football and then reducing him to ruin if possible.

Wainscott is the second year Houston Oiler middle linebacker who's trying for Garland Boyette's job and in turn is being challenged by young Jess Lewis. Since being put in such a frustrating situation, the Texas ex is taking it out on the boys on offense.

"Wainscott is hitting like hell in four-on-four drills," head coach Wally Lemm said after a workout Tuesday.

Lamps Repaired, Rewired By Curiosity Shop Owners

Small appliance repairs, lamp wiring, and unusual gifts are the stock-in-trade of Wilma and Sherman Whitaker at their Curiosity Shop, 3103 US 80 West. Whitaker can repair that clunky lawnmower or other small engines. It may just need a tune-up with new points and plugs, but he can fix a condenser, clean out the carburetor, or overhaul the engine with new rings, seals and valves. He also repairs mixers, irons, percolators, lamps and toasters. Mrs. Whitaker says that a lot of people will never bring in a lamp that doesn't work because they think they can't be fixed. "But they can," she said; "usually they just need rewiring."

Sea Farming
NEW YORK (AP) — "Mariculture" — the farming of the sea — could become a major world industry by 1980, according to Marine Office-Appleton & Cox Corp. (MOAC). MOAC said that there will not be enough arable land available in the future to grow food for a population increasing at the rate of 60 million a year.

PORNOGRAPHY REPORT:
Obscenity Does Not Cause Sex Crimes

WASHINGTON (AP) — The President's Commission on Pornography has reached the tentative conclusion that obscenity does not cause sex crimes or corrupt youngsters' morals.

Discounting two overriding fears of effects of the current wave of sexual freedom in films, books and magazines, the first draft prepared by the commission staff says:

"There is no evidence to suggest that exposure (of youngsters) to pornography has a detrimental impact upon moral character, sexual orientation or attitudes."

EROTIC MATERIALS
 And:
 "Research indicates that erotic materials do not contribute to the development of character defects, nor operate as a significant factor in antisocial behavior or in crime. In sum, there is no evidence that exposure to pornography operates as a cause of misconduct in either youths or adults."

The commission's report is not to be released until late this month, but most of the first draft has been leaked to a House subcommittee that is trying to whip up hearings to challenge the findings next week.

Other major findings in more than 300 pages of the report obtained by The Associated Press—all subject to revision or deletion from the final report:

—Women as well as men are "highly aroused" by stag films and erotic pictures. Tests often showed that women who did not think they were aroused actually were.

SEXUAL PATTERNS
 —Political conservatives are not as easily aroused by pornography as liberals.
 —Despite the arousal and in some cases increased sexual activity in the 24 hours after seeing highly erotic material, basic attitudes and sexual patterns do not change.

—In general, 90 per cent of couples aged 20 to 25 were aroused by erotic films in 60 studies, while between 30 and 60 per cent of persons 40 to 50 years of age were aroused by the same films.

—"There are no recorded instances of sexual aggression, homosexuality, lesbianism, exhibitionism, or sexual abuse of children attributable to reading or viewing erotic stimuli among the several hundred participants in the twelve experiments reviewed."

$2 MILLION STUDY
 The 18-member presidential commission of experts approved by Congress two years ago to conduct a $2 million investigation of the effects of pornography reportedly has not approved any of the report and much of it is to be rewritten.

But the major two findings, that pornography does not cause sex crimes or corrupt minors, reportedly were still in the draft report as of Tuesday.

While the House postal operations subcommittee is trying to line up expert witnesses to challenge the findings, Chairman Robert N. C. Nix, D-Pa., said his concern is with some of the experiments conducted.

Nix termed "horrifying" an experiment conducted for the commission by the University of North Carolina, in which instruments were used to measure the physical responses of 23 college men to prolonged exposure to erotic material.

"I didn't dream such experiments were being conducted," Nix said. "I question the morals of people who do that kind of thing. I can't see any justification for it."

REPRESSION CITED
 The report says imprisoned sex offenders studied, have histories of sexual repression as youngsters in strict families, and suggests that, and not stimulation by pornography, is what leads them to sex crimes.

The finding that pornography does not corrupt youngsters' morals, the report says, is not based on actual study of youngsters under 18 because of the sensitivity against such studies. But it says studies of college students, which it said should also be valid for younger people, show that exposure to pornography does not make them more sexually aggressive, or in the case of men more callous toward women, or otherwise change their characters.

Discontinuing Welfare Help

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP) — Trinity County Judge J.V. Price said Tuesday the county is discontinuing its welfare program immediately as one of four steps to combat a shortage of funds.

The county failed to meet its Aug. 1 payroll but most, and possibly all, employees have been paid.

Price and four county commissioners refused to comment on the total budget.

He said about one-sixth of the residents are receiving welfare in various forms and the county spends about $15,000 annually on the program.

Accuse Cereal Industry Of Brainwashing Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — A professor of nutrition accused the cereal industry today of brainwashing the American public with a Communist-like propaganda campaign aimed directly at children.

"In a country where there is a considerable amount of malnutrition among the poor and where rates of infant mortality are disgracefully high this advertising may be indirectly contributing to ill health and mortality," declared Dr. Michael C. Latham, a physician and international professor of nutrition at Cornell University.

Latham commented in testimony prepared for a third session of the Senate consumer subcommittee's inquiry into the nutritional value of dry breakfast cereals.

The subcommittee, chaired by Sen. Frank Moss, D-Utah, began its inquiry last week with testimony by citizen-lobbyist Robert Choate that most of the heavily advertised breakfast cereals are no more nutritional than hard liquor.

The industry, in a massive counterattack Tuesday, accused Choate of basing his findings on inadequate, confusing and incomplete information.

Five industry spokesmen told the subcommittee that Choate did not consider the impact of adding milk to cereal, which they said produced a high-quality protein. They also said cereals should not be eaten alone but with other things like juice and toast.

And they said overloading cereals with vitamins and nutrients could cause a dangerous imbalance in some human systems.

"The American people are continually being asked to support Radio Free Europe because we are informed that children in Communist Eastern Europe are being brainwashed with propaganda. I sometimes wonder if the advertising that our children see on TV is not equally harmful propaganda," Latham said.

"My main thesis," Latham said, "is that the consumer has been led to believe that ordinary dry breakfast cereals have nutritive value superior to common foods such as bread, hominy grits, rice, spaghetti, baked beans, potatoes, pizza etc. This is not true . . ."

Latham said the cereal makers probably would deny ever claiming their products are nutritionally superior to these foods.

"Perhaps they have not claimed this in so many words, but they have implied it in their advertising," he said.

"Ask any 8-year-old on your block," he went on, "or almost any suburban housewife, and you will be told that breakfast cereals are better nutritionally than bread or rice or baked beans."

"These consumers did not get this idea from their health education classes, or nutrition textbooks or from news articles. They got it from the skillful advertising of the breakfast cereal manufacturers," Latham declared.

Yard Judging This Week

Five entries in the August Yard of the Month contest will be judged this week, including one trailer house yard, with the winners to be announced Friday.

The Yard of the Month idea is part of the plans of the Chamber of Commerce Pride People Task Force to foster beautification of residential areas.

August entries are Weiland W. Brown, 6 September Trail, Crestwood Park, with the yard around his trailer house; P. L. Bradford, 815 West 17th, his entire front lawn; Iroy Peet, 710 Edwards, his front lawn; Ardis McCasland Jr., 813 West 17th, his front lawn; and Mrs. Don Green, 1302 Mt. Vernon, entering her yard area around the patio.

Black Slaps $350,000 Suit On Two Officers

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Black student leader Mickey McGuire, 31, slapped a $350,000 damages suit on two police officers in his home town of Nacogdoches, claiming they had harassed him and violated the laws of the United States Constitution.

The incident arose out of the arrest of a female Negro student of Stephen F. Austin University in Nacogdoches last May. McGuire was arrested while taking part in a protest march to the city federal building and held on misdemeanor charges.

He sued Police Chief M. C. Roebuck and Smith Farmer, a special investigator of the Nacogdoches Police Department, both as individuals and in their official capacities.

In his 10-page complaint, based on the Civil Rights Act of 1871, McGuire said he was handcuffed with his hands behind his back "in a rough and brutal manner."

He claimed the defendants, in conspiracy with Justice of the Peace Carl Burroughs, the magistrate who arraigned him, and other public officials of the city, had embarked on "a deliberate course of harassment" against him and the class he represents, causing them to "suffer the undesired anguish of being arrested and charged" for acts of which they were innocent.

Houston attorney Larry Watts will represent McGuire in court. No date has been set for a hearing.

70th Birthday Has Snob Appeal

LONDON (AP) — Five members of the royal family were on hand when Queen Mother Elizabeth celebrated her 70th birthday at Buckingham Palace Tuesday night.

The family-only party drew Queen Elizabeth II; her husband, Prince Philip; their children, Princess Anne and Prince Charles, and the Queen's sister, Princess Margaret.

Other guests included Princess Margaret's husband, Lord Snowdon, and Princess Alexandra and her husband, Angus Ogilvy.

THEFTS

Fred Pickett, 207 Mobile: Items stolen from house, .22 caliber pistol, power saw, two electric motors, total value $250.

Don Statham, 2102 Alabama: five rods and reels and three water cans stolen from car parked at the residence, total value $55.

Shroyer Motor Company, 424 E. 3rd: polishing machine stolen.

VANDALISM

Mrs. Sherman Whitaker, 707 Abram; reported BB guns shot toward house.

Ray Tollett, 606 Hillside, reported attempt made to pry south door of home, sometime between noon Monday and 3 p.m. Tuesday.

Waging Massive Air, Ground Push

SAIGON (AP) — The United States and South Vietnam are waging a massive air and ground offensive along 200 miles of the Laotian border trying to block North Vietnamese troops and war supplies destined for South Vietnam and Cambodia.

The South Vietnamese command announced that several thousand troops from its 1st and 2nd infantry divisions and a marine brigade were conducting "several operations" along the border from the demilitarized zone to points southwest of Da Nang.

Sources reported that U.S. B52 bombing strikes in the Laotian panhandle had been intensified during the past few days.

NO RESULTS
 A spokesman said the ground operations had produced no significant results yet, probably because the monsoon rains in Laos have slowed North Vietnamese activity.

Sources said the South Vietnamese command had no immediate plans to send large ground forces into Laos because the United States fears that might disturb preliminary over-
