'NO MORE DANGEROUS THAN A LOAD OF COAL'

Poison Gas Moving Through 'Dixie'

By The Associated Press

Two trains carrying nerve gas described by an Army spokesman as "no more dangerous than a load of coal," moved across Southern states today on their slow trips to the sea. The Army's plans to dump the gas in the Atlantic 282 miles east of Cape Kennedy, Fla., apparently faced a court challenge from that state. "We are going to sue the Army tomorrow," Nathaniel P. Reed, chairman of Florida's Air and Water Pollution Control Board, said Monday night. The 418 concrete and steel jacketed vaults of nerve gas rockets left Monday from Army depots at Richmond, Ky., and Anniston, Ala., for Sunny Point, N.C. Later in the week the Army plans to load the vaults aboard a barge, tow it to sea and scuttle it.

Col. S. M. Burney, commander of the Anniston depot, said the vaults are "safer than coal because a coal train can wreck and this one can't." Residents of many Georgia communities through which the train from Anniston passed, Monday seemed to share the Army's confidence. "Nobody is afraid of this train because back during World War II we all saw some spookier things come down these tracks," C. S. Stephens said. He is the manager of a concrete plant at Tallapoosa, Ga., the first Georgia town through which the train passed. TRAIN IGNORED The Lexington train was almost ignored by residents of the Eastern Kentucky mountains as only handfuls of people gathered at crossings near the larger towns as the train went by. The Anniston train changed crews at Griffin and was halted a few minutes north of Macon for repairs to a broken air line before moving slowly through the city toward Athens. Mayor Ronnie Thompson of Macon, who had opposed the shipment, then changed his mind, was among those watching. He said he was relieved the train was through his city.

Before the Kentucky train tackled the steep mountain grades that lead into North Carolina section crews combed the tracks for possible land slides in the mountainous area around Spruce Pine, N.C., where rain was falling. SIGNS WARNING Elaborate security precautions were taken for the mission, which the Army calls Operation Chase.

Each train was preceded by a pilot train to check for any defects in the rails or rail bed. The pilot trains carried decontamination teams, ambulances, a chemical detection unit and armed security units. The nerve gas vaults were traveling in open gondola-type freight cars with signs warning that they contained poisonous gas.

Jets Thunder Into Lebanon

By The Associated Press

Israeli warplanes thundered into Lebanon today in strikes against Arab guerrilla strongholds on the slopes of Mt. Hermon, the military command in Tel Aviv announced. The air attacks were reprisals for guerrilla shelling across the Israeli-Lebanese frontier, the spokesman said.

SECOND STRIKE It was the second Israeli combat mission since the Middle East cease-fire took effect at midnight Friday. The first, on Sunday, was against guerrilla targets in the same area.

The only two Palestinian guerrilla organizations that supported Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's acceptance of the Middle East cease-fire withdrew their support Monday night, and a spokesman said they would join the other commandos' campaign to sabotage the truce.

Dr. Issam Saratawi, head of the Action Organization for the Liberation of Palestine, said his group and the Arab Palestine Organization thought Nasser would use the cease-fire only as a tactic to advance the Arab war effort against Israel.

WRONG AGAIN "But after the cease-fire went into effect," Saratawi said, "we realized that our conclusion was wrong."

Two small guerrilla groups fell into line behind the major commando outfits after fighting in Jordan during the past week between pro and anti-Nasser guerrillas in which three Arabs were killed and 19 wounded.

With guerrilla activity continuing unabated against Israel, the Palestine Armed Struggle Command said 12 commandos have been killed by Israeli troops since the Israeli-Jordanian

Skyjack Try Flops Again

SAIGON (AP) — An escaped U.S. soldier tried for the second time to hijack a plane in Vietnam but was foiled in a struggle in which one crewman was seriously wounded, the U.S. Air Force disclosed today.

A spokesman said the soldier, Pvt. George Hardin, 20, of St. Louis, Mo., boarded a big U.S. Air Force C141 jet cargo plane at Bien Hoa airbase near Saigon and threatened the crew with an M16 rifle.

U.S. authorities said Hardin had escaped Sunday from a Saigon hospital where he had been taken to see a Korean flight engineer injured during his July 22 attempt to hijack an Air Vietnam plane at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airport.

nian-Egyptian cease-fire went into effect at midnight Friday.

A Jordanian officer said the cease-fire between Jordan and Israel was violated twice Sunday, but both exchanges of fire between Israeli and Jordanian troops stemmed from clashes between Israeli soldiers and commandos from Jordan. Jordan in agreeing to the cease-fire said it could not be held responsible for the guerrillas.

BODY FOUND In a television address, Jordanian Foreign Minister Anton Tallah said commando raids from his country do not violate the cease-fire. Jordan is committed not to fight, he said, but the commandos are "Palestinians fighting for the liberation of their country."

In the Israeli occupied Gaza Strip, the body of a 19-year-old youth was found in an orchard north of Gaza today, apparently the 14th victim in a wave of unsolved murders believed by police to be the work of Arab terrorists.

At the United Nations in New York, U.S. Ambassador Charles W. Vest informed U.N. Secretary-General U Thant Monday of arrangements for policing the 90-day cease-fire, but the details were not made public.

The United States, which proposed the cease-fire plan to foster resumption of peace talks, devised the supervision plan with Israel and Egypt.

East-West Talks To Reduce Arms In Europe Bit Remote

LONDON (AP) — Prospects for East-West talks to reduce troops and arms in Europe remain remote despite the new Soviet-West German nonaggression treaty, diplomatic sources said today.

Informants said it would be at least four months before the North Atlantic Treaty Organization responds to the latest Soviet proposal for talks on mutual reduction of arms in Europe.

Although Bonn and Moscow are renouncing the use of force against each other and recognizing existing borders in Europe, troops and arms on both sides of the cold war frontiers are likely to remain at existing levels indefinitely.

Talks on mutual arms reductions are proposed for a European security conference, an idea long pushed by the Kremlin and the Soviet bloc.

The Warsaw Pact nations at a meeting in Budapest in June revised their proposed agenda for a European security conference and agreed for the first time to include talks on "the reduction of foreign armed forces on the territories of European states." Sources here said the NATO allies would not respond before their foreign ministers meet in Brussels in December.

Two neutral European governments—Austria and Finland—also have been actively pressing for a European security conference. Both have offered their capital cities for preparatory talks. But the sources here said these proposals would also have to await the NATO meeting in December.

Some NATO nations, notably the United States, and Britain, have long been skeptical of the value of a European security conference without thorough preparation.

There is concern in some Western capitals that the Soviets could use the conference as a propaganda forum and as a confirmation of the formal international recognition of the Western nations are unwilling to concede to East Germany.

The Western and the Communist allies have agreed that both West Germany and East Germany would attend the conference even though the Western allies do not recognize the East German regime.

NATO is still working out its plans for cuts in manpower and firepower in phased combinations that could be discussed with the Communists. Meanwhile, several NATO members are looking for more evidence of Soviet intentions before warning to the idea of such a conference.

According to this line of thinking, the Soviet-West German nonaggression pact was one sign that the Soviets are sincerely interested in moving toward detente in Europe. Another would be between the Soviet Union and the United States, or in the Big Four talks on West Berlin.

New Execution Threat

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP) — The murder of a kidnaped U.S. official and a new execution threat increased fears today for the lives of a Brazilian consul and an American agricultural expert still held by the Tupamaro guerrillas.

A local radio station reported early today that a body had been found near a beachside avenue and possibly was that of the Brazilian diplomat. Police and soldiers searched the area but reported they found no body.

RECEIVE NOTE The leftist Tupamaros abducted U.S. police adviser Dan A. Mitrione and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Mares Diaz Gomide on July 31 and demanded the release of all political prisoners in Uruguay as ransom. The government refused to deal with the kidnapers, and Mitrione was found shot to death early Monday in an abandoned stolen car. Last Friday the guerrillas seized another hostage, Claude L. Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., an American agricultural expert working for the Uruguayan government.

A Uruguayan television station received a note Monday saying the kidnapers would execute Dias Gomide at midnight if the estimated 150 political prisoners were not freed. Government security agencies refused to confirm the authenticity of the note, and the deadline passed with no word from the kidnapers.

CENSORSHIP The note did not mention Fly. Congress met in special session Monday and approved President Jorge Pacheco Areco's request for suspension of all individual civil rights for 20

Attorney Trying To 'Dump' Three Women In Tate Case?

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A rift appears to be developing in the defense team in the Sharon Tate murder trial. Three lawyers have accused Charles M. Manson's attorney of trying to "dump" three women co-defendants to help Manson's case.

Manson, the shaggy-haired clan leader accused of ordering the women to kill Miss Tate and six others joined the attack Monday on his own attorney, Irving Kanarek.

NOT FOR ME "I object to my attorney," Manson told the judge. "He's not speaking for me."

The complaints about Kanarek came during his sixth day of cross-examination of the state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, who Monday was granted immunity from prosecution. He hammered away at details of the night a year ago when the beautiful actress and four others were slain at her Bel Air mansion.

IGNORES ME? Other attorneys said the testimony was repetitious. They objected particularly to accounts of the roles of two women defendants in the killings.

Paul Fitzgerald objected successfully six times to Kanarek's questions concerning his client, Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, and vehemently opposed introduction into evidence of a picture of the bloody body of one victim.

"The picture is prejudicial and inflammatory," Fitzgerald said. The judge ruled the picture would not be admitted until Kanarek laid a proper foundation with questioning. Kanarek dropped the subject.

Daye Shinn, representing Susan Atkins, 21, objected to a question eliciting testimony about a conversation Mrs. Kasabian said she had with Miss Atkins.

Later, Ronald Hughes, attorney for Leslie Van Houten, 20, told newsmen he felt Kanarek was hurting the defense case with his cross-examination.

"He's turned her from an incredible witness into a credible witness," said Hughes. "He's hurting us by getting into the crime. I keep asking him to stop. He sort of ignores me."

'SLIPPED FROM FOLD'

Kanarek told newsmen: "In this type of case a lawyer can represent only one litigant. Conflicts arise. An answer to a question may hurt one party and help another. Reasonable minds can differ at a trial."

Fitzgerald said the original defense plan was to proceed on the theory that all four defendants are innocent and dependent upon one another in their defense. Kanarek has "slipped from the fold," he said. Fitzgerald added that Kanarek possibly was doing a good job for his client but damaging the case of the women.

The squabble among attorneys came after the judge granted a defense request that Mrs. Kasabian be granted her promised immunity from prosecution. The defense attorneys said they felt once the grant was final she could recant her testimony if she wished without fear of retribution.

Kanarek again bolted from the pack, asking for a mistrial on the ground that the immunity should have been formalized before Mrs. Kasabian took the witness stand two weeks ago.

Superior Court Judge Charles Older denied the motion saying: "I believe that when a witness testifies under the conditions Mrs. Kasabian has in this case she has immunity as a matter of law. The people have presented the petition for immunity and I have signed it."

SHE WONCED

In spite of the immunity, the sandy-haired, 21-year-old mother of two didn't change her testimony. She winced as she viewed again color pictures of two bloody bodies and choked back tears as she identified them as the victims she saw.

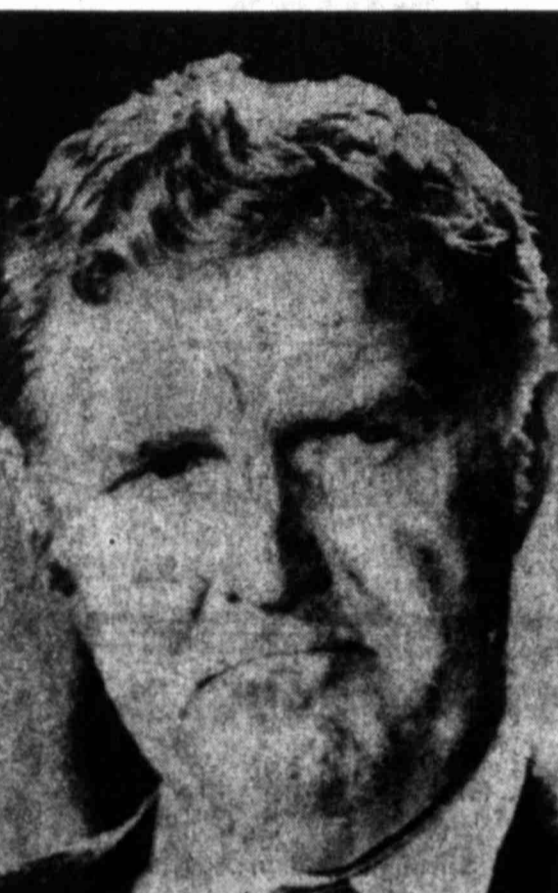

"She hasn't been granted immunity from prosecution for perjury," Fitzgerald said later. That might be a reason to stick with her story, he said.

Storm Fund Far Short

The local area today had subscribed less than one-fifth of the amount it has been asked for to assist in the American Red Cross program for rehabilitation of the Hurricane Celia area.

The local chapter reported gifts amounting to $709. It has been asked to raise $4,240 as its share of a million dollars needed from Texas toward a $6 million relief program. The Red Cross said the $6 million is a preliminary estimate and "may very well be raised if damage and losses turn out to be more extensive than first estimated."

Red Cross is said to have $10 million in its annual disaster budget for the current fiscal year and a balance of $6.2 million in a revolving disaster fund. A disaster of major proportions such as Celia would wipe out both amounts to leave the organization with no resources to meet the work it is mandated to do under Congressional authority.

Cops, Snipers Swap Bullets

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif. (AP) — Police in flack jackets and steel helmets shot it out with snipers and Negro youths today in a Negro low-income housing area.

One onlooker, 21, was accidentally wounded by a police bullet and five other persons were injured, police said. The injured included the city police chief hit by flying glass and an unidentified white man who was dragged from his car and beaten.

Two police cars were reported riddled by bullets and a community recreation center was firebombed. The flames did minor damage.

Ten persons were arrested, including two who were booked for investigation of assault to commit murder.

It was the third straight day of violence in the 25 block tract on the west side of the city. Officers Saturday and Sunday nights were called into the area to break up roving bands of Negroes pelting passing cars.

Police said the trouble began after a gang fight between white and black youths at a drive-in.

Officers said they used service revolvers, shotguns and carbines to shoot back at furtive snipers who fired from behind backyard brick walls today.

I MEAN IT'S HOT 'N DRY

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Oklahoma's cotton exchange and its reporting stations tell how the weather is hurting the cotton:

"Oklahoma's heat and lack of moisture are enough to make strong men weep and many of them are."

One station reported: "So dry, they tell me the boll weevils are running the cotton-tails to death."

Another reported: "Dry as an old maid's kiss."

GM Executive Stabbed To Death

DALLAS (AP) — Birch F. Johnson, 44, superintendent at the General Motors plant at Arlington, was found stabbed to death in his apartment Monday.

Company officials called police to investigate after Johnson failed to report for work Friday and Saturday.

Officers said he had been stabbed in the neck and chest. He had been dead at least 24 hours when found.

His apartment had not been ransacked, so robbery did not seem to be motive of the slaying.

Local TV Program Change Draws Protest From C-C

A letter to the Federal Communications Commission, protesting the change of operations of the local television station, KWAB-TV, was authorized by the Chamber of Commerce board of directors in session Monday.

The action was approved unanimously with no comment.

The station recently switched transmission origination to an associated station KJOM-TV, Monahan, and local facilities severely restricted. The C-C letter is protesting that this action has deprived the community of any "television means of public expression or public service."

The letter to go to the FCC follows:

"The Chamber of Commerce of Big Spring, Texas, feels that a public disservice has been done our city, its prestige and its privileges as an economic entity by the Federal Communications Commission's authorization of an S-1 permit for KWAB-TV.

"The permit left our city with little more than a translator. It not only removed more than 10 jobs from our economy, but left us without any television means of public expression or public service.

"The airwaves are the property of the public and the use of them, we feel, should allow the public some service in terms of education, civic action and community involvement. The moving of KWAB-TV's broadcast initiating facilities 100 miles away left us with, in practical terms, no video broadcast.

"It was our understanding that KWAB-TV had applied for an S-2 permit, one that would satellite its programming, except for local origination of news and public service. We were unaware, locally, that the permit application had been changed and most citizens learned of the move only after it was a fact. Those who knew prior to the move were made aware of it less than a week, and in many cases, less than two days before it occurred.

"Had the citizens of our city known that the station would originate no local programming, some effort would have been made prior to the move to prevent it.

"We are aware that no more VHF frequencies will be issued for Big Spring and feel, therefore, that the citizens of our city are entitled to have a television operation from our one permit. If the present ownership is unwilling to operate locally and virtually moves our local frequency 100 miles away, then we petition the Commission to reconsider the license in view of issuing it to someone willing to operate our frequency in Big Spring."

C-C Working Toward Big Membership Drive

Organizational preliminaries are moving ahead for an all-out campaign to boost Chamber of Commerce membership income by $15,000, it was reported to the C-C board Monday by Charles Beil, who will head up the effort.

of August 31, and will stress the theme, "Put the Chamber on Your Payroll."

Additional member participation is essential if the program is to make its organization of work effective, said Beil.

Beil said that Norman Knox and Alton Marwitz had accepted places as campaign captains, and that others will be named. The drive will run the week

Chamber directors Monday paid tribute, with the presentation of a special plaque, to Mrs. E. H. (Ann) Bouillon Jr., who has been most active in leading the C-C "Pride People" organization and setting the pace for much clean-up, yard and property improvement and other beautification campaigns. She will be moving with her husband to Chicago, where he is being transferred by Cosden.

A citation also was presented to M. R. Koger, past president of the organization, for his leadership in putting together the project which will transfer the Cosden Country Club property to city ownership for public use. It was pointed out that the facilities need to be studied for development for use by conventions.

New Budget Approved At Coahoma

Coahoma Independent School District set its budget for the coming year at $762,781 at last night's public budget hearings, according to school superintendent W. A. Wilson.

The Herald also was cited for publication of a "Big Spring Guidebook," sought by both the C-C and Base Community Council. Copies of the issue, because of great public demand, have been virtually exhausted.

Directors heard a report that contracting letting is near on the widening and improvement of SH 176 (to Andrews), but some work remains to be done on right-of-way acquisition.

This was a jump of about $73,000 from the budget arrived at last year. Wilson said the increase will go primarily to pay additional instructional salaries.

Marvin Miller, who headed the Industrial Fund campaign, said the Fund is only a few hundred dollars away from the $70,000 it asked from pledgors for the first one-third of their commitment.

The school board at the same time set the tax rate at $1.70 per $100 assessed valuation. The value is at 60 per cent of true property valuation.

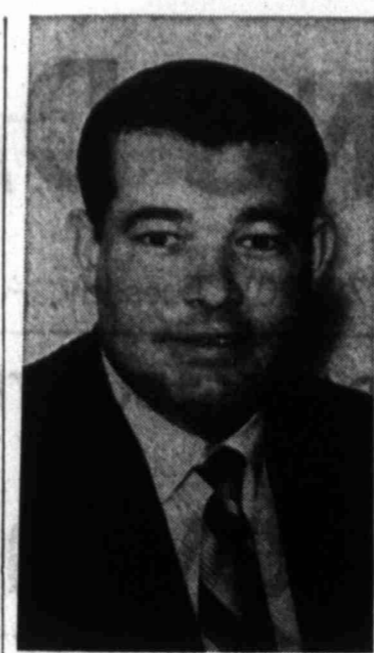

In other action the school board appointed Mrs. Annette Miller as school nurse.

UTPB Plans On Opening In Fall, '73

Plans for the organization and development of the new University of Texas in the Permian Basin (UTPB) were outlined for Big Spring Chamber of Commerce directors Monday by Dr. B. M. Amstead, who has been named president of the institution.

DAN ARGANBRIGHT
Arganbright Joins Ward

Dr. Amstead said the college is pointing toward an opening date of September, 1973, and should enroll from 800 to 1,200 students the first year. An enrollment of some 3,400 is expected within five years.

The president pointed out that UTPB will be the first "upper level" college in Texas — that is, one which offers only the last two years of standard college courses and graduate work. He said this trend seems to be gaining headway in educational planning, and such colleges will be drawing upon junior college graduates for enrollment. He added it is expected that perhaps 50 per cent of UTPB's enrollment will come from the immediate West Texas area; and also that the average age of students will be higher than in most colleges, with perhaps 50 per cent of them married.

A new Big Springer is the new merchandise manager at Montgomery Ward.

He is Dan Arganbright who comes here from Marshalltown, Iowa, where he was operating manager with Ward in that city. Arganbright has lived in Big Spring for the past six weeks. He and his wife, Linda, make their home at 1711 Alabama with their sons, Sean, three, and Scott, one and a half.

Dr. Amstead said there should be no problem in getting legislative appropriations to start the institution. He described the proposed facility in the north-east section of Odessa as being a "mesa type" campus, indicating that low-lying buildings will be spread over the area with planning for ample auto parking. The campus encompasses 600 acres.

A native of Springfield, Mo., Arganbright graduated from Fremont High School, Fremont, Iowa. He attended North Eastern Missouri State College, Kirksville, Mo. He is a Mason and a member of the Methodist church. He has worked for Montgomery Ward stores for seven years.

Scott was arrested on two charges of narcotics violations and $15,000 bond was set on each charge. He is charged with possession of marijuana and conspiracy to deliver dangerous drugs.

DURANGO, Colo. (AP) — A character witness for a bear?

Here's how it happened in La Plata county court: William H. Hundley, a summer resident of Durango, was charged by conservation authorities with killing a yearling bear on Beaver Creek near Bayfield in Colorado's southwest corner.

Hundley testified he shot the bear because he feared it would harm his wife.

Two other residents, who had made a pet of the bear, testified to its "good character."

Judge Lester Sherman found Hundley innocent.

Ex-Police Chief Sentencing Snag

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Sentencing of a former Texas police chief who pleaded guilty to burglary was postponed Monday until next Wednesday.

Wayman Dial, 35, former police chief of San Marcos, Tex., was arrested after a silent alarm was tripped in a Beverly Hills mansion.

Beverly Hills Police Chief Joseph Kimble said, after Dial and 11 others were arrested, that Dial planned to lead a gang of burglars on a raid in San Marcos.

"One of the suspects opened up after he was arrested," Kimble testified. "He told us those people (in San Marcos) would have felt like Attila the Hun had been through there."

He was referring to the 5th century Barbarian raider of Europe.

The police chief said a fashionable matron near Beverly Hills "put the finger on the homes of her rich friends" for the gang.

Dial, who was dismissed by City Manager Richard Bean of San Marcos after being arrested, was later charged on six counts of burglaries in San Marcos. He had been police chief there for six years.

Officers said Dial carried a .38-caliber pistol, a set of handcuffs and a can of crowd control spray when arrested.

Pretty Teacher Is Found Slain

KAUFMAN, Tex. (AP) — Law enforcement officials mounted a massive search today for the killers or killer of pretty Linda Phillips, 26, a schoolteacher daughter of the superintendent of Kaufman schools.

Miss Phillips' mutilated body was found Monday near Post Oak, a tiny Kaufman County community, after she had disappeared from her automobile while en route to her parents' home from a Dallas party.

Justice of the Peace Joe W. Fowler estimated that the girl had been dead about 20 hours which placed the time of death just before dawn Sunday.

She had left a Dallas party just hours before.

The 26-year-old woman's body was found by a passing motorist on a lonely farm road. She had been the object of a wide search after she failed to turn up in Kaufman following a weekend party in Dallas which she left about 1 a.m. Sunday.

Her automobile, the glass broken out on the driver's side, had been found between Forney and Talty on FM 1641 early Sunday by church-goers.

Later, officers found bits of her blood-stained clothing and then began a search in which more than 200 persons, including volunteers took part.

Miss Phillips, a teacher for several years, taught last year in the Forest Ridge School in the Dallas suburb of Richardson.

Police theorized that she had been followed by her slayer from the party on Dallas' Cedar Springs Road.

WOMEN WANT RIGHTS NOW

Congresswomen Hail Passage Of Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Martha Griffiths is counting on woman power to propel through the Senate and the state legislatures a constitutional amendment guaranteeing women equal rights with men.

"A lot of things have changed," the Michigan Democrat grinned as she savored a 350-150 victory in the House Monday. She had pried the measure from the Judiciary Committee shelf where it had collected dust for 47 years and engineered the floor victory.

But that was only the beginning, she said, pointing to the Senate where possibly fatal delays await the proposal. And after that, the amendment must be approved by 38 of the 50 legislatures before becoming a part of the Constitution.

Other backers are not so optimistic about chances of the amendment. Rep. Shirley Chisholm, D-N.Y., who says she has felt more prejudice as a woman than as a Negro, is fearful that men who run the game of politics still may block the proposal.

She cited, for example, Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., 82, and a widower, who sought to have the amendment sent back to committee for more study. "Let's face it, Mr. Celler has been one of the champions for the civil rights of minorities — but he is like other men in feeling women have a different place and there should be definite limitations on them," Mrs. Chisholm said.

And the galleries, packed with women, weren't buying Celler's argument that "there is as much difference between a male and a female as there is between a horse chestnut and a chestnut horse. Vive la difference."

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee headed by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., has approved a companion measure. Backers concede, however, there is enough opposition in the full committee at least to delay the amendment. Bayh is committed to pressing first for action on an amendment for direct election of the president, now ready for Senate action.

Until Monday, the House had never had a chance to vote on the women's amendment, which states that "equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

The Senate twice has approved similar amendments — but with a rider preserving legislation purportedly protecting women.

The outnumbered opposition to the current amendment, led by Celler, contended no one could tell what effect it would have on a wide variety of laws, such as those relating to paternity, rape, military service, family matters and protection for working women. He promised early hearings if the measure were sent back to his committee, but the House brushed the suggestion aside.

"I don't want to be one of the boys," said Rep. Margaret M. Heckler, R-Mass., but laws discriminate against women on the jobs and in the home.

This time the women's champion was Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan, Republican leader.

There may be polishing needed, Ford admitted, but after all Celler had 20 years to do it as committee chairman.

Only Rep. Leonor K. Sullivan, D-Mo., of the 10 women members missed the vote and she stayed away deliberately so as not to embarrass her female colleagues. She opposes the amendment, arguing as do some men that it will end many protections for women.

The 81 cosponsors of the Senate version "never expected to have it pass the House and now they're really on the spot," Mrs. Chisholm said.

Boy's Benefit Carnival Brings Wide Attention

Big Spring's neighborhood carnival for muscular dystrophy caught the eye of television performer Icky Twerp.

Twerp showed pictures of George Robertson, carnival goers and helpers today on his regular kiddie show, Slam Bang Theatre.

Big Spring Jaycees heard about Saturday's carnival and made George their special guest at their noon meeting Monday. The Jaycees hold an annual carnival and may have wanted to get some secrets for success from an 11-year-old boy who amazed parents and friends when he approached over 100 merchants in Big Spring in three weeks time to seek donations of prizes for his carnival.

George raised $122.97 in proceeds. His carnival booths and concession stand were open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Saturday in College Park Shopping Center.

Children frequented the "carnival grounds" throughout the day according to George's mother, Mrs. Don Robertson. Children got in on the act and grown ups who didn't want to play, some who were shopping in and around the area, gave change to the children to participate.

Odessa Teen Still Lost In Forest

RUIDOSO, N.M. (AP)—More than 150 military personnel from Holloman Air Force Base went into the Ruidoso area Monday to join the search for Leslie Hamrick, 16, Odessa, Tex., missing in the area since Friday.

Young Hamrick, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hamrick, was last seen about 2 p.m. Friday near the South Fork Camp at Bonito Lake. Bonito Lake is northwest of Ruidoso in a rugged area of the Lincoln National Forest.

Young Hamrick was with a group from Odessa's West Park Baptist Church.

Forest Service spokesmen said two other campers had been hiking with Hamrick but became tired, and stopped to wait as he went on ahead to the top of a ridge.

A Forest Service ranger said it was possible the youth could have walked completely out of the area before a search got fully under way.

Hamrick was wearing a red shirt and blue jeans. He has blond, curly hair.

The Forest Service said searchers had covered every road by jeep and every trail in the area on horseback, without finding a sign of the missing youth, "not even a track."

The military personnel were brought in to carry out an extensive search on foot.

Member Of Draft Board 'Pacifist'

REDDING, Calif. (AP) — A 44-year-old Methodist minister who opposes the draft and says he is a pacifist is the newest member of this Northern California city's draft board.

But the Rev. John V. Albright says he will vote to send youths into uniform if they don't meet the legal standards for conscientious objectors.

"I plan to give the widest possible latitude to conscience," says the minister. "but I'm going to uphold the law to the best of my knowledge."

The Rev. Mr. Albright says he became a conscientious objector as a result of his Army experiences shortly after World War II with the American occupation troops in Japan. He has also been active in antipoverty and antiwar activities in recent years.

He says he has counseled young men in his church who are conscientious objectors,

Besides the money for booths, several persons made cash donations.

Winner in a drawing for a stuffed poodle for 25 cents a ticket was Sherry Lynn Merrick and winner of a warmer tray was Mrs. Lillian Digby.

The event was a "family affair" for George. His young brother, Ricky, age 7, who as pint sized "carnival barker" had the most popular booth, the nickel throw. George's grandfather R. L. Myrick supervised throughout the day while in the concession stand grandmother, Mrs. Myrick and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Myrick, sold loads of snow cones, some hot dogs and Cokes. Brother Ducky, age 14, and several of his friends pitched in ahead of time to design and build each booth by hand.

Several friends helped including Becky Smith, 17, Regina Fox, 17, Mike McGann, 11, Mica Myrick, 14, Brenda Myrick, 11, Billy Don Whittington, 14, Phillip Ringener, 11, Joe Rihard, 11, Don Stewart, 14 and Ronny Maines, 14.

WWI Group Sets Picnic Affair

Barracks 1476 World War I veterans and the ladies' auxiliary will meet in Birdwell Park Thursday at 7 p.m. for their annual summer picnic and social get together.

A special report on the state convention held two weeks ago will be given.

Soft drinks and ice cream will be served and all members of the organization are urged to attend.

Reds Massing, Planes Unload

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers attempted today to scatter North Vietnamese troops reported massing for an attack on a South Vietnamese artillery and patrol base near the northwest frontier with Laos.

Twenty of the big bombers unloaded 600 tons of bombs on enemy bunkers, base camps and staging areas within three miles of Fire base O'Reilly, one of five allied bases set up in the area to block an enemy advance into the populous coastal lowlands 20 miles to the east. Tactical fighter-bombers and helicopter gunships flew through anti-aircraft fire to pound North Vietnamese positions closer to the base.

GUNNERS FIRING — Associated Press correspondent Willis Johnson reported from O'Reilly that despite the heavy air strikes, enemy gunners were still firing mortars into the base.

North Vietnamese infantrymen struck a few hours before dawn with machine guns, grenades and flame throwers, attacking government troops in night bivouac half a mile south of the base. Maj. Nguyen Van, commander of the base, said 15 North Vietnamese and one South Vietnamese were killed and four government troops were wounded.

Officers said at least seven South Vietnamese have been killed and 45 wounded in three days of fighting around O'Reilly. Most of them were in patrols operating from the base.

The regimental commander, Col. Nguyen Van Diem, estimated more than 200 enemy killed by air and artillery in the three days of fighting, and said about 50 more had been killed by South Vietnamese infantrymen.

BASE ABANDONED — A sixth base, Ripcord, was abandoned by paratroopers of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division last July 23 after North Vietnamese troops killed 61 paratroopers and wounded 345 in a three-week siege.

O'Reilly, a former 101st Airborne base reopened by the South Vietnamese 1st Division last March, sits on a 1,500-foot ridge less than five miles north of Ripcord. It is north of the A Shau valley and 12 miles from the Laotian border.

Maj. Gen. Ngo Quang Truong, 1st Division commander, said elements of three North Vietnamese regiments had moved into the region from Laos. He predicted "an all-out effort to get O'Reilly."

More than 1,000 enemy troops have been reported within a mile of the base, and U.S. Air Force and Marine fighter-bombers have been pounding them for three days.

'Rich' Win Again

HOUSTON (AP)—A group of residents in one of Houston's more affluent sections have apparently won an eight-year battle to keep the residential quality of their neighborhood.

Former Texas Secretary of State John L. Hill, head of the Memorial Drive Protective Association, said the controversial tract of land involved has been sold to a townhouse developer.

The homeowners have opposed projects by both the Mobil Oil Co. and Safeway Stores to develop the property in the neighborhood.

MOON ECLIPSE SUNDAY NIGHT

Star-gazers will get an extra treat Sunday night when a partial-eclipse of the moon will occur. According to Charles Yates, 607 Steakley, member of the National Astronomical - Rocketry Association, the eclipse will begin at 8:07 p.m. Sunday and continue for approximately four hours and 33 minutes.

The eclipse will be visible without the aid of any special instruments, but a telescope can be used for closer observation, said Yates.

Persons with a camera with a long exposure will be able to photograph the eclipse, said Yates. Filters can be used but they won't be necessary, he added.

According to NARA information, this is the last moon eclipse for this year. The next partial eclipse will be in February.

First Time In School

It's back-to-school time for more than 2.7 million students in the Texas public schools.

For nearly a quarter-million of them, it will be "first-time-in-school." Most of these will be first graders, but several thousand will be 5-year-olds in the new state-supported kindergarten program.

The experience of heading off for school for the first time is a giant step for little people. They need guidance.

Parents by now should be informed as to registration procedures. These once out of the way, parents can help make it easier on their youngsters, and the Texas State Teachers Association has offered some basic tips in a leaflet titled, "To Help the Child and Parents Too."

The leaflet suggests that parents, teachers and principals can cooperate in the following:

Teach your child the safest way home.

Teach him (or her) to go directly home from school without loitering on the way.

Remind him not to go with strangers.

Give your child definite duties at home and see that he performs them.

Help him to establish good listening habits.

See that your child gets enough sleep.

Provide your child with a good breakfast each morning.

See that he is happy before he leaves for school.

Teach your child that policemen are his friends and that he should go to them when he needs help.

Teach him to dress himself properly.

Teach him to have confidence in his teacher.

Provide opportunities for your child to be away from his mother for short periods of time before he starts to school.

Teach your child to respect the property rights of others.

Allow your child to do as much for himself as he is able to do.

Show an interest in what he has to tell you about his work and play at school.

Help him see likenesses and differences in objects and forms.

Encourage him to have playmates.

Help him learn habits of promptness, obedience, and respect for authority.

Read to your child.

Take him to places of interest such as the zoo, park, and library.

Label his personal belongings with his name and address.

Praise your child frequently; help him to feel successful.

There are responsible days ahead.

The child's first teacher carries a big share, as well as great opportunity to help shape future lives.

Parents carry more responsibility, too, and to accomplish the most for their children, should take the trouble to understand school policies and programs, to speak frankly (in confidence) with principals and teachers, and help solve school-related problems as they arise. An intimate working relationship between parents and teachers can go a long way.

The Paradox That Is California

LOS ANGELES — On a sentimental pilgrimage just before he flew back to Washington, President Nixon visited each place where the course of his life had been charted in his native state. From Yorba Linda, his birthplace, he went to Whittier where he grew up working in his father's store and gas station, then to the house in the Turesdale Estates in the Beverly Hills area where the Nixons lived from 1961 to 1963 and then to the restaurant in Hollywood that had represented for him the big time, big names.

IT WAS THE native son seeing his past unfold from the exalted position of the Presidency, the most powerful office in the world. The Nixon story is a Cinderella story, the triumph over adversity and those who spurned him when he ran for governor of his own state in 1962.

California is the appropriate setting. On the Pacific slope a way of life has come into being that exerts a powerful attraction. Part of it is climate, the sunshine, the Golden West, all the clichés that express a beneficent warmth with mountains and ski slopes thrown in and a magnificent ocean at the front door.

BUT IT IS more than climate. Almost from America's origins this luxuriant, semi-tropical paradise has been a magnet for the earth-bound, toilers under dreary, gray skies. The theme runs through much of American literature.

Every Iowa farmer dreamed of fleeing from the sub-zero cold and the blizzards to retire in the Golden West. The once-mammoth Long Beach picnic of ex-Iowans is still an annual institution. John Steinbeck's Okies in "The Grapes of Wrath" sought to escape the dire pinch of poverty in the Dust Bowl in California's lush fields.

WHILE THE census figures for 1970 are not yet in final form, there is no question that California is leading. The total for the state approaches 20,000,000, which is an increase of nearly 5,000,000 over the 1960 count. Thus nearly one-tenth of the entire population of the country is concentrated on the slope between the Sierras and the sea.

Even more significant is the fact that the migration from across the country continues. From 1965 to '68 the net gain from migration was 400,000. These were Americans from almost every state in the Union lured by a legend with something of the power of the gold rush days.

IN THE 25 years since the end of the war enormous fortunes have been made here. In land speculation alone — the rise in land values — it probably exceeds anything in the rest of the nation. The savings and loan associations have been another mushrooming source of wealth. Oil is another major source, with companies located here that offer some rivalry to the corporate giants of the Eastern seaboard.

ALONGSIDE THIS wealth there has been great poverty. After many months of struggle and a nationwide boycott of California table grapes, Cesar Chavez won a union contract for the grape pickers. It will be a long time, however, before they move out of poverty. And the migrant workers brought in from Mexico are at the bottom of the heap.

This poverty has been more or less taken for granted. What is currently happening is far more disturbing. With the sharp downturn in the aerospace and the aircraft industries California's unemployment is perhaps 6 per cent, a point above the national average.

The worm in the golden apple is deeply disquieting. While the rest of the nation may see the heralded Nixon upturn in the second half of 1970, it is doubtful that this will happen in California.

Crime Precautions

CHICAGO (AP) — Elderly people often are victims of purse-snatchers and other types of petty crime. The Chicago Police Department suggests these precautions on how retired persons can protect themselves.

Don't carry a large purse.

Don't carry a large amount of money or important papers.

Don't wait at a mailbox. Thieves may think money is arriving by mail.

Don't sit outside late at night.

Don't leave your purse in a shopping cart.

Call police if you suspect something is happening to threaten your safety.

Scream only if attacked when confronted by a thief.

Do Figures Tell 'True' Story?

NEW YORK (AP) — The present state of the economy may be described in the conventional way, through statistics, or it can be shown by contrasting our ambitious goals with our inability to achieve them.

To put it in question form: Have the increases in incomes really permitted Americans to buy a better life? Has the quality of life improved to the same extent as the Gross National Product?

These are the statistics: —Gross National Product, the market value of the output of goods and services produced by the economy, rose to $931 billion in 1969 from $629 billion five years earlier.

—National income, the total earnings of labor and property from the production of goods and services, rose to $770 billion in 1969 from $514 billion in 1964.

—Personal income, which is the total income received by persons from all sources, rose to $749 billion in 1969 from $495 billion in 1964.

—Disposable personal income, or the income remaining to persons after payment of personal taxes, jumped to $632 billion from $436 billion in 1964.

These are the four major measures of production and income. Do they tell an accurate story? Or should the statistics be forgotten for the moment and the economy evaluated in more personal ways.

Hundreds of thousands of families, for example, have so benefited by steady jobs and rising wages that they have saved an amount that once would have served as the down payment on a house. Now they can't buy that house.

Interest rates and prices have soared, and larger down payments are required, forcing these families to remain where they are. To many people, good housing is unavailable at any price because the country is producing homes at a rate that satisfies only half the need.

Americans also have surrounded themselves with an incredible array of gadgets that allegedly simplify life, but often the owners learn that these devices complicate life instead, especially when they break down and cannot be serviced.

Dollar affluence has permitted hundreds of thousands of Americans to own two cars, but they have learned to their chagrin that in some areas government officials have permitted more registrations than there are legal parking spaces.

A feature of the economic expansion has been easy credit—consumer credit rose from $77 billion in 1964 to $122 billion in 1969—but that credit burden now harasses many of the people who accepted it.

Economic expansion has permitted millions of Americans to afford a college education denied to their parents, but many of the educational institutions now cannot afford students and are in financial distress.

The statistics and the dollar signs look impressive, even when the economy is badly inflated and battling a recession at the same time. But do the figures tell the story the way it should be told?

Fat Questions

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

How fat are Americans? Well, the body of a very lean man or woman contains 10 to 25 per cent fat; but most Americans are 25 per cent fat and some 50 per cent or more. About 80 per cent of U.S. men are above the weight which statistically, for their height, leads to the greatest longevity.

On the other hand, the heaviest baby of modern times was born to a woman in Southern Turkey. It weighed 24 pounds at birth, more than three times the weight U.S. doctors suggest now as ideal.

Turning streets in the business districts of cities into pedestrian malls isn't a 20th century idea. One of the first things Julius Caesar reportedly did when he became the boss of ancient Rome was to ban the daytime use of carts and chariots in the crowded center of the empire's capital.

Stealing, robbing and embezzling have become among America's most profitable industries. Property valued at more than $3.5 billion is now stolen each year—more than $9.5 million every day. Only about 50 per cent is recovered or, in the case of stolen automobiles, about 85 per cent.

Quotable notes: "If you feel that you have both feet planted on level ground, then the university has failed you."

—Robert Goheen, president of Princeton.

Quip: Comedian Flip Wilson says he knows a teen-age girl who has the most frustrating allergy he's ever heard of. She's allergic to telephones.

Troubled waters: You're not safe on the highways and, if you're not careful, you aren't safe on the nation's busy waterways either. In lakes, rivers and coastal waters last year, 4,367 boating accidents took 1,350 lives, caused 1,004 injuries and property losses of $6.37 million.

Hot enough for you? Well, last year in 140-mile-long Death Valley, Calif., which has a population of about 50, the air temperature rose above 100 degrees for 126 consecutive days. If you're the thirsty sort, some days there you can measure your consumption of water by the gallon.

It was Samuel Butler who observed, "The public buys its opinions as it buys its meat, or takes in its milk, on the principle that it is cheaper to do this than to keep a cow. So it is, but the milk is more likely to be watered."

WASHINGTON — There are people who still enjoy a good, drawn-out lynching, and they have crawled out of the woodwork to smack wet lips over the marijuana charges lodged against 16-year-old Robert Kennedy, Jr., and 17-year-old Sargent Shriver, III.

Some exult by telephone — anonymously, of course; their courage is no match for their malice. But furtive glee is also expressed in locker rooms, in kitchen coffee hours, on street corners. And, predictably, there are those ineffable and tasteless politicians with their comfortable comments that the trouble two little boys found themselves in will do the Kennedy clan no good at the polling places.

WE ARE SICKER than we thought. Should we call a cop or a doctor to encage these animals? Personally, I favor the punishment advocated by the Man of Gallilee that a millstone be banged about their necks and that they be drowned in the depth of the sea.

"It serves them right," said the voice of one male caller. "The Kennedys think they're better than other people."

I COULD ALMOST see the saliva dripping from the slack jaw, the bug eyes, the sadistic twitch. But the caller's words proved a point. Most of us, including the Kennedys and the Shriver, I should hope would consider ourselves better than people like that vicious boob.

As stylists, the Kennedy-Shriver family needs no certificate from anyone. Politics aside, their grace under pressure has always been notable, and this latest tragedy again showed them at their civilized best.

OF THE CHARGES, Mrs. Ethel Kennedy said simply, "This is, of course, a matter for the authorities to decide. But Bobby is a fine boy. . . I will stand by him." And then, "My concern is also for my nephew and the families of the other young people."

Shriver's father said much the same thing, but he added to his public statement something that tells us what it is all about. "Young people

A Woman's Work—

In October, the Big Spring Herald will again publish its fall salute to the city's club women — a tabloid section telling of each group's history, purposes and aims for the coming year.

Even working closely with the many diversified organizations for women, I never fully realize how indebted we are to them until I write the annual stories from information provided by club presidents.

THEN I am sure that half the world's work is done by women. Much of it for others.

Women are expected, of course, to take good care of their husbands and children, and they are often reminded of how easy their lives have become in comparison with hardships experienced by their predecessors. Perhaps. Who can say which problems are harder to bear?

The amazing and wonderful thing is that women have not accepted the easier life their men have provided without giving something in return. The "free" time has not been wasted.

HARDLY A WOMAN in Big Spring

has not helped in some manner to make the world of those around her a little bit happier. When the children are young, she does what she can — the church needs, the PTA work, the Scout leadership, the concession stand operation — the day-to-day world of the station wagon.

AS THE youngsters grow, and their interests widen, so does a woman take more active interest in things outside the family circle. School takes her children out of the home for most of 12 years, and during that period, she uses the time they are away to further her own knowledge through study clubs, sororities, lodges or specialized service groups.

SHE BECOMES the backbone of community fund drives, the willing hands for volunteer efforts and the heart of charitable undertakings. Sometimes, circumstances demand that she also hold down a full-time job. Yet, she still asks what she can do to help — and she always gets an answer.

Tahitians And Unwelcome Tourists

TAHITI — There have been two explosions in the South Pacific recently. One is the French atomic bomb and the other is the tourist invasion of Polynesia. It is predicted that while the fallout from the former will blow away, the fallout from the tourist explosion will be around for centuries to come.

Tahiti and the other islands in the South Pacific, are caught between cultures. The airplane has made it possible to fly to Tahiti in a matter of hours. The only ones who aren't awed by this are the Tahitians. They don't know who designed the 707 jet but they'd just as soon he'd drown in the nearest atoll.

FOR HUNDREDS and hundreds of years Tahitians have set their own pace, which is somewhat slower than that of Americans and Europeans.

To cite an example, as of this writing, Tahiti is still celebrating Bastille Day, which took place on the 14th of July.

No one is exactly sure when the 14th of July will be over out here, though some hotel owners, whose help has not come back yet, are hopeful everyone will be at work by Christmas.

IN ORDER to enjoy the islands you must understand the thinking of the Tahitians.

The American says "Please, I must have breakfast immediately because I have to catch a plane for Pago Pago."

"Yes, sir," the Tahitian says. But he thinks "I have already had breakfast and besides I do not have a plane to catch, so why is he bothering me with his problem?"

TEN MINUTES later the American says "Waiter, I must have breakfast now!"

"Yes, sir," the Tahitian says. But he thinks to himself "If I do not give him his breakfast, perhaps the French manager will fire me and then I can go fishing in the lagoon."

Fifteen minutes later a fuming American says "See here, I have been waiting for breakfast for 25 minutes. I haven't even had coffee. I have five countries to see in six days. When I get back to the United States I will tell all my friends not to come to Tahiti."

"YES, SIR," the Tahitian says, wiping the counter. But he thinks "If he would only keep his promise, then this hotel would close, and I could sleep with my payaya all day long."

The tourist says sternly "Your economy depends on tourism, and you will never prosper and become rich if you don't learn that tourists like to be served fast."

"I know," the Tahitian nods sadly. But he thinks to himself "Who wants to become rich if it makes you so nervous?"

"DON'T GET me wrong," the tourist says. "I admire your life style. But one must get with the 20th century. You can't just dilly dally all day long. You have to go, go, go."

"Thank you," the Tahitian says. But he thinks "I wouldn't have to put up with all this garbage if I had gone canoeing with Fredo this morning."

A half hour later the American is now steaming and shouting for the French manager, who is also steaming and yelling.

The Tahitian smiles at both of them and thinks to himself sadly "I would hate to be a tourist in Tahiti because it's almost impossible to get anything to eat."

We're In This Mess Together

WASHINGTON — There are people who still enjoy a good, drawn-out lynching, and they have crawled out of the woodwork to smack wet lips over the marijuana charges lodged against 16-year-old Robert Kennedy, Jr., and 17-year-old Sargent Shriver, III.

Some exult by telephone — anonymously, of course; their courage is no match for their malice. But furtive glee is also expressed in locker rooms, in kitchen coffee hours, on street corners. OF THE CHARGES, Mrs. Ethel Kennedy said simply, "This is, of course, a matter for the authorities to decide. But Bobby is a fine boy. . . I will stand by him." And then, "My concern is also for my nephew and the families of the other young people."

Shriver's father said much the same thing, but he added to his public statement something that tells us what it is all about. "Young people today," he said, "are being subjected to the most profound temptations and stresses. All young persons have our deepest sympathy."

HE WAS SAYING what every concerned parent knows — that we are all in this mess together, that the bell tolls not only for kids named Kennedy and Shriver, but for the plumpers' kids and the show clerk's kids, and the columnist's kids. We are not only our brother's keepers but the keepers of all our children, whether their parents be named Kennedy or Jones.

PERHAPS, INDEED, a special compassion should be reserved for the children of the celebrated rich. Frequently, it is easier for a kid with money and a celebrated name to fall into trouble. The relatively poor offer meager profit and no chance at all of celebrity for the professional peddlers of trouble — dopepushers, pimps and black-mailers. Sometimes the burden of being the offspring of a famous man or woman is too heavy to carry and the boy or girl seeks release in the illicit, or merely the shiftless.

Clearly, the scandal mongers seek to punish young Kennedy and young Shriver for the politics of their fathers. Given the propensity of the young to reject the dogma of their elders, this is ludicrous as well as nasty.

Stocking Problem

HOBERT, Tasmania (AP) — At least once a week the new 100,000 Australian dollar ($112,000 U.S.) sewage scheme pumps at New Norfolk shudder to an enforced halt.

It costs the municipal council 90 Australian dollars ($100 U.S.) to restart them.

Now the council has issued an appeal to women: "Please don't flush your pantyhose down lavatories."

Said a council spokesman: "These garments are so strong the machines can't handle them. As few as three pairs wrapped around the pump bearings bring the whole system to a halt."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I can't solve myself and I don't want to ask anyone else for fear of appearing foolish. I don't know how to kiss. I am a 28-year-old normal male. I'm fairly good looking, clean, have a good job, a late model car, sharp clothes, and I have no trouble getting dates. But when it comes to kissing, I must be doing something wrong because all I get is complaints.

It's gotten to the point where I just skip the kissing and go on to the next step, but I find most girls don't like this. Can you help me? They say, "practice makes perfect," but I don't get a chance to practice because after I kiss a girl once she doesn't want to kiss me again.

DEAR WANTS TO LEARN: Most people learn how to kiss without lessons, but you may need a few. You can't learn to kiss alone — you'll need a girl, so find one you'd like to kiss, and kiss her at the appropriate time. If she complains, ask her what was wrong with the kiss. (There are a variety of "bum" kisses. Too "wet," too dry, too hard, not hard enough, too passionate, too prolonged, too brief.) If the girl likes you, she won't mind giving you a few pointers to improve your technique. If she doesn't like you that much — find another girl.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is constantly asking whom ever he happens to be with to "lend" him a couple of dollars, or a "five." His excuse is that he has to cash a check, and he hasn't anything less than a twenty or a fifty on him. No one doubts him, either, as this man is very well-to-do. (He also never picks up a check when he is by far the one in the crowd who is best able to treat everybody, but that's another problem.)

Abby, this man never makes an effort to repay any of these "emergency" loans, and I for one am fed up with it. Now why would a man who is worth a fortune want to chisel in this manner? And if you can think of a good way to get my money back, I'd appreciate it.

DEAR FED: Don't look for any deep psychological reasons for your friend's behavior. He's just cheap. And the best way I know to get something one has coming to him is to ask for it.

DEAR ABBY: May I air my gripe in your column? The offenders probably don't even know they are guilty, and it might wake them up. Whenever I drop a note to someone, asking for a recipe, an address, or some other bit of information which I want, I always enclose a stamped, addressed envelope as a convenience to that person. Also, since I'm the one who is asking for the favor, why should the person of whom I'm asking it take his time and effort to accommodate me and provide the stamp besides? MARGE DEAR MARGE: You are a woman after my own heart!

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

12th Juror Is Selected

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP) — Charles Harrelson, accused in the slaying of Houston carpet executive Alan Berg, will stand trial Wednesday.

The 12th juror was picked Monday and Dist. Judge G.P. Hardy has estimated testimony may take from three weeks to a month.

Berg's remains were found in Brazoria County five months after he disappeared from a Houston night club. Two other persons are accused in the murder.

Harrelson is also charged with murder in the slaying of Sam Degelia Jr., a Hearne, Tex., grain dealer killed near McAllen in 1968.

The man accused of allegedly hiring Harrelson for the crime, Pete Scamardo, has been convicted as an accomplice. Harrelson has yet to stand trial in that case.

Whack In Food Stamps Predicted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two Democrats predict a massive reduction in the food stamp program within a year if new restrictions approved by the House Agriculture Committee become law.

The claims were made Monday by Reps. Thomas S. Foley, D-Wash., and Allard K. They said in dissenting to the committee's report that the present program reaches only about one-fourth of those in

Radio, Truck Items Before City Council

City commissioners meet tonight at 5:15 in city hall to discuss expenditures for fire department radio equipment and a sanitation truck, and will study requests by Harroll Jones for annexation of some north-side property and by Melvin Bailey for a certificate of occupancy for his business establishment.

The fire department wants to spend about $1,577 on communications equipment to replace the outdated central unit now in use. The sanitation truck bids indicate that the city would pay about $15,579 counting trade-in to purchase the 24 cubic yard refuse collection body and a truck to go with it.

Melvin Bailey is requesting a certificate of occupancy for Melvin's Place, 314 NW 4th, where beer would be sold on premises consumption. Harroll Jones is asking that the city annex 80,889 acres of land south of Hilltop Road, formerly used as an airstrip and now to be used as a trailer park.

An ordinance regulating water sports at Moss Creek Lake will be up for consideration. As written it bans sports other than fishing and swimming between 8 p.m. and noon, and allows water skiing from noon to 8 p.m. or an hour after sunset, whichever is earlier.

Several recommendations of the Traffic Commission will be up for consideration, as will an ordinance allowing the mayor to sign a $14,000 bank loan to pay for the landfill loader purchased in June. The commission will also pass on the second reading of the Intech annexation ordinance.

AFTER LEAVING CRISIS MEETING Prime Minister Mobbed

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP) — Angry Protestants mobbed Prime Minister James Chichester-Clark and pelted him with pennies early today as he left a crisis meeting which gave him a narrow vote of confidence.

The crowd struggled with a policeman and a man from the Protestant Unionist party at Derry district. After four hours the meeting gave him a 97-87 vote of confidence for his reform program to remove some of the discrimination against the province's restive Roman Catholic minority.

The Protestant demonstrators outside, however, made plain that they believe any concession to the Catholics is wrong. As Chichester-Clark emerged they shouted "Lundy!" — a local term for traitor — and "We want Craig!" William Craig, former provincial home affairs minister, has emerged in the past week as the hard-line Protestant candidate to replace Chichester-Clark.

LONDON (AP) — At least 2,000 troops will be on guard in Londonderry Wednesday to enforce the government ban on parades during Protestant celebrations of the relief of the siege of Derry in 1689. Last year's parades were followed by riots and bloody street battles between Protestants and Catholics.

Tonight: Black & White At Starlight Specials

With two down and five to go, the Starlight Specials are still gaining momentum, as preparations are completed for Black and White Night. Over 1,000 attended the Fiesta Night program Monday, and another large crowd is expected for the Black and White show at 8:30 tonight.

The money raised by the Starlight Specials will be used toward the cost of moving the Howard County Library into its new location and developing its facilities.

Soul, solo and dramatic readings will be included in tonight's performances, which will lead off with a sax solo by James Person, and then an organ solo by Michelle Ivey.

Mrs. Essie Person will present a dramatic reading, followed by the singing trio of Ethel Green Wakefield, James Green and Claudette Green, and then a monologue by Ruby Sims.

Robert Byrd will appear with a five piece soul band, Mrs. Mary Ivey will read "The Creation," Bonnie Anderson will perform as clarinet soloist, and Clint Barnes will offer other instrumental.

The evening will be topped off with the Big Spring High School Stage Band. Admission is again 25 cents with no charge for preschoolers, and blankets or cushions are recommended for padding the seats.

Texas Cotton Crop Guess

WASHINGTON (AP) — An increase of 11 per cent over last year and a Texas crop of 349 pounds per acre on 3,653,000 acres was reflected in Monday's first forecast of the current cotton crop by the Agriculture Department.

The forecast was for a crop of 11,078,900 bales against last year's crop of slightly more than 10 million bales.

The forecast was based on field conditions of Aug. 1 as surveyed by the Crop Reporting Board.

The report said 11,324,500 acres were being grown for harvest this year compared to 11,075,000 in 1969. Yield of cotton lint per acre was estimated at 467 pounds, compared with the 1969 yield of 433 pounds and 516 for the 1968 crop.

The estimated yield per acre and production in bales of 500 pounds gross weight each, respectively, of 1970 cotton by states included: North Carolina 335 pounds per acre and production of 115,000 bales; South Carolina 368 and 230,000; Tennessee 498 and 410,000; Alabama 428 and 490,000; Missouri 448 and 210,000; Mississippi 667 and 1,665,000; Louisiana 524 and 1,190,000; Louisiana 629 and 590,000; Oklahoma 251 and 235,000; New Mexico 560 and 577,000; and California 871 and 1,225,700.

FTC Slaps Zale Firms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Zale Corp. of Dallas, a Federal Trade Commission examiner says, has violated the Truth In Lending Act.

But after the FTC made the announcement Monday, Ben A. Lipsy, president of the firm said that the "trial examiner's recommendation is a continuance of the proceedings begun earlier by the FTC."

Examiner Walter K. Bennett issued a cease-and-desist order against Zale and one of its subsidiaries, Corrigan-Republic, Inc., of Dallas. His ruling is subject to a final decision by the five-member commission.

Said Lipsy: "The trial examiner's recommendation relates to the same alleged violation first reported by FTC in the fall of 1969."

"Zale has continuously cooperated with the FTC in attempting to comply with the very technical requirements of a new law. All consumer credit forms now in use by the company meet the technical requirements of Regulation Z of the federal Truth In Lending Act."

Bennett said the firm's retail installment contract did not conform to regulations of the Truth in Lending Act for several months after the act became effective last year.

For example, the examiner said, the form did not list such required items as "cash down payment" or "unpaid balance of cash price."

The finance charges, he added, and annual percentage rates of interest were not disclosed as conspicuously as required by the law.

Bennett maintained that the order should be issued although Zales changed its credit forms after consulting with FTC representatives. "We conclude that the issuance of an order is essential to insure compliance," he remarked.

'LUNDY' SHOUTS Chichester-Clark, just back from a vacation in Spain, had been meeting members of his Protestant Unionist party at Maghera, in his own county Derry district. After four hours the meeting gave him a 97-87 vote of confidence for his reform program to remove some of the discrimination against the province's restive Roman Catholic minority.

The Protestant demonstrators outside, however, made plain that they believe any concession to the Catholics is wrong. As Chichester-Clark emerged they shouted "Lundy!" — a local term for traitor — and "We want Craig!" William Craig, former provincial home affairs minister, has emerged in the past week as the hard-line Protestant candidate to replace Chichester-Clark.

LONDON (AP) — At least 2,000 troops will be on guard in Londonderry Wednesday to enforce the government ban on parades during Protestant celebrations of the relief of the siege of Derry in 1689. Last year's parades were followed by riots and bloody street battles between Protestants and Catholics.

Texas Cotton Crop Guess

WASHINGTON (AP) — An increase of 11 per cent over last year and a Texas crop of 349 pounds per acre on 3,653,000 acres was reflected in Monday's first forecast of the current cotton crop by the Agriculture Department.

The forecast was for a crop of 11,078,900 bales against last year's crop of slightly more than 10 million bales.

The forecast was based on field conditions of Aug. 1 as surveyed by the Crop Reporting Board.

The report said 11,324,500 acres were being grown for harvest this year compared to 11,075,000 in 1969. Yield of cotton lint per acre was estimated at 467 pounds, compared with the 1969 yield of 433 pounds and 516 for the 1968 crop.

The estimated yield per acre and production in bales of 500 pounds gross weight each, respectively, of 1970 cotton by states included: North Carolina 335 pounds per acre and production of 115,000 bales; South Carolina 368 and 230,000; Tennessee 498 and 410,000; Alabama 428 and 490,000; Missouri 448 and 210,000; Mississippi 667 and 1,665,000; Louisiana 524 and 1,190,000; Louisiana 629 and 590,000; Oklahoma 251 and 235,000; New Mexico 560 and 577,000; and California 871 and 1,225,700.

When North offered a jump raise to South's opening one spade bid, the latter was well-heeled with controls and a small slam appeared to be in the offing. He made a try by cue bidding the ace of diamonds. When North reciprocated by showing his club control, South left nothing further to chance and proceeded directly to six spades.

West led the deuce of hearts, East topped dummy's queen with the king and declarer won the trick with the ace. A heart was ruffed in dummy. A spade was led to the ace and South trumped his last heart with the nine of spades. The king of spades was cashed and East showed out. Declarer's prospects had dimmed considerably, for with West now revealed to have a trump trick — South could not afford to lose a diamond as well. His only chance apparently was to find the queen-jack of diamonds doubleton in one hand.

A diamond was led to the king, however, when the five and eight appeared, South realized that he would now have to uncover a last minute rescue, or else admit defeat. Presently, a remote prospect occurred to him that might be attempted at the mild cost of an additional 100 points if it failed.

A club was led and when West followed with the deuce, the jack was played from dummy. The finesse succeeded and declarer returned to his hand with the king of diamonds and played a spade. West was in with the queen and fortunately, for South, he had no more hearts or diamonds.

The forced return of a club by West, presented declarer with a second finesse in that suit. The queen was played from the North hand on which South discarded a diamond. His remaining diamond went on the ace of clubs and the seven and six of spades took the last two tricks.

Oil Output Boosted To 17-Year Record

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — The Texas Railroad Commission raised the state's August oil production by 88,750 barrels a day Monday despite the warning of a former commissioner who said the agency could be "scraping the bottom of the barrel" of Texas' oil reserves.

The commission boosted the August allowable from 62.9 per cent to 70 per cent and made it retroactive to Aug. 1. The new percentage is the highest in 17 years.

It was the first time since the 1967 Arab-Israeli crisis that the commission had held a special "emergency" meeting and shifted the allowable upward.

In a short statement announcing the allowable, Chairman Ben Ramsey said the need for additional Texas crude oil in August "was brought about by the unusually high tanker rates" in shipping overseas oil.

William J. Murray Jr., a commissioner for 16 years until he resigned in June, 1963, said the regulatory agency "should cut back and put something in a savings account so you will have something to spare."

"If you grant this increase, you will be scraping the bottom of the barrel. I believe it is time to face up to reality and find out how much spare, attainable, efficient capacity is left in the state."

To grant the 124,000 additional barrels of oil a day that six big buyers sought "would use it (reserves) all up," Murray said.

Murray, now president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Association (TIPRO), said he was appearing on his own behalf.

He said it was the first time in 25 years that he had spoken from the floor on the allowable.

The new August allowable will permit maximum production of 3,798,513 barrels a day this month, but actual production is estimated at 3,310,000, or 35,250 less than was sought in the requests for additional oil.

Pan American Petroleum Corp. asked for 50,000 more barrels a day in August, Texas Inc. sought 25,000 additional barrels daily, Mobil Oil Corp. 20,000, Shell Oil Co. and Texas City Refining, Inc., 10,000 extra barrels each and Chevron Oil Co. 9,000 additional barrels a day in August.

The high tanker rates Ramsey referred to reportedly have been caused by Libyan government orders for foreign companies in that African nation to reduce production, forcing oil to be shipped to Europe nations to seek oil from the Persian Gulf. This has shifted oil tankers from the short Libya-Europe haul to the longer trip around Africa.

Ramsey also said Tapline, a major oil pipeline from the Middle East to Mediterranean ports had been delayed, resulting in "substantially large increases in the need for Texas crude oil."

SUITS TO INTEGRATE SIX SCHOOLS

Fed Judge Refuses Hearing In Advance Of Fall Classes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Justice Department's bid to get 26 Texas school districts fully integrated by opening of the fall term ran into a roadblock Monday, when a federal judge deferred a hearing on six of them until Sept. 10.

U.S. Dist. Judge Joe E. Estes' ruling means that court action will come after schools have opened in Garland, Richardson, Lubbock, San Angelo, Wichita Falls and Ferris—in deference of before, as the Justice Department wanted.

"This is the end of legal maneuvering on the district court level," Spivey said.

In Dallas, U.S. Dist. Atty. Eldon Mahon protested to Judge Estes that the setting of the Sept. 10 hearing date would circumvent the Justice Department's desire to have integration achieved before the 1970-71 school year begins.

Judge Estes took no action on the Department's request that the court enjoin the defendants from what it called discrimination against black and Mexican-American students.

Suits similar to those in Dallas have been filed at Austin, Houston and Tyler.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT (HJR30)
General Election Nov. 3, 1970

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Subsections (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (11), (12), and (13), Section 1-a, Article V, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows:

"(5) The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at Austin at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement, censure, or removal of any person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

"(8) After such investigation as it deems necessary, the Commission may in its discretion issue a private reprimand, or if the Commission determines that the situation merits such action, it may order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal, or retirement of a person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefor, it shall issue an order of public censure or it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal, or retirement, as the case may be, of the person in question holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary."

"(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not misfeasance is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

"(12) No person holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition: "The constitutional amendment relating to the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission."

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order public censure, retirement or removal, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary."

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to and cumulative of the methods of removal of persons holding an office named in Paragraph A of Subsection (6) of this Section provided elsewhere in this Constitution."

Budget Action Due Tonight

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District will meet tonight at 7:30 to approve the proposed $5 million 1970-71 budget.

According to Business Manager Don Crockett, the budget does not call for any tax increase, although the make-up in the way that the tax money is allotted will be altered slightly.

An amendment for $160,541 in federal funds will be added to the budget before it is approved. The funds are those granted by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare for the operation of the Head Start program. The expenditures for the program total the amount granted the district.

Without the Head Start amendment, the budget totals $5,218,254.12 in expenditures and $5,322,967 in receipts.

Trustees will also hear a report on the tax roll values from Earl Dean, tax evaluator, and they will consider bids received from local suppliers on the cost of furnishing fuel and oil for the district's school buses. Crockett will present the bids to the board.

A special hearing with the board has been requested by Jimmy W. Honea, 611 Holbert. The hearing will concern disciplinary action taken against Honea's son last May.

The board has been asked to name a delegate and an alternate to attend the Texas Association of School Boards Delegate Assembly in Austin, Sept. 27 and 28.

Trustees will decide whether it is necessary to hold the second August board meeting on the 25. The next meeting date is Sept. 8.

Exposure To Pornography Experiment Ires Solons

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House subcommittee is fuming at White House researchers who monitored the responses of 23 young men as they watched a stag movie. Chairman Robert N.C. Nix, D-Pa., demands an explanation.

Nix termed the experiment revolting, and said he would have subpoenaed Drs. James L. Howard, Clifford S. Reifer and Myron B. Liptzin of the President's Commission on Pornography if they hadn't volunteered to testify.

The trio, from the University of North Carolina, have said the experiment demonstrated prolonged exposure to pornography becomes boring.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

MORAL STANDARDS
Nix said Monday the experiment encouraged students to violate moral standards at a time when they are questioning all values established by their elders.

"I want to know what the justification of this experiment is that it warrants breakdown of the culture," Nix said in an interview. "I don't think any culture has survived without fixed moral values."

INSPECTION TIME FOR '9'

AUSTIN (AP) — The Department of Public Safety reminded motorists Monday that it is inspection time again — for those who have a red motor vehicle inspection sticker with a large numeral "9."

Deadline for the red "9" stickers is midnight Sept. 30.

Texas now operates on a 12-month inspection schedule with inspections due the 12th month after getting a sticker.

Cars with red stickers and the numeral "10" must be re-inspected before midnight of the last day of October.

The mandatory inspection of all motor vehicles, and certain classes of trailers, includes brakes, lights, horns and warning devices, front seat belts when they were part of the original equipment, steering, wheels and rims, exhaust system and exhaust emission system.

SAYS TEST 'REVOLTING' — Rep. Robert N. C. Nix says experiments checking youths' response to stag movies are revolting. The Pennsylvania Democrat chairs the postal operations subcommittee where researchers for the President's Commission on Pornography will tell their story.

"There have been experiments that seemed questionable but proved to benefit all mankind," he added. "If this proves to be that, I'll accept it. But I'll be damned if I'll take it like it is."

The commission's preliminary finding that pornography does not cause sex crimes and is not harmful was challenged in opening testimony before Nix's postal operations subcommittee by a Salt Lake City psychologist.

"Because of the extreme complexity of the problem and the uniqueness of individual human experience," Dr. Victor B. Cline, said in prepared testimony.

ny, "it is doubtful that we will ever have absolutely convincing scientific proof that pornography is or isn't harmful."

SEX CRIMES
Cline, chairman of the Salt Lake Area Youth Protection Committee, said reports that sex crimes dropped 31 per cent in Denmark after pornography was legalized are misleading because public indecency, voyeurism, male prostitution and sale of pornography are no longer counted as crimes in Denmark.

Cline said long-term effects of pornography cannot be determined from short-term studies such as those conducted by the presidential commission or by Denmark's one-year experience with legalized pornography.

"We may have to wait possibly for a generation," he said in his prepared remarks, to note its full effect on the life styles, marriage, patterns of divorce and the general happiness and well being of the Danish People."

Storms Mark Path Of Front

By The Associated Press
Cooler weather eased through Central and East Texas today—enough cooler to afford a little relief from protracted heat but not calculated to induce shivers.

Showers and occasional thunderstorms marked the path of this front during the night and this morning as it ogressed from the Junction, Corsicana, Waco and Tyler areas southward.

Near dawn the forward edge of the cooler air mass stretched across the state from around Lufkin past Del Rio.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 64 degrees at Dalhart and 66 at Lubbock, both behind the front, up to 85 at Waco, where it was still cooling a bit.

These compared with top marks Monday up to a scorching 106 at Waco. Thermometers reached 102 at Austin and College Station, 101 at Laredo and San Angelo, and 100 at Junction, McAllen and San Antonio, while the highs were just 86 at Lubbock, Marfa and Palacios.
