FIRST BABY BORN IN BIG SPRING IN 1971
... Jerry Bob Hulme born to Mrs. Wayne Hulme at 12:38 a.m.

COUPLE'S SIXTH

Jerry Hulme Is First Baby

Big Spring's first baby of the new year waited only 38 minutes after the start of 1971 before being born to Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hulme.

Jerry Bob, who was 21½ inches long and weighed 9 pounds and 8¼ ounces at birth, will soon be able to go home and join his four sisters and one brother.

Mrs. Hulme entered Cowper Hospital at 10:30 a.m. Thursday. The Hulmes are West Texas natives, from Colorado City and Snyder, and they manage the B&W Body Shop here.

Merchants who are contributing special gifts to young Jerry Bob Hulme are:

Blum's Jewelry, special gift; Furr's Super Markets, case of baby food; Big Spring Savings, baby ring; Montgomery Ward, 2 dozen diapers; Big Spring Furniture, special gift; First National Bank, special gift; J&K Shoe Store, pair Jumping Jacks baby shoes; Gandy's, quart milk daily for one month; First Federal Savings and Loan, $5 savings account; and Anthony's, gift certificate.

'Jawing' Solons Clear Way For Adjournment

Proxmire Agrees To Drop SST 'War'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An agreement to resolve the long fight over the supersonic transport plane appears to have cleared the way for adjournment Saturday of the marathon 91st Congress—and may lead to rejection of the SST subsidy by the new Congress.

Senate sources reported Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., had agreed to drop his fight against the appropriations bill for the Department of Transportation, the sole measure standing in the way of adjournment, after being assured of a separate vote on the SST by next March.

Rep. Edward Boland, D-Mass., leader of the House conferees who have fought for the SST, said the agreement may well mean victory in Proxmire's long fight against the 1,800-mile-an-hour plane.

'PRETTY SHAKY'
Sen. John O. Pastore, D-R.I., an SST opponent who backed the compromise plan, had predicted earlier the new House might well reject the SST next year.

"It's pretty shaky now," he said. "And I think it will tumble by March 30."
Under the agreement hammered out in an hour-long session late Thursday in the office of Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, the Senate would approve Saturday a resolution permitting the transportation department to keep spending at least last year's level until March 30.

NEW MONEY
A new appropriations bill for the remainder of the fiscal year would have to be approved then.

Proxmire reportedly was assured Senate conferees would not permit a repetition of the parliamentary situation in which Senate SST foes were faced with the possibility of defeating the entire transportation money bill after earlier winning by 11 votes their fight against the plane.

The $290 million for the SST is a part of the transportation bill.

With the House already in adjournment until Saturday, Mansfield then dropped a plan to meet today and the Senate quit work until Saturday morning, just 25 hours before the noon Sunday expiration of the 91st Congress.

FOREIGN AID

Earlier, Proxmire had vowed to keep talking until the last minute unless he was guaranteed a separate vote on the SST in the new Congress.

As the winter's first big snowfall struck Washington Thursday, the two houses disposed of all remaining major legislation except the transportation bill. Passed were:

—A $2.5-billion foreign aid money bill.

—An extension of the foreign military sales program, stalled for months over the now concluded fight over restrictions on U. S. activities in Cambodia.

—A three-year extension of the food stamp program including a controversial new work requirement.

—A two-year extension of automobile and telephone excise taxes and a speedup of estate tax collections, designed to produce $4 billion in additional revenue over a two-year period.

PAY RAISE

—A bill revising machinery for adjusting the salary of federal workers, taking it out of the hands of Congress and providing in effect for semi-automatic increases each year. It could give federal employees a 6-per cent pay raise, effective today.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, pronounced the final death sentence on an increase in Social Security benefits, passed in different forms by the House and Senate.

Vow Chance To Raise SS, Revise Welfare

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key members have promised the House will have a chance within two months to raise Social Security benefits for 26 million persons and revise the welfare system.

Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., of the Ways and Means Committee gave the assurance Thursday night as the last chance for action by the expiring Congress went down the drain. Mills' assurance was seconded by the senior Republican member of the committee, Rep. John W. Byrnes of Wisconsin.

Mills also hinted the Social Security increase may be larger than the 5 per cent voted by the House this year. The Senate voted a 10 per cent increase. But the Senate bill, containing 400 pages of changes in the law, reached the House only Thursday and leaders ruled out any chance of reconciling differences during the last three days of session.

The assurances of quick action by the next Congress came in an exchange between Mills and a committee member, Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, who said he obtained signatures of 100 House members on a petition urging Mills to accept key provisions of the Senate bill immediately.

These were the 10 per cent increase, a minimum Social Security payment of $100 a month, increases in the amount a recipient may earn without pension reduction, and in the minimum amounts paid aged, disabled and blind welfare recipients.

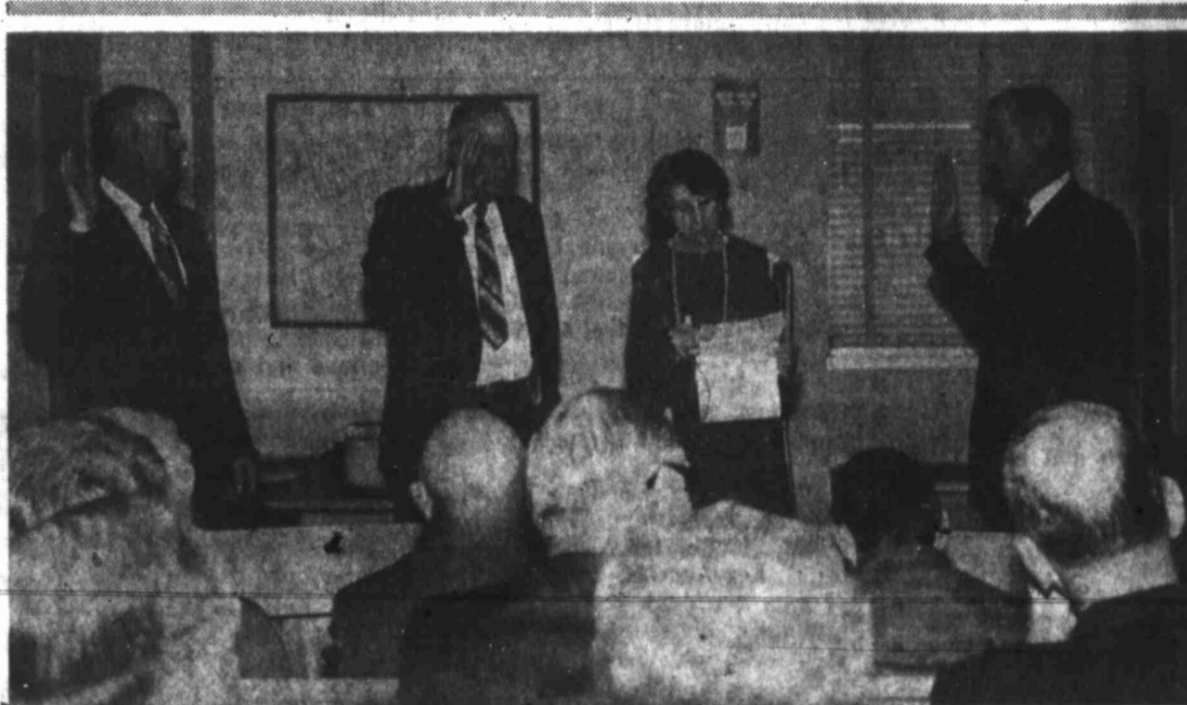

But Mills said it would be impossible in the time available to get Senate agreement on a few provisions of the voluminous bill and equally impossible to tackle compromises on the whole bill.

He told Vanik the bill contains many provisions Vanik himself had opposed in committee, and that over-all it is so far out of balance as to drain $1 billion a year from the Social Security trust fund.

Vanik argued that any bill passed by the House next year also would be subject to numerous Senate amendments. Mills promised he will let "absolutely nothing at all" get in the way of prompt committee action on the measure in 1971. Only two or three days of committee study will be needed, he said, and the House could pass the bill "by Lincoln's Birthday, or very close to it."

OATH OF OFFICE — Incoming County Judge A. G. Mitchell, center; and County Commissioners Jack Buchanan, left; and Bill Bennett, right, take the oath of office from County Clerk Pauline Petty in ceremonies held this morning in County Commissioners Court.

Pretty Brunette Slows Tate Trial

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Sharon Tate murder trial was interrupted by a pretty, blue-eyed brunette who wanted to give the judge a folder of poems and essays defending Charles Manson.

"I've come to defend my brother on Christian principles. I want to kill the law with the Bible," Nancy Jo Davis, 34, of Washington, D.C., cried in court Thursday.

Miss Davis, who frequently attended the trial to sketch Manson, 36, for underground newspapers, was ruled in contempt and sentenced to three days in jail by Judge Charles Older.

The trial of Manson and three young women followers charged with murder-conspiracy in the killings of Miss Tate and six others was recessed until Monday.

Miss Davis told newsmen her aim was to help Manson.

"I have Manson coming out of my head... I have learned a lot from Charlie's philosophy. I have also learned from Einstein, from Ghandi, from all the great leaders," she said.

The session also included a heated exchange between Manson's lawyer and the prosecutor.

Irving Kanarek, Manson's attorney, said that state witness Stephanie Schram was ordered by the prosecution to be surrounded by deputies so that the former Manson follower couldn't talk to defense attorneys.

"That's not only wrong, it's a lie!" shouted prosecutor Vincent Bugliosi.

Manson and his female co-defendants were not present in the courtroom during Kanarek's third day of defense summation. They were banished by Judge Older earlier in the week for disruptive outbursts.

Kanarek renewed his attack on Linda Kasabian, the state's star witness. He said Mrs. Kasabian, a former member of the Manson "family," showed a lack of honesty and was "doing the prosecutor's work." He said Mrs. Kasabian and Charles "Tex" Watson were probably the true motivators of a plot to kill the victims.

"The prosecution believes that Mr. Watson is a homicidal maniac," Kanarek said. "But for their purposes in this courtroom they want him to be a puppy dog."

New Officials Sworn In Here Today

"I want to say as your new county judge that we are going to have an honest court, one that you can be proud of in four years," said County Judge A. G. Mitchell following swearing in ceremonies at 9 a.m. today in Howard County Commissioners Court.

Judge Mitchell and the new county commissioners, Bill Bennett, Precinct 2; and Jack Buchanan, Precinct 4, were sworn in together this morning by County Clerk Pauline Petty.

Four incumbents were also sworn in together for a new term of office. They were three justices of the peace, Jess Slaughter, Precinct 1, place 2; Mrs. Lulu Adams, Precinct 2; C. J. Lamb, Precinct 3; and County Surveyor R. W. Baker.

Mrs. Petty was sworn into office Wednesday by former County Judge Lee Porter.

Simon Terrazas, commissioner of Precinct 1, and approximately 30 friends, relatives of the officials, and spectators also attended the ceremony.

Both new commissioners thanked the voters in their precincts for their support and pledged to do their best to fulfill their duties during their terms.

"We will work in harmony and do our best to serve the people of Howard County," said Terrazas at the close of the swearing in.

Rounding Up Bookmakers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — State and local officers armed with arrest warrants arrested four San Antonio men Thursday in a coordinated drive against gamblers and bookmakers handling New Year's Day football games.

The raids were conducted also in Fort Worth, Euless, Corpus Christi, Victoria, Dallas and Austin.

Officers said they confiscated records and files at one home and found $4,000 in cash and what they termed betting paraphernalia at another house.

The officers accused the four with "betting, wagering of money or other valuable things."

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: Yesterday I was approached on the street by a long-haired hippie type who looked to be about 22 or 23. He said, "Mister, will you give me 50 cents. I'm hungry." Without thinking, I reached into my pocket and gave him 50 cents. Later I regretted having been such a soft touch. How would you have handled that situation? LA CIENEGA

DEAR LA: I'm glad you asked that question because only last week I was walking along when a long-haired hippie type stopped me and said, "Lady, I need 35 cents to get home." Although I didn't buy his story, I became somewhat flustered, but I gave him 35 cents. Now I regret having missed an opportunity to tell that youth what he needed to hear. Giving an able-bodied person money simply because he puts his hand out confirms his philosophy that it's easier to beg than work. Next time I'll say, "Nothing doing, Budd. Get a job and earn your own bread!"

DEAR ABBY: I am a single, mature young woman who met a middle-aged bachelor. Within a month he proposed marriage. I thought we should know each other better, so I suggested we wait a while before making any commitments. He kept telling me he couldn't live without me and had to have my answer, so I told him I wanted to go away for a week (I went to my sister's, 300 miles away for my vacation) to think things over. I told him there should be no letters or phone calls because I wanted to really think clearly about it. Well, you've heard the old saying, "Absence makes the heart grow fonder?" It must have worked because I really missed him and when I got home, I told him I had decided to marry him.

Then he told me he wanted a week to think it over. He didn't leave town, but suggested we not see each other or talk on the phone. After the week was up he asked for another week! I was hurt, but gave him another week. Now he tells me he is still not sure and wants "a little more time" to make up his mind!

Do you think he is pulling my leg, or trying to get even with me? I want to marry him, but how do I get him to ask me now? PUT OFF DEAR PUT OFF: I'm afraid you blew it when you left him for a week. You know that old saying, "Out of sight, out of mind?" Well, that's what happened. Your friend doesn't sound like he's ready for marriage yet. At least not to you.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69706, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

$2.6 Million Suit Filed

AUSTIN (AP) — The largest lawsuit by an individual in Travis County history was filed against the estate of Dr. Robert Farris, who was killed with his wife and two children in an April 22 plane crash.

The $2.6 million suit was brought by the widow, parents and two small children of Jimmy Dickens, 26, a passenger in the plane which Farris piloted.

Dickens was a senior at the University of Texas Medical School in Galveston. Attorneys said Dickens was Phi Beta Kappa in undergraduate school and a top medical student and could have made approximately $150,000 a year as a doctor.

The crash near the Municipal Airport killed six in the plane and two in a house into which the plane crashed.

The suit alleges that a pilot error caused the crash, and that Farris' estate should be responsible for "a tremendous loss because of the destruction of her (Mrs. Dickens) husband's potential earning power and his contributions and support."

A House Is Not A Home, But Don't Fear New Chief

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Nevada's new chief law enforcement officer says the houses of prostitution which operate openly in many parts of the state have nothing to fear from him.

Robert List, 32, attorney general-elect, said if the question came up he would back prostitution as it exists, providing local authorities continue to prevent abuses and adequately regulate the privately owned brothels.

"I don't intend to be a hypocrite on the subject," List said Wednesday. He said the majority of the state's voters favor prostitution.

There is no state law either legalizing or outlawing the multimillion-dollar business. Brothels are widespread in most of the sparsely populated counties and on the fringes of Las Vegas and Reno. They flourish on trade from tourists, sportsmen and residents.

Why Crow About This?

COLUMBUS, Neb. (AP) — In its effort to stop hunters from shooting at glass insulators on its utility poles, the Nebraska Public Power District is handing out paper targets with the silhouette of a crow imprinted on them.

The statewide power firm has to spend about $20,000 a year to replace broken insulators.

On the new target, a head or heart shot scores 10 points; other areas are graded down to five with one exception—dusting the tailfeathers is a bonus 10.

Pocket Veto Of Doctor Training Bill Due Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon faces a possible court challenge over his use of a pocket veto to kill a family doctor training bill.

Supporters of the bill say the President abused his pocket veto authority when Congress was in a brief holiday recess.

They urged Congress to ignore the veto and appropriate funds, making it possible for a medical student eligible under the program to file a court action if the government fails to implement it.

Other members want Congress itself to seek a court ruling on the constitutionality of Nixon's action, and still others say the Constitution should be amended to clarify the pocket veto authority.

$22.5 MILLION Nixon touched off the controversy last Saturday when he announced he was killing the Family Practice of Medicine Act by refusing to sign it. His failure to sign it amounted to a pocket veto, the White House said, because Congress was not meeting when the 10th day passed.

The Constitution provides a bill becomes law without the President's signature after 10 days if Congress is still in session. If Congress has adjourned, a bill dies if it hasn't been signed by the 10th day.

Congress was in the middle of a six-day Christmas recess when the 10 days expired on the family doctor bill, which would have provided $22.5 million over three years for grants to medical schools to train general practitioners.

Before passing the temporary adjournment resolution, which fixed Dec. 23 as the date of return, the House and Senate provided that messages from the President could be received during the shutdown.

The purpose of the pocket veto provision in the Constitution is to cover a situation in which the adjournment of Congress makes it impossible for the President to return a vetoed bill so that Congress can reconsider it.

They are the first Mexican-Americans ever elected county judge in the two counties.

Both sought and were elected to their first public office in November, without opposition. Both had faced formidable primary foes and had won stunning victories.

WORKED UP Ed Gomez, 36, who worked his way up from a radio and television announcer to the ownership of two Valley radio stations, becomes Hidalgo County judge in Edinburg. Gomez overwhelmingly defeated Judge Milton Richardson, who had been in the post since 1948.

Ramon was not opposed, but was endorsed by the incumbent judge who did not seek another term. He was opposed by County Court at Law Judge D. J. Lerna, a veteran of Cameron County politics.

Both Gomez and Ramon say their election will bring about a new era of cooperation between the two counties. Both were friends for some time before they sought office.

Gomez said he and Ramon plan to have "frequent" meetings to iron out common problems.

'POOR' CHAMPS Both men have said they are concerned with the hungry and poor. Neither could be classified as members or sympathizers of either the farm labor union or the Mexican-American Youth Organization (MAYO), organizations which have taken a militant stand for Mexican-American affairs in the Valley.

Gomez owns KQXX, an FM radio station at McAllen, and KIRT, an all-Spanish AM radio station at Mission. He works on the four star final news at KGBT-TV at Harlingen.

After resigning as director of the local War on Poverty agency, Ramon was administrative assistant to Dancy and taught an American government class at Texas Southmost College at Brownsville.

Ramon's father was a trucker and was one of 29 persons killed in a truck-train collision in the Valley in 1940 when Ramon was 2.

Ramon later attended Georgetown University and American University, working as a Washington elevator operator to finance his education and holds a degree in foreign service.

'HARD LOOK' Gomez attended the University of Texas and worked for a time as a news announcer at an Austin television station before returning to the Valley.

Both men have said they will take a "hard look" at their county's finances with an aim of providing adequate services and reducing expenditures where possible.

Noting that the general fund deficit in Hidalgo County is expected to pass $500,000 by the end of 1971, Gomez said "beginning next week, I am going to study every department very carefully to make sure all unneeded expenditures are eliminated. I plan to institute competitive bidding policies in every area of purchasing."

"I will make every effort to make certain that every cent the county spends is absolutely necessary."

Ramon said he is concerned with the administration of justice in Cameron County. He has no jurisdiction in such matters, but he said he wants a "full time" district attorney's office and a "full time" County Court at Law. He also pledged to do whatever he can "to further professionalize law enforcement in the county."

Nixon Says Good Leader Must Go Against Polls

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon, in a New Year's Eve conversation with four reporters, has made light of polls casting shadows on his political future and declared a leader sometimes must go against popular trends.

Others were on hand to respond to the invitation. Darkness had fallen and snow was falling even more heavily.

Snow, Snow, Snow Socking Seaboard

Heavy snow walloped a widening stretch of the Eastern Seaboard today, piling nearly a foot on the Maryland-Virginia area and forcing postponement of the New Year's Day Mummers Parade in Philadelphia.

The snow ranged up the coast to New England following the merger of a pair of storm systems that dumped heavy amounts Thursday from Missouri to the central and southern Appalachians.

Snow deepened at the rate of an inch an hour late Thursday in sections of West Virginia, Virginia and Maryland.

Visiting Boy Hurt In Mishap Here

A 12-year-old boy is in satisfactory condition this morning at Medical Center Memorial Hospital with injuries received Thursday evening when the bicycle on which he was riding was involved in a collision with a car.

Charles G. Larkin, of Denison, Ohio, who was in Big Spring with his parents visiting Florence Cavender, 1406 East 6th St., was taken to the hospital at 8:19 p.m. Thursday.

Police said the car was driven by Helen H. Dawson, 605 Colgate. The accident occurred at the intersection of East Sixth Street and Circle Drive. No citations were issued.

U.S. Forces Begin Second Decade Of 'War' In Viet

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. forces began their second decade of fighting in Vietnam today by reporting a sudden surge in battle casualties blamed on enemy violations of a New Year's truce.

The Communist command's three-day truce was 13 hours old and the allied cease-fire four hours away when the five sailors were ambushed, the U.S. Command said.

The boat did not sink and the bodies were recovered, officials said.

Dallasites Like Pot Laws

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas County commissioners have unanimously approved a resolution asking the Texas Legislature not to change the state's laws on marijuana possession.

The commissioners adopted the resolution Thursday at the request of University Park Police Chief Forrest Keene.

Only 24 hours earlier the foreman of the October term grand jury here said he would recommend reducing first offense marijuana charges to a misdemeanor.

Chubby Babies Catch Colds

LONDON (AP) — Chubby boys and girls appear to catch more colds than children of average weight, researchers said today.

Doctors from Northampton General Hospital and the county child health department reported in the British Medical Journal on a study of 120 overweight children and 103 children of normal weight whose ages ranged from 3 months to 2 years.

The doctors found that more than a third of the overweight children had suffered from colds serious enough to require a physician's care, compared with less than a quarter of the thinner children.

DEATHS

Former Herald Staffer Dies Of Head Injuries

Word has been received here of the death Dec. 22 of J. Austin Guidinger, 51, in Sayre, Okla. Mr. Guidinger had been a member of the Herald advertising staff for about half a dozen years beginning in 1956.

He died of injuries received Dec. 19 at the conclusion of a rodeo when a bull got loose and hit him twice, inflicting critical head injuries as well as breaking numerous bones.

Requiem mass was said at the Queen of All Saints Catholic church with the Rev. Martin Hoehn officiating, and burial was in the Sayre-Doxey Cemetery under direction of Moore Funeral Home.

Ray J. Morriss, Rites Saturday

ODESSA — Ray J. Morriss, 63, a retired drilling contractor and independent oil operator, died Thursday afternoon in an Odessa hospital.

Leonard Hollis, Rites Pending

Services are pending for Leonard N. Hollis, 1327 Antionette, Woodland, Calif., where he died unexpectedly Wednesday, at 6 p.m. from a heart attack.

More Texans Hunting Jobs

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Employment Commission says 4.1 per cent of the state's labor force was unemployed in November, up from 3.6 in October.

Water Bed Overflows

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif. (AP) — The James L. Klopps bought a New Year's present this week — a water bed — and Klopps excitedly inserted a hose into the filler.

As the "mattress" filled, Klopp stretched out on it and dozed off.

City Police Nab Some Celebrators

Although things were a bit more active than usual New Year's Eve for the Big Spring Police Department, the highest increase was in the number of persons arrested for being drunk in the public view.

The first arrest came at 3:30 p.m. Thursday when someone apparently began his new year celebration a bit too soon.

Royal Honors Announced

LONDON (AP) — No hereditary titles appeared on Queen Elizabeth II's honors list this year, although observers had predicted that Prime Minister Edward Heath's Conservative government would resume the practice of awarding them.

Instead, three life peers, whose titles expire when they die, appeared on the list of 680 Britons granted titles by the queen. The list was announced Thursday for New Year's Day.

No One Injured In Accident

A rear-end collision between a semi-trailer truck and a car occurred at 2 a.m. today one mile west of Coahoma on IS 20. No injuries were sustained by any of the persons involved.

Robert Smythe, 65, Fort Worth, driver of the truck, was in collision with the rear-end of a car driven by Ernesto Garcia, 19, 204 Benton. The two were headed east on IS 20.

Mixed Weather Ushers In 1971, Showers On Menu

The new year dawned in Texas today with a variety of weather — cloudy to clear skies, mild to cold temperatures and a Weather Bureau forecast for possible rain by tonight.

It was cloudy to partly cloudy over Central Texas from the Red River to the Rio Grande River. Clear skies covered the Panhandle, the far west and along the Gulf Coast.

Elect Cotton Bowl Queen

DALLAS (AP) — A new Cotton Bowl queen, Barbara Higley of Austin, ruled over the gala festivities today.

Miss Higley was hurriedly elected Thursday by the University of Texas after Queen Diane Swendeman of San Antonio became ill and advised she could not come to Dallas.

Man Recovering

A 33-year-old Denton man is in good condition at Cowper Clinic and Hospital today after he apparently attempted suicide in a local motel room. The man is recovering from self-inflicted cuts on both wrists. Police were alerted when the night manager went into the room and found bloodstains on the floor and furniture.

Man Recovering

A total of 198,500 persons were looking for work in November, compared with 172,000 the previous month, the agency said.

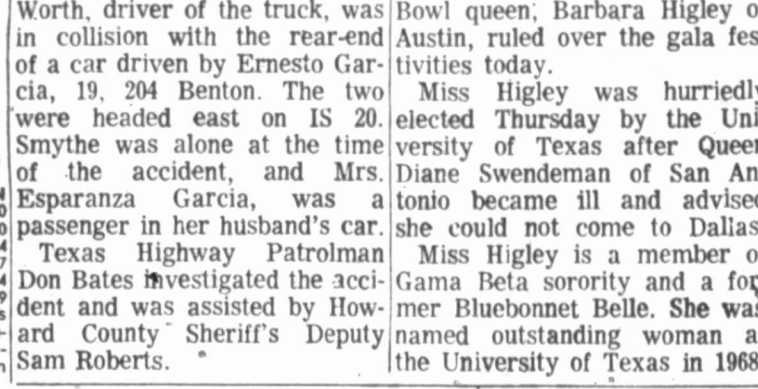

Man Recovering

The commission said holiday hiring brought a small gain in employment—3,900 persons of a total of 4.8 million employed.

A LOVELIER YOU Mild But Thorough Skin Care Required

By MARY SUE MILLER
A mother asks: "How can I keep my daughter, just turned 18, from delving into my skin creams and eye makeup? I feel sure that my creams can't be doing a thing for her. As for my eye makeup — well — if she could only see herself as her father sees her. Your advice, please."

The answer: Girls will be girls and dabble in the cosmetic jars. But using mother's skin-care products is overdoing it to say the least, like shooting a flea with an elephant gun. When a girl in her early teens has good skin, she needs a mild complexion soap and a protective cream or lotion. The latter should be a simple formula, possible with a bit of lanolin and antiseptic. And, please note, lots of beautiful fashion models use such formulations. So there's nothing "belittling" about them.

The application schedule reads: three-a-day soap cleansings; a film of protective cream or lotion at bedtime, and also in the morning when the weather is harsh.

So far, so good. But what if the skin shows signs of disturbance — oil and blemish? A doctor's advice is then necessary and a switch to corrective cosmetics. Many houses supply control products in kits.

This brings us to eye makeup, aged 13. A tube of clear lash gloss or petroleum jelly and a long-handled lash brush are more than those bright eyes need. But use should please the user. It will for certain groom the lashes for any makeup several years hence.

OILY SKIN CARE
An oily skin can be improved. Just send for my leaflet, Relief For Oily Skin. Advice covers corrective treatments and makeup; such special problems as pimples, blackheads and enlarged pores. For your copy, write to Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope and 15 cents in coin.

While checking quality, notice shapes and proportions. How does the cup balance in the hand? Is the handle comfortable to hold? How will the plates look with your other tableware? Finally, take your time, question salespeople freely, and ask for brochures on the lines that appeal to you.

If a bargain interests you more than best quality, take a look at the seconds usually sold in discount pottery shops at 10 to 60 per cent below list prices for first quality. Most of these are of foreign origin since producers, at home and abroad, export their mistakes to protect domestic reputation for quality. In fact, manufacturers of fine china seldom imprint their names on defective pieces.

The fault may be an imperceptible warping of edges, an apparent discoloration, an error in the sequence of a design or some other similar failure in workmanship.

Selection Of Dishes

If you're buying dinnerware, you may be wondering what to look for in workmanship. Some quality features can be readily checked.

Colors should be even and decorative lines should be precise. Rims and edges should not be rough, warped or wavy. The foot and handle of the cup should be joined smoothly; tiny cracks at these points indicate weakness.

There should be no bumps, pits, blisters or tiny cracks (called crazing) in the glaze. A transparent glaze should be brilliantly clear so that colors come through in full strength. The dull matt and semi-matt glazes should not be muddy.

When a mistake occurs in a big way at an early stage, the producer may sell the dishes to a decorating company that copies famous dinnerware designs and resells the dishes to a retailer.

Poems Express TOPS Meaning

Mrs. Grady McCrary read poems and told what the Tops Pound Rebels Club meant to her, at its meeting Tuesday in the YMCA.

Mrs. Donald Carlisle presided and announced that the state convention will be held in Amarillo from April 30 to May 1.

Prizes were won by Mrs. Elton Carlisle, Mrs. N. B. Perkins and Mrs. Allen McClinton. Mrs. Perkins and Mrs. T. C. Clearman won pillows in a contest, and Mrs. Donald Carlisle won a hairdo in the 6-week weight-loss contest.

Members also exchanged gifts and revealed secret pals. The next meeting is Tuesday, 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Thought you might like to know what I fix as a Christmas gift for college students.

Taking a tip from the things my daughter takes back to the dorm, I have made several of these gifts.

I buy a basket and load it with small cans and jars of jelly, peanut butter, fruit juice, canned meats, boxes of crackers and melba toast, hard candies, etc.

Since the baskets are difficult to wrap with paper, I use checked gingham or a bandana print material about a yard square. Then I set the basket in it and catch the four corners on top, tie with a pretty ribbon and holly.

The same could be done with all grooming articles. Tooth brushes, emery boards, hand cream, polish remover, cotton balls, etc.

They will be sure to make a hit with the college group. N.C.

Being the mother of a college student myself, I know how much such a gift is appreciated. Most college students are low on funds anyway, and would much rather spend what little money they have on having a good time than on necessities.

Dear Heloise:
I came upon this idea quite by accident just about this time last year.

It was Christmas Eve and close to dinner time when I discovered I did not have a dessert prepared, so here is what I did:

I thought I would quickly make some gelatin with ice cubes and then found I had no red gelatin. So I used orange instead, and a few drops of red food coloring.

We had the prettiest, tastiest, orange-flavored red gelatin dessert you ever smacked your lips over.

The family ate it and loved it and never knew the difference.

How is that for using the old noggin? Painted Gelatin drapery pin. This will really make them "stay put" on the clothesline.

And the beauty of it all is that when these items are dry there will be no marks on them from the clothespins. Mrs. R.L.

Dear Heloise:
By the time my son outgrew his highchair, his banging on the tray had caused many small nicks and scratches on the tray.

Although it was chrome, rust spots formed in these nicks, and it was quite unsightly when I got it out for our new baby's use four years later.

I was unable to come up with any other solution so I bought some adhesive-backed plastic paper and cut out an insert that just fit the tray on the highchair.

It made such a difference. The tray is bright, clean and easy to wipe. And best of all baby has "pretty flowers to pick" as she eats. Barbara Wagner

Dear Heloise:
A small-sized bathroom waste-basket can be used to hold a child's building blocks.

This way the child can find all the blocks in one place instead of digging through the toy box. Mrs. C. T. Tucker
(Write Heloise in care of the Big Spring Herald.)

LETTER OF LAUGHTER

Dear Heloise:
When husbands don't like their jobs, they can always find another.

But, when we wives don't like housework, well, that's when we appreciate that gem of a column you write! Sharon Bugley

Dear Heloise:
I attached a towel bar on the wall just above the edge of my bathtub.

After a shower, I hang the rubber bathmat on the bar and let it dry. Makes for a much neater looking bathroom. Frances

Dear Heloise:
I just came across a marvelous discovery.

I was using foam rubber to pad some cornices and had a small piece left over. I decided to try an experiment, so I wet a piece and wiped finger marks off the wall. Then I used a dry piece to dust my lamp shades and furniture.

It's amazing the way the dust adheres to the foam rubber! Then I washed it, and you should have seen all the dirt that came out.

I was just thrilled at the results of using the foam rubber as a "dust cloth." Try it and see what I mean. Marge Finken

Sure 'nuf!
And next Christmas it will be like receiving an extra bonus — just means that much gift wrapping paper you won't have to buy. Heloise

Dear Heloise:
I use drapery pins when hanging heavy items like bathroom rugs, commode covers, shag rugs, etc. on the line.

I pin these drapery pins through the backs of the rugs and clip a clothespin on the

Cosden Party Fetes Couple

Miss Brenda Greene and her fiance, Bryans Fitzhugh, were honored at a holiday party held Tuesday evening in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Greene, 2305 Cindy, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh of Lamesa, formerly of Big Spring.

Miss Greene, attired in a white knit dress with high round neckline, was presented a corsage of white carnations as were both mothers. Host couples were Mr. and Mrs. Merly Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Chapman, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dickens, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Goodlett, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Hinds, Mr. and Mrs. John Dibrell, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shive, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie McNeese and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill. Refreshments were served from a polished table appointed with silver coffee and punch services. The centerpiece was a silver candelabrum with votive lights and arranged with white carnations.

Miss Greene and Fitzhugh plan to be married in February. Raymond T. Torp Have Guests

Guests of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond T. Torp are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Trahl of Elizabeth, N.J., who celebrated their wedding anniversary today. The Torp's daughter, Alison, celebrated her ninth birthday Wednesday with a dinner at Cosden Country Club followed by a slumber party at home.

Hijack Convictions Show Soviet-Jewish Pressures

By GEORGE W. CORNELL, Associated Press Religion Writer NEW YORK (AP) - The case against the Soviet Jews convicted of planning to hijack a plane to get to Israel points up the Soviet Union's mounting pressures on its Jewish population.

Most of the recent campaign has been cloaked in anti-Israel terms tied to Soviet support of Arab forces in the Middle East. But it also has produced sharp tensions between the Soviet government and Jewish citizens.

"Never before has the Soviet press published so many anti-Israel, anti-Zionist and anti-Semitic articles," says the Rev. Blaslaus S. Hurby. He edits a journal documenting the trend, Religion in Communist Dominated Areas.

AFTER DECADE OF TOIL

Okie Motorist's Dream Comes True

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — highway across Oklahoma closed to traffic will be the 9.7-mile segment from Wynnewood and Davis, and he said that should open in about a month.

LATE AGAIN

Truman Branscum, director of Oklahoma's Department of Highways, announced late Tuesday that at 3 p.m. Wednesday a 29-mile segment of Interstate 35 opened to traffic.

That means the only portion of the 243.4-mile north-south drive with caution as there will be men working on the shoulders, installing guard rail, painting some stripes and putting up signs," he said.

The incidental work will continue on the new stretch into early spring before all signs are up and sod planted along the right-of-way for erosion control, he said.

SOLID ROCK

Then completion of the link south to Davis, on the north rim of the Arbuckle, will mean the Oklahoma part is complete in a planned superhighway stretching from Mexico at Laredo, Tex., to Duluth, Minn.

The first work on I-35 began the same year the enabling legislation, the Federal Highways Act of 1956, was passed. Then, earth was turned for a new bridge across the Red River between Oklahoma and Texas.

The Arbuckle constitute some of the roughest terrain in the state. A gash deep enough to hold a 15-story building was gouged in the mountains for I-35. More than three million cubic yards of excavation material was blasted and shoveled away, much of it solid rock and limestone.

$123 MILLION TAG

Old U.S. 77, built in the 1920's with convict labor, has been the main route through the Arbuckle. A winding, two-lane route, it slowed traffic to a crawl on steep inclines.

In contrast, I-35's inclines are gradual, and with four lanes, there is ample opportunity to pass groaning trucks slowed by the uphill pull.

Throughout the 1960's, the road was threatened by work stoppages, freezes on federal funds, controversies over routing, and conflict between state and federal authorities.

At the base of the routing controversies was the question of whether towns would benefit or suffer because the big new highway was coming close by or bypassing them widely.

Now, with local problems solved and investment of more than $123 million and a decade of toil, the visionary superhighway is just 10 miles short of completion through the state.

South took full advantage of a totally inept defense, to land his six diamond contract.

South opened the bidding with one club and West over-called modestly with one spade the he had ample values to make a takeout double. North made a free bid of one no trump. South's jump to three diamonds is forcing, after partner's free bid. West now showed his second suit which temporarily relieved North of the obligation to bid.

South had visions of reaching a slam and, in order to inform partner of his intentions, he now made a cue bid of four hearts, designating first round control of that suit. When North showed the ace of spades, South did not daily any further, proceeding directly to six diamonds.

A spade opening would have assured the defense of a profit on the deal, however, West elected to lead the king of hearts despite South's cue bid in that suit. Declarer ruffed and confidently expected to make a claim momentarily—until West showed out on the first round of trumps.

South continued with the king of diamonds and then gave East his trick in that suit. A spade return at this point would still have defeated the contract, for it breaks a vital communications link between the declarer's hand and the dummy. East continued his partner's futile attack, however, by returning the eight of hearts.

South ruffed in his hand, cashed three clubs ending up in his hand and then proceeded to lead out his remaining trumps. As the last diamond was led, West was down to the king-queen of spades and the ace of hearts, while the dummy retained the ace-jack of spades and the jack of hearts. If West gave up a spade, North would take the last two tricks in that suit. The discard of the ace of hearts is equally fatal, for it establishes the dummy's jack as the fulfilling trick.

COP OUTS — These two men sitting in a skid row doorway are not winos, they are Bob Gerner (left) and Tom Burns, San Francisco policemen. The police department, concerned about a rise in street crime along skid row, set up a special detail. Officials say results have been encouraging. During a five-night period last month the "wino" cops made one homicide arrest, 13 strong arm arrests, two car theft arrests, two burglary arrests and several grand theft apprehensions.

Law Enforcement Session Begins Monday At HCJC

A new six-week session of the Southwest Academy for Law Enforcement at Howard County Junior College is scheduled to begin Monday.

The expense of this session will be borne by a state administered grant to the academy, which is operated through the cooperation of the Permian Law Enforcement Planning Council and the police training division of the Texas A&M extension service.

Of criminal law are included in the first two weeks of work. Criminal and accident investigation instruction will extend into the fifth week, with riot control, driving safety, directing traffic, and use of field work in first aid, mob and firearms filling out the session.

About 15 students are already registered for this session, but Chief of Police Jay Banks expects to have about 20. The academy has been running two or three sessions a year since 1963, with the students getting the benefit of instruction from experts actively working in law enforcement as well as instructors on the Texas A&M staff.

Harrelson's Pre-Trial Set Jan. 13

Special guest lecturers include representatives of the FBI, Texas Department of Public Safety, Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission, National Automobile Theft Bureau, the Red Cross, and the Big Spring Police Department. Topics to be covered run the gamut of police work from everyday situations such as patrol, observation, and reports to less usual techniques such as mob and riot control. Much of the emphasis of the course is placed on the development of procedures and techniques that give criminal suspects the benefit of their legal rights. Court jurisdiction, laws of arrest, search and seizure, and general discussions of criminal law are included in the first two weeks of work. Criminal and accident investigation instruction will extend into the fifth week, with riot control, driving safety, directing traffic, and use of field work in first aid, mob and firearms filling out the session.

Fire Ant Bait Out

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas Agriculture Department says about 200,000 acres of Texas land have been treated for fire ant eradication in the past two years.

Most of the fire ant bait was distributed in Gregg, Henderson, Harrison, Madison, Panola, Rusk, Smith and Victoria counties.

The report said there also are known areas of some infestation ranging along the Louisiana border from Panola County south to Jefferson County, then along the Gulf Coast to Matagorda and Brazoria counties and additional infestations in Houston, Lavaca, Kendall, Bexar, Comal, Guadalupe, Dallas, Tarrant, Denton and Collin counties, all of which comprise 13 million acres.

The two-year cost of treatment, at 50 cents an acre, was $45,507, according to the department's annual audit report.

Says Vitamin C Might Outmuscle Hangover

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Nobel laureate Linus Pauling, who started a run on vitamin C with his view that it can cure the common cold, also thinks the vitamin might outmuscle the hangover. Others think differently.

In an interview, the Stanford University chemistry professor said Wednesday, eve of the event, those members of the vitamin B complex family, he said, have been used effectively in the "detoxifying effect that certainly could be worthwhile." Pauling added that he hasn't had "much experience myself" in the field of hangovers.

He was enthusiastic, however, over the beneficial properties of niacin and thiamine in the battle against the New Year's Day malaise.

Those members of the vitamin B complex family, he said, have been used effectively in the treatment of some nervous disorders and "a hangover could qualify."

Dr. Erwin Braff, director of the City Health Department's Bureau of Disease Control, says common aspirin is his special weapon.

"That's what I take—a couple of aspirin just before I go to bed instead of afterward," he said.

Florette Pomeroy, San Francisco director of the National Council on Alcoholism, said there is only one way for the average drinker to fend off the hangover—a limit of 1½ ounces of alcohol an hour.

Will Open Bank In Mexico City

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Security Pacific National Bank, the second largest branch-banking system in the United States, says it will open an office in Mexico City Jan. 20.

"We anticipate that our opening next month will further strengthen our relationships with Mexico's financial and commercial community," Carl Hartnack, president of Security Pacific, said today.

The Los Angeles bank is the ninth largest in this country and is among the world's leading 25 banks.

TOMORROW

—CARROLL RIGHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: An unusually good day and evening to go after what you want in an energetic way. Be sure to gain the things you desire. A fine time to let those you like know what you expect of them in the days ahead, especially where romantic and personal matters are concerned.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19): You have proper vision now to gain the support of blights for your finest aims, whether personal or business. Evening especially fine for the romantic side of your life. Show that you have finesse.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20): So-called ability pays today, especially if you have a new plan of action to promote. Getting into hobbies with congenials that are mutually enjoyable is fine. Don't let anyone talk you into doing something you'd rather not do. Avoid trouble.

GEAINTS (May 21 to June 21): Not a good day to gain the cooperation of others for a plan you have, since they are in a worried mood. A social affair augurs trouble. Either just be careful or don't attend.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21): Do something nice for persons who have done you favors in the past. Take no chances with your good name now. Ideal day to improve your health in some way. Be careful in travel.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21): You have made certain commitments that it is important you carry through with conscientiously at this time. Use those ideas that one who loves you has offered. Get fine benefits therefrom.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22): Have long discussions with associates until you convince them with your fine ideas that will be mutually profitable. Some new arrangements with persons who are important in your scheme of things are wise to make now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22): You are able to start operating at a smooth pace where all that work ahead of you is concerned. Buy gadgets, articles of clothing you need, etc. Retax tonight. Be smart.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21): Go ahead and follow your hunches where it means pleasing others. Fine benefits accrue later on. Don't neglect to pay important bills. Show note you are most affectionate. He or she is not a mind-reader.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19): Plan a course of action you want to take that will lead to greater abundance. Use mature judgment and vision. Seek out the right expert to give you advice you need. Use your mental feelers.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20): Ideal day to contact persons who are usually hard to get and gain the favors, etc. you want. Don't forget to repay that party obligation you have. No better day than this to go out for entertainment.

SCAMARDO (Jan. 13 to Feb. 13): Pete Thomas Scamardo, also charged in the slaying of Degelia, was found guilty earlier this year as an accomplice in the slaying. Scamardo, also of Hearne, was accused of offering Harrelson $2,000 to kill Degelia.

The prosecution, headed by Dist. Atty. Oscar McInnis, claimed Scamardo wanted Degelia, his former business partner and longtime friend, killed in order to collect on an insurance policy.

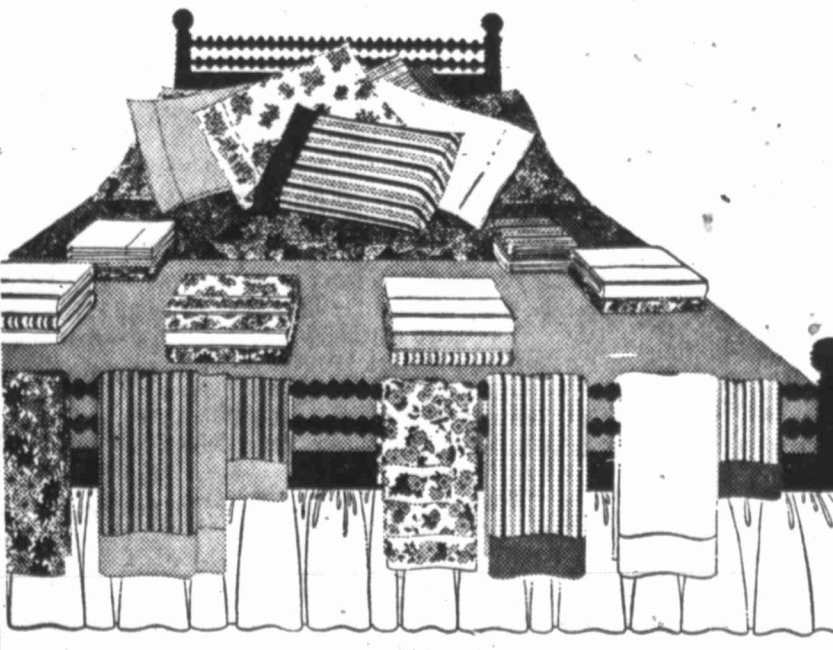

Scamardo, a cotton broker, was given a seven-year probation term at the conclusion of the longest and one of the most sensational trials in Hidalgo County history.

Houston lawyer Percy Foreman, who represents Harrelson and also defended Scamardo, has been expected to file a motion for a change of venue.

Illinois Bucks The Tide

A funny thing happened in Illinois the other day.

The voters approved a new state constitution.

They may not have been aware of it, but in so doing they defied what has seemed to be becoming virtually a national political tradition — that the best-laid plans of state governmental reformers come to naught when submitted to the electorate.

The political scientist fraternity in this country is overwhelmingly of the opinion that with the machinery of American government in general needing updating the level most desperately in need of attention is the state.

Most state constitutions are products of the 19th century and, like the architecture of the period, are cumbersome and encumbered with no longer desirable details. Most were designed less to grant than to restrict powers. These rigid charters may have served a purpose at the time, an era of frequent state house corruption, but they are sadly out of date today when flexibility is the great need of government in adjusting to a rapidly changing world.

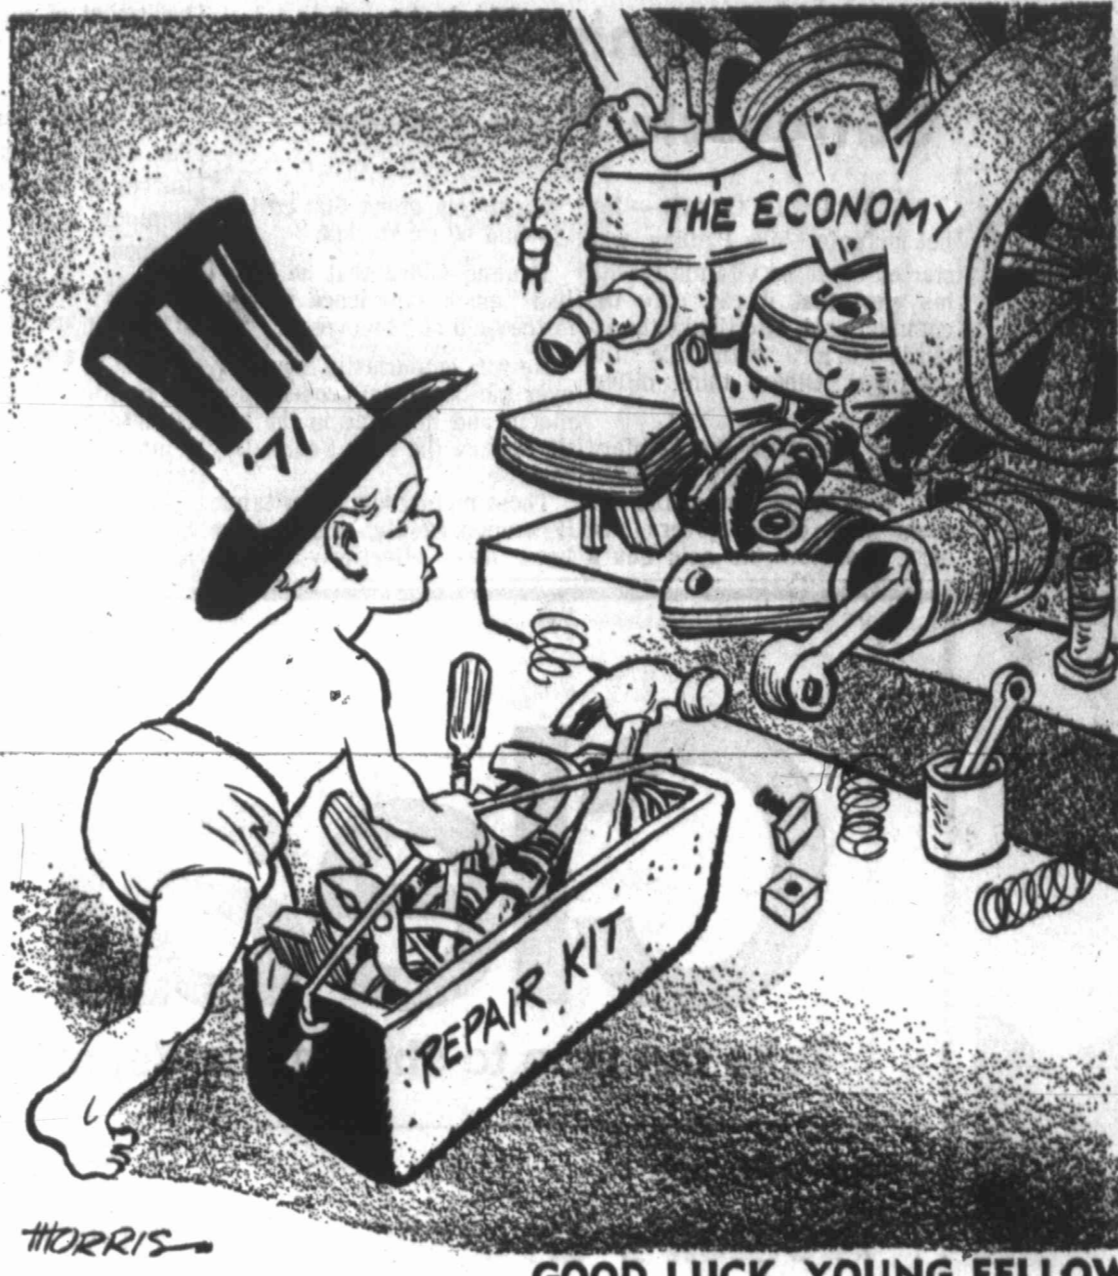

To their credit, the states are aware of the problem and have sought to do something about it. In many, commissions similar to the 116-member constitutional convention which labored nine months to bring forth the new Illinois charter have been revising obsolescent constitutions or starting from scratch and devising entirely new documents tailored to the times.

But too often their efforts have bombed at the polls. In recent years, seven states — Arkansas, Idaho, Maryland, New Mexico, New York, Oregon and Rhode Island — have rejected new constitutions. Acceptances — such as in Michigan, Florida, Virginia and now Illinois — have been the exception.

Most revisions provide for stronger executives, and thus more coordinated and responsible administration. They also stress home rule powers for localities; and they tend to be far briefer in length.

There may be several reasons why proposed reform of state constitutions is so difficult. Some people fear yielding authority to the state; some fear more spending; some are fearful of any change. Most of all, apathy and disinterest are at the bottom resistance of effective overhaul or replacement. But the Illinois experience provides hope.

GOOD LUCK, YOUNG FELLOW

John Cunniff

Sadler Profile, No Minis

By GARTH JONES
(Substituting for John Cunniff)

AUSTIN (AP) — Jerry Sadler, a tough, gruff, snuff-dipping politician whose proudest claim was that he saved millions of dollars for the school children of Texas, stepped down today.

Bob Armstrong, former Austin legislator who doesn't look his 37 years, takes the oath of office as Texas' general land commissioner.

Sadler, a rotund but robust 63, leaves the historic general land office after 10 years of public service as colorful and eventful as any recorded in Texas history.

Armstrong goes into office as the result of a surprise election victory last November that resembled in many ways the surprise upset Sadler staged in 1960 over incumbent Bill Allcorn.

But upsets are not new to Sadler. In 1938 he got into the railroad commissioner's race as a political unknown and ended up winner.

In 1954 he was elected state representative and had three terms representing the area around his Palestine and Honey Grove homes before making the 1960 race for land commissioner.

In whatever state office he held Sadler was outspoken, colorful and, many think, effective. The rule book did not always fit his mode of operations.

Some legislators called him "Jerry the pirate" for his independent, secretive handling of the treasure found aboard the old Spanish galleons off lower Padre Island. The House voted, 64-49, to reprimand him for what some members called "misleading" a House committee about his actions in the treasure hunt.

"I never felt better in my life," Sadler said after the reprimand, adding that all he wanted to do was be sure that any money received from the treasure went to the permanent school fund "for the school children of Texas."

Sadler once momentarily choked an inquisitive legislator who wanted to look at the old Spanish cannon and another time showed a photographer's camera back into his face. There were no apologies.

Some of Sadler's biggest headlines came after he issued rules at the land office—no coffee breaks, no miniskirts and no long sideburns.

"I believe that all employees have a responsibility to the people whom they represent to maintain neatness and dignity in their appearance," Sadler said, and the orders stuck despite protests.

Sadler was born in Kirbyville, Sept. 8, 1907—a fourth-generation Texan whose great-grandfather has a Spanish land grant, fought in the Texas Revolution, and was elected to the Texas Congress. A cousin, Harley Sadler of Abilene, was a state representative and senator.

One of the last duties of his administration was the publication of a full color booklet reporting on the business of the Land Office for the past year. Sadler wrote the introduction.

"I have constantly fought to preserve the permanent school fund against unauthorized use and exploitation by those who would like to deplete this fund," the retiring commissioner said. "I point with pride to these major accomplishments in the last 10 years and appreciate the fine cooperation I have received from many of the fine people of this state and the staff of the general land office."

Sexploitation Fading?

By GENE HANDSAKER
(Substituting for Hal Boyle)

One snowflake may not be a winter, nor one film a trend . . . unless, perhaps, its "Love Story."

Its critics' reviews and early box-office returns suggest a start of the pendulum's swing back to romanticism from blatant sex on the screen.

Or as Jack Valenti, president of the Motion Picture Association of America, put it recently in a speech to a Sacramento, Calif., business group:

"My judgment is the sexploitation film, mostly imported from abroad or made cheaply and quickly in this country is fading . . . What I think will become the majority of seriously made films in this country is the kind of movie I would call romantic or entertaining."

Critic Kathleen Carroll wrote in the New York Daily News that "Love Story" should bring joy to millions of moviegoers sickened by the overdose of sex and drugs in the movies."

"Unless we are all mad," Charles Champlin wrote in The Los Angeles Times, it "will be an enormous success and almost certainly the most influential movie of the year, heralding more to come."

Early viewers seemed to approve. Paramount Studio says the film broke house box-office records in the first four days of its world premiere booking at two New York theaters.

"Love Story" has Ryan O'Neal, for five years in TV's "Peyton Place," as a hockey-playing Harvard law student in rollicking love with Al MacGraw, a poor but spirited Radcliffe music student.

Their marriage survives his stern father's disapproval and disinheritance but is doomed by her illness. Audience sniffles are like those at tearjerkers of the '30s.

In a handsome production of Erich Segal's script, from which he later wrote his best-selling novel, skin exposure is minimal and lovemaking is hardly more than hinted at.

The film's rating is GP, however—parental guidance suggested—presumably for the profanity Miss MacGraw uses, some critics thought, to excess.

Some reviews were less enthusiastic. Gail Rock of Women's Wear Daily advised: "If you dig high school plays and 1957 fiction from the Saturday Evening Post, you'll love 'Love Story' . . . Neither O'Neal nor Miss MacGraw is a very good actor."

Vincent Canby of The New York Times pronounced the picture "beautiful and romantic" and added: "The only really depressing thing about 'Love Story' is the thought of all the terrible imitations that will inevitably follow it."

A Most Popular Fella

I don't know who he is, but that guy Clearance sure has been popular in The Herald since Christmas.

Thoughts while cleaning off my desk and getting ready for a day of bowling!

A FOUR-LETTER, unmentionable word appeared on screen at the Michigan-Ohio State game, and two multisyllable unmentionables managed to work their way into the parabolic microphone at the Detroit-Oakland game.

I've always wondered — if a guy recognizes the words, should he be offended? It's a fine moral point.

IN THE televised Florida State-Houston game, Chris Schenkel and Bud Wilkinson told the fans about Elmo Wright, Houston's black pass-catching player who does a happy dance in the end zone after each touchdown he scores.

Wright did score after catching a pass, an instant replay was run and ex-coach and GOP ex-politician Bud Wilkinson described it this way:

"There goes Wright into the end zone for a touchdown, and there's the happy jig."

That was the faux pas of the 1970 season.

IT'S SURPRISING, but every few days someone writes a letter to the editor of a newspaper or a news magazine asking:

"Why do you emphasize all the bad news? There's plenty of good news going on, but all I read are stories about war, pollution, crime and mopey in a public place. What have you got against good things?"

If you're sitting there agreeing with that letter, I suggest you read this newspaper again. It's full of good things, but those are the items you skipped the first time to get to the more sensational.

IF WE STARTED putting only good news on page 1, you'd be turning the paper inside out every morning.

The wire services are responding by slugging some of the stories "Good News." When we have to label news that is good, the prognosis is bad.

The worst thing which can happen to an appointed government official is for "someone close to the president" to deny he is about to be fired. That means he'll go any day now.

Red China In The U.N.?

WASHINGTON — The diplomatic world seems to be taking it for granted that the United States is eager to see Red China admitted to the United Nations, without, of course, disturbing the status of Nationalist China. The fact is that the Peking regime is assuming the initiative towards improving its relations with certain countries and sees advantages in becoming a member of the U.N.

SO FAR as the State Department is concerned, it has shown no indication of opposition to Red China's efforts. This has come as a surprise to many people in America who have watched the course of the Vietnam war and observed the assistance given by the Chinese Communists to North Vietnam, both in military supplies of various kinds and in support of Hanoi's actions.

But should the State Department welcome into the United Nations a government that is guilty of encouraging North Vietnam, a nation which practices inhumanities towards American prisoners and refuses to negotiate a peaceful settlement of the war?

SHOULD THE United Nations accept as a member a government which is violating the basic principles of the U.N. charter?

It can be well understood why Peking was anxious to open diplomatic relations with Canada and Italy and other countries. The answer is plain — there is profit involved. The Red Chinese want to expand their trade wherever possible.

BUT TODAY American lives are being lost in the Vietnam war, and casualties have run into many tens of thousands in the past few years. The Red Chinese have played a part in bringing about these sacrifices of human life. Are the rulers in Peking willing now to exercise their influence with the North Vietnamese to make a settlement in Indochina? Do they want peace in Southeast Asia, or will they continue to intervene and instigate wars of aggression in other parts of Asia the moment United States forces are withdrawn?

THE HISTORY of the relations of Red China with this country has not been good. It has been filled with incidents of a disturbing nature. The Chinese Communists participated openly against the U.N. forces in the Korean war, and frequently there have been threats of possible conflict over the years. But the real issue is whether Red China is a friend or enemy of the United States when it provides weapons and other military supplies to the North Vietnamese and encourages them not to negotiate a settlement at Paris.

THE PEKING government could help to bring peace in Vietnam and to the world if it were truly a "peace-loving" state which accepts and is "able and willing to carry out" the obligations contained in the charter of the United Nations.

Not All The Problems Are Solved

WASHINGTON — If there is one respect in which the Nixon administration resembles that of the late John Kennedy, it is the tendency of its palace guard to gloat, often prematurely.

Arthur Schlesinger Jr., and Richard Goodwin were the principal gloaters under Kennedy; Nixon has his national security adviser, Henry Kissinger, and John Erlichman, his assistant for domestic affairs. Currently, in conversations with friends and in words dropped at social bashes, both are gloating over the relative quiet on college campuses, the diminution of the Vietnam War and draft issues, and indications that many college students feel colleges have been too lax in handling student protests.

IT IS PLAIN, from talk within the administration, that the White House feels it is over the hump on these issues.

The gentlemen may be right. Indeed, a lot of Democrats are suggesting as much by concentrating on the economic issue. At any rate, all the recent polls show that changes have taken place on the campuses.

A NEW YORK TIMES survey, for instance, reported the campuses are calm mainly because the war and draft issues have lost their potency — the war because it seems to be ending and the draft because of establishment of a lottery system.

Even a non-member of the Nixon administration consequently is tempted to see this change in campus atmosphere as a nod to the President's policies. Withdrawal of troops from Vietnam is ahead of schedule. Nixon has pared U.S. strength by about 37 per cent, from a peak of 543,000 in April, 1969, and has pledged to have another 60,000 out by next May 1. The lottery system still has a few bugs, but it is immeasurably fairer than the old system.

ON THOSE issues, that is a pretty good record for a President who will not have been in office two years until Jan. 20. It is, moreover, a record compiled despite continued sniping by a Democratic Congress, and despite that questionable foray into Cambodia last summer.

BUT ANYONE over 30 should agree that the time has not yet come for smugness over the relative serenity of the campuses. Perhaps it can't be proved by figures, but the record nevertheless shows that the success among our youth does not set in until they've been in college a couple of years. Some of those freshmen surveyed almost surely still bear traces of home influences. I await with some trepidation a survey of their feelings after they've been exposed for a longer period to some of the professional crazies that afflict our campuses.

THUS THE Nixon administration cannot afford to rest on its laurels at this early date. The troop withdrawal must proceed on schedule, and Nixon is obligated to make good on his pledge to have all U.S. combat troops out of Vietnam by the summer of election-year 1972. Should bombing of North Vietnam be resumed on a regular schedule, the peace forces will resume their offensive. However viewed, the situation is still delicate.

High Attendance

CHICAGO (AP) — The Art Institute of Chicago reports its attendance during 1969-1970 was the second highest in the museum's history with 2,392,431, a gain of 292,850 over last year.

Charles C. Conningham, the institute's director, said contributions also increased, with $596,555 given to the Annual Contributors Fund, which was 22 per cent over the amount given last year. He said the support came from nearly 5,900 gifts, about 800 more than last year.

However, Conningham said corporate support was still low but 46 per cent over the previous year with $104,837.

Despite these favorable reports, Conningham said the Institute was confronted with a large operating deficit of $411,000.

Bridge Cost

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state of Kentucky can attest to the cost of building bridges.

It paid $256,519 for construction of a railroad trestle over Interstate 75 near Georgetown. But within four years the railroad abandoned its once-a-day freight trains and the state then paid another $25,000 to have the bridge removed in the interest of highway safety.

Armed Services Committee

With the death of Rep. Mendel Rivers of South Carolina, there has been much speculation about his apparent successor, Rep. F. Edward Hebert of Louisiana; as chairman of the powerful House Armed Services committee.

There are some other things worthy of mention in this connection, and one of them is that Rep. George Mahon, chairman of the appropriations committee — possibly the most potent of all House committees — has spent most of his career dealing with military appropriations. For years he was on the sub-committee on military appropriations, and as a comparatively young congressman was made chairman of this panel.

When he was stepped up to the chairmanship of the entire appropriations committee, he held on to his sub-committee chairmanships. Thus, Rep. Mahon and Rep. Hebert are the two which will have the most say about defense appropriations.

It is significant, also, that with Rep. Rivers' death and the defeat of Rep. Philip J. Philipin (D-Mass.) who would have been chairman, Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, moves up two notches and is now third from the top of the Armed Services panel, and Rep. Richard White of El Paso also advances two rungs on the ladder. In addition, Sen. John Tower is on the Senate's Armed Services Committee.

A Showdown In The Mediterranean

TUNIS — Except for the persistent recurrence of human folly it would be difficult, if not impossible, to document the ancient cliché that history repeats itself. Yet the stage sets for the great historic confrontations tend to have a fateful similarity, and nowhere is this more evident than in the Mediterranean basin.

THE POWER of the Soviet Union vs. the power of the United States in the Mediterranean means, if the pessimists are right, a head-on collision in the not-too-distant future. Only a short time ago the American Sixth Fleet was the supreme power. Today the cry of alarm is that Russian naval power, both surface and subsurface, has outstripped that of the United States, with the Soviets having bases where a few years ago none existed.

The buildup, the cries of alarm, the threats and counterthreats, will go on, suggesting a similar drama that occurred here more than 2,000 years ago. The power of Rome vs. the power of Africa, with Carthage as its center, was a confrontation marking the course of history far into the future.

THE CLIMAX came in 202 B. C. in a battle between the Roman forces led by Scipio and the Carthaginians with Hannibal as their commander.

Francis H. Russell, American Ambassador to Tunisia from 1960 to 1969, who developed a scholarly interest in the history of the cockpit of war, quotes the greatest of Roman historians, Livy, as saying the battle "decided whether Rome or Carthage was to give laws to the nations." Many historians believe it was the most important battle of all time, with Hannibal and Scipio the greatest of all generals.

SCIPIO WAS victorious, carrying the day in spite of Hannibal's 80 elephants and an army familiar with the terrain. Rome was to rule the then known world for at least three centuries. The city of Carthage survived for a time until Cato and the extremists prevailed and it was completely razed, the population massacred and the site sown with salt.

On this North African shore, with that battlefield and the ruins of Rome and Carthage as a constant reminder, are those who see a tragic parallel today in the confrontation between the Soviet and American power in the Mediterranean. Is not the choice again, they ask, who will govern the world and establish its laws as it was in the second century before Christ?

WHY, THE American visitor is asked, do you diminish your power in this sea which is so critical for your future? Why did you give up your bases in Morocco: Wherever you pull out, a vacuum is created and the Russians move in. We are seeing this happen all around the Mediterranean.

Why the Soviets were able to increase their global power with a Mediterranean force rivaling that of the United States is no mystery. Over a half-dozen years the U.S. was putting $25 billion annually into a futile war in Vietnam. The cost to the Soviet Union of aiding Communist allies in Southeast Asia may have been as high as $1 billion a year.

THIS IS THE margin that enabled them to funnel resources into nuclear-powered submarines and surface ships, missile and missile bases on the shores of a sea that has seen so much of history over the millennia. One thing is certain: If a clash comes out of this latest confrontation there will be no empire to rule.

Kicks, Good And Bad, Yield Bluebonnet Tie

HOUSTON (AP) — Coach Chuck Fairbanks of Oklahoma wouldn't mind sudden-death playoffs to eliminate tie games in college football—especially in bowl games.

At least that is the way Fairbanks felt Thursday night after a 24-24 tie between his young Oklahoma Sooners and the Alabama Crimson Tide in the 12th Astro-Bluebonnet Bowl.

"It seems we should have kept playing," Fairbanks said, adding that "right now, I would favor sudden-death."

Both Fairbanks and Coach Bear Bryant of Alabama indicated their own decisions to go for field goals instead of touchdowns in the final minute of play may have cost their teams a victory.

With one second to play, a 34-yard field goal attempt by Alabama's Richard Ciemny was wide. Just 58 seconds earlier, Oklahoma's Bruce Derr had kicked a 42-yarder to nail down the tie.

"I feel I cost them the game by not trying to score at the end," said Bryant, who was seeking his 200th collegiate victory, a mark attained by only five coaches.

"WRONG THING"
"I tried to play safe and it was the wrong thing to do," Bryant said.

Fairbanks went for Derr's successful kick because of a chance the Sooners, by covering an onside kickoff, could still get the ball again.

"We had a fourth down and long yardage situation—fourth and 11—and I felt we might get the ball back," Fairbanks said.

But 'Bama covered the onside kick and moved on to set up Ciemny's kick that was deflected a bit by Johnny Shelley, Sooner safety.

An Astrodome standing-room-only crowd of 53,822 witnessed the dramatic final minutes as Alabama overcame a 21-7 Oklahoma lead.

RICHARD DIEMNY'S CRUCIAL LAST-SECOND KICK DEJECTED John Shelley (33) and Derland Moore (97) get hands on ball

Greg Pruitt, a sophomore speedster, had given Oklahoma its 14-point lead by taking pitch-outs from quarterback Jack Mildren and racing 58 and 25 yards for second-period touchdowns.

With 14 seconds left in the half, however, 'Bama's Scott Hunter passed five yards to David Bailey to make it 21-14 and Ciemny made it 21-17 with a 20-yard field goal five plays after the Tide covered an Oklahoma fumble on the second-half kickoff. Then, with 7:36 remaining in the final period, Alabama fooled the Oklahoma defense completely when it ended a 75-yard surge by having Johnny Musso, a ground-gaining tailback who netted 138 yards in 27 carries, take a handoff and pass 25 yards to Hunter for a touchdown that gave the Tide a 24-21 lead.

Bryant said the play had been added to the game plan before the team left Tuscaloosa. He did not elaborate—but Clyde Butler, an offensive tackle, said the play had a special name that was unprintable.

A first-period 7-7 tie had resulted from a four-yard pass from Hunter to Randy Moore and a two-yard touchdown run by Joe Wylie, another of the seven sophomores in Oklahoma's starting offensive unit.

Hunter completed 13 of 26 passes for 174 yards as the Crimson Tide rolled up a total offense of 428 yards. Oklahoma, with sophomore Leon Crosswhite gaining 111 yards in 20 carries and Pruitt adding 97 in eight plays, finished with a 415 total.

Pruitt took the game's outstanding back award while Jeff Rouzie, a 'Bama linebacker, was named the top lineman.

How To Climax Golfing Year

Morris (Pat) Patterson knows how to put the finishing touches on a golfing year.

Thursday, as part of a foursome at the Big Spring Country Club course, he stepped up to the tee box of No. 16. He slapped his ball with a seven iron 168 yards — and straight into the hole.

Playing with him were L. N. Cruse, Lubbock, Bob Brimes and Lloyd Wasson.

Air Force Due To Fill The Air

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — The Air Force tries to pass the test of Tennessee's jet-quick secondary in the Sugar Bowl football game today.

It's strength against strength in this 37th annual classic, expected to attract 82,000 fans for the noon, CST, kickoff.

Bob Parker, college football's fourth leading passer, leads the Air Force, 9-2, against interception-happy Volunteers, the No. 4-ranked team in the country.

Parker's chief accomplice is Ernie Jennings, who led the nation with 1,289 yards in receptions and 17 touchdowns. Brian Bream adds the running punch for the Falcons. He smashed out 1,276 yards overland and scored 20 TDs this season, both school records.

Tennessee, 10-1, made a habit of intercepting passes with 36. But the Vols will have to deal with a Falcon air assault that averaged 255 yards a game behind the bomb-throwing Parker.

The Parker arm and Bream feet added up to a total average output of 424 yards a contest while the quick-strided Falcons averaged better than 32 points.

The Vols, meanwhile, yielded less than 10 points and held their opponents to a total 266 yards a game.

Quarterback Bobby Scott steers the offense and gets help from line-crasher Curt Watson, a tough, broad-shouldered fullback.

Orange Bowl Contenders Hope Leaders Get Bopped

By The Associated Press

When is one more than two? No. 1 is more than No. 2 in the football ratings game and that's what Charlie McClendon and Bob Devaney, rival coaches in tonight's Orange Bowl, hope the clash between Louisiana State and Nebraska will turn out to be.

"If things go right earlier in the day, we will probably be battling for No. 1," said McClendon, LSU's coach.

Devaney, whose Big Eight Conference champion Cornhuskers were No. 3 in the final regular season rankings, has echoed the same sentiment.

Charlie Mac's Bayou Bengals, Southeastern Conference titlists, were No. 5.

Nebraska takes a 10-0-1 record into the Orange Bowl, with a 21-21 tie with Southern California in the early season the only blemish. LSU, 9-2, was beaten 20-13 in its first game by Texas A&M and 3-0 later in the year by Notre Dame.

MAY BE MOOT
It will be a moot point, however, if Texas, No. 1 and the defending national champion, successfully defends its Cotton Bowl crown against Notre Dame, No. 6, in the rematch at Dallas.

And second-ranked Ohio State must bow to Stanford in the Rose Bowl also if the Orange Bowl is to be a determining factor in the ratings.

The Sugar Bowl at New Orleans launches the New Year's Day football extravaganza. It matches fourth-ranked Tennessee against No. 11 Air Force. ABC televises the Sugar Bowl, which begins at 12 noon, CST.

The Cotton Bowl follows at 1 p.m., CST, on CBS. Then comes the Rose, also on CBS, at 4 p.m. The finale is the Orange at 7 p.m., CST, on NBC.

Nebraska's awesome offense, led by Jerry Tagge, averaged 37 points per outing and Devaney figures the Cornhuskers must score at least three touchdowns.

That's easier said than done, however, because Charlie Mac's LSU defenders allowed an average of nine points per game and gave up only one touchdown on the ground in 11 games.

The Tigers are noted for pulling upsets and knocking off undefeated teams in bowl games.

McClendon beat 1962 national champ Texas and snapped a long Arkansas victory string, both in Cotton Bowl appearances.

All-Americans Mike Anderson, a linebacker, and Tommy Casanova, a defensive back, anchor the Tiger defense. Casanova's a double threat. McClendon calls on him for duty as a running back at times.

The post-season football games, except for the All-Star clashes, end Saturday with the Gator Bowl. It pits Auburn against Mississippi. Also on tap Saturday is the East-West Shrine All-Star game.

LONELIEST MAN IN TOWN Cotton Speyrer to miss bowl game

No Miracle In Mending Bone

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — It was an emotional almost gala time, the eve of the Cotton Bowl rematch between Texas and Notre Dame. But Texas' "miracle maker" was distressed.

He would watch from the sidelines today as the defending national champion Longhorns put their No. 1 ranking and 30-game winning streak on the line.

"Two more weeks," said Cotton Speyrer, "and I would be perfectly sound... The doctor made the decision... and it was a tremendous let down."

It was here last October, against Oklahoma, that Speyrer, a senior split end from Port Arthur, Tex., suffered a broken left arm that somehow didn't heal in time.

He skipped the Texas Hall of Fame luncheon, a prelude to the game, and was alone in his hotel room Thursday when a writer came by. Admittedly, he was simply "down in the dumps."

"After we won the Arkansas game, I really felt like I was going to play," said the lean, lithe Speyrer. "I built up all my hopes..."

Now he could do little but talk, and even that somewhat reluctantly.

He could recall how a year ago today he caught a desperation fourth-down pass that took Texas to the Notre Dame goal and ultimately to a 21-17 triumph.

He could reminisce also about the play that won it. Everybody talks about my catch and Phillips' pass, but the line blocked and every player did his job."

He attributed Texas' success to its lure as a mecca for premier athletes, to Head Coach Darrell Royal's coaching staff, "a few miracles once in a while" and an "attitude that somehow we're going to win."

Speyrer, who is looking forward to a pro career, added that a second national crown for Texas would lift him up from the dumps.

Irish Cagers Avoid Upset

The best things in life are free. Ask the Notre Dame basketball team.

With five seconds left in overtime, Austin Carr cashed in two free throws to lift the Irish to a nerve-wracking 85-83 victory over Santa Clara Thursday night.

The free-wheeling Carr motored through the Broncos for 43 points, surpassing his 37.5 average this season for 15th-ranked Notre Dame.

The teams were tied 78-78 at the end of regulation time and did little shooting in the overtime stanza.

With Notre Dame leading 82-81, Jackie Meehan was fouled, and made a shot to give the Irish a two-point lead. The Broncos then turned over the ball and Carr made his winning shots after being fouled by the Broncos' Tom Lunceford.

Mike Stewart, Santa Clara's leading scorer with 28 points, then scored the final points of the game with one second left.

Santa Clara, which has played all but one of its nine games this year on the road, skidded to a 1-8 record. Notre Dame now is 5-2.

OTHER GAMES

Elsewhere in college basketball, Florida State, with its two top rebounders sitting on the bench much of the second half, held off Arizona 95-85 on a holiday-abbreviated schedule.

The Seminoles, 7-2, lost 6-foot-11 Reggie Royals on fouls with 7:16 left, then Vernell Elzy departed with 4:33 remaining with a leg injury.

But Florida State had enough firepower left behind sophomore whiz Ron King, who scored 26 points. Walt McKinney threw in 28 for Arizona, 6-5.

Memphis State rode 18-point performances by James Douglas and Don Holcomb to an 83-76 victory over host Nevada-Las Vegas. The triumph boosted Memphis' record to 8-2 while NLV, paced by Robert Riley's 18 points, dropped to 7-3.

Donny Anderson, Model To Wed

DALLAS (AP) — Donny Anderson, star of the Green Bay Packers and an all-American football player at Texas Tech, announced Thursday his forthcoming marriage to Dallas model Karen Harrison.

The couple will wed May 1 on the Southern Methodist University campus here.

Miss Harrison, a 5-ft. 7-inch brunette, has modeled for the Neiman-Marcus store. She is the daughter of John Harrison and Mrs. Willie Houston.

Hart Will Head Sportswriters

DALLAS (AP)—Tommy Hart of the Big Spring Herald was named president of the Texas Sports Writers Association Thursday.

Bob Galt of the Dallas Times Herald is the new vice president.

Dick Moore of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram remains as secretary-treasurer.

At the annual meeting of the TSWA, L. Gov. Ben Barnes read a letter from Frank Irwin, chairman of the University of Texas board of regents concerning a possible site for the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

The Board of Regents approved the Institute of Texas Culture in San Antonio as a possible site for the TSWA.

The TSWA appointed a committee to look into the matter. Barnes explained that if the Institute of Texas Culture is decided upon as the site for the Hall of Fame by the TSWA it still must be approved by the legislature.

Barnes said it would cost some $99,000 to enlarge the present area and about $30,000 a year operation cost.

The Institute of Texas Culture is a part of the University of Texas system. It was turned over to the state after HemisFair.

In another matter, the Spring Branch High School press box at Tully Stadium was lauded and the Robinson High School press facilities received a rep-irmand.

Huskers Get Orange Nod

MIAMI (AP) — Nebraska is the pick by four to reestablish Big Eight muscle in the Orange Bowl tonight after cornhusker conference cousins from Kansas and Missouri scored back-to-back failures.

Coach Bob Devaney's third-ranked troops meet Southeastern Conference king Louisiana State at 8 o'clock with a record crowd of 80,000 anticipated.

"Sure, we'd like to do good things for the Big Eight Conference," said Devaney, "but we're even more interested with doing something nice for Nebraska."

Nebraska, 10-0-1, boasts a high-rolling offense that averaged 37 points a game. LSU's slow-to-give defense was denied for only nine points a game.

The Big Eight has dominated the Orange Bowl picture since 1954. For 11 years, the conference champ was obligated by contract to appear in the post-season event and — even after the pact ended in 1965 — the midwesterners kept coming.

LSU, 9-2, had to win its final two regular season games under the contractual gun to earn the Orange Bowl bid. The Tigers agreed that if they whipped both Tulane and Mississippi that the Miami bid was theirs.

Laver Prefers Recognition

NEW YORK (AP) — Tennis champion Rod Laver doesn't mind making money but he likes the recognition more.

"You don't have to be poor to be a hungry player," says the left-handed wizard. "I like the idea of a third Grand Slam and if the money goes along with it, that's tremendous."

Laver, who won more than $200,000 last year in limited play, gets off on his quest for a third Grand Slam Saturday against Ken Rosewall in the opening match of the $210,000 Tennis Champions Classic.

Laver won the four major tournaments — French, Australian, Wimbledon and U.S. Open — in 1962 and 1968.

His five-set match against Rosewall Saturday at Madison Square Garden is a $10,000 winner-take-all affair that starts the 12-match tour through New York; Rochester, N.Y.; Detroit; Philadelphia and Boston.

A player could capture $170,000 by winning all 12 matches in the two-loss-and-out tour.

Laver says he never gave a thought to the money he won last year. But he is thinking about the unprecedented third slam.

"In 1970, I didn't enter either the Australian or French championships," he said. "For the new year, I have entered not only all of the major tournaments, but will be playing in the Philadelphia Tennis Festival in February and the Grand Prix."

Brother Act Ruins Wings

Dennis and Bobby Hull are two of a kind... the kind the Detroit Red Wings don't need.

The famous brother act of the Chicago Black Hawks teamed for three goals, triggering an 8-3 National Hockey League success over the Red Wings Thursday night.

Dennis hammered in a pair, his 15th and 16th of the year, and older brother Bobby chalked up No. 20 as Chicago hiked its West Division lead over the St. Louis 10 points.

The Pittsburgh Penguins whipped the Minnesota North Stars 4-1 in the night's only other NHL game on an abbreviated holiday schedule.

Detroit was out of it before the game was five minutes old. Wayne Maki scored two goals and Jim Pappin another for a 3-0 Chicago lead.

Cowboys To Try Power On 49ers

DALLAS (AP) — It hasn't been a dramatic transition, but the Dallas Cowboys are slowly moving from a finesse team to a physical outfit.

It's been evident in the Cowboy drive to the National Football Conference championship showdown with San Francisco Sunday.

"We've gotten stronger and stronger at running back," says head coach Tom Landry. "And with a big strong runner, you tend to move toward being more physical team."

Dallas took on Cleveland in a mud bath and outmuscled the Browns 6-2. The Cowboys 5-0 victory over Detroit last Saturday in the NFC playoffs was pure and simple trench warfare.

Of course, rookie running back Duane Thomas of West Texas State has been the big surprise. He's gouged out 803 yards despite just starting in nine games. He rolled up 135 yards against Detroit.

Calvin Hill, last season's rookie of the year, was injured, giving Thomas his chance. And Thomas has been so hot Hill is sitting on the bench. Hill has 577 yards overland and fullback Walt Garrison has 507.

Landry says Dallas will give the 49ers its best shot and see what happens.

"You don't change anything at this stage," Landry says. "We've had success at running the football and we hope we can continue that."

There has been concern over quarterback Craig Morton's passing. But Morton is throwing the ball well in practice and says most of the practice has left his arm which has been bruised.

Morton hit about 60 per cent of his passes in a five-game winning streak that propelled Dallas to the NFC East title. Against Detroit he managed only 4 of 18.

Four Added To Hall Of Fame

DALLAS (AP) — Ernie Banks, Max Hirsch, Jess Neely and Buster Brannon are the new members of the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

Inducted Thursday were: Banks, a star for 18 years with the Chicago Cubs; Hirsch, the late dean of American race horse trainers; Neely, the former outstanding football coach at Rice; and Brannon, former coach of Texas Christian's basketball fortunes.

Buckeyes Ask Boast By ND

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Notre Dame could have provided that extra emotional lift Woody Hayes was looking for today before he sent second-ranked Ohio State against Stanford in the Rose Bowl.

"It's tougher getting seniors up for a game, but once you get them there they stay there," Hayes said before taking his Buckeyes to a monastery in the nearby mountains Thursday night.

Notre Dame might have offered that spark if the Irish upset top-ranked Texas in the Cotton Bowl.

The Buckeyes were wary of the passing magic of Heisman Trophy winner Jim Plunkett, who defensive coordinator Lou McCullough said was "the greatest we have ever faced."

If Plunkett was on target, many believed Stanford would upset the Buckeyes and bring the school the first Rose Bowl triumph in 30 years.

If he was slightly off, Ohio State was expected to beat the Indians and score its fifth victory in six Rose Bowl trips and fourth straight under Hayes.

Laurel To Help Open '71 Season

Laurel will help write the opening pages of the 1971 racing season Saturday with the running of the $20,000-added Walter Haight Handicap named in memory of the great turf writer for the Washington Post.

The Haight also will write a close to the current Laurel meeting. Among those expected are Terrible Tiger, Favoridian and Crack Ruler, co-top-weighted at 118 pounds.

Ack Ack will carry high weight of 129 pounds in the West Coast feature—the six-furlong, $30,000-added Palos Verdes Handicap at Santa Anita. Others include King of Cricket, 119, and Jungle Savage, 117.

Scheduled highlight for the 1-16-mile $25,000-added Orange Bowl Handicap at Tropical Park is Hudagable, with 214 pounds.

He could reminisce also about the play that won it. Everybody talks about my catch and Phillips' pass, but the line blocked and every player did his job."

Pistol Pete's Hot Hand Leads To Atlanta Win

It isn't hard to break a losing streak in the National Basketball Association.

Just play the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The Atlanta Hawks followed the pattern of several other teams Thursday by beating the hapless expansionists 119-85 to snap a five-game spin.

Rookie Pete Maravich, continuing his hot hand, fired in 32 points as the Hawks broke into a 31-16 first-quarter lead and never were threatened.

The San Francisco Warriors beat the Boston Celtics 144-106 in the day's only other NBA game.

In the American Basketball Association, the Virginia Squires pasted the Carolina Cougars 127-117.

With Maravich spearheading the Atlanta offense, the Hawks' starters sprinted to a 97-70 lead with seven minutes left before the subs mopped up.

Maravich scored 15 points in each of the first and third quarters. Lou Hudson and Walt Hazzard added 18 points apiece for Atlanta.

Center Walt Wesley scored 23 points for the Cavaliers, who lost their 39th game in 44.

Nate Thurmond and Jeff Mullins scored 34 points apiece for San Francisco, who grabbed an early lead and held off several Boston rallies.

The Celtics made their last comeback try, cutting a 12-point lead to 87-78 midway in the third period. But Thurmond pumped in a pair of outside shots and it was never close again.

Jo Jo White led Boston with 25 points.

Charlie Scott scored 26 points and George Carter added 21 for Virginia, which opened fast and bolted to a 38-27 first-quarter lead. The Squires had the Cougars by as much as 20 points in the second period.

Larry Miller led Carolina with 24.

Fire Wipes Out Most Of Small Okie Town

HAILEYVILLE, Okla. (AP)—Fire wiped out most of the business section of this small southeastern Oklahoma town Thursday night, including the post office, the town's only bank, a laundry and a TV repair shop.

Mayor Frank Smallwood, 31, was hospitalized after being knocked to the pavement by a fire hose while helping fight the blaze.

"It pretty well paralyzed the town," said City Councilman Bill Cottier. "It burned the post office and the bank."

Cottier said firemen still were hosing down the bank's vault at midnight in an attempt to save it.

Patriotic Lamb Auction Slated At Stock Show

COLORADO CITY — The auction of a colored lamb will again close out the Mitchell County 4-H and FFA Livestock Show this year — only this time the lamb will be tricolored: red, white and blue.

"We've done this for several years now, and this year we decided to go patriotic," Bobby Lemons, county agent, said. Funds will go to help pay for the stock show.

The show began Thursday and will close Saturday. Swine judging was slated for 1:30 p.m. today, with Jim Allison, assistant Howard County agent, doing the honors.

Denny Blue, Wolforth, will classify the lambs, and Sid Long, vocational agriculture teacher at Gall, will judge the lambs at 9:30 a.m. Saturday. Payton Scott, feed lot operator from Rising Star will judge the steers and heifers at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

The show is being held in the agriculture building west of Colorado City on old US 80.

Airman Struck Down By Auto

AUSTIN (AP) — Air Force S. Sgt. Edwin Burger, 38, was killed Thursday night when struck down by a car.

The Bergstrom Air Force Base airman was dead on arrival at a local hospital.

Westbrook Livestock Winners

WESTBROOK — Patricia Denson's lamb won the grand championship in the Westbrook 4-H and FFA Livestock Show Wednesday and Thursday. Bruce Rich is owner of the reserve champ.

Tim Oden had the champion gilt, and Steven Hinds had the reserve champion. In the barrow show Clyde Hinds is the owner of the grand champ, and Gary Underwood had the reserve champion. Bobby Moody had the offly two calves entered in the show, and as a result his animals won first and second place, as well as the championship and reserve championship.

Frank Brownfield, vocational agriculture teacher from Colorado City, was the judge for the show.

Rich placed first and third in the fine wool lambs, and Tommy Whitesides placed second and fourth. In the cross-bred lambs, Rich placed first; Miss Denson second, third and fifth; and Whitesides, fourth. Miss Denson placed first, third and fourth in the medium wool sheep, and Rich placed second.

Oden placed first in the light-weight gilts, with second and third places going to Steven Hinds. Ronnie Miller captured fourth place, Leroy Miller, fifth, and Ronnie Miller, sixth.

In heavy weight gilts, Clyde Hinds placed first and second; Steven Hinds, third and fourth; and Leroy Miller, fifth.

In the barrow show Clyde Hinds placed first with his light weight barrow; Gary Underwood, second; Tim Oden, third; Steven Hinds, fourth and Clyde Hinds, fifth and sixth. In the heavyweight division, Clyde Hinds again took first; Oden, second, Steve Hinds, third; Oden, fourth; Leroy Miller, fifth, and Ronnie Miller, sixth.

Burglary Ring Slips

DURANT, Okla. (AP) — Police say a three-state burglary ring was broken with the arrests of a Lubbock, Tex., man and woman, Bryan County Sheriff Ben Risner said.

His officers recovered more than $15,000 in merchandise stolen from Texas, Kansas and Oklahoma.

Those arrested were Miss Billie Bounds, 37, and Troy Roberts, 42, of Lubbock, Tex. Sheriff Risner said the two were charged with second-degree burglary in Durant Wednesday.

Texas Fights Hearing Plea Of Louisiana

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas will oppose Louisiana's request for another hearing on the Texas-Louisiana boundary dispute, says Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Martin said Thursday the case was given a thorough hearing Dec. 16 before federal Judge Robert Van Pelt, the special master named by the U. S. Supreme Court.

"We believe the basic issue should be decided without further delay," Martin said.

Louisiana asked Van Pelt for another hearing if he decides in favor of Texas' contention that the boundary is in the middle of the Sabine River instead of along the west bank. Louisiana said that if Van Pelt makes such a decision, the state then should be allowed to argue its claim to a small island at the mouth of the Neches River before the judge issues his ruling.

Martin said ownership of any islands could be determined after the basic boundary issue is decided.

The area in controversy involves more than 36,000 acres on which are located four producing oil wells and millions of dollars worth of improvements built by Port Arthur and the state and federal governments, Martin said.

The attorney general claims Louisiana's western boundary was fixed in the middle of the Sabine River by Congress and the Louisiana Constitution.

Deed To Mustang Island Signed, Future Uncertain

AUSTIN (AP) — The deed to 3,802 acres of Mustang Island has been signed, and a $2.1 million federal check for half the cost of the proposed seacoast park is locked in a state government safe today.

TIED UP

But whether Texans ever will get to use the island site near Corpus Christi as a park remains uncertain, tied up in court.

A jet airplane, chartered by millionaire Mrs. Sam E. Wilson Jr. of New York and Corpus Christi, flew the U. S. Interior Department check from Washington Thursday evening to beat a midnight deadline.

Meanwhile, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Reid of Corpus Christi, co-executors with Mrs. Wilson of the Sam E. Wilson Trusts No. 1 and No. 2, signed the deed Thursday and Reid flew it to Austin. Mrs. Wilson signed it Tuesday in New York. Mrs. Reid is Mrs. Wilson's daughter.

Reid, holding the deed for the acreage, met the chartered jet at the Austin airport, then boarded it to return to Corpus Christi. A parks and wildlife department official said the deed would be held by a Corpus Christi title company until the $4.2 million for the property is paid to the Wilson estate.

The federal check was locked for the holiday weekend in a parks and wildlife department safe.

Mrs. Wilson gave the department until midnight to buy the property for $1,100 an acre, which department sources say is far less than Mrs. Wilson has been offered by other potential buyers.

Midnight was the effective date of a 3 per cent increase in the federal capital gains tax, which would have cut the Wilson estate's return from the deal. Federal tax officials reportedly said signing the deed before midnight would enable the estate to obtain the lower tax rate, regardless of whether any money changed hands.

"The sale is consummated. We are just deferring payment," a parks and wildlife spokesman said.

SPLIT DECISION
Judge Joe Ingraham of the U.S.

Court of Appeals for the 5th Circuit opened the way for the signing of the deed and the delivery of the check. He voided a temporary restraining order issued Tuesday by U. S. District Judge Jack Roberts of Austin, which prohibited the transaction.

The full circuit court also is expected to rule on the validity of the restraining order.

IT JUST GOES TO SHOW WHAT TOWN PEOPLE LIKE

JEROME, Idaho (AP) — This sleepy farming town has 4,761 residents, 17 churches — and a single movie theater that shows nothing but sex films.

The owner says it's the only way he's been able to make a profit.

DeWayne Foust, 35, who purchased the theatre a year ago, says he exhibited general-audience pictures for seven months.

"Nobody came," Foust says. "By July, I was $18,000 in the red."

Since he switched to what he terms "triple-X-rated" films, Foust says he has netted at least $1,000 profit each month.

Pastors are alarmed about the possible effect of the theater on town morals.

"We're a pretty conservative small town, and we don't appreciate the exposure of our young people to these movies," said Ferguson Camp, a bishop of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latterday Saints—Mormon.

"I think any time you show the deterioration of morals, whether in a show or on the movie screen, it has a direct effect on society."

Citizens with similar views recently put petitions in downtown stores urging the closure of the theater. Nearly 500 signatures have been collected.

The Rev. Bob Cooper, pastor of the Jerome First Baptist Church, said the movie may bring money to the town, but "we don't welcome this kind of money."

Workers Strike Oil Plant At Port Arthur

PORT ARTHUR, Tex. (AP) — The Texaco Oil Refining Co.'s largest plant was struck at 12:01 a.m. here today by members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Worker's International Union Local 4-23.

Members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers also set up pickets at the plant's two main entrances.

A union spokesman said the walkout affects between 3,700 and 3,900 Texaco employees who belong to the OCAW. The refinery employs about 5,000 persons. A spokesman for Texaco said management executives would assume key—but lower echelon—roles to keep the plant operating.

NOT AS GREAT

"It was purely a local decision and doesn't affect the national union's decision not to strike," said Morris Akin, OCAW director of District 4 (Texas and Louisiana).

A member of the union bargaining team who refused to be named said the Texaco contract proposal "wasn't as great as that already offered in the industry."

"Besides," he said, "our contract expired at 12:01, so we struck."

Contract negotiations had been under way in earnest for about two weeks.

Texaco management had no comment on the walkout. Port Arthur police said they received several reports of violence at the picket lines but said the reports proved groundless.

The Texaco strike followed acceptance Thursday by the OCAW national bargaining team of a contract proposal from the Gulf Oil Corp.

National OCAW President A. F. Grosprun said union members would not be asked to strike although 395 oil company contracts remain to be signed. It was believed union members at Port Arthur had voted some time ago to strike upon expiration of their contract at 12:01 a.m. today.

PAID HOLIDAYS

At Galveston, federal mediator Frank Andrews said negotiations would continue today between the OCAW and the American Oil Co., Amoco Chemical, and Marathon Oil Co. The three plants are located at nearby Texas City.

No pickets were posted at the Texas City plants following expiration of the OCAW contract at midnight.

Akin said last week the American Oil contract proposal had been rejected because "it was just not enough."

"First of all," he said, "it was a three-year proposal and a three-year proposal is not acceptable."

The American Oil offer provided for an average 88-cent-an-hour wage hike over a three-year period with an 8 per cent increase to become effective today.

It also included provisions for one additional paid holiday and a non-contributory retirement plan with retirement on full annuity at age 62.

Andrews said the three companies and the OCAW are "close to a settlement" as they negotiated in the predawn hours today.

Happy New Year From County Jail

Five persons spent the first morning of 1971 tucked behind bars today in Howard County jail. Too many cups of cheer led them to a sojourn in the drunk sector.

Four of the persons were arrested on suspicion of drunkenness and one on suspicion of driving while intoxicated. Two of those arrested for drunkenness also will be charged with traffic violations such as no driver's license and illegally parking a vehicle on the side of a road.

Mothers Meet

ACKERLY — A mothers' meeting will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in the Sands School cafeteria to organize plans for the junior high tournament, school officials announced today. Students at Sands were also reminded that classes will resume Monday.
