Moment Of Truth For Nixon Policies

By The Associated Press
Crisp, sunny weather over most of the state sent Texans trooping to vote today in a turnout which election officials described as moderate to heavy. The way they vote will decide who will represent the state in the U.S. Senate, besides naming congressmen, a governor and other state and county officials.

LINES FORMING
Lines of voters were reported forming outside some polling places almost as soon as they opened at 7 a.m. Dallas County officials said that if the early morning turnout is any barometer, then the estimated 350,000 expected to vote may be exceeded when the polls close at 7 p.m. In the home precinct of Senate Republican candidate George Bush at Houston, officials said the early vote was "the heaviest in 10 years." The precinct is one of the state's largest with between 5,600 and 5,800 registered voters.

HEAVY TURNOUT
By mid-morning the outlook shaped up like this: HOUSTON—Generally heavy turnout in Harris County, especially in the traditionally conservative north and west areas. But voting was more moderate in liberal and labor precincts and lighter than usual in predominantly black areas. Precincts in the Rice University, River Oaks, Sharpstown, Westbury, Aldine, Cypress-Fairbanks areas all reported turnouts heavier than usual. Some precinct chairmen in these traditionally conservative sections thought the count higher than in the 1968 presidential election.

DALLAS—Numerous reports of Dallas County voters having to stand in line. Al Kruticle, election judge in Northeast Dallas, precinct 167, said he processed 81 voters in the first 25 minutes after opening his station and the interest was "hot and heavy."

Voting described as "very heavy" at University Park, a conservative area. Dallas County Clerk Tom Ellis thought 350,000 of the county's 485,000 registered voters would cast ballots before the day is done.

SNOW IN PANHANDLE
AUSTIN—One mainly liberal precinct near the University of Texas had 23 voters in the first 23 minutes after polls opened. Long lines formed in politically mixed South Austin and a bedroom community on Lake Austin. The predominantly Republican precinct 134 in Northeast Austin had 291 voters in the first two hours of polling.

FORT WORTH—All precinct judges contacted said the turnout was heavy.

AMARILLO—The turnout was patchy, being heavy in the southern and western sections of the city, but only moderate on the north side. Despite a cold wind from the north, skies were sunny.

There was snow in the western Panhandle, extending about 12 miles wide from Hereford to Plainview, but conditions generally did not seem severe enough to keep people home.

'VERY BUSY'
SAN ANTONIO—A spot survey of the main areas in the city showed the voter turnout "very, very good", according to some officials. One or two election judges said they were "swamped." The more optimistic predicted 120,000 of the estimated 143,000 turnout might actually turn out.

EL PASO—Out west the turnout was steady from 7 a.m. despite temperatures down in the 40s. HARTINGEN — Down South, good turnouts were reported at Hartlingen, San Benito and Edinburg. The weather was colder than usual, with temperatures in the upper 50s and lower 60s, but the voters came anyway. One hundred had voted by 8:30 a.m. in the community building at San Benito, which an election official called "a very good turnout."

At Vernon Junior High in Hartlingen, no figures were available but a poll official said "we've been very busy" at Edinburg 80 voted in the first hour.

MONEY GALORE
The national GOP organization poured money and personalities into Texas, seeing a chance to pick up one seat in the Senate and ease a 57-43 edge held there by the Democrats. But Texas had other decisions as well—who will make the best governor and whether liquor control is better by the bottle or the drink.

In 11 U.S. House districts, voters selected congressmen, and throughout Texas, the ballot contained contests for a handful of state and local offices and six other constitutional amendments in addition to the liquor issue.

The Republicans appeared to have hope in only one statewide race in addition to the Senate, as demonstrated by the way they spent campaign money. This was the effort by Paul Eggers to unseat Democratic Gov. Preston Smith.

While Texans possibly consider the liquor issue as emotionally as they do the Senate race, the Republicans nationally saw the big race as electing personable George Bush to the upper chamber.

FIND EXPLOSIVES Four Suspected 'Weathermen' Caught In Raid

NEW YORK (AP) — Six persons, including a 54-year-old Bronx mother and her son, have been arrested in police raids that uncovered a variety of explosive material for making bombs and building plans for 50 structures.

Bronx Dist. Atty. Burton B. Roberts said there was reason to believe "that four of the six persons arrested are connected with the Weatherman faction of the Students for a Democratic Society."

Announcing the arrests Monday, Roberts said his office had maintained surveillance on two apartments in the Bronx and one in Manhattan since mid-July.

He said the investigation by his office began after the bombing of public buildings in the city. None of the six arrested was specifically charged with having committed any bombings.

Those seized were Mary Doyle, 54, and her son Timothy, 28; Beth Katz, 26, and Donald Cavellini, 26, all of New York; Cavellini's twin brother, William, of Somerville, Mass.; and Jefferson Bernard, 19, of Syracuse.

Roberts said all but Mrs. Doyle and William Cavellini were connected with the Weatherman.

All six were charged with criminal possession of explosive materials and conspiracy to commit arson.

ATTEMPT TO SEVER WOMAN'S HEAD?

FORT WORTH (AP) — Testimony was to resume today in the murder trial of Benjamin Lach, 26, charged with murder in connection with the death three years ago of a Texas Tech University cleaning woman.

Capt. James Ferguson of the Lubbock Police Department was the state's leadoff witness Monday, testifying he found Mrs. Alice Morgan lying in a pool of blood at the Lubbock university.

The state produced a scalpel and a piece of broken bonesaw as evidence of what they claimed was an attempt to sever the woman's head. Jury selection ended at midnight Monday and testimony started the climax to a lengthy beginning of over two years. Lach was adjudged insane after the slaying and only last spring was declared competent to stand trial.

The case was moved to Fort Worth on a change of venue when defense attorneys convinced authorities Lach could not get a fair trial in Lubbock because of pretrial publicity.

Price Revision For Crude Oil

Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. announced Monday a revision in price of low-gravity West Texas crude oil.

Cosden formerly imposed a 3-cents per degree differential on crude oil below 32 gravity, but this differential was lowered to two cents.

This means that Cosden will be paying from one to six cents per barrel more for its purchase of some 29,000 barrels of crude oil bought daily from fields in Howard, Glasscock and Mitchell counties.

The change in price schedules was made effective Nov. 1 at 7 a.m., said R. W. Thompson, vice president pipelines.

Prices of crude oil, both sour and sweet 32 degrees gravity and above are not affected by the revision.

McCormack Says Jobless In U.S. Hits 6 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker John W. McCormack has added to Democratic election complaints about the economy with the declaration that unemployment has reached 6 per cent.

He gave no source for the figure, which a Labor Department spokesman said was not scheduled to be released until Nov. 6.

CRYSTAL CLEAR
The spokesman said of McCormack: "He must be a seer because we don't have the figure ourselves yet."

UF TOPS 70 PER CENT

The United Fund topped the 70 per cent mark this morning with $7,043,76 already in of the $10,975 needed to reach this year's goal. The new contributions included a large number of gifts from Webb AFB personnel and some contributions turned in by workers in the "big gifts" division.

Box 4, Fourth and Nolan Fire Station, reported 250 voters before noon with the largest turnout expected in the afternoon. Box 4 had 2,147 voters registered.

Box 16, Park Hill Elementary, had received ballots from only larger but the ratio was still low. Around 1,200 votes had been cast at noon.

Largest turnout was reported at Box 3, the Eighteenth and Main Fire Station, where 270 voters cast ballots before noon.

Election Judge John Bennett said voting had been steady since 8 a.m. when the polls opened, however, the largest turnout is expected after 4 p.m. Box 3 has 1,883 voters registered.

The largest voting box, Box 2, Washington Place Elementary, reported only 230 of its 2,225 registered voters had shown up by noon. However, Rayford Dunagan, election judge, said the voters were coming in steadily and the largest influx would probably be after 4 or 4:30 p.m.

Muskie Denounces Campaign Slander

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and Democratic Sen. Edmund S. Muskie spoke to the nation on the eve of today's congressional elections in back-to-back television appearances that provided a possible preview of the 1972 presidential campaign.

'NAME-CALLING'

Muskie used the time, purchased on all three networks by some leading Democrats, to charge Nixon with leading a "law and order" campaign marked by slander, lies, "name-calling and deception of almost unprecedented volume."

In so appearing, Muskie, who is a going away favorite to win re-election in Maine over Republican Neil Bishop today, underlined his own position as the leading contender for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination.

Muskie spoke immediately after a 15-minute excerpt, paid for by the Republican National Committee, of Nixon's speech last Saturday in Phoenix, Ariz., in which he responded to the violence-marked confrontation he had with antiwar demonstrators in San Jose, Calif., Thursday night.

Nixon called on "the great silent majority of Americans of all ages, of every political persuasion, to stand up and be counted against the appeasement of the rock throwers and the obscenity shouters in America."

EMPTY THREAT

Muskie speaking from Cape Elizabeth, Maine, said the Republican campaign has been marked by efforts "to turn our common distress to partisan advantage—not by offering better solutions—but with empty threat and malicious slander."

Muskie's appearance recalled the time when Nixon spoke on nationwide television four years ago as the Republican spokesman after an attack by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

High School English Text Axed, Dirty Words Charged

AUSTIN (AP) — A high school English text designed for minority groups has been removed from the state's approved list because the publisher refused to change it to comply with the clean language rules.

State Education Commissioner J.W. Edgar informed the State Board of Education he had stricken "MacMillan Gateway English" from the list of texts approved Sept. 16 by the State Textbook Committee.

His letter was contained in the preliminary agenda for next Monday's board meeting.

BUSY, BUSY

"The publisher has indicated to me that, because of copyright commitments, he is unable to make such changes that would bring his book in compliance with the proclamation on offensive or embarrassing language, Edgar said.

Another book designed for minority pupils, "Scope-Reading," published by Harper and Row, remains on the list.

Edgar said he had asked the MacMillan Company to make changes in the Gateway books—a boxed set of four titles—consistent with those requested of and agreed to by other publishers.

The Gateway books and "Scope-Reading" were among the books protested by some witnesses at the state textbook hearing Sept. 15.

Some protests were directed toward what witnesses regarded as profane or obscene language in several stories contained in the volumes.

NAUGHTY WORDS

The Board of Education earlier this year issued a rule that textbooks "should not include language which would cause embarrassing situations in the classrooms or cause interference in the learning atmosphere of the classroom."

The board also will hear protests against three world history and four seventh grade life science books recommended by the textbook committee and cleared by Edgar.

Mrs. Charles N. Baker of Sanger and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Gabler, Longview, are protesting "A Global History of Man" and "Man's Cultural Heritage."

A Devotion For Today . . .

Exercise thyself . . . unto godliness. (I Timothy 4:7)

Pinch May Trickle To Cities

The continuing inflation, plus higher unemployment and a business slowdown is likely to begin squeezing Texas cities soon, in several ways. Already municipal bonds have become very difficult to sell at favorable interest rates; this has resulted in increased cost to taxpayers. In some cases, failure to find buyers for an extended period of time coupled with rising construction costs has meant that by the time bonds can be disposed of, the money is no longer adequate for the job.

But inflation, and increasing joblessness, has another, more subtle effect on those Texas cities which derive income from a municipal sales tax. Harder economic times mean that less money is spent on taxable items. This is true both because buyers become wary of spending and because a greater proportion of incomes is required for necessities such as food and medicine which are exempt from sales taxes.

Most recent figures show that although the rate of inflation has slowed some, it is still too high to be called stable. Inflation exists, as it has for far too long. And the administration's tight money policies, while they are whittling away at the rate, have not controlled the problem. They have, however, resulted in a slowdown and thus unemployment.

Texas so far has escaped the worst of the current economic fiasco. But the effects are spreading here. And unless there is prompt reversal, it could add up to bad news for Texas cities, already in economic difficulty.

Britain Tries To Cut Back

Britain's new Conservative government is making a bold attempt to break the cycle of increasing government spending paid for by increased taxation.

The Tories have announced a plan to cut back government spending by $800 million next year and to reduce personal and corporate income taxes by 2½ per cent. The government will end some welfare state benefits and reshape others.

Primary aim of this major policy change is to shake Britain's economy out of lethargy and have it ready to join the European Common Market if negotiations are successful.

The British consumer will have to pay for some of the government savings at the market place. Many goods and services, including farm products, no longer will be subsidized. The government is not getting out of the welfare business by any means, although it plans further reductions later. It wants to encourage private spending and investing to stimulate business growth, which has lagged under high taxation and government interference.

Since World War II, Britain — like the United States — has continually increased government spending. It also has had to boost taxes to attempt to pay for ever-expanding services.

The Tories' proposals will be hotly debated in Parliament and vigorously opposed by the Labor party. If the plan is pulled off, Britain might regain a measure of economic health, but most of all set an example to other powers.

You're Entitled To A Vacation

WASHINGTON — Political campaigns are a very exhausting business, not only for the candidates who run for office, but also for the voters who have to listen to them speak.

Most political candidates, winners as well as losers, take off a week or two to rest up from their physically grueling experience. And they're probably entitled to it.

BUT WHAT ABOUT the person who has been bombarded day and night for the past two months with political commercials, newspaper advertisements, speeches, charges, countercharges, fund appeals, rallies, rhetoric, hyperbole, slogans and dirty pool? No one thinks of him after the election. He is just supposed to pick up where he left off as if nothing happened.

Well, I'm happy to announce that for the first time in an election year the voter's welfare is being taken into consideration by somebody.

BY THE POWERS vested in me as an American citizen, I am giving all those exposed to the 1970 political campaign a week's vacation.

During that week, no one has to read any political story, watch any elected official or loser on television or discuss with anyone the great

Billy Graham

I want to ask you why there are so many kind, hospitable and generous non-Christians, and on the other hand, so many prudish, self-righteous, professing Christians? This bothers me, and I'm sure it bothers many people. S.P. You are right on both counts. There are fine, upstanding, kind, non-Christians, and too many prudish, self-centered professing Christians. That word "professing" is the catch. Not every one who claims to be a follower of Christ actually is. Didn't our Lord say, "Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy name? . . . and then will I profess unto them, I never knew you, ye that work iniquity." (Matt. 7:22,23).

Every one expects a professed follower of Christ to possess high virtues, and when they don't, it is disappointing and disillusioning. It is, in fact, a contradiction, and ought not to be. On the other hand, when a non-Christian possesses traits that are noble such as kindness, honesty and decency, it is noteworthy, and noticeable. One might easily conclude as a result of such observations that being a Christian makes no difference in one's conduct. But this is not true. A real Christian is kind, honest, courteous, hospitable, forgiving, understanding and loving. Read the thirteenth chapter of first Corinthians for the Christian ideal. A true follower of Christ can achieve the "more excellent way" because the love of God abides in him, and the non-Christian does not have the benefit of such love.

Forced To Defend Their Record

NEW YORK (AP) — The debate over the economy as a political issue has become heated in recent days after somehow being obscured by less important issues.

Republicans had chosen to downplay economic debate, because the game plan in the fight for stability was off schedule if not off course and therefore afforded little offensive ammunition.

But now they have been forced to defend their record. Arthur Okun, Gardner Ackley and Walter Heller, Democrats all and all former members of the Council of Economic Advisers, have been especially critical and so had to be answered.

The most damaging criticism, however, came from Paul Samuelson, who delivered his criticism from a platform not ordinarily identified with politics. Although never a member of the Council, the professor spoke with Olympian power, having just won the Nobel Prize for Economics.

The role of responding appears to have fallen to the articulate Treasury under secretary, Charles E. Walker, who blasted the Democrats as irresponsible, unfair, vicious and ill-mannered, and with having left an "economic mess" when they left office in 1968.

The Republican record, he said, is one on which the administration is "proud to run."

Inflation is being controlled, a housing boom is in prospect, financial markets are operating efficiently and the road toward full employment is charted, he said.

Is all this so? —Did the Democrats leave an economic mess? The term is subjective, but even some Democrats concede there may be some truth to it. Unemployment was low, but inflation was steadily destroying economic balance.

—Is inflation being controlled? Still open to interpretation. It definitely is abating, although not on a steady line. Wholesale prices rose in September after dropping in August, meaning more inflation to come.

The hardest test of memory is trying to recall on Friday what the minister preached about on the previous Sunday.

Despite the fact we are all surrounded by crooks, most money is again flowing into savings and loan associations, which are the big lenders on housing. Private housing starts rose to an annual rate of more than 1.5 million units in August from just 1.06 million in January.

—Financial markets operating efficiently? So far as it is within the power of the administration to influence them, this is perhaps true. Interest rates are falling. The mortgage and bond markets are improving. And the volatile transfers of funds from one type of institution to another seems to have ended.

—Housing boom in prospect? A good many economists foresee it—most of them, in fact.

Hemingway's Code

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

One of the differences between men and women is how they look at price tags in a store. A man looks to see if he can afford to buy the item, a woman looks to see if the price has been reduced and therefore made the item a bargain.

Whatever happened to amateur harmonica players? It has been years since I've heard a kid strolling along blowing a tune on one of these instruments, once far more popular than the guitar.

How much safer is it to insult a dead lion than a live lion? Ever since his death, critics have been standing in line in order to sneer at Ernest Hemingway, the greatest literary lion of his day, and his cult of physical courage and hairy-chested masculinity. Yet there was nothing untrue in Hemingway's code. It still takes bravery to live successfully, and there is all too little real masculinity in a world growing ever more feminized.

—There are few things that give a man a greater feeling of satisfaction than outliving a doctor younger than himself.

The hardest test of memory is trying to recall on Friday what the minister preached about on the previous Sunday.

Despite the fact we are all surrounded by crooks, most men and women go through life without ever having the thrill of yelling, "Stop thief!"

Suspense is what you have when the boss takes a bunch of the fellows to lunch and each waits for another to summon up the boldness to suggest a second round of Martinis. The one who does then spends the rest of the afternoon wondering whether he is a hero or a martyr.

The longer a wife's fingernails are, the more likely it is that her husband washes the dishes. On the other hand, the less likely it is that she will try to scratch him during a family argument.

When the engagement ring an office secretary says she received from her fiancé contains a diamond larger than a quarter poor girl doesn't have enough left in her savings account to pay for their honeymoon.

Nothing frustrates a single girl more than meeting a handsome bachelor who can sew on his own buttons. It makes her feel so unneeded.

What this country needs—even more than a good five-cent cigar—is a brand-new cuss word with which we could describe its plight.

Life has become so noisy that about the only way a guy can hear a pin drop anymore is to go to a bowling alley.

Around The Rim

Signs Of Autumn

I don't know how many women were trying to wash dishes about 6:30 Halloween night, but it was no easy feat. The tidal wave of trick or treaters hit from 6:30 to 8 p.m. For the most part they came in swarms and at least 100 paraded across the yard before 10 p.m., which must be the small fry witching hour.

OUR TWO BLACK CATS, Sam and Spook, crouched in the front window watching the spectacle of Frankenstein devils, skeletons and other assorted fiends and jungle cats. Friendly ghosts were out in droves and several knee-high Caspers came to the door. My favorite was a tiny orange and black tiger, hardly as tall as his tale.

I WONDERED why he (or she) rattled the door instead of ringing the bell. He couldn't see the bell, much less reach it. As I dropped candy into tiny tiger's sack, the young father of the tiger prompted him to "say trick or treat." Tiger's mom was watching in the shadows too. I wonder if the little tiger will remember his first Halloween, but I know his parents will.

NOW THAT HALLOWEEN is gone we can start laying in provisions for Thanksgiving and looking forward to seeing family and friends again. Our mulberry trees are turning a glorious gold with the afternoon sun raining through the leaves, and I wish we had time to drive through the hill country like we did last fall.

Lindsay's Long-Range Plans

WASHINGTON — An awful inevitability looms on this election day. It is that, whatever the result of the gubernatorial race between Gov. Nelson Rockefeller and Arthur Goldberg, the Presidential prospects of New York's Mayor John Lindsay could be enhanced.

Lindsay, who still insists he is a Republican, has endorsed Democrat Goldberg — after taking several months to sort out his principles. Since the indications are that Rockefeller will beat Goldberg, some observers are inclined to predict that it will also be a defeat for Lindsay.

BUT ONLY in an unimportant sense. Lindsay is aiming for higher things and the way it looks now he'll have it both ways. To wit, if Goldberg loses, New York Democrats will have nowhere to go for a Presidential candidate but to John Lindsay. On the other hand, if Goldberg wins Lindsay automatically will become the New York Republican occupying the state's highest office.

OBVIOUSLY, Lindsay planned it that way. The only wonder is that it took him so long to let us all in on it. He has arranged the situation so that he has a choice of remaining a Republican or joining the Democrats. That is to say, he almost surely will switch to the Democratic Party if Goldberg loses, and he almost surely will remain a Republican if No. 1 Republican Nelson Rockefeller is returned to private life.

EITHER WAY, it would be an uphill task for John Lindsay. The Democrats have their own lifelong candidates. As now constituted outside of New York state, the Republican Party would be unlikely to welcome a Lindsay Presidential candidacy with arms even half open.

But Lindsay is a gambler. He showed that last November when, defeated for the GOP nomination for mayor, he put together a coalition of independents and the city's Liberal Party and won re-election against the Democratic and Republican candidates.

SECOND, Lindsay has nowhere to go but up. The New York mayoralty is a dead-end street, and besides Lindsay has said he's tired of the job.

For Lindsay, making the run for the White House would be a reasonable gamble. Although the Democrats' Muskie, McGovern and Kennedy would battle his attempt at usurpation, the fact remains that Lindsay, with his undoubted charisma, is the kind of liberal candidate that would attract a lot of Democrats. Despite his troubles in his own city, he also has the image of a winner, and a candidate who would appeal to the young, the poor and the black.

RICHARD NIXON should be a shoo-in in 1972 — but not necessarily. After all, he is a minority President and dreadful things can happen to him on the inflation, peace and domestic unrest fronts in the next two years. Moreover, he is dogged by a posse of professional Nixon haters, inside as well as outside his own party.

In short, the Republican Party today displays a definite ambivalence toward its President, and in the stridency of the next two years this ambivalence could develop into a serious split. That, of course, is where Lindsay, trumpeting his own particular brand of Republicanism, would come in.

Campaign Ended On Notes Of Smear

WASHINGTON — By an accident of the calendar Halloween coincided with the end of a political campaign cursed by the witches and goblins of fear and hate. The fright masks and the freak wigs scarcely concealed the reality of a political attack based on distortion and distrust.

The last-minute assault broadcast under the auspices of Carl L. Shipley, Republican National Committeeman for the District of Columbia, used all the devices from quotations taken out of context to downright untruths. Appearing in 61 newspapers across the country, it was tailored to smear Democratic candidates for the Senate in a dozen states. The cost could have been hardly less than $125,000, raising an interesting question as to the source of the money.

TAXED WITH using this kind of assault, those employing it in the campaign now ending offer an extraordinary justification. We are doing, they say, the same thing that Harry Truman did in 1948. It has been a give-'em-hell campaign modeled after the gutsy warrior from Missouri who fooled the pundits and the pollsters. This was the line of Vice President Agnew and it has been parroted by lesser lights.

NOTHING COULD be further from the truth. In the 31,700 miles of his whistle-stop campaign Truman hammered hard at the issues. Those who traveled with him through the campaign recall that he rarely mentioned his Republican opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, and then half-humorously to jibe at Dewey's bland confidence in the certainty of victory.

TRUMAN DID give 'em hell — he did tell the ever-larger crowds that came out to hear him that they had to choose between prosperity for workers and farmers under the Democrats and the special interests in the Republican party representing bankers and industrialists. His blunt warning to the voters was that if they did not come out and work for him they deserved what they would get under the Republicans. In his autobiography Truman wrote:

"I ALSO CLARIFIED the issues which the Republicans were trying to make complex for the voters. I talked to them as human beings with real needs and feelings and fears. I talked to them about their jobs, their homes and the cost of living.

Contrary To Verbal Rumors Being Circulated

Cowper Clinic & Hospital
Is NOT Closing

And Has No Intention Of Closing

DEAR ABBY: You are the only person who can help me because in an indirect way, you are the cause of my problem. I have the same name as you. To make matters worse, I work for a newspaper and I am bombarded with letters from people who think I am you.

Also, whenever I am introduced as "Abby Van Buren," people start pouring out their tales of woe. I have a hard time convincing them that I am not you.

To top it all off, I am constantly bothered by nuts who telephone me in the middle of the night and want to tell me their life history. I have had my telephone number changed twice this year, and even though I now have an unlisted number, they still find me.

I have even considered changing my name, but I will do this only as a last resort. Thanks for any help you can give me. ABBY VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Until some nice young man comes along and changes your name, I guess you'll just have to be a surrogate Abby. You'll be surprised what you hear.

DEAR ABBY: I feel very guilty and indebted because I have no strong feelings toward an 18-year-old boy who says he is in love with me. He is always so kind and gentle and he spends all his hard-earned money on me. He is always looking out for my safety and well-being.

I really enjoy his company and am grateful for his gifts, but I am unable to return his affection.

I would like to date others, but I feel so guilty because I know he has no other girl. I hate to hurt him. Can you advise me what to do?

FEELING GUILTY: A little of that guilt is probably earned. Don't accept his gifts, and you will not feel so indebted to him. Date others, and insist that he do, too. By trying not to hurt him now you could be building him up for a more serious "hurt" later on.

DEAR ABBY: I have a thought which I hope you will find worthy of passing on to your readers.

I wish parents of married children would quit competing with the other set of parents for their children's company on holidays such as Thanksgiving and Christmas. Although our policy was to alternate between his parents and mine, no matter who asked us first, my parents would suik for months after we spent the holidays with my in-laws.

Both sets of parents are gone now, but those holidays which could have held such pleasant memories cause my heart to ache a little. SAD MEMORIES

DEAR SAD: Yes, it is worth passing on — especially with the holiday season approaching. Thanks for writing.

WHAT'S your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Prepared Candidate

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Elizabeth Kreshtool respects tradition. Therefore she's busy preparing her loser's speech for election night.

Mrs. Kreshtool is the substitute Democratic candidate for the Delaware Legislature in a district where Republicans have won for the last 114 years—since the party was formed.

She accepted the nomination last week after the original candidate pulled out, but only after being assured she would lose.

Right away she won the endorsement of the Procrastinators Society of America, which sent her a telegram. She quickly took a day off, apparently fearing her campaign would peak too soon.

Then she selected a campaign manager whose last candidate lost by 34,000 votes. After he disappeared, her husband, one arm in a sling, stepped in to let out some more slack.

If Committee Chairmen Lose It'll Be Surprise

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairmen of three congressional committees—two in the House and one in the Senate—were knocked off in party primaries and two Senate chairmen are involved in close elections.

But if any more House committee chairmen lose it'll be a big surprise. Six of the 19 had no opposition in today's balloting.

YARBOROUGH GONE
Chairman of four of the 16 Senate committees were up for election this year. Sen. Ralph Yarborough of Texas, chairman of the Labor and Public Welfare Committee, was beaten in the Democratic primary by Lloyd Bentsen.

Sen. Joseph D. Tydings of Maryland, chairman of the District of Columbia Committee, and Sen. Gale W. McGee of Wyoming, chairman of the Post Office and Civil Service Committee, are favored to win re-election but face tough sledding. Tydings' Republican opponent is Rep. J. Glenn Beall; McGee is opposed by Rep. John S. Wold.

Sen. Henry M. Jackson of Washington, who heads the Interior and Insular Affairs Committee, is expected to win easily over Republican Charles Elicker and two minor candidates.

Should Tydings get beaten, Sen. Alan Bible of Nevada would succeed him if Democrats, as expected, retain control of the Senate.

ONLY ONE
Should McGee lose out, Sen. Jennings Randolph of West Virginia would be in the unique position of having to choose which of three committees he wants to head. He is chairman of Public Works, is next in seniority behind Yarborough on Labor and Public Welfare, and is third behind McGee and Yarborough on Post Office and Civil Service.

The rules permit a senator to head only one committee, and although Randolph hasn't said what he'll do, aides say they feel certain he'll want to hold onto Public Works.

If this happens, Sen. Harrison A. Williams Jr. of New Jersey is next in line to head Labor, but he is involved in a close election with Republican Nelson G. Gross. Should Williams lose, Sen. Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island would move up to the no. 1 spot.

Randolph, Bible and Pell are not up for re-election this year.

Both House casualties in the primaries were from Maryland. Rep. George H. Fallon, chairman of the potent House Public Works Committee, was upset by Democrat Paul Sarbone, and Rep. Samuel N. Friedel, chairman of the Administration Committee, lost to Parren J. Mitchell.

SIX IN FREE
The six House chairmen who were unopposed today are Maryland's Edward A. Garmatz of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee; South Carolina's L. Mendel Rivers of Armed Services; Arkansas' Wilbur D. Mills of Ways and Means; and three Texans: V.R. Doage of Agriculture, George H. Mahon of Appropriations and Olin E. Teague of Veterans Affairs.

Introducing the lowest-lead, highest-octane gasoline for the money.

New Big Plus. We've taken lead out, kept the octane high. And we've priced it below premium.

To help clean the air. Cleaning the air is the biggest thing we wanted to accomplish. So we took lead out of Big Plus. Actually, there wasn't that much lead to begin with. One-and-a-half cc's of tetraethyl lead, about an eyedropper-full in a gallon. Now we've removed one cc of that. To make Big Plus 99.98% lead-free on a volume basis.

Then we doubled the amount of engine-cleaning detergent, to reduce exhaust emissions even more.

It all adds up to this: Big Plus can cut automotive air pollution from your car significantly. Right now.

9 out of 10 drivers can use Big Plus without worrying about engine knock.

Big Plus is high in octane. It has what engineers call a 'research octane' rating of 96. Octane, of course, is not the only guide to choosing a gasoline. But it's important.

Big Plus will work perfectly in cars that don't have real high-compression engines. Cars that do should use our premium gasoline, Enco Extra.

There are 83,000,000 cars on the road today. What we've done is to make Big Plus an anti-pollution gasoline that 9 out of 10 drivers of today's cars can use without worrying about engine knock. And it'll be good for the 1971 cars, too.

Why we didn't take out all the lead. We could have, of course. But engine testing shows that some lead is needed to prevent possible valve damage.

So we left a sufficient amount in. And still made a cleaner gasoline. Try it soon. And help your car run clean.

There may be other questions about gasoline you'd like answered.

So we've prepared a comprehensive brochure. You can get it free at Enco stations. Or write Humble's Consumer Affairs office, Box 2180, Houston, Texas 77001.

The White House

One of the most interesting events this morning consisted of sitting with Lyndon and Mayor Daley — Lyndon propped up in bed, the Mayor in the rocking chair, all of us with coffee — and the Mayor telling us how he hoped to handle the problem of a race riot in Chicago.

I ADMIRE HIM

He said he would not permit his policemen to wear steel helmets. They would simply wear caps — he hoped each one would look like the friend down the block instead of a soldier. He had called in various segments of society — the communications people — newspapers, radio, and TV — Negro Leaders, white businessmen, church groups, and talked over problems and possible solutions.

He said he did this on a year-round basis, before a crisis became imminent. The crisis is imminent now, because everybody is on edge, waiting to see when race riots will break out in Chicago. All of this was described in a soft, mild, smooth, most determined voice. I would not want to put myself in opposition to that man, and I admire him tremendously.

The television cameras' and newspapers' ability to egg on and stir up dissension and the trouble by showing pictures of a helmeted policeman with a big stick in his hand, standing over a 14-year-old boy flat on his back on the street, or police dogs jumping on women, has certainly provided some of the yeast in this rising mass of trouble we are having at present. If Mayor Daley can obtain cooperation from the TV networks and the newspapers, then he certainly deserves the Nobel Peace Prize.

In the evening we entertained at a State Dinner for U Thant, probably the last one during our tenure here. We greeted U

Thant and the Ambassador from Burma and Madame On Sein on the North Portico a little past 8, took them upstairs to the Yellow Room, along with Adlai Stevenson, Dean and Virginia Rusk, Bob McNamara, the Angier Dukes, the Ralph Bunches, and the Henry Cabot Lodge.

WELL-CHOSEN WORDS

Before launching into his toast, Lyndon said he could not introduce all the guests, but that he would like to present two Republicans and two Democrats as being outstanding, each with a few well-chosen words.

Sen. Fulbright, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, Sen. Dirksen, Minority Leader of the Senate, Adlai Stevenson, U. S. Representative to the United Nations, and Henry Cabot Lodge, former Representative to the United Nations. Lyndon had to leave at the earliest respectable hour after our guest of honor had departed, to talk over the latest developments with Dean Rusk and McGeorge Bundy, but I stayed and danced until about 12:30. And so did Lynda Bird — I think it was the presence of Gregory Peck that lured her in!

LATE AUGUST, 1964

As I record this later, the month of August unfolds in my mind as a crescendo of events: an exhilarating trip to the West — to Idaho, Utah, Wyoming, to New England — Maine and Vermont... There were a host of visitors, including John

Lyndon a letter:

PERSONAL

Beloved —

You are as brave a man as Harry Truman — or FDR — or Lincoln. You can go on to find some peace, some achievement amidst all the pain. You have been strong, patient, determined beyond any words I mine to express. I honor you for it. So does most of the country. To step out now would be wrong for your country, and I can see nothing but a lonely wasteland for your future. Your friends would be frozen in embarrassed silence and your enemies jeering. I am not afraid of Time or lies or losing money or defeat.

In the final analysis I can't carry any of the burdens you talked of — so I know it's only your choice. But I know you are as brave as any of the 35.

I love you always

The answer to my letter came on the night of Aug. 27 when Lyndon stood before the Democratic National Convention and accepted the nomination of his party for President of the United States.

Raza Unida Plans Write-In Contests

CRYSTAL CITY, Tex. (AP)—The Raza Unida party, which won school board and city council elections this spring, sought more victories today via the write-in ballots.

The Mexican-American third party launched its write-in drive after losing recent court fights for ballot positions in Zavala (Crystal City), La Salle (Cottulla) and Dimmitt (Carrizo Springs) counties.

The three counties have large Mexican-American populations. Zavala County Judge Irl Taylor, opposed by Peace Justice Julian Salas, said he expected a "formidable" write-in effort. He declined to predict any winners.

The Raza Unida party fielded 16 write-in candidates in the three counties today for offices such as county judge and peace justice. Their opponents were all Democrats.

The only Raza Unida candidate listed on a general election ballot in Texas was Alejandro Moreno, running against incumbent Hidalgo County Commissioner Charles Curtis, a Democrat, in the Rio Grande Valley.

Jose Angel Gutierrez of Crystal City, founder of the Raza Unida party here, won election to the school board easily last spring with two others running under the party's banner.

But he said today's election compared to last spring's, "is not going to be that big an upset. It's very difficult to write in candidates."

Take-It-Or-Leave-It Plan Misunderstood?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviet Union says a hard-line approach taken by one of its diplomats about the future of Berlin has been misunderstood.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko has attempted, in separate meetings with U.S., British and West German officials, to explain that his ambassador to East Germany is not a hard-liner. But Gromyko has not spelled out how the ambassador was misunderstood.

The Soviet diplomat, Pjotr A. Abramimov, will have the opportunity to elaborate on the proposal when he meets in Berlin Wednesday with U.S., British and French ambassadors.

TALKS DIVORCE
Abramimov took the other Big Four powers by surprise at an Oct. 9 meeting. He proposed West Berlin be divorced politically from West Germany, and that the Soviet Union be given virtual veto power over the future of the divided city, while denying similar rights to Western powers in East Berlin.

Since that time, Gromyko has met with President Nixon, Secretary of State William P. Rogers, British Foreign Secretary Sir Alec Douglas-Home and the German foreign minister, Walter Scheel.

Douglas-Home is understood to have made an effort to smoke out Gromyko when the latter visited London last week. The Russian, however, declined to go beyond stressing the "community of interest" of all four great powers and of West Germany to come to terms on Berlin and, as far as it is known here, this is essentially what he told Scheel during a six-hour conference in Frankfurt Oct. 30.

PRODUCED 'ZIP'

Gromyko's talks in the United States—his meetings with Rogers in New York and with President Nixon at the White House—produced nothing to indicate in what form and to what extent the Soviet Union is willing to revise its hard-line position. Gromyko's visits here, in Britain and in Germany obviously were aimed at repairing the damage Abramimov caused with his unyielding position.

Accordingly, U.S. officials are extremely reserved on the eve of the ninth ambassadorial meeting and stress that despite Gromyko's extensive travel to improve the climate, a meaningful evidence of a readiness to negotiate must come from Abramimov at the talks on Wednesday.

The officials also declined to speculate on the possible relationship between the Big Four talks and the forthcoming new round of West German-East German negotiations. The latter were proposed by the East Germans and should take place on the state secretary level sometime later this month.

Merger Is Postponed

Siboney Corp. and the Colorado Corp. jointly announced that the planned merger of the Colorado Corp. into Siboney Corp. expected to have been completed by Oct. 31, 1970, is being indefinitely postponed at this time.

This decision was agreed upon between the two companies because of changed conditions since the time of the signing of the merger agreement in July and the present.

Following the completion of a financial review of the Colorado Corp. for the period ending Oct. 31, 1970, and the updating at that time of information relating to Siboney Corp., the proposed merger may be reactivated and renegotiated.

Clip U.S. Recon Squadron, Guards To Get Voodoo Jets

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Air Force's 45th Tactical Reconnaissance Squadron is being disbanded and its 20 RF101 Voodoo jets will be reassigned to Air National Guard units in the United States, the U.S. Command announced today. It is the first reconnaissance squadron to be deactivated in Vietnam.

The command refused to say to which guard units the planes would go. Informed sources said the information was withheld so congressmen from the states affected could make the announcements and get the publicity.

TROOP CUTBACK

Deactivation of the squadron will reduce U.S. strength in Vietnam by 600 airmen and will leave five squadrons of the 45th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing, the parent unit, at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base. American reconnaissance flights are continuing over North Vietnam despite the halt in the bombing there two years ago.

Continuing the 40,000 man troop cutback President Nixon has ordered by the end of the year, the U.S. Command also reported that another infantry battalion from the 25th Division has been pulled out of the combat zone as part of the redeployment of two brigades of the division.

Informed sources said an Army helicopter squadron of 31 UH1 Hueys and the Soc Trang air base in the Mekong Delta will be turned over to the South Vietnamese air force at ceremonies Wednesday. Soc Trang is the first American air base being turned over to the Vietnamese in its entirety.

LOW DEATH TOLL

In Washington, the Defense Department rushed out Monday night, the eve of U.S. congressional elections, a report that about 30 Americans were killed in combat last week, the lowest weekly death toll in five years. Normally the weekly casualties are not announced until Thursday.

Battlefield action across Indochina was again reported light and scattered.

North Vietnamese troops opened fire on a unit of the U.S. 25th Infantry Division's 2nd Brigade 36 miles northeast of Saigon, killing one American and wounding two in the 10-minute attack.

The U.S. Command also reported that an Army UH1 helicopter crashed Monday from unknown causes in the Mekong Delta 22 miles southwest of Saigon, killing four Americans.

ARTILLERY FIRE

South Vietnamese headquarters announced completion of a two-day operation just inside Cambodia 100 miles west of Saigon. Headquarters claimed 43 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed and said four South Vietnamese were wounded.

Heavy artillery fire was heard in Phnom Penh as Cambodian guns opened up on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong attacking a patrol 10 miles northeast of the capital. There was no word of the result.

Military weather forecasters warned of a new storm heading toward South Vietnam's coastline, which has been battered by two typhoons and a lesser tropical storm in the past two weeks.

Rivers and streams in South Vietnam's five northernmost provinces have just returned to normal after the worst floods in six years. The unofficial death toll today rose to 211, including 193 Vietnamese, seven American servicemen and 11 South Koreans.

NADER LEAVES WHIRLWIND IN TEXAS Big Business Getting Undue Tax Break In East Texas?

By The Associated Press

Consumer advocate Ralph Nader left Texas Sunday right after his Dallas news conference, but the waves he set in motion still are billowing in Austin and in the Piney Woods this election day.

Nader urged Texans to repudiate proposed state constitutional Amendment No. 3 and released a report alleging undervaluations give East Texas timberland owners and industrial and commercial property owners a tax break unfair to other taxpayers.

THREAT TO BUDGETS
Amendment No. 3 would permit assessing land on its ability to support crops, livestock and timber rather than on its real market value as real estate.

Owners of timberland and agricultural land generally favor the proposal. Many in local taxing authorities oppose it, seeing it as a threat to already strained budgets for municipal services and education.

It would be up to the Legislature to implement the amendment if the voters approve the proposal.

group brought Ralph Nader into Texas," said a bristling news release from W. T. Crouch, head of the Keep Texas Productive and Green Committee, which backs the amendment proposal, "but I understand his services are available."

DAY BEFORE ELECTION

"I'm rather shocked that the day before the election Nader would come up with this," said Ben Atwell, head of the Commission on State and Local Tax Policy, a Nader target, in Austin.

"He's being highly political at this moment," said Atwell. "If Nader has discovered inequities," said State Sen. Charles Wilson in Lufkin, "they should be given fair consideration by taxing authorities and fair remedies found."

Wilson, who operates a retail outlet in Diboll for lumber products, said it is his belief that the timber industry already is paying its fair share of taxes, the Nader report notwithstanding.

APPRECIATE IT
At Kountze, Hardin County Judge Emmett Lack said he thought the Nader report is "generally correct, and I appreciate his efforts in our direction."

The judge said enactment of the amendment would result in a loss of some $125,000 annually from the county's million-dollar tax revenue.

Crouch, an Itasca resident, said the Nader report covered only a small portion of Texas taxable values, adding: "I will say that if ad valorem taxes continue to climb on the unrealistic ladder of speculative values, then the $3.9 billion pay increase for teachers and other state programs could be jeopardized by the inability of the taxpayers to foot the bill."

TIMBER!

The Nader study of six counties and eight school districts in East Texas found timberland undervalued by an average of 52 per cent and said if the pattern holds true throughout the 37-county East Texas area "it means a loss to the counties and school districts of approximately $38.4 million a year." Nader called for reforms in the tax assessment method and said Texas "can take the first major step toward implementation of these reforms by repealing Amendment Three on Tuesday."

"Passage of this amendment would legalize the kind of outrageous special treatment now enjoyed by some favored corporate interests at the expense of the rest of the taxpayers," Nader said.

The timberland report, authored by three law students at the University of Texas in Austin, gave a generally favorable reading on the assessment practices of the Lufkin Independent School District.

DEFENDS TAX BITE

But the district's assessor-collector, Bill Stewart, said he didn't know the students were working for Nader when they visited him.

"They said they were doing some work for their professor at the university," said Stewart. The students reported the school district's assessments fall into the $240-$313 per acre range, close to actual market value, and frequently updates assessments.

But there's still room at the top for the Texas Longhorns, who remained No. 1 for the second week in the Associated Press' college football poll Monday.

up. He was as fair as fair can be. Sports writers and broadcasters around the country handed out 20 first place votes to Texas for a total of 701 points, a fingertip 17-point lead over Notre Dame's 684. Ohio State had 617 in the too-close-for-comfort race.
Texas shut down quarterback Chuck Hixson's magnificent Flying Machine in beating Southern Methodist 42-15 over the weekend and Ohio State slapped Northwestern 24-10.
Nebraska, Michigan and Stanford stayed 4-5-6 with impressive weekend victories, Arkansas and Tennessee each moved up a spot to seventh and eighth, Air Force slumped from seventh to ninth and Auburn rounded out the top ten.

Bradshaw Insists He'll Do Better

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A frustrated Terry Bradshaw vows he won't play second fiddle to Terry Hanratty after this season.
The golden haired Pittsburgh Steeler rookie quarterback has not been the cure-all quarterback he was billed to be and now he admits he's pressing.
Pittsburgh defeated the Cincinnati Bengals 21-10 Monday night, but it was Hanratty, coming off the bench, who bailed out the Steelers in the fourth quarter. He threw a touchdown pass and led them to another score.
"I'll never sit on the bench behind a second-year man," Bradshaw said. "It's obvious Coach (Chuck) Noll will have to make a decision at the end of the year. He's given me all the chance in the world but I haven't done anything. And if I'm going to be on the bench, I want to play behind a veteran so I can learn."
"I really don't mind if I don't start. But Terry's young and I'm young. If the coach says he's No. 1, fine, then ship me out. I just wouldn't be happy playing behind him."
Bradshaw started the nationally televised game but Hanratty took over midway in the third quarter with the Steelers behind 10-7.
For the night, Bradshaw, pro football's No. 1 draft choice, completed only four of 12 passes for 40 yards. Hanratty was seven for 11 and 128 yards.

"He looked unsettled," said Noll of Bradshaw.
"It's getting to me now," said Bradshaw. "I'm really unhappy with myself. I just have to go and search myself. I need to sit on the bench. I definitely think Terry deserves to start."
The thought of later attending a seminar also continued on Bradshaw's mind.
"I feel called to do that kind of work. I've always thought if I could make it big in this game then it would help attract people to the other."
Meanwhile, Hanratty was keeping silent.
"Each to his own," he replied when asked about Bradshaw's remarks.
The victory was admittedly sweet for Hanratty but even as he savored the taste of success he would not comment on possibly starting.
"UP TO COACH
"Every quarterback wants to start," he said. "But I'll leave the decision up to the coach."

Hanratty unleashed a 72-yard touchdown bomb in the fourth quarter to tight end Dennis Hughes on a play which called for him to pass to receiver Dave Smith. But Smith was covered.
Safety Kenny Graham had an arm on Hughes, but when he caught the ball at the 25 Hughes got away.
Hanratty then led the Steelers 75 yards in nine plays for another touchdown in the fourth quarter. Warren Bankston scored from the one.
Neither the Bengals nor the Steelers sparked in the first half. The Bengals scored on a one-yard pass in the second quarter from Virgil Carter to Eric Crabtree after Crabtree had caught a 29-yard pass, taking the ball to the one.
But the Steelers took the kickoff and drove for the tying score.
Running back Dick Hoak heaved a wobbly underthrow pass from the 27 yard line on an option play and Hughes grabbed it at the five and scampered with the score.

PLAYERS OF WEEK Two Rays Earn Grid Laurels

Following is a list of football players in the Big Spring area who have been singled out by the sports staff of the Daily Herald for their performances in games involving their teams last weekend:
BIG SPRING
GRADY RAY, offensive end, is Lineman of the Week for the Big Spring Steers. The 175-pound senior end, who sports No. 81, was singled out for his all-around consistency. Coaches were impressed by his blocking, and his excellent coverage as rover, both on the runs and pass. A steady player, Ray was a stabilizing influence.
JOE CHAVEZ, who wears No. 34 and punches his 170 pounds into opposing backs with real ferocity, was picked as Back of the Week. Joe, a senior, plays linebacker, and with a vengeance. He piled up most tackling points of any of the Steers against Abilene Cooper, and his defensive work against both the run and pass helped shut off several Cooper drives.

ROLAND BEAL is only a soph, but he is looking more like a veteran, and he looked good enough Friday to be Back of the Week although Coahoma was upset by Big Lake, Ricked up 94 yards, much of it on slickly executed bootlegs, and called a sound game.
DAVID BRADY, 165-pound senior defensive middle linebacker, did all any man could do to stem the tide last Friday, and he was singled out as Lineman of the Week. David was in on an impressive 26 tackles. Four of these he made unassisted; in another six instances, he was the first man to make contact; and then he cracked in to make sure eight others stopped opposing runners.
STANTON
GLEN RAY is looming as a real standout quarterback next year, and there isn't anything particularly wrong with the 180-pound junior now. He took the Back of the Week honor for Stanton by reason of his performance against McCamey, connecting on 16 of 28 passes. One of these was a 35-yard heave to Jackie Swanson and another a 10-yard scorer, also to Swanson. In addition, he picked up over four score yards to lead the rushers and called an exceptionally good game.
ROBBIE DICKENSON not only turned in the best game of his career to win the Lineman of the Week award, but he probably played the best game of any lineman this year for Stanton. The 160-pound senior was sharp with his trap blocks and opened big holes with his man-on-man assign-

Dennis, Mickler Tourney Winners

The Fighting Irish's tall story doesn't impress Coach Ara Parsoghian, who insists it's a long, long time from September to November.
"It (the poll) has no effect on us now," he said. "We're more interested in the polls in late November (at the end of the regular season).
Notre Dame won its sixth in a row last Saturday by staggering helpless Navy 56-7, and Parsoghian was accused in some quarters of running up the score. But Navy Coach Rick Forzano wouldn't buy it.
"It could have been much worse," said Forzano. "I talked to Ara after the game and told him I realized they could have put the ball in the air more, and that I appreciate that they didn't. He didn't run the score

Bullpups Post Another Win

COAHOMA — Both the seventh and eighth grade teams at Coahoma Junior High school won their games with Crane here Saturday.
The seventh grade unit, coached by Willie Lundy, won 6-0, when Ricky Patterson carried the ball in from 30 yards out for the only score. Mike Collier stood out with a pass interception and Oscar Padron with a fumble recovery on defense. The team has a 5-2 record for the season.
Several Bullpups got in on the scoring act in routing Crane, 44-6, in the eighth grade contest. Dan Meacham scored a pair of TDs and ran over three extra points. Puff Choate carried in another, as did Emencio Hinojosa and Steven Pherigo. Keith Stone got a TD on a fumble recovery, and Jimmy Whiddon ran in an extra point. Offensive standouts were Jody Bennett, Robbie Tindol, Eddie Bayes, Archie Segrist; on defense Pherigo and Steve Newton who intercepted a pass, and Stone, who recovered two fumbles. Stevie Wolf, Bayes and Brad Milliken also looked good.
The team, coached by Jan East and Dalton Hamilton, has a perfect 7-0 record and will play Lamesa there at 5:30 p.m. Thursday.

Sands To Host Roby Thursday

ACKERLY — The coin toss Monday went Sands' way. For that reason, the Sands Junior High football team will be the host school in Thursday's football game with the Roby Lions.
At stake will be the district junior high championship. Kickoff time is 6:30 p.m.
The Colts are 4-2 over-all and 3-1 in zone competition.

Quarry Wants Ban Lifted

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jerry Quarry wants to get in good standing with the California Athletic Commission by paying his $1,000 fine but the heavy-weight boxer will have to have a hearing first.
Quarry, from nearby Bellflower, told a news conference Monday that he has no retirement plans after his loss to Muhammad Ali Oct. 26 and will pay the fine to lift his home state suspension.
However, a hearing before the commission will be required before Quarry's suspension could be lifted, said Bob Voigt, chairman of the commission which next meets Nov. 20 in San Diego.
Quarry was suspended last spring in connection with a contract controversy in his bout against Mac Foster of Fresno, Calif. Quarry stopped Foster in New York.
The fine was assessed because Quarry fought a boxer who was under suspension in California. He was suspended again when he failed to pay the fine.
Quarry and his attorney, Paul Caruso, said the fine would be paid under appeal. They also said they would fight Johnny Flores' attachment of Quarry's share of the live gate from the Ali fight in Atlanta.
Quarry said he would pay his fine primarily so he could act as manager for his brother, Mike, a light heavyweight boxer. He also said he wants another crack at Ali, also known as Cassius Clay.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart
Sports dialogue:
SYDNEY J. HARRIS, syndicated columnist:
"Most of what we think is the American penchant for sports is really a hunger for heroes. We are much less interested in what passes for individual stars ... Most of what passes for sports enthusiasm is actually a kind of Walter Mitty fantasizing — the male spectators identify with some individual star, just as boys used to identify with the hero in a Western film serial. The game itself is only a vehicle for the day dream of glory. And this public attitude is bad for any team game, where victory depends more upon the collective effort of the group than upon any single act of derring-do. When a player gets bigger than his team, then the beauty of the collective enterprise is often sacrificed to showmanship, and the sport itself degenerates from a sport to a spectacle. One of the reasons that so many prominent athletes have been openly contemptuous of the viewing public (and the sports commentators as well) has been this puerile glorification of the personality, with no real recognition of the combined talents and skills necessary for victory. The subtlety and complexity of modern football, for instance, eludes most spectators, who see only the end product — the glorious touchdown run by a 'star.'"
BOBBY DOBBS, football coach at UT-El Paso:
"No, I don't think Arizona State should be ranked as the No. 10 team in the nation. They belong in the top five. If there are five better football teams in the nation than Arizona State, I would not want to meet them."
BOB BROWN, tackle for the Los Angeles Rams:
"I'm not the kind who tries to finesse an opponent. You might say I'm crude. I'm like a 16-pound sledge hammer that keeps battering into the defensive ends."
TOM KEATING, defensive tackle for the Oakland Raiders:
"The word gets around very quickly when a player loses something, but coaches just get one job after another, and there are some very stupid ones around. Like Norm Van Brocklin. I've never heard a player say a good word about Van Brocklin, but he keeps getting jobs. And Joe Kuharich. Even Lou Saban, a guy I really like and admire, gets down on players. He just flat gave Curly Culp away (to Kansas City) because he didn't like him."
Linebacker TIM KELLY of Notre Dame, on why the Irish are looking to Texas again for a possible bowl game:
"I guess the Orange Bowl offers more money to a school and I know that's a consideration, but if we can't get Ohio State, I think we'd like another crack at Texas. The way the Notre Dame players feel that if they can win the rest of the games on their schedule and then beat Texas, then there is no way they then could be denied the No. One rating."

Young Looks To Better Day

STANTON — How can a coach find a bright side in taking a 41-15 whipping?
Bill Young of Stanton has an answer to that. When his Buffs lined up against McCamey last weekend, there were eight starters missing — seven of them lost by injury for the season. In addition, Steve Frvar, regular tackle, was sidelined by the flu bug.
But the light weight, inexperienced reserves got in with and moved the ball well. Young was pleased especially with the way his sophomores performed. Paul McAlister did an exceptional job defensively, and Dwayne Clary and Clark Ray, the latter Frvar's substitute, played almost like veterans.
When Stanton journeys to Ozone Friday, the Buffs will be definite underdogs. Nevertheless, Bill Young figures his young charges can make it interesting Friday, in the remaining games and even more so next year.

Four Teams Are Active In 5-AA Football Race

COAHOMA — District 5-AA is in a four-way tie, and it could end up in a variety of ways, including Coahoma's Bulldogs as champions.
But, pointed out Coach Bernie Hagins, Coahoma can't have anything like the kind of night Friday that handed Big Lake an easy 24-7 win.
It was one of those nights in which the Bulldogs couldn't seem to do much of anything right. The six lost fumbles and two passes that fell into enemy hands prompted Hagins' assessment that "we gave it away."
The first two times the Bulldogs got the ball, they fumbled it away but held. They weren't so lucky in the second half, for Big Lake turned three of them into scores. And all of this meant that Coahoma gave up possession and a chance to even the score.
This was all like a bad dream, which coach Hagins has dismissed as done and gone. The big job is to bounce back this week against McCamey in Coahoma, for the loser is out of district contention.
Ozona, like Big Lake, also is tied for the lead. But Ozona has beaten Big Lake. If

Jayhawk Queens Decision H-SU

HCJ's Jayhawk Queens chilled Hardin-Simmons, 15-4, 15-10, in volleyball competition here Monday evening.
Henrietta Miller led the locals in the first game with eight points while Mary Lou Cooley had six points to lead in the second contest.
Set Patti Spier was named the Queens' MVP of the game. The locals have a 13-6 won-lost record.
HC will be the host school in a tournament this weekend.

Gail Can Clinch Tie This Week

GAIL — The Borden Coyotes are playing it cautiously when they go to Wellman for a district football game Friday.
Wellman is hard to predict. Two weeks ago they handed Klondike its only district loss, then turned around last week and got plastered by Sterling City leaving them with a 2-1 district standing.
Coach Bobby Dyess wants the Wellman victory badly. It would put the Coyotes in the position of doing no worse than a tie for district. If Borden and Klondike both win this week, the district title may be on the line in the game at Klondike Nov. 13.
Borden is 7-0 for the season, 3-0 in the district.

OLDEST NETWORK TV PROGRAM CANCELED — Ted Mack, master of ceremonies for Ted Mack's Original Amateur Hour, looked over sheet music with Nashville singer Pat Boone in New York in 1953. The show was in full swing then, and Pat Boone went on to star as a singer and movie actor. But CBS announced the show's death Monday, saying it was cancelled when it was not renewed by its sponsor. For nearly 23 years — 36 years counting the time the show was on radio — a parade of performers presented their routines to audiences across America.

Witness Testifies About Discovery Of Marijuana

The second witness in the case of John Howard Smith, 21, began testimony this morning in 118th District Court when the trial reconvened shortly before 10 a.m. Smith is charged with possession of marijuana.

Michael Joseph Carl, 15, 90-B Ent., testified that he and a friend, Michael Feichtinger, saw carlights across a pasture from their homes the night of Jan. 22 and investigated.

After crossing the pasture, Carl said, they came upon a parked car which was illuminated by a dome light. In the car he saw a male driver, alleged to be Smith, and two girls.

"They were sitting there talking and smoking," replied Carl when asked what the car's occupants were doing. "They were smoking and passing the cigarette around," he added.

Carl testified that he saw the three persons finish one cigarette in such a manner and begin another.

According to Carl, he had gone within 30 feet of the car and Feichtinger had approached five to 10 feet closer, straying slightly to the side and behind the parked car.

Feichtinger testified Monday before the all-male jury that he and young Carl had watched the trio for about 20 minutes. While they watched, one of the girls got out of the car and put something down near a fence, said Feichtinger.

According to Feichtinger, Carl lost his watch while observing the car. The next day, Carl and Feichtinger, accompanied by two other youths, John Snyder and Steve Snyder, went to look for the watch. While there, they found a cigar box near the fence.

"It was wrapped in plastic and we unwrapped it and looked inside. We found some stuff wrapped in plastic and foil," said Feichtinger. Reportedly, the boys took the box and its contents to the Snyder home where police were summoned.

Defense lawyer Gil Jones asked Feichtinger to explain the method by which police detectives identified the contents of the box.

"Detective Lee took some of it, put it in a pipe, burned it and smelled it," said the youth. Feichtinger said that he and Carl gave the police a description of the car and its occupants. He also said that he had given the police the car's license number.

Police detectives arrested Smith at his apartment at 801 Marcy, Jan. 23, and charged him with possession of marijuana.

TV Viewers Complain Of Poor Soundtrack

NEW YORK (AP) — Thousands of television viewers complained to the networks Monday night about the poor soundtrack quality of a GOP political broadcast edited from a tape of one President Nixon's speeches.

The broadcast was supplied by the Republican National Committee. The soundtrack contained loud background hum, faded in and out in volume and sometimes lost the President's words in crowd noise.

THEIR CHOICE
High corporate officers for the GOP was warned in advance that the sound quality was poor but the GOP decided to use the tape anyway. All three networks carried the broadcast.

A presidential spokesman at the Western White House in San Clemente, Calif., acknowledged that "we knew the audio was not of studio quality."

But the spokesman added that the response to the President's speech, at an outdoor rally in Phoenix, Ariz., was such that it was felt it should be made available for viewing throughout the country.

'SABOTAGING'
Many irate callers accused the stations of "sabotaging" the President. "Some of them think we did something to the Nixon tape," said an NBC source in St. Louis.

The poor sound quality of the President's tape was in sharp contrast to that of Democratic Sen. Edmund Muskie who appeared in purchased time following Nixon.

East had visions of a tidy profit when he doubled South's four spade contract. His hopes faded after the declarer stripped out the side suits and then caught East's trump holding in the jaws of a pincer between his own hand and the dummy.

West opened the king of hearts and when declarer followed with the jack, West shifted to the queen of clubs. The king was played from dummy. The ace and king of diamonds were cashed on which dummy discarded a club, and then a small diamond was ruffed with the three of spades. South trumped a heart with the deuce of spades and then led a fourth round of diamonds.

When West showed out, declarer ruffed with North's four of trumps. The ace of clubs was cashed out. South had scored seven tricks and all hands were down to five cards with the lead in dummy.

The nine of hearts was played and East was faced with a choice of evils. If he ruffed with the queen of spades, declarer can discard a club and win the trump return with his nine of spades. The ace is cashed for a ninth trick and on the lead of a heart, East is unable to prevent his opponent from scoring a 10th with the jack of trumps.

Pied Piper Sale Set In Hamlin

Final plans have been completed for the first Pied Piper Farm Hereford sale to be held at Hamlin Wednesday, Nov. 11. The offering will feature the breeding of Golden Superior, the nationally known sire used at Pied Piper Farms for several years.

Owner Barry Moore, said the 60 bulls and 40 heifers are all of Certified Anxiety 4th breeding.

The sale will be held at the Pied Piper Farm near Hamlin with Bert Reyes and Ruben Reyes as the auctioneers. Catalogs and information can be obtained from Pied Piper Farms, at Hamlin. A barbecue lunch will be served at noon just prior to sale time.

THEFT REPORTS

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE OF HEARING
A PROPOSED FEDERAL PROJECT The Governor of Texas, Honorable Preston Smith, has presented a report entitled "Beals Creek of Big Spring, Texas" prepared by the Corps of Engineers, U.S. Army, to the Texas Water Rights Commission for its study and recommendations as to the feasibility of a Federal project.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to Article 7422b, Vernon's Civil Statutes of Texas, that a hearing will be held by the Texas Water Rights Commission on Tuesday, November 24, 1970, at 10:00 a.m., in its offices located in the Sam Houston State Office Building, Austin, Texas. Said hearing shall be for the purpose of receiving testimony both for and against the proposed project.

The proposed project includes realignment and enlargement of 5.6 miles of the Beals Creek channel through the community of Big Spring, Texas, alteration of several highway and railroad bridges, and the construction of a floodway in which no future construction or land filling would be permitted if such work would restrict the passage of flood waters.

At the time and place stated herein, any affected person or association of persons may appear in person or by attorney in support of or in opposition to the project recommended in the report of the Commission. Written objections to the project may be filed with the Commission on or before the day of the hearing.

Such hearing may be continued from time to time and from place to place if necessary for a full hearing as to the project.

Executed and entered of record, this 22nd day of October, 1970.

IT'S ALL OVER BUT THE SHOUTING Americans To Speak Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — The angry clamor of a bitter mid-term election campaign yielded today to the solemnity of decision as Americans cast the ballots that chose a new Congress and shaped their state governments.

The verdict began in the chill dawn of Maine, flowed from state to state, time zone to time zone, across a continent President Nixon and his Republican lieutenants have coursed in an historic quest for congressional support.

In the school houses, fire stations, municipal halls of 185,599 precincts and voting units, Americans were electing 35 senators, 35 governors and a new House of Representatives.

VIRTUAL STANDOFF
In the end, both Republicans and Democrats seemed likely to claim victory in a virtual congressional standoff. Republicans seemed likely to add one to three seats to their Senate minority; little change was expected in the alignment of the Democratic House. Democrats appeared headed for statehouse gains that could provide a significant financial and organizational boost in the 1972 presidential election, adding perhaps a half-dozen governorships to their ranks.

Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, who together waged a tough, aggressive and unprecedented off-year campaign, were today, like their countrymen, in charge of one vote apiece.

BITTER SLAPS
The President was to cast his in a school house in San Clemente, Calif.; Agnew was voting in Baltimore.

It was a campaign in which apathy and indecision defied the bitter rhetoric, the hours of televised persuasion, the law-and-order litany of the Republicans, the dire economic assessment hammered by Democrats.

And the great enigmas remained as the ballots were marked and folded, the voting levers pulled. Among them:

—How will the nation react to a Republican offensive concentrated on the issue of lawlessness and violence—and dramatized at the last minute by the confrontation in San Jose, Calif., between Nixon and anti-war demonstrators?

WALLET WHACKS
—What of the economy, the Democratic issue? Will the voters look as Democrats have urged to their wallets?

—What will be the polling place impact of the six-week General Motors strike, which has idled some 400,000 men, most of them in crucial, hotly contested midwestern states?

—Where and how will state concerns, local problems, personalities, issues never raised on a national platform, override the broader arguments and shape the outcome?

Republican against Democrat, law and order vs. inflation and unemployment, the argument raged into election eve in a nationally televised exchange.

Republicans chose for their election-eve windup a nationally televised reprise of the Phoenix, Ariz., campaign speech in which Nixon recalled the San Jose incident and declared:

WALK THE LINE
"The time has come to draw the line. The time has come for the great silent majority of Americans, of all ages and every political persuasion, to stand up and be counted against appeasement of the rock throwers and obscenity shouters."

The Democratic retort was spoken by Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, in what seemed a foretaste of 1972. For Muskie, while running for re-election at home, has been running for presidential nomination as well, and the election-eve assignment given him by Democratic financiers seemed a major boost for his national credentials.

Muskie, in an appearance recorded in Cape Elizabeth, Maine, said the Republican campaign has been fashioned around lies, slander, name-calling, "deception of almost unprecedented volume."

HOW DARE YOU?
"How dare they tell us that this party is less devoted or less courageous in maintaining American principles and values than are they themselves," Muskie said. "This is nonsense."

"And what contempt they must have for the decency and sense of the American people to talk to them that way . . ."

He said every candidate of both parties deplores lawlessness and violence, so that is no issue. "Only a problem . . . and the harsh and uncomfortable fact is that no one—in either party—has the final answer."

In another segment of the Republican-sponsored telecast Monday, Nixon pointed to personal experiences encountering violent demonstrators during the campaign.

Nixon's concluding remarks in Phoenix also were used to wrap up the Monday telecast: "I have seen young Americans all over the country and those that appear on the television screens night after night, they are not a majority of young Americans today and they will not be the leaders of America tomorrow."

$2 MILLION MEMORY — Miss Bessie Cohen, an elderly Philadelphia real estate woman, bought the Ambassador Hotel in Atlantic City, N.J., for $2 million, 42 years after she went for a swim at the hotel and made up her mind to buy it. She made the purchase at a federal bankruptcy auction, saying she'd worked 16 hours a day, seven days a week to earn the money.

'Fun' Stabbings Traced At Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Slender, pig-tailed Leslie Van Houten smiled and doodled as a crucial witness at the Sharon Tate murder trial linked her directly to the slayings for the first time.

On the stand, pretty Dianne Lake, 17, said Monday that Miss Van Houten, 20, once said she had stabbed a person already dead and "the more she did it the more fun it was."

Miss Lake said another defendant, Patricia Krenwinkel, 22, also confided a role in the Tate killings, saying she dragged victim Abigail Folger from the bedroom of Miss Tate's mansion to the living room.

HAIR CUT SHORT
The two women plus Susan Atkins, 22, are on trial for murder-conspiracy along with Charles Manson, 35, leader of their hippie-style family.

The women appeared surprised as Manson arrived for court with his normally shaggy hair cut short. His new style is a duck tail with a long curl falling over his forehead.

Attorneys said Manson told them he cut it himself "for his defense" and that he plans to trade his jail denims for a suit when the defense case opens. The state is expected to rest its case later this week, and the defense will open soon after.

Miss Lake, a pretty auburn-haired teenager who lived at Manson's commune, testified outside the presence of the jury because of questions concerning admissibility of her testimony. She is expected to repeat much of her story for the jury

SAME THING
She said Miss Van Houten confided in her about a month after the August, 1969, slayings of Miss Tate and six others. Her description of Miss Van Houten's story closely matched earlier testimony about the slayings of two victims—market owners Leno and Rosemary LaBianca.

Miss Lake said the brunette Miss Van Houten told her of stabbing a person already dead, of wiping fingerprints off lamps and other items touched by the killers, of helping herself to a snack from the refrigerator and of taking food along for the trip back.

The testimony in the trial's 21st week, was the first to directly implicate Miss Van Houten, against whom there is no physical evidence. One other witness, Linda Kasabian, has said she saw Miss Van Houten walk up the driveway to the LaBianca house—but gave no details of what happened inside.

Miss Lake also said Miss Van Houten told of seeing a boat outside the house—a detail described by earlier witnesses—and hitchhiking back to the commune "from the Griffith Park area," the location of the LaBianca home.

GAS CHAMBER
In lengthy cross-examination to be resumed Wednesday, the defense sought to prove Miss Lake was coerced by police into fabricating her testimony. The witness, who spent seven months of this year in a mental hospital, was ruled competent to testify earlier in spite of having been diagnosed as schizophrenic and psychotic.

Manson's lawyer read Miss Lake a transcript of an interview between her and police Sgt. Manuel Gutierrez, and she said it was accurate. He was quoted as saying:

MONEY WOES
It was spokesman against spokesman, Republican Nixon against Democrat Muskie, 15 minutes a man.

And Muskie's role as champion of the Democratic cause recalled a time four years ago when then-citizen Richard M. Nixon spoke for the GOP in another off-year election—and in the process surged to the forefront of presidential contenders.

The Muskie appearance was sponsored by a hastily formed committee led by W. Averell Harriman, former diplomat and New York governor, after the Democratic National Committee had to pass, for lack of funds, the purchase of television time.

Lawrence F. O'Brien, the party chairman, said the committee didn't have $150,000 for the network television time, and his election-eve summation was a five-minute radio statement—which cost $7,300.

JOBLESS ISSUE
O'Brien said Republicans have chosen to say little about unemployment or inflation. "Instead, these Republican spokesmen will be attempting to hide their failures by deploring the violence that took place in San Jose, Calif.," O'Brien said. He said Democrats deplore it, too.

"But we also deplore this effort by national spokesmen of the Republican party to make this the critical issue of the 1970 election campaign," he said.

Republicans began the campaign hoping to capture control of a Senate which often has defied Nixon, but that target now appears beyond their reach. The current Senate is composed of 57 Democrats, 43 Republicans.

TEXAS HASSLE
Republicans appeared to hold the edge in three hotly contested Senate races: Rep. William E. Brock III against Democrat Sen. Albert Gore in Tennessee; Rep. Robert Taft Jr. against Democrat Howard Metzenbaum in Ohio; Rep. George Bush against Democrat Lloyd Bentsen in Texas.

These contests were for currently Democratic seats.

But on the Democratic side of the ledger, Adlai E. Stevenson III was favored to defeat Republican Sen. Ralph Smith in Illinois, Rep. John V. Tunney appears to have a lead over Sen. George Murphy in California.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Those bottle-borne messages from the "Rose Bowl" are starting to reach the vacation beaches of Broward and Palm Beach counties.

"Rose Bowl" is the sarcastic name for the big brown patch of sewage which rises two miles out in the Atlantic from the underwater conduit which carries away the raw wastes of Miami Beach.

Members of the Eco-Commando Force 70, a private ecological group that operates anonymously, joined Gov. Claude Kirk and the Miami News in dumping 700 bottles into the Atlantic near the sewage outlet Oct. 22.

Each bottle carried a postcard addressed to the governor or the News.

Kirk said his office participated to show "that at least some of the sewage has got to reach the beach."

Pioneer Dividend
AMARILLO — The board of directors of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, at their regular meeting, declared a quarterly dividend of 20 cents per share on the outstanding common stock, payable Dec. 1, to stockholders of record on Nov. 16.

Four Instructors Honored At Webb

Three captains and one staff sergeant were recently selected at Webb AFB, as Instructors of the Quarter for July, August and September.

Chosen were: Capt. Stephen P. Piszczek, 3561st Pilot Training Squadron, T-37 trainer instructor of the quarter; Capt. Bernard B. Bickhaus, 3560th Pilot Training Squadron, T-38 Talon instructor of the quarter; Capt. Phillip C. Clark, 3561st Student Squadron, classroom instructor of the quarter; and Sgt. Anthony E. Strotman, 3561st Student Squadron, airman instructor of the quarter.

Capt. Piszczek, a native of Greeley, Colo., is a graduate of Jacksonville University, Fla. He received his Air Force commission through Officer Training School at Lackland AFB, Tex., and underwent undergraduate pilot training at Laredo AFB. The captain flew 114 combat missions with the 555th Tactical Fighter Squadron, Ubon Royal Thai Air Force Base, Thailand, and for his services in the Vietnamese conflict, received the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with 13 oak leaf Clusters and the Air Force Commendation Medal. He has logged 2,153 hours total flying time, including 240 hours combat time.

Capt. Bickhaus is a native of Pasco, Wash., and is a graduate of Western Illinois University. He received his Air Force commission through OTS, and underwent undergraduate pilot training where he has instructed since October, 1968. In addition to his regular duties as an instructor pilot, Capt. Bickhaus serves as flight gradebook officer and assistant standardization officer. He has a total of 1,146 flying hours, including 906 hours of rated jet time.

Capt. Clark, a native of Los Angeles, received his Air Force commission through the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) at Loyola University of Los Angeles. He received his undergraduate pilot training here and has been an instructor pilot since October, 1968. In addition to his classroom instruction in T-37 navigation and instrument procedures, Capt. Clark regularly flies with students in all phases of flight, and averages 20 student sorties each month. He also has an additional duty as test control officer. He has a total of 1,127 hours of rated jet time. In addition to his flying duties, Capt. Clark is an active Boy Scout commissioner.

Sgt. Strotman is a native of Aurora, Neb., and a graduate of Aurora High School. Prior to his assignment to Webb in November, 1967, he attended instrument training specialist school at Chanute AFB, Ill. He was previously named as airman instructor of the quarter for April, May and June, 1969. He is a licensed pilot and is currently working on his commercial rating. Sgt. Strotman is presently assigned to the T-37 instrument trainer section in the instrument and navigational phases of the pilot training program.

Bottle-Borne 'Rose Bowl' Messages Warn Of Filth

George Gardner, Kirk's administrative assistant, said, "The most significant thing about this is it points to the fact that sewage doesn't stay in one place."

For the past 11 days, bottles have floated ashore at Pompano Beach, Boca Raton, Fort Lauderdale, Hollywood, Port Everglades and Dania, 25 to 40 miles north of the "Rose Bowl."

The News has received 62 cards and Kirk's office received 47.

The Eco-Commando Force, which has proclaimed an "unconventional war on pollution," said the bottle experiment was planned to see where the sewage goes after it is dumped.

It appears that some bottles—and presumably traces of sewage—will make long journeys before they return to shore. A Coast Guard boat spotted one flotilla of 50 bottles heading northward in the Gulf Stream off Fort Lauderdale.

Last summer Kirk signed into law a bill that gives Miami Beach until 1974 to start treating its sewage before emptying it into the ocean.
