ATTEMPT TO INFLUENCE OUTCOME OF TUESDAY'S ELECTIONS

Antiwar Demonstrations, Rallies Staged

By The Associated Press
Protesters in cities across the country staged generally peaceful demonstrations, parades and rallies against the Vietnam War Saturday, three days before Tuesday's election.
Crowds seemed generally smaller than previous nationwide antiwar protests.
CANDLELIGHT PARADE
A parade planned to honor President Nixon in Salt Lake City Saturday provided a contrast to the antiwar protests. The "candlelight patriotic parade" was expected to attract thousands, sponsors said.

Veterans groups, labor organizations and school children were to participate. Antiwar demonstrators in Salt Lake said they would not interfere.
Billed by its sponsors as a "massive demonstration for peace," the nationwide protest took place three days before American voters went to the polls to vote for governors, senators and congressmen in an off-year national election.

When the demonstrations were announced in early October, some peace group leaders said they feared protests just before the election might harm the campaigns of peace candidates.
In Madison, Wis., a rally sponsored for Sunday was cancelled Saturday in part because many of the organizers felt the benefits from such a protest would be marginal compared to the possible damage to some candidates in the election, particularly if violence erupted.

President Nixon, who has campaigned this month throughout the country for Republican candidates, has called on voters to elect men to Congress who will support his policies.
While the President campaigned in the West, demonstrations estimated by police at about 450 marched in a circle on a sidewalk in front of the White House, to protest the war.

One demonstrator, a member of the Students' Mobilization Committee which is a sponsor of the demonstrations, said organizers planned to keep the nationwide protest "entirely peaceful." He said violent demonstrations against the President Thursday night in San Jose, Calif., "no doubt hurt our cause" in regard to the election.
'SEXUAL POLITICS'
The President denounced violent demonstrations such as the one in San Jose, in campaign speeches in Anaheim, Calif., Friday night and in Phoenix, Saturday.
Police estimated 3,500 persons attended a rally at the statehouse in Columbus, Ohio. The demonstrators, mostly students from various Ohio universities, had marched three miles from Ohio State University to the rally site. Rally sponsors had predicted 10,000 would attend.

In Philadelphia, police said about 1,500 marchers went from Kennedy Plaza near the city hall to Independence Hall for an antiwar rally. Earlier in the day, about 100 persons heard a speech by Kate Millet, author of "Sexual Politics" and a women's liberation advocate.

406 ABSENTEES Liquor Issue Helps Bring Out Voters

Last minute voter interest pushed the absentee vote total to a figure double that of the 1966 gubernatorial race. The total Friday at 5 p.m. was 406 absentee ballots as compared with the 1966 total of 288. Thirty persons voted absentee on the Rural Fire Protection District issue.
Issues such as liquor-by-the-drink, the fire district and the appearance in Texas by President Nixon and Republican party leaders stirred voter interest in Howard County, in the opinion of Frank Parker, county Democratic chairman.

"I get the feeling there's been a pickup in interest this week over what it was last week. The fire district has picked up interest in the county, and the President's appearance caused the Republicans to get out and vote. At the same time, his appearance caused the Democrats to get out and vote, too," said Parker.

Republican chairman Bill Sheppard said that he felt the increase in the absentee vote held little significance in judging Tuesday's voter turnout.

"When Big Spring was a railroad town, you could put some dependence on the number of absentee votes because so many had to vote absentee then. We haven't noticed any increase in voter interest. I don't know when it's been so quiet. The President's appearance will have a little effect on the Howard County vote, but not as much as it will in other areas of the state," said Sheppard.

Opposition to the liquor-by-the-drink proposal is increasing as Tuesday draws nearer. The Herald received from local members a copy of the Church of the Nazarene's statement against the proposal. Local pastors are urging members of their congregation to express their opposition.

Concerning the creation of a fire district, residents in such areas as Silver Heels have voiced approval of the plan, while rural residents in such areas as Lomax are opposed to what they say would be an unnecessary tax.

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

Tuesday is one of the most important days of the year. It is election day. There are 13,174 individuals who took the first step toward good citizenship in registering to vote. Now the real test of good citizenship comes up in taking time to go to the polls to choose a slate of officials from U.S. senator to governor and down to the precinct level. There also is a decision on seven proposed amendments to the state constitution. For part of the county a rural fire protection district proposal is to be decided. Party leaders are predicting — or hoping — for 6,900 votes; surely Howard County can do better than that.

Bank figures were encouraging Friday. Although deposits of $53,775,000 were off 3 of one-per cent, total resources and loans eased up, and cash gained by more than two million. On the comparable date a year ago, figures were pushed up abnormally nearly two million by some temporary deposits, so that actually the true position this year is stronger.

Officially, frost came to the area Wednesday morning with a momentary reading of 31 degrees. It did not do the damage inflicted by one two weeks before (with a 35-degree reading). Some fields in low places had foliage killed, and most

Play Politics With Jobless?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans cast their ballots Tuesday in mid-term elections clouded by voter indecision and disinterest—with Republican alarms about violence dramatized by rocks and eggs hurled at President Nixon's campaign motorcade in California.

At stake in Tuesday's balloting: 35 Senate seats, as many governorships, and a new House of Representatives.
The outcome could prove to be a near standoff in a Congress likely to remain dominated by Democrats.
But echoes of the violent demonstrations aimed at Nixon in San Jose, Calif., Thursday night seemed likely to help Republican candidates.

In their behalf, Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew have waged a one-two campaign focused on the issue of law and order, student turmoil and violent dissent.

Democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien accused Agnew of "a new low in campaign activities and campaign tactics."

Democrats have put their emphasis on the issue of the economy, inflation and unemployment. "In 21 months," O'Brien said Saturday, "Mr. Nixon has succeeded in bringing about a deterioration of this economy that, in a sense, is almost beyond comprehension."

FEAR AND SMEAR
George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, wired members unions urging a record turnout to "defeat a campaign of fear and smear directed at labor's friends."

The 23-state Nixon campaign wound up with Saturday appearances in Phoenix, Albuquerque, Las Vegas and Salt Lake City.
Agnew was appearing in Boise, Idaho, on his way to join Nixon at San Clemente, Calif., Sunday.

Football fan Nixon was to get in a pitch for Republican candidates Sunday—five minutes on national television, at half time of the professional football game. Democrats were countering with a half-time show featuring O'Brien and E. G. Marshall, the actor.

Thant Reported Stepping Down

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Despite efforts to draft him for a third term, U Thant, according to authoritative information, has reached a firm and irrevocable decision to step down as U.N. secretary-general at the end of 1971.

This word comes from sources close to the Burmese journalist-diplomat who is starting his 10th year as chief officer of the world organization.

Privately, it is said, he refers to 1971 as his last year.

HIS DESIRE

Persons familiar with his thinking say the only thing holding up a public announcement is his desire to avoid an overly long period as a "lame duck."

These sources say he already has made personal plans for the future and that he will announce his intentions in plenty of time for the selection of a successor by joint action of the Security Council and the General Assembly.

His second five-year term expires Dec. 31, 1971, a few days before his 63rd birthday. He has served as secretary-general since Nov. 3, 1961, and has already held office longer than either of his predecessors. Trygve Lie served seven years and Dag Hammarskjöld 8½.

TRIM AND FIT

Thant's last public statement on his plans was made at a news conference on Sept. 10. At that time, he said: "I have no intention of offering myself for a further term." Many thought this left the door ajar for a draft, in view of similar statements in 1966 and his later agreement, under pressure, to stay on.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

OOPS, WRONG CITY — Vice President Spiro Agnew holds his hands to his head as someone reminds him that he is in Hammond, Ind., and not Gary, Ind., as he mentioned during a speech at a rally for Rep. Richard B. Roudebush, a candidate for the U. S. Senate on the Republican ticket. His opponent is Vance Hartke, the Democratic incumbent.

'HATERS' THREAT TO FREEDOM? Nixon's 'Tough-Minded Approach To Violence'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Warning that Americans are in danger of losing their freedom to "haters," President Nixon declared Saturday that the time has come to take a tough-minded approach to violence.

The new approach, he said, would include tougher laws, firmer justice in the courtroom and a new and stern attitude by the American people to deal with terrorist dissent.

What is not needed, he declared, is bluster and repression.

'NO ROCKS HERE'

Several thousand—including a few mostly silent dissidents—turned out to welcome Nixon in Phoenix. Other greeters waved banners and signs with such legends as "No Rocks Here" and "We Don't Want to Know the Way to San Jose."

This was a reference to the stoning of the President's campaign motorcade in San Jose, Calif., Thursday night.

The President began by telling his audience, which was overwhelmingly friendly, that he wanted to make a major statement that needs to be said now.

Then he began reading from his prepared text.

Upon landing in Phoenix, Nixon made public a telegram that he had sent to Bill L. Ginn, president of the student body at San Jose State College, who had wired him to say the student body disapproved of Thursday night's attack.

'MY BEST WISHES'
The President extended "my very best wishes" to the students and stated:

"You can be sure that I was totally aware of the fact that only a small number of San Jose students participated, that a substantial number of those who created the disturbance were from outside of the city."

Some antiwar protesters, told reporters that security guards had taken away their tickets to get into the hangar, forcing them to stand on the sunny runway outside, far removed from the speakers' stand.

Before Nixon arrived, the master of ceremonies, cowboy singer Rex Allen told the crowd to wave their pro-Nixon placards in front of the television cameras so they could be seen throughout the nation later in the day.

'CAST YOUR VOTE'

Nixon's remarks, delivered to a Republican rally at the airport in Phoenix, represented the climactic statement of his personal campaign in behalf of GOP candidates.

His message to those who will cast ballots next Tuesday: "Nobody is going to tear this country down as long as you are ready to cast your vote to build this country up."

Referring to the San Jose stoning, Nixon said, "never before in this campaign was there such an atmosphere of hatred." And he said of his attackers, estimated by police at about 1,000:

"Let's recognize them for what they are: not romantic revolutionaries, but the same thugs and hoodlums that have always played a good people."

"The major reason they increasingly terrorize decent citizens can be summed up in a single word: appeasement. When you permit an imbalance to exist that favors the accused over the victim, you are inviting more violence and breeding more bullies."

DRAW THE LINE

"For too long, the strength of freedom in our society has been eroded by a creeping permissiveness—in our legislatures, in our courts, in our family life, in our universities. . . the time has come to draw the line. The time has come for the great silent majority of Americans, of all ages and of every political persuasion, to stand up and be counted against appeasement of the rock throwers and obscenity shouters."

A Four-Letter Word For You To Consider---VOTE

RISE FAST — Sig Rogers adds some more red to the United Fund thermometer, now well past the 60 per cent mark on the way to $109,975. ## Two-Thirds Mark Passed In United Fund Campaign

United Fund contributions pouring in Friday afternoon took the campaign beyond the two-thirds mark with a total of $73,530.10 on the way to the $109,975 goal.

Company employees turned in a large gift with 100 per cent of the employees participating and an average contribution of $23.37 per employee.

Other amounts included large amounts from Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. and contributions from Cosden employees that could not be fully counted before the United Fund office shut down for the weekend.

Contributions from employees of the Medical Center Memorial Hospital and Howard County Junior College are also included in the total, although the participation on percentages have not been calculated.

Fund workers are anticipating another big surge this week as other large groups of employees are turned in. Still to come in are traditionally large amounts from federal employees and from the people at Big Spring State Hospital, the Veterans Administration Hospital, and Big Spring Independent School District.

The total also represents contributions turned in by nearly all the other United Fund campaign divisions. Campaign chairman Ken Perry is to meet with campaign division chairmen soon to assess the progress so far and plan the final push for the goal.

Fall Of Schoolboy Hero 'Tex' Watson

MCKINNEY, Tex. (AP) — There he stood on the jailhouse steps, his darkness-accustomed eyes blinking at the bright sunlight he hadn't seen in months. This was Charles Watson, football hero, basketball hero, track star, "most versatile student" of 1964.

It was Sept. 12 and the 6 foot 4 Watson was flanked by two Los Angeles homicide officers preparing to take him back to California.

HUMAN VEGETABLE — In that state, the All-America boy type is accused of being the hatchet man in the Tate-Labianca murders that shocked the nation. A witness testified he killed six of the seven victims for whose deaths hippie leader Charles Manson and three women are on trial.

Friday they put Watson away — his mind gone, a human vegetable near death. Watson is 24 years old. Last Sept. 12 a hundred or so bystanders gathered to watch officers take him away.

Watson appeared nervous as he stood in his new blue blazer, gray trousers, striped shirt and maroon tie. His black shoes neatly polished, Watson shuffled his feet slightly as the officers paused for the photographers clustered around the steps.

'THERE HE IS' — A wry smile crossed his face as someone in the crowd exclaimed softly, "Look! There he is!"

Except for brief appearances in the nearby county courthouse, Watson had spent all his time in the jail since he was arrested last December in the bizarre slayings of Miss Sharon Tate and six others in August, 1969.

His lawyer, Bill Boyd, waged a lengthy battle against extradition, contending the youth could not get a fair trial in California because of public exposure to the facts.

Boyd took the appeal all the way to U.S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo L. Black, who rejected Watson's plea.

Superior Court Judge George Dell on Friday ordered Watson committed to a California institution and said the young Texan would not stand trial unless he regains sanity.

'NO TALKER' — Dr. Marcus Crahan told the judge that Watson "is literally becoming a vegetable. He is being fed by nasal tube. He is rapidly reverting to a fetal state which would be rapidly fatal."

After he arrived in Los Angeles, Watson lost weight—from 160 to 110 pounds—jail officials said, and added "there is a serious possibility he could die from malnutrition."

Watson spent his time quietly in the double cell in the Collin County jail, McKinney authorities recalled.

"He never had much to say," a jailer said the day Watson was moved to California. "He watched television and read the newspaper. I think he paid more attention to the sports page."

RAISED IN CHURCH — "This boy was raised in the church house," said Sheriff Tom Montgomery, who is Watson's second cousin. "Why his mother and dad are the finest people you'll ever meet. It's awful hard for people around here to think he could ever have done the stuff he's accused of doing."

Montgomery said Watson was a good prisoner in McKinney. "Sometimes I think he didn't know he was there," the sheriff added.

When Watson and the Los Angeles detectives began walking down the steps to a patrol car, a young girl thrust a bouquet of flowers toward the prisoner.

One of the detectives blocked the flowers with his elbow and a briefcase.

Two Persons Perish In Fire

HOUSTON (AP)—A fire at a duplex in Houston killed two persons Saturday.

The victims were Sam Brown, 25, and Vivian Jean Allen, 17. Fire officials said the blaze began when charcoal, being used as a source of heat, set the mattress on fire. Both victims were pronounced dead at the scene.

Can Texas afford two Republican Senators?

You have witnessed during this campaign the biggest Republican power play in history to elect a candidate to the United States Senate.

The Republican Establishment in Washington hasn't spared the horses or the money in their attempt to get two Republican Senators from Texas.

But what should concern Texans is not the power play but what happens later if they succeed in electing George Bush. When a man is so heavily dependent on others to get him elected... when he can't make it on his own and has to have the President, the Vice President and nearly every cabinet officer come down here to do what he can't do... just how independent of The Establishment can Congressman Bush really be?

What's George Bush going to say when Richard Nixon calls him into the Oval Office of the White House and tells him he's got to have his vote on a bill even though it isn't good for Texas?

What's George Bush going to say when Richard Nixon says, "I'm sorry, George, but you've got to choose between Texas and the Republican Party on this vote, and I've got to have you."

As a coattail candidate, that's the spot George Bush is on!

Lloyd Bentsen is not on that spot. He's not going to have to make that choice. Lloyd Bentsen will be perfectly free to support the President when he thinks he's right and oppose him when he thinks he's wrong.

It's your decision November 3rd. Cast your vote for the man who will be best for Texas.

Timely Tips For Tasty Tomatoes

Fruit from frost-damaged tomato and pepper plants still offer some mighty good eating if it's removed soon after the frost and stored properly.

For a continuous supply of fresh tomatoes on the dining table, Dr. Roland Roberts, Lubbock, area vegetable specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, offers these timely tips.

Pick the fruit and place them in shallow boxes or flats being careful not to pile them more than two deep. Then stack the boxes so as to allow free movement of dry air around the fruit.

"The best temperature for storing green tomatoes is about 50 to 55 degrees," says Roberts. "Below this temperature they may decay or develop an off flavor. A constant temperature is also best as changing temperatures will cause moisture to condense on the fruit surface and thus favor decay."

Bring the fruit into the kitchen as required for use. Kitchens are usually warm and 70 to 75 degrees is an ideal ripening temperature, adds the specialist. Tomatoes do not need light to ripen. If they ripen faster than you can use them, store the ripe fruit in the refrigerator vegetable drawer.

"Unlike tomatoes, peppers keep best at about 32 degrees at a relative humidity of 95 per cent," explains Roberts. "In these surroundings, they will keep up to 40 days. When gathering peppers, the specialist emphasizes that they should be cut rather than pulled from the plant. This practice avoids a ragged tear on the stem attachment and thus hinders rotting. Store peppers in a highly humid place at a low temperature to reduce shriveling from loss of moisture by the fruit, adds the specialist. This also reduces decay. Peppers can be preserved for long periods in a freezer. Package them whole or cut in air-tight plastic bags.

DEAR ABBY: A few weeks ago I went to the hospital for major surgery. My gentleman friend, a 50-year-old widower whom I had been dating for over two years, invited me and my three daughters, 13, 15 and 17, to stay in his large, comfortable home until I recovered, which should be in about three months.

The day after my surgery, my oldest daughter came to the hospital and told me that my gentleman friend tried to get fresh with her. I asked my friend about this and he was terribly shocked. He said he was hurt and amazed that I would believe such a story. Somehow I felt that he was telling me the truth as he is a deeply religious man, a good father, and I have never known him to lie.

Since then I found out that this same daughter has told some vicious lies about her two sisters and my own mother. Should I bring my daughter together with my friend and insist that she make those accusations to his face? This is what he wants me to do. Or should I just forget it?

NEEDS HELP: DEAR NEEDS: Avoid an ugly showdown. Judge your gentleman friend on his past record. And judge your daughter on hers. But don't just forget it. Your daughter needs help.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a volunteer fireman and first aid man. He knows what it's like returning to a cold bed after a 4 a.m. call in February. He's had his share of congealed gravy and cold leftovers, and his company left looking stunned when he leaves on a moment's notice with no apologies. When my husband goes on a call, I leave the police monitor on just in case a mother needs my help in caring for her children.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married for 20 years and have three children. I have worked 16 of those years and made half of the living. Our children haven't suffered from the arrangement as they are good citizens and top-notch students. Last week my in-laws brought over a beautiful diamond ring which my husband had inherited. They expected him to have it reset and give it to me. (So did I.) My husband flatly refused, saying, "I wasn't the 'diamond type' and he was going to just put it in his safety deposit box — which is what he did."

'Open Saloon' Big Issue On List Of Amendments

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

Texas voters, wood, warned and whatnot, decide Tuesday whether to strike down the 35-year-old constitutional ban against liquor by the drink.

The "open saloon" issue is the hottest, most controversial of seven proposed amendments confronting Texans in the general election.

The proposal, appearing on the ballot as Amendment No. 2, would end the ban against open bars and permit the legislature to pass a local option mixed drinks law.

MORE DEBATE

Even with voter approval, the issue still would be subject to debate and possible defeat in either the House or Senate, where liquor long has been a politically delicate item.

The other proposed amendments would:

- Broaden the power of the State Judicial Qualifications

Commission to discipline judges.

—Permit the legislature to prescribe a means of evaluating agricultural land on its productivity, instead of its market value.

—Make the State Building Commission appointive, instead of composed of the governor, attorney general and board of control chairman.

—Allow counties to increase the amount of road bonds they can issue by majority vote, instead of two-thirds.

—Increase the homestead exemption from $5,000 to $10,000.

—Authorize the legislature to permit cities, counties and other political subdivisions to consolidate services and offices.

HIGH INTEREST

For Texans accustomed to toting bottles in brown paper sacks and frequenting clubs loosely described as "private," the liquor issue aroused high interest.

Voters indicated in a 1968 referendum they favored liquor by the drink, but the outcome was neither conclusive nor binding on the legislature.

Battle lines were drawn early this year between "Texans Who Care" (TWC), a group opposing the amendment, and "Texans for Enforceable Liquor Laws" (TELL), an organization which favors it.

The arguments of either side are not entirely unfamiliar to Texans.

MORE CARNAGE

TWC contends the availability of mixed drinks would increase consumption and thereby contribute to carnage on the highways, alcoholism, the divorce rate, a variety of diseases, the crime rate, industrial absenteeism and lesser social ills.

TELL disagrees, arguing that liquor by the drink would not increase consumption.

The opposition depends mostly on fear psychology nurtured by propaganda aimed at the public for generations," says State Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, TELL chairman.

He has assailed what he called the "myths and misconceptions" concerning the physical, moral and economic effects of alcohol.

Dairymen Aid Congressman

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three members of the House Agriculture Committee, including its chairman, have accepted $13,000 from a well-endowed political fund supported by Dairy farmers.

All three congressmen are unopposed in Tuesday's general election and faced no opposition in the primaries.

They are the committee chairman, Rep. W. R. (Bob) Poage, D-Tex., a 34-year veteran of Congress, and Rep. Edward Jones, D-Tenn., and Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., both freshmen.

The money comes from the Trust for Agriculture Political Education of San Antonio, Tex., set up by key officials of the Associated Milk Producers Inc.

Dairy farmers, who donated the $400,000 now in the fund, benefit from government price supports for milk.

The fund's gave $5,000 to Poage, $2,000 to Jones, in a one-time contribution this summer, and $6,000 to Alexander over the past year and a half.

Poage, who listed the fund's contribution in his pre-election report filed with Congress, said the money was deposited in a special campaign bank account in Waco, Tex.

Carlton Smith, Poage's campaign treasurer, said the money will be used in future election contests.

Last year the fund also gave the 70-year-old central Texas lawyer $6,700 at a testimonial dinner. Another $4,700 was chipped in during a joint affair last winter for Poage and Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex.

Cub Scout Pack Recruits 19 Members Thursday

Cub Scout Pack 179 gained 19 new members Thursday night at the season's opening meeting in Kentwood United Methodist Church.

Amidst a Halloween setting with a smoking cauldron, Cubmaster C. G. Evans welcomed the following Bobcats: Steve Franks, Larson Lloyd, David Northcutt, Scott Shortes, Lance Shillingburg, Nick Davidson, David Towery, Robert Young, Terry Sinder, Mike Holmes, Ralph Webb, Mike Workman, Ralph Emerson, Jerry Prouty, Brent Odom, Gregory Smith, Oliver Black, Skipper Butts, and Joe Hicks.

Wolf badges were awarded to Terry Sinder and Bruce McElroy; Bear badges to Mike Gomez and Rodney Floyd; arrow points to Mike Gomez (2), Jack Odom, and Rodney Floyd; one-year service stars to Terry Howell, Barry Rosson, Jim Wilmes, Jack Odom, Joe Goodwin, Scott Calhoun, Mike Evans, Bruce McElroy, Scott Vick, Greg Henry, Jesse Curry, and Kelly Overton. Two-year pins went to Wayne Pruitt, Rusty Braun, and Mike Tarleton.

Selected as denners were Jody Jones, Terry Howell, Mike Workman, and Scott McGuire; assistant denners, Mike Evans, Mike Gomez, Jerry Prouty, and Lester Pruitt.

Webelos awards were presented to: Rodney Floyd (2), Rusty Braun, (2), Mike Tarleton (4), Tim Miller, (2), Chris Shortes (2), Tim Corbell (2), Eugene Alexander (2), Wayne Pruitt, Tony Smart, Brent Overman (2), Joe Bob Talley (2), and Benny Black (3).

Next meeting will be Nov. 19, with a theme of Pioneer Days.

CONTESTANT — Patricia Ferguson, 18, Kimble County, will represent this district (No. 6) in the state finals of the Texas Farm Bureau contest Nov. 9 in Fort Worth. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ferguson, Junction. Winner of the state contest will have an expense-paid trip to Houston for the national Farm Bureau Federation meeting. The queen candidate is extremely active in her school, also shows livestock, sews, cooks, and takes part in sports.

Amendment 2...here's what it means to you.

YOUR COMMUNITY FINALLY WILL GET THE RIGHT OF SELF-DETERMINATION ON LIQUOR BY-THE-OUNCE. If Amendment 2 passes, the Legislature will authorize local option elections next year. This is in the best tradition of local self-government. You decide for yourself.

MORE RESPECT FOR THE LAW. Texas liquor laws are hypocritical; they breed disrespect for all laws. Amendment 2 is NOT a religious issue, NOT a moral issue, NOT a prohibition issue. The issue is whether we want HONEST liquor laws and better enforcement.

LESS DRUNK DRIVING. The experience of other states proves that legal liquor by-the-ounce helps take the bottle out of the car.

BETTER CONTROL OVER WHO BUYS AND SELL ALCOHOL. Amendment 2 will move Texas toward stronger and more efficient licensing and law enforcement.

NO INCREASE IN CONSUMPTION. In the nine states which have approved liquor by-the-ounce in the last 25 years, consumption of distilled spirits has shown no total increase. National studies prove that the method of dispensing liquor is not related to consumption, and therefore not related to crime and other social problems. Nine of the 10 states with the lowest crime rates allow liquor by-the-ounce.

MORE TOURISTS, MORE CONVENTIONS, MORE REVENUE. State taxes from per-drink sales will be more than $10 million yearly. Additional tourist revenues will run into the hundreds of millions of dollars.

VOTE FOR AMENDMENT 2 ON NOVEMBER 3. It's the honest thing to do.

Political advertisement paid for by Texans for Enforceable Liquor Laws, Senator Joe Christie, Chairman.

Record-Setting Totals Show Rocketing Deposits

By ROBERT E. FORD
Associated Press Writer

Money on deposit in Texas banks skyrocketed in the third quarter this year—in the face of many indications of a recession—with the totals in many cities setting all-time records.

The obviously healthy condition of the state economy as marked by the bank deposit reports this weekend, is little consolation to the man who has lost his job in an industrial work force cutback or to stockholders watching companies fall quarter reports show declines in profits and sometimes losses.

But with money known to exist, the worker and the stockholder can have strong belief that conditions will improve for them.

The timing of the records was another surprise. Rarely are records set in the fall reporting period. That generally is reserved for the last quarter report in December when stores have swelled their accounts with Christmas spending money.

Among cities and counties reporting all-time record deposits are Navarro (Corsicana), Palo Pinto (Mineral Wells), Harris (Houston), Amarillo Canyon, Val Verde (Del Rio) and Nueces (Corpus Christi).

SETTING RECORDS
Setting records for the fall report were Taylor County (Abilene) Midland and Dallas.

Longview's five banks had increases of better than $7 million in deposits for the last 12 months and over $2 million since June 30, according to figures made available Friday.

The county's eight banks collectively showed an increase of $4,788,404.30 in the last three months, and $8,753,158.01 in the 12-month period.

Longview banks accounted for $106,719,302.27 in the third quarter as compared with $99,561,768.22 for the same time last year. The gain over the 1969 total was $7,157,534.05, and was $2,841,663.55 over the prior quarter.

The county's eight banks had deposits of $138,247,598.82 on June 30 and 143,036,002.62 on Oct. 28, a gain of $4,788,404.30. The 12-month increase was $8,753,158.01.

DEPOSIT GAINS
Almost all cities reporting showed deposit gains over the same period a year ago.

The reports came on instructions of the comptroller of the currency in Washington and the State Banking Commission.

In Dallas, for instance, the report led observers to call the economy "buoyant" despite some poor earning records by industries and an increase in unemployment.

In Houston, one bank official said, "primarily the increase in time deposits were able to get when the Federal Reserve Board took the limit off the time deposits." He added, "The local economy is very strong."

Del Rio observers cited general growth, government pay raises and some easing of the tight money situation.

HUNT COUNTY
In Hunt County, where there was a slight drop from a year ago, rural banks showed an increase.

Denton bankers said work on the new regional airport helped the banks show an increase.

Mineral Wells banks continued their unbroken climb from quarter to quarter that extends back for years.

Corsicana bankers said business throughout Navarro County is on the upswing, and credited much of the increase to good crops.

Corpus Christi, victim of Hurricane Celia, said the record there was spurred by money coming in to restore the city and area in the form of insurance claims payments, Small Business Administration loans and Red Cross aid. Other hurricane-hit cities have experienced the same phenomenon.

COMPARISONS
Following are the amount of deposits as of Oct. 28, compared with a similar period a year ago for a number of cities and counties:

Harris County (Houston) $5,284,273,932 and $5,228,314,753
Dallas County $5,014,039,009 and $4,438,858,654
Tarrant County (Fort Worth) $1,546,734,466 and $1,420,430,903
Corpus Christi $421,647,767 and $309,009,032
El Paso County $486,200,639 and $421,160,654
Nueces County (Corpus Christi) $442,458,500 and $327,413,103
Austin $60,313,010 and $40,590,502
Harris County $7,188,953 and $6,730,458
Val Verde County (Del Rio) $30,079,878 and $27,425,957
Abilene $185,172,842 and $175,202,416
Taylor County $194,333,407 and $173,812,192
Hunt County (Greenville) $76,135,714 and $73,812,192
Wichita County (Wichita Falls) $291,193,386 and $283,747,759
Denton County $106,435,411 and $99,432,085
Snyder $34,529,976 and $31,029,486
Palo Pinto County (Mineral Wells) $38,455,516 and $37,491,180
Kilgore $26,482,777 and $24,908,222

Shearn Moody Accused Of 'Personal Vendetta'

GALVESTON (AP) — One of the nation's largest insurance companies, American National, has filed suit for $50 million against Shearn Moody Jr., who is a director of the company and of the Moody Foundation, founded by his grandfather, the late W.L. Moody Jr.

The suit says Shearn Moody's activities caused the company $25 million in actual damages. The suit also asked for an additional $25 million in punitive damages.

American National, in the suit filed Friday, accused Shearn Moody Jr. of carrying on a personal vendetta against certain trustees of the Moody Foundation which "knowingly and intentionally breached the duties and obligations owed by him as a director to American National Insurance stockholders."

American National's suit came a week after David B.T. Myrick Jr., a great-grandson of W.L. Moody Jr., had filed a $137.3 million suit in a 122nd District Court here against past and present members of the American National board.

Named with American National are the Moody National Bank of Galveston, the Moody Foundation and nine individuals. The suit charges the executive committee of American National with negligence of duties.

The suit filed by American National Friday also charges that Shearn Moody Jr. has attempted since 1963 to get legis-

Zoning Board Slates Meeting

The planning and zoning board will meet at 5:15 p.m. Nov. 3 to consider three requested zoning changes.

Louis Rochester, President of Tee Pee Development Co., Odessa, is requesting that five lots in the Coronado Hills addition and six lots in Coronado Hills addition, second filing, be rezoned from single family to multiple family dwelling.

Harold Jones is requesting a change from agricultural to light commercial zoning on the recently annexed Hamilton airstrip property, which was automatically zoned as agricultural when added to the city.

Joe A. Deanda is requesting a zone change from single family to light commercial at 607 N. Bell.

Carnival Monday For Head Start

Patrons and friends of the Head Start program will gather for their regular community meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday at the Kate Morrison school.

In addition to a program presented by the pupils of Mrs. Kay Medlin and Bob Montanez, there will be a carnival atmosphere. A cake auction is scheduled, and there will be candied apples, popcorn balls, burritos, etc. with all proceeds going toward purchase of playground equipment.

The program advisory council met last Monday to name officers, re-electing Bob Green as chairman; Mrs. Jeannie Flores, secretary; Mrs. Cruz Martinez, treasurer.

GAMCO Names New Comptroller

The promotion of Jerry A. Phillips to the office of comptroller for GAMCO was announced Saturday by Harold Davis, president.

Phillips' promotion was effective Oct. 15, said Davis. He succeeds Morris Rhodes, who has taken a position in Dallas.

Phillips has been with GAMCO since March 1, 1969, joining the school supply manufacturing and distributing firm as assistant comptroller.

He is a native of Vernon but was reared in Abernathy, where he completed his high school. With some time out to work, he was graduated in 1967 from Hardin-Simmons University with a BBA degree.

Phillips became associated with Clyde Hollingsworth Co. after graduation, leaving that post to join GAMCO.

He is a member of the First Baptist Church and an active worker in the Downtown Lions Club. Phillips was married to the former Lyn Middleton of

Birthday Party For Boys Club

The October birthday party for the Boys Club of Big Spring was sponsored Friday night by the Girls Auxiliary of Phillips Memorial Baptist Church.

The honorees, Abel Garcia, Mike Salazar, Louie Vela, and Frank Rodriguez, were presented Boys Club pins and show passes compliments of Ike Robb. The November birthday party will be Nov. 17 sponsored by the After Five Garden Club.

Gene Lehnen, Dallas, the assistant regional director of the Boys Club of America, was the guest Wednesday when the board of directors met for lunch. Future plans for the club were discussed.

Local Men Lose Appeals Cases

EASTLAND — Two Howard County men have lost their appeal against the Texas Department of Public Safety and the decision to revoke their driving licenses.

Chief Justice Clyde Grissom, Court of Civil Appeals, Eleventh Supreme Judicial District of Texas, Friday affirmed the decisions appealed by David Sherrow Hector and Larry Edgar Burklow, in separate cases.

Another Howard County case was also submitted to the court involving Texas General Indemnity vs. Joel M. Hope.

PFC. JESSE FENTON

A Mighty Mite Is This Marine

SAN DIEGO (AP) — "Fenton actually believes he's a 30-foot giant," says Marine Sgt. Bill Johnson. "I don't think this man understands that he's not even 64 inches tall."

The 135-pound recruit has just turned in the greatest physical effort on record at the Marine Corps Recruit Depot — a perfect 1,000 points in two series of tests.

Actually, only the standing broad jump bothered Pfc. Jesse C. Fenton and that was because he stands only 5 feet 3 1/2. He was required to jump 8 feet 6. He exceeded that by 2 inches. "To broad-jump 8 feet 8 can be a challenge," he said.

To get a perfect score in one test series, recruits between the ages of 17 and 24 must do at least 18 nonstop pullups, 85 situps in two minutes, 60 pushups nonstop, 41 bend-and-thrusts in 60 seconds and a 300-yard run in less than 48 seconds. Fenton did the latter in 32 seconds.

Fenton, 20, lettered in football at high school in Chino, Calif., and recalls, "I was a 95-pound speedback." He is married. Before starting recruit training Aug. 23, he worked as a tree-cutter in Fort Lupton, Colo.

Said Fenton: "I'm sorry I passed out after the situps, the pushups, pullups and the bend-and-thrusts. I must have given more than I had."

No Charges In Alabama State Slaying

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Police said Saturday they are questioning two youths, but have not charged anyone in connection with the shooting death of a 20-year-old Negro student at predominantly black Alabama State University.

Police said Michael Casher of Mobile died Friday morning of 22-caliber bullet wounds. A university spokesman said a fight broke out between students and nonstudents when a brawl failed to show up for a dance Thursday night.

The spokesman said campus police chased the nonstudents and Casher said he could identify the nonstudents.

According to the spokesman, the officers and Casher searched unsuccessfully for the nonstudents.

After Casher returned to his dormitory, they reported hearing two shots. The officers said they moved in the direction of the gunfire and exchanged shots with unidentified gunmen.

When the officers returned to the dormitory after losing the gunmen, they found Casher had been shot, the spokesman said.

Police said Gerald Banks, 19, of Montgomery was charged with possession of stolen property for allegedly having a stolen 22-caliber rifle in his possession.

They said also they were questioning a 16-year-old who had a shotgun in his possession. His identity was withheld.

Martin Now In Second Spot

Martin County has zoomed into second place in drilling activity among the counties in the Permian basin.

At the end of the past week, Martin County had 18 active rigs, two more than Ector County and only half a dozen less than Pecos County, the leader. The count was a gain of six rigs for Martin County for the week.

The record of other area counties (with previous week figures in parenthesis) were: Dawson 6 (5), Glasscock 1 (0), Howard 5 (5), Mitchell 1 (1), Scurry 5 (6), Sterling 1 (1).

Howard County reported a completion in the Iatan, East Howard pool. Sun No. 1 10-B Denman, 990 from the south and 1,040 from the west lines of section 16-30-18, T&P, elevation 2,401 pumped 16 barrels of 30.2 gravity oil and 90 barrels of brackish water daily after acidizing with 2,500 gallons. It bottomed at 3,060 feet, set 3 1/2 in. at 3,059, and plugged back to 3,041, perforated from 2,633-3,024.

The heavy floods curtailed allied air operations in South Vietnam, but U.S. B52 jets pounded the Ho Chi Minh Trail again in the fourth week of saturation bombing raids on North Vietnamese supply routes in eastern Laos.

Ground combat activity was light and scattered throughout Indochina.

"FOURTH OF JULY" In Saigon and the surrounding provinces, the red and yellow South Vietnamese flag was on wide display for Sunday's celebration of National Day, the equivalent of America's Fourth of July.

The date marks the anniversary of the overthrow and slaying of the president Ngo Dinh Diem on Nov. 1, 1963. President Nguyen Van Thieu, as in the past two years, called for subdued celebrations.

They canceled the annual National Day parade and asked his countrymen to fly the flag from their homes instead to keep the event on a wartime austerity basis.

As in the past, he granted the annual National Day amnesty on the eve of the holiday. Saturday's decree ordered the release of 1,506 criminal and political prisoners and reduced sentences for another 359.

LONDON (AP) — Lord Bertrand Russell, the late philosopher, mathematician and peace worker, left most of his $166,183 estate to his fourth wife, Lady Russell, in his will probated Friday. Russell, who died last February at 97, left a total of $2,160 to his gardener and two housekeepers at his home in Wales.

Floods Leave 180,000 Homeless In South Viet

SAIGON (AP) — The worst there was no sign of a let-up in floods in six years left more than 150 dead and at least 180,000 homeless in the populous northern coastal regions of through Monday, the U.S. command directed American military units in the northern provinces to render all necessary assistance to the stricken South Vietnamese.

"No American servicemen are in jeopardy," a spokesman said.

The Vietnamese toll of victims was rising as officials reported hamlets, roads and crop lands had been washed away in the heavily populated coastal plain.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported from Da Nang that water in the city, South Vietnam's second largest, had receded considerably. The Da Nang River was still well over flood stage.

The heavy floods curtailed allied air operations in South Vietnam, but U.S. B52 jets pounded the Ho Chi Minh Trail again in the fourth week of saturation bombing raids on North Vietnamese supply routes in eastern Laos.

THE WEEK

farmers wish all had been. This would simply stimulate the cotton harvest which steadily is hitting full stride.

Oil activity in the area continues its brisk pace, thanks to the heavy development in Martin County where there were three Spraberry Trend completions for 627 barrels and one in the LaCaff (Dean) area for 1,350. Martin County also had eight new Spraberry locations, and one Canyon Reef abandonment in the northeast corner. Dawson County appeared to have a Mississippian discovery 15 miles east of Lamesa, added a Devonian strike just west of Lamesa, and a deep prospector three miles northwest of Lamesa. Borden County got a wildcat 3 1/2 miles north of Vincent.

Our young people continue to make a name for themselves. Scott McLaughlin and Jeff Talmadge won first place in an invitational debate tournament. At Dallas, Patty Peugh sold her grandchampion State Fair Hampshire barrow for $500.

A long-time dream of reactivating an area museum appeared nearer realization when the Howard County commissioners court allocated $5,000, plus the previous library building as a home. Previously the city had promised $5,000, with the hope a like amount can be provided the latter half of the year.

For the first time in several years Howard County has an excellent chance to considerably exceed its goal of United States savings bond sales. Through the first three quarters sales totalled $503,500; at the same rate for the last three months, we could go $50,000 over the top.

for sustained liveliness. The latest point of warm debate is a decision to take the bid of $49,112 for containers to be used in a semi-mechanical garbage pickup. This was not the low bid, which two members said met all specifications, but which three members said would be more costly to the city in the long run. In any event, the residential collection rate is due to go up 25 cents a month, also some commercial adjustments.

Truett Thomas is the new president of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, succeeding Dr. Harold Smith. Some idea about the increasing contribution of this institution to this community may be seen in the report of Jim Thompson, director of the center. There were 421 more individuals treated last year, nearly a 50 per cent increase.

Fight-Party Case Solved?

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — An Atlanta man with a lengthy police record has been charged with the robbery to which more than 100 fans were lured by engraved invitation after the Muhammad Ali-Jerry Quarry fight. The fans, who thought they were attending a party, were stripped of money, jewelry and clothing when they arrived. Police did not release the name of the 27-year-old man seized Friday, but said he had admitted purchasing a shotgun discarded by one of the eight masked bandits as they left the house with loot officers now estimate could run twice as high as $100,000 to $200,000. Officers said the man declared he "was tricked into buying the gun." Police said the man and a companion went to an Atlanta pawn shop Monday where the man bought the shotgun and his companion purchased a .45-caliber pistol. They said the man filled out the form required under the Federal Firearms Control Act stating he had never been convicted of a felony and was not under indictment.

Food, Dance Will Spice St. Lawrence Festival

ST. LAWRENCE—The sound of hammers, shuffling of feet around booths, and voices asking about final preparations gave way here Saturday night to the aroma of beef drippings wafted from the barbecue pit. It all added up to readiness for the 15th annual St. Lawrence Festival beginning with serving of the noon meal starting at 11 a.m. in the Community Hall. Two or three thousand people are expected to come for the meals, the auction sale, the bazaar, supper and the traditional German dance this evening. St. Lawrence is located 10 miles south on RR 33 from Garden City and five miles west on FM 2874. Men of the community gathered early Saturday morning to grind, mix and season more than two tons of German sausage, which will be on the dinner and supper menus along with heaps of beef cut out especially for the occasion. Take-home packages of sausage also will be on sale in the concession stands, which also include home-canned items put up by St. Lawrence women, a variety of things from the ladies' "fancy stand," games operated by the teenagers, bingo, giving away of either a deer rifle or shotgun, also a home-made quilt. One of the features is the auction sale which begins with bales of cotton donated by parishioners, then followed by sale of merchandise gifts. After supper, the hall will be cleared and Leroy Matocha and his band from Fayetteville, Tex., will move in for the dance. Alfred Schwartz supervised the making of the sausage Saturday, and Cecil Halfmann was in charge of the barbecue. This year's affair has been directed by Lawrence Jost, A. O. Lange, Lester Jansa and Leon Halfmann. Mrs. Charles Pechacek, Mrs. Floyd Schwartz, Mrs. Eugene Hirt are heading up the women's division. The kitchen crew is in charge of Mrs. Calvin Schwartz. Besides the Community Hall, the old church, and the shed attached to it will be utilized for the festival activities. First order for the day will be mass said by the Rev. Augustine Lucca, pastor of the St. Lawrence Catholic Church, at 7 a.m. today in the new church, which was only partially constructed when last year's festival was held.

Spooky Characters Take Holiday Carnival Prizes

Saturday afternoon shoppers Brent, 15 months, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. J. Brent, 243-A Center got a treat but no tricks from about 75 spooks, witches, cats, devils and goblins who gathered at 3 p.m. for a costume parade and party. The Highland South Merchants Association sponsored the event for the youngsters in the shopping center's mall. The costumed youngsters made selection of the winners difficult for judges, Mrs. Wade Choate, Fred Davis and Bill Mack. The judges selected a bird, a devil and a cat as winners of the contest for children under 8 years old; and a little old lady, a witch, and little red riding hood as winners of the contest for children between the ages of 8 and 12. The winners each received gift certificates, and all participants were treated to free soft drinks by the merchants. Except for Halloween night, the bird is Randy Paige, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Paige, 811 Anna; the devil is Eric

WITCHFUL THINKING

BISMARCK, N.D. (AP) — Police checked into the ultimate in Halloween costumes Friday night. The complaint specified a naked woman running down Washington Street. After refitting the woman with coveralls, police were told the bareness was unintentional. She said her boyfriend had torn off all her clothes "because he had paid for them," and then kicked her out of his car.

GREAT PUMPKIN FOUND AT LAST?

EDMONTON, Alta. (AP) — Still searching for the Great Pumpkin? It's in the driveway of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kiel in Edmonton. It's five feet high, six feet wide and weighs 10,000 pounds — it's made out of concrete. Kiel says he doesn't know how it got there, but speculates a friend was behind it. "An enemy wouldn't have gone to all that trouble," he says.

Bankers Give $35,000 To 21 Key Congressmen

WASHINGTON (AP) — A political fund raised by the nation's bankers has given more than $40,000 to Senate and House Banking Committee members in what a key lawmaker calls an obvious effort to influence a pending bank bill. The largest contribution of $5,000 was funneled through a hidden money-raising body set up in Washington for Sen. Harrison A. Williams, D-N.J., who is on a Senate-House conference committee due to decide the fate of the bill two weeks after election day. The Bankers Political Action Committee made $35,000 in campaign donations to 21 congressmen—each a member of the House Banking Committee. Four other senators including one banking committee member received a total of $15,500 from the bankers' fund. The House committee's chairman, Rep. Wright A. Patman, D-Tex., called the contributions an obvious effort to try to influence action on a one-bank holding company bill when Congress returns in mid-November. Patman has called for a Justice Department probe. The treasurer of the bankers' political fund, Ralph E. Stickle of East Lansing, Mich., declined comment on the contributions. SPREAD IT AROUND The fund is expected to pass out another $100,000 in contributions in the last few days of the campaign. The money for the Banking Committee members surfaced in a pre-election report filed with Congress for spending done through Thursday. The bill pending in Congress would bar a holding company that controls one bank from branching into unrelated business areas. The Senate version exempts many of the holding companies that would be covered by the tougher House bill. The conference committee is set to meet Nov. 18. Patman asserted: "They are trying to weaken the holding bill. Now is the time to spread the money around if they want to influence it." The fund gave $2,500 to each of the three Republicans on the House on the 12-man conference committee: Reps. William B. Widnall of New Jersey, Albert W. Johnson of Pennsylvania and J. William Stanton of Ohio. HIDDEN COMMITTEE Another $1,000 each went to two House Democratic conferees: Reps. Leonor K. Sullivan of Missouri and Henry S. Reuss of Wisconsin.

'Mean' Pirates Rob Two Girls

It wasn't a very happy Halloween for two youngsters. Local police received two calls that small girls had their bags of treats stolen by older boys. The first call was received at 7 p.m. Saturday when boys stole candy from a trick-or-treater in the 100 block of Nolan; the second at 7:40 p.m. from Fire Station No. 6 at Webb AFB, when one fireman reported that he had escorted one sobbing youngster to her home after her candy was taken. Neither girl was harmed.

REV. TROY SMITH

Two Brothers Preach From Local Pulpits

The calling of the Rev. Troy Smith by the First Mexican Baptist Church brings a brother pastor team to Big Spring. The Rev. Glenn Smith is pastor of Le Fe Baptist Church.

The Rev. Troy Smith comes from a family of preachers. His father, Robert Smith Sr., is a preacher at Hale Center. Another brother, Robert Smith Jr., is pastor of a church in Levelland; while Ralph Smith and Fred Smith serve as associate pastors in Lubbock. Two other brothers are in college with a design for religious work.

Before coming here Rev. Troy Smith pastored at Sundown, Hale Center and Kress. He was licensed to preach 10 years ago and was ordained three years ago. He succeeds the Rev. Elisio Gomez, who was called to the church in Kress.

Rev. Smith and his wife, Alice, have four children, Troy Jr., Jimmy, Estella and Dorothy. They reside at 1802 Owens.

And a farewell party given by associates Friday afternoon was capped with the presentation to Harper of a National Business Aircraft Association award for aviation safety. A similar certificate went to J. W. (Bill) McClendon, who has been Cosden's pipeline patrol pilot for 11 years, and serves also as relief copilot on the company's passenger plane.

Harper is to team with his wife Lou as co-managers of the Odessa Country Club. She is now serving her 11th year as manager of that organization, and has a long career in the catering and hospitality fields.

Harper, a native of Gorman, is a flying veteran of nearly 30 years and has racked up over 11,700 miles of flying, most of it in multi-engine transport type aircraft. He has flown over 60 types of planes.

Harper came to Big Spring in 1941 to enter the Civil Pilot training program. In 1941 he went into the Royal Canadian Air Force, served two years and came out as pilot officer. He then joined in the U.S. Army Air Force, serving until 1950, leaving the service as a captain with senior pilot rating.

During his military service after D-Day he flew 125 trips between England and France, carrying supplies and bringing back wounded. For three years (1945-48), he was pilot for Lt. Gen. Walton Walker.

In the ceremonies when certificates were presented to Harper and McClendon by Cosden President Paul Meek, Cosden's aviation department was recognized for having flown 3,235,804 miles, the equivalent of about 122 times around the earth, without injury to crew or passengers and without a reportable accident to any aircraft. Individually, Harper accumulated 1,259,406 safe flying miles and McClendon, 727,157.

Cosden has maintained an aviation department since 1954, and operates two planes — a Merlin IIB, turbo-prop, which seats six passengers, and a Cessna 182 for pipeline patrol. Together the planes travel some 250,000 miles a year.

Rounding out aviation personnel are first pilot John E. Fort Jr., who has been with the company for the past 4 1/2 years, and copilot William G. McLaughlin, newest member of the team, who joined Cosden last summer.

Engineers Slate Tuesday Meeting

The Permian Basin group of the West Texas section of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers will hold its November meeting on Tuesday, Nov. 3 at OIME's fabrication plant in Odessa at 7:30 p.m.

A tour of Oil Industries Manufacturing and Engineering, Inc. (OIME) facilities will follow a brief business meeting. OIME is a manufacturing-engineering concern involved in various custom designs and fabrications required for work in South America, Canada, and Alaska, as well as in this area.

Gem Society Hosts Annual Rock Show

The eighth annual rock show of the Midland Gem and Mineral Society will be Saturday and Sunday in the National Guard Armory, #900 N. Lamesa, Midland. Show time is from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. Sunday.

Eight dealers will offer for sale gem and mineral specimens from all parts of the United States, and they will have cutting and polishing equipment.

A fluorescent exhibit and lecture will be offered several times each hour. This feature will demonstrate the reaction of different minerals to ultra-violet light stimulation and will illustrate ways in which this phenomenon can be used by the oil or mining geologist.

Special exhibits will include a complete town made from faceted quartz, miniature cacti made from rock, faceted cabs, spheres, jade carvings, rose quartz carvings, polished limb sections, a 300 pound petrified stump, "little people," fossils, carved ivory, paintings on petrified wood, ostrich and goose eggs made into jewelry boxes and decorated with faceted stones, star sapphires, star garnets, butterflies and ming trees.

Working exhibits will include cutting the rock, making cabochons, faceting and silver-smithing.

Admission is 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for children 6 to 12 years of age.

Sentencing Date For 'Bombers'

TYLER, Tex. (AP) — Fred Loyd Hayes, 43, and Kenneth McMaster, 42, found guilty in connection with bombing of the Longview school bus fleet July 4, will be sentenced in Tyler Federal Court Thursday.

They were convicted Oct. 20, but Dist. Judge William Wayne Justice put back sentencing until he had time to consult with federal probation officers about the two men.

Hayes, who owns a Longview catering business, and McMaster, his employee, were charged in a two-count indictment alleging that they blasted 35 or 36 school buses July 4 in an effort to deny Negro schoolchildren their civil rights. They were also accused of trying to obstruct a federal court order integrating the city's schools.

WHAT IS DIABETES?

Normally, the sugars and starches in food are converted to a form of sugar called glucose. With the aid of insulin, a natural hormone manufactured in the pancreas, the blood stream distributes this glucose to the body cells where it is converted into ready energy or stored for future use.

You may have diabetes when the pancreas fails to produce enough effective insulin. The glucose then accumulates in the blood, and sometimes spills over into the urine. The symptoms, when there are some, may be frequent urination, abnormal thirst, hunger and loss of weight, weakness, itching, blurring of vision and possibly skin infections. Have you had a diabetes test recently? If not, let your physician check you.

'I HOPE HE WON'T USE IT'

Suggested That LBJ Not Run For Re-Election

Part Seven what Lyndon should do this Thursday, August 14, I called the White House and asked Dr. Hurst if he and Jim Cain would like to drive out and have dinner with me to talk over Lyndon's standing if I talked to the two of them quietly, rather than as in a conference of seven or more.

Dr. Hurst had taken care of Lyndon during his heart attack in 1955 and we have come to feel very close to him. And Jim Cain of Mayo's has been our friend and doctor since the thirties.

While they were on their way, I wrote out for Lyndon a nine-page analysis of what I thought his situation was. First, in case he definitely decided that he wanted to use it, there was a suggested announcement that he wasn't going to run again. This draft would need to be polished up by one of Lyndon's assistants, if used, and any medical items added by the doctors.

"Having, by the end of this present term finished some 30 years of public service, ranging from my young years with the National Youth Administration to the House of Representatives, and the Senate, the Vice Presidency, and this latterly ultimate responsibility, I wish now to announce that I will not be a candidate for re-election. I wish to spend the rest of my life in my home state, in peace with my family, for whom the rigors of my duties have left me too little time for companionship. This decision is made easier by the fact that I can feel my conduct of the Presidency, to which I came in such a tragic hour of national need, has not been without some solid accomplishment, thanks to the grace of God and the sturdy cooperation of the American people. To all those who have helped me throughout these years, my thanks and those of my family can never be fully expressed."

I hope he won't use it — that's that!

ALTERNATIVES

Then I put down the alternative. If he does run he will probably be elected President. During the campaign and the ensuing four years he, I, Cain and the children will be criticized and slandered for things we have done, things we may not have done, and things we never did at all. This will be painful. There will be times and frustration, as he watched Mr. X running the country, and thought what he would have done instead.

White House Diary

Last, he might live longer if he didn't run for the Presidency. Who can tell? And if he did, would it be worth it?

FINAL CONCLUSION

My final conclusion was that I thought he ought to run, facing clearly all the criticisms and hostilities that would come our way, pacing himself as well as his personality will permit, vacations off and occasional sabbaticals, and then three years and nine months from now, February or March, 1968, if the Lord lets him live that long, announce that he won't be a candidate for re-election. By that time, I think, the juices of life will be sufficiently stilled in him as he approaches 60 so that he can finish out the term and return to the Ranch, and we can live the rest of our days quietly.

I wrote all this out, put it in an envelope, addressed it to the President, marked it "Personal, please." When Jim and Dr. Hurst arrived, I put it in their hands and asked them to give it to Lyndon when they met the next morning.

They promised to call me tomorrow after the conference. I don't know, though, whether either one of them understands the depth of Lyndon's pain when and if he faces up to the possibility of sending many thousands of American boys to Vietnam or some other danger spot.

When I was almost asleep a little after midnight, Lyndon called me. He had been to a stag party. Lyndon was lonesome; I could tell from his voice. It was a sad-happy talk; balanced between little worries and big ones, and concerned with his restive desire to seek a way out of the burdens he carries.

Everybody's in agreement that we can't turn and run."

Poor, lonesome, beleaguered man.

SUNDAY, June 14, 1964

This afternoon I had another talk with Lyndon, who faces the next five months with the feeling that — well — he wishes there were some honorable way out of it. With Vietnam and Laos and Cyprus — with the summer's turmoil that faces us if Civil Rights passes, including the public accommodations portion, and worse, the boiling over if Civil Rights doesn't pass. Will it be months or years before this change can be absorbed into our society? Whose hand is strong enough and whose head and heart are wise enough to guide us? How can anybody blame Lyndon for wanting to be anonymous, alone, and back at the Ranch? And yet, caught on this pinpoint in history, what exit is there?

About 8:30 in the evening, Lyndon called Secretary Rusk, finding him in his office, and this a Sunday! A few moments later the Secretary came in and handed a wire to Lyndon. Cabot Lodge wanted to submit his resignation as Ambassador to Vietnam and return home.

Lyndon had already been asking the question in case Lodge resigned, "Whom do you recommend?" He had asked advice from McGeorge Bundy, Bob McNamara, and Dean Rusk. Their answers made me think well of this country — the caliber of men suggested, whose willingness to go, in most instances, had been checked out — and also make me know that it would be extremely hard, almost impossible, for Lyndon himself to turn away now and walk out at this stage of the game.

SUGGESTION

While they were on their way, I wrote out for Lyndon a nine-page analysis of what I thought his situation was. First, in case he definitely decided that he wanted to use it, there was a suggested announcement that he wasn't going to run again. This draft would need to be polished up by one of Lyndon's assistants, if used, and any medical items added by the doctors.

"Having, by the end of this present term finished some 30 years of public service, ranging from my young years with the National Youth Administration to the House of Representatives, and the Senate, the Vice Presidency, and this latterly ultimate responsibility, I wish now to announce that I will not be a candidate for re-election. I wish to spend the rest of my life in my home state, in peace with my family, for whom the rigors of my duties have left me too little time for companionship. This decision is made easier by the fact that I can feel my conduct of the Presidency, to which I came in such a tragic hour of national need, has not been without some solid accomplishment, thanks to the grace of God and the sturdy cooperation of the American people. To all those who have helped me throughout these years, my thanks and those of my family can never be fully expressed."

I hope he won't use it — that's that!

ALTERNATIVES

Then I put down the alternative. If he does run he will probably be elected President. During the campaign and the ensuing four years he, I, Cain and the children will be criticized and slandered for things we have done, things we may not have done, and things we never did at all. This will be painful. There will be times

BACK TO THE RANCH

On the other hand, if he does not run we will probably return to the Ranch and he will enjoy the country he loves, and me and Lynda and Luci, more than he ever has, and that will be good for all of us.

But there will be a barrage of newspaper stories, of questionings and innuendos as to his motives. People will ask what skeletons hang in the closet, what is he trying to hide, what disclosures will come next? People will believe anything but the truth, and the distortions could go on until we are forgotten.

Next, and much more important, there would be a wave, this time national and not just statewide, of hollow disillusionment, a feeling of "You let us down, Lyndon," among those people who really look to him as the best candidate of the Democratic Party, and perhaps the best candidate in the nation. This would be not unlike the wave that swept Texas after he went on the Democratic ticket with Kennedy, only this time it would be wider and more well founded. And that would be painful.

And then, with the limited amount of time it takes to ride over the Ranch, he could enter the ensuing four years he, I, Cain and the children will be criticized and slandered for things we have done, things we may not have done, and things we never did at all. This will be painful. There will be times

Duty-Free Trade Zone In RGV Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — A non-profit corporation in the Rio Grande Valley of Texas has been given the go ahead by two federal agencies to operate a foreign trade zone.

It will be the eighth duty-free general purpose zone under jurisdiction of the Bureau of International Commerce. It will be the first landlocked zone in the nation.

The McAllen Trade Zone Inc. predicts it can attract 60 to 70 firms with annual payrolls of $200,000.

The merchants will pay 20 per cent of the $840,000 total cost of building warehouses on the 40-acre site five miles from McAllen.

Trade zones enable businessmen to bring in raw materials from other countries without import duty. After raw materials are refined into finished products, they can be sent overseas or distributed within the United States. Duty is charged only on goods sold within this country.

Proposals for the McAllen zone include processing food for export to Western Europe and making and assembling machinery, home appliances and construction equipment.

The Bureau of International Commerce approved the trade zone application for McAllen Monday.

Two weeks ago, the Economic Development Administration approved a grant and loan to the McAllen Trade Zone Inc., contingent on its winning final approval from the Bureau of International Commerce.

Of the $840,000 cost of developing the industrial center, 20 per cent will come from local sponsors, 30 per cent from FEDA loans and 50 per cent was granted the zone by the Economic Development Administration.

The competition, which tests a car and driver's ability to maneuver through an obstacle course in the best time, will be conducted according to Sports Car Club of America rules.

NEBRASKA HUSKERS EDGE STUBBORN BUFFALOES

BOULDER, Colo. (AP) — Nebraska's fourth-ranked Cornhuskers overcame stubborn Colorado 29-13 Saturday in a hard-hitting Big Eight Conference football game.

The largest crowd in the history of Rocky Mountain sports events, 50,881, watched Nebraska break open a bitter battle with two quick touchdowns in the latter quarter.

TRIBE MOVES CLOSER TO ROSE BOWL WITH WIN

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — Jim Plunkett of sixth-ranked Stanford went over 7,000 yards in career total offense Saturday as the Indians moved a step nearer the Rose Bowl with a 48-10 Pacific-8 football victory over Oregon State.

The Indians, 5-0 in the conference, will go to the Rose Bowl for the first time in 19 years if they beat Washington next Saturday.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas fullback Steve Worster sledgehammered SMU for four touchdowns Saturday, leading the No. 1 rated Longhorns to their 26th straight victory.

Table with 2 columns: SMU, TEXAS. Rushing yardage 22 27, Passing yardage 44 102, etc.

With the Texas crowd crying, "Wo o ooooo!" each time the goal line was within smelling distance, the 205-pound senior rammed 141 yards on 25 carries.

Worster missed a fifth TD only because the Mustangs were determined to tackle nobody but him at their 1-yard line in the fourth quarter.

Texans overcame two fumbles — that set up Mustang touchdowns — and a tremendous passing performance by Chuck Hixson, who already held the NCAA completion record with 576 going into the game.

Hixson hit on 31 of 47 for 381 yards. The victory gave Texas a 3-0 record in the Southwest Conference, tying it with Arkansas and adding another notch to pistols aimed at a rematch Dec. 5 of the "big shootout" in Fayetteville, Ark., last year.

Hixson burned Texas' sophomore defensive halfbacks early. SMU drove 31 yards to the Texas 49 after the opening kickoff, getting most of the yardage on short passes.

A 28-yard punt set Texas up for its first offensive series on its 21. Three plays later, quarterback Eddie Phillips circled right end on the triple option and as he melted to the turf in the arms of a defender, he lateraled to Bertelsen, who sped 70 yards for a touchdown.

SMU drove 44 yards to the Texas 36, mainly on Hixson's passes before punting 15 yards to the Texas 29.

Asked if he knew a fifth touchdown would break a single game record held by seven other Longhorns, including famed quarterback Bobby Layne in the late 1940s and junior halfback Jim Bertelsen, Worster said: "Eddie (Phillips) knew it."

Worster said Phillips, the Longhorns quarterback, "was trying to help me" by giving Worster the ball near the goal. After Worster was stopped on first down, the near capacity crowd thought he would get another chance, but the ball went to Bertelsen, who leaped over the goal line.

GRID RESULTS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Sophomore Dicky Ingram kicked a 43-yard field goal mid-way in the third quarter Saturday night to break up a tough defensive battle and give Texas Tech a 3-0 Southwest Conference victory over the Rice Owls.

Table with 2 columns: Southwest, East. Arkansas 45, Texas A&M 6, Houston 21, Tulsa 20, etc.

The victory left the Red Raiders with a 3-1 SWC record, one game behind undefeated Texas and Arkansas.

The ball-controlling Raiders, working steadily behind quarterback Charles Napper's pitch outs to sophomore Doug McCutchen, had two more chances in the final period but were halted both times at the Rice 17.

Tech drove 75 yards to the Rice 11 with less than three minutes to play and needed one yard on fourth down to keep the drive moving. But McCutchen, on a hand-off, was nailed for no gain.

With the clock running out, Owl quarterback Phillip Wood threw four consecutive passes but they netted only seven yards and Tech took over at the 17 with 64 seconds remaining.

The Raiders, obviously playing for time as well as a potential touchdown, saw McCutchen move to the 12 on three carries, but a time-delay penalty set Tech back to the 17 and on fourth down, McCutchen got only three yards.

The final gun sounded two plays later after Wood had passed 13 yards to Macon Hughes.

McCutchen, with a previous high of 113 yards in 22 carries against Kansas, finished with 147 yards in 36 plays. Teammate Larry Hargrave collected 110 yards in 16 carries.

Rice, moved no closer to the Tech goal than the 25, with tailback Stahle Vincent, a former quarterback gaining 126 yards in 22 carries.

Volunteers Rip Deacons, 41-7

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — A poised and confident Tennessee built up a 20-point halftime lead and went on to collect a 41-7 football victory over Wake Forest in a nonconference football game here Saturday.

Quarterback Bobby Scott's passing arm warmed up slowly in the first period, and the first two Tennessee drives had to settle for field goals by George Hunt.

The Vols' strength came into play in the last seven minutes when he cut across the left side of the line for a four-yard score.

Less than two minutes later, a withering Tennessee rush block a Wake Forest punt on the 11-yard line. On the next play, Lester McClain, cut around left end for the second Tennessee score.

E. Texas State Wins Squeaker

COMMERCE, Tex. (AP) — East Texas State scored early in the fourth quarter Saturday to take a 22-19 lead and then stood off two Southwest Texas State drives to grab a Lone Star Conference victory.

Flanker George Daskalakes got the winning touchdown on a seven yard pass from quarterback Jim Dietz.

East Texas defensive back Lowry Riley stopped fullback Josh Brown on the two-yard line to halt the first Southwest Texas threat and then broke up two passes, one in the end zone, late in the game.

The Piston general manager said talks have been going on and there has been some agreement, but it has not been finalized.

Austin Outlasted By Ouachita 11

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Ouachita ran up a 21-0 first quarter lead Saturday night and fought Austin College off the rest of the way to take a 35-28 victory.

Ouachita tailback Johnny Baker gained 266 yards and scored two touchdowns while quarterback Barry Bennett passed for two touchdowns and ran for another.

Austin end Butch Gladen scored three touchdowns on passes and fullback Toby Mash scored on a four-yard run.

Other chance, but the ball went to Bertelsen, who leaped over the goal line.

"I might have scored if I had thought of jumping," Worster said. "But I might not have been able to get off the ground."

Coach Darrell Royal, who after last week's Rice game started promoting Worster to the Heisman Trophy, was asked if he made the decision to let Bertelsen carry with a record in range for Worster.

Purple Tips Baylor Behind Steve Judy

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Christian rode with Steve Judy and lacy luck Saturday to a rough and tumble 24-17 Southwest Conference football triumph over Baylor's unpredictable Bears.

Judy scored twice on short runs and sent flashback Raymond Rhodes flashing him from the two for another as the Horned Frogs rolled to their second SWC verdict against one loss.

TCU mounted a 17 point lead

Rusty Underwood's 24-yard field goal in the first period gave TCU a lead it never relinquished although the Bears did provide the Frogs a few chilling moments.

A sparse, shirtsleeved crowd of 21,817 watched TCU romp to its third victory against three losses and a tie while Baylor was absorbing its fifth setback in seven contests.

TCU mounted a 17 point lead

The Frogs sealed the triumph in the final period, driving 26 yards following a pass interception by David Dixon and scoring on a sneak by Judy from the one.

Judy also scored the first touchdown to climax an offbeat, 76 yard drive punctuated by a 15 yard penalty, a deflected pass completion and a near miss on a pass interception in the end zone.

Judy raced the final seven steps on a broken pass play that opened on the fourth down with the Christians needing five yards for a first.

Rhodes' touchdown was arranged by a flubbed, 21 yard punt by Baylor ace Ed Marsh, the nation's leading kicker last year.

Timely interceptions and a key fumble recovery prevented Baylor from mounting a serious challenge.

Southall's 47 yard toss to Davis in the waning minutes of the first half and a 39-yard romp by Greg Cook, twice gave Baylor solid scoring opportunities.

But the stingy TCU defense foiled the first Judy Dribbles' fumble recovery halted the second.

NICKLAUS TEN BACK Babe Hiskey New Sahara Leader

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Longshot Babe Hiskey swept out of the pack with a brilliant, six-under-par 65 and charged into the third round lead in the $100,000 Sahara Invitational golf tournament Saturday.

The 31-year-old veteran of eight years on the pro tour had a 54 hole total of 205, eight under par on the 7,109-yard, par 71 Paradise Valley Country Club course.

Hiskey, slumped behind for two years, held a one-stroke lead over Wilf Homenuik, a little Canadian who blew a chance to shore the lead when he three-putted the final green.

Bob Stone, a grey-haired long-time club pro from the Midwest, followed with a 69 for 207, and was tied at that figure with Tommy Aaron, the soft-spoken veteran who led the first two rounds.

Aaron, however, had his troubles in the warm, windless day and had to birdie the last hole to salvage a 72.

PGA champion Dave Stockton headed a quartet at 208. The others were Tom Shaw, who had an eagle duce in his round of 68, Kermit Zarley and Pete Brown. Stockton had a 71, Brown a 68 and Zarley 70.

Bing Agrees To New Pact

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Free Press said it has learned that Detroit Piston guard Dave Bing — caught in a bind because of a contract he signed to switch to a team in a rival basketball league — has agreed to a three-year contract with Detroit estimated at $450,000.

However, Piston General Manager Ed Coll denied there was an agreement. Coll said that under no circumstances would Bing be signed until the star guard gets a release from the Virginia Squires of the American Basketball Association.

Bing previously signed a four-year contract for an estimated $450,000 to switch from the National Basketball Association to the Washington Capitols of the ABA, after this season. The Washington franchise was switched and their name was changed to the Virginia Squires.

Contacted in New York where the undefeated Pistons meet the New York Knicks, Bing also denied he had reached a new pact with the Pistons.

He said he was almost completely sure he would reach an agreement with Detroit, but said he didn't know how much money it would be.

Falcons Nip Cats, 23-20

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Craig Barry kicked a 20-yard field goal with no time remaining on the clock Saturday to keep 7th-ranked Air Force unbeaten and to defeat the University of Arizona 23-20 in an intercollegiate college football game here.

With four seconds to play, Barry had missed a 22-yard field goal attempt, but Arizona was penalized for roughing the kicker. Barry, who earlier had missed a conversion that would have put the Falcons in front, 21-20, made good on his second try and the Falcons climaxed a sensational come-from-behind final period in which they scored 16 points.

BIG SPRING'S DAVE DUNCAN BOXED IN BY COOPER DEFENSE

Cougar Defense Too Much For Longhorns

By TOMMY HART
ABILENE — Abilene Cooper defeated Big Spring as no other team has this year in registering a 17-3 victory here Friday night.

STATISTICS

The Longhorns' one-dimensional offense gave the Cougars a rough time in the first period but Cooper adjusted well after that to fairly well dominate play. Big Spring went to the air occasionally in moves born of desperation but the Abilene club neutralized that threat by inundating the passer before he could set up.

The Bold Gold looked cautious on defense itself, breaking down only a couple of times. That was enough to give Cooper the two touchdowns it needed to succeed, however.

Big Spring had the satisfaction of scoring first when sophomore Ricky Steen kicked a 27-yard field goal with 2:25 left in Round One. The Black Knights had driven from their own 49 down to the Cats' 18 and faced a fourth-down-and-two situation when QB Dave Duncan, after looking to the bench for instructions, decided to play it cozy.

Cooper waited until 6:53 remained in the second period to strike its first sledge-hammer blow. It came when Roy Longacre, the Cougars' only effective runner, broke 51 yards after his line had cleared out the left side of the Big Spring primary. The inunderbolt occurred on the second play from scrimmage following a Big Spring punt. Ricky Pritchett's PAT kick made it 7-3.

COUNT AGAIN
QB Stan Polnick scored again for Cooper before the period was out when he bruised three yards across the right side, going across with 2:14 remaining. Cooper surged 51 yards for that TD.

Polnick kept the march alive by delivering a seven-yard pass to end Larry Grady on fourth down, the play carrying to the three. Pritchett again connected with his PAT kicking effort and Cooper led, 14-3.

Early in the third, the Cougs bulldozed to Big Spring's 32 but Joe Chavez inhaled Longacre's fumble back on the 39 two plays later.

Cooper had all sorts of opportunities in that round. The Longhorns simply were too salty on defense. But the Big Spring defense had to do most of the work because nothing the Steer attacking unit tried was working.

With 3:54 left in the game, Pritchett booted a 26-yard field goal to tack three more points onto Cooper's total after reserve quarterback Chuck Hudson (only recently recovered from a shoulder injury) had spurred the Cougars as close as Big Spring's 15.

Cooper appeared to have another touchdown on the final play of the game when Hudson sought out Willie Burton with a 20-yard pass into the end zone but Burton was hit with a shoving-off charge before he intercepted the ball and that was that.

DEFLECTS BALL
Fairly late in the third period, Rondel Brock deflected a Cooper punt and Big Spring took over on the enemy 37 to gain excellent field position but Polnick ended Big Spring's dreams abruptly by picking off a flat zone pass thrown by Mike Adams and returning it to the Cooper 45.

Big Spring's deepest second half penetration into Cooper territory occurred midway in the third when Duncan inspired a drive that carried to Cooper's 33 but Longacre recovered a Steer fumble there to turn the game around again.

This isn't the best team Cooper has fielded but it could be the finest defensive club coach Merrill Green has had. Jon Riddlehoover and Scooter Finley took turns at punishing Big Spring ball carriers before they could untrack.

Big Spring's chances for victory diminished when running back Roddy Caffey sprained an ankle early in the brauhaha and never returned.

Howard Stewart, James Miller, Tony Dean, Grady Ray, Joe Chavez, Tommy Fletcher and others made the Cougars work hard for what they achieved. All were themselves striving to learn Cooper's threshold of pain.

Cooper pulled a plan for an onside kick from its foxy pockets to open the game and came into possession of the ball at Big Spring's 39. The maneuver may have wounded the Bold Gold's pride, however.

Four plays later Cooper had to cough up the ball on its own 38. There, Gary Grubbs was unable even to get a lick away and was engulfed by several head-hunting Steers.

Score by quarters:
Big Spring 3 0 0 0-3

Andrews Racks Odessa 24-7

ANDREWS — The Andrews Mustangs rushed for 365 yards here Friday night pouncing out a 24-7 victory over the Odessa Ector Eagles.

The Eagles took the lead in the first period but the blistering ground attack displayed by the Mustangs was too much to contain.

Fired-Up Stanton Is Beaten, 41-15

By GENE NORTON
STANTON — The McCamey Badgers had all they could handle here Friday night but finally put enough offense together to defeat the fired-up Stanton Buffaloes, 41-15.

The first score for the Badgers came when field general Kyle Bolen tossed seven yards to halfback Astacio Zuniga with one minute left in the half. The PAT was blocked by Bobby Dickenson.

Following the tally, McCamey executed a perfect onside kickoff that caught the Buffs napping. The badgers recovered at the Stanton 35. On the first play, Bolen went to the air again. He hit wide receiver Randy Brooks all alone at the Stanton 10 and he went in for the score. This time Gary Bolen split the uprights.

McCamey had gone ahead in the game late in the opening period when with 30 seconds to play in the quarter, Bolen threw a perfect strike to Brooks in the end zone. The play covered 30 yards. Gary Bolen booted the conversion.

The Buffs came right back to go ahead with 8:00 to play before the half. Quarterback Glenn Ray, who played the best game of his career for underdog Stanton eleven, passed 11 yards to Jackie Swanson. Swanson gathered the ball in with one hand at the three and stumbled into the end zone. Ray put his mates ahead when he circled left end on the conversion and just barely made it into the corner of the end zone.

After intermission, pass interference was the downfall of the Buffs. No less than three times were the inexperienced Stanton defensive backs called for interference. One such call gave McCamey a first down at the Stanton 15. Bolen passed to Zuniga for the final 15 yards for the score. Gary Bolen kicked the PAT.

In the fourth frame, fullback Weldus Dugan ran two yards for another Badger score. The tally came on the first play of the quarter and Gary Bolen again kicked the PAT.

RAY SPARKLES
Ray put the Buffs on the board again midway the final quarter when his 35 yard pass settled in the arms of Swanson. Ray booted the point to cut the deficit to 34-15.

Final score of the evening came when Gary Bolen intercepted a Ray pass at the Stanton 30 and scampered in for the score. He booted the PAT to make the final margin 41-15.

This was probably the best effort of the season for the winless Buffaloes. Coach Bill Young, in his first season at the Stanton helm, was missing eight starters for the McCamey tilt, seven of them out for the season.

Outstanding players in defeat for Stanton were Ray, Swanson, Dickenson, Larry Adams, Dennis Jones, Roy Kelly, and George Dean.

Miss Sandra Chandler, a member of the senior class at Stanton, was crowned 1970 Homecoming Queen prior to the game.

At halftime, 12-year-old Tonja Ray, a seventh grader at Stanton, thrilled the large crowd with a spectacular performance with a flaming baton. Tonja holds several Texas state records in her specialty.

Stanton travels to Ozona Friday night for another 5-AA district meet. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

Score by quarters:
Stanton 0 8 0 7-15
McCamey 7 13 0 21-41

BIG THIRD PERIOD Loraine Romps Past Ponies

LORAIN — Two fumble recoveries and a pass interception led to three Loraine touchdowns in a seven minute span in the third quarter here Friday night as Loraine bested the Sands Mustangs, 41-6.

The miscues by Sands broke open what had been a fairly close contest to that point.

Loraine went in front early. They took the opening kickoff and marched down the field. Mike Jones went the final 14 yards for the score. The PAT failed.

Also in the first quarter, the other half of the Jones' brother combination, Ronald, broke up the middle for 32 yards and another Loraine score. David Minton kicked the PAT.

Both teams are now 2-1 in district play.

Coahoma fumbled the first two times they had their hands on the ball but neither led to score. Reagan County scored first in the second quarter when fullback David Hickman plunged across from the one. Reagan County handed Coahoma its first district loss of the season, 28-8.

The Bulldogs came back in the same quarter to take the lead for the only time in the game when fullback Augustine Hernandez ran over from the three following an 80-yard drive. Dusty Choate ran the conversion across.

Two fumbles and a pass interception led to the 21 points scored by the Owls in the final two periods. Hickman scored twice for the winners in the third quarter and halfback Roger Neil plowed over from the one yard line. Nunnally kicked the extra points following all three scores.

The game ended with Coahoma on the Reagan County four yard line.

Coahoma returns home next week for a contest with the McCamey Badgers, 41-15 winners over the Stanton Buffaloes Friday night.

LOIS (SHORTY) MADISON

Ball Brings Memories

By TOMMY HART

Mrs. L. C. Madison of 801 Highland Drive was rummaging through a dresser the other day and came across an autographed baseball.

The ball has been in the Madison household 40 years and it brought back a flood of memories for her husband, better known as Shorty locally. It had been signed by his teammates.

It had been awarded to L. C. in 1930 for having hit the first triple in the then-powerful City league, a six-team circuit where ringers and ex-pros played alongside college and high school boys.

That was the year the great Bobby Jones won the U.S. Golf Open. F. D. Roosevelt was governor of New York, newspaper readers were turning to the comic section to read about the exploits of Scorchy Smith, Reglar Fellers, Pa's Son-In-Law, Homer Hoopie, Gloria and Col. Gilfeather and show personalities like Warner Oland, Norma Shearer, Nancy Carroll and Jack Oakie were luring people into motion picture theatres.

Four decades ago, the players or the fans couldn't get enough of the sport. League games were scheduled daily at the ball park, which then was located just south of the Bankhead highway (US 80) east of town near where Pollard Chevrolet Company is now located.

In addition to daily games, all-star teams were regularly organized for Sunday contests against out-of-town clubs.

WON CHAMPIONSHIP
Madison managed the Barbers to the City league championship that year, but not before the circuit's players had survived a few free-for-alls, spike wounds and bean-balls.

Among the Barbers' athletes that year were Warren Scagg, Pap Payne, Thuron Hicks, Carl Madison, Paul Madison, William Taylor, Tedley Glenn, Wes Patton, Jess Vick (who later in the season became an umpire), Tip Gressett, Frankie Segal, Doc Aiken, I. C. Tinsley plus a few who were consistently identified by last names only. That group included Lydia, Ratliff, Gunter and Brown.

The Richco team, sponsored by the Richardson Refinery Co., won the first half championship that season but the Barbers — eventually to be combined with the T&P team — came on to cop the second half title and the full season championship.

Sid Cook, an outfielder from TCU named Connally Country Boy Burns, Tab Clark, J. C. Moore and Bill Hoehn were among Richco players. Moore managed the club.

Cosden fielded a team in the circuit and named the late Spike Henninger as its mstermind afield. Lefty Potter, Pepper Martin, Sammy Sain, Rufus Morton, Skeet West, Mickey Pool, Chile Ayres, Miller Harris and a fellow named O'Quinn were among those who graced Cosden uniforms.

TEAMS MERGED
The Bankers, Barbers, Richco, Big Spring Laundry, Cosden and T&P made up the first half race. The T&P and Barbers' clubs were merged for the second half sprint and both Coahoma and the Big Spring Tigers were accepted for membership.

On their way to the crown, the Barbers knocked off the Bankers, 3-3, one July afternoon. Shirley Fryar, J. E. Payne, Roland Schwarzenbach, Lefty Larrimore, Harry Hurt, and coach Bill Stevens were among the Bankers' players.

The Reid brothers, Howard and Earl, Burl Cramer, Allen Moore and J. Walker, N. Walker and L. Walker were among Coahoma players.

The league's board of arbitration bore some rather distinguished names, including George Gentry, George O'Brien and J. E. Kuykendall. Those three were kept busy deciding eligibility problems and making peace among warring factions.

A man also prominently identified with the league was Tiny Reed, a public school official, whose job it was to take up collections and run the fence to see that too many railbirds didn't portable the barriers. Reed was later to move to Portales, N.M., where he became associated with Eastern New Mexico University.

The country was then in the depths of a great depression. Everyone worked for free but the rivalry was intense, interesting and enduring.

There was very little to choose between the top clubs but against outside competition the league's all-stars proved invincible. The stars, managed by the late Sammy Sain, challenged the Oil Belt-All-Stars in a series during a festival known as the Oil Men's Jubilee and won all three games by scores of 18-10, 11-1 and 24-4.

Lois Madison was born in Rising Star and moved to this area with his family from Brownwood while still a boy. He was raised in Coahoma and Big Spring. For many years he was a barber by trade but became a farmer, dealing mainly in irrigated cotton, before his retirement several years ago. His health limits his activity now but he maintains his interest in sports.

Porkers Rout Aggies But Lose Ace Back

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Arkansas tailback Bill Burnett established a Southwest Conference scoring record with three touchdowns Saturday, but the sensational senior suffered a shoulder separation in a costly 43-6 massacre of the bewildered Texas Aggies that finished his college career.

Burnett, who holds the SWC career touchdown record of 50, tallied on two runs of one yard each and dashed 34 yards with a pass from quarterback Bill Montgomery as the eighth-ranked Razorbacks blitzed A&M for 24 points in the first period.

HURT IN SECOND
The six foot, 180-lb Burnett was injured on a crunching tackle by Doice Best in the second quarter. Team doctors said Burnett must undergo surgery and will be lost for the year.

Burnett scored 294 points in his career, beating the old mark of 288 held by Southern Methodist Doak Walker, who played four years.

The victory gave Arkansas a 3-0 SWC record and kept the Razorbacks in a tie with No. 1 ranked Texas. Playing under troubled coach Gene Stallings, who is under fire from the alumni and rumored on his way out at the end of the season, the listless Aggies are now 0-4 in SWC play.

Billy Lively's recovery of an A&M fumble on the opening kickoff at the Aggie five set the Arkansas avalanche motion. three minutes later after another Burnett scored 75 seconds later from a yard out. He did it again er Aggie fumble.

Eight-Man Battle Royal Is Booked Here Friday

Promoter Don Slaton stages another in his series of wrestling shows at the Municipal Auditorium Friday night, a card that includes four matches. The production begins at 8 p.m.

The last match on the card will be an eight-man battle royal, with a $400 purse going to the winner (or survivor). Under rules adopted for the match, a man must be thrown over the top rope to be eliminated.

Participants will be Mountain Mike, who weighs a dainty 640 pounds, the Lawman, Bobby Duncum, Pac Song, Chief Little Eagle, Terry Funk, Sakaguchi and Bull Ramos — a regular League of Nations.

Both are deadly at the arts of karate and judo, can render an opponent helpless with the stomach claw. Funk, youngest member of a well-known wrestling clan, is one of the most popular tin-ears ever to appear here.

Ramos and The Lawman will meet in the semi-windup. Ramos goes out of his way to make enemies and he's made a few here.

The opener duel will send Duncum against Nick Kozak and it promises to be a crowd pleaser.

Joe Robb Is Lost

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions' defensive end Joe Robb was sidelined for the season after last Sunday's game against the Chicago Bears. He underwent knee surgery for torn cartilage after the game and is hobbling around on crutches. He will be replaced against the Vikings by 6-foot-3, 245-pound rookie end Jim Mitchell, the Lion's No. 3 draft choice from Virginia State.

bobbing run with a screen pass from Montgomery wound up the Arkansas scoring.

Porker Coach Frank Broyles pulled his regulars after 23 minutes of play. The second unit made it 38-0 at half time on a 14 yard touchdown gallop by sophomore tailback Jon Richardson and a 17-yard scoring pass from quarterback Joe Ferguson to Bobby Nichols.

Sophomore linebacker Jimmy Fryer thundered 94 yards with an interception off the arm of Aggie quarterback Lex James for a touchdown in the third period.

Bob Asher Back On Poke Roster

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys, needing depth at center, reactivated rookie Bob Asher of Vanderbilt Saturday.

To make room for him, guard Halvor Hagen was placed on the taxi squad. Hagen, who can fill in at center, suffered a knee injury in the game with Kansas City last Sunday but is expected to see action again this season without surgery.

Asher had been injured for three games. Dave Manders, the starting center, suffered a hip pointer in the Kansas City game but although there is some pain, he is expected to start against Philadelphia in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas Sunday.

Oilers Raid Cards' Lair

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "It's going to be a long, tough season," St. Louis Cardinals coach Charley Winner say, "and we might just as well forget about playing any soft touches."

Winner's Cardinals, upset 35-17 last week by the resurgent New York Giants, are thus doubly on guard for a Sunday invasion of Busch Stadium by the National Football League's Houston Oilers.

"There is tremendous balance in this league right now," said Winner, whose team fell into a tie for the lead in the National Conference East.

"A lot of people say you should lick this ball club or that, but the thing they don't realize is that the club you should lick is just as tough as Minnesota or Dallas on a given week."

While the Cardinals were dipping to 4-2 and into the tie with Dallas last week, the Oilers rode the arm of Jerry Rhone of a 31-3 tie with San Diego.

Another slip by the Winner team would probably drop it behind the Cowboys, who entertain Philadelphia Sunday.

The Oilers, quarterbacked by ex-Cardinal Charley Johnson until Johnson suffered a broken collarbone Oct. 18, are 2-3-1 in the American Conference Central behind Cleveland at 4-2.

Winner called Johnson's fill-in, Rhone, a "good thrower" who has "been around the league" and also labeled Houston's defense "one of the best we'll face all season."

Fran Tarkenton's five touchdowns passed burned the Cardinals against the Giants, but Winner also called for more consistency on the attack.

Irish Roll Up 600 Yards, KO Navy, 56-7

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Quarterback Joe Theismann threw two touchdown passes and ran for 49 yards as third-ranked Notre Dame destroyed outclassed Navy 56-7 Saturday for its sixth straight victory before a crowd of 45,226 in half-filled John F. Kennedy stadium.

For the Irish, the Saints really marched in on this cloudy, Halloween afternoon. Over and over Notre Dame tricked Navy on the ground and through the air to score its greatest offensive and defensive threat of the season.

Notre Dame rolled up 600 yards — 408 by rushing — while holding Navy to 228 yards—151 through the air.

The Middies connected on five passes in the final two minutes for 75 of their passing yards, and were down to the Irish 2 as the clock ran out.

Theismann, a top contender for the Heisman player of the year award, completed 10 of 13 passes for 161 of Notre Dame's 192 air yards, and carried six times.

JVs Defeat Cooper To Shatter Streak

By GENE NORTON
An outstanding defensive effort plus the running of Dick Conley and Bobby Hayes gave the Big Spring Junior Varsity its first win of the season here Saturday, a 26-14 victory over the Abilene Cooper Junior Varsity.

Murdock, the defense shut off the Cougars in the second half of the contest with just 21 yards rushing and only three first downs.

Cooper went into the lead in the first frame when halfback Mike Witte threw a 40-yard scoring toss to end Dan Womack on the halfback option pass. Gary Morrison booted the conversion.

The Dogies closed the gap in the second period when Hayes broke loose on a 76-yard gallop around end. The conversion was missed and the Shorthorns trailed at the half 7-6.

Early in the third quarter the Dogies came up with a superlative effort. Led by Joe Pesina, Cal Lowery and Jeff miscue at the Cougar 15 and Jimmy Hodge for a couple of

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Fifth-ranked Michigan survived a second-half scare to defeat Wisconsin 29-15, before a record crowd of 72,389 in a Big Ten Conference football game Saturday afternoon.

It marked the first time since 1948 that the Michigan Wolverines have started a season with seven straight victories.

Heading for a Nov. 21 showdown with second-ranked Ohio State, Michigan jumped out to a 21-0 lead before the Badgers could get untracked.

Fullback Fritz Seyfert scored the first two touchdowns, one on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Don Moorhead and the other on a three-yard sweep around left end.

Tailback Preston Henry got into the act next, balling his way into the end zone from four yards out. A two-point conversion gave Michigan the 21-0 lead.

Picadors Try Aggie Fish

LUBBOCK — The Texas Tech Picadors return to action Thursday night as they host the Texas A&M Fish in the fourth annual Khiva Shrine Bowl.

The game will pit the undefeated Picadors against a winless Fish team. Tech has beaten New Mexico Military, 55-7, Arkansas, 24-6, and Oklahoma 18-10. The Fish have lost to TCU, 31-7, Baylor, 12-7, and Rice, 31-8.

The game will be the eighth between the two frosh teams, with the Picadors down in the series, 4-3. In last year's game, Texas A&M's Vance Kerbow flashed for 200 yards rushing to lead the Fish to a 35-0 blanking of the Picadors. Tech's last win came in 1967 when they pulled out a 21-20 heartstopper.

Last year's Shrine Bowl proved to be one of the most exciting football games to be played in Jones Stadium. It pitted the Pies against a fine Arkansas team led by Joe Ferguson. The Shoats won 23-22 with Tech kicker Dickie Ingram just missing a 53-yard field goal with no time left showing on the scoreboard clock.

The kickoff is scheduled for 7:30 with Shriner's pre-game activities to begin at 7:00.

field goals of 35 and 34 yards in the second period and followed with another 34-yarder in the third quarter.

Henry's first three-pointer followed a 47-yard Tulsa drive but the other two resulted from a pair of interceptions by John Long, a 180-pound junior who made his first theft off starting quarterback Moon Mullins and returned 21 yards to the Houston 15. His second was off sophomore Terry Peel and he returned 27 yards to the Cougars 27.

It was Tulsa's first game since being placed on NCAA probation for recruiting violations and it appeared for a while as though an inspired Hurricane was headed for an upset over a Houston team that had defeated Tulsa 100-6 and 47-14 in the past two years.

Other outstanding players for the winners were center Steve Bodine, tackles Keith Gandy and Tony Smith, guards Domingo Cantu and Rodriguez, backs David Zant and Luis Ochoa, guard Andy Anderson, tackles Byron Hill, Mark Kenemer, ends Buddy Dyer, Johnny Robles and back Neal Grigg.

Michigan Trips Badgers, 29-15
MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Fifth-ranked Michigan survived a second-half scare to defeat Wisconsin 29-15, before a record crowd of 72,389 in a Big Ten Conference football game Saturday afternoon.

It marked the first time since 1948 that the Michigan Wolverines have started a season with seven straight victories.

Heading for a Nov. 21 showdown with second-ranked Ohio State, Michigan jumped out to a 21-0 lead before the Badgers could get untracked.

Fullback Fritz Seyfert scored the first two touchdowns, one on an eight-yard pass from quarterback Don Moorhead and the other on a three-yard sweep around left end.

Tailback Preston Henry got into the act next, balling his way into the end zone from four yards out. A two-point conversion gave Michigan the 21-0 lead.

Sands Junior High Winner

LORAIN — The Sands Junior High eleven defeated the Loraine juniors 44-0 here Thursday to finish the regular season with a 4-2 record.

Kevin Gandy was the sparkplug for the winners. He was involved in four scoring plays during the game. He ran twice for scores, caught a pass for a touchdown and passed for one touchdown.

His first score came on the first play of the game on a 70-yard gallop. Gandy also kicked the PAT. Also in the first quarter Frosty Floyd passed 40 yards to end Edward Kenemer for a tally. A blocked punt by Victor Rodriguez set up Gandy's second touchdown run, a 20-yarder. Still in the first period, quarterback Scotty Blake threw a touchdown pass to Floyd.

In the second stanza, Floyd ran 28 yards for a tally to give Sands a 28-0 halftime pad.

Gandy passed 30 yards to Floyd for the only Sands' score in the third quarter. Blake fired a 50-yard bomb to Gandy for the final points of the game in the fourth quarter.

Old Rivalry Is Renewed

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A rivalry of gigantic proportions, National Football League style, is in the making when the Oakland Raiders come to Kansas City to play the Chiefs Sunday.

Gene Upshaw is a 6-foot-5, 255-pound, offensive guard for the Raiders. His brother, Marvin, is a 6-foot-3, 245-pound defensive tackle for the Chiefs.

There is a good possibility they will meet head-on Sunday.

Gene is 25. Marvin is 24. Gene was Oakland's first-round draft choice in 1967 after completing his career at Texas A&I.

Marvin was the No. 1 pick for the Cleveland Browns the next year after playing at Trinity of San Antonio. He was traded to the Chiefs this season.

"I'm looking forward to this game and I'm sure Gene is too," Marvin said after Kansas City's final workout before the game.

"It's tougher playing against your brother than other people you don't have to meet later," he said. "They go on out of town and you forget about them. But you have to face your brother."

Marvin would like to experience something new Sunday—being on the winning side after a clash with his brother.

Sul Ross Tops S.F. Austin

NACOGODOCHES, Tex. (AP) — Sul Ross spoiled Stephen F. Austin's homecoming Saturday with a 17-7 Lone Star Conference football victory.

SFA fullback Charles Lindsey scored on a 10-yard touchdown run in the second quarter.

But quarterback Ronnie Bell of Sul Ross passed 9 yards to end Nolin McMaryion in the 3rd quarter to take the score.

In the final period, Sul Ross fullback Willie Dickson drove over from 16 yards out and Lara added the extra point.

REMAIN UNBEATEN Coyotes Flatten Dawson, 60-26

GAIL — Borden County's rampaging Coyotes won their seventh straight football decision here routing Dawson, 60-26, in a District 3-B eight-man game here Friday night.

Borden County accounted for 599 yards total offense while Dawson was able to account for only 227.

Charles Billeck was particularly warm for Gail in the opening period, scoring three times on runs of 33, 32, and 33 yards.

Joe Harding got into the act in Round Two when he roared 41 yards for another Coyote TD. Ricky Hendley then hit

Astros Open 1971 Home Season With Dodgers

HOUSTON — A 1971 home Houston against National League champion Cincinnati.

Houston will have 12 home regulation doubleheaders has weekends (Saturdays and Sundays) during the 1971 season.

Although there will be a few exceptions, the basic starting times will remain the same in 1971 — 7:30 p.m. weekdays and 2 p.m. Sundays.

One oddity on the schedule is the fact that Cincinnati's divisional and league champion Reds won't make their first Astrodome appearance until a two-game series on June 8-9.

Pittsburgh, the reigning Eastern Division winner, will debut here even later, in a three-game set on June 14-15-16.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Lou Novikoff Had To Try

By TOMMY HART

Roddy Caffey, Big Spring's fine little running back, says Midland Lee hit harder than did Odessa Permian . . . The Rebs came to town thinking they could win and a most succeeded . . . Sunland Park's betting handle last Sunday was $176,376, biggest of the fall season . . . The racing oval has to compete with college football on Saturdays and pro ball each Sunday during the fall . . . Lou Novikoff, who went to his reward recently, once made a spectacular steal of third base with the bases loaded . . . He later explained to his manager, Charley Grimm of the Chicago Cubs: "I couldn't resist it. I got such a beautiful jump on the pitcher" . . . Colorado City's Don Maynard has a fierce desire to be the last of the original AFL players to retire . . . Only ten are still active in the NFL . . . Alice, coached by ex-Big Spring Spike Dykes, ended its losing skein in a big way last weekend, belting Beeville, 34-2 . . . Jerry Hopkins' teams have averaged about ten wins a year since he took over as head coach at Class A Sonora . . . Few mentors anywhere can equal that mark . . . The University of California's student newspaper describes the Bears' offense as "the Triple I. "Inconsistent, inept, intolerable" . . . The point differential was 25 when the University of Houston met Oregon State in football recently . . . Oregon State was a 5 1/2-point choice out on the coast but the Houston backer who wanted to bet on his team had to give 19 1/2 . . . Houston won, 19-16 . . . When Jack Chevigny accepted employment as head coach at the University of Texas in 1934, his salary was $4,200 . . . The school now pays Darrell Royal $35,000 per annum for the same job . . . Big Spring coaches expect tackle Rondel Brock to be as good as the state's best next season . . . Rondel filled in admirably for linebacker Tony Dean against Midland Lee . . . Frank Kush of Arizona State is likely to succeed Duffy Daugherty as football coach at Michigan State after this season . . . Thanks to the advent of artificial turf, a 60-yard field goal likely will go into the NFL books before long . . . One kicker, Errol Mann of Detroit, has already booted one 62 yards in practice.

RONDEL BROCK

Looking back over the 1970 football season, the Big Spring Steers perhaps have cause to regret the outcomes of the Ysleta Bel Air and Abilene High games more than any other starts and can point with pride to both the Snyder and Midland high adventures . . . The Steers reason they should have beaten Bel Air by a couple of touchdowns and probably would have later in the season . . . They beat Abilene High every way but on the scoreboard . . . More recently, Bel Air yielded four touchdowns to Lubbock Monterey in a space of three minutes . . . Snyder was actually favored over Big Spring in some quarters but the Longhorns dominated that one, 46-7 . . . Midland High figured to mop up on the Bold Gold but the Steers won going away, 34-21 . . . Bob Milburn, the San Angelo writer, must have been quoting from a 1910 Faultless Starch rule book recently when he said that it was legal for a receiving team to advance the football after signalling for a fair catch on a punt, if the opposition had first touched the ball . . . Any official worth his salt would rule the ball could not be advanced regardless of what happened thereafter, once the signal had been given . . . Jack Tryrien's Frenship club was all but knocked out of the running for the District 4-AA championship last week in a 45-22 upset suffered at the hands of Roosevelt . . . The defeat was the first of the year for the ex-Big Spring mentor's club but it hurt, because Frenship had previously been tied by Slaton . . . Frenship acted as if it were going to blow Roosevelt off the field in the first few minutes and led at one stage, 14-0, but couldn't cope with Roosevelt's aerial game . . . The black racists continue to enlist the help of athletes to fight their battles . . . Harper's Magazine recently printed some garbage about how the University of Texas athletic department discriminates in dealing with its talent . . . Not long ago, The Sporting News quoted Willie Stargell about how badly he was treated in Roswell in the old Southwestern Baseball League . . . Those who recall the era insist Stargell and other Negro players were babied not only in Roswell but around the league . . . Say something nice and it's hard to get an audience . . . Say something derogatory and many people will cup their ears to listen . . . Bill Hobbs, who spoke here last winter, was on the Philadelphia Eagles' taxi squad for a while but recently was restored to active duty.

Costs Boom In Racing

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Unser is collecting more dollars this year than any other race driver in history. But he says his operation very well could end up in the red.

Like everything else these days, the costs of fielding a first class auto racing team—salaries of crewmen, travel, parts and the like—have gone sky high.

"You wouldn't believe how much it costs to make all of the races on the schedule," the dark-haired, 31-year-old from Albuquerque said recently. "If we had to depend strictly on what the car earned in race purses, we couldn't make it. We'd probably be in the hole."

Unser already has clinched the U.S. Auto Club's driving title and, with one more $75,000 race on the schedule, is within reach of the half-million dollar mark in total earnings.

In 17 championship races this year, Unser has grossed $448,145 in prize, accessory and lap monies, surpassing Mario Andretti's $362,283 of last year.

In addition, he'll pick up some prize money from the Nov. 21, 150-mile at Phoenix, Ariz. There's also a $25,000 title bonus coming from a cigarette firm and $19,000 from USAC's championship fund.

Expenses for the team, Unser said, already have gone past the $500,000 mark. And to be added will be off-season expenses, including rebuilding for next season.

What keeps the team going is outside sponsorship. Unser, and owners Parnelli Jones and Vel Miletich of Torrance, Calif., have one of auto racing's most enthusiastic backers, Topper Toy Co., producer of the Johnny Lightning line of miniature race cars and tracks.

Nobody will say what the operation has cost Topper this year, but few can say it hasn't been worth it.

Topper signed with the team at the start of the season. Unser responded by winning the $1 million Indianapolis 500, granddaddy and most prestigious of all races. The firm was so overwhelmed that it presented the driver with a $30,000 bonus check in victory lane.

Not only that, Topper boasts that Al's 10 championship wins, with the resultant publicity and its Top-Products into the No. 2 position in sales among all toy makers—and with the Christmas season coming up.

Unser himself will fare much better than the team. His cut of the car's winnings—usually 50 per cent for a top driver—together with a guaranteed salary, bonuses from the sponsor, and personal appearances and endorsement monies, could make his season's take close to $500,000. After all, Andretti said his 1969 season, in which he won the Indy and the USAC driving title, was worth half a million.

Unser says USAC's move to cut its championship schedule to 12 races in 1970, including three 500-milers worth at least $2.5 million, will help to cut expenses.

San Angelo Whips Eagles

SAN ANGELO — The San Angelo Bobcats unleashed a powerful ground attack here Friday night as they breezed to a 38-19 victory over the Abilene Eagles.

Bobcat backs picked up 396 yards on the ground during the contest as the San Angelo defense held the Eagles to just 118 yards rushing.

The win gives San Angelo a perfect 5-0 mark in the district and sets the stage for their clash at home Friday night with the unbeaten Permian Panthers.

The winner of this contest will almost assuredly represent the district in the state playoffs.

Stanley Howard was the big gun for the Bobcats against Abilene as he picked up three touchdowns and garnered 144 yards rushing in 13 carries.

Snyder Halts Colorado City

SNYDER — The Snyder Tigers tasted a district win for the first time this season here Friday night as they outscored the Colorado City Wolves 47-28.

Snyder	First downs	Colo. City
2	50	111
2 of 9	Yards passing	8 of 16
3	Passes completed	8 of 16
2	Penalties, yards	2 for 38
3 for 34	Fumbles, yards	1 for 5
2	Fumbles lost	1

The Wolves still in the clouds after their upset win over Lamesa last week, lost five fumbles and suffered two pass interceptions to the inspired Tigers.

The Tigers rushed the ball for 349 yards for the evening and added 50 more through the air. Leading the victory for Snyder was the outstanding play of quarterback Butch Buchanan and an alert defense.

The Tigers overcame an early Colorado City lead and went inside for the rest period with a 27-21 advantage.

Snyder broke the contest open in the third and fourth quarters with 21 points while holding the Wolves to one touchdown.

WINNERS BEAM OVER TROPHY
Jeff Talmadge and Scott McLaughlin

BSHS Debaters Win First Honors

By KATHLEEN THOMPSON
Scott McLaughlin and Jeff Talmadge brought home a first place trophy from the Andrews Invitational Debate Tournament held Oct. 24.

They competed with eight other schools for the honor, and won the trophy by winning five rounds of debate in a row. Also attending the tournament from Big Spring High was the boys' B team of Sam Chappell and Mike Bearden. Debating as the girls' varsity team were Kay Meek and Susan Sulak, while the girls' B team was comprised of Pam Little and Ellen Anderson. The next tournament will be held at the Plains at Lubbock Nov. 13 and 14.

In order to comply with a recent House bill, a drug lab will be held Nov. 18. This lab will be conducted by various school leaders who will lead discussions on the drug problem both nationally and locally.

In order to prepare for the lab, the students who will lead the groups will have a training

STANTON Band Attends Oil Show

By DEBRA McMEANS
STANTON — The high school band and cheerleaders went to the Permian Basin Oil Show in Odessa Oct. 23.

They marched in the downtown parade and then went to the Oil Show Carnival.

The Future Homemakers of America magazine sale ended with Diana Payne winning the sale with $142 worth of subscriptions. She will receive a camera for a prize. The FHA sold approximately $1,000 worth of subscriptions.

Homecoming activities were concluded Friday night after the football game. The queen was chosen by the faculty and class representatives. She was crowned at the pep rally on Friday. The class floats were displayed during a parade which was held at 4:00 Friday.

The crowning of the queen was made by the presiding homecoming queen, Corene Manning.

PSAT tests were given to honor students this past week.

COAHOMA Plans Being Made For CHS Contest

By BEVERLY ENGER
During Monday's FHA meeting in the auditorium, Wacey Cathey was elected Future Homemakers beau. Also plans were discussed for a Dec. 19 Christmas party.

Juniors ordered their class rings Tuesday voting to retain the style as was purchased by last year's seniors.

The seniors met Tuesday to discuss plans and form committees for the annual CHS contest. This year master and mistress of ceremonies will be Jackie Dean Wolf and Jerrinn Menser. Serving on the theme and date committee are David Brady, chairman; Gwen Moore, Sue Read, Jerry Webb, Steve Brand, and Marlene Whirley. The scripts will be written by Karen Ashley, chairman, Marlene Whirley, Terri Anderson, and Beverly Enger. On the program committee are Cathy Evans, chairman, Twylla Wall, Jerrinn Menser, Paula Harris, Marylyn Martin, and Arlene Miliken. Contestant cards will be made by Marlene Whirley, Becky Null, and Beverly Enger. The decorations committee is made up of Twylla Wall, chairman, Augustine Hernandez, Ricky Gibson, Paul Day, Arlene Miliken, Jeff Bartlett, Wacey Cathey, Brenda Petty, Karen Ashley, and Tom Green. In charge of publicity are Beverly Enger, chairman, Linda Weaver, Jerry Webb, Terri Anderson, and Karen Ashley. Entertainment will be provided by Steve Brant and Jerry Webb. Baby-sitting will be offered and this service is under the direction of Barbara Coates. Chosen as card holders were Sharon Shive, Cathy Evans, Wacey Cathey, and Don Richters. Several seniors will answer any questions the lower classes have. Talking to the freshmen will be Kenneth Furlong; sophomores, Don Richters; and juniors, Arlene Miliken.

This was report card week, and the honor roll has been compiled. Making all A's were Lynn Ashley, Theresa Beal,

WESTBROOK National Honor Society Holds Candle Ceremony

WESTBROOK (SC) — Vickie Hogue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne L. Hogue and a senior at Westbrook High School, was installed as president of the Westbrook High School National Honor Society in a candle-lighting ceremony presented to the Westbrook PTA Monday night.

Other officers include Roxann Moore, vice president; Judy Chambers, secretary; Sandra Anderson, treasurer; Jessie Contreras, historian; and Jean Matlock, reporter.

The Rev. Frank Hodnett, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Westbrook, gave the invocation and served as chairman for the installation and induction of new members. David Sweatt led the audience in the pledge of allegiance.

GARDEN CITY Mr. and Miss GCHS Named

Vickie Hogue presented the purpose and aims of the NHS and Maxey Ware, principal, explained the method of selection of the members. Scholarship, character, service, and leadership determine the qualities for selection.

Vickie Hogue served as scholarship speaker; Jessie Contreras, character speaker; Sandra Anderson, service speaker; and Judy Chambers, leadership speaker.

Five new members were inducted into the Westbrook NHS Chapter. They include David Sweatt, Teresa Selvera, and Lee Roy Miller, all sophomores; Dwayne Kelly, junior; and Linda Underwood, senior. Membership certificates were presented by Maxey Ware to the new members.

One of the projects is a framed display of pictures and scholastic ranks of the top five NHS members which are determined each six weeks and are based on grades from the beginning of the ninth grade.

'Who's Who' In Colleges

ALPINE — Thirty-three upperclassmen at Sul Ross State University have been named to the 1970-71 edition of "Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges," according to Dr. Frances Phillips, dean of the Graduate Division.

The nominees were selected by the faculty and Student Association from a list of 131 students meeting "Who's Who" qualifications in scholarship (B average minimum), good standing, and class rank.

They include Jacquie Cecilia Davis, senior physical education major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Dennis of Gail; Lloyd Jay Pharris, graduate history major, son of O. R. Pharris of Colorado City; and Patsy Rainwater Kilgo, senior physical education major, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Rainwater of Snyder.

GOLIAD Student Council Names Teacher Of The Month

By MELANIE HAYWORTH
Friday afternoon the student council announced the outstanding teacher of the month at Goliad. He is Mr. Bernard Rains.

This week will be known as United School Fund Week. All students may bring money to contribute to the fund which will go to buy shoes for unfortunate children in Big Spring.

This past week approximately 60 girls tried out for volleyball. Following a change of plans, tryouts will be held for approximately three weeks on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays. Some of the players will be eliminated this week.

Thursday afternoon a pep rally was held preceding the eighth grade game. Pep talks in the rally were given by Kyle Neighbors and Albert Vela. At 5:00 p.m. the Mavericks played the San Angelo Edison Bobcats. The next eighth grade game will be on Thursday against Snyder Lamar here.

This past week the pep squad has been selling Goliad

SANDS Future Farmers Elect Sweetheart For Year

By CARLA HUNT
Jill Hunt, escorted by Billy Reed, was crowned Future Farmers sweetheart, Monday night at the Sands High School auditorium and was presented a bouquet of roses. Jill is a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt.

She will represent the Sands FFA in the El Rancho district contest which will be in Big Spring on Nov. 5.

Other finalists who were named as queens were Cindy McDonald, a freshman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lon McDonald; and Dianne Bowlin, a sophomore and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien Bowlin.

Larry Shaw, president of the club, was master of ceremonies. FFA members who escorted the contestants were Johnny Peugh, Ronnie Oaks, Eddie Newcomer, Reggie Hambrick, Tony Gillespie, Randy Clemens, Billy Reed, David Barnes, Keith Nichols, Richard Neil, Danny Gillespie, and Brad Ingram.

Janette Nichols played the piano accompaniment.

Officers of the chapter received pins as did each of the Greenhand members.

The Student Council met Monday morning to discuss the details of the Halloween Carnival. Those of the committee to decorate the stage were D'Aun Ditto, Dorinda Graham, Donna Gaskins, Anita Jones, and Sheree Shaw. Reggie Hambrick, Ronnie Oaks, Steve Herren, Gavino Rodriguez and Steve Herm were on the clean-up committee. The carnival was Saturday night with the coronation beginning at 7:30.

The girls basketball teams traveled to Loraine Tuesday night.

The sophomore girls held a style show for the junior and senior girls Tuesday. They modeled the garments they had made in Homemaking. Susie Rodriguez was the commen-

Mr. Jack Dunn, Spanish Club sponsor said that there are 12 performers and it should be entertaining to all. The show is to begin at 7:30 p.m. and admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students. Proceeds will go to the Spanish Club.

Cromer May Be New Ambassador

LONDON (AP) — Informed sources said today that Lord Cromer, a banker and former diplomat, has emerged as the leading candidate to be Britain's next ambassador to the United States.

The present ambassador, John Freeman, a former Labor government minister, is preparing to leave the post about the end of the year, probably to return to journalism and television broadcasting, they said.

Vikings And Lions Vie In Headliner

Minnesota's mighty Vikings, sailing steadily through a National Football League tempest, invade Detroit Sunday for their third straight battle royal.

In their last two starts, the Vikings have overrun Dallas 54-13 and slogged past Los Angeles 13-3. But despite those inter-division triumphs over NFL powerhouses—and an earlier victory over Kansas City's Super Chiefs—Minnesota can claim only a share of the lead in the blood-and-thunder Central Division of the National Conference.

The other first-place share belongs to the title-hungry Lions, who have matched the Vikings' 5-1 getaway—and established themselves as a defensive match for Bud Grant's Purple Gang.

Ex-Longhorns To Get Dues

AUSTIN (AP) — Six former Texas Longhorns will be honored Nov. 25, including Bowle Duncan, who caught the first touchdown pass in Southwest Conference history.

The scoring pass was thrown by Winston McManis in the 1906 Texas-Texas A&M game, which the Longhorns won 24-0.

Duncan, captain of the 1907 team, lives in Egypt, Tex. McManis lives in Houston.

Other former athletic stars to be inducted into the Longhorn Hall of Honor are:

—Jim Reese, who won the NCAA mile in 1925 to become the university's first national collegiate track champion. He has taught school in Dallas for more than a third of a century.

—Chal Daniel, All-American guard on the famous 1941 football team. He was killed in a 1943 military air crash.

—C. C. "Tex" Hughson, an all-conference pitcher in 1937 and twice a 20-game winner for the Boston Red Sox in the 1940s. He is in the real estate and cattle business near San Marcos.

—Holly Brock, an all-conference basketball player for two years in the late 1920s. He was an insurance executive in Houston at the time of his death earlier this year.

—Lucian Parrish, an All-guard at Texas in 1903-06. He practiced law in Henrietta and later was elected to Congress. He was a candidate for the Senate when he was killed in an auto accident in 1922.

Fiscal Woes Dictate Methods, Says Bob

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Cousy, revered during his playing days as Mr. Basketball, is being described these days as the greatest destroyer since Genghis Khan for what he has done to the Cincinnati Royals.

Since taking over as coach of the National Basketball Association club two years ago, Cousy has traded away superstars Oscar Robertson and Jerry Lucas and turned a modestly successful team into one of the worst in the NBA.

But to listen to Cousy explain his moves and motives, he is only making a sacrificing stand he thinks is needed by the owners to save the sport from financial destruction.

OWNERS MUST SEE
"In Cincinnati, the tail no longer is going to wag the dog," he said after a recent loss to the New York Knicks here. "Until the club owners realize this..."

He was talking about the no-cut, no-trade, high-salaried contracts demanded and received by many of the players in the NBA and the rival American Basketball Association.

"There's no basic logic for what they ask for," he said of the demands.

"I started the Players' Association in 1953, and I had a few harsh words with Podoloff (Maurice Podoloff, the former president of the NBA) over it. We even threatened to strike the All-Star game.

"I feel the players should get as much as they can. But when it reaches a point where it harms the sport, the owners have to take a stand."

He pointed out that only three of the league's 14 teams last year made money, indicating that the high salaries and bonuses to high draft choices were eating up the profits.

"Even if the line is drawn now, the contracts already are ludicrous. Teams get locked in by no cuts and have to let better players go than the ones they have to keep."

"Give them the money, but don't guarantee it. Don't tell them they don't have to work for it. When you eliminate the motivation you eliminate competition."

"I read where Lucas has lost a lot of weight and is really playing great. What was he doing the last nine years before he went bankrupt?"

The NBA has some 15-20 players making more than $100,000 a year, an average salary in the vicinity of $30,000, and rookies such as Pete Maravich and Bob Lanier signing contracts close to $2 million.

"Not even the television money and the expansion money can pay those kind of contracts," Cousy said, "and the expansion money is gone after this year, and there will be another group of rookies bigger and better next year, and the year after."

COMPETITION ROUGH
Cousy realizes, of course, that the competition with the ABA for talent is much of the reason for the inflated contracts. The ABA, too, has had to pay through the nose for top rookies, and some of them, such as Mike Maloy, have turned into poor investments.

Pittsburgh of the ABA gave Maloy more than $200,000 to sign, and he reported so overweight that he was suspended and finally traded.

Cousy, who probably never made much over $30,000 a year as one of basketball's top attractions during his sensational career with the Boston Celtics, knows full well of contract demands. He feels they were, in part, the reason he has at the moment only one promising rookie to show for both Robertson and Lucas.

Robertson was dealt to Milwaukee last spring for rookie Charlie Paulk, now a starter for the Royals, and veteran Flynn Robinson, agreed to terms this week after holding out.

Lucas went to San Francisco a year ago for Bill Turner and Jim King, both released this season by the Royals after Turner had a mediocre season last year with them and King was injured much of the time.

"The reason we didn't get fair value, as it appears, is because they (Robertson and Lucas) could tell us where they wanted to go," Cousy said.

"Oscar wouldn't go to Baltimore, where we could have gotten Gus Johnson. Luke said San Francisco was the only team he'd go to."

"I was listening to the World Series and one announcer called the Frank Robinson trade the most one-sided trade in baseball history. But he didn't know under what circumstances it was made."

"A look at the Lucas trade and it looks terrible, but there were other circumstances. San Francisco was the only team we could deal with, and the Warriors knew it. In Turner's case, we were forced into a quick situation. I saw him only two games, and he looked great both times. King was a fine ballplayer, but he got hurt."

"In Oscar's case, we had to trade him, and everyone knew it. He wouldn't be playing with us now anyway, even without the trade—and that was a consideration. He would still be holding out."

"The parting with Oscar was amicable, despite what's been said. I wish both he and Jerry good luck."

Permian Cops 27-7 Victory

MIDLAND — The undefeated Permian Panthers, preparing for an important meeting in San Angelo next week, toyed with the Midland Lee Rebels here Friday night en route to a 27-7 triumph.

The Panthers carried a 20-0 cushion to the locker room at intermission and the outcome of the game was never in doubt during the second half.

Permian fullback Daniel Justis got the first score of the game with a six yard blast in the first period. Later in the same quarter, quarterback Ben Montgomery hit split end Mike Cullpepper with a 33-yard touchdown throw. Final Permian tally in the first half came on a 55-yard punt return by Gordon Jarmon.

Deadline Draws Nearer For Cotton Bowl Orders

DALLAS — With the deadline for ticket applications only three days away, orders for the 1971 Cotton Bowl Classic foot ball game are running ahead of the fast pace set last year when national champion Texas met Notre Dame.

Only orders postmarked midnight Tuesday, Nov. 3 or earlier will be accepted, Cotton Bowl Classic officials reminded. Tickets are priced at $7.50 each and each request should include a 50-cent mailing fee, with check or money order being mailed to Cotton Bowl Athletic Association, Box 7185, Dallas, Tex. 75209.

"Ticket requests mailed prior to midnight Tuesday will have equal priority to orders mailed the first day of the public sale," C B A A secretary Howard Grubbs said. "Seat allocations will be determined in a drawing after all orders have been received. That means those just getting in under the deadline stand as good a chance of getting tickets as those who sent in their orders the first day of the public sale."

Grubbs did add, however, that the allotment to the general public is almost certain to be oversubscribed by the Tuesday midnight deadline. Only other sources for tickets following the public sale will be the two participating schools, which offer tickets first to priority groups.

There is no limit to the number of tickets an individual may order; however, no more than 10 may be requested on a single order. Those desiring more than 10 tickets should submit two or more requests with separate checks or money orders accompanying each request.

The Jan. 1 Classic will match the Southwest Conference champion against a highly-ranked team from another section of the country. Four times in the last 11 years the winner has claimed the national championship and a top 10 team has faced the SWC representative for 15 straight years.

You can't spread happiness around without getting a little on yourself!

You're going to make a lot of people very happy with your Fair Share Gift to the United Way Campaign this year. Especially when you make it big enough to match the urgent needs of our community.

But don't give just to be a little Mary Sunshine. Give because you're hard-headed, practical, realistic. Give because you realize that the United Way is doing a job that needs to be done, and is doing it faster, more efficiently, and less expensively than it could be done any other way.

Our community has big problems. They must be solved. If you don't do it, it won't get done.

Cotton Harvest In WT Shines

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Farmers in wide areas of Texas are fighting the weather, trying to complete harvest. In a few areas, conditions improved and crop gathering made good progress, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Heavy rains, especially in east and southeast counties, again stopped farm activities, the rector said. In the Panhandle, light snow and cold again slowed harvesting and the completion of wheat planting.

RANGES IMPROVED

Where temperatures have been favorable, improved ranges are being grazed. Hutchison said the eastern half of the state made hay harvesting difficult.

The South Plains (Lubbock) cotton harvest picked in mild, sunny weather. The sorghum and providing some grazing.

PEANUT HARVEST

The West Central Texas cotton harvest is nearing completion in some counties. Yields and grades are better than was first expected, he said. Showers are delaying defoliation around Eldorado. The peanut harvest is half over and yields have been good. Pecans are beginning to fall and yields are better than first expected. Some grains have been planted and growth is good. Ranges improved. Livestock are in good condition. Most calves and lambs have gone to market.

Moisture in the Valley and Coastal Bend (Corpus Christi) areas of South Texas is adequate but short in parts of the Winter Garden (Carrizo Springs). Wheat and oats are still being planted.

Personal Income, Prices Pinch Texas Consumers

AUSTIN (AP)—The pinch between personal income and consumer prices has the average Texas consumer "on an economic treadmill," the Texas Bureau of Business Research says.

STILL GROWING

Dr. Francis May, professor of business statistics at the University of Texas, said September personal income in Texas rose 3 per cent, considering seasonal factors, slightly below the July rate.

"Texas income is still growing but at a slower rate than at any time during the past several years," May said. "If the index of consumer prices is taken into consideration, even this slowed increase in the purchasing power of Texas income receivers disappears. Consumer prices have risen an average of 6 per cent during the first three quarters of 1970, at the same rate as the increase in income."

FEDERAL DEFICIT

"In trying to increase his effective purchasing power the average Texas consumer is on an economic treadmill," he said. "Texas industrial production leveled off in September after rising 2 per cent in August, the report said. National industrial production declined in September."

"Prospects of a strong revival in business activity are overshadowed by the likelihood of a substantial federal deficit," May reported. "The necessity of continuing to fight inflation means that the money supply cannot be expanded as rapidly as would be desirable. A counter-inflationary fiscal policy is needed because of price rises that are uncomfortably persistent."

Three Men Sentenced To Prison

The third person to be sentenced in connection with the July, 1969, armed robbery and shooting of Stanton service station attendant Marcos Tarango was assessed 45 years in prison Friday by 118th District Judge Ralph W. Caton.

Steve Blanchard, 22, U.S. 80 West, was sentenced Friday in Martin County. Also serving prison sentences in connection with the robbery-murder are Donald Smith, 22, former Webb airman, and his wife Wilma, 21. Smith is serving 35 years for robbery and Mrs. Smith is serving two 10-year sentences concurrently for robbery and murder.

A fourth defendant in the case, George Lewis Hite, 22, Midland, was found insane in June and is in the Rusk State Hospital.

The July 23 burglary of the John R. Coffee residence netted Albina Ortega, 39, Wyoming Hotel, a 10-year prison sentence. Ortega was sentenced Friday morning in 118th District Court.

James Reed, 23, 1407 Park, received a five-year probation sentence for sale of marijuana. Reed was given the probation sentence by his jury. He is also indicted for conspiracy to deliver and the delivery of dangerous drugs.

Ceremony Slated For Veterans Day

Veterans Day observances at the Veterans Administration Hospital will begin at 10 a.m. Nov. 11 on the hospital grounds.

Main speaker for the event will be Col. John W. Keeler, chief of information, Headquarters Air Training Command, at Randolph AFB.

Keeler entered the service in June, 1941, and flew 46 combat missions against the Germans. He was separated from the service in 1945 and became editor and publisher of two weekly newspapers in Pennsylvania.

Recalled to active duty at the beginning of the Korean War, he served as a fighter-bomber pilot with the famous "Black Panther" Squadron, flying 166 jet combat missions against the Communists.

In 1966, during a year's tour of duty in Vietnam, he flew 70 combat missions. He also served on Gen. Westmoreland's staff as press briefing officer for the air war. His daily briefings to 400 war correspondents prompted the Associated Press to tag him "the most quoted man on earth."

The veterans day observances are jointly sponsored by the VA Hospital, Webb AFB and the veterans' service organizations. Jack D. Powell, hospital director, will serve as master of ceremonies for the event.

Participating in the program will be the Goliad Junior High School Band; the Webb AFB Color Guard; Bob Priebe, eagle scout; Alma Willetts, senior girl scout; Capt. Harlan E. Welch, Chaplain, Webb AFB; J. Arnold Marshall, Big Spring mayor; A. C. Hicks, chaplain, VA Hospital; and the commanders of the service organizations.

Honored guests for the program are members of the Gold Star Mothers, their husbands and veterans who have recently returned to the Big Spring area.

THE LIBRARY (above left) is Dr. and Mrs. Pete Rhymes' room for relaxing, reading or watching TV. Various warm brown tones are used in the decor and the walls are of cork bark which has unusual texture, different from plain porous cork. Family antiques, the chandelier, tables and horse painting fit well into the decor. The abstract flower hanging is a Batik by Judy. The kitchen (above right) is bright and cheerful in panels of orange, red, pink, yellow and olive. The colors are repeated on the breakfast room chairs. The large commercial stove simplifies feeding a big family.

JUKEBOX, PIANO, TV, games and books fill the recreation room (above). Jill Rhymes is the family pianist and Kathy is the studious one. Mexican leather tables and chairs add to the casual atmosphere. The angled stairs lead to the "bridge" balcony and the girls' rooms. The dining room (below) has a view of the canyon and rolling hills at the back of the home. Soft evening sun pours through the full-length windows. Judy Rhymes is flanked by brothers, Jim, (left) and Ray. Behind them hangs a handmade needlework tapestry of a billy goat.

Home Built To Fit Nine Individuals

By MARILYN NEVELS

The Pete Rhymes home is truly fashioned around the family. Finding a home to fit seven children is a distinct problem, particularly if each child desires his own room.

Dr. Rhymes has had two homes constructed in other towns, both very different from the new home at 1300 Douglas. In efforts to find accommodations for nine, the Rhymeses once lived in a huge mansion with a ballroom, and most recently in two separate apartments.

In January work was started on their large gray stucco home at the edge of a shallow canyon. The multi-angle and peaked-roof home blends easily into the surrounding desert hills. Hidden behind the house is a grassy hill sloping into the tree-lined gorge. Dr. Rhymes is completing the second of two foot bridges crossing the gorge. The architect designed the home to be functional with a farmhouse-look indigenous to the area.

The gray stucco exterior leads into a soft white interior to give the feeling of light and spaciousness upon entering the home. The sloping, peaked roof illuminates the living room and master bedroom with skylights. "Our home is very functional," said Mrs. Rhymes. "With the skylights we need no artificial light during the day. The floors are Mexican tiles which don't need to be waxed. It is a good working house."

Dr. and Mrs. Rhymes knew what they liked when the house was designed. The children's living area was separated from the adults' by the living room. The three boys' rooms, the recreation room, kitchen and breakfast room are on the right wing. The living room, dining room, library and master bedroom are on the left wing. The four girls' rooms are upstairs on both wings connected by a balcony bridge. The bridge is flooded with light from the skylights and has become Judy's studio for art work and the location for the pool table.

Interior Shows Cheerful Color

Neutral white walls and ceilings in all rooms, except two girls' rooms, allows the wide variety of furnishings from antique and French to modern and Mexican to set the mood in each room. Both Dr. and Mrs. Rhymes are from Mississippi and have a number of family antiques.

Since the family moved into the house in September, they have been putting the finishing touches on the decor. There are new bedspreads and curtains to be made for the girls' rooms and pictures to be hung. The four girls have four styles for their rooms, green checked gingham, colorful patchwork, paisley and quilted royal satin.

The home not only accommodates the family of nine, but it holds their hobbies and interests. There is a piano, jukebox and for father, a stereo system. Walls are filled with art work collected by the family and done by Judy. She, her mother and Cathy, all enjoy painting and drawing. Numerous books about the house attest to the family's reading habits.

The kitchen is centrally located between the dining room and breakfast room with serving windows to each dining area. Even in the kitchen, family treasures are found: burnished solid copper pots and antique utensils hang on a pegboard.

The Rhymes dressed up an old family dining set with the five colors used in the kitchen and "mixed all the colors" to paint the large oval breakfast table. Each ladder back chair is a different color and the table turned out a salmon pink. On the wall is an unusual organ back with mirror is painted to match the breakfast set. A glass wall lined with foliage affords a view of the patio.

The final touch to the Rhymes' home will be a ceramic plaque on the front door which Judy will design and make. The family has not only constructed the home to fit natural surroundings, but has brought the sunshine, plants and open view inside. Mrs. Rhymes comments, "I love the canyon, and hills, wildflowers, quail and birds here and the openness that the skylights create inside."

Wall Decorations Make The Room

NEW YORK — It's a safe bet to say that things to go on the walls are the last to be tackled when a room is being decorated. But certainly not the least.

Paintings, mirrors, sconces, plaques, wall hangings, posters and photographs are also the things that can make or break the result. They are truly the accessories that, as in the fashion world, give the final touch.

People Thinking About Religion Twice As Often As About Sex

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A psychologist says most people think about religion twice as many times a day as they think about sex.

Dr. Paul Cameron of the University of Louisville based his conclusion on a survey of 3,416 persons in five cities—Louisville, Evansville, Ind., Detroit, Los Angeles and Santa Monica, Calif.

He asked what each was thinking about in the previous five minutes and reported these findings:

—Young adults, those 18 to 25, think about sex at least once in any 10-minute period; middle-aged people at least every 35 minutes; and people over 65 once an hour.

—Young adults think about religion once every 25 minutes; middle-aged groups about once every 15 minutes; and people over 65 once every 10 minutes.

Cameron also discovered that the middle-aged appear to think about their pets as often as they think about sex, a state of mind which "indicates a phony, strange, inhuman and time-consuming relationship with household animals."

He said housewives apparently spend 30 per cent of their time thinking about housework while working women devote 10 per cent of their office time to the same subject.

"Perhaps this explains why women are so much duller than men," he added.

own "just because it's interesting to know what people think about."

Promote Neatness

To encourage your child to pick up his clothes, make a big bright laundry bag for his dirty clothes and hang it on the wall next to his bed. Use two bath-size cotton terry towels in vivid colors to make the bag. Stitch them together along three sides and make a drawstring top. Machine-applique the child's name on the front of the bag. Hang the drawstrings over a hook on the wall.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

This is one of the three months in this year when the last day of the month is on Saturday thereby making a good start for us all by having the first day of the month fall on the first day of the week.

MRS. EMMA KLUCK, who is the aunt of MRS. RIP SMITH, is visiting in Mrs. Smith's home. Mrs. Kluck makes her home in San Marcos.

MRS. J. D. KENDRICK is in Denver City where she has taken her mother-in-law, MRS. J. M. KENDRICK, who is recuperating after having eye surgery here.

KENT ROGERS, son of MR. and MRS. CARL ROGERS, a senior medical student at Southwestern Medical School in Dallas, is due back in Dallas today after attending the American Association of Medical Colleges convention in Los Angeles, Calif.

The association is composed of senior class presidents in medical schools over the United States and has been in session for the past week.

Falls, Va., has been here to visit his mother, MRS. T. M. COLLINS, and a cousin, DELMAR L. DANIEL, at their home, 906 Scurry.

JO BRIGHT is vacationing here and later will go with a sister to some of their favorite spots around Taos and Santa Fe. She'll be back in a week or so.

The quilting party at the home of MRS. CHARLES ANDERSON'S home last week sounded like great fun. MRS. FANNY CLARK, who was guest along with the ABWA women came with her granny bonnet and a can of snuff to lend an "oldtimey" atmosphere. The group especially enjoyed seeing the beautiful antiques and heirlooms with which Mrs. Anderson has decorated her home. She is from Georgia and a member of a family in which the art of handwork has been handed down for several generations and she displayed her ability at quilting with the pretty top she has donated to the Cactus Chapter, ABWA.

Back from a three-week vacation trip are MRS. R. D. ULREY and her sister, MRS. H. E. RHODES. The two flew to Silver Spring, Md., where Mrs. Ulrey saw her first great-grandson, Donald Owen, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Scott. He is now 10 months of age.

Mrs. Ulrey and Mrs. Rhodes were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. W. Scott. On the return trip the two took the bus and stopped in Racine, Wis. Mrs. Rhodes' home for 50 years before she moved here with Mrs. Ulrey. The trip back took 36 hours but the women thoroughly enjoyed the scenery and flowers as well as the changing colors of the season.

When MR. and MRS. W. L. READ visited here from El Paso and brought their new daughter, Charla Leann, it was the first time the grandparents, MR. and MRS. C. D. READ, had seen her.

In Athens, Ga., for a visit with their son and his family, DR. and MRS. TOMMY PORTER, are MR. and MRS. A. A. PORTER who will be there for at least two more weeks.

Guests in the home of MR. and MRS. TOM GUIN are MR. and MRS. BOB PEARSON whose home is in Rusk.

GIL BARNETT returned to his home in Richardson Tues. day after being here with his father, G. A. BARNETT, who suffered a heart attack last Sunday.

A LOVELIER YOU Fun Furs, Fine Furs Aiding Conservation

By MARY SUE MILLER
Did you ever see a purple fur? You never hope to see one! Well, just pop into the nearest fur salon and you are likely to see a purple rabbit coat and many another fantasy. You'll even find that sheared rabbit is printed with the markings of an ocelot, that mink comes stenciled with the stripes of a tiger. Fun? Yes, but more!

The fashion is on the right side of conservation. According to the World Wildlife Organization, it could mean saving from extinction those wonderful wild cats, the leopard, cheetah, ocelot and jaguar. We are all of course for that.

Solely for fun and more fun, there's many a non-such far. There's patchwork rabbit done in rainbow shades and ombres, for instance, and such far-out ideas as giraffe-printed leathers.

When flying gloriously under their own colors, furs have never been lovelier. And you can tell them without a scorecard from the new again gray squirrel to fitch, lynx, fox, seal, fisher and the great minks like Kojah. Sometimes furs meet and mix. A fox collar may be dyed to match or contrast with a mink coat; fur hides and reptiles are used in endless combinations.

Pantsuit Wins Fashion Scene

Will you have fur in a poncho, blazer, cropped jacket or cape? In a polo, wrapped, trench, single-breasted coat? What fur? Think twice! Hands Can Be Pretty

Despite the old proverb, beauty is more than skin deep. Beauty begins from deep inside — with health. It is good health that brings rosinness to the complexion, gleam to the hair, and a springy step to the walk. Even beautiful nails start from within.

Hands he will want to hold have nails that are smooth and strong. Once you start your nail care program, stick with it daily for three to four months, the time it takes to grow new nails — stronger, longer and lovelier.

And once your nails begin to improve, think if them as another beauty gift and refrain from the little habits that make use of them as tools. When you dial the phone, for instance, use a little dial implement or the top of a pen. Opening bobby pins is hard on nails (and worse on teeth). Get in the habit of using the pads of the finger for this.

Rubber gloves are a must for household chores; use them not only for dishes but for washing out your lingerie as well.

It's a good idea to set aside one night a week for a manicure. But check nails daily to make sure of no chipped polish.

Hands Can Be Pretty

Plan a carefully before you make or buy a gift. This makes the shopping trip less time-consuming and should cut down on frustrations that develop when you don't know what you are trying to find. Staying within the amount of money that you plan to spend is easier to do if you have planned carefully.

There's a special art to giving and receiving gifts gracefully. Big or small, expensive or joke, every gift received should be acknowledged, either verbally or with a thank-you note.

At a party where everyone has brought gifts, the recipient should read cards enclosed for all to hear and show some enthusiasm over each gift. If someone brings a gift unexpectedly, it should be opened in front of the giver without calling attention to it in front of the other guests.

HANDMADE

If you have a special talent or skill that is appreciated, you may choose to give a handmade gift. With the renewed interest in needlework and other home crafts there are many possibilities. A handmade gift is love expressed in time, thought, and careful craftsmanship. For ideas study current magazines that have special features on needlework and crafts. Look in pattern books for patterns for stuffed animals and accessories. Hand knitting and crocheting are especially good.

A handmade gift has character; its imperfections merely reflect the humanity rather than the machinery that has gone into its making. Be sure that the thing you make fits into the qualifications listed above in selecting a gift. The person receiving the gift should get as great a pleasure in receiving the gift as you get from making it.

WRAPPINGS

Give carefully time to wrapping of your gifts, too. Packages can be attractive when wrapped at home. A nicely wrapped package adds to the joy of any gift. Organization makes gift wrapping easy. Here are some things a good gift wrapper can do to create beautiful packages:

- Gather all equipment together in a basket, box, or drawer.
- Have on hand papers, ribbons, boxes, scissors, tape, ruler, stapler, and rubber cement or white glue.
- Work on a flat surface in comfort and good light.
- Line boxes with tissue paper for a more professional look.
- Use paper economically. Cut it accurately to fit box. Extra adds bulk and creases, not enough looks skimpy.
- Learn to make a variety of bows and other trim, using different types of ribbon, yarn, felt, and paper.

ROUND BOXES

Round packages frequently cause difficulty. To wrap a round package, use paper wide enough to go around package with a two inch overlap. At the ends, the paper should just fold to the center. Fasten paper tightly around the box. Cut slits in the ends to the edge of the box. Fold fringe down one piece at a time, overlapping each other. Secure with tape or a

Gift Giving Requires Thought, Care, Love

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
(County HD Agent)

Now is a good time to begin making plans for gifts that you will be giving during the holiday season. Whether the gift is for Christmas or some other occasion during the year, gift giving may be a chore or a pleasure.

Selecting the right gift for the person and occasion involved can be a real challenge. First, what might you consider as you plan for the gifts that you give? Do you consider the person's interests, likes and dislikes? What about the things he already has? Are you alert to unintentional hints that he may give during the year? If you consider these points carefully your's should be a welcomed gift.

'YOU'VE GOT IT ALL'

Angela Davis, Middle Class, Bright, Becomes Communist

By JULES LOH
AP Newsfeatures Writer

"You've got it all, African woman. You're the most powerful stimulus I could have."

So wrote George Jackson, a black revolutionary accused of murder, last spring from his cell in California's Soledad prison to the young woman whom he called his "tender experience," Angela Davis.

At 26, Angela Davis did indeed seem to have it all.

She was brilliant. Magna cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa at Brandeis University; a dissertation away from a doctorate at the University of California; philosophy instructor at the University of California at Los Angeles.

She was attractive. Tall, slender, with chiseled features.

EXCELLENT

She was articulate. In her classes she rarely consulted notes yet her lectures were cogent and she seldom had to search for the precise word. Asked to evaluate her as a teacher, 87 per cent of her students said "excellent."

She was, relatively speaking, privileged. Her parents, both college graduates, were considered well off for Birmingham, Ala., blacks and lived in one of the more prestigious middle-class black neighborhoods.

CONVICTION

Stimulus? Angela Davis was that, too. With absolute confidence in the rightness of her judgments she could stir an audience to her own level of intensity for a cause. When she herself became a cause—fired from her teaching position for admitting she was a Communist—the academic community reacted with a solidarity perhaps unequalled since the days of the loyalty oath.

Last January, as suddenly as a volcano, Angela Davis erupted with an outpouring of passion that elevated her to the rank of heroine among black radicals of the New Left and graying patrons of the Old.

DEMONSTRATOR

She not only participated in demonstrations, she led them. She took up the cause of George Jackson and the other "Soledad Brothers," spoke at rallies, told street-corner audiences that "the system of capitalism has to be done away with."

At length Angela Davis was hunted down as one of the FBI's most wanted fugitives, accused of purchasing four guns used in last August's Marin County courthouse raid in California that resulted in the deaths of four persons.

What pushed this glamorous offspring of the black bourgeoisie to the outer limits of the political spectrum?

No one event, no one teacher, no one persuasive philosophical tract.

There was that day of horror in Birmingham, a clear fall morning in 1963, when a bomb exploded in the basement of a church and took the lives of four little girls. Angela knew the girls; one was a next-door neighbor. The bombing, said Angela Davis, "affected me definitely, in a political sense."

There were her years of tutelage by Herbert Marcuse, philosopher of the New Left, and by Theodore Adorno, the shining light of the Frankfurt school of Marxism. Marcuse pronounced her the brightest student he ever taught.

There was the chaining and gagging of Black Panther leader Bobby Seale in a Chicago courtroom and the shackling of the defendants in the Soledad prison murder case. "Completely outrageous," Angela Davis told an Associated Press reporter, "completely against what this country allegedly stands for."

INFLUENCES

Angela Yvonne Davis was born in Birmingham Jan. 26, 1944 in an all-black hospital, attended an all-black school, was a member of an all-black Girl Scout troop and lived in an all-black neighborhood, Smithfield, which came to be called "Dynamite Hill" when Angela was a girl and the blacks of Birmingham engaged in their struggle to end segregation.

"The South was just awful," Angela Davis told a Northern classmate years later. "When my mother's white friends visited we had to hide them so we wouldn't get bombed."

Angela participated in some of the demonstrations—it was the thing to do—but generally stayed home, took piano lessons and stuck to her school books. In elementary school she never scored lower than B and was a straight-A pupil at Parker High.

After two years at Parker, in fact, she was chosen for a scholarship to Elisabeth Irwin High School in New York under an American Friends Service Committee program which plucked promising black students out of segregated schools and sent them to the North. She was one of three blacks in her class of 35 pupils.

The Irwin school in Greenwich Village was a far cry from any educational experience Angela had known in Birmingham. Pupils wore jeans, called teachers by their first names, took class trips to places like Walden Pond.

She graduated from Irwin High with distinction and won a scholarship to Brandeis.

At Brandeis, Angela immersed herself in French literature and in her junior year qualified under a Hamilton College program to study at the Sorbonne in Paris and in the South of France at Biarritz.

Princeton University and Swarthmore College invited Angela for interviews for a teaching job and Swarthmore made an offer, but Angela decided in July, 1969, to accept another offer, from UCLA, because of its urban location and large black community.

Almost as soon as she arrived the word went out that she was a Communist, a fact Angela Davis had never denied and which she confirmed for the benefit of the California Board of Regents the following September.

As the tumult with the regents raged her philosophy course became more popular than ever. When the class size grew unwieldy she divided it and taught the same material twice—standing at her lectern in Afro-style clothes chain-smoking French Gauloises cigarettes. All her lectures were taped. Eventually she was fired.

Meanwhile Angela Davis became the head of a committee for the defense of the "Soledad Brothers," three blacks accused of murdering a prison guard.

Angela Davis' own words seem to indicate that the turning point was some time early this year and that it was a gradual process: she herself said there was no precise moment when she adopted a totally revolutionary stance.

Ellen Pope Marries Rodney Buchanan

Miss Ellen Lavellette Pope became the bride of Spec. 5 Rodney D. Buchanan Saturday evening in the home of the bridegroom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Buchanan, 1605 Harding. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Pope, Belton, and Richard A. Pope, Dallas. The bridegroom's father a Baptist Minister performed the ceremony.

The altar background was an arrangement of snowmass chrysanthemums with leather foliage flanked by silver candleabra holding wedding tapers. An arch entwined with boxwood and centered with wedding bells and satin streamers completed the wedding ceremony. Traditional wedding music was played as the bride's brother, Ferdinand Xarior Pope, Belton, gave his sister in marriage.

FORMAL GOWN
The bride was attired in a formal gown of Chantilly lace and peau de soie skirt flaring from a pointed waistline. The long sleeves ended in pearl points and sequins and pearls accented the gown. A panel of peau de soie extended from a Dior bow. Her waist-length veil of French illusion was held by crown of seed pearls. Her cascade of Frenched carnations was accented with sky blue gypsophilla centered with a cymbidium orchid.

Miss Patti Buchanan, sister of the bridegroom, was the maid of honor attired in an Empire dress of yellow crepe with A-line skirt, full pleated sleeves and butterfly bow accenting the neckline. She carried a nosegay of Frenched white carnations and sky blue chrysanthemums and foliage.

RECEPTION
Following the ceremony, the reception was held in the Buchanan home. Refreshments were served from a table centered with an arrangement of snowmass gladioli, sky blue chrysanthemums and foliage. The table was covered with blue linen overlaid with white lace. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

were distributed by Arna Nanny and Beth Young.

SCHOOLS
The bride is a graduate of Belton High School and served in the Air Force at Lackland AFB, San Antonio. The bridegroom is a Big Spring High School graduate and attended Howard County Junior College before joining the Army in 1968. His service included 17 months in Germany. He is now stationed at Ft. Hood.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gilbert and Angela Gilbert, Dallas; Dwight L. Brackett, Ft. Hood; Richard Andrew Pope Jr., Belton; and Jerry Lee Ellison and Travon Ellison, Temple.

Former Local Resident Honored With Shower

Miss Mariann Williams of Dallas, a former Big Spring resident, was honored with a bridal shower Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Star Warford, 2300 Merrily. Miss Williams is the bride-elect of Sgt. Gusto O. Fajerson of Dallas, presently serving in Vietnam with the Army.

The bride-elect received guests between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. with her grandmothers, Mrs. Mary Martin and Mrs. Mary Frazier. Miss Williams wore a white knit A-line dress with "V" neckline and wide gray collar edged in lace. The long sleeves of the dress also were accented with lace at the cuffs. Approximately 25 guests attended the shower.

Refreshments were served from two tables, both covered in yellow overlaid with white lace displaying the bride-elect's colors. A large yellow wedding candle entwined with ivy accented each table and a yellow and white cake was served at one table and a chocolate cake at the other. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Hostesses with Mrs. Warford were Mrs. J. P. Jennings, Mrs. Danny Coats, Mrs. E. R. Brown, Mrs. M. C. Woods, Mrs. John W. Hughes, Mrs. E. F. Petrasch, and Mrs. John Farquhar.

Miss Williams and Sgt. Fajerson plan to marry Dec. 28 in Dallas.

TO WED — Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buckner, 1413 E. 18th, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Paula Ann, to Robert Steven Chrane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chrane, Sterling City Route. The engaged couple attends Howard County Junior College and are planning a Jan. 8 wedding at the First Presbyterian Church.

Knott Friends Have 12th Annual Party

Knott Neighbors, a group of women who have lived as neighbors in the years past in the Knott Community and those who presently make their home there, held their 12th annual gathering Thursday.

Mrs. J. D. Kendrick, 4003 Wasson Road, was hostess for the 26 who were present for the all-day affair where they enjoyed a salad luncheon and reminisced about the days when they were neighbors. They also brought pictures to show of their families and friends taken years ago.

The 1971 meeting will be during the first week in November at the Knott home of Mrs. Wiley Burchell.

Charles Rhodese Announce Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodese, Victoria, announce the birth of a daughter, Melody Renee, Oct. 23 at Victoria Medical Hospital. She weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces at birth. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Billy Gaskins, Knott. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rhodes, Torrance, Calif., and Mrs. Lucille Russell, Victoria. The Rhodese have one other daughter, Sharla Sherri.

'Women's Suffrage May Ruin Morale'

By JOHN BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — With little of the passion and drama that have marked other milestones in women's long struggle for equality, the House is about to vote to give them something they've sought for 47 years.

It is a constitutional amendment that would guarantee women equal rights under the law, a guarantee given to the emancipated slaves a century ago but still, to some degree, denied to women.

House passage of the amendment by a two-thirds majority, which it expected Monday, would be but the first step toward achieving the goal. Senate approval and ratification by three-fourths of the states will still be needed.

Fifty years ago when Congress was considering a constitutional amendment to give women the vote, Washington seethed with feminist agitators and emotional counter-attacks inflamed debate.

"Women's suffrage will injure and may ruin the morale of the men of the country," proclaimed a leaflet circulated in Congress, which also predicted it would have a dire effect on women. Giving them the vote, it said, "tends to lessen women's attractive qualities of modesty, dependence and delicacy, developing arrogance, knowledge and independence."

The amendment states simply: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of Sex."

A hundred years ago leaders of the fledgling feminist movement never thought such an amendment would be necessary.

Miss Rogers, Prince Wed

Miss Linda Darlene Rogers and AIC Roy Gilbert Prince were married Friday evening at the Coronado Hills apartment of Mrs. Myrtle LeRoy.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Henry L. Prince Sr. of 855 West Graham Road, Stow, Ohio. Mrs. O. C. Rogers, 2404 Morrison, is the mother of the bride.

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice performed the ceremony as the wedding party stood before an arch held by Greek columns that were entwined with greenery and red and white carnations.

The bride wore a pastel blue dress and a matching coat with stand-up collar. Her headpiece was a blue velvet bow trimmed with net. Her flowers were frenched carnations tied with picot satin.

Miss Debbie Coates of Coahoma was the bride's only attendant and she wore a grey wool dress with red accessories. She carried a nosegay of red carnations.

Sgt. John Jedele of Saline, Mich., attended the groom.

The couple will make their home at 1602 Cardinal while Airman Prince completes his service at Webb AFB.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and is presently employed at the Webb Army and Air Base Exchange Service.

The groom is a graduate of Stow High School in Stow, Ohio. Mrs. LeRoy was hostess for a reception immediately following the ceremony. The serving table was centered with a two-tiered wedding cake trimmed in blue and white roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. Henry L. Prince, the groom's mother, and his sister, Miss Marjorie Prince, attended from Stow.

Westbrook Women Plan Prayer Day

WESTBROOK (SC) — Plans for the Baptist Women's Day of Prayer were completed Tuesday when the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church met for business and quarterly planning.

Mrs. Hoyt Roberts will be in charge of the program for the Baptist Women's Day of Prayer Monday. Mrs. T. J. Rider of Loraine will be the guest speaker on Wednesday evening, Nov. 11, when her subject will be Taiwan. This will be at the regular prayer service at 7 p.m. and will be preceded by supper at 6 p.m. The union is extending an invitation to any who are interested to hear the speaker.

Mrs. G. D. Rollins read the call to prayer. Special emphasis was for the membership to read the study book, "A Dynamic Church — Spirit and Structure for the Seventies."

TELLS PLANS — Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Hayworth, 1700 Donley, announce the engagement of their daughter, Beth, to Mike Perry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perry, Lubbock. The couple plans to marry Jan. 2, 1971, in Trinity Baptist Church. Both are students at Texas Tech University.

Warm Wool Traditional

Wool is the traditional sweater fiber, because it is warm and resilient, says Jane Speece, University of Nebraska Extension textiles, clothing and design specialist.

She pointed out that in the past all wool sweaters were sent to the cleaners, or cleaned by careful hand washing, then stored carefully during the warm months to keep moths away.

Today, however, more and more wool sweaters have moth-proof finish and can be washed or machine dried she said. The sweater label tells the consumer if these features are present.

Weekend Visitors

Visiting this weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Tony Taroni, 2320 Brent Drive are their son-in-law, daughter and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Edward, Tami and Bill, of Lubbock.

Duplicate Bridge Winners Named

Winners of Friday's duplicate bridge games at Big Spring Country Club were Mrs. Elmo Wasson and Mrs. J. Gordon Bristow, first; Mrs. Raymond Tollett and George Pike, second; and Mrs. E. O. Ellington and Mrs. Riley Foster, third. Four tables were in play.

During Wednesday's games four tables also were in play. Those winners were Mrs. A. Swartz and Mrs. Elmo Wasson, first; Mrs. Travis Reed and Mrs. J. H. Parks, second; and Mrs. J. H. Fish and Mrs. E. O. Ellington, third.

SETS DATE — Mr. and Mrs. O. R. (Bob) Kester, Odessa, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Shellia Gay, to Robert Wade Plowman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond B. Plowman, 2613 Central Drive. A Dec. 19 wedding is planned in Crescent Park Baptist Church in Odessa. Robert Plowman is now stationed with the Navy at Long Beach, Calif.

Simple Dress Has Attractive Lines

This dress is a gay deceiver. It has such an easy look, you forget how good the lines and neck detail are. No. 3267 comes in sizes 12½ to 22½. Size 14½ (bust 37) with the shorter sleeve takes 2½ yards of 44-inch fabric.

For each pattern, send 50 cents plus 15 cents for first-class mail and special handling to IRIS LANE, care of the Big Spring Herald, Morris Plains, N.J. 07950.

Free pattern is waiting for you. Send 50 cents for our new Fall-Winter Pattern Book, which contains coupon for pattern of your choice.

Wraps and Recipes Are Demonstrated

Directions for making holiday gifts and recipes for candies and cakes were exchanged at the Center Point Home Demonstration Club meeting Tuesday. Mrs. Travis Melton presided and gave the gift wrapping demonstration. She showed how to make foil ornaments for packages, yarn bows, paper roses.

Plans were made to volunteer wrapping packages for Big Spring State Hospital, and to contribute additional gifts for the patients. A letter thanking the club for gifts previously donated was read from the hospital. The next meeting will be Nov. 10 with Mrs. Jack Smith, 103 Wasson Road, as hostess.

Use Imagination To Pick Greens

Use imagination in selecting salad greens. Don't be afraid to try new greens and different combinations. You'll find a great variety in your supermarket — leaf, head, romaine, butter and bibb lettuce — all mild in flavor.

To save a brand new manure while scouring pots and pans, hold your plastic or abrasive pot cleaner with a clothespin.

Double Ring Ceremony Weds Couple Saturday In Midland

Miss Gloria Jean Rollison and bow. All wore matching headpieces. The Rev. Leroy Cleaver Jr. officiated for the double ring ceremony.

An arched candelabra holding 15 tapers was the background for the altar with a sunburst arrangement of yellow and white flowers and foliage at center. Convex candelabra flanked the arrangement and the pews were lighted by votive candles.

Leslie S. Jackson, Midland pianist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Miss Mary B. Dirks, Big Spring, as she sang "Whither Thou Goest," "Twelfth of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer."

The bride's formal gown was of antique ivory peau de soie and featured an Empire bodice and high cameo collar accented with tiny pearls and crystal beads. Strings of seed pearls formed a pyramid skirt, unpressed pleats cascaded to a full chapel train. Long tapered sleeves were encircled at wrists with tiny pearls and crystal beads.

The groom, a graduate of Paul Lawrence Dunbar High School in Lubbock received both bachelor's and master's degrees from Prairie View A&M college where he formerly studied with pearls and crystal drops.

The bride carried a cascade of white roses and staphanotis centered with a white cattleya orchid and tied with yellow velvet ribbon.

Miss Alice Perkins of Big Spring was the maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Glenda Louise Hurd, Miss Connie Anne Smith, Miss Verna Wallace, Miss Rolsa Hocker and Miss Gloria Smith, all of Midland, and Mrs. Marvin Locke, Wichita Falls, daughter of the groom.

The attendants wore gowns of life twist chiffon and candlelight light peau de soie. The bodices featured long full sleeves with wide cuffs trimmed in lime twist satin braids as were the high rolled collars. The skirts were slightly gathered and belted with satin bias band that tied at the back with a soft ceremony and guests were registered by Mrs. Lela Ruth Jones. Others in the house party were Mrs. Dewade Swindell, Mrs. Leodis Henderson, Mrs. Bill Jay, Mrs. Richard Carter, Mrs. J. Morris, Mrs. Ruth Jackson, Mrs. Glen Hurd, Miss Shirley Wallace, Miss Willie Smith and Miss Ruth Whitmill.

The bride's cake was four-tiered and trimmed with yellow roses. The table was laid with white and centered with an arrangement of yellow roses. White wedding candles, held in single stemmed crystal holders completed the decor.

Guests included friends and relatives from Big Spring, Odessa, Lubbock, Dallas, Los Angeles, Calif., Waxahachie, Burnet, Breckenridge, Wichita Falls, San Angelo, and Fort Worth.

Gift Shower Honors Mrs. David Thomas

Mrs. David C. Thomas, the former Miss Lillian George of Lubbock, was feted with a miscellaneous bridal shower Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. D. W. Overman, 2719 Larry. Receiving 75 guests with Mrs. Thomas were her mother, Mrs. Sara George of Lubbock, her mother-in-law, Mrs. Richard Thomas, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. John R. Thomas. The honoree and mothers were presented yellow chrysanthemum corsages.

Daughter Is Born

FOR SAN (SC) — Mr. and Mrs. Roy Klahr have been in Irving the past week to be with their daughter, Mrs. Bruce Aubushon, and Mr. Aubushon who became the parents of their second daughter on Oct. 26. The baby has been named Tammy Rene. She weighed eight pounds, one ounce at birth. The couple has another daughter, Regina, who is 2½ years of age.

Mrs. Luther Williams is a patient in Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital. She sustained a broken hip in a recent fall.

Cindy Day, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dub Day, has returned to her home for recuperation after being discharged from Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Cindy was injured when the mini bike she was riding was in collision with a pickup truck two weeks ago.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey and Kathy are visiting this weekend in College Station with their son and his family, Dr. and Mrs. Muri Bailey, Wanda and Creighton.

Mr. and Mrs. David Redwine were in Colorado City Friday to attend funeral services for Jesse Northcutt who died Wednesday after a heart attack.

Scouring Tips

The first step in getting pots and pans clean is to wash them with hot soap or detergent suds to remove grease and large ### particles of food.

The second step is to scour the utensils, if necessary, to loosen residual food. This advice originates with a manufacturer of steel wool scouring pads.

Two Republicans Seek Howard County Posts

Voter interest in Howard County issues will be centered around the two contested races for district clerk and county commissioner, Precinct 2, and the creation of a rural fire protection district.

Incumbent District Clerk Fern Cox and Republican George MacConnell are vying for the district clerk post. Cox is a former deputy sheriff and has served two elected terms as district clerk. He is a graduate of San Angelo Business College and has attended Howard County Junior College. He served three and one-half years with the Air Force during World War II.

MacConnell has lived in Big Spring four years and in the West Texas area for 29 years. He lived in Big Spring in 1944-45 while serving as an intelligence officer at the Big Spring Bombardier School. He retired from the service in 1962 and lived in San Angelo before returning to Big Spring. MacConnell and his wife, Kathryn, have two daughters and a son, all of whom reside in San Angelo.

Bill Bennett and Garner McAdams are candidates for the vacancy on the county commission left by incumbent Ray Nichols, who is not seeking re-election. Nichols is currently commissioner of Precinct 2.

McAdams, a Howard County resident since 1928, is currently serving his second term on the Big Spring City Commission. He has ranch and real estate interests in the county and has worked as a building contractor and in oil field construction.

Challenging McAdams is Bennett, a native of Howard County and a graduate of Coahoma High School. He is a farmer and rancher with experience in oil field work and road maintenance. Bennett and his wife, Johnnie, live in Sand Springs with their sons, Jodie, 12, and Randy, 10.

Unopposed in their candidacies are Dee Jon Davis, state representative, 63rd District; R. W. Caton, 118th District Court Judge; A. G. Mitchell, county judge; Pauline S. Petty, county clerk; Frances Glenn, county treasurer; R. W. Baker, county surveyor; Jack W. Buchanan, county commissioner, Precinct 4; Jess Slaughter, justice of the peace, Precinct 1, place 2; and Lee E. Young, constable, Precinct 1.

The creation of the Howard County Rural Fire Protection District will be decided by voters living outside the incorporated areas of Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan. The district would be an independent taxing agency empowered to tax rural residents at a maximum rate of three cents per $100 valuation assessed on rural property. The district would be governed by a five-member board composed of district residents appointed for staggered two-year terms.

INSTRUCTION NOTE:

Vote for the candidate of your choice in each race by placing an X in the square beside the candidate's name. You may vote a straight ticket (that is, vote for all the candidates of a certain party, and for no candidates outside that party's column) by placing an X in the square beside the name of the party of your choice at the head of the party column. (If you use this straight-ticket method of marking do not mark squares beside the names of individual candidates.)

NEW TAXING AGENCY FOR COUNTY

Fire District On Tuesday Ballot

By LINDA CROSS
A possible three-cent per $100 valuation is the price tag on the proposed Howard County Rural Fire Protection District which will go before rural voters Tuesday.

The type of fire protection offered would be largely up to the five-member board appointed after the election to govern the district. Board members must be residents of the fire district, according to County Judge Lee Porter, and would be independent of the county commission. The board, if the district is established, would determine the best method for providing more adequate fire protection in the county.

The Rural District is just what its name implies, and would affect areas outside limits of the county's three incorporated municipalities. Big Spring, Forsan and Coahoma and excluded from the proposition, and voters in these communities will not be balloting on the issue Tuesday. Nor would they have representation on the board, if such is approved.

ALTERNATIVES

Alternatives to the district include a separate full-time fire department financed and staffed by the district or augmentation of the volunteer fire departments with professional crews and a fire marshal to coordinate effort, or a district-city fire protection contract.

The three-cent tax per $100 valuation of rural property is the maximum rate at which the district is empowered to levy. Based on the maximum rate and current rural property valuation, the district would have an annual revenue of $61,843. The board could accept current property valuations for tax purposes and pay County Tax Assessor-Collector Zirah LeFevre a one per cent fee for handling the taxation.

TAXING POWER

"The board does not have to accept county valuations or have Zirah collect the taxes for them. They have the power to assess their own valuations and collect the taxes themselves," said Judge Porter.

Opposition to being included in the fire district was expressed at the public hearing Sept. 23 by city officials of Coahoma, who were later joined by Forsan officials. Coahoma has a volunteer fire department that is partially funded by Coahoma city taxes and a $1,500 a year contract with the county for answering rural fire calls.

In a later meeting of commissioners court, it was decided that the boundaries of the fire district should exclude the incorporated areas of Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan.

OPPOSITION

Members of the Luther community, which has the Gay Hill Volunteer Fire Department, also have expressed opposition to the fire district. O. R. Crow expressed the sentiments he said he shares with his neighbors.

"The district would benefit only those living in Silver Heels and close to town. By the time a truck got out here from town, all it could do would be to wet down the ashes," said Crow. Crow added that he and his neighbors don't want to pay taxes for a service that would benefit only those "that want city services without paying city taxes and are trying to get someone else to pay the bill."

District officials would have to deal with the problems of time, distance and inadequate water supply in fighting rural fires, according to Commissioner Bill Crooker. The difficulty in locating a station house in one rural district over another has been pointed out.

CENTRAL LOCATION

In discussions, the location ultimately comes back to Big Spring. It has even been mentioned that the district could rent Airport Fire Station as a central location. This location and others do little to solve the problem of time and distance. Some areas of the county do not even have a volunteer organization that could be called in the meantime, according to Crooker.

Crooker suggested that the district operate in conjunction with the volunteers. The problem of water shortage could be helped with the use of a chemical additive that increases the effectiveness of the water available.

The substance, "Wet Water," is used by the city fire department. City fire officials say that the product is designed for use in booster tanks only and has the effect of doubling the effectiveness, i.e., 700 gallons of water have the effectiveness of 1,400 gallons with the use of the chemical.

PROFESSIONAL CREW

County officials and Silver Heels residents like Lanny Hamby, Roger Brown and Jack Watkins have said that the time factor could become less crucial in a rural fire if there were a professional crew on duty 24 hours a day that could answer an alarm with no delay.

The main advantage in a fire district, as pointed out by Crooker, city fire officials, and rural residents interested in the district is that it would be an independent body concerned only with rural fire protection. Protection would not be a side line as it is now with the county, which is not required by law to furnish any fire protection, according to Judge Porter. Rural fire protection would also be an extra job with the city fire department, Crooker said.

One city fire official pointed out that rural residents are re-either the city or the county. With the fire district, the money would be handled by a rural tax agency to benefit rural people, he said.

San Angelo Cattle Auction Set Monday

Howard County will have 14 head of cattle in the Concho Hereford Association auction Monday afternoon.

Charlie Creighton will have 12 bulls and Leland Wallace will have two. Judging begins at 9 a.m. and the auction starts at 1 p.m. Judge is Dale Hoover, Perryton, and auctioneer is Col. Walter Britton, College Station.

The reason for the large number of Howard County bulls is the cancellation this year of the Howard County-South Plains Sale, Creighton said.

The 24th annual Concho sale will be at the fairgrounds in San Angelo with 101 registered bulls. This is the leading association sale in the state, Creighton said. All the cattle is sifted and nothing but the finest bulls are available.

Rural Vote To Decide Fire District

Separate voter lists will be kept at boxes where rural and city vote is combined in order to regulate the voting on the Howard County Rural Fire Protection District. Only those voters living outside the incorporated areas of Big Spring, Forsan and Coahoma are eligible to vote.

"At boxes 9 and 10, the Forsan and Coahoma boxes, there are four separate boxes plus a stub box for the general election and the same for the fire district election. The rural voter will go through one line to vote in the General Election and another for the special," said Mrs. Margaret Ray, deputy county clerk.

The same procedure holds true for rural voters who cast their ballots in boxes 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 17, 18, 19, 20 and 21.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Citizens Speak Out On Election

To the Editor:

Many centuries ago, when Israel faced national disaster, the prophet Isaiah said "Come, let us reason together."

Would it not be well for Big Spring citizens to face facts and figures concerning the thing that is threatening safety on our streets; littering our city; creating disturbances in public places; taking a toll of lives; forcing many to be totally unfit for a normal life; and depriving so many precious children of love, proper food, clothing, and shelter? Anyone who reads a paper, listens to the news, or becomes involved in helping the needy of our city needs to use only a little reason and common sense to identify the obvious offender.

An intensified effort to meet a United Fund goal could be compared to putting witch hazel salve on a skin cancer. It might soothe a little, but the disease continues to destroy the tissue underneath. Is it good reasoning and common sense to stimulate a problem and then wage a war against the results?

Please eligible voters of Big Spring, let's make our city a better and safer place for our children to grow in. Your child or my child might be the next victim.

Vote NO to anything that increases the availability of alcohol to drivers in our state.

Jaycees To Taxi Voters To The Polls

The Big Spring Jaycees are planning a taxi service to get people to the polls to vote Nov. 3. According to Bill Orenbaum, project chairman, the details of the service are falling into place.

To get to the voting box on election day people can call at the office of A. J. Pirkle Insurance (267-5053) and give their name and address. A Jaycee member will then pick the voter up at his home, take him to the polls, and return him to his home by car.

Orenbaum said there is a possibility that a local car dealer will loan the Jaycees the use of a courtesy car for the day, and between 20 and 25 Jaycees are expected to be working as drivers. Jaycee-Ettes have volunteered to drive or answer the phone if more help is needed.

Orenbaum said the drivers will be briefed on the location of the polling place in each precinct, and Jaycees also will use their personal cars if necessary.

True Thoughts Of Candidate As Auto Rolls

FORSYTH, Ga. (AP) — Hal Suit, Republican candidate for governor in the Nov. 3 election, escaped injury when his car rolled down an embankment.

"As soon as we started rolling I started thinking, 'God, eight or nine months of work for nothing,'" Suit remarked after the accident.

Four others in the car suffered minor injuries.

less liquor sold or drunk. They must be full of their own brew, or they think I am.

I don't believe anyone would spend thousands of dollars to get a law passed that would hurt their business. If this amendment passes it will be because church members vote for it or stay away from the polls.

So a man can have freedom of choice, yet if I threw a poisonous snake among their children, they would want to shoot me between the eyes; yet God's word says "It biteth like a serpent and stingeth like an adder." To be bitten by a poisonous snake can cause lots of trouble, but to be stung by an adder or stinging snake causes almost certain death. Prov. Ch. 23, Verse 32.

Dear people I want to say to you, please go to the polls and vote No to Amendment No. 2 for my children and yours.

J. S. JACKSON
Box 42, Vealmoor.

To the Editor:

I have heard much about Mr. Eggers' inexperience in government. Perhaps with a little less so called experience we could have new and refreshing ideas to prevent the re-experiencing of old political maneuvering. I have seen other situations, where the "inexperienced" man has proven to be an outstanding leader over the man who is responsible to all machines, lobbyists, and other pressure groups in politics. It can be said that Mr. Eggers has not been in government long enough to owe these people any favors.

The present governor seems to have a "wait and see" attitude of administration. Why must we wait until such important things as crime, drugs, pollution, and education have ignited into a crisis?

It is not the executive's job to dictate to the legislators; but if effective solutions are to be made, he must be willing to work with them and guide them. This is an essential aspect of leadership.

Mr. Eggers has adopted the theory of Milton Friedman: "I do not believe that government is best which governs least; that is no longer realistic. I do believe that government is best which is closest to the people and over which the people have truly effective control."

Let's all get out and vote, and let's all think very seriously about electing a doer rather than a recommender.

ROY CEDERBERG

To the Editor:

How do you write a thank-you letter to such a fine body of people as those who live in Big Spring? Before graduation last May I spoke to the high school in the Senior Assembly and said I wanted to lead with the strength of Abraham Lincoln, the love of Jesus, and the courage of Helen Keller, but most of all I wanted to be myself.

I got this philosophy... because of the people I got to know and love... you inspired me, supported me, criticized me, honored me, showed me the difference between pessimism and optimism. You gave many gifts which I tried to use for Big Spring; I only hope I gave Big Spring half of what it gave me.

I need to thank many, many people. It would be impossible to name all — my parents and brother, the students in BSHS, Mr. John Talmage, Student Council sponsor, etc. Without all this help I would be very little in deed.

Elect GEORGE MacCONNELL Republican Candidate For 118th District Clerk

George K. MacConnell is the Republican candidate for 118th District Clerk.

A veteran of World War II, and the Korean and Vietnam wars, his military service extended from January 1941 through June 1962, including service in West Texas as well as in Okinawa, Guam, Johnson Island and Panama. He retired as a senior master sergeant. George moved here permanently in 1966, and is presently active in church, organizational, and community affairs.

After three decades in West Texas, George MacConnell has come to understand and appreciate the fullness of life enjoyed by his fellow Texans. He can bring to public office in Howard County a devoted sense of duty to his tasks, the efficiency of a disciplined mind, loyalty to his superiors, and a credit to his community.

George and his wife, Kathryn (a San Angelo native) have two daughters, and a son. The MacConnells reside at their home in Big Spring 1804 Hearn with their daughter-in-law, Mari, and two grandsons, David and George, while the children's father serves in Vietnam.

He is currently a fulltime student at Howard County Junior College. He has also attended Southwest Texas State College at San Marcos, San Angelo College and Cornell University. Accounting, administrative management, data processing were among his business courses. While in the military service he completed courses in primary management, data systems, and several administrative and personnel management courses.

Coupled with a lifetime of service to the public, MacConnell would bring to the office of District Clerk more than 28 years of experience as an administrative specialist in a supervisory capacity and as an executive in the club management field. He has the foresight and ability to move forward to a system of data processing should it be required in this new decade in Howard County. His abilities can be attested to by his past performance, along with his love and admiration for West Texas, its people, its climate and its exciting underecurrent of constructive change.

George MacConnell has stated that he is eager, able and willing to serve as your district clerk; fully realizing that the final choice is yours to make and only asks that he be considered when you are marking your ballot on November 3rd.

GEORGE BUSH DOESN'T BELIEVE IN HIDING BEHIND A PARTY LABEL. HE BELIEVES IN TELLING YOU EXACTLY WHERE HE STANDS ON THE ISSUES.

HERE'S WHERE HE STANDS ON GUN REGISTRATION

"I am opposed to the registration, licensing or requiring of permits for firearms. I have consistently voted this way every time this question has come before the House. While I have voted for many crime control bills, I have never voted for any bill that provided for gun registration, licensing or permitting in any form. I do not think registration of shotguns, rifles, pistols or any kind of weapon will solve the crime problem, and I would unquestionably oppose any legislation which could conceivably disarm our citizens—this is a basic right under our Constitution and should not be tampered with."

JOIN US IN VOTING FOR GEORGE BUSH NOV. 3

HERE'S WHERE HE STANDS ON WELFARE REFORM

"I am opposed to a guaranteed annual wage. Under the existing welfare program there is only one requirement and that is you must not work. Projections indicate that costs of the present welfare program will double in the next five years. Therefore, President Nixon proposed a change. He asked Congress require those on welfare to accept work or work training or see their welfare payment discontinued. The welfare reform bill that passed the House is not a guaranteed annual wage. The bill says you will no longer get money without working. This bill came to my committee, Ways and Means. I know what is in it. It seems to me that it is a badly needed reform."

then that I didn't want any part of their work.

"After I was in the service I changed my mind. Actually, the Seals are a bit more versatile than the frogmen. We work on both land and water while they stick to the water."

The addict is Clifford M. Chandler, Lubbock. He says he's become addicted to playing dominoes.

Chandler had only praise for the local VA Hospital. He said he'd been in and out of several military and civilian hospitals and the care here was the best he had received.

"A lot of people have been bad-mouthing the VA Hospital system. Mostly, the people who talk the hospital down are injured service men who are trying to take a greater disability so they can collect a larger pension check. They're unhappy when they can't fool the doctors."

Chandler was wounded three times in Vietnam combat. His most recent injury resulted in his medical retirement in 1968. He had been a member of the armed forces since 1956, and served as a Navy Seal — a land-water demolition team.

"The hospital in Big Spring is one of the finest I've been a patient in and the staff is the best I've seen — they're always concerned about each patient and are willing to help with any type of problem."

"There may be only one bad thing — I've become an habitual domino player — and I don't know who I'll be able to play against when I leave here."

PE Workshop Slated Here

A physical education workshop will be held Thursday and Friday in the Allred Building at the Big Spring State Hospital.

The workshop will concern physical education, recreation and physical fitness for the retarded and emotionally disturbed.

Guest speaker will be Dr. Dwain Hart, chairman of health, physical education and recreation programs of Abilene Christian College. He will speak on "Recreation and Physical Education, Education's Tools To Reach The Retarded."

Directing the workshop will be Charles Warford, Amarillo, state center for human development, and Charles Chadwell, Austin, consultant with the central office for Mental Health and Mental Retardation.

The program will include films, discussions and demonstrations on how to use recreation and physical education as motivation, therapy and education.

The workshop will attract persons from over the state, Mrs. Lillian Hall, supervisor of therapies at the state hospital, said. Sessions will be from 6:30 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. Thursday and from 8:15 a.m. to 3:45 p.m. Friday.

YMCA Exec Steps Down

James F. Bunting will retire as executive director of the National Council of Young Men's Christian Associations on Feb. 28, 1971. On stepping down as staff chief executive of the 126-year-old youth organization, Bunting closes out a YMCA career spanning 44 years.

Mandatory retirement age is 65," said Curtis Mullins, Big Spring Y director. "Mr. Bunting won't reach that age until August, 1971, and he would have the option of a six months extension beyond that." Mullins explained. "He chose instead to take early retirement."

A committee has been named to seek a successor.

Joining the national council in February, 1964, Bunting led in restructuring the organization, increasing the leadership role of laymen, taking stands on social issues including desegregation of buildings, facilities, staffs, boards, etc.; involving youth more deeply in the program; taking cognizance of the increasing role of urban problems, and increasing responsibilities in the suburbs. He also laid new stress on the family YMCA membership, and in broadening program to help non-members, too.

Issue Of Effectiveness

Now that the winds of Washington hierarchy have blown across Texas, it remains for the voters of this state to make their own decision Tuesday, on the best representation in the state house and in the U.S. Senate.

It is understandable that President Nixon and the GOP's most valuable spokesman, Vice President Agnew, would appeal for people of their own party.

But it is also noteworthy that, in contrast to their appearances in other states, they did not actually downrate Democratic candidates for the offices involved. Certainly the top executives of the country are aware that, in Texas, they have a congressional delegation that is, in the main, conservative in viewpoint, and one that cannot fairly be attacked on the major issues confronting the country today.

And Lloyd Bentsen, for the Senate; Preston Smith, for the governorship; and Ben Barnes, for lieutenant governor, are of the same basic philosophy as current officeholders, and can and will work with them in harmony and in a spirit of progress.

As a real practical matter, the score of Texas Democratic representatives need someone to carry the ball for them in the Senate.

It is our feeling that such close liaison between the House and Senate will put the Texas delegation in a position to join the President on programs which are for the good of the country and state, but to be free to oppose him when they are not.

This is not to deprecate Mr. Bentsen's opponent, but George Bush, a knowledgeable and skillful politician, has bound himself so completely to the administration that, in our opinion, he could be in an awkward position of whether to follow the administration line or to vote for the ultimate good of Texas.

Besides, as a current member of the House of Representatives, he must bear his rightful share of responsibility for not having achieved a turnaround in lawlessness and disorder; and as important, in not putting the brakes on harmful inflationary trends. In light of lack of performance in these matters, a lot of verbalizing on them seems to be campaign rhetoric.

And, on campaign rhetoric, we feel that Paul Eggers in his campaign as a Republican governor has been something less than practical with his promises of no more new state taxes, while promising many things which cost more money. With teacher-salaries already built in, with educational commitments already made, with welfare costs going higher by the month, with demands on the state for pollution control and water development programs, there is no honest position except that these must be paid for.

Mr. Nixon's appeal as the leader of one party, the merchandising of personality in television spots — these are not really what Texans ought to consider primarily at the polling places Tuesday. What they really ought to consider is what kind of men can work best with our established elected officials, and who can work most effectively for the improvement of the political, economic and moral climate, both on the national and state level. We feel that Lloyd Bentsen as senator and Preston Smith as a second-term governor can best do this.

Postal Dispute

Are Those 'Guinea Pig' Experiments?

(Rep. Graham Purcell began his career as a lawyer in Big Spring — Ed)

WICHITA FALLS (AP) — William L. Crawford, regional postal director for Texas and Louisiana, has criticized Rep. Graham Purcell, D-Tex., for saying Texas had been used as a guinea pig for experimental postal services.

PURCELL said Friday that postal officials in North Texas had their employees work thousands of hours overtime during his investigation of the mail service early in the month. Purcell charged further, that mail services have deteriorated since the probe.

"Our citizens are being used as guinea pigs in a series of bizarre postal experiments designed, not to improve mail service but rather to make the postal ledger look good," Purcell said.

CRAWFORD SAID "This is not a Dallas or a Texas program. We operated under mail standards advocated nationwide. Members of the committee headed by Mr. Purcell did visit me and we assured him that, wherever there were poor standards of mail service brought to our attention, we would take immediate steps to correct the situation. We reiterate that position."

Crawford said a recent survey of overnight mail between Dallas post office and surrounding areas showed that the Dallas region had 95 per cent efficiency, which placed it number three in the nation.

PURCELL said a probe by the House Committee on the Post Office and Civil Service discovered that overtime in Dallas postal district operations totaled 19,983 hours during the two-week period of the investigation. That figure compared with an average of 12,000 hours during a similar earlier period, Purcell said.

Purcell said overtime at Wichita Falls doubled. At Fort Worth it increased from 2,500 to 3,500.

PURCELL blamed the situation on over-reaction by local and area postal officials to instructions from the Postmaster General to economize.

Rep. Richard C. White, who also served on the investigating committee, made similar charges at El Paso.

He said postal services have deteriorated all over the nation during the past two years, "especially in Texas." White charged the Post Office Department with deliberately singling out Texas in reducing postal service to "see how much the public could stand without outrage."

WHITE said investigators found deliberate attempts were made to improve service while the study committee was working through increasing overtime payments and other means.

Billy Graham

Our minister says that "good works" has nothing at all to do with our salvation. Yet Jesus said: "Let your light so shine before men that they may see your good works and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Will you clarify this please? T.E.

Your minister probably meant that we are not saved by "good works." He certainly didn't mean to imply that "good works" are unacceptable to God. We should distinguish here between pious and good works. Piety, which means the pursuit of the devotional life, is toward God and not men. We don't pray, for example, to be seen of men; we pray to communicate with God. Pious deeds such as praying, reading the Bible, and "giving up" certain things, are not the "good works" Jesus spoke of in the above verse. These are all "toward God," and not as a testimony to men. The good works Jesus spoke of are deeds of Christian love toward others, and the showing forth of a Christ-like attitude in our dealings with our fellow men. Many people are pious toward God, but lacking in kindness, understanding, charity, etc. Good works are our testimony to the world, and in the sight of God are just as important as our devotional life. In fact, in a very real sense, you can't have one without the other, and both are clearly taught throughout the Scriptures.

What Others Say

For years now, the opening of the school year in the South has meant news stories and pictures of violence — of governors interfering with court orders, or adults spitting on small children, or confrontations between whites and blacks. The opening of this school year has been different and nothing tells the story better than that picture of Virginia's governor, Linwood Holton, walking with his daughter into her new school, a city school in Richmond with a substantial black majority.

There he was, shaking hands with his daughter's new teacher and new principal — both black — and saying, "It's always hard for a child to change schools. They don't want to leave old friends. But my children go where they are assigned."

The kind of leadership that Gov. Holton demonstrated — and has demonstrated in other ways since he took the oath of office last winter — is the kind of leadership long needed in every area where desegregation is a problem. Men of courage and good will, like Gov. Holton, are sorely needed if those problems are to be solved and if race relations in this country are ever to be set aright.

Economic News Is Campaign Issue

By CAROLE MARTIN
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The latest government statistics did little this past week to neutralize the economy as a key issue in elections across the country next Tuesday.

On Tuesday the U.S. Labor Department announced that five additional major labor markets had been classified as areas of "substantial" unemployment. Two other areas were dropped from the list which now stands at 38, the highest level since June 1964.

Democratic candidates who had been running against President Nixon's economic policy were quick to incorporate that statistic in their campaign oratory.

"CALCULATED" AFL-CIO President George Meany also took up the cudgel, accusing top administration officials of "calculated deception—Madison Avenue doubletalk" to try to convince voters that the nation's economy was improving.

However, Herbert Stein, one of the President's economic advisers, told a London audience the press in the United States attached too much political significance to recent economic statistics.

"The press no longer bothers to inquire what the latest statistics mean for the economy; they only want to know what they mean for the election," he said.

Paul W. McCracken, chairman of the President's Council on Economic Advisers, said rapid gains in productivity could be expected to continue and to help dampen the pressure for higher prices.

He told the New York Association of Business Economists that output per man-hour in the private economy increased sub-

INDICATORS

- Five areas added, two dropped from major jobless list.
- Nixon aide says press puts undue stress on indicators.
- Wholesale, industrial prices rise sharply in October.
- Output per man hour up, but unit costs also rise.
- Market listless, general signs at lowest ever of year.

stantially during the third quarter.

UNFAVORABLE NEWS On Wednesday new government reports added to the string of recent relatively unfavorable economic news.

Some of the developments reflected in the reports: —Wholesale industrial prices rose far more steeply in October than in other recent months, although over-all wholesale prices were down slightly due to a drop in the farm and food portion of the index.

—The index of "leading indicators" of general business activity reached its lowest level of the year in September.

—Unit labor costs in manufacturing advanced substantially in September.

Another brushstroke was added to the generally unfavorable economic picture Wednesday when General Motors Corp. closed by a strike since Sept. 14, announced its biggest quarterly loss in history and the first since 1946 when the United Auto Workers struck the company for 119 days.

GM HAS LICK GM reported a net loss of $77 million or 28 cents a share for the just-completed quarter. This compared with a profit of $230 million or 79 cents a share for the same period last year.

had reported a decline in profits earlier.

U.S. Steel Corp., the nation's largest steel producer, said earnings for the third quarter and the first nine months of 1970 both were about 28 per cent lower than for the comparable periods.

On Wall Street, where stock market activity was listless, plans were announced Thursday for the biggest consolidation of securities firms in the history of the New York Stock Exchange.

At the request of the Big Board, Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith, the nation's biggest brokerage house, agreed to acquire financially ailing Goodbody & Co., the nation's fifth largest brokerage house.

MERGER The exchange asked its members for authorization to assess member firms, if necessary, to cover any losses, up to $30 million, which Merrill Lynch might incur in connection with the acquisition.

Agreement for the acquisition is expected to be completed by Nov. 5.

Goodbody, which has 90 branch offices and some 225,000 customers, reportedly was unable to maintain its capital at adequate levels because of deficits caused by back-office paperwork difficulties dating back to 1968 and the sharp stock decline that followed.

To Your Good Health

Pericarditis, One Type Of Heart Ailment

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: How serious is pericarditis? How long does it usually take to get over it? Does it happen to people with normal hearts or is there always a heart condition present first?—R.M.

The pericardium is the lining of a sac that encases the heart. Pericarditis is inflammation of this lining.

When this membrane becomes inflamed, you'd be surprised at the variation in what can happen. There may be no symptoms at all. Or there may be a feeling of heaviness and pain in the heart area (left of center in the chest). Fever, shortness of breath, fatigue are other likely symptoms.

Fluid may gather in the sac, and have to be drained, both for diagnostic purposes and for relief of symptoms.

There are many causes: infection due to viruses, the "coccal" bacteria (streptococcus or staphylococcus), tuberculosis, some types of fungi.

It can occur as a complication of such conditions as uremia, malignant disease, or heart disease, as rheumatic fever or coronary attacks.

So it may occur in people who already have heart disease, but it also can happen to people with otherwise normal, healthy hearts, particularly from virus infections or after a severe chest injury.

Your first question, therefore, is very difficult to answer in general terms — although your own doctor may be able to give a more specific answer in your particular case.

The seriousness, and also the length of time for recovery, depends very much on the cause. Viral infections, for example, will subside in two or three weeks. Infections of other kinds may require prolonged treatment.

Bacterial or tuberculous infections may even become chronic and cause enough constriction of the pericardium to impede heart action.

The cause in a particular case is the significant question. After it has been determined, it is possible to decide on the proper treatment, and very often to give some reliable forecast as to whether it will be a brief illness or an extended one, and whether or how much it will interfere with the patient's activity.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please send "Tips on How to Stop Smoking." I enclose 10 cents and self-addressed, stamped envelope.

My husband is a heavy smoker and wants to quit, but is afraid he will gain weight.—Mrs. M.L.

Weight gain in such cases is usually more psychological than physiological. Smoking doesn't reduce one's weight — except as one has developed a habit of reaching for tobacco instead of for something to eat.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Is it true that mineral oil keeps one from absorbing vitamins in food? I take it about twice a week, and it seems to help me, but I don't want to use it if it prevents absorption of vitamins.—Mrs. L.C.

Yes, the oil (which is not absorbed by the body) can pick up and carry away oil-soluble vitamins, such as vitamin A, but I doubt that you will be harmed by occasional use. Why not try limiting it to once a week?

Much heart trouble is preventable. Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald for a copy of his booklet, "How To Take Care of Your Heart," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Around The Rim

It's All In The Packaging

If Halloween has just passed, it's a cinch that Christmas is not far away.

Maybe you wanted to put it in the back of your mind for awhile, but the people who certainly won't let you forget the upcoming holiday are those firms dedicated to the proposition of selling by catalog.

IT'S PROBABLY worth another entire column to speculate on how one's name gets on a national mailing list; but one thing for sure, if your name gets on one, it is promptly picked up by a score of other vendors. Haven't really paid a lot of attention to such catalogs since the days of the real wish-book by Sears, but a run-through of the printed brochures will demonstrate that there is everything available from a jet-washer for second-floor windows to a beer mug that has a built-in burp noise.

THERE ARE dozens of these gift-idea books which seem devoted largely to novelties (although I suppose a soapstone griddle "for perfect pancakes every time" comes under the classification of practicality).

But the people who really have spent the money on splendid color and fancy printing are the food-delivery purveyors.

IF ONE cheese-selection catalog has come to our house, there have been a dozen. And do they ever make packaged cheese look tempting, even to one who doesn't place cheese high on the favorite list of foods.

What is designed to catch the fancy, though, is the wondrous assortment of receptacles in which holiday cheese packages are packed — the receptacles, you understand, being usable after you have done away with the cheese.

After all, there are just so many varieties of cheese, and to mix up your gifts, you can order them in novelty packaging.

IN JUST one catalog, it was disclosed that you can get your gift cheese in such things as straw baskets and hampers, buffet servers, trays, casseroles (big ones and individual ones), serving dishes, electric "patio server," insulated servers, imported jars, ice buckets, omelet makers, glass bowls in a fitted-tower arrangement, divided skillets, fondue servers and fondue sets, popcorn poppers, pancake pans, salad sets, electric trivets, triple-servers, toaster-cookers, roll warmers, plastic kettles, broilers, sandwich grilles, electric rotisseries, wooden buckets, and on and on.

THERE ARISES the question of whether your bridge-playing friends would be more interested in a Christmas gift in Cheddar and Edam or in one of those cute little hibachis. The cheese people have put it to you coming and going.

AN INSPECTION reveals that the packaging has overlooked one enticing bit. Why not put those morsels of Edsel-Swiss and Mellow American into a package wrapped with one of Uncle Sam's ten-spots? There's nothing like getting some greenery when you receive cheese for Christmas.

Pass It To The North Koreans

WASHINGTON — One of the big pollution problems seems to be the use of phosphates in detergents. It is believed that the dumping of phosphates in streams and rivers makes algae grow, which kills fish and other good things.

All the soap companies are working on new detergents that will eliminate phosphates and other harmful chemicals. The problem is "What does the housewife do with the detergent she already has in the closet?"

BURTON SCHELLENBACH of Mentor, Ohio, told me his wife has six $5-boxes of a brand-name detergent, and since she is ecology-minded, she tried to get rid of them immediately. But she couldn't. She was informed that if she and her neighbors dumped their unwanted boxes down the drain at the same time, Lake Erie would develop a frothy head two feet high.

Schellenbach thought to bury the boxes in the back yard, but a chemist friend warned him if he did this, the detergents would eventually drain and destroy all the well-water in Ohio.

An attempt to destroy the boxes by fire failed, as detergents just don't burn.

SCHELLENBACH, in desperation, contacted the Nerve Gas Disposal Unit of the Army, who refused to help him. They said they had enough trouble getting rid of their nerve gas, and besides, if they dumped detergents off a ship, as they did with nerve gas, they'd only pollute the ocean.

A call to the detergent company, asking them if they would take Mrs. Schellenbach's boxes off her hands, was met with a cold response. "Once the detergent is purchased," the vice president in charge of phosphates said, "it is no longer our problem."

EVERY NIGHT when Schellenbach came home, his wife asked, "Did you find a way to get rid of it?"

Schellenbach always shook his head. "We could dump it in a junked car lot."

"But," his wife protested, "we wouldn't be doing anything for ecology that way. The stuff would still get in the streams. We have to dispose of it without destroying our environment."

After thinking about it for days, and being haunted by the detergent boxes in his closet at night, Schellenbach finally came up with a plan. It was so wild that he was afraid to mention it, even to his wife. But he called me in Washington because he needed me to get through to the right people.

"LISTEN," HE SAID, "I have this idea how the United States can get rid of all its phosphate detergents and also strike a blow for the free world."

"Great, Schellenbach. Tell me what it is."

"We get an old cargo surplus ship and outfit it with a lot of phony spy gear on top and inside. In the holds, we load phosphate detergents. It may take some cramming, but we could do it."

"Then we name the ship the 'Pueblo II' and send it into the coastal waters of North Korea."

"I THINK I'm following you," I said.

"The North Koreans grab the ship and suddenly they're stuck with all our phosphate detergents."

"It might work," I told him excitedly. "Each month we could send a spy ship until all the phosphate detergents in the United States are gone."

"The North Koreans would be up to their ears in detergent," Schellenbach said, "and we would be the first country to destroy another with cleanliness."

Election Forecast: Not Much Change

WASHINGTON — There's beginning to be a lot of talk about "little change" in the Senate and House as a result of the congressional elections. George Meany, head of the AFL-CIO, says he expects a shift of perhaps three or four seats either way in the House and maybe two or three seats either way in the Senate.

Senator Gaylord Nelson, Democrat of Wisconsin, describes the whole situation nationally as "very fluid," and declares it is possible for either party "to make a net gain or suffer a net loss of two or three seats." He adds that last-minute thoughts by the undecided voters may decide the election.

RONALD ZIEGLER, White House press secretary, has gone on record with an interesting statement that a Republican gain of one or two Senate seats would be significant. He points out that the tradition has been for the President's party to lose 30 to 35 seats in an off-year election. He concludes, therefore, that it would be a success for the administration if there were only a net change of one or two seats in the Senate and a relatively small change in the house.

ON TOP OF the informal predictions made by individual members of the Senate and House and administration officials comes the Gallup Poll. It now declares that throughout the country, based on surveys conducted during the first two weeks of October, Democrats won 50 per cent of the votes for candidates for the House, as opposed to 44 per cent for Republican candidates, with six per cent undecided.

National surveys of this kind can hardly indicate which candidates will be elected, because individual districts are not separately polled.

AMONG BOTH Democratic and Republican leaders here, however, there seems to be a general impression that this year's election will not result in a heavy loss of seats to the Republicans, as has often occurred to the party which happens to have a President in the White House at the time of an off-year election. The inference being drawn is that, while many of the contests will not be close, the total number of seats won by the Republicans and the total won by the Democrats in the Senate and the House will not vary much from the present makeup of both houses.

THE BIG unknown factor is whether the stay-at-home vote will be so large as to affect one party more than the other. This is the aspect that is causing much uneasiness among the campaign managers in both parties. There should, of course, be a greater number of persons voting than before, because more citizens are eligible to vote. But it is doubtful whether the percentage of the actual voters will be as high as it has been before.

ON THE WHOLE, the candidates in both parties have not been able to arouse voter interest as much as in other years. The theory of the Democratic strategists is that the younger generation will do a lot more voting than usual and will be a factor in favor of the anti-administration side. But the veterans of past elections have not been impressed with the electioneering activities of the younger persons in the current campaign and believe that, when the ballots are counted, the percentages of actual participants at the polls will not differ very greatly from other off-year elections.

Texas Nurses Are Honored This Week

Led by District 24 of the Texas Nurses Association, this area will observe Texas Nurse Week starting today. Mayor Arnold Marshall has so proclaimed it, urging the public to be attentive to the contributions of the nursing profession and holding it up as a challenging career to young people.

In Texas, there are approximately 44,000 registered nurses, and in District 24, comprised of Howard, Borden, Dawson, Martin and Gaines counties, there are 41 active members led by Mrs. Fannie Clark, R.N., president. Other officers are Mrs. John Koettner, R.N., and Mrs. John Payne, R.N., vice presidents, and Miss Faye Wells, R.N., secretary-treasurer.

During the week there will be some special observances. The VA Hospital is to have nurses' cap display in the lobby, and on Wednesday there will be a luncheon at the Big Spring State Hospital for nurses.

The district chapter is represented on the state board by Mrs. Betty Condray, R.N. Some of the activities during the past year included sponsoring of a watermelon birthday party for the Boys Club, working on the Huntington's disease project, and participating in the traditional Christmas party at the nursing care unit at the VA Hospital. They also held a joint meeting with District 21 at Midland, and have made plans to participate in the state meeting in San Antonio, March 25-27. The association is affiliated with the national and international organizations.

Discount Tax Deadline Nears

It will cost Howard County taxpayers 1 per cent more to pay their 1971 county and state taxes after 5 p.m. Monday. Monday is the deadline for receiving the 3 per cent discount for early payment of the 1971 taxes.

After Monday, taxpayers will receive only a 2 per cent discount until the end of November, according to Mrs. Zirah LeFevre, county tax assessor-collector. Taxes paid in December are discounted 1 per cent.

Local Students Receive Awards

The Regents of the University of Texas system have commended two local UT students who have received awards of national stature in the past year.

The awards "mark distinction of excellence or promise on the part of the recipients," the regents said in a resolution.

Local students are John Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Payne Jr., 608 George, who received a Fulbright Grant; and Mrs. Rita Helen Frayser, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richardson, 702 Birdwell Lane, who received a Education Professional Development Act Fellowship.

Governor Smith works, while others talk.

Some people talk about crime and violence. Gov. Preston Smith has been doing something about these problems.

Of the biggest 15 states, only Texas has not had major riots in the last five years. Under the calm, deliberate leadership of Preston Smith, our law enforcement agencies and the people of our state have avoided senseless destruction. And this has made Texas a better, safer place in which to live.

Gov. Smith has moved vigorously to strengthen law enforcement. He has approved more than $20 million in grants to support the fight against crime and violence—including a Crime and Narcotics Advisory Commission, a computerized law enforcement communications system, and the upgrading of law enforcement officers.

And, more important, he has worked hard to preserve an attitude of respect for order and justice.

In these troubled times, Texas needs the experience of Preston Smith in the Governor's Office. Let's keep him on the job—working for Texas. Vote Tuesday, Nov. 3. Vote for Preston Smith.

PROVEN LEADER FOR TEXAS!

BEN BARNES

Ben Barnes delivers. When he makes a commitment to Texas, he keeps it. And that's a tough order for any man in government. But Ben Barnes is different. He's young and has the drive, the dedication to see things through. He's also experienced. More so than some men twice his age.

At 22, he was elected State Representative. He served with distinction, and at 26 was elected Speaker of the House. Then re-elected Speaker (only the 4th man in Texas history to be so honored).

As your Lt. Governor, Ben Barnes has used his experience to the fullest. He knows the Texas Legislature. He understands the complexities of its procedures, the position of its members. He knows the needs of the people, and how to make them law.

Already, his leadership in the Legislature has done a lot:

Education. He helped establish free kindergarten for educationally deprived children. In all he saw through fifteen bills that made major improvements in our public school system.

Crime. He urged procedural changes to unshackle the hands of lawmen: the admission of oral confessions; tougher penalties for those who commit crimes while armed; more courts to relieve our overburdened judicial system.

Welfare. He made health care a state priority. Guaranteeing to the poorest citizen the highest standard of medical care.

Drugs. While others prophesied, Ben Barnes called for immediate action. Education to reverse youth's trend towards drugs. Stronger law enforcement to keep pushers out of the public schools. And proper and compassionate treatment for youngsters who become addicted.

And Barnes is the man to do it.

Ballets Africains Perform Monday

Less Ballets Africains, Africa's outstanding dance troupe, will perform in the Carlsbad, N. M., Desert Fiesta Theatre Monday at 8:15 p.m. during a tour that takes it to 30 other U.S. and Canadian cities.

Less Ballets Africains is made up of 44 young, handsome men and women; each of them is a singer, dancer and musician. The colorful performers were selected from the 96 regional dance groups which the government of Guinea subsidizes and encourages.

Their specialized skills are as varied as the regional types which they represent and each performer is a winning personality as well as a capable soloist.

During their current visit, the company performed at the Garden State Arts Center in New Jersey, New York's Saratoga Arts Festival and the Felt Forum in New York City, as well as Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Vancouver, Portland, Seattle, Salt Lake City, Denver, St. Louis, Chicago, Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., and Baltimore.

Inspired both by the history and the legend of the people, the program is drawn from the art of the diversified cultures that make up the population of the interior and western coast of Equatorial Africa.

The dance is an allegory about the founding of Guinea and centered on the interethnic struggles of early kings; and in particular it is the story of the "Lion King," who in modern times has become the symbol of a search for a unified Africa.

The second part of the dance is an account of the life of M'Balala Camera, a female martyr of the African struggle for independence. Minor outbreaks of violence occur until she is shot and killed by a government soldier. And then: total revolution.

Houston Rodeo Stars Chosen

HOUSTON — Johnny Cash, B. J. Thomas and Glen Campbell will headline the 1971 Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo, it was announced today by Buddy Bray, president of the organization. Dates for the rodeo, to be held in the Astrodome, are Friday, Feb. 26 through March 7, with the Livestock Show opening on Wednesday, Feb. 24. Cash, who will open the 39th annual event, is bringing his full Nashville show to the rodeo. He will appear at matinee and evening performances on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 26, 27 and 28. On stage with Johnny will be the famous singing Carter Family which includes his wife June; the Statler Brothers Quartet; guitarist Carl Perkins, and the Tennessee Three.

The next attraction will be B. J. Thomas of "Raindrops Keep Fallin' On My Head" fame. B. J., who was born in Houston and finished high school in Richmond, Tex., has gone to the No. 1 spot on the charts not only in this country but in Australia with his recording of "Mama." He will appear at evening performances only, Monday through Thursday, March 1, 2, 3 and 4.

Back by popular demand, and appearing at all performances, will be the exciting Chuck Wagon Races. Top Rodeo Cowboys Association professional cowboys will be competing for the world's richest rodeo purse, expected to exceed $100,000. Rodeo Events include bull riding, steer wrestling, calf roping, bareback riding, saddle bronc riding, girl barrel racing and the world's largest calf scramble. Ticket prices range from $1.50 to $4.50, and ticket information may be obtained by writing Ticket Director, P.O. Box 20070, Houston, Texas 77025.

Competition Now Open For Symphony Awards

The San Angelo Symphony, with Charles Blackman, music director, will hold its annual competition for the Hemphill Wells Sorantin Award on Saturday and Sunday, Feb. 20 and 21, 1971, in San Angelo.

This competition, now in its twelfth year, is open to young artists (instrumentalists under 26, vocalists under 30) who are natives of, are now attending school in, or have lived for six months in the following states: Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana.

The categories included in contest are piano, string instruments, wind instruments and voice. A winner is chosen from each category, and cash awards given. The overall winner receives an additional cash award and a solo appearance with the San Angelo Symphony Orchestra on March 22, 1971. Recommendation to leading concert managers is included in the award.

Anyone desiring more information or an application blank and copy of contest rules may write the San Angelo Symphony Society, 2601 University, San Angelo, Texas 76901. Applications must be accompanied by a $5 fee, and must be postmarked not later than midnight, Feb. 14, 1971.

DARLING LILI
... Rock Hudson, Julie Andrews

Irish Airfields Used In 'Lili'

Two Irish airfields served as filming bases for the thrilling dog fights in "Darling Lili," starring Julie Andrews and Rock Hudson.

One was the Irish Army Air Force Base at Baldonnel, outside of Dublin; the other was a 139-acre tract, a "converted meadow," turned into "landing land" 15 miles away.

Baldonnel Air Force Base celebrated its 50th Anniversary during the period of filming. The base had been put into operation by the R.A.F. during the summer of 1917. Five years later, in 1922, the base became the property of the Irish Free State.

Aer Lingus was launched at Baldonnel on May 27, 1936. A year later, Dublin-to-London regular commercial air service was set up.

There was great camaraderie between Irish and English pilots engaged in filming "Darling Lili." Irish pilots predominated.

The 18 planes, exact replicas of those which flew over Normandy and the Argonne during World War I, were assembled with the cooperation of the Irish Army's Air Base. There were three Fokker D7's, two Fokker Triplanes, two Pfalz D3's, two SE5A's of British origin, two French-built aircraft, a Luciole and a Stampe biplane and a German-modeled Morane.

Six extra SE5A's were built by the Alingsby Company in Yorkshire, England and sent to Ireland to augment the "air force."

The film opens Wednesday at the Ritz Theatre. The film, which features music by the award-winning team of Henry Mancini and Johnny Mercer, co-stars Jeremy Kemp, Lance Percival, Michael Witney, Jacques Marin, Andre Maranne and Gloria Paul.

Dallas Civic Opera Opens 1970 Season This Week

Dallas Civic Opera will raise the curtain on a glittering 1970 season with "Merry Widow" Nov. 6, 8 and 14 and continues with "Madama Butterfly" Nov. 13 and 15, a double bill of "Il Tabarro" and "Carmine Burana" Nov. 21 and 22, and closes with "Rigoletto" Dec. 4 and 6.

This will mark the first season in 10 years that the Dallas company has presented more than three productions.

DCO general manager Lawrence Kelly calls the coming season "the most varied in repertoire and style in Dallas opera history, combining an operetta, two grand operas, an operatic melodrama and a new music-dance celebration."

"Merry Widow" will mark the first major American opera house production of the Lehár operetta in more than 40 years and also celebrates the 100th anniversary of the composer's birth.

Starring in "Widow" will be Dorothy Kirsten, John Reardon, Kurt Kasznar, Patricia Wells, Phyllis Brill, David Griffith, Alan Titus, Dennis Arlan, Christopher Hewett, Paul Ukema and Imogene Coca.

"Madama Butterfly" will be a new Kabuki-inspired production, staged by Dario dalla Corte and starring Renata Scotti, Bruno Prevedi, Stefania Malagu, Julian Patrick, Franco Ricciardi, Paul Ukema, Nicola Zaccaria and Alan Titus.

"Il Tabarro" is a new production designed by Hall and Stased by Carlo Maestrini. It will star Magda Olivero, Franco Bordon, Giorgio Merighi, Italo Tajò, Franco Ricciardi, Michael Best and Stefania Malagu.

Magda Olivero will be featured in the subscribers' concert Nov. 28 singing in "Voix Humaine" and a concert of operatic arias.

MEN IN SERVICE

Roy W. Headrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Headrick, Route 1, Big Spring, has been commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Air Force upon graduation from Officer Training School (OTS) at Lackland AFB.

Lt. Headrick, selected for OTS through competitive examination, is being assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., to attend a data automation officer course.

A 1963 graduate of Plains (Kan.) High School, he attended Wichita (Kan.) State University and the University of Alabama extension course at Selma. He received his B.S.E. degree this year from Arizona State University.

His wife, Paula, is from Wichita, Kan.

Timothy G. Abbott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peat W. Abbott, 1314 State Park Drive, Big Spring, Tex., recently was promoted to Army Specialist Five while serving with the 25th Infantry Division near Cu Chi, Vietnam, as a demolition specialist.

He entered the Army in December, 1967, and was last stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga. He has received the Bronze Star Medal and the Army Commendation Medal.

Harvey Stephens, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Stephens, Lamesa, recently was promoted to Army sergeant in Vietnam, while assigned as an infantryman in Company C, 4th Battalion, 21st Infantry, Americal Division near Duc Pho.

ROY HEADRICK

Sgt. Stephens entered the Army in May, 1969, received basic training at Ft. Bliss, Tex., and was last stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif. He is a 1966 graduate of Lamesa High School.

Sgt. Dickie A. Garrison, 22, Matador, recently received the army commendation medal while serving with the Americal Division near Chu Lai, Vietnam.

Sgt. Garrison earned the award for meritorious service as a section chief with Battery A, 3D Battalion of the Division's 16th Artillery. He entered the Army in January, 1969, completed basic training at Ft. Bliss, and was last stationed at Ft. Sill, Okla.

His wife, Beverly, lives in Big Spring.

Airman Archie L. Dennis, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Dennis, Rt. A, Lamesa, has graduated at Lowry AFB, Colo., from the U.S. Air Force weapons mechanic course where he was trained to load and inspect the weapons used in Air Force fighters and bombers. He is being assigned to Nellis AFB, Nev., for duty with a unit of the Tactical Air Command.

Airman Dennis is a 1968 graduate of Flower Grove High School. His wife is the former Janie Kingsfield, Star Route, Tarzan.

Pvt. David R. Wanner, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wanner, 617 Caylor Drive, Big Spring, was among the 11,000 troops of the 1st Infantry Division, who left Ft. Riley, Kan., Oct. 4-10, to be airlifted to Germany to participate in exercise Reformer II.

During the five-day training exercise, the division opposed aggressor forces from the 3rd Infantry Division, regularly stationed in Germany, and the German 35th Panzer Grenadier Brigade.

Reformer II was designed to test U.S. Army deployment from stateside bases in defending Western Europe with Nato forces. A similar exercise, Reformer I, was held in Germany in January, 1969.

Member of the 1st Division are scheduled to return to Ft. Riley in late October and November.

Pvt. Wanner is a maintenance specialist in Headquarters Battery, 1st Infantry Division Artillery. His wife, Patsy, lives in Midland.

Sgt. Jaeger, a jet aircraft mechanic at Phu Cat AB, Vietnam, was approved for re-enlistment by a board which considered his character and job performance. He is assigned to a unit of the Pacific Air Force.

The sergeant's wife, Doris, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Lancaster, Gail Route, Big Spring.

INCOME QUESTIONNAIRES MAILED Veterans Asked Information

Jack Coker, director of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco, today alerted veterans and dependents who get monthly VA pension checks that they will receive annual income questionnaires with their Nov. 1 checks.

He asks these pensioners to do two things:

1. - Fill out the questionnaire accurately and completely.
2. - After signing it, return the form promptly to VA - no later than Jan. 15, 1971.

Coker pointed out that as 1971 pension payments will be based on submitted information, the questionnaires must be returned by the Jan. 15, deadline to insure non-interruption of pension checks.

VA pension is paid to veterans totally and permanently disabled from non-service-connected disabilities. Widows and children of deceased veterans may also be eligible for VA pension if they meet certain income limitations.

who receive dependency and indemnity compensation are also required to fill out and return the questionnaire.

Coker urged veterans and dependents who need help with questionnaires to contact the nearest VA office. The VA office in Big Spring is located at the VA Hospital, Room 104, office hours 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. Information may also be obtained by writing the VA Regional Office, 1400 North Valley Mills Drive, Waco, Texas 76710.
