

Sen. Dole To Address GOP Fund-Raising Fete

Sen. Robert Dole of Kansas, whom some have mentioned as a possibility for Senate party leader, will address a Republican fund-raising dinner at the Cosden Country Club Saturday. The affair will begin at 7 p.m., Paul Meek, chairman, announced.

Local party leaders said they also hoped that some of the leading Republican state candidates would be able to participate in the party.

Sen. Dole had the unusual distinction of being an out-of-stater who received the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners "Hats Off" award in June for his successful effort to remove intangible drilling and development expenses from the minimum tax feature of the 1969 tax reform act.

The senator has been one of the staunchest supporters of President Nixon, particularly on the Vietnam policy.

A native of Russell, Kan., he was twice wounded and decorated for heroic achievement during World War II. After five and one half years in service and three years in Army hospitals, he attended the University of Kansas and Washington Municipal University to earn his AB and law degrees. Suffering from a disability of his right arm, he taught himself to write with his left.

At age 26, he was elected to

a two-year term in the Kansas legislature 1951-53, then served four terms as Russell County attorney before being elected to Congress in 1960. It was during a tight race in 1964 that Richard Nixon campaigned for him in a successful bid for re-election. In 1968 Robert Dole was elevated to the Senate. In the House he had been on the agriculture committee, the panel to which he was assigned in the Senate. He was an adviser to the U.S. delegation to the United Nations Food and Agriculture Organization conference in Rome, and was on the congressional delegation to survey the food crisis in India in 1966; to study the Arab refugee problem in 1967.

Outside of politics, he has been active in other endeavors, serving as a trustee of the William Allen White Foundation; past president of his (Washburn) alumni association and the Kansas County Attorneys Association; past lieutenant governor of Kiwanis; Red Cross chapter chairman, member of state and American Bar Associations, BPOW, Masons, Shrine, Chamber of Commerce, American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Disabled American Veterans and many others.

With some Republicans disenchanted with the services of Sen. Hugh Scott, Pennsylvania, as Senate minority leader, Sen. John Tower, Senate GOP campaign chairman, is asking support for Sen. Dole.

Save Tree

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state has decided to spare a nightly pin oak tree in Northeast Kentucky although the change of road engineering plans will cost $9,000. The tree on Ky. 10 near Vancebury has a circumference of 16.2 feet and would have been in the middle of right-of-way for a new highway. Instead, one mile of the road will be redesigned to save the tree.

Action To Halt Opium Traffic

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States will issue a strong call this week for firm action to end the cultivation of opium poppies and other sources of narcotics. It will criticize—with-out naming them—other governments for failing to act.

"We have wavered and procrastinated enough in search of a solution. Now the fruits of this production have created a crisis which will not be overcome until illicit cultivation is eliminated," the U.S. delegation to the annual Interpol General Assembly says in a report on illegal drug traffic.

The delegation, headed by Asst. Secretary of the Treasury Eugene T. Rossides, leaves Sunday to attend the meeting in Brussels.

Interpol, the international criminal police organization, is an association of international enforcement agencies. Its representative in the United States is the Secret Service.

Despite the firm tone of the report, Rossides told a news conference that Mexico, France and Turkey—the major sources of narcotics smuggled into this country—are cooperating more than ever before in efforts to curb drugs.

Keep Gaelic Alive

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — A London society wants all public signs in the Scottish Highlands to be printed in Gaelic as well as English.

In a letter to all Highland authorities, the Gaelic Society of London deplored the rapid death of the Gaelic language, spoken by less than 100,000 of Scotland's five million population, mainly in the Western He-

Irving Parents Lose Round One

AUSTIN (AP) — Brushing aside protests that real estate values were being put ahead of fundamental rights, the State Board of Education refused Saturday to transfer a group of Irving pupils out of the Grand Prairie School District.

"Any school system that sends pupils farther away from home for a capricious reason is not a good administrator," said board member Paul Greenwood, Harlingen. "You are violating a fundamental right of a pupil to go to the school closest to his home."

MUST RIDE BUSES
Greenwood was one of three members voting for an appeal made by a group of parents and pupils whose homes are within the Irving city limits but have to ride buses to schools in Grand Prairie. Eight board members supported the Dallas County School Board's refusal to transfer about 103 pupils, along with 1.8 square miles of property, from the Grand Prairie district to the Irving School District.

The Dallas County School Board already had been supported in its ruling by State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar.

John F. Boyle, attorney for the Irving group, said he would have to talk with the Irving parents before deciding if a final appeal will be made to the state courts.

Boyle said the 103 Irving pupils live within walking distance of Irving schools but must ride buses seven and 14 miles to Grand Prairie because the former Shady Grove School District was annexed to the Grand Prairie District by 197-31 vote in 1968.

Texas Business Prospects Hazy

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas business appears to be getting better, but it is too soon and too uncertain to predict complete recovery from the slowdown of 1969-70, a University of Texas statistician said Saturday.

"Some of the business barometers for Texas ... show definite signs of improvement, but many uncertainties persist and the balance is still rather precarious," said Dr. John Stockton of the Bureau of Business Research.

WORRY, WORRY
Stockton said rising prices in 1970—"in spite of the slowdown in business—has been a source of worry to economists."

He said the most comprehensive measure of economic activity is individual personal income, and he noted that for the first eight months of 1970 it is 6 per cent above the same period last year. The last four months, however, registered an increase of only 3 per cent over the first four months of 1970.

Industrial production is another "sensitive" indicator of changes in the economy, Stockton said, and the average for the last four months of this year was 1.2 per cent below the average of the first four months.

RETAIL TRADE
He said new construction authorized in Texas declined 6 per cent in August, and the average value for the first eight months of this year was 3 per cent below 1969. "It appears that the only hope for the construction industry is a loosening of credit," Stockton added.

Retail trade has shown no real improvement across the country since spring, he said.

"The prospects for consumer spending are considered good by many economists, since the level of consumer income has remained high throughout 1970," he wrote. "The percentage of personal income saved is at the highest level in nearly 20 years. These accumulated savings are available for consumer spending, and businessmen are hoping that consumers will lead the way to an upturn in business activity."

The recent reduction in prime interest rates "should furnish a helpful climate for the nurturing of whatever mild upturn in business may have developed," Stockton said.

JOBLESS UP
He said unemployment in Texas was 3.9 per cent of the labor force in August, compared with 2.8 per cent a year earlier. He said the August figure was an improvement over the 4.1 per cent unemployed in July and the 4.5 per cent unemployed in June.

"A summary of all of the measurements of business for August provides a basis for cautious optimism," Stockton said. "The decline seems to be fairly well stabilized, although no indication of a strong rise appears for the immediate future."

20 CITIES
Business activity indexes for 20 Texas cities, showing percentage change from July, 1970, to August, 1970, and the first eight months of 1969 compared to the first eight months of 1970:

BRINGING FOOD TO AMMAN — A Red Cross convoy moves into the Jordanian capital of Amman, bringing food to the inhabitants of the city which was ravaged by a nine-day civil war between King Hussein's government troops and Palestinian guerrillas.

Worker Walking Picket Line Shot, Four Nabbed

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Williams, 52, Louis Leger, 48, Jull Carrier, 58, and Frank Eaglin, 58. Smith is a member of Pipefitters Local 195 which has been on strike since Sept. 30. He said a pickup truck pulled up to the gate near the picket line Friday night. He approached the truck, Smith said, thinking fellow workers might be inside. He was shot and the truck sped away, Smith told officers.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON — Investigators searched for clues after an apparent bombing damaged the ground floor of the nine-story Prince Lucian Campbell Hall on the U of O campus. There were a few people in the building at the time of the blast but no one was hurt.

Solid Chance Of Preserving Cease-Fire On Suez Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has received assurances from the leaders of Egypt's interim government that they will continue the policy of the late President Nasser in seeking negotiated settlement of the conflict with Israel. The assurances were given in talks which President Nixon's special envoy to the Nasser funeral, Secretary of Welfare Elliot Richardson had with the provisional president, Anwar Sadat, and other officials. Richardson returned here early Saturday.

Kelly Air Force Brass Sign 'Best' Union Pact

Light Rain, Fog Aid Fire Fighters

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cooling temperatures, fog and the first rain since June helped fire fighters Saturday knock down the last of the devastating brush and timber fires that have ravaged California for more than a week. Light rain fell on the dying embers of many of the fires that since Sept. 25 have charred almost a half-million acres, destroyed more than 1,000 homes, caused an estimated $175 million in damage and taken 11 lives.

General Crude Oil Co., operating from Hamlin, is testing an unreported section at No. 1 Frank B. Jones, Dawson County Devonian prospect, six miles west of Lamesa and 1 1/2 mile east and slightly north of a long south extension to the Wells (Devonian) pool. It swabbed four hours naturally, recovering 97 barrels of new oil, not water, with fluid level at 4,800 to 5,000 feet from the surface.

Robbery Trial Slated Monday

A fourth defendant in the 1969 Stanton service station murder-robbery case will begin trial Monday before 11th District Judge Ralph W. Caton in Martin County. District Attorney Wayne Burns will prosecute Steve Lewis Blanchard, 22, US 80 West, on the charge of robbery. The robbery allegedly occurred in Stanton July 10, 1969, years term for robbery and Service station attendant Marcos Tarango, 35, was reportedly shot to death during the robbery.

More Rain Falls In South Plains

By The Associated Press. Showers fell over sections of North Texas ahead of a week cold front late Saturday as more light rain fell in eastern sections of the state and offshore along the lower coast. Rain fell in the South Plains from near Bledsoe to about 50 miles west of Lubbock. Thunderstorms boomed over East Texas from near Tyler to near Lufkin while others fell from the Abilene area to Dallas. Widely scattered showers fell offshore along the Gulf Coast east of Brownsville.

1924 Riot

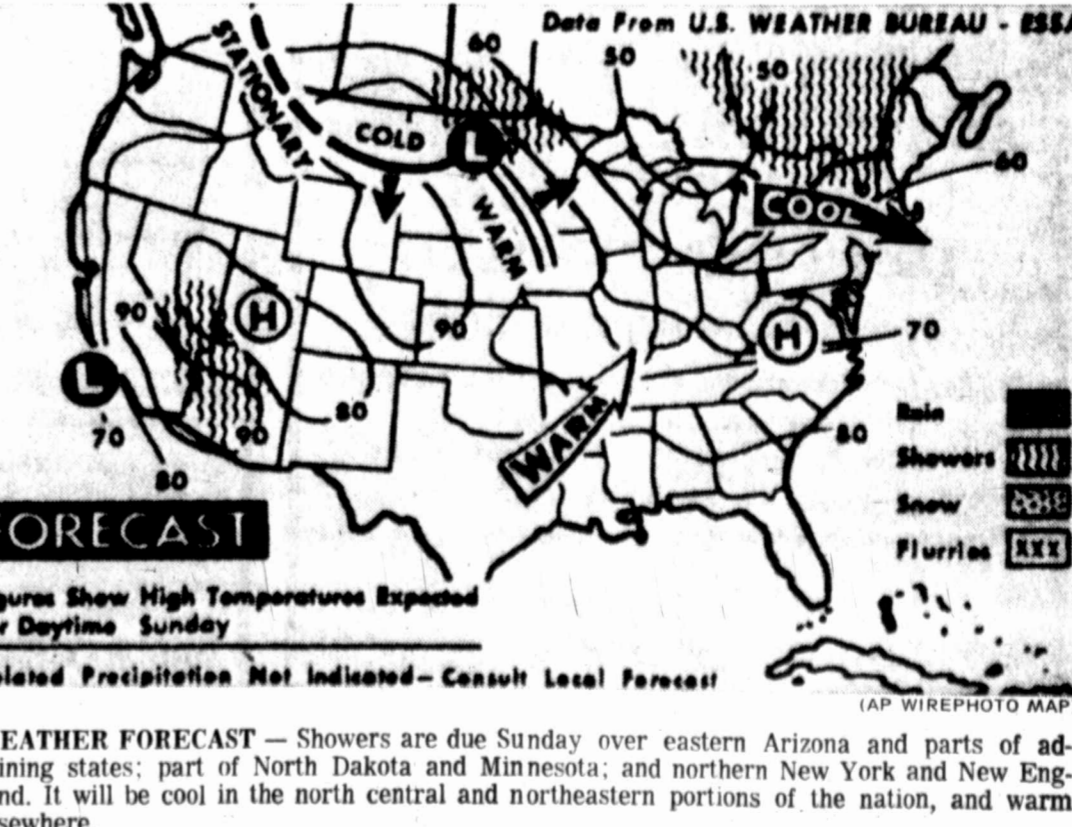

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — The 1924 session of the Rhode Island Legislature began with a riot when spectators and senators engaged in a battle which brought sheriffs and police to quell the disturbance. The trouble ended two days later when a "gas bomb" was placed in the senate chamber.

STILL MOURNING DEATH OF PRESIDENT NASSER

Thousands Tramp Streets Denouncing Israel

By The Associated Press
Thousands of Egyptians tramped through the streets of Cairo Saturday shouting slogans denouncing Israel, but they continued to mourn the death of President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Premier Alexei N. Kosygin left Cairo for Moscow after ad-monishing Egyptian leaders to stand by the U.S.-initiated peace plan for the Middle East and the 90-day cease-fire, the authoritative newspaper Al Ahram returned to mourn the death of President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Acting President Anwar Sadat, considered by many diplomats a likely member of a new collective leadership to replace Nasser, said goodbye to Kosygin at Cairo's airport.

defined in the many United Nations resolutions in the past 22 years. In Beirut, the Lebanese capital, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine asserted the last six hostages of three hijacked airliners were freed "to fulfill a PFLP promise to President Nasser" before his death Monday. When the six, all Americans, were released Thursday a front spokesman said they were freed unconditionally. But the front's newspaper, Al Hadaf, said it expected the United States and Israel to stand by a deal it insisted was made to gain their freedom.

completed within a few days when the guerrillas take up positions along the cease-fire line with Israel. A member of the five-nation Arab cease-fire commission asserted that peace had been restored in northern Jordan where fighting persisted after it died down in Amman. In Tel Aviv, Israel's defense minister, Moshe Dayan, declared in a radio interview that the 22-year-old war was "in its last phase" but added: "A distinction should be made, however, between ending the war and peace."

ELIMINATION
A joint Soviet-Egyptian communique published later in Moscow said the two countries intend to "continue pooling and coordinating efforts aimed at a settlement of the Middle East conflict." It added that the Soviet Union and Egypt "again reaffirmed the need for the earliest elimination of the consequences of Israeli aggression and establishment of a lasting peace in the Middle East for all peoples of that area."

HARD LINE
Cairo's largest demonstration was a march by thousands along Ramses Street to the mosque where Nasser was buried. The procession was noisy with slogans calling for a hard line against Israel—but orderly. Many of the marchers were school children.

Police blocked all side streets leading to Ramses Street with barriers, closing it to traffic. In another disclosure, Al Ahram reported that before Nasser's death Egypt had asked the United States to guarantee that Israel would not attack the missile sites in Egypt during the cease-fire. The paper said the United States did not reply or explain its stand.

POWER STRUGGLE
Lebanese newspapers in stories from Cairo said Nasser's heirs are discussing a Soviet-type "Troika"—or three-member leadership—to avoid a power struggle. The three probably will be selected from what the newspapers called "The post-Nasser top seven."

The Lebanese papers expressed the opinion that Nasser's successors would be sure to follow his policy on Middle East affairs. Possibly inspired by Egyptian sources, the papers said Nasser had been willing to settle for a fair deal with Israel, while prepared to fight if necessary.

They said Nasser's concepts of a fair deal were Israeli withdrawal from Arab territories occupied in the 1967 war and restoration of Palestinian rights as

PART OF TRUCE
Premier Bahi Ladgham of Tunisia, head of the three-man Arab peace committee in Jordan, said in Amman that the Jordanian army and the guerrillas had agreed to free all their prisoners. This is part of the truce agreement signed in Cairo Sunday between Hussein and guerrilla leader Yasir Arafat. Ladgham reported another part of the agreement would be

FALSE STATEMENT? Brutality Complaint Brews Fresh Trouble

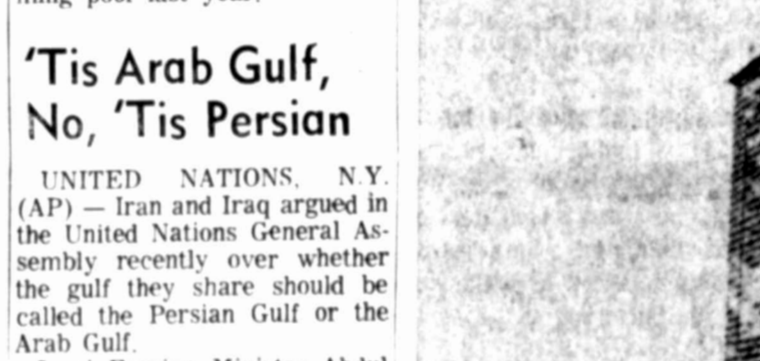

Orville Ward, 4218 Calvin, has lodged against the officers, disclosed. Ward had very little to say about the incident. "I have obtained a lawyer, and he's told me not to say anything about it. I really don't know what's going to happen next. I'm leaving it all up to Dick," said Ward. He has hired attorney Dick Milstead. "All the details are yet to be determined. I just don't have any comment or statement to make about it," was Milstead's reply when questioned on the nature of the incident. According to Hull, this is not the first time that such a charge has been made against the police. "I can't recall an incident where they have," was his reply when asked if any officers had ever been reprimanded or punished for brutality against a prisoner.

Donovan Marries Lynda Lawrence

WINDSOR, England (AP) — British folk singer Donovan and 23-year-old Lynda Lawrence, former girlfriend of Rolling Stones guitarist Brian Jones, have been married. Jones drowned last year. The 24-year-old Donovan and Miss Lawrence were wed Friday at the register's office here shortly after detectives questioned Donovan in connection with the murder of Nicola Brazier last month. Donovan said he knew nothing about it. Jones drowned in his swimming pool last year.

'Tis Arab Gulf, No, 'Tis Persian

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Iran and Iraq argued in the United Nations General Assembly recently over whether the gulf they share should be called the Persian Gulf or the Arab Gulf. Iraqi Foreign Minister Abdul Karim Al-Shaikhly called it the "Arab Gulf" during a speech and added that it "suffers from the domination of foreign monopolies." Iranian Ambassador Mehdi Vakili replied, "It is, and remains the Persian Gulf."

SAVED BY NET — A 16-year-old Bronx youth, Everett Hussey, leaps from 15th story of Bronx building, left, but is saved by protective net which police had set up while the youth remained perched on the roof for eight hours. When Hussey hit the net, police scrambled across the mesh with safety cords attached to their bodies, and subdued the youth (right).

Sack Up 68 At Zipper

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Houston police raided the Zipper Lounge early Saturday, sacking up 68 customers and charging them with remaining where lewd films were being shown. The lounge had lost a federal court try several weeks ago to stop the Alcoholic Beverage Commission from holding a hearing to lift its beer license after an ABC inspector objected to the nude movies the Zipper shows. Vice squad officers said 13 women were among those arrested. They said they made the raid after tavern operators in the area had complained that the Zipper had taken their customers with its films.

Sacrificed For Bass, Now Stolen

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bass player in the Los Angeles Philharmonic Orchestra mortgaged his home eight years ago to buy a 236-year-old string bass. Milton Nadell played his instrument in performances, took perfect care of it and often set it proudly on a stand in his living room. On Friday Nadell returned to his North Hollywood home and found the bass stolen.

Missing from the picture is Jack Vetter, who wore No. 70.

Investigators Seeking Cause Of Plane Crash

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Gov. Robert Docking of Kansas, who flew to Denver Friday night after the crash near Silver Plume, Colo., ordered flags at Wichita State University campus Saturday in the wake of a Colorado plane crash that killed 29 persons, 13 of them members of the school's football team.

Doug Lewis, director of university information, said investigators and companies in the area supplied private planes to carry relatives of the dead and injured to Colorado.

Gov. Docking said he planned to declare a day of mourning. Docking was scheduled to come here during the day.

The plane that crashed, a twin-engine Martin 404, was one of two chartered aircraft carrying the football team, athletic officials and others to Logan, Utah, for a game with Utah State Saturday. The game was canceled. The second plane arrived safely at Logan. The 23 players aboard that plane returned home by commercial airliner Saturday and were taken to a university dormitory complex. They did not speak to newsmen.

Federal investigators pounded the plane that arrived in Utah and continued to probe for the cause of the Colorado crash.

Broncos Test Chiefs In NFL Headliner

By The Associated Press

Denver's surprising Broncos put their perfect record on the line today at Mile High Stadium against the defending world champion Kansas City Chiefs in one of the most interesting pairings in the third week of the National Football League season.

Dallas, another of the seven remaining unbeaten, faces an Eastern Division challenger in the National Conference when the Cowboys invade St. Louis to tackle the Cardinals.

The powerful Los Angeles Rams, also winners of two straight, will be at home to the San Diego Chargers, and the explosive San Francisco 49ers who haven't won three in a row at start since 1952 will try for No. 3 at Atlanta.

Gary Coozzo hopes to lead the Minnesota Vikings to their third straight victory against the Green Bay Packers at Milwaukee in another Sunday game.

BIG ONE MONDAY
The Monday night national television game sends Joe Schmidt's Detroit Lions, impressive winners over Green Bay and Cincinnati, against the Chicago Bears, two-time winners, in the first real test of muscle in the Central Division of the National Conference.

Two Saturday night contests, Oakland at Miami and Pittsburgh at Cleveland, opened the 13-game weekend program, to be followed by 10 games today and one Monday night.

In today's games that do not involve the unbeaten, it will be Baltimore at Boston in a game switched to Harvard Stadium because of the Baltimore Orioles' participation in the American League baseball playoffs, the New York Jets at Buffalo and Houston at Cincinnati. Other games in which non-winners will compete are New York Giants at New Orleans and Washington at Philadelphia.

Kansas City came back with a strong effort Monday night against Baltimore but had a short week to prepare for the Broncos who have beaten them only once in 20 games in their old American Football League competition. Otis Taylor, who missed the Colt game, is due back for the Chiefs. Pete Liske and Steve Tensi, the Denver passers, are well aware that the Chiefs smeared the quarterback seven times last Monday.

Jim Hart, knocked out during the game last week, will be back at quarterback for the Cards against the Cowboys who recovered from a first half snooze to beat the Giants. With MacArthur Lane going for the Cards and Calvin Hill for the Cowboys a big individual running battle is expected.

BEHIND EARLY Buckeyes Surge To Kayo Duke

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State, stalling in the first half, opened up in the third quarter behind the exciting open field running of quarterback Rex Kern and rolled to a 34-10 victory over Duke Saturday.

Duke took the lead at the start on 38-yard goals by Dave Pugh and managed to hang on in the first half. Only a blocked punt and a 45-yard run by end Ken Lutner put Ohio State ahead at the half by scant three points.

Hart, the nation's leading passer going into the game, found Ohio State's secondary defense too much and completed only 11 of 23 pass attempts for 92 yards. Two Hart passes were intercepted, one of them on Ohio's 38 that set up a Buckeye touchdown drive.

Ohio State wrapped up its scoring in the fourth period on an 80-yard drive. The Buckeyes 11 plays, including two passes by second string quarterback Ron Maciejowski. Halfback Dick Galbos scored on a three-yard run with less than two minutes left. Duke made one last offensive gasp and drove 84 yards under the desperate lash of second string quarterback Dennis Satskyshur, who stayed on the ground except for one 20-yard pass to end Wes Chesson, one of the nation's top receivers. Fullback Steve Jones went over from the one-yard line for Duke's only touchdown.

Then Ohio State, No. 1 in the nation, asserted itself in the third period with a quick touchdown on 81-yard drive. Kern capped it with a 10-yard toss to halfback Larry Zelma.

Two more third quarter scores, one on a three-yard run by Kern after a 88-yard drive and the other one a three-yard rush by John Brockington, took all the guess work from the outcome.

Hammond Leads Ponies To Win Over Wildcats

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP) — Quarterback Chuck Hixson, suffering the worst passing game of his brilliant career, went to the ground Saturday to lead Southern Methodist to a 21-20 victory over Northwestern.

Hixson, the owner of a fistful of NCAA passing records, capitalized on the brilliant running of tailback Gary Hammond and scored a vital eight points in the third quarter to provide the Mustangs with their second victory in four games.

SMU sped to a 13-0 lead but Northwestern rallied late in the second quarter to take a 14-13 halftime lead. The Mustangs took advantage of a poor Northwestern punt in the third quarter and rolled into the lead with Hammond four successive times and Hixson carried over from the eight-yard line and then ran for two points to give SMU a 21-14 lead.

Northwestern struck back quickly and marched 66 yards for a touchdown but Bill Planisek's attempted conversion kick went wide and Northwestern went stumbling to its third straight defeat.

Hixson was held to four completions in the first half and finished the game with six completions in 20 attempts for 54 yards. Never before in his career had Hixson ever been held to less than 500 in a game.

Hammond, who scored a touchdown on a 29-yard run in the second quarter to give SMU its 13-0 lead, carried 29 times for 157 yards.

Irish Stampede Past Spartans

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Notre Dame football steamroller continued to crumch through the ranks of Big Ten teams Saturday as the Joe Theismann to Tom Gatewood passing combination and an awesome array of brilliant running backs crushed Michigan State 29-0.

The Irish, rated No. 4 in the nation, previously creamed Northwestern 35-14 and shut out Purdue 49-0.

The Fighting Irish, a three touchdown favorite going into the game, poured on the power in the first half, leading 22-0 at the intermission.

PP&K Champs Determined

The annual punt, pass and kick contest was held here yesterday and six youngsters emerged victorious and will advance to the zone competition slated for Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Midland Memorial Stadium in Midland.

Jon Workman was the winner in the 8-year old bracket; Randy Cregar won the 9-year old group; Danny Richards advanced in the 10-year olds; Ronald Nichols copped first place among the 11-year olds. Winner in the 12-year old division was Tommy Churchwell while Jody Bennet topped the entrants in the 13-year bracket.

Winners are determined by how far and accurate they can kick, pass and punt a football.

Seventy-nine youngsters competed in the Big Spring eliminations.

Huskers In Romp

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — Quarterback Jerry Tagge scored one touchdown and passed for another and directed Nebraska's powerful Cornhuskers to a 35-10 football victory over Minnesota Saturday.

TODAY AND TOMORROW

—CARROLL RICHTER

SUNDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: A beautiful day and evening for driving into what ever you do not understand and for getting the answers you need. This may be from services, the books or experts of your choice or other media. Be more direct in letting those close to you know just what you have in mind for the future.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have much vision now and can plan some new course of activity that will be worthwhile in connection with new corners. Investigate various outlets for getting ahead. Do less talking and more listening.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Your intuition will give you the answers to certain enigmas now and point out the right path to take in the future. Come to a better understanding with the one you love. Show that you are a reasonable person.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you have a more cooperative attitude, you can reach a perfect understanding with associates impossible in the past. Listen and respect their views. Take them out to dinner or show other attentions.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) You can be of service to others today, you not only can help them but can give the very best of a life plan for yourself as well. Improve your health through right treatments. Do some positive thinking.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Out for recreation that will make you forget your worries. Doing whatever will make close companions happy is wise. Avoid persons who are positively boring.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Concentrate your efforts on making those that dwell with you happier; follow the Golden Rule. Look around you and see where you can make small improvements in property.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Once you have small duties attended to get out and be with those you like. Telephone friends who need to be cheered up. Evening excellent for correspondence.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Analyze whether or not you are using your full potential in your life. Sit down with some expert for date you need. Follow advice closely.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be alert to whether you are increasing your happiness and gives you pleasure. Assist others in gaining their highest aims and they will help you in turn. Make some small changes in your appearance which perks up spirits.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) A certain amount of meditation will help you handle private situations. Get the right road of life. Go out later to places where you can enjoy your life in a quiet manner. Don't be extravagant.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Get out socially as early as you can and gain the goodwill of those who mean much to you. Some friends would gladly cooperate with you on some interesting plan you have in mind. Discuss it with them.
PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Plan your outside activities early for best results. Have a good attitude. An influential person can be of great help at this time.

MONDAY
GENERAL TENDENCIES: Until mid-afternoon you have a good opportunity to contact one in high position of executive or official authority and to grant you a favor that is vital to your welfare. The remainder of the afternoon and evening finds you very much inclined to force issues and to be reckless. Therefore be careful of accidents.
ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Visiting new places until the middle of the afternoon is fine. Later, avoid anything that could cause you to lose your temper. Handle routine work wisely after that. Retiring early is fine.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Kin give you fine ideas in the morning. Do not argue later while in travel, or postpone it altogether. Concentrate on home and family mostly. Buy appliances that are useful in the home.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Making appointments early that will mean greater progress for you is wise, but do not start any arguments at home later. Handling outside obligations wisely is also important. Do some reading tonight.
MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Being alert to whatever is going on around you is important today. Don't give in to some urge to spend more money than you can afford. Show greater cooperation where some dispute is concerned. Be careful in travel.
LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning is a good time to get that new plan working with a dynamic person you like, but take care later not to argue with a fellow worker. Show economy where pressure is concerned. Use care in motion.
VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Instead of running here and there for advice and information you need, listen to what associates and kin have to suggest. Give thought to the important things in life. Put recreation aside for the time being.
LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Instead of worrying about something you can do little about, get busy making appointments and handling business affairs efficiently. State your view to others in a direct, positive manner. Avoid arguments.

State Fair Of Texas Opening Next Saturday

DALLAS (AP)—Workers were laboring over the weekend to prepare the State Fair of Texas for its opening next Saturday. Record attendance was 3,014,114 in 1968. Visitor totals fell to 2,992,853 last year when the fair was plagued with rain. The fair gets off to its largest single three-hour attraction of the fall Saturday when the Cotton Bowl will be filled with 72,000 persons for the annual Oklahoma-Texas football classic. The Broadway play, "1776," will have an Oct. 9-24 run in the State Fair Music Hall with the New York cast. Al Hirt, the New Orleans trumpeter, will perform in the Cotton Bowl Oct. 13. On Oct. 12, Hollywood composer Bert Bacharach will receive the 1970 Texas Music Festival Award at the fair. The North Texas State University Lab Band and 5,000 high school musicians will perform during the ceremony.

Patients Not Just Bed Charts At VA Hospital

"We're doing our best to make the patients feel that they are recognized as an individual and not just a bed chart," said Leon Miller, director of volunteer services, as he explained the work of the newly-organized "Three R's" Committee at the Veterans Administration Hospital. The three r's stand for recreation, rehabilitation, and religion, and volunteer representatives of each of the three services mentioned comprise the committee. Faye Wells, supervisor of the nursing home care unit, is chairman of the committee. Each patient's record is studied by the committee and they try to tailor their services to meet the patient's needs. Emphasis is placed on meeting the need of the nursing home care unit patients who are long-term patients. According to Miller, such things as the patient's homelife are considered in tailoring a program. An example of the committee's work is the story of one man, a patient at the hospital since 1958. The man could recall participating in his hometown church and Sunday school. Through the efforts of Chaplain A. C. Hicks and his volunteer workers, the man's church was contacted. He now receives tape recordings of sermons and lessons and the newspaper from his home town. Directors of the hospital's three r's services are part of the committee. They are Dr. H. C. Ernsting, chief of staff who presides over the meetings with Miss Wells; Julian Patterson, chief of social work service; Chaplain Hicks; Mrs. Beatrice Zinn, coordinator of physical and medical rehabilitation; and Russell Hoover, chief of recreation.

When "Mother" Becomes A Grandmother

IT'S TIME TO POSE FOR PORTRAITS!

There's nothing like a first grandchild to change a woman's beauty. The precious, once-in-a-lifetime experience seems to soften the features, while the happy wonder of it all brightens the twinkle in her eye, the lilt of her step.

It is a time like no other, and must be captured in a fine professional portrait. Photographic proof of the unique gladness reserved for new grandmothers alone.

If you're about to join the exclusive group, make arrangements now to pose for the portrait!

IT'S LATER THAN YOU THINK!

CARNIVAL OF FASHION

By JO BRIGHT

"Ladieees and gentlemen — kindly direct your attention to the midway, where right before your eyes — the most beeeautiful girls in the world will appear for the first time in stupendous fashions that will dazzle your eyes!"

"Carnival of Fashion" lived up to its previews and gave the customers their money's worth Thursday as Swartz presented its annual fall fashion show — under that banner — in the Officer's Open Mess at Webb Air Force Base. The Student Squadron wives were the host group, and those in attendance were members of the Officers' Wives Club and their guests.

High under the Big Top, forming a canopy over the dining tables and runway were red and white crepe paper spirals extended from a cluster of colorful balloons, and gazing innocently from the stage (in all their stuffed furriness) were fearsome beasts such as lions and tigers and bears. Only a little imagination provided callopie piping in the organ music of Clyde Green.

General chairman for the roadshow attraction was Mrs. Robert Hurst, and decorations committee members were Mrs. William Lund, Mrs. Thomas Brandon, Mrs. John Bray, Mrs. Robert Vining, Mrs. Marlin Schaefer, Mrs. John Millhollen, Mrs. John Beer and Mrs. James Jacobs. Other chairmen were Mrs. Owen Wormser, menu; Mrs. Frank Borner, prizes; and Mrs. Brandon, posters and programs.

Mrs. Billy Walker, dressed in red, was a pretty sideshow barker, providing commentary as 12 models appeared on the runway and posed on Mrs. Harry J. Hopper, Mrs. Dennis Hagemeier, brightly-colored barrels.

Models were Mrs. Lund, Mrs. David Mott, Mrs. Nolan C. Voight, Mrs. A. W. Atkinson, Mrs. R. K. Taylor, Mrs. Shelby Watkins, Mrs. Richard Graham, Mrs. Hurst, Mrs. Schaefer and Mrs. Brandon. Each appeared in daytime fashions, evening attire and furs.

Playing a fashion industry version of the old carnival shell game, Mrs. Walker introduced the main attraction by drawing audience attention to the question, "How long is long?" The tricky answer, of course was found in the eye of the beholder. The "shells" she shuffled were the style of clothes you wear, your own proportions and your sense of adventure. When the lights went on in the center ring, carnival-goers saw lengths that varied from mid-knee to below-the-knee to mid-calf, according to the hour and occasion. Formal lengths were reserved for romantic midnight hours, and the drama of the gowns was heightened with luxurious furs in a new mood under an old moon.

The conscience of the conservationist was caught by Phyllis Mott who kept a jungle cat alive and well by wearing a wide-collared fake fur coat, trimmed with brown leather, over a warm brown wool dress, V-necked and skirt-flared. Circling her neck was a bit of leather — a new version of an old favorite — the dog collar. Later, Phyllis adopted the costume look for evening wear in chocolate brown panne velvet that allowed a little leg and a lot of arm to get out in the night air. Gold brocade trim added to the gypsy look.

Karen Lund joined the swing to suede by showing a hooded coat and dress costume, the coat tied with a soft leather sash and lined with lambs' wool. The dress, styled with elongated bodice and flaring skirt, featured welt stitching. Karen's second appearance portrayed the mood of young-moderns, combining a black velvet midi vest with snarling white cuffed tunic and gray wool wide-legged slacks.

Alice Hagemeier went to great lengths in a glen plaid skirt, buttons stopping well above the knee to give walking room, and topped with a brief jacket to show an expanse of wide leather belt. Lace-toe boots and a rider-brim hat put the outfit together to perfection. For an evening on the town — the bigger the better — Alice showed flowing silk chiffon in a timeless gown, its bodice sparkled with sequins and marked with a fringed satin bow.

Stadium checks in red, white and black were eye-catching in a dramatic fashion modeled by Diane Graham in a shaped dress, voked and banded in plaid to match a seven-eighths-length plaid coat bordered in black dyed fox and fringed for the fun of it. In a different mood, Diane confirmed that black is back, and beautiful, in feminine chiffon with a swirling skirt sprinkled with high colored sequins to catch the night light. Throwing more light on the subject were rows of tiny beads at the waistline and wrists.

Capable of going their separate ways were the gray wool slacks and cape (silver-zippered all the way) worn by Gail Brandon. The white turtleneck sweater was circled with a silver chain belt, and the boots were white crush leather, showing another of her many selves, Gail appeared in delicate chiffon, draped and beaded, added beauty in the plunging neckline and flowing skirt.

Clicking her high heeled boots to a Spanish tune, Geri Hopper showed the gringos a gaucho that was all glamour in crinkled black leather matador pants and bolero jacket teamed with a ribby black pullover. The topper? What else but a brimmed charro hat? Never predictable, Geri changed her mood for a later appearance by modeling a black velvet overdress which opened to reveal white crepe rayon pants. The extra glow was from a rhinestone belt embracing her waist.

Shelby Watkins preferred black, too, in the pants and midi coat ensemble which was relieved of its starkness by bright ball buttons and loop closures. The third part of the triangle was a white crepe blouse banded in black and cinched with a gold and silver chain belt. For starlit nights, Shelby made sure she was unforgettable by wearing clouds of chiffon in a white shimmering gown that said it softly with a bodice of tiny pleats — and a bare back. Frosting formed shoulder straps that criss-crossed the Empire waistline.

Susie Atkinson drew applause as she appeared on the runway attired in an ice blue wool ensemble of straight-legged pants, turtle-necked shell and swinging swag coat. Later the charm of sheer paisley print in shades of orange and turquoise formed the full skirt of an elegant gown worn by Susie. The creation was styled with fitted peach underskirt and gold brocade trimming at the neck, waist and hemline.

Mauve, a soft and gentle color, made a shy violet of Jan Shaeffer who nevertheless took the spotlight from bolder types when she wore a wide-laped jacket of shiny French fabric, wrapped and tied, and accented with patch pockets. The same color tone was used for wool knit slacks which were slightly flared, with three buttons at the cuff. The finishing touch was a paisley scarf in hot pink, purple and green. The look of holiday evenings was "something special" as Jan showed an elegant long gown in rose patterned brocade on shimmering gold metallic background. Slivers of gold braid outlined the Empire waist, neckline and cuffs, forming a background for layers of beads.

Barbara Taylor took off with a first class ticket when she stepped on the runway in a three-piece pantsuit in black wool. The tank top was teamed with a turtle-neck sweater with skinny sleeves for a get-up on the go. Barbara's made-for-evening fashion was in heavenly hot pink; folds of chiffon that dropped from the shoulders and was caught at the waist, only to continue into front and back panels that drifted over a sheath of gold sequins.

Jean Hurst was ready for a little traveling music when she donned a gray wool jumper and lighter-toned blouse that made the "long look" very clear. Reptile made a slithering belt, and the chain necklace was antiqued silver. At the end of the road was a delightful evening, and Jean made it more memorable for him — and her — by wearing a billowy brown crepe gown, printed in pink and green, and remembered for its handkerchief hemline.

Taupe wool in a double-breasted princess line costume was modeled by lovely Sherry Voight, who pointed out the surprise pleats in the sleeveless dress which featured a high-rise waist belted with a careless cobra. That was for the day's doings, but when the clock struck eight, that called for "something else." Sherry answered the call for an intimate dinner wearing a hostess costume in shades of petal pink; glints of silver metallic brocade flashing with every step.

Fashionable and fabulous furs completed the show and proved that furriers are keeping pace with designer trends by creating jackets, coats and stoles in high style designs to add the elegant touch to 1970 fashions. The look was new — and the furs were broadtail lamb, honey squirrel, chinchilla, Russian sable and marvelous mink.

Mrs. Owen Wormser, OWC president, extended the welcome, and escorts for the models were Lt. Jerry James and Lt. Bob Bury. Shoes and boots were from Barnes-Pelletier.

ENGAGED — Mr. and Mrs. Eusebio V. Paredez, 709 N. Gregg, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Eloisa, to Sgt. Gilbert Negrete, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carlos Negrete of Laredo. The wedding is scheduled Nov. 7 in St. Thomas Catholic Church with Rev. Leo St. John officiating.

Couple To Mark Date Of Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Gold Shortes, 815 W. 6th, will mark their 50th wedding anniversary today at a dinner in Lamesa at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cornett. The couple has one son, Henry H. Shortes who resides with his family at North Pole, Alaska. There are two grandchildren and five great-grandchildren. Friends and relatives will call during the afternoon.

Mrs. Shortes, the former Pearl Cook, was born in Ada, Okla., when it was Indian Territory. Shortes was born in Wise County, Texas. The couple met in 1918 when their families lived on neighboring farms near Ryan, and Mrs. Shortes remembers that her husband's family was one of the few in the community who owned an automobile at that time. They were married Oct. 4, 1920, by a Methodist minister at Ryan where they lived until 1923. At that time, they moved to Knott where they farmed until 1938 when they moved to Big Spring. After that, Shortes operated a service station and worked as a car salesman.

Mrs. Shortes, who is a member of Westside Baptist Church, went to work for Medical Arts Hospital April 1, 1949, and has been employed there as manager of the kitchen since that time.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING Terrariums Provide Indoor Gardening Fun

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
County HD Agent

Dwight S. Hall, area landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, has provided these tips in growing an indoor garden. Fun for youngsters and older alike, terrariums offer a nice leisure time activity.

Terrariums are miniature gardens enclosed in glass. These gardens in glass jars, bottles, etc., are easy and fun to establish as well as easy to care for if they are properly made and properly located for light.

1. Choosing the container. Choose attractive glass containers for your terrarium. It is best that the mouth or opening of the containers be large so as to allow easy placement of plants within the jar. Example of popular terrarium containers include large mouth jars, large stemmed glasses, and old fish aquariums. Remember in making your selection that the top must be closed with a transparent cover on top; yet, opened from time to time to water and maintain the plants inside.

2. Because the glass container does not have an opening for excess drainage of moisture, at least one inch of a pea-sized gravel or broken pottery should be placed in the bottom of your container to insure drainage.

3. Cover the gravel with 3 to 4 inches of good organic garden or potting soil. The soil should be organic so as to insure drainage and good plant growth. You may wish to have the soil slope or to form miniature mountains or hills with the soil.

4. Well selected plants then are placed into the prepared soil. Gently firm the plants into place at their normal growing depths. Remember your plant selection must be a plant or plants which require a cool, moist, shaded condition and one which will not grow too fast or too large. Examples of good terrarium plants include: partridge berry, maiden hair, fern, creeping fig vine, English ivy, peperomia, wandering Jew, pothos, begonia, and others.

5. Small wood or glass figures or rocks may be placed in the container with the plants so as to carry out a theme or to create interest or beauty.

6. The top or opening of the terrarium must be covered with an air-tight, transparent cover so as to maintain humidity or moisture and to prevent drying out. The top must not be so secure that it cannot be removed from time to time to water.

The terrarium will require small amounts of water; however, it should be watered immediately after planting with a fine mist to clean the insides of the glass container and help the plants become established. If the inside of the terrarium becomes foggy with moisture, remove the top and allow the excess moisture to escape.

7. All plants must have light, but the terrarium must never be placed in direct sunlight; but, instead, in a shaded window or in indirect sun. Remember the plants you choose for the terrarium are shade loving and will not tolerate sun.

8. Do not over fertilize the terrarium. Because growing room is limited, you will want the plants to remain dwarfs. However, the plants may need feeding from time to time so as to retain a healthy appearance. If a feeding is needed, use a liquid house plant fertilizer when you water the terrarium when they resume their healthy appearance.

Evaporation Rates Differ In Plants

The general rule for watering house plants is to do so when the topsoil feels dry to the touch. Use water of room temperature, and enough so that each plant is thoroughly wet from top to bottom. Do not water again until the topsoil is dry. You will learn from experience that thorny, hairy, or waxy-leaved plants need less water than smooth, thin-leaved specimens. Plants growing in glazed or plastic containers will not need water as often as those in clay pots. The clay is porous, therefore water evaporates more quickly.

Bridge Winners Are Announced

Six tables of bridge were in play at Big Spring Country Club Friday. The following Friday, the club championship games will be played.

Winners this week were Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. Jack Irons, first; Mrs. J. H. Parks and Mrs. Myrtle Lee, second; Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. A. Swartz, third; Mrs. Don Newsom and Mrs. Hayes Stripling, fourth; Mrs. E. L. Powell and Mrs. Hudson Landers, fifth.

Problems Of Youth Explained

Chaplain Lee Butler, Big Spring State Hospital, was guest speaker at the Christian Women's Fellowship supper Thursday at the First Christian Church.

Speaking on "The Christian's Response To Change," Chaplain Butler said, "Christian teachings have remained unchanged in a changing world. There are two types of Christianity, subjective, which is accepting Christianity within yourself, and objective, which is the studying of facts and the individual must answer why he believes in Christ; it is a subjective experience."

Chaplain Butler used the words in explaining the problems youth faces in accepting Christianity subjectively in a changing world.

Mrs. Alan Kernode conducted the worship, and Mrs. W. F. Martin was in charge of the program. Mrs. Diane Bryan was a guest.

The next meeting will be a potluck supper, Nov. 5 in the fellowship hall. The church bazaar will be Nov. 7 featuring a "country kitchen" corner, a children's corner and a handicraft booth. A family supper also will be served.

Minneapolis Convention Scheduled By NCCW

An evaluation of the roles and rights of women in changing structures in the church and society will be the focus of the 50th anniversary convention of the National Council of Catholic Women (NCCW) October 12-16 in Minneapolis, Minn.
More than 3,000 women representatives of some 11,000 organizations, are expected to participate in consideration of:
1. The status of women's participation in the liturgy of the Church.
2. Direct participation in the nationwide federation's decision-making process by Catholic local and parish organizations of men and women, as well as women's groups and individual women.
3. The relationship of Catholic women and organizations of women to revised institutional structures of the Church in the United States.
4. A proposal for creation of a working coalition of the NCCW and the National Council of Catholic Men (NCCM).
The agenda of the biennial convention will conclude with installation of newly-elected NCCW national officers at the convention's closing 12 noon mass, Oct. 16. Principal celebrant of this mass will be Archbishop Francis J. Furey, Archbishop of San Antonio. The homily will be a Dialogue Homily with Mrs. Joseph

San Angelo will be Bishop Leven; Rev. Robert Kelly, Menard, moderator of the DCCW, San Angelo Diocese; Mrs. James Strother, Abilene, retiring president of the San Angelo DCCW. Mrs. Strother is a member of the resolutions committee, assisting in the community affairs workshop and the president-elect of the San Angelo DCCW.

WE HAVE OUR OWN TOP FIFTY

Although we have literally thousands of different drug products available and prescribed for, there are only approximately fifty that account for over one-third of all prescriptions. Another one hundred and fifty account for another third.

In our prescription department we keep these fast-moving medicines in more than ample supply and in a place where they can be quickly reached. This saves a great deal of time in filling your prescriptions. When a new drug is introduced it goes first to our "new drug" section until it has been determined that it should be or should not be in the fast moving section.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.

Installation Ceremony Held By Rainbows

The Order of the Rainbow for Girls, Assembly 60, held its officer installation service Saturday evening in the Masonic Temple, 221 1/2 Main. Sharon Andrews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Andrews Sr., was installed as worthy advisor, dedicating her term to Elizabeth Alsbury, her Rainbow "Big Sister."

The theme for Miss Andrews' term is "Time," and her scripture is Ecclesiastes 3:1. "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose under heaven." The hour glass is her emblem, three of which were placed at various stations, and an Aztec calendar circled with ivy was placed in front of the speaker's podium. Her flowers were blue and white carnations, and each officer carried a long-stemmed carnation with green satin streamers. Installing officers and the new worthy advisor's family members wore corsages and boutonniers of the same flowers.

Guests were registered by Leslie Murphy at a table adjacent with a worthy advisor figurine. DeMolays served as ushers.

Following the invocation by Dr. S. C. Guthrie, First Presbyterian Church, the installing WESTBROOK (SC) — New officers were elected by Westbrook 4-H Club members. Serving as president is Sandy Anderson with Randy Anderson, district president; Joyce McKenney, secretary; Teresa Silvera, treasurer; and Tim Oden, council delegate. Linda Ranne is song leader; Kim Sullivan, reporter; Tommy Whitesides and Connie Christen in charge of recreation. Two new members, Judy Chambers and Christy Christen, were welcomed.

Bill Hutchins visited in Lamesa this week. Mrs. A. C. Moody was discharged from Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City and accompanied her daughter, Mrs. N. L. Fuson, to Big Lake.

SHARON ANDREWS

Officers were introduced by Mrs. W. C. Fryar, mother advisor. The presiding installing officer was Vicki Annen, assisted by Ayn McGlothlin, marshal; Esther Dennis, chaplain; Anne Medley, recorder; and Peggy Grant, musician.

LEADERS
Installed with Miss Andrews were Gayle Webb, worthy associate advisor; Cindy Williams, Charity; Mary Alice Terrazas, Hope; Susan Smith, Faith; Lucretia Drake, recorder; Phyllis Jones, treasurer; Pam Wheeler, chaplain; Cindy Stanley, drill leader; Pat Bibb, love; Debbie Wheeler, religion; Ruth Payne, nature; Jennie Kohanek, immortality; Teresa Huckabee, fidelity; Mary Webb, patriotism; Amy Holloway, service; Paula Jones, confidence; Phyllis Johnson, outer observer; Carrie Wheeler, musician; Linda Padgett, choir director.

Serving on the paraphernalia committee are Susan Smith, Pam Wheeler, Debbie Hughes, Dory Crooker, Tina Teague, Dwanna Mason, Jodi Grant and La Nette Coffee. On the communication committee are Mary Alice Terrazas, Cindy Williams, Gayle Webb, Susan Smith, Linda Padgett, Sandra Dickenson, Zina Johnston and LaNell Knowles. Hospitality committee members are Vicki Annen, Esther Dennis, Peggy Grant, Lucretia Drake, Susan Beard and Ayn McGlothlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Smith presented their daughter, Susan, with the Rainbow Bible, and Mrs. and Mrs. Simon Terrazas presented their daughter, Mary Alice, with the Rainbow gavel.

SPEAKER
Mrs. Smith was the guest speaker, basing her talk on the worthy advisor's theme and using her scripture as the text. Ralph Dowden and Miss Andrews sang "Turn, Turn, Turn" accompanied by Billy Wilson.

A high point of the ceremonies was the presentation of the "outstanding member" award to Linda Padgett.

After a benediction by Dr. Guthrie, a reception was held in the dining hall where the table was laid with a blue lace cloth and appointed with silver and crystal. The centerpiece was blue carnations and an hour glass. The cake was decorated with the worthy advisor's jewel circled by the symbolic dove, anchor, money bag and crossed gavels. Those who served were Mrs. Carlson Hamilton, Mrs. F. C. Tibbs, Mrs. C. E. Gressett and Dick Mitchell.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Bray, Amarillo, grandparents of Miss Andrews; B. L. Bray, Tustin, Calif.; and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Andrews, Irving.

According to custom, the Rainbow Girls will attend church today with the worthy advisor who is a member of the First Presbyterian Church. The church will give a luncheon immediately after services.

Plate Pushers
Plan Park Picnic

Miss Polly McCracken was the weekly winner at the TOPS Plate Pusher meeting Thursday at the Salvation Army Activity Room. Mrs. K. C. Webb presided, introducing a new member, Mrs. Jim Ledesma. A salad supper was planned for next Thursday's meeting. Members will meet at 6 p.m. at the Activity Room, then go to Comanche Trail Park for the supper. In case of rain, they will meet in the home of Mrs. Earl Glazier, 2403 Carlton.

XYZ Club Has Event Thursday

Thursday night's meeting of the XYZ Club, organized to provide recreation and fellowship for elderly people, attracted 21 persons.

The meetings are now held the first and third Thursdays of each month in the basement of the Wesley United Methodist Church. The club formerly met in the Pairs and Stares class room of the church but has grown to the extent that larger quarters had to be provided.

The XYZ stands for "extra years of zest" and its membership rolls are open to anyone 60 years of age and older. Membership fees are only $1 annually. Mrs. Pauline Garrison is treasurer.

A covered dish supper was served, after which games of 42 and bridge were played.

To Clean Teapot

For a consistently good, bracing brew of tea, keep the teapot clean by rinsing it out weekly with a teaspoon of baking soda plus boiling water.

Consumer Authority To Speak At Midland

The associate director for the Office of Consumer Education for the President's Committee on Consumer Interests will speak in Midland at the Ranchland Hills Country Club at 10 a.m. Oct. 24.

She is Miss Doris A. Sasser, who serves on the staff of Mrs. Virginia Knauer, special assistant to the President for Consumer Affairs. Each serves in the Executive Office of the President in Washington.

Miss Sasser's speech will highlight the fall meeting of the Region 12 Texas Home Economics Association, an affiliate of the American Home Economics Association. Mrs. Marilyn Baker, Region 12 chairman, emphasized, however, that everyone interested in consumer education is encouraged to attend.

Miss Sasser, who was appointed to her present position in 1969, was on the staff at Garland Junior College in Boston, where she taught consumer economics and served as department chairman. She received a BS degree from Drexel University in Philadelphia and has done graduate work at Harvard-Radcliffe in Business Administration.

Her speech, entitled "Consumer Economics and Contemporary Society," will be centered around three general phases. She will discuss suggested guidelines for consumer education from kindergarten through the 12 grades, the effect of current consumer laws, and proposed consumer laws now pending legislation.

"There are some very exciting new consumer laws under consideration," Miss Sasser commented. Mrs. Baker added, "Since consumer economics affects directly every individual, we anticipate representatives from various branches of business, civic leaders, home economists in all phases of home economics, teachers in many fields and others throughout the West Texas area."

Miss Sasser's speech will be followed by a noon luncheon and an informal session which will provide those in attendance an opportunity to visit with Miss Sasser and view displays. Further information may be obtained by contacting Miss Linda Abbott, Home Service Advisor, Pioneer Natural Gas Co., P.O. Box 1111, Midland, Tex. 79701, or Miss Baker at Midland High School, 810 W. Illinois St., Midland, Tex. 79701, 79701.

MRS. RICHARD NORMAN MARTEL (Curley's Studio)

Mary L. Bradshaw Weds R. N. Martel

Marriage vows were spoken by Miss Mary Lucille Bradshaw and S. Sgt. Richard Norman Martel Saturday evening at the First Baptist Church in Stanton. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Troy C. Bradshaw, Stanton, and S. Sgt. Martel of Webb Air Force Base is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Martel, Saco, Maine. The Rev. Kenneth Smith, Abilene, performed the ceremony before a white arch entwined with boxwood vines and flanked by seven-branch candelabras. Arrangements of snowmoss, gladioli and emerald green carnations backed the candelabras.

As the couple knelt Lee Bellah, Abilene, brother-in-law of the bride sang "Whither Thou Goest," "More" and "The Wedding Prayer." Miss Polly Creech, Stanton, played organ accompaniment.

EMPIRE GOWN
The bride was attired in an Empire gown of organza over peau de sole with Bishop sleeves and stand-up collar. The train and front of the gown were detailed with re-embroidered lace roses. Her finger-tip veil of illusion was held by a cluster of chignon roses with pearl centers. She carried a cascade of white carnations entwined with English ivy and centered with cymbidium orchids.

Miss Dianna Mims, Lubbock, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Cheryl Bradshaw, sister of the bride, and Miss LaWanda Glaspie, Lubbock. The attendants were attired in Empire gowns of avocado linen and marked at the waist by lime, yellow and avocado re-embroidered lace. They carried lime green carnations with matching streamers. Tracy Chandler, Stanton, was the flower girl.

Sgt. Joseph Weakland, Big Spring, served as best man. Groomsmen were Raymond Martel, Littleton N. H. brother of the bridegroom and S. Sgt. Ronnie Witt Big Spring. Ushers were Darrell Bradshaw brother of the bride and Johnny Gilbreath Lewisville. Richard Merritt Big Spring was the ring bearer.

RECEPTION
Following the ceremony the reception was held in the fellowship hall. The tiered bridal cake was accented with pastel lime and avocado roses and topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. The table was covered in white with net overlay and centered with two avocado candles in silver holders.

Mrs. Lee Bellah, Abilene, twin sister of the bride, registered the guests. Members of the house party were Mrs. Rene Bedard, Saco, Maine, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. David Jackson, Princeton; Mrs. Joe Weakland, Big Spring; and Mrs. R. S. Lewis, Stanton.

The bride wore a cranberry low waisted dress with pleated skirt and orchid corsage for the wedding trip. They will make their home at 1510 Mesa.

The bride is a graduate of Stanton High School, attended Odessa College and graduated from Childress Beauty School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Horton Academy, Saco, and now serving with the Air Force.

GUESTS
Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilbreath and Craig, Lewisville; Mrs. Gus Franklin, Honey Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Merritt and

Bible Studied By Lutheran Women

"What Does The Bible Say" by Oswald Riess was referred to in a Bible study given by Mrs. A. A. Graumann at Thursday's meeting of the Lutheran Women Parish Workers of St. Paul Lutheran Church. Mrs. John Foster, 503 Scurry, was the hostess. In the Bible study Mrs. Graumann noted that the Bible begins speaking of God as existing, "In the beginning God..."

Mrs. Alton Marwitz presided at the business session. Christmas gifts will be contributed to Big Spring State Hospital patients. A memorial contribution was given to the church in memory of Elmer Lyster. It was announced that the Rev. Jerry Otte, Fort Worth, will be guest speaker at the Lutheran Women's Missionary League and Lutheran Layman's League Permian Basin Zone meeting next Sunday at Grace Lutheran Church in Midland.

The women plan to offer baby-sitting services and serve coffee for the adult instruction class beginning from 3 to 5 p.m. today. The next meeting will be Nov. 5 in the home of Mrs. William Davis, 1003 Wood.

The clothes were oh, so new, but the music played to show them by was nice and mellow, not so much by age but by the durable quality of the composition, when models displayed what's new in women's clothing for the OWC Officers Wives and their guests Thursday.

CLYDE GREEN who says he dates himself by the selections he plays on the organ, picked out some favorites for the girls to show their costumes. Such really good numbers as "Yellow Bird," "Blue Spanish Eyes," "Cherry Blossom Pink," "Misty," "Star Dust," "Twilight," "Satin Doll," "Some Day My Love," and for the finale, "A Pretty Girl is Like a Melody." Even if you were showing a strait jacket it would seem attractive if the background music was this favorite Berlin number. As startling as it would have been to the room filled with people there were times when I felt I couldn't overcome the impulse to sing along, right out loud.

Visiting across the luncheon table with MRS. J. R. FARMER about the whereabouts of her son, Jimmy, she told me she had sent him his piano during the week, all 650 pounds of it. Jimmy lives in Houston now and hasn't played much in 10 years but he played a lot when he was growing up here. I'll take him a while to get his fingers back as supple as they once were but I'd bet he gets in shape in a hurry.

How happy MRS. MARVIN MILLER must be to have daughter, Rachel, back in the states again. After three years in England, CAPT. and MRS. JAMES WILSON and their four children, will make their future home at Bergstrom AFB, near Austin.

MAJ. JERRY GRIMES and his family will be moving soon to Mountain Home, Idaho, after being stationed at Webb AFB for several years. Mrs. Grimes and the children are staying with her parents, DR. and MRS. CLYDE THOMAS, until all their household equipment get moved to Idaho.

If I get a chance, I want to vote for some other type of garbage containers other than the ones we now have. I like the idea of the large one to serve several houses. I feel that I have lost the battle with the garbage cans and the collectors. All of our metal cans have triangular tops with round lids and the supposedly indestructible plastic one has a firm rim but the sides are quite hopelessly split. There must be a better way!

This will be a fun week for MR. and MRS. JIMMY JENNINGS and their good friends, MR. and MRS. M. C. GRIGSBY, who will leave today from Dallas for the land of the leprechauns. The four joined a group for a chartered trip to Dublin, Ireland. They will fly to Chicago and then directly to Dublin, which will be their base from where they will tour the southern part of Ireland. They plan to be back in Dallas on Oct. 11.

MRS. H. R. PICKLE and MRS. LEWIS RIX are here from Lubbock visiting relatives. Mrs. Pickle is with MRS. CHESTER MATHENY and MRS. RIX is with MRS. HELEN MILLER. They will return to Lubbock this afternoon.

Houseguests of DR. and MRS. W. C. CASHION are LT. CMDR. and MRS. LARRY ADAMS who are presently stationed at Camp LeJeune, N.C. Lt. Cmdr. Adams is serving in the US Navy as a radiologist.

When the J. E. HOGANS were in the Orient recently they had a visit with MR. and MRS. DARRELL MOCK who lived here when he was minister of music and education at the First Baptist Church 17 years ago. He is presently serving in the same capacity in a Toyko Baptist church.

The Big Spring doctor and his wife were with a group of medical people who flew to Anchorage, Alaska, then to Toyko where they spent some time and enjoyed visiting a number of people who were acquainted with some stateside folks they knew. They are still amazed at the smooth efficiency of The Bullet railroad, and the great number of people who live in Japan. They also took a tour of Hong Kong.

Since their return Mrs. Hogan has had a flying trip to Ann Arbor, Mich., to visit the PAT LARKEYS and the two grandchildren, Jana and Hank Brigham.

MRS. TRAVIS REED has returned from Ruidoso, N. M., where she spent several days with her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. SONNY EDWARDS.

MR. and MRS. RUSSELL HICKS of Midland were here Thursday to visit her parents, M.R. and MRS. JAMES WHEAT.

Vogue For Ethnic, Costume Clothes Provides Final Day's Excitement

By MILDRED WHITEAKER
LOS ANGELES — Sometimes a style show can be downright exciting. A cool, sophisticated kind of excitement.

That was the mood when Yvonne of California presented her spring collection to the press against the authentic Spanish decor of the beautiful, old-world Bel-Air Hotel.

It didn't take long to realize that we were seeing something special — a designer who understands what's going on in fashion and who translates the current confusion into clothes that every woman would adore owning.

Yvonne isn't hung up on lengths. Nobody even talked about them, and it wasn't necessary. Skirts ranged from just below the knee to the ankle with many lengths in between, each right for that particular garment.

The Hungarian-born designer is generally identified with couture sportswear, though today her clothes could be worn for most any occasion anywhere in the world.

A petite blonde, Yvonne was wearing a long-torso, full-skirted gown of pink and claret touched with turquoise in her newest "signature animal print."

Each year she creates an exclusive design. Last year's hero was Willie the Whale. This year it's flirtatious, flipping Freddie the Frog — his lilly pads providing the basis of the print in several color schemes. It's amazing how elegant and never gimmicky Yvonne can design these animal prints.

Although 90 editors attended the show (traveling from press week headquarters by charter bus), the event was something of a "Texas Day." Paul Hodges, Joske's vice president in charge of fashion, was an honor guest, having flown to Los Angeles from a business trip to New York especially for the event. And Doug Brinkman, fashion director and a vice president of Joske's of Houston, was commentator.

Yvonne has visited San Antonio many times and is a winner of Joske's annual "Camellia Award." Her husband, the talented composer Walter Jurmann, wrote the Song "San Antonio" during HemisFair.

The champagne showing opened with a coordinated sportswear group in sunshine yellow, the lush golden hue Yvonne is endorsing for spring. First came a three-piece pantsuit, including straight-cut and flattering gabardine polyester slacks topped with a Freddie the Frog silk print overblouse and an elongated sweater with frog appliques.

"I never think of Yvonne's sweaters as sweaters," said commentator Brinkman. "They are so exquisitely handled, I call them couture jackets."

A top-of-the-calf culotte skirt was teamed with a wrap-tie print blouse and a cropped sweater. Completing the trio was a low-torso silk print dress, which could be worn with either of the sweaters.

Yvonne's ensembles are so interchangeable that a woman could go around the world in a suitcase. In one sequence, three models showed how this could be done with great flair. A tailored yet feminine shirt was first combined with slacks, then a two-pleat skirt and finally a flowing chiffon evening skirt, all to be topped with a "couture sweater jacket."

Her skirts have ease of movement, whether flared or bursting into pleats. Sweaters are sometimes accented in leather, one of the most applauded being beige wool with a lattice work of white. Sweaters come in varied lengths, the favorite for spring being an over-the-hip cardigan which the commentator called "longer than short and shorter than long."

Yvonne mixes colors in a way that always seem to come out right. In addition to the sunshine shades and the aforementioned pink, claret and turquoise, the Freddie the Frog print is in bright apple green and white touched with shocking pink. In other prints, Yvonne mixed beige, brown and purple or red, white and blue. She also has a patchwork print of black and white, all exclusively designed by and for Yvonne.

Her pantsuits and jumpsuits are stories in themselves, Yvonne having been a leader in this now classic way of dressing.

Femininity underscores all of her clothes, no matter how tailored, "for she truly understands the feminine mystique," said Mr. Brinkman.

Among the many highlights are her Hungarian-inspired peasant and gypsy party dresses, each of them with authentic decor. This is in line with the new vogue for ethnic and costume-like clothes, and the dresses are "selling, selling," said Yvonne.

Finale of the spectacular show was a group of full-length garden print dresses, with the pianist appropriately playing the theme from "Gone with the Wind" in the background. (He also played "San Antonio" and one of composer Jurmann's all-time hits, "San Francisco.")

TO MARRY — Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Nelson of Ruthven, Iowa, announce the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Capt. Rosemary M. Nelson, to Navy Lt. (j.g.) Robert Dawes, son of Mr. and Mrs. William R. Dawes, Big Spring.

Wedding Anniversary Observed Saturday

The 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus H. Miller was observed Saturday in their home at 108 Canyon. Mrs. Miller is the former Leta Sue True, whose father, Dr. George S. True, was a pioneer doctor in Howard County. Miller was born and reared in Howard County.

The couple was married Oct. 3, 1920, in Big Spring, and their first home was in San Antonio where he worked for the Illinois and Great Northern Railway for two years. Returning to Big Spring, the couple made a home here and he joined Texas and Pacific Railway, remaining until his retirement over 50 years later. He is a veteran of World War I, serving in France.

Mrs. Miller, who has been a florist and interior decorator, is now employed at Creative Arts and Supply and also teaches china painting.

The couple is affiliated with the First United Methodist Church. They have one son, Dr. R. H. Miller, a veterinarian, is employed by the government and resides at Omaha, Neb. There are four grandchildren.

served as hostess, with Mrs. Faye Stratton as cohostess. Panel members were Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, Mrs. C. B. Sullivan and Mrs. Lawrence Robinson. They answered questions such as what causes buds to fall off before blooming, how to sterilize clay pots and whether to buy a large or small plant.

Answers were that plants need 50 to 60 per cent humidity to produce good blooms; clay pots should be soaked in hot water and a cup of liquid bleach; and smaller plants are preferable because they adapt to new conditions and transplanting easily. Another hint for care of the plants was to wash the leaves in a solution of one tablespoon of mild detergent to one gallon of water and rinse immediately. This method kills microscopic pests and mealy bugs.

Mrs. Paul Guy presided, and Mrs. J. W. Trantham gave the council report. The next meeting will be Nov. 5 with Mrs. Guy and Mrs. A. C. Moore as hostesses. Mrs. Trantham will present the program.

Diocesan Convention Scheduled

The Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, Diocese of San Angelo, will hold its annual convention Tuesday in Brownwood at St. Mary's Catholic Church and parish hall.

Registration and coffee will be from 8:30 to 9:30 a.m., with the day's program to begin at 9:30 a.m. and conclude at 3 p.m., with a luncheon break at noon.

The diocese is made up of five deaneries, Big Spring, Abilene, Brownwood, Midland and San Angelo.

Big Spring Deanery officers are Mrs. George Foster, president; Mrs. John Voelkel of Snyder, vice president; Mrs. J. M. Faquar of Snyder, church communities chairman; Mrs. Leo Gonzales, secretary; Miss Mary Vasquez, treasurer; Mrs. A. M. Rutherford, president of the Immaculate Heart of Mary Altar Society; and Mrs. W. R. Ward, organization service commissioner. Sister Amarobis will also be a delegate.

During the meeting, officers for the coming year will be elected.

Use Cake Rack To Dry Sweaters

You will find that a cake rack covered with a thick Turkish towel makes an ideal drying rack for baby sweaters or other small woolen garments that must lie flat to keep their shape. The legs on the rack give enough air space underneath to make the drying much quicker.

FESTIVAL QUEEN Melinda Riter tries her hand at cutting blooms in one of the beautiful fields to be viewed by visitors to the Texas Rose Festival in Tyler, Oct. 21-25.

Tyler Prepares For Texas Rose Festival

TYLER — The time is nearing for the 33rd annual Texas Rose Festival and Tyler is putting on its royal front in preparing to crown the Rose Queen and honor the rose on October 21-25.

The feverish pace of hundreds of civic workers makes this evident to even the casual bystander.

Dr. Eldon Lyle, rose expert, and Frank Holey, the rose grower who provides the festival with hundreds of thousands of blooms, have started touring the deep, sandy roads in a score of choice fields to select the one of choice blooms to be on display for rose tours at festival time.

Recent rains have developed fields of millions of blooms in the Tyler area.

The city's rose garden, the nation's largest with 35,000 bushes in 385 varieties, is donning its best dress for the thousands of visitors expected. The garden is dewy fresh and inviting.

Carpenters with saws and hammers are busy installing a glamorous Rose Show to be called "Reign of Roses." The visitor will view vast arbors covered with climbing roses, flowing streams fed by animated waterfalls, octagonal pavilion and other features.

A focal point of the show will be a formal garden setting with fountains and statuary displaying the regal robes of past rose queens. Many thousands of roses will be used to outline the pathways, fill massive areas, adorn walls and trail from baskets overhead.

Featured also in the show will be this year's All-American "Oscar" roses, Aquarius, a pink and red grandiflora; Command Performance, a bright orange hybrid tea, and Redgold, a yellow-orange floribunda. These roses are also blooming in a special section of Tyler's Rose Garden devoted to plantings of All-America rose winners.

This exhibit, also featuring specimen blooms of many varieties, is a perennial favorite of rosarians and home gardeners seeking roses for beautifying lawn and home.

The work of Walker Spangenberg of New Orleans Mardi Gras fame will be seen in the lavish Coronation setting where on the nights of Thursday and Friday, October 22 and October 23, the rose queen, Miss Melinda Riter of Tyler, Texas University coed, will be crowned amid pomp and pageantry.

The coronation will be followed on Friday night by the ornate Queen's Coronation Ball at the American Legion Hall in Tyler.

Texas' float building artist, Marcell Robin, who does floats for the San Antonio's "Battle of Flowers" and other events, will soon begin moving in trailers and prefabricated float decorations to construct the 13 floats of the Queen's section of the Rose Parade.

Like a circus moving in, five large vans of tinsel, floral sheeting, and decorative materials will soon arrive at Fair Park barns, the float-building area.

Forty-eight gorgeous gowns, costing in the aggregate some $50,000 have begun arriving from the dressmakers at the home of Mrs. J. Evans Estabrook, keeper of the robes, and hung on racks in readiness to be worn in the pageant. The gowns are of glamorous new fabrics, covered with glittering gems and rhinestones.

A new Tyler rose, "The Apache Belle" will be featured on a special float being constructed by Cooperative Rose Growers.

The parade float of Queen Melinda Riter — a top secret creation — is being constructed in a San Antonio studio and will arrive soon in a covered van in sections to be assembled here.

Quotable Quotes

By The Associated Press
 Some quotable quotes from women during the week:
 "I think now is the most interesting time of our nation. Everything is coming to the surface. It's stirring up the water, making it muddy. But when it settles and becomes clear again, we'll have peace again." — Mrs. Laura Reed Yaggy, 83, a leader in the movement for women's suffrage in the early 1900s.

Family Planning.
 "I wrote this song for the hippies, and I dedicate it to the young people in Poland who are probably in the same position as young people in America — hitchhiking but with no place to go." — Singer Joan Baez, at the Sopot, Poland, Folk Song Festival.

Featured also in the show will be this year's All-American "Oscar" roses, Aquarius, a pink and red grandiflora; Command Performance, a bright orange hybrid tea, and Redgold, a yellow-orange floribunda. These roses are also blooming in a special section of Tyler's Rose Garden devoted to plantings of All-America rose winners.

"The pioneer women making their way across the prairie didn't take time out for the cramps." — Dr. Estelle R. Ramey, refuting an argument that premenstrual tension might render some women unfit for leadership positions.

"I'm not interested in women's rights, I'm interested in Indians. Indian men and women are treated equally on the reservation as far as I'm concerned." — Mrs. Betty Mae Jumper, 47-year-old chief of the Seminole Tribe of Florida.

"In our society women are very often defined in relation to a man rather than as autonomous human beings. To me that's very offensive, to have people not see me as me, and to know who I'm living with or married to." — Jean Crosby of San Francisco, arguing that the forms of address Mrs. and Miss should be eliminated in favor of Ms. — pronounced Mizz.

"I have very strong feelings about the women's liberation movement. I believe in women's liberation, but I have mixed feelings about it as a movement." — Mrs. Isobel Milligan Kelly, the first and only female teacher at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, N.Y.

"Why should women pit themselves in open warfare against men? They would have nothing to gain — except, of course, to make themselves ridiculous." — Mrs. Evelyn Sullerot, 45, Paris sociologist and founder of the French Movement for British officers of the last century invented the campaign chest — by packing travel essentials into functional cases that later became functional furniture (tables, chairs). Now the campaign chest is interpreted for today.

 Desks arrive for every place and purpose — living room, office, den, kitchen, student's room, mom's room.
 Etageres handsomely hold everything — books, art pieces, plants — on their decorative shelves. As well as providing storage, etageres also serve as room dividers.

County 4-H Members Note National Week

By MARILYN NEVELS

This week 280 county 4-H members will join the nation's four million members in marking National 4-H Week. Howard County's seven 4-H Clubs are following the national theme this week of "We Care" and are pledging "head, heart, hands and health to demonstrate their concern."

Serving county 4-H Clubs are 119 adult leaders and sponsors for projects and special activities such as the rodeo. Advising the clubs are Paul Gross, county agent, Jim Allison, assistant agent, and Mrs. Delaine Crawford, county home demonstration agent. Also contributing support and leadership are home demonstration club members.

750 PROJECTS

Through the efforts of all, 4-H'ers completed a total of 750 projects this year, which will culminate with the Achievement Banquet in November. Projects undertaken include child care, home management, clothing care, photography, horticulture, leadership, food and nutrition, dog care and the raising of sheep, lambs, swine and beef stock.

The 4-H programs, open to youths from ages 9 to 19, are expanding to encompass all groups from rural to suburban including all cultural and economic backgrounds. New programs are being devised to keep up with the times to include the children from ghettos as well as those from ranches, suburbs, cities and small towns. Working under the theme, "We Care," 4-H'ers are learning more about their world and their neighbors, next door and internationally. They share a common desire to improve their communities and protect their environment.

The 4-H year begins with the school year as clubs reorganize and plan programs. Other county clubs besides Elbow and Knott are Lomax, Gay Hill, Coahoma, North Ridge and Lucky Acres. An eighth group is being organized for 4-H'ers

Credit Club Luncheon Speaker

Bob Piatkowski, office manager of Webb Credit Union, was guest speaker at the Credit Women's luncheon Thursday at Hotel Settles.

"There are 11 credit unions in Howard County," Piatkowski said, "and each has a board of directors and a credit committee, both of which are elected by the credit union membership. The credit committee approves loans, and the board of directors sets policies and supervises over all operation. Federal credit unions are examined without notice by a team of examiners, similar to the inspections of federal banks. Webb is a federal credit union."

"The reason for failure in some credit unions," Piatkowski continued, "is strictly due to mismanagement." He said, "Not for profit, not for charity, but for service is the credit union motto."

The nominating committee presented the slate of new officers who were elected by acclamation. They are Mrs. C. W. Mahoney, president; Mrs. Ivabelle Marr, vice president; Mrs. Raymond Hamby, secretary; and Mrs. Ernest Welch, treasurer.

The newly-elected directors are Mrs. W. E. Moren, Mrs. J. B. Apple and Mrs. Pyrie Bradshaw. Officers will assume duties in November. The next meeting will be Oct. 15.

interested in riding and showing horses.

EVENTS

Every October the 4-H joins with the Future Farmers of America to produce the Pig Show being held this week. Members also attend the state fair. Throughout the winter months they work on projects. From January to March members are involved in stock shows, food and nutrition shows and the Howard County Food Show, followed by the District Food Show. April and May are taken up with numerous methods demonstration. The summer months feature the 4-H Roundup and competitions including the state demonstration, judging and food show contests. Judging is held for clothes-making, field crops and records. The annual junior rodeo is one of the 4-H Clubs' biggest efforts and profits provide funds for the year's projects.

CHAMPIONS

Howard County 4-H Club members have done exceptional work in many areas and three to four members are expected

Vinyl Wallpapers Cover Containers

Cover any container with a bright, cheerful new wallcovering and you can turn it into an inexpensive toy chest in a matter of a few minutes. Pre-pasted, vinyl-coated wall covering is recommended for this purpose.

You can achieve a gay result by using one of the new nursery patterns to cover a container. In addition, a border pattern can be cut apart to make attractive vignettes which have been placed in inexpensive frames for wall decorations.

Mix and match patterns, using scissors and a ruler. You can transform a tiny drab cubicle into a cheerful nursery with wall coverings. The papers need only be dipped in cool, clean water and positioned on the wall. Their vinyl coat gives these wallpapers complete scrubability so that tots' fingerprints and scribbles are easily removed.

to attend the national 4-H Congress in Chicago, Ill. Of the 90,000 4-H members in Texas, only 35 are qualified to attend. Howard County had four state champions last year. They were Carolyn Crawford, Linda Crawford, Martha Couch and Kelley Gaskins.

BLUE RIBBONS

The county has produced outstanding livestock by 4-H members. Johnny Peugh won state grand champion and national reserve champion for his pig. Delores Lankford raised a grand champion steer, and Dirk Perry's barrow won grand champion at the Southwest International Livestock Show at El Paso. All District Food Show entries won blue ribbons. Eighty-nine members went to district contests. Recognized for their outstanding achievements last year were Larry Don Shaw, gold star boy, and Debra Buchanan, gold star girl.

4-H COUNCIL

Johnny Peugh is the County 4-H Council chairman and Debra Buchanan is the vice-chairman. They represent the county on the district 4-H council. Kelly Gaskins of Knott is vice-chairman of the District Council.

According to Mrs. Crawford, 4-H clubs develop youths into good citizens by providing leadership and incentives. The youngsters begin with projects and work up into leadership positions. Club programs strengthen family relationships, for most of the projects require assistance from parents in homemaking, crop or animal raising. Members develop into responsible citizens with the 4-H "learn-by-doing" idea.

TRIPLE THREAT — Members of the county clerk's office have their hands full in preparing for three things before the Nov. 3 election. They are preparing ballot supplies for election judges; checking applications for absentee ballots; getting ballots ready for the referendum on a rural fire protection district. From left are Mrs. Eulene Jones, Pauline Petty, district clerk, Shirley White, Wanda Anderson, and Margaret Ray, chief deputy, holding absentee applications.

Election Activity Increases As Nov. 3 Draws Closer

Activity has greatly increased in County Clerk Pauline Petty's office as the Nov. 3 general elections near. Mrs. Petty and her staff are currently accepting and approving applications for absentee voting, preparing and mailing candidate lists for the election precinct judges, and preparing the ballot on the fire district issue. Absentee balloting begins Oct. 14 and ends Oct. 30, during which time absentee votes will be cast by mail and by personal appearance in the County Clerk's office. Absentee ballots will be mailed to voters on Oct. 14, according to Deputy County Clerk Margaret Ray. Mrs. Ray added that 34 applications from Howard County residents serving in the military had been received and approved.

Area Farmers, Ranchers To Get Questionnaires

Information supplied by some 25,000 Texas farmers and ranchers will be needed by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in Austin to prepare this year's official crop production estimates for each county and the state. County Agent Paul Gross said a representative number of farmers and ranchers in Howard County will be among the 25,000 in Texas receiving the questionnaire from the state statistician for the survey. He said the questionnaire will be mailed during the last half of October and early November. Accurate estimates are of great importance to producers in planning their production and marketing, farm program participation, and also for providing an unbiased picture of Texas agriculture, he emphasized. The program of estimates for each county is provided by the Texas Legislature. Since Texas covers such a wide area with great diversification of production, state totals alone do not provide adequate information on the agriculture industry, Gross explained. He also points out that this is a joint project involving the state agriculture department and the USDA statistical reporting service. Because of the importance of the program, the county agent urges every producer in the county who receives a questionnaire to fill it out completely for his farm or ranch and return it to the Austin office.

GRACE AND STYLE — Sleek lines, spacious interior and quiet comfortable ride combine to make the new Dodge Monaco an outstanding figure in the 1971 model field. These and the Polara, Dart and other popular Dodge lines are now on display at Dewey Ray Motor Company.

Economic Comfort Retained In New Styling Of Dodge

The new Dodge line, now on display at Dewey Ray Motor Company, 1607 East Third, has increased its emphasis on four key points for 1971 — economy, value, styling and comfort.

The popular Polara Special will be continued this year under the single name Polara and will offer for the first time in this segment a two-door hardtop. The special, within a short time of its introduction, zoomed to 20 per cent of all Polara sales and helped Dodge maintain its market share of total automobile sales.

Aerodynamic, aircraft-like styling is retained for this year with exterior styling improvements on a new low front and rear end, plus ventless front windows in all body styles.

All engines in the Polara and Monaco field will operate on regular or low-lead gasolines. A new 360-cubic inch V-8 is optional in Polara models. In some models the 383 and 440 CID V-8s are available with four barrel carburation.

In styling, new grill and rear end treatment are accentuated. New loop rear bumpers match loop front bumpers for continuity and to accentuate the long, low silhouette. In the rear, tail lights, parking and backup lights are housed behind a strong horizontal slotted graphic design. There are other new features such as wider rear view mirrors, cassette stereo tape player, horn buttons integrated in the steering spokes, lock door arrangement and low fuel warning lights.

A part-throttle kickdown feature is now standard on all Torqueflite automatic trans-

Be Careful With Fire This Week

Mrs. O'Leary's notorious cow kicked over a lantern Oct. 8, 1871, and started the Chicago holocaust and a national tradition, National Fire Prevention Week.

Fire Prevention Week is scheduled each year for the week that includes Oct. 8. This year President Richard Nixon has declared Fire Prevention week to last today through Saturday.

The famous Chicago fire destroyed 17,430 buildings, killed 250 people and did $175 million damage. Last year, there were more than 12,000 deaths and property losses of more than $2 billion attributed to fires in the United States, and all were begun without the aid of a lantern-kicking cow.

People were responsible for those fires, and cigarettes and matches were their most popular weapons, according to information from the Insurance Information Institute. Faulty wiring and defective electrical appliances were second on the most dangerous list.

If one looks beneath the figures and the statistics compiled by insurance agencies, one fact becomes clear. Fires are a direct result of carelessness by people. Cigarettes and matches are carelessly tossed from cars to begin fires like the one raging in California; electrical defectiveness causes fires because people don't take enough time to check their wiring and keep appliances in good repair; and inflammables improperly stored do just what they were made to do — inflame.

During this week, President Nixon has asked that everyone be a little more careful when dealing with fire and possible fire-starters. Care could save a lot of money — and lives.

Brush Control Research Field Day Is Scheduled

A Brush Control Research Field Day will be conducted by Texas A&M University personnel Oct. 22, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Pitchfork Ranch, 17 miles east of Dickens on U.S. 82.

Tours will be conducted from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. and will also include the neighboring Four 6's Ranch.

Ranchmen, farmers, landowners, aerial and mechanical contractors and representatives of commercial companies interested in the latest developments in the fight against brush are urged to attend, announced Charles E. Fisher, Lubbock professor in charge of brush control field research for Texas A&M. Runways are available at both ranches for visitors who plan to fly in.

On the morning tours, visitors will be able to view and hear discussions on the latest developments in field tested chemical and mechanical control of mesquite and associated shrubs on field research plots. Discussions will include the most effective and economical rates of 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T, picloram, dicamba and promising combinations of these chemicals for control of mesquite, sand shiner, locoweed, prickly pear and other associated shrubs and weeds. Also to be discussed will be the effectiveness of ultra low, low medium and high volume aerial applications of herbicides and the effect of growth stage, soil moisture, plant condition and different growth forms of brush on the degree of control obtained.

Newsprint Prices Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Four more newsprint producers have increased prices from $8 to $10 a ton.

The boosts had been initiated earlier by other companies. Bowater Sales Co. said in New York that its price in Northern states had been raised $10 a ton to $162 and in Southern states $8 to $159.

Georgia-Pacific Corp. of Portland, Ore., increased its price $10 a ton to $162 in Northeastern states. Great Lakes Paper Co. of Thunder Bay, Ont., announced a like boost. Crown Zellerbach Corp. of San Francisco hiked its price $8 a ton in markets west of the Rocky Mountains.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am ashamed to write this letter, but I won't have any peace of mind until I have somebody's opinion.

Last Sunday I went to the train station to meet a friend. I was early so I started walking around. I noticed a middle-aged man between 45 and 55 following me. I really wasn't frightened because there were a lot of people around, but I thought if I went into a telephone booth and pretended to make a call he would go away.

When I came out of the phone booth he was waiting for me. Then he asked if he could buy me a soft drink. I snarled, "Beat it, Buddy or I'll call a cop."

He took off without a word, but Abby, he had such a hurt look on his face. Now I'm sorry I was so mean to him. I'm usually not like that. How should I have handled this? I got to thinking that maybe he was just a poor lonely old man trying to be friendly to another human being.

DEAR GUILTY: And maybe he was just trying to pick you up. Don't feel guilty. Perhaps you were a bit gruff, but I think you were wise for discouraging him.

DEAR ABBY: Many young people write and ask if they should "go all the way" to prove their love, and there various other names applied to enjoying the privileges of marriage without accepting any of the responsibilities. May I tell my story?

On Easter Sunday evening, back in 1942, I, then a young Naval officer, sat in my car on Rock Creek Parkway, directly behind the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, D.C. With me was a young government stenographer whom I had been dating seriously for several months. Even though today's young people will think this was back in the Dark Ages, the desires of men and women haven't changed much since Adam and Eve. As the evening progressed with much hugging and passionate kissing, we both grew increasingly excited, when she suddenly drew away from me and said, "I am deeply in love with you, and I hope you feel the same about me, but if we don't stop right now I will hate you for what you will have done to me and you will abandon me because there will be nothing left. Whether I marry you or someone else, I will have broken a promise I made to myself that I would present my body to my husband in the same condition in which God brought me into this world. Now, please take me home."

All that night I thought about what she had said. Then I realized that she was not just another conquest. We were married in June, the following year. She kept her promise to herself, and I helped her.

Now, 28 years later, we have four wonderful children, and we still find each other mutually thrilling — and thrillable.

CHARLOTTE, N.C.
DEAR CHARLOTTE: Thanks for sharing your experience with me and my readers. (Girls, commit that stenographer's speech to memory. It's beautiful. And practical, too.)

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to Abby, Box 63700, Los Angeles, Calif., 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

TIPS JUDGE JUST IN TIME

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Judge Jesse Eschbach got a corn liquor recipe and some advice in U.S. District Court.

After Frank Conley, 47, of Laotto, pleaded guilty to owning and operating a still, Eschbach asked if he understood the plea. Conley then gave a detailed description of how to make corn liquor.

"Sounds like a good recipe," the judge said. Conley replied, "I wouldn't advise you to drink it, judge."

Expects Interest Rates To Decline

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy says he expects interest rates to continue to decline after the Nov. 3 general elections, but that unemployment will remain above 5 per cent.

SHOWS EVOLUTION OF MUSICAL Opening Concert Tuesday

A new and exciting concept in programming will launch the current Big Spring Concert season here Tuesday evening when Dorothy Wareskjold brings her Musical Theatre to the Municipal Auditorium.

The program is at once challenging to the ensemble of eight outstanding voices, but also popular with the audience. It skims the cream of "Faust" for the first half of the presentation, then after intermission turns to the evolution of the American musical from its genesis in light European music to the really-century operetta, and finally to the present day musical comedy.

Critical reviews of the program indicate there could be no better opener for the current season. Tickets (admission is by season membership only) are still available from members of the concert board, or may be had at the door Tuesday, but not thereafter. The charge is $10 for the season, with an extra charge if reserved seats are desired. Student tickets are less.

Other offerings during the season include the pianist duo, Whitmore and Lowe, Nov. 10; the famous guitarist duo, Los Indios Tabajaras, Feb. 8, 1971; and finally the remarkable Metropolitan opera baritone, Robert Merrill, March 8, 1971. Merrill, of course, is almost a household word.

Miss Wareskjold (Warren-Showid) achieved fame in opera as a lyric soprano, whom many critics have described as possessor of one of the finest voices in the country as well as an infectious personality. However, she prefers the concert stage, and after she came up a medley arrangement of choruses from Gounod's "Faust," perhaps the most popular of all operas, she got the spark of an idea for her unique programming. This led her to polish a synopsis version of "Faust," utilizing the most famous solos and choruses.

From extensive research, she built a musical framework for the evolution of the American musical theatre. Thus, the second half will include a touch of the European scene with gens from Gilbert and Sullivan and Johann Strauss, before moving to the music of America's composers of operetta such as Regional de Koven, Victor Herbert, Rudolph Friml, Sigmund Romberg. The evening climaxes with melodies of George M. Cohan, Jerome Kern, George Gershwin, Cole Porter, Rodgers and Hammerstein, Lerner and Lowe.

With Miss Wareskjold are Mariam Boyer, mezzo soprano; Peter Roberts, tenor; Charles White Wolf, tenor; Richard Lombardi, baritone; Charles Vick, baritone; D. Edwinn Bender, bass-baritone; Andrew Rawn, basso. Raymond McFeeters, who did many of the arrangements, will be the accompanist.

Report Incorrect On Two Items At Budget Hearing

Two items reported in correctly in The Herald articles on the Wednesday night budget session have been called to attention by City Attorney Herb Prouty.

One occurred in stating that only the first of the three readings on the ordinance amending the retirement plan had passed, requiring passage on two more readings. "Before the meeting the commissioners were given copies of the ordinance both with and without an emergency clause for suspending the three-reading requirement. The ordinance that was read and passed included the emergency clause and became law as soon as it was passed."

The second occurred in stating that Prouty said D. A. Brazel was correct in maintaining that the state legislature had set a six per cent limit on interest rates earned by time warrants such as those to be issued for the purchase of sanitation containers.

"I said Mr. Brazel's point was well taken, but I did not say he was correct," Prouty said. "I have checked the law on this point and consulted another attorney and an amendment to Article 717 k-2 specifically repeals the old law and abolishes limits on the interest rate other than the 10 per cent limit set by the Constitution."

He added that the law specifically modifies any limitations set by charters or laws of special governing bodies. "The legislature allowed higher rates at the request of municipal and county governments who found that they could not sell their bonds any more at the lower interest rate," he said. "The public notice to bidders will not have to be changed and will contain the eight per cent maximum, he said."

Full-Time Boys Club Is Possible

There may be a possibility of keeping the Big Spring Boys Club open full time if funds can be raised to hire a full-time director.

The club's board of directors Thursday decided to appoint a committee to check into the possibility of keeping the club so more boys would have a chance to take advantage of the facilities offered.

In other action at the meeting the board:
— Acknowledged memorials and gifts from individuals and organizations, including the donation of 56 tickets for the Shrine Circus.
— Agreed that there is still a need for volunteer male help to keep the recreation and shop rooms open during evening arts and crafts classes and sing-along nights.

The arts and crafts classes are conducted on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings, with the sing-along on Thursday night.

LITTLE GALS FEAR NOT!

HANOVER PARK, Ill. (AP) — When the village board passed a resolution banning the midskirt from this Chicago suburb it was considered a joke, but now, Police Chief Sam Polotto says, some women are afraid to go out of doors for fear of being arrested for improper dress.

The resolution — passed two weeks ago — stated that it is a "God-given and inalienable right" of men to observe "the niceties of the female form in all of its many varied shapes and sizes."

TERRY

HE DIDN'T DO ANYTHING REALLY BAD, CHOPSTICK JOE, BUT THE LAWYERS CAN'T DO A THING. I'M JUST DESPERATE... IF YOU CAN HELP MY SWEET MAN...

LE'SSEE NOW, PAMELA PARTRIDGE, PET, A FIRST-CLASS BUST OUT, WITH ALL THE EXTRAS WILL RUN YOU ABOUT UMMM... THEN YOU WILL DO IT?

SWELL SCENE! THE SOY SAUCE SHARPE DOESN'T EVEN SUSPECT THAT TORCHY MUST BE LIBERATED TO LEAD THE RADICAL REVOLT BACK HOME!

WHY SHOULD I PUT DOWN HER ACT BY MENTIONING THAT THE DOSSIER WE GOT ON THE 'BOY-FRIEND' SAYS HE'S CALLED 'TORCHY' BECAUSE HE'S A FOND OF MOLOTOV COCKTAILS?

SMITTY

BOSS, WHAT ABOUT THESE INVOICES?

MY GOSH! WHY DON'T YOU USE YOUR OWN JUDGMENT?

DON'T KEEP RUNNING TO ME WITH EVERY LITTLE THING. CLEAR OUT!

WHERE'S SMITTY NOW?

YOU TOLD HIM TO USE HIS OWN JUDGMENT ACCORDING TO THE OFFICE, BOSS--

SO HE WENT HOME!

MOON MULLINS

HEY, PLUSHIE -- WHAT'S THIS MEAN? I SEE IT ALL TH' TIME.

WELL, WHEN PEOPLE DO IT, IT MEANS V FOR VICTORY...

...WHEN PEOPLE UNDER 30 DO IT, IT MEANS PEACE...

... AND WHEN MOON MULLINS DOES IT, IT MEANS A DOUBLE.

JUMBLE -- that scrambled word game

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.

Not tonight, dear... exhausted from shopping

BECAUSE OF THIS HE WASN'T SEEING AS MUCH OF HIS GIRL FRIEND AS HE USED TO.

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as suggested by the above cartoon.
