

ROUGH WEATHER Heavy Rains Soak Much Of Texas

By The Associated Press
Rains still fell in Texas and scattered spots of turbulence developed during the night and this morning as remnants of Tropical Storm Felice lingered in the state and a weak cool front eased southward.

The rough weather was blamed for at least one death. Frances Martinez, 31, was thrown from her car and killed Wednesday in Dallas as the vehicle overturned during heavy rain.

By early morning the Weather Bureau reported what remained of Felice was centered near Sherman and setting off still more rain over a 75-mile radius.

Widely scattered thundershowers were falling across East Texas and rain also came down around Wink in West Texas.

In the area of Felice's influence, it was estimated 6 to 6.5 inches of rain left Denton awash. There was no firm measurement because the only gauge in downtown Denton overflowed after catching 5.5 inches.

Some flash flooding occurred in low areas of Denton but no families left their homes.

At nearby Justin, 6.24 inches of rain fell overnight.

Weather observers said Felice's path between Fort Worth and the Red River received an average of 3.5 inches of rain.

Other rain-soaked areas included Dallas with 1.72 inches; Waco, 2.65 and College Station, 1.38.

Central Texas areas still were drying from downpours the day before, when a 5.95-inch deluge hit Rockdale, northeast of Austin, and 4.32 inches were measured at LaGrange.

Thunderstorms moved through the north central part of the state in the evening. Fort Worth received 2.58 inches but the amount was only .71 at the Dallas airport.

EMBATTLED ARAB LEADER — King Hussein carried a self-loading rifle as he visited commando troops "somewhere in Jordan" in June, 1970. On Thursday, Jordanian army troops were engaged in a life-or-death struggle with Palestinian guerrillas for control of the country. The fighting could shatter whatever hopes remain in efforts to bring about an Arab-Israeli peace.

Rebels Claiming Amman Control

Call For Help From 12,000 Iraqi Troops

By The Associated Press
Palestinian guerrillas fought troops of King Hussein's new military regime in Jordan today and by late afternoon the government forces claimed their tanks and armor had secured control of Amman, the capital.

Guerrillas controlled key sectors of the capital when fighting broke out earlier in the day.

A Jordanian government broadcast monitored in Beirut, Lebanon, listed a number of districts taken in Amman by the army but no mention was made of the guerrilla stronghold of Wahdat, a northern suburb where all or some of 54 hostages of last week's hijackings are believed held by leftist guerrillas.

A pooled dispatch of U.S. correspondents in Amman reported heavy fighting in the capital throughout the day. It said thick, black smoke rose above the city while artillery, tank guns and machine guns roared.

The Jordanian broadcast said that as of 5 p.m.—11 a.m. EDT—the army had control of Amman "except for a few pockets which are now being mopped up."

VIOLENCE ERUPTS AFTER PARADE — An overturned truck burns in the center of East Los Angeles' Mexican-American section Wednesday night as violence broke out following a peaceful parade celebrating Mexico's Independence Day. Shots were fired after officers using tear gas clashed with youths throwing bottles and rocks.

Bombings Labeled Work Of 'Maniacs'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell said today bombings plaguing U.S. cities and campuses are the work of a limited number of "maniacs."

He said a number of unspecified groups are behind some of the terrorist activities but their work could not be characterized as the "single uniform effort" of one organization.

Mitchell said the Nixon administration is seeking legislation to shut off the supply of explosives for terrorist bombings and to provide stiffer penalties for illegal use of explosives.

"Certainly, there is a limited number of these maniacs," Mitchell said. "After their incarceration they will be taken from the scene. With these approaches I think we will be making some progress."

But he acknowledged that the federal government is having a difficult time apprehending the leaders of an alleged bombing plot by the radical Weathermen group and four young men charged with last month's fatal blast at the University of Wisconsin.

Looking for the fugitives in the radical underground of this country and abroad is "like looking for the proverbial needle in the haystack," Mitchell said.

Mitchell appeared at a news conference after meeting with mayors or other officials of nine Midwestern cities that have suffered recent bombing attacks.

Meeting at the mayors' request, Mitchell and other federal law enforcement officials are expected to outline what the government is doing to combat a wave of bombings and unprovoked attacks on police that the city officials say "is beyond the scope of our individual municipalities."

Agents Spread Dope Dragnet

FORT WORTH (AP) — City narcotics agents spread a dragnet Wednesday night in an attempt to catch about 40 persons named in county grand jury indictments as narcotics dealers and pushers operating in Trinity Park.

Working in a rain storm, the 15 plainclothes officers by midnight had arrested 16 young men at the park's shelter house and at various apartments and homes over the city.

Capt. C. E. Hogue, head of the police plainclothes division, said the arrests probably would reach a total of 20 today. Some of the persons named in the sealed indictments are out of town, Hogue said.

Aimed At Teaching Black, White GIs To Get Along

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army, faced with serious black-white conflict on many of its bases, soon will make training in better race relations as much a part of boot camp as drilling and shooting.

The Continental Army Command is putting the finishing touches on a five- or six-hour course aimed at teaching black and white soldiers how to live together. The program may become a model for the other services.

A similar course already has been approved for all officers and noncommissioned officers attending Army training schools and will be put into effect in a few weeks. The recruit course will begin by early next year.

"The idea," said one officer, "is to grab the men as soon as they come into the Army and to let them know we have certain policies and programs that don't condone racial discrimination."

A year ago Gen. William C. Westmoreland, Army chief of staff, ordered a get-tough program drawn up to deal with seriously increasing racial unrest in the ranks.

Racial problems have affected all the services and the military contends it is a reflection of society in general.

However, the problem became particularly serious in recent weeks among Army troops stationed in West Germany where there were several clashes between the races. In one incident, described as a near-riot,

Agnew Denounces Rude, Crude, Lewd Heckling

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — After telling chanting demonstrators "you're pathetic," Vice President Spiro T. Agnew has accused some Democrats of encouraging "the most rude, crude and lewd heckling imaginable."

He wrote the accusation into his speech at a Republican fund-raising dinner, fashioning his encounter with the noisy dissenters into political weaponry for his continuing assault on "radical-liberals."

OBSCENE SHOUTS
"The obscene shouts of an arrogant few will never in the state of Michigan drown out the quiet voices, young and old, of dignity and decency," the vice president told more than 1,200 people in Grand Rapids Wednesday night.

Agnew returned to Washington shortly after midnight, winding up a week of campaigning in six Senate-election states. His next political task is a Friday night fund-raising appearance in Washington in behalf of C. Stanley Blair, once Agnew's top aide, now the Republican nominee for governor of Maryland.

The Michigan demonstrators, perhaps 100 strong, chanted peace slogans interspersed with obscene taunts from the rear of the crowd of more than 1,100 people in an airport hangar in Saginaw.

"Ladies and gentlemen, that's exactly what we're running against," Agnew told his listeners. "And with enemies like that, how can we lose?"

He shook a finger toward the hecklers and told them: "You people out there preach a lot about dissent but you're afraid of other points of view because you don't have the strength of your own convictions."

'YOU'RE PATHETIC'
The hecklers shouted. Agnew, his face set in a chilled smile, waved his right hand back and forth like a conductor as if to keep time with the chant. "You're pathetic," he said.

The Saginaw rally drew an overflow crowd with more people outside the hangar than inside. Agnew, accompanied by Lenore Romney, Republican nominee for the Senate, made it a point to shake hands along the restraining fence where a sprinkling of hostile placards was displayed.

Luna 16 Entering Orbit Of Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — Luna 16, the Soviet moon probe launched Saturday, has gone into a circular orbit around the moon, Tass announced today.

The unmanned craft is circling the moon 68 miles above the surface, the official Soviet news agency said. All systems are functioning normally and radio contact is being maintained with the capsule, the announcement added.

Details on Luna 16's mission have not been revealed. Tass said Saturday only that it would "carry out exploration of the moon and near-moon space."

Today's brief announcement said one course correction was made Sunday to put the craft on the path for a lunar rendezvous.

"According to telemetric data, the equipment aboard is functioning normally," Tass said. "The flight control center is processing the incoming information."

Ground controllers put the craft into orbit today by firing braking rockets as it reached the vicinity of the moon. It was circling the moon every 119 minutes.

This is the first Soviet moon shot since July 1969, when Luna 15 orbited the moon, then crashed into the lunar surface as U.S. astronauts were making their first manned moon landing in Apollo 11.

The secrecy that surrounded the latest shot is standard: the Soviets announce their space accomplishments after the fact to avoid having to admit failures.

Research League To Do Government Study Here

Selection of Big Spring-Howard County as subject of a Texas Research League model program study for most efficient performance of governmental systems was announced today by Paul Meek, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The announcement was authorized by James McGraw, Austin executive director of the Texas Research League, which had been considering several smaller counties in Texas for such a study.

LOCAL REQUEST
The TRL action came as result of a request for the study from the city, county, Big Spring school district, county school board and Howard County Junior College. This request had been initiated by the Chamber's governmental economy task force, now headed by Lanny Hamby and Jack Watkins. All local governmental bodies concurred.

The Texas Research League is a privately supported, non-profit, non-political educational corporation engaged in objective research into the operations, programs and problems of all levels of government in Texas. It undertakes studies only upon official request and no charge, other than out-of-pocket expenses, is made for these studies. They are financed entirely by annual memberships paid by individuals, firms and corporations as a public service to the governments and the people of Texas.

TRAINED STAFF
The study to be made in Big Spring and Howard County will be performed by a fulltime staff, trained and experienced in applying business management research techniques to the operations and programs of government.

When describing the study in an earlier exploratory meeting in Big Spring, McGraw said: "We are not going into any study, and especially one as important as our efficiency study of a city-county in Texas, with any preconceived notions. We will come in, develop our own facts, and make our own decisions about what would be the most efficient way of doing things."

CHANGES?
"This is one of the most important things to happen in our county and city for a long time," said Meek in making the

Sailboat Survivors

HONOLULU (AP) — Julian Ritter, rescued with another man and a girl after drifting seven weeks without food in his sailboat, says he is going to write a book about the near-fatal Pacific adventure.

But first he is going to sell the 45-foot vessel, the Galilee, found with its starving crew by the Navy ship Niagara on Monday 422 miles northwest of Honolulu.

"It's served its purpose and now I want very badly to sell it," Julian Ritter told newsmen Wednesday.

A Coast Guard cutter was expected to arrive in Pearl Harbor Thursday with the boat in tow.

Ritter, 61, and his two emaciated crew members told on arrival at Pearl Harbor how they stayed alive for 49 days after their supplies ran out, by scraping algae from the hull and boiling it with nutmeg, cloves and cinnamon to make a broth.

They also devoured a large pihodendron and an elephant ear plant in the ship's cabin and managed to catch six flying fish and two squid.

Shortly before the rescue they could no longer keep the algae soup down. A Navy doctor said that when the Niagara picked up the three sailors they were about four days away from death.

Ritter of Santa Barbara, Calif., Laurene Louise Kox, 21, of Ojai, Calif., and Winfried Bernard Heiringhoff, 28, of Sendenhorst, West Germany, had left Tahiti June 17.

When found 91 days later they were 230 miles off course.

The boat's radio went out just north of the Marquesas Islands in the South Pacific and they navigated by stars and a sextant. Later their auxiliary engine failed, the sails tore and winds and currents proved unfavorable.

FORT WORTH (AP) — Brown-haired, green-eyed Bellinda Myrick of Odessa assumed her title today as Miss Texas, moving up as successor to Phyllis George, the new Miss America.

ODESSAN RESCUED FROM CHINA SEA

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Air Force 1st Lt. James V. Phillips, 27, of Odessa, Tex., was rescued from the South China Sea five minutes after he ejected from his crippled jet fighter, 7th Air Force Headquarters said today.

Phillips was hit by enemy ground fire on an interdiction mission in Kratie Province northeast of Phnom Penh in Cambodia Wednesday, the Air Force said.

He managed to fly his damaged plane, an F-100 Super Sabre, to the South China Sea where he bailed out 18 miles southeast of Vung Tau and about 60 miles southeast of Saigon.

HAVE BUNDLE SEIZED BY CUSTOMS — Robert Scheer, right, reads statement to newsmen at New York's Kennedy Airport Wednesday night as others in group which accompanied him to North Vietnam listen. Scheer said he was deputy director of a group called the U.S. People's Anti-Imperialist Delegation that arrived from Paris after visits to North Vietnam, North Korea and a meeting with deposed ruler Norodom Sihanouk. Customs officials at the airport seized a bundle from Scheer, which was believed to contain letters from U.S. prisoners of war to their families.

His Experimental Church Has No Physical Property

FORT WORTH (AP) — Ralph Neighbour is, in effect, a man of many persuasions—soldier, scientist, doctor and minister. His ministry is in freshly plowed ground, ground still being broken across America and especially in Neighbour's area on the far west side of Houston.

He is pastor of West Memorial Baptist Church. The church is a laboratory of the future and at the same time an experiment for today.

"We are doing pure research," Neighbour said recently during an interview. "We're looking for the answer for the church of tomorrow."

The idea is new.

Neighbour compared the Southern Baptist Church to General Motors.

"Can you imagine General Motors continuing operations with no pure research going on?" he asked. "We're the church's pure research."

"We're literally in the metropolis of tomorrow," he said, in describing his radically innovative church's location.

Neighbour is, however, pastor of a church without a church: There is no physical facility.

"We meet in homes and schools," he said. "There isn't any real estate. It's a church like the early church—a family of God."

Neighbour pointed out that the experiment being carried out in the fast growing area of Houston was "not a revolutionary criticism of the church but was under the auspices of the church."

As a doctor, Neighbour is fighting a war on spiritual poverty.

"We go to the bar and night clubs," he said. "We're known by the bartenders and owners. When someone comes in facing a spiritual crisis—a potential suicide for instance—the bartender calls us. We come."

The being there, he said, "is just one of the functions for the churches cell groups. There are other cell groups for divorced men and women, children experimenting with drugs and looking for a way out, Bible study and counseling."

Neighbour recalled a recent session with a woman, 29, who he believed was on the verge of suicide. She was the mother of two children; she lived in an apartment as the mistress of a man to whom she was not married; she was an alcoholic.

"In a situation like this," Neighbour said, "we say, 'We love you and have an answer. It's not a denomination, it's not a religion but a person—Jesus Christ.'

Neighbour said to mention the church or Baptist was to "chop off the contact."

"Our work has been described as one hungry beggar telling another hungry beggar where the food is," he said.

He described the Houston church as a living parable in the overall church and said the lessons of the parable are:

"One, the church exists to die in service.

"Two, the church is a family of God, not a building."

Neighbour said, "We're attempting to show how a church can exist without brick and mortar."

He cited statistics which show a bleak future for organized religion unless other answers are found to many problems.

"We (Baptists) have developed 35,000 churches in America since the denomination was founded in 1845," he said. "Now, just to stay even we have to develop the same number of churches in the next 30 years. The result will "give pastors a look at what the church of the 21st century will look like," he said.

President Cites Threat Of Heckling On Campus

CHICAGO (AP) — President Nixon says the threat of massive heckling deters him and other political figures from appearances on college campuses today.

"It's a sad day when a great university can't hear controversial speakers—and any man in political life is controversial," the President told newsmen Wednesday.

FREE SOCIETY

Nixon indicated he would like to make more campus appearances like the one Wednesday at Kansas State University, where he was thunderously applauded by a middle America campus audience of over 15,000.

Nixon struck a responsive chord at Kansas State when he declared, "The time has come for us to recognize that violence and terror have no place in a free society."

He talked to reporters about his pleased reactions to this rare campus appearance when he came to Chicago for an overnight visit to talk with Midwestern news media executives and to greet some Polish-Americans and naturalized citizens today.

Despite some "insignificant heckling," Nixon said he felt the big campus audience got every implication of his appeal for reason, tolerance and "an uncompromising stand against those who reject the rules of civilized conduct and of respect for others."

STAND UP

The President didn't mention it, but the majority of the audience rose and applauded when he appealed to responsible college administrators, faculty and student leaders "to stand up and be counted" to save higher education.

He said he was impressed that the majority in the huge campus fieldhouse seemed to "get every nuance" and that their applause and reactions indicated "they listened—they understood—they knew—they reacted" to a speech which he described as "without cheer lines."

The President said he knew he would "get a response" when he talked about the Wildcats' football team. At that point in his speech a heckler shouted from the balcony, "We don't want to hear about it. What about the war?"

Nixon got ear-splitting applause when he made the key point of his speech condemning violence, whoever the perpetrator and whatever the cause.

"America at its best has stood steadfastly for the rule of law among nations," he said. "But we cannot stand successfully for the rule of law abroad unless we respect the rule of law at home."

WHAT ABOUT IT?

'VICIOUS BOMBING'

The hecklers chimed in with such comments as "make more bombs" when Nixon spoke of a recent "vicious bombing" at the University of Wisconsin campus that killed one man and injured four.

When he said, "A nation that condones blackmail and terror at home can hardly stand as an example in putting an end to international piracies or tensions that could explode into war," a heckler shouted, "Stop the war!"

And when the President spoke of idealism, a voice yelled down "How would you know?"

Nixon smilingly recalled to reporters that he had been through past heckling so severe he had to "ride the PA system hard" to be heard. He referred to one appearance in Akron, Ohio, during the 1968 presidential campaign as an example.

Nixon said he didn't care what reaction he got from an audience—even "a little heckling is all right"—as long as "I got the message across." He added, "They don't have to clap. They can even boo. But at the end of the sentence."

Since becoming president, Nixon has appeared on three other campuses—General Beadle College in South Dakota, the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, and a Billy Graham religious rally at the University of Tennessee.

Underground Park Lot Gets Go Sign

HOUSTON (AP) — Mayor Louie Welch told the city council Wednesday to go ahead with plans for an $8 million underground parking lot beneath the civic center's future Tranquility Park.

The move was opposed by Councilman Homer Ford, who said the idea was poor planning from the standpoint of parking and ground level park development.

Ford said a model of the proposed park was fine, but it did not show the traffic congestion and pollution created by the cars and the noise caused by cars underground.

Add Ambulance Service To Jobs

HOUSTON (AP) — City councilmen turned over Houston's emergency ambulance service to the fire department Wednesday.

Fire Chief C.R. Cook said he hoped to have his 21 vehicles ready to operate by April 1.

The Houston-Harris County Ambulance Association, made up of the city's 18 private ambulance operators, had opposed the change.

Mayor Louie Welch said it was necessary to give citizens the quality of service needed.

Wins Suit Against City Of Pasadena

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Endowment, Inc., has won a suit against the city of Pasadena over the value for tax purposes of 540 acres of property on the Houston ship channel.

Dist. Judge George E. Cire issued a temporary order Wednesday directing the city to accept Houston Endowment's rendition of $8,000 an acre, or a total of $4.3 million.

Pasadena had valued the land at $10,292, or $5.5 million.

Boycott End Hopes Spring

HOUSTON (AP) — An end may be in sight for the Mexican-American boycott of the Houston Independent School District.

Sup. George Garver released Wednesday a policy statement telling principals to admit pupils without penalty or comment.

"A settlement is eminent," said Leonel Castillo, temporary chairman of the Mexican-American Education Council, which called the boycott Aug. 31.

Garver said any pupils could be readmitted to school with a note from their parents saying they had been absent because of their parents' wishes.

He said the pupils will be allowed to make up their work under the same provisions that exist for students who have been ill.

An estimated 3,500 children are boycotting the schools, many are attending strike schools set up by the Chicano council.

Y.M.C.A. directors reviewed progress reports of record enrollments in summer programs at their regular monthly meeting Tuesday.

An all-time high in the Y.M.C.A.'s summer programs for boys and girls was reached with 1,647 enrolled, according to Eddie Trice, physical education director. Trice reported that 543 were enrolled in various swimming skill level classes at the Y.M.C.A., and 261 were enrolled in gymnastic classes.

Arts and craft and other special interest classes were included in the balance of enrollment.

The city-wide summer recreation program enrollments also reported new highs. Increases were especially noted in the Lakeview-Bauer elementary areas where cumulative attendance reached 5,973 for the summer.

E. S. Dawson reported increased enrollments and participation in the Lakeview Y.M.C.A. Branch autumn program.

CROSBY, Tex. (AP) — The superintendent of the Crosby School District, which integrated its dual system this year, has submitted his resignation.

Jerry Prochazka, who had been in the district 19 years, made the move Wednesday, apparently in an effort to resolve increasing dissension in the district.

"The price of forfeiting 40 years of friendship is greater than I wish to pay to continue in this position," Prochazka said. "Perhaps someone not as close to this situation and the people is what this district needs at this time."

At the same time, school trustee Andrew Spence called for the resignation of the whole board, saying the people should say how they feel in a new election.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Owe no man anything, but to love one another: for he that loveth another hath fulfilled the law. (Romans 13:8)
PRAYER: Forgive us, Lord, for arrogance and thoughtlessness. Give us faith to apply love in our own lives and in our service to others, as unto Thee. Amen.

When The President Is Isolated

One of the more interesting analyses of that much-analyzed office, the United States presidency, is offered by George Reedy in his new book, "Twilight of the Presidency." Reedy, who served as President Johnson's press secretary, feels with some reason that the presidency is an increasingly disturbing institution. Reedy's comments are based not only on his Johnson days, but also on his observation of other presidents in our time. His view is that the occupant of the White House has monarchical powers but is sealed off from reliable contact with outside opinion and thus to a large extent insulated from the popular will. One result of this, Reedy says, is that signs of opposition in the press or broadcast media are a shock to a White House staff whose constant aim is to shield the president from criticism and other bad news. He notes, for example, that Johnson was ignorant of the widespread opposition to the Vietnamese war until Clark Clifford almost forced it on his attention. Johnson was visibly taken aback by indications that his military advisers might have been giving him unsound counsel. Reedy's thesis is easily illustrated. Other recent presidents have been dangerously cut off from unfavorable developments. President Eisenhower paid little or no attention to social tensions that might have had drastic effects. President Kennedy's brief tenure showed a tendency to slide into war in Asia, though he saw the Cuban snare in time to escape catastrophic involvement. The present administration has hardly been in power long enough for analysis, but some advisers do show signs of over-attention to the presidential image. One sign of this is a tendency, when criticism becomes sharp, to turn first to public relations remedies. None of this is conclusive; it is merely suggestive of the truth of Reedy's observation that presidents habitually become cut off from public opinion. More thought should be given to means of counteracting this unfortunate trend.

Don't Ignore The Drunken Driver

Rarely do we run across a rational individual who would argue in favor of drunken driving. Yet, every year nearly 28,000 Americans are killed in traffic accidents involving excessive drinking. To explain this amazing paradox, we must turn to one of the most widespread and destructive traits of contemporary Americans: Apathy. Everyone knows that drunken driving is dangerous — when he is sober, that is. Somehow those few bleak hours to the Saturday-night partygoer with one or two or three drinks too many under his belt. The dangers are forgotten — until the sounds of crumpling metal and shattering glass and the screams of the injured bring reality back with startling abruptness . . . or end it forever. If we are to solve the lethal problem of the drunken driver, we must realize that it is shared by all of us. Those of us who forget once too often the influence of alcohol and those of us who forget once too often that an oncoming car on the highway may have a drunken driver behind its wheel. Much can be done through legislation and more stringent law enforcement. But the strongest ally of the drunken driver is apathy.

David Lawrence U.N. Should Handle Plane Piracy

WASHINGTON — There is every reason to believe that the hijacking of five airplanes and the detention of several hundred passengers with threats of execution was part of a deliberate plan to influence the current negotiations designed to settle the future relationships of the Mideast countries. While most of the prisoners were released, as the planes were blown up, about 40 were held as hostages. The whole operation was intended by Palestinian elements to frighten those governments which have started to engage in the "peace" parleys. FOR THE "Palestinian commandos" are comprised of several organizations, some of them peaceful. While only one group handled the hijacked prisoners and destroyed the planes, all the refugees from Palestine who are concentrated in different parts of Jordan and Lebanon have been worried about what's going to happen to them in the coming Mideast "settlements," if there are any. But where are these Palestinians getting the money for their rebellion? The bulk of the weapons for their arsenal has been coming from Russia, the Communist East European bloc and Red China. Funds are being supplied by the rulers of some of the oil-producing countries in the Arab world. WHAT INFLUENCE will these factors have on the making of peace in the area? Israel is well aware of what is going on and is doubtless anxious that the British and American governments likewise take into account that the situation is more complex than it appears on the surface. For one thing, the western countries whose citizens were seized and brought to a desert in Jordan by Palestinian bandits — operating under instructions from the revolutionary organizations — cannot ignore what has happened and fail to insist on the punishment of the air pirates. Compensation must be demanded for the destruction of the planes and warnings proclaimed that further occurrences of this kind will not be tolerated. THE PROBLEM IS obviously one for the United Nations to handle. A sharply worded resolution which would arrange for the sending, if necessary, of an international military force to the Jordan area to arrest those guilty of the hijacking is essential. Israel and Egypt will hardly be able to conduct peace negotiations unless the kidnaping has been firmly dealt with and the principal governments of the world have agreed to take action in the event of a repetition. Also, the remaining hostages must be immediately released without harm and pledges given that there will be no more such incidents. If these are not forthcoming, some of the airports in the Mideast probably will be cut off, and it would not be surprising if even more severe steps have to be taken.

Billy Graham

My problem is somewhat complex, but I will make it as brief as possible. My husband, at work, has a wonderful disposition, but as soon as he gets home he becomes a wild tyrant. He gets furious when either I or the children disagree with him, and he even becomes violent. He reads your column, and maybe you can say something that will help us, and save our marriage. A.B.R. A psychologist would probably say that your husband has a "general manager" complex. He probably feels that he has never attained the status he seeks in his work, and because of this frustration, he asserts his authority (the authority he would like to display on the job) at home. You and the children are the innocent victims of his complex. His whole attitude is a lack of understanding of himself. Actually, his domineering personality which he shows at home would never permit him to be a leader on the job. Nobody wants to be managed by a tyrant, and evidently his superiors, despite his seeming "wonderful disposition" are aware of his limitations, and have blocked his promotion to a position of responsibility. Basically, this is a spiritual problem. Your husband's self-assertion, even to the point of violence, is against Christ's spiritual law, "Deny yourself, take up your cross, and follow me." His sin is selfishness, and the lowest thing one can do is to vent one's frustration and wrath against those they love. Before matters can improve, he must see himself as he is, and humble himself in repentance. Your part? Pray for him and show Christian patience.

ALTHOUGH ONLY citizens of the United States and a few other countries were involved in the incidents this time, air piracy has become such a serious threat to air travel that all the nations of the world have a deep interest in finding a way to discourage interference. In this case the hijacking was part of a strategy within the Mideast controversy itself, which the United States and Russia have publicly announced their intention of trying to help settle.

WHAT IS MOST important is that the United Nations be presented to the world as a military force capable of keeping the peace. It did so in 1950 in Korea, and it still has authority under the charter to do the same now in the Mideast. (Copyright, 1970, Publishers-Hall Syndicate)

John Cunniff It's A Tough Business

NEW YORK (AP) — We are approaching once again the season of the year when restless government officials and businessmen attempt to peer into the future and determine the fate of the economy—which is sometimes their fate also. Naturally, it is a time of equivocation, but perhaps understandably so, because the economic signs and portents themselves can't seem to stay in their appointed places in the sky but instead flutter about like the northern lights. In July, for example, the index of industrial activity, which is the measure of the output of mines, factories and utilities, advanced 0.2 per cent, its first rise in four months. It was welcomed as a very good omen indeed. Nixon administration officials, for example, saw in this sign clear evidence that the economy was preparing to resume its expansion after a near starvation diet of several months. But then came the August industrial output statistics and they were off again, not by much, but in the view of optimists they should have shown continued growth. It's a tough business, even for the expert forecasters. Here is how some other esteemed seers view the somewhat cloudy skies: The Econometric Forecasting Unit at the Wharton School of Finance and Commerce, University of Pennsylvania, in its summer newsletter: "The U.S. economy has turned around and started to grow again." The Wharton economists, in making their estimate, succumbed to a weakness common to all forecasters and made the assumption there would not be a national automotive strike against a major producer. Anticipating, however, that their assumption might be incorrect, they stated that a major strike would slow the expansion in the fourth quarter but that it would resume again in 1971. The Bank of America, San Francisco, in a "Focus on the U.S. Economy": "An early look at 1971 suggests the year ahead will be one of restless resurgence. Although business activity should move ahead at a faster clip than in 1970, it will be sluggish when measured against our full employment capability." The American consumer, as measured by the Survey Research Center at the University of Michigan: "The index of consumer sentiment rose to 77.1 in the third quarter of 1970 from 75.4 in the second quarter." meaning consumers were a little bit more optimistic about the economic future." The American consumer, as reported in an interview with Albert Sindlinger, whose Norwood, Pa., firm constantly monitors sentiment by telephone: "There's little evidence of any expectation of a sharp upturn in the economy." A young economist on the staff of Rinfret Boston Associates, economic consultants to industry, in late August: "I can feel the strength in my bones." fellow awoke with a hangover and couldn't get hold of a bootlegger, he could always obtain emergency relief by drinking his wife's kitchen bottle of vanilla extract or buying some cheap hair tonic from an understanding barber. A housewife could take a dollar bill, spend an exhilarating afternoon shopping in a five-and-ten-cent store, and still emerge with a quarter in change left. More people ate biscuits than bread at breakfast time. A preacher was often admired less for the inspiration he offered his congregation during his Sunday sermon than for the authority with which he gave them hell. A sidecar was something attached to a motorcycle—not something poured by a bartender. Not so many things bugged people, and nobody had even thought of bugging telephones. The man-in-the-street felt safe in the street. The national goal was to "See America First"—not knock it first. Those were the days—remember?

Hal Boyle Shimmy Memory

NEW YORK (AP) — Memories have rose-colored lenses. We don't depend on memories so much on sunny days. But they are a great comfort when skies are gray, the rain falls, and aches and pains afflict the bones and heart of man. Memory softens or erases the hurts we knew in other times and casts a magical glow around them. It works on our spirits like a friendly medicine that leaves no bitter after-effects. You have a fair-sized warehouse of yesterdays yourself if you can look back and remember when— The winter season wasn't official until the newspapers carried pictures of rich old John D. Rockefeller giving a dime to some kid on a Florida golf course. There were more pot-bellied stoves than pot-bellied people in America. If a mother learned her daughter had been seen doing the shimmy on a dance floor, well—she felt the whole family would as well get on the next train and leave town forever, as they'd all been disgraced beyond redemption. During prohibition days, if a

Around The Rim Seasoned Air Traveler

I have a friend who for years has been dodging air travel, and maybe she knew what she was doing.

RECENTLY SHE TOOK her first trip, and became one of the most seasoned air travelers in town. About the only thing that didn't happen to her was a hijacking or a plane crash. And she's leary of a second time around because of that very remote possibility. Being a seasoned air traveler myself (I have made one roundtrip jaunt by plane), I tried to give her the benefit of my experience.

"DON'T WORRY," I told her, "only the most experienced pilots are hired by the airlines. I think they're all Air Force veterans or something." That was the week Webb lost two trainer jets and a helicopter—and before her first flight. She swears her plane's pilot was on lesson number six in a 10-lesson course on how to fly. And she's not real sure he passed lesson number five.

The trip away from home was uneventful — except that when the plane hit the runway it actually HIT the runway. She claims the pilot had to circle the field again they bounced so far back up.

BUT IT WAS THE trip home that nearly did her in. The first we knew that she was in trouble was when she didn't get off the right plane. I mean there we were with the brass band and armload of roses to welcome her home from her first sky venture — and she wasn't there. The only people who got off the plane were tired-looking businessmen and harried-looking mothers with yelling children. And boy did the brass band and wilted roses get some funny looks!

AFTER THINKING the entire thing over very calmly we put in a frantic call to the field where she was supposed to change planes. After asking us everything except her blood type they assured us they THOUGHT she might be on the plane just leaving. Later, we learned that the plane she was supposed to board left as the plane she was arriving on was landing — but that didn't help us any while we were wondering where she was. For all we knew her first trip was enough and she was hitch-hiking home.

Anyway, the second plane landed, and she wasn't on that one either. By this time the band had left and taken what was left of the roses, so the incoming passengers were only eyeing us with mild curiosity this time.

JUST AS WE WANDERED toward the door, wondering how we were going to tell her mother that we had lost her only daughter, another plane circled overhead.

"It's the wrong airline," my companion muttered, as he idly watched the pilot taxi the plane down the runway. "Where do you think she could be," I said. Just then my long lost friend sauntered down the steps. Seasoned air traveler that she's now become, she has the perfect solution: Keep 'em off guard. Leave home by plane, but come back on the bus. —JEAN FANNIN

Art Buchwald Political Football Has Started

The national political football season has just opened, and Coach Dick Nixon has indicated he hopes to drop several Democrats from the United States congressional team. He has assigned the task of getting rid of these players to Assistant Coach Spiro Agnew.

"Our motto here," Agnew told reporters in the White House locker room, "is you either play for Coach Dick Nixon, or you don't play at all." "THEN YOU HOPE to get as many Republicans on the congressional team as possible?" a reporter asked. "That's correct. We're sick and tired of mealy-mouthed defeatist, radical-liberal players who have been trying to wreck Coach Nixon's game plan. We don't want them here, and we're going to do everything in our power to see they don't come back." "Then you feel there are disloyal elements on the team?"

"I DON'T FEEL IT. I know it. The Democrats have been causing dissension ever since Coach Nixon took over. They've been running down Nixon's strategy, praising our opponents and keeping us from winning a game. They're playing only to the students, radicals, bomb throwers, peaceniks, pornographers and long-hairs in the stands. We feel these hopeless hysterical hypochondriacs have no right to wear the red, white and blue colors of the United States team."

"Coach Agnew, are you saying the Democratic members of the team are responsible for all the disruptions in the stands?" "THAT'S CORRECT. These Democratic troglodytic leftist players have encouraged defiance of authority, have been responsible for destroying the cheer-leading for Coach Nixon.

Andrew Tully The Hamburger Might Save Us

WASHINGTON — It was only a two-sentence line in the paper, but it awakened the Pollyanna in me. The item stated simply that Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin had become a devotee of the American hamburger. Without suggesting that Alex's capitulation to this alimentary luxury of capitalist jackals presages an end to all that foolishness in the Middle East, I yet regard it as an international ray of light. That is to say, a politician — even of the Russian persuasion — who eats hamburgers can't be all bad.

FOR INDISPUTABLY the hamburger Americanus is one of the noblest gastronomic creations conceived by the mind of man. Prepared properly, it could become a kind of global palliative. Wolfing a hamburger, the Briton perforce must think more kindly of the Fourth of July, and the Russian toy with the thought of tearing down the Berlin Wall. It is permissible to hope that while enjoying this gargantuan snack Kosygin would arrest his finger enroute to the nuclear button.

BUT THERE IS a hitch. Is Alex being treated to the genuine article or to the corrosively noxious imitation foisted on their patrons by so many American hash houses? Only World War III could result if the Kremlin's hamburger heaven should one day assault the premier with one of those paper-thin wafers of old socks and sawdust served in some clip joints over here.

Indeed even Englishmen, accustomed to English cooking, have their limits, and should be steered clear of our more toxic ptomaine palaces. They've got the Big Bomb, too.

BUT IF KOSYGIN has been introduced to the McCoy, perhaps we can stop worrying about those Russian missiles. For the genuine hamburger is a concoction calculated to wring poetry from the stoniest heart, a Fal-and have made it possible for the other teams to think they can beat us. We're going to weed out these effete malcontents and make sure only true-blue Americans suit up for Uncle Sam." "There has been some question raised, Coach Agnew, that Coach Nixon's strategy leaves a lot to be desired."

"THIS QUESTION was raised by the Eastern Establishment sports press," said Agnew angrily. "The columnists and reporters keep writing what's wrong with the team, but they never say anything about what we're doing right. Why don't you sports writers tell the truth?" "What is the truth, Coach?"

"That Coach Nixon is the greatest coach in the history of political football. He plays hard and he plays dirty, and he expects nothing less from any of us. But every time he comes up with a sure-fire play, the radical liberals try to block it, or start their pusillanimous pussy-footing around the wrong end. The fans are getting sick and tired of it."

A TRAINER started to rub some invective into Coach Agnew's spleen. "Ah," he said, "that feels good. Well, gentlemen, I have to go on the field now and see how many gold-bricking nabobs of negativism I can bump from the squad. Are there any more questions?" "One more, Coach. What does your defense look like?"

"It's never been better. If we win any games this year Coach Nixon will get all the credit. If we lose any we'll blame it all on Coach Lyndon Johnson who messed up everything before we took over the team." Los Angeles Times Syndicate

To Your Good Health Youth's Leg Trouble, Regardless Of Name

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
 Dear Dr. Thosteson: Our son, 15, has Osgood Slaughter on his left knee. The doctor said to give his leg complete rest; no unnecessary walking and no sports. He has been very active in sports and wants to go out for football and basketball when that time comes. We can't make him understand that he needs to rest his leg. It is doubly hard when his school coaches insist that they didn't give up their activities when they had it. He also has several classmates with Osgood Slaughter and they aren't curtailing their activities. What do we tell him? — D.E.T.
 It's not Osgood Slaughter. It's Osgood-Schlatter's disease. But you aren't the only one who calls it "Slaughter." I've run across the same term from others recently. I am surprised to hear of school coaches who would urge a boy to continue in sports with a diseased knee — and good coaches don't. I also wonder if they know what the disease is, and whether they had it, or whether they think that Osgood-Schlatter's is a general term for any old kind of a lame knee. That applies also to these "several classmates" who claim to have it. I doubt if they know what they are talking about. Osgood-Schlatter's disease is a disorder of a specific part of the leg. Through injury or other cause, the bone is distorted circulation. While it is in that condition, putting weight on it shortens the bone, deforms it, and do such mischief that even surgery may not correct it later. There is no medication to cure it. Only time and rest will let the circulation resume, and it may take months, sometimes many months. My advice is to have your doctor refer you to an orthopedist (bone specialist) to remove any doubt as to whether this really is Osgood-Schlatter's. Then I'd insist on following whatever advice the specialist

Cubs, Mets Stumble In National Race

By The Associated Press
There is a bit of daylight in the whacky National League East race today, thanks mainly to the pesky Montreal Expos and powerful Bob Gibson.

Pittsburgh's front-running Pirates took advantage of help from both those sources Wednesday to open a two-game gap over both Chicago and New York as the season swings into its final two weeks.

The Pirates needed five pitchers—three of them in the ninth inning—but held on to whip Philadelphia 5-3. Meanwhile, Montreal jolted New York 4-2 and Gibson pitched St. Louis to an 8-1 victory over Chicago.

In other National League action, Cincinnati clinched a tie for the West Division title by nipping Houston 3-2 while San Diego was stopping Los Angeles 4-8.

Atlanta whipped San Francisco 10-7.

CLINCHES TIE

In the American League, Baltimore clinched a tie for the East Division title, even though Washington blanked the Orioles 2-0, when Boston dropped New York 3-1. Detroit ripped Cleveland 6-3, Oakland took Milwaukee 4-1 and California tripped Minnesota 5-1. Chicago's doubleheader at Kansas City was rained out.

Oilers Third In Division, Says Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Baltimore, Cleveland and Kansas City should fight it out for the title in the new American Football Conference with the Oakland Raiders and New York Jets also deeply involved.

Terry Bradshaw makes the Pittsburgh Steelers a sleeper in the Central Division and Don Shula has the Miami Dolphins making menacing gestures in the East.

The transfer of Baltimore, Cleveland and Pittsburgh from the old National Football League to the new AFC of the merged NFL adds spice to the year's program.

Despite a so-so showing in the exhibitions in which they had a 4-3 record, Hank Stram's Kansas City Chiefs still must be ranked high on the basis of their Super Bowl triumph last January. If Len Dawson holds up physically, the Chiefs are sure to be there or thereabout when the season ends.

COLTS IN EAST

Here's the way it looks from here in the three divisions:

East-1, Baltimore, 2, New York Jets, 3, Miami, 4, Boston, 5, Buffalo.

Central-1, Cleveland, 2, Pittsburgh, 3, Houston, 4, Cincinnati.

West-1, Kansas City, 2, Oakland, 3, San Diego, 4, Denver.

According to the new playoff system the winner of the East (Baltimore) will play the winner of the West (Kansas City) while the Central winner (Cleveland) plays the best second-place team (New York). In the final it should be Baltimore vs. Cleveland with the Colts going to the Super Bowl.

In the Eastern race the Colts, under a new coach, Don McCafferty, but with the same old John Unitas, figure to have an interesting race with Joe Namath and the Jets, who beat them in the third Super Bowl.

Namath's early indecision and the possibility of internal problems in the Jet machine make the Colts the best bet.

GRIESE SOUND
Shula seems to have breathed new life into the Dolphins who have picked up excellent receivers like Paul Warfield, Willie Richardson and Marv Fleming as targets for Bob Griese who is sound again.

Both Boston and Buffalo have been major disappointments in the exhibition season with the Patriots 0-4 and the Bills 1-5. Until rookie Dennis Shaw learns the system the Bills will continue to have trouble getting on the scoreboard.

Cleveland appears to be the solid team in the Central race as long as Bill Nelson's knees hold up. Leroy Kelly is ready and willing.

Bradshaw, the No. 1 draft pick from Louisiana Tech has been sensational in late summer. It remains to be seen whether the Steelers can maintain the pace in regular season competition.

Houston seems improved with Charley Johnson at quarterback. Cincinnati must struggle along without Greg Cook but Paul Brown will figure out something to win a few.

Rodgers Fretting About KU Defense

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas football team has more than one reason to worry about Saturday's invasion of Texas Tech. The Jayhawks have never been able to beat the Red Raiders. The two teams have faced each other on three previous occasions and Texas Tech scored impressive victories in each game—26-7 in 1965, 23-7 in 1966 and 35-22 last year.

HALL OF HONOR CEREMONY SLATED HERE OCTOBER 23

Induction ceremonies for new members of the Steer Hall of Honor will be conducted by members of the Big Spring Ex-Lettermen's association in Memorial Stadium at 7:30 o'clock the night of Friday, Oct. 23, association president Glenn Whittington has announced.

Up to four former BSHS athletes will be inducted into the shrine that night but their identity has not been disclosed. A mail ballot is conducted among members of the Ex-Lettermen's club to determine the inductees. Eighteen persons were nominated.

Whittington, who resides in Hurst, had to miss last year's ritual but indicated he would be on hand to hand out the plaques this year.

Big Spring plays Midland Lee that night.

Lawrence, Kan. (AP)—The Kansas football team has more than one reason to worry about Saturday's invasion of Texas Tech. The Jayhawks have never been able to beat the Red Raiders. The two teams have faced each other on three previous occasions and Texas Tech scored impressive victories in each game—26-7 in 1965, 23-7 in 1966 and 35-22 last year.

This doesn't worry Kansas Coach Pepper Rodgers nearly as much as the fact that the Jayhawks' defense looked terrible most of the game in Kansas' 48-31 opening victory last week over Washington State.

POOR TACKLING

"Everybody didn't play poorly but we did as a team," said Rodgers. "We didn't tackle well, and we broke a lot of defensive assignments. I sure don't want to have to score 35 or 40 points a game to win."

While Rodgers was disappointed with the defense, the Washington State game settled one Kansas problem at least... quarterback Dan Heck, a junior college transfer, threw three touchdown passes of 51, 39 and three yards in the game and completed seven of 15 passes for 166 yards.

"Heck played just about like I knew he would," Rodgers said. "We really didn't throw as much as I thought we would. This is a new football team, and they'll make a lot of mistakes but I'll tell you one thing: This football team can score."

James Pearce, the big tackle who missed last week's contest due to an injury, is back in the lineup and will clock some playing time Friday night.

However, end Cal Lowery has a muscle tear in his hip and will probably miss the next couple of games. Lowery injured the hip while taking wind sprints. The injury simply will have to heal. There is no surgery for it.

Cal was on crutches earlier this week.

Several Players Will Be At New Positions Friday

Several changes have been made in the Big Spring lineup as the Steers wind up preparations for their first home game of the season, a Friday night outing here with Ysleta Bel Air. John Weeks has been shifted from flanker to left end, replacing Grady Ray—who will concentrate on defense.

Harry Crosby and Tommy Fletcher will divide time at the flanker spot while David Englert moves in at the right end position where he will be backed up by Tony Dean.

Scott McLaughlin, who can play just about any place he's needed (he was a quarterback last year), will go to the flanker position on occasions.

Coach Clovis Hale said he was making the changes in order to strengthen the team's aerial arsenal. All of the players involved are good receivers, he pointed out.

Dave Duncan returned to workouts as early as Monday and has been executing all week. He'll be backed up by Mike Adams, who played the whole game on offense against Monterey last week.

Mavs, Toros Go To Snyder

The Goliad team, loser in its debut to Big Spring Runnels last week, plays at 5 p.m. The Toros and Travis' ninth graders tangle at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Donald Lightfoot of Goliad is now carrying about 40 boys on his roster.

Some of the Mavericks will go both ways this afternoon, among them Humberto Padilla, Hayes Stripling Jr., Barry Canning, Casey Lovelace, Darrell Miller and Mark Callahan.

Goliad's probable starters:

OFFENSE
E—Hayes Stripling and Humberto Padilla; T—Kyle Neighbors and Mark Callahan; G—Robert Rossum and Casey Lovelace; C—Matt Carl; QB—Barry Canning; FB—Darrell Miller; TB—Ricky Darrow; Flanker—Stanley Wallace.

DEFENSE

Landry Changes Method For Scoring Players

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Dallas coach Tom Landry has made a move he admits could "have the same effect" on the Cowboys as the 1965 decision to go with experience and Don Meredith at quarterback. Only this time Landry has put experience on the bench.

In 1965, the Cowboys were 2-5 and had lost five games in a row. Landry had used Meredith, Jerry Rhone and Craig Morton. Finally, he decided to stick with Meredith as No. 1 and Dallas finished with a 7-7 season. In 1966, they went 10-3-1 and lost in the championship game.

Now, he has chosen two-year man Roger Staubach over the more experienced Morton to start the season.

"My objective is winning," Landry said. "Experience is the key to success. But we are trying to mold a championship team. We won't be brilliant for the next few weeks. But hopefully we will be much stronger when it's all over."

Landry also has put experience on the bench at wide receiver where Dennis Homan replaces Bob Hayes.

"From now on when I take a player out of the starting lineup, I will not talk about the individual. I will say only that he is not meeting the required performance level," Landry said at his weekly press luncheon Wednesday.

The "performance level" consists of technical ability to execute, consistency, dedication, and competitiveness.

Landry said Morton's "arm was not responding" but he felt unanswered why Hayes was put on the bench. Some Cowboy insiders are guessing Hayes' attitude hasn't been the best. Hayes is playing out his option this year.

Landry said the starting lineup is based on how the players perform on the field.

"In the past some starters got complacent," Landry said. "To win a championship, this mustn't happen. The experimentation is over. We're going with what we have right now and see how far they take us."

In other words, experience no longer gives you a free ride on a Tom Landry team.

IN FOOTBALL POLL Coyotes, Dumas Rated At Top

By The Associated Press
A series of shakeups, headed by the Dumas Demons' coupe of first place in Class AAA highlighted The Associated Press Schoolboy football poll today after last week's first round of games.

The Demons, impressive in downing Class AAAA Amarillo Palo Duro, 25-7, moved to the top in Class AAA and pushing last week's leader Ennis, into second place, despite a 56-12 victory over Burleson.

But the other top ranked teams, Wichita Falls in AAAA, Iowa Park in AAA, and Seagraves in A, hung onto their leads.

The first four teams in AAAA, the Coyotes, Austin Reagan, Abilene Cooper and Galena Park, remained intact from last week, but there was plenty of shuffling in the lower ranks.

Seguin (No. 6) and Houston Kashmere (No. 7) dropped from the top 10 and were replaced by Killeen (No. 10) and Port Arthur Jefferson (No. 9).

Odessa Permian, tied for 10th a week ago, jumped to fifth place while Houston Spring Woods, which lost to Reagan, 6-3, fell from fifth to eighth.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Collins Rice, who pitched for the Andrews Teen-Age league baseball team during the summer, is now a starting halfback on Odessa Permian's football team.

There are all too few West Texans in the Texas Sports Hall of Fame. News of the feats of outstanding athletes of this area often get shut out in the city gazettes. As a consequence, individuals and teams from the outback must go about proving themselves every year to the city dwellers, who obviously prefer to burn their candles at the feet of their own heroes.

One West Texan who will undoubtedly gain admission to the sports shrine, in due time, is San Angelo's Cliff Ricey, who is a lot better known in some parts of the globe than Joe Namath or Willie Mays.

Ricey's game is tennis and he plays it well. Cliff developed somewhat of a reputation as a redneck as a teenager and he conceded not long ago it might have been deserved. These days, he's playing it cool without yielding any of his flair for the dramatic, which the sport so desperately needs.

In a game where they now play for big stakes, Ricey has become of the state's and the area's best ambassadors of good will.

Tennis has always been a splendid participation sport and Cliff has helped make it a good spectator sport. He's inspired many a youngster to take up a racket and chase a ball around a 36x78 foot rectangle, likely as not a lad who reasoned he was too small for football, too short for basketball and too slow for baseball.

Cliff and his family have been tempted to register out of larger cities but apparently they prefer to be identified as West Texans. The area should take great pride in them.

Most talented athlete in the Lone Star conference likely is Dwight Harrison of Texas A & I, a football flanker who runs the hundred in 9.5, long jumps better than 24 feet and has high jumped 6-3.

The boy has a good pair of hands, a point the pro scouts haven't overlooked.

Three UT-El Paso gridders, Phil Hatch, John Fletcher and Bernard Chapman, tell those who ask that they're from LA.

The "LA", they add, stands for Lower Alabama.

Knute Rockne played last Saturday for Utah State against Big Spring's Jim Carver and Kansas State. This one is a sophomore defensive back and is a grandson to the famed Notre Dame coach.

Dave Duncan, the Big Spring quarterback, might take a tip from Larry Harris, the TCU running back. Harris had his tonsils taken out two weeks prior to workouts and his weight dropped to below 170 pounds. Harris added more than 15 pounds before the Frogs played their first game: His recipe: Ice cream and peanut butter.

The Fighting Irish have a Squirmin' German calling signals for them again this season. He is Joe Theismann.

Net Courts Resurfaced

Work has been completed on the playing surfaces of the Kiwanis Club tennis courts at Howard Junior College.

The refurbishing job, contracted to Mallot and Peterson, Grundy of El Paso, specialists in the field, cost the college $6,480.

The courts have a Plexipave or rubberized base and offer a smooth, durable surface. The courts are striking to the eye, in that they are green, with a maroon border.

New nets were ordered for the four courts. Five-level seats for spectators are to be built alongside the courts and a shaded area will be provided for those waiting to make use of the courts.

Net workouts have already been started by the Jayhawks' new mentor, Bobby Smith.

Reservations Can Still Be Made

A few tickets for the Texas Ex-Students sponsored bus trip to the Texas-Texas football game Saturday, Sept. 26 are still available for purchase.

Price for the ducats will include the bus fare, game tickets and box lunches.

Texas-Exes interested can call Curtis Strong at 263-1487 or 263-7661 for reservations.

Israel Not Guilty Of Spy Flights?

NEW YORK (AP) — Israeli Premier Golda Meir, arriving for urgent consultations of the Middle East situation, has denied a U.S. State Department report that her country has violated "some" provisions of the cease-fire.

"I have not seen the report," she told newsmen at Kennedy Airport Wednesday night. "I know that Israel is not guilty of some violations or any violations whatsoever."

U.S. officials said in Washington Wednesday that Israel had violated the cease-fire by conducting reconnaissance flights over Egypt and by strengthening fortifications at the Suez Canal.

Mrs. Meir stopped here on her way to Washington where she will meet Friday with President Nixon and Secretary of State William P. Rogers.

Of those talks she said, "I hope to have the opportunity to discuss problems of the Middle East, problems that face Israel at present and problems which I believe we have in common with the United States."

Asked to comment on rumors that Israel might soften its position on releasing Arab prisoners in view of the hostages held by guerrilla airplane hijackers, Mrs. Meir said:

"I'm sorry. Those who are in our prisons are men and women who have been brought to trial. They killed or attempted to kill Israelis. They have to serve their terms."

"We believe that a united front of all the countries involved is the best way to free hostages and guarantee that there will be no more hostages in the future."

Heavy security precautions were in evidence at the airport and Mrs. Meir's E. Al jet parked in an isolated section more than a mile from where passengers usually debark.

After the news conference, she went to the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in a motorcade guarded by five police cars.

Wants Check On Judges

DALLAS (AP) — A constitutional amendment empowering the Senate to retire any federal judge is proposed by Lloyd Bentsen, the Democratic nominee for U.S. senator.

He also said Wednesday that judicial appointments, now made for life, should be made subject to reconfirmation by the Senate every 10 years.

Bentsen suggested that a two-thirds vote be required in the Senate for taking a judge, including one on the Supreme Court, off the bench.

"A judge can be highly competent or incompetent," the Houston candidate told the Dallas Optimist Club. "He can be a hard worker and keep his docket in order, or he can be lazy. Whatever he is, he is answerable to no one."

"I think the American people deserve a working judiciary. And I think the evidence shows that in too many cases they're not getting what they deserve."

Bentsen said crowded dockets could be cleared by Congress setting up 100 U.S. district courts on a temporary basis and the naming of 100 more U.S. attorneys.

"There is no better deterrent to wrongdoing than the sureness of swift justice," he said. "But we have let our courts—both our federal and state courts—become so clogged with litigation that it sometimes takes years for a final decision to be reached in a case."

Deadline Near For Atom Conference Applications

High school seniors in this area planning to submit applications to attend the 1970 National Youth Conference on the Atom should do so immediately, according to Don Womack, manager for Texas Electric Service Company.

Applications must be received by midnight, Sept. 23, in order to be considered.

Application forms and information concerning the conference are available at the high school or from the business office of Texas Electric.

The company will sponsor one student from this area, selected by a committee of educators and scientists on the basis of qualifications such as grades, test scores and interest in science.

The principal of the school from which a student is chosen will be asked to name a science teacher to accompany the student to the conference, also as a guest of the company. The conference will be held Oct. 22-24 at the Sheraton-Chicago Hotel in Chicago. Some 800 participants will attend this 12th annual event, representing most of the 50 states.

Conference delegates will meet some of the nation's leading scientists, will hear about the latest progress in a variety of scientific areas during the formal meetings and seminars, and will tour the Argonne National Laboratory and the Chicago Museum of Science and Industry.

Texas Electric Service Company is one of the 65 investor-owned electric power companies that co-sponsor the conference with the National Science Teachers Association. The conference is designed to inspire the scientific leaders of tomorrow by giving them an opportunity to meet and talk with the leaders of today.

Hopes For Petrochemical Plant Near Beaumont Told

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — County commissioners disclosed Wednesday that Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp. may build a giant petrochemical complex near here.

They said the company is thinking about the purchase of a sizable land tract near the middle of Jefferson County as the site of what might become one of the biggest such plants in Southeast Texas.

Spokesmen for cities and chambers of commerce in the area joined county officials in saying all possible efforts would be made to encourage such a development.

CLOSE ROAD

One necessary step, the county commissioners said at a news conference, would be to close one mile of the old Atlantic Road which runs from Texas 366 to Little Abbeville, a community east of Port Neches.

The road bisects two tracts of land totalling 1,280 acres which Olin Mathieson holds an option to buy from American Cyanamide Corp. and Grinnell Texas Co.

County Judge Chester C. Young called the proposed petrochemical complex "the most significant thing to come to Jefferson County in over a decade."

Young stressed, however, that Olin Mathieson had not finally committed itself and is considering other sites.

George Brown, Beaumont lawyer representing the prospective buyer, said the firm also was making feasibility studies at Lake Charles and Baton Rouge, La.

He said the study it made here indicated that this was the only location along the Neches River Ship Channel that met requirements, but it was imperative that a section of the road be closed if there was to be construction on the site.

NOT READY

Construction, if decided upon, would begin on the highest section of the land. Most of the area is marshland and it will have to be filled in over a period of time for future expansion.

Brown said a decision would be made by the corporation about Nov. 1. The firm took a 120-day option on the land July 1, he said.

Oil Tank Farm Fire Spreading

BEAUMONT (AP) — A large fire erupted today at the Mobil oil tank farm on the outskirts of Beaumont.

First reports said no one was injured.

The Beaumont Fire Department rushed all available equipment to the scene. Help was also called from as far away as Lake Charles, La.

Several buildings near the blazing tanks were evacuated as a precautionary measure.

Authorities believed the fire was started by lightning.

School officials evacuated pupils from Charlton Pollard High School, about half a mile from the fire on the city's south side, and dismissed classes for the remainder of the day.

Several residences bordering the tank farm also were evacuated.

Flames leaped over 100 feet in the air over the tank farm, and a pall of black smoke hung over the area.

San Antonio's Diphtheria Cases Hit 96

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Confirmed diphtheria cases in this epidemic-stricken city have reached 96, matching a figure set 34 years ago.

Health officials counted five new cases Wednesday and issued grim warnings as fewer than 3,000 persons appeared in the third day of a mass immunization drive.

The new diphtheria patients included two adults, a teen-ager and two children aged 1 and 3. There were 29 cases listed as unconfirmed.

The last time confirmed diphtheria cases reached 96 here was in 1936.

Many have recovered in the current epidemic, worst in the nation this year, but others are still under care. Two children have died from the throat infection.

Despite repeated warnings that thousands need the second in a series of diphtheria shots, it was estimated less than 14,000 persons have turned out for the free shots since the immunization drive started Monday.

More than 217,000 persons were inoculated in a three-week campaign last month.

Dr. Jack Lee, president of the local medical society, estimated Wednesday that 250,000 additional persons obtained shots from private physicians last month.

As many as two-thirds of those inoculated last month, he said, are still only partly protected. Older children and adults require two diphtheria shots for full protection. Children under 5 need three. Those who have been fully immunized within the past five years need boosters.

Sinatra Keeps Rabbit Foot

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Dist. Atty. George Franklin has ruled out any criminal charge against a casino executive who reportedly pulled a gun on singer Frank Sinatra during a card game dispute.

"You think I'm going to take a case like this before a grand jury?" Franklin asked newsmen Wednesday. "There were no law enforcement witnesses, no gun was picked up at the scene and the alleged victim flatly refuses to make any statement."

Sheriff's deputies said they were told Sanford Waterman, executive vice president of Caesars Palace, produced the gun when Sinatra objected wrathfully to a ruling that he would not be permitted to play $16,000-limit baccarat on credit.

Large Crowd Takes Part In Diez Y Seis Festival

The celebration of Mexico's 160th birthday was marked in Big Spring by a colorful afternoon parade and evening street dance with the crowning of Belen Rubio as Festival Queen.

The parade, from Medical Center Memorial Hospital down Main to Second Street, included floats built and decorated by GI Forum and Junior GI Forum members and various clubs and organizations. City and county commissioners, City and county officers, and the GI Forum Queen were among the dignitaries in the parade, and the Goliad Junior High School band in white outfits provided the music.

The street dance in two blocks of Northwest Fourth blocked off for the occasion went off without a hitch, attracting a crowd of over 1,000. Simon Terrazas and Eddie Acri crowned Belen Rubio queen of the festival. Pat Huante was chosen first runner-up and Irma Vargas second runner-up. Miss Rubio is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Benito Rubio.

Injunction Halts Mass Picketing

SALINAS, Calif. (AP) — A court injunction has halted mass picketing in the Salinas Valley by Cesar Chavez' United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

The injunction banned picketing by large bands of UFWOC members who have been moving from one ranch to another. Instead, only one informational picket will be allowed at the entrance of 22 ranches and none will be allowed at eight other ranches.

Board Talks Of Research Plans

The Research Advisory Board of the U.S. Field Station met for the fall board meeting today to go over plans for future soil research and reports on research already in progress.

Jack Buchanan, chairman of the board, reported on his success so far in getting the Big Spring field station designated as the Sandlyland Research Center, and additional efforts to get the USDA Sandlyland Research Center in West Texas. Each designation would amount to an expansion of research and facilities here.

Bill Fryrear, superintendent and Dr. Paul Koshi, staff researcher, offered reports on experiments involving soil improvement by use of surface mulch, water retention by various land forming systems, effects of harvesting frequency and rainfall on forage production, water storage in soil over a subsurface asphalt layer and use of manure or cotton burs in grass establishment.

A tour of the field plots where the research is under way was scheduled for the afternoon.

Officer Sifts Boxes Of Files During Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — Testimony resumes today in the trial of Archie Burkhalter, accused as an accomplice in the murder of his partner, Dr. Robert Pendleton, in December of 1966.

A former Pasadena police officer, A. L. Cornett, brought two cardboard boxes of police files to the Wednesday afternoon court session after the defense attorney said Cornett was vague on certain details.

Cornett, now with the FBI, headed the police investigation.

Burnett spent most of the session sifting through the boxes.

Prosecutor Jimmy James at first objected to what he called a defense "fishing expedition" then withdrew the objection.

"I just figure there's nothing in there to hurt anything," James said. "All this just shows the Pasadena Police Department did a tremendous amount of work."

Cornett also testified he saw the dead physician's brother, William Norman Pendleton, in his brother's office the day after the slaying. A box of surgical gloves was in the office, he said.

Burnett centered his cross-examination on William Pendleton, establishing that he had access to the gloves believed to be the type worn by the killer.

Pendleton was killed by sniper fire outside the clinic belonging to him and Burkhalter. The state contends Burkhalter hired three men to kill his partner to gain control of the clinic.

Robert Edward Akridge, 28, was convicted of being the triggerman in the slaying and is now appealing a death sentence.

Flowerbird's Head Hassle

HOUSTON (AP) — A funeral home director is trying to get his license reinstated.

It was revoked after the State Board of Morticians charged him with sewing the head of one man onto another's body before burial.

Norman G. Brooks Sr., 50, filed suit Wednesday to get the board's action overturned.

The head belonged to Joseph Flowerbird 66, an Indian who died in 1969. His body was given to the University of Texas dental branch. Then his family requested a burial and it was learned later that Flowerbird's body had been cremated.

An exhumation in June revealed that Flowerbird's head was buried with the body of Thomas Joseph Connors, 59. Brooks' funeral home handles pauper burials for the county.

SURVIVORS — Suffering from acute dehydration and exposure and after living off an algae and spice soup for seven weeks, Winfried B. Heiringhoff, 28, Laurene L. Kokx, 21, and Julian Ritter, 61, are treated aboard the USS Niagara Falls after being rescued from their 42-foot sailboat southwest of Hawaii. The trio's boat, Galilee, was two months overdue on a voyage from Tahiti to Hawaii when they were found near death Monday.

Bid For Nixon As Witness Nixed At Ft. Hood Hearing

FT. HOOD, Tex. (AP) — An Army film on all major statements by high public officials on the alleged My Lai massacre was to be shown at a pre-trial hearing today for S. Sgt. David Mitchell.

But one of the motions that Mitchell's lawyers wanted the film to support already has been turned down.

The film was expected to take up both the morning and afternoon sessions.

NEWS CONFERENCE

It includes footage of President Nixon's Dec. 8 news conference, at which he said of My Lai: "what appears certainly was a massacre and under no circumstances was it justified."

The defense said Nixon's statement unlawfully exerted influence on Mitchell's commanding general to court-martial him. The court-martial was ordered 23 days after the news conference.

The film was to support a defense motion asking the court to invite Nixon to testify. The motion also asks that Defense Secretary Melvin Laird, Army Secretary Stanley Resor, and Army Chief of Staff Gen. William Westmoreland, be subpoenaed.

PLEASE TESTIFY

Nixon is immune from subpoena because he is head of the executive branch, and co-equal with the judiciary, defense lawyers said. But they wanted him to be invited by the court to testify.

The defense said statements by Laird, Resor and Westmoreland also constituted command influence. The U. S. Supreme Court has reversed convictions where command influence was proved.

Col. George R. Robinson, the military judge of the Mitchell court-martial, rejected Wednesday the motion seeking the testimony of Nixon and the others.

He said there had been no showing what they would testify.

The defense has argued that the court-martial system is unfair because it requires the defense to show what witnesses can be expected to say on the stand before they are subpoenaed. The Army is not similarly restricted in its subpoena power, they say.

BIG DIFFERENCE

The Army film also will bear on a defense motion asking that charges against Mitchell be dropped, because there has been so much publicity in the case that he cannot get a fair trial.

Mitchell's civilian lawyer, Ossie Brown of Baton Rouge, La., also argued that the charges should be dropped because the officers who will serve on the court are from a panel being picked by the commanding general who ordered Mitchell's court-martial.

Another difference from civilian trials, he said, is that only a two-thirds majority of the court is needed to convict.

Also, the general picked only field grade officers (major and above) with the exception of two captains who will not be available to serve, Brown said.

The field grade officers are career men and the commanding general has a lot to say about their advancement in the Army, he said.

JUSTICE?

Brown noted that no court has yet ruled the court-martial jury system unconstitutional, but he noted that 10 years ago in civilian court such things as the right to counsel from the first interrogation through the trial were not recognized. Today such rights are recognized, he said.

"This court cannot sit by and say to a man in uniform: 'You have a different brand of justice; the constitution doesn't apply to you... We're sorry but, because you are in uniform, we cannot afford to you the same rights and privileges afforded to the thugs and hoods that roam the streets of this country,'" Brown said.

Robinson deferred a ruling on that motion.

Mitchell, 31, of St. Francisville, La., is accused of assault with intent to murder by shooting at "about 30" South Vietnamese. He has pleaded innocent.

Group Raps Alamo City Mayor On New Issues

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A protest group broadened the scope of its attack against San Antonio's mayor Wednesday, demanding a Mexican-American city manager and dismissal of the police chief.

In a tension-filled meeting with Mayor W. W. McAllister, the group also demanded a city commission with subpoena and punitive powers to hear citizens' grievances.

Speakers from the protesters said afterward that they will continue to picket the mayor's downtown savings firm.

McAllister, 51, has faced criticism since July, when he said in an NBC-TV interview that Mexican-Americans are perhaps not quite as "ambitiously motivated as the Anglos are to get ahead financially."

FEAR VIOLENCE

The protest group, which had been picketing his business place for more than a month, stepped up its activities last week. That led to mass arrests and a clash between picketers and police.

Wednesday's meeting was arranged by community leaders who said they feared more violence.

The pickets had demanded an apology from the mayor, despite his contention that his comments were taken out of context.

County Commissioner Albert Pena, a Mexican-American leader sympathetic to the pickets, said at the meeting Wednesday, however, it was no longer important whether he apologizes or not.

MORE IMPORTANT

"What's more important is the subsequent matter that we're going into now," Pena said.

McAllister told the picket spokesmen that he would look into their complaints of police maltreatment and discrimination. He had no comment on demands that the police chief be fired.

On their demand for a Mexican-American city manager, the mayor suggested the group present him a list of names of qualified persons for such a position. He said this does not mean he plans to seek the dismissal of the present city manager.

The group demanded that a now-abolished commission to hear grievances be re-established with subpoena and punitive powers.

McAllister told the group the matter would be considered. Others on the mayor's side contended the city has no authority to grant such powers.

'HOP TO IT'

McAllister also suggested that the group ask State Sen. Joe Bernal of San Antonio, among those at the meeting, to press for legislation authorizing commissions with those powers.

"I'm trying to," Bernal shot back.

"Hop to it," McAllister replied.

Mario Obledo, head of the Mexican-American Legal Defense Fund, told McAllister that this city is "fertile ground" for disruptions like the Mexican-American rioting that struck Los Angeles last month.

Obledo also said he was "amazed and saddened" by Police Chief George Bichsel's attitude when he presented the chief several complaints of police discrimination. He claimed Bichsel "did not seem to grasp the problems of Mexican-Americans."

The meeting was marked by several heated exchanges, but there were no incidents. McAllister threatened to walk out at one point, accusing the group of questioning whether he was acting in "good faith." The meeting was quickly called back to order.

Jose Cruz, chairman of the pickets, said afterward that the picketing would continue. He said he was unsure whether the group would ask for more meetings with the mayor.

Another of the group's demands was for McAllister to halt a voluntary savings account program run by his firm for school children.

McAllister flatly refused, saying his firm was the only one in the city willing to take on such a program when it was proposed years ago.

Debbie Parchman Is Semi-Finalist

LAMESA (SC) — Debbie Parchman, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Parchman, 1405 South 9th, is one of the semi-finalists in the National Merit Scholarship program.

She is one of 14,700 students who made outstanding scores on NMS tests administered last February. This puts her in line to compete for one of the 3,000 scholarships which go to the finalists who substantiate their high NMS scores and earn the endorsement of their schools.

FRECKLED MORTAR MIXER — Sixteen-year-old Joyce Roehl has freckled skin, light red hair and an unusual summer job. She earns $1.25 an hour working as a hod carrier, which includes chores such as mixing mortar, above. She works for her father, Danny, who works as a bricklayer in Ottawa, Kan. Joyce began masonry work seven years ago, carrying bricks for 15 cents an hour.

'Job Pays Well' Says Teenage Hod Carrier

OTTAWA, Kan. (AP) — Danny Roehl is a brick layer. His assistant, the hod carrier, has light red hair that falls below the shoulders, fair skin that sunburns and freckles easily, and answers to the name of Joyce.

Joyce, the hod carrier, has thought about working at other jobs, but "not many 16-year-old girls get paid $1.25 an hour in Ottawa, and there aren't that many jobs I could do."

Joyce is Danny Roehl's oldest daughter and she began working in masonry seven years ago carrying bricks for 15 cents an hour.

"By working for Dad, I keep the money in the family . . . and I get to know my dad better by working with him than if I went my way and he went his."

Clad in blue jeans and cotton knit shirt, Joyce mixes and blends the mortar, carries it by the bucket to her father, checks bricks for chips and cracks, sets bricks the right length for a particular job, operates the masonry saw to cut bricks and stones, and does a craftsman's job of pointing—uniformly recessing the mortar between bricks.

"By the middle of the day," she observes with a smile, "I'm pretty dirty."

She doesn't do any actual brick laying.

Joyce also carries four-pound bricks, 10 at a time to the platform where Cindy, her 12-year-old sister, "walls" or places them in stacks of four along the veneer her father is constructing.

It's obvious that Danny Roehl

Communication is the theme chosen for WSCS Study

Communication was the keynote of the Wesleyan Service Guild meeting Monday at the First United Methodist Church.

Mrs. B. M. Keese presided, and Mrs. H. C. Ernsting, coordinator between the guild and Women's Society of Christian Service, announced the theme of the WSCS mission study.

"How The Word Gets Around," Miss Gladys Burnham, program chairman, introduced Mrs. J. K. Cunningham who spoke on the theme.

"Communication is received in three ways, through sight, hearing and feeling," Mrs. Cunningham said. "There are two types of media, the man-made and the natural. Man-made media include television, the written word and art. Natural media include thunder, lightning, weather, the warmth of the sun, the seasons and plant life. They can be seen, heard or felt and communicate feelings and ideas. Different people react differently to various communications. Each person could hear the same story, but each would retell the story in a different manner," explained Mrs. Cunningham.

Mrs. Ernsting announced the mission study will begin at 9:30 a.m., Oct. 27, and continue four Tuesdays. The WSCS retreat will be held Oct. 29 at the Permian Basin Encampment in Stanton. The annual WSCS tea will be Dec. 6 at the church, and the guild is invited to attend all functions. All Methodist women are welcome to attend the tea.

The Big Spring district conference will be Sunday in Andrews at the Means Memorial Methodist Church. Mrs. Leon Batchelor, Midland, district director, will preside. The next guild meeting will be Oct. 12 with Dr. Jordan Grooms, district superintendent, as guest speaker.

Plans were begun for the annual membership drive at the PBX Club meeting Tuesday at Malone and Hogan Clinic. The drive will begin Oct. 20 and include a tea in November. Mrs. Fern Smith is chairman with the assistance of Mrs. John Ray and Mrs. Dean Christian.

Christmas gifts for Big Spring State Hospital patients will be collected at the October meeting. Clothes were donated to the Salvation Army. The next meeting will be at 6:15 Oct. 20 at Holiday Inn, and will feature a guest speaker.

Plans for a covered dish supper were discussed at the Monday meeting of St. Anne's Guild at St. Mary's Episcopal Church. The supper will be held for the parish today.

Yankee Bomber Downed In Mission Over Cambodia

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today the loss of the first American fighter-bomber in missions over Cambodia in more than two months and also disclosed that two more helicopters were shot down over Laos.

American fighter-bombers were reported flying raids today along Route 6, north of the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh. The strikes were aimed at blocking North Vietnamese reinforcements threatening a stalled Cambodian offensive between Skoun, 40 miles north of Phnom Penh, and Kompong Thom, 80 miles north of the capital.

But sources were unable to confirm immediately whether the U.S. bombers had attacked the village of Taing Kauk, 47 miles north of Phnom Penh, where a North Vietnamese and Viet Cong force is reported massed.

Sources in Saigon said American reconnaissance planes were flying over Taing Kauk but reportedly were having difficulty spotting North Vietnamese and Viet Cong troops hiding in hedgerows.

The raids were in response to a Cambodian call for help after the government offensive ran into deep trouble. Sources in Phnom Penh said the Cambodian high command, after a district capital meeting with field commanders, had decided to attempt to push through to the besieged provincial capital of Kompong Thom by the road. If there is heavy North Vietnamese resistance, but would attempt to capture Taing Kauk. Kompong Thom is about 33 miles north of Taing Kauk along Highway 6.

The Cambodian command says a regiment of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—about 2,900 troops—is entrenched at Taing Kauk.

Enemy commandos struck under darkness in the Skoun area, 70 miles north of Phnom Penh on Highway 6, to cut two more bridges behind the government.

A senior Cambodian officer said numerous small groups of enemy troops have maneuvered behind the government forces and an attack on Skoun could come at any time. Skoun is the district capital serving as the government headquarters for government operations aimed at opening the road to the north.

The U.S. Command said today that two more American helicopters, including a big troop-carrying Marine Corps CH53, were shot down Monday in the lower panhandle of Laos. The command had reported Wednesday two other helicopters shot down last Friday and Sunday.

Sources said both American and South Vietnamese reconnaissance patrols have been operating across the border along the Ho Chi Minh trail supply network for years. One source said American patrols had been recently stepped up in Laos. The U.S. Command refused to confirm or deny the report.

Meanwhile, U.S. bombers kept up their attacks in the lower Laotian panhandle in efforts to destroy war materials moving along the Ho Chi Minh trail toward Cambodia and South Vietnam.

Sorority To Aid Campaign

It takes a lot of good breathing for football players, and members of the Beta Sigma Phi chapters will be outside the stadium this weekend to help a lot of other people have good breathing.

Chapter members will be soliciting gifts from the public for the area Tuberculosis Association to further its program of research into respiratory ailments, including the old enemy of tuberculosis.

Taking part here will be the Beta Omicron, the Phi Zeta Omega, the Mu Zeta and the Xi Mu chapters in Big Spring, and at Coahoma, the Alpha Beta Omicron.

In recent years, tuberculosis, once almost stamped out, has been making a comeback as a health menace. Also, the incidence of emphysema and other diseases affecting the respiratory system has been on the increase.

Part of the funds go for research, part for education, and some for assistance in treatment of respiratory ailments.

TESCO Bonds Are Scheduled

WASHINGTON — Texas Electric Utility Co., a unit of Texas Utilities Co., has registered with the Securities and Exchange Commission a planned $25 million public offering of 30-year first-mortgage bonds. The issue will be offered through competitive bidding.

Texas Electric, a Fort Worth-based utility, will use proceeds to help finance a construction program. Last year, the company sold an issue of 7% per cent first mortgage bonds, due 1999.

Disability Unit To Have Meeting

The Big Spring Society for Children with Learning Disabilities will meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Officials stressed that this was a particularly important meeting because programs for the year will be shaped at the business meeting.

CUT BRIDGES

The Cambodian command says a regiment of North Vietnamese and Viet Cong—about 2,900 troops—is entrenched at Taing Kauk.

ENEMY FIRE

The U.S. Command said the fighter-bomber, an F100 Super Sabre jet, was hit by enemy ground fire Wednesday while conducting "interdiction operations" against supply routes in northeast Cambodia. The command did not give a specific location, but other sources said the jet was hit near Kratie City, about 100 miles northeast of Phnom Penh.

The Air Force said the pilot, 1st Lt. James V. Phillips, 27, of Odessa, Tex., flew the damaged aircraft to the South China Sea, bailed out and was rescued by a U.S. Air Force helicopter.

The U.S. Command said it was the first American aircraft shot down over Cambodia since July 3 and the 45th lost in Cambodian operations since April 29, when the command announced that American aircraft were being used in Cambodia.

In South Vietnam, activity remained light and scattered. The weekly U.S. casualty summary reported 54 Americans killed in action last week a drop of 33 from the previous week and the second lowest weekly toll in nearly four years.

The number of Americans wounded last week increased to 337, which is 14 higher than the previous week.

The U.S. Command said American battlefield deaths have remained below 100 for 11 consecutive weeks for the first time since the period of Nov. 28, 1965, to Feb. 12, 1966.

Reports from Phnom Penh said the Cambodian high command had lifted all restrictions on bombing Taing Kauk. Earlier, air strikes were withheld against the center of the village because civilians were reportedly being held there by the North Vietnamese. The Cambodian command now says most civilians have escaped.

Sources in Phnom Penh told Associated Press correspondent John T. Wheeler that heavy U.S. air strikes had been promised along Route 6 against an enemy force which today attacked with artillery and ground assaults the government's first major offensive.

FIRST TIME

A Cambodian spokesman said it was the first time that the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong had used artillery in the six-month-old Cambodian war. He gave no further details.

Final Figures Give HCJC Almost 1,200

Howard County Junior College ended with a total of 1,198 head count after all drops were calculated, Dr. W. A. Hunt, president, said today.

This is a 14.3 per cent increase over a year ago.

The semester hour total showed a hefty gain with 12,088 in academics and 1,021 in vocational-technical. This compared with a net of 10,909 academic and 1,074 vocational-technical a year ago. The academic increase is 10.8 per cent.

The semester hour total (divided by 15) comes to an equivalency of 806 as compared to 727 a year ago.

The final head count on full time academic students is 652 as compared with 580 a year ago.

The college had reached 1,218 registration in head count, but there were 20 drops.

The increase in academic hours, based on current state payments for equivalency, should be worth about $45,000 to HCJC in state aid. However, there is a good possibility that the legislature may raise the per capita figure, which would mean still more additional money. The increase is particularly important at this time because payments for the biennium will be based on this autumn's registration.

Park Improvements Slow But Impressive, Says Baum

Changes may seem imperceptible, but over the years the record of park improvements in Big Spring is impressive, Jim Baum, chairman of the city's parks and recreation board, told Downtown Lions Wednesday at the Settles.

He had colored slides to back him up. Baum projected pictures of such things as Shadow Retreat, the large pavilion in Comanche Trail Park, the new Munny golf course clubhouse, new roadways, the camper park, tree nursery, new ball fields, etc. He also touched on improvements with aid of others such as the Garden Clubs on the rose garden, big spring site and the amphitheatre landscaping, and ABC Club Westside playground.

Other groups have fallen into step and developed their own parks, he said. A case in point is the Boy Scout Troop 6 playground which turned a weed patch into an attractive park on East 6th.

Fooing Around

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — Women should get in there and work and quit fooling around with this women's liberation City of Big Spring and the Big thing," says Joy H. Burham, Spring schools at Airport and the National Bank of Ft. Benning.

"I hope and believe we can do more of this cooperative around with liberation and that thing," Baum told the Lions. "Every body has money who can't hold down a job any problems, and I think we can way."

LUXURY IN NEW FORD — The 1971 Ford LTD is highlighted by this new front end treatment featuring a forward-thrusting center grille section and dual exposed headlamps. This LTD two-door Brougham includes a new standard high back bench seat which eliminates the need for separate headrests. New side impact protection system, flush door handles, concealed windshield wipers and a new two-tiered covered instrument panel also are standard features for the 1971 Ford. The models are being shown by Bob Brock Ford, 500 W. 4th.

Wright Trophy Winner Named

WASHINGTON (AP) — C. R. Smith, retired airline president and former secretary of commerce under President Lyndon B. Johnson, was named today as winner of the Wright Brothers Memorial Trophy, a top aviation award. The 71-year-old former American Airlines head will be honored at the annual Wright Memorial dinner here Dec. 17.

Ford Unveils 1971 Models, From Pinto To Thunderbird

Ford's 46 models in six car lines for 1971 range from the all-new Pinto and popular Maverick to the retyled Ford and elegant Thunderbird. And the Mustang has been completely changed to stimulate new interest among sports car buyers.

The new models are being displayed at Bob Brock Ford, 500 W. 4th.

The little Pinto already has been unveiled as the smallest of the domestic sub-compacts. Maverick, the "simple machine" introduced last year, offers a four-door model, a Grabber sports sedan and a wider choice of options.

Torino has a revamped lineup of 14 models including two four-door sedans, six two-door hardtops, two four-door hardtops, three station wagons and a convertible for 1971. To dress up any Torino model, there are 16 exterior colors, up to seven interior trim colors and more than 50 options. Standard engine for all Torino and Torino 500 models is the rugged 250 c.i.d. V-6. There are also larger V-8 engines.

Mustang is most changed for 1971 since the original model six years ago. It has a sports car feel and a European flavor. Mustang again offers a wide choice of body styles.

New styling gives the 1971 Ford more of the luxury look and comes in 22 sedans and hardtops, seven station wagons and a convertible.

A brand new sedan-hardtop offering the best features of both models, has been added to the LTD and LTD Brougham series. The SportsRoof body style has been discontinued and the convertible becomes an LTD model in '71, thereby eliminating the XL designation.

Exterior design treatment on the '71 Fords features smoother,

Recovering From Partial Paralysis

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—A basic trainee who filed mistreatment claims against drill sergeants is recovering from partial paralysis, the Air Force said Wednesday.

The airman, from Stanberry, Mo., is undergoing physical therapy and is listed as improved, a spokesman said.

The Air Force disclosed earlier that two training instructors at Lackland Military Training Center here have been relieved of duty pending an investigation of the airman's complaint.

He claims that he required surgery Sept. 5 after a sergeant banged his head and another airman's head together, officials said.

A spokesman said Wednesday that the trainee suffered partial paralysis on his left side and is still weak on that side. He is able to move his limbs, now however, the spokesman said.

The airman at first was identified as from Omaha, Neb., but officials said Wednesday that Stanberry, Mo., is his hometown. He enlisted at Omaha, the Air Force said.

The other airman, from Los Angeles, was reported uninjured. No names were revealed.

Officials said the investigation is still in progress, as is a review of operation and training procedures of Lackland. The Air Force inspector general, Lt. G. Selman Wells, is heading the review, spokesman said.

Lackland is the only Air Force basic training center.

Fourteen basic trainees filed mistreatment claims against Lackland instructors a year ago. Two instructors were convicted and each drew a $225 fine and a reprimand. The third was acquitted.

Vet Newsman Will Retire

HOUSTON (AP) — Veteran newsman William H. Gardner will retire Dec. 31 and he will be succeeded by George F. Fuermann as editor of the Houston Post editorial page.

The impending changes were announced Wednesday by Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, board chairman and editor.

George M. Fuermann, with the Post since 1946, writes the newspaper's "Post Card" column. He is the author of three books.

Gardner and his wife, Louise, will retire to Austin, where he spent 13 years as political affairs editor and chief of the Austin bureau of the Post.

He has worked on newspapers in the state since he left the University of Texas in 1928, except for a three-year tour in the Air Force in World War II.

Gardner joined the Post in 1935. He is author of "The Texas as Citizen" a book about state government.

May Quit Nixon To Help Sell Soap

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Bryce N. Harlow says there is "a real possibility" he may quit as a counselor to President Nixon soon to join the Proctor and Gamble Manufacturing Co.

Harlow, who was born here, made the disclosure Wednesday at a reception honoring Jenkin Lloyd Jones, past president of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, and oilman W. W. Keeler, board chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers.

Harlow served as an aide to the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower from 1953 to 1961. He is now a presidential counsel with Cabinet rank.

HOT BEIGNETS Dunk 'em in coffee!

Coffee Fare In New Orleans

Late, late at night in New Orleans, after parties or the night shift, people head for the coffee stalls in the famous French Market, as they've done since 1813 when the Market opened. Recently, someone asked a New Orleansian if the coffee stalls were as popular as ever. "Popular?" was the reply. "Why, that's the first place we're going when my girls come home from college."

When you drink coffee there, you know (if you did not know before) that coffee is the great common denominator. People in evening clothes share counter space with dungareed fishermen. But then, that's the way it is with coffee, something all people can enjoy together.

At the French Market coffee stalls, fluffy square doughnuts called Beignets are almost as famous as the colorful old shopping center. Actually, Beignets are delicious north or south. Try them at your next kaffeeklatsch. And when you do, "dunk" them the way the New Orleansians do.

3 cups sifted flour (about)
Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt and shortening; cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast into very warm water; stir until dissolved. Add lukewarm milk mixture, egg and half the flour. Beat well with mixer or spoon for one minute. Add remaining flour and more if needed to make soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured surface; knead until smooth and elastic.

Place in greased bowl; cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled, about 1 hour. Punch down and let rise again about 1/2 hour. Roll out into square a scant 1/2 inch thick.

Cut into 2 1/2 to 3 inch squares. Place on greased baking sheet; let rise until light, about 1 hour. Do not handle while rising or they will fall. Fry in deep fat, heated to 375 degrees, for 2 minutes or until brown on each side; drain on absorbent paper. Serve piping hot, sprinkle generously with confectioners sugar. Makes about 2 dozen.

NEW ORLEANS BEIGNETS
1/4 cup milk
1/4 cup sugar
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup shortening
1 pkg. active dry yeast
1/4 cup very warm water (110-115 degrees)
1 egg, beaten

Soup Can Have Homemade Taste

Try this for real homemade flavor.

VEGETABLE SOUP PLUS
1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed cheddar cheese soup
3/4 cups water
1 can (10 3/4 oz.) condensed meatless vegetable soup
1/2 cup tomato sauce with mushrooms (from an 8 oz. can)
1 tsp. sugar

Into a medium saucepan turn the undiluted cheese soup; stir in the water a little at a time. Stir in the undiluted vegetable soup, the tomato sauce and the sugar. Stirring occasionally, heat to boiling. Makes six servings. (If soup is saltier than you like, add another 1/4 cup water.)

BAKED BEANS SCORE Fans will cheer the cook

Football Season Signals Postgame Buffet Points

Double the pleasure of football weekends with a postgame buffet.

It matters not whether you brave the bench to cheer your linebackers on to victory or do your rooting from the confines of a cozy den, a robust supper will win points with the spectators.

Number one in the stick-to-the-ribs category is canned beans... pork & beans, beans & franks, beans 'n beef, and barbecue beans.

Not only are they protein packed for long lasting warming power, they're football season flavored: robust and hearty. This wonderful blend of tomatoes and spices simmers deep inside the beans and would still remain even if you washed off all that luscious sauce.

THE SPICY LIFE

Spice Up Your Life With Raisined Rice

"Variety is the spice of life," runs the saying. There's much to be said for both variety and spice when it comes to menu-making. Next time ham, roast pork, or poultry are on your agenda, take a cue from South African food and serve Spiced merric. Pre-cooked rice absorbs the rich flavors and makes its preparation speedy.

SPICED RAISIN RICE
2 1/2 cups water
3/4 cup raisins
3/4 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. cinnamon
1/2 tsp. grated lemon rind
1/4 tsp. turmeric
2 tbsps. butter
2 cups packaged enriched pre-cooked rice
2 tbsps. sugar

Combine water, raisins, salt, cinnamon, lemon rind, turmeric, and butter in saucepan. Bring to a boil. Stir in rice. Remove from heat; cover and let stand 5 minutes. Sprinkle sugar over rice; toss with a fork to mix. Makes about 4 cups or 6 servings.

Capers Spice Up Tuna Sandwiches

Just the right additions to tuna for savory sandwiches.

TUNA SANDWICHES
1 can (7 oz.) solid white meat (albacore) tuna
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/4 cup minced celery
2 tbsps. drained capers
2 tbsps. lemon juice
2 to 3 tbsps. finely grated onion (pulp and juice)
8 slices wholewheat bread

Turn tuna, without draining, into a small mixing bowl; flake. Add remaining ingredients except bread and thoroughly mix with a fork. Use tuna filling with the bread to make four sandwiches — 1/4 cup (packed down) filling for each. Lettuce may be used in sandwiches if you like. Cut each sandwich into two triangles. Makes four servings.

For Best Peas

To have fresh, tender garden peas at their best, cook them without water in the top of a double boiler. All the seasoning they need is a little butter and salt.

By MARILYN NEVELS
Mrs. Melvin D. Newton, 1108 Nolan, has a hard time putting her recipes down on paper, because she isn't accustomed to cooking from a cookbook, but uses recipes from memory handed down from her family and her husband's family.

"This summer it seemed like I cooked twice as much as usual," said Mrs. Newton. My husband and oldest son are big eaters." Her oldest son, David, is a junior at Stephen F. Austin University and worked during the summer at Cosden Petroleum Company with his father.

"Melvin works three different shifts, and David did heavy work, so between them, it kept me in the kitchen all summer," she said. "I like to cook better than bake, since my family doesn't go in for sweets."

Mrs. Newton's younger son, Jeff, 12, is now taking over where his big brother left off. He is a seventh-grader at Goliad Junior High School and is going out for football.

"Jeff has to follow in the footsteps of his brother. All the Newtons are athletes and like sports," Mrs. Newton said. "Now that I've got David raised, I'm starting in on Jeff. There are nine years between them. I've been den mother for them when they were Cub Scouts. Now Jeff is a Boy Scout. It seems like I got all the rowdy little boys each time!"

Mrs. Newton has a great interest in music and a "sort of" wishes she'd had a girl! to share her interest in music.

"We all sing when the family gets together, but sports were always more important to the boys," she said. "I learned to play the piano when I was a teenager and used to play by note. Now I just play by ear."

As chaplain in Big Spring Rebekah Lodge 284, Mrs. Newton plays the piano and sings for various functions. She also is musician for the Pythian Sisters, Sterling Temple 43. Since both organizations have family dinners and salad suppers quite often, Mrs. Newton has developed several dependable salads including potato, tuna-noodle and congealed fruit salads. A couple of special dishes, chicken fricassee and chili, were from her father.

"We do a lot of things as a family and we have a lot of family gatherings since Melvin's family and my family live close," said Mrs. Newton, whose parents are the O. B. Harrisons of Stanton. His parents, the W. C. Newtons, live in Marshall. One of the family's favorite activities, when they aren't busy with football or Little League, is hiking and picnicking.

"Every year we take a family vacation. This year we went to Galveston, and last year we went to Colorado Springs," she said. "We plan to return to Colorado next summer. We enjoy hiking in the mountains and especially like the Garden of the Gods. I enjoy the scenery, but I'm not rugged enough for overnight camping. I like the hiking part, but wouldn't last more than two nights camping out. On weekends, we would hike around Moss Creek Lake or Scenic Mountain. The boys would help me get my exercise."

Another pastime of Mrs. Newton's is visiting the ill or shut-in as part of her church and lodge work.

"People don't do enough visiting with shut-ins," she commented. "Just 15 minutes of visiting really cheers them up. I guess I have a gift of gab because I enjoy visiting with them. It seems like we're always taking a dish of something somewhere, too."

Union Takes Aim At El Paso Firm

EL PASO (AP) — Jacob S. Potofsky, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America (AFL-CIO), and other top union officials came to El Paso Wednesday to address a mass meeting aimed at union organization.

Farah Manufacturing Co., one of the largest in the industry, was the object of the meeting. Farah is the largest plant in the industry that is non-union, Potofsky said in an address prepared for Wednesday night's meeting.

The union is concentrating on two key departments—shipping and cutting, and has election petitions pending with the National Labor Relations Board.

Farah is contending that any such election should be plant-wide and not limited to certain departments.

Potofsky, second president to serve the union in its 60-year history after succeeding Sidney Hillman, said the union's 400,000 membership takes in 95 per cent of the industry.

The El Paso drive is a beginning, Potofsky said, of an effort to organize all Farah plants in San Antonio and other cities.

Amalgamated has contracts in two El Paso clothing plants, taking in about 1,700 of 12,000 workers in the industry here. Most plants here produce men's casual wear.

The Farah plant has about 550 workers in the department the union is seeking to organize out of an estimated 4,000 to 5,000 employees in various Farah El Paso plants.

Howard Gilt Places High

Johnny Peugh's Duroc gilt Wednesday won reserve champion of the Duroc class in the National Barrow Show at Austin, Minn.

The classy female, from the herd of his father J. E. Peugh of Knott, went for $1,750 in the sale.

He also had two boars in addition to the gilt, and the quartet, including the champion, grossed $3,300.

Summers Shaw's two barrows and two gilts, which didn't make the championship circle nevertheless grossed $750. These were of breeding from his father's herd.

Jim Allison, assistant county agent, accompanied J. E. Peugh and Frank Shaw to Austin, Minn., for this top swine show. This was one of the best showings made by Howard County-bred pigs.

Country Music Jamboree Has Big Turnout

Last Saturday night's Country Music Jamboree was attended by the largest number of people in the Jamboree's history, according to Mrs. F. F. McElreath, secretary of the Big Spring Country Music Association. Some 300 persons attended the country and western music show, said Mrs. McElreath.

Musicians from the surrounding towns of Mason, Brady, Ozona, Snyder, Big Lake, Andrews, Sweetwater, Maryneal and Abilene performed along with groups from Big Spring.

Special guests at the Jamboree were patients at the State Hospital, Half Way House, Veterans Hospital and the Nursing Inn.

Country Jamboree is held at the city auditorium on the second Saturday night of each month. The next Jamboree is scheduled for 8 p.m. Oct. 10.

Opening lead: Four of ♠

A slight but crucial alteration of his original plan of campaign was essential to South's success in bringing his five diamond contract safely home.

Altho his heart lead is not subject to criticism, had West chosen to open the queen of spades, the fate of South's contract would have become quickly sealed, for after two spade tricks are cashed—East becomes assured of scoring the setting trick in diamonds. West chose to lead a heart however, and declarer had a fighting chance.

One spade may be discarded on North's clubs. In order to avoid losing two spade tricks, however, South may have to develop an endplay position—for the ace of spades may well be with East, the original overcaller, in which case declarer cannot afford to lead toward North's king.

The heart opening was taken by South's ace and the ace of diamonds was cashed. When both opponents followed suit and the king remained outstanding, declarer began stripping out the hand. The queen of clubs was played followed by a small club to the king, as the ten appeared from East's hand.

It was South's intention to play three rounds of clubs, then ruff the remaining heart and throw East in with a trump. If the latter had major suit cards left, he must surrender a trick on the return. If he plays a heart, it presents declarer with a ruff and discard. If East leads a spade, North's king is established. In either case, the defense is limited to one trick each in spades and diamonds.

When the ten of clubs appeared on the second round of that suit, South changed his mind and abandoned clubs. The heart was ruffed immediately and a trump was led putting East in. The latter having only spades and hearts left, was endplayed and graciously conceded defeat. Even if he had a club left to lead, however, the result would have been the same, inasmuch as North's ace-nine assures declarer of two spade discards.

Observe that if South attempts to cash the ace of clubs before ruffing dummy's heart. East can trump in with the king of diamonds and then safely get out with a heart. South must now lead spades himself, and cannot avoid losing two tricks.

Private College Execs Map Battle For Funds

DALLAS (AP) — More than $500 million more in appropriations this session than last and the Texas Legislature in 1972 by 41 private colleges and universities in the state.

Top executives of those schools mapped their campaign for state aid at a meeting here.

As members of Independent Colleges and Universities of Texas they will propose that the Legislature grant tuition subsidies for students in private colleges and that it purchase degrees from private institutions.

Spokesmen said these measures will help relieve overcrowding in public colleges and universities and will save private education.

FRESHMEN NEEDY

It is proposed that the state provide $300 per semester to pay tuition for needy freshmen. For each student in a public college or university the state now spends $1,250.

It was estimated the program would cost $3 million the first year. Plans call for its expansion to cover sophomores the next year and all students by 1974.

For the purchase of degrees it is proposed that the state pay $1,000 on each bachelor's degree awarded by a private institution, $1,500 for a master's degree and $2,000 for a doctorate. The educators said the state now spends $5,000 for each bachelor's degree awarded by a public institution.

These outlays would total $13 million in 1972, it was estimated.

Degrees in religion and theology would be excluded.

Dr. Abner McCall, who heads Baylor University, also is president of the Independent Colleges and Universities. He said Baylor would not benefit under the degree purchase plan because it is a Baptist institution and a church rule requires separation of church and state affairs.

"It will be a hard fight even if no one is against us," he said of the campaign, "because the Legislature will be asked for $500 million more in appropriations this session than last and they don't like to add new tax.

Backers of the proposals say it will cost the state less to pay $600 a year tuition than to build a new college or pay $1,250 for a student to attend one now in existence. They say it also is less costly for the state to purchase a degree than to produce one.

Nixon's Proposed Tax Unnecessary?

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon's proposed tax on lead additives for gasoline is unnecessary and would feed inflation, a spokesman for oil industry associations said Wednesday.

Peter N. Gammiegard, representing the American Petroleum Institute and the Western Oil and Gas Association, told the House Ways and Means Committee six petroleum companies are now marketing or plan to market unleaded gasoline and nine are marketing or plan to market low-lead fuels.

"The petroleum industry is in complete accord with the administration's announced objective of accelerating progress in the control of air pollution from automobiles," he said.

He said, however, that for some time, owners of cars with high compression ratio engines will have to continue burning leaded gas—and paying the tax.

Japs Promenade At Lunchtime

TOKYO (AP) — Tokyo, which has already banned cars in some areas on Sundays to encourage pedestrians to stroll in "holiday promenades," inaugurated a "lunchtime promenade" today for office workers in a business district.

Police said the experiment in the Marunouchi district near Emperor Hirohito's palace was "highly successful." Officials said the plan, which locked off a major road to cars from noon to 1 p.m., may be expanded to other business areas.

Congressional Reform Vote Scheduled Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — A front of the House chamber to give the public a closer and occasionally televised look at its procedures moved toward a final House vote today after a bumpy legislative journey.

Many senior House members who contend the bill goes too far predicted a substantial vote for the measure but said they are counting on the Senate to keep it from becoming law.

The bill would end secret voting, abolish proxy voting in committees and permit televised committee hearings.

PAY INCREASE

In preparation for today's vote, the House Wednesday cleared away a flock of amendments attached to the bill.

Slaying Ends Holdup Try

DALLAS (AP)—An attempted holdup ended with the shotgun slaying of an oil company distributor Wednesday at his gas station in the Oak Cliff district.

Police said Edgar J. Philbrick, 62, apparently was swinging an Army bayonet at the robbers when the blast hit his chest.

Witnesses told officers that as they drove past the station there were two youths inside with a sawed-off shotgun leveled at Philbrick and about that time the weapon discharged.

It was raining at the time. Police used a helicopter in a fruitless search for the bandits, who disappeared on foot.

The station was one of five owned by Philbrick. He had stayed there alone while two employees were making deliveries.

This Is The Day For Boys To Join The Cub Scouts

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Thurs., Sept. 17, 1970 9-B

This is the evening for boys who want to have all the fun and adventure wrapped up in being a Cub Scout.

They, and their parents, are asked to go at 7:30 p.m. to the elementary school where the boys attend school. There they will be met by cubmasters (of the pack to which they likely will be assigned), together with cubmasters and school principals to answer any questions and to register them.

The only exceptions to this will be at Marcy school and at Midway and Coahoma, all three of which will have Cub Parents nights Sept. 24.

All boys 8-9-10 years of age are urged to bring mother and dad and come to the schools,

Labor's No. 1 Goal Missed, Demos Backed

AUSTIN (AP) — H. S. Brown, president of the Texas AFL-CIO, says organized labor's No. 1 goal in Texas was to re-elect Sen. Ralph Yarborough "but this defeat cannot cloud our vision for the future."

Brown made the statement Wednesday in urging all members of organized labor to support Democratic candidates in statewide races in November elections.

Brown said Yarborough's defeat in the Democratic primary by Lloyd Bentsen mean for organized labor "determining a new course and proceeding on it."

"Last March our No. 2 goal was to help re-elect our friends in the state senate and to elect some new senators who might be friends," Brown said. "On this objective we are two-thirds of the way there."

"Now our friends have the general election and we must continue to do what we can to help them win in November."

Brown also said:

"The Nixon administration woos the working people with its press release rhetoric while working behind our backs to weaken our position at the bargaining table, where our economic gains are made."

"In light of this, it would not be desirable at this time for organized labor to give its support to any statewide candidate of the Republican Party."

"On the other hand, even though the Texas Democratic Party in the past has shown little interest in progressive change, it now appears that new leadership is blossoming within the party, particularly in the state senate."

"We then urge support of the statewide candidates of the Democratic Party by members of organized labor..."

Navy To Mothball 58 Aging Ships

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced Thursday it will mothball or scrap 58 more ships over the next 12 months, including the aircraft carrier Shangri-La, now returning from duty in Vietnamese waters.

Secretary of the Navy John H. Chafee said the cutback is part of the continuing program to pull older ships from the fleet and at the same time save money in face of a defense budget squeeze.

Today's announcement, together with the retirement of 53 other ships Aug. 7, brings to 286 the number of ships announced for retirement since April, 1969.

At that time, the Navy had more than 900 ships in the fleet. Most of the ships marked for retirement are auxiliary ves-

Prepare For Fall Festival

With clearing weather, parishoners of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church will put the finishing touches to booths and other construction Friday for the annual fall festival.

Hours for the festival between the school and church on Hearn Street are from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and Sunday.

In addition to a score of activities, there will be a beef barbecue ($1.50) Saturday evening in the school cafeteria and a Mexican dinner ($1.25) Sunday evening. Outdoor concessions will include German sausage Saturday and hot dogs Sunday with serving from 11:30 a.m. to 3 p.m., plus soft drinks and other light refreshments.

Both activities will include pony rides, spook house, pick a duck, string and pop gun, chuck-a-luck, darts, dunking machine, penny pitch, wheel of fortune, and several others.

A large turnout is anticipated, according to Lt. Col. Jim Malone, who with Maj. Philip Raiga, T. Sets. W. A. Herridge and Barry S. Gautreaux who have headed a contingent from Webb AFB to help with arrangements.

Judge Poses Pay Question

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal judge has asked the longshoremen's Union to explain why Negroes working out of a Houston local "are always making less money" when the union local is supposed to be getting 50 percent of all work.

U.S. Dist. Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville raised the question Wednesday at a trial in which the Justice Department is trying to force the white and black segregated unions in Texas to merge.

A roadblock in the proposed merger would be on setting up an equitable seniority system.

There are 1,603 men with seniority classifications in white Houston Local 1273 but there are 1,587 with the same classification in black Houston Local 872.

The big problem is comparing the number of men in each local with the unions insistence that the work is divided as nearly as possible on a 50-50 system between blacks and whites.

The unions, opposing the merger, argued that if the 1,587 Negroes with seniority classifications had all the longshore work in Houston, they would average less hours per man than the 1,063 whites with classifications if the whites had all the work. The reason is simply that there are more Negroes than whites, union attorneys said.

In its pretrial brief, the government argued that each race is suppose to receive half the work, although Negro longshoremen account for approximately 65 percent of the total number of longshoremen and white longshoremen account for about 35 percent.

Union attorney Chris Dixie told the court Wednesday Houston black longshoremen earn less than white longshoremen because the blacks do not report for work as often as the whites.

U.S. Attorney Andre Ruzicko said there was no evidence to that.

Find Bodies In Wreckage

ALEDO, Tex. (AP) — The bodies of three persons were found today in the wreckage of a twin-engine private airplane near this North Central Texas community.

Investigators said the plane apparently crashed Wednesday night during a rainstorm.

The bodies were burned and not identified at once.

Officers said the Cessna 310 plunged to earth on ranch land about five miles east-southeast of Aledo.

The wreckage was spotted by a ranch hand.

LIONS HAVE A MEAL IDEA

Evening Lions are issuing a final reminder to all sports-minded housewives.

It is simply to forget that evening meal Friday before the opening home football game, and, instead, insist on the head of the house taking the family to the traditional football barbecue.

Serving is set for 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. at the Downtown Tea Room by members of the club, who use this project to raise funds for the blind and sight conservation, crippled children and other humanitarian projects.

Bible Fund Has Another Gain

More gifts gave the Bible Class Fund a substantial boost today and pushed the total to $4,562. Among those who sent in checks in support of the effort were Bette & Womack Construction Co., $50, Mr. and Mrs. Thurlio E. Grissam, $10, and Mrs. Jarrell Floore of Fort Worth, $10. Additional gifts may be sent or brought to The Herald.

Shipping Contributions To Solon Giant Mystery

WASHINGTON (AP) — The shipping industry and its unions have helped raise a $37,000 campaign fund for the chairman of the House Merchant Marine Committee who is unopposed for re-election.

An arm of a seamen's union under indictment for illegal contributions shipped in with $30,000 of the amount for Rep. Edward A. Garmatz, D-Md.

The union's donation was channeled this summer through a special money-raising committee for Garmatz set up separately in the District of Columbia, a haven that has no local laws on reporting campaign funds.

BOOZE PARTY

The Baltimore congressman told a $50 per person cocktail party this month that he needs the campaign cash to help other political groups in his waterfront district.

Top maritime officials in the Nixon administration joined in that fund-raising affair for Garmatz.

SECRET FILE

The Associated Press disclosed last week that Garmatz also topped a secret Justice Department list of 16 congressmen and senators whose earlier campaigns got illegal contributions from two San Francisco ship lines.

Garmatz' Merchant Marine Committee steers a subsidy program that gives shipping firms $200 million a year in federal aid, mostly to pay the wages of American seamen.

Garmatz' committee handles legislation on the Maritime Commission, the Maritime Commission and the Coast Guard.

Traditionally, the biggest contributors to the annual "Maritime Reception for Garmatz" have come from the shipping industry, whose interests often buy big blocs of tickets.

NEED HELP

Garmatz' only opponent this year withdrew from the primary in July. But the congressman told the fund-raising reception:

"You commit yourselves to the printers. And you commit yourselves to the organizations in your district that need help. So that's the reason for the affair here tonight."

Garmatz' state report shows

REP. EDWARD A. GARMATZ Supported By Shippers

$16,000 spent so far, with nearly two-thirds of the amount passed out to eight individuals or political groups in his district.

MONEY LISTED

The money was listed as going for "voter registration, distribution of literature, rally and ballot printing." A maritime friend of Garmatz called it: "Keeping the machine greased."

A Garmatz aide in Baltimore said money for organizations to produce a heavy vote this year for the unopposed congressman is vital because of proposed laws to tie a TV spending limit for the next election to the 1970 turnout.

Garmatz, who has served in Congress for nearly a quarter-century, was unopposed in the general election in 1962, 1964 and 1966 as well as this year.

He won a 2-to-1 ratio in his only tight fight in the primary four years ago and swamped a Republican foe by more than 4-to-1 last time.

Public records list plump shipping contributions for Garmatz in each race.

Claims Bush Ineffective in Oil 'War'

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — Democratic senatorial candidate Lloyd Bentsen said today his opponent, Rep. George Bush, has been ineffective in his efforts to protect the Texas oil industry.

He told a luncheon meeting of campaign supporters:

"I must admit that my opponent has really gone to bat for the oil industry. But, in all candor, I think it is obvious that he struck out.

"During this Republican administration, the oil depletion allowance has been cut—despite President Nixon's campaign promises that he would help protect it. The President also appointed a special task force on oil imports. That group practically refused to listen to the oil industry's point of view and recommended a tariff plan to replace import quotas.

"It would probably have wrecked the domestic oil industry, which is so important to the Texas economy, but the Middle East conflict forced the administration to put that proposal on a back shelf for the time being.

"Mr. Nixon himself issued a proclamation raising the amount of crude oil imports by 100,000 barrels a day. He also has proposed giving away all our seabed mineral resources below a water depth of 200 meters and his administration has threatened to investigate the Texas Railroad Commission for prorating production instead of destroying the price of crude oil.

"It may be true that my opponent can get the President on the telephone but if the President listens to him, that fact is not reflected in the plight of the oil industry. In this field, at least, it seems to me that almost anyone could do more than my opponent has done for Texas."

Leaky Courthouse Pipes Are Being Replaced Now

Extensive repairs are being made to the plumbing above the third floor of the Howard County courthouse. The steel pipes whose leaks have damaged the offices of District Judge R. W. Caton, Jerry Spence, court reporter, and County Attorney Bill Eysen, are being replaced with copper pipes and tubing.

Judge Caton's and Jerry Spence's offices have been damaged twice as a result of the existing plumbing. Eysen's office was flooded by the run-off of the water from Judge Caton's office directly above. Continuous drips continued to plague the county attorney's office. Court records and notes were damaged in a hot water deluge that flooded Spence's office last week. Leaks have also sprung in the district clerk's office and in the law library.

Redding is constructing trap doors in the ceilings of the damaged offices to allow easier repairs to the plumbing in the dollars worth of damage could

Light Showers Dot This Area

Traces of rainfall were reported this morning in Big Spring and some of the surrounding towns. The Big Spring Experiment Station reported 0.4 inch of rain at a.m.

Light sprinkles left a trace of rainfall at Knott, Forsan, Coahoma and at Lake Thomas. Luther reported light showers with one heavy shower falling for a brief time this morning.

Rain in most of the areas consisted of light intermittent drizzles.

Time Running Out On Indian Claims

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Indian Claims Commission has approved claims totaling $359 million since its inception in 1946. But time is running out.

With little over half its work done, the commission is set to expire on April 10, 1972. A total of 290 claims valued at an estimated $150 million remain to be settled.

"We have a program that can see it through in an additional five years," he said. "We know what we have to do now and have a goal set for each member of our legal staff."

Congress added two more members to the former three-member commission in 1967, and Kuykendall, a former Federal Power Commission chairman, has streamlined the procedures and added new staff.

The old commission disposed of only about half its cases in more than 21 years. Kuykendall claims that with an extension the present commission can conclude as many cases in half the time.

Each case is heard by a single commissioner, such as a judge hears cases in federal courts, who reviews the evidence and drafts proposed findings. But the entire commission, meeting weekly, approves the final verdict.

to investigate them if necessary. Kuykendall says the commission plans to do this in a handful of cases where Indian tribes filed claims years ago but for various reasons, such as not being able to obtain a lawyer, have not followed through.

Actually only a few attorneys specialize in Indian claims. Most cases before the commission are handled by probably less than a dozen lawyers or firms.

The Justice Department represents the government in the claims cases, and about 19 department lawyers are assigned to Indian cases.

The commission was created to clear up a backlog of cases extending back into history. Any claims arising from injuries of land loss occurring after 1946 are filed in the Court of Claims.

FUNDS TO PAY

The decision of the commission may be appealed to the U.S. Court of Claims. Two have gone all the way to the Supreme Court. Once the claim is finally concluded and all appeals cleared up, the commission reports its determination to Congress.

Congress then must appropriate the funds to pay the judgment along with a distribution act which determines exactly who gets the money.

Some judgments are distributed per capita to tribe members while others are paid to the tribe. The Bureau of Indian Affairs works out the distribution.

POWER TO PROBE

In addition to hearing cases, the commission has the power to investigate them if necessary. Kuykendall says the commission plans to do this in a handful of cases where Indian tribes filed claims years ago but for various reasons, such as not being able to obtain a lawyer, have not followed through.

Actually only a few attorneys specialize in Indian claims. Most cases before the commission are handled by probably less than a dozen lawyers or firms.

WAR RAGES

The Seminoles, for example, think they should receive handsomely as compensation for most of Florida, which they owned prior to an 1823 treaty with the United States. A battle still rages over what they will get for it.

The Turtle Mountain Chippewa was once owned seven million acres of North Dakota and a fair price for it has been disputed for four decades and two presidential vetoes. It still remains to be resolved by the commission.

The commission, set up in 1946 for 10 years to hasten justice for the Indians, has been given three five-year extensions, and Congressmen warned that the 1967 extension would be the last.

"Everyone is frustrated by its inability to get these claims concluded," one senator expressed the exasperation of the lawmakers.

Commission Chairman Jerome K. Kuykendall says the panel has been struggling with claims based on old treaties stretching back to Indian wars 150 years ago.

GOAL SET

The commission cannot possibly conclude its pending cases in the time remaining. Kuykendall said, but one more extension would do it.

Space Station Work Hearing

HOUSTON (AP) — A federal court hearing is set for Monday on a jurisdictional labor dispute that has halted work on a simulated space station at the Manned Spacecraft Center.

U.S. Dist. Judge John V. Singleton Jr. has granted a temporary restraining order against Carpenters Local 1334 and its district council.

Service Technology Corp., an MSC contractor, let the work to the International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers, Dist. 37.

Carpenters began picketing Sept. 9, causing a work stoppage which contractors say is costing Service Technology $5,400 a day.

Check Charge

A second worthless check charge was lodged Wednesday against Don Stephens, 39, Westward Ho Motel. Stephens was in custody in lieu of a $1,000 bond on a worthless check charge filed Tuesday in County Court. Bond on the second charge was set at $500.

Probation Case

Joseph K. Caldwell, 32, 509 Galveston, was arrested Wednesday by Howard County sheriff's officers on a warrant on Gaines County. Caldwell charged in that county with violation of probation. He was released Wednesday to Gaines authorities.

Murder Trial Arguments

ANGLETON, Tex. (AP) — Final arguments were to be heard today in the Charles Harrelson murder trial.

The prosecution told the 12-man jury Wednesday it had given competent evidence that Harrelson, of Houston, killed Alan Berg, a Houston carpet executive, on May 28, 1968.

Brazoria County Assistant Dist. Atty. James Brown told the panel it had to resolve whether or not Miss Sandra Sue Attaway was Harrelson's common law wife at the time of Berg's death.

Miss Attaway testified she lured Berg to a night club rendezvous set up by Harrelson and witnessed the killing.

Also, Brown said, the jury must decide if Harrelson was some place else at the time of the murder, as two defense witnesses have said.

Defense attorney Percy Foreman introduced a horse trader who said Harrelson was selling him a horse on the night in question. Foreman has also tried to block the testimony of Miss Attaway, claiming she is Harrelson's common law wife and thus cannot testify against him.

Knock Beatles Off Pop Throne

LONDON (AP) — The eight-year reign of the Beatles as the top pop group in the judgment of British fans has ended.

Named to succeed them Wednesday in a poll by the Melody Maker, Britain's leading music newspaper, was the four-man British rock band Lead Zeppelin. The Beatles were second.

America's Bob Dylan held his position as best male singer and Canadian folk artist Joni Mitchell was adjudged the best of her sex, succeeding America's Janis Joplin, who dropped to third.

Dear Abby
DEAR ABBY: My husband's parents are vacationing in Europe, and they left the key to their apartment with us so we could water their plants.

My husband's younger brother is a professional man and the father of two children. It was rumored that he is having an affair with his young, single secretary.

Last evening when my husband and I stopped by my in-laws apartment we found this secretary, half-asleep, naked in the bedroom (My brother-in-law was not there.) We just said
"Hi" to her and left quickly.

Should we say something to my brother-in-law for using his parents' apartment for a love nest?

Should I tell my sister-in-law?
Should the in-laws be told when they return? Should anything be said? And if so, to whom?

to anybody. If you said "Hi" to the sleeping beauty, she knows you saw her and she will surely tell her Lotherio that his choice of a love nest was for the birds.

DEAR ABBY: I thought your reply to the girl whose fiance thought they should live together before getting married was very old-fashioned.

Before I marry a guy I plan to find out what he's like to live with, (I mean his disposition, habits, etc.) and living

HONOLULU (AP) — Playwright Tennessee Williams, enroute to Bangkok aboard the liner President Cleveland, says he faces critical surgery by the King of Thailand's doctor.

"He's the only man in the world who can do it," Williams said during a stopover here Wednesday. He did not disclose the nature of the surgery.

Williams, 59, a recent convert to Roman Catholicism, says he works Sunday mornings instead of going to church.

"If there is a supreme being —and I like to think there is—
I'm sure he'd rather have me workin' than mumblin'."

DUBLIN (AP) — American actor Don Stroud and pilot Lynn Garrison swam to safety after a movie stunt plane hit an electric cable and went into the Liffey River.

Both were taken to a hospital after the accident Wednesday.
Garrison was treated for head cuts.

Stroud, 26, and Garrison, 35, who was born in Los Angeles, were coming in for a landing after an aerial dogfight sequence for the movie "Von Richtofen and Browne" when a bird struck the windshield, sending their light craft out of control.

INSIDE, the 1971 Cougar looks its part as the most completely equipped specialty sports car with hi-back bucket seats and a standard console.

TOP OF THE LINE — Marquis Brougham, the Mercury flagship, has been redesigned for 1971 with more luxury than ever. New features include a "halo" vinyl roof, standard on the Marquis; an optional automatic temperature control air conditioning system; a standard high-level forced ventilation system; and two new V-8 engines. Ventless windows, flush door handles and concealed windshield wipers are among design highlights. The full line, including an improved small car in the Comet, goes on display Friday at Bob Brock Ford and Lincoln-Mercury, 500 W. 4th.

Included among Cougar's numerous engineering changes are a variable ratio power steering, steel guardrail protection and an improved air conditioning system. The convertible model now features a top linkage that offers improved appearance and more rear seat room.

The medium-priced Mercury offerings combine a fresh look with even more luxury for 1971.
The Monterey/Monterey Custom and Marquis/Marquis Brougham lines have new, "older" front ends and new over-all body design with smoother, flowing lines.

The Monterey / Monterey Custom models are upgraded to a new level of elegance, and over-all length now matches that of the upper series Marquis/Marquis Brougham.

All cars in the Mercury line have such mechanical improvements as steel guardrail protection in the side doors and flow-through ventilation. New Mercury options include air conditioning with automatic temperature control and a new rear window washer/wiper for station wagons.

RESTYLING NOTED IN 1971 LINE
Lincoln-Mercury Models
On Display Here Friday

Lincoln-Mercury puts its full parade of striking 1971 models on the line, and first formal showing will be Friday at Bob Brock Ford and Lincoln-
Mercury, 500 W. 4th.

This division is in the small car market scrap with a full line of Comets, including two — and four-door body styles and a choice of six cylinder and V-8 engines.

In addition, there is being introduced a new Mercury Cougar with the most notable changes since its introduction four years ago, and a full size Mercury line that has been completely restyled. In all, Lincoln-Mercury will offer seven different car lines.

This Comet was designed to fill the demand for a small, economical family car with a high level of styling, performance and convenience. A large selection of options is available including power steering, air conditioning, automatic transmission and a host of comfort, convenience and appearance items.

Comet models are built in two wheelbases, 103 and 110 inches, with the four-door sedan having the seven-inch advantage.

Cougar's changes are the most dramatic since the car was introduced for 1967. Its distinctively sophisticated new appearance is highlighted by a new grille with a strong Mark III flavor. Wheelbase has been increased one inch to 112 inches and tread is three inches wider in front and 2.5 inches wider in the rear.

Inside, the 1971 Cougar looks
its part as the most completely equipped specialty sports car
with hi-back bucket seats and
a standard console.

Model offerings are unchanged
— a two-door coupe and a formal four-door sedan. Both are powered by the modern, lightweight 460-c.i.d. 4V V-8, coupled with the standard Select-Shift, three-speed automatic transmission.

Now standard on the Continental Mark III are plush hi-back twin comfort lounge seats.
New options include an electrically powered rear deck lid release.
As before, the Mark III comes in one body style, the formal roof two-door coupe.
