

SHOT BY U.S. SOLDIER — Nguyen Van Minh, a 13-year-old high school student from Qui Nhon, South Vietnam, lies dead Monday after he was shot by a U.S. soldier. Minh's death touched off two days of anti-American rioting. Eyewitnesses to the incident say Minh was not killed accidentally as U.S. officials reported. The U.S. Army has charged the soldier with negligent homicide in the killing.

TEEN MISSING Four Members Of Family Are Slain

NEW CANAAN, Conn. (AP) — Four members of a family have been found slain — attacked with ax, knife and hammer and strangled with a mod tie — and police were searching for a 17-year-old son for questioning.

John Rice, chef at a gun factory, found his wife and two of his children dead and his mother-in-law dying when he went home from work Thursday.

Missing along with one of the family cars was red-haired John Rice Jr., described as 6 feet 1 inch tall and weighing 200 pounds, an honor student senior at New Canaan High School who was about to become an Eagle Scout. Police posted a 13-state alarm for him.

Police said the youth's mother, Janet, 44, died of multiple ax wounds in the head and stab wounds in the neck and chest.

Her son, Stephen, 16, was killed with ax blows in the head and her daughter, Nancy, 14, was found strangled with a tie.

Mrs. Rice's mother, Edith Fitzpatrick, 73, "had her head bashed in" with a hammer and died of a skull fracture at Norwalk Hospital without regaining consciousness, Police Chief Henry E. Keller said.

Minister Sets Bad Example

CLEBURNE, Tex. (AP) — The Rev. Steve Shipley, Baptist minister from Mesquite, was found guilty Thursday of misapplication of public funds.

The jury recommended a two-year probation sentence for the minister. He could have received up to 10 years in prison.

The minister was charged with misapplication of public funds while serving as Johnson County probation officer from January, 1968, to January, 1970.

He was accused of misapplying $525 during his two years in the probation post.

PARKING LIMIT TO BE ENFORCED

Chief of Police Jay Banks announced today that because of the Christmas shopping rush the two hour parking limit in the downtown city parking lots will be more strictly enforced.

"We have not been enforcing the time limit, and some people who work downtown have been using the lots for all-day parking," Banks said. "Effective immediately and continuing through the holidays the two hour limit will be enforced to help ease the downtown parking situation created by the shopping activity."

Trains Whiz Down Tracks Again Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's trains thundered down the tracks again today after railroad workers ended a 24-hour strike under orders from Congress, federal courts and union leaders.

"I now order my people to return to work immediately," said strike leader C.L. Dennis after a federal judge threatened fines of $200,000 a day if the walkout continued and the government pledged prompt new talks aimed at finally settling the year-long wage dispute.

BACK TO WORK

Negotiations continued today. Striking union members downed picket signs and went back to work in most areas to begin moving stranded commuters, tons of Christmas mail and other rail shipments under a special federal law forbidding further striking until March 1.

It was only the third nationwide rail strike in half a century.

The end of the walkout made unnecessary White House priorities for moving emergency shipments of medical supplies, defense materials, food, fuel and other essential goods by air, ship and truck.

Chief railroad negotiator John P. Hiltz said the industry would begin processing payrolls to put into effect the immediate 13.5 per cent pay hikes Congress ordered for nearly 500,000 rail workers along with the strike ban.

"It will undermine our bargaining position," Hiltz complained of the pay raises directly legislated by Congress for only the second time in history, but added, "It's the law and we're not going to jail."

The first time Congress imposed pay hikes was just eight months ago, in a special law to avert a threatened nationwide rail strike by four rail shopcraft unions.

3 GIFTS TO CHEER FUND

The Christmas Cheer Fund slowed down some today, but it was not entirely forgotten. Welcome are gifts of $5 from Mrs. C. L. Rowe, $10 from Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Middleton, and $25 from "a friend."

This brought the Fund's total to $599.

It needs about twice that much, if it is to do its full job of getting a bit of Christmas delight to all the poorer children of Big Spring. As you get more involved in your own holiday activity and pleasures, surely you will want to remember the needs of others. You can help in this respect by making a check to CHRISTMAS CHEER FUND and mailing it to The Herald for acknowledgment. Many people will be helped.

Sheriff Quits Due To Health

LAMESA (SC) — Dawson County Sheriff J. A. (Shorty) Hancock has submitted his resignation, saying that his health no longer permits him to perform the duties of his office.

The veteran law enforcement officer was seriously injured, along with a deputy, Base Lambert, in an automobile accident at the western edge of town in July, 1969.

The mishap hospitalized Hancock for several months with five bone fractures as well as broken ribs and a fractured skull.

"It is with a deep feeling of obligation to the citizens of this county that I submit my resignation as Sheriff," he said.

Hancock served as a deputy under former sheriff Henry Mayfield for six years and was also assistant police chief in Lamesa for four years. He was elected to the office of sheriff in 1964 and was re-elected for another four-year term which began in January, 1969.

Dawson County commissioners are expected to take action on replacing him during their meeting Monday.

Nixon Will Nominate Bush For U. N. Position

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon personally announced today he will nominate Rep. George Bush of Texas to succeed career Ambassador Charles Yost next month as head of the American delegation at the United Nations.

Nixon appeared before reporters with Bush, a millionaire Texas Republican who lost his bid for a Senate seat last month, Yost and Secretary of State William Rogers to make the announcement.

Democrat Yost, who has headed the U.N. delegation for almost two years, had informed the administration last summer he wanted to be relieved of the responsibility at the end of the

Salvation Army Sets Up Kettles

The Salvation Army's annual Christmas collection kettles were set up this morning.

Volunteer workers will man the kettles during shopping hours from now until Christmas Eve. Kettles are at the Woolworth store downtown; the TG&Y store in College Park shopping center; Cooks Department Store in the Coronado Plaza; and in the Mall at the Highland Shopping Center.

A special kettle will be set up on Saturdays at the Sav-Mor Food Store on Northwest Fourth Street and manned by volunteers from the Big Spring Boys Club.

Lt. Joseph Saint, commander of the local Salvation Army, said the money collected will go toward buying the food and toy baskets for needy families.

"This year we will have about 450 applications for the Christmas baskets," he said.

Medal Presented Okie Acquitted Of Killing 16

McALESTER, Okla., (AP) — A young Oklahoman acquitted earlier this year of murdering 16 Vietnamese women and children received the nation's third highest decoration Thursday.

All but forgotten Thursday were the accusations and three-week trial which made Randall Dean Herrod of Calvin one of Oklahoma's best-known military figures. Some 100 persons turned out at the U.S. Naval Ammunition Depot south of here to see Herrod presented the Silver Star.

The action for which Herrod was decorated occurred prior to the incident which brought about the murder charges. He was due to receive the citation earlier, but military authorities balked, presumably reluctant to decorate a fighting man the military was trying for murder.

About 75 Marines attached to the Marine barracks here, some of them Vietnam veterans, snapped to attention and presented arms as Maj. W.H. Barnard, commanding officer of the barracks, pinned the medal on Herrod's chest.

The citation, read during the ceremony, stressed Herrod's "conspicuous gallantry" on July 28, 1969, when, although seriously wounded himself, Herrod shielded two wounded comrades with his own body and helped fight off an attacking force of North Vietnamese.

U. S. Will Drop Bombs On Red Vietnam If...

WASHINGTON (AP) — In an expansion of his bombing policy, President Nixon says he will send American planes against military targets in North Vietnam again if enemy troop infiltration imperils the shrinking U.S. force in the South.

In a stern warning aimed at Hanoi, Nixon told his first news conference in 19 weeks Thursday night that if enemy infiltration threatens to intensify the fighting in the South as U.S. troops withdraw:

NO MISUNDERSTANDING

"I will order the bombing of military sites in North Vietnam, the passes that lead from North Vietnam into South Vietnam, the military complexes, the military supply lines... let there be no misunderstanding...."

Although there were heavy air strikes against North Vietnamese targets last May and again in November, Nixon's declaration expanded the stated policy on bombing and raised the possibility of increased U.S. air action over the North in the months ahead.

Earlier bombings have been linked to anti-aircraft and missile attacks on U.S. reconnaissance planes over the North—flights the United States claims are made as part of an "understanding" reached with North Vietnam when President Lyndon B. Johnson halted regular bombing of the North Nov. 1, 1968.

Stressing withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam as his central purpose, Nixon also declared that Cambodian forces are now tying down 40,000 North Vietnamese troops who otherwise "would be over (in South Vietnam) killing Americans." He appealed for congressional approval of a quarter-billion-dollar aid program to support the Cambodian war effort.

'NONE WHATEVER'

At the same time, he said he could conceive of no circumstances—"none whatever"—under which the United States would again send its own ground forces into Cambodia.

Possibly reflecting his frustration with North Vietnam's con-

Community Leaders Learn Emergency Preparedness

By STEPHEN R. VORHIS
If disaster struck the Big Spring area, how would the community leaders handle the emergency?

To learn what to do in case of an emergency, nearly 150 community leaders from Howard, Borden and Glasscock counties participated in a Thursday afternoon conference on resource management in emergencies at the Settles Hotel.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

FORD PRESIDENT — Lee A. Iacocca is the new president of Ford Motor Co. Iacocca's promotion was announced by Henry Ford II, board chairman, following a meeting of the company's board of directors.

Robert F. Schnatterly, an instructor in civil defense training at Texas A&M University Extension Service, told the participants that they are "the people in the know — the experts in your fields — and if you work together on the local level you are 'civil defense.'"

He told the group that the prime resource during an emergency situation is the mental strength of the community's leaders. "The machinery of government handles problems each day. During a time of disaster government is called upon to handle more problems than it can accommodate and then an emergency situation develops. As time gets shorter or as the problems become greater the emergency becomes a disaster and then a catastrophe. If community leaders are able to manage their resources of time, material and personnel it could prevent or at least minimize the effects of the disaster."

"But, Civil Defense is absolutely useless unless it can be used as needed and tailored to every community's needs. Civil Defense is simply preparation and training. It's not an organization but a concept." Schnatterly noted that with the proper preparation and training that the community leaders could handle a nuclear attack on the same parallel.

"The only difference between a nuclear attack and a tornado is that a nuclear attack is of greater magnitude, but we can handle it if we make use of federal and state resources. Systems have already been set aside. The National Warning System will relay word of an attack to state and local officials who must then plan for the movement of their citizens into suitable shelters," he said. Schnatterly said that Civil Defense officials are constantly planning what should be done in case of an emergency. "But local government must become concerned about civil defense, and I urge you to keep yourselves organized and do a little planning — what planning you do now can do a lot during a disaster. Government must manage the resources, and local leaders are the most important resource."

W. D. Berry, director of Civil Defense for Big Spring and Howard County, told the group that Howard, Borden and Glasscock counties were included in the community shelter plan for Howard County. He said that an informational booklet on where residents should go and what they should do will be published and distributed in the next several months.

The conference was presented through a combined effort of local government, the Texas Department of Public Safety's division of defense and disaster relief and the Texas A&M University Extension Service.

Big Spring Mayor J. Arnold

Marshall was host for the conference.

Freezing Weather Returns To Texas

By The Associated Press

Residents across the middle of the Texas Panhandle got another early taste of winter today as light snow spread through a narrow belt near the Canadian River.

Scattered showers fell at the same time in parts of North Central and Northeast Texas as the latest cold front shoved deeper into the state, dropping temperatures sharply. There also were a few showers near the Upper Texas Coast.

LIGHT SNOW

The snow, too light to measure, spread from the New Mexico line eastward past Dumas, Channing, Amarillo and Pampa and southward to near Plainview, generally stopping after a short time.

It dropped up behind a cold front which pushed as far south before dawn as a line linking Texarkana, Tyler, Austin and Del Rio and was due to move into the Gulf of Mexico by evening.

Freezing weather nipped the Panhandle-Plains sector and some other areas of West and North Texas as the mercury plunged 35 to 40 degrees in places from the top marks registered Thursday afternoon. Readings near dawn in central and southern areas of the state still stood in the mid 60s, however.

Scattered showers moved through the north, central and east sections of the state, meanwhile, around Mineral Wells, Greenville, Paris, Tyler, Palestine and Waco. Another area of shower activity stretched from Galveston up the coast into Louisiana.

DENSE FOG

Patches of dense fog formed, meanwhile, in coastal areas from around Beaumont, Port Arthur and Houston to Victoria and inland as far as College Station.

Forecasts promised an even colder night nearly everywhere in the state, with readings as low as 23 degrees in the southwest part of the state, 25 in the Panhandle, 28 in the north central section and 32 in the northeast.

Temperatures plunged this morning after another day of near record warmth Thursday, when readings ranged up to 82 at Alice and Brownsville, and 83 at the nation's high—at McAllen. At Dalhart, behind the cold front, the top mark was 59.

Readings skidded before daylight to 24 at Amarillo, 25 at Dalhart, 26 at Lubbock and Wichita Falls, 28 at Childress, 30 at Marfa and Midland, 31 at Alpine and 32 at Mineral Wells. At the same hour it was still 66 at Galveston and 72 at Corpus Christi.

Readying Plan To Ban Vehicles In Some Areas

HOUSTON (AP) — Air pollution in Houston may become so heavy it will be necessary to ban all motor vehicles in some areas of the city's air pollution control director says.

Gerals Hord, the director, said the state is readying a plan under which the restrictions can be effected, and the city is preparing equipment for instant monitoring of trouble spots.

The legislature has given the Texas Air Control Board authority to write and enforce an emergency plan, Hord said, but so far the rules have not been written. Traffic and some industries could be stopped under two conditions, he said.

One is a "general condition" emergency procedure to be used when conditions indicate a harmful buildup of air pollutants, such as during a persistent inversion.

The air board then could order vehicle restrictions and industry shutdowns or slowdowns, but only with the approval of the governor.

The second category is an "imminent danger" provision such as the release of deadly gases. Under that provision, the state board could shut down the offender immediately, without seeking the governor's approval.

DEAR ABBY: I still adore you, but how could you? I refer to that bum advice you gave Walter's wife. What gives with my free-wheeling, clear thinking Abby? You want Walter should go looking elsewhere? Making a wreck of her, is he? It would seem that the little woman has lost her spark and Walter is still rarin' to go.

What's wrong with letting him jump into the bathtub anyway? Come on, Abby, you're making it tough for guys with get up and go. PETE IN WESTPORT

DEAR ABBY: You gave Walter's wife some bad dope. She's 44 and he is 45 and she complained (or was she bragging?) that his ardor was so untamed that he wanted to jump into the bathtub with her. I can hear the sighs of neglected women the world over. And you, Dear Abby, advised her to tell him to take a cold shower? For shame. I submit that she should join him in a nice warm shower. It's fun. It enhances togetherness, and it conserves water. ROMANTIC ROBBIE FROM LONG BEACH

DEAR ABBY: If Walter's wife follows your advice ("lock the bathroom door and tell him to take a cold shower") Walter will be taking hot ones with someone else. Resurging sexuality in middle life is a boon and a blessing. Would she prefer to "live and to cherish" in sickness rather than in health? Love him or lose him. Enjoy! Enjoy! MRS. H.A.P.

Fine Examples Of Generosity
AUSTIN (AP) — Faculty members of the University of Texas college of arts and sciences have donated more than $26,000 for the educational opportunity scholarship fund in the past 18 months. "This generosity is one of the finest examples of student concern shown by any faculty on any campus," acting dean Samuel P. Ellison Jr. said in a report to the arts and sciences faculty. The selection committee headed by Dr. James Ayres of the English department has awarded 27 scholarships totaling $12,000, Ellison reported. "Only the most deserving applicants are selected," he added.

40th birthday? Walter's wife protested that she's 44, looks her age, and isn't all that irresistible, but Walter, who is 45, would attack her in the bathtub if she'd permit it. Obviously Walter still finds her attractive, and isn't that what counts? KAREN

DEAR ABBY: I sure hope Walter's wife takes your advice and locks Walter out and tells him to go take a cold shower. I've had my eye on that man for a long time. DIGS WALTER

DEAR ABBY: This is for Walter's Wife: The trouble with so many wives today is that there are too many wives telling their husbands to go take cold showers. DRIPPING WET

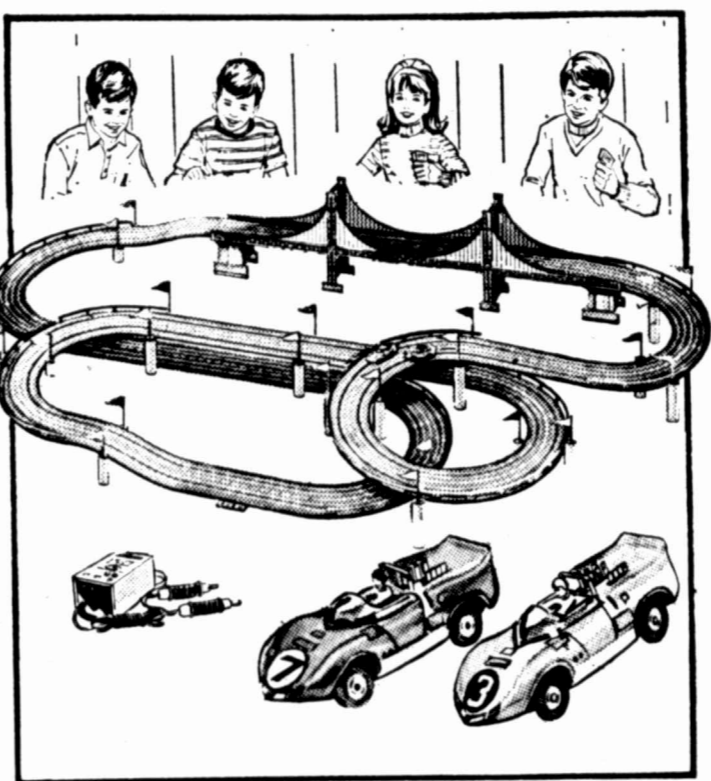

DEAR ABBY: I was very much surprised at the advice you gave Walter's Wife. She should be proud that after 24 years of marriage he still feels that way about her. GREG'S WIFE

Registration Of 'Gay Lib' At UT Nixed

AUSTIN (AP) — Gay Liberation was denied registration as an official University of Texas campus organization. Dr. Bryce Jordan, acting UT-Austin president, overruled a 7-2 decision of the committee on student organizations to register the homosexual group. Jordan said registration of "Gay Lib" would "bring discredit" to the university in the eyes of the public. "I cannot allow the university to give tacit approval to an activity which is of probable detriment to the normal development of some of its students, and is certain to bring discredit to the institution in the eyes of most of those interested in the university, including the taxpaying public," Jordan said. "The university is not lacking in concern for the plight of homosexuals; it provides psychiatric services to all students seeking help in such matters. The provision of such services is a proper role for the university; the recognition of groups such as Gay Liberation is not."

Horoscope

TOMORROW —CARROL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Today's Full Moon brings considerable activity to most everyone. You would be wise to make use of the energy released to contact people with whom you should have discussions and conferences. Let them know just what you have in mind and listen to what they have to suggest in joint ventures.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Excellent day to shop and make important appointments for whatever is uppermost in your mind. Then get together with congenial friends for relaxation and fun. Correspond. Take care of travel affairs, etc.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Stop wasting time and improve everything around you by cleaning and reorganizing possessions. Do whatever you have planned for some time. Study your financial situation and know just where you can spend and where you cannot.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Ideal day to handle those affairs that will bring more activity to the persons who are important in your life. Plan to get that shopping done without delay, also. Schedule your activities early and all is fine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Get your activities well organized so that they produce much better results. You are able to get that information you need confidentially so that you can better carry through with some project you have. Show gratitude.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Contacting good friends early gives you an opportunity to be very social today and to show your fondness for them. You are able to go after some important wish early and get it. Organize financial affairs.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Handle those civic affairs well and do whatever stamps you as an A-1 citizen. Make sure you do nothing to jeopardize your reputation. Do something about credit matters, before the holidays.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Contact individuals you want to be more a part of your life in the future and talk over whatever plans you have with them. Some important trip should be planned now. This will bring on the kind of expansion that you want.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) You have a fine hunch how to take care of the financial situation very wisely. You have plenty of time for it on this day free from other work. Take that hint with loved one that you have in mind.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) The Full Moon has others in a confiding mood, so be sure to contact them and get information you want. Do most of the listening and all is fine. Then you know what they have in mind and can carry on intelligently.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) You have duties to perform in the outside world, so get out early and handle them well. Fellow workers will help you to be more efficient. Give them an opportunity to do so without losing your temper.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Plan as much time as you can to be with loved one and friends for the amusements you want. Good day to do Christmas shopping. Show all you contact how devoted you are.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Let your home be the center of your activities now and if you handle whatever comes up in an objective fashion, all is fine. Try not to be so hypersensitive. Strive for greater harmony with everyone.

Members of the Newcomers Club and their husbands played Crazy Bridge at their Christmas party Wednesday in the First Federal Community Room. Winners were Ray Topp for the men and Mrs. Tim Hamling for the women.

American Indian Culture Probed

A discussion on the housing, food and culture of the American Indian was presented by Mrs. T. C. Richland, Miss Helen Ewing and Mrs. Alta King, at Tuesday's meeting of the Martha Foster Circle of the Wesley United Methodist Church. The meeting was in Mrs. Richland's home at 702 Birdwell.

BKG Tea Sunday

The Beta Kappa Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma will meet for its annual Christmas tea Saturday at 2 p.m. in the parlor of the Dora Roberts Student Union Building at Howard County Junior College.

33rd Annual Dinner For Sew-Chatter Club

The 33rd annual Christmas party for the Sew and Chatter Club was held Wednesday evening when the women met for dinner at Holiday Inn. Three charter members in attendance were Mrs. C. Y. Clinkscales, Mrs. H. V. Crocker and Mrs. Laura T. Anderson, the latter now of Gilmer. Other guests were Mrs. Clayton Bettle and Mrs. Fannie Bezona. After dinner, the group relating Christmas customs, Mrs. Jones urged members "not to get in such a hurry that we fail to recognize and appreciate the significance of the Christmas symbol of Christ, even though we go through the same rituals year after year." As she described various customs, Mrs. Jones said that Martin Luther made the Christmas tree a part of his "Legend of Christmas" where in the tree was described as being "the wood of peace on earth, good will toward men." In 1843, Charles Dickens is said to have made a tree in black and white, which was perhaps the forerunner of modernistic trees today.

Some people believe the Crown of Thorns was made of holly and that the berries were white," said Mrs. Jones, "and after the crucifixion, the berries turned red like drops of blood." She concluded by noting that witches are supposed to hate holly, so the custom of hanging holly over the door is supposed to keep out evil spirits.

District President Visits VFW Unit

Mrs. W. L. Ferguson of Odessa, president of District 25, made her official visit to the VFW Auxiliary Wednesday evening when Mrs. Homer Petty was hostess for a meeting in her home at 707 N. Gregg.

Accompanying the visiting officer were Mrs. R. A. Chambers, Mrs. C. W. Marshall and Mrs. L. G. Taylor, all members of the auxiliary to VFW Post 4372, Odessa. Other guests were Miss Dallas Crawford and Miss Rebecca Crawford, Howard County's entrants in the VFW essay contest for which the topic is "Freedom — Our Heritage."

The next meeting will be Jan. 13 in the Sullivan home.

Men's Club To Install New Slate

New officers of the Men's Garden Club were elected at a meeting Tuesday in the U. S. Experiment Station. They are John Johansen, president; L. R. Saunders, vice president; and Bill Sneed, secretary-treasurer.

One-year directors are Grady Randle and Ira Norrell. Two-year directors are Walter Schattel and Andy Arcand.

Dr. Paul Koshi, retiring president, presented the program and showed two films, "Cycle of Life" and "Life Cycle of a Plant."

The new officers will be installed at the club's Jan. 12 meeting, 6:30 p.m. at Furr's Cafeteria. It will also be their annual ladies' night.

Capping Service Slated Tonight For HCJC Nurses

A vocational nurse program capping ceremony will be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the auditorium at Howard County Junior College, with 19 student nurses receiving their caps.

After the procession by Santos Lujan, the invocation will be by the Rev. Claude Craven of Trinity Baptist Church.

The guest speaker, Dr. R. G. Botros, will be introduced by Dr. Marshall Box, Dean, Technical-Vocational Division. Mrs. Gerald Harris, RN, will present the caps, after which the nurses will receive Bibles from Mrs. Roy Hester Jr. of the Gideons' Auxiliary.

The nurses will recite the Florence Nightingale pledge, and the program will conclude with a benediction by Rev. Craven.

Those to receive caps are Jean Beck, Mary Lou Billalba, L. A. Burchell, Deborah Carothers, Dawne Curry, Verma Goswick, Betty Handley, Beth Hart, Sue Kennenur and Louise King.

Also, Betty Lister, Patty Moore, Christine Mulkey, Davida Neece, Mary Salinas, Mattiea Shurtleff, Sylvia Springer, Jane Stansel and Daniel Tovar.

Choir Sings For Club

The recently-organized children's choir from Westside Community Center performed a medley of Christmas carols Wednesday for Big Spring Child Study Club which met for a luncheon in the home of Mrs. Kenneth Franks, 2507 Ann Drive.

The choir was directed by Mrs. Joe Dawes and accompanied by Mrs. Charles Beil at the piano. The selections were "Away in a Manger," "O Tannenbaum," "Infant Holy," "The Friendly Beast" and "I Saw Three Ships."

Mrs. Leo Gee, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Lewis McKnight who presented the second part of the program, a humorous story, "The Currier Brigade," and a review of the book, "Why God Gave Children Parents." She concluded by reading "A Parent's Prayer."

Mrs. Charles Warren presided as plans were announced to increase club membership to 25.

Gardeners Take Gifts To Home

The Four O'Clock Garden Club visited residents at a local nursing home Wednesday and helped them decorate their tree and home for the holidays. Christmas music was played, refreshments were served and each resident was given a gift.

Full Skirts, Off-Shoulder Necklines Coming Around Again (!) In Spring

By MILDRED WHITEAKER
NEW YORK — There's so much going on in spring fashion that hardly anyone talks about lengths anymore.

Daytime hemlines are extending from just below the knee to just above the ankle. Designers at the National Fashion Press Week are offering the variety and leaving the choice up to the woman.

Happily, nobody seems to be "uptight" or dictatorial about the situation. Anne Klein, that award-winning creator of sophisticated sportswear, included one short-short dress in her mid-minded collection, an indication that knees won't be completely obliterated as warm weather returns.

Leg watchers, disappointed over descending hemlines, may soon be raising their sights and ceasing their grumbling. In many instances, as legs go under cover, shoulders and bosoms get more exposure. Off-shoulder necklines, which haven't been around in years, are back. Then there's added skin flickery via keyhole necklines and bodices slit to the waist.

More than 200 newspaper, television and radio fashion editors from around the world attended the semi-annual press showings presented for the first time in the posh Essex House Hotel on Central Park South.

Seventh Avenue designers, weary with hemline chatter, prefer to talk about the soft and sensuous mood of spring fashion — the dreamy, feminine fabrics that drift over the figure outlining the bosom, the waist and the hips and often burst into pleats at the hemline.

RUFFLES, TUCKS
Daytime dresses are back and look newest with full blown skirts. Many dresses can be pegged as "romantic" and are accented with ruffles, flounces, tucks, smocking or gathers. The shirtwaist is returning in garden

Group Exchanges Secret Pal Gifts

Secret pals were revealed and gifts exchanged Monday by the Adult Women's Sunday school class of First Baptist Church, Knott, which met in the home of the president, Mrs. Lloyd Robinson. New names were distributed by Mrs. J. E. Peugh, secretary.

Plans were discussed for the church Christmas party when the devotional will be given by Mrs. Jack Hopper.

Refreshments were served from a table decorated in a red and green Christmas motif. The January meeting will be in the Hopper home.

party glory, and the long-torso chemise is again a key silhouette. The colorful ethnic styles remain with us, many designers equating their feeling for ethnic clothes with their intense interest in ecology. Color is another clue to spring, and the New York sunshine provided an appropriate atmosphere for the brilliant solid colors and prints parading the runway.

In addition to Anne Klein, opening presentations included Cardinali and Pauline Trigere, two of the country's most distinguished fashion creators, and Papillon, a moderately-priced line which has hit the big time since its inception last February.

Anne Klein continues her love affair with the high midriff, laced-front midi skirt (more than twenty thousand women own the fall version of this skirt). Always a sportswear innovator, she shows spring jumpsuits with battle jacket tops which zip off and may be worn with skirts or dresses.

Moroccan and Indonesian embroideries flicker through the colorful collection, a result of Anne's many travels. Dark voile blouses are teamed with print jackets and a variety of snazzy knickers, slacks and skirts. Her "thoroughbred" skirts have their own small scarves to be tied western fashion around the neck.

Papillon means butterfly, and that's the symbol of this collection which highlights soft and gentle print dresses of cotton knit and cotton voile. Designer Annemarie Gardin knows how to cut a simple dress or suit and make either look prophetic. This is a name to remember.

The soft touch of spring is dramatized to perfection by blonde, talented Marilyn Lewis of Los Angeles, who designs under the name "Cardinali." Currently in the hospital due to a knee injury, Cardinali was unable to commentate the collection which focuses on drifting, weightless dresses in a new 16-denier silk flat crepe printed in small Venetian squares often in three or four gradations of color.

Cardinali likes jumpsuits (thinks they're particularly slimming to sizes 12 and 14) and shows them both for day and for evening. The latter is in ice blue cut velvet.

French-born Pauline Trigere is a true fashion innovator, and her showing — like Cardinali's — received an ovation from the press. (Both lines are designed and priced for the woman of taste and affluence. The bias dress, the jumpsuit, the cape and the fitted coat are among Trigere's signatures. All her blouses are cut like a mallot swimsuit so that they never "ride up.")

For spring, she puts a coat of one print over a dress of another, resulting in stunning combinations (which could be disastrous in the hands of an amateur). She lights up the evening with black net "illusion coats" sprinkled with sequins and meant to be worn with varied dresses or pants. And she puts cotton chiffon into the Tiffany category in a series of print gowns sparkling with nailettes.

Treats For Troops To Be Baked Saturday

The Wives and Mothers of Vietnam Servicemen will meet Saturday at Midway School to make cookies and candies to mail to servicemen from Howard County. Mrs. Harvey Hooser, president, invites new members or volunteer workers to join the group in this project. The women will meet at 1600 Scurry and go together to the school. To raise money for postage, the group is selling candies, pocket secretaries and Christmas pins. Those interested in helping are invited to call Mrs. Hooser, 263-6148, after 5 p.m.

Local AFA Chapter Elects Officers, Hears War Talk

Big Spring's Air Force Association chapter met Thursday for the first quarterly meeting since the AFA state convention held here in July and the last meeting of 1970 and elected officers.

A. J. Staster, outgoing president, presented a list of nominees for officers, pointing out that three extra vice presidential positions were created by the nominating committee to beef up the leadership for a more active chapter.

He said the state AFA convention had been carried off very successfully, but after the convention the organization had not been as industrious in recruiting new members and planning new activities.

The new slate of officers nominated and elected include Dr. Milton Tabot, president; Jack Alexander, first vice president; Wade Choate, membership vice president; Joe Pickle, publicity vice president; Ralph McLaughlin, program vice president; Jack Gully, secretary; and Jerry Jenkins, treasurer.

Staster told the members that the organization aims to provide an organization through which "free men may unite to support armed strength adequate to sustain the nation and the free world through education of the public to the need for aerospace power." He added that in working for the strength to assure respect between nations and organization seeks the protection of the principles of freedom.

Reminding members that the organization does not limit membership to those who have served in the armed forces, Staster said the only requirement for a new member is that he be a U.S. citizen and "feel we need a strong Air Force for the security of the nation and the free world."

He suggested that members who have not renewed their membership yet do so before Jan. 1 when higher dues set at the July meeting will go into effect. During December the members may still pay the $7 a year rate, or $18 for three years. The new rates will be $10 a year or $25 for three years.

Retiring as treasurer, Tom Eastland reported that $972 had been taken in during the year, with $365 paid out, primarily for the AFA convention expenses, raising the chapter's bank balance to $762.

Col. Charles Walker, sitting in for Col. A. W. Atkinson, expressed the appreciation of Webb AFB to the chapter and offered continued support in the future.

Featured speaker MSGt. Clinton Shows, who just returned from Vietnam, addressed the group on the conditions and morale among the men he worked with while stationed at Tansonhut.

Shows said that at that installation conditions were apparently much better than in the field, but he never met anyone on the base who was known to use drugs. He said morale in his recon support group was "very, very high considering the fact that my people worked 12 hours a day, seven days a week."

He said security at the base was excellent, and "we got to trust the air police and Vietnamese who are doing a good job guarding the base." He said the supply was adequate, although subject to fluctuations, and recalled an enterprising Texan managing the Airman's Club who set up a string of sandwich annexes around the base, and set up a Mexican-style restaurant.

Shows said the rocket attacks were a bit nerve-racking. "I had never heard one before, but I knew what it was the first time one hit," he said. He added that through underground information sources they often received word of coming rocket attacks, and were ordered to take shelter until the all clear order was given.

He said troops in Vietnam heard American news casts about two days after they were aired in the States, which gave the men a chance to judge the truth of the newscasts against their own experience. "Many of the reports were a little out of line," Shows said.

CHRISTMAS PRESENT? — Mrs. Cheryl Ketchum, 20, empties her bag after she was discovered on a C-13 Air Force cargo plane at Davis Monthan Air Force Base near Tucson. Mrs. Ketchum told authorities she and her sister, Linda Livingstone, 18, stowed away on the giant plane for 11 hours before crewmen discovered her shortly before takeoff. Mrs. Ketchum said she wanted to give her husband, Air Force Sgt. Thomas W. Ketchum, a "surprise visit for Christmas." Ketchum is stationed in Thailand. The girls were questioned and released.

LETTER Says Containers Fiscally Unsound

To The Editor:

Much public comment has been voiced by some members of the City Commission regarding the petition which I presented to the city secretary asking for an election to see if the people would support the plan of residential containerized garbage collection proposed by the city manager. I would like to say that the presentation of the new residential container system was incomplete and misleading and the city manager and commission refused to give a complete and detailed estimate of the cost of the over-all project. They only talked about phase I, according to estimates projected from city maps and the cost of phase I containers, this program would ultimately cost in the vicinity of $500,000.

This program would have served only 47 per cent of the people of Big Spring. All would have paid for the program.

A group of citizens interested in sound fiscal government met with the city commissioners and pointed out many good reasons why the container program was not feasible at this time. We felt the people did not want the containers and that it would lead us into a very expensive program over the next 15 or 20 years that would not benefit the taxpayers nearly enough to warrant the cost. On a split decision decided by a vote of our mayor, the city commission voted to buy the first $25 residential containers. After advertising for bids on these containers, the commissioners refused the low bid and agreed to take the highest bid offered. This did not look like good sound fiscal policy, but the city manager recommended it.

After this action was taken, we decided to take the only action left whereby the people could have a voice heard in this matter. We asked for an election to be held. Being an elected public official or an appointee of an elected official does not mean that a person has a greater stake in the growth and prosperity of our city. Elected officials campaign on the promise of serving the people. The tax paying citizens all have equal responsibility in good government. After a long tenure in office some public officials seem to forget this fact. Progress is achieved by the development of good sound ideas. We do not feel that the residential garbage container is a good idea. The argument that other cities have this program in effect is not enough to prove that it would be good for Big Spring. If the people do not want it, this is a strong argument against it.

For the past 25 years the taxpayers of Big Spring have supported the city officials as long as their ideas were sound and good management was practiced by city employees. I have no reason to believe that our present officials will not receive this same support.

HAVE YOU WRITTEN A BOOK?

A publisher's representative will be in Big Spring in January. He will be interviewing local authors in a quest for finished manuscripts suitable for book publication by Carlton Press, Inc., well-known New York publishing firm. All subjects will be considered including fiction and non-fiction, poetry, drama, religion, philosophy, etc.

If you have completed a book-length manuscript (or nearly so) on any subject, and would like a professional appraisal (without cost or obligation), please write immediately describing your work and stating which part of the day (a.m. or p.m.) you would prefer for an appointment. You will promptly receive a confirmation for a definite time and place. Please include your phone number.

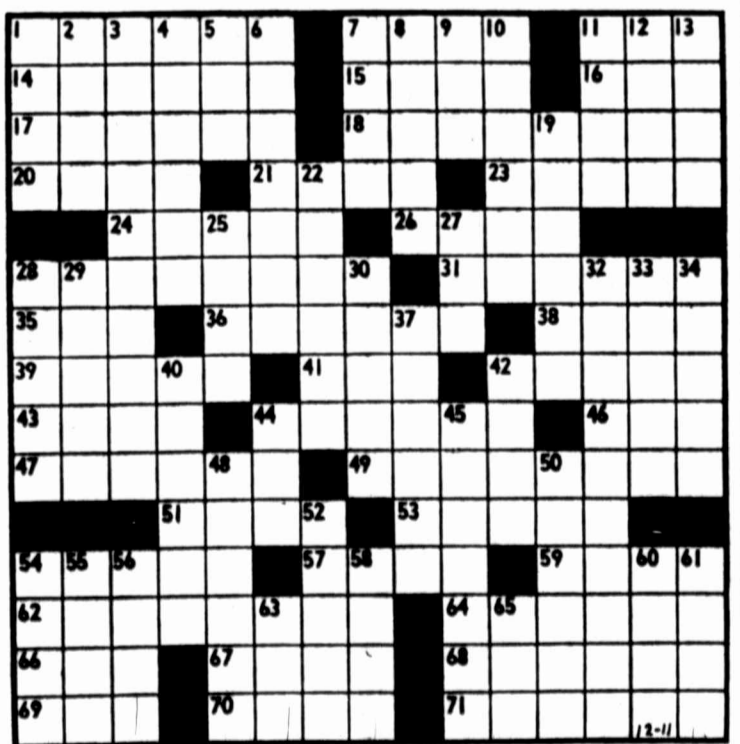

Authors with completed manuscripts unable to appear may send them directly to the representative (address below) for a free reading and evaluation. He will also be glad to hear from those whose literary works are still in progress. Please address:

Jurors Deliberating Starr County Voting Fraud Case

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Jurors deliberating in the vote fraud trial in federal court of Starr County residents start today. The case was turned over to the jury by U.S. Dist. Judge Reynaldo Garza at 4:55 p.m. Thursday. The jury met for about ten minutes and decided to retire for the evening. The defendants are accused of conspiring to dilute the vote in the May 2 primary election in the border county. Originally, 22 persons were indicted. Judge Garza ordered a direct verdict of not guilty for nine of the defendants after ruling that no evidence had been presented against them in the four-day trial. One defendant, Brigido Escobar, was ill and is to be tried later.

Judge Garza ordered the jury to acquit County Clerk Jose S. Hinojosa, Feliberto Salinas, Alvaro Canales, Agustine Moreno, Reynaldo Alvarez, Leonel Ramos, Fidencia Salmon, Chief Deputy Sheriff Raul Pena and Deputy Eulogio Munoz. The case against the Mexican-American defendants went to the jury of seven women and five men shortly after a government prosecutor told the jurors, "You have a chance to do something about corruption and vote stealing."

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY RATED 'GP' Musical Staged Again Tonight

The second performance of "The Sound of Music" will be given tonight in the Big Spring High School auditorium.

Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. for the play, which is rated "GP" for general audiences by its producer, Mrs. Joy Shaver, high school drama teacher.

Opening night Thursday was attended by 309 persons who gave the cast a standing ovation at the close of the play.

The play concerns a novice who creates such a stir in the abbey that the Mother Abbess sends her as a governess to the seven children of an Austrian naval captain. She falls in love with the children and their father. The denouement is a little different than the usual love story in that it concerns the flight of the family from German-occupied Austria.

Starring in the play are Ranette Miller as the novice Maria; Brad Cederberg as Capt. Von Trapp; Belinda Gonzales as the Mother Abbess; and Mary Dirks as Elsa Schraeder, an Austrian baroness who wouldn't at all mind becoming Frau Von Trapp.

The children are portrayed by Jill Shaver, Paul Talbot, Martha Talbot, Ivan Sursky, Pam Huckaba, Connie Sheppard and Eme Talbot.

Additional cast members include Bobby Dyer, the butler; Norma Backs, the housekeeper; Kent Fish, Max; Kelly Draper, Rolf; Elizabeth Arencibia, Ursula; Davis Wallace, Herr Zeller; Steve Burnett, Baron Elberfield; Darla Buchanan, Baroness Elberfield; Kathy Bull, a postulant; and Guy Bell as Admiral von Schreiber.

Esther Dennis is Sister Berthe; Lydia Hayworth, Sister Margaretta; and Sandy Reed, Sister Sophia. The nuns' chorus is made up of Ellen Anderson, Veanda Griffith, Pam Wheeler, Patti Womack, Leslie Welsh, Kathy Rigdon, Joan Allen, Connie Gary, Cecelia Coffey, Sharon Farmer, Brenda Thomas, Carrie Wheeler and Kathy Fowler.

Bob Barnes and Scott Birdwell are the SS men. Other characters are portrayed by Donna Austin, David Wright and John Hicks.

Backing up the cast is the backstage crew. Elizabeth

SA Mayor, 81, To Wed Divorcee Of Little Rock

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Mayor W. W. McAllister Sr., 81, will marry a Little Rock, Ark., woman whom he met while she was head of the Arkansas pavilion here during Hemisfair '68, it was disclosed.

McAllister, a widower, and Cleo Sterne, 42, a divorcee, will be wed Monday in Little Rock. Contacted in Little Rock, Mrs. Sterne said the ceremony will be a simple affair with a few friends and family members attending. She said a wedding trip will have to be postponed because the mayor has too many commitments here.

"We both love San Antonio too much for him not to keep these commitments," she said, adding that they will return here Tuesday.

It will be the second marriage for both.

McAllister, who will be 82 in March, was out of town and unavailable for comment. He has been San Antonio's mayor since 1961 and has said he does not plan to seek re-election next year.

TADC Campaign Way Below Goal

DALLAS — "The Texas Association of Developing Colleges fund drive has to date received only $30,000 of its $500,000 campaign goal," R. L. Thornton, chairman of the board of directors of Mercantile National Bank, Dallas, and TADC campaign chairman, has announced.

"These are the forgotten colleges that have done so much for the educational growth of the black community," said Thornton. "These black colleges still serve as special-purpose institutions to provide training for those who have not been adequately trained during their high school tenure. If the state is to develop and grow, we must continuously support these institutions."

Thornton urged that contributions be mailed to Box 45661, Dallas, Texas 75235.

Lipscombe and John Holloway are in charge of stage design and set construction; Veanda Griffith, properties; Gerren Martin, lighting effects; Teresa Chappard, costume mistress; Ann Powell, house and publicity; and Stephani Raphael, make-up.

Joy Stevens and Michel Pope have assisted Mrs. Shaver in directing the play. Kenny Sheppard, choral director, was in charge of coordinating the music.

Tickets to tonight's production and the final production Saturday night are on sale at the door at $1.75 for adults; $1 for students and airmen; and 50 cents for children 12 and under.

Base-Community Council Hears Survey Results

Seventeen members of the steering committee of the Base-Community Council met over lunch Thursday at the Webb AFB Officers Club to hear year-end reports from the chairman of the standing committees.

Each committee has a civilian and a military co-chairman, who presented reports on their projects during the year in the last meeting before the naming of new civilian committee chairmen by the Chamber of Commerce president.

After a welcoming address by Col. A. W. Atkinson, Col. W. J. Kilpatrick, co-chairman of the Housing-Commercial Committee, reported on the results of a recent housing survey among Air Force personnel.

Kilpatrick said 95 per cent of those surveyed said they were satisfied with their housing. 30 per cent said they had moved only once during the past year, and the average monthly rental was reported to be $87 with an average utility bill of $23.

He added that this represented a dollar input into the community of $1.5 million a year, and the survey showed no housing shortage.

Atkinson explained that the survey had been started in response to complaints about a housing shortage, and the fact that no such survey had been conducted for several years. He said he agreed with the findings of the survey that there is not a housing problem at this time. Dr. Carl W. Marcum, co-

LTV Losses Topping $9 Million Revealed

DALLAS (AP)—The president of Ling-Temco-Vought, the mammoth conglomerate once headed by James T. Ling, said Friday that the firm lost more than $5 million during the third quarter and more than $9 million in the nine months ended Sept. 30.

Within the LTV complex are such firms as LTV Aerospace, LTV ElectroSystems, LTV Ling Altec, Okonite, Wilson & Co., Wilson Pharmaceutical, Braniff Airways and Jones & Laughlin Steel.

The conglomerate's current president, Paul Thayer, said LTV had a net loss of $5,111,000 in 1970's third quarter.

He said in a letter to stockholders that the amount compared with net income of $577,000 after "an extraordinary charge of $1,832,000 in the corresponding period of 1969."

For the year's first nine months, Thayer continued, the company showed a net loss of $9,145,000 after taking into account "an extraordinary credit in the first quarter of $8.7 million."

He added: "During a comparable period last year, the company showed essentially a break-even result."

Thayer's letter continued: "Sales increased during the nine-month period but were down slightly for the third quarter."

"Through Sept. 30, the company had sales of $2,850,701,000 compared to $2,737,021,000 for the equivalent 1969 period. Third quarter sales were $946,604,000, compared to $960,957,000 last year."

Thayer blamed high interest beneficial effect on base-community relations.

Marcum said the committee also suggested that airmen's wives be encouraged to take part in more community activities and that the parking area at the north end of the runway be improved with a welcome sign and a small park area.

Capt. John Edwards, base information officer, reported on the military personnel and facilities available for tours, speaking, and planning programs for various groups.

Also discussed was the new main entrance on the east side of the base proposed to the city commission Nov. 24 to improve internal traffic congestion and route traffic away from the Airport School. Atkinson said the steering committee would go into it again if the city commission is able to work it into city budget plans.

Jeff Brown, retiring co-chairman of the steering committee, expressed his appreciation to members for their help and commented: "Big Spring is lucky to have such an organization to readily recognize and resolve any problem affecting base-community relations."

Okie Martial Law Threat

STIGLER, Okla. (AP) — A district court judge Thursday threatened to use martial law if either striking miners or their employers disobey his temporary injunction against violence or harassment of any kind involving the work stoppage at Kerr-McGee's Choctaw coal mine near here.

About the same time, reports materialized that the five-month-old dispute might be near a settlement. A United Mine Workers official in Fort Smith, Ark., said he understood a contract would be signed today, but he could give no details.

A spokesman for Kerr-McGee said only that the company was "hopeful."

Dist. Court Judge Net Henderson granted the injunction on behalf of Kerr-McGee, plaintiffs in the hearing.

But Henderson specified the order against violence applied to both sides in the dispute.

Seattle Seven Mistrrial Call

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A mistrrial was declared Thursday in the federal conspiracy trial of seven young persons charged in connection with damage to federal property during a violent demonstration in Seattle last February.

U.S. Dist. Court Judge George H. Boldt declared the mistrrial after the defendants refused to enter the courtroom. Boldt had to personally go to the defense room in the federal courthouse here and order them inside. The defendants said they took the action because many spectators were not allowed in the courtroom to observe the trial.

Boldt issued contempt of court citations against six of the seven defendants. Susan Stern, 27, the seventh defendant was absent because of illness.

The trial began here Nov. 23. The seven were charged with conspiring to damage the U.S. Courthouse and federal office building during a Feb. 17 demonstration in Seattle.

Defendants are Michael Abeles, 19; Michael Lerner, 27; Charles Marshall III, 25; Joseph Kelly, 24; Jeffrey Dowd, 20; Roger Lippman, 22; and Mrs. Stern.

Kelly, Abeles, Dowd and Marshall were also charged with interstate travel with intent to incite riot. Lerner is additionally charged with using interstate telephone lines with intent to incite riot.

City-Wide Hymn Sing Scheduled

A city-wide hymn sing will be held Sunday in the First Christian Church, Tenth and Goliad. The sing will begin at 8:20 p.m., and all youth are invited.

The sing is sponsored by the youth department at First Christian. An organizational meeting will be held, and future sings will be scheduled each month at a different church. Samping Wall will lead the singing, and Dana Baker will be the piano accompanist.

Job Picture Not Pretty

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas unemployment hit 3.7 per cent at the end of fiscal 1970, topping the rate for every year since 1965, the Texas Employment Commission has told Gov. Preston Smith.

The commission said in its annual report Thursday that several major areas of the state were hit hard by cuts in defense spending.

The fiscal year ended on Aug. 31, 1970. The unemployment rate jumped from 2.6 per cent to the high closeout figure.

The labor force continued to grow, though at a much slower rate. Total employment was estimated at 4,629,700 on Aug. 31, up 1.5 per cent from the previous year.

Nonagricultural employment was estimated to be up 1.9 per cent over last year, hitting 4,323,700. The estimated agricultural employment, 306,000, was off 3.6 per cent, due mainly to a substantial reduction in the number of workers needed in the Coastal Bend area, caused by Hurricane Celia.

American Legion Holds Stag Night

The American Legion will have its regular monthly stag night at 7 p.m. today in the post home.

Main feature tonight will be "real West Texas chili made with venison," Larry Phillips, commander, said. Paul Hernandez and Jimmy Leal are in charge of cooking the chili.

The meeting is open to members and accompanied guests, Phillips said. He also reminded American Legion members that 1970 dues expire this month.

Music Will Celebrate The Christmas Season

With the Christmas season fast approaching, local churches are scheduling special programs and services to celebrate this special time in Christian life. Music will be the chief expression for the joy of Christmas as many churches have scheduled a program of singing.

East Fourth Baptist Church Choir will perform the John W. Peterson Christmas cantata, "Love Transcending" at 7 p.m. Dec. 20. The choir will be under the direction of Raford Dunagan. The Rev. Dale Cain will narrate the scripture portions of the program. A Student Night for college students has been set for Dec. 27. Special music and testimony will be featured.

Church of God, 1008 W. 4th, will hold a Christmas observance Dec. 23 at 7:30 p.m. featuring music performed by the junior choir. The church youth will also present a Christmas play directed by B. B. Gilstrap.

CAROLS AND CANDLES
The First Christian Church will hold a carols and candle service Sunday at 6:30 p.m. An 8:30 program will consist of a community sing featuring members of all area churches.

United Methodist Church will hold a candlelight service Dec. 20 at 6 p.m.
First United Methodist has scheduled a special Christmas Eve observance for 11:30 p.m. St. Mary's Episcopal Church will hold a Christmas service at 10:30 a.m. Dec. 20 featuring a children's pageant depicting the Christmas story. Also on Dec. 20, church members will gather for the traditional "Hanging of the Greens" in the church sanctuary. A Christmas Eve service will be held at 11:30 p.m. and a Christmas morning service at 9 a.m.

The youth of Birdwell Lane Baptist Church are currently planning a special program in which they will participate. The exact date has not yet been set. Sacred Heart Catholic Church will hold a midnight mass on Christmas Eve.

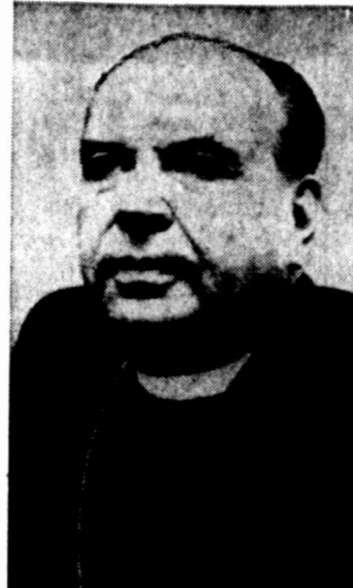

CAROL SING
Temple Baptist has scheduled an all-music, church participation program for Dec. 23 in place of the regular Wednesday night service. Joe Dunn will lead the congregation in the carol sing.

Children in the primary age groups 3, 4 and 5 will portray the characters in the Christmas story Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at Berea Baptist Church. The program will feature traditional music and scripture readings.

YOUTH FEATURED
College Baptist Church will hold a special Christmas service Dec. 20 at 11 a.m. which will feature sermon and songs pertaining to the season. The 7 p.m. service will be given completely to song as all the choirs from the primary groups to the adult choir are featured. A Christmas Vesper service is scheduled for Dec. 23 as a quiet observance of the coming of Christ. The college youth will take over the church Dec. 27 in a Student Night program which they will plan and participate in. The program will feature the youth choir and a reading by the Speech Chorus under the direction of Bob Lewis. A New Year's Vesper will be held Dec. 30, and church members are being encouraged to hold a similar observance in their homes New Year's Eve.

The upper grades of Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic School will entertain the residents at the Big Spring Nursing Inn Dec. 21 with Christmas carols. A midnight service will be held Christmas Eve at the church.

Protestants Have Edge In Congress

A survey of religious affiliations of the new U.S. Congress shows that 74.3 per cent of them are Protestants, 18.3 per cent Roman Catholics, 2.3 per cent Jewish and fractional percentages of other faiths or none. The figures showed a slight gain for Roman Catholics, adding five more members to make a total of 115, but their share of seats still is a bit short of their proportion of the population in the country—about 25 per cent. In the regular check made for the last 12 years by the evangelical fortnightly, Christianity Today, it noted that for the first time, "three congressmen this year said flatly they have no religious affiliation."

Also hinting an incipient tendency toward ambiguity about the matter was the increase from 12 to 16 in the number giving no specific church affiliation, listing themselves only as "Protestant." Altogether, the new Congress convening in January has 535 members, 435 in the House and 100 in the Senate. Of the total, the slightly increased Roman Catholic contingent is the largest among the denominations.

Methodists, in the second place, hold 86 seats, down four from the previous Congress, but they have the largest denominational group in the Senate, with 20 seats in that chamber.

Methodists also have the biggest number of state governorships, 10 of them. Eight governors are Roman Catholics, eight Presbyterians, five Episcopalians, four Baptists, three United Church of Christ members, three Jewish and the rest of other Protestant faiths.

In Congress, most Protestant denominations kept about the same representation this time, although some slipped a little, others inching up. The relatively small Jewish contingent of 14 was five less than in the previous Congress, but still remained close to the Jewish proportion of the population.

Pope Paul Drops Seclusion To Find Life Threatened

HONG KONG (AP) — Pope Paul VI's brush with an assassin in Manila starkly underlined the changed life style of the once-secluded Pope.

The chilling incident dramatized the dangers and uncertainties of Pope Paul's decision to wander among the people of distant lands as a simple missionary, in his words, "as small as an ant."

The voyage of more than 28,000 miles in effect summed up Paul's 6½ years as Pope. He portrayed: —Paul the self-styled missionary, offering Asia a new kind of Christianity whose rites and customs could be tailored to suit the Asians' own cherished cultures.

THE CRUSADER
—Paul the crusader to end war, flying over battlefields of Cambodia and Vietnam and launching a number of appeals for peace in those wartorn lands.

—Paul the implacable ecumenicist, meeting with the Moslem Shah of Iran at Tehran Airport, Hindus, Buddhists and Moslems in Ceylon, and greeting more Moslems in Jakarta, a stop that may have boosted the morale of Indonesia's 2.2 million Christians among a sometimes hostile majority.

Missing, however, was Paul who banned artificial birth control for 600 million Roman Catholics and discouraged its use for all other men.

ISSUE RELEVANT
The issue was especially relevant to Asia's illiterate, overpopulating millions. Yet the Pope avoided it completely, although an Asian bishop's conference he attended passed a resolution rejecting contraception as a means of stemming population growth.

The journey itself and its scope seemed awesome for a man of 73.

The white figure in the red cape flashed halfway around the world on the wings of an Alitalia DC8. He touched down on two continents—Asia and Australia—greeted three races—white, yellow and brown—and drew cheers in dozens of languages and dialects.

Reports of how tired he looked and felt kept cropping up, but on some days the more he did, the stronger he appeared to become.

Still jarring to consider, it all might have ended in Manila at the airport. "A man has attacked the Pope." "He was dressed like a priest." "He had a knife." The word spread amazingly slowly. Some persons standing a mere four feet from the Pope, their view blocked by other greeters, did not grasp what had happened until hours later.

Then they heard the police report: a man identified as Benjamin Mendoza y Amor, a 35-year-old Bolivian painter, had lunged at Pope Paul with a 9-inch knife.

The attack happened so fast and was blocked so quickly, however, that the world may never know who did what to foil the assassination attempt.

NOT SHAKEN
The pontiff did not appear shaken by the incident. He told President Ferdinand E. Marcos he had forgiven his assailant and had blessed the crucifix the man used to hide his knife.

The Pope said he wanted most of all to mingle with the people. And despite tightened security in Manila and all subsequent stops at Samoa, Sydney, Jakarta, Hong Kong—on the doorstep of Communist China—and Colombo, Ceylon, Paul could not be kept from going into the crowds.

And everywhere he said Mass and distributed Communion to the blind and crippled.

Like a dutiful pastor of a slum parish, the pontiff stopped to enter a ramshackle wooden hut in a fetid Manila neighborhood. There he visited a down-and-out carpenter, his wife and their eight children, including one stricken with polio.

Contrasted to the historical confines of other Popes during the Roman Catholic Church's 2,000-year history, Pope Paul's journey called up stunning prospects.

Will future Popes jet between the globe's principal cities to meet bishops and leaders of other religions the way men in the import-export business fly around making their contacts? It now seems wholly possible.

A papacy traditionally conducted behind high walls, and sometimes from a veritable fortress, has been set free to roam the nations of the world.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Youth In Action Drive Draws Good Response

To the Editor:

We would like to take this opportunity to express gratitude to the persons who contributed to the CROP drive and to the 75 youths who participated. Through the efforts of these young people, who represented nine churches, and local residents, $455.79 was collected.

Because of the Youth In Action drive and the generosity of Big Spring residents, people around the world will receive food items that are most needed. We realize how difficult it can be for people to make contributions at this time of the year. We found the response of the youngsters and of the public overwhelming. A large amount of thanks also goes to the local businesses, radio stations and The Herald for their help in this campaign.

Next year, we are looking forward to doubling our effort in the number of churches and youth involved. Nov. 7 has been set as a tentative date for the 1971 drive.

May the Lord continue to bless all of you as you serve him.

Parishioners Will Act In Diocese-Wide Play

SAN ANGELO — A diocese-wide celebration of the feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe will be held Sunday, in the San Angelo Coliseum.

The celebration will begin at 1 p.m. with the presentation of a play depicting the five apparitions of Our Lady to the Indian convert, Juan Diego on Tepeyac Hill near Mexico City in December, 1531. This play will be staged by members of St. Thomas Church in Big Spring. During each intermission musical groups from throughout the San Angelo Diocese will present musical programs in honor of the Virgin of Guadalupe. At 3:45 p.m. a large procession, led by Bishop Stephen A. Leven and the priests attending, will carry the image of Our Lady of Guadalupe into the coliseum.

A concelebrated Mass by attending priests will be held at 4 p.m. when Bishop Leven will be the principal celebrant and homilist. Music for this Mass will be the "Misa Miarachi" under the direction of Victor Samaniego. Musicians will be from San Angelo, Abilene, Midland, Odessa, Big Spring, Stanton, and other parts of the diocese. The celebration is open to every one.

Post Office Open Saturday

The Big Spring Post Office will be open for the next two Saturday mornings to allow patrons who work through the week to get their Christmas letters and packages into the mail.

Postmaster Frank Hardesty said the post office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to noon. "There are already backlogs of mail in some parts of the country, and residents should mail now to insure delivery by Christmas," he said.

He said that the "logjam" of Christmas mail hadn't hit the local post office but he expected that by next week postal employees would start to put in a lot of overtime.

"Local patrons can help us by not waiting until a few days before Christmas to mail their cards and packages," he said.

Movement Leader To Speak Tuesday

The Rev. Ben Johnson, head of the "Lay Renewal Foundation" of Atlanta, Ga., will speak at the First United Methodist Church Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall.

While a pastor in Alabama, the Rev. Johnson founded the "Lay Witness Movement" eight years ago. The movement was taken up by churches across the nation, and the foundation was begun.

The public is invited to attend the Rev. Johnson's talk Tuesday and hear him share his experiences and observations of laymen into whose life the Miracle has come. He will touch on the topics of study, worship, witnessing, praying, and all phases of Christian Life. The Rev. Johnson is known as a preacher, lecturer, author and leader.

New Policies Net No Rush To Re-Enlist

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A survey of soldiers here didn't turn up any mad dash to re-enlist as a result of new Army policies designed to make military life more attractive.

The most discussed change was the authorization to install beer vending machines in barracks, but most of those contacted felt this actually would mean very little.

Soldiers already unofficially drink beer in most barracks, said Army Pvt. Glenn Bivins, 18, of Seattle, Wash.

"So it doesn't make any difference," the Ft. Sam Houston soldier said.

Officials disclosed earlier this week directives issued by Gen. William C. Westmoreland "to enhance service attractiveness and remove unnecessary irritants to the troops."

Besides authorizing the beer vending machines, the Army chief of staff authorized 3.2 percent beer to be served at evening meals.

Washington reports noted the military hopes to encourage more young men to make a career of the service, with an all-volunteer force eventually established.

Army Pvt. John Howard of River Falls, Wis., and another Ft. Sam Houston private, Charles Duke of Rome, Ga., said they felt the changes may help morale among non-career troops.

But Howard had misgivings about the accessibility of beer. He felt it might create more problems with those who tend to "go verbarb" and drink too much.

Lt. David Parmer of Corpus Christi, who is studying at the Army Medical Field Service School here, said the changes should help morale. "I don't personally see the reason for the hard-bitten rules," he said. "They don't stand up at the present time."

Another officer, Capt. Larry Brustle, 28, of Columbus, Ohio, predicted, "The older NCOs (non-commissioned officers) won't like it."

Airman Bob Hubbard, 22, of Syracuse, N.Y., agreed. "It's great thing for the non-career enlisted man," he said, "but a hell of a thing for the NCOs."

When the normal line of play cannot possibly produce a successful result, the declarer must rely on a long shot—no matter how great the odds. Failure to pay strict heed to this principle results in the loss of many contracts that might otherwise be salvaged. Observe today's hand where South was the declarer at five clubs.

West opened the jack of spades, the king was played from dummy and East covered with the ace. He cashed the queen of spades and then exited with the king of hearts which was taken by North's ace.

Inasmuch as the declarer's only legitimate chance for success was to find the lone king in either hand, he should have played for that remote prospect.

Top Man Fired, Hughes Writing

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A letter attributed to Howard Hughes says that as far as he is concerned the top man in his $300 million Nevada operation is fired—"and I do not understand why this very damaging publicity should continue."

This latest development is a top-level struggle for control of the reclusive billionaire's hotel, gambling, real estate and mining empire in Nevada became public Thursday.

The letter, attested by a handwriting expert and bearing a set of fingerprints identical with a set filed officially as those of Hughes in 1966, was addressed to two top officials of the Hughes Tool Co.

The tool company is seeking to take over the Nevada enterprises, claiming that Hughes has authorized the ousting of Robert Maheu, who had been running the complex.

The letter, hand written and filling 2½ pages of lined legal-size yellow paper, says: "I do not support Maheu or (Jack) Hooper (his chief of security) in their defiance of the Hughes Tool Company board of directors."

The letter arrived Wednesday as a court hearing in the case

State Bank Chartered

AUSTIN (AP) — State Banking Commissioner Robert E. Stewart said Thursday the Orange National Bank has been chartered as a state bank, to be known in the future as the Orange Bank.

There was no opposition presented to the charter application.

Stewart estimated about 36 national banks in Texas have been converted to state banks in the last several years. He said many bank officials feel a state charter puts them in a better operating position than a national bank which must be a member of the Federal Reserve System. He said national banks require only one. Also, Stewart said, state banks have a higher legal loan limit.

Hearing Held On Closing T-P Depot

COLORADO CITY — A testimony here Thursday on the decision of the Texas Railroad Commission on a request of the Texas & Pacific Railway Co. to close its station in Colorado City will be handed down later following the taking of testimony here Thursday on the T&P request. Frank Youngblood, Joe Wells Jr. and Jerry Pulliam of the TRC, said it would be several months before the Commission reaches a decision.

The TRC representatives heard W. G. Hestes of Fort Worth and J. L. Ellett of St. Louis, appearing for the railroad, testify that Colorado City's freight business could be handled out of the Abilene office, resulting in a savings for the railroad at little inconvenience to the customer.

They pointed out that the operation of the Colorado City depot with one employe had cost $10,584 for the year ending March 1, 1970.

Their profit on the Colorado City station was $3,905, according to figures prepared by the railroad.

Colorado City Manager J. A. Sadler, Chamber of Commerce President J. C. Britton and others testified that the closing of the station would result in inconvenience to T&P customers.

R. E. Watson of Dallas was the Texas & Pacific attorney Tom Reese of Colorado City represented the Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, the City of Colorado City and Mitchell County.
