WRECKAGE CLEAN-UP — Heavy equipment aids the clean-up of a wrecked DC9 jetliner which claimed 75

lives in a Saturday night crash. The crash killed nearly all of the Marshall University's football team. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Plane Crash Cause Still Not Decided

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Federal investigators divided into 10 teams today to search a remote hillside in near-freezing temperatures for clues into the weekend jetliner crash which killed all 75 persons aboard, including most of the Marshall University football team.

Initial findings showed "no evidence of any particular problem" mechanically with the twin-jet DC9, and no indication of pilot error, said John D. Reed, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board.

WAY TOO LOW
Reed said the only fact known about the cause of the crash was that the plane was too low. The investigation is being conducted, he said, in an attempt to learn if the plane was low because of mechanical failure, pilot error, or something else.

Reed, pledging to find a cause of the accident, joined the teams ranging from four to six men each to probe the twisted wreckage strewn over an area of about 500 yards.

Each team, headed by specialists from NTSB, also began interviewing witnesses to the Saturday night crash.

Returning the Marshall team, coaches and followers from an afternoon game with East Carolina University at Greenville, N.C., the plane cut a swath through treetops before crashing into a hillside short of the Tri-State Airport runway Saturday night.

Besides 37 Marshall football players and 8 members of the coaching staff, the dead included several prominent Huntington citizens—three physicians, a newly elected state legislator, a past president of the Marshall alumni association and the university's dean of admissions.

Eight married couples, parents of 24 children, were killed. Coaches and some married players killed in the crash left 35 more children.

MOURNING

Today and Tuesday were declared days of mourning on the Marshall campus and throughout the city. Public offices and schools were closed.

A special FBI disaster team began today the task of identifying the charred remains of the 75 victims, brought to a temporary morgue established in an airport hangar.

"This town is dead," was the way one nurse described the grim silence that engulfed Huntington and the university campus.

'POOR' TAXPAYERS $10 Billion Price Tag On Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — With 12.6 million estimated welfare recipients around the country, and more expected, Welfare Secretary Elliot L. Richardson says fiscal year welfare expenditures may be over $10 billion.

The current welfare budget is $8.7 billion. Some states have recorded increased welfare cases of 20 to 30 per cent over last year and the resultant added expenditures for both welfare and Medicaid will mean "the total deficit at the end of the fiscal year will be higher than we thought it was going to be," Richardson said.

NASA Frogs Die In Orbit

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six days after they were blasted into earth orbit from Wallops Island, Va., a pair of bullfrogs have died in space.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the two frogs in the Orbiting Frog Otolith (OFO) satellite expired at 12:20 p.m. EST Sunday. Their experimental vehicle "had met all its research objectives three days earlier," NASA said in a statement.

Thursday, Dr. Torquato Gualtierotti of the University of Milan, said the frogs had accomplished their mission. The study of inner-ear reaction to weightlessness was then called a success.

The spacecraft was set up in such a way that when, during the mission objectives were fulfilled, the life support system would be used to accumulate carbon dioxide until the frogs were gently asphyxiated.

Gualtierotti said the test results would indicate how long it takes for a frog — or man, since the inner ear functions are similar — to overcome the effects of weightlessness after being launched.

'Don't Work' Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court upheld unanimously today California regulations that bar welfare aid to needy children because their fathers work full-time.

The court, without explanation, refused to hear two Santa Clara men who claimed their full-time jobs did not produce income to feed their children adequately or clothe them properly.

Were the fathers not working, the families would have qualified for welfare aid. The appeal called the California regulations "don't work rules" as a result.

The cut-off level in California for working parents is 152 hours a month. A family otherwise qualified for welfare cannot get any if one of the parents works more than that number of hours.

One Of Three Texans Saved By Funeral

DALLAS (AP) — Three Texas boys began a football season on the Marshall University team this fall, but only one is alive to remember it.

Bobby Joe Hill, 19, of Dallas, and Scottie Reese, 21, of Waco, were listed by Marshall University as among the 75 who died when a DC9 jetliner crashed in Kenova, W. Va., Saturday night.

Ed Carter, 19, of Wichita Falls, would have been on that plane except for his father's death.

Carter was home for the funeral of his father, Robert Lee Carter, 53, in Pampa, Tex., last week. To please his mother, he extended his stay through Saturday even though it meant missing his team's game in Greenville, N.C.

The chartered Southern Airways jetliner was carrying the team, coaches and some fans home from that game when it crashed into a hillside short of the runway.

Bobby Joe Hill was a sophomore at Marshall. The school's press brochure described him as a "do everything" performer. At 5 feet 10 inches, 163 pounds, he was listed as a defensive cornerback.

The son of Mrs. Clewis Hill, he was quarterback and defensive halfback the years he played for South Oak Cliff High School in Dallas.

His former high school coach, Raymond Mattingly said he was "a boy who played and played well. He was a good football player."

His high school principal, William Cotton, called Hill a "real fine student ... who also ran track for us."

Scottie Reese was a star linebacker for the 1966 and 1967 Waco Carver High School team that won the District 8, Class AAA, championship.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Reese, he was a starting linebacker for Marshall in their 17-14 loss to East Carolina just a few hours before the crash.

Farm Five Killed By Shotgun Blasts

SUNBURG, Minn. (AP) — Authorities were holding a man for questioning today in the weekend shotgun slayings of a farm couple and their three children.

Ronald Schneider, Kandiyohi County attorney, said a grand jury would be called shortly to bring charges against the man.

Sheriff Harvey M. Spaulding earlier had described the killings as "a complete mystery," saying, "We can't even establish a motive at this time."

The body of James Fremberg, 40, was found in the barn about 10 a.m. Sunday by Delbert Peterson of Sunburg, who had stopped at the farm to pick up milk for a creamery.

The milking machine was running, indicating Fremberg had begun his morning chores when he was shot at close range.

About 150 yards away, in the dining room of the two-story farmhouse, authorities found the body of Fremberg's wife, Gloria, 29.

A close-range shotgun blast had decapitated her. A quart of milk and cereal bowls were on the table for a meal the family never ate. Toys were strewn about the downstairs rooms.

In one of two upstairs bedrooms, authorities found the pajama-clad bodies of the three children. David, 7, and Douglas, 4, were in one bed and their sister Patricia, 8, in another.

There were no signs of a struggle and authorities had no clues, the sheriff said.

No murder weapon was found and the slayer or slayers had taken away the expended shell casings, apparently from a 12-gauge shotgun.

"I've known this boy for 20 years, I suppose," said Spaulding. "A real good kid. No problems—no family problems."

Because of the distance between house and barn, shots could have been fired in one building without being heard in the other, Spaulding said.

Giant 'Monster' Is Really A Shark

SCITUATE, Mass. (AP) — The remains of a giant sea creature which washed ashore near here and for a time defied classification were identified tentatively today by an oceanographic expert as those of a basking shark.

Thousands of spectators lined rocky Mann Hill beach Sunday after the creature rolled to the shore on a high tide and touched off reports that the remains of a sea serpent had been found.

Andrew Konnerth, a research associate at Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute, said after an inspection today that the creature was a basking shark, largest of the Atlantic sharks.

A spokesman for the institute said the basking shark feeds on small plankton and small fish and has not been known to attack man unless endangered. They attain a length of 40 feet.

The creature which washed ashore was 28 feet long, although observers said its tail appeared to have been cut off and that its actual length could have been as much as 40 feet.

One of the first experts to examine the carcass was Donald M. DeHart, executive director of the New England Aquarium at Boston. He said he did not know what it was, but that it was not a whale.

He called it a "very wierd animal." "It is 32 to 34 feet in length and has a girth of at least 10 feet. The major portion of the body is about two feet high and it has a cartilage structure," he said.

JAW GONE
"It looks like it has a five-foot head or neck," DeHart said, "but the lower jaw is missing so you can't tell what the structure of the animal is."

Without the jaw, he said, it looks "like some sort of prehistoric animal or sea serpent."

Without the jaw, he said, it looks "like some sort of prehistoric animal or sea serpent."

A crowd estimated by police at 10,000 flocked to the beach early today as news of the grisly discovery was circulated.

Whales of various dimension have washed ashore frequently along the South Shore of Massachusetts in the past, some not far from the Mann Hill beach where this one came to rest.

Re-Election Cost Smith $864,042

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith's winning campaign for re-election cost him $864,042—more than $50,000 in excess of contributions, reports filed with the secretary of state showed today.

Smith reported receiving $812,812 in donations. Another winning Democrat, Sen.-elect Lloyd Bentsen, said he spent $458,329 while receiving $463,685 in contributions.

The reports do not include the May primary elections. Contributions of $2,000 or more shown on candidates' final reports, in addition to those previously reported:

Smith: S. Campbell, Dallas, $5,000; J. Abdnor, Dallas, $2,000; E. Texas Committee, Tyler, $2,000; S. Moody Jr., Galveston $2,500; North Texas Committee, Wylie, $2,000; D. Armistead, Lubbock, $2,000; M. Thomas, Dallas, $2,000; Central Texas Committee, Waco, $2,000; South Texas Committee, San Antonio, $2,000; A. Kellon, Port Lavaca, $4,000; Dallas County Committee, Tyler, $2,500; W. Blake-more, Midland, $3,000.

Bentsen: T.A.P.E., San Antonio, $3,500; Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee, Washington, $4,500; Citizens for Bentsen, Dallas, $6,000; victory dinner, Houston, $2,631.

George Bush, the losing GOP senatorial candidate, said he received gifts totaling $900,206, while spending $825,303 and borrowing $35,000. He received large contributions from a number of out of state sources, including $2,500 from Henry Ford II and $2,000 from Reynolds du Pont of Wilmington, Del.

Reese, 6 feet, 205 lbs., also played baseball at Carver and was active in student affairs. He had the lead role in the 1968 senior play and was described as an honor student.

Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the majority leader, accused Republican campaigners of personal vilification, and "political slicksterism."

TIME IS SHORT
Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the lame duck meeting "will be an unmitigated disaster," marked by politicking and the promotion of pet projects.

The calendar is crowded, and time is short—although Mansfield said he could not guess when the session will finally adjourn.

Democratic senators caucused and agreed that there should be an attempt before Thanksgiving to override President Nixon's veto of a bill to sharply restrict campaign spending on radio and television.

Mansfield said farm legislation, stalled before the elections,

CALENDAR CROWDED, TIME IS SHORT Battles Brew In Congress

will wait until later in the week. He added that the Senate definitely will vote on President Nixon's welfare reform proposals.

IN DUE TIME
Scott discounted Mansfield's attack on Republican campaign tactics. "Those are political purely, they are ritual and required," he said. "In due time, I'll make the same kind of statements."

Mansfield and Scott agreed that the November-December lame duck meeting should be treated as a cleanup session, handling only appropriations and other absolute necessities before adjourning.

Mansfield's attack on Republican campaign techniques seemed directed at President Nixon and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew, since they led the battle for the GOP.

Mansfield spoke out at a conference of Democratic senators just before the Congress was convened in its first post-election session in 19 years.

But, with his criticism on the record, Mansfield said the Nov. 3 election should now recede into history. "And let the politics of 1972 look to 1972," he said. "... We must do what we can to remove the wedges of division which have been driven deeper and deeper into the nation."

He said he doesn't know when the session will adjourn for good. "Indeed," Mansfield said, "the 91st may yet be known as the unending Congress."

With members aiming for adjournment by Christmas, there is little time for the 91st Congress to put its affairs in order before giving way to the 92nd Congress.

And while Republicans managed a two-seat election gain in their Senate minority, Democrats will enjoy a bonus seat for the duration of the lame-duck session.

When Sen.-elect Adlai E. Stevenson III of Illinois is certified the election winner, probably by the end of the week, he will succeed Republican Ralph T. Smith, and the Senate lineup will become 58 Democrats, 42 Republicans.

MORE UF DONATIONS

Today the United Fund total rose to $89,982.94 with contributions reported from the employees of Malone and Hogan Clinic-Hospital, Piggly Wiggly Stores, Morris Robertson Body Shop, and the Settles Hotel, and Webb AFB personnel. This year's goal is $109,975.

Stevenson takes over at once because he was elected to the unexpired term of the late Everett M. Dirksen.

When the 92nd Congress convenes Jan. 4, the Senate lineup is expected to be 55 Democratic votes, 45 Republican.

MONEY BILLS

That prospect itself may make for trouble in the lame-duck session: on some closely contested issues, Republicans might prefer a delay, to take advantage of their gains.

Hartke Wins By 4,383?

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — The official certification of complete returns from the Nov. 3 general election showed today that Democratic Sen. Vance Hartke finished ahead of Republican Richard Roudebush by 4,383 votes.

But a recount seemed almost a certainty. Roudebush's campaign coordinator, Gordon K. Durnill, said "it is pretty definite we will have a recount in several counties."

The official figures, certified to the governor's office by Secretary of State William N. Salin, showed Hartke with 871,090 votes and Roudebush with 866,707.

Midland Murder Jury Selection

MIDLAND, Tex. (AP) — Jury selection began today in the trial of Midland oilman William B. Nichols, 33, accused of the shotgun slaying of his socially prominent wife, Diane, 30, at their home April 22, 1968.

Judge Perry D. Pickett took under advisement a defense motion seeking a change of venue. Indications were that the judge will not rule until it has been determined whether a jury can be selected here.

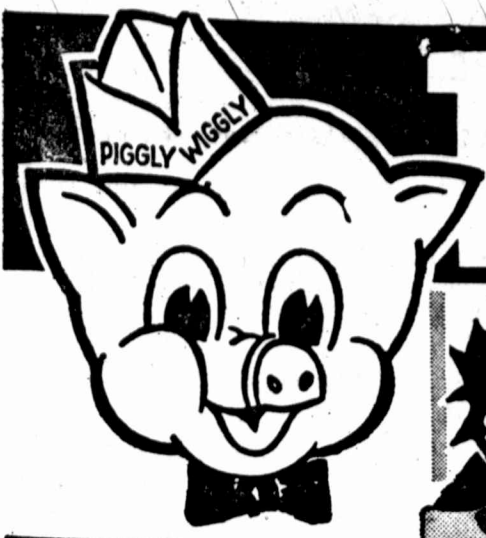

Pickett denied a defense motion that each prospective juror should be questioned out of the presence of the rest of the panel.

KY IN NEW YORK — South Vietnamese Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky holds press conference with his wife, Mai, at New York's Kennedy Airport after arriving on flight from Paris, Ky did not hear a group of antiwar demonstrators who were marching 300 yards away on the other side of the terminal.

Texans Kill Themselves, Each Other At Steady Clip

Car wrecks, guns and water played key roles over the weekend in swelling the list of violent deaths.

The Associated Press began its tabulation of violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and continued counting until midnight Sunday.

At midnight, the death count stood at 35 dead with 24 persons victims of car wrecks.

Paul Taylor, 71, of Spearman was killed Saturday night in a two-car accident on U.S. 83 south of Perryton, police said. Samuel B. Marshall, 58, was struck down by a car and killed Saturday night on Interstate 37 on Corpus Christi's west side.

The collision of a pickup truck with a parked trailer truck in Dallas Saturday killed Leland L. Brown, 43.

KILLED INSTANTLY
A Houston woman, Miss Yolanda T. Gladding, 28, was killed instantly when her car and a truck collided head-on Saturday night on Texas 73 two miles east of Winnie in Southeast Texas.

An Army medical officer, Capt. Humberto Arrillago Fierro, 32, was another apparent drowning victim Saturday night.

He and a companion were in a sailboat that capsized in rough water at Canyon Lake near New Braunfels, officers said. The companion swam to safety. Arrillago was stationed at Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio.

A two-car head-on collision killed four persons on FM Road 2094 between the Houston area towns of Kernah and League City early Sunday.

They were Barne Gozales, 18, Miguel Garcia Jr., 19, and Master Sgt. Jimmy Roy Harvey, 33, all of League City; and S. Sgt.

Bulfrano Barajas, 38, of Ellington Air Force Base. Harvey's wife, Annetta, 34, was critically injured.

AUTOPSY ORDERED
Police said Charles Carrier, 37, of Houston was shot to death in his apartment early Sunday. An autopsy was ordered on the body of Alexander Schlemmer, 33, of San Antonio, who was a contestant when his boat overturned in a boat race on Woodlawn Lake in West San Antonio. Doctors said Schlemmer may

False Claims Trial Waged

DALLAS (AP) — The trial of John C. Dalton, 51, a prominent Greenville businessman, continues in federal court Monday with the defense attempting to disprove charges Dalton made false claims to the Veterans Administration.

The federal government accused Dalton of sending in as much as $8,000 in false claims for pilot training that had not been provided to veterans at Dalton's Greenville Aviation Inc.

The prosecution has introduced testimony from a student pilot and a flight instructor who said they signed false records for Dalton.

The defense opened its case Friday with testimony from Curt Gamlen, president of Ruthford laboratories of Pine Lake, N.J.

Gamlen said he knew Dalton when Dalton was treasurer for Ruthford and called his reputation for honesty "extremely good."

Ky To Leave West Point After Talk

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Vice President Nguyen Cao Ky of South Vietnam addresses cadets at the U.S. Military Academy today during the first full day of his 17-day visit to the United States.

A spokesman for the academy said Ky would speak to the senior class in closed session. The vice president also was to tour the academy.

He would leave West Point "after lunch," the spokesman said, for an undisclosed destination. Ky's itinerary has not been made public, although he is expected to visit military installations where South Vietnamese officers are training and to visit with President Nixon in Washington.

The vice president flew in from Paris Sunday night, landing at a remote Kennedy Airport terminal under heavy security. On the other side of the terminal, a small group of antiwar demonstrators marched in pouring rain.

Hatless and wearing a brown leather jacket, Ky told waiting newsmen his visit was "in behalf of the people of Vietnam to express our gratitude to the American people."

NO REASON
Police said Robert L. Patterson was shot to death for no apparent reason as he stood outside a Houston drug store Sunday. They said no one saw the shooting.

Dallas police said Alvis Harold McClung, 50, was killed early Sunday morning when his car struck the rear of a truck parked on a Dallas street.

Three persons died Sunday night in a head-on car wreck on U.S. 181 near Georgetown. Police identified the victims as Richard R. Bonnet, 59; his wife, Alpha, 59, both of Georgetown; and Archie E. Phinney, 38, of Austin.

Navajo Election
WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (AP) — Navajo voters elected Peter MacDonal, 41, their tribal chairman in two days of voting this week, ousting Chairman Raymond Nakai, 32, who had sought a third term.

Sunday night, police said, on U.S. 287 near Vernon when her car turned over several times.

John W. Hawkins, 23, of Ft. Hood was killed near Temple Sunday night in a two-car accident which injured five others.

DEAR ABBY: I am in desperate need of some good advice, sound explanations, and if possible, some encouragement.

My husband, age 50 and I, 49, have been married for 26 years. It's been an ideal marriage in all respects. We have been lovers and best friends and have raised a fine family. He has a top job with his company. Everything has been beautiful.

About a year and a half ago he became involved (he says not seriously) with his secretary who is married. He seemed surprised that I was hurt. He said he couldn't possibly "love" anyone of her type, that he was just having "fun." It is over now because he became worried about jeopardizing his career.

I have tried to get over it, but I can't, because of his attitude which I cannot understand. He seems extremely preoccupied. He seldom laughs or smiles. He acts indifferently toward me — yet he says he "loves" me. Can you offer any advice or hope?

NO NAME, PLS.

DEAR NO NAME: If he says he loves you, believe him. He is probably sulking for a number of reasons: He could be a little depressed at having to give up his "toy." And he probably feels guilty for having hurt you. Now, tell him you love him, too, and he'd better snap out of it.

DEAR ABBY: I can't keep quiet any longer about my problem. I would like you to tell me, Dear Abby, what is the correct amount for a tip?

I am a waitress in Dover, Del. It's not the most exclusive restaurant in Dover, but it is a nice place. I make only 75 cents an hour plus tips, so you can see, I need the tips.

Some people are so cheap about tipping, you wouldn't believe it. I think if people can afford to go out to eat, they can afford to leave a decent tip. What do you consider a decent tip, Abby? WAITRESS

DEAR WAITRESS: The customary average tip is between 15 and 20 per cent of the bill. But I happen to feel that if the service is better than average, the waitress should be rewarded with a better-than-average tip. And for service below average — same deal.

DEAR ABBY: An item in your column caught my eye. It was from a woman who said she was Italian and her husband was Irish so "naturally" they fought a lot. After one of their fights she packed up and went to her mother's, and her crazy Irish husband put an ad in the local paper saying, "MARIE, PLEASE COME HOME. THE DOG MISSES YOU!" You said you thought it was hilarious. Well, so did I, but that's not why I'm writing.

I happen to be an Irish woman who is married to a humorless Italian man.

So, tell Marie I will trade her, sight unseen, my spaghetti and meat balls for her ham and cabbage. "IRISH"

DEAR ABBY: My heart goes out to that widower who feels trapped by a conniving widow.

I, too, am in my sixties and since losing my husband several years ago, I have met more and more widows, and I can tell you, I have grown more and more disgusted with them each year.

Abby, they can't wait to read the obituaries every day to see whose wife has died so they can get a head start on going after the husband.

DISGUSTED IN SAN ANGELO

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069.

New Income Tax Form Is Easier?

WASHINGTON (AP) — With an eye toward cutting down on taxpayer complaints and mistakes, Internal Revenue officials have turned out a new income tax form they say is easier to read and less complicated.

The 1040 form for 1970 has more white space and less clutter—features which should help bleary-eyed late filers who wait until the last minute to complete their returns.

While the major changes are typographical, IRS officials have added some new wrinkles in hopes of avoiding complaints like those about the 1969 format. Filing instructions have been removed from the back of the form and put in a separate package. The old schedule "T"—a complicated section dealing with tax computations—has been eliminated.

The tax computation section is now on the back of the form, so filers will be relieved from listing much of the detailed computations on the form itself.

When IRS did away with its short 1040A form a year ago, it made some drastic revisions in 1040—and found itself hounded with complaints.

Not only are instructions eas-

Routine Matters On County Agenda

Termite, rights-of-way, and cost of purchase on a posting machine occupied county commissioners' time in court this morning.

Rights-of-way along county roads were granted to Carbon Dioxide Carriers Inc. and Texas Electric Carriers Inc. was granted permission to install pipelines across roads in Howard County. Texas Electric will use the right-of-way to construct single-pole electric lines along county roads near Knott, specifically on the land in sections 19 and 20, block 32, Township 1 North.

Commissioners agreed to pay $115 to combat termites and other insects in the old library building and in the garage behind. The termites have not infested the main building but are in the adjacent garage structure.

George Davis, National Cash Register Co. representative, appeared before commissioners this morning to explain the cost of purchasing a posting machine for the district clerk's office to handle the mailing and accounting of the monthly child support checks processed by that office. The list price of the machine is $4,790. To break the cost into three payments would raise it to $5,201.6. This includes a down payment of $2,399 and two payments of $1,401.6. Freight costs are $35, and after the first year, maintenance of the machine will cost $302.40.

David was also to present a plan for leasing the machine, with an option to buy. At the end of the lease period, 70 per cent of the rental payments would be credited toward purchase.

Commissioners took no action on the NCR proposals and decided to ask for additional bids. Commissioners will open the bids on Nov. 30.

Bids for the leasing of county-owned pasture land adjacent to the Howard County Airport will be opened in commissioners court Nov. 30. Commissioners are currently receiving bids.

A request from the Howard County Sheriff's Office for work to be done on one of the department's cars was tabled until the next meeting.

Charles Tuttle, president of the Howard County Bar Association, appeared in court this morning to request additional shelf space for the law library on the third floor of the courthouse.

Commissioners instructed Tuttle to obtain cost estimates for the work and present it to the court at the next meeting.

NO POINT IN RESISTING — With four police pistols pointing at him, Edward L. Skinner, of Boston, raises his hands into the air in Boston's South End early Sunday morning. The Boston police officers made the gunpoint capture in a backyard and arrested Skinner, 33, on charges of assault with attempt to murder and violation of the firearms law. Police said Skinner opened fire on two youngsters.

Texans Bundle Up Against Cold Marks

Bitter cold—records for the date at Corpus Christi and El Paso, for instance—settled on Texas this morning. Forecasts called for more chilly temperatures until toward the end of the week.

El Paso recorded 18 degrees, but at Marfa in the mountains it was still colder—15.

Corpus Christi with 33 equalled the record low for the day, although some parts of the coastal city were 10 degrees warmer.

Almost all major cities reported freezing weather or below. Skies were clear although some light clouds began moving into the panhandle during the morning.

Some of the representative lows included Abilene and Alice 31, Amarillo 28, Austin 28, San Antonio and College Station 27, Fort Worth 29, Longview, Lufkin 21, and Houston 37.

ABSOLUTE BAN — Pope Paul VI restates today the Roman Catholic Church's absolute ban on artificial contraception during a speech to the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) in Rome. He called for social progress which he said could lead to "rational control of birth" while talking to the United Nations' largest specialized agency.

Little Or No Similarity Between Plane Disasters

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Despite the grim coincidence of two football teams ripped apart in the fiery wreckage of airliners, federal investigators said today they see little or no similarity between the Wichita State and Marshall University disasters.

Yet one common thread was woven into both crashes: each involved a plane flown into a hillside by a pilot who was not routinely familiar with the terrain.

"We see none," said John H. Reed, chairman of the National Transportation Safety Board, who drew a distinct line between the sleek jet chartered by Marshall that bore 75 persons to death here Saturday and the aging, overweight prop plane rented by Wichita State which smashed into the Rockies six weeks ago, killing 31 persons.

The twin-engine DC-9 jet from Southern Airways was trying to land in rain and fog Saturday night when it cut a splintered swath through the tops of trees on a high ridge rising near the airport runway and nosedived to the ground.

The Wichita State disaster sparked a full federal inquiry into aircraft charters after investigators found the 20-year-old overweight plane was being flown by pilots from a firm that lacked a sufficient license to operate it.

Marshall was dealing with such an operator—Southern, a scheduled airline authorized to conduct charter flights and subject to stringent operating and maintenance requirements.

Coahoma Twirlers Win UIL Honors

COAHOMA — Twirlers for the Coahoma High School marching band were given Division 1 ratings in ensemble and solo twirling at the University Interscholastic League twirling contest Saturday in Odessa.

Deputy Recovers Stolen Saddle

The saddle reportedly stolen from Willie Rangel, 309 NW 11th, was recovered Saturday by Deputy M. L. Kirby. No charges have been filed in the case.

SENT LETTERS

FAA administrator John Shaffer called the arrangements for that flight, involving separate leasing of plane and hiring of crew, a facade to get around FAA rules governing charter flights.

NO SUPPORT

The airport is not equipped with radar for landing approaches or with any sophisticated glide slope electronic beams to warn a pilot when he is coming in too low.

Ensemble winners are Pam Patterson, head twirler, Terri Wolf, Mischa Reed and Jeanne Brady.

Solo honors went to Miss Patterson, Miss Wolf and Miss Read.

GI Home Loans Expected To Perk Housing Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — The impact of the measure, the new GI home loan law is expected to give a shot in the arm to the sagging housing industry by restoring loan guarantees to 8.5 million World War II and Korea veterans and opening a new mobile home program.

Although tight money in many areas—particularly the South and West—is expected to reduce the impact of the measure, the Veterans Administration is estimating that, in addition to facilitating home purchases for many former GIs, it will enable 35,000 veterans to buy housing.

The major provision of the bill, signed by President Nixon Oct. 26, removes all expiration dates for GI home loan applications. That, for World War II to refinance existing mortgages on homes or farms. However, the current high interest rates are expected to put a damper on this.

Purchasers of mobile homes originally had been forecast at 15,000 for the first year, based on the assumption the purchasers would be mostly young veterans using the mobile homes until they could afford a conventional house.

But, now, the law opens up mobile home purchases to World War II, Korea and post-Korea veterans who have not used their home loan benefits and thousands of them also will take advantage of the law to buy mobile homes for retirement years.

Horoscope Forecast

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Concentrate on your long-range plans where you are successful. Analyze how far you are on the road to success.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Concentrate on personal matters that you keep strictly confidential and you avoid making bad investments. Being of service to one who is having difficult times can be done in an interesting way now. Show your practical.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) This is a good day to seek advice from a dynamic and respected friend. Your future can be improved tremendously thereby. Plan how to gain your most personal goals.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you listen carefully to what bigwig has to say, you win, instead of lose in a situation which seems ambiguous. Getting to what close friends have to suggest.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Stop worrying about what kin are doing and get busy improving your financial status. Also, do something about your health and especially your teeth. Think of yourself for a change.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You have to plan very carefully if you want fundamental aims to come about. Listen to what close friends have to suggest.

into some civic matter that is most worthwhile is also good.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) An inspiring idea you have should be put in operation instead of just following the advice of an insecure friend. You want to make some big change in a short while, but it would be better to think again.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) There is a plan of action you can put through now but avoid bigwigs who might want to change it. Doing what will make relationship with more ideal is good now. Be cheerful with others.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you show more cooperation with associates who have much determination, you avoid trouble. A new appraisal may be worthwhile, but tone down the enthusiasm for it. Stick to work that has to be done.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Give more attention to your work and don't discuss your financial position with others, no matter what it is. A co-worker gives right ideas for some project you discuss with him, which is quite puzzling to you. Show gratitude.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Put aside moving association matters and think along more romantic lines that makes you a happier person. A difficult problem can be handled better tomorrow. Evening is a good time to make new plans.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Doing whatever will make kin happier is fine today since regular work is a bit palling to you. Making your home more charming and efficient is wise. Make sure you spend with care.

Oil Allowable In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Louisiana's oil production allowable for December will remain at the same rate as November, State Conservation Commissioner J.M. Meneff has announced.

Purchasers asked for 2,314,788 barrels a day for December, slightly less than the previous month's total request. However, the figure remains 75 per cent of a well's rated allowable.

300,000 PERSONS PERISH?

Pakistan's Disaster

DACCA, East Pakistan (AP) — Officials say 300,000 persons may have died in the cyclone and tidal waves in East Pakistan last Friday, making it one of the greatest disasters in history.

CYCLONE DAMAGE — This 3,000-foot long floating bridge over the Karniphuli River near Chittagong, East Pakistan, was broken during cyclone. The structure, which had 100 feet washed away, is located nine miles from the Bay of Bengal.

and Bhola—but other sources estimated the population was less than half that when the storm hit. However, there had been a recent influx of workers from the rice harvest.

The official death count rose to 15,943 Sunday night, but fatality estimates grew hourly from scores of reports. A former assemblyman said local officials indicated 65,000 had perished in Patakhapi district to the west of the four islands.

The area is a cyclone alley, with storms hitting almost every spring and fall and with huge tolls because of the lack of a warning system or of speedy transport for the masses of farmers and fishermen.

In June, 1965, 30,000 perished in a cyclone there, and historians say 300,000 died in a storm and tidal waves in 1737. The greatest disaster recorded in history occurred in China's Honan Province in 1887, when a flood took 900,000 lives.

The head of the Pakistan Red Cross appealed for help to meet "the complete devastation in the offshore islands."

Latins In Uvalde To Mull 'Discrimination' Report

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — A Mexican-American parents group scheduled a meeting tonight to discuss a federal report that says the Uvalde School District discriminates against the Spanish surnamed.

"I think we have to walk a military-economic tight rope," he said, "providing enough defense to keep out of war, but not so much as to wreck the economy."

Officials Weigh Idea Eye Water For Texas From Arkansas Basin

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — The proposal, he said, is to construct a dam on the Arkansas River basin in consideration by Texas officials to help implement the Texas Water Development Plan, an Arkansas water expert said.

Some reservoirs have been completed and others are under construction. Jackson said Texas "put out feelers to see if any of the surplus waters were available for a set length of time."

BOYCOTT ACTION

The findings included: —A "high percentage of segregation is found in classes at Uvalde High School."

NOT FAIR

Members of the Mexican-American Parents Association, who have filed suit against the school board, say they have not received a fair hearing on the issues in the strike, although they returned their children to class this fall.

REDS' BLUFF

"They're going to bluff; the problem is not bluffing so hard we accidentally get into war."

New Money For Ranchers

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Ranchmen have been urged to look to recreational uses—hunting, fishing, picnicking—for supplementary income.

Texas Tech University Wildlife Management Prof. Donald A. Kliebenow told participants at a Ranch Management Conference that "the demand for recreation by an ever-increasing population has created an interest in uses of range, and that are compatible to livestock production and supplement the income from livestock."

He outlined brush control practices which would provide shelter and forage for wildlife—particularly deer, turkey and quail.

While acknowledging the need for brush control, Kliebenow told his audience that "leaving brush of deer and quail hunting is traditional, he said, and the value of leases increases each year.

"The demand for open space is second to the demand for animals," Dr. Kliebenow said, "and since rangelands often contain both, there is potential for prime recreational use."

Tanks Added To Precast Items Now At McMahon Concrete

From precast to ready-mix, McMahon Concrete Co. is ready to provide every concrete need to suit your particular job specifications, with prompt, friendly service you can count on.

At 605 N. Benton, McMahon Concrete now has strong, long-lasting precast concrete septic tanks in both 350 and 500 gallon sizes.

Other precast work done at McMahon's includes round and rectangular feed and water troughs in many sizes for every farm or ranch, precast concrete roofing sections that provide an attractive answer to rising insurance premiums while providing better insulation and lower heating-cooling costs, and home decorations from planters and birdbaths to garden benches and picnic sets.

Wall paneling cast at McMahon's is ideal for barns, homes, shops, or fences, and comes in many decorative styles with exposed aggregate or smooth surfaces. The quartz aggregate, black pebble, or egg-sized pebble panels can be finished with a sealer that adds a polished sheen.

At McMahon's special items for the farm or anywhere else can be precast to almost any specifications, and ready-mix concrete is made for every job. Huge mixing hoppers on the lot allow trucks McMahon's radio dispatched to back under and load quickly with the proper mix for whatever work you are doing, including foundations, bridges, culverts, sidewalks, driveways, curbs, gutters and street pavement.

Max The Printer Adds Super Speed Copy Service

McMillan Printing and Office Supply now offers an inexpensive, high-speed Xerox duplicating service in addition to other types of high-quality social, business, and commercial printing.

McMILLAN PRINTING AND OFFICE SUPPLY... Louis Tallant, Xerox 3600, Max the Printer (Photo by Danny Valdes)

The Xerox 3600 makes a copy a second, so you can walk out with 50 or 200 crisp, clear copies and pay less than it would cost to mimeograph or duplicate the same copies on an office duplicator.

Ideal for service club announcements, short run letters, or business reports, the copier can print a large number of copies while you wait.

Harry L. McMillan, better known as "Max the Printer," has a reputation for prompt, dependable printing service, backed by 29 years experience in printing.

He has one of the most completely equipped printing shops in West Texas, operated by a well-qualified staff, combined with a fully stocked office supply store for the utmost in customer convenience.

McMillan's can print either offset or letterpress and can handle three- or four-color work. They offer all types of highly professional printing, including a large selection of wedding invitations.

It is easy to find the office supplies you are looking for in the spacious display area, and the shop is kept neat and clean from the front door to the printing room in back.

In the four years since McMillan Printing started in Big Spring the business has grown until there are now four full time staff members. Louis Tallant, shop superintendent, Edward Akin, on the letterpress, and Max' son Perry McMillan, who works with Edward Bedwell on the offset press, combine their talents for printing work you will be proud of. Working part time as clerk is McMillan's daughter, Jo LaNae.

McMillan Printing also offers a quality line of durable office furniture, including Hon metal furniture, Hoosier wood furniture, and Paoli chairs that provide efficiency and elegance.

The next time a printing need arises, be sure to check first with Max the Printer. His quality and friendly service are hard to beat.

Wes-Tex Co-Op Redesigns For Future Dependability

Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative has just finished an extensive modernization program and now offers its subscribers telephone service second to none.

A half million dollars was spent for additional circuits, burying 300 miles of cable and installing new equipment in the eight automatic dial exchanges. Most aerial cable, subject to damage by high winds, ice storms and hunters' bullets, has been replaced by underground cable. This has greatly increased the reliability of telephone service.

The old eight-party lines are a thing of the past. Four telephones are the maximum on any party line, and most have only two or three. Of course, private lines are available to everyone on the Wes-Tex system, but party lines are preferred in some areas because of the economy resulting from putting more than one telephone on a circuit. Direct distance dialing is available at the present time; however, it is definitely in the system plans.

Toll free service to either Big Spring or Stanton is provided for members on the Luther, Ackerly, Lenora, West Stanton and Lomax exchanges. Subscribers on the Vincent, St. Lawrence and Garden City exchanges pay a small toll charge to call other area towns.

Wes-Tex offers many services and special equipment. Extension telephones are popular and available in all colors and styles. There are long cords, outside bells, special ringing equipment, and devices to aid the hard-of-hearing. Telemetering circuits are available for use of oil and pipeline companies and others requiring this type of equipment.

Wes-Tex Telephone Cooperative is owned by the people it serves. It was organized in 1950 and has experienced a steady growth. It now has 1,131 miles of line serving 1,406 telephones in rural areas of Howard, Borden, Dawson, Martin, Glasscock, Reagan, and Midland counties.

Meet Cancelled

COAHOMA — The regular meeting of the Coahoma Band Boosters originally scheduled for tonight has been cancelled. Burl Graham, president, announced the cancellation and said all who helped in the concession stand and donated food were to be commended. A report on the profit made from the concession stand will be given at the Dec. 21 meeting of the Band Boosters.

White House Diary

The White House

The day of the State of the Union address is always one of such tension for me, out of proportion to any responsibility that I have for it. Lyndon spent much of the morning reading the supposedly final draft — I think it was the eleventh version — of his State of the Union speech.

Lyndon had asked George Christian to draft a statement based on what Lyndon had said to him, announcing that he would not run. I believe it was around noon when George brought his draft of it in, his face calm, unrevealing, as it always is. He had written a good statement, very well said. My own draft, which Lyndon had asked me to produce, seemed feeble to me. And if there was ever anything we ought to say with clarity and strength — with words that have wings and fire — this was it.

I had the statement I wrote in August, 1964, when Lyndon was facing going to Atlantic City and did not want to go. It was still in the right-hand drawer of my desk in my bedroom. I brought that out and reread what I had said then and George read it. It sounded better now!

The announcement was not to be included in the text of the State of the Union Message. If Lyndon decided to make it, the statement would come at the end, beginning with a line something like this: "And now I want to speak to you about a personal matter . . ." He looks looking from one to the other of us — those close to him — for an answer. But there isn't any answer . . . there is nobody who can decide but him.

DEMO LEADERS
I knew that today Lyndon was meeting the Democratic leaders and the Republican leaders by turn. I seldom interrupt such meetings, but I had the statement in my keeping and I held it like a coal of fire — the draft by George Christian announcing that Lyndon was not going to run again. I wanted to get it back into Lyndon's pocket, so I took it over.

It was about 6:30 p.m. He was rushed. Standing in the door behind the big oval office and his little one, he said, "Well, what do you think? What shall I do?" I looked at him with that helpless feeling and said: "Luci hopes you won't run. She wants you for herself and for Lyn and all of us. She does not want to give you up. Lynda hopes you will run. She told me so this afternoon, with a sort of terrible earnestness, because her husband is going to war and she thinks there will be a better chance of getting him back alive and the war settled if you are President. Me — I don't know. I have said it all before. I can't tell you what to do."

THUNDERING APPLAUSE
When Fishbait Miller announced, "The President of the United States!" Lyndon came in to a thundering applause which lasted three minutes. There was a different atmosphere from last year. He looked wonderful. The 15 pounds he has lost are all to the good, and I like his hair a little bit longer and not slicked down. The speech — and there were changes even in the 11th draft — lasted 45 minutes. There were about 50 applause.

By all odds the most spontaneous and loudest one came when he said, "The American people have had enough of rising crime and lawlessness." One of the changes was an insertion on conversation about continuing to work for highway beautification. I would not have thought it for the world but I appreciated it.

As he approached the end, I tightened up in my seat. Would he end with his statement? Did I want him to? Would I be relieved if he did, or if he didn't? He ended on a strong high note and there was a great roar of applause. He turned and walked down the steps. In a moment or two I rose to follow, and joined him for the ritual visit to the Speaker's office.

THURSDAY, January 18
This morning I went over my guest list for the first Women Doers' Luncheon of the year — our subject, "Crime in the Streets."

During the luncheon Lyndon spoke briefly, calling for greater support of police and saying the place to start combating crime was in the home. And then he gave a salute to the power of women and assured them they could do something about crime. He closed by saying that when he thinks of tenacity he thinks of women.

As Lyndon turned to leave Miss Eartha Kitt, who had been seated at a table close to the podium, rose in his path and said, "Mr. President, what do you do about delinquent parents — those who have to work and are too busy to look after their children?"

Lyndon told her, "We have just passed a Social Security Bill that allots millions of dollars for day-care centers." She moved, I think, a step more in front of him. "But what are we going to do?" she said.

"That's something for you women to discuss here." Lyndon replied; then turned and walked briskly out.

Miss Kitt sat down, stubbed out a cigarette, tossing her long hair, and from then on I watched her, expecting something — I didn't know what. Apparently she did not eat, nor did she applaud any of the speakers. She smoldered and smoked.

I asked the guests for their observations and discussions, and Judge Caroline Simon, who had been on my right, was the first up. There were several more. I noticed Miss Kitt's hand go up and I knew I must, in turn, get to her. I did not know what to expect — only I sensed that she had come to say something and that it would not be good. When some speaker finished I nodded to her. She arose and began to talk, swiftly and passionately, beginning with an "angry accusation that welfare checks were so small — just four dollars. "What can you get for four dollars?" And then, oddly, an attack on high taxes. "The young people are angry. Their parents are angry, because they are being so highly taxed."

Mounting to a crescendo, she came to her real destination — to denounce the war in Vietnam. "Boys I know across the nation feel it doesn't pay to be a good guy. They figure with a record they don't have to go off to Vietnam." Then, advancing a step toward me and looking with intense directness at me (she is a good actress), she said, "I send the best of this country off to be shot and maimed. They rebel in the streets. They take pot and they will get high. They don't want to go to school, because they are going to be snatched off from their mothers to be shot in Vietnam."

STARE FOR STARE

I am glad to say that I looked back just as directly, stare for stare. She continued, pointing her finger at me the papers later reported.

She said: "You are a mother, too, although you have had daughters and not sons. I am a mother and I know the feeling of having a baby come out of my guts. I have a baby and then you send him off to war. No wonder the kids rebel and take pot. And, Mrs. Johnson, in case you don't understand the lingo that's marijuana!"

What do you feel in a situation like this? First, a wave of mounting disbelief. Can this be true? Is this a nightmare? Then a sort of surge of adrenalin into the blood, knowing that you are going to answer, that you've got to answer, and at the same time somewhere in the back of your mind a voice that says, "Be calm, be dignified."

STUNNED SILENCE

Somewhere along the way

I think "between the words 'guts' and 'pot' — I had a sense that maybe she was undoing her point. Miss Kitt stopped for breath to a stunned silence in the room and for a second I waited to see whether it was a comma or a period.

Then Mrs. Hughes of New Jersey rose to her feet and said, "I feel morally obligated. May I speak in defense of the war?" My first husband," she said, "was killed in World War II, and I have eight sons. One of them is now in the Air Force. None of them wants to go to Vietnam. All will go. They and their friends. I think that anybody who takes pot because there is a war on is a kook. These young people are still juniors. They have to be educated. I hope we adults are still in control." The room thundered with applause.

I am not sure whether I spoke next or Bennetta Washington. I felt a surge of gratitude that a Negro in a very responsible position, well-grounded in experience, answered. "I understand that Miss Kitt said she knew about anger. I know a little about it, too, but we are here to release these energies in constructive rather than destructive channels."

"Because there is a war on," I said, "and I pray that there will be a just and honest peace — that still doesn't give us a free ticket not to try to work for better things — against crime in the streets, and for better education and better health for our people. I cannot identify as much as I should. I have not lived the background that you have, nor can I speak as passionately nor as well, but we must keep our eyes and our hearts and our energies fixed on constructive areas and try to do something that will make this a happier, better-educated land." (One paper said that I was pale and that my voice trembled slightly as I replied to Miss Kitt. I think that is correct. I did not have tears in my eyes, as another paper said.)

That 'Ain't' No Pal Knocking At Your Gate

Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson, in her White House Diary, relates how surprised she was to learn how many persons approached or telephoned the mansion with hostile feelings.

Writing on Sunday, Jan. 23, 1966, Mrs. Johnson said, "On Sunday I always try to read the interminable papers on my desk. Today I found results of the much discussed security check on telephones. As a result of our study of all the contacts in the White House, one unexpected thing (at least to me) came out — the amazing total of more than 51,000 'unfriendly contacts' during the year of 1965 was revealed, ranging all the way from abusive telephone calls and threatening letters to 166 picketings — over 300 'unwelcome visitors' at the Main Gate — 112 of whom were actually arrested or committed for mental observation. Last and most extraordinary — seven persons were apprehended climbing the fence! Of all the things that beset us, physical danger is the last I would worry about."

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A J 9 6 ♡A Q 10 4 ♢Q J 10 5 ♣A 6

The bidding has proceeded:

East South West North

1 ♠ Dble. Pass 1 ♥

What do you bid now?

A.—Two hearts. That's enough. This appears to be a strong hand, but you must not lose sight of the fact that you forced partner to bid and he may have nothing. If partner has any definite values, he will bid again after your single raise. If he does, you may then contract for game.

Q. 2—Both sides vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A K 7 6 3 ♡8 3 ♢A Q 10 7 ♣8 4

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

1 ♠ Pass 2 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two spades. Despite the fact that you may have more than a minimum, no other bid is available. The hand is not strong enough to rebid at the level of three. Such a call requires considerable excess values.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠A K 10 ♡A Q J 5 4 ♢2 ♣A 5

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♠ Pass Pass 2 ♣

3 ♣ Pass Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—A mere bid of three hearts is the proper call. Your cue bid of two clubs was an absolute demand for game, and partner is not permitted to pass at this point, regardless of how emaciated a hand he may hold.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠K 10 2 ♡K Q J 5 3 ♢K 8 ♣A 9 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South

1 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid?

A.—Your hand is worth 17 points in support of partner's heart bid, which renders it too good for a three heart response, for which the limit is 16 points, but not quite good enough for a jump shift, which requires 19 points. You must, therefore, be content temporarily to improve a bid, and the recommended call is two clubs.

Q. 5—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A Q 10 6 ♡A 10 7 2 ♢5 3 ♣K 7 3

The bidding has proceeded:

North East South West

Pass Pass 1 ♠ Dble.

4 ♠ 5 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You have a split hand which is unsuited for play at five spades, yet your defensive values are sound. You should be able to take two tricks in defense and partner certainly one. Double to warn him that you have misgivings about fulfilling an 11 trick contract.

Q. 6—As South, vulnerable, you hold:

♠Q 9 5 ♡7 5 ♢Q J 2 ♣Q J 9 5 3

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♥ Dble. Pass 2 ♣

Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—With this holding play for game must not be abandoned. We recommend that you try once more by bidding four clubs. Remember that partner has doubled and raised your bid when you might have had nothing at all but four small clubs. You have, in fact, three queens, two jacks, and a fairly good suit.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠A Q 5 4 ♡5 ♢9 8 2 ♣Q J 9 8 6

The bidding has proceeded:

South West North East

Pass Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♠

2 ♣ Pass 3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?

A.—You should bid three spades. This could not be misconstrued by partner as a game forcing cue bid, since you have previously passed and then made a nonforcing bid of two clubs. It should convey to partner that you have control of the spade suit and are requesting him to bid three no trump if his diamond protection is adequate.

Q. 8—Neither side vulnerable, as South you hold:

♠K Q 9 5 4 ♡A Q 10 2 ♢K 10 3 2

The bidding has proceeded:

West North East South

1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ ?

What do you bid?

A.—This hand is slightly short of the values which would justify an immediate cue bid of three hearts. If partner should respond to such a call in clubs or diamonds, it could be dangerous to proceed to game. The best bet is to double and then raise partner's suit.

Travel Films At Library

Travel films depicting the sights of Canada have arrived at the Howard County Library and may be checked out for showings at schools, church and club gatherings. The films may be reserved by calling the library at 267-8681.

"Autumn Salmon" is a film of the Atlantic Salmon fishing in New Brunswick.

"Bonjour Montreal" is a film without commentary that uses a syncopated music background to underscore the impressions of the sights and sounds of Montreal.

The entertainment offered to visitors to Calgary, Canada, are shown in "Calgary, This Living West."

An historic portrayal of life in Old Fort Henry at Kingston, Ontario during the 19th century is available in "Citadel of Upper Canada."

"James Bay Goose Hunt" is a filmed hunting expedition through the channeled marshes of the James Bay coast with Cree Indian guides.

Mount Todd, the longest ski run in North America, and the Vancouver ski team are featured in "Ski West."

Circuit Riders Shape Christmas Plans At Lamesa

LAMESA (SC) — The Circuit Rider Volunteer Auxiliary met at the Mental Health Clinic, with Mrs. Vilma Bartlett presiding and Mrs. M. F. Cohorn reading the minutes and the financial report. Mrs. Leona Cox gave the devotional.

Mrs. Cohorn reported that a committee had selected some furniture to be given to unit five for Christmas. During the first week of December, the group plans to redecorate and change the day room on unit five into a reception room for guests to visit patients.

Mrs. E. V. Wilkes reported that the auxiliary will furnish sandwiches for the Dec. 17 Big Spring State Hospital Christmas party.

Auxiliary members also heard reports on proceeds of the bake sale and the Betty Duncan Memorial Fund for the All Faith Chapel.

People who cook with pride cook with GAS.

Mrs. Alex Zotos does.

Some of the world's best cooks are found in the kitchens of America. But, good cooks don't just happen. They work to make themselves good, and they give themselves every cooking advantage possible . . . like gas range cooking.

Besides being the most economical way to cook, gas is also predictable. You always know just how much heat you're getting because you can see the flame. And, precise temperature control is what nine out of 10 professional chefs agree makes the difference between outstanding cooking and just plain cooking. Gas gives immediate response and constant temperature, so important in oven cooking.

So, give yourself every advantage and cook with gas. Remember, people who cook with pride cook with gas.

Here's one of Mrs. Zotos' favorite recipes.

CHICKEN OREGANO

Mrs. Alex Zotos, 3622 Maple, Odessa

Quarter 2 fryers. Wash and dry; and squeeze juice of one lemon over pieces. Salt, pepper and paprika chicken on both sides. In large skillet melt 1 stick butter and quickly brown chicken pieces. Place in oblong pan. In butter left in pan add 1/2 cup red wine, 1/2 can tomato paste (3 oz.), 2 cups water, 1 tablespoon celery flakes, 2 cloves garlic. Bring to boil. Pour over chicken. Sprinkle about 2 1/2 teaspoons oregano over chicken. Bake covered for one hour at 350 degrees; uncover last 10 minutes for browning.

Meat and Rice Dressing

Saute 2 onions, chopped, in 1/2 stick butter, add 1 cup uncooked rice; saute together until golden. Add 1 1/2 lbs. ground round and brown. Add 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1 teaspoon coriander, pepper to taste, 2 1/2 teaspoons salt, add 1/2 cup sliced mushrooms, 2 1/2 cups water and 1/2 cup red wine. Cook until done about 20 minutes. When cooked toss in toasted pecans and almonds, if desired. Serve sauce from chicken over all.

'Washington Whirl' Bursts The Dream Bubbles Of Girls

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie Bergstrom, chief of the Capitol Hill Employment Center, always make a girl's existence in Washington easier. Salaries often barely climb above $6,000 a year, apartments are hard to find and are costly and, as in major cities everywhere, crime is of concern.

Then why do so many of the girls stay?

Not all find their work and life distasteful. "I'm here for the fun, fling-type experience you could never find in another city," says a secretary to a State Department official.

And to Julie, who found her first job intolerable, her non-working life makes Washington worthwhile.

"Life here is pleasant," she says. "I can ride my bike to work. I live in a house in Georgetown with some other girls and pick figs from my bedroom window. Life here isn't a hassle."

For some young women all this can add up to an around-the-corner romance with a married man at the office—"I can understand becoming involved with married men you work with," one girl says. "You spend more time with these men than their wives do."

If loneliness and dull work don't always end in a motel with another woman's husband, they can lead to the singles bar circuit.

Although all the girls interviewed for this article found such bars distasteful—"It makes you feel kind of cheap and you hate to appear available"—they abound in Washington. The owner of five singles bars said, in fact, he has developed "well over a million dollar business."

There does appear to be a middle ground. Royce Ragland, a 26-year-old teacher from Chester, Ill., has never been to embassy dinners or diplomatic functions and she doesn't follow the Capitol Hill cocktail party circuit.

Neither does she frequent the singles bars.

Her social life is made up of small dinner parties for a handful of friends. She fixes the dinner and her boyfriend brings the wine and liquor.

"It's cheaper," Miss Ragland says, "than going out even if there were a lot of places to go."

SUCCESSFUL SINGLE GIRL — Hortence Mena, whose nickname is Hank, started government work at a lower job but is now legislative assistant in the office of Texas Democratic Congressman Henry B. Gonzales. Her story is rare in a town where more dreams are broken than realized. Many single girls flock to Washington only to find themselves working at dull tasks in drab, crowded offices for little money.

Rhodesian Missionary To Speak At Loraine

WESTBROOK (SC) — A study of Taiwan was given at the First Baptist Church in Loraine Wednesday. Mrs. Altis Clemmer, Women's Missionary Union president, introduced the participants. Mrs. T. J. Riden, Mrs. T. L. Holman, Mrs. Clara Butler, Mrs. Pauline Smiley, Mrs. Harvey Leach, Mrs. Clarence Minton and Mrs. Zeta Baird. Prayers were worded by Mrs. Hoyt Roberts and Mrs. Frank Hodnett.

Preceding the meeting, dinner was served. A general WMU meeting will be held at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday. Members will again visit Loraine at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday, to hear a missionary from Rhodesia. Eleven boxes of clothing and other goods were sent to the River Ministry in Rio Hondo last week. The "Week of Prayer for Foreign Missions" will be observed Nov. 29 to Dec. 6.

Guests of the W. A. Bells have been the Larry Bells and Ralph Bryants, Odessa; Mrs. Tommy Blaine, Coleman; and Patricia Bell and Nita Beach of Brownwood.

The D. A. Oglesbys and Mrs. Frank Oglesby were in Abilene over the weekend to attend ordination services for Wayne Brown, husband of the former Dana Oglesby, the D. A. Oglesbys' granddaughter.

Rev. and Mrs. F. W. Hodnett attended the Associational Baptist Conference in Hermitage and were in Dallas over the weekend.

Mrs. Ozro Allison who has been hospitalized with a heart attack is recuperating at her home in Chalk.

Mrs. A. C. Moody was admitted to Root Memorial Hospital in Colorado City Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Fuson of Big Sake are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Moody.

Mrs. Betty Webster is hospitalized in Colorado City.

Berta Becketts Have Luncheon

Members of the Berta Beckett Sunday school class of First Baptist Church met Saturday for a luncheon at the Downtown Tea Room where tables were decorated with chrysanthemums and other fall flowers.

The invocation was by Miss Gladys Hardy, and the devotion brought by Mrs. L. S. Patterson was entitled "The Church and the World." The closing prayer was by Mrs. O. N. Green.

Mrs. Malcolm Patterson was a guest.

The December meeting will be in the home of Mrs. Beulah Bryant, 900 Abrams.

Inspection Held At IOOF Lodge

Guests at the Ladies Auxiliary of IOOF Patriarch Militant dinner meeting Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Armstrong of Canton 28, San Angelo. Armstrong conducted an inspection. Another guest was Mrs. J. T. Ervin, Lubbock.

The covered-dish supper was served in a Thanksgiving motif from a table covered with orange overlaid with ecru lace and centered with a turkey. The next meeting will be a Christmas party Dec. 12 at the IOOF Hall.

Mrs. Don Bradley Honored At Shower

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Don Bradley was honored recently at a baby shower in the fellowship hall of Forsan Baptist Church.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. E. Otey, Mrs. Leon Ward, Mrs. Lee Yarborough, Mrs. Jimmy Shoultz, Mrs. D. W. Day, Mrs. Bill Cregar, Mrs. Tom Evans, Mrs. D. D. Baggett, Mrs. Oscar Boeker, Mrs. J. F. Foyner, Mrs. George White, Mrs. W. L. Barnes, Mrs. David Redwine and Mrs. Bob Wash. They presented the honoree with a pink carnation corsage tied with blue ribbon.

The refreshment table, covered with a white linen cloth, was centered with a yellow net stork. Cake and punch were served.

Pink roses in a blue vase graced the register table. Among those attending was Mrs. Joe Evans of Big Spring.

Story Is Read To Friendship Class

A short story, "Dad's Thanksgiving Lamp," was a highlight of a luncheon for the Friendship Class, Wesley United Methodist Church, Saturday at the Downtown Tea Room. Mrs. J. W. Brigan read the story. Mrs. Flo Odum presided at the business session, and members contributed $5 to the United Fund. Mrs. Alta King worded the prayer and devotion. Mrs. Ellen Shafer, Garden City, was a guest.

Palmistry Explained To Forum

A person's left hand will reveal his inherited characteristics and future, and his right hand will show what he has accomplished according to Mrs. Adrian Randle, guest speaker Thursday for the Junior Woman's Forum.

Mrs. William Archibald, 1018 Baylor, was hostess, and Mrs. Jay Miltstead was the cohostess. Mrs. Randle, who has studied palmistry as a hobby for 25 years, showed members how to read their palms, and related the history of palmistry. She pointed out various lines telling the number of children the individual will have, and if money passes quickly through a person's hands. A satiny feeling to the hand might mean a predisposition to arthritis, Mrs. Randle noted.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with white linen and centered with a cornucopia filled with fall vegetables and pyracantha. Mrs. Archibald presided, as plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party for children at Westside Center, and a forum party which will include members' husbands.

Guests were Mrs. Ralph Mahoney, Mrs. Harvey McKrosky, Mrs. Ronnie Howard and Mrs. Susan Moore.

Emerald Room Scene Of Bridal Luncheon

Miss Paula Ann Buckner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buckner, 1413 E. 18th, was honored at a pre-nuptial luncheon Saturday at 1 p.m. in the Emerald Room of Big Spring Country Club. Miss Buckner is the bride-elect of Robert Steven Chrane, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Chrane, Sterling City Route.

Hostesses for the complimentary affair were Mrs. G. T. Hall and her daughter, Miss Marie Hall.

Miss Buckner was attired in a pale blue sleeveless dress with white trim at the rounded neckline. She was presented a corsage of pink roses tied with burgundy ribbon, and similar corsages, tied with pink ribbon, were presented to both mothers.

The 20 guests were seated at a crossed table arrangement featuring pale pink linen cloths, and the center table held a massive epergne arrangement of pink carnations, deep red roses, spider mums, babies' breath and fern. Pink, white and rose colored ribbons extended from the central arrangement to four smaller arrangements, which were nosegays of the same flowers with accents of lavender.

Mrs. Buckner and Mrs. Chrane were both attired in red; Mrs. Buckner's knit suit featuring trim of blue and white, and Mrs. Chrane's coat-dress accented with gold buttons. Mrs. Hall wore a soft brown suit with pink scarf, and Miss Hall chose a green wool dress with gold necklace. The hostesses presented Miss Buckner with a pink peignoir set.

The engaged couple, students at Howard County Junior College, plans a Jan. 8 wedding at the First Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. J. Looney Is Coffee Hostess

Mrs. Jesse Looney, 611 Colgate, was hostess for an informal coffee Saturday for the Opti-Mrs. Club. Coffee was served from crystal appointments at a table covered with a multi-shaded orange cloth centered with a fall floral arrangement. The next meeting will be a progressive Christmas party Dec. 15, beginning in the home of Mrs. Bill Tune.

Honor Masons

LAMESA (SC) — The Order of Eastern Star met Thursday at 6 p.m. in the Masonic Hall for a dinner honoring the Masons. A chapter business meeting was held after the dinner.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Wait on the Lord: be of good courage, and he shall strengthen thine heart. (Psalm 27:14)
PRAYER: Heavenly Father, forgive us when we forget You and run ahead of You. Help us to remember the words of Jesus. "Apart from me you can do nothing." Amen.
(From the Upper Room)

Putting Fortunes To Good

Multi-millionaires are not always admirable people, even if they give a lot of money to good causes. Obviously, though, wise philanthropy may excuse some of the sins committed in building up riches.
This is certainly true of Andrew Carnegie, the subject of a new biography by Joseph F. Wall. On balance, he comes out quite well.
The child of poor parents who moved from Scotland to Pittsburgh, Carnegie advanced swiftly in the business world and finally organized the Carnegie Steel Corp. It must be said that, though he avoided clear identification with the harsh anti-labor policy of his partner, Henry C. Frick, he willingly profited by it. In 1900, he sold the firm to a syndicate headed by J. Pierpont Morgan, thus creating the United States Steel Corp.

In his later years Carnegie began a determined program of giving away his enormous wealth. While he never fulfilled his reputed aim of dying poor, he did try hard. His best-known philanthropy, spread all over the United States, was the Carnegie public libraries. In setting up these libraries Carnegie aimed to let American children help themselves by reading, something he had been able to do as a boy because a kindly neighbor let him browse among his books.
For all his faults, Andrew Carnegie on the whole set a good example for others who make fortunes in our free-enterprise system.

Break For Consumers

The federal government buys enormous quantities of consumer goods ranging from typewriter ribbons to automobiles. It does some testing as a partial basis for deciding which products to buy. The consuming public could benefit by knowing what such tests reveal about the relative value of goods. Since tax money pays for the testing, the public should have access to the results.
This is the rationale which underlies the disclosure order just signed by President Nixon. Disclosure will not be complete: The President himself indicated the limits when he said that "we cannot do this in a way that divulges trade secrets or discourages bidding on contracts or puts the government into the 'seal of approval' business." Another inhibiting factor is that the government accumulates a disappointingly small amount of brand-name information.

The presidential order is a step of potentially great significance, all the same. Consumer groups have long advocated release of government product test data. A specific advance toward realization of that goal has now been made.

David Lawrence Need To Restore Prosperity

WASHINGTON — When the Federal Reserve Board ordered a reduction in the interest rate it charges banks, it was the first time since April, 1967, that this restraint on borrowing had been in the slightest degree reduced. It indicates a new trend in the economy — a desire to restore normal conditions. This means, of course, an expansion of the money supply so that many enterprises which have been delayed can be financed and the way opened to substantial progress in the creation of jobs.

THE ADMINISTRATION has been caught between two pressures. One is the desire to slow inflation, and the other is to try to avoid such a disturbance to the economy as might prove the forerunner of extensive unemployment. Apparently the Federal Reserve Board is convinced that a small decrease in the prime interest rate for banks now will not have a negative effect but, on the whole, will prove constructive.

For the administration today is confronted with the necessity of effort to restore prosperity in the putting its whole weight behind an effort to restore prosperity in the nation. The unemployment epidemic has been spreading, and the moderate growth of the money supply is one of the factors that would naturally curb the start of new enterprises and hence prevent new jobs from being developed in various industries as well as discourage existing businesses from continuing work along accustomed lines.

PERHAPS THE BIGGEST single problem has been the gradual diminution of public confidence and the feeling that the recession would spread. Many plans for new construction have been set aside because of the uncertainties in borrowing money. If it becomes evident that mortgage money will be less expensive, the economy will surely undertake many housing projects that have been temporarily suspended.

THE ADMINISTRATION has no more important task today than to put the economy back on the road. Not only have the unemployment figures been disturbing, but the alarming increase in the number of corporations forced to operate in the red has produced a wide feeling of pessimism reflected to no small extent in layoffs not only of lower-paid workers but also the higher-salaried as well. In many of the service businesses, executives have lost their jobs.

SO THE NIXON administration will have to turn away from analyses of the recent election and begin to think of what can be a political catastrophe for it in 1972 unless the next several months bring America an economic status more satisfactory than exists today. For one thing, the amount of tax revenue collected from individuals and corporations may prove surprisingly less than estimated if business is not substantially improved. So the federal government has a duty to use all powers available to it to stimulate business activity and remove the barriers to prosperity.

ONE OF THE principal obstacles to a balanced economy today is the high wage scales being imposed at a time when the high prices that are necessitated as a result deter the sales needed to meet such expenses. The time has come for the federal government to declare some form of wage-and-price "holiday" which will maintain for a fixed period a moratorium on changes in wages and prices, so that the nation can overcome the handicaps of inflation.
More rigid controls may some day have to be imposed and some system of measuring productivity gains will have to be adopted, but thus far the government has steered away from intervention.
The real question now, however, is whether the administration can get "good times" back before the elections of November, 1972.

Tuition On Credit

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — The University of New Mexico has made arrangements with two major credit card companies for cardholders to charge tuition, books, housing, athletic events, concert hall and golf course fees during the 1970-71 school year.
UNM vice president for finance, John Perovich, says it is hoped the arrangements will aid in cutting down on the number of receivable accounts carried by the university.

Fast Food

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans will spend about $124 billion for food and beverages this year, and meals at "franchised fast food outlets" will account for between $5 and $6 billion of the total, according to Arthur D. Little, Inc., a research, engineering and management consulting firm.
"Drive-in" restaurants with a limited menu and little service have grown from about a half-billion dollars in sales 10 years ago, and are expected to reach $11 and $12 billion in the next five years.

BETTER THAN NOT TALKING AT ALL

John Cunniff Needed: Men Who Can Cut A Budget

NEW YORK (AP) — What corporations need today in a sluggish economy are seasoned managers, take-charge types who know how to develop a "shrink strategy," said Dr. Eugene Jennings, one of the nation's foremost business consultants.
Instead, they are overloaded with expansion-minded men whose talents were vigorously and successfully exercised during the great boom of the 1960s, but who either never learned or have forgotten how to cut a budget.

The result, says Jennings, is that some of America's giant corporations are urgently in need of one type of manager at the very time they are dismissing another. Seldom, says Jennings, has there been such activity in the executive suite.
"A growth economy needs cerebral, creative, innovative people," Jennings commented in an interview. "But now we have an economy that demands cutbacks. Companies need in-charge men—steady, patient, tough, thorough, non-nonsense, bureaucratic."
In a sense, the old pro quarterbacks, delegated to the sidelines or to special jobs, are being handed the ball again. "They won't find great new markets but they'll manage the current ones well," said Jennings.

One of the most obvious victims of the reversal of management strategy, Jennings notes, is the young, go-go type executive who was pushed ahead of older, more cautious managers during the 1960s.
Some of these young men, Jennings found, turned out to be mushrooms, meaning they grew fast when conditions were perfect but added little to their substance as they advanced and so withered in the economic downturn.
In their place now are men who may have been passed over. Typically, they are in their 50s, having survived the recession of 1958 with knowledge of how to reverse gears.
Jennings, a Michigan State University professor who has studied executive movements since 1948, gathers his information from 41 very large corporations, chosen because he feels they contribute to a reliable picture of changes in the industrial complex.

Surprisingly, he found that while many authorities were expecting to see a decline in executive personnel changes because of reduced economic activity, the opposite was taking place.
Investigating, Jennings learned that companies were inclined to economize by encouraging early retirement among some managers in their 60s, and by firing some of the 40-year-olds who were unable to adapt to tightened budgets.
He found that companies able to keep their younger managers employed, often moved them laterally—or even demoted them—stockpiling them for the day when the economy expanded again. They were being platoon-

ed. The analogy with football is clear. In a sense, Jennings found, you can't make an innovative young quarterback into a linebacker. You must put in the defensive platoon and shunt the offense to the sidelines, there to await a resumption of its type of action.
Many companies cannot afford to stockpile, however, and Jennings feels therefore that they must take extreme care to avoid laying off top men along with the poor performers.

Hal Boyle Apricots And Artichokes

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:
The smaller a midge is, the greater are his problems. Two of the problems that annoy midges in Manhattan most are bumping their foreheads on subway turnstiles and trying to post a letter in mailboxes placed too high for their reach.
I never met a man who liked apricots who had been a very good athlete in his youth. It has always seemed to me that apricots are more of a food for women than men, as are asparagus and artichokes. A woman enjoys eating artichokes because she can make a ritual of the movement of her hands without really getting much done to improve her character, better her nutrition, or reveal her defects. A man feels that eating an artichoke is simply an investment in time-wasting.
Anything a man does under the impulse of envy alone is bound to make him more miserable when it's all over.
An honest man is one who can go through his life and never steal an umbrella or a ball point pen—or claim credit for first telling a good joke.
An honest man also is one who can brag about getting a bargain at wholesale and later admit publicly he had been skinned and made a fool of.
The greatest killjoy to girl watchers is the first secretary in the office who shows up wearing a suit with pants. Sooner or later all the other girls will imitate her — and then everybody loses.

The best thing ever said about Manhattan's colorful and sign-filled Times Square was G. K. Chesterton's comment about how lovely it would look to someone who couldn't read.
Show me a man who always extends a helping hand to others, and I'll show you a guy with a numb arm.
Now that the ladies are beginning to adopt maxiskirts, what male hero will make an attempt to revive spats?
One of the things we can all feel thankful for is that Thanksgiving Day comes before Christmas. If it came a week later, it would be tarred and feathered and ridden out of town on a rail.

Moon Map

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Manchester University Library is showing one of the largest, detailed maps of the moon in the world — a map intended to give the viewer the feeling he is stepping on the moon. Zdenek Copal of the Manchester University Department of Astronomy working with the U.S. Air Force and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration prepared the map, which goes on permanent display.

To Your Good Health Lecithin And The 'Health Foods'

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Dr. Thosteson: Never having been in a health food store before, I stopped in one last week. What an array of things I never heard of before! And so tempting!
But since at 70 I am in good health, as I told the lady, she said I should get some lecithin and it would keep me from having hardening of the arteries if I took a tablespoonful every day for nine months. I told her I would like to find out more before investing. —Mrs. K.T.
Dear Doctor: I am interested in learning if a tablespoonful of lecithin daily would clear the arteries of a buildup of cholesterol. I was told this at a health food store. Would it do any harm? I am in good health, 73, but overweight. —S.S.
I haven't any quarrel with the "health food stores" if people enjoy that as a hobby. So long as folks comply as well with the basic rules of health and don't think that eating certain powders, leaves, extracts, and so on will guarantee health.
It also seems to me that some of the health food people must be a bit disconcerted to meet healthy people in their 70s who have done it without any "health foods."
As to lecithin and hardening of the arteries — well, lecithin is a complex chemical which occurs naturally in the body, and is widely distributed, especially in brain and lung tissue. It aids in the transport of fats in the system. Why adding more of it would do any good is hard to see.
We all have some degree of hardening of the arteries. It's a part of growing up, and eventually of growing older. At 70 (or earlier, so far as that goes) we can't undo the hardening.
Rather, combating hardening of the arteries is a lifelong process, mainly involving getting adequate exercise, keeping the cholesterol (and fat) level in the blood down to a normal figure, and avoiding overweight. Beyond that, the arteries will harden at about the rate dictated by our heredity.

Taking lecithin will not harm you, but as it won't undo any arterial hardening, I question whether it will do any good, and strongly doubt that it will influence your general health or longevity at all.
Although cholesterol has been implicated in heart attacks and other circulatory troubles, it is nevertheless vital to human life. For this reason, Dr. Thosteson has entitled his booklet, "Control Your Cholesterol Sensibly." For a copy write to him in care of The Herald, enclosing 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Around The Rim

Why All The Handshaking?

This and that:
I don't know but what the handshake is overdone in America. I mean why come to grips with everyone you meet. Who started this "gimme some skin, my friend" idea anyway?
No doubt it was originally an America plot. The Japanese bow and let it go at that. The British used to let it go at that, although lately they've taken a cue from the Yankee and gone more to the handshake.

THIS BUSINESS of handshaking is supposed to have started with the knights in olden days, who offered their right hand and thus show that they weren't going to yank out their trusty swords and stab you with it.
I admire the ladies. They rarely extend their dainty paws unless they expect some male to kiss it and they usually don't want to be confronted with that kind of greeting. Strict etiquette insists that a man never shakes a woman's hand unless she makes the first move.

REGRETTABLY, a lot of males who never feel at ease in the presence of an attractive female, are prone to take the initiative and lead with their grubby paws.
The proper handshake, if it must come to that, starts from the waist. The hand is never extended as if its bearer were going to give a "Heil Hitler" sign. Neither is it supposed to start from a crouch and come up from behind the knees, as if one man were going to plant a haymaker on the other fellow's chin.

Shake hands if you will. I think a better greeting is a simple salute, with cupped hand around the eyebrow, or mere suggestion of the curtsy.

DO YOU THINK you could melt into the night and lose yourself completely? Most Americans, seven out of ten as a matter of fact, think they could rub themselves with vanishing cream and start all over somewhere else.
It's not that easy, however. Most of those who do flee are either found or give up the charade and return home.

SOMEONE REMARKED recently that, starting at any point in time, bills multiply at 2.5 times the growth of one's ability to pay them; that fresh white tablecloths exert a powerful magnetic attraction to gravy and salad dressings, that chances of a power failure increase in direct proportion to the amount of food in the ice box and that a teenager's energy cannot be converted to useful work without the expenditure of an equal amount of energy by the person attempting the conversion.

Ghetto Residents

Shortchanged In Services?

By MICHAEL J. SNIFFEN
Associated Press Writer

Better police protection is the most frequent demand of ghetto residents seeking improved city services around the nation.

Complaints that ghettos are shortchanged in the basic services amply supplied to white neighborhoods are long standing but they have reached a new level in 17 cities recently surveyed by Associated Press member newspapers.

In cities that distribute services evenly over a geographical area and in cities that recently shifted more service to areas where the most people live, the residents of ghettos are saying their services still are not equal to their needs. They want enough additional service to make their streets as safe and clean as those in white neighborhoods.

THE SURVEY shows that demands for distribution of services according to need now overshadow lingering complaints of outright racial discrimination and have widened the many misunderstandings between city hall and the ghetto.

By far the most prevalent complaint was one of insufficient, slow, or misdirected police protection.

But the list of inadequacies also included fire protection; street cleaning, repair and lighting; trash collection; sidewalk repair; public transit; recreation facilities; building code enforcement; water facilities and traffic control.
In these areas, cities foot nearly all the bill, with little of the federal aid that has been so largely poured into housing, education and employment.

So where cities have found solutions, they have not found the money to extend them beyond pilot programs to all their discontented citizens.

HERE ARE SOME of the recent developments:
— Since July, blacks and Puerto Ricans in two neighborhoods of New York City have set garbage afire in the streets to protest poor collections. In another area, a street was barricaded with trash cans.

— In San Francisco last month, residents of an integrated, isolated public housing project seized a city bus to dramatize their unmet demand for public transit.

— Police in Flint, Mich., put special walking and scooter patrols in a model cities neighborhood, using federal funds, and cut crime by 23 per cent in the first month of operation.

— The black vice president of St. Louis board of alderman is in his seventh year of trying to get a street repaved.

— OKLAHOMA CITY budgeted money — $100,000 — for the first time this year for the removal of abandoned buildings.

— The city administration in Atlanta has opened little city halls so residents can air their grievances without a potentially costly, fear-ridden and frustrating trip downtown.

In virtually every city, officials maintained that their services were evenly distributed if not weighted in favor of poorer neighborhoods where the problems are concentrated, but no city was without complaints.

BUT IT IS in police protection that the greatest misunderstandings and conflicts arise.

Eugene H. Tennis, community relations director for Rochester, N. Y., might have been speaking for every official and police chief queried about the problem: "We have more policemen per square block in the inner city than elsewhere in the city." That's where the crime is, says William J. O'Rourke, public safety commission for Wilmington, Del.

Where police are concerned, complaints of racial discrimination are still heard.

Howard H. Brown, director of Community Action for Greater Wilmington, Inc., and Fred Tucker, a Flint city councilman both say: "They are policing us rather than protecting us."

Andrew Tully

—And Then There Was Dorothy Parker

WASHINGTON — Thank heaven there is a prescription calculated to restore a patient's sanity after the recent election. It is "The Life and Times of Dorothy Parker," well and truly written by an old colleague named John Keats, now, alas, exiled in Philadelphia.
The book could not have reached this desk at a better time. Aside from the delight that accrues from examining the work of a professional, reading this tome is a reminder that there used to be career women on the highest level who managed effortlessly to remain members of the female sex. Parker overflowed with malice and she always demanded her rights, but they were the rights of a woman, not those curious long-pants-and-moustache liberties of Women's Lib.

YES AND YES, Dorothy Parker's output was often the stuff of the battle between the sexes. But like the lady in a famous caption for a Thurber cartoon, she liked the idea of there being two of them. In one of her famous short stories, "A Telephone Call," the line, "Please, God, let him telephone me now..." could never have emerged from the typewriter of one of today's manly women.

HER POSITION was nicely ambivalent. Without fear of successful contradiction, I credit her with first using the phrase "women's liberation" during a luncheon interview with this then callow reporter for the New York World-Telegram. Rather grimly, for her, she applied it in reference to what she called the male's patronizing attitude toward professional girls. But then the real Dorothy Parker stood up, slyly.

"YOU UNDERSTAND," she added, chipmunk-grin crinkling her face, "I reserve the exclusive right to crying and to bawling off lover boy's checkbook."
That, I suggest, was a free woman who would find today's crop of female crusaders a touch tedious. If Parker ever burned her bra it was because she ran out of fireplace wood, not because she had decided some man was exploiting her.
AS THE NEAREST, if insignificant, representative of the male division of the writing dodge, she gave me a hard time over the superciliousness of my sex in matters professional, but she made casually sure I opened the restaurant door for her, pulled back her chair, and picked up the check.
Most of her writing, in fact, had as its theme woman's honest dependence on men. Her "Big Blonde" told the story of a woman who had been pushed around romantically, but the victim would have greeted with open arms and ample bosom one more exploiter.
FOR BUDDING young writers of the feminine persuasion, I would offer the opinion that Parker's bittersweet approach was one of the reasons she was acclaimed for two decades as the wittiest woman in New York. Accepting her femaleness, she bludgeoned not, but wielded the rapier. She didn't want to beat the male into unconsciousness, she wanted to sting him.
All the while, she fiercely reserved the right to live her life as she ruddy well pleased. She penned her own slogan: "But I shall stay the way I am — Because I do not give a damn."

Porker - Raider Shootout Headlines Saturday Card

Arkansas tries to oust those pesky Texas Tech Red Raiders from the Southwest Conference football title chase Saturday and that sometimes can be a large order in Lubbock as the Razorbacks have discovered in the past.

In 1966, Texas Tech stunned Arkansas 21-16 in Lubbock ruining all sorts of Razorback championship dreams.

Tech is 7-2 for the season and still looms as an outside possibility in the Cotton Bowl picture. Tech is 5-1 in SWC play. A win over Arkansas and a Texas A&M or Arkansas victory over Texas could throw the SWC race into a tie. And Tech would get to go to the Cotton Bowl.

Arkansas and Texas, both 5-0 in the SWC chase, are still odds-on favorites to collide Dec. 5 in Austin for the SWC championship. Events over the weekend didn't hurt that possibility.

While Tech was struggling to defeat Baylor 7-3, Arkansas battered Southern Methodist 36-3 while second-ranked Texas enhanced its national image with a 58-0 stomping of Texas Christian. In the only other SWC game, Rice won 18-17 over Texas A&M for outgoing coach Bob Hagan.

Bill McClard kicked an NCAA record 60-yard field goal against SMU. The ball hit the crossbar and popped over. The kick was aided by a 20-mile-an-hour wind. Razorback coach Frank Broyles said "I didn't think he could make it. It was a great kick."

Broyles said he debated whether to let McClard try it. "I pleaded with him but they wanted to punt," McClard said. "Coach (Mervin) Johnson finally said 'go ahead.'"

Texas, criticized for its listless play in a 21-14 victory over Baylor last week, poured it on TCU.

Texas coach Darrell Royal said "I hated to see those points climb up like they did."

Royal explained "I had them (the first team) in there when we led 30-0 in the third quarter. TCU would have the wind in the fourth quarter and nowaday 30 points can go like zap. It's awfully embarrassing when you take your first team out of a game then have to put them back in. It makes you feel ridiculous."

Pullback Steve Worster of Texas pulled a rib cartilage and played only about eight minutes.

However, he declared he will be ready Thanksgiving Day against Texas A&M.

"All I know is I'll be playing against the Aggies," he said. In other games this week,

Baylor is at SMU and TCU is at Rice.

HOW TO CATCH A BOBCAT

David Englert here puts the stop on Neil Sykes of the San Angelo Bobcats, an example of the rock-'n-sock-'em defense the Big Spring Steers applied to earn a 20-9 upset victory here Friday. Coming up to put the finishing touches on the play are Tony Dean (85) and Arthur Trevino (20) of Big Spring.

HAWKS OPEN BASKETBALL SEASON AT HOME TUESDAY

Sports fans will have little time shifting from one arena to another now that football season has ended locally.

Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. Christian College of the Southwest will meet the Howard County Junior College Hawks in the lifter for the basketball season. Coach Harold Wilder has had his charges working for weeks, but they've not been tested in a bonafide battle as yet. Christian, while probably not as loaded as in the past when it was the scourge of Texas Junior College basketball, is considered a formidable opponent.

STATISTICS Steers Outpace The Opposition

Hard-nose defense must have played a key role in the successful season just ended by the Big Spring Steers.

It is true that the Steers out-gained the opposition by 220 yards over the stretch, but it gave up 10 more first downs than it got. This is indicative that the enemy, while getting those first downs, wasn't getting much more.

Considering the Steers dropped two opening games, they went through the tougher district schedule with a 4-3 record. Most observers feel that except for mistakes of inexperience, the Steers would have won two more games. Anyhow, for a team that was picked almost unanimously to dwell in the district cellar, the Steers acquitted themselves with glory in a fourth place finish.

Back to that defense. The Steers picked off 13 enemy passes while giving up only seven of their own. They lost only 14 fumbles against 19 recovered from the opposition — and this after losing six in their first home game.

They broke even on penalties with 373 yards and led in punting with a 33.3-yard average against 30.9 for the opponents.

Dave Duncan was the leading rusher with 786 yards, or 6.3 yards per carry. He hit on 32 passes for 466 yards, a total offense participation of 1,282 yards. His completion percentage was 41. John Weeks led receivers with 230 yards and three TDs. David Englert, Tommy Fletcher and Harry Crosby each had eight catches. Duncan averaged 32.6 on kicks, Tommy Fletcher 38.5.

Here is the way it looked for the season.

DOOMSDAY?

It's Now Or Never For Dallas In Game Tonight

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The Dallas Cowboys hope to "run baby run" against the St. Louis Cardinals tonight in a crucial National Football League contest which has the "Big Game" tag in the Eastern Division.

A crowd of 55,000 in the Cotton Bowl and a national television audience (ABC-TV) will look on. Fair skies are predicted.

With a victory, Dallas could pull into a first place tie in the National Football Conference Eastern Division. A loss puts the Cowboys two games out.

"We know it's a big game," says Dallas coach Tom Landry. "We'll be holding nothing back. We've got to establish some sort of ground game. . . and we've got to start stopping the other people on the ground the way we did earlier in the season."

The Cowboys have been impotent overlard the past two weeks against Philadelphia and the New York Giants. And both the Eagles and Giants have run effectively against the Dallas Doomsday defense which has an injury problem.

Defensive end Larry Cole suffered a broken bone in his right arm in practice. Landry has indicated he may move Bob Lilly to Cole's place and insert Ron East into Lilly's position.

St. Louis, even though it gave Dallas a solid 20-7 thumping earlier in the season, is a one-point underdog.

Coach Charley Winner says "I'm sure this will be an emotional game for them after what happened the last time we faced each other."

The Cowboys have been dangerous in recent weeks with the big play. Quarterback Craig Morton has found Bob Hayes and Lance Rentzel with some long pass-and-run spectaculars, but Dallas lacks consistency.

Rex Baxter Wins Sunol

SUNOL, Calif. (AP) — Rex Baxter of Beechmont Country Club in Cleveland is the winner of the PGA national club pro tournament at the Sunol Valley public golf complex that ended here Sunday.

Baxter, who dropped out of the pro circuit in 1967 after eight largely futile years, birdied the final hole for a one-under-par 71 to make his total score for the four days 285.

By only one stroke he left Bob Duden of Portland, Ore., and Ernie George of Sacramento, Calif., tied for second at 286.

Tommy Bolt of Sarasota, Fla., led five others into a six-way tie for third place with 288.

Ratings And Bowl Picture All Jumbled

Nebraska has become the first major college football team to accept a bowl bid and now Coach Bob Devaney is shooting for first in the rankings, as well.

"I've never said this before, but at the present time I think we have as much right to be No. 1 as anybody," Devaney said Saturday after the fourth-ranked Cornhuskers blasted No. 20 Kansas State 51-13. Sunday night, Nebraska accepted a bid to the Orange Bowl on New Year's Day.

rain and snow while the Wolverines trampled Iowa 55-0 as Don Moorhead set a career total offense record and Billy Taylor gained 189 yards and scored twice.

It will be the first time in the Big Ten's 75-year history that two unbeaten teams have met in the last game of the season. Elsewhere, sixth-ranked Stanford was stunned 31-14 by No. 13 Air Force as Bob Parker threw three touchdown passes to Ernie Jennings. It was "the biggest game and victory in Air Force Academy football history," said Coach Ben Martin of the Falcons, who are in line for a major bowl appearance.

Bill McClard booted the longest field goal in major college history, a 60-yarder, and Bill Montgomery passed for 294 yards as seventh-ranked Arkansas intercepted eight of sub-quarterback Gary Carter's three touchdown passes and trounced Southern Methodist 36-3.

NFL Is In Dark Concerning Probe

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A federal grand jury investigation involving most—if not all—the teams of the National Football League opens today in Cleveland.

The U.S. Department of Justice has maintained absolute silence on the investigation, and NFL officials say they are completely in the dark on the purpose of the probe.

One guess is that the Justice Department lawyers want to quiz officials of the 20 or more NFL clubs from coast to coast about possible anti-trust violations.

Former Cleveland Browns lineman John Wooten, who presently is executive vice president of the Black Economic Union, says he thinks possible antitrust violations in the NFL merger with the American Football Conference will be considered.

Wooten said he was questioned a year ago by an agent from the Justice Department. "They were interviewing players all over the country,"

Wooten said. Questions concerned player conditions, possible violations of players' constitutional rights and racial aspects. Bill Guthrie, sports editor of the New Haven Journal Courier and president of the Professional Football Writers Association, said possible anti-trust violations were to be investigated. He quoted a reliable source as saying three-fourths of the defensive backfield of the Browns' 1965 title team was to be in Cleveland for the investigation.

Guthrie identified the witnesses as Bernie Parrish, Ross Fichtner and Walter Beach. Cleveland Browns head coach Blanton Collier was called to testify today, and Browns' owner Art Modell and some other club officials were asked to appear Tuesday.

Devlin, Graham Take Cup But Argentine Low Man

Buenos Aires (AP) — Australians Bruce Devlin and David Graham took the World Cup golf championship home to Australia today, but left behind the individual scoring title in Argentina, much to the delight of the Argentines.

That title was snatched away at the last minute by home favorite Roberto de Vicenzo, who staged a late charge before thousands of cheering fans to overcome a two-stroke disadvantage in the final 18 holes.

It was a contest between the old master and the young upstart from Australia. De Vicenzo, 47, has played in all 18 World Cups and this tournament was dedicated to him.

He had helped win the team trophy for Argentina in 1953, and won the individual title in 1962.

Graham, on the other hand, failed only two weeks ago to qualify for the lucrative Professional Golfers' Association tour in the United States. He is 24, a relative newcomer to pro golf, and was playing in his first World Cup.

De Vicenzo led during the first 36 holes of the tournament, fell two strokes behind Graham on the third round Saturday, and then fired a two-under-par 70 in Sunday's final round, while Graham went over 70 for the first time in the tournament with a 73.

De Vicenzo finished with a 269, 19 under par, while Graham shot 270. Next were Devlin, at 273, 14 under, and Dave Stockton of the United States and Alan Henning of South Africa, tied at 269, nine under.

De Vicenzo's score was a record low, breaking the mark of 272, held jointly by Sam Snead of the United States, George Knudsen of Canada and Hideyo Sugimoto of Japan.

The defending champion United States, which had won 10 of 17 previous World Cups, finished in fourth place with a 565. South Africa was third at 563.

Lee Trevino, the defending individual champion, was two under par for the tournament, and stormed off the course in disgust Sunday for the second time in the tournament. "I've got to catch a plane," he said.

MONDAY'S GAME

St. Louis at Dallas, night, national television

Cale Yarborough And Bobby Isaac Sack Up Race Honors

ROCKINGHAM, N.C. (AP) — Two drivers who wound up big winners in Dixie stock car racing, Cale Yarborough and Bobby Isaac, say they couldn't have had an easier time of it.

Yarborough drove his red and white Mercury to victory in Sunday's twice-postponed American 500 at North Carolina Motor Speedway and soared past the $100,000 mark in winnings for the third time in the last five years.

Isaac finished a poor seventh in the race but earned enough points to clinch the NASCAR Grand National Driving title, worth a bonus of $100,000 this year. His purse winnings already total $121,210, making it the best season ever for the 24-year-old veteran Dodge pilot.

There is one more race, a 100-mile, at Hampton, Va., Saturday on the NASCAR schedule. Isaac, with his title safely tucked away, says he's going to run it "and blow everybody off the track."

Yarborough took $20,445 from the American 500 payoff and ran his 1970 take to $117,200. His best previous season was $127,984 in 1967.

Sunday's victory was his third of the season.

Bobby Allison drove a Dodge to third place, picked up $8,195 and made his season's total $130,430 but he failed in the one thing he wanted most — the driving title that Isaac won. Allison, older of two driving brothers from Hueytown, Ala., had gone into Sunday's race trailing Isaac by 85 points in the championship competition. He needed to finish 29 places better than Isaac and he made a run for it.

David Pearson, who finished second, used the day's seventh yellow light slowdown to erase a full lap lead that Yarborough had built up with 12 laps to go. But Pearson still trailed by several car lengths when the final flag fell.

Yarborough's average speed was a record 117.81 miles per hour, although 47 miles were run under the caution flag.

PROSPECTS ARE Good For '71

Still thrilled over the performance of his boys Friday in beating San Angelo here in the season's finale, Coach Clovis Hale is looking eagerly toward next autumn.

"We're going to start off better than we did this year," he said. "We had only three seasoned players, but I never saw a bunch of boys come through like the rest of the kids did this season."

"In the game Friday they just got with it and played hard football. I think the turning point was our drive just before the end of the second quarter. At the half our offense line said 'Coach, we can block 'em out of there,' and brother that's just what they did. There was no doubt in their minds how it was going to come out. It was a tremendous team effort. Any number of boys played the best game of their careers."

The coaches did do a little shifting around for the tilt, moving Randal Brock to Center, James Pearce to tackle and Pink Dickens to guard to get some weight up front to match San Angelo's beefy line. But as for the game plan, the Steers never varied from their strategy.

Among the starters Friday, Brock, Arthur Trevino, and Cal Lowry will be back, but there are any number of others who were among regulars who saw action—people like Pete Shaffer, Gatlin Jones, Mike Adams, Ricky Steen, Ricky, incidentally, ran 104-degree fever until shortly before the Angelo game and was used only to kick.

There are several others who should move into starting berths, but there are a number of players coming up from the junior varsity good enough to take it away from them.

Blanda Does It Once More

George Blanda did it again... and the injury-riddled New York Jets did almost the impossible.

In a Sunday marked by upsets and near upsets in the National Football League, the 43-year-old Blanda, Oakland's backup quarterback, led the Raiders to victory for the third straight week. This time he came off the bench with less than four minutes to play, replacing Daryle Lamoni, and rallied the Raiders to a 24-19 triumph over the Denver Broncos.

Meanwhile, the Jets snapped a six-game losing streak by routing heavily favored Los Angeles 31-20. Quarterback Al Woodall tossed three touchdown passes as the Rams suffered their first loss to a former American Football League club. The Jets built up a 31-13 lead before Los Angeles scored in the final minutes.

In other upsets, the Buffalo Bills held the Baltimore Colts to a 17-17 deadlock; the Philadelphia Eagles played to a 13-13 tie with the Atlanta Falcons and the Cincinnati Bengals edged the Cleveland Browns 14-10.

The New York Giants had to rally to overcome the Washington Redskins 35-33, the Green Bay Packers nipped the Chicago Bears 20-19, and the San Diego Chargers got by the Boston Patriots 16-14.

In other games, the Minnesota Vikings virtually wrapped up the National Conference's Central Division title with a 24-20 victory over the Detroit Lions; the Kansas City Chiefs clubbed the Pittsburgh Steelers 31-14; the Miami Dolphins upended the New Orleans Saints 21-10 and the San Francisco 49ers belted the Houston Oilers 30-20.

The Dallas Cowboys play host to the St. Louis Cardinals in the nationally televised Monday night game. Rookie Grant Gribble's 36-yard field goal with 1:09 to play earned Buffalo its tie with Baltimore, the AFC East leader. Playing without the injured O. J. Simpson, the Bills got 130 yards rushing from Wayne Patrick and Greg Jones and two TD aerials from quarterback Dennis Shaw.

Defensive back Steve Preece picked up a loose fumble and raced 21 yards for Philadelphia's tying touchdown in the last period. Kenny Vineyard had kicked two field goals and Bob Berry engineered a 77-yard scoring drive to give Atlanta a 13-6 advantage.

Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown called his club's victory over his old team, Cleveland, the greatest of his career.

The Giants, trailing 33-14 in the third quarter, bounced back for three TDs in the final period, capped by Ron Johnson's nine-yard run with one minute remaining. A 57-yard scoring pass from Fran Tarkenton to Tucker Frederickson and another Johnson TD run put the Giants one-half game behind St. Louis in the NFC East.

Veteran Earl Starr raced three yards with three seconds left to pull out Green Bay's triumph over Chicago, culminating in a 50-yard drive.

San Diego dealt Boston its eighth straight loss behind John Hadl's second-half TD passes to Lance Alworth and Gary Garrison. The Chargers extended their unbeaten string to five games.

Clint Jones' three touchdowns and Gary Coozzo's passing paced Minnesota past Detroit, which had led 20-10 in the third period. Jones swept over for the winner from the five with 1:23 to play, boosting the Vikings' record to 8-1.

Kansas City romped past Pittsburgh on Len Dawson's three touchdown passes. He hit 19 of 24 passes for 257 yards while the Chiefs rolled up 424 total yards on offense. However, Pittsburgh remained tied for first with Cleveland in the AFC Central Division.

QBC MEET POSTPONED

The regular quarterback club meeting has been postponed from Tuesday to Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. because of conflicts with a basketball game in Snyder Tuesday night, according to Paul Shaffer, co-captain. Members of the basketball team will be introduced at the Quarterback Club meeting Wednesday night.

Milwaukee Drops First Game But Still Favorite

The Milwaukee Bucks' next loss will be their second of the National Basketball Association season. The only question is: when will it be?

They dropped their first game of the season to Detroit in the last minute of overtime and now have put together nine straight victories behind the combined talents of Lew Alcindor and Oscar Robertson.

The Big A and the Big O scored 27 points each Sunday night as the Bucks romped to a 105-90 triumph over the Baltimore Bullets. By doing so, Coach Larry Costello's team increased its club record for consecutive victories and solidified their hold on first place in the Midwest Division.

In the only other NBA game Sunday night, Clem Haskins scored 28 points to lead the Phoenix Suns to a 108-104 triumph over the Detroit Pistons.

Denver's Larry Cannon scored his 23 points in the second half against Utah to help make the coaching debut of Stan Albeck a success. Byron Beck's field goal and free throw in the last minute clinched it. Donnie Freeman scored 25 points for the Stars; the Western Division leader which dropped only its second game against 12 victories this season.

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP) — World champion motor-cross racer Bengt Berg defeated fellow Swede Ake Jonsson Sunday in the inter-am final race at the Phoenix international motor-cross course.

Aberg's Husky led from the start and finished by two bike lengths over Jonsson's Maico.

CUT THIS AD OUT!

This can be the most important advertisement of your life... because it may change your economic picture from "bleak" to "bright".

Owners who now service U.I. vending machines are growing from part-time to full-time operators with Company's financing.

As little as $500 to $1500 investment in U.I. profit producing vending machines can grow.

Time requirement is 6 to 8 hours per week along with a serviceable car. No personal sales calls. The machines do the selling for you. Just give good service!

Multiple Listing Service

(1) BUYERS AND SELLERS receive the benefit of cooperation between Realtors rather than being restricted to the offerings of a single agent or a series of agents. (2) Buyers, by contacting only one Realtor, may have access to the listings of all Realtors who participate. (3) Current market information, which is readily available through Multiple Listing, means that Realtors, their clients and the public are better served and informed. (4) Negotiations are carried on under rules of procedure designed to assure ethical practice, thus furthering the interest of clients and the public while extending adherence to high standards of practice.

Ark. State Wins Again

Arkansas State did it again. For the third consecutive year, the Indians are the football champions of the Southland Conference.

The top-ranked small college team whipped UT-Arlington 27-7 Saturday for Arkansas State's 12th consecutive league victory.

The Indians are a probable choice for the Pecan Bowl in Arlington, Tex., in December.

Arkansas State rolled up a 20-0 halftime lead before coming over to UT-Arlington which is 0-9 for the season. Arkansas State is 9-0.

Abilene Christian, 8-2, tripped Trinity, 5-4, 20-15 without the services of ace quarterback Jim Lindsey. Don Harr's 26-yard touchdown run was the difference for the Wildcats.

Lamar Tech rallied but could not catch New Mexico State in a 69-37 defeat. New Mexico State was ahead 48-7 at halftime before the Cardinals rallied to make it 48-37.

Coach, Player To Be Released

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Doctors in Memphis said there was a possibility Mississippi quarterback Archie Manning might be released from a hospital sometime today.

Doctors also announced that Ole Miss football Coach John Vaught, in another Memphis hospital for the last two weeks for treatment of a mild heart attack, was released Sunday.

Vaught will be allowed to meet with his coaching staff each day, but it remained uncertain if he will be allowed on the sidelines any time soon.

Manning was given surgery last Monday to repair a break he received in his left arm during the game with Houston.

Silver Bowl Teams Named

STERLING, Kan. (AP) — Hutchinson Junior College will play Wesley College of Dover, Del., in the fifth annual Sterling Silver Bowl football game Thanksgiving Day.

Selections of the teams were made Sunday by Bowl officials.

Racer Defeats Fellow Swede

PHOENIX, ARIZ. (AP) — World champion motor-cross racer Bengt Berg defeated fellow Swede Ake Jonsson Sunday in the inter-am final race at the Phoenix international motor-cross course.

Aberg's Husky led from the start and finished by two bike lengths over Jonsson's Maico.

Green Berets Will Lose Third Of Its Manpower

WASHINGTON (AP) — The elite Army counter-guerrilla unit known as the Green Berets will lose a third of its manpower to Defense budget cuts next year, say Army officials. Pentagon officers say they expect the 9,000-man Special Forces unit to be trimmed to 6,000 or possibly less in 1971. These officers say the cut is in proportion to over-all force reductions in the military. Present Army counter-guerrilla Defense Department planning calls for the Army to be slashed to 13 and two-thirds divisions by 1968.

CHRISTMAS GOAL
And, although it hasn't officially been announced, most of the 2,800 Green Berets in Vietnam are expected to be withdrawn by Christmas.

The moves coincide with a shift in the role of Special Forces from counter-insurgency warfare. "We're getting away from the blood and guts side," an Army spokesman said.

The Green Berets were a pet project of President John F. Kennedy, who first sent them into Vietnam in 1961 to recruit, train and advise mountain tribesmen and other natives in fighting the Viet Cong. But in recent years, less was heard about the Green Berets as the nature of the war changed.

"With the buildup of U.S. forces in 1965 and 1966, the attention shifted to the big action and the big units—the battalions and the divisions," said the Army spokesman.

CITES FRICTION
But intraservice rivalry also had a hand in the de-emphasis of the Green Berets. Ever since the first Special Forces unit was formed at Ft. Bragg, N.C., in 1952, some officers resented the idea of an elite outfit and questioned the concept of counter-insurgency warfare.

In an interview, the former commander of the Green Berets in Vietnam, Col. Robert Reault, spoke of frequent disagreement and friction between his men and the high command in Saigon.

Reault, now in Boston writing a book on the history of Special Forces, retired from the Army last year after he and seven other Green Berets were charged with murdering an alleged Vietnamsese double agent.

The Army, apparently to avoid trying the case publicly, subsequently dropped the charges.

TURNING POINT
The case "seemed to mark a turning point," explained the Army spokesman at the Pentagon. "It surfaced about the same time the Army was putting greater emphasis on the Vietnamization program and on letting the Vietnamese do more of the job."

But Reault claims the murder case left Gen. Creighton Abrams, the commander of U.S. forces in Vietnam, "with a pretty bad taste in his mouth."

In the future, the Army says Special Forces will be used in "nation building" programs to advise and assist the armed forces of other countries.

"Although they will still be trained in intelligence gathering, demolition and counter-insurgency, the stress is now on civic action," the Army spokesman said. "The Green Berets are trained to build as well as to destroy."

American Battlefield Deaths Exceed 44,000

SAIGON (AP) — Enemy soldiers and wounding 49. It was the worst casualties the Cambodian command has admitted in two months, and only seven North Vietnamese bodies were found on the battlefield.

It was the first serious ground fighting in the area north of Skoun since the 20,000-man government task force recaptured Taing Kauk two months ago and dug in.

SLOW FLOW
Cambodian troops continued to hold a handful of key strong points along the northern front but made no major effort to re-establish government control along the 32-mile stretch of Highway 7 between Kompong Cham, 47 miles northeast of Phnom Penh, and Skoun.

South Vietnamese Marines and Rangers aboard river assault boats moved along the east bank of the Mekong river to within 20 miles of the capital, shoring up that sector of the city's outer defenses. The Marines clashed with North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces over the weekend, claiming 44 killed and 34 captured. Seven South Vietnamese were killed and 18 wounded, a spokesman said.

Meanwhile, U.S. troop strength in Vietnam dropped to 363,800 last week, a decrease of 4,200 during the past week and the lowest in almost four years. Another 19,800 troops are to be cut by Dec. 31, bringing the authorized total down to 344,000.

Statewide Oil Allowable Cut

AUSTIN (AP) — The Railroad Commission halted the advancing statewide oil allowable today by cutting the December factor to 83.5 per cent of potential.

It was the first reduction after four consecutive monthly increases. The new allowable will permit maximum production of 3,815,992 barrels of crude oil daily next month, compared to 3,954,193 this month under an 87.3 per cent.

Total written nominations by major purchasers of Texas crude totaled 3,425,531 barrels a day, a decrease of 36,646 from November.

Only three of the 14 buyers whose requests generally set the trend for nominations asked for more oil in December than this month, 10 wanted the same amount and one purchaser sought less oil next month than in November.

The Bureau of Mines forecast for December demand for Texas crude was 3,525,000 barrels a day, an increase of 75,000 from this month.

Starting with the August allowable, the market demand factor has risen from 62.9 per cent to 79.9 in September, 87 per cent in October and 87.3 this month.

Sun, one of the companies which increased its request for December, actually was including the nominations of two other companies, rather than increasing sun's request.

A spokesman for Mobil, which lowered its December nomination, said the company was trying to "pull our stocks down."

Ben Ramsey, commission chairman, said Texas' crude oil stocks as of Nov. 6 totaled 109.2 million barrels, an increase of 4.5 million from a month ago and 9.7 million from a year ago. Nominations by major pur-

Moody Selected 'Young Texan Of The Month'

LAMESA (SC) — David Eldon Moody, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Moody, of 308 Terrace Circle, has been selected the November "Young Texan of the Month" by the Lamesa Optimist Club.

Moody is eligible to compete for recognition on the district level, according to Optimist Youth chairman Don Bryant. If he wins district honors, Moody will compete in zone and state contests. State winners are awarded college scholarships.

A senior at Lamesa High School, he has maintained a 92-point grade average for the first three years of high school, and has received a letter of commendation from the National Merit Scholarship Program for outstanding performance in the program's qualifying test. Moody is ranked in the top five per cent academically of his class.

Young Moody is the only high school student to ever be accepted into the American Society of Photogrammetry. He was accepted for his work in infra-red photography in assessing crop damage and identifying crops.

A member of the Golden Tornado Band, Moody is drum major and has been recognized as an outstanding band member twice. He has won first division honors three years in a row for alto saxophone solos in University Interscholastic League competition.

Moody is a member of the DeMolays, in which he currently serves as senior counselor has been a representative to Boy's State, and is a member of the youth council at the First United Methodist Church of Lamesa.

Moody plans to enroll in Austin College as a pre-law major after graduation from high school and later enter the University of Texas School of Law.

Infection Stalks Texas Nurseries

HOUSTON (AP) — A serious infection continued to stalk the crowded nurseries of Jeff Davis Hospital here with five more cases of pathogenic E. Coli found Sunday.

Since the infection broke out at the hospital, where a fifth of all Houston's children are born, 88 newborn infants caught the infection.

But doctor's at Jeff Davis, where the city's indigents are cared for, say they still hope to control the infection soon. So far no babies have died and only one child is listed in serious condition.

The infection was the most serious contamination problem at the public hospital since a staphylococcus infection killed 16 babies in 1958.
