SNOW TIME — While older residents shivered in the unseasonably chilly, snowy weather Thursday, little Kevin Lanham was delighted with his early birthday present — perfect sledding weather. Kevin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Lanham of Amarillo, turned three yesterday.

OK Heavier Penalties For Terror Bombings

More Federal Aid For Local Police

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a burst of anticrime activity, the Senate has passed legislation providing heavier penalties for terror bombings, increased protection for the president and members of Congress, and more federal aid for state and local police.

What started off as a batch of separate bills and ended up in one big legislative package also includes extra jail sentences for federal crimes carried out with a gun and special presidential awards for valorous conduct by law enforcement officers.

The vote on final passage Thursday, after eight hours of debate, was 59 to 0—the low count indicating only that a lot of senators are out campaigning for re-election in a year when law and order is a prime issue. The package now goes to the House.

First off, the Senate passed 68 to 0 a bill broadening and strengthening federal laws against bombings and permitting the death penalty in cases causing fatal injuries. It authorizes use of wiretapping under court order when criminal use of explosives is suspected.

An amendment by Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., to strike out the death penalty was rejected 46 to 22.

The bill makes it a federal crime to damage or destroy with explosives any federal property or the property of any institution receiving federal funds. This opens the way for the FBI to investigate bombing on virtually any college campus.

Another bill passed by voice vote is designed to provide increased protection for the president when he is away from Washington.

Its effect is to permit the Secret Service to cordon off areas for the president's protection, without having to rely on state or local trespass laws.

Also passed by voice vote was a bill making it a federal offense to assassinate, kidnap or assault a member of Congress or a congressman-elect.

Leads To Bomb Blasters Go Up In Smoke

By The Associated Press

Police in three West Coast cities said today they had few leads to the bomb blasts that ripped two military facilities and a county courthouse, but indicated they were proceeding on the assumption it was a radical conspiracy.

The predawn explosions Thursday damaged a courtroom and rest room of the Marin County Civic Center in San Rafael, Calif., shattered a section of an outside wall at an Army National Guard armory in Santa Barbara, Calif., and caused an estimated $150,000 damage to a building housing the Navy and Air Force ROTC departments at the University of Washington in Seattle.

A bomb was found in the heating duct of a building at the University of California at Berkeley and was disarmed.

EVIDENCE OF WATER POWER — Cars are piled up in the central square of Genoa Friday following the flash floods that smashed through the north Italian port city and surrounding area. The death toll has risen to 32 and rescue squads are still probing the mud looking for the missing.

Canadians Await Word Of Kidnapers

MONTREAL (AP) — Canadian authorities awaited further word today from the kidnapers of British trade commissioner James Richard Cross after meeting one of two demands made Thursday.

The Quebec separatists who abducted the 49-year-old diplomat Monday said in a communique they would "do away" with him unless the government by midnight Thursday called off the police search and broadcast the Quebec Liberation Front's manifesto calling for revolution in Quebec province.

MISS DEADLINE

The entire 1,400-word manifesto was read on radio and television at 10:30 p.m.

There was no announcement of a letup in the police search, however, but the Montreal newspaper Le Devoir reported from Ottawa that federal officials had asked the Montreal police to reduce their inquiries and other investigations to a minimum.

The midnight deadline passed with no word from the kidnapers.

A Montreal radio station said it received an anonymous call shortly after midnight saying that authorities had been given 24 hours to meet an earlier demand—rejected by the government—for the release of more than 20 prisoners held in Quebec. Police said they believed the call was a prank but were investigating it. All previous communiques from the kidnapers had been in writing.

The midnight Thursday deadline was the fourth set by the kidnapers. They warned that it was their "last" ultimatum but indicated willingness to negotiate, asking the government "to specify exactly which demands they consider irrational."

TRAP IDEA

However, the communique turned down a government offer to deal directly for Cross' release through representatives of the government and the kidnapers. It said such a procedure could be used to draw the kidnapers into a "trap."

Train Crash Claims Three

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Three Reading Railroad crewmen were killed and a brakeman was seriously hurt today when a freight train crashed into the rear of a stopped freight at a track crossing.

Another railroad accident occurred Thursday night when a Penn Central passenger train slammed into the derailed caboose of a freight in Old Lyme, Conn., injuring one passenger and four railroad employees.

A Reading Railroad spokesman said in Philadelphia that an unscheduled freight ramed into the rear of a regularly scheduled one in the darkness of early morning.

THREE HIT Campus Shooting Mystery

MORRISTOWN, Tenn. (AP) — Three Morristown College students were wounded today by gunfire from a car that drove through the campus, Police Chief E. H. Winstead said.

More than 100 students took over the administration building Thursday seeking campus changes but, there was no indication whether the shootings had any connection with the demonstration.

"The car is believed to be one that was on campus yesterday and whose occupants had an argument with some of the students," Winstead said. He said police have not determined what the argument was about.

He said two of those shot were standing on a balcony of a college building and the third was in a doorway.

Texas' Draft Call Data

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas' draft call for November will be 450 men, picked from men with lottery numbers 1 through 145. Lt. Col. Charles M. Duncan, acting state director of the state selective service said today.

The Texas quota is part of a national call for 8,000 men, all for the Army.

A total of 1,310 men will be ordered to take pre-induction physical and mental examinations in preparation for possible future induction.

Drug Raids Spark Riot

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Police said today 24 persons have been charged with inciting to riot after about 100 state and city police, armed with tear gas and loaded shotguns, dispersed a crowd estimated at 2,000 of the Marshall University campus.

Police said none of the 24 $1,000-bonds had been posted.

The number who actively participated in the demonstration was estimated by police at about 100 to 200 students, but at times the entire crowd joined in shouting obscenities directed at police.

The students apparently were incensed over drug raids that netted 10 arrests early Thursday. They refused to disperse throughout the evening. But they retreated each time police advanced.

'BLITZ BANDIT' RECEIVES 'LIFE'

DALLAS (AP) — Jerry Wade Johnson, accused of being a member of the "blitz bandits" which terrorized grocery stores in Dallas, received a life prison sentence Thursday after a jury convicted him of armed robbery.

The jury deliberated 10 minutes before deciding that Johnson, 23, was one of six holdup men who robbed the Village Food Store Jan. 29.

The bandits swept into the store and escaped with about $1,200 in cash.

Nixon Receiving Advice On Campaign Costs Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is receiving advice from both parties in Congress as the deadline approaches for action on a bill limiting broadcast spending by political candidates.

Republicans, whose campaign fund is bulging, are urging the President to veto the bill, calling it discriminatory to radio and television.

And Democrats, who have more seats to lose and less money to do it with, are asking Nixon to sign the bill which they call a landmark to honesty and fair play.

MIDNIGHT MONDAY

If Nixon does not veto the bill by midnight Monday, it will become law with or without his signature. It does not, however, become effective for another 30 days—bypassing the Nov. 3 elections.

In addition to limiting broadcast spending, the bill repeals equal-time requirements, allowing broadcast debates between major candidates for president and vice president without giving equal time to minor parties. It also guarantees candidates the lowest commercial rate for their advertising.

"It is the most significant legislation ever passed on election spending," said Rep. Ray J. Madden of Indiana, chairman of the House Democratic Steering Committee. "It is in keeping with President Nixon's expressed concern for reform and modernization of our political and governmental institutions."

FAIR PLAY

Madden said his panel approved a resolution urging Nixon, "in the interest of fair play, honesty and democracy," to sign the bill. The resolution urges Congress to override any veto.

Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, chairman of the Republican National Committee, has told Nixon he would be inclined toward a veto.

"It's such a discriminatory sort of bill because it picks on one media," Morton said.

Rep. William L. Springer of Illinois, ranking Republican of the House Commerce Committee which has jurisdiction over the bill, said the bill isn't the complete answer but "it is the best we could get and is a good beginning."

The bill would set a spending limit of seven cents for each vote cast in the last general election or $20,000, whichever is higher, for candidates for president, vice president, U.S. senator, U.S. representative, governor and lieutenant governor.

Spending in primary elections beginning next year would be limited to half that amount.

Grand Champion Pig Draws $200 Premium For Owner

By HOWARD SIMMS

Deputy Sheriff Eddie Owen hustled hogs at Thursday night's 4-H and FFA Barrow Show auction with enough enthusiasm to raise doubts as to whether law enforcement is his true calling.

Jay's Farm and Ranch Service Center and the Paymaster Gin at Ackerly shared in the $200 premium paid for Patti Peugh's Grand Champion Hampshire barrow.

Taylor Implement Co., A's Barbecue, and McGibbon Oil Co. together paid $150 for Larry Don Shaw's Reserve Grand Champion Duroc.

The 34 other sales went at a hog-every-two-minutes pace, including Coahoma State Bank's $57 bid on Joe Elmore's Duroc and Stanton Chemical and Seed's $50 premium for Carla Perry's Reserve Champion Crossbred barrow.

River-Welch Funeral Home paid Don Tatum $45 on his Champion Crossbred, Western Produce Credit Association paid $49 for Johnny Peugh's Reserve Champion Duroc, and Harding Well Service paid $45 for Gaylon Harding's Reserve Champion Hampshire.

Eggers, Fullerton To Join Sen. Dole Here Saturday

SEN. ROBERT DOLE

PAUL EGGERS

BYRON FULLERTON

Fullerton spent 14 years in private law practice before becoming assistant attorney general for three years. For the past seven years he has been associate dean of the University of Texas Law School. He will serve as master of ceremonies.

Eggers is calling for economy in Texas government, and told a Houston audience Thursday that one of his first acts as governor would be to appoint an economy commission.

He said the commission will be a volunteer bi-partisan group of businessmen using their talent and experience to make recommendations for savings and efficiency in government.

Fullerton says Texans would motivate themselves to the polls if the Republicans provide the choice.

The featured speaker is Sen. Robert Dole, whom some Republicans have mentioned as a possible leader for Republican senators. Some Republican senators are disenchanted with Sen. Hugh Scott, Pennsylvania, as minority leader, and Sen.

John Tower, Senate GOP campaign chairman is asking senators to support Dole.

Local Republicans who have not been contacted by a party worker about tickets for the dinner should call the W. J. Sheppard & Co. Real Estate office on Wood Street.

Joan Crawford Wins State 4-H Club Award

Joan Crawford, a Howard County 4-H Club member, who excels in home economics related projects, has been named state winner in the Consumer Education-Home Economics awards program for 1970, the state 4-H Club office has announced. She will receive an all-expense trip to National 4-H Congress in Chicago, Ill., Nov. 29 to Dec. 3.

JOAN CRAWFORD

At the Congress, Joan and other state winners will compete for $600 educational scholarships to be presented by Montgomery Ward of Chicago, Ill., donor for the program, to a blue award group of six.

Joan, 16-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delaine Crawford, 701 W. 17th, has been a 4-H member for eight years, and is active in church and school organizations in addition to a full schedule of 4-H projects and activities.

"Clothing has been one of my favorite projects," she said. She has worked with a clothing program each year and has completed 65 garments.

But Joan's 4-H activities have not been limited to clothing. She has completed projects in money management, food and nutrition, photography, home improvement, leadership and consumer education.

"While I still enjoy each of the project areas that I have studied," she said, "consumer education seems to have brought them all together." She said money management, one phase of consumer education, has been her most outstanding accomplishment in 4-H.

Joan's success in 4-H work is also evident in the honors she has won. They include winning blue awards in food shows four years in county, four years in district and once in state competition; and winning first place three years in county and district home economic contests.

"Joan has completed many projects and activities in her 4-H career," Mrs. Crawford, Howard County home demonstration agent, said. Mrs. Crawford and local 4-H leaders have helped Joan with her projects.

"4-H has already provided me with many opportunities that I never could have enjoyed otherwise," Joan said. "These experiences have helped me prepare for the many exciting things that I hope to do in the remaining years of my 4-H career and in my adult life."

Shipwreck Party Set By BSP

A rush party with a shipwreck motif was planned at a meeting Tuesday by Alpha Beta Omicron Chapter of Coahoma Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Joe Smith was hostess and presiding officer. The shipwreck party will be Oct. 25 in the home of Mrs. Jack Parrott, 604 George.

The chapter is contributing to the purchase of equipment for Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center.

Mrs. Don Cunningham was elected alternate to BSP council which will host a salad supper for the five chapters Nov. 5 in Pioneer Gas Flame Room. Crazy Bridge will be played.

Mrs. Smith served refreshments from a white linen-covered table centered with pink and yellow roses in a crystal bud vase. The next meeting will be Oct. 20 in Mrs. Cunningham's home. Mrs. Morris Fraley will give the program.

Mrs. C. L. Gooch was hostess for the Pioneer Sewing Club meeting Wednesday. Members did handwork, knitted slippers and a coat, crocheted beads and a tablecloth. Refreshments were served by the hostess from a table centered with ivy. The next meeting will be Oct. 21 in the home of Mrs. Doyle Gilmore.

Women's Club Tours Inland Port, Garden

Big Spring Garden Club members met Wednesday at Inland Port 213 for a tour of the shop, viewing gifts from around the world. Conducting the tour was Roy Peet, who showed decorative and scented candles, unique Early American accessories, Swiss and German music boxes, gold Ming trees with leaves of semi-precious stones, gourmet foods, Oriental brass, Spanish wrought iron and other items.

Coffee was served during the business session by Mrs. W. G. Wilson and Mrs. John Coffey. Mrs. J. C. Pickle presided.

announcing the District I meeting to be held in Lubbock Oct. 29. The Texas Garden Clubs fall state board meeting will be Oct. 19 in Amarillo. Members also were reminded of the council's fall flower show Oct. 31 at First National Bank. Attendance prizes were won by Mrs. Garner McAdams and Mrs. J. E. Hardesty.

Following the business meeting members went to Peet's home at 710 Edwards Blvd., for a tour of his Oriental garden. The garden was constructed during the year by Peet, who built a fountain, waterfall and gold fish pool with a bridge. Oriental figurines and a stone pagoda accent the garden. The next meeting will be Nov. 4 in the home of Mrs. A. J. Atkins, 1302 Lexington, with Mrs. John Knox as cohostess.

Westside WMU Studies Baptist Missionaries

Baptist missionaries in Nigeria, and their vocational variety, were described in a program Tuesday for the Women's Missionary Union, Westside Baptist Church.

Mrs. J. O. Murphy was in charge of the program, and others participating were Mrs. J. A. Andrews, Mrs. Mary Riddle, Mrs. Leroy Minchew and Mrs. E. O. Sanderson.

Among the missionaries discussed were Mrs. Henry D. Martin, Dr. Paul H. Miller, Miss Mary Ellen Yancey, Miss Mary Frank Kirkpatrick, the Rev. Don E. Smith, Dr. John A. Nickell Jr. and Dr. Elizabeth Truly.

Mrs. Martin and her husband, a teacher and chaplain, are the only white persons in Oyo where she is advisor for over 100 churches and teaching stations. Dr. Miller, a religious education specialist, teaches pastors and religious education students at the Nigerian Baptist Theological Seminary in Ogbomoso.

Miss Yancey is educational secretary for the Nigerian WMU. She is assisted by two missionary staff workers at the WMU camp headquarters at Ede. Miss Kirkpatrick is stationed at Ibadan where she works full-time with students, coordinating work of others. In Kaduna, Rev. Smith, evangelistic secretary of the Nigerian Baptist Convention, advises 75 churches and the teaching staff for 15 tribes.

Dr. Nickell is a junior missionary and medical doctor at the Baptist hospital in Eku, while Dr. Truly serves at Abeokuta as a teacher and administrator at the school.

Prayers were led by Mrs. Andrews and Mrs. Ben Boroughs.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 15-year-old girl and I am being grounded for a whole month for something I don't see anything wrong with.

I was invited to a party at a girl friend's house, and went with my parents' permission. My boy friend picked me up at 7 o'clock and I told my mother I would be home at 11 o'clock as it was a school night.

When I got into the car there was another couple there, and they suggested driving downtown first, so we did. We noticed there was a movie playing that we all wanted to see, so we went to the movie instead and had a bite afterwards. I got home at exactly 11 o'clock like I said.

My mother was standing in the doorway waiting for me, and boy, was she ever mad! She said she wanted to tell me something so she called my girl friend's house and I wasn't there.

She accused me of lying to her, which I didn't do, as we changed our plans after I got into the car. You be the judge, Abby. Did I do anything bad enough to get grounded for a month?

OKLAHOMA CITY DEAR OK: That is (and was) up to your mother to decide. You should have telephoned your mother as soon as you changed your plans. The one unpardonable "crime," as parents view it, is changing signals and not letting parents know you weren't where you said you'd be.

DEAR ABBY: Walter is 45 and we have been married for 24 years. Our only child was recently married which leaves us entirely alone again. Well, as soon as our son went on his honeymoon, so did my husband. Right here at home. He is making a wreck of me, Abby. Our marriage never lacked love before, but you would think it did the way he acts now. I have to lock the bathroom door when I take a bath because Walter wants to jump into the tub with me. What should I do?

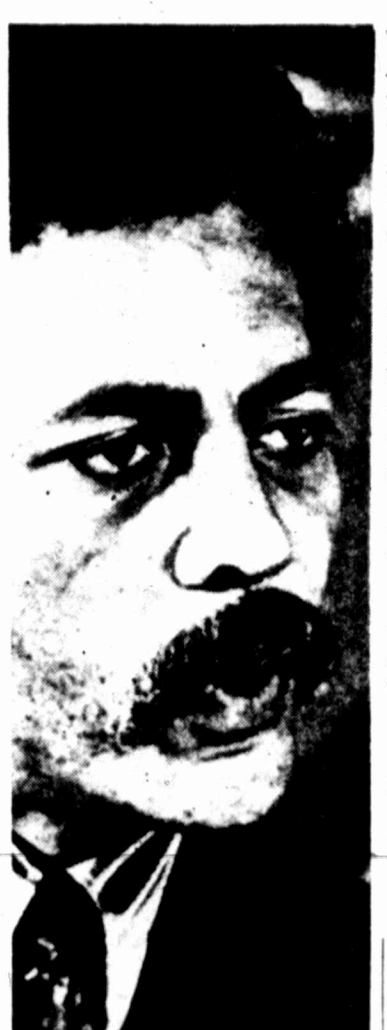

WALTER'S WIFE DEAR WIFE: Lock the bathroom door. And tell Walter to take showers. Cold ones!

DEAR ABBY: You are the only person I can tell my problem to. My daughter has recently married a fine young man who lives in our town. She did "well" by anybody's stand-

Arkies Hear Agnew's Try To Link Demos, Panthers

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, on a Southern and Border state campaign swing, has charged that some Northern and Western Democrats are friendly to the Black Panthers—or at least to their friends.

In a speech to an applauding audience of Arkansas Republicans Thursday night, Agnew described Ronald Dellums, a black Democratic candidate for Congress in California's Berkeley-Oakland district, as "an enthusiastic backer and supporter of the Black Panther party... a man who happily shares platforms with Black Panthers... a man who says, 'My politics are to bring the walls down.'"

RONALD DELLUMS

And, Agnew said, such Democrats as Sens. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts, Harold E. Hughes of Iowa, Birch Bayh of Indiana, Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma, Walter F. Mondale of Minnesota, Alan Cranston of California and George S. McGovern of South Dakota joined in a fund-raising affair for Dellums. Dellums won the nomination in the Democratic primary over a white long-time liberal, Rep. Jeffery Cohelan.

'Macbeth' To Be Staged Saturday

The Globe of the Great Southwest, Odessa, will present "Macbeth" on the Big Spring High School stage at 8 p.m. Saturday.

A professional actors company will do the show in full costume. The play is sponsored by the high school English Department and the Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

Tickets will be available at the door or from the high school English Department, Dan Shockey's office at the Howard County Junior College, or Knight's Pharmacy. Ticket sales this week have been reported as brisk, according to Mrs. Jimmie Knight.

was televised within the state, Agnew spoke in support of the re-election campaigns of Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller and Rep. John Hammerschmidt, the only Republican in the state's congressional delegation.

Earlier Thursday in New Orleans, Agnew said in a television interview: "The information I have indicates without question that the leadership of the Black Panthers is dedicated to a violent course of action and an unlawful concept of the conduct of their affairs. While they do some good things, unless they change their objectives and abandon their exhortation to 'kill the pig,' which is the way they refer to police, I suppose we have to condemn them in a blanket fashion."

Agnew carries his campaigning to Tulsa, Okla., today, before going to Phoenix, Ariz., and then to Palm Springs, Calif., for a weekend rest. He will make appearances in Texas next week.

Claims No-Fault Insurance 'Good For Irresponsible'

AUSTIN (AP) — No-fault car insurance, which is getting serious national consideration for the first time, was blasted Thursday by a spokesman for the state's plaintiffs' attorneys.

In another step concerning Texas' insurance problems, a State Insurance Board member proposed that his agency be given power to block mergers of insurers with holding companies.

"You can trace every major insurance company failure since 1953 to the holding company concept," board member Charles Mathews told a House insurance study committee.

OUT OF POCKET Tom Webb, public relations chairman for the Texas Trail Lawyers Association, held a news conference in the association's paneled offices here to denounce the no-fault concept.

No-fault car insurance pays the out of pocket medical expenses and part of the lost wages of accident victims, regardless of who caused a mishap. Present Texas law allows payment only to innocent parties.

The state AFL-CIO recently recommended a no-fault law for Texas, and a no-fault bill has been introduced in Congress.

"It is just abhorrent to the average American... for a man to be compensated for injuries when he caused the accident," Webb said.

No-fault insurance, Webb continued, is "good for the irresponsible, the careless and the negligent."

Only Massachusetts has a no-fault law, and it sets a limit of $2,000 on payments without regard to fault. Beyond that, an injured person would have to sue to recover further damages.

GIANT GIMMICK Webb called the relatively mild Massachusetts law "an obvious gimmick. They are going to institute it (complete no-fault) by degree."

He said the bulk of present car insurance costs are those from property damage coverage, such as collision, which is not included in no-fault plans.

"The wrap-around windshield did more to increase the cost of insurance than any other factor," Webb said.

He also complained because some no-fault plans do not provide any money for pain and suffering.

Trial lawyers represent accident victims, generally for 30 or 40 per cent of what their clients are awarded by juries.

Grid Player Due Treatment

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A Wichita State football player who was burned critically as a plane crashed was flown here from Denver, Colo., today for treatment at the Brooke Army Medical Center.

He is John Taylor, 21, of Sherman, Tex., said to be the worst injured survivor of a crash which killed a number of teammates and others in Colorado.

Attendants said Taylor was in critical condition with burns over 82 per cent of his body but he was awake, alert and in good spirits.

A special team from Brooke's burn center made the flight to Denver and returned with him in an Air Force medical evacuation plane.

Taylor's parents and fiancée also accompanied him. Army spokesmen said Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., and Kansas Gov. Robert Docking arranged for him to be transferred here.

Opening lead: Three of ♠ North's hand contains the ingredients—15 high card points—for a direct response of four no trump, which is a raise beyond game and a slam try. With a slightly unbalanced holding, he decided to explore for a suit contract on the way. His two club response is conventional and requests partner to bid a four card major suit, if he has one. If South does not have hearts, North retains the opportunity to show his diamonds on the next round.

When South bid two hearts, North made his slam try by raising beyond game to five hearts. Since South held so many primary controls, he accepted the invitation and bid six.

West opened the three of spades and declarer put up dummy's ace, following suit with the queen. Prospects were not very bright, thanks to the duplication of values in spades. As matters stood, it appeared that he must confine his losses in the diamond suit to one trick and also find the king of clubs with East where it may be successfully finessed. There was the slight added possibility of executing an end play—and to further this prospect—South cashed the ace of diamonds at trick two.

Observe, that with the actual lie of the cards, declarer had an excellent chance to succeed, for after three rounds of trumps are drawn and the king of spades is cashed, a diamond continuation throws West in the lead with only black cards left in his hand. If he returns a club, it eliminates South's loser in that suit. A spade shift, however, permits the declarer to discard a club from dummy as he ruffs in his hand. North's diamonds are now established and the dummy is high.

West was aware that his singly guarded king of diamonds was a potential liability, and from declarer's play of the ace, it was reasonable to presume that East rather than South held the jack. West accordingly anticipated the end play by throwing his king under the ace. There was no way to prevent East from winning a diamond trick and a club shift assured West of scoring the knockout punch with the king of clubs.

Rosh Hashana Observance Climaxes With Yom Kippur

NEW YORK (AP) — You start over. You resolve to try again, to do better from now on. You're freed of the blunders and offenses of yesterday, and renewed for fresh, finer efforts in the days to come.

That's the regenerative spirit of Yom Kippur, the Day of Atonement which starts at sundown this Friday for Jews everywhere.

Dr. Bruder Speaks On Mental Health

Nine area ministers joined members of the Texas State Chaplains Association Wednesday afternoon to hear a speech by Dr. Ernest Bruder at the Big Spring State Hospital.

The chaplains association is holding a three-day conference here, and Bruder, director of Protestant chaplain activities at a Washington, D.C., hospital, told the local ministers of their emerging role in community mental health centers.

"Local pastors can help prevent mental illness by recognizing the signs of a disturbed person and getting help for him before he has to be institutionalized," Bruder said.

"Mental illness is basically a religious concern. Most mentally ill persons are unsure of their faith and morals. The pastor must remain in contact with the mentally ill person to give him the guidance he needs. The hospital chaplain cannot take the place of the pastor. The chaplain's role is limited — and consists largely of reminding the pastor to keep in touch with the ill person.

"Case histories show that a disturbed person turns to his pastor first about half the time. The pastor must be equipped with the knowledge of what to do for a person."

Area ministers who attended the session were the Revs.: Jesse Allen, Knott Baptist Church, Knott; Daniel Sebesta, St. Paul Presbyterian Church here; Tom Huser, First Presbyterian Church, Sweetwater; Bruce Hudspeth, minister of music, Baptist Temple, here; Jim Puckett, Baptist Temple, here; David L. Northcutt, First Presbyterian Church, Coahoma; and Steve Birdwell, St. Mary's Episcopal Church, here.

Also attending were ministers Odell Stiff and Leon Kessler, Church of Christ, Littlefield.

Baptist Association Begins Meet Monday

The annual meeting of the Big Spring Baptist Association will be held Monday and Tuesday at the Prairie View Baptist Church. The Rev. James Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple and association moderator, will preside.

Dr. O. Byron Richardson, staff associate for revival evangelism in the evangelism division of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, will be the denominational speaker for the meeting.

DR. O. BYRON RICHARDSON

Dr. Richardson is a graduate of Baylor, the University of Houston, and Southwestern Baptist Seminary. He was a pastor for more than 20 years in churches in Baytown, San Angelo and Alice before accepting his present position with the convention in 1960.

Church To Hold Hymnsing Sunday

An old fashioned hymnsing for all religious faiths has been scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Sunday at the First Baptist Church.

This is an inter-denominational effort to help various fellowships share their Christian faith in music. Lt. Tom Wells, First Baptist, will lead the singing, and Dana Baker, Berea Baptist, will be the pianist.

St. Paul Presbyterian, East Fourth Baptist and College Baptists will have special numbers in the duet, solo and ensembles scheduled.

Mostly, however, the evening will be spent in singing familiar hymns. The young people are sponsoring the event, but it is for all ages, and if there is sufficient interest, this may become a continuing activity.

Israel Topic Of New Film

"HIS LAND," rich in color and authentic sights and sounds, with a popular musical score composed and arranged by Ralph Carmichael has been called a musical journey into the soul of a nation, and will be shown on Sunday at 7:15 p.m. at Baptist Temple, 11th and Goliad. No admission will be charged.

Across a barren land, scarred by centuries of war and neglect, the spectres of ancient Israel appear, hover, and fade away. Suddenly there is movement of a different sort, and slowly, steadily, a startling transformation begins to take place.

Thus begins "HIS LAND," the story of Israel from ancient to modern times. "HIS LAND," a one-hour color feature motion picture, takes you on a journey through space, time and current events. The viewer sees graphically, the fact that Israel today is a living testimony to the words of the prophets when they proclaimed that Israel would take her place among the nations of the world.

In the company of Cliff Barrows and Cliff Richard, England's popular star, who sings a number of new Ralph Carmichael songs, some of which were actually written on location, one travels the vibrant streets and lonely solitary paths of this nation whose destiny is daily discussed in the counsels of governments all over the world. The same paths taken by Jesus and the prophets: Galilee, the wilderness, Jerusalem, the Mount of Olives, mingle with the people of modern Israel as they work, play and build a nation.

Words of Scripture come to life as the two men reflect upon the events that in recent years have confirmed much of the ancient prophecies. You are witness to the fact that out of death and desolation is emerging a new Land... a "Land of milk and honey," where the future climactic events of history will take place.

"For on this day shall atonement be made for you to cleanse you," says Leviticus 16:30 in prescribing the observance. "From all your sins you will be clean before the Lord."

It's the holiest day in Judaism, often called the "Sabbath of Sabbaths," the climax of a period of penitence that began 10 days ago with Rosh Hashana, the Jewish spiritual New Year. And the dominant theme is rejuvenation, a doing away with past failures and a restoration to a new beginning.

"Then shall your light break forth like the dawn and your

DROP OUTS?

WHAT IS YOUR EXCUSE?
WHEN PEOPLE DROP OUT OF PARTICIPATION IN SPIRITUAL ACTIVITIES THERE MAY BE ONE OF SEVERAL REASONS FOR IT
1. It could be hostility toward God.
2. It could be they have become angry with their teacher or brethren.
3. It could be their lives are frustrated because they do not live the way they know they should.

Campaign Echoes Pop Over Houston Heckling

By The Associated Press
Heckling by militants which kept Gov. Preston Smith from speaking at the University of Houston the night before echoed Thursday in the Texas political campaign.

The governor also said at a news conference that he may ask new legislation for handling campus disturbances which college administrators are unable to control.

PLUGGING AWAY

Paul Eggers, the Republican running against Smith in the Nov. 3 general election, said in Houston, "Preston Smith has since acknowledged that our state leaders cannot go on our college campuses without fear of demonstrations. I'm sorry it took personal embarrassment to convince the governor this problem exists."

Democratic nominee Lloyd Bentsen and Republican candidate George Bush plugged away, meanwhile, in their campaign for U. S. senator.

Bentsen joined Bush in applauding President Nixon's appeal for a ceasefire in Indochina. Both said they especially welcomed a proposal for release of prisoners on both sides.

TWO-WAY STREET
"By giving up and walking out, Preston Smith simply encouraged the use of similar tactics under other circumstances. That small minority of students which causes most of the trouble on our campuses must learn that freedom of expression is a two-way street."

"The President has my support in his attempts to achieve a standstill ceasefire and a durable peace in Indochina," Bentsen said in Dallas. "While some of his proposals have been rejected in the past by North Vietnam, I feel the President has put together a package that could lead to positive results in the Paris peace talks..."

Bush, also in Dallas, said, "I am convinced this new and firm and innovative initiative by the President shows that this country does not want war—that we want to get totally out of Southeast Asia—and that we can indeed have a generation of peace..."

Bentsen, asserted his opponent has distorted the position taken by Bush on such questions as welfare reform and gun controls.

CINCH INCOME

"I oppose a guaranteed annual income," Bush said. "I am in favor of work incentives. I oppose and consistently have voted against federal registration licensing and permitting of firearms. I want to see tougher penalties for the criminal."

Speaking at McKinney, Bentsen said low-income groups would benefit most under his proposals for bringing about better law enforcement. He added, "Most people are having a hard enough time making a living without being struck by sudden financial setbacks."

The Democratic nominee moved on to Port Arthur today. In remarks prepared for a civic club he said, "There is nothing wrong with America that economic stability and a little moral discipline won't cure. We definitely are suffering from a moral recession as well as a business recession..."

WORTH $2 MILLION

Bank Hunts In Vain For Owner Of Stock

DALLAS (AP) — There's a cool $2 million lying around in a Dallas bank just begging somebody to take ownership. This unclaimed fortune takes the form of stock certificate No. 390 of the Texas Pacific Land Trust, and the Mercantile National Bank would like to get rid of it.

said the bank's trust officer Paul Rains, who drew the job of hunting the owner because he's a former FBI agent. "We've been trying to find the owner of that certificate for 10 years. We've advertised all over the world, but to no avail."

record of this transaction, Blake Brothers sought to claim the money. FALSE HEIRS
A New York court denied the claim, holding Blake Brothers couldn't provide sufficient evidence of ownership and probably served only as a clearing house while someone else owned the stock.

"It sounds like a soap opera," said Parker, county chairman. "Texas needed railroads back then but it didn't have a dime to promote them," Rains recounted. "So it was decided to give land to the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. (no connection with the modern day Texas & Pacific Railroad) to get the railroads built."

His research goes back to 1884. "Texas needed railroads back then but it didn't have a dime to promote them," Rains recounted. "So it was decided to give land to the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. (no connection with the modern day Texas & Pacific Railroad) to get the railroads built."

In Dallas a state court refused in 1959 to allow a Blake Brothers claim. It turned the money over to the Mercantile Bank to invest while seeking the rightful owner. "We've had hundreds of would-be heirs," Rains said. "They've all turned out to be false."

He urged all Democrats to be on hand, or to visit the offices where campaign materials will be stocked. The Democratic Women will operate the offices from now until after the Nov. 3 general election.

"There will be no speaking," said Parker, "but we will have free coffee instead of a $100 a plate dinner."

Speaking at a testimonial dinner for GOP gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers, he said fiscal responsibility is essential to economic growth. There were about 400 persons at the dinner. Kennedy is the first member of the Nixon administration to campaign for Eggers. He said the President is hopeful that Eggers will defeat Gov. Preston Smith, the Democrat running for re-election.

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP) — Lee Quinn, a 43-year-old adventurer from Los Gatos, Calif., sailed today in his 48-foot yacht Neophyte Too for Vancouver, B.C., with an all-woman crew of three.

While conceding the administration's fiscal policies caused some economic problems and risked a recession, Kennedy said this was necessary to cure what he called economic ills. He added that fiscal restraint gives the answer for a healthy economy. "We can have economic growth provided we have fiscal responsibility," he said.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Take great care not to force any issue with anyone. Otherwise the most unusual and unpredictable conditions could follow. Obstacles could halt projects in which you are interested and make them inoperable.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Make certain you do nothing to cause a rift between you and one who can be valuable to you in the future in business or otherwise. Speak softly, but carry a big stick, as if were. Forget gossip.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 23) Instead of seeking more of yesterday's recreation, get busy on important work today for better progress. Be controlled and keep out of trouble. Think in terms of making more money.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Try not to risk others who are closely connected, or there could be severe severances that you would later regret. Sit down quietly and plan what you want in the future. Pay bills promptly.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You want to get together with allies and make future plans, but unnecessary arguments could arise, so bide your time. Take care of your part of any deals. Then you pave the ground for better relations.

Winter And Smoke?

Officials of the Big Spring Savings Association decided today was the day to turn on their heating system. About 9 a.m. employees noticed their offices were slowly filling with smoke. They called the fire department and put all valuable papers in the fire-proof vault. Firemen found that a heating-system motor had overloaded and burned itself out. They shut off the power and set up a fan to clear the smoke out of the building. Officials estimated that it would be only a minor job to replace the burned-out motor, and heating should be restored to the building this afternoon.

The excitement caused many passers-by to wander in. "I knew I gave you a hot check — but I never expected this," one man quipped. There was only slight smoke damage to the building.

Ex-Trooper Pays $2,500 So Legion Can Stage Parade
HOUSTON (AP) — A bearded young businessman, dressed in blue jeans and a T-shirt, plunked down $2,500 at City Hall Thursday so the American Legion could have its Veterans' Day parade Nov. 11.

"I believe Americans have the right to see a patriotic parade and get involved in them and especially little children who are just learning what it is all about," said Jerry Jones, 31, who operates the Houston Blacklight & Poster Distribution Co. The American Legion has said it could not have the parade this year because of the excessive fee and had appealed to the City Council to find a way to skirt the ordinance.

The ordinance was passed after a peace coalition group took the city to court, winning two federal decisions which supported their contention that they had a right to parade in the streets. Jones, an Army Special Forces veteran and former paratrooper, said his store sells "psychedelic posters, American flags, peace flags and all kinds of good things."

Baby Died From Disease Before Rats Gnawed Her
HOUSTON (AP) — An autopsy revealed Thursday that a seven-week-old baby died from disease before rats gnawed away parts of the body. Police said that pneumonia, an inflammation of the lungs, was the killer. Officers found the body Wednesday in a deep freeze. They said Shirley Kizsee, the baby's godmother, told them she placed it in the freezer because she believed rats had killed the baby and was ashamed.

His department began fighting the rat problem in the neighborhood Thursday. He said there would be a door-to-door check to assist the residents in ridding the neighborhood of rats. The area's ditches may be the cause of the rodent problem, said J. W. Allen, inspector with the City of Houston rodent control.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Believe in the Lord your God, so shall ye be established; believe his prophets, so shall ye prosper. (II Chronicles 20:20)

PRAYER: Our Father, forgive us that so often we are slow to believe. Give us the faith that will carry us through whatever we may or must face in this life. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Hopeful Straw In The Wind

Because it takes two to make a trade, the effectiveness of President Nixon's latest peace proposal for Vietnam and Indochina cannot be determined until the North Vietnamese react. And that does not include the expected, immediate reaction which inevitably is for propaganda purposes: rather it is the response (or lack of it) developing over a long period of time.

It therefore may be weeks before there is any dependable evidence of whether the proposal will bear fruit. Once more, patience is counseled.

However, nearly everyone will hope and pray that this offer of a standstill, cease-fire situation will open the door to further negotiations. The war, as was predicted a few years ago, is gradually grinding and winding down, and at some stage a braking action can bring it to a virtual halt. Perhaps that time is now.

Certainly the President has some feeling that an overture now has some chance of response, else he would not make it solely as a gesture to world opinion. Evidently, the North Vietnamese have shown some softening of attitude at Paris, and President Nixon is wise to follow up on it.

He also is on sound ground in attempting to broaden the area of negotiation to Indochina in general to prevent a mere shift in location of hostilities. He is on humanitarian grounds in urging that a release of all prisoners of war be one of immediate good-faith steps.

Good Business

This is the week when employers are urged to employ the physically handicapped.

It is a tribute to the capability of the physically handicapped that the week seems no longer to need the all-out promotion once sought. The handicapped have an impressive performance record to argue eloquently for them.

Nevertheless, those employers who have not availed themselves of the opportunity to put physically handicapped people on their payroll are urged to consider this step. A man or woman should be hired for what they can do — not what someone thinks (often erroneously) they can't do. Extra effort, fidelity and punctuality, tenacity, loyalty are some of the qualities bosses will find in those who have overcome their disabilities and want only the chance to demonstrate it.

There is one other thing that employers can do, provided they have added physically handicapped individuals to their family of workers. It is simply this — tell others about it.

Marquis Childs Demos' Appraisal Of Senate Races

WASHINGTON — As the Congressional campaign goes into the home-stretch, reports from around the country giving high rating to two contrary elements. Money is being spent in large amounts on the electronic medium to overcome what is in many states a vast yawning apathy.

LAW AND ORDER, exploited by emotional television commercials, is tops on the Republican list in most areas. The Democrats are using the economic issue.

With some slight claim to objectivity, or at least caution, here is a Democratic appraisal of the outcome on Nov. 3. Taking a loss in the Senate of three to four seats, the Democrats will come out with control by a margin of three to four as against the present majority of seven. In the House the Democrats will lose 10 to 11 seats, leaving them with a majority of perhaps 35. Well enough for organizational purposes. On issues Southern Democrats will hold the balance of power, as in the past more often than not they have voted with Republicans.

IN THIS appraisal the Senate races fall into these categories. The following are in imminent danger:

Albert Gore, Tennessee. Nine points behind the Republican challenger, Rep. William E. Brock II who has unlimited money, much of it from his own fortune. For an incumbent this is desperate.

Joseph D. Tydings, Maryland. Winning in the primary with 52 per cent against 38 for the maverick many-time loser, George Mahoney, with 10 per cent frittered away. An uphill fight against a colorless opponent, H. Glenn Beall Jr.

Gale McGee, Wyoming. In a tough contest with Rep. John S. Wood. Republican money is pouring into states where it will do the most good with a small number of voters.

Billy Graham

I don't understand the book of Revelation. To me it seems to be a riddle. Please explain what the number 666 means in Revelation.

R.Y. The book of Revelation, far from being a "riddle", is the answer to the "riddle of sin, and the riddle of man." In the opening of the book it says: "Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein, for the time is at hand." Revelation 1:3.

The thirteenth chapter of Revelation describes the antichrist, that messenger of Satan who will come in the last days. He will have a mark and a number, and the number is 666. Numbers have significance in the Bible, and the number six is the number of imperfection or evil. So, we have the number of Satan's emissary. It is imperfection multiplied, or "evil, evil, evil." The antichrist will be the embodiment of evil, just as Christ was the embodiment of righteousness and holiness. He will be the opposite, or "anti" Christ. His spirit is already in the world and operating. He fosters all the indifference toward Christ. He hoodwinks individuals and nations, telling them Christ is a fraud, and that God is an idle dream. But at the end of time, he will materialize, according to the Bible, and will be worshipped as a god.

HOWARD CANNON, Nevada. His opponent, William Raggio, a strong land-order type, with money coming on hard for the state's estimated 185,000 voters.

A SECOND category — clouded but hopeful: Vance Hartke, Indiana. Faced with a tough opponent in Rep. Richard L. Roubush with unlimited money. Hartke claims a lead in the polls of 44 to 39.

Joseph M. Montoya, New Mexico. In a hard race with Anderson Carter. Carter beat out Gov. David F. Cargo for the nomination, which left the Republicans bitterly divided.

Quentin Burdick, North Dakota. Opposed by Rep. Thomas S. Kleppe. Farmers reported up in arms, blaming administration for low prices.

Joseph Duffey, Connecticut. Winning the Democratic nomination over the stalwarts, counts on the incumbent, Sen. Thomas E. Dodd, running as an independent, taking more votes from the Republican, Rep. Lowell Weicker Jr., than from him.

Howard Metzbaum, Ohio. Slightly behind Robert Taft Jr. for the seat vacated by retiring Sen. Stephen Young. A positive factor is the solid lead of the Democratic candidate for Gov. John J. Gilligan.

IN SEVERAL states the Democrats believe they can knock off a Republican. In New York the Democrat, Rep. Richard L. Ottinger, is said to be No. 1, with James L. Buckley, the Conservative candidate, No. 2 and Sen. Charles E. Goodell trailing third.

While Adlai Stevenson III has slipped somewhat in Illinois, he is still the odds-on favorite to defeat Sen. Ralph T. Smith.

Sen. Winston Prouty in Vermont has only a slight lead over his Democratic challenger, former Gov. Philip Hoff. Whether that lead will hold against Hoff's intensive, hand-shaking campaign is the doubt.

The biggest question mark is California. Sen. George Murphy, a feeble campaigner, was reported in the Field Poll only two points in the lead over his Democratic opponent, John V. Tunney. But, if Gov. Ronald Reagan gets the million-plus majority he is driving for, he could pull in with him Murphy and the entire ticket.

THE REPUBLICANS claim, of course, all the target and most of the doubtful seats. They believe the Senate beginning in January will be evenly divided, 50-50, with Vice-President Spiro Agnew voting to break any ties for the Nixon Administration.

WELCOME-RELIEF PITCHER!

Hal Boyle Woe For Fellows Who Can't Say No

NEW YORK (AP) — There's a big difference between what happens to a girl who can't say no and a fellow who can't say no.

The girl is wined and dined and taken everywhere, and may end up married to a successful lawyer or even—if she plays the game well—to a rich pro basketball player.

A different fate, however, awaits a fellow who can't say no. Disaster dogs his step as he plods from woe to woe.

Here, for example, are a few invitations which, if accepted, lead only to sorrow:

"Let me appoint you chairman of the committee. Don't worry, I'll see that somebody else does all the work."

"We want to throw a surprise party for old George on his birthday. How about using your apartment? If there's any damage, we'll all chip in and pay for it."

"If it wasn't a hot mink coat, do you think I'd be selling it to you in an alley? But my wife needs an operation, and I'm desperate. If I knock the price down to $50, will you take it?"

"I could tell you were a classy guy the minute you stepped into the bar, mister. How about buying a lonesome girl a teentys-weentys drink?"

"Just because he's wearing a uniform and a badge, you're not going to let him get away with talking to you like that, are you, Rodney? Tell him who you are."

"I think there's a pheasant in that patch of tall grass just ahead. Why don't you try to flush it, and I'll stand back here and wing it when it flies up?"

"Maybe your luck will change if we raise the ante to $5. Okay?"

"My yogi showed me an exercise that will make a new man of you. Here, just bend over and start to stand on your head, and I'll—"

"This restaurant looks so quaint and small I'm sure it couldn't be very expensive. Let's go in."

"The only way to impress a boss is to speak up to him. How about telling yours that he has to give you a merit raise or you'll peddle your wares elsewhere?"

"Go on and pass him. You're not chicken, are you?"

"You hold the nail—I'll do the hammering."

"The best way to win respect from one of these teen-age kids is to take him out in the backyard, put on the gloves, and show him who's who. I did it with mine, and now he calls me mister. Do you want to borrow my gloves?"

"Things are going so well I probably can pay back the $1,000 long before it's due. You don't mind being my coisner, do you?"

John Cunniff GIs Shortchanged?

NEW YORK (AP) — Although evidence accumulates that the rate of inflation will continue to decline in coming months, a method of keeping wages and prices in orderly relation to each other still has not been developed.

In a free society, in fact, there may never be a solution, because both business and labor, believing that their first obligation is to themselves, feel morally and economically compelled to seek the highest price.

The firmest approach to the situation, it appears, is an incomes or guideposts policy in which the limits of acceptable increases are spelled out and fully understood by everyone.

The weakness here, however, is that guideposts rely for enforcement on factors such as moral persuasion, patriotism and fear, which always can be violated or challenged or overcome by a union or business backed to the wall.

President Johnson learned this when his guideposts were tumbled and his jawboning ignored. And now, Canada's Prices and Incomes Commission is finding its wage-price criteria ignored by some important groups.

An economy operating near capacity—and most industrial nations, including the United States, are committed to such policies—is always flirting with inflation.

Moreover, there is strong pressure from rank and file Americans to move more securely into the middle class, not gradually and a few cents an hour at a time, but through massive adjustments in pay scales.

Much of the pressure, but certainly not all, comes from service people who feel they have been shortchanged in the past, and who are determined to correct as quickly as possible what they feel is a grave injustice.

In fact, Argus Research Corp., which provides analyses to the financial community, comments that an economy can actually undergo a wage-wage spiral in which a wage boost won by one union comes a target for another.

Argus maintains that the very situation exists right now. Settlements are beyond what are considered noninflationary limits and often have lost their relationship to prices and the cost of living. Canada also has the problem.

In that country, the watchdog commission on prices and wages earlier this year suggested that wage increases voluntarily be limited to 6 per cent a year. Some recent increases, however, have been double that figure, and the average has been around 8 per cent.

Terminating the increases inflationary, John Young, chairman of the commission, warned this week that a continuation might force the government to impose wage and price controls.

The commission documented the danger by noting that some recent settlements in food industries could cause a 2½ per cent to 3 per cent increase in retail food prices over the next two years unless productivity grew strongly.

In effect, such a warning from a wage-price commission is an admission of defeat. It is the most extreme threat it can issue, and yet, if the threat is acted upon, it means the end of the voluntary concept.

It could mean the end of much more of a free society also, and that is the danger that lies ahead if labor and industry cannot adjust to each other.

David Lawrence Trip Provides First-Hand Contact

WASHINGTON — America's future course in an international sense is not much clearer now that President Nixon has come back from his trip to Europe than it was when he left. This is not his fault, however, because the situation in the Mideast has gone beyond the control of any outside country.

PRESIDENT NIXON apparently felt it was worthwhile to emphasize that he intends to strengthen the U. S. fleet in the Mediterranean, if necessary, and that he certainly has no intention of abandoning our obligations under the North Atlantic Treaty. This requires the United States at a moment's notice — without the necessity of consulting congress — to use military force to repel an attack against any country in the NATO group. Mr. Nixon evidently wanted to make it clear to NATO members that, just because it is found desirable to withdraw some troops from Europe, the United States isn't becoming less interested in the whole NATO idea.

The president tried hard to indicate that major powers should be doing their utmost to reduce conflicts in the world. He feels, of course, that the gradual withdrawal of our forces from Vietnam should be convincing proof that America thinks South Vietnam will be able to maintain its own independence without the support of a large military contingent from this country.

THE MIDDLE EAST is an area which President Nixon is hopeful can be kept from becoming involved in another war. He is relying on the Russians to use their influence with the Arab countries toward a settlement, just as the United States will play a role in counseling the government of Israel to pursue a peaceful course.

Neither the Soviet Union nor the United States wishes to see a large war break out in the Middle East, as this could result in a direct confrontation between the world's major powers. It would also delay any agreement of arms limitation which Moscow and Washington have been hoping could somehow be consummated. It's hard to distinguish between propaganda that comes out of the Soviet Union and the real intentions of the Moscow government, but there seems no doubt that the Kremlin is anxious to keep things quiet in the Mediterranean area.

PRESIDENT NIXON is continuing his efforts to bring about international agreements for the punishment of air pirates and is putting armed guards on planes so as to deter hijacking. Other nations are being urged to take the same steps.

Certainly Mr. Nixon acquired a potential ally in Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia — at least someone through whom he can work informally as pressing issues arise out of the Middle East disputes.

PRESIDENT NIXON had a nice sightseeing trip, and he made a good impression in Italy, Yugoslavia and Spain — where he was cheered by large crowds — as well as in England and Ireland. But basically he derived from his visit to the Mediterranean the firsthand story of the situation that could develop if the United States became militarily involved in the Mideast. Likewise, he learned more about the conflicting interests among the Arabs. He also brought back to Washington some significant observations concerning the outlook in Vietnam which he obtained in his conferences abroad with American representatives at the Paris peace talks.

PRESIDENTIAL TRIPS abroad have not been unusual in recent years, but they certainly are rare just before a congressional election. While he is not running for election himself this year, he at least demonstrated that Vietnam is not the only spot on the globe that is a source of concern to the man in the White House.

Andrew Tully Chickens Come Home To Roost

WASHINGTON — Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., has posed a question that reflects the double standard candidates who desert their party and seek to impose on what might be called the regular fellows.

HOW COME, Hatfield asks, the Senate Republican campaign committee gave $40,000 each to conservative Sen. George Murphy of California and Ralph Smith of Illinois this year while allotting only $5,000 to the liberal Charles Goodell of New York?

It seems to be the regular fellows' answer should be "Why not?" Or as the campaign committee chairman, Sen. John Tower of Texas, has remarked privately, "The hell with Charles Goodell. He's more of a Democrat than a Republican."

NOW JOHN TOWER has never been my idea of the model statesman, but his logic on this one would seem to be impeccable. Goodell has spent most of his time as a Senator lambasting the policies of President Nixon and cuddling up to every far-out "liberal" bloc he can find — some of them under rocks. At best, like New York's Mayor John Lindsay, Goodell rates as a part-time Republican, and was endorsed by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller only because the Rock recognized the necessity of pacifying the state's numerous far-outs.

REALLY, GOODELL and Hatfield expect a great deal from a Republican Party headed by Richard Nixon. It is all very well to argue that Goodell has a kind of civil-liberties privilege to strike out on his own ideologically, but he is guilty of presumption in expecting the party to reward him for his heresies. The point is not whether Goodell is right,

It is that the party holds the purse-strings. For Charley Goodell, that is too bad.

In Goodell's case, as he well knows, the political fact of life is that one of his two opponents, James L. Buckley, is a Republican running as the choice of the Conservative Party. On his record, Buckley could be expected to support Nixon's policies. On his record, Goodell could be expected to continue to oppose them.

REPUBLICAN big wheels as Atty. Gen. John Mitchell privately have been raising money for the Buckley campaign. That's why a White House statement not so subtly said it was hoped New York state would elect a senator who would work with the administration.

Unfortunately for Goodell, as it now appears, he is the victim of his own decision to draft his own set of ground rules. His posture is part of a liberal thesis nationwide which says it is all right for some candidates to cash in on opportunism, but dirty pool for others.

RECENTLY, the country has been littered with examples of this new political look. In California, a young man named Ronald Dellums unseated the veteran liberal, Rep. Jeffrey Cohelan, in the Democratic primary by frankly and unashamedly running as a Negro. Cohelan later remarked that if he had run as a white "I'd be accused of being a Kluxer." In Minnesota, Earl D. Craig emphasized his blackness in his losing primary race against Hubert Humphrey. Fortunately, both Dellums and Craig also were respectable candidates. The same cannot be said for the Rev. Douglas Moore, head of the Black United Front here, who is running for D. C. delegate to Congress.

LINEBACKERS FOR SANDS MUSTANGS — The four boys pictured here back the line for the Sands Mustangs this season and will be in action tonight when the Ackerly team goes to O'Donnell for a game. From the left, they are Paul Hopper, Randy Clements, Reggie Hambrick and Marcy Robles.

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit, Los Angeles and Denver are the only unbeaten teams in the National Football League after three weeks of play and only the Broncos appear to be in danger this weekend.

The emotional high spot of the week should be the return of Paul Brown to Cleveland with his expansion Cincinnati Bengals. Although the Bengals knocked off the Browns in pre-season 31-24, they may find things a bit different in regular season.

Last week's 8-5 record brought the season mark to 23-15-1 so let's try again, the last time around for the old Hand-picker.

Saturday Night
Miami 23, New York Jets 21 — Jets are favored in home opener but came out of Buffalo game in bad shape with Matt Snell out for year and defense all shook up. Bob Griese-Paul Warfield combo could give Dolphins first win ever over Jets.

Sunday
Los Angeles 27, San Francisco 17 — Rams are fired up to go all the way with Roman Gabriel running the show and Les Josephson back in harness. Look for 49ers to bounce back strong after tough loss in Atlanta.

BRONCOS GIVEN EDGE
Denver 23, Oakland 20 — Although favored Raiders open at home without a win, still smarting from tongue lashing from Al Davis, a Denver team that could whip Kansas City should handle the desperate Raiders with another big defensive effort.

Detroit 30, Washington 14 — Unless the Lions have trouble getting up for Redskins after tough Monday night game, they should be able to make it four in a row. That Lion defense will stop Larry Brown, forcing Sonny Jurgensen to take chances.

Minnesota 20, Chicago 13 — Bears hung in tough against Detroit Monday night special while Vikings couldn't get offense moving against Green Bay.

OU Will Play Texas Close, Says Royal

By The Associated Press

Darrell Royal said it last week and few took him seriously. "Ridiculous," he snorted when told Texas was a 21-point favorite over UCLA.

It took a football miracle for Texas to shock the Bruins in the last 12 seconds 20-17.

The No. 2 ranked national champion Longhorns are 14-point favorites Saturday to extend their victory string to 24 and Royal predicts "I don't think the outcome will be decided until the final few minutes."

He explains why. "ALWAYS BIG GAME" — "When I was at Oklahoma, this was always 'THE GAME,'" Royal says. "Everybody felt this was the big test. Now, they have 13 Texans starting for them, and this is another factor which has to enter into it.

"I think Oklahoma's every bit equal to UCLA. We've looked closely at the films, and I can assure our players and everybody else that they're not going to play against us the way they played against Wisconsin or Oregon State. They're going to play like they are playing Texas."

Oklahoma lined up in an eight-man front against the Longhorns last year but were burned on long passes from quarterback James Street to Cotton Speyer. The Sooners blew a 14-0 lead to lose 27-17.

Bullpups Win 2 Contests

COAHOMA — Coahoma Junior High swept a double-header from Seagraves units here Thursday evening.

The eighth graders prevailed, 32-8, after the seventh graders had won, 14-0.

The eighth graders are now 4-0 while the seventh graders are 2-2. They host Stanton next Thursday.

In the eighth grade game, Putt Choate scored four touchdowns for Coahoma, Dan Meacham one and the two extra points.

Seagraves couldn't get in until the final play of the game, at which time Coahoma reserves were in action. The break occurred after a Coahoma fumble.

Up front on offense, Jody Bennett, Steve Newton, Archie Segrest, Guy James, Eddie Bays, Steve Wolf and Keith Stone excelled for the Bullpups.

Meacham, Choate, Steve Pherigo and Jimmy Whiddon were outstanding in the Coahoma backfield. The entire Coahoma defensive alignment was superlative.

In the seventh grade contest, Mike Collier ran 10 yards for one Coahoma score and Charles Tindol got the other on a sprint of 30 yards. Tindol also made the two extra points on a run.

Donald Ellison, Roy Drake, Jerry Edmondson and Paul Martinez were outstanding linemen for Coahoma while Rocky New stood out at quarterback.

In the eight grade engagement, Choate and Keith Stone recovered Seagraves fumbles and Brad Milliken and Meacham intercepted enemy passes for Coahoma.

Yearling 11 Loser, 14-6

WELTON COBB, a big Negro back, proved to be a one-man wave of destruction in leading Snyder Travis to a 14-6 victory over the Big Spring Runnels eighth graders on a cold, wind-swept field here Thursday evening.

Cobb scored both Travis touchdowns, one on a 63-yard run in the opening period and the other on a five-yard lunge in the fourth. He also accounted for Snyder's two extra points on a run following the visitors' first score.

Runnels got on the board first, going 29 yards in four plays after taking over following a nine-yard Snyder punt into the wind in the opening round.

Bobby Bradshaw ultimately made it from the one but the Yearlings failed in their try for point.

Runnels spent the entire third period inside Travis' 25-yard line but couldn't get across. When the first half ended, the Yearlings were driving on Snyder's eight.

The defeat left Runnels with a 3-2 won-lost record. The Yearlings go to Snyder for a game with Lamar next Thursday.

Standouts for Runnels included fullback-linebacker Dick Earhart, linebacker-running back Pete Lopez, tackle-guard Jerry Mintz, defensive end Celestino Correa, defensive end Randy Easley, offensive back Albert Smith and quarterback Bradshaw.

Snyder Travis also won the ninth grade contest, rambling by the Big Spring Brahmas, 25-6. Travis led, 12-6, at half time in that one.

Steers Seek Second Win Here Tonight

Midland High's Bulldogs, who detonated an upset bomb in the Big Spring football camp last year, hope to live up to their role as favorites in tonight's meeting between the same clubs, scheduled to get underway at 8 p.m. here.

Midland, coached by Larry Click, was the choice of observers to finish fourth in the tri-city 5-AAAA race. The Bulldogs haven't disappointed, even though they lost to Permian by the overwhelming score of 54-7 last weekend.

In other starts, the Purple game has knocked off Ysleta High and Ysleta Eastwood and lost a heart breaker to Lubbock Monterey.

Monterey is the only common opponent the two teams have faced. Midland led the Plainsmen for a half, 12-0, only to eventually lose, 14-12.

Big Spring wasn't in the ball game against Monterey, yielding by the score of 21-0.

The Steers, of course, have come a long way since the Monterey game, although their won-lost record is only 1-3. Their lone win came against Snyder but they deserved to succeed against both Ysleta Bel Air and Abilene High.

Midland depends largely upon an alert line and a nimble little junior quarterback name Hal Guttery. Flannery Fountain Smith is the most dangerous Midland player.

Guttery will seek him out frequently on passing situations and the opposition has found that if you give Smith half a step he'll go all the way. He's that fast.

Steve Robnett, 166-pound senior, is Midland's running back while the 182-pound Don Sutton, another senior, plays fullback. Sutton runs hard and doesn't know the meaning of the word "quit."

Big Spring will again lean heavily upon quarterback Dave Duncan, running back Roddy Caffey and fullback David Stanley to stabilize its running game.

Duncan is a threat any time he gets the ball. Caffey has

Carrie Magee Low Among Linksters

CARRIE MAGEE of the Big Spring Country Club posted low gross with a nine-hole score of 47 in the BSCC-Women's golf play at Webb Tuesday afternoon.

Colleen Rowland of Webb won a prize for using the fewest number of putts — 13.

A three-way tie for low net developed between Alta Lee Underwood of the Country Club and two Webb players, Phyllis Cox and Carol Lang. Each had a 39.

Following the golf play, a punch party was held. An estimated 22 took part in the competition.

Cadets To Try Rugged Irish

ARMY'S wooden soldiers march into the Notre Dame disaster area Saturday with only a wingback and a prayer.

Question: Do they stand and fight—or run?

Notre Dame is ranked third in the nation with impressive victories over three Big Ten teams. Army is out of sight with one victory in four, that over a Holy Cross team which spent a hiatus with hepatitis last season.

Notre Dame has more guns than Army can count... and the Cadets have fleet Bob Hines at one of the running spots.

Top-ranked Ohio State plays Michigan State, No. 2 Texas plays its annual war with Oklahoma; fourth-ranked Southern Cal tackles No. 12 Stanford; Mississippi, the fifth-rated team, plays Georgia; sixth-ranked Nebraska hosts Missouri, No. 16; No. 7 Michigan plays Purdue; eighth-rated Air Force plays Tulane; No. 9 Auburn is at Clemson and No. 10 Arkansas plays Baylor at Little Rock among the Top Ten Saturday.

Other games include Duke at No. 11 West Virginia; 20th-ranked Tennessee at No. 13 Georgia Tech; No. 14 Arizona State at Washington State; Oregon at No. 15 UCLA; Iowa State at No. 17 Colorado; No. 18 North Carolina hosting South Carolina and Pacific at No. 19 LSU.

A turn-away crowd of more than 59,000 will be on hand for the Army-Notre Dame affair at South Bend to lend support to the Irish with screaming in stereo. It's one reason opposing teams don't like to play Notre Dame at home. The other is their formidable punishing defense, which shut off Northwestern 35-14; Purdue 48-0 and Michigan State 29-0.

Injury-troubled Army knocked off stale Holy Cross 26-0 in the opener at West Point, then lost to Baylor 10-7, Nebraska 28-0 and Tennessee 48-3.

Some handicappers give Notre Dame a 50-point edge.

JVs Decided By Midland High

MIDLAND — The Big Spring JVs dropped their fourth straight football decision here Thursday night, yielding to Midland High, 32-6.

The Dogies had previously lost to Snyder, Andrews and Abilene.

been contained fairly well in the Steers' last two starts but he is a hitter. Stanley was the leading ground gainer for both teams against Abilene.

The Steer line has been doing splendid work, too. James Miller, in particular, has been very effective up front. Howard Stewart, Tony Dean, David Englert, Dale Crenshaw, Pink Dickens, James Pearce and Steve Rich are among others who hit with authority.

When the Steers take to the air, usually John Weeks,

Tommy Fletcher and Englert are the favorite targets. All have shown an aptitude for catching the ball.

Probable starters:

Nicklaus Tries Tony Jacklin In England

VIRGINIA WATER, England, (AP) — Jack Nicklaus, American holder of the British Open title and winner of all the big ones in golf, said today: "Well, this should be quite a go-around against Tony."

The 28-year-old Columbus, Ohio, professional was referring to his semifinal match today against Tony Jacklin, British holder of the U.S. Open title, in the Piccadilly World Match Play Championship at Wentworth.

The last time the two met was in the Ryder Cup at Birkdale last year, when Jacklin sank an incredible 50-footer to square the match at the 17th. They came down to the last green and Jacklin had to sink a three-footer to keep the match all square.

Nicklaus, in one of the most sporting gestures in professional golf, conceded that putt and the match ended all square—and so did the series between Britain and the United States.

In the other semifinal today, Dave Stockton, 28-year-old United States PGA champion, was paired against Lee Trevino, former U.S. Open champion. Both matches were over 36 holes in this tournament, which is one of the last big match play affairs in the world.

Stockton defeated defending champion Bob Charles of New Zealand 2 and 1 Thursday.

Trevino surpassed a late charge by Billy Casper, the U.S. Masters champion, to win one up.

Jacklin defeated South African Gary Player, two up. Nicklaus knocked out Gene Littler, another former U.S. Open champion, 5 and 4.

Nicklaus, talking about his game, said: "I think I've got my putting better at the moment, because the greens are getting faster. As they get faster so my putting gets better."

Goliad Trips Lamar, 8-0

SNYDER — Big Spring Goliad won its second game in a row here Thursday evening, routing back Snyder Lamar, 8-0.

Gilbert Padilla managed the only touchdown of the game for Goliad in the third quarter. The Mavericks announced for their other two points with a safety.

The victory left Goliad with a 2-3 record.

Stellar punting by Barry Canning of Goliad helped keep the Lamar team in poor field position.

Goliad returns to competition next Thursday at home against Snyder Travis.

LOOKING 'EM OVER
With Tommy Hart

The committee to select a North team for the annual Texas All-Star High School football game in August will consist of Bill Spann, Dumas; Joe Bob Tyler, Fort Worth Haltom; Tommy Watkins, Iowa Park; Clyde Nonkester, Clarendon; and Bud James, Grandview.

Let us hope they do a better job than did the group which picked last year's North team, which ignored District 3-AAAA (now 5-AAAA) completely. The North squad was humiliated in this year's game at Houston.

Dave Duncan has become so exciting a runner in the Big Spring backfield, he's beginning to attract college scouts. One who looked in on him last weekend was Emory Bellard, the former San Angelo grid chieftain who is now a varsity backfield coach at the University of Texas.

Duncan, slowed by an operation early in the season, didn't disappoint. He scrambled for 115 yards, all of it the hard way. Big Spring may never have had a better running quarterback. He has good balance plus a faculty for avoiding those unfortunate conjunctions with other members of his species when he has the ball.

Incidentally, Bellard said that those thugs who jumped three members of the University of Texas football team following their return from Lubbock recently (one player was almost killed by the group) may escape with nothing more serious than a misdemeanor rap.

It seems the authorities have decided the knife one of the attacking party carried didn't have a blade long enough to be identified as a lethal weapon.

It's nice to learn that Al Monchak has finally made it to the big leagues.

Baseball fans who were here in the late 40's and early 50's will recall Monchak. He was the manager of the Odessa entry in the Longhorn League who one night did a partial strip protesting a decision of one of the umpires.

Al was a playing manager who usually performed at second base for the Oilers. When he came to bat, he invariably delayed the game by raising one arm directly above his head in an exercise to relax the hold a clinging undershirt had on the upper part of his torso.

Monchak was and is good for baseball. The game needs more like him. At Odessa he led the Oilers to greatness with pitchers like Ray Knoblauch and Al Sokolowski.

Monchak will be one of Chuck Tanner's new coaches with the Chicago White Sox.

Big Spring set up shop on Abilene's one-yard line in a first-down situation the other night, and failed to go in.

Stout defensive play on the part of Abilene had much to do with the failure. A busted play hurt. It's a well-known fact in football, too, that most attacking teams in such circumstances tend to relax a bit, encouraged by the knowledge that they have four downs to get a score. That was the case Friday. Sometimes it is better to face a short yardage situation like that on fourth down. A team is more mentally alert and each man is prepared to execute better where everything depends on one play.

Football is a game of imponderables. Perhaps that is what makes it so intriguing.

Stan Landes, one of the umpires who struck the big leagues prior to the recent playoffs, has often been accused of over-officiating.

In the National League since 1955, he's tediously technical — and utterly without a sense of humor.

Jerry Thormahlen, Abilene High's new head football coach, played his high school football at Elgin under his father, Dutch Thormahlen.

Palmer, Nolan Open On Mound

CINCINNATI (AP) — A conviction that "right makes might" appears to have taken hold in both camps as the Baltimore Orioles and Cincinnati Reds approach the final countdown for what promises to be an explosive World Series confrontation.

Managers Earl Weaver of the Orioles and Sparky Anderson of the Reds, each acutely aware of the other's right-hand hitting power, had second thoughts Thursday about their long-range pitching plans for the best of 7 series beginning Saturday at Riverfront Stadium.

Jim Palmer will start on the mound for the Orioles against Cincinnati's Gary Nolan in a first-game duel of smoke-throving young right-handers.

CUELLAR DOUBTFUL
But Weaver, who selected Palmer ahead of southpaw ace Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally to counter the Reds' 3-4-5 punch of right-hand swizzlers Tony Perez, Johnny Bench and Lee May, expressed some concern over the readiness of Cuellar as his starter in game 2.

Anderson, meanwhile, explained he was leaning toward Cloninger because the recent elbow troubles of 20-game winner Merritt... as a concession to the Orioles' right-hand hitters.

"Merritt's elbow is still sore," the skipper said as the Reds worked out on their Astroturf diamond. "And anyway, with the lineup Baltimore puts on the field, it's not much of an advantage going with a left-hand pitcher."

Frostown Looms As Top Contender At Sunland

SUNLAND PARK, N.M. — Frostown, owned by Margaret Ware of Albuquerque, looms as a strong contender in Saturday's allowance headliner at Sunland Park.

The six-furlong sprint, honoring U.S. Senator Joseph Montoya of New Mexico, lured a band of seven into a duel over a prize of $1,500.

Here's how the field shapes up, in post position order: 1—Mothazar (to be ridden by John Van Lom), 122 pounds; 2—Pinky Dee (Bob Young), 108; 3—Hard Luck Moola (no boy), 111; 4—Frostown (Willie Lovell), 122; 5—Jim's Fool (Rolla Pruitt), 114; 6—Tammvkin (Tim McClintock), 108; 7—Brazen Winner (Pete Herrera), 116.

Frostown made his seasonal debut in last week's Inaugural Handicap at six furlongs, and rallied out of seventh place to finish third as a 5½-1 shot behind M. Star and Fast Gas. During the summer, Frostown campaigned at Centennial Race Track in Denver. In five trips to the post, he racked up three wins and a third.

A secret recipe. Part of the Beam family art for 175 years.

Carl Beam, Master Distiller, is just as particular about the ingredients that go into his Bourbon as his wife is about the fruits and vegetables she puts up for winter. That's because Carl is the fifth generation of the only Kentucky family that's made the same Bourbon since 1795.

So the next time you sip Jim Beam, savor its quality and its light taste. That's what we mean when we say it's a 175-year-old family art.

Official Memorandum
By PRESTON SMITH
Governor of Texas

GREETINGS:
October 10, 1970, has been designated as "National Newspaperboy Day" in tribute to the thousands of loyal, efficient American youths who serve the public early and late in the day delivering the newspapers upon which all of us depend.
The experience gained in serving customers on newspaper routes is beneficial to the boys of America who have the privilege of engaging in this work.
It was while serving in these honorable roles that thousands of our business, civic, professional and religious leaders received their first training in our American principles of free enterprise.
It is fitting that the citizens of Texas express their deep appreciation of the day-by-day service rendered by their friendly newspaper carrier salesmen and for the training these boys are receiving.
THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate October 10, 1970, as

NEWSPAPERBOY DAY
in Texas, and urge all the people they represent and the customers they serve so diligently to express their appreciation for these unflinching services.
In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 16th day of Sept., 1970.

PLANS TO MAKE CROWN STAY — Phyllis George, Miss America of 1971, takes care to properly pin the Miss Texas crown on Belinda Myrick of Odessa in Fort Worth yesterday. Miss George, who was Miss Texas, crowned her successor during homecoming ceremonies in Fort Worth.

Miss America Back Home In Texas, Big Dance Tonight

FORT WORTH (AP) — Looking lovely and lighthearted and professing to homesickness, Miss America was back in Texas today and proclaiming, "It's great to be home."
Crying a little, laughing a lot and exchanging quips with newsmen, Phyllis George of Denton flew into Fort Worth Thursday for a gala round of homecoming activities.

Among the foremost events for the brown-haired, brown-eyed beauty is a Miss America grand ball tonight, a champagne and dinner and black tie affair at Shady Oak Country Club.
'I CRY A LOT'
Saturday, she will accompany Gov. Preston Smith in officially opening the State Fair of Texas in Dallas.
Although she touched down briefly in Texas once since winning the Miss America title last month, Thursday was homecoming, and a wet, wintry blast did little to dampen the enthusiasm. "It's good to be back in the best state in the union," she smiled, brushing away a tear and announcing, "For those of you that know me, I cry a lot."

AND NOW...
Among her first acts on arrival was to crown her successor as Miss Texas, Odessa's Belinda Myrick, who said: "I never thought, even as a little girl, I'd ever get to meet a Miss America. And now..."
Performing at a luncheon in Miss George's honor, Belinda sang the hit song "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head," which Phyllis, a pianist, played in both the Texas and Atlantic City pageants.
As Phyllis prepared to place the Texas crown atop Belinda's head, she told the audience,

Heavy Move
CASTLE ROCK, Colo. (AP) — Bill Murray and his wife, Joyce, hired a 37-ton truck to move their newly purchased residence to a different location. The structure is the 150-ton former railroad station at Castle Rock.
"Everybody keep your fingers crossed. I'll try not to drop it."
As television viewers recall, the crown toppled from her head moment after she won the Miss America title last month.
Miss Myrick recounted an incident she said occurred after her elevation from first runner-up to Miss Texas, wherein a "tumpy gentleman" asked her if she did not consider herself "second best."
She said she replied, "I don't think it's too much of a slam to be runner-up to Miss America, do you?"
Miss George told a news conference her goal as Miss America, she would like to continue to work in the radio and television field making commercials and industrial films, she added.

Two-Headed Rattler Reported At Sul Ross

ALPINE — A two-headed rattlesnake, caught by a Pyote youth, was examined by Sul Ross State University biologists this week.
"It's not extraordinary," said Sul Ross biologist James Scud-day of the Siamese twins. "It happens once in every 50,000 to 100,000 births."
The prairie rattler, shooting its forked tongues from both heads, is about a month old and 9 1/2 inches long, Scudday said.
"The fact that it has lived this long is the unique thing about it. It probably won't live too long and may be used as a pickled specimen." The rattler's ability to strike effectively and thus earn its food is probably impaired by its twin heads. Its "synchronization," Scudday said, would be off. The dominant head, the left, is more active than the right and apparently does the "thinking" of the reptile.
"He tries to hold his heads up... but the right one is too heavy for him," he said.

'Sour Grapes' Claims Bean

FORT WORTH (AP) — Apollo 12 astronaut Alan Bean labels as "sour grapes" Russian criticism of the United States for manned rather than unmanned moon flights.
"If you want to find out what's going on, you go right to the source," the fourth American to walk the lunar surface told a news conference Thursday.
"It just takes a man on the scene to do a real good job."
Bean, who spent his childhood here, said the near disaster of the Apollo 13 mission and Russia's success with an unmanned moon flight does not justify Soviet criticism.
"I think that's a grand success that they had," he said, but he asserted that whatever scientific information can be gathered by a machine is "increased a thousand-fold when men get there."

Teachers Paid By Installments

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — San Felipe School District teachers are being paid by installments over 10 months for the two extra weeks they worked in August through early start of the school year.
The board explained it does not have the money in hand to settle with the teachers, because the fiscal year of the Texas Education Agency does not start until Sept. 1.
An attempt to raise a loan of $33,000 from a local bank to cover the shortfall failed.

Average Price $43 An Acre

AUSTIN (AP) — Top bidders paid $1,407,000 for 32,711 acres of oil and gas leases on University of Texas lands, Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler reported Thursday.
The average price was $43 an acre.
The highest bid was made by Humble Oil & Refining Co. on a 469-acre tract in Ward County for $158,000. Hunt Oil Co. was second highest with $80,000 for 320 acres in Winkler County.
Texas Pacific Oil Co. bought a total of $298,500 in leases, and Hunt Oil Co. spent $280,000.

Kiwanis Install Officers, Directors

New officers and directors of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club were installed Thursday night at the Howard County Junior College.
Officers are Jack Worsham, president; Don Lovelady and Bob Bradbury, vice presidents; and Delaine Crawford, secretary-treasurer. Directors are Ben Bancroft, Louis McKnight, Billy Smith and S. A. Walker.
The Midland Kiwanis Club presented the district's lieutenant governor banner to John Coffey, lieutenant governor of district 22 and a member of the Big Spring Kiwanis Club.

San Angelo Sets Cowboy Fiesta

The 1970 San Angelo Cowboy Fiesta will begin Saturday, Nov. 7th, 1970, at 2:00 p.m. at the San Angelo Fairgrounds, according to Clovis Olsak, president, matching Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio and Don McLaughlin, Fort Collins, Colo. The Saturday event will feature the 12 calf matched roping plus an invitational jackpot calf roping.
Sunday, Nov. 8th, at 2:00 p.m. the 17th annual invitational steer roping contest will begin with 20 top toppers roping four steers each.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state Parole Board plans to transfer a number of first-offense marijuana offenders from reformatories to hospitals, with treatment up to one year planned. The move is legal under a new state law.

Texans Shiver In Wintry Air

By The Associated Press
A wintry chill spread over nearly all of Texas today and as much as five inches of snow helped send thermometers nosediving in the Panhandle.

Except for clouds over extreme South Texas and a little overcast near the Red River, around Laredo on the Mexican border and along the Upper Texas Coast, skies cleared behind a wet and blustery cold front which swept the length of the state Thursday.

FIVE INCHES OF SNOW

There was still five inches of snow on the ground at Perryton in the northeast corner of the Panhandle, and the mercury dropped to 26 degrees.

Dalhart on the opposite side of the Panhandle also received five inches of snow but most of it had melted, and much of a two-inch fall disappeared at Amarillo. Snow flurries but not enough to measure ranged as far south as Plainview.

Early morning marks at other points included Amarillo, Dalhart and Lubbock 30 and Plainview 31, while it was still 68 at Brownsville on the southern tip of the state. Readings were mostly in the 40s and 50s elsewhere.

The frontal system surged as far south as the Brownsville area before dawn, stretching from there across the Gulf of Mexico into Louisiana. Icy winds still blew in some sections, gusting up to 38 miles per hour at Wichita Falls.

Brisk thunderstorms developed in many areas as the storm blew through, and the sighting of a funnel cloud in the air 10 miles south of Houston caused a tornado warning to go up for parts of Harris and Liberty counties. It apparently did not touch ground.

NEAR BLIZZARD
Rainfall fell at the rate of two inches per hour along the coast from Texas City to Port O'Connor and lighter amounts were recorded in other coastal areas.

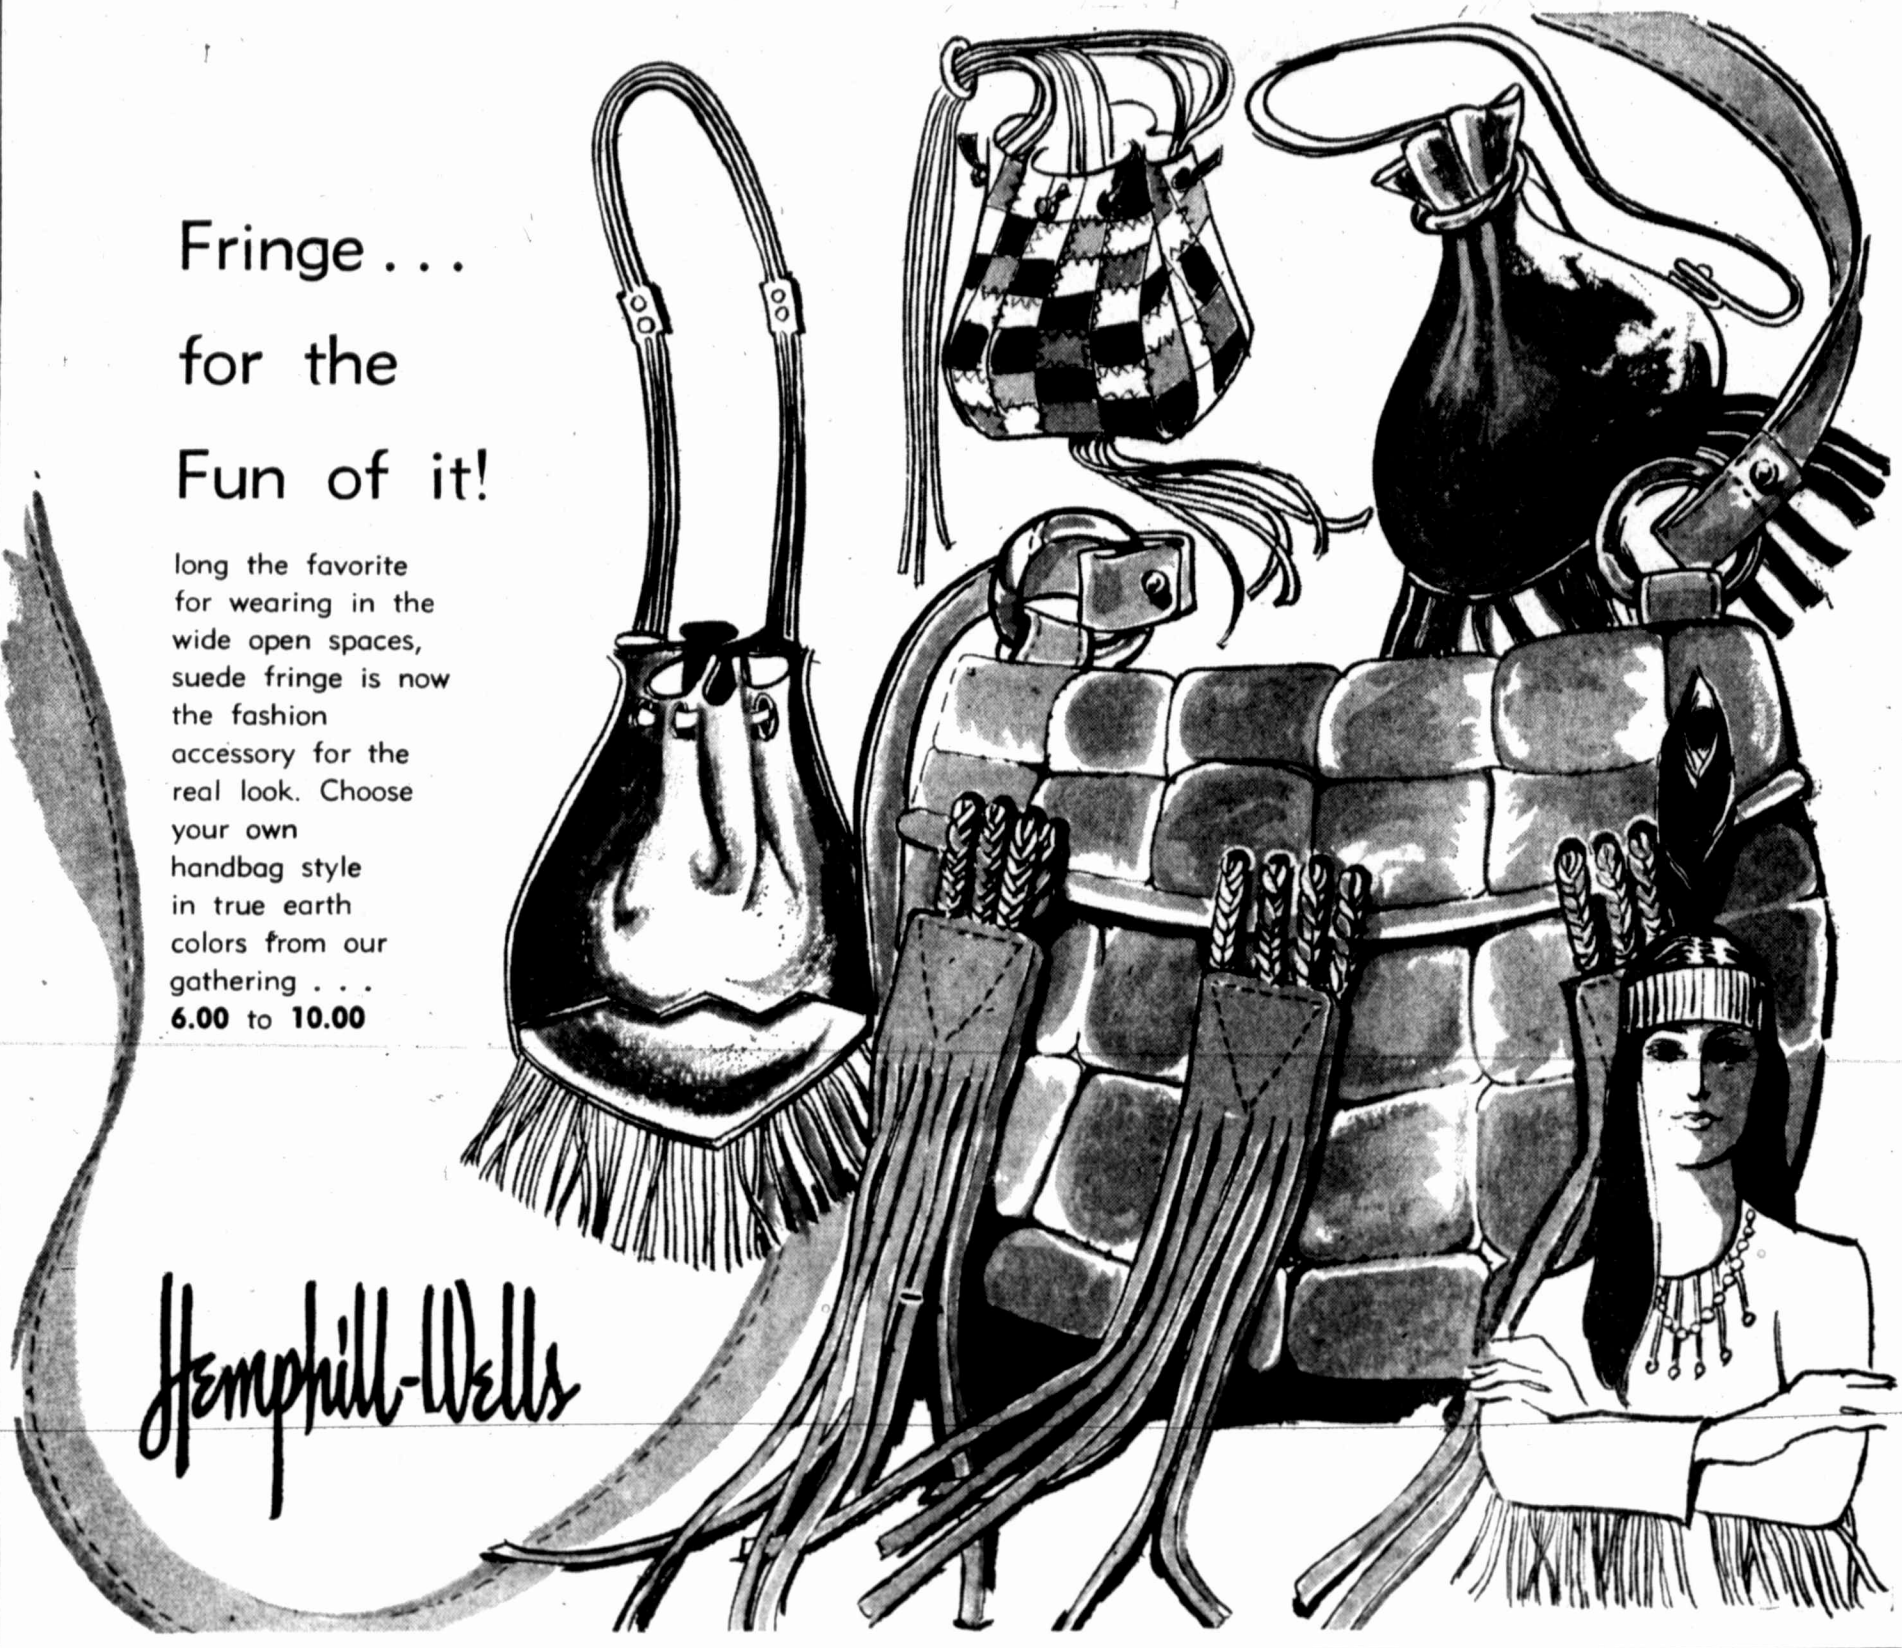

Near-blizzard conditions lasted most of Thursday in the Panhandle, where temperatures climbed to only 34 degrees at Amarillo and 41 at Dalhart.

Summery warmth before the cold front's arrival sent the mercury climbing to 90 at Brownsville and Lufkin, 92 at Alice and 95 at McAllen.

Forecasts promised fair weather in all sections but another cold night, with lows in the 30s over West and North Central Texas and the 40s in other sections.

Dallas Braces For Attack Of Madness Before Game

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Dallas' annual mad football weekend begins today about dusk as Oklahoma and Texas fans converge on the center of the downtown district. It's a free-wheeling, frothing, guzzling, betting crowd that goes into a yearly frenzy of noise and high jinks about dusk. It's the sports celebration of the year — any year. They come by plane—commercial, charter and private. They come by automobile—limousine, coupe, hot-rod, jalopy and sports car. They come by foot. All to see Texas and Oklahoma play football Saturday in the Cotton Bowl.

And then as dusk falls, most of them gather in Dallas' old hotel district at the corner of Commerce and Akard streets and fan out from there. The exuberance, the sheer excitement and buffoonery are rampant. Walk under the windows of the Adolphus or Baker hotels, or most any other building of easy access, and you might get a beer can on your head at best. At worst, it might be a half full bottle of liquor, or a water-filled bag of water. You might get cut by flying glass as the crowd pushes through a plate glass window. It's happened before. Some unfortunate have been beaten, knifed, or had their pockets picked. It's all happened before.

PRETTY GIRLS
More fortunate persons get kissed by pretty girls or handsome college-type men—depending on the sex of the recipient. There are hotel parties, one in nearly every room. But the rooms pretty well empty themselves of occupants as dusk approaches — and the growing crowd goes into the streets. There are yells for the Sooners and yells of "Hook 'em Horns!"

"D-AND-D" ARRESTS
Police try to quell the merry-makers they believe are getting out of hand, but it's a hard, almost impossible chore. And it's hard to tell a dangerous youth from one who's merely extremely happy and excited. Last year there may have been 351, 417 or 508 arrests, depending on who quoted the figures. But the jails were full, that's a certainty. But last year, most observers believed, the crowd was not so bad as in other years. In 1968, not the worst year, there were 653 arrests. Most of the arrests are for officers near the Akard-Commerce corner tonight, augmented by 75 men from the Texas Department of Public Safety and the Dallas County sheriff's office.

Some of the "fans" may not see the football game, but they'll have a great time — barring a Saturday morning headache.

The Cotton Bowl holds only about 73,000 — but the downtown crowds are usually estimated at around twice that. See ya at the brawl.

Dogs At Fault

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Sheep raisers have complained to a legislative agricultural committee that marauding dogs big amounts are made in the sharp decline of sheep farms since Dallas police plan to have 600 1950, from 15,000 to 2,000 today.
