

NOT LOCALLY
18-Year-Olds
Gain Federal Voting Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — A splintered Supreme Court upheld today the key provision of the 1970 Federal Voting Rights Law, giving the vote to 18-year-olds in presidential and congressional elections.

At the same time, the court approved the suspension, for five years, of literacy tests wherever they exist in the country.

But the court turned around and ruled Congress has no power to order the states to allow 18-year-olds to vote in state and local elections.

These four conclusions by the court in judging the 1970 law were produced by four separate line-ups. Justice Hugo L. Black was the key man so far as the 18-year-old vote was concerned.

The ruling in the last public session of the year took several hundred pages to set forth the justices' views.

On the 18-year-old issue, Justice Black swung the significant fifth vote. He and Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall formed the majority to hold that Congress has the constitutional power to enfranchise 18-year-old citizens for national elections.

Then, Black swung to join Chief Justice Warren E. Burger, John M. Harlan, Potter Stewart and Harry A. Blackmun to bar any interference by Congress with the age for voters set by the states for state and local elections.

Only Harlan dissented from the abolition of residence requirements of more than 30 days.

In other actions today, the court:

—Declined unanimously to review the 1967 conviction of former Senate aide Robert G. "Bobby" Baker on larceny, income tax evasion and other charges.

REMAP IDEA

—Agreed to decide whether Arizona's plan reapportioning legislative districts by using voter registration figures should be blocked.

—Received a plea from attorneys for Angela Davis asking the court to stay her pending extradition from New York to California on murder and kidnap charges until she can file an appeal.

The 1970 law had lowered the voting age to 18 for all kinds of elections — national, state and local beginning Jan. 1 — 11 days from now.

Oregon and Texas had sued in the court against enforcement of the 18-year-old provision. Arizona had fought the literacy test ban and Idaho had opposed both the residence and 18-year-old provisions.

The states maintain the law takes away from them powers reserved to the states by the Constitution to control their own elections.

Black traced to 1819 Supreme Court recognition of the power of Congress to regulate national elections.

PREVENT FRAUD

He said if Congress could rearrange districts according to population and could supervise voting to prevent fraud, as the court has said, Congress certainly has the authority to permit 18-year-old citizens to vote in all federal elections.

Four Midlanders Face Pot Counts

DEL RIO, Tex. (AP) — Officers jailed four men from Midland after seizing about 90 pounds of marijuana which they said was smuggled from Mexico.

They said the quartet already faced charges at Midland of possessing the narcotic weed illegally.

The four, held in lieu of $10,000 bond each, are Harold K. Coleman, 21; Albert L. Shields, 23, and Richard R. Craven, 21, all of Midland, and Gary L. Crabtree, 23, of Aspen, Colo., and a former resident of Midland.

Midland police came here to join agents of the Texas Department of Public Safety and the U.S. Customs service for a stakeout which led to the arrests early Sunday.

Authorities said the marijuana, in brick-size packages covered in brown paper, was worth about $45,000 in the underworld market. They also seized two automobiles.

Seven Perish
In Flames

GRAFTON, N. H. (AP) — Seven persons perished Sunday in a fire which destroyed the two-room, tarpaper-covered home of Maynard Pickard, a volunteer firefighter.

The victims were identified as Pickard, 40, his wife, Bernice, 36, their children, Raymond, 15, William, 13, and Janet, 12, and two foster children — Millie Tibbetts, 2, and her 10-month-old brother, Wayne.

Police said the house off U.S. 4 was heated only by a wood stove. It was enveloped in flames when members of the Grafton Volunteer Fire Department reached the scene.

Threat Forces
Moratorium
On Fuel Ads

WASHINGTON (AP) — The threat of fuel and power shortages this winter has prompted several states to call for a moratorium on utility company advertising blitzes for new customers, but some companies have declined to go along.

An Associated Press survey indicates that while some electric and gas utilities have voluntarily cut back or changed the thrust of their advertising, others continue to court new customers despite the possibility of not being able to service them.

Earlier this year, the Federal Power Commission reported that 17 states had taken action to restrict or prohibit utility promotional practices and that 26 states had investigated the promotional practices of utilities in their jurisdiction.

The Oregon Public Utility Commission warned electric and natural gas utilities as early as 1964 against imprudent claims for their products.

Despite this and later warnings, however, according to Public Utility Commissioner Sam Haley, extensive promotional advertising by Oregon gas and electric utilities continues.

Citing a utility company report "that there will not be sufficient gas available during the next few years to meet all the requests . . . by present and potential customers . . ." Haley said, "there appears to be no reason for gas utilities to promote sales that will increase peak loads in the face of such a bleak supply situation."

The chairman of Michigan's Public Service Commission, Willis Ward, has asked gas and electric utilities to discontinue promotion aimed at new business "to avoid the solicitation of business which could not be served because of the gas shortage."

But two of Michigan's largest utility companies have taken diametrically opposite positions on the issue.

Consumers Power Co., which serves 1 million electric customers and 830,000 gas customers in the state, says it has dropped nearly $1 million in gas and electric promotional advertising this year. Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. says it has no intention of cutting back.

The inability of a gas pipeline company to deliver promised supplies and delay in completion of a nuclear generating plant prompted Consumers' action, a spokesman said.

However, a Michigan Consolidated spokesman said: "Since we have sufficient gas to supply all anticipated new residential and commercial customers as well as essential industrial users, we believe it is necessary to inform the public of the advantages of natural gas over other fuels, particularly for domestic use and to encourage the purchase of gas appliances."

Poland's Communist Regime Revises Plans

WARSAW (AP) — Poland's new Communist leadership indicates it will revise the economic plans that spawned last week's rioting and will maintain total allegiance to Moscow.

Otherwise, its future course is unclear. Western observers consider the new party First Secretary Edward Gierek a dedicated Communist identified with neither the liberal nor the nationalistic party factions.

Radio Warsaw reported Sunday that Gierek, the party's top economist and party secretary of Silesia, had replaced Wladyslaw Gomulka, who resigned along with President Marian Spychalski and three other members of the Politburo. Apparently Premier Jozef Cyrankiewicz was not affected.

KEY TO PROMOTION
Gierek's success in keeping his home province quiet was seen as a key to his promotion.

As bloody riots shook Gdansk, Gdynia, Sopot, Szczecin and Slupsk—shipbuilding, seaport and industrial centers in the north—workers remained quiet in industrial Silesia, where violence was widespread during the bread riots that brought Gomulka to power in 1956.

Last week's disturbances began after the Gomulka regime raised prices 17 to 20 per cent on food, clothing and other essentials in a prelude to a new five-year plan that was to begin next month.

In a television address after his elevation, Gierek said: "We will have to reconsider carefully the problem of the economic plan for next year and for the whole five-year period."

The riots, he said, resulted from "inconsiderate concepts in economic policy. We will remove these." He said his administration will consult with "the working class and intelligentsia."

He said hostile forces cannot "lead us astray or return us from the road of Socialism. We are going together with the whole great Socialist community and chiefly with our tested friend and ally, the Soviet Union."

LOW-WAGE

Radio Warsaw said the party's Central Committee instructed the new regime to consider "possibilities for improving the material situation of low-wage families with many children, who, as a result of the change in prices, have suffered most severe losses in their budgets."

Observers anticipated bonuses or wage raises will be given to compensate for the increased living costs.

A mining engineer whose first job was in a French coal mine at the age of 13, Gierek is now 57. He developed an efficient party machinery in Silesia and earned a reputation as a top notch administrator. He had been mentioned for some time as Gomulka's successor.

Sunday's events returned to prominence Mieczyslaw Moczar, 56, the hard-line former head of the secret police who lost a power struggle to Gomulka in 1968. He is one of the five new members of the Politburo named to replace those purged. Moczar was interior minister and leader of the Partisans, a veterans' organization that pushed a purge of Jews in the aftermath of the Middle East war in 1967 and student riots early in 1968.

He climbed to deputy membership in the 12-man Politburo and apparently had ambitions for Gomulka's job. But Gomulka, with support from Gierek and others, stripped him of his ministerial position and blocked his advancement to full Politburo membership.

Local Man
Hangs Self
In Jail

The body of Allen Lewis Christian, 41, 111 Washington Place, was discovered shortly before 8 a.m. today hanging from a rod over a shower stall in the Howard County jail.

According to Sheriff A. N. Standard, Christian had used his belt to hang himself.

Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter ruled suicide by hanging and placed the time of death between 3 a.m. and 3:30 a.m. Monday.

Christian was brought to the courthouse at 10:20 p.m. Sunday on a transfer from the city shortly after he was taken into custody by Kenneth Maxwell, Texas highway patrolman in connection with a case that involved an alleged driving violation.

Deputy M. L. Kirby, on duty at the time, said that Patrolman Don Bates placed Christian in a receiving room. F. C. Reece, who has charge of the jail, made rounds at 6 a.m. but, not knowing anyone had been placed in the receiving area, did not enter that sector. The body was out of sight in the shower stall. Sheriff A. N. Standard and Deputy Eddie Owen discovered the body when they made the regular morning check of prisoners.

Crime Up
10 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Crime in the United States increased 10 per cent during the first nine months of this year compared with the same period in 1969, the FBI said today.

Robbery increased 15 per cent, murder 9 per cent, aggravated assault 7 per cent and forcible rape 2 per cent, the FBI said.

Armed robbery, which accounts for two-thirds of all robbery offenses, increased 18 per cent during the nine-month period, the FBI said, and aggravated assaults with firearms increased 10 per cent.

Among property crimes, larceny of $150 or more rose 14 per cent, burglary 9 per cent and auto theft 6 per cent, the report said.

Suburban areas recorded the largest crime increase—14 per cent, the report said, while crimes rose 9 per cent in rural areas and 6 per cent in cities of more than 250,000 population.

BRITISH BOMBING

'Hap' Arnold Got Hot Under Collar

LONDON (AP) — Ten months before D-Day, Allied military strategists discussed the possibility of repelling the Russians if they suddenly began overrunning Nazi Germany.

Gen. George C. Marshall, World War II U.S. chief of staff, asked his British counterpart in August, 1943, if he thought Germany would help Allied troops enter Europe "to repel the Russians."

The quotation came from official minutes of the Combined Chiefs of Staff which were made public today in London and Washington.

Sir Alan Brooke, British chief of staff, told Marshall he had been thinking along similar lines. He said, however, that Dr. Eduard Benes of Czechoslovakia did not think the Russians would try to sweep over Europe immediately.

HOSTILE EYE
The British marshal quoted Dr. Benes as believing Soviet Russia would be bled so badly by the war that it would need a few years to get its economy going again.

Marshall commented in a meeting of the chiefs of staff that Russia was turning an "increasingly hostile eye on the capitalist world." The Russians, he said, were becoming increasingly contemptuous of their Western allies.

Although minutes of the meeting did not background the reasons, apparently the Russian view stemmed from Allied refusal to invade Europe as soon as Moscow would have liked.

The major part of the records of meetings of the Combined Chiefs of Staff, a total of 100,000 documents, was made public today by the British and American governments.

Allied military leaders themselves fought running battles over strategy in Europe.

Time after time, the British sought to pull men and materiel out of the Pacific to strengthen the planned invasion of Europe but U.S. leaders stubbornly fought back—and won.

POOR RESULTS
Gen. Henry "Hap" Arnold, then chief of the U.S. Army Air Corps, grew so incensed by poor U.S. bombings results from Britain to Europe that he threatened seven months before D-Day to stop the flow of bombers to Britain.

Marshall backed him up.

Tate Jurors Ordered Back

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jurors in the Sharon Tate murder trial were ordered back to court today for the first time since Nov. 20 when the disappearance of a defense attorney forced a delay in the six-month-old trial.

The seven men and five women on the panel were excused for one week last month so prosecution and defense attorneys could prepare their final arguments in the trial of Charles Manson and three women co-defendants.

But further delay resulted when Leslie Van Houten's lawyer, Ronald Hughes, was reported missing in a remote section of Ventura County during a vicious winter storm.

Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older appointed attorney Maxwell Keith to replace Hughes and gave the lawyer a continuance to study the 18,000-page transcript of the trial.

Barring further delays, the case is expected to go to the jury sometime next month, after closing arguments by defense and prosecution attorneys.

Manson, 35, and two of the women defendants are charged in the deaths of Miss Tate and six others in August, 1969. Miss Van Houten is charged only in two murders.

Penn Central Wasted Millions On 'Airline'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The financially troubled Penn Central Railroad lost millions of dollars in an airlines venture a congressman says represents "one of the saddest and at times most sordid" chapters in American business history.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., made the comment Sunday in releasing a report by his House Banking Committee that showed Penn Central spent $21 million to start a worldwide air service now worth $2 million.

The report says $6 million was dumped into the Executive Jet Aviation Inc., in the last three years—when the railroad itself was facing bankruptcy and was under Civil Aeronautics Board orders to sell the subsidiary.

The report also includes testimony that the aviation company supplied women as dates for railroad officials in what appeared to be an effort to divert their attention from EJA's problems.

It said EJA's founder, retired Air Force Brig. Gen. Olbert F. Lassiter, chronicled his friendships with a variety of women in "hundreds of colored photographic prints and transparencies . . . many of which show undraped women."

The photographs were kept on the EJA premises, the report said.

Penn Central currently is in reorganization under the Bankruptcy Act and is seeking federal help to continue operating.

The report contends that Penn Central poured money into EJA for about five years, starting in 1964, despite continued EJA losses, doubts as to whether Penn Central could legally own stock in the company, and in the face of repeated recommendations that EJA's management be changed.

It assigns major responsibility for the EJA decisions to David Bevan, then chairman of the finance committee of the railroad. It says Bevan's actions in the face of EJA's deterioration might be linked "to the possibility that public revelation of certain personal activities" might have been "extremely embarrassing" to him.

The report says the railroad intended to develop EJA into an extensive air service, with emphasis on air cargo.

These plans, however, brought up the issue of Civil Aeronautics Board restrictions on railroads acquiring air carriers.

Another Name For Card List

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP) — Phil Benjamin has another name to add to his Christmas card list—Richard M. Nixon.

Benjamin, 22, a student at Harpur College here, received an official White House Christmas card in the mail Friday.

"At first I thought it was a joke. I was really skeptical," Benjamin said. "But there it was—addressed to me."

The return address was "The White House" and the card was postmarked Washington. Benjamin said the card was signed "The President and Mrs. Nixon." He's putting the Nixon's on his list.

Soviet Union To Expand Economic Aid To Egypt

By The Associated Press

The Soviet Union said today it is prepared to expand military and economic aid to Egypt.

A Kremlin communique said the pledge was made to Vice President Ali Sabry and other Egyptian visitors at a meeting in Moscow.

Sabry met in the Kremlin with Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin and President Nikolai V. Podgorny.

Another round of talks was set for Tuesday. The Egyptians arrived in Moscow on Sunday.

Tass, reporting the arrival of Egyptians for an eight-day visit, said the Soviet government had pledged "to give all-round support to the U.A.R. in its struggle against Israeli imperialist aggression."

The Soviet news agency also reported that a senior Communist party emissary in Cairo had "reaffirmed the Soviet Union's steady resolve" to back the Egyptians. This tended to confirm predictions by diplomatic sources in Moscow that Sabry and his delegation will get pretty much what they want.

Informants in the Soviet capital said the Egyptians and the Russians would also discuss joint diplomatic action to cope with the possibility of Israel's returning to the U.N. peace talks that have been dormant since September. U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring is to report to the Security Council Jan. 5 on the prospects for his mission to negotiate a Middle East peace settlement, and Arab diplomats in Moscow say they expect Israel to rejoin the talks before the end of January.

Israel left the talks after accusing Egypt of violating the cease-fire by moving Soviet anti-aircraft missiles closer to the Suez Canal.

The Israeli Cabinet met in Jerusalem Sunday and once again postponed its decision to return to the talks. An announcement said only that "a political discussion commenced and will continue at the next Cabinet session."

The Israeli government has indicated willingness to rejoin the talks, but is seeking certain U.S. military and political commitments before it does.

Arab saboteurs fired two rockets into a residential section of Jerusalem Sunday, and one exploded harmlessly in a vacant lot near an unfinished building that will become the residence of President Zelman Shazar. The second damaged a doctor's home 500 yards away, but no one was hurt.

Delegations from the Vatican and the Supreme Council of Islamic Affairs of Cairo met at Vatican City and issued a communique calling for "the re-establishment of a just and honorable peace in the Middle East."

The three-day meeting was the first between the two church groups. They agreed to make all possible efforts to increase good relations between Roman Catholics and Moslems and to consult each other regularly on Catholic-Moslem relations "on a social, cultural and spiritual level."

A LOVELIER YOU Here's The Answer: To 'Him' From 'Her'

By MARY SUE MILLER

The upswing in frivolities for men shows the male is not averse to pampering. So be sure to tuck a little luxury in the Christmas stocking marked "Him."

To make a groovy choice, consider his tastes. Merely as ideas:

● Is he a man's man? Then present him with a handsome T-shirt and a bottle of outdoor gear de sport with the same prestigious labels. All-status, all-man!

● Is he a ladies' man? Marc Anthony had the right idea when he lavished on scent before he visited Cleopatra. Why not feed your hero's ego with a fragrance the ladies love? That could be a warm blend of leather, musk and green notes — a concoction as French as Monsieur. And girdled with a gold buckled belt, as elegant as Monsieur should be.

● Is he the camp-out type? For him, a hot one — a self-heating shaving cream with a mint-menthol finish. The cream comes hot from an aerosol and leaves the face cool as a trout stream. And that's real cool!

● He's a ski-mobile buff? He needs the protection of a high-altitude suntan product. Without it that healthy glow could turn into a peeling palor.

● He wears boutique suits? Gift him with a gold metal link belt, put together with the overlapping finesse of a fish's scales.

● He's proud of his hair? There's an aerosol spray for him with this difference: It replaces the wet, slicked down effect with a totally natural "dry" look.

Then there are blackthorn sticks which urban beaux are carrying, mink earmuffs for the country gentleman and, for papa, miniature pics of the children in miniature sterling frames. That's wow stuff!

TRAFFIC WORST KILLER

Texas Violence: 33

By The Associated Press
Thirty-three persons died violently in Texas during the last weekend before Christmas. Traffic was the worst killer, claiming 19 lives. There were 12 fatal shootings or stabbings and two deaths in a fire.

The toll was tabulated by The Associated Press in the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Sunday. These were among the victims:

Pamela Hubert, 17, of Pasadena, Tex., was killed Sunday night when her car veered off U.S. 290 and overturned 6 miles west of Hempstead.

Richard Randall, 17, of Houston died Sunday of injuries suffered earlier in the day in a motorcycle accident on a Houston street.

BULLET WOUNDS
Charley McWashington, 24, of Houston was killed Sunday when his automobile hurtled off Texas 149 and overturned. The accident occurred two miles south of Montgomery.

Walter Early Johnson, 37, of Houston died Sunday of bullet wounds suffered Saturday in an argument. Officers said the case would be referred to a Harris County grand jury.

Charles Robert Mathis, about 40, of Longview was shot and killed Sunday afternoon in Dallas. Texas Rangers, other Department of Public Safety agents and Dallas police fired at Mathis when he drew a gun as he tried to steal a piece of heavy equipment, officers said.

Witnesses told police that John W. McElroy, 75, answered a knock at his front door in Dallas about 5:15 a.m. and three shots were fired after he was heard talking to a woman. He

Guilty Plea
COLORADO CITY (SC) — Two Colorado City youths pleaded guilty in 32nd District Court Friday to the sale of LSD and were sentenced to five years in the state's house of correction. Both sentences were probated. Ronnie Love, 21, and Gary Redwine, 19, were arrested separately in October, through the efforts of undercover officers from the Abilene Police Department.

Publisher Dies

died before reaching a hospital. Eula McClendon, 34, was found beaten to death in her Dallas apartment early Sunday. Police said friends went to check on her and found the body on the floor.

OUT OF CONTROL
A car spun out of control, hurled Freida Hendricks Jackson, 33, out and rolled early Sunday in Dallas, crushing her to death.

Gunfire killed Douglas Mays, 20, early Sunday in what police said was the climax to an argument behind a Dallas residence about 3 a.m. Sunday. Officers sought his assailant.

James Russell Rouzee, 45, of Fort Worth and Kevin Taylor, 11, of Bowie were killed when the auto driven by the Taylor boy's mother and Rouzee's truck collided at a Fort Worth intersection Sunday. Mrs. Freda Taylor of Bowie was critically injured.

Fog, Drizzle Cloak Texas

By The Associated Press
Fog and drizzle cloaked broad stretches of Texas this morning, making streets and highways slippery.

Visibility occasionally shrank below two miles and air and surface travel were impeded.

The misty weather spread over the state's central, north and northeast sections after a cold front drove to the Gulf Coast Sunday and started back north as a warm front. Temperatures were generally mild except in the north part of the Texas Panhandle, where it was freezing.

Early today the frontal system lay stalled along a line from Cotulla to Lufkin. Clouds covered the eastern three-fourths of Texas and it was at least partly cloudy elsewhere.

Light showers ranged through North Central Texas into Oklahoma, ranging also into the southeast part of the Texas Panhandle.

Sometimes heavy thunder-showers fell in the northeast section of the state Sunday afternoon. Longview measured 1.47 inches and across the state line in Louisiana, Shreveport received 2.95 inches.

Temperatures climbed Sunday afternoon to 81 degrees at Alice, 82 at Brownsville and 83 at McAllen in extreme South Texas while to the north it was only 41 at Childress and 43 at Texarkana. Readings near dawn today ranged from 30 degrees at Daltart up to 73 at Brownsville.

Stork Never Gave This Fine Service

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — Tacoma General Hospital is sending Christmas presents, each contained in a bright red flannel stocking, to a number of homes here.

Throughout the week before Christmas all newborn babies are being sent home inside the stockings, which makes a warm wrap for the infant and gives the hospital a different way of saying "Merry Christmas" to the parents.

Bridge Test

BY CHARLES H. GOREN

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1—Neither vulnerable, partner opens with two no trump and you hold:
♠KQ98743 ♦KQ32 ♣5

What is your response?
A.—The only information you require is the number of aces in partner's hand. The recommended bid, therefore, is an immediate response of four clubs, the Gerber convention. If North bids four diamonds showing all four aces, you will bid a grand slam; if he bids four no trump, showing three aces, you will settle for a small slam.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠104 ♥J1075 ♦K82 ♣AJ95

The bidding has proceeded: North East South West
1 ♠ Pass 1NT Pass
3 ♥ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Partner has insisted upon a game contract despite the warning that you might have a very weak hand with no particular fit. Actually you have a near maximum holding on which a one no trump response may be made. Therefore, it is necessary to bid one more heart than is necessary. The suggested call is five hearts. Certainly partner cannot expect more than this, else you would have made a more constructive response.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠KJ9 ♥KQ74 ♦AQ62 ♣476

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East
1 ♥ Pass 1NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Having reached the conclusion that there is no possible game in the hand, a pass is indicated. Partner's known maximum is 10 points which together with 15 does not add up to the required 26.

Q. 4—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠J7542 ♥83 ♦KQ642 ♣5

The bidding has proceeded: West North East South
1 ♥ Dble. Pass 1 ♠ Pass 1NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Despite the fact that you have only six points in high cards this is a good hand facing a partner who is strong enough to double and then bid no trump. The recommended bid is two diamonds, the bid of three diamonds could not be severely criticized. Partner could not reasonably expect much more, inasmuch as you responded with only one spade, not two.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, partner opens with two hearts and you hold:
♠95 ♥J752 ♦K74 ♣K532

What is your response?
A.—The proper response is three hearts. With normal trump support and seven points, the immediate raise should be given.

Q. 6—East-West vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠AKJ92 ♥A7 ♦KQJ4 ♣K6

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East
1 ♠ Pass 1NT Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—You should not be satisfied with anything less than game, but you should make every effort to insure reaching game in the best contract. This can be done by a forcing rebid of three diamonds. Such a bid will allow partner to show a preference. If partner does not care for spades, he will no doubt bid three no trump, which you are prepared to pass.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K98 ♥KQ953 ♦A102 ♣93

The bidding has proceeded: South West North East
1 ♥ 2 ♣ 2 ♠ Pass ?

What do you bid now?
A.—Your partner has forced you to rebid at the level of three and must, therefore, have a very strong hand. The suggested bid is three spades rather than a rebid of your own suit. Free bids by responders in suits higher in rank than the opener's suit are very drastic acts and should consequently be accorded great respect.

Q. 8—Both vulnerable, partner opens with one spade and you hold:
♠KJ102 ♥632 ♦753 ♣AQ2

What is your response?
A.—This hand is not as good as it looks at first blush. While it has 10 high card points, it is not rich in playing strength, and the suggested response is two spades.

Long Cotton Controls Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—Growers of extra long staple cotton have approved marketing and acreage controls for their 1971 crop, the Agriculture Department announced today.

Officials said 94.4 per cent of the producers voting in a referendum on Dec. 7-11 approved controls for next year. Quotas have been in effect for each crop the past 18 years.

A two-third majority of those voting was required for approval. The vote included 1,900 producers voting for quotas and 113 against.

Approval means that producers who comply with the restrictions will be eligible for government price support loans and payments on 1971 ELS production.

Extra long staple cotton is grown in Arizona, California, Florida, Georgia, New Mexico and Texas.

'Dear Pat' Reply Scores

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—A friendly exchange of letters has smoothed over the public feuding between Gov. Ronald Reagan and former Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Brown, who made the first move by congratulating the Republican governor "on your great victory" in the 1970 campaign, said Sunday he would be delighted to help Reagan with any advice.

In a "Dear Pat" reply, Reagan told his Democratic predecessor:

"I look forward to touching bases with you and having your counsel on some of the problems which, as you well know, have a way of cropping up first thing each morning."

Brown said he hasn't heard from Reagan since the Dec. 2 letter, but "if he would call on me for advice I'd be very happy to give him the benefit of it... I'm more interested in the welfare of the state than any political feud."

Reagan defeated Brown by nearly one million votes in 1966. Neither man had kind words for one another in the early Reagan administration.

"After a year of watching Mr. Reagan in the governor's office," Brown said in 1967, "I have reached the dismal conclusion that he doesn't know what he is doing."

Reagan once accused Brown's administration of "looting the treasury" — a remark he later apologized for.

Brown, in his Nov. 11 letter, told Reagan:

"I believe that we will never agree philosophically, but there are only a few ex-governors living in this great state and I do hope that from time to time I can give you whatever thoughts I may have growing out of my 23 years of experience in government."

IBM Equipment Arriving At Big Spring City Hall

IBM is beginning to move in some of the electronic data processing equipment this week that is being purchased by the city to computerize several of its routine business operations.

City Manager Larry Crow said no estimate is available for the date the system will be operational, since not all of the equipment is in and work will have to be done by IBM technicians in making the electrical connections and testing the equipment.

In any case, the equipment should be ready to go well ahead of the originally estimated installation date of Jan. 16.

The new machine, an IBM System-3, is going into the old tax office on the first floor of city hall. The room is being furnished with desks and chairs for the keypunchers and other employees who will operate the computer.

Besides the computer, the room will contain the keypunch and trays and filing cabinets for the data cards that will hold punched data for water billing, payroll, and general ledger calculations.

Because the equipment is coming in sooner than expected, Crow pointed out, the programing work Finance Director Charles Smith is working on can be tested here instead of on the computer in Midland.

"This will save Charles and some of the keypunchers back and forth driving time to Midland, and will also save the city some of the expense involved in using the Midland facilities," Crow said.

Smith is planning to do about half of the first January water billing on the new machine, with the other half to be done on the Burroughs machines now being used for the entire operation. New water bills have been printed on computer card stock in two colors, blue and black, with a design similar to the one on the old water bills.

The payroll program is already completed and has been tested in Midland, and may be used for the second payroll in January. The general ledger program is still in the early stages, but is designed to handle many of the bookkeeping chores, computations, and storage of records needed in the city's financial office.

Candlelighting Service Set

A tradition of a quarter-century's standing will be repeated here Thursday when the First Presbyterian Church has its 25th annual candlelighting service at 7 p.m.

Insurance Discussed For County Workers

County commissioners adjourned at noon today and were to reconvene at 1:30 p.m. to discuss workmen's compensation and general liability insurance for the county with representatives of local insurance agencies.

The plan submitted by the Big Spring Insurance Association for the consolidation of all county employees' bonds was approved. The blanket bond will cover all employees except elected officials, and will cost $205 per year to be paid in three-year installments.

Roscoe Cone, on behalf of insurance agents who are not members of the Big Spring Insurance Association, addressed the court this morning.

"We feel that the agents who are not members of the association should receive their share of the county's insurance business. We should receive it at a pro-rata rate just as the members of the association who do not actually write the policy receive a share. It may be unintentional, but we feel that the county has discriminated in this case," said Cone.

"We applied for membership, but we were not accepted because of a technicality by which we were held to be 'captive' agents of the companies we represent. I think it is unfair that county business should be placed with the association and non-members did not receive a pro-rata share," added Cone.

"It is unfortunate that we could not take everybody in. We wanted to, and it would be better if we could. However, a ruling of the state association made it impossible for us to take everyone in," said Joe Pond, representing the association.

County Attorney Bill Eysen was called in to confer with commissioners on the matter.

Seattle 'Five' Transferred

TACOMA, Wash. (AP)—Five of the male defendants in the Seattle Seven federal conspiracy trial were moved to federal institutions over the weekend to serve contempt of court terms, U.S. Marshal Charles Robinson said.

Michael Abeles, the sixth male defendant, was held in Tacoma City Jail. Susan Stern, who recently underwent an operation, remained under the jurisdiction of the Public Health Service.

Jeffrey Dowd and Roger Lippman were transferred Friday to McNeil Island Federal Penitentiary, Robinson said. Charles Marshall III, Joseph Kelly and Michael Lerner were "in transit" and Robinson declined to say what their destination was pending their arrival.

Robinson said the transfers were handled as a matter of routine. He said several factors were involved in choice of sites including available space, duration of sentences, ages and nature of the offenses.

U.S. District Court Judge George Boldt cited the seven for contempt of court and ordered them held without bail pending an appeal to the 9th Circuit Court in San Francisco.

Amelia Lopez, 107 W. 19th, was treated at Malone and Hogan Clinic Saturday night for stab wounds reportedly received during a fight at the Diamond Lounge.

Police said assault charges are pending against her suspected assailant.

County Attorney Bill Eysen was called in to confer with commissioners on the matter.

THE CASE FOR GOD-I

Issue Persists Behind Tinsel

Editor's Note: In a world where the machines grow bigger, the changes faster, the possibilities vaster and the directions less sure, the very foundations of the old certainties and truths sometimes seem shaken. Against that backdrop, the following article begins a four-part Christmas series on the case of God as found in reasoning, wonder, testimony and Christ's solemn among men. The first installment deals with reasoning.

By GEORGE W. CORNELL AP Religion Writer

Modern man, schooled, skilled and purportedly "come to age" to manage his own destiny, often has doubts about God.

To an extent, this has always been so. "Truly," said the prophet Isaiah, "Thou art a God who hidest thyself."

But today, in the enveloping sweep of technocracy and surging physical sciences that enormously magnify the mind and powers of man himself, the veil around man hangs heavier.

MOON DUST

It's harder to notice much else, now that "moon dust" turns out to be only dust and chemicals replace prayer to increase crops and cure illness. Is that, as many thinkers see it, there still room or reason left for God?

has become the underlying religious challenge of the age. "The reality of God has now become the central theological problem," says Methodist theologian Shubert M. Ogden.

In the Christmas season, marking an event regarded by Christians as God's fullest manifestation among men, the issue persists behind the bright tinsel and festivities.

"Consciously and unconsciously, openly and under camouflage, mankind today is moved by the question of God as never before," says Roman Catholic scholar William H. Van de Pol.

CROWDED OUT

It is as if the divine had been "crowded out" of everyday experience, he says, by man's overwhelming technical accomplishments in deducing, defining and dealing with reality, subtly discounting any of its other aspects.

In such an atmosphere, absorbed in precision systems, data analysis and the achievements of human intellect in mastering nature's secrets, men almost automatically tend to make their estimate of God in those terms.

By that predominating standard, is there any evidence of God? It is available in abundance. And its "factual and intellectual basis is just as broad and advert as the factual and intellectual basis" of scientific concepts.

says noted nuclear physicist and Episcopal priest William G. Pollard.

Some of it also is highly abstract, as foggy to the ordinary believer as Einstein's relativity equations, which also are based on reasoned probabilities and faith, as is all scientific advance.

SHUNNED BY MANY

Nevertheless, a vast and varied store of logic has accumulated behind the thesis of God.

Although seeking to ascertain the Divine through human knowledge has been shunned by many religious scholars in recent times, on the ground that it tends to reduce God erroneously to man's own capabilities, others lately have insisted that the approach, while only partial, is essential in the modern climate of life.

However bad "some arid intellectualism" has been in pursuing religious truth, "anti-intellectualism is worse, since it provides no antidote to either superstition or wish-thinking," says Quaker philosopher Elton Trueblood.

Scores of so-called "proofs"—a relative term in any field—have been advanced.

Most of the commonly known arguments find their evidence in four categories, namely: ontological—based on modes of being, cosmological—based on the cosmos, moral—concerning ethical sensibility and teleological—dealing with purpose.

Here is a tightly capsule sketch of the simpler lines of reasoning:

"NONBEING": Unlike other life, man alone realizes the limits of his being, and by the very fact that he does so, transcends it in awareness of potential infinity, which is thus in him yet also beyond him.

This is an immediately experienced, existential pointer to God.

It leaves man with a latent, yet always present anxiety about his end of being, not just about dying, but about having to die, to be no more. He can know of this threatened "nonbeing" only by looking at it from a perspective surpassing it, from a viewpoint of possible infinity.

Because of the uneasy conflict between man's limited "being" and the demand within him for unlimited "being," he is estranged from his own situation, belonging in elemental awareness to an infinite "ground of being"—God.

The late great theologian Paul Tillich notes that if man's biological actuality matched his conscious awareness, he would never even ask about God, nor would he be able to receive divine revelation. But as it is, his awareness transcends his present status.

REASONING COSMOLOGICAL: Based strictly on reasoning, the validity of these deductions has rarely been challenged, but they have been disregarded by many lately because they seem to portray God as chiefly in the remote past, in a mechanistic way, rather than as continuously involved in life.

Voluminously elaborated through the centuries, they were most notably systematized by the 13th century thinker Thomas Aquinas in his famous "five ways" of demonstrating God's existence. He himself conceded they don't show divine character, only the fact of God's existence. Briefly, they are:

—Since everything conceivable was caused by something else before it, if this chain of cause and effect could be traced back to its beginning, there must have been a first "uncaused cause"—God.

—Similarly, since every movement or change requires a prior movement to produce it, there must have been an origin to the process, the first "prime mover"—God.

—The intricate, orderly design of the universe, with its amazing interacting balance of forces, rhythms and regularities, from atom to star, indicate some infinitely intelligent planner—God. All sciences are utterly dependent on this steady pattern, drawing everything they know from it.

PERFECTION —The partial degrees of natural perfection suggest there must be Perfection; the good suggest there must be the best—God.

—Since all things in nature conceivably could either be or not be, as is the case in their springing up and dying away, this contingent quality could not apply to everything, because it would mean everything once may have been nothing. This could not be true, however, since things do exist and something is necessary to bring anything out of nothing, thus making necessary something that always has been—God.

MORAL: Deep within man lies a curious, unique "moral law" or sense of "oughtness," a voice of conscience that in some cases may demand that he sacrifice his own self-interest, safety or even survival for its sake.

It is unexplained by any biological or psychological urges, such as those for power or pleasure, since it may contradict them. It can be compromised or rejected, and often is, but it remains fastened within, pricking, goading, even when resisted secretly, unknown to anyone else.

Its application varies among different cultures, but they all are found to display it, and the very comparison of approaches to it presupposes its universal reality.

HIGHEST GOOD In an immediate sense, it can be attributed to teaching or conditioning of parents or ancestors, but at some point, they had to get it from somewhere, and the source must have transcended man since its noblest manifestations may defy all natural ties, reputation, family, social well-being and instincts of self-preservation.

It is what the 18th century philosopher Immanuel Kant called the "categorical imperative" to strive for the highest good, the "summum bonum" of God.

TELEOLOGICAL: Like an arrow shot willfully at a target, the world, in all its natural and human phenomena of change, displays a basic purposefulness, as if instilled with an unseen goal and struggling toward it.

This argument is strengthened by the theory of evolution in its concept of life as always evolving toward higher forms, taking on new qualities to fill some need, adapting, groping, often failing, but always pushing upward.

THICK SHUCKS ON CORN Always Means A Rough, Cold Winter

MOUNTAINEER FRANK REED Weather Prognosticator

Hair On Calf's Neck Shaggy, It's Going To Be Cold Winter

CLEVELAND, Ga. (AP) — It's going to be a cold winter. If you don't believe it, look at the shucks on this year's corn crop.

If that's not enough to prove it to you, take a gander at the hair on a calf's neck or the hair on a squirrel's tail, for that matter.

These are "sure" signs for predicting the weather to many North Georgia mountaineers. They have been used for decades to predict the weather and the mountaineers swear by their validity.

SIGN OF STORM

Frank Reed, 81, Cleveland, Ga., became famous in the profession of mountaineer weather prognostication in 1960 when on March 1 he predicted that the roughest spell of the entire winter was yet to come.

It was in March, 1960, that severe snows blanketed the Southeast three times, paralyzing all mountainous areas of the South. Many mountaineers called the Reed's wife says he has studied signs of the weather for as long as she can remember.

Here are the fruits of his studies: When a mule rolls in the dirt and shakes it off, the weather will be dry. But if he leaves the dust in his coat, it will rain. When your cats run and play in the house, it is a sure sign of a storm.

When the moon "news" and passes the evening star of a group of stars, there will be a change in the weather with rain or snow.

IT MEANS RAIN

In the summer, when the leaves on a tree turn "bottom side up," Reed says, "it means rain."

Thick shucks on corn always mean a rough, cold winter. When the hair on a calf's neck or a squirrel's tail is thick and shaggy in the fall, the winter will be a rough one.

A trained meteorologist with the National Weather Service told a congressional committee recently that there are "indications" that the Southern and Eastern United States will experience a slightly colder winter this year.

After all, the hornets are building their nests closer to the ground this year. This, according to Reed, is also a sure sign. So, it looks like it's going to be a cold one.

'Kidnaped' Girl Slated To Be Reunited With Kin

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A 6-year-old girl who vanished Dec. 3 while on an errand for her mother, is to be reunited with her family today.

The child was found in Paris, Tex., Saturday night with a man police identified as Joe Lee Bensing, 23, of Atlanta. Bensing was arrested on a federal warrant charging him with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution in another child molestation case.

Lt. C. J. Strickland of the Atlanta police department said extradition proceedings aimed at returning Bensing to Georgia have been initiated.

"Additional charges are pending his return," he said. Police said Memie disappeared from a neighborhood where two other small children had been molested by a man in a car.

Memie had been the object of a nationwide search. Police in the North Texas city of Paris said they arrested Bensing at a drive-in movie after employees had reported a "suspicious person."

The child was found with him, said Strickland. He said she was unharmed and seemingly happy.

Gov. Lester Maddox had posted a $1,000 reward for information leading to her safe return.

The child's mother Mrs. Geraldine Harvey, planned to fly to Paris today with a police detective. Mayor Sam Massell praising police work in the case, said the city is paying for the trip.

Careless Shoppers Get Christmas Headaches

By FRANK MACOMBER The Yuletide shopper can escape post-Christmas headaches with a little common sense, a lot of caution and some advice from the Better Business Bureau.

Even so, millions of Americans will be stuck with a closet full of toys that won't work, toasters that won't pop up, and watches that wind up but won't keep time. So will the friends and relatives with whom they exchanged gifts.

These are only a few of the annual crop of after-Christmas nightmares already haunting BBB outlets, district attorneys, small claims courts and reputable merchants, even before the Yule shopping season has reached the stampede stage.

But it doesn't have to be all that nightmarish for the shopper or the agencies which inevitably receive the post-holiday flood of complaints about shoddy, won't-work merchandise. Reputable merchants and BBB officials can give you pointers to avoid the Christmas light doldrums.

"The first commandment of the Christmas shopper is to know all about the merchant with whom you are dealing," cautions Barry Knudson, general manager of a nationally recognized department store chain which sells everything from he-and-she golfing outfits to him-or-her pajama sets and most everything in between. "Be sure the store has a long reputation for integrity — that is, for making good on its guarantees of merchandise.

"If you can't find out everything you want to know about a merchant, make certain you buy only nationally known brand-name products, whether the gifts are toys, toasters, silverware or bed-warmers.

"This especially is important for brand names carry with them the most reliable guarantees if anything goes wrong within a reasonable time after purchase."

Knudson emphasizes the importance of reading literature and instructions attached to products before buying them. "Be certain the instructions and description of the articles tell you they are what you are looking for," Knudson warns. "Many shoppers don't find out until they get home that what they bought wasn't what they had in mind at all. Then there is a lot of trouble and inconvenience for both the shopper and the store."

Phony name brands are another merchandising gimmick that can be avoided by shopping at reputable stores, Knudson says.

In the fashion field, especially in women's clothing, "piracy" of styles is common in the low-priced field. Sometimes only one letter is changed in the name of a fashion-brand name to trick the unknowing or careless buyer.

The same subterfuge often is used to sell off-brand cameras, watches and jewelry. Police support Knudson's warning about the near-name-brand sales pitch.

Most reputable stores don't even require a receipt with the return of unsatisfactory Christmas merchandise, he points out. "Who ever heard of finding a receipt with a Christmas gift?" he asks. "If the store is reputable, it will accept the return good-naturedly, provided it is a legitimate return. The store usually can tell without getting a receipt from the customer."

The Better Business Bureau, whose offices around the country handle millions of complaints all year, has no legal recourse to help customers victimized by unscrupulous merchants.

But neither has Ralph Nader. Yet his complaints of ill-conceived merchandise, made public before congressional committees, have served to force many firms to correct their ways.

The BBB can perform a similar function by reporting complaints to city and county law enforcement officials or district attorneys. Sometimes

What Do The People Get?

Troubled Penn-Central Railroad does have a grim case, but it is quite another matter whether the people of the United States have any obligation to bail it out. The one valid point rests upon Congress and the administration's belated move to avoid a strike. The emergency law granted 13.5 per cent pay raises for rail workers, which, Penn-Central says, will cost $47 million for the retroactive payments and $62 million to get through next February.

Two questions arise in the public sector of this situation. First, how wise was the Congress to set the 13.5 per cent figure in view of the fact that by setting it, the Congress seems to imply a public obligation to help provide the money? Second, what does the American public get in return, if the Treasury bails Penn-Central out of its new crisis?

Any funds pumped into the lines' treasury ought to be secured — by that's a fair word — by liens on the property.

Meanwhile, legislation ought to be well on its way through appropriate committees that would prevent the kind of management, at public expense, it now appears, that turned a promising operation (the merged Pennsylvania Railroad and the New York Central) into a big loser by investing earnings outside of the railroad. The merger was approved by the government on the condition that the line be modernized and revitalized. That condition was not met.

Warm Yule Business Climate

While many deplore the mention of business with the Christmas season, gift-giving nevertheless is a part of the custom. Therefore, the volume of shopping has come to be not only a measure of the season's activity but as a gauge to economic vigor.

It could be due to a thawing of the consumer freeze, and in this respect our business climate is warmer than the general business temperature. It also could be due in good measure to an aggressive merchandising effort. Retailers have been showing imagination and vigor in appealing to the buyer, and in doing this many have not only moved more goods, but widened their margin of profit.

Evidently, it still pays to want business enough to go after it. Indeed, many of the increases have

David Lawrence Democrats Need To Close Ranks

WASHINGTON — Judging by some of the items in the news of politics, coming from both Democrats and Republicans, it might be imagined that the 1972 presidential election is just a few weeks or months away. Actually, the new Congress meets in January for a lengthy session during the greater part of the year 1971. Another session will be held beginning in January 1972, which probably will not be adjourned until the autumn of the same year. It is a safe assumption that many of the things being talked about today will be forgotten even before the 1971 session has ended.

THE GOSSIP, of course, is mostly about presidential nominees, and the Democrats are trying to win nationwide attention for some of the party's possible candidates for the presidency. Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine is one of them. Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota is another. Sen. George McGovern of South Dakota also is mentioned. The name of Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts comes up again and again.

All this makes an interesting conjecture, but basically the Democratic party hasn't begun to solidify itself and coordinate its many factional parts so that it may present a united front in a national election.

THE REAL problem for the Democrats now is to find the man who can convince the country that he can take over the huge projects of the executive branch of the government and deal with them effectively. President Nixon is struggling with a large number of new and challenging subjects, such as those involved in a closer working relationship between the federal government and the states, especially in revenue sharing. Mr. Nixon has an opportunity to demonstrate how these enormous problems can be tackled efficiently

Billy Graham

I'm sure that God can take care of world peace without Christians praying for it.

I pray for world peace because the Bible tells us to. Peace is a symptom of things being set right in the world, the cause of world unrest lies much deeper. The world is full of unrest, confusion and conflict because we have not given the Prince of Peace His rightful place in the world.

It is interesting to note that during the thirty three years of Christ's sojourn on earth historians say there were no major wars. Although Christ was not accepted by all, just the fact that He was upon earth, had a serene effect upon civilization. What if each of us were to declare Him our Savior, and follow Him in word and in deed? This world would be turned into a heaven upon earth.

But prophecy indicates that no such general acceptance will take place. Jesus said that at the time of His coming there would be wars, hatred and abounding iniquity. Some day peace will come, but the world will be purged by judgment, and evil men will be removed from the scene. Then righteousness and peace will reign in the world.

John Cuniff Stocks And Bonds As Christmas Gifts

NEW YORK (AP) — Last minute shoppers still have time to buy stocks, bonds and mutual funds for Christmas stocking stuffers, and perhaps in the process win themselves some tax benefits as well.

Securities have gained a bit in popularity as Christmas gifts in recent years, primarily because the laws governing such transactions have been simplified. But they also make fine gifts for graduations and birthdays, too. In fact, because the market has a tendency to rally late in the year, the purchase of stock during the Christmas season could sometimes be more expensive than at other times of the year. But what gifts aren't?

Here are some questions and answers designed to simplify this business. How do I go about purchasing securities as gifts for minors? In the same way you buy any stocks or bonds, by going to a broker and placing your order. Your broker has, or should be able to obtain, gift cards that may be presented immediately while the actual certificates are being made out.

What are the advantages of securities as gifts? There is a good chance they will grow in size or at least pay regular dividends. With college expenses expected to continue rising, some parents feel they must invest rather than merely save for a child's education. Most people, however, think of the tax advantages. What are the tax advantages? There are two: Some or all of the gift may be exempt from gift tax; and the income from the gift will be taxable to the child rather than the adult, which usually means a much lower rate or no tax payment at all.

Here are the specifics: A donor in his lifetime may give away $30,000 of tax. In addition, he may give $3,000 a year to as many persons as he wishes without incurring any gift tax. It means that two parents can and to make an impression on the public. POLITICAL PARTIES and their platforms are not going to be a matter of mere rhetoric in the next campaign. There are so many points of contact between the people and the government that the party which shows its ability to deal with the growing issues of the economic and social life of the country stands a better chance to win than does the party offering a glamorous candidate with a gift of oratory.

THE COUNTRY at the moment is in the midst of a recession. The effort to curb inflation has been impaired by the increases in wages and consequent rises in prices. The unemployment figures are rising, and this means a gloomy outlook for the party in power. For whenever times are bad, the incumbent party suffers, no matter how conscientious its efforts may have been. But not until the middle of 1971 will it become clear whether inflation has been conquered and stability restored.

THERE IS NO reason why the Democrats shouldn't be talking about candidates and trying to build up strength for individuals who are possible nominees. But the Democratic party would make far more progress throughout the country if the many rebellious elements in it were reconciled, and party tickets — locally and nationally — were moving more along moderate lines. Otherwise, it seems certain that a third-party ticket may be in the field again in 1972, in which case, the Democratic party would again suffer heavy losses and the chances for a Republican to win with a minority vote would increase.

What Others Say

In the diplomatic equivalent of what would be called a broken play in football, Washington seems to have dissipated in recent weeks a good deal of its promising relationships with the nations of Africa where blacks rule.

The seeds of those promising relationships had been planted in Black Africa last February by Secretary of State William Rogers on a quick tour of the area. The highest ranking American statesman ever to visit that part of the world, Rogers established a warm rapport with the African leaders with whom he talked. The missed signals that have let some of this good will go down the drain apparently come from a series of mistakes at the Zambian embassy in Washington and at the White House. The net effect was to give Zambian President Kenneth Kaunda the feeling that he had been snubbed by President Nixon.

The two presidents had an appointment at the White House. At the last minute the White House attempted to re-schedule the meeting. When the Zambian leader learned later that the original appointment had been canceled in order that President Nixon could make a campaign swing south of the Mason-Dixon line, irritation turned to anger. He flew out of New York before Secretary Rogers could get to him with an apology.

If you read for nine hours straight even at a slow rate, your eyes would have traveled across about a mile of print. The average slow reader covers 134 yards of type an hour.

Your pet pooch can prove who he is by his nose. A dog's noseprint is as infallible proof of his identity as a fingerprint is among human beings.

Don't worry about spoiling your baby by too much loving, mother. Some doctors believe that children rejected by their mothers not only fail to achieve good health but even fail to grow at a normal rate.

Too much sleep can make you dozy. A study at a Boston hospital found that men who habitually slept nine hours or more a night tended to be introverted.

What are the advantages of securities as gifts? There is a good chance they will grow in size or at least pay regular dividends. With college expenses expected to continue rising, some parents feel they must invest rather than merely save for a child's education.

Most people, however, think of the tax advantages. What are the tax advantages? There are two: Some or all of the gift may be exempt from gift tax; and the income from the gift will be taxable to the child rather than the adult, which usually means a much lower rate or no tax payment at all.

Here are the specifics: A donor in his lifetime may give away $30,000 of tax. In addition, he may give $3,000 a year to as many persons as he wishes without incurring any gift tax. It means that two parents can and to make an impression on the public. POLITICAL PARTIES and their platforms are not going to be a matter of mere rhetoric in the next campaign. There are so many points of contact between the people and the government that the party which shows its ability to deal with the growing issues of the economic and social life of the country stands a better chance to win than does the party offering a glamorous candidate with a gift of oratory.

THE COUNTRY at the moment is in the midst of a recession. The effort to curb inflation has been impaired by the increases in wages and consequent rises in prices. The unemployment figures are rising, and this means a gloomy outlook for the party in power. For whenever times are bad, the incumbent party suffers, no matter how conscientious its efforts may have been. But not until the middle of 1971 will it become clear whether inflation has been conquered and stability restored.

THERE IS NO reason why the Democrats shouldn't be talking about candidates and trying to build up strength for individuals who are possible nominees. But the Democratic party would make far more progress throughout the country if the many rebellious elements in it were reconciled, and party tickets — locally and nationally — were moving more along moderate lines. Otherwise, it seems certain that a third-party ticket may be in the field again in 1972, in which case, the Democratic party would again suffer heavy losses and the chances for a Republican to win with a minority vote would increase.

What Others Say

In the diplomatic equivalent of what would be called a broken play in football, Washington seems to have dissipated in recent weeks a good deal of its promising relationships with the nations of Africa where blacks rule.

The seeds of those promising relationships had been planted in Black Africa last February by Secretary of State William Rogers on a quick tour of the area. The highest ranking American statesman ever to visit that part of the world, Rogers established a warm rapport with the African leaders with whom he talked. The missed signals that have let some of this good will go down the drain apparently come from a series of mistakes at the Zambian embassy in Washington and at the White House. The net effect was to give Zambian President Kenneth Kaunda the feeling that he had been snubbed by President Nixon.

The two presidents had an appointment at the White House. At the last minute the White House attempted to re-schedule the meeting. When the Zambian leader learned later that the original appointment had been canceled in order that President Nixon could make a campaign swing south of the Mason-Dixon line, irritation turned to anger. He flew out of New York before Secretary Rogers could get to him with an apology.

Around The Rim What Does A Lifetime Bring?

One thing and another: A Los Angeles writer recently divided 50,000 years of man's existence into 62-year lifetimes.

Six hundred and fifty lifetimes, he said, were spent in caves. Communications from one lifetime to another, through the written word, was possible only in the last 70. The printed word has been available to the masses only in the last six. The electric motor arrived in the last two.

TELEVISION, flying machines, atom bombs, horseless carriages and all sciences are all in the 800th lifetime, when man first set foot on the moon.

In that current span of years, man stepped from a Tin Lizzie to a faster-than-sound spaceship, went from the Pony Express to a system whereby instant news could be bounced around the world via Telestar.

He can do a lot of things now, I might add, but he still can't cure the common cold.

EVER HEAR a small child try to recite the Pledge of Allegiance after trying to memorize it for school? One tad gave it this way recently:

"I pledge a legion to the flag of the United States of the republic Wicher Sands. One nation, under God, invisible, with liberal and juices for all."

YOU DON'T have to be a regular viewer of "Heehaw" to realize that, next to New York City, Nashville, Tenn., is the largest music-publishing and recording city in the country.

The nasal-singing and the guitar strumming means a $100 million industry for the community. Nashville now is home to 900 professional song writers, 400 recording artists, 1,500 professional musicians and 264 music publishers.

If the poker chip has become the symbol of Las Vegas and smoked glasses identify with Hollywood, surely the booted singer with a guitar draped over his shoulder has come to wear the Nashville brand.

Incidentally, you don't have to be on Social Security to remember when a roll meant a bread bun and a rock was another word for a stone.

ONE OF THE most novel clubs I've heard about is called The Procrastinators.

They nominated George Washington for president in the last election and sent a warning to Tom Dewey about over-confidence. They had a contest recently to encourage new ideas. The winner received a 1945 calendar.

Its motto is: "Not now — later."

Andrew Tully Minority Rule In The U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — It should come as no surprise to the American taxpayer — who is virtually the sole support of this preposterous forum of "free nations" — that both UN Secretary General U Thant and the United States are mute on the question of blatant self-denial of civil liberties in those picturesque "emerging" black nations of Africa.

PRIVATELY, in the delegates' lounge and in posh East Side eateries, representatives of European nations and even Communist Czechoslovakia express deep concern over persecution of minorities in such warring states as Zambia and Kenya. The situation in some of these states, as British spokesman put it, "has reached an international scandal."

But U Thant, as usual, was unavailable for comment, and spokesman for that one-sided neutral dismissed the subject as "petty trivia." The U.S. delegation had no comment.

THE PROBLEM is not that most new African states — 22 in all — are one-party dictatorships in which elections are held only to permit the peasants to express their adoration for their rulers. It is that the situation now has reached the point in many of these countries where minorities, mostly whites and Indians, are regularly hunted down, stripped of their financial resources and often tortured.

IF THE U.S. officially ignores such barbarism, American diplomatic and intelligence sources privately view it with alarm. These sources, and European observers as well, willingly indict the states by name — Zambia, the Congo-Kinshasa, Kenya, Tanzania, Zanzibar and Ghana. The spokesman for Communist Czechoslovakia, which might be expected to follow the Kremlin's party line of all power to black Africa, described the persecution of minorities as "racial genocide."

THE CURIOUS aspect of this international outrage is that it does not qualify as news. What goes on in Zambia, Ghana, Kenya, etc., has been going on for years — ever since the states gained their independence. Yet with the possible exception of lower-case imperialist Portugal, no UN member would dream of suggesting an investigation, let alone a condemnation procedure.

YET THE UN imposed economic sanctions on the white racist regime of Rhodesia when it declared its independence of Great Britain. Indeed, the "peace" organization came within a whisker of persuading the British to put down the Ian Smith regime by military force. And, of course, white apartheid South Africa is regularly denounced as a fiendish outlaw whose territory should be divided up among assorted black African tribes.

By now, the term "double standard" seems innocuous in attempting to describe how the UN operates. In fact, this international club is ruled by its black minority, with a strong assist from the Communist bloc.

Burleson Reports Congress Now Setting Wages

WASHINGTON — In acting to avert the railroad strike, the Congress placed itself in a position of arbitrating the dispute.

It had been known for months that the strike would likely occur but Congress only got into action on the final day and did not pass the Anti-Strike Bill until after the walk-out had begun. Both the House and the Senate completed their action after 1 a.m. The President signed the Bill at 2:10, and a district judge, clad in pajamas and robe, issued a temporary order to restrain the strike at 3:17 in the morning.

IN THE MEANTIME, the President of the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks could not be found and no court order could reach him. The strike went merrily on through the day. What a way to run a railroad or a nation!

In its haste, Congress sought to sweeten the bitter pill that it was about to administer. It legislated a 13 1/2 per cent wage increase for the striking employees, which represents the first installment on a 37 per cent increase in three years which had been established by a fact-finding board.

TO INCLUDE any part of the wage increase by Congressional action puts Congress in a position of attempting to settle a labor dispute by setting wages. The basic fact is that Congress can not legislate properly under such circumstances and it is an overpowering argument for not letting crises of this sort come to the Congress.

The next Congress, if it is to save itself and the country from fiascos of this kind, should overhaul the Railroad Labor Act and the Taft-Hartley Act to prevent this sort of thing. Proposals have been before the Congress since February to deal with transportation emergencies which can not be settled under existing law. No hearings have been held and neither House has done anything about it.

THERE ARE a number of measures introduced for this purpose. Several provide for the establishment of a five-man court consisting of judges trained and experienced in law, economics and industrial relations to handle disputes of this kind.

They would, of course, apply to any public service industry such as railroads.

Most of the suggestions provide that upon the application of the U.S. Attorney General on behalf of the President, and only after all other procedures have been exhausted, the court would settle the controversy. Once the jurisdiction of the court has been invoked, it would be empowered to enforce any actual or threatened work stoppage for a period of 80 days.

During this time collective bargaining between the employer and the employees would continue under the supervision of the court.

IF, AT THE conclusion of the 80-day period, the parties advised the court that a negotiated settlement is not possible, the court may continue the injunction and set the case down for an immediate hearing and final determination. In this procedure, the due process of law will be guaranteed the parties.

Finally, a binding judgment will be handed down, covering all matters in dispute, including rates of pay, conditions of work and other matters pertinent to the dispute.

IN CASES where the public is entitled to protection, regardless of who is right or who is wrong, there should be legal machinery to quickly and to effectively settle strikes. The Congress is neither specialized nor was it ever intended to act as a court or as an arbiter of disputes. There is simply too much politics for it to be effective.

Long Ride

SOCORRO, N.M. (AP) — Jeneane Ryon is only 18, but she wanted to do something while a New Mexico Tech coed to tell her grandchildren some day.

So, she and a classmate rode horseback 80 miles from college to her home in Albuquerque.

The couple followed the Rio Grande. They left after Friday classes and reached Albuquerque Sunday afternoon.

The couple drove back to Socorro and left their horses in Albuquerque.

JOE RODRIGUEZ

This Peace Demonstrator Is Rookie Cop

DALLAS (AP) — After two years of posing as a long-haired antiwar protester, Joe Rodriguez has surfaced to assume his true identity as a rookie policeman.

His superiors say Rodriguez, 23, was so successful at infiltrating groups of militants, hippies and drug users that most of the evidence he gathered still must remain secret.

They quickly learned how his former associates felt about the young officer's work. An underground newspaper described the news of his identity as "like a death in the family."

A police department recruiter hired Rodriguez at Ft. Sill, Okla., where he was an Army lieutenant just back from duty in Vietnam. It was decided he could be most effective as an undercover agent.

Long-haired but neat and ostensibly working as a night supervisor for a maintenance firm, Rodriguez became a model protester whose Vietnam background gave ample reason for his feeling about war.

He marched in San Antonio and Austin, carried picket signs while President Nixon and Vice President Agnew visited Dallas and spoke at Southern Methodist University rallies opposing war.

Finally he was permitted to end his secret assignment Nov. 30 and start training to become a uniformed squad car patrolman.

While most of the information he collected remains classified, Rodriguez said, "Anybody—just about—can get marijuana. During the march in Austin last October, I could smell marijuana in the air. They were walking along passing a joint right through the crowd. There were policemen at the corners, but they were busy directing traffic."

To a question concerning what he learned about violence among activists he replied, "There are a lot of people talking violence, but I heard no hard-core plans to blow up buildings or anything."

He spent Sundays at a park frequented by hippies and mingled with whoever was to be found at various addresses supplied by police.

His time off was spent in other parts of town. One night he met a girl and started dating her and, after deciding it was all right, told her his real occupation.

"She didn't believe me," he recalled. "I didn't have a badge or anything."

They were married last May 16.

Grand Jurors Indict Eleven

COLORADO CITY (SC) — The Mitchell County Grand Jury last week returned assault with intent to murder indictments against two Colorado City men. They are Virgil Green, charged with shooting Kenneth Royal Sept. 14, and Marcel Cloud, charged with beating his father, Moody Cloud, Oct. 22.

The Grand Jury also returned indictments against the following persons:

Don Craig, 20, Odessa, arrested in Colorado City Oct. 16, and charged with possession of marijuana.

Frank Diaz, 20, Francisco Molina Jr., 18, and Claudio Chavez Lujan, 18, all of Colorado City, arrested Sept. 26 and charged with possession of marijuana.

Charges of driving while intoxicated, subsequent offense, against Willis W. Harris, 45, Wichita Falls; Roy R. Reynolds, 49, Sweetwater; and Jimmy L. Lunceford, 28, Rudolph Liera, 22, and Stanley G. Brown, 45, all of Colorado City.

Columnist Dies

NEW YORK (AP) — Pulitzer Prize winner Edward Joseph Mowery, a newspaperman and columnist who on several occasions helped clear men of crimes through his investigative reporting, is dead at age 64. Mowery, who won the Pulitzer Prize for local reporting in 1953, died Saturday.

Cops Rescue Merchant, Capture One Of Robbers

DALLAS (AP) — Two men intruders left and notified a fashionable North Dallas apartment, tied up a woman and kidnaped her husband Sunday, seeking to force him to open a discount store's safe. His wife worked free after the and they drove to the store.

The other man tied the hands of Segal's wife, Edith, loosely with rope, assured her they would not harm her husband and talked with an apparent confederate, either in person or by telephone. He left after about 15 minutes.

At the store, Segal was forced to turn off an alarm system and entered at the back with his captor. The gunman found a pry bar and hammer in the stock, forced open a snack bar cash box and took $306.

They proceeded to the office and Segal was directed to open the safe. He insisted he did not know the combination, but the bandit pried open a desk and found it written on a piece of paper.

Because the safe was protected by a time lock, it was still closed as police quietly surrounded the building and began a search for Segal.

As patrolmen Eugene Jones and J. W. York reached a darkened hallway, Segal and his captor emerged from the office and headed toward the back door. As Jones shouted and leveled a 12 gauge shotgun, Segal slipped around a corner and out of the line of fire. With one hand gripping a pistol in his coat pocket, the robber froze.

Officers said the man in custody told them he arrived here Saturday from Hollywood but imparted little other information, refusing to tell anything about his confederate.

No Santa Claus

Santa Claus is not a Christmas symbol everywhere in the world. For the past 40 years in Mexico the figure of Santa has been absent at the Christmas season. In 1930, it was officially decided that Santa's heavy clothing, reindeer and sleigh were out of place in Mexico's sunny climate. Instead, it was decreed that a feathered serpent, symbol of the Aztec God Quetzalcoatl, should be used.

Concubine Pact Is On Way Out

HONG KONG (AP) — The government said Saturday that starting next October 7, no man in Hong Kong may lawfully take a concubine and no woman may become one. A centuries-old practice will thus come to an end.

A statement said Gov. Sir David Trench has set that date as the one on which the Marriage Reform Ordinance, 1970, will come into effect. Among other things, the ordinance protects the rights of a concubine "lawfully taken before the appointed day" as well as the rights of her children, "whether born before, on or after that day."

McCUTCHEN SCORES FOR TECH — Doug McCutchen, Texas Tech's nifty running back, climaxes a scoring drive for Tech by banging over from seven yards in the third quarter to get the Raiders back in the Sun Bowl ball game with Georgia Tech. Larry Hargrave had started it with a 50-yard run to the Jacket 25. Tech roared back as though it was going to snatch victory from the Georgians, but a fumble killed the drive and Georgia Tech won the classic in El Paso 17-9.

New Home, Sands Win

GAIL — Sands sacked up the Borden County invitational basketball tournament honors for boys here Saturday night, turning back Borden 56-47. New Home captured the girls' title over Flower Grove, 59-48. Paced by Terri Bearden, who canned 26 points, Dawson defeated Post, 47-29, for consolation honors. Anita Carida had 22 points for Post. Third place went to the Borden girls with a 50-41 victory over Sands. Micky Newton was high for Borden and Jan Nichols for Sands with 21. Linda McKee poured 32 points through the hoop to lead New Home to its title, while Nancy Pribyla led second-place Flower Grove with 20. In the boys' championship, Borden outshot Sands from the field by four goals, but the visiting Mustangs were deadly from the free throw line. The tournament concluded basketball here until after the holidays when Klondike will come here Jan. 5 for both boys and girls games.

'Dead As Doornails' Cowboys Resurrected

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — The "dead-as-a-doornail" Dallas Cowboys are in the National Football League playoffs for the fifth consecutive year, but even a never-surrender die-hard like defensive tackle Bob Lilly admits, "Honestly, I didn't think we'd make it."

Five weeks ago you couldn't have gotten an old Don Meredith T-shirt for the Cowboys' chances after a 38-0 humiliation by St. Louis.

But Dallas ripped off five straight victories—with coach Tom Landry calling the plays for Craig Morton. The 32-10 rout of Houston Sunday was the caper.

Coupled with Los Angeles' 31-3 victory over the New York Giants, Dallas won the National Conference East with a 10-4 record. The Cowboys host the Detroit Lions at 3 p.m. Saturday in the Cotton Bowl in the first round of the NFL playoffs.

Lilly, who led a raging Dallas defense that hasn't allowed a touchdown in 17 quarters, said he thought the St. Louis game had cooked the Cowboy goose.

"I thought we had the kind of team that could come back and win the next five games and have some fun doing it," he said. "But I really didn't believe . . ."

Quarterback Morton, who threw five touchdown passes with four stitches in the palm of his right hand for a cut suffered last week, chimed in, "Yes, I'd say we had our doubts."

Landry said "It's a tremendous day for us. It's unbelievable how five weeks can make the difference."

Landry said Dallas will open work at 1 p.m. today for the Lions.

"Detroit has plenty of talent and certainly they are one of the hottest teams right now. They also have really turned it around this season. It should be a real tough defensive battle."

Morton had his finest hour as a Cowboy quarterback hitting 13 of 17 for 349 yards.

Fleet wide receiver Bob Hayes caught touchdown shots of 38, 38, 15 and 59 yards and rookie Reggie Rucker snared a 52-yard bomb. Hayes finished the day with six catches for 187 yards.

"It was the biggest day for me as a Dallas Cowboy," said Hayes, who celebrated his 28th birthday. Given the game ball, Hayes sent it up in the stands to his wife.

The loss was the last game for Houston coach Wally Lemm, who has resigned. Houston finished the year with a 3-10-1 record.

Oiler quarterback Jerry Rhome, a former Cowboy, suffered a shoulder separation and doctors will operate today.

It was hard for the Cowboys not to tune in on the score of the Super Bowl champion Kansas City Chiefs, Los Angeles Rams, New York Giants, Cleveland Browns and St. Louis Cardinals. Even winning didn't help the Rams and Browns, while the other three pretenders all lost.

The road to the Jan. 17 Super Bowl in Miami begins next Saturday with Cincinnati at Baltimore and Detroit at Dallas. On Sunday, it's San Francisco at Minnesota and Miami at Oakland, with the winners meeting for the National and American Conference titles Jan. 3.

The other 18 teams can devote their attention to next month's college draft, with the Boston Patriots getting first pick thanks to their 2-12 record, worst in pro football.

The Bengals clinched their playoff berth with a 45-7 rout of Boston that gave them the AFC Central Division championship, at the same time insuring that the Patriots would get the pick of the college crop.

"DREAM COME TRUE" Brown, who beat out the Cleveland team he once coached by one game, called it a "personal dream come true. I didn't know we could do this well."

Running back Essex Johnson said when the expansion Bengals were born in 1968, Brown told the players it would take five years to mold a winning team.

Dallas smashed Houston 52-10 and captured the NFC East title as the Giants bowed to Los Angeles 31-3.

John Brodie's three scoring passes paced the 49ers to the first championship in their 25-year history with a 38-7 romp over Oakland. Had the 49ers lost, they would have lost the NFC West to Los Angeles and missed the playoffs, as well.

Brodie was nailed by the opposition only eight times all season, breaking the record of nine set last year by the New York Jets.

Roman Gabriel threw to Pat Studstill for the first two Los Angeles scores against the suddenly inept Giants, but the result from Oakland made losers of the Rams on a day when they played "the best game we have the Ram-Giant game. The crowd of 50,504 fans—smallest since 1965—roared each time a score was announced.

Landry said neither he nor his team paid much attention.

"Oh, I think I heard the first score when Los Angeles was ahead 7-3, but I was mainly concerned with Houston," Landry said. "We had to beat them to have a chance."

Linebacker Chuck Howley was so wrapped up in the game that somebody asked him later about Dallas' chances in the playoffs and he answered, "I'm not too concerned with anything right now but Minnesota . . . We're just playing them one at a time."

Told that Saturday's opponent was Detroit, Howley laughed, "Oh well, I'll find out when I get my play book."

played in a couple of years," according to defensive tackle Merlin Olsen.

The Lions blanked Green Bay 20-0 behind return specialist Lem Barney, who ran 49 yards to score with an interception, raced 65 yards with a punt to set up another touchdown and put the ball in field goal position with a 74-yard kickoff return.

The Dolphins blasted Buffalo 45-7 for their sixth straight win and the highest point total and most one-sided victory in their five-year existence. Jim Kiick barreled into the end zone three times and Larry Csonka set up two scores with a 54-yard run-ing two.

The Chiefs, eliminated from a playoff shot by Miami's victory, then went out and bowed to San Diego 31-13 as Mike Garrett scored twice, including a 44-yard run on which he broke two tackles after taking a shovel pass from John Hadl on a busted play.

Later, Garrett insisted it was his farewell to football.

Cleveland presented Coach Blanton Collier with a retirement present in the form of a five-year existence. Jim Kiick barreled into the end zone three times and Larry Csonka set up two scores with a 54-yard run-ing two.

Raiders put Permian behind 14-0 in the first quarter on a 3-yard plunge by Doug Mitchell and a 34-yard interception return by Scotty Senter Mitchell scored again before halftime for the clincher.

Brownwood had to wait until the second half to put the winning points on the scoreboard. Cuero fought the Lions to a scoreless first half but two costly errors—a penalty and an interception finally gave Brownwood the crown—its fifth state title in 11 years.

Iowa Park held a 7-0 halftime lead on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Greg Frazier to Lee Dawson. But Refugio gained a share of the championship in the third quarter on a 25-yard scoring dash by Rudy Vela.

The Class A champion is Sonora, which overwhelmed Pflugerville 45-6 to win its third state crown in five years.

Purdue Spoils Kentucky's 25-Game String By Upset

By The Associated Press
Oh, there's no place like home for the holidays . . . except if you're the Purdue basketball team.

Then, it's sometimes better to play your games on the road.

The Boiler-makers were invited to the Kentucky Invitational Tournament over the pre-Christmas weekend and wound up treating their hosts most rudely.

The result was an 89-83 upset victory over Kentucky's third-ranked powerhouse Saturday night. Kentucky had won 25 straight.

Bill Franklin tipped in one basket and scored on two-layups to spark Purdue's race-horse offense that buried the Wildcats with swift precision.

Other highly-ranked clubs had scares over the weekend before pulling out nerve-wracking victories.

Second-ranked South Carolina squeezed by Virginia Tech 78-76; eighth-ranked Southern California tipped Texas-El Paso 65-63 and No. 9 Drake held off Texas Christian 79-78.

"I've got to figure we were lucky," said South Carolina Coach Frank McGuire after Tom Riker's tip-is with a second left pulled out hair-raising triumph.

South Carolina, its deliberate style of play steered by guard John Roche, held the ball for the last minute to set up the final shot. Roche knifed toward the basket and missed, then Riker pumped the ball through.

Virginia Tech missed some critical foul-shots.

Paul Westphal converted both fouls in a one-and-one situation for Southern Cal, as the Trojans won the Sun Bowl Tournament at El Paso and Drake took Texas Christian in the final of the Texas Classic at Fort Worth on Tom Bush's last-minute free throw.

Other teams in the Top Ten who saw weekend action included No. 4 Marquette, an 83-66 conqueror of Long Beach, Calif.; State; No. 6 Penn., a 107-88 victor over La Salle of Philadelphia and 10th-rated Villanova, who beat St. Joseph's, Pa., 65-75.

HOUSTON (AP) — Freddie Steinmark is back in the Texas Medical Center, but this time it's to have his teeth fixed.

Steinmark, 21, a former University of Texas football player, lost his left leg in 1969 after it was discovered he had cancer. He has since returned to classes at Texas. His current problem is with his wisdom teeth.

Peterson will be both head coach and athletic director at Rice, which lately has been noted more for scholarship in the Southwest Conference.

Dr. Norman Hackerman, president of Rice, said Sunday that Peterson will take over his new duties immediately.

The new coach will replace Harold "Bo" Hagan, who resigned in November with three games to go. Rice won all three of the remaining games and would up with a 5-5 record, tying for third in the Southwest Conference with Texas Christian and Southern Methodist.

Peterson has led the independent Seminoles, who have vainly sought Southeastern Conference membership, to 62 victories in

Cleveland's 'Upset' Of Chicago Turns Out Sour

By The Associated Press
The Cleveland stock shot up with a 46-42 halftime lead over Chicago . . . but it turned out to be a Bull market, anyway, by the time it was over.

The first-year Cavaliers, who haven't beaten an established National Basketball Association club yet, was on its way Sunday night with a four-point lead at the intermission.

However, it was an old story in the second half as the Chicago Bulls poured it on and surged to a 116-103 victory.

Elsewhere in the NBA, New York beat Phoenix 133-118; Milwaukee trounced Buffalo 131-101; Detroit whipped Cincinnati 136-132 in two overtimes; San Diego toppled Seattle 110-108 and Philadelphia outlasted Portland 134-132 in overtime.

In the NBA Saturday night, it was Baltimore 134, Boston 128; Cincinnati 119, Milwaukee 110; New York 98, Chicago 87; Los Angeles 116, Atlanta 104; San Diego 118, Portland 108; Philadelphia 108, San Francisco 99; Seattle 135, Phoenix 131 and Cleveland 123, Buffalo 112.

Chet Walker scored 12 points and Jerry Sloan chipped in with 11 in the third period to help Chicago shoot back from the four-point halftime deficit.

The Bulls hit 15 of 27 first quarter shots to take a 32-18 lead, then went flat in the second period as Cleveland steadily built its lead behind John Warren. Then Walker and Sloan took over in the second half.

New York hit 31 of 51 first half field goal attempts to establish a 21-point halftime margin, then coasted over Phoenix. Walt Frazier scored 19 of his game-leading 26 points for New York in the first half.

The Milwaukee Bucks hammered out a 25-4 spree during six minutes of the third quarter and rolled over Buffalo. Milwaukee's Lew Alcindor was high man with 27 points.

Elvin Hayes' 35 points guided San Diego over Seattle.

A pair of free throws by Archie Clark with 26 seconds left in overtime enabled Philadelphia to nip Portland. Clark forced the game into overtime with a 15-footer that tied the score 123-all with one second left in regulation time.

Steers Host Lamesans

The Big Spring Steers have bitten off two tough ones in their bid to come out ahead by Christmas.

Today at 8 p.m. in Steer gym, they entertain the power-packed Lamesa Tornadoes, who once held off the Steers this season.

Whether the Steers can stage a pair of upsets or even gain split depends on how the boys are shooting. In the seven games they have won, the Steers have averaged 91.7 points; in the seven they have lost they have averaged only 76.

That pretty well tells the story of the varying temperature of the cagers. Coach Ron Plumlee is hoping this is one of their hot nights.

Other teams in the Top Ten who saw weekend action included No. 4 Marquette, an 83-66 conqueror of Long Beach, Calif.; State; No. 6 Penn., a 107-88 victor over La Salle of Philadelphia and 10th-rated Villanova, who beat St. Joseph's, Pa., 65-75.

HOUSTON (AP) — Freddie Steinmark is back in the Texas Medical Center, but this time it's to have his teeth fixed.

Steinmark, 21, a former University of Texas football player, lost his left leg in 1969 after it was discovered he had cancer. He has since returned to classes at Texas. His current problem is with his wisdom teeth.

Peterson will be both head coach and athletic director at Rice, which lately has been noted more for scholarship in the Southwest Conference.

Dr. Norman Hackerman, president of Rice, said Sunday that Peterson will take over his new duties immediately.

The new coach will replace Harold "Bo" Hagan, who resigned in November with three games to go. Rice won all three of the remaining games and would up with a 5-5 record, tying for third in the Southwest Conference with Texas Christian and Southern Methodist.

Peterson has led the independent Seminoles, who have vainly sought Southeastern Conference membership, to 62 victories in his 11 years at Florida State.

Previously Peterson was an assistant to Paul Dietzel at Louisiana State, including 1948 when the Tigers won the national championship.

Talking to newsmen in Tallahassee, Peterson said Rice's membership in the Southwest Conference was one of the reasons he was coming here.

Rice's 72,000-seat stadium, Astor-fueled this year, is regarded as one of the finest in the nation, Peterson said, adding, "My job is to fill that stadium. The president said he wanted a winning team, and that impressed me."

Peterson was known to be unhappy with growing student opposition to big-time football at Florida State. A protest led by student body president Chuck Sherman forced its board of regents to investigate the football program this year. The regents concluded that football should not be scaled down.

In his 11 years at Florida State, Peterson has produced four bowl teams and such All-Americans as Fred Biletnickoff, who now plays for Oakland, and Ron Sellers, a pro at Boston.

Peterson's best year at Florida State was 1964, when the Seminoles went 8-1-1 and beat Oklahoma 36-19 in the Gator Bowl.

WHERE THE TAX BITE HURTS MOST — Chart shows amount of state and local taxes paid by families of four in three income groups in the nation's top 25 cities. In Milwaukee, a taxpayer earning $10,000 per year with three dependents must shell out $1,586 for his non-federal tax bills. In Houston, an income of $10,000 and a family of four means only $400 in non-federal taxes. Taxes are shown in hundreds of dollars.

Extreme Differences In State-Local Taxes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Come tax time in the nation's 25 largest cities, the Milwaukee wage earner writes the biggest check for state and local tax bills.

And, according to a fresh study on the subject, the differences in the tax bills in these cities is not gradual. They're sharp, extreme.

For instance, a taxpayer in Milwaukee with a wife who stays home, two children, an income of $10,000 and a fairly new house costing around $25,000, has to find $1,586 for his non-federal tax bills.

IN HOUSTON — In Houston, Tex., the same man need only come up with $400, that is, 4 per cent of the total income compared with a rate of 15.9 per cent for this income in Milwaukee.

Sharp differences are also evident in property tax schedules. The average is $2.37 per $100 in market value in the 25 cities. The top is $4.33 in Boston, the lowest $1.07 in New Orleans. It is only six of the 25 cities in Texas — Houston, San Antonio, Memphis, Seattle and Jacksonville, Fla.

In 15 cities, there are both local and state sales taxes. Combined rates of 6 per cent are in effect in New York, Philadelphia, New Orleans, Denver and Pittsburgh.

The comparative study by the District of Columbia government determined the average bill for such things as income, property, sales taxes was 8.8 per cent at $10,000.

In nine cities the tax burden was progressive: The more money made, the more money paid. There is an income tax obligation in these cities.

The tax bill is regressive — higher incomes bear a lesser percentage burden — in nine cities, principally because there is usually no income tax and comparatively high sales and use taxes. Two cents tax on a food dollar hurts the poor more than the rich.

OIL TAXES — Several factors influence tax burdens. What the city's businessmen pay affects the personal tax bill. State-collected oil taxes, the study says, largely account for the low personal levies in New Orleans and the three Texas cities.

Residents in one city will demand more in community services than citizens in another. More service costs more money. Costs of providing services vary, too. Southern and Western cities generally face lower salary demands from employees. Their relatively mild climate saves spending for such things as snow removal and heavy street repairs.

At $5,000 income, the combined state and local tax bite in all the cities for a family of four, in descending order: Milwaukee, $729; Pittsburgh, $588; Boston, $575; Baltimore, $562; Philadelphia, $555; Indianapolis, $502; Phoenix, $493; Detroit, $479; New York, $454; Chicago, $450; Denver, $449; San Antonio, $447; St. Louis, $421; Memphis, $414; San Francisco, $400; Cleveland, $393; San Diego, $391; Los Angeles, $368; Washington, $340; Columbus, $327; Seattle, $324; New Orleans, $263; Jacksonville, $263; Dallas, $228; Houston, $216.

TAX BITE — At $10,000 income, the tax bite differs for the same cities: Milwaukee, $1,586; Pittsburgh, $1,140; Boston, $1,341; Baltimore, $1,388; Philadelphia, $1,084; Indianapolis, $1,048; Phoenix, $995; Detroit, $991;

New York, $1,032; Chicago, $920; Denver, $925; San Antonio, $862; St. Louis, $841; Memphis, $757; San Francisco, $830; Cleveland, $758; San Diego, $815; Los Angeles, $765; Washington, $821; Columbus, $632; Seattle $561; New Orleans, $548; Jacksonville, $611; Dallas, $425; Houston, $400.

At $20,000 income the rankings again shift in respect to the amount of money paid: Milwaukee, $3,040; Baltimore, $2,548; Boston, $2,398; Pittsburgh, $1,903; New York, $2,150; Philadelphia, $1,860; Indianapolis, $1,789; Detroit, $1,829; Phoenix, $1,808; Denver, $1,771; Chicago, $1,595; San Francisco, $1,739; San Diego, $1,714; Washington, $1,710; Los Angeles, $1,635; San Antonio, $1,372; St. Louis, $1,560; Cleveland, $1,252; Memphis, $1,184; Jacksonville, $1,042; Columbus, $1,052; New Orleans, $954; Seattle, $863; Dallas, $674; Houston, $634.

GIDEONS PRESENT BIBLES TO HOSPITAL — Jack Powell, left, director of the Veterans Administration Hospital, receives a Bible from Jack Worsham, treasurer of the local Gideon camp, as Clayton Hicks, VA Hospital chaplain looks on. The Gideons presented 175 Bibles to the Hospital during chapel services Sunday. The Bibles, 150 English versions and 25 Spanish versions, will be placed by the bedside of every patient.

TEXAS LEGISLATURE—II

Water Plan Puzzle

Editor's Note: This is the second in a series on the legislature based on a mail survey taken by The Associated Press of the 181 members of the Texas Senate and House.

By ROBERT HEARD
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas needs new laws on air and water pollution, lawmakers indicated strongly in reply to an Associated Press questionnaire.

But they don't know what to do about the Texas water plan. Eleven of the 31 senators and 57 of the 150 House members replied to the questionnaire.

Seven senators and 45 House members said they favored new laws on air and water pollution. Eight senators and 37 House members said they wanted new laws on oil spills.

No senator and only six House members said they opposed new laws on air and water pollution. No senator and only four House members said they opposed new laws on oil spills.

Four senators and 17 House members indicated they were undecided on the need for new pollution laws.

One of the undecided senators, who asked that his name not be used, said: "We generally enact any new laws requested by the agencies that have responsibility in controlling air and water pollution."

"I sometimes doubt, however, that the agencies themselves are aggressive enough in seeking correction of our air and water pollution problems."

He said an 1899 federal law on water pollution could have been used "before the problem became as acute as it has in recent years."

A House member, who also asked not to be named, put it stronger: "Our enforcement agencies—outside of Parks and Wildlife—are a farce."

Rep. E. L. Short of Tahoka took the opposite view: "We're overregulated now."

Rep. Jack Hawkins of Goresbeck said: "Simply enforce the ones (pollution laws) we have now."

CANALS IN WT — The vote was tighter on the Texas water plan, estimated to cost $9 billion by 1967 figures.

The plan calls for moving Mississippi River water across Louisiana and through a system of reservoirs and canals in Texas to West Texas and the Rio Grande Valley.

Voters rejected the first step in the plan—$3.5 billion in bonds—on Aug. 5, 1969.

OIL SPILLS — No senator and only six House members said they opposed new laws on air and water pollution. No senator and only four House members said they opposed new laws on oil spills.

Four senators and 17 House members indicated they were undecided on the need for new pollution laws.

One of the undecided senators, who asked that his name not be used, said: "We generally enact any new laws requested by the agencies that have responsibility in controlling air and water pollution."

The city has hired a new caretaker for Moss Lake to patrol the lake beginning Jan. 4.

Ronald E. Robey, presently a houseman for the city fire department will move into the house at Moss Lake with his wife, Pamela, and their 2-year-old son.

Robey is a 1966 graduate of Big Spring High School, and beginning Jan. 4 will attend police academy classes at Howard County Junior College.

The position at Moss Lake opened up after Ikie Rupard left for a better job opportunity in October, and since then the lake has been closed due to construction work on the spillway.

Public Works Director Nolen Chafin indicated there is a possibility that the lake will be opened up temporarily for waterfowl hunting, but he said this is not definite.

Debate Over SST Blocks Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today held the key to congressional adjournment but remained locked in debate over the controversial supersonic transport—SST—program.

Senate sources say once the SST fight is resolved disputes over other bills can be settled quickly. But they admit the prospects of this occurring before Christmas are dim.

LITTLE CHANCE

SST supporters tried Saturday to shut off debate on the program but the move was rejected 48-42. A new effort is scheduled Tuesday but there seems little chance supporters can gain the necessary two-thirds vote.

The roadblocks to adjournment all lie in the Senate, largely due to changes made by Senate-House conference committees trying to compromise differences in bills passed by each chamber. Most of the changes go against the position the Senate has taken.

Besides the SST controversy, a break is believed near in a stalemate over U.S.-Southeast Asia policy, but the Senate is making only slow progress on the massive Social Security-welfare-trade bill.

The Senate took one test vote on President Nixon's family assistance plan Saturday, rejecting 65-15 a move to kill the proposal. However, there appeared no early sign of a vote on the plan itself.

The White House said over the weekend that President Nixon would force the 92nd Congress to convene immediately after the current session ends on Jan. 3 unless there is action on his legislation.

NEXT SESSION

The President can do this by simply refusing to sign the congressional resolution that sets Jan. 21 for the next session to start.

The SST is part of an appropriations bill for the Department of Transportation. Under the current parliamentary situation, the Senate can only accept or reject the entire bill. It cannot vote separately on the SST, which it earlier rejected 52-41. The House always has supported the program.

A proposed compromise fell through late Saturday when Sen. Henry Jackson, D-Wash., one of the leading SST proponents, reportedly rejected it. The compromise would have allowed funding of the Transportation Department and of the SST program until early next year when Congress could again consider the matter.

The House largely is marking time, dealing with uncontroversial legislation and acting on conference reports. The major progress resulting from a closed session Friday night and a series of private conferences Saturday concerned five foreign aid and defense bills involved in the year-long effort of Senate doves to restrict U.S. involvement in Southeast Asia.

There were reports late Saturday, however, that some hawkish House members were holding out against a $66.6 billion defense money bill because it contained restrictions on use of U.S. ground combat troops in Laos, Thailand and Cambodia. The House members reportedly were against the bill even though these restrictions have once been watered down.

'Deer' Karyn Is Recovering From Rifle Bullet Wound

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah (AP) — Little Karyn Prestwich will open her Christmas presents Friday in a hospital bed, and she'll eat the traditional turkey dinner with her family in a hospital cafeteria.

Despite the antiseptic surroundings, Karyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Prestwich, say it will be the happiest Christmas their family has ever spent.

Their 6-year-old daughter is apparently winning a struggle for life which began when she was mistaken for a deer Nov. 6 on a rural highway near her home in North Fork, Idaho.

DAMAGED KIDNEYS

Blonde, blue-eyed Karyn, who started first grade in September, was waiting for her school bus when she was struck in the stomach by a rifle bullet.

Taken to a Salmon, Idaho, hospital and later transferred to the University of Utah Medical Center in Salt Lake City, she remained in critical condition for almost a month with badly damaged kidneys.

The doctors who treated her said the little girl made an extraordinarily determined fight for life.

"It's taken quite a while for her to bounce back," said her mother, "and it will be at least another month before she can be released."

KARYN PRESTWICH

"She's getting terribly bored and keeps asking to get out so she can go back to school, which she loves."

Mrs. Prestwich, who has maintained a day-and-night vigil by Karen's bedside since the accident, said her husband, a U.S. Forest Service employee, and two other children would come to Salt Lake City this week to spend the Christmas holidays.

Her daughter's greatest unhappiness during her long hospital stay has been the prolonged separation from her two sisters, Carrie, 3, and Jenny, 1, Mrs. Prestwich added.

Karyn has received many gifts, including a doll sent by Roy C. Wells, 52, of Torrance, Calif., who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon in the shooting.

'VERY NICE MAN'

"She keeps telling me that she thinks he is a very nice man," Mrs. Prestwich said. "She's glad he still thinks about her."

"The man didn't mean to shoot me," Karyn told the doctor who first treated her. "He thought I was a deer."

Wells, who was hunting at the time of the accident, has pleaded innocent to the assault charge and guilty to a charge of careless use of firearms.

He has contributed $500 to the Karyn Prestwich fund, which has been set up at a Salmon bank for donations to help pay for Karyn's skyrocketing medical expenses.

The fund now has $7,000. Fund-raising campaigns were started by residents of several small Idaho towns near North Fork, with many organizations staging charity benefits.

Mrs. Prestwich says: "Karyn just can't believe that people who don't even know her care about her so very much."

'Hamlet' Production Is Good Entertainment

By KERRY GUNNELS

The audience came to see Shakespeare, and see Shakespeare they did in the Hawk Players' production of "Hamlet," Saturday night in the Howard County Junior College Auditorium.

The one-act adaptation of Hamlet, called by Dan Shockey, director, "a traditional interpretation with formal costuming and staging," was an interesting and entertaining experience for the small number of theatre faithful present.

The simple set, consisting of one platform with steps and two arches, is painted in sombre shades of gray and black, setting the mood perfectly for the deeds of murder and revenge.

The most notable aspect of the production is the costuming. "Formal" is, indeed, an accurate description. King Claudius and Polonius, his advisor, are dressed in tuxedos, while Hamlet and the rest of the male cast are dressed in black shirts with billowing sleeves and black pants. Female cast members are attired in long black formal.

But the play is the thing, and all attention is focused on the words of Shakespeare as an off-stage narrator begins the complicated series of plots and sub-plots that make up the story of the Dane's revenge for his father's death.

Chris Gilbert, as Hamlet, does a remarkable job in his first role ever on stage. His powerful voice and depth of character bring the tragedy of Hamlet home to every one.

Another newcomer to the stage, Phyllis Hagen, carries the part of Ophelia in grand tradition. She does especially well during one scene in which she is called upon to sing a rather difficult song.

Robert Jones and Rowan Setties, both drama veterans at Howard County, do fine jobs as Polonius and King Claudius, respectively.

Jones, as the dottering, vain and foolish Polonius injects just the right amount of pomp and treachery, and Settles gives the role of King Claudius a new dimension of evil power.

Belita McCravey and Billy Truette also deserve praise for carrying their roles of Queen Gertrude and Horatio in the grand style.

In supporting roles, but helping to round out the play into an enjoyable evening, are Marshall Horn, Laertes; Randy Hatfield, Ghost of King Hamlet; Mike Colclazer, Marcellus; and Marvin Wynn, Bernardo.

Also, Mike Stewart, Player King; Beth Graumann, Player Queen; and Debbie Coffee, member of the court.

In charge of the effective lighting are Randy Hatfield and Mike Colclazer. Sound is handled by Mike Stewart. Debra Tate, assistant director, also is responsible for props.

Curtain rises again at 8 p.m. today on the production. With it goes a good opportunity to see a fine presentation of the Shakespearean classic.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is always criticizing women. He says the worst thing that ever happened to this country is when they gave women the right to vote. He says they are nowhere near as intelligent as men, and all women should be kept pregnant or barefoot.

Whenever he sees a driver do something dumb, he says, "That has got to be a dame!" He blames everything from the San Francisco earthquake to the Chicago fire on the stupidity of women. Next time he starts up with me about how dumb women are, what can I say to shut him up?

BELLE IN BROOKLYN
DEAR BELLE: Ask him why he didn't remain a bachelor.

DEAR ABBY: When I went overseas I had a girl who promised she would wait for me. We went together since eighth grade. Her letters kept me going, and I slept with her picture next to my heart every night. After I got home I found out she had been running around with other guys since the day I left. Everybody knew it but me. Her mother told me everything was the same between us because she didn't want to break down my spirits while I was away.

She's getting married to a guy she's only known a month. I still love her, Abby. Please tell me how I can get over her?

"GONE TO POT"
DEAR GONE: You can get over her by facing the facts. She is marrying someone else. If she started to run around on you the day after you left, she's no bargain. Maybe you're luckier than the guy she's marrying.

DEAR ABBY: I have read with much interest through the years of your encounters with women who write, "My husband likes to wear lace panties, what shall I do?" Or, "Is my husband perverted because he sleeps in a nylon nightie?" Your answers usually reflect wisdom and compassion.

I am a 49-year-old man who has been wearing women's clothing for at least 40 years. I find much comfort in a corset, nylons and bloomers under my male attire.

My wife is very understanding, and has always helped me to obtain feminine clothing. We have raised three fine children. I am very masculine (outwardly) and have been a semi-trailer driver, racing car driver, and I enjoy other manly sports. I have never had any type of homosexual tendencies or desires. So, as long as I don't bother anybody, what is wrong with dressing as I wish in the privacy of my home?

If you use my letter, please sign me . . .

Caught Stealing Heavy Tractor, Shot To Death

DALLAS (AP) — A Longview man, caught stealing a heavy tractor from a North Dallas equipment firm, was shot to death Sunday by Texas Rangers, other Department of Public Safety agents and Dallas police.

Officers said Charles Robert Mathis, 40, was killed when he pulled an automatic pistol when surprised by the officers. Dallas police said Mathis was a known underworld figure and had a record of burglary arrests.

Police said the man drove one of the firm's trucks into a storage lot and was driving the $18,000 tractor onto the trailer when confronted by Texas Rangers.

As Mathis pulled his gun, the Rangers fired a volley of shots. Mathis fell from the moving tractor which then toppled onto his body. He was dead instantly, officers said.

The Department of Public Safety said a man helping Mathis in the attempted thefts of the truck and tractor fled on foot during the shooting.
