

U.S. Charges Called 'Trick' To Mask Acts

By The Associated Press
Egypt's leaders say the U.S. assertion that Cairo has violated the Middle East cease-fire is "a mask to cover any Israeli action against Egypt."
The Middle East News Agency said the Egyptian Cabinet made the statement Monday after meeting in Cairo with President Gamal Abdel Nasser. The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram, meanwhile, said Israel's latest charge that Egypt has broken the cease-fire agreement by setting up missiles near the Suez Canal is a "trick" to indicate that Cairo violated the agreement first.
The newspaper told its readers: "An Israeli military offensive is near at hand."

MISSILES MESS
Israel released its 11th complaint of Egyptian cease-fire violations Monday. The United States has confirmed the Israeli charges, and Tel Aviv is boycotting the Middle East peace talks in New York until Egyptian military strength in the canal zone is restored to what it was before Aug. 7, the day the truce went into effect.
The Soviet news agency Tass said Monday that the Israeli boycott of the negotiations has virtually ruined chances for a Middle East peace settlement. The agency charged that Israel is using allegations about Egyptian violations of the cease-fire agreement "to cover up its refusal" to continue the talks.
"Actually," Tass said, "Tel Aviv's decision is only a logical conclusion of the policy of procrastination by means of which Israel tries to prevent implementation of the Security Council's Nov. 22, 1967, resolution."
The resolution, which forms the basis of the U.S.-sponsored talks by representatives of Israel, Egypt and Jordan, calls for an Israeli pullout from territories occupied in the 1967 war and for Arab recognition of Israel's right to exist within secure boundaries.
In Tel Aviv, an Israeli military source said Egyptian military preparations since the cease-fire began have given Cairo the capability of moving 300 missiles up to the canal zone in a matter of hours.

'FROM SCRATCH'
The informant said that up to last Friday, Egypt had built about 30 missile sites in the truce zone "from scratch" and had refurbished "more than a score of others" apparently damaged in Israeli air attacks before the cease-fire began.
During the first two days of the truce, he said, the Egyptians moved about 60 Soviet-supplied SAM2 missiles into the zone.

Fran's Toll Hits 36 Mark

TAIPEI (AP) — The death toll on Formosa from Typhoon Fran rose today to 36, police said, with an additional 40 persons missing and presumed dead.
Almost all the confirmed dead were reported killed either by flood waters or by flood-induced landslides, which also cut 23 rail and road links, police said.
Gov. Chen Tachung ordered rescue agencies to begin rebuilding more than 700 homes destroyed in the floods and to begin drainage work on inundated farmland.

BIBLE FUND GETS BOOST

After a near holiday in giving to coincide with the Labor Day holiday, supporters of the high school Bible Class Fund rallied Tuesday and gave the cause another good boost.
There were individuals and classes, and a former Big Spring couple, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lawrence of Weatherford who "ways generously back the Bible fund."

THURSDAY Trying To Head Off Rail Strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor James D. Hodgson conferred today with presidents of four railroad unions in an effort to head off a nationwide rail strike scheduled for 12:01 a.m. Thursday.
The presidents of the two largest rail unions, C. L. Dennis of the Brotherhood of Railway and Airline Clerks, and Charles Luna of the United Transportation Union, said before entering the meeting with Hodgson that the deadline for the strike, over wages, remains firm.
Their unions represent some 200,000 rail workers each. The two smaller unions involved are the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employees with about 100,000 members and the Hotel and Restaurant Employees and Bartenders union with about 4,000 rail workers.
President Nixon could delay a strike for 60 days under emergency provisions of the Railway Labor Act, but Asst. Secretary of Labor W. J. Usery said no such decision had been made.
The Labor Department has scheduled joint meetings between the union officials and rail industry negotiators later today in an effort to get a negotiated settlement.

Holiday Traffic Claims 579 Lives

By The Associated Press
Traffic accidents across the nation claimed 579 lives during the three-day Labor Day weekend. The National Safety Council had estimated that 570 to 670 might die in traffic during the period that began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight, local time, Monday.
The record number of traffic deaths for any Labor Day weekend was in 1968 when the toll hit 688. The count for the same holiday period last year was 609.

Texas Cotton Crop Forecast

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department estimated today the 1970 cotton crop at 10,752,200 bales, a 7 per cent increase from last year but 3 per cent fewer than forecast in August.
The average yield of cotton lint per acre was estimated at 456 pounds, compared with 467 indicated last month and the yield of 433 pounds per acre in 1969.
Crop reporting board officials said in their report, based on Sept. 1 field conditions, that 1970 production in the Southeast was estimated at 1,115,000 bales compared with the August estimate of 1,140,000.
"Prospects in South Carolina and Georgia declined as boll worms and boll rot have taken a heavy toll in many fields," the report said. "Yield prospects in North Carolina and Alabama improved although conditions vary considerably. Early season harvest is under way."
Upland cotton production in Texas and Oklahoma was forecast at 3,640,000 bales compared with 3,960,000 in August. Short soil moisture and hot weather caused a "substantial decline" in the Oklahoma crop, officials said.
The estimated yield per acre and production in bales of 500 pounds gross weight each, respectively, of 1970 cotton by states included:
North Carolina 349 pounds per acre and production of 120,000 bales; South Carolina 328 and 205,000; Georgia 360 and 285,000; Tennessee 486 and 400,000; Alabama 441 and 505,000; Missouri 459 and 215,000; Mississippi 681 and 1,675,000; Arkansas 511 and 1,160,000; Louisiana 635 and 595,000; Oklahoma 213 and 200,000; Texas 331 and 3,468,000; New Mexico 540 and 158,000; Arizona 959 and 547,000; and California 853 and 1,200,600.

U. S. Cutbacks In Thailand

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — U.S. military strength in Thailand will be reduced by 9,800 men within a year, a joint Thai-U.S. announcement said today.
The announcement said the cutbacks, which will bring total U.S. troop withdrawals in Thailand to 15,800 men since September, 1969, were the result of talks held between the U.S. mission and the Thai Foreign Ministry.
The rate of withdrawal would be "consistent with operational requirements related to the Vietnam conflict and the security of this area," the announcement said.
The withdrawals, termed "redeployment" in the announcement, would begin "in the near future," and end July 1 next year.
When the cutbacks are completed, U.S. military strength in Thailand will be about 32,000, down from a peak of 48,000.

Red Cross Officials Ask Hostages Release

'Plane' Woman Fate Pondered By Top Envoys

By The Associated Press
Four Western governments delegated the International Red Cross today to negotiate with the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine for the release of the 180 passengers still held captive from two of four planes involved in Sunday's hijacking plots.
Reporting the agreement, British officials said Israel opted not to join the United States, Switzerland, West Germany and Britain in working through the Red Cross. Citizens from all five nations were reported aboard the two planes in Jordan.
ARAB ENVOYS
As the move was disclosed in London, Sir Alec Douglas-Home, the British foreign secretary, summoned envoys of six Arab countries for discussions on the hijacking crisis.
The four-nation move was prompted by an ultimatum from the PFLP, an Arab guerrilla organization, that a woman hijacker, Miss Leila Khaled, being held in London and six other commandos imprisoned in Switzerland and West Germany be released by 11 p.m. EDT Wednesday.
Otherwise, the ultimatum said, the Swissair DC8 and the Trans World Airlines Boeing 707 being held at a small Jordanian airfield would be blown up with the passengers still aboard.
NO REPLY
"The front has put boxes of explosives inside the two planes in order to blow them up in case there is no reply to its warning," a spokesman said in the Jordanian capital of Amman.
Switzerland and West Germany at first agreed to the demand, but London sources said both governments were reconsidering. Britain said no, but the Cabinet met today to discuss the ultimatum.
The Arab envoys summoned by Douglas-Home were from Jordan, Egypt, Iraq, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Kuwait.
In Bonn, the West German Foreign Ministry called on the Jordanian ambassador to express concern for the safety of German hostages.

HELD FOR BARTER — This is the crew of a Swissair flight that was hijacked to Zerga, Jordan, by Arab guerrillas shortly after taking off from Zurich for New York. They and the passengers were being held by Arab guerrillas asking the release of three guerrillas imprisoned in Switzerland. They are, from left (top): F. Crimes By Blacks Higher, Legalization Of Pot Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — A government study says the rate of violent crimes by urban blacks is higher than for whites, and the majority of those offenses involve Negroes attacking Negroes.
The report, originally prepared by a three-man staff for the now-defunct National Commission on the Causes and Prevention of Violence, also recommended the legalization of marijuana for persons over age 18.
"There is no reliable scientific evidence of harmful effects, nor is there evidence of marijuana's being a stepping-stone to hard narcotics," said the report.
In its comments on marijuana, the panel said that it should be legalized "in an effort to restore the respect of youth for our laws."
"Through our harsh criminal statutes on marijuana use and in light of evidence that alcohol abuse accounts for far more destruction than any known psychoactive substance today, we have caused large numbers of our youth to lose respect for our laws generally," the panel said.
"We have also criminalized untold numbers of young people. The scientific data do not support harsh treatment," it said.
"Marijuana has relatively mild effects on the user, and there is no evidence that it leads to the use of more dangerous drugs or that it causes aggressive behavior," the report said.

RAPE, ROBBERY

The voluminous study was written by Donald J. Mulvihill, a Washington attorney, Melvin M. Tumin, a sociology professor at Princeton University, and Lynn A. Curtis, a doctoral candidate in urban sociology at the University of Pennsylvania.
The report had been intended for the now-expired commission which was headed by Dr. Milton Eisenhower, but a lack of funds delayed publication until now.
The report, to be released publicly Wednesday, states that the rates for nonwhites proved to be higher than white rates for each of the four major violence crimes—rape, homicide, assault and robbery.
But the majority of homicides, assaults and rapes committed by Negroes involved the black victims, the report said.
Robbery was the one major crime in which there was a larger percentage of Negroes whose victims were white.

modern counterpart of the fortified medieval city."
BLAME JOBLESS
Under the so-called defensive city, there would be an "economically declining central business district in the inner city protected by people shopping or working in buildings during daytime hours and sealed off by police during nighttime hours."
For the most part, the three researchers blamed social conditions, unemployment and inadequate school systems.
"Seventy-one per cent of all Negro workers are concentrated in the lowest paying and lowest skilled occupations. They are the last to be hired and the first to be laid off," the report said.
While one-third of the Negro families in cities lived on $4,000 a year or less, only 16 per cent of the whites did, it said.
"The urban school system often fails to counteract those influences that draw individuals toward crime and violence."

CONFLICT HAS BEEN LONG, OFTEN BLOODY GIs In Viet Win Medals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Medals for soldiers symbolize achievement, build morale, look good on a man's record and tell of heroism.
And soldiers in Vietnam have received more medals than GIs in Korea. In certain areas, U.S. soldiers in Southeast Asia have received more medals than were issued to troops in World War II.
There are plenty of reasons for the increases and the services feel the awards are richly deserved.
"There's no stated policy that awards should be given out more frequently," says Maj. Frederick Vollrath, who watches these things in the Army adjutant general's office.
But, in the case of the Army's bronze star, the fourth highest medal for heroism, the decoration also can be given for achievement.
BRONZE STAR
A bronze star can be awarded to a rifleman who takes a bunker single-handedly or to a man who moves paper a bit more swiftly than the fellow at the next desk. The only distinction in appearance is a tiny "V" on the medal.
Further, in some units, division commanders can award a bronze star to everyone in a rifle company. This was standard procedure at one time in the First Air Cavalry Division in Vietnam.
As it is, the Army alone has given out in Vietnam 317,670 bronze stars in all, compared with 73,464 in Korea and 395,379 in World War II.
The first and only medal in the Army for several decades was the Purple Heart, created three passengers, two of whom were hospitalized for minor injuries, were still in Cairo.

All three planes were hijacked en route to New York.

SHE'S SEIZED
Miss Khalid was seized by Israeli security guards Sunday during a fourth hijack attempt. Her male companion was fatally shot when he tried to take over an Israeli El Al Airlines DC8 on a flight from Amsterdam to New York. She was jailed by Scotland Yard when the plane landed at London's Heathrow Airport.

The other guerrillas whose release has been demanded are also in jail on charges involving attacks on airlines. Three of the prisoners are awaiting trial in Munich and the other three have been sentenced in Zurich to 12-year prison terms.

In Geneva, the International Red Cross said it had dispatched a special mission to Amman to try to negotiate the fate of the hijackers' hostages.

RELEASE 120

Red Cross mediators earlier convinced the Palestinians to release 120 hostages, mostly women and children, who were taken to a hotel in Amman. The 180 remaining included all Israeli nationals aboard, plus men from the United States, Britain, West Germany and Switzerland.

The hotel where the 120 were staying was hit by mortar fire during the night, but there were no injuries. The attack appeared to be part of the skirmishing in the city between Palestinian guerrillas and the Jordanian army.

The Popular Front has demanded the release of guerrillas held in Israel as the price of freedom for the Israeli hostages. It is believed the Israeli government holds about 50 commandos.

Armored units of the Jordanian army stood helplessly as about 200 armed guerrillas surrounded the planes at Dawson Field, a dusty desert airstrip at Zerqa, 25 miles northwest of Amman. There was no gunfire, probably because the army was eager to avoid harming the hostages. A Palestinian flag fluttered over a tent, and a tanker truck passed over water to the commandos.

TIA Boasts New Record

Howard County Airport contributed 410 passengers to the record setting 204,224 passengers who flew Texas International during August, according to Dean Berry, local TIA agent.

This surpassed the previous monthly record of 195,500 set in July, when 468 passengers boarded here, to become Texas International's best month in its 23 year history.

The total represents 70 cities in nine states and Mexico. Texas International now operates 14 Douglas DC-9's, 25 Convair 600's, and 3 Beech 99 Skylarks, all jet powered.

Faubus Bids For Comeback In Arkansas

Voters in eight states go to the polls today to nominate party candidates for November elections with a key race being waged in Florida where squabbling Republicans hope to capture a Democratic Senate seat.

In Vermont, the Democrats have their sights set on a Republican-held Senate seat.

Seven of the states hold gubernatorial primaries—Arizona, Wisconsin, New Hampshire, Florida, Vermont, Arkansas and Colorado. Georgia follows with its gubernatorial primary on Wednesday.

Nominations for the House are up in all eight states and five are choosing Senate candidates.

Considerable attention is centered on the Florida contest between G. Harold Carswell, the spurned Supreme Court nominee, and Rep. William C. Cramer, who is rated a slight edge. Cramer says President Nixon asked him to run for the Senate seat being vacated by retiring Democrat, Sen. Spessard L. Holland.

FLORIDA BATTLE

The GOP victor will square off against the winner of today's four-man primary race for the Democratic billing. Former Gov. Farris Bryant, considered the front-runner, is closely challenged by Fred Schultz, speaker of the Florida House.

Florida also offers a hotly contested battle for governor with Republican Claude Kirk seeking renomination against millionaire chain drug store operator Jack Eckerd.

The Democrats have a tight four-way fight for their nomination for governor and it appears headed for a Sept. 29 runoff.

In Vermont, former Gov. Philip H. Hoff is expected to win the Democratic primary over State Sen. Fiore L. Bove and former U.S. Rep. William H. Meyer in the bid for a U.S. Senate seat held by unopposed Republican Sen. Winston L. Prouty.

THIRD TERM

Vermont's Gov. Deane C. Davis is favored to win Republican nomination over Lt. Gov. Thomas L. Hayes, a liberal running as a peace candidate. Democrats will choose between former Lt. Gov. John J. Daley and State Sen. Leo O'Brien Jr.

OIL Howard Gains Discovery Well

Howard County today had a discovery in the Wolfcamp in the Howard-Glasscock area.

Mobil Oil Corp. No. 28 Owen-Chalk had an initial pumping production of 129 barrels of 36.6 gravity oil from perforations at 7,370-7,441. Operator proposed the name of the field as Chalk-Hutto-Credo.

It is approximately 10 miles south of the Hutto (Wolfcamp) field in Howard County and 12 1/2 miles north of the Credo (Wolfcamp) field in Sterling County.

Martin County also gained a completion in the Spraberry trend when the John L. Cox No. 1 J. N. Woody two miles

Services for Robert E. Cozart, 76, Snyder, will be at 3 p.m. Wednesday in Kentwood United Methodist Church with the Rev. Jesse Dea of Union United Methodist Church, Snyder, officiating and burial in Trinity Memorial Park under direction of River-Welch Funeral Home.

Mr. Cozart died Monday afternoon in a Snyder hospital. Born in Navarro County, he came to this area 28 years ago to live with his daughter. A retired school maintenance man, he was formerly an employee of the Ackerly school district. His wife Mamie died in 1961.

He is survived by three sons, R. Z. Cozart and C. M. Cozart, Texhoma, and O. C. Cozart, Dublin; five daughters, Mrs. Viola Gay Tulsa, Mrs. Ruth Owens, Austin, Mrs. Katherine Browning, Jacksonville, Fla., Mrs. Fay Huestis, Denver City, and Mrs. Helen Vaughn, Snyder; 28 grandchildren; 16 great-grandchildren; a brother, M. L. Cozart, Cisco; and three sisters, Mrs. Mable McCalvin, Moran, Mrs. Beulah Mae Lamar, Fort Worth, and Mrs. Cora Howell, Aransas Pass.

Area Agronomist Named To Post In Missouri

Douglas R. Lowe, who has served as agronomist for four Soil Conservation Service areas since 1965, has assumed his duties as agronomist for the SCS for the entire state of Missouri.

The family has moved to Columbia, Mo., where he will be headquartered.

Lowe, a native of Clarendon, began his SCS career as a soil scientist in Texas and several posts before he came here in 1965 to serve the Abilene, San Angelo, Pecos and Big Spring areas as agronomist. His territory stretched from Throckmorton to El Paso, and interestingly, he served more square miles here than he will in the state of Missouri.

Lowe holds the BS and the MS degrees in agriculture from Texas Tech University. In Big Spring, he has been active in various affairs, including Little League and First United Methodist Church.

His wife, Martha, has been on the staff of the First United Methodist Church. They have two boys, ages 9 and 13.

In his new position, Lowe will be responsible for the agronomy phase of an integrated program of soil, water and plant use, development and conservation in the state of Missouri. No successor for this region has been named.

Sinatra Warbles Gambling Blues

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Frank Sinatra, who stormed out of a card game in which authorities say a gun was pulled, will have to get an entertainer's work permit and answer a few questions before he sings in this gambling spa again, Sheriff Ralph Lamb says.

Sinatra cut off a singing engagement at the Caesars Palace Casino Sunday after casino vice president Sandford Waterman, 66, refused the singer credit to play for $16,000 stakes in a bacarat game and drew a .38-caliber pistol to end an argument that followed, Lamb said.

Waterman was booked Monday for investigation of assault with a deadly weapon and released without bail. He declined comment on the incident.

"If Sinatra comes back to town," Lamb said, "he's coming downtown to get a work card."

And, said the sheriff, "if he gives me any trouble, he's going to jail."

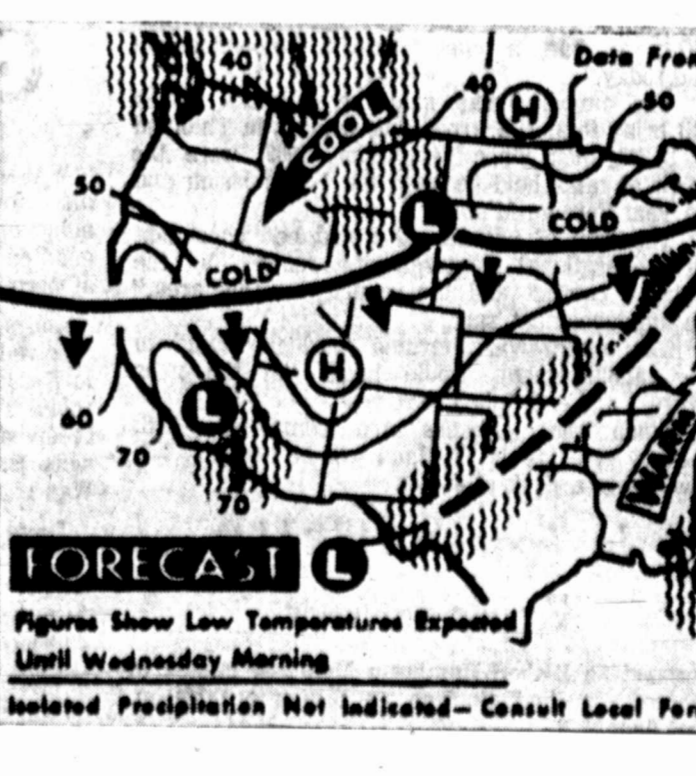

The law requires that performers be fingerprinted and photographed for work cards. But Sinatra has been excused the formality until now, as have most other star performers.

"I'm tired of him intimidating waiters and throwing pies," Lamb told newsmen. "He gets away with too much. He's through picking on little people in this town."

Strike Doesn't Delay Pageant Preparations

ATLANTIC CITY (AP) — The 50 Miss America contestants got on stage for the first time Monday night amid work noises the pageant's officials were probably happy to hear.

The roar of machinery and the banging of seas being put in place had been stilled earlier in the day by a labor dispute.

Frank McCue, manager of the Convention Hall where the pageant is held, said about 30 laborers had walked off the job in a demand for higher pay.

Members of the Teamsters Union had been hired to take over the job, McCue said. He said he did not yet know how much the Teamsters would be paid, but that the non-union laborers who walked out had been earning $2.25 an hour.

McCue said the dispute would not interfere with the pageant show, which will be televised nationwide Saturday night.

A LOVELIER YOU Revive Wardrobe With Accessories

By MARY SUE MILLER
As summer weekends approach the finish line, a summer wardrobe is likely to limp down the home stretch. Yet it could be a front runner, if given a few fall touches.

The following, and many more, are great perk-ups. What's more, they provide sure starters for serious autumn collecting.

● To put a pastel skirt back in the running, top it with a new menswear shirt — purple and white striped, let's say.

● Update silky white pants with a peplum tunic in pumpkin, pebble crepe.

● Pose a mini, jersey slink over an opaque nylon, toe-to-shoulder "body suit." (It's a sleeved, turtle-neck extension of a bodice stocking.) Color it navy or teal.

● Retire summer jewelry in favor of an important gilt choker or sculptured fob. Wear smaller, deep-hued scarves — challis, perhaps — and tie them Western style. A python-print belt around your middle will outdistance the calendar in this Year of the Snake.

● The summery travel suit gets an enormous lift via a swaggering felt hat or a shaggy fringe or an antiqued leather mid-heel shoe. Or, better still, all three. Deep russet, teal and bitter olive are the go-withs.

Says Sex Is Handicap In Politics

By JOHN W. BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Male politicians depend on women to win elections but being a woman is as great a political handicap as being black, says a Negro congresswoman.

Rep. Shirley Chisholm, a Democrat from New York City, told a House subcommittee Wednesday that without women's efforts no man could be elected to Congress.

"Without his thousands of women volunteers the American party system would not work," Mrs. Chisholm said. "It would break down in a confusion of unanswered letters, unmade phone calls, unkept appointments, unwritten speeches, and unheld meetings."

Mrs. Chisholm, a Negro, was one of several witnesses to testify before a subcommittee headed by Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., sponsor of legislation calling on the government to attack sexual discrimination as it has attacked racial discrimination.

Mrs. Frankie M. Freeman, who is a member of the U.S. commission on Civil Rights and a Negro, said discrimination against racial minorities "makes the burden of female status seem paltry in comparison."

But Mrs. Chisholm said sex discrimination is just as degrading, indefensible and infuriating as discrimination because of race, and both must be eliminated to produce a just society.

"Blacks and women have both been taught from childhood — because our society is run by and for white males — that they are inherently inferior," she said.

"To keep them in their place, the same characteristics are imputed to women as to blacks — that they are more childish, emotional and irresponsible than men, that they are of lower intelligence than men, that they need protection, that they are happiest in routine, undemanding jobs, and that they lack ambition and executive ability."

Layered Knits 'In' For Men

Knits on knits, the so-called "layered" look, are popular in men's wear for winter. They get new impetus from the flair for the turtle-neck.

Men were wearing turtle-neck dickeys under their V-neck sweaters, so the next obvious step was to attach a dickey to the V-neck. The result says Gentleman's Quarterly, is a one-piece pullover that looks like two garments but has less weight or bulk.

Belt Shirt, Skirt Together On Tots

To eliminate unhandy suspenders and to keep small children's garments from parting company in the middle, sew loops on shirts to correspond with loops on skirts and trousers.

Then a belt can pass through both sets of loops, holding up the skirt or trousers and at the same time keeping blouse or shirt tucked in.

Note The French Aircraft Makers

With public and congressional pressure continuing to mount, America's aerospace industry is looking for ways to produce weapons systems faster and cheaper.

One of the places they are looking is France, where Avions Marcel Dassault, the nation's only privately owned aircraft designer, has been spectacularly successful. Dassault has produced about 3,000 combat aircraft since World War II, including the famed Mirage family of fighters.

Dassault's accomplishments are detailed in a recent issue of Air Force and Space Digest, a monthly magazine published by the Air Force Association.

Associate Editor Edgar E. Ulsamer points out that Dassault depends on its superiority in design to survive against much larger, government-owned competitors in France. It has done more than survive.

Dassault is a small, tightly knit company. It works in compact teams to design and develop its planes. The highly successful Mirage III went from contract award to first prototype in only 13 months. Yet only 25 engineers, 50 draftsmen and less than 100 craftsmen worked on the plane. The sweep-wing Mirage G went from ahead to flight in only 16 months, at a cost of only $35 million.

The Dassault formula is based on continuity, extrapolating from one design to the next and improving proved features. The company subcontracts to the nationalized companies but controls final assembly and testing. It reacts quickly to problems, working with test pilots for "quick fixes."

It insists that management personnel be "generalists" instead of specialists. It does not permit written memos, preferring employees to think and act.

Of course, Dassault has an advantage over U.S. manufacturers. The French Air Force orders planes which are relatively simple, short-range and carry limited payloads. This also suits Dassault's international clients. The French government is quite pragmatic about allowing Dassault to sell its planes abroad.

The U.S. builds larger and more sophisticated planes than do the French, but some of Dassault's methods might be applicable. Most encouraging aspect about the article is its appearance in Air Force and Space Digest. The magazine is virtually a slick house organ for the aerospace industry, and the story indicates the industry is alarmed about its shortcomings.

John Cunniff Swat Mutual Funds Study

By DAVID BURKE
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

NEW YORK (AP) — A long-awaited study of the mutual fund industry by the privately endowed Twentieth Century Fund has drawn sharp criticism from some industry sources who object to certain of its conclusions.

The recently published study concluded that an investor would have made more money over the past 10 years if he had invested his money equally in every stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange than if he had invested in the average mutual fund.

It further indicated that no-load funds, which have no sales fee, performed essentially the same as load funds, which charge customers an approximately 8 1/2 per cent sales fee.

The study was conducted by professors Irwin Friend, Marshall Blume, and Jean Crockett, all of the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce at the University of Pennsylvania.

In analyzing the performance of mutual funds, the study also pointed out that the investor who placed his money in every Big Board stock in proportion to the value of the stock outstanding would have fared worse than the average mutual fund.

In an interview, Friend said the investment policy of most individuals falls "somewhere in between these two extremes," referring to weighted and unweighted investment in Big Board stocks. Mutual fund performance should be compared with some criteria falling between these points, he said.

The mutual funds, stung by the comparison with an unweighted average of Big Board stocks, had some harsh words for Friend's methodology.

"It was strictly a study in academia," said Richard Johnson, vice president and portfolio manager for the Dreyfus Fund. "From a practical point of view, it would be impossible for anybody to commit funds to every issue on the Big Board."

"The real standard of measurement for mutual fund performance would be a cross-section of stocks that the individual in fact invests in," he continued.

"This would usually be a fairly speculative group, including some seasoned issues as well," John Bogle, board chairman of the Investment Company Institute, trade association for the mutual fund industry, said mutual funds showed "an outstanding performance" over the past decade when compared with most of the commonly used averages.

The average mutual fund was up 120 per cent, he said, as compared with a 96 per cent rise in Standard & Poor's 500-stock index and a 59 per cent increase in the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks over the past decade.

Bogle pointed out that about a quarter of the mutual funds which Friend based his sample on were either heavily invested in bonds or concentrated entirely in the stock of a single industry.

Hal Boyle Birthday Blues

By JOY STILLEY
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP) — Well, I've managed to get through another birthday with no more trauma than that caused by making the acquaintance of the new gray hairs that have joined the old ones I'm already on familiar terms with.

Not so last year. On that occasion my husband decided that the only kind of celebration befitting the great event was dinner out, complete with champagne cocktails.

All went well during the meal. An attentive waitress hovered over us. The food was so much better than what I can cook I suspected my husband's motives in insisting that I should not play chef on my birthday.

But trouble came, along with the coffee. So did our waitress bearing a small cake with a lit candle. So did a platoon of waitresses, waiters and bus-boys.

They circled the table and proceeded in full voice to serenade me with two choruses of Happy Birthday. I was too chagrined to notice whether there was a spotlight on me or not.

Every dinner paused and stared, soup spoon suspended, salad fork dangling lettuce, steak knife poised for the coup de grace.

When the last off-key note died away all hands applauded so vigorously I feared they might be an encore. As the choristers finished their brief operatic career and went back to more mundane pursuits I turned in fury to my dinner companion.

"You know how I hate scenes like this," I hissed. "How could you embarrass me so?"

"Honest, I had nothing to do with it—believe me, I didn't," he pleaded. "You've been with me every second since we got here."

"You must have told her with sign language," I fumed, retreating into huffy silence. When the waitress presented the check my suspect spouse insisted she tell me he had no part in the proceedings.

"Of course he didn't," she said. "I heard him making a birthday toast and thought you'd enjoy the little surprise."

Back in the same restaurant with another couple a few months later, I recounted the tale of horror. Our friend Chuck excused himself ostensibly to make a telephone call and soon after he returned to the table I saw the brave little band of instant singing stars enter with a lit candle.

"I wonder what poor soul is going to get it tonight?" I said sympathetically.

"You," announced Chuck with a diabolical grin. "I told them it was your birthday!"

To Your Good Health Is It Really A Yeast Infection?

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have a yeast infection of the vagina and have had spells off and on for 25 years. I have had different doctors but none has given me much on what causes it. Could I have had diabetes all this time and not know it?

Could a husband harbor this infection for long periods of time, and the wife get it back? What treatment do men have when they need to be treated for it?

Mrs. H.M.B. There are several types of vaginitis, caused by different kinds of organisms. Therefore, as a starting point, are you sure it is a yeast infection?

I'm not necessarily implying that it isn't. Yeast infection is fairly common in diabetics but can affect others, too. Since you don't know whether you have diabetes, book sugar tests would give the answer. Why go on wondering?

However, a more recurrent type of vaginitis (and you say yours has been recurring for 25 years) is caused by a parasite, the trichomonas. That can be harbored by the husband. It may not bother him — probably won't. But the wife can get rid of the parasite, only to get it again repeatedly from the husband who, all too often, insists that he is having no trouble and doesn't need treatment.

Treatment of the husband is the same as that for the wife; the drug Flagyl, taken by mouth, over a period of 10 days, is usually quite effective.

The trichomonas, if the husband is harboring it, can be identified in a urine sample, so I suggest that he be checked.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: My doctor is very busy and I hesitate to ask a lot of questions, so I am writing hoping you have a booklet on cystitis.

Since cystitis is bladder infection, what you want is the booklet, "You Kidneys: Facts You Need to Know," which discusses kidney and related problems, including bladder trouble. Send 25 cents and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope for it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am able to stick to a bland diet without too much trouble, but there are times when I crave a carbonated drink such as root beer or lemon soda. Would this be terribly detrimental? My ulcer is healed but I still have a hiatal hernia. C.F.K.

No, I don't think an occasional drink of pop would hurt you.

What are ulcers? How should they be treated? What can you do to help rid yourself of ulcers and stay rid of them? For answers, read Dr. Thosteson's helpful booklet, "How To Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed." For your copy write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim Don't Fight Life-Love It

Today is my birthday. I understand that fact is of little interest to you, but since it is an occasion of importance to me, bear with my rejoicing. How marvelous to have been granted another year to see, hear, touch, talk, write — love!

I HAVE the rather foolish feeling that I have reached the age of relativity. Past, present and future have become as one. I am not at all displeased that time is kind enough to leave me suspended momentarily — yet perhaps this new freedom of thought foretells a premature second childhood.

Even so, if childhood is the happiest time of life, why shouldn't anyone be glad to live through it a second time? And if there is more pleasure in anticipation than in realization, what can be wrong with living in the future?

A COMBINATION of past, present and future, therefore, would seem a most delectable mixture! That depends, of course, on the kind of memories the past holds; also on what visions the future presents. A very pleasant present would naturally take most of one's attention, to the exclusion of the past; the future is almost painted in such glowing colors that both past and present are obscured.

WHEN I WAS young, I lived in the "now," because I had no "then" to remember or upon which to build a "when." Now, I have come so far, there's so much more behind me than ahead that it's easy to confuse the paths when I look back. We can only judge the road ahead by the part of it we have already traversed, yet, blessedly, hope holds a magic lantern ahead to the very end.

Nor do I want the future revealed to me except as it unfolds hour by hour. Life is such an overwhelming gift that I can accept only a little of it at a time.

SOMEWHERE I read that life is just a matter of math; solving one problem before going on to the next. That is a challenging way to look at it, yet challenge suggests a fight. I have no desire to fight life. I love it.

Marquis Childs Republican Challengers Of Kennedy

BOSTON — Early in his campaign for the Republican senatorial nomination, Josiah A. Spaulding spoke his mind about the need for population control and legalized abortion at a meeting in the Knights of Columbus Hall in Brockton. It was, as the candidate himself says, quite an evening, with the dust of conflict rising above the loud voices challenging what in this predominantly Catholic state is heresy.

IT IS A TRIBUTE to his courage (your practical politician would call it foolhardiness) that he should speak so frankly on a subject he feels is central to man's survival on this earth.

But to seek the privilege of challenging Sen. Edward M. Kennedy in November is in itself a definition of courage. As former chairman of the Republican State Committee, Spaulding drew up a list of 100 who might take on the senator. There were no acceptances, and so he stepped into the breach.

THE TRADEMARK of his campaign is a slingshot. He is the David facing up to the Goliath of the Kennedy organization, the Kennedy money and, above all, the Kennedy name. His detractors say that with the money he has been able to raise thus far, all he can afford is a slingshot.

Spaulding is a man in the finest Yankee tradition of public duty. In his own community in suburban Boston, he served on school and hospital boards, and when a larger challenge came along, to shape up the Republican party and modernize the state's archaic election laws, he did not back away from it.

HE TALKS in his cluttered campaign headquarters of how overcrowding, the population explosion, is related to crime, racial tension and all the ills of the day. Abortion laws have no place on the statute books.

That is a matter for the individual's religion and his conscience.

The latest Globe poll shows Spaulding well ahead of his rival for the senatorial nomination, John McCarthy, in the primary next week.

MCCARTHY IS an exact opposite. Spaulding favors setting a date for bringing all American troops out of Vietnam, as in the Hatfield-McGovern amendment; McCarthy talks about victory and vindicating America's dead. He uses the shorthand of crime in the streets to exploit fears of violence and black militancy.

But it is above all on Chappaquiddick that the rivals are poles apart. McCarthy has talked a lot about the Kennedy tragedy and his fitness, or lack of it, to be senator. He even intimated he might go to Martha's Vineyard and make a speech from the famous bridge. Spaulding, at the start of his campaign, announced he would not speak about the family accident. He is convinced that here, where there is a kind of Kennedy veneration, this is bound to backfire.

MCCARTHY IS a powerful campaigner. Even before a small crowd, he comes on like Gang Busters. Murray Chotiner, one of the Nixon back-room aides, is said to have come here to try to sway the decision for the Gang Buster. At the party convention, however, Spaulding was the choice, with a sizable vote for McCarthy. There is considerable discipline among Republicans, and this is one reason Spaulding is the favorite.

The problem is identity. In the Globe favorability poll, more than two-thirds of those questioned had no opinion of either Spaulding or McCarthy. Only a massive television operation directed by skilled advertising types could overcome this, and neither of the candidates has anything like the money for that.

Andrew Tully Demos Rapped By GOP Leader

(Andrew Tully is on holiday. During his absence his column is being written by various national figures.)

By REP. GERALD R. FORD
House Republican Leader

WASHINGTON — Democratic leaders and their political allies currently are cranking up what promises to be the most vicious and distorted campaign of all time.

They are trying to "con" the American people into believing that the present economic slowdown, deliberately induced to fight Democratic inflation, is a precursor of the kind of economic collapse experienced by this country in 1929. It makes no difference to these unscrupulous political operators that no respectable economist in the nation believes any such development is possible. They are pulling out all the stops in a scare campaign which is aimed at increasing the number of Democratic seats in the next Congress.

THE SITUATION thus created is filled with danger and with irony.

The danger is that the American people will be fooled into believing the Democrats' scare talk. If that happens, it becomes entirely possible that a severe recession could ensue because consumers might go into hiding and engage in only the most essential spending.

The Democrats are playing politics with the people's pocketbook and creating a highly hazardous situation in the country just for the sake of possible political gain. The American people will not be fooled.

The ironies of the situation are manifold.

THE DEMOCRATS are seeking to create an uproar over five per cent unemployment.

First of all, the recent increases in unemployment are caused by a forced cooling off of the economy which was brought about to combat the inflation visited upon the country by the previous Democrat administration.

Second, the unemployment rate was 6.7 per cent under the Democrats in 1961 and averaged 5.1 per cent under the Democrats from 1961 through 1968. If five per cent unemployment is high now, it was high then.

THIRD, WHEN Lyndon Johnson was elected to a full term as President in 1964, the national unemployment rate was 5.2 per cent — above the present figure. And when Lyndon Johnson sent his first Economic Message to Congress in January, 1965, he described the state of the economy as "excellent" — at a time when the unemployment rate was five per cent, the present rate. Unintentionally or not, the unemployment problem then was solved when the Johnson Administration sent 549,500 Americans off to war in the jungles of Southeast Asia.

IT WAS ONLY because of the war boom produced by the fighting in Vietnam that the unemployment rate in the United States dipped below four per cent.

One additional irony stems from Nixon Administration cutbacks in defense spending — a cutback of 682,000 military and civil positions to meet budget requirements for fiscal 1971. In addition, reductions in military procurement will result in 600,000 fewer jobs in industry.

WHILE THE Democrats call loudly for cuts in defense spending, they simultaneously scream about increases in unemployment.

I don't think the American people will be fooled by the Democrats' exercise in pocketbook politics. Those who play this dangerous game should get their comeuppance at the polls on Nov. 3.

Art Buchwald Virgin Power

MARTHA'S VINEYARD, Mass. — There have been so many groups formed lately to protect their sexual freedoms that little attention has been given to a new activist organization called the Virgin Anti-Defamation League.

The organization was started a few years ago by a small group of people who were sick and tired of virgins being the butt of every joke, every salacious comedy and every tired sexual cliché.

SIDNEY PIMPLEDOWN, the president of VADL, told me the response to the organization has been heartwarming. New chapters are springing up all over the country.

Pimpledown said "We estimate that there are approximately 1,800,543 virgins in the United States at the present, including at least 1,200 women. These people have been led to believe that there is some sort of shame attached to being a virgin. We want virtuous people to be proud of their heritage. We point out that some of our greatest writers, poets and artists have been virgins. Even today, in some primitive cultures, there is a premium placed on virtue."

"THEN ONE OF your goals," I said, "is to bring virginity out in the open and get people to accept it for what it is?"

"That's correct. Until recently it was a dark secret one kept to himself. The majority of virgins refused to talk about it even to each other. But now, thanks to VADL, virgins know they are not alone, that there are almost two million people in the same boat with them. They are all good people."

"OUR JOB," Pimpledown continued, "is to convince them they are not the monsters society has made them out to be."

"What do you do beside make virgins feel they are not alone?"

"We have been lobbying for equal treatment for virgins. Do you realize a virtuous secretary makes 20 per cent less salary than any other kind of secretary? Virgins are discriminated against in bars, at parties and even drive-in theaters."

"WE ALSO," continued Pimpledown, "are demanding the employment of more virgins on television commercials. In the past, cast directors for TV commercials refused to hire virgins as they were afraid the local TV stations would object, but when we proved to them that virgins were as good at performing on TV as anybody else, they changed their policy. It took time, but now all major advertisers include two virgins in their budgets."

"That is a breakthrough," I said.

"OUR MAIN function is education," Pimpledown said. "We go on television and give our side of the story. For years the talk shows refused to book virgins on their programs. But there is a more enlightened view now. We even had a virgin on the Johnny Carson show last week, and they only received 150 protest calls. Three years ago, if Carson had interviewed a virgin, the whole board would have lit up."

"You've come a long way," I told Pimpledown.

"We're starting to fight back. The militant arm of our organization is called Virgin Power. We've picketed movies with the word 'virgin' in the title. We've burned pornographic books that show virgins as weak, cringing people. And we've held sit-ins at city halls demanding virgins be permitted to get married."

BIG SPRING Business Review

5-A BIG SPRING (TEXAS) HERALD, TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1970 5-A

BIG SPRING AIRCRAFT IS FLIGHT CENTER More People Learning To Fly

Locally owned and operated, Big Spring Aircraft provides general aviation services for transient planes on stopovers, including overnight storage, tie down, refueling, air for the tires and windshield cleaning. But the services do not stop there. As a qualified School of Aviation approved by the Federal Aviation Agency, Big Spring Aircraft will give flight students introductory lessons for $5. Rex Goff, manager, and James Fryar are the qualified instructors who can give students private, commercial, instructor, multi-engine, and instrument certification, and they will shortly be approved to certify instrument flight instructors.

A Midnight Snack ... Or A Nightmare

The idea of turning on a light in your kitchen in the middle of the night shouldn't be something that scares you. Yet many people pass up a midnight snack rather than flick on that light and see dozens of ugly cockroaches scurrying for cover. These people have simply not discovered No-Roach.

NO-ROACH KILLS ROACHES ANTS safe, easy

Learning to fly is not as expensive as most people think, nor as difficult. Most people are ready for their private licenses after 50 hours of instruction, dual and solo, and on a "pay as you learn arrangement" a student can earn his license on a modest budget at a cost comparable with other sports. With Big Spring's notably good flying weather, a person can get a rapid timetable for earning his license. Ex-military personnel can get 90 per cent of the total charges for commercial and certified flight instructor ratings paid under the GI Bill.

Several local businessmen and ranchers learn to fly at Big Spring Aircraft to facilitate business transactions. They can set their own schedules without having to depend on commercial airlines. Learning to fly also opens the way to numerous related job opportunities such as flying commercial planes, flight instruction, or charter service.

Goff and Fryar use the Piper Cherokee 6, the largest single engine plane built, to provide charter and ambulance service anywhere in the continental United States for up to six passengers with baggage or a stretcher with patient and three attendants.

Shampoo-In Blue Lustre Gets Carpet Clean Again

In the back-to-school rush, housewives are glad to know that soiled carpet traffic paths may be cleaned easily and quickly, using Blue Lustre and a lightweight shampoo machine.

This premium-quality carpet and upholstery cleaner has become America's favorite because it's so easy to use. Just vacuum, shampoo, let dry and revacuum. It is really that easy with the electric shampoo machine. Soil is gone, colors are bright again, and matted carpet nap springs back to make carpets look new once more.

Blue Lustre is a concentrate that provides deep down cleaning. There is no messy powder to keep piling up in carpet fibres, no gummy residue to cause rapid resoiling.

The rug shampooer which may be rented from Big Spring Hardware for $1 a day with the purchase of Blue Lustre makes carpet cleaning as easy as vacuuming. Its twin-brush scrubbing action gets the job done thoroughly and quickly.

Blue Lustre is safe to use on any carpet that water will not harm. It costs so little, and is so convenient to use for the little touch-up jobs necessary for good carpet maintenance. Just one-half gallon of Blue Lustre will clean three 9x12 rugs. Try it!

Security State: Drive-Up Banking, Instant Service

The convenience of "instant banking" service with drive-in windows makes Security State Bank, 1411 Gregg, the ideal choice for the busy housewife with small children or the businessman on the go. There are also three tellers inside in the pleasant surroundings of the air conditioned lobby, where friendly personal service combines with modern banking facilities to make banking easy and enjoyable.

Working behind the scenes to insure speed and accuracy are the 10 women in the bookkeeping department. They post accounts with the help of four Burrough's accounting machines. The customer's ledger and statement are always carefully cross-checked for absolute accuracy.

Besides the Burrough's machines, an IBM proof machine is used to sort checks and prove deposits. Mrs. Oneta McDaniel has supervised the bookkeeping department since the bank's opening in 1956, and she knows how to keep the banking services running smoothly and efficiently.

Every service expected of a bank is offered at Security State. One of the newest is the BankAmericard, honored in all major cities and towns and in many foreign countries.

Security State handles savings accounts, time certificates, personalized checks (which are free to new customers), and banking by mail. There are 475 safe deposit boxes of various capacities; a night depository; photostatic copying of cancelled checks for customers to prove a bill payment or a tax deduction; and notary public service provided free to all bank customers.

SECURITY STATE BANK — Modern banking facilities and accurate, courteous personnel give customers complete banking service.

Competition For Women Spurs Army Racial Woes

SIRHAN'S MOTHER AT NEWS CONFERENCE — Mrs. Mary Sirhan, mother of convicted assassin Sirhan Sirhan, becomes emotional at a news conference in Los Angeles yesterday as she talked with newsmen about reports that Palestinian guerrilla plane hijackers were demanding release of her son from a California prison. Leaders of the guerrilla organization in Jordan later said they made no such demand. (See story Page 1.)

Auto Labor Deadline

DETROIT (AP) — With less than a week to go before contracts expire, bargaining between the United Auto Workers and the Big Three automakers appears stalled today while the union awaits a second offer from its twin strike targets, General Motors and Chrysler Corp.

With pacts at GM, Chrysler and Ford Motor Co. ending at midnight next Monday, negotiations continued through the Labor Day weekend, but little progress was reported.

The companies' initial offer, which the firms said included a wage increase of 7.5 per cent in the first year but which the UAW said amounted to no more than 1.1 per cent, was quickly rejected by the union last week. Over the weekend, the UAW completed presentation of its contract demands at GM and Chrysler.

Details of the UAW wage demands were not made public. The current average hourly wage for UAW-represented auto workers is $4.02, with fringe benefits averaging an additional $1.73 hourly, according to company estimates.

Irving Bluestone, codirector of the union's GM department, said Monday there had been no indication whether or when GM might make a revised offer.

GM's chief negotiator, Earl Bramblett, indicated when the original offer was made that a second offer might be forthcoming later.

Bluestone said: "If we are going to have a bargaining posture in which we can negotiate to a settlement rather than a strike, we would anticipate another offer."

In addition to reaching agreement on a national contract, negotiators for the union and the companies must also settle thousands of local plant issues.

BERLIN (AP) — In August the sound and fury of racial confrontation suddenly rolled over the U.S. Army's McNair barracks in West Berlin.

Alarmed commanders were left with the task of reconstructing what happened and why.

The Berlin echo reached all the way to Washington. Along with news of a near-riot involving U.S. troops at Schweinfurt in West Germany, the black-white confrontation at McNair was instrumental in spurring the creation of an interracial fact-finding team, including White House aides, that is coming to Europe this week.

The ingredients that led white and black soldiers to fight in Berlin were basic and familiar to scenes of racial tension across the United States.

IT COULD HAPPEN

At McNair barracks, a fenced-in complex of buildings, the fear is that it could happen again.

"If it does," one soldier said, "it will be worse. Nobody expected a fight the last time. Next time, they'll be ready. Too many guys around here have got stitches to remind them of what happened."

The spark that set off the initial incident came when a white soldier called a black soldier "nigger." A white GI was whacked with a piece of wood. The fight escalated, "first two then four, then eight, right up the line." Soldiers poured out of nearby barracks and chose sides by color. Clubs, rocks and pipes were used as weapons.

Five men were arrested. Eight were treated at a hospital, including one military policeman. Evidently as many as 25 men suffered injuries of some sort.

ANGRY BLACKS

A group of angry blacks refused a direct order to disperse. Soldier informants say the Berlin Brigade's provost marshal was called a pig. The reported use of the term "boys" by a high-ranking officer, in an effort to calm things down, infuriated the blacks.

The chance arrival of a unit from the field in full battle dress saved the situation from getting worse, an officer recalls. "They marched in the gate just as all hell was breaking loose and were immediately used as riot control with bayonets fixed."

"If you could figure out why this thing happened," the McNair-base officer declared, "then you could do something about it. But when that thing got going, it was not a case of unit pride or even racial pride. All you had was hate." The Berlin Brigade has been remarkably free of outbursts of racial unrest plaguing other Army units based across Germany. That it now has happened in Berlin, too, underlines far-reaching racial sensitivity.

RACIAL GAP

Maj. Gen. George M. Seignious II, the Berlin commander, says firmly, "This situation is endemic to our whole society, not just the Army."

Seignious and other senior commanders feel that the Army, the Berlin Brigade, the entire service, sometimes are blamed for a situation born largely out of civilian circumstances.

In an interview, however, Seignious emphasized that regardless of the original cause, the Army's leadership must bridge a racial gap wherever it finds one.

Seignious is a tall southerner out of South Carolina and The Citadel. "The Army," he says, "must make the racially scarred soldier feel that in the Army he has found an institution that is doing its level best—across the board—to achieve a situation of full equity for all its members, black or white."

STRONG FEELINGS

The general sees the continuing problem this way: Soldiers coming in with racial scars hold very strong feelings. The Army must reach these men, be able to communicate with them: "Each particular soldier must be made to feel that the Army will handle him fairly. Another problem related to this is an increasing anti-military feeling among some young men who are drafted... maybe his parents or family have been telling him that Vietnam is all wrong, that the military is to blame. Then, suddenly, he finds himself in uniform..."

"In Europe," Seignious added, "a positive approach by the Army has been very successful. But whether the problem is real or imaginary on the part of an individual soldier, it is a question of leadership to resolve it."

RECENT ARRIVALS

Seignious and other top commanders emphasize that junior officers and sergeants must get through to the individual soldier because they are closest to him.

Seignious sees the biggest obstacle to this as the Army's turnover of almost 100 per cent each year. The main cause: manpower for Vietnam. Experience shows it is difficult to reach a soldier with a hang-up when the men in his unit and the men leading him are constantly coming and going.

Seignious finds it significant that those involved in the McNair fighting were for the most part recent arrivals, men the brigade had not yet established real contact with.

The Army in Europe—and the Army generally—says it helped pioneer integration among Americans. Seignious and others declare there is no discrimination in housing, schooling, job assignments, food or anything else that affects a soldier's daily life.

HARD TO PROVE

Black soldiers say this is not always so. They claim discrimination in such things as promotions, "even if it is hard to prove." What seems to gall them most, however, is a belief in a hidden lack of acceptance that "only a black man can feel because he is black." They see an Army "power structure" that is mostly white. Some whites say they felt the blacks overreacted to McNair. That a punch in the mouth for the offending white soldier would have been enough.

The blacks go farther afield in their criticism, saying that the "officers do not listen to us," that the name-calling was just a public expression of what a lot of whites really think and that "a black man has to be better than a white man if he wants to get a job or promotion for which both are qualified."

LITTLE THINGS

A particular complaint is that brigade higher-ups react strenuously to soldiers flashing the "v" sign that in the United States has come to be a symbol for the peace movement.

Part of the complaints by black soldiers are supported by some officers. One white officer said: "It's the little things that bug them. For example they say when four or five whitewalls stand around and talk no one things anything of it. But when four or five blacks, wearing black berets or Afro-style haircuts, are seen together, people ask immediately 'What are they up to?'"

"The blacks resent this."

A black sergeant added: "Then you get a thing like this black soldier killed in Vietnam refused burial in Florida. The young hot heads over here see red. You cannot explain to them that it was a white woman who donated the brother the burial plot in the first place."

Another black veteran said the Army is compounding its handling of the racial problem by being lax in discipline for such things as smoking marijuana by both blacks and whites.

GETS ZAPPED

"A guy smokes pot," the soldier said, "and nothing is done about it. Another guy does something else and gets zapped. He has a right to ask, why me and not him?"

It is a different story in such places as Baumholder or Hanau in West Germany.

PLAY FOR PAY

"When you are from Baumholder, a soldier declared, 'people feel sorry for you.'"

An officer elaborated: "The American force in Baumholder is bigger than the town. The place is filled with prostitutes. The whites have their bars, the blacks theirs. There is nothing else to do and nowhere to go. The tension is terrific."

Off-duty segregation also extends to Berlin but seems largely self-imposed. It is a paradox that the once racially conscious Germans generally overlook the color line represented in American units. A number of black soldiers have married German women. One says: "Judging only by my own case, I can only say that I have been completely accepted by the Germans."

Officers report that friction with the local population, as well as racial tension within a command, has a direct relationship to the proportion of troops present and any resultant competition for entertainment, transportation, bars and women.

CANDY MAN RETURNS!!

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — He had five $1 bills in his hand when he came into Eugene Belcher's convenience food store here Sunday.

"Do you remember me?" asked the man, about 20. "I stole some candy in your store about 10 years ago and you caught me and reprimanded me for it."

"I want you to take this," he said, handing over the money.

"I didn't just steal candy. I want you to be compensated."

Belcher said he handed the money back to the man and told him to keep it, but the man refused.

"You take this. It will make me feel better," he said, leaving without giving his name.

A boy has a lot on his mind the first days of school. But getting there safely isn't one of them.

He's thinking about his new teacher. And the old gang. And arithmetic—ugh! He's likely not giving a thought in the world to a car coming around the corner. And he might run into the street in the blink of an eye.

That leaves it up to you, the grown-up in the driver's seat, to think about him and be careful. It means making these youngsters the most important thing on your mind when driving.

But, unfortunately, every year about this time, too many children are killed or injured by motorists who forget to remember.

Your new car dealer is concerned about the safety of the children in your community. And he asks your help in getting all the boys and girls to school safely. And home again. Please.

A DINNER CHAT — President Richard Nixon chats during dinner Monday night at the White House with AFL-CIO President George Meany. Nixon entertained leaders of organized labor and their wives at the White House.

Wonder Why Demos Didn't Discover Wine-Dine Bit?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, an unlikely candidate for an election year love affair with organized labor, left some union chiefs wondering today why Democrats hadn't discovered his wine-and-dine gambit years ago.

Nixon invited more than three score top union officials and their wives to a White House dinner Monday—the first time any chief executive had held such a soiree on Labor Day.

The normally Democratic unionists seemed impressed.

HOME RUN — After the business-suit event—a departure from Nixon's preference for formal attire at evening social events—a significant number echoed the sentiments of AFL-CIO official Sol Barkin, who proclaimed:

"It's a political 10-pin strike... I don't know why the Democrats didn't think of it years ago."

The Nixon get-together almost seemed to belie persistent AFL-CIO criticism of the administration's stewardship of the economy, even though the federation has steadfastly backed Nixon's Southeast Asia policies.

An exchange of toasts between Nixon and AFL-CIO president George Meany gave rise, in fact, to a jest that television might find a fall season winner in the "Dick and George show."

When Nixon introduced son-in-law David Eisenhower, summertime statistician for the Washington Senators of the American baseball league, Meany interjected loudly, "that don't seem to make 'em win."

WE'LL SEE — Then when it came Meany's turn to toast the President of the United States, Meany noted the presence of George P. Shultz, first director of the new office of management and budget.

Sorrowfully, it seemed, Meany explained that Shultz had taken a substantial pay cut from his former position as secretary of labor, adding, "that don't happen in the labor movement."

It was Nixon's turn to interrupt with, "Maybe he should join a labor union."

In a more serious vein, Nixon lauded Meany as a "labor statesman" and asserted that "when the chips are down," the unions are on the side of the U.S. President, be he Democrat or Republican.

Meany allowed as how all six chief executives he has been associated with—starting with Franklin D. Roosevelt—always tried to do what was best for the country.

Each night the subjects come to the laboratory to be wired to machines, which electronically read brain waves and record sleep patterns on graph paper.

"Already we are finding that in later pregnancy sleep is quite a bit disturbed despite the fact that the woman is clinically normal," the doctor said. "There is no sign of depression or the blues but she sleeps not so soundly."

"Brainwaves of these patients are like those of sick, depressed patients and we find they are occurring two weeks or a month before birth."

"When the changes occur early and more severely we find the patient is not as apt to recover so fast after birth as the normal patient who snaps back in about two weeks."

Learning to spot the early warnings may enable doctors to predict severe postpartum reaction and treat the patient accordingly, Dr. Karacan said.

Dr. Karacan was asked whether the separation, sometimes four nights in a row, bothers the affected couples.

On the contrary, he said, "sometimes I think husband and wife get sick and tired of each other and being away helps."

The five of diamonds was led in the hope that East would put up the king and establish South's ten as well as North's queen—thereby providing a club discard for declarer on the fourth round of diamonds. East however played the eight and South put up the ten of diamonds to hold the trick as West showed out.

There was no future in continuing diamonds in a smug as East retained two stoppers in the suit with the king-nine located behind North's queen-seven, so declarer shifted his attentions to another suit.

A spade was led to the ace and the queen of clubs was returned for a finesse. South was not at all concerned when West won the trick with the king, for the latter was unable to reach his partner since West had no more diamonds. The club return was taken by the ace. South played the king and another spade, ruffing in dummy and then he discarded the ten of diamonds on the jack of clubs. His only loser on the deal was the king of clubs.

When South responded with one heart to North's opening bid of one diamond, the latter's holding was worth 19 points in support and he therefore jumped to three hearts. South held the equivalent of an opening bid himself and he made a slam try by cue bidding the ace of clubs.

Having an excellent fit including top trump honors, North designated his willingness to cooperate with partner's efforts by showing the ace of spades. South proceeded without further ado to six hearts.

West opened the jack of diamonds which had all the earmarks of a singleton. The ace was played from dummy. Trumps were drawn in two rounds ending up in the North hand.

The former governor and third party presidential candidate said the political pressure being brought by the "hard hats and all the working people of America" will provide the solutions to what he described as the crisis in Southern schools.

Cambodian Troops Launch Offensive

SAIGON (AP) — More than 200 North Vietnamese commandos blasted their way into a South Vietnamese military district headquarters and a ranger camp south of Da Nang today and rampaged through the two installations, killing at least 34 government soldiers and wounding 42.

Sources in Da Nang said the government casualty toll was still incomplete and might rise later.

Twenty-six North Vietnamese soldiers were reported killed in the three-hour battle.

Worst setback — It was the worst setback for government forces in a single action since last June, when 46 South Vietnamese troops were killed and 84 wounded by North Vietnamese who overran a government artillery base northeast of the A Shau Valley.

Striking a few hours before dawn under the cover of darkness and a heavy mortar barrage that pinned government defenders down, the North Vietnamese simultaneously attacked the Tra Bong district headquarters and a ranger frontier defense camp 3 1/2 miles away.

North Vietnamese sappers broke into both the district headquarters and the camp and ran through them, hurling dynamite bombs and firing Chinese Communist-made AK47 assault rifles and rocket-propelled grenades.

BAD TIMING — The attack came at a time when the U.S. Command had just announced new moves to disengage American forces from the Vietnam war, including the redeployment to the United States later this week of the 3rd American Air Wing.

Reports from Cambodia said government troops had seized the initiative for the first time in the Cambodian war, starting their biggest operation to date to relieve Communist pressure on their nation's heartland.

The offensive comes at a time when North Vietnamese and Viet Cong activity in Cambodia is comparatively light. Military sources said the government had caught the enemy troops apparently resting and regrouping between drives of their own.

Associated Press correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from Phnom Penh that Cambodian troops by this morning had met only light resistance while moving six miles north of Phnom, 40 miles north of Phnom Penh.

BRIGADES TRAPPED — More than 500 South Vietnamese rangers keeping the main Phnom Penh to Saigon highway open clashed with North Vietnamese troops Monday 65 miles southeast of Phnom Penh just across the border. South Vietnamese losses were three dead and seven wounded, spokesmen said, while 21 enemy troops died.

The aim of the Cambodian offensive, as outlined by military sources in Phnom Penh, is to clear Highway 6 from Skoun to Kompong Thom, a provincial capital 80 miles north of Phnom Penh.

Kompong Thom has been surrounded for three months by troops of the North Vietnamese 20th Division, which also controls Highway 6, the only accessible land route to the city. Two Cambodian brigades are trapped there.

Weathermen predicted only minor temperature changes associated with the front and showers were expected in the Northwest and mountains of Southwest Texas.

Hot weather prevailed over Texas Labor Day. Laredo, San Angelo and Wichita Falls all had 101 degrees while El Paso and Alpine recorded 84.

Front Puffs Into Texas

By The Associated Press

An early autumn cool front puffed further into Texas Tuesday bringing high winds, lightning and thunderstorms to north-west areas of the state.

A heavy thunderstorm spawned by the cool air dumped 34 inches of rain at Wichita Falls overnight. Jagged lightning bolts and gusty winds accompanied the blustery weather.

Early morning temperatures ranged from the 60s in the Panhandle to the 70s and 80s elsewhere. Skies were generally clear to partly cloudy throughout the state.

Weathermen predicted only minor temperature changes associated with the front and showers were expected in the Northwest and mountains of Southwest Texas.

86 Confirmed Disease Cases In Alamo City

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The diphtheria count rose by one to 86 confirmed cases for the year Monday, with another 15 persons listed as suspected victims of the steadily growing epidemic.

The current outbreak is the worst here since 1936 when 96 cases including 13 deaths were recorded.

Two children have died this year from the throat infection. The latest case added to the list was a child but there were no other details, hospital officials said.

The Labor Day weekend did not halt work by federal and state officials in their efforts to find diphtheria carriers, a health district spokesman said. "They have been working through the holidays on records pertinent to their investigation."

Dr. William Ross, health district director, also spent the holiday weekend "laying plans for resumption of the next large-scale immunization program," the spokesman said.

The drive will be the second phase to follow up a mass immunization program held in August, when more than 217,000 persons were inoculated.

Details of the second campaign, aimed at those needing the second phase in a series of shots, will be announced later this week.

The health district said about 150,000 persons who received shots last month should return for their next. Children require three shots, adults two.

Booster shots also will be dispensed in the second drive, as they were in the first.

Too Short

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Two girls who passed examinations for jobs as government telephone operators were not hired because they were too short. But their union saved the day by getting the height requirement reduced from five feet to four feet ten inches.

Pregnant Sleep Patterns Probed

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Dr. Ismet Karacan is paying pregnant women $10 a night to sleep in a laboratory so that their brain waves and slumber patterns may be analyzed.

Purpose of the project is to seek ways of predicting cases of "postpartum blues," a form of severe depression which overcomes some women after they have given birth.

The federal government has provided $80,000 for the study by Turkish-born Dr. Karacan, director of the Psychophysiology of Sleep Laboratory at the University of Florida.

"In my first year of psychiatric residency my first six patients had postpartum blues," Dr. Karacan told an interviewer. "One mother killed the baby. Those things made a heavy impact on me."

"From a blue sky the person can become like this. They have the first baby, the pregnancy is normal, now the woman has the fruit of nine months waiting.

"Within a week or two she becomes incompetent emotionally, quite disturbed and depressed with severe crying spells and so on."

Each night the subjects come to the laboratory to be wired to machines, which electronically read brain waves and record sleep patterns on graph paper.

"Already we are finding that in later pregnancy sleep is quite a bit disturbed despite the fact that the woman is clinically normal," the doctor said. "There is no sign of depression or the blues but she sleeps not so soundly."

The Shoe Says He'll Remain In The Saddle

DEL MAR, Calif. (AP) — A millionaire professional who rides thoroughbred horses for a living, Bill Shoemaker went back to work as usual today, unimpaired by the season's retirement as the world's champion rider. He had five mounts at Del Mar today and as he said after setting a record for wins—6,033 — on Labor Day: "I'll keep on riding as long as I feel good and as long as I can win races." Willie the Shoe eclipsed by one the mark of 6,032 held since 1966 by Johnny Longden. It came in the fourth race on a two-year-old filly, Dares J, the favorite. Shoemaker had seven mounts for the biggest day in 21 years at Del Mar but the only one he brought in as the winner was the winningest of his 21-year career.

There were 20,942 fans on hand on a warm afternoon. It was the largest crowd in 21 years at this little track founded by Bing Crosby.

The Shoe had run third in the second race but the crowd seemed to sense what was to happen in the fourth.

The roar was overwhelming when Shoemaker got the record by 2 1/2 lengths on Dares J.

The winner's circle was jammed. There was Shoe-maker's attractive wife, Babbs, his three children by present and past marriages and not the least of all, Johnny Longden. "I held the record 14 years and he'll hold it a lot longer," said Grandpa Longden, who had broken the record with 4,871 on Labor Day in 1956, and retired with 6,032 in 1966. Longden and Shoemaker exchanged warm embraces in the winner's circle and the big crowd enjoyed it thoroughly.

'New' Cleon Jones Punishes Pitchers

Cleon Jones disclaims any knowledge of the impostor that played left field earlier in the season for the New York Mets. He only recognizes the fellow that's out there now. "This is the real Cleon Jones, coming out," said the Mets left fielder after he clouted a two-run homer in the opener and added a key single in the nightcap as the New Yorkers swept a Labor Day doubleheader from the Montreal Expos, 5-4 and 5-1.

NEW CLUB CHAMPION Daryle Hohertz fires 72

Hohertz Winner Of Club Crown

His third time in the finals before losing on another occasion. Wilkins was the club titlist two years ago while Ted Gross won it last year.

The architect fashioned a one-over par 72 to beat runner-up Dan Wilkins by two strokes. Pat Weaver wound up third with a 75 while Jackie Thomas, the other finalist, had his problems throughout the match.

Novis Womack copped consolation laurels in the championship flight with a 76. Hohertz had birdies on two and 11 in his round and barely missed an eagle on the second hole.

He missed a short putt on five which could have meant a par and finished the first nine all even.

After shooting a bird on 11, he bogied the next two holes before paring on in.

A golfer since 1946, Hohertz was runner-up to Son Powell in the club championship one year and carried Mike Hall 22 holes.

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) — "It's been a funny kind of year." Bob Murphy mused after taking down the $20,000 first prize in the Greater Hartford Open Golf Tournament. "I've been in position to win six times this year, finished second once, third twice and just kicked the rest away. "I guess I've finally adjusted to my new clubs."

It's been a long fight for the 27-year-old Murphy, whose clubs were stolen from his car in Philadelphia a year ago. He offered a reward of "$100 a stick" to get them back, but they were gone for good.

And Murphy, who scored consecutive victories in the Philadelphia and Thunderbird Classics of 1968—his rookie season on the tour—hadn't won since. "I guess I was finally ready," he said Monday after shooting a final 69 for 267 and scoring by four strokes over Paul Harney, a 41-year-old club pro from Sutton, Mass.

Harney, playing partner of the 27-year-old Murphy, had a final 67, four-under-par on the 6,568-yard Wetherfield Country Club course for a 271.

Tom Weiskopf, with a 67, was alone in third at 272, followed by Jim Grant and Steve Opperman at 273. PGA champion Dave Stockton and Doug Sanders tied at 274.

STANTON — The Stanton Buffaloes may be closer to being ready for the 1970 football season than a lot of people realize.

The Bisons fairly well dominated their scrimmage with Roscoe here last weekend and coach Bill Young said he was very pleased with the results.

Roscoe netted only one yard against Stanton's first unit and Stanton managed the only touchdown when QB Glenn Ray went to Larry Adams with a scoring pass.

The second units tied, 2-2, while the B teams played to a 1-1 standoff.

Stanton gained a net of 102 yards in the A team scrimmage. Roscoe picked up 12 yards through the air but wound up with a minus rushing yardage, a development that brought smiles to the faces of Young and his assistants.

Boys who looked particularly outstanding for Stanton included split end Mark Hursh, tight end Dennis Jones, tackle Ricky Dickerson and guard Robby Dickerson.

Dickenson continues to develop. Young reasons he'll be a strong candidate for all-district and all-regional honors. Stanton opens at home Friday night against Tahoka. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

Cliff Richey Tangles With Manny Santana

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — It's the good guy against the bad guy today in the U.S. Open Tennis Championships, and the question is:

Can Cliff Richey steal the gallery away from Manuel Santana?

They've matched in one of the featured fourth-round matches at the West Side Tennis Club, and the pairing presents an interesting study in contrasting styles and personalities plus a question-mark in the possible crowd support.

WORLD FAVORITE In this particular center court drama the good guy is Santana, the foreigner, the puckish, deft-stroking Spaniard who has been a favorite of the world's tennis galleries for years.

Richey has to be the villain—a grim, steely-eyed youngster from San Angelo, Tex., who has a widespread reputation of being a bad boy.

"Gee, that was six years ago when I was just 17," says Richey. "I acted up a bit then and people never forgot it. The reputation has stuck with me."

The Richey-Santana match is one of four which will fill the remaining quarter-final brackets in the men's singles.

In the others, top-seeded Rod Laver of Australia plays Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., who insists Rod has slipped some; fourth-seeded Tony Roche of Australia meets Tom Gorman of Seattle and Tito Vasquez of Argentina faces Brian Fairlie of New Zealand in a meeting of unseeded dark horses.

Quarter-finals also are scheduled in the lower half of the women's draw. Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, seeded No. 2, plays Kerry Melville of Australia and Francoise Durr of France, No. 4, goes against Virginia Wade of Britain, No. 5.

Arthur Ashe Jr. of Richmond, Va., and Stan Smith of Pasadena, Calif., gave the United States two quarter-final berths when I was just 17," says Richey. "I acted up a bit then and Ashe erased Tom Okker of the Netherlands 6-4, 6-7, 6-2, 6-3 and qualified for a match Wednesday against second-seeded John Newcombe, the Wimbledon champion, who crushed Clark Graebner of New York 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue: FRANKLIN MIEULI, owner of the San Francisco Warriors of the NBA angry because his star pivot, Nate Thurmond, seemed ready to hold out for a five-year $1 million contract. "In seven years, Nate has only shown flashes of greatness. He breaks down every year, just when you need him most. In the off-season he never touches a basketball and never seems to worry too much about getting into shape. Maybe if he stopped talking about what drudgery basketball is and tried getting ready for our training camp, he wouldn't have these injuries."

TOM COLLINS, Milwaukee radio announcer, discussing the Detroit Tigers' troubled pitcher, Denny McLain, who is carrying a few excess pounds: "Denny used to be barrel-chested, but the staves have slipped."

JIM PLUNKETT, star quarterback for the Stanford Indians, discussing the Heisman Trophy: "Everybody would like to win it, but so what if you don't. It's not the end of the world or even your career. It's like a publicity contest, or a popularity contest, in some ways. But I think deep down most players cling to the hope that it will be awarded on the basis of accomplishment alone. Personally, I'd rather beat USC than win the Heisman."

BOB BOLIN, Milwaukee pitcher, asked why he appeared to be lost in meditation before each pitch to Washington slugger Frank Howard: "I'm thinking of my wife and family."

A Green Bay roofer, after he had heard that Packer coach Phil Bengtson had undergone surgery to repair a broken hip: "I hope that Phil gets back 100 per cent of his physical ability but only 90 per cent of his even temper. I hope he becomes more frascible, more impatient, more... more nasty. He's a beautiful tactician, but if his side bothered him a little he might become a beautiful taskmaster."

JAMES BLAKE, football coach at Sands High School: "One of our strong points is quarterback Steve Herm. He's an accurate passer up to about 35 yards. He completed 58 per cent of his passes last year. It should have been higher, but our receivers dropped a lot they should have caught and our line didn't hold too well for him in 1969. Steve is a good student — he carries a 98-point grade average. He thinks out there on the football field. He's a leader."

CHARLEY METRO, bounced earlier this year as manager of the Kansas City Royals: "An honest man who always tells the truth couldn't possibly succeed as a major league manager."

St. Louis scribe RICH KOSTER: "The Dallas Cowboys must rate as a strong candidate for the title of the most frugal club in pro football. It was recently disclosed that All-Pro defensive back Mel Renfro made only $23,000 in 1969 and that Calvin Hill is being paid a paltry $25,000. Hill, the NFL's Rookie of the Year and an All-Pro last season, is pointing because the Pokes won't renegotiate the remaining two years on his three-year contract. "I think I had a right to expect $30,000, or a little more," Hill said.

QBC CORNER Booster Club Meets At 7:30

By PAUL SHAEFFER QBC Co-Captain The QBC meeting tonight will be held in the High School Cafeteria, starting at 7 o'clock. Coffee and doughnuts will be served.

Club business will be disposed of in the first 30 minutes, after which the coaches will take over for their scrimmage and scouting reports on Monterey. Action pictures of the scrimmage last Friday night with Sweetwater will also be screened.

Those who can't come at 7:30 o'clock will be welcomed anytime they put in an appearance.

As reported Friday, we have 57 of the 84 jackets ordered and will have them ready to distribute tonight. Our shortage occurred in small and large sizes. We have no small sizes and only 15 large. However, we can fill all orders for large sizes made at the barbecue. We have plenty of medium and extra-large sizes and anticipate delivery of the small and balance of the large sizes by Friday.

POLLARD CHEVROLET NEW LITTLE CAR OPENS ITS DOORS THURSDAY SEPTEMBER 10. And it's got a lot of doors to open, too. Because our new little car, the Vega, is actually three little cars. A coupe, a sedan, and a wagon. Plus there's a fourth Vega: a little panel truck. We'll open our doors for Vega business on September 10. We invite you to come in and see why we call this the little car that does everything well. And while you're here, pick up a Vega catalog. It's good reading. Then talk to our salesman. It's good conversation. Bring a friend. POLLARD CHEVROLET 1501 E. 4th St. PHONE 267-7421

Texans Kill Themselves With Guns, Automobiles

By The Associated Press

Texans smashed themselves on the highways, killed each other with guns and drowned in ever-growing numbers over summer's last holiday weekend of rest and recreation.

The Associated Press began its count of Labor Day weekend violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and continued the grim toll until midnight Monday.

The tabulation showed 66 persons dead, 46 in car wrecks, 11 shot to death and five drowned, the remainder killed in miscellaneous incidents. Traffic accidents claimed 568 persons nationwide.

SNYDER SMASH

A Corpus Christi youth, Vincent B. James, 15, died Monday night in a Corpus Christi hospital while being treated for a gunshot wound. Police said he was shot outside a barroom.

Jesse Joe Hernandez, 29, of Dallas drowned in North Lake in the city's northwestern corner Monday while saving his three-year-old son from death in the lake. Witnesses said Hernandez pitched the boy to an unidentified man who waded into the water. Hernandez then went under himself.

J. L. Boatman, a Snyder resident, was killed Monday night when two cars collided in the West Texas city. Boatman was dead on arrival at a Snyder hospital.

SIX INJURED

Mrs. Edith Pullin, 68, of San Antonio was killed and six other persons injured Monday night when two cars collided north of Luling in Atascosa County. Besides Mrs. Pullin's husband, Bennie, five other San Antonio residents, occupants of the second car, were hospitalized at Jourdanston.

Margie L. Wilson, 48, of Austin died Monday of burns suffered when fire swept her home. Firemen said a cigarette apparently started the blaze.

Sandra Thomae, 17, of San Antonio was killed and two other teen-agers injured in an auto crash at a San Antonio intersection Monday. Nancy Deber, 16, and Vickie White, 17, both of San Antonio were injured.

Steve Bock, 19, of Denison drowned Monday in Lake Texoma near the Colbert Boat Club. Witnesses said the youth, swimming to an island, was about 75 yards from shore when he went down.

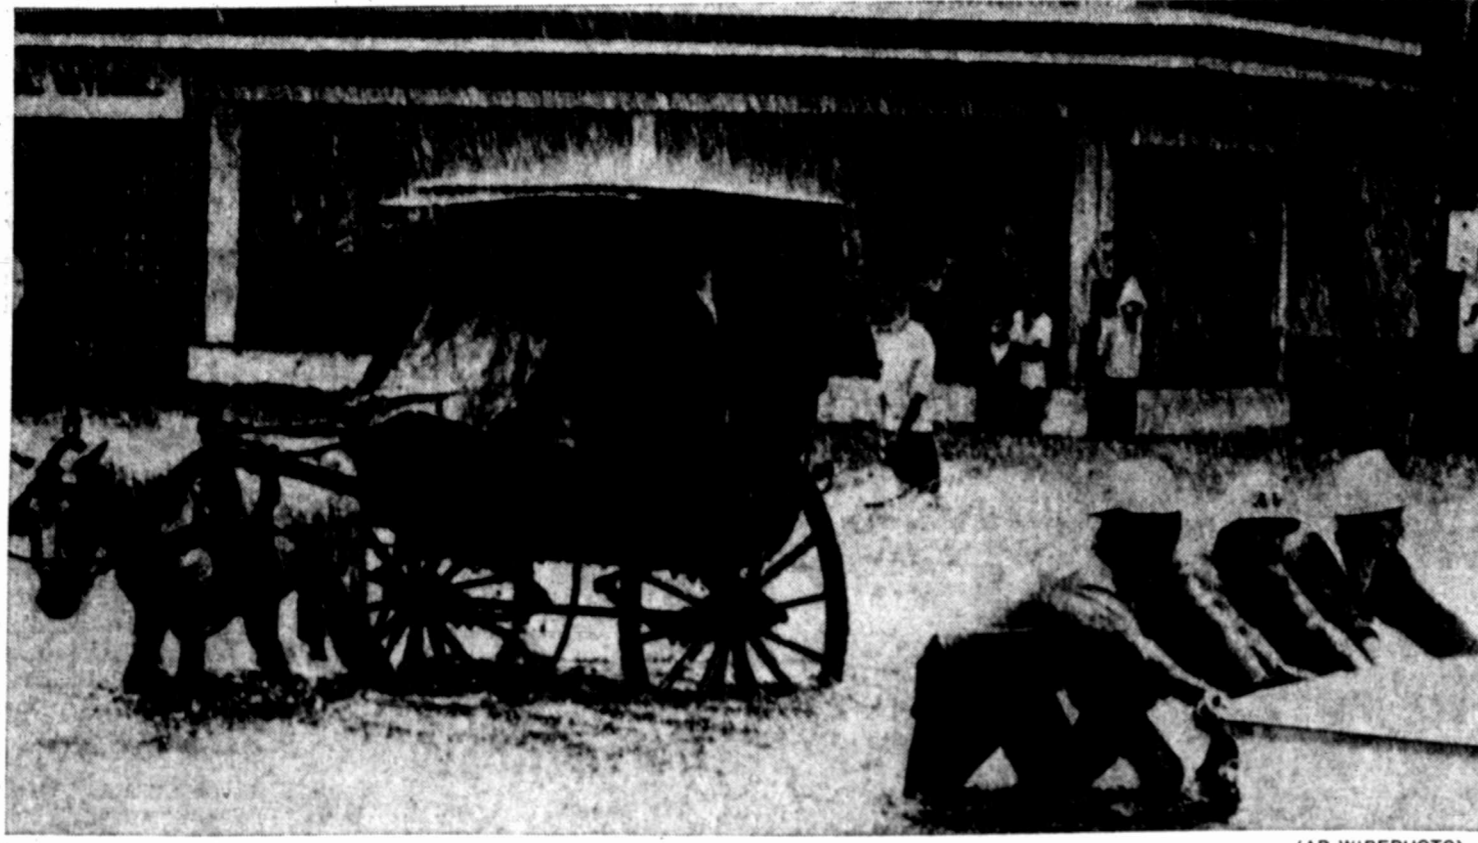

'MYSTERY' MEN

Rickey Allen Capo, 13, of Iowa Park died Monday of injuries he received Sunday when he was thrown from the back of a pickup truck when the vehicle struck an embankment. The accident occurred on a county road near Windthorst in Archer County.

Two unidentified men were found shot to death in a Dallas city park Monday. Another man died of wounds suffered when Dallas police halted his truck.

Agatito Salinas, 48, drowned near Rosenberg when his automobile struck a bridge railing and plunged into Oyster Creek. Salinas was a resident of Stafford.

Philip Roy Nelson, 15, of De Soto, drowned on a family outing at Lake Whitney.

A TIME FOR THE OLD — With cars and other motor vehicles flooded out during recent monsoon rains in Manila, it remained for a horse-drawn carriage to be the best form of transportation. Here, men push stalled car at right, while covered carriage continues on way through flooded streets. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Election Of President By Direct Vote Debated

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate starts debate today on a Constitutional amendment, approved by the House a year ago, to provide for the election of the President by direct, popular vote.

It is the first of many controversial issues confronting senators on their return from a five-day Labor Day recess. Its chances of winning the necessary two-thirds majority are in doubt.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., chief Senate sponsor of the proposed amendment, contends 55 to 60 senators now support the proposals. He predicts the measure will pick up enough additional votes to pass.

UPHILL FIGHT

But he told newsmen before the debate got under way that it is going to be a tough, uphill fight and made plain that he would welcome White House efforts to line up senators behind the amendment.

President Nixon endorsed the direct election proposal after its approval by the House by a vote of 339-70.

He previously had recommended overhauling the present electoral college system of choosing the president, expressing doubt that discarding it altogether would be approved by Congress and the states—at least in time for the 1972 election.

STACKED ODDS

Bayh said "the odds are now rather heavily stacked against the plan being put into effect for the next presidential election."

Under the Senate version, ratification by three-fourths of the states would have to be completed by April 15 of next year for the direct election plan to apply in 1972. The House set a deadline of Jan. 20 when it approved the amendment a year ago.

Bayh said 46 of the 50 state legislatures will meet next year and that an all-out effort to obtain ratification promptly will be launched if the amendment clears Congress.

DITCH IT

Opponents have indicated that, if necessary, they may mount a Senate filibuster against the direct election plan, but they hope to persuade colleagues to ditch it in favor of other proposals to remedy what they concede are defects in the electoral college system.

They contend the proposed amendment would destroy the two-party system, undermine federal-state relations, and endanger the rights of minorities by removing incentives to compromise.

"The electoral college is so intimately involved with the two-party system, federalism, and the separation of powers that we do not see how these institutional arrangements can possibly survive under direct election in the long-run," the minority report of the Senate Judiciary Committee said.

Mrs. Marcos To Visit Britain

LONDON (AP) — Mrs. Imelda Marcos, wife of the president of the Philippines, has arrived with her son, Ferdinand E. Marcos Jr., 12, for a one-week visit to Britain.

They were met at the airport Monday by Lord Westmorland, a gentleman in waiting to Queen Elizabeth II. The queen interrupted a vacation at Balmoral Castle in Scotland to meet the First Lady of the Philippines, who will be her guest Friday.

Price said he wanted to see as many WWI vets and their wives, widows and daughters as possible when plans will be discussed for the 19th District convention in Big Spring Oct. 17. Mrs. Lucille Jacobs, Big Spring, president of the district women's auxiliary, also will be present for the meeting.

All members of the barracks and auxiliary are urged to attend, along with other veterans and women members of their families.

In addition to serving as district president, Price is the Veterans' service officer for Dawson County. He is on the volunteer advisory staff at the VA Hospital here and has put in 2,490 volunteer hours with patients at the hospital and at nursing homes in Big Spring and Lamesa.

WWI Veterans' Commander Here

R. L. Price, Lamesa, commander of the 19th District, Department of Texas, Veterans of World War I, will make an official visit with Barracks 1474 here 7 p.m. Thursday at the IOOF Hall, Ninth and Magnolia.

Price said he wanted to see as many WWI vets and their wives, widows and daughters as possible when plans will be discussed for the 19th District convention in Big Spring Oct. 17. Mrs. Lucille Jacobs, Big Spring, president of the district women's auxiliary, also will be present for the meeting.

Family Affair

FORT COLLINS, Colo. (AP) — Both Mrs. Robert J. Kelly and her son, James, one of her nine children, received their high school diplomas this spring. Mrs. Kelly, 40, said she had to drop out of high school after her father died. Then she decided to take advantage of the adult completion programs in the schools.

Mrs. Fern Howard and her son, Dale, were sent to the hospital here with serious second-degree burns, officials said.

The fire started in a pipeline complex at the Warren gas plant at Mont Belvieu, jumped Texas 146 and scorched several homes until it was put out about four hours later, officials of the plant said.

TESCO Adds To 'Backbone' Power System

Construction has begun on a new 345,000 volt transmission line which will provide an additional source of electric power to serve growth in this area. Don Womack, company manager here for Texas Electric Service Company, announced today.

The new line will be built from the company's Morgan Creek power plant near Colorado City to the substations east of Midland and will provide another connection into the company's extra-high-voltage "backbone" system. This backbone system stretches from Odessa to Fort Worth and interconnects there with other power companies serving all the way to the Gulf coast so that large blocks of power may be moved between companies in emergency situations.

Chapman Construction Company is contractor for building the new line and will make its headquarters in Big Spring during the project.

The 75-mile line will be of steel H-frame construction, a new design engineered by TESCO. It will terminate at the company's Midland East substation which will be enlarged and will include a 500 mva transformer, the largest on the project is scheduled for next spring, Womack said.

Other proposals to remedy what they concede are defects in the electoral college system.

They contend the proposed amendment would destroy the two-party system, undermine federal-state relations, and endanger the rights of minorities by removing incentives to compromise.

"The electoral college is so intimately involved with the two-party system, federalism, and the separation of powers that we do not see how these institutional arrangements can possibly survive under direct election in the long-run," the minority report of the Senate Judiciary Committee said.

Ky Mulling Trip To U.S.

SAIGON (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky is reconsidering his scheduled trip to the United States next month, a government spokesman said today.

Ky has accepted an invitation to attend an Oct. 3 rally in Washington by supporters of U.S. policy in Vietnam. A government spokesman said Ky was reconsidering the trip but had made no decision yet on whether it should be canceled.

A spokesman for Ky confirmed the announcement and said he expected a final decision soon. He said "new facts" had been brought to Ky's attention by the South Vietnamese ambassador to Washington, Bui Diem, and by Dang Duc Khoi, a top Ky aide now in Washington.

Ky's spokesman would not go into detail. It was reported, however, that Khoi and possibly others had been advising Ky against the trip, fearing it could touch off protests by anti-war groups and damage relations between Washington and Saigon.

The U.S. mission said there had been no contact between its officials and Ky about the trip and that he had not begun any formal preparation for it.

Fast Gas Flames Lick Mom, Son

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A Mont Belvieu woman and her one-year-old son were reported to be still in serious condition at John Sealy Hospital here today following a fire Sunday in Mont Belvieu.

Mrs. Fern Howard and her son, Dale, were sent to the hospital here with serious second-degree burns, officials said.

The fire started in a pipeline complex at the Warren gas plant at Mont Belvieu, jumped Texas 146 and scorched several homes until it was put out about four hours later, officials of the plant said.

HEMPHILL-WELLS

DEAR ABBY: We are in our fifties and our children are married, so there are just the two of us home.

A few weeks ago, while I was on a short business trip, my wife exchanged our large double bed for twin beds. I didn't raise any objections at the time, but now I wish I had.

After having slept like two spoons for more than 30 years, I didn't realize it would make such a big difference in our lives. There is something about sleeping together that seems to generate a feeling of security and reassurance, and makes life's daily problems easier to cope with. It made going to bed something to look forward to. All of that is gone now and I feel that we have lost a certain closeness.

What infuriates me is that my wife seems pleased with the new arrangement. I often go to bed so angry I have trouble falling asleep. She drops right off and sleeps like a log.

I haven't made a big deal out of it, but I have complained mildly a couple of times. I'm sure if I insisted on going back to the double bed she'd agree, but what would I gain if she did it against her wishes? Maybe you can suggest something.

DEAR CHEATED: Make a "big deal" out of it, because as far as you're concerned, it is a big deal. If you don't tell her how you feel, she won't know. (She may be flattered.) On the other hand, you may snore, hog the bed, yank the bed clothes. Talk it out and settle it. Don't just lie there, full of resentment, and feeling "cheated."

DEAR ABBY: I recently had a party at my home. My parents fully approved of it, in fact it was my mother's idea. As I had hoped, many of my friends showed up. But so did a lot of kids who were not my friends, and also a lot of kids I didn't even know. It was this uninvited group that brought beer, obstructed traffic in front of our house, littered the neighbor's yard with beer cans, and finally caused the police to come to quiet the disturbance.

Now my parents blame me for the trouble caused by that rowdy gang, and I am now grounded at night. But worst of all I have lost my parents' trust and respect. What can I do?

DEAR GROUNDED: If your parents are holding you responsible for the misconduct of invited guests who forced their way into your home, then they are being unreasonable. But, if you made the rowdy gang welcome when they showed up uninvited, you deserve to be grounded. It's too late now, but the police should have been called as soon as those crashers showed up and refused to leave.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Welcome Back, VETERANS

The Veterans Recognition committee hosted a luncheon Friday for two returning veterans at the Downtown Tearoom.

Seaman Apprentice Robert L. Allen, who was discharged from the Navy June 9, was one of the honorees. Allen was born in Livermore, Calif., and attended Big Spring High School where he participated in track and football.

Allen served in the Navy for four and a half years, stationed aboard two tankers, the Caliente Oiler and the Chimung Oiler; and the hospital ship USS Sanctuary, while in Vietnamese waters.

Allen lives at 1804 Owens with his wife, Oleta, and their two children, Kristy and Timothy. He is employed as a city fireman at the Central Fire Station.

E-5 Michael R. Stewart was also honored at the Friday luncheon. He was discharged from the Army June 4 and returned to Big Spring June 5. Stewart served three years in the Army with the 174 Aviation Battalion as a helicopter mechanic.

While serving in Vietnam, Stewart was awarded the Vietnamese Cross of Gallantry with palm by the Vietnamese government. He was stationed at Duc Pho, Vietnam.

Stewart was also stationed at Ft. Bliss, Ft. Rucker, and Hunter Army Airfield.

Stewart was born in Nocona, Tex., and attended Jacksboro High School. Stewart's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Stewart, are managers of the Silver Saddle Motel, 1106 W. 3rd.

Stewart married the former Mary Lou King Aug. 19 and the couple lives adjacent to his parents' motel. He is employed by Hughes Construction Company.

Chamber Ends Member Drive

This morning's totals for the Chamber of Commerce membership drive showed 86 new members and additional pledges of $4,794.

The drive was to close at 5 p.m. today, when salesmen were to turn in all pledge cards. During the rest of the year new members and pledge increases will be accepted directly through the Chamber office.

Chamber manager Tom Eastland said that 200 letters have been sent out to members who have not been otherwise contacted during the drive asking that they voluntarily increase their pledge by 10 percent.

These increases will not be required to maintain membership, he said, but it is hoped that the members will respond to the financial needs arising from increased "cost of living" requirements in maintaining the organization and expanded efforts in industrial development, governmental economy, and the Seal of Approval project.

Dinails Buy Dogs

HILLINGDON, England (AP)—Primary school pupils here have raised over 1000 pounds ($2,400) in the past 13 years to buy guide dogs for the blind.

The pupils of Colham Manor Primary School have raised the money by collecting milk bottle tops and aluminum foil to sell to a nearby smelting factory. The dogs cost 250 pounds ($600) each to buy and train.

Bishop Of Brownsville Cushing Replacement

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—The Most Rev. Humberto S. Medeiros, 54, bishop of Brownsville, was appointed today to replace retiring Richard Cardinal Cushing as the Boston archbishop.

Cardinal Cushing, 75, had submitted his resignation for health reasons.

Bishop Medeiros was appointed to the Brownsville post in April, 1966, and wasted no time in casting himself into a volatile farm workers' strike in 1966 when he endorsed a minimum wage for workers in the Texas Rio Grande Valley.

The bishop's social action programs for the poor produced storms of criticism but he persisted, even to the point of confronting big produce growers in a bitter Starr County labor union fight.

FAIR WAGE
"For his labor, a man has a right to a fair wage, to be determined by his needs and the conditions of the country or area where he lives," he said.

The bishop said he was acutely aware that the "small farmer lives in fear of the market and unions. Many farmers approve of the principle of unions but are afraid of the unionized farm worker because of the unreliability of crops and market prices. The farmer needs to organize just as much as the worker."

The area served by Bishop Medeiros is heavily Roman Catholic and overwhelmingly Mex-

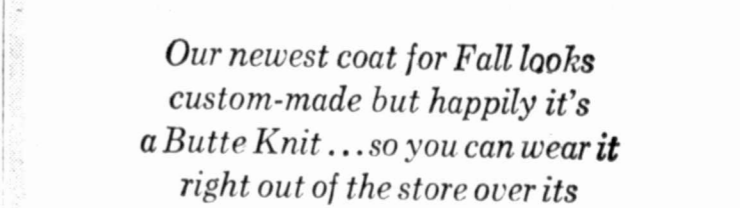

Atomic Show Due In Area

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Congressman Omar Burleson has announced that the Atomic Energy Commission will conduct a high school lecture-demonstration program at the Big Spring High School on Nov. 6, and at Coahoma Nov. 9.

The program, "This Atomic World," is a graphic presentation of the story of nuclear energy and its peaceful uses.

Rep. Burleson said the 40-minute assembly program by specially trained science teachers covers the highlights of basic nuclear physics, radioactivity, chain reaction, reactors and their uses, transmutation and application of radioisotopes in medicine, industry and agriculture. Students participate in at least three demonstrations.

The assembly program is designed to interest all students, although a more detailed discussion on nuclear science is available for science classes.
