

REALLY INNOCENT
Guilty Pleas
Ruling Issued
By High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — On a 6-3 vote the Supreme Court today directed trial judges to accept guilty pleas from defendants who protest that they are really innocent and pleaded guilty only to avoid a trial and probably a stiffer sentence.

The ruling, in a North Carolina case, resolves a dispute among state and federal courts by rejecting the notion such guilty pleas are involuntary and thus invalid.

"The Constitution does not bar imposition of a prison sentence upon an accused who is unwilling expressly to admit his guilt but who, faced with grim alternatives, is willing to waive his trial and accept the sentence," said Justice Byron R. White for the majority.

In other actions today, the Supreme Court: —Let stand a ruling that no photograph of the female anatomy can be held obscene, whatever the pose, so long as sexual activity is not depicted.

—Let stand a ruling that tenants have a right to withhold rents if landlords fail to keep their apartments in decent condition. The ruling, by the U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia, applies only to the capital.

The guilty plea ruling reverses the U.S. Circuit Court in Richmond, Va., in the December, 1963, case of Henry C. Alford, who pleaded guilty in the slaying of National Young of Forsyth County, N.C., and was sentenced to 30 years in prison.

While pleading guilty to second-degree murder Alford protested his innocence.

Alford had been indicted for first-degree murder. Had he gone to trial and been convicted he could have been sentenced to death. Had he pleaded guilty to first-degree murder he could have been sentenced to life in prison. By pleading guilty to second-degree murder he faced a maximum sentence of 30 years in prison.

THANKSGIVING TRAFFIC TOLL

CHICAGO (AP) — An estimated 670 to 770 persons will die on the nation's highways during the four-day Thanksgiving holiday, the National Safety Council says.

The council also predicted Sunday that 29,000 to 34,000 persons will be injured in traffic mishaps over the long weekend which runs from 6 p.m. local time Wednesday, Nov. 25, to midnight Sunday, Nov. 29.

The council said 696 persons died in traffic accidents during last year's Thanksgiving holiday weekend.

Panel Delays
Gasoline Tax

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Ways and Means Committee was reported today to have put off until next year action on President Nixon's proposed tax on lead additives in gasoline.

Rep. Herman T. Schneebeli, R-Pa., told reporters the action was taken "by informal agreement" at a closed meeting of the panel of which Schneebeli is a member.

Nixon had proposed a tax of $4.25 a pound on lead additives used in gasoline. If it had gone into effect on Oct. 1, the tax was estimated to have produced a yield of $1.1 billion in the current fiscal year. It also was billed as a move to reduce air pollution.

Buckeye Violence

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Police said today excessive drinking by students turned an Ohio State University football victory block party into a rockthrowing, window-smashing melee Saturday.

Businessmen in the High Street area, where the block party was staged with an attendance of about 25,000, reported damage and losses to their stores totaling "tens of thousands of dollars."

About 30 persons were arrested in the block party violence, which came after less serious disorders at pep rally Friday night prior to the OSU-University of Michigan game. OSU won the game 20-9. Police said there was some minor looting and window breaking Friday night and that about 35 persons, mostly OSU students were arrested.

At the height of the violence Saturday, the worst since the riots that closed OSU for 12 days last spring, numerous incidents of looting and property damage were reported.

Reds To Boycott
Paris Peace Talks

PARIS (AP) — Xuan Thuy, chief of the North Vietnamese delegation to the Paris peace talks announced today his delegation will boycott Wednesday's scheduled session of the talks.

He had scheduled a news conference amid speculation that Hanoi would skip the next session because of U.S. air raids on North Vietnam over the weekend.

North Vietnam said at the time the raids "seriously threatened the Paris conference on Vietnam."

Last May the Communist delegations to the peace talks refused to attend one session following American air attacks on North Vietnam.

In announcing his decision at a news conference at the delegation headquarters in Choisy-le-Roi, a suburb south of Paris, Thuy said his delegation would return to the meetings Dec. 3.

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Insurance Board's staff recommended new car insurance rates today that would average an 18.6 per cent increase statewide if the board follows its long-standing rule limiting any increase to 25 per cent.

Should the board abandon the 25 per cent rule, however, the increase would average 23 per cent for private passenger cars.

The proposed new rates are based on the board's recently announced policy that the investment income of car insurance companies should be directly considered in rate making.

Formulas for both liability and property damage coverage included an allowance of 8.78 per cent of each premium dollar for state and federal taxes and a 4.7 per cent after taxes profit from actual insurance writings.

If the board's staff had followed the formulas it has used for a number of years, the indicated statewide increase would have been only 11.6 per cent for private passenger cars.

The proposed new statewide average rate increase breaks down into 16.2 per cent for liability and 32.4 per cent for collision and comprehensive coverage—although these might be reduced if the board continues to impose a 25 per cent ceiling on

A Pretty Girl Is Like A Melody!!

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A University of Utah professor says having a pretty girl in your advertisement doesn't necessarily mean the ad will help your sales.

"Viewers may remember the pretty girl but forget the product," said Dr. James E. Fletcher in a speech to the Western Speech Association Monday.

Fletcher is an assistant professor of speech who is researching the physiological effects of mass communications.

He said ads that attract the most attention don't always sell the sponsor's product best. He said in his tests, the commercial which attracted the most attention was one that featured a housewife with baby odor. It also scored the lowest on retention and interest.

"The students remembered the housewife sweating into the soup," Dr. Fletcher said, "but they forgot the message of the commercial."

The same results were recorded in tests on other commercials. Fletcher said it appears that the physiological effects of advertisements should be studied rather than the pencil and paper survey methods now used.

Guinea Charging
Portugal Attack
'Death Commando' Raid Is Repulsed

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (AP) — The government of Guinea claimed today that mercenaries hired by Portugal tried through the night to land on its shores but Guinean forces repulsed them.

The U.N. Security Council at an emergency meeting Sunday night called for the immediate withdrawal of all foreign forces in the West African country and agreed to send an investigating mission.

NOT OVER — "The fight has not ended," Marxist President Sekou Toure's government said today in a broadcast from Conakry, the capital. "The enemy is still here. All night he tried to disembark other mercenaries, but in vain . . . Thus the second day of the war that Portuguese colonialism has imposed upon us is beginning."

Earlier broadcasts from Conakry charged that about 350 European and African mercenaries under the Portuguese flag attacked the Defense Ministry and the airport early Sunday to divert Guinean troops from northern and middle Guinea. They said the town of Boke, about 100 miles northwest of the capital near the frontier with Portuguese Guinea, probably would be invaded next.

The radio reported captured invaders said six to 10 ships left Bissau, Portuguese Guinea's capital, moored in Guinean territorial waters and sent in boats with the landing party.

Radio Conakry also spoke today of "the cowardly killing of a certain number of Europeans, two of them from West Germany" in a report on the fighting Sunday. The broadcast said the Guinean government "deplores" the killings but gave no details.

In a personal appeal to U.N. Secretary-General U Thant, President Toure of Guinea said his country "was the object of aggression by the Portuguese armed forces." He appealed for a force of U.N. troops to help wipe out "the last positions occupied by the Portuguese mercenaries and to pursue the aggressors' ships from our territorial waters."

The Portuguese government in Lisbon said Guinea's charge of Portuguese involvement in the invasion was without "the slightest foundation." A statement said Portugal "has enough troubles already in its African territories, because of its neighbors, to show . . . interest in creating more." Toure's government openly provides sanctuaries for guerrillas fighting the colonial government in Bissau.

SET IT FREE — Radio Conakry also reported without elaboration that French troops in Senegal were taking up positions along the Guinean border.

Guinea is on the west coast of the West African bulge, with Portuguese Guinea, Senegal and Mali on its north, Mali and the Ivory Coast to the east, and Liberia and Sierra Leone on the south.

Toure, now 48, has run the country since France set it free in 1958, the only one of the French African colonies to refuse to continue military and looser political ties with France. France in retaliation cut off economic aid.

SPOT FIGHTERS — Since then Guinea has been among the so-called Third World or nonaligned nations in international affairs, dealing with both the Soviet Union and Communist China, and with the United States and West Germany.

Thant told the Security Council session that Roger Polgar, U.N. Development Program representative in Conakry, saw fighters flying over the city and four landing craft.

TROUBLE SPOTS — Map locates Bissau, Portuguese Guinea, from where, the government of Guinea claimed Monday, mercenaries hired by Portugal embarked in ships and attempted to invade the west coast of Guinea. Also located are Conakry, Guinea's capital, and Boke, which the Guinea government claims probably will be invaded next. French troops reportedly are taking up positions, shaded area, along the Guinean border.

U.S. Tenants Have Right To Withhold Rents If . . .

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today a ruling that tenants have a right to withhold rents if landlords fail to keep their apartments in decent condition.

The ruling by the U.S. Circuit Court for the District of Columbia applies only to the capital. It is a landmark decision in that it upsets a centuries-old legal principle that landlords are not required to make repairs unless they specifically promise to do so in leases.

The Supreme Court made no comment in declining unanimously to review the ruling.

The case began when a District landlord filed suit in 1966 against three tenants seeking to evict them for failing to pay one month's rent. The tenants admitted they had not paid, but said the conditions of their apartments were below housing code standards. Since the violations occurred after they had moved in, the Court of General Sessions entered judgment for the landlords.

Later, however, the Circuit Court, in a decision written by Judge J. Skelly Wright, said landlords are accountable for keeping apartments up and that if they do not, tenants may hold back the rent.

Muskie Ahead — WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Sen. Hugh Scott says his home state of Pennsylvania would go for Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, a Maine Democrat, over Richard Nixon if the presidential election were now.

"In view of the recent landslide election of a Democratic governor in Pennsylvania," said Scott, "I would not expect a Republican president could carry it if the voting was today." But he added he was hopeful of a shift by 1972.

Egyptian Planes Zip Over Israeli Targets — TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israeli government charged today that Egyptian warplanes flew over Israeli positions near the Suez Canal Sunday in "grave violation" of the cease-fire along the waterway.

A military spokesman said four Sukhoi 7 fighter-bombers of the Egyptian Air Force crossed the canal in pairs and flew over Israeli Army emplacements from Ismailia, in the central sector of the canal zone, to Ras El Ayish, nine miles south of Port Said. Then they flew back across the canal.

DID NOT FIRE — It was apparently a reconnaissance mission. The four planes did not drop bombs or strafes, and Israeli troops did not fire on them, the spokesman said.

It was the first time Israel has accused Egypt of violating the cease-fire since it was extended Nov. 6 and the first Israeli charge of Egyptian flights east of the canal since the first 90-day cease-fire began on Aug. 8.

The spokesman said Israel had lodged a complaint with the U.N. Truce Supervision Organization.

During the first 90-day cease-fire period Israel complained frequently that Egypt was moving missiles closer to the canal. The Israelis several times published aerial photographs of missiles allegedly brought into the canal zone, and the United States once charged Israel with violating the cease-fire by reconnaissance flights over Egyptian territory. But the Israelis never admitted they had flown over Egyptian territory to obtain the photos.

Egypt over the weekend demanded again that the United States halt its reconnaissance flights over the canal. The demand, published in the semi-official newspaper Al-Ahram, was accompanied by a warning that Egypt might shoot at the U.S. U2 planes if they continue such "spy flights."

Violence In Texas Takes 20 Lives Over Weekend

By The Associated Press
Motor vehicle accidents claimed most of those killed over the weekend in violent incidents

Just A Minute!

NEW YORK (AP) — An excess time parking meter that records overtime parking has been developed by Rockwell Manufacturing Company. Fines can now be based on the length of overtime registered on the meter.

although the overall total was somewhat lower than usual.

The Associated Press began its regular tabulation of weekend violent deaths at 6 p.m. Friday and continued counting until midnight Sunday.

By midnight Sunday, the death toll stood at 20 dead with 15 killed in car wrecks. Shootings claimed the lives of three persons while miscellaneous incidents accounted for the remainder.

SHOTGUN BLAST

Ronald Leroy Alexander, 13, of Houston was shot to death ac-identally Saturday night while looking at a 410-gauge shotgun with a companion, officers said.

Two motorists died early Sunday as a car ran off Interstate 45 and hit a culvert 7.7 miles north of New Braunfels. State patrolmen identified them as Susan Leffewers, 19, of Waco and John C. Comer, 22, of Dallas. A car struck and killed Robert L. Plummer, 32, of Dallas on a city street late Saturday night, and police said the driver fled on foot. Basil L. Burns Jr., 43, walking with Plummer, suffered serious injuries.

DIES IN FLAMES

Sam E. Roberts, 35, an Austin laborer, perished in flames enveloping his car after it ran off FB 973 near Bergstrom Air Force Base just before midnight Saturday. Officers said the vehicle went into a creek 3.5 miles east of Austin and the gas tank exploded on impact.

Richard Brugger, 18, of Houston was fatally injured Sunday when a surf board cut a deep gash on his neck while he was surfing at a Galveston Beach. A three-car accident Saturday on FB 236 near Victoria killed Jimmy R. Lofton, 35, regional director of special education at Victoria. Five others were injured.

A car struck and killed Janie Benson, 23, Saturday night while she was crossing a busy west side street in Corpus Christi.

ELEPHANT'S DEATH SENTENCE PROTESTED — An uproar led by Mayor James Corbett Jr. has erupted over a 5-2 decision by the Tucson, Ariz., Zoological Commission to condemn Sabu, above, a two-ton bull elephant, to death because he attacked three persons in his 20-by-30-foot enclosure over several months. Officials have been bombarded by telephone calls and letters, many from grade school children, pleading for the elephant's life.

Nixon Dangles Lure Of Campaign Reform

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon dangled the lure of a comprehensive campaign reform bill next year in an attempt to win Senate support today of his veto of a bill to limit spending for political broadcasts.

Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania Sunday released a letter from the President supporting his plan to introduce a broader bill covering all news media.

In the letter, Scott said, Nixon pledged to work closely with Congress and the governors "to arrive at a bill which will deal with all problems of political campaigns, including spending limitations in a direct, effective and enforceable manner."

MAN, THAT'S CLOSE — Speaking of the two-thirds Senate vote needed to override Nixon, Scott said it would be "as close as a senator's whisker"—within one or two votes either way.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield agreed with Scott that odds were slightly in favor of upholding the veto.

Scott and Mansfield appeared on ABC's Sunday interview program "Issues and Answers."

The Senate originally passed the bill 60 to 19. Democrats said before this afternoon's vote they were counting on 61 solid votes to override and looking for more from a bloc of about 10 undecided senators.

DEEPLY IN DEBT — In vetoing the bill Nixon said reform should be across the board, not be limited to a single avenue of political advertising.

Nixon argued the broadcast limit might lead to increased spending as candidates shifted their advertising to other, less effective and therefore more expensive avenues to the voter.

Some Democrats have charged Nixon vetoed the measure because Republicans are in good shape financially, while Democrats are deeply in debt.

Scott said the vetoed bill discriminated against the radio and television industry, and favored incumbent candidates because it set few limitations on expenditures during primary elections.

Among proposals mentioned by Scott for his comprehensive measure were limits on campaign expenditures, a limit on campaign time and a system to allow citizens to write off political contributions as tax deductions.

RIGHT STEP — Mansfield said he saw merit in a broader measure but called the vetoed bill a step in the right direction.

The vetoed bill would limit campaign broadcast spending to seven cents for each vote cast for the office involved in the prior election, or $20,000, whichever was higher.

It would cover candidates for president, vice president, Senate, House, governor and lieutenant governor.

Those provisions, if they became effective for the 1972 presidential campaign, would limit each party to about $5.1 million worth of radio and television campaign time.

The vetoed bill also would waive equal time requirements, permitting televised debates between the two major party presidential candidates.

In the House, where a two-thirds vote would be needed to override, Republican Leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan has announced he will support the bill.

Gas Company Debentures Up For Sale

HOUSTON (AP) — Houston Natural Gas Corp. and United Gas Pipe Line Co., both of Houston, are offering $45 million in debentures.

Houston Natural is offering $20 million at 8.85 per cent due Nov. 16, 1975, plus accrued interest. The debentures will not be redeemable prior to maturity.

Net proceeds will be used to repay short term Houston Natural Gas borrowings incurred in connection with the company's construction program.

United Gas is offering $25 million at 9.75 due Nov. 1, 1970. Proceeds from the sale will be used to replenish working capital expended in connection with the firm's construction program and for other corporate purposes.

Children In Some Schools Given Drugs To Quiet Them

WASHINGTON (AP) — As many as 30 per cent of the children in some elementary schools may be receiving drugs to quiet them down, a government investigator told Congress today.

"This is a sober estimate I have heard," Dr. Leo E. Hollister, a medical investigator for the Veterans Administration, said in testimony prepared for a Senate subcommittee beginning four days of hearings on government drug-buying practices.

BRAIN DAMAGE

Overactive children used to be thought suffering from a small degree of brain damage that was undetectable clinically, he added.

"That a disorder usually believed to be relatively uncommon should suddenly become a major affliction of childhood is a mystifying matter," he said.

"The normal exuberance of childhood now seems to be viewed as pathological," he said. "In any case, large numbers of children are being treated with stimulants—usually methylphenidate, as amphetamines have a bad name at present—fc: a questionable diagnosis."

He also said the Defense Department is buying large supplies of the drug methylphenidate. These purchases, he added, "undoubtedly... reflect a major use in dependent children."

NEW PEP PILLS

Although the drug was introduced about 14 years ago presumably as a new type of stimulant but less potent than amphetamines, he said, sales were disappointing. They began soaring about two years ago, Hollister noted, after nationally published magazine articles described stimulants as beneficial in treating hyperactive children.

Medical authorities say some drugs which stimulate adults have a reverse effect which helps calm overactive children. Some authorities told a House subcommittee recently that drugs are an accepted way to treat a nervous disorder known as hyperkinesis—which has excessive activity and inability to concentrate as its main symptoms.

COST QUESTION

But Secretary of Welfare Elliot L. Richardson has said behavior-modifying drugs are not necessarily the best method of treating overactive schoolchildren, adding that other effective treatment includes remedial education, family counseling and psychotherapy.

The Senate subcommittee headed by Wisconsin Democrat Gaylord Nelson is investigating whether the government is spending millions of dollars for expensive drugs when it could buy cheaper products which are at least as effective.

As for the cost question, Hollister said that when a doctor writes a prescription he is placed in the "enviable position of spending someone else's money." But, he added, placing restrictions on government doctors should be avoided.

Hollister said the problem is one of education and that most of the information doctors receive about drugs comes from the drug companies.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠AKJ92 ♥AJ9 ♠J93 ♠73
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 ♠ Pass
3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—You have a good sound opening bid facing a partner who has opened the bidding and jumped. You should, therefore, entertain notions of slam. You may temporize, if you choose, by bidding three spades to describe a good suit and then follow up with a vigorous jump in hearts.

Q. 2—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠KQ5 ♥952 ♠A63 ♠10954
The bidding has proceeded:
North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1 NT Pass
3 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Three hearts. A return to partner's major suit is clearly indicated and if he takes still further vigorous action you may be inclined to show the ace of diamonds next for you have a near maximum one no trump response of nine points.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AJS ♥8853 ♠632 ♠KJ10
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♠ Dble. Pass ?

What do you bid?
A.—One no trump. While it is our policy to respond with a major suit when partner has made his take-out double, we regard this case as exceptional. It is an evenly balanced hand, well suited for no trump with a double spade stopper, and we prefer to set our future rest in that direction.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AQ43 ♥K10852 ♠1093 ♠Q
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
Pass 1 ♠ Dble. Pass
1 ♥ 1 ♠ 2 ♥ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—With hearts supported on both sides we should not be too quick to double the opponent for penalties, particularly with seven cards in the suit partner has bid. A single raise to two spades is, therefore, our choice.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AK5 ♥742 ♠AQ10853 ♠Q
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ 1 ♥ 1 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. Had partner's response come in the absence of an intervening bid, we would lean slightly toward a two diamond bid; but, in view of the fact that he made a raise bid, the two spade call is clearly indicated.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠AKJ95 ♥J4 ♠A97 ♠A104
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♠ Pass Pass 2 ♠ ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Discretion calls for a pass. With a partner who has announced possession of practically nothing, it is futile to carry on the fight.

Q. 7—As South vulnerable, you hold:
♠AS ♥AJ1075 ♠Q94 ♠AQ8
The bidding has proceeded:
South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 2 ♣ Pass
2 NT Pass 4 NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Six no trump. Partner's bid should not be construed as Blackwood in this case, but should be taken as a direct raise of your no trump bid. Partner is in effect asking if you have something more than the 14 high card points which you have promised. Inasmuch as your hand contains 17 high card points, a good five card suit, and a fit with partner, you should accept the invitation.

Q. 8—Both sides vulnerable, and as South you hold:
♠A1052 ♥Q42 ♠Q1064 ♠K107
The bidding has proceeded:
West North East South
1 ♥ 2 ♣ Pass 3 ♣
Pass 4 ♣ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Five diamonds. Partner evidently has a good distributional hand with which he did not choose to double. It is reasonable to suppose that your minor suit holdings solidify his two five card suits.

Decision To Bomb Draws Fire From Senate Demos

WASHINGTON (AP) — The U.S. decision to bomb anti-aircraft sites deep in North Vietnam has drawn intensive criticism from congressional doves already seeking to reopen a policy debate over President Nixon's Southeast Asia program.

With many Senate Democrats still ranked over Nixon's request last week for $15 million in new aid for Cambodia, Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said Sunday the 30 hours of weekend raids points to an increased, not lesser, American role in Indochina.

MORE WOES

"I think it (the bombing) means a reinvolvement, even if it is only on a temporary basis," the Montana Democrat declared. "I think it could well stiffen the spine of Hanoi and I think it could well retard negotiations in Paris."

In disclosing the raids Saturday, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird said the planes—some 200 of them, sources have reported—conducted "limited duration protective reaction strikes" against North Vietnamese missile and anti-aircraft installations to answer "attacks on our unarmed reconnaissance aircraft."

STRONG DEFENSE

Senate Minority Leader Hugh Scott, Mansfield's Republican counterpart who earlier asserted Democratic attacks on Nixon's Cambodia aid plan were motivated by 1972 presidential politics, made a strong defense of the bombings.

"We have had men killed in a reconnaissance planes," Scott said Sunday. "I would expect that there would be considerable concern over our dead in this matter and the obligation of the United States to redress that kind of wrong."

The Pennsylvania senator added "I do not look for continuous bombing . . ." He also expressed skepticism that the raids would affect the moribund peace talks in Paris.

GROWING CRITICISM

Both senators appeared Sunday on ABC's "Issues and Answers" interview broadcast.

In touching on the Cambodia aid proposal, Mansfield declined to characterize the growing Democratic criticism of the plan along with the bombing as an effort to bring about a confrontation.

But, he said, "I am not at all happy about getting involved in a new economic aid program with Indonesia, because I think it is only the start . . ."

"It will mean military and economic missions and it seems to me possibly to be a repetition of the old pattern in Vietnam."

SUGAR BOWL QUEEN — Bonnie Martin, 20-year-old Northwestern State University junior from Ashland, was chosen Sunday as Sugar Bowl Queen to reign over the Jan. 1 Sugar Bowl football game.

As he did on essentially every point, Mansfield disagreed with Scott and Laird on still another controversy resulting from the bombings—whether they also were aimed at North Vietnamese supply points.

"I think that was probably part of the reasoning, in addition to the knocking down of a reconnaissance plane," the Democratic leader stated.

Although Pentagon sources acknowledged opportunities for supply strikes existed during the raids they said the primary objectives were to punish the North Vietnamese for firing on the reconnaissance aircraft.

The raids, said to have been much smaller than a similar punitive strike last spring, were not really capable for doing serious damage to what they said are very extensive supply and ammunition storage areas, the sources maintained.

Mob Shooting In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Sol Landie, 49, a scrap metal dealer, was shot to death in his bed early Sunday by one of four men who, his wife said, forced their way into his home on the city's southwest side.

His wife, Mrs. Ann Landie, 48, who lay beside him when he was slain, was treated at a hospital for shock. She suffered an abrasion when the gunman placed the barrel of a pistol in her mouth to enforce his demands for money.

The men ransacked the home and escaped with an estimated $1,000.

The gunman placed a pillow next to Landie's head and fired two shots from a .38 caliber pistol through the pillow and into his right ear, killing him instantly, police said.

Mrs. Landie told officers the men ordered the couple to remain in bed with the covers over their heads while the four ransacked the house.

In August, Landie and Alvin Hurst testified before a special grand jury investigating organized gambling in the Kansas City area. Two days after they testified, 12 persons were indicted on gambling charges.

Chicken Cancer Costing U.S. Poultrymen Millions

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Ruffling its feathers, a chicken stirs the ever-present dust of a henhouse. Soon, the whole flock inhales a virus that may kill half within a year.

This is Marek's disease, a leukemia-like infection that is costing U.S. poultrymen some $200 million a year, by government estimate.

To combat a growing loss from the disease, named for the Austrian doctor who first described it in 1908, several manufacturers are busily producing a recently developed vaccine.

Studies show it to be 90 per cent effective, says Dr. Ben R. Burmester, director of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's regional poultry research laboratory at Michigan State University.

The vaccine, expected to be available commercially soon after Jan. 1, is given by injection to newly hatched chicks.

It comes from a non-disease virus isolated from turkeys by Dr. Richard L. Witter, a government research veterinarian. Two years ago, Dr. H. Graham Purchase, another government veterinarian, and Dr. William Okazaki, government microbiologist at the university laboratory, found that chickens given the virus did not develop Marek's disease.

There is no pattern to the lethal potential of Marek's disease once it infects a flock, but Burmester says up to 50 per cent may die within a year when the effect is most acute. More often, he says, the disease kills 20 to 30 per cent of the flock.

Unlike some chicken diseases, Marek's cannot be transmitted through the egg—meaning that a chick will not be born with the disease even if its mother is infected. Instead, the virus is contracted through the respiratory system. It floats in the dust and dander kicked up by chickens.

And while the soon-to-be available vaccine may signal a breakthrough in curing a particular blood cancer in chickens, Burmester cautions against optimism that it may help other find solutions to leukemia in humans.

Sex Discrimination Said 'Reality' In Journalism

CHICAGO (AP)—Members of the American Newspaper Guild attending a three-day conference on sex discrimination and women's rights, have charged that discrimination against women is "a pervasive reality" in journalism and an inherent part of the profession.

The delegates to the conference, which ended Sunday, passed a four-part resolution aimed at improving the rights of women in the journalistic profession. It will be presented to the Guild's annual conference in July.

"Exploitation by management will no longer be tolerated," a statement said.

The conference was attended by about 118 Guild members, mostly women. The Guild membership is about 40 per cent female.

A statement said the resolution will present four programs aimed at providing "the means for women to achieve their individual potential—for telephone solicitors to move to outside sales; for women reporters to become editors; for women to assume leadership positions within the ANG."

The delegates charged that women today were assigned to "feminine jobs" and excluded often from covering sports events through denial of access to press boxes.

The conference also alleged that circulation and advertising

Same Time For Robber

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A federal judge sentenced Ben Herbert Sutherland, 48, for a second time Sunday in the 1968 robbery of Northeast National Bank in San Antonio.

U.S. Dist. Judge Adrian Spears sentenced Sutherland to a five-year term and two 15-year terms to run concurrently.

The sentences were identical to those assessed Sutherland in April, 1969, and later revoked by a federal appeals court that sent the case back for trial.

A total of $4,457 was taken in the Oct. 1, 1968, robbery. Sutherland was accused of being a participant in the holdup in which another man, William James Kump, 22, of Mt. Morris, Ill., was shot to death as he ran from the bank.

First Woman Lutheran Minister Is Ordained

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP) — Her way to becoming a minister was opened when the Lutheran Church in America voted last month to make the necessary legal changes to allow women to be ordained. Yet the LCA is the largest of the three Lutheran bodies in America, with 3,146,234 members.

The new minister, ordained Sunday in a ceremony at the University of Maryland chapel, said her new role is not a blow for women's liberation and that she did not seek the ministry to prove a woman could succeed in this field.

The Rev. Miss Platz, a 30-year-old, curly-haired brunette who has served for five years as assistant Lutheran chaplain at the university, approached the altar clad in a simple, white robe.

"RIGHT ON"
The Rev. Paul M. Orso, president of the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church in America, administered the key symbolic acts of ordination: the laying on of hands and the presentation of the ministerial stole and Bible.

The congregation, which nearly filled the 1,200-seat colonial chapel, included officials of all branches of American Lutheranism and representatives of several other church bodies.

Contrasting with the familiar hymns led by the Gettysburg Seminary choir was the gayly-colored chasuble vestment worn by the Rev. Gilbert E. Doan, Holy Communion celebrant and regional director of the National Lutheran Campus Ministry.

Miss Platz herself had decorated the bright green vestment with orange flowers, a pink butterfly and a lapel button reading "Right On."

NEW STYLES
"If we don't do new styles," she said later, "we lose vigor." But she said she is against throwing out long-standing traditions completely and it was she who requested the traditional liturgy.

The Rev. Donald R. Heiges, president of the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg, who delivered the sermon, said "it has taken Lutherans far too long to give women the recognition they deserve in the church."

Asked what qualities she feels women possess that aid the work of a chaplain, the new minister said after the ordination women "generally tend to be more sensitive to persons and at the same time are particularly interested in practical details."

PATH CLEARED
The new minister was born in Pittsburgh and was graduated from Chatham College there and the Gettysburg seminary.

C-C Ballots Due Tuesday

Chamber of Commerce members have until midnight Tuesday to turn in ballots in the election of five new members of the board of directors.

The 10 nominees are G. C. Broughton Jr., C. W. Grigsby, E. L. (Lanny) Hamby, Norman Knox, Don Lovelady, Alton Marwitz, Polly Mays, Jack Powell, Ike Robb, and Dr. Milton Talbot.

The five new members will be installed at the next regular directors meeting in December.

Justice Boost For Lib Movement

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — The women's liberation movement received a slight boost here when a woman was appointed as foreman of the current Hidalgo County Grand Jury.

Courthouse observers said they believe that Mrs. M.F. Conner of Weslaco is the first woman ever to serve in the capacity of grand jury foreman in Hidalgo County.

Mrs. Conner was appointed Thursday by Just. Judge J.R. Alama and will serve until the current court term ends Jan. 1. The grand jury was expected to take up about 30 cases Thursday.

Merger Proposed

MIDLAND — The Midland National Corp. Saturday announced that a proposal has been made and ratified by the board of directors of the Southwest National Bank of El Paso to enter into a transaction which will result in the merger of the Southwest National Bank into the Midland National Corp. on the basis of nine shares of corporation stock to one of the Southwest National Bank.

At the time of the merger it is contemplated that the name of the corporation would be changed to United Bank Shares Inc. according to Murray Fasken, chairman of the board of the Midland National Corp., and Tony A. Martin, president.

Library Friends Meet Tuesday

Friends of the Library will make final plans Tuesday afternoon for the official open house of the Howard County Library Sunday afternoon.

The Friends meet at 1:30 p.m. in the library conference room, and all visitors are welcome, according to Mrs. Calvin Daniels, president.

Red Skelton Out Of Action

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Comedian Red Skelton is suffering from a painful back sprain which has put him out of action for the next couple of weeks.

A spokesman said Skelton, 57, twisted a back muscle while shopping and had postponed a scheduled Saturday taping of "The Red Skelton Show" until Dec. 5.

The postponed taping is for the show to be televised Jan. 4.

His Benders Win Praise

AUSTIN (AP) — Most working men keep their jobs separate from their hobbies, but Phil Ward, a neon tube bender, has used his skills to develop a hobby that has earned him statewide honors.

Ward's hobby is sculpture, and both of his works that have been exhibited have taken honors in the Art from Industry show in 1969 and 1970 and at the State Fair in Dallas.

Ward took up his hobby less than three years ago when he made an 18 1/2 inch diameter globe called "Our Nitty World" from 2,221 half-inch, three-eighth inch and five-eighth nuts.

The globe won the most ingenious award and went on to take the tri-color award at the 1969 Comal County Fair and first place in the scale model division at the State Fair in 1970.

Gold Bullion Conviction

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Sentencing has been deferred on an El Paso couple convicted on a federal charge they conspired to acquire and possess gold bullion.

The couple was convicted on the conspiracy charge and on a charge that they illegally acquired and possessed gold bullion.

Federal law requires a license for the possession of gold bullion.

A jury convicted Paul Wayne Stone, 36, and his wife, Erceel Stone, 37. A third person who was arrested with the couple last April, Augustin Ley, 48, has pleaded guilty to the conspiracy charge. All three await sentencing.

U.S. Secret Service agents and El Paso police officers said they confiscated $7,900 worth of gold bullion when they arrested the Stones and Ley. They said the gold was in the form of shavings and 19 small, oblong bars.

Manila Plans For Pope's Arrival Despite Typhoon

MANILA (AP) — The Philippine capital went ahead today with preparations for the arrival of Pope Paul VI Friday despite the aftermath of the most destructive typhoon in the city's history.

Church and government officials said Typhoon Patsy last Thursday, in which 160 persons were killed and another 300 fishermen are missing and feared drowned, had not altered plans for the first papal visit to Asia's only predominantly Roman Catholic nation.

The unofficial death toll had reached 160, and hope was fading for 300 fishermen missing in Manila Bay or surrounding waters.

RELIEF OPERATIONS

Massive relief operations were under way. Three fourths of the city was still without electricity, and the power company said it would take two weeks to repair the lines in some areas. But water pumping stations had been reactivated, and most of the city had water.

Typhoon Patsy tore down the banners and street arches erected to welcome the Pope, and one church official said they would not be put back up. Bishop Mariano G. Gaviola said the Pope had asked for a quiet reception and the decorations were intended only to demonstrate the Philippine tradition of hospitality.

"We have fulfilled that tradition," he said.

Asia's Roman Catholic bishops today opened the regional conference which the Pope will address. They called on "all people of good will, particularly those in the more opulent nations" to assist storm victims in Pakistan, Vietnam and the Philippines.

$10,000 GIFT

A message from the Pope said the Vatican was donating $10,000 to the Philippine relief effort.

The pontiff said Sunday in Rome that he wants to stop briefly in East Pakistan if "technically possible" on his 10-day trip to Asia and Australia. More than 150,000 persons perished there after a cyclone and tidal waves on Nov. 13.

As the bishops met at the Santo Tomas University, 20 young demonstrators demanded a church reforms marched peacefully outside. The pickets denounced "feudal lords" and "clerical capitalists."

POLITICAL POWER

Paul Cardinal Yu-pin of Nationalist China told the conference that the main social problems of Asia arise from neglect of the region's peasants and "concentration of political power in the hands of a few (which) has led to corruption, misuse of power and oppression, and has made a mockery of democracy in the eyes of the majority of people."

The cardinal said the "basic solution therefore lies in changing and reshaping existing social structures and institutions." The "salvation of the Asian masses must come from the people themselves," he said, and the role of the church is to help them in the process.

The ceiling of the meeting hall was intact, but half the roof above it had been torn away by the 125-mile typhoon winds.

Blue Norther Whips Texas

By The Associated Press

Temperatures fell like a cake of ice in the wee hours before dawn today as a bitter cold norther whipped across Texas from the Panhandle to the Gulf of Mexico.

But the arctic freeze was dry and weathermen promised it would shoo away the cloudiness which its vanguard had left sulking over much of East Texas Sunday.

Thermometers, numbed by the teens grip cold, plunged into the teens and 20s over much of the Panhandle and North Texas while in the extremities of the Rio Grande Valley it was in the 60s ahead of the front.

Conditions Sunday were blustery and biting as the cold system gushed down from the Northwest. Early morning temperatures in Montana were well below zero.

Near dawn today it was a biting 14 degrees at Dalhart in the extreme Panhandle. Amarillo had 18, Lubbock 24, Lubbock 20, San Antonio, El Paso and Del Rio, 38; Dallas 33, Galveston 55, Texarkana 36, Beaumont 57 and Corpus Christi 48.

Sugarloaf Crowd Below Hopes

Sunday's Sugarloaf performance in Municipal Auditorium wasn't as successful as its sponsors, the Big Spring Band Boosters, had hoped.

Kyle Ellison, assistant band director at Big Spring High School, said only about 500 persons attended the concert, which was expected to be a sell-out — 1,300. Ellison said that profits from the concert had not been determined but that the band boosters "hope to at least break even."

TRICKY SHOOTER — Vietnamese trick shot artist, wearing the traditional turban and Ao Dai, demonstrates his skill with a revolver and mirror while riding a bicycle during a pistol competition in Saigon, South Vietnam.

DEAR ABBY: You said, "When it comes to babies crying in church, apply the rules of baseball. Three strikes and out!" Sounds more like W. C. Fields to me. ("Anyone who hates dogs and children can't be all bad.")

Preaching in a church without children is, to me, somewhat akin to preaching in the catacombs or in some other graveyard. You are doing a fine job, Abby. But please stay off the theology kick. People can find enough excuses for not coming to church (and bringing their children) without using you for an excuse.

REV. RICHARD Y. ROSEMAN, Redeemer Lutheran Church, Bartow, Fla.

DEAR ABBY: Children in church? Even when they cry and are restless? Why not? Where else do they belong?

One of my fondest memories is of the Sunday a child escaped his parents, ran down the aisle and climbed into my lap during the choral anthem. The parents were embarrassed. I was thrilled!

Bring those children and come to church!

REV. WILLIAM B. GARNER, Payson, Ariz.

DEAR ABBY: When a child continues to cry in church and the parent makes no effort to remove him, the parent should consider these facts: A minister works for days preparing a sermon. Dedicated musicians spend hours inspiring choir and organ music. Hundreds of adults make an effort and some come long distances seeking strength and direction for their lives. The never-to-be-repeated moment is at hand. Then, all is lost because a steadily crying baby is permitted to dominate the service, distracting people from the message, causing them to see the inwardly.

Obviously the baby is unhappy and getting nothing from the service, neither is the parent who struggles to contain him. Then why not honor the child's wishes and remove him?

He will be grateful. And so will everyone else.

REV. JOHN MASON, First Lutheran Church, Beaver Dam, Wis.

DEAR ABBY: I have been a minister in the Presbyterian church for the past 46 years and I think the only way children can learn how to act in church is to be brought there. If a baby cries and has to be carried out by the mother, my sympathy goes with her for I know she is embarrassed. Adults who are so nervous and high strung that they cannot endure a few moments of distraction, ought to be in a psychopathic ward in a hospital. I say, God bless all mothers who bring babies to church.

REV. M. L. BAKER, Marshall, Tex.

DEAR ABBY: I would rather have more crying babies in my church and fewer crying teenagers and parents in my office.

JAMES A. DELONG, Lutheran Pastor, Tyrone, Penn.

DEAR ABBY: Our Bishop has a sign in his office I think is quite good. It says, "Promises, like crying babies, should be carried out."

ANOTHER MORMON, SPRING VALLEY, CALIF.

DEAR ABBY: A baby crying in church never disturbs me when I preach, but the one thing I can hardly stand is to hear a sharp report of a mother smacking her little one in God's house.

OMIT MY NAME, San Diego, Calif.

Lines Extended

LONDON (AP) — When Dennis Clark parked his car in a side street there were no yellow parking restriction lines painted on the road. But he returned to find his car standing on a pair of yellow lines — and a parking fine stuck on the window. While Clark was away council workmen had extended the lines under his car.

Kidney Failure Kills Ex-McCamey Fake 'Doc'

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Francis William Dalgleish fraudulently posed as a medical doctor at McCamey, Tex., last summer and treated 47 patients in 17 days, admitting 18 others to the town's hospital.

He died Saturday of kidney failure. He was 27.

Dalgleish, a native of Townsville, North Queensland, underwent surgery here in September preparatory to a kidney transplant. Doctors said his condition deteriorated before the transplant could be performed.

He arrived here Sept. 1, his air fare paid by McCamey residents who heard Dalgleish had

Commissioners Discuss Carpet

Carpeting in the new library was the main topic in County Commissioners Court today. Because of the discrepancy in the color and quality of some of the tiles, the Ozite Carpet Company has offered the commissioners a 15 per cent or $887.65 discount on the over-all cost of the carpet in the Howard County Library.

Figures on the exact cost of the carpet are not available. The cost of carpeting was included in a $5,000 total bid which included tile flooring, marble and mosaic tile, according to Bill French, of Kasch and Brothers Inc., who had the original contract for the carpeting and flooring work.

Kasch Brothers sublet the contract to Freeman Bell of Midland, who did the actual carpet work and obtained the carpeting from the Ozite Company.

Bell and French, along with Olen Puckett, architect for the remodeling of the old Federal Building, were present in Commissioners Court today. They explained to commissioners what they felt would be the difficulties and expense involved in removing the present carpet in the library and setting new carpet tiles in its place.

According to Bell, the cost of removing the carpet and preparing the floor for the new carpet would cost more than if a new floor were laid. He also pointed out that the library would have to close down for at least another month while the work was going on. Bell also said that there was no guarantee that the replacement tiles sent by the company would match.

Commissioner Ray Nichols then moved that the discounted price be accepted as compensation. All of the commissioners except Bill Tume agreed to the reduced price.

Commissioners also discussed the bonding of county workers. It was decided that a representative of Fidelity Deposit and Service Company be allowed to make a recommendation on the cost and feasibility of consolidating all the bonds with one company rather than allowing each worker to get their own bond with any company of their choice.

Suspects Caught In Roadblock

A police roadblock set up in the 2100 block of East Third resulted in the arrest early today of two youths wanted in Mitchell County in connection with the theft of a blanket from a car in Westbrook.

The two were transferred to the custody of Mitchell County authorities this morning.

One Hurt In Accident

An accident involving a car and a pickup hauling a seed trailer occurred at 8 p.m. Sunday on Rockhouse Road. The accident was reported to the Howard County Sheriff's Office.

Involved were Mrs. Lacey G. Low, Box 180, Garden City Rt., and Floyd Earls, 4016 Parkway. Earls was taken to Webb AFB Hospital for examination of a possible leg injury. The injury, according to information from the Sheriff's Office was believed to be slight.

Deputies M. I. Kirby and Jimmy Ellison investigated.

Poststrike Auto Expected To Roll Off Line Tuesday

DETROIT (AP) — More than 50 General Motors supplier plants were operating across the country today, with the first poststrike car expected to roll off an assembly line Tuesday morning, according to a GM spokesman.

The first GM car produced since the United Auto Workers strike started Sept. 15 will be a subcompact Chevrolet Vega, the spokesman said. It will be produced at the Lordstown, Ohio, Chevrolet plant and will go directly to a dealer's showroom floor, he said.

The Lordstown facility is one of five assembly plants scheduled to begin operations Tuesday. The others, according to the spokesman, are the Chevrolet plant at St. Louis and three GM assembly division plants at Arlington, Tex., Framingham, Mass., and Wilmington, Del.

The company plans to open production plants Wednesday at Pontiac Motor in Pontiac, Mich., Buick in Flint, Mich.,

Cadillac in Detroit, Oldsmobile in Lansing, Mich., and Chevrolet in Willow Run, Mich., the spokesman said.

The company had no immediate estimate of how many employees were involved in the reopenings.

The UAW has settled all local-level contracts at what GM has termed "key" facilities and 13 out of 24 assembly plants have settled local agreements, the spokesman said.

Tentative agreements at the last two GM plants termed crucial to the restarting of production came this weekend.

A spokesman for GM said the two agreements were needed to "assure that we can go ahead with startup plans."

Leonard Woodcock, UAW president, planned to meet today with representatives of the Ford Motor Co. in Detroit to begin working toward a contract there based on the GM model. Union officials were also slated to meet with Chrysler Corp.

GM officials said that although the startup operation is going smoothly it is "very complex and difficult." Reaching full production could take two to three weeks, a spokesman said.

Remodeled Store Opens

Officials of Hemphill-Wells stores headquarters in Lubbock were on hand at 9:30 a.m. today for ribbon-cutting ceremonies at the Big Spring Hemphill-Wells store.

The store has been extensively remodeled — with a bright decor that should be a pleasant surprise to Big Spring residents who shopped in the old store.

Mayor J. Arnold Marshall cut the ribbon and was the store's first "official" customer when he picked out a new tie.

Also on hand for the ceremonies were Bill Collins, president of Hemphill-Wells, members of the company's board of directors, Robert E. Hickson, local manager, and dozens of red-jacketed ambassadors from the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce.

Prison Farm 'Calm' After Racial Fights

COLUMBUS PRISON FARM, Ark. (AP) — State police said today the situation was under control at the state prison today after three days of racial fights among the inmates.

The inmates left their barracks this morning to go to work on schedule, said Sgt. Jim Wooten of the state police, which had sent 75 heavily armed troopers to the prison Saturday night to quell disturbances.

State correction commissioner, Robert Sarver, credited state police with quelling the fights, which he estimated involved almost 500 of the prison's 1,160 inmates.

Sarver said the incident "points out" the need for a decent budget for the prisons. He has repeatedly said the prisons need additional funds for staff and expansion of facilities.

The disturbance began Friday when fist fights broke out between a group of blacks and whites at lunch. Both groups then demanded segregated facilities and work details.

Sunday Sarver said that the prison, which was desegregated in April under court order, would remain desegregated.

Aged Cardinals Lose Church Voting Rights

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI directed today that the right to elect popes and hold the Vatican office be withdrawn from cardinals past 80.

The aim was to rejuvenate the Roman Curia—the central office of the Roman Catholic Church—and the secret "conclaves" of cardinals, the only men permitted to vote for the pope.

It also immediately rekindled speculation about a possible retirement by the Pope himself, who is 73.

DRAMATIC APPROVAL — The Pope's order came in a Motu Proprio—a document by his own hand. It follows by four years a dramatic appeal by the Pope to bishops to voluntarily retire from active office at the age of 75.

Since then there has been talk—never commented upon by the Vatican—that the Pope may be thinking of retiring himself. Today's order reinforced this idea.

Paul's two immediate predecessors, Pius XII and John XXIII, reached 80. Sixteen of these are both died in office above the age of 80.

The decree said cardinals 80 and over cannot even attend a conclave to elect a pope. But a cardinal who becomes 80 during a conclave can stay on.

Despite the new restrictions, cardinals remain members of the Sacred College and princes of the Church until they die, the Pope said.

The decree goes into effect next Jan. 1.

It has the effect of expelling from the Roman Curia, the central church administration, and from "other organisms of the Holy See and Vatican City" any cardinal 80 or over.

The document did not say anything about cardinals who are in pastoral jobs heading archdioceses. There remains no mandatory retirement age for them, although the Pope in August, 1966, asked all bishops and cardinals to voluntarily give up their administrative positions at the age of 75.

The document today is the most important papal move since then to rejuvenate the ruling circles of the church.

By Jan. 1, 25 of the 127 present cardinals will have reached 80. Sixteen of these are both died in office above the age of 80.

Female Anatomy Is Not Obscene

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court let stand today, 5-3, a ruling that no photograph of the female anatomy can be held obscene, whatever the pose, so long as sexual activity is not depicted.

Justices Hugo L. Black, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White, Potter Stewart and Thurgood Marshall joined in refusing to review the ruling, issued by the U.S. Circuit Court in Boston last June in a case involving two Boston booksellers, Justice

William O. Douglas did not participate. Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justices John M. Harlan and Harry A. Blackmun dissented. They said they would have reversed the ruling, based on their already recorded views that states should have considerable leeway to move against obscenity without interference by the Supreme Court or federal appeals courts.

The booksellers, Joseph Hunt and Joseph Palladino Jr., had served a few days of their three-month jail sentence for selling obscene magazines when their attorneys petitioned the federal court in Boston.

The petitions were denied but the U.S. Circuit Court in a decision written by Chief Justice Bailey Aldrich said "no photograph of the female anatomy, no matter how posed if no sexual activity is being engaged in, or however lacking in social value, can be held obscene."

Aldrich said the ruling was compelled by rulings of the Supreme Court. The case involved allegedly obscene magazines. The state of Massachusetts appealed for a reversal. Its attorneys said Aldrich's opinion was a "clear departure" from decisions of the Supreme Court and other circuit courts.

Odessa Burn Victim Dies — SAN ANTONIO — An Odessa man, burned over 83 per cent of his body in an oilfield accident Tuesday near Snyder, died in the Army Burns Center in San Antonio Saturday afternoon.

Dead is Ernest McCall, 18. Still in very serious condition at the center Saturday was Jerry Kool, 22, also of Odessa. He was burned over 60 per cent of his body.

The accident occurred when the two were operating a pipeline ditching machine when it hit a gas pipeline. The line blew up in flames burning both men, the men were airlifted to Webb AFB and to the burn center by military helicopters.

POLITICAL PRO UNDER NO PRESSURE TO CHANGE TEAM, TACTICS

Chotiner Still Calling Signals For President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite the mixed results of the 1970 elections, the man who called many of the political signals for the White House says there's been no suggestion of any changes in his team.

Murray Chotiner, the durable presidential sidekick who shares leadership of the political tactics squad, said in an interview no one has uttered a word to him that would indicate any alteration of his setup.

Chotiner is particularly disturbed by talk that the 1970 outcome cast doubt on Nixon's political sagacity. The President, he said, has a remarkable feel for political realities. Just the day before the election, said Chotiner, Nixon predicted Republicans would gain two, perhaps three, Senate seats and lose 10 seats in the House.

Chotiner insists he and Dent never have been rivals. "I don't think ideologically we have differed on any major point of discussion," he said. They have not always agreed, however, on strategy and tactics.

Chotiner acted during the campaign as political liaison man with GOP candidates and leaders in 31 states. Dent claimed the other 19—the Southern and border states, plus Colorado, Nevada, South Dakota, and New Jersey.

Exactly what does a political technician do around the White House? "Chores," says Chotiner. Could he give some examples? The reply was a blunt "No" followed by a quick smile, an avowal that "I don't mean to be rude" and a statement that 38 years in the legal profession had taught him to keep his mouth shut about work done for clients. NO EXAMPLES Yet Chotiner, who prefers to work in his shirtsleeves, chats amiably with visitors in his modest cell, interrupting the dialogue to handle the 50 to 60 phone calls he receives a day.

U.S. Spy Planes Returning To Assess Bombing Raids

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. reconnaissance planes returned to the skies over North Vietnam today to assess the damage caused by the massive weekend American bombing raids.

The air fleet was strengthened by the 85 planes of the 78,000-ton carrier Ranger, one of America's largest, which arrived in the Gulf of Tonkin over the weekend along with the 75-plane carrier Hancock. The Ranger replaces the Oriskany, another 75-plane carrier which is returning to the United States.

strikes were "unmistakable proof that the United States is resuming its bombing of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam." It again denied the U.S. government's claim that Hanoi agreed tacitly to continuance of the reconnaissance flights after the Johnson Administration halted the bombing of North Vietnam on Nov. 1, 1968.

Officials, Relief Agencies Battle As Thousands Suffer

ment of all relief supplies into East Pakistan. "We have all we can effectively control," said a spokesman, reflecting unwillingness to let the government distribute the organization's supplies among the 2 million survivors of the disaster, in which more than 150,000 persons—and possibly as many as 500,000—were killed.

RICE MEAL FOR SURVIVORS — Survivors of the East Pakistan storm disaster eat rice from bowls at Bholia. The food, distributed by Pakistan armed forces, arrived by ferry one week after the storm hit the island.

John Lee of the Save the Children Fund said the League of Red Cross Societies has advised its members around the world to stop sending personnel, including doctors, to East Pakistan unless specific skills or persons are requested. Personnel and goods are piling up in Dacca, 100 miles north of the stricken area, but red tape and a shortage of transport are keeping the bulk of them from moving out.

death if convicted on the murder charges. The chief Army prosecutor, Capt. Aubrey Daniel III, last week handed each My Lai eyewitness a cardboard-backed color picture of bodies strewn along a dirt trail.

On the eve of this anniversary date, the Dallas County Historical Survey Committee unveiled a plaque at Love Field where Lyndon B. Johnson was sworn in as President following Kennedy's death.

Not one of the witnesses who testified for the prosecution the first week of the court martial has been able to say for sure that he saw Calley at My Lai, a hamlet little more than two miles inland from the South China Sea.

He asked each: "Does this photo fairly and accurately portray the scene?" All of the Charlie Company veterans who have testified said that it did. Several members of Charlie Company, after stepping down as witnesses, have patted Calley lightly on the back as they passed the defense table and whispered: "Good luck."

'BOOZER'S SECOND WIFE BOOSTED KHRUSHCHEV'S CAREER

A Devotion For Today . . .

In every thing give thanks: for this is the will of God in Christ Jesus concerning you. (1 Thessalonians 5:18)

PRAYER: Gracious Father, make me ever grateful for the skills of my fellowmen. May I never take them for granted. Help me to see these persons as Thy helpers in building a better world. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Snowballing Welfare

Nearly all public welfare is geared to the pace of federal programs but Texas has a constitutional ceiling on the amount that can be spent for the basic welfare services. That ceiling has been reached for all practical purposes.

Yet the number of persons eligible for welfare continues to grow. Further, the legal rights of persons eligible for the help have been established, as has the right of a state to limit the amount of help granted.

Meanwhile, the variety of ways persons may receive welfare increases. The National Housing Act of 1934 (Public Law 73-479), Title II, has 21 sections that help Americans with housing. The two best-known are Section 235 and 236. They provide interest supplements (subsidies) on mortgages for homes or rental housing. Tenants in public housing have won substantial rights as to conditions of occupancy, as to a voice in management and other matters.

Medicaid is helping to run the federal outlay past President Nixon's budgeted figure of $8.7 billion for the current year. Latest estimate is that the figure will exceed $10 billion in Medicaid and other welfare administered through the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. Medicaid and Medicare are designed as insurance that will eventually be self-supporting from taxes for that purpose.

Immediate problems are at least two: rising costs and rising numbers who qualify under the law for certain tax-paid benefits. HEW Secretary Elliot Richardson reports some states are "more than doubling" welfare caseloads every five years. It may be assumed that some are losing a few cases but the total load is up, up, up.

Ut. Gov. Ben Barnes has renewed an idea gaining currency for some time: persuade the federal government to assume the entire welfare program. That might be quicker than a constitutional amendment in Texas. It might come about rather automatically if the income maintenance system proposed by the President ever becomes law.

An over-riding item of interest in all of these proposals and programs is that equal protection of the law will extend whatever benefits are built into law to all persons defined as beneficiaries. The snowball is building, making it more urgent every year to find an imaginative and effective way to guarantee that the welfare load can be stabilized or even reduced. That will call for education and training, family planning especially among the uneducated and untrained and a lot of patience.

The National Anthem

A fellow, Leonard Schechter, got a book published whose theme appears to be that Schechter thinks Americans are ridiculous for tolerating the "Star Spangled Banner" being played at sports events. He even added up the time Willie Mays has stood at attention—five days, 14 hours—during his long baseball career, while the national anthem was played or sung or both.

The man's entitled to his opinion but he's just not tuned in.

The anthem, adequately performed, adds a note of excitement, even a thrill, to just about any gathering. We like it. The anthem is a national song, difficult to sing and subject to all kinds of abuse by all kinds of performers, but it's a trademark of pride in this old land of ours.

People who don't like it, who can't coax a thrill out of it, or who just don't like anybody to express themselves in public ought to bear with the rest of us for the few minutes it takes to sing the song.

Burleson Reports
How Far The Prayer Limitations?

WASHINGTON—Legislation of far-reaching importance is scheduled for the so-called "lame duck" session which opened last Monday.

Also important to the nation are decisions within the federal agencies of the administration not requiring congressional action. Important decisions of the Supreme Court will be watched with great interest. A number of cases now pending before the Court deal with problems in the public schools based on conflicting opinions by lower courts. For instance, the state supreme court of New Jersey has unanimously held that even voluntary prayer in a public school uttered at a session in which students were not required to attend, is a violation of the First Amendment to the Constitution. This is the amendment which provides for the separation of church and state.

gymnasium and recited a brief nondenominational prayer which had previously been given before the United States Senate. The reading of the prayer occurred before school was open and students were advised that they were not required to attend. It was made clear that the parents were the ones who would decide whether they wanted their children to hear a few minutes of religious expression before school started. The New Jersey supreme court held the principal's action to be unconstitutional.

EACH SESSION of the Senate and House is officially opened with a prayer by chaplains of each body. Most, if not all, state legislatures open with a prayer.

An earlier Supreme Court decision ruled that no governmental authority can prescribe a prayer or make a prayer "a part of its curricula activity" but no where in its decision was there any prohibition against voluntary praying. The specific case referred to a local school board. The Court's ruling was directed against the doctrine of compulsion—the idea of a prescribed prayer which the students had to accept. The Court did not, and has not, ruled illegal the opportunity to participate in prayers for those who wish to do so.

Billy Graham

As a traveling salesman I do a great deal of driving. At times I find that I am breaking the speed laws. I am a Christian, and I can't understand why I do this.

C.N.

We are living in a high-gear, high tension age. The tempo of the times is one of speed and hurry. It is easy for even a committed Christian to become infected with the disease of "haste."

I find myself hurrying when really there isn't any reason to hurry. It is all part of the restlessness of the world we live in. Paul called it the "course (or pace) of this world." One of the symptoms of a world separated from God is restlessness and nervousness. Another is lawlessness. Paul wrote to the Ephesians who might have driven their chariots at excessive speeds: "Wherein in time past ye walked according to the course (or pace) of this world. . . the spirit that now worketh in the children of disobedience." (Eph. 2:2.)

Haste is not always speed. The Christian must conquer tensions and haste, like our Heavenly Father who does His work patiently, and with thoughtful gradations. Chesterfield once said: "Whoever is in a hurry shows that the thing is too big for him. Manners, require time and nothing is more vulgar than haste." David said, "Wait on the Lord", and that is good advice. Especially for us moderns who wait for nothing, not even God.

THE IMPORTANT question in the New Jersey case, soon to be decided, is whether the decision means that no prayer of any kind is to be permitted in a school building even if it is entirely voluntary.

Should the high court uphold such a case as the one in New Jersey, it is interesting to ponder what could be done to prohibit the Senate and House of Representatives from opening each session with prayer.

THE MILITARY services provide chaplains from different religions and, of course, attendance is voluntary. And, what would become of the phrase "One Nation Under God" in the pledge of allegiance to the flag? Should a decision like that of the New Jersey court be upheld, will the people bringing the suit also attack the inscriptions of the Diety on many government buildings and demand the removal of "In God We Trust" from our coins? Would they attack "In God We Trust" carved on the Speaker's stand in the House of Representatives?

It is difficult to imagine that a nation founded on Christian concepts would stand for nonsense of this nature. We call ourselves a Christian country. It is not likely we are going to stand by and see a deterioration of our concepts to a point prohibiting voluntary worship.

SEAT BELT

John Cuniff
Ex-Executives Scrabble For Jobs

NEW YORK (AP)—The rising unemployment rate among executives is being reflected by membership in the Forty Plus Club of New York, where men who not long ago made between $15,000 and $100,000 a year help each other find work.

"They've been pouring in here recently," said one member, a commuter from Westchester County who has a big housing bill to meet and six youngsters under 10 to support. Median age is 53, median income about $25,000.

Membership is now up to 180, compared with 90 a year ago, and rising applications indicate that eight to 10 will be added to the rolls each week for at least the remainder of the year.

Activity also is picking up in some of the other Forty Plus Clubs in Washington, Philadelphia, Chicago, Cincinnati, Denver, Los Angeles, and San Francisco-Oakland.

In Manhattan, each member must make a $100 contribution if he is accepted and then work 2½ days a week in the club's club office, where coats are hung together on a long rack and attach cases are lined against the wall.

Not one of the club members has a steady, income-producing job, but there isn't a loafer among them. The typewriters and telephones are busier than in most offices as members rewrite resumes and process job opportunities.

When a member finds a job and thereby evicts himself, a big brass bell is struck and 'toss' not yet so fortunate send up a cheer. One man made it in 18 minutes; most wait months. The average of "outgoings" is six to eight a week.

Times are poor in job markets today, especially when a man reaches 40 and suddenly must seek employment for the first time. The executive veneer sometimes cracks, and most members concede they are bewildered and lonely.

Nearly 50 per cent have never been out of work before and many never thought they would be. They are shocked not only at losing income, but group life and health insurance, pensions, stock options and other fringe benefits.

Many of these men believed they had arrived, and most lived in a style that befitted their image of what an executive should be. Many are pillars of their communities—vestrymen, PTA participants, Boy Scout leaders.

One group interviews new applicants. Another checks credentials and references. Counseling is always in progress. And the marketing committee is always busy trying to sell men to a constantly updated list of 3,000 companies.

The matching of resumes with openings seldom ceases, but individuals also can aid their own causes through telephone calls or letters, and many use the club's address as their office for incoming mail.

They use the telephones too, but everyone understands that the system orders members never to dial the middle phone of the three along the wall. It's kept open for incoming job calls.

The Day The Marbles Shattered

By JEFFREY D. ALDERMAN (Substituting for Hal Boyle)

NEW YORK (AP)—A lot of people wonder why Bird Thompson and Izzie McCarthy don't speak to each other.

After careful research, which included interviews with many of their closest friends, I have been able to reconstruct the events that led to their now 21-under-old feud.

Come with me to the year 1949. The place: the playground behind the Highland Grammar School in Holyoke, Mass.

It was time for the annual school marble championship. The rules: no "fudging." The stakes: Bird Thompson's collection of jumbo glassies against Izzie McCarthy's pure yellows.

The playing field had been carefully laid out before school that morning. A piece of gold chalk, borrowed from Miss Shea's fifth grade chalk box, outlined the five-foot circular playing area. A hole had been dug in the center, carved out of the tar with a stick.

Bird was then a fifth-grader. Izzie McCarthy was a fourth-grader.

At last the bell rang for recess and a crowd—boys only, of course—gathered around the marble hole.

The object was to knock as many of your opponent's mar-

Around The Rim
Honesty Would Eliminate Brink's

One thing and another: The worst thing that could happen to Brink's would be for the whole world to reform.

Brink's, which provides armored car service for those business firms which transfer valuables, breaks into the news occasionally when one of its banks-on-wheels is knocked over by a team of crooks.

THE FIRM has been in business since 1859, when it was founded as a one-horse-and-wagon baggage delivery service. At the present time, Brink's handles about $1 billion a day in valuables—and this boggles the mind of many thimble riggers who might be walking down the street and see one of their trucks drive by.

Brink's has escorted such trinkets as the giant diamond Richard Burton foisted upon his beloved.

The armored car people depend upon all the electronic equipment and alarms to accomplish their missions and arm all their guards with shot-guns and sidearms.

THE INVASION at Normandy was a worse-kept secret than the time of departure and the route of most Brink's trucks. And the officials never, never tell what's aboard one of the vehicles.

Such precautions, of course, would be unnecessary if all the world were just.

Come to think of it, a lot of padres would be turning to other occupations if anyone walked the straight and narrow.

WHO WAS the fellow who replied, when asked what he'd do if he came home and found his wife with another man, replied: "I'd shoot his guide dog and break his white cane."

A NEIGHBOR of mine says he knows mail service has improved because he's started getting his copies of Collier's magazine and the Literary Digest again.

DID YOU know that Texas is one of only eight states which does a tourist business of more than $1 billion annually?

The others are Florida (which leads all the rest, Pennsylvania, Ohio, New Jersey, Illinois, California and Massachusetts).

It was only a few years ago Texas officials began to try and entice visitors from other states. Tourism was just an untapped gold mine most residents of the state took for granted.

David Lawrence
The Sad State Of Business

WASHINGTON—The superficialities and trivialities which have characterized so many of the comments about the outcome of the national elections two weeks ago are at last being swept aside by the fundamentals.

THE REPUBLICANS didn't lose seats in the House because of the diffused rhetoric of their campaign speeches, as their critics claim, and the Democrats didn't fail to make bigger gains because their views were allegedly misrepresented by their opponents. The simple truth is that the oldest rule in politics was in effect in 1970—the party in power was hurt because the nation was in the midst of a growing recession and rising unemployment.

THE FACTS are coming out slowly. Factory output fell 2.3 per cent in October. This was the largest monthly decline in more than 11 years. The industrial production index of the Federal Reserve Board, which is considered one of the most accurate measures of economic activity, shows a decline last month for the seventh time this year. This was the sharpest monthly dip since August, 1959.

slightly last month, with private housing starts up somewhat from September. For the latest six-month period, the average was above the previous six months but was identical to that for the comparable six months of last year.

The figures for unemployment increased to 5.6 per cent last month, the highest level in almost seven years. These statistics tell only part of the story, and reports from different areas disclose that layoffs are considerable in service businesses as well as in industries.

THERE WILL be a constant emphasis by government on how to stimulate business by making funds available wherever possible. But the nation will not recover until private enterprise has been able to readjust from the damage it has suffered in the last year and a half.

THE IMPACT of higher wage scales and reduced profits on the actual operations of business has not been fully weighed. Big strikes have forced up the expenses of some of the large industries and their prices. The rising cost of goods and the failure of the Johnson and Nixon administrations to move into the inflation battle early enough to restrain wage and price increases are undoubtedly the basic causes on the recession. The economy simply hasn't been able to absorb the big wage scales and the new sales prices suddenly imposed. On top of this have come recent cuts in certain government projects which have brought more unemployment.

If a vast improvement in the national economy doesn't come in the years 1971 and 1972, there certainly will be a change in the administration in the next presidential election.

(Copyright, 1970, Publishers-Hall Syndicate)

It is conceded that half of this change was caused by the General Motors strike and the other half by over-all business sluggishness. The Federal Reserve Board, however, says that, even if the effects of the General Motors strike were eliminated from the figures, the decline would be the most severe for any month since December, 1960, when the country was in its last officially recognized recession.

IN ANOTHER economic report, the Commerce Department has just revealed that home building increased Manhattan, Queens and the Bronx who elected him to Congress.

BUT THERE he was in San Juan, complaining that Puerto Rico was not getting its "fair share" of Federal funds. He also objected to proposals to give residents of Puerto Rico a smaller participation in the family-assistance welfare program now before Congress than that proposed for the nation as a whole. "I will do everything I can to see that Puerto Rico shares equally," Badillo promised.

It is true that the only voice from Puerto Rico in Congress is the island's Resident Commissioner, Jorge Luis Cordova, and that he has no vote in the House. And it is true that there is much poverty on the island.

HOWEVER, I do wish that Herman Badillo, as a new man in town, would resist the temptation to cover so much ground. There is a lot of poverty in his district, too, most of it among Puerto Ricans. Badillo will have his hands full trying to do something for those people, without—as it were—also running for governor of Puerto Rico.

(Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

Andrew Tully
Congressman Out Of His District

WASHINGTON—So far as can be learned from his record, Rep-elect Herman Badillo of New York City enjoys both political and personal respectability, and so it is disheartening to discover that he is a touch confused about his allegiances.

Badillo ran unsuccessfully for mayor of New York last year, which might have been perceived as a hint that he has his befuddled moments—but on to the present. Earlier this month he was elected to represent the city's Congressional district which is made up of parts of the boroughs of Queens, Manhattan and the Bronx. He thus will become the first Puerto Rican in Congress with a vote.

AND SO, less than two weeks later, Badillo journeyed to Puerto Rico, where he was born 41 years ago in the town of Caguas, and received a tumultuous welcome. So far so good. It's great, I guess, to be a hero on your native heath. But when the cries of greeting had died down, Badillo announced that the main purpose of his visit was to consult with Puerto Rican government leaders on how he could help them push Congressional legislation vital to the island.

HE WENT on to say he had the only constituency with more than three million people covering a distance of 1,600 miles. He was referring to the 2.7 million people in Puerto Rico and the residents of New York's 21st district.

In short, Badillo could hardly wait to identify himself as part of an untidy national phenomenon. He joined the ranks of those curiously politicians who run for office regularly on a platform of being black, Irish, Polish, Italian or Lower Slobovian. Indeed, he went them one better. He travelled 1,600 miles to promise a people who had nothing to do with his election that he was their boy.

BADILLO, of course, does not represent Puerto Rico, any more than he represents Nigeria. His constituency does include a large percentage of Puerto Rican immigrants but it also is home to other ethnic peoples, including even some native-born Americans. It seems to me Badillo should be talking about legislation "vital" to the voters in

To Your Good Health
Concerning Toxemia Of Pregnancy

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Please explain what toxemia of pregnancy means. After delivery of the baby (stillborn), what can be done to clear up the condition: Swelling, eye weakness, and general weakness were the symptoms, plus awful itching.

I'm always very, very tired, vision is impaired, and they took approximately 50 pounds of water from me at the hospital.—Mrs. W.K.

Toxemia of pregnancy is a group of complications peculiar to pregnancy. Its cause is not known but its pattern is—and steps should be taken to control it at the earliest possible moment, both for the baby's sake and the mother's.

That is one of the most important reasons for early and continued care during pregnancy, a vital reason why it is wrong to notify the doctor only toward the latter part of pregnancy.

The principal characteristics of toxemia are salt retention in the system, which in turn causes accumulation of water and a rapid weight gain; elevated blood pressure; albumin in the urine; visual disturbances; and an urticaria or itching of the skin. You've had them all.

The good thing is that all these symptoms subside after delivery of the baby, although it may take a number of weeks. Ordinarily there are, then, no after-effects. If such conditions as high blood pressure and albumin in the urine persist, it is concluded they are the consequences of some disorder that existed before the pregnancy. And should be treated, of course.

Toxemia of pregnancy is seen chiefly in first pregnancies, or twin pregnancies. There seems to be a family tendency toward the problem. When a woman has had toxemia, there is a tendency to have trouble with later pregnancies, so they should have particularly close medical attention, right from the start of a future pregnancy.

You didn't say, Mrs. W. K., how long it has been since your pregnancy. If in a short time your fatigue does not correct itself, some further examination would be in order.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do all high blood pressure medications have a diuretic drug in them? Although my doctor changes my medication from time to time, they all make me feel irritable and nervous, and I run to the bathroom every few minutes even though I can't urinate any more.

I feel much better when I don't take the medicines, but then my pressure goes up to 210. I am 62, have been treated for high blood pressure for over 10 years.—Mrs. M.B.

No, not all blood pressure medications contain diuretics. So tell your doctor about your bathroom urgency. Some other trouble (caruncula, cystocele, or urinary tract infection) or sheer nervous tension may be complicating matters.

Don't take chances with "kidney trouble." It may be only minor, but it can be dangerous. Read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "Your Kidneys—Facts You Need To Know About Them." Write to Dr. Thosteson in care of The Herald, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Island For Sale

LONDON (AP)—The little island of Bardsey, two and half miles off the Welsh Carnarvonshire coast, is up for sale with nearly 50 serious inquiries received by the London estate agents.

For something "over 500 pounds ($120,000)" the 44-acre island comes replete with two farms, a lighthouse, 12 horses and cottages, a bird-watching observatory, the remains of a fifth-century monastery, and reputedly the bones of 20,000 saints.

Simple English

SYDNEY (AP)—Pidgin English as used in New Guinea is so simple. An ordinary handsaw, for instance, is "Pushim he go, pullim he comes, brother bilong axe."

Bowl Lineup Is Growing Clearer

By The Associated Press

With Notre Dame, Ohio State, Tennessee and seven other teams accepting bowl bids over the weekend, the three big puzzles remaining are—if, when and who.

Despite losing 3-0 to second-ranked Notre Dame on Saturday, seventh-ranked Louisiana State will go to the Orange Bowl against Nebraska. . . if the Tigers win their two remaining games against Tulane and Mississippi.

The Associated Press learned that the Peach Bowl has invited Georgia to be the host team. . . if the Bulldogs beat Georgia Tech. If they lose, it will be North Carolina, with possibly Colorado or Arizona State as the visiting team.

That would leave only the Liberty Bowl open, but with plenty of teams from which to choose.

Meanwhile, ninth-ranked Arizona State, 9-0 following a 33-21 victory over New Mexico for the Western Athletic Conference title, was wondering when a bid would be forthcoming. The team voted Sunday to accept a bid to any bowl and then Coach Frank Kush, with no game this Saturday, took off for a day or two of fishing.

The nation's top teams are reluctant to face Arizona State—the prevailing attitude is, "Who needs it? It's not like losing to Notre Dame"—and the Sun Devils aren't considered the best television attraction. Arizona needs the TV exposure.

Unbeaten Notre Dame chose a return trip to the Cotton Bowl Sunday to meet the Texas-Arkansas winner. The Fighting Irish also had a bid from the Orange Bowl, which apparently will invite the Texas-Arkansas loser if LSU doesn't come through.

"It was difficult for our youngsters to make a decision based on what might happen," said Notre Dame's Ara Parseghian, "but they would like to be playing for the national championship. That would be ideal."

Coach Charlie McClendon of LSU told the Orange Bowl committee: "We want to earn our way into your bowl. After that game with Notre Dame, I don't think we would disappoint any bowl."

Fourth-ranked Ohio State got its 20-9 long-awaited revenge over No. 5 Michigan, finishing the regular season as unbeaten Big Ten champs and earning a trip to the Rose Bowl to play Stanford. Coach Woody Hayes called the 1970 Buckeyes "the greatest team we've ever had here."

Irish Want Second Crack

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A legion of Notre Dame football fans and just plain football fans who spend Jan. 1 in front of a television set, rejoiced Sunday at the announcement that the Irish will again play in the Cotton Bowl game at Dallas.

Irish supporters were in a state of near delirium after the team accepted its second bowl invitation in a row after a 44-year no-bowl hiatus.

The Irish received invitations from the Cotton, Orange and Sugar bowls and apparently went for a return trip to Dallas on the good chance they will meet No. 1 Texas in a rematch for the national championship. The Longhorns stopped Notre Dame 21-17 in last year's Cotton Bowl game.

Notre Dame athletic director Ed "Moose" Krause told The Associated Press, "you really have to admire those kids, voting to go back to Dallas. They passed up a real attractive trip to Miami (site of the Orange Bowl) for a shot at the national championship."

Krause added, "You know how important the national championship is to Notre Dame. In past years if we lost a game early in the season we would loose our incentive."

HCJC To Face Tough Week

Howard County Junior College Jayhawks, in the midst of a rebuilding program under new coach Harold Wilder, have a barrel of experience in store this week.

Boasting a 2-2 record, they go Tuesday to Dallas for a return match with Christian College of the Southwest, whom they beat in their opener here. Then they go to Garden City, Kans., for a tournament in which they are matched against Cowley County, of Arkansas City, Kans., in the opening game at 2:30 p.m. Thursday.

After their first win here, the Hawks dropped an overtime game in the Levelland tournament, then dropped a close one to Schreiner 91-87 before coming back to overtake Cisco JC, 101-97.

Will It Be Texas Or Ark. In Cotton Bowl

By The Associated Press

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame announced Sunday they'll spend their second straight New Year's Day in the Cotton Bowl. Now all they need is an opponent.

The Irish will have to wait along with Southwest Conference followers for two more weeks before the host role will be decided.

First, No. 1 ranked Texas must dispense with Texas A&M Thanksgiving Day before heading for the Great Shootout No. 2 in Austin Dec. 5 against sixth-ranked Arkansas.

The Razorbacks topped Texas Tech 24-10 Saturday to run its SWC record to 6-0 and eliminate Tech from title contention at 5-2. Texas is 5-0 going into the A&M game and could earn another trip to the Cotton Bowl by beating Arkansas, regardless of the outcome of its game with A&M.

Winning For Pete's Sake

By The Associated Press

Look who's winning games in the National Basketball Association, for Pete's sake!

The Atlanta Hawks, led by rookie rifle Pete Maravich for the second straight night, ambushed Philadelphia 125-115 Sunday.

Pistol Pete matched Saturday's season high by notching 32 points as Atlanta won its second in a row after a miserable 3-12 start.

Phoenix clouted Cleveland 114-99 for the Cavaliers' 22nd defeat in 23 games; Milwaukee powered past Portland 126-104 and Los Angeles lashed Seattle 149-124 in the other NBA games.

In the American Basketball Association, Carolina beat New York 108-92; Texas Stomped Pittsburgh 139-126 and Memphis mauled Denver 141-121.

In Saturday's night's NBA games, it was New York 102, Cleveland 94; Cincinnati 114, Detroit 102; Atlanta 130, Baltimore 103; Chicago 110, Boston 107; Phoenix 125, Philadelphia 119; Portland 112, Buffalo 108; Milwaukee 107, San Francisco 102 and San Diego 115, Seattle 112.

Steers Entertain Ector Tuesday

The Big Spring High School Steers return to the basketball court Wednesday after a surprising opening against Amarillo Palo Duro.

Tough Ector, which beat Odessa Permian in its opener, will be the opponent. Big Spring astonished Palo Duro with a 92-73 opening game, but Saturday Plainview, one of the powers in West Texas basketball, measured the Steers 98-78.

A&I Still In National Chase

By The Associated Press

The 15th NAIA national championship football playoffs get under way with semi-final games this week and for the third straight year, perennial Lone Star Conference champion Texas A&I is in the running.

The first semi-final match will be played Thursday between West Liberty, W. Va. and Wofford, S.C. Then on Saturday, Texas A&I will host Plattville, Wis., in Kingsville for the other finals berth.

The Javelinas have won four straight LSC championships and are appearing in the championship playoffs for the fourth time. They were the champions in 1959 and 1969 and in 1968 they were runners-up to Troy State, Ala.

A&I wrapped up its conference title last Saturday in a 42-13 victory over Southwest Texas. A&I's Clarence Alberts scored on runs of 11 and 12 yards and split end Eldridge Small caught scoring passes of 47 and 26 yards in the big victory.

Blanda's Toe Is The Margin Again

By The Associated Press

Racing the clock has become a weekly ordeal for the Oakland Raiders, but their 45-year-old anchor man is having the time of his life.

George Blanda, oldest player in the National Football League, kicked a 16-yard field goal with seven seconds to play Sunday, giving the Raiders a 20-17 victory over San Diego that extended their unbeaten string to seven games.

In the last five weeks, Blanda has provided the heroics—three times with clutch field goals inside the final 10 seconds and twice with touchdown passes in relief of regular quarterback Daryle Lamonica.

Lamonica, who went the distance against the Chargers, failed to throw a scoring pass for the first time in 26 games.

But Blanda's second fourth-quarter field goal gave the American Football Conference's Western Division leaders a one-game edge on second-place Kansas City, which battled St. Louis to a 6-6 standoff.

In other games, Miami stunned Baltimore 34-17, Minnesota downed Green Bay 10-3, Detroit posted San Francisco 28-7, Los Angeles topped Atlanta 17-7, Dallas thumped Washington 45-21, Cleveland smacked Houston 28-14, Cincinnati trounced Pittsburgh 34-7, Chicago whipped Buffalo 31-13, Denver riddled New Orleans 31-6 and the New York Jets beat Boston 17-3.

The New York Giants play at Philadelphia tonight.

St. Louis Jim Bakken kicked a tying 14-yard field goal with 1:49 showing on the clock at Kansas City and the knot held when Jan Sterner of the Chiefs was a couple of feet short on a 55-yard attempt with 30 seconds to play.

Bob Griese passed for two scores and ran 15 yards for another as Miami avenged an earlier 35-0 loss at Baltimore and climbed within 1 1/2 games of the first place Colts in the AFC's Eastern race.

The Vikings nailed their seventh straight victory, and atoned for their lone setback of the season, by outmuscling Green Bay on a one-yard scoring plunge by Clint Jones in the third quarter—set up by Gary Cuozzo's 37-yard pass to Gene Washington.

Detroit snapped San Francisco's four-game winning string as Greg Landry fired three touchdown passes and the Lions picked off three John Brodie tosses.

Maybe They Ought To Hit Him Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dallas Cowboy rookie Duane Thomas nearly lost the chance to make the most of his opportunity when he was named to start Sunday against the Washington Redskins in place of the injured Calvin Hill.

He got knocked out on the opening kickoff and didn't get back into the game until eight minutes later.

"I was dazed but I was aware of what was happening," said the 23-year-old West Texas State star who scored three touchdowns in the Cowboys 45-21 rout of the Redskins. "I made a lot of mistakes but I just kept going."

Thomas—who went over from the 4, 35 and 2 — rookie Mike Washington and quarterback Craig Morton put new life into the Cowboys' chances for a fifth possible NFL playoff after they appeared out of it last week when they lost 38-0 to division leader St. Louis.

Dallas has won 6 games and lost 4 while the Cardinals, tying Kansas City 6-6 Sunday, are 7-2-1 in the National Football Conference's East Division. Second place New York, 6-3, plays last place Philadelphia, 1-7-1, on national television Monday night.

The loss virtually eliminated the Redskins, now 4-6.

"We have to win them all from now on to make the playoffs," said Dallas coach Tom Landry. "That would be a giant step for us if we turned this season around."

Morton said the Cowboys, booted by their hometown Cotton Bowl crowd last week, decided to play for the fun of it against the Redskins.

He said their feelings were: "Let's just loosen up and play ball. Have some fun instead of being serious. We've always

Sullivan Hits 'Bonanza' With Music By Rodgers

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Ed Sullivan mined a rich, golden lode Sunday night with an hour dedicated to the music of Richard Rodgers.

The program was exceptional and had a fine nostalgic air about it. It honored the composer for his half century as a music man in an extravagant production in the Hollywood Bowl, a huge amphitheatre that appeared packed with enthusiastic Rodgers fans.

'GIRL FRIEND'

Since the man composed so many songs in so many theatrical hits, it was impossible to do more than hit a few of the high spots in the time. There are undoubtedly thousands of viewers today complaining mildly that a favorite—like some songs from "South Pacific"—were practically ignored.

While the dramatic setting gave the program glamor and importance, the big stage also resulted in some lost production and sound values for the home viewer.

The form of the program was to pick one show—and its hit tunes—from each decade of Rodgers' work. It started with the 1926 "Girl Friend," with Cass Elliot in flapper garb the not too happy choice to sing the title song.

Johnny Mathis and the Lennon sisters did several numbers from the 1930s—"Babes in Arms," "Oklahoma" and all its familiar music followed with John Davidson carrying the major tunes. Jeannie C. Riley (of "Harper Valley, P. T. A.") was out of her element singing "People Will Say We're in Love."

'SOUND OF MUSIC'

Shirley Jones and Herschel Bernardi, however, were great in some bits from "The King and I." And everybody was on stage with a huge chorus of dancers for a "Sound of Music" resume. There was a sharp let-down at the end with Danny Kaye of "Two by Two," Rodgers' new Broadway musical, appearing in street clothes for a short number from the show.

It was the beginning of a most rewarding evening of television for viewers willing to do a little dial twisting. The Educational Network's "Civilisation" concentration on great Italian artists and architects of the 16th and 17th century when the Vatican was built. The camera work, inside and outside the great buildings was superb and Kenneth Clark was delightful in his knowledgeable and witty commentary.

While the emphasis of this remarkable series is on the art of Western civilization, Clark moves easy around in the areas of history, politics, religions—and occasionally tosses in provocative opinions of his own.

Sierra Club Urges Smith

AUSTIN (AP) — A national conservation group, the Sierra Club, urged Texas Gov. Preston Smith Sunday to apply for federal funds for purchase of part of Mustang Island for a state park. The Gulf Coast island is located near Corpus Christi.

The land has been offered for sale by Mrs. Sam E. Wilson Jr. of Corpus Christi. Initially, she offered 7,495 acres of the island for about $1 million but her latest offer was 5,624 acres for about $6 million.

Two commissioners of the Parks and Wildlife Commission, Harry Jersig and L. P. Gilvin, have voted to buy as much of the island as the state can afford. The third commissioner, Pearce Johnson, chairman, said he hasn't decided yet whether to apply for about $2 million in federal funds.

The letter says Cross is well and "still hoping" for "my liberty and my life," but wondering "when and how will this bad dream end. They consider me a political prisoner and they will keep me in captivity as long as the authorities do not accept their demands."

The letter, dated Nov. 15, and the note from the "Vigil Information cell," dated Nov. 21, were found Saturday by two reporters for a French-language newspaper after they received an anonymous phone call telling the location.

Justice Minister Jerome Choquette said the letter and note "appear to be authentic."

Separate cells of the front-kidnaped Cross and Quebec Labor Minister Pierre Laporte Oct. 5 and 10 to press their demands for the release of FLQ members. Laporte was found strangled a week after his abduction.

Banquet Honors Marching Band

Members of the Big Spring High School marching band will be the guests at a banquet hosted by the Big Spring Optimist clubs at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Big Spring Country Club.

The banquet is in appreciation for the work of the marching band during the Steer football season. Awards will be given to outstanding band members for their dedication and work for the marching band.

Troop Strength Slash Revealed

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today a drop in American troop strength in South Vietnam of 3,800 men, reducing the total still here to 360,000.

The present level is the lowest in four years. American troop strength in November, 1966, during the big American buildup stood at 359,400.

Under the fifth phase of the U.S. withdrawal program, troop strength is scheduled to drop to 344,000 by the end of this year.

Science Fiction Going To Snowball

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The time capsules and silver rockets of science fiction that travel faster than the speed of light through the pages of pulp magazines and paperback novels have landed on the college campuses.

This year some 150 college courses across the nation are devoted to teaching the writing of this form of fantasy, says George Dickson, president of the Science Fiction Writers of America.

George Zebrowski, an instructor of science fiction at Harpur College, Binghamton, N.Y., thinks academic acceptance "is going to snowball."

"The tendency has been to look at science fiction as something separate from other forms of literature, but now this is changing," Dickson said at a recent association conference here. "We are writing for bright people and the best writers always have. The work is aimed not necessarily at the scientifically sophisticated but at the intelligent everywhere."

Dickson, who has published more than 30 science fiction novels and more than 200 short stories, thinks science fiction's blend of scientific knowledge and fantasy is what makes it interesting to 20th century earth dwellers.

Dickson traces the origins of science fiction to such early American writers as Herman Melville and Edgar Allan Poe, and British novelist Charles Dickens.

"It's hard to define," said Zebrowski, author of about a dozen short stories, "but one quote, a rather hackneyed one in the trade, usually explains it best to the layman: 'The scientist would have predicted the automobile, the science fiction writer would have predicted the traffic jam.'"

Police Study Kidnap Note

MONTREAL (AP) — Police today were studying a letter apparently written by kidnapped British Trade Commissioner James R. Cross and a note signed with the initials of the Quebec separatist group that abducted him.

The note from the Quebec Liberation Front (FLQ) called on U.N. Secretary General U. Thant to help secure the release of 24 "political prisoners" demanded by the front in exchange for the release of Cross, kidnaped Oct. 5.

The letter says Cross is well and "still hoping" for "my liberty and my life," but wondering "when and how will this bad dream end. They consider me a political prisoner and they will keep me in captivity as long as the authorities do not accept their demands."

The letter, dated Nov. 15, and the note from the "Vigil Information cell," dated Nov. 21, were found Saturday by two reporters for a French-language newspaper after they received an anonymous phone call telling the location.

Justice Minister Jerome Choquette said the letter and note "appear to be authentic."

GM Settles Out Of Court After Deaths

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP) — General Motors Corp. and the families of two persons killed while riding in a Chevrolet Corvair have settled out of court two separate civil suits involving a combined total of $891,960.

Records in the U.S. District Clerk's office here did not disclose the terms of the settlements.

Both suits alleged that Chevrolet Corvair cars had been defective in design.

One suit, filed by Clifford Porterfield of Pampa, sought $275,000 as result of his 19-year-old wife's death on Feb. 22, 1965. Mrs. Ovie Porterfield was killed when riding in a Corvair on US 287 near Iowa Park, he said.

The other suit was brought by William O'Laughlin of Roberts County, who sought $618,960. He alleged that his 17-year-old son was permanently injured when a Corvair failed to respond to steering on Feb. 1, 1967. He claimed his son is completely paralyzed from the waist down as result of the accident and "will never use his legs again."

Porterfield charged that General Motors concealed the condition of the Corvair when it was placed on the American market.

The suits had been scheduled for jury trial in January.

Trial dates in three similar suits brought by Ochiltree county families against General Motors have not yet been set.

Heart Swaps Prediction

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Christian N. Barnard predicted Sunday heart transplants will become commonplace once the problem of rejection by the body is overcome.

The world's first heart transplant surgeon denied the operation is being abandoned because few patients have lived for a long period of time.

"Interest has waned because the novelty has worn off," said the South African surgeon.

"Also, after our breakthrough, many surgeons performed this operation who had not had sufficient knowledge or research."

"We still have the problem of the body's rejection of the new organ, but... when we have solved that, heart transplants will become common," Dr. Barnard told a news conference.

"But it won't happen tomorrow."

Dr. Barnard was in Boston as the principal speaker at a fund-raising meeting of the Mt. Sinai Hospital.

Ax Newsmen From Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — A government spokesman said today that American newsmen Michael D. Morrow is being expelled from South Vietnam "because he was involved in internal political activities."

The spokesman said Morrow, of Dispatch News Service International, was given an exit visa this morning to leave for Phnom Penh, Cambodia. He is expected to leave Tuesday.

The spokesman refused to discuss Morrow's alleged involvement in Vietnamese politics, but informed sources said the government refused to extend his visa because he recently spoke before a Vietnamese peace group and expressed his opposition to U.S. involvement in Vietnam.

Morrow, 24, had been in Vietnam more than two years and had many contacts with both government and anti-government groups.

The U.S. Embassy took up Morrow's expulsion with the South Vietnamese government, but informed sources said it was given the same explanation Morrow and the press received. The embassy decided not to protest the government's decision.

Minus 13 In Montana

A gripping cold wave, helped along in some areas by gusting winds, held much of the nation captive today with the brunt of the wintry weather centered on the Great Lakes region and the Central Plains.

The mercury dropped suddenly over the weekend in many portions of the nation. At Valentine, N. B., temperatures reached only 19 Sunday after a reading of 61 the previous day. Gusting winds of up to 75 miles an hour made the cold feel much worse across the Great Lakes region. The cold wave began to spread early today into the Appalachian Mountains and south to the Gulf Coast states.

Snow and freezing rain fell over much of the Pacific Northwest and blizzard warnings were in effect in scattered parts of Washington and Oregon.

In contrast, the East continued to have mild, cloudy weather and the Southwest basked under pleasant temperatures.

Sailor Killed

FRANKLIN, Conn. (AP) — Slade Reives, 21, a sailor from Dayton, Tex., was killed Sunday when his car struck a tree near this eastern Connecticut town.

Reives was stationed aboard the U.S. Thomas Jefferson at the U.S. Submarine Base in New London, Conn.

WORLD WAR I Commander Dies

WASHINGTON (AP) — Waldron E. Leonard, 73, national commander of Veterans of World War I, was buried in Mount Comfort Cemetery, Alexandria, Va., today.

Veterans held combined services for him Sunday in Washington with the National Guard of Honor participating.

Leonard died Friday.

He was elected five weeks ago to the national post and earlier directed the veteran's group of the District of Columbia. He was a sergeant in World War I and became a colonel in the Texas National Guard in the 1930s.

Parents Guests Of Stephen Vorhis'

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Vorhis, 1404 Sycamore, are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert P. Vorhis, and their daughter, Susan, all of Middletown, Ohio. The family arrived here Sunday and will remain through Thursday.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENT Miss Boren Honored With Champagne Party

Another in a series of pre-nuptial courtesies honoring Miss Mary Boren was held Friday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Carl Strom, 501 Westover, with Mrs. George Bair as cohostess for the gift shower and champagne party.

Members of the house party, wearing single red carnations, were Mrs. Lee O. Rogers, Mrs. Cunn Griggs and Mrs. Bill Crooker. Miss Judy Bair presided at the guest registry. Among the seven guests from Lubbock was Mrs. Joe Burrell, formerly of Big Spring.

Miss Boren, wearing a rose colored pantsuit with elongated jacket, was presented a corsage of red Sweetheart rosebuds, and her mother, Mrs. Ray Boren, received a corsage of deep red carnations.

A shocking pink and red motif was used in decorations. Guests were served refreshments from a table covered with a pink organdy cloth from Italy and skirted with floor-length gathered net. The table, spotlighted from underneath, featured a silver punch bowl, and at the other end, a silver chafing dish and other silver appointments. The centerpiece was a silver soup tureen arranged with shocking pink spider mums, snapdragons and red carnations.

Mrs. Strom was attired in a black hostess suit with which she wore a black-fringed sari, and Mrs. Bair chose a hostess suit in shocking pink.

Miss Boren and her fiancé, Larry Van Emerson, will be married Nov. 28 in St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

years, the hat receded in importance. The decline was not great, but it was constant," he says, partly attributing the decline to "too many jazzy, dressy hats."

However, gone are yesterday's ornate hats with flowers, gimmicks, curls, fake fruits, frosting and weirdo shapes—the ones that prompted all those "What is it?" jokes. Also gone is the tough, militant chic of the 60s.

Today, the soft, tailored look has taken over. Big brims in Spanish sailors, gauchos, sweep-

Beta Sigma Phi Tour Described

STANTON (SC) — Preceptor Mu Chapter was the host group for a Beta Sigma Phi meeting Thursday evening in the Cap Rock Electric auditorium.

The "Beta Sigma Phi Ramble", a tour of nine countries, was described by Mrs. Dwain Ory, Mrs. Wallace Kelly and Mrs. Jim Webb who took the trip last summer. Slides were shown as the women commented on the tour. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Russell of Midland who also took the tour.

Dinner Held By Beta Omicrons

Beta Omicron Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held a Thanksgiving dinner with their husbands Saturday evening at Texas Electric Reddy Room. The dining table was covered with a yellow cloth decorated with turkeys and centered with a paper turkey. Mrs. Gary Anderson was a guest.

Members will hold a regular meeting tonight at Pioneer Gas Flame Room, highlighted by a pledge ritual and a program on "Love's Miracle In Marriage." Cohostesses will be Mrs. Jack Aultman and Mrs. Larry Stockton.

Frosted Glemers Create Glamour

Touch a cotton swab to lipstick and make tiny red dots in the inside corners of your eyes to make the eyes look gleamier. Use a cotton swab to touch white eye shadow to the lids for an extra dramatic effect.

Touches of gleam on cheekbones and under the arch of your eyebrows will add sparkle, too. For these, use a frosted blusher or similar shimmer-upper. To pinpoint application use a frosting — or even some glittery swab. You can even spray some powder — on your hair.

Former Residents Are Guests Here

Guests of Mrs. George Hall, 1600 Runnels, are Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Dubberly of Los Alamos, formerly of Big Spring. They also are visiting his sister, Mrs. Matt Harrington.

Party Held Saturday For Miss Jo Payne

Miss Jo Payne, bride-elect of Don Pierce, was honored with a gift shower Saturday in the home of Mrs. Carl Coleman, 500 Highland. The honoree was presented a white corsage with multicolor ribbons, and similar corsages were given to her mother, Mrs. J. E. Payne of Abilene, and her fiancé's mother, Mrs. D. W. Pierce.

The bride-elect was attired in a yellow knit A-line dress.

Presiding at the guest register was Miss Barbara Pierce, sister of the prospective bridegroom. The refreshment table, covered with white linen and appointed with silver and crystal, was centered with an arrangement of white spider chrysalises and babies' breath flanked by silver and crystal candelabra holding green tapers. Accenting the centerpiece were porcelain lovebirds.

Cohostesses were Mrs. O. B. Kirby, Mrs. J. C. McWhorter, Mrs. Frank Parker, Mrs. Walter Stroup, Mrs. Vernon Heard.

Stanton Women Form New Club

STANTON (SC) — Mrs. David Young has been elected president of the Southside Scale Steppers, and serving with her will be Mrs. Joe Ramos, vice president; Mrs. Gladys Jackson, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. Nick Sanchez, reporter. The group will meet each week on Tuesday evenings.

Mrs. Bennie McChristian, Mrs. Frank Mullican, Mrs. Avery Falkner, Mrs. Ray Richey, Mrs. Bill McMahon, Mrs. Vernon Lewis, Mrs. George Weeks, Mrs. Kenneth Stephens and Mrs. Grover Wiley.

The couple is planning a Dec. 19 wedding in Abilene.
