

Fire District Proposal Put Before Court

Petitions calling for the creation of a county-wide fire district were presented to the Howard County Commissioners Court this morning. A public hearing on the proposition was set for Sept. 28, and if accepted after this hearing, it would go to the voters in a county referendum.

Under state statute, a fire district may be created by vote with authority to levy not more than 3 cents per $100 valuation. Jack Watkins, who with Lanny Hamby, appeared to present the petitions bearing 125 signatures, estimated that a 3 cent tax would provide $61,843 in revenues to support the fire district operations.

The matter of a separate district has grown out of various discussions between city and county officials and various individuals. Currently the city limits its fire protection to the corporate limits, and volunteer units have been created to serve various parts of the county. Numerous residential and industrial property owners on the outlying areas of Big Spring have called for more efficient protection.

The County Court routinely adopted its 1971 budget after the formality of a hearing this morning. It provides for total expenditures of $1,396,589.67, and also provides for a one-cent reduction in the tax rate, to $1.04 per $100 valuation. Valuations for tax purposes are set at $80,000,000.

The court included in the new budget an item of $5,000 toward a county museum. It has been proposed that the city put up $10,000 for this organization.

Nixonites Play Numbers Game, O'Brien Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien says the Nixon administration is playing a numbers game in an attempt to fool the public over "what has been and still is a deteriorating economy."

Referring to recent administration claims, O'Brien declared that "The only upturn that I have been able to discern is an upturn in the good news machine out of San Clemente, the Western White House."

"I haven't seen any economic indicators that would clearly define a significant change," he said.

SEARCHED IN RAID — Police line up suspects against a wall, including a woman at right, after they raided houses alleged to be headquarters of black militants and another police officer was shot in the gunfire. The policeman was shot, fifth in 36 hours, when police crashed through the door of a Black Panther Community Information Center in the heart of Northwest Philadelphia, near scene of the 1964 street riots.

17 Arrests In Wake Of Disturbance At Dance

Authorities and Latin-American leaders alike today were assessing a situation arising out of a major disturbance at midnight Saturday during a party at the Skateland Roller Rink.

Much of the weekend tension had subsided, in the wake of the fracas which brought numerous arrests.

Trouble erupted, according to police reports, when two off-duty policemen employed to maintain order at the dance tried to break up a minor affray in the rest room.

RESISTED ARREST

Officers Blackington and Montanez reported they were attempting to arrest a young man who allegedly had tried to knife one of the officers. The policemen said some of the crowd became belligerent and were taunting the officers.

Thirteen members of the police department, three highway patrolmen, and two deputy sheriffs were called to the scene before the disturbance was settled, and police reported considerable violence, including bottle and rock throwing in the parking lot outside the rink. A police car windshield was broken, and one officer knocked unconscious for several minutes by rocks. Various minor cuts and bruises were reported among police and members of the crowd, but no serious injuries.

MISDEMEANORS

Seventeen persons were arrested on misdemeanor charges. Five were turned over to juvenile authorities, eight are out on personal bond awaiting court hearings Wednesday, one was released to the VA Hospital due to aggravation of a physical infirmity, and two pleaded guilty and forfeited bond.

Police Chief Jay Banks said this morning, "We are now studying the situation. If everyone agrees to cool it, this will be all. If not, we will bring felony cases before the grand jury."

"I would like to emphasize," Banks continued, "that everyone at the dance did not participate in the disturbance. Many expressed regret that the incident occurred."

MANY UNINVITED

"I would also like to emphasize that we do not believe this was the desire of the majority of the people. Most of these involved were young people. We think it behooves us all to get together and cool our heads and keep tough situations from occurring in the future."

The party had been planned to honor a teenage Mexican-American girl, and a city dance permit had been issued for the affair to one of her parents. Of the 400 at the party, many were reportedly uninvited. Police who were at the scene noted that the great majority of those present did not participate in the disturbance, and made no attempt to interfere with the police action.

County Gets Soaking From Showers Of Varying Degree

A steadily falling light rain, in the pattern associated with early fall, was giving most of Howard County a soaking today.

Moisture was reported from many West Texas points, and most areas in Howard County shared in varying degrees. The noon total at the U.S. Experiment Station in Big Spring was .55 inch, and there was prospect of more, as heavy showers continued.

Half-inch and more seemed to be a fair gauge over the city. It was enough to make sizable rivulets run in the streets.

TO 4 INCHES

The area ranging from Knott to Ackerly apparently had heavier rains, with one estimate placing a downpour at 4 inches. The Farmers Coop Gin at Knott reported 1.5 inches there. Luther had 1.8 inches, a good part of this falling Sunday. Nearby, the fall was as much as 2.3 inches.

Brisk showers also skirted to the southwest of the city, with the Lomax area reporting 1.75 inches. Elbow, earlier in the morning, had reported only a sprinkle.

Coahoma also reported a "trace" in the first morning moisture. The Vincent area had up to 1 inch, but the showers were in varying amounts. Fairview had a shower amounting to .6 inch Sunday, and additional light rain was reported this morning.

NO LAKE RUNOFF

There was not enough hard rain to give the lakes any runoff, and Lake Thomas missed again. There was about a one-inch fall at the Big Spring-Odessa intake and .6 inch at the dam.

The rainfall brought a precipitous drop in temperatures, and the low reading Sunday night was 66 degrees. The high Sunday was 87.

IT CAME LATE

While the moisture is of benefit to ranches and pastures,

Dozen Policemen Shot During Riots

By The Associated Press

A dozen policemen in three cities were shot over the weekend, seven of them in Philadelphia, where one died. Urban violence flared also in Washington D.C., where two foreign missions were bombed and in Los Angeles, where Mexican-American rioting claimed one life.

RAIDING PARTY

The latest shootings in Philadelphia came this morning when three members of a police raiding party were wounded in an exchange of fire with barricaded occupants of what police said was a Black Panther community information center in the North Philadelphia area.

Inspector James Curran was hit in the right hand, Police Capt. Robert Martin in the stomach and hands and Patrolman Frank Eckman in the left leg. The injuries were not believed serious.

Fourteen arrests were made. Philadelphia police Sgt. Frank VonCollin, 43, was shot to death Saturday night while talking on the telephone in the guard house at Cobbs Creek Park. Earlier, park guard James Harrington, 39, was shot in the mouth while patrolling in an emergency wagon.

'KILL PIGS'

Sunday night, two highway patrolmen were shot and one was critically wounded in an incident in the same area, but Police Commissioner Frank Rizzo said he did not think the two shooting incidents were connected.

Rizzo blamed what he called a band of organized revolutionaries for the Saturday shootings. Two men were arrested and four others are being sought. "These men set out to—as they say—kill pigs," he said.

Rizzo said that highway patrolmen Thomas J. Gibbons, 25, and Frank Nolan, 28, were shot Sunday night as they approached a car with two men after chasing and curbing the vehicle. They shot back and wounded one of the men who was apprehended.

Gibbons was reported in critical condition and Nolan as satisfactory.

185 JAILED

Four policemen in Riverside, Calif., 65 miles southeast of Los Angeles, were shot from ambush Sunday night during a search of a Mexican-American neighborhood for persons suspected of throwing firebombs earlier. None was reported seriously injured.

Police said they did not know what precipitated the throwing of firebombs and rocks in a city park. Four persons were arrested but none was charged in the shootings, police said.

Trouble also erupted Sunday night in the Wilmington section of Los Angeles.

Police said about 500 Mexican-Americans touched off several fires in a 12-block area, threw rocks and hurled bottles. Some arrests were made.

Saturday night, one person died, more than 60 were injured and 185 jailed. Property damage estimates ranged up to $1 million with 178 businesses vandalized or looted.

The patrolman, Pio Rizzo, was in fair condition following the assault, the latest in an increasing number of attacks on police in the city this year.

Ill 'Doc' Winging Toward Australia

ODESSA (AP) — Still smiling and promising not to die, the West Texas one-time mystery doctor was carried by stretcher to an airliner bound for Los Angeles and then Australia Sunday as a crowd of 300 well-wishers waved goodbye.

Francis William Dalglish, 27, who was arrested in McCamey a month ago on charges of illegally practicing medicine, is not expected to survive a kidney ailment.

He was released from Medical Center Hospital here at 2:30 p.m. Sunday, was taken to Midland-Odessa Regional Air Terminal in a McCamey ambulance, and at 4:15 p.m. was carried by stretcher aboard a Texas International flight to Los Angeles.

IN GOOD SPIRITS

With him at the airport were his brother, Ian Dalglish from Australia, his former wife, Frances Samara, McCamey hospital administrator, Joe Collins, and friends from McCamey.

Though supine on a stretcher, Dalglish appeared to be in good spirits. He smiled and said if he made it past the next two weeks, he thought he would live.

His brief stint as a doctor in McCamey apparently won him friends who stuck by him even after he was accused of being a fake doctor.

The charge was giving a false statement while posing as a doctor, but Collins, who uncovered the doctor's guise, said, "I can't fault his work."

Dalglish is qualified as a veterinary technologist in Australia and has a degree in animal husbandry. He claims to have studied at London Medical School and also in the United States.

At least $600 of his air fare back to Australia was contributed by McCamey and Odessa people after they heard his brother, Ian Dalglish, was unable to raise the necessary funds.

Ian was able to arrange passage back to Australia through British authorities in Washington, D.C., and Houston.

Two Odessa lawyers posted the $3,500 bond placed on him by Upton County authorities.

Black Panther McLucas Guilty

NEW HAVVN, Conn. (AP) — A Superior Court jury convicted Black Panther Lonnie McLucas today of conspiracy to murder in connection with the May, 1969, slaying of Alex Rackley, a fellow Panther.

The verdict came after more than 35 hours of deliberation which started Wednesday afternoon. McLucas was acquitted of the other three charges against him: Kidnaping resulting in death, conspiracy to kidnap and binding with criminal intent.

Meany Gets Mean

Ambassador Escapes Rebs

THE HAGUE (AP) — Three busloads of young Indonesian rebels stormed the residence of the Indonesian ambassador today, killed a Dutch police guard and hoisted the flag of the 1950 Republic of the South Moluccas.

Ambassador T. A. Natadiningrat escaped and went into hiding, but his wife, their two children and 10 other persons were held hostage in the suburban embassy mansion.

The raiders demanded that Indonesian President Suharto, due in the Netherlands Tuesday, receive J. A. Manusama, who calls himself the president-in-exile of the South Moluccas. Suharto is making the first visit by an Indonesian president to his country's former colonial masters.

Indonesian Foreign Minister Adam Malik said in Jakarta that Suharto has informed the Dutch government he will not make the scheduled visit until the wife and children of the Indonesian ambassador are released by the Ambonese dissidents.

The raiders were Ambonese exiles from the East Indonesian island of Ambon. They or their families fled from Indonesia after the brief 1950 revolt which proclaimed the Republic of the South Moluccas and now contend that Suharto heads a military dictatorship which subjugates the East Indonesian islanders.

Will Rule On Busing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court agreed today to rule on the busing of school children to achieve integration in the South.

In a brief order the court said it would hear argument Oct. 12 on school cases from Charlotte-Mecklenburg County, N.C., Mobile, Ala., and Clarke County, Ga.

At the same time the court will review a North Carolina law that forbids "involuntary" busing of children.

In all, six cases were granted review. Together they present what the court hopes are all the major remaining school desegregation questions.

These include the "neighborhood school concept" and "racial balance," as well as busing and the use of state funds to pay for student transportation.

THERE IS 'SOME HOPE' FOR MIDDLE EAST SITUATION

Nixon Says He Sees 'Certain Peace' In Vietnam

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — President Nixon said today that "so far as the United States involvement is concerned in Vietnam, peace is certain."

He referred, in a taped television interview for today's CBS Morning News, to the program of withdrawing U.S. troops and replacing them with South Vietnamese.

The President also expressed the view that there is "some hope" for the Middle East situation now that a cease-fire has been called. He played down suggestions at this time for a U.S.-Soviet peace-keeping force in the area.

Nixon said he would predict nothing and expect nothing as Hanoi's chief negotiator Xuan Thuy returns to the Paris peace talks Thursday.

There are no new U.S. initiatives, Nixon said, but "we are in a very flexible negotiating position" and "now we shall see whether the other side is interested in one too."

The interview was filmed at the Western White House Saturday.

Asked whether he thought chances for peace were better in the Middle East or Southeast Asia, Nixon declined to speculate.

GOOD START

Before the cease-fire, Nixon remarked, the Middle East situation "had no hope; since the cease-fire, it has some hope." He cautioned against being overly optimistic, saying differences and passions going back thousands of years "are not settled quickly."

"However, as far as we are concerned, we believe we have made some progress," he said. "Because, after all, there is a cease-fire. People aren't being killed now. And as long as that goes on, it looks better than it was."

Nixon was asked about a suggestion mentioned by high administration officials at a Western White House briefing for news executives last week of the possibility of a U.S.-Soviet military force under United Nations auspices to keep the Middle East peace.

SKIP IT

"I would not comment on it at this time," the President said, adding:

"I do not believe that suggestions of that type, well intentioned as they are, are going to be particularly helpful at a time when the Jarring mission is going forward."

He referred to the Israeli-Arab talks being conducted at the United Nations by Ambassador Gunnar Jarring.

Nixon has scheduled a general review of the Middle East situation at the Western White House Tuesday with State and Defense departments, Central Intelligence and military chiefs represented.

In the interview with John Hart and Bernard Kalb, Nixon also discussed his practice of leaving Washington from time to time to stay here, in Florida or at his Camp David retreat in Maryland.

"It changes the perspective, so that you aren't in a rut, you don't think in a way that is non-creative," he said, adding:

"A beautiful place is a place to, well, to clear the mind but when it comes to making important decisions or it comes to writing something that has to be precise, there is no substitute for just sitting in a bare room."

Nixon turned aside as "pre-mature" a question whether he could conceive of anyone but Spiro T. Agnew as a running mate in 1972.

SPIRO'S SIDEBURNS

GUAM (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says it's true he is wearing his sideburns longer lately. "It's just an effort on my part to make my photographs look like I'm not bald from half-way up," he explained to newsmen during a stop Sunday en route home from a trip to Southeast Asia. "The gray hair doesn't show in the pictures."

Knops, 27, refused Friday to answer queries during jury's probe of Aug. 24 bomb blast at University of Wisconsin. His paper quoted "the New Year's Gang" as taking credit for bombing.

Barge Blast Claims Four

MORGAN CITY, La. (AP) — Four workmen were killed Sunday in the blinding flash of an explosion that ripped a barge tied to an oil company dock in Belle River 12 miles north of Morgan City.

It happened at almost the same spot where a propane gas blast killed four persons on July 24.

Five men, including welders, were working on the barge at the Wanda Petroleum Co. dock when the blast went off, tearing off the front end of the steel barge and chopping off the boom of a dragline sitting on its deck.

One of the five, Allen Granger of Eunice, escaped with slight injuries.

In Eunice, Wesley Cormier, assistant dispatcher for South Louisiana Contracting Co., said the four men killed were Arnold Leger Jr., of Eunice and Hugh Guillory of Mamou, La., both employed by the company; and Hubert Meeks and his son, Jimmy, of Meeks Welding Services, Eunice.

A spokesman for the Assumption Parish sheriff's office said the men were welding.

'Amendment To End War' Vote Expected Tuesday

WASHINGTON (AP) — Legislation to pull all U.S. troops out of Vietnam by 1972 appears doomed in a long-awaited Senate vote Tuesday. But win or lose, backers proclaim strategic dividends.

The so-called "Amendment to End the War" looks to fall several votes short in a roll call.

But doves say they'll show enough strength to reflect the sharp divisions throughout the nation over the war, and view the precedent-making chance to make their formal stand a major moral victory.

Whatever the outcome, they add, the Nixon administration must regard a significant show for the amendment as a profound portent that Congress will insist upon a fuller role in shaping war and peace.

It is noted by most observers, however, that whatever the enthusiasm the amendment may stir in the Senate, it likely would be overwhelmed in the more hawkish House.

"The vote on this amendment forces each senator to face squarely his own responsibility for either continuing or ending the involvement of American forces in the Indochina conflict," said Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., Sunday in an article written for The Associated Press.

LOUD, CLEAR

Assistant Republican Leader Robert P. Griffin said passage would disrupt the Vietnamization program, undercut President Nixon's efforts to end the war and could prolong rather than shorten the conflict.

"The adoption of such an amendment would trumpet loud and clear to the Asian Communists that they need not negotiate seriously, that they could attain by default what they could not win on the battlefield," Griffin said, also in an article written for The AP.

"If the Senate should approve this resolution, which it won't, it would be a signal to our friends and foes alike that we, as a nation, are unwilling to measure up to the responsibilities we have assumed," Griffin said.

McGovern, however, said adoption of the measure would restore a lost constitutional balance between the White House and Congress in the conduct of foreign affairs.

DANGER

In South Vietnam, he agreed, adoption of the amendment would probably lead to a coalition government.

The amendment calls for reducing U.S. troop strength to 280,000 by the end of next April and for barring the use of funds after that date for any purpose other than winding down combat and withdrawing all U.S. military forces by the end of the year.

The President would be given one 60-day period in which he could suspend withdrawal and resume active combat to thwart a "clear and present danger" to U.S. troops. Other extensions could be granted after first obtaining congressional approval.

Arrest 72, Seize Drugs

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP) — Police arrested 72 persons and seized an estimated $3,000 worth of drugs and a number of weapons this weekend during disturbances in the Forest Park area.

Four persons were charged with possession of narcotics, officials said. Most of the others were charged with breach of the peace and unlawful assembly.

Fifty-two of the arrests occurred Saturday night when a police cruiser went to the park in response to a complaint that people were blocking the roadway.

Mexican-Americans Hint School Boycott At Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston public schools open today under a court-ordered desegregation plan and with the threat of a boycott by Mexican-American pupils.

Administrators expect some 245,000 youngsters to show up today, with 46,000 of them reporting to new schools, the result of the court-ordered integration plan.

In all 232 schools there will be new teachers, also as a result of the plan which ordered extensive integration of faculty.

School officials have had less than a week to make some of the changes, due to an amendment by the Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals last week to the desegregation plan handed down earlier this summer by U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally.

The amendments substituted a geographic zoning plan for all high schools and ordered that 24 elementary schools be paired.

The pairing of the elementary schools brought about the threat of a boycott from Mexican-Americans, who say that because the school district lumps them in with whites they are taking the brunt of the integration burden.

About 600 Mexican-Americans met Sunday and called on all Mexican-American parents to keep their children home today. The meeting was called by the Mexican-American Educational Council, which was formed after the pairings were ordered.

'SERIOUS THING'

"We end up having the inconvenience and very few of the advantages of integration," said Leonel Castillo, director of the community relations council of the Catholic Diocese of Galveston-Houston.

The group has demanded that the school class Mexican-Americans as a separate racial minority when desegregation plans are drawn.

Nine of the paired elementary schools are predominantly Mexican-American and 15 predominantly Negro.

"This is a very serious thing — we understand that — and we are committed to go along with it," he said.

DEBARKED FROM HIJACKED AIRLINER — Six women, one of whom was on her honeymoon with her husband, are shown in Cagliari, Sardinia, today after they and five others were allowed to disembark from a hijacked Algerian airliner. Mrs. Louf Ben Mak, wearing white dress at right center, said she and her husband were married Sunday. Her husband had to remain aboard the plane with the hijackers, who flew on to Brindisi, Italy, and then to Dubrovnik, Yugoslavia. Their apparent destination was Albania.

Skyjackers Surrender To Yugoslav Officers

DUBROVNIK, Yugoslavia (AP) — Three North Africans hijacked an Algerian airliner early today and tried to get to Communist Albania but surrendered to Yugoslav police after the weather kept the plane out of Tirana, the Albanian capital.

With 31 North Africans aboard, the plane landed at Dubrovnik, on Yugoslavia's Adriatic coast 85 miles northwest of Tirana, after a refueling stop in Sardinia and a detour through Brindisi, Italy.

After two hours on the ground, the hijackers "were persuaded by Yugoslav police to surrender, and they left the plane of their own will," an airport spokesman said.

Three men hijacked the twin-engine Conqair 640 during a flight along the Algerian coast. There were 42 persons aboard, but the hijackers let 11 get off during a three-hour stop in Cagliari, the Sardinian capital. Then the plane took off for Albania, but bad weather prevented a landing at Tirana. The stop in Brindisi lasted 2½ hours, while the air base there tried unsuccessfully to contact Tirana for a landing clearance.

Two of the hijackers were armed with pistols and the third had an eight-inch switchblade knife. Their nationality was not known, but the plane's stewardess said they spoke Arabic to each other and French to the plane crew. The other 35 passengers and four crew members were Algerian.

The plane was on a domestic flight along the Algerian coast from Annaba, near the Tunisian border, to Constantine and Algiers.

Fishermen Tie Up Boats To Protest

SEATTLE (AP) — Hundreds of American and Canadian fishermen tied up their boats in Pacific Coast harbors for the weekend to protest Russian and Asiatic fishing along the continental shelf.

About 1,400 U.S. boats were idled at Washington and Oregon ports during the protest, which began Friday night. Another 400 pulled into Victoria, B.C. By Sunday most boats had gone to sea again, however.

The commercial fishermen, including those in Alaska, contend that Russian, South Korean and Japanese vessels are operating within the territorial 12-mile limits of the United States and Canada.

American fishermen are backing the demand of their Canadian colleagues who want adoption of a 200-mile territorial limit.

Canadian Fisheries Minister Jack Davis met with a 16-member fishermen's delegation Saturday night in Victoria and said the fishermen would have an active role in negotiations with Soviet officials starting Sept. 21 in Ottawa.

Foreign nations involved say their fishermen take species such as hake that are ignored by Americans and Canadians. They also deny that territorial waters have been invaded.

However, American and Canadian fishermen contend Russian and Japanese fishing fleets have been harvesting salmon reared in North American waters.

Japan, Canada and the United States belong to the Pacific International Fisheries Compact, which sets fish harvest limits and specifies harvest areas for the three participating members. Russia and South Korea are not compact members.

Gerald D. Simmons, Ilwaco, Wash., an officer of the West Coast Trollers Association, said foreign vessels, particularly the Russians, do not adhere to international safety rules.

Blood-washed highways and smoking guns accounted for most of the sudden rise in violent deaths in Texas over the last weekend of August.

The Associated Press began its regular weekend tabulation of violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and continued counting the victims through midnight Sunday.

By midnight Sunday the grim count had risen to 36 dead with 22 killed in car wrecks, seven in shootings and the remainder in various incidents.

JAIL ESCAPEES

A Garland man, William R. Durham, 30, was shot to death in Dallas Sunday night. Police arrested a 21-year-old woman who police said told them she shot Durham when he tried to force his way into a home she was visiting.

Mrs. Ola M. Downey, 66, of Dallas died Sunday of injuries received August 13 during a robbery at her gift shop.

Police said two Grayson County jail escapees will be charged with murder in connection with the case. The men were rearrested a day after the robbery and were charged with robbery. Bobbie Annette Newman, 21, was killed at Longview Saturday when she lost control of her motorcycle and was pitched under the wheels of a car.

William Albert Johnson, 42, of Waukaster was shot to death Sunday in what Dallas County officers said was a dispute over a mobile home. Sheriff's deputies arrested a suspect, 62, and jailed him in Dallas.

STABBED TO DEATH

Mark Brown, 17 months old, was killed when a pickup truck driven by his father backed over him. The accident occurred Sunday in the family driveway at Pasadena.

Fire that swept a home in the Oak Cliff section of Dallas killed Gary Edward Platt, 10, Mike Sherley, 29, was injured in the blaze which firemen said apparently started from cleaning fluid.

Robert Henry Perez, 26, and Santos Rios, 42, both of Corpus Christi were killed Sunday in a car-pickup truck collision on U.S. 261 near Falfurrias.

Mike Montez, 15, of San Antonio was stabbed to death Saturday night when a group of youths attacked two young couples near a San Antonio Lake. Stanley Jackson, 19, of Dallas was stabbed to death when he and a companion were attacked by three men on a street in South Dallas early Sunday.

Edward Sohn, 18, a soldier stationed at San Antonio's Ft. Sam Houston, was shot once in the face Friday night during what police said was an argument with another man over a girl.

Sohn was killed by a single shotgun blast and a 20-year-old man was being held in connection with the killing.

In Dallas, Margaret S. Malone, 27, died Friday night when her car rammed a utility pole. William Earl Taylor, 29, of Lufkin died in that Northeast Texas city early Saturday when his car skidded and wrapped itself around a tree.

Two persons, a physician and his wife, died in a fire which swept through their Lubbock home early Saturday. The victims were identified as Dr. and Mrs. William A. Anderson.

Three persons were injured and one killed Saturday in a two-car accident near Belton.

NOT A TIE IN SIGHT — Informality seemed to be the key theme as a group of 10 designers, commissioned to create "forward looking" men's fashions, unveiled their flamboyant casual creations at a New York fashion show at week's end. In fact, the attire was so casual, the models' feet were bare.

Explains Changes In Welfare Laws

Lt. Joseph Saint presided at the Health and Welfare Committee meeting Friday at the Veteran's Administration Hospital, and introduced Coy Burt, district director of the state health and welfare commission.

Burt discussed changes in welfare legislation. He noted that the new Texas ruling to recognize common-law marriages had nearly doubled the number of dependent children eligible for welfare. He said "Due to the tightening welfare budget, by Oct. 1 all welfare applicants will have to fill out their own welfare questionnaires because there are not enough funds to pay clerical workers to assist the applicants. Adding to the work load of welfare employees is the national legislation permitting welfare aid to children in spite of there being an able-bodied man in the home, providing the man is not contributing to the children's support."

The next Health and Welfare Committee meeting will be Sept. 25.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here's a hint I discovered when cooking a roast in my electric skillet.

As soon as the lid starts bobbing and sputtering, you peek inside and discover all that good meat juice. Take out about a cup of that marvelous broth, set it aside and wait for that roast to finish cooking.

Then when you start to make your gravy (the broth in the cup is cold by then) punch a hole in the hardened fat on top of the broth in the cup and pour the greaseless broth back in the skillet and thicken it. It makes delicious gravy without all that grease. Mrs. M.S.

Dear Heloise: Keep an embroidery hoop in your laundry room. It will hold material taut as you remove stains. Mrs. P. Lewis

Dear Heloise: I roll all my odd pieces of rickrack and lace on an empty paper towel tube and secure the ends with a straight pin. Makes a neater and more organized drawer. Meracy

Dear Heloise: I never can find a purse organizer that fits my needs.

So I buy some of the smallest-sized brown paper mailers. I seal them and then cut them in half. I reinforce the cut edges with plastic tape. Then stand them up in my purse, which has a central zippered section and fill them with my "good" junk in an orderly fashion.

In one I keep coupons, and can slip my pen upright over the edge. I keep a couple of paper clips on them also to use in keeping real important items readily available. Confirmed Heloise

Dear Heloise: Here is a hint on how to use leftover chili:

Place chili in a shell of biscuit dough. I use canned biscuits and make my shells by spreading each biscuit around in the individual cups in a muffin tin. Add chili to each shell and bake at 350 degrees until browned. The kids love them.

I'm sure "store-bought" canned chili could also be used. A Reader

LETTER OF LAUGHTER Dear Heloise: I broke my wrist and was having friends help me with small tasks such as putting on a hairnet, etc.

Then I made up my mind that since I had a long nose, why not use it?

So I put the net under my nose, and used my good arm to adjust same. What do you know — it worked! Mrs. D.O.

Dear Heloise: At our house there is a standard rule — "No breakfast till your bed is made" — and that includes me too!

It only takes a few minutes to make a bed and it's wonderful to have them all done before breakfast.

Our children are now seven and four and it's second nature for them to wake up and make their beds right away.

Mrs. J. Rothleitner

Your idea is the answer to getting the beds made all right, but then there's the "old school" who believe in airing them first.

So take your pick, gals... whatever suits your fancy! Heloise

Just between you and me and the gatepost, Libby, I think your Daddy's idea is terrific! And a great big hug and a squeeze to you for letting us in on his secret! Heloise

Dear Heloise: Since my baby is too young to do the children's puzzle that appears in our newspaper, I cut them out and save them. When he's old enough he'll have a whole book of them to share with his friends. Jay's Mom

This column is written for you... the housewife and homemaker. If you have a hint or a problem write to Heloise in care of this newspaper. Because of the tremendous volume of mail, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will, however, answer your questions in her column whenever possible.

(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

A Devotion For Today . . .

"Behold, I stand at the door and knock; if any one hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in to him and eat with him, and he with me." (Revelation 3:20, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, we confess that we have often considered the ugliness in our lives as beauty, pride in our self-sufficiency as strength. Forgive us, we pray. Grant that we be captive to Thy love alone and willing always to respond to (From the 'Upper Room')

The Chamber And The Community

It is difficult to escape well-worn phrases in presenting arguments in behalf of city-wide support of the Chamber of Commerce.

In basics, this is the one organization that can speak up for all interests, and function in behalf of all. This applies in the areas of commerce, highway development, farm-and-ranch cooperation, cultural affairs, more efficient government, community-military communication — and perhaps a dozen others.

It can speak up as a community voice when matters need to be brought to the attention of governmental units, local, state and national. It can direct committee activities leading to such progress as a cleaner city, more paving, more parks, better standards for all.

Principally, it is the vehicle to provide information and to create a community atmosphere to attract new businesses, industry and payrolls; and it is doing well in this area.

When the Chamber of Commerce falls short and draws criticism, however unjustified, the failure inevitably can be pointed to two factors: Lack of interested manpower and lack of funds.

The local C-C currently is attempting to overcome a delinquency in these two areas, by enlisting more members and building a more practical budget. Businessmen (and many individuals) ought to take a close look at whether they are doing — as member of a team — as much for their community as they should be doing. If they are not, they can make a wise community investment in the Chamber program. If this organization falters, the whole community falters.

Still A Major Problem

In November, 1968, Richard Nixon was elected to the presidency on a platform which included as one of its major tenets an increased drive for law and order in this nation.

Official statistics released this week by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover shed some doubt on the intensity and efficacy of that promised drive. The nation's crime rate rose 11 per cent in 1969.

This is not to say that no progress was made last year in the assault on crime. This national increase was the lowest in four years; it compared with a 17 per cent jump in 1968. But police were able to solve only 20 per cent of known serious crimes last year, Hoover reported, and the over-all clearance rate — crimes actually solved — dropped three per cent from the year before.

The significance of the six per cent decline in the rate of increase, considering the three per cent drop in the clearance rate, seems slight. In fact, referring to a "decline" could be misleading. The fact remains that the crime rate continued to increase.

It also should be remembered that the national unemployment rate has begun a slow upswing. It will be interesting to see whether this has any bearing on the crime rate in 1970.

Perhaps the wheels of the drive for law and order have only begun to turn. Perhaps it will take another year — or another two years — to achieve significant results. But the tide was not turned in 1969.

It may, in fact, be impossible to improve the outlook without more industrious attacks on all fronts — sociological causes — such factors as poverty, inadequate housing and neglect of the underprivileged, also on the problem of more prompt trial and punishment for offenders.

Business Outlook Improving?

WASHINGTON — Although there are some encouraging items in the government statistics about the business situation, "public confidence" — the most important factor in influencing the upward or downward trend in a period of recession — is playing an important role today. As the stock market shows signs of regaining strength, and as a number of major enterprises of the country appear to be moving ahead with plans for the rest of this year and also 1971, the first indications of a real optimism are making their appearance.

THE LABOR DEPARTMENT has announced that wholesale prices have declined, particularly for farm products, and that lower prices are emerging in various categories of foods. Other signs of a drop in prices are noted in certain articles which often have been responsible for an upward curve in buying. Most significant, however, is the impression now developing that the rate of inflation is continuing to slow down and that while the battle is by no means over, the turning point may have been reached in the struggle to keep the price spiral from disturbing so much of the economy.

BUSINESSMEN REALIZE that a readjustment cannot be accomplished in a single year and that the effects of the current rebuilding of the inflated economy will not be completed in a few months. But long-range planning takes into account what must be done next year and the year afterwards, and preparations are in order for the manufacture of enough goods to meet estimated demands. The automobile industry is always watched closely because of an assumption that purchases of cars are related not only to the buying power of the public but to the quantities on which it may be safe for the manufacturers to base anticipated sales.

THE IMPRESSION is that pending wage negotiations will not result in settlements as high as had been expected, or at least that prices will not be as gravely affected as might have been the case if the current recession had not occurred.

On the whole, businessmen are not as gloomy about the long-range future as they were a few months ago. There is a general confidence that the "worst is over" and that rises in the stock market have been reflecting the feeling that inflation has been slowing down and will at least not go beyond its present level. The government has tried in various ways to stimulate production — as, for instance, in housing and urban development — and has lent a helping hand in other projects.

THE NET EFFECT, however, is not likely to be felt for several months. The psychological mood is beginning to be one of confidence that the crisis has been met. The task from now on is to maintain a stable economy while the buying power of the American people increases. Prices will not be appreciably raised and, indeed, some may even be reduced.

The entire economic picture is changing slowly, but the trend is toward a recovery that may take a few months more to achieve. Once management in American business is convinced that the direction is upward, planning starts and business begins to move more and more toward higher production and increased employment.

THE ADMINISTRATION, of course, is maintaining a calm and unruffled position. It has from the outset insisted that restrictions of a sweeping nature — such as wage and price control — would do more harm than good and that inflation could be curbed by presenting the facts to labor and management so that the effects of any irresponsible attitude could be clearly foreseen.

If She Was, She Would Wed

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

It is a mistake to assume that all people suffer in this life to the same degree. There are those who would rather see a murder than watch a sunset — and a fortunate few who have more trouble with hangnails than heartaches.

Women have a greater tendency than men to paint themselves into a corner. For example, you have often heard a vexed woman exclaim: "I wouldn't marry him if he were the last man on earth!" But rarely, if ever, have you ever heard a man say of a woman, no matter how homely or exasperating she might be: "I wouldn't marry her if she were the last girl on earth." The truth in any case, of course, is: if he was, she would; if she was, he would.

We will have taken quite a step on the way to cultural integration when at least one out of every 10 white Americans can quote from memory two lines written by a Negro poet.

It is amazing how few men wear arjoke socks when they go to the bank to borrow money. I feel like crying whenever I see a single woman over 40 wearing a white hair ribbon in her long tresses. I get the same feeling when I hear a bugler sounding "Taps." Gallantry is always stirring.

An optimist is a guy who drinks three vodka martinis at lunch, goes back to the office, grabs his boss by the lapels, and asks for a merit raise. The depressing truth, however, is that sometimes that's as good a way to go about it as any.

The girl in the office who would make the best wife is usually the one who keeps a small sewing kit in her desk and has a safety pin to lend if you need one to keep pencils and small change from leaking out of a hole in your pants pocket.

No person, however intelligent, is utterly free from foolishness. Sometimes the bigger the brain, the easier it is for someone else to wash it.

There are two basic types of people: those who believe the label — and those who sample the contents before evaluating. The first kind have more fun; the second kind have better health.

An old-timer is a man who can remember when you got more respect from a salesman by paying for something in cash than telling him to charge it.

Anybody who can call more than three restaurant waiters by their first name either owns his firm or has a helluva fine expense account.

God is probably lonelier than the devil. But, on the other hand, He is certainly less bored.

Power Problems

By HARRY STEINBERG
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — Giant power companies are having the same trouble as the average housewife in trying to get electrical equipment repaired.

The housewife may not be able to have crisp toast because she can't get the toaster fixed. But the power company not being able to get the generator fixed means that major cities and thousands of people may do without the power they need.

Residents of New York City and New England, for example, have been through more than half-dozen voltage reductions or brown-outs this summer because utilities serving those areas have not been able to meet power demands. The main reason: their turbine-generators have been out of service.

Consolidated Edison, which serves the more than nine million residents of the New York area, is operating without 14 per cent of its 8.7 million kilowatt capacity.

The Northeast Power Exchange, an interconnection of 113 New England electric companies, has had a series of minor breakdowns and delays in returning turbine-generators to service following shutdowns for scheduled maintenance.

The problems involved in repairing turbine-generators, according to their manufacturers, is that despite their size — about 2,000 tons and half the size of a football field — they are nevertheless very delicate, finely-tuned machines.

"Each turbine-generator is custom built and it takes from three to four years to build one," an official of Westinghouse Electric explained.

Since the units are built to specification, there are no off-the-shelf spare parts, and replacement parts have to be hand made, he added.

As an example of the complexity of a turbine-generator, officials at Consolidated Edison say they still haven't figured out what caused its Ravenswood III unit to short-circuit. Workmen have been probing its innards for more than a month.

Meanwhile, Westinghouse has been commissioned to fabricate the three inch-thick copper coils burned out by the short circuit. Company officials say they expect to deliver them by October.

Con Ed estimates that Ravenswood III — also known as Big Allis, after Allis Chalmers, its manufacturer — may be back in service by May, 1971.

Since completing Big Allis in 1965, Allis-Chalmers has stopped making turbine-generators. Recently, however, it announced that plans to re-enter the field in partnership with a West German firm.

Besides Westinghouse, the only other manufacturer of turbine-generators is General Electric.

Around The Rim

A Writer Hopes He Has Readers

The silent majority was never more silent than when they read after a paper or a writer.

Regrettably, most of the readers never offer a word of damnation or praise when they absorb what a publication or an author has to say. Most of the time, you don't know whether they're out there or not and the writers get the feeling they have suffered the biggest slight of all — that of not having been read.

WRITERS NEED readers just like grocery stores need customers and gasoline stations need automobiles.

To the author, the height of flattery is to be praised or chastized by mail or by personal contact. The smart writers are those who reappraise their reasoning after contact with their public and become better at their trade for it.

The author who would close his mind to criticism is dead and doesn't know it.

SOME OF THE MOST articulate people I have known were supposedly simple folks who worked at seemingly simple trades. On the other hand, some of the biggest dunderheads with whom I have come in contact hide behind the facade of college educations. Some can't put together a simple, declarative sentence. If they do write, chances are those sentences are rife with misspelled words. Often what they compose is gibberish.

THE HEART-WARMING letters you get are from those who share with you the hard-won knowledge of a life time, the compassionate people who realize there is a little bit of bad in everyone. Some of that kind can be patronizing and testy but most, in their own way, are trying to be helpful.

In a lifetime, a writer for a public gazette does a lot of soul-searching. He continually asks himself — what contribution am I making to society, a society that might or might not invest ten cents a day for a paper and, likely as not, will ignore what I have to say.

HE CAN THEN cut his wrists or can stand off and study the industry he's in general. What would life be without the written word? Quite dismal and most unrewarding, I'd say.

An old newsman once told me that "two lines in a newspaper can ruin a man for life."

That's true. It can be an awesome weapon. But it also prides itself on being a great friend, a light that shines eternally in the darkness.

Steak At Your Door

Houston Grocer Returns To Phone Orders

HOUSTON (AP) — Years ago, those under 30 are told, grocery shopping was easier.

You didn't have to fight traffic to the shopping center, push your cart up and down miles of aisles, wait what seemed like hours in checkout lines, then lug your groceries home.

Instead, you called the neighborhood grocer who took the order over the phone, then delivered it to your door.

BUT THE BIG supermarkets, with their mass buying and merchandizing, shot down the mom and pop grocer. The neighborhood grocer just couldn't match those prices or the varied stock the supermarkets provided.

Now a Houston man has brought back shopping by phone and home delivery and he says he offers the same variety and price savings.

Bill Rogers got the idea for Tel-A-Food because he just didn't like going to the grocery store.

So last February, he opened his company and in July moved into his new, 11,000 square foot warehouse.

So far, he hasn't spent much on advertising and promotion but some women have stopped the firm's trucks to ask drivers for food catalogues, Rogers said.

BASICALLY, a housewife makes out her food order from Rogers' catalogue of thousands of items.

Then she telephones her list to one of the firm's 10 operators at the warehouse. Next the order is collected, bagged and delivered to the home.

"The economics are good," Rogers said. "We meet the chain's prices. But we eliminate so much of the interior expense and personnel of a regular grocery store that we can sell competitively, home deliver and make a profit."

At present, Tel-A-Food just sells in the affluent southwest side of Houston. But Rogers says he hopes to expand throughout the city and even to other cities.

Although the company requires a minimum order of $10, "We haven't had one complaint."

A NUMBER of orders have been for more than $100, he said, with few less than $20. "The normal grocery store averages a $12 ticket," he said.

Rogers buys all his meat from one supplier, cuts and packages it and delivers it frozen. He also has set up his own produce company, keeping the better produce for his Tel-A-Food customers, he said, and selling the rest to institutions.

All his delivery drivers are off-duty firemen.

"They know the city as well as anybody. They're all bonded. They're all good people." He explains.

His company could be the forerunner of a trend. A San Diego, Calif., concern plans to start a service this summer called Telemart Enterprises, Rogers said.

"People in 14 states have called me about starting a facility like Tel-A-Food," Rogers said.

BUT RIGHT now, "We don't have competition. It's beautiful. Of course, we're bound to have competitors sooner or later."

In Houston, supermarkets sell $800 million a year, Rogers said. He thinks this company can get three per cent of that.

Rogers figures that at least three per cent of Houston residents are like him, they just hate to turn themselves into a motor for a grocery cart.

Andrew Tully

The Result Of Federal Wiretaps

(Andrew Tully is on holiday. During his absence his column is being written by various national figures.)

By JOHN N. MITCHELL

Attorney General of the United States Government investigators now have a strong upper hand in their relentless attack against organized crime, particularly gambling and narcotics.

This is evident from an analysis of the first full year of operation under the electronic surveillance section of the Omnibus Crime Control Act of 1968, which permits wiretaps to be installed under court order.

THIS IMPORTANT crime-fighting tool, enacted by Congress in June of 1968, was not used until after Jan. 20, 1969. Since then, the Department of Justice has found it increasingly effective against criminal syndicate activity.

Widespread fears that the act would result in a mass invasion of the agents have proven false. To maintain the public's privacy by government strict control, I personally approve every application for a wiretap that is submitted to a court by a federal agency.

THE CRIME CONTROL Act has had another little known benefit for private citizens who are concerned about the indiscriminate use of wiretaps by other private, non-governmental sources.

It is now illegal for private individuals to use or possess any devices primarily designed for surreptitious interception. It is also illegal to promote or advertise the sale of such equipment.

AS A RESULT, the number of complaints regarding electronic eavesdropping by private individuals on one another has dropped more than 60 per cent since the law was enacted.

On the federal level, tight controls have been maintained by the Justice Department over use of the wire-tapping statute. At the same time, federal courts have been giving close scrutiny to the reasons behind wiretap requests in order to guard against any possible misapplication.

Operating within these safeguards, the Justice Department in the past 18 months has arrested 419 persons with the aid of information supplied by electronic surveillance measures. Of those arrested, 325 persons have been indicted and five convicted. The number of convictions is small at present because only a few cases have come to trial.

DURING THE FIRST 18 months of the Nixon Administration, the Department of Justice asked federal courts to approve the use of 137 electronic interceptions. Only one request was turned down. Three taps which were authorized were never used. That left 133 which actually were used, and all but 12 resulted in arrests or indictments.

The type of cases in which these interceptions were used gives an indication of the pressure being mounted against the activities from which organized crime derives much of its illegal income: 82 taps were used in gambling investigations and 28 in narcotic investigations.

THERE HAVE BEEN many laments over this section of law. Some fear it is ineffective. Some maintain it is unconstitutional.

During the past 18 months, we have shown the law-abiding citizens of this country that they have nothing to fear from use of this statute. We also have shown how effective it can be in attacking criminal activity that can be reached in no other way.

On-The-Job Training Bill Challenge Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats are mounting a challenge to the Nixon administration's on-the-job training bill which they hope will spotlight the issues of unemployment and the economy shortly before the Nov. 3 congressional elections.

The challenge was laid down by the Democratic majority on the Labor and Public Welfare Committee which added a multibillion dollar public service employment program to the bill.

The administration strongly opposes such a program on fiscal and other grounds.

Senate Democratic leaders have scheduled the legislation for floor action around mid-September. Republican conservatives have pledged a fight to eliminate or cut back on the public service job features.

Sen. Gaylord Nelson, D-Wis., chief sponsor of the bill, insists these features are fully as important as the government's manpower training programs which would be extended three years by the measure.

U. S., Israel Engaged In 'Strenuous Dispute'

TEL AVIV (AP) — Prime Minister Golda Meir said today Israel is engaged in a "strenuous dispute" with the United States over Israeli charges of Egyptian violations of the Middle East cease-fire along the Suez Canal.

"As initiator of the proposal, the United States promised that neither side would be allowed to improve its position through the cease-fire," she told a meeting of the Histadrut, Israel's labor federation.

"Only a few hours passed (after the shooting halt took effect Aug. 7) and already the Egyptians began violating the agreement, and these violations are still continuing," she said.

"Israel cannot concede on this point and agree to become weaker if fighting is renewed on the canal."

MOVING MISSILES

Israel claims Egypt is moving missiles into the so-called forbidden zone—a 30-mile-wide strip along both sides of the canal where, according to the cease-fire agreement, no military material may be moved up at least for the 90-day duration of the truce.

Mrs. Meir denied Israel accepted the cease-fire because its air force could not stand up to Soviet missiles in the canal zone.

This was a rebuff to Foreign Minister Abba Eban, who said Saturday that had Israel rejected the cease-fire, it would have lost its air superiority against Egypt.

In Jerusalem informants said the Israeli Cabinet appeared in a crisis, with doves and hawks in sharp dispute on whether to continue with the peace talks in New York in the light of the Israeli charges of Egyptian violations.

AWAIT DEBATE

The Israeli delegate to the talks at U.N. headquarters is staying in Israel at least until the middle of the week, awaiting the outcome of the Cabinet debate.

The Jerusalem informants said some of the Cabinet ministers were seeking to close the gap of disagreement between the doves and Defense Minister Moshe Dayan over whether to continue the talks in the light of the Israeli charges against Egypt.

Yosef Tekoah, the Israeli ambassador to the United Nations, who flew to Jerusalem last week after a day of Arab-Israeli meetings with the U.N. Middle East special envoy, Gunnar V. Jarring, reported to the seven-hour Cabinet meeting in Jerusalem on Sunday. A spokesman said later Tekoah would remain in Israel for another Cabinet session Tuesday.

MET TWICE

Dayan met twice with Mrs. Meir during the weekend, then was joined by the Israeli military chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Haim Bar-Lev in presenting to the Cabinet the military's position on the alleged violations.

They presumably were supported by Israel Galili, minister without portfolio in the Cabinet, who said Saturday that Egyptian violations of the truce could force Israel to walk out of the negotiations being conducted by Jarring with the U.N. ambassadors from Israel, Egypt and Jordan.

The seventh violation charge was similar to the others. Israel again said the Egyptians are continuing construction of an aircraft carrier within 15 miles of the canal. But Nasser told a foreign delegation visiting Cairo that "the missiles have been in their present places since long before the standstill became effective" at midnight Aug. 7.

NO PROOF

"There is no material proof that Israel really wants the establishment of peace despite her announced acceptance of the U.S. plan," he said. "This is evident from the latest statements by Israeli leaders that they are ready to withdraw from only parts of the occupied territories."

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban called Friday for a compromise settlement in which Israeli forces would retain some of the territory taken during the June, 1967, war.

Cairo Radio claimed the statements by Eban and Galili were the prelude to Israeli withdrawal from the peace talks. It also said the United States by supplying military equipment to Israel shows "its insincerity toward the implementation of the American-sponsored peace initiative in the Middle East."

In Amman, Jordan's capital, government troops clashed Sunday for the third night with Palestinian guerrillas opposed to the peace moves. Three guerrillas were reported wounded, and sporadic gunfire continued to fly in Amman. Government representatives and the guerrillas' central committee scheduled a meeting to discuss ways of preventing further clashes.

Maintenance crews at Webb AFB worked around the clock over the weekend to replace a defective part which has temporarily restricted from flying all T-38 jet trainers in the Air Force Training Command.

Local crews repaired 42 of the supersonic aircraft, including two transient aircraft from Moody AFB, Ga.

The activity followed an order from ATC grounding all T-38s for inspection of a defective valve. A spokesman for ATC at Randolph AFB, San Antonio, said the action was taken as a precautionary measure after the Command received reports of a defective valve on the plane's power plant.

The flying restriction will not seriously delay Webb's flying or graduations, since, because of good flying weather, Webb is well ahead of its flying schedule. Col. A. W. Atkinson, wing commander, said Webb will be operating at about 60 per cent normal schedule.

Values with plastic roller devices rather than metal were being replaced, an ATC spokesman said. The number of valves replaced and the total number of planes grounded at other bases was not available.

The spokesman said the Air Training Command receives reports from all its bases on recurring airplane problems. When the same trouble develops on the same type of craft at several bases, that model is grounded for inspection, he said.

Air Force bases in Texas affected by the order are Randolph: Laughlin AFB, Del Rio; Laredo AFB; Webb AFB, Big Spring; Reese AFB, Lubbock.

Other bases are Williams AFB, Chandler, Ariz.; Vance AFB, Enid, Okla.; Craig AFB, Selma, Ala.; Columbus, Miss.; AFB, and Tyndall AFB, Panama City, Fla.

Convictions, at least those for robbing financial institutions protected by federal bank robbery laws, fall far short of the total number of offenses.

Bank robbery has risen by 296 per cent since 1960, compared with a jump of 186 per cent in street robberies such as mugging and armed holdup. All violent crimes, including robbery, rose 130 per cent during the decade.

Banking institutions are sustaining mounting monetary losses, of course, but the more alarming problem involves the numerous acts of violence inflicted upon the bank employees, bank customers and law enforcement officers during the commission of these crimes.

Hoover told a congressional committee recently.

In one of the most brutal cases recorded by the FBI in recent years, three armed robbers forced one woman employee and three women customers into the vault of a savings and loan office in Cincinnati, Ohio, last year, shot them to death and fled with $275.

"Dashing Dan," so named for his fast footwork, is accused of robbing 19 New York banks in a three-month period earlier this year, getting away with $34,000 without so much as pulling a gun.

Dan would hand the teller a note, warning that he had a gun and demanding large denominated bills. If the teller hesitated, he would say "excuse me" and walk away. If the teller complied, he said "thank you" and left with the loot.

Bank robberies now number about 2,000 per year and losses run in the millions of dollars.

Three persons were injured in a collision Sunday afternoon 10 miles west of Big Spring on Hwy. 176. According to a report from Alert Ambulance, the three were taken to Medical Center Memorial Hospital. They sustained minor injuries, including one broken bone, in the accident.

Those injured were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Scott, Andrews, and Mrs. Janie Marin, Big Spring.

Webb Hastens Work On Valve Change In T-38

Maintenance crews at Webb AFB worked around the clock over the weekend to replace a defective part which has temporarily restricted from flying all T-38 jet trainers in the Air Force Training Command.

Local crews repaired 42 of the supersonic aircraft, including two transient aircraft from Moody AFB, Ga.

The activity followed an order from ATC grounding all T-38s for inspection of a defective valve. A spokesman for ATC at Randolph AFB, San Antonio, said the action was taken as a precautionary measure after the Command received reports of a defective valve on the plane's power plant.

The flying restriction will not seriously delay Webb's flying or graduations, since, because of good flying weather, Webb is well ahead of its flying schedule. Col. A. W. Atkinson, wing commander, said Webb will be operating at about 60 per cent normal schedule.

Values with plastic roller devices rather than metal were being replaced, an ATC spokesman said. The number of valves replaced and the total number of planes grounded at other bases was not available.

The spokesman said the Air Training Command receives reports from all its bases on recurring airplane problems. When the same trouble develops on the same type of craft at several bases, that model is grounded for inspection, he said.

Air Force bases in Texas affected by the order are Randolph: Laughlin AFB, Del Rio; Laredo AFB; Webb AFB, Big Spring; Reese AFB, Lubbock.

Other bases are Williams AFB, Chandler, Ariz.; Vance AFB, Enid, Okla.; Craig AFB, Selma, Ala.; Columbus, Miss.; AFB, and Tyndall AFB, Panama City, Fla.

Convictions, at least those for robbing financial institutions protected by federal bank robbery laws, fall far short of the total number of offenses.

Bank robbery has risen by 296 per cent since 1960, compared with a jump of 186 per cent in street robberies such as mugging and armed holdup. All violent crimes, including robbery, rose 130 per cent during the decade.

Banking institutions are sustaining mounting monetary losses, of course, but the more alarming problem involves the numerous acts of violence inflicted upon the bank employees, bank customers and law enforcement officers during the commission of these crimes.

Hoover told a congressional committee recently.

In one of the most brutal cases recorded by the FBI in recent years, three armed robbers forced one woman employee and three women customers into the vault of a savings and loan office in Cincinnati, Ohio, last year, shot them to death and fled with $275.

"Dashing Dan," so named for his fast footwork, is accused of robbing 19 New York banks in a three-month period earlier this year, getting away with $34,000 without so much as pulling a gun.

Dan would hand the teller a note, warning that he had a gun and demanding large denominated bills. If the teller hesitated, he would say "excuse me" and walk away. If the teller complied, he said "thank you" and left with the loot.

Bank robberies now number about 2,000 per year and losses run in the millions of dollars.

Three persons were injured in a collision Sunday afternoon 10 miles west of Big Spring on Hwy. 176. According to a report from Alert Ambulance, the three were taken to Medical Center Memorial Hospital. They sustained minor injuries, including one broken bone, in the accident.

Those injured were Mr. and Mrs. James E. Scott, Andrews, and Mrs. Janie Marin, Big Spring.

TRAINING NOT DELAYED — T-Sgt. Jack Stevenson of Webb's Maintenance Control displays a bleeder valve he has just removed from the engine of a Northrup T-38 Talon. All T-38s in the Air Training Command were grounded Friday because of a malfunction of this valve, and Webb's maintenance men worked all weekend to inspect and make any necessary repairs on the aircraft here. Because of this work, Webb's pilot training program will not suffer any setback.

Nichols' Putt Aids Confidence, Wallet

CLIFTON, N.J. (AP) — It's been a long time between victories for Bobby Nichols. It's been a long time between putters too.

Using the same $5 putter he used to take the 1964 PGA tournament, Nichols dropped in a 10-footer on the 18th hole Sunday for a birdie for the $60,000 first prize in golf's richest tournament, the Dow Jones Open.

That gave him a 69 for the day and a 276 for the tournament, one stroke better than Labron Harris, who only minutes before had sunk a birdie putt from almost the same spot to tie Nichols.

"I just hadn't been putting well," said the 34-year-old Nichols, whose last individual victory on the tour came in 1966. "I figured I might as well try the old putter. I've taken it apart and put it together a dozen times and it looks like a dog chewed on it. But I guess it still works."

IT WORKED

It worked on that final hole at the Upper Montclair Country Club, a 600-yard, par-five. Nichols was only five yards short of the green and pitched up to about 10 feet away.

"When I hit it, I thought I left it short," he said. "I just wanted to hit it hard enough, but it felt like I had chewing gum at the end of the putter."

The ball hung on the lip of the cup, then toppled in, as Nichols threw his club in the air and staggered sideways. Harris, sitting alongside in the scorer's stand, didn't look. He said he knew all along it would go in.

"There wasn't any point in my watching, there wasn't anything I could do, said a glum Harris, who has yet to win a tournament in his six years on the tour.

But the 28-year-old Oklahoma State graduate, who holds a master's degree in mathematical statistics, couldn't be too unhappy about the numbers. He took home a check for $34,200, more than the winner makes in most tour tournaments.

For Nichols, who now plays in only about two-thirds of the tour tournaments, the satisfaction was as much in the victory itself as in the money.

MONEY AND PSYCHOLOGY

"To tell the truth," he said, "I know it was $60,000 that I won. But it was the satisfaction of winning a golf tournament that was really the ultimate. When you go a couple or three years and you don't win, you start thinking a little."

Harris and Nichols had started the day tied at 209, two strokes ahead of youngsters John Miller and Larry Hinson but with at least nine other players, including pre-tournament favorite Jack Nicklaus within reach of the title.

As it turned out, they got their strongest competition from

MADE THE BIG ONE — Reactions tell the story as golfer Bobby Nichols sinks the big one, a 10-foot putt on the 18th hole, Sunday to take first place and $60,000 prize in the Dow Jones Open tournament at Clifton, N.J. Upper left, he watches putt; then tosses putter, upper right, in elation. Enjoying moment of victory, lower left and right, he's nearly beamed by own descending putter.

Sikes finished third with a 279, followed by Hinson at 280; Charles Coody at 281, and Miller, Bruce Devlin, Orville Moody and Homero Blancas at 282.

No. 1 driver Denis Hulme crossed the finish line first in the sixth race of the season. Right behind him was Peter Gethkin of Britain in the No. 2 McLaren.

Two hours after the finish, Sports Car Club of America officials announced that Hulme had been disqualified. They said his car had stalled and was given a push by course workers to re-start the engine.

You aren't allowed to receive such help in Can-Am racing—or any other type, for that matter. Hulme was credited with 37 laps and wound up 15th.

That gave the victory to Gethkin, a 31-year-old open-cockpit specialist who replaced American Dan Gurney on the McLaren team a month ago. Gurney had taken the place of McLaren, who was killed testing one of the cars before the season opened in June.

Hulme had won three of the first six races and Gurney had won two before he departed. The McLaren team now has Seven-foot Jim McDaniels of Western Kentucky scored 24 points Sunday as the U.S. gained a hard-fought 90-80 victory over Cuba, which had five players whistled out with personal fouls.

The United States, favored to win the basketball gold, was to play Brazil today.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Solid hitting propelled Wayne, N.J., into the Little League World Series final, but it was spectacular defense that made the New Jerseyites champions.

Winning pitcher Steve O'Neil was in trouble every inning except the last in Wayne's 2-0 shutout of Campbell, Calif., Saturday. He was bailed out each time by clean plays as:

—A diving catch by Wayne rightfielder Mike Fantau with a runner on second in the fourth inning.

—Dave Shaver's catch of a line drive with the bases loaded in the second.

The 4-foot-10 inch 85-pound Shaver doubled in both runs for the winners in the second inning.

O'Neil didn't come close to his no-hit performance against Valleyfield, Que., in Wayne's opening round game. On Saturday, he gave up six hits and two walks, while striking out six. Losing pitcher Tom Davis gave up one less hit, and struck out 12.

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Intrepid, a sleek 12-meter yacht, and its crew have realized Bill Ficker's thrill of a lifetime—the right to defend the America's Cup.

"This is a great thrill to be selected," Intrepid's skipper said Sunday after being named to defend the Cup against Gretel II of Australia beginning Sept. 15.

Intrepid will be the first to defend the cup twice in succession since Columbia in 1899 and 1901. Intrepid beat Dame Pattie of Australia 4-0 in 1967.

Two more coaches are needed for the Gra-Y football league. Eddie Trice, YMCA physical secretary said Monday. Schools lacking coaches are Boydston and College Heights. He asked for volunteers to fill these spots.

The first organization meeting is set for 10 a.m. in the YMCA on Sept. 19. This week, pamphlets are being distributed in the schools to give information and entry blanks to grade school boys interested in the program.

Coaches are Capt. Brian Mintern, Airport-Cedar Crest; Sam Dawson and Sam Evans, Lakeview-Bauer; Kenneth Lane, Moss; Delnor Poss, Parkhill-Marcy; Wayne Henry, Kentwood; Paul Jenkins, Washington, Parkhill-Marcy won last year. Poss and Mintern are returning coaches.

Astros Lay It On Mets

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The world champion New York Mets didn't look much like their billing Sunday as they fell to the Houston Astros 9-5 under a barrage of home runs.

Jim Wynn slammed a pair of Nolan Ryan fast balls for a couple of two-run homers in the early innings and Denis Menke connected for two homers later.

"This is the best day I've had this year," Wynn said. "Mainly because I got fast balls and that's what I expected to see against Nolan Ryan."

Wynn's efforts didn't change his mind about wanting out of the Astro organization.

But Menke was delighted with his job Sunday.

"I've never hit two home runs in a game in the major leagues," said Menke with a grin.

MEANINGLESS singles matches were scheduled today. Arthur Ashe Jr., of Richmond, Va., faced Kuhnke and Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., took on Bungert.

The doubles triumph pulled the United States into a tie with Australia with 22 Davis Cup victories, a record for the world competition. It was also the Americans' third decision in a row.

Lutz and Smith, who took the 1967-68 NCAA doubles crowns as Southern Cal students, ran their Davis Cup record to 8-0, including a 3-0 in challenge rounds.

Turville called Lutz and Smith the best doubles team in U.S. history.

Almost Nobody Wants East Division Title In National

By The Associated Press

Welcome to the National League East and the division championship nobody wants.

Well, almost nobody. The Chicago Cubs, who flirted with the flag for most of last season before getting jilted in the final month, are showing a revived interest. It's a good thing. Neither the New York Mets nor Pittsburgh Pirates seem to care particularly about it.

The Cubs used Joe Pepitone's ninth inning homer for a 3-0 victory over San Diego Sunday and took over second place in the division, one game back of the staggering Pirates. Pittsburgh dropped both ends of a doubleheader, 7-3 and 2-1 to San Francisco.

The Mets dropped their third straight to Houston, 9-5. It was New York's sixth loss in the last seven games but over that stretch, the Mets have actually gained one-half game in the division race.

DISQUALIFIES BUT WINS Backup Car Policy Pays Off For McLaren Team

By The Associated Press

Close observers of the Canadian-American road racing series have said for months that the only way the orange McLaren-Chevrolets can lose a race is to break completely or be disqualified.

And that's the reason the late Bruce McLaren, who built the team into the biggest winner in motorsports, always ran twin cars in all of the Can-Am events.

At Elkhart Lake, Wis., Sunday, No. 1 driver Denis Hulme crossed the finish line first in the sixth race of the season. Right behind him was Peter Gethkin of Britain in the No. 2 McLaren.

Fastest times yet recorded in the meets were chalked up by riders Saturday and Sunday in the local motorcycle race events. Sparse crowds were treated to exciting contests, marred by some bad spills which caused injuries to Henry Currie, Junior Jimenez and Robbie Sanders. There were 31 riders.

Results of Saturday's races: Mimbike — Howard Shivers Jr., Cecil Walker, Tom Currie, 0 to 100 — Larry Stover, Odessa; Danny Weir, Dickie Dickerson, Odessa, 125 to 200 — George Johnson, Midland; Bobby Peercy, Jack Abbott, Midland. Open — George Johnson, Midland; Tommy Erwin, Odessa; Jim Foster, Midland.

Charley And Levias Give Cowboys A Grid Lesson

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — The Houston Oilers are feeling happy today. For the first time in four years they own a victory over their National Football League rivals, the Dallas Cowboys.

And they owe a victory to a player out of the Cowboy's backyard, Jerry Levias, who attended Southern Methodist University in Dallas.

The Oilers crushed the Cowboys 37-21 Saturday night in the Astrodome.

Charley Johnson, whom the Oilers picked up in an off-season trade with the St. Louis Cardinals, engineered the victory, passing for 218 yards and three touchdowns.

Levias caught two touchdown passes, ran for a third, and scored 19 straight victories in two and one-half seasons of Can-Am racing.

With Gethkin declared the winner and $14,450 richer, Bob Bondurant of Ontario, Calif., was credited with second place in a Lola.

In other weekend racing activity, 42-year-old Lloyd Ruby won the pole position for Sept. 6 California 500-mile championship race at Ontario with a four-lap average speed of 177.567 miles per hour.

A 33-car lineup was set for the $750,000 race during time trials Saturday and Sunday. The field averaged 172.540 m.p.h.—more than five miles faster than the starters in the Indianapolis 500 in May.

BATTLE BUSING, ZONING, PAIRING Southern Schools Map Plans

ATLANTA (AP) — Thousands of schools across the South begin classes this week under orders decreeing the end of dual school systems. But attempts to combat federally forced racial integration continue.

The latest effort came Sunday with the formation of the National Coalition of Concerned Citizens, a group of state organizations claiming more than a million members in 27 states.

Representatives of the coalition from North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia, Florida, Georgia, Arkansas and Texas gathered in Atlanta and disclosed plans to mount a campaign against busing, zoning and pairing of schools.

'OFFENSE' MONEY
A part of the campaign, spokesmen said, will be the establishment of a "Legal Offense Fund," to compete in the courts with the Legal Defense Fund of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

"We are all through reacting to what other people do. We are going on the offensive," said Ellis Rubin, a Miami Beach, Fla., attorney.

Dr. Mitchell Young of Texas said that although persons from only seven states attended the meeting, those present represented states other than their own.

A second meeting of the coalition is scheduled Sept. 12 at Norfolk, Va.

NIXON MEETING
The group announced it is seeking an immediate meeting with President Nixon, whose administration says this fall will bring the most meaningful school desegregation in the South since the 1954 U.S. Supreme Court decision which outlawed assignment of pupils by race.

Spokesmen said the coalition will attempt to impress its views upon the President and seek his assistance in having the Supreme Court.

—Hand down in specific terms the definition of a unitary school system.

—Rule on the question of whether either the Constitution or existing statutory law requires a mathematical balance of the races in schools.

Rubin said the organization is hopeful that the Justice Department will raise those questions in a scheduled Oct. 12 hearing before a court-ordered plan for Charlotte, N.C. The plan requires the busing of 13,000 to 17,000 pupils.

CHARLOTTE CASE
The Charlotte case has been considered a pivotal one on the issue of busing. School officials there postponed school opening until Sept. 9, but Chief Justice

Warren E. Burger declined to issue a stay of implementation of the plan as they had hoped.

Burger rejected similar appeals from several other systems where substantial busing is required. His most recent action came Saturday, on a petition from Richmond, Va., officials.

Richmond schools open today under a plan calling for busing about 13,000 of their approximately 50,000 pupils.

The failure to obtain a stay prompted extensive last-minute preparations by officials of two of Florida's largest systems.

Winston-Salem, N.C., whose busing of 2,700 pupils also was rejected, will not open its schools until Tuesday.

BLACK AND WHITE
Although more than 100 Southern systems—many of them integrated for the first time—have already opened with only minor incidents reported, the real test in most areas will come this week.

Among the foremost concerns expressed by officials is the possibility of school boycotts by both black and white pupils.

The United Citizens Stand for America, a Florida organization of which Rubin is chairman, says it has commitments from members in nine counties to withhold their children from classes.

Gov. Lester Maddox of Georgia, where most of the state's 190 systems open today, has alternately urged parents to boycott classes for 30 days or to ignore new assignments and send their children to schools they attended last year.

Dade County (Miami) and Broward County (Fort Lauderdale).

Substantial busing is required by the plans for both those systems, two of 41 which open today in Florida.

A ROSE FOR ROBERTA — Roberta Nichols, driving the UCLA entry in the Clean Air Car Race, receives a rose from Rose Queen Pamela Tedesco after she finished the 3,600-mile race from Massachusetts Institute of Technology to California Institute of Technology yesterday. The race is a test of cleanliness and not speed. The victors will be announced after the last entries arrive Wednesday.

First Across Line Isn't Necessarily Race Winner

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — The 3,600-mile Clean Air Car Race is over for many of the experimental cars testing antipollution ideas. But some balky vehicles still have a long way to go.

In the space of seven hours late Sunday, the first of 32 of 41 cars in the race from Cambridge, Mass., arrived at the finish line on the campus of the California Institute of Technology.

Race officials gave them until midnight Wednesday to get to Pasadena.

The first car to finish Sunday was a 1970 Plymouth Valiant burning liquefied propane gas. Following was another Valiant using unleaded gasoline. Both cars were driven by students from the University of California at Berkeley.

A crew from the University of California at Los Angeles was next in a 1965 Ford Mustang powered by a Japanese diesel engine. The most exotic vehicle among the first 10 finishers was a streamlined but angular custom-built car containing an internal combustion engine driving an electric generator. It was driven by students from the University of Toronto, Canada.

In early testing of the entries at Cambridge, cars burning unleaded gasoline or propane took the top seven places when judged for urban driving, acceleration, braking and noise.

The entries came from 30 colleges and universities.

Administration will pay out $5,000 in prizes and compile technical papers and documentary films on the race.

Most of the cars that finished Sunday were standard American cars and all were powered by internal combustion engines. Eight electric cars, plagued by recharging problems, were far behind — some as far away as Missouri and Texas.

Tech Classes At Sweetwater

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP) — The Sweetwater campus of Texas State Technical Institute was to open registration Monday for fall classes.

The main campus is located at Waco.

The new branch campus is located at an abandoned Air Force radar installation here and already has about 100 enrollees.

Courses being offered include utilities repair, farm mechanics, building construction and ground school for pilots.

Shot To Death, Woman Jailed

DALLAS (AP) — William Richard Durham, 30, of Garland, was shot to death Sunday night. Police jailed a 21-year-old woman in connection with his death.

Police quoted the woman as saying Durham tried to break in through the back door of the house. Police said the woman told them she ran around the house with a .45 caliber automatic pistol and shot Durham once through the chest.

Lions Imported Into Africa

LAGUNA HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Lions are being exported from the United States to Africa.

Four cubs are being shipped to individual kennels to Nairobi, Kenya, where Columbia Pictures is filming "Living Free," a sequel to the movie "Born Free."

Producer Paul Radin requested the cubs from Lion Country Safari, an African-style game reserve here, after learning Kenyan regulations forbade purchase of lions there.

Shift Toward Apartments Becomes Trend In Texas

AUSTIN (AP) — Apartments promise the best solution to the housing problems for the greatest number of frustrated homeowners, the Texas Bureau of Business Research says.

"The shift toward apartments has become a trend in Texas," Dr. Graham Blackstock wrote in a report on Texas construction. "From 1958 to 1969 the increasing proportion of apartment units, measured as a segment of all housing units, has been marked."

DRAMATIC JUMP
The first dramatic jump occurred in 1961, when the percentage grew from 12.9 to 20.9, with another large gain the next year, to 40.6 per cent of all dwelling units. The percentage has increased every year except three—1959, 1964, 1965—during those 12 years.

Blackstock estimated apartment units would constitute 58.9 per cent of all dwelling units constructed in 1970.

"Present day youth have become accustomed to the available-when-wanted privacy, the convenience, and the economy of apartments, even as students and they wish to continue the amenities of this style of living as young married couples. They have a greater urge than their more conservative parents to share experience with other people. They do not share with suburban dwellers in high degree the willingness to expend time and energy in the maintenance of grounds and the repair of roofs, utilities and appliances," the report said.

U. S. Bombers Plaster Supply Routes In Laos

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy rocket and mortar attacks dropped off about a third during the night from a four-month high the night before, but casualties so far reported were about an eighth of what they were Saturday night.

U.S. B52 bombers meanwhile made heavy raids for the third day on newly detected supply routes in Laos.

SHELLING ATTACKS
The U.S. Command reported 40 shelling attacks across South Vietnam from 8 a.m. Sunday to 8 a.m. Monday, and incomplete reports said one American and two South Vietnamese civilians were killed, and eight Americans and 13 South Vietnamese were wounded.

In the 24 hours before, 61 enemy rocket and mortar attacks were reported, the heaviest since May 1. And the barrages Saturday night and early Sunday killed 55 South Vietnamese and wounded 140, most of them civilians.

Most of the targets Saturday night were district towns or government outposts. The aim was to damage the South Vietnamese government's pacification program and keep voters away from the senatorial election Sunday. But 4,388,000 persons, or 67.5 per cent of the 6.5 million registered voters, cast their ballots, the government reported.

GROUND FIGHTING
In ground fighting, U.S. forces backed by helicopter gunships reported killing 40 enemy soldiers in four clashes Sunday south of Da Nang. No U.S. casualties were reported in these actions.

The U.S. Command announced that American troop strength in Vietnam dropped to 402,300 last week, a decrease of 1,400 from the previous week.

The authorized U.S. strength is to be pared to 384,000 by Oct. 15 in the fourth phase of President Nixon's withdrawal program.

About 25 of the Strategic Air Command's B52 bombers dropped about 750 tons of bombs on North Vietnamese supply depots and transshipment points along the Ho Chi Minh trail in southeast Laos.

For the last three days, about 70 percent of the B52 missions have been in Laos, "to make sure there is not any extremely large amount of war materials coming into South Vietnam," one source said.

DRIVEN OUT
Despite the intensified air strikes, the North Vietnamese are still able to push some arms and ammunition down the Ho Chi Minh trail for use in South Vietnam. With Thursday being the first anniversary of the death of President Ho, some allied commanders anticipate heavy enemy attacks this week.

In Cambodia, government forces retreated from the garrison town of Srang, 27 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, after repeated attacks by about 300 Viet Cong troops, a government military spokesman announced.

He termed the retreat a "tactical withdrawal," ordered to escape the Viet Cong and to permit planes to bomb the area. It was the second time in six weeks government forces have been driven out of Srang.

Viet Elections Spark Surprises

SAIGON (AP) — A moderately pro-government slate and one backed by the opposition An Quang Buddhist faction were leading today in first returns from South Vietnam's senatorial elections.

The three top 10-man tickets will win election, making up half of the 60-member senate.

Sixteen slates made the race. In first place was the pro-government ticket headed by Sen. Huynh Van Cao, a former general, with 708,607 votes. The An Quang ticket, headed by Vu Van Mau, had 629,288. In third place was the slate of Sen. Nguyen Van Huyen, the senate president, with 549,682 votes.

Hearing Is Short, Sideburns Not

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — The hearing was short, the sideburns were not.

The Santa Monica Personnel Board upheld Friday an order by Police Chief Earl Reinbold that sideburns of his officers terminate at "about the mid-ear level."

Eric Wexler, 25, a member of the force for 16 months, did not comply and was fired July 25.

He now has two alternatives: A razor or the courts.

HAVE MERCY ON GOLFERS

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (AP) — Terence Cardinal Cooke of New York got a laugh when he told President Nixon about his new golf clubs inscribed with the motto in Latin: "Lord, have mercy on me."

The President responded that comedian Bob Hope suggested that the same motto should be on his clubs.

The Roman Catholic cardinal was visiting the Western White House to report on his recent tour of U.S. military bases in Europe. A third golfer, orchestra leader Lawrence Welk, also was there to discuss the problems of youths and drugs.

United States Lost War II, Lindy Avers

NEW YORK (AP) — Aviator Charles Lindbergh, an outspoken opponent of America's entry into World War II, says he believes that in the perspective of history the United States lost the war.

"We won the war in a military sense; but in a broader sense it seems to me we lost it, for our Western civilization is less respected and secure than it was before," he wrote in a preface to "The Wartime Journals of Charles A. Lindbergh" to be published Sept. 30.

"In order to defeat Germany and Japan we supported the still greater menaces of Russia and China—which now confront us in a nuclear-weapon era," he said. "Much of our Western culture was destroyed. We lost the genetic heredity formed through eons of many million lives."

"More than a generation after the war's end, our occupying armies still must occupy, and the world has not been made safe for democracy and freedom. On the contrary, our own system of democratic government is being challenged by that greatest of dangers of any nation and unrest."

"It is alarmingly possible that World War II marks the beginning of our Western civilization's breakdown."

Body Recovered

AUSTIN (AP) — Police said Eugene McQueen, 40, drowned Sunday night while swimming in Town Lake here.

His body was recovered a short while later.

Gunmen Rob Navy Arsenal Of Firearms, Ammunition

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Gunmen invaded a Navy arsenal about two miles from about two miles from the Cecil Field storage point for nuclear weapons.

The robbery Sunday at the Cecil Field Naval Air Station was pulled off by raiders armed with pistols, the FBI said. The exact number of raiders has not been determined but at least three were involved, a FBI spokesman reported.

An investigation revealed that the intruders remained for 90 minutes at the arsenal, located about two miles from the Cecil Field storage point for nuclear weapons.

Authorities said the arsenal is guarded by a civilian security force employed by the Defense Department.

An FBI agent said none of the sailors saw all of the early morning Negro intruders. Investigators said one of the group may have been a woman or a man wearing a wig.

"Numerous hand guns and small arms weapons were taken including seven carbines," the FBI said.

The commanding officer of Cecil Field, Capt. L. K. Simon, said an exact count of missing weapons was not available because the Navy was taking inventory.

The robbers did not take machine guns or grenades available in the arsenal, the FBI said.

The FBI was investigating a possible link between Sunday's robbery and a burglary July 27 of the unguarded Jacksonville Army National Guard Armory.

Diphtheria Epidemic Fells 76 In Alamo City

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A federal epidemic expert and a state health officer were due here today to help expand efforts to halt a growing diphtheria outbreak.

Health officials kept an eye on the schools, where thousands of pupils enrolled for the fall term today. School age children have drawn the prime targets of the epidemic.

Two more diphtheria cases were reported Sunday, raising the year's total to 76. Two children have died in the outbreak. Expected here today were Dr. Edward Marcuse of the National Communicable Diseases Center in Atlanta, Ga., and Dr. M. S. Dickerson, director of communicable disease control at the State Health Department in Austin.

Officials said they will help map plans to track down diphtheria victims and carriers of the throat infection, which can damage the heart.

The San Antonio school district, the city's largest with about 75,000 pupils, opened for the fall term today after an inoculation drive last week which drew about 10,000 children.

Three of the other 16 districts here also began school today. The rest opened last week. About 190,000 pupils are enrolled in area schools here.

More than 200,000 persons received shots at emergency centers over the past three weeks in a mass immunization campaign which ended Saturday. The health district's main office was open for those still seeking shots.
