PRESIDENT CALLS FOR SUPPORT OF PUBLIC

Bill Aimed At Dope Pushers Signed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon today signed a drug bill aimed at drug and narcotics pushers, asking public support for an all-out fight against drug use by young people.

Enforcement tools provided by the new law, plus the support of all citizens, may "save the lives of thousands of young people who might otherwise be hooked on drugs," Nixon said.

"In order for the laws to mean anything they must have the support of the public," he said.

The drug bill eases somewhat the penalties for narcotics and drug users, stiffens penalties for professional drug traffickers and extends federal controls over previously unregulated drugs.

Nixon, addressing himself to "all of you who may be seeing this signing ceremony or hearing it," said drug use among people is a national crisis.

The ceremony took place at the downtown Washington headquarters of the Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

The new law de-emphasizes punishment of drug users in favor of educational programs aimed at preventing a person from taking up the habit. It reduces the crime of possessing marijuana from a felony to a misdemeanor.

But senators and representatives, with White House backing, wrote in stiffer penalties for pushers of narcotics and dangerous drugs, tightened restrictions on their legitimate sale and manufacture and armed federal narcotics agents with "no knock" search authority.

Inclusion of the no-knock provision, which allows officers with a warrant to enter a premise without announcing themselves, sparked a minor filibuster in the Senate and a fight in the House during the year and a half the bill was before Congress. On final passage, less than a month before the congressional elections, the President got what he wanted.

Included in the law is a provision for a study of marijuana effects federal officials hope will be given the same respectful response as the 1964 surgeon general's report statistically linking cigarettes and lung cancer.

Until that report is in, one year from now, the Nixon administration remains, in the words of Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, "diametrically opposed" to any relaxation of laws prohibiting possession and use of marijuana.

The same study commission is required to present within two years a report on causes of drug abuse.

Possession of marijuana, previously a felony under federal law, is reduced to a misdemeanor. Judges are empowered to grant probation, parole or dismissal of charges in cases involving first offenders.

'Pilot Error' Puts Generals In Red Hands

MOSCOW (AP) — Two American diplomats reported from the Soviet-Turkish border today that "a pilot error" caused a light plane with two U.S. generals on board to land in Soviet Armenia six days ago.

An embassy spokesman said the two diplomats met the generals, their American pilot and Turkish escort officer at the guest house where they are being detained just a few miles from the border.

He said the four men are being held "in quite comfortable circumstances" and apparently have not been severely interrogated.

FREAK WIND
The pilot told the diplomats that a freak gust of wind caught the unarmed, two-engine plane last Wednesday and blew it across the border. When the pilot regained control of the plane he found himself over the Soviet town of Leninakan, but mistook it for the Turkish town of Kars.

The spokesman said the pilot then made a routine landing at Leninakan airport, still believing that he was in Turkey.

The diplomats reported the generals in good health. They are Maj. Gen. Edward C. D. Scherrer, chief of the U.S. military mission in Turkey, and Brig. Gen. Claude McQuarrie Jr.

The U.S. government said the violation of Soviet air space was "clearly accidental," due to bad weather, and asked for the speedy release of the four men and the plane. But a blast in Tass gave no indication that the Kremlin was preparing to let them go.

The Soviet news agency said the Foreign Ministry presented notes to the governments of the United States and Turkey strongly protesting the "unlawful intrusion" of Soviet territory. The notes said the intrusion was "not a chance violation of Soviet air space" but was a "direct result of the general military activity of the United States in areas adjoining the Soviet Union."

Way To Skip Draft Hinted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr has offered a possible way to duck military service for some lucky ticket holders from the nation's first draft lottery.

He established a policy Monday that permits men who drew numbers over 195 in the December, 1969, lottery to drop their student, occupational, fatherhood or hardship deferments and declare themselves IA before the year ends.

Exposure to the draft for any part of the year counts for the entire year, Tarr said, and the candidates are then moved to a less vulnerable category in 1971.

Tarr said number 195 "has been projected as the highest number which any local board can reach" in 1970 and higher numbers appear safe as the Vietnam war de-escalates.

The procedure also would be "helpful in gaining an accurate picture of the nation's manpower situation," he said.

'BIG FIB' DATA Army Strips Two Honors From General

SAIGON (AP) — The U. S. Army announced tonight it is stripping a brigadier general of two honors, including the nation's third highest award for valor, because they were based on fabricated citations.

An announcement from Army headquarters said, however, that the investigation has so far shown conclusively that the general, Eugene P. Forrester, was not aware of the fabrication.

It was the first known time in Vietnam that the Army had revoked such awards from a general officer.

Forrester, 44, received the Silver Star, the nation's third highest award for valor in combat, and the Distinguished Flying Cross on Oct. 15, before leaving his post as assistant commander of the U. S. 1st Air Cavalry Division. He is now assistant chief of staff for civil operations and rural development at the U. S. Command headquarters in Saigon.

Kidnaping In Ecuador

QUITO, Ecuador (AP) — The commander of Ecuador's air force was kidnaped early today, the defense Ministry announced.

It said Gen. Cesar Rohn Sandoval, 45, was abducted at 1:15 a. m. in his car.

Authorities arrested two sons of ex-President Jorge Zavala and a son of a former provincial chief in connection with the kidnaping.

$100,000 KO Bared

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — About $100,000 in cash and jewels was stolen by six masked bandits who issued engraved invitations for about 100 ringleader patrons to attend a party after the Ali-Quarry fight, police said today.

After the guests arrived, the hosts ordered them to a basement to disrobe, robbed them and then fled with two women as hostages, the police said.

As each group of persons arrived Monday night at a Northside address, police said, they were met at the door by a woman. As they stepped inside, a bandit wearing a ski mask and carrying a sawed-off shotgun greeted them.

The guests then were taken into the basement where they were forced to disrobe and lie down on the floor, officers said they were told. Their jewelry and cash were taken.

One of the persons robbed told police that people were "piled on top of each other at one point."

Lindsay Assails Nixon For Campaign Tactics

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay has charged that President Nixon is personally accountable for introducing the tactics of fear into campaign efforts to eliminate his political foes.

The President's 1970 political strategy "has spread a cloud of suspicion and mistrust over our whole nation," Lindsay said Monday night at the Family of Man dinner at the New York Hilton Hotel.

"This is one of the few campaigns in memory in which men apparently seek not merely to defeat their opponents but literally to eliminate them from our public life," the mayor said.

Lindsay, a registered Republican, accused the Republican President and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew of abandoning party principles to claim "that opposition to their policies somehow is an incitement to unrest and violence."

"It is the voice of national leadership—backed by writers, researchers and senior advisers from the White House and the President of the United States," he said. "It strangely echoes the frightening voice of the fifties—when 'soft on communism' was the all-purpose weapon."

HONORABLE GOALS
Lindsay, who has repeatedly denied rumors that he might switch his party affiliation, declared: "I believe that America and the Republican party traditionally stand for honorable goals honorably sought.

MAYOR JOHN V. LINDSAY

"But when the President and his lieutenants tell us to be afraid, when they pretend that respected candidates condone violence—as though Weathermen were running in this election—then they are deserting the essential principles of both country and party."

DEFENDS FIVE
The mayor defended by name five liberal Democrats and one liberal Republican who, he said, were being unjustly attacked. They were Democratic Sens. Albert Gore of Tennessee, Vance Hartke of Indiana and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts; the Rev. Joseph Duffey, Democratic candidate for senator from Connecticut; Sen. Ralph Yarborough, who lost in the Texas Democratic primary, a Republican Sen. Charles E. Goodell of New York, whom Lindsay has previously endorsed.

Lindsay received the "Family of Man" gold medal which the dinner sponsor, the Council of Churches of the City of New York, gave last year to Nixon.

Others who received awards were Kingman Brewster Jr., president of Yale University, and Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, undersecretary-general of the United Nations.

Chief Executive's Key Goal: Heads-I-Win-Tails-You-Lose

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon is resuming his energetic off-year election campaigning after clearing the way for a heads-I-win-tails-you-lose verdict from the voters on Nov. 3.

Well in advance of Nixon's departure for Republican rallies tonight in the Florida resort cities of Palm Beach and Miami Beach, press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler spelled out for the first time the chief executive's precise campaign goal.

"To see how closely we can tighten the gap of tradition," those 11 words could mean Nixon is lowering his election-day sights and has abandoned hope of a Republican surge next Tuesday. Or they could signal a White House effort to set the stage for post-election claims of a triumphal Nixon intervention if GOP candidates make only a respectable showing.

Ziegler stated Monday that, traditionally, the president's party loses about 30 House seats in off-year balloting and "doesn't fare well in the Senate."

He noted, as has Nixon in some campaign speeches, that 120 years have passed since another president, Zachary Taylor, entered the White House—as did Nixon—to face a Congress controlled by the opposition party.

CRYSTAL CLEAR

Ziegler's message was clear: Nixon is fighting uphill because all presidents elected from Taylor to Nixon went into off-year elections with the benefit of congressional majorities.

Thus, it would seem, the White House will be prepared to speak well of Nixon's efforts on the stump no matter what happens.

At the same time, Republican hopes of gaining control of the Senate have faded in recent weeks.

Yet Nixon doggedly continues his campaign for Republican candidates of his choosing, whether they are front runners or underdogs. And when he doesn't care to identify with GOP candidates, he stays away —as he has in New York, Montana, Washington and Virginia, each with either a seemingly unbeatable Democrat in the saddle or a friendly and apt-to-succeed third-party candidate or independent in the running against GOP opposition.

Accused Avers He Didn't Kill Five

SANTA CRUZ, Calif. (AP) — The bearded young man accused of murdering five persons at a luxurious hilltop mansion denies doing it, public defender James Jackson says.

Jackson, court-appointed to defend John Linley Frazier, said at a news conference Monday his client has told him he did not kill the victims and didn't know them.

GAS CHAMBER

Frazier, 24, was arrested last Friday as he slept in a dilapidated cowshed where he lived—less than a half mile from the mansion where four days earlier five people were found shot dead and thrown into a swimming pool.

The victims were Dr. Victor Ohta, 45, his wife, Virginia, 43, their sons Derrick, 12, and Taggart, 11, and his secretary, Dorothy Cadwallader, 38.

Jackson said Frazier's actions "are not like those of a normal person... He does not understand the gas chamber. And he does not know right from wrong."

The attorney said Frazier's personality "changed radically" after an auto accident last May in which he suffered a head injury.

PLEA OF INSANITY

One person, described as a close friend, told a newsman that Frazier was "a fairly straight family-oriented sort of a guy" until about May, when he quit his job as an auto mechanic and "turned almost overnight into another wired-up hippie."

He separated from his wife of four years a short time later.

Jackson said he had no immediate plans to change Frazier's "not guilty" plea to a plea of insanity because he feels the evidence is all circumstantial.

But Jackson said David Marlow, former chief of the University of California psychology department on the Santa Cruz campus, had talked to Frazier four times and "is expected to testify that Frazier is not mentally competent."

Happy Birthday, Baby SPECIAL MESSAGE FROM HER 'HERO'

"Happy Birthday, Baby — From 15,000 Miles Away"

That's a special message today to Mrs. Karl Axelrad, 3608 Parkway Road.

It's from her husband, M. Sgt. Karl Axelrad, who currently is in Vietnam with a supply squadron.

Some weeks ago, Sgt. Axelrad wrote The Herald, asking to purchase front page space for the special birthday greeting.

There's no charge, and this might not be as large type as the sergeant wanted, but the thought is here, and doubtless many other persons join in wishing Mrs. Axelrad "many happy returns."

Nine Pupils Hospitalized By 'Bad' Food

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Nine Edgewood High School pupils were in satisfactory condition Tuesday with symptoms similar to a food poisoning attack that struck nearly 200 pupils and teachers last week.

A total of 178 Edgewood pupils and teachers were treated for food poisoning Friday in Laredo while on a football trip. Health officials blamed the affliction on fried chicken bought here.

A hospital spokesman said the nine pupils under care here Monday were among those who went to the Laredo game.

Jose L. Gonzalez, director of the Laredo-Webb County Health Department, said Monday tests showed fried chicken bought in San Antonio "definitely" caused the food poisoning.

"All other foods brought by the students from San Antonio and those purchased (in Laredo) were also analyzed in the laboratory for bacterial contaminants with no significant results," a report released by Gonzalez said.

He said soft drinks from concession stands at the football game were being tested in Austin.

The health department said doctors reported several pupils who became ill actually were not victims of food poisoning. They said it was a case of "mind over matter" for those particular pupils.

Edgewood School District officials announced Sunday they will make an investigation to find the cause of the affliction.

Jerry Callahan Still Satisfactory

George G. (Jerry) Callahan, 42, is still in satisfactory condition in Galveston's John Sealy Hospital following an accident Sunday at the Cosden Oil & Chemical Co.

Callahan, an operator on the company's polystyrene unit, received burns on more than 64 per cent of his body when a chemical mixing tank overflowed. Some of the mixture got on him and caught fire.

'MRS. KENNEDY IS LIKE AN INDESCRIBABLY FRESH FLOWER'

'Don't Be Frightened Of This House'

By LADY BIRD JOHNSON
Part Three
TUESDAY, November 26, 1963

Now the time has come to get the wheels of life rolling again — so Mr. J. B. West, Chief Usher of the White House, came out to The Elms this morning and we talked about moving three suites of furniture to occupy the rooms that will soon be vacant — my bedroom suite to go into Mrs. Kennedy's room, Lynda Bird's probably into Caroline's, and Luci's into John-John's. We discussed what furniture could be stored at the White House and how much I would need to send to commercial or government warehouses. It was one of my first encounters with Mr. West, and I have the feeling that I will be seeing a lot more of him.

At 3 this afternoon came the most important event of the day. Mrs. Kennedy had asked me to come to the White House to discuss the housekeeping details, which any woman moving out would talk over with any woman moving in. A lovely tea table was spread, and we sat down together in the private sitting room — the family sitting room on the second floor called the West Hall.

DEPEND ON TWO
She was orderly, composed, and radiating her particular sort of aliveness, charm and warmth. Mrs. Kennedy is like an indescribably fresh flower — so I won't try to describe her, except that there is an element of steel and stamina somewhere within her to keep her going on as she is. She told me that always depend on were Mr. West, who knew more about it than anybody else, and Mr. James Ketchum, the Curator.

She said, "Lady Bird, never tell a waiter if you don't like this particular type of cookie that you would rather have a macaroon, because you will not see that particular butter again for two weeks. He'll be gone on vacation or working in another part of the building. Just tell everything to Mr. West."

YES, YES, YES
She told me she would like to ask a favor of me. The way she asked this, if it had been a request to chop off one's right hand one would have said, "sure," just a minute. What she wanted was to let the school continue on the third floor where Caroline and about 20 of her young playmates in the Kindergarten and the first grade go to school. They will make other plans after Christmas, but they thought it would not be a good idea to disrupt the school right now. It was an easy, most delightful thing to say "Yes" to.

She went on to say a lot of things like, "Don't be frightened of this house — some of the happiest years of my marriage have been spent here — you will be happy here." In fact, she repeated that over and over, as though she were trying to reassure me. Then we got up and walked around from room to room so that I could see how my furniture would fit into her bedroom. We went into her sitting room (or perhaps it should be called a dressing room) — one of the most exquisite rooms I have ever seen, with the closet door covered with bright and beautiful trompe l'oeils — little pictures of "Profiles in Courage." Caroline at two, a yacht at Hyannis Port — all the things that mean something to her — a stamp or trademark that will not be repeated by anybody for a long time. For me, so much work will have to come that I expect the room will be turned into an office rather than a dressing room, and it will get short shrift, at least these first few months.

'VERY RICH'
We talked about the staff. She said that the French chef, Rene Verdon, was "absolutely divine," although everything he did for her was "very rich." She used the words "Jack never likes those rich things that Rene does." Neither one of us noticed the present tense — or rather neither one of us showed that we had noticed it. She said Rene has absolutely no temperament, which is "divine in a Frenchman" — that I was Life in the White House at first was not all pomp and circumstance. Mrs. Johnson relates in "A White House Diary." It also included cold suppers while waiting for the busy President, long and lonely hours, and even lost weight.

In her diary, Mrs. Johnson recalls some of those aspects of life in January, 1964:

"One thing — for the first three or four weeks in this job, I was cold all the time. I wanted a sweater when nobody else wanted a sweater. I didn't have any appetite and I lost about five pounds. After I moved into the White House, for a while I found myself walking on tiptoe and talking in whispers. That's about over now. One can't go on doing that. But there has been any sense of elation at any time on reaching the place we now occupy? No. None at all. Just a sense of how hard the road is going to be and the determination to make these 12 months — 11 or whatever they are — as good as I can.

"And then there is another thing that's gone unmentioned but not unnoticed by me. It just happens that every night at dinner since Nov. 22, Lyndon has said grace or asked some appropriate member of the group to return thanks. That's a habit I like and have tried to foster for about 29 years. Somehow I have never gotten it over, and yet here he's the one who does it. Also, he has been to church every Sunday since then and occasionally on days in between — New Year's or Christmas. There have been at least two Sundays when I have missed church but he hasn't missed one. We've been to the Lutheran, the Episcopal, and once we tried to go to the Christian Church but that day there was a gathering of all sorts of denominations. We must go to the Christian Church soon. I am not going to say how glad I am about all this for fear it might somehow evaporate, but I have the feeling that it's not going to."

NEEDS HELP
"It would be the understatement of a lifetime to say that a man of good sense doesn't know how much he needs help and solace in this job. Lyndon

AMENDMENTS EXPLAINED
Proposed Change In Makeup Of Building Commission

(Fourth of a series)
Proposed Amendment No. 4 establishes the State Building Commission as a three-member commission to be appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. Members would serve six-year terms on a staggered basis, and the governor would designate biennially a member as chairman.

The Texas Legislative Council points out that this function of state government is operating under a section approved by the Texas electorate in 1954, which also created a State Building Fund into which is paid the revenue remaining from a 2-cent levy on the $100 valuation state ad valorem tax after the payment of the Confederate pensions. This tax may not be levied after Dec. 31, 1976, because of a constitutional amendment adopted in November, 1968.

The State Supreme Court Building was the first to be constructed under the amendment. Since then the Capitol Complex has continued to expand.

The arguments for:
"1. The governor, attorney general, and chairman of the Board of Control do not have the time to consider all of the details of the additional duties imposed upon them as ex officio members of the State Building Commission.
"2. The governor has recommended the creation of the three-man appointive commission as proposed by the amendment in the belief that the boots that were on the riderless horse in the funeral procession. There was also a folded flag.

Then we went into the two rooms that are now Caroline's and John-John's. And such exquisite gay little confections of rooms — Caroline's especially, delicate pink-and-white sprigged material on a canopy bed, with pictures, pictures, pictures everywhere — some of them crayons done by the children themselves, I think, and I believe one or two painted by Mrs. Kennedy. There were several Kennedy family members running in and out of doors as we wended our very business-like way through the halls.

BRAVE HEART
Finally, about 5, we went to the East Room, where Lyndon was meeting with the Alliance

LBJ 'Has Been To Church Every Sunday Since Then'

does know, and I am so glad he's simply and straightforwardly going about seeking "Another aspect of her new job," Mrs. Johnson relates, was waiting long hours for dinner with the President while he was involved in important meetings in his office:

"I got word that I could expect Lyndon in about 40 minutes. He was going to have a swim first and then would be home for dinner, which sounded too lucky. But anyway, it didn't turn out that way. About 9 p.m., I heard that he had returned from the swimming pool to the Cabinet Room, which pertended no good; and that he was meeting with Rusk, McNamara, Bundy — about 14 people.

"As the hours went on — 9, 10:30, 11 — I began to wonder what I could do about it. With 14 men of such stature involved, I didn't quite dare do anything. I got a bulletin from the office about every 30 minutes advising me that they would let me know when Lyndon started to leave. Pretty soon I asked everyone in the kitchen to go home except two — one to cook and one to serve. That was about 9:30. About 10:30 I ate my own supper, rather forlornly, on a tray and went to bed at 12:30.

LOVES BOTH
"This is my problem which I must solve, if I'm to fill a useful role here where I find myself. My personal request to the Lord is that I can somehow be tactful enough, and gay enough, and sometimes even mean enough, to get Lyndon home at a reasonable hour for dinner and bed, or at least to get him to come home, bringing with him the documents of his office, so that he can work here in a more relaxed atmosphere.
"It would belabor the obvious for Progress members to reassure them of our country's continued strength and interest in them. We took our seats very quietly behind him and listened to his speech. It is doubtful that anyone else is a star when Mrs. Kennedy is present — but all the more my heart went out to the bravery of Lyndon, who marches into this circumstance with so much determination and not all the preparation that one would have sought, if one could have foreseen one's destiny at 16.

In the evening I went home to dinner at The Elms and the companionship of a few close friends.

NEXT: I am about to catch my second wind.

(From the book, "A White House Diary," by Lady Bird Johnson, published by Holt, Rinehart and Winston Inc., Copyright (c) 1970 by Claudia T. Johnson.)

to say that on nights like this I think of Lyndon making his State of the Union speech or his first speech to Congress and of the two gentlemen standing behind him on the dais — both gentlemen I love — and I know that he must get through the next 12 months as hale and hearty and strong as possible.

"It would belabor the obvious to say that every time I pass that portrait of President Woodrow Wilson — painted when the strains of office lay heavily upon him — it says to me: 'Have his portrait painted soon.'"

Many Doctors Still Won't Perform Abortions In NY

Houston, Tex. (AP) — The liberalization of abortion laws has not broadened the views of the medical community but has polarized them, a New York physician says.

A small proportion of doctors on hospital staffs must perform abortions because of the unwillingness of their colleagues, Dr. Robert E. Hall, associate professor of obstetrics and gynecology at Columbia University said Tuesday.

WARNS OF TERRORISTS SPREAD — Mayor Jean Drapeau of Montreal is tight lipped during a victory speech after winning 92 per cent of the vote in the Montreal mayoralty election Sunday. The 54-year-old incumbent in the race for mayor said that acts of kidnaping and political killing such as have occurred in recent weeks in Quebec Province could spread to the United States if allowed to continue. He said he is at the top of a terrorist execution list.

Political Kidnaping Will Spread To U. S.?

MONTREAL (AP) — The mayor of Montreal, who says he is marked for assassination, thinks that if political kidnaping is allowed to continue in Quebec Province, it will spread to the United States.

nearby, Drapeau said the FLQ has prepared a list of government figures and others it wants assassinated in an attempt at revolution. "My name is on top," said the mayor, who was re-elected in a landslide vote Sunday.

Cross' wife emerged from seclusion Monday night to broadcast a message to her husband and his kidnapers over a local French-language station. She said she was confident Cross is alive and well, and she pleaded with the kidnapers to release him without delay. She said her experience was "agonizing."

TOP TARGET — "Someone hearing about what has happened here will start doing it."

AWAITING TRIAL — The FLQ kidnaped British Trade Commissioner James Cross on Oct. 5 and Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte five days later. The terrorists murdered Laporte on Oct. 17 after the government refused to free 23 FLQ members serving prison terms or awaiting trial.

RISK IS GREATER — A similar thing happened early in the century when hospitals "evaded their responsibility for prescribing contraception" and outside clinics were set up to provide this service, Hall said, but warned that the medical risk of abortion is greater.

District Director Addresses B&PW Club Here Tonight

Mrs. Eva Bauer, director of District 8, National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Inc., will be in Big Spring this evening to address the local chapter at a dinner in Coker's Restaurant.

MRS. EVA BAUER

Mrs. Bauer, a member of the El Paso B&PW Club, has a distinguished record in club work, from local to national levels, as well as service to numerous other organizations in her home city. For almost 25 years, she has been a secretary in the Loan and Discount Department of the State National Bank in El Paso, where she has been dedicated to many civic projects. She is affiliated with the Women's Division of the Chamber of Commerce, Council for the Aging, Hotel Dieu Hospital Auxiliary, Catholic Daughters of America (where she is Grand Regent of Court No. 1422), St. Patrick's Altar Society and Beautify El Paso Association.

The local B&PW chapter climaxed its observance of National Business Women's Week with a guest dinner Friday. The club, headed by Miss Moveida Rhine, has 45 members who are dedicated to the organizations aim of elevating the standards for women in business and the professions through education along lines of industrial scientific and vocational activities.

Through the dedication of its early leaders, members of B&PW, as well as other groups of working women, have been accepted in, and share the prestige of the business and professional world. Through its programs on basic social, economic and political questions, the federation provides a medium for individual growth and group understanding by which members prepare themselves for, and assume, leadership roles on top levels.

SCHOLARSHIPS

The B&PW Foundation established scholarships and provides funds for training and education to develop the capabilities of business women. It conducts surveys and research into the economic, social and psychological problems which effect women throughout the world.

The international organization, now represented in 33 countries, established the Judge Sarah T. Hughes World Friendship fund to assist women from other countries to study in the United States for professional advancement. Also, it established and supports a training program for Army nurses in the Republic of China, building a residence for Chinese nurses in Taipei, Formosa.

Beta Omicrons Have Study On Friendship

Mrs. Bobby Hughes, 2104 Cecilia, was hostess and Mrs. Don McCray, cohostess, for the Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi meeting Monday. The program on "Giving and Receiving Friendship" was presented by Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. McCray.

Pastor, Soloist Attend Meeting

Mrs. W. L. Graham was guest soloist at the first quarterly convention Sunday afternoon at Johnson Chapel, African Methodist Episcopal Church, Odessa. Mrs. Graham, accompanied by Mrs. Lillian Sledge, organist and minister of music for the chapel, sang "I Trust In God" and "My Desire."

Slides On Travel Viewed By Club

Miss Juanita Hamlin showed slides of a recent trip at Thursday's TOPS Plate Pushers meeting at the Salvation Army Activity Room. Miss Hamlin traveled to Washington, D.C.; Philadelphia, Pa.; Virginia, Delaware, Kentucky and Niagara Falls, visiting many historical sites and presidents' homes.

Local Guests

Guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson, 1202 Pennsylvania, were their daughter, Mrs. J. M. Davidson, and children, Davy, Mickey, Casey and Doll-Ellen, of San Angelo; and Mrs. J. L. Brunson and son, Jimmy, of Bronte.

representatives of over 40 national women's organizations in career fields who exchange viewpoints on the future of America's business and professional women in those fields. With the encouragement of President John F. Kennedy, the federation inaugurated the move to establish state commissions on the Status of Women, which has led to the creation of such commissions in all but a few of the states.

THREE AREAS

The program of B&PW is developed within three areas of interest to career women — personal development, civic participation and world affairs. Programs that are planned in the area of career advancement are aimed to enable members to realize their own potential, providing confidence and initiative to accept career opportunities.

Civic participation is stressed, for as the individual grows, the knowledge may be used for the good of the community, country and world.

LEGISLATION

Legislation is a vital portion of the B&PW program, with primary concern being legislation safeguarding the rights and accomplishments of women by discouraging discriminatory practices and by improving the status of women. Through unceasing efforts, B&PW has assisted actively in helping women earn equal pay legislation, equal opportunity for education, jury service for women, the merit system in government and in endorsing the Child Labor Amendment.

Blue Room Is Scene Of Party

A bridal shower Saturday at the Blue Room of Cosden Country Club honored Miss Pamela Susan Lancaster, bride-elect of William Preston Crutcher. The bride's colors of green and gold were used in the floral arrangement of pompon chrysanthemums and golden asters which accented the tea table. The table was covered with a cloth of cutwork floral squares alternated with lace squares, and crystal and silver appointments were used. Gifts were displayed on gold-covered tables.

Danish Wives Tell Of Country

A glimpse of Denmark was given by four wives of Danish student pilots at Webb Air Force Base at Monday's meeting of Xi Mu Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi. Mrs. Billy McDonald, 514 Washington Blvd., was the hostess with Miss Beverly Jones as cohostess.

Guest speakers were Mrs. Teddy Bresson, Mrs. Soeren Neilsen, Mrs. Preben Peterson and Mrs. Allen Svendsen. Texas is seven times the size of Denmark, the wives noted, saying that the United States is extremely big. The king of Denmark, as in Great Britain, is a figurehead and the prime minister is the governing figure. The main religion in the country is Lutheran, although the church is not as prominent in the people's lives in Denmark as it is in the U.S.

A Devotion For Today . . .
 "If you have faith as a grain of mustard seed . . . nothing will be impossible to you." (Matthew 17:20, RSV)
PRAYER: Our Father, may we never lose faith in Thee nor hope. Teach us to labor on in the work we are in that Thy way may be known to all peoples and Thy will done on earth as in heaven. Amen.

Race Between The Plow And The Stork

Intense research and development on food production for three decades won for Dr. Norman E. Borlaug the Nobel Prize last week.
 Borlaug is a farmer. His farmlands include the hungry countries of the world (funded importantly by the Rockefeller Foundation). His labors add up to a dramatic race between the plow and the stork. Borlaug's labors have achieved production of eight bushels of grain in India where two used to grow. It would be naive to say this is the best he and others working on the "Green Revolution" can achieve, but even so, the stork appears to be ahead in the race.
 Realism demands a pessimistic prediction.
 The birth rate simply advances faster than food production and distribution seems likely to advance. The optimistic part of the amazing work of Dr. Borlaug and many hundreds of other grain "breeders" around the world is that the progress they make gives encouragement to advocates of zero-population birth rates . . . in some parts of the world.
 Most people stay hungry. In a few parts of the world they are destined to remain so in the foreseeable future.
 Recognition of Dr. Borlaug emphasizes the undiminishing necessity for continued effort — maximum effort — to support research in many aspects of living on the planet, demand cross-disciplinary coordination and regular review to discover points of progress in birth rates, nutrition, food production, and all the rest.
 Dr. Borlaug's marvelous progress delays disaster for some peoples. Comparable progress on birth rates could offer hope to avert the disaster of famine for a great many.

Check Safety Of Charter Flights

The Federal Aviation Administration, since the tragic crash of the old Martin 404 chartered by Wichita State University, has been making an extra effort to clear the nation's airports of flying junk.
 It is important that the flying public cooperate with the FAA in this effort. Here are some things the FAA would like done:
 —Schools and groups should contact FAA flight standards offices to check on air-taxi companies and planes before contracting for charter transportation.
 —The flying public should be wary of "leasing" planes and "hiring" pilots and other dodges to get around flight safety rules.
 But one FAA official warns that the mere appearance of age in aircraft is sometimes deceptive — some old aircraft are maintained in excellent condition. So check with the FAA before chartering.

 Martha Calling-From Where?

WASHINGTON — All Washington is talking about Martha Mitchell. It isn't a question of what she is going to say, as there are no surprises in that any more.
 The big question that everyone is wondering about is "From where is she going to make her next telephone call?" As everyone knows, Mrs. Mitchell is always calling the press at some unearthly hour in the night, but she doesn't want her husband John to hear what she's saying.
A MONTH AGO, it was revealed she was making her calls from the bathroom. Last week, when she called a UPI reporter, she said she was speaking from the balcony of her Watergate apartment.
 No one knows where Martha Mitchell's next call is coming from. Perhaps I can speculate.
"HELLO, is this the United Press? This is Martha Mitchell . . . I'm calling from my shoe closet and I have to speak fast because my heels are killing me . . . I just thought you'd like to know what I think of that turncoat, John Lindsay. I think he should be hung by his fingernails . . . Yes, and that goes for Charles Goodell . . . Ouch! I just sat on a shoe tree . . . Yes, and they should both be crucified and be thrown out of the Republican Party . . . Listen, I have to go now . . . a hat box just fell on me and I think I woke up John. Toodle-oo."
 Three days later:
IN A WHISPER, "Hello . . . Life magazine, this is Martha Mitchell . . . I'd like to blast Sen. Gore . . . Can you put me in touch with someone who would be interested? . . . Thank you."
Billy Graham

Billy Graham

A dear friend of mine has an incurable illness. Please tell me how I can help prepare him for death. K.D.
 I am glad you are concerned about your friend, and by all means I think you should ascertain if he is ready to meet His Maker, and do all you can to help him to find Christ.
 But your question points up an attitude that has always concerned me. And that is this — that Christianity is needed only in times of crisis! You must have many friends who are out of Christ, and, though they are not threatened with immediate death, are really not ready to live, because they do not know Him who is the Way, the Truth, and the Life.
 Too many people use Christianity as a stop-gap in times of crisis, and tend to forget about Him who loved us and gave Himself for us, in normal times.
 Christianity is relevant to life. Paul said, "For me to live is Christ." But for many of us, our thoughts go out to Christ, only when we are faced with sorrow, death, disease, or trouble. This is a sort of paganism which is a far-cry from the first Christians whose lives were impelled and motivated by the reality of the Savior, His companionship, and His joy.

'FINE FRIENDS WE HAVE BACK AT THE BASE CAMP'

John Cuniff
 Classic Book By Samuelson

NEW YORK (AP) — An entire generation of Americans, thousands of professors included, owes its basic knowledge of economics to Dr. Paul Samuelson, recipient of the 1970 Nobel Prize in economics.
 Samuelson's massive "Foundations of Economic Analysis" was required reading in almost every college economics course and, in fact, was the only textbook in many of them. It covered everything.
 That this enormously successful book, a classic which Samuelson updates every few years, was hardly the basis for his selection is a testament to the breadth of his work.
 No one area of Samuelson's output, in fact, can be detached from the mass of his production. His writings and research covers the field generally and specifically: over-all theory, welfare economics, price theory, international trade.
 And while he has demonstrated an ability to write for the masses, as evidenced by a popular magazine column, the professor's greatest strengths are in the area of highly mathematical analysis.
 Samuelson is considered a Keynesian, meaning that much of his thinking appears to have been influenced by the late John Maynard Keynes, a British economist who believed in governmental involvement in order to moderate the business cycle. Keynes' approach was fiscal. He felt that government spending could be used to regulate the up-down cycles that have appeared regularly in industrial economies. He didn't fear budget deficits, and even suggested they might be used to "spend" a lagging economy into health.
 Many economists today consider Samuelson the foremost academic interpreter and systematizer of Keynes' theories, which therefore rests him, at least in a popular sense, against Prof. Milton Friedman and the monetarists.
 Friedman, who reportedly also was considered for the prize, believes that the economy is essentially stable if not interfered with by the federal government. A steady growth in money supply is viewed as sufficient fuel.
 In politics, Keynesians have usually been associated with Democrats and monetarists with the Republican party. Friedman, in fact, was the economic adviser to Sen. Barry Goldwater and still has entree to Washington.
 To some degree, however, the differences may be growing less stark as they are practiced. Each has had its failures, and economic practitioners today tend to be less doctrinaire than a decade ago.
 In the Nixon administration,

NEW YORK (AP) — What causes sore muscles, headaches, a general feeling of malaise and a firm conviction that things will be even worse tomorrow — symptoms that appear regularly every three years?
 It's not some dread tropical disease — it's a paint job on an apartment. And though it isn't an illness recognized by any medical authority, the recovery period is long and painful.
 So is the preparation.
 It's a two-day operation to transform our abode into a setting untouched by human fingerprints, and the logistics must be charted accordingly.
 Since I can get more meals in a restaurant that way, I always advocate doing the kitchen first, thus putting it out of commission for an extra day. A logical partner is the bathroom, and we throw in a couple of bedrooms for good measure. What we really should do is throw out the entire contents of those bedrooms.
 Instead we empty all the closets, taking down shoe racks, the holders and old empty boxes that might make it through one more Christmas, and remove pictures, lamps, mirrors and other impediments from the walls.
 The clothes get draped gracefully across the dining room chairs and the rest of the stuff goes into boxes that optimistically seek a resting place under the table among sister and brother boxes filled with junk from the kitchen cabinets.
 The table itself is covered with dishes, glasses, toasters, coffee pots, pans, blenders and everything else that needs a temporary home away from home. Leaning against the walls at various precarious angles are ironing board, drying rack, vacuum cleaner, window screens and any number of long-handled objects that are fugitives from the broom closet.
 Then all the furniture must be arranged in intimate little groupings in the center of the rooms to be painted. My husband supplies the brawn for the enterprise. I supply the brains, deciding which piece looks better atop the bed — the dresser, the bookcase or the night table.
 Once the first day's art work has been completed, all these things must be returned to their place of origin. The living room and the dining room and a few odd little alcoves and halls must be dismantled and the obstacle course through the house renolted.
 We've pretty well solved the second-day problem this time though. Our daughter is away at college so we just stacked everything in her newly painted room, firmly closed the door and hope one of her classmates will invite her home for Thanksgiving. That way he have until Christmas to get things straightened out.

To Your Good Health
 A Sneaky Type Of Ulcer

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you give me information about Hunter's ulcer? I had never heard of it until that was diagnosed as my trouble. Are these ulcers curable? Is there any danger of their being malignant? What causes them? — O.C.
 These are sneaky things, small ulcers of the bladder which occur as part of an attack of infection of the bladder — not that all such infections produce the ulcers, of course.
 I describe them as sneaky because they are so small that they can escape being found unless the bladder is distended in the course of a cystoscopic examination of the bladder. Then they become visible as tiny bleeding points in the bladder wall.
 They do not have any special tendency to become malignant, but they are not fun to possess. Principal symptoms are frequency of and distress during urination. The discomfort is worse when the bladder is distended — and because the infection, and accompanying swelling of tissues, reduces the capacity of the bladder, distension occurs more often.
 These ulcers are stubborn beasts. The underlying infection, of course, needs to be overcome. In addition, the ulcers can be treated locally by fulguration (a form of the "electric needle" technique) or by introducing medication into the bladder. The ulcers — and bladder infections — have an unwelcome knack of becoming chronic. Symptoms may wax, then return, and the wise thing to do with this sort of trouble is not to expect a single course of treatment to "cure it all." Keep a weather eye out for any recurrence, and start treatment without delay.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please tell me something about Meniere's disease. I understand it was named after a French physician more than 100 years ago. You would think in that length of time a cure of some sort would be known.—H.N.
 It's a difficult disease to treat, but that doesn't mean successful treatment is impossible. Newest successes to be reported are in the field of surgery, using a freezing technique, cryosurgery. But other treatments also are used effectively. The hundred years doesn't necessarily signify that a cure "ought" to be known. Epilepsy, cancer, infertility, arthritis, and a lot of other ailments have been known longer, but we are

 The Gem Of Friendship

Every week or so, I receive a telephoned report from a lady who describes a meeting of the "Friendship Breakfast Club."
NOW, OF ALL CLUBS, this would seem to be most practical — providing sustenance for both the body and the soul in one neat package.
 At each meeting, individual members keep their purpose in mind by providing a thought on friendship, and every time I note that activity, I am reminded of my grandfather, Thomas Jefferson Carroll.
GRANDFATHER regarded friendship highly, honoring its demands as he savored its rewards. His most memorable gift to me was a small volume from his library entitled "I Have Called You Friends," which was published over half a century ago.
 The pearls within its pages include the following:
"THINK OF THE importance of friendship in the education of men. It will make a man honest; it will make him a hero; it will make him a saint. It is the state of the just dealing with the just, the magnanimous, the sincere with the sincere, man with man." — Thoreau.
"We can never replace a friend. When a man is fortunate enough to have several, he finds that they are all different. No one has a double friendship." — Schiller
"THERE IS NO FOLLY equal to throwing away friendship in a world where friendship is so rare." — Bulwer-Lytton.
"So far as I can see, the basis of friendship must be four-fold: integrity, breadth, and depth of personality, some deep community of interest, mutual self-revelation and answering trust; and mutual self-giving." — Henry Churchill King.
"THE YEARS have taught some sweet and bitter lessons; none wiser than this: to spend in all things else, but of old friends to be most miserly." — Lowell
"So long as we love, we serve; so long as we are loved by others, I would almost say that we are indispensable; and no man is useless while he has a friend." — Stevenson
"Do not isolate yourself. Be among men, and among troubles and among things, and difficulties and obstacles." — Henry Drummond.
"THERE IS NO OTHER reason why we should live on, than that we love and are loved. The moment a man has no one to love him, he commits suicide. So long as a man has those who love him, and whom he loves, he will live; because to love is to live. If it be but the love of a dog, it will keep him in life; but let that go and he has no contract in life — no reason to live." — Henry Drummond.

 Rockefeller Has A Slight Edge

NEW YORK — That Gov. Nelson Rockefeller can be defeated for a fourth term in the Governor's office seems all but impossible. That is a measure of how skillful and effective is the campaign he has organized, fueled with apparently unlimited money.
 Yet he is hitting out at his Democratic opponent, Arthur Goldberg, with a ferocity befitting a rough, tough struggle at the ward level. The latest Rockefeller assault was the charge that Goldberg had offered a $70,000-a-year state job in return for an endorsement. Goldberg promptly called this a "damned lie" and the campaign descended a notch or two lower.
WHAT MAKES this more ironic is that Rockefeller has been one of the ablest Governors New York has ever had. In a state beset by all the ills of urbanism run right off the rails he has set an example of how to make a start at least in coping with the desperate problems of pollution, crime, education, medical care. And in the view of the cynical voter he can afford to be honest.
 Claiming today that he is two and a half points ahead of Goldberg in his own scientific polling — little enough for an incumbent — Rockefeller's fear is which way the volatile New York City vote will shift in the last week. Above all, the Jewish vote is the uncertain "X" in the carefully plotted Rockefeller equation.
GOLDBERG'S RECORD — Secretary of Labor, Justice of the Supreme Court, Ambassador to the United Nations — is an outstanding success story for his co-religionists. In his three previous campaigns Rockefeller has never faced this kind of an opponent, and whether the

 Liberal Terrorists Turn On Canada

WASHINGTON — Because it is never pleasant to seem to take satisfaction at the plight of a neighbor, comment heretofore has been withheld on Canada's tragic situation. Besides, we're on the same side.
 But 10 days after Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau invoked the War Emergency Act permitting the suspension of civil liberties, I find irresistible the temptation to waggle a finger at our friends to the north. To waggle a finger and to remind them of the truism that it all depends on whose ox is gored.
FOR YEARS a considerable bulk of Canadians — frequently speaking through young Trudeau — has sneered at the United States for its preoccupation with the terrorists of the Crazy Left. Our friends have mouthed glibly such phrases as "police state" to describe official crackdowns on our vicious nuts, and have gleefully given sanctuary to American draft dodgers, bomb-throwers and junkies with a penchant for calculated malignance. We have been accused of losing our cool.
 At the same time, American dissenters have hailed Trudeau and Co. as heroes — civilized libertarians with whom a body could live, and misbehave, comfortably. Canada was free; America was in chains.
THUS I VIEW with delight the consternation of our far-outr over the circumstance that in the crunch it was the liberal, swinging Trudeau — not Richard Nixon — who decreed what amounts to martial law. Americans still enjoy their constitutional rights after years of terrorism. A few months of unrest and a couple of kidnappings and — boom! — Pierre Trudeau puts his countrymen under military law and order.
NEVER MIND, at this time, wheth-

BANNED FROM PORT — Listing 20 degrees and sinking at the bow, the derelict freighter Machote has been denied entry into Tampa harbor by U.S. Coast Guard. The Machote, being towed in company with another derelict ship, were bound for an Italian scrap yard when word was received that she was leaking, listing, and needed to re-enter the port for repair. There were fears the ship might sink in port channels.

Call For Action To Broaden City-County Cooperation

FORT WORTH (AP) — Delegates to the Texas Municipal League conference will consider a resolution today calling for legislation to provide increased city-county cooperation throughout the state. The proposed policy statement, among 13 approved by the league's resolutions committee, constitutes endorsement of proposed Amendment 7 to the Texas Constitution. The league favors giving counties and cities the authority to enter into cooperative agreements on a voluntary basis, rather than making it mandatory.

OIL Good Blow Of Gas From Dawson Well

H. L. Brown No. 1 Smith, Dawson County prospector, took a pair of drillstem tests and had a good blow of gas from one. The initial test below 10,250 returned a small amount of oil-cut mud, but one between 9,897-10,017 saw gas to the surface in eight minutes with a good blow throughout the test. Allen K. Trobaugh No. 1 Lone Star, which had a good show in the Canyon Monday, drilled ahead at 10,848 today in northeastern Martin County.

Shot In Back By Cowardly Texas Bandits

DALLAS (AP) — A holdup man shot Morris J. Patterson, 56, in the back and killed him Monday evening after Patterson lay on the floor as ordered. The robbery and slaying occurred at the East Dallas office of the City Cigarette Service, where owner Floyd A. Johnson and Barney L. Slakey, a vending machine mechanic, told police they were running silver coins through a counting machine. They said a grinning bandit stepped inside with drawn pistol and advised, "This is it — it's a holdup." He was joined by a robber with a sawed-off shotgun and the pair forced Johnson and Slakey to lie down. At this point, officers were told, Patterson walked into the place unexpectedly, was herded to the back beside the others and shot as he lay prostrate.

Sands FFA Sweetheart Is Chosen

ACKERLY — Jill Hunt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hunt, and a sophomore at Sands High School, was crowned FFA sweetheart Monday night at a contest held in the high school auditorium. Two queens, Cindy McDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon McDonald; and Diane Bowlin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien Bowlin, were also selected from 12 candidates. Jill will now compete with eight other sweethearts for the title of El Rancho FFA district sweetheart at the district FFA awards banquet and leadership contest Nov. 4 in Big Spring. Jill is a member of the Sands High School cheerleading squad and secretary of the Knott 4-H Club.

Charges Pending Against Two Men

Charges of carrying a prohibited weapon are pending against one man and a charge of drunk in public against another in connection with a Monday night disturbance in the parking lot of the Diamond Lounge, 700 Lamesa Drive. Patrolmen Roger Hammack and Leo Holden were hailed by a third man as they drove by the parking lot about 8:27 p.m. Monday. The man asked for protection from the other two, one of whom reportedly had a pistol in his pocket.

Company Burgled

A burglary at Wilson Construction Co., 905 N. The missing items were located shortly afterward behind a house in the 600 block of Northeast Tenth and returned.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Mortgage bankers seem to agree the long awaited housing upturn has begun and will go on. Many of them predict high mortgage rates will continue, but some expect a slight easing soon. Several experts interviewed here Monday at the Mortgage Bankers Association—MBA—convention also said they see the federal government playing an increasing role in housing. Some claim this is taking away incentive from the private sector, but others argue that private enterprise alone is unable to meet the nation's housing needs. RULES OUT REDUCTION "I don't feel there will be a big reduction in mortgage rates for a while to come," said Everett Mattson, senior vice president with the Houston-based Lomas & Nettleton Co. Another banker, Claude E. Pope, executive vice president with Cameron Brown Co. of Raleigh, N.C., predicted that "long-term mortgage rates will stabilize around current levels." However, outgoing MBA President Robert H. Pease said he anticipated a decline of between one-fourth and one-half per cent. The effective mortgage rate for new single family houses

Test Data Available On Only Three Items

WASHINGTON (AP) — For years the pulses of consumer organizations have quickened at the prospect of getting a peek at what the government—the nation's biggest purchaser—knows about brand-name products. Now, after a 12-month survey, the government has found it has test and experience data readily available on only three items: hearing aids, surgical soap and tree-marking paint. Officials made that disclosure Monday after President Nixon formally committed the government to releasing some of the information it gets as it buys billions of dollars worth of goods each year.

BIG SURPRISE

The President instructed officials to sift through and release more data—but there remained a question of just how much useful consumer information will result. In the study that preceded Nixon's executive order, government agencies estimated to presidential consumer assistant Virginia Knauer that only one-tenth of 1 per cent of what the government buys is tested brand-name products. "I was startled. And those on my staff were startled at how little tested brand names the government used," said Mrs. Knauer at a news conference Monday.

The hearing aid information actually already is public. It was released after Consumers Union filed suit to force the aid out of the Veterans Administration. MARK TREES And other items—soap used by surgeons and paint used to mark trees along hiking trails—aren't exactly big consumer items. However, in responses to Mrs. Knauer's queries, the Commerce Department and Veterans Administration have listed products for which it has test or experience data, although not necessarily by brand name. The products are water faucet washers, asphalt roofing, vinyl and asphalt tiles, interior and exterior paint, home siding, insulation, sealants and caulking materials, eye glasses, hospital beds, clinical thermometers, dry milk, cream substitutes and elastic bandages.

Dr. Louis S. B. Leakey, noted scientist, displays piece of stone unearthed eight months ago in the Mojave Desert which he says shows that man migrated to North America 30,000 to 80,000 years earlier than previously believed. "Man has been in America for more than 50,000 years," Leakey told newsmen in Los Angeles Monday.

The General Services Administration, the government agency which does the most purchasing, originally said it could identify no products for which it could provide information from its own testing or experience. But officials in Mrs. Knauer's office say the agency subsequently said it had data on 900 items. NOT KNOWN What sort of information on any of these items is available is not known, Mrs. Knauer stressed. It is now the GSA's job—with Mrs. Knauer's advice—to translate the data into a form useful to consumers. Exactly how this will be done is not yet clear. Most of the government information relates to specifications drawn up to solicit bids on products—most of which are not available in the same form to consumers, officials say.

Midlander Found Sane On Directed Verdict

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Accused murderer, Oilman William B. Nichols was found sane on a directed verdict to the jury by Dist. Judge Perry D. Pickett in 142nd District Court today. The verdict was entered after a request by the defense. Date for trial on charges Nichols murdered his wife, Diane, was set as Nov. 16 and a 200 - member jury panel was called for possible service. The only witness at Preston Harrison, superintendent of Big Spring State Hospital, where the 33-year-old oilman has been under treatment continuously since being committed there Aug. 13, 1968. The psychiatrist said that Nichols had now recovered to the point where "we feel he is sane and competent to stand trial." Defense Atty. Bill Walsh of Houston did not cross-examine Dr. Harrison on his testimony and asked at once for a directed verdict. Immediately after the jury had agreed, Nichols was arraigned on the charge of murder with malice. Nichols stood mute at his arraignment and refused to enter a plea. Dist. Atty. Jim Mashburn filed the indictment, accusing Nichols of the shotgun slaying of his wife. The judge entered an innocent plea on the defendant's behalf. After the court rose, Nichols was released on bond for the first time since his wife's death. The $10,000 bond was posted for him in Dallas, May 24, 1968, and transferred to Midland on May 24 of that year. Nichols was not released at that time, however, but sent to the state hospital.

Burglar Nabbed Inside House

An apparent burglary attempt at the home of Markus Saul, 406 Lamesa Drive, was interrupted by the owner of the home and a checking clerk from the Kwikie Drive-In Grocery, 510 Lamesa Drive, at 7 p.m. Monday. Willie Polk, working at the grocery, reportedly saw the man knock on the door of the residence, then break in through a side window. The two men held the suspected burglar until police arrived.

High Mortgage Rates Housing Upturn Noted

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — was estimated last month at 8.49 per cent by the Federal Home Loan Bank Board. This figure, which includes initial fees and assumes that the mortgage will be paid off in 10 years, is .03 per cent lower than the August rate. Despite high mortgage costs, housing starts are on the upswing and the banking experts say they expected the trend to continue. WHY WAIT? "People are growing accustomed to the high cost of money, and they're beginning to realize that it won't do any good to sit around waiting for interest rates to fall," Pope said. A significant portion of this new housing is the result of federal subsidies authorized under the 1968 Housing Act, the bankers said. "And the government's role is going to grow larger in the years ahead," said Miles Colean, consulting economist with the MBA. No Trials In County Court

No cases were tried this morning in County Court and the jurors were dismissed until 9 a.m. Thursday. Two defendants set for trial today have pleaded guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated. A third case has been reset for Nov. 20. Molton Montelongo, 51, of 706 NW 7th, and Kyle Michael Miser, 25, of 2800 S. 25th, Abilene, both pleaded guilty to driving while intoxicated. Montelongo pleaded this morning before County Judge Lee Porter, and Miser entered his plea Monday. Both men were fined $50 and court costs and received 30-day jail sentences probated for six months. Two driving while intoxicated cases are tentatively scheduled for trial Thursday.

Office Equipment Bids Are Opened

Bids were opened at city hall Monday on office equipment required for filing the IBM cards and records that will be needed when the water billing and city bookkeeping are switched to computer operation in December. DP Supply Service, Midland, bid $1,049.95, Gage Van Horn, Odessa, bid $831.30, and Barnhill Office Equipment, Abilene, bid $931.50 on the card filing trays, storage cabinets, and utility carts to be purchased. Gage Van Horn's bid was only for a portion of the equipment specified, and delivery charges from the TAB Products factory in Mayville, Wis., were not included, so the Barnhill bid is apparently low.

Improvements Of Highway Sought

The Texas Highway Commission will hear Nov. 19 a delegation supporting the improvement of State 163 between Ozona and Comstock. This is a major project of the 'Amistad Trail Association which is seeking the upgrading of this shortest and most scenic route from most of West Texas to the international Lake Amistad above Del Rio. The commissioners court of Val Verde County has gone on record pledging to obtain right of way for straightening and widening the road, which is carrying increasingly heavier traffic.

WEST WARD GROCERY... Mrs. Twila McDaniel now has frozen foods

The 'School Store' Has New Coolers, Friendly Atmosphere

The West Ward Grocery is of the children at nearby Cedar Many adults who trade there, also remember it as the school store where they ate their lunches. The tradition remains, and the store still makes and serves hot dogs for the youngsters between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m., or for adults who would rather have a snack than cook a noon meal.

TOYLAND AT COLLEGE PARK T.G.&Y. ... Mrs. Buddy Pless and store manager Billy Gray

Lay-Away Now For T.G.&Y. Christmas Toy Discount

Christmas is coming — you can tell by the toys at College Park's TG&Y toyland. TG&Y has the best selection of toys in town, and if you put them in lay-away now, you get a 10 per cent discount below the normal TG&Y discount price.

Shop or browse through the shelves stocked with toys for pre-school to adult. Mrs. Buddy Pless or the other staff members will be there to help and advise you with all your gift selections.

They have all types of games and puzzles, plush animals with personality, and wheel toys from the crank-it-yourself Crazy Car to the electric powered autos. Tonka toys, roadracing sets, electric football games, robots, spring horses, or a wonderful array of dolls and doll accessories are also at TG&Y.

Skittle Pool, drum sets, View-masters and picture reels, tetherball and badminton sets, footballs and helmets, and basketball goals are in stock, as well as educational See 'N' Say toys and talking books, or the Power Mite workshop. Everything from super-sonic racers to beanbags.

TG&Y has many, many more toys from the very latest inventions to some very old favorites (remember the Bolo paddle?) Now is the time to shop there for all the children while the selection is greatest.

You can find other gifts from the Polaroid cameras to the Winchester and Remington shotguns, LP records and tape cartridges, portable TV's, stereos, and clock-radios at the side of the building allows busy people to pick up prescriptions or anything else conveniently, and Carver's delivery service covers all points of the city. Carver's is a perfect place to stop before visiting a friend in the hospital, because you can select a card from their collection of greeting cards for all occasions or pick out a box of fine chocolates, a game or toy, a magazine, or something special from the gift counter. Mrs. Maudie Wood, Marva Sanderson, or Pamela Tonn will be glad to help you find just the right gift from a Westclox clock or Timex watch to a beautiful set of earrings or a handsome wallet.

Earns Diploma
COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — One of the proudest possessors of a 1970 diploma from Palmer High School here is Chester Enstrom, 67-year-old state legislator from Grand Junction. Enstrom dropped out of the school in the early 20s. School officials decided his long record of success in business and politics entitled him to a diploma.

Ali Ready To Fight For Frazier Crown

ATLANTA (AP) — Muhammad Ali is back and ready to meet champion Joe Frazier in a fight that should be an explosive climax to what has been several years of confusion, frustration and doubt in boxing's heavyweight division.

"I'm ready to settle the title," Ali said Monday night after disposing of tough Jerry Quarry in three rounds in Ali's first fight in 3½ years.

"Quarry was much harder to fight than Joe Frazier will be," said the man who rose to the heavyweight championship as Cassius Clay and then was stripped of his title when he was convicted of refusing induction into the Army.

"We're ready to fight him as soon as we can get rid of Foster and as soon as Clay can get ready," Frazier's manager, Yank Durham said in East Stroudsburg, Pa., where Frazier is training for a title defense against light heavyweight king Bob Foster in Detroit Nov. 18.

WAS INTERESTED

Frazier did not see Ali's triumphant return, which was shown on closed circuit television, but he didn't go to sleep until he knew the result.

Foster, who has a thunderous left hook could upset an Ali-Frazier fight. Another block could be Ali's conviction which drew a $10,000 fine and a five-year prison sentence. The conviction still is being appealed.

Alli was a heavy favorite to win the historic fight at Atlanta's old Municipal Auditorium, jammed with 5,100 people, but it was the manner in which he won it which showed that indeed he once again is a major force in boxing.

From the opening bell of the scheduled 15-round until the fight was stopped at the end of the third round with blood gushing from Quarry's split left eyebrow, Ali was in complete command.

Using his 5½-inch reach advantage and showing he had not lost his punching speed, Ali peppered Quarry with stinging left jabs and jolted him with left hooks and rights. It was a straight right in the third round that ripped open Quarry's eyebrow, a wound that required 15 stitches.

"The guy I saw with Quarry was the same guy that fought Foley," said Ali's manager, Angelo Dundee. "I was amazed at what I saw."

Alli, now 28, fought Zora Foley March 22, 1967 and won by a seven-round knockout.

Alli's transformation from lecturer, actor and fast-food impresario to a fighter that closely resembled himself 3½ years ago was truly amazing. All weighed 238 when he began training for the Quarry fight six weeks ago. Monday night he weighed 213½, just two more pounds than he weighed when he fought Foley and 16 pounds more than Quarry.

PROMISING FIGHT

Alli's victory not only opened the way for him to get a crack at regaining the championship, which he points out he never lost in the ring, it opens the way for one of the most lucrative fights in history.

Monday night's fight did more for Ali than just restore his pride. He figures to get more than a million dollars from his percentage while Quarry could end up with about $500,000. Ali had been guaranteed $200,000 against 42½ per cent; Quarry $150,000 against 22½ per cent.

The only statistic announced was the sellout crowd of 5,100 in the Auditorium. There were no figures on the live gate or the figure from closed circuit television shown at 206 locations, with 900,000 seats in the United States and Canada.

The bout also was beamed live to Europe, South America,

Australia, Asia and the Soviet Union, with a delayed telecast to Great Britain.

While Ali's future is bright, the 25-year-old Quarry's career is clouded.

The fighting Irishman from California was outgunned from the start but he didn't want to quit. His trainer, Teddy Benham, shouted to referee Tony Perez at the end of the third round that it had gone far enough. Perez then examined the cut, without calling a doctor, and stopped the fight.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Sports dialogue:

JIM GINTONIO, Lubbock columnist:

The best way to describe Harold Wilder (now HCJC cage coach) is unlikely. Most of all, he says unlikely things. A couple of years ago, he thought about applying for the basketball job at LSU. "Just think of it," he said. "I'd have to eat it a little in my backyard. I might even tell him to ask him what he'd do if his schooling realignment ever forced his two sons to attend Abilene Cooper. At the time, Wilder was coaching Abilene High. 'Shoot, I'd pitch a tent in the Abilene High parking lot,' he said."

GENE HENDERSON, former Odessa coach and now defensive coach of the TCU Horned Frogs, after his team had missed making a first down against Texas A&M:

"That's okay. It gives us a chance to play some more defense."

ALVIN WYATT, Oakland Raider rookie, discussing runbacks on punts and kickoffs:

"When I take a punt I start up the middle. The first thing I look for is the angle the punt is taking. The closest man to me, I run right at him. That way the defense will gather toward him. I try to make like I'm going to try to run over him, then I throw a fake and try to hit the sidelines. In college I always let the ball bounce first. When I got here they told me quick that they wanted me to catch it. But in college I returned about nine punts for touchdowns in my last two years. When the ball would bounce the defensive team would relax. I would take it on a running start and be by them before they could regroup. I never got a bad bounce."

CHUCK HIXSON, SMU's ace quarterback:

"Nobody in the country is throwing as much as I did as a sophomore. The defenses are definitely ahead of what they were two years ago, or even last year. It's not just a matter of putting four guys deep and telling them to knock down passes. They're learning more about pass defense every year."

JERRY COPLEY, news service writer:

"He's Dick Butkus and he hates everybody. I had inquired into his regard for quarterbacks who happen to line up against the Chicago Bears. 'I don't personally like anybody,' answered Butkus. 'I don't like to get involved with people on the field.' Butkus plays football in a constant state of irritation. If Butkus does not feel he is properly aggravated while he is preparing for a game, he goes around seeking a source of anger. 'I just look around until I see some players laughing or fooling around,' he explained, 'then I feel irritated.' Once in this mood, Butkus remains in it. His is an even temperament — angry all the time."

ALEX KARRAS, veteran tackle for the Detroit Lions, when asked who were the best quarterbacks and defensive linemen he'd seen in his 12 years in the NFL:

"For quarterback, it's a tossup between Johnny Unitas in his prime years and the Norm Van Brocklin of one year, 1960. Van Brocklin is the only man who ever beat Vince Lombardi in a championship game. No quarterback ever played as well as Van Brocklin with the Eagles in 1960. Deacon Jones (Rams) and Gino Marchetti (Colts) are far out in front of the defensive ends. Artie Donovan (Colts) is the best defensive tackle I've seen. I've always fancied myself another Donovan. Merlin Olsen (Rams) is the best today."

MARTHUR LANE, star running back for the St. Louis Cardinals:

"When you are hit, put your head in a swivel and look for daylight some other place. The only time you lower your head is as a last resort."

Stand At Goal Swings Issue For Vikings

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Carl Eller simply explained that the Minnesota Vikings took the right attitude to the line of scrimmage on a game-turning goal line stand against the Los Angeles Rams.

"We never doubt ourselves," said Eller, a 6-foot-6, 250-pound defensive end. "We realize the percentages. But we will never concede."

The Rams, after Kermit Alexander's 49-yard return of a deflected punt, had a first down on Minnesota's two with 19 seconds left in the first half and the Vikings leading 10-0 in a rainy, muddy National Football League game Monday night.

TIME RUNS OUT

First, Les Josephson got a yard in the middle. Roman Gabriel got a few inches on a quarterback sneak. And Gabriel was smothered in the middle again on third down as time ran out for the second time of the half, and the Vikings finished up with a 13-3 victory in the Monday night television game.

The Rams actually got an extra down after Gabriel's second down thrust over right tackle and no time on the score board clock. But referee Fred Silva ruled that the Vikings did not unpile in time, and gave Gabriel another down.

But it made little difference. Alexander actually thought he had put six points on the board with his run after Willie Ellison stormed into get a hand on Tom McNeill's punt. Jim Lindsey tackled him at the two. "I thought I was over," said Alexander. "I should have tried to elude Lindsey, but I was worrying about a fumble."

Alexander had cause for worry. The Rams lost four of seven fumbles and the Vikings turned two of them into 10 points.

Ram return man Alvin Haymond dropped a punt on the Ram 18 in the first period, and Kent Kramer recovered for the Vikings.

Bill Brown slipped between guard and tackle, sped up the middle up the field and took Gary Cuzzo's 17-yard touchdown pass in the end zone for a 7-0 edge.

Rams' running back Larry Smith fumbled in the second period, Alan Page picked it up at the Los Angeles 22 and ran to the 14. Fred Cox kicked a 13-yard field goal.

Dave Ray kicked a 23-yard field goal for the Rams in the third period, but Cox booted a 25-yarder for the Vikings in the final quarter.

GARDEN CITY

JOE GARCIA was such a busy man last Friday evening that he won the Lineman of the Week award for the Bearkats. The 160-pound junior plays end on offense and linebacker on defense. He snagged one pass for 16 yards, had a 38-yard punting average, and his blocking was superb. On defense, he was in on 10 tackles.

FLOYD SCHWARTZ, 152-pound senior halfback, grabbed the Back of Week honors by picking up 89 yards on 12 carries. He also caught one pass for a 20-yard gain. From his defensive linebacker position, he tore into the opposition to participate in 16 tackles.

MARILYN McREAVY Visits Bulgaria

Mrs. Don Bohannon received a card from Bulgaria from Marilyn McReavy, former HCJC volleyball star, who was in that country for the World Volleyball championships. To the note she added: "Cosden has a new plant here."

Miss McReavy was a teammate of the former Carol Bohannon, now Mrs. C. W. Cogburn, at HCJC in 1964-65 and went on to become a member of the U.S. Women's Volleyball team in the Olympics. She has been associated with the women's PE department at Sul Ross.

HAHN'S SHOW STARTS AT 5

Golf enthusiasts can buy tickets for today's Paul Hahn Jr. show at a reduced rate up until 4 p.m. at the Muni course.

The duets will be priced at $1.25 until that hour. At the gate, the price will be elevated to $2.

The young man is the son of perhaps the world's best known trick shot artist and has traveled the world with his dad. He has patterned his act as closely as possible after Paul Sr.

All of the performance will take place starting at 5 p.m. near the No. One teebox at the Muni course.

Texas Now No. One In Football Poll

By The Associated Press

The Texas Longhorns, defending national champions, sneaked past Ohio State today in first place college football poll.

Texas, which trounced Rice 45-21 last weekend to run the nation's longest winning streak to 25 games, drew one less first-place vote than Ohio State—16, 15—but piled up 670 points to 664 for the Buckeyes, who had to come from behind in the second half to defeat Illinois 48-29.

Some 38 sports writers and broadcasters across the country participated in the poll, which had Ohio State on top all season. The Longhorns, Duckyeyes and third-place Notre Dame all have 5-0 records.

"This really does flabbergast me," enthused Coach Darrell Royal, who once said Texas could never be No. 1 unless every team in the Big Ten had been beaten. "It really surprises me," he added, "but it's a pleasant surprise."

Then he asked with a chuckle, "This isn't the final poll, is it? Notre Dame's still right in there and we have five games left."

Besides Ohio State, fifth-ranked Michigan also is an unbeaten Big Ten team.

Notre Dame picked up four of the remaining seven first-place votes, with one apiece going to No. 4 Nebraska, No. 5 Michigan and No. 7 Air Force. All those teams retained last week's rankings, but Stanford climbed past Air Force from eighth to sixth after edging UCLA 9-7.

Notre Dame was idle last weekend, while Nebraska crushed Oklahoma State 65-31, Michigan whipped Minnesota 39-13 and Air Force trounced Boston 35-10.

Rounding out the new Top Ten were Arkansas, Tennessee and Louisiana State, which were ninth, 11th and 14th, respectively, a week ago.

Auburn, a 17-9 loser to LSU, fell from sixth to 12th and Southern California dropped from 10th to 18th after bowing to Oregon 10-7.

The Second Ten consisted of Arizona State, Auburn, Mississippi, San Diego State, Pittsburgh, Oregon, Missouri, Southern Cal, UCLA and Northwestern.

Last week it was Tennessee, Arizona State, Ole Miss, LSU, Houston, UCLA, San Diego State, Pitt and Colorado and Toledo tied for 19th.

The Top Twenty teams, with first-place votes in parentheses and total points tabulated on basis of 20-18-16-12-10-9-8-7 etc.

1. Texas (15)	670
2. Ohio State (16)	664
3. Notre Dame (4)	639
4. Nebraska (1)	614
5. Michigan (1)	614

MEDLIN, RODRIQUEZ SINGLED OUT Stewart, Hensley, Kelley Among Honored Players

Following are football players in the Big Spring area who are being honored by the Daily Herald for performances in games involving their teams the past weekend:

BIG SPRING

For the third time this season, guard JAMES MILLER won Lineman of the Week laurels for the manner in which he challenged Midland Lee. Big Spring almost surely would have been beaten without adequately on offense but it was on defense that he really started. Time and again, he hurried past would-be blockers to flag down Rebel ball carriers and the Lee quarterbacks got to know him real well.

Back of the Week award goes to senior linebacker HOWARD STEWART, who was in on 26 tackles against Lee. He graded out to 42 points on defense, which ties him with Joe Chavez i that respect. Howard has had some stellar nights this season but none quite as good as he had against the Rebels.

GARDEN CITY

JOE GARCIA was such a busy man last Friday evening that he won the Lineman of the Week award for the Bearkats. The 160-pound junior plays end on offense and linebacker on defense. He snagged one pass for 16 yards, had a 38-yard punting average, and his blocking was superb. On defense, he was in on 10 tackles.

Golf enthusiasts can buy tickets for today's Paul Hahn Jr. show at a reduced rate up until 4 p.m. at the Muni course.

The duets will be priced at $1.25 until that hour. At the gate, the price will be elevated to $2.

The young man is the son of perhaps the world's best known trick shot artist and has traveled the world with his dad. He has patterned his act as closely as possible after Paul Sr.

Queens Claim 10th Victory

Victorious over Odessa College, 10-15, 15-6, 16-14, here Monday night, the HCJC Jayhawk Queens return to volleyball competitor in Alpine against Sul Ross College tonight.

The Queens are now 10-3 on the season.

Kathy McKnight, sophomore from Monahans, was adjudged to be the Most Valuable Player among the Queens in competition last night.

Juanita Oyerbides, also of Monahans, led the locals' scoring in two of the three contests, getting four in the first and six in the third. Barbara Futrell counted five points to lead the HC team in the second contest.

Terri Davis, another fish, is clocking her share of playing time with the Hawks.

The Queens will appear in the Lamar Tech tournament at Beaumont this weekend.

Stewart, Hensley, Kelley Among Honored Players

Following are football players in the Big Spring area who are being honored by the Daily Herald for performances in games involving their teams the past weekend:

BIG SPRING

For the third time this season, guard JAMES MILLER won Lineman of the Week laurels for the manner in which he challenged Midland Lee. Big Spring almost surely would have been beaten without adequately on offense but it was on defense that he really started. Time and again, he hurried past would-be blockers to flag down Rebel ball carriers and the Lee quarterbacks got to know him real well.

Back of the Week award goes to senior linebacker HOWARD STEWART, who was in on 26 tackles against Lee. He graded out to 42 points on defense, which ties him with Joe Chavez i that respect. Howard has had some stellar nights this season but none quite as good as he had against the Rebels.

GARDEN CITY

JOE GARCIA was such a busy man last Friday evening that he won the Lineman of the Week award for the Bearkats. The 160-pound junior plays end on offense and linebacker on defense. He snagged one pass for 16 yards, had a 38-yard punting average, and his blocking was superb. On defense, he was in on 10 tackles.

FLOYD SCHWARTZ, 152-pound senior halfback, grabbed the Back of Week honors by picking up 89 yards on 12 carries. He also caught one pass for a 20-yard gain. From his defensive linebacker position, he tore into the opposition to participate in 16 tackles.

MARILYN McREAVY Visits Bulgaria

Mrs. Don Bohannon received a card from Bulgaria from Marilyn McReavy, former HCJC volleyball star, who was in that country for the World Volleyball championships. To the note she added: "Cosden has a new plant here."

Miss McReavy was a teammate of the former Carol Bohannon, now Mrs. C. W. Cogburn, at HCJC in 1964-65 and went on to become a member of the U.S. Women's Volleyball team in the Olympics. She has been associated with the women's PE department at Sul Ross.

HAHN'S SHOW STARTS AT 5

Golf enthusiasts can buy tickets for today's Paul Hahn Jr. show at a reduced rate up until 4 p.m. at the Muni course.

The duets will be priced at $1.25 until that hour. At the gate, the price will be elevated to $2.

Piccolo Award Is Presented To Headley

NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out the college football wash:

Win Headley, Wake Forest's defensive tackle, was presented Sunday with the first annual Brian Piccolo Award, named after the late Wake Forest and Chicago Bears running back who died of cancer this year. It will go annually to the Wake Forest player who best typifies the play of Piccolo in the annual game against North Carolina.

Playing most of the way with a painfully bruised right instep, Headley made nine unassisted tackles, including five the last two times Carolina had the ball while trying to erase a 14-13 deficit, helped out on six others and generally cleared the way for linebacker Ed Stetz to get in on 27 stops. After the game, Headley had to be helped into the shower by teammates.

Last week, Rick Lewis, a defensive back for Georgia Tech, asked coach Bud Carson, "How come the sports writers always interview the same guys?" Lewis wasn't one of them.

The 190-pound junior didn't lack for attention Saturday after he picked a fumble by Tulane's punter out of the air with 12 minutes left and raced 20 yards to snap a scoreless tie. Only 27 seconds later, he intercepted a pass and went 56 yards for another touchdown. A few minutes after that he picked off another pass and returned it 22 yards to set up Tech's third score in a 20-6 victory.

ABC-TV's Wild Card games—four regional contests on Nov. 14 and one national game any time—haven't been made public yet... but you can make some pretty good guesses.

Grady Boys Win Over Greenwood

GRADY — Grady and Greenwood broke even in a junior high school basketball double-header here Monday.

The Grady boys prevailed, 39-33, after the girls had lost, 44-30. Billy Howard had ten points and Jerry Holloway eight for Skipper Drivley's Grady boys. In the girls' contest, Jackie Haggard led Grady with 21 points.

The Grady girls go to Klondike for a contest next Tuesday.

Dennis Leads Grand Tourney

Burl Dennis and Bob Mickler are the flight leaders in the Grand tourney being staged for members of the Big Spring Golf Association at the Muni course.

Dennis leads the First Flight with a net score of 68. He fired a 78 Sunday and made use of his eight-stroke handicap. Two shots off the pace is Jim Norman, who fashioned a 79 and who has a nine-shot handicap.

Defending titlist Marvin Williams, who has only a two-stroke handicap, is eight shots back with a 76.

In the Second Flight, Mickler benefits from an 11-stroke handicap. His first round gross score was 80.

The tournament winds up next Sunday and all rounds must be completed by that time.

Gross scores, handicaps in parentheses and net scores listed in the proper order:

FIRST FLIGHT

Burl Dennis, 76 (8); Jim Norman, 79 (9); Bill Patton, 79 (8); Jerry Rains, 73 (12); Royce Cox, 75 (12); Jerry Dudley, 75 (13); Bobby Smith, 76 (13); Jerry Barron, 74 (13); Max Coffey, 84 (10); B. A. Brunson, 79 (15); Bob Rogers, 82 (12); Hack Salvers, 84 (10); Richard Pachall, 77 (11); Marvin Williams, 78 (12); 76.

SECOND FLIGHT

Bob Mickler, 80 (11); 69; Martin Goggs, 82 (12); 70; Frank Jones, 86 (14); Don Horton, 83 (12); Hershel Harris, 84 (12); Don Shoemaker, 89 (14); 73; Rick Coedberg, 88 (13); 75; Miller Harris, 89 (14); Bill Pote, 92 (17); 75; Lewis Helling, 93 (18); 75; A. Madison, 87 (11); 76; Avery Falkner, 87 (11); 76; Charles Marstrand, 90 (14); 76.

Dawson Is Likely To Pose Problem

GAIL — The Borden Coyotes may face one of the sterner tests of the season when they meet the Dawson football team here at 7:30 p.m. Friday.

Dawson will bring a 2-1 district record to town, and is expected to provide a good test to the Coyote's explosive offense.

WHOPPER OF A SQUASH — Mrs. Zora Harrison and Roy Little hold a 23½-pound squash given to Mrs. Harrison by her daughter and son-in-law when they visited Big Spring this weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Travis Platt grew the squash at their home in Albuquerque, N.M., and suggested cooking it by a recipe similar to pumpkin pie filling. Platt worked for KBST radio before moving to New Mexico.

Hall Of Fame Speaker Is Federal Judge

United States District Judge Leo Brewster of Fort Worth will be the chief speaker at the Hall of Fame dinner to be held Nov. 4, under auspices of the Permian Basin Petroleum Museum, Library, and Hall of Fame. The dinner will be in Midland's Ranchland Hills Country Club, at 7 p.m. Tickets ($6) may be purchased at the museum office, 408 Wilkinson-Foster building, Midland.

Judge Brewster, whose court normally sits in Abilene and Fort Worth, was graduated from the University of Texas law school in 1926. He served as an assistant district attorney and subsequently became a member of a Fort Worth law firm until he was named to the Federal bench by President John F. Kennedy in 1961. He was president of the State Bar in 1958-59.

The Hall of Fame dinner will honor four men associated with the Permian Basin's oil history: Carl G. Cromwell and Houston Harter of San Angelo, and Michael L. Benedum and Joseph C. Trees of Pittsburgh.

City Commissioners Face Lengthy Agenda Thursday

The city commission posted a 17-item agenda for Thursday's 5-15 p.m. meeting listing everything from paving to the Cosden Country Club.

The meeting was postponed from its regular time at 5:15 p.m. today until Thursday because city officials are attending the Texas Municipal League Convention in Fort Worth.

An ordinance accepting paving work by W. D. Caldwell on seven streets will be considered. The streets included are Northeast Tenth (North Runnels to North Goliad), Northeast Eighth (North Main to North Goliad), Carl (Connally to Wason), East Fifth (Settles to State), East Twenty-second (Runnels to Johnson), Runnels (East Twenty-fourth to FM 700), and Virginia (Phillips to Cole).

The cost to the city for the $48,331 paving job is $5,478.26. Mrs. L. Bunker is also requesting that she be relieved of a paving assessment against her property in the 2100 block of Grace due to hardship.

FEE INCREASE
The commission will consider a 25 cent increase in monthly residential sanitation service charges, a $3 minimum on commercial garbage collections, and bids on 325 containers for the proposed containerization of residential trash collection — items included in the budget plans adopted Sept. 30.

Pak-Mor, San Antonio, and Metalboard Division, Lubbock, entered bids on the container specifications set by the city, and each also bid on containers with specifications deviating from those set by the city.

Metalboard's primary bid is low at $53,994.25 including an 8 per cent interest charge on the time warrants to be used to spread the cost over five years, assuming a fifth of the principal is paid each year. Pak-Mor's primary bid, including a 6 per cent interest charge bid on the warrants, is $59,870.25.

Another ordinance set for action would re-allocate funds budgeted for an increase in employee retirement benefits voted down at the last commission meeting for use in increasing employee salaries by $5 beginning Jan. 1.

WATER TREATMENT
At the request of Commissioner Eddie Acrl, Jimmy Jones is to review the status of the construction of chemical facilities at the water treatment plant by Jones Construction Co. Due to water damage and apparent confusion over the terms of the construction contract, the apparatus for mixing water treatment chemicals is not yet in operation.

New bids for activated carbon to deal with future water taste and odor problems have been tabulated on three brands of carbon from two suppliers. Westvaco bid $249.80 a ton on Aqua Nuchar and Thompson-Hayward bid $203.80 a ton on Darco M and $200 a ton on Timberland activated carbon. A request has also been made by Roy Anderson, purchasing agent, that the city take bids on a year's supply of water pipe valves, fittings, and parts for the city warehouse stock.

ZONING REQUESTS
Two specific use permits recommended by the planning and zoning board will come up for action: one allowing Marcelino Rangel to sell beer and wine at the Hilltop Grocery, 1706 W. 3rd, for off-premises consumption; the other allowing Mrs. O. C. Morrow to install a mobile home at 1107 W. 7th for use by her mother.

Reappointment to the traffic commission of Bob Brock, who was overlooked in the board reappointments made Oct. 13, will be considered and a resolution expressing the appreciation of the city for Don Newsom's service on the parks and recreation board is on the agenda.

A request for the annexation of Cosden Country Club, to be turned over to the city Jan. 1, and discussion of the time of city commission meetings now that daylight savings time has ended, round out the agenda.

BOMBING — Police inspect rear entrance way of Temple Beth Shalom in downtown Rochester, N.Y., after it was bombed shortly after midnight today. Windows were blown out of first and second floors of a 1962 addition of the temple. A similar bombing took place at another temple at the same time on the opposite side of the city. No one was seriously injured. Fifteen days ago five blasts occurred in Rochester.

Local Man At Physics Meetings

LUBBOCK — Faculty and students including a Big Spring man, from the Department of Electrical Engineering will represent Texas Tech University at two major national meetings — the annual Plasma Physics Meeting of the American Physical Society in Washington, Nov. 4-7, and the 1970 Nuclear Science Symposium in New York, Nov. 4.

Three papers relating to plasma research at Tech will be presented at the Washington meeting: "Intra and Coupled Cavities: Laser Heating of Plasma," "Wave Propagation Characteristics of a Helical Coupler," and "Radio Frequency Heating of Fusion Plasma."

These have been prepared by Profs. Magne Kristiansen and Marion Hagler and graduate students James E. Cato, J. E. Hipp and G. Marshall Molen. Hipp is the son of N. M. Hipp, 500 E. 13th, Big Spring.

Weekend Coin Hunt Slated

ANDREWS — A treasure hunt, restricted to hunters with electronic metal detectors, is being slated this weekend by the Andrews Chamber of Commerce.

Entry fee is $4, and at stake are American, foreign and collector coins in the aggregate amount of $100 at two sites, and another $100, plus valuable merchandise prizes, for those who qualify to search the third site. The initial hunt is at the Andrews County Florey Park.

Pass Pass

Opening lead: King of ♠. North was confronted with an interesting problem in today's auction. He opened the bidding with one heart and South responded with one spade. North showed his second suit by rebidding two diamonds.

When South failed to jump on the second round, merely persisting to two spades, North should apparently pass. He reasoned, however, that despite South's mild action, the latter had manifested some willingness to carry on when he bids a second time. Inasmuch as North's values figure to be useful, he decided to give his partner another chance by raising to three spades. South accepted the invitation and bid a game.

to ruff out, he decided first to lead a small heart from his hand in an attempt to establish some side tricks.

West put up the ace of hearts and switched to a trump. South played North's ace of spades, cashed the ace, king of diamonds — discarding a club from his hand, and then ruffed a diamond with the three of spades. The queen of hearts was played, followed by a club ruff in dummy.

The king of hearts was led and when both opponents followed suit, declarer disclosed his remaining club. A diamond was ruffed in the closed hand as East discarded the jack of clubs. All hands were down to three cards with South having the Q-9-6 of spades left while East retained the K-J-10.

A small spade was led putting East in with the ten. He cashed the king next, however declarer's queen took the last trick. In all, South lost one heart and two spades.

It may be observed that if West ducks when South leads the heart at trick two, the latter is still in position to win 10 tricks. The king of hearts is put up and the ace, king of diamonds are played, permitting declarer to discard the queen of hearts. A crossruff is inaugurated as South ruffs a heart, North ruffs a club, South another heart and North another club with the ace of spades.

A diamond is ruffed by declarer for a ninth trick and then he exits with his remaining club. There is no way for the defenders to prevent South from scoring the fulfilling trick with the queen of spades.

Snow Chills Parts Of The Panhandle

By The Associated Press A rash of tornadoes, flooding rains and giant hailstones pounded parts of Central and North Texas during the night, and a cold front triggering the weather furore brought snow in the Panhandle. By this morning most of the thunderstorms moved eastward into Northeast Texas while showers fell around San Antonio and along the Middle and Upper Texas Coast.

As much as an inch of snow collected on the ground at Dalhart. Weather Bureau observers reported most of the light snow peppered down in a belt 20 miles wide from north of Perryton to southwest of Amarillo.

TWISTERS SPOTTED Twister funnels spun through the air and occasionally touched ground in at least half a dozen areas but caused surprisingly little damage. One tornado tore part of the roof off an unoccupied farm house east of Dallas near Rockwall and skipped northeast past Royse City.

Still others were spotted near Grand Prairie, south of Clifton in Bosque County, over the Polytex section in Fort Worth, north of Waxahachie and near Lake Ray Hubbard. Winds topped 50 miles per hour in several areas as gusty thunderstorms dumped rainfall at rates up to two inches per hour. In addition to the twister threats, as many as 45 counties in Central East Texas stayed under a severe thunderstorm alert for hours.

FLASH FLOODING A district on the east side of Dallas measured up to 1.8 inches of rain and an overflowing storm sewer in a low part of the Oak Cliff section sent water rising five inches deep in four homes.

Warnings against flash flooding along creeks in rural areas and at some underpasses went out for several counties. Among the latest of these were Wood County and the south half of Van Zandt and northwest half of Smith counties.

Hailstones as big as baseballs battered an area near Stephenville, and icy pellets the size of golf balls bounced off the rooftops in parts of South Dallas. Smaller hail descended near Fort Worth, Nocona and Tyler. Near down the cold front generating the turbulence had shoved as far south as a line linking Paris, Dallas, Brownwood, San Angelo and Pecos.

91 AT ALICE In its wake the early morning temperatures dipped to 32 degrees at Perryton, 33 at Dalhart, 36 at Amarillo and 38 at Lubbock. Readings downstate at the same hour still stood at 78 for Beaumont-Port Arthur and 79 for Brownsville.

These compared with top marks Monday afternoon ranging from the nation's high of 91 at Alice in South Texas down to 58 at Dalhart.

Political Pot Pie Spiced By Nixon's Visit To Texas

By The Associated Press President Nixon's impending visit in support of Republican candidates lent impetus today to the final week of the 1970 political campaign in Texas.

Rep. George Bush, the Houston congressman running for U.S. senator on the GOP ticket, made no secret of his pleasure at the stops Nixon will make Wednesday for rallies at the Gregg County airport and in Dallas. THEY'RE SCARED Lloyd Bentsen, the Houston insurance executive who's the Democratic nominee, took a somewhat dimmer view.

Bush, stumping from Orange and Beaumont to Corpus Christi, said Monday, "I'm tickled to death that he (Nixon) is coming to campaign for me. It's good for Texas."

Taking note of deprecatory remarks by some Democrats, Bush said, "The President of the United States is no outsider in Texas or any other state."

Bentsen, at Mineral Wells, said, "I'm glad President Nixon is coming and I hope Democrats will join Republicans in making him feel welcome. He's the only President we have and I want to support him every way I can."

COLORFUL WELCOME "I think Texans can and will give President Nixon a colorful welcome—without having to welcome my opponent's coal-tail tactics."

Bush and Paul Eggers, the Republican candidate for governor, plan to be among those greeting Nixon as he reaches the Gregg County airport about 4 p.m. Wednesday and will accompany him to Dallas for an evening rally.

Speaking at Waco, Bentsen told an audience at the Texas State Technical Institute that politics prompted an administration decision to close the General Dynamics plant employing more than 1,400 in Waco.

RAW POLITICS "It is becoming obvious that government pressure prompted this alarming decision," Bentsen declared, "since the same work being done here (tests and modification of the F111 warplane) is to be switched to California, where it will cost approximately twice as much. This is raw partisan politics at its worst."

The Democratic candidate also stumped at Killeen, Temple, Vernon, Gainesville and Fort Worth before moving on today to Abilene.

Again taking Nixon forces to task, Bentsen said in remarks prepared for his Abilene stop. "This administration permits its White House staff to telephone Texans to try to coerce them into voting for Republican candidates, and yet it refuses to use the great influence of the White House to hold down prices and wage demands."

Swinging down the coast, Bush assured listeners that he could help the President with needed support in controlling the Senate to bring about revenue sharing, block grants and tax credits.

The Republican congressman was accompanied by an entourage which included singer Jane Morgan, former University of Texas tackle Scott Appleton, Atlanta Braves third baseman Bob Aspromonte and Houston Oilers guard Sonny Bishop.

OKIE TAXES Gov. Preston Smith again cited his experience in talks to Democratic supporters in Dallas and Waco and said that's the main issue in his race with Eggers.

The governor asserted a television advertisement for Eggers was "misleading, irresponsible and without any redeeming fac-

GENERAL TENDENCIES: A day and evening to wind up whatever has been up with before starting on some new effect with other persons so that the state can be cleared for new actions that is soon to be a part of your everyday existence. Let companions know that you have valued their diligence and that you want further contact with them for the best results.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You have to cooperate with others and in this way get a good deal accomplished today. Explaining your position first will lead to line understanding. Then carry through in a positive fashion.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have been busy getting things improved. You can complete the work today nicely. Talk over new plans with co-workers also. Go off on any tenants could prove harmful now.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are able to get into the pleasures that really please you and give you enjoyment you have not had in a long time. Go along with the ideas of loved ones. Show devotion to mate this evening.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) There are some differences to be worked out at home and you should not procrastinate any longer. Being appreciative of what kin have done for you is wise. Stop acting in such a stubborn way.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Your associates have excellent ideas for the days ahead, but it is necessary to finish present duties first. Show more enthusiasm in your routine work and all is well. Forget going off on that tangent you have in mind.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handling financial affairs, taking care of property, improving it, etc., are all fine today.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Going out for recreation is fine, but first take care of those personal chores that have to be done sometime. Eliminate what ever is old and replace with the new. As a result, you add to present happiness.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Those personal chores you have to handle are best done by making a game of them; then they are not so boring. Plan a more efficient way of operating for the days ahead. Show you are intelligent, witty.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You can complete ventures you have started with allies so that you can start on new ones soon. This is also a good evening to repay those social debts or accept invitations extended to you. Avoid that tendency to waste time.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You must get busy and finish responsibilities you now have before you can go on to new and more fascinating ones. Get good advice from a higher-up. Follow through on this but use your own judgment where necessary.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Put through those plans that will bring about a more interesting and ideal set of circumstances in the days ahead. Complete old obligations quickly. Get into the facts and figures accurately.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) You have been procrastinating in doing whatever is necessary to improve relations with associates, so get busy now doing just that. Being courteous and thoughtful toward others is important. Get ahead faster.

Make sure you get everything caught up with before starting on some new venture. Avoid extravagance.

stop nail splitting NOW

MAVALA has a patented formula (U.S. pat. #3,382,151). It penetrates fast. It fuses hard. Thus, for thousands, Mavala marks the end of broken, split, ragged fingernails.

To get Mavala results, get Mavala, Switzerland's original nail hardener. Imported for you by Nina, distributors of specialized beauty creations for over 40 years. Use Mavala before manicuring each week as nails grow out. Average 100 applications $5.00. Guaranteed, or return unused portion to dealer for refund.

Brush it on the very tip of your nails—about 1/4th to 1/2th inch. That's all. When it dries—in about one minute—your nails are "diamond-hard." Protected from splitting and breaking.

Amazing? Yes, but true! You see, your fingernails are composed of several layers. Mavala fuses those weak layers into one strong, solid unit. And does it right away—in one minute.

How does Mavala work this seeming miracle when other remedies can't?

LETTER Likes Stand On Narcotics

To The Editor: Byron Fullerton is candidate for Lieutenant Governor with some exciting and new ideas and solutions for the problems facing our state. His stand on welfare, law and order, taxes, pollution and other problems are all worth considering.

But being a father of five children, some still in grade school, I particularly like his stand on the narcotics problem, of our biggest problems facing our state, as well as our city today.

Here are some of his thoughts on this issue: "Proposals to weaken our narcotics laws need a closer look. If the intent is to make the use marijuana more socially acceptable, and thus more widespread—lowering penalties for its use would be the very quickest way to do that.

Meanwhile, we need every possible restraint to discourage experimentation and use of marijuana and all potentially dangerous materials."
